Odd Sight For Stormy Night

Storm Socks Chicago With Knocking Punch

By The Associated Press

A record winter storm paralyzed Chicago today with 23 inches of snow and spread a sea of white drifts as deep as 15 feet.

The storm moved eastward from the central plains into the Great Lakes region and northeast. Freezing rain spread into much of western New York State.

Many communities were virtually isolated as banked highways froze vehicle movement. Planes were grounded and utilities disrupted. Strong north winds heaped the snow.

The Chicago snow bettered by eight inches the previous record 24-hour snowfall of 14.9 inches set Jan. 30, 1939. It began at 7 a.m. Thursday and still was falling today. The former snowfall record for a single storm was 19.2 inches in March 1950.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Chicago's downtown section was kept a fairly well dug-out island, but little moved other than emergency vehicles. Roads leading to the center of town were blocked. All expressways were closed by snow, except stretches of Edens Expressway north of Chicago.

All Chicago schools were closed. Police urged persons to stay home.

The city's heart and pulse were very slow. Closed were the Board of Trade, the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, and thousands of stores, offices and factories.

CARS STALLED

Cars by the thousands were stalled on streets and expressways, partly buried or concealed entirely beneath snowdrifts. Telephones and power service went on. The railroads and Chicago Transit Authority elevated and subway trains ran on slowed schedules, packed with travelers. There was token bus service over limited routes. Taxis went nowhere.

Pedestrians walked down the middle of the deserted streets.

Final Bobby Baker Arguments Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prosecution and defense attorneys present final arguments today in the U.S. District Court trial of Bobby Baker, former Senate aide charged with larceny, conspiracy and income tax evasion.

The trial, now in its third week, will go to the jury Saturday after Judge Oliver Gasch instructs the panel.

100 Persons Die In China Purge Battle

TOKYO (AP)—A wall poster in Peking reported today that more than 100 persons were killed and many wounded in clashes between supporters and opponents of Mao Tse-tung in Red China's remote Sinkiang Province.

The poster, reported by Japan's Kyodo News Service, said the fighting occurred in the city of Shihotzu in the northwestern province bordering on the Soviet Union.

The report did not specify when the clashes occurred, but indicated it was a fresh outbreak in the province where anti-Mao forces have been reported dug in and putting up strong resistance.

MACHINE GUNS

The poster said most of the Red army troops in the area are backing the anti-Mao provincial military commander and the head of the provincial party committee.

Kyodo, quoting another wall poster in Peking, said the situation in Sinkiang Province is "too tense for a deputy military commander there to settle."

Quoting a dispatch from Urumchi, provincial capital of Sinkiang, the report of fighting in Shihotzu said machine guns, rifles, field artillery and hand grenades were used in clashes.

ROADS CLOSED

The center of Shihotzu is under control of anti-Maoists, main highways have been closed, and long-distance telephone lines have been cut, it said. Similar clashes occurred in nearby towns, it said.

"There are not merely the suppression of mass movements but an antirevolution rebellion," it added.

Apparently girding for a protracted struggle, Mao's followers sought today to rally additional military and peasant support throughout the mainland.

The official New China News Agency admitted that opposition had cropped up in Manchuria and around Shanghai, both areas where Mao's group had claimed victories.

URGENT APPEAL

The agency said the pro-Mao Peking People's Daily in today's issue prominently featured an urgent appeal by four revolutionary rebel-pro-Mao organizations in Heilungkiang, a Manchurian province.

Japanese reports from the mainland told of wall posters in Peking reporting that Premier Chou En-lai had informed Mao "the recovery of authority has only started."

Other wall posters said that Mao's chief purge administrator, Chen Po-ta, had complained that Red Guards in the capital were "falling behind the rest of the country."

Mao's own propaganda outlets indicated the shape the struggle was taking.

More Register As 1967 Voters

One hundred and 90 additional Howard counties registered with Mrs. Zarah LeFevre's office on Thursday bringing the total qualified voting strength of the county to 7,575.

During the day Mrs. LeFevre and her deputies processed a number of mailed applications which were not added to the total. The 190 listed were handled over the counter in the office.

The deadline for registering expires at 5 p.m. Jan. 31. Citizens who have failed to register by that date will forfeit their right to vote in any elections held in 1967.

Voters can register at some of the substations set up by Mrs. LeFevre on Saturday. The office in the courthouse will be closed. The substations which will be open are the Forsan City Hall, the Lewis 5-and-10 store, and the Coahoma State Bank.

An application for voter registration certificate is printed on Page 7-A.

GLASSY STREETS

In this band, the major problems were glassy highway coatings of ice, and sheaths of ice which collected on power and telephone wires, many of the lines breaking when brisk winds put extra strain on them.

Many Chicago motorists were unable to drive their cars home from their jobs Thursday night, and bunched with friends. Travelers marooned by suspension of air service jammed the Chicago hotels.

Worse was the plight of the occupants of 1,000 vehicles stranded in the snow at the southern city limits. Many of them were schoolchildren marooned in several school buses. About 1,000 persons were put up overnight in four school gymnasiums.

'PRISONERS'

Forty prisoners of the snow became overnight "prisoners" in Cook County Jail when they couldn't leave the Criminal Courts building. Warden Jack Johnson sent around an evening meal of hamburgers for the "inmates," who included judges and lawyers.

Downtown hotels were filled to capacity. Traffic at O'Hare International Airport was halted. All the major taxi companies pronounced the roads too hazardous and took their cabs off the streets, except for emergency calls.

The storm dumped a foot of snow across northern Missouri and Kansas before it hit the Great Lakes region. It was paralleled by a strip of freezing rain and ice across central Missouri, central Illinois, north-central Indiana and northwestern Ohio.

Other cities and thousands of smaller communities had comparable conditions.

WOMAN TOURS PLANETS?

Discovery Of Body Jails Sect Leader

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Discovery of the body of a woman dead a month has led to charges against her husband and the minister of a religious sect which believes the woman will return to life.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bill Payne filed complaints against the leader of the Bible Study Group, Paul Hartzler, 61, and the husband, Airman James Ulmer from Cannon Air Force Base.

They were charged with "indecently keeping, handling and exposing a dead woman's body with intent of preventing a decent burial and actively preventing discovery thereof."

ANONYMOUS TIP

The offense is a misdemeanor punishable by up to six months in jail and a $100 fine.

Police said they found the body of Jerri Ulmer, 19, Thursday in a shed on Hartzler's farm near the community of La Luz, north of Alamogordo. An anonymous tip led them there.

The sect, consisting of 10 adults from New Mexico, California and Arizona, had gathered at La Luz waiting for the return of the dead woman, they said.

CHRIST COMING?

Payne said the sect maintained she was on a tour of the planets and would be reincarnated to await the second coming of Christ.

Rusk Claims Durable Peace Survival Key

The Nugents Are Not Saying

Pat Nugent helps his wife Luci as they stand to acknowledge an introduction at a joint session of the Texas Legislature where they heard U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk speak Thursday. Noticing Luci's loose-fitting dress, a reporter asked the daughter and son-in-law of the President if they were expecting. "We're out of the announcement business," Luci replied. Pat just smiled. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Students Told Solution Must Be Discovered

ABILENE (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that it is essential to the survival of man that a solution be found in organizing "a durable peace in the world."

He told a youthful audience on the campus of Hardin-Simmons University that finding the solution to a durable peace is a question they must not forget.

"This is the question that both generations, young and old, must discuss together," he said.

Rusk urged the young people to recognize the lessons from World War II, declaring:

"There will be no opportunity to use the lessons of World War III and start over again—there will be nothing left."

Speaking extemporaneously, Rusk hammered at the need of a lasting peace, adding that this has been the "constant preoccupation of every president of the United States in this modern period."

STRIFE PUZZLE

He said on arrival in Abilene today that the internal strife in Red China is an international mystery.

Rusk flew here from Austin, where he addressed a joint session of the Texas Legislature Thursday.

He spoke briefly to newsmen before a motorcade took him to Hardin-Simmons University for receipt of an honorary Doctor of Humane Letters degree.

WON'T PREDICT

In his airport remarks, Rusk repeated that he was unaware of what was going on in Red China, adding:

"I won't try to predict the outcome."

He called the Chinese power struggle important but said, "We don't know exactly what is happening."

"Ignorance doesn't embarrass us," he added, saying Mao Tse Tung doesn't know either.

The secretary also said, as he has on other occasions, that he cannot predict an early end to the Vietnam conflict, saying that peace will come when Hanoi realizes that its aggression will not be tolerated.

IT WILL COME

"It has not come yet, but it will come," he said.

Rusk ignored a group of anti-war demonstrators Thursday at the Capitol in Austin as he spoke to the legislature.

One of about 50 demonstrators, George Vizard, 23, of San Antonio, was arrested for disturbing the peace. Although they yelled and waved signs, Rusk

Infantrymen Claim 720 Commies Killed

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—

U.S. infantrymen today wound up the biggest operation so far in the Vietnam war, claiming 720 enemy dead. Meanwhile, U.S. Marines pressed ahead with a new drive in the northern part of South Vietnam.

Backed by tanks, artillery and planes, the Leathernecks in the new Operation Tuscaloosa reported killing 74 Red soldiers in day-long fighting 15 miles south-east of Da Nang, the big Marine base on the northern coast.

The U.S. command announced the end of Operation Cedar Falls, which sent an estimated 30,000 Americans to the jungled "iron triangle" 20 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon for a 19-day scorched earth campaign.

RICE SEIZED

In addition to the 720 Communist dead reported, the Americans captured a record 3,709 tons of rice, enough to feed 10,000 troops for a year. The purpose of the operation was to make the triangle useless as a base from which to menace Saigon and the area around the capital.

In the northern end of the country, six miles south of the demilitarized zone, U.S. helicopters lifted out a surrounded Marine reconnaissance patrol and a relief force that had been sent in to help and was also surrounded. Marine spokesmen said Leatherneck casualties were light but one big helicopter crashed and burned and two others were forced down by enemy fire.

On the political scene, South Vietnam's ruling military junta headed by Premier Nguyen Cao Ky met behind closed doors to discuss the shakeup in the government set in motion by the ouster of the deputy premier and defense secretary, Lt. Gen. Nguyen Huu Co.

A brief announcement after the meeting said Co who is now in Hong Kong, had been replaced as defense minister by Lt. Gen. Cao Van Vien, chief of the general staff, but said nothing of Co's other assignments as deputy premier and war minister.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. pilots flew 68 missions Thursday, concentrating on targets below Haiphong, along the North Vietnamese coast and in the southern panhandle.

Navy fliers from the carriers

Coral Sea and Ticonderoga reported destroying or damaging 38 cargo barges along the coast and on inland waterways. Other carrier pilots made rocket attacks on a transshipment point 24 miles southeast of Haiphong and reported damaging the target area.

As they closed out Operation Cedar Falls in the triangle, U.S. forces left burned out enemy bunkers, tunnels and fortifications. During the operation, the area was hit by 1,238 air strikes by tactical bombers and 15 raids by B52s.

U.S. troops reported capturing 578 weapons, 7,622 enemy uniforms and large quantities of ammunition and equipment. More than 1,100 bunkers and 424 tunnels were destroyed, U.S.

B52 bombers made three raids on targets in South Vietnam today after hammering enemy positions in four raids Thursday.

Mayor Urges Support Of Band Concert Here On Thursday

Thursday has been proclaimed as "Band Day" in Big Spring.

Mayor Arnold Marshall put the weight of his office behind the Big Spring senior and junior high school bands as they present their first concert of this year.

The mayor urged all citizens to support this event out of pride for the bands, for their civic contributions to the community, and for the promotion and advertisement that the bands give to Big Spring.

The concert, set for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 2 in the Municipal Auditorium, is featuring the theme of "New Look." There will be new program approaches, including the Tijuana Brass group. Bill Bradley is the new director of the high school band.

Under the direction of Don Turner, the Runnels Junior High Band will perform as will the Goliad Junior High Band under Russell McKiski.

Plans call not only for the three groups, but for the three to come together in a finale.

Four Register For Insurance Seminar

AUSTIN—Among the 250 persons registered for the annual insurance seminar of the Texas Association of Insurance Agents scheduled here Feb. 5-8 are four Big Spring insurancemen: Jim Parks, Wendal Parks, Joe Pond and W. H. Reed.

The three-day accelerated course will be primarily concerned with insurance innovations and improved efficiency in fire, casualty and surety insurance agency management techniques, all at an advanced level.

Rio Farm Pickets Test Texas' Laws

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Demonstrating farm workers, standing side by side in a human wedge, failed in an attempt early today to keep a bus load of Mexican laborers from entering a gate at La Casita Farms.

The early morning demonstration came as the striking Starr County farm workers' numbers were increased by a number of University of Texas pupils, representatives of the Delano, Calif., branch of the Farm Workers Union, and two ministers.

SIX JAILED

Activity stepped up Thursday with the arrest of six persons in two incidents and union officials promised "much more of the same."

