

Junta Reigns In Venezuela

By PHILIP CLARKE

CARACAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—A cabinet pledged to democratic ideals took over the reins in oil-rich Venezuela today under sponsorship of a revolutionary junta which stamped out all important resistance to its coup d'etat in a tumultuous week-end of armed conflict.

Respected Romulo Betancourt, 37, a former newspaper columnist, assumed the dual role of president and minister of the interior with a pledge that his government had assumed power only to provide Venezuela with "free, direct universal suffrage by secret ballot."

Betancourt promised that Venezuela would take an energetic part in preserving hemispheric unity. "We want to be good neighbors not only on Pan-American Day, with flowery words and phrases, but in deeds as well," he said.

The new president, a one-time communist who later denounced the party, announced that his government would respect the rights of foreigners and their investments.

He installed a cabinet dominated by the Democratic Action Party, which is considered left of center. The last major opposition to the new regime ended yesterday as the Andean states of Tachira, Merida and Trujillo swung over to the rebels. Resistance also ceased in the mountainous state of Zulia, whose oil fields are the basis of Venezuela's economic life. Fighting ceased when the government announced it was not opposed to the Andinos, a western military clique which has dominated national politics for a century.

A small force loyal to deposed President Ismael Medina Y Angarita still held out in the southeastern section of Caracas but junta leaders predicted its speedy liquidation.

Ruiz Pineda also announced that the new government had abolished press censorship for the first time in Venezuela's modern history, started reorganization of the police force, and would begin preparation of a new election law.

He said the national assembly would draft a new constitution to provide a universal secret ballot and would meet in April to set a date for a general election.

Ellender Would Sidetrack Labor Legislation Now

Other Moves Show Tendency To Help Out In Crisis

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A suggestion that congress sidetrack all labor legislation for six months and let labor and industry "shake down" into a postwar relationship came today from Senator Ellender (D-La.).

"They ought to be able to adjust their problems themselves," he told reporters.

But, elsewhere in Washington, there were moves to extend a hand in helping establishing labor-management relations for reconstruction.

1. President Truman has promised a statement on the wage-price issue. It may come from the White House today. Mr. Truman was reported ready to advocate collective bargaining, rather than government controls, for settling disputes. He may also elaborate on his policy of allowing wage increases within the existing price framework.

2. Rep. Ramspeck (D-Ga.) suggested a new plan to ease labor disputes. He proposed in an interview legislation to bar strikes during set periods for collective bargaining and, where bargaining failed, for the framing of recommended settlements by fact-finding boards.

The house has heard demands, too, that repeal be accompanied by enactment of a new anti-strike law with "bulldozing teeth" as Rep. Arendes (R-Ill.) phrased it. The house military committee has completed hearings on a repeal of the Smith Connally anti-strike act and likely will approve it soon.

In the senate, leaders have counseled against bringing up any labor relations measures until after President Truman's prospective labor-management conference, scheduled for Nov. 5.

Auto Disputants Appeal To Public

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (AP)—With only two days remaining before the start of strike votes in the "big three" auto plants, management and union officials appeared today to be aiming their wage arguments more at the public than at each other in over-the-table negotiations.

Negotiating sessions continued to be sporadic and brief but, through the press, General Motors Corp. contended price increases must go hand-in-hand with wage increases and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) accused the corporation of repeating its "plea of poverty."

Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO vice president, said General Motors could meet the 30 per cent pay boost demanded by the union and still cut "at least $100 from the price of Chevrolets and at the same time earn for its stockholders at least 100 million dollars more than the pre-war 1936-38 average of 180 million dollars."

Reuther said that when negotiations are resumed this week after adjournment since a short session Friday the union will ask for a three-way split of the corporation's "assured postwar profits" among workers, consumers and investors.

Union President R. J. Thomas meanwhile asked the OPA to make public its pricing formula, asserting that 1942 car prices were set "to allow high profits on a low volume" and would be "more than sufficient to allow for satisfactory wage rates, stabilized prices and comfortable dividends to the stockholders."

C. E. Wilson, president of the corporation whose more than 300,000 employees will decide Wednesday whether to authorize a strike, proposed Saturday that a 45-hour work week be adopted throughout the country, with a five to eight per cent general wage rate increase.

The wage demand is the principal issue in dispute at all big three plants. Balloting under the Smith-Connally act is scheduled to be held Thursday among more than 80,000 Chrysler Corp. employees and Nov. 7 among 109,000 Ford Motor Co. workers.

A Separation Point at the Big Spring Bombardier School has been established primarily to prevent the accumulation of a backlog of persons waiting for accommodations at other separation centers, according to a statement issued recently in EM, weekly publication of the field.

