SENATE CONFIRMS HUGHES AS CHIEF JUSTICE

Brother Of Famous Soldier And Small Girl Killed In Mineral Wells Crash

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

There may be some difference of opinion as to whether an impression that comes through the eye or one that comes through the ear is the deeper and more lasting. That is a question that a psychologist might answer. John Lee Smith of Throckmorton, "anti-Tammany candidate for congress" isn't taking any chances for he sends in a statement of his candidacy and his "he believes" together with a cartoon he has drawn to represent the Tammany tiger "Penned Up in Texas."

Among other things, he believes in farm relief—"real relief, not fine spun promises of gossamer webs woven to deceive" and he also believes in a tariff "that protects the farmer and gives justice to the consumer" and that the rate of interest on federal farm loans should be reduced from 5½ to 3½ per cent.

His promise is "to vote for the right in the interest of the people, as conscience and reason give him the light to see that which is right and just toward the people of this district."

The Texas legislature has rejected the offer of Oklahoma to pay $150,000 for approximately 30,000 acres of land which a government survey has found to be in Texas instead of Oklahoma where it was supposed to be. The rejection came in the form of a resolution notifying the United States supreme court that negotiations for the sale of the land to Oklahoma were ended and asking that legislation necessary to protect the bona fide holders of titles in the strip be passed.

It can't make a great deal of difference to either Texas or Oklahoma which has title and jurisdiction over the strip in question. The important thing is that bona fide owners of titles in this strip be protected in their titles and possession of the property. If Texas is to retain jurisdiction over the land this question of titles ought to be settled at the earliest moment possible. There is nothing so disturbing as an unsettled situation in reference to titles.

Talker is told that the city of Wichita Falls has no thought or intention of embarking in the show business and that the plan reported as such contemplated an association of individuals for that purpose. That is an entirely different matter. There is still the question of whether it could be made to pay, even expenses. That, of course, would be a question for those who might join in a movement to back such an enterprise.

There are few who would have said a few days ago that there would have been any formidable opposition to the confirmation of Charles E. Hughes for chief justice of the supreme court. That formidable opposition has developed is an indication of the temper of these times in which almost everything is being questioned. Some of the opposition to Judge Hughes may have merit. Some of it is a cheap brand of politics.

Wichita Falls may well pause a moment today in tribute to the memory of John Garland James who died in a hospital at Dallas Wednesday and is to be buried in Austin this afternoon. Colonel James was a moving spirit in the early commercial and civic life of Wichita Falls. Possessed of a firm belief, an abiding faith and an intelligent optimism Colonel James, his contemporaries tell us, was a strong force in the hopeful, struggling community that was to become the city of Wichita Falls. Few men were more active in its affairs in those early days. Few we can believe, exercised a more potent and helpful influence.

Colonel James left Wichita Falls many years ago but up to the time and even during his fatal illness he felt a very warm interest in the city which he had helped establish.

Talker saw his first game of marbles of the season yesterday and a kite flying in the February breeze. More signs of spring around the corner.

Senator Earle B. Mayfield has shown his usual political acumen in getting in early on the fight against chain stores. We expect to hear a great deal about chain stores in the coming campaign. Look, or rather hear, what W. K. Henderson is doing with his radio station at Shreveport. Before Henderson took up the fight against chain stores he was losing his hold on the interest of radio fans. Now he has become famous and is about the "hottest bird" on the air, and if the federal bureau in charge of such matters was to attempt to revoke his license there would be such a protest as would raise the dome of the capitol in Washington. Henderson saw an opportunity and went to it. Mayfield is following his example.

WOMEN 'WETS' TELL OF CRIME

Stories of Corruption and Debauchery Given

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Led by four determined women, opponents of the 18th amendment today related to the house judiciary committee, stories of crime, corruption and debauchery, which they charged resulted from the prohibition law.

The women set out to refute claims that the women of the country favored the dry statutes. The men witnesses, among them former Senator Bruce of Maryland, backed them up with charges that the greatest crime wave of history had resulted from the 18th amendment.

Approximately 200 men and women in the audience applauded declarations by the witnesses so frequently that Chairman Graham of the committee, said he would have to ask those who continued to leave.

Representative Marty T. Norton, a New Jersey Democrat, vigorously assailed the dry amendment. She charged the voters had no voice in its adoption and advocated a national referendum.

Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, a former Republican national committeewoman from New York, declared co-educational and uncontrolled speakeasies had replaced the corner saloon and were worse, because they sold liquor to children. She represented the woman's organization for national prohibition reform.

All But Two of "Big Shots" Identified in "Show Up" Are Released; Myles O'Donnell Goes Free

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Indictments were returned against 18 gunmen and true bills were reported voted naming five others today as the police drive against crime went forward with only one bombing and one important robbery blotting the record for the day.

Most of the 425 hoodlums seized in the roundup last night, including Myles O'Donnell, reputed west side gang chief, were released today. O'Donnell, however, was placed under $1,400 bond on a charge of disorderly conduct. Three of his four henchmen arrested with him were among those said to be named in true bills for carrying weapons.

BANDIT KILLED

DETROIT, Feb. 13. (AP)—A holdup man was killed, three private policemen were wounded severely and a city patrolman was shot tonight in two gun fights which followed an attempt of a gang of five men to hold up the main office of the Western Union Telegraph company here.

They remained in jail. O'Donnell obtained his freedom because of a weak heart. He fainted when a photographer's flashlight boomed at the police show-up last night.

Lehlia Highsmith Bequest Probated

The will which was dated Aug. 1, 1928, had been witnessed by Brady and Zula Mae Rouse. The grandmother, Mrs. Lena Rogers, disposed of her property shortly before she died in these words: "To my granddaughter, Lehlia C. Highsmith, I do will all my property."

Rug Man's Hunger Strike Continues to Desist

WARREN, Ohio, Feb. 13. (AP)—Richard Stewart, rug merchant, who began a hunger strike when he was committed to jail 30 days ago, continued his fast today in the City hospital.

Stewart's removal to the hospital was ordered last night by Coroner J. C. Henshaw after an examination. Dr. Henshaw said Stewart, although weak, was in normal health, but "if he does much more fasting, he'd better do it where he will be under expert supervision."

The rug dealer refused to eat in protest to his fine of $200 for molesting a woman.

U. S. Soldier Reports Prize Bass Catch

What's more, he used neither tackle nor bait—fishing in the native fashion with machete and club.

HOUSE DELAYS TERRELL CASE

Hearing on Charges Waits Until Monday

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—A hearing on charges preferred in the house of representatives against Comptroller S. H. Terrell, accusing him of violations of the law in administering the affairs of his office, including diverting public funds to his personal use, today was postponed until Monday.

Attorneys for Terrell had requested a delay until Saturday to give privately-employed auditors an opportunity to check records in the comptroller's office, but the house voted to put the hearing off until Monday, next to the last day of the special session. This action was taken after several members expressed doubt if a quorum would be on hand Saturday.

Former State Senator T. H. McGregor and Former Attorney General W. A. Keeling, attorneys for Terrell, said that auditors working in the comptroller's department had already cleared up many of the charges that had been leveled against Terrell.

Replying to a request from Representative Alfred Petzch of Fredericksburg for a copy of the privately-employed auditor's work to date, Keeling said it would be furnished when completed, but not now.

Texas Republican Executive Body Called to Meet in Dallas Saturday

DALLAS, Feb. 13. (AP)—Call for the state executive committee of the Republican party in Texas to meet here Saturday was issued today from state headquarters here by Eugene Nolte of Seguin, state chairman.

No indication as to the business the committee will consider was given in the call, which stated simply that the purpose of the meeting would be "to discuss plans for the progress of the party and to take such other action as may properly come before it."

The committee is expected to select a successor to Leonard Withington of Fort Worth, state executive secretary, who died several weeks ago.

George S. Atkinson, county chairman, also issued a call today for a meeting Saturday of the county executive committee.

This committee will be asked to make its recommendation of a postmaster from among the three cities as eligible by the civil service commission in Washington, the three being W. Paul Gage, Dallas business man; Charles W. B. Long, post-office inspector; and George Young, superintendent of mails. In addition to these, there is the possibility of promotion of Acting Postmaster W. Bruce Luna, although Luna is a Democrat. Controversy over the postmastership has raged here since John W. Philp was appointed assistant postmaster general last year.

JAPAN TO GET ALL SHE WANTS OF CRUISERS

Island Empire 'Yields' to America but Results Are Favorable

ASKS FOR 'TOO MUCH'

Wakatsuki Gives First Hint of Country's Plans in Statement

By ROBERT WELLES RITCHIE
(Copyright, 1930, Universal Service)

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Japan has "yielded" her demand for 70 per cent of America's 10,000-ton cruisers but has gained the principal point for which she came to the London naval conference.

Universal Service learns exclusively from high authority tonight that at the end of the conference, Japan will be found to possess something like 66 2-3 per cent of America's strength in this class.

Rather than a backdown on Japan's part, this figure represents an increase in strength, on the former basis of the 60 per cent ratio in capital ships which Japan accepted at the Washington conference of 1922.

In other words, Japan went to London asking for more cruisers than the world thought she should have, and will come away with "just what she wanted."

Japan's Attitude

The first hint of this was given in tonight's official statement of Japan's attitude in the conference, which preceded the French statement of estimated tonnages in naval classes necessary for French security. When on the subject of cruisers, former Premier Wakatsuki of Japan said:

"Japan attaches special importance to eight-inch-gun cruisers.

Sex Appeal for Gas Stoves Recommended

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (UP)—Give the gas stove some sex appeal and it will keep the family at home, Samuel Insull Jr., son of the Utilities magnate, told delegates to a gas sales conference here today.

Putting the gas range in competition with movies and automobiles, he said stoves should have streamlined chassis, attractive colors, and a large measure of "it" to keep the home fires burning.

"Attractiveness and convenience are not enough under present conditions," he said, "so put a little sex appeal in the kitchen stove and you will see it get hot."

Livestock Cooperative Leaders Meet Feb. 25

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—C. B. Denman, representative of the livestock industry on the federal farm board, announced today that leaders of cooperative livestock associations would meet in Chicago on Feb. 25 and 26 to complete the organization of a central marketing agency. Twenty-nine cooperative sales agencies representing 700,000 members plan to pool a $300,000,000 business and bargaining power into a national marketing organization, he said.

Allred Out To Revive Use Of Anti-Trust Law

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (AP)—J. V. Allred of Wichita Falls, candidate for attorney general, declared here today that he stood for enforcement of the "long neglected, almost forgotten anti-trust laws of Texas."

"These laws were born out of of the unhappy experiences of the people at the hands of selfish special interests and their enforcement is specifically and especially imposed upon the attorney general," he said.

"Wall street chain stores, mergers and monopolies have gone too long unmolested in their program of stifling competition by destroying the independent merchants and business man.

TOM LOVE BILL GOES TO MOODY

Both Houses Pass Altered Measure Finally

AUSTIN, Feb. 13. (UP)—A bill, giving Tom Love authority to make an application direct to either the civil court of appeals here or the state supreme court to settle his right to a place on the Democratic primary election ballots as a candidate for governor, passed both houses of the legislature late today.

The house first passed the bill with but a minor change. The senate which passed the proposal first acquiesced to the amendment.

The bill will reach Gov. Dan Moody tomorrow. He is expected to sign it. Love may file his suit anytime after the bill is signed.

The change provides that in suits to determine the right to run for state office, the case shall be filed in the supreme court or in the appellate court district in which the party chairman resides. For minor offices, the suit must be filed in the district where the dispute arises.

Senator Love, after supporting President Hoover, announced his candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. The state Democratic committee refused him a place on the ballot in spite of the fact that the attorney general's office ruled that it was exceeding its legal authority.

Melvin Horst's Slayer Named

WOOSTER, Ohio, Feb. 13. (AP)—Special Prosecutor Walter J. Mougey announced tonight he had obtained a signed statement from Charles Hanna, alleging that Earl Conald, 42, killed Melvin Horst, 4, in a garage in Orrville the night of Dec. 27, 1928.

Mougey announcing the statement from Hanna said Conald choked the boy, then struck him over the head. Hanna signed the statement only after Junior Hanna, 10, had implicated his father and Conald, the prosecutor said.

Melvin vanished on the night that Hanna's statement said he was killed.

FOUR DAY CONTEST

Senator Walsh Changes His Position at Last and Attacks Hughes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes was elevated to chief justice of the United States tonight with the consent of the senate.

His nomination by President Hoover to succeed William Howard Taft was confirmed by a vote of 52 to 26. Mr. Taft resigned last week because of ill health. Mr. Hughes is expected to assume the chief justiceship immediately.

Stubborn Fight

A stubborn uphill fight in the senate against the former supreme court justice and presidential candidate, led by Senators Norris of Nebraska and Borah of Idaho, picked up unexpected support, but fell short after another full day of debate.

The roll call showed the Democrats almost evenly divided. Fourteen Democrats and 38 Republicans voted for Hughes while 11 Republicans and 15 Democrats opposed him.

The end of the four-day contest, which was unprecedented as the first discussion of an important nomination in open session, came after nightfall when an effort by the opposition to carry the debate over another day had been defeated.

Recess Defeated

Foes of Mr. Hughes carried the debate almost entirely and launched a relentless drive today while it appeared they were gaining strength. But a motion by Norris to recess for another day was defeated, 45 to 35. The judiciary committee chairman then

Wichitan Pleads Own Case in Court Here, but Draws 5-Year Prison Term

Alonzo Rogers, who has twice conducted his own defense against forgery charges in the 89th district court here, was found guilty and sentenced to five years imprisonment at the close of the second trial Thursday afternoon. The first trial several weeks ago resulted in a hung jury. The verdict Thursday was returned within five minutes after the case was given to the jury. Rogers announced at once that he would file a motion for a new trial.

The defendant made his plea to the jury while Mrs. Rogers tried to soothe the crying of a nine-months-old baby in her arms. After the argument was completed Rogers wiped his eyes and took another son, four years old, in his lap. He testified on the stand that he accepted the alleged forged check in payment for home brew which he made and sold at his residence. He admitted having been five times fined and once sentenced to prison for prohibition violations in Nebraska.

The trial of Rogers marked the disposition of the 16th criminal case handled in the 89th court this week, all but two of those tried resulting in convictions and prison sentences ranging from 10 to two years. The docket for the week will be prac-

ONEAL ENTERS SENATE RACE

Wichita Attorney to Seek 23rd District Post

Ben G. Oneal, for 14 years active in the civic and professional life of Wichita Falls, Thursday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination as senator of the 23rd district, composed of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Knox, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young counties.

In addition to his long service in West Texas as an attorney and his activities in general civic affairs, Mr. Oneal has been particularly prominent in the conservation campaigns exemplified in the work of the Izaak Walton league for the protection of game and fish and places for outdoor recreation. He has been president of the local chapter of the Walton league for three years, is an officer of the national Walton league, has been the leader in much special legislation affecting this district, and has directed the work recently of establishing rearing ponds for fish at the three Wichita lakes.

Gives Platform

Mr. Oneal was born in Stephens county, near Breckenridge, and attended the public schools in that county, later attending the University of Texas where he received his law degree after four years in that school. He entered practice in Weatherford and for seven years was associated with Fritz Lanham, now congressman from Fort Worth. Mr. Oneal moved to Wichita Falls in 1916, and has been a practicing attorney here since that time. He is associated with Bernard Martin in the law firm of Martin & Oneal.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Oneal urged the need for more equality in taxation, declaring that "I do not believe this district receives the same returns for what it pays to the state government as other parts of the state." He also touched on the need for more justice being shown the oil industry in this section in legislative matters, and promised, if elected to the upper house, to continue his activity for conservation and outdoor recreation which has marked his work as a private citizen. His formal statement follows:

"I hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination as senator for the 23 senatorial district, composed of Archer, Baylor, Clay, Foard, Hardeman, Knox, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young counties, with a brief statement on certain matters that I consider of vital concern to the people of this district.

