Second War Loan Drive Is On

Hedley citizens on the Donley County Finance Committee of the Second War Loan Drive are J. W. Noel, director; Bob Jenkins, speakers committee; D. E. Bellver, publicity committee; C. L. Johnson, non resident committee and captain of Hedley territory and W. C. Bridges, Dr. D. H. Cox, Ray Doherty, H. E. Hall, C. G. Hill, Bob Jenkins, C. R. LeMond, Ray Moreman, Charles Rains, Leon Reeves, R. W. Seales and Earl Tollett as lieutenants for Hedley District.

Donley County's quota has been set at $208,000. The bond sales have not been up to expectation the first few days but these committees have started to work and the sales are increasing. The 13 Billion Dollar Bond Drive must go over and it will go over, and it is up to us to see that Donley County raises its quota.

Lions Club News

The Lions met in regular meeting in the Methodist Church basement, Thursday night at 8:30 to enjoy a beautiful supper served by Mrs. C. L. Johnson as chairman of the committee and Mrs. Jack Marshall and Misses Willie Mae Greer, Anna Lee Hill and Peggy Zoe Stotts assisting.

Among guests presented were Lions Gilliam and Martin from Memphis, Lt. Jerry Hunt, Willard Knox, Capt. Knox and J. E. Key from Lena Lake and Joe Crawford and Royce Hall from Hedley.

New members introduced were Ross Adamson, Mr. Mason and Happy Boren.

C. L. Johnson spoke regarding the present Bond Drive and announced committees.

Bob Jenkins spoke about the Scout work and expressed thanks for $10 given by the Lions toward buying equipment for the boys. The Scouts are sponsored by the Lions Club.

The speaker for the evening, the Rev. S. P. Martin, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Memphis, Miss Martin spoke on the principles which made John W. W. a successful business man. The talk was very inspirational and I feel sure that all of us were helped by having heard it.

The meeting was adjourned with the usual ceremony of facing "O. G. Glory" and singing one stanza of America. The next regular meeting will be April 23.

Revival

The Church of the Nazarenes has set the dates August 1 to 15 for the Summer revival. Announcements will be made later concerning the workers.

Red Cross Notes

Our work is progressing nicely. We have been notified all work must be turned in May 10. We still have 19 more quilts to quilt. If you will help please come on Thursday and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock. If your club or Sunday School class will quilt a quilt please help us to get these ready by May 10.

Our thanks go to the Wifadamas Club, the W. S. O. S. and the W. S. S. C. Club for quilting. The Culture Club donated cotton and lining for quilts. We also wish to thank Mrs. Johnny Myers for a quilt top, the Baptist ladies for quilt pieces and for piecing several tops; Mesdames Robert Moffitt and W. I. Rains for wool thread; Mesdames Aiva Simmons, R. W. Alewine, M. Bramlet and G. Bain for cash donations. Mrs. Tinsley and her second grade made a nice cash offering from their Red Cross penny jar. We thank this teacher and her pupils for helping the greatest Mother in the world.

We are all very busy at home with victory gardens and chicken, but we must not forget every minute our boys are busy fighting for us. We cannot and we must not fail to do our bit to help through the Red Cross. If you have not done any work why not help out now? Wouldn't you like to know you helped some one in need? That is what you do when you help in Red Cross work.

Remember May 10 all sewing must be in.

Red Cross Chairman

Parent-Teacher Ass'n.

The Hedley Parent-Teacher Association met in regular session on April 9. Following the usual business session the meeting was turned to the leader, Mrs. Ed Todd.

A well planned program followed centering on the theme of Health. Dr. D. H. Cox in discussing the various phases of the problem of maintaining the health of the child, stressed the importance of not ignoring minor ills and the various communicable children's diseases. He also emphasized the fact that defects in hearing and eyesight can be a contributing cause to the learning lack of ability of some children to progress normally in their school work.

A jolly playlet in radio style was "Mother Nature's Hit Parade" the entertaining feature of the evening. This playlet, under the direction of Miss Richardson, as assisted by Miss Davis, was presented by the pupils of the Seventh Grade together with pupils from the Sixth Grade.