Personnel will continue to be dispatched to discharge depots near their homes, the EM story stated, but the local installation will do its part in helping speed up the already accelerated discharge program of the Army Air Forces.

A quota calling for the release of 40 officers and a dozen enlisted personnel reached the station this week. Their departure would leave but a small number of persons eligible for release at the field.

Capt. Michael Hoerger, BSAF's Personnel Officer, attended a separation information conference at Randolph Field last week.

Election Oks De Gaulle Plan

PARIS, Oct. 22 (AP)—France's first general election in nine years placed an almost unqualified stamp of approval today on Gen. De Gaulle's plans to found a fourth republic on a new constitution drafted by the people's chosen representatives.

Figures announced by the ministry of the interior this morning, 12 hours after the closing of the polls, showed that De Gaulle had won an overwhelming victory in a two-pronged election which decided that:

(1)—A constituent assembly—designated at yesterday's election—will draft a new constitution rather than attempt to rebuild the government on the 1875 document which was the foundation of the third republic.

(2)—The executive power will be vested in a provisional government during the seven months the assembly sits rather than in the assembly itself.

Official results from 84 of France's 92 departments:

In favor of a new constitution, 13,887,082; opposed, 554,750.

In favor of an interim government, 9,582,210; opposed, 4,841,249.

The question of writing a new constitution was supported by all political parties, but the communists—aided by the radical-socialists—had opposed De Gaulle on the interim government issue.

Victory Chest Gains Momentum Monday

Howard County's Victory Chest campaign was picking up momentum Monday with the total turned in now up to $7,492.60 or about one-fourth of the total goal.

R. R. McEwen, general chairman, said that those contacted to date had been, generally speaking, generous with their contributions. He urged workers to complete their contacts as quickly as possible so that status of the campaign could be ascertained with a greater degree of accuracy.

The chairman stressed the need for complete contacts and for representative giving, pointing out that the drive must show more power in order to insure support of a $12,000 budget for the local agencies—the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Salvation Army.

CHUNGKING, Oct. 22 (AP)—Gov. Ho Tsu-Yuan, of the strategic maritime province of Shantung, appealed to the central government and the communists here today to stop what he said was a civil war raging in his territory.

The Shantung governor charged that the communists were challenging the movement of central government troops northward along the Tientsin-Peiping railroad to establish a thorough corridor to Tientsin and Peiping from Nanjing.

He estimated that the communists controlled two-thirds of Shantung province.

Dock Leader Warns Britain Of National Strike Threatening

LONDON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Tom Powell, unofficial leader of Britain's dock strikers, threatened the government with a general strike today as the country's most critical dock walkout in 20 years spread to new piers.

"I am warning the government that, if they do not face up to the present national crisis, within a few months they will be faced with a worse national disaster—a worse national strike—than there was in 1926," Powell declared.

"Bringing thousands of soldiers into this industry while strikers' wives and children are starving is no solution," he said. "This is no way to build a beautiful Britain or bring about social security."

The total of soldier dock workers rose to 10,000 as another 3,100 troops were called out to unload critically needed supplies. The number of strikers reached 41,000 when 1,300 dockers walked out at three London piers.

Members of the strike committee said they would go to commons today or tomorrow to lobby with members of parliament and "make inquiries into this soldier situation."

Meanwhile, food stocks dwindled throughout strictly rationed Britain, as 35 ships, most of them bearing good, awaited unloading in the London area alone.

Marital Mixup—

Missing Sergeant, Remarried Bride Reunited At Last

DENVER, Oct. 22 (AP)—The sergeant who was believed dead and his 19-year-old wife who had a mixup marriage annulled were happily reunited and planning today to return soon to their Kansas City home.

"Everything is all right," said Sgt. Gene Birdwell, who was found alive in a Japanese prison camp 12 days after his wife, thinking he was dead, married his uncle at Wichita, Kas. The uncle was Jack Marshall. That marriage was annulled.

The soldier and his wife, Ann, affectionately met again at the railroad station Saturday night when she arrived to be with him while he gets a checkup at Fitzsimons General hospital. Yesterday he had a one-day pass. They immediately went into seclusion.

"They'll go to Kansas City as soon as he gets his 90-day leave. Although he expressed dismay when he first learned of his wife's second marriage, the reunion brought kisses and smiles. 'It's all right now,' the sergeant said. Birdwell, an aerial gunner, had been reported killed in action.

