DEMOS LOOSE BITING ATTACK ON HOOVER TALK

Court Action Involving Walker Case May Postpone Decision Several Months

MAYOR DENIES OFFICE USED FOR OWN GAIN

Court Grants Writ Calling On F. D. to Defend His Authority in Trial

LOSES COMPOSURE

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, Albany, N. Y., Aug. 12. (AP)—A threat of time consuming court action today thrust itself into Governor Roosevelt's investigation into Mayor James J. Walker's fitness to remain as chief executive of America's first city.

The litigation menace to an early disposition of the case arose when a supreme court judge granted a writ calling upon Mr. Roosevelt to defend his power of judging the mayor. The governor agreed to withhold a decision until after the supreme court meets Aug. 19. Further litigation possibly would hold back the governor's final word until the national election next November when his Democratic candidacy for president will be submitted to the voters.

Walker Battles

Legal advisers to the governor said that was unlikely since such an important matter would insure speedy action by all courts.

Fending off all implications that he used his office for personal gain, Mayor Walker denied to Governor Roosevelt he worked for a bus franchise to favor a friend and was cut in on a stock market transaction because of influence he might exercise over city contracts.

The end of the second day of the hearing before the New York governor left one of the most important charges, that involving the missing accountant, Russell T. Sherwood, still untouched. The hearing will be resumed next Monday.

Walker, emotional and excited in his first appearance before Roosevelt, was calm, legalistic in his role as witness today. There were flashes of Walker wit.

Roosevelt Quips

When it was mentioned that Mr. Walker's name was dropped from a stock account with Paul Block, the publisher, because an income tax collector said "it might look bad for the mayor," Walker remarked: "I don't know the income tax man, but he certainly is a prophet."

Hearing To Change Pastor's Jail Set

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 12. (UP)—Attorneys for the Rev. S. A. Berrie, charged with poisoning his wife so he could marry a young Sunday school teacher, started a move late today to have the minister moved from city to county custody.

Sheriff V. S. Cannon was named defendant in a mandamus action to force him to take the preacher into the county jail. Judge Enloe Vernor set 10 a. m. Monday for the hearing.

The mandamus petition charged Police Chief John Wolsey and other unnamed persons with "conspiring to destroy the pastor's reputation."

The Rev. Berrie was arrested and charged with his wife's death after a chemist's autopsy allegedly revealed she died from poisoning. Berrie, meanwhile, had married a 19-year-old girl who taught in his Sunday school. He is 51.

Police contended Berrie should be retained in the city jail inasmuch as their investigation of the first Mrs. Berrie's death is not complete. The minister pleaded not guilty upon arraignment.

Gifford Resignation as Relief Head Accepted

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (UP)—President Hoover announced today he had accepted the resignation of Walter S. Gifford as director of the president's organization of unemployment relief and would name his successor "in the next month or two."

Mr. Hoover said Gifford had fulfilled his work of coordinating the unemployment relief effort over the country and "insisted I find somebody else."

Missouri to Spread Jobs During Winter Months

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 12. (UP)—By "spreading" jobs and providing for a maximum 31-hour working week, the state highway commission will give employment to 12,000 jobless men during the winter months, Chief Engineer T. H. Cuter informed Governor Caulfield today.

WHEAT CONFERENCE

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 12. (US) Creation of a national wheat marketing scheme will be the chief topic considered at the interprovincial conference called for Regina, Sask., tomorrow. Heads of the three prairie province governments will meet the executive heads of the three Canadian wheat pools.

Principal Figures In Walker Ouster Proceedings

Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt announced Friday that he would delay rendering a decision in the charges involving the official conduct of Mayor James J. Walker of New York, whom Samuel Seabury of the Hofstadter legislative investigation committee seeks to oust. The New York governor's decision to withhold his verdict, which may not be forthcoming until after the elections in November, followed the granting of a writ by a supreme court judge calling on Roosevelt to show reasons why an injunction should not be imposed restraining his judging the mayor.

The decision to delay the ruling relieves the national political situation, and particularly the presidential race, of considerable tension, inasmuch as Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for the presidency, stands to lose in the event of either his exoneration of Walker or finding him guilty.

'Fat Head,' Jim Says About Sterling, 'Lost His Ace,' Is Governors Reply

Former Chief Executive of State Dares Foes to Prove His Dishonesty by Filing of Charges Before Justice

By R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLEMAN, Texas, Aug. 12.—James E. Ferguson tonight repeated his charge that $100,000,000 expended by the Texas Highway commission during the past five years had not been accounted for. He was here in behalf of the gubernatorial candidacy of his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.

The Fergusons, stumping through the sheep and cattle country of West Texas, promised voters that should Mrs. Ferguson be elected, they will advocate elective highway commission to replace three member appointive board.

Challenge Issued

Mrs. Ferguson said that should she defeat Governor Sterling, asking renomination to a second term, she would consider her victory a mandate from the people to "get rid of the present highway commissioners."

Ferguson said charges of Sterling partisans that the federal government had withdrawn highway aid during Mrs. Ferguson's administration were untrue.

"I challenge them to prove that federal aid was ever denied under the Ferguson administration or that any ever will be withdrawn because a Ferguson is governor," Ferguson said.

"I'll tell you what the federal government did do about aid, though. When Sterling and his crowd built that so called hug the coast highway along the gulf of Mexico at a cost of $2,600,000, the federal government said that project was so crooked and corrupt they would not put a dollar into it. The Sterling crowd took every dollar that road cost from your gasoline tax fund. Nothing but a crane or crawfish could live along that highway.

Accused of Crime

STOCK MARKET IN REACTION

Bonds Show Rugged Stability and Make Gains

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—The summer upswing in the stock market suffered a severe setback today, but bonds made further moderate gains.

Losses in prominent issues ranged from $1 to $7 a share, with a few wider gains, reaching a maximum of $13.80 in Case. The turnover in the stock exchange, at 2,719,000 shares was the smallest of the week, but a substantial portion of the trading occurred in the last hour alone, when selling reached a climax, which delayed the ticker several minutes.

The fact that the selling came in the wake of President Hoover's acceptance speech occasioned some comment in Wall street, but opinion as to the possible effect the president's remarks was varied. Some bull traders may have been disappointed that the president took a conservative stand, pointing out that recovery "may be slow," but in other quarters, the opinion had prevailed that of late the market had been going ahead too fast, and that a good "shakeout" had been long overdue.

The most encouraging aspect was the stability of bonds. A number of railroad issues again forged ahead, and the market as a whole maintained a firm tone.

MERGER ASKED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (US)—Authority to take over the South Park branch of the Colorado and Southern railroad was sought by the Denver, Leadville and Alma railroad before the Interstate Commerce commission today. The branch connects Denver and Leadville.

'CYCLONE' RIPS G.O.P. RECORD

Davis Proves Right To Name in Caustic Speech

In a political speech remarkable for its vigor, J. H. (Cyclone) Davis denounced the record of the Republican party and excoriated his young opponent, Joseph W. Bailey Jr. before approximately 400 persons on the courthouse lawn Friday night.

Davis, now in his 80th year and in his 52nd year in politics, is a candidate for congressman at large, place two. He ran second to Bailey in the first primary election.

Tall, gaunt and white bearded, he made a striking figure under a great black hat and wearing a Prince Albert coat above black trousers. His voice carried clear and he stood erect throughout an hour of bitter denunciation of the "moneyed interests."

Replies to Charges

He opened his address with a brief reply to certain charges that he once, while a member of congress, made remarks defamatory to the South. This charge has been re-

Jubilee Committee Expected To Close Contract Today For Famous Rodeo

Detailed plans for presenting one of the largest rodeo performances ever staged in the Southwest will be completed by the 50th anniversary association in conference with Ed McCarty of Cheyenne, Wyo., at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Tentative plans for the huge rodeo for the golden jubilee, Sept. 26-28, were discussed with the association directors and President Walter D. Cline Friday afternoon at the chamber of commerce offices.

The local direction of the rodeo plans are in charge of Tom Burnett of Iowa Park and with Mr. Cline he has called the meeting Saturday morning of the jubilee general committee, the rodeo group and a number of leading citizens. Mr. McCarty was conducted on a tour of the city Friday afternoon and viewed both the new football stadium and the ball park as possible sites for the rodeo.

Mr. McCarty presented proposals for both a three and a five-day rodeo performance, bringing his string of world famous bucking and trick horses, wild cattle and world champion rupers, riders and arena queens to Wichita Falls.

The three-performance plan calls for afternoon shows, while the five-show arrangement would offer two night performances in addition to afternoon programs. Mr. McCarty is one of the leading rodeo promoters of the nation and each year directs the Cheyenne "Frontier Days" rodeo, one of the widest known cowboy sports events.

CHILE POLICE QUASH REVOLT BY STUDENTS

Army Regiments Called To Quell 400 Insurgents At University

THREE DIE IN FIGHT

Movement Directed Against New Socialistic Regime Of Carlos Davila

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 12. (AP)—Two army regiments and large detachments of armed police conquered 400 students in a battle at the University of Chile today and snuffed out a revolt aimed at overturning the government.

The uprising lasted exactly an hour and a half. It resulted in three deaths—a police officer, a student and a boy bystander—and there were unconfirmed reports five others were killed. Twenty persons were wounded.

The purpose of the revolt was to restore Col. Marmaduke Grove in control of the government in place of Carlos G. Davila, former ambassador at Washington, who now heads the Chilean Socialist regime.

The movement, directed at the Socialist administration set up in June, which is headed by Carlos G. Davila, duplicated the story of last summer when students barricaded themselves within the university and precipitated a series of demonstrations which resulted in the ousting of President Carlos Ibanez.

Students Kill Officer

Sniping fire by the police was replied to by student marksmen who took up positions in the windows of the university. An officer of the carabineers was killed and an undetermined number of persons were wounded. Gunfire could be heard throughout Santiago.

The trouble started about 5 p. m. when 100 students, with rifles alighted from buses in front of the university, which is in the Alameda, Santiago's main boulevard. Officials of the institution were taken unawares and the place was seized without difficulty.