About 25 farm workers, six university students and other sympathizers lined up near all four gates leading into La Casita Farms to stage a demonstration in an attempt to test Texas' picketing laws.

Bill Chandler, a spokesman for the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, said the demonstration was an attempt to get what he called "a test case on rules which limit the number of pickets in front of an establishment."

'GREEN CARD WORKERS'

No arrests occurred during the incident.

A bus loaded with "green card workers" crossed the Rio Grande at Roma early today en route to La Casita. When the bus approached one of the gates guarded by only about five demonstrators, assistant farm manager Jim Rochester signaled the bus driver to enter the farm at that location.

Antonio Orndain, national secretary-treasurer of the union, and four other union members, suddenly drove up in the road in an automobile and jumped out, waving the bus driver aside.

KEEPS CREEPING

"Just keep your doors closed and go on through. If you hit them they're blocking the road," Rochester told the Mexican bus driver.

As the lumbering 32-passenger bus rolled to within about six inches of the side of the demonstrators' automobile, the demonstrator pulled his car from in front of the bus.

Waving their arms in the air and shouting, five demonstrators lined up in front of the creeping bus and in front of a pile of junk tires which blocked the road. The bus driver did not stop the motion of the bus and one by one the demonstrators moved out of the way.

'PRAYER VIGIL'

One elderly demonstrator slipped on one of the junk tires and kept himself from falling under the wheels of the bus by leaning on its fender.

The early morning demonstration came on the heels of an almost all-night "prayer vigil" held at the Starr County Courthouse to protest the arrest yesterday of four workers on charges of using abusive language.

Two of the demonstrators at the prayer vigil, including a minister, were arrested on charges of disturbing the peace late Thursday.

'GO HOME'

After deputies arrested two persons demonstrating outside the jail and courthouse, Chief Deputy Paul Pena told the nine others taking part, "You all go home or I'll have to arrest you."

Six men nevertheless stuck with their vigil at a late hour. Three women companions departed.

CHARGED PREACHER

Pena jailed the Rev. James Drake, 29, a Congregational church minister from Porterville, Calif., and Gilbert Padilla of Delano, Calif., on charges of disturbing the peace.

Officers arrested the first four men earlier Thursday on misdemeanor charges of using abusive language while picketing at a farm. The four were held in lieu of $200 bonds.

'NO JUSTICE'

One picket carried a hand-lettered sign outside this Rio Grande Valley city's jail early today. "There's no justice in Starr County," the sign said.

The labor union pickets, Benito Rodriguez, Reynaldo de la Cruz, and Benjamin R. Luna Jr., were charged with using abusive language as they talked to non-striking farm workers across a fence on a large farm near here.

East Berliners Love Songstress

BERLIN (AP) — American jazz songstress Ella Fitzgerald belted out tunes for East Berliners in a midnight performance Wednesday and they loved it.

The official East German news agency ADN said her success before a sold-out audience of 3,000 could be rivaled only by previous appearances of Louis Armstrong and French singer Juliette Greco.

Ella sang 20 songs, including the Berlin-origined "Mack the Knife."

Ships Collide In Heavy Fog

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Two ships collided in heavy fog early today off Smith Point Light some 60 miles north of here in the Chesapeake Bay, the Coast Guard reported.

A spokesman said the vessels involved were the Beaver State, a freighter owned by States Marine Corp., of Delaware, with home port in New York, and the Borodo, a tanker believed to be of Liberian registration.

The Coast Guard said the Indian merchant ship Jali Dari was on the scene and that both stricken ships are aground but apparently in no danger.

Visibility was reported to be only about 150 yards at the scene of the collision, near the Virginia-Maryland line off the bay's western shore.

The Borodo, inbound to Baltimore, radioed an SOS about 6:07 a.m., and reported it was sinking. The Coast Guard said the Beaver State reported the collision about 20 minutes later but said it had anchored about 2½ miles offshore.

Bill Takes Aim At Closed Meets

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Chet Brooks, Pasadena, introduced Wednesday a bill requiring government agencies at both state and local levels to hold all their meetings, with few exceptions, in public.

Brooks' bill is similar to legislation introduced in the House last week by Reps. Paul Floyd, Houston, and Bill Rapp, Raymondville.

Rapp and Floyd said Wednesday they would combine their two bills into one and work together for its passage.

Brooks, Rapp's and Floyd's bills are similar to one which passed the House during the 1965 legislature but died in the Senate.

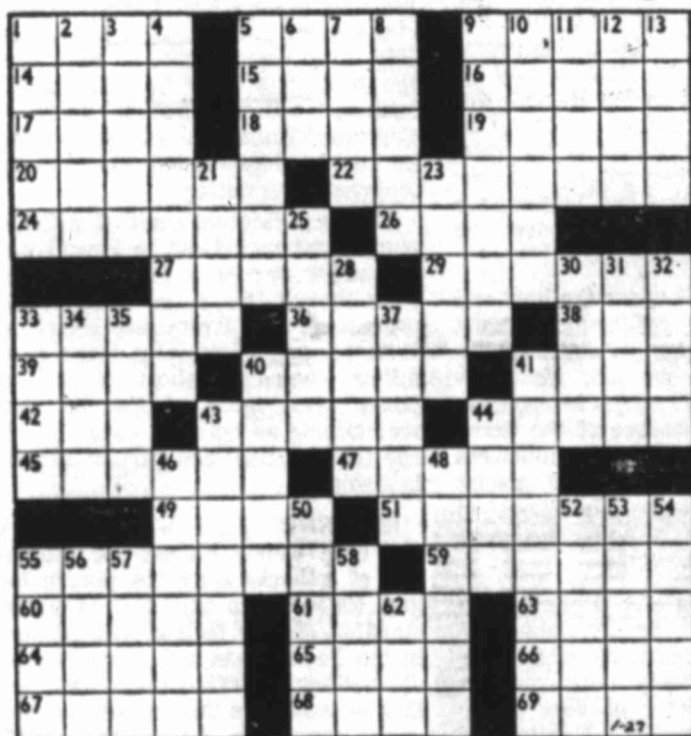

It provides fines for school boards, city councils, state agencies and county commissioners courts which conduct public business in closed sessions. Exceptions are grand juries, deliberations on real estate matters, personnel discussions and security matters.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said in a speech Tuesday night legislators should pass laws to protect the public's right to information about public business.

HONOR STUDENT KILLED

Two Young Men Charged In 'Senseless Shooting'

DALLAS (AP) — Police still tried to determine a motive today in questioning two young men accused of killing a 16-year-old honor student.

Homicide Capt. Will Fritz filed complaints Thursday night charging Harold Florow, 27, and Stephen Roach, 20, with murder.

The veteran peace officer put "a senseless shooting" label on the slaying of Mark Medlyn beside an East Dallas freeway

Tuesday night. A companion, Donald Ray Hall, 19, said Medlyn was shot after their car was forced to the curb by two men in another vehicle.

Fritz said Roach telephoned from Cleburne to tell police he wanted to give up. Florow, accompanied by a lawyer, walked into headquarters and surrendered.

Roach "must have changed his mind (about surrender) on his way in," Fritz decided. He reported that Roach leaped from a car near Midlothian while driving here with relatives. Dallas and Johnson County officers captured him 1 1/2 hours later after a chase at speeds up to 90 miles per hour.

Fritz said a lawyer representing the pair handed investigators a .22 caliber pistol. Young Hall told police earlier that after he and Medlyn were halted on the freeway, one of the men in the other car knocked him down twice. He spotted a gun in the other man's belt, he related, and yelled for Medlyn to run while he broke free to run for help.

There was a shot as Medlyn jumped from their car to flee and Hall darted across the freeway, the youth said. He returned soon afterward and found the body of Medlyn.

Blaze In Single Room Routs 100

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP)—Two men suffered injuries as fire in a single room routed about 100 guests from the Nassau Bay Motor Hotel in 37-degree weather today.

Clear Lake City Fire Chief

Leslie Aubuchon said the blaze started about 3 a.m. in a mattress, probably from a cigarette, and spread throughout the fourth floor room.

Three of the patrons were taken to a Texas City hospital.

Officials listed them as Allen Miller, 26, of Hermosa Beach, Calif., who suffered a back injury in jumping from a fourth story window; Isaac Stakem, 36, of Brentwood, N.Y., who was overcome by smoke, and Donald Parsons, 25, of Flushing, N.Y., dismissed after first aid.

Firemen confined the flames to the one room but there was smoke and water damage to the rest of that floor. The establishment, formerly known as the Wilbur Clark Motor Hotel, is one of the fanciest serving visitors to the Manned Spacecraft Center.

Pop Singer Kills Self

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — Pop singer Luigi Tenco, 27, killed himself today after he was eliminated from the San Remo Festival, Italy's biggest song competition.

Police said he fired a shot into his head in his hotel room after writing a brief note lamenting that he had "devoted the five best years of my life" to singing and writing songs.

"Everything caves in around me," he wrote.

Thugs Steal Deadly Loot

COOLEEMEE, N.C. (AP) — Two bandits may be carrying around some deadly loot — thinking they have a supply of drugs.

Druggist Edgar Hoyle said he found two masked men trying to open a safe in his drug store Thursday. One of the men pointed a gun and ordered him out of the store.

Hoyle said the men then scooped about three dozen small bottles from a shelf and fled.

"They apparently thought they were narcotics," Hoyle said, "but all contained poison — atrophine, strychnine, arsenic, and the like."

Odessa College Psychiatric Nurse Group At Hospital

This week opened the spring course in psychiatric nursing at the Odessa college, and the blue and white uniformed students will be a part of the Big Spring State Hospital staff until the nine-week course terminates.

Mrs. Dorothy Clader, assistant professor, is in charge of the psychiatric nursing course, and she is assisted by Frances Sanders, instructor, Mrs. Dana Overman, and Mrs. Harvala Richardson, assistant instructors.

The course was first started in the fall of 1962 to give the two-year nursing course at the Odessa college the advantage of actual experience in psychiatric nursing. This year there are 34 students who come to the hospital by bus for three days a week. The students attend classes in theory of psychiatric nursing as well as the actual experience of working with the patients. The staff from the Odessa college is assisted by the staff of the hospital. Each student is required to form an association with one patient in order that she may evaluate the condition of the patient and his (her) progress.

Are yours up to the task?

You probably follow the practice of having regular dental and medical check-ups because you have learned that when you neglect to do so an ache or a pain warns of something being wrong.

Your eyes, on the other hand, seldom complain, even when neglected. Eyes do change... sometimes gradually, and sometimes more rapidly than can be imagined.

Professional eye care is more important today than ever, because work, study, hobbies and other seeing tasks require constant close-range vision from eyes that were created primarily for distant seeing.

A Devotional For The Day

If then you have been raised with Christ, seek the things that are above. (Colossians, 3:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, we often speak about heaven but are living with an earthly mind. We lift our eyes to the sky and look into our own hearts, but do not see our brother and our sister in need. Open our eyes that we may see our task in this world—to be witnesses of Thy love; through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Still Exploding

Everyone who makes even a haphazard effort to keep in touch with what is going on knows that the world is in the throes of a "population explosion." The phrase is bandied about as a part of folk wisdom.

This is an improvement over the situation a few years ago, when there was little general awareness of the threat posed by high birth rates and declining death rates. But it is a fair judgment that even now, most people do not grasp how swiftly world population is rising, and have only a vague understanding of how this endangers the future of the human race.

The Population Reference Bureau's annual Data Sheet, just released, sharpens the focus. According to these authoritative figures, the number of people on earth rose by 65 million in the past year. That is an increase of 180,000 a day. World population now exceeds three and one-third billion; as of midsummer 1966 the figure was 3,346 billion. Presumably it has gone up another 32 million or so since then.

Three and one-third billion is a lot of people, but that is only the start. The phrase "population explosion" aptly describes what is happening now, for the first time in history. Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau, sums up thus: "If you took a million years for world population to reach the billion mark in 1800. In the intervening 166 years, world population more than tripled. So rapid has the acceleration in growth been that, as matters now stand, the next doubling will occur around the end of the century and the population would increase to more than nine billion in about 50 years." And a century from now? Experts predict that at the present rate of increase, population would reach 24 billion by 2066.

This picture effectively scotches any complacent notion that we really need feel no great sense of urgency. That is precisely what is required: A keen awareness that only swift, worldwide birth control action can avert a crisis—a lack of food and resources, an erosion of the quality of life—greater than any humanity has yet experienced. The United States, because of its unique place in the family of nations, has a responsibility to take the lead in this endeavor.

In Need Of Attention

Presidential assistant Bill D. Moyers' scouting tour of Latin America, in advance of a hemispheric summit meeting, seems likely to temper the rosy view of inter-American relations President Johnson expressed in a single optimistic paragraph in his State of the Union Message.

