Incumbents Picked For New Terms In Election Saturday

School Board Members Returned To Office in Lively Voting

Three members of the district school board whose terms expire this year were returned to office for new two-year terms Saturday in the annual school board election.

A total of 245 votes were cast in the election, a puny percent of the total voting thrength but about normal in a school board election.

Taylor Denton, board member, received 178 votes to top the ballot. Bill Carson, board chairman, received 162 and Charles E. Davidson, III, newest member of the board, appointed recently to fill out the unexpired term of Glen Sutton, polled 170 votes.

Mrs. R. L. Bland, Jr., received 113 votes while Joe Couch received 90. Both Mrs. Bland and Mr. Couch sought places on the board and their names appeared on the ballot. In addition to the candidates on the ballot, a scattering write-in vote occurred, James Baggett receiving 2 votes and Jack Baggett and Troy Williams one each.

Something of a foregone conclusion was the election of Hillery Phillips as trustee from Precinct 1, on the county board and W. W. West as a member at large on that board. Phillips, whose votes came only from Princt 1, got 80 and West polled 241. Write-ins for this board included Bill Seahorn, Fred Hagelstein, R. A. Harrell and Herman Knox.

Volleyball Girls Down Big Lake For District 8A Title

Two of Three-Game Series Decides Championship Race

By Ernie Boyd

The Ozona High School girls volleyball team captured the district 8-A title in Big Lake last Friday night when they bounced back from a first game loss to win the next two and the match and finish the season undefeated in district play.

The Ozona girls needed the win from Big Lake since a loss to the taller foe would have given Big Lake a tie for the title, whereas a victory for Ozona would give the Ozona girls undisputed possession of the title.

Big Lake, playing on their home court, made a strong bid to gain a share of the title as they won the first of the three game match 10 to 7.

Ozona rallied to tie up the match by downing Big Lake 10 to 4 in the second game and then wo nthe match with a hard played 14 to 10 win.

Vicki Good and Pat Womack led the Ozona team and played their best games of the season, but it was largely a team effort as had been the case all year.

The Ozona team, in winning the title, overcame lack of height and experience and a rash of illness and injuries which kept many of the better players out of action in crucial games.

The Ozona team demonstrated considerable depth, however, as the subs used to replace the regulars came through with great consistency.

The Ozona B team, greatly strengthened by the return of some of its better players who have been on the varsity as replacements for injured and ill regulars, dumped the Big Lake B team in a hard fought match to even the score for a one sided loss in Ozona earlier.

Smouldering Electric Blanket Is Believed Responsible For Fire

An electric blanket is believed to have been responsible for a fire which did considerable damage to a house owned by Mrs. Paul Gibbs and occupied by Mrs. Ann Porter in north Ozona last Friday.

Mrs. Porter is in a San Angelo hospital undergoing medical treatment and evidently left her electric blanket turned on. Either the blanket itself or the control developed trouble and smouldered for days before producing enough smoke to be visible to neighbors.

The fire was discovered by Mrs. Vera Baker across the street. Firemen quickly doused the blaze but not before much damage had been done to the interior of the home and to the furnishings.

OZONA SECOND IN DIST. TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Eldorado First, Iraan 3rd.; Pete Montgomery Top Performer

By Ernie Boyd

Ozona High School track team made a fine showing in the district meet held in Ozona Saturday, coming in a close second and qualfying five men for the regional meet to be held in Lubbock next week.

The Lions rolled up 117½ points compared to Eldorado's winning 125½ points, and 108½ for third place Iraan.

First reports had Ozona claiming 116 points but a check revealed that 1½ points awarded to Iraan should have been given to Ozona.

Pete Montgomery led the Ozona team with 36 points and broke one record in the course of winning both hurdle events, a second in the broad jump, a fourth in the pole vault and a leg o fthe second place Ozona mile relay team.

Montgomery set a new district record with a 19.6 run in the low hurdles and then had this best time of the year in the high hurdles, a 15.2. In either of the races was Montgomery pushed at all.

Even though Montgomery had a splendid day, his failure to place better than fourth in the pole vault, his worst day of the year in that event, gave Iraan's fine little athlete, Buddy Lanehart, the title of the meet's top point winner with 37 point to Montgomery's 36.

Eldorado won the district meet with its two relay teams which won both the 440 and the mile to give the Eagles 40 points. The Eagle team, in the sprint relay, ran a 45.5 quarter and the mile relay team finished ahead with a 3:37.3.

