Voters Reminded Polls Still Open

An extremely light vote had been polled at noon in today's $600,000 county road bond election.

Although good roads advocates were disturbed over the apathy shown, they pointed out there is still plenty of time left to vote. Polls will remain open until 7 p.m. An urgent appeal was made to all voters to go to the polls before closing time.

218 VOTES

A spot check of all of the boxes in Big Spring between 10:30 and 11:45 a.m. revealed only 218 voters had balloted.

At Coahoma at 11:30 a.m., 16 votes had been cast.

The Northside Fire Station was the least active of any of the Big Spring boxes contacted. Only eight votes — four of whom were election officials — had been handled at that box.

It was expected a fairly good rush of business at the town boxes might develop during the noon hour. It is also usual that a heavy outpouring of voters shows up after 5 p.m.

A check of the rural boxes was difficult due to the lack of phones in many of the boxes.

REFUSES

At Gay Hill, O. R. Crow, judge, refused to say how many had voted. He said he would not announce any figures until the polls had closed and the tabulations had been made. He said that he would have any unqualified voter in the precinct arrested, who came to the box trying to find out the number of ballots cast. Crow gave no reason for his refusal to announce the number of votes handled.

At the new election boxes in town, a very light turnout was reported. G. L. Harris, judge of Precinct 17, had handled two votes at noon — himself and his assistant judge, Wesley Yater. At the Byron Neel residence, 2605 E. 25th Street (Precinct 18) six votes had been polled at noon. No report was available from No. 20 (Crestview Baptist Church). Elbow School (Precinct No. 19) had eight votes at lunch time.

ABSENTEES FAVOR BONDS

Absentee voters in the Howard County $600,000 road bond election voted 90 to 39 in favor of the proposal.

George D. Elliott, judge for the special canvassing board, said that his group completed tabulating the absentee votes shortly before noon.

This gave the bonds about 70 per cent favorable head start.

The election is to decide if the Howard County Commissioners Court shall issue $600,000 in road bonds to pay for needed right-of-way for important road projects.

TWO-THIRDS

In order for the proposal to be accepted, the vote must show a favorable two-thirds majority. The advocates of the road bond proposal are gravely concerned over the small number of votes. They pointed out that not only is it important that the bonds be approved, but that a heavy vote in favor of the project would reflect a deep interest in the advance of the county.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, will keep her office open tonight to tabulate the returns as they are reported.

UP TO $53 PER YEAR

Car Insurance Will Cost More

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Insurance Board recommended today a 13.4 per cent average increase in the price Texans pay for auto insurance.

For Howard County motorists, the increase would range from $48 to $53 annually. Ector, Midland and Scurry counties would have similar increases. Other counties in the area would have increases from $35 to $45.

Final enactment of new rates for policies written between Aug. 1 and July 31, 1966, will take place early next month after consideration of testimony at today's rate hearing.

Chairman William McLean said the increase is necessary because of the growing number of auto accidents and rising hospital and auto repair costs.

The new rates make these average changes in private passenger car premiums, although the rates vary among different parts of the state.

Property damage and bodily injury liability—up 20.7 per cent over current rates for private passenger cars. Present rates are 3.8 per cent over 1963 rates.

Collision—Up 20.8 per cent. The board lowered rates .5 per cent last year.

Comprehensive — Down 17.4 per cent for $50 deductible coverage. Last year the board lowered rates 15.5 per cent.

Medical payments—Up 3.7 per cent. Rates went up 8.7 per cent last year.

A total of $404 million in auto insurance was sold in Texas last year.

Personal property damage and bodily injury liability went up in all of the 26 rating territories into which the board divides the state.

Here are rate changes proposed for private passenger autos not driven by men under 25, not used for business but driven to or from work, for liability coverage of $10,000 for injury or death to one person, $20,000 for injury or death to two persons and $5,000 for property damage by territory (by counties):

1. Harris County—up from $70 to $82.
2. Dallas—Up $62 to $73.
3. Bexar—Up $46 to $53.
4. Tarrant—Up $49 to $55.
5. El Paso—Up $55 to $66.
6. Orange—Up $53 to $66.
7. Nueces—Up $49 to $57.
8. Bowie—Up $41 to $47.
9. Gregg, Rusk, Smith and Upshur—Up $41 to $45.
10. Lubbock—Up $49 to $54.
11. Taylor (Abilene) — Up $41 to $43.
12. Webb—Up $62 to $69.
13. Grayson—Up $42 to $46.
14. Potter and Randall (Amarillo) — Up $41 to $44.
15. Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr and Willacy—Up $36 to $45.
16. Tom Green (San Angelo)—Up $41 to $45.
17. 19 coastal counties—up $42 to $49.
18. 58 northeast counties—Up $36 to $43.
19. 56 southeast counties—Up $32 to $38.
20. Wichita—Up $45 to $49.
21. Jefferson—Up $53 to $64.
22. Galveston—Up $57 to $63.
23. Travis—Up $41 to $48.
24. McLennan—Up $45 to $52.
25. Ector, Howard, Midland and Scurry — Up $48 to $53.
26. 89 West Texas counties—Up $35 to $45.

Rains Follow Summer Here

Summer arrived Monday, and brought a welcome companion — rain. Best of all, there were no high winds to offset the benefits of the moisture.

Farmers and ranchers in the north and east part of the county benefitted most, but residents in the city also got enough rain to quench the thirst of lawns and gardens.

Summer arrived at 8:56 a.m. Monday, with no indication of heavy weather at that time, but before nightfall heavy clouds formed in all directions.

In the immediate Vincent area, 4½ inches of rain fell and the highway was closed for a short time. Six miles northwest only 1.40 inches fell, while at Luther 1.70 were reported, with three inches to the northeast and east. Gay Hill also reported three inches with fields still flooded this morning.

While no damage from wind or hail was reported, there were many reports of washing. Some terraces were broken to let water cut small "gullies" through fields, but most farmers felt that the advantage of the moisture offset any damage. Some areas reported possible replanting where water stood over young cotton for a time.

George Archer, principal at Gay Hill Elementary School, said the 3-inch rain there left a lot of water standing in fields and low spots this morning, and that a slight amount of hail fell without damage.

Moisture fell in most of the lake areas. R. A. Millaway at Moss Creek, where 1.7 inches fell, said the water was six inches deep over the spillway. Lake J. B. Thomas caught .87 foot and stood at 2243.08 feet. Rainfall at the Odessa intake, four mies west of the dam, measured 2.2 inches; Snyder intake at the dam 4.65; Morgan Creek station 15 miles northeast 1.4; Big Spring pump, north edge of the city, .35; CRMWD Martin County pump station, .50.

Vealmoor reported an inch while Ackerly to the northwest reported a trace. The M&S Grocery at Knott reported one inch, but to the southeast, two inches were recorded. Near the Howard County line, on the Andrews Highway, 1.50 inches were reported.

In the Big Spring area .14 inch was measured at the Experiment Station, .05 at the Texas Electric Service Co. switching station, .15 in the College Park area, .20 near the VA hospital, and .40 at Trinity Memorial Park.

Other county reports showed: Fairview 1.50; southwest of Fairview .80; Howard County Airport .55; Howard County Feed Lots on Snyder Highway .40; Coahoma, .80 to 1.25; six miles north of Coahoma, .80; four miles southeast, .50; Chalk .15; Forsan .21; two and a half miles west of Forsan, 2 to 2½ inches; Lees Store 2; Lomax trace to .20, Elbow trace.

Area reports showed .50 inch east of Garden City; Morgan Creek 1.19; Colorado City 1.90; Champion Creek (TESCO station) 3; Lamesa .48; immediately north .60; six miles north of Lamesa 2; Arvanna 1 to 1.30; Welch .90 to 1.40; Sand .80; Union .50 to 1; Sparenburg 1 to 1.10; Midway 1.20; Patricia .10 to .30; west of Patricia .65 to 1.35; Lenorah 2.

After subsiding, the Colorado River was rising again slightly at noon Tuesday to boost prospects of some additional runoff for Lake J. B. Thomas. The lake has gained .71 of a foot, or about 4,000 acre feet of water. The latest elevation was 2243.18 and slowly rising.

Lake Colorado City was at 2063.25, a gain of .05 of a foot, while Champion Creek gained .40 of a foot to reach elevation 2059.10. This lake 10 miles south of Colorado City had three inches of rain.

Space Docking Set For '65

WASHINGTON (AP) — The success of the Gemini 4 space flight will enable the United States to attempt to rendezvous a spacecraft with an earth satellite later this year.

The success of the Gemini 3 and Gemini 4 missions, Webb said, "has enabled NASA to advance the Gemini program such that rendezvous and docking are now scheduled during calendar year 1965."

Nuisance Tax Gone, Other Excise Slashed

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you buy a piece of jewelry today, a lipstick, a handbag, a suitcase or even a knapsack, you won't have to pay a federal retail tax on it — for the first time in years.

Those so-called nuisance taxes were among the federal excise taxes wiped out at midnight after President Johnson signed the $4.7-billion tax cut bill in a White House ceremony Monday.

Other excise taxes are being reduced in stages. The first-stage cuts on two big ones — cars and air conditioners— are retroactive to last May 15, so that if you bought one of these anytime since then you'll get a refund. On cars the refund should average about $70.

"BRIGHT DAY"

As he used dozens of souvenir pens to sign the bill, Johnson called it "a bright day for all Americans."

The President said "this excise tax bill will make its maximum contribution to our economic health only if businesses pass along to consumers the full amount of the reduction in the tax. And today I urge every manufacturer and every retailer in this country to do just that."

Price cuts to follow the tax cuts are not mandatory, but the makers and sellers of the goods are generally expected to pass on the savings to consumers.

Johnson said: "When there is again opportunity for tax revision, we hope, in particular, to provide further tax relief to those in our nation who need it most — those taxpayers who now live in the shadow of poverty."

DIDN'T EXPLAIN

The President didn't explain what he had in mind for this sometime-in-the-future tax cut possibility.

The first stage of the reductions will "lift one and three-quarters billion dollars of onerous taxes from the American economy," the President said.

The second step next January will cut excises by an equal amount. Some of the cuts, such as on autos and telephone calls, will be made in stages up until Jan. 1, 1969.

Johnson said the tax cuts will "pay big dividends in lower prices, more jobs, more sales and more production, not just in 1965 and 1966 but for years to come."

In spite of the cuts, excise taxes bringing in more than $10.5 billion a year will remain in effect. They are mostly on alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and gasoline. Congress has shown no desire to tamper with these revenue-producers.

The 10 per cent retail taxes repealed today were on jewelry furs, toiletries, luggage. Jewelry includes watches, clocks, opera glasses, and sterling or silverplate tableware. Luggage includes handbags, billfolds, knapsacks and even ring binders if they could be closed on all four sides.

OTHER ITEMS

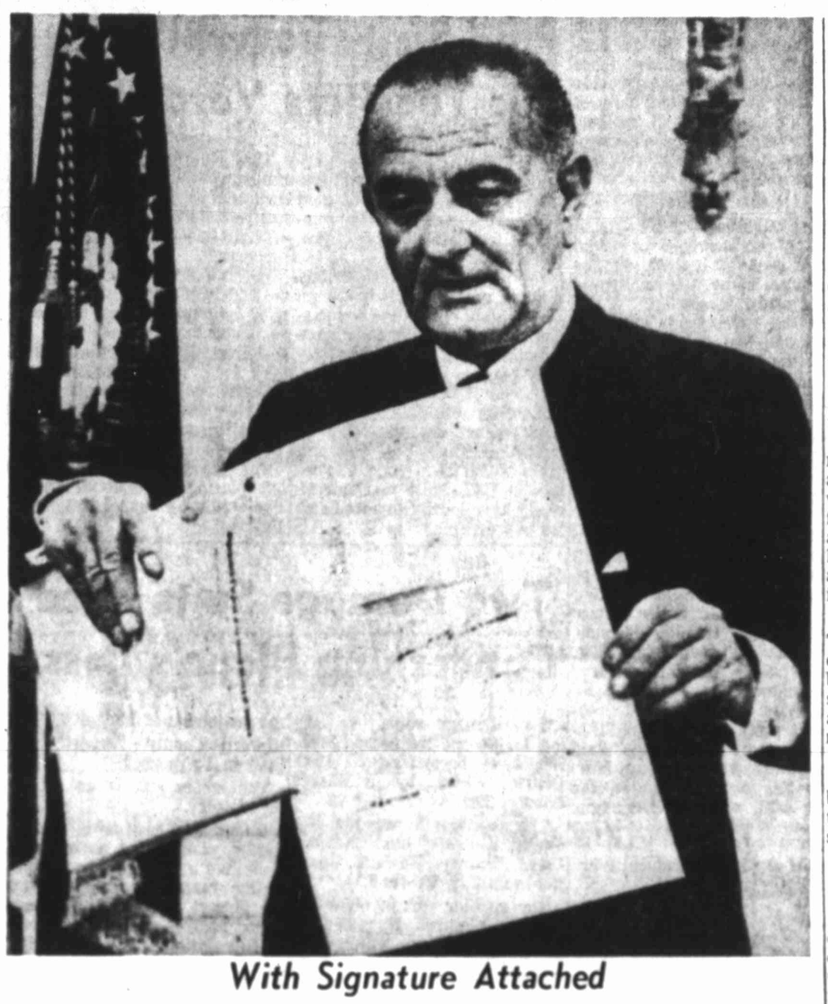

Also repealed today were the 10 per cent manufacturers' excises on radio and TV sets, phonographs, records, cameras, lenses, film, sporting goods, business machines, mechanical pencils, pens, cigarette lighters, light bulbs and air conditioners.

Also repealed were the 5 per cent manufacturers' taxes on refrigerators, freezers, toasters, mixers, electric blankets, heaters, garbage disposals, fans, lawnmowers and other appliances.

Varying taxes on safe deposit boxes, bowling alleys, playing cards and coin-operated amusement devices also ended.

The 10 per cent factor tax on passenger cars was reduced 3 per cent to 7 per cent (retroactive to May 15 along with air conditioners).

Attack Above 'Hanoi Line' Marks First

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers made their deepest penetration of North Viet Nam today and for the first time poured bombs and rockets into targets north of the "Hanoi line."

A U.S. spokesman said one raid was against army barracks at Son La, 110 miles west northwest of Hanoi and only 80 miles from the Red Chinese border. It also was 55 miles from Dien Bien Phu, where the French army went down to final defeat in Indochina.

Eight U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs dropped 17 tons of 750-pound general purpose bombs on the complex, destroying 20 buildings and damaging nine others, the spokesman said.

ATTACK DEPOT

The Thunderchiefs, escorted by 20 other planes, were over the target for 30 minutes, the spokesman said.

Another group of eight Thunderchiefs with the same 20 escorts attacked the Van Nuoc Chien ammunition depot 70 miles west northwest of Hanoi, the spokesman said. Moderate damage was reported to the target, an indication that there were no secondary explosions caused by exploding ammunition.

No enemy aircraft were sighted and antiaircraft fire was light to moderate, the spokesman said.

The previous northernmost penetration of North Viet Nam was a U.S. Navy strike against Hon Gay, 75 miles east of Hanoi. This was during the August 1964 Gulf of Tonkin crisis.

The nearest raid to Hanoi was 45 miles to the south earlier this year.

BOMB TARGETS

In all, some 60 U.S. and Vietnamese Air Force and U.S. Navy planes dropped about 300 tons of bombs on widely scattered targets in North Viet Nam today, U.S. spokesmen said. Targets included barracks, supply depots, bridges and ferries.

A U.S. Air Force pilot bailed out of his F100 Super Sabre Jet 25 miles south of Da Nana, in South Viet Nam, and was quickly picked up safe by an American helicopter. The plane was not hit by enemy fire, a U.S. military spokesman said.

In Saigon, a Viet Cong terrorist shouted "Down with the Americans" as he died before a firing squad for trying to blow up an American billet in a Saigon suburb.

RED EXECUTED

The defiant Communist, Tran Van Dang, 25, was executed at dawn in Saigon's central market square while newsmen and photographers watched.

Big Spring Merchants Plan To Pass Along Tax Savings

Big Spring merchants were hastily inventorying hosts of items and re-figuring prices this morning, reflecting the excise tax cuts signed into law Monday by President Johnson.

Some reported plans for special sales and avertising promotions on the excise tax savings, while others were undecided this morning on what type of promotion might be held.

GOING ALONG

"We're going along with what the President asked in passing along the cuts to customers," one jewelry store operator said.

The cuts reduced the tax from 10 per cent to seven per cent on new cars, eliminated the 10 per cent retail excise tax on jewelry, toiletries, cosmetics, luggage, furs and leather goods, and repealed the manufacturers tax on radio and television sets, phonographs, business machines, refrigerators, freezers, all electric and gas household appliances, cameras, film, sporting goods, air conditioners, musical instruments and matches.

"It will affect a lot of our merchandise," said one department store representative. On luggage previously costing $45, with a $4.50 tax, the cost will be $45 instead of the $49.50. A $100 saving will be seen on a four coat costing $1,000, for example, and men's cuff links which were priced at $11.20 will be cut to $10.20.

TV SETS

A spokesman for a local hardware company said the tax removal would range from $7.77 to $55.20 on television sets. A popular 23-inch console set, normally costing $299.95 (with trade), will be $16.06 cheaper, or $283.89. The higher figures are for a set with VHF and UHF excise tax cuts, the lower figures are for sets with VHF tax removal only.

Refrigerators will be $5 to $18.90 cheaper now, he said. A $429.95 unit will be cheaper by $12, or $417.95. Freezers have about the same amount of price cut. It will also affect the prices of electric dryers, but there has been no excise tax on washers.

