JAPANESE CRUISER SENT DOWN BY MINE

ONLY TEN MEMBERS OF CREW ARE KNOWN TO HAVE BEEN SAVED

IS SUNK IN BAY OF KIAOCHOW

Was One of Old Vessels Being Built In 1885—Struck Mine October 17th

By Associated Press.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—It is officially announced that the Japanese cruiser, Takachiho was sunk by a mine in Kiaochow Bay on the night of October 17. One officer and nine members of the crew are known to have been saved.

The Takachiho was on patrol duty outside Tsing Tau when she fouled the mine. Japanese destroyers heard the explosion and saw the flames. They hurried to the rescue but the cruiser disappeared quickly in the darkness. It was possible to rescue only twelve men. Twenty-eight officers, fifty-five non-commissioned officers and 189 seamen perished.

The Japanese cruiser Takachiho was built in 1885 and refitted in 1900. She was a vessel of 3700 tons and was 300 feet long and had forty-six feet beam. Her main battery consists of eight six inch guns and her speed was about eighteen knots. The Takachiho carried a crew of 357 men. Only ten of these, according to the official report, are known to have been saved.

ALLISON LAW AMENDMENT NOT TO BE SUBMITTED

To Be No Called Session After Adjournment of Present One Next Thursday

Austin, Texas, Oct. 17.—Governor Colquitt said that he is not inclined to submit to this session the matter of amendments to the Allison liquor law to meet the objections thereto voiced by the court of criminal appeals in the Elmer Peede case, when a majority of the court held that interstate shipments of liquor not intended for unlawful use could be delivered in dry territory.

Discussing the matter, the governor said that it was true that both sides of the liquor question wanted the subject given to the legislature but that he hesitated because it would present an opportunity for distraction; that is, for the bodies to discuss liquor legislation instead of disposing of the cotton acreage reduction proposition now pending which he desired disposed of before final adjournment of Thursday.

The liquor dealers in Texas are anxious to have the subject presented so that they will be placed on an equality with the outside dealer and shipper. Under the court's construction of the law, the outside shipper is privileged to ship into dry territory but the court expressly stated in its opinion that it was not deciding whether Texas liquor dealers had such privilege under the law, that that question was not before the court.

The Anti-Saloon League is desirous of having the legislature take up the matter and amend the law so as to make it effective against the outsiders in fact, it stands for complete annihilation and wants the legislature to act at this time.

According to the governor's own statements, the Thirty-third legislature is not to be reconvened upon expiration of this called session; therefore it can not sit longer than Thursday of this week, which is now generally accepted as the probable day of dissolution. It will expire by limitation. A contrast in the perspective is that when the governor convened a session on Aug. 24 it was generally understod that it would last "about ten days" and not longer than fifteen days, as it was to pass a warehouse bill and go home, yet it has been here fifty-five days and the sixtieth day will be Thursday.

At no time has it been more difficult to obtain and maintain quorums than it has been during the two sessions now about to pass into history. The absence of quorums has caused delay. The House has been disposing of measures first, regardless of whether they were passed or killed.

CAPTURE OF MINE LAYER BY BRITISH BOAT REPORTED

Cruiser Undaunted Said To Have Taken German Craft Disguised as Hospital Ship

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—The Central News has sent out a dispatch from Harwich in which the correspondent says he has learned on good authority that the British cruiser Undaunted, accompanied by two torpedo boat destroyers has captured a German mine layer in the North Sea. The mine layer, the dispatch says, was disguised as a hospital ship.

LITTLE IS DONE IN LEGISLATURE TODAY

SENATE INDORSES EFFORTS OF SOUTHERNERS IN CONGRESS OR RELIEF

ARGUMENT ON POINT OF ORDER

Effort Made In House To Stop Pay of Those Who Are Not In Regular Attendance

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 17.—Practically all of the morning session of the House was consumed today in the discussion of a point of order raised by Representative Reedy. The point was that the House did not, and could not, legally adjourn Saturday until Monday morning because at the time the House adjourned Saturday it was under call and there was no quorum present. The point of order wasoverruled by the chair.

Representative Vannoy introduced a resolution providing that members of the House who fail to attend the session are in future to draw no per diem. The resolution was referred to the House committee on rules which is equivalent to defeating it. The House then recessed until two this afternoon.

There was no quorum in the Senate when that body convened this morning at ten o'clock but an hour later a quorum materialized. Senators Collins and Hudspeth offered a resolution which was adopted, indorsing the southern senators who are making an effort to give relief to the southern cotoin growers and condemning those opposing it. Senator Watson offered a concurrent resolution providing for sine die adjournment of the legislature on October 20 at noon. It was defeated, thirteen to four. The Senate then recessed until 2:30 this afternoon.

UNITED STATES SENDING FEWER AUTOMOBILES ABROAD

Exports of Machines Eclipse All Previous Records During Fiscal Year, However

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Exports of automobiles from the United States in the last fiscal year eclipsed all previous records, amounting to $40,000,000 in value. Figures today by the department of commerce show exports in August as a result of the European war, have fallen to 451 automobiles and motor trucks compared with 2004 in the corresponding period last year.

BRITISH CRUISER TAKES AMERICAN TRAMP STEAMER

By Associated Press.

Halifax, Nova Scotia, Oct. 17.—What plan would be persued with regard to the American tramp steamer Brindillia brought here yesterday by the British auxiliary cruiser Coronia, could not be learned today. It is supposed that the Brindillia which was formerly the German steamer Washington was suspected of having contraband aboard. It is also reported that when she was halted by the Coronia outside New York harbor last Tuesday she was steering a course at variance with the ordinary course for her announced destination. She cleared from New York for Alexandria, Egypt. It was thought the question whether the transfer of the Brindillia from German to American registry was a transaction in good faith might be considered by the admirality court.

ADVANTAGE IS CLAIMED BY AUSTRIANS OVER RUSSIANS

Victory Over Czar's Troops Is Reported In Fighting Around Przemysl and In Carpathians

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—A Reuter dispatch from Vienna via Amsterdam gives an official statement of the Austrian operations in Galicia, issued Sunday by General Von Hoefer, deputy chief of the Austrian general staff. It says:

"Our attack in the battle on both banks of the Strwiaz River south of Przemysl was continued yesterday and our troops succeeded in getting close to the enemy. At several points troops were advancing against the fortress. Last night several attacks by the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses, for our heavy artillery is now in action. The pursuit of the enemy north of Wiszkow in the Carpathian mountain passage has continued. In other parts our troops already have advanced over the Carpathians. Russian losses during the attack on Przemysl are estimated at 40,000 dead and wounded."

KATY DERAILMENT CAUSES TWO DEATHS

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN ARE KILLED IN WRECK NEAR BARTLETT

SEVERAL PASSENGERS INJURED

Engine and Six Cars Leave Track Early Today—Cause of Accident Not Learned

By Associated Press

Granger, Texas, Oct. 17.—Two trainmen were scalded to death and several passengers bruised when the Katy Flyer from San Antonio to St. Louis, passenger train No. 6 of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas jumped the track near Bartlett, Texas shortly before daylight today.

The engine and six coaches left the rails but it is said none of the coaches overturned. The cause of the derailment has not been learned. The dead:

J. F. JOHNSON, engineer.
W. E. RHODES, fireman.

Both reside at Smithville. U. S. Usry and J. N. Miller, mail clerks, both of Denison, were badly bruised. Ben Campbell, fireman, riding deadhead on the engine was badly burned. W. H. Hilton of Dallas, express clerk, sustained a badly bruised arm. Reese Andrews of Lockhart, a passenger was badly bruised. Ben Sanders, negro, of Taylor, Katie Hughes, negro of Rockdale and Louis Hollands, negro of Temple, received slight bruises. The injured were carried to the hospital.

The Flyer was running an hour late. The engine, baggage car, mail car and smoker went into the ditch. The injured were rushed to Temple on a special train. Several of them are in a very critical condition. The uninjured passengers from the other part of the train rushed from their berths and assisted in removing and caring for the injured until help came.

PRESIDENT WANTS WAREHOUSE BILL

IS ANXIOUS FOR HOUSE TO PASS LEVER PLAN BEFORE ADJOURNING

NO LEGISLATION ON ACREAGE

Considers This State Question—No Other Cotton Relief Bills Planned

By Associated Press.

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Wilson is anxious for the House to immediately pass the Lever bill for the establishment of cotton warehouses. He said today he believes the success of plans for loans to cotton planters depends on this bill. It has already passed the Senate.

This is the only legislative proposal for the relief of the cotton planters which the president has approved.

Regarding suggestions for the restriction of the cotton crop next year, the president told callers that in his opinion this was entirely a state question.

AUSTRIAN SUBMARINE IS SUNK BY FRENCH CRUISER

Bombardment of Catarro On Adriatic Sea Is Resumed By Fleet of France

By Associated Press.

Cettinge Montenegro, via London, Oct. 17.—An Austrian submarine was sunk in the Adriatic today by a French cruiser. Two submarine vessels went from the Bay of Catarro to attack a French fleet which was steaming along the Dalmatian coast. They were quickly sighted however, by the French lookouts and a shot sent one of them, the leader, to the bottom. The other escaped. The French fleet subsequently recommenced the bombardment of the forts of Catarro.

An Austrian aeroplane dropped several bombs in the neighborhood of the fleet but no damage was done.

CAPE HAITIEN OCCUPIED BY REBEL FORCES TODAY

American Marines From Warships In Harbor Are Landed To Preserve Order

By Associated Press.

Cape Haitien, Haiti, Oct. 19.—Haitien rebels today occupied Cape Haitien. American marines from the warships in the harbor have been landed and are in control of the situation.

GERMAN NAVY EXPECTED TO TAKE MORE ACTIVE PART

Allies Line Now In Close Contact With British Fleet—Both Sides Are Claiming Gains

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—By reaching to the seacoast, the allied forces have established close contact with the British navy which is on the extreme left of the line and seems, from the London view, for the moment to block effectively a further German effort to turn this wing. That the Germans may have grasped this is perhaps indicated in the otherwise unexplained appearance of four of their torpedo boat destroyers Saturday off the Dutch coast, southward bound. It is suggested that the object was for the destroyers to convey submarines which would dispute the command of the sea on the Belgian Littoral. Should the German navy undertake this venture it would be confronted with much the same proposition as has met the British fleet since the commencement of war and it would assume the same risks of colliding with mines, heretofore faced by the British alone, because the British mine field stretches along the Belgian coast from Ostend southward.

If, as the allies claim, their left cannot now be turned, the only alternative left the Germans is to back away through the trio of armies confronting them. General Von Kluck or General Von Arnim or whoever is in command of the German right seems in no way loath to make the attempt. That they have made a forward move is evident, not only from the newspaper dispatches but from a confirmation of these dispatches in Saturday's official communication from Paris. These stated the Belgians had repulsed several attempts of the Germans to cross the River Yser which is ten miles nearer the coast than the Tourour. Roulers and Menin line which they occupied on the previous day.

As an offset to this, the British official information bureau in one of its rare communications says that the allies in the northern area have driven the Germans back more than thirty miles. The precise locality of this advance is not indicated, but it can have been only at some point on this western wing, where the Germans are trying to resume their interrupted dash on Paris by way of the coast towns. These, however, are only two points in the human barriers which are facing one another for hundreds of miles and are continuing to sway forwards and backwards without as yet being able to effect the Titanic climax which would end this immediate phase of the great campaign.

Observers here think that this climax cannot be far off, and the London papers are quoting, though not in the sense intended, the words attributed to Emperor William who in addressing his troops somewhere in France October 3, is reported to have said:

"Before the leaves fall from the trees here we shall all be back in the dear Fatherland."

"The probability that the emperor never expressed this opinion does not subtract from its value in the British construction.

BERLIN REPORT SAYS ATTACKS NEAR LILLE HAVE BEEN REPULSED

By Associated Press.

