Politicians' Shouts And War Whoops Of Savages Placed In Same Category By Professor

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The shouts of political spell binders and the war whoops of savages were placed in the same "noise" category today by Dr. Clarence A. Neymann, professor of psychiatry at Northwestern university.

Both, he said, served the same purpose—they expressed the feeling of the orators and barbarians and stirred their follows.

"Judging by some of the shouting of present day politicians, considerable emotion has descended on the United States," he told members of the City club. "This type of noise is as old as civilization. The cries and martial music of savages are examples.

"Agitators yell not only to attract attention but to irritate others who hold views opposed to their own," he added. "A great deal of this kind of disturbance is a way man has of expressing his own internal discord and hatred of others.

"Many people of low intellect are purposely noisy so they may impress their presence on those whom they deem their betters and thus irritate them. This makes them feel important and helps them overcome their own deep feelings of inferiorty."

Way Being Paved For Final 'Big Push' To Spanish Capital By Rebels; Loyalist Troops Put Up Strong Resistance

Claim Victories

Loyalists Reported To Have Lost In Several Battles Over Territory; Guerilla Warfare Is Rampant

(By The Associated Press)

TOLEDO, Spain, Oct. 5.—Insurgent reinforcements today moved up to bolster the "ring of steel" encircling Madrid.

Fascist guerrilla bands speeded a "mopping-up drive" in the Toledo area, sweeping the countryside to pave the way for the final "big push" on Madrid.

WORST IN HISTORY

BOSTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Capt. W. F. Amsden, U. S. N. predicted today that before the Spanish revolution is over "it will be the worst history has ever seen."

He made his prediction to newspapermen aboard the U. S. S. Quincy a few minutes after he brought her into port. The vessel, one of the navy's newest cruisers, had been on duty in Spanish waters more than two months.

"More people are being killed behind the lines than on the battle-fronts and the worst is yet to come," he said.

Fighting Is Fierce

The government forces, spurred by "do or die" orders from Madrid, were putting up a desperate resistance in fierce hand-to-hand skirmishes, but Fascists claimed repeated victories.

From Toledo, insurgent artillery hammered a government encampment east of the Alcazar city, pouring a barrage into the camp where 2,000 socialists were estimated to have massed for a "last ditch" stand.

Moorish legionnaires added to the rain of death with machinegun and rifle slugs.

Proceeding Methodically

(The insurgent radio station at Seville broadcast that the Fascist advance was proceeding methodically in the Avila sector, directly west of Madrid, and that the town of San Bartolome de Pinares had been seized.

Restoration Of Italy In Trade, Balanced Budget Sought

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Oct. 5—Premier Mussolini today devalued the Italian lira, decreed sweeping measures designed to revive the nation's foreign trade, and ordered property owners to lend the government cash equal to five per cent of the value of their real estate in an effort to balance the budget.

WAR VETS TO BENEFIT

ROME, Oct. 5. (AP)—Many of the 22,000 Italo-American World war veterans living in Italy will benefit from today's 41 per cent devaluation of the lira.

These men were awaiting United States treasury checks granting the veterans bonuses averaging $800, which will purchase a greater number of lira because of the devaluation.

Tariff duties were ordered reduced to spur trade. Cabinet decrees forbade increases in rents and utility service costs to guard against a jump in living costs because of the devaluation step.

Gold Content Pegged

The value of the lira was established at 19 to the American dollar, and 92.46 to the pound. The gold content was pegged at 4.677 grams per 100 lire. This constituted a gold devaluation of 41 per cent.

The financial move followed intensive conversations on monetary alignment among Great Britain, France and Italy, with the United States informed.

Italy then proclaimed an agreement with "conception that world economic recovery is one of the necessary conditions for collaboration among peoples toward peace."

Lira Welcomed Into Family Of Readjusted Monies

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Financial circles, welcoming the lira into the family of readjusted monies, said today devaluation of the Italian currency was another step in Europe's progress toward monetary

Britain's Blackshirts Announce Augmented Meeting Series; Laborites Demand Probe Of British Union Activities

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 5. — Britain's blackshirted Fascists tonight threw down the gauntlet to their political foes.

Taking the offensive following yesterday's disorders which broke up their concentration near the Tower of London for a parade, they announced plans for an augmented series of meetings in London's East end.

While magistrates in four police courts dealt with the approximately 100 persons arrested during the demonstrations, a high official of the British Union of Fascists announced:

Restrictions May Tighten

"We will hold all the meetings we have planned already, together with an extra program."

There were indications that the British government was considering tightening regulations governing parades and political demonstrations.

At Edinburgh, Laborites meeting for their 36th annual party conference demanded by unanimous vote a government probe of the British Fascist movement.

Action Takes Care Of First Of Two Reasons Special Session Was Called; Probe Started On Liquor Board Members

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 — The house passed a bill today to provide for Texas' participation in benefits of the federal unemployment insurance program, one of two purposes for which the legislature was convened in special session.

The vote was 102 to 23, more than sufficient to make the law immediately effective if approved by two-thirds of the senate.

The senate already had begun committee consideration of a similar bill, as its labor committee questioned Irving Wood, associate technical adviser in the Federal Bureau of Unemployment Compensation.

The jobless compensation proposal by Rep. George Davisson of Eastland, was passed after only a few hours of discussion, much of which was on suggested amendments to one section.

Tom Dunlap of San Marcos pleaded with his colleagues not to approve it before giving it further consideration.

"It would be far better," Dunlap said, "for us to spend more time and work out the best possible bill than to rush something over to the senate."

Elmer Pope of Corpus Christi raised a point of order the bill was unconstitutional, but Emmett Morse of Houston, who was in the chair, ruled that was a question for the courts to decide.

Many believed a compulsory unemployment insurance tax would be violate of the Texas constitution. Advocates of the bill contended,

FDR Pledged Labor Support

William Green Predicts That 90 Per Cent Of 8,000,000 In Labor's Army Will Cast Ballot For Democrat

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y. Oct. 5.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, carried to President Roosevelt today tidings that prospects were brighter for peace in the internal dispute of organized labor over craft and industrial unionism.

Green said he also told the president at luncheon that nine-tenths of labor—both organized and unorganized—would vote for Mr. Roosevelt and declared his prediction was "very accurate and conservative."

90 Per Cent Support

He said he figured the voting strength of labor as a whole at "probably 8,000,000." On the basis of his 90 per cent calculation, which he said was founded on nation-wide reports and contracts, that would mean 7,200,000 labor votes in November for four more years of the New Deal.

Expressing confidence of healing of breaks in federation ranks over the issue of organizing workers according to the trades at which they work or along industrial lines regardless of crafts, Green said the

Slenderizing And Other Freak Diets Branded By Columbia U. Diet Expert

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 5.—The "freak diets" of the food faddists were termed a stravation course to "physical destruction" tonight by Dr. Milton A. Bridges, diet expert of Columbia university.

"It has never been recognized that nature or man has been able to produce any such thing as a reducing food," he told the Southwest Clinical society conference here.

"There does not exist any friut, vegetable, meat, fish or other food which in itself is capable of reducing physical weight as much as one thousandth of a pound."

Dr. Bridges asserted that an "unscrupulous minority of manufacturers" prey upon "the vanition and current fads of the population" directing their appeal chiefly at women.

If there is one general deficiency in the American diet today, he said, it is lack of protein. Middle-aged persons in particular are inclined to be anemic because they fail to eat enough meat, eggs, cheese, fish and

House Group's Action Comes As Surprise

Elaborate Schedule Of Hearings On Tax Bills For Pensions Is Thrown Overboard Last Night By Committee

Levies Are Varied

Hike In Natural Resources Tax, Amusements, Racing Bets, Transportation Agencies, Hotel Rooms Are Included

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 5.—The revenue and taxation committee of the house of representatives tonight threw overboard an elaborate schedule of hearings on tax bills for old age pensions, reported favorably an omnibus measure levying a variety of taxes and adjourned subject to call.

The committee allowed the authors to explain several bills levying taxes on oil and gas, while a big crowd of representatives of the industries waited to voice opposition.

Cut Off Arguments

Then it summarily cut off arguments, and after parliamentary maneuvering voted out the omnibus bill by Reps. Jesse James of Cameron and Hollis Frazier of Franklin, 15 to 2.

A "single shot" bill by Rep. R. L. Reader of San Antonio, with its original levy of six cents a barrel on crude oil cut by amendment to 2 and 3-4 cents, was passed out favorably and then recalled and left in the committee with a score of other measures.

Wants Attitude Made Plain

Rep. Pat Jefferson of San Antonio, who made the motion to report the omnibus bill favorably, said he wanted to make the committee's attitude toward single tax measures plain.

The James-Frazier bill raises taxes on natural resources and utilities 37 and 1-2 per cent. It also levies a number of other taxes including on amusements, transporation agencies, notes and obligations, malt syrup, horse race wagering and receipts from hotel rooms.

Sales Tax Adversely Reported

The committee reported adversely a sales tax bill by Rep. Elmer Pope of Corpus Christi, which the author claimed would yield $20,000,000 annually and "not hurt anybody."

"It is the right sort of tax for the people who must pay for pensions and those who will receive them," Pope said.

Arguing for the omnibus bill, Frazier said it was much like the

Supreme Court's Term Is Opened

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP) — Opening an eight-month term which will determine the fate of much New Deal legislation, the Supreme court was urged by the State of Massachusetts today to reconsider it decision upsetting New York's minimum wage law for women.

Apparently in good health after a four months' vacation, the nine aged justices conducted a 30-minute session.

While they received a few formal motions and admitted 40 attorneys to Supreme court practice, the clerk's office received Massachusetts' plea for reconsideration of the decision handed down last June 1 against the New York law authorizing state determination of minimum wages for women workers.

A brief filed by Attorney General Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts said that "probably no decision in recent years has so affected the entire working population of America and the millions of their dependents by depriving them of adequate protection in safeguarding their rights."

Such petitions almost invariably are denied.

ON COOKIE JARS

WHAT this country needs is a full cookie jar! There's a platform for some candidate that would sweep him into office before you could say "ginger snaps" and win him the vote of every child in the land. If you ask us, that famous wall motto ought to read "What is home without a mother—and a full cookie jar!"