"Taxation is a necessary burden of civilized government. But this burden should be as light as sound economy can make the same; and in periods of business depression, or 'hard times,' as we commonly say, the government should follow the policy of the prudent business man and reduce expenses. I am opposed to increased burden of taxation during such periods as we are now passing through and favor any reduction that may safely be made.

"I do not believe this district receives the same returns for what it pays to the state government as other parts of the state. My course, if elected to the senate, will be to procure more for what we pay in.

"Practically every one of the nine counties composing the 23rd senatorial district is an oil producing county. The oil industry, as is well known, is now in a critical condition. Neither the land owner nor the oil producer is realizing what he is entitled to from the oil upon his land or his lease. When the oil under the land is exhausted that resource is gone. For that reason, if the owner of the oil, whether landowner or lease holder, is to realize the value of his property, better conditions must prevail. Constant discussion of methods to save the landowner and the producer the benefit of his property is going on. When a solution of this question has been found, I, if a member of the state senate, will favor such action as the legislature may legally and in justice to other interests be able to take for the benefit of the oil industry. The welfare of practically this whole district demands such action, as the oil business is one of the main industries that has built up this section, and its present condition adversely affects, directly or indirectly, the prosperity of almost the entire citizenship of this district.

Judicial Reform

"Both as a citizen and as a lawyer I favor a simplification of our judicial procedure in the interest of economy and of speedier disposition of litigation, both civil and criminal.

"If the penitentiary question now before the present legislature is not settled by the adoption of a definite policy, I shall, if elected to the senate, make a careful personal study and investigation of the whole problem to the end that I may support legislation for a definite policy that will be to the best interest of the entire state.

"It is now a well recognized principle that it is the duty of the state to furnish public education for the children to the end that they may be more prosperous, better and happier citizens. This is a debt that the present generation owes to the coming generations. I favor a continued liberal policy on the part of the state in carrying out this duty to the children of every class.

"I do not feel that the duty of the government towards the future generations closes with the matter of education. We are constantly voting bonds to raise money for present improvements, which we may enjoy. But these bonds usually run for a long term of years and the coming generations will be required to pay them off, whether the improvements are still in existence or have been worn out. And while we are leaving to future generations this indebtedness and this burden, I believe that we should leave to them also some of the natural advantages and pleasures that have been ours, with no expense on our part. I refer to the great outdoors and the beneficial recreations that we have had and particularly the matter of game and fish. If I shall represent this district in the senate, I will follow officially the same course that I have followed as a private individual in bending every effort towards saving and bettering for the younger generation and future generations the fishing, hunting and other outdoor recreations that we have enjoyed.

"In the course of the campaign I expect to visit all parts of the district in the interest of my candidacy."

Candidate

A promise to continue his efforts towards saving and bettering the fishing, hunting, and other outdoor recreations for this district is made by Ben G. Oneal, Wichita Falls attorney and president of the Izaak Walton league, in announcing his candidacy for the state senate. Mr. Oneal also touches on the questions of taxation, education, prison legislation and judicial procedure in his announcement.

and desires to maintain here a minimum strength sufficient for national defense, taking into consideration the strengths held by the other powers."

Demand Unmentioned

No specific mention was made of the 70 per cent cruiser demand, persistently discussed since the Japanese delegation reached Washington from Tokyo, though all close followers of the conference were expecting such a reiteration. On unquestionable authority, Universal Service learns that there are two reasons why Japan was unwilling that her "concession" be made public at this time:

1—The Japanese elections next Tuesday might reflect a serious repercussion if the "backdown" were admitted now; and

2—Japan hopes from America a quid pro quo in the nature of placing maximum tonnage of 7,000 or 7,500 on six-inch cruisers—wherein she is backed up by the British.

French Demands

The second significant feature of the day was the issuance of the French statement, including figures in which three main points are set out. France demands a navy of 724,479 tons by 1936, and in the accompanying statement are these three points:

1—France needs a navy three-fifths the size of those of Britain and the United States;

2—She still adheres to the thesis that whatever the result of this conference, it must be reviewed by the League of Nations disarmament conference; and

3—She still hopes for a mutual guarantee of security, or plainer, a pact which will prevent France from being victimized by an aggressor.

The Japanese statement was received with undisguised pleasure at American headquarters, which, however, discreetly refrained from official comment. But an unofficial spokesman said:

"This certainly leaves the door wide open for future discussion and is not in any sense the ultimatum which might be apprehended in some quarters."

The reduction of the Japanese cruiser figure from 70 per cent to the lower figure was not from pressure exerted alone by Secretary of State Stimson and his aides. Britain, by her own dominions, was forced to persuade Japan to back down, insisting that a 70 per cent ratio would disturb the Washington treaty regarding Pacific ocean fortifications and naval bases.

HUGHES GIVEN SENATE'S VOTE

Confirmation Carries as Long Fight Ends

moved to return the nomination to his committee for reconsideration and this was rejected, 45 to 31.

Launched unexpectedly Monday by Senator Norris, the opposition to Hughes gained as one after another of the senate, mostly on the Democratic side, made known a decision to vote again the celebrated Republican jurist. Members of the senate classed as doubtful were centers of frequent conferences after debate warmed. The contest attracted full galleries and tonight at 6:35, when the final vote came the gallery seats were still filled.

Prejudice Charged

The opposition to Hughes was based principally on the ground that his attitude on economic issues before the courts today was prejudiced in favor of big business and because he had resigned from the supreme court to run for the presidency in 1916.

In the closing hours, Senator Walsh of Montana, the acting Democratic leader, announced to the senate that he had changed his mind and would vote against Hughes. He had voted for a report of the nomination from the judiciary committee, but he said after "the most mature reflection" he had come to the conclusion he was wrong. He then unleashed one of the most severe attacks on the nominee.

HUGHES NAMED IN LOBBY QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—While a vigorous attack was being made in the senate today against the nomination of Charles Evans Hughes to be chief justice, the senate lobby committee received testimony that he had drawn up the contract for the American Cyanamid company by which it proposed to lease the Muscle Shoals power project, as embodied in legislation now before congress.

The testimony was received while the committee was questioning W. G. Waldo, consulting engineer for the Tennessee River Improvement association, in regard to that organization's activities in connection with Muscle Shoals legislation. It was in the form of a memorandum of a telephone conversation, which quoted J. O. Hammond, vice president of the Cyanamid company, as saying the contract had been drawn by "one of the very best constitutional lawyers in the country—Charles Evans Hughes."

The memorandum added: "Believe it to be thoroughly sound constitutionally and not subject to cancellation on grounds of confiscation. If the farm organizations wish us to adopt any changes regarding priority in delivering fertilizer to fertilizer manufacturers or others we would be glad to adopt it."

The memorandum concluded with a statement that J. W. Worthington, chairman of the executive committee of the Tennessee River Improvement association, which has advocated the Cyanamid bid, would have to be consulted before any decision was reached about the fertilizer.

"What is Girl's Greatest Beauty?"

Famous Screen Stars say "Lovely Skin"

"No girl is alluringly beautiful unless she has the very softest, smoothest skin," say 45 Hollywood directors—and the fascinating screen stars agree.

Moreover, Hollywood has found, no girl ever rises to stardom unless her skin shows flawless in a close-up.

These are the reasons why 9 out of 10 Hollywood stars care for their skin with Lux Toilet Soap. It keeps the skin so velvety-smooth!

ALICE DAY

Vivacious Alice Day, whose skin shows so lovely in the innumerable close-ups of the talkies, says: "I find that Lux Toilet Soap is wonderful for my skin—it keeps it so softly smooth."

MARCELINE DAY

And Marceline Day, her charming sister, says: "I'm frank in saying that this delicately fragrant white soap leaves my skin as satin-smooth as the finest French toilet soaps do!"

Sally Blane, too, delightful little Radio Pictures' player, says: "Beautiful smooth skin that isn't afraid of the camera's close-up is very important to a star, and Lux Toilet Soap is certainly a wonderful soap for the skin!"

loan company $2,064 in cash which stick-up men took after surprising him while he was getting the money ready for the bank.

The bombing did $20,000 damage to a welding and boiler repairing company on the northwest side. Officials of the company said they had had no labor troubles and told police they could not account for the bombing.

2,500 Are Jailed

So far this week the police drive has rounded up more than 2,500 suspects, but O'Donnell and his pals were the only "big shots" caught.

In presenting them at last night's "show-up," at which suspects are paraded across a small stage before the victims of recent crimes, Chief of Detectives Egan said:

"Their names would grace a penitentiary roster or a hangman's warrant. They are of the O'Donnell gang."

Two of them were O'Donnell brothers, Myles and Bernard. (There is a third and better known O'Donnell, called "Klondyke.") There was "Three-Fingered Jack" White, once convicted of murder; George (Red) Barker, known as a labor terrorist and once charged with murder; Mike Quirk, Edward Sirnek and John O'Connor.

With the seven was arrested Frank Lacey, concerning whom police have no previous information.

Five minutes after "pinch," eight lawyers were demanding that the men be promptly booked so bail could be arranged and the men freed. They were successful only in the case of Myles O'Donnell, whom they represented as "a dying man."

During the Thursday morning session Bill Gorman entered pleas of guilty to two forgery charges and received a two-year sentence in each case, the terms to run concurrently. At the same time Judge P. Mosley, false entry, insufficient evidence; Frank Houston, burglary, now in penitentiary; E. A. Bruce, swindling, insufficient evidence; Hub Stanley, burglary and theft over $50, insufficient evidence; Hazel Beckwith, swindling, insufficient evidence; Walter L. Gorman, forgery, defendant now under four-year penitentiary sentence; L. F. Hope for Cure

WASHINGTON.—A new hope in the cure of tuberculosis has been given by Dr. William C. White of the public health service. It is a fine dusty-white sugar produced by tuberculosis germs. This sugar may be a chemical bond between the germ and a human cell. If the germ can be divorced from the cell a cure is practical, according to White.

Explorer Wires Washington Of Appreciation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (INS)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, now in the antarctic with an ice pack between him and the rest of the world, in a wireless message to the state department today, asked messages of thanks and appreciation be transmitted to the British and Norwegian foreign offices for the interest shown and offers of assistance in getting his expedition out of the antarctic.

"While we are not yet keenly apprehensive about our predicament, which is potentially quite serious, I am naturally attempting to leave undone nothing that will insure the safety of my men," Byrd told the British.

"Therefore, should the occasion arise whereby his majesty's government can assist I will with very great appreciation make known my requirements."

To the Norwegian government Byrd expressed his thanks for "its generous action" in enlisting the interest of the whaling association at Sandefjord in the event of emergency.

GIRL BANKER FACES CHARGE

Young Woman Disappears After Doors Close

MAYWOOD, Ill., Feb. 13. (UP)—A 25-year old girl who in three years rose from telephone operator to cashier of the People's State bank here was sought today as the only person who knows why the bank failed, resulting in embezzlement charges against President Elmer P. Langguth.

Authorities held a warrant for the arrest of Miss Laverne D. Lindgren, the girl cashier whose career had been directed by the bank president, 10 years older than she. Miss Lindgren disappeared just before state authorities closed the bank.

Whether the bank lost between $60,000 and $120,000 as had been reported or more or less can not be determined until the cashier is found, authorities said.

Because of bitter feeling among depositors, the hearing for Langguth was held under guard and armed officers were posted at the bank.

Russian Program And Tea Is Unique Event At Forum

Hostesses in colorful Russian costumes and a stage background of a Russian peasant's cottage covered with snow and surrounded by snow-covered evergreens, made a living thing Thursday for the Russian program and seated tea given by the literature department of the Woman's Forum.

The paper written by Mrs. Sam Kruger, and on account of her illness read by Mrs. Porter Oakes, was a living, throbbing thing and left the audience with a vivid picture of the little Jewess, who even though she made perfect examination marks, could not be admitted to school because a point would not be strained for a Jewess.

Sebastopol, her home, was vividly described and the philosophy of the peasants who thought of life as "only a short walk through the fields," and "the only one wicked woman in the world being one's wife," brought a ripple of laughter from the audience.

A Russian peasant dance done by Niski Britain, a pupil of Mlle Delpoyre Baluewa, who learned the Russian steps while in the Russian ballet and taught them to her talented pupil, was given in an interval between the two parts of Mrs. Kruger's paper. Miss Britain, in a genuine peasant costume, gave a graceful interpretation of the Russian music.

Mrs. Kruger's paper concluded with modern Russia and what she knew of the country since leaving there. She spoke of Mr. Kruger's escape from service and of the sad death of his father from starvation. Such an outstanding contribution to the original work given at the forum has rarely been heard.

Miss Eva Rosenthal gave two delightful songs in the Russian language, the ever popular "Volga Boatmen" being one. She sang without music and her deep rich voice had the plaintive melody always associated with the native music.

"The Land of the Children" was a book reviewed in graceful and yet masterly form by Mrs. Alvin Horwitz. The story, written in America, is a study of crumbling Russia and its outline as given by Mrs. Horwitz brought about the greatest compliment that may be paid to a reviewer by the numerous declarations of a desire to read the book. The author, she thinks, believes that Russia will lead the world away from a material world to that magic one viewed by the eyes of the children.

The Junior college quartet, accompanied by Mrs. Hermione Vaughn, directress, closed the program with two Russian numbers that were much enjoyed and a tea, Russian in all appointments, was served to the guests.

Hostesses in costume were Mesdames William E. Young, O. M. Pierce, H. P. Ledford, A. R. Prothro, W. H. Penix, Rhea Howard, J. Wilkie Talbert, H. B. Patterson, R. B. Parker and John Davenport. In the absence of Mrs. Kruger, Mesdames Howard and Talbert took charge of the menu.

Mrs. J. W. Cantwell presided and made introductions and guests were seated at tables where red candles gleamed on red and white checked Russian cloths. A great samovar shone on the main table. The typical Russian plate was served to Mesdames B. C. Nicholson, Joe E. Shipley, Thornton Lomax Jr., Mack Thomas, W. K. Niles, Bert Bean, C. B. Felder, R. E. Allday, J. D. Parnell, E. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Sometimes we feel we'd like to be like a charming person expressing herself Wednesday. She said she'd not try to keep anything; she just told all she knew so she would not be bothered.

◇ ◇ ◇

Our trouble is not knowing. Right now we are worried because an editorial writer in the Ladies' Home Journal says "never in any war have the soldiers suffered for food," when we have had a subconscious heartache all our life over the hunger of Valley Forge forces, and we believed the writers who said Houston's forces retreated (to entrap Santa Anna) three days, living on dry corn. And we have heard our own father tell of hunger in the Confederate forces.

◇ ◇ ◇

But all we know is what we have heard and read—and sometimes people tell different things.

◇ ◇ ◇

We heard this morning of a little boy who was told as he woke, "Darling, did you know this was your fifth birthday?" "Where is it?" he asked eagerly. "Why darling you were born five years ago today," his adopted mother explained. "Who borned me?" he asked with a loss of interest.

◇ ◇ ◇

That same baby of five knows about the vanities of the world. He saw a man with a small mustache in a picture show and said "O, look at the man with lipstick on!"

◇ ◇ ◇

Even if we do not know things and just think them, it is nice sometimes to say them. We have heard of five pussywillow trees that we are invited to see, and more than that, one kind-hearted person has told us that by the first of March we may have all we wish to plant in our own yard.

