Lt. Merle F. Wolfe Temporarily Based At Miami Beach

1st Lt. Merle F. Wolfe, son of Mrs. Alemeta Wolfe of this city, who recently returned from service outside the continental United States, now is being processed through the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station No. 2 in Miami Beach, where his next assignment will be recommended.

This is one of the Redistribution Stations within the command of the AAF Redistribution Center. At an AAF Redistribution Station, AAF returnees from theatres of operations are examined by specially selected medical and classification officers whose joint findings are used in determining new assignments. Theme of the AAF Redistribution program is designation of each man to duty for which he is best fitted. Returnees live at a Redistribution Station under conditions that encourage natural response to processing, a majority of their two-week stay being devoted to rest and recreation.

AAF personnel, including enlisted men and officers alike, are assigned to a Redistribution Station upon their return to the United States, but do not report to the station until completing a furlough or leave of approximately three weeks.

Lieutenant Wolfe, a P-40 and P-47 pilot, flew 158 missions during 15 months in the Southwest Pacific. He was awarded the Air Medal with two oak leaf clusters, and the Presidential Unit Citation with one oak leaf cluster.

Lieutenant Wolfe recently spent a 30-day furlough here.

REGULAR SCHEDULE NOW OPERATED BY JOHNSON MOTOR LINES

Since abandonment of the railroad through this section, the Johnson Motor Lines, who formerly operated through here at irregular intervals, have set up a daily schedule.

The amount of freight billed for this place over their lines dictated their routing through Cross Plains, in other words they operated by weight rather than by schedule. Now, however, they have designated Cross Plains as a point on their route and will in the future bring in and carry out freight daily. Their advertisement appears on another page of this paper.

J. J. Calloway Quits Race For State Representative

J. J. Calloway, who a short time ago announcedi hs candidacy for State Flotorial Representative for Eastland and Callahan Counties, has withdrawn from the race and will remain with the Eastland County Office of Price Administration. His statement appears hereunder:

"When, a short time ago, I announced as a candidate for State Flotorial Representative from the district comprised of Eastland and Callahan Counties, it was my intention to sever all my connections as a member o fthe Eastland County OPA, as it is not proper to mix this with politics. There was then hope that the National OPA act, which every one knows will expire within a few weeks, would be modified and simplified so that it would not defeat the purpose for which it was created. This hope has now vanished and the law is to be re-enacted without removing the objectionable features that render it unworkable unless administered by local boards with practical minds.

"It is my sincere belief that this agency shows promise of being promoted to a growth far beyond its original intention and finally to a point where we will have it with us for many years after this emergency has ceased to exist. I believe that I can better serve the public by remaining in my present position and striving to help see the work done locally from a common sense standpoint, than to see it fall into inexperienced hands.

"Therefore, I take this means to inform the public that I am withdrawing my candidacy for Representative, as above mentioned. I do not feel this action less courageous than to brace a political contest, be it mild or fierce. The real test of courage is to submerge oneself for the common weal.

"This I am now endeavoring to do, by sacrificing any personal ambition, in order to serve on the post I now hold, without pay, a task somewhat burdensome, but from which one may draw consolation that perhaps in some small way, he may contribute to an early winning of the war with the least possible damage to the home front."

Poultryman From Brazil Visits The C. M. Garrett Farm

On Wednesday, April 19th, Mr. and Mrs. C.M. Garrett, who operate a poultry farm south of Cross Plains, were visited by a poultry specialist from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, who is in the states studying our methods of poultry management.

Mrs. Garrett relates that the specialist, Luiz R. Cavaleant Alburquerque, was very interesting in his description of poultry raising in South America and during the course of his conversation she gathered the following engaging information.

"Poultry raising is carried on quite extensively in Brazil, however their methods are much different from ours. The climate is hot and damp there, which makes poultry diseases more prevalent.

"The housing situation there seems to be a small item, all poultry range in the open ,with only a shed roof for night shelter, in most cases. No woven wire is used and chicken fencing is a rare thing.

"When he was shown the formula that Mr. Garrett uses to make

CROPS AND PASTURE GRASS THREATENED WITHOUT MOISTURE

Crops That Should Already Be Planted Delayed Because Sub-Moisture Insufficient

The wheat crop in Callahan and other West Texas counties hangs in the balance this week, in the opinion of grainmen and growers in this section. A general, soaking rain within the next two weeks would make an almost normal crop of grain, but if moisture is held off until the middle of May, the yield will be light and spotted. Had rain been received some two weeks ago, much of the wheat in this county would have made 20 bushels per acre, and should it come now, grain would still yield 10 to 12 bushels per acre. That is the general outlook.

If the weather continues dry, however, many farmers will start salvaging what they can of the grain by grazing. After grazing, the land can probably be planted to row crops.

