PETERSBURG, March 4.—Individual responsibility of citizens in the making of a better citizenship, was emphasized by George W. Dupree, Lubbock attorney, in an address at an annual banquet of the Petersburg Chamber of Commerce in the high school auditorium here tonight. Approximately 140 persons attended, with four towns represented besides Petersburg—Abernathy, Floydada, Lubbock and Plainview.

Seniors of the high school were honor guests of the civic group. Rev. W. H. Hughes, Baptist pastor, was toastmaster, Reverend Apple, Methodist pastor, read an invocation and W. C. Foote, secretary, led singing. Miss Helen Edwards was pianist for a tap dance by L. M. Wartes, jr., and a solo by Kenneth Gregory, and played a solo.

Sherrod Makes Invitation

Clyde Martin, president, welcomed the visitors to the affair. B. Sherrod, Lubbock responded for the visiting communites and invited those present to a teacher's convention there Friday and Saturday; to Market week, March 11-14, and to the Quality Meat show, March 29-31.

H. S. Hilburn, Plainview editor, spoke for his city as did Homer Steen, Floydada editor, for Floydada and Charles Johnson for Abernathy. Superintendent E. E. Hancock introduced members of

Museum Is To Be Presented In Ceremony

Lieut.-Governor Woodul And Coke R. Stevenson Are To Present Tech Building To Museum Association

Walter Woodul, Texas lieutenant governor, and Coke R. Stevenson, vice-chairman of the Centennial commission of control, are to present the $25,000 museum on the campus of Texas Technological college to the West Texas Museum association this afternoon.

The museum will be opened formally and the eighth annual meeting of the association will be conducted, beginning at 4 o'clock.

First Unit Complete

The structure, only the first unit of which has been completed, was obtained through cooperation of West Texans in securing an allocation for a West Texas memorial. Residents from 67 West Texas counties are invited.

Members of the centennial commission of control, which allocated the money, and the state board of control, which directed construction, have been invited.

The West Texas Museum association is in immediate charge of the museum. It hopes to construct additional stories to the building.

Program Arranged

Program for today's opening follows:

Afternoon session, 4 p. m., museum building—Welcome address, Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president; "Some Historic and Economic Aspects of the Salt Lakes of the Plains", Dr. W. M. Craig, chemistry professor; "Folk Lore of the South Plains", Frank P. Hill of Tahoka; presentation of the museum building; inspection of museum.

Dinner session, 6:15 p. m., Horn hall—"The Future of West Texas", by Stevenson.

Senate Engrosses Measure, 20 To 8, Requiring Texans As Race Employes, Amended To Repeal Wagering Act

Truck Bill Killed

Measure To Increase Limit Of Load Above 7,000 Pounds Is Defeated; Hearing Is Set On Oil Tax Increase Bill

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 4—A step by the senate toward repealing the pari-mutuel horse race wagering law over-shadowed everything else in the legislature today although the house of representatives held a short session and committees continued heavy work as usual.

Many house members went to the senate hall as that body argued and finally engrossed, 20 to 8, a bill requiring that a percentage of race track employes be native Texans but amended to repeal the race betting law enacted in 1933.

Already Passed In House

The bill may come up for final senate action next Wednesday. It already had passed the house and should the senate approve it finally concurrence by the lower chamber in the senate amendment would be sought.

The house killed a controversial proposal to increase the load limit of trucks above the present 7,000 pounds, tabling, 72 to 51, a minority committee report to print the measure. The highways and motor traffic committee had reported unfavorably, 11 to 5.

Economy Is Urged

A number of appropriation bills were passed although a member urged the house to start practicing economy. A general emergency appropriation for colleges, state departments and eleemosynary institutions was blocked.

Before taking up race appeal, the senate passed a bill authorizing leasing of experimental station lands of Texas A. & M. college for mineral development, attaching an amendment to make the minimum

Senate Investigators Report As Much As $48,000,000 May Have Been Spent In Last Campaign

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—Senate investigators, reporting that as much as $48,000,000 may have been spent in the last presidential campaign, urged congress today to clamp new restrictions on political expenditures.

Expenses of the Republican national committee and its related organizations reached $14,198,202, the investigators disclosed, while the corresponding Democratic units spent $9,228,406.

Major Weaknesses Cited

Citing four major weaknesses in the present election laws, the senate campaign expenditures committee, headed by Senator Lonergan (D-Conn), recommended:

1. Prohibition of political contributions by labor unions or any other organization "whose aims or purposes are the furtherance of group, class, or special interests."

2. A new act to prevent "the influencing of voters through fear, intimidation, or coercion."

3. A clarification of the franking laws, rigidly defining how federal officials may exercise their free use of the mails.

4. "A uniform system of accounting" for all national political organizations, to eliminate "complexities" and "confusion."

How To Select 18, Rather Than 23, Girls For Models—That Is Question

THE problem was not to find 18 pretty girls, but to eliminate candidates to that number—Thursday night when directors of a style show to be staged incident to Wes-Tex New-Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association began selection of mannequins.

Selected were 23 girls: Ina Bacon, Joyce Craven, Virginia Carlock, Annie Williams, Harriet Robb, Leila May Zorns, Mary Louise Walker, Pauline Coe, Elray Lewis, Priscilla Davis, Annie Rooney, Lillian Heard, Marguerite Power, Una Elliott, Pauline Harbison, Emma Sue Gunn, Martha Brock, Betty Lee Lindsey, Katie Hunter, Evelyn Kuykendall, Maxine Fry, Eva Mae O'Neal, and Emily Martin.

"We'll have to eliminate further—or else add another girl, making a total of 24," said

Situation Holds Threat To Peace

LONDON, March 4. (AP)—Indefinite postponement of the deadline for an international naval and land patrol of Spain raised the question tonight whether diplomats would be able to isolate possibly graver dangers to peace elsewhere in Europe.

Uppermost in many minds was Czechoslovakia where presistent reports say the German minority, possibly with the help of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, is planning an insurrection.

The international neutrality committee announced the work of recruiting agents to guard the Hispano-Portuguese borders and ironing out details of the plan to embargo arms and men to the Spanish combatants necessitated abandoning the Saturday midnight deadline.

An attempt, it was said, would be made to establish the patrol March 20.

Battle Lines Are Drawn In Labor Drive

Antagonism Becomes Evident In "Big Steel" And AFOL Circles As Lewis Pushes His Unionization Drive

Steel Price Hiked

Price Is Increased $3 To $8 A Ton; Thousands More Of Workers Join "Sit Down" Tactics In Labor Areas

(By The Associated Press)

OPPONENTS of the Committee for Industrial Organization's drive to unionize all industrial workers drew their battle lines Thursday.

The antagonism became most manifest in "big steel" and American Federation of Labor circles.

Defenders of the so-called "company unions" in the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corp. rallied their forces against the C.I.O. Their spokesmen conferred with President B. F. Fairless and were assured his recognition of a C.I.O. union would not preclude collective bargaining with other representatives of his employes.

Brook No Support

A.F.O.L. units were advised in a letter from President William Green it would brook no support of the C.I.O. by its members and was ready to act to protect its interests. The cleavage in labor's ranks was emphasized by the Cleveland federation of labor's suspension of five C.I.O. unions.

Ten thousand more workers were forced into idleness by disputes already keeping approximately 40,000 away from their duties in strike centers across the continent.

Steel Plant Closed

The Bethlehem Steel company's Lebanon, Pa., plant was closed because of a misunderstanding over the firm's recent pay raise. C.I.O. leaders, urging the 2,500 workers to "make them deal with John L. Lewis," claimed all hands in the mechanical department had walked out.

Carnegie-Illinois, the nation's largest steel producer, increased the price of its products $3 to $8 a ton

Texas Areas Get Rainfall

Beneficial Showers Reported In Central And West Texas And Scattered Points; City Receives .13 Inch

(By The Associated Press)

General rains over much of Texas' crop-producing area were hailed Thursday night unofficially as "worth millions" to farmers.

Skies continued cloudy over much of the state Thursday night, bringing promise of more moisture. Beneficial showers and hard rains were reported from Central and West Texas, and scattered points in North Texas had good rains. At Dallas and Fort Worth the hardest rains of 1937 fell; Vernon reported a heavy general fall; Austin and San Antonio had good rains; Coleman had half an inch and Big Spring enough to settle a dust storm.

Lowering Skies Promise To Augment Fall Here

Lowering skies promised to augment light showers that fell Thursday morning and early last night, dispelling clouds of dust that had filled the city Wednesday.

State experiment sub-station gauge had recorded .13 of an inch up to noon Thursday, and pavements were moistened by a light fall at 9:30 last night. Dripping skies brought an end to 70-degree spring-like temperatures of Wednes-

Mothers-In-Law, By Proclamation Of Governor, To Be Honored At Amarillo

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, March 4.—Four years ago Editor Gene Howe made a crack in his "Tactless Texan" daily column that riled his mother-in-law.

She sobbed, and to stop her tears, he made a promise. He would sponsor a special day honoring all mothers-in-law.

Tomorrow, by proclamation of Governor James V. Allred, Texas will celebrate its fourth "Mother-in-Law Day"—a day the governor has set aside for honoring "those unselfish, kindly, patriotic women."

Internal strife threatened the Amarillo Mother-In-Law club on the eve of the event. Members were wrestling with the suggestion that, for dignity's sake, all mothers-in-law should be known hereafter as "chosen mothers."

Said Editor Howe, who once

Vigorious Appeal For Reform Plan Given In Speech

Immediate Action To End Deadlock Between Administration And Supreme Court Is Asked; "No Man's Land Of Final Futility" Termed Created By Judiciary's Decisions

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 4—President Roosevelt celebrated his election triumph tonight with a new call to battle, a vigorous appeal for passage of his court reorganization bill to give the nation a clear "knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens."

While a big hotel-ballroom packed with top-ranking Democrats applauded every thrust, he turned the rapier of his famed eloquence upon the Supreme court and called for immediate action to end the deadlock between his administration and the judiciary.

He accused the court's conservative wing of letting its economic beliefs govern its judicial opinions and asserted that by denying both state and federal governments authority to deal with social problems it had produced a "no man's land of final futility."

Obviously replying to frequently voiced criticisms of his court proposals—the dictatorship and constitutional amendment arguments—he disclaimed any intention of seeking a third term and repeatedly asserted that the problems his administration would solve call for action now."

Every Delay Creates Risk

"In this fight, as the lawyers themselves say, time is of the essence," he said. ". . . Every delay creates risks of intervening events which make more and more difficult an intelligent, speedy and democratic solution of our difficulties.

"As chief executive and as head of the Democratic party, I am unwilling to take that risk—to the country and to the party—of postponing one moment beyond absolute necessity the time when he can free from legal doubt those policies which offer a progressive solution of our problems."

The occasion was the fourth anniversary of the president's first inauguration, chosen as the celebration date for his victory of last November. Victory dinners were held throughout the country. All heard the address by radio.

Farley Introduces Him

Postmaster General Farley introduced the president.

Cheers greeted his assertion that he would make a series of speeches "if necessary" to put the court bill through.

"If we keep faith with those who had faith in us, if we would make democracy succeed, I say we must act—NOW," he said in conclusion.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Roosevelt recited the New Deal's effort to deal with the farm problem by the Agricultural Adjustment administration, and of the effort to improve labor conditions through the NRA. After each reference he asserted:

"You know who assumed the power to veto, and did veto that program."

Conditions That Exist "Now"

Again and again, he emphasized in short, emphatic sentences that the conditions which his administration seeks to correct by legislation are conditions that exist "now."

His address began with a reference to the banking crisis of his inauguration, four years ago today. And then, quickly he said.

"Now we face another crisis—of a different kind but fundamentally even more grave than that of four years ago. Tonight, I want to begin with you a discussion of that crisis."

Must Solve Pressing Problems

The Democratic party, he continued, will remain the majority party only if it solves "the pressing problems that perplex our generation." He pledged that those problems would be solved.

"After election day in 1936," he said, "some of our supporters were uneasy lest we grasp the excuse of a false era of good feeling to evade our obligations. They were worried by the evil symptom that the propaganda and the epithets of last summer and fall had died down.

"Today, however, those who placed their confidence in us are reassured. For the tumult and the shouting have broken forth anew—and from substantially the same elements of opposition.

Roar Best Evidence

"This new roar is the best evidence in the word that we have begun to move against conditions under which one-third of this nation is still ill-nourished, ill-clad, ill-housed.

"We gave warning last November that we had only begun to fight. DID some people really believe we did not mean it. Well—I meant it.

ONE FREE TICKET

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Bite by bite, the Democratic deficit dwindled tonight.

In celebration of their November victory, more than 1,500 party enthusiasts tackled a toothsome and expensive "Victory dinner" here with a zest.

The ticket of admittance, price $100, was payable on the installment plan. (Of the $100, about $5 went for the dinner, the rest to reduce the $430,000 party debt.)

The only celebrant with a free ticket was a New Yorker named F. D. Roosevelt.

Policies For Next 4 Years Are Outlined

End Of First Four Years In White House Finds Roosevelt Striking To Attain More Goals For People

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 4. — The end of his first four years in office found President Roosevelt striving today to consolidate accomplishments and attain additional goals.

In campaign speeches, messages to congress and recent actions, he has outlined these general policies for the next four years:

1. Reorganization of the Supreme court. (He contends that a more liberal interpretation of the constitution is necessary to solve many national problems).
2. New wage and hour legislation, salvaging some features of the NRA law killed by the Supreme court tribunal.
3. Continuation of benefit payments to farmers cooperating in production control through soil conservation, with new provisions for crop insurance and aid to tenants.
4. Improvement of the old age pension and unemployment insurance systems.
5. Encouragement for communities clearing slums and providing low cost housing.
6. A uniform policy concerning federal development and sale of electric power.
7. Further reduction of international trade barriers through expanded activities under the recently-extended reciprocal tariff law.
8. A flexible permanent neutrality policy.
9. Adoption by old world nations of western hemisphere "good neighbor" doctrine.