New Tea Towels Add
Gayety to the Kitchen

ANIMATED cutlery, dishes, glassware, pots and pans bring their infectious gaiety to a new set of tea towels. They offer a mixing bowl parade, a knife, fork and spoon dash, the soup spoon dance, and four more equally interesting tea towel designs, with a trio of teapots as motif for a matching panholder. Outline embroidery does the set in a jiffy—it could even be done in running stitch.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Food Payments Urged for Poor;
Tunisia Trap Closes on Axis Armies
As Allied Air Blitz Destroys Ships;
Truman Group Eyes Hoarding Charges

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

The roll of German prisoners has increased steadily as British and American forces have driven in on Rommel's cornered Axis forces in Tunisia. Typical of the multitude of captives is the above group of German prisoners taken in the British drive north of Gabes.

NORTH AFRICA:

Axis Hold Shrinks

Of key importance in heralding the possibility of an earlier-than-expected dash of the Tunisian campaign were reports that the harbor and shipping facilities of Gabes had been left undamaged by the Axis forces in their hasty retreat from Gen. Montgomery's onslaughts.

With Gabes functioning as an Allied supply port, the long overland haul of war materials from Tripoli or Benghazi far down the African coast in Libya could be avoided. Moreover, Allied sea and air power concentrated in Gabes could further harass the Axis forces.

The slower battle for North Africa was not yet won, but steadily British armies from the north and south and American armies from the squeeze, on the remaining Axis troops in Tunisia.

As Marshal Rommel's forces had made their last desperate effort to beat their way northward for a junction with Col. Gen. Von Arnim's troops in the Bizerte area, reports indicated that the Axis had flown fresh troops into Tunisia. To relieve the pressure on Rommel, Von Arnim's forces had staged a brief counter-offensive against British forces near Bizerte. Control of the air over North Africa had appeared to be turning overwhelmingly in the Allies' favor, as raids shook the Axis lines and turned Rommel's retreat into a nightmare.

Meanwhile in answer to reports that Germany had commandeered the Italian fleet and all available French merchantmen preparatory to an attempt to evacuate Italo-German armies from Tunisia in an Axis "Dunkirk," the Allies staged an unprecedented raid by 100 Flying Fortress that smashed the important Axis supply base at Cagliari, Sardinia, damaging 26 merchant ships and putting 71 enemy planes out of commission. Simultaneously, waves of American Billy Mitchell bombers struck at an Axis convoy in the Sicilian narrows, sinking at least three large ships and leaving others burning and settling.

INVESTIGATION:

Of U. S. Hoarded Foods

Into a maze of charges and countercharges that the government itself has become No. 1 food hoarder, the Senate's Truman investigating committee plunged in an effort to obtain the facts.

Chairman Harry S. Truman announced that a two-way investigation was in progress. One phase is to indicate the amount of food held by government agencies. The other was to investigate the needs of the armed forces. Information from both government and private sources had been obtained, he said. Previously, members of the food trade and others had charged that the armed services are hoarding processed foods and thus forcing less than necessary civilian allowances under rationing.

"Supply of food for the armed forces must be sufficiently great to assure that there will be plenty of food for our soldiers and sailors," Truman said. "However, care must be taken to assure that the government does not itself become a hoarder."

FOOD SUBSIDY:

Urged to Aid Poor

Suggesting that the government pay persons in low income groups special allowances to enable them to buy sufficient food, Roy F. Hendrickson, head of the Food Distribution administration, declared he believed that otherwise these people would "find it tough to get food."

Emphasizing that his statements were his own personal views, Hendrickson declared that the plan he advocates would aid the farmer. Declaring the problem had to be "treated from both ends," he said that the farmer had become discouraged because food costs have gone so high while prices paid him have not risen in proportion.

"We have got to see that the farmer is able to market his stuff," Hendrickson declared. Any volume of income to the purchasing class is bound to help the farmer.

In addition to the low income groups, he suggested payments for the aged, the blind and otherwise handicapped.

POSTWAR PLANS:

Poland Speaks Up

With postwar peace plans gaining increased attention in Allied chancelleries, the Polish government in exile served notice that Poles would resist "to the last man" any claims from any quarter aimed at the "sovereignty and integrity of Poland."

Spokesman for the Poles was Prime Minister Wladyslaw Sikorski, now a resident of London. Target of the statesman's remarks was Russia, since the Soviet government recently announced its intention of retaining the Polish Ukraine and the area bordering on White Russia which was taken from Poland under the German-Russian partition of Poland in 1939.

