NEW REPORTS OF DISTRESS MUDDLE CONGRESS

Five Italian Aviators Killed, Three Injured In Group Flight Across Ocean

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

The Junior chamber of commerce membership campaign will get under way next week. If the Junior chamber had done nothing else last year than put on the program at its annual meeting it would have been worth the money and effort spent to maintain it.

For the two or three hours that the meeting continued all those present forgot about the business depression and their troubles and reveled in the enjoyment of a scintillating program.

The manner in which the young men who compose the Junior chamber disposed of the organization's mistakes was illuminating. By pantomine and farce and burlesque those responsible for the mistakes were panned to the entertainment of their fellow members. That's a good way to dispose of mistakes—laugh at them.

Youth has a way of doing this that is hard for older persons to emulate. Older men would get mad. They are more serious about everything. What we need now is more humor. We hope there will be a little humor at the chamber of commerce banquet this week.

Talking about troubles which follow mistakes, Talker believes it's good philosophy to think about the other fellow and his troubles rather than ourselves and our own troubles. He has known persons who pretty much forgot about their own troubles in their sympathy and help for the other fellow in his. And in forgetting about their own troubles they disappeared. If you are morbid over your own troubles give this plan a trial and see if it don't help.

Immediate construction of needed public improvements may be done now and in the near future to decided advantage because of low material and construction prices and plentiful and efficient labor, according to a statement issued by John Reid, consulting engineer of Detroit, president of the American Society of Municipal engineers.

Construction of sewers, water systems, pavements, county and state highways, grade crossing eliminations, schools and other public buildings are suggested by Mr. Reid as the major improvements whose development at this time would contribute largely to relieving the present economic situation. Practically all municipal and state governmental agencies are now thoroughly well organized and manned to execute such improvements with practical dispatch, once the improvements are authorized and provision has been made for financing them.

The many thousands of men who would be directly employed by speeding up construction would not be the sole beneficiaries. The increased amount of materials that would be used in these projects would make necessary the employment of many other thousands. Workers must have equipment as well as materials with which to build, they require additional food and clothing and there must be men employed at the source of supply for these needs. Thus, a material increase of employment in one field brings about an increase in other lines of employment.

Citizens of Wichita Falls can get excellent value for their money if they vote the $1,000,000 in bonds on January 20. If the bond issue carries improvements that are almost imperative can be made. The money will go further than a similar amount at any time within recent years. Men who need work badly can and will be given employment. The benefits will be immediate, general and lasting.

The laborer who fails to vote for the bonds will be voting against opportunity for himself and his fellow worker to find employment. The property owner who fails to support the bond issue will be voting for a backward and not a forward community.

Talker does not believe it is too much to say that the result of this bond election will determine which way Wichita Falls will go. If we fail to vote the bonds Wichita Falls will fall backward. If the bonds are voted it will be a sign that the old spirit which carried Wichita Falls forward in other years is still manifest.

BIG ADVENTURE OVER ATLANTIC PROVES COSTLY

Mishap at Takeoff For Brazil Claims Lives Of Quintet

TWO ACCIDENTS

Rome Government Makes Announcement 24 Hours After Landing

BOLAMA, Portuguese Guinea, Africa, Jan. 7. (AP)—Five Italian aviators died and three others were injured at the start of the great aviation adventure which carried 10 seaplanes safely from this point on the West African coast to Brazil yesterday.

The Stefani news agency, official Italian press service, said tonight two planes crashed shortly after the takeoff.

Two others, which were forced to land on the ocean while Gen. Italo Balbo took the 10 remaining ships safely into Natal, were taken charge of by Italian naval vessels. The Stefani agency said both were expected to be towed to Fernando Noronha, Brazilian penal island not far from Natal.

(This official announcement by the Stefani agency clears up the confusion which has existed since General Balbo and his 10 ships skimmed to rest at Natal after a speedy trip of 17 hours, 15 minutes, yesterday. First reports said 12 ships left Bolama, with two of them landing at sea en route, but later dispatches from various sources asserted two had not been able to take off. This official report shows that 14—two of them were repair and replacement units not scheduled to make the trip originally—took off).

ROME CONFIRMS AIRMEN'S DEATHS

ROME, Jan. 7. (UP)—Five Italian aviators were killed in two accidents which occurred when the 14 seaplanes started from Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, on the West Coast of Africa, early yesterday morning on a transatlantic flight to South America.

This was officially announced here tonight.

The official communique said two pilots, two mechanics and one radio operator had been killed in the ac-

Mule's Kick Kills Wilbarger Boy

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 7.—Boyce Ashley, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Ashley, in the Hinds community six miles northeast of Vernon, was instantly killed by a kick from a mule on the family farm about 5:30 Wednesday afternoon. The blow struck the child directly over the heart and physicians say death was instantaneous.

