Eliminate House Flies and Prevent Many Summer Ills

Leaving behind it wherever it goes a trail of sickness, suffering and death, the common housefly has made its annual decent upon this community and is at present trying to force its unwelcome presence into every home and business establishment.

Advice received from Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, as to how best to combat this menace to public health among our citizens, states that complete elimination of house flies is imperative because typhoid fever, tuberculosis, summer complaint, cholera, intestinal diseases, and many other serious ailments are spread from person to person by the visit of the housefly.

"The most effective measure for control is to prevent breeding," Dr. Cox said. "Flies breed in filth and the removal and destruction of all waste matter will deprive the fly of a breeding place. One female fly lays from 600 to 1000 eggs during its life time and in a season which begins in spring and runs through into the fall of the year, she and her descendants will number countless thousands.

"Destroy all breeding places for flies," Dr. Cox advised. Manure piles, garbage, and other or anic filth furnish the required warmth and moisture necessary for the propagation of the fly. Inasmuch as they not only breed in filth but frequent such unclean places as open privy pits, it should not be necessary to urge that flies be kept from contact with food, drinks, and kitchen utensils."

The State Health Officer urged that all windows, doors, and porches be screened so that flies and business establishments are protected from their presence. The destruction of breeding places and proper screening can eliminate the danger of the fly in homes and public eating places.

Lt. Cecil Kelly Writes Father From England

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter was received by Mr. W. R. Kelly of this city, from his son, Lt. Cecil R. Kelly in England. Lt. Kelly, made Lamesa his home for many years and has one brother, Rube Kelly, and one sister, Mrs. Hubert Nelson, who reside here.

England
June 22, 1943

My dear Dad,

I have your nice letter of June 12 and it is very much appreciated. You will never know how much your letters and the letters from several others there are appreciated.

You have asked me from time to time about conditions here and what I think about the war situation. If I could tell anyone at all, you would be the first to know. The absolute necessity for observing the rules in this respect are obvious and so we'll let that subject pass and I'll give you as much as I can about things in general. I am of the opinion that the papers I get from home are about as near to being correct as they could safely be. Of course we all feel that you at home are sacrificing more than we would like for you to, and we feel that we are doing too little—but we know also that when the "green light" goes on that the thing won't last much longer. If you could see those boys from home now, you'd be very proud of them. They are all men from the ground up and they'll welcome the sight of the lousy rats across the channel. They hate the Germans as they should be hated and we hope they won't stop us until the job is complete. As I see it now the Axis are going to be hard to beat and we'll need all you can give us—and I mean all. IF we continue to get the same support from home as we have in the past, we'll be O. K.

I don't like your coal strikes and the rest of the boys don't feel so good about it. We would be delighted to trade jobs with them with a "non-strike" clause in our contract. If we could all be at home, we would work for our food and ask no questions. It might be a good idea

All waste fats are wanted, they must be strained, and if there is as much as a pound put it into a tin container with a lid.

Every farm family in Dawson County who has enlisted in all-out food and feed production this year will be awarded a Certificate of Farm War Service by the local USDA war board.

Distribution of the red, white and blue certificates, which has been signed by Secretary of Agriculture, Claude Wickard and Joe M. Peterson chairman of the board, will begin immediately.

"It is a simple word of appreciation and encouragement to the fighting units on the food front, our farm families," the chairman said in explaining the purpose of the certificate.

He pointed out that for three years in a row farm operators and their families have broken all production records, with principal increases in essential food and feed crops.

Although working under handicaps, such as shortage of labor, machinery and transportation, goals of many commodities have been set still higher for 1943 than they were during 1942. Principal Food for Freedom crops in Dawson County are grain sorghum 170,568, peanuts 5,803, soybeans 600, and according to the pledges on individual farm plan sheets these goals will be met this year.

"Every farm and ranch in the nation must produce its share of the national total if we are to win the battle of production on the farm front this year and I believe every producer in our county will contribute his part," Peterson said.

Ration Book 3 Not Good Yet, People Are Told

War Ration Book No. 3 will not be put into use until late in August, the Office of Price Administration announced last Thursday, after receiving reports that some attempts had been made to spend the new coupons now being mailed from Dallas.

The OPA also asked persons who have not received their new ration books not to be alarmed, since 5,000,000 more books are to be mailed to residents of Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma during the next two weeks. Next door neighbors, it was announced, may receive their books weeks apart due to the mailing being done in lots covering large areas.

