Skyrockets, Panhandle Meet for Crown

The District 2-AA Championship will be at stake Friday, Nov. 5, when Wellington Skyrockets and Panhandle Panthers meet at Powell Field. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Wellingotn is the formidable challenger. The Rockets have moved from a lowly fourth place in district as projected by pre-season pollsters, to where they are on the par with the team that was rated No. 1 in what is considered the strongest 2A district in the state.

The Rockets have had to fight their way over every inch of ground they gained.

For Panhandle it is a different story. Three consecutive district championships lie behind them, one while they were playing in District 2-A and two after they moved to another district. The Rockets are hungry for a chance at the crown.

Pre-season pollsters also thought Panhandle would have its fourth championship this year and a good chance for a shot at the state title. Wellington goes on Powell Field Friday night with a chance to be the spoiler.

"It's our biggest game of the year. This is the one we have worked for all year in that we are playing for the championship," said Head Coach James Williams.

"Panhandle is still rated 6 or 7 in the state. We're just proud to be here at this point."

Both teams go into the championship game with 4-0 records.

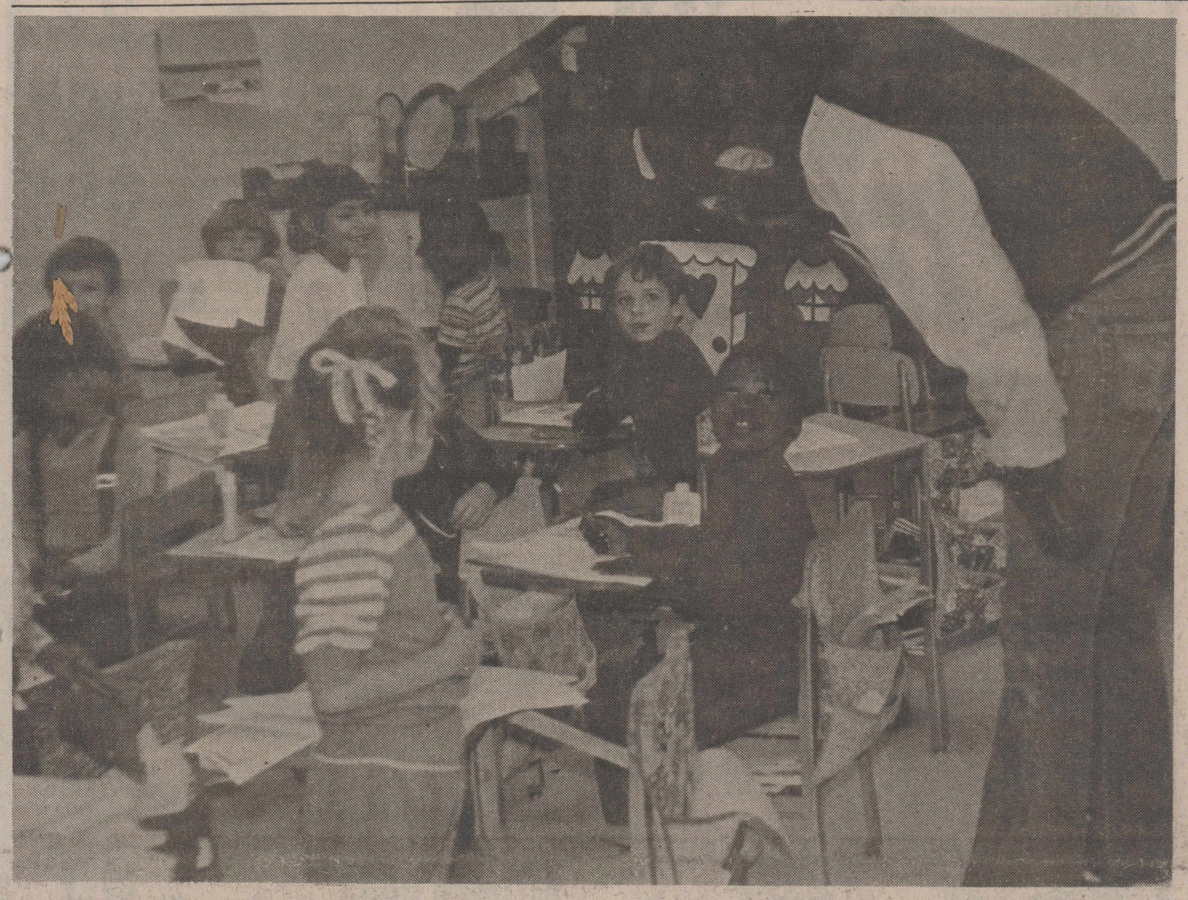

Panhandle has a minimal edge with its 8-1 season record, while Wellington goes in 7-1-1.

A better comparison is with the games the two teams played.

In non-conference play, Panhandle defeated Stinnett 55-0, Wellington won 21-7.

The Panthers opened district play with a 15-7 win

WEREWOLF ON THE LOOSE

Study Begins of Meals on Wheels

Meals on Wheels may become a reality in Wellington in the immediate future to fill a need of many senior citizens and others who are unable to prepare nourishing meals for themselves.