The boy had been sent by his mother to drive the mule away from feed in the stables, neighbors reported. The body was brought to the home of his grandfather, W. F. Ashley, prominent Wilbarger county pioneer. Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon. Besides his parents and grandfather, the boy is survived by two brothers.

Ford to Put 1,500 Men To Work at Hegewisch

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Announcement was made today that the Ford Motor company's assembly plant at Hegewisch, will add 1,500 workers tomorrow following a month's shutdown during inventory taking. Capacity employment at the plant is 2,500 but that is not expected to be reached for a least 60 days.

Houston Elected Head Of Cement Company

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Reagan Houston was elected president and director of the Republic Portland Cement company of San Antonio at a called meeting in the firm's offices here today. He succeeds J. H. Smith, who died recently.

Boat Waits

The forgetfulness of pretty Sheila Mannors, Los Angeles artist, caused the sailing of the liner Calawall for Honolulu to be delayed the other day. Miss Mannors, laden with lots of luggage, reached the pier just before the liner sailed—and then discovered she had completely forgotten to buy a ticket. So the liner was held at the pier while its officials saw to it that Sheila provided herself with the needed documents.

DAVIS' DEATH SET APRIL 2

Youth's Attorney to Appeal Murder Case

Special to The Record News.

ARDMORE, Okla., Jan. 7.—Death in the electric chair on April 2, 1931, was the sentence given Colquitt Davis at 4 p. m. Wednesday afternoon by Judge Asa Walden in the district court of Carter county.

Davis' attorney gave notice of intention to appeal the case to the criminal court of appeals and was allowed 30 days in which to prepare and present his case.

Davis was found guilty of the slaying of Con Kiersey, Carter county deputy sheriff, but the jury could not agree on the sentence.

Purse-Snatcher Robs Electra Woman

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 7.—A purse-snatcher, lurking in the back seat of an automobile, Wednesday afternoon grabbed a purse from the hands of Mrs. Bill Hickey, twisting her arm until the fingers relaxed. The bag contained approximately $11 in cash, Mrs. Hickey reported.

Returning from a shopping tour about 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Hickey stepped into her car and made a movement to toss the purse to the back seat, unaware of the presence of the intruder. The man leaped from his hiding place, grasped her arm, forced her to drop the purse into his hands, then fled. Frightened by the attack, Mrs. Hickey was unable to give the alarm for about 15 minutes. Volunteer helpers joined the police in a futile attempt to catch the man.

War Film Brings New Rioting in Vienna

VIENNA, Jan. 7. (US)—Thirty persons were injured tonight outside the theater showing the film "All Quiet on the Western Front" when 3,000 mounted and foot police charged a mob of 1,000 Fascists attempting to break the police cordon and invade the nearby Jewish quarter.

Soldiers and Police Battle in Budapest

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 7. (US)—One soldier was killed and 11 injured, three seriously, in a bayonet and pistol battle tonight with police at the Kecskemet barracks. Police said the soldiers were drunk and disorderly, and arrested the wounded men after they were overpowered. An official investigation was ordered.

BODY OF AIR VICTIM TO BE BURIED HERE

Husband of Former Local Girl Among Three Dead in Crash

SCHOOLBOY DIES

Mother Near Collapse At News of Marshall Disaster

The body of Errett Williams of New Orleans, one of three victims of an airplane crash near Marshall, Texas, Wednesday, will probably be brought to Wichita Falls for burial, relatives here said. Williams was the husband of Miss Stella Bachman, Wichita Falls girl who made her home here for many years before her marriage.

Other victims of the crash were Arthur Brown, 32, New Orleans, pilot; and Robert Wilson, Fort Worth, passenger returning to school at New Orleans.

Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Ross Corlett of Wichita Falls, was advised by telephone Wednesday that the body of Williams was taken from the scene of the crash to Shreveport where it was received by Mrs. Williams and the airman's parents and sister who reside at Lake Charles, La., and that possibly the body would be returned here for funeral services and burial.

Mrs. Williams has not resided in Wichita Falls for the past 10 years. Aside from the sister, Mrs. Ross Corlett, a brother, Walter Bachman, also resides in Wichita Falls.

SHIP BELIEVED SEEKING LANDING

MARSHALL, Texas, Jan. 7. (AP)—Two men and a boy, the latter returning to his school in New Orleans after spending the holidays with his mother in Fort Worth, were killed when an airplane crashed in an isolated spot eight miles west of here today.

The dead were Arthur C. Brown of New Orleans, pilot; Errett Williams of New Orleans, co-pilot, and Robert Wilson, 16, of Fort Worth.

The plane, flying the Wedell-Williams passenger line between Dallas and New Orleans, left Dallas about 9:30 a. m., after picking up Wilson at Fort Worth. The crash happened about two hours later.

Fog Dense

Two negro farmers told Marshall officers who went to the scene that they observed the plane flying low in a dense fog over their farm homes. They said the motor was sputtering, as if short of gasoline. The ship started gaining height and then suddenly came straight down, they said.