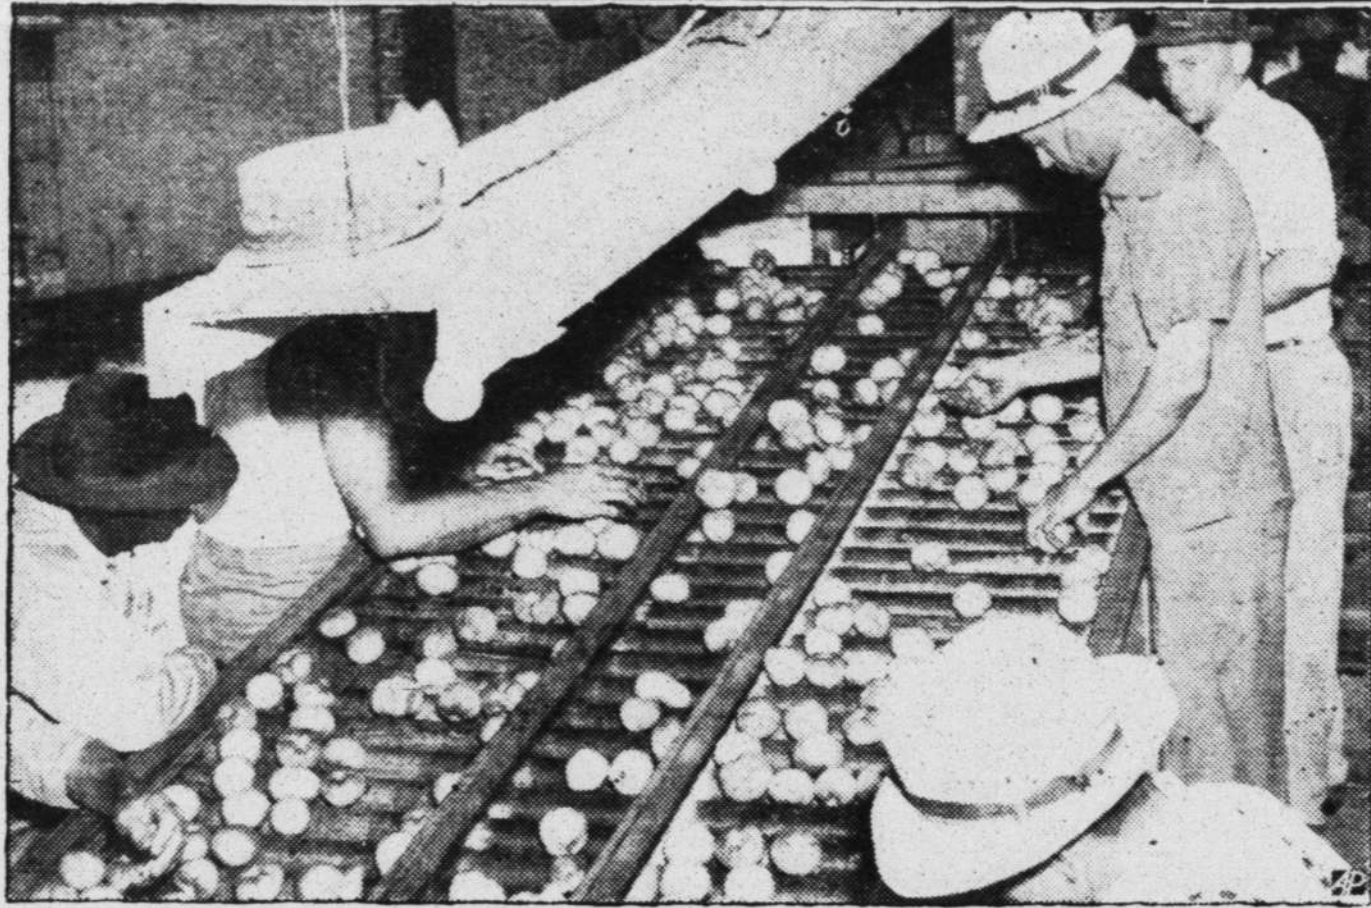

Any person failing to receive the new book should wait until August 1 and then apply to his local War Price and Rationing Board.