A sporting goods house owner said the cut will lower the prices on some items, but that he had not had time to determine the change on any specific items.

A jeweler pointed out a $110 watch would now be $100, with savings also on silverware, sterling, diamonds and costume jewelry.

APPLIANCES

Another department store official said the cut would amount to about $1.20 on a $20 appliance.

While the tax cuts went into effect immediately on the items cut 10 per cent, others involved in the manufacturers tax repeal will have to be inventoried. A department store official said the effect for these items might be several days in coming.

One store reported plans to refund the tax back to purchases made since May 14.

Auto prices will see cuts of three per cent on the excise tax, formerly 10 per cent, with the price of a $3,800 car reduced by about $70, and a $2,260 car by about $50. Buyers who purchased cars since May 15 will receive refunds on the tax cut.

Nationally, many retail stores across the country were reported starting advertising of reduced prices credited to the tax cut, and shoppers were expected to throng the places.

Although passing the savings on to the consumer was officially urged at the high federal level, it was pointed out that price cuts by retail outlets were up to the town and store.

Medicare Boycott Issue Prompts AMA Hassle

NEW YORK (AP) — A dispute has broken out in the House of Delegates, policy-making body of the American Medical Association over whether doctors should boycott the pending federal health care program.

Only a handful of the 30-odd speakers at a hearing on boycott resolutions favored cooperation in the program or urged postponing a decision until after the program passes Congress.

Ten resolutions calling for a boycott were introduced Monday in the 235-member house. The resolutions will not be acted on finally until Wednesday or Thursday.

AGAINST BOYCOTT

The AMA's new president, Dr. James Z. Appel of Lancaster, Pa., said in his installation address Sunday that it would be unethical and an act of bad citizenship for doctors to boycott the program.

The bill, backed by the Johnson administration, has passed the House. It would provide hospital and nursing home care for the elderly under Social Security.

Appel said Monday that he would go along with whatever the House of Delegates did.

The trend of testimony was strongly and often emotionally against Appel's position. He was accused of "appeasement" and "surrender." He was told that the program would lead to "nationalization of hospitals."

Appel told a newsman he believed the House of Delegates would not take any action on the resolutions.

DOCTORS PICKET

As the dispute went on before the committee, about 100 white and Negro doctors — most of them said to be AMA members — picketed outside the New York Coliseum where the AMA convention's scientific sessions are being held.

The pickets protested the exclusion of Negro doctors from state and county medical societies. The Medical Committee for Human Rights sponsored the picketing.

Senate Cuts Webb Funds

The Senate Armed Forces Committee today whittled half a million dollars out of the military construction appropriations item for Webb AFB.

The new total of $832,000 announced by Sen. John Tower, a member of the committee, includes $472,000 for a basic flight training building, and $360,000 for an NCO open mess. Apparently deleted was a provision for bachelor officer quarters, and other minor items. The House - passed version included this for a total $1,342,000. If the Senate adopts the recommendation of its committee, the proposal then will go to conference committee.

Another committee cut saw $768,000 for Goodfellow Field at San Angelo wiped out entirely.

Judge Named In Ruby Case

DALLAS (AP)— Judge Louis Holland of Montague, Tex., has been appointed to take over further trial court proceedings in the Jack Ruby case.

The North Texas jurist succeeds Judge Joe B. Brown of Dallas, who asked Monday that he be removed from the controversial case.

Judge Dallas A. Blankenship, presiding judge of the Dallas County 1st Administrative Judicial District, announced the appointment.

AT HEARING

Holland presided over a May 24 hearing in the Ruby case to determine which lawyers should represent the condemned man at a pending sanity hearing. Brown had stepped down temporarily for that proceeding.

Brown's removal was the latest shakeup in a case marked by bitter recriminations among the lawyers involved. At least 12 have so far acted as chief defense counsel, only to be fired or to quit.

Ruby, operator of a Dallas strip-tease joint, fired a bullet into Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, Nov. 24, 1963.

Ruby was tried before Judge Brown and was assessed the death penalty March 14, 1964.

Taxes Said Taking Estate Of Actress

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Marilyn Monroe's estate, far from providing $1 million in bequests for her friends, was reported today to have been devoured by taxes.

The New York Post said "the heirs to her estate are being formally notified that their legacies will be completely devoured by federal income, state and estate taxes, and that there will be no significant amount for any beneficiary."

The newspaper, in an article by columnist Earl Wilson, added that it now appears there will be no money to provide $5,000 a year for the care of Marilyn's mentally ill mother, Gladys Eley, 63. The older woman is a patient in a Verduga, Calif., sanitarium.

LAID TO PILLS

Miss Monroe, 36, was found dead of an overdose of sleeping pills Aug. 5, 1962, in her California home. Her death was ruled probable suicide.

At the time, there were reports she had died broke. But with the admission to probate of her will, dated Jan. 14, 1961, her estate was estimated at $1 million.

Miss Monroe set up a $100,000 trust fund to yield $5,000 a year for her mother, who has been ill intermittently for 25 years.

OTHERS LISTED

The Post story said others who were expected to benefit from the will included Lee Strasberg of the Actors Studio; Dr. Marianne Kris, her former psychiatrist; Bernice Miracle, Marilyn's half-sister; May Eis, the actress's former secretary; and others.

Besides taxes, the story continued, there are claims of $173,288 against the estate. Paul Strasberg, who coached Marilyn, has a $22,209 claim, the Post said, and Joe DiMaggio, the star's former husband, has filed a claim for $5,000 he loaned her in 1961 to furnish her California home.

El Paso Former Policeman Billed

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —Former El Paso, Tex., policeman Wayne Westfall faces bank robbery charges in the $19,000 holdup March 31 at the Sims Building branch of the Albuquerque National Bank.

A federal grand jury indicted Westfall, 30, Monday.

He was arrested early April 1 when he appeared at an El Paso bus depot to claim a suitcase sent from Albuquerque.

FOR JACK EUBANK

New Mexico Officials Preparing New Request

Officials of the New Mexico State Penitentiary are preparing a new request to the governor of that state to ask the governor of Texas to honor the extradition of Jack Eubank from Howard County to Santa Fe.

The New Mexicans are preparing a new extradition petition, Wayne Burns, district attorney, said, based on the opinion of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals which recently ruled the original extradition request for Eubank was insufficient.

"The New Mexico officials have a copy of the court ruling," said Burns. "In accordance with the request of the court, I have written them advising what the court in Texas requires for an extradition to be valid. I am sure they are acting accordingly."

It is believed the request to the New Mexico governor will soon be approved and a request to Gov. Connally will be on its way to Austin. If the Texas governor approves the request, he will send a warrant to Sheriff A. N. Standard to detain Eubank until New Mexico officials come for him.

Eubank, meantime, is still in the county jail where he has been since early in March. The appeals court last week held he was entitled to release on a writ of habeas corpus filed in 118th District Court here but, under the law, the state has 15 days in which to file a motion for a rehearing. Burns said he is still contemplating the idea of an appeal. Meantime, the 15 days have not expired.

Should Burns not file a rehearing motion and should the New Mexico request for extradition fail to arrive by the time the 15 days expires, Sheriff Standard would have no alternative but to open the jail doors and let Eubank go.

Officials do not think this will happen, however.

Eubank, a New Mexico convict under life sentence for a murder committed in 1953 in Carlsbad, N. M., walked away from the New Mexico prison farm at Los Lunas in 1957. He lived in Big Spring for seven years going by the name of Bob Johnson and following the trade of carpenter.

The New Mexico officials received a tip last March from an unknown person that Bob Johnson and Jack Eubank, their fugitive prisoner, were one and the same. They asked Standard to investigate and Eubank's arrest followed.

Paid Sick Leave Bill For Teachers Vetoed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Connally has vetoed a bill giving teachers five days of paid sick leave a year under the minimum foundation school program.

The measure was a major legislative goal of the powerful Texas State Teachers Association, with which Connally compromised over a teacher pay raise plan.

$4 MILLION

Sponsors estimated the bill would have cost the state $4 million in two years. The program would have gone into effect in 1967. Most teachers already have locally financed sick leave programs.

The governor said his committee on public school education, authorized by the legislature, could look into the question of state-financed sick leave for teachers.

"Paid time off for illness is so widely accepted and practiced by employers that it should be unnecessary for the state to so intrude itself into the affairs of a local unit of government as to compel local boards to do what humane considerations and modern practices dictate," Connally said.

The governor also vetoed a bill placing commercial pesticide applicators under state regulation.

Two Damage Suits Filed Concerning Plane's Loss

Two damage suits, one asking $55,000 and the second $100,000, have been filed in 118th District Court by a Reeves County flier.

The defendants are the Big Spring Aircraft Inc., Howard Lloyd, Thomas Edward Standifer and Roy W. Neel.

The smaller suit involves the loss the plaintiff, Raymond Q. Quinn, claims he suffered in the burning of an airplane in the maintenance hangar at the Howard County Airport. He lives in Balmorhea.

The larger suit is an action for slander.

Quinn, who says he is a crop duster, claims that as of June 9, he had a 1952 model airplane in the maintenance hangar at the airport — an establishment under control and management of Big Spring Aircraft Inc. He said his plane was parked near a wall and that a faulty electric plug caused a fire which destroyed his airplane, valued at $5,000. When he asked the defendants to compensate him for his loss, he alleges, he was refused payment and told no insurance was carried covering such matters. He asks $5,000 damages for the loss of the plane and $50,000 exemplary damages.

The second suit charges that the men named have waged a campaign of "villifcation and and character assassination" against the plaintiff. He says this alleged campaign has damaged him $50,000 in "the eyes of his neighbors and associates." He asks that amount plus an additional $50,000 punitive damages.

Grand Jury Indicts Valles

Augustine Valles, 21, Stanton, was indicted by the Martin County Grand Jury Monday morning on a charge of murder with malice. Bond was set for him by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, at $10,000. Valles informed the court he could not employ counsel and Judge Caton named Roger Brown, Big Spring attorney, as his lawyer.

Valles is charged with the knife murder of Santos Romero, 22. Romero was fatally injured on the night of June 12. The affray occurred in front of the residence of Valles' parents in south Stanton.

Valles left the scene of the fight, but was surrendered to Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders at 10 a.m. June 13 by Enrique Valles, the defendant's father.

Judge Caton and Wayne Burns, district attorney, had agreed to recall the Martin County Grand Jury to act on the Valles case in order to complete the record.

The next regular grand jury session in Martin County will not be until October.

No date has been considered for a trial for either Valles or Margarito Cuellar, also held in the Martin County jail on a charge of murder.

Houston Resident Feared Drowned

HOUSTON (AP) — A search was on today for a Houston man who disappeared in Chocolate Bayou near Alvin. Lost and presumed drowned was Aaron Rose, 22. Witnesses said Rose apparently tired while trying to swim across the 200-foot wide channel Sunday.

Man Arrested Here For FBI

Police here arrested a man staying at a local motel Monday on a charge of desertion from the military service. The man was sought by the Federal Bureau of Investigation office in Abilene.

Raymond Nawrocki, Webb AFB, told officers some car mats, fishing rods and reels, bowling balls and shoes were taken from his car Monday.

Officers also arrested a man in the 800 block of Lamesa Drive Monday night, with a charge pending this morning of theft from bailee. He was arrested after a Big Spring woman reported to police she had given him $20 to obtain change and that he did not return with the money.

Car Hits Culvert, Texas Driver Dies

HOUSTON (AP)—Billy Sanchez, 18, of Baytown died today three hours after his car struck a culvert. Police said Sanchez apparently fell asleep while driving.

Long-Banned NAACP On Job In 'Bama

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People — banned in Alabama for eight years — has begun its first major civil rights project since it won approval to operate under a court order.

The project is statewide Negro voter registration.

MAIN GOAL

Its goals: 100,000 more registered Negro voters in Alabama by the summer's end, creation of stronger county leadership among Negroes and a new image for Alabama.

NAACP chapter leaders and businessmen — both white and Negro — were among the estimated 100 civil rights volunteers who began the campaign Monday by attending the opening of a two-day workshop period.

The volunteers will go in groups to make the county-to-county, sometimes door-to-door, drive to encourage Negroes to apply to vote.

MORE VOLUNTEERS

They will be joined later by more volunteers — all selected by the NAACP from across the nation. The total assigned to Alabama is 240.

The NAACP regained its status last year when the U.S. Supreme Court ruled unanimously that Alabama had no constitutional basis for banning the organization.

5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY

Chrysler Corporation confidently warrants all of the following vital parts of its 1965 cars for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, during which time any such parts that prove defective in material and workmanship will be replaced or repaired at a Chrysler Motors Corportation Authorized Dealer's place of business without charge for such parts or labor: engine block, head and internal parts, intake manifold, water pump, transmission case and internal parts (excepting manual clutch), torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints, rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings. REQUIRED MAINTENANCE: The following maintenance services are required under the warranty — change engine oil every 3 months or 4,000 miles, whichever comes first; replace oil filter every second oil change; clean carburetor air filter every 6 months and replace it every 2 years; and every 6 months furnish evidence of this required service to a Chrysler Motors Corporation Authorized Dealer and request him to certify receipt of such evidence and your car's mileage. Simple enough for such important protection.

You'll never get burned with this famous brand!

One of the extras you get in dealing with the Dodge Boys is the longest warranty in the auto industry! Add that to the low prices, high trades and easy terms on every head of '65 Dodges on the spread . . . and you'll see why the Dodge Boys are sell-bent-for-leather on another great sales year! DEAR ABBY

Marriage Is Serious

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is a 17-year-old high school dropout. And it's not that she didn't have the brains to graduate. She was just lazy. She's very pretty and has always been very mature (physically) for her age. But she's spoiled and selfish and emotionally immature. She doesn't want to get a job and go to work. She wants to get married. The boy is 22. He is a nice enough boy who has a steady job, but he's just a kid. My husband is all for her getting married. He says, "Let her. It will grow her up in a hurry." I say she isn't ready to accept the responsibilities of marriage and, if she got married, it wouldn't last a year. Can you give me some good arguments on my side?

ONE AGAINST TWO

DEAR ONE: Marriage is not a kindergarten where wide-eyed, immature adolescents learn to "grow up" in a hurry. It's a difficult school of experience for even the most mature and aware. Lazy, self - centered girls who turn to marriage in order to escape the realities of life learn all too soon that they have jumped from the frying pan into the fire. Let her "grow up" first.

DEAR ABBY: My mother died nine years ago, and my father has lived alone in the house next door to me ever since. My problem is how to get him to let me clean his house. There are only my husband and myself so I have lots of free time. The house is so dirty I get upset every time I go over there, and I go every day. I want so much to give that house a good cleaning but my father says he likes everything just the way it is. I don't know how much longer I can stand going over there, Abby. It's too filthy for words. You are my last resort. What can I do? D IN DELAWARE

DEAR D: A mentally sound person does not live in filth for nine years. Your father could be emotionally disturbed. For goodness sakes, get him to a doctor for a thorough check-up and give his house a thorough cleaning.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: What's all the ruckus about women wearing pants? I used to live in Lancaster, Calif., and anyone who went downtown in a dress was out of her ever-lovin' mind. Why? Because the wind blows there like there's no tomorrow, and who wants to give a grade review of the latest in underwear? Not me! We're now stationed in Panama, where it's hot and muggy and windy. Most of the women down here wear dresses. But tell me which looks worse — nearly topless dresses, transparent dresses, skirts with blouses half in and half out, or nicely fitted slacks with a neat, loose overblouse? I've asked my husband how he felt about my wearing pants, and his response was, "As long as you are comfortable, it's okay by me." PANTS IN PANAMA

Unit Due Here Wednesday

The mobil unit from the Fort Worth Blood Bank will be at the auditorium of the Big Spring State Hospital from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday. Persons willing to give blood for plasma replacements are asked to come to the auditorium.

Young Robert Harrison, son of Dr. and Mrs. Preston Harrison, who has suffered from hemophilia for several months, has been in a Fort Worth hospital receiving plasma after he suffered internal hemorrhages shortly after school was out. The plasma used must be replaced and the unit is being brought to Big Spring for that purpose, since it is inconvenient for volunteers to go to Fort Worth. Bobby came home Saturday, but is receiving plasma in Big Spring.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, spokesman for the blood bank, said the type of a person's blood did not matter in this instance, since plasma is being replaced and may be used for any one.

"The only request made," Dr. Lloyd said, "is that a person giving blood in the morning refrain from eating breakfast until after he has gone to the hospital, and those going in the afternoon wait on eating until after they have given blood."

SANTA FE (AP) — Damages of about $13 million were reported today to Gov. Jack Campbell in flooding in the south central and northeast New Mexico last week.

Court Rejects Plea To Drop Indictments

CHICAGO (AP) — The U. S. District Court denied today pleas for dismissal of charges against six stockbrokers and two brokerage firms accused of rigging the common stock of a Texas company.

Judge Michael Igoe declined to dismiss indictments against the defendants or to suppress certain evidence which their lawyers claimed was illegally obtained by government prosecutors.

The defendants are charged with mail fraud and violation of federal securities regulations in the promotion and sale of stock of Amphibious Boats, Inc., of Denton in 1959 and 1960. The company went out of business in 1961.

SET TRIAL

Igoe indicated he may set a trial date next week.

Named in the indictment are the brokerage firms of Leason & Co. of Chicago, and William B. Robinson & Co. of Corsicana, Tex.

