Dodson Church Holds Meeting July 25 to 30

Revival services will open at the Church of the Nazarene in Dodson on Tuesday, July 25, and continue through the following Sunday, July 30, the Rev. Howard Smith, pastor, has announced.

CITIZENSHIP SEMINAR STUDENTS

This trio left Tuesday, July 18, to attend the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar held each summer on the campus of Baylor University, Waco.

Sponsored by the Collingsworth County FB, they are Judy Peters, left, Sandra Sullivan, and Byron Bell.

Bank Assets Up Nearly Two Million From 1971

Again in 1972, Wellington's two banks reached the mid-year point with both assets and deposits at the highest ever for this season of the year.

When calls were made by the State Banking Commission and Federal Reserve Bank on June 30, Assets reached $14,410,002.91, and deposits stood at $13,295,838.42.

It is to be noted that this call was made at the last of June, and it reflects none of the one million dollars that has come into Collingsworth County in the last week as farm program payments.

This is the ninth consecutive year that Collingsworth banks have broken their mid-season records on the June 30 date. Assets at the end of June 1972 are almost two million dollars above the 1971 figure of $12,577,541.44.

Deposits are up more than one and three-quarter million, with the 1971 figure being $11,507,823.25. The 1971 figure did not reflect any of the farm program money either.

In neither 1971 or 1972, was enough wheat harvested in Collingsworth County to boost the county's money to any appreciable amount.

Looking back over a four year period, the current deposits are $2,677,499 million more than those of 1970, and they are greater than the 1969 deposit figure by some $3.25 million dollars. June 30 deposits were up more than $4.8 million from the figure four years ago.

Assets are up nearly four million from three years ago, the first time at mid-season they had passed the $10 million mark.

For the first time, county residents at mid-year have more money in time and savings deposits than they do in demand deposits.

The latter figure, the money with which day to day operations of business and farming are carried on, total $6,239,057.05.

This is up $437,252.47 from last year's demand deposit figure of $5,801,804.58.

Currently in time and savings deposits are $7,056,781.37, which is $1.35 million above the time deposits of a year ago.

Loans on June 30 were $6,823,772.08, up only about $143,000 from June 30, 1971. Undivided profits when the 1972 bank call was made amounted to $275,225.61.

Arthur Taylor Appointed New Deputy Sheriff

Arthur Taylor, formerly of the Dozier community, has been appointed a Collingsworth County Deputy Sheriff, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

The thirty-year-old deputy comes here from Memphis, where he worked for a short time as a member of the police department. Prior to that, he lived at Shamrock, where he became familiar with law enforcement work.

Law violations are up some in Collingsworth County, and —See #3, page 12

Ross, Barton At FFA Meet

Joel Ross and Joe Barton represented the Quail Future Farmers Chapter at the annual State Convention in Dallas Wednesday through Friday, July 12 to 14.

Joel was the voting delegate from the chapter.

They were in the group with Lyndon Messer, delegate from Hedley Chapter. Sponsor was Doyle Messer, vocational agriculture instructor for both the Quail and Hedley chapters.

One Million Dollars in Farm Program Payments Distributed

More than one million dollars in farm program payments have come into Collingsworth County in the last 10 days, Bob Weatherly, ASCS county executive said Tuesday, July 18.

There is still an undetermined amount to come, Mr. Weatherly said.

This money is the annual farm program payments on feed grain, wheat and cotton.

Cotton payments amount to around half of the total, or $510,529.25, according to figures from the ASCS office.

Feed grain checks total $287,632.91.

The wheat checks represent the preliminary payment and amounts to $95,337.09. It is expected that wheat growers will receive another payment after the first of the year.

It is also possible that cotton and feed grain operators will receive a second check, although that depends on the price of these commodities at harvest.

There was no second check last year.

These checks come from the New Orleans office of Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Program, and they are not computed until after farmers have certified their acreage. And there is from two to three weeks between the time of certification and receipt of the checks, it was explained.

At present, around 200 farms have not been certified in the county, and again Mr. Weatherly reminded that these operators cannot get a check until they do make certification.

Services Held Sunday for Mrs. Mattie Armstrong

Mrs. Mattie Jane Armstrong, 83, a resident of the county 60 years, died in Collingsworth General Hospital Friday, July 14, following a short illness. She had been a patient at Thomas Nursing Home for seven years.

Born at Colegate, Oklahoma, June 16, 1889, she was the former Mattie Jane Clevenger, daughter of L.C. and Lucy Withers Clevenger. She grew up in that area and was married to Robert A. Armstrong on March 11, 1906, at Colegate.

After coming here in 1912, Mrs. Armstrong lived in the Quail community a number of years before moving into Wellington.

She had been a member of the Church of Christ many years.

Funeral services were conducted at 2:00 p.m. Sunday at the Church of Christ, with Minister Gaylord Cook officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Buddy Yarbrough, Elmer Hiett, Roy Thomas, Shelton Nunnelle, Cecil Shanks, and L.A. Davis.

Surviving Mrs. Armstrong are a daughter, Mrs. J.B. Stratton of Midwest City, Oklahoma; a brother, Jeff Clevenger of Tulsa; a sister, Mrs. Annie Roten of Ft. Worth and two grandchildren.

Mr. Armstrong preceded her in death July 9, 1963.

Drivers Score Nine Accidents in July

Nine highway traffic accidents, one of them involving a fatality, have been investigated in the first 18 days of July, Patrolman Doug Wright of the Texas Department of Public Safety has revealed.

Five of these were injury accidents.

Not in many months have drivers in Collingsworth chalked up so many mishaps involving motor vehicles in so short a period.

Patrolman Wright listed these accidents occurring since July 10.

The first of these accidents occurred immediately south of FM highway 1547-1036 intersection in Dozier Monday, June 10, an accident involving a non-contact vehicle.

Mr. Wright said a car driven by Danny C. Pritchard, Route 2, Shamrock, was traveling north, and in the accident —See #5, page 12

FARM TO LIVE

PRACTICE FARM SAFETY EVERYDAY!

As our farms become more mechanized, danger of accidents increases. Great precautions are needed. We urge every farmer in the Wellington area to observe these safety rules.

