Gunshot Wounds Fatal To Hockley Farmer

Gun Discharge While Hunting Rabbits Fatal

Aaron Thomason Dies In Local Sanitarium Of Wounds From Accidental Firing Of .410 Guage Shotgun

Conscious To End

Bullets From Gun Strike Man In Center Of Abdomen; Few Details Learned; Workers See Victim Fall

AARON THOMASON, 26-year-old Hockley county farmer, died at the Lubbock sanitarium at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday as the result of shotgun wounds in the abdomen, suffered about an hour before his death as he was hunting rabbits near his home, eight miles east of Levelland.

Thomason was taken to Levelland where he was given emergency treatment by Dr. W. H. Logan. He then was brought to Lubbock by Dr. Logan and Earl Thomason, a brother. The man died soon after being received at the local sanitarium.

Conscious Until Death

Pellets from the .410 gague shotgun Thomason was using penetrated his abdomen at the center. He was conscious up until a few minutes before his death, but was unable to tell details of the accident.

The man was about 300 yards from his residence when the accident occurred. Cotton pickers working in a nearby field heard the shot and saw the man fall, Earl Thomason said last night. The man was preparing to climb over a fence

Special For Pampa Tilt Given Boost

Reservations Total 103 On Tuesday; 97 Are Needed

WITH 103 reservations made Tuesday for the special train October 31 to Pampa for the Pampa-Lubbock high school game, only 97 more tickets have to be sold to guarantee the train, E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent for the Santa Fe here, announced Tuesday night.

The canvass was made by Mr. Kancher and Everett A. Tusha, traveling freight and passenger agent.

Many persons promised to make the trip, but the actual "signing on the dotted line" is necessary to put the train over, according to the local agent.

May End Friday

"We hope to have the 200 tickets sold by Friday," he said. "The train must be assured by Wednesday, October 28."

Round trip rate will be $3.50, it was announced, based on a charge of one cent per mile. The train will leave Lubbock on Saturday morning, October 31, at 8 o'clock and will arrive in Pampa at 12:30 p. m. On the return trip it will leave Pampa at 6:30 p. m., reaching home at 10:30, or shortly thereafter.

Tickets were reserved yesterday as the drive got under way, by the following business houses:

Directors Of Organization In Tuesday Meeting Announce A New Policy; Campaigns For Agencies Supported

THE Lubbock Community Chest at a meeting of its board of directors Tuesday night, voted to refrain from participating in a financial drive this year.

In a resolution unanimously adopted, the board stated it would encourage and aid its five member agencies in conducting financial campaigns, but as a body, it would refrain from active participation, except in the case of soliciting foreign corporations.

This action was taken by the board after several weeks of deliberation, officials pointed out. A budget of about $9,000 was set three weeks ago, but the matter of conducting a drive and the setting of a date for the campaign was deferred.

Reasons Outlined

The resolution stated its decision was prompted by present financial conditions and "because of the failure in the past Community Chest campaigns to thoroughly and adequately inform the citizenship of Lubbock as to the work and services of the participating agencies."

Officials of the Chest pointed out that the move did not mean that the Community Chest was being disbanded, but meant that this year it would be more of an advisory body.

The Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls are planning to stage a cooperative financial drive soon, it was said. Scout officials met at the City hall Tuesday night to map out its campaign. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A. and Salvation

Plane Is Landed In Mexico City 12 Hours, 24 Minutes After Start From Canada

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—Twelve hours and 24 minutes out of Ottawa, Canada, Major James H. Doolittle brought his biplane down on lofty Valbuena field at 3:16 p. m. today, completing a three-capital flight which he described as "uninteresting."

"The biggest thrill I got out of this flight was landing this baby powerhouse at this altitude and speed," he said.

Major Doolittle, who left Ottawa at 4:40 a. m. eastern standard time, and stopped en route at Washington, D. C., would have reached Mexico City 40 minutes earlier had he not been held up at Washington by ground fog.

Was Hard Trip

He was tired, he said, and a little "groggy" because an exhaust pipe had leaked, letting some carbon monoxide fumes into the plane. Because of the speed, he added, it was a hard trip.

He said his flying speed was 235 miles an hour and his average speed for the distance from Ottawa to Mexico City was 204 miles an hour.

Gruesome Tale Of Death Bare As Hunt Opens

Nation-Wide Search For Young Blonde Woman Instituted By Officers After Finding Of Dismembered Bodies

Bodies Identified

Crime Strikes Horror Even To Those Accustomed To Brutal Tragedies; Every Agency Is Used For Capture

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—A slight, blonde woman of 27 years, wife of a physician and daughter of a minister, was sought tonight as the perpetrator of a murder plot in which two women were killed and their bodies sent here in trunks from Phoenix, Ariz.

The quarry of squads of detectives, thrown into an all-encompassing search of the city by a crime which horrified even those accustomed to brutalities, was Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, former employe of a Phoenix medical clinic and wife of Dr. W. C. Judd, under technical arrest here. With every finger of evidence pointing against her, police capped their accusation with a statement from her brother, B. J. McKinnell, a university student, that she had confessed the killings to him and fled from his automobile after suspicion had spread at a railroad station here, where the bodies were found.

Bodies Identified

The victims were Miss Hedvig Samuelson, 27, graduate of a North Dakota state normal school, and Mrs. Agnes Le Roi, 32, formerly of Portland, Ore., both employes in the clinic where Mrs. Judd worked.

With evidence accumulating as the hours passed, authorities in Phoenix, scene of the murders, swore out warrants for Mrs. Judd and a deputy prepared to fly here with the warrants. If the evidence met the test, they indicated McKinnell might be arrested as an accomplice. He is in technical custody here.

Discovered Monday

The crimes were discovered about noon yesterday, shortly after Mrs. Judd had arrived on a train from Phoenix. A station agent, A. V. Anderson, saw blood seeping from the cracks of one trunk. He demanded that they be opened. Mrs. Judd said she did not have the keys but would get them.

As she and McKinnell walked from the platform, the agent jotted down the license number of the automobile. With this information, police went to the home of Caroline Judd, sister of the doctor and took the two men into custody.

Back at the station the lids of the trunks were lifted and their con-

Fiancee Of Slain Youth Tells Of Tragic Affair In Which She Was Assaulted And Her Companion Killed

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 20.—The young financee of Ted Nodruft, Fort Worth, Tuesday afternoon took the stand in district court here to tell how her sweetheart was shot and herself assaulted by two negro men Sept. 9.

The girl, 23 years old and pretty, said she believed Richard Johnson, negro on trial for murder, was one of the men. Johnson, with Richard Brown is also indicted for criminal assault and for robbery with firearms.

Motion Overruled

Testimony opened after Judge Allan D. Montgomery finally overruled a motion to quash the indictment because no negroes sat on the grand jury.

The girl's testimony was followed by an array of negro witnesses who said they had seen Johnson with a gun. One negro woman, 39 years old and a grand mother said Johnson had given her a diamond ring identified as the one taken from the girl at the time of the assault. It was her engagement ring, given her by Nodruft a few days before the shooting.

Plains Territory Soaked By Rains

Heavy Downpours Are Reported From All Directions; Crops Believed Damaged

THE Panhandle and South Plains received a deluge of rainfall late Tuesday. Intermittent showers fell throughout the day at many points and were climaxed last night by heavy downpours.

Crops, particularly cotton, were believed to have been damaged at many points. Electrical storms and highwinds were reported. A washout on the Fort Worth and Denver City railroad near Quitaque was reported.

Lubbock had received a total of 1.5 inches at 10 p. m., Don L. Jones, superintendent at the experiment farm east of the city, reported. This total apparently had been boosted an inch or more by midnight and rain was still falling here.

Traffic on highways east and west of Lubbock was disrupted by the downpour, officials at the Union bus terminal here reported. Busses to the north and south were arriving only a few minutes late.

The Santa Fe station here reported the rain extended as far south as Post, where about .25 inch had fallen at 10 p. m. and northward to Plainview, Amarillo, and other points. The Fort Worth and Denver office reported heavy rains had fallen over

State Convention Of United Daughters Of Confederacy Is To Get Underway Here Today

Cross Of Military Service Is Awarded Jas. H. Goodman; Approximately 50 Delegates Are In Attendance

CLOSING pre-convention sessions with a program Tuesday evening, members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy who are in Lubbock for a state convention will go into opening session at 9 o'clock this morning at the American Legion home.

Tuesday was devoted to a meeting of the president, Mrs. Whit Boyd, of Houston, and members of her executive board. The delegates, numbering about fifty from over the state last night, and visitors joined in a patriotic program at the Hilton ballroom in the evening. At that time, crosses of military service were presented to James H. Goodman, of this city. Hon. E. U. Bradley, post commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Amarillo, was to have received the decoration but did not arrive as he was stuck in the mud enroute.

Peace Along Red River Threatened

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 20. (AP)—Peace along the Red river, where the soldiery of Oklahoma and Texas deployed last July in the serio-comic "battle of the bridges," is menaced again.

The Red River Bridge co. went into the federal court at Muskogee and renewed litigation in the case, demanding authority to block the free bridge south of Durant, Okla., to traffic and seeking an injunction against further Oklahoma interference with traffic over its parallel toll span.

Governor W. H. Murray, champion of the free bridge, wouldn't say in advance of a court ruling just what he'd do. However, he pointed out that a state of martial law still exists at the free bridge and declared: "I can put the troops back on the bridge mighty quick."

Texas Bankers Pledge Their Support To Cotton Proposal

DALLAS, Oct. 20. (AP)—Leading Texas bankers meeting here today pledged unanimous support for the southwide plan to hold every fourth bale of this year's cotton crop from the market. Nearly 300 bankers attended the session called by J. W. Hoopes of Dallas, president of the Texas Bankers' association.

To emphasize their purpose, they indorsed a resolution pledging themselves not to finance any farmer who would not obey the new Texas law limiting cotton planting in 1932 to 30 per cent of the Texas land in cultivation.

Kidnaped Son Of Banker Dies After Bandits Shoot Way Out To Freedom

(By The Associated Press)

MENOMONIE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Machine gun robbers killed the kidnaped son of a bank president today after one of their band was slain in the getaway of four men who looted the Kraft State bank of $10,000. Another son of the banker was wounded seriously.

Shot after having been forced to drive the looters' car while citizens took up pursuit, James Kraft, 19, was found dead on the highway six miles from here.

The other victim of the gunmen's bullets, W. R. Kraft, 23, was shot because a raider refused to believe his assertion that there was no more money in the bank. Physicians said he might die.

The brothers were sons of President W. F. Kraft of the institution. They were at work with seven other employes when three bandits entered. A fourth, with a machine gun ready, waited in a car outside.

Several customers were in the lobby, and with the employes were forced to lie on the floor during the robbery.

Lower Freight Prices Sought In Local Area

Officials Of Four Railroads Gather In Dallas Tuesday; Northern Points Are To Be Benefitted In Action

Lubbock Affected

Lower Rates From Sweetwater North On Santa Fe And To Chillicothe And Shamrock Are To Be Asked

LOWER freight rates on cotton from the South Plains territory, including points north of Sweetwater on the Santa Fe and as far north as Chillicothe on the Fort Worth and Denver and Shamrock on the Rock Island, were seen by local railroad men Tuesday night following a meeting of officials of four railroads in Dallas Tuesday.

REDUCTIONS GIVEN

Reductions in cotton freight rates from two zones on the Santa Fe in this territory to Houston, Galveston, and Texas City were announced Tuesday night by E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent.

Mr. Kancher said he had been informed by officials at Dallas that the Texas railroad commission approved the new rates Monday. Other changes in the rate schedules, affecting the

L. M. Hogsett, general freight agent of the Fort Worth and Denver, in a message received late yesterday by E. C. Kuykendall, general agent for the territory, said: "Reductions from Lubbock, Plainview territory as well as from other Panhandle points will be applied for, but what figures will be unknown."

Officials Gather

Officials of four roads met Tuesday in Dallas to discuss application for a lower rate to meet that granted last week by the railroad commission of Texas to points in other sections of the state. The Panhandle and Santa Fe, Fort Worth and Denver, Rock Island and Quanah, Acme and Pacific were the roads represented.

Recently the commission granted a 30 per cent reduction to all points south of Sweetwater and Quanah. The new rate was effective Saturday.

Just recently the commission also reduced the rate on cotton from Littlefield, Lamesa, Crosbyton, Lockney, Floydada, Brownfield and Plainview to conform to other rates in the area. Floydada and Plainview were given a 98 cent rate instead of $1 and the other towns 95 cents.

Seek Extensions

The Rock Island is seeking a rate effective as far north as Sahmrock to permit it to handle cotton in that part of the Panhandle. The

Contracts For Highways Let

Fourteen Counties Affected In Tuesday Letting; Total Of $779,913 Awarded With Bidding Very Brisk

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—Highway construction projects in 14 counties, aggregating an expenditure of $779,913, were contracted by the Texas highway commission today.

One hundred and sixteen miles of construction, including grading and drainage structures and 11.3 miles of concrete pavement, were authorized by the contracts. There were four bridge projects.

Lettings for the October session of the commission totaled $1,487,030. Bidding was brisk and in almost each instance the work was contracted far below the estimated cost of highway engineers.

W. R. Ely of Abilene, chairman of the commission and Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer, estimated that during 1932 the commission would authorize the construction of approximately $40,000,000 in highways, this sum including state, federal and county contributions.

Life Brought To Still-Born Baby

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, Oct. 20.—Firemen and a physician today brought life to a baby three hours after it had been still-born.

For an hour after the birth of a boy to Mrs. Ramona Loya, Dr. A. P. Portela unsuccessfully attempted to make him breathe. The physician called on the fire department for an inhalator.

At the end of two hours work with the inhalator, the baby gasped and gave a big, healthy cry.

Dr. Portela said mother and child "are doing fine."

Final Tribute Set Today For Thomas Edison

Fast Friends Of Genius Visit Laboratory Tuesday To Look On Face For Last Time; Mrs. Hoover To Attend

(By The Associated Press)

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 20.—The last caravan is organized—Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone, Thomas A. Edison—and it will travel tomorrow to Mr. Edison's grave.

