

On The Divide

As cooler days seem to be approaching and the fall atmosphere is evidence, general discussion among local sports fans just seems to automatically drift from softball to that popular sport, football.

With the appearance on the scene last week of that big High School Athletic Coach, Robert Carruthers, talk in the general direction of this season's football team, seems to be gaining momentum.

At the Lions Club meeting Wednesday, the usually discussed softball gave way to yarns about the gridiron. Lighting of the local football field was even talked and some are of the opinion that if other small towns in the area have lighted football fields, why can't Eldorado.

Everyone is wondering why I. A. Whitten, W. T. Whitten and Johnnie Isaacs are working so diligently in cleaning and painting the building Royster's cafe moved from. But it is all a deep, dark secret.

J. A. Whitten gave some encouragement in stating that a notice will be published in next week's Success.

GAS FOR CITY BY OCTOBER IS PROMISED

Survey for a gas line from the Bert Page oil and gas field, nine miles southeast of Eldorado, was begun Wednesday of this week, according to Robert Page, Lions Club President. T. A. Hornaday of the Rio Gas & Power Company of San Antonio was in Eldorado Wednesday and stated that actual construction of the pipe line would be started by the first of next week.

Equipment was unloaded here this week and Mr. Hornaday stated that pipe has been ordered and would be here in the near future. Gas from the Page field will supply the city with natural gas and according to an agreement with the gas company, the fuel will be available for distribution by October 20.

The first section of the line extending northwest from the wells will be 2-inch, and the remainder into Eldorado will be 3-inch pipe. A construction force of 25 to 30 men will be used on the project, which is expected to be underway next week.

The company anticipates 150 connections in the city as soon as the gas is made available. Domestic consumption is estimated at 75,000 cubic feet per connection per annum. The gas rate will be on a sliding scale and will average around 63 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

It is thought that the great decrease in the number of readers was due to vacation trips during July.

FIRST ARMY PLANE

It is just 30 years since General James Allen, then chief of the signal service, formally approved the purchase for the United States Army of its first airplane, built by the Wright brothers in their small shop in Dayton, O.

The modest specifications for this plane are interesting for purposes of comparison with the giant war planes of the present. The contract called for a heavier than air machine, capable of carrying two passengers with sufficient fuel for a flight of 1.5 miles, and able to remain aloft an hour with this load. It was also required that it should have a speed of not less than 40 miles an hour.

In its tests at Fort Myer, Va., the plane actually attained a speed of 42 miles an hour, and it remained in the air 1 hour and 12 minutes, then a world record. The final acceptance test was made over a 5-mile course along the Potomac, marked by captive balloons, on July 30, 1909. It was accepted by the Army on August 2.

This pioneer plane, now in the museum of the Smithsonian Institution, appears crude indeed in comparison with the new fighting machines with speeds of more than 400 miles an hour.

The 30th anniversary of the first military plane was observed with appropriate ceremonies and aerial exhibitions by the Army air force, centering at Wright Field in Dayton, but including exhibitions at various military air bases.

THE COTTON PROBLEM

It is not as widely recognized as it should be that the plight of the cotton farmer is not a problem for the South alone. It affects the people of every section of the country in some degree, and it is to the interest of all to cooperate in its solution.