You don't have to have a jar; you can use a crock or a pan or even a plate. Some modern mothers have no storage place at all, preferring to whisk up a batch often, and let the family consume them as fast as they will. It's not the jar, it's the cookies that count!

A BIG LEAGUE PITCHER TAUGHT ME TO "Carry TUMS" THIS IS THE FAST WAY TO RELIEVE ACID INDIGESTION (GAS... SOUR STOMACH)

"Big League baseball players can't be bothered with a fussy stomach out on the diamond. They need relief quick. When a Big League pitcher told me more and more ball players were carrying Tums right in their pockets all the time, I started carrying them myself as a regular thing. Now I get relief, minutes and sometimes hours, quicker."
Millions have switched to Tums because they bring such quick relief. Just the thing after you eat, drink or smoke too much. So handy. The roll fits right into your pocket or purse. And they taste just like candy. Best of all, Tums are harmless and non-habit forming. Contain no harsh, water soluble alkalies—can never over-alkalize the stomach. The student council at Texas Technological college will sponsor a fireworks display, pep rally, tug-o-war, greased pig chase and amateur program on Friday night, Oct. 23, as part of the homecoming program, said Claude Thompson, president of the council.

The council made plans for the events at a meeting Sunday afternoon at the college. Other homecoming plans are to be made by the Alumni and Ex-students association.

A trophy from the student council and a free page in the college yearbook will be presented to the first place winner; $5 to the second place winner; and $3 to the third place winner.

Clubs may make entries on the program from Oct. 8 to Oct. 18 for a fee of $2, Thompson said. Entries may be placed with Helen Lehmberg, Iris Bailey, and Anne Ruth Williams. Time limit for each number on the program will be four minutes.

Many hundreds of alumni and ex-students are expected to return for homecoming. Principal event of the week-end will be the Tech-Centenary football game on Saturday night, Oct. 24.

Thompson urged that all Lubbock residents and others attend the program to be sponsored by the council.

Giants Prolong Series By Taking Fifth Game From Yankees 5 To 4 Monday

Terry's Drive In 10th Wins For Nationals

Freddy Fitzsimmons And Lefty Gomez To Start On Mound In Sixth Game Today; Gate Exceeds Million Dollars

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. — Swaying perilously close to the brink of World series disaster, like a troupe of circus performers doing the tight-wire act in mid-air, the New York Giants prolonged their baseball civil war with the Yankees today with a breath-taking 5 to 4 victory in the tenth inning of the fifth game.

The outcome reduced the margin of the Yankees 3 games to 2 after three successive triumphs for the American league champions, and sent the warring clans back across the Harlem river for the sixth game at the Polo grounds tomorrow.

Fitzsimmons To Face Gomez

On their home grounds, the Giants will rely on their knuckle-ball star,

PASSES MILLION MARK

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Total gross receipts for the World Series soared above the million dollar mark today, as 50,024 spectators paid $202,268.00 to see the fifth game between the Yankees and the Giants. Gross receipts for the five games was $1,035,196.00.

Under the series ruling that the players share in the receipts of only the first four games, today's receipts were divided as follows: commissioner's office, $30,355.20; contending clubs, $86,006.40; both leagues, $86,006.40.

The players' pool for the first four games was $424,737.18.

Freddy Fitzsimmons, to beat Lefty Vernon Gomez and carry the fight into a seventh and final match.

Bill Terry, the crippled manager of the Giants who has been hobbling through the series with a painfully swollen knee, drove Jo-Jo Moore across the plate with the winning run in the first extra frame of a ball game that was loosely but thrillingly played from start to finish.

Looping Drive To Left Center

The decisive blow was a looping drive to left-center that Terry hit off the veteran relief pitcher, Pat Malone, with the count three and two, after the Yankees had kicked vigorously against Umpire Pfirman's failure to call what they thought was a third strike on the Giants' pilot. Moore, who had started the tenth with a ground-rule two-bagger that hopped into the left-field boxes, reached third on Dick Bartell's sacrifice bunt, and scored easily as Joe DiMaggio threw wildly to the infield after catching Terry's wallop on the dead run.

Schumacher Comes Back

A crowd of 50,024 fans, including former President Herbert Hoover, saw the National leaguers battle their way to victory behind the sensational "sinker" ball pitching of Hal Schumacher, who came back to whip the famous "murderers' row" of the Yankees after being knocked out of the box in his first start, last Friday.

The youthful right-hander from Dolgeville (N. Y.) had the crowd wildly on edge with a perfect exhibition of the "man on the flying trapeze" but in crisis after crisis he gave a demonstration of courage that thrust back his slugging rivals and saved a game that he came dangerously close to losing because of his wildness.

Schumacher yielded ten hits and walked six Yankees but he also struck out ten, within three of the World series record, and gave a magnificent performance in the critical stages of a battle that his erratic defense alternately saved or endangered. It was not, on the whole, very good baseball, but it was the kind that kept onlookers excited and finally swung the partisanship of most rooters to the side of the under-dog National leaguers.

Halts "Big Three"

"Prince Hal" scaled his greatest heights in the third inning when, with one run in, the bases full and none out, thanks to two bases on balls, a wild pitch, an error by Bartell and a bunt basehit, he stopped the "Big Three" of the Yankee batting order cold. DiMaggio and Captain Lou Gehrig fanned and Bill Dickey hoisted to Mel Ott for the third out.

This wasn't the only thrill Schumacher and the Giants gave the crowd, out it was typical of their gallant stand against a team that had whipped them three times in succession.

The Giants went on their biggest batting rampage of the series when they walloped big Charley (Red) Ruffing for five hits and three runs in the first inning, but they failed to hold this advantage, bitterly as they fought to protect it.

Double plays in the second, fourth and fifth innings helped pull Schumacher out of holes, but the 4-2 margin that the National leaguers gained with the aid of a lapse in the Yankee defense, in the sixth, was wiped out after Travis Jackson made a two-base wild throw in the last half of the same frame.

The Yankees had the winning run on second base in the seventh and ninth innings but neither Dickey nor Gehrig could break down Schumacher's defense in the pinches. All told, the Yankees stranded nine runners on the bases in a game which saw them repeatedly fail to show their characteristic hitting power.

Ruffing gave way to a pinch-hitter, Roy Johnson, after six innings in which he yielded seven hits and struck out seven. Thus Pat Malone, the old fireball flinger of the Chicago Cubs, was charged with his first World series defeat since he took a licking from the Athletics in 1929. "Old Blubber" yielded the winning run in the tenth after holding the Giants in check for three frames but he went down scrapping himself.

Malone was so incensed over Umpire Cy Pfirman's refusal to call a third strike on Terry, with the count two and two, that he almost talked himself out of the ball game, then and there. Most of his mates joined in the protest but it was so much wasted energy. Pats jaw continued to work for the rest of the inning, ended by Ott's pop to Rolfe, but the game was lost and the Yankees had their last chance snuffed out in the closing half of the tenth.

Thus the Giants finally outlucked their Bronx rivals but it's still an upstream battle for the National league champions, who must win the next two games against the heaviest hitting club in baseball to collect the winners' share of the biggest players' pool in series history. It's a million-dollar battle now, with the total receipts reaching $1,035,196 for five games, but the odds still are heavily on the American leaguers.

Pat Says Ump Ought To Have Eyes Examined

BY PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cries of "robber!" and shouts of unstinted praise for "Hairbreath Hal" Schumacher rocked the adjacent dressing rooms of the enraged Yankees and Grim Giants as they exulted and moaned over today's World series thriller.

"Pfirman ought to have his head examined or get glasses," roared Big Pat Malone, who accused the National league umpire of missing a third strike on Manager Bill Terry in that fatal 10th inning. "If that wasn't a strike, I don't know anything about throwing that apple. The robber! He beat us with that one."

"Hairbreath Hal" walked into the Giant lockerroom so wearily that he looked like a man beaten instead of a World series hero.

"I wouldn't care to do it all over again," sighed the happy Schumacher. "Never knew any pitcher could get out of so much trouble alive. I threw them curve balls all day. Was afraid to burn 'em over."

"What did you think in that third inning when you had three men on and murderers' row coming up?" Schumacher was asked.

"Gosh, I couldn't think," he grinned. "Terry and Mancuso steadied me down some. Bill said: 'Now, we're gonna pitch to these batters like we agreed to before the game if we have to walk 'em in,' and that's what we did. And we were lucky to get out alive."

"Thought I'd never cross that plate," chimed in Joe Moore, who dashed in with the winning run on Terry's long fly in the 10th. "Seemed as if someone was moving home plate back, as I ran for it."

Manager Joe McCarthy, who will come back tomorrow with Lefty Gomez, didn't share in the criticism of Pfirman.

"We had a dozen chances to win and didn't take them," said the Yankee boss.

Ruffing was disconsolate.

"Somebody said nobody loves a fat man," he sighed. "Must be true. Fitzsimmons, Malone and myself—all pretty hefty—we all get beat."

GASTON SIGNS AGAIN

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Alexander Gaston today signed a new contract to manage the Dallas Steers of the Texas league during the 1937 season.

The Steers during the past season finished on top of the standings for the full season but lost the championship to the Tulsa Oilers in the Shaughnessy play-off.

Chapman And Keyes Start Rebuilding Backfield After Ince Is Ruled Out

* * * *

Strong Cleburne Club To Be Here Friday Night For Tilt

The solemn business of rebuilding a backfield was undertaken yesterday by Coaches Weldon Chapman and Goober Keyes of the Lubbock High Westerners.

It wasn't a very light-hearted crew out at the training field. The time is altogether too brief for the job of locating a quarterback to replace Earl Ince, against whom Amarillo High called the third strike last Saturday. Had the bad news been known a week earlier, Chapman would have had two full weeks to prepare somebody else for the position, if he has anybody else, but now, with the big Cleburne High school team coming here Friday for one of the toughest games of the season, it's going to take a lot of pulling together.

Tickets Are On Sale

Tickets for Friday night's game went on sale yesterday at The Hub Clothiers, official down town ticket agency for Lubbock High. Middle sections on either side of the field will be reserved for the game, which will be one of the outstanding attractions of the home season.