Berlin, Oct. 19.—German army headquarters have given out an official statement under today's date, as follows:

"The attacks of the enemy to the west and northwest of Lille have been repulsed by our troops with the infliction of severe losses. In the eastern arena of the war the situation remains unchanged."

HALT GERMAN ADVANCE TOWARD COAST OF FRANCE

Invaders Declared To Be Short Of Ammunition And Supplies—Bringing Up Siege Guns

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—"The advance of the German force threatening the northern French seacoast has been halted for the moment," says the correspondent of the Chronicle in north France, "the Germans have suffered heavily in the recent fighting and are short of ammunition and stores. However, they are preparing to strike a heavy blow. It is probable that they will attempt to penetrate the defense of Dunkirk with the object of over running the French coast as far as Calais and Bologne.

"The heavy siege guns from Antwerp are being moved toward the present German line while large bodies of German troops are being pushed forward. A large force of Germans is centered at Thourrout, twelve miles southwest of Bruges, Belgium. Dunkirk is calm, although the city realizes that it is menaced.

"Along the front of both armies the duty in the trenches is made very unpleasant by heavy rains and ground between the armies in many cases is a bog. The weather is turning colder and the mists and fog make the low country unhealthy."

Advance Claimed By Allies On Left; Germans Stopped In Belgium

By Associated Press.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The French war office gave out an official announcement this afternoon as follows:

"2:52 p. m. In Belgium the heavy artillery of the enemy has cannonaded, but without result, the front from Nieuport to Vladsloo to the coast of Dimude. The forces of the allies and notably the Belgian army have not only repulsed further attacks on the part of the Germans but have advanced as far as Roulers."

"On our left wing on the Lys and the canal of Labassee we have advanced in the direction of Lille. There has been stubborn fighting on the front from Labassee to Ablain and to St. Nazaire. We are advancing from house to house in these localities. To the north and the south of Arras our troops have been fighting without respite for more than ten days and with a persistence and a spirit which never for a moment has been relaxed. In the region of Chaulnes we have repulsed a strong counter attack and have won some ground.

"On the center there is nothing to report.

"On our right wing in Alsace to the west of Colmar, our advance posts are on the line between Bonhomme, Tairis and Sulzern. We still occupy Thann."

Evacuation Of Lille By Germans Reported, Said To Be Falling Back

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—"Lille has been evacuated by the Germans a third time," says a correspondent in northern France.

"This evacuation was made necessary by the allies capture of Lavenie and Esstaries which forced the Germans to hastily leave the plains between Hazebrouck and Lille. Everywhere along our left flank the Germans are falling back under pressure they cannot resist.

"It is not even certain they will hold Ostend. Refugees tell me there were no Germans in Ostend Friday. The German army has been defeated in the western theatre of action and its position is perilous. The allies took Bailleul, seventeen miles from Lille Thursday."

FOOD ORDINANCE IS NOW EFFECTIVE

GOES INTO FORCE TODAY AND PERMITS ARE BEING TAKEN OUT

INSPECTION OF MEAT BEGINS

Butchers and Meat Dealers Enter Heartily Into New Arrangement —Few Complaints

The new milk and food inspection ordinance became effective this morning and all morning a stream of applicants poured into the food inspectors' office in the city hall to take out permits. The permits are being issued to cover the month of November up to November 31 on the payment of one month's fees.

For the present the permits are being issued without inspection of the animals or premises so as not to stop any one from selling milk. Dr. Bolyn, the inspector will make inspections as soon as the rush for permits is over.

After the filing of applications and the payment of the fees the following eard or certificate is issued: "Department of Food Inspection, Wichita Falls, Texas. Milk Permit No. .....; issued to .....; For Month ending .....; Food Inspector ....."

Few Complaints Heard.

Butchers and wholesale meat dealers were among those who called at the food inspectors office this morning. Several permits were issued for the slaughter of carcasses and the inspector made engagements to inspect slaughtered carcasses this evening. In spite of the fees attached to inspection and certification most of the applicants are accepting the conditions of the new ordinance with little complaint. Butchers believe it will result in an increased consumption of meats, especially meat slaughtered locally as many have been refusing to eat meat slaughtered here because there had been no regulations concerning its slaughter and inspection.

L. P. Webb of this city was the first to take out a milk permit. Other permits issued early were F. H. Gohlke, John Nitschke, H. H. Wade, H. V. Dittoe, J. A. Harkrider and N. L. Lowrance.

ALLEGED FUGITIVE WILL BE GIVEN HEARING TODAY

E. E. Perkins arrested Saturday and charged with being a fugitive from justice has applied for a writ of habeas corpus and will be given a hearing before Judge Scurry at Archer City this evening. Perkins was wanted by the sheriff at Chickasha, Oklahoma, who arrived last night to take him back there for trial and found that he had asked for a hebeas corpus hearing. District Attorney Leslie Humphrey was here this morning on his way from Henrietta to Archer City for the hearing.

$52000 OIL DEAL HAS BEEN CLOSED

GREENLEAS BROTHERS SELL INTERESTS TO CORSICANA COMPANY

COVERS CONSIDERABLE ACREAGE

Carries Half Interest In Several Leases—Other Half Sold Some Months Ago

Transfers have been filed in the county clerk's office which show the transfer of the remaining interests of Greenlees Bros. in oil holdings in this county to the Corsicana Petroleum Company for a cash consideration of $52,000. The property included in this deal includes a half interest in the following leases: Hugh Reilly, 2,100 acres; J. N. George, 675 acres; W. F. George, 320 acres; F. P. Warren, 320 acres; F. P. Warren, 111 acres; D. E. Holcomb, 100 acres; G. B. Gauntt, 105 acres.

The papers show that the deal was closed on October 1. This is the biggest deal in oil property made in this section for several months and the consideration named, considering the stringency in money and the unfavorable situation in the oil business, is declared a good one and indicates that the Corsicana Company must have faith in the field.

A half interest in the same leases was sold to the Corsicana Company about two years ago for a consideration of $80,000. The sale followed the discovery of oil on the Hugh Reilly lease. Greenleas Bros. had about decided to abandon operations when the sand was found.

SCORELESS TIE RESULTS IN GAME AT ELECTRA SUNDAY

Honors Are Even After Hard Fought Game—Wichitans Near Goal at Close

Honors were even in the football game Sunday between the Wichita Falls team and the Electra eleven, no scores being made by either side. When time was called the Wichitans were only a few feet from their opponents' goal and another minute would probably have been a different result.

The game was more orderly than most contests at Electra are, there being only eight or ten fights during the contest. The game was very stubbornly contested, but the Wichitans' goal was never in danger. The team made the trip in automobiles, returning last night.

DECREASE IS SHOWN IN STATE BANK DEPOSITS

Austin, Texas, Oct. 19.—Individual deposits in the 866 state banks and trust companies of Texas decreased $9,566,469 from June 30, 1914 to Sept. 12, 1914, according to a report just made public by the department of insurance and banking. Bills payable increased $4,664,782, or from $10,215,728 to $14,880,111. Two state banks during this period surrendered their charters and became national banks in order to take advantage of the federal reserve system. The amount due from other banks and bankers decreased from $18,754,561 to $15,244,424, a decrease of $3,510,136. During this period seven banks liquidated while four new banks and one new trust company were chartered. There was also a decrease in currency, amounting to $558,608, while there was an increase of $8,740 in the surplus fund of all the banks and trust companies. Loans decreased $309,617.

LAUNDRY WORKERS BACK AT MACHINES

RETURN TO WORK AT WORK AT OLD POSITIONS AND STRIKE IS ENDED

BOTH SIDES SEEM SATISFIED

Hiring of New Help Today Causes Some Friction But No Further Trouble Results

The laundry workers strike passed into history this morning when the strikers returned to their machines and all the laundries presented busy scenes this morning. The strike continued a little more than two weeks and was ended with the signing of contracts last week which provided that the laundries should be operated with union labor and that the strikers should return to their jobs this morning.

Several of the strikers were sick this morning and were unable to fill their jobs. The filling of these positions was a problem that threatened to cause some slight friction but it is believed that everything has been satisfactorily adjusted.

The laundry workers appeared glad to go back to work, the employers were glad to get them back and the general public is glad that the strike is settled, so that everybody seems pleased with the outcome.

GARDNER'S SPEECH CAUSE OF COMMENT AT WASHINGTON

Cites Many Ways In Which This Country Is Not Prepared To Defend Herself

Washington, Oct. 19.—The speech last week of Congressman Gardner, concerning the United States' unpreparedness for war, is still among the foremost subjects of comment at the capital and has attracted much attention.

"For a dozen years," he said, "I have sat here like a coward in silence and listened while men have told us that the United States can safely depend, in time of war, on the state militia and on the naval reserve. All the time I knew it was not so.

"Under the delusion that the militia affords all the reserve struggle we need we have for ten years let our navy slough off until today it is a bad third and sinking rapidly to fourth or fifth place among the navies of the world.

Cites Spanish-American War.

"The belief held by this country that we can create an army and navy when the need arises is wrong from beginning to end. You can't improvise a battleship or a submarine or a torpedo or a saflor after war breaks out. You can't make a fighting regiment out of a militia organization until you have eliminated a lot of men from its ranks.

"You say it is the same old story. Yes, it is a true old story. We were not prepared in 1898 when the Spanish-American war broke out, and we were not even prepared by the time it ended.

"The Spanish war was declared towards the end of April. There was a call for 125,000 volunteers at once, and another call for 75,000 volunteers in May. Did these volunteers mobilize equipped with the rapidity of the wind? They did not. A good many have not mobilized yet. Several states had not succeeded in furnishing their full quota when the war ended.

Monroe Doctrine in Danger.

"The chief naval board year after year dins in our ears the story of the unpreparedness of the navy. In report report after General Leonard Wood tells a like like story of the army, and he pleads with us to awaken from our lethargy and grapple with this question, on which our nation's safety depends. Yet we go shambling and shuffling along, scattering away millions where the votes grew thickest; and in that respect I am just as bad as any one else.

"We have been salving our conscience by trying to persuade ourselves that no nation would be so mad as to attack the United States. Are we so sure of that fact any longer? Suppose some powerful nation finds itself inconvenienced by our Monroe doctrine? Will it hesitate to attack us because some idealistic statesman has devised a scheme for arbitration?

About Half Enough Men.

"Do you know that we need 100,000 men to man our present modest fleet and auxiliaries, and that we have only 50,000 in the navy and 8,000 in the naval militia? In other words, we have 42,000 men to make sailors of before we can mobilize our fleet."

Mr. Gardner answered the argument that the German submarine seems to be more than holding its own against the greater British navy with the statement that the United States owns only 1,000 torpedoes, or one for each tube with which our ships are armed.

"It is almost as absurd," he said, "as if we had only one projectile to each gun except that torpedoes take a year to build and cost $1,000 each. I believe we are fairly well equipped with rifles, but General Wood in his report last year tells of the alarming condition in shortage in field artillery guns and ammunition.

Regards Navy as Chief Defense.

"Of course, it is evident that our main defense must be our navy. Our people are in no mood to listen to a suggestion of a huge standing army. Yet we can greatly increase our land forces without serious detriment to the taxpayers, and we can surely keep abreast of the times by providing ourselves with a plentiful supply of the most efficient artillery and most modern engines of air warfare.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

Song.

For me the jasmine buds unfold
And silver daisies star the lea,
The crocus hoards the sunset gold,
And the wild rose breathes for me.
I feel the sap through the bough returning,
I share the skylark's transport fine,
I know the fountain's wayward yearning,
I love and the world is mine.

I love and thoughts that sometime grieved,
Still well remembered, grieve not me;
From all that darkened and deceived
Upsoars my spirit free.
For soft the hours repeat one story,
My clouds arise all flushed with glory—
I love and the world is mine.

Recipe For Oyster Rarebit.

Select half a pint of oysters and remove the hard muscle; parboil them in their own liquor until their edges curl. Then turn them into a hot bowl and put one tablespoonful of butter into the chafing dish with one-half pound of finely crumbled cheese and a salt spoonful each of salt, paprika and mustard. Beat two eggs slightly, add the oyster liquor and gradually the cheese until it is melted, and then put in the oysters; when hot turn it over hot toast. The cheese should be good rabbit cheese, soft and rich.

