

PEOPLE IN NO SHAPE FOR FURTHER TAXATION

All Taxing Bodies Should Use Care to Keep From Burdening People at This Time. Taxation to Enter Political Campaign As Usual. Terry's Expectations Great.

The reason so many people of this and other sections of this state are supporting Mrs. Ferguson is for the simple reason that they believe they will come nearer getting a tax reduction or at least a halt in increasing taxes through the Ferguson administration. Take the vote of the recent state election and combine the vote of Sterling and Love, who stood for the big road bond issue, and the votes of the other leading candidates, all of which opposed it, and you can readily see that something like 80 percent of the people of Texas are afraid of any candidate who advocates heavy bonding of the state, and they are looking to any source where relief is considered.

A local official informed us this week that he read where some farmers east of here appeared before their commissioners court recently and asked for help. That is was a case of bread with them, and the Herald should not wonder if taxes keep advancing like they have in the past 15 years that there will be a bread line of farmers just the same as there are bread lines in the big cities among the common laborers. The Herald does not wish to appear alarming, but the way we are drifting, the time is coming when people will absolutely be unable to pay their taxes. Their home will therefore have to be taken from them, and it looks as if we will then have a state owned State. Just because Mr. Sterling and a few others have been fortunate in finding wealth off the natural resources of our state, and it is an easy matter for them to pay their taxes, is no reason at all why it is easy for the average householder of the state to pay their taxes.

Therefore it behooves the State Equalization Board, Commissioners Courts, School Districts and City official to go slow about raising taxes at the present time at least. It was for this reason that the people of Terry county did not argue the matter of a home demonstrator with the commissioners court just at this time. We can make out for awhile without one, but for the present the limit of the tax paying ability of our citizenship has about been reached. If it is at all possible, taxes should be lowered instead of boosted at this time.

We have seen prices of food and manufactured articles as well as cotton and corn and wheat go higher since the World War started than they have ever been before, and some of us had about reached the conclusion that these prices had come to remain. But we are having at this time an awakening. They are dropping, especially the price of agricultural products—they always go first—but manufactured products and foods will follow in due time as the inability of the people to pay is noted. All things must come to a level, and the sooner we reach that stage the better for all concerned, and the sooner prosperity will return to the land. We as a people have elevated our plane of living expenses in conformity to high prices. We have enjoyed luxuries perhaps that our fathers and grandfathers never dreamed of. But the time has come that we must live within our means, and this means the town people as well as the farm people.

We would not have the reader understand for a moment that we must stop buying, for that will throw someone who makes the manufactured articles out of employment, and he in turn must buy what you produce. But there is a vast difference in necessities and luxuries. There are some things generally termed luxuries a few years ago that seem to be necessities now, but we must figure to drop what we can just as well do without in order that we may be able to pay for things we and families must have. If we will just use a little discretion, all of us can keep going, pay our accounts promptly, and this in turn will help the other man pay his accounts. And just because you can't pay all is no reason for not paying anything, for a partial payment from you may put the fellow you pay in position to pay all he owes. It is not reasonable to contract any more debts that you are satisfied that you can easily reach promptly when due. Stay out of debt as much as possible.

As an off set to any pinchy times we may anticipate, we have in Terry county the prospects of one of the best crops we have produced in years. But for the extremely hot weather that seems to preclude the whole of the United States from the Rockies on the west to the Appalachians on the east, which carries with it the driest weather on record. But we still have considerable moist, according to our farmers. They tell us that four inches under the earth surface in the field, they can ball the soil together, and that means that crops will grow some until the weather gets some cooler, which is due now any time. Also, we most always get a generous portion of rain in this month. It seldom fails. But people who have been here for years tell us that we will make as good cotton crop or better than last year without another drop or rain. But the feed crop is due to be light without more rain. Yet an inch rain at this time and cooler weather would assure our usual big corn crop and abundance of other feeds. So, what have we to worry about? Our farmers, as a general thing are not badly in debt aside from their lands. Some owe nothing at the stores, but have kept the family in groceries with chickens, eggs and cream, or perhaps the sale of yearlings and hogs. Some owe the banks a little, but these accounts have been kept to the minimum by the bankers themselves.

Some of our farmers as well as our business men see a great possibility for aid in the Farm Relief Laws, and some do not. The same can be said about rural routes, the Federal Reserve act and the Federal Land Bank act, were in a way or crude and imperfect, but as time went on they became more perfect in operation, and thousands of people now consider them as great things for the country. Nothing is ever said against either of them. We know that all other institutions and associations are well organized and have millions of dollars behind them. Then why not the farmers follow suit. But this is the only time they have ever attempted organization when they really had any money behind them. This time they have the resources of a powerful and rich nation. Organizers, however, tell us that they are finding it harder to get members in the TCCA who have belonged to any of the old associations than outright new prospects. They have been stung, they think, and do not wish to be stung again. Also, in view of the fact that many business men are taking an active part in the organization of the Co-Ops, farmers generally want to know who is to have control. The answer has always been a quick—the farmers themselves.

The Herald admits that it has not made sufficient study of the methods of the organization to give either advice or information, as the organization cannot directly help us. But we do advise the farmers of Terry county to go out to your community centers and find out first hand just what the organization proposes to do and act accordingly. But do not take hearsays from those like us, not posted in the matter.

Terry is alright as usual. Forget hard times and boost for this section and let's bring some more good farmers to Terry. Let's quit digging graves and hanging crepe.