Federal Restriction Is Urged On Endorsements Over Radio

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP) — Representative Maloney (D-La) proposed a federal restriction today upon radio advertising endorsements, which he described as "an insult to the intelligence of the average citizen."

HE HAD "MONOTONITIS"

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT went on a revolt the other day. And it wasn't a revolt against anything in this world but the constant fare of liver and beans. And we imagine more men will rise up and call the President blessed than on any other stand he could have taken regarding household routine. Who of us hasn't felt a repulsion for certain dishes that we are served time and again?

The most common complaint among housewives seems to be about planning meals. "I get so sick of going to the grocery store and ordering chops and steak, carrots and cabbages," says Mrs. J. "What DO people eat, that's different, anyway?"

Well, we heard of a woman, who one quiet evening when her husband was at lodge meeting and the children were in bed, sat down with pencil and seven pieces of paper. Then she thought over all the things her family liked as a whole, with an occasional special, such as Joe's favorite gingerbread or Sally's baked beans. She marked each card for a day in the week, and then made out simple recipes for that day. She found it a great help.

And with her constantly changing menus the family forgot to call Monday "hash day" or Thursday "scalloped oyster night" or Sunday "sandwich night."

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER: With interest, I read the complaint in your column last Sunday about the young man with only one day off a week worrying about what to do with that one day! Imagine anyone with only one day out of seven to do as he pleases, worrying about what to do, and at that, it seems, only one afternoon and evening in the problem! I judge from his letter he, too, must be a newcomer, but in spite of that fact, there is plenty one can do. Apparently he hasn't found any congenial friends so he must pain to entertain himself.

I would suggest reading some fascinating magazines, books, newspapers that are available but I can immediately hear him saying "It is no fun to read all of the time"—a difference of opinion, but with reading out, why not try one of the intensely interesting hobbies. Model train building, photography, wood carving; bicycling would be ideal on these flat country roads.

There is a fencing class which I feel sure he could join and if none of these appeals to his taste, start something he would enjoy—archery would be interesting. Yes, I also know of a new woodworking group open to those interested. Don't forget the correspondence courses which could be taken either to improve or make more interesting his present job, prepare for a future job or his general knowledge. I could go on indefinitely with things that can be done in "this here town" on one's day off. I'm rather of the opinion that the young man isn't half as worried about something to do as someone to do it with—well I'm in the same boat but ideal friends are hard to find and so until I do, I'm well content with soloing and certainly have no "time" problem except that of too little to do all the interesting things I can think of to do. Another newcomer to this town.

Thank you for an interesting letter. It seems to us you listed excellent ways in which one may spend Sunday afternoons. Hiking is one you overlooked, which appeals to us.

ON BEAUTY CULTURE

WE SAID something about beauty shops the other morning and in today's mail came a clipping suggesting that many well known social workers recommend beauty culture as a definite means of restoring persons to normal social positions. Beauticians, through their daily work, play an important role in reducing the number of social service cases.

"Through beauty arts and sciences, the beauticians revive hope and build new confidence in turbulent, sometimes melancholy souls. Recently the superintendent of a state hospital for the insane in Fulton, Mo., said 'There is nothing quite like a permanent wave or a facial or eyebrow dressing to lift any woman out of the blues.'"

We imagine a shave, haircut, scalp treatment and facial massage under the expert hands of one's favorite barber could do the same thing for a man who finds himself in a fit of despondency at the close of an unusually trying day.

Educator Is Club Speaker

Dean Grayson N. Kefauver Of College Of Education Of Leland Stanford Talks To Lubbock Kiwanians

Educators of today are seeking to lead the youth of the nation out of a world of bewilderment into a field of thinking in which they can see greater opportunities of service to mankind than past ages. This was the message which Grayson N. Kefauver, dean of the college of education, Leland Stanford university, brought to the Kiwanis club Thursday noon at the Hotel Lubbock.

Himself a Kiwanian, he not only made up his attendance, but gave his audience 20 minutes of simple language phraseology that caused much discussion and thought. Dr. Kefauver is one of the speakers on the West Texas Teachers association program Friday and Saturday.

B. Sherrod, president, was in charge of the meeting. Claude Thompson, student council president at Texas Tech, announced the Matador band concert next Wednesday night and urged support by Kiwanians.

Invited To Friday Session

Walter Ruffner, co-chairman with E. L. Klett, presided over the program. Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the department of education at Texas Technological college, introduced the speaker. At the close Dr. Kenneth E. Oberholtzer superintendent of schools, invited club members to attend Friday night's program in the senior high school auditorium, where Dr. Kefauver is to speak.

Educators of America, and the world, are "giving thought and study to social conditions throughout the world," Dr. Kefauver pointed out. "We are living in a democracy and we should develop an educational program of thought that should develop men and women with ideals and loyalty."

Cites Nation's Changes

Pointing out that this nation "has been undergoing fundamental and rapid changes in the past 25 years," he cited advances in fields of science, invention and technology. Development of machines to "relieve men of the necessity of certain types of labor," was commented on, with the report that the nation is "coming back out of the depression," with a large unemployment of from eight to ten million persons.

Increased use of electrical energy in the past seven years, a gain of 20 per cent, was stressed. At the same time the development of the mechanical cotton picker, as designed by Rusk brothers, "may cause a major economic disturbance in the South." Development of celulose, as a substitute for cotton, plastic glass, also were mentioned as rapid changes due to science.

Young People Bewildered

After reading excerpts from John Dewey, philosopher; James C. Adams, writer and Theodore Dreiser, novelist, all tending to show their "confusion" in regard to modern day trends, the speaker said "our young pople are bewildered—they think the opportunities of the past age are gone." If young people are to continue to live with a sense of being defeated, the nation is "facing a serious aspect in life," he added.

Men should develop their thought, should be taught to see and think clearly on social problems and ideals, the speaker pointed out. There is too much of a tendency on the part of young people before leaving college of "thinking too much in terms of what job can I get," while a job may be important, there are other things more so, such as one's contribution to humanity, Dr. Kefauver stated.

Twenty-Five Families Named Smith Receive Mail In Terry

BROWNFIELD, March 4. (Special) The Smiths have almost captured the goat of Postmaster James Harley Dallas, lock, stock and barrel. There are so many of them, with a large proportion having similar initials to others that the postmaster and clerks are stumped.

In a circular to all the Smith families on the routes out of here, and to those in town, Mr. Dallas asks them to come to the postoffice and straighten out their correct names, initials, etc., with box numbers, street addresses and other needed information.

There are 25 families by the name of Smith receiving mail on rural routes out of Brownfield. Besides this, there are a large number of the Smith family living in town.

Allred Urges Water Treaty

Compact On Division Of Pecos River Waters Is Proposed For Ratification Between Texas, New Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 4.—Gov. James V. Allred today urged the Texas legislature to ratify promptly a proposed compact between Texas and New Mexico on division of waters of the Pecos river.

In a message, the governor explained the New Mexico legislature would adjourn shortly and probably would not pass a ratification bill unless approved by Texas.

Rep. Clyde Bradford of Grand Falls said six of seven water districts in his section opposed ratification, believing they could get a larger share of water through litigation.

The compact would provide that New Mexico would not take from the Pecos or its tributaries water to irrigate more than 76,000 acres within the "middle basin" as defined in the Pecos river compact of February 10, 1925.

Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fourth night if needed.

How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminants, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxines. Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the blood. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds.

Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

Road Work Is Progressing

WPA Projects On Highway 24 In Three Counties Showing Advancement; Few Miles On Route Unimproved

Works Progress administration projects of construction and improving of highway No. 24, operating in three counties of the 17th WPA district, are showing rapid improvement, said W. E. Burke, supervisor of the division of operation of the WPA headquarters here.

Projects in all three counties call for a caliche base to be built by Work Progress administration laborers. The projects are sponsored by the state highway department. The state department plans to place an asphalt topping on the road after the government project is complete.

Most Direct Route

When the road is complete, it will be the most direct paved road from Lubbock to the New Mexico line.

Burke, who made an inspection of operation of the project in this county Wednesday reported caliche placed on 960 feet of road that day. Beginning from the west city limits of Lubbock, the laborers are working west to the Hockley county line. More than 3 of the 10 miles to the line already have been completed.

Government laborers in Hockley county are working at the rate of 500 feet a day toward the Lubbock county line. Workers in Cochran county, working toward the New Mexico state line lack only 5 miles.

Burke reported that other road projects in the district also were progressing rapidly. Wednesday he inspected operation of road projects in Hall, Floyd and Motley counties.

Plateau Singing Convention To Be At Hale Center Sunday

(Special To The Avalanche)

HALE CENTER, March 4.—Semi-annual Plateau singing convention for Hale county will be held here Sunday, March 7, said C. M. Teague, president of the Hale County Plateau Singing convention.

President John P. Taylor, Borger and several members of the board, plan to attend, he advised Mr. Teague this week. There will also be a number of good singers on hand.

J. W. Nunn is vice president of the county convention; Mrs. C. P. Seipp, secretary; W. H. Barton, L. W. Williamson and F. A. Holcomb, board members.

The affair will be an all-day singing. Those attending should bring their baskets for lunch at noon.

All Else Failed; Gly-Cas Amazing

Every Ache And Pain Driven From Mr. Odom's Body; Stomach, Kidneys Regulated; Now Eats, Sleeps Good, Ready for Full Days Work Each Morning

"I had spent much money without results but Gly-Cas was different—it went right to the source of my health troubles," said Mr. W. O. Odom, Big Lake Road, Lake Charles, La. "For a long time I had given up my work for my health would not allow me to continue. Any kinds of food I ate would cause severe attacks of indigestion. All foods would sour, gas formed in abundance and such pains I endured after eating were almost unbearable at times. Constipation added to my discomfort, poisons filled my system and soon my kidneys were affected. The aches and pains in my back nearly crippled me and I could hardly get around. I was terribly discouraged as everything I tried seeking relief failed miserably in my case until I finally began Gly-Cas and it proved to be the very medicine I had been searching for."

MR. W. O. ODOM

"In a very short time my bowels were regulated, the poisons removed from my system and I began to eat foods of all kinds without any distress afterwards," he continued. "Indigestion, sour stomach and bloating have now gone entirely, my kidneys are acting normally and every ache and pain has left my body. I get perfect sleep each night now, wake up in the morning ready for a full day's hard work, seldom tire, have plenty of energy and feel fine. All I have to say for Gly-Cas is praise—it is the first medicine I have ever taken that did not disappoint."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. Adv.

Cabin Being Built For Slaton Scouts

SLATON, March 4. (Special)—Work was already begun here on construction of a 24x36 foot cabin for Boy Scout troops of Slaton. It is to be on public park property west of the American Legion Hut.

Meeting of the scout committee was held at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening. "Spring Program and the Scout Camps" was subject of discussion at the session.

New leaders appointed were Wade Robertson, cubmaster; Herman Carruth, assistant scout master of troop 28. K. L. Scudder was placed in charge of the camping project.

The third session of a leadership training course for scout leaders of Slaton meet at 7:30 o'clock Thursday night in the fire station. John Van Dyke is chairman of the course. About 13 to 15 leaders have been attending.

Assisting Van Dyke are Rev. C. G. Sewell, G. E. Welch, and W. P. Hartman.

HOEPPEL SEEKS PARDON

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Former Representative John J. Hoeppel of California sought clemency from President Roosevelt today after serving little more than three months of a year's sentence for conspiring to sell a West Point appointment.

Representative John Steven McGroarty of Tijunga, Calif., said Hoeppel's petition had the support of 17 members of congress, including himself.

Dam's Record Pointed Out

Norris Dam Levelled Flood Crests, Aided Navigation And Generated Power In Its First Year's Service

(By The Associated Press)

NORRIS, Tenn., March 4.—Norris Dam, $37,000,000 structure of the Tennessee Valley authority, ended a year's service today with a record of leveling flood crests, aiding navigation and generating electric power.

Within a month after President Roosevelt in Washington last March gave the signal which closed the flood gates of the 250-foot high concrete giant, the dam and the 34,000-acre reservoir it created was credited with preventing a serious flood at Chattanooga.

In June the dam's waters were released to maintain navigation on the drouth-shrunk Tennessee river.

On August 1 two 66,000-horsepower generators were placed in operation, and the electricity thus generated was distributed to valley points.

Set Of False Teeth First On Pension Tester's Buying List

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, March 4. (AP)—Aged Rufus Pack, Townsend test spender, put a set of false teeth first today on his list of what to buy.

He was awarded $200 raised by merchants as an experiment.

"As soon as I learned I would be the one to get the $200," Pack said, "I had my teeth pulled—and ordered false ones."

TRUSTY ESCAPES

HUNTSVILLE, March 4. (AP)—Demetrio Gonzales, 25, from Brownsville, escaped the Blue Ridge prison farm near Houston today.

A state-approved trusty, he was "herding birds"—scaring away crows which attack corn sprouts—when he was missed.

He was serving a four-year term from Cameron county for murder.

GALVESTON IS CHOSEN

GALVESTON, March 4. (AP)—Galveston was chosen for the 1937 convention of the Texas League of Women Voters at a meeting of the board of directors here today. The dates are April 14 and 15.