The Nation Today—Public Benefits By Government Seizure Of Strikebound Plants

By STERLING F. GREEN
(Substituting for James Marlow)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Which side—labor or management—benefits when the government takes over a strikebound plant or property?
The answer probably depends on the viewpoint. The government's aim has been—simply to restore vital production and services for the purpose of winning the war and—now—insuring the peace.
The public benefits through the restoration of employment, the avoidance of picket line violence and continued contribution to the industrial machine.
But seizure in itself neither settles the labor dispute nor is meant to give either party an advantage which it did not enjoy before—although in some cases settlement has been reached by negotiation while the plant was in government hands.
Under the law the government must operate the properties it takes over under the "terms and conditions" which were in effect when the seizure was ordered.
In cases where defiance of a War Labor Board order is involved, the wage increases or other adjustments ordered by WLB are put into effect by the army, navy or other operating agency.
Of if the WLB orders a change in the "terms and conditions" after the seizure has taken place, they are enforced. But they last only while the government has control.
In many cases, seizure just postpones the crisis.
Early in the war labor unions generally welcomed federal seizure on the theory that it put pressure on employers by depriving them of the right to run their properties.
By the time the war was over many unions had changed their view. They got few concessions from the army or navy, and their progress toward better pay or greater security was stalled while the government was in charge. In some cases they lost ground, in solidarity or membership.

Cathey Expecting All Types Farm Equipment

Farmers in the Big Spring area were informed this week that tractors and other farm equipment are beginning to trickle back onto the machinery market. O. W. Cathey of the Cathey Implement company said.

However, he warned that the number of machines received will be very small for sometime due to holdups as the result of strikes at factories.

The new equipment will be improved over the models offered before the war, and will be 1946 models, but Cathey said that as yet he had received no information as to improvements and new features.

At the present time Cathey's is receiving a few drills, but they arrive in such small numbers and so seldom that they are sold before they arrive.

Cathey's is the agent for Oliver 70 tractors and all equipment including planters and cultivators. He expects that some of the equipment will arrive by the first of the month.

Despite the fact that equipment shortages are still confronting the farmer, Cathey's is able to offer the best in repair service, and can keep that old machinery which performed so capably during the war years going until the situation really eases up. Farmers discovered during the war that if their old equipment could be repaired, Cathey's mechanical department could do it.

Cathey has been in business in Big Spring for 12 years, and during that time has offered the best of equipment in the Oliver line,

Nabors Building Big Little Paint Store

Before too long, Big Spring Paint and Paper Company hopes to become the biggest little paint and paper store in this community. Already it has a very complete line of available products of the Pittsburgh brand but as soon as possible the hard-to-get commodities will also be on their shelves.

Things sold now, across the counter of the store, mostly include wallpaper, glass and minor paints. Good materials, which haven't been available for quite some time, such as an excellent quality of enamel, known for durability, are expected off the production line. Paints of green, red, blues and other prominent colors will be released during the next 60 days since the government no longer needs these colors for camouflage.

O. L. Nabors is the owner of the Big Spring Paint and Paper company and is assisted in his business by his brother, Cecil Nabors. They offer to their customers the solving of any paint problem which may confront them in interior decorating, papering, color schemes and later on, they will be able to give better service with better materials to back them up.

Nabors believes that linoleum should be available by the first of the year in multiple patterns. Big Spring Paint and Paper company plans to carry a full line of painters equipment such as ladders, running boards, paint brushes and paper hangers' brushes.

A delivery service for their customers is maintained full time now, Nabors said. He says any products ordered will be delivered anywhere in town by calling 1181.

By the first of the year, Nabors hopes for a more completely stocked store and everything a paint company should handle, may be obtained at 120 Main.

Fritz And Karl Will Learn To Tell Taxi

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. (AP)—Two German prisoners of war, Fritz Bueckner and Karl Henglein, beckoned a cruising police car and in broken English asked for a ride.

Questioning developed that they had crawled under a work camp fence six hours earlier, crossed town and visited friends at another POW camp.

They were en route back to their own camp, the two said, explaining they stopped the police car because "we thought it was a taxi."

Military police taxed them back.

Victims Of Purdue, Bucks Must Now Face Minnesota

They're Making A Few Alterations In Adolf Hitler's Suds Parlor

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The once-famous Hitler beer hall in Munich is being converted into a basketball court for company "A" of the 269th Engineering Battalion. It's just one of several gyms that G.I. athletes are getting ready for the cage season in Germany, which already has begun with a few trial games on makeshift floors. The only drawback is that the players all will be low-point men. For basketball you want guys who score high points.

Al Drulis, Chicago Cardinals' fullback, froze both his feet battling in the Bulge last winter. After the Cards knocked off the Bears last week, with Drulis in the star role, Coach Hunk Anderson of the Bears told Boss Ralph

When Joe Louis signed last week for that fight with Billy Conn it was the first time in boxing history that a heavyweight champion had put his name on a contract for a title defense without having a manager on hand. Bob Neyland, former Tennessee coach, said: "I am looking forward to some very good football in the south in the next few years and I also am looking forward to some of it being played for me."