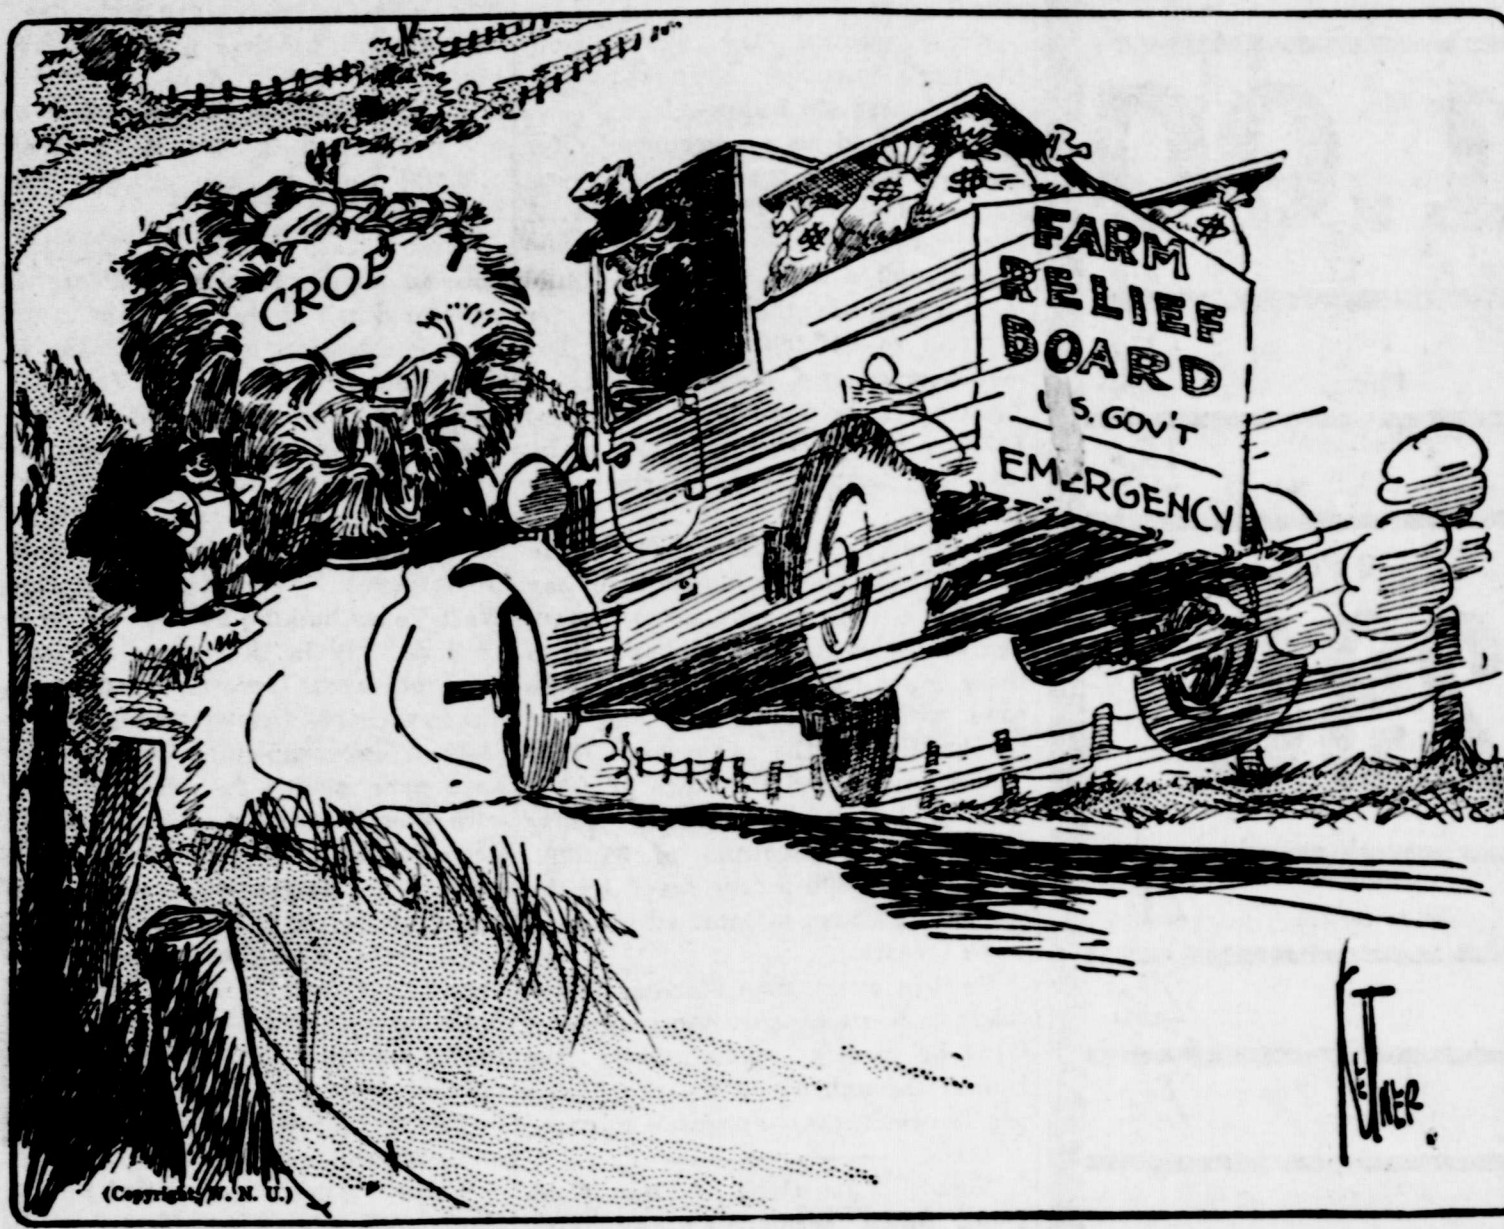

Ice Cream Factory To Start Here Saturday

Newsom Bros., a firm composed of Newt and Jack, arrived here this week with their machinery from Paducah, Texas, and are busy cleaning up and putting in sanitary condition the old American Cafe building, in which will be located their ice cream factory and sandwich shop. They are old friends of Mr. Stevenson, of the Brownfield Broadcasting Co.

These gentlemen informed the Herald that they were rushing with all speed to try to get ready to open Saturday, but were finding it very hard to clean out the place and to get an electrician to do their wiring. As they were very busy, a representative of the Herald only talked with them for a few minutes. But if we understood them right, they will not only serve their made in Brownfield ice cream, but sandwiches as well in the front end of the building. It is also our understanding that they will purchase milk for their cream locally as well as powered milk in making this cream, and that they will sell other confectionery dealers in this city. The Herald joins the other business men of the city in welcoming this new enterprise to our fine little city.

A shiftless man, in a way, defies life.

A Hurry Call

Meeting at Tabernacle Drawing Good Crowds

Elder J. K. Bentley has been giving some good lessons at the meeting now in progress under the city tabernacle, which is under the auspices of the Church of Christ. Bro. Bentley is an interesting talker, and a great teacher of the Bible, and is receiving good attention from the audiences. Attendance has been increasing from night to night, as also is the day services.

At night he has a class of children who are learning the rudiments of the Bible, and which is not only interesting to them, but to their elders as well, especially in learning about the division of the Bible, what is taught in each section, and to whom it is addressed.

Some very prominent subjects have been given out through the rest of the week which will be discussed, and compared with the Bible teaching on that subject. You are cordially invited to attend any or all of these services. A welcome awaits you.

Brownies Take Down The League Champs

A victory for the locals was in the air Tuesday afternoon. In fact no great effort had been made to win from Levelland Sunday in order to save all the energy of the team for a win off the league leaders here Tuesday afternoon. Even if the Brownies have been in the cellar most of the season, they were the second team in the league to get Lamesa's goat; to rope in the Southlanders, and to hog tie Tahoka. So the stores were closed here Tuesday afternoon, and the entire town turned out in mass to see the locals trim Tahoka. It was a great game, the visitors agreeing that it was the best game they have had this season. But it was early seen that the locals had it over the visitors, and at the windup, the score stood 5 to 2 in favor of Brownfield.

Santa Fe station agent, Bob Harris and family, left last week for Fort Worth, where they will spend vacation visiting his parents and other relatives.

Miss Irene Bolton left Saturday after a two week visit to her mother, Mrs. Will Beauchamp.

A Romantic Pair In the New Talkie

Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell Shine in "High Society Blues," Fox Movietone.

The audible screen's greatest pair of sweethearts, Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, are again co-starred in "High Society Blues," Fox Movietone musical romance, coming Sunday to the Rialto Theatre. "High Society Blues" is adapted from a short story by Dana Burnett, which recently appeared in the Saturday Evening Post and details the troubles of a wholesale grocer from a small Iowa town, who sells his business to a chain-store corporation for several millions and then tries to cash the exclusive social set of Westchester county, New York.

Miss Gaynor is the daughter of the socially prominent and wealthy family which controls the chain-store system, while Farrell is the son of the Iowa grocer, addicted to the ukelele. The Iowans buy an estate right across the road from Janet's family and try to be neighborly, but Janet's mother, who has arranged an engagement between her daughter and a foreign count, snubs the outlanders.

TERRY MELONS, BEANS AND ROASTING EARS ARE IN

Get a Big Fill of the Many Good Things That Old Terry is Now Offering You From Her Fields and Gardens and Forget Hard Times. Good Food Makes One Happy.

"Happy Days are Here Again!" The old and famous Terry county melons are on the market again, and so we are rejoicing and expect to gain a few more pounds by fall. Man you ought to be here and help enjoy the real good things of life. Of course we are missing the good old plums, peaches, grapes and apples which are usually abundant at this time of year, but what fruit that was not winter killed by the greatest freeze in our history, was finished by another farewell tour of Jack Frost, which was totally unexpected.

But those old pot beans, the kind that snap nicely and have that rich aromatic flavor that is in none of the beans that are shipped in. Then, there is the pears, most of which are now too old to snap, and can be shelled out. When cooked with a big hunk of fat bacon, with a few streaks through it, they have just the flavor you want, and they in turn impart their flavor to the bacon. Combined with a glass of buttermilk or iced tea; some brown corn bread and a sprinkle of salt and pepper, and you have some food. And now it won't be but a week or two until we can add to this combination some good old Terry county tomatoes that have been allowed to ripen on the vine. Folks, this makes you forget the hot weather. A tomato is not worth a tinkers dam if pulled green and allowed to kinder turn a sickly yellow in some cold storage. At best it has a stinky taste and you have to have the imagination of a Christian Scientist to realize you are eating tomatoes.

Boy, Howdy! Those old water-melon for which the good old sandy lands of Terry county are so justly famous are here at last. A few were put on market last Saturday by A. H. Herring, or at least they were the first we have seen, and they were truly delicious. In another week or two there will be lots of them, and we can have a good melon most any time we want one.

In the summer when the weather is hot, we wish that we were back to the middle of December with a little snow on the ground, and when December comes we pine for June. Humans are made up that way. But when the good days come when we can be supplied with all the good home grown vegetables we like, even if it is hot, we rejoice anyway. For, like the dog, we are content when full. But speaking of summer, we are all freer from disease than in winter for the reason that we are forced to sleep in the open and get plenty of fresh air. On the other hand, when winter comes, we are inclined to not only shut out the fresh air, but the sunshine as well, and we contract colds, and colds weaken us for whatever other diseases may be making the rounds. In the summer, our diets are generally better balanced with fruits and vegetables which tend to make us healthier despite the heat.

Old Terry has its welcome sign out for about 1500 other progressive farm families. Won't you be one of them? Won't you come to the easiest place in the States to make a living? We don't mention other than farm families, for we know that if we can get 1500 more farm families, the other people will come, you can bet your sox.

MAD DOG NOTICE.

Report from Austin proves that a dog in Brownfield last Friday night had hydrophobia and bit several dogs in Brownfield.

It is therefore necessary that those owing dogs in Brownfield either muzzle or securely tie up such dogs, as all dogs running at large within the city limits of Brownfield will be killed as a precautionary measure.

By order of City Council.
Roy Herod, City Secretary.

Hottest Year in the History of the States

We have always heard that one extreme follows another, but had paid slight attention to the old saying. But last winter was the first year that most of the fruit in this section, as well as burmuda grass was killed. It is reported that people in Arkansas and other fruit states lost lots of trees from the extreme cold temperature, as well as a lot of forrest trees. In the lower valley of the Rio Grande, the citrus fruit growers suffered great losses for the first time in 25 years, and many predicted a very hot summer following, and hit the nail on the head.