An indictment returned in St. Louis in 1963 against all of the current defendants except McLeod and Verrill was dismissed in January 1964 at the government's request after prosecutors were barred from using certain evidence.

Defense lawyers claim the government is planning to use in the forthcoming trial evidence barred in the earlier prosecution.

REJECT CLAIM

Igoe also overruled contentions of counsel for McLeod and Verrill that they should be granted immunity from prosecution because they cooperated with the government in the investigation that resulted in the 1963 indictments.

In the current case, the defendants are charged with publishing and mailing false statements concerning the capital, patents, backlog of orders and value of the stock of amphibious boats. Also, they are accused of pushing the price of the stock from $1 a share to $8 a share in 1959 and 1960.

Knott Slates Homecoming

KNOTT (SC) — The 13th annual Knott Homecoming is planned June 26 at the school gymnasium.

Registration and visitation is to begin at 4 p.m., followed by a program and business meeting at 5 and a supper at 6:30. Exes living within a 50-mile radius of Knott are asked to bring an old fashioned spread dinner. The homecoming committee will provide coffee, tea, plates and spoons.

Officers for the homecoming are Larry Shaw, president; Mrs. Bruce Parker, vice president; Mrs. Richard Parker, secretary; and Mrs. Edith Fryar, treasurer.

A Devotional For The Day

Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. (Matthew 19:19)
PRAYER: Dear Father in heaven, teach us to love Thee as Thou dost love us — gladly and generously. Show us the way to love our neighbor as we love ourselves. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

A Lot Of Difference

If nothing else, the speech of William McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, at Columbia University recently has provided a lot of ammunition for columnists.

There has been widespread speculation over his rhetorical question: "Does Moetary History Repeat Itself?" One phrase, namely that he detected "disquieting similarities" between the boom of the Twenties that collapsed into the celebrated but unlamented deep depression of the Thirties, and today's of prosperity got most of the play.

What Mr. Martin evidently had in mind was a word of caution, a healthful thing in most enterprises and notably in business. However, he touched off a wave of jitters that created one of the problems which snowballed the depression and made it so tenacious.

History may indeed tend to repeat itself, but it usually does so from parallel circumstances. Herein lies the lack of propriety in his choice of words.

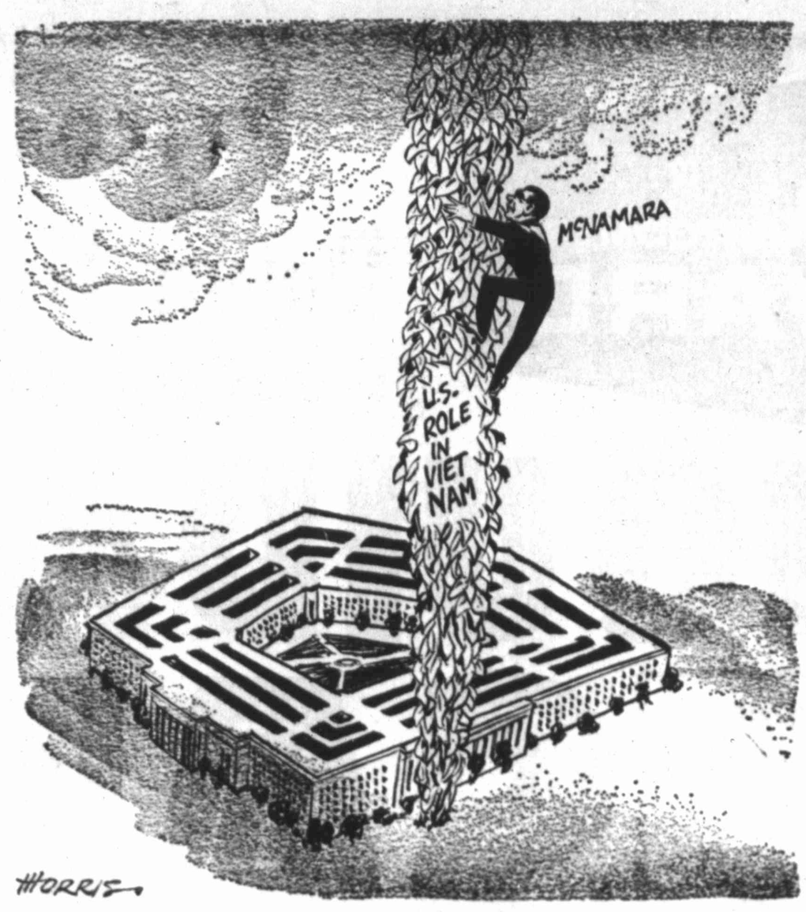

The economy of today and that of the Twenties are hardly comparable. One was free-wheeling; today's has built-in cushions such as unemployment compensation, Social Security, more widespread subsidies, which, whether for good or ill, are nevertheless a fact. Moreover, the rate of technological advance today is as different as daylight and dark from that of four decades ago. In the Twenties, people had never faced such economic forces as the great surge up and down, and they felt powerless and frustrated. The intervening years have produced a great deal of experience in that direction, and vast new instruments are at hand.

Battle Of The Bulge

The Battle of the Bulge was the last German offensive in World War II. It proved, to the Allies' vast surprise, that Germany was not finished. Its impact caused our armies more than 40,000 casualties, and, narrowly missed boring through to Antwerp and the sea. Only with great effort could it be stopped.

The Bulge has generally been attributed to the ability of the German commanders, notably the supreme commander, Field-Marshal Von Rundstedt. A different story is told by Hugh M. Cole, U. S. Army historian.

Cole's report, just issued, says that the greatest surprise since Pearl Harbor, was due to the genius of Adolf Hitler. He conceived the idea and worked out a scheme of deception which caused General Eisenhower and other leaders to look for the attack much further north. The German generals distrusted Hitler's strategy. But on this occasion, if Cole is correct in his conclusion, he proved wiser than the professional experts.

BOB AND THE BEANSTALK

Around The Rim

Listen To The Mocking Bird — Pffft!

Let it be made clear — I like birds. I do not go around shooting our little feathered friends, nor do I approve the wildeyed excitement some fellows get out of what they call the "sport" of quail hunting. I even frown sternly at small boys who go around peppering away at birds with airguns.

HOWEVER, I AM fed up to here with a bagfull of mockingbirds who have squatters rights to my back yard.

I have come to the conclusion that these ill-tempered jerks are a bunch of bird brains. They have built what they call nests in the shrubs and trees, and these nests are running over with ugly little mocking birds. The nests are so poorly built that gusty winds often dump the big-mouthed birdlings on the ground where they perish.

MAMA AND PAPA Mocker, I am told by the books and by the bird-watchers of my acquaintance, are talented singers.

I am reminded of the lovely old ditty "Listen to the Mocking Bird" which used to be a tear jerker when vaudeville was still alive. The fellow who wrote that song must have been dealing with a different set of mocking birds than the colony in my back yard. The one in the song, it seems, rivalled the nightingale as a soloist. My own flock of mockers may be able to do as well. I wouldn't know.

All they ever "sing" around my place is a sort of birdlike Bronx cheer. A happy sort of sound somewhat like that which you get when you drag nail along a file.

INSTEAD OF EITHER singing lovely songs, as they are supposed to do or keeping themselves busy hustling up worms and bugs for their nestlings, these punks sit on the clothes line or on tree boughs and cuss my tomcat by the hour.

If he isn't around to cuss, they cuss me.

If I don't keep a sharp lookout I get stafed by one of the irate boogers right in my own back yard. They chase Jerry, my tomcat, by the hour. He spends most of his out of doors time huddled in shock under a dense growth of evergreen to protect him from being divebombed.

Poor Jerry — unlike a gray mama cat — couldn't catch a cold — much less a bird. He is far too lazy to climb a tree for the repulsive pleasure of eating a baby mockingbird.

THE WIND IS a real foe — last year I picked up numerous young mockers and stuck them back in their shanty-built nest after they had been flicked out by the wind.

One day when I was away from home the wind sent the birdlings earthward. When I got home that afternoon it was too late. The hot sun and the ants had finished them off. The mother bird was cussing me when I drove up — she seemed to think it was my fault that she had been deprived of her children.

If she had made her old man do a little repair work on the sideboards of the nest, the tragedy would never have occurred. If I hadn't intervened at least half a dozen times earlier, she would have been childless a lot sooner.

ONE THING FOR sure — the birds had better cut out that squalling every time I show up in my yard or they're going to have real trouble.

I am already gathering up little piles of rocks at convenient places. And very soon I intend to start shying these pebbles at the noisy, ill-tempered jerks.

Listen to the mockingbird! Nuts!

In Orbit Over Paris

WASHINGTON — The decision by the President to send astronauts Edward White and Charles McDivitt to Paris, caught NASA officials in Houston by surprise. Although both men had orbited around the globe and one had even walked in space, no one knew how they would be able to stand up under the rigors of a full entertainment schedule in the French capitol.

Medical authorities in charge of the space program voiced anxiety. One of the doctors said, "We hadn't planned on any American astronauts landing in Paris until 1967. We feel there was a great deal more to be learned before we were willing to risk the lives of these two men. Even preliminary trips around the United States by other astronauts have shown how hazardous it is for these men once they get back on the ground."

THE BELIEF here in Washington is that the President made his decision because the Russians had sent cosmonauts Titov and Gagarin to Paris and this put the Russians ahead of us in ground travel.

When the President gave his order, Houston went into action. Tracking stations all over Paris were alerted. A rescue helicopter squadron was sent to Orly airport, the carrier Wasp was anchored off Le Havre.

Although McDivitt and White had trained for this trip in various officer's clubs around the country, neither one of them knew what they would be up against in Paris.

WHILE THEY were suited up at Andrews Air Force Base, both men kidded with each other, but showed none of the anxiety they must have felt.

The blast-off went perfectly and the men reported into Gus Grissom that everything was A-Okay. "We're on target," White said, "and we can see the Eiffel Tower off two degrees to our left."

Grissom gave them permission to make a three-day orbit around Paris.

THERE WAS A slight scare early in the trip when the astronauts got into a traffic jam at the Arc de Triomphe, and the tracking stations lost them. But by using their retro-rockets they managed to get through.

A few hours later came the toughest part of the trip. The astronauts were instructed to rendezvous at the Lido night club and White was to take a walk on the stage while McDivitt filmed him in color.

The nation could hear every word they said.

"How is it out there?" Grissom wanted to know.

"Great," White said. "It's just beautiful up here. You've never seen anything like it."

"YOU DIRTY DOG," McDivitt said, "you're clouding up my windshield."

"I think I'm losing control," White said.

"Your blood pressure seems to be rising," Grissom said anxiously.

"There's just too much to see at one time," White said. "I wish every American could be up here with me."

"You better get back, now," McDivitt said.

"I'm having too much fun."

GRISSOM SAID, "That's an order, White," and White reluctantly left the stage. He said afterwards, "it was the happiest 20 minutes of my life."

When they were safely out of the night club, President Johnson put in a call to the men. "The nation is proud of both of you," he said. "How would you like to come down to the ranch when you come back?"

"We'd like that, sir."

"Fine, and be sure and bring those films with you."

Joy At U.N.'s Founding May Seem Absurd Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — There has seldom if ever in the history of man been such a sense of joy, of new beginning, as there was for a little while in sunlit San Francisco 20 years ago.

That may seem absurd now after what has happened in the two decades since diplomats from the big and little nations allied against the Axis or Japan met in the California city April 25, 1945, to create the United Nations.

But the war with Germany was coming to a crashing end, with Japan to be taken care of soon. Then the world could learn from its mistakes and start down a fresh road.

THE UNITED Nations was to chart the road and it seemed unbelievable that after the disasters of two world wars man would be too stupid to learn a little.

That was a foundation, but not the only one, for the hope the world might be entering a new and civilized and reasonable day.

The United States, Britain, China, the Soviet Union and others for sheer survival had submerged their differences in order to fight together, and fight well, against a common enemy.

After this ability to work together in a terrible time, it didn't seem too much to hope the nations in the future might be willing to discuss their differences in an international forum instead of doing all over again what they had just been through.

True, the old League of Nations, set up in 1920, was supposed to have been just this kind of forum for peaceful settlements and yet it was a tragic failure, as World War II showed.

BUT THE world a-coming with the United Nations could learn from the league and go on from there, or so it seemed, because something truly new had been added.

The United States, which had stood aloof from the League of Nations, had cast off its leaden mantle of isolationism and was to be one of the guiding forces of the United Nations.

In short, when all the hopes and reasons were added together the success or failure of the United Nations would rest on one thing only: the good intentions of the members.

The dream of a new and different world didn't last long. It didn't even last until June 26, 1945, when 51 nations, after two months of discussion, signed the finished U.N. Charter.

BY THEN is was becoming clear Stalin had abandoned his agreement about letting the countries of Eastern Europe have free elections after the war and was maneuvering to capture them as satellites.

But the most sobering realization was the big-power veto.

How Long Will Viet War Last?

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — How long will the war in South Viet Nam last?

The prospect is that victory still is an indefinite number of rice crops away and probably an indefinite number of billions of dollars.

That is, if it is fought to a military conclusion.

Some pessimists hold that victory on the battlefield can be won, if at all, only after decades of steady wearing struggle and that the only sensible solution will result from political negotiations. But no negotiations are in sight.

SOME OPTIMISTS think that a military verdict can be achieved in at most a few years by cutting off the Viet Cong from their supply sources and destroying their strength in the field by the attrition of many battles.

All agree, more or less, however, that military victory will be delayed or rendered impossible if the South Vietnamese fail to maintain a strong central government in Saigon which the people can respect and support.

After being in the country six weeks and talking with scores of people at many levels I wonder if my judgment of the situation is any better than it was after I had been here six hours.

This is one of those places in which the more you study the less sure you are that you have all the key facts in hand.

I'D LIKE to present the view of some of those I've discussed the war with.

An American colonel:

"I thought it was hopeless. But now I have hope. I think our airpower has enabled us to turn the corner. It boosted the morale of the people. I don't know how long it will take but I believe now we can win."

A French businessman:

"You can't win with airpower and you can't win by running up and down the roads in armored cars. The French tried that and lost. You can't win except with masses of infantry. Until you do that we are all prisoners here."

An American major:

"If we had enough artillery and mop-up units stationed along the Laotian border to intercept their supplies we could whip them in the field. I'd say we could do it in two or three years."

A VETERAN newspaperman:

"The Viet Cong aren't getting weaker, they're stronger. They used to fight as squads, platoons or, at the most, as companies. Now they're organized at the battalion and even regiment level. They hold the countryside. We hold cities. Our air power is hurting them but where are we going to get the manpower to whip them?"

Attacks On McNamara

WASHINGTON — More than the President himself his Secretary of Defense, Robert S. McNamara, is taking the punishment in the controversies that rage over the huge defense establishment and the military aspects of foreign policy. The shot and shell comes from every side and if he looks drawn and tense it is hardly surprising.

SHOULD HE STAY on in the job, and there is no reason to believe he will not stay, McNamara will be at the center of a dispute already shaping up over Viet Nam. An exchange on Capitol Hill the other day was a portent.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, the Republican convert out of South Carolina, was quizzing an Army general who seemed reluctant to confirm the Senator's views. Finally Thurmond, said:

"YOU AREN'T letting those civilians tell you what to do, are you? Are you mice or men over there?"

An influential and highly articulate wing of the Republican party has begun the campaign for "victory" in Viet Nam by extending the bombing raids. Bombing can win and therefore, so goes this war cry, it is wrong to commit large numbers of ground troops in a jungle war in Asia.

THE SECRETARY, who takes members of Congress at their word when they argue for economy, has made enemies in two ways. His orders closing down a whole series of useless or inefficient bases and construction centers brought cries of anguish. Under the egregious new chairman, Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, the House Armed Services Committee has just voted to clip McNamara's wings. An amendment tacked onto the military construction bill would give either Senate or House the right to veto any McNamara order on bases.

THESE CONFLICTS are part of the hostility built up toward McNamara. But though they feed the controversy over bombing and the right of commanders to decide when and how and where they shall bomb, the essence is in the conviction of an easy war easily won from the air. This has been an important part of conservative Republican doctrine for a long time.

It was a major element in the political assault that developed over the Korean War beginning in 1951 and reaching a climax in General Eisenhower's campaign for the Presidency in 1952. That became "Truman's war" and the "privileged sanctuary" in China the reason American forces could not achieve victory in both North and South Korea.

SIGNS ARE multiplying that the same kind of controversy can grow out of the commitment of 100,000 men or more to South Viet Nam and the casualties that will follow. President Johnson's popularity is high and he may not get the brickbats. But his Secretary of Defense, who has never dodged a controversy when he felt he was right, is vulnerable.

The President's Predicament

WASHINGTON—For the first time there has appeared among the opponents of President Johnson's war policy a ripple of sympathy for the tall tactician in the White House.

This is a telltale symptom. It means that even those who believe him to be dead wrong in his conduct of the Viet Nam conflict are coming to see that LBJ does not have as many options as is generally supposed. He is running out of choices in Viet Nam for the disturbing reason that he is running short of military equipment.

BY WAY OF illustration, there is a strong opinion among informed Senators that Johnson will be forced to bomb Red China before the end of the year—not because he wants to but because he may have no alternative.

Why is the Commander in Chief of the most powerful military force on earth so handcuffed? Little things rather than big ones are his problem. The Douglas Skyraiders, the two-engine World War II aircraft which have been our chief aerial weapon in South Viet Nam, are running out of life. It is not so much that battle losses have become heavier. It is because the planes are suffering from the attrition of too much flying.

THEN THERE IS the lack of artillery to hit the enemy at a distance. The light weaponry which was thought to be just right for anti-guerrilla combat has failed to stop the Viet Cong's increasingly larger assaults.