Alabama Crimson Tide Encounters Georgia Eleven

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Despite their fall from the unbeaten ranks, Ohio State's Buckeyes and Georgia's Bulldogs will command plenty of attention Saturday when they oppose all-conquering Minnesota and Alabama in two of the best games on the weekend program.

Ohio State's 35-13 defeat by Purdue Saturday was the biggest upset of the season. The Buckeyes didn't even score until the final period as the Boilermakers' front line gave Ohio's star backs, Paul Sarringhaus and Dick Fisher, a rugged afternoon.

The Buckeyes, who ran up 12 straight victories over a two-year span until they met Purdue, appear in for another licking from Minnesota. Bernie Bierman's Gophers surprised a homecoming throng of 56,000 at Minneapolis by taking to the air to wallop Northwestern 30-7.

Georgia's 32-0 trouncing by Louisiana State was almost as stunning as Ohio State's loss. The Bulldogs had Charley Trippi back in action but the army veteran couldn't move against a stubborn Tiger line. L. S. U. had been beaten 26-7 by Alabama and the Crimson Tide's stock rose sharply. On its own hook, Alabama handed Tennessee its first defeat of the campaign by a 25-7 count. Harry Gilmer again was Alabama's big gun as he completed 12 of 20 passes for 150 yards.

Maryland was the only major undefeated college team to topple Virginia Tech staging the 21-13 surprise party.

The nation's top trio, Army, Navy and Notre Dame, maintained their forward march. Other all-winning teams and their Saturday's victims included: East—Columbia, 31-7 over Colgate; Holy Cross, 25-0 over Brown; Temple, 28-12 over West Virginia Friday night.

South—Mississippi State, 16-6 over the Eastern Flying Training Center Eagles. (Virginia was idle.) Midwest—Indiana, 52-25 over Iowa; Tulsa, 40-0 over Nevada; Oklahoma A. & M., 46-6 over Utah.

Southwest—Texas, 34-7 over Arkansas.

Far West—St. Mary's, 58-0 over McClellan Field.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With ANGUS LECESTER

Back for a visit in Big Spring last week were Pat Patton, popular catcher for the Cossden Oilers in other years, and his equally popular son, Clifton Patton.

Pat is at present a gentleman farmer around Abilene, his 250-pound, good looking son a soldier currently stationed at Fort Ord, Calif.

The gigantic Patton scion hied himself to Fort Worth shortly after coming to Texas on furlough, there had a long conference with TCU's Dutch Meyer, who wants to get the lad back in school when he effects his release from the service.

Cliff, now every inch a man, has two years of college eligibility left—if he wants to take it. Not only Meyer but every mentor in the Southwest conference would like having him, for the ex-Big Spring high lineman could rate serious consideration for an all-American berth.

Young Pat is thinking seriously of deserting the college ranks, however, and accepting a contract proffered him by Bill Cox of the Brooklyn Tigers, a National professional league entry.

Were he minded to follow the business, Cliff might go a long way in pro baseball. He caught most of the games for the Fort Ord team last season, has been at home behind the plate ever since he was old enough to don the "tools of ignorance."

The Ord nine this year, incidentally, was comprised mostly of prominent pros and met some of the best service clubs in these United States.

The appearance of the Fourth Air Force football team in Fort Worth yesterday recalls to the mind of the writer the performance of one of its stars, Forrest Hall, in the East-West classic in San Francisco last New Year's Day, which we were privileged to see.

The nation's press, suffering as always from affections and prejudices but never from aphasia, had long been beating the tubs over the scheduled appearance of two celebrated stars from the East, Ohio State's Les Horvath and Bob Kelly of Notre Dame.

In fact, from the laudatory buildup of the two invincibles, one would have thought that Christ was to make his reappearance on that appointed day.

When the West won, 13-7, and 62,000 onlookers learned that Horvath and Kelly were little better than the ordinary run-of-the-mill grinder one can see on most any college team on most any Autumn Saturday, the blatant scribes thereon and without breaking stride concentrated on the palatable task of selling a sure-fire project, the world-shaking performance of one of its own sectional prides.

He was Bob Waterfield, who always was good copy on the West Coast because he had been a UCLA sophomore star and, too, was wedded to a movie queen.

Waterfield was good, true enough. At his specialty—kicking—he was, in fact, amazing. But he was not the ball of fire field the press built him up to be.

Best man in Kezar stadium that day was the omnipresent Duquesne product, Hall. The Horvaths, the Kellys and the Waterfields were not in his class. It was the little Pennsylvania speedster who came through for the West when the chips were down in the fourth quarter.