The two cronies of the famous inventor, who with him formed a triumvirate of travel and companionship, which became a symbol over the world—arrived late today at the bier of Mr. Edison.

They, with the first lady of the land will be among the close friends to join the family in a private funeral service at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. President Hoover will be unable to attend because of the press of public business in Washington but Mrs. Hoover will leave for West Orange tomorrow on a regular morning passenger train.

Robber Covers Local Man And Takes Payroll

J. A. Blackwell, Tire Dealer, Forced To Drive To Country As Highwayman Brandishes A Loaded Revolver

Called For Ride

Money Is Demanded; Cash Had Been Withdrawn From Bank To Meet Payroll; Pockets Of Victim Ransacked

IN A daring holdup here shortly before noon Tuesday a lone bandit robbed J. A. Blackwell, Lubbock tire dealer, of $240 in currency, the sheriff's department reported.

Under the pretense of soliciting a ride, the bandit accosted Blackwell as the motorist was nearing his residence, at 2013 Fifteenth street. Boarding the machine, the bandit forced Blackwell to drive out into the country and then robbed the tire dealer, Blackwell told officers.

Brandishes Revolver

Blackwell said he heard the man call out that he wanted a ride. As the automobile slowed down, the highwayman, brandishing a revolver, jumped on the running board of the machine. The man was masked, having a handkerchief on the lower part of his face, Blackwell said.

After getting into the car, the man instructed the driver to continue driving in a westerly direction.

" 'Give me that money you have with you,' " Blackwell quoted the bandit.

" 'I have no money,' " the driver of the automobile said he replied.

" 'Yes you have. I knew about you drawing it out of the bank,' " the intruder said.

While they were driving out on the Littlefield road, the bandit went through Blackwell's pockets and took the money, keeping the driver of the automobile covered with the pistol, deputy sheriffs were told.

Blackwell said the man instructed the driver to stop the automobile. The bandit then got out and instructed the tire dealer to continue driving. Blackwell turned at a side road and returned to town and reported the affair to officers.

He said he drew the money out of the bank just before he started home in order to meet a payroll of a crew of men who were building a house for him.

In describing the bandit, Blackwell said the bandit was a small man and was disguised by the handkerchief over his face. He also was wearing glasses, Blackwell said.

Spectacular Fight Lost By Railroads Of Nation

Fifteen Per Cent Freight Rate Increase Denied; Surcharge Schedule Approved

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The nation's railroads today lost their spectacular fight for a 15 per cent freight rate increase, but were given the encouragement of an interstate commerce commission proposal for specific increases to be pooled for the good of all.

To provide money for lifting railroad bonds from their present difficulties, the commission conditionally approved a schedule of surcharges all less than 10 per cent, on such traffic as coal, steel, forest products, ores and oils. Rates on the farm leaders— wheat, corn, cotton, livestock and fresh fruits—would be left undisturbed.

Step In New Field

The commission stepped into brand new fields of railroad financing with the proposal. Scoffed at by railroad men and attorneys as unworkable when first proposed by groups of shippers, the commission found the surcharge and pooling plan entirely feasible.

The money derived from the surcharges would be pooled, the contributions of each road being earmarked. At the end of each six-months period, after the needs of roads unable to earn their interest charges are cared for, the money remaining in the fund would be divided among the contributors in proportion to their contributions.

Bankrupts Exempt

Railroads now in bankruptcy would be exempted from contributing to the fund and would not receive anything from it, deriving their added revenues from increases collected on their lines.

The commission directed the carriers to work out a plan based on its proposal and sticking exactly to the highly detailed division of commodities and increases. The plan must be submitted by December 1

Meetings Of Two Study Clubs And Class Luncheon Of Interest Here

Popular Drama Is Club Study

"The Merchant Of Venice" Is Discussed By Shakespeare Society; Luncheon Is For Gleaners Class

Meetings of two study clubs and a luncheon attended by members of the First Baptist Gleaner's class were among the social events in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon. Members of the Shakespeare club met with Mrs. Clyde Tatum and the Daleth Delphian chapter met in the home of Mrs. C. A. Burrus, 1621 15th street.

Roll call at the Shakespeare club was answered with quotations from "The Merchant of Venice." Mrs. E. L. Banks, president, presided for a business session and was in charge of discussion of the first two acts of "The Merchant of Venice."

A sketch of the city of Venice during the time of the writing of the book was given by Mrs. Tatum.

Those present were Mesdames Banks, E. Waldo Trotter, Lola Shuey, Rosqoe Etter, A. H. Crawford, W. E. Schmid, R. C. Harvey, Bill Watson, W. M. Peticolas, jr., A. C. Jackson, Charles Whitacre and E. Paul Carter.

Mrs. Webb Is Leader

Mrs. C. C. Webb was program leader at the Delphian meeting. A discusison of "Beginnings of Modern Art Music" was heard.

Mrs. Webb was assisted in the presentation by Mesdames Hugh Norman, W. L. Meier, and O. R. Copeland.

Others present were Mesdames Burrus, C. M. Chandler, Ed O'Sullivan, J. C. Reynolds, R. I. Tubbs and W. C. Wood.

Meet At Church

First Baptist Gleaners' class members gathered at the church at one o'clock Tuesday for a covered dish luncheon. Hostesses were Mesdames C. G. Farr, Fred Caylor, H. C. Arbuckle, W. L. Price, John Porter, Bill Bray, T. H. Carter, W. H. Carpenter, Gordon Flenniken and Frank Griffith.

Following the luncheon, the group enjoyed a series of games. The Hallowe'en motif was used in appointments.

Guests were Mesdames C. M. Ballenger, Julian E. Ward, E. W. Millsap, Lola Shuey, E. Paul Carter, C. W. Ratcliff, Robert A. Sowder, A. E. Herring, C. E. Patterson, William Breedlove, Ben Branson, R. Piano Pupils To Present Program

Illustrations of descriptive musci will be given in a recital presented by pupils of Miss Margaret Huff this afternoon at 5 o'clock at First Presbyterian church. This is the second in a series of programs of cultural music.

The first numbers will illustrate mood and are as follows:

"Traumerie" (Strauss), Ruth Elaine Lewis; "Consolation" (Mendelssohn), Betty Jean Jones; "The Little Coquette" (Wilson), Nell Arnett Johnson; "Thousand Nights" (Gurlitt), Ruth Holland; "Venetian Love Song" (Nevin), Katherine Klett.

Rhythm will be illustrated by the following:

"Soldiers' March", Betty Ross Slaton; "Indian War Dance", Bobbie Lee McCelvey; "The Drum", Dorothy Sue Standefer; "Wooden Shoes", Elizabeth Ann McCelvey.

Present Nature

The third division of the program will be devoted to a presentation of nature through the imitation of birds and animals and numbers will be presented as follows:

"Le Coucou" (Daquin), Billie Bob Jones; "Talking Woodpecker", Juliette Merrill; "The Elephant", "The Lion", Carol Ann Krueger; "The Butterfly" (Grieg), Ruth Wagner; "Venetian Gondola Song" (Mendelssohn), Mary Thomas; "Murmuring Brooklet", Helen Wagner.

The final number, an imitation of bells, will be Rachmaninoff's "Prelude", played by Frances McKee.

Band Members In Annual Fete Here

An annual party was attended by sixty members of the Lubbock High school band and orchestra Monday evening in the parlors of the First Methodist church. A feature of the entertainment was the initiation of freshmen members of the organizations. Games were played under the direction of Richard Godeke, Roger Ashford and Harold Humphries.

Local Merchants Will Join In Making Annual School Of Cookery And Charm To Be Success

Joining with the Avalanche-Journal publications in staging the annual free cooking school here on Tuesday through Friday of next week at the Uptown Dance palace will be several local merchants and national manufacturers. Plans are assuming final shape for the school, which is to be conducted by Miss Christeen Chitwood.

A series of lectures will be given on the nutritious value of food, the proper balancing of meals and practical demonstrations of the preparation of dishes.

Miss Chitwood's ability as a lecturer is unexcelled. To a complete and thorough knowledge of her entire field of work, she adds a pleasing personality which never fails to catch and hold the attention of her audiences.

Her lectures are illustrated by actual work on the stage and appetizing dishes are displayed, pleasant odors fill the big hall as she nears the end of each afternoon's lecture. She works from a completely equipped kitchen on the stage where all that she does is in complete view of the audience and is explained.

There will be no charge for admission to the school.

Auxiliary Has Election Here

Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt Named Head Of Legion Auxiliary Monday; Mrs. J. H. Smith Is Vice-President

Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt was elected president of the American Legion Auxiliary at a meeting in the Legion home on Texas avenue Monday evening. She will succeed Mrs. W. M. Peticolas, jr., who is in the office now. This election was held now in order that the auxiliary may be in harmony with the state organization.

In addition to the election, there was a regular social meeting and bridge was played.

Hostesses for the evening were Mesdames W. N. Hale, R. F. Hinchey, and D. Z. Dobyns. The Hallowe'en motif was used in appointments.

Other Officials

Mrs. Jerome Smith was elected first vice-president of the auxiliary, Mrs. Peticolas was elected second vice-president and Mrs. J. Ray Dickey was elected third vice-president. Other officers that were elected include Mrs. Marcus E. Helber as secretary and Mrs. Guy R. Johnston as treasurer.

Members who attended the meeting Monday evening were Mesdames Thomas E. Pirtle, Helber, C. E. Cole, Peticolas, W. L. Bradshaw, J. P. Giles, W. H. Wright, N. L. Peters, H. L. Pharr, O A. Terry, K. L. France Ready On Agreement

Premier Laval Declares That He Is Ready To Meet Hoover Half Way On Any Proposals He Might Make

S. S. ILE DE FRANCE, Oct. 20.—Premier Pierre Laval of France, on his way to Washington to talk with President Hoover, made it clear today he is willing to meet the president half way on any proposals he may make, so long as they are acceptable to the French parliament.

And, if he can get a promise of American cooperation which would justify from the French standpoint cutting down the outlay on armaments, his latitude in the negotiations at Washington will be increased.

In his connection it is understood he is ready to propose an agreement that in case of war involving either country, neither would permit its resources to be used against the other.

A "consultative pact" has been suggested as a description for such an agreement but the French idea is that it would be of a very definite character and possibly would include other powers as signatories. Then, in case France, the United States, or any other signatory should be attacked, no neutral power included in the agreement would aid the aggressor by furnishing him munitions or other supplies. The Hague court would decide which was the aggressor.

Local Druggists Supplied With Free Sample Packages Of Two New Vick Products

Desire Of Makers That Every User Of Vicks VapoRub Have A Free Trial Of New Vicks Nose And Throat Drops And Vicks Medicated Cough Drops

RESULT OF RESEARCH

New Discovery Makes Possible New Vick Plan Of Home-Control of Colds

REDUCES "COLDS-TAX"

A quarter century ago Vicks VapoRub introduced the modern and better method of treating colds—externally. Now, Vick Chemists develop a new preparation—Vicks Nose and Throat Drops—based on a new idea in preventing colds. A perfect ally to VapoRub, it makes possible the new Vick Plan for better Control of Colds in the home—and further reduction of the family "Colds Tax."

Here is the Plan:

1.—Before a Cold Starts

On exposure to colds or any of the causes that ordinarily lead to colds—(crowded indoor places—stuffy, poorly ventilated rooms—sudden temperature changes—wet and cold)—that slow down the normal functioning of the nose, Nature's marvelous "first line of defense against colds"—use Vicks Drops promptly. Or, if a cold actually threatens—when you feel that first stuffy, sneezy irritation of the nasal passages—a few drops up each nostril, and many annoying colds will be avoided.

2.—When a Cold Strikes

Use the convenient Vicks Drops during the day—anytime, any place—as often as needed for comfort and relief. At bedtime, rub Vicks VapoRub well over throat and chest and cover with warm flannel. Leave bedclothing loose around the neck so the medicated vapors can be inhaled all night long. This Vick Plan gives you a full 24-hour treatment. (If there is a cough, you will like another new Vick product—Vicks Cough Drops—actually medicated with ingredients of Vicks VapoRub.)

Trial Packages Free

In order that every user of Vicks VapoRub may try the two new Vick products now being introduced, a supply of free trial packages of each has been sent to every druggist in the United States. Go to your druggist today and ask for yours. If, by any chance his supply is exhausted, send us the top of a Vicks VapoRub carton—or coupon from the VapoRub directions folder—and we will mail free samples direct to you, together with a folder on the new Vick Plan for Control of Colds in the home. Slaughter Land Suit Again Is In Courts; Review Is Denied

Supreme Court Rules Against Mrs. Annie Slaughter In An Action Brought Against C. C. Slaughter Company

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP) — Mrs. Annie Slaughter of Bexar county, Texas., widow of W. B. Slaughter and administratrix of his estate has been declined a review by the supreme court of the action of lower federal courts in dismissing proceedings instituted by her against the C. C. Slaughter company of Dallas county, G. C. Wright and others. She sought to recover property she alleged was improperly taken from her deceased husband in bankruptcy proceedings.

Mrs. Slaughter charged that prior to 1915 her husband had possessed large means but about that time became involved in financial difficulties through the failure of a bank in Pueblo, Colo., of which he was president.

She alleged he entered into an agreement with his brother, C. C. Slaughter, and the latter's brother-in-law, G. G. Wright, by which practically all of his property was transferred to them upon their promise to furnish financial aid, the property to be disposed of as far as necessary to reimburse his brother for funds advanced.

Mrs. Slaughter represented that after her brother-in-law died in 1919, Wright in charge of his estate as well as of the company's affairs, informed her there had been expended for her husband's benefit more than $157,000 in excess of properties he had turned over. She declared her husband had been improperly prevailed upon to consent to bankruptcy proceedings.

W. B. Slaughter was adjudged a bankrupt in 1918 and the trustee in bankruptcy sued the C. C. Slaughter co. and Wright to recover some of the property which had been turned over to them. A compromise was reached under which the trustee received $85,000.

In 1924, W. B. Slaughter sued the Slaughter company and Wright in the district court of Palo Pinto county and obtained a judgment for recovery of the property and $30,000 damages but the judgment was reversed by the court of civil appeals and a writ of mandamus refused by the Texas supreme court. In January, 1930, a final decree was entered restraining Mrs. Slaughter from further prosecuting her claim in state courts.