The President said "we have come a long way" in the inter-American effort for economic and social development since 1960. The Alliance for Progress has "moved dramatically forward." There is "new confidence" in "reform under democracy." Relative to pre-1960 conditions, perhaps a case can be made for that hopeful appraisal.

But the harsh facts seem to be that the Alliance for Progress, though not stalled, is seriously underachieving its objectives. Economic development is still lagging behind population growth. Social progress—especially land reform, housing, tax reform, education, health, employment—is far slower than popular expectations. Inflation, deteriorating foreign trade terms, mounting debt plague the region.

Furthermore there have been serious setbacks to the development of democratic institutions, notably in Argentina and Brazil. There is deep and widespread ill feeling toward the United States. Symptomatic of that was the Chilean senate's recent shocking denial of permission to President Eduardo Frei to visit the United States in February—a vote that ranged the political spectrum from far left to far right.

There is, finally, strong disapproval in Latin America of the United States' Asian policies and specifically the Vietnam war. Many other than Communists see it as another manifestation of "Yankee imperialism," still feared in Latin America, and others deplore the diversion of U.S. interest and resources from hemispheric cooperation.

It is not a pessimistic exaggeration to suggest that inter-American relations have drifted into a state of serious disrepair and require, despite the Vietnam war pressures, vigorously revived Washington attention.

No More Hero Buildups?

WASHINGTON — "Whatever happened to the snow job of yesterday?" asked the Returning Traveler, who'd been away from the U.S.A. for awhile. "It wasn't so long ago that you couldn't pass a newsstand or a book store without finding it covered with glistening puff jobs on public figures. Don't Americans get together and praise famous men any more?"

THERE HAS been a slight hiatus in eulogy, panegyric, plaudits, paean and hurrah, the Returning Traveler was told. The country seems to be going through a phase of sober, second-thoughting about the shoes and vest buttons of its celebrities.

"Clay felt? Stuffed shirts?" mused the bewildered Traveler. "They have always been with us. But something else is taking place. Can it be that the Kennedy Cult is on the wane?"

THE TRAVELER was reminded of the old adage which says you can carry a pitcher to the well once too often. Especially if the pitcher is filled with high-proof essence.

"I seem to remember," declared the Traveler, "that writers named Schlesinger and Sorensen, Salinger and Fay, Maude Shaw and Evelyn Lincoln carried such immense pitchers in a stately procession. The mistake seems to be that William Manchester fell on his face when he tried to double up as an official laureate of President Kennedy and also as a hired gun against President Johnson. You'd have to say that Manchester has caused the Kennedys to live in an atmosphere to which they are not accustomed."

THE TRAVELER was told that this situation may be more the spirit of the times than is usually understood. The people of the U.S.A. are looking for a new cast of oracles and heavy thinkers.

"EITHER THAT," observed the Returning Traveler, "or the people believe they've been hoodwinked for too long and find that they can get along without god-like figures for awhile. It's easy to understand that overexposure is creating some has-beens, but there seem to be no replacements in sight. At this time four years ago, with a presidential election in view, there was a Barry Goldwater to capture the imagination of one-third of the nation that always forms the automatic opposition."

THE TRAVELER was correct in observing that the country hadn't lately fixed a loving eye on any political personality. There are two three-term Republican governors, Romney and Rockefeller, who ought to be filling the vacuum created by the falling popularity of President Johnson. But Romney hasn't been able to convince anybody that he is sure there is a war on in Vietnam. And Rockefeller hasn't been very overwhelming in his chosen role of Republican king-maker. It seems remarkable that the idol-makers haven't gone to work on such solid performers as Gov. Rhodes of Ohio or Gov. Volpe of Massachusetts, but there seems no demand in the image market. The public just doesn't quite believe that there are real giants among us any more.

'THERE'S A COALITION I REALLY WORRY ABOUT'

James Marlow

Hoffa Might Spark Explosion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has had his trials and troubles but he has just cooked up something now which might cause an explosion.

The best way to follow the story is step by step.

In 1962 Hoffa won a mistrial in federal court in Tennessee on a charge of illegally accepting more than $1 million from a trucking firm. The wasn't the end of it. Then he was charged with tampering with the jury which freed him.

IN 1964 he was tried and convicted on this charge in federal court in Chattanooga and given an eight-year sentence. He appealed this to the Supreme Court which on Dec. 12, 1966, upheld his conviction.

But just about then New York's Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy — who had been attorney general at the time of Hoffa's two trials and conviction got into a hassle with J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI. They were in an argument over who had authorized — while Kennedy was attorney general — the use of wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping, or "bugging." Hoover said Kennedy did. Kennedy said this was untrue.

On Dec. 15 — three days after the Supreme Court had turned down Hoffa and in the midst of the Kennedy-Hoover dispute — William Loeb, publisher of the Union-Leader newspaper in Manchester, N.H., offered a $100,000 reward.

THIS WAS for proof of the use of wiretapping or eavesdropping by the federal government before or during Hoffa's court troubles in Tennessee. Court records at Hillsboro County registry of deeds in Nashua, N.H., show Hoffa's union pension fund loaned Loeb's newspaper $2 million in June, 1965, with a mortgage on the plant and equipment as security.

Loeb, offering the reward, said his newspaper "believes that in a large part the prosecution of Mr. Hoffa was motivated by personal spite by the then Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy, who now, in the opinion of this newspaper, stands revealed through the testimony of J. Edgar Hoover as one of the greatest wiretappers of all time."

Now, in an affidavit revealed Thursday, Loeb says that on Dec. 20, five days after denouncing Kennedy and offering the reward, he had a conversation with an assistant to Hoover, Cartha D. DeLoach.

LOEB SAYS DeLoach suggested to him that he tell Hoffa's lawyers that their best bet would be to "ask the Department of Justice (which Kennedy left in 1964) to conduct an investigation of wiretapping in connection with the various Hoffa trials."

DeLoach told him, Loeb says, he felt sure an investigation would turn up "extensive evidence" of wiretapping in connection with Hoffa's trials.

Further, Loeb says, DeLoach told him he would deny he had ever talked to Loeb about the matter if Loeb attempted to publish "this information."

There seems no doubt Loeb talked it over with Hoffa's lawyers because Thursday his affidavit, swearing he had told the truth about DeLoach, appeared in a brief Hoffa's lawyers filed with the Supreme Court, asking it to reconsider its decision against him last December.

HOFFA told the court he and two of his attorneys were subjected to eavesdropping and wiretapping during his 1964 jury-tampering trial. And he identified the wiretapper as Benjamin David Nichols, saying the latter had operated under the supervision of Walter Sheridan, a special consultant at the time to then attorney general, Kennedy.

Be Positive In Negative Way

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of people are in the dumps because they already have failed to live up to the noble New Year's resolves they made to change their lives for the better.

The trouble with most of them probably is that they set themselves impossible goals.

INSTANT reformation may be possible for saints but it is uncharacteristic of ordinary human beings. The first wise measure toward reformation isn't to make yourself any better — it's to keep yourself from getting any worse.

Set yourself achievable goals. Instead of resolving what you will do, decide what you won't do. Be positive in a negative way.

FOR EXAMPLE, I decided it would be a better world for me in 1967 if I firmly made up my mind not to do the following things:

Stuff a whale and exhibit it on a cross-country tour.

Learn any modern dance step.

Bet against the Green Bay Packers football team — even if I get 24 points.

Buy a race horse, an astrakhan hat, or a solid gold ear cleaner.

DRINK DRY martinis through a damp straw.

Attend any marijuana orgies. Read any magazine articles on how one's sex life can be made more interesting, or how one can get rich by investing in the stock market or raising chinchillas in the basement.

Take up the study of Yoga or Zen Buddhism in order to discover the wisdom of the mysterious East.

ACQUIRE any new diseases. The only sure way to stay healthy is to take care of the diseases you already have.

Run for congress — or a bus. Write any article saying dogs are superior to cats, or cats superior to dogs as pets.

So far, with the help of a firm will and a lot of inherited character, I've kept every one of my good resolutions for 1967.

To Your Good Health

Why She Didn't Get An Answer

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I wrote last summer but have not seen an answer. Explain the side effects of hormone tablets.

I am in my 50's and my doctor prescribed a hormone because of softening of the bones, osteoporosis, he called it. He said six to 12 months might be required before I can be free of considerable pain.

After reading an article on "Common Sense and Femininity Pills" I quit the medication. Of course I feel as bad as I did months ago, but I have not told the doctor I am not taking the hormones.

How dangerous is it, really?

—M.J.

You didn't get an answer because you didn't tell me what kind of hormones, and more important, because trying to list all the possible side effects is a fruitless undertaking for somebody who has been bitten by the "side-effects jitters."

Nearly every drug can have one or more "side effects," or unwanted results.

People should realize that side effects can occur, but too many people (you aren't the only one by any means) are being scared out of their wits.

That's NOT good.

In your frame of mind, Mrs. M. J., it's a fair bet that if I listed all the POSSIBLE side effects of a drug, you would promptly start having all of them.

What you should, and must, do I leave it up to your doctor to cope with side effects, if any. If you encounter trouble, tell him so he can judge whether to change, reduce or stop the drug. But until you can detect any real problems, stop torturing yourself about what MIGHT happen. Side effects are what can happen, which is quite an other thing from what will happen. Pharmaceutical firms are under government instructions to disclose known side effects of medications, and in some cases this requires listing un-occur only once in a million or several million cases.

Osteoporosis (loss of calcium from the bones) not only can be painful but incurs risk of fractures. The only sound treatment I know of entails an adequate diet and the use of hormones.

Rarely do side effects occur — but they can in some cases, and it is for those cases that the doctor is always on guard.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Cause and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

Taking A Second Look

Not long ago the only thing that could have made me happy was a proposal from J. Paul Getty—or a plane ticket out of this town.

Don't kid me. Sometime or other you've felt the same way. The town doesn't matter, but the time does. It could be any morning, but it's the one when you open your door and a suffocating fog of familiarity creeps across your consciousness — and you want to run.

RUN TO A place you've never seen — where your feet don't automatically step over that crack, and your hands don't know that certain doors pull out instead of push in.

Someone, with the tag of "oldtimer" said, "You bet I've felt that way, little lady, and when I do, I just get in my car and go for a drive and that takes care of it."

Which way to go? Instinct led me back to the places I knew first and had seen little of in recent years. The apartment house that had been the first home (long before there was talk of overbuilding) was still there though the original owner was not, and across the street the hospital, where my first child was born, had a new name—but the same doctor was bringing new life into the world—or keeping older ones from leaving it.

IN ANOTHER part of town was a home that came later. It was not far from a main thoroughfare and a convenient corner grocery. The store is still there, much bigger and better stocked, but the same family name is on the marquee and their friendliness hasn't changed.

The car nosed around corners, sniffing out the forgotten trails.

Pausing at the post office, I looked at the "new" courthouse and remembered the quaintness of the mass of red stone it had replaced. At the drugstore across the street, I ordered hot coffee just as I had on that Sunday 17 years ago when the decision had been made to live and rear my family here.

THE DIME was left on the counter. It was getting late, and there was more to see. Outside, I glanced at the lodge a doorway down (it's moving to its new facility soon) and drove on out by the small private school, where the youngsters had waved from the steps, and back by the church (now abandoned for a fine, new plant) where the pastor had counseled—and laughed—with me in the upper room.

Suddenly, I wanted to be home before dark.

Tired of this town? Linger and look around before you leave. It may be in your own back yard.

Inflation Hits The Government

WASHINGTON — Adam Clayton Powell casts a long shadow over the 90th Congress. The outcome of his sensational case can create a shock wave running through the Negro ghettos and the white communities violently agitated by the backlash.

It is possible that he will be finally denied his seat. House members report that not in years have they received mail so angry, vicious even, as that pouring in on the Powell issue from white constituents.

AS CONCERNED members realize, Powell's expulsion would give him the cloak of martyrdom which he would be only too happy to wear with all his bold indifference to the outward canons of proper conduct. If the committee named to hear his case and then the House itself takes this course the end result is as plain as day. In a special election in his Harlem district to fill the vacancy he would be re-elected by 95 per cent of the vote. As one New Yorker put it, "Anyone running against him had better have an armed bodyguard whenever he makes a public appearance."

EVEN THOUGH under the libel and contempt-of-court judgments against him he cannot enter his district without being thrown in jail, his overwhelming victory would be guaranteed. This is a measure of the fierce conviction among Powell's followers that he is being discriminated against because he is a Negro. The likelihood is that he would have no opposition at all in a special election.

THE MAIL in the Powell case comes from two deeply alienated poles of feeling. One is the white middle class, increasingly sullen and resentful at the threat of ever wider changes in the century-old pattern of separation between whites and blacks. The other is the Negro community aroused over what most feel is an injustice done because of race. This is for many a reluctant conclusion, since they realize the notorious nature of Powell's defiance of rules, regulations, morals.

