Wool, Lamb Incentive Payment Checks To Be Distributed Early Next Week

Incentive pay checks to wool producers of Sutton County, representing the percentage difference between the average price received by growers throughout the nation and the government support price for the fiber at 62 cents a pound, will be ready for distribution commencing next Monday, Mrs. Marie K. Ellis, ASC office manager here, announced this week.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced last week that the incentive pay for the 1957 wool clip had been set at 15.5 percent of the price received by the grower on shorn wool and 33 cents per 100 pounds of body weight of unshorn lambs sold.

The next distribution of federal funds to growers in this county will be approximately $17,886.00 on shorn wool and an additional $7,078.00 on unshorn lambs sales. A deduction of one cent a pound from payments for shorn wool, amounting to approximately $2,650.00 in this county, will go to the National Wool Council for use in nationwide promotion of use of wool and lamb.

All funds used by the government in meeting the incentive payments come from import duties on raw wool into this country.

Ranchmen eligible to receive the incentive pay checks who live in this county are asked to call at the local ASC to pick up their checks. Those living out of the county will receive their checks by mail.

Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bloodworth and sons, Buck, Bert and Lee, are spending their vacation on the ranch near Sonora.

a man named Alexander Graham Bell came up with an invention he called the "telephone". The idea of the gadget was to talk into a speaker on one of a wire and a person listening at the other end would get your message—it worked something like two tin can on a wire, you remember the kind you made as a kid.

There were people even then who felt like Bell's gadget might have a future and they figured maybe some day there would be a network of wires all over the nation carrying people's voices from one city to another, and even from one country to another.

Well, for a great number of years it looked like their prophecies were pretty good—those lines went up all over America and all over foreign countries too. And companies were formed whose only function was to provide service for the "telephone" subscribers. There came into being a bunch of hard-working ladies who worked switchboards, helped subscribers and performed acts of service above and beyond those required of them.