She entered the federal courts, contending proceedings in the state courts were void. The fifth circuit court of appeals sustained the federal district court in dismissing her complaint, holding it had no merit. It stated she adopted wrong methods to obtain any relief to which she might be entitled and could not litigate anew in the federal courts questions which had been finally decided in state courts.

Romance Ends

After running a course from millions to bankruptcy, the 10-year-old romance of Eugene Brewster, former movie magazine owner, and beautiful Corliss Palmer of Georgia, whom he met after she had won a beauty contest conducted by one of his publications, has come to an end, according to Brewster, now living in Hollywood. One time his wealth was referred to as "Brewster's millions."

EAGER TO TELL ABOUT HER STOMACH

"I want to tell others about my experience with Pape's Diapepsin," says Mrs. B. Eastman, 1200 California St., Denver, Colo. "I tried a lot of things for my indigestion, but none of them did any good. Then a friend persuaded me to take a few tablets of this wonderful preparation.

"Now I even eat cabbage without any distress afterwards. It used to cause real suffering. I am not nearly so nervous as I used to be; feel much stronger and better in every way."

A medicine must have real merit to bring forth enthusiastic statements like this. And when not one, but hundreds, even thousands, are telling the same story of success, there seems no reason to doubt the day-in and day-out reliability of Pape's Diapepsin to help stomach sufferers.

These harmless, candy-like tablets relieve the heartburn, nausea, gas, belching, headaches, dizziness and other symptoms of indigestion.

Twenty Indictments Given By San Angelo Grand Jury

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 20. (AP) — Twenty indictments, naming twenty four defendants, were returned by a grand jury in federal district court here today. All but two cases involve alleged violations of the national prohibition act. The exceptions allege interstate transportation of stolen automobiles.

Noah Pen and Ed Riehm, alias Edward C. Riehm, both of Dallas, were indicted on third offenses against the prohibition law. W. O. McCully of Brownwood, Joseph P. Mallish of Runnels county, and residents of Tom Green county are others indicted. Three women were named.

Legionnaires Pay Tribute To Edison; Casket Draped

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 20. (AP)—To their comrade, Thomas A. Edison, who turned his inventive genius to his nation's problems of national defense during the world war, members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars paid tribute today.

In a solemn service, 30 representatives of both organizations filed through the softly lighted library where the dead inventor lay in state, stood at attention, and saluted as two of their number draped the casket with an American flag.

Mrs. Edison, who stood silently by, was visibly impressed by the ceremony. At her side were her son, Thedore, Mrs. Halbert Kellogg Hitchcock, her sister, and John V. Miller, her brother.

Ton Of Silver Is Dumped But Is Quite Safe

CHICAGO, Oct. 20. (AP)—A ton of silver money, amounting to thousands of dollars, was dumped rather rudely on a loop sidewalk but passersby got not even a dime.

The money in sacks was being hauled yesterday on a hand truck from the Chicago Title and Trust company to a waiting armoured truck to be taken to outlying banks. One wheel of the small truck collapsed and the bags of money were scattered about.

Guards drew revolvers to protect the silver. Other guards jumped from the truck and gathered up the bags as a crowd looked on and joked.

William Dueworth a guard, probably suffered a broken ankle when several of the heavy money bags landed on his leg in the accident.

Harvard Newspaper Advocates End To Harvard-Army Games

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 20 (AP).—The Harvard Crimson, undergraduate daily newspaper at Harvard college, today advocated the elimination of the Army game from the Harvard football schedule. Harvard won from Army at West Point Saturday, 14-13.

The Crimson's editorial advanced two reasons for removing West Point from the Harvard calendar. The first was an alleged lack of common interest between the two institutions. The second was the military academy's eligibility rule under which a cadet may not only play four years on the Army team but may have played collegiate footfall several years before entering the service school.

bowel trouble

Constipation may very easily become chronic after forty. And any continued constipation at that time of life may bring attacks of piles and a host of other unpleasant disorders.

Watch your bowels at any age. Guard them with particular care after forty. Whenever they need any help, remember a doctor should know what is best for them.

"Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin" is a doctor's prescription for the bowels. Tested by 47 years' practice, it has been found thoroughly effective in relieving constipation and its ills for men, women and children of all ages. It has proven perfectly safe even for babies. Made from fresh laxative herbs, pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients, it cannot gripe; will not sicken you or weaken you; can be used without harm as often as your breath is bad, or when your tongue is coated; whenever a headachy, bilious, gassy condition warns of constipation.

Aerial Milk Bottle Attack Didn't Score Direct Hits; But About $150 Was Saved

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 20. (AP)—An aerial milk bottle attack didn't score many direct hits for grocer Robert Zerr but it saved $150.

Zerr and Richard Halfenstein, clerk, were passing the time of night in the store when two men entered. One had a pistol, the other a heavy iron bar.

As Halfenstein was backed into a corner Zerr threw the bottles, eight of them. One broke a door pane but two hit the men who fled without loot.

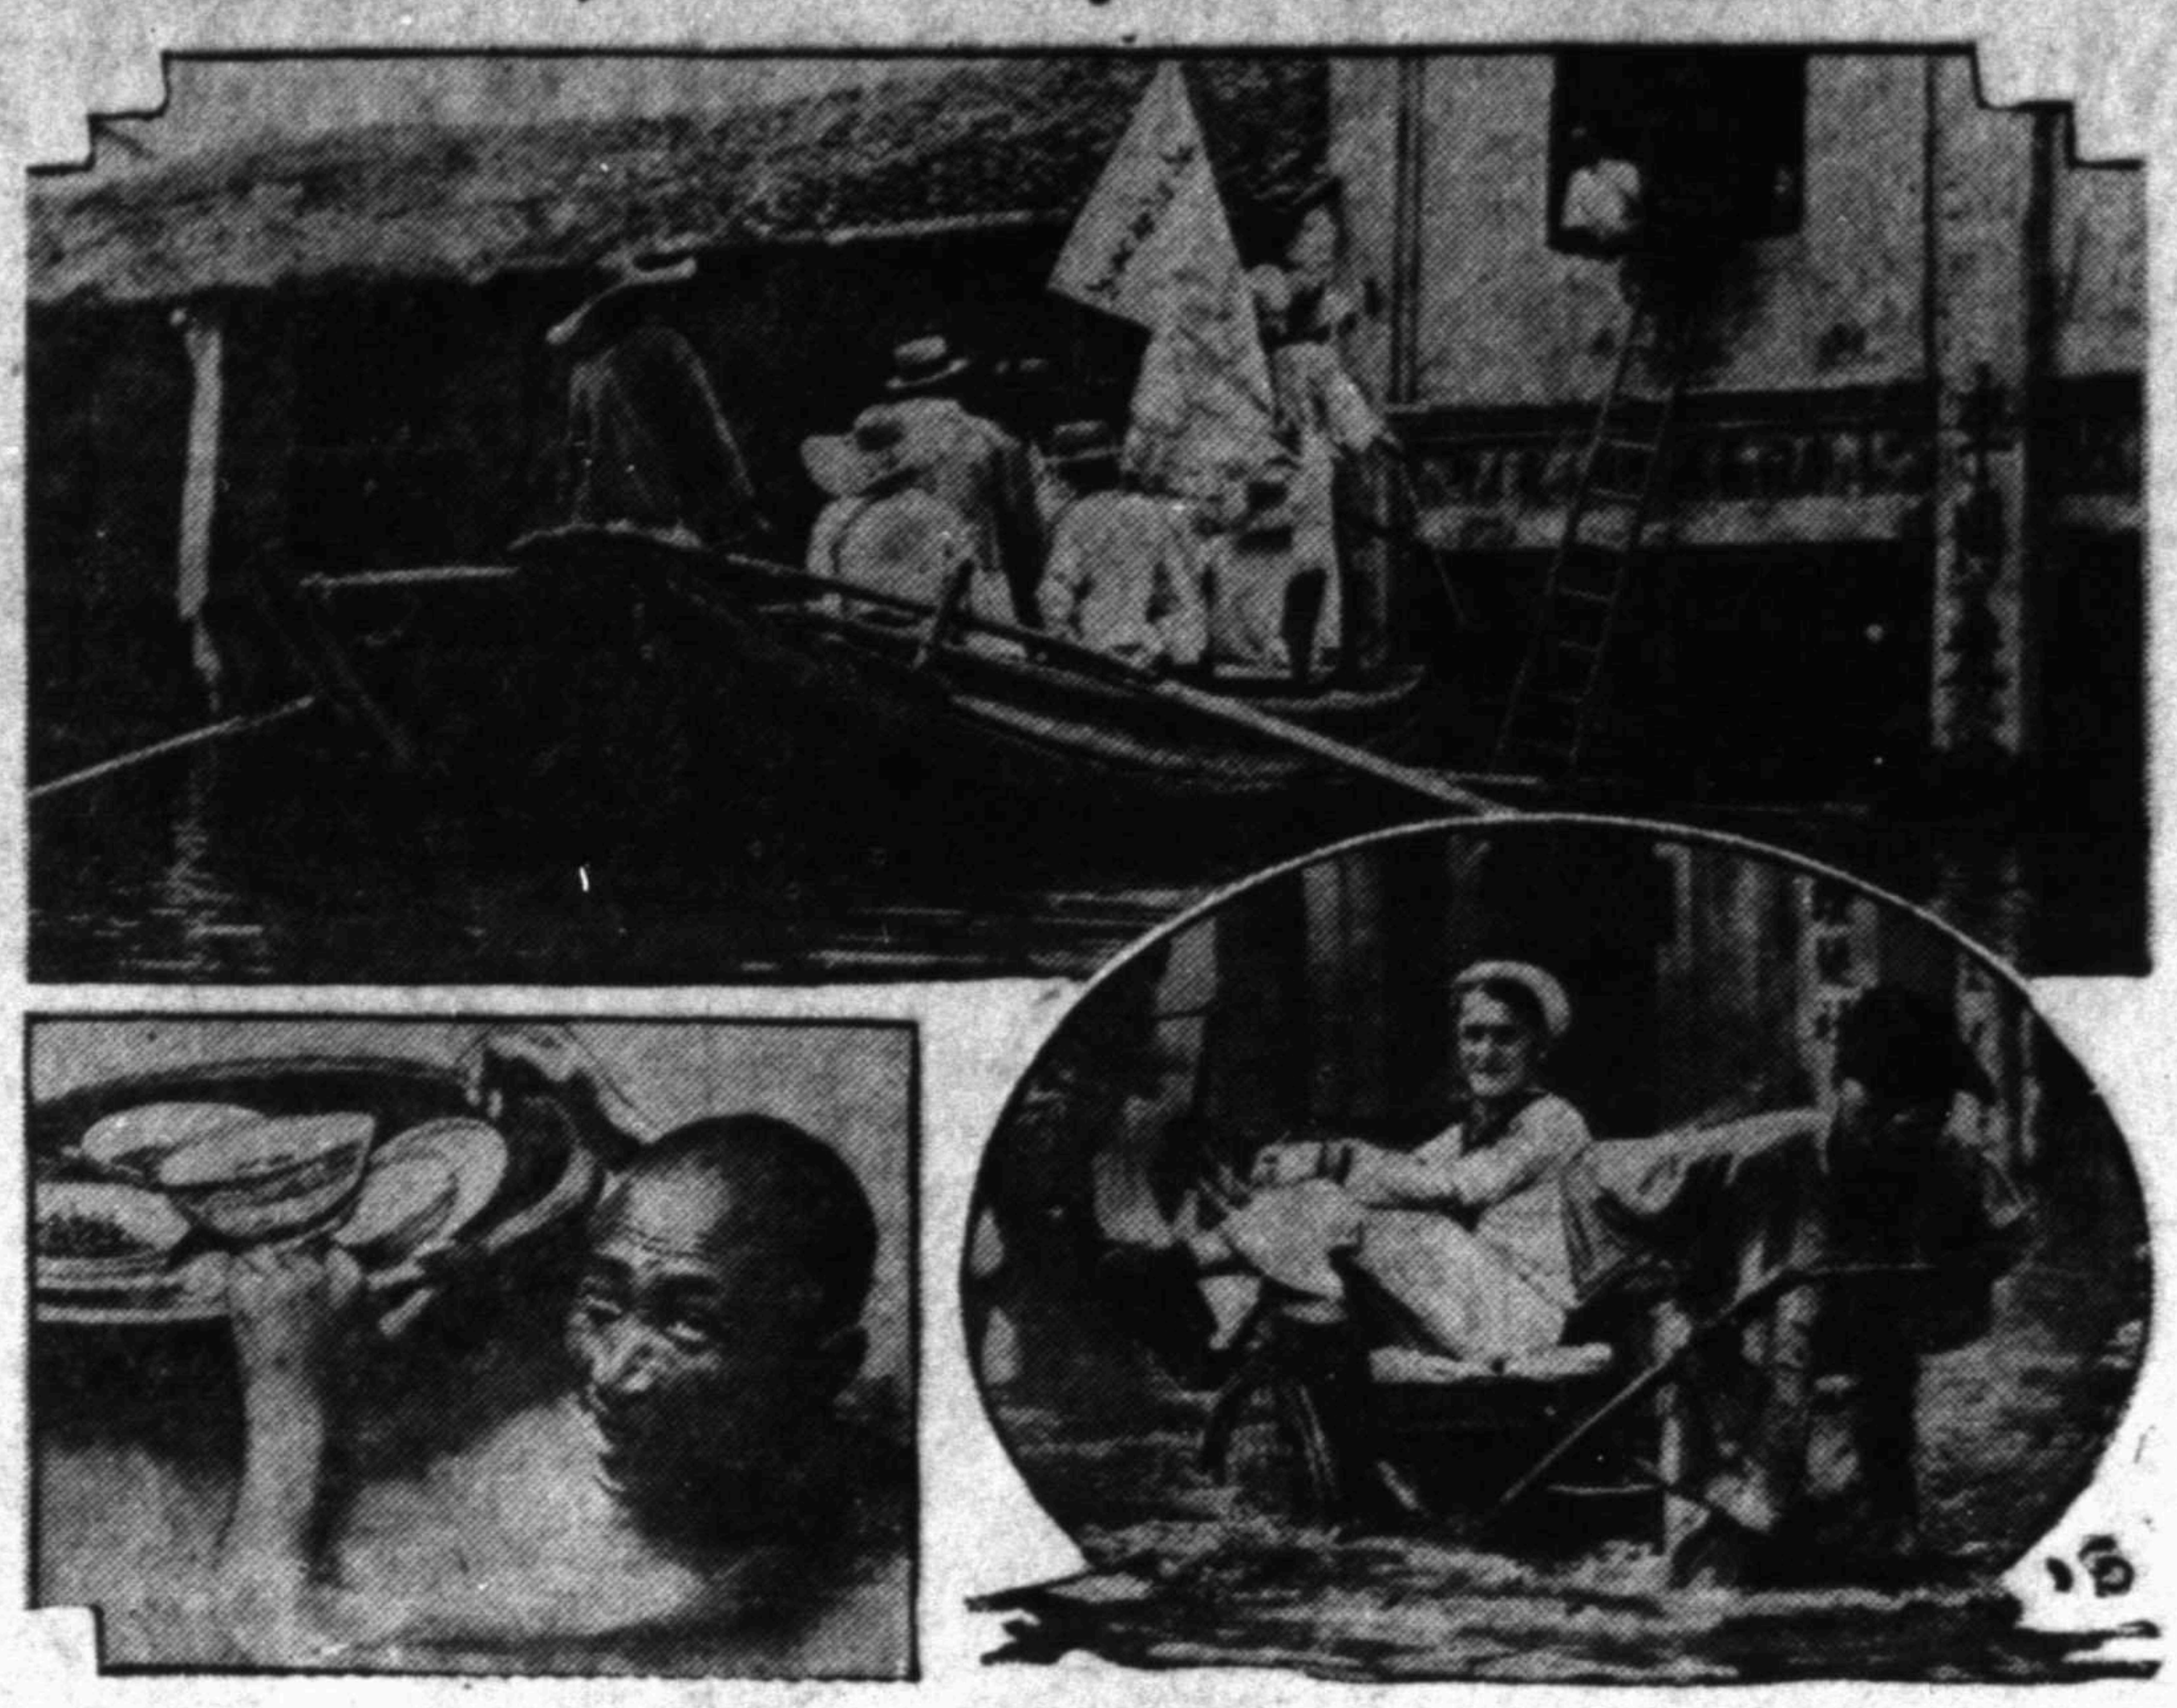
Don't Go To Extremes To End Constipation