A meeting to explore initial requirements was held in the County Courthouse Thursday, Oct. 28, spearheaded by County Judge Zook Thomas and Mrs. Willie B. Harwell.

Earlier the two had discussed the advisability of organizing a committee to check into means of funding, securing a facility for preparing the meals and other arrangements necessary for this type of program.

"Some senior citizens of Wellington have inquired about this program and are interested in securing these services," said Mrs. Harwell.

Three speakers who are involved in this kind of project were present to discuss Meals on Wheels with the Wellington group.

These were Brenda Hoffman, Shamrock, Social Worker III for community care to the aged and disabled.

Pat Cook, Dumas, supervisor for the CCAD program and Susan Thomson, Lubbock program director for Community Care to Aged and Disabled.

It was emphasized that this is not a program for the low income people only. It is for any person who has a need for the service.

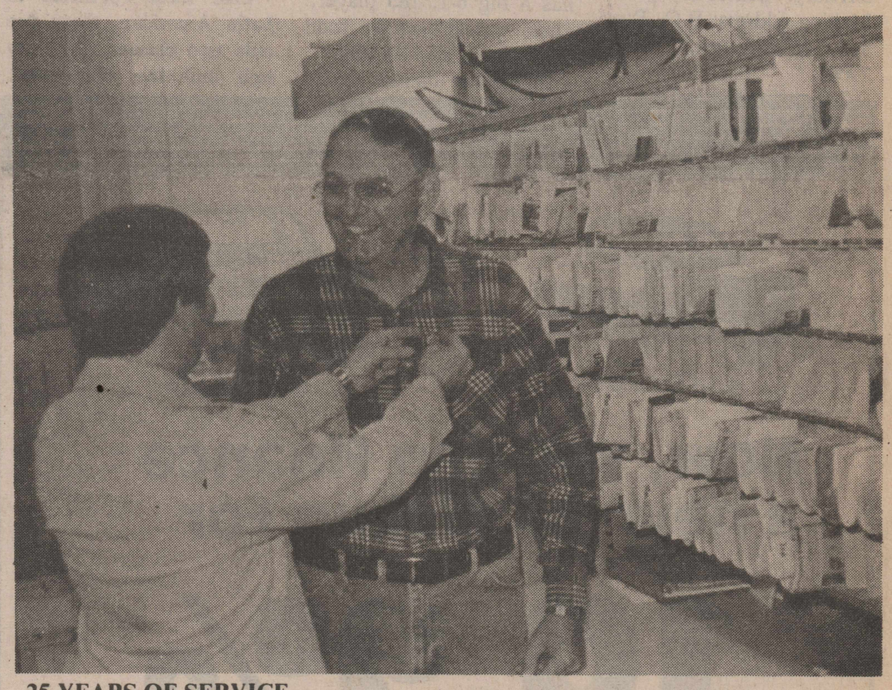

The three speakers will continue to provide information and assistance as the program plans are advanced.

Mrs. Harwell, who has been involved in the county's health area as a professional and volunteer for approximately 50 years, pointed out that malnutrition is a problem of many of the aged or those not so old who are retired. It is a matter of serious concern to families and to those in the medical and health care professions.

"If a person can have one good, nourishing meal each day, that person can get by on their own for breakfast and supper and still receive the needed nutrition," she pointed out.

Twenty-three interested citizens were present at the October 28 meeting and from this group a committee was chosen to make further study of the program.

Mrs. Harwell is committee chairman and members are Billy Hatch, Raymond Neeley, Mrs. Kenneth McKay, Mrs. David Peters, Mrs. Loyd Langley, Jimmie Barber, Tena Villanueva, and Jim Wood. County attorney Charles Darter will be the legal advisor.

25 YEARS OF SERVICE

Harold Caldwell, Wellington Route 1 rural route carrier for the past 14 years, is awarded a 25 year federal service pin by Postmaster Charles Britten. Caldwell's service also includes four years in the Air Force and seven years as a sub clerk-carrier. During Caldwell's service on Route 1, the route has grown from 85 to 133 miles and the number of boxes has grown from 125 to 176. Growth came with the consolidation of parts of other routes. The current route, which takes about 6 hours to run, starts with Ft. Worth and Ennis streets in Wellington, continues to Buck Creek, comes back up Haskell and out to the Quail, Marella, Salt Fork, Lillie, Crossroads, Bean Hill, Midway and Shinnery communities, spanning the county from the Wilson Ranch on the west to the old Shinnery store on the east.

County Favors White, Hightower

Collingsworth County voters followed the statewide trend and gave their vote to Democratic nominee Mark White for governor over Republican Bill Clements 888 to 471.

Of those candidates for district office who had opponents, 31st District State Senator Bill Sarpalius polled the largest number of county votes in his bid for re-election. He received 1107 with his Republican opponent John E. Kirchhoff receiving 208 and Libertarian Bryan Denson getting 5.

Congressman Jack Hightower, D, polled 1034 votes to 305 for his Republican opponent Ron Slover, and 3 for Rod Collier, Libertarian.