Within a short time about 300 more men, most of them students, joined the party within the university, shouting as they entered the building that they were adherents of Colonel Marmaduke Grove.

Grove on Island

Colonel Grove was a member of the first Socialist junta set up in June. He has been exiled by Davila and, although his whereabouts never have been revealed, he is supposed to be on an island in the Pacific.

Police were ordered to besiege the university and within half an hour they succeeded in surrounding it on three sides.

As they set up the machine guns someone fired a shot from the fashionable Union club across the boulevard. Apparently the police believed the shot was fired from the crowds on the sidewalk in front of the club, and they turned their machine guns on the spectators and opened fire. The crowd melted away. Apparently no persons were killed but it was impossible to determine how many had been wounded.

Street Blockaded

After clearing the boulevard the police placed blockades across it and then opened their attacks on the university itself. No general assault was ordered, but there was considerable sniping.

It was reported student emissaries had approached enlisted men of the army during the day in an attempt to get several military units to join with them. But soldiers were not involved in the fighting at the university.

Wife and Ghost Locked Out, Charge Dismissed

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12. (UP)—Charles Bramble was brought into municipal court charged with disturbing the peace. He had, according to complaints of Mrs. Bramble, locked her out of the house.

"It was this way," Bramble explained, "my wife has been spending a lot of time holding seances with her first husband who died 20 years ago.

"That was all right, I didn't mind. "Her dead husband has been advising her how to run her earthly affairs. I don't mind that.

"Now, her dead husband has been telling her how I should run my business and social affairs. I locked her and the ghost out of the house."

"No fine," the judge said. "Case dismissed."

Judge Takes Up Suit Former Pythian Head

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 12. (UP)—The mandamus suit of Mrs. Ada Belle Onion of Dallas, Texas, seeking to compel the supreme temple of Pythian Sisters to reinstate her, was taken under advisement today by Judge Francis H. Trimble.

Mrs. Onion also has filed a $150,000 damage suit against the order contending she was slandered in the organization's publication.

Mrs. Onion, head of the order from 1926 to 1928, came under fire from members of the group over her administration of relief funds during the Mississippi floods.

Hitler's Demand For Chancellorship Met With Flat Rejection

By ERIC KEYSER
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—Adolph Hitler made his formal demand tonight for the chancellorship of the reich—and was turned down.

Threatening the "most strenuous opposition" to Chancellor Franz von Papen's cabinet if it failed to yield, the Fascist representatives submitted Hitler's demand to the government leader.

Colonel Van Papen, speaking in behalf of himself and President Paul von Hindenburg, firmly but politely declined.

The Fascist envoys, Capt. Ernst Roehm and Commander Count Wolf Helldorf, then retried to communicate the result of the conference to Hitler, who is in the vicinity of Berlin. Several thousand storm troopers of Hitler's Brown Shirt army of 400,000 are concentrated within 45 miles of the capital, although Count Helldorf has denied they were planning any violence to put Hitler in power.

Still Has Hopes

The government's formal rejection of the Hitler demand does not necessarily mean that the Fascist leader has given up all hopes of becoming chancellor.

It did indicate, however, that his chances were much less than they had been in the last few days and the government leaders were optimistic negotiations eventually would lead to placing Hitler in the vice chancellorship, with an agreement for Fascist dominance of Prussia as a compensation.

This optimism was not shared by sources close to the Fascist leader.

As the negotiations stood tonight, Hitler appeared considerably less certain of heading the reich's cabinet, but no decision will be definite until after he confers personally with Col. Von Papen and President Hindenburg he will see the Without recommending any specific scheme to boost price levels, the committee recommended action to insure low rates of interest and an abundance of short-term money.

WIDE COMMENT ON STATEMENT

Hoover Prohibition Stand Brings Opinions

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—A variety of comment was drawn forth today by President Hoover's stand for a change in the prohibition laws.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, said the chief executive's pronouncement will not get the votes of the wets away from the Democrats and will not satisfy "the moral conditions of the drys who elected him four years ago."

"50-50 Speech"

Representative Rayburn of Texas, who conducted the pre-convention campaign of Speaker Garner, termed the Hoover address "a 50-50 speech, 50 per cent wet and 50 per cent dry." The president, he said, "gave both the wet and dry partisans in the audience an opportunity to applaud vociferously."

Canon William Sheafe Chase, superintendent of the International Reform federation and a member of the prohibition board of strategy, called for organization of a third party in view of the president's advocacy of a change in prohibition.

"Mr. Hoover's desertion of the dry cause," he said, "calls for a startling and dramatic protest of conscience on the part of patriots which can best be expressed by the organization of a new party, for both parties have failed to remedy in this depression the economic and moral needs of the people."

Endorsed Statement

Representative William E. Hull of Illinois, a Republican, said that as one of the anti-prohibition leaders he endorsed Mr. Hoover's statement.

"It will prevent the saloon from returning, destroy the bootlegger,

HOLES FOUND IN ARMOR OF 'MIRACLE MAN'

Prohibition, Tariff And Emergency Stands Of President Assailed

ROBINSON IN LEAD

Demo Strategists Rip Up Utterances in Speech Of Acceptance

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Prohibition was called one of the "three vulnerable places in the armor of the miracle man", tonight in a concerted Democratic attack on President Hoover's acceptance speech.

Nearly two dozen lieutenants of democracy gathered at national campaign headquarters for strategy conferences, agreed to let Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Alfred E. Smith's running mate in 1928, act as critic for all of them.

Three-Pronged Assault

In a statement, the Democratic senate leader from Arkansas assailed the president for his utterances on emergency measures, the tariff and prohibition.

On prohibition he said:

"There is still doubt as to the position of the Republican party and its nominee for president respecting this acute controversy.

"The president denounces bootleggers. All law-abiding citizens do.

"The president denounces the saloon. No political party has championed or sponsored it.

"He advocates a 'practical change' so as to restore to the states the power of regulating the liquor traffic without permitting them to license saloons, but he does not give even a cloudy picture of what changes he favors or anticipates.

"That he has reversed his position in part on the subject is undeniable, but the amusing fact must be apparent to all, namely, that he has never made clear what his position is, even though it may be admitted that he is not as dry as he was believed to be in 1928, and until his acceptance speech was published."

Claims Exaggeration

On emergency measures Robinson said the president had "greatly exaggerated the benefits derived from such measures." He asserted the Reconstruction Finance corporation had "made few loans," and "in consequence buying power has not been augmented, commodity prices, save in a few instances, continue discouragingly low, old enterprises are at a standstill and new enterprises are not being undertaken."

The third attack was on the president's "unqualified approval of the United States tariff system." Robinson said, "perhaps no other single factor has contributed more to the paralysis of both foreign and domestic commerce than the Smoot-Hawley tariff act, which Senator Watson declared would end the depression and restore prosperity in 30 days."

"In addition," concluded Robinson, "to the three points specified as vulnerable places in the armor of the 'miracle man' let note also be taken of his boast concerning agricultural relief. We should all recognize that in spite of good faith efforts to improve the condition of agriculture, little has actually been done and the problem persists with all its difficulties and details."

Leader Of Revolt To Military Prison

MADRID, Aug. 12. (AP)—Gen. Jose San Jurjo, weary and dejected, was taken from the civil jail to the military prison today, his royalist rebellion already a footnote in the brief history of the Spanish republic.

He said nothing during the trip and the government authorities refused to disclose for publication any part of the statement they had obtained from him. He is to be tried for treason in a branch of the supreme court.

This in itself is a departure from custom, for heretofore a man suspected of such an offense as the general's would have been taken before a court martial. Some factions have demanded he be put to death, but there were indications his fate would not be so severe.

The rebellion definitely was ended with San Jurjo's capture, but reaction continued in the south today.

Plasterer Who 'Traded' Confession For Girl's Release Gets 40 Years

HOUSTON, Aug. 12. (AP)—Charlie Ford, 45-year-old plasterer, who "traded" Houston police a confession for the release of his 16-year-old daughter, pleaded guilty to robbing seven street cars and a sandwich shop this afternoon and was sentenced to five years in each of the eight cases.

Ford appeared in criminal court with Allen Grant, 29, operator of a hamburger stand in Galveston, who was charged jointly with Ford in three of the street car holdups and the sandwich shop robbery. Grant pleaded guilty to the four cases. He, too, was assessed five years in each case.

Judge Langston King announced he would impose sentence later on both men and state at that time whether any of the terms would be permitted to run concurrently.

When detectives arrested Ford they also put his young daughter in jail. Insisting that she knew nothing about his activities, Ford made a trade with the officers that he would tell them all they wanted to know if they would release his daughter. They agreed.

Ferguson Dares Sterling Crowd

high crimes. But not a mother's son has the nerve to stick his name to a justice's complaint charging I ever stole anything."

Ferguson said he had "two good engineers" estimate the cost of the highways Sterling claimed were built the past five years and that even by making "most generous allowances" they were able to account for only $117,000,000 in construction and maintenance costs.

"There was paid into the highway department and spent by it $217,000,000," Ferguson said. "They finally got the state auditor to make a preliminary report after I insisted on knowing where that $1,000,000 went, but that report does not give us any information. I challenge the Sterling crowd to take that report and show where they even tried to account for your money."

J. K. Baker, Coleman attorney and brother-in-law of State Senator Walter Woodward, presided at the rally. Woodward is stumping for Sterling. Other preliminary speakers included L. A. Pearce, a Hunter supporter in the first primary, and James McCartney, Brownwood lawyer.

Mrs. Ferguson said that "if my husband as proxy governor can help you out of this state financial mess, we ought to let him do it."

She advocated "hand work" on all public projects, "I want to replace machinery with manpower to help reduce the unemployed ranks," she said.

"They call the governor 'the big fat boy' because he named himself that. If I had named him it would be 'the big fat head,'" Ferguson said.