In winning the meet, Eldorado relied heavily on places as did Ozona since the Eagle squad mustered only two other first places, one of which was a major upset in the pole vault where only a 10'9" mark won on fewer misses over Ozona's Scott Mahon.

Big Lake and Iraan both finished with three first places while Ozona and Rankin had two each.

Ozona qualified five men for the regional tuorney in Lubbock events. Montgomery won both hurdles, placed second in the broad jump and ran a leg on the second place mile relay team. The fifth qualifier was Scott, Mahon, who was second in the pole vault, even though he tied the winner for height.

The Ozona mile relay team was made up of David Childress, who ran a strong opening quarter, Joel Huff, Richard Vargas and Pete Montgomery. Three o thefse boys

Member 1963 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Auto Graveyards Don't Belong In Town

The Texas Good Roads Assn. and the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce are teaming up for a "Clean Up the Roadsides" campaign in Texas and a most worthwhile campaign it is.

Texas is going all out to attract tourists and to favorably impress them once they visit the state. And one of the best ways to so impress a visitor is to remove debris and litter from city streets, county roads and state highways.

Ozona has for years been a town that is cleanliness counscious, thanks in large measure to the Womens Clubs for their annual clean-up campaign. And Ozona has escaped for these many years having one of the most unsightly of all eyesores, the automobile body graveyard.

But now we have one, and a growing one, that presents a ghastly sight to the tourist approaching from the west and to the one leavfrom the east — and to every Ozonan who happens to pass that way or sights the rusty pile at the end of an otherwise pleasant street vista.

Maybe there's money to be made in the junk business, in the junk auto body business, but to the outsider it looks like slow moving merchandise, because the piles never seem to get smaller, just larger. And time does nothing to improve the scene around such a depository.

Citizens who have a feeling of pride in their town deplore the growth of such eyesores as the auto graveyard. It does seem that a location might be chosen, if such a growing collection is necessary, in a more secluded spot where it would not be such a shock to the sensibilities of people who appreciate the advantages of a clean and attractive community.

If the junk heap that has been accumulated along Johnson draw in southwest Ozona is worth money, we hope that its owners soon will turn it into cash and in the future work a little harder at the selling job than in just buying. We don't think prideful citizens should forever have to apologize for an unsightly pile of junk in the middle of their town.

Endurance Contest

In his book-length message to Congress of orfeign aid, President Kennedy does his best to make it appear that our expenditures in this area are so trifling as to make any generously-minded citizens slightly ashamed. Further, he goes on to suggest, by way of a pat o nthe head for the Clay Report (that is, the report of the President's Committee to Strengthes the Security of the Free World', that we are going to be even more cheese-paring in this effort.

However, if you can stay with it through the discussion of the Six Objectives of foreign aid, plus the pitch for investment in underdeveloped countries of the private capital so sadly needed to provide jobs at home, plus a sermon on the Alliance for Progress (and how if we'd done right by Cuba, there wouldn't be any Castro), you discover that we must spend $600 million more (not less) in the next fiscal year than in the year closing on June 30.

The hard figures are: The original budget figure of $4.9 billion for fiscal 1964 has been cut $400 million to $4.5 billion — which is $600 million more than the 1963 figure of $3.9 billion.

The President's major opus begins with Milton and closes (we would guess) with Schlesinger. He quotes the poet: "Peace hath her victories no less renowed than war," and proceeds: "And no peacetime victory in history has been as far-reaching in its impact, nor served the cause of freedom so well, as the victories scored in the last 17 years by this Nation's mutual defense and assistance programs".

If our arithmetic is correct, that takes us back to our entry into the UN, before our State Department drafed the surrender of our national sovereignty to that body, before our ghastly defeat in Korea, before the Berlin blockade, the Khrushchev ultimatum and the Wall, before the Budapest massacre, before Suez, before the Geneva disarmament conference, before the rape of Goa and Katanga, and before the Russian occupation of Cuba.

"We have dared," the message concludes, "to label the Sixties the Decade of Development. But it is not the elopuence of our slogans, but the quality of our endurance which will determine whether this generation of Americans deserves the leadership which history has thrust upon us."

The President has a point there. But we question whether "endurance" is quite all that will be required.

A Creek In My Back

By Allan R. Bosworth

Author of "New Country" and other historical & fictional works

This is the season when restlessness burns in the blood, along with the fires of Spring. The far and misty headlands call. There's a schooner in the offing with her tops'ls shot with fire, and my heart has gone aboard her for the Islands of Desire. There's a road to Mandalay, and people are dancing and singing and squirting colored water at each other in Santipur, Udaipur and Nadawip.