MISS MUDD HOSTESS TO ENTRE NOUS CLUB SATURDAY

The Entre Nous Club met Saturday afternoon with Miss Genevieve Mudd. The usual pastimes were indulged in and a pleasant afternoon spent, the hostess serving a delightful refreshment course, assisted by her sister, Miss Gwendolyn. The members present were: Misses Mary Leath Tevis, Gussie Pitchford, Ramie Pardoa, Lucille Holden, Alice Butler, Sibyl James, Ethel Fands, Kathrine Miller, Edith Yates, Dora Coons and the hostess. Miss Gussie Pitchford will be hostess to the club Saturday.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEACHER IS SURPRISED BY CLASS

Friday evening the members of Miss Dora Coons' class in the First Christian Sunday school with Miss Annie Lea planned and executed a very delightful birthday surprise for their teacher. The girls and several other invited guests assembled at the home of Miss Coons at the stated time, taking her completely by surprise. As a token of their feeling and an expression of birthday wishes the girls presented her with a handsome cut glass compote and olive dish. Mrs. Charles Bennett, assistant superintendent of the intermediate department, had prepared delicious refreshments of sandwiches, cake and tea, which was served to the following: Misses Annie Lea, Mary Leath Tevis, Genevieve Mudd, Lucille Holden, Ruth McKenzie, Florence Tyson, Gussie Pitchford, Ramie Pardoa, Susie Wheeler, Edith Yates, Alice Butler, Irma Savage, Ethel Fands, Kathrine Miller, Sibyl James, Alice Bonner, Mozelle Ashford, Lucille Henderson, the hostesses, and Misses Louise Tevis, Ruth Butler, Cora Coons and Gwendolyn Mudd, Messrs. and Mesdames Charles Bennett, C. S. Mudd, Mrs. Tevis and the honoree, Miss Dora Coons.

JUST SO CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. ALLDAY

Mrs. C. E. Allday was hostess to the Just So Club Saturday afternoon. The usual diversion of sewing with merry conversation provided amusement for the afternoon and the hostess served a delicious salad course, followed by fruit jello and cake. Those present were: Misses Anderson, Stafford, Barrier and Smith, Mesdames Garner, Hyatt, Gilpin of New York City and the hostess, Mrs. Allday. The place of meeting for next Saturday will be announced later.

Mrs. Joseph C. Gilpin has returned to her home in New York City, after a visit with Mrs. C. E. Allday, 2607 Ninth street.

SUPPLIES THAT AMERICA WILL NOW DO WITHOUT

In the November Woman's Home Companion, Grace Margaret Gould, the well-known fashion editor of that publication, writes a most interesting article entitled "What War Means to Fashions." What America will have to do without while the war lasts is set down in the following extract from Miss Gould's article:

"There are certain supplies that America will have simply to do without. Our stock of fine silks, vhiffons, lace industry is decidedly hard hit, and velvets is already limited. The for most our laces are imported from Switzerlond, England, France and Germany. This means that our lace industry wil be taxed to the utmost.

"There is sure to be a shortage also in embroideries, for though there are many beautiful domestic embroideries, nevertheless the fact that there is such a scarcity if net and other fabrics used for their foundations will cripple the American manufacturer.

"Among the most effective trimmings are the imported ones, and it is the same story in buttons. The most artistic come from abroad.

"There is also a great scarcity of furs, and those that are on sale are twice the price they were last year. Our imports of dressed furs from Germany have always been very large.

"The manufacturer of colored cotton goods are finding nothing but stumbling blocks in their way. The European war has cut off materially the importation of dyestuffs, and in this way the manufacture of chambrays, denims and other cotton fabrics will be much curtailed.

"The makers of cheap jewelry also find their business greatly affected, as many of the stones which are used in jewelry made up for the holiday trade comes from Austria and adjacent countries.

"Of course the famous silk mills of France have stopped working, and the silken French stuffs cannot reach the American trade, so for a time we will have to depend entirely on American productions.

"Kid gloves are extensively imported from Germany and France. And here is an awful thought. Perhaps before the winter is over we may have nothing to wear but cotton gloves. The suddenness of the european war has left many of the leather kid manufacturers absolutely unprepared. Kid, suede and mocha skins for American gloves all come from Europe."

Shot guns must be taken apart before being carried onto street cars. This rule, which went into effect with the opening of the duck season, is being rigidly enforced. A good many men who get onto the street cars to go out to the lake do not know how to take down their guns and the street car conductors have become experts in this art.

The official list of British casualties during the past twenty-six days is given as 13,541. The other powers have much greater numbers on the fighting line than the British, and it is presumed have lost in proportion.

In some of the counties in Texas the county jails, being empty, are put to good use. They are used as cotton warehouses. It shows that in those counties criminals are few and crime on the decrease, which is not at all a bad advertisement for any county in the State.

Colonel Henry Watterson has also called on President Wilson, and now the two colonels—Colonel Harvey being the other—can extend congratulations to each. The President, doubtless, just wanted to let the two distinguished gentlemen know that he held no grudge against them, even if he did let them know during his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, that the support of their newspapers was not essential to his success, and that he could get along better without such support.

The Manufacturers Record, in speaking of the buy-a-bale movement, says that "no one ought to be induced to buy a bale other than on a legitimate basis, for which there is good ground, for it is needless to hope to market our crop at the prices expected three months ago. It has been estimated that the war will destroy one-fourth of the world's wealth. That loss will reach to the utmost confines of the earth, and all will feel its effect—farmer, merchant, artisan and manufacturer alike." To us it looks now as if the situation, as sized up by the Manufacturers' Record is about correct, and if so, the bottom has not yet been reached.

Hon. D. F. Goss of Seymour, who formerly represented a district in which Wichita county was included in the Texas State Senate, was a visitor in the city today, and while here called at The Times office. Judge Goss, in speaking of the amendments to be voted on at the November election, expressed himself as highly in favor of the on that, if carried, will raise the salary of members of the Texas Legislature to $1,200 for the first year, and cutting down the railroad mileage to legislators from twenty cents per mile (going and coming) to five cents per mile. He is of the opinion that if the amendment is carried the result will be beneficial to the taxpayers of the State in that the increased compensation will induce better and more able men to seek the positions.

The Fort Worth Record calls attention to the patriotism of Senator Burton of Ohio, the Republican who led the filibuster against the River and Harbor bill in the United States Senate. By this effort he was enabled to cut thirty-three million from the bill. He was thereupon vigorously applauded by the Republican press of the country as a public benefactor. But when the pension appropriation bill came up Senator Burton was not quite so economical or patriotic. Realizing that four-fifths of the pensions paid go to the North, and at least three-fifths of the total in districts strongly Republican under ordinary circumstances, Senator Burton probably forgot that patriotism included economy as one of the virtues, and he didn't raise his voice in opposition. Senator Burton is acknowledged to be a brainy man, and many concede that he is a statesman. But he will never be a statesman in the highest sense of the word until he can muster up courage to cast his vote in a manner that no one can accuse—by voting for what he considers the greatest quantum of good for the whole people of the country, and declining to stoop for petty spoils. —Greenville Herald.

The decision of the Texas Sunpreme Court, which, in the opinion of Attorney General Looney, is final until the Legislature amends the Allison liquor law, fixes things so that dealers in intoxicating liquors whose places of business are located outside of the State, can ship liquors into dry territory in Texas to those who want it and will make the required affidavit that the liquor received or purchased is for their own use. That makes it tough on the liquor dealers in wet territory in Texas. But there is absolutely nothing that can be done for his relief. Governor Colquitt, of course, may call another extra session of the Legislature to deal with the matter, but unless he does there is little to be expected of Governor-elect Ferguson. He stated most emphatically in nearly every campaign speech delivered that he would veto all liquor legislation of whatever character—whether it was for or against the liquor interests—during his administration. If he had not said that, then it would be different. There is no doubt but that the liquor interests of Texas stood loyally by Mr. Ferguson, and now that all this money from dry Texas territory is to be sent out of the State to foreign liquor dealers, it almost causes us to weep because our governor-to-be is in no position to come to the relief of Texas liquor dealers.

MR. JOHNSON'S RULING.

(From the Fort Worth Record.)

Honorable Cone Johnson is solicitor of the department of state. He holds that cotton and cotton seed oil may be shipped to Germany. Honorable Cone Johnson is a Texan. He is a neutral representative of a neutral nation. Now, why shouldn't cotton and its by-products be shipped to Germany at the risk of the buyer, or the seller, for that mater? England is buying grain and horses in the United States. These purchases are shipped across the ocean. Why bar cotton or the by-products of cotton? It is a business proposition and the American people should handle it as such. There are men in the South who have the intellect to cope with the proposition and with the assistance that the people of finance of the North are laying at the door of the growers of the staple, the depression that has laid hold of the South should be turned to profit. Don't put the cotton of Texas on a cheap market. Talk business.

ANTWERP'S IMPORTANCE TO GERMANY.

(Letter to the New York Sun.)

The importance of the German movement upon Antwerp, and perhaps an understanding of Great Britain's real reason for taking up arms against Germany, aside from the opportunity to cripple a formidable rival, may be arrived at from a paragraph in "The Science of War," by Colonel G. R. F. Henderson, the most famous of England's war critics.

To England, he says, Antwerp is a more important dominant position than Gibraltar, Malta, St. Lucia, Aden or Cyrus, which should never be allowed to pass into the possession of a powerful neighbor. He quotes from Alison as follows: "Nature has framed the Scheldt to be the rival of the Thames," and adds that Antwerp, the key of the great estuary, is eminently adapted for the establishment of a vast naval arsenal, such as it was under Philip II of Spain, and the first Napoleon. Alison said that all of England's great wars had been fought to keep Antwerp out of the hands of her enemies. Colonel Henderson says it was to protect Antwerp from the French that Charles II sided with the Dutch in 1670; that Anne declared war on Louis XIV in 1704; that Chatham supported Prussia in 1742; that Pitt fifty years later took up arms against the revolution.

The opinion of so high an English authority may enable the American reader to measure the importance of the possession of Antwerp and how serious a threat to England is involved in the German movement upon the city on the Scheldt.

SOUTHERN FLOWER SHIPMENTS.

(From the Christian Science Monitor.)

It is pleasant to read that instead of being simply a consumer of flowers in the North, the South has entered upon commercial flower cultivation itself. There is an excellent reason why certain of the Northern cities should have developed the flower-growing industry; why all populous communities in the North, in fact, should have developed in recent years the greenhouse and hothouse industry. Out of the summer season flowers grown in the open and brought from a distance are under present conditions very high. The demand for cut flowers in the large cities and populous districts of the North has been growing at a tremendous rate in recent years. To meet it, it became necessary that flowers should be cultivated under artificial conditions. The result affords another striking example of the influence of resistance on human thought and energy. In those very parts of the North that are naurally least suitable for floriculture under the so-called natural conditions, flower production has been developed under glass to a marvelous extent.

For instance, cities of the North Atlantic and Great Lakes sections not only supply themselves and their immediate surroundings through the winter months with blooms of almost every kind, but they have a surplus which they ship to cities of the South where summer is almost perpetual.

The South might raise flowers much more cheaply than they can be raised in the North, but in the South, where the season for outdoor flowers is long, there is not the same commercial demand for the product that is found in the North. The mistake the South has made, evidently, lies in placing too much dependance on local demand. With greater natural resistance to overcome it might have sought a Northern market for its surplus and in this, as in other instances where it unnecessarily goes outside for its supplies, kept its money at home.

But there has been another reason why the South has not commercialized its flower product. This has been the lack of rapid and cheap transportation, or rather the lack of rapid and cheap distribution. While it is true, as a writer points out in the New Orleans Times-Picayune, that flowers are shipped from the hothouses of Chicago to that city, where flowers may be raised the greater part of the year around in open and in profusion, the facilities which Chicago shippers must employ are too expensive ever to bring the tariff up to great proportions.