Here in Terry county and adjacent counties of the south Plains section, we have always prided ourselves in the cool, pleasant nights, when cool breezes wafted across the expanse soothed us to dreamland. But there has been nights of late when it was hard to get any rest before toward midnight, and a few nights we have been awakened with little or no breeze blowing and our pillows wet with perspiration. Of course this is partially accounted for by the fact that a drouth of scorching intensity has hung over the land of the entire Mississippi valley. The U. S. Weather Bureau reports that it is the most severe in fifty years, and have about reached the conclusion that it is the worst in the history of the nation. A few more days of it, they say, will cut the crop as much or more than the government asked the farmers to do which was asked by the farmers.

Reports earlier in the summer from the Pacific coast section reported the hottest weather, with the highest temperatures on record. Even Will Rogers admitted that it was hot in Oklahoma, New York and the rest of the Atlantic coast has suffered much more from heat. The entire country, which com-

John E. Davis of Mesquite, widely known Texas editor and legislator, now a candidate for state treasurer, who has published the newspaper in his home town for the past thirty-one years, enjoys the distinction of having been elected to the legislature more times than any other person in Texas history. He has represented Dallas county for the past eighteen years, being nominated for his ninth term by a majority of 14,186 over two opponents, which attests his character and standing among those who know him best. He has been chairman of the contingent expense fund of the house for ten years and is often referred to as the "watch-dog of the contingent expense fund," because of his careful handling of the expense bills of the house. Born fifty-five years ago, Mr. Davis has spent the greater part of his life in Dallas County, where he has been an active capacities without pay, including that of mayor of his town for four terms.

pries the major portion of the United States has been stewing with unheard of heat for the past month, that reaches from the gulf to the great lakes. If you think we of this section has been the only dry, hot spot in this nation, you are sadly out of it. In fact, if we are to believe what travelers say, what our friends and loved ones have been writing us, we have had just about the coolest spot here in the nation. To add to the intensity of the heat in Texas, we have and are having some very warm political campaigns. But as we write this, the heat wave seems to have been broken for a few days at least, for it showered some Tuesday, a little more early Wednesday morning. Indeed the weather looks favorable for a real rain, and the thermometer has taken a decided tumble. A blanket felt good Tuesday night when we first retired, and real good before daylight.

CHAINED STORES

W. O. Saunders, North Carolina editor, writing in "The Nation's Business" says this about the retail situation in his town:

It isn't the chain stores so much as the chained stores.

A chained store, says Mr. Saunders, is an independent store chained to old-fashioned notions and obsolete methods of doing business. What his town needs more than anything else, he contends, is more live wire, enterprising merchants and fewer unimaginative shopkeepers. He suggests that this is the need of other towns as well.

Merchandising today, asserts Mr. Saunders, is not a matter of buying something at one price and selling it at a higher price. Before the days of good roads, automobiles and chain stores, storekeepers could do that. The public was at the mercy of the store-keeper; it had to buy what it could get.

But now its wants have been educated and intensified, and buying opportunities have been infinitely enlarged.

There are more than 200 stores in my town, writes Mr. Saunders. "A large per cent of them have no qualifications for business except a medium ability to use a pair of scales and yardstick and to make change.

SMOKI INDIAN DANCE

More than 5,000 persons gathered at Prescott recently to witness the dances and ceremonials of Hopi, Zuni, Pueblo and Navajo Indians, banded together under the tribe name of Smoki, in which were depicted for them the picturesque and spectacular manner of the Smoki's prayer to the great rain god.

The event was the annual ceremonial dances of the Smoki tribesmen, one of the most colorful pageants of the Southwest, concluding with the famous snake dance staged by Indians engaged in some of the more simple lines of agriculture in the belief that it will induce the rain god to send the moisture needed for their crops. The huge crowd stood in awed amazement as the snake priests carried their "little brothers" around in their teeth in tune to the wierd chanting of the tom-tom. Finally the priests took their snakes and with a wild shriek ran to the open desert where the reptiles were released to carry to the rain god the Indians' prayer of intercession.—The Earth.

NEWSPAPER PARASITES.

The press syndicate bunk, operated by space grafters who are paid by politicians, corporations and the like for what they write stirs the indignation of every news paper man who has any pride in his work and for that reason heartily endorses the following from the Stewart-Webster Journal: "The politicians, the railroads, the colleges, construction companies and others who prefer paying their money to the space grafting parasites rather than deal with us directly, may learn sometimes that such publicity not only hurts them but places them in the same class with the space grafting parasites, that is—a class which wants the cream of the pot without paying for it. We are out and open for all good news that may interest our readers, even though it be about a politician, a railroad, or college or a construction company—but please deliver to us by some other source than by the way of newspaper parasites, the space grafters."—Donley County Leader.

COUNTY TAX RATE RAISED SIX CENTS

Lynn county's tax rate for this year will be 80c, a raise of six cents over last year's rate of 74c, as a result of action taken by the commissioners court in session Monday.

The raise was made necessary because of the non-payment of delinquent taxes this year and because of the creation of the separate offices of tax collector and district clerk, according to County Judge G. C. Grider.—Tahoka News.

STERLING ARGUMENT KICKS BACK

Sterling's attempts to delude the people as to road building cost and maintenance are shown up in all their weakness and fallacy by Mefo in discussing a recent authorized interview given out by Sterling. Sterling says:

"The average cost of maintenance and betterment on highways for all types other than concrete and brick is from $650 to $700 per mile; the average cost for maintenance concrete roads is from $275 to $300 per mile."

After quoting the above from Sterling's interview Mefo shows up its weakness as follows:

That's used as an argument for building all our roads of concrete, but it serves for just the reverse. A concrete highway costs from $30,000 to $35,000 a mile. You can build good roads of other material for $12,000 to $15,000 a mile. The maintenance cost is only $350 to $400 per mile more. That saving of $15,000 in construction would maintain the cheaper type of road for 40 years.

It would do more than that. Instead of making a county like Walker pay $10,000 a mile to help build a state highway, the state could have given those good folks a $15,000-a-mile road without putting one cent of the burden on the taxpayers. That would have saved the state $5000 a mile, and saved the Walker county citizens an expenditure of $1,000,000. That $5000 a mile saved by the state would have maintained the road for 14 years.

So it is, every time Sterling undertakes to boost his gigantic road bond issue he merely opens wider the breach through which the people can see its weakness.—Ferguson Forum.

DEGRADING AND IMPRACTICAL

The recent desperate effort of Colorado prisoners to gain liberty by mutiny and the cold-blooded massacre of captured guards, following in the wake of a number of serious outbreaks in other penal institutions is evidence that mistakes are being made in the incarceration of convicts.

The citizens of Brownfield, as a rule, know very little about the penal institutions of the nation. It is interesting to report, however, that Charles Brandon Booth, head of the "Big Brother Movement," which aims to rehabilitate ex-convicts, declares that conditions in some State and Federal penitentiaries are the most degrading and impractical of any prisons in the world.

Referring to Leavenworth, a Federal prison where an uprising recently occurred, he declares that 3,000 men are confined in buildings planned to accommodate 1,800 men and that the officials are obliged "to feed those 3,000 men on an appropriation made for 1,800 men." Referring to a State penitentiary, he says: "I can show you a cell block where over 600 men are incarcerated and where the warden, in putting in each new man, knows that he is dooming that man to consumption."

Such a statement should awaken the public to the necessity of making adequate provision for our prisoners. While the Herald does not believe in "coddling" prisoners and sometimes thinks that the process has already gone much too far in some instances, it does not condone inhumanity, whether applied to convicts or animals.

WEST TEXAS COMES OF AGE.

Although it failed by some thousands of ballots to make a winner of its candidate in the Governor's race, West Texas can look back upon the record of last Saturday's voting with a great deal of satisfaction. By demonstrating that West Texans can think along with one another and back up their thinking with the ballots, the political status of West Texas is vastly improved. Politicians, officeholders and the State Government will be compelled to cease to regard as a political orphan a section which can weld itself into a solid political unit whenever the occasion arises. A region which can concentrate on one candidate or one issue and record better than 100,000 votes in the process can not be ignored.

West Texas, we believe, was fortunate in having such a candidate as Senator Small at this particular time. A demonstration by West Texas of its solidarity was needed. This section of the State, which has monopolized the population growth of the State during the past 10 years, has not been getting its due at Austin. No matter what activity of the State Government is considered, we find West Texas bulking as large as other sections only in the matter of payment of taxes. Government appointments have been divided among other sections; governmental expenditures have gone mainly to other sections, with West Texas figuring only as an afterthought in the minds of those who made these appointments and direct these expenditures.

That the situation already has begun to change, as the result of Saturday's voting, is demonstrated by the sudden interest which the candidates remaining in the field are displaying in West Texas' opinions and desires.

There's a new chair pulled up to the council table where Texas' political affairs are being discussed, and the older members are observing with surprise that newcomer looks, talks and acts like an adult. West Texas has come of age politically and the State is the better for it.—Star Telegram.