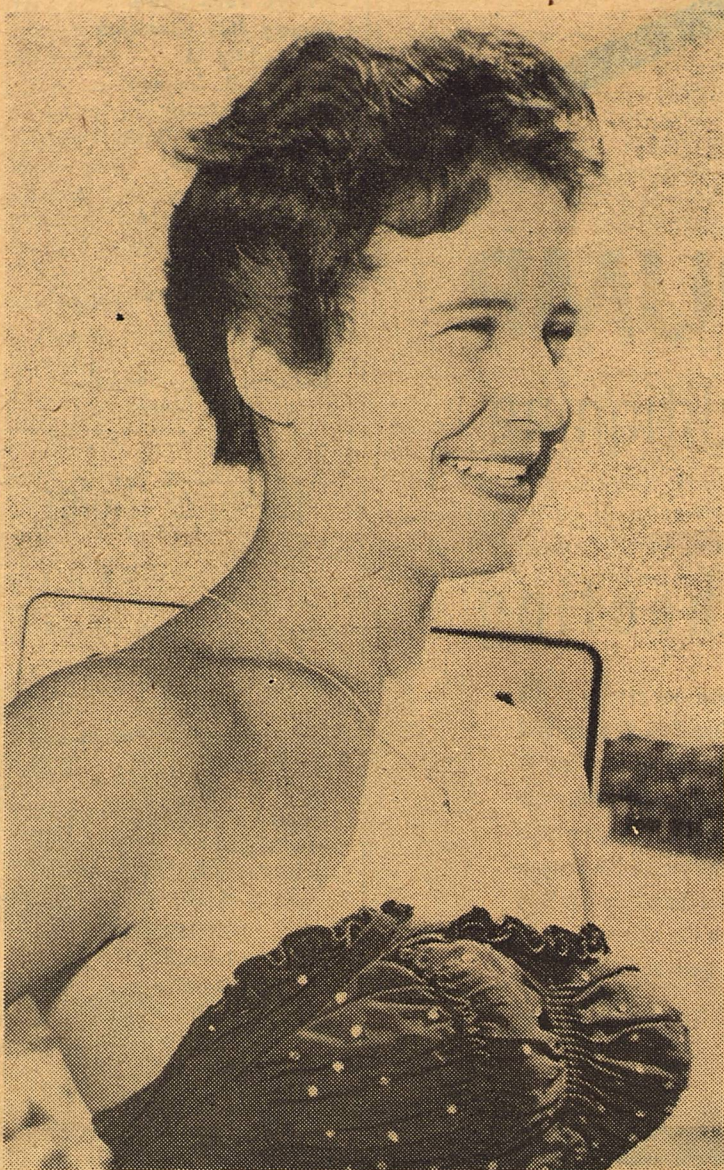

But somewhere along the line, the big companies got bogged down in counting out dividends and they lost track of the fact that as the "telephone" became more and more of a necessity and that, as a result, facilities to ensure subscribers of service would need expanding.

As it stands now, Sonora is only a little better off than it was before A. G. Bell had his bright idea. Sue, we can talk to our neighbors and we can even talk across town and to ranches served by the local exchange. But calling from Sonora to another town, even a neighboring town such as San Angelo presents a different problem. The five long distance circuits to San Angelo just aren't adequate for handling the load of outgoing and incoming calls. Delays are the rule rather than the exception.

The girls at the phone office are still willing and anxious to serve and they are to be commended for their patience and perseverance but it looks like they and the subscribers will just have to get along as best they can.

Oh, well, people got along without any kind of phone service for several million years and they developed some pretty good substitutes—smoke signals, flag waving, flashing mirrors, the Pony Express. Maybe if General Telephone Company of the Southwest won't assure service to their subscriber we can fall back on one of these other systems. We'd hate to, but our Boy Scouts are active and they learn codes and some of them are fair horsemen—maybe they'll carry messages for us when the hospital needs a specialist or an expensive piece of machinery or equipment needs repairing immediately to avoid a fair-sized loss of business.

But if you'd prefer to continue to carry on contact with the outside world by "telephone" you might get in touch with Mr. Robbins in San Angelo.

Miss Jan Keng, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Keng, has been chosen by the Sonora Lions Club to be their candidate in the 24th annual "Miss Southwest" contest at Fort Stockton July 12. Miss Keng will be in the court of Miss Fort Stockton and Miss Southwest of 1957. The contest to select "Miss Southwest of 1958" will be held July 12, climaxing three days of beauty contest activity sponsored by the Fort Stockton Lions Club.

Youth Revival To Start July 13 Methodist Church

Final plans have been laid for the youth revival scheduled by the First Methodist Church for July 13, to 18. Harold Sassman, senior student at Southwestern University, Georgetown, will spend the week leading the church's youth in worship services, study and recreation.

According to the Rev. Doyle W. Morton, pastor of the local church, plans for the week call for the first night, Thursday there will be a tiny tot beauty contest and on Friday, "Miss Fort Stockton Junior" and "Miss Fort Stockton Senior" will be chosen. "Miss Fort Stockton" is ineligible for the title of "Miss Southwest".

Saturday's big parade, featuring 25 floats that will be competing for cash prizes in four categories, will begin at 4:30. Jan and her escort, George Archer, will be guests of honor at numerous parties and other entertainment for contestants.

for daily study groups for intermediates to be held at the church from ten o'clock to eleven o'clock each morning.

Senior MYF members will meet for study on how to carry on the various phases of their work from six o'clock to seven-thirty each evening. This study group will be followed by a one hour worship service. An hour-long period of singing, games and general recreation will conclude the evening's activities.

Light Showers Fall Over County

By E. B. Keng

Light to moderate showers covered most of the Sonora area Sunday, adding moisture needed by the rapidly growing grass. The rainfall was very spotted, and varied from only a trace to 1.60 at the Paul Turney ranch.