FERGUSON LOSES ACE CARD, STERLING TELLS VOTERS

LUBBOCK, Texas, Aug. 12. (AP)—Gov. Ross Sterling, feeling "as fit as a fighting cock" after his illness of midweek, addressed a South Plains rally in behalf of a second term as the state's chief executive.

Although apparently recovered from the attack of food poisoning which he suffered Wednesday, the governor was taking things a little easier, having spoken only twice today prior to his engagement tonight. He spoke at Post, and later at the West Texas Old Settlers reunion at the Hank Smith Memorial park, near Crosbyton.

Feeling Better

"I've missed my exercise today," Sterling commented when he reached Lubbock." I have been speaking up to 10 times a day. But I am feeling fine and expect to get back in the harness in a big way again tomorrow."

Sterling was optimistic over his prospects for renomination. He said conditions had changed since the first primary, and that the reaction was highly in his favor.

"In the first primary people were depressed over what appeared to be a hopeless financial condition," he said. "There were many voters who went to the polls in an ugly mood and voted for Jim Ferguson because they wanted to register a kick against the man in office. This was a prevailing attitude everywhere. Today, with the run-off but two weeks away, conditions are vastly different.

Ace Card Gone

"I am not responsible for the change, and am not claiming credit for it, but it is a condition over which all of us have reason to be happy. Your great cotton crop is worth 60 per cent more than it was then, your grain crops and your livestock are correspondingly more valuable. Conditions have improved to the extent that all of us can see that we now are on the way to a financial recovery. This brighter outlook has taken from Jim Ferguson the ace card that gave him many extra votes in the first primary. He no longer is able to appeal to the depressed mind, for we now have a saner outlook."

WIDE COMMENT ON STATEMENT

and bring the return of temperance and sobriety," he said.

From Oliver W. Stewart and other officers of the Flying Squadron, a dry organization, which previously had endorsed him, Mr. Hoover received a telegram saying the speech "reaffirmed and intensified their faith" in him.

"Notwithstanding our conviction that no proposed alternative to the 18th amendment can prevent the return of the former evils of the liquor traffic and destroy those from which we now suffer," the message read, "your manifest sincerity and high purpose enable us to trust the cause of prohibition in your hands."

Expressed Surprise

Ira L. Reeves, western director of the Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization, expressed surprise "that the president spoke as frankly as he did" and added: "He certainly is not so ambiguous as the platform is."

D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the Prohibition party, called the president's proposal "amazing," and asserted opponents of liquor could not support him for reelection.

Representative Beck of Pennsylvania, leader of the house Republican wet bloc, approved Mr. Hoover's stand. Leaving the White House, he said he had told Mr. Hoover "his speech satisfied my conscience as a wet to vote for him."

Mrs. Ella Boole, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, told delegates to the national convention at Seattle that time was too short to build up the prohibition party to carry the coming election and advised them to vote "to save the 18th amendment" by supporting drys for the house, senate and state offices.

Muddled as Plank

Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, said:

"On prohibition, President Hoover in effect advocates the constitutional amendment proposed by Democratic Senator Glass of Virginia."

From Lynchburg, Va., Glass, long an outstanding prohibitionist and now proposing submission of a substitute state option amendment with safeguards against return of the saloon, denied having any connection with writing the president's speech. He said Mr. Hoover's stand was "identical" with the proposal he offered in the senate.

The new secretary of commerce, Roy D. Chapin, said the president's words on prohibition were "the clearest things yet uttered by any one."

Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington, disagreed, saying the words were as "muddled as the Republican plank."

Hitler Demand Meets Rejection

chancellor tomorrow morning and, in the afternoon, will be received by the president.

The outcome of these interviews, which originally were scheduled for today, is expected to determine whether the Fascists must be satisfied with control in Prussia and merely a share in the reich's government.

The Hitlerites were believed to favor President Hindenburg's plan for a non-party cabinet over the alternative plan for a coalition government, in which the Catholic center party might be expected to participate on condition that the Fascists agree to continue parliamentary government and recognize the constitution.

Hitler came to a secret place near Berlin late today from Munich while false rumors were being circulated abroad that he had been assassinated.

Communists Raided

Meanwhile, the government indicated that the Fascist demand for suppression of the strong Communist party might be met. Police made raids on Communists in Hamburg several days ago and today they raided branches of the party and kindred organizations such as the "anti-Fascist action" throughout Prussia.

The police were seeking documents to prove subversive activities by Communists which might lead to suppression of the party.

POWER OF F. D. IS QUESTIONED

Legal Action May Postpone Walker Verdict

maiden Susanne, falsely accused by her admirers, laughingly added:

"I will not say that his honor is exactly in the position of Susanne—"

The mayor cut in with "I sometimes feel like it."

"When I used the word 'beneficence,'" said Walker referring to Block's generosity, "I didn't know I was to be on trial for my English."

F. D. Loses Temper

Mr. Roosevelt's composure was snapped today when John J. Curtin, Walker's attorney, stubbornly denied the admissibility of a Block letter.

"See here Mr. Curtin," shouted the governor, "I happen to be a lawyer and I know that remarks of that kind are wholly unnecessary to the governor of the state."

But still Curtin persisted.

The governor, his eyes blazing, his clinched hands beating a tattoo on the table, said: "If you want to make a ruction about it, I'll get some one to come up here and talk about it."

Walker categorically denied accepting money from the Equitable Bus people for a European trip; said when he acquired Reliance Bronze and Steel bonds he didn't know the company made traffic posts which the city bought, and disclaimed any selfish motive behind the stock deal with Paul Block which netted him $246,000.

Extamination Permitted

As today's session opened, the governor explained both Seabury and Walker would be permitted to ask questions, and added:

"If the mayor or his counsel wishes to cross-examine any witness whose testimony is included in the record of the Hofstadter committee, I shall make it possible for them to do so."

Curtin objected to the use of Seabury's analysis of the testimony because of alleged errors in it. He argued Seabury should be required to submit a list of witnesses on whose testimony he relied most.

The governor showed impatience during Curtin's lengthy argument.

"I am not in the least interested in conclusions," he said as Curtin finished.

Then the governor began to cross-examine Walker about the Equitable Coach case.

Couldn't Remember

The mayor said he knew Senator John A. Hastings was "interested" in some way—in the company at the time the franchise was up for consideration.

He said he could not remember ever in his life having seen J. A. Smith, Equitable representative, who, Seabury contends, provided the $10,000 letter of credit which financed a trip Walker and some friends made to Europe.

"Did you know Senator Hastings had an office with J. Allen Smith?" the governor asked.

"I did not and I don't know it yet."

"Senator Hastings said specifically that you told him you would aid the Equitable if he gave you his word he would not participate," the governor said.

"I never had any such conversation with Hastings," Walker replied.

Admits Friendship

When the governor read from the record of the Hofstadter committee, which indicated Walker had testified he had discussed the Equitable financing with Hastings, the mayor cut in:

"If it's the charge that I am a friend of Senator Hastings, I'll admit it."

Seabury asked a question at this point. As the mayor was about to reply, the committee counsel said:

"Since you won't answer that question, I'll put it this way—"

"Your excellency," Walker shouted, turning quickly from Seabury to the governor, "I won't have that inference. There has been 14 months of that. This cross-examination of the executive mind has no right here."

The questioning then turned to Park Commissioner Herrick's testimony that he bought 350 shares of Interstate stock for $39,000 with the understanding it was for the mayor.

The stock later was offered by J. Allan Smith as collateral for a loan that was obtained to help get financial backing for the Equitable.

Denied He Bought Stock

Walker has contended he had nothing to do with the stock purchase.

"Wasn't it considered a valuable right to be able to buy this Interstate stock?" the governor asked.

"I don't know," replied Walker. "It may be they wanted me to buy the stock for the same reason they wanted former Governor Silzer (of New Jersey) to be president of the bank, or as people frequently must want to trade on the prestige of your excellency.

"He (Herrick) didn't have any letter of authorization from me. I merely said to him as I said to several others:

"'There it is. If you're interested in it, go get it.'"

As the afternoon session opened Mrs. Curtis B. Dall, the governor's daughter, accompanied him into the chamber and became a spectator.

When Walker was asked about the $10,000 letter of credit, he said he paid his share of it in cash.

Bailey 'Scorched' In Davis' Speech

vived during the present campaign from the record of a sensational battle in congress many years ago, he said, and blamed a flagrant misquotation by the government printing office for the basis of the accusation.

Referring to his opponent's refusal to meet him in joint debate, Davis recalled that he had spoken from the same platform with Woodrow Wilson, two members of his cabinet and with William Jennings Bryan.

Cheered by occasional cries of "pour it on" he caustically ridiculed Bailey as a "young political poppinjay running for office on a pedigree."

Davis assailed the Wall street bankers as those responsible for the "disemployment" of more than 10,000,000 American men and women and explained the difference between "disemployment" and "unemployment." The latter term, he said applies to those moneyed men who spend their time at winter resorts and summer resorts and in Europe.

Romps on Rich

"Solomon in all his glory never lived like those men who have wrecked this country," he shouted.

"And you should know about their daughters—they are the fairest in the land with their diamonds and laces and luxuries.

"Each morning when they are calling their maids to order a breakfast of fricasse of frog tongues and goose liver pie, two million honest American women are sweating in the fields for a wage of less than 10 cents a day."

There are 46 men in Wall street whose incomes last year could have bought the entire corn, cotton, oats and wheat crops while thousands of women are in rags and 327,000 businesses were closed in 1931, Davis said.

He pointed out that he had voted for passage of the United States currency system but that two amendments which have been passed since have made the law unrecognizable.

The veteran campaigner deplored the fate met by the Patman soldier bonus bill and warmly defended the plan to issue currency for paying the bonus.

"Wall street saw it could not get a rake-off under the Patman bill and raised the cry of fiat money. Abraham Lincoln whipped the South with fiat money and the European nations fought the world war with fiat money. The bonus bill would have been worth more to the country than all other relief bills passed in the last session.