Troubling some House members with long memories is evidence showing how the treatment accorded Powell is in marked variance with other violators in the past. In 1956 Rep. Thomas J. Lane (D., Mass.) was convicted of having evaded $38,542 in income taxes, sentenced to four months in jail and fined $10,000. Not only did Lane return to his House seat after serving his sentence but his seniority was left unchallenged.

LANE HAD SERVED in the House for 14 years and this made him the third-ranking Democrat on the House Judiciary Committee with its far-reaching powers over the whole judicial system. Re-elected in November, 1956, Lane was believed to have been the first man ever to serve a jail sentence and continue to serve in Congress. Taking his seat once again he kept his high-ranking place on the Judiciary Committee.

This is in flagrant contrast with the punishment meted out to Powell who has never served a prison sentence even though this is no fault of the process servers. Every member of the House knows of at least three committee chairmen whose abuses of power rival those of Powell. But, maintaining an outward facade of respectability, they are part of the establishment.

SPEAKER John W. McCormack has been widely blamed for the series of setbacks since the session began. He seems to have had no understanding of how feeling was running in the Powell case and, therefore, he did nothing to try to circumvent the kind of showdown that can heat up the racial conflict in the months ahead, with Powell usurping the role of martyred leader. McCormack has another chance if he can insure that Powell is properly disciplined rather than awarded a martyr's crown.

Implications Of The Powell Case

WASHINGTON—Inflation is certainly expensive for the average man.

But it is getting to be costly for the government, too. The biggest anti-inflation subsidy ever supplied by the government—4.5 billion dollars—has just been recommended by President Johnson. It is intended to help retired people to offset the rise in the cost of living and the decrease in the purchasing power of the dollar.

THE AVERAGE worker who retires today under Social Security today draws $4 dollars a month, which is nearly four times as much as the average of 22 dollars which the individual received in 1940 when retirement benefits were initiated. Today's beneficiary under Social Security, however, is not four times as well off as the worker who retired in 1940. For the cost of living since then is up about 135 per cent, and the dollar has lost 57 cents of its buying power. Today's dollar is worth only 43 cents in terms of its purchasing power in 1940. This means that a retirement benefit today of $4 dollars will buy only about as much as 36 dollars would have bought nearly three decades ago.

BUT EVEN considering a more recent period—namely, what has happened since 1960—the average retirement benefit then was 70 dollars and is now 84 dollars. So, while the retirement payments have been increased by 14 dollars, higher living costs already have absorbed about one-half of that sum. This is why the President has proposed an average rise of 15 per cent in Social Security payments so as to protect beneficiaries for some time ahead. It's a form of insurance against further inflationary costs.

IN AN INFLATIONARY economy, the government finds itself obligated to protect those groups whose incomes do not keep pace with the rise in living costs. This is happening not only in Social Security but in welfare and relief of all kinds. Thus, aid to the poor has risen from 9.9 billion dollars in 1960 to an estimated 25.6 billion dollars for fiscal year 1968.

Many people, however, who do not get any federal handouts have been hurt by the rising cost of living. Lots of persons, for example, who are retired from state or local government payrolls or are living on private pensions do not get any increase in income after retirement starts.

FORTUNATELY for many workers, the minimum wage is to rise on Feb. 1 from $1.25 an hour to $1.40 an hour for most workers. This will be an increase of about 12 per cent, or nearly double the rise in the consumer-price index since September 1963, when the current minimum wage became effective. Obviously, however, in the interim, many workers will have been hurt by the inflation.

APPROXIMATELY 86 million taxpayers today are paying increased Social Security taxes in order to provide more income for the 23 million individuals who are already drawing benefits. But the persons who are paying the high taxes today to help the elderly cannot be sure, when they retire, that the purchasing power of what they receive from Social Security will be adequate, or how much of their retirement benefits will have been diminished by the decline in the purchasing power of the dollar.

Plainly, inflation is not just a trite word in the economic vocabulary of the day. It is affecting vitally the future of many a citizen who little realizes what lies ahead as the dollar declines.

Airlift, Penny Parade Scheduled

Two more major events of the annual March of Dimes campaign to fight birth defects are scheduled for the weekend — the Penny Parade Saturday on KWAB-TV and the March of Dimes Airlift Sunday at the Howard County Airport.

Thursday, residents drinking coffee in 11 local restaurants gave the effort a big push as all coffee money was turned over to the March of Dimes. No total collection was available this morning, but O. T. Brewster, chairman of the event, said the restaurants reported good results and nice boost for the campaign.

The popular Penny Parade, station manager Bob Galbraith said, will feature Bruce Frazer, Brenda Murphy and Friendly Frank and be aired between 6-6:30 p.m. However, he pointed out, the program will be put on videotape and all youngsters not appearing on home screens Saturday will be seen Sunday when the tape is played back during the day.

Counselor Group Names Rev. Polk

The Rev. Robert F. Polk, pastor of the First Baptist Church, has been elected to membership in Alpha Kappa Omega, national professional society of pastoral counselors. National headquarters are in Luverne, Ala., and Jesse Gann is the executive secretary of the society.

Rev. Polk came to Big Spring in October 1961 and has been active in local and community affairs in addition to serving his pastorate and denomination. He has served as a member of various committees of the Chamber of Commerce and was a trustee of the United Fund. Currently he is a member of the Board of directors of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Birdwell Choir To Give Concert

The Birdwell Lane Baptist Church choir will present a concert at 5 p.m. Sunday, and everyone is invited to hear this program.

Several numbers will be sung by the entire choir, and there will be special songs by the sextet, quartet, trio and a duet. The choir is directed by Charles Grizzard, with Mrs. Grizzard at the piano and Mrs. Cal Sims at the organ. The Rev. Cal Sims is the pastor.

Artificial Hearts For Humans Cinch?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Implanted artificial hearts for human beings are inevitable, says the president of the American Heart Association.

Miniature atomic reactors to provide the power to keep an artificial heart beating are already in the testing stage, Dr. L.E. January said in an interview Thursday, January said such artificial hearts may be available within the lifetime of adults now living.

"We do know that qualified medical authorities are sure that such hearts are not only feasible but inevitable," he added. He noted that eliminating heart created by atomic reaction will be a problem.

Promotions Are Listed

READING AND GRADES

SAN ANTONIO — Educators constantly stress the fact that if a student wants good grades in school, he must read and understand what he reads.

"The most frequent cause of high school and college dropouts is the inability to complete the required reading," said Dr. Cecil J. Mullins, the inventor of the Optimization Speed Reading technique.

The Optimization method has been producing reading speeds of several thousand words per minute for over ten years.

The accomplishments of some of Optimization's previous students sound like something out of science fiction. One 13-year-old lad reads books for his public school assignments in six to 10 minutes. His grades have jumped from barely passing to straight A's and B's after taking the course.

Another ex-student, a 35-year-old public school teacher, had made less than average grades in his undergraduate work. He went back to graduate studies after developing, through Optimization, the ability to read an average non-fiction book in 10 to 15 minutes. His first semester at University of Texas he was awarded straight A's and a chance for a scholarship.

"I know the results sound incredible," Dr. Mullins said, "but we have a standing offer whenever Optimization is taught for anyone who is undecided to come to our first meeting free of any obligation, to see for himself what the course will be like."

Dr. Cecil Mullins, renowned Educational Psychologist, states that the faster you read, the more you comprehend. "Fifteen years ago," he continued, "I became intrigued with the tremendous possibilities of the human mind. I found that by teaching students to read with greater speed and concentration, I was able to make them read books in as little as fifteen minutes with better comprehension than they would ever have been able to in eight to 10 hours. It didn't matter whether the books were fictional history, or of a technical nature. A doctor can devour medical books, a lawyer legal matters, etc., at unprecedented and often unbelievable speeds."

Dr. Mullins' methods were so successful that he created the OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COURSE. Taught in 12 two hour sessions, OPTIMIZATION GUARANTEES the student will read at least 1000 words a minute or a book in an hour or less with good comprehension. Craddock Will Chair C-C Hospital Project

COLORADO CITY (SC)—The selection of Jay Craddock as city's purchase of the hospital, including the original purchase with warrants at six per cent, and their replacement by bonds with interest at 4.42 per cent.

The hospital district must be created by the legislature and then approved by a vote of persons living in the proposed district.

If the city remains the sole owner of the hospital, Hunter said, it will be supported by taxes on a valuation of $9 million, but if the district is voted, taxes will be spread over a valuation of about $25 million.

When news breaks anywhere in the far flung combat areas of Vietnam, you can pinpoint the exact places involved if you have this comprehensive and detailed new Hammond map, offered for sale now as a public service.

Families of boys in Vietnam will want it to hang on their wall, as will every intelligent newspaper reader who wants to keep in touch with the explosive situation in southeast Asia.

Printed in handsome full color on heavy paper of high quality, this 21x29 inch map folds compactly to fit in a handbag, desk drawer or glove compartment.

Da Nang, Hue, Chu Lai and hundreds of other places are shown, including major air bases, United States marine and army landings, roads, railroads, mountain passes, falls and rapids, rivers and other topographical features that help you understand the strategy of the fighting.

Besides the large detail map embracing North and South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, there are smaller maps showing elevations, Communist dominated countries, and the continent of Asia as a whole; also an economic map of southeast Asia spelling out the agricultural, industrial and power resources of individual countries. Another "extra" is a chronology of events since World War II. An atlas type index lists and locates cities, towns and physical features in North and South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

The map is produced by C. S. Hammond & Company, a leading organization in its field. Get your copy today.

Highland Center Blaze Causes Smoke Damage

The fire at Carolyn's Gift and Bridal Shop, in the Highland Shopping Center Thursday evening, caused heavy smoke damage throughout the center, but little fire damage from the blaze.

Reported shortly after 6 p.m., Fire Marshal A. D. Meador said the fire was apparently caused by a cigarette falling into some trash boxes in the storeroom of the bridal shop. No one was injured in the fire, and Meador said trucks answered the call from two stations.

He said the heavy smoke damage was due to a main vent system and a back hallway leading to other shops.

"Smoke filled the hallway and vents spreading to the other shops," the fire marshal said. Mrs. C. C. Martin, operator of the Coin-Op Laundry, reported the fire. "Smoke started coming through the vents of the ceiling," she said, "and then it started coming through the back hallway. I realized the fire must be coming from another store instead of the laundry. I called the operators of Don's Cleaners and the operator of Carolyn's Gift Shop and told them of the smoke."

Firemen arrived at the laundry and verified the fire wasn't in the laundry, and began searching for the source of the smoke. Smoke was coming through every vent in one section of stores and coming out of vents on the roof.

The owner of Carolyn's Gift and Bridal Shop, Mrs. Carolyn Dodson, arrived and opened the door to her store. She entered about half-way, but she was overcome by the smoke and excitement, and was helped out by Police Sgt. D. W. Day.

An unidentified man managed to make his way to the back of the shop and found the fire in the back room. Firemen were called down from the roof, and in a few minutes, the fire was out.

"The fire started in the trash boxes, spread to the shelves, and up to the ceiling," Meador said.

Other shops with smoke damage included Chateau de Colifours Beauty Shop, Fabric Mart, Gray Jewelers, Seaboard Loans, Caudill's Dress Shop, Ward's, Don's Cleaners No. 2, Martin's Coin-Op Laundry, Kent Morgan's office, Chub Jones Agency, and Furr's Cafeteria.

After the fire was snuffed out and fans had been turned up to remove the smoke, a beauty operator said, "we had a customer getting her hair fixed when the smoke started filling our shop. She took the operator to her house to finish the job."

"When the people heard a rumor of fire and smelled the smoke, no one panicked. Everyone just hurriedly finished their meal and went outside to watch the excitement," a cafeteria worker said.

Mrs. R. L. Parker, friend of Mrs. Dodson, praised firemen for their quick arrival, fast extinguishing of the fire, and the cleanup job on the burned contents.

"There doesn't seem to be any damage to the blue carpet or any of the contents of the outer shop," Mrs. Dodson said. She thanked the tired firemen preparing to leave. Meador, while leaving the shop with Mrs. Dodson, found a penny and gave it to her for luck. The tear-eyed Mrs. Dodson started laughing and left with a smile and a penny.

Webb Airmen To Be Honored By C-C Group

The Webb AFB honor airmen and their wives will be complimented with dinner at the Holiday Inn this evening by members of the Base - Community Division of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

M. Sgt. Bobby Eiland, who was selected "airman of the year" and the five runners-up will be honor guests. The five runners-up include SM. Sgt. Frank L. Hinecker, T. Sgt. Raymond Lagor, S. Sgt. Joe T. Smith, S. Sgt. Larry J. Frick, and Airman I.C. James Loyless.

All six will receive honor theatre tickets for the Saturday evening show at the Ritz from Ike Robb.

Sgt. and Mrs. Eiland will be guests of the Holiday Inn in a suite Saturday night and Sunday, including meals. In addition, they will be furnished a new Chevrolet to use for the weekend by Pollard Chevrolet Co.

did not look in their direction.