Miss Hardin Exchanges Vows With Joe M. Butts Friday Evening At Church

The marriage of Miss Nelle Hardin of Independence, Kansas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rogers of Kansas, to Mr. Joe M. Butts, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Butts, of Ector, Texas, was solemnized Friday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Methodist Church.

The Reverend E. D. Landreth, pastor, read the impressive double ring ceremony while Miss Patsey Jo Rountree played softly "I Love You Truly." An improvised altar of Boston flat fern, roses and shasta daisies decorated the church. Tall white tapers grouped in candelabras lighted the scene. The tapers were lighted by Miss Betty Jean Stanfield, who wore a white pique dress and a corsage of pink carnations, while Miss Rountree played "Indian Love Call."

The pre-nuptial music was given by Miss Patsey Jo Rountree who played several appropriate selections and the traditional wedding marches.

The bride wore a dress of white trimmed with lace and white accessories. Her corsage was of white iris and lilies of the valley.

Miss Earlene Davis, maid of honor wore a two piece pale rose suit and a corsage of blue delphiniums.

Thornton Hughes attended as best man and Delma Cook, usher.

An informal reception was held at the wedding. The serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a three tiered white cake topped with a miniature bride and groom surrounded by fern and bridal wreath. Presiding at the cake during the evening was Mrs. Bill Davis, Miss Earlene Davis and Betty Jean Stanfield presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Butts has for the past several months been sales manager at the Firestone Company in Independence, Kansas. Mr. Butts is employed as a flying instructor at the Lamesa Field. They will make their home at 210 1-2 South First Street.

Housewives Are Urged To Follow Directions Explicitly In Use Of Wartime Jar Caps

Housewives doing home-canning with wartime jar caps are cautioned to following explicitly the instructions of the cap manufacturers if they wish to avoid unhappy experiences and waste in their patriotic effort to conserve. Spoilage of food and breakage of jars is certain to result, if instructions are not followed to the letter.

Proper methods and careful canning will insure excellent results, more important in the present food situation than at any other time.

Requires Careful Use

The glass top seal fruit jar cap, a wartime product developed to conserve metal, requires careful use, according to the home service department of fruit jar manufacturers. This cap consists of a metal band, glass lid and rubber ring. With these three widely varied materials making up its component parts, the cap must be used according to important but easily followed instructions. First of all, the cap is not recommended for and must not be used in oven canning.

If the food is processed (cooked in a jar), one inch of space must be left in the top of the jar when filled, in order to allow room for expansion. If an open kettle is used one-half inch space must be left in the top of the jar.

Apply Band Tightly

The next step is to place the rubber around the projection on the bottom side of the lid, and the lid must then be placed so that the rubber lies between it and the top edge of the jar. All jars on which top seal closures, either glass or metal, are used must have smooth top edges.

The band is then applied tightly and immediately loosened slightly, about one-quarter of a turn. Bands must fit loosely during the processing, or cooking. If an open kettle is used, the bands are to be screwed tight as soon as the jar is filled. After the processing is completed, the bands are screwed tight to complete the seal. The bands may be removed 12 hours after the canning operation. At no time should the filled jars be turned upside down. The housewife who take no chances on variance from any one of these simple but important steps is assured of success and the enjoyment of the delicious flavor of home-canned foods this winter.

Farmers, Certified Cannerys Work for Peak 1943 Vegetable Packs

GUARANTEE FAIR PRICE

PREFERENCE ON LABOR

With American fighting men engaged in action in more and more combat zones, processed vegetables of all kinds are playing an increasingly large part in the food offensive of the United Nations.

To make sure that the armed services and the civilian population will get the greatest possible amount of processed vegetables, the United States Department of Agriculture has launched a production program designed to make maximum use of canning facilities. Through this program, farmers will get price supports by contracting their acreage with certified processors. All canners who indicate their willingness to pay growers at levels not under the price supports and operate to capacity are certified by USDA State War Boards.

County War Boards will aid farmers and canners in contracting the acreage necessary to capacity operation, and in securing labor and transportation for vegetables receiving price supports.

Dear Folks,
How are you getting along? I am just fine and hope you are the same. I am getting mail pretty often now so you can just write more often. I got a letter from Mayme Lee O'Brien here the other day. She writes such a good letter. I enjoy them so much.

Well I haven't got much to write but this will be the last letter that I will get to write for a little so you won't be surprised not to hear from me for two or three weeks.