When bad breath, or a coated tongue, biliousness or headaches warn of constipation, don't take violent purgatives. There's no use when a candy Cascaret will stop the trouble in a jiffy; will cleanse your system pleasantly, and completely.

The relief you get so promptly from Cascarets is lasting. Cascarets are made from cascara, a substance which medical authorities agree actually strengthens the bowel muscles.

So Cascarets are a blessing to old folks with weakened bowels; to children; to anyone in need of establishing regular bowel habits. Ten cents a box—all drug stores. —Adv.

Water, Water Everywhere—In China



Hundreds were drowned and it is estimated that 30,000,000 were rendered homeless by the disastrous floods that inundated vast areas of China in the vicinity of the Yangtse River. Pestilence and starvation are taking a heavy toll daily, despite the heroic work of many relief organizations. Top panel shows a family, marooned by the flood in the upper story of their home, receiving food from one of the relief agencies that utilized a crude boat for its errant of mercy. Left shows a coolie who is managing to keep his head above water and earn a few cents a day selling meals to other sufferers. Right shows a U. Card Captain Crashes Into Diamond Fame

Frankie Gets Majority Votes Of Baseball Writers; Beats Chuck Klein And Bill Terry As Series Heroes Get None

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. — Frank Frisch, captain and second baseman of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, after rapping at the portals three previous times in vain, has crashed baseball's hall of fame as the National League's "most valuable player" for 1931.

Announcement of Frisch's selection, by vote of a committee of baseball writers, was made today by William J. Slocum of New York, president of baseball writers' association of America. The association is perpetuating the "most valuable player" poll, which was officially dropped by the National League in 1929.

Wins 3-Cornered Race

Frisch emerged the victor in a three-cornered battle of ballots with Chuck Klein, slugging outfielder of the Phillies, and Bill Terry, first baseman of the New York Giants. Out of a possible maximum of 80 points Frisch topped the list with 65. Klein received 55 and Terry 53.

Seven years ago, 1924, when the first official National League award was made, Frisch registered his first bid by finishing third to Vance, who collected the winner's $1,000. The former Fordham flash then was the keystone man of the New York Giants' infield. After being traded to St. Louis, Frisch was runner-up to Paul Waner in 1927. He also placed second in last year's unofficial contest, trailing Hack Wilson.

Heroes Get No Votes

The three World Series heroes of the Cardinals, Pepper Martin, Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan, received no points whatever. They won honorable mention, however, along with more than a dozen others.

The complete list, with points totals:

Frisch, St. Louis, 65; Klein, Philadelphia, 55; Terry, New York, 53; English, Chicago, 30; Hafey, St. Louis, 29; Wilson, St. Louis, 28; Jackson, New York, 24; Grimm, Chicago, 21; Adams, St. Louis, 18.

Paulino Too Small To Fight Primo Carnera Is Body Rule

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—Without being asked permission to stage the match, the New York state athletic commission announced today that Madison Square Garden could not bring Primo Carnera and Paulino Uzcudun together Nov. 23 in a ten round heavyweight bout.

The commission decided that Paulino was too small for the 265 pound Italian giant. Although the Garden had announced the match, no sanction had been requested of the commission.

Corsicana Scoring Machine Surpasses Leading College

CORSICANA, Oct. 20. (AP)—The Corsicana High school Tigers, defending district champions, loom as one of the strongest scoring teams in the Texas Interscholastic league.

The Tigers have scored more points in five games than the Davis and Elkins college club, the leading college scoring team in the United States. Davis and Elkins has 232 points, Corsicana has 233 points.

Robert Wilson, 1930 all-state selection, has scored eighty-eight points ahead of Monnett, Michigan state halfback, Wilson scored 14 touchdowns and four points after.

To Start Friday

They call him "Stuff" on the practice field out at Tech. His name is Lacey Turner, and he's another one of Pete Cawthon's sophomores who has been looking good whenever the chance was offered in games with the Matadors this season. He is listed as one of the best linemen on the "shock troops" team, and is due to start against the Colorado School of Mines Dynamiters here Friday night in the first intersectional game ever played in Lubbock.

East Prepares For Longhorns In Harvard Go

Southwest Sends Texas Steers East To Prove Brand Of Football Here Will Stand Test Against Old Timers

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—The Southwest Conference, which insists its football is on a par with football anywhere, sends the University of Texas Longhorns east this week end to prove it.

The Longhorns, bellwethers of the Southwest last year and hopeful of repeating, meet Harvard's powerful team Saturday at Cambridge. Three special train loads of Texas rooters will be there to see it well done.

Coached by Clyde Littlefield, himself a former star athlete at the school, the Texas eleven comes with a record of only two defeats in the last two seasons, both of them at the hands of Rice institute and both by the margin of a single touchdown. After losing to Rice last year, the Longhorns swept on to the conference title, overwhelming their remaining opponents.

Rice Is Stumbling Block

With almost a veteran squad back this season, Texas was a top-heavy favorite to barge through undefeated, but again found Rice a stumbling block and lost 7 to 0. Even so and notwithstanding, Harvard will find itself opposed to a rugged, potent football machine Saturday.

While this will be the first time a University of Texas team has invaded the east, it will not be the east's introduction to the brand of football played in the Southwest. Southern Methodist University's "aerial circus" appeared at West Point three years ago and made a spectacular stand before losing to Chris Cagle and his buddies by a single point. Again last season Southern Methodist dropped in on the Atlantic seaboard to wallop the navy. The Mustangs went back home then to take a decisive trimming from Texas.

Have Strong Club

In Ernest Koy and Harrison Stafford, the Longhorns have two big, bruising backs. Both are adept passers and receivers. Both were unanimous choices for last year's "All-Southwest" eleven. At quarterback the Longhorns have Wilson "Bull" Elkins, in many respects a counterpart to Barry Wood, Harvard's brilliant field general. Like Wood, Elkins is an honor student, a Phi Betta Kappa. Also like Wood, he is an all-around athlete, having lettered in football, basketball and track.

While these three are the outstanding backfield stars, Coach Littlefield has four of five others, such as Craig, Clewis, Burr and Fagan who know their way around. Four of the Longhorn backs last spring broke a record in the "football relay" so they are fairly fast.

The Texas line is made up of strapping fellows who know how to tackle and block. "Ox" Blanton, an all-conference tackle last year, is a deadly place-kicker.

Lubbock High Gridmen Seek Hard Workout

Spirit Grows On Practice Field As Westerners Want Harder Practice; Special Train To Run Saturday

A sloppy field, intermittent rainfall and general adverse conditions did not stop the Westerners of Lubbock High school yesterday as they pulled the throttle a little wider on the training machine and got in a couple of hours of good practice. The Westerners have asked for two weeks of hard practice, requesting that their coaches allow no quarter, as they train to go against the Pampa Harvesters at Pampa a week from Sturday.

Indeed, the Westerner gridsters, after seeing the way in which Pampa got away on two neat plays to score as many touchdowns and the way in which they held the Amarillo Sandies in the shadow of their own goal posts have suggested that charging machines, blocking devices and other mechanical means which usually provide for plenty of bruised shoulders and smashed legs be installed against them this and next week.

Point for Tough Game

Lubbock High's gridiron boys are resigned to a hard tussle when they meet Pampa. They know they've got to play football all the way, and they're taking it most seriously. There's not a minute's let up in the practice sessions. Realizing they enter the game as the underdog, with no sure test of their strength so far this season, the Westerners are going into the thing with the hopes of keeping ahead in the race. They're tied at present with the Harvesters and with Plainview for first place in District No. 1, each team having won one district championship game.

With no game slated for the weekend, the Westerners will continue to engage in hard practice sessions throughout the week, opening up again on Monday for the final four days of heavy work before entraining on Friday for Pampa.

News circulated yesterday that a special train more than likely would be run to Pampa carrying hundreds of local fans to the site of the game made yesterday afternoon's workout even better, the Westerners feeling that a greater responsibility rested upon them.

Frogs Work Out Under Light In Preparation For Cowboys

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20. (AP)—The Frogs aren't going "Kleig eyed," when they go into play against Simmons University Friday night at Abilene. Instead, they'll be well prepared when the arcs are switched on for the opening kickoff as Coach Francis Schmidt gave them a lengthy workout tonight at La Grave Field. It was the only workout of the day as rest had been ordered for the afternoon.

Pampa Points To Lubbock Game With Hopes Of Winning To Cinch District Championship; Harvesters Work Hard

Mitchell Charges Men To Prepare For Hard Go

PAMPA, Oct. 20. (Special.) — Coach Odus Mitchell of the Pampa Harvesters had put the thrilling 13-6 victory over the Sandies of Amarillo behind him today and was searching for a good opponent for his men this week. He especially wished the reserves to have a good workout.

Childress, scheduled opposition for this week, asked that the game be canceled because of low gate receipts in view of the certain deefat. Telegrams were sent to Big Spring and other schools today in search of an "enemy" of the week.

The Harvesters have earned a few days' rest. Today will be a holiday, and skull practice to bring out the fine points and boneheads of Saturday's game will be resumed tomorrow. Everything will be pointed now for the coming of the Lubbock Westerners Oct. 31. The Lubbock fans are supremely confident that they have the district champs. Early in the season they said Amarillo would be easy pickings but that of course Pampa would give their boys a battle.

Uses Running Plays

Lubbock high has a powerful running attack featuring Merrell, formerly of White Deer and other fleet backs. The offensive is much like Amarillo's. Lubbock slammed Snyder's beefy squad 71 to 0 last week, chiefly because of clever interference and speed. The speed of the Lubbock outfit is expected to cause the Harvesters to depend much upon their line and their line plunges, Bost and Hill, who had a nearly impregnable line to hit Saturday, will be in demand against Lubbock.

Hill was not in best of condition for the Amarillo game but his blocking and line plunging were valuable. He was credited with removing a couple of Sandies on Joe Kahl's jaunt, and in otherwise showing continued improvement. Bost not called upon very much to tote the ball, but his fine work in the interference made many gains possible. These two men must carry the brunt of the fullback work, supplementing the speedier dashes of Kahl, Martindale, and Captain Chastain.

Freeman Is Injured

Minor injuries were sustained by several Harvesters Saturday, the most serious being a knee wrench to Freeman, linesman, who is on crutches. Barring developments, the squad should be in prime condition for the all-important Lubbock tilt. A victory for the locals Oct. 31 would cinch the district honors, but a loss would prolong the agony to the Thanksgiving Amarillo-Lubbock game. There would be an easy possibility of a three-way tie with Amarillo defeating Lubbock. The Harvesters therefore are going to point every energy toward preventing this jumble.