But even as he stoutly proclaimed his doctrine of independence, Sikorski recommended that an Allied air force should go to the Russian front after the fighting in Tunisia is concluded as an expression of United Nations' solidarity. He predicted a third German offensive by the German armies against Russia.

CIVILIAN GOODS:

No Further Cuts?

Taking stock of America's industrial power, Donald M. Nelson, chairman of the War Production board, declared that "Today we are turning out more goods for war than we ever produced for our peacetime needs, yet we have enough power left over to keep civilian standards of living at a high level."

Mr. Nelson predicted in an address in Chicago that the United States this year will turn out more than 80 billion dollars worth of goods for war purposes. The WPB chief's 1943 estimate compares with 48 billion in 1942, the first year after Pearl Harbor, 17 billion in 1941 and four billion in 1940, the year Germany smashed her way across Europe.

The figures will get even bigger, Mr. Nelson said, adding "as they grow the armies and cities of the Axis will feel an ever-fiercer flame, a more terrifying blast from the guns and bombs of America." Eventual victory, he declared, already is being foreshadowed in the "cold hard figures of production."

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

OTTAWA: Meat rationing for Canada, effective early in May on the basis of two pounds a person a week, was announced by Finance Minister James H. Duff. Meatless days will be observed in restaurants, hotels and other public eating places after plans being prepared by the Dominion price board are adopted.

WASHINGTON: Two new rear admirals were added to the navy's roster when President Roosevelt nominated Capt. Joseph R. Redman of Reno, Nev., and Capt. Francis Stuart Low of Washington, D. C., to these posts. Now with a command at sea, Redman was formerly director of communications at the Yards rather than miles were the measure of Russian gains on the Smolensk sector as the thaw-soddened central front was further mired by heavy spring rains.

Further to the south, however, the Red forces menaced the steadily shrinking German bridgehead in the Northwest Caucasus by the capture of Anastasevskaya, 38 miles northwest of Novorossisk on the last highway link between Nazi forces north and south of the Kuban river.

Elsewhere, fresh German tank assaults against the Soviet line on the Donets river east of Kharkov were rolled back by the stout Red defenders. In the north the Germans tacitly reported a retreat near Staraya Russa, between Moscow and Leningrad, by admitting a "withdrawal to prepared positions."

TIRES:

Synthetics O. K.

Two events pointed to the conclusion that the nation's synthetic rubber producing program was proceeding successfully.

One was the appearance of Rubber Director William M. Jeffers before a senate committee with a heavy duty synthetic truck tire and his statement that the artificial elastic had been perfected "to the point where it will very nearly meet all requirements without mixing with natural rubber."

The other was the action of the rubber division and the department of agriculture in reducing the immediate planting of guayule, a rubber producing shrub from 53,000 acres to between 13,000 and 20,000 acres.

Jeffers warned, however, that the rubber situation was still critical.

SOUTH PACIFIC:

Bombs Break Lull

American bombs exploding on Kiska in the Aleutian Islands, Vila in the central Solomons, Kahli in the Shortlands and in Japanese holdings north of Australia broke the lull in the Pacific war theater.

While the foregoing raids had no direct military value, General MacArthur's fliers in New Guinea centered their attacks on enemy supply and communication lines between Wewak and Madang and strafed the entire Salamaua area.

A communique from Allied headquarters said that low-altitude raids in the Salamaua area with bombs, cannon and machine gun fire had subjected this front to the most intensive damage this Jap base had yet received.

'AIR POLICE':

To Insure Peace

Air power as a police force preserving world peace after the war was envisioned by former President Herbert Hoover, who proposed that the United Nations strip the

HERBERT HOOVER

Axis powers of their airplane factories as a means of stopping ambitious militarists.

The former President declared that "planes alone" could do the job of maintaining international order, thus allowing extensive land and sea armament while the world moves peacefully into an era of "freedom-of-the-air."

DRAFT:

Reaches War Plants

As the need for military manpower increased a nation-wide search of war factories for men of draft age who could be replaced by women or older men was undertaken. So great is the need, Selective Service officials revealed, that the canvass of the war plants might result in calling for military service thousands of men now classified 2A and 2B—men actually producing tools of war or working in direct support of the war effort.

State directors of Selective Service, conferring in Washington with Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, draft director, surveyed the over-all operations covering inductions for the future.