I'm so mad that I can hardly write this letter. I'm mad at that ol' John L. Lewis, he makes me so mad I could kill him. They ought to put him out and let him just strike all he wants to. Those mine workers ought to be hung too. They get to be at home with their families every night and make darn good wages I think. Of course everything is high there, but they make good money. We don't make as good money as they do. Even if we don't have any place to spend it. They can at least have the night off every night. They can go to the movies or any place they want to. They ought to have to change with some of these boys out here and then they would know how to appreciate such things. As far as I'm concerned, John L. Lewis is a

Courier To Increase Subscription Price, Effective August 1, 1943

The subscription price of the Dawson County Courier will be substantially increased effective August 1, 1943.

The present price of $2.00 a year in Dawson, Lynn, Borden, Gaines and Martin counties will be advanced to $3.00 a year.

The foreign, or out of the trade territory rate, will be increased to $4.00 a year, except in the case of boys in the armed services, which will remain at $3.00 a year.

The bargain price of $3.00 for two years will be discontinued immediately, effective July 1, 1943.

The increased cost of newsprint and advances all along the line are responsible for the increased rates.

The Courier believes that it is more important to keep up the quality of the product, rather than let decay set in, due to lack of revenue.

Courier subscribers are urged to take advantage of the present low prices, before the increase in price becomes effective, August 1, 1943.

Invasion Of Isle Is Crucial Period

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

As the first smoke of the great battle of Sicily begins to lift we can see that what really matters is that at long last the Allies have flung themselves boldly into what Commander-in-Chief Eisenhower describes as "the first stage in the liberation of the European continent" — an objective which the tense Germans Saturday morning characterized as the biggest enterprise in history.

Sicily is the first stride in our new seven league boots. Beyond that craggy island lie vast reaches of strongly held enemy territory. History records nothing like the amphibious operations which we must carry out in order to achieve our goal.

Make Grand Opening

The invasion which was inaugurated in the early hours Saturday, when finely trained American-Canadian - British troops stormed their way onto the rocky shores of Sicily in the face of blazing resistance, mark the grand opening of the crucial period of the Hitlerian conflict. A few weeks from now we may know pretty well how long it's going to take to smash the Nazi Fuehrer.

Mind you, we shouldn't jump to the conclusion that the Allies are going to race from Sicily to the bigger phases immediately. There may be some other tidying up operations among the Mediterranean islands first. We aren't likely to clamber aboard the continent tomorrow.

Still, the conquest of powerfully held Sicily will in itself be a major triumph. This is a moment of exultation, though I think we shouldn't let this make us overlook that our joy is likely to be tempered with some tears. This job is going to be costly you know.

Encounter Heavy Resistance

General Eisenhower told a press conference in north Africa in June that the Allies might be "riding for a bloody nose," but he thought the job could be done. Early reports today indicated that the invasion forces were encountering heavy resistance.

Sicily had been surrounded by mine fields, submarines lurked all about it, and strong coastal batteries had been set up to meet the impending invasion. Friday night heavy German and Italian reinforcements were rushed from the mainland to the island. It was no boy's job which the Allied men tackled as they raced ashore from their barges and clambered over the terrorizing barbed wire in the face of heavy fire.

Forces Well Prepared

Still, they are as fit and well prepared for their bloody task as any men could be. Many of them—perhaps all—are either commando trained or have undergone a similar fierce preparation over a long period. The Canadians, for instance, have been undergoing intensive training for invasion for three years.

One of the most important lessons which thus far have come to us from this offensive is that air power can indeed render large areas of heavily fortified territory sufficiently impotent so that amphibious operations can be carried out. Such landing of troops and equipment from the sea is perhaps the most difficult of all military operations.

Isn't Child's Play

We have many of these bloody landings ahead of us before we beat the Boche. We have no foothold on the continent at all, excepting through the Russians in the east. The last World war was child's play compared with this.

And so it's grand to find that British Prime Minister Churchill was right when he said the experiment of trying to knock the enemy out by bombing was worth while. We can see now that air power is going to open up the continent to us.

All this is said, of course, without forgetting that the battle of Sicily is still young as this is written. We have to win this engagement before we can go ahead with others.

Youth Is Running Wild, Says J. E. Hoover FBI Head

Editors Note: The following article, written by J. Edgar Hoover, was taken from the magazine section of the Dallas News and was submitted to the Courier by V. O. Key.