Cotton is our way of life, and its growers have the know-how and skill required to be successful. We urge each of our customers to observe the rules of safe farming at all times.

- Chemical farming is our way of life. Pesticides, insecticides and herbicides are safe if we follow the directions given for their use. Heed these warning notes.
- Defoliants are often necessary on Collingsworth area farms. They make us money, but only if we use them correctly.
- More than ever, our farming equipment must travel on highways and farm roads. Be especially careful in transporting it from one place to another.
- Many accidents can be eliminated by practicing good housekeeping around your barn and other out-buildings.
- Learn to apply first aid. Keep a kit handy. Always apply first aid promptly when accidents do occur.

REV. and MRS. PORTER ARNOLD

Rev., Mrs. Porter Arnold Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Recently

The Rev. and Mrs. Porter Arnold, who moved from Quail to Silverton last September, observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary on May 14, with a reception at the Pioneer Room in that town. Rev. Arnold was pastor of Quail Baptist Church until his retirement at the time they moved.

This was not the first time they had lived in the county, however, and she is a sister of Mrs. Pat O'Hair of Quail, Mrs. Howard Crosby and Horace Clay of Wellington, and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Mary Clay of Hedley.

The former Miss Hassie Clay and Porter L. Arnold were married in the home of her father, Tom Clay at Ring, May 14, 1922. The couple's first home was on a farm near Clarendon, where the three Arnold children were born and attended school.

In August, 1939, Rev. Arnold surrendered to the ministry in the Lela Lake Baptist Church, and in January 1940, the family moved to Plainview, where both Rev. and Mrs. Arnold attended Wayland Baptist College.

Their first church was the Bray Baptist Church in Donley County. Since then, he has been pastor of other churches in Texas and New Mexico.

The family home is now at 507 Stalbird Street in Silverton. The reception was given by their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mack Walker, Jimmy and Cindy of Silverton; Cliff Walker of Midland;

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Arnold of Hereford; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marcus, Susan and Greg of Bent Miss., and Rusty Marcus of La-

Descendants of Stall Brothers Hold Reunion Sunday at Ellison Park

Stories of the earliest years of Collingsworth County's history were retold Sunday, July 16, as the descendants of the three Stall brothers gathered for a reunion.

This was held on the south side of Ellison Park, with a basket dinner spread at noon.

The three pioneers were Julius Stall, L.H. Stall and Tom Stall, who came to Collingsworth County in 1888, from Louisiana.

During the day, the reunion visitors examined the family tree which Donald Curry, one of the descendants, is compiling, and then made plans to hold another reunion here next year. The date will be announced later.

Representing the Julius Stall family were a daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Holloway; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Carey Stall of Pampa; also Joe C. Stall and two of his children of Tulsa and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fulcher and family of Pampa.

A daughter and son of Tom Stall were present: Mrs. Plevna Wynn of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stall.

Meat Charts Due For Housewives

A filet mignon is what part of a beef carcass? What's the difference between a rolled fresh ham and a smoked ham? From what part of the lamb do shish kebab cubes come from?

You can get your answers to these questions plus a lot of helpful information on how to cook meat by writing for three colorful meat charts available from the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said housewives will find the charts invaluable in helping to stay within family budgets. Each chart shows a breakdown of all the cuts of a beef carcass, a hog, and a lamb.

The beef chart shows you that the filet mignon comes from the T-bone steak, the Porterhouse steak, and the top loin steak. The pork chart shows you that a rolled fresh ham is from the leg and a smoked ham from the shank portion. The lamb chart shows you that cubes for shish kebab come from the rear portion of the leg roast.

On the backs of each chart are detailed information on how to best cook the meat.

A copy is available free of charge by writing to: Texas Department of Agriculture, John C. White, Commissioner, Box 12847, Austin, Texas, 78711. Ask for the meat packet.

You'll also receive free recipes to help you prepare a variety of tasty dishes.

Four daughters of L.H. Stall attended: Mrs. Lenora Greenhaw of Memphis, Mrs. Edna Forbis of Placentia, Calif., Mrs. George Richards of Olton and Mrs. Clyde Miller of Canyon.

Other members present were Mr. and Mrs. Regnal Greenhaw of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Curry and their grandson, John D. Snider of Ada, Oklahoma.

Fix-It Tip

Eliminating condensation is a matter of doing many things, a trial and error process. Condensation occurs when warm, moisture-laden air hits a cold surface—basement walls, cold water pipes, toilet bowls. Part of the cure is to eliminate some of the moisture before it enters the air.

Clothes dryers should be vented so that moisture escapes outdoors. Exhaust fans in kitchens will cut down some of the moist air in the house. There should be fans in bathrooms, too. Opening a window when washing clothes or cooking will help.

Mr. and Mrs. Murl Phipps visited with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Helms in Lancaster, Ricky, LaVonda and Lindy, their children returned with their grandparents for a two week visit.

Deborah Crawford of Austin is spending 2 or 3 weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hook Elliott.

Happy Homemaking

When packing cosmetics for traveling, fill and label plastic prescription bottles with the needed hand lotion, cleansing cream, powder, astringent, etc., from large economy-size packages. This not only prevents breakage and spillage but narrows everything down to a compact size.

If you do not have a rod in the back of the car for hanging clothes, get a small chain, such as a dog chain, and suspend it from one hook across the back seat to the other. Coat hangers can be hooked into the chain links and will not slide to the center or interfere with the driver's view of the rear. The chain can be taken out easily and put away for another trip.

Carry a piece of reflective tape in the glove compartment of your car. If one of your head lamps burns out, make a cross of tape over the dead lamp until you can get to a repair station. The reflective tape will enable oncoming drivers to tell where you are and may avoid a head-on crash.

When on an extended trip, take your telephone directory along. You will be surprised at how many forgotten addresses it supplies.

County Has No Highway Deaths During June

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated five accidents on rural highways in Collingsworth County during the month of June, according to Sergeant Jack Therwhanger, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and five persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1972 shows a total of 18 accidents resulting in no persons killed, and 11 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Department of Public Safety Region 5 for June, 1972 shows a total of 527 accidents resulting in 20 persons killed and 347 persons injured as compared to June, 1971, with 524 accidents resulting in 10 persons killed and 308 persons injured.