Two farmers were up last week from Odessa hunting dairy cows in this section. Terry is becoming noted as a place where good cattle and hogs are bred.

Cardwell, Perla Cardwell, a minor, Albert Dunaway and Frank Dunaway are Defendants, and said petition alleging that on or about the 7th day of April, A. TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY IMPROVING LINE

The Texas Utilities Company have a crew of workmen at work rebuilding their line between Seagraves and Seminole. A third wire is being added to this line, making it three phase, which will, when completed, give the patrons of this company a better service.

During the next few days the current over this line will be off between 1 and 5:30 o'clock each afternoon. This is necessary as a precaution for the benefit of the men working on the line, as they must handle these wires and are too dangerous with the current on.—Seminole Sentinel.

TO FRIENDS AND VOTERS, OF TERRY COUNTY

This will, as best I can, by words, express my deep, sincere and keen appreciation for your encouragement for your efforts and for your vote in my behalf in the recent primary. And since it has been charged that I have been in the county less than two years, which has not been denied by me, I feel in all probability, we made a good showing, I did my best.

Without defeat, without malice and with a clear conscience, I am voluntarily withdrawing from the County Judge's race for the present and assure you that my services now as well as the future is at your command.

It is possible that I cannot immediately reciprocate for all the good deeds in my behalf, but let me again assure you from the very depth of my heart of a keen desire to show my appreciation at the first opportunity.

Your friend,

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other disease." But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute to New Konjola

Now Giving This New And Different Medicine To Her Children—Read Her Statement.

MRS. J. D. RHYNE

There is a reason why Konjola is America's best known medicine, and that reason can be summed up in three words—Konjola makes good, even when all else tried has failed. Consider, as a typical example of Konjola's 32 ingredients at work, the case of Mrs. J. D. Rhyne, 616 East Eleventh street, Amarillo, who says:

"I was in a terrible condition for many years, with constipation, nervousness, indigestion and kidney and liver ills. It seemed no use to try medicines and treatments further, for I kept growing worse right along. I lost weight and had headaches and dizzy spells and bilious attacks. Food caused indigestion, and many a night I lay awake until two or three o'clock. But words can not express my surprise over what Konjola did for me. All of my ills have vanished and now I am giving Konjola to my children, and my husband is about to start the treatment."

Konjola is a medicine for all the family; old and young. That is why Konjola is a household word in tens of thousands of American homes. Konjola is sold in Brownfield, Texas at the Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

An Investigation of Texas Vital Statistics

The Federal Government is quietly gathering from the homes in Texas, a report of the births and deaths which have occurred during the past 12 months. The reports made to the Federal Government will be arranged by counties and cities, brought to Texas and checked against the certificates actually filed.

Texas is the only State in the Union with an adequate law for birth and death registration, whose birth and death rates are not authenticated and published, and whose records are not recognized by the U. S. Census Bureau. If, in the investigation now being made by the Census Bureau, it is found that 90 per cent of the births and deaths have been registered, Texas will be admitted to the Registration Area, and her statistics recognized, as is the case in 46 other States in the Union.

Although South Dakota has no adequate law, and her records up to this time have not been recognized, a test has been made in that State, and it is believed that South Dakota will be shown to have reached the necessary standard.

A report of a birth or death made to the Federal Government is not a legal registration, but a simple notification, so that the legally filed records may be checked. Any birth, to be legally registered, must have the signature of the medical attendant on the record, must be filed with the Local Registrar and sent to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics at Austin, Texas.

The law places the responsibility for registering births on the medical attendant, who is liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00, if he has not filed a record at the time of the birth. Any person who wishes to bury a dead body, violates the law if the body is buried before a public record of the death is made, but as the system is new in Texas, and is not yet thoroughly understood, any birth or death which has not been previously filed, should be registered immediately, if it is the desire of those concerned that such record be counted in the test being made by the Federal Government, which test will begin about August 1st.

Anyone desiring to file a record of an unregistered birth or death, should remember that the law makes it the duty of the Justice of the Peace in the Justice Precinct, and the City Clerk in the city of 2,500 or more, to act as Registrar of Births and Deaths. In those precincts or cities where the Justice of the Peace or City Clerk has filed or refused to act, the county or city authorities have suggested some individual to act in his place, and a list of these individuals may be secured, either from the city or county authorities or from the State Bureau of Vital Statistics.

TEXAS POULTRYMEN NEED PROTECTION

In just a few months poultry thieves will be busy in Texas. Last season farmers and poultry men lost many thousands of dollars in stolen birds. We may expect the same losses another season, for the state of Texas has not found the time or had the inclination to make this form of theft more difficult.

The State of Oklahoma has a law which requires the purchaser of poultry to keep a record of whom he makes purchases, a record of the marks or other form of identification, the number of the car which delivered the fowls, date of purchase and the address of the seller. These records and open for inspection at all times.

Under this law, it makes it more difficult for thieves to dispose of their dishonestly gotten fowls. It is just as easy to steal the birds as before, but it is dangerous to sell them, therefore there is less temptation. Texas should have a similar law. The poultry industry is important enough to have every reasonable protection.—Farm and Ranch.

PATRICK HENRY'S SISTER BURIED IN KENTUCKY

Bowling Green, Ky.—Every school child has studied the life of the early American patriot, Patrick Henry, but few know that his sister, Susannah Henry, wife of Gen. Thomas Madison, lived in Kentucky and is buried in the Cowles family lot in the Smith Grove cemetery, off the Dixie Highway in Warren County, near Bowling Green. The family in whose plot her remains are buried are descendants of Mrs. Madison.

Susannah Henry was originally buried near the farm on which she lived, and for many years her grave was neglected, not even having a headstone to mark it. Nearly a hundred years after her death, in 1916, through the efforts of Eugene Cowles, of Shelbyville, and his brother, John H. Cowles, the remains of the sister of the noted patriot were moved to their present resting place and a suitable stone erected over the grave. The stone bears the inscription: "Susannah Henry, wife of Gen. Thomas Madison and Sister of Patrick Henry the Patriot. Died—1831.

The Population of the South Plains Grows

The population of District No. 7 for 1930 totaled 169,225, an increase of 113,585 over the total of 55,650 for 1920 or an increase of 204 per cent. Dr. I. E. Barr, supervisor has announced.

The percentage of increase in this South Plains section of Texas is thought to be greater than any other district in the United States. A number of South Plains counties just north of district No. 7, in district No. 2, under the supervision of O. M. Unger at Plainview, likewise have substantial increases.

Terry in Third Place
While Lubbock county has the largest numerical increase, Hockley county, just west of Lubbock takes first place in percentage of increase with a gain of 6,686 per cent, growing from 137 in 1920 to 9,297 or an increase of 9,160. Cochran county just west of Hockley, ranks second in percentages with an increase of 2,803 per cent (two thousand, eight hundred and three), growing from 67 to 1,963, Terry 302 percent.

The figures from each county in district No. 7 follow:

GUARDIAN'S NOTICE TO LEASE LAND

Notice is hereby given that I, Nealie Forrester Guardian of the estate of A. L. Rogers and Helen L. Rogers minors, have filed my application in Terry county Probate Court, for an order of the County Judge of said County authorizing me as such Guardian, to make a mineral lease upon such terms as the Court may order and direct, of the following described real estate belonging to the estate of said wards:

An oil and gas lease on their interest and part, being about 18 or 19 acres of the Nealie Rogers Forrester 60 acre tract out of the I. P. Reinhardt 1-3 League survey in Anderson County Texas.

Said application will be heard by the County Judge at his office in the Court house, in Brownfield, Texas on the 16th day of August 1930.

AND WE ARE FOR MA!

Yep! Ma is going to be in the run off for the governor against Ross Sterling and we are for Ma.

We have several good reasons for being for Ma. First Ma is said to be a splendid cook, and any cook should make a good governor for Texas. We are for Ma Secondly, Because when we get Ma we get pa free and any time we can get anything FREE that's us, we are after the free things, because they are cheap.

Thirdly—We have tried Ma before and we know just what she will do. If we should happen to pull a boner and get in bad with the law, Ma will pardon us, provided we pay her a big fee for recommending us for a pardon.

4th—We are for Ma because pa only made a million out of the office while Ma held it before, and Sterling has made more than ten million out of his oil wells and don't need money for if he had more he might add another bath room to his home on the Coast, and that would be awful.—Jayton Chronicle.

THE TEXAS PRIMARY

By their votes last Tuesday the democrats of Texas have placed the choice of candidates between Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Sterling. This will place many of them in a very embarrassing position. They will be forced to take their choice of three disagreeable solutions of their political problem. They may elect Mrs. Ferguson and accept all that may mean to them; they may elect Sterling and saddle themselves for generations to come with the results of his $350,000,000 bond issue; or they may elect a republican governor.

Some one has said that Texas voters will try anything once. They tried "Ma" Ferguson once and got Jim and his pardons; they tried voting the republican ticket, and got a dose of Hoover prosperity. They may even decide to try Sterling and go into bankruptcy.—Lovington N. M. Leader.