An estimated 200 students marched in a similar protest past Rusk's hotel late Thursday night while he was at the dinner in his honor.

Asia dominated his address to the legislators. He said American armed forces are trying to "prevent another great war, and the supreme goal of our foreign policy is a durable peace."

KISSED LUCI

The United States is "fighting in Vietnam," he said, "because we have not forgotten the lesson of the tragic 1930s... the lesson that was foremost in the minds of the authors of the United Nations charter... the lesson that one aggression leads to another."

"The United States cannot run away from its commitments. If either our adversaries or our friends should begin to doubt that the United States will honor its alliances, the result could be catastrophe."

In the audience as he spoke were Luci Nugent, President Johnson's younger daughter, and her husband, Pat, who live in Austin. Rusk kissed her on the cheek as he left the House chamber.

Guild Founder Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Kenneth Thomson, one of the founders of the Screen Actors Guild, died Thursday after a short illness. Thomson, then an actor, and his wife, Alden Gay Thomson, former actress, met with four other actors in 1933 and generated the idea of an actors' union. Thomson, who was 68, was born in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Credit Union Names Staff

Members of the Big Spring State Hospital Credit Union met Thursday night to elect directors and committee members. Walter L. Widger has been named president; Nolan H. Stanley, vice president; Mrs. Sylvia M. Gehgolt, secretary; assistant treasurer; Mrs. Susie M. Grant, treasurer; Mrs. Mary A. Hughes, director and membership chairman; Charlie S. Volght, director-collections officer; Carl Morrow, director.

On the credit committee are K. Miller, chairman, Mrs. M. D. Thomas, and L. Z. Roberts. Those named to the supervisory committee are Ed K. Fisher, chairman, Carl B. Mangum, and Carl Morrow.

The number of loans made this year were 432 for $208,734, compared to 1965's of 204 for $120,618. Outstanding loans amounted to 199 for $105,441 compared to 1965's of 158 for $74,417.

The number of loans since organized has been 1,676 for $621,835. The number of shareholders are 324 for $81,832, with a 5.0 dividend for $3,420.

Fisherman Dies From Exposure

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—A fisherman died from exposure and his companion lay near death today after their motorboat stalled and they spent the night in open water on the Lake o' the Pines.

Dead was J. W. Sanders, 68, of Kilgore. In critical condition at a Longview hospital today was John King, 74, of Turpin, Okla.

Mrs. Wayne Woliver, justice of the peace, ruled that Sanders died of exposure. The temperature dropped to 28 degrees in the area overnight, and observers said it would have been colder than that on the lake surface.

Wreck Victim Still Critical

Condition of Mrs. Sharon Walls, 20, gravely injured in a one-car accident at noon Thursday, continued critical today at the Cowper Hospital and Clinic.

Surgeons said that Mrs. Walls, who was driving a pickup truck which turned over, suffered extremely serious skull fractures, a fractured pelvis and a broken ankle. She was unconscious when brought to the hospital and continues in the same state. No surgery has been attempted in her case. She has been given several blood transfusions.

Mrs. Walls, with her 5-year-old brother, Gerald Dunlap, was travelling west on IS 20. The pickup suddenly left the road and turned over. Sheriff A. N. Standard, who investigated the wreck, said it was possible gusty winds which were blowing at the time may have been responsible for the driver losing control of her vehicle.

The young boy suffered head injuries, but is making satisfactory recovery, the hospital reported.

Mrs. Walls is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dunlap, 3704 Connally. Her address is listed as 313 E. 6th Street, Colorado City.

Civilians Get Service Awards

Two 10-year service emblems and certificates, and one sustained superior performance award were presented to civilian employees in the Civil Engineer Division at Webb AFB Monday.

Maj. Francis D. Noonan, base civil engineer, made the presentations.

Mrs. Ernestine R. Hammack received the 10-year service emblem. She has worked at Webb for 8 1/2 years.

Wayne H. Parker received the other 10 year service award. He has worked at Webb since September, 1961, as a carpenter.

Rosie L. Hammack received the superior performance award. Miss Hammack has worked as a clerk in the CE Control Center since April, 1958.

Thieves, Burglars Take A Rest

Burglars and thieves took a rest Thursday. Only one theft was reported to police. Chester Privitt, Anthony Construction Co., reported that several 15 foot joints of 3/4 inch copper pipe had been ripped from the new school auditorium with a water released causing $75 damage to the building, and 200 feet of welding lead was also taken. The stolen items were valued at $240.

Williams Sheet Metal, 811 N. Benton, reported boys throwing rocks at the building. When officers arrived, the boys were gone.

Rescue Efforts Continue Into Night

Working into the night under floodlights, rescue workers continue to dig into rubble of building that collapsed yesterday in mid Manhattan. Three men were known dead and two others were still entombed early today and believed to be dead. The building, a four-story apartment house, was under demolition. Broadway is at the left. (AP Wirephoto)

'I Thought This Is It'

NEW YORK (AP) — "I thought 'This is it, my God, this is it!'" said William Ferrell. "I yelled, 'Oh, Lord, Oh, Lord, someone help me! Please!'"

There was a cracking sound. Then a loud boom. Bricks and beams rained downward. A cloud of white dust rolled through the area.

Ferrell, 33, was one of 10 men working inside a century-old, four-story apartment house under demolition in mid-Manhattan when the building collapsed Thursday.

Tom Marr's Dad Dies Thursday

Word has been received here of the death in St. Anthony's hospital in Amarillo Thursday of L. H. Marr, 55, grandfather of Jason Marr of Big Spring. Mr. Marr had been ill a long time. He had been an Amarillo resident for 15 years and was an employee of Semco, Inc., at the time of his death.

Services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday at the Amarillo Fairview Baptist Church. Rev. McGary Ford officiating. Burial will be in the Llano cemetery under the direction of the School-Gordon Funeral home.

Survivors, in addition to his wife, include a son, Tom, of Verdun in collision with C. Richard Bruton Jr., Rt. 1, at Fourth and Tulane.

Pre-Watering, Fertilizer Help Return Heavy Yields

LAMESA — The grain sorghum demonstration on the Dale Merrick farm which showed a rather dramatic increase by fertilizing also has shown profitable results from pre-watering.

Substantial fertilizing, plus a 6-in. pre-watering, boosted production by 1,115 over a plot which had no pre-watering and one-third less fertilizer. It was 2,129 pounds more than a plot which received neither pre-water nor fertilizer.

Lee Roy Colgan, Dawson County agricultural agent, calculated (based on $1.65 cwt grain) that the pre-watered and heavier fertilized tract returned a net gain of $6.40 per acre over the fertilized but unwatered plot.

He cautioned, however, that this was a one-year test and that operators should be careful about applying this to conditions in any year. The past year, from a moisture standpoint, was unusual.

"Remember to study these reports with the idea in mind that this happened on one individual farm, under this farmer's conditions and the condition of 1966 weather," he said. "They may not mean that it would be worth changing a good practice on your farm that already has been proven. We normally feel it takes three to five years for a demonstration practice to be fully tested."

In the demonstration, one tract was given a 60-0-0 fertilizing plus the 6-in. pre-watering, and it turned out 4,041 pounds of grain per acre. Another traced, and believed to be dead. Rescue workers sighted his body under tons of debris and were cutting a shaft through the rubble to reach him.

THOUSANDS WATCH

Ferrell was one of five men pulled alive from the 50-foot pile of rubble shortly after the building collapsed at 1 p.m.

Thousands of persons gathered near 54th Street just east of Broadway to watch more than 300 fire police and hospital workers dig their way through the debris, brick by brick, in an effort to free those entombed.

Stephen Wojcik, one of those pulled alive from the debris, quipped to photographers as he was being carried away on a stretcher: "Take a good picture of me." He died less than an hour later of his injuries.

'I'M FALLING'

Ferrell spoke as he lay in a hospital, blood plasma flowing into an arm.

"I felt the floor sliding," he recalled. "Something I remember was when I said to myself, 'I know I'm falling, I'm falling.' I'm dropping to the ground. The next thing I remember was when I opened my eyes."

"I saw a little bit of light. I yelled, 'Oh Lord! Oh, Lord, someone help me. Please.' I was in about three feet I think."

Minor Accident

One minor traffic accident occurred Thursday. Lester Verduin was in collision with C. Richard Bruton Jr., Rt. 1, at Fourth and Tulane.

Bids Opened On Road

Contract for rebuilding FM 700 from Goliad west and north to US 80, a multimillion dollar project, was scheduled to be awarded at Austin today.

The huge job, which would change the present road from a two lane to a four lane highway and provide an overpass on US 87 over FM 700 at the south edge of the city, has been in the planning stage for several years.

The county spent nearly $400,000 for needed right of way. The project calls for the road to follow a new course northwest across the Edwards property, when it reaches the National Guard Army and to join US 87 near the Sands Motel.

The overpass which will carry US 87 traffic over FM 700 on the south end of Gregg Street will cost half a million dollars.

GI NO LONGER LONELY Cheer-Up Letter Sparks Marriage

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost a year ago, Marine Cpl. Richard A. Mazzochi Jr., 21, who was serving in Vietnam, received about 4,000 letters after writing his hometown newspaper that his fellow Marines were not receiving any mail.

Mazzochi distributed the letters to his buddies, but decided to take some for himself, even though he was receiving mail from his family. One of them was a cheer-up letter from Margaret Bai, 18, who like Mazzochi is from the New York City Borough of Queens. He had never met her, however. She was one of 10 girls to whom he decided to write.

'KISSED ME'
Mazzochi has long since forgotten the others. Today, he and Margaret are married.

After a regular exchange of letters since last March, Mazzochi returned home last Nov. 19, and called Margaret at Queen of Apostles College in Harriman, N.Y., where she was a freshman. He then drove there to keep a date with her.

"All of a sudden Margie came running out of the building," Mazzochi recalled. "She ran right up to me and kissed me. And I knew who she was."

They were married Dec. 16 by a judge. They kept their marriage secret for a few weeks, then told their parents.

CHOW SECOND
Thursday, the newlyweds left for the Marine Air Base at Beaufort, S.C., where Mazzochi will be stationed for the remaining 58 days he has to serve before becoming a civilian. His wife has dropped out of school.

"She didn't want to stay away from him," said Mazzochi's mother, Mrs. William Cooper. When Mazzochi returns, he and his wife will stay with Mrs. Cooper until they find an apartment and he establishes himself in a job. He also plans to attend college on the GI bill while working.

Mazzochi's mother said that he wrote a letter last February to the Long Island Press, where he once worked as a carrier, complaining that his buddies did not receive mail and it depressed them.

They would much rather receive mail than have chow, he wrote.

Then came the letter from Margaret.

'Time Bomb' Kills 10 GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — A puzzling tropical disease nicknamed the "Vietnamese Time Bomb" has stricken 26 U.S. servicemen, killing 10, in the war zone since May 1965, the Army surgeon general's office said Thursday.

The infection sometimes exists in a dormant, smoldering state for up to six years or more and then suddenly kills its victim, Col. Ralph Singer of the preventive medicine section told a newsmen.

He said doctors in all U.S. Army hospitals had been alerted to watch for it among patients with difficult to diagnose symptoms. And, by implication, he warned civilian doctors to be on the alert for it among troops returning to civilian life from South Vietnam.

'MELIOIDOSIS'

The malady, which most commonly attacks the lungs with pneumonia-like symptoms, also can affect wide areas of the body including the heart.

It is technically known as "melioidosis," a Greek word for "distemper of asses," because it usually affects animals — primarily cattle, sheep and horses.

The malady is caused by a bacterial germ of the "pseudomonas" family — one that lives in moist soil, primarily in Southeast Asia.

Singer said the infection is not transmissible from man to man and therefore can not result in epidemics.

GERM SWALLOWED

He said the germ can enter the body through an open wound or can be swallowed. For example, one case occurred in a helicopter crew chief who apparently swallowed the germ when blades of his copter stirred up the water and mud in a rice paddy over which it hovered.

The disease actually has been known since 1912, when it was discovered in Southeast Asia. Cases also have occurred in Australia, Panama, Guam, South America and the West Indies.

There were a few cases among American troops in World War II, when the fatality rate was 80 per cent, Singer said. But since World War II, the antibiotic drug chloromycetin has reduced the mortality rate to 20 per cent at present.

The 26 cases diagnosed during the current conflict were spotted at Valley Forge, Pa. Army Hospital; Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver, Colo.; and at Walter Reed Army Hospital in the nation's capital, Singer said.

Nominee May Win Relatively Speaking

EAST ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Republican nominee Pat Pullano figures it may be easier, relatively speaking, for him to win in the March Village Board election than other candidates.

Although this village has 8,500 residents, 150 are Pullano's relatives, most of voting age.

Kiwanians Set Pancake Date

Big Spring Kiwanis Club's annual pancake supper—an event presented each year for two decades or more—will be on Feb. 17 in the Howard County Junior College Student Union building. Jim Thompson is general chairman for the event, and he said Thursday that tickets will be on sale within a week.