Foster Whaley, unopposed received 1045 votes for re-election as 84th District representative.

Wives of two other state officials running for office brought their husbands campaigns here, but that appeared to make little difference in the vote. Both candidates got about the same number as candidates for other offices who did not send personal representation here.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, D, polled 898 votes to 434 for Jim Collins, R, 3 for Libertarian John E. Ford and none for Lineaus Hooper Lorette, Citizens Party.

Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby, D, received 952 votes to 357 for George W. Strake, Jr., and 5 for Laurel Kay Freeman, 1.

Collingsworth voters approved all constitutional amendments.

No. 1, to appeal the state property tax carried 690 to 318; No. 2, to authorize payments for needy children, carried 698-346.

No. 3, exempting farm

Downtown Pep Rally Friday, Nov. 5

The whole county is invited to boost the Skyrockets on to the 2-AA Championship at a giant pep rally to be held at 4 p.m. Friday on the court house lawn.

"We want everyone to come. There is no school Friday, and we are turning this into something for everyone who wants the Skyrockets to win," said Varsity Head Cheerleader Cathy Crelia.

The Cheerleaders are sponsoring the pep rally and besides the head cheerleader are Belinda Crelia, Amy Williams, Sandie Cobb, Tina Bawcom and Lori Lacy.

The entire Skyrocket football team will be there to receive congratulations for having come this far and to urge them on to 2-AA victory.

That Skyrocket Band will also be present with its stirring music that has been a part of each game this year.

Pitts: Much to See in North Brazil

The Rev. Elvis Pitts, pastor of Quail Baptist Church, was among the 137 men and women from this area who participated in a preaching mission in northern Brazil. Their crusade was requested by Brazilian Baptist in Recife, and they came from the Panfork, Top of Texas, Amarillo, Lubbock and Plainview districts.

"Our work was to visit and witness in homes, parks, factories, and prisons during the day and hold evangelistic services at night.

Four people including an interpreter made up the team.

After stopping in Recife, headquarters city for the mission, Pitts group went on to Nazare de Mata, a university town of about 40,000 population, located 65 kilometers, approximately 40 miles away.

"The people are very education minded. There is also a secondary school which is a trade school. The pastor of the Baptist mission that we helped, Antonio Gome de Paz, was a professor of the university and was running for assistant mayor of the city, said Pitts.

"We were able to visit one school, Don Carlos Trade School, where the girls are taught homemaking and the boys are taught horticulture and vet medicine. They were very interested in English and we had lots of contact with students wanting to help their English."

Pitts group also included Jerry Teel, a lay preacher from Pampa, and Bob Williams, a deacon from Perryton First Baptist Church, along with their interpreter, a girl from the seminary, who knew the people they visited and who knew English as well as Portuguese.

The area in which the team worked was open and hospitable to the Crusade

EMT Course Opens Nov. 16

An Emergency Medical Technician's class will begin in Wellington Tuesday night November 16, at 6 p.m. in the director's room of Greenbelt Electric Building.

This course is presented through Clarendon College, with the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service as the sponsor. Classes will be on each Tuesday and Thursday nights through Tuesday, Feb. 8, from 6 to 10 p.m. Marshall Peters, president of the ambulance service, and Pat Roberson who heads the Clarendon Ambulance Service will be the instructors. Members of the Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance service will assist.

"This will be a 120-hour course with 100 classroom hours and 20 hours in Northwest Texas Hospital Emergency Receiving Center, the cardiac care unit, intensive care unit, respiratory therapy and the OB sections," Peters said. These 20 hours will be on two 10-hour week ends in January and February.

Also required for state certification are three ambulance runs as observers.

The 100 classroom hours will include about 50 hours of lecture and films with 50 hours of practice. Included in the skills will be vital signs, cardio-pulmonary resuscitation, bandaging and splinting, traction splinting and mechanical aids to breathing.

All the newest ambulance equipment will be demonstrated. There will be 12 hours of extrication from vehicles.

This is the only emergency medical technicians class presently underway, in this area, according to Peters.

The course is approved by the Texas Department of Health and the Panhandle Emergency Medical Services. Upon successfully completing the training, Oklahoma students can challenge for bational certification through the Oklahoma Health Department.

Twenty students are needed for the course and several places are still open, according to Peters. He requests that students pre-register or at least let him know if they plan to enroll.

Residents of the Western Oklahoma area, as well as those from Childress, Memphis, Clarendon, McLean and Shamrock are who are interested in the course are invited to enroll, as well as those from throughout Collingsworth County.

Tuition for the class is $60 with an additional $15 for the workbook and textbook. The text will be "Emergency Care and Transportation of the Sick and Injured, Vo. 3, by the Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

"I encourage anyone interested to attend this class, since this will probably be the last one offered in Wellington for some time," Peters said.

"We need more volunteers in the ambulance service, but it is not a requirement to attend the class that you volunteer for the ambulance service. The class is open to the general public."

"Upon completion of the course, certification will be issued by Clarendon College and the Texas Department of Health will certify those for a four-year term.