◇ ◇ ◇

There is the greatest kinship in the beautiful things of nature that one knows anywhere.

◇ ◇ ◇

In making a report at the forum the other day, Mrs. P. P. Langford said that people who worked for and planted trees and shrubs were the ones who enjoyed them. And the first district of the federation is striving this year to plant as many trees and shrubs as possible.

◇ ◇ ◇

Coming nearer home, the civics garden department of the Woman's Forum is planting trees and shrubs, and in the beautiful things like pussywillow, strange hearts grow near together.

◇ ◇ ◇

"A tree has a voice," some one said. It is a joy to us that their voices are coming close as new freinds.

'Nice Girl' Given True Definition By Dorothy Dix

What Is a 'Nice Girl'?—The Younger Generation Voices Its Opinion of Its Parents—Helping Discouraged Student Over Critical Point in His Career.

Dear Miss Dix—We are two young girls who have been arguing over the definition of a "nice girl" and have decided to agree upon your answer.

MARY AND JANE.

Answer—Well, I think a nice girl looks nice. She looks like a lady. She may not be beautiful, for beauty is a gift of nature, but she is always attractive in appearance because she is always well dressed and well groomed.

Her clothes may not be expensive they are always in good taste. She doesn't wear sleazy silks and imitation lace, but good, honest material that is genuine of its kind, and her frocks are never made in exaggeration of the style. She doesn't go to work dressed as if she was going to an afternoon party. She isn't covered with beads and cheap jewelry. She saves her fussy things for the evening and in business hours dresses the part of a business woman instead of petting herself up like the understudy of a society girl.

A nice girl puts on her make-up with discretion. She doesn't smear her lips with rouge until they look like a raw cut of butcher's meat. She doesn't spend her time powdering her nose in public, and she doesn't offend fastidious people by combing her hair at the theater and at restaurants.

A nice girl has nice manners. She is courteous and friendly without being gushing. If she is a rich girl she doesn't highhat the girl behind the counter, and if she is the girl behind the counter she doesn't treat the customer as if she was bestowing a favor upon her by condescending to wait on her, nor assume the air of a languid duchess who really can't be interested in any one who is such a piker that she wants to buy stockings that cost less than $1.0 a pair.

A nice girl doesn't ignore women who are older than she is. On the contrary, she goes out of her way to be polite and attentive to them, and when they take the trouble to do generous things for her and invite her to their parties she shows her appreciation by being prompt at lunches and dinners and by appearing to enjoy herself and by making the proper return in thanking them for their kindness.

A nice girl is alert and wide awake and intelligent. She reads the papers and the new books and magazines, and has something to talk about besides her dates and her latest boy friend and what Sally Jones had on at the ball, for well she know that none are so tiresome as the beautiful but dumb and that we get tired of looking at a living picture if it has nothing to say to us.

A nice girl is gay and jolly and full of fun and a good sport, but she doesn't feel that she has to prove her sportsmanship by getting drunk and letting every Tom, Dick and Harry paw her over or by spending her evenings in parked automobiles.

She meets boys half way, but she doesn't run after them. She knows how to dance and play bridge and tennis and golf, and when a boy takes her out he is proud of her and she makes him have a good time, but she also makes him respect her.

And a nice girl is nice to her parents. She is affectionate and considerate and companionable to them and doesn't save all of her good manners and charms and smiles for strangers.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Why do parents expect their children to be angels when they are doing the very things they tell the kids not to do? All the young people I know see their families drinking and smoking, yet if we drink and smoke our fathers and mothers have fits. Our parents fight and quarrel and then expect us to respect them, which we don't do. Perhaps if parents behaved a little better themselves their children would, too. ONE OF THE YOUNGER GENERATION.

Answer—Parents are human, my dear, and it is humanly a lot easier to preach than to practice, as you will find out later in life. Also, most of us are more bent on reforming other people than we are on reforming ourselves.

Strong meat is not for babes and sucklings, and there are many things that older people may do with impunity that are filled with danger to the young. With age we grow hardened, morally and physically. We set up what scientists call a "resistance" to even injurious things, so that what we do is not actually as bad for our bodies or our souls as it is for boys and girls to do the same things. Any doctor will tell you, for instance, that alcohol and tobacco have a far worse effect on the systems of the young than they do upon the old, and you can see for yourself that a boy and girl will go to pieces under dissipation far quicker than a grown man or woman will.

Besides, with age comes more self-control, more knowledge of life, more skill in handling dangerous situations, and that is why older people seldom go the limit that young ones do.

All of this is not said to justify the inconsistency of parents who hold up one code of moralities to their children and follow another themselves. It is merely said to try to explain to you why your father and mother are so anxious about you, and so eager that you shall hold to the high ideals, no matter if they fall below them themselves.

But you are right in saying that the parents who preach one doctrine and follow another preach to little purpose. Youth is merciless in its judgment and makes few allowances for the weakness of the flesh, and so the sermon against drinking that is preached over a cocktail glass has little weight. Nor do children respect the authority of the parents who have not the strength to govern their own passions.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Austin P.-E. Club Meets at School Thursday Morning

"Truthfulness in Children" was the subject of Thursday's lesson at the Austin Parental Education club which met in the school auditorium Thursday morning for one hour, beginning at 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Felice Downs, leader of the lesson, said in a talk that "children are not naturally untruthful, but learn to tell falsehoods for self-preservation. After six years of age a child should realize the seriousness of telling a falsehood."

Mrs. J. B. King read an interesting paper on "Causes of Untruthfulness in Children," saying that "falsehood, if it does exist, has its beginning in imagination which may later develop into that form of deceit which makes the child's wishes and desires appear as realities. Defensive falsehood is resorted to as a protection against severe punishment." Mrs. King also pointed out that if a child is taught to see the social effect of a falsehood and is otherwise carefully handled, these traits will soon disappear. Mrs. King closed her paper by saying that "it takes a brave boy or girl, man or woman, to abide by the old Bible adage, 'Speak ye, every man, the truth with his neighbor'."

Mrs. Robert Nolen discussed the way to deal with a child who lies. "The first step is to assume that the child always tells the truth.

"Do not ask a child to testify against himself, or do not compel a confession. Lead him to see the unhappiness that comes from the habit of falsehood and teach him the personal satisfaction in telling the truth. An example of truthfulness in the home means much. Avoid severe punishment, as a child may be tempted to tell a lie in order to escape it."

An informal discussion followed the talks. The lesson next week will be "The Object of Parent Education," with several interesting papers being prepared.

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Feb. 13.—A $4,200 budget has been submitted to the city commission by the city park board to be used for beautifying and improving the five city parks.

Action has not yet been taken, but favorable action is expected. Members of the park board are: C. H. Mahoney, chairman, J. B. Maxey K. N. Clapp, and Mrs. C. F. Stubbs.

The parks have a total of 200 acres and many improvements have been made at the sites since the park board was appointed in the early part of 1928.

Kissing "close-ups" have to be removed from films intended for sale in Japan, since this form of greeting is considered almost a crime in that country.

Prize Winner

"Mary Jo was trouble with constipation," says Mrs. T. D. McGinnis, 1028 Drexel Ave., San Antonio. "She was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food.

California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated her bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, headachy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.—Adv.

NEW SEASONING IMPROVES FOODS

Make It at Home With Two Familiar Ingredients

To make this new seasoning all that is necessary is sugar and salt. Mix them together—a pinch of salt to a dash of sugar—and a flavor is created that has no equal.

This combination of sugar and salt is ideal for all kinds of cookery. Vegetables such as tomatoes, carrots, cabbage, peas, spinach and corn take on new goodness when thus flavored. The familiar French dressing is also improved by this seasoning. In cooking chops, in making meat sauces or stews, the same holds true.

Many cooks keep a dish containing a mixture of salt and sugar on hand. The proportions can be varied to suit the taste, but equal parts of sugar and salt, or two parts salt to one part sugar, are the most commonly used.

The value of this new seasoning lies in the fact that it makes essential foods more palatable. Finicky children and adults who have no appetite will eat the food their systems require with relish when thus flavored. Doctors and dietitians approve this use of sugar. The inviting flavor increases the flow of gastric juices and as a result, the food is digested more quickly. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute.

Millions of women say "Whiter washes with Rinso!"

THE difference in clothes washed the Rinso way is remarkable. You never saw such gleaming, snowy, bright-as-new whiteness!

So safe, too. Clothes don't need to be scrubbed and boiled threadbare; Rinso loosens the dirt.

Cup for cup, Rinso gives twice as much suds as lightweight, puffed-up soaps, even in hardest water—it's granulated and so compact. Saves the cost of a water softener, too.

And it's great for washers. The makers of 38 leading washers recommend Rinso. Get the BIG package. Use it for dishes, too.

MARIONETTES PLEASE KIDS

"Uncle Wiggly" to Feature P.-T. A. Offering

Elements of entertainment seldom provided by other current amusement enterprises, constructed for persons of all ages but particularly for children, will be offered by the Jean Gros French Marionettes which are to be shown in the Memorial auditorium on Wednesday, Feb. 26.

All details which go to make up a complete modern theater are used in the production of drama with the marionettes, and the miniature figures accomplish the portrayal of varying emotions with the authentic gestures of legitimate stage artists.

Use of the new Marionette-Phone, devised by Mr. Gros to furnish synchronized musical background for the puppet-plays, will be an interesting feature of the performances here. This instrument will be used in connection with the presentation of "Huckleberry Finn" Mark Twain's famous story of boys and the Mississippi, which is to be given in the evening.

For the children's matinee, "Uncle Wiggily at the Circus," a play by Howard R. Garis, author of the "Uncle Wiggily Adventure Stories," will be given. All the characters of the animal kingdom will be introduced into the action, including the celebrated Uncle Wiggily and his Hollow Stump Bungalow orchestra.

Tickets for the Jean Gros Marionettes are being sold by members of practically all parent-teacher associations in the city, and downtown at the Renfro Drug store at Eighth and Scott.

Universal Lines To Use Tri-Motor Planes

The Universal Aviation corporation will begin operating tri-motored 12-passenger ships on its line through Wichita Falls in the Dallas-Kansas City link in the near future, according to an announcement Thursday from the New York headquarters of the American Airways, Inc., operating company for the line.

A. V. White, local manager, said that the line through Wichita Falls will be equipped with Fokker F-10 ships, with arrangements for two pilots and seating capacity for 12 passengers. The exact date for the installation of the new equipment has not been announced. The new ships will replace the single motor monoplanes which have been in use since the opening of the line here.

Independent Merchants to Form Organization Here in Chain Fight

Plans for the organization of an Independent Merchants' association in the Wichita Falls community were adopted by a group of merchants who met in the chamber of commerce directors' room Thursday morning, and a meeting to perfect permanent organization was called for next Tuesday night, Feb. 18, at 8 o'clock in the courthouse.

Ivan Murchison was selected Thursday morning as chairman of a committee on arrangements for the meeting, and Claude Miller was named secretary.

Purposes of the new organization, according to Mr. Murchison, will be to educate the public on the advantages of patronizing home dealers and merchants, who "contribute to the moral, educational and financial support of the community in which they do business." That chain stores take no such part in community activities was charged in the meeting.

"Following the formation of a permanent organization," Mr. Murchison said, "this association will employ a secretary who will have charge of a campaign to encourage people of this section to buy from home merchants."

It was announced that Charles I. Francis, Clarence A. Rogers, and James V. Allred will be speakers at the meeting next Tuesday night.

Bill Seeks Appointment Of County Superintendents

An election to let the voters of the state decide whether the county school superintendents shall be elected or appointed is proposed in a bill introduced in the house of representatives at Austin by Ray Holder, chairman of the education committee, school leaders announced here Thursday afternoon.

The backers of the bill suggest an election on April 10, when the county trustees are named. At that time the people would be given an opportunity to choose between the present election system and appointment by the county board of trustees, it was explained. Leaders in school affairs are reported to be endorsing the movement.

PLANES TO AID ECLIPSE WORK

Effort to Record Phenomenon in California

BERKELEY, Calif., Feb. 13. (US)—Army airplanes will be pressed into service to record the fleeting glimpse of the total eclipse of the sun which astronomers hope to observe on March 28.

President W. W. Campbell of the University of California, an internationally known astronomer, announced today the completion of plans whereby army planes will cooperate with university astronomers.

One plane will fly at 10,000 feet elevation, well over the highest clouds, and will follow the half-mile shadow of the moon as it moves toward the northeast.

With the eclipse scheduled to last only one or two seconds, the fast moving plane will enable observers to study the eclipse a fraction longer than from the ground. A second plane will be used to take moving pictures of the shadow of the eclipse and the eclipse itself.

Yet despite elaborate maps calculating the path of the eclipse, the shadow may be missed, Dr. Campbell declared.

Herbert Kaufman's
DON'T HIT A TACK WITH A TRIP-HAMMER
Daily Editorial

DESPERATION cannot pause to split hairs, crisis must be met with the ablest instrumentalities that emergency affords.

Thus, dynamite is used to check the spread of an extraordinary conflagration. The fact that some structures within the wrecked area may be unnecessarily destroyed in the process, is unfortunate, but unpreventable.

War cannot be waged without a given percentage of non-combatant fatalities. Wherever the clock takes arbitrary command of military or civic maneuvers institutions and individuals, caught in the line of fire, are apt to be numbered with objective victims.

The conviction of Ruth St. Claire, just condemned to life imprisonment for shoplifting, aptly illustrates such a situation.

The Baumes act, under which Judge Levine was protestingly compelled to impose this capital penalty, intended its drastic provisions only to discourage crimes of violence.

The Baumes act was invoked for the very reason that martial law is declared—to meet an extremity with which moderation could not cope.

There are times when society is forced to fight terrorism, with terrorism—brutality with brutality. The outlaw creates the vigilante.

The incapacity of previous statutes to deal with banditry and racketeering, left no alternative but equivalent ruthlessness.

The Baumes act is an outraged public's answer to incipient anarchy. The Baumes act is an Alexandrine sword. Forged to cut the tricky knots with which specious legal practice has tied the hands of prosecution.

A national police system suddenly found ineffective against gangsters operating in high-power automobiles and armed with machine guns, stink bombs and smoke screens, daily demonstrated its impotence to halt the epidemic of assaults, killings and kidnapings, which were being staged even on crowded streets and in the hearts of every metropolis.

◇ ◇ ◇

A camorra of hired assassins and blackmailers was rooting and flourishing here. Crooked politicians, bribe-taking officials and greedy legal eminence were rapidly taking service in the organization.

And these dirty pick-locks were daily blocking retributive action.

Citizens finally lost faith in the integrity of the courts themselves and demanded, from the arsenals of authority, some weapon which could not be deflected by ward-boss influence, or academic technicality.

The Baumes act was so designed. But it was essentially designed for crimes against the person, not crimes against property.

Legislation did not plan to revive the barbaric codes that once categorized counterfeiting, forgery, poaching and pocket-picking as gallows offenses.

It did not weave this unbreakable net for picaroons, weaklings, milk-bottle raiders, or poor, drug-crazed wastrels who might occasionally loot a store counter.

The St. Claire conviction won't stand. The judge who pronounced sentence pleads for its reversal. District Attorney Crain denounces the inappropriate verdict. And the united press of Manhattan insists upon executive interference.

Ruth St. Claire shan't join the lifer colony at Sing Sing, and the Baumes act will never commit any other shoplifter to expiate behind bars to her last hour.

The Baumes act will be amended—just as the Volstead act will be amended—to conform with reason, and enlightenment.

The punishment that does not fit the crime is an unworthy servant of discipline and at cross-purposes with the humane and logical moods of progress.