These annual pancake suppers are staged to provide funds for the Kiwanis Club's work with underprivileged children.

Program for the luncheon meeting of the club Thursday was presented by teachers and students of Rannels Junior High School.

Morris Farrow, biology teacher, Mrs. Sue Wilbanks, homemaker, and four students, Robert Dennis, Diana Langley, Stephanie Dickens and Wanda Williams, told in detail unusual and sometimes amusing experiments the students performed with rats to prove the need for proper diets.

"A textbook," said Mrs. Wilbanks, "definitely stated that rats did not show niacin deficiency. Our experiments clearly demonstrated that this statement is incorrect."

The students told of the maze of work that had to be carried out to make the experiment workable and how, as the weeks passed, they learned the rats were possessed of personalities which made them individually interesting. Each student developed a liking for individual rats, they said.

The program was illustrated with slides and with charts showing the effects of the diets on the rats.

A program of this type has not heretofore been attempted, in so far as can be determined, at junior high level, Farrow said.

Opening lead: Jack of ♠ Adverse distribution in a side suit cost South his slam contract in spades, when he discovered the bad news too late.

West opened the jack of diamonds, the queen was played from dummy, East covered with the king, and South won the trick with the ace.

Trumps were drawn with three pulls and then declarer cashed the three top hearts in order to discard his diamond loser.

Now South was ready to play the club suit. He led a club from dummy and put up the ace. This was a safety play to protect against a singleton king in the West hand. If the clubs are divided three-two, declarer's contract is safe, for he can afford to give up one trick in the suit. When West showed out discarding a heart, South could not avoid the loss of two clubs, and he conceded defeat.

Altho we have no criticism to make of declarer's handling of the clubs, his timing was faulty. If he had tested the suit earlier, he would have learned of the adverse distribution in time to take measures to overcome the unkind fate.

After trumps are drawn, it is suggested that declarer cash the ace of clubs before he plays the hearts. If only small clubs appear, he may cash the high hearts to discard his diamond loser, and then turn his attention back to clubs.

When West shows out on the ace of clubs, however, it becomes apparent that one heart discard will not be sufficient. In order to salvage the contract, South requires two shuffs. His only chance is to cash the king of hearts and on the next round, finesse North's ten. When this play succeeds, declarer can dispose of two losers on dummy's ace and queen. He concedes one trick to the opposition and claims his slam.

A LOVELIER YOU

Oils Are Needed By Reducers For Health

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Lovely asks: What exactly are unsaturated oils? Why are they recommended to reducers? Are they low-calorie?

The Answer: No, unsaturated oils are not low in calories. All fats contain around 100 calories per tablespoon—more calories by far than the same measure of any other food in its raw state.

Obviously the calorie count of fat is what makes it so fattening. Everyone needs some fat, however, for the production of energy, but much less than most of us consume. We seldom stop to consider that there's fat in almost everything we eat—in the leanest beef and buttered squash, for instance. Unsaturated oils are unhydrogenated vegetable oils. The most easily obtained are corn, olive, safflower, soybean and peanut. They are recommended to reducers, and everyone else, because they contain a fatty acid called linoleic in varying amounts. (Peanut and olive oil contain less than the others on the list.) Linoleic acid is essential to good hair and skin. On low rations, a reducer needs its benefit to keep the skin and hair conditioned. One tablespoon per day, used in cooking or in salad dressing, is sufficient. Indeed, the limit! A dieter's total fat allotment is between one and two tablespoons.

As a finish let's discuss saturated animal fats. Except for butter with its vitamin A, animal fats offer f-a-t.

Named Top Clubwoman

Mrs. Earl Zetsche was named outstanding clubwoman of the year at the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Junior Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. Howard Churchill, 2718 Cindy.

Mrs. Zetsche will represent the local club at the district convention in Midland in May. Mrs. Jim Butler and Mrs. Wayne Henry presented the program on decoupage. They exhibited several pictures and demonstrated two techniques for antiquing them. Members were given sheets of instruction on the process.

Mrs. Henry presided and Mrs. Joe Horton announced a dance to be held at Cosden Country Club Feb. 4 to benefit the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Morris Rhodes, 1711 Alabama, Feb. 8. Mrs. Albert Donaldson and Mrs. Roy Webb were introduced as new members, and Mrs. J. R. Reddon and Mrs. Donald Lester were guests.

Ernie Kehrs Honored At Party

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kehrs were honored with a farewell party and miscellaneous shower Monday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, 502 Scott. The Kehrs are moving to Baird following his retirement from the Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, Mrs. Logan Grider, Mrs. C. D. Herring, Mrs. Earl Wilson and Mrs. Beulah Morrison.

Yellow linen, overlaid with an ecru lace cloth covered the refreshment table and silver candelabra holding yellow candles flanked an arrangement of yellow roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Forty-five guests attended.

Winner In Contest

Mrs. Richard Thompson, 3219 11th Place, has been named a prize winner in Wallace Silversmith's national sterling silver sweepstakes, after competing with thousands of contestants over the country. The prize, a sterling silver place setting in the Wallace pattern of her choice, was presented by Joe Blum of Blum's Jewelers.

Inspiration Players Will Present Drama At Chapel

The Inspiration Players, a professional touring repertory company, will present the Edmond Rostand classic comedy, "Cyrano de Bergerac," at the Webb AFB Chapel Sunday at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge, and all seats are unreserved.

The Inspiration Players, who have made it their personal goal to return drama to its best to houses of worship, are composed of professional actors accustomed to making their living in the theatre. They perform their plays in the chapel without sets or props, asking the audience not only to accept the drama, but to utilize their imagination in providing the settings. The only physical theatrical devices they use are colorful and authentic costumes.

Claude Phillips plays the part of the famous Cyrano. Before joining the Inspiration Players, he was for eight years actor-director of Drama-in-the-Church.

The leading lady is played by B. J. Gallow. Only 22, Miss Gallow is already a veteran stage actress on both coasts. Also in the cast are Claudia Lauren, Steve Camp and Walter Hill. Miss Gallow is the costume designer for the group.

Cyrano has been specifically adapted for performance in the Chapel Sanctuary. The running time of the play is approximately one hour and ten minutes, noted Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Robert Deming, who has arranged for the special program at Webb this weekend.

ANSWER CARRIES WITH IT IRREVOCABLE COMMITMENT

When Peter answered Jesus' pointed question, "But whom say ye that I am?" he hesitatingly replied: "The Christ of God." In considering the International Sunday School lesson, one realizes that in this confession, Peter — as do all who share it — made a commitment.

Jesus probably propounded the question because the disciples had to be willing to practice the commitment which He called for. And yet, He charged that they "tell no man that thing." The Lord was not engaged in a popularity contest; His course was to be one involving self-denial and suffering.

Some basic reservations in following Christ are involved in the inquiries who injected delays or escapes into their commitments. Christ answered directly, seeking a clear-cut decision. He pulled no punches as to the cost, for "to be fit for Christ's service, one must have a steady vision and a determined purpose."

Background passages are Luke 9, 10. The focal passage is Luke 9:18-22, 57-62. Daily Bible readings are Monday, Luke 9:1-6; Tuesday, Luke 9:16-17; Wednesday, Luke 9:18-27; Thursday, Luke 9:28-36; Friday, Luke 9:36-56; Saturday, Luke 9:57-62; Sunday, Luke 10:25-37.

Jehovah Witnesses Open 3-Day Assembly Here

Several hundred Jehovah Witnesses are expected here today for the beginning of a three-day assembly.

L. M. Dugan, district supervisor for West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, will be the featured speaker for the gathering which starts at 7 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium. Theme of the assembly is "Becoming Spiritual Minded with Eternal Life in View."

This evening's program will include a model ministry school, one similar to those held in the 25,000 congregations over the world each week. Saturday there will be time for field work.

The opening meeting also will spotlight a film, "Heritage," which centers on three basic needs of young people. Two opposite courses and their results are detailed.

Sunday at 3 p.m. the assembly will be climaxed with an address by Dugan on "Satisfying Mankind's Greatest Need."

Show Set At Baptist Temple

The determination of a football player and his high school steady to rise above today's new morality trends highlights the film story for "Without Onion," feature length color motion picture to be shown 8 p.m. Saturday at Baptist Temple.

The film's appearance in this area is sponsored by Big Spring Baptist Association Youth. In the story, Pete and Sonya, typical American high school students, had been following the crowd in their patterns of conduct until a businessman in their community showed them how relative Christian faith can be in the life of a modern teenager. Saturday's program will include singing, special music and refreshments.

Church School Stages Its First Annual Science Fair

Seventh and eighth graders of Immaculate Heart of Mary School had their first Science Fair last weekend, putting up 22 booths.

These had colorful and animated displays, together with posters. Two classrooms were converted into a temporary exhibit hall.

Papers and oral explanations were rated by Dr. Neil Sanders, Mrs. Mary Mitchell and Lillian Jordan, judges.

The awards were presented by Sr. M. Laurentia, principal, as follows: (Grade 8) 1st, Kathleen Connor, "Planets"; 2nd, Melinda Casillas, "Leukemia"; 3rd, Susan Reinke-meyer, "Protozoa — Bone Cancer." Honorable mention certificates went to Susan Sulak, "Volcanoes"; Steven Martinez, William Lyons and Charles Brock, "Eyes"; Michelle Coogan, "Flowers";

Richard Martinez and Gay Wood, "Rockets." (Grade 7) 1st, Connie Torres and Juanita Garcia, "The Ears"; 2nd, Jay Howard, "Oil Pump"; 3rd, Patrick Mullen, "The Compass." Honorable mention certificates: Karen Corson and Ruth Anna Cubranich, "The Brain"; Mary Ellen Lanspergy, "The Heart."

Parents and friends of the contestants viewed the projects after the judging was completed. The Science Fair was a science class activity, supervised and directed by Sr. M. Emerita, SMIC, and it may become an annual event at Immaculate Heart of Mary School.

Evangelistic Meeting Slated

Evangelist Art Blessitt, of San Bernardino, Calif., will conduct a clinic at Phillips Memorial Baptist Church Feb. 1-4 at 7 p.m. each day, preparatory to the upcoming revival series of services.

The lessons will include using the Bible, using tracts, and the need for witnessing. All interested residents are invited to attend.

The revival has been scheduled for Feb. 19-26 and will have Evangelist Dan Vestal as speaker.

Rev. Brandt Is Revivalist

Revival services will begin at the First Assembly of God Church, West Fourth and Lancaster, on Sunday with the Rev. M. F. Brandt, Greeley, Colo., leading.

Rev. Brandt will be speaking at the 11 a.m. service, again at 7 p.m., and during the week at 7:30 p.m. daily, except Saturday, according to the pastor, the Rev. Homer Rich.

Rev. Brandt, formerly superintendent of the Nebraska district of the Assemblies of God for over six years, is presently engaged in evangelistic crusades. He has conducted crusades in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, South Dakota, Oregon, California and Kansas. He also served as pastor for a period of 17 years. His ministry has an appeal for every age and the outstanding results during the crusades speak forcefully of prayerful concern for all individuals, said Rev. Rich.

There will be special singing, quartet, trios, duets and solos as well as inspirational congregational singing. Everyone is invited to the services.

Church Women Plan Meeting

Miss Margaret Shannon, New York City, executive director of the department of United Church Women, National Council of Churches, will be the featured speaker at the 33rd annual assembly of United Church Women of Texas. The group will convene in Houston Feb. 14-16.

Other speakers include the Rev. Canon G. N. McAllister, president of the Texas Council of Churches; Betty Jane Whitaker, south-central field representative of the National Council of Churches; and Dr. Harold Kilpatrick, executive director of the Texas council.

Evangelism Team At Berea Baptist

Associate evangelist Dick Seaton of San Bernardino, Calif., is arriving Wednesday to lead the Berea Baptist Church in a four-day "Soul-Winning Clinic."

After the four-day clinic, Rev. Seaton will be joined by the Rev. Arthur Blessitt, the team's evangelist, to preach a week's revival services. Services will begin Sunday morning Feb. 5 through Sunday Feb. 12 at the Berea Baptist Church. Evening services during the week will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

This dynamic team emphasizes the clear message of the Bible coupled with an active training program before revival and after. This is the God-given answer to churches seeking a vital relevant program.

Rev. Seaton joined the Arthur Blessitt Evangelistic Association Inc., team, recently. He has been the aggressive pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of Phoenix, Ariz. His church in 1966 was second in number of baptisms in the Arizona Southern Baptist Convention. In 10 months, 107 persons were admitted to the church membership.

March Religious Show Series Set

Titles for the Lutheran television series, "This Is the Life," have been announced for March. On March 5, it will be "The Book That Wouldn't Close," a sin, concealed for 20 years, rises to haunt a successful businessman; March 15, "A Time to Speak," the story of a man who finds it impossible to hide his religion; March 19, "The Sun Comes Up," an old sea captain speaks a word of reassurance to a family in distress; March 26, "The Day that Shook the World," a special Easter program.