The East, under Coaches Andy Kerr and Bernie Bierman, had a great forward wall, led by Notre Dame's Frank Szymanski, in action and for the better part of three periods the West attack had been stymied. Once Hall and all his 150 pounds started banging away, they could set up no defense to cope with him.

Washington State's Bob Kennedy apparently took all the steam out of the West drive midway in the fourth period when he fumbled down inside the East's ten-yard stripe and the East recovered. The attending fandum was soon to learn the West was not quite ready to throw in the towel.

Longhorns Move On Fort Worth This Week

North Side's Steers of Fort Worth were debited with their first loss of the 1945 campaign last Saturday night when they fell victims to the Amon Carter Riverside contingent in a District 7-AA football clash but they still rule as favorites over Big Spring this week.

The two clubs tangle Friday night in Fort Worth. The North Siders took a 6-0 reversal at the hands of the Riverside eleven. Previously, their big line had not permitted a touchdown in four games. The Tarrant county bunch had rolled over Graham, 6-0; Sherman, 13-0; Gainesville, 6-2; and Fort Worth Tech, 14-0.

Offensively, the Big Springers still appear weak and Coach John Dibrell may have his charges going the overhead route in the quest for victory.

Dibrell's charges completed only one pass in nine tries against Midland last week, and that for no gain, but Bob Hardy and Horace Rankin can show to better advantage.

After the Fort Worth expedition, the Steers will be idle until Nov. 9, when they tie into San Angelo in the Bobcat lino.

Friday's Battle Looms As Tossup

Friday night's football classic which pits the Lakeview (colored) Lions of Big Spring against the Lubbock Black Hubbers at Steer stadium looms as a tossup for the local eleven.

Records of the two teams stack up even-Stephen. Both have beaten Abilene and both have been beaten by San Angelo.

Frank Miller, mentor of the Big Spring aggregation, scouted the Hubbers in their outing with Abilene last week and has warned his charges to expect a lot of trouble.

According to Miller, the visitors will have a weight advantage on the Lions.

The Big Springers came out of their savage clash with San Angelo in fairly good physical trim. Two of the youngsters took a bad physical licking but should be ready to operate Friday night.

TCU Frogs Clash With Oklahoma Aggies In Feature Go This Week

By The Associated Press

There is plenty of scoring in Southwest conference football but the old reliable point after touchdown still is quite a necessary article in a team's repertoire.

The place-kick figured prominently in three of four games played by the conference last week. Texas Christian triumphed over Texas A. and M. 13-12, Southern Methodist beat Rice 21-18 and Baylor pulled out with a 7-7 tie against Texas Tech.

Texas, of course, didn't have to worry about points after touchdown, although Tom Harrell plunked four between the crossbars as the Longhorns smashed Arkansas 34-7, but the Orange has the boys around who can send that extra point home. Last year Texas failed against Texas Christian and lost out in that title race.

Texas Christian has a fellow who makes points after touchdown and field goals a necessary art. He is Harry Mullins who beat Texas and Rice last year to bring the Horned Frogs the title and who has kept T.C.U. in the race this year the same way. He kicked the point after touchdown as the Frogs beat Baylor 7-6 and Saturday sent one through to give T.C.U. life over A. and M.

Texas and Southern Methodist lead the conference race with one victory apiece. Pete Kotlarich's gifted toe brought S.M.U. victory in its opening game. He boosted all three of the S.M.U. extra points against Rice.

Texas, Arkansas and A. and M. have reached the half-way mark in their schedules but Rice, Baylor and Southern Methodist, which have 11 games each, and Texas Christian are not yet one-half through. T.C.U. has a 10-game card but has played only four.

There are two conference games on the agenda next Saturday with Rice meeting Texas at Austin and Baylor tackling A. and M. at College Station, but the other three conference members return to the interconference wars with Texas Christian's battle at Fort Worth against undefeated, untied Oklahoma A. and M. the headline.

It will match the Cotton Bowl opponents of last Jan. 1 when the Aggies blasted T.C.U. 34-0.

Southern Methodist plays Tulane at New Orleans and Arkansas journeys to Memphis to meet Mississippi.

Purple's Alford Has Two Touches In 19-7 Triumph

FORT WORTH, Oct. 22 (AP)—The mighty Skymasters of the Army Air Forces Training Command, victors in five straight games, two of them counting in the National AAF football conference, hit the road again next weekend when they go to Los Angeles to meet the El Toro Marines.

They came home after two games away to give 13,000 fans a good show yesterday in a 19-7 triumph over tough Fourth Air Force of March Field, Calif. For the first time this season the Skymasters found themselves behind in the scoring midway of the opening period but they buckled down and got a couple of touchdowns in short order and the result never was much in doubt after that.