Chapman had only three players listed on his roster for the quarterback position—two of them, Dutchy Cawthon and Bill Sessums coming up from last year's Cowhand team and not yet ready to go with the regulars. Ince was the third, and Ince has been declared ineligible because, Amarillo High records of current reading show, he attended one too-many semesters at the Sandie school before transferring to Lubbock.

To Convert Halfback

So it's most likely that Chapman will seek a quarterback from his halfback lists, where "spares" are more prevalent.

Chapman gained a halfback about the time he lost his quarterback, Walter Webster, a red-headed, ball-toting demon who transferred from somewhere near Cisco, became eligible about a week ago and looks to be a sure thing in the backfield. If he runs at half, it probably will be the displacement of Max Rutledge, a hardy little warrior who has been running with Harold Ingley at the wingbacks. Webster may take one of these positions, with Rutledge or Ingley moving to the quarterback or blocking slot.

Co-Captain C. L. Storrs probably will continue to bark signals from his tailback position.

Ince will be missed most for his blocking and passing ability. He was being developed into a spot passer, and was doing right well.

Workouts will be hard and tough for the next two days, probably a stiff scrimmage both afternoons. The line appears to be in good shape, and functioning rather smoothly in its rearrangement. Big Rafe Nabors, transplanted center, is going better at tackle, with Herb Leaverton holding down the center job. Nabors and Babe Ritchie give Chapman a pair of tackles that can compare with anybody's, for weight and enthusiasm, that is. There is one heavy guard, Sterling Short, otherwise the team will be outweighed by the powerful Cleburne outfit which has won two games with ease.

A defense to stop the Yellow Jacket ace, Finis White, will occupy the Westerners' attention every day this week. White is a 210-pound line plunger de luxe whom nobody has been able to hold yet.

There's scarcely a breather on the Lubbock schedule from here on. After the Yellow Jackets come the Capitol Hill team of Oklahoma City, and then the beginning of the district championship race against Pampa. Borger and Amarillo follow, with an open date between, then Clovis and Plainview.

Club Tournament Moves Sluggishly

Only two matches had been determined and one other started at the scheduled end of the opening round in the annual Country club championship tournament yesterday.

C. J. Williams defeated W. F. Helwig, 4 and 3. C. I. Wall won by default from Sid Thrash. Bob Harvey and Dr. J. H. Stiles are to finish their first round match this afternoon after starting yesterday. Stiles won the championship in 1934, lost it last year to John Edmisson, who is not defending his title.

Second round matches get under way today and continue through Wednesday, with Williams meeting C. J. Quinlan, Cliff Dean playing Wall, Don Mitchell meeting Ted Tipps and Ralph Trolinger clashing with the winner of the Harvey-Stiles match. Quinlan, Dean, Mitchell, Tipps and Trolinger drew first round byes. Th tournament final is scheduled Sunday.

SLATON GRIDDERS WIN

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special)—The Slaton High school "B" team came back tonight, after losing to Ralls last Friday night, 6-0, and defeated Crosbyton 20 to 0 in a hurriedly scheduled game here.

Slaton's "A" team defeated Tahoka, 77-0, last Friday night, and Crosbyton's No. 1 lineup won from Lockney, 34-0.

"Now Maybe We'd Better Try This"

Annual Invitation At Meadowbrook Scheduled Oct. 18

Meadowbrook Golf club is issuing bids now for its annual South Plains invitation tournament, usually conducted in August or September but postponed because of bad weather last month.

The tournament, a one-day, medal play affair, is booked for Sunday, October 18. Entries are to shoot an 18-hole qualifying score in the morning, the score to determine the player's flight. The afternoon score will be added to the qualifying round, low total winning in each flight.

This will be the sixth annual tournament. In the past it has served to climax the South Plains league season, but the league did not function this year.

Winner last year in a field of sixty was young Fred Fairey of Plainview, who blasted the course for a 36-hole score of 129, eleven under par. Carl Nail was runner up.

Prizes will be given to the winner in each flight, also to the youngest and oldest golfers in the field. There will be no entry fee outside the usual Sunday green fee for non-members.

Victorious Oklahomans Work Hard For Tilt With Steers

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 5. (AP)—Back from their victorious invasion of Colorado, the University of Oklahoma gridsters skipped through a lengthy workout today in preparation for their annual battle with the Texas Longhorns at Dallas Saturday.

Major Lawrence "Biff" Jones dismissed his regulars early but kept all the varsity reserves on until nearly dark, stressing defense against Texas formations. The freshmen, using Coach Jack Chevigny's Notre Dame offensive style which the Sooners must face at Dallas, ran ground and aerial plays against three varsity combinations.

Dale Haddock Is Back; To Tackle Bob Cummings

Dale Haddock, the well-known three-fingered wrestler, barged into town yesterday after a non-stop cross country drive from Hollywood, and immediately "signed them papers" to start resumption of his Southwestern circuit maneuverings tomorrow night at Sled Allen's weekly card.

Wrestling attendance, down to a new low last week during the fair, is due to pick up by several hundred per cent tomorrow night, because it's practically an all-star card Promoter Allen has arranged. Haddock meets Bob Cummings, the clever person from California, in the curtain raiser, Haddock, once tops in the district, showed up yesterday in fine shape.

Dory Detton, brother of the world's heavyweight wrestling champion (in some states), Dean Detton, is to meet Jittery Joe Bauer in the semi-final tomorrow night. Bauer, more of a clown than a wrestler but who sometimes comes through in surprise moves to get good jobs done, has been begging for a shot at the Mormon. He didn't quite rate it as a main event but his challenge was accepted for a time-limit affair.

Yaqui Joe, the veteran Indian, is on the main event with Gene La Belle, and the fans suspect that Joe will give La Belle sufficient punishment to balance the rough stuff the Frenchman has been dishing out lately.

Rain caused Elvin Dilling's six prize Holstein cows to take refuge under a tree at Altoona, Pa. Lightning killed all of them.

Shock Troops Get Attention From Cawthon

Texas Tech Starts Practicing For Tough Tilt With Wichita University Friday Night In Wichita, Kansas

Coach Pete Cawthon turned his attention more seriously to his shock troops yesterday in the first Texas Tech drill for Friday night's game in Kansas with the Wichita university Wheatshockers.

"I have a suspicion," mused Cawthon, "that we're in for a pretty rough game Friday night. It was a rough game last year when Wichita played here. We probably will need more than eleven good men, so we're working on the reserves this week."

An offensive drill featuring the team which started against Oklahoma City university occupied most of yesterday's workout period.

Both "Notre Dame" Teams

Al Gebert and Nordy Hoffman, coaches at Wichita, are dyed-in-the-wool believers of the Notre Dame system, having had it taught them by Rockne himself, so it will be "Irish against Irish" when the t ams clash in Wichita Friday night. Gebert and Hoffman have the reputation of teaching the "Purest and Truest" Notre Dame football in the country today, unless it's at Texas Tech.

Hoffman, great lineman at Notre Dame, was here to scout the Red Raiders Saturday night against O. C. U.

May Start Shockers

Cawthon isn't sure yet, but he thinks he'll start Capt. Frank Guzick's bunch, that slashing team of shock troopers who played the hust-

Hopes Of Many Powerful Grid Teams Go On Auction Block This Week As Football Retires All Other Sports

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—National championship aspirations of a half dozen pooh-bahs of college football go on the block this week as the gridiron pastime gains undisputed control of the sports pages.

The program includes:

Midwest—Ohio State, whose pony backs ran wild at New York university's expense, 60-0, before a record opening day crowd of more than 72,000 last week, will get a thorough testing from Pitt's Panthers, another powerhouse combination. Both are rated strong national championship contenders.

East—The intersectional angle is heavily played as Michigan State battles Carnegie at Pittsburgh and Southern Methodist tackles Fordham's bone-crushing Rams at New York but the emphasis is on intra-sectional contests.

South—the football pot boils with four Southeastern conference and five Southern conference games. Louisiana State, shocked by its failure to get better than a 6-6 draw with Texas, begins defense of its Southeastern title against Georgia's unimpressive Bulldogs. Georgia Tech and Kentucky, two powerful arrays, clash at Atlanta as Alabama takes on Mississippi State and Tennessee, beaten by North Carolina, 14-6, plays host to Auburn, tied, 0-0, by Tulane's surprising Green Wave.

Southwest—Texas' Longhorns face Biff Jones' Oklahoma Sooners who stopped Colorado University, 8-0. Arkansas, beaten by Texas Christian, 18-14, in a game marked by sensational passing, meets Baylor while Rice halted, 14-0, by Duquesne, seeks to overturn Texas A. & M., narrow 3-0 victory over Hardin-Simmons.

Far West—Washington and U. C. L. A. are rivals in the featured game. Each won last week, the Huskies stopping Idaho, 22-0, while U. C. L. A. was romping over Montana, 39-0.

Rocky mountain — Conference competition begins in earnest as Denver is matched with Colorado State, Greeley Teachers with Brigham Young, Friday, and Utah with Western State, Montana State with Colorado College, and Wyoming with Utah State, Saturday.

Country Club Women Asked To Qualify For Inter-City Play

Women golfers of Lubbock Country club, with a good opportunity to "show the men up," are urged to qualify today or tomorrow for the inter-city competition Friday with a delegation of Big Spring linkswomen.

All women golfers are asked to turn in an 18-hole qualifying score to serve as a basis for matching the Big Spring players, who will be ranked when they arrive.

At least ten visitors are expected, and the local club is anxious to provide an opponent for every visitor. The meeting originally was scheduled for early September, but postponed because of unfavorable weather.

Only 11 Country club men turned in qualifying scores for the annual championship, first rounds of which began Sunday.

WAR DECLARED ON UNSAFE TIRES!

ATTENTION! ONLY SILVERTOWNS HAVE GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION!

THOUSANDS killed or injured! Sounds like a wartime news headline. But it isn't. It's the cold figure of the number of motoring accidents that happen every year when blow-outs throw cars out of control. And nobody knows how many more names will be added to this accident list during the coming year. Because nobody knows how many motorists are still riding around on unsafe tires.