Representative rainfall reports gathered by SCS technicians include the following:

J. V. Alley .50; John Cauthorn .30 to 1.00; Joe Logan .30; Fred Earwood .50; Alvis Johnson .40 to .80; Sonora Wool House .58; Billy Galbreath .60 to 1.00; G.

H. Davis .50; David Shurley .85; Alice Jones .60; Mayer ranch .50 to 1.00; Howard Espy .45; Hospital ranch .90; Dan Cauthorn .40; George Brockman .37; W. L. Miers .20; Ben Cusenbary .25 to .65; Experiment Station 1.80; Gene Wallace .50; Collier Shurley .87; Nettie Word 1.10; and Herbert Fields .60.

The light rains will be very beneficial to young grass seedlings that are germinating rapidly on rangeland and on planted fields. Root plowed areas recently planted to grass show good germination.

Girl Recovering From Snake Bite

Clara Margaret Schwiening, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schwiening, Jr., was released Tuesday from Hudspeith Memorial Hospital where she had been receiving treatment following a rattlesnake bite received at the Barton ranch Friday.

The rattlesnake struck Clara Margaret as she reached in to a low shrub while searching for a pet parakeet which had escaped. Her 12-year-old companion, Beverly Buchanan of San Antonio, realized at once what had happened and immediately applied a tourniquet. She then called her father, Parrish Buchanan, who was painting a short distance from the house. Buchanan slit the bite with a razor blade and completed first-aid treatment.

Having no automobile available to bring the child to town for medical attention, Buchanan sent his daughter on foot to stop a passing car at the highway about a mile from the house. He carried Clara Margaret as far as she would let him and accompanied her in to the hospital.

Quick thinking and prompt application of first-aid on the part of the Buchanan girl was given large credit for Clara Margaret's speedy recovery.

More Son of a Gun

Sonora, we have such an abundance of people who think of their town and of future generations who will reap a harvest from what is being planted now.

We think and always have thought that the reason is quite a simple one. We think that people have what we might call a "primary-centeredness" that is, people center their lives primarily in one of two directions, either inward toward themselves, or outward toward others. Either self-centered or others-centered. We think the reason Sonora is the unusual and wonderful place it is, is because most of the people here have centered their main interests in the interest of all, rather than in the interests of themselves.

Is this not, then, attempting to obey the first two commandments? We think so.

... Son of a gun ...

By Clay T. Puckett
Guest Editor

Three years ago we wrote our "last" Son-of-a-gun column, thinking we were out of the newspaper business for good, then, bright and early this morning, while we were trying to get our eyes open with two or three pots of coffee, your erstwhile editor appeared in high good spirits and announced that he would "just as soon have us write this weeks column." So this is our "last-last" column, and all who clipped out the "last" column three years ago and pasted it in their scrapbooks are asked to tear it out and paste this one in.

It is a little strange coming back here to write a column after not having written anything much except theological words for so long. Incidentally, we didn't have the slightest bit of trouble learning the long, theological words at the seminary, because Louis Davis took us under his wing before we left and coached us. Davis, as you know, is a man of imposing vocabulary. His wordage has stature, magnificence, and variety.

So we said, "Uncle Louie, what shall we do when the professor says something about the 'theological argument,' or 'realized eschatology?'"

Uncle Louie didn't bat an eye. He just gazed out the window and quietly stirred his coffee. Finally, with the air of a man who has just worked out Einstein's Theory in his head, Uncle Louie turned and announced that he knew of a big word which he would teach us and which would establish our reputation as a scholar among the divines at Virginia. A small fee was involved, of course. Payment was duly made and finally the great moment arrived.

"Uncle Louie, we said breathlessly, 'what is THE WORD?'" "Mentholum," said Uncle Louie, and walked out.

Seriously though, Sonora looks great, and that's putting it mildly. The thing that strikes us, is the air of industriousness one senses here. Improvements abound. Churches, schools, highways, service stations, motels, OUR AIRPORT, and the people that go with these things are all evidence of the spirit which has always seemed to guide Sonora; destiny so surely.