Bruce Alford, former Texas Christian great, took a pass for one touchdown and covered a blocked punt for another, while Art Boettcher of Shurtleff College turned in the game's longest gain—a 48-yard dash—that set up the final touchdown which he made himself on an end run from the one yard line.

Dick Renfro of Washington State gave Fourth Air Force its score with a 30-yard jaunt around end.

Don't Fan The Flames

The fiery cross of the Ku Klux Klan blazed again recently in Georgia. It should be a signal of warning of the flames of bigotry and intolerance which smolder in the hearts of many people and which might, without clear thinking, be fanned into a ugly fire.

America was treated to a wave of this type of thing nearly a quarter of a century ago. It came under the guise of Americanism, but it was based on racial prejudice and religious intolerance. As a natural consequence, it had accompanying bursts of violence and everywhere was cloaked in secret pressure against those who would have no part of it.

Today, with another World War behind us, the same temptations to stoop to racial strife and perhaps, to a lesser degree, to religious intolerance, are on every hand. The unsettled state of the human mind, the presence of troubles and vexing problems offer the opportunity to cling to some belief that minority groups are responsible for the situation, that some scapegoat is needed upon which to vent expressions of frustration.

Yet this is not the answer. The problems are basic, not superficial. Understanding and unselfishness are needed to attain cooperative progress—not strife and bitterness.

Thus, we hope that the warning which has flared in Georgia will prove only a superficial evidence of a small group of sensationalists. There are many things which we need, but certainly the Klan is not one of them.

Casualty Comparisons

You should be interested in some figures just released by the National Safety Council showing the comparison between casualties in the military during World War II and accidents on the home front.

From the army and navy have come reports of 261,608 killed since Pearl Harbor, 651,911 wounded, 42,811 missing and 124,194 prisoners—a total of 1,070,524.

The home front accident toll for the same period shows 355,000 killed and 36,000,000 injured. The accident toll among workers alone shows 66,000 killed on the job and 94,000 off the job. Traffic figures for the same period show 94,000 killed. In the home, accidents claimed 118,000.

It is not the intention of the National Safety Council to imply that activities on the home front in any way compare with the danger of fighting on the actual front. They do show conclusively what the scope of accidents is, and the alarming toll they are claiming. War casualties stagger us. Why should we let an even greater threat to life and limb continue to exist in peace time when nothing more complex than a little care will turn the trick?

Washington—

Home Service Helps Vets At Home

By HERMAN R. ALLEN

(Jack Stinner Is Ill)

WASHINGTON — Three of the veteran's fingers and half his hand had been blown off. They told him when he was discharged from Walter Reed Hospital that the other finger might have to be amputated and a mechanical hand fitted.

He got a job but couldn't hold it with his bunched-up hand. He got another, had to quit—another, and had to quit that too. He was getting $23 a month disability pension, was apparently entitled to more but had to wait while wheels turned at the Veterans Administration. His case was delayed at the Unemployment Compensation office.

Broke, hungry, homeless, he heard about Red Cross Home Service. Home Service fixed him up with meals and a room and a little cash until things started breaking his way.

Another man, badly disfigured by combat injuries, refused the pleas of his family to return home. The family got in touch with Home Service, which sent a case worker to look him up.

An interview disclosed that it was not the man's disfigurement that stopped him from going home. It was the fear that he wouldn't be able to find a job he could handle. He had been trained as an architect, but the depression had prevented him from working at it very much before he went into military service. The Red Cross case worker took the unusual step of requesting a Washington architect to place the man in a branch office in his home town. Usually Home Service sends a man to see a veterans representative at the U. S. Employment Office.

Home Service was originally set up to help a service man handle problems that arose at home while he was away. A mother had to go to the hospital, and Home Service arranged for the care of her children. A wife was without money when her husband's allotment check was late, and Home Service loaned her enough to get by.

A soldier was notified of a serious illness at home. He applied for a furlough and his commanding officer asked Home Service to make the necessary check-up so that the furlough could be granted.

More and more, however, Home Service is swinging into the job of helping veterans make a smooth return to civilian life. It figures that it takes a year to make a civilian into a soldier, it must take at least that long to make him into a civilian again.

The local Washington office of Home Service has been handling about 7,000 cases a month during the war. In July 784 of these involved veterans' problems. Now such cases are running about 1,000 a month.

One of Home Service's most touching problems is that of the young man who has never held a job or moved in the adult civilian world. Some of these young men have lived for four or even five years in an atmosphere of danger and excitement. Their lives have been governed in general by regulations and in particular by commands.

To enter a humdrum civilian existence, with a speeding auto perhaps the greatest danger, is not attractive to some. When that is coupled with the fact that for the first time it will be necessary to make the major decisions that mean livelihood, the gap is just a little more than some can face calmly.