The 20 traffic deaths for the month of June, 1972 occurred in the following counties: Dallam and Lubbock, three each; Archer, Armstrong, Bailey, Childress, Floyd, Hale, Jack, Montague, Parker, Terry, Wichita, Wilbarger, Wise, and Young one each.

The report in surrounding counties includes:

Childress: 11 accidents, one death, 8 injuries.

Cottle: 5 accidents, no deaths, three injuries.

Donley: three accidents, no deaths, 5 injuries.

Gray: 11 accidents, no deaths, 5 injuries.

Hall: four accidents, no deaths, 6 injuries.

Hemphill: three accidents, no deaths, two injuries.

Wheeler: 11 accidents, no deaths, 7 injuries.

Miss Grace Jones of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, visited several days last week with her aunt, Mrs. W.E. Thomas.

Visiting with Mrs. Edith Estes and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Estes over the 4th of July holidays were Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Martin of Ralls.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION on the modern farm and ranch is the message that both Gov. Preston Smith and Texas Farm Bureau Queen Phyllis Shutt of Edna want to spread. Governor Smith signs a proclamation designating July 25-31 as Farm and Ranch Safety Week in Texas as Joe.

L. Smetana, Vice President for Farm and Ranch Activities, Texas Safety Association, exhibits a theme poster for the observance. Miss Shutt demonstrates the need for industrial type hard hats and roll-over protection on farm machinery.

Hog Cholera Gains Foothold On Plains Again

Hog Cholera, once thought eliminated from the High Plains of Texas, has again gained a foothold - this time in the South Plains counties of Dawson, Terry and Mitchell. These three counties are now under state and federal quarantine, and there is a possibility that a block of South Plains counties may be put under quarantine. "This will depend on how widespread this outbreak is," says Dr. Gilbert R. Hollis, area swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. There have been four confirmed cases in Dawson County involving 705 head, four confirmed cases in Mitchell County involving 150 head and one confirmed case in Terry County involving 12 head. All animals involved have been destroyed and either buried or rendered under government-supervision.

The specialist reminds producers that susceptible hogs get cholera by direct contact with infested hogs or with contaminated premises, vehicles, stockyards, and sale barns. Other means of transmission are contaminated boots, clothing and raw garbage. One of the chief reservoirs of the virus is the infected hog. This animal is, in effect, a virus "factory."

Hollis relates that state and federal animal health officials feel that the outbreak on the South Plains may have originated from what is known as the "pregnant sow syndrome." This is where the sow is a carrier of the virus, shows no symptoms of the disease, but transmits it to her pigs upon birth or to other swine. The sow can become a carrier by having been exposed to other contaminated animals or premises.

Sick hogs should be inspected by a veterinarian or a state or federal animal health official emphasizes the specialist. Producers cannot collect indemnities on animals that die from hog cholera unless the animals have previously been inspected.

Remember, if you have sick pigs, "suspect hog cholera first."

Tire inflation pressure should be watched closely as the weather changes. For every 10 degrees variation in temperature, pressure will go up or down approximately one pound.

Farm Accidents Take Heavy Toll in Texas

AUSTIN — Fires, drownings, and machinery and tractor accidents continue to be the major sources of accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches, according to the Texas Safety Association.

Joe L. Smetana, Vice President for Farm and Ranch Activities for the statewide safety group, discussing Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 35-31, said today that accidental deaths took the lives of 203 persons in 1971 in rural areas of the state.

"One of the most surprising factors in last year's accidental deaths is the large number of persons who were killed by fires, explosions and burns," said Smetana.

The TSA Vice President said thirty-five deaths were recorded which were a result of fires, explosions or burns. The safety group spokesman said the figures point up the need for farm and ranch families to provide adequate protection against the dangers of fire.

Other leading causes of accidental death last year on Texas farms and ranches included 29 drownings, 28 accidental shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls, and 17 accidents involving animals.

"These figures on accidental deaths in rural areas of the state during 1971 shows a continuing upward trend of deaths in nearly every category," said

Smetana.

The safety spokesman also turned his attention to the ages of the persons who are being killed in accidents on Texas farms and ranches. He revealed that four age groups have the highest number of accidental deaths. The largest number, according to Smetana, of accidental deaths occurred to persons between the age of 10 to 19 years. Thirty-four persons were killed last year in that age group.

"Another of the apparent high-risk groups are persons between the ages of 60 to 69. Thirty persons in this age group lost their lives in farm and ranch accidents last year," said Smetana.

Twenty-eight persons between 50 and 59 years of age and 25 persons between 70 and 79 years of age lost their lives in accidents in 1971 on farms and ranches, according to the safety group spokesman.

"The great tragedy of these deaths is that none of them have to occur," said Smetana. "Every single one of the 203 persons who died accidentally on Texas farms and ranches last year could have been alive today if they had taken proper precautions, used personal protective equipment, or been prepared for emergencies," he said.

"Twenty-two persons were killed in accidents involving tractors. Most of these accidents were incidents in which the tractor overturned and in which neither roll-over protection devices nor seat belts were in use. The use of these items could have prevented most, if not all, of these deaths," Smetana said.

"Twenty-six persons lost their lives in accidents involving machinery. These too are classed as needless lost lives. In most cases the individual violated some basic safety rule regarding the machine and its operation. Persons responsible for the operation of farm machinery need to make sure that they are familiar with all the details of safe operation. Those who have employees on the farm who run machinery should insure that every person who operates the machine knows its dangers and how to operate it safely," said Smetana.

"Perhaps the greatest of the tragedies are the drownings. Every farmer and rancher in this state should consider it a solemn duty to teach every member of his family how to swim as a first precaution against such an accident. In addition, flotation devices and other live saving equipment should be kept near stock ponds, creeks, swimming holes and other places of water recreation on the farm or ranch. Dangerous water areas should be declared out of bounds and should be fenced off for adequate protection," said the TSA spokesman.

Smetana also had the following suggestions for safer farm and ranch operations.

- * Keep all guards and shields in place when operating machinery or power tools of any kind.
- * Equip your tractor with a protective frame or crush resistant cab.