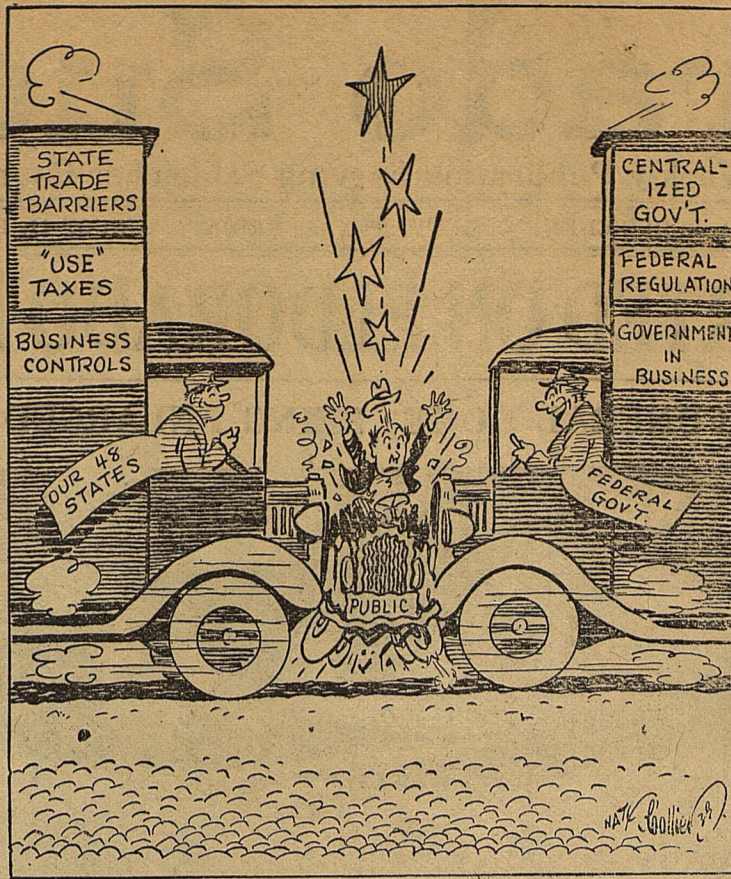

One practical way in which the whole nation may give this cooperation is by using more cotton goods—especially wearing apparel. This could be done at an actual saving, and with little, if any, sacrifice in style or comfort, for in recent years the development of new and beautiful cotton fabrics has been amazing.

The low price of cotton has reduced the amount of goods and products the South can buy from the North and East. It is forcing the cotton farmer to turn more and more to the raising of crops which compete with those of other sections, especially the great agricultural Middle West. This applies to both field crops and livestock.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE

Nobody's Business

By Julian C. Capers

AUSTIN—Groundwork for one of the principal issues in the 1940 governor's race was laid when the State Automatic Tax Board met in Austin, and fixed the ad valorem property levy for the coming year at the maximum permitted under the Constitution — 77 cents on the $100 valuation.

The action was of course, necessitated by the Legislature, which passed a law fixing a $22.50 maximum per capita school apportionment. The Board of Education fixed the per capita at $22, fifty cents under the maximum, and the levy is expected to pay this and take up a $4,500,000 deficit in the current per capita payment.

The rate is made up as follows: 35 cents for the general fund; 7 cents for the confederate pension; 35 cents for school purposes, all maximum rates.

The school levy was 7 cents under the Allred administration—the lowest in a score of years. Regardless of how the hike came about, opponents of Gov. O'Daniel are sure to remind the voters next year that the Governor ran on an economy platform, promised to lower taxes, and point out that he signed the tax remission bill to the counties, which has wrecked the general fund. Regardless of merit, the fact that the Governor's first year of administration has caused the State tax rate to jump to the highest figure since 1934 is sure to be used as a political argument by his opponents, and when the increased State tax bills go out next year, O'Daniel will have some explaining to do to the boys and girls who pay the tax bills.

Political Talk

The August political doldrums have hit Austin, as the politics awaited the outcome of the approaching pension crisis to begin their fall and winter activity, looking toward the campaigns of 1940. About the only active political discussion centers around the race for Railroad Commissioner, which promises to be one of the big races during next year's campaigns. Commissioner Lon A. Smith, veteran of many years of office holding in Texas, is up for re-election to a six year term, and he is going to have plenty opposition, early reports indicate. There is a feeling among the political wiseacres that Smith's number is up this time. Several strong candidates mentioned are County Judge Roy Hoffheinz, of Houston; County Judge Jake Loy, of Sherman; Ex-Senator Bob Steward of Fort Worth, a candidate last year against Judge C. V. Terrell, in the race won by Jerry Sadler; Ex-Attorney General Bill McCraw, candidate for Governor last year; Carl Nesbitt, former Adjutant General; Pierce Brooks, perennial candidate, who ran last year for Lieutenant Governor; and several other lesser lights.