This country is in deadly peril. We can win this war, and still lose freedom for all in America. For a creeping rot of moral disintegration is eating into our nation.

I am not easily shocked nor easily alarmed. But today, like thousands of others, I am both shocked and alarmed. The arrests of 'teenage boys and girls, all over the country, are staggering. Some of the crimes youngsters are committing are almost unspeakable. Prostitution, murder, rape. These are ugly words. But it is an ugly situation. If we are to correct it, we must face it.

You read, in the news columns, of the most flagrant cases. The sordid movie-theater gang-assault in New York. The vicious railroad-track murder in Houston. The tragic case of the 16-year-old boy in Michigan who killed his little sister after unmentionable cruelties.

These are not isolated horrors from another world. They are danger signals which every parent—every responsible American should heed. These are symptoms — of a condition which threatens to develop a new "lost generation," more hopelessly lost than any that has gone before.

Consider: In the last year, 17 per cent more boys under 21 were arrested for assault than the year before, 26 per cent more for disorderly conduct, 30 per cent more for drunkenness, 10 per cent more for rape. And that despite the fact that many of this age group had already gone to war or were productively employed. For girls, the figures are even more startling: 39 per cent more for drunkenness, 64 per cent more for prostitution, 69 per cent more for disorderly conduct, 124 per cent more for vagrancy.

And these were only the ones who were arrested — the advanced cases.

Lt. Roy E. Speck Receives Promotion

Lt. Mrs. Smith Leave Sunday for California

Lt. Robert H. Smith, accompanied by Mrs. Smith left Sunday night for Los Angeles, California, where they will visit with his father for several days and go from there to his new assignment at Spokane, Washington.

Saturday Lt. Smith flew to Stephenville to visit friends, and to be present at a special bond selling rally in his honor.

Home Supervisor Has Local Demonstration

Demonstrations were given at the Lamesa Farm Labor Supply Unit Monday at 2 o'clock, by Miss Ruth Magee, F. S. A., Home Supervisor. Miss Magee will give supervision on the canning and drying of fruits and vegetables.

"The knowledge of correct canning is essential during these days of rationing," she states. Other demonstrations will follow at a later date, but by request Miss Magee has had to post a few. Many of the workers who wish to attend these meetings are busy in the fields and are unable to come at present.

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

The Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded Staff Sgt. Doyle Kimmerly of Huntington, Texas, for manning a sub-machine gun and returning the fire of low-flying enemy planes during the Jap attack on Hickam Field. When his ammunition was gone he ran from the cover of his truck to get more, and kept firing until the truck was bombed. He showed bravery beyond the call of duty. Figure out for yourself how much you can invest in War Savings beyond what you are doing now.

Motorist Must Display Sticker On Windshield

Indications are that a great number of motor vehicle owners are delinquent in purchase of Federal Use Stamps for the year beginning July 1, 1943. Internal Revenue regulations impose a penalty for the use of any motor vehicle without proper display of the Use Stamp. The penalty is a $25.00 fine or thirty days in jail or both.

At an early date Deputy Collectors of Internal Revenue will make a systematic check of all motor vehicles in each county, and all car owners without stamps properly displayed will be summoned to appear, and give explanation as to their failure to do so.

No doubt many car owners have purchased the stamps but have failed to affix them to the motor vehicle. In such cases they will be required to appear, and give explanation as to why the stamps was not properly displayed, and furnish proof that the stamp was properly purchased. Car owners are also urged to fill in the places on the reverse side of the stamp so as to make it readily identifiable in case of theft or loss. It is also urged that the serial number on the front of the stamp be placed upon the front of the Gasoline Rationing Book or some other record be made in order that in case of loss of the stamp a certificate may be made by the motor vehicle owner that the stamp was purchased. This certificate requires information as to the serial number shown on the stamp.

Since all funds collected from the sale of the stamps go directly to the Treasury Department for use in the war effort, it is just as unpatriotic for a car owner to fail or refuse to buy the Use Stamp as it is to fail or refuse to pay income tax.

All owners of cars, trucks, motorcycles, and motorbikes are therefore urged to buy the Use Stamp at once if they have not already done so, to avoid additional penalties and difficulty. Stamps are on sale at your local post office.