- * Always fasten your safety belts when driving or riding. Insist that others do the same.

- * Be prepared for emergencies such as fire, flood, blizzard, windstorm, sudden illness or injury. For information on emergency preparedness contact the extension service, civil defense, or other groups. Plan and practice ways of evacuating the house if fire strikes.

- * Install fire extinguishers in buildings, on motor vehicles, tractors, and self-propelled equipment.

- * Applying pesticides and other chemicals, wear gloves and recommended protective clothing and chemical respirators.

- * Keep pesticides in a suitable storage area, inaccessible to small children and animals.
- * Protect small children and others by covering tank openings, and fencing dangerous areas such as manure lagoons and farm ponds. Have flotation aids available at ponds.

- * Check electrical wiring; use proper size fuses.

- * Wear safety shoes, especially for repair and construction jobs, machinery operations and materials handling.

- * Protect your eyes with glasses or goggles with safety lenses.

- * Protect your head with an industrial type "hard" hat or "bump" cap.

- * Spare your hands on rough jobs with heavy gloves. Wear rubber gloves when handling farm chemicals, petroleum products and other solvents. Use good hand lotions to prevent chapping.

"By observing these safety and accident prevention protection rules the average farm and ranch family in Texas can avoid a serious injury or fatal accident," said Smetana.

"This week is Farm and Safety Week in Texas, as proclaimed by Governor Preston Smith. But it will take more than just a week of activity to prevent last year's tragic record from growing again this year. Texas farm and ranch families must strive to put safety to work for them every day of the year," Smetana concluded.

Lone Star Gas Raises Budget For Exploration

DALLAS, TEXAS (July 12, 1972) — In an expanded effort to find additional oil and gas reserves, Lone Star Producing Company will spend more than $29 million in 1972 for its exploration budget, an upward revision of some $13 million, according to W.C. McCord, President of Lone Star Gas Company, parent company of Lone Star Producing Company.

The revised figure covers all exploration costs including seismic, leasing and drilling activities. Most of the total budget will be spent in Texas and Oklahoma where Lone Star has its gas distribution systems. In comparison, Lone Star Producing Co. spent a total of $19 million for exploration in 1971. So far in 1972 the Producing Company has drilled 51 wells in the U.S., more than was drilled for all of 1971. The company projects that another 50 wells will be drilled during the rest of the year.

Stop the Tragedy of Farm Accidents

Life is too precious for even one farm accident. In an industry known for its high accident rate, do your part to eliminate this tragedy.

- * Keep machinery in good repair. Use a crush resistant cab or roll bar on your tractor.
- * Install fire extinguishers in your home, outbuildings and in your vehicles.
- * Apply all chemicals with care. Wear protective clothing if possible. Keep pesticides away from small children. Last year, 203 Texans died in farm accidents. Let's work to keep Collingsworth free of this tragedy in 1972.

Safety Devices Can Save Lives

We deplore the loss of life on highways, yet the farms along these roads are for a fact some of the most dangerous of all places to work.

Last year, 203 persons died in Texas farm accidents and many times that number suffered injuries. The tragedy is compounded because the largest age group to die are the young -- between 10 and 19 years.

Tractors and farm machinery accounted for almost one-fourth of these deaths, 48. Yet roll bars, seat belts and machinery safety devices are readily available. Without them, danger goes with every man who operates farming equipment.

More safety devices used by industry and by auto racers are moving down on the farm . . . Besides roll bars and seat belts, there are fire extinguishers, protective clothing and chemical respirators, safety shoes and goggles and hard hats.

Each year Collingsworth County has several major farm accidents, sometimes fatal, sometimes injurious, but at the very best marked by loss of time and income and health. Besides these, there are the uncounted small accidents that are treated at home.

If the warnings of this Farm Safety Week, July 25 - 31, can lower the farm accident toll, it will be worth many times over any expense that may be incurred.

Other Editors Say . . .

Clean Air

When Congress passed the Clean Air Act of 1970 it was described as a "tough bill" which would insure that "all Americans in all parts of the country shall have clean air to breathe within the 1970's. And it has proved to be a tough bill. Maybe too tough.

Congress has been enthusiastic in putting controls on the automobile manufacturers, for example, and the bureaucrats charged with enforcing the clean air laws have been eager to do so.

It is beginning to look like the standards for auto exhaust emissions are too tough. Not only are the car makers having trouble complying with these regulations, but the car owners are having a time with the cars that do comply.

We have seen legislative changes that have resulted in making our automobiles burn more gasoline, makes them hard to start in the morning, cuts down on their power and causes them to keep running after the ignition is turned off.

The extra fuel the new cars guzzle will eventually contribute to a power shortage which will be just as bad as a lack of clean air.

The 1976 model cars are already on the drawing boards and even without inflation will cost upward of $500 more per car just to meet federal safety standards.

There must be a middle ground, one that will reduce the exhaust fumes put into the atmosphere by automobiles yet will allow them to travel over the streets and highways are something like the efficiency in cars a year or so old.

Industry can be forced to clean up the exhaust they put into the atmosphere. The carbon black plants at Borger are a case in point. There was a time when soot from these plants filled the air, covered Borger residents, and blackened pastures and fields. Now the air is clean. But these plants were given time to do this. It didn't happen in a year or several years. The same approach needs to be given to the automobile industry.

Good Advice

A gentleman farmer in the early days of Hartford asked a veterinarian for advice: "I have a horse that sometimes walks normally and sometimes has a limp. What shall I do?" Replied the veterinarian, "The next time your horse walks normally, sell him."

AUSTIN, Texas--Parks and Wildlife Commissioners presented Texans twin surprises with the announcement of the purchase of beachfront property and a decision to buy the controversial, long-debated Mustang Island property in Nueces County for another beach park.

The Jefferson County purchase of 14,360 acres includes a five and a half mile waterway to the beachfront with a vast saltwater marsh inland. The $2,154,000 purchase lies due south of Port Arthur and stretches from the intracoastal waterway to the Gulf of Mexico.

Palo Duro State Park, in the Panhandle near Canyon and Amarillo, still holds its ranking as biggest of the state parks with 15,103 acres.