Thompson To Run

So far as the Governor's race is concerned, friends of Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson, runner-up to Gov. O'Daniel last year, declare the red-headed Amarillo product is a certain candidate. Thompson has been keeping his counsel, although he spoke out plainly against the principle of writing a sales tax into the Constitution, at a critical stage of the legislative fight over S.J.R. 12. The present critical situation in the oil industry, brought about by lawsuits seeking to strike down the whole proration system, and renewed activity in behalf of Federal control of oil, have been occupying most of Thompson's time, but he is known to be keeping close check on general state governmental affairs, and with the coming of autumn, the plain-spoken Colonel is expected to begin to talk out loud about O'Daniel's conduct of the state's business.

There has been some talk that Bill McCraw might also try again, but no confirmation of this report has reached Austin, and lately rumors have it McCraw is looking carefully at the prospective Railroad Commissioner's race for Lon Smith's place.

Ragsdale Replies
Bailey Ragsdale, of Crockett, an intelligent and able young legislator, who pushed through the House a soil conservation bill to benefit Texas farmers at the regular session, was a supporter also of Gov. O'Daniel's constitutional sales tax plan and other O'Daniel measures. Ragsdale also authored the bill to restore race track betting. When O'Daniel condemned those who want return of race betting in his radio speech, and classed those who sought such legislation as pawns of race track gamblers and racketeers, he drew a sharp answer from the Crockett legislator. Ragsdale declared he acted solely in the interest of ranchers and stockraisers, who also want race track betting restored, and denied any association or influence from gamblers. He declared the theory of this group is that you can't abolish gambling, and it is better to regulate it and take the revenue from it.

New Oil Proposals

Efforts of the Cardenas government of Mexico to renew negotiations for settlement of the controversy growing out of the confiscation of $400,000,000 worth of American and British oil holdings in Mexico, were renewed this week. Texas oil men who are carefully watching the situation report the new proposals, submitted by Mexican Ambassador Najera to Donald Richberg, representative of the companies, in Washington, provide for the Mexicans to retain control of the oil properties, with the oil companies operating the properties, and paying themselves for their properties, out of a part of the operating proceeds. The proposal, insiders here report, is entirely unacceptable and will be rejected. Texans were interested in reports that Japan is preparing to furnish money to rehabilitate Mexican oil properties and provide port facilities on the Mexican Pacific side, so they can replace oil now being obtained in California, with Mexican oil, when Secretary of State Hull cancels the existing commerce treaty with Japan six months from now, in accordance with notice Hull gave the Japs this week.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

ONE THING And THEN ANOTHER
By Fred Gipson

CORPUS CHRISTI—I have just come back from attending a convention. And as usual, after covering a convention for the newspapers, I find myself pretty thoroughly disgusted with humanity and half wishing I'd been born into the so-called "lower animal" class of creatures.

Maybe I'm just a misfit. I've often thought so. Maybe I just don't understand humanity. Anyhow, I don't get it. An all-day and all-night drunken carousal and exchange of verbal obscenities just doesn't spell enjoyment and entertainment to me.

There was one thing in favor of this convention. It was held on the beach, pretty much out of the way of people who might become offended. There was plenty of drinking and fighting room, and the sand was soft to fall upon. Otherwise, it was the usual sort of convention. Men, some of whom had driven hundreds of miles, came, made hogs of themselves over drink, cursed their best friends over nothing, made enemies of strangers over less, wasted food that starving people would have appreciated, broke up cots, gought and staggered over each other, whooped and yelled over obscene references and stories about women, grew sick and vomited, finally lost their senses and slumped to the ground, where they wallowed and scumbled about and finally passed completely out.

And the thing that gets me is that they'll go home, now that it's over, and tell what a big time they had, how much fun it was and start right in making plans for a bigger and rougher brawl next year.

That's the part I don't get.