Row crops, however, that should have been planted much earlier have been delayed to the extent of damaging the yield to perhaps some 25 per cent.

It is also pointed out that unless good soaking rains are forthcoming within the very near future, the stock water situation may reach alarming proportions. Records kept here by S. F. Bond indicate that for the first four months of this year a rainfall of only .03 inches has falein, barring a gulley washer by Sunday, April 30th. This is a considerably lower rainfall than for the same period of 1943.

Remembering the freeze that came several weeks ago and killed practically all the fruit in this area, excepting some 10 to 25 per cent of certain types of peaches left unhurt ,it follows, according to S. F. Bond, that "that rain just gotta come".

Final Rites Held For Cecil Murdock Friday, April 21

Cecil R. Murdock of Big Spring, formerly of Cross Plains, was laid to final rest in Big Spring on Friday, April 21st. Services were held in the East Fourth Baptist Church with Reverend W. H. Colson, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Murdock succumbed Wednesday night, April 19th, at eleven thirty o'clock in the Big Spring Hospital. His wife preceeded him in death six weeks ago, both of them dying as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident which happened March 5th.

Mr. Murdock was at the time of his death, 52 years, 1 month and 28 days of age. He was born in Atlanta, Georgia.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Coryce Morrow, Big Spring; one son, Joe Kenneth, Big Spring; one grandson, Kenneth Ray Morrow; his father, J. C. Murdock, Mission; five brothers, Cair Murdock, Odessa; Lewis Murdock, Big Spring; Hardy Murdock, U. S. Navy, Cloyce Murdock, Mission; and Marvin, Houston. his poultry mash, he pointed out the fact that no alfalfa leaf meal or cod liver oil is used in Brazil, since they have an abundance of green feed and sunshine. We use a number of ingredients in our feed formulas that they do not have available there, such as soy bean meal, dried milk and oyster shell. Instead they use simple lime. He explained that poultry there received their vitamin A and D from the climatic conditions instead of by feeding.

"Interesting too, was war-time prices in his country. He indicated that eggs are at an all-time high now, selling for 15 cents per dozen. Skilled labor can be had for 50 cents per day. The services of a good housemaid will cost, now that wages are higher, $1.50 per month.

April Designated as Month For Cause And Cure of Cancer

Mrs. W. P. Brightwell, Callahan County Captain of the American Society for the Control of Cancer reminds us that April has been designated as the month for the campaign on the cause and cure of cancer.

Cancer is the second highest cause of death in the United States. Approximately 480,000 persons now living have cancer. At present death rates 163,000 of these will die within one year. Few will survive after three years. One out of every nine annual deaths in the nation is caused by cancer. Yet authorities say that between half and two-thirds of these deaths are preventable if people will learn the early signs of cancer and will consult a physician as soon as one of them appears.

The American Society for the Control of Cancer, Inc., has since 1913 been the leader in education of the public about the facts of cancer. The purposes of the Society, incorporated in 1922, as now stated in its Certificate of Incorporation are: "To collect, collate and disseminate information concerning the symptoms, diagnosis, treatment and prevention of cancer; to investigate the conditions under which cancer is found, and to compile statistics in regard thereto; to aid voluntarily, in cooperation with accredited physicians, indigent cancer patients in securing adequate diagnosis or treatment; to assist voluntarily in the establishment, vedelopment, equipment or maintenance of hospitals, clinics, laboratories, or other facilities for the care of cancer patients; and generally to carry on any other activities which may contribute toward the control of cancer, except the actual treatment of cancer patients or the actual operation of hospitals, clinics, laboratories or other facilities for such treatment."

Largely as a result of the Society's pgram the medical profession has changed its attitude of pessimism to one of optimism concerning prognosis in early cancer of the breast and uteras One result of this has been to create more general medical support of the attack on cancer in other sites of the body.

In the files at national headquarters are many reports of incidents proving that the educational program has been the direct means of saving lives from cancer. One tells of a Montana sheepherder, alone on the range, who heard on his radio a talk on cancer and decided to see a doctor the next time he went to town. The examination showed he had cancer. An operation saved his life. There was a woman who was moved by Field Army literature to take her mother to the family doctor for examination. The mother was in sound health. The woman laughted when the doctor suggested that she too have an examination. But she had cancer. Her life too was saved. Successful treatment was made possible by the Women's Field Army for a Maine fisherman with a lip cancer.

Such cases happen every day. Like statistics, they are the distillation of months of work—proof of the soundness and effectiveness of the program of The American Society for the Control of Cancer and of the continuing need for its growth and development.