The occupants of the plane were thrown clear of the main wreckage, but parts of the ship were scattered over a wide area. The ignition had been cut off and there was no sign of fire, investigators said.

The plane fell in an open spot of

Sherman Mob Trials Postponed at Austin

AUSTIN, Jan. 7. (UP)—Trials of 14 men charged with rioting at Sherman, when the courthouse was burned and a negro charged with assault was killed, will not be held here during this term of court, it was announced today by District Judge J. D. Moore and District Attorney Henry Brooks.

The cases were brought here from Dallas and set for Jan. 19, when it was decided popular sentiment was so strong in favor of releasing the men that it would be impossible to secure an impartial trial.

Nebraskan Named On Mexican Claims Board

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—Appointment of Fred K. Nielsen of Nebraska as American member of the Mexican-American special claims commission was announced today by the state department.

Nielsen since July 31, 1926, has been American member of the general claims commission of the two countries and also will continue in this capacity. He replaces Ernest B. Perry of Nebraska, whose resignation was accepted recently by President Hoover.

Cyril Bank Bandits Escape With $3,000

CYRIL, Okla., Jan. 7. (UP)—Five bandits who robbed the bank of Cyril of $3,000 evidently had made good their escape tonight, leaders of posses admitted after no trace of the quintet had been found.

The bandits entered the bank at 10 a. m., forced three customers and three employes into the vault and escaped with the loot.

Mother and Children Drown in Home Well

GREENVILLE, S. C., Jan. 7. (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Copeland Brookshire, about 30, wife of Alex Brookshire, and her two daughters, Loren, aged 4, and Doris Lay, aged 1, drowned this afternoon in a well at the Brookshire home, two miles from Greer. Details were not immediately available here.

'Torture Robbery' Suspect Held At Altus While Police Seek His Crony

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Jan. 7.—Howard Porter, 21, was charged with conjoint robbery here Wednesday afternoon, after Stanley Smith, Altus barber, reported two hours of bizarre torturing at the hands of a bandit pair who robbed him when they tired of their grim sport.

Smith said he was held up near the senior high school building as he was walking home about midnight Tuesday night. The pair forced him to accompany them to an unsettled district northwest of Altus. There Smith said he was beaten, forced to lie on the ground while bullets rained about him, and made to walk without shoes a distance of a quarter of a mile through the cold night.

At the extreme edge of the city, his captors attempted to bind him to a post, the victim reported, but were frightened away by the sound of horses moving in a pasture. They took his overcoat, hat, shoes, spectacles, ring, and $3 in cash, Smith said.

Porter was arrested near the Santa Fe tie-treating plant Wednesday. Officers said Smith identified him as one of his assailants. A second arrest was expected tonight.

Meanwhile officials are investigating an attempted car theft earlier in the evening, when would-be bandits fired on two youths driving a machine along South Main street.

The young men, J. E. McKee and L. C. McKee, said they managed to toss the keys to the car away when they stopped and were able to halt the robbery in spite of the gunfire. A bullet ripped through the trouser leg of one of the youths, but failed to break the flesh.

The probe also involved an attempt to burglarize a residential grocery store Tuesday night and a break from the Childress county jail last week, officers reported.

INDUSTRY'S HUM MORE AUDIBLE

100,000 Men Expected To Get Jobs Back

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—The delicate needle on the gauge of national employment shot upward today under the pressure of encouraging news.

The prospect of work for an additional 100,000 men was announced at Washington by Thomas MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads. That many men, he said, will cash in on the increased road construction funds voted by congress.

Chairman Woods of the Hoover committee on unemployment told senate committee he thought there would be no improvement in employment conditions until spring; but even as he spoke, industry in every section of America began answering in brighter tones than it has hummed for many months.

Plants Resume Work

A survey by the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce showed 69 concerns there planning to increase their payrolls this month. One thousand employes already have been recalled by one clothing company.

The Beech Grove repair shops of the Big Four railroad at Indianapolis reopened today with 1,910 men having the encouraging prospect of steady eight-hour a day employment five days a week. Six hundred workmen returned to jobs at the Ford plant in Indianapolis. The first weekly steel trade reviews today noted a sharp business upturn.

Rail Improvements

The Pennsylvania railroad announced placing orders for 200,000 tons of steel rail for the year, the contracts at present prices totalling $8,500,000. Expenditures for attachments—frogs, switches, tie plates—will bring the expenditure of the Pennsylvania to more than $15,000,000.

Shops of the Central railroad of New Jersey which have been shutdown, several weeks, reopened with more than 1,000 skilled workmen returning. About 1,500 men went to work in Newark, where steam shovels are being replaced by hand labor to create more jobs on a city railway project.

'Invitation' Dice Game Raided by Officers

It was an invitation affair. The party was well under way and everybody was having a good time until the police appeared.