Should Big Spring consent to a game this week, the locals would have real opposition. Big Spring is knocking over all comers under the coaching of Sooner Obie Bristow, famous because of his work in freeing his father, captured by bandits rimmage Is Confused Struggle In Dictionary But It's What You Pay To See In Football

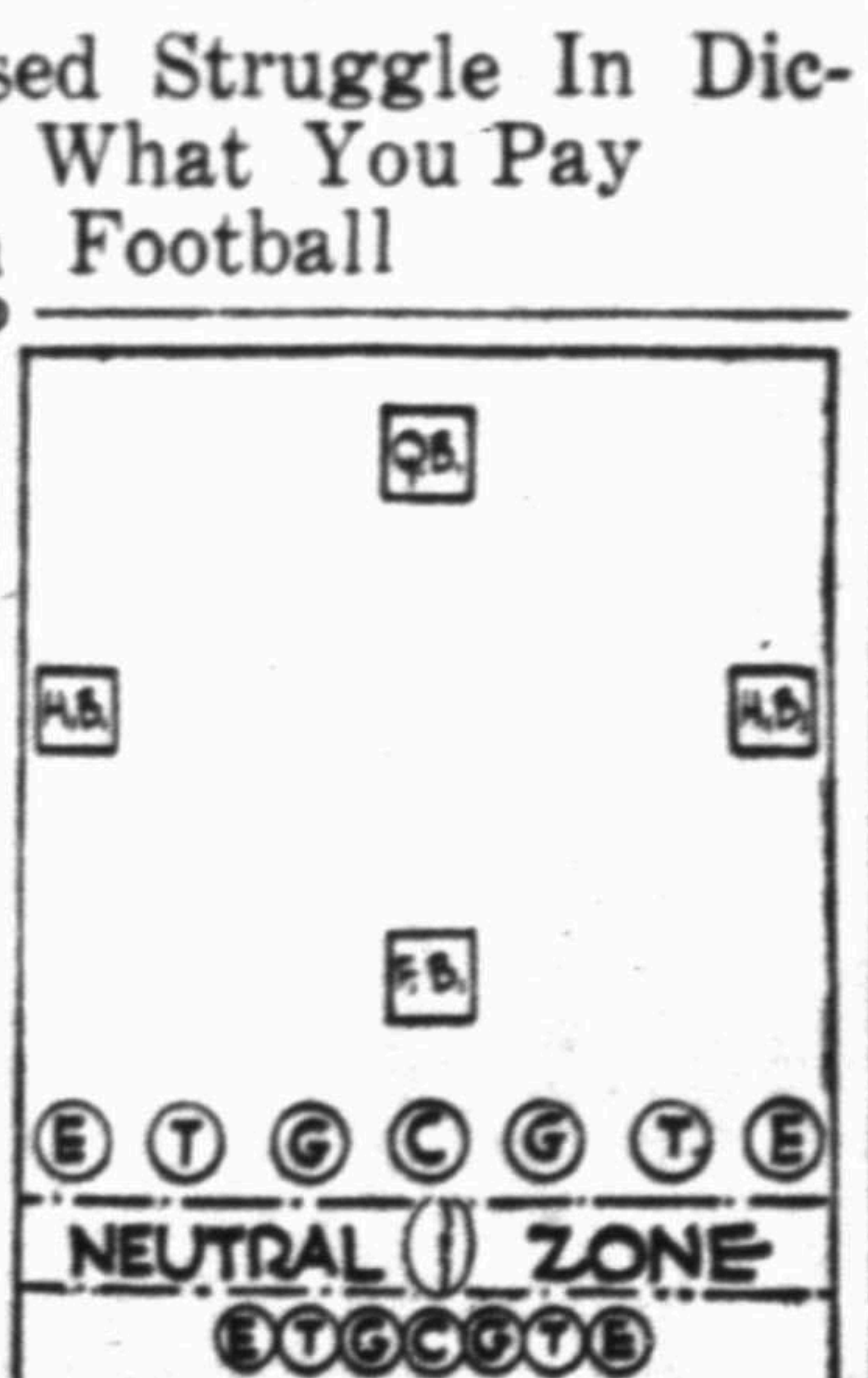
EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the cond of a series of daily ar- les of keen interest to the erage football fan.

rimmage is a confused fight or ggle, according to Mr. Webster's thick book. And in football it l that, except that the struggle pens to be far less, confusing e players involved than it is to sands of spectators banked on sides of the stadium.

rimmage starts from the point which the referee calls the ball . It includes every play except offs and free kicks following catches. As in kickoffs, each has a restraining line, two ginary lines parallel to the goals separated by the length of the ball. The area within the re- ining lines is the neutral zone if any player save the offensive ter puts any part of his body or within that area before the is snapped, he causes a five- penalty for offside to be slap- upon his team.



asic defensive and offensive for- tions are shown in the accom- ying diagram. To some they may ear obsolete because of modern balanced lines, wingbacks, box ensive formations in the sec- ary and other offensive and de- sive tactics developed in recent rs.

our attempts — they're called ns — in which to advance the by running with it or passing re given the team in possession the ball. Only when the penalty nces the ball beyond the 10- assignment of the team in ession is the number of the down ted.

fensive players may line up of the restraining line in ever formation they choose. ver, the team in possession of all must play at least seven men on the line of scrimmage. They are usually two ends, two tackles, two guards and a center, called the snapper-back. If the remaining four players are not on the line of scrimmage, they are backs, identified as quarterback, a pair of halfbacks and a fullback. Modern football has practically done away with these last terms.

A team relinquishes possession of the ball through failure to make the assigned 10 yards in four attempts or by punting, and of course on a fumble recovered by an opponent. The ball may be kicked on any down, but when kicked it must be touched by a rival player before a player on the kicking team may legally recover it.

TOMORROW: Point after touchdown.

Injunction On Paving Talked

Restraint Of Highway Department From Building Highway With Asphalt On A Caliche Base Is Sought

Talk of obtaining an injunction to restrain the state highway department from paving highway 7, from Lubbock to the Hockley county line, with asphalt on a caliche base, was heard in Lubbock Tuesday. The county commissioners court recently was informed by the state highway commission that contract for the paving of the highway on a caliche asphalt basis probably would be let at the November or December session of the highway commission.

Trip Called Off

Two county commissioners, Claude Denton of Lubbock and J. T. Pinkston of Slaton had planned to go to Austin Monday to confer with the commission regarding its action in making the construction asphalt instead of concrete but owing to the serious illness of Mr. Denton's daughter, Mrs. R. D. Campbell, they were unable to go.

Leaders of the successful road bond campaign have expressed themselves on the question several times in the past and have declared they will file an injunction to prevent the construction of any asphalt paving on moneys of the bond issue.

County Judge E. L. Pitts said a docket in county court prevented him from going before the commission at Austin.

"Final plans have been filed in Austin with the state highway engineer," Mr. Johnston stated. They call for a caliche base and an asphalt top. "The policy of the state highway department is to use local material in road construction where it comes up to specifications." It is probable that the contract will be let at the November letting. If not, it will be in December.

Distance between the end of the present paving on No. 7 at the north end of Texas Technological college and the Hockley county line is approximately 17 miles. The grading and drainage work was finished early in the spring and has been in use for some months.

Several changes were made in the route of No. 7 through the northwest section of the county and the distance was shortened slightly. A gin in Shallowater was moved across the road and a portion of the land on which it had been located was used to straighten the highway.

Citizens of the county voted on the $991,000 bond issue for highways under the impression that the entire system would be paved in concrete, leaders of the third campaign having stressed this point in their vote-getting drive.

At that time, however, ex-County Judge Robert Bean said Monday, the county commissioners' court was unable to get an expression from the highway department on the type of construction of the highways.

The commission inaugurated the program with concrete, paving Highway nine north to Abernathy and south to Tahoka in concrete and Highway seven to Slaton of the same material.

Operations Of Tahoka Club Are Suspended Temporarily

TAHOKA, Oct. 20 (Special)—Permission has been given to the Tahoka Kiwanis club by Kiwanis International to suspend meetings for a period of six months, Truett Smith, president, announces.

By vote of the club it was decided to ask international officers for permission to temporarily disband. By early spring it is hoped that conditions here will be changed to permit resumption of the weekly luncheons.

"We are not closing the club permanently but we are dispensing temporarily our weekly luncheons," President Smith added.

All Lynn County Schools Closed For Cotton Picking

TAHOKA, Oct. 20 (Special)—All rural schools in Lynn county as well as the Tahoka schools have closed for cotton picking. The New Home and Pride schools, were the last rural schools to close, H. P. Caveness, superintendent of schools.

The Tahoka schools closed for a month and will start early in November. O'Donnell schools will not open pntil November 2.

Sweet Cream And Butterfat Markets Advance In City; Receipts Increase

Farmers who are selling their sweet cream and butterfat are "sitting pretty" with the local market advanced to 35 cents a pound for sweet cream and 30 to 27 cents for butterfat.

Local dealers have announced the new prices. No. 1 butterfat is bringing 30 cents and No. 2 three cents less.

The sweet cream increase has been in effect for several days and the butterfat price for about a week.

Dealers report already an increase in receipts of both. Rains of the past ten days are said to be worth considerable to pastures. Farmers have had feed crops put away and there is plenty of feed for cattle for the winter.

Egg prices also are advancing. Local stores are reported paying as high as 25 cents for eggs and some dealers are approaching this price.

R. N. McClain, assistant county agent, said yesterday that the 12 dairy demonstrators working under his instruction, have reduced butterfat production costs to an average of eight cents a pound. The price ranged from two to 24 cents, the low man having plenty of pasture and the high may buying all his feed.

Three Hale County Banks Approved As Depositories

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 20. (Special)—Three banks in Hale county have been approved as county depositories by the county commissioner's court, it was announced when bonds of two of the trio were approved.

The First State bank of Abernathy has filed its bond with the court as has the First National bank of Hale Center. Both have been given approval.

The First State bank of Petersburg has announced its bond would be ready in a few days.

Operators In Yates Area File Petition With Commission; Rehearing Sought In Fixing Of Oil Allowable

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Operators in the Yates field in Pecos county today filed a petition with the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission asking a rehearing in the matter of fixing an allowable for that area.

The commission had issued an order fixing the daily allowable at 65,000 barrels. The petitioners asked that after a rehearing it be fixed at 76,000 barrels.

Those signing the protest were the mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company, Stanolind Oil and Gas company, the California company, the Simms Petroleum company and the Shell Petroleum company, these representing themselves to own 75 per cent of the wells in the field.

R. D. Parker, chief supervisor of the oil and gas division, said he had recommended to the commission that it call a new hearing for the field.

Other good oils lubricate working parts after the motor starts and oil is pumped from the crankcase through the motor, which takes several minutes. But Germ Processed Oil stays up in your motor at all times and lubricates working parts safely during the starting period ... when almost half of all motor wear takes place! A "hidden quart" stays up in your motor and never drains away. Only Germ Processed Oil can give you this sure protection at all times, because only Germ Processed Oil can penetrate and combine with metal surfaces ... an exclusive characteristic called "penetrative lubricity." The Toll Of Accidents

ONE person was killed, 10 others were injured in motor mishaps in and around Lubbock on Monday of this week. The figures are more than startling; they are nothing short of staggering.

Yet they are nothing new—and they are not confined to Lubbock and its immediate environs. They are typical of what is happening every day, in every section and community, as human life and limb is being laid upon the altar of the motor car, the airplane and the slower means of transportation. It is usual, rather than unusual, for a reader to scan his paper and see account after account of such accidents.

But the increasing toll doesn't make it right.

It doesn't make the facts any easier to swallow.

There have always been accidents in the world—there always will be. But that fact isn't enough to cause the world to shrug it off with the comment, "Oh well. You've got to expect it."

There must be more care exercised in the operation of vehicles. There must be more calm consideration of the fact that it is dangerous to lose control of a car or a plane, or to pay too little attention to what is going on. Otherwise our already terrible accident toll is going to continue to rise and rise and rise—until it becomes increasingly dangerous to be up and about on this terrain we humans call our own.

We drivers, fliers and pedestrians must learn that motoring, flying and walking is not child's play.

We must consider, as we go about our work and our play, that being careful is not only the most acceptable way of walking, riding and flying—but it is also most sensible. Not until the public thoroughly realizes this fact will the world draw any surcease from the harvest of the now mechanically controlled grim reaper.

THE HOWL AT ANNAPOLIS

The howl of the city of Annapolis, Maryland, because President Hoover failed to notice a group of its leading citizens on hand to welcome him as he passed through the city, appears nothing short of childish. While the President should have acknowledged the welcome—and probably would have had he known anything about it—even the most partisan Democrat will admit that Mr. Hoover has more important things to grip his mind than the appearance of a handful of native sons, anxious to bask in reflected glory for the honor of dear, old Annapolis.

Somehow or other The Morning Avalanche fails to catch the spirit of the occasion and we sympathize with the President in this latest petty attack made upon him. The fair thinking man is quick to realize that there's more to being President nowadays than the mere bowing to a committee of silk-hats.

Practical Health Problems

TREATMENT OF HEART TROUBLE

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THE blood supply of the human heart comes from blood vessels called the coronary arteries. When a human being feels a sudden pain in the heart it is probably due to one of two causes—stretching of the wall of the diseased vessels or a lack of circulation of the blood to the heart muscles supplied by the coronary arteries.

In the majority of cases of angina pectoris that are studied by means of postmortem examination, it is found that definite changes have taken place in the coronary blood vessels. The giving of certain drugs which contract the blood vessels usually produces a sudden severe pain in the heart in people whose coronary blood vessels are disordered. Indeed, anything that greatly reduces the amount of blood supply going to the heart muscle seems to bring on the pain in the heart that is called angina.

For instance, the giving of insulin lowers the total amount of sugar circulating in the blood, in this way lowering also the amount going to the heart muscle, and not infreqquently producing in people with angina pectoris a sudden attack of pain.

In those who have the disease, any diminution in the amount of oxygen going to the heart muscle produces the painful attack. Any extraordinary effort or breathing for a long time in a small closed room may bring on an attack.

The heart, as has been said repeatedly in these columns, is the one organ in the body which begins to function fully before the birth of the child and proceeds without cessation of its activities until the time of death. It is known that excessive physical activity causes the heart to beat fast and with great intensity, whereas rest in bed lowers the rate of the heart, and so far as is humanly possible actually rests the heart muscle. For this reason the prime prescription in most cases of heart disease of any type is rest. The understanding of the mechanism of production of pain in the heart in relationship to the amount of work done is a further indication of the necessity for providing a proper amount of rest for this important organ.

Opposition Is Explained

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Basing his reasoning on world travel and observation of his own and long study of clashing international interests in the Orient, Senator William H. King of Utah inclines to attribute Japan's recent military activities in Manchuria less to a policy of territorial conquest from China than to alarm at the steady spread of Russian influence to the southward from eastern Siberia.

Senator Wm. H. King

"The Russians," says the senator, who unquestionably has toured the Soviet republic more extensively than any other American in public life, "historically have sought a warm water frontage on the Pacific.

"However, to permit Muscovite strength effectively to dig itself in on the mainland facing their rocky, unproductive little archipelago, totally inadequate as it is to support its enormous population, simply would be suicide for the Japanese. The islanders fought the czar in 1904-'05 to prevent it. Today it would be as surely fatal to them as ever."