Too Much War

97 Per Cent Subnormal

A DETROIT judge recently got a psychiatric clinic to examine 100 criminals who appeared before him. Before passing sentence, he wanted to know what kind of minds the prisoners might have.

The psychiatrists' report was illuminating.

Two of the prisoners, they found, were definitely insane.

Thirty-three more were definitely feeble minded.

Twenty-five more were "of inferior intelligence."

Thirty-seven more had "deviations in personality" that handicapped them severely in the matter of adjusting themselves to society's demands.

Just three were mentally and emotionally normal.

Summing up, the psychiatrists reported that 71 of the prisoners were "poor community risks," and urged that the two insane persons be sent to asylums and that the other 69 be imprisoned. Fifteen of the remaining prisoners, they said, were "reasonably good community risks"; that is, they were near enough to a normal state so that society could take a chance on them. The judge accordingly put these 15 on probation. Twelve more were put in the doubtful class; of these the judge imprisoned some and paroled others at his own discretion.

When he pronounced sentence, the judge ordered the psychiatrists' report sent to prison along with each prisoner.

In his handling of these cases this judge displayed considerable wisdom. He was able, that is, to appreciate a fact that our penological system usually overlooks; that there is no sense in assuming that codes and punishments designed for normal men will necessarily have any effect on the criminal. The criminal is not always a criminal because he is wilfully bad; more often he goes into crime because there is something wrong with him.

We shall never handle our crime situation intelligently until we recognize this fact. We are still so everlastingly afraid of "coddling criminals" that we hesitate to use even ordinary horse sense in our dealings with them. This Detroit judge has indicated the line we shall have to follow if we are to get decent results.

But the problem is far from simple. The biggest obstacle, probably, is the fact that the psychiatrist does not, as yet, enjoy public confidence to the extent that the ordinary surgeon does. There is a wide suspicion that our alienists do not know quite as much as they think they know. The spectacle that we frequently get in murder trials, when half a dozen distinguished scientists will declare that a man is sane while another half dozen, equally distinguished, insist that he is insane, contributes to this suspicion.

The study of abnormal psychology is still in its infancy. Even now, however, it could give us valuable assistance if we chose to use it. The findings in Detroit show how badly we need it.

The Need for New Markets

ONE REASON why American business men must devote ever-increasing attention to the export market is set forth graphically by Theodore M. Knappen in the current issue of The Magazine of Wall Street.

In the past, says Mr. Knappen, American business always had a rapidly growing home market, due to the constant increase in population. Between 1900 and 1910, for instance, population increased by 13,000,000, or about 21 per cent, between 1910 and 1920 it increased by 16,000,000.

But immigration has been cut off, and the birth rate is falling. In a short time our population will increase at the rate of less than a million a year, and by 1960 we shall quite possibly have a population stabilized at about 160,000,000.

Yet productivity is constantly increasing. Mr. Knappen points out that since the home market is not increasing in proportion any more, American business must make its own markets abroad—or suffer the same sort of depression that has overtaken agriculture.

The Sidewalk Loudspeakers

NEW YORK CITY is on the verge of adopting an ordinance which would prevent the use of radio loudspeakers on the streets outside of shops, except on such special occasions as world series, political conventions and the like. At such times, however, the owner would have to get a permit from the police department before turning his loudspeaker on.

There is an ordinance that a good many other cities might well copy, the sidewalk loudspeaker is usually nothing on earth but a public nuisance. It is raucuous and squawky, an offense to the ears of people who would much prefer not to have to listen to it; and as far as its advertising value goes, we have a hunch that it drives away three customers for every one it lures in.

Turn the thing off, except on special occasions! A copy of that New York ordinance wouldn't be a bad thing for this town.

500,000 More Automobiles

JOHN N. WILLYS, automobile manufacturer, tells President Hoover that the American automobile industry will produce 500,000 more automobiles this year than it produced last year.

If he is correct, doubts about the nation's quick resumption of a busy and prosperous business condition ought to come to an end at once. The automobile trade seems to be a barometer of business conditions for the whole nation; when it thrives, business everywhere thrives, and when it slumps the effects are widespread.

A word of caution might be in order, however. An automobile output of the size predicted by Mr. Willys might come perilously close to the edge of a serious overproduction—which, in turn, might bring on a catastrophic slump for 1931.

On Broadway

(Copyright, 1929, Daily Mirror, Inc.)

Complaint

I'd like to be a thrifty gent,
And save my dough at four per cent.

In later years I'd live in ease
Nor want for any luxuries.

But waste is my besetting sin;
I take my earnings to an inn,

Invest them there in musty ale—
And put my foot upon a rail.

No bank that I have seen so far
Is half as tempting as a bar.

The tellers are an uppish bunch,
And, strange to say, there's no free lunch.

Depositors are sour as brine
And no one sings "Sweet Adeline."

No pictures there of Fits or Tunney—
They'll have to change to get my money!
—NOT JEGGY JOYCE.

Such Profanity!

What with matters being as tedious as they are on Broadway, Robert Littell, the World's dremeh critic, recently begged for a feud among the reviewers. Littell urged anyone to start a controversy—a controversy of any sort, so long as it was something to get excited about. He thought, he said, that perhaps it might make the theater seem alive.

Well, Heywood Broun, who quit drama-defending a long while ago, but who frequently goes to the plays, stiffly defended Donald Ogden Stewart, whose "Rebound" was not received affectionately the other premiere night. Mr. Broun considered "Rebound"—"the best light comedy written by anybody hereabouts in ten or twenty years," and so asserted in his department, winding up his essay in this manner: "To hell with the critics!"

My dear Mr. Broun! Please remember there are stage hands present!

Titter

And C. T. A. Jr., wonders if you have heard the new definition of a kibitzer—"the unmarried Siamese twin."

Priceless

Ashton Stevens, one of the few Chicagoans still alive, reports the one about the movie actor who was talking with Frank Case.

"But I fear," concluded the windy ham, "that I am talking a great deal about myself. Let's talk about you. How did you enjoy my last picture?"

Things I've Just Learned

That the famous square bar which graced Considine's at Broadway and 42nd Street is now in a speakeasy on the Saw Mill River Road in Westchester county where Chinese bartenders and waiters dispense a brew that is so excellent at two bits a throw that four uniformed policemen are necessary on Saturdays and Sundays to assist the customers in parking their automobiles.

By Way of Report

If you get the head of almost any large corporation such as an automobile manufacturer, a radio manufacturer or even an electric refrigerator manufacturer off in a corner and gain his confidence, he will tell you that it is the general opinion in industry that sales in almost any line have about reached their peak and there is no known form of advertising or inducement of installment payment which can lift the volume of business much above its present levels.

He will also tell you that the gradual assumption of banking control of industry by the Morgans and others means that success in industry in the next few years will be found principally in the prefecting of labor-saving machinery and the elimination of unnecessary employes to the last stenographer.

The average business, it is claimed, can be made to function more efficiently than at present on about 10 per cent less than its present number of employes. He will also inform you that industry in general welcomes a condition of unemployment at all times which is large enough to add fear to the driving power of the plant and to create a condition in which employes break their necks to hold their jobs because of the constant knowledge that plenty of others are waiting for them.

Anything for a Laugh

All is fair in love and Broadway, as the saying goes, when a pair of Broadway columnists get together. The Big Idea is not to land the first caustic crack but to "top" the other's flippancy. At an opening the other eve'g, for instance, one of the ambitious ankled up to one of his "superiors" and said: "Well, how's the big shot today?"

"I'm very clever—and you?" was the retort terrible. "Incidentally, you're wearing your hat too far down on your skull."

"Well," was the alibi, "you see, I haven't got a big head, ahem!"

"Of course you haven't," snapped the other, "but what have you ever done to have one?"

And then the intermission buzzer buzzed.

Ho, Hum

The high cost of hop bothers many of the lads who "kick the gong around" these cold winter nights, so the news that a chemist has worked out a formula for synthetic opium is received with leather-lunged cheers by the ever-growing mob that leans up against the old bamboo.

The artificial lullaby is said to contain plenty of wallop and to make a satisfactory substitute for the real poppy product and at one-tenth the cost per can. At present it is being judiciously distributed to a few of the veterans who can dream a toothpick into the Woolworth building.

Off All Things!

A few months ago Broadway window-shoppers gasped when a Forty-eighth street haberdasher decorated his windows with "Maurice Chevalier Shirts," which were either all black or all red—with collar attached. Most of us merely sniffed or muttered something and passed on, certain the freak material never would enjoy popularity, except, perhaps with the Harlem Dandies.

Now the Broadway shop windows display another startling innovation. It is a frisky suit of underwear for men consisting of an all orange colored undershirt and all-purple drawers.

And with boo-bows!

"LOVEJOY" : By : Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER XXXVI

The next month always seemed like the calm before a storm when Lovejoy looked upon it.

In the house everything went on much as it always had.

Norrie got Tom's breakfast for him at 8 o'clock. At 9 Lovejoy would come downstairs to find the house in order, the dishes washed and the pot of coffee on the back of the stove, ready for her.

"What will we have for dinner tonight?" she would ask Norrie, going out into the yard where Norrie would be playing with the baby or weeding the garden while the baby tumbled about on the grass.

The meals were expensive. Chicken and green vegetables and salad and iced tea one or two nights a week. Tom liked chicken and steak, scorning stews and pot roasts.

"The grocery bill is terrible," he complained to Lovejoy on the first of July. "I thought you were going to try to cut down on some of these things."

Lovejoy shrugged her pretty shoulders. "It's not my fault that you like Porterhouse steak and spring chicken," she said. "And speaking of economy, why don't you give up buying liquor at a hundred dollars a case?"

Tom flushed. He had bought a new case of whisky two days before.

"The Goodsells and the Aldersons always have had something to drink when they came here," he said, "and the other night when they dropped in I had to telephone Sam and get some stuff. You know that."

Sam was the bootlegger who had been selling Tom his liquor for the past six months.

"We've just got to cut down somewhere!" Tom insisted. "We're spending too much. I can't pay anything on our bills this month."

A hard look came into Lovejoy's face, destroying its soft beauty.

"I don't know why I should turn myself wrong side out to help you, Tom Nicholson," she said in an ugly voice. "You don't care for me and you show me that you don't a dozen times a day—You haven't kissed me in weeks and weeks."

Tom got up from his armchcair, putting the bills into his vest pocket.

"Well," he said quietly, "months ago when I thought you and I were as happy and as well-mated as any two people could be, you were running out nights to let Stephen Ogleby make love to you . . . You may be doing it now, for all I know—"

"I'm not!" Lovejoy cut in angrily. "He's not even in town right now!"

Tom walked away from her. "Well, cheer up. He'll be back soon," he said sarcastically and went upstairs.

There was a light under his door when Lovejoy followed him a few minutes afterward.

She went into her own room and got ready for bed. But she couldn't sleep. She sat at her window, looking out into the darkness and thinking of nights when she had gone to sleep with Tom's arm under her shoulders and her face almost touching his.

"This isn't life!" she said to herself with a mixture of fury and despair. "Tom in one room, and I in another! It isn't marriage! It isn't anything!"

The next day she went to Aunt Em with the whole story.

"What would you do about it?" she asked her. "I want your advice, Aunt Em!"

Aunt Em was ready with it instantly . . . That was one comforting thing about her—she loved to give advice and sometimes it was really very helpful.

"I'd try to go on as if nothing was the matter," she said. "If you didn't have the baby you'd be a free agent. But you have the baby, and you've got to stick to your home and your husband for that reason."

Old-fashioned stuff! Old moth-eaten ideas of the last century, thought Lovejoy.

"But why do you suppose Tom refuses to kiss me or come anywhere near me?" she asked aloud. "He hasn't so much as touched my hand for a month!"

Aunt Em shrugged her round, fat shoulders. "I don't understand that, and I admit it," she said. "But this I do know—It's a man nature to make love. And if Tom Nicholson ain't makin' love to you he must be makin' it to somebody else. There ain't been a night of your Uncle James' life when he hasn't kissed me good night."

She pursed up her lips and went on:

"But then I never did what you've done, Lovejoy. I never put my husband into a room by himself and fixed up a room of my own—all silk and powder puffs and lookin' glasses. And I never went tootin' around with other men, either!"

"Every woman I know has her own room," said Lovejoy, "and it's so comfortable to have the clothes-closet all to yourself and a dressing table all to yourself."

Aunt Em sniffed. "Well, you haven't kept your husband to yourself, though, have you?" she asked tartly.

And that was all the help that Lovejoy got from her.

On the night of the eighteenth of June things came to a crisis.

It was a Thursday night—and it was Aline's night to entertain the Thursday Night Dinner club.

There were eight members in the club—all of them married couples. The Aldersons, the Goodsells, the Nicholsons and another couple named Lambert.

"Elsie Lambert's husband is out of town," Aline told Lovejoy on Thursday morning when she stopped in for a moment on her way downtown, "but she says she'll find some extra man or other and bring him along. . . . Now, please do come early tonight, Lovejoy, and help me. I want you to make that stuffed cucumber salad of yours."

The four women always cooked the meal on Thursday nights. For Thursday was always the maid's night out, and it was so easy for four pairs of hands to cook a meal.

"And so much more fun than going out to a restaurant," as fluffy little Elsie Lambert always said.

It never would have occurred to her to say at home on Thursday nights to get a meal for her husband.

"I didn't know how to boil an egg when I was married," she had told Lovejoy one night, "and I really don't know how to do it now. I never would have learned how to make coffee if I didn't like it so much. Cooking is just a mystery to me, and I hope it always will be."

It was always Elsie's job to set the table and make the coffee at these Thursday evening gatherings.

She was setting the table in Aline's beautiful dining room on this particular evening when Lovejoy walked into the house.

"Hello, Elsie!" Lovejoy greeted her. "I'm going to be a widow part of the evening, too'—Tom just telephoned to say that he wouldn't be able to get here until half past eight or nine—"

She stopped talking suddenly, her voice sticking in her throat. The swinging door from the pantry was opening—and there, with a stack of plates in his hands, stood Steve Oglebay.

"Oh, I'm not a widow tonight! I brought Steve," she heard Elsie say in her high-pitched voice.

Well, he's back now, thought Lovejoy, and he'll expect me to make up my mind about him.

And all at once she knew that her mind was made up. . . . She had been making it up all these nights when she had lain in bed staring into the summer darkness and thinking of Tom across the hall.

She was going to leave Tom. No matter what it cost, she was going to leave him.

I can't keep on living the way I've been living, she thought. With Tom like an enemy in the house—Never speaking to me except when he wants to yell about the high cost of living.

All through the meal she could feel Steve watching her anxiously. But he kept his distance, sitting on the far side of the table between Aline and Elsie Lambert.

Ima Dodo Sees the Martin Johnson African Movie

(Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson African film now being shown about the country is preceded by a Grantland Rice illustrated talk on golf form and a picture demonstration of the Einstein theory.)

"Oh, it was just wonderful," declared Ima Dodo. "I was a little confused in spots, but I certainly was thrilled. Professor Einstein certainly is a brave man to go right in among those lions and tigers the way he did and he certainly had a lotta close calls.

PHILLIPS

"The picture opens with a demonstration on the speed of light or something by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and there are pictures to prove that if you fire a pistol the flash travels faster than the bullet. It seems that Mr. Johnson is a noted German scientist whose theories have startled the world.

"Then there is an illustrated talk on golf by the American Museum of Natural History, after which Professor Einstein, the celebrated explorer, takes us into the far away places of the world, risking his life and that of Mrs. Einstein among lions, tigers and savages of all kinds. Mrs. Einstein goes wherever the professor goes. He calls her Ossie and they are real outdoor pals.