No less than 19 negroes were herded into the city police station late Wednesday night after J. H. Pogue, Earle Brooks, Ellis Summers, A. L. Stubblefield, of the city force and Sheriff Perry Browning had participated in a raid upon a dice game in the negro section of the town.

The majority of the negroes were lodged in jail after a few made cash bonds. Nearly every one had nestled away in his pocket an invitation reading: "Do you cotch dice? If so your presents is requested at ——— street. Eats and drinks free. From 8 till ———."

Dry 'Offensive' Yields 40 Suspected Bootleggers

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 7. (INS)—As a result of their "greatest offensive" here since the dawn of prohibition, more than 70 federal agents gathered from three states today were holding in custody 40 alleged bootleggers seized last night in 30 downtown "hot spots."

Agents from Madison, Wis., Chicago and Indianapolis were concentrated here for the drive.

Evidence against the "spots" was collected by an undercover operative who posed as "Brady," supposedly a salesman for a safety match concern.

Girl Bandit Threatens Baby to Get Loot

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. (INS)—"Hand over the stuff. If you aren't quick and decent about it, it will be just too bad for 'Junior.'"

With these words, a pretty blonde girl bandit, flourishing a revolver, trapped Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman in the lobby of their apartment and robbed them of $7,500.

Her threat, Mrs. Sheridan told the police today, was against the child of the couple. The blonde's loot was jewelry valued at $7,000, a $500 fur coat, and $15 in cash.

Miller Confirmed As Postmaster at Tyler

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (UP)—The senate today confirmed the nomination of John B. Miller to be postmaster at Tyler, Texas.

TOO SERIOUS

Hotel Porter Leaps To Death After Boys Tease Him

EL PASO, Texas, Jan. 7. (UP)—Teasing by bellboys was blamed by police for the suicide leap today of Estanislado Garcia, 40, porter at a hotel here.

Relatives of Garcia said the bellboys at the hotel had twitted him when he criticized their way of living. He had asked them to accept his religious beliefs.

Garcia jumped from the 12th floor of the building to the sidewalk.

COTTON MEET HERE TONIGHT

Co-Op Leaders of Five Counties to Attend

Exhaustive study of the results obtained by the Texas Cotton Cooperative association during the first year of its activity, and discussion of plans for future developments, will feature the meeting to be held in the 78th district courtroom at the courthouse Thursday night, at 7:30 o'clock, according to John C. Mackey, manager of the local branch office.

Many Speakers

Influence of the association upon the comparative stabilization of cotton prices will be discussed by some of the speakers to be heard Thursday night. B. B. Burgess, organization committee head, of Dallas, will be the principal speaker. Others who will participate in the discussion include numerous officials of the state organization, it was announced.

Reports received by Mr. Mackey from representatives of the association in Wise, Clay, Montague and Archer counties indicate that each of those sections will send large delegations of farmers, business men, and cotton receivers to the meeting here Thursday night. Those present are expected to hear an extensive discussion of the work done by the association thus far in raising the standard of seed used by farmers in this section. All branch receivers and other representatives of the co-operative have been instructed to give free service to all communities relative to developing better grades of cotton through the planting of better seed. Numerous improved seed projects are being sponsored by the association, and will be described in Thursday night's meeting.

Other Meetings

The meeting here is the first of a series to be held in Northwest Texas within the next few days. Remaining appointments already made by the state organization in co-operation with branch offices are as follows: Vernon, Jan. 9; Gainesville, Thursday, Jan. 15; Paducah, Friday, Jan. 9; Chillicothe, Knox City, Lamesa, Friday, Jan. 9; Plainview, Monday, Jan. 12; Wellington, Wednesday, Jan. 14; and Seymour, Saturday, Jan. 17.

Youths Admit Robbing Jeweler at Dallas

DALLAS, Jan. 7. (UP)—Jimmie Brown, of Enid, Okla., and Nelson Senter, of Fort Worth, faced prison sentences of 99 years tonight, following their plea of guilty to robbing W. W. Mitchell, Dallas jeweler, of $4,000 worth of merchandise, on Nov. 19.

The two appeared in court without counsel and admitted they "had made a mistake." Brown made a brief plea to the jury, asking for clemency.

BALLARD ASKS TAX ON FRATS

Non-Charity Property May Be Made Liable

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 7. (AP)—A flood of proposed legislation was introduced in house and senate as the two houses convened in brief sessions and threw their machinery into high gear.

Grinding of the legislative mill started with reference of the administration senate tax commission bill to the committee on revenue and taxation and the placing of the house tax bill and its companion, providing an appropriation, to the committee of the whole.

Fraternity Tax

The second of the administration tax bills was placed in the senate by Senator Hardin Ballard, Purcell, who proposed to tax fraternal organization property not used for religious or charitable purpose.

Governor-Elect Murray advised Senator Ballard he believed the present law exempting them unconstitutional.