What you need on your car are tires that are not only built for long mileage, but for real safety—real protection against today's high-speed blow-outs. The new Goodrich Safety Silvertown is just that kind of a tire. It's the only tire in the world built with the Life-Saver Golden Ply, a layer of special rubber and full floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific heat that is generated inside the tire by today's high speeds. By resisting this heat the Golden Ply keeps rubber and fabric from separating—keeps heat blisters from forming inside the tire. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.

No extra cost

If you need tires now—if you are going to need them any time during the next few months—don't take chances! Play safe by equipping your car with a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns. They cost not a penny more than other standard tires and they'll give you months of extra mileage and greater riding comfort in the bargain.

A free tire inspection may save your life. Come in today!

FREE! A million more motorists pledged to safe driving is the Goodrich goal for 1936. Prove that you want accidents prevented. Come in today and join the Silvertown Safety League. We'll get for you—free—a handsome emblem with a red crystal reflector to protect you if your tail light fails.

Cochran Test Awaiting Pipe

Further Operations Will Probably Be Started This Week In Cascade-Honolulu No. 1 Duggan, Reports Say

Awaiting a car load of 7-inch pipe from Memphis, Tenn., further operations will probably be started this week in the Cascade-Honolulu No. 1 Duggan, Cochran county producer. Pipe was due in Big Spring Monday and was to be trucked to the location.

Operators have not been back in the hole since last Wednesday, it was said. More than 1,100 feet of oil was reported in the hole.

To Run Test

When the casing arrives, the hole will be made ready by removal of present casing and the 7-inch run to around 4,925-50 feet. A test then will be made. It is not expected test will be made until later in the week.

Estimated at 75 barrels at present depth, the test is considered one of the most important recent operations. It is 27 miles from nearest production, the No. 1 L. P. Bennett of Cascade-Honolulu in Yoakum county.

First oil was had at 5,028 feet. Gas, first estimated at 100,000 cubic feet, which later increased to 500,000 to 1,000,000 feet, had stopped blowing, due to cavings, it was believed. It is in the center of labor 13, league 55, Oldham county school land.

BEING CLEANED OUT

Shot with 564 quarts of nitroglycerine, Landreth Production corporation's No. 1 W. K. Kirk, Gaines county producer, is cleaning out for a new test to determine production. The shots were given at 4,694 to 4,842 feet and the hole filled with 3,500 feet of oil in the first two hours after the shots. First head was three hours after the shot and an hour later it headed, then bridged. The plug was drilled out from 4,825 to 4,850 feet, after having been plugged back from 4,8870 feet to shoot off sulphur water. The location is in section 22, block A-21, public school land, south of Seminole about nine or ten miles.

TO RESUME DRILLING

Stanolind No. 1 Dewey Davis, a mile and a half northwest of the Landreth, in section 19, block A-21, Gaines county, is scheduled to resume drilling. It was to have plug at 4,255 feet, ten feet off bottom, drilled. Rotary was changed to standard tools at the depth and the 7-inch casing cemented.

TO DRILL PLUGS

Amerada's No. 1-A Averitt, section 228, block G, W. T. Ry. survey, northwest of Seminole, was due to drill plugs from 9 5-8 inch casing cemented at 2,875-2,882 feet, eight feet off bottom. It is an southwest offset to the Gaines county gasser brought in last spring.

GAUGES 819.9 BARRELS

Humble No. 10 J. S. Means ranch in north central Andrews county, Gauged 813.9 barrels of oil in 24 hours through tubing, after having been treated with acid when bottomed at 4,525 feet. It broadened the pool a quarter mile east. It is in section 20, block A-35, public school land.

ACTIVITIES MARKING TIME

Still fishing for a bit lost at 2,910 feet, the Texas Co. No. 1 Bob Slaughter, Hockley county wildcat southwest of Levelland and near Sundown, was marking time. A new and heavier engine had been set up to attempt to pull the bit. It is in labor 83, league 38, Zalvalla county school land.

DRILLING CONTINUED

Drilling ahead to 2,650 feet in red sand, the Moore Bros. No. 1 Clayton and Johnson, Borden county wildcat was proceeding. A pocket of air was encountered in anhydrite at 2,512-23 feet. It is in the southeast quarter of section 20, 34-4N T & P survey.

SHOWING SOME WATER

Depended to 5,001 feet, Ray Albaugh et al No. 1 John Robinson was unchanged, still showing a small amount of water. Fluid rose 750 feet in 12 hours, after being swabbed down following deepening. It is in sections 46, block M. E. L. & R. R. survey.

TO RESUME DRILLING

Gartex No. 2 Post estate, section 6, block 5, K. A. Cox survey, was to resume drilling this week after a shutdown, when leaks were found after 6 5-8 inche casing was set at 2,362 feet, to shut off heavy salt water flow. It is the only active Garza test.

FUNERAL SERVICES ARRANGED

McLarnin Bests Tony Canzoneri

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—Jimmy McLarnin, baby faced Vancouver Irishman, turned in one of his best performances in recent years tonight to score a slashing ten-round victory over Tommy Canzoneri, former lightweight champion, in their return ten-round bout in Madison Square garden.

McLarnin, who was decisively defeated by Canzoneri when they met first last spring, more than got even tonight. He administered what probably was the worst defeat in the little New Orleans Italian's dozen years of distinguished ring campaigning.

The Associated Press score card gave McLarnin seven of the ten rounds. Two were credited to Canzoneri and one was called even.

ling Goldbugs a good game for nearly two quarters. Guzick is captain and center of that team, and he defies the "regulars" to bust them. "Frankenstein" himself was a power in the startling line, making more than 50 per cent of all the tackles while he was in the game, and he kept his mates going at top speed. His team petitioned Cawthon a few hours before the game to "let us start," and they were accommodated. George Philbrick and Raymond Curfman play at ends on that team, Bull Katrola and Red Murphy the tackles, Jim Brown and Skinney Green the guards. Charley Duval is quarterback for that team and right halfback for the regulars, by design, with Ed Smith and Maurice Chernosky or Miles Chapman at halfback, Elmer Tarbox at full.

The Techs came from the OCU game in fine physical condition. The b' knot Jim Neill got on his head has all but vanished and he's all right again. With Duval at quarter for the shockers, Winny Baze returns to the right halfback position, with Winters at full and Captain Cannon at quarter.

The team leaves by train Thursday afternoon for Wichita, arriving there early Friday morning. The return trip starts after Friday night's game.

Question About

CARDUI

PERIODICAL PAINS

"Why do so many women take Cardui for functional pains of menstruation?"

Each dose of Cardui contains a purely vegetable sedative and antispasmodic— that is, a pain-relieving and cramp-relieving medicine that is especially effective at monthly periods.

This fact about Cardui (that it helps to relieve many of the ordinary functional pains of menstruation with a beneficial plant extract, not habit-forming, not objectionable to take) is greatly appreciated by thousands of women. They recommend it to others.

Cardui is purely vegetable, liquid in form, and comes in 9-ounce bottles, with full directions for use. Try it! Of course, if it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician. —Adv.

Motorcycle Polo? Definition To Be Run Out On Wheels Sunday Afternoon

Chevigny Takes No Chances Of "Big-Head" Development

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—Coach Jack Chevigny of the University of Texas today took no chances on his Longhorns developing the "big-head" over the surpising 6-6 tie with Louisiana State Saturday.

Today both first and second string clubs were put through the mill. The first team was worked out in a high-speed dummy scrimmage and the second engaged in the real thing for two hours.

The Longhorns emerged without serious injuries in the Saturday game and were working out for their encounter with Oklahoma university next week-end at Dallas. Plans call for leaving Austin Friday morning and working out in Fort Worth that afternoon. The team will go to Dallas Saturday.

Parents' Day Is Planned At Tech

Parents of all students of Texas Technological college will be invited to come to the college on Nov. 6, date on which the Tech-Oklahoma A. & M. football game will be played, said Dr. Bradford Knapp, Tech president.

A program likely will be planned for that day, he said.

Tech has never observed a parents' day, although many colleges have observed dads' and mothers' day, or dads' day.

Nov. 6 has been designated parents' day on football schedules issued from Tech.

Four Mary Prices Live At Tech Dorm

Perplexed callers for Mary Price are learning the convenience of knowing Miss Price's middle name.

Four Mary Prices are living in the women's dormitory at Texas Technological college.

The problem of keeping mail, telephone calls and dates straight has partially been solved by use of middle names.

The students are registered as follows:

E. Mary Price, home economics student from Pampa; Mary Dee Price, sophomore arts and science student from Brownfield; Mary Louise Price, freshman arts and science student from Fort Worth; Mary Nell Price, junior arts and science student from San Angelo.

A young man who had an engagement with a Mary Price called at the dormitory last night. Which Mary Price did he want to see, he was asked. He did not know. He eventually found the co-ed he wished to see.

Bruised Aggies Study Scout Notes; Rest For Rice Battle

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Texas Aggies, considerably bruised from their tough game with the Hardin-Simmons eleven, took things comparatively easy today.

No major injuries were reported.

The Aggies preparing for the opening conference game with Rice Saturday, confined today's activities to checking over Scout "Dough" Rollins' notes on early Rice games and concentration on blocking.

PREPARE FOR HOGS

WACO, Oct. 5. (AP) — The Baylor bears, disappointed over their showing against Centenary last week, began preparing today for their opening conference game with the Arkansas Razorbacks at Fayetteville, Ark., Saturday.

BLAMES OVERCONFIDENCE

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 5. (AP) Coach Fred Thomsen today attributed the University of Arkansas eleven's defeat by the Texas Christian Horned Frogs to overconfidence.

Thos. Otho Cowan, Sweetwater, Dies Following An Operation

SWEETWATER, Oct. 5. (AP)—Thomas Otho Cowan, 61, Sweetwater real estate owner and financier, died in a hospital after an operation yesterday. Funeral services were arranged for this afternoon.

He owned much real estate in Sweetwater and West Texas. Recently he purchased remaining assets of the defunct National bank. He held interests in the Taylor county oil field.

Born in Arkansas, he came to West Texas in 1901, settling at Stanton. Later he lived at Loraine and then came here.

What is this motorcycle polo business, anyway?

A lot of newcomers to the town are asking that question, and most of them are getting answers from fans who have watched the Lubbock Red Shirts through four years of unbeaten competition which led to a national championship.