"Thereafter a 40-hour recertification class will be necessary to recertify."

over Memphis, then defeated Clarendon 49-6, Shamrock 56-6 and Quanah 20-6.

Wellington registered a 19-14 victory over Quanah to open conference play, then defeated Shamrock 46-0, Memphis 27-17 and Clarendon 21-17.

"They (Panthers) have lots of speed. They won second in the state with their sprint relay team last year and second in the mile relay. All those boys are back on the football team. They have one of the premier running teams in the state," said Coach James Williams.

In Stacy Rusk, Panhandle has a big 6-1, 185 player. Their quarterback is Todd Lamberson, also 6-1, 185.

Panhandle linemen are all balanced in size at around 180 to 185.

"They have a receiver, Jody Woods, who is an outstanding hurdler," Williams continued. "He ran with Calvin Culpepper a lot, and sometimes he won and sometimes Calvin won."

Again mentioning Panhandle's three consecutive district championships, Williams pointed out:

"They have a lot of winning tradition. However one advantage we have is that they have to travel to Wellington.

"As long as I've been coaching here, this is the biggest game I've had. There will be two good teams on the field.

"This district is one of the strongest in Texas this year, with 4 or 5 good teams. Although Wellington goes into the championship game full of fight, the Rockets are still not recovered from injuries received several weeks ago. Mike Green is still out and quarterback Wade Williams is not fully recovered from leg injuries, and Matthew Hanna still has his bruised ankle. .But if we don't lose anyone in workouts, we're in pretty good shape," Williams concluded.

members, Pitts said.

In Recife, one of Brazil's major cities, the Catholics number approximately one million, Pentacostals are the second largest group with approximately 42,000 and in 1980, the Baptists had 21,000 members.

The Crusades have been under way about two years.

Pitts observed much about the people of Nazare de Mata.

Like most countries in Latin American, there are only two classes, the very rich and the very poor, although a middle class seems to be emerging in the smaller cities.

This was farming country, and the farm laborers are especially poverty stricken, according to Pitts.

"We would see them walking out of town each morning with their hoes on their shoulders, going to weed sugar cane.

Two United States companies, Purina and Texaco, are heavy investors in sugar cane lands, they observed, for the sugar goes into fuel alcohol.

Brazil, Pitts reminds, uses great quantities of fuel alcohol for its transportation industry.

Most trucks and buses are Mercedes Benz, but most taxis were Volkswagens. Even the police go about in VWs.

There is a good public transportation system in Nazare de Mata, as well as between towns, said the Crusade member.

"Brazil is having its first national election in November, in I don't know how many years, and we saw lots of military people, especially military police," he reported.

The crusade team preached in the Nazare da Mata prison, where about 10 prisoners were held.

"They seemed to be treated fairly well, as far as we could tell. Cells were around the outside of the building, and there was an inside courtyard where they played soccer. While we were there, a Catholic nun came with reading material. Lots of people--family and friends visited on Sunday," said Pitts.

Meat seems to make up a large part of the diet of the people, but the group never saw bacon or sausage. "Usually, we had eggs and steak, for breakfast," he said.

"Bread was similar to a hot dog bun but larger, and we were served lots of cold cuts, pinto and butter beans and peas---black eyed peas!" The coffee impressed the group because it was so strong.

"We made lots of friends with whom we will continue to correspond. We left Brazil with this impression: everybody would like to come to America," said Pitts.

New Virus May Kill Crop Pests

Texas A&M University researchers have discovered a new family of viruses carried by wasps that may provide the key to controlling crop-destroying insects without chemicals.

The discovery also could be important in understanding how insects carry and transmit other viruses and in inhibiting the spread of diseases by insects, the scientists said.

A major item of business for this session will be the election of new officers.

The meeting will be held in First Baptist Church, with registration getting under way at 9:30 a.m. The Wellington Club will serve refreshments during this period.

"Wild Flowers in Collingsworth County," a slide presentation, will be given by Mrs. Jenkins. These were taken and compiled by her, and give an exciting insight into the beauty that is to be seen over this county during the long season when the flowers, each in its turn, are in bloom.

Already seen by several local groups, "Wild Flowers in Collingsworth County" is not only a pleasure to see, but provides a valuable premanent record of flowers which almost any resident can see by watching closely through the seasons.

The luncheon, with Mrs. Charles Cason, Sr., giving the invocation, will be held at 12 noon.

The program speaker will be Jean Burchett, Childress columnist, humorist and after dinner speaker. She will feature her "Daze of Our Lives," a continuing series of episodes of life around her, told with a light touch. Mrs. Burchett has been called the "Bombeck of the west with class of her own."

Concluding the program will be "Ruth Stout's Garden," a presentation by Mrs. Woodrow Wood and her daughter, Mrs. John Duncan.

After a final business session the meeting will adjourn.

Those attending will receive quill favors, handmade by Mrs. Lois Ratliff.

Towns already due to be represented are Hereford, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Plainview and Shamrock, with others expected to attend.

Older Houses More Energy Efficient

COLLEGE STATION - A return to the architectural standards of the pre-1940s would be a step forward in energy efficiency, says a Texas A&M University architecture expert.