A series of game and fish law amendments, an old age pension bill, a tax code commission bill, and two others taking ice plants and cotton gins from corporation commission jurisdiction were introduced.

Committees on printing and rules were named in the senate and on legal advisory and expenses and accounts in the house.

Employes Installed

Fifty-four employes, selected yesterday were installed in the senate, taking oath of office before the session convened at 1:30 p. m. Some 50 house employes were placed in office.

Speaker Weaver will have for his personal messenger A. C. Hunt Jr., son of the supreme court justice.

A senate bill providing $50,000 appropriation for senate expenses and $75,000 for the house was sent to the committee of the whole for action.

Weaver today announced W. N. Barry, Okfuskee county, would head the committee on elections in the house; Ira Finley, Oklahoma county, committee on labor and arbitration; and D. A. McDougal, committee on revenue and taxation.

Tomorrow both houses will receive another flood of measures and probably will begin work on bills in the committee of the whole.

Fishermen Ride Iceberg Safely Into Harbor

MOSCOW, Jan. 7. (AP)—Fifty fishermen who were swept to sea on an iceberg Monday when the floe broke loose in the frozen Caspian sea, sailed ashore today before a driving wind.

They had ridden horses on to the ice along the coast and were fishing through holes when a storm broke a huge floe from the shore. Airplane and several ships had been searching for them.

Colorado Bars Making Of Medicinal Alcohol

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 7. (AP)—Manufacture of medicinal alcohol under federal permit was held illegal in Colorado by Federal Judge J. Foster Symes in ruling of a breach of contract suit against the Western Products company. He declared the manufacture violated state laws.

House Passes $92,000,000 First Deficiency Bill

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—The house today passed the $92,000,000 first deficiency bill, including $543,370 for increased activities of the prohibition bureau.

Col. Woods Reveals New Estimate of 4,500,000 Unemployed

HOUSE IN STALEMATE

Administration Policy For Relief Assailed By Demo Senator

By FRASER EDWARDS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (US)—Congress muddled through another futile day, while a mosaic picture of misery in the drouth stricken South and want among upwards of 5,000,000 jobless in the nation was pieced together in the chambers and committees.

Fears of an extra session once more gripped administration leaders as they viewed the tangled legislative situation and saw another of the precious 48 working days left until March 4 pass with little accomplished.

While the house passed the first deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $543,000 for the employment of 120 additional dry agents, the senate spent the entire day in debating drouth relief and the ousting of three members of the federal power commission.

Small Hope Offered

The senate appropriations committee was startled when Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the president's emergency unemployment commission, estimated between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 unemployed and offered little hope of improvement in the situation before spring.

This estimate was nearly double the unemployment figures of the census bureau and aroused Senator Copeland of New York, to charge that the administration has been "soft-pedaling" and "trying to minimize the situation."

Bride Injured In Electra Accident

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 7.—Mrs. F. E. Stanford, a bride of less than 24 hours suffered a broken collar bone, and Miss Marjorie Stanford, sister-in-law, was slightly hurt about 2:30 Wednesday afternoon when their car overturned after a tire blowout on the Wichita-Electra highway.

Mrs. Stanford, who formerly made her home in Fort Worth, was married in Memphis Tuesday. With her sister-in-law from Los Angeles Calif., she had started to Fort Worth, expecting to join the bridegroom there when business affairs permitted.

News of the accident was sent to Mr. Stanford in Memphis Wednesday night and he was reported on his way to Electra.

Physicians at the Electra hospital said both patients could leave the institution within two days.

Lucas Methods Rapped By Party Treasurer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—Emphatic disapproval of the actions of Robert H. Lucas in opposing the re-election of Senator Norris and in pledging a Republican national committee bank account as security for a personal loan to pay for publicity used was voiced today by Joseph R. Nutt, national committee treasurer.

Nutt, a white-haired Cleveland financier, told the senate campaign funds committee that Lucas, executive director of the national organization, had a right to "fight" Norris, a Republican independent leader, but "made a mistake" in the methods used.

Art Acord's Friends Raise Burial Fund

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 7. (US)—So that Art Acord, former motion picture cowboy star and ex-service man, may not be left to rest in a pauper's grave in Mexico, his friends and former buddies are bending every effort to raise funds for the return of his body. Acord took his own life in Chihuahua, Mexico, last Sunday.

Grandeur of Joffre Funeral March Matches Return of Napoleon's Body

PARIS, Jan. 7. (AP)—France, in a final tribute of love and respect to the "savior" of Paris, gave Marshal Joffre today a national funeral which in its grandeur reminded of that "day of ashes" when the body of Napoleon Bonaparte was brought back from St. Helena.

Tonight the body of the valiant victor of the Marne lay, like that of Napoleon, under the great dome of the Invalides, in a disused sacristy of the chapel of St. Louis, dedicated to the old crusader king. It was placed there so Madame Joffre might pray beside her soldier husband in silence.