Why is this? Why is it that for decades now, the Sonora story has been the story of community-consciousness, the story of growth and activity? Why is it that in

Ex-Bronco Coach, Robert W. Hamilton, Seeks Election To Supreme Court Post

Robert W. Hamilton, candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, Place 1, is still another Sutton County man to make political headlines this year. Hamilton is not a native of the county but he was a teacher in the Sonora schools in 1920 and 1921 and coached the Sonora Bronco football team at that time.

Visiting with friends here last week, Hamilton recalled winning over Ozona 20 to 13. Members of his team were Horance Rees, Greydon Rees, Woodson Herbert, Albert Runnels, Lum Adams, Jack Grimland, John A. Martin, Jr., John Eaton, Marvin Logan, Curtis Edens, Clyde Martin, Nelson Merck and George E. (Bud) Smith.

Hamilton left Sonora to graduate from the University of Texas School of Law. He has practiced law for the past 31 years. He has been city attorney at Stanton, District Attorney of the 70th Judicial District, Judge of the same district and was elected to a full term as Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals after having been appointed to the bench in 1953. He has practiced law in Tyler and Midland.

Absentee Voting

Only two requests for absentee ballots have been received in the office of County Clerk F. L. McKinney two days after absentee voting began for the July 26 democratic primary election.

Voters are reminded that if they are out of Sutton County they may write for ballots to County Clerk F. L. McKinney or if they plan to be out of town on election day, they may cast their votes in the Clerk's office on or before July 22.

DARK HORSE MAY PROVE FAVORITE

Increasingly active in the final weeks of his busy campaign is our candidate for the legislature, Jerry Shurley. For him it is a successful campaign, winning him friends and support all over the 78th district.

It looks more and more like we have a winner in Shurley and this is good for more reasons than because he is a native son. For one thing, Shurley is a rancher. He is acquainted with the problems of the industry through experience. And through his education he is acquainted with governmental methods of dealing with them.

In a more general sense, he is the type of citizen-politician which any government cries for. He has just the education, the character, the honesty and perseverance hoped for in any representative. He is strongly dedicated to principles of economical government, a quality our state may be in danger of losing. Perhaps more important, Shurley intends to be a REAL representative of ALL the people of the district. If elected, his only obligation will be to them.

In short, our legislature needs men LIKE Shurley—our district needs SHURLEY.

YOUR MINISTER SAYS

By Rev. Alanson Brown

The Fourth has come and gone. It served as a time when many people were killed in accidents and as a time when more fortunate people were away for a "long weekend". A "long weekend" seems to be accepted and defined as a time when we have more time than usual to goof-off. Some more caustic observers might say that we live in a perpetual "long weekend". Thus inferring that we as a people goof-off a lot of time.

As a matter of fact we as a people do have more leisure than most in our day and more than any in the past. With all of the leisure we have why are we not a more creative people? Why does it seem that we are just drifting without any real purpose or sense of vocation in life? Our high school graduates seem mostly interested in what job they can get with the most pay and fewest working hours. One and all seem interested in only one aim—How to get more gold eggs out of the goose. Any challenge to one's creativity or ingenuity is answered with the question, "How much is in it for me?"

These attitudes are great cause for alarm. This nation UNDER GOD was not built by people with such attitudes nor WILL IT BE MAINTAINED BY PEOPLE WITH SUCH ATTITUDES!!! WE hold our freedom and liberties as gifts from the almighty therefore our Stewardship doesn't stop with material possessions. We are also Stewards of God's gift of freedom.

Which way shall we go? Shall we live up the "long weekend" and goof-off our liberties by default? Shall we renew our sense of purpose UNDER GOD and find new meaning in serving God and other men?

Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District News

By E. B. Keng
Soil Conservation Service

The recent rains have revived a substantial proportion of bitterweed on rangeland in the Edwards Soil Conservation District. Though discouraging and expensive, ranchmen in the formerly "clean area" have another brief opportunity to pull the scattered plants originating from seed brought in by the wind during the drought.

The decision on whether to attempt to eradicate bitterweed in formerly free areas—or any other area—must be made by the individual landowner. Once the decision is made to eradicate the weed, a determined and continuous effort should be made to pull every plant.

Though bitterweed behavior is extremely hard to predict, it is reasonable to expect that a very high percentage of seed blown in by the wind germinated this year. Good rains in the fall of 1957 and early in 1958 were favorable for maximum germination.

It is particularly important that ranchmen give grass every opportunity to spread rapidly and cover the bare areas. A good cover of grass will be invaluable in preventing the fast spread of bitterweed. Plants that are missed and allowed to seed will spread very slowly if encircled by a good stand of grass. Many of the bitterweed seed will not germinate and grow with grass competition.

Light stocking during the growing season, accompanied by deferred grazing where possible, are the ranchman's best tools in encouraging rapid growth and spread of grass. A good cover of vegetation—either grass or weeds—should always be left ungrazed to catch and hold rainfall for plant use.

Though infestation of bitterweed brought in by wind during the drought varies greatly on individual ranches, observation indicates that an average of about one plant per acre is commonly found. The severe drought depleted the grass cover on rangeland and the uniformly scattered stand of bitterweed, if uncontrolled, can rapidly infest an entire ranch.

Devil's River Philosopher Wants World To Pick Out One Trouble Spot And Use It Permanently

Editor's Note: The Devil's River Philosopher on his bitterweed ranch on Devil's River seems to be having trouble in keeping up with the international news, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

When it comes to geography, I don't have any trouble in finding my way into Sonora, and if put to it could find my way to Eldorado or Del Rio, and if somebody would furnish the car and pay for the gas and go along to drive I guess I could make it to nearly any town in this country, by trial and error, although I'm perfectly satisfied to stay where I am, but after I get very far away from home, I'm lost.

For example, every once in a while, I'd say on the average of every three months a new trouble spot breaks out in the world and the newspapers play it up and it sounds bad, although generally I don't know what they're talking about. Right now the world's trouble spot is Lebanon, wherever that is, and a while back it was Algeria, then Saudi Arabia, Seoul, etc. I'm not really familiar with these places, I'm just copying them down from old newspapers I've been saving.

Now here's the thing. They never do seem to solve any of these problems, they just run their course in the papers a few weeks and no more is heard about them, while a brand new trouble spot breaks out some place else.

This skipping around from trouble spot to trouble spot is confusing, and I'm proposing that the world pick out one spot, preferably one that's easy to spell and pronounce, and let it serve permanently as the world's trouble spot. It doesn't make any difference where it is, so long as it's sitting on a powder keg and has some woods and mountains nearby for rebels to hide out in. It also needs a place for the official government to hole up in, and there ought to be a good landing field for the U.S. to rush aid in on.

Outside of this, about all they'll need is a comfortable place for the reporters to stay, and the trouble spot will be in business.

The way I see it, one trouble spot's as good as another, and it's sheer waste and a tax on a man's mind to shift it around every few months.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Alaskan Statehood Subject Of Letter From Fisher

By Congressman O. C. Fisher

"Howdy, Podner" is the cartoon caption depicting a big fur-coated Alaskan offering a hand to a relatively small pistol-toting Texan with a big hat. It happened on Monday, June 30, when the Senate by a vote of 64 to 20 okayed a House-approval bill making the vast Territory of Alaska the 49th—and biggest—state in the union.

All Texans in the House but three had voted against the admission at this time. But the majority rules and we can wish the best for the new State.

Admittedly, the new state will depend on Uncle Sam to help finance the new venture in statehood for many years to come. With fewer than 100,000 permanent citizens, including 35,000 natives, and a total voting strength of only 26,000, and a limited revenue source, Alaska will lean heavily upon the taxpayers of other states to pitch in and help pay its bills.