"FAR FROM having forgotten its old ambitions since the revolution," continued the Utah lawmaker, "Russia under Bolshevik rule is the most imperialistic country on earth.

"One of Moscow's earliest efforts was to Communize China, where, in fact, it already had made considerable progress when driven out by the present nationalist government, and where, despite this setback, it still retains many adherents.

"Even against the Nanking regime's opposition in China proper, an uninterrupted Russian infiltration has continued in Mongolia and, to a lesser extent, in Manchuria.

"Mongolia, in the remoter interior, is not of so much consequence to the Japanese, but in Manchuria they have a large trade, important holdings and a sizable population. If they do not want it for colonization purposes, at least they need its markets for their industrial products. Moreover, it adjoins Korea, which is Japanese territory, and control of it would provide Russia with its long-desired ice-free access to the Pacific."

"TO FORCE a quarrel upon China for possession of the province," argued the senator, "would not be sound Japanese statesmanship, but Japan must guard, at any cost, against domination of it by Russia, either directly or through the building up of Bolshevism among the Manchurians.

"It is in its opposition to Russia that Tokio appears to have been driven into a position of hostility toward the Nanking government.

"The situation is desperately confused.

"Tokio and Nanking are at odds because Tokio is at odds with Moskow and yet Moscow because its emissaries were driven from China by the nationalist regime, is on bad terms with Nanking. Among the Manchurians, too, there is an independence movement which aligns them against all outside interference."

"IN AN ARMED test of strength for the province, clean cut between Japan and Russia, I believe," said the Salt Lake City solon, "that the Japanese would be likelier to win than in 1904-'05, when, but for threats of revolution at home, the czar's forces probably would have been victorious.

"At present, though perhaps the Russians would fight with a better will (for the 1904-'05 war was very unpopular among them), they are less up-to-date in point of military equipment, a particular in which the Japanese are thoroughly modern.

"Besides, Japan is much nearer to the scene of what would be the Manchurian field of operations."

"BUT WARFARE," added the senator, "should it develop, can hardly be clean cut, as between two and only two belligerants and in this fact, I think, lies the brightest promise that it will be avoided.

"Existing conditions seem to align not Japan and Russia, but Japan and China against one another.

"China, of course, is no match for Japan, but, relentlessly pressed by the Japanese there is the danger that the Nanking government, notwithstanding its dislike of Bolshevism, will be forced to seek aid from Moscow, resulting in a partnership which Tokio assuredly will hesitate to render inevitable; a Communized China would be too great a peril to be risked by its nearest neighbor.

"My guess is that out of the jumble, Manchuria will get a tolerably complete measure of independence—about the same measure that it enjoyed under the late war lord, Chang Tso-lin, who was pro-Japanese, governed the Manchurians practically as he saw fit at home, and yet acknowledged a sort of national Chinese sovereignty."

THE GOLD STANDARD

Amid all the clamor of the critics of the gold standard one eminent economist is still firm in orthodox belief. Dr. Edwin W. Kemmerer, of Princeton University, has had unrivalled experience as a doctor for ailing government financial systems the world over, and is especially versed in the finances of South American countries, on whose big stake in the rehabilitation of silver the friends of that metal have been so eloquent, sticks to gold.

Addressing the Pan-American Commercial Conference, Dr. Kemmerer declared that despite all its fluctuations in the last half century, gold had been more stable than silver and more satisfactory than any paper "managed currency," with which the world has yet had experience. He admitted that the world needed a more stable standard than gold affords at the present time, but considers the real desideratum to be not a substitute for the gold standard, but its improvement by cooperative effort.

This seems to be substantially the position of the national government in Great Britain, which has been endeavoring to interest the United States and France in some plan of preventing the excessive accumulation of gold stocks at any one center.

Stage comedians have been warned to soft-pedal depression humor. Theater operators probably can't stand it.

Many persons do not seem to be ashamed to advertise the fact that they have made a failure of marriage.

The man who thought of air navigation probably was an autoist trying to find a place to park.

Pretty NORMA KENT, 20-year-old secretary, marries MARK TRAVERS, son of F. M. TRAVERS, millionaire real estate leader in spite of the father's threats to disinherit Mark.

The story opens in Marlboro, middle western metropolis. Mark sells his expensive roadster to get money for the honeymoon and he and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs. After two weeks their money is gone, partly due to Mark's gambling. With $500, borrowed, the couple return to Marlboro. Mark sets out on a round of pleasure seeking instead of hunting work. When their funds dwindle again he and Norma move to a cheap apartment.

Mark gets one job and loses it. Then he becomes a floorwalker in Blossomdale's department store. In spite of poverty the young couple are happy. After a few weeks Mark's father sends for him, offers to take him back into his business organization if Mark will prove he can make good. His first task involves a business trip to France. Norma is to remain at home. She begs him not to go but in spite of her protests Mark departs.

Norma, treated rudely at her father-in-law's slips away leaving no trace of her whereabouts. She takes a room in a cheap lodging house. CHRIS SAUNDERS, her former roommate, helps Norma find a job as secretary for FREDERICK STUART, literary agent. Travers receives a report from detectives who say they have "found the girl."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXIII

Working for Frederick J. Stuart was not at all like working in Brooks, Welliver and Brooks' law office. Norma found her new tasks easier. The letters were never complicated and there were no difficult, unfamiliar words to spell. Stuart dictated at rapid-fire speed but Norma could transcribe her notes leisurely. This was fortunate because her short-hand was more accurte than her typing.

Occassionally her employer asked her to read a manuscript and tell him what she thought of it. This was fun, though Norma never had any means of knowing what Stuart thought of her judgment. She had little means of knowing what he thought of anything. He said little, never spoke of anything but business and seemed an indefatigable worker.

All sorts of people came to the office—old men, eager-faced young women, housewives, a youth in a purple overcoat who announced himself as a poet, prosperous-looking individuals and others who seemed impoverished, a playwright whose dramas were unusually successful and whom Stuart told Norma was perpetually bitter because the world would not recognize him as a novelist.

In spite of herself during the first week Norma was interested. She liked to speculate about these curious people, which ones had manuscripts that would sell, which were slaves of the pitiful illusion of talent.

A good part of the time she had to herself. Stuart was out of the office sometimes for entire half days. Then all she had to do was receive visitors and take messages.

Each morning when she awoke Norma was grateful for the work which somehow would fill the hours until evening. Her days became exact replicas of one another. She arose at 7:30, dressed, righted her room and boarded a downtown car. She breakfasted at a cafeteria across the street from the office, arrived there at nine or a little earlier and sorted the morning mail. Her lunch hour was from 11:30 until 12:30. She worked until five, dined at an inexpensive restaurant and rode back to the rooming house on the street car.

Ocassionally she spent an evening with Chris. Twice Dorothy joined them and all three went to a motion picture theater. Norma knew she was not good company for the others and preferred to be alone. She could think of Mark when she was alone, plan for the glorious time when he would be back again. In memory she relieved a hundred happy incidents she and Mark had known together. She would estimate the difference in Marlboro time and that in France and try to imagine what Mark might be doing at particular hours. While she was eating breakfast it was well into afternoon wherever he might be. When she left the office at five it was late evening for Mark.

She spent hours composing carefully worded letters which she mailed to his business address. Scrupulously in these letters she avoided mention of how she was spending the time. She said nothing about Mark's parents, yet gave no hint that she was not with them. She wrote Mark that she missed him, that she was eager to hear all he had been doing, impatient for his return.

That letters for her had reached Mark's father's home she never for a moment doubted. It was harder for her because she could not receive those letters and yet she had brought this on herself. Because it took so long for a message to cross the ocean she did not think Mark would consider her own letters strange or be surprised if he asked questions that were not answered. Everything would be explained when he came back.

There was one real joy to look forward to each day. Norma saved it until the last moment before she got into bed. Then she took the fountain pen that had been Mark's and with very black strokes crossed off that day on the calendar. The row of inky crosses grew impressively.

Norma discovered that, whereas she had thought of crosses as burdens the first day she looked at that calendar, the black marks signified exactly the opposite. They stood for burdens that had been dropped. Each day a new cross. Each day bringing Mark nearer.

The seven crosses on the calendar grew to 14. If only a letter would

Baptists Will Meet In Waco

Baylor University Will Play Role Of Host To Delegates Attending General Convention In November

(Special To The Avalanche)

WACO, Oct. 20.—Baylor university will be host to the representatives of five hundred thousand Baptists of Texas next month when the Baptist general convention of this state will hold its annual session in Waco hall, the new Baylor auditorium. The dates of the convention are November 11, 12 and 13. Representatives from the majority of the 3,100 Baptist churches of the state are expected to attend.

Business relating to the organized Baptist work in Texas, throughout the South, and on the various foreign mission fields will be discussed by various speakers. A special feature of this year's program is the unusually large number of persons to be memorialized. A special half hour has been set aside on the opening day for a memorial service honoring S. P. Brooks, while at another service later in the convention, a half hour will be devoted to tributes to the late Dr. J. M. Carroll of San Antonio and Fort Worth, and Dr. D. I. Smyth of Port Arthur and Grandview. On the last evening of the session, memorial tributes will be paid to Dr. Forrest Smith, late of Fort Worth, and Dr. W. Eugene Sallee, a native Texan who spent twenty-five years in foreign mission service in China and who died last June while serving as home secretary of the foreign mission board of the Southern Baptist convention.

Dr. L. R. Scarborough, of Fort Worth, will preside at the convention while the recording secretaries are Dr. J. L. Truett, of Whiteside, and Dr. D. B. Smith, San Antonio. Dr. J. Howard Williams, of Dallas, the new executive secretary of the convention, will present the report of the state mission board.

The convention sermon is to be preached by Dr. Millard A. Jackson, of Abilene. In the event of his inability to be present, the message will be brought by his alternate, Dr. John L. Whorton, of Bryan. The music of the convention will be directed by Prof. E. L. Carnett, of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, at Fort Worth.

Terry Turkey Growers Will Meet To Plan For Markets

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 20. — Officials of the Terry County Turkey Growers association have called a meeting for Saturday, October 24 for the purpose of ascertaining the number of turkeys that will be placed in the marketing pool to be available for the Thanksgiving and Christmas market. The association was organized three years ago and each of the two pools that it has handled, has resulted in securing a price several cents above market quotations prevailing at the time and it is believed that even better results will be had this year upon account of the fact that the quality produced is superior and market demand likely to be more active.

ome telling her that in two weeks ark would be back! She could not orget he had said the four weeks night turn into five.

The 14 crosses became 15, 16, 17. Christmas was only a few days away. Store windows were filled with Christmas gifts, holly wreaths, estoons of greenery and gay crimon ribbons. Tall evergreens, glowng with red, blue and gold lights dazzled the army of shoppers. Downtown streets from early morning until late at night became avenues of confusion. Sidewalks swarmed with tired, hostile and determined faces peering from behind mountainous packages. Santa Clauses in cheap red suits jingled their Christmas bells on street corners and the red caps of Salvation Army workers roomed bright n the turmoil.

Christmas only a few days away. Christmas!

Norma found consolation in choosing Mark's gift. It would be late, of course. She would keep it for him. Two weeks more—perhaps at little less than that—and she and Mark would make up for so many, many weary days apart. What a celebration they would have then! She dared not think too much of that meeting. Whenever she did the hurt in her heart became so sharp.

She stood long before windows filled with gifts bearing the significant placard, "For Him—" She read professional shoppers' suggestions for presents for young men. Mark's tastes were difficult. She would have loved to buy him something truly expensive but that was out of the question. She would have liked to give him something she had made with her own hands. There was no way to satisfy either of these desires so Norma compromised. She selected a sweater of soft yarn, exquisite to touch. It was a rich tan she knew Mark admired. He could wear it for golf and on comfortable evenings lounging at home.

The sweater was her only Christmas purchase. She and Chris, knowing each other's financial status, had ruled out gifts for each other long ago. Norma bought a sheet of the most festive paper she could find in which to wrap the sweater. It was black and white, spangled with silver, and she tied it with a rimson ribbon. Nice, Norma told herself as she surveyed the offering. Nice enough—almost—for the most beloved husband in the world.

He would bring a gift for her, too. Something from Paris perhaps!

When such thoughts occurred to her during working hours it was necessary for Norma to force her attention rigidly back to her notebook, back to her typewriter. There were entire letters to be re-written because of moods of day dreaming.

Ocassionally at her dsek in Stuart's office she felt qualms of conscience because she had not admitted to her employer that she had taken the position temporarily. Neither had she told him she was married. It was deceiving, Norma told herself guiltily. On the other hand she knew enough about business to understand that either admission might have cost her the job. She was doing her work efficiently. Stuart was satisfied. When Mark came back she would tell Stuart the truth and he would have no difficulty finding another secretary. Hundreds of girls were looking for work.

She was lingering before a brightly lighted window filled with toys one evening when something made her turn. Not three yards away, his eyes fixed on the display she had been looking at, stood Bob Farrell.

Norma moved nearer. "Hello, Bob," she said, smiling.

"Hello! Say—where'd you come from?"

"I was standing right there beside you admiring the dancing bear. Are you picking out your Christmas gift? Something in this window certainly seems to have you hypnotized."

Bob grinned. "Cute, aren't they? Which one do you want?"

"Oh, I'll take the bear. Isn't he adorable "

"Well, write you letter to Santa Clause and be a good girl! Where are you bound for? Couldn't take pity on a guy and have dinner with him, could you?"

"Sorry. I've just had dinner. I'm on my way to get the car."

Farrell said. "My hard luck! Don't mind if I walk along with you?"

"Of course not. Have you been winning any more big cases?"

"Haven't even had a chance. I uppose you're all wrapped up in Christmas shopping and getting ready for the holidays."

"Well—not exactly. Mark isn't going to be able to get here, I'm afraid. That sort of spoils things."

"Is he still aboard? That's too bad! When do you expect him?"

Norma was looking steadily ahead. "I hope it won't be more than two weeks now," she said. "It seems a terribly long time."

"Oh, two weeks isn't long—unless you're waiting for a check! It'll pass before you know it."