In the days when cool air came with a change of the seasons rather than a flip of a switch, architects knew how to design buildings that stayed relatively cool on their own, said R.D. Reed, a professor of architecture and a member of the American Institute of Architects (AIA) national energy committee.

Trio Travels Through East

Mrs. Mayme Lewis and her daughter, Pat Terry of Arlington, with Mrs. Margaret Carter of Iowa Park, made a trip to several northeastern states, stopping several times en route.

Their first was in Jackson, Tenn., where they visited Dr. and Mrs. Woody Wood and children, Stephanie and Stewart.

They then traveled through Tennessee and Kentucky into West Virginia. At Morgantown, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Price. She is Mrs. Carter's daughter. Along the way, they visited several historic places in Kentucky and West Virginia.

While in Morgantown, they visited places of interest also. On one day they made a trip to Pennsylvania, where they saw the Century Inn on the old National Pike. In use since 1794, this turnpike was the first highway built using government funds.

The Inn offers hospitality to those traveling the famous Nemocolin Indian Trail, a route used during the French and Indian Wars by young George Washington and his militia.

Farther down they visited Ft. Necessity, where Washington was forced to surrender, his only time to an enemy. Part of the old fort has been found.

They also went over into Maryland hoping to see the headwaters of the Potomac River, but strip mining had begun near the site and the road was not usable.

Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Terry traveled into Ohio, where they visited a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Long. From there they visited the Amish country at Berlin, Ohio.

WTU Agrees To Purchase Low Btu Gas

West Texas Utilities Co. has entered a gas purchase agreement with Haskell Gathering Co. which could result in lower fuel costs at its Paint Creek Power Station.

WTU has begun taking a small volume of low Btu gas, and is expected to take more when the gathering firm's pipelines are extended to additional wells in Haskell and Throckmorton counties. The Paint Creek plant is on Lake Stamford in southeastern Haskell County.

The gas is cheaper than WTU's main supply, but is of lower quality, according to Walter Meller, WTU's manager of system production.

"Because it is a lower Btu gas, it must be blended with other gas before it can be burned in our boilers," Meller said. "But we are doing everything we can to buy gas where there is a price advantage."

He said WTU is in the process of negotiating for low Btu gas at some of its other power plants. The company's contract with its principle supplier, which was renegotiated this past year, permits WTU to purchase gas from other sources, and WTU does so when it is available. The Company has eight major power plants, all of which burn natural gas as the primary fuel.

Lone Star Specialist Pete Evans uses two balloons to explain an important home-heating message. The message is that a new high-efficiency gas furnace can help you stretch your energy dollars.*

A high-efficiency gas furnace makes a difference you can see.

The larger balloon could hold 104,000 cubic feet of natural gas; enough to heat an average home for more than a year.

The smaller balloon can also hold enough natural gas to heat the same home for the same amount of time.

Why the difference in size?

The larger balloon represents the gas capacity you'd need to operate a gas furnace built 10 or more years ago.

The smaller balloon represents the gas capacity you'd need with a new high-efficiency gas furnace.

Yes, it's quite a difference. Especially when you add up annual savings over the lifetime of the new furnace.

Gas has always been your most efficient fuel. A high-efficiency furnace makes gas go even further.

Call your local dealer. Tell him you'd like to stretch your energy dollars with a high-efficiency gas furnace.

Bonnie Willis Entertains Excelsior for Constable Study

Miss Bonnie Willis was hostess when the Excelsior Club met Wednesday afternoon, October 20, for a program on the English landscape painter, John Constable.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch was program leader.

"John Constable, the English landscape painter, lived from 1776 to 1837. His father was a miller and this was John's intention as a youth," said the speaker.

"However he went to London in 1795 to study art, and 5 years later he returned to London to enter the Royal Academy of Art in 1800, this time to study landscape masters in the Londond Museum.

"He turned to the paintings of landscape artists who worked directly from nature.

Constable married in 1816, but his wife lived only 12 years, dying in 1828.

"During most of his life, he supplemented his income from the infrequent sales of his landscapes by painting portraits," Mrs. Barjenbruch told the group.

This was one of a series of studies of artists which is an ongoing project of the club.

Mrs. Barjenbruch showed a print of a Constable painting.

Mrs. Melvin Kiker, president, was in charge of the business meeting.

Suzanne Campbell, Tony Maxwell Marry in Chapel Ceremony Oct. 23

Karen Suzanne Campbell and Tony Ray Maxwell exchanged wedding vows Saturday, October 23, in a ceremony performed in the chapel of First Baptist Church. The Reverend Stanley Hughes, pastor, officiated at 7:30 in the evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Campbell, 1311 Graham Street, while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Maxwell of Route 1.

Altar decorations were two candelabra holding white and lavendar tapers, which were entwined with foliage and accented with a lavendar bow.

Lisa Powell, pianist, played wedding selections, and accompanied Mrs. Mike Hughes as she sang.