Weather Conditions Prevent McNutt's Flying To Santone

KANSAS CITY, March 4. (AP)—Paul McNutt, former governor of Indiana and newly appointed United States high commissioner to the Philippine Islands by President Roosevelt, was kept from keeping a speaking engagement in San Antonio, Tex., by adverse weather conditions. Arriving here early this morning, McNutt was unable to find flying accomodations because of the rain.

Late this afternoon McNutt started his return trip to Indianapolis by train. He was to have spoken tonight at the San Antonio victory dinner.

Houston Said 400,000 Now

Population Of Texas' Largest City Is Estimated On Total Number Of Phones; Census In 1930 Was 292,352

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, March 4.—The population of Houston was estimated at 400,000 today on the basis of increases in telephone connections.

A. L. Edmondson, division commercial superintendent of the telephone company, reported 7400 telephones were connected in the city last year, bringing the total to 79,323, not counting the 746 connected in January and the 893 in February.

Edmondson said he based his estimate of population on past studies of the ratio between population and telephones.

The 1930 census showed the city's population to be 292,352, the largest in Texas.

Population Of Greater Dallas 330,000-350,000

DALLAS, March 4. (AP)—Population has increased to a total between 330,000 and 335,000, according to a combination of chamber of commerce and Southwestern Bell Telephone company estimates revealed here Thursday. This report showed an increase of 35,000 over the last official census in 1930 and was between 13,000 and 17,000 in advance of the 1933 population estimates.

Amarillo Claims Population Of 54,789 People Today

AMARILLO, March 4. (AP)—Amarillo now has a population of 54,789, an increase of slightly more than 27 per cent over the 1930 federal census.

The estimate is made by the federal bureau of census regulations, based on the increase between 1920 and 1930, plus an increase of 2,500 by extension of the city limits. The latter figure is based on the number of water meters in subdivisions taken into corporate limits since the last census.

The estimate of 54,789 is only 461 below the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce figures, based on the number of gas, water and electric meters and the number of telephones in the city.

OLTON CC MEET

OLTON, (Special) — Charles E. Newton was advanced from second vice president to president of the Olton Chamber of Commerce at the annual election. H. P. Webb, superintendent of schools, was named first vice president; Hobson Thomas, second vice president and J. D. Strickland, re-eected secretary-treasurer.

Communist Party Received Least For Its Money

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP) — Senate investigators disclosed today that the Communist party got the least results for its money during the 1936 election campaign.

It spent $279,489, or $3.37 for every vote its presidential candidate received, the senate campaign expenditures committee reported.

Republican expenditures averaged 85 cents for each ballot cast for Alfred M. Landon, while the average Democratic vote cost 33 cents.

The lowest cost per vote was 11 cents, reported by the Union party.

Tech To Name Ugliest Boy

Degree Of Ugliness Is To Be Awarded Student Selected In Special Convocation; To Enter State Contest

Ugliness at last will share rewards with beauty on the campus of Texas Technological college.

The most beautiful co-ed may be the belle of the ball but she has never been the cause of a special convocation, nor has she received a Degree of Beauty.

The "ugliest boy on the campus" will be selected in popular balloting Saturday, March 13, and he will receive a Degree of Ugliness in a convocation the following week.

Challenge Accepted

In reply to a challenge that Tech find a boy uglier than Joe Frederick of Texas Christian university, the Toreador, Tech newspaper, will attempt to find that boy, said Jim Lindsey, Toreador editor.

TCU and Hardin-Simmons have chosen their ugliest boys in student voting.

Although plans have not been completed, someone likely will choose the ugliest person from pictures of candidates chosen in various colleges, said Lindsey. A letter from Lindsey to Robert Taylor, movie star, asked that Taylor choose the "winner."

Knapp Approves Plan

Approval of the plan to choose the Tech boy and to confer upon him a Degree of Ugliness was offered by President Bradford Knapp, an alumni of Vanderbilt university, which was conferred such degrees for more than 50 years.

The student chosen because of his ugliness always considered his selection an honor at Vanderbilt university, Doctor Knapp said. He was chosen because of his ugliness, his character, and his popularity with the student body.

The will of a professor of the university provided for gifts for ugliest boys on the campus and asked that they receive Degrees of Ugliness.

No reflection upon a student will be intended, said Lindsey. The election will be "carried on in the same spirit in which it has been conducted at TCU and Hardin," he said.

The boy chosen possibly will escort the most beautiful co-ed to a dance given in their honor, Lindsey said. The most beautiful co-ed is to be chosen by Billy Rose, New York showman, from motion pictures of 16 Tech girls. Winston Reeves, La Ventana editor, has sent the pictures to Rose.

Route Of Amelia Earhart's Proposed Flight Around World

This Associated Press map shows the route of a proposed east to west flight around the world by Amelia Earhart Putnam, "as close to the equator as I can make it." The famous woman flier, conqueror of both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, plans to start her flight at Oakland, Calif. Her route will include stops at Honolulu, Howland Island, New Guina and Darwin, Australia. Then she plans to follow the England-Australia air route before cutting across Africa, where the exact route is yet to be determined, as indicated by broken lines. She may fly the last lap from Natal to Oakland either by way of Miami or Mexico.

Arrangements For Rites Incomplete

Body of Miss Modelle Boone, 27, who died unexpectedly here Thursday, will be sent aboard train, probably today, to Arnett, Okla., for last rites of the church.

Miss Boone's mother, Mrs. Van Boone of Arnett; a sister, Mrs. Clet Nation of Arnett, and Mr. Nation were expected to arrive in Lubbock early this morning to complete arrangements, said Mrs. R. J. Williams of 1511 Main street, an aunt. Miss Boone was affiliated with the Baptist church.

Miss Boone, who had lived at 908 Avenue K, died a few minutes after noon when leaving the office of Dr. D. D. Cross after a medical examination. She had been assistant to Dr. C. C. Craig, dentist, and for two months had been suffering of a heart ailment.

Miss Boone had lived in Lubbock 8 years and formerly had been associated here with Western Union office.

Other than the parents and Mrs. Nation, the following survive: A brother Van Boone, jr., of Arnett and two sisters, Mrs Clifford Darlington of Oregon and Miss Alice Lee Boone of Arnett.

APPLICATION IS DENIED

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4. (AP)—The Interstate Commerce commission today denied the application of the Transcontinental and Western Air, inc., for permission to institute passenger and express schedules betwen Albuquerque, N. Mex., and San Francisco, Calif. The commission found the proposed service would compete with services already established in that area.

Rep. Taylor Of Colorado Is In 29th Year As Congressman

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP)—Representative Edward T. Taylor, 78-year-old Colorado lawmaker, rounded out today 28 years continuous service in congress.

The tall, rugged westerner entered his 29th congressional year at noon after a busy morning in the most important job he has ever held in the house—chairmanship of the powerful appropriations committee, which he assumed 12 days ago upon the death of Representative James P. Buchanan of Texas.

Mother And Daughter Who Won Prize On Story Found In Gas-Filled Attic Room

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Aerill Ramsey, 55, and her daughter, Alice Dean, 20, won a $50 prize on a radio program for telling "the most heart-rending personal experience of the week."

They told how they had gone down to the East river, overcome by poverty and loneliness, with the intent of "ending it all," but had been encouraged to go on living by a policeman.

Their $50 prize money paid for rent and food for more than two weeks. Then the money gave out.

On Monday, their bodies were found in a gas-filled attic room for which they had paid their last $3.

Noah's Ark was approximately one-half the size of the modern Leviathan, it is said.

WOMEN WHO ARE AILING

MANY women both young and middle-aged suffer from periodic pains in side or back, from nervousness, irritability and discomforts associated with minor functional disturbances, some from "heat flashes," they should take that vegetable tonic favorably known for nearly 70 years as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It stimulates the appetite and this increases the intake of food, helping to build up the body. Read this: Mrs. J. W. Spohr of 709 W. 26th St., Texarkana, Texas, said: "For weak women, and to relieve nervousness associated with functional disturbances, I heartily recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic." HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Caused by Tired Kidneys

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, headaches, loss of pep, and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffy under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Crime Denied By Aged Man

Sheriff From Pineville, Ky., Is Expected Here Today To Identify 82-Year-Old Man As Accused Slayer

In the face of protests he never was in the state of Virginia, an 82-year-old man known as "J. H. Jones" today probably will be confronted by Sheriff James W. Riding of Pineville, Ky., who had asked that Green Allen Brooks, "alias J. H. Jones," be detained in connection with a murder indictment voted against Brooks by Lee county, Va.

"Jones" was arrested here Wednesday by Sheriff Tom Abel, who was informed that night Riding was en route to Lubbock to interview the man.

Have To Go Back

"I'll have to go back; I ain't got money to fight anything," said the aged man.

"I don't know nothing about it; it's entirely out of my sight," he said.

The Associated Press said that Brooks has been indicted in Lee county for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Arch Redmond and County Policeman Bob Bailey in the summer of 1935. The news agency said the men were killed when a son-in-law of Brooks was being arrested on a worthless check charge.

Never Been Married

This man who said his name is Jones declared he had never been married. Because, he added, he had seen "so much trouble" in others' families.

The patriarch said he didn't sleep well Wednesday night. The wind and rain kept him awake, not the fact that he was under arrest, he added.

He was "catching up" on his rest when he was interviewed in the presence of Sheriff Abel.

Jones is 6 feet 1 inch tall. His nose is aquiline, his grey eyes are clear, his mustache almost black, his beard iron-gray. The front of his head is bald, but the remainder of his head is covered with thick, graying hair.

Teeth Gold-Capped

Several of his upper, front teeth are gold-capped.

Letters found in the aged man's possession are being held for Sheriff Ridings. One letter, Sheriff Abel said he believed, is significant. That letter reads in part:

"Lauriel Co. H. S-f (high sheriff?) was here looking two weeks ago. Just got the news. I suppose from the talk. No description tho, except age, heit, and tooth. Probably watching P. O., I was hinted at."

The word "tooth" was heavily underlined. Was the reference, Sheriff Abel wondered, to gold-capped teeth?

The letter further informed J. H. Jones, to whom it was addressed, that a man had "kilt Geo. Brittain and one of the Eads and tried to get Walt Nevils. Walt's house was blown up later, but didn't get Walt."

Another Is Quoted

"Write when necessary" was the closing statement. The letter was signed "H. F."

Another letter, signed "Dora," told of less exciting events:

"Looking for a new calf. Got 2 hens set. Get from 15 to 20 eggs a day."

One letter to "J. H. Jones" was mailed in Pineville, Ky., Nov. 10, 1936.

The aged man on Thursday declared he had never been in Pineville. He had known his correspondent, he explained, when they helped dig the foundation for a railway roundhouse at Corbin, Ky., 35 years ago.

Knife In Possession

A long-bladed knife, found in the man's possession, had been given to him by a former employer in Frio county, Tex., he said. The knife had the name "J. H. Jones" stamped on it.

"I never tried to dodge; I had nothing to dodge," he said.

The suspect said he was born in the Smoky mountains "in North Carolina or Tennessee" in 1855. He said he had "drifted west."

In his wanderings, however, "I was never in the state of Virginia," he said.

Rats Prove Minor Concern Of Woman On "Sit-Down"

ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 4. (AP)—Rats are a minor concern to Mrs. Mildred E. Agness, 35-year-old alimony "sit-downer" who began a second-day siege of her husband's dry cleaning shop determined to remain if she had "to fight tigers" to do it.

Mrs. Agness prepared to sleep on a table despite the warning that the shop was "infested" with sewer rats at night.

Mrs. Agness, mother of a four-year-old boy, started her sit-down yesterday to force her husband, Howard Agness, to pay $100 she claims due her for support of herself and her son under a separation order obtained Oct. 5, 1936.

Whiteface Men Return From Fishing Trip In Old Mexico

Four Whiteface men, E. V. Burton, C. C. Scott, Claude Bowden and J. O. Brown, returned yesterday from a fishing trip down on the Don Martin dam in Old Mexico, bringing with them proof of their fishing prowess.

Nine huge catfish, ranging from 35 to 40 pounds each, were carried in a trailer. They caught a lot of bass, two and three pounders, but ate them instead of bringing them back.

The party left Friday, February 26. They camped along the river and on a lake, about 110 miles south of the border. In fishing for the catfish, perch was used as bait.

Smoking is almost general among Russian women.

"Very Superior Camp" Rating Given After CCC Inspection

Inspecting officers here Thursday consider the Lubbock Civilian Conservation corps camp a "very superior camp," they told Capt. Chas. M. Krausse following a monthly inspection.

Capt. Tom B. Martin, district executive officer, has announced the Lubbock camp as winner of the banner for the best camp in the district of eight camps again this month. The camp has won the banner three consecutive months.

Sloan Gives Out Message

Labor Relations Principles To Be Followed By Company Set Out By General Motors President Thursday

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 4.—Alfred P. Sloan, jr., president of General Motors corporation, today addressed a message to all employes emphasizing the principles of labor relations to be followed by the company under the settlement of the recent sit-down strike.

Explaining "how we stand today," Sloan summed up as follows:

"1. General Motors agrees to deal with the United Automobile Workers union, only so far as its own members are concerned.

Not For All Workers

"2. General Motors has not recognized, and will not recognize, any union as speaking for all its workers, in any plant.

"3. The privilege of joining or not joining any union is a matter entirely of your personal choice.

"4. You do not have to pay tribute to anybody to hold a job in a General Motors plant. I told you that in my message of January 5th. That still holds good."

Sloan also asked particular attention to his statement, stressed in italics in the printed address:

"The increase of wages you received in going back to work had nothing to do with the negotiations."