The President is pushing reenforcements into Viet Nam with the hope of smothering the enemy by numbers—but he is short of places to put the new troops and equipment. The tighter he packs them into available areas, the greater the risk of a major catastrophe. There are now close to 70,000 American troops in or near South Viet Nam. By the end of July, it is planned to have 100,000. But it is estimated that we need 300,000 to seal off South Viet Nam from the North. How to position the replacements in a terrain where rear-echelon areas are shrinking?

THERE ARE reports that the President is not receiving whole-hearted obedience from his own State Department. The Saigon government remains unstable because American civilian advisers have not made it clear that we will refuse to accept a coalition regime. Some Viet Nam military leaders are reluctant to go into battle for fear that they are deliberately being sent to death as a means of political removal.

There is no doubt that the President would like to change all these adverse conditions. If he had many new Skyraiders on hand instead of on order, if he had the big artillery pieces in action, if he had broad and safe areas to mobilize his reenforcements, if he had civilian personnel at all levels who were determined and confident about victory, the President would have many more options than he now possesses.

AS MATTERS STAND, he must watch the buildup of Soviet aircraft and anti-aircraft equipment which is taking place at the North Viet Nam port and railcenter at Haiphong. If he doesn't soon hit this city, both our ground concentrations and our ships at sea will be subject to air attack. He will soon have no choice but to strike at major targets, such as Haiphong, where it means killing Russians. After that, he must hit depots and war plants in Red China—not from choice but from lack of choice.

These are some of the reasons for a wave of sympathy among Johnson's opponents in Washington. What he needs more than that is sympathy and understanding from the American people.

Billy Graham

I think you are being dogmatic when, at the end of each broadcast, you say, "Just receive Christ as your personal Savior." C.M.

It is not dogmatic to be explicit as to the truth. Many considerations are matters of opinion in which there is no clear solution and final answer. One can speculate about the weather, for while meteorology is a science, we do not know with exactness enough of its detail to be dogmatic as to cause and effect. We are dogmatic, however, in mathematics. In pure numbers, two and two always equals four. That is dogmatic.

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved." My intention is to speak with all the kindness of my heart, but also with all the accuracy of the truth.

Glaucoma Doesn't Always Lead To Blindness

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Does glaucoma always eventually lead to blindness? I know the condition is irreversible, but if it is detected in the early stages in a fairly young person (48) can it be controlled at that point? Or does progression continue in spite of treatment? — R.A.

Generally speaking, the answer to your question is no, glaucoma does not always lead to blindness. If we couldn't do something about glaucoma, there wouldn't be much purpose in urging people to have their eyes tested for it.

The first sign of it, before any other symptom appears, is an increase in pressure in the eyeball. Testing for this is a relatively simple matter. Relatively! It requires a special instrument. Medication is applied to the eye to prevent it from being sensitive. Then the instrument (a tonometer) is touched to the surface of the eyeball, to measure the tension of it.

There is an increasing trend toward having this test performed by doctors other than eye specialists. If a reading is definitely high, or high enough to be suspicious, then the patient is referred to a specialist.

This pressure, in itself, does not interfere with vision. The danger lies in the fact that the pressure, long continued, destroys the delicate inner portions of the eye. Once that happens, it is irreversible — it cannot be undone.

But if the pressure is relieved before the damage has occurred, or before too much damage has occurred, the eyesight is saved.

Keep the pressure down to a safe level, and the damage, if any, will be arrested at that point. Maybe no harm done! But if too much damage has occurred already, then vision may continue to fail.

And that's why it is so necessary to discover glaucoma early.

Methods of controlling pressure vary, and include such things as medication, diet, weight control, adequate rest, easing of nervous tensions and, in some cases, surgery. The purpose of surgery is to open a vent sufficiently so that pressure will be equalized, approximately, inside and outside the eyeball.

It should be remembered that it is not easy to find two cases that are just alike. Sometimes glaucoma develops very slowly, other times very rapidly. The treatment, obviously, will depend on the type of case, the amount of pressure which has developed, the readiness with which a patient responds to treatment. It is therefore better for me, in the column, not to try to be too dogmatic about treatment.

But I will say this: If your doctor has told you that in your case the glaucoma has been detected early, you have every reason to anticipate that you will not become blind.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: My son has been told that his thyroid gland is too active and that he should have surgery. How serious is this operation? Is it any kin to Hodgkin's Disease? — MRS. P. M. A.

It has nothing to do with Hodgkin's Disease (which attacks lymph glands all over the body). Surgery for a strongly overactive thyroid is not unusual at all, and while it requires hospitalization, it is not a perilous thing.

Removal of part of the gland reduces the amount of hormone produced by the gland, and halts jitters, "nerves," and other symptoms.

Naturally it is not a remedy for all types of nervous tension, but is very useful for such cases as are caused by overactive thyroid.

Scouts Arrive From Colombia

Two senior Girl Scouts from Bogota, Cundinararca, Colombia, who arrived in the United States June 17, will be guests tonight in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, 2308 Roberts. The Scouts are in this country to attend the annual Roundup July 15-28 in Farragut, Idaho, and are guests of the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

The Scouts are Cecilia Davila, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Davila, and Carmen Lara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Lara. Both girls are students at Gimnasio Femenino in Bogota, and speak fluent English and French. Their working experience has been as museum aids, and they list among their hobbies, tennis, water skiing, golf, music, swimming and camping.

Carmen has been in Scouting for six years, serving as patrol leader, and participated in an international Scouting conference. Cecilia's Scouting background has been the same, and she has had experience with day camp work.

A barbecue honoring the Colombian guests was held in Abilene last evening. They will be in Lamesa today, arriving here as overnight guests of the Lloyds prior to touring the area day camp tomorrow.

During the next two weeks, the Scouts will be visiting in Abilene, Sweetwater, Colorado City and Snyder. In Silver, they will spend two nights at the McCabe Ranch, and will be guests for a rodeo and dinner in Snyder hosted by the American Field Service students. On July 6-7 they will be at Camp Boothe Oaks near Sweetwater, and will leave from Abilene July 11 for the Roundup in Idaho.

Pastor Speaks To HD Group For Program

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the Westbrook Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. Charles Ranne, president. Mrs. Emory Sweatt presided. Mrs. Ranne led the club prayer, and Mrs. Hoyt Roberts led group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Ranne at the piano.

The program was presented by the Rev. S. L. Yeilding, pastor of First Baptist Church, who spoke on "Women with a Purpose." Rev. Yeilding said that three things for a happy life were to look for something beautiful every day, memorize something good every day and do something for someone every day.

During the business meeting Mrs. Roberts gave the council delegate report. Mrs. Sweatt read a program outline and the club voted to postpone the meetings until Sept. 7 at which time it will meet with Mrs. C. R. Rich. An annual county-wide picnic will be held in August, date to be set.

Four members were present and two guests, Mrs. Altis Clemmer, who received the hostess prize, and Linda Ranne.

Many Men Will Not Yield To Sickness

By HALVARD T. HANSEN, D.C.

How many men do you know who are too proud to admit illness? How many men do you know who are failing or have failed to make a good living simply because they are not well?

Proud men often stand with clinched teeth and foolishly brush off the mention of illness because they mistakenly associate illness with weakness. Usually these are men who have always been healthy and masculine. They can't understand how anyone can be sick. They often poke fun at puny people and therefore refuse to complain or seek professional help when they eventually become sick.

Some men are afraid to consult a doctor. They are the ones who know that they have "waited too long" and therefore feel they have something "terrible" and are afraid to find out just how bad they really are.

When sick, business and other interests lose their importance! Worry and fear are negative and frequently create an "I can't care" attitude. This kills any hope of success and often drives an otherwise ambitious man to drink, instead of searching for the cause and correction of his trouble.

I can tell you of a man who suffered two years with "minor" abdominal pain such as sour stomach, heartburn, indigestion, bloating and gas pains. Instead of seeking professional care, he continued to take digestive aids, etc., until his "minor" disturbances developed into serious daily nauseating spells, and acute stomach cramps that left him feeling faint, extremely nervous, "keyed-up," constantly tired and exhausted. He fought business worries with two packs of cigarettes and eight to ten cups of coffee per day.

Unable to endure his pain any longer, he came and, telling that he had been reading chiropractic columns, he wanted to see if he could be helped. There were several pinched nerves in his spine, creating the chaos in his abdomen. Nerve pressure will invariably disrupt organic function and, naturally, painful symptoms will result.

Spinal X-rays showed the offending vertebrae and adjustments put them back into normal alignment and he was amazed as symptom after symptom disappeared. Free of pain, worry and negativity, his business also prospered. No. 2741.

Pride is a wonderful virtue — but, so is intelligence!

They can only respect your pride. Use your intelligence and investigate the Hansen Chiropractic Clinic where your problems are held in strictest confidence while your health is restored. Couple Recites Vows In Lamesa Ceremony

LAMESA (SC) — A double ring ceremony, at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, united in marriage Miss Sandra Jordon and John Theodore Boedecker. The Rev. E. D. Landreth read the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Jordan, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boedecker of Lubbock.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of bone taffeta featuring a scalloped, bateau neckline and Dolman sleeves on a bodice of crystal beaded Alencon lace appliqued on a net background.

Garlands of lace extended from the waistline to the hem which swept into a chapel train. An elbow-length veil of tiered silk illusion was attached to a silk pillbox accented by lace and crystal beads. She carried a white pearl Bible topped with a bouquet of white roses and feathered carnations surrounding a white orchid.

ATTENDANTS

Attendants were Mrs. Dick Norris, Big Spring, matron of honor; Mrs. Bill Petteway, Midland, bridesmatron; and Miss Jan Jordan, bridesmaid.

John Tom Baker, Dallas, was best man. Kirby Williams, Anton, and James Culp, Lubbock, were Groomsmen.

Ushers were Gary Jordon, Mike Ludden, Dallas; Bill Petteway, Midland; and Bobby Reeves, Lubbock. Gene Fritts, Houston, and Dennis Jordon lit the candles.

Wedding selections were presented by Miss Wanza Allen, organist, and Mike Connally, soloist.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the church parlor following the wedding.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a dress of white crepe designed with a blouson bodice and pleated skirt. She wore white accessories and carried an orchid from her wedding corsage.

Mrs. Boedecker is a graduate of Lamesa High School and received a BA in English from Texas Tech. She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Sigma Tau Delta, and Theta Sigma Phi. She was employed as English teacher at Monterey High School in Lubbock last year.

Boedecker is a graduate of Lubbock High School and received a BS in education from Texas Tech. He is a member of Alpha Phi Omega. He is attending law school at Baylor University where he is a member of Delta Theta Phi.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock for the summer and will reside in Waco in the fall.

Bride-Elect Given Bible

Miss Jan Worthan, bride-elect of Mike Steward, was honored with a Sunday evening white Bible presentation service at the Westside Baptist Church.

The candlelight ceremonies were performed by six representatives from the Young Women's Auxiliary accompanied by their counselor, Mrs. L. C. Gibbs. Mrs. C. L. Kirkland, women's missionary union president, lighted the candles, and Mrs. W. E. Anderson presented the Bible. The Rev. Kenneth Andress led the prayer.

The couple plans to be married July 16 at the Westside Baptist Church.

The Truth About WIGS by Bette B.

BETTE B.

Hi — This is Bette B. again, this week I want to talk to you girls about wig rinses. Some of our patrons and prospective customers, and there are too many especially in Big Spring, are reluctant to having their wigs rinsed to a different shade. It is difficult to get the exact shade and color tone without a rinse.

We carry over 200 wigs in stock in Odessa and Big Spring which is still not sufficient to supply our patrons with the exact shade and color tone without using rinses.

Our color rinses contain a hair conditioner which improves the texture and gives the wig more resilience, luster and beauty. A light wig can be changed from a quarter of a shade to several shades darker, in almost any color.

With one of our quality light wigs, you can be a platinum blonde for as long as you like, an exotic red head, a strawberry blonde, a Jacqueline Kennedy brownette or a Garbo beige, all with the use of rinses.

The wig will act as a protective covering for your natural hair, enabling it to grow out more beautiful than ever. When you do use your natural hair, your friends, seeing the improvement will think you have on another wig.

We defenitely do not recommend wig bleaching, dying or tinting. These operations require a special process known only to few. We can do it if absolutely necessary, but as I stated before, we do not recommend it.

All of our wigs are especially low in price, considering the fact that they are top quality and 100% guaranteed. When buying a wig, buy quality rather than price, it will be easier on the pocketbook in the long run. Our easy terms make it possible for anyone to have several wigs for no more than they are now spending at beauty shops. Come in and see us, we're at 1704 Gregg St., it's the BETTE B. State Meeting Held In Austin

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Daniels, 2308 Drexel, and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Brown, 2408 Morrison, were Big Spring delegates to the state convention of National Association of Letter Carriers and the Texas Ladies Auxiliary. The convention was held in Austin June 17-19.

Guest speakers for the occasion were Tyler Abell, assistant postmaster general for the bureau of facilities, Post Office Department; Ralph Yarborough, senator; and Jim Wright, District 12 congressman. The speakers discussed pay increases and retirement legislation.

The convention was the scene of a joint memorial service for deceased members of the organization. During the business session, new officers for the auxiliary were installed.

At the convention, Brown served on the state officers' report committee, and Mrs. Brown served on the greeting committee.

A sight-seeing tour was conducted for the group. They saw the Lyndon Johnson home, the balanced rock, Lake Lyndon B. Johnson, the governor's mansion, state capitol building, and the University of Texas.

Lone Entrepreneur Gets Federal Help

NEW YORK (AP)—Big government may prove a boon for the lone wolf businessman after all.

For years the entrepreneur, part of American folklore, has tended to look upon ever-bigger government as one of the threats to his way of operating. Now he is finding that big government is making available to him production techniques and methods of doing business and fruits of its research which only it can afford to undertake.

Big government and also big business, with which the entrepreneur long has been at odds, are now seeking to revive the qualities which traditionally made the organizer, the risk-taker, and the controller of the essentially one-man enterprise, a prime force in developing the American economy.

OFFER ADVICE

One practical result is that government agencies are now the source for expert advice on everything from accounting procedures for small business to quality control on the production line.

The entrepreneur is the exact opposite of the typical corporation executive, the organization man. The lone operator runs his business with a tight control of all its aspects.

A government study of the lone wolf businessman describes him as a man who has the will to control, the freedom to think independently and the ruthlessness to do what is expedient, regardless of past ties or loyalties. It cites his ability to project his own experience into new situations, in which criteria do not yet exist, and to create his own standards for acceptable levels of accomplishment.

NEW FIELDS

For years government borrowed techniques from business, to some extent because it was becoming so involved in business itself. But now that government has pushed into many new fields, both large and small businesses are finding many of its activities directly applicable to their own.

The Polaris submarine is an example cited by Sylvan Gollin, in charge of Walter Dorwin Teague Associates' 20-year-old program of design and quality control development for the Navy's Bureaus of Weapons.

He says that Polaris and other Navy projects have required research in all aspects of management to permit successful operation. Private organizations helped develop them. But by now the Navy has establishd standards and methods of control over production on its own, rather than depending on those of its suppliers.

Advisory and financial aid from government agencies are helping entrepreneurs enter new fields, found new enterprises. But Gollin contends that thanks to government techniques "new business will make fewer costly mistakes."

Center Given $310 In Gifts

Gifts totalling $310 flowed in to the Howard County Rehabilitation Center Tuesday, putting the fund pledge drive at $6,849.27 — almost one-third of the needed $20,000.

Center officials are attempting to fully equip the building at Third and Lancaster by August, and are stressing that groups, individuals and firms wishing to help the center should get their pledges to the center as quickly as possible so equipment can be ordered.

Gifts in any amount are welcome, but specific therapeutic devices, as described in a booklet available at the center, are most needed.

Today's donors include the Coahoma State Bank, an infrared lamp worth $160; the Coahoma Lions Club, a wrist roll exerciser worth $55; and an exercise skate valued at $5; Dr. and Mrs. Houston J. Zinn, $25; Marie Vines, $5; the Homemakers Sunday School Class of the First Christian Church, $25; the Forsan Service Club, $25; the Eager Beaver Sewing Club, $5; and R. M. LaLonde, $5 in the name of Robbie Bruce.

Pleads Guilty, Fined $50, Costs

John F. Higginbotham, charged with writing a worthless check, entered a guilty plea before Judge Lee Porter in Howard County Court Monday afternoon. Judge Porter fined the defendant $50 and costs and sentenced him to a day in the county jail.