The Mustang Island purchase, delayed by court wrangles for nearly two and a half years, if no new stumbling blocks suddenly appear, will cost about $600,000 less than the original $4.2 million asking price of the island property owner, Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi.

The amount of property involved is less than the original 3,965 acres the state was looking at. Seems a survey of the property revealed that the state already owned some of the property. Per acre price, however, remains the same--$1,000.

Announcement of the Mustang purchase came after Parks Commissioners asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin if he was sure he was right when he ruled earlier the state has a legal binding contract with Mrs. Wilson to purchase the property.

Martin agreed to review his own opinion, did, and told Parks Commissioners he was right the first time.

STATE HUNTS "CHOO CHOO" TRAIN--Gov. Preston Smith has asked the U.S. Navy to make available to the State of Texas surplus authentic steam locomotives for use in developing the 33.7 state-owned railroad between Rusk and Palestine in East Texas as a tourist attraction. The Legislature last year said the Parks Department could operate the full gauge railroad as a public recreational facility.

The Parks Department is currently rehabilitating 26 miles of the railroad and hopes to operate public excursion trains using historically authentic steam locomotives.

Smith wrote to Navy officials saying he had been informed several military steam engines have been declared surplus and asked for assistance in acquiring one or two of the "iron horses."

DRUG FUNDS GRANTED STATE--Texas is one of three states selected by the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration to take part in a pilot program designed to stop the flow of legal drugs into illegal channels.

Texas Criminal Justice Council will be funded $333,011 to be subgranted to the Texas Department of Public Safety to operate a diversion investigation unit. Primary goal is to curtail diversion of controlled substances at the retail level. It is estimated by federal officials that half the legitimately produced amphetamines and barbiturates are diverted to the illicit market.

Headquarters will be in Austin, with target cities to be chosen over the state to assure widespread coverage, officials say. Michigan and Mississippi are the other two pilot program states.

FARM/RANCH SAFETY WEEK Fires, drownings and machinery, and tractor accidents continue to be the main sources of accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches, the Texas Safety Association says.

The Association hopes to focus public attention on the continuing upward trend of deaths in nearly every category during Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Week, July 25-31.

TSA spokesman say 35 deaths were recorded last year from fires, explosions or burns on farms and ranches in the state. Other leading causes of accidental death last year on farms and ranches included 29 drownings, 28 accidental shootings, 26 machinery accidents, 22 tractor accidents, 22 falls and 17 accidents involving animals.

VEGETABLE INSPECTION

STUDIED--Importation and exportation of vegetables to other states is being scrutinized by a special House Interim Committee on Vegetable Marketing.

The Committee in a recent hearing heard witnesses complain that vegetable growers in Mexico enjoy tremendous competitive advantage with Texas growers not only because of low labor costs, but because they are not subject to the rigid government regulations restricting use by American growers of many chemical pesticides and herbicides.

MONEY GRANTED FOR ALCOHOL ABUSE-STUDY--Texas is the first state in the nation to be awarded federal funds for prevention, treatment, education and rehabilitation programs to deal with alcohol abuse and alcoholism.

The $1.6 million grant will go to the Texas Commission on Alcoholism which in accordance with new federal law developed and submitted the first state plan for such a program.

The TCA estimates there are 425,000 alcoholic persons in Texas, equivalent to about 3.8 per cent of the state's population.

SHORT SNOTS--

The Texas Animal Health Commission has lifted the hog cholera quarantine from Jim Wells County, but continues to impose the movement ban on hogs in Nueces, Dawson, Terry, and portions of Harris, Bexar, Webb, Mitchell and Nolan counties.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where most of the folks favoring vast fleets of school buses swarming on the streets and highways twice a day believe this is necessary to insure all kids a "quality" education.

But my one-room-school graduate neighbor says the location and grandiosity of the schoolhouse or the color of the schoolhouse or the color of teachers and schoolmates have nothing to do with the quality of education a kid gets.

He claims it is pure common sense that you can't "give" anybody an education, quality or otherwise, unless he wants it and has a place to put it.

D.E. SCOTT
Crossroads, U.S.A.

Accidental deaths on Texas farms and ranches in 1971 took the lives of 203 persons, according to Texas Safety Association. The state safety group says most of these deaths could have been avoided if farmers and ranchers will use personal protective equipment themselves and require all workers to use it too.

Breedings Attend Lions Meet at Mexico City

Mr. and Mrs. W.R. Breeding have returned from Mexico City, where he was a delegate to the annual convention of Lions International.

More than 40,000 Lions from more than 100 nations of the world gathered for the convention, and during the business session, elected a Lion from France as their next International president. Six hundred Texans attended.

Going with Mr. and Mrs. Breeding were Mr. and Mrs. John Cullers of Shamrock. They flew from San Antonio.

One of the high points of the three days of guided tours was their visit to the National University of Mexico which has an enrollment of more than 100,000.

"Twenty-thousand of these are studying to be doctors," Mr. Breeding commented, "and they must make grades of 90 or above to remain."

They also attended a performance of the Ballet Folklorico at the Palace of Fine Arts, and visited the Museum of Anthropology -- one of the showplace museums of the entire world -- and Chapultepec Castle, the pyramids near Mexico City, the markets within this city of seven million habitants, and the Plaza of Three Cultures.

"We went to the Church of the Virgin of Guadalupe, where we saw women walking on their knees across the stone pavements to the church. You have to be humble to do that," the Samnorwood Lion commented.

The Breedings were impressed by the manner in which family groups gathered in the parks and plazas on Saturday nights to sing and listen to music or play guitars and other instruments.

As is traditional with Lions at the International conventions, the members traded Lions pins -- and Buck Breeding is wearing his club jacket 69, each representing a different state in the U.S. or another nation.

Social Security Benefits Go Up October 3

Social Security beneficiaries need not apply for the 20 percent increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1. Amarillo social security district manager Travis C. Briggs said today that all social security beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically.