Smith Family Proud of Hero Whose Crew Made Record

June 24 issue of the Consolidated News, official weekly publication of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation at San Diego, carried a picture of Smith's father, brother, and sister, looking at a picture of Lt. Robert H. Smith. Also printed in the News was the article that follows:

Doubtless Convair's proudest family this week is the E. M. Smith family—E. M. himself, who is in Dept. 11, son Riley, Dept. 272, and daughter, Mrs. Wilda Jolly, Dept. 97.

Their pride arises from the fact that Lt. Smith, another of E. M.'s sons, and brother to Riley and Mrs. Jolly, was pilot of the four engined bomber (It was a Flying Fortress) whose crew shot down a new record bag of Nazi fighter planes in a sweep over Wilhelmshaven recently. On that one mission they accounted for 11 enemy craft.

While Lt. Smith held "The Flying Circus" as their plane was dubbed, on her course, ignoring machine gun blasts and explosive shells every one of his crew members popped at least one Nazi fighter. Finally, crippled badly, "The Flying Circus" plunged into the North Sea. But all aboard were saved by a British ship.

"Before Bob went to the four-engine school," brother Riley explains, "he hoped to fly a Liberator, which he considers a "honey" of a ship and which the family is helping to build. It so happens, though, he drew a Flying Fortress."

"We want to get as many Liberators as possible off the assembly line to assist him and his buddies in giving the knockout to the Axis."

The Smiths came here from Lamesa, Texas, where the senior Smith was in farming. He and Riley have been with Convair 20 months.

Mrs. Jolly has been here a little over a month. Still another—Hoyt—is in a sense working for Convair. He fabricates sub-assemblies at Rohr Aircraft, which sub-contracts power plant installations for our big bombers. Still another brother, Earnest Smith, though only 18, is but waiting until his high school

Public Urged To Help Prevent Paralysis Spread

With the current incidence of poliomyelitis in Texas being somewhat over the seven-year median. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, is urging the public to cooperate in helping to prevent the spread of this crippling disease.

"Children should not visit homes where poliomyelitis or symptoms of this disease are present. Promptness in diagnosing poliomyelitis is one of the most important factors in its control," Dr. Cox declared.

"Direct contact between persons is the chief factor in the spread of infantile paralysis and since carriers are difficult to determine, it is advisable to reduce to a minimum all human contacts during any outbreaks of this disease."

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that a rigid program of sanitation is advisable since it has been suspected that flies and other seasonal insects may convey the virus or germ of poliomyelitis. He added that insect transmission has not been scientifically demonstrated but pointed out that sanitation is always advisable in controlling disease and that filth is likely to prove dangerous.

Pfc. Wayne Morris Tells Of Meeting Friends Overseas

Pfc. Wayne Morris, a Marine is here visiting with his grandmother Mrs. Holly Wood, and other relatives. Wayne has recently returned from the South Seas, where he has been for the past two years and two months.

He earned two stars while on Guadalcanal, having engaged in two major battles. He also served in American Samoa for nine months and on New Hebrides Islands. It's hard for Wayne to understand why anyone looks upon the South Sea Islands as something romantic, for he says "The South Seas are not all they're cracked up to be."

While over seas, Pfc. Morris saw several old acquaintances, among them "Junior" Ragan, whom he met in New Zealand. The biggest thrill he had while in overseas duty was running into "Shacky" Echols in the South Seas; and while in San Diego he saw Henry Marshall Bennett. Wayne was adopted into a native family in New Zealand but was only slightly impressed.

Dawson-Martin Farmers Meet Discuss Soil

Farmers near the Dawson-Martin County line met at the home of S. N. Teague Friday afternoon, July 2. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss pooling their efforts toward soil and moisture conservation in that watershed.

Eight neighbors were present at the meeting which was called to order by Earl Heald, member of the board of supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, and local farmers in that community. The problem of soil and moisture conservation was discussed and it was concluded that this problem could be handled more effectively if the watershed was planned and treated as one farm.

Such community action is in line with the policy of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District to give priority in assistance to groups who are attacking the conservation problem together.

Applications in this watershed for technical assistance from the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District totaling 4,705 acres were received by Earl Heald. These applications were approved for planning at the regular monthly meeting of the District Supervisors Tuesday, July 6.

Neighbors of Teague, who met at his house were Charles Koehler, H. G. Bearden, B. R. Teague, J. B. McNew, N. B. Teague, C. C. Pointer, G. W. Teague, and Earl Heald.