"I thought the most thrilling part of the whole thing was where the Einsteins plunge into the jungle of an island occupied by ferocious head-hunters whose leader is a chief called Relativity and whose people all worship the fourth dimension. Mr. and Mrs. Einstein are hunting elephants, but are not able to get any because they are lifting their heads on all the important shots. The head-hunters, aroused by a statement that light rays are bent, capture the Einsteins, and they are about to be executed when their plight is sensed by Grantland Rice, the governor general, who quits a Thompson gazelle hunt with Alex Morrison and rushes to the rescue. The way he saves them is wonderful. It's all a matter of rhythm and not getting the body through ahead of the club, he explains.

"Then there are a lot of good lion hunting scenes, which show the importance of a slow backswing and you see Mrs. Martin Rice shoot Betelgeuse after she has been surrounded by a herd of Mashie Niblicks for 12 hours while the Einsteins are miles away dressing a white rhino by a system which only two men in the world can understand. It was all very amusing."

Ouch!

The Ford taxicab is to make its appearance soon. And that most embarrassed feeling will come when you step to the curb with your lady and are snubbed by one of the darned things.

The first motion picture was projected on a screen 36 years ago. And if you ask us it probably was either a whippet race, a group of Dumb Doras exhibiting the new frocks or a parade in Rome.

A woman being sued by her attorney says she thought he was representing her for love. That's what may be called the height of optimism.

The house judiciary committee has voted to make "The Star-Spangled Banner" the official United States anthem. This is a blow, obviously, at George Cohan.

JOHN GILBERT 'NOT WHIPPED'

Screen Lover Hints He May Meet Tully Again

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 13. (UP)—John Gilbert may ignore the advice of Jim Tully to let rough tramps alone, and renew pugilistic relations the next time the screen actor and hobo author meet. It all depends on how Jack feels at the moment.

This attitude was expressed by Gilbert in a long distance telephone conversation from Palm Springs, where he and his wife, Ina Claire, are vacationing, the screen colony learned today.

"Tully knocked me down all right, but I never was out and I wasn't licked," the actor said, referring to his recent fist fight with Tully in a local cafe.

"If I should chance to meet him again, I can't say what might happen. Should I feel as I did the other time, there would be another fight. I made a mistake in rushing at him. It put me at a disadvantage," he declared.

Gilbert launched the fistic encounter when he entered a cafe where the author was dining. When he rushed Tully, the former tramp and ex-pugilist met him with a hard right to the chin which sat the screen hero on the floor. Friends stopped the engagement.

"I learned to fight where brickbats are daisies," Tully replied to Gilbert's statement. "Gilbert had better stick to motion pictures and let rough tramps alone. I like Jack, but he has no sense of humor."

Gilbert held a grudge against Tully over a magazine article in which the latter criticized his acting.

Williams Explains Upsets in Cotton

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (UP)—Carl Williams, cotton representative of the federal farm board, said today that the cotton market had steadied from its panicky condition a week ago and had recovered as much as $3.50 a bale.

He attributed the drop to a sudden realization that cotton consumption during the last six months had dropped far behind that for the corresponding period a year ago and there was no indication of a quick increase. He also cited as another factor in the drop the uncertainty as to the size of the 1930 crop.

There has been a heavy demand for cotton in the last few days, however, partly due to lower price and this has aided in stabilizing the market, he said.

The farm board will continue, despite the market fluctuation, to make supplementary loans to cooperatives at 16 cents a pound cotton harvested in 1929.

Williams said that in his recent trip through the South he found a tendency among farmers to reduce quantity and improve quality and that cotton planters realized acreage must be held below 40,000,000 acres in 1930.

Lieut. Soucek to Be Honored at Banquet

Sam Smith

San Antonio Man's Appetite Like a Boy's

"At one time in my life I thought I had the worst luck of any man in Texas," says Sam Smith, now one of San Antonio's heaviest taxpayers. "I had to be careful what I ate or I would almost choke from the gas on my stomach. That was many years ago. In fact, until I started taking Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). Ever since then I eat what I want and let NR take care of the rest."

That's because those little Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) soothe, sweeten and stimulate the stomach and bowels. Then the starch and sugar wastes can't remain in your system to form those acids which sour your stomach, bind your bowels and rob the blood of the red corpuscles it must have plenty of to keep you from suffering pain, biliousness, sick headaches, indigestion and rheumatism. More than 1 million NR Tablets are used a day. Get the 25c box at any drug store.—Adv.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 13. (AP)—Mrs. Reggie French, 35, was in jail tonight while police investigated her relations with John S. Garmon, 41-year-old night chief train dispatcher, who was slain in her apartment today.

Police said Mrs. French told them she and her husband had known Garmon and his wife eight years. Through her attorneys she issued a statement that she killed him in self-defense after he attempted to enter her apartment.

CHILDREN HURT BY EXPLOSION

School Damaged by Blast Across Street

NEW YORK, March 13. (AP)—Fifty school children were injured, 12 seriously enough to require hospital treatment, today when an explosion demolished two one-story brick houses and tore out all the windows on one side of public school 83, at Dean street and Schenectady avenue, Brooklyn.

The explosion occurred in an unoccupied brick dwelling directly across Dean street from a new wing of the school building. Two negroes in one of the wrecked dwellings were seriously injured.

The injured, suffering from cuts from flying glass and splintered wood, were treated by ambulance surgeons. Of the 12 taken to hospitals, two were said to be in a serious condition.

Police said they believed the explosion was caused by gas accumulating in the basement of the unoccupied house. They said they found a still in the ruins of the structure, but the still had not been in operation immediately prior to the explosion.

Some 2,000 children were in the school building at the time of the explosion, about 900 of them in the new wing. Twenty-four children who were taking shower baths at the time were bundled into their clothes by teachers and hurried to the street.

Much Defeated Candidate Runs For House Again

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (INS)—William Grant Webster, who probably has hurled his hat into more electoral rings than any other man—and never been elected—today launched another campaign, this time for congressman at large from Illinois.

Webster has been a candidate for president, vice president, United States senator, congressman and state senator. He has run for office in New York, Ohio, Minnesota, Indiana, South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska and Oregon, in addition to Illinois.

He first ran for office in 1906 as a candidate for United States senator. In 1916 he won the Oregon primary as an aspirant for the office of vice president and the Oregon delegation was instructed to cast their ballots for him, although he had never been in the state and was practically unknown there.

In 1918 he was a candidate for congressman at large, congressman from the seventh Illinois district and congressman from New York.

And he was never once elected.

"Is it any crime to be defeated?" he asked today.

At the south pole is one of the great continents of the world, as large as the United States and Mexico, but it is shut off by an abysmal deep which is covered most of the year by an impassable pack of ice.

SOBBING GIRL IS IMPROVED

Tearful Spasms Come Less Frequent

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Feb. 13. (INS)—Milder and less frequent today came the sobs of Miss Violet Michael, the 18-year-old New Bedford girl, stricken with diaphragmatic spasms at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

Her physician, Dr. Earl R. White, said that sleep, at first produced by narcotics but now natural by the simple application of cheerful thoughts in the sick room and nourishing food and plenty of it, will effect a cure by Friday.

Miss Michael, however, was in a pitiful condition as the result of her long crying and sobbing experience. The tear sacs of her eyes were drained, the eyes were swollen and watery. She was strapped as she lay in bed because the continual sobbing had strained the muscles of her sides and her head ached.

As her crying stopped and her sobs became intermittent, she has displayed a cheerful attitude. "I'm sure I'll get well soon, doctor," she said. This attitude of mind is aiding her greatly, Dr. White declared.

"We have to be very careful what we say in the sick room," said Dr. White. "The least suggestion brings on sobbing. For instance, I suggested removal to a hospital. I won't do it again, for the sobbing started right away and threatened to become violent."

The first pair of knitted silk stockings recorded in history were worn by Queen Elizabeth.

Outdoors a Pippin ...indoors a Pest

For every woman there is a sermon in the case of this lovely Philadelphia girl (name withheld). Outdoors others found her so charming, so gay. But in the drawing room they politely avoided her. She couldn't understand it. The truth is that her trouble, which went unnoticed in the open air, became instantly apparent—and offensive—indoors.

Don't fool yourself

It's folly to assume that you never have halitosis, the unforgivable social fault. One out of every three is either an occasional or constant offender, surveys show.

Halitosis is caused by fermenting food particles in the mouth. Minor infections of the oral tract. Bad teeth, and Pyorrhea.

Kills germs—Destroys odors

Since you, yourself, cannot tell when you have halitosis, the wise precaution is to gargle with full strength Listerine. Every morning. Every night. And between times before meeting others.

Undiluted Listerine strikes at the cause of odors because it's an active—though safe—germicide. Even the stubborn Staphylococcus Aureus (pus) germ is killed by it in 15 seconds.

Furthermore, being a powerful deodorant it immediately destroys all odors arising in the mouth. Leaves your breath sweet and normal.

Be at your best

SARTIN GIVES HIS PLATFORM

180 Attend Banquet for Congressional Entrant

B. D Sartin candidate for election to congress from the 13th district, Thursday night outlined his platform in an address before approximately 180 men and women at a banquet given in his honor at the Kemp hotel. The guests included delegations from Wichita, Cook, Jack, Montague, Wise and Archer counties as well as those from Wichita Falls proper.

Introduced by Glenn Myers, toastmaster, the speaker began with a denunciation of the action of the state Democratic ticket this year declaring that he is prepared to fight through every state and federal court to protest the tax.

"There have been those who said that B. D Sartin is a Republican" he said. "I was born in Kentucky. My grandfather Sartin was a Confederate soldier. My mother's father was a Confederate soldier. Kentucky was torn, as you know between the two sides throughout the war, taking the stand that she would not send an army to destroy her sister states. I came to Texas to visit relatives 24 years ago and it is my ambition to serve that great state now."

The platform as outlined by Mr Sartin included a stand for prohibition enforcement, an attack against chain stores and merger, a program of water conservation and a fight against the domination of the Democratic party by the west, also East. He announced his opposition to the cancellation of war debts and his support for disarmament, stating:

"I am for restricted immigration and in favor of deporting aliens who come to this country and flaunts our prohibition laws," he asserted. He added that his program included opposition to the formation of other government bureaus and a fight for real economy. He promised the district to work for free bridges between Texas and Oklahoma and the development of waterways.

The meeting Thursday night opened with an invocation from Rev Ben Batts of the Cumberland Presbyterian church. While the banquet was in progress the diners were entertained with music offered by Mrs. Paul Putty, Mrs Joe Crouch, Ruth Lucille Crouch and Ruth Lucille Snider. Later, little Paul Putty, five years old, gave two violin selections. Mrs. J. S. Pitman read Columbus, dedicating the reading to Mr. Sartin.

A number of telegrams including one from Alvin Moody leader of the anti-Tammany Democrats and from Cato Sells were read before Rev. Patrick Henry, the first speaker, was introduced. Rev Mr. Henry spoke of "B. B. Sartin as a Man" commending him as a personal friend. P. D. Curl who said he voted for Al Smith in 1928 but was a supporter of Sartin at the same time, discussed the candidate as a "man who gets results" outlining his record as a county judge here several years ago. J. Ewing Friberg read a five-minute address on "Sartin as a Soldier," speaking of his service during the world war. J. R. Ogle, local attorney, was the last speaker on the program, offering a tribute to Sartin the Lawyer" and repeating his part in the county's achievements during his term as county judge.

Firemen Fight Blaze in Front Of Taft Home Without Usual Noise

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13. (AP)—Fire engines, usually audible blocks away stood in front of William Howard Taft's home today with their engines cut off and their sirens silent, and proceeded as quietly as possible to extinguish a fire across the street.

The blaze was a small one, located in the chimney of the home of Lieutenant Commander John H. Magruder, but under ordinary circumstances the roar of the engines would have been greater than any noise that might have come from the flames.

The precaution because of the condition of the former chief justice who has been ill at his home since returning from Asheville, N. C., over a week ago, came about through quick action by a policeman and quick interpretation by members of the fire department. A fire engine began to arrive the patrolman signalled for silence, pointing to the Taft home, and the firemen acted quickly.

The result was one of the most silently extinguished fires Washington has ever known.

National Y. W. C. A. President Talks On Work and Aims of Organization

By MRS. L. N. CASON
The Record News Staff

Bringing greetings from the 22 associations she had visited since Jan. 1, Mrs. John M. Hanna national president of the Y. W. C. A. spoke to approximately 250 men and women at the local building Thursday night on the causes and purposes of the association. An invitation was extended those present to attend the national conference to be held in Detroit in the latter part of April when women's interests in agricultural interests, in the textile industries, etc., will be discussed.

The Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Hanna stressed as an association believing in organization, in information rather than reformation. They are definitely studying life and interesting girls by the definite knowledge to be gained through the organization.

Eight and one-half million girls and women are now engaged in gainful occupations and in the more than 500 vocations there are not more than 35 in which women are not already engaged, Mrs. Hanna said.

Women Need to Think

Woman's life in the home has been changed the speaker said, through the labor devices. Life could be more quiet and reposeful if women would think, but she told the story of the girl who was asked about the new play as an example of lack of thought. "What do you think of the new play?" asked someone. "Why I really do not know," answered the girl languidly. I have never heard anyone say.

Years ago Mrs. Hanna said she began to look for an organization in which the thought of women could be unified and in the Y. W. C. A. she found the only one in which every woman can make a contribution. The association breaks down the barriers of age, she said and it has bridged the inhibitions of age and made a platform on which all women and girls can walk together.

The annual report of the Y. W. C. A. board was made at the meeting preceding Mrs. Hanna's address. Members retained on the executive board were announced as Mesdames George Fox, Charles Pugenpohl, F. A. Hicks, E. W. Nicholson, E. T. Duff and Miss Annette Coffield. Four new members just elected are Miss Zula McKay, Mesdames J. Lem Keevil, Finley Weldon and Ralph DeShong.

Symbolic Decorations

The cafeteria where the meeting was held was adorned with ferns smilax and the flags of the nations symbolizing the national and international unity of the Y. W. C. A. which has organizations in 48 different countries. Tables were decorated with miniature flags of the nations, tall red candles and masses of red carnations. The program covers were the work of the Girl Reserves who are affiliated with the Y. W. C. A. and were cleverly hand painted Arabs fastened on the triangular Y insignia. The Business and Professional Women's club and Junior Business Girls were introduced as associate organizations.

Mrs. C. W. Snider presided and the invocation was given by Rev. H. T. Wood new minister of the First Christian church. Mesdames W. M. Priddy and C. Y. Tully sang two numbers with Mrs. O. B. Kiel accompanying and the Junior college Girl Reserves under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinsey, put on a pageant, "A Word to the Ts." The benediction was said by Rev. W. D. Bratton of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

JAMES RITES HELD IN AUSTIN

Educator and Business Leader Paid Tribute

Funeral services for Col. John Garland James, 84, educator, financier and pioneer business man who died in a Dallas hospital Wednesday, were held Thursday afternoon in Austin.

Colonel James was the second president of Texas A. & M., the organizer of the Texas Military Institute and the last remaining member of the group which founded the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. Tribute to his memory was paid by leading educators and business men Thursday all over the state. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Harris Masterson, rector of All Saints chapel.

The colonel was closely associated in the earliest development of Wichita Falls, having been president of three banks here and an active worker in the building of the city until he left in 1895 upon moving to Roff, Okla., where he had lived until his death. His love for the city prompted regular donations to charity work here throughout the years following his departure from this section. Even during his illness, which caused his confinement in a Dallas hospital for the past year, his checks for the needy of Wichita Falls were sent regularly.

Bankers, business men and church workers in this city Thursday paid highest tribute to the fine character of the colonel and joined with his friends and associates in all parts of the state in mourning his death.