With cheapness of production and cheapness of distribution, New Orleans should be able to command an immense flower trade in the North.

The United States government is about to provide refrigeration for the care of vegetables in transit. The time probably is not far distant when it will provide all necessary facilities for the transportation of flowers by parcel post. When this time comes, and it should come early, the South will be afforded a splendid oportunity of competing succesfully for a share in a great Northern trade. It remains for the South to be in readiness to meet a demand that seems certain to grow with the increasing volume of supply.

CRUISERS' GERMAN CREWS WILL NOT BE DISCHARGED

Turkey Declines To Act, Declaring That Question Is One That Concerns Her Alone

By Associated Press.

Constantinople, Oct. 17.—The Porte has declined to discharge the German crews of the cruisers Goeben and Breslau which have been in Turkish waters since early in the hostilities and which are said to have been sold by Germany to the Turkish government. This reply was given in answer to the British representations regarding the continued presence of Germans on board the two vessels. The government has now shelved the matter, declaring it to be a domestic question although it had previously given repeated assurances that these Germans would be repatriated

NO GREAT RUSH TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF LAW

Austin, Texas, Oct. 19.—Communities have geen slower than expected in taking advantage of the emergency bonded warehouse law. The act has been in effect now a month and only about 15 bonded warehouses have been established, with a total capacity of 50,000 bales. One reason assigned for the slowness of establishment of the warehouses is the tightness of money. Another reason advanced is that the provisions of the law apparently are not clearly understood, though the department of insurance and banking, which has control of the bonded warehouses, is rapidly spreading information about the law wherever possible. It is estimated that if every community where there is cotton to be stored should take advantage of the law that no fewer than 1,000,000 bales would thus be taken off the market and adequately protected.

FOREST OIL COMPANY'S PRESIDENT DIED TODAY

By Associated Press.

Mineral Wells, Texas, Oct. 17.—Col. William Whipple Johnson died here at his home today. He was the father of the coal industry in Palo Pinto county, having opened the first coal shafts. He was also the owner of a large ranch near Gordon and president of the Forest Oil Company of Wichita Falls. He was born at Ionia, Michigan.

SAYS DEMOCRACY ONLY INSTRUMENT

PRESIDENT WRITES LETTER INDORSING CONGRESSMEN OF PARTY

DEFEAT WOULD MEAN SETBACK

Predicts Re-election of Democratic Members and Points Out Where In It Is Necessary

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Wilson made public Sunday a letter to Majority Leader Underwood of the House in which he reviewed the achievements of his administration, outlined the program for the next session of Congress and declared "the Democratic party is now in fact the only instrument ready to the country's hand by which anything can be accomplished."

The president wrote the letter as an indorsement of all Democratic members of Congress in lieu of speeches he said he would like to make in every congressional district. He predicted victory for his party in the elections because "every thoughtful man sees that a change of parties just now would set the clock back not forward," and because "a practical nation is not likely to reject such a team, full of spirit of public service and substitute in the midst of great tasks either a party upon which a deep demoralization has fallen or a party which has not grown to a stature that would warrant its assuming the responsible burdens of state."

Praises Work of Congress.

The legislative program begun during the present Congress was declared by the president to have been begun to "destroy private control and set business free." He said that the people of the country had been served by this Congress as they never have been served before."

Outlining the work already accomplished, Mr. Wilson mentioned the reform of the tariff, the pasage of the new currency bill, the anti-trust bills and the handling of foreign problems. He said he doubted if "there ever has been a finer exhibition of team work or of unhesitating devotion to the fulfillment of party pledges."

Praising the new tariff bill, the president asserted that "private control had shown its sinister face on every hand in America, had shown it for a long time and sometimes very brazenly, in the trusts and in the virtual domination of credit by small groups of men." He said that high prices did not spring directly from the tariff, but out of the suppression of competition, which flourished more easily under the protection of a high tariff. He declared that the panic which opponents of the new bill predicted had not come and that despite the European war there had been sufficient time to prove the success of the act.

The trade commission bill and the Clayton anti-trust bill were spoken of as designed "to take men in a small way of business as free to succeed as men in a big way and to kill monopoly in the seed." He added that "monopolies are built up by unfair methods of competition," which would be eliminated by the new legislation. "Monopoly is to be cut off at the roots," he declared.

Party Principle Defined.

"If our party were to be called upon to name the particular point of principle in which it differs from its opponents most sharply and in which it feels itself most definitely sustained by experience," continued the president, "we should no doubt say that it was this: That we would have no dealings with monopoly, but reject it altogether; while our opponents were ready to adopt it into the realm of law and seek merely to regulate it and moderate it in its operation, it is our purpose to destroy monopoly and maintain competition as the only effectual instrument of business liberty."

Justice has been done the laborer, declared the president, and his labor is no longer to be treated as if it "were merely an inanimate objct of commerce, disconnected from the fortunes and happiness of a living human being, to be dealt with as an object of sale and barter."

Of the currency bill, Mr. Wilson said "we have created a democracy of credit such as has never existed in this country before." He declared that "credit is now at the disposal of every man who can show energy and assets" and because control of the system rested with the government said "it is self-government as well as democracy."

It was impossible to complete rural credit legislation, the letter added, but the federal reserve act itself "facilitates and enlarges agricultural credit to an extraordinary degree."

Future Program Outlined.

Speaking of the program for the next session of Congress, the president mentioned legislation for building up the American merchant marine and the "completion of a great program for the conservation of our natural resources and the development of the water power of the country."

"Without a Congress in close sympathy with the administration," wrote the president, "a whole scheme of peace and honor and disinterested service to the world cannot be brought to its full realization."

GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY'S WAR PRIMER

Cassel—From the isolated hill on which this town of northern France is built can be seen more than 30 towns and 100 villages of France, Belgium and England. It is 27 miles northwest of Lille, 6 miles from the Belgian border and 17 miles from the seacoast. The hill of Cassel attains an altitude of 544 feet. The place is supposed to have been the site of Castellum Morinorum of the Romans and was at one time strongly fortified. It was the scene of many important battles during the middle ages. Lace, linen, soap, leather, oil, salt, earthenware, beer and butter are among its outputs.

Hazerbrouck—A railroad town of northern France, 22 miles north of west of Lille and 9 miles from the Belgian border. It is the junction of lines running to Calais, Dunkerque, Lille, Bethune and many other important cities in northern France, and its population of about 12,000 is made up principally of people in the employ of the railroads. The town is of no importance architecturally, its chief structure being the church of St. Eloi, built in the 16th century. The town is in the midst of an agricultural district and trades extensively in grain, hops and live stock. Many of its inhabitants are engaged in cloth weaving.

Quatre Bras—A Belgian hamlet, 18 miles east of south of Brussels, 12 miles north of Charleroi, and 10 miles south of Waterloo, the name of which is derived from the meeting of four roads there. The place is famous because the obstinate conflict between the French and the allies on June 16, 1815 occurred there. The French were successful in the early stages but toward the close of the battle the tide turned decidedly in favor of the allies, and the French were totally defeated. At one time the Duke of Wellington only escaped being captured by putting his horse to full gallop.

Roulers—A town of West Flanders, Belgium on the Mandel, an affluent of the Lys, 12 miles north by northeast of Ypres and 10 miles northwest of Courtrai, which was famous in the 11th and 12th centuries for its weavers. The French defeated the Austrians here after a fierce conflict in July, 1794. The inhabitants depend for their livelihood on the cultivation of flax and the manufacture of linen, leather, beer and spirits. The adjacent pastures are rich and butter forms an article of export. The town has had considerable growth in recent years and now has a population of about 26,000.

Furnes—An old fashioned town of West Flanders, Belgium, 16 miles southwest of Ostend, three miles from the coast and four miles from the French border, noted for its spectacular pageant depicting the twelve events in the life of Christ, which has been held annually since 1650. People from the whole of Belgium are attracted to this fete in which the residents of the little town take the parts of Roman soldiers, priests, the apostles, officials and spectators. Wooden figures are even brought in to swell the magnitude of the performance. With the exception of this event the place is dull and of little importance. Corn, stock, hops and dairy products are traded in extensively. The town was destroyed by the Normans and was rebuilt in 870. Its population is about 7,000.

MRS. CARMAN'S TRIAL FOR MURDER BEGINS TODAY

Defendant Comes Into Court Room All Dolled Up—Woman Is Her Alleged Victim

By Associated Press.

Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Florence Carman of Freeport was placed on trial here today for murder. She was charged with slaying Mrs. Louise Bailey of Hempstead the night of June 30, when Mrs. Bailey was in the office of Dr. Edwin Carman, the defendant's husband. Mrs. Carman was brought to the court room through a subterranean passage from the basement of the jail to the court house. Her marcelled hair was dressed with pains-taking care and she looked as if she might have stepped into the court room from a stroll on Fifth Avenue.

CAPTURE OF BANTLE FLAG BY FRENCH IS RELATED

By Associated Press.

Paris, Oct. 19.—Le Figaro publishes the following account of the capture of the battleflag of the thirty-sixth regiment of Prussian infantry by three soldiers of the 298th regiment of French infantry, for which its own flag was decorated with the insignia of the Legion of Honor:

"On September 7," the article reads, "the twenty-second and twenty-third companies of the 298th regiment were deployed in skirmishing against a group of the enemy from 700 to 800 meters distant. When the distance diminished the Germans raised their hands and shouted, 'France, England, friends!'

"Our men, advancing without distrust, were fired upon point blank. Without allowing themselves to waver, they replied with a bayonet charge. A half-raised flag was observed under which two Germans were lying. The soldier Guillemard transfixed the bearer of the flag with his bayonet and kicked the hand which held the pole, while Corporal Michalet threw himself upon the other man, permitting Guillemard and Sergeant Antonio to seize the flag."

AMSTERDAM'S DIAMOND BUSINESS IS IMPROVING

By Associated Press.

Amsterdam, Oct. 19.—A slight improvement in the diamond business is recorded here. Since the outbreak of the war very little has been done by the diamond cutters and dealers. The improvement, though very slight, has been noticed with general satisfaction. Three firms have re-opened their cutting establishment, giving work to about 500 cutters. The number of unemployed has decreased from 8872 to 7[illegible].

TRIED TO GET SWEDEN TO ALLY WITH GERMANY

By Associated Press.

Cologne Oct. 19.—Sven Hedin, the Swedish explorer, who shortly before the outbreak of the war, endeavored to win the Swedish people over to an alliance with Germany, is paying a visit to the western theatre of war by invitation of the Kaiser. It is understood that he will also visit the Eastern military terrain.

Kustendji—A Roumanian city, on the Black Sea, 25 miles south of east of Medjidie, the site of Tomi, where Ovid spent his exile. # MORTGAGE ON UNBORN CHILDREN

Suffragette Speaker Tells What Part Her Sex Has To Pay When Nations Fight

Kasnas City, Oct. 19.—The man who says that a woman's fight for, or receipt of, the right to vote destroys her finer sympathies, would have received a hard jolt had he listened to Dr. Anna Shaw's eulogy to the dead and bereaved of the disastrous war in Europe, in connection with her suffrage address in the Grand Avenue temple here. The connection of the question of war with suffrage arose thus: "What does a woman know about war?"

"When a man jeeringly shot that question at me from the vantage of a cracker box in front of country store in a town in New Mexico recently, it made me think of Europe. Indeed, what do women know about war?" said Dr. Shaw.

"If you tell me that in Europe 300,000 men lie dead on the battlefield, I will tell you, I don't know. If you tell me of one man who lies there stiff in death I can tell you. A woman—some woman sees the helpless baby she gave the strength, the beauty, the whole prayer of her life to the perfection of, in that dead son. Multiply that one woman by 100,000 and then tell me what women know about war.

"War Mortgages Unborn."