Sartin Introduces Speaker

"It would have placed approximately $3,000,000 in circulation in Wichita county and $10,000 in every school district in Texas and Arkansas. That money would have stayed in circulation," he declared.

Quoting a speech by Senator Couzens of Michigan before the senate in the closing days of the last session, in which the nation's desperate plight was pictured, Davis paraphrased one of the senators remarks to declare:

"Ill fares the man with a million dollars next winter."

There will be no real relief until the entire financial system is changed, he asserted, and pledged his efforts if elected to end the control held by Wall street.

B. D. Sartin, who was eliminated in the congress at large race in the first primary, introduced Davis.

Atticus Webb Called 'Public Enemy' by Wets

DALLAS, Aug. 12. (UP)—Dr. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Texas Anti-Saloon league, has been listed among the country's nine "public enemies" by the Crusaders, national prohibition repeal organization. The listing is in a bulletin distributed from southwestern division headquarters here.

He and the other eight "enemies" were described as persons "whose professional interest in prohibition thwarts the passage of legislation in accordance with the will of the majority of the people." The bulletin said if the nine could be suppressed the prohibition movement would collapse.

The "enemies" were chosen by the Washington chapter of the Crusaders.

BANDIT PAIR FREE BANKER

Kidnaped Cashier Tells Of Nebraska Robbery

WICHITA, Kan., Aug. 12. (UP)—Unharmed after being held captive for many hours by bank bandits, W. C. Logan, cashier of the Farmers State bank at Silver City, Neb., was on his way home today.

Logan was released last night and immediately communicated with Wichita police. Capt. W. O. Lyle, Wichita detective chief, questioned him regarding the abduction and drove him to Belleville, Kan., retracing a part of the route taken by the kidnapers in bringing him here.

From Belleville he took a train for Nebraska.

Logan said a flashlight in his face awakened him at 2:15 a. m. yesterday and that he discovered two men were standing over his bed at his home in Silver City.

Forced to Open Vault

"Get up and come along with us," one of the men warned him. Both men had guns.

Logan was marched uptown to the bank and forced to open the door. They encountered no one on the way to the bank.

Logan was forced to open the vault and the bandits searched carefully for all the cash they could find.

"They left nothing unturned to get money," said Logan. "They said they didn't want bonds. When they picked up some papers I told them they were of no value and they passed them back."

The bandits did not leave the bank until 8:15 a. m., being delayed until the time clock released the lock and enabled Logan to open the safe.

Drove at High Speed

Logan was compelled to carry a sack containing the money as the bandits left the bank.

For the first few hours they traveled south at a speed of nearly 60 miles an hour.

"When we met any one or went through a town, the bandits made me lie down on the floor," said Logan.

"At Lindborg, Kan., one of the bandits waited on the bank of the Solomon river and guarded me while a second bandit got plenty of food for all three of us.

"It was afternoon by then and we drove back north some 50 miles from Wichita, waiting for darkness.

Logan was put out in a cemetery and the bandit car vanished in the darkness. He walked to a refining company office, summoned a taxicab and reported to police.

Patman And Rankin Blamed For Violent End Of Bonus March

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12. (UP)—Edward F. Colladay, Republican committeeman for the District of Columbia, today blamed two Democratic congressmen for the bonus march on Washington and its violent end.

The representatives held responsible by Colladay were Wright Patman of Texas and John Rankin of Mississippi. He said they agitated for payment of the bonus when they knew the government could not pay it.

"They invited the bonus marchers to Washington," he declared, "and they are responsible for what happened."

Colladay's statement was prompted by a declaration of John F. Costello, Democratic committeeman, that the bonus marchers were evicted from Washington by President Hoover "so their presence would not prove embarrassing when he accepted the presidential nomination."

FARMERS LOSE HOPE FOR AID

Panhandle Wheat Raisers Without Relief

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 12. (AP)—Prospects for government relief for Panhandle wheat farmers who need aid in fall planting faded today when Congressman Marvin Jones was advised by C. W. Warburton, director of extension work, U. S. department of agriculture, that his recent letter had been misconstrued.

Jones said the administration had completely reversed itself on its interpretation of legislation enacted during the closing days of congress, when it was claimed that everything provided in the Black bill, which was given the pocket veto, could be handled under other relief legislation, but now advises that "the wisest thing for your people to do would be to urge the reconstruction finance corporation immediately to set up a credit corporation, so that it would begin functioning for the making of production loans."

For Crops of 1932

Warburton recently wrote: "If it is necessary for the secretary to make crop production loans this fall they can be made under the original provisions of the reconstruction finance corporation act . . . which loans the secretary is now directing to continue."

In a second letter which Jones received today, Warburton said: "The original authorization was to make loans for crop production in 1932. Loans for crop production in 1932 presumably means loans on crops which will be produced wholly in 1932. What I was trying to imply in my letter was that, in view of the direction to continue to make these loans in the bill passed in July, presumably it was the thought of congress that these loans might be made on fall-planted crops."

Jones said, "Immediate action is necessary to handle a desperate situation," and that he doubted whether the regional credit corporation could be set up in time to properly handle the matter.

"The vetoed bill would have made this available three weeks ago," he said.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—When Secretary Kellogg countered Premier Briand's suggestion for a Franco-American perpetual peace pact with a proposal for a universal anti-war covenant, nobody could have had any idea of just how far the thing was going.

FRANK B. KELLOGG

Look at the situation today: Washington, in the so-called better Hoover doctrine asserted by Secretary Stimson in the Sino-Japanese clash in Manchuria, has "put teeth" in the antiwar pledge by informing both nations that the United States will not recognize any territorial or other change in Manchuria procured by force.

Other western powers, through the League of Nations, have backed that up. What will ultimately happen remains to be seen, but a new diplomatic force for peace clearly has been set to work.

Moved Across the Ocean

Now the same doctrine, although not hinged specifically to the anti-war pact or any other treaty, has been brought into play by 19 Pan-American nations to prevent a territorial war between Bolivia and Paraguay. Assistant Secretary Francis White of the state department, who signed for this country and who is well informed with regard to Latin-American affairs, hails it as "a new policy in the new world" showing the American nations united "against armed force in their own international relations."

Just who suggested the application of this non-recognition doctrine to the effort to stem the war tide in the Gran Chaco is not entirely clear. Mr. White makes no claim about it, although he probably looked on that moment when he wrote his name for the United States on the note as the capstone of his highly specialized career.

The Bystander has seen a report that it was Foreign Minister Saavedra of Argentina who first glimpsed the possibilities of adapting the Hoover-Stimson doctrine to the peace needs of the Bolivia-Paraguay dispute.

It was added that Washington, through Mr. White, promptly offered to stand aside in order that Argentina might lead the way to such action.

Triumpt of Statesmanship

In any event, White clearly looks upon this evidence of peace solidarity among the American republics as a triumph of statesmanship big enough to do honor to all concerned. And he has been at the business of conciliation in Latin-American disputes virtually ever since he entered the foreign service some 17 years ago.

He could tell you off-hand the history of every international clash in the Latin-American family in that time—or before, for that matter.

How did Mr. White come to head that way? Well, the books show he spent a year studying in Spain before he entered the foreign service. Likely his knowledge of the Spanish language helped to do the trick. Simple, isn't it?

Writers Criticize Hoover Statement

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—The writers' delegation of the National Committee for Defense of Political Prisoners issued a statement today calling President Hoover's acceptance speech "100 per cent unsatisfactory."

The delegation, including Sherwood Anderson and Waldo Frank, called at the White House earlier this week to protest treatment of the bonus army but did not see the president.

"Millions of workers stand at the brink of destitution," said the statement. "We asked Hoover whether he means to provide adequate relief for men, women and children. His answer is 100 per cent unsatisfactory.

"We asked President Hoover whether, when these men and women protest, following the precedent he set by this brutal treatment of destitute veterans, he means to meet their protest with gas and bayonets. His answer was 100 per cent unsatisfactory."

The statement concluded with a call for general repudiation of the Hoover policy which, it asserted, offered the starving bullets instead of bread.

Births in Hardeman County Show Decrease

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 12.—The number of births in the county have decreased about 33 1-3 per cent during the past six months over the same period last year, according to reports to J. A. Pickens, justice of the peace and registrar.

During July nine births and five deaths were reported.

Dug Grave During Slump

ANSONIA, Conn. (UP)—Wasyl Neketa Radzevich Sutkevoy, 70, feared death would come before he could provide a grave for himself. Taking advantage of spare time caused by the depression, he began building a final resting place. He says he is ready to die now. He has dug his grave and erected a monument.

Wanted: A Kipling for Our Indian Fighters

COLONEL LOVELL H. JEROME, who is one of the last surviving members of the Indian fighters of the old west, celebrated his 83rd birthday in New York not long ago, and remarked that modern America has lost all of its interest in Indian fights.

"Nobody wants to hear about the Indians any more," he said. "They're just taken for granted—except, maybe, by those who were up against them."

And this, although Custer's last fight took place little more than half a century ago, is pretty largely true; and it sets one wondering just why it should be that one of the most romantic and colorful of all phases in American history should have been so generally ignored by literature and the stage.

To be sure, there have been lots of romances written about the Indian fighters of the far west; but almost without exception they have been fifth-rate stuff, and if nobody reads them any more it is because they aren't worth reading. And that is too bad, too, for thrilling things used to happen on the plains, and marvelous tales could be written around them.

Perhaps it is because it all happened so quickly. Indian warfare west of the Missouri hardly began until the 19th century had attained its majority, and the last of it was over in the nineties. It was over before there was time for a tradition to be built up. If it had been dragged out for a century or two the whole thing would have impressed itself more deeply on the nation's consciousness, and some gifted writer would have done for the soldiers of the West what Kipling did for England's soldiers in India.

The romantic literature of the west remains to be written. The facts are there, as a brief perusal of any old-time western history will show you. Will a romancer yet arise to spin about the old Indian fighters the great tales that ought to be spun?

They Deserve a Medal

IT IS not hard to believe that Antoine and John Grohar, grocery store proprietors of Joilet, Ill., are among the smartest grocers in the land.