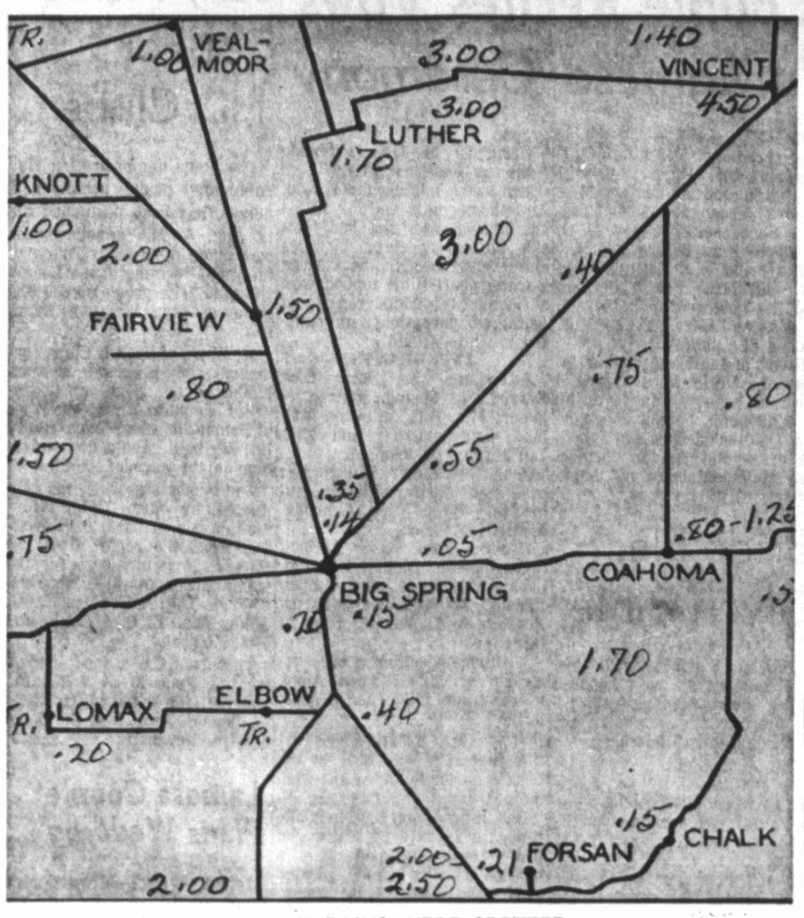

Abram Martinez, charged with DWI second offense and with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle, has been placed in the county jail by city police. A bond of $1,000 has been set in the DWI complaint and one for $1,500 in the aggravated assault complaint. Martinez had not posted either bond Tuesday morning.

Grand Jury Panel Is Being Drawn

A grand jury panel for the June term of district court was being drawn at the Howard County Courthouse today.

The jury commission is Hal Rosson, Mrs. Wesley Deats, and Jeff Brown. It was named by Judge Ralph Caton with instructions to draw 16 names for grand jury duty.

The grand jury will be organized by Judge Caton at 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 29. Wayne Burns, district attorney, estimated he had between 25 and 28 felony matters to be laid before the grand jury at its session.

HEAVY RAINS WERE SPOTTED

Loving Touch Is Vital To Baby, Expert Says

NEW YORK (AP) — Tender, loving touching may be one of the most important things you can do for a baby.

His soft skin is perhaps the part of the body by which he does his first great learning about his strange outside world, a psychiatrist said today.

And the skin-learning, or lack of it, apparently can be important in how the baby grows up, said Dr. Sidney Cohen of Los Angeles.

Cohen is chief of psychiatric service at Wadsworth Hospital in Los Angeles and a professor at the University of California at Los Angeles.

It's generally considered that lack of a mother, or good substitute motherly care, may have serious and lifelong impact on a child's character, he told the American Medical Association.

This is known as maternal deprivation — even by a real mother who is cold or detached — and is a complex matter, he said.

Cohen focused upon just one aspect of it — little or no skin stimulation.

NERVE ENDINGS

For one thing, he said, the nerve endings for touch, temperature and pain are the first to develop insulating sheaths — long before the infant develops effective nerves for hearing or seeing.

Skin contacts are the first sole means 'of communicating security and affection, a need as great or even more important than the feeding process," Cohen said. "It is evidently relaxing and pleasurable to the infant to be stroked, cuddled and massaged."

What a child feels, from all senses, during the first six months of life "may have its greatest impact upon the child's evolving personality and physiology," he said.

Children reared in an orphanage, kept clean and well-fed but rarely handled, weren't considered to have fared as well, mentally and emotionally, as babies reared in a prison nursey by their own mothers, Cohen said, citing a study by other researchers.

Information Distribution Abroad Okayed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower endorsed today legislation to permit the federal government to distribute birth control information to foreign governments.

Eisenhower, in a statement to a Senate Foreign Aid subcommittee studying the legislation, described curtailing the world's population explosion as a key issue in world survival.

He said also that something should be done so that welfare funds might not be a lure for unwed mothers to continue to have illegitimate children.

"Corrective action will require careful study," Eisenhower said, "for even if research should uncover no effective measures other than legal sterilization, a final resort to this method unquestionably would shock great segments of our citizenry."

On the question of distribution of birth control information to foreign governments, Eisenhower said he had shifted from an opposition position that he once held.

"Ten years ago, although aware of some of these growing dangers abroad, I did not then believe it to be the function of the federal government to interfere in the social structures of other nations by using, except by private institutions, American resources to assist them in a partial stabilization of their numbers," Eisenhower said.

Mrs. Hill To Head Auxiliary

Mrs. Lois Hill was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary at a meeting held Monday evening in the Legion Home on the San Angelo highway.

Other officers named were Mrs. Johnnie Morrison, first vice president; Mrs. Mary Alice Cone, second vice president; Mrs. Ruth Nichols, secretary; Mrs. Nancy Weatherly, treasurer; Mrs. Frances Barlow, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Zelda Rea, historian; and Mrs. L. D. Bruton, chaplain.

Six delegates and a like number of alternates were named for the state convention which will meet in El Paso July 23-25. Mrs. Morrison presided over the meeting, in the absence of Mrs. Ilene Cothran, president, and 15 attended.

City Employe Hurt In Mishap

A city employe, D. W. Overman, received a broken leg in an accident at the city warehouse Monday, when a fork lift machine he was driving overturned.

He was reported in good condition at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital this morning.

The vehicle apparently overturned when the wheels locked as it was turning, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said, when Overman was thrown from the vehicle and the overhead crash bar struck his leg.

Last Trip Paid To Son's Grave

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The old man from New Zealand ran his finger across the face of the grave marker, memorizing each detail:

Sub-Lt. Denis B. McLean
Royal Navy Volunteer Reserve
Born 1920—Died 1942
Rest in Peace

A small Union Jack fluttered at the head of the marker as the old man bent silently beside the plot, his tight-jawed face as craggy as the shoreline back in New Zealand.

LAST TRIP

"This is my last trip," Charles McLean, 84, said. "I don't expect to come this way again."

His sandy-haired son had died in a plane crash Aug. 11, 1942, a few days after winning his wings with other visiting New Zealand airmen at Opa-Locka Naval Air Station north of Miami.

He is buried in a special plot with a dozen other British servicemen killed in this area during the war.

VISITS GRAVE

McLean traveled half way around the globe five years ago to visit the grave for the first time. He and his wife planned the trip for a long time, saving pennies from his schoolmaster's pension.

She died a month before they were to sail.

"We had the trip already pencilled in when she left me," McLean said in a rolling brogue, a mixture of his half-Scotch, half-Irish ancestry. "She never got to see Dan's resting place."

On that first journey McLean carried with him a small vial of dirt taken from the backyard of his home at Wairoa in eastern New Zealand, where the great hills shoulder their way into the surf of the vast Pacific.

SPRINKLES AT

He sprinkled the rust-brown dirt on his son's grave and refilled the vial with earth from the grassy plot.

"I took the earth home wi' me and used it to plant a totara tree in the yard for Dan. It's a good stout tree and one day will grow 150 feet tall.

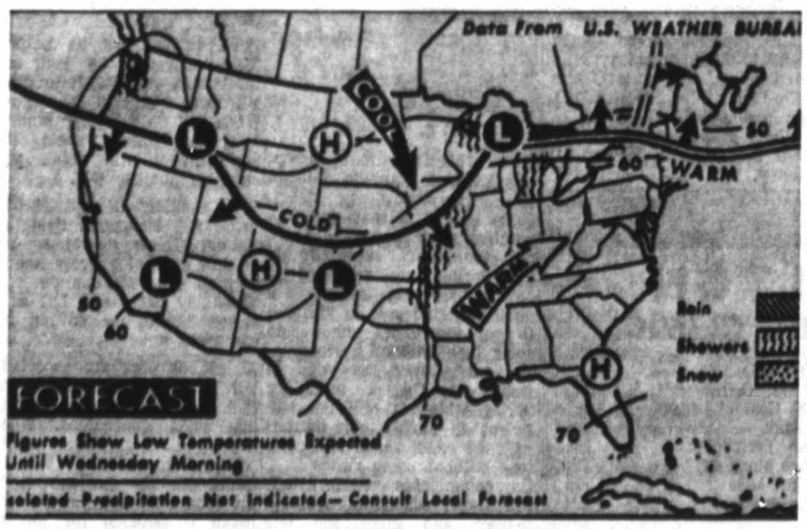

"I've never grown used to losing him, you know. He was not only a son but a cobber as well."

A cobber, he said, is New Zealand slang for "pal."

"No, I shall not come to this sad place again," he said slowly and walked out of the graveyard. "It's a long trip and I ha' no cobber to make it wi' me."

He left instructions for an additional inscription to be put on his son's granite marker, chiseled in the ancient language of the Maori, the original New Zealanders:

"Haere ra e tama!"
Farewell, o son!

Weather Outlook

Scattered showers from the upper Great Lakes southwestward through the middle Mississippi valley to the southern Plains are due Tuesday night. The extreme Pacific northwest coast will have showers. Warm weather will dominate most of the eastern and southern parts of the nation. It will be cooler in New England. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

New Organization Feared As Jewish Graves Defiled

BAMBERG, West Germany (AP) — The little Jew stood sadly in Bamberg's Jewish cemetery and tears came to his eyes.

Before him were gravestones smeared with swastikas and anti-Semitic slogans.

"During Hitler's time there were worse things done," he said sadly. 'But now, 20 years after, this — It is a real shock."

SMEARED VENOM

Venom was smeared in red, brown, gray and white over the Hebrew and German inscriptions on the tombstones. On one, a picture of Hitler had been attached. Under it was written "here rests a Jew pig."

Across four stones was "The SS is alive—6,000,000 are too few." The Nazis murdered 6 million Jews.

"I think a new organization has sprung up and will get bolder yet," said the sad little man, one of 71 Jews left in Bamberg. There were 1,200 before Hitler.

The little Jew watched as two young men from Bamberg's YMCA placed a wreath on one of the defiled graves. A ribbon on the wreath said: "Bamberg's youth mourns. Forgive us, brothers." A representative of the city's workers laid a similar wreath.

1938 DESECRATION

Bamberg, a conservative Bavarian city, saw its synagogue burned down by SS (Elite Guard) men and rowdies Nov. 8-9, 1938. Willy Lessing, a popular Jewish citizen of the city, was beaten to death when he tried to save the synagogue's Holy Scriptures.

After the war, city authorities named a street for Willy Lessing. It pursued its rebuilding from war destruction and pursued its Bavarian politics and predominantly Roman Catholic ways. Until Sunday, June 13.

FIND SWASTIKA

That was the day the city fathers had scheduled the unveiling of a monument to the burned synagoguge. Two hours before the ceremony, a swastika was discovered smeared on the shrine. On the wall of a building facing the monument were the words "judas verrecke," a misspelling of the old Nazi cry 'juda verrecke" which incited mobs to kill Jews.

Who? Why? Bamberg is asking itself.

Two Treated After Wreck

Two persons were taken to Cowper Clinic - Hospital this morning for treatment after a two-car collision at Seventeenth and Gregg Streets. Big Spring Ambulance Service took Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Grothe, each 72, to the hospital. The Grothes are San Angelo residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Grothe received multiple contusions of the chest and head, but neither was seriously injured, according to doctors. They were passengers in a car driven by a daughter. Mrs. Adell Whiddon, also of San Angelo, who was not injured.

Driver of the other vehicle involved was Mrs. Jerline Bailey, of 2707 Old US 80. Her car received considerable damage to the right side, with minor damage reported to the Grothe vehicle.

Two other minor collisions were reported in the city Monday. An accident at Fifth and Settles involved two cars, driven by Juan Moreno, Route 1, and Edward Leps, Midland, and also damaged a house at 406 Settles. A collision on Allendale Road, 150 feet west of Lynn Drive, involved cars driven by Don Malone, 2303 Roberts Drive, and Linda Dyer, 2324 Brent.

Absentee Total Is Up To 200

Two hundred absentee ballots had been cast at 9 a.m. today in the special election set for June 26. Deadline for absentee voting in this election, to name a successor to the late Ed J. Carpenter as state representative, is 5 p.m. today.

Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, warned that no absentee votes will be accepted after 5 p.m.

The voting for the successor to Mr. Carpenter will be in all 20 Howard County voting boxes and all the voting precincts in the other six counties of the 78th legislative district.

Three are three candidates in the field. They are Frank Hardesty, Roger Brown and Harold Hall. All live in Big Spring.

Colorado City Sector Mishap Fatal To Trucker

COLORADO CITY (SC) — An Alabama trucking firm operator, Clayborn W. Tisdale, 48, was killed Monday afternoon when the truck-trailer in which he was riding jack-knifed on a rain-swept overpass. The accident was four miles west of Colorado City on IS 20.

Tisdale was of Route 3, Andalusia, Ala., and owned the C. W. Tisdale and Sons Trucking firm. Gerald Coon, 31, driver of the truck, of McDavid, Fla., escaped injury.

Coon told Highway Patrolman Buddy Hertenberger winds and the slick highway caused the accident. The truck struck the left side of the overpass railing, lost its front wheels, then slammed into the railing on the right side. The truck was at the railing with its trailer projecting across the road when officers arrived.

Sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen worked for more than two hours in a rainstorm, directing traffic around the accident. The truck was en route from Opp, Ala., to Los Angeles, with the trailer empty.

Mrs. Fielder Dies Monday

Mrs. Janie Byrd Fielder, 73, of 509 E. 17th, died at 4:30 p.m. Monday.

Arrangements, in charge of Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home, were pending at noon Tuesday.

Mrs. Fielder was born Feb. 24, 1892 in Roanoke, Ala., and moved with her family to Anson when she was 12. In 1912 she was married to William Earl Fielder, who died in 1950. Since childhood she has been a Baptist and is a member of the Baptist Temple here.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. M. F. Ray, Big Spring, and Mrs. Opal Cooper; Anchorage, Alaska; two sons, R. O. (Dick) Fielder, Big Spring, and J. W. Fielder, Dallas; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Wells, Texas City, Mrs. Ethel Eichenburger, Mexia; two brothers, J. H. Foster Sr., Kilgore, and O. L. Foster, Spade. Also surviving are six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Sidney Hart, F. D. Rogers, Dr. Don McGonagill, Clyde Crowns, Royce Griffith, J. B. Lamb, Rex Edwards and Earl Reagan.

DAV Meeting Scheduled Today

P. D. Jackson, new Texas department commander for Disabled American Veterans, will be a guest speaker at the meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company, 501 Runnels. Donald D. Van Meter, director of the VA Hospital here, also will be a speaker, and all DAV members are urged to attend, said E. M. Hamlin, adjutant.

Copenhagen Talk Set By Wagner

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner will speak at Fourth of July ceremonies in Copenhagen, Denmark.

Hollingsworth To Audit Books

Clyde Hollingsworth has been designated by the Howard County Commissioner's Court to audit the records of the offices of the Howard County government for the 1964 fiscal year.

He will probably begin work on the audit, which takes several weeks to complete, within a week or 10 days.

These annual audits are made by local accountants. The commissioners shift the assignment around so that all of the CPA offices have a chance at the work from year to year.

No contract is made. The auditor is paid the standard per day fee for his services and for the services of assistants.

Viet Red Bridges, Facilities Strafed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American and Vietnamese planes pounded bridges, barracks and other targets in North Viet Nam today. In the ground fighting, 27 government troops and 20 Viet Cong were killed in sharp clashes, U.S. military spokesmen reported.

A U.S. Marine was killed today and three were wounded, one seriously, in a clash with the Viet Cong 10 miles west of Da Nang, the spokesmen said. The Marine was the 417th American to die in combat in Viet Nam since December 1961.

GUERRILLAS KILLED

Four guerrillas were killed and one was wounded in the same engagement, the spokesmen said.

Four U.S. Thunderchief pilots reported they damaged three bridges about 20 miles southeast of Vinh and six barges off the Vinh coast. Another four pilots claimed moderate damage to the Kbu Mai staging area near Vinh and to a concrete bridge nearby.

Navy planes from the carriers Midway and Oriskany hit the Moc Chau army barracks 80 miles southwest of Hanoi, bridges and barges near Thanh Hoa and petroleum storage facilities 125 miles south of Hanoi.

CONG AMBUSH

The Viet Cong ambushed a convoy of 46 empty trucks on Route 21 from Ban Me Thuot to Nha Trang, killed 11 government soldiers and wounded 13 others.

An estimated two Viet Cong companies attacked a government outpost about 50 miles northwest of Saigon Sunday, spokesmen said, killing 11 soldiers, wounding three and leaving 13 missing.

VIET CASUALTIES

An estimated 200 Viet Cong attacked a government post in Bien Hoa province about 60 miles north of Saigon, killing five men and wounding five.

The Viet Cong suffered 20 casualties in Quang Nam Province about 370 miles northeast of Saigon during a search-and-destroy operation that was reported still under way, U.S. spokesmen said.

Four U.S. Navy propeller planes outmaneuvered two faster Communist MIG17 jet fighters Sunday night and shot one down, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	4 NT
Double	5 ◇	Pass	Pass
5 ♡	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♣

East's bid of four no trump is not, of course, a natural call inasmuch as it has been directed against two bidding opponents. He is using the "unusual no trump" to designate a two-suited hand in the minors, and West is expected to respond in his better minor. In other words, it is as if East were overcalling in both diamonds and clubs at the same time, and partner is merely giving a preference.