Beware The Cough
From a common cold
That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Wild Cherry and Menthol, but also has fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

Repeal Of Horse Race Betting Law In Texas Virtually Conceded By Opponents

Senate Looks Favorably On House Action

State Law-Makers Would Get Along Without $500,000 In Tax Receipts To See Legal Wagering Abolished

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 4.—Legalized betting on horse races in Texas suffered a major blow in the legislature today and both friends and opponents said it apparently was headed for the discard.

In a surprising coup, advocates of repealing the state law which legalized pari-mutuel wagering in 1933 brought up the issue as the senate was nearing the noon recess, attached a repeal amendment to a non-controversial measure and engrossed the bill, 20 to 8.

A four-fifths vote necessary for final passage was lacking, but the measure probably will come up next week, and should the senate pass it concurrence by the house of representatives in the amendment would be final except for signature by Governor Allred.

The house recently voted 107 to 24, for repeal, and Governor Allred not only has urged it, but sat on the senate floor and sent up a message at a critical point which led to a break in the parliamentary maneuvering.

Effective June 1

In committee hearings on the issue testimony was given that repeal would result in closing tracks, of which Texas has several large ones, valued at millions of dollars. Tax revenue amounting to approximately $500,000 annually also would be lost.

If the senate mustered one more vote on final passage, the house also concurred by a two-thirds majority and the governor signed, the bill would be effective June 1 under a provision written in it.

The fire-works broke after the senate began consideration of a house bill requiring that a percentage of race track employes be native Texans and Senator G. H. Nelson of Lubbock offered the amendment to outlaw horse race betting, demanding immediate action. He asserted the people wanted repeal and argument would not change a single vote. Senator Rawlings of Fort Worth urged delay to permit a full hearing.

"If you put the tracks out of business," Rawlings said, "you strike down taxed and regulated racing and turn the bookies loose. More than $12,000,000 has been invested in racing in this state, and it is not fair to take a man's property away from him without giving him his day in court."

"Local Option" Voted Down

A motion to recess was rejected, and the senate then voted down, 9 to 19, a substitute by Rawlings to permit betting on races where favored by local option.

When Senator Weaver Moore of Houston raised the point that the bill could not be taken up except by four-fifths vote because it had not been submitted as an emergency, Governor Allred hastily prepared a special message submitting it.

Should the bill be finally adopted, legalized horse race betting would go out as it came in, by means of a rider to a bill on another subject. Four years ago it was authorized by an amendment to an appropriation measure attached in a conference committee.

Other bills pending provide for prohibiting book-making and betting on dog races.

Patty Berg Advances Toward Finals In Florida Tourney

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., March 4. (AP)—The breaks helped Patty Berg advance to the semi-finals of the Florida East Coast women's golf tournament today.

Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., the co-favorite, had things easier. She ousted Goldie Bateson of Milwaukee by the convincing margin of 5 to 3.

Patty won on the last green from Helen Dettweiler of Washington after being two down at the turn.

Her opponent tomorrow, Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C., came through with an upset victory over stately Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., 5 and 4.

Dorothy Traung of San Francisco, the other semi-finalist, came from behind to win, 2 and 1, over Mrs. William Hockinjos, jr., of Lake Hopatcong, N. J.

Baseball And Beer Keep The Colonel Busy; Bachelor Ruppert, At 69, "To Keep Yankees As Long As I Am Well"

By SCOTTY RESTON

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, immaculate in a gayly checked suit and tie, sat in his oak panelled brewery office today and discussed the past, present and future of his New York Yankees.

In the past he recalled a lot of fun and strange deals. In the present, he has one throbbing headache named Henry Lou Gehrig. In the future—"Well, you get prepared for anything," he said, "but I plan to keep the Yankees as long as I'm well."

At 69, Bachelor Ruppert is indeed well. And between beer and baseball, he is the "busiest man in town." Every morning he is at his desk at eight.

"I never break this habit," he said. "Baseball has been my diversion from this routine. I've had my headaches in this business, but the pleasure by far overshadows the trouble."

"I've never beaten down a ball player in my life," he said quietly. "When Lefty Gomez was in here, I told him I'd much rather pay him $25,000 a year than $12,500. If he were a $25,000 pitcher, he'd be a lot better investment." (Gomez signed his contract yesterday.)

He recalled that he tried to buy the New York Giants and was offered the Chicago Cubs, before buying the Yankees in 1915 for $400,000. Right now, the Yankees are valued at around $7,000,000.

Longhorns Defeat Farmers, 37 To 29

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The University of Texas and Texas A. & M. college completed their basketball seasons here tonight in a rough game which saw the Longhorn cagers emerge with a clear-cut 37 to 29 victory.

The game meant nothing so far as Southwest conference rivalry was concerned, both teams finishing in the lower bracket of the standings and Southern Methodist having long ago annexed the championship.

The traditional rivalry between the state schools, however, added flash to the tilt, particularly when the Aggies rallied in closing minutes to come within five points of the rampaging Longhorns after the latter had spurted off to a 12-point lead at the start of the second half.

Runoff May Be Necessarily To Settle U. S. Bird Dog Title

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., March 4. (AP)—A runoff race to declare a national bird dog champion appeared probable tonight with but two casts remaining and mediocrity ruling today's three races.

Trial judges ordered Tip's Manitoba Jake, owned by Mrs. Glenna Collet Vare of Philadelphia, and Shanghai Express from the Kennels of G. M. Livingston of New York City, held in reserve for a possible second series. Observers expressed the opinion that at least one and possibly two more dogs might get a runoff call.

Wilmer Hines Turns Actor But Retains Amateur Right

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 4. (AP) — Wilmer Hines, one of the nation's ranking amateur tennis players has turned actor but it will not jeopardize his amateur standing, Warner Brothers studio announced today.

Mervyn Leroy, director-producer, has cast Hines for the role of a southern youth in the forthcoming film production "The Deep South," but since the part has nothing to do with tennis Hines was able to accept it and go on with his amateur competition, Leroy declared.

Dickey Signs Yank Contract Leaving 3 In Holdout Ranks

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP) — Manager Joe McCarthy, playing the role of mediator, today signed Bill Dickey to an $18,000 New York Yankee contract.

This represented a $3,500 raise for Dickey over last year, and left the holdout roster with only three names: Outfielder Joe Di Maggio, Pitcher Red Ruffing and Movie Actor Lou Gehrig.

West Texas Champ Sets Pace In Ace Club; Shoots Two

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Two holes-in-one by the same player in one month figure prominently in 1937's initial roundup of the second annual Associated Press' hole-in-one club members.

The Lion's share of the inaugural honors go to Morris Norton of Wichita Falls, Tex., who already has two aces to his credit. The West Texas champion hung up his first ace of the year on Jan. 16 when he negotiated the 215 yards of the Wichita Falls Country club 10th hole with his driver. On Feb. 14, he celebrated St. Valentine's day by acing the 214-yard No. 1 hole on the same course with a brassie.

The sixth hole of the Gasparilla (Fla.) Inn golf course and the 8th hole of the Woodlawn course at Oklahoma City were the most vulnerable for the club's eighteen charter members of 1937. Donald Witten and Tempie Holder, both of Oklahoma City, aced the 105-yard hole on the southwestern course. Ted Smith, the home pro, and P. B. McBrier of Erie, Pa., holed their tee shots on the 135-yard 6th at Gasparilla, both on Feb. 26.

Other 1937 charter members:

Ted Tipps of Lubbock; A. J. Leforte, Harlingen, Tex., 15th hole, 170 yards Harlingen municipal course.

Ray Brubaker Is To Manage Vicksburg In Cotton States

ALAMEDA, Calif., March 4. (AP)—Ray Brubaker, former player manager and umpire in the Pacific Coast league, has been named manager of the Vicksburg club in the Cotton States league, he disclosed today.

Vicksburg is a Chicago White Sox farm. Its players are recruited mostly from the Dallas Texas League club, main link in the White Sox chain. Brubaker will leave Sunday for the Dallas camp to begin assembling talent.

Brubaker served with Oakland for 15 years, the last two as manager, before taking a whirl at umpiring.

Bobby Jones To Face Rough Field In 4th Augusta Open

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Bob Jones, abdicated king of knickered knights, will stack up against perhaps the strongest field of his career when he strides out on his lone annual competitive outing in the fourth Augusta, Ga., open golf tournament April 1-4.

Lanky Horton Smith, who won the 1934 inaugural and last year's tournament, and Gene Sarazen of the famous "double eagle" which enabled him to tie Craig Wood at 282 and then win the playoff in '35 probably will be among the heavily-backed favorites.

BAGGS TO TRINITY

WAXAHACHIE, March 4. (AP) — Alvah Boggs, alumnus and former assistant coach, will be Trinity university's new football coach, president Frank Wear has announced.

Boggs is now coach of the Waxahachie High school gridders. He was on the Trinity coaching staff from 1932 to 1935.

Eight Cage 5s Ready To Open State Tourney

Carey, Region 1 Champion, To Play Dublin In First Game At University Of Texas Gym Today; Finals Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 4.—Eight bands of interscholastic league basketeers, full of desire to win the state championship, were due here tomorrow.

Small town teams predominated among the survivors of county district and regional meets, with Carey, representing the Amarillo district, the lone repeater of last year's state finals. The Cardinals finished fourth in 1936.

The tournament will begin at 2 p. m. with a clash between Carey and Dublin, to be followed with the Harlingen-Polytechnic of Fort Worth tilt at 3:15 p. m.

The Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio-Gober game was slated for 7:15 p. m. and the first round's concluding contest between Fort Stockton and Livingston for 8:30 p. m.

Saturday morning will see the semi-finals with the finals to be preceded by a battle for third place honors, slated for Satuday night.

J. W. "Ziggy" Sears, Abb Curtis and L. R. "Dusty" Boggess, Southwest conference officials, will handle the tourney.

Dick Metz Shoots 63 To Take Lead In Hollywood Go

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 4. (AP) Smiling Dick Metz of Chicago sailed around a windy golf course today in 63 strokes to forge to the front of the Hollywood Open field.

It gave young Metz 132 for the halfway mark.

Ky Laffoon of Chicago had a 36-hole total of 136 and a tie for second place with Johnny Farrell and Jimmy Hines of New York. One stroke behind them at 137 was Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., who shot a 66.

Johnny Revolta of Chicago, the opening round leader with 66, tied at 138 with Walter Scheiber of New York, Byron Nelson of Reading, Pa., and Jack Patroni of Shawnee, Pa., stood next at 139.

BARON CATCHER QUITS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 4. (AP) Pennant hopes of the Birmingham Barons received a major setback today with the announcement Joe Palmisano, veteran catcher, had decided to devote all his time to business interests in West Point, Ga. He played with Atlanta and the Philadelphia Athletics before coming here.

Scribes Have Little Fun In Giants' Camp

BY PAUL MICKELSON

HAVANA, March 4. (AP)—The saddest fellows in the baseball writing business are the scribblers who follow the training camp activities of Bill Terry and his New York Giants.

Gay Havana offers plenty of amusement for the wee hours, but Terry has ruined the pleasure of work for the authors by surrounding himself with a body of strong, silent men who drink nothing much stronger than water and create about as much confusion as a room jammed with checker players.

They Play Bridge

Terry and his men think of nothing but baseball. They get up early, work out only in the mornings and then lounge around the hotel lobby or saunter away to a room for a quiet, dignified game of bridge.

The players refuse to say much to give their right name and official baseball age. Ask them for an opinion and they'll suggest politely that you see Terry.

Here in Havana, the National league champs are called the Gigantes, Spanish for Giants. They like it better than "Jernts," as they are called in flatbush.

What A Park!

No one ever has hit a homer over the fence at Tropical park, training grounds of the Giants, although Larrupin' Lou Gehrig of the Yankees offered to wager $1,000 at even money he could do so if someone paid his transportation to Havana. The park measures: right field 398 feet, centerfield 492 feet, and left field 498 feet—a pretty good country sock.

Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis would sprout five new grey whiskers and issue some manifestoes if he attended Giant exhibition games because bookmakers rush up and down the grandstand aisles making bets on everthing from home runs to strikeouts to pop fouls with legal permission.

Houston Club Favored To Cop T.A.A.F. Cage Championship

FORT WORTH, March 4. (AP) — The defending champions, second Presbyterians of Houston, are favored today to win the T. A. A. F. basketball tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Austin, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Dallas, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, Springtown, Beaumont, Avoca, Corpus Christi, Laredo, Waco, Galveston and El Paso have fast teams entered.

Texas Catholic League To Hold Annual Meet Saturday

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 4. (AP) Annual meeting of the Texas Catholic Interscholastic league will be held Saturday afternoon at Central Catholic High school in San Antonio, the Rev. Albert Schreiber of Corpus Christi College-Academy, president, announced today.

The session is held each year in conjunction with the state Catholic basketball tournament sponsored by St. Mary's university.

Experts Forecast Tough Year For Sports Champs

Garden Plans Braddock Suit

New York Crowd Is To Charge Champ With 'Anticipatory Breach Of Contract' Next Week In Federal Court

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Madison Square Garden will press its claim on heavyweight boxing champion Jim Braddock for a title bout against Max Schmeling by charging him with "anticipatory breach of contract," it was learned today.

Federal court action, seeking to enjoin the champion from ignoring his June 3 date with Schmeling and meeting Joe Louis in Chicago on June 22, will be instituted next week, according to Leonard Moore of the Garden's law firm, Chadbourne, Wallace, Parke and Whiteside.

Tech Gridders To Help ABC Members In Uniform Drive

Fourteen football players of Texas Technological college are to attend the American Business club luncheon today and will join ABC members in the ticket sales drive for the Tech band concert to be given March 10.