The girl smiled. "Remember," said, "when he does come you're going to be our first dinner guest."

"That's a promise. I won't forget."

They had reached the car stop and a street car was heading toward them. Norma turned. "I'm glad to have seen you, Bob," she said. "Hope you have a fine Christmas."

"Thanks." Farrell looked as though there were something more he wanted to say but the car was almost there. Another minute and it had stopped with a noisy clangor. Norma's "Goodby" came to him over the heads of half a dozen men and women.

She forgot about the meeting almost instantly. Norma was tired. Another day gone; another cross on the calendar. She was too weary to smile at the agreeable thought.

The red-haired girl at the desk in the Cromwell Detective Agency glanced up. "You back?" she said casually to the man who had just entered.

He wore a plaid overcoat. His black hat was at an angle on the back of his head. "The boss in?" he demanded, ignoring the question.

An affirmative nod was the answer. In three strides the newcomer had almost reached the door marked, "Stanley E. Cromwell. Private."

"Say! You can!t go in there!" the girl's voice stopped him.

"Well, why not?"

"He's got a client. Said he didn't want to be disturbed."

"Listen, Mary, this is hot! I've got to see the boss. Right away! Tell him I'm here, will ya?"

The girl touched a button, spoke into the telephone receiver. "Mr. McHugh's here, Mr. Cromwell. He wants to see you about something he says is important."

There was a pause. She looked up at the man in the overcoat, nodded as she put down the instrument. "He'll see you in J. C.'s office."

The man called McHugh disappeared. A moment later a squarecut, heavily built man emerged from the private office and entered another beside it.

"Well," he said briskly as he shut the door, "what's it about?"

McHugh spoke excitedly, "Listen, boss, it's that Travers case. I've got everything! The whole works."

"What do you mean, everything?" McHugh stuffed one hand into a vest pocket, pulled out a folded document. "You said the old man wanted evidence for a divorce, didn't you? Well, I've got it! Enough for any court in the world. Here's her police record!"

He flung down the document. Top-most was a photograph, unflattering but unmistakable. It was a picture of Norma Travers.

WHO'D THINK IT'D BE SO HARD TO FIND A PLACE TO BOARD THREE CHILDREN! SEEMS LIKE NOBODY WANTS CHILDREN 'ROUND. IF THEY ONLY KNEW WHAT FINE YOUNGSTERS MINE ARE THEY'D BE GLAD TO GET 'EM.
NO LUCK YET, BETH, AND I'VE TRIED 'MOST EV'RYWHERE
IT'S ALL RIGHT, DAD, I'VE GOT IT FIXED! WHILE YOU WERE GONE I TOOK A TURN 'ROUND TH' BLOCK AN' FOUND A WOMAN WHO'LL TAKE US IN.
SHE DIDN'T WANT TO AT FIRST BUT I HAD A TALK WITH 'ER AN SHE FINAL'Y 'GREED TO IT. SIT DOWN AN' EAT, DAD, AN' I'LL CALL TH' BOYS.
WELL I'LL BE SWITCHED! SO YOU HAD A TALK WITH HER. WELL THAT ACCOUNTS FOR IT.
I DIDN'T TELL DAD THAT SHE ONLY 'GREED TO TAKE US IF I'D HELP HER WITH HER HOUSEWORK. HE WOULDN'T LIKE THAT, BUT I JES' HAD TO TO GET A PLACE TO LIVE.

Cotton — Cotton Trading Again Is Active | Livestock — Cattle Receipts Are Up Thursday | Grain — Profit Realizing Puts Wheat Down

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20 (AP).—Trading in cotton was again quite active today and although prices again advanced in the first half of the morning on covering trade buying and the strength of stocks, coupled with firmness in spots, they turned reactionary later on hedge selling and realizing, closing at net losses of 13 to 16 points.

Liverpool is due tomorrow 10 to 11 pennypoints down on New Orleans.

Liverpool came in 5 to 6 penny points worse than due but sterling advanced sharply. Private cables stated that there had been covering and buying by the continent and Bombay. Manchester cabled that there had been fair cloth buying for India and China.

NEW YORK COTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—A further advance in cotton during today early trading met increased realizing, with reactionary sentiment more in evidence after the advance to 6.85 for December or about $6.90 per bale above the recent low record.

December broke to 6.58 in the late trading and closed at that figure, with the market closing barely steady at net declines of 8 to 15 points. January sold off to 6.68 and March to 6.88 with closing quotations were within a point or two of the lowest.

Local Markets

These prices are furnished by the following Lubbock firms: Poultry — Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Dairy Products—Bell Ice Cream company; Grain—S. E. Cone Grain and Seed company, following prices being asked by Lubbock grain dealers. Cotton—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION

The State of Texas, To the Sheriff or any Constable of Lubbock County, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to summon R. W. Talbot, C. H. Terwilleger, J. P. Flanagan, C. H. Featerston, E. M. Flake, W. W. Williams, Peter Adamson, Jr., Maurice Blumenfeld, Anna B. King, C. E. Schooley, William Schooley, C. T. Bullock, Kingwood Oil Company, a corporation, and C. H. Seger, by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county to apper at next regular term of the 72nd District Court of Lubbock County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Lubbock, Texas, on the 2nd Monday in November, A. D. 1931, then and there to answer Plaintiff's First Amended Original petition in said Court on the 1st day of October, A. D. 1931, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court as No. 4589, wherein Geo. M. Boles, is plaintiff, and R. W. Talbot, C. H. Terwilleger, J. P. Flanagan, C. H. Featerston, E. M. Fake, W. W. Williams, Peter Adamson, Jr., Maurice Blumenfeld, Anna B. King, a feme sole, C. E. Schooley, William Schooley, C. T. Bullock, Kingwood Oil Company, a corporation, C. H. Seger, and Rose Davis, Individually and as Administratrix of the Estate of Guy U. Davis, deceased, are Defendants, and that Guy U. Davis, named as one of the defendants in the Original Petition, upon whom service was had, has since died. That on September 16, 1926, plaintiff and wife, Laura Boles, executed and delivered to Roscoe Wilson a five year oil and gas lease, covering the following described lands, situated in Lubbock County, Texas, to-wit:

The East 236 acres of Section 1,BlockS;

All that part of Survey 11, Block S, situated North of the right of way 3 of the P. & N. T. Ry Co., containing 509 acres; all of sections 10, 9, 14, 21 and 18, Block S containing 640 acres each;

All of Section 5 1-2, block RG, containing 105 1-2 acres; and west 1-2 of section 5, Stilson & Case, Abst 440, containing 320 acres.

That part of section 4, Block S, lying North of right of way, of P. &N. T. Ry. Co., containing 90 acres, more or less; and containing 5740.5 acres, more or less.

Said lease provided that if no well be commenced on said land on or before the 16th day of September, 1927, the same should terminate, unless the Lessee should pay or tender to the Lessor or to the Lessor's credit in the First National Bank at Lubbock, Texas, or its successors, $ .25 per acre rental to cover the privilege of deferring the commencement of the well for twelve months from said date. That in the like manner and upon like payments or tenders, the commencement of the well may be further deferred for like periods of the same number of months successively.

Further that should the first well drilled on said land be a dry hole, then and in that event, if a second well was not commenced on said land within twelve months thereafter, said lease should terminate, unless the lessee on or before the expiration of said twelve months should resume the payment of rentals.

That said lease was assigned by Roscoe Wilson to R. W. Talbot by assignment recorded in Vol. 1, pg. 125, of the Oil and Gas Lease Records of Lubbock County, Texas, covering the following described parts of the lands described in the original lease, to-wit:

All of sections 1 and 11, block B;all of West 1-2 of section 18, block S; all of Sections 10, 9, 14 and 21, block S; all that part of Section 11, Block S North of the right of way of the P. & N. T. Ry Co., except the Northwest quarter of said section 11; the West 320 acres of Section 5, block —, Abst. 440; and that part of Section 4, block S, lying North of the right of way of the P. &N. T. Ry Co., containing 90 acres; and the East 236 acres of Section 1, Block S.

That R. W. Talbot, assigned said lease as to different parts of lands to the other defendants above named. That said R. W. Talbot began drilling a well on said land before Sept. 16, 1927, and completed said well as a dry hole, and then abandoned said lease. That no other well has been commenced on said land, or any part thereof, by any of the defendants, and that no rental has been paid or tendered to the Lessor or to the Lessor's credit, by any of the defendants. That the claims of the defendants are clouds upon the title of Plaintiff.

Wherefore, plaintiff prays that an attorney ad litem, be appointed by the Court to defend this suit for the defendants cited by publication, and for judgment against all of the defendants decreasing the said oil and gas lease terminated and cancelled, and removing the cloud cast upon his title by the claims of the defendants and each of them, etc.

Herein Fail Not, and have you before said Court, at is aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Lubbock, Texas, this the 3rd day of October, A. D. 1931.

Security Markets Give Evidence Of Better Feeling Hovering On Street

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—The security markets today gave practical evidence of the better feeling that had been hovering over Wall street the past week or two.

Stocks and bonds advanced vigorously, given strong leadership by railroad issues and by United States government obligations.

The freight rate decision was announced after the close. Wall street was rather uncertain as to just how it should be interpreted; however, opinion in many quarters had been that no flat rise would be allowed but that higher rates would be permitted on many products, probably on a sliding scale. Rate experts felt the relief granted would be helpful. What effect, if any, the decision would have on the wage matter was one of the questions raised.

in Old Mexico.

Manager Joe Smith of the Pampa independent school district today said tickets for the Lubbock game probably would go on sale late this week. The bleacher seats borrowed from Memphis are being returned, but the capacity of Harvester park will be about 9,000 for the coming classic. It is hoped that the Lubbock attendance may be great enough to complete payment for the new grandstands.

Player-Control System To Govern Boston-De Pauw Tilt

BOSTON, Oct. 20. h—Members of the Boston University eleven have agreed to use the player-control system during their game with De Pauw at Greencastle, Ind., next Saturday.

The new system provides that the coach and his assistants sit in the stands during the game and that the captain of the team take full responsibility.

BLUENOSE WIN TROPHY

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 20. (AP)—The Bluenose of Lunenburg, N. S., today won the international fishermen's trophy, emblematic of the championship of the north Atlantic fishing fleet, by defeating the Glocester challenger, Gertrude L. Thebaud.

Reductions

Lubbock territory, were being studied, he was advised.

The rate on intra-state shipments, compressed in transit and flat bales, from Gannon (first stop north of Swetwater) to Snyder, inclusive, had been set at 62 cents per 100 pounds. A rate of 64 cents per 100 pounds was set on cotton shipments from Brand (five miles north of Snyder) to Eppler (four miles south of Justiceburg), inclusive, he said.

Former rates from the two zones was about 89 cents per 100 pounds. The tariff from the Lubbock zone is 95 cents.

The new schedule for the two zones became effective Monday, Kancher said. It was set at a meeting of railway officials and members of the state railroad commission.

Nearly half of the students of Notre Dame university at South Bend, Ind., come from private preparatory schools.

Livestock

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 20 (AP)—Cattle receipts aggregated 49,500 at eleven markets as compared with 40,423 last Thursday. Fed steers and yearlings carried a steady to 25 higher trend while most westerns held steady.

Hog trade carried a generally 10-15 lower tone throughout the session with several markets reporting a broad demand to all interests on the close. Arrivals totalled 88,500 as compared with 83,982 a week ago.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP)—Hogs 600; market steady to 10c lower; truck top 5:90; to small killers; bulk better grades 175-240 pound truck hogs 5.50@5.80; packing sows steady.

Catle 4,200; slaughter steers, she stock and low cutters fairly active; steady to strong, spots slightly higher; slaughter steers around 4.50@5.50; good fat cows 3.50@3.75; butcher grades around 2.75@3.15; strong weight low cutters with cuttery end up to 2.50; other low cutters 2.25; bulls and better grades fat yearlings scarce; yearlings slow, tending weak to lower; fairly good grades 6.26; butcher heifers around 3.00@4.50; stockers fully steady, good to choice stock cows 2.40@4.00; few sales stock calves 4.50@5.00; steer calves up to latter price; slaughter calves about steady, quality plain, heavies around 4.50 down.

Army, the other participating agencies, probably will announce their campaign plans soon, it was said.

Resolution Announced

The resolution follows:

"WHEREAS, The boards of directors of the Lubbock Community Chest and the participating agencies therein have carefully studied the financial situation existing at present, particularly as it affects plans for financing these agencies for the ensuing year, and

"WHEREAS, It is the deliberate judgment of these boards that because of the present situation and because of the failure in the past Community Chest campaigners to thoroughly and adequately inform the citizenship of Lubbock as to the work and services of the participating agencies, that the public can be better and more intelligently informed about each separate agency, its program, work and service through separate campaigns,

Maintain Organization

"THEREFORE, Be it resolved, by the board of directors of the Lubbock Community Chest, the boards of the participating agencies agreeing, that the Lubbock Community Chest refrain from promoting a general financial campaign this year, and that each of the participating agencies be encouraged and assisted in all ways in putting on separate campaigns, and that the Lubbock Community Chest promote and carry on a campaign for subscriptions from out-of-town corporations preferring to contribute in one sum to the said Community Chest.

"BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Community Chest organization be maintained for the purpose of keeping records, for publicity purposes and other services that it may render throughout the fiscal year, with the understanding that this decision and agreed upon plan will not affect plans of the organization or its participating agencies one year hence."

The resolution was signed by A. H. Leidigh, president of the Chest board of directors.

At least 100 high school students are expected to make the trip and the football squad will ride the special, Superintendent M. H. Duncan said. There will be approximately 25 in the squad.

Two hundred reservations will assure the train which must be made a certainty by Wednesday, October 28, the railroad men declared.

The Pampa Harvesters, leaders in the District One football chase, drubbed Amarillo High last week and last year took a 12-9 win off Lubbock. A special train load of Pampa boosters accompanied the team here last year.

Capital invested in motor vehicle manufacturing plants in 1930 in the United States was $1,880,808,233, according to the Chicago Motor club.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 20 (AP).—Cash grain demand, good.