A MATTER OF VIEWPOINT

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What is as thrilling to a child as winter—and a nice fresh snow? But for an adult, shopping or working in winter weather, nothing is more miserable.

This goes for so many things. What looks good to one person looks terrible to another. What one person enjoys doing, another dislikes. What agrees with one disagrees with another.

There is nothing wrong with this. We have a right to our individual likes and dislikes, to our individual opinions. We also have the right to know the basic things in life, the truths that apply to everyone. These are the foundation blocks upon which all else is built. This is the kind of knowledge given to us by the Church.

If you have been thinking that church-goers are conformists—people who believe what they are told and let it go at that—then you've been making a mistake. Because a group of houses are built upon the same firm ground does not mean that each house cannot be separate unto itself. Because a man goes to church does not mean that he is one of a mold. Try it, and see.

Steers Try Odessa Here This Evening

One game off Abilene High's pace-setting pace in the torrid District 2-AAAA race, the Big Spring Steers play host to Odessa High at 8 o'clock here this evening.

Odessa was the pre-season favorite to take it all in the pennant scramble. The Bronchos have been off their feed, however, and likely will try to take out their vengeance on the Longhorns.

Big Spring has twice defeated the Bronchos. The first time was by a two-point margin. Both Big Spring wins came in Odessa.

A loss to the Red Hosses would be disastrous to the Steers' title chances. The locals are now 5-3 in the race, with only six contests left to play.

Abilene High is 6-2 and apparently able to win the close ones.

In their last start, Big Spring edged by Midland Lee, 71-64, in a game that was a lot closer than the score indicated. Odessa, meanwhile, was being clobbered by Abilene Cooper.

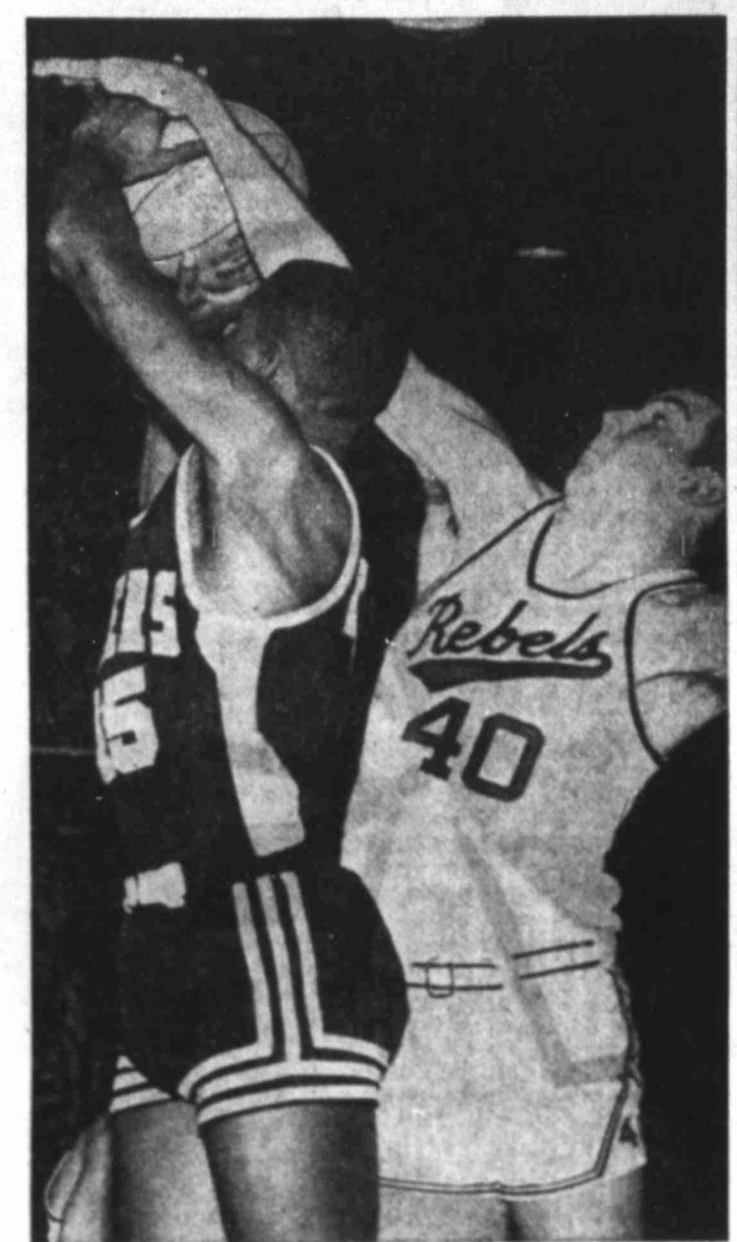

Coach Don McDonald likely will go with a lineup consisting of Richard Green, Charley Tubb, Robert Jackson, Wayne Johnson and Danny Clendenin. There has been some sickness in the Steer camp but all starters will likely be on deck this evening.

Odessa could start a team composed of Gene Johnson, who stands 6-4; Charles Medlin, also 6-4; Craig Heap, 6-3; Sammy Soules, 6-1; and Dale Connolly, 5-7. Johnson leads the Bronchos with a 13.8 average in league play. Over-all, he is averaging 17.8 points a game.

On the season, Odessa is 13-10. Big Spring has won 22 while losing five times.

Odessa is coached by Harold Green, new to the position.

B teams of the two schools clash at 6:15 p.m. Another large crowd is in prospect for the doublebill.

Big Man On Boards

Big Spring's Robert Jackson (45) must play an important rebounding role here tonight, if the Steers are to keep up with Odessa High in a 2-AAAA basketball encounter. He's shown here competing for the ball with Midland Lee's David McClure (48). (Photo by Danny Valdes)

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

William Walker, the freshman gazelle who flunked out at Howard County Junior College, will probably do his future running for Texas Southern University.

Had Walker remained eligible here, the Jayhawks probably could have zeroed in on the national 440-yard relay record. As it is, they're going to be hard to beat in that event.

No one was more pleased to see the pre football season end, perhaps, than officials at Sunland Park race track. Telecasts of both NFL and AFL games into the El Paso area cut deeply into the Sunland attendance. When the pre circuit telecasts started coming through in color, that made it that much worse.

Harold Davis, the former basketball mentor, says the best new cage talent he's seen this season is Charles Criss, the Negro boy New Mexico Junior College recruited from back east.

Davis also thinks highly of N. S. Hurd, the Odessa phenom who accompanies the Wranglers in here tonight to play HCJC.

"We're on our way to having a decent club," manager Grady Hutton of the Houston Astros told an audience in Oklahoma City recently.

Hutton said the team had acquired 14 new players, half of whom he reasons will be of immediate help to the Astros this year.

One of those is Eddie Mathews, the National League's second leading home run hitter still active in the sport. Eddie will help the Astros at the gate, if nothing else. He doesn't figure to untrack too often in the Astrodome but should easily pass the career mark of 500 four masters this year. The Houston management hopes he does it at home.

One of the Big Spring High School football coaches will probably leave next month. He's being employed by the pros as a scout.

The money allotted the winners and the losers in the recent Super Bowl game at Los Angeles amounted to $1,170,000. The gate gross came to about $700,000 — one-third of the Los Angeles Coliseum failed to sell out for the contest, despite the biggest pre-game buildup in history.

That means the pro commissioner Pete Rozelle, who in a burst of generosity guaranteed the winners $15,000 and the losers $7,500 each — had to dip into the TV money to make up the $500,000 deficit. The TV loot was originally ticketed to go into the players' pension fund.

Los Angeles queered its chances of hosting the show again because it failed to sell out for the game. The next Super Bowl contest, in all likelihood, will go to Miami.

If that be the case, then where will the Runner-up Bowl be staged? It wasn't a sell out either, after advance predictions in Miami that it would.

Green Bay may be seeking a new head football coach long before the autumn leaves fall. Vince Lombardi is supposed to be weighing a proposition out of pro football.

One of the pro basketball greats is nearing the end of the trail.

He is Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers. Baylor is a shadow of his former self. Around the NBA they know he cannot go laterally anymore, much less with his old irresistible force.

He moves best to his right and the defense favors him in that direction. He is no longer capable of three or four rebound efforts or starting a ramrod drive. He finds now he must pace himself.

The lowliest teams in the NBA use the most elementary attacks against him when he is on defense. Elgin's complaining knees can no longer keep up.

Note to Boom-Boom re that ecclesiastical edifice with the muted music: There's always the river.

Kerry O'Brien Wins Millrose 2-Mile Event

NEW YORK (AP) — There was smoke in Kerry O'Brien's eyes, Novocain in Bob Seagren's back and an elbow in Dave Patrick's ribs.

O'Brien, the Australian distance runner, and Patrick, the collegiate mile champion from Villanova, managed to overcome their handicaps at the Millrose Games Thursday night. But Seagren, who threatens his own indoor pole vault record of 17-1 victory every time he steps out on the runway, ended up a little frustrated.

The 19-year-old University of Southern California record-holder had to settle for a best vault of 16-7, which was still good enough to set a Madison Square Garden record.

Seagren arrived late and in a hurry through his warmups, pulled a muscle and had to submit to a shot of Novocain in the dressing room.

"It's really not an excuse," said Seagren. "I should be able to do 17-3 with my eyes closed."

For O'Brien, however, the meet was far more encouraging. The 26-year-old resident of Adelaide arrived in New York Tuesday and not until he stepped up to the start of the two-mile, had he ever so much as seen a board track.

Countryman Tony Benson, whose baptism on the boards in Boston earlier this month was frustrating, warned O'Brien what he might be in for. But with 2 1/2 laps left in the race, O'Brien ran away from Benson and the rest of the field, winning in 8:36.6, a Millrose record.

As for Patrick, he survived a bad start in the mile in which somebody emplaned an elbow in his ribs and, after a false start was called, came off the blocks the second time and set a meet record for the mile with a 4:03.7.

"I didn't think they would recall the race," the NCAA outdoor mile champ said. "I was just getting off my feet and getting up to run again when the gun sounded."

Patrick ran away from Dave Bailey of Toronto at the three-quarter mark and went on to win in his fastest indoor time by far, though he has done 4:02.1 outdoors.

Radio station KBYG 1400 will have a unique hookup for the coverage of both the junior college and high school basketball games here this evening.

Bob Bell will be the anchor man for the HCJC-Odessa College contest, which starts at 7:30 p.m. That game will be carried in its entirety. Bob Rogers will stand by for the high school tilt between the resident Steers and Odessa High, which begins at 8 o'clock.

He will go on the air between halves of the college contest and after play in the college gym has ceased.

HC Seeks 4th League Win Here At 7:30

Despite the fact that Odessa College dropped a four-point decision to Amarillo earlier this week, coach Buddy Travis of HCJC says the Wranglers may be the best team in the Western Conference at the present time.

Travis' Jayhawks and local fans get a chance to find out for themselves tonight, when Odessa visits the local gym for a 7:30 o'clock engagement.

HCJC is unbeaten after three league starts, after having knocked off NMML, Lubbock Christian and Clarendon in that order. Odessa is 4-1.

The Wranglers' defeat occurred in Amarillo. Odessa is likely to even the score against the Badgers when the two teams tangle again next month in Odessa.

Over-all, Odessa is 10-8. One of the Wranglers' defeats was administered by HCJC but that came in the first game of the season for both teams, long before Odessa had jelled. The margin then was 91-84.

Odessa has the league's most dangerous scoring threat in N. S. Hurd, a diminutive Negro freshman from Hobbs, N. M. Hurd is averaging 24.8 points a game against conference opponents, having scored 124 points in five games.

Rusty Heskett of the Wranglers is third in the scoring scramble with an 18-point mean while Odessa's Lawrence Thompson ranks fifth with a 17.8 average.

Mike Ward, a transfer from a senior college, didn't play for Odessa against Amarillo but will see limited action this evening. He hails from Roswell, by the way. Starting in his place for OC will be Ron Hicks.

HCJC, now 12-7 over-all, looked none too sharp against Cameron, Okla., in its last start but no one has to say much to get the local boys ready to play Odessa.

Coach Travis likely will start a team consisting of Leon Smith, Henry Willis, Lee Leonard, Jack Hosley and Bill Sinches against the Wranglers.

Hosley is HCJC's scoring leader in conference play with a total of 52 points for a 17.3 average. Leonard is next with 49 and a 16.3 norm while Sinches is third. Bill has counted 48 points for a 16 point average.

This will be the final home game for HCJC until Feb. 4, at which time they return to oppose NMML.

Eight Conference by beating Oklahoma 97-78 at Lincoln.

Nick Jones' 21 points paced Oregon to a 65-55 road triumph over Portland.