Beginning this afternoon, they will accompany members of the club in visits to sell tickets. Proceeds from the concert will be used to buy new uniforms for the band. Approximately $2,400 is needed.

Approximately $1,650 has been procured from ticket sales among Tech students and faculty, said Claude Thompson, student council president. ABC members, who are sponsoring the concert, have secured several hundred dollars through sales, said Dr. M. M. Ewing.

Football players to help in sales are: Charlie Duval, Demp Cannon, Herschel Ramsey, Fred Byrd, Jim Neill, Tox Wiginton, Pete Owens, George Winters, Ralph Balfanz, Leslie Browning, J. W. West, Winford Baze, Elmer Tarbox, and Raymond Curlman.

Bigger Conservation Plan Is Urged At Wild Life Meeting

ST. LOUIS, March 4. (AP) — A broader international waterfowl conservation program was urged today at the closing session of the North American Wildlife conference by Hoyes Lloyd, superintendent of the wildlife protection work in Canadian national parks.

"Canada is doing its part in conserving wildlife resources, especially waterfowl, but adequate protection for migratory birds is necessary in both the United States and Canada," he said.

Don Budge Picked To Take Perry's Place In Tennis

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP) — It looks like a bad year for champions on most major fronts of sports competition, if the expert gaze into the crystall ball offers an accurate line on the 1937 prospects.

Final tabulation today of opinions by a nationally representative group of sports editors, in a poll conducted by the Associated Press, shows the University of Washington's eight-oared crew joining the Yankees, world baseball champions, as the only title-holding choices to repeat.

The United States is picked to defend the historic America's Cup in yacht racing but there's a new defender, Ranger, now under construction to meet this year's challenge to T. O. M. Sopwith, the British sportsman.

They Like Budge

The biggest choice to scale title heights seems to be California's red-headed tennis ace, Don Budge. Exactly 43 out of 46 sports editors named Budge to succeed Fred Perry, the Britisher who turned pro this winter, as American singles champion.

A total of 18 experts picked the states to recapture Davis Cup in tennis, while 16 selected Germany, 10 picked Australia, three supported England's cup-keeping chances, and put the finger on France.

Omaha's Johnny Goodman enjoyed a narrow edge over champion Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, 18 votes to 16, for the National Amateur golf title tournament, to be held at Portland, Ore.

Here's the summarized outcome of the Poll otherwise:

U. S. Women's tennis: Helen Jacobs to regain National singles.

Heavyweight boxing: Joe Louis to dethrone Jim Braddock.

U. S. Open golf: Harry Cooper, 1936 runner-up, top-heavy choice.

American League baseball: Yankees.

National League baseball: Cardinals.

Kentucky Derby: Pompoon, winter book choice.

Bobby Riegel Leads Small Field In Galveston Joust

GALVESTON, March 4. (AP) — Bobby Riegel, former University of Virginia star and now a resident of Beaumont, led a small but compact field through the qualifying round of the second annual Galveston Invitation tournament here today by posting a 73 over the difficult par 72 Galveston municipal course.

Three sixteen-man flights qualified for match play, which starts tomorrow.

Happy Lenz, Galveston golfer, came next with 39-35—74, a stroke ahead of Jimmie McGonagill of Dallas and Nat Breedlove of Houston who posted 75s.

Oklahoma And Hollywood 5s Big Favorites

Bartlesville, With Hyatt And Fortenberry, Loom Stronger In National AAU Cage Joust In Denver March 14-20

DENVER, March 4. (AP) — Four teams against the field is the way the championship drive in the National A. A. U. basketball tournament here March 14-20 shapes up at present.

Although conceding anything can happen in so unpredictable a sport as the cage marathon, experts along Basketball row have agreed on these four teams as pre-meet favorites:

Bartlesville Oilers, Missouri Valley A. A. U. league champions.

Hollywood Stars, comprising five Olympic performers.

Denver Safeways, Missouri Valley runnersup.

Kansas City Trials, Missouri Valley third place team.

If tested and experienced players were the sole gauge of basketball success, Bartlesville and Hollywood could clash for the national title right now.

The Missouri Valley kingpins are topheavy with talent—Charley Hyatt, one of the nation's best known players; Omar (Bud) Browing, Ray Ebling, Joe Fortenberry, Jay Wallenstrom and Jack Ragland.

Fortenberry and Ragland were elected to the Olympic team. Wallenstrom, Fortenberry and Browning were placed on the All-America team at last year's tournament here.

Five of the players who helped the Universal team win the Olympic tournament title in New York and subsequently won Olympic team berths are in the present Hollywood lineup. These are Carl Knowles, Art Mollner, Frank Lubin, Carl Shy and Duane Swanson.

The Californians have added to their ranks Jack Hupp, former University of Southern California star.

INDIANA MARKSMAN WINS

KANSAS CITY, March 4. (AP) — Phil Miller of French Lick, Ind., won the Class A honors in the interstate target cup open shoot today. Miller's score was 91.

Class A honors were won by Ed Luyben of Nashville, Tenn., with a 90.

Registration Is Picking Up

Automobile Licenses Being Obtained, 350 Purchased In First 4 Days Of March; Data On Cars Is Requested

Business is "picking up in the automobile registration department of the county tax assessor-collector's office since first of March with 350 passenger vehicles and 22 commercial vehicles having been registered, according to figures released yesterday.

A total of 100 out-of-state cars have been registered for the remainder of the 1936 period which terminated April 1 of this year. Cars with out-of-state licenses which expire before April 1, expiration date for Texas licenses, are required to register in Texas for the period lasting until April 1.

From New Mexico, California

Most of the out-of-state cars registered were from New Mexico and California. New Mexico automobile licenses expired Feb. 1. and California tags Feb. 4. Licenses are good in any state as long as they are good in the state in which they were obtained, members of the highway patrol pointed out.

As part of a nation-and state-wide survey being taken by the United States Bureau of Public Roads and the Texas Highway department, a questionnaire is being given car owners by Miss Addie Fisher at the courthouse.

Data Is Required

Although no name is required on the questionnaire, the near-exact location of the residence is asked. Make of car, amount of registration fee, whether or not a new car was purchased within the last year, miles traveled during the last year, number traveled in Texas, average miles per gallon, and occupation of owner are items of information asked.

Blanks giving the information may be mailed without postage to the Bureau of Public Roads at the postoffice or they may be left at the desk of Miss Fisher.

Officials of the tax office have announced registration of automobiles may be made during the noon hour or shortly after 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The office will remain open at these times to accommodate persons who are unable to come to the office at any other time, pointed out Deputy Collector H. B. Bryan.

Plea That Temporary Homes Be Given Children Is Made By Lubbock Children's Home

A plea that accommodations in the residence of Lubbock persons be made for two children whose mother is ill and not able to care for them, Thursday night was made by Mrs. W. T. Milam, who directs a children's home at 1107 Twenty-fourth street.

"One is 4 and the other 8 years old," she said. "The younger could be cared for in the country, but the older attends school. Both could have been handled in the children's home except for the fact that institution is crowded. Necessity for giving the children a home would not be for long—only until a physician pronounces the mother able to reassume her work. That probably will be four or five weeks."

Completion Of Investigation Of Pension Claims By April 1

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP) — W. A. (Jack) Little, acting director of the old age assistance commission, foresaw today early completion of all original investigations numbering approximately 214,000.

He said only the Houston and Texarkana districts remained to be investigated.

"The purely mechanical process of certifying the investigators' reports will be completed soon, and by April 1 all applicants who have not yet heard from their applications will have been notified whether or not they are eligible to receive assistance," Little said.

"Matters Of Mutual Interest" To Be Talked In Tete-A-Tete

TORONTO, March 4. (AP)—Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King, invited to a White House tete-a-tete with President Roosevelt, primed himself today for a discussion of what he termed "matters of mutual interest to the United States and Canada."

The Canadian executive declined to elaborate on the subjects likely to come up in the White House talk tomororw.

Labor Leader To Be Named

Successor To John J. Conley As Secretary To Be Elected By State Federation; May Name Reilly Again

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 4.—The executive board of the Texas Federation of Labor will meet in Austin March 14 to elect a successor to John J. Conley, resigned secretary.

Wallace Reilly of Austin, former secretary, has been reported as likely to return to the position. Reilly resigned to accept appointment as a member of the state unemployment compensation commission but the senate failed to confirm him.

A group of labor leaders conferred yesterday on business including plans for the next election expected to be made public at the federation's convention in Tyler May 17. The group included W. B. Arnold of San Antonio, president.

Rep. Buchanan Chose Work For Two Months Rather Than Retirement From Committee

WASHINGTON, March 4. (AP) — Representative Jones (D-Tex) told the house today that the late Representative Buchanan of Texas chose to continue as appropriations committee chairman even after his doctors said it probably meant death.

Today was the 24th anniversary of Buchanan's oath-taking as a house member.

Jones said the appropriations chairman was told by physicians that retirement from the strenuous duties of his job likely would mean that he would live several years more. Otherwise, the doctors said, he might live no longer than two months.

"After studying a few minutes he gave them his decision," Jones related. "He said he would take the two months because he had no desire to live uselessly."

ICE JAM BREAKING

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., March 4. (AP)—Niagara's great ice jam began breaking up today.

The water flow over the American falls, which were partly dry yesterday, increased nearly to normal, and holes appeared in the ice sheet in th lower gorge. This sheet has been estimated by rivermen to be 40 to 60 feet thick.

State Deaths

DR. GEO. L. BABER

WINNSBORO, March 4. (AP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Dr. George L. Baber, 60, former member of the state medical board, who died here Wednesday.

Gov. O. B. Colquitt appointed Baber on the state board in 1911.

Born near Atlanta, Ga., Doctor Baber received his medical degree from the University of Atlanta. He came to Texas in 1900. For many years he operated the Baber hospital in Winnsboro. He had been in failing health for several years.

MRS. ROBT. M. LEE

COLLEGE STATION, March 4. (AP)—Funeral rites for Mrs. Robert M. Lee, wife of Lieut. Lee, United States army air corps, were held here today at the residence of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. O. M. Ball.

Mrs. Lee, born on the Texas A. and M. campus in 1908, attended the University of Texas and was prominent in school affairs.

She died at her Barksdale field, Shreveport, La., home yesterday.

Her father, eminent biologist, has been head of the school of biology for years and has been a member of the Texas A. and M. faculty since 1903.

Two Negroes Fined Thursday In Actions In County Court

Fine of $5 and costs Thursday was assessed April Barton, negro woman, by a county court jury. She had pleaded not guilty of simple assault.

E. A. Blair was defense counsel. By typographical error, the Evening Journal had said D. A. (Judge Daniel A.) Blair represented the woman.

Clyde Taylor, 19-year-old negro who had entered a plea of guilty of theft, was fined $1 and costs. In lieu of payment, he was remanded to custody, said the sheriff's department. He had been arrested Wednesday by Don Reeder and Lewis Kittrell, respectively police identifications officer and patrolman.

Firm To Resume Business In Texas; Privilege Is Paid For

AUSTIN, March 4. (AP)—The state insurance department confirmed today announcement the Equitable Life Assurance society had re-entered business in Texas.

R. L. Daniel, life insurance commissioner, said it was the first foreign life company to resume Texas business in the last 10 or 12 years and paid $417,845 in back taxes on Texas premiums for the privilege.

Officials of the company had announced in New York resumption of Texas operations after absence due to enactment of the Robertson law in 1907. That act requires foreign companies to make substantial Texas investments.

Threat Of Rain Is Hanging Over Coronation Day

LONDON, March 4. (AP)—The threat of rain, with its attendant possibility of financial loss, plagued Great Britain today as it cast a collective eye at the weather for Coronation day—even though it is more than two months away.

Everyone from King George VI down to his lowliest subject who will fight for a glimpse of the procession was hoping against hope that May 12 would be dry.

But, just drying out after the wettest winter in years, they didn't really have much hope, and an average Englishman, after a glance at the weather on May 12 for the past 25 years, passed along this tip to America:

"If you are coming to the Coronation, don't forget your raincoat, overshoes and umbrella."

Egyptian Police Ordered To Attack Monastery Where Monks Barricaded

(By The Associated Press)

CAIRO, Egypt, March 4.—The Egyptian government today ordered police to attack a desert monastery where embattled monks have been on a "stay-in" strike for months, refusing to admit either church or civil authorities.

The monks, of the Coptic faith, refuse to leave the monastery of Deri-el-Moharrak, near Assiut, unless the present abbot is dismissed.

The local governor was directed to send a large force of police to the monastery, which is built like a fortress, surrounded by a 15-foot wall and bulwarked by massive steel doors. The police were ordered to avoid bloodshed if possible but to retaliate if attacked and to take the monastery "at all costs."

The monks are armed and have a large supply of food.

Hats "Cuckoo" Paris Won't Wear American Styles

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—More women wear "cuckoo" hats in America than in any other country, Miss Lillian Fischer, Hollywood fashion expert, said today.

"In the old days they used to have 'cuckoo' hats in Paris, which no American woman would wear," she said.

"Now the opposite is true. Paris is more conservative."

She quoted an American milliner as saying, "I have made some terrible hats, but some women like terrible hats. If Paris says hats will be high, they want them still higher."

Bodies On Rockslide Victims Sought; New Slides Feared

POLSON, Mont., March 4. (AP)—Fifty rescue workers entered narrow, deep Flathead canyon early today in search of the bodies of seven men crushed and buried nearly 24 hours earlier by a rock avalanche which thundered down on them while they worked at a dam site.