The Congress went overboard in its generosity by giving outright a hundred million acres of land owned by all the American people. Previously when new states have been admitted the Government ceded only up to one section of Federally-owned public land out of each four; but in this instance the give-away is about one section out of every eighteen!

A northern liberal Congressman chided southerners for voting against Alaskan statehood, claiming it was done solely because the southerners knew the two new Senators and the new Representative will be liberals—devoted to the free-spending welfare-state concept of government.

Wool scouring plants, three of them in Texas, will breathe a bit easier as a result of an amendment to the mammoth railroad transportation bill which passed the House last week. An amendment, which I sponsored, will keep scoured and clean wool exempt from ICC rates, thus saving up to $150 per hundred weight on transportation costs to Boston and other markets.

Emily Vander Stucken and Emile Vander Stucken III of Princeton, New Jersey will arrive this weekend for a visit of several weeks with their grandmother. Mrs. E. F. Vander Stucken, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vander Stucken, Jan and Jo Bess.

THE MARK OF A REALLY SMART PERSON

The mark of a really smart person is not necessarily a college diploma or a Phi Beta Kappa key. It might be simply a record of carefully-considered actions.

To "know it all" would be wonderful — if we humans could absorb that much knowledge in a lifetime. Next best is to seek and accept the advice of experts, particularly your Doctor.

Visit him frequently. Follow his directions carefully. Bring your prescriptions to us to be filled, and take the medicine he prescribes regularly.

Such cooperation is the best course possible for preservation of your health, and it marks you as a really smart person.

SONORA EXTERMINATORS
BOND RD. — SONORA, TEXAS

IN THE YEAR OF

Friday, July 4, 1930
Steve Murphy, former publisher of The Devil's River News, said he was the first "Bum" to ride a train into Sonora, and that Mayor Roy Aldwell was the first to get left. Mr. Aldwell was busy talking to friends in Eldorado and missed the train.

The Sonora Motor Company, owned by the Hulls, received the first express to come over the new $3,000,000 Santa Fe rail extension to this city. Mr. Hull was the first Sutton County citizen to send a telegram over the Western Union wire. The message went to The Ford Motor Company at Dallas requesting a shipment of a car of new Fords.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Miller and children of Big Lake were among Sonorans who attended the rail jubilee in Sonora. Mr. Miller was formerly in the jewelry business here. While here they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. James.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Briant of San Angelo were guests of friends here during the celebration. Mr. Briant is a former sheriff of Sutton County.

The big rail celebration is over, but Sonora and Sutton County citizens are still rejoicing over the fact that trains will continue to run into the "Capital of the Stockman's Paradise." Rails into Sonora will help to commercialize the city, and will afford the ranchmen a way to get their live- stock out of here without so much expense and shrinkage.

There were many old timers from almost every where who came here to see the first train halt at the depot. Among them were: George and Walter White- head of Del Rio; Judge J. A. Whitten of Eldorado; B. M. Hal- bert and his brother, Bob, of San Angelo; Ruby Davis and family of Georgetown. Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Meers of Menard; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nisbett of Plainview and Millard Cope of Sweetwater.

The Sonora Lions Club did it's part in arranging for the enter- tainment. The Lions and officials of the Stockman's Paradise As- sociation worked together har- moniously and everything went off smoothly. Roy Aldwell, president of the association, and W. R. Barnes, general manager, are to be congratulated.

To Our Telephone Girls

The busy, watchful and efficient "hello girl" is on the other end of your telephone line. She is "Central" and she sees that your casual or urgent call goes through in seconds. All day long, and through the night, your Phone Girl is on the job. She has "the voice with a smile". She knows her business and is businesslike. Surely we don't fully appreciate the wonderful service of these women. Let's not just take them for granted. Let's tell them whenever we can how greatly they add to our modern way of living!