"They know this, that the $1,000,000 that Germany is spending daily the $5,000,000 that France is spending and the $5,000,000 that Great Britain is spending is putting a mortgage on the unborn children of those nations for 500 years. And because the kings ask the best of their manhood for cannon food, the progenitors of those unborn babes will be the unfit. That is another thing women know about war. Do you want to know what men know about war in Europe today? It is simply this: What the war is over they will find out that it is possible to live without kings.

"All of which has a good sound to our boasted republican ears. Of course we—or rather, you men—think we have a republic in this country. Well, we haven't. We are simply trying to evolve a republic out of a monarchy. It is bound to progress no further as long as but half of the people have a right to elect representatives. When the United States constitution was voted on, women who paid taxes on not less than $250 were allowed to vote. Of course this did not include the married women. The men of those days stood at the marriage altar and said 'with all my worldly goods I thee endow' and took all his wife had. The unattached woman who owned property in those days was a citizen. With men and women alike it was what you possessed, not what you were that counted.

Cites Aristocracy of Sex.

"The 'who and when' of the ballot in the United States reads first, the churchman—not a churchman but the churchman. Anyone but the churchman had to move into another state. Then the taxpayer was the privileged voter and now men vote in this country because they are men. This is the aristocracy of sex. God said in the beginning that it is not good for men to stand alone. We want to so arrange the constitution that it will not refer to male or female citizens in prescribing who shall vote but just simply read citizens shall vote. The voice of the people should represent the soprano as well as the bass—harmony is necessary.

"The sexes are afraid of each other and of the so-called confusion that might result from giving the ballot to women. Which is better, wholesome confusion or snug satisfaction beside which a frog pond is hilarious action? Out of confusion comes thought, out of thought, action, and out of action, justice. Men trust us with themselves, their interests, their children, everything but the ballot, a thing he trusts any kind of a man with outside of prison.

COTTON PRICES TODAY AT NEW LOW MARK FOR SEASON

Quotations Go Below Six Cents With No Demand In Spite of Prices

Cotton fell below six cents here today, middling prices ranging from 5 5-8 to 6 cents. Nobody was in the market aparently and cotton went begging even at the low figure. Today's prices made a new low mark for the season.

Fort Worth Live Stock.

Dallas Cotton.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 19.—Spot middling, 6 1-8. Sales, 6669 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—Spot cotton, quiet; sales on spot, 380; to arrive, 1,300; middling, 6 3-4.

Chicago Futures

By Associated Press.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Sharply higher prices at Liverpool led today to an advance in the wheat market here. The record breaking exports from the United States in September also helped the bulls. Wheat opened 1-2 to 7-8 higher. Fine weather eased corn at the outset. The opening which varied from 1-4 to 1-8 up was followed by a slight setback; good general commission buying put strength into oats; demand was fairly active. Wheat closed nervous; corn closed firm. Closing—Wheat: Dec. 1.16 12; May 1.22 1-8. Corn: Dec. 68 3-8; May 70 3-4. Oats: Dec. 50; May 58 1-8.

Kansas City Grain

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, Oct. 19.—Cash wheat No. 2 hard 1.06 to 1.07. No. 2 red 1.06 to 1.07. Corn No. 2 mixed 71 to 71 1-2. Oats No. 2 white 47.

ALLIES HAVING MUCH TROUBLE ACCORDING TO BERLIN STATEMENT

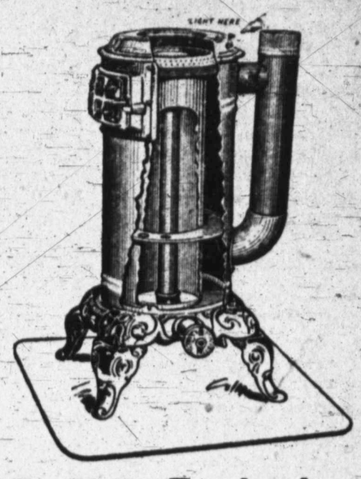

By Associated Press.

Berlin, via Wireless to Sayville, Oct. 19.—"Great Britain's cry for help to Portugal," the "chaotic situation" in South Africa and the "revolts in India," according to announcements made in Berlin today, all are tending to raise German confidence. Reports received from Constantinoples are that Great Britain has sent three battalions from Malta to India. According to reports from Russian sources at Warsaw there are at least 800,000 Russians in the Poland campaign. There is great lack of medical and sanitary supplies and the hospitals at Kiev, Moscow and elsewhere are overcrowded. During the assault on Przemysl the Russians lost 40,000 men in killed and wounded. Russian troops from Bessarabia have been sent to the Caucasus where revolts have broken out. The Russians are finding difficulty in creating new military organizations. Officials and non-commissioned officers are lacking at Warsaw. It is expected in Berlin General Von Hindenburg, the German commander in Russian Poland, will be victorious.

HOW GERMAN SUBMARINE SLIPPED UP ON CRUISER

Presence Not Known Until After Shot Had Been Fired, Survivors Say

By Associated Press.

Aberdeen, Scotland, Oct. 19.—Survivors of the British cruiser Hawke, which was sunk Friday by a German submarine, say the presence of a submarine in the vicinity of the cruiser was unknown until the periscope of the boat was detected moving away. The Hawke sank in five minutes and hundreds of men, some of them in cork jackets and others hanging to pieces of wreckage, were scattered about in the water.

"I was on the forenoon watch," said one of the stokers. "Some one was singing and the others had joined in the chorus when the Hawke was struck. The ship immediately started to cant over. When I reached the deck the captain was calling: 'It's everybody for himself.'

"I jumped overboard and managed to keep afloat, although the water was bitterly cold, until I was picked up by the only boat that there was time to launch. For a time we rowed around picking up men, but the boat was soon crowded and beyond throwing life belts to the men in the water we could do no more. A Norwegian steamer came up and picked up a few men, but for the large majority she was too late."

Another survivor said: "The torpedo must have struck the magazine, for there was a terrible explosion and the ship rose as if she had gone on a rock. Boats and rafts were rendered useless, even if there had been time to launch them. The submarine hung around for some time, probably expecting there might be a repetition of the Aboukir-Hogue-Cressy affair. A great number of men must have been killed by the explosion."

Two members of the engine room staff of the Hawke said the torpedo found its mark close to one of the magazines. The explosion was terrible.

A small cutter was launched and a small steam pinnance and a raft prepared for such emergency floated off when the Hawke sank, but the men crowded them so that the pinnace went down while those on the raft could not possibly survive, owing to the cold.

"We never saw the submarine," said one man, "until after the explosion, when something like a broomstick appeared above the water."

Still another survivor sdid it was impossible to man the guns, owing to the heavy list, though an attempt was made to do so. The captain, the commander and a midshipman were on the bridge, giving orders as calmly as if at fleet maneuvers. They disappeared when the ship went down.

ROUMANIA STOPS GERMAN TRAIN BOUND FOR TURKEY

By Associated Press.

London, Oct. 19.—The correspondent of the Central News at Rome says a telegram has been received from Bucharest, Roumania which declares that a German train composed of 150,000 trunks loaded with munitions and other war material for Turkey has been stopped by the Roumanian authorities on the railroad between Bucharest and Guirvero on the Danube. The German government protested but the trains were not allowed to proceed.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

No Reason for Industrial Depression.

Prosperity is a happy state. It depends upon good credit, stable prices, employment of wage earners and a general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the lack of fairness of one class toward another, and to a little dishonesty or overgrasping scattered through all the classes, but not in a majority of any of them.

In a country of our enormous natural wealth, we should have little to worry about. The United States, with its insular possessions and Alaska, is nearly as large as Europe. Our coasts are indented with excellent harbors and intersected by internal waterways, and we have, by far, the finest and cheapest cost railroad transportation in the whole world, making communication cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forests cover a great area of our territory. Our land is liberally stocked with almost every variety of mineral wealth, and with our great agricultural wealth we lead the world in a great many things.

When corporations are renovated and their ills cured by publicity, and when business men begin to feel a renewed confidence, and when political "cure alls," who have never made a success of their own affairs, quit offering "remedies" for all sorts of imaginary troubles; when we have full publicity in politics and in government; when business managers and employees treat each other fairly, the causes for apparent depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply and 15 years for 3-ply, and the written guarantee is backed by the assets of our big mills.

News Notes of the War

To what extent the United States will be able to take the lead in civilization and science as a result of the war is a question discussed by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, president of the American Medical association.

"The great European war is going to put the responsibility for the advance of civilization largely upon the United States," says he. "It remains to be seen if we, as a country, are equal to the call. If America is going to carry the burden for the world, she must take stock of her own defects, and then set about remedying thme.

"I feel doubly the loss of the German men of science, understanding what this loss will mean to the whole civilized world. The greatest scientific discoveries of the world have been made in German laboratories.

"Germany produces many chemicals and medicines that are not produced anywhere else in the world, and many of their methods are secret. In Germany the ways of making many medicines and chemicals are patented. Many of the chemicals used in photography and many of the fertilizers for the land are secret processes, known only to the men who make them.

"I predict that when the war is over, whichever way it may go, that there will be a large immigration of scientific men to this country, because European countries will be so impoverished that scientific investigation will be impossible or at best greatly curtailed. As many of the workers in scientific research have been officers in the German army, there is a grave question as to whether the poor fellows wil ireturn from the war to take up their work in any country. In almost every laboratory in Germany, before the war, practically every assistant was a member of the army corps, located in that town. They are now in the field and comparatively few will return. This is true in all lines of scientific research, medical, chemical and industrial.

Germany has surpassed all nations in literature, science and commerce—and has thrown all this into the hazard of war. Germans have been welcomed to citizenship in every country in the world—her ships rode every sea, carrying exports and imports. The best people, the people of the highest intellect, from all over the world, went to Germany for their training. Germany dominated the world in science. Today Germany is at war, and after this some other country may step into her place and dominate the scientific world. It should be America—but the disheartening part is that there is a question as to whether this country is big enough in other ways to warrant our having faith in this crisis. If America is to carry the burden of civilizaton, it must prevent the multiplication of the unfit."

Mecca Pilgrimage Forbidden.

Perusal of the Turkish newspapers shows that the war has filled the Moslem world with unrest. The Osmanic Lloyd, published in Constantinople, asserts that a long prepared pan-Islamatic uprising actually has begun in India and Egypt, that serious outbreaks have occurred in Alexandria and Cairo, and that bloody conflicts have taken place in the interior of Egypt. Nothing on this subject has been allowed to come through in cable dispatches or to be published in English and French newspapers, and it is impossible to determine the extent of the disturbances referred to. According to the Constantinople paper, the cause of the outbreak in Egypt was an order issued by the British military commander in Cairo forbidding the annual pilgrimage to Mecca, which was to have started at the beginning of September. The progress of the Holy Caravan, as it is called, which always conveys large sums of money to Mecca and is accompanied by Arabic scholars and by thousands of faithful pilgrims, is the great event of the Mohammendan year, and its suppression undoubtedly would be regarded by Islamites everywhere as an act of infidel oppression.

Kaiser's Hand Forced by War Party.

Light on the influences that brought about the war in Europe is given by an American resident in Berlin, who is quoted in the London Times as follows:

"Regarding the Emperor, I may say that he is a fair man. The aristocracy are not fond of him, and one of the causes that have led to the war is that the titled aristocracy, who are in close connection with the army, are a war party, and that they have felt deeply hurt at the manner in which they have been pushed into the background, and the industrials favored by the Emperor.

"The captains of industry are most loyal to the Emperor. The aristocracy have been disinclined to approve his policy of peace and commercial expansion. My impressions on this point are strengthened by close observations. During the Balkan war, the Austrian Crown Prince came to the German Emperor, and tried to induce him to give the word for the outbreak of hostilities, but the Emperor remarked:

"My son is rattling too much with my sword.'

"The result was that Germany refused to assist Austria in a war against Russia and the Balkan States. But this time I am inclined to think that the war party was too much for the Emperor, and that when he recognized that England was in the bill it was too late for him to retreat."

Officer's Wife a Cossack.