South doubled four no trump to inform his partner that he had a very sound opening bid. When North failed to take any action over five diamonds, South feared that the opposition had uncovered a profitable sacrifice, and he persisted to five hearts. East and West would, in fact, have been defeated only one trick if they had been permitted to play five diamonds.

West opened the nine of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. The king and jack of clubs were both clearly marked in the East hand, so that South was confronted with the loss of three tricks — two clubs and one diamond. There appeared to be little prospect of developing dummy's spades for a discard, and the only hope appeared to rest on the execution of an end play.

The jack of hearts was cashed, drawing the enemy's trump, and the ten of diamonds was led. East put up the queen and shifted to a spade. South played the top spades, observing that East showed out on the second round. The eight of diamonds was ruffed in dummy and a spade was trumped in the closed hand.

The stripping operation had been accomplished and the stage was now set for the end position directed against West. Dummy was entered with a heart and the ten of spades was led. Declarer discarded a club from his hand and West was in. Having nothing but spades and diamonds left, West — on his forced return — was obliged to present declarer with a ruff and discard. South disposed of his last club as he trumped in dummy. His losses on the deal consisted of one spade and one diamond.

Kansans Flee Flooded River

By The Associated Press

Thousands of persons fled the rampaging Arkansas River today as it continued its destructive swath across Kansas.

The torrent of water, ranging from one to five miles wide, moved ponderously into Larned early today after more than 1,000 persons moved from their homes in the southeast part of the city.

At Great Bend, 35 miles downstream, another 3,000 persons prepared to move before the crest, traveling about 2 miles per hour, hits there later today.

HEAVY RAINS

The flood was spawned by last week's torrential rains in Colorado where flood damage may total $125 million.

Adding to the havoc were heavy rains in scattered parts of the Kansas flood region Monday night. Jetmore, north of Dodge City, got 3.75 inches of rain in two hours, 2 inches or more fell in about one hour at Larned and Great Bend, and 1.65 fell at Rozel, west of Larned.

The flood waters continued to recede at Dodge City, where 1,800 were forced from their homes over the weekend.

At Garden City, where 300 families were left homeless, residents were wading in the remnants of the worst flood in the city's history late Monday when a dust storm blew in on southerly winds of 40 knots, cutting visibility to less than a block.

HIGH MARKS

The water at Larned was expected to exceed the high marks of 1942 and 1951 by 4 to 5 feet, which would place all the business district under water. Sand bags were piled around stores 10 blocks back from the river on the north side.

At Great Bend, store fronts were sandbagged as far as 15 blocks from the normally calm river channel.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado called the flood "the greatest natural disaster" in that state's history and said he was considering calling a special flood relief session of the Colorado Legislature.

South Korea, Japan Sign Historic Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and South Korea signed treaties today to establish normal relations for the first time in 60 years. It was the climax of 14 years of on-and-off negotiations.

Thousands of students staged noisy demonstrations in Seoul and Tokyo to protest the treaties.

Foreign ministers Lee Dong Won of South Korea and Etsusaburo Shiina of Japan signed the documents at the official residence of Premier Eisaku Sato. Sato interrupted an election junket to witness the ceremony which was nationally televised.

The foreign ministers signed a basic treaty, four separate agreements and two protocols, covering diplomatic relations, fisheries, Korean property claims and economic cooperation, the status of Korean nationals residing in Japan, cultural property and cultural cooperation, $300 million in Japanese grants and $200 million in long-term, low - interest loans from Japan.

The negotiations did not settle the status of Takeshima Island which both countries claim. It was referred to further talks.

Club-swinging police arrested about 600 youths in Seoul while breaking up a demonstration by about 7,000 students. Scores of police and demonstrators were injured and army troops were called out as the protest went into its second straight day.

Plan To Halt Trains Fought

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (AP)— An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner has under consideration more protests to discontinuation of Rock Island Rail service between Tucumcari and Kansas City.

Panhandle A&M College President Marvin McKee told examiner John Jesser Monday the trains are needed to provide transportation to Goodwell, Okla., for students from Eastern states.

A dairy farmer, Mrs. Keith Wise, said 500 families in an area northeast of Tucumcari would be isolated from their cream market at Macpherson, Kan., if the trains, Nos. 39 and 40, are discontinued.

Previous hearings on the Rock Island application were held at Topeka and Pratt, Kan.

Farm Credit Banks Busy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's farmers own and operate 483 banks which do an annual average loan business of $7.5 million.

These banks, called production credit associations, are a basic unit of a farm credit system under which more than half a million farmers obtain most or all their credit needs. The associations operate under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration, a federal agency.

Last year credit associations loaned $3.7 billion to member farmers. Securities issued by the farm credit system were sold to obtain the loan funds.

The Farm Credit Administration says the top 20 credit associations did a loan business of more than $20 million each in 1964. The largest was the Plainview (Tex.) Credit Association with $46,258,000. Next was the Mandan (N.D.) association with $33,246,000.

The credit associations have a total farmer membership of 538,000. Last year 361,000 members obtained loans.

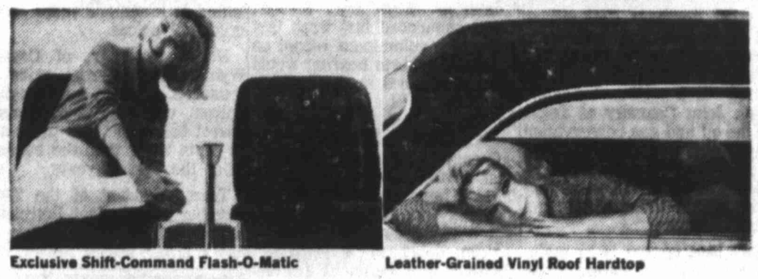

When the credit associations were started in the 1930s, capital stock was provided by the government. All the government investment but $40,000 has been paid off.

Session Hears Connally Decry Oil Import Level

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The chairman of the 33-state Interstate Oil Compact Commission said today a federal decision to delay changes in the mandatory oil imports control program until 1966 "is a serious setback."

Gov. John Connally of Texas told the oil and gas conservation study group it must continue a fight to reduce imports which he said are causing depressed conditions within the domestic petroleum industry.

"Our best course is to maintain our position, as individual states and as a compact, until we know more about the 1966 regulations," Connally said in a speech at the commission's mid-year meeting.

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall announced last week that study of a voluminous record on a March imports hearing would prevent changes in the controls program until the first six months of 1966.

ASKS FREEZING

Connally represented the compact at the hearing and asked that oil imports be reduced immediately or, at the very least, frozen at the current level.

"The delay is a setback," Connally said today. "I am disappointed."

The chief spokesman for the nation's independent oil producers told the commission sound conservation practices have resulted in lower and more stable crude oil prices.

H. A. True Jr. of Casper, Wyo., said the real price of crude oil, expressed in constant dollars, currently is 54 cents a barrel below the 1948 price and 12 cents lower than the average price the past 75 years.

True, president of the 7,000-member Independent Petroleum Association of America, said today's lower prices reflect efficient producing, drilling and waste prevention regulations.

EMOTIONALISM HIT

A New York City oil executive told the group emotionalism has become a new and disturbing factor in the fight by oil and other industries against air and water pollution.

John Scott, general counsel for Socony Mobil Oil Co., said great progress has been made in the battle against pollution but "emotionalism can trigger precipitous and costly corrective attempts that lead nowhere."

Scott said pollution problems vary from locality to locality and costly remedies should be avoided until careful research has determined the cause of each problem.

He recalled that oil refineries originally were blamed for the Los Angeles smog that later was traced to automobile exhaust fumes.

"The cost of this false start to the industry and ultimately, of course, to its customers was $50 million," he said. "The cost to the community was intolerable delay."

PRICES DECLINED

True said crude oil prices have declined since 1957 by 6.7 per cent in contrast to increases of 1.5 for all commodities and 9.6 for other crude minerals.

Prices during pre-conservation years fluctuated from $1.30 to $4.36 a barrel, he said, but have fluctuated only from $1.79 to $2.94 since oil conservation programs began in the early 1930s.

"Conservation has resulted in both a lower and more stable price for crude petroleum," he said. "This conclusion is in sharp contrast to the widespread misunderstanding conservation regulations on drilling and production necessarily result in higher prices."

True said most oil now being produced was found and developed years ago at costs only a small fraction of today's replacement cost.

PRIOR TO 1950

About 60 per cent of current crude production, he said, comes from fields discovered prior to 1950 and another 30 per cent comes from discoveries made prior to 1940.

"Our studies indicate rates of return for domestic operations for larger petroleum companies would be reduced by at least 50 per cent if today's replacement costs were fully reflected," he said. "For producing companies only, the adjustment to a lower rate of return would be even greater."

Pair Die On Gallows

LANSING, Kan. (AP) — George Ronald York, 22, and James Douglas Latham, 23, two high school dropouts, died on the gallows early today for one of the seven murders they had bragged of committing.

Each went to his death at the Kansas prison in solemn repentance.

Latham was pronounced dead at 12:20, York at 12:53.

There was none of the carefree bravado that had characterized their arrests, when both said glibly they were looking forward to execution.

The hangings took place in a corner of a musty old warehouse on the prison grounds. They were executed in alphabetical order.

Latham, when asked by Warden Sherman Crbuse what his last words were, replied: "I'm not mad at anybody."

When the warden reminded him that he could say what he wanted, Latham remained silent, head bowed, then walked up the 13 steps of the gallows with the Rev. James E. Post, former prison chaplain, at his side.

Civil Defense Will Share In County Radio Plan

W. D. Berry, County Civil Defense director, told the Howard County Commissioners Court Monday that the CD would foot approximately half of the cost of the proposed radio transmitter for the office of the county sheriff.

Berry explained the steps needed for the CD to share in the cost of the transmission equipment.

Two representatives of radio equipment manufacturers were present and provided the commissioners with estimates on the probable cost of the installation. It was estimated that a rig, designed to serve the sheriff's office, and also to serve the county road and bridge department, would cost close to $6,000. If the county went alone on a plan for a transmitter without the CD cooperation feature, the cost would be more, it was indicated, than half of the total with the CD participation.

The CD will foot at least half of the bill, if it is included in the project, Berry said.

Sheriff A. N. Standard has been pressing for the installation of the transmitter for his office. At present, the sheriff's office shares use of the transmitter operated by the Big Spring Police Department. The county pays the city $100 a month rental for the service.

Standard has contended the new transmitter can be paid for by the county in two or 2½ years out of rent fees saved.

Thursday, the radio salesman said they would have detailed cost figures to lay before the commission. It is probable the commission will approve the plan and perhaps call for bids on that date.

Standard has already applied for and received a license for the station and a construction permit from the Federal Communications Commission.

It may be that new applications would have to be made if the road and bridge department is to share in the use of the equipment.

The transmitters will be located at the county barn property on North San Antonio, if the station is constructed.

U.S. Presses For Integration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach has pledged an intensive effort by the Justice Department against racial segregation in Southern schools.

Negro Rep. Adam Powell, D-N.Y., has urged that federal funds be withheld from Northern schools where segregation results from racial imbalance.

Katzenbach said imminent passage of the voting rights bill will free the department's resources to concentrate on school segregation.

"Our direct efforts against segregated schools are already accelerating," he said. "Just this week we intervened in five school cases of general public importance, four in Mississippi and one in Alabama... Our purpose was to seek representative cases as a test for a general speedup of the whole integration process."

Katzenbach noted that 11 years after the Supreme Court ruled against school segregation only two per cent of Southern Negro children attend desegregated classes.

Cotton Planting Near Completion

AUSTIN (AP)—Clear weather for a change, gave Texas farmers a chance last week to finish cotton and sorghum planting.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported Monday that cotton planting reached 97 per cent of completion and sorghum 93 per cent, matching last year's schedule.

On June 16, meanwhile, the nation's first bale of new cotton was ginned in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

WHEAT HARVEST

Wheat harvest was in the final stages, reaching up to 90 per cent completion in the Low Plains. Harvest of oats and barley also moved ahead.

Although high temperatures are beginning to sap soil moisture, pasture and range grasses made good growth. Livestock is making good weight gains on pasture.

MELON SUPPLY

In South Texas, declining supplies of cantaloupes and honeydew melons will be available for about two more weeks from Rio Grande City. Around San Antonio, spring vegetable harvest is about complete except for dwindling volume of green peppers.

On the High Plains, limited acreages of potatoes and other crops were damaged by hail.

Marine pilots check the armament of a Phantom jet on the apron at the Da Nang, South Viet Nam, air base before taking off on a mission against the Viet Cong Reds. The Phantom jets have just about everything with which to strike the enemy — missiles, rockets, bombs, napalm fire bombs and machine guns. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Marine Phantom Jets Blitz Cong Aggressor

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Four Marine Phantom jets streaked south. The voice of an Air Force spotter pilot crackled over the radio:

"The Viet Cong have two government companies pinned down and are threatening to overrun them. The Viet Cong are on top of the hill just west of the river where the smoke is rising.

"I'll mark the target with a smoke rocket. Hit the top of the hill and then work over the tree line on the slope."

SMOKE ROCKET

The smoke rocket zipped into the Viet Cong positions and the first Phantom rolled in on an attack run.

Capt. Michael Sullivan of Beverly Hills, Calif., led the flight which flew to the rescue of the endangered companies south of Da Nang.

"We saturated the top of the hill with our bombs and then began flat passes toward the tree lines, lacing them with Zunis (five-inch rockets)," he reported.

"On our last pass, the government troops began charging up the hill into the Viet Cong positions."

The government assault was successful.

FLEW SORTIES

Sullivan is a member of Marine Fighter Attack Squadron 538. His outfit flew 912 sorties during their months in Viet Nam, dropping more than 700,000 pounds of bombs, 77,000 tons of napalm and firing some 14,500 rockets.

Before the jets began their strikes inside Viet Nam four months ago, close air support and bombing were left to Vietnamese pilots and a handful of Americans flying propeller-driven Skyraiders.

The U.S. Marine and Air Force jets often snake through hilly terrain at 450 miles an hour about 100 feet above the ground to make their runs as effective as possible. Bombing must be done from a higher altitude.

Sometimes the planes are hit by fragments from their own bombs and rockets.

"We've fired within 60 feet of our own Marines on the ground when they were in trouble," said Lt. John Cowell, 27, of Cumberland Foreside, Maine.

THREE LOST

So far three U.S. jets have been reported lost on missions against the Viet Cong. At least one was shot down.

Marine pilots say they find their share of the war pretty impersonal.

"What we do is our job," said Maj. Keith Smith, 36, of Moses Lake, Wash. "Inherent to our training is the desire to inflict damage on the enemy."

"That means kill all the Viet Cong we can," a squadron mate said.

Moss Named To Parley

Attorney General Waggoner Carr has announced the appointment of Joe A. Moss, Big Spring to serve as official representative for Howard County, for the 1965 Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

This third annual conference will attract more than 1,600 from throughout Texas to study projects for the prevention of delinquency that can be implemented in Texas communities.

Many programs have already begun in Texas as a result of the first two conferences, including youth juries, programs for tutoring students to prevent drop-outs, and various other community service projects. Civic clubs, churches and other organizations or interested individuals will sponsor delegates, and individuals interested in participating should contact: Cosden Oil & Chemical Co.

The conference will be held in Austin Aug. 20-22.

No Penalty For Early Payments

Veterans with GI home loans or loans on their GI insurance policies may pay the loans off at any time, in full or in extra part payments without incurring a penalty charge, the Veterans Administration said today.

The minimum extra payment a veteran may make on his home loan is the equivalent of a month's payment, or $100, whichever is less, according to Ray Boren, contact representative at the VA Hospital. The insurance loan may be paid off in payments of $5 or more at any time.

Boren also pointed out that should a veteran need money for other expenses or emergencies, the extra payments already made — if the lender agrees, in the case of a home loan — may be re-applied to regular payments in order to prevent the loan from going into default.

Viet Girl's Home: Iron Hospital Cot

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An iron cot in a Saigon hospital is the only home that remains for Gian Thi Yen, a 12-year-old girl wounded in the battle of Dong Xoai.

A photo of Yen, taken by Associated Press photographer Horst Faas, aroused worldwide sympathy. It showed the child, with leg wounds bandaged, limping through the rubble of Dong Xoai looking for her family.

The girl was finally flown to Saigon by American helicopter crewmen. It was thought her family had been killed by the Viet Cong guerrillas who overran the village.

Yen's father, a soldier, had been killed. So had her younger brother, Van Bang, 8, and a sister, Thi Lien, 5.

MOM EXPECTING

But Yen's mother and two brothers lived. The mother, Le Thi Gai, 31, who is expecting another child, finally traced Yen to the Saigon hospital.

People in the United States and other countries wrote The Associated Press in Saigon, offering help or to adopt the little girl.

But Yen's mother will not consider adoption. So far, there has been no indication whether any help will actually reach them.

Their house and possessions were smashed at Dong Xoai. The father's pension amounts to just a few dollars a month.

KIN IN NORTH

"All our relatives live in the Communist north," said Yen's mother. "We came down to South Viet Nam when the Communists took over up there."

The best the mother can hope for is a job as a servant or laundress at one of the army camps. She is a Catholic and may also be eligible for assistance in some of the many Catholic refugee villages around Saigon.

An American travel agent offered funds and possibly a future trip to the United States for Yen.

But Yen doesn't want to leave her family.

"I want to stay with mother and my brothers," she said. "And I want my daddy back."

CB'ers Slated Wiener Roast

The Midland REACT Club will sponsor a wiener roast Friday at 7:30 p.m. on the M. W. (Buck) Switzer Ranch, 1½ miles south of Midland on the Rankin Highway.

"All area Citizens Band operators are invited," said club president, Terry Jowers.