You have probably read how the brothers Grohar faced an emergency when the lease of their store expired. They had to move, but they lacked the capital; most of their trade was with mill workers, the mill workers were unemployed, and the brothers could not collect on their bills.

So they hit on the idea of letting their creditors work out their bills at 50 cents an hour; and in a very short time the mill workers had built a brand-new store for the brothers, on a lot the brothers owned, so that now the store is in full operation, a lot of unemployed creditors have squared their accounts, and everybody involved seems to be ahead of the game.

If there were medals for business men who met the depression intelligently, the brothers Grohar ought to get a couple.

Trucks and Steamship Lines

THE way in which motor trucks have taken business away from steam and electric railroads, especially in the short-haul field, has been abundantly commented on in the press in recent years. Not so well known is the fact that steamship lines also have felt motor bus competition.

This fact is made prominent by announcement that the Eastern Steamship Lines are to discontinue their service between Boston and Portland, Maine, which has been maintained for more than a century. Too many shippers are sending goods by motor truck; the steamers cannot operate at a profit and are to be retired.

This line is not the only one that has felt motor truck competition. Other coastwise shippers, to say nothing of navigation companies on inland rivers, have felt the pinch in the same way. The time must almost be ripe for some sort of government regulation of the motor truck traffic.

Coolidge Is Keeping Cool

CALVIN COOLIDGE declined an invitation to attend the Hoover nomination notification function. He had an alibi. Hayfever kept him in Vermont. Plymouth is an ideal spot in the dog day month of August. It is the spot where hayfever is said to be unknown, and keeping cool is an art as well as a blessing provided by the Lord and the mountain climate. Why should Calvin attend the function? Hoover knew he was nominated. Why suffer August heat on the banks of the Potomac river?

Hidalgo Cutting to the Bone

COUNTY TAX ASSESSOR D. C. EARNEST has announced a $20,000,000 reduction in Hidalgo county tax values. There is a mandate of the constitution which calls for an equitable rendition of all taxable values. A state board of tax review would work wonders under the skies of Texas, if its personnel tracked the constitution mandate. It has never been tracked and perhaps it never will be tracked.

Textile Workers Return to Jobs

SIX thousand textile and hosiery workers on strike in Tennessee, are returned to their jobs. An amicable wage settlement was effected between the mill owners and the idle workers. It was a strike without parallel in the history of the Old Volunteer state. It is a sign of the times that at least spells a return to not only human reason but the prosperity which affects the pocket.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

EIGHT HUNDRED TIMES UNDER FIRE—Brig. Gen. Joseph Wheeler (1836-1906) resigned a commission in the U. S. army to join the Confederacy, where he was successively promoted to the rank of colonel, brigadier, cavalry commander of Bragg's army, major general and lieutenant general. He was very conspicuous as a raider in the civil war, having the destruction of more than $3,000,000 of U. S. property, to his "credit." He led the advance in every forward movement of his forces, and always covered the rear in a retreat. For a long time he fought almost daily, dismounting his force for battle when necessary. Battles connected with his name are Chickamauga, Ringgold Gap, Macon, Augusta, Savannah, Johnsonville, Bentonville, and numerous others. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war General Wheeler went to Cuba as major general of volunteers in command of a cavalry division, adding the battles of Las Guasimas and San Juan to his past laurels. Altogether "Fighting Joe" Wheeler commanded in more than 200 battles and was under fire 800 times. He had a long and enviable record as congressman, and was a U. S. brigadier general, retired, when he died.

FLIGHTY

by Alma Sioux Scarberry

SYNOPSIS

Gypsy O'Malley, 22, and small, dark and lovely, lived with her pleasure-mad, hard-drinking family in a house on her wealthy grandmother's estate on Long Island. She was a thoughtful girl, the exact opposite of her 18-year-old half-sister, Angel, who had just gotten a job as a Follies girl. Gypsy's half-brother, Jiggs, 20, just out of college, drank hard, gambled and dodged creditors. Her stepmother, not yet 40 and still good looking, craved the admiration of men. Her father, Jim O'Malley, in his early 40s, lived far beyond the allowance made by his mother, Nancy O'Malley. Gypsy, thoroughly disgusted, decided to get a job. After a disappointing day in the city she returned home to hear a disabled airplane circling in the darkness. She lighted a pail of gasoline as a flare and Brent Jamison, famous transatlantic flyer, landed safely. Brent offered to teach her to fly. When he was busy, she was instructed by Ted Colman. When Angel heard that Brent was taking Gypsy out to dance, she secretly broke an engagement by phone and Brent invited her to go along. Her beauty and baby ways captivated him. Gypsy was broken-hearted but devoted herself determinedly to her flying. At the opening of the new Follies, Angel wore an expensive ruby ring given to her by "Pinky" Delmar. Gypsy told her Delmar was the owner of the airport where she did her flying and that he was married.

CHAPTER IX

Gypsy got her pilot's license on her 22nd birthday. It was the happiest day of her life. She was talking to a mechanic in the hangar when Ted called her.

"Some one to see you over here." He grinned broadly and led her over to a shiny new little ship she had never seen before. She was amazed when her grandmother stepped from the other side.

"Why, Gram—what a nice surprise! I didn't expect to get you air minded."

Gram beamed on Gypsy. She was tall and gaunt and her company clothes were right in keeping with what the well dressed grandmother should wear—but they hung loosely on her slender, active frame.

"Indeed, I'm air minded." Gram turned and looked at the little plane. "I've just been inspecting this plane here. Isn't it about my style? Do you like it, Gypsy?"

Gypsy clasped her hands. "Do I? Wasn't I just telling you the other day, Ted, that some day I wanted one of these?"

"Yes, you were. Do you like the color, too?"

"Silver and blue—I should say so. It's the loveliest thing I've ever seen. Oh—let's go over and look at some of the old ships, Gram. This one makes my mouth water."

"I'll turn you over my knee and spank you if it doesn't. Because it's your birthday present."

"Oh," Gypsy gasped. Then she put her hands over her eyes.

"Here, here now," Ted laughed and shook her. "You're not going to have hysterics, are you?"

Gypsy took her hands away and threw her arms around her grandmother's neck. Her eyes were wet when she kissed her.

"Gram—oh, Gram! You're too good to me! Why did you do this?"

"Tut, tut!" Gram beamed again—and they saw that her eyes were brimming, too. "Why, child, I wanted to make you happy. I'm so proud of what you've done. Gone right out on your own and become a flyer. You deserve your own ship."

Gypsy stood back and ate it with her eyes. Then she asked suddenly: "But—Gram, how did you know I wanted a Butterfly?"

"Shall we tell her?" Gram wagged her head at Ted.

"Oh—I guess so."

"Well, if it hadn't been for this young man here I wouldn't have known."

"I didn't know you and Gram had been stepping out." Gypsy wiggled a finger at Ted accusingly.

"I've even dined at her home." Ted swaggered a few steps.

"Here, you young clown," Gram laughed, "don't you go telling tales out of school. It was this way, Gypsy. I remembered you said your chief instructor was a young man by the name of Ted Colman. So I called up the field one day and asked him to come over to see me."

Ted broke in then. "I thought Mrs. O'Malley was going to ask me if my intentions toward you were honorable—or sumpin'."

"Go on with you." Gram threatened him with her umbrella. "Mr. Colman came for dinner and we decided on what plane you might like. He took care of all the details. All I did was go over town and look it over last week and give them a check."

"It seems like a dream. Gypsy's eyes filled again.

"There's plenty of room in that back seat for another, isn't there? I didn't think you'd be wanting to take up a crowd."

"It's a perfect size." Gypsy climbed up to inspect the controls. "I tested it—and it's in perfect condition," Ted informed her.

"Well, I'm glad of that," said Gram, picking up her skirts. "Help me up—young man, will you?"

"Certainly." Ted assisted her gallantly.

She looked at Gypsy and stirred impatiently. "Well, let's get going. I haven't got all day."

"Gram looked stern, but her old eyes, so much like Gypsy's, twinkled.

"I'd like to know who has a better right! I've never been up. And if I don't get my first ride with you in your new plane I'll send it back. You can lay to that."

Ted laughed as he saw the amazed look on Gypsy's face.

It was an open cockpit and Gypsy turned to look at Gram as they got safely off the ground. The old woman's face wore a happy smile and she was hanging on to her hat with grim determination. There was no use trying to talk, so Gypsy devoted all her time to a careful handling of the plane, so it wouldn't bump too much with the wind, and trying to make the trip a memorable one for Gram. She turned as they sailed out over Long Island sound and Gram was looking down—like a veteran. Gram was no quitter.

After 15 minutes Gypsy turned and made for the field. The ship behaved perfectly. She came down beautifully—the best landing she had ever made. Ted rushed to help Gram from the plane. Gypsy jumped out eagerly.

"Oh—Gram, did you like it?"

"Gram's sunny face told the story. She put her arms around her granddaughter.

"Child, that was the biggest thrill I ever had! I'm proud of you. And if I wasn't past 70 the best competition you'd have would be old lady O'Malley. You can bet on that."

"Oh, I'm so glad." Gypsy was thrilled that the flight had been so successful.

Ted said—when he had a chance to get a word in edgewise: "Delmar told me to tell you he wants you to go in for the women's air races in September."

"Oh—Ted! I can't believe it!"

"He's sponsoring one of the women's planes for an advertising idea of some kind—and he'll sponsor you. It'll mean a good commercial contract for you if you make it."

Gypsy's surprise and happiness was tinged with regret that the sponsor should be Delmar—Angel's boy friend. But she felt she couldn't let that stand in her way. It was too important. The prize was for $25,000. Down in her heart she felt sure she could win it with the right ship.

"If she gets in that contest she's going to win it," said Gram, shaking her head approvingly. "She's an O'Malley—and they won't take a licking. You can lay to that, young man."

"I'm sure she'll make it if she works hard," Ted agreed unhesitatingly.