Some months from now the body will be transferred to "Chestnut Grove" the marshal's country home, where it will be entombed in a mausoleum like that of Washington at Mt. Vernon.

Church and state united today to make the last rites of France's loved soldier a full expression of the republic's gratitude and respect. The thousands of French people who filled the gray old cathedral of Notre Dame and the million or more who lined the route of the cortege from the cathedral to the Invalides testified abundantly the love that Paris bore for "Papa" Joffre.

'Constructive Program' Expected At Unemployment Mass Meet Today

A "constructive discussion" of the unemployment situation in Wichita Falls is expected to result from the mass meeting of unemployed residents of the city at 2:30 o'clock at the Memorial auditorium Thursday, it was stated Wednesday by P. P. Palmer, chairman of the committee which called the meeting.

Mr. Palmer said leaders hoped to secure definite suggestions for the improvement of conditions, as well as definite information on the need of scores of persons for work.

"We wish to emphasize that this meeting is not one intended to take advantage of any person, or to sponsor unfair statements and opinions," Mr. Palmer declared.

"We hope for a constructive discussion of our problems. We have arranged for several speakers, but every effort will be made to keep the program brief.

"We wish to emphasize that no disorderly actions will be tolerated at this meeting."

Mr. Palmer also called attention to the fact that persons of property are invited to attend the meeting, as well as those seeking work. Judges, attorneys, welfare workers and officers were also asked to attend. The meeting is expected to last about two hours, Mr. Palmer said.

SENATE TOLD OF SUFFERING

ditions in the South was furnished by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, his colleague Caraway, and Governor Parnell of his state, together with Senator Heflin of Alabama and Smith of South Carolina.

Assail Administration

Bitterly assailing the administration relief policy as "negative," Robinson charged that neither President Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Hyde nor John Barton Payne, chairman of the Red Cross "know the real conditions." He strongly urged the $15,000,000 food fund amendment to the $45,000,000 drouth relief bill and the use of 10,000,000 bushels of the wheat held by the federal farm board to feed the hungry, which the board has opposed.

Caraway charged Payne with making an "untrue statement" when he told the committee yesterday that only 40 persons instead of 500 were involved in the food riot at England, Ark. Robinson said other riots in Arkansas had been "suppressed" by the press.

Action Blocked

Meanwhile, action on the $45,000,000 relief bill was again blocked in the house by Representative La Guardia, of New York, who insisted that the food fund be used in part to feed the jobless in the cities.

The most encouraging development of the day was the virtual agreement of the senate and house conferees on the Muscle Shoals project. The compromise bill calls for government operation of the power project and distribution of power, with private operation of the nitrate plants.

There was likewise a note of encouragement in the testimony of Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, at the senate inquiry into the adequacy of the president's relief program. He testified that $50,000,000 of road contracts would be let by Feb. 1; $50,000,000 by March 1 and the entire $300,000,000 fund furnished by the federal government and the states by July 1.

McDonald estimated this will put 100,000 men to work and the $80,000,000 emergency road fund recently voted by congress would give employment to 50,000 more men.

Dodges Tax Issue

Colonel Woods told the committee that "every available dollar" should be put into public works, but dodged the direct question of Senator Copeland as the necessity of increasing taxes and providing $1,000,000,000 for public works to meet the situation. He said that over $1,000,000,000 in public works, federal, state and county, had reached the "contract stage."

The position of the food fund forces was further strengthened by a telegram from Governor Parnell, of Arkansas, who repudiated published reports belittling the food riots at England, Ark., and indicating that the state was not in need of federal assistance.

On the contrary, the governor said the state revenues were insufficient to cope with the situation which is "now growing worse with all food gone and no winter clothing." He added:

"It is imperative the Arkansas delegation continue to place seriousness of situation before congress and additional assistance be rendered."

New Count Planned

Colonel Woods, appearing before the senate appropriations committee, said an unemployment census would be taken the middle of this month and that he expected to find conditions "at their worst" because "employment is likely to be lowest in January and February."

Characterizing the situation as "intolerable," Colonel Woods said there were millions of men eager for work, who would not find jobs. And while he said he was getting splendid cooperation generally from employers, he severely criticized "big business," for permitting unemployment cycles.

"This is the sort of situation that cannot be permitted to go on," he said. "We can't stand any more of these depressions."

"Then you agree with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler that the social order is in danger? asked Senator Copeland.

"Not immediate danger," replied Woods. "We've had our warning in time and I believe this will be the beginning of an industrial evolution along new lines."

State Plans for Highway 5 Accepted by Road Association

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Jan. 7.—Acceptance of the state highway commission's plan for division of work and for routing of highway five between Gainesville and Henrietta was voted in a meeting of the association members held here Tuesday.