Mrs. Marion Brown, accompanied by Mr. Brown's sister and another young lady from Lubbock, and Mr. Ralph Bynum, of this city, were Seminole visitors, Sunday.

SEAGRAVES CHAMBER COMMERCE TO HELP

Seagraves, Texas, July 29.—Chamber of Commerce officials are preparing to cooperate in helping organize the farmers of the Seagraves district, southwest of Lubbock, into the cotton marketing organization formed by the Federal Farm Board. It is hoped that a meeting can be arranged for Seagraves early in August.

C. M. Armstrong, president of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce and the First National Bank, is confident that virtually all business men of Seagraves will help in the task of organizing cotton growers so they can have some control over the selling end of their business and thereby bring more prosperity to the subjects of King Cotton.

W. H. Steele, local manager of the Santa Fe Land Company, expresses the opinion that the present opportunity of cotton farmers to organize under the supervision of the Federal Farm Board plan could not be made more attractive than it is.

W. J. SIMPSON PASSES

W. J. Simpson, who resides on the Ballard place, passed away about 6:30 Friday afternoon at the Lamesa sanitarium, following a major operation. Roy Collier of the Brownfield Hardware Co., undertaking department went after the body immediately, and prepared it for burial. Following funeral services at the local Baptist church by Rev. J. B. Vinson, the body was laid to rest in the Brownfield cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Deceased was 43 years of age, and leaves a wife and six children to mourn his departure. All his relatives live in Alabama, we understand.

Section 11. In order to enable the Legislature to perform the duties set forth in the foregoing section, it is hereby declared all lands and other property heretofore set apart and appropriated for the establishment and maintenance of the University of Texas, together with all the proceeds of sales of the same, heretofore made or hereafter to be made, and all grants, donations and appropriations that may hereafter be made by the State of Texas, or from any other source, shall constitute and become a permanent university fund. And the same as realized and received into the Treasury of the State (together with such sums belonging to the fund, as may now be in the Treasury,) shall be invested in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties of said State, or in school bonds of municipalities, or in bonds of any city of this State, or in obligations and pledges issued by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, or secured by such obligations and pledges, for the construction of dormitories and other buildings for the use of the University of Texas, or to bonds issued under and by virtue of the Federal Farm Loan Act approved by the President of the United States, July 17, 1916, and amendments thereto; and the interest accruing thereon shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature to accomplish the purpose declared in the foregoing section; provided, that the one-tenth of the alternate portions of the lands granted to the State, reserved by the State, which were set apart and appropriated to the establishment of the University of Texas, by an Act of the Legislature of February 11, 1858, entitled "An Act to establish the University of Texas," shall not Editor W. J. Baldwin, of the Levelland Herald was over last Friday noon, as he wanted to make up his Rotary attendance. After lunch, he visited the Herald office to talk shop for awhile. Mr. Baldwin is quite weak yet from his serious operation of earlier in the year, but is gradually gaining strength.

W. H. Ritzenthaler of the O'Donnell Index has purchased in the interest of his partner, Otis Carter, and has taken charge of that splendid journal. We failed to learn whether or not Otis aims to seek other newspaper connections, or will take up his old trade as linotype operator on some paper.

Well, the campaign for state offices that have runoffs, are warming up again, and if we thought the first primary gave us something that was warm, the second promises to be sizzling hot. We certainly hope the weather will moderate and stay cooler than it has been, for a combination of sizzling politics, and a blistering sun may cause the entire loss of our usual balance.

About the most magnanimous thing we have seen following the late primary was the winning candidates of Lynn county treating their unsuccessful opponents to a midnight feed at one of the Tahoka hotels on the night of the election. If there was any hard feelings engendered during the campaign, we imagine a good feed and the social mixing during the time, eliminated it.

We believe that we mentioned in these columns some weeks ago that Marvin Jones' opponent would be one of the "also rans" in the final wind up, and from returns over the district, our predictions have proven exceptionally correct. Cade ran behind Jones on a basis of about four to one over the district. Mr. Jones' vote over Cade was close to five to one in Terry county.

It seems that Ross Sterling has lost his "Love" for the bond issue, and has decided to drop that issue like a hot poker. Well, about 80 percent of the voters of Texas seemed to be for the men who opposed the bond issue, and it is time to drop that subject and forget it, and Sterling is nobody's fool. It makes no difference which is the nominee, Ross or Ma, they will be a minority candidate of the Democratic party.

We note that some papers are using the overwhelming defeat of Robt. Henry for the United States senate as an indication that the Literary Digest vote in Texas was all a bosh. In the first place prohibition was not an issue in this election, if it had been Tom Love, the dryest of the dry would have gotten somewhere. True, Love and Henry tried to make it an issue, but the people did not fall for it. In fact, Bob Henry's star fell years ago but he did not know it, and if he had been a dry cleaned dry the results would have been the same. And now Tom Love's goose is cooked, also.

The colored people of Brownfield and vicinity closed a revival last week at the old Martin Boot stand on south Sixth. Not only was it well attended and encouraged by the colored population but many white people attended, it being the first colored revival many of them had ever attended, as most people here have been reared in the west where negroes have lived only for the past few years at best. We understand that there were several conversions during the meeting. We are glad to say that most of the colored people who live here are religiously inclined, and give white people little or no trouble.

A few people continue to poke fun at bald-headed men, in spite of the fact that the Scriptures tell of several children being eaten by shebears for making sport of good old Elisha's bald pate. Not long since a New York woman brought suit for divorce because her husband was bald-headed. In her petition the woman went on to say she wanted a husband with long, wavy locks that she could run her fingers through. I am not surprised that women of this type demand long-haired husbands, since long hair on a man is positive evidence that the man is an easy mark, and women can handle him even as the potter handles the clay. Delilah handled Sampson as easily as a giant can handle a fish worm, and Abolom was so easy that he let a donkey hang him to a limb. And old Esau, who had more hair on him than any man who has lived, swapped several sections of land for a bowl of soup. A head that can be used for a mirror or a scratch tablet is a useful piece of furniture in any well-regulated household, and it also gives assurance that the owner thereof will wear the bifurcated garment thereabouts.—Jim Lowery.

ELECTION RESUME

Well boys, the "Sweep-stakes-Free-for-all" is over, and "Sinai" has given forth the word, the Ma Ferguson, and "Rasmus Servus Sterling" are to go into the second race with Ma leading by more than Sixty Thousand votes. This is Tuesday, and the final returns are not yet all in.

"We met the enemy and he is 'our'n", and we imagine that Thomas Belinda Love, Barry Miller, and the Legislature, that first impeached Jim, for vetoing the University Appropriation Bill, as well as the one that repealed the Amnesty Bill" after a majority of the voters of Texas, had said by their ballots, that they did not believe Jim had had a "Square Deal" feel like they had again been "hit in the face with a wet dish-rag." And we had forgotten, to include "Little Danny" with the others, for we know that he feels bad too.

Now that the elimination process has brought the issue down to "Ferguson and Sterling" as the two exponents of the vital issue, of whether, our State will undertake to issue Three Hundred Fifty Million Dollars worth of bonds, by Constitutional Amendment, or follow the "Safe and Sane" advice given us by the makers of our present Constitution, when they wrote into the Constitution that the State could NEVER ISSUE BONDS, as Mr. Sterling and his supporters are now clamoring for.

We wonder how such Staunch Democrats, as Jim Young, Clint Small, Lynch Davidson, Jack Stricklin and others who have been waging the battle against the proposition, will act in this situation? We wonder if they will "desert to the enemy" or like Achilles of Old "Sulk in their Tents", or will they come out and fight for that which they think is right? We will wait and see. "In Hoc Signo Vincemus." (Translated, "I'll be doubly dabbled, and don't give a darn who knows it").

M. D. X. I. T.

West Texas looms as a big factor in State politics henceforth. Though its candidate for Governor, Clint Small, did not succeed in getting into the run-off, its people showed such solidarity in the election that it has made the rest of the State sit up and take notice in a manner that insures more adequate recognition of that region in State affairs from now on. This is as it should be, for it is a fact that West Texas and the Panhandle have grown so rapidly during the past decade that the people of the rest of the State have not realized the extent of this growth. In this situation, it has been only natural that the people of West Texas and the Panhandle have felt the need of

DAILIES TAKE ALL CREDIT

It is rather amusing to the average country weekly to watch the average daily spread it on concerning their influence in the community. True, the dailies have a kind of leadership in their own immediate section just the same as the weeklies, but people pay little attention to any when they get ready to vote. Take for example the following in the Abilene Reporter on what they term the "petulant outburst" of the Star-Telegram to illustrate what we mean.

This is a disappointing piece of poor sportsmanship on the part of one of Texas' great newspapers. If James E. Ferguson can pick up the disaffected Small vote in West Texas, it will make his candidacy highly menacing; and the Star-Telegram's policy of straddling the issue will have the effect of giving the Ferguson a foothold in the West which otherwise they could never hope to attain. It will mean harder work for the forces of good government who are resolved to not again hand over the state to these "two governors for the price of one," whose first act, according to their own promise, will be to open prison doors to 2,000 convicted felons.