Gypsy sighed happily.

"You can register at the office for the races before you leave tonight," Ted told her.

Gram turned and looked with feigned distaste at her limousine, with Gray sitting at the wheel. "Get in that pokey old fashioned thing after that nice airplane ride! I'll feel like a snail."

Gypsy kissed her. "Gram, you're the best old scout in the world. I wish I'd known you when you were a girl."

"It's just as well you didn't." Gram looked very wise and naughty as she waved goodbye to them. "I drank sassafras—and smoked dry leaves, too."

Gypsy registered for the races before she got out of her flying clothes to go home. Brent was in the office and he smiled at her cordially. She hoped against hope that he might ask to drive her home. But he seemed to think he had paid his debt to her when he gave her a chance to fly. His only interest was Angel.

That night the O'Malleys began to pay the piper. Tragedy was to strike at Jiggs first, on its way through the household.

Like a mother looks in on her child asleep in its crib the first thing in the morning, Gypsy always looked in on Jiggs. The morning habit of picking up his clothes and hanging them in the closet, pulling the covers over him, or putting down a window if it was too cold had become a ritual. Sometimes, if he was tight, he forgot to put the window up and she would make sure he had plenty of air.

The morning of the tragedy she

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Few Americans realize how much their government does for them. Readers of the Record News can draw on all government activities through our free information service. The world's greatest libraries, laboratories and experimental stations are at their command. Ask any question of fact and it will be answered, free, by mail direct to you. Enclose three cents for reply postage and address the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How much money do all the bootlegers make in a year?—D. R. K.

A.—Edward Dean Sullivan estimates that in 1929 bootleggers netted over $2,000,000,000 from the sale of intoxicating beverages.

Q.—Is ice cream more fattening than sherbet?—C. F.

A.—It is twice as fattening. One cup of sherbet contains 200 calories, one cup of ice cream, 400 calories.

Q.—In the balloting for candidates for the presidency, the press reported half and quarter votes. How was this done?—A. C.

A.—It frequently happens that a political party desires to honor more of its members by appointment as delegates to the national conventions that the quota allotted to a state covers. In such cases it is frequently arranged that two and sometimes more individuals are sent as delegates, each having a half or other part vote as the case may be. Where uninstructed delegates are sent these fractions of votes are added in the final tabulation of the votes.

Q.—What is the quotation—"the good die first?"—W. S. T.

A.—"The good die first and they whose hearts are dry as summer dust burn to the socket." This is from "The Excursion," by Wordsworth.

Q.—How far does the average man walk in a day?—J. H.

A.—Dr. Joseph Lelyveld of Boston, of the National Association for Foot Health, has estimated that the average distance walked a day by a man is 18,098 steps or 7¾ miles.

Q.—When did John Sharp Williams retire to private life?—W. M. J.

A.—In March, 1923. Quoting the New York Times: "Last night Senator Williams took a train for Yazoo county, Mississippi, where as he told members of the Mississippi Society of Washington a few days ago, he will spend the remainder of his days on his cotton plantation with his books and flowers."

Q.—How long has the national elimination balloon race been held?—B. F.

A.—The first of these annual free balloon races was held in 1909. There has been a race each year with the exception of 1917 and 1918.

Q.—What is the exact meaning of "revered senior" as used by the enumerator of a census of the inhabitants of Maryland in 1776?—L. N. G.

A.—The National Genealogical society says that the abbreviation, Rd senr., standing for revered senior is generally accepted as meaning "grandmother."

Q.—Was there ever a blind Doge of Venice?—P. R.

A.—The great Henry Dandolo was blind.

Q.—Where can I get some information about the strange birds, called hoatzins?—M. L.

A.—An amazing account of his visit to one of the haunts of these strange creatures is given by William Beebe in his book, "Jungle Peace." Mr. Beebe says the hoatzin is probably the most remarkable and interesting bird living in the world today. It has successfully defied time and space. There has been less change in it than in any other form of organic life. Mr. Beebe says that these queer birds renew for our inspection the youth of bird life upon the earth. His book contains an enthusiastic foreword by Theodore Roosevelt, and the chapters on the hoatzin are masterful accounts of a phase of outdoor life which no other writer has ever been able to equal.

Q.—Which rounds in the British open did Sarasen play under par?—R. T. W.

A.—He played the first round in four under a par of 74, the second five under, the third four under, and the remaining one in par.

Q.—How can it be shown that a shorter week would solve the unemployment problem?—D. T.

A.—There are in round numbers 40,000,000 persons employed in the United States. Assuming that each of these persons works 8 hours a day for six days, and his time was reduced to six hours a day for five days, each person would thereby lose 18 hours' work a week. This would make a total loss of 720,000,000 hours a week. Each worker would be working 30 hours a week. This would theoretically give employment to 24,000,000 persons more.

ROSSO NAMED ENVOY TO U. S.

Italy Names Ambassadors After 'Shakeup'

ROME, Aug. 12. (AP)—Augusto Rosso, sometimes called "the uncle from America" is to be Italy's new ambassador to the United States in a far-reaching diplomatic shake-up ordered by Premier Mussolini.

Five ambassadors were retired by the premier's order and there were 22 transfers and many promotions.

Signor Rosso occupied a minor post in the embassy at Washington in 1910, and was counsellor to the embassy in 1922. He is wealthy and a bachelor. He smokes a pipe and speaks English fluently. At present he is director general of a state department bureau which has charge of affairs connected with the League of Nations.

Dino Grandi, the former foreign minister, was appointed ambassador to Great Britain two weeks ago. The other transfers affect several countries in South America and all the largest European capitals except Moscow.

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 12. (INS)—Application for a permanent injunction to restrain Anderson Clayton & Co., cotton exporters, and several others from further violations of trucking laws was filed here today by Elbert Hooper, assistant attorney general.

The application asked $3,000 penalties plus $100 a day for further violations.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (US)—Reports that England will grant a preferential tariff of three cents a bushel to wheat growers of the empire caused the severe break in wheat in the late trading. The reports were unconfirmed, but late press dispatches indicated that in Ottawa such action is considered likely. Undoubtedly later developments regarding the tariff will have a marked effect on prices.

Other foreign developments were extremely discouraging yesterday. The indifference of the foreign buyer to future commitments becomes more pronounced with nearby supplies dwindling to record lows and buyers remaining unperturbed over the bullish news from Russia.

Conditions in Russia are hard to determine, but the present situation leaves little doubt concerning Soviet inability to ship large quantities of wheat. Offerings from Russia were belated this season and this week there were no shipments, compared with well over 4,000,000 bushels the corresponding week a year ago.

Corn has been supported in the past two days of reaction in the wheat market by backspreading, substantial quantities of maize futures having been sold against purchases of wheat.

went into his room at 8 o'clock. A worried little frown gathered on her face when she found he was not there. The bed had not been slept in. Always when he stayed out all night she felt a sinking of her heart. This time a strange premonition seized her. She sat down on the edge of his bed and smoothed the pillow.

Suddenly she straightened and a relieved little smile took the frown away. Jiggs was sneaking down the hall softly so that no one would know he had been out all night. Gypsy started when he came in the door. He stood rooted to the spot when he saw his half sister. His face was white as chalk and his clothes muddy and disheveled.

Automatically Gypsy moved toward him. "Jiggs—darling, what has happened? Tell me—what's wrong."

When he threw himself into his reading chair and covered his eyes with his hands Gypsy knew he was not intoxicated. Something dreadful had happened. Hysterically she got down on her knees in front of him and took his hands away from his eyes.

"Jiggs—tell me—what has happened? You know you can trust me. Oh—honey, tell me!"

Her agony seemed to penetrate his dazed brain and he reached out and put his arm around her.

"It—it's Fluffy. We had an accident—car overturned on Merrick road."

It all came to Gypsy in a flash. Fluffy was Fluffy Little, Mrs. Seward Carter. That night at the opening of the Follies she had seen them on the steps leading to the stage door—the red head and the black head close together. Heard their plans to slip away from Fluffy's husband.

Gypsy, wild with premonition, asked him weakly, "Was it a serious accident, Jiggs? Thank God you're not hurt."

"I—don't see why—it couldn't have been me instead of her. . . ."

"She's—not badly hurt—Jiggs?"

"Dead." He said it dully, as though his muddled brain could hardly grasp the situation in all its horror.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (AP)—Cotton reacted sharply today with December selling off to 7.33 or $1.50 per bale below the previous closing. More southern selling was reported while realizing was active on the decline and closing quotations were at the lowest of the day on most positions with the tone barely steady at net declines of 30 to 33 points.

Some late selling was said to be based on belief that the tropical disturbance reported over the Gulf of Mexico might bring needed rains to Texas.

The New York cotton exchange service estimated domestic consumption for July at 252,000 bales compared with 320,000 in June, but this showing was modified by reports of more active demand for goods and increase of mill activity in some sections.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and general liquidation in that market, influenced by the strike threat in Lancashire.

Futures closed barely steady, 30 to 33 points lower. Spot quiet, middling 7.20.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 12. (AP)—Heavy selling induced by a weakness in stocks and wheat caused a break of approximately $1.50 a bale in cotton today. Week-end profit taking and liquidation added to the decline which carried prices down to levels 31 to 32 points under the previous close. Around midsession good buying support entered the market but it was supplied at recoveries of 13 to 14 points and the market turned easy again reaching the lowest of the day in final trading. The close was barely steady at or near the bottom and showing net losses of 30 to 31 points.

Liverpool is due tomorrow on New Orleans 7 to 8 penny points down.

Port receipts 16,729, for week 76,127, for season 119,883, last season 26,344. Exports 32,957, for week 97,846, for season 178,611, last season 41,156. Port stock 3,336,260, last year 2,746,097. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 59,562, last year 37,009. Spot sales at southern margets 17,629, last year 3,955.

Futures closed barely steady at net declines of 30 to 31 points.