Officials of the construction company building the dam, still fearful new slides might engulf the rescuers, permitted them to enter the canyon only after other workers had blasted away loose dirt and rocks overhanging the death spot.

Directors To Be Petitioned To Adopt Names For Halls

A petition that the board of directors of Texas Technological college accept "Paul W. Horn hall" and "Mary W. Doak hall" as names for the men's and women's dormitories, respectively, has been prepared by the student council, said Claude Thompson, council president.

In balloting sponsored by the Toreador, student newspaper, Horn and Doak were chosen as names for the buildings.

The council met last night at the college. It discussed ticket sales for the Tech band concert to be given March 10.

The Real Facts Are Needed

IN urging the passage of laws to regulate minimum wages, hours and number of work days per week, President Roosevelt is again attempting to solve that bugaboo of depression—unemployment.

In trying to solve unemployment, the President is following out one of the pledges he made the voters. He is to be commended for his efforts and he deserves the sympathetic ear and aid of his fellow countrymen.

It occurs to us, however, that if there were available to both the President and the public all the actual facts concerning unemployment, the problem could be solved easier and quicker. As things stand now, and have stood all along, no one knows exactly "where we're at" in the matter of getting as many persons back to work as is humanly possible.

There is no lack of statistics in this country, but there are too many that will not bear close inspection. If those could be eliminated which lack responsible authority, but which may be suspected of serving the purposes of propaganda, our stock of worthwhile information would not be depleted.

Those who are contending that all industrial activity should be confined to six hours a day, five days a week, estimate the number of unemployed at about 9,000,000. Nobody seems to be at pains to explain just what these figures mean. If there are so many out of work, how many want work? How many are unemployed? How many are men? How many are women? How many are in pressing need of employment? How many can get along nicely without jobs?

These and many other questions are pertinent to the problems that arise out of unemployment. There are no answers that could be called authoritative.

Usually government statistics are of dubious value save as satisfying curiosity as to conditions prevailing months or years ago. The fact-finding agencies of the government for the most part are very low-geared.

The government should know accurately week by week everything worth knowing about unemployment. If great economic policies and revolutionary changes are to be proposed, they should not be based on guesswork.

The government has plenty of money to spend on dams, bridges and ornate markers showing where the trail of Chief Mugwum crossed the Okobeegee river. Certainly it should have money to spend on an up-to-the-minute statistical department, efficiently operated, which could, at a moment's notice, inform the President and the public on the state of unemployment.

No one knows and no one has ever known all we need to know about the very serious question of unemployment.

It occurs to The Morning Avalanche that since we can't get the facts any sooner, we should start now in trying to get them as soon as possible.

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"Mr. Mahon writes he is corresponding with the proper mail officials and says he will do all within his power to help us, and hopes our service will soon be better," The Richards twins state in the Ropes Plainsman about a reply to their kick on mail service for that town. "Our opinion is," explains W. D. Starcher in the Dickens County Times, "that while America's financial assistance in the World war was intended as an act of gratitude, it has resulted in a bundle of 'I.O.U.'s' which European countries want us to forget."

"Dust-laden winds aren't the only ones that are blowing this month," J. C. Smyth declares in the Scurry County Times. "Political winds are already beating the U. S. mails. One day this week the postman brought a reprinted page from a South Texas weekly in which it was declared that the "Andrew Mellon Democrats are backing Walter Woodul for attorney-general of Texas.' Another brought the comment from Austin that the 1938 gubernatorial race is already warming."

THE CROOKEDEST RAILROAD

The Darjeeling-Himalayan Railway, running between Siliguri and Darjeeling, India, a distance of 51 miles, is about the most unusual I have ever ridden on. The little trains struggle mmore than 7,000 feet up hill over the narrow-gauge tracks, never going in a straight line for more than a hundred feet or so, constantly winding around the innumerable curves, loops and switchbacks of the steep Himalaya mountainside. With trains of a few cars the trains go over or under themselves on the loops, some of which are barely 50 feet in diameter. Coming down the mountain, I had the unique experince of railroad coasting for the entire distance. My private car was released from the locomotive at the top of the mountain, manned by brakemen on front and rear who slowed us down for abrupt curves by hand brakes, and we coasted merrily down in half the time it took to go up.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, good-looking, successful young New York advertising executive, rents the Connecticut estate her father left her when he died to LARRY SMITH, attractive architect, and promptly becomes interested in him. Daphne has one sister, JENNIFER, six years younger, who is just out of college and has come to New York to live with her.

Jennifer's coming proves quite a test to Daphne because Jennifer is a chic, vivacious little modern who promptly proceeds to date Daphne's old beau, TUCK AINSLEY, her first night in New York. Daphne feels concerned because she feels it her duty to direct Jennifer. She also sees in Jennifer a challenge to herself—a challenge to get a bit more from life than a career.

But Daphne is under the impression that Larry Smith is married. Returning to her apartment one night Jennifer breaks the news that Mr. Smith had called, visited, and had invited her to Brett Hall. Daphne protests that Jennifer can't do that since Larry is married, whereupon Jennifer reveals that he is not married.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VII

Larry Smith wasn't married! He lived at Brett Hall with his mother and his aunt.

Daphne said, "Let's have frog's legs for dinner and something gala for a sweet."

"Not for me. My figure means too much," Jennifer answered promtly and stretched her lithe form full-length on the lounge. "Why the sudden celebration?"

Daphne couldn't tell her that she was suddenly light and gay inside her—lighter and gayer than she had been these last two months. She couldn't say that it made her happy to know that Larry Smith wasn't married. She took her happiness into the kitchen and rattled her pans and plates noisily. She knew that would keep Jennifer out of the kitchen and she wanted to be alone to think. She wanted to think of her own stupidity and to savor the knowledge that he had dropped in to pay her, Daphne, a call.

He must have, she reasoned, because he didn't know Jennifer. But now he had seen Jennifer. For a brief moment the thought of Jennifer's overwhelming beauty depressed her. Then she set her mouth in the determined line she sometimes found there when she had a difficult problem at the agency to overcome.

Let Jennifer take what was hers and fight for what was not. Daphne didn't mind a little competition.

Not that she was in love with Larry Smith—

She dismissed the thought instantly as being ridiculous. And admitted that he was the first man in her life that she had wanted to know, wanted to make her friend.

The first man to whom she had been instantly attracted. The first man she had ever known so briefly and never been able to forget. Even Anne had sensed that.

She thought of Tuck Ainsley and a small frown puckered her smooth forehead. Could it be possible that she had had her moments when she thought of taking Tuck seriously? Tuck was a dear. He was a challenge to her. She'd introduced him to so many attractive girls who had raved about him yet he was devoted to her—as devoted as he could be. And he had asked her to marry him.

"Well," she said to the salad she was mixing, "if someone like Larry Smith doesn't come into my life, I'll probably marry someone like Tuck some day."

"How was the job today?" she said to Jennifer when they were seated at the candle-lit table. Usually she avoided the subject since Jennifer could be so explosively unhappy about it. Tonight her sense of well-being spread to tolerance even of that unpleasantness.

"Lousy," Jennifer said concisely.

"Darling, why don't you attack it from a different point of view? You wanted to work in Wall Street and you're working there. There must be something good about it. I know that you're not used to being cooped up but that's what goes with a job like that. When you get to like it, it doesn't seem confining. What, exactly, is the trouble?"

"Men," Jennifer said. "The wrong ones. There are some awfully attractive boys in the outfit but I never even get a chance to meet them. Then old Harrison asks me to lunch and today he wanted to know if he could have a date with me on Friday night. You can imagine what I said!"

"I can," replied Daphne. "Of course, Harrison is 35, and that isn't the doddering age. And he does have social position. You might as well learn now as later, Jennifer, that the attractive boys you meet this way have girls in their own set."

"I'd like to know if you mean that I'm not good enough for them? The Bretts aren't exactly poor white trash."

"I know," Daphne went on patiently, "but we cant go around with a marked page 'B' of the social register pinned on our frocks. And we can't talk about it. New York is a hard town, Jennifer. The working girl is labeled the working girl here the same as anywhere else even if she does appear to have more chances. She has to work for them. You can't use a job as a social wedge. Not your kind of a job?"

"Why not?" Jennifer disagreed. "If I get a chance to meet the kind of men I want to meet, why can't I take advantage of the opportunity? If a chorus girl—"

"You're not a chorus girl, Jennifer."

"Not yet," Jennifer said, and seeing the shadow darken her sister's face, she got up, came around the table and kissed Daphne on the top of her head.

"You're like a naughty child," Daphne said, "and you'll have to be punished for frightening me. You can wash the dishes and I'll wipe them."

Jennifer splashed water merrily on her smart frock. "Don't bother about it. I can send it to the cleaners."

Daphne wanted to protest that every dollar—

"Why didn't you tell me how attractive the Brett tenant is?" Jennifer demanded and Daphne had no answer. She didn't—or hadn't seen much point in extolling the attractions of a married man to her young sister.

"I thought he was very attractive the one time I saw him," she said, concentrating on the glass she was drying.

* * *

"The trouble with you, Daph, is that you don't know how to make the best of your opportunities."

Daphne raised a quizzical eyebrow. Jennifer went on:

"I do! The one time you saw him, indeed! I saw him once and made up my mind I was going to see him again."

"There's a 9 o'clock train. You might run out and ask him if the water pipes are working," Daphne said dryly.

"No need for that. I'm subtle. I'll do it my way—the subtle way."

"It's a great help to be subtle," Daphne agreed pleasantly.

"What are you doing Sunday afternoon?" Jennifer asked a minute later.

Daphne suppressed a smile. Was this the subtle way?

"Sunday? Let me see—oh, yes, the Franklands are having a supper party for Kim Preston and his bride. We're both invited. Don't you remember? You said you were going to wear your black velvet."

"Oh, heavens! Another of those dreary supper-parties?" How Jennifer had angled an invitation to the last one. "I think I'll cut it. I never get a chance to get outdoors and on my one day away from the office I have to stand around a smoky living room with a lot of old fogies."

Daphne digested the diclosures in Jennifer's speech.

Daphne buried her face in the Sunday newspaper and pretended not to see Jennifer's discomfiture. She stretched her legs in her velvet lounging pajamas as though she were settling down for the winter.

"It's three, Daph. Aren't you going to get dressed?"

Jennifer looked at the little wrist

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

UNCLE SAM'S industrial experts agree privately that the federal government must be granted sufficient authority to settle labor-capital disputes if disastrous strikes are to be averted within the next few months.

Barriers to such a solution are labor, management and the politicians. Administration feelers on the subject have produced no results. Six months ago, while settling the western maritime strike, Assistant Labor Secretary McGrady framed a maritime mediation bill modeled after the railroad agreement, which ended turmoil in the latter industry almost 20 years ago. Strikers and employers seemed to approve the idea, and agreed to forward their reaction and suggestions. But Washington has not heard from them since the proposal was broached.

Secretary Perkins' measure proposing that the government be empowered to subpoena all parties to a strike was another step in this direction. But it antagonized labor and the politicos on Capitol Hill. They promptly pigeonholed it. Both sides dread the publicity which the McGrady or Perkins program would produce. Nevertheless, the administration will insist in all future disputes that the warring factions lay their cards on the table where the third party—the public—can see them.

FOOTHOLD: John L. Lewis' closest friends doubt that he will call a strike in the coal or steel industries this year. They base their belief on the untold story of the origin of the General Motors strike.

Mr. Lewis did not call or want—that conflict at the time it occurred. The glass workers who furnish windshields and windows for all cars walked out, and immdiately proclaimed that they were C.I.O.-ers. Fact is that Mr. Lewis never sent an organizer into their midst. Then certain General Motors workers struck with the announcement that they had lined up behind John L. Lewis.

Nobody was more suprised at these voluntary and vocal recruits that Mr. Lewis himself. He was advised to disavow them in the general interest of the C.I.O. movement, but he refused to run out on his unwanted army. He adopted them and arbitrated on their behalf. But he won't be caught napping again. He will probably negotiate a satisfactory coal mining agreement, and defer a steel walkout until he has a stronger foothold among that industry's workers.

CONFIDENT: Eleven men hold the immediate fate of America in their hands at this moment: President Roosevelt, the nine Supreme court justices—and John L. Lewis. In Washington it is admitted that the Supreme court struggle and the prospect of a strike epidemic constitute the most serious threats to recovery.

Ironically, the mine leader is, perhaps, the most conservative strategist of the eleven. Mr. Lewis is one of America's keenest students of Napoleonic strategy and Civil war battles. During code discussions he often bested Brigadier General Johnson in their nightly arguments over battle tactics and positions.

In these wordy arguments Mr. Lewis admired the wily Wellington and the elusive tactics of Robert E. Lee, whereas General Johnson favored the crackdown methods of Napoleon and Grant. It's a good bet that the miners' generalissimo won't move into coal and steel battlefields unless he is confident of success.

FIGHTING: Seventy-year-old Senators who dynamited Woodrow Wilson's League of Nations—Messrs. Borah, Johnson and Norris—may have lost their physical stamina in the intervening years, but they have not lost their skill. They are utilizing the same tactics against the Roosevelt court proposal that they mobilized against the league.

Inside strategy is to load down the President's program with amendments, reservations, substitutes, as they did when they attached the Lodge reservations to Mr. Wilson's scheme. The Sumners retirement plan, for instance, may weaken several Senators now standing behind the President; they want to wait and see whether several justices will retire voluntarily, as predicted. The suggestion for a 7-2 vote to declare an act unconstitutional has captivated the fancy of numerous members. So has Mr. Borah's demand that the "due process" clause be revised so as to apply only to procedure. There as so many seemingly satisfactory substitutes that they make the Senate dizzy.