Back here in the United States, a lot of people are parading and fighting and throwing mud at each other, and they have just finished holding the great Striek Festival in New York. You don't have to travel to see strange sights.

But it is the season of the wanderlust, and I have just come into possession of a most remarkable document — Pan Am's 1963 Calendar of Overseas Events. This tells you when the Feast of the Hungry Ghosts will be held — August 19 to September 1 in this Year of the Hare — in Hong Kong.

It tells you when Konya, Turkey will celebrate the Festival of the Whirling Dervishes.

I see I am too late to go to Vietnam in time for Tet, wtih its giant dancing unicorns. Tet opened the lunar New Year on January 25. But I could get to Split and Bled, in Yugoslavia in time for some o fthe carnivals and Jazz Festivals. Curiously enough, they are going to have the world's Kayah Championships on Pliva Lake, in Yugoslavia, and not in Alaska.

In Alaska, on the other hnad, they have already held the Fur Rendezvous, with Sled Dog races, Miners and Trappers Ball, Eskimo dances, blanket tosses — and sports car races. I imagine the miners came down from the creeks dog dirty and covered with hair—just like Robert W. Service said—in their TR-3's, MG's, Austin-Healeys and Jaguars. But Dangerous Dan McGrew only got half-shot, this time, because it says here they are going to shoot him at Skagway, during the Days of '98, is May. . . .

According to the Pan Am calendar, Europe is really jumping, from Fool's Night in Vienna to Sucker's Day at Epsom Downs. The Bregenz International Music and Drama Festivals is scheduled to open on July 18, when they Brengenz the Beguine. In May, at Duesseldorf, Interpack 63 will be an international packaging exhibition, and I imagine they will come up with new, world-wide ways to put things in plastic so that you cannot possibly get them open.

Well, I am very grateful to Pan Am for having taken me along on a world-wide armchair tour, but the calendar really reached me at the wrong time of the year. This is the Moon of the Great White Father, and there will be no wampum left for traveling. In every lodge and wigwam and tepee of our tribes, the name of the Great White Father is spoken. The wrinkled old Nokomis hushes the little Hiawatha by telling him the Great White Father will get him unless he has made out his income tax return. The Golden Sears International Sheep Shearing Contest was recently held in Masterton, New Zealand, but it was nothing compared to the fleecing of the American taxpayer held here at home. There will be Indian Fire Walking Exhibitions in the Fiji Islands in August — no more spectacular than the annual hotfoot we get at our Internal Revenue Dance.

Split and Bled, Yugoslavia, indeed!

Screwworm Case Is Found Outside Of Overwintering Area

Liberty — A screwworm infestation discovered in Liberty county in late March served as a sharp reminder that it is not too early in the season for livestock producers throughout all of Texas to be alert for evidence of the pest.

In most years livestock producers in Liberty county do not experience screwworm infestations until late spring; however, the March discovery points up that stockmen already need to be watching for screwworms, eradication officials stated.

Authorities noted that because the infestation near Liberty was detected during the early stages of the maggots' development and was reported promptly to eradication headquarters at Mission, it was possible to quickly implement emergency measures to prevent the spread of screwworms to other areas. Sexually sterile screwworm flies were being dispered on and near the infested premises within 48 hours after the case was discovered in the wound of a goat.

Liberty High School vocational agriculture students were lauded for their fast action in collecting a sample from the animal and reporting the case to Mission by telephone.

Eradication authorities said that similar screwworm outbreaks outside of the overwintering area can be expected in the months ahead, but are confident they can be controlled if livestock producers will keep their animals under close surveilance, treat wounds with approved insecticides and report infestations promptly.

Junction To Stage 13th Annual Easter Pageant Sat. Night

Junction's thirteenth annual Easter Pageant will be presented next Saturday, April 13, 1963 at 10 p. m. on the eve before Easter Sunday, in a natural amphi-theatre on the hillside below The Ever-burning Cross, one mile south-east of Junction.

Presentation is by four-score Kimble County people, all laymen, women and children in colorful costumes, typical of the dress of Biblical times. Here they will re-enact Jesus Christ's last Days on Earth, so timed that the Scene of the final Ascension will take place shortly after mid-night on Easter morn.

This Holy Spectacle will be presented in pantomine, supported from a broadcasting booth by readers and background music. A dozen stages have been arranged among the rugged rocks of the hill-side and changes of scenes are effected by the shifting of spot and flood lights.