The San Angelo Citizens Band club has announced that it plans to take a car caravan to the event. CB'ers from Odessa, Andrews, and Big Spring are also expected to attend.

The Midland REACT Club meets every second and fourth Friday.

Rebel-Called Dominican Strike Spotty

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Pro-rebel union leaders claimed more workers would stay home today to demonstrate support for the Dominican rebellion. The response on the first day of the three-day general strike was spotty.

Miguel Soto, one of the strike leaders, said workers at nine of Santo Domingo's 40 factories struck Monday and others would join today.

MILLS CLOSED

He said the strike also shut down sugar mills at Hain, Barahonda and La Romana and the U.S. Aluminum Co. operation in Cabo Rojo.

The antirebel junta said the strike was a "complete failure."

The strike was called by the Autonomous Confederation of Christian Unions. It and affiliated organizations claim to represent more than 100,000 workers, most of the nation's organized labor.

No violence was reported. Rebel spokesmen charged many union leaders had been arrested by junta troops to prevent walkouts. Junta officials said a number of civilians had been detained for "precautionary reasons."

ALL AT WORK

Unionized public transportation workers in Santo Domingo were all at work and traffic was heavy. Small shops and gasoline stations were open.

The junta had cut telephone communications between Santo Domingo and the provinces. In Santiago, the nation's second largest city, workers told newsmen they had not heard of any strike plan.

Get a new NO-FROST refrigerator-freezer that never needs defrosting

You can say goodbye to defrosting—one of the messiest of kitchen chores—once you install a no-frost electric refrigerator-freezer. Because frost never forms—either in the refrigerator or freezer sections—there's no layer of ice to take up needed storage space. You can store more packages of frozen foods... the packages won't stick together... and there's no frost to make labels hard to read. Ice trays come out easily, too, without pounding, pulling or hammering. See the new no-frost electric refrigerator-freezers at your dealer's soon.

Lawn Care Made Easy By Equipment From White's

With all the rains of the past month, plus lots of fertilizer, Big Spring lawns are "rank" with grass which needs mowing at least twice a week now. If that old lawn mower is worn out, or you need a bigger one, it will pay to go by White's at 202-204 Scurry and take a look at the variety, from the small push type to the big riding mowers which get over ground in a hurry.

The big Simplicity 6 power riding mower, with two rotary blades cutting to 30 inches, is the latest in fast and efficient mowing of large lawns. The Briggs & Stratton engines on the mowers assure the owner of long life and trouble-free operation. If, in case of trouble, the engine needs repairs or overhaul, the job can be done locally.

Then there are the other mowers in stock, including: White Supreme, self-propelled in 18- and 20-inch rotary sizes; White Supreme push type, in the same sizes; Turfmaster Supreme reel type in several widths; Sunbeam twin - blade electric; White Econo - Liner, White Custom and White Supreme edger - trimmers. All mowers are equipped with the Briggs & Stratton four-cycle engines. The edger-trimmers have heavy-duty cutting blades for more than just light - weight work. Grass catchers are available for both rotary and reel-type mowers.

The new Super-Flex nylon reinforced hose, in 50-foot lengths, carries a 15-year guarantee and are always flexible—even in the coldest weather. Then there are the reinforced Tyrene Rubber and the 100 per cent vinyl rubber hoses with 10-year guarantees. If a smaller, less expensive hose is needed, White has the regular small rubber hoses, with three to five-year guarantees.

For the lawn watering there are many types of sprinkling items, including the three-tube hose type in 25-foot lengths; the rotating type which moves along the hose to water a big area; the whirling sprinkler for fine mist sprinkling; the circulator, and nozzle type. If you need to let your water run while you are away from home White has the timers which permit you to set the amount of water covering a given area. When that much water has gone on your yard it automatically cuts off the flow.

And don't forget the garden tools needed to keep a pretty lawn. There are tillers, hoes, shovels, forks, rakes, including the grass and leaf type, plus all the smaller hand items needed for close work in flower beds.

When you need to put on more fertilizer, White has the top brands, and carries a good line of spreaders. Included in the stock also is a variety of insecticides and poisons to keep down pests on the lawn, flowers, shrubs and fruit trees.

Work While Taking It Easy

Joe Jeffcoat, assistant manager at White's, tries out one of the heavy-duty power riding lawn mowers at the store. The big mower, with twin rotary blades, cuts a wide swath and saves a lot of "sweat" in mowing lawns of any size. This is just one of a variety of top-rated mowers on the floor at the store, located at 202-204 Scurry.

Thomas Office Supply Co. Has Finest Equipment

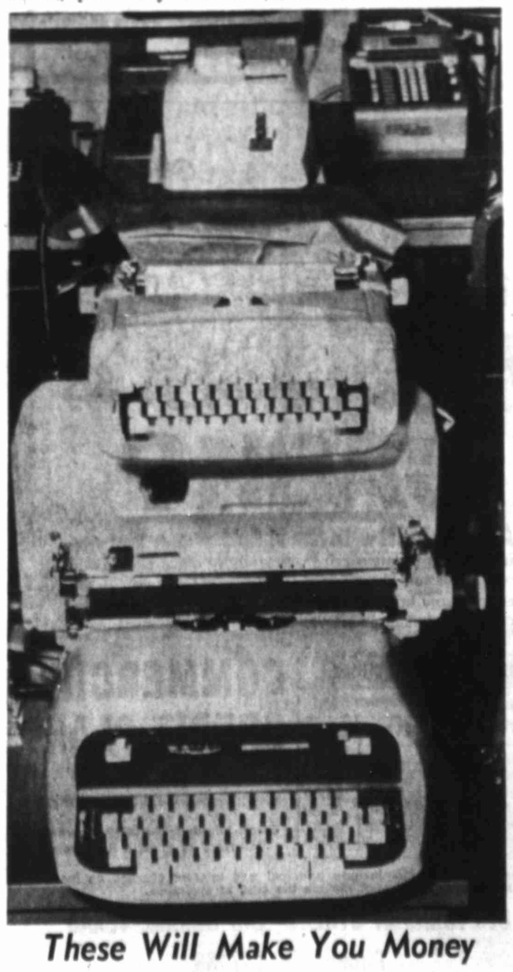

Customers who have bought the Royal "Electress" typewriters say the machines make money for them. The machines, most modern on the market, have automatic touch control, automatic impression control for making that extra number of carbon copies, magic margin set, tabular set and clear, automatic underlining, automatic spacing, automatic hyphen control, plus many other features.

This typewriter will save money where a large volume of work is necessary, and gives a clean, clear impression since fingers do not determine the pressure, and is faster because of the automatic features.

Then there is the standard Royal with many new features including the magic margin, tabular set and clear, and dual color ribbons. This machine is fast and produces a good volume of work in the average office where the electric machine is not necessary.

The Royal Safari is a portable machine with many of the same features as the standard Royal. It is easily carried and is a boon to the traveling man who prefers a good machine for making reports, typing orders, and doing business correspondence.

Go by Thomas Office Supply at 101 Main and look over a big stock of office equipment, supplies, and furniture for the larger or small office, or for home or student use.

These Will Make You Money

Royal "Electress", bottom; Royal Portable "Safari", center, and Commodore 9-column adding machine with subtraction, and credit balance column. All are displayed at Thomas Office Supply at 101 Main.

Tea Rooms Are Popular Places For City Diners

Two Tea Rooms in Big Spring have become popular eating places for residents for their noon and evening meals. They are also popular for club meetings and group gatherings where excellent meals are desired—all for a single dollar.

The food, served in cafeteria style, except that the patron helps himself to everything but meats which are portioned from four to six varieties, is prepared to the strictest specifications. The customer may help himself to vegetables, salads, desserts and all he wants as long as his plate will hold them.

Meats are purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Dee Bennett, owners, and he does the cutting and trimming.

The Tea Rooms are equipped with facilities to cater meetings and groups at churches and other places, and enjoys a large business in this line.

Two separate rooms are provided at the Down Town Tea Room, at Main and Sixth Streets, for club, organization and large family gatherings where some privacy is wanted.

Food is prepared to meet hospital specifications and no lard is used for seasoning or frying.

For foods well prepared, and all you can eat, go by the Tea Rooms at Main and Sixth or at 1301 Scurry. For catering or special meetings at the Tea Rooms, call AM 4-7644.

Big Smile For Big Victory

Gary Player, the diminutive South African, smilingly accepts the huge U.S. Open trophy from Clarence W. Benedict, president of USGA. With Player, it was really the honor, and not the money, for he promptly turned his $25,000 first place check over to the association. His win put him in the exclusive ranks of those who have won the U.S. Open, the British Open, the PGA and the Masters' titles. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Player Reaches Pinnacle Of Golfdom With Open Win

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gary Player, a black-clad little South African with a flair for the dramatic, deftly etched his name among a select list of golf's immortals and said that was enough, he had all he wanted, the money wasn't important.

"The money is immaterial — the honor is the thing," Player said Monday, after winning the U.S. Open Golf Championship and immediately turned his $25,000 check over to the U.S. Golf Association.

His three-stroke victory over Australian Kel Nagle in the 18-hole playoff made him the first foreign winner in 45 years and only the third man ever to sweep the four big prizes of professional golf — the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters.

He now stands with Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan at the pinnacle unattained by any others, the legendary figures of another era or the giants of today.

The forgotten man in golf's Big Three, Player reasserted his right to a spot in that company in overwhelming fashion. Arnold Palmer has yet to win the PGA. Jack Nicklaus has yet to win the British Open.

"I have made most of my money and won most of my golfing fame in this country," Player said in announcing his intention to turn the check over to the USGA.

"I feel I owe this country a great deal. I feel it is my duty to do something for this country and for golf.

"So I'm turning the check over to Joe Dey (executive director of the USGA) and asking him to give $5,000 to the Cancer Fund. My mother died of cancer. The rest, I would like to see funneled into junior golf in this country.

He gave $2,000 to his caddie, Frank Pagel, 16.

The actual prize money was $25,000, but the USGA put another $1,000 into the pot for both Player and Nagle after they tied at the end of 72 holes at 282 and the 18-hole playoff went into effect.

Player leaped into command at the start, taking a birdie 4 while the 44-year-old Australian bogeyed the first hole of the vastly frustrating 7,191 - yard Bellerive Country Club course.

Player ran in birdie putts of 35 feet each on the next two holes, went 2-up and, for all intents and purposes, it was over. Nagle was never even again.

The close-trotting Australian, who forced the tie when Player blew a three-stroke lead with three holes to play the day before, wrecked his chances with a shattering double bogey on the fifth.

His drive hooked far to the left, into the gallery crowning a small hill, struck a woman in the head and bounded into the rough.

"When we walked up, the lady was lying there," Player said. "I did that once in South Africa. It can make you sick. I didn't want to concentrate on the next shot.

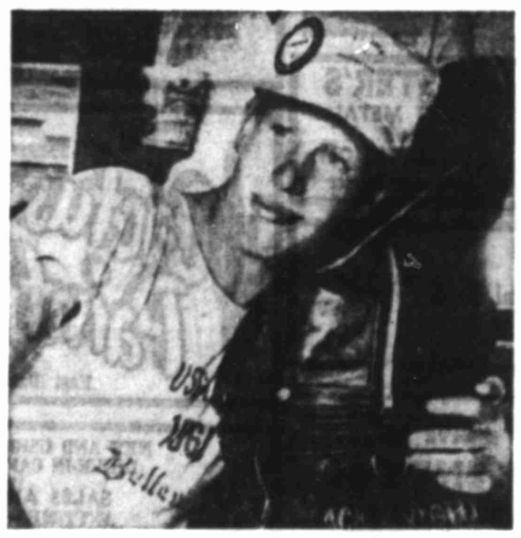

'Kel said, 'I feel awful, Gary,' and I said, 'so do I.'

"I feel it upset Kel."

Nagle's next shot also whipped into the crowd, glancing off a woman's ankle.

"He must have felt horrible," Player said. 'It was like a butcher shop."

Gary had a five-stroke advantage at the turn. He held it, playing his usual brand of conservative, control golf, until the last two holes when he took cautious bogeys.

Sooners Get Top Sprinter

DALLAS (AP)—Texas high school's finest sprinter, George Aldredge, is going to pass up the Southwest Conference in favor of Oklahoma.

The slender flash on the cinders from Highland Park signed a letter of intent with the Sooners Sunday and will cross the Red River in September.

The boy who ran 100 yards in 9.4 and 220 around a curve in 20.9, and who beat the collegians in the indoor sprints, said he had picked Oklahoma from among 25 offers of athletic scholarships.

Aldredge started running in 1962 and won only one race that year because he had to compete against James White, the Dallas schoolboy sensation that year. But since then he hasn't lost one and the only reason he failed to run in every meet available to him was a pulled muscle that kept him out of this year's Texas Interscholastic League meet.

He did his 9.4 in the 1964 state meet. He ran the 20.9 220 in a meet at Corpus Christi. He ran the 300-yard indoor dash in 31.4 and the 60-yard in 6.1.

Coach J. D. Martin of Oklahoma said he considered Aldredge the finest sprint prospect in the nation.

Comets Hammer Starfighters

Gary Ringener hurled one-hit ball and Oscar DelBosque slammed two homers Monday as the Comets hammered the Starfighters, 11-1, in an International Little League game.

DelBosque's homers were for three and two runs. Ringener's near-perfect performance was blighted but once as Starfighter third baseman Darrell Brunson garnered a single. Brunson also scored his team's only run when he was driven home by a sacrifice fly in the fourth inning.

Comet batters pounced on loser Johnny Sedey for 11 hits, and scored in every inning but the third.

Orioles And Giants Win

The Orioles edged the Yanks 6-5, and the Giants beat the Rebels, 6-3, in two Sophomore League baseball games Monday night.

The Orioles scored the winning run in the seventh when catcher Bolte scored from second on a Swafford single. In the bottom of the inning winning pitcher Tom Wood forced the first three men he faced to ground out to shortstop, ending the contest. Farris absorbed the loss, allowing four hits. Wood gave up five hits.

Giant pitcher Flores held the Rebels to only two hits in the second game, as Giant runners crossed the plate four times in the fourth and fifth innings, mostly on balls and errors. The Giants could manage but three hits off Rebel hurlers Sanders and Rutledge. Rutledge was the loser.

Lion Rally Beats Cats

The Stripling Lions scored two runs in the bottom of the fifth inning to come from behind and edge the Cats, 6-5, in a Monday evening Texas Little League game.

Zubiate gave Cat batters little aid as he held them to five hits. Loser Yanez allowed nine.

The Cats scored first, getting one run in the second and four more in the third. Then the Lions, after gaining one run in the third, scored three in the fourth and added the winning two runs the next inning.

GRATEFUL FOR RAIN

Ralston Bandaged But Cheerful About Weather

WIMBLEDON, England, (AP) — Dennis (The Thumb) Ralston goes back into battle on Wimbledon's center court today bandaged but cheerful — and unique among tennis players in being grateful for rain.

The downpour that ruined much of the first day of the all-England championships left Ralston, the big American hope for the title, leading his veteran doubles partner, Ham Richardson, 7-6, in the first set of their singles match.

For many players it could have meant disaster and a sleepless night ahead.

But for Ralston it meant another night's rest for his injured right thumb and the certainty that it could only get better.

Ralston, 22, fell and bruised the thumb so badly in last week's London Championships that on Saturday he couldn't hold a racquet.

Until Monday morning he still was doubtful if he could take the court against the 31-year-old Richardson.

Ralston, from Bakersfield, Calif., said: "My thumb was okay. In fact, I was worried less about the thumb than about the chance of slipping on damp turf.

"Maybe it's a good thing that match was called off. My thumb is improving all the time and it didn't seriously trouble me."

Ralston, the top-ranked American player and fourth seed of the Wimbledon entry, has been beaten by Richardson, of Dallas, in two of their last three meetings.

If the unseeded Richardson pulls the trick again, Ralston can count Wimbledon his hoodoo tournament. Last year he went out on the first day to Britain's Tony Pickard.

This year it was Pickard's turn to falter. After taking the first two sets against Australia's John Cooper, he fell heavily on the treacherous grass and was beaten 3-6, 4-6, 9-7, 6-2, 6-2.

The big opening day upset for the United States was the defeat of Frank Froehling, the No. 4 American from Coral Gables, Fla., by British Davis Cupper Mike Sangster.

Froehling stands 6-foot-3 and Sangster's not much shorter. The Briton kept his feet better in this battle of slithering giants and triumphed 6-4, 6-2, 18-16.

Cliff Richey of Dallas defeated Bill Alvarez, Colombia, 6-2, 6-3, 7-5; Jim McManus, Berkeley, Calif., beat Christian Duxin, France, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3, and the veteran Gardnar Mulloy of Miami won by default from Jaime Couder, Spain.

Mets Shut Out Dodgers 1-0, In Winning Streak

Week Since Similar Mark

By MURRAY CHASS
By The Associated Press

The New York Mets aren't sentimental after all.

They were filled with sentiment for six innings Monday night. Then Joe Christopher went and spoiled it with a bunt single leading off the seventh inning.

Billy Cowan made it even worse in the ninth inning when he slammed his first homer of the season, giving the Mets a 1-0 victory over the National League - leading Los Angeles Dodgers and Claude Osteen.

The triumph came exactly one year after Jim Bunning pitched a perfect game against the Mets for the Philadelphia Phillies, who also were in first place at the time.

The Mets appeared to be staging a fitting observance of the first anniversary, if not with a perfect game, at least with a no-hitter. But Christopher broke up the celebration, and all the Mets wound up with was their second consecutive 1-0 Monday night victory.