When there's any real humor in it, I think I can enjoy a joke as thoroughly as the next man, be it risqué or not. When the occasion arises, nobody has ever found me particularly adverse to a drink. But those things are things a man can enjoy at home, any day of the year. But he does not get to travel and see new and interesting things just any day of the year.

Here for the conventioners to see and explore was more than 100 miles of beach, wide, smooth, white-sanded, with wierd sand dunes standing like sentinels along the way. Overhead, the seagulls wheeled, their white, black-tipped wings flashing in the sun. Out yonder, a convoy of pelicans glided above the breakers, one rising to plunge crazily into the water after a fish. In the sand, the sandfiddler crabs scuttled all about, curious and investigating. Bowlegged sandpipers skimmed along the beach, emitting their strange cries. The breakers rolled in, one after another, one after another, an endless succession of curling, white-capped beauty.

An oil tanker rose from out of the sea, slipped through the channel toward the docks. Another slipped out, disappeared behind the curve of the earth.

To many of the conventioners, these were new sights, things they'd only read and wondered about before. But did they see them?

Well, possibly some 75 out of the 800 who had the chance. The rest hogged their liquor, blurred their vision, numbed their senses, and made fools out of themselves.

At least, that's my opinion of the matter. Many of them seemed to be of the opinion that I was making a fool of myself by not joining them. Which about evened up the score, I guess.

Somehow, though, I never return from a convention with any pride in my fellowman left in me.

BEST COTTON BALE
URGED FOR PRIZES
INSTEAD OF FIRST BALE

ABILENE—Substitution of a prize by the local communities of West Texas for the best bale of cotton ginned during the season instead of the usual prize for first bale is suggested by Dr. M. E. Heard, head of the textile engineering department of Texas Tech nological College. The suggestion is made in the August issue of West Texas Today, publication of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Such a prize, Heard said, would encourage farmers to raise a better grade of cotton and would benefit the entire cotton industry. On the other hand, he says, the first bale of the season has little meaning and usually is picked green and is of inferior grade.

Heard hopes that local civic bodies consider this suggestion and sponsor the prize for best bale.

Buying canned goods in a large grocery store at Dallas, Wis., is a sort of lottery. A flood soaked all the labels off the cans stored in the basement, and no one can tell which are beans, soup or corn until they are opened.

Laughing Around the World
With IRVIN S. COBB

Past Tense But Present Mood

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE is a writer in New York who never does today what he can put off until tomorrow. All the same, among the editors, his output is always in demand. Some time ago, in a careless moment, he took in a contract to furnish a given number of humorous articles at stated intervals for publication in a popular periodical.

One day about noon-time two of us dropped in on him at his office. We found him humped up at his desk, his coat off, his sleeves rolled up, and his pen racing across the paper.

"Come on, old man," I said, "we want to take you out to lunch with us."

"Can't go to lunch," he said, "Can't quit the job. You know how I am—if I go out to lunch with you fellows I won't get back for two or three days. I'm going to send a boy out to bring me in a cup of coffee and a sandwich."

"Can't you spare even half an hour to join us?" asked my companion.

"No, I can't. I tell you, I can't leave here until this job I'm working on now is done. There's a time limit on it and I'm under a solemn pledge to stick here until the thing is finished."

"A time limit, eh?" one of us said; "well, under your promise, what is the very latest possible date when you must deliver the manuscript?"

He glanced at the calendar above his desk: "A week ago last Tuesday," he said.

WEST TEXAS C. OF C.
URGES ORGANIZATION OF TAXATION COMMITTEES

ABILENE—Organization of permanent local expenditure and taxation committees in every city and town in West Texas is urged by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in a report issued today by its Public Expenditure and Taxation committee. James D. Hamlin of Farwell is chairman of the committee and signed the report.

For several years the regional organization has advocated abolition of the ad valorem tax for state purposes. This long advocacy bore fruit with the recent approval of S.B. 224 by the Governor, officials pointed out.

The new law will, beginning in 1941, remit to the counties half of the ad valorem taxes collected for state revenue purposes.