Among the wounded Russians who are in the hospital at Kiev for treatment is a diminutive Cossack, who is the last person any one would expect to see in that place. In a recent battle this little soldier saw a huge infantryman knocked over by the explosion of a shell. He took him on his horse, a swift animal, and as they were galloping together toward an ambulance a bullet struck the rider as well.

The two were obliged to be carried away from Kiev with the other wounded, and many persons noted the contrast in size between the huge infantryman and the little Cossack.

In the next hospital it was discovered that the little Cossack was a young woman. Her husband is an officer. In his absence life alone at home was full of ennui, and for the distraction it furnished or the excitment, she enlisted as a volunteer in the company of a sotnia.

Berlin Food Price Low.

An influential American has arrived in London from Berlin, where he lived many years. In the London Times he gives an interesting account of conditions in the German capital, where it is believed generally the war will last several years.

"Berlin is perfectly normal," he says, "although few young men are seen. There is no scarcity of food. I laid in provisions for three months for my family, and so far it has been of no practical value. Prices have not gone up. An attempt was made the first few days of the war to raise them, but the government immediately gave notice that although it was not considered practical to fix the minimum food rates, any effort to raise prices abnormally would be followed by the closing of the shops.

"This threat was in some instances actually carried out. Practically full crops are being gathered in Germany this fall, and these will supply the country for a year. After that there may be a scarcity, because many men have been taken from the farms; and women and children cannot be expected to produce a full supply of cereals. Practically no food has been imported, as both Holland and Denmark are carrying their observance of neutrality to the point of declining to allow foodstuffs to cross their borders into Germany."

World's War Record.

A tabulation of records made by a war authority shows that Germany is the only one among the world's leading nations which has had no war in the last forty-four years, and this in spite of the fact that for twenty-six of these forty-four years a so-called war lord has been emperor of Germany. Previous to the present struggle came the Russo-Japanese war; before that Japan and China were fighting, and Russia was at war with Turkey. France and Italy had their wars in Northern Africa, and England her struggle with the Boers. In 1898 the United States and Spain had their war. Portugal had their war, and so did Brazil, and there was strife between Chili and Peru. Bulgaria, Servia and Greece have been embroiled a number of times, and Mexico has been a more or less constant battlefield. Altogether, the world seems still to be fairly warlike, according to the data of the authority in question.

Premature Coinage.

That the Czar, or his advisers, expected some time ago to enter Berlin before the end of the year is disclosed in a letter written from the front by a Belin medical man to his wife. It contains the following significant passage:

"Inside of the box of one of the captured Russian guns I found hundreds of freshly minted copper coins, showing the head of the Czar on one side, and bearing on the other side the legend, 'Entry into Berlin, 1914.'"

Whether or not this issue will prove to be premature remains to be seen but the opinion is expressed by many that the coins will find places in museum alongside the French postage stamps for Alsace.

EXPERIENCES OF NOBLE WOMEN IN EUROPE

The horrible experiences that many noble women in Europe have endured during past few months can never be all told. Here in America many women, both young and old, have experienced much misery and suffering.

Middle aged women about to experience that dreaded change of life should profit by the experience of thousands of noble women who have gone through the same period with little or no pain, misery or discomfort.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is and has been for over 40 years just the medicine that every woman needs when passing through the changing days. It is not a secret prescription, for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper.

Not only does it build up the entire system and make it strong and vigorous enough to withstand the organic disturbances, but it has a quieting effect upon the feminine organism that reduces the distress to a minimum. For any womanly ailment, disease or complaint, no matter of how long standing, we advise anxious women to get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in either liquid or tablet form.

Get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription today, then write to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for 136 page book on women's diseases sent free. (Advt)

EUROPEAN WAR SUBJECT OF FORUM MEETING TONIGHT

Session Will Be Held in Basement of M. E. Church, South, at Eight O'clock

The responsibility for the European war will be fixed tonight at the meeting of the Young Men's Forum. Tonight's meeting will be held in the basement of the M. E. Church, South, at 8 o'clock. The Chamber of Commerce room at the city hall, where the Forums usually meet, is not habitable on account of the recent fire.

The subject for tonight's debate is "Resolved, That England Was Justified in Taking Up Arms in the Present War." Messrs. Bradbury and Roemer will have the affirmative and Messrs. Hein and Berry the negative. The program will include brief talks by C. R. Fuller, John Butts and John Gould. The election of officers will also be a feature of the meeting.

At The Theaters

"THE PRODIGAL SON" IS WICHITA OFFERING TONIGHT

Oscar Graham and his clever company will pay their annual visit here tonight in another new play entitled, "The Prodigal Son." Past successes of Mr. Graham's which include "The Higher Law," "The Stumbling Block," and "Circle O Ranch," have in all cases left a very strong impression and the same players in this unique organization have been banded together for so many years, that have literally endeared themselves to a large following wherever they appear. "The Prodigal Son" comes recommended as Mr. Graham's best effort. It is heralded as being the most unique and original of any play heretofore presented. Loretta Graham's gowns are said to be more than ordinarily beautiful; the scenic and electrical effects are all new and elaborate.

The Lydia Margaret.

A new vaudeville bill opens today, comprising two acts, both top notchers. Coombs and Williams present a catchy little comedy act, the city chap and the country girl and Harris and West, two good looking girls that are "some dancers" have an act that pleases. Today's picture are "A Kentucky Gentleman," a two part drama, featuring Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sisson and a Rex, "Her Bounty."

The Gem.

"The Rajah's Vow," a two part Kalem drama, "Treasure Tove," an Edison drama featuring Viola Dana, Charles Sutton and Marie Le Mana with a couple of split reel comedies complete today's picture program.

The Victoria.

No. 16 of the "Million Dollar Mystery" is showing today, also "The Masquerader," a Keystone, featuring Charles Chaplin and "The Aftermath," an American featuring William Garwood and Vivian Rich.

In a large mill town the eternal struggle between labor and capital is on. The newspapers attribute several recent cases of housebreaking to the work of hungry, desperate unemployed.

Mrs. Morrison, invalid mother of Tom Morrison, a labor delegate, persuades her son to provide her with a pistol for protection. One of the manufacturers sends his son, Frank Gage, to negotiate with Morrison for a settlement of the strike. They closet themselves in secret conference at the home of the latter. About 1 o'clock in the morning, the agreement reached, Gage is leaving when Mrs. Morrison, hearing a slight noise at the front door, comes to the top of the stairs and fires! Morning downs with the mother prostrate and the son a fugitive from justice. His sister, Ann is the only person who knows that he is sacrificing himself to shield his mother. Mrs. Morrison is in a critical condition. Tom reads of her illness and returns to her. Here he finds his father, who is sworn to deliver his son over to justice. The drama shows how a higher power than intelligence and will, in great emergencies solves the riddle of crime, vicarious suffering and just punishment.

The Majestic.

"The Attorney's Decision," featuring Rosemary Theby and Harry C. Myers. Alice West gives up her sweetheart, John Travers, a young lawyer to marry Norris Dacre, a broker, who holds her father's fortune and reputation in the hollow of his hand. John is heart broken, but five years later is elected district attorney. He meets Alice and learns that she is an unhappy and neglected wife. The state inaugurates an investigation against crooked brokers. Alice's husband is on the list and John receives valuable evidence from one of Dacre's dupes. At this time Dacre is interested in Mimi, a dancer, much to the jealousy of her lover, a violin player at the cafe Dacre's friends offer John a bribe which is refused. Then Alice goes and intercedes and John promises to be lenient. That night she discovers her husband's crookedness and knowing that she has turned John away, tells him to prosecute her husband to the full extent of the law. Dacre follows and learning of the situation threatens to drag his wife and the district attorney through the disgrace of a divorce suit. To save Alice, John wishes to destroy the papers, but she will not let him do this. Dacre goes to Mimi at the cafe and gets into a quarrel with the violinist, her lover, who believes the two intend to go to Europe. In a fury the violinist shoots and kills the other man. John destroys the evidence against Dacre and Alice gives her heart and hand when her old time lover calls a little later.

"Two Men Who Waited," featuring Beverly Bayne, Mirian, a country girl, has grown up with Jim from childhood, and he loves her dearly. She has never seen the city and longs for a chance to view the "Great White Way." One day she reads in the newspaper of an opportunity for a young girl to go on the stage, so decides to leave Jim and the country life and go to the city. In the city she meets a fine looking chap at the booking agency who buys gowns and hats for her and is extremely kind to her. One night he persuades her to accompany him to a cafe. Then comes the awakening. She discovers the man's real purpose. She breaks away, and leaving the city to go on with its merciless traffic in women's souls, she returns to Jim who is awaiting her with open arms.

"MUTT AND JEFF" IN A NEW FROLIC NEXT FRIDAY

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," and women, too. The old adage is proven over and over again by the continued and most exeraordinary success of Gus Hill's productions of "Mutt and Jeff." New York's best citizens, bankers, butchers, bakers and undertakers all turn to the "funny pictures" in the morning newspapers to see what those two funny fellows, Mutt and Jeff, are up to. Nor is the habit confined to any class, creed or status of life's success. The banker, the lawyer and the judge enjoy the daily cartoons as well as their less fortunate brothers, and applaud Bud Fisher's satirical humor. Millions of the best people in America have laughed at Gus Hill's company present "Mutt and Jeff" in their various plays and will continue to laugh at them as long as Bud Fisher and Gus Hill can keep up the pace. "Mutt and Jeff" have made four complete tours of the United States and Canada, with absolutely no sign of diminishing popularity and will continue to do so for years innumerable. "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" will not only live up to the past records of phenomenal business, but will prove to be the crowning triumph of Mr. Hill's long business career. All known box office records have been hopelessly shattered by the enormous popularity of this "sure fire" success and has been known as the mortgage lifter for house managers and theatre owners.

"Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" will come to the Wichita Theatre next Friday. It was designed for laughing purposes only. There isn't a serious thought or a suggestion in the entire show; its mission on earth is simply to banish dull care and stifle the hook worm and grouch. Get seats early, as "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" invariably plays to capacity houses, and the early bird catches the best seat.

FLOUR FROM FETEREITA IS FOUND USEFUL FOR BREAD

Forage Crop, It Is Discovered, Is Good Food For Man As Well As Beast

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19.—After experimenting with Feterita for some time as a stock food, it has now been discovered that this product ground up is one of the best bread flours made, and makes excellent light bread or biscuits. It can be used with equally as much success in making various kinds of pasteries as wheat flour, according to W. G. Hand, farm demonstrator in Bexar county, the discoverer of the new "flour grain."

This product was first introduced into Texas about three years ago and several acres was planted to the crop in this county, primarily for experimental purposes as a stock food. Its value as such was amply proven after its first year by a number of local cattlemen who fattened their stock on it.

Its nutritious qualities are equal those of ordinary flour and exceeds those of graham flour, according to an analysis recently conducted here. The feterita stalks grow six feet high and the yield per acre is seventy-five bushels. The grain thrives on arid land and is especially adapted to the Texas climate. With this new discovery before them, it is thought Texas farmers will devote a larger acreage to this crop in 1915.

FRANCE BUYS 2000 HORSES AT FORT WORTH EXHIBITION

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 19.—During their stay in Fort Worth the committee of horse judges composed of Frenchmen here for the purpose of accepting horses for the French government for use in the French army witnessed the performance of the Feeders and Breeders' Show. Saturday they expressed themselves as being surprised at the splendid exhibition of fine horses shown here.

The result of a week's work by the representatives of the French government in Fort Worth is that 2,000 horses have been accepted under contract for use in the French cavalry. The purchase of this number of horses in Fort Worth represents the outlay of thousands of dollars by the French government in Fort Worth.

Friday at noon the committee finished its work of accepting horses at the stockyards and the members who have been on duty during the past several days spent several hours of rest at their headquarters at the Westbrook Hotel Saturday. A. Aveline of Verrieres, France, is a well known horseman in France, having been in the business during the whole of his life time. His father was one of the judges of horses at the St. Louis exposition, having come to America as a representative from Europe.