Pedestrians Beware

OMAHA, Oct. 22 (P) — Police booked the man on a charge of drunkenness while driving a vehicle.

The vehicle—a baby carriage with a six-month-old passenger.

The Timid Soul

With The AEF: Bali Is A Happy Dream—Except For Last Years

By HAL BOYLE

DENPASAR, Bali (P)—The old Belgian painter gazed out into his garden by the sea, where Balinese drums throbbed a native dance tempo.

From the garden, stone idols of forgotten Hindu Gods stared back at him with sightless eyes.

"The time is passing—passing," mused the painter, 66-year-old Adrian Jean Le Mayeur.

"I cannot believe it has been 14 years since I came to this island. My life has been a happy dream here."

Then a shadow crossed the old man's face.

"All except the last four years. They have been a nightmare."

By his life Le Mayeur has proved two things—that educated man can forego the "civilized" world and be happy, and that love can show the way for fast to meet west.

Le Mayeur was 52 years old and a successful Brussels artist when he came to Bali on a world tour through strange lands to find subjects for his paint brush.

"I knew at once that Bali would be my life," said the artist.

Hollywood—

Panorama Of Biggest Show On Earth

"The True Glory," presented by the United States of America and the United Kingdom. Running time: 84 minutes.

HOLLYWOOD — "The True Glory," the story of the biggest show on earth, is an achievement befitting its monumental theme. It is the history of the European invasion, from before D-Day to VE-Day and it is magnificent.

The picture was co-produced by Capt. Garson Kanin for the U. S. and Carol Reed for Great Britain. The enormity of their task can scarcely be imagined. Fourteen hundred combat cameramen were involved in the project (thirty-two were killed and 16 are missing). Ten million feet of film were shot. From this Reed and Kanin were supposed to tell the invasion story in less than an hour and a half.

In the first place, the tremendous task of film editing is accomplished with skill. It is not a piece of patchwork. It tells a story. It shows the endless elements which were a part of the invasion plan. It shows how these elements were combined and utilized until the final defeat on German soil.

With merely that, "The True Glory" would be only a good military film. But its makers were blessed with the idea of letting those who took part in the invasion speak for themselves. Thus the picture is narrated by 130 voices.

There are the southern Negro drawl, the nasal French accent, voices from the hills of New England and Scotland and the streets of London and New York. There is the strong Kansas voice of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. They tell the human story of the struggle while an English actor, Robert Harris, narrates the over-all strategy in stirring blank verse.

Their stories are little masterpieces. Much of the narration was taken from actual interviews with fighting men. There is just the right amount of sentiment and there is plenty of the rich humor of the GI and the Tommy. One incident is particularly hilarious. It is a scene of British soldiers struggling against a tempestuous sea while a voice recites from an army pamphlet the advantages of

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

UNRRA Protests Policy Of British

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — For three long weeks, a group of UNRRA workers have been trying to tell a story to their chiefs in Washington. The story is not a pretty one.

It shows how one of our Allies in Europe has been using UNRRA personnel and resources to work against another ally. It tells how Poles have been stirred up by British-controlled UNRRA workers to oppose the Russians, how Russian and Polish nationals have been persuaded by UNRRA workers not to return to their homes, and how UNRRA army supplies have been black-marketed in Europe.

The story is important because it shows there are two sides to the Russian picture. It illustrates how the United States sometimes is used by our British Allies.

Five Americans were first dismissed from UNRRA and then sent home from Europe for opposing this situation. Contrary to UNRRA policy, they were dismissed and rushed out of Germany in 16 hours without having any investigation made of the facts. Other UNRRA personnel wait weeks for passage home.

Upon their returning to the U. S. A. the injustice of this action was recognized and they were put back on the pay-roll. Since then they have been trying to get action, but have been given the run-around by UNRRA Deputy Directors Roy Hendrickson, Cornington Gill and Richard Brown.

The five UNRRA workers are: Clifford A. Hood of Trenton, N. J., Steel and Bell Telephone; Leo Schwartz, formerly with Federal Public Housing who came to UNRRA after two years with the Red Cross in New Guinea and Australia; Mrs. Frances Cummins, formerly foreign trade analyst with FEA and for ten years prior to that with the RFC; Miss Lydia Robertson, formerly with the navy department; and John Beecher, the writer. They were supported in their position by Lieut. Col. Charles Jackson, Maj. Frank Wilkins and Maj. James Boone of the U. S. army, who interceded with UNRRA and tried to retain them on the job.

This group, believing UNRRA's duty is to be impartial, if it is to function at all, finally have agreed to publication of their story. Here it is:

British Torment Poles

The American group was assigned to work in the Stuttgart area of Germany, which is under the UNRRA's European regional office, which in turn is dominated by the British.