The production is entirely amateur and non-commercial. Members of the cast are all local people, with no professional or paid actors. The cast contains men and women from many walks of life, who take time from their business for several weeks to participate in this consecrated service.

Mrs. Jack Reeves, accomplished ranch woman, directs the Pageant for the twelfth consecutive year. In 1951, a group of about twenty inspired people enacted the first Pageant from a single stage. From year to year the Spectacle has grown, with changes and improvements in scripts, scenes, staging and props. Attendance has yearly increased, and last year over 6,800 people came from far and near.

Hoping never has been, and is not now, a suitable subsitute for hard work. How nice it would be if we could lay down our books, close our eyes, and wait for this "ordeal of the last six weeks" to pass!

Unfortunately, such is not the case. All the wishing in the world cannot help a student who does not study. These last few weeks are those that will separate the men from the boys. Six weeks can make a great deal of difference in final averages and can lower good grades considerably.

Those students who are "on the borderline" of passing and failing are the ones with the most to lose. It is those who must avoid "aiming fo rthe bottom" — the lack of a few short hours of study could mean "ending up in the hole" and having to spend many weeks in future school years to make up for it.

FROM THE WASTE BASKET

With school almost out, a variety of excuses to return to class have accumulated in the principal's wastebasket. Here are a few salvaged from "File 13".

Dear Teacher,

Please excuse Susie for her absence Wednesday and Thursday. She had to have her picture made Thursday and she spent Wednesday in the beauty parlor.

Susie's Mama

Dear Sir,

Allow my child an excused absence from classes yesterday. He needed a good rest before the horse shoe game last night so he could bring honor to the school. Young bodies need lots of rest,, and even though he does weigh 225 pounds, he sin't too strong. As to his grade in Algebra, I will be up to discuss dropping the course.

Tiny's Mother

Dear principal,

Please excuse Johnny from classes Wednesday morning. He wanted to see the midnight show, and a growing boy needs his sleep.

Johnny's Ma,

Dear Teacher,

Please excuse me, I mean Alfred for being late to school on account of the alarm clock got thrown out the window, and we didn't know what time it was.

Mrs. John R. Hunnicutt led the grouped in reading the club collect and Mrs. Jim Dudley, president, presided at a business meeting. Notes of thanks from state and district club officials for the recent district convention held here were read to the club.

Mrs. A. S. Lock traced the history of Ozona parks, the Live Oak Park, sponsored since 1960 by the Ozona Garden Club, being a recent state winner of club projects. The downtown city park dates back to about 1900. Walnut trees were first planted in the park, Mrs. Lock recalled, but these died and mulberries were later planted and then pecans. The Ozona Woman's Club took an early interest in the park and has followed through the years until it is one of the most attractive spots in West Texas today.

A talk on gardening was given by Mrs. Bill Carson. She passed out sheets of instructions for spring, summer and fall plantings.

Members attending were Mmes. Jess Marley, Graham Childress, Bob West, John E. Hunnicutt, Joe Pierce, IV, Leonard Boyd, Perry Hubbard, Dick Kirby, Jimmy McMullan, Buddy Mills and Bruce Mayfield.

Missionaries From Salt Lake City Plan Few Month Work Here

Elder and Mrs. Elisha Warner of Salt Lake City, Utah, who are part of the great missionary system of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, arrived in Ozona Monday and are planning to spend several months in this city as missionaries, "declaring the truth of the restoration," Elder Warner said.

"We are serving as full missionaries, unpaid ministry, along with 10,000 other full time missionaries, as a special Peace Corps, representing our church and country in every Christian nation on earth. We are neither Protestant nor Catholic, but are teaching the "'Message of the Restoration'," Elder Warner declared.

"It is our desire to discuss with the good people of Ozona the mission of Jesus Christ, of His true Personage and Divinity; that He is the Son of God, the Redeemer of the world; the author of our salvation, Also, that God has raised up a prophet in these latter days, unto whom has been given the Divine Priesthood, the authority to preach the Gospel and administer the ordinances thereof, and that the true church of Jesus Christ has again been established upon the earth for the good and salvation of all mankind."

There is a branch of the church located in San Angelo, Elder Warner, said, with services at 5 p. m. each Sunday evening. All are invited to attend. Arrangements have been completed by Elder Warner for use of the Boy Scout cabin here Sunday mornings for Sunday School classes. Sunday School classes will shart at 9 a. m. next Sunday April 21. Everybody is invited.