The Herald has not been retained by the Star-Telegram as its counselor, but what we wish for the reader to notice is the fact that the Reporter talks as if all the west Texas dailies go for Mr. Sterling. That gentleman will have a walk over. We noted the fact that the Reporter was a great supporter of Mr. Sterling in the first primary, but both Ferguson and Small slammed it on him in the returns of Taylor county, the home of the Reporter. The Herald supported Mr. Small in Terry county, and he lacked but 36 votes of getting a clear majority in Terry county, over all candidates. But was the Herald's support of Small, or the Reporter's support of Sterling responsible to any great extent the results in either county? We think not, and we show a bold streak of egotism to think so. Then the Reporter pounds Clint Small for not taking sides—for Sterling—of course. We consider that Clint Small's own business too, as for being on the side of "good government" to support Sterling, we are not yet convinced. So far as we know he has not been tried for anything outside of money making for himself, yet. Just what he would do as a chief executive is a mooted question. But as long as Ely Johnson, Sterling and Moody are in office, of course Abilene, Tyler, Houston and Taylor will get some good road money. Sure.

Let it be understood in making our "petulant outburst" that we hold no briefs to defend Jim or Ma Ferguson. In the first place we don't care to do so, and in the second, they are able to take care of themselves, and imagine the Reporter will think so when the votes are counted August 24th.

asserting themselves. In the past efforts in this direction have been decried as "sectionalism," though they have been nothing more than a demand for recognition in keeping with their numbers and wealth and the growing percentage of taxes which they have been contributing toward State support. When Clint Small announced for Governor, immediately it began to be whispered that he was a sectional candidate, though there was nothing sectional about the platform he presented. West Texas and the Panhandle rallied to his support, with the result that he ran a good third, practically 40,000 votes ahead of the man in fourth place. It is now certain that the second primary will be fought out largely in West Texas and the Panhandle. And there need be no doubt about the outcome in that region. It will give a big majority against Fergusonism, and thus demonstrate that its people are quite as much concerned about the welfare of the State as those of any other section. But Clint Small's big vote will not soon be forgotten. This, coupled with the census figures, and the now general recognition of the fact that it is continuing to grow rapidly, will henceforth be an immense influence in State affairs. And the time is not far distant when the fact that a candidate for State office is from West Texas, and that he probably will receive the support of that region, will be a distinct asset rather than a liability and a handicap. Clint Small lost the race, but he won a victory for West Texas. Hereafter, it will not be necessary for a candidate to ask "Why should not a West Texan aspire to State office?" On the contrary, we shall soon be hearing people saying about a candidate: "One advantage that he has is the fact that he is from West Texas."—The Texas Weekly.

When Ross Sterling became state highway commissioner three and a half years ago, the department faced a debt of six million dollars, due to mismanagement of a previous administration and had only six hundred thousand dollars with which to pay the debt. Also, Federal aid had been withdrawn. The debt has been paid since, 20,000 miles of highway have been maintained, one hundred million dollars worth of new road has been built. Federal aid has been restored, and the Federal government now says the Texas highway department is one of the best managed in the United States. All the candidates have censured him, but have you ever heard any one of them accuse Ross Sterling of being guilty of graft in any way? Have you ever heard anyone accuse him of being dishonest at any time in his life? The question of honest government or dishonest government is before Texas. That he is and has been for a period of more than 12 months prior to exhibiting this petition, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in Terry county Texas, for at least six months next preceding the filing of this suit.

That on or about Dec. 24th 1928, in Terry county Texas he was lawfully married to defendant then a single woman by the name of Verdie Whitus: That soon after their marriage the defendant began a course of cruel harsh treatment of defendant plaintiff, and improper conduct toward plaintiff, he was forced and compelled to permanently abandon her, since which time they have not resided together as husband and wife.

Plaintiff alleges that at time of his said marriage he was a widower, with several of his minor children with him, some of tender years, that Defendant became very cruel, and harsh with them slapping and beating them, that when Plaintiff protested, on or about January 1st 1929, she flew into a rage and cursed and abused plaintiff, called him vile and ugly names in presence of his children, and threatened his life, and by her acts and conduct Plaintiff was in fear of the life and safety of his children and himself.

That Defendant's act and conduct toward him generally are of were of such a nature, as to render their further living together as man and wife insupportable.

Wherefore Plaintiff prays the Court, that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and for judgement dissolving said marriage relations, for cost of suit, and for such other and further relief special and general, in law and in equity, that he may be justly entitled to.

TEXAS UTILITIES COMPANY IMPROVING LINE

The Texas Utilities Company have a crew of workmen at work rebuilding their line between Seagraves and Seminole. A third wire is being added to this line, making it three phase, which will, when completed, give the patrons of this company a better service.

During the next few days the current over this line will be off between 1 and 5:30 o'clock each afternoon. This is necessary as a precaution for the benefit of the men working on the line, as they must handle these wires and are too dangerous with the current on.—Seminole Sentinel.

This will, as best I can, by words, express my deep, sincere and keen appreciation for your encouragement for your efforts and for your vote in my behalf in the recent primary. And since it has been charged that I have been in the county less than two years, which has not been denied by me, I feel in all probability, we made a good showing. I did my best.

Without defeat, without malice and with a clear conscience, I am voluntarily withdrawing from the County Judge's race for the present and assure you that my services now as well as the future is at your command.

It is possible that I cannot immediately reciprocate for all the good deeds in my behalf, but let me again assure you from the very depth of my heart of a keen desire to show my appreciation at the first opportunity.

Your friend,

Relief From Curse Of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other ailment."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Alexander Drug Co.

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute to New Konjola

Now Giving This New And Different Medicine To Her Children—Read Her Statement.

MRS. J. D. RHYNE

There is a reason why Konjola is America's best known medicine, and that reason can be summed up in three words—Konjola makes good, even when all else tried has failed. Consider, as a typical example of Konjola's 32 ingredients at work, the case of Mrs. J. D. Rhyne, 616 East Eleventh street, Amarillo, who says:

"I was in a terrible condition for many years, with constipation, nervousness, indigestion and kidney and liver ills. It seemed no use to try medicines and treatments further, for I kept growing worse right along. I lost weight and had headaches and dizzy spells and bilious attacks. Food caused indigestion, and many a night I lay awake until two or three o'clock. But words can not express my surprise over what Konjola did for me. All of my ills have vanished and now I am giving Konjola to my children, and my husband is about to start the treatment."

Konjola is a medicine for all the family; old and young. That is why Konjola is a household word in tens of thousands of American homes. Konjola is sold in Brownfield, Texas at the Alexander Drug Co., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

An Investigation of Texas Vital Statistics

The Federal Government is quietly gathering from the homes in Texas, a report of the births and deaths which have occurred during the past 12 months. The reports made to the Federal Government will be arranged by counties and cities, brought to Texas and checked against the certificates actually filed.

Texas is the only State in the Union with an adequate law for birth and death registration, whose birth and death rates are not authenticated and published, and whose records are not recognized by the U. S. Census Bureau. If, in the investigation now being made by the Census Bureau, it is found that 90 per cent of the births and deaths have been registered, Texas will be admitted to the Registration Area, and her statistics recognized, as is the case in 46 other States in the Union.

Although South Dakota has no adequate law, and her records up to this time have not been recognized, a test has been made in that State, and it is believed that South Dakota will be shown to have reached the necessary standard.

A report of a birth or death made to the Federal Government is not a legal registration, but a simple notification, so that the legally filed records may be checked. Any birth, to be legally registered, must have the signature of the medical attendant on the record, must be filed with the Local Registrar and sent to the State Bureau of Vital Statistics at Austin, Texas.

The law places the responsibility for registering births on the medical attendant, who is liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00, if he has not filed a record at the time of the birth. Any person who wishes to bury a dead body, violates the law if the body is buried before a public record of the death is made, but as the system is new in Texas, and is not yet thoroughly understood, any birth or death which has not been previously filed, should be registered immediately, if it is the desire of those concerned that such record be counted in the test being made by the Federal Government, which test will begin about August 1st.

Anyone desiring to file a record of an unregistered birth or death, should remember that the law makes it the duty of the Justice of the Peace in the Justice Precinct, and the City Clerk in the city of 2,500 or more, to act as Registrar of Births and Deaths. In those precincts or cities where the Justice of the Peace or City Clerk has filed or refused to act, the county or city authorities have suggested some individual to act in his place, and a list of these individuals may be secured, either from the city or county authorities or from the State Bureau Vital Statistics.

TEXAS POULTRYMEN NEED PROTECTION

In just a few months poultry thieves will be busy in Texas. Last season farmers and poultry men lost many thousands of dollars in stolen birds. We may expect the same losses another season, for the state of Texas has not found the time or had the inclination to make this form of theft more difficult.

The State of Oklahoma has a law which requires the purchaser of poultry to keep a record of whom he makes purchases, a record of the marks or other form of identification, the number of the car which delivered the fowls, date of purchase and the address of the seller. These records and open for inspection at all times.