It was one week ago that the Mets failed to hit Cincinnati's Jim Maloney for 10 innings before Johnny Lewis' leadoff homer in the 11th beat the Reds 1-0.

LANDMARK

While tossing sentiment out to left field, the Mets recorded another landmark along the way to immortality. The victory enabled them to compile a two-game winning streak against the Dodgers for the first time in their four-year existence.

Osteen allowed the Mets only two hits while the Dodgers managed just three off Al Jackson, who never had beaten them before.

Jackson, however, allowed only one runner to reach second base after the Dodgers failed to score with the bases loaded and two out in the first inning.

TIGHT PITCHING

Jim Gilliam doubled, and Jackson walked Wes Parker and Jim Lefebvre. The lefty ended the threat by throwing out Jeff Torborg on a grounder. The only other hits off him were singles by Parker in the sixth and Osteen in the eighth.

In the only other game, Lee Maye's two-run triple in the seventh inning snapped a 1-1 tie and sparked Houston to a 6-2 triumph over Philadelphia. Maye, who earlier singled across a run, drove in Bob Lillis and Joe Morgan, who had walked.

Dick Farrell brought his record to 5-2, holding the Phillies to six hits as well as driving in two runs with an eighth-inning single. Wes Covington homered for the Phillies in the ninth.

Pitcher Helps Own Cause Over Phils

HOUSTON (AP) — "I hit a screwball," pitcher Dick Farrell said after whipping the only team to beat him this year.

It was the eighth inning Monday night and Houston led the Philadelphia Phillies 3-1. The bases were loaded when Farrell stepped up to the plate.

"But he (reliefer Jack Baldschun) kept throwing them and I said, 'Okay, you keep throwing it and I'm going to hit it,'" Farrell continued.

"I golfed it and I felt kinda funny. It's been so long since I got a hit with men on base."

Farrell's line drive past third drove in two runs and the Astros went on to win 6-2.

He picked up his fifth victory against two defeats—both at the hands of the Phillies—by scattering six hits and striking out eight. He walked two.

Lee Maye's two-run triple in the seventh broke a 1-1 tie.

"I hope I'm out of it now," Maye said of the batting slump that dropped him from a .300 hitter for Milwaukee before he was traded to Houston to a .220 average at game time. He got three hits in four trips.

Ray Culp lost his fourth game against three victories. He was locked in a tight duel with Farrell until Maye tripled.

A crowd of 18,271 pushed the Astros' season attendance in the domed stadium to 931,508, breaking their record of 924,456 for all of 1962.

Baseball Stars Killed, Hurt

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Gary Marshall, signed as a bonus baby pitcher by the Houston Astros, lay in a hospital here today, his baseball career at an end after an automobile accident that killed a teammate and their young woman companion.

Jay Dahl, 19-year-old southpaw from Bloomington, Calif., and Miss Patti Troutman, 20, of nearby Salisbury, were killed in the Sunday night accident. Police said it was caused by excessive speed.

Marshall and Dahl both were signed as bonus players in the $5,000-$12,000 range, the Houston club reported.

Marshall was trapped in the wreckage of the car police said he had been driving, when it ran off a Salisbury street and crashed into a tree. His companions were thrown from the car.

A cutting torch was required to free Marshall from the twisted machine. He suffered severe facial injuries, one eye having been removed. He faces possible loss of the other.

Cardinals Win Wild One, 21-13

The Cardinals capitalized on five errors, 19 hits and seven bases on balls to outlast the Devils 21-13 in a National Little League game Monday evening.

A threatened protest halted the wild melee for a time, but in the end J. Armistead, who fanned six, allowed only seven hits but together with Ken Scott gave up 16 bases on balls, claimed the victory. Mike Powell, who issued seven passes, was charged with the loss. Both teams left 10 stranded on bases. Mike Trimble, Raymond Swafford, Ken Scott for the Cards and David Hanson for the Devils got doubles.

Sandra Haynie Birdies Playoff

ROCKTON, Ill. (AP) — A birdie putt on the first hole of a three-way, sudden-death playoff Sunday earned Sandra Haynie the championship in the $9,500 Cosmopolitan Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Haynie, who also won the tournament in 1962, finished the three-day 54-hole tournament with a 210 to tie Kathy Whitworth and Marlene Hagge.

The birdie putt earned Miss Haynie top prize of $1,275 while Miss Hagge and Miss Whitworth won $942 each.

ABClub Edges Optimists, 6-5

ABC edged Optimist, 6-5, Monday when Optimist relief pitcher Pate erred, allowing third baseman McMurtry to score from second, in a Hi-Junior League game that was evenly played from start to finish.

Ricky Steen was the winning pitcher, allowing seven hits as he went all the way. Proctor took the loss. He was relieved by Pate in the sixth.

Sliding Hurler

Houston Astros pitcher Dick Ferrell shows he can hit the dirt, too, as he slides safely into third. He was on second when Joe Morgan laid a bunt down the third base line. The throw to get Bob Lillis at the plate was wide, and Ferrell slid under the catcher's throw trying to get him at third. Ferrell protected his lead and won, 6-2. (AP WIREPHOTO)

NFL Signs Up Atlanta

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Atlanta will become the 15th team in the expanded National Football League in 1966 with a group headed by insurance man Rankin Smith Jr. of Atlanta as the likely owner.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle will screen the four or five applicants with the understanding that a lease on the new $18-million stadium is a must.

Although the rival American Football League also voted a 1966 franchise to the Cox Broadcasting Corp. of Atlanta on June 8, the nine-man Stadium Authority reportedly is overwhelmingly in favor of the NFL. Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the board, has set a July 1 deadline for a decision on the lease.

"We feel there is very, very strong sentiment in Atlanta and the state of Georgia for an NFL franchise," said Rozelle after announcing the award of the franchise Monday by a unanimous vote.

Joe Foss, AFL commissioner who was in New York for a meeting with his league's expansion committee, commented:

"All I can say is congratulations to the NFL," and added that the problem of getting the AFL into Atlanta rested with the Cox group.

Alanta kicked up its heels and celebrated when sports fans heard the NFL news. "We're in the big leagues now," they shouted at the stadium where 38,402 watched the Milwaukee Braves (Atlanta Braves in 1966) play an exhibition baseball game with Minnesota.

Rozelle said he would screen the applicants before selecting one and then would ask the club owners for approval of his choice in a telephone vote. "I feel they will accept my recommendation," said Rozelle who will begin negotiating immediately.

This is the first step in major expansion by the NFL which will have 16 teams in 1967, divided into two conferences, each split into two divisions.

The Atlanta team will operate as a swing team and will play each of the 14 other teams once in 1966. As a result, the season will run 15 weeks and each team will have a one-week bye.

The team will have first draft pick next December and will have one extra draft selection in each of the first five rounds.

Stocking with veteran players will be set up at the February meeting.

AFL Talks In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A committee of the American Football League arranged to meet with city officials today to discuss playing rights of an American League team in Philadelphia's proposed new stadium.

An AFL spokesman said Monday that further consideration of a team franchise in Philadelphia was "not feasible...until we clarify the stadium situation."

The league had awarded one franchise to Atlanta, but decided Monday not to expand there because the National Football League has an agreement to use that city's new stadium. AFL Commissioner Joe Foss said Monday that the league still had proposals from four other cities, at $7.5 million apiece.

Redskins Beat Twins

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins won a bidding contest with the Minnesota Twins today when Fred Mazurek of the University of Pittsburgh decided to play professional football instead of baseball.

Mazurek, 5-foot-11, 192-pound quarterback, was signed by the National Football League team as a free agent for an unannounced bonus. The Redskins would say only that he signed for "considerably more than is normally given a free agent."

With Washington, Mazurek will be used as a flanker back and defensive back.

Voted the most valuable player on the Pitt baseball team the past season, Mazurek hit .460 this spring as an outfielder. He was drafted by Minnesota in the recent free agent draft conducted by organized baseball.

Hunt's Injury Is Mending Well

NEW YORK (AP) — Two pins have been removed from Ron Hunt's left shoulder and the New York Mets' second baseman, sidelined since May 11, may be able to rejoin the club in mid-August.

Dr. Peter LaMotte, who performed the second operation on Hunt's injured shoulder Monday, said the infielder will undergo physical therapy prior to starting workouts.

LaMotte also performed the first operation after Hunt suffered a shoulder separation in a baseline collision with Phil Gagliano of St. Louis.

Grid Case In Court

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The contract dispute between Ralph Neely, 21-year-old former University of Oklahoma tackle, and the Houston Oilers of the professional American Football League continued today in Federal Court.

Neely, who has signed contracts with both the Oilers and the Dallas Cowboys of the rival National Football League, testified for two hours Monday as the non-jury trial got under way.

The Oilers brought suit against the Dallas athlete to prevent him from playing with the Cowboys.

William Breen, personnel director for the Oilers, testified that Houston still wants "the boy as a football player . . . it's our position that we'll live up to the agreement" signed by Neely last Dec. 1.

Neely contended that he was under pressure when he signed the contract and hadn't felt bound by the undated pact when he notified the Oilers Dec. 29 that he had decided to repudiate the contract.

Showers Fall In N. Texas, Along Coast

By The Associated Press

Showers and occasional thunderstorms roved from the Panhandle-Plains sector into North Texas and a few fell along the lower coast today.

Skies were clear over East Texas and generally cloudy in other sections.

The moisture held temperatures down a bit in some areas but was expected to afford no widespread relief from slowly mounting June heat.

Shower activity continued longest during the early morning in the area from northeast of Wichita Falls to around Jacksboro, heading into Oklahoma.

It gradually tapered off after a night of scattered thunderstorms in the Panhandle and South Plains of West Texas and mostly light showers along the Red River Valley and in parts of Central Texas.

Just across the state line in Eastern New Mexico, peace officers were notified that a tornado touched ground near the Arch community but residents of that vicinity reported no damage. State police were told the twister spun on eastward toward Clovis, N.M., and Muleshoe, Tex.

Still more showers were predicted for all sections of Texas but they were expected to be widely scattered across the southern half of the state.

Yesterday's Jumbles: GORGE YOUTH WEASEL NUTRIA

Answer: This is the talk of the country! — ENGLISH

Bundy Faces Policy Critics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential adviser McGeorge Bundy confronted critics of the Johnson administration's Viet Nam policies Monday night and said "the policy which the United States is now following is the best policy in a difficult and dangerous situation."

That policy, Bundy asserted, "is that we should stay there, that we should do our part, as may become necessary, do only what is necessary. . .and seek constantly, as we have for months and months, to find a way to get this dangerous and difficult business to the conference room."

"WITH HONOR"

Speaking for the critics, Dr. Hans Morgenthau, professor of political science at the University of Chicago, said, "I think our aim must be to get out of Viet Nam but to get out of it with honor." He rejected the idea of an immediate withdrawal and said the United States should seek face-saving devices to rectify the situation, such as the French achieved in their withdrawal from Algeria.

A brisk clash between Bundy and Morgenthau highlighted the hour- long special CBS television and radio program, although there were similarities in the practical steps urged by the two men. Altogether, six foreign policy experts took part in the discussion — three for each side. No new proposals were offered.

MOVE FORWARD

"Within the framework of the choice available to us," Bundy said, "we can move without restraint against those who have engaged in this aggression from the north.

"We can move toward withdrawal without regard to our obligations to those in South Viet Nam or the political consequences in other countries.

"We can stay roughly where we are in essentially the passive role or we can carefully and with a choice of specific ways and means move to sustain our part."

"It is not for me on this occasion, to discuss specifically what steps may come in the future," added Bundy, formerly a Harvard University professor and dean. He said he felt that the present administration stand was "the position of a solid and very strong majority of the Congress and of the people."

AGAINST POLICY

Morgenthau led off with an assertion that "I am opposed to our present policy in Viet Nam on moral, military, political and general intellectual grounds."

Discussing alternatives later, however, he said that "by far the most acceptable from my point of view" is a recent suggestion by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., to "try to hold a few strong points on the coast of Viet Nam, proving to the Viet Cong that they cannot win a military victory, and on that basis try to negotiate with them in the fall."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made this suggestion in a Senate speech last week.

Thais Engage Cambodians In Border Battle

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand rushed a company of marines from vessels in the Gulf of Thailand to the Cambodian border today following a hard clash between border police and Cambodian soldiers.

Government sources said 11 Cambodian soldiers and one Thai were killed in a series of fights Sunday along the unmarked jungle border in Trad Province.

The governor of adjoining Chadburi Province relayed first reports of the fighting. There are no direct communications between Trad Province and Bangkok.

The governor told the Interior Ministry a company of Cambodian soldiers had penetrated more than half a mile into Thailand at Khao Wong village. Reports said more than 200 of the soldiers were digging in near the village.

Price War Plot Alleged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked today to provide new weapons against price wars by large gasoline producers.

The appeals came from spokesmen for the so-called "independent" gasoline industry —defined as companies "not among the 21 largest domestic companies in terms of refining capacity."

They charged that such price wars are designed to force them out of business and that they constitute an unequal battle in which the rich get richer and the independents who provide the "real competition" that holds down prices are squeezed out of the market.

The appeals came from Paul Porter, counsel to the Mid-Continent Independent Refiners Association; M. H. Robineau, president of the Independent Refiners Association of America; and George Getty II, president of Tidewater Oil Co.

Polish Red Said Out Of Hospital

WARSAW (AP)—A Polish informant said Monday that Wladyslaw Gomulka, Polish Communist party leader, has returned home after being in a hospital for treatment of a circulatory ailment.

However, there was no official confirmation. The Communist press and radio have carried nothing about the 60-year-old leader's condition or whereabouts since he voted in the May 30 election.

Amendments' Order On Ballot Set

AUSTIN (AP) — A drawing Monday determined the ballot order of the 10 proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on Nov. 2 in Texas.

Secretary of State Crawford Martin said they will be listed in this order:

1. Increase ad valorem state taxes, with the money going to state colleges for building.

WELFARE EXTENSION

2. Increase veterans' land fund by $200 million.
3. Allow the State Welfare Department to extend services to needy aged, disabled, blind and dependent children, thereby qualifying for benefits from federal medicare legislation.
4. Double the present two-year terms of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller, treasurer, land commissioner and secretary of state.
5. Permit expansion of teacher retirement fund.
6. Provide for an $85 million college student loan fund.

TAX EXEMPTION

7. Exempt from local ad valorem taxes organizations which spend at least $1.5 million annually on free medical care for the aged.
8. Provide for automatic retirement of district and appellate judges, and set up a judicial qualifications commission.
9. Permit the legislature to set salaries of the lieutenant governor and speaker of the House, and expand from $12 to $20 a day the allowance for legislators.
10. Lengthen from two to four years the terms of state representatives.

Pilot Uninjured In F102 Crash

MANILA (AP)—A U.S. Air Force F102 jet interceptor crashed into the South China Sea off Luzon Island Monday but the pilot was picked up uninjured, the Air Force said.

The plane was on a training mission from Clark Air Base, a spokesman said. It crashed 85 miles west of Luzon.

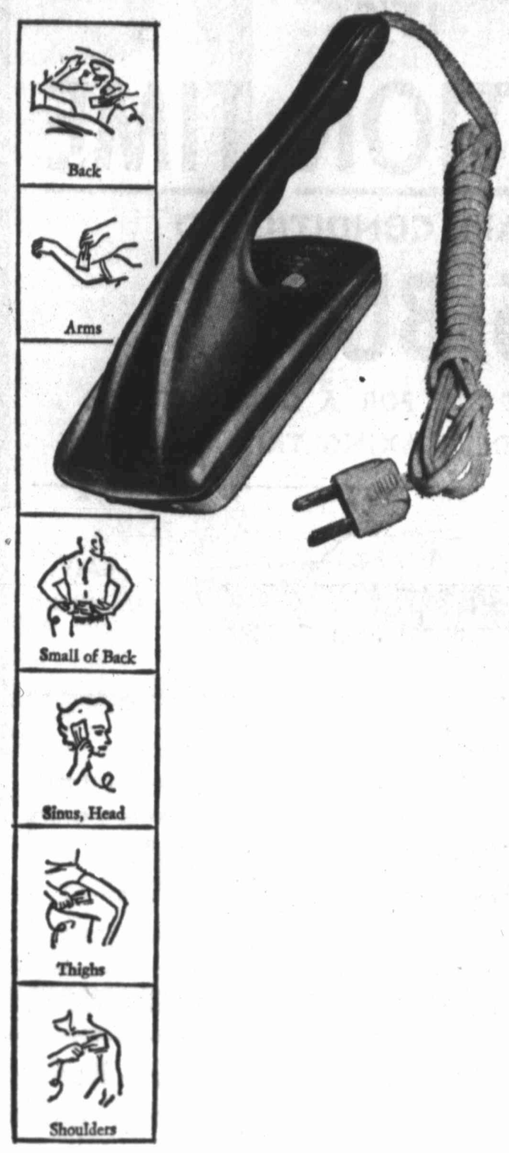

The pilot was identified as Maj. John D. Faulk, Big Sandy, Tex.

Estimate On Dam Cost Up

HOUSTON (AP) — The estimated $40 million cost of the Trinity River Dam project has risen to $48.5 million because land values and construction prices have increased during six years of delay by lawsuits, Mayor Louie Welch said Monday.

Welch said water users in Houston will not have to pay for the increase. He has a financing plan to pay the added cost, he said, but he did not elaborate.

Houston has a contract with the Trinity River Authority for construction of a dam at Livingston and a salt water barrier at Wallisville, a pumping station and a canal.