TIPS ON SPRAYING PECAN TREES GIVEN BY COUNTY AGE

W. M. Meador, Callahan Co agent, states that the casebea the chief pest of pecan trees, ca controlled if the trees are prope sprayed at the right time. A sp comprising six pounds of lead ars ate to 100 gallons of water g good control. A new spray co ing of six pounds of lead arsen thirteen fluid ounces of nico sulphate and three quarts of s mer oil emulsion mixed with gallons of water is equally ef tive.

Sprays must be applied bef the young casebearers have ent the nuts. Best results are obtai if spraying is done three to f days after the nuts are set, and any case, should not be delay longer than 10 days afterwa Nuts may be considered set af the blossom ends have turned bro The spray should be directed at outer branches so that nut clust as well as the buds are thoroug covered.

The nut casebearers winter partly grown worms in small, to cases located at the base of buds. They begin feeding on buds as soon as the trees begin grow and later bore into the yo tender shoots and destroy th About 30 days later, or about time the nuts are set, adult mo emerge and begin layin eggs or three days later. This usua occurs in late April and early M The eggs hatch in about five da and the young casebearers feed or three days on buds and then gin to bore into the base of young nuts. This first generati does the most damage to the pe crop.

TIPS ON SPRAYING PECAN TREES GIVEN BY COUNTY AGE

W. M. Meador, Callahan Coun agent, states that the casebear the chief pest of pecan trees, ca controlled if the trees are prope sprayed at the right time. A sp comprising six pounds of lead ars ate to 100 gallons of water gi good control. A new spray con ing of six pounds of lead arsen thirteen fluid ounces of nicot sulphate and three quarts of s mer oil emulsion mixed with gallons of water is equally ef tive.

Sprays must be applied bef the young casebearers have ente the nuts. Best results are obtai if spraying is done three to f days after the nuts are set, and any case, should not be dela longer than 10 days afterwa Nuts may be considered set af the blossom ends have turned bro The spray should be directed at outer branches so that nut clust as well as the buds are thoroug covered.

The nut casebearers winter partly grown worms in small, to cases located at the base of buds. They begin feeding on buds as soon as the trees begin grow and later bore into the yo tender shoots and destroy th About 30 days later, or about time the nuts are set, adult mo emerge and begin layin eggs or three days later. This usua occurs in late April and early M The eggs hatch in about five da and the young casebearers feed or three days on buds and then gin to bore into the base of young nuts. This first generati does the most damage to the pec crop.

MOVIES CELEBRATE FIFTIETH BIRTHDAY APRIL FOURTEENTH

On April 14th, 1894, fifty years ago, motion pictures came into existence with a handful of New Yorkers as the first movie audience. Today hundreds of millions enjoy the education and entertainment value of motion pictures.

The first motion pictures were what is known as Edison's Kinetescope, a contraption into which you dropped a nickel and looked down through a pair of magnifying glasses fitted against your forehead, at a film being unrolled, when the picture was over, your nickel fell into a container attached to the "picture machine."

In 1912 we were first shown pictures of eminent figures like President McKinley and Teddy Roosevelt, something like news screen flashes today, though the machine was hand operated. Then came comedy, the first being named "What Demoralized the Barber Shop?" After that everyone remembers Charlie Chaplin. Then the four-reel drama, starring Sara Bernhardt.

The first sound movie made its appearance in 1928, since then improvements have been added until the moving picture of today has no resemblance to the fifty years ago original. Today the moving pictures have gne to war, showing training films, overseas entertainment, moral pictures, combat camermen in action and selling war bonds.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."

"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?

"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

Site For Frozen

BUILDING TO HAVE EAST FRONTAGE AND TO BE 34 X 50 FEET

Modern In Every Detail; Plant Will Accomodate 312 Lockers And Office

After spending three weeks in locating a site acceptable for a frozen food locker plant, the board of directors have begun negotiations for two lots on the corner just south of Higginbotham's Lumber Co. and east of the building housing the Clifton Produce Co. At various times other sites were considered but found disadvantageous or unavailable.

Plans of the Locker Company now call for the erection of a building of tile construction. The building will have a thirty-four foot front to the east and will run west to a fifty foot depth, with concrete flooring throughout.

Blue Prints for the building have been made and contacts for the purchase of the tiling are in progress. The Company has acquired a frame building formerly owned by W. B. Baldwin and situated one door west of Jordan's Furniture Repair Shop. This building will be razed and the timbers used in the new construction, thus eliminating the necessity of purchasing new lumber.

Manufacturers of the Food Locker equipment have notified the directors that the various units of equipment are available and will be shipped not later than May 5th.

Of the 312 lockers to be sold, 201 have already been let and others are reported to be moving fast, with all of the larger size taken. However it is pointed out that boxes of the smaller size will generously accomodate all products of the small producer.

Directors of the company are making every effort to get the plant up and ready for use as soon as war-time conditions permit.