Mr. Campbell gave his daughter in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of lace over bridal satin featured beading in an intricate design encrusted in the yoke, and extending over the band collar. Fullness of the floor length lace skirt swept to a chapel train. A band of lace edged her bouffant hip length veil, and she carried a bouquet of flowers in varying shades of lavendar, tied with white satin streamers.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Tina Bawcom, who wore a street length dress of white sprinkled with dainty lavendar flowers. The high neckline and bracelet sleeves were edged in a ruffle. She carried a single red rose tied with matching ribbon.

MR. AND MRS. TONY RAY MAXWELL

Johnny Mote was the best man and Matthew Hanna, uncle of the bride, ushered.

Mischelle Black lighted the candles.

After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell entertained with a reception in the chapel parlor.

The bride's table was covered by a white lace cloth with lavendar underlay, and the floral centerpiece was the bride's bouquet. Her tiered wedding cake was decorated with lavendar flowers and crystal appointments were used.

Guests were served by Dee Ann Williams and Amy Williams.

Since returning from their wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple is living in the Sagebrush Apartments.

The bride is a junior in Wellington High School. The bridegroom, who graduated from Wellington High School, is employed at Earl's Cabinet Shop.

Miss Pendleton, Jeffrey to Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray (Dick) Pendleton, 519 17th Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Melanie Ann, to Jacen Jeffrey.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Roy Jeffrey, Jr., 1004 Childress Street, and Mrs. Carleta Michael of Canyon.

The couple will be married Saturday, November 13, in the chapel of First Baptist Church, with the Reverend Stanley Hughes, pastor, officiating.

Miss Pendleton is a 1982 graduate of Wellington High School and is attending West Texas State University in Canyon.

Her fiance graduated from Wellington High School in 1979 and is employed at West Texas Engine Company.

The couple will live in Wellington.

Hospital Auxiliary Members Hear of Dues, Achievements

Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary members heard a review of their first year's achievements and an explanation of the organization's dues structure during a regular meeting Tuesday, Oct. 19.

Members have achieved the goals set out for their first year, Mrs. Lynn Wright, president, told the group.

This includes refurbishing the hospital lobby, supplying some equipment, providing furniture for the patio, redecorating and renovating the doctor's lounge and installing a coffee service in the lobby.

This is in addition to the many volunteer hours, by individual members, she pointed out.

Continuing the resume, the president discussed the three fund raisers held this year; giving away half a beef, the cold drink booth operated at the county fair, and the big downtown garage sale.

A fourth fund-raising event will be held in January.

Plans are underway for a Christmas project at the hospital.

Mrs. Wright explained the auxiliary's dues structure.

"Everyone who paid dues before January 1, 1982, should have paid them again in May 1982. Those who have not yet paid need to do this.

"Members who have joined since January 1, 1982, won't pay dues again until May of 1983," she said.

It is the auxiliary's goal to have all dues payable in May.

"We are still looking for new members," she continued.

"Our next meeting will be Tuesday, Nov. 16, in the Heritage Room at 10 a.m. Anyone who is interested, please come to the meeting."

Becoming members recently were Mrs. Curtistine Patrick, Mrs. Laverne Jones and Mrs. Lowell Wells.

Nutrition plays an important part in the growth and development of children. After infancy a child continues to need a nutrient rich diet for growth and increased activity. What children eat during preschool and elementary years becomes the food they like and eat most later.

While sweets in moderation are not bad for a child, nutritious snacks are much better in the long run.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Gov. Bill Clements has outdone himself.

Not only has Clements shattered the spending record he set in 1978 for the highest priced gubernatorial campaign in Texas history, but now he has moved into the lead in spending throughout the United States for 1982 political campaigns.

According to campaign contribution and expense reports filed last week, Clements had spent $11.4 million with seven days left in his race against Democratic challenger Mark White.

Total funds raised by Clements came to $11.8 million, while White had raised $6.3 million. White had spent only about $3.3 million, however.

Final expense totals for both candidates will not be known until their final campaign reports are filed 30 days after the Nov. 2 election.

Clements' spending has not only tripled that of White's, it has topped the $7.2 million Clements spent in 1978 by more than $4 million.

Also, Clements' spending total was on the verge of surpassing the national record for any U.S. governor's race set by John D. "Jay" Rockefeller IV, who spent $11.6 million in his 1980 campaign in West Virginia.

White has predicted that Clements' spending will top $12 million—before the final tally is made, while his own spending will amount to approximately $5 million.

Clements has boasted that he has received more contributions than any other candidate in Texas history, but White has charged him with trying to buy the election.

Borrowed Funds

Although Clements obviously was having little trouble financing his campaign, other statewide candidates were relying heavily on borrowed funds to carry them through the last week of the campaign.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, trying to stave off a challenge from Republican George Strake, listed $2.1 million in loans since Sept. 30, while Strake reported nearly $1 million in loans for the same period.

The loans to Hobby represent nearly all of the money he has raised in the last month, while Strake's loans amounted to about half of his September fund-raising effort.

Attorney general candidate Bill Meier, a Republican, and state treasurer candidate Ann Richards, a Democrat, also received large loans to help finance their campaigns during the stretch.