Praises Horse Show.

In speaking of the horse show in Fort Worth, Mr. Aveline said that it was one of the best that he has ever seen. He has visited the annual horse shows in Paris and is well informed on horse fairs all over Europe.

"I am sorry that the National Feeders and Breeders' Show has been terminated," he said Saturday. "It afforded me a splendid opportunity of seeing just what kind of horses America produces. I admit that I am surprised at the remarkable exhibit that has been made in this city. I am a breeder of French coach horses and Percheron horses myself. My father has conducted a horse ranch near our home at Verrieres for many years.

"When I came to America I expected to see a number of small inferior horses, for such is the report concerning the horses in this country in Europe. On the contrary I have seen some of the best Percherons and coach horses and saddle horses as well, that I have ever seen at the Horse Show in Fort Worth.

To Accept More Horses.

"I was at the front of the battle line about six weeks at the beginning of the war between France and Germany. While at the front I was taken ill, and had to return to Paris. After I had recovered from my illness I was informed by the minister of the interior in France that I was wanted by my country to travel in America and accept horses for use in the French army. I asked the minister how long I was to be in this country and he said that he did not know. I will probably be here the whole of next week, however, as I understand that I am expected to accept 500 horses from Fort Worth dealers to be delivered at Fort Worth next week.

"As soon as I am through with the work in America I expect to go back and take my place in the ranks at the front. When France entered the war with Germany the leading men of our republic thought that the war would end at least by the first of the year. At the present time, however, I am in receipt of information that the military authorities in my country do not expect the war to end before next spring.

"I have been requested to serve as a judge at the horse fair to be held at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco, but I do not know as yet if it will be possible for me to serve. I have always the duty I owe to my country in view, and in order that I may serve as a judge in San Francisco it will first be necessary for me to finish my work as a representative of my government."

Quality Certified Roofing Durability Guaranteed

—in its three forms—rolls, shingles and built-up form—is the best that money can buy, and its extensive use on factories, warehouses, skyscrapers, business blocks, farm buildings, army and navy stations, residences, barns, etc., proves it is the most popular roofing on the market today.

This popularity is the result of the excellent service Certain-teed Roofing gives on the roof and the reasonable price at which dealers sell it.

BUSINESS PROSPERITY.

No Reason for Industrial Depression.

Prosperity is a happy state. It depends upon good credit, stable prices, employment of wage earners and a general confidence in the future.

Of late there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of business depression, due mostly to the lack of fairness of one class toward another, and to a little dishonesty or overgrasping scattered through all the classes, but not in a majority of any of them.

In a country of our enormous natural wealth, we should have little to worry about. The United States, with its insular possessions and Alaska, is nearly as large as Europe. Our coasts are indented with excellent harbors and intersected by internal waterways, and we have, by far, the finest and cheapest cost railroad transportation in the whole world, making communication cheap and easy. We have tremendous water power and every variety of climate and soil. Magnificent forests cover a great area of our territory. Our land is literally stocked with almost every variety of mineral wealth, and with our vast agricultural wealth we lead the world in a great many things.

When corporations are renovated and their ills cured by publicity, and when business men begin to feel a renewed confidence, and when political "cure alls," who have never made a success of their own affairs, quit offering "remedies" for all sorts of imaginary troubles; when we have full publicity in politics and in government; when business managers and employees treat each other fairly, the causes for apparent depression will disappear and real prosperity will return and stay with us.

Certain-teed Red Roofing is guaranteed 5 years for 1-ply, 10 years for 2-ply and 15 years for 3-ply, and the written guarantee is backed by the assets of our big mills.

In addition to above we also make a complete line of other roofings, building papers, etc. Ask your dealer. He will be glad to give you further information about our goods and will quote you reasonable prices.

News Notes of the War

To what extent the United States will be able to take the lead in civilization and science as a result of the war is a question discussed by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, president of the American Medical association.

"The great European war is going to put the responsibility for the advance of civilization largely upon the United States," says he. "It remains to be seen if we, as a country, are equal to the call. If America is going to carry the burden for the world, she must take stock of her own defects, and then set about remedying thme.

"I feel doubly the loss of the German men of science, understanding what this loss will mean to the whole civilized world. The greatest scientific discoveries of the world have been made in German laboratories.

"Germany produces many chemicals and medicines that are not produced anywhere else in the world, and many of their methods are secret. In Germany the ways of making many medicines and chemicals are patented. Many of the chemicals used in photography and many of the fertilizers for the land are secret processes, known only to the men who make them.

"I predict that when the war is over, whichever way it may go, that there will be a large immigration of scientific men to this country, because European countries will be so impoverished that scientific investigation will be impossible or at best greatly curtailed. As many of the workers in scientific research have been officers in the German army, there is a grave question as to whether the poor fellows wil lreturn from the war to take up their work in any country. In almost every laboratory in Germany, before the war, practically every assistant was a member of the army corps, located in that town. They are now in the field and comparatively few will return. This is true in all lines of scientific research, medical, chemical and industrial.

"Germany has surpassed all nations in literature, science and commerce—and has thrown all this into the hazard of war. Germans have been welcomed to citizenship in every country in the world—her ships rode every sea, carrying exports and imports. The best people, the people of the highest intellect, from all over the world, went to Germany for their training. Germany dominated the world in science. Today Germany is at war, and after this some other country may step into her place and dominate the scientific world. It should be America—but the disheartening part is that there is a question as to whether this country is big enough in other ways to warrant our having faith in this crisis. If America is to carry the burden of civilization, it must prevent the multiplication of the unfit."

Mecca Pilgrimage Forbidden.

Perusal of the Turkish newspapers shows that the war has filled the Moslem world with unrest. The Osmanic Lloyd, published in Constantinople, asserts that a long prepared pan-Islamatic uprising actually has begun in India and Egypt, that serious outbreaks have occurred in Alexandria and Cairo, and that bloody conflicts have taken place in the interior of Egypt. Nothing on this subject has been allowed to come through in cable dispatches or to be published in English and French newspapers, and it is impossible to determine the extent of the disturbances referred to. According to the Constantinople paper, the cause of the outbreak in Egypt was an order issued by the British military commander in Cairo forbidding the annual pilgrimage to Mecca, which was to have started at the beginning of September. The progress of the Holy Caravan, as it is called, which always conveys large sums of money to Mecca and is accompanied by Arabic scholars and by thousands of faithful pilgrims, is the great event of the Mohammendan year, and its suppression undoubtedly would be regarded by Islamites everywhere as an act of infidel oppression.

Kaiser's Hand Forced by War Party.

Light on the influences that brought about the war in Europe is given by an American resident in Berlin, who is quoted in the London Times as follows:

"Regarding the Emperor, I may say that he is a fair man. The aristocracy are not fond of him, and one of the causes that have led to the war is that the titled aristocracy, who are in close connection with the army, are a war party, and that they have felt deeply hurt at the manner in which they have been pushed into the background, and the industrials favored by the Emperor.

"The captains of industry are most loyal to the Emperor. The aristocracy have been disinclined to approve his policy of peace and commercial expansion. My impressions on this point are strengthened by close observations. During the Balkan war, the Austrian Crown Prince came to the German Emperor, and tried to induce him to give the word for the outbreak of hostilities, but the Emperor remarked:

"'My son is rattling too much with my sword.'

"The result was that Germany refused to assist Austria in a war against Russia and the Balkan States. But this time I am inclined to think that the war party was too much for the Emperor, and that when he recognized that England was in the bill it was too late for him to retreat."

Officer's Wife a Cossack.

Among the wounded Russians who are in the hospital at Kiev for treatment is a diminutive Cossack, who is the last person any one would expect to see in that place. In a recent battle this little soldier saw a huge infantryman knocked over by the explosion of a shell. He took him on his horse, a swift animal, and as they were galloping together toward an ambulance a bullet struck the rider as well.

The two were obliged to be carried away from Kiev with the other wounded, and many persons noted the contrast in size between the huge infantryman and the little Cossack.

In the next hospital it was discovered that the little Cossack was a young woman. Her husband is an officer. In his absence life alone at home was full of ennui, and for the distraction it furnished or the excitment, she enlisted as a volunteer in the company of a sotnia.

Berlin Food Price Low.

An influential American has arrived in London from Berlin, where he lived many years. In the London Times he gives an interesting account of conditions in the German capital, where it is believed generally the war will last several years.

"Berlin is perfectly normal," he says, "although few young men are seen. There is no scarcity of food. I laid in provisions for three months for my family, and so far it has been of no practical value. Prices have not gone up. An attempt was made the first few days of the war to raise them, but the government immediately gave notice that although it was not considered practical to fix the minimum food rates, any effort to raise prices abnormally would be followed by the closing of the shops.

"This threat was in some instances actually carried out. Practically full crops are being gathered in Germany this fall, and these will supply the country for a year. After that there may be a scarcity, because many men have been taken from the farms; and women and children cannot be expected to produce a full supply of cereals. Practically no food has been imported, as both Holland and Denmark are carrying their observance of neutrality to the point of declining to allow foodstuffs to cross their borders into Germany."

World's War Record.

A tabulation of records made by a war authority shows that Germany is the only one among the world's leading nations which has had no war in the last forty-four years, and this in spite of the fact that for twenty-six of these forty-four years a so-called war lord has been emperor of Germany. Previous to the present struggle came the Russo-Japanese war; before that Japan and China were fighting, and Russia was at war with Turkey. France and Italy had their wars in Northern Africa, and England her struggle with the Boers. In 1898 the United States and Spain had their war. Portugal had their war, and so did Brazil, and there was strife between Chili and Peru. Bulgaria, Servia and Greece have been embroiled a number of times, and Mexico has been a more or less constant battlefield. Altogether, the world seems still to be fairly warlike, according to the data of the authority in question.

Premature Coinage.

That the Czar, or his advisers, expected some time ago to enter Berlin before the end of the year is disclosed in a letter written from the front by a Belin medical man to his wife. It contains the following significant passage:

"Inside of the box of one of the captured Russian guns I found hundreds of freshly minted copper coins, showing the head of the Czar on one side, and bearing on the other side the legend, 'Entry into Berlin, 1914.'"

Whether or not this issue will prove to be premature remains to be seen but the opinion is expressed by many that the coins will find places in museum alongside the French postage stamps for Alsace.

EXPERIENCES OF NOBLE WOMEN IN EUROPE

The horrible experiences that many noble women in Europe have endured during past few months can never be all told. Here in America many women, both young and old, have experienced much misery and suffering.

Middle aged women about to experience that dreaded change of life should profit by the experience of thousands of noble women who have gone through the same period with little or no pain, misery or discomfort.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is and has been for over 40 years just the medicine that every woman needs when passing through the changing days. It is not a secret prescription, for its ingredients are printed on the wrapper.

Not only does it build up the entire system and make it strong and vigorous enough to withstand the organic disturbances, but it has a quieting effect upon the feminine organism that reduces the distress to a minimum. For any womanly ailment, disease or complaint, no matter of how long standing, we advise anxious women to get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in either liquid or tablet form.

Get Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription today, then write to Dr. Pierces Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for 136 page book on women's diseases sent free. (Advt)

EUROPEAN WAR SUBJECT OF FORUM MEETING TONIGHT

Session Will Be Held In Basement of M. E. Church, South, at Eight O'clock

The responsibility for the European war will be fixed tonight at the meeting of the Young Men's Forum. Tonight's meeting will be held in the basement of the M. E. Church, South, at 8 o'clock. The Chamber of Commerce room at the city hall, where the Forums usually meet, is not habitable on account of the recent fire.

The subject for tonight's debate is "Resolved. That England Was Justified in Taking Up Arms in the Present War." Messrs. Bradbury and Roemer will have the affirmative and Messrs. Hein and Berry the negative. The program will include brief talks by C. R. Fuller, John Butts and John Gould. The election of officers will also be a feature of the meeting.