Quotations basis delivered Texas gulf ports, export rate, or group three points, ranged as follows:

Wheat, No. 1 ordinary hard milling 54@55 1-2c; No. 1 hard 13 per cent protein 55@56c; 14 per cent 58@60c; 15 per cent 63@64c; 16 per cent 67@68c.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 36 1-2@37 1-2c; No. 2 white 38@39c; No. 2 yellow 45@46c.

Barley, No. 3, 35@36c.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 72@74c; No. 2 kaffir 70@72c.

Basis delivered group three: Oats, No. 2 red 23 1-2@24 1-2c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP).—Wholesale realizing of profits on advances amounting to 7 cents a bushel, from recent low levels pulled wheat prices downward today. The market was also bearishly affected by surprising fluctuations in sterling exchange. An undertone of strength developed on downturns, however, a circumstance associated with reports that Germany as well as France was likely to make large purchases of United States government sponsored wheat holdings.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-4@7-8 cent lower, corn unchanged to 3-8 down, oats varying from 1-8 decline to a shade advance, and provisions 5 to 12 cents up.

Freight Rates

Quanah, Acme and Pacific, a Frisco subsidiary, is seeking extension to Quanah and the Fort Worth and Denver up to Lubbock, Dimmitt and Chillicothe.

"Mr. Gallaher, our general freight agent, was our representative at the meeting in Dallas," E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent, said last night. "We are asking that the reduction apply to towns as far north as Kress and Plainview and to Muleshoe. These are the last shipping points for cotton in this territory. Mr. Gallaher has been handling the case for the Santa Fe."

The reduction, if authorized, would apply to all branch lines operating out of Lubbock and also to the Floydada branch from Plainview.

Lower Rates Seen

Should the railroad commission of Texas grant the same general reduction of 30 per cent as given other points, Panhandle towns would have rates averaging 70 cents or less, local railroad men said. This would make the rate for towns having a 95 cent rate, as low as 67 cents and for towns with a 98 cent rate, a new one of 69 cents. Dollar rate would be reduced to 70 cents.

Cotton growers pointed out yesterday that concentration of cotton in this area was predicated largely on two facts; first, a possible reduction of freight rates and second, blocked ports on the gulf.

"Brokers are now giving and have given farmers the advantage of a possible reduction in freight rates," Harry Blocker, a broker, said. "The brokers have known for some time that the meeting would be held and they feel sure that the reduction will be granted.

"Should it be given, the farmers will have an increase of around $1.75 to $1.80 a bale, on present prices. I know that brokers have done that, so confident are they that the reduced rate will be granted."

P. C. Calloway, manager of the Lubbock Compress, stated that there was more concentration of cotton in the local compress now than in any previous year at this season of the market.

Reports from other towns where there are compresses indicate the same situation. Compresses are located at Lamesa, Slaton, Brownfield, Littlefield, Plainview, Floydad, Lockney, Ralls and Crosbyton as well as Lubbock.

Hockley Farmer

when the report of the gun was heard, the cotton pickers asserted. Thomason waved to the workers as he fell to the ground. The onlookers took the man to his home and summoned his brother, who was working at a gin about two miles away. The witnesses said the gun appeared to have become entangled in the wire as the hunter was climbing over the fence. The muzzle of the gun was only a few inches from the man's body when the shot was fired, they said.

Funeral Not Set

The body was taken to Rix Funeral home here pending its return to Levelland for burial. Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night.

Thomason is survived by his widow, three children, parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Thomason of Spur, and several brothers and sisters. He had been living in the Levelland community about three years.

Trunk Slayings

tents revealed. In one was the body of Mrs. Le Roi. Bullets in the head had killed her. In the other was the hacked and mutilated body of Miss Samuelson, whose death also had been caused by bullets in the head. In a valise, other parts of the younger woman's body were found.

Shots Are Heard

The scene of the investigation switched back to Phoenix. There, police were told that shots were heard in the apartment building where the two slain women were living, on Friday, the same time as that which autopsy surgeons fixed for the date of death.

Stacks of letters, found in the trunks, the Judd home and the hillside cabin here, were McKinnell lived, were read for a clue to a motive but only to a futile end.

The description of Mrs. Judd in police records was:

"An American, 27 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches tall, 125 pounds, fair complexion, blue-gray eyes, light brown hair, wearing a black and white dress and black hat."

The story related by McKennell was changed again later in the day. He denied he had implicated his sister in the crimes, saying "I have been misquoted" and that "she is innocent; she is not guilty of this."

Rainfall

all of its lines east to Childress.

A half-inch of precipitation blanketed the North Panhandle from Plainview to the Oklahoma line, according to advices received here from Amarillo. At Amarillo, .75 inch had been recorded at 10 p. m. Among the other towns receiving good rains were Dalhart, Canadian, Clarendon, Memphis, Childress, Claude, Texline, Quitaque, and Silverton.

Brownfield, Littlefield, Levelland and Seagraves received from one to two inches during the earlier part of the night. Although Tahoka reported a good rain last night, Lamesa had received no moisture since Tuesday morning.

Crosbyton, Slaton and Ralls reported about two inches of precipitation.

Railroad traffic was disrupted and crops damaged in the Quitaque section by rains of waterspout proportions. A half-mile of the Fort Worth and Denver railway tracks four miles south of Quitaque were washed out. The rain was accompanied by electrical and wind storms. It was feared much damage was done to the crop at Quitaque, little of which had been gathered. About 1.50 inches fell there in a short time. Rainfall was heavier in outlaying sectors.

Don L. Jones at the experiment farm said he feared the cotton grade was damaged in this section due to the heavy downpour. Cotton which had been open for some time possibly was beaten out of the burrs and onto the ground, he said.

Thomas Edison

Ford and Mr. Firestone went to the library of the laboratory where the inventor's body lay in a bronze coffin. The long line of men and women, running into thousands during the last two days, was halted while the party entered the building.

Sheltered from the public, who looked for the last time on Mr. Edison's face tonight, relatives and friends will bow in a simple ritual tomorrow at Glenmont, the Edison home. After a service conducted by the Rev. Stephen J. Herben, a friend of Mr. Edison and former pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Orange, the bronze coffin then will be borne to Rosedale cemetery at Orange for burial.

Today's session will open at 9 o'clock at the American Legion home and continue through the day. There is to be a luncheon for the visitors at 12 o'clock at Hilton hotel and an evening program beginning at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Boyd will deliver her president's address tonight. This program will be in the Legion hall.

A feature of the program Tuesday evening was the appearance of the honor guard for the honorees—the men who received military decorations. This guard came from Sweetwater and is composed of six young women with Mrs. R. C Ledford, recorder of crosses in the chapter there, as leader. The unit is the only one in a Texas chapter. Members are Misses Jo Ella Arledge and Genoa Cole, Mesdames Jack Armstrong, A. G. Winn, O. Stephenson and William Morton.

The men receiving military decorations at the program Tuesday are sons of Confederate soldiers. At each state convention of the U. D. C. two men are selected and decorated.

Fire Sweeps Through Block In Sherman; $100,000 Loss

SHERMAN, Oct. 20. (AP) — Fire swept through a block in down town Sherman tonight, destroyed three business establishments and damaged two others. Damages were expected to run in excess of $100,000. The Knight Furniture company, the Douglas Tailor shop and the Walker Shoe store were destroyed. Two unoccupied buildings west of the Knight Furniture company were damaged by flames, smoke and water. The fire continued burning at 9:15 p. m., but it was reported under control.

Lubbock Youth Conceded Hope

Physicians Say Young Student Of Texas Tech Has Only A "Chance For Improvement" Following Accident

Little change was noted Tuesday night in the condition of Martin Hamilton, 18-year-old Texas Technological college student, who was injured in an automobile accident in which a young woman was killed and two other young people were injured here Monday afternoon at a "thrill dip" driveway, attending physicians at the West Texas hospital said.

Physicians said the youth had "a chance for improvement," but that no material change in his condition was expected for the next day or two.

Donald Casterlin, 18, freshman in the school of engineering, the least seriously injured of the four persons in the automobile in the mishap, was discharged from the hospital Tuesday. Miss Frankie Barnhardt, 21, also a Tech student, was reported as improving. Attendants at the hospital said she probably would be discharged today.

The body of Miss Bonnie Nell Gordon, 17, of Miami, Tex., who died a few minutes after the accident, was sent to Pampa Tuesday by Bynum-Morgan Funeral home for burial. The body was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gordon, who arrived here Tuesday morning. Funeral services for the young woman will be held at 2:30 p. m. today at Pampa. Burial will be in a Pampa cemetery.

In addition to her parents, Miss Gordon is survived by a brother, F. W. Gordon, jr., of Pampa, and Mrs. O. D. Skelton of Clarendon.

Maverick County Judge Is Facing Swindling Charges

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 20. (AP) — Three charges of swindling by check were filed against County Judge W. O. Fitch of Maverick county here Tuesday growing out of three checks totaling $2,000 cashed by a hotel here.

The complaints were filed before Justice of the Peace John R. Shook Tuesday morning by W. E. Corrin, assistant manager of the hotel.

Young Men Prefer Corduroy Pants

Men, here are the trousers every one is wearing and talking about—corduroy trousers that are "just right" in every detail. Aside from being very smart from a "style" angle they are also decidedly practical and serviceable and can be chosen in a varied range of models—

They are "leather" color and in both "hip-zip" and waist band styles.

Zippers are featured on many garments—a feature that makes for snug hip fitting and novel appearance. There are also waist band styles with a deep 3-inch band—the bottoms are the wide 22-inch kind and they are priced as follows—

"Hip-zip" styles $4.95
Waist band styles $3.95

BOYS' CORDUROY PANTS

Boys' also prefer corduroy. There are pants for them in the "Hip-Zip" style as well as in waist band models—sizes 6 to 16—priced—

PUBLISHES SONGS

W. R. Waghorne, head of the department of music at Tech, has just been notified by the Lorenz Publishing company that they have accepted for publication his Easter anthem, "Bless the Lord, O My Soul."

This is the fourth song composed and set to music by Mr. Waghorne which he has had published this year. Two of them were Easter anthems, "Hark the Herald Angels Bright Are Singing," and "Now the Winter Days are O'er." The fourth one was "Forward Be Our Watchword."

TO HAVE DEBATE

A humorous debate between Charles O'Neall and Manuel DeBusk will be the feature of the Pre-Law club meeting tonight, at 7:30 in room 217.

The serious side of the program will be a talk by some local lawyer, according to the president, Mendel Hughett.

KINCHEN IN IOWA

Prof. Oscar A. Kinchen of the history department, who is on leave of absence this year, has written to friends here of his work in the University of Iowa, where he is studying for his doctorate. He is enjoying his work on his thesis, which he hopes to have completed by Christmas.

Mr. Kinchen's address is Iowa City, Iowa, care of the history department of the university.

ENGINEERS ELECT PREXY

The first regular meeting of the Engineering society of Texas Tech was held Monday night, with the vice president, Olaf Lodal of Gordon, presiding.

Election was held to choose a new president and Frank Maddox, textile engineering senior, was elected. Dean W. J. Miller made a short talk, explaining the objective of the society to new members and also outlining its past accomplishments.

Annapolis Midshipmen Give Hoover Rousing Welcome Upon His Arrival

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 20. (AP)—President Hoover received a rousing welcome from the Annapolis midshipmen today but the city of Annapolis as such did not participate.

Presidential salutes rang out as Mr. Hoover debarked from the battleship Arkansas and entered the grounds of the naval academy to pass between two long lines of midshipmen to the White House automobiles. Another salute boomed as the party left the academy grounds.

More than 2,000 Annapolis citizens made up the crowd assembled about the academy, but when Admiral Thomas C. Hart, commandant of the naval academy, called for Mayor Walter Quenstedt just before the arrival of the president, he was informed the Annapolis executive was not present.

Quenstedt yesterday wrote to President Hoover protesting failure of the chief executive to recognize an official welcoming party from Annapolis as Mr. Hoover traveled to that city to board the ship last Saturday.

In making known that he had written such a letter, the mayor said plans for the city's participation in ceremonies welcoming the president upon his arrival today had been abandoned.

The mayor declined to make his letter to the president public, but said if a satisfactory explanation did not come from the White House, he would give newspapermen both the letter he wrote and the presidential reply.

Explanation Given Following Protest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—President Hoover's failure to greet the mayor of Annapolis last Saturday while en route to Yorktown was explained at the White House today as merely a misunderstanding.

It was said at the executive offices that neither the president, his secretaries nor any of his immediate aides knew anything about plans to greet the Annapolis mayor as they passed through his city.

One of the secret service men had gone ahead of the presidential party to make police arrangements, it was said, and he had talked with Mayor Walter E. Quenstedt.

It was explained he understood the mayor would meet the presidential party at the naval academy dock where he was given a salute of 21 guns and other presidential honors.

The mayor was waiting near the outskirts of Annapolis when the president's party sped through, led by an escort of motorcycle policemen that cleared all traffic.

President Hoover was described as regretting the incident and probably will incorporate his explanation in a letter, answering one from Quenstedt.

POLICY LENIENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Senator Nye today said President Hoover had assured him he would recommend to congress the appropriation of sufficient capital to enable federal land banks to pursue a more lenient policy toward borrowers.

Pains Stopped When Lady Got Stronger

"ABOUT a year ago, my health was not good," writes Mrs. W. F. Sivley, 8800 First Court, N., Birmingham, Ala. "I felt weak, tired. I had pains in my back. I knew by these symptoms I needed something to build me up. My mother advised me to try Cardui, which I did. I found it was what I needed, for it built me up. The pain in my back stopped, and I felt better and stronger than I had in some time. I took about 7 bottles of Cardui in all." 888-4

WITH OLD GOLDS

It's not only good manners to avoid offending others with your smoking. It's good sense. The best way to insure your own enjoyment.

For the same reason that OLD GOLDS do not taint the breath, or discolor the teeth . . . for that very reason OLD GOLDS are a finer smoke . . . easier on the throat and more delightful in taste.

Pure tobacco . . . that sums it up. Sun-ripened tobacco . . . sweetened by nature herself. Tobacco so good it needs no added flavoring.

If you'll take a dare . . . and try natural-flavored OLD GOLDS for a day . . . we predict OLD GOLD will win another life-long friend!