Their sponsors probably are sincere. But it was this sort of strategy, to the letter, which killed Wilson's demand for American entry into the league. The "battalion of death" is still on the firing line.

ACTIVITY: Not since World War days have foreign nations indulged in such a strenuous struggle for American good will. Washington has lately become a battleground for European and oriental propagandists.

Politicos and publicists have recently received from the Russian embassy a 580-page book containing the confessions of the defendants recently tried and shot at Moscow. The Japanese embassy has begun a round of dinners for eminent Americans to offset Tokio's espionage designs as revealed in the Farnsworth trial. From Mexico City, hitherto silent in a publicity way, come daily letters praising and upholding the radical regime there. The German embassy has issued invitations for a spring bock beer festival.

Oddly enough, the two nations which seem in no mood to court American favor are the "democratic countries"—France and Great Britain. But their methods are less spectacular—and their efforts are not confined to Washington. Wall Street too seems to them a profitable field of activity.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE steel companies are nothing if not forehanded these days. On the time-honored military principle that the best defense is a strong attack, they are planning to get the jump on John Lewis and his unionizers. Their strategy will be to draw his teeth from two angles.

One will be to give their workers another voluntary boost in wages. The recent increase in prices of most steel products was a prelude to this step. Workers rejoicing in fatter pay envelopes will presumably be much less responsive to the sales talks of union organizers.

The other angle will be a fresh build-up for company unions. Carnegie Illinois will take the lead here. A central council of 18 plant unions in this outfit is "demanding" a minimum wage of $5 a day and a 40-hour week. Don't be surprised if the Carnegie Illinois management should reach the startling conclusion that these demands are reasonable. That would spike some of Lewis' biggest guns. The steel moguls have certainly streamlined their labor relations. Grievances are treated with salve instead of the traditional rough stuff.

ISOLATED: However, if there should be a steel strike, it will not be such a gentlemanly affair as the General Motors tie-up. It would be nothing short of a miracle if violence and bloodshed were averted. Neither steel workers nor company guards are accustomed to kid gloves technique.

It would be mighty hard to stage a successful sit-down in most steel factories. Often they are isolated in "company towns" behind strong barbed wire barriers.

Friendly pickets could not pass food and supplies through handy windows as they did at Flint and Cleveland. There are no comfortable auto cushions to sit on. It would be almost impossible to smuggle in arms either before or during a strike.

ROUGH: General Motors did not try to force eviction of sit-downers, chiefly because it did not want to assume responsibility for bloodshed. But a purely material consideration was also a factor. There was inside the occupied plants a very large value in finished and partly finished auto bodies and parts: Their destruction would have meant a severe financial loss—which was another reason for not goading the strikers to reprisals on property.

Steel companies, by contrast, are comparatively invulnerable to sabotage. They do not need to be so concerned about property losses.

This is another reason why a labor conflict in steel is likely to be vicious rough-and-tumble on both sides.

Roman Catholic Church Plans To Renounce Nazi Concordat

BERLIN, March 4. (AP)—The Roman Catholic church will renounce its concordat with Adolf Hitler's government, it was asserted today in church circles, if the Nazi regime carries out its threat to expropriate church lands for resettlement.

The office of Hans Kerrl, minister for church affairs, meanwhile remained close-mouthed with regard to more complete details of the resettlement plan, except to say it was "nothing new."

TARZAN AND THE MAYAN GODDESS, No. 41

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Swiftly the puma climbed the tree and launched itself at Tarzan, who hung by a bough. The ape-man was taken by surprise, but he did not seek safety by dropping to earth. Instead, he flung himself at the beast, and as he met it in mid-air, his fatal knife struck!

The monkeys howled their approval and hailed Tarzan; but the ape-man hurried back to his friends. Presently he abandoned his tattered clothing and resumed his habitual loincloth. Now his limbs and muscles had free play for battle against men or beasts. . . .

. . . But his human quarry was far ahead. Ragian and his henchmen had come to the bank of a broad stream. "We'll need those boats," the white man declared, pointing to the two kayukas with which Indian warriors were towing ashore the carcass of a large alligator.

"These very bad Indians," Paco answered doubtfully; "they like boats and they not care for money. Maybe they not sell." "We'll see," Ragian frowned; "if they won't sell, there may be some other way of getting the boats. Somehow, I always get what I want!"

NOTICE

TO THOSE indebted to, or holding claims against the Estate of Ben F. Condray, deceased:

The undersigned having been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Ben F. Condray, Deceased, late of Lubbock County, Texas, by Hon. J. J. Dillard, Judge of the County Court of Lubbock County, Texas, on the 13th day of February, A. D., 1937, hereby notifies all persons indebted to said estate to come forward and make settlement, and those having claims against said estate to present them to him within the time prescribed by law at his office in the Myrick Building in Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, where he resides and receives his mail, this the 7th day of February, A. D., 1937.

WILLIAM W. CONDRAY,
Administrator of the Estate of Ben F. Condray, Deceased.

STATE OF TEXAS
LUBBOCK COUNTY.

Whereas, by virtue of an order of sale issued out of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock county, Texas on a judgement rendered in said Court on the 9th day of February, A. D., 1937 in favor of A. F. Fournier, E. P. Founer, Augustus H. Jelks, Mrs. Allen Jelks Leonard, joined pro forma by her husband, J. P. Leonard, W. F. Jelks, and Maria Adell Douglas, a widow, and A. J. Jelks against Mrs. George W. Butler, joined pro forma by her husband, George W. Butler, H. W. Culp, Dean H. Culp, Mrs. G. N. Hodges, a widow, in cause No. 7096 on the docket of said court and to me, as constable, directed and delivered, I did on the 4th day of March, A. D., 1937 at 3 o'clock p. m. levy upon the following described real estate situated in Lubbock county, Texas and being formerly the property of H. W. Culp, deceased. Said judgement, aforesaid, being for foreclosure of a Deed of Trust given to Miss Milda Lawrence, a feme-sole, and upon which the court found judgement against the lands hereinafter described in the sum of Two Thousand Seven Hundred Sixty-Nine and 25-100, ($2769.25) Dollars together with interest at the rate of 6½ per cent per annum and the further sum of $43.90, cost of this action and order that said lands be sold to satisfy said judgement, interest, and cost of this proceeding. And that the plaintiffs herein have and hold no deficiency judgement. Said lands being described as follows, to-wit:

All that certain tract or parcel of land described as Lots Nos. Nine (9) and Ten (10) in Block 114 of the Overton Addition in the City of Lubbock, Lubbock county, Texas.

Notice is therefore given that on the 6th day of April, A. D., 1937, being the first Tuesday in said month, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. on said day at the Court House door of Lubbock county, Texas in the town of Lubbock, I will offer for sale and sell at public auction for cash all the rights, title and interest of the said Mrs. George W. Butler, joined pro forma by her husband George W. Butler, H. W. Culp, Dean H. Culp, Mrs. G. N. Hodges, a widow, heirs of H. W. Culp, deceased, in and to said property.

Witness my hand this the 4th day of March, A. D., 1937.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—The stock market stumbled over profit selling today and many leaders suffered sizeable losses.

An assortment of issues, including mail orders, farm implements, utilities and specialties managed to press forward but declines of fractions to four more points predominated at the close.

After the finish of trading the U. S. Steel corp., confirmed Wall street's expectations of a boost in steel prices. The concern announced an advance of $4 to $5 a ton effective for the second quarter.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues lost .3 of a point to 73.8.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, March 4. (AP) — The sturdy upswing that has gripped cotton prices for the past week came to a partial halt today and while new crops managed to add around 9 points the heretofore buoyant old crop months lost 3 to 5 points.

Bitterness in the latter positions that brought October to a final price of 12.45 and Dec. to 12.49 was attributed to reports of heavy showers in the Southwest.

March finished at New Orleans at 13.46 bid, May at 13.18 and July at 12.90. Spot cotton lost 25 cents a bale with middling at 13.36.

The decline in old crops brought no dip in the heavy volume of buying in spot cotton markets, according to advices received from interior towns.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Heavy near month realizing caused cotton to lose part of its recent gains early today but the market started to rally again in the afternoon.

May, which had sold off from 13.35@13.38 recovered to 13.39 and closed at 13.34. Final prices were 3 points net lower to 8 higher.

Opening advances of 5 to 9 points in response to firm Liverpool cables, carried the market into further new high ground and about $3.50@$6.00 a bale above the recent lows.

Spot markets continued firm and a better demand for cotton goods at steadier prices was reported.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, March 4. (AP) — The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 13.55 cents a pound; past thirty days 13.14 cents a pound.

MOVES TO SNYDER

SNYDER. (Special) — W. E. Wright, for 12 years with the John Halsey drug store in Lubbock, is the new pharmacist in the Stinson drug store here. He succeeds Altus Bowden, who has become a drug salesman.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, March 4. (AP)—Predictions of fair weather for United States winter wheat areas, whereas additional moisture would benefit crops, did much today to make wheat prices average higher.

Rallies lifted the Chicago wheat market a cent a bushel at times from early fractional declines that were chiefly due to general but light moisture received Southwest and West.

At the close, wheat was unchanged to ⅝ higher compared with yesterday's finish, May $1.33⅝, July 1.14⅝@1.14¾, Sept. $1.11⅝@1.11½, corn ½ off to ½ up, May $1.06⅝@1.06¾, July $1.01⅛, Sept. 95⅝, oats unchanged to ⅝ advanced, May 45⅞ @45⅝, and rye ⅛ to ½ down, May $1.05½. Provisions closed at two cents decline to an equal gain.

to finance a wage increase and 40-hour week for its 120,000 employes. The new pay scale was posted last Tuesday, simultaneous with its epic pact with the C.I.O. Other firms quickly adopted the same schedules.

Sloan Issues Statement

President Alfred P. Sloan, jr., of General Motors corp., now apparently near conclusion of its post-strike conferences with the C.I.O.-sponsored United Automobile Workers Union, informed employes the management would continue to deal with all qualified spokesmen and they need not join or "pay tribute" to any labor group.

President Homer Martin of the U.A.W.A. termed his union "the only agency for the settlement of disputes in the motor car industry." The union engaged in parleys with the Chrysler and Hudson Motor companies and prepared to bargain with more than a half dozen auto parts manufacturers whose plants have been affected by strikes.

New Strikes Reported

New "sit down" demonstrations affected 2,250 Detroiters employed at three Bohn Aluminum co. plants, the Michigan Smelting and Refining co., and three units of the Peninsular Metal Products co.

More than 1,200 sawmill and lumber workers struck, closing all but two of Seattle's major lumber mills.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company's No. 1 and 2 plants ceased operations at Akron, O., making 7,000 idle. Two hundred participated in a "sit down" at the Sprague Specialties co., North Adams, Mass.

Police broke a blockade formed by striking Rhode Island truck drivers at the Massachusetts line after trucks had been halted and burned.

Pickets stopped three supply trucks at the Douglas Aircraft factory in Santa Monica, Calif., but later C.I.O. leaders met President Donald Douglas in a peace parley.

Hearing Is Set

The senate state affairs committee set a hearing on a proposal to increase the tax on oil production to six cents for March 18. A six-cent tax bill has passed the house. The present tax is 2 3-4 cents a barrel.

The house passed and sent the senate a bill by Rep. Ross K. Prescott of Santa Anna to appropriate $6,000 to the central Colorado river authority.

Prescitt said the money would be used to build additional low water dams on Colorado river tributaries in Coleman county. He said the dams so far constructed had been an effective means of curtailing floods, conserving the soil and supplying water for domestic ad livestock consumption.

The house revenue and taxation committee killed, 8 to 2, a bill to refund gasoline taxes to schools using buses to transport children.

Hearings on a bill to authorize gasoline tax refunds to municipalities for vehicles used exclusively in city limits was recessed until Monday by the house municipal and private corporations committee. Refunds would be applied to city road and bridge construction.

identified Mrs. Howe's mother as "The Standing Army."

"Mothers-in-law have become accepted as human beings and it would be a mistake to refer to them as 'chosen mothers.' Whoever named them didn't do a very good job at the start, but it is too late to change now."

Club members flew back at Editor Howe with the assertion that "Mother-in-law" sounds too legal and frankly added they were a bit ashamed of it.

Theaters will admit them free and stores will offer free merchandise. All will gather at a luncheon.

Next year, Editor Howe vows, he will have Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on hand as the "queen" of the world's mother-in-law.

"She's been every place but here," he mused. "Its our turn next."

Governor Allred would put the Amarillo movement on a national basis to see that all mothers-in-law are "held in as high regard as those honored by Amarillo."

and you meant it."

His great ambition, he went on, is to turn the presidency over "to my successor whomever he may be, with the assurance that I am at the same time turning over to him as president, a nation intact, a nation at peace, a nation prosperous, a nation clear in its knowledge of what powers it has to serve its own citizens, a nation that is in a position to use those powers to the full in order to move forward steadily to meet the modern needs of humanity—a nation which has thus proved that he democratic form and methods of national government can and will succeed.

It took forty years, he said, to settle the issue of slavery, and added:

"But economic freedom for the wage earner and the farmer and the small business man will not wait, like emancipation, for forty years. It will not wait for four years. It will not wait at all."

He pointed to the departures from Democratic forms of other governments in recent years and said:

Democracy Must Not Fail

"In the United States, democracy has not yet failed and does not need to fail. And we propose not to let it fail:

"Nevertheless, I cannot tell you with complete candor that in these past few years, democracy in the United States has fully succeeded. Nor can I tell you, under present circumstances, just where American democracy is headed nor just what it is permitted to do in order to insure its continued success and survival. I can only hope."