At The Theaters

"THE PRODIGAL SON" IS WICHITA OFFERING TONIGHT

Oscar Graham and his clever company will pay their annual visit here tonight in another new play entitled, "The Prodigal Son." Past successes of Mr. Graham's which include "The Higher Law," "The Stumbling Block," and "Circle O Ranch," have in all cases left a very strong impression and the same players in this unique ogranization have been banded together for so many years, that have literally endeared themselves to a large following wherever they appear. "The Prodigal Son" comes recommended as Mr. Graham's best effort. It is heralded as being the most unique and original of any play heretofore presented. Loretta Graham's gowns are said to be more than ordinarily beautiful; the scenic and electrical effects are all new and elaborate.

The Lydia Margaret.

A new vaudeville bill opens today, comprising two acts, both top notchers. Coombs and Williams present a catchy little comedy act, the city chap and the country girl and Harris and West, two good looking girls that are "some dancers" have an act that pleases. Today's picture are "A Kentucky Gentleman," a two part drama, featuring Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sisson and a Rex, "Her Bounty."

The Gem.

"The Rajah's Vow," a two part Kalem drama, "Treasure Tove," an Edison drama featuring Viola Dana, Charles Sutton and Marie Le Mana with a couple of split reel comedies complete today's picture program.

The Victoria.

No. 16 of the "Million Dollar Mystery" is showing today, also "The Masquerader," a Keystone, featuring Charles Chaplin and "The Aftermath," an American featuring William Garwood and Vivian Rich.

In a large mill town the eternal struggle between labor and capital is on. The newspapers attribute several recent cases of housebreaking to the work of hungry, desperate unemployed.

Mrs. Morrison, invalid mother of Tom Morrison, a labor delegate, persuades her son to provide her with a pistol for protection. One of the manufacturers sends his son, Frank Gage, to negotiate with Morrison for a settlement of the strike. They closet themselves in secret conference at the home of the latter. About 1 o'clock in the morning, the agreement reached, Gage is leaving when Mrs. Morrison, hearing a slight noise at the front door, comes to the top of the stairs and fires. Morning downs with the mother prostrate and the son a fugitive from justice. His sister, Ann is the only person who knows that he is sacrificing himself to shield his mother. Mrs. Morrison is in a critical condition. Tom reads of her illness and returns to her. Here he finds his father, who is sworn to deliver his son over to justice. The drama shows how a higher power than intelligence and will, in great emergencies solves the riddle of crime, vicarious suffering and just punishment.

The Majestic.

"The Attorney's Decision," featuring Rosemary Theby and Harry C. Myers. Alice West gives up her sweetheart, John Travers, a young lawyer to marry Norris Dacre, a broker, who holds her father's fortune and reputation in the hollow of his hand. John is heart broken, but five years later is elected district attorney. He meets Alice and learns that she is an unhappy and neglected wife. The state inaugurates an investigation against crooked brokers. Alice's husband is on the list and John receives valuable evidence from one of Dacre's dupes. At this time Dacre is interested in Mimi, a dancer, much to the jealousy of her lover, a violin player at the cafe Dacre's friends offer John a bribe which is refused. Then Alice goes and intercedes and John promises to be lenient. That night she discovers her husband's crookedness and knowing that she has turned John away, tells him to prosecute her husband to the full extent of the law. Dacre follows and learning of the situation threatens to drag his wife and the district attorney through the disgrace of a divorce suit. To save Alice, John wishes to destroy the papers, but she will not let him do this. Dacre goes to Mimi at the cafe and gets into a quarrel with the violinist, her lover, who believes the two intend to go to Europe. In a fury the violinist shoots and kills the other man. John destroys the evidence against Dacre and Alice gives her heart and hand when her old time lover calls a little later.

"Two Men Who Waited," featuring Beverly Bayne. Mirian, a country girl, has grown up with Jim from childhood, and he loves her dearly. She has never seen the city and longs for a chance to view the "Great White Way." One day she reads in the newspaper of an opportunity for a young girl to go on the stage, so decides to leave Jim and the country life and go to the city. In the city she meets a fine looking chap at the booking agency who buys gowns and hats for her and is extremely kind to her. One night he persuades her to accompany him to a cafe. Then comes the awakening. She discovers the man's real purpose. She breaks away, and leaving the city to go on with its merciless traffic in women's souls, she returns to Jim who is awaiting her with open arms.

"Ward's Claim," a Vitagraph completes the bill.

"MUTT AND JEFF" IN A NEW FROLIC NEXT FRIDAY

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men," and women, too. The old adage is proven over and over again by the continued and most exceraordinary success of Gus Hill's productions of "Mutt and Jeff." New York's best citizens, bankers, butchers, bakers and undertakers all turn to the "funny pictures" in the morning newspapers to see what those two funny fellows, Mutt and Jeff, are up to. Nor is the habit confined to any class, creed or status of life's success. The banker, the lawyer and the judge enjoy the daily cartoons as well as their less fortunate brothers, and applaud Bud Fisher's satirical humor. Millions of the best people in America have laughed at Gus Hill's company present "Mutt and Jeff" in their various plays and will continue to laugh at them as long as Bud Fisher and Gus Hill can keep up the pace. "Mutt and Jeff" have made four complete tours of the United States and Canada, with absolutely no sign of diminishing popularity and will continue to do so for years innumerable. "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" will not only live up to the past records of phenomenal business, but will prove to be the crowning triumph of Mr. Hill's long business career. All known box office records have been hopelessly shattered by the enormous popularity of this "sure fire" success and has been known as the mortgage lifter for house managers and theatre owners.

"Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" will come to the Wichita Theatre next Friday. It was designed for laughing purposes only. There isn't a serious thought or a suggestion in the entire show; its mission on earth is simply to banish dull care and stifle the hook worm and grouch. Get seats early, as "Mutt and Jeff in Mexico" invariably plays to capacity houses, and the early bird catches the best seat.

FLOUR FROM FETEREITA IS FOUND USEFUL FOR BREAD

Forage Crop, It Is Discovered, Is Good Food For Man As Well As Beast

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19.—After experimenting with Feterita for some time as a stock food, it has now been discovered that this product ground up is one of the best bread flours made, and makes excellent light bread or biscuits. It can be used with equally as much success in making various kinds of pasteries as wheat flour, according to W. G. Hand, farm demonstrator in Bexar county, the discoverer of the new "flour grain."

This product was first introduced into Texas about three years ago and several acres was planted to the crop in this county, primarily for experimental purposes as a stock food. Its value as such was amply proven after its first year by a number of local cattlemen who fattened their stock on it.

Its nutritious qualities are equal those of ordinary flour and exceeds those of graham flour, according to an analysis recently conducted here. The feterita stalks grow six feet high and the yield per acre is seventy-five bushels. The grain thrives on arid land and is especially adapted to the Texas climate. With this new discovery before them, it is thought Texas farmers will devote a larger acreage to this crop in 1915.

FRANCE BUYS 2000 HORSES AT FORT WORTH EXHIBITION

Fort Worth, Texas, Oct. 19.—During their stay in Fort Worth the committee of horse judges composed of Frenchmen here for the purpose of accepting horses for the French government for use in the French army witnessed the performance of the Feeders and Breeders' Show. Saturday they expresbed themselves as being surprised at the splendid exhibition of fine horses shown here.

The result of a week's work by the representatives of the French government in Fort Worth is that 2,000 horses have been accepted under contract for use in the French cavalry. The purchase of this number of horses in Fort Worth represents the outlay of thousands of dollars by the French government in Fort Worth.

Friday at noon the committee finished its work of accepting horses at the stockyards and the members who have been on duty during the past several days spent several hours of rest at their headquarters at the Westbrook Hotel Saturday.s A. Aveline of Verrieres, France, is a well known horseman in France, having been in the business during the whole of his life time. His father was one of the judges of horses at the St. Louis exposition, having come to America as a representative from Europe.

Praises Horse Show.

In speaking of the horse show in Fort Worth, Mr. Aveline said that it was one of the best that he has ever seen. He has visited the annual horse shows in Paris and is well informed on horse fairs all over Europe.

"I am sorry that the National Feeders and Breeders' Show has been terminated," he said Saturday. "It afforded me a splendid opportunity of seeing just what kind of horses America produces. I admit that I am surprised at the remarkable exhibit that has been made in this city. I am a breeder of French coach horses and Percheron horses myself. My father has conducted a horse ranch near our home at Verrieres for many years.

"When I came to America I expected to see a number of small inferior horses, for such is the report concerning the horses in this country in Europe. On the contrary I have seen some of the best Percherons and coach horses and saddle horses as well, that I have ever seen at the Horse Show in Fort Worth.

To Accept More Horses.

"I was at the front of the battle line about six weeks at the beginning of the war between France and Germany. While at the front I was taken ill, and had to return to Paris. After I had recovered from my illness I was informed by the minister of the interior in France that I was wanted by my country to travel in America and accept horses for use in the French army. I asked the minister how long I was to be in this country and he said that he did not know. I will probably be here the whole of next week, however, as I understand that I am expected to accept 500 horses from Fort Worth dealers to be delivered at Fort Worth next week.

"As soon as I am through with the work in America I expect to go back and take my place in the ranks at the front. When France entered the war with Germany the leading men of our republic thought that the war would end at least by the first of the year. At the present time, however, I am in receipt of information that the military authorities in my country do not expect the war to end before next spring.

"I have been requested to serve as a judge at the horse fair to be held at the Panama-Pacific Exposition in San Francisco, but I do not know as yet if it will be possible for me to serve. I have always the duty I owe to my country in view, and in order that I may serve as a judge in San Francisco it will first be necessary for me to finish my work as a representative of my government."

BELIEVE GERMANS BRINGING UP IMMENSE NEW FORCE

Said To Have Force of Million Men Organized For Campaign In France

By Associated Press.

Bordeaux, Oct. 19.—The Germans recently have been bringing up such great numbers of troops that persistent reports have been in circulation that a new German army of 1,000,000 men was advancing against France. According to official advices the troops in question belong to the reserve forces and consequently are being sent to fill up gaps.

OUR WORLD
The man who fell for the lure of the mortar and pestle and succumbed to the oderiferous effluvia of the Apothecary Shop sometimes thinks he belongs in the Mutt Sertion berause his opportunities for doing like other folks are so limited. The successful pharmacist must be a veritable encyclopedia of information, although the four walls of the prescription room are boundaries of his world. To go beyond its confines to study subjects other than the one on which he is to spend a lifetime is to cheapen himself as a pharmacist and crowd out essentials and become inefficient as a first aid to the physician in combatting disease. The world of Pharmacy is no doubt a small world, but is the most crowded of any. And its demands are the heaviest and most disiriminating. There is no pleasure in Pharmacy save the one that comes from exacting duty well done. We have spent the stream of years acquiring knowledge and experience with which to aid your physician in bringing your sick ones back to health. Let us help you.

COL. HENRY WATTERSON VISITS PRESIDENT SUNDAY

Washington, Oct. 19—Colonel Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, called in President Wilson Sunday, following the example set two weeks ago by George Harvey, former editor of Harper's Weekly. The meetings mark the end of the controversy between the President and the two editors which arose during Mr. Wilson's prenomination campaign for the presidency.

Mr. Watterson, like Mr. Harvey, went to the White House at the invitation of the President. He remained with Mr. Wilson for an hour and later the visit was described as an entirely pleasant and harmonious. The President and the editor are related by marriage and their talk was said to have been largely personal. Every incident of the visit emphasized the restoration of good relations.

Recently Mr. Watterson has been supporting the President in his editorials and an exchange of friendly letters following Mrs. Wilson's death was said today by friends of both men to have made the meeting free from embarrassment.

Railroad traffic is increasing and the payrolls this month will be heavier than for many months past. The Wichita Valley is having an exceptionally heavy run of business, and it is difficult to provide enough cars to handle the traffic.

Cotton pickers have been forming the big bulk of the passenger business for the last three weeks. The Dallas Fair is beginning to develop considerable passenger travel. Except for these factors, conductors say travel would be greatly below normal.