The question is to be answered in its entirety Sunday afternoon when the Red Shirts resume competition after a year's rest by meeting the challenge of Amarillo's Rough Riders.

Red Shirts Play Here

The game is to be played at the Lubbock baseball park, where a regulation motorcycle polo field has been designated, and which henceforth is to be the home of the Red Shirts. They will divide time with the Lubbock Hubbers during the baseball season.

The ball park is due to be jammed to capacity—and extra bleachers are being ordered—if the team draws support now that it did before it won the national title. No attempt was made to play last year because of lack of facilities. Now, in a regulation ball park, the team starts again, and means to keep going after another national pennant.

Game Is Mixed Affair

The game is played on a rectangle similar to a football field. Goal posts are situated at either end, through which the players, while riding bucking motorcycles, are expected to kick a round inflated ball somewhat smaller than a basketball, larger than a volleyball.

There are five players to a side—two forwards, two guards and a goal guard. Rules of the game are taken from basketball, football, soccer and polo, and the game embodies the fastest, most active and dangerous points of all the others.

The Red Shirts staged an intra-squad scrimmage before a grandstand packed with curious and thrill-hungry fans Sunday. The workout was free to the public, and drew a heavy response. The team will work out daily this week in preparation for Sunday's joust with the invading Amarillo club.

Tango Game Parlors Strike Sour Note; A Modern Carrie Nation Threatens Reprisals

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5. (AP) — A tall Venice housewife threatened before the city council here to become a modern Carrie Nation and lead a hatchet brigade if something is not done to close tango game parlors at the beach resort, part of Los Angeles.

She was Mrs. L. S. Galloway. With her were members of the Citizens' Betterment league, which frequently has reported to the council that Venice tango parlors were running wide open and slot machines operating under police protection.

"Is a Carrie Nation necessary?" Mrs. Galloway dramatically asked the council.

"If so, I'll take the role. There are plenty of other women who will join me and form a hatchet brigade to put these vultures who prey on poor people and their last dimes, out of business."

Amnesia Victim Wakes Up In Fort Worth Jail, Thinking He Was In Little Rock, Ark.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5. (AP)—An amnesia victim came out of a coma in city jail today, thinking he was in Little Rock, Ark.

He said he was Charles Wallace, 39, a WPA worker, who last remembered playing pool in Little Rock. He was arrested Sunday night and was jailed because he could not give his name or address.

He said he had suffered 12 or 15 similar spells over a period of six years, since he was slugged during a robbery in Little Rock. He said he has three children under the care of a housekeeper in Little Rock. Charles, jr., 13; Clara Mae, 11, and Florine, 8—and two being cared for by a brother, C. F. Wallace, of Pawhatten, Kan. They are Roy Baxter, 4, and Lucille, 3.

Wallace said his wife died two years ago. He left police headquarters, hoping to hitch-hike back to his Little Rock home.

Declares, "Gly-Cas Without An Equal"

Mr. L. C. Johnson Freed Of Rheumatism After Years Of Suffering, Kidneys Regulated, Entire System Toned; Gly-Cas Unfailing In Reaching Source Of His Troubles

"For years before I knew of Gly-Cas I was hardly able to get about I was so crippled with rheumatism," said Mr. L. C. Johnson, 602 Scott Street, Alexandria, La., "The pains

MR. L. C. JOHNSON

I endured were terrible and I was never free of them. I had also been badly constipated, my system had become clogged with poisons and I felt as if I would never be well again. My kidneys became disordered, my rest and sleep was disturbed during the night, had awful pains in the small of my back and was worn-out continually. All these years I had taken many different kinds of medicine doing my best to get relief but meeting with repeated failure until I began Gly-Cas—it was what I had been needing all these years."

"Gly-Cas toned my entire system in a most natural manner," he continued, "My kidneys and bowels were easily regulated, I now eat and sleep good, enjoy a full night's rest, have new strength and energy and feel fine. What is so amazing is the fact that this new herbal remedy actually drove the rheumatism entirely out of my system, now get around with ease, do as I please and feel fine. Gly-Cas is such a blessing to all suffering humanity and is well deserving of all the praise given it and more."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Success Seen For Big Sale

Opening Day Crowds Display Unusual Interest In Ford Dealers' Used Car Clearance Sale Over Country

Opening day crowds yesterday in this and other cities of the United States indicate unusual success in the nation-wide Ford Dealers' Used Car Clearance Sale being conducted throughout the county, Mr. Morris head of the Lubbock Auto Company, Inc. announced today. The sale will continue throughout October.

"Special bargains in used cars drew crowds to our display throughout the day," Mr. Morris reported. Scores of persons who have been planning to buy a better car for winter driving apparently are taking advantage of this nation-wide sale.

Woodwork Prize Contest Scheduled

Men and boys—or women, if they like—who enjoy making things with tools may enter a Powr-Kraft woodworking prize contest to be conducted from now until Dec. 3, said A. H. Maas of Montgomery Ward store, sponsor.

Prizes will be given in two classes —A for those 17 years old and older, B for those 16 and younger. Entry blanks may be had in the hardware department, in the Ward basement. Three Lubbock men will judge.

Craftsmanship with woodworking tools will determine winners. Size or cost of materials will not be considered. It is not necessary to have purchased tools from the contest sponsor, said Maas.

Fire Prevention Plans Are Mapped Monday Afternoon

Distribution of questionnaires to school children and initial inspections throughout the business district were mapped today for the observance of fire prevention week at a session of two committees yesterday afternoon at Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

All students except those at the high school are to receive information sheets with blanks to be filled in by parents and returned Wednesday and Thursday.

Firemen under direction of Chief W. E. Twitty are to pay courtesy visits today and other days this week to business houses in a move to locate any existing fire hazards.

A pamphlet containing data on savings in Lubbock through a reduction in insurance premiums, and how further reduction is possible, was reported being printed for distribution at luncheon clubs this week. Chief Twitty last night was completing a miniature house to be used in demonstrating common fire hazards resulting from electricity misuses. Posters are being distributed by firemen.

Members of the chamber committee and of a Lubbock Insurance Exchange committee present yesterday were: Guy L. McAfee, chairman, Twitty, D. A. Forbess, L. D. Casey, Kenneth E. Oberholtzer, R. Bush Smith, Ray Allen, and J. H. Brock.

From The Crystal Ball!

HERE'S the latest and best lowdown on everything a year in advance!

Anyhow, it's the lowdown on everything but the presidential race, which seems to be just a little short of clear to the predicters.

In convention for the first time, at Trenton, the National Association of Fortune Tellers issued predictions for 1937 which are mainly remarkable for an unwonted optimism. Those to whom the future is an open book are given as a rule to dark prophecy. They foresee the toppling of dynasties, the destruction of great cities and events of like cheerlessness.

But next year is to be different.

America will enter no war nor suffer any major catastrophe. There will be fewer divorces and more marriages—and more marriages for love and fewer for money. As always, 1937 will be a poor year for those marrying in haste. The Yankees will take the present series, though in this we suspect the seers had an eye on the form sheet while fixing the other on the crystal. Very interesting, if a little perplexing, is the consensus on the election:

"Mr. Roosevelt seems definitely slated for reelection, but according to our psychometry reading, which is governed by our individual psychic powers, as apart from the science of fortune-telling, Mr. Landon will win if he gets proper support to bolster him."

This could be more conclusive, we think. We do not look for such equivocation in those who see all, know all. It reads too much like the market advice that stocks will rise unless a recession sets in. If the seers at Trenton had buckled down to their psychometry they could have given us the outcome in a word.

It's too bad we didn't hear about the convention's prediction while the fair was still in town. There were several "seers" of various types out there on the carnival midway and maybe one or all of them could have cleared up the election puzzle.

As it is we'll have to consult our own ouija boards for the correct forecast!

WITH OUR CONTEMPORARIES

"The weather man has had a wonderful chance to make a hit with Floyd county farmers since the rains let up, but has fumbled the play, missed the signal and run the other way with the ball, all at one and the same time," Homer Steen notes in the Floyd County Hesperian.

"With the fall rush coming on and increase in population, the need of a public ladies rest room here is felt more than ever," Forrest Weimhold points out in the Sudan News. "This would certainly be a splendid project for some civic organization to promote."

"You can judge as to the accuracy of some of the straw polls that are being conducted over the country, by the results in your own locality," H. G. Richards points out in the Anton News. "For instance, one of them gives Landon a majority in Texas."

Today's One-Minute Sermon

Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?

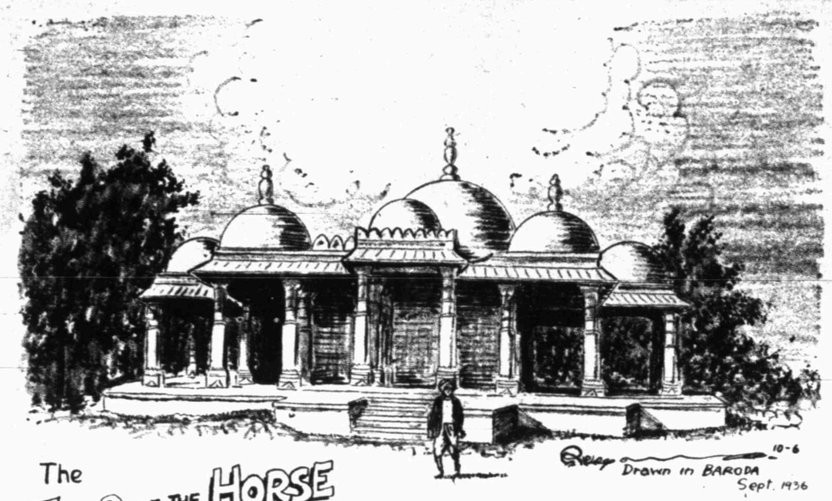

It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this; yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.

Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON
THE TOMB OF THE SACRED HORSE

The Chora-Kapir (Tomb of the Horse) in Baroda, India is a sanctuary and famous place of pilgrimage, to which large numbers flock annually, to pray. The structure is surmounted by 10 large domes and was erected over the final resting place of the horse belonging to Saint Sayed. It compares in pretentiousness with the Temple of the Dog in Burma and with the Mosque of the Camel in Tripolis, to which my own pilgrimages in search of the unusual have taken me in the past.