Not only would practices governing the drafting of fathers be clearly defined, but under consideration were measures in connection with a compulsory labor draft, investigation of labor hoarding by war industries and the return to agricultural areas of the workers who have en-

A Yank's Life
In India

By William Chaplin

(WNU Feature—Through special arrangement with Woman's Home Companion.)

In the heart of New Delhi, capital of India, you will find the headquarters of the Tenth Air force of the American army. It is really a city of its own.

Before this war, there have been eight Delhis, six of which crumbled away with declining civilizations. Beginning of the war found still in existence the seventh Delhi, a typical teeming eastern city of rickshas, sleeping coolies and wandering cows; and the eighth Delhi, a governmental suburb of broad streets and fine buildings known as New Delhi.

Now that the Yanks have come to India, there has come into being a community which may well be called the ninth Delhi.

When my plane arrived in India I drove to the Imperial hotel, then the American headquarters, along streets my taxi shared with camel caravans, bullock carts, motor buses, bicycles and pony carts. On broad tree-lined Queensway we ran between empty lots where ground was broken for construction projects.

Already masons were at work on fresh foundations and loose-limbed hill-women with rings in their noses and heavy silver anklets clanking above their bare feet were carrying bricks on their heads.

I stayed in India six months and long before I left the ninth Delhi was completed and occupied, with the American flag flying before the headquarters building and thousands of American soldiers comfortably installed in their new quarters.

Bomb Japs in Burma.

As I write, British troops are still pouring across the Burma border and members of the American Tenth Air force are bombing Japanese installations in Burma. America didn't get into the war in time to give mass aid to preventing the loss of Burma, but by wise planning they got there in time to take part in its reconquest. Theirs is destined to be a vital part in turning the tide of war in the East.

The ninth Delhi, spread along both sides of Queensway for half a mile, comprises two-story barracks, officers' quarters, office buildings, hospital and post exchange. Last but far from least are the mess halls, where Yank soldiers eat as do few armies on either side of this war.

While the barrack room bearers are making the beds and comparing admiring notes on their new masters, the boys themselves are eating a breakfast that might just as well have been prepared in East Orange, N. J., or Terre Haute, Ind. Fruit, eggs, much of the meat and all the fresh vegetables are purchased locally, but there's a good sprinkling of canned and packaged goods brought through half a dozen submarine zones so the boys can have the kind of meals that mother used to make.

Yanks Eat American Style.

The American soldiers in India are eating American style in the army mess halls, but healthy curiosity has led them to make a thorough investigation of Indian food as well.

The little restaurants are always crowded with them, nibbling strange curries, savoring hot spices, perhaps even trying a chew at the red betel nut the Indians think good for their digestion. And a particular favorite is a rich pastry covered with real silver leaf.

The Indians think silver is good for their insides. The Americans don't take much faith in that, but they do get a kick out of eating real silver. Some of them are writing home warning the folks to look up the family silver after the war; they say they might forget where they were and chew up Aunt Lou's best creamer or swallow those souvenir spoons from the World's fair.

These men of the Indian AEF are mechanics, clerks, cooks, technicians of a hundred different kinds, and they put in a full day at their appointed tasks unstayed by sun or dust storm or monsoon. But they have their fun while they can get it.

A tonga is a two-wheeled cart drawn by an undersized, mangy but spirited Indian pony. There is one back seat, separated into two by a back rest running from side to side. Thus two passengers can ride facing forward and two facing backward.

The man who invented tongas didn't know much about the laws of balance. If two passengers take a tonga and sit in the back seat, the shafts go up in the air so high the pony has to walk on tiptoe. To counteract this the driver crawls out on the right shaft and operates as a half-off-side jockey.

Sentinels
of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of all excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—their life—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed by the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Boy Scout News

Since the Lions Club helped the Scouts get reorganized we want to thank them. We also want to thank them for the flags.
The scouts on Charles J. Johnson's patrol are Travis, Bailey, Garter Hoffman, Kenneth Swin-ney, Hayden Baker, and Teddie
Joe Myers. On Bob Beach's patrol are Jerald and Floyd Sims, Lynn Cherry, Robert Johnson and Joel Pinnick.
The Scouts have planned their first hike for the 23rd of April.
Every boy 12 years and older is eligible to join.