MIRTH RULES SCOUT PARTY

Boys and Grown Ups Laugh Together

Mirth was sovereign for almost three hours Thursday night when about 30 guests at the banquet and party given by the Wichita Falls Boy Scout executive board for scoutmasters and their ladies put business on the shelf and gave themselves over to the whole-hearted enjoyment of games and contests reminiscent of younger days. The affair was held in the basement of the First Christian church.

At the opening of the banquet, presided over by Frank B. Creighton, ladies at each of the seven tables introduced themselves and their escorts. A word-making contest followed the dinner course and a valentine-making game came after the dessert, with each table forming a team against the others. Points for first, second and third place were awarded the winning teams and the scores chalked up on a huge heart score card. Teams were named after Texas colleges.

After the banquet the guests were seated in lines of chairs on opposite sides of the floor and Mr. Creighton began a series of "athletic" events in a "field meet," with the ladies and men of each table team participating. Winning scores were placed on the scoreboard. The events ranged from paper cutting contests to a relay race in which the contestants raced for stacks of paper sacks, blew them up and popped them and then raced back to touch the next runner. "Southwestern" won the field meet.

Members of the scout executive board and their ladies present were Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Hartsook, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pond and their grandson, G. W. Pond, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hord, E. McCullough, Mike Goldstucker and G. D. Fox.

Scoutmasters and their ladies were Dwight Hobbs and Miss Ella Mae Kimbell, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Billingsley, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rudy, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ross, Kenneth Erwin and Miss Phyllis Creighton, J. T. Hamilton and Miss Jessie Poinor and Paul Woodward. Mrs. Frank Creighton was in charge of the serving of the banquet.

The tri-county scout jamboree will be held at the Memorial auditorium Friday night, it was announced.

NICHOLS TALKS TO MEN'S CLUB

Vernon Editor Addresses Floral Heights Meeting

"The future program of the church will be patterned on the life of Jesus instead of on theology," guests at the banquet and meeting of the Floral Heights Methodist church Men's club were told Thursday night by Ray Nichols, publisher of Vernon, principal speaker on the program. Mr. Nichols was introduced by Judge P. A. Martin.

A crowd of about 125 attended the banquet, which was served by the Women's Missionary society of the church. Dr. S. A. Barnes of Dallas, former pastor of the Floral Heights church, gave the invocation. M. T. Clements gave the welcoming talk. Visitors from Vernon, Valley View and the Grant Street Methodist church here attended.

In voicing his gratitude for what the church had done for him, Mr. Nichols stated the church was the greatest institution in the world from the time of the dark ages to the present. The church work of the future, he said, will care for the blind, the poor and the helpless instead of leaving such duty to charity organizations without church connections.

Talks also were made by Dr. C. W. Thomas of the Grant Street church, C. C. McDonald, Dr. C. A. Spragins, presiding elder, and Dr. C. M. Simpson, pastor.

Jack Ernest of station KGKO gave accordion selections, and Mrs. James I. Harvey gave several vocal numbers accompanied by Mrs. Lester Jones.

Shot Fired Into Home Puzzles Officers Here

Police Thursday night were puzzled as to whether a shot fired into a room in which Charles Schaffer, 806 Scott, and others was nothing was intended to kill or whether it was a prank of a group of boys tormenting Mr. Schaffer.

F. H. Murray, who was in the rear of his home hearing Scott avenue traffic, told police he heard the shot but the others said they had heard nothing.

Mr. Schaffer, who lives alone, said he knew of no one who might make an attempt against his life. Further investigation was made Friday.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough or chest cold can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in millions of homes, because it gives more prompt, positive relief than anything else. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to make a full pint. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes good—children like it.

You can actually feel its penetrating, soothing action on the inflamed throat membranes. It is also absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. At the same time, it promptly loosens the germ-laden phlegm. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief even in severe bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

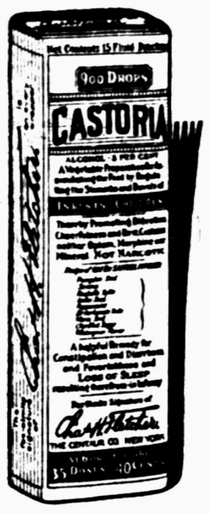

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CREOMULSION
FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

For any BABY

We can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

All through babyhood, Castoria should be a mother's standby; and a wise mother does not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Castoria is readily obtained at any drugstore, and the genuine easily identified by the Chas. H. Fletcher signature that appears on every wrapper.

CONGRESS NOW 'DRYEST' EVER

Cherrington Says Prohi Forces Growing

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Asserting that anti-prohibitionists are growing fewer and fewer in congress and the state legislatures, Ernest H. Cherrington, general secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism, today said this was evidence of "the diminishing power" of the wet forces.

"Today the liquor crowd finds itself unable to muster more than a corporal's guard in those halls of legislation where its word some years ago was law," he told the editors' advisory section of the international council of religious education.

Cherrington pointed to "this waning of the power of an anti-social force" as "significant evidence of the trend of public sentiment" after 10 years of prohibition.

Dry Forces Gain

"It is interesting to note," he said, "that each of the 10 congresses during the last 20 years has had a larger majority in favor of prohibition and its enforcement than any previous congress, and that the legislatures of the states as they stand today, together with the membership of the present congress, present a larger aggregate majority of members of all these legislative bodies in favor of prohibition and its enforcement than at any previous time."

While a congressional committee at Washington continued its hearings this morning on proposals to modify or repeal the dry law, Cherrington told his Chicago audience "the liquor crowd are now remarkable pincipally for the variety of schemes they suggest to evade or nullify measures which they practically confess they are too small numerically to repeal." He branded as "outworn ideas" the proposals offered by opponents of the 18th amendment, after they had "availed themselves of every pretext to have either the 18th amendment itself or else the laws for its enforcement declared unconstitutional."

Cites Success

Asserting that the only alternative to prohibition is permission, he said the permissive system had a try-out of more than three centuries in the United States, "demonstrating beyond question that any degree of permission for beverage alcohol fails to mitigate the evils of that traffic, and that every move toward bettering conditions has been a move toward prohibition."

"Prohibition," he added, "in its efforts to suppress the evils arising from the beverage alcohol traffic, has been successful to the degree to which prohibition has been invoked, enforced and obeyed."

Eastep's Trial To Open February 26

DURANT, Okla., Feb. 13 (UP)—The trial of Andrew J. Eastep, charged with murder in the deaths of Will Hughes, a neighbor, and his wife, Sarah Eastep, will be held at Tishomingo Feb. 26, Judge Porter Newman announced today.

Judge Newman said a severance of trial would be granted Mrs. Ila Hughes, charged with murdering her husband, Will Hughes. No motion has been made asking for a change of venue for Mrs. Hughes.

The state alleged that Eastep and Mrs. Hughes conspired to murder their mates so that they could continue an asserted illicit relationship.

The Johnson county court clerk was ordered to empanel 60 citizens for jury duty in Eastep's trial.

Judge Harry Archbald reduced this part of the verdict and explained Miss Salazar had testified she spent only $2,000 for maintenance.

DOLORES SALAZAR

Young American Produces 'Macbeth'

OXFORD, Eng., Feb. 13. (INS)—Unstinted praise followed today in the wake of the Oxford University Dramatic society's production of "Macbeth," by which Brewster Morgan, 24-year-old Rhodes scholar of Kansas City, won for himself new laurels as a producer.

Theatrical authorities described Morgan's production as "bold and original," but nevertheless without extravagance. He is described as a producer with deep understanding of Shakespearean subjects, and a brilliant theatrical career was predicted for him.

Morgan first achieved his reputation as a producer with last year's Oxford production of "Othello." This was the first time in history that the theatrical work of the society had not been placed in the hands of a professional.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, and channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids; to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

W. S. HAM GIVEN 25-YEAR TERM

Slayer of Chauffeur Found Guilty at Abilene

ABILENE, Texas, Feb. 13. (AP)—W. S. Ham was convicted by a jury here today on a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of N. V. Nixon, El Paso chauffeur, in 1920, and his punishment was fixed at 25 years in the penitentiary.

Only one day was required for Ham's second trial here, a hung jury having resulted in the first trial.

Another man, Percy Howard, had been given the death sentence in connection with the slaying, but his execution had been delayed several times by Gov. Dan Moody, who declared he wished first to see how Ham's trial terminated. Testimony against Howard was furnished principally by Ham and by Howard's former wife.

Howard and Ham, according to testimony read, employed Nixon to drive them from El Paso to Big Spring. On the second day of the trip, according to the record, Howard ordered Nixon to stop the car, then went a short distance from the road and dug a shallow grave.

Howard then called Ham and Nixon, Ham's testimony showed, and while Nixon stood looking into the hole, Howard hit him with a shovel and shot him with a pistol. The body slumped into the hole and was covered up.

Because he feared Howard, the testimony stated, Ham did not tell anyone. Ham was arrested in California in 1923, nearly two years after Nixon's body was dug up by coyotes.

Stops That Tough Hang-On Cough That Racks Your Whole Body

For simple coughs any simple sweet sugary cough syrup will probably do.

But when you want to throw out of your system one of those old timers, that simply won't be conquered, but lingers on and on causing sleepless nights and days of torment then you've just got to have a real cough medicine.

Then you must ask your druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion for the harder and tougher and tighter they come the more joy Bronchuline gets in knocking them out.

Bronchuline isn't a cheap cough conqueror, mind you, for first raters are never cheap. But if you are one of the unlucky ones that a persistent, health destroying cough is pushing towards the grave, get a bottle today and notice how the first dose takes right hold and soothes the terrible soreness.

Often three or four doses bring blessed relief and half a bottle forces the most stubborn cough into submission.

"A bottle of magic" one old man calls Bronchuline Emulsion. He was all worn out and ready to give up when a friend brought him the good news about Bronchuline.

Don't let a cough hang on—it's dangerous company—Get rid of it quick. Ask Allison's Drug Store or any up to the times druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion.—Adv.

Mr. C. F. Redlich says:

The "Perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief and contract the opening in a remarkably short time.

The secret of their success is in their simplicity. An expertly adjusted device seals the opening without discomfort or detention from work. It is practically everlasting, sanitary, comfortable and actually holds ruptures which heretofore were considered uncontrollable.

"IF YOU WANT TO HAVE IT DONE RIGHT—SEE REDLICH."

Doctor J. W. Seaver, for many years in charge of the Physical Education of the students of Yale College, has recorded 75% cures with this system.

Mr. Redlich is internationally known and speaks English, German and Spanish.

Enjoy Flashlike Performance at all Seasons . . .

When you are in a hurry to reach the office—or to fill a business or social engagement—or you wish to get to the club where a foursome awaits you—every minute counts. No matter how cold the day, you want your motor to start instantly—to pick up eagerly—to take you swiftly.

Press the starter. The "low boiling point" of this highly refined gasoline affords quick vaporization. The spark flashes the motor immediately into action. With a turn or two of the crankshaft, full power is developed. Gears are shifted, and away you go!

Then you enjoy a rare pleasure—the thrill of "flashlike" motoring in winter. Power such as you never thought possible. Smoothness that reduces wear and tear, and adds to the life of the motor. Flexibility which reveals new performance ranges for your car. Always clean burning—with less crank-case dilution—more mileage—longer service from your oil.

With Flashlike Gasoline, use Humble Velvet Motor Oil, which has the body and easy flowing qualities to protect bearings at all driving speeds and temperatures. Its efficient piston seal holds compression and adds to the motor's power.

Use Flashlike Gasoline and Humble Velvet Motor Oil regularly. Get them at stations wherever you see the Humble signs.

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING COMPANY

Now you can get a fuel which not only has the power, "zip," and "go" of Flashlike Gasoline, but also the added energy and smoothness afforded by tetraethyl lead—the remarkable new compound perfected by the General Motors Corporation. This compound has made possible the modern high-compression motor. Such motors absolutely require a fuel of Ethyl Flashlike Gasoline's anti-knock rating for efficient performance. Using this fuel, surpassing power and smoothness are gained. Stops the "fuel knocks" in all motors—old or new. Due to the cost of Ethyl Compound, Ethyl Flashlike Gasoline sells for three cents per gallon more than Humble Flashlike Gasoline. Try it for yourself.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Alcohol and Camphor

Question: "Mrs. ——: "Will you please tell me if alcohol and powdered camphor mixed will reduce the part of the body it is rubbed on, and what proportions should one use." I hear it is a good reducing liquid."

Answer: The use of alcohol and powdered camphor will no doubt toughen the skin and the massage which is used may assist in removing some of the fat in the parts treated but the alcohol and camphor have no real effect upon this reduction. Any of the reducing creams owe their success to the vigorous rubbing which is recommended, and not to the ingredients of their preparation.

Always Hungry

Question: Mrs. J. F. K. asks, "What causes one to be hungry at all times? I eat so much I am uncomfortable, and still feel hungry."

Answer: The feeling of hunger at all times is cometimes due to physiological reasons and to the fact that one is often being starved for certain kinds of food elements, principally those found in the non-starchy vegetables and in protein foods. One who uses a large amount of starch and sugar and small amounts of the vital foods will often get fat, feel uncomfortable all the time, and have a constant hunger, which is simply a sign that the body is suffering for the right kind of nourishment.

Bedbugs

Question: Mrs. F. W. asks, "Will you please tell me what to use to get rid of bedbugs? I have cleaned till I have nothing left to clean and they are still around."

Answer: If your efforts have been unsuccessful, I would advise you to employ some fumigating organization which makes a specialty of getting rid of bugs and vermin. There are many companies that will guarantee to do this for you.

NORTH TEXAS AGGIES DEFEAT JUNIOR COLLEGE CAGE FIVE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

The scribes of old England are waxing quite hot over the approaching Sharkey-Scott tiff at Miami. To us Americans who give a dern, that fight is looked upon as a semi-final to the real bout that will select the heavyweight champion of the world. Meaning that the winner of the battle amongst the everglades will meet Max Schmeling, the Teuton, in the final and deciding encounter.

But the English, according to their scribes, do not look at it this way. They reason that Mister Scott is the world's best, with the exception maybe of Jack Sharkey, and maybe not him, after all. If Phainting Phil sends Jack sprawling down at Miami, said Phil will be the heavyweight champion of the world, in the eyes of the English, and us Americans can like it or not.

It is noteworthy, however, how little commotion this attitude is stirring up over here. When the faint rumors first trickled in o'er the waves that the islanders thought so much of their mauler, it stirred up little comment. And when they persisted in making of the Miami tiff the final championship bout, we Americans looked at it as if to say, "Oh well, they would do something like that." We seemed to detect in the Englander's attitude towards his boxer his attitude toward almost everything—the haughty air, you know—the tilted-monocle-soaring-eyebrow manner.

And in so doing, we think we have exercised fine control, and have done the manly thing. We could, for instance, have snorted with fury and raised an awful commotion. We could have tripped up the logic of the Britons and sent it deftly to earth, in such a manner as Sharkey is likely to send Mister Scott whirling ere this month ends. But that would not have been mannerly, inasmuch as we are the hosts to our English friends. And then, it is much more pleasant to snicker.

But the lordy Briton's air may have an effect other than to make us giggle up our sleeve. One of the scribes, landing from England the other day, said England was more excited about this fight than it would be if King George declared war on France. Now all this is going to have a psychological effect on Mister Scott. Knowing that his country is palpitating for news of the defeat of Sharkey, he is going to be a much harder man to whip than if he were merely one among many boxers England sent out in quest of honors. Scott is not one among many. He is the one boxer before whom the Britons grovel. And their worship of him has made him doubly conscious of his obligations. Their worship is going to strengthen his pride. And the result will be that he'll fight long and hard before he'll bow down before Mister Sharkey.