TRANS-PACIFIC FLIGHT

BY DECK MORGAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY

KAY DUNN, pretty airplane stewardess, falls in love with TED GRAHAM, veteran pilot who flies the trans-Pacific route.

Ted, however, is not interested in romance. He is devoted to two interests: his job in the air service and his adopted son, DICKIE, 7 years old. Dickie and Kay become close friends and soon the three spend much time together.

One night Kay and Ted have a long talk in which he explains his views on marriage. To be successful, he says, a marriage must be planned scientifically, just as a plane flight. Kay does not agree to all this, but when he asks her to marry him she says yes.

The marriage takes place and the honeymoon is a flight to the Orient. Later, with Ted away for weeks at a time, Kay is lonely. She tries to keep busy, caring for her home and for Dickie. Ted is working on an invention, when he is in port, spends less and less time at home.

Kay is deeply disappointed because he is unable to be home for Christmas. She gives a dinner party and later goes with three friends, DORIS LEE, RALPH BANGS and MONTE BLAINE, to dance.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

When Ted returned home, three days after Christmas, Kay met him at the dock with Dickie at her side.

"The little wife waiting with open arms!" she thought, as the giant flying ship settled down in the harbor and taxied up to the landing.

Ted came to her, his tanned face beaming. He gathered her in his arms, and for one quivering moment, under the feeling of his hard embrace, she yielded completely to him again. But the moment was quickly gone.

She began to talk of things that had happened since he had left.

"Was old Santa Claus good to you?" Ted said to Dickie. "Sorry I didn't make it home with my presents in time for the tree, but I've got them in my duffle bag."

"I want an aviation helmet with 10,000 hours in the air on it," Dickie said.

"All right, you'll have mine!" Ted replied, laughing. "It's practically worn out anyway."

"And what do you want?" he said to Kay.

She looked up at him. "You always seem to know just what pleases me, Ted," she said quietly.

"But nothing special? Nothing in jade to match those gorgeous eyes!"

"Oh Ted don't tease!" she said. "Of course I'm dying to see what you brought."

He took a box from his pocket and opened it disclosing the loveliest jade bracelet she had ever seen.

"Oh, it's beautiful!" She stood up on her toes and kissed him.

But they were both strangely quiet during the drive back to the house built on the sands. Ted sensed that something had come between them.

He said, "Darling, you're not worried about anything?"

"No."

"Did I miss a big Christmas dinner? Whom did you invite?"

"Doris and her crowd. And, of course, Jerry."

"I'm glad you asked Jerry," Ted said. "We hadn't missed a Christmas dinner together for almost 20 years."

Kay laughed. "That's what he kept telling us. I'm afraid he talked too much. He told what a gay dog you were in Paris in war-time."

Ted smiled, "Good old Jerry."

"People drifted in during the evening," Kay said, "and then we went to the Palace and danced until almost morning."

Ted gave her a quick look. "We—?"

"Monte Blaine and I and Doris and Ralph. We went to hear Dudley Nix sing. He has a grand orchestra."

For a long while Ted was silent, and he appeared to be thinking hard about something. But when at last he turned to her he squeezed her hand. "I'm glad you had a good time," he said. "After all, Christmas only comes once a year."

Kay thought about those words for some time. The more she thought about them the more she imagined it was Ted's way of telling her she was forgiven for an escapade that might happen once a year. Kay, however, wanted to dance once a week, twice a week—not once during the year! Evidently Ted hadn't come to understand her need for gaiety.

But they did not mention the party again that day. Next morning Kay heard from Doris that Ted had called Monte in and lectured him. It was something, Doris explained elaborately, about Monte's last trip as an apprentice pilot. Monte, overnight in Honolulu, had done some celebrating and it had been reported to Ted.

Ted had said sternly, "Monte, you're my friend, but there are some things about you that make me doubtful about your ability to to fly the trans-Pacific route. The old order of courageous flying demons is out! On this trans-oceanic flight you must be merely an engineer."

Everybody in the colony knew that Ted had bawled Monte out, and everybody knew that Monte had been seen dancing with Ted's wife Christmas night. Quite naturally, they connected the two.

Kay herself thought that this was Ted's answer to her harmless escapade. She waited until Ted came home, tired and worried over some detail of his precious gyropilot. He had picked up a newspaper to read when she interrupted. "Ted," she said, "I heard about what you said to Monte Blaine today. Everybody knows you jacked him up about something."

He put down the newspaper and merely looked at her. "Oh—Monte!" he said. Then he smiled. "He needed it, the young devil. Monte is a little bit spoiled. I could hardly keep from laughing at the hurt-puppy look on his face. Don't worry about that. We're still good friends, and—"

"But that isn't what people will say at the airport," she objected. "They'll say you bawled him out because he went dancing with me."

Ted seemed actually surprised. "But—but I never thought about that! It's just that we can't tolerate—"

"Tolerate!" Kay exclaimed. "Monte goes out with a pretty girl in Honolulu to dance, and you can't tolerate it!"

"That wasn't my information," Ted said slowly. "Monte disobeyed rules."

"He's not a machine. He can't go o and on, like your airplanes, until he's used up and junked!"

Ted eyed her. There was in his look the quiet resolution that she had once admired so much. He said, quietly, "Kay, who knows men better—you or I? Who knows flying qualities better? I've seen aviation from its infancy, or five years we planned this trans-Pacific flight—scientifically."

"Plan, plan, plan!" she said. "I'm sick of the word. I'm sick of running a scientific household, too! Diets! Budgets! Vegetables without salt. One dollar a month for cosmetics and twenty for gasoline! That's what planning means to a man."

Ted smiled indulgently, and it made Kay more furious. "Don't look at me as though you were indulging a silly little girl!" she exclaimed.

"Kay!" he said, with feeling.

But she raged on. "The trans-Pacific flight is everything to you. Nothing else counts."

For the first time Ted looked troubled. But he let her continue.

"This home," Kay went on, "is just a place where you rest your weary head. The little wife, waiting in port with open arms. Poor, simple thing with her household duties! A well-ordered life ashore. Dickie is just a reflection of yourself—an eaglet! Where do I fit in? I'm a glorified housekeeper!"

"Kay! Kay!" Ted said, "you don't mean all that. You've let some gossip prey on your mind. You're hysterical—"

"Look at me," she said, on the verge of tears. "I married a man, and now what have I become—a trained engineer I wanted you to be crazy about me. I thought we'd have fun together. We're human—not robots or gyropilots. Automatic steering devices in a plane—"

"Kay!" Ted tried compassionately, gathering her into his arms. "You don't mean what you're saying. I have my job, and I have you. I can't be with you as much as other men who have jobs on land can be with their wives, but I do love you, Kay. I'm crazy about you. It wouldn't matter to me if you threw all the house-keeping overboard, and hired a raft of servants! But I don't think you'd want that. Now what do you want?"

Kay was sobbing on his shoulder, and he held her closer.

"I don't know what I want," she said, "except you! I want to enjoy more things with you. I want you to care whether I'm happy."

He laughed and picked her up in his arms.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ALF LANDON'S taunts have transformed three of the mildest men in New Deal circles—Messrs. Hull, Wallace and Winant—into raging, resentful spirts. He drew political blood when he scoffed at their foreign, farm and social knowledge.

Mr. Wallace reacted furiously and immediately. For him he grew profane and volcanic. When his aides rushed in to calm him down, they recalled their earlier strategy of caricaturing the G.O.P. nominee as an "amiable and pleasant man but—". "That's out," replied the cabinet member. "I agreed with you at first. But after reading his farm and social security speeches, I think he's insincere and evasive. I'm going after him."

The atmosphere of quiet dignity which characterizes Mr. Hull's panelled, carpeted and high-ceilinged sanctum vanished overnight. His eyes shone like a Tennessee feudist's as he ordered the experts to assemble tariff data and accept speaking engagements he had hitherto declined. Like most slow-to-wrath fellows, these two explode all over the place when they blow up.

COINCIDENCE: FDR has performed another sleight-of-hand trick which escaped all except the most practiced political eyes. Even among G.O.P.-ers it enchanced his reputation for Napoleonic exhibitions.

The New Dealers are extremely anxious to carry Massachusetts as a rebuke to the Smith-Ely and Coughlin-Lemke forces there. It's third to New York and Pennsylvania on the list of wanted and hunted states. But Governor James F. Curley smashed Democritic peace when he dashed into the Senatorial primary and roughly shoved aside Senator Marcus A. Coolidge. The latter's son-in-law, Mayor Robert Greenwood of Fitchburg, crossed primary swords with Mr. Curley and corralled 154,000 votes. When Mayor Greenwood announced that he would run as an Independent in November, it virtually assured defeat of the governor at the aristocratic hands of Henry Cabot Lodge, jr.

Then the chess game began. Mr. Curley explained his predicament to the President at the White House a few weeks ago. FDR promptly named Harry Woodring secretary of war, although the original plan was to defer his elevation until after election. Mr. Woodring is also a son-in-law of Senator Coolidge. Although depicted as "just another coincidence," Son-in-law Greenwood withdrew from the senatorial race the day after son-in-law Woodring was promoted to cabinet rank.

ACCEPTED: Rex Tugwell's recent experiences on his western travels satisfy the New Dealers that the "red" paint applied to the administration by the Hearst brush will not stick on election day.

It's through Professor Tugwell that the opposition seeks to depict the President as the candidate of the "communists." They have revived the Wirt charges, quoted Tugwellian appeals to "workers and farmers," advertised his promises to "remake the world." More than any other figure at Washington the Columbia academy is set up to be anathema to democratic Americans.

But on his drouth trip the farmers seemed to understand him. On his latest journey the train crews—engineers, firemen, brakemen, conductors, porters—paid informal, impromptu visits to his car. They shook hands, asked questions, chatted about family problems. He might have been a local alderman for all the awe or suspicion the overalled delegations revealed. When they departed, they chorused: "We're with you, professor!"

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

STEEL leaders are privately worried about the rapid progress John Lewis' recruiting agents have made in recent weeks. The Committee for Industrial Organization has deliberately shunned the spotlight, but its field organizers have been very much on the job.