UNRRA policy in that area, the Americans soon discovered, was to build up and support the efforts of the die-hard Polish aristocrats to create a Polish army for eventual use against the present Polish government. At the Omond Camp, for instance, 750 Poles and other East Europeans who enlisted for training under Polish army leaders were rewarded by UNRRA workers. They got a double ration of food and cigarettes. The Polish liaison officer (with credentials from the London government) was even conducting a school for non-commissioned officers in Stuttgart to train this Polish army.

In addition, the British hired hundreds of London Poles from the former Polish-government-in-exile and placed them in responsible UNRRA jobs in preference to other nationals. These London Poles then worked night and day to persuade the slave laborers, drafted by the Nazis from Russia, the Ukraine, Poland and the Baltic, not to go back to their homes.

Boy Swallows White Marble—Moth Proof

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 22 (P)—Mrs. Eloisa Cervantes called an ambulance after her four-year-old son, Manuelito, told her he swallowed a "marble."

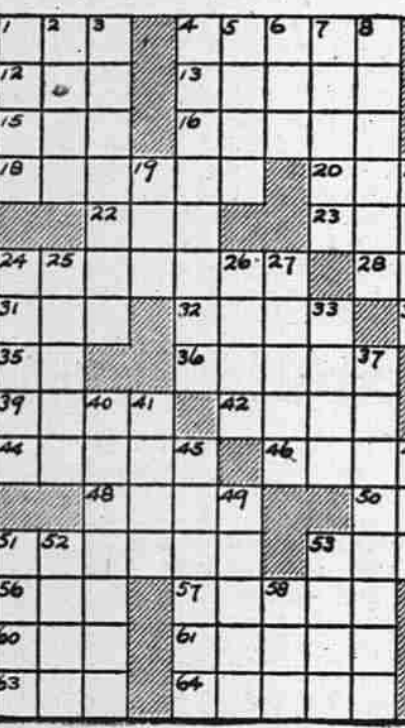

At the hospital doctors searched in vain. Manuelito, questioned further, told them it was a white marble—"like you put in with clothes."

He was pronounced moth-proof, at least for a while.

Grand Champion To Be Selected At Swine Show

Grand champion of the Howard county Swine Show, which got underway in the county warehouse barn today, will be declared at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Judging is to be done by E. M. Reganbrecht, Texas A. & M. college swine specialist.

The nine 4-H club boys who have entries in the show will be honored at a Settles hotel luncheon Tuesday at 12:30 p. m.

Principal speakers at the function will be W. I. Marshall, district agent with headquarters in San Angelo; Bob Piner, local banker; C. T. Johnson, chairman of the Sears Foundation, Dallas; Durward Lewter, county agent, who will serve as master of ceremonies and as such will formally deliver the awards; and Reganbrecht.

The blue ribbon winner will earn for its owner a registered heifer, which is on display at the warehouse barn today. Other leading entrants will be presented with a quantity of baby chicks.

The public is invited to view the exhibitions after 5 o'clock this afternoon.

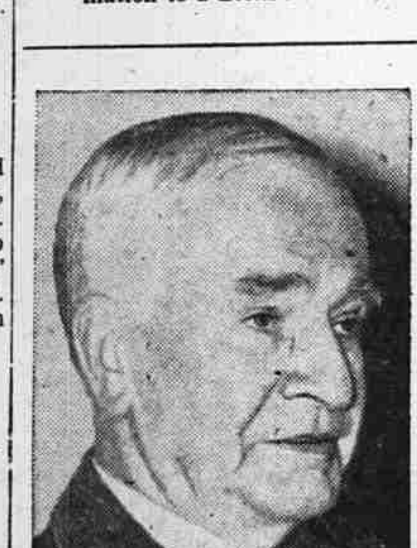

Flowerettes of cauliflower sprinkled with paprika, placed in a border around a slice of ham accents its color and flavor.

When lemons become hard and dry, place in a hot oven for a few minutes.

In frying steak, a little salt in the bottom of the skillet will keep the fat from popping.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCE

T-4 Henry Musgrove of Big Spring, attached to G-2 Section Headquarters Company of the famed 27th Infantry Division of the American Air Army on Honshu, recently enjoyed a unique experience for an infantryman—namely, taking a prime military objective by air. Five days after the formal surrender of Japan, the 27th, commanded by Maj. Gen. George W. Griner, transported from Okinawa to Aogaki Airfield near Tokyo in huge C-54s of the army transport command, thus adding a history-making "first" to this already famous division. Musgrove was a passenger on plane No. 12, which made the flight without incident. Entering the army 30 months ago, the young Texan has been overseas 15 months. Prior to his entry into the army, he was employed by R. L. Cook, real estate broker of Big Spring. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Musgrove, live in Big Spring.