Reaction Sets In And Stocks Lose Most Of Week's Gains; Bonds Climb

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 12. (US)—True to its bear market tradition, the stock market today cracked following a presidential address. This may have been pure coincidence, since the market certainly has been running to excess on the upside. However, the coincidence was too great to be entirely overlooked by the speculative fraternity.

Regardless of any external influences, the market probably would have suffered a stiff reaction. The fact that the violent enthusiasm delayed the action made it all the more severe.

The market during most of the session had been acting quite suspiciously but not until the final hour or two did the setback take on substantial proportions. At the very close a tremendous amount of selling developed, forcing prices down very severely in the final few minutes.

This last-minute rush might have been reflecting suddenly-inspired bear attacks, but more probably it was the liquidation of weak accounts built up in pyramid fashion on the upside, and also selling from unnerved bulls.

In any event, the decline was sufficient to wipe out, in the averages, the gains almost of the entire week.

If any encouragement could be gotten from today's markets, it had to come from bonds. This market continued to advance into new high ground.

The commodity markets generally were lower, especially wheat.

Turnover in stocks totaled 3,700,000 shares, compared with 4,400,000 on Thursday and on Wednesday.

On technical grounds alone the stock list had been calling for a readjustment almost throughout the week. However, the enthusiastic bulls were controlled by the belief a great pyramid of speculation could be built up entirely on hope. The fact that the revival program, regardless of its eventual outcome, seemed to have struck a snag had no effect while the bullishness raged.

The fantastic Russian loan story seemed to have capped the climax, even the bulls conceding that such false reports serve only to create doubt toward more legitimate contemplated constructive steps in industry and finance.

Certainly, the wheat market was severely injured by the Russian hoax. It is known that some responsible large-scale interests were discouraged out of securities and commodities because of the absurdity of the more recent bull reports.

The reaction was quite distinct also in the disastrous break in Case Threshing, the pet of the wheat-market-stock-market bulls. This issue dropped 13¼ points on the day, and International Harvester, which at least has claim to merit beyond radical speculation, suffered a 4⅞-point loss.

No groups escaped the reaction. American Telephone, to which the bulls had been looking for market guidance, closed off 7 points net, Steel common 4⅛, New York Central 4¼, General Electric 1⅞, American Can 6⅛, Johns-Manville 3⅛, and similarly down the entire list.

Frankly, the declines were hardly larger than was to be expected in view of the enormity of the advance. Stocks have advanced, it should be remembered, 100 and 200 per cent in any number of instances.

Despite this, speculative hope has been buoyed up to the point where it was ardently declared by the most enthusiastic bulls that "new plans at Washington" will support even greater recovery. This may be so, but the conservatives are anxious that no great activity be created underneath the market in case the program of revival fails.

The presidential address was fairly pleasant reading to Wall street, although comment was caused by the omission of any reference to several matters which the street had expected to be included, such as restriction of immigration, and amendment of the antitrust statutes.

Suggestion was made that these topics were included in the original draft of the message but were altered in the "last-minute changes" reported from Washington just prior to delivery of the address.

It is the hope that additional "constructive ideas" will develop over the coming weeks that buoys the constructive forces all along. It has been understood that a series of bullish pronouncements, promises, or actions was planned to maintain optimism.

However, a runaway market in stocks without any sense of discretion between good and bad issues would do more than anything else to upset the apple-cart. Responsible people welcomed the reaction and express the hope that the next phase of the constructive campaign at least will be more discriminatory.

Meanwhile, many of the big bears, as disclosed here earlier in the week, have retired from the short side and this much of the technical support to the market was removed. The constructive forces, therefore, must re-establish faith in the recovery. This could best be done during a period of relative quietness combined with price firmness, rather than renewal of rash bullishness.

The bond list's performance continues the most satisfying aspect of the entire security recovery.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 12. (AP)—Demand continued good on the cash grain market here today except for corn which was slow.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing, 56@60c. Barley No. 2 nominally 31¼@32c. Sorghums No. 2 milo per 100-lbs. nominally 64@66c; No. 2 kaffir, nominally 64@66c.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 40½@41½c; No. 2 white 43@44c; No. 2 yellow nominally 47½@48½c.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats No. 3 red 30@30½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (AP)—Vulnerable to the effects of stock market weakness wheat fell almost to three cents a bushel today, and ended at the day's bottom level.

Increasing receipts of domestic spring wheat together with emphasis on a big exportable North American surplus, and good rains in the Canadian Northwest, were contributing bearish factors. Some of the selling of wheat was attributed to disappointment concerning President Hoover's references to agricultural subjects in his acceptance speech.

Wheat closed unsteady, 2¼@2⅞c under yesterday's finish, corn ¼@⅝c down, oats ¼@⅜c off, and provisions varying from two cents decline to an equal advance.

Arrivals of between 600 and 700 cars of grain at Minneapolis told of harvest pressure of new spring wheat. Meanwhile, Liverpool reported only meager demand for actual wheat, and various Chicago trade authorities, friendly, of late to the buying side suggested awaiting the appearance of export takings before becoming pronounced speculative purchasers. North American wheat export business today was estimated at 700,000 bushels, practically all Canadian.

JAPAN'S SWIMMERS GRAB LEAD FROM U. S. IN MEN'S EVENTS

Star Transfer And Grocers Open City League Play-Off Today

VISITORS WIN IN BACKSTROKE

American Women Continue To Lead Field

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STAdium, Los Angeles, Aug. 12. (UP)—Japan took the lead over the United States today in the men's swimming competition of the 1932 Olympic games.

In the only final men's event of the day, the 100-meter backstroke, Japanese finished first, second and third, to amass 19 points, and to make Japan's total 56.

The United States, leading until today, picked up only four points, with a fourth and sixth in the backstroke. This gave America a total of 46.

Masaje Kiyokawa, Toshio Irie and Kentaro Kawatsu were the three slim brown boys that swept the first three positions in the backstroke. They finished in that order.

Indianan Places Fourth

Bob Zehr of Fort Wayne, Ind., placed fourth for the United States; Ernst Kuppers of Germany, was fifth, and Bob Kerber, Northwestern university, was last. The time for the race was 1:08.6, slightly slower than the Olympic record of 1:08.2.

Like the United States women, the Japanese men made ready for a killing on the morrow.

In the first semifinal of the 1,500 meter free style, 14-year-old Kusuo Kitamura of Japan, won in 19:51.6, which broke the Olympic record set by Arne Borg of Sweden, in the 1928 games at Amsterdam.

United States also qualified two men for the finals tomorrow in the 1,500 meters. There were Clarence (Buster) Crabbe of Los Angeles, and James Cristy of the University of Michigan. Their times, however, were much slower than those of the Japanese pair.

Other Qualifiers

Jean Taris of France, and Noel Ryan, Australia, were the other two to qualify for the final of this event.

Another Olympic record went by the boards and to a Japanese in the semifinals of the 200-meter breast stroke for men. Reizo Koike, winning the first heat, was timed at 2:44.9. This broke the mark that Koike and his teammate Yoshiyuka Tsuruta, set jointly in trials yesterday.

Tsuruta finished second to Koike today and J. Adjalludin of the Philippines, qualified for the final by placing third.

The second heat was won by Erwin Sietas of Germany, with Tiofilo Yldefonzo, Philippines, second, and Shigeo Nakagawa, third.

A capacity crowd of 12,000 cheered today's winners and Olympic officials will turn people away at the gates again tomorrow when the swimming events will come to a conclusion with the finals in men's high diving, 200-meter breast stroke, 1,500-meter free style, and women's 400-meter free style.

U. S. WOMEN DIVERS WIN

OLYMPIC SWIMMING STAdium, Los Angeles, Aug. 12. (UP)—The United States women's team continued to pile up its lead over women of other nations in the swimming events of the 1932 Olympic games today by taking the first three places of the high diving final.

Dorothy Poynton, Georgia Coleman and Marion Dale Roper, all of Los Angeles, finished in that order in the event.

Ingegborg Yjmquist of Sweden, was fourth; Ingrid Larsen of Denmark, fifth; Etsuko Kamakura of Japan, sixth, and Magdalene Epply of Austria, seventh.

Miss Poynton led the others in all of the four necessary dives, despite the fact that she sprained her back two days ago and was bandaged when she performed.

United States women promised more points when Helene Madison, Lenore Kight and Norene Forbes qualified for the finals tomorrow of the 400 meter free style swim.

Miss Madison and Miss Kight led their respective semifinal heats, each bettering the old Olympic record set up at Amsterdam in 1928.

Other qualifiers in the event were Yvonne Godard of France, Jennie Maakal of South Africa, and Margaret Cooper of Great Britain.

GERMAN BOXERS TAKE LEAD

OLYMPIC AUDITORIUM, LOS Angeles, Aug. 12. (UP)—Germany became the leading contender to win the 1932 Olympic games team boxing championship on the showing of its representatives in today's semifinal matches.

Hans Ziglarskin, plucky Teuton, easily led the battling in a bantamweight affair with Joseph Lang, United States.

Lang failed to make an impressive showing at any time during the fighting. Horace Gwynne, Canada, will meet Ziglarski in the final.

John Schleinkofer, German, battered Gaspare Alessandri, Italy to win the decision in a featherweight fight. The German administered a terrific punishing attack to beat Alessandri. Carlos Robledon, Argentinean, a slow, cautious fighter, meets Schleinkofer for the title.

Erich Campen, Germany, and Eddie Flynn, New Orleans university student will battle for the welterweight championship.

Campe Decisioned Bruno Ahlberg, Finland, and Flynn outpointed David McCleave, Great Britain.

U. S. WINS FIRST OLYMPIC REGATTA

OLYMPIC MARINE STADIUM, Long Beach, Aug. 12. (UP)—Two magnificent oarsmen from the Penn Barge club of Philadelphia won the pairs with coxswain event today to give the United States its first championship of the Olympic games regatta.

Joe Schauers stroked the victorious shell, with Charley Kiefer pulling the bow oar, and with little Eddie Jennings, the coxswain, urging them on to their triumph.