A few weeks ago the industry's moguls were confident that their company unions would stand firm against the blandishments of "outsiders." Now there are alarming indications to the contrary. Furthermore, the atmosphere of unrest is beginning to affect almost all of the important steel companies to some degree.

Widespread receptiveness to unionizing overtures dates from the refusal to grant higher wage demands made by employe representatives of Carnegie Illinois a subsidiary of U. S. Steel. There is evidence that a great many steel workers interpreted that turndown as proof that they couldn't hope to realize their aims under existing conditions, and the the only thing left for them to do was to join the Lewis forces.

ERROR: The blunt rejection was founded on the overconfident promise that the Lewis outfit would lie low until after election in order not to jeopardize Mr. Roosevelt's chances by promoting immediate industrial conflict.

On this basis it was considered safe by those responsible for Carnegie Illinois' action to be firm with the employes. The time was ripe, it was felt, to educate workers and public about how dangerous it would be to employment to risk raising wages (and, in consequence, prices).

The miscalcultion lay in underestimating the determination of rank-and-file workers to keep on pushing for better pay and hours, regardless of advice to the contrary from above. Even though the Lewis group was stepping lightly to avoid political complications, it could hardly slam the door in the faces of recruits who were virtually begging to be enrolled. High up in the industry there is backstage talk of making concessions, to Carnegie Illinois and other company unions even at this late date in a desperate effort to undo the harm.

WHY: A New York banker noted for his vigorous opposition to the New Deal was being kidded by an associate upon his return from the American Bankers Association convention at San Francisco.

"Who muzzled you fellows?" the friend inquired. "I looked every day for someone to start sassing the administration like Orval Adams did last year. But the whole crowd of you behaved like a covey of Caspar Milquetoasts. I'm ashamed of you."

"I don't blame you," sadly replied the returned delegate. "We certainly didn't assert ourselves. It wasn't because the boys felt any less critical of Roosevelt than they have in the past. But most of us seemed to figure that there wasn't much sense in picking a fresh quarrel with a President we probably will have to live with for four years more. I didn't hear many expressions of confidence in a Republican victory."

Letters To The Editor

Your Voice Is As Loud As The Editor's; Write Your Views

FROM A LEGISLATOR

Editor, The Avalanche: Thousands of your readers are interested in information about the old age pension system. If you will permit me, as a member of the legislature, I will give them some facts that I knew beforehand, and which have been proven, under oath, in the investigation that the House of Representatives is now making. We have developed some startling matters. The information contained in this letter will give the old people the reasons why they have not received their pensions, nor the approval or disapproval, of their applications.

According to the treasurer's report they have already spent for administrative purposes about $624,000 and they are still eating it up. Only about $4,680 have been received for this fund. An additional $480,000 have been placed in the permanent old age assistance fund, and we are now seeking to use that now for the old people.

I am also seeking to use $2,000,000 annually of the cigarette tax for this purpose.

The system has developed into a racket the same as the relief system developed. The "investigator" is another name for "case worker." The "investigator" sets the amount a man or woman will receive just like the "case worker" did. Favoritism and discrimination are being used in a shameful manner. Space will not permit me giving instances proving this charge.

The executive director when asked why more men were not employed answered they were trying to keep expenses down. No wonder, when they have eaten up about 14 percent of it. They have violated the law in Section 8 in failing and refusing to give a copy of their order on the application to the applicant. They have also violated the law by giving out the money to part of the applicants when the law provides that it shall be paid pro rata to those entitled to it.

In Tarrant county they have passed on about 2,200 applications in 7 1-2 months. There are nearly 8,000 applicants in Tarrant county. At this rate it will take about 18 months more to get around to these applicants to say nothing of the new ones to come.

They have engulfed the relief system on the administration of this law as I foresaw a year ago they would do, and they are now trying to hide behind the federal government. I am tired of this "carpet bagging" scheme and will oppose it at every point.

They now want investigators to be college graduates and people that have had experience in welfare work before they can pass on applications of an old man or woman who is entitled to it under our constitution and law. The executive director admitted that he is not a graduate of any college, but he is presiding over the system. There is a desire to keep this going as long as possible. It is a bonanza for the potilical employees.

Even the Liquor board is finding it to be fat picking and they have recently increased the salaries of their employees 33 1-3 percent. The governor says he will let this system continue for the present and will not submit the pension law for amendment. I propose to submit the bill for amendment anway, and let the people see the exact situation. I am determined as far as I am concerned to be a faithful representative and represent the cause of the old people of this State and see that they get a fair deal. There is a strong desire to supress the fatch, but a majority of the House of Representatives are determined this shall not be done. After two afternoon hearings, one of the members tried to stop it, but we overwhelmingly defeated the move. The House of Representatives is determined to get the facts.

It has been proven that many receiving the pensions are not entitled to it, and thousands who are entitled to it are not receiving it. In one case the investigator put his colored wash women on the pension roll, when she had plenty of money in the bank, having been the wife of a rich horse trader in East Texas.

Clarence E. Farmer
Representative from Tarrant county.

AGAINST COMMUNISM

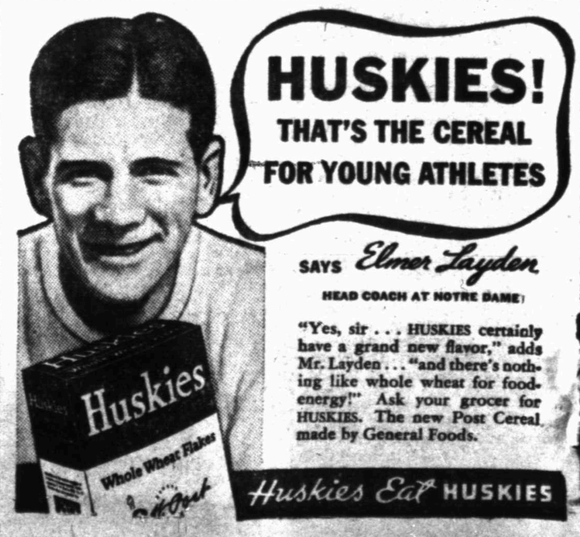

Editor, The Avalanche: I am not a professional "griper" nor is it my habit to write such letters as this to newspapers. In fact this is my first attempt at conveying my thought and ideas on a subject to an editor through the medium of letters. However, I feel that it is time for some of these so called good old American citizens to express their opinions.

My reason for writing this letter on this spectre called communism. These are not necessarily my ideas but also those of the men and women with whom I am associated daily in my work. I am 29 years of age, married and have an income which enables me to live a rather comfortable life. I am a college graduate, having attended a leading college in Texas, and then worked on my masters degree at University of Northern California.

It seems to me that it is high time something is being done to combat communism. All over the country hired propagandists sent to this country from Moscow are spreading their despicable brand of poison which sooner or later is going to eat the very foundation out from under the American form of government. On the leading page of every newspaper we read of Communist So-and-So making a speech advocating the overthrow of the American form of government. Earl Browder is a fine example of such a person.

What are we doing about it? Nothing. We sit on our easy chairs and beaming with self satisfaction and mentally complimenting ourselves we righteously exclaim to those who would shut the mouths of such, gentlemen, "Oh, but we Americans are noted for our belief that everyone has the right to express his of her opinion. This is a country of free speech." Hells bells! These communists are being given the privilege of free speech alright, but in their free speech they are

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 62

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

A girl of less dauntless spirit would have swooned away, but Kali Bwana gave little outward sign of the maelstrom within her mind. One of the white captives might be the man she had come to Africa to seek. And she was destined to witness his tortured doom!

She knew it would be useless to resist the wishes of the Leopard Clan chieftain now. She must bide her time. She must think. She must dare to hope, though her predicament seemed hopeless. Meanwhile, the great leopard which was a god eyed her hungrily.

"When captives arrive," Lulimi said, "you be made ready for secret ceremony." Then he ordered the horror-stricken girl returned to the gloomy room of the inner imple, where she was to await the coming of hideous night, with its program of dark mysteries. . . .

. . . Now Tarzan and The Kid were being led by their Leopard Men captors toward the hidden headquarters of the criminal brotherhood, from which no captive had ever returned. "Think there's any way out?" The Kid whispered. "I doubt it," Tarzan answered calmly.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP)—A two-sided stock market today found many issues pushing up to new recovery tops and others failing to make headway against profit taking interference.

Wall Street seemed to derive comfort from domestic industrial happenings, and a wide assortment of equities was given a buying play on hopeful earnings and dividend prospects.

The paring of European monetary values—the latest being those of the Italian and Czechoslovakian units—appeared to impress banking quarters as a step toward ultimate stabilization and expansion of international trade.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks managed to emerge with a net gain of .2 of a point at 69.8, a new peak since June 27, 1931. Transfers of 2,082,180 shares were the largest since April 30, last.

The day's tug-of-war between buyers and sellers was exemplified by the fact that, of 929 issues changing hands, 381 advanced, 343 declined and 205 were unchanged.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Cotton prices were well supported today, ending a couple of points higher after holding in a narrow range all day.

Hedge selling in the early morning brought small recessions of 1 to 4 points, but these losses were recovered and small gains substituted in the afternoon dealings.

The market had the continued heavy demand for cotton cloths in the New York market as a sustaining factor. The tremendous turnover in goods brought mills and merchants into the futures market for price-fixing purposes.

At New Orleans December closed at 11.98, January at 11.95 bid, March at 11.95 and July at 11.80 bid. The trade generally agreed that the next bureau report would be around 11,500,000 bales.

The weather was good for the crop today. Clear and cool conditions prevailed over practically the entire belt.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 12.20 cents a pound

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (AP) — Recovery from slight early cotton declines were noted today as pressure of southern selling lessened in the afternoon and trade buying continued to absorb contracts. December sold up from 11.96 to 12.07 and closed at 12.02 with the general market ending steady at net gains of 3 to 5 points.

Initial losses of 1 to 3 points proved to be the lows for the day. A week-end accumulation of hedge selling and liquidation influenced by favorable weather in the south uncovered trade and foreign buying. Local traders re-bought late in the session and final prices were at or within a point of the best for the day.

Exports today were 55,044 making a total of 886,728 for the season.