Meier reported some $350,000 in borrowed funds, while Richards had more than $200,000 in loans.

Death Sentence

And while the candidates were making their last campaign blitzes through the state, Attorney General White was asking the U.S. Supreme Court to allow the execution of convicted murderer Ronald Clark O'Bryan to go forward.

O'Bryan had been sentenced to die on Halloween—the eighth anniversary of the murder of his son with cyanide-laced Halloween candy—but that order was set aside by the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals.

White requested a Supreme Court review of the appeals court order only hours after the lower court decision was handed down. White was immediately criticized for trying to grand stand on the death penalty issue only days before the election.

John Duncan of the Texas Civil Liberties Union said a man's life is too important to play politics with.

If O'Bryan's execution is carried out, it would be the nation's first execution by lethal injection and the first execution by any means in Texas since 1964.

Judge Quits

Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice Joe Greenhill said goodbye last week to the court on which he served 25 years, leaving a vacancy that Gov. Clements has not yet filled.

Greenhill resigned from the state's highest civil court to accept a position with the Austin office of a prominent Houston law firm. His resignation was to have been effective Oct. 20, but Greenhill stayed on a few extra days to give Clements additional time to name a replacement.

However, Clements decided not to appoint a new judge until after the general election, fearing that the appointment might turn into a political issue.

Justice Ruby Sondock, the Houston judge Clements appointed as the first woman Supreme Court justice in Texas, says she was offered the chief justice appointment but turned it down.

Of Greenhill's 25 years on the high court, 10 were served as chief justice—longer than anyone else who has held that post.

Venereal Disease

The Texas Education Agency has decided to reconsider its decision to order textbook publishers to delete all references to venereal disease from health books being considered for use by fourth through eighth graders.

The decision to reconsider the order apparently came after the State Board of Education, State Textbook Committee and controversial textbook critic Mel Gabler opposed the deletion of the material on venereal disease.

There were no protests to the inclusion of that material during hearings on the textbooks in August.

Waterfowl Hunt Seasons Adopted

AUSTIN ; The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission has set a duck season of Nov. 2, 1982 through Jan. 23, 1983 for counties in the High Plains Mallard Management Unit in roughly the western third of the state, which includes Collingsworth County. Goose season west of U.S. Highway 81 is the same as for ducks in the High Plains Mallard Management Unit.

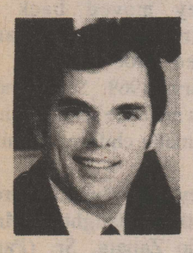

In the remainder of the state, the duck season will be split, Nov. 6-28, 1982, and Dec. 18, 1982 through Jan. 23, 1983. The season for both dark and light geese also will be split. The goose season dates are Nov. 6-Dec. 10, 1982, and Dec. 18, 1982 through Jan. 23, 1983.

No changes were made in the 100-point system of duck bag limits, but the daily limit for dark geese was amended to include black brant. West of U.S. Highway 81, the daily bag limit is five geese, not to include more than two Canada or white-fronted geese or black brant in the aggregate. Possession limit is 10, not to include more than four Canada or white-fronted geese or black brant. East of Highway 81, the daily bag limit is five light geese(snow, blue and Ross') and daily bag limit for dark geese is one Canada or black brant and one white-fronted goose. Possession limit is twice the daily bag.

Shooting hours remain the same for ducks and geese, at 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset, except during the Sept. 11-19 teal duck season, when the legal hours are sunrise to sunset.

The sandhill crane hunting season was set for Oct. 30, 1982, through Jan. 30, 1983 in Zone A. The Zone B season is Dec. 4, 1982 through Jan. 30, 1983. As in the past, a special permit, issued free by the department, is required for sandhill crane hunting. The daily bag limit remains at three; possession limit six Shooting hours are one half-hour before sunrise to sunset.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

GAINING INCOME VS. LOSING A HOME

AUSTIN – The Texas Constitution is unique in several ways. It does not allow garnishment of wages, as we discussed earlier. It does not allow second mortgages on homesteads, except for mechanics' liens.

The reason for this protection is to make sure people do not lose their homes for debt. Its advantages are obvious. The big disadvantage is that it ties up a great deal of money. This can be a problem for people who need cash or for older people who would like to use the money they have invested in their homes for income, but do not want to sell their homes.

There may be a solution that will allow people, particularly retired people, to use their home equity without losing their home. It's called a reverse annuity mortgage loan, and it's a pretty simple idea, despite the horrible name. A bill to allow the reverse annuity mortgage loan was introduced last session, but failed.

An annuity is a guaranteed payment from someone, usually an insurance company or a financial institution. They are purchased for a lump sum of money. For example, if an older person inherits a lump sum of money, that person can buy an annuity. The seller of the annuity will pay the person a specified sum of money every year, for a certain number of years, or until the person dies, whichever is longer. This way, the person knows he or she will have an income for the rest of his or her life.

The problem is, many of us don't have an inheritance and don't expect to get one. Furthermore, many of us don't have much of a retirement to help us in the future.