Allan Treece's basket with one second left in an extra period gave Jacksonville U. an 87-85 squeaker over The Citadel.

In other home court triumphs Stetson edged Miami, Fla. 56-53, Tennessee Tech downed Centenary 96-82, Utah State walloped Hawaii 106-64, Pitt beat Bucknell 63-58 Portland State humbled Montana State 98-83 and American Univ. whipped Adelphi 86-72. On the road Los Angeles Loyola defeated UCal, Santa Barbara, 74-67.

Schultz, a 6-7 soph, has been assigned to guard Alcindor.

"He's not perfect," Schultz said. "I watched him play during the Los Angeles classic at Christmas time and I have a definite plan on what to do against him."

Schultz didn't give any details about his plan, but he isn't awed by Alcindor's reputation. As for Alcindor, "I don't know what to expect, but as long as they're not hanging on me all the time I can play my game."

UCLA's invasion of the Midwest to play Illinois tonight and Chicago Loyola Saturday night highlights increased activity in the college dribble sport after a lull for mid-year exams.

Texas Western, the defending national champions and currently ranked sixth in the Associated Press poll, came from behind to defeat Arizona State 54-50 at El Paso in Thursday night's top game.

The Miners, who meet Brigham Young in Chicago Saturday on the same bill as UCLA-Chicago Loyola, erased a six-point deficit late in the second half to beat the Sun Devils.

Now that he is not pitching, says Koufax. "It is not going to hurt as much. But the condition is going to get worse. I only hope it will take longer to get worse. As you get older the joint deteriorates more, and there is more pain and less movement."

Koufax is now 31. Last November at the very height of a sensational career he retired as a Los Angeles Dodger after making a reported $125,000 salary in 1966 and took a job as an announcer with the National Broadcasting Company at $100,000 or so.

Over 12 years in the majors he won 165 games, lost 87, for an average of .655, and had 2,396 strikeouts, only 189 short of the National League career record held by Warren Spahn.

He was the league's Most Valuable Player in 1963, and won the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the majors in 1963, 1965, and 1966 — the only man to win it more than once.

Hudspeth Is New Longview Coach

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Longview High School has hired Tommy Hudspeth, coach of McKinney's Class AAA finalist last year, as head football coach and athletic director, effective Feb. 1.

Supt. Charles F. Mathews said Thursday that Hudspeth was given a two-year contract. Hudspeth succeeds Ty Bain, whose contract was not renewed.

"Sure I expect so," said Hudspeth. "I'm excited to work on around town."

Police Offer Guns Evidence

GRAHAM, Tex. (AP)—More testimony was called today in the murder trial of Claude Dean Edwards, 24, charged in the gunshot slaying July 4 of Clarence Swain.

Swain, 51, was shot to death during a robbery in which he was kidnapped and his body found later in a field near the Breckenridge filling station where he worked.

Edwards, a resident of Ranger, was indicted for murder in the killing along with two other men. The three were arrested in San Antonio following a similar holdup-kidnaping at a San Antonio service station.

Alvin Carnes, 26, was killed in the San Antonio incident.

Thursday, police Lt. Jack Hutton told the court that he found two guns he said were hidden by Edwards and the other men.

As police officers paraded to the witness stand, Bexar County Sheriff Bill Hawk and Texas Ranger Sid Merchant also testified.

The jury hearing the case, selected after three days of intense questioning by attorneys, is composed of five women and seven men. The panel was qualified in the death penalty.

8-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, Jan. 27, 1967

DEAR ABBY His Mind Not On Work

DEAR ABBY: Last April an accountant "friend" (I thought) made a pass at me. I told him off, but I didn't tell my husband as I didn't want to start trouble. I've told no one of this incident as the accountant has a very nice wife, children, and a flourishing practice.

Now I am already worrying about the next time we will be filing our income tax. I don't want to work with this man again as the sight of him makes me cringe. I'm afraid if I suggest changing accountants my husband will say, "Why? — I like so and so."

What should I do?
DEAR TROUBLED: Tell your husband to line up another accountant—one who appreciates the business and will keep his mind on it. He'll catch on. And if he takes his "friend" apart, it might improve the old boy's manners.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and last year I was engaged to a boy named Bernie. We broke up, and then I started going with Ernie. We plan to be married in a couple of months.

While I was engaged to Bernie I made a terrible mistake, altho it was the first and last.

As my wedding date is approaching I am afraid to tell Ernie about Bernie because Ernie thinks I am a "nice" girl. (I am, except for that one time.) Should I tell Ernie now, or should I wait until after the wedding? Or do I have to tell him at all? I am so dumb about things like that. DON'T KNOW

DEAR DON'T: If Ernie asks you—tell him the truth. If he doesn't bring it up, don't you. He may never ask.

DEAR ABBY: We have recently moved into a new community. Ours is the most modest house on the block. I am slowly refurbishing. We have no draperies—only sheets at the windows. We are eating on a card table and have only kitchen chairs.

Well, quite by accident I found out that my darling husband called a neighbor (whom I hardly know) and asked her to "round up" the neighbors and organize a surprise party.

for me. (Someone called asking me which Saturday night my mister hired the Hawaiian musicians for!)

I finally got the details out of my husband. Forty people are coming! I will be mortified to death to have them see my house with such poor and meager furnishings. Should I call and postpone the party? Or must I go through with it?

MORTIFIED: DEAR MORTIFIED: Yes, you must go through with it or you'll humiliate your husband. Forget about your "poor and meager" furnishings. When 40 people are there having a good time, no one will notice. And you will "save" the furniture you don't have.

Lindsay Eases Towing Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has eased his program of towing away autos of diplomats and doctors illegally parked in congested mid-Manhattan. But he denies he's backing up in the face of their verbal horn-honking.

A city spokesman said doctors would be permitted about 15 minutes to move illegally parked autos.

A Lindsay spokesman called this a "few minutes of grace" and said it "should not be mistaken as any easing of the campaign."

The program is aimed at unclogging the streets of Manhattan's heart. The area affected runs across Manhattan from 34th to 68th Street, encompassing the theater district, the garment district, Rockefeller Center and numerous office towers.

When an illegally parked auto is towed away, the owner can get it back by paying a $25 tow charge, a $5 to $15 fine and $5 a day storage. The program was launched last Sept. 16, and since then 23,730 autos have been hauled off.

Policemen, cabbies and truck drivers generally are pretty happy about it all.

YOUR Horoscope Forecast for Tomorrow By Carroll Righter

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now need to think about how you can make that big project of yours operate on a more successful course by finding some modern ways of performing necessary plans — such as those suggested by hands of power and influential business or governmental groups, agencies, utilities. Get down to earth.

ARIES (March 21 to April 18) Although you feel you have too much work to do, patient plodding will see you get through it in 10 days. Associates can help to make you more successful now. Be sure to follow their ideas.

TAURUS (April 19 to May 20) Follow through with your ideas of either a personal, cultural or business nature. Express your talents more wisely, intelligently. Evening fine for having a very good time. Be of a cheerful nature.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Much of home seems quite puzzling but patience sees all working out nicely and harmony reigns once more. Get business matters rolling along more intelligently, also. Don't be so emotional.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can go ahead and handle all business and personal affairs with real enthusiasm and efficiency now. Impress others with your fine mind, ability to organize situations properly. Gain respect.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to have greater abundance but this is very possible if you are very precise where expenses are concerned. You have a new vision of life that is very workable. Get it going quickly.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't vacillate between constructive thinking and working and feeling others are imposing on you. Keep steadily employed and all is fine. However, be sure to show others you do know the value of your talents.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You seem to be taking care of humdrum duties today, which is all right, since you clear slate for more important activities later. State expects certain things from you, also. Do not disappoint.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Very precise but far-seeing plans hold the key to your amities now, so contact them early. Get advice. You need to get out socially and meet interesting personalities so that life becomes happier in the future.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Analyze your present status and sure to get in touch with higher-ups who can give you the advantage of finer opportunities in the days ahead. Forget trivialities for now. Put business first.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Changing your attitude so that you open yourself to bigger and better opportunities is wise. New individuals can take care of your interests, now more efficiently, also. Strive to please others more.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't be so self-conscious — higher-ups are willing to give you excellent benefits if you exert yourself a little more. You have excellent talents, put them in operation. Clear up that misunderstanding with an associate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Planning how to change conditions about you for the better is your best bet this Saturday. Listen to what a very fine co-worker has to suggest. Your advancement can be gradual and lasting, which is the ideal.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow... he or she will be one of those fascinating youngsters who pictures himself or herself as having heroic qualities. It would be well to permit your youngster to handle emergencies early in life and see what happens. Give right spiritual training so that the age here is directed properly, and also give your progeny a more pleasant, happy men that will attract others. Some possible.

Minimum Pay Vote Sought

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Proponents of a city minimum hourly wage of $1.25 have taken a step to force the calling of an election to decide the wage issue.

The City Council Thursday accepted a petition requesting the city to call a referendum election on a $1.25 an hour minimum wage. The city clerk will have until Feb. 15 to check and verify signatures on the petition. If 10 per cent of the eligible voters signed up, or about 11,400, the council will be forced to call the election.

The Rev. S. Clifford Byrd, president of the United Councils of Civic Action, said the petition bore the names of 13,600 registered voters.

The council earlier declined to take action on the issue. "It was shocking and regrettable to learn this council had made the decision to ignore an element in the community that contributed to diseases, hunger, broken homes," The Rev. Mr. Byrd said.

Councilmen made no comment on the petition.

Another Hero's Award Announced

Two hours after an Army colonel had formally presented Mrs. Walt Davis, 3300 Drexell, with a Purple Heart honoring her late son, Spec. 5 Richard Spangler, the mailman Thursday brought tidings of further recognition for the young soldier.

The letter, from Washington, advised Mrs. Davis that Spangler, who died of wounds received in combat in Vietnam on Nov. 5, 1966, has been awarded the bronze star with a "V." This indicates the medal is awarded for heroism, the letter informed Mrs. Davis.

The Purple Heart, the second awarded Spangler in his relatively brief tenure in Vietnam, was presented to his mother by Col. Francis Connelly. It was not stated in the letter when the bronze star would be delivered to Mrs. Davis.

University Dean To Be In Midland

The social hour at the Petroleum Club will start at 6:30 p.m., the buffet at 7:30 p.m. Dr. McKetta speaks at 8:30 p.m.

Dry, Cool Air Ends Texas' Heat Wave

By The Associated Press
Refrigerated air from the north finished routing the recent spell of balmy weather throughout Texas today.

Skies cleared in the wake of Thursday's thunderstorms across the north part of the state and the mercury skidded below freezing everywhere except the extreme south.

Perryton in the north edge of the Panhandle, where a trace of snow fell the day before, saw the mercury scoot down to 11 degrees above zero.

At the same hour Brownsville in the balmy Lower Rio Grande Valley recorded a noticeably cool 47.

FOG CHASED
The dry, chilly air was particularly welcome along the upper Texas coast, where it routed dense fog after a six-day siege. The blinding fog had tied up 35 ships off Galveston at the mouth of the Houston Ship Channel, causing an estimated loss of nearly $1 million for shipping interests.

At the same time a chilly 37 degrees greeted about 100 degrees routed by a 3 a.m. fire from the Nassau Bay Motor Hotel opposite the Manned Spacecraft Center southeast of Houston. Flames which started in a mattress were confined to a single room.

Droth conditions grew steadily more acute, meanwhile, in painfully dry parts of West Texas. San Angelo entered its 102d straight day without rain — only three short of the city's 105-day record set in 1917.

New extended forecasts, covering the period through Feb. 1, promised little or no moisture over the state. They promised temperatures around normal in the south central and southeast sections and two to eight degrees above normal elsewhere.

Overnight lows at other points besides Perryton and Brownsville included Dalhart 18 degrees, Van Horn 20, Amarillo 21, Lubbock 22, Childress, Junction, San Angelo and Wichita.

Mrs. Mary Scott Retiring At BSSH

Mrs. Mary L. Scott is retiring from the Social Service Department of Big Spring State Hospital Wednesday after being with the hospital 11 years.

Her plans for retirement include visiting with friends and enjoying her hobbies, knitting and reading.

Mrs. Scott was born in Brazos County and moved to Plainview where she graduated from high school. In October, 1923, she was married to C. A. Scott. They had three children, Mrs. W. J. Bray, Sacramento, Calif.; Jack Scott, who is the registrar at Grand Junction Junior College in Colorado, and Cmdr. Melvin Scott, U.S. Navy, stationed at McMurdo Sound in the Antarctic. She has eight grandchildren.

After Mr. Scott died in August, 1952, Mrs. Scott moved to Big Spring to live with her sister, Mrs. R. N. Adams, and began her employment at the Big Spring State Hospital on April 2, 1956.

At the present time, Mrs. Scott makes her home with Mrs. Robert Piner, 600 Mathews. Prior to her retirement, Mrs. Scott will be honored by her fellow employees at a tea.