"It is about time some of our old ideas were exploded.

"The efficacy of fish as a brain food, lettuce to produce sleep, onions to cure a cold, parsley to increase fluid output, broth for strength, port wine and rusty nails for blood building, celery to soothe the nerves, skim milk and bananas for reducing and, last but not least, 'an apple a day' to 'keep the doctor away,' have all been proved without foundation."

"Enslavement Of People" Is Reed's New Deal Description

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 5. (AP)—James A. Reed, Democratic former U. S. Senator from Missouri, condemned the New Deal social program tonight as 'complete and absolute tyranny" leading to "ensalvement of all people."

In a speech prepared for delivery under auspices of the National Jeffersonian Democrats, of which he is chairman, Reed questioned the "good faith" of President Roosevelt's condemantion of "economic royalists" and asked whether that critism was not " a hypocritical and contemptible pretense intended to arouse class hatred and mislead the people."

Grains

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 5. (AP)—Uneasiness over European monetary difficulties did a good deal to promote a general downward trend of grain values today.

Associated with such difficulties was a dearth of important new trans-Atlantic demand for Canadian wheat. Fresh threatenings of marine labor troubles on the Pacific coast were also a source of wheat price weakness.

Temporary advances in the Liverpool wheat market had but a transient effect here.

Chicago wheat futures closed wavering at the day's bottom level, 1 cent to 1⅜ below Saturday's finish, Dec. 1.13¾@1.13⅞, May 1.12@1.12⅛, July 97⅝, corn ¼@½ down, Dec. 94⅛@94¼, May 89⅞%90, July 88@88½, oats ⅝@1¼ off, Dec. 40¾, and rye at ¾ decline to ⅜ advance. The outcome in provisions ranged from 7 cents setback to a bulge of 2 cents.

Corn, oats and rye declined when wheat prices weakened. Downturns of corn values were in the face of the fact that there is yet no indication of any immediate movement of new corn, although husking in southern areas is reported to be fairly general.

Provisions lacked sustained buying support.

All Demonstrations Banned In France

PARIS, Oct. 5. (AP)—The anxious government of Socialist Premier Leon Blum tonight banned all demonstrations that might cause trouble by "action or reaction."

At the same time cabinet leaders and Blum mapped a swift course fight to wipe out the "national party" of Col. Francois de La Rocque whose followers battled in the streets with Communists over the week-end.

Sharp Question Asked

La Rocque's followers promptly asked Minister of the Interior Roger Salengro whether his announced ban on demonstrations would be applied to Communist meetings likely to cause "reactions" such as the national party's counter-demonstration against the Communists Sunday.

In a communique, Salengro appealed to public opinion to back the government and said "the interests of the entire country are at stake."

Trouble Flares In Streets Of London

LONDON, Oct. 5. (AP) — Fifty marauders invaded the Jewish colony in London's East End today to raid shops after police had quieted an earlier anti-Fascist demonstration.

With bricks and stones, the roaming band smashed windows and plate glass fronts in a renewal of street rioting which forced cancellation of a parade planned by Sir Oswald Mosley, British Fascist leader.

Disturbances developed yesterday as Mosley's followers congregated near the town of London and anti-Fascist demonostrators in the East End threatened to charge the procession. Police persuaded Sir Oswald to call off the parade although scattered skirmishes broke out at a number of points.

Police pulled down barricades erected by Communist demonstrators along the projected line of march. Approximately 100 persons were arrested and between 200 and 300 treated for minor injuries before order was restored in the district.

Social Security Bill Approved

House Members Pass Measure Providing Participation Of Texas In Federal Program; Constitutionality Doubted

however, the legislature should pass it unless they were convinced it was unconstitutional.

No Additional Levy

They pointed out that enactment of a law at the special session was the only way in which Texas could receive benefits unless the federal act is ruled invalid.

The state would not levy an additional tax but would merely set up a system whereby its workers would benefit from the federal tax The bill contained a provision for voluntary contributions by employers in event the compulsory tax was stricken down.

Three Amendments Voted

The "economy bloc" in the house amended the bill to provide that salaries of each three members of an unemployment compensation commission would be $3,600 annually instead of $5,000. Another amendment gave the legislature control over the number of employes and their salaries.

A third change provided that operation of the state law would end automatically if the federal act should be ruled unconstitutional. Several representatives protested unsuccessfully against creation of a new commission, urging that administration be placed under an existing agency.

Highway Fund Transfer Blocked

A ruling by Speaker Coke Stevenson, meanwhile, apparently rang a death knell for proposals to transfer to the available old age pension fund $3,000,000 of the highway department surplus and $25,000 of the securities act fund.

Stevenson said he would sustain a point of order by Rep. Pope of Corpus Christi that the bill transferring the securities act money contravened that section of the constitution prohibiting diversion of any special funds created in the treasury by law.

Warrant Plan May Work

The speaker told the house also he would decide similarly against like bills as they came up, but before the ruling was entered formally the securities act measure was sent back to committee at request of the author, D. D. Cowley of Hillsboro, in an effort to work out a substitute that would not be stricken down.

A possible "out" for those who wanted to use highway funds temporarily for the pension emergency was seen in a bill by Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Fort Worth. It would instruct the highway department to invest $3,000,000 in pension warrants with subsequent reimbursement from the general or old age assistance funds.

Proposal Unconstitutional

Rep. Jap Lucas of Athens, author of the highway fund diversion bill, obtained a ruling from Attorney General William McCraw that his proposal was unconstitutional.

The attorney general ruled the constitutional prohibition was "against the division of any special funds provided in the constitution and therefore would not have any reference to any special funds which may have have been created by the legislature."

The senate agriculture committee reported favorably a substitute resolution for Senator E. M. Davis' original approving the national soil conservation and domestic allotment act. The substitute pledged cooperation with the federal government and several states in the administration of the law. Without approval, Texas A & M college was designated the administrative agency for the state.

The senate nominations committee took the lead in investigating the state liquor board, which had been proposed in house and senate resolutions. In executive session, it questioned D. J. Decherd of Flatonia, board member, and indicated it would question another member, D. B. Benson, tomorrow, as we'l as examine board records.

Rep. Alfred E. Petsch of Fredericksburg, author of the house resolution demanding investigation of the liquor board, assisted in examining Decherd. Previously he had indicated he would not press for action on his resolution, which had been sent to committee. Senator Will D. Pace of Tyler also evidenced desire to avoid a floor investigation into liquor administration by withdrawing his resolution of investigation.

Except for liquor board and old age assistance commission members and possibly one or two other individuals, the committee was expected to recommend confirmation of the rest of the governor's appointments.

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata told members of the state affairs committee he saw evidence of "enforcing a sales tax on the people of Texas" and warned them to watch for it. The committee was discussing Senator G. H. Nelson's delinquent tax act, which was adversely reported with a favorable minority report.

Deberry said the plan was to block legislation to raise funds for the needy aged with numerous bills and at the last minute offer a sales tax.

Senator Gordon Burns' bill, requiring a property owner to pay taxes on his rendition before he could appeal to the courts is resisting increases by local tax authorities, was favorably recommended.

Lubbock has more telephones than it ever had before, said James A. Williams, local manager, and it is one of the "few sizable towns of Texas" that can boast that distinction. The "saturation,' or percentage of telephone users to total population, too, shows substantial improvement, said Williams.

Devaluation Of Lira Is Made

and world trade recovery.

Italy's decision to devalue the lira came in the wake of a week of currency revision which started when France cut the gold content of her money.

Other countries which devalued their monetary units were Switzerland and Holland, both of which were on gold.

The Italian lira, however, rode up to the devaluation post under the reins of strict government management. Gold reserves up to the end of October, 1935, when the Bank of Italy discontinued its condition reports, totaled $350,000,000.

Government management involved rigid control of imports and exports of gold, goods and currency.

Devaluation of the lira was regarded in some banking circles as a long delayed effort to readjust Italian money into line with other world currencies.

Rep. Jasper N. Reed of Texarkana objected to the omnibus principle, saying it was an attempt to levy "25 taxes in one." He cited the experience in the last session, when the bill died in closing minutes, and said "the same thing is likely to happen again."

Status of bills on other subjects was in doubt. Hearings had been scheduled for tomorrow and Wednesday, in reply to a question as to whether they would be held James, serving as chairman in the absence of Chairman Walter Jones of Jourdanto, said he didn't know.

More than 2,000 contracts during the summer months will be terminated this month. The special rate provides a minimum charge of $2.80 for 10,000 gallons, with each thousand gallons thereafter furnished for 5 cents, both charges subject to a 10 per cent reduction for payment in 10 days.

The winter contracts extend for a six-months period ending in March.

Letter To Editor

advocating the overthrow of the American form of government. Do you suppose that an American could go to Moscow and climbing on the nearest soap box advocate, yea, implore the Russians to overthrow the Moscow government? He would face a firing squad, within the hour.

And what do you think is going on in our universities, where our future citizens are getting their training. At UNC I was asked to join a club the purposes of which I was told was the furtherance of good government. Mind you, only students with A averages were asked to become members of this club. The first night I met with this club we had a lovely banquet, met some nice people and everything seemd to be going fine. Then we retired to a dimly lighted room and entered a discussion on the faults of the present form of government. Then suddenly one of the girls jumped to her feet and exclaimed, "I am in favor of a bloody revolution to overthrow the American government and put in its place the communistic form." This may sound like a lie to you, Mr. Editor, but I will wager you that I can find you a similar club in every university in the West and East. One of the members of the above mentioned club was evicted from Cuba for trying the same thing there. One of the leading periodicals of the nation carried the story. I also want to mention that included on the rolls of this club was the name of a university professor of UNC.

You editors have tremendous power lying virtually at your pen points. With proper backing you can sway the nations opinion. Why don't you deplore the present practice of allowing communists to come to this country and try to overthrow our system of government.

Let's give these skunks a kick in the pants and send them back to Moscow where they belong.

You will probably realize that I cannot write very well on a typewriter nor am I very able to express my opinions but if you are able to receive from this letter an inkling of what I am driving at my time will have been well spent.

I am working for an organization which would immediately discharge me for writing such a letter so for that reason I am unabel to sign my name to this letter.