The increase is effective beginning with payments for the month of September and will be in the check delivered October 3, 1972. The average monthly benefit for a retired worker goes up from $134 to $162; for a retired couple from $224 to about $271. A widowed mother with two children will receive an average social security benefit of about $386, up from $322. For a disabled worker with a wife and one or more children, the new average monthly payment will be about $354, increased from $295. The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over who are not insured for regular social security case benefits will also be increased by 20 percent, from $48.30 to $58.00 for an individual and from $72.50 to $87.00 for a couple. The new law also includes a provision for automatic annual increases in social security benefits as the cost of living rises in the future -- a recommendation made by President Nixon in his 1969 message on social security. Under the law the contribution and benefit base -- the maximum amount of annual earnings that is counted for benefit and contribution purposes -- will rise from the present $9,000 a year to $10,800 in 1973 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, this amount would be adjusted automatically to keep pace with rising wages. This means that as earnings rise workers whose earnings are at or above the level of the maximum earnings base will pay contributions on higher earnings -- but they also will have those additional earnings counted toward the benefits that will be payable to them and their families in the future.

GED Test Is Slated Here On July 29

Area residents who do not have a high school diploma may secure a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) Mrs. Tessie Burba co-ordinator for the Community Action Program, has announced.

Testing for the free GED entrance has started, and all those interested can contact Mrs. Burba.

"We feel we will be able to give the GED test in Wellington on July 29, however, a person must have had the pre-entrance test before they can take the GED test," she explained.

Mrs. Burba pointed out that securing a General Equivalency diploma will enable these students to enter many vocational training schools to which they could not otherwise gain admission.

She cited Licensed Vocational Nursing Schools as one of these.

Three Beauties Seek County FB Queen Title

Three young beauties have stepped into the contestants ring seeking the title of the 1972 Farm Bureau Queen, and only one week remains for others to enter. The entry deadline is Thursday July 27, and the contest itself will be Friday, July 28 at 8 p.m.

This trio includes Sandra Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sullivan of Quail; Jan McGill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam McGill; and Susan Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe.

None of the three has been a Farm Bureau Queen Contestant prior to this year.

Mrs. G.N. Davis, of the county Farm Bureau reminds that all entries must be in by time for the rehearsal on Thursday, July 27, and entry blanks may be picked up at the FB office at the corner of 9th Street and Highway 83.

It is hoped to have several representatives from each of the communities, Mrs. Davis pointed out.

County contestants will wear formal and each girl must make a three-minute original talk, "Why I Am Glad My Family Belongs to Farm Bureau."

The Collingsworth winner will participate in the District I Farm Bureau Queen Contest at Amarillo Friday, August 4, and that winner will be in competition for the state Queen title during the State Farm Bureau Convention at Houston November 12 to 15.

No specific plans have been made for a talent find contest, but Mrs. Davis said that any individual or talent group is eligible to compete on the district level at Amarillo also.

Dennis Lacy is overall Farm Bureau Queen chairman, and he, Ronnie O'Rear and Jerry Scott are on the committee to secure out of town judges.

Mrs. Ratliff Hosts Family and Friends

Visiting last week with Mrs. Ben Ratliff were her sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cook of Ft. Worth.

Other guests during the week end were Mr. and Mrs. T.J. Leathers and daughter, Robin, of Dumas. They were en route to attend the graduation of their older daughter, Judy, from Airline Hostess school in Dallas. She is now with American Air Lines, based in Boston.

Mrs. Leathers is the former Jean Roberson, who was a student of Mrs. Ratliff at Quail.

On Saturday night, July 8, the Cooks and Mrs. Ratliff drove through the rain to attend the production of Texas.

Farm Interests Visiting Children

A California family visited relatives here last week, the first time the four children had been to Texas.

They were Mrs. Louie Freeman and children, Candee, Mark, Cindy and Matt; her sister, Miss Melinda McKimney; and her father, Norman Kemp, all of Hermosa Beach, Calif. They visited Mr. Kemp's aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Long and Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Peters, and with his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Caldwell and children.

Mrs. Raynond McGill, Terri and Jimmy of Amarillo joined them Sunday, July 2.

This was also the first time the children had been on a farm, and they found the cattle, crops and wide open spaces fascinating. Most interesting of all was the lightning produced during thunder storms, which is different from that they know at home.

But the youngest child failed to realize one dream. He had wanted to see a Texas tornado.

Quail News

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens

We received .40 inch of rain Monday night July 17, so the farmers are busy planting over or trying to work out the crop damage by hail July 8. Most of the damage was reported last week.

Quail was without telephone service for four days.

Mrs. Vanna Godwin reported damage to a beautiful, favorite tree on her place. It was a wild hackberry tree. Her father, the late W.W. White, had brought to the ranch home from Buck Creek that ran through his pasture when he came here many years ago. Mrs. Godwin said the tree was at least 65 years old and huge. The wind broke off two limbs that measured 18 inches in diameter. It was located behind her garage and one large limb fell on one side of the building and the other limb on the other side of the garage. The tree measures 6 feet and 6 inches around at the base. The two large limbs had to be moved with a tractor.

All the yards in this community were filled with broken limbs and debris after the storm was over.

Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Stratton (she is the former Donnie Armstrong) of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Annie Roten, the former Annie Clevenger, and Mrs. Albert Armstrong of Ft. Worth were Quail visitors Monday, July 17. They visited the Quail

Mrs. Mary Boyett has been visiting in Watonga, Oklahoma, for some time, in the home of her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Boyett and children. Mr. Boyett came after his mother things last week and moved them to Watonga, where she will stay indefinitely.

FIRST AID

Is Part of Farm Safety

Practice farm safety during Farm Safety Week, July 25-31, and every week. But in spite of precautions, accidents do happen--suddenly.

Prepare for these with First Aid Knowledge and First Aid Supplies. Many of the 2,400 accidental deaths connected with agriculture in 1971 could have been prevented by the prompt application of First Aid.

We have a complete line of First Aid Kits or supplies from which you can make up your own kit. Let us help you prepare for these farm accident emergencies which both of us hope will never happen.

Your Safety

In Using Electricity Is Greenbelt's Concern

You cannot afford to be careless with electricity. Don't try to repair outside lines. For safety sake, ask yourself these questions:

- Are electric circuits equipped with proper fuses?
- Do you cut off current when working on electric equipment?
- Are you using approved commercial electric fence controllers?
- Is the pathway to the main switchbox clear of all obstructions?
- Do you use moisture proof cords for outside and heavy cords for motors and motor-driven appliances?