Among other measures he referred to the Railroad Retirement act and the Guffey coal act as having been declared unconstitutional "as the child labor statute had been outlawed twenty years before."

Has Encouraged Defiance

In addition, he said, court injunctions have "paralyzed" the machinery of the National Labor Relations act. So far, he said, "the attitude and language of the courts in relation to many other laws have made the legality of this act also uncertain, and have encouraged corportions to defy rather than obey it."

The attitude of the courts, he said, made it impossible "confidently" to complete the Tennessee Valley development. The Ohio river, recently in flood, and the dust bowl, he added, "are not conversant with the interstate commerce clause."

Create Doubts, Difficulties

He said "the language of the decisions already rendered and the widespread refusal to obey law incited by the attitude of the courts, create doubts and difficulties for almost everything else for which we have promised to fight—help for the crippled, for the blind, for the mothers—insurance for the unemployed—security for the aged—protection of the consumer against monopoly and speculation—protection of the investor—the wiping out of slums—cheaper electricity for the homes and on the farms of America. You and I owe it to ourselves individually as a party and as a nation to remove those doubts and difficulties."

"'If we would keep faith with those who had faith in us," he declared; "if we would make democracy succeed, I say we must act—now."

The dinner at which the speech was delivered was the focal point of celebrations the country over through which the Democratic national committee hoped for a big reduction in the $430,000 campaign deficit.

Garner Speaks In Gotham

Vice President Garner was the speaker at a dinner in New York, party treasurer Forbes Morgan at a similar event in Miami. Democratic senators, and others high in the party, were on victory dinner programs in many other paces.

The President's speech is to be followed by one of his "fireside chats," on the radio net Tuesday night. White House officials have said the addresses were to be regarded as a "serial in two parts."

Precipitated Controversy

His message on the judiciary to congress, Feb. 5, precipitated one of the greatest controversies of his political career. Privately he has urged it upon a score or more senators.

His proposal is that when any federal judge reaches 70 years of age and fails to resign within six months another judge be appointed to supplement him in his jurisdiction. The proposal would apply to the Supreme court and lower courts alike, with a proviso that the membership of the supreme bench should not exceed 15.

In the light of his continuing conflict with the judiciary over the invalidation of new deal legislation, the proposal aroused such a controversey as Washington, accustomed to furious dispute, has not seen in many years.

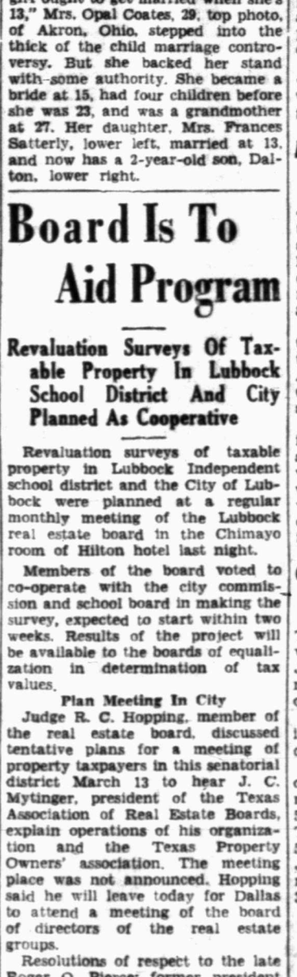

Senator Ashurst, chairman of the judiciary committee, which next Wednesday will begin hearings on the court bill announced the list of witnesses for the first week as: Wednesday, Attorney General Cummings: Thursday, Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson; Friday, former Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and Judge William Denman of San Francisco.

The opposition will be given an equivalent number of days beginning the following Monday. Who its witnesses will be the opposing senators have not disclosed.

Senator Logan (D-Ky) an advocate of the Roosevelt bill told the senate today that utility companies were entering actively into the campaign against the program.

Favors Marriage

With the statement that "every girl ought to get married when she's 13," Mrs. Opal Coates, 29, top photo, of Akron, Ohio, stepped into the thick of the child marriage controversy. But she backed her stand with some authority. She became a bride at 15, had four children before she was 23, and was a grandmother at 27. Her daughter, Mrs. Frances Satterly, lower left, married at 13, and now has a 2-year-old son, Dalton, lower right.

Board Is To Aid Program

Revaluation Surveys Of Taxable Property In Lubbock School District And City Planned As Cooperative

Revaluation surveys of taxable property in Lubbock Independent school district and the City of Lubbock were planned at a regular monthly meeting of the Lubbock real estate board in the Chimayo room of Hilton hotel last night.

Members of the board voted to co-operate with the city commission and school board in making the survey, expected to start within two weeks. Results of the project will be available to the boards of equalization in determination of tax values.

Plan Meeting In City

Judge R. C. Hopping, member of the real estate board, discussed tentative plans for a meeting of property taxpayers in this senatorial district March 13 to hear J. C. Mytinger, president of the Texas Association of Real Estate Boards, explain operations of his organization and the Texas Property Owners' association. The meeting place was not announced. Hopping said he will leave today for Dallas to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the real estate groups.

Resolutions of respect to the late Roger Q. Pierce; former president of the Lubbock board were read, and members discussed the real estate dealers' licensing law and stamp tax on legal documents.

A three-member committee will be appointed next week to begin the revaluation survey. Latest valuation survey of property in the city was in 1928.

Twenty real estate dealers attended the meeting, presided over by Raleigh Martin, first vice-president.

Residential Districts Hard Hit By Fire Of Insurgents

MADRID, March 4. (AP) — Insurgent shells screamed into Madrid's residential districts tonight, causing casualties among civilians.

Two big missiles landed in a plaza six blocks from the American embassy building.

Official reports said the government's southern army had cut a road between Orgiva and Velez Benaudalla, lying just north of Motril and occupied by insurgents operating out of Granada.

WELL IS HELD IN

CENTER, March 4. (AP)—The Stebbinger No. 2, a wildcat oil well one and one-fourth miles northwest of Joaquin, was held within bounds today after strong gas pressure threatened to convert it into a wild well.

Nine-inch casing was to be set as soon as the well is killed. Twelve hundred sacks of bariod were placed in the well yesterday.

REFUSES TO MODIFY

PHILADELPHIA, March 4. (AP)—The U. S. Circuit court of appeals refused today to modify its decision of January 16, 1936, that six large motion picture producing and distributing companies were violating the anti-trust laws by refusing to furnish films to exhibitors who showed "double features."

Embargo Ordered On Junk At Port

FORT WORTH, March 4. (AP)—An embargo has been placed against shipments of junk to Texas City, Jack Gachman, president of the St. Louis Waste Material company, was informed here today.

Officials of the Fort Worth and Denver railway company confirmed the report. The embargo went into effect Wednesday and will be on for thirty days, according to Gachman. Texas City, shipping a million tons a year is one of the biggest outlets for junk in the United States.

The price of junk, now at $13 a ton is apt to take a decided drop within thirty days if the embargo remains in effect.

Reasons for the embargo is lack of ships, Gachman said. At present there are some two thousand car loads of junk in Texas City yards. Only two ships can be loaded at one time. It takes approximately 200 car loads to fill one ship.

Ownership Of Pooch Is Dog Daze For Affectionate Boys And Harrassed Police Judge

NORTH ARLINGTON, N. J., March 4. (AP)—It's up to "Skippy"—or "Teddy"— whether he shall have Guiseppe Torre or Albert Delia Volpe as master.

Toree claims "Skippy" was his for 5 years until the terrier disappeared a month ago.

Volpe said "Teddy" came into his home about that time with a broken leg. His children nursed the affectionate animal back to health and want to keep him.

Police Recorder John H. Shields, jr., hit on the plan to solve the problem. Next Monday the dog will sit on the judge's bench, with the professed owners at opposite sides of the courtroom.

When the judge signals, Torre will call "Skippy" and Volpe will call "Teddy." The man to whom the dog trots will be declared the owner.

Probe Shows Abortion About To Be Made When Girl Died

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 4. (AP) — Investigating officers said tonight they had found few discrepancies in the signed confession of Dr. Richard G. Miller, 53-year-old dentist, charged with the Chloroform murder of 18-year-old Cleo Spouse.

Meanwhile, Commonwealth's Attorney W. O. Fife announced his intention of seeking a trial early in April for Miller, married, the father of two children and active in civic affairs and local sportsmen's clubs.

Sheriff J. Mason Smith said his investigation bore out the signed statement that the girl, whose body was found near a wall of the University of Virginia cemetery, had died while Miller was administering chloroform preparatory to performing an abortion.

Citizens Military Training Camps Dates Are Scheduled

SAN ANTONIO, March 4. (AP) — The Citizens Military Training camp will be held at Camp Bullis from July 7 to Aug. 5, it has been announced at Eighth Corps area headquarters.

The camp will be one of five held in the corps rea. About 2,000 applications already have been receivd.

Other posts at which C. M. T. C. camps will be held are Fort Bliss, near El Paso, Tex., July 5 to August 5; Fort Huachuca, 22 miles from Tombstone, Ariz., July 7 to August 5; Fort Logan, near Denver, Colo., July 5 to August 3, and Fort Sill, near Lawton, Okla., July 5 to August 3.

"The citizen who is most valuable to a community is not the one who tries to solve the problems of the world, or the nation or state, but is the man or woman whose duty in the every day walks of life is the solving of problems of the community in which he or she lives," Dupree declared.

Speaking of those who continually criticize their own community or state, he declared; "If you don't like your community, get out; if you don't like the state of Texas, go down into Mexico where you can get the liberty you want; if you don't like the United States, go to Russia, or Italy or Germany, for your liberty."

He paid his "respects" to the knocker, the hater and the lazy peoples of any community. "Get in line with the progress of the community the state or the nation, and add a real citizenship," he said.

Bits Of News Gathered On Oil Development In Area

Eleven West Texas counties had 65 locations for oil tests it was shown by a Railroad Commission of Texas report of locations last week. Ector county led with 20, with Winkler second with 14 and Ward, 11.

W. L. Pickens et al No. 1 Estella Lewright, Terry county wildcat, had drilled to 4,785 feet in lime, with no change. The test is in section 1, block C-37, ten miles north and west of Ray Albaugh's No. 1 John Robinson, Dawson county producer.

Magnolia is digging cellar and pits for its No. 1 on the Taylor block in northeastern Yoakum county, 300 feet out of the northeast corner of section 201, block D, John H. Gibson survey. It is seven or eight miles south of the Honolulu-Cascade-Devonion No. 1 Duggan in Cochran county.

T. & P. No. 1 Ruth Bennett, Yoakum county, was plugged back from 5,305 to 5,302 feet to avoid salt water, estimated at a half bailer per hour. It is to be plugged back still more, if water is not cut off. In deepening from 5,236 feet, porus lime was found but no increase in the average of 20 barrels an hour. The well may be shot and acidized. It is in section 678, block D, John H. Gibson survey.

Deal is still reported pending in the E. L. Wilson, Dallas, and associated, to drill in the northeast corner of labor 4, Abner Taylor league 700, Bailey county. Location has not been staked it was said. It is about 35 miles from nearest Texas production, the No. 1 Duggan in Cochran county.

It was Tuck.

"Hello, kids. What's this? The demon worker Daphne in pajamas at this time of day?"

Daphne managed a look of appealing sweetness.

Jennifer's angry eyes missed hers.

Protest Made On LaGuardia

New York Mayor's Remarks In New York Are Termed Insult To German Nation; Protest Is Filed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The German embassy protested to the state department today against a speech made in New York yesterday by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia in which he was quoted as referring to Adolph Hitler.

Dr. Hans Thompson, counsellor of the embassy filed the protest with James Clement Dunn, chief of the state department's western European division, on direct instructions from Berlin.

German sources here said the mayor's speech was regarded as an insult to the German nation.

LaGuardia was quoted as having suggested at a luncheon of the women's division of the American Jewish congress that the 1939 New York World fair have a "chamber of horrors" in which Hitler would be the chief exhibit.

Dunn promised the embassy attache that the whole matter would be brought immediately to the attention of Secretary Hull.

LaGuardia Voices Ironic Agreement With Protest

NEW YORK, March 4. (AP)—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia voiced ironic agreement today when informed that an official German protest had been made against his suggestion that a "brown-shirted fanatic" should be starred in a "chamber of horrors" at the 1939 World's fair.

"They are absolutely right!" the dynamic little mayor said, with flashing eyes. "They ought to protest.

"For I know of no artist or designer who can adequately fill, paint or carve anything that will adequately depict either the personalities of the Nazi government, Hitler himself, or the type of government he is giving."

Funeral Wreath Is Removed From Couple's Door After Body Found Not To Be Son

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., March 4. (AP)—The funeral wreath was gone today from the front door of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Stott. Their son apparently isn't dead.

A telegram from Nashville, Tenn., two days ago plunged them into deepest grief. It read:

"Josephn Stott died last night."

Joseph Stott, jr., their son, is a traveling salesman in the South.

Money was sent for the body. Yesterday a casket arrived. The removal permit gave the age as 71. The son is 33. Stott stated definitely it was not his son.

The Stotts are trying to locate their son.

Chappell died Tuesday afternoon. His daughter was injured in the crash.

NOBODY ENJOYS TAKING MEDICINE!

Yet most people at some time suffer from common constipation. Why not correct this condition the natural way—by including a ready-to-eat cereal with your daily meals instead of taking weakening pills and drugs?

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds the "bulk" the average system needs. In the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft, spongelike mass — which gently cleanses the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B to tone up the intestines and iron for the blood.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls a day, as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into appetizing muffins, breads, etc. Three times daily in severe cases.

ALL-BRAN is sold at all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