The great Sharkey, of course, realizes that he will be fighting English sporting public opinion as well as that public's idol in the flesh. And he will, of course, battle all the harder to keep the title in the homeland. All in all, it's beginning to look as if this mess-up down at Miami is going to be a real fight after all. Especially with the English taking it so seriously.

Now comes the Wichita Falls Baseball club with a real bargain for the housewife who likes to forget the worries of the kitchen in the hub-bub of a thrilling baseball game. Guy Airey, Spudder secretary, announced Thursday the club this year will issue season tickets to the ladies—bless 'em—for only five bucks. What a break! For those five bucks they will receive $27.50 worth of baseball pastime. For there will be 55 games the ladies may see with those tickets.

There will be 77 games here in all, counting Saturdays and Sundays, but the season ticket is not good for the week-end jousts, Secretary Airey said. All in all, it seems it's a fair enough bargain.

Florida Open To Start Saturday

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 13. (AP)—Two score professional and amateur golfers today took a swing around the country club course where tomorrow they set out on an 18-hole pro-amateur low ball event as preliminary to the 72-hole second annual Pensacola open starting Saturday.

The nation's high ranking professionals in their jaunt over the course, sought to solve its peculiarities and better prepare themselves for the two-day chase of 36 holes each for the champion's share of the $3,500 sack of gold.

The pro-amateur event tomorrow, with only $100 offered the professional member of the winning team, was looked upon as a practice round. The victor's share of prize money in the open tournament is $800 with other cash prizes from $600 down to $50.

San Angelo Rainbows Beat Abilene Poloists

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Splendid mallet work and equally as good horesmanship gave the Rainbows of San Angelo victory over Abilene in the semi-final match of the low goal polo event on Brackenridge Park field Thursday afternoon with the final score 10 to 6. The crowd was estimated at 2,000, the weather being ideal and the field fast.

Pete Gilmore was the star of the game and scored four goals by dint of good riding. While the Rainbows were favored with a five goal handicap, Abilene got a lucky break in the eighth chukker when a pony booted the ball through the uprights.

Rip Collins to Coach Texas Aggie Hurlers

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 13. (AP)—Rip Collins, former Texas Aggie gridiron star and now a member of the twirling staff of the St. Louis Browns, back at A. & M. college for a brief visit, will assist Roswell Higginbotham in developing the Aggie pitching staff.

VISITORS WIN FRAY, 43-27

Junior College Indians Lose Return Match

Displaying unbeatable basket ball the North Texas Aggies smothered the local Junior college Indians here Thursday night under a whirlwind attack and brought victory to the Blue and White by a tally of 43 to 27. Both teams started off at a slow pace but quickened during the last half and the final gun found both teams rushing pell mell down the court in a great exhibition of basket ball.

The visitors jumped into the lead at the opening whistle and held their advantage all the way. Coach E. A. Baggett's warriors at times looked as good as the winners, but lapses cost them their chance to win. The Aggies cleanly outplayed the home five and were easily the outstanding quintet. All of the Aggies were as fast as a streak on the floor and were all superior to the Redskins as far as height and build were concerned.

Gray was the chief thorn in the side of the Indians. Although thrown out in the last quarter for four personal fouls, this athlete stayed in long enough to snare 19 points. He was too elusive for the Indians and seemed impregnable on the defense. Bigley also had a finger in the pie of victory with five buckets from the floor and two sinks from the free throw line for a total of 12 points. Blacklock was the chief offensive performer for the scalpers with five buckets from the floor for a total of 10 points. Anderson gathered seven points and was one of the chief defensive performers. Captain Ramee was the outstanding performer on the defense, breaking up Aggie plays which seemed destined to result in scores.

The Junior college second string defeated the Presbyterian church team in a preliminary game after battling two over-time periods by the count of 21 to 18. Hindman was the stellar performer for the Braves while Brown and Fudge excelled for the losers.

Wichita County Cage Tournament Opens At Burk Today

Still Together

PAIR TOGETHER EIGHT YEARS

Western Loopers Are Terrors to Foes

MOSCOW, Idaho, Feb. 13. (AP)—Harold Stowell and Frank McMillin are the University of Idaho's Damon and Pythias of basket ball.

For eight years the two have been pounding the maple court together in high school and university, being coached in both places by the vandal mentor, Rich A. Fox, formerly head coach at Pocatello, Idaho, high school.

Last year McMillin was high scorer in the Pacific Coast conference and forward on official all-coast teams, scoring 106 points in 10 conference games. Stowell, then stationed at guard, came in third with just nine points less than his buddy.

This year the situation seems reversed, for Stowell has been leading his teammate, as well as the other high scorers of the conference.

"Stowie" and "Mac" have been pals nearly as long as they can remember, and although neither claims the distinction of being born with a basket ball in his hand, they started out together winning games. Eight years ago in Pocatello the two played basket ball on a Sunday school quintet. From there they graduated to Fox's high school team and it was Fox who taught McMillan to use either hand to push the ball with deadly accuracy through the basket. Stowell was used when McMillan was covered, generally taking the ball from the sidelines and dropping it through.

This same combination is now used in collegiate play, and every coast conference team has learned to fear the "Pocatello twins."

Reinstatement of Giant Negro Boxer Asked

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (US)—Laying the foundation for a heavyweight spectacle that is expected to establish new world's records for indoor boxing, the Madison Square Garden corporation has applied to the Pennsylvania Athletic commission for the reinstatement of George Godfrey.

The huge negro, considered by many the greatest of the modern big men, is one of the small group named by William Muldoon as acceptable opponents for Primo Carnera, giant Italian.

The black menace comes closest to approaching Carnera in height and weight. He weighs 245 pounds to Carnera's 270, and is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, against Carnera's 6 feet, 6½ inches.

Godfrey has been under suspension here for the past three months. The action was taken at the request of the Pennsylvania commission, which has a working agreement with the local organization. The punishment was the outgrowth of a quarrel between Frank Weiner, chairman of the Pennsylvania board, and "Baron" Jim Dougherty, manager of Godfrey.

Thrilling Bouts to Decide Championship

By PAT WILEY
Record News Correspondent

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Feb. 13.—The basket ball quintets of Wichita county will meet in a tournament at Burkburnett Friday and Saturday to decide the cage championship of the county. In the past few years this tournament has offered many thrills and tense moments as the teams battle in an effort to defeat their rivals and bring the silver loving ornament home to their school. Wichita county has always developed teams well trained in the science of this game, and this year promises not to be an exception.

Electrans Powerful

According to the "dope" anything may happen. Electra has always placed a surprisingly good team into the race, no matter how their record may look before the meet. The Tigers made the spectators sit up and take notice last year, when they upset the highly touted Cashion Cats with remarkable ease. McDaniel, plucky forward for the Tigers, is a one-man team within himself. Once he gets started it takes a cyclone to stop him.

Clara has an experienced, machine-like precision in her boys that will not admit defeat until the last whistle and the last man is carried off the court. Her prospects look exceptionally good since the greatest part of her clashes have resulted in victories. They are usually a thorn for someone and they look better today than at any time in the past.

The Harvesters from Valley View have one of the best teams that has ever been produced from her raw material.

Burkburnett has an outstanding player in Ragsdale, their snappy forward, but this is not a one-man team by any means, because the other four men are excellent when they are called on to do their parts. The advantage lies in that they play on their home court, but a real upset may occur before the plucky Bulldogs will fly the victorious banner.

Hawks Evenly Balanced

While the Iowa Park Hawks remain of an unknown quality, they usually give a good account of themselves in the tournaments. They are one of the most evenly balanced squads that will compete for the honors, and the title of the tournament. Their record for the year does not look very encouraging, but the boys promise to show a good account of themselves with their smooth movements on the floor. They are in better condition now than at any other time of the season, and their only real foe is the Cashion team.

The Cats are put forward as the probable favorites for the meet as they were in the last tournament, but anything can happen in a battle for the crown. Cashion has a remarkably good record for the season, and the odds are in favor of this quintet winning the high honors. These cagers have won the majority of the games played and they meet the same foes in the coming fray. No team in the contest has offered any resistance to them in the games played, nor has any approached their enviable record. Owens, lanky center, has made shots that seemed impossible until this has become a habit. If the pace set by the Cats is maintained they are slated to win the county tournament in a walk, and to deal some one in the district a hard battle.

Schoolboy Wins First Handicap Sled Event

LACONIA, N. H., Feb. 13. (UP)—Roland Lombard, 18-year-old Raymond, Maine, schoolboy, today won the annual New England sled dog derby, covering the three-day, 90-mile course in a total handicap time at 6 hours 31 minutes and 38 seconds. A $500 prize went with the victory.

The race was the first handicap event in the history of dog sled racing. Lombard had a 33-minute advantage on each of the 30-mile treks. Nevertheless, he had not been considered a likely winner among the field of 14—including two women—who competed.

Look Out Jack for That "Secret Punch"

By JAY VESSELS
Sports Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—It's all right to hand pick your opponent if you can make it stand up as a good pick.

Jack Sharkey, chief dictator of the American heavyweight troupe, designated Phil (Secret Punch) Scott as the man he would face for 10 rounds at Miami, Feb. 27.

Now all Jack has to do is to prove that it was a good pick and prevent the Britisher from becoming a bloomin' boomerang.

For his own sake and the sake of the health of heavyweight boxing, Boston Jack also has to see that the pending battle of Biscayne bay is not a bloomin' burlesque.

But with all of this heavy responsibility thrust upon Sharkey, the hardest thing about the Madison Square Garden's annual show in Dixie is to put the project over as warranting serious attention.

There's been so much said and written in ridicule of the scrap that it may develop a unique appeal in which the throngs may turn out to see just how funny certain interests can be in trying to be serious.

And here's a tip along that line.

The boys who write facetious pieces long ago decided that the best way to be humorous was to pretend seriousness.

Anyway, the bout is a go. The sun-tanned tourists can get their choice seats at $27.50 per.

And it's up to Jack Sharkey to keep Phillip on his feet long enough to put over a legal, lethal punch.

That may prove to be no sinecure.

S. M. U. CAGERS MEET PORKERS TONIGHT

MUSTANGS IN FOR HARD BOUT

Champs Favored to Repeat Conference Win

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Feb. 13.—Ambassadors of a forlorn hope, Southern Methodist university's basketballers will see what they can do about the Arkansas university plague Friday and Saturday nights at Fayetteville.

GAYLE TALBOT, JR.

The consensus is that the Red and Blue will do little, if anything, about it, and that the Razorbacks will go marching right on to their fifth straight Southwest conference crown. There is an outside chance, however, which makes the fact that the Mustangs are engaging the Porkers worth recording.

There will be no lack of moral support from the five other Texas members of the conference. All are somewhat weary of the Razorbacks' dominance of Southwest cage circles. Among the Ponies' most ardent supporters in their efforts to dislodge the lanky Osarkians will be the Texas university Longhorns, who were jolted out of a possible tie for the title by the same Ponies last week. If the Methodist could, by great good luck, get as good as an even break against Schoonover & Co., the Longhorns would receive another lease on life. But getting an even break at Fayetteville comes under the head of tough assignments.

While waiting for the returns from Arkansas, the Longhorns will entertain their older rivals, the Texas Aggies, tomorrow night at Austin. Coach Walker's hoopsters are expected to win without undue exertion, since the Farmers took a fancy trimming from Rice in their last appearance. It is very essential to them that they do win, for if they drop another the title can be handed to Arkansas without bothering to count the ballots.

Bears Meet Owls

Baylor's cellar-dwelling Bears and the Rice Owls will complete the week's card with a melee Saturday night at Waco. Since their decisive victory over Texas Christian, 34 to 20, Tuesday night, the Bruins are more generally respected and now rate an even chance of stopping the Owls, who have won three in a row.

The Waco tussle is almost certain to produce a new leader in the scoring race, Raymond Alford, Baylor forward, now is in second place with 69 points, while Ray Hart, Rice sharpshooter, is third with 68. Roy Eury, T. C. U. center, who is leading the parade with 70 points, does not see action this week-end.

Arkansas enters its final home series loking stouter than at any time this season. Last week the Razorbacks smashed the strong Oklahoma Aggies two straight at Stillwater. Schoonover, Prewitt and Pickren have their eyes on the hoop and the entire team is clicking smoothly. It is doubtful that Mustangs could defeat them, even if they had another of those "inspired" games in their systems.

The standing:

Team—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Arkansas	5	1	.833
Texas	5	2	.714
Texas A. & M.	3	3	.500
S. M. U.	3	3	.500

SENT CONTRACT

The Great Shires, However, Will Not Get His $25,000 Salary

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—The process of transforming Charles Arthur "The Great" Shires from a fighter to a baseball player has begun. The White Sox today sent the fighting first baseman a contract for the 1930 season. No mention of salary was made, but it was indicated the amount was not in the neighborhood of $25,000, which the "Great One" said he would demand.

Oklahoma Christians Beat Cameron Aggies

LAWTON, Okla., Feb. 13. (UP)—Standings in the Oklahoma junior league conference were knotted today because the Cameron Aggies of Lawton lost to the Oklahoma Christian college of Cordell, 35 to 31 last night.

The two teams have each lost one game and the final standing of the teams will be decided at a game at Cordell next week.

Statistical material prepared on the subject gives his weight as 210 pounds. He is 6 feet 3½ inches high. He is still growing and one day hopes to pass Dale Alexander, regular Tiger firstsacker. Alex weighs 215 pounds and is 6 feet 3 inches.

ARCHER QUINTS BATTLE TODAY

County Tournament to Be Held at Holliday

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIDAY, Texas, Feb. 13.—Teams from the various parts of Archer county will journey to Holliday Friday morning for the opening of the county basket ball tournament.

Drawings will be held at 10 a. m. in both junior and senior divisions. It is expected that competition will get under way immediately after the drawings take place. Schools that will have both junior and senior entries are Holliday, Geraldine, Archer City and Dundee.

According to last minute arrangements it is likely that the finals will be played off Friday night.

Everything is in readiness for the occasion. A new set of bleachers has been erected for those desiring to get a close-up of the contests. If weather conditions permit it is likely that the gymnasium will be filled to full capacity.

According to pre-game dope the decision will lie between Megargel, Holliday and Archer City. Any three of these teams may be in the finals. Both Megargel and Archer City have won impressive victories on the eve of the county competition at Holliday.

U. S. YACHTS LOSE

CANNES, France, Feb. 13. (UP)—American yachts placed second and fourth in today's race for the International Yachting club trophy. Walter Bowes, Saleema was second and Briggs Cunningham's Lucie fourth. The race was won by the King of Denmark's Dalia.

PACK TO PLAY SHERMAN QUINT

Game Here Tonight Starts At 7 o'Clock

Wichita Falls High school Coyotes will clash with the Sherman High Bearcats here Friday night at 7 o'clock in the local high school gym in the third and final basket ball game of the week for the Pack. Coach Barry Holton took his charges to Sherman last Tuesday and brought back a hard-earned victory over the Bearcats by a 29 to 25 score. The return game is expected to be a duplicate of the first meeting of the two teams as far as thrills and sensational basket ball is concerned.

Team Works Hard

Fully aware of their poor showing in early season practice games, the wearers of the red and black are putting on all steam and working each day in the gym until the shadows surround the high school building. A strenuous workout Thursday, topped off with a short scrimmage against the second squad, put the Coyotes in almost perfect shape for the game tonight. The afternoon session yesterday was composed of passing the ball and taking short shots at the basket. A speedy passing game has been built up of late and a tight defense will have a hard time in stopping the fast-breaking Coyote forwards.