If you have one or more of these hazards on your farm we urge you to correct them now.

A NEW SYSTEM of semi-symbolic highway traffic signs will soon replace the familiar lettered signs on U.S. highways. Experts in driver psychology say these do not reflect on the common driver's ability to read. They argue that the driver will get the message of the pictographs quicker than when having to read two or three words, as soon as a vast educational program has taught him what the psychedelic symbols mean.

From 7th Street in Wellington to a point 0.2 mile north of Wellington, the proposed construction consists of reconstructing the present pavement with a curb and gutter municipal section, 85 feet back to back of curb, on the existing right of way. From 0.2 mile north of Wellington, north 2.7 miles, the proposed construction consists of widening, reconditioning, and resurfacing the existing road to provide two 13-foot travel lanes and 9-foot paved shoulders on 150 feet minimum right of way. There will be no relocation or displaced persons on the project.

Maps and other drawings showing the proposed location and geometric design, environmental studies and any other information about the proposed project are on file and available for inspection and copying at the Resident Engineer's Office at Wellington, Texas. Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

THE 750 million dollars sale of grain to Russia over a three year period is the biggest grain sale in history. It is also the best news the farmers of the central plains have had in years. In the main the first shipments will be surpluses of wheat and corn, but Russia can also buy grain sorghum, barley and oats if they wish. Whether they do or not the price picture for grain sorghum will be improved when the surpluses of wheat and corn are eliminated.

ON THE other hand Russia can supply the U.S. with raw materials on which we are short such as liquefied natural gas, nickel, copper, chrome and timber. Russia has more land than any other country; but only 15% of it is tillable. They do not produce enough grain nor enough red meat for their people. They can't afford to increase their beef herds without an insured supply of grain. The trade will enable them to expand their beef production.

THIS IS a sound step forward for agriculture and not just another artificial shot in the arm. It could have more far reaching effects than increased prosperity for the two nations and better living conditions for more of their people. It may serve the cause of world peace.

SOMEbody is always trying to fleece the unwary. Now the American Automobile Association is warning against buying bargain cars. These may be new or late model cars that were flooded by Hurricane Agnes. Some of these may be dangerous to drive and all may have a short life. Buy from a dealer you know.

PERRYTON is having trouble with the fly by night termite dealers. The Herald advises its readers to consult a local carpenter or builder before entering into any kind of a contract with out of town termite exterminators, and it published this story of what happened last year.

Last year a termite control company took $1,600 from a local widow in Perryton on the pretext that her house was being eaten up by termites. After the money was paid, and the workers departed, she had a local builder look her home over and he could find no evidence of termites, and very little evidence of treatment supposedly done around the inside of the foundation.

THIS IS the time of the year to vaccinate your horses, especially yearlings, against VEE, Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis; but that is not all. Horse owners should also guard against the old western and eastern type of sleeping sickness in horses.

Safety Equipment Offers Protection

Personal protective equipment can spell the difference between incident and injury for the agri-businessman, according to the Texas Safety Association. TSA says farm and ranch workers should wear safety shoes especially for repair and construction jobs, machinery operations and materials handling. The safety group also says protect your eyes with safety glasses or goggles and your head with a "bump" cap or a "hard" hat.

Myrick to Be Honored at Ag Teachers Meet

AUSTIN, (Spl.) — Rodney Myrick of Wellington is one of 20 teachers of Vocational Agriculture in Texas public schools who will receive 10 year tenure awards at the Annual Association and Texas Education In-Service Meeting of Vocational Agriculture Teachers August 1 to 4 in Fort Worth.

Herman H. Stoner, Sherman, President of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas, Austin, announced the award winners and plans for the upcoming Conference. Stoner stated the 1972 Conference will direct its attention to special needs in agri-business job opportunities as well as the regular production program. Co-operative Part-Time and Pre-Em-ployment Laboratory Training in Vocational Agriculture Career Education, as applicable to Vocational Education, will also be a part of the four-day workshop.

Leaders in agriculture and education from throughout the state and nation will participate in the in-service meeting. Education features of the meeting will be under the direction of the Texas Education Agency, directed by Mr. J.A. Marshall, Director of Agricultural Education. Mr. Marshall and his staff will also be assisted by eleven Texas Education Area Supervisors including Walter Labay, Plainview; Hulan Harris, Big Spring; Billy Lyons, Houston; Ralph Moser, Stephenville; James Roden, Denton; Ira Black, Sulphur Springs; W.H. Pittard, Austin; Durwin Hill, Waco; Jeff Davis, Crockett; Kirk Pettitt, Corpus Christi; Inman White, College Station.

Approximately 1500 agriculture teachers and friends are expected to attend. Hotel headquarters for the meeting will be the Shearton-Fort Worth.

an additional deputy sheriff was approved by the Commissioner's court to strengthen overall law enforcement in the county, Sheriff Rainey explained. Mr. Taylor will work both day and night shifts as needed. Arrangements will also be made for him to attend short courses for law enforcement officers from time to time.

The new officer grew up at Dozier and attended Samnorwood School.

Fr. Pat Burke On Vacation, Fr. Riski Here

On Sunday afternoon, July 23, Father Pat Burke Parish Priest of the Catholic Church here, will take off from Amarillo Air Terminal on the first leg of his 5,000 mile flight home to London, England.

This will be the start of his annual summer vacation, paid for by his family. He expects to return about September 6.

During Father Pat's holiday, the parish will be headed by Father Bruce Riski, formerly of Borger, Perryton and Spur. Father Riski will live at the rectory at 1108 Floydada, and will take care of all the pastoral work in the two-church, two-county parish, which presently numbers over 120 families.

Father Pat expects to visit parts of England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France, and possibly some of his old friends, both Catholic and Protestant, in war-scarred Northern Ireland. In the past three years of visits there, the priest has been stoned and shot-at many times, as he walked or drove through the rubble that once was Ulster.

A much-travelled man, with a lot of flying-time behind him, this will be Father Pat's 30th flight across the Atlantic Ocean. "I enjoy flying," he said, "as long as I can steer clear of hijackers and babies."