Under this law, it makes it more difficult for thieves to dispose of their dishonestly gotten fowls. It is just as easy to steal the birds as before, but it is dangerous to sell them, therefore there is less temptation. Texas should have a similar law. The poultry industry is important enough to have every reasonable protection.—Farm and Ranch.

PATRICK HENRY'S SISTER BURIED IN KENTUCKY

Bowling Green, Ky.—Every school child has studied the life of the early American patriot, Patrick Henry, but few know that his sister, Susannah Henry, wife of Gen. Thomas Madison, lived in Kentucky and is buried in the Cowles family lot in the Smith Grove cemetery, off the Dixie Highway in Warren County, near Bowling Green. The family in whose plot her remains are buried are descendants of Mrs. Madison.

Susannah Henry was originally buried near the farm on which she lived, and for many years her grave was neglected, not even having a headstone to mark it. Nearly a hundred years after her death, in 1916, through the efforts of Eugene Cowles, of Shelbyville, and his brother, John H. Cowles, the remains of the sister of the noted patriot were moved to their present resting place and a suitable stone erected over the grave. The stone bears the inscription: "Susannah Henry, wife of Gen. Thomas Madison and Sister of Patrick Henry the Patriot. Died—1831.

The Population of the South Plains Grows

The population of District No. 7 for 1930 totaled 169,225, an increase of 113,585 over the total of 55,650 for 1920 or an increase of 204 per cent. Dr. I. E. Barr, supervisor has announced.

The percentage of increase in this South Plains section of Texas is thought to be greater than any other district in the United States. A number of South Plains counties just north of district No. 7, in district No. 2, under the supervision of O. M. Unger at Plainview, likewise have substantial increases.

Terry in Third Place
While Lubbock county has the largest numerical increase, Hockley county, just west of Lubbock takes first place in percentage of increase with a gain of 6,686 per cent, growing from 137 in 1920 to 9,297 or an increase of 9,160. Cochran county just west of Hockley, ranks second in percentages with an increase of 2,803 per cent (two thousand, eight hundred and three), growing from 67 to 1,963, Terry 302 percent.

AND WE ARE FOR MA!

Yep! Ma is going to be in the run off for the governor against Ross Sterling and we are for Ma.

We have several good reasons for being for Ma. First Ma is said to be a splendid cook, and any cook should make a good governor for Texas. We are for Ma secondly, because when we get Ma we get pa free and any time we can get anything FREE that's us, we are after the free things, because they are cheap.

Thirdly—We have tried Ma before and we know just what she will do. If we should happen to pull a boner and get in bad with the law, Ma will pardon us, provided we pay her a big fee for recommending us for a pardon.

4th: We are for Ma because pa only made a million out of the office while Ma held it before, and Sterling has made more than ten million out of his oil wells and don't need money for if he had more he might add another bath room to his home on the Coast, and that would be awful.—Jayton Chronicle.

THE TEXAS PRIMARY

By their votes last Tuesday the democrats of Texas have placed the choice of candidates between Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Sterling. This will place many of them in a very embarrassing position. They will be forced to take their choice of three disagreeable solutions of their political problem. They may elect Mrs. Ferguson and accept all that may mean to them; they may elect Sterling and saddle themselves for generations to come with the results of his $350,000,000 bond issue; or they may elect a republican governor.

Some one has said that Texas voters will try anything once. They tried "Ma" Ferguson once and got Jim and his pardons; they tried voting the republican ticket, and got a dose of Hoover prosperity. They may even decide to try Sterling and go into bankruptcy.—Lovington N. M. Leader.

SEAGRAVES CHAMBER COMMERCE TO HELP

Seagraves, Texas, July 29.—Chamber of Commerce officials are preparing to cooperate in helping organize the farmers of the Seagraves district, southwest of Lubbock, into the cotton marketing organization formed by the Federal Farm Board. It is hoped that a meeting can be arranged for Seagraves early in August.

C. M. Armstrong, president of the Seagraves Chamber of Commerce and the First National Bank, is confident that virtually all business men of Seagraves will help in the task of organizing cotton growers so they can have some control over the selling end of their business and thereby bring more prosperity to the subjects of King Cotton.

I have made many friends in this race, and to them and the old friends who supported me so liberally I will always be grateful. Fremendous Power from the Wind

THE Aeromotor Co. is now making a self-oiling windmill 20 feet in diameter. If you have a well 1000 feet deep, or if you want to raise a large quantity of water from a shallower well, this is the windmill you need. This new Auto-Oiled Aeromotor weighs nearly 2½ tons without the tower. It is a giant for power.

Whatever your water requirements may be there is an Auto-Oiled Aeromotor of the right size for the work. They are made from 6 feet to 20 feet in diameter. Use the smaller sizes for the shallow wells and the larger ones for the deep wells or large quantities of water. Our tables, sent upon request, tell you just what each size will do.

The Improved Auto-Oiled Aeromotor, the genuine self-oiling windmill, is the most economical and the most reliable device for pumping water. It works every day and will last a lifetime.

Every size of Auto-Oiled Aeromotor has double gears running in oil. All moving parts are fully and constantly oiled. One oiling a year is all that is required.

The Auto-Oiled Aeromotor is made by the company which originated the steel windmill business. For full information write AERMOTOR CO.

W. H. Black Says Will Push Co-Ops in Terry

W. H. Black, county chairman for Terry County for the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, states that everything possible will be done to give every farmer in the county an opportunity of understanding the workings of the new marketing organization set up and sponsored by the Federal Farm Board and an opportunity of joining the new association.

"With the federal government for it, it seems that everybody else should be for it," said Mr. Black. "There never was a time when it was more important that farmers organize to protect their interests. We may never again have an opportunity like the present one, with the power of the federal government behind us with men and money to help us organize, and we should take full advantage of this opportunity."

"The marketing agreement is very fair and liberal. A farmer joining the association does not need to market more than every other bale up to a total of ten bales through the new marketing association. The establishment of government grades will save every farmer considerable money on every bale. This service alone justifies the existence of the new organization and warrants every thinking farmer joining up."

"The Texas Cotton Cooperative Association will be as much under government supervision and inspection as the banks."

When the Federal Reserve Banking system was started many banks were opposed to it while now they wouldn't and couldn't do without it. It probably will be the same with the new Federal Farm Board marketing system.

THANKS

To the voters of Terry County. I take this means of expressing my thanks to you who supported me and to those who considered me in my unsuccessful attempt for county Treasurer. To those who did not vote for me, you are still my friends as you were before I announced.

To those who did support me I wish to thank you again.

Your friend,
Roy Ragsdill

All is fair in love and war, and, it seems, in family quarrels.

PER CAPITA MEAT CONSUMPTION SHOWS INCREASE IN 1930

Chicago, Ill., August—The consumption of meat in the United States is increasing. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, is authority for this statement.

According to figures furnished by the Bureau, meat consumption for the first months of 1930 shows an increase over the average of the same periods for the past seven years. These figures are based on the number of Federally-inspected slaughter animals a net imports, but do include exports or re-exports or changes in cold storage holdings.

The average total consumption of all meats—beef, veal, pork, lamb, and mutton for the first five months of the years 1923 to 1929 inclusive was 5,057,415,000 as compared to 5,083,055,000 pounds for the first five months of 1930.

The increase consumption of meat is due in part to the fact that more meat is coming onto the market. For a good many years the production of meat animals has not kept pace with growth in population. The increase demand for meat and meat products has resulted in increased production of cattle, sheep, and hogs, according to Charles D. Carey, chairman of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, Chicago.

Another factor influencing greater use of meat is the modern trend in the field of nutrition. New discoveries of the food value of meat, as for example, liver in the treatment of anemia, have caused the pendulum of dietetics to swing back from the extremes of a few years ago to a more liberal inclusion of meat in the diet.

Incidentally, and of special interest to the consumer, the retail price of meat is lower than it has been for a good many years.

A book agent working here last week asked to see a manager of a business firm. His card was returned with the notation, "too busy." The agent immediately wrote beneath, "that's why I called. I've no time to waste on loafers." He sold the busy man the books.—Donley County Leader.

Mrs. Ira Black and three of the younger children were here over the week-end from Holiday, Texas, visiting in the homes of her sister, Mrs. Will Beauchamp, and her uncle, Jack Stricklin.

A letter was received this week from Mrs. L. T. Brooks, of Socorro, N. M., stating that they were having up over politics like they do in Texas.

Scudday News

Well, we Scudday people have not dried up and blown completely off, but it sure is hot and dry down here.

We have been having a revival meeting out here for the past week. It was conducted by Brother Allen.

We are proud to say that we had a nice audience both night and day. Sunday was a day that is long to be remembered out here at Scudday.

At 10:30, the Christians had their Sunday school; At 11:00 Brother Allen preached a very interesting sermon, then at 12:00 everybody spread lunch. Oh, my at the chicken and ice tea that was there. We just had lots of every thing that is good to eat.