The event was the last of a program of four final tests. Germany won the first championship, the four-oared with coxswain. Great Britain scored an easy triumph in the pairs without coxswain, and Australia represented by the world's best, the veteran Bobby Pearce, captured the single sculls feature.

In the pairs with coxswain event, won by the United States, Poland was off to a slight lead after the flurry of the getaway strokes. The American pair moved into the challenging period at 400 meters and led by 1½ lengths at 500 meters.

A pinch of grease will keep starch from sticking.

HARDWAREMEN BEAT DIXONS

Painters Lose Early Lead And Drop Game, 8-5

Wichita Hardware baseball club outscored the Dixon Sign company nine in a free hitting contest Friday afternoon on Harrison field and carried off an 8 to 5 victory. The Hardwaremen found Eddie Satterwhite rather hard to hit in the early innings, but got to the Little Dixon curve baller in the late innings.

Dixon Sign got away to an early start and seemed to have the game on ice when Satterwhite weakened to allow all eight runs to trickle over the plate in the last three rounds. Craig and McShan led the attack for the Hardwaremen, each getting two hits. Pete Dixon offered the chief threat for Dixon Sign, getting two hits, one a triple. Clifford Mann blasted out a home run with Lois Anderson on base in the fourth inning.

Pete Dixon opened the game with a slashing triple and scored on Calahan's roller to the infield. An error, followed by singles by Pete Dixon and Newman Smith gave Dixon another tally in the third inning.

Taylor opened the fourth with a single and was worked over the plate for the first Wichita Hardware run on a single by Craig and an error. Mann's home run in the last of the fourth seemed to ice away the game, but Pigg settled down from thereon and finished the game in grand style while his mates were getting to Satterwhite for the victory margin.

Satterwhite hit Pigg and Mundy to start his downfall in the fifth inning. Taylor laid down a sacrifice bunt and Satterwhite threw wild to first, Pigg scoring. Craig walked, filling the bases. McShan's single to center scored Mundy and Taylor. Craig stopped at third and a minute later stole home.

Dixon tied the score again in their half of the inning, but a single by Pigg, two errors, and singles by Craig and McShan shoved over the three runs in the sixth. "Fishy" Stone's sensational leaping, one-handed catch in right field of L. Dixon's crash to right stopped the only threat by Dixon Sign in the last inning. Score:

GALVESTON, Aug. 12. Quanah Caddies Discover Young Alligator In Drain Ditch

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Aug. 12.—Caddies at the Quanah Country club captured an alligator about 24 inches long in one of the drain ditches from the club lake this week.

It was supposed the animal was turned loose by someone who had tired of it as a pet, or that it was one of the alligators used by a local merchant for advertising purposes.

The 'gater is being held at the country club awaiting claim by the owner.

MONTGOMERY WINS MAT BOUT

'Don Ropo' Humberto Victim of Own Tactics

Bob Montgomery, Little Rock's gift to the wrestling world, gave Don Ropo Humberto a dose of his own medicine Friday night in Govro arena and butted the Mexican about like an empty eggshell until the latter had weakened enough for Montgomery to apply a headlock to win the final fall. The two had mixed it freely all the way, once or twice carrying the battle into the ringside seats.

Montgomery tamed down somewhat from his work last week, but still was a cyclone in the ring, worrying down the Mexican with his terrific charges. Montgomery used a goat hold most of the way with almost deadly accuracy. The first fall went to Montgomery in 16 minutes and 44 seconds with a goat hold and body pin. Humberto evened the match in six minutes and 16 seconds with a merry-go-round and body slam.

The two mixed it fast and furious on the final fall when Humberto made the mistake of stopping to argue with the referee. Montgomery took advantage of everything he could and rammed head-on into Humberto, sending him spinning through the ropes. Humberto managed to crawl weakly back to the mat, but a headlock stopped the match in nine minutes and 34 seconds.

Another great show of the evening came when Russian George Ligosky and Pat O'Brien mixed mean faces, haymakers and plenty of thrilling wrestling for 45 minutes without a single fall being registered. The match was one of the most sensational of the year and both men worked hard all the way, keeping the fans in an uproar from start to finish.

Whitey Govro stepped for 15 minutes with the famous Walter Stratton of Chicago, without a fall being registered. Both men worked hard and kept the fans on the edges of the seats all the way.

Emmett "Flash" Disheroon, well-known Wichita Falls grappler, went out on the preliminary and kicked "Wild Man" Anderson from the ring to win the only fall in 11 minutes and 49 seconds.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 12.—In a contest featured by the lusty hitting of the victors and numerous errors by the losing club, a team composed of chamber of commerce, Yankee, Tiger, and Tornado players Thursday evening trounced the Senators 12-2 at the Shive ward school diamond, in a non-league game. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of darkness.

Cub Investigation, If Any, Does Not Concern Ball Games, Says Czar Landis

CHICAGO, Aug. 12. (US)—Kenesaw M. Landis, baseball commissioner, returned to his desk today apparently untroubled by the big Chicago Cubs "gambling" mystery that stirred up the community for a few hours yesterday.

Landis had but one statement to make, and that was very definite.

"Whether any one is making an investigation or not," he said, "and I am neither affirming nor denying this, you can say positively that it has nothing to do with the playing of any ball game."

Asked about Guy Bush, the Cub pitcher, whose name was mentioned in innuendoes that Cub players had been betting on the horse races, Landis had little to say except:

"You should have seen the way Bush pitched those closing innings at Pittsburgh yesterday."

"What is your next move?" Landis was asked.

He walked across his office, and looked out the window.

"I think I shall go out and play a round of golf," he said.

McEvoy Denies Club Will Move To Waco

He attended the Dallas and Longview game. It had been rumored throughout the day that Longview would move to Waco because of small attendance at the oil city. About mid-season, the club was moved from Wichita Falls to Longview.

Owlettes Have Fine Shot At Volley Ball Title

Special to The Record News.

MANKINS, Texas, Aug. 12.—The Mankins High school Owlettes will have a splendid chance to win the volley ball county championship again this year. Last year in the round robin and county tournaments the team went through without a defeat. Of the 10 who lettered, only one, Lucille Hancock, has left. She returned to her home in California. The other nine were Mary Belle Richeson, Lena Wingo, Marguerette Parks, Adeal Shugart, Fay Parris, Florene Lavendar, Cora Kirksey, Ellis Mae Oualline, Mildred Lyles. These girls with about 10 more are expected to bring the "old Mankins High school spirit" onto the volley ball court.

The girls feel surer of themselves than ever before on account of the new gymnasium that is just being completed.

RIVER LEAGUE PLANS SERIES

Saint Jo and Caps Corner In Title Scrap Sunday

Special to The Record News.

SAINT JO, Texas, Aug. 12.—At a called meeting, President Ick McIntire of the Montague County Red River Valley league worked out details for a best three out of five games series for the championship of this league. The contenders will be Saint Jo and Caps Corner. This series will begin at Saint Jo Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The second and third games will be played Aug. 17 and 21 at Caps Corner. If necessary a fourth game will be played at Saint Jo on the 24th and the fifth at Caps Corner on the 28th.

Saint Jo topped the percentage column in this league with Caps Corner trailing a close second. The bylaws of the league call for a play-off between the first and second place clubs. During the season Saint Jo has lost three and won one game from Caps Corner, the only club to best them in any series, so the series should be hotly contested. Caps Corner will depend on the curves of Shine Davenport to baffle the Saint Jo boys, while Saint Jo has Dutch Phillips, speed staff. Saint Jo has the edge on the king, and Crump for their pitching hitting and fielding average, but Camps Corner has the edge on games won against Saint Jo.

TITLE SERIES ENDS SUNDAY

Winner Plays Noble-Little For City Championship

The Star Transfer company baseball team, undefeated in the City league's second half which they won in a walk, will make its bid for the full season's title today when it enters a three-game championship series with the Red and White store team, first half champion.

The game will start at 4 p. m. at Athletic park. The series will close Sunday, when the second, and if necessary, the third game will be played. The first game Sunday is scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, according to League President William B. Ward.

Winner Plays Noble-Little

The winner of the series will enter a play-off with the Noble-Little Hardware company team, champions of the Commercial league, for the city championship. Date for the city titular event has not been decided. The Noble-Little team, which won the first half of the Commercial league race, repeated the story when they cinched the second half championship with a victory over the runner-up Ozarka Water company nine Thursday afternoon.

If pitching can do the whole job, the Star Transfer nine will enter the City league play-off today as the favorite, for the team includes in its ranks Lefty Robertson, brilliant portsider who was a prospect with the Supdders in the spring training camp of 1931. The Star team won eight straight games to cop the second half title, and seven of the victories were credited to Robertson.

Close Fight Expected

The Star nine hit its stride in the second half after the Red and White grocers had annexed the first half title. The Grocers, during the second half, lost three decisions to the Star Transfer nine, never registering a victory over the team they meet today in the play-off. Sandlot observers, however, rate the Red and Whites as capable of giving the Star boys ample opposition in the titular series. The team boasts lusty swatting to back up a pitching staff that is far from off-color.

Johnny O'Neal, manager of the Red and Whites, announced Red Nichols, sandlot veteran, will open today's contest on the mound for the Grocers. The Star nine is holding its dependable Robertson in reserve, according to August Storbeck and Ben Larry, team managers, who announced they would start Homer Lewis in today's contest.

It is likely that should Star Transfer lose the critical opening game of the series, Robertson will be called upon to pitch both games Sunday.

There will be an admission charge of 25 cents for each of the Saturday and Sunday games, it was announced.

VERNON, Texas, Aug. 12.—One of the best mound duels of the season is expected here Sunday afternoon when LeBoid White of the Vernon Orphans and Bert Williams of the Oklaunion Cardinals, two of the outstanding pitchers in this section, take the hill when the two strong Wilbarger county clubs clash at the city park. The game will start at 3:30.

White, former Marine ace from Eldorado, Okla., is regarded as one of the best mound performers in this area, and has hurled the Orphans to a number of victories.