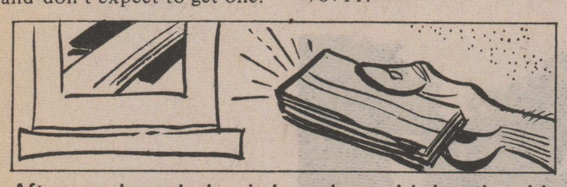

The solution to this could be the reverse annuity mortgage. The retired person could take out such a mortgage against his home. Instead of getting his mortgage money in a lump sum, as in a conventional mortgage, the person would get a set amount every month from the mortgage company until he died. If he died quickly, the estate would get payments for a while.

At the end of the payment period, the person's estate would pay off the mortgage in a lump sum, or the person's heirs would refinance the debt or pay it off.

You can see why this arrangement is called a "reverse" annuity mortgage. It truly is reversed, in that the mortgage company makes payments and the homeowner pays a lump sum.

There are two big problems with this system. One is many heirs and estates will not be able to pay off the debt, so there will be no house to inherit. The other problem is this system opens the door to second mortgages on homes, which we have resisted, for better or worse, for many years in Texas.

This is another of the tough issues we will face in the Legislature next session. We would like for you to tell us how you stand on the idea of reverse annuity mortgages, for senior citizens only. Please write Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Rockets Lasso Bronchos, 21-17

Wellington Skyrockets cinched a place in the UIL playoffs with a 21-17 heart-stopper win over favored Clarendon there Friday.

The thriller left the Rockets with a 7-1-1 season; 4-0 in conference play.

It was see-saw action from beginning to end.

The Bronchos initial possession stalled at the Rocket 19 where a field goal attempt was blocked by Rocket Sheldon Duncan.

Wellington came back to take the ball to Clarendon's 15 with the help of a fake punt, but a penalty turned the ball over.

Clarendon downed their next punt at the Rocket 5, and when Wellington was forced to punt from their 14, the punt was blocked by Broncho Bryan Smith for a safety to give Clarendon a 2-point lead with 8:07 to play in the second quarter.

Wellington stormed back on their next possession with an 88-yard drive, ending with a 15 yard pass from Wade Williams to Otis Lewis, cutting left across the end zone with nobody with him. The Rockets tried the same combination for extra points, but Broncho David Watherton tipped the ball away. Wellington led 6-2 with 1:38 to play in the half.

Wade Williams intercepted Clarendon's second down pass to give the Rockets another chance at 1:24 before halftime at the Clarendon 27. But 4 pass attempts fell shy, the ball went over and the Rockets took a 4 point lead into halftime.

That 4-point lead was the difference. Both teams added 15 points each on the second half scoreboard.

Clarendon came back after the half to score on their first posstssion. A 30-yard pass from substitute quarterback Doug Walker to Kelly Hill and Arlis Thomas extra point kick put the Bronchos ahead 6-9.

But Wellington came back again. This time Dwayne Culpepper returned the kickoff 55 yards to the Clarendon 35. Then from the 6 Culpepper scored and Shane Cobb's extra point kick put Wellington back on top 13-9 in the third quarter.

Wellington controlled the fourth quarter with a seven-minute, 80-yard drive that saw tremendous blocking by the Wellington offensive line and extra effort by the backs. From the 9 yard line Wade Williams connected to Darren Hall for the score. Dewayne Curry's run made it 21-9 with 3:22 to play.

But Clarendon wasn't finished yet. Broncho Boonney Gardner made an 82-yard kickoff return for a touchdown nd Dyron Howell passed to Richard Gaines for 2 to put Clarendon back up to 21-17.

Wellington fans held their breath as the Rockets maintained possession until the clock ran out.

JV Downs Bronchos 36-8

Skyrocket Junior Varsity defeated Clarendon Broncho JV 36-8 on home ground Thursday, Oct. 28. It was the same 6 touchdowns for Wellington and one for Clarendon as in the season opener, but this time Wellington made no points after touchdown, the whole game.

"We pretty well dominated the game. They (Clarendon) didn't get much going on us at all," said Coach Allen Sanders. "We didn't do anything fancy, just the same type of offense as all year."

Wellington's first touchdown came after the JV drove the ball downfield between 50 and 60 yards, then Chuck Brown scored on a dive play up the middle.

The Skyrockets punted to the Bronchos, who could not advance, and Wellington got the ball back on downs.

In the second quarter, Joe Bill Munn scored on a cross buck play from the three yard line.

Munn had already made two "pretty good runs" setting up first downs to move the Rockets toward the goal line. Johnny Nash added yardage.

The Rockets scored again before half time, when Jamie McKay threw a 20 yard pass to Jimmy Barber, who took the ball over.

The fourth touchdown, again by Munn, came on a cat play in the third quarter. The 5th score was another cross buck action by Johnny Nash after Clarendon fumbled and Ruben Cantu made his second recovery.

The last Rocket score came on another turnover, when Jamie McKay on a 35-yard pass play from McKay to Neal Duncan.

Clarendon't only touchdown came in the third quarter on a run from about 40 yards out. On the next play, the Broncho ran the ball in for the two extra points.