The motion, passed by an overwhelming vote, provided that the county furnish the right of way for the road and the state proceed with drainage and grading work. The commission's routing, except for such changes as can be mutually agreed upon, was accepted.

As a result of the association's action, a meeting of the Nocona Better Business committee was called by T. B. Wilkes, chairman, to arrange plans for securing the right of way. Paul Finn, state representative from Montague county, outlined the route as it was finally determined by the highway commission.

Progress Told

Egbert Thompson, secretary for the highway made a general report on the improvement of the eastern division of the road, stating that the contract will be let for the drainage and grading between Gainesville and Whitesboro on Jan. 15. This means that all the drainage and grading work will be completed on the Texarkana to Gainesville section with most of the road already hard surfaced.

J. S. Bridwell, president of Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce urged that the counties of Cook, Montague and Clay agree on a routing as soon as possible and accept the highway commission's proposition. Mr. Bridwell brought out that it was one of the few important state highways in Texas that was not developed and that work on it now would help the unemployment situation and above all, he expressed the wish that the various factions get together and act for the common good and the best interest of the state.

Delegates Listed

Joe Boozer, Gainesville, president, presided. The following attended the meeting: J. S. Bridwell and J. H. Allison, Wichita Falls; W. W. Reynolds, Ringgold; W. L. Scott Jr., St. Jo; H. N. Dearmore, W. H. London, G. H. Kuykendall, Montague; S. H. Fleming, Nocona; A. A. Hurdley, St. Jo; J. D. Cobb, R. G. Atkin, H. M. Vehon, Anthony Fenoglio, J. A. Foushe, Frank M. Thompson, Sherman; G. W. Humphreys, Nocona; J. T. McNew, S. W. Talley, Nocona; G. W. Williamson, A. V. Peterson, F. L. Perry, E. F. Clegg, Jno. R. Miller, T. B. Wilkes, Jno. W. Lehman, John D. White, D. G. Goodwin, Nocona; T. R. Stump, W. E. Jassin, J. W. Romine, H. A. Heath, Joe L. Janeway, True Strong, Nocona; J. A. W. McGrew, J. W. Lathan, Bonita.

THREE KILLED IN AIR CRASH

a densely wooded section of Harrison county. Roads leading to the place were poor and almost impassable, delaying parties who left for the scene as soon as the negroes were able to communicate news of the accident over rural telephone lines to Marshall.

Well Known Pilot

Brown was a well-known pilot, having flown planes for the Davis Air lines between Atlanta, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala., and Williams was a widely-known Southeastern pilot, having participated in Atlanta and Miami air races.

Bodies of the dead were brought here and prepared for burial.

It was the second fatal airplane accident in this immediate section this week, three men having been killed in a crash at Overton Sunday morning. They were flying from Shreveport, La., to Dallas.

BOY'S MOTHER IN COLLAPSE

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7. (AP)—Mrs. E. H. Carlton, who said a grave boodbye to her son, Robert Ralph Wilson, 16, as he left for school in New Orleans by airplane this morning, was waiting tonight in a state of collapse for the body of her son.

His body will be returned tomorrow morning from Marshall, where Wilson was killed in a crash a few hours after the plane took off from the airport here. His father, R. R. Wilson, with whom the boy was spending the school months in New Orleans went to the scene of the crash and will accompany the body here.

Mrs. Carlton was told her boy had been hurt. Moaning her regret that she had permitted him to go back to school by plane, she begged for details of the accident.

Fought Plane Trip

It was throught best not to tell her that her son was killed. She had returned only recently from the hospital and was subject to heart attacks. She had been worn with worry over an automobile accident at Itasca, New Years, in which her husband, an older son and two other persons had been injured.

A doctor was called to attend her and at 4 o'clock, when she still pleaded for more news of her son, a sister told her his injuries were serious. She knew the truth.

A nurse was kept at her bedside tonight, because relatives feared the shock might prove too great.

The boy had persuaded his mother after almost bitter argument to allow him to go back to New Orleans by plane.

BROWN ONCE AT ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 7. (AP)—Arthur Brown, airplane pilot, who died in a crash at Marshall, Texas, today formerly piloted planes here. His home was at Mt. Vernon, Ill. After serving as an instructor at a flying school here he bought a plane and carried passengers at Mt. Vernon.

He later became a pilot for Interstate Airlines, flying airmail between St. Louis and Evansville, Ind.

TWO DIE IN ADA CRASH

ADA, Okla., Jan. 7. (AP)—Two Ada men were killed instantly in an airplane crash at Ahloso switch five miles southeast of here late today. The victims were Wayne Spencer, 21, operator of the Spencer flying school, and Lee Davis, a passenger.

The ship fell when the left wing crumpled, Estel Henson, a student who was piloting another plane near the scene, said. A structural defect was believed to have caused the crash from an altitude of 150 feet. The plane struck a railroad embankment. The men's bodies were badly broken, and the plane was demolished.