In the 132 counties of West Texas, this will amount to a saving of more than $2,000,000 annually.

For Schleicher county it will amount to approximately $7,247.

The tax remission law, together with the new road bond assumption law which allots back to the counties one cent of the gasoline tax, and which will mean several million dollars more to the counties, offers a real opportunity for reduction in local taxes, Mr. Hamlin declares.

Principal function of local committees will be to work cooperatively with local public officials in an effort to bring about economies in government and in passing on the savings of the taxpayers. The report points out that 87 per cent of all public expenditures falling upon property taxes is for local government.

Service of WTCC committee-men and staff is offered to local WTCC directors in organizing their local committees.

Good Year For The Ever-Popular Peach

Standing on its merits as a dessert fruit, the peach has long been popular. Altogether the peach crop this year is larger than usual, considerably greater than last year's peach crop.

From this large selection the woman who "knows her peaches" should be able to find what she wants. Many home makers will take advantage of peaches plenty late in the season by putting up some for winter supply shelves. The best way to can peaches is to pack them in glass jars or tin cans after a short precooking—then to process in a boiling water bath. Peaches precooked and packed hot will need about 15 min. of processing whether they're in pint or quart glass jars—No. 2 or 3 tin cans. Simmering peach them into the cans will shrink the fruit so that it will fit more closely into containers, and it will help to prevent a brownish discoloration.

Spicy peach pickles and hot meat dishes are congenial items served an average of two years each.

on dinner or luncheon menus. Following is a recipe for pickled peaches.

Wash well 8 pounds of firm clingstone peaches. Remove the thin skin and stick two cloves into each peach. Cook two quarts fresh cider vinegar, 8 two-inch pieces of stick cinnamon, and 4 pounds sugar together for 10 minutes—or until the sirup is fairly thick. Add peaches.

Cook the peaches gently until they're tender but not broken, and let them stand in the sirup over night. In the morning drain the sirup from the peaches. Pack the fruit into sterilized jars. Boil sirup rapidly until it's thick and pour over peaches. Seal and store in a cool place. It will be several weeks before the pickled peaches have developed enough flavor to serve.

AND that's just the beer tax revenue this state itself collects... to lift the burden of direct taxation from your shoulders. Nationwide, beer contributes over a million dollars a day to the cost of government. Think what that means in paying for relief, in public works, in old age assistance right in your own community.

Then think of the million new jobs that beer made. And then add to that a 100 million dollar market for farmers' crops!

How can we keep these benefits... for you and for us? Brewers of America realize this depends on keeping beer retailing as wholesome as beer itself. They want to help public officials in every possible way. They cannot enforce laws. But they can—and will—cooperate!

Gas Gas All Time

Mrs. Jas. Miller says: "Gas on my stomach was so bad I couldn't eat or sleep. Gas even seemed to press on my heart. Adlerika brought me quick relief. Now, I eat as I wish, sleep fine, never feel better."

Headache, Bad Breath
Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers — headaches, biliousness, bad breath — often warn of faulty elimination.

Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching; no appetite or energy; mental dullness.

It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient — an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles.

Millions of packages used testify to BLACK-DRAUGHT'S merit. Try it

"New Creatures in Christ."

At the close of the late war, the soldiers were brought home, many were able to walk down the gang plank to the American soil and into the open arms of their mothers and fathers, they were fortunate. There were others, however, that were carried down the same gang plank, having no legs to walk on, they had lost them in the war, these too were greeted in the same way, by mothers, fathers and sweethearts, in tears of sorrow and gladness.

Christ can do for us what our mothers and fathers can not do. Though we may have lost heavy in the battle with sin, He is able to take us in His arms and make us into New Creatures and fit us for a New Kingdom where the battle of sin and death can not enter.

Subject Sunday Morning — "Chants of Victory."
Subject Sunday Evening — "Reverence Rewarded."

Notice — Fellowship will follow the evening service, in the basement of the Methodist Church — A welcome awaits you.

The Methodist Revival meeting will begin Sept. 10, 1939 — Marvin Williams, pastor