Dodson Church Sets Baby Day

The Dodson Church of the Nazarene has announced a Baby Day, to be held Sunday, July 23, at 11:00 a.m.

Pictures will be made of all children under three years of age, and a program is also planned, according to Mrs. Sherrell Bealand.

The public is invited, she said

Prevent Fam Fires Protection Needed

Fires, explosions, and burns claimed the lives of 30 Texas farmers and ranchers, or members of their families in 1971, according to the Texas Safety Association. The statewide organization reminds that one of the agri-businessman's first priorities should be adequate protection against the dangers of fire. Correct faulty wiring, keep neat, orderly, clean workshops, and provide an adequate number of fire extinguishers for family protection.

Mrs. Ben Ratliff and Mrs. Bob McAlister were in Canadian recently to visit the exhibit of Norman Rockwell's painting, "Last Day of School."

Water Deaths Farm Tragedies

The stock pond, the creek, or other water storage areas on Texas farms and ranches are often a place of recreation, but they can also be a scene of tragedy, according to the Texas Safety Association. In 1971, twenty-nine persons died in water-oriented fatalities on Texas farms and ranches. Protect your family from such dangers. Fence off dangerous water areas, have flotation aids available at ponds, and teach every member of your family how to swim, says TSA.

gins carry the mail, alternating on the job. They have been on this star route almost 9 years.

Frank Smith, Jr., was carrier prior to Mr. and Mrs. Scrogins, after the death of Frank Smith, Sr., in 1964. There is one rural route out of the office, also. It is also on week days, serving patrons north and west of Quail.

There are many interesting things about these people who have served as Quail postmaster.

Mrs. Maxwell had 5 children, Kenneth of Wellington, Dean of Childress, Freddy of Vietnam. The girls are Mrs. A.J. Fires of Wellington and Mrs. Earl Shields of Stinnett. All graduated from Quail High School except Mrs. Fires.

Seven decades have passed since the establishment of the Quail post office. There were only a few scattered families in the sandy belt of Collingsworth County until 1900, but people began to settle rapidly after that.

Some of the early settlers saw the need for a post office, and went to work to get one established.

They submitted the name Corraan for the new post office. This was the name of a beautiful young girl of a pioneer family, Mr. and Mrs. W.M. Barton. However, Texas already had a post office by that name. Therefore, Ida Atkinson, Jerry Atkinson, J.E. Blevins, W.M. Barton, Sam Wilson, and possibly another one or two, met in a half dugout. As he reached the door, a couple of quail flew up, almost at his feet. Someone said "Quail" and Quail it has been ever since.

The little feathered quail and prairie chicken were plentiful here then, and all the men present seemed to think it a proper and fitting name for the new town. The Post Office was established in that same half dug-out, located a short distance west of the present office.

At first, twelve families received mail. They were Atkinson, Aaron, King, Wilson, Bound, Rankins, Barton, Blevins, Murry Williams, Burguer, Boyett, and perhaps a few others.

J.E. Blevins received the first letter to be delivered at the office. He gave most of the land to build the town, including several acres for the school and cemetery. Before the office was established, Hyram Barton went to the Hayhurst place on Buck Creek twice a week on horseback to pick up the mail for all the people in the settlement.

The first mail was carried twice a week, from Wellington by Oscar Smith. The settlement grew fast, and by 1904, it was necessary to have mail daily. The Route was changed to Quail, Memphis, and a daily route established.

Sam Alexander was the first mail carrier from Memphis to Quail, carrying mail in a two-seated hack drawn by two horses. He also carried passengers. He was dedicated and faithful to his job and made the rounds in all kinds of weather. His motto was "The Mail Must Go Through," so hot or cold, rain or shine, he seldom missed a trip, arriving on schedule.

There was no bridge across Buck Creek, and when it would rain a lot, and headriders would come down, Mr. Alexander swam his horses across the creek. He lived in Memphis and came to Quail in the morning, arriving about noon.

He would unharness his team and feed them, then eat his dinner; then hook up a fresh team and start the return trip. This was his schedule for many years.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Stephens who wrote this article, was a small child, and remembers that Mr. Alexander left his team at her father's house and had dinner with the family each day.)

The new post office saved the people a lot of distance and time in receiving their mail. One family in the north part of the settlement had travelled to Memphis to get their mail — a three day round trip journey.

struck the Dozier fire hydrant and a power pole. Considerable damage was reported to his car.

Driver of the non-contact vehicle was identified as Mrs. Zola Frances Tate. The accident occurred a little before 7:00 a.m.

Deputy Sheriff Alvin Minatrea assisted in the investigation. Willie Jones was admitted to Collingsworth General Hospital Tuesday, July 11, for treatment of injuries received when the mowing rig which he was operating on the right of way of FM 1056 overturned on a steep embankment. The equipment, which was reported damaged, belonged to M.W. Seymour.

Patrolman Wright investigated the accident while Sheriff John Rainey and Deputy Alvin Minatrea operated the vol unteer ambulance to bring Jones to the hospital. He has now been released.

Patrolman Wright reported that in another accident, Katherine Cooke of Hedley fell from a car driven by Danny Wayne Brooks on Saturday morning. Miss Cooke was admitted to Collingsworth General Hospital and released later in the day.

The second of the Saturday accidents occurred about 10:00 p.m. at the intersection of FM Highways 1036 and 1056 at Abra, involving two vehicles bringing Memphis Boy Scouts home from Camp M.K. Brown.

The highway patrolman said no one was injured in the accident, which involved 9 persons. According to his investigation both vehicles were traveling west on FM 1036 and the accident occurred when the pickup with camper driven by Jay Ed Campbell attempted to pass the small foreign car driven by William N. McQueen, as McQueen began a left turn onto FM 1056. Both drivers are from Memphis.

Deputy Minatrea assisted in the investigation.

Last of the accidents Tuesday morning, July 18, in front of Junior Davis Store on US 83, when Billy Wilson attempted to pass Ernest Harwell as the latter began a left turn, Mr. Wright said. Both men were driving pickups. Neither was injured and damage to the vehicles was light.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Noble Murray last week were their three children, Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge Murray of Camden, New Jersey, Mrs. W.T. Williams of Abilene, and Mrs. Lois Cudd of Big Spring.