Captain Beaty has been shifted from center to guard and Allen and Beaty are taking turns at holding the center hole down. The Coyote leader seems to be the main cog in both the defense and offense, his great height allowing him to stop enemy passes with apparent ease and pass accurately and quickly on the offense. With Malone and Beaty at guard the defense of the Red and Black is no longer a source of worry to the Coyote mentor. Both are excellent shots at the basket and are fully capable of handling the offensive assignments of guards.

Both of the guards are regulars from last season and have had plenty of experience. Paul Dickey and Lefty Scarbrough loom as likely choices for the forward positions. Both have had experience in high school and their work thus far has been commendable. Scarbrough especially is an all around player on the court, a real offensive threat, an air-tight defensive man, and gifted with the ability to use both hands equally as well in handling the ball. None of the positions have the proverbial clinch mark on them as a result of the hard working of the substitutes. Brandon and Janeway at forward and Howell at center all loom as fully capable of handling the jobs of the regulars.

Tourney Nears

With their orbs fixed on the district championship the Pack have only four more days of hard practice ere the day rolls around when the district championship will be decided. The champ will be decided when the representatives of nine counties will gather here next Friday for the eliminations which will decide the winner. Although the fighting Pack has not been conceded a chance to win the first game, which is to be with Olney, last year's champs, the Red and Black is out to upset the dope and bring home the salt pork.

Smith played with Tulsa in the Western league last season, batting .367 and hitting 32 home runs in 161 games.

RECEIPTS OF POULTRY LIGHT

Farmers of Area Busy With Land Breaking

Farmers in Northwest Texas are far too busy breaking ground while the sun shines to bother with little things like bringing chickens to the market, according to reports given Thursday by local produce dealers.

Delayed in the same measure to which their lands were benefitted by January's heavy delivery of moisture, farmers all through this section are taking full advantage of the bright weather now prevalent to put as much acreage as possible into condition for planting.

As a result, few deliveries of poultry are being reported by buyers here, and it was stated the same condition exists throughout this area. Farmers near Memphis were called upon early this week to bring in marketable poultry for a heavy shipment. Their response indicated plainly that they were too busy.

Warm and bright weather has had its effect upon eggs, too, both at point of production and in market price. Deliveries are increasing materially, and the price to producers Thursday hovered around the 58 mark—27 cents a dozen.

Last week it encountered a new deep sand at 4685 feet when five inch casing was set and cemented. Wednesday the well was drilled in two feet deeper and the oil began to flow. The completion of a commercial producer here will be the means of starting up other tests on the adjoining tracts, one location already having been staked out by the Shaw Oil company as an offset.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 13. (AP)—New high prices for the movement were established by advances from an opening decline in cotton today on further trade buying and covering, but the market eased later under realizing or liquidation. May sold up from 15.86 to 16.17 and closed at 15.95 with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 7 to 16 points.

The opening was barely steady at a decline of 5 to 14 points with the active months soon showing net losses of 15 to 19 points. March contracts sold off to 15.62, July to 16.05 and October to 16.25 under the early offerings but at this level the decline was checked by trade buying and covering.

For a time the market showed strength, selling up to 15.90 for March, 16.36 for July and 16.54 for October, making a recovery of about 89 points from the low level of last week in the case of May deliveries. The demand tapered and offerings increased. The market reacted sharply during the last hour. Last prices showed declines of about 20 to 24 points from the best on the more active positions.

Liverpool cables reported hedging and liquidation influenced by declines in Egyptian cotton. Port receipts today 8,302. U. S. port stocks 2,289,139. Exports today 6,425, making 5,199,212 so far this season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 13. (AP)—Cotton was active today. Prices steadied following an early dip. Trade buying and covering braced the market after values sold off about 10 points under selling by recent buyers. The improvement was not maintained and last prices showed only a small net gain. With Liverpool cables relatively easy the market here opened at declines of 3 to 5 points. The market receded in early trading on the poor cables and selling by recent buyers, March selling to 15.40 or 8 to 10 points under the previous close.

By mid-day March rallied to 15.68 or 20 to 23 points above yesterday's close.

Oils and Coppers remained irregular throughout but the Rails took on a little firmer tone. Call money rate remained at 4 per cent with further loans reported outside at 3½ per cent. Turnover increased to over 3,500,000 share level.

More competition in the eastern gasoline territory was indicated by dispatches from the West. They stated that a leading California company had completed arrangement for the shipment of a considerable amount of gasoline to this market. The company mentioned already has opened up a few stations around the East and now is reported making arrangements for sale at wholesale to independent retail distributors as well as such large users as trasportation and shipping companies. Gasoline can be bought on the coast at near 5 cents a gallon so that if serious attempt were made to break the market here by such organization it would cause considerable disturbance for awhile at least. It is estimated by oil interests that more than one-third of all the gasoline now stored through the country is held on the west coast.

Further group work in the utilities influenced continued merger talk although no definite development along such lines is looked for until definite indication is received there will be no governmental interference. The old pool was reported at work in Standard Gas. Westinghouse management was reported planning special distribution to stockholders as a result of sustained earnings. At current rate of income, it was maintained, there was good chance that the $10 a share earnings of 1929 would be duplicated or exceeded this year. Split up of the stock with resulting higher payment to stockholders is expected eventually.

Some of those who are believed to be close to the Gillette insiders claimed that professionals in the South were selling "into a bag." General American tank group work was accompanied by rumor that net in the first quarter would run close to $4 a share. It was stated, however, that subsequent quarters might not make quite as good a showing. Underwood-Elliott Fisher operations were said to be running at a rate that indicated increase in earnings this year over the $10 a share of 1929. American Radiator and Celotex again benefited for awhile from brokerage voicing expectation of material increase in building activity during the spring months.

Increase in loans of $48,000,000 was about as expected. Interesting feature in the loan report was the increase of $62,000,000 in loans out of town banks. This made up the decline in loans of local banks and loans "for others" so that it would seem that low money rates of themselves do not keep out of town funds away from our market. Very little change was shown in the statements of the local bank and of the system for further drop in bills discounted, other than secured by governmental obligations, to the lowest figure in over two years. Despite the comparatively low rates for call money and the indications that the charge will remain low for some time there has been comparatively little shifting to time funds. Such loans now total only $382,000,000.

Cotton benefited from covering influenced by expectation that consumption report tomorrow may prove more bullish than has been expected. Wheat and other grains remained under pressure, however. Sterling eased off in an otherwise firm foreign exchange market in which principal currencies gained fracticionally except the peseta which registered new low for the move.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Feb. 13. (AP)—Light offerings have caused sharp advances in grain sorghums, milo today showing a gain of 7c and kaffir 5c. Red oats were lower. Exporters were still out of the market for wheat, and mills reduced their bids 1½c. Fair demand was reported for cane seed with rather high prices prevailing.

Bids and offers, basis carloads delivered, freight paid to Texas common points:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling, $1.24½@1.25; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein, $1.25½@1.26; 14 per cent $1.29½@1.30.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, 98½@99c; No. 2 white or yellow, $1.01@1.01½.

Oats—No. 2 red oats, 59@60c; No. 3 white, delivered Texas group No. 1 points 56@56½c.

Barley—No. 2 barley, nominal, 71@71½c; no sales.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds, $1.65@1.75; No. 2 kaffir, $1.45@1.50.

Cane Seed—Bulk country run red top, per 100 pounds, according to type and germination, $3.05@3.15.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 13. (AP)—Dwindling of buying when prices advanced left the wheat market here lower today at the finish, despite material transient upturns. Much of the stimulus for today's temporary advances in wheat values came from a statement attributed to C. E. Huff, chairman of the board of managers of the Farmers National Grain corporation, that the federal farm board's loan basis is the minimum price at which wheat should sell.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ⅛c to ⅝c lower than Tuesday's finish. Corn closed ⅛c to 1⅛c down, oats ⅛c to ⅛@⅝c off and provisions varying from 2c setback to a rise of 5c.

Today's export business in North American wheat totaled today 300,000 bushels, chiefly Canadian.

Corn was bearishly affected by advices that Argentine corn acreage is 20 per cent larger than a year ago, suggesting a possible Argentine corn surplus of 315,000,000 bushels. Oats sympathized with corn weakness, and was also responsive to indications of a large increase of oats acreage in Texas.

Hog values at the season's top level tended to hoist the provision market notwithstanding the downward trend of corn.

Hip Flask Carriers in New York To Feel Dry Czar's Wrath, He Says

By SAM LOVE
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Dumfounded and skeptical, New York received word from Prohibition Administrator Maurice Campbell today henceforth it would be considered sufficient grounds for arrest to be seen taking a drink of one's own liquor.

Almost a collective "Oh, yeh?" greeted the newest pronunciamento, in the three-day-old drive to make Manhattan aware of the Volstead act.

But Campbell, whose federal agents have raided two mid-town hotels and a famous restaurant on successive nights, grimly announced a new system of espionage designed to drive New York's open-handed drinking under cover.

Opposes Display

"I have the authority," he said, "conferred upon me by a decision of the supreme court, to arrest people who violate the law by drinking liquor in public places whether they buy it there or not. I am going to put a stop to the display and consumption of liquor in restaurants, night clubs and other public places in New York City."

Campbell added he was "even authorized to arrest individuals possessing liquor in flasks," which was a part of the statement received by the more provincial New Yorkers with a skepticism founded upon 10 years of carrying liquor in flasks without the slightest idea that carrying liquor in flasks had anything to do with prohibition in New York.

Sleuths Instructed

Federal sleuths, the administrator explained, are to be sent to restaurants and "public places" with instructions t make arrests of drinkers. If the drinker dilutes his own beverage with mineral water or ginger ale supplied by the management, the service is to be construed as a violation of the Volstead act calling for padlock proceedings.

Campbell's plan to personalize the Volstead act in New York and attempt an enforcement similar to that in practice elsewhere in the United States is conceded to be the most daring gesture yet made by a prohibition administrator. Heretofore most New Yorkers have considered prohibition something for bootleggers and night club proprietors to worry about, and hardly the affair of private citizens whose only desire was occasionally to take a drink of something alcoholic.

Newspapers gave the Campbell flask-toter edict large headlines. The consensus of available printed opinion was the prohibition administrator was bound to make himself unpopular.

To Make It Worse, Victim Can't Get Idea Copyrighted

HOWARD, Kan., Feb. 13. (AP)—Rube Goldberg might find a plot in this, but it isn't funny to Fred C. Barackman, prominent farmer who lives west of Howard.

Barackman was repairing a door (A) in his home and standing on a chair (B), the handle of his hammer (C) with which he was pounding a nail (E) broke, and (C) in falling struck the shotgun (F) causing it to discharge pellets (G's) into a spot in the ceiling designated (X). (X) was just above Barackman's head.

Standing on (B) Barackman reached over and picked up (F) to ascertain whether it was damaged. Inserting a shell, Barackman fell off (B) overbalanced, and (F) discharged (G's) again, this time striking Barackman in the stomach.

He was taken to a Wichita hospital where surgeons removed nearly 200 (G's). Barackman is expected to recover.

ROTARY HEARS Y. W. LEADER

Mrs. John Hanna Speaks at Club Luncheon

Work of the Y. W. C. A. in America is based upon the proposition that a girl who knows what it means to be a good citizen, a good wife and mother, or a good business woman will not need reformation, according to an address given by Mrs. John Hanna of Dallas, national president of the organization, before members of the Rotary club at the Kemp hotel Thursday noon.

Stressing the great but unmeasured value of prevention as compared with cures in any field, Mrs. Hanna declared that the services of the Y. W. C. A. cannot be tabulated because it is so entirely devoted to preventing conditions which would in turn call for curative measures.

"To work with youth, to keep in touch constantly with woman's constantly changing status, and to try by practice rather than precept to instill religion in the lives of young women are the greatest objectives of our organization," said the speaker.

Mrs. T. A. Hicks president of the local Y. W. C. A., and Miss Ila Catherine Walker, executive secretary, were present with Mrs. Hanna as guests of the Rotary club. They were introduced by Dr. O. T. Kinebrough, president.

Vocal solos were given by Miss Kate Early Parker, accompanied by Miss Marie Albritton.

U. T. Exes Nominate Two Wichita Men

Two Wichita Falls and one Vernon man have been nominated for executive offices in the University of Texas Ex-Students' association, the election to be held on March 2 at the banquets held by various chapters, according to Associated Press reports from Austin Thursday.

Charles I. Francis of this city has been nominated for the office of first vice president and Julian Montgomery, also of this city, for membership on the executive council. Ed L. Gossett of Vernon has been nominated for the post of second vice president. Four nominees will comprise the ticket on which Mr. Francis is listed, while Mr. Gossett is one of three candidates for the place as second vice president.

Police Hold Negroes On Theft Charges Here

A watch stolen from E. S. Cameron, 920 Ohio avenue, was recovered and a negro man arrested Thursday afternoon by City Detective Luke Hart following the tracing of clues developed by police after the theft. The negro was placed in the city jail pending further investigation.

Police Thursday were attempting to locate the owner of four pairs of new shoes believed to have been stolen at some town between Childress and this city within the last few days. A negro man was arrested by City Detectives Luke Hart and Pat Allen on another charge and found in possession of the shoes.

Traffic Signal Area Completed on Brook

The last automatic traffic light in the Brook avenue signal area was completed early Thursday afternoon and placed in operation at the Tenth street crossing. City motorcycle police officers were stationed at the intersection to insure observance of the new signal.

This signal, the only one of its kind in the city, rests atop a pedestal which places the changing lights in the direct view of motorists. Lack of facilities for suspending the light in the usual manner forced city officials to adopt the pedestal plan.

Admirers of plays by Sir James Barrie, or other similar stories in which characterizations appear consistently to be the chiefest objective, will be interested and compensated by the picture "Seven Days' Leave," now showing at the Majestic. This production differs as widely from the usual run of talking-pictures as the violet does from Johnson grass. (Mr. Winchell, not being a native of Texas, will probably miss that inverted simile.)

◇ ◇ ◇

Taking its setting from the London of 1916, with every woman feeding her harried soul with labored pride in having sent her man—son, husband, lover or brother—to the fields of France, the story pictures the reaction of a thoroughly patriotic charwoman who had no man of any age to contribute. Her adoption and complete transformation of a "son," comprising a tragic drama of amazing content, afforded Beryl Mercer and Gary Cooper opportunities for character creation seldom portrayed on stage or screen.

◇ ◇ ◇

Scenes in basement quarters, and in the dram-shops, of Friday street, London, comprise a surprising realism behind the excellent acting of Miss Mercer as Mrs. Dowey. The performance is not without humor. "Kenny's" six-two stature escorting the diminutive little foster-mother from out the slums for a night of "whoopee" offers much lightening effect. Old Mrs. Hagerty of the fish-shop also projects an occasional rainbow through the foam above her stein. All other characters, however, scrub women and the rangy Gary alike, merely assist Beryl Mercer in painting a masterpiece in subdued shades.

Flournoy Asks New Trial of Damage Suit

Attorneys for A. M. Flournoy, denied damages in a slander suit against J. L. Story tried here last week, Thursday morning filed a formal motion for a new trial. The jury trying the case decided that the plaintiff had received no actual damages but was entitled to $600 exemplary damages. Judge W. W. Cook, in entering judgment, ruled that the exemplary damages could not be awarded under the other finding. Counsel for Mr. Flournoy will contend that the court should have explained the law to the jury in his charge.

Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would help her because I used to take it myself at her age. Now she does not have to stay home from school and her color is good, she eats well and does not complain of being tired. We are recommending the Vegetable Compound to other school girls who need it.