At 3:00 o'clock, Bro. Johnson the Missionary, came from Tahoka, and organized a Missionary Baptist church here. It was organized with 20 members, then 18 additions yesterday. We are very proud of the way our church started off. We gave it the name of Allen's Chapel. After all was taken up that was necessary for our church we then organized a Sunday School. We will have Sunday school every Sunday evening at 3:00 o'clock. Everyone is invited to come. We will talk over organizing a B. Y. P. U. next Sunday. The church called Bro. Allen as pastor, but he said he could not let us know until next month whether he could accept it or not. Then about 4:30, we went to Mr. Jeff Dunn's to the baptizing, there were 9 baptized. After it was over everyone returned home tired, but happy, then R. G. Nutt carried Bro. Allen to Tokio to his appointment there.

Last Thursday this community met at Mr. Oren Holland's and worked out his crop. At 12:00 o'clock dinner was spread on the ground and how those men that had been working did eat it. Plenty was left for supper. The women knew how the men love to eat. While the men were resting Bro. Allen preached. After his sermon they were given a nice pounding. Then the boys and men went to work. We did not learn who was the fastest hoe hand, but understood that there were several races.

Mr. I. A. Love and family had relatives from Dallas visiting them the past week.

Mr. Buck Cunningham spent week before last in Yoakum county.

Mr. G. W. Rainwater and sons, N. J. and Brown and his family returned from Jones county last week where they have been visiting relatives.

Mr. Vernon Townsen returned home from A. & M. Sunday. He reported a nice time.

Well it is looking cloudy, maybe we will get a rain to tell you about next week.

W. V. Chapman and family, formerly in business in this city, but for the past two years on a ranch near Broncho, have moved to Amarillo.

MEADOW BRIEFS.

By Aesculapias

THE LULL BEFORE THE STORM.

Isn't it quiet. Last week, from the border of No Mans Land to The Gulf, and from the Big Bend of the Rio Grande to Red River, on the Okla. Line; the army of candidates were swapping epithets and informing the voters what poor fish their opponents were.

A flood of paper wads on the 26th silenced most of them, those that are left are getting ready for the fray that will fix the remainder on August 23.

The Big Dailies are getting their second wind the click of the linotype is heard as the form are being made to attack a woman slightly past middle life candidate for governor.

She put to flight the best that the state had to offer, men well known in public life and having served the state herself as chief magistrate, she had to carry the errors and mistakes of a past administration. Her services were quite as good as most of the governors who preceded her and infinitely better than her successor.

There are no large papers serving her cause, now or that did anything to advance her interest in the campaign. All but two have joined the ranks of her enemies of slunk away into a corner to nurse their grief and snarl at the two hundred and forty odd thousand that throttled their aspirations.

One of the Plains sheets has opened its campaign and with double shotguns is ready to storm the citadel. It had said that castor oil would be preferable to swallowing Mr. Sterling but it brays long and loud in its valetudinary of detriment to the state. But to the fellow that has followed campaigns for nearly fifty years he can imagine more cogent reasons.

We shall witness, if I mistake not, what wealth has not hitherto accomplished in this state. Things will happen that will remind us of Vane, Smith, and Mrs. McCormick.

The big dailies have already fallen on Sterling neck. Some of them said some naughty things about him in the campaign. All this is forgotten and forgiven in the effort to serve. What and why? If theergusons had forty or fifty millions and the backing of some one hundred more they too need the spacious mansion with its twenty bath rooms and breakfast corners for the editors and other defeated Sauls that could come to offer their services and disinterested support.

True they have opened their columns for those who have the time and inclination to contribute. What will they write about? Fergusonism? It has never been defined. Moodyism? Which so far has meant the least good to the greatest number. Ferguson so far has shown himself the cleanest of the lot in his treatment of his opponents.

One editor told us that to support Sterling was worse than a dose of castor oil. He certainly took Oleum Tigle and has gotten it out of his system, as he is now hitting the trail in full cry against Ferguson.

Yea, "the ox knoweth his master's barn and the ass his master's crib." You fellows that live out in the sticks and workers in the field get ready for the fray.

TO THE VOTERS OF TERRY COUNTY

For the information of the voters of Terry County, I wish to give you the votes cast in the July Primary 1926.

Pyeatt received 766 votes
Hogue received 489 votes
Winn received 260 votes
Hooker received 137 votes

In that election I liked 120 votes of getting as many as my 3 opponents, and there were 397 votes to divide between Mr. Hogue and I, which meant that I would have to get 61 of them and hold mine in order to get a majority, and I certainly thank Mr. Hogue for not running it off with me. In the 1926 election I led Mr. Hogue 277 votes, and if he had have led me that many votes in this 1930 election I would have withdrawn and left it to him. But in the 1930 election he is only 15 votes ahead of me, and there are 563 votes to divide, as Mr. Green received 260 votes and Mr. Cadenhead 303 votes, and I don't feel that it would be fair to my friends and myself to not run it off. I give you this information so you will have the facts in the case and hope that you will nominate me in the second primary.

Very truly yours,
S. L. Pyeatt.
(Political Adv.)

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 4

I wish to express my appreciation to those voting for me in the July Primary. I will try to show my appreciation by being as accommodating as possible, and assuring you a square deal.

Murray Says Farmers Should Join Co-Ops

That every thinking cotton grower in the Lone Star State would be a member of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association within the next three years was the prediction made by R. J. Murray, President of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of the Lubbock District Organization Committee, at a county-wide mass meeting held here attended by more than 400 farmers and business men.

The prediction was also made by J. H. Brower, President of the First State Bank of Slaton, that in three years bankers would be hesitant about loaning money to farmers not members of cooperative marketing associations sponsored by the Federal Farm Board.

"Farmers have a wonderful opportunity to organize now with the moral and financial assistance of the Federal Government," declared B. Sherrod, Chairman of the Organization Committee for Lubbock County. "It's an opportunity that should not be passed by and a money-making and money-saving opportunity."

Details of the new cotton cooperative marketing system were explained by Herman F. Dieterich, Organization Director for District No. 2 of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association. The county-wide mass meeting was the first of 24 to be held in Lubbock County during the next two weeks. Following the meeting in Lubbock, approximately 100 farmers signed cards agreeing to cooperate in the membership drive by which it is expected to make Lubbock County one of the banner counties in Texas for cooperative marketing.

we've failed to decipher.—Null N. Void, in Gallatin (Mo.) North Missourian.

You are correct, brother, but you haven't told the half of it. We have been interpreting country correspondence for forty years, and always weep when we get one of the kind you mention. Our operators strikes on us every time we turn one of them over to him unedited, for he says life is too short to have to correct the spelling, the punctuation and the English of such effusions. Occasionally, however, one comes to us which is correct in every detail, spelling, punctuation, grammar. In fact so correctly written that the whole office force rejoices to see such a letter.

Lubbock Expects 500 Druggists Aug. 12-13

Lubbock, Texas, August—Five hundred West Texas druggists or more will find everything they want in Lubbock, from music to business addresses, August 12 and 13, when they gather for the semi-annual convention of the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association.

Lee T. Stinson, of Snyder, president of the association is expecting the largest attendance of any previous druggist convention in West Texas.

In a letter to E. L. Robertson, president of the Lubbock Druggist Association, Stinson says:

"In all my connection with the association, Lubbock has taken the furlined bath tub for real 100 per cent cooperation. You fellows up there have lined up a splendid business program. You have been giving the convention more publicity through the press and in your direct by mail campaign than has ever been done before, so if we do not have the banner convention this time, there will be something 'rotten in the State of West Texas.' I'll be up there to help you climax all this work with a real time."

The convention will open Tuesday, August 12, in the afternoon, J. Lewis Marsh of Waco will make the first address after reports are made by officers. Marsh will discuss "Present Day Competition."

Geo. W. Dupree, of Lubbock, will discuss the legal "Status of the Present Pharmacy Law.

John W. Allen of Dallas will discuss "1930 Credit Conditions."

A banquet and dance will be held Tuesday evening. Senator Pink L. Parrish will serve as toastmaster. R. J. Murray, president of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will give the druggists an official welcome and Knox Pittard of Anson will respond. Dr. Paul W. Horn will make the feature address on the evening program.

W. T. "Tanlas" Strange, will furnish plenty of amusement with an address on "The Modern Home." Music will be furnished by the Ralls "Singing Senoritas" and the Sweetwater Gypsy Girls.

Dr. W. A. Jackson of the Texas Technological College will make the feature address on the morning of August 13. Lester May of Waco will speak on the "Ten Cent Table," and Wade H. Lewis of Dallas will speak on "Merchandising."

The Behrens Drug Company of Waco will give the Druggists a luncheon at noon after the convention proper has adjourned.

TO THE CITIZENS OF TERRY COUNTY

I wish to thank all who supported me in the recent election and to mention again my gratitude for past favors shown me by the voters of this county.

I am still in the race for County Treasurer and would like to canvas the county again before the second primary but my financial circumstances will not permit me to do so. If there are those in the county whom I did not see before the election please bear in mind that it was my sincere desire to meet and talk with each of you. A complete record of my work can be found at the Court house and I shall be glad for anyone interested to investigate it. Your further support and influence or your help in any way will be sincerely appreciated.

Mrs. Lula L. Smith.