Spencer held a transport license. He owned two planes.

Loaded Freight Plane Reaches Bermuda Port

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 7. (AP)—The white Monoplane Trade Wind, washed by rain that was driven before a strong Northwest wind, sped down out of gray skies to a safe landing in Hamilton harbor this afternoon. It thus completed the first leg of a payload flight from Norfolk, Va., to Paris.

Its motor roared again almost as soon as the pontoons touched the water, and its red-haired woman pilot, Mrs. Beryl Hart, drove the plane upward from the choppy seas and flew to a safer spot in front of the hangar on Hinson's island.

Fire Wrecks Drug Store in Burk

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Jan. 7.—Fire believed to have originated in the electric wiring early Wednesday morning damaged the building, stock, and fixtures of the City Drug store here. The amount of the loss had not been estimated late Wednesday.

The blaze started at the rear of the building, in the attic, spread through the ceiling and to the prescription department. Smoke and water was added to the actual fire losses.

John Knox, proprietor of the store, said the building would be remodeled. Fire Chief J. J. Blackstone blamed the blaze on the wiring.

'Millionaire Kid' Denies $26,000 Larceny Charge

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (INS)—Robert Lee Harrison, once called "the Millionaire Kid" on Wall street, pleaded not guilty to the larceny of $26,000 from Mrs. Edith Y. Robinson when arraigned today.

The blond and dapper Harrison sai dthe charges were not true and his side of the case had not been presented yet.

Mrs. Robinson, New York, charged she gave him $26,000 in securities, and got no accounting of them. Harrison came to Wall street from Syracuse with $12,000 about 12 years ago and ran his nest egg up to six and a half million, according to his lawyer, then lost it all in the depression.

Anti-Employment League Gets Charter

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 7. (UP)—The state charter board today granted a charter to the Citizens League Against Unemployment.

The organization has headquarters at Clearwater, Kan., and was formed to aid unemployed oil workers in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Among the incorporators are F. A. Butts and Charles Pepin of Tulsa, Okla.

HALL FARMERS SUPPORT CO-OP

Business - Agricultural Alliance Urged

Special to The Record News

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 6.—The Hall county farmers met Monday afternoon, Jan. 5 for the purpose of further discussing the conditions of the agricultural world and for the purpose of better organizing themselves that there may be found a remedy that will save them from the present depression for another year.

Henry J. Wischkaemper of Wellington, Texas, was present at the meeting in the interest of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association and made a beneficial address, making it possible for the farmer to see the opposition of the association and the situation that is likely to become of it.

In his address, Mr. Wischkaemper made the following statement: "Of the things that we need such as food stuff, feed and such necessities we have plenty in supply but the farmer has no means of getting possession of them. The price of cotton is not sufficient to permit them to buy other things that are really needed at a time like the present. Much unlike the times back in 1800 when the people were unable to get it because of the lack in store, we have everything in abundance but no financial way of getting it."

Mr. Wischkaemper further stated that the present situation was brought about by the lack of organization upon the part of the farmer with the business man.

A large representation of the Hall county farmers were present for this meeting and many voiced their opinions of the present and their ideas of relief and many of them pledged themselves to stay behind the association in every effort to lift their burden.

Monthly meetings of the farmers was suggested and the introduction of the Cotton Seed Breeders association was made.

Stonewall Names Drouth Committee

Special to The Record News.

ASPERMONT, Texas, Jan. 7.—A committee composed of J. C. Link, merchant; R. L. Springer, banker; and Tol Ginn, farmer, all residents of Aspermont, has been appointed to direct disbursement of Stonewall county's quota of the $3,700,000 loan that Texas will receive as a drouth relief measure. This committee will make out and pass upon applications for loans.

Community committees within the county will be formed at once to ascertain the amount of loan possible and to verify the justness of application for the loan.

Smoot Proposes Huge Treasury Bond Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—Authorization of an additional $8,000,000,000 in bonds to provide for treasury re-financing under the second liberty loan act was sought today in a bill introduced by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah.

The bill, proposed on recommendation of Secretary Mellon, would increase from $20,000,000,000 to $28,000,000,000 the second liberty loan bond issue and exempt the principal and interest of bonds issued under that act from all taxes except estate and inheritance taxes.

John McCormack Hopes For Union of Ireland

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (INS)—A union between the Irish Free State and Northern Ireland was predicted today by John McCormack, Irish tenor. He arrived here from abroad last night.

He said there were many rumors of the union and he was sure such a consolidation was imminent.

SPRING HAS CAME

Canadian Woods Bloom While Robin Nest Shows Eggs

JASPER PARK, Alta., Jan. 7. (AP)—Spring is here story No. 1, series of 1931.

Vernon Sliter, school boy, walking along Cabin Creek trail yesterday found three warm robin eggs in a nest in a spruce tree.

MOOSEJAW, Sask., Jan. 7. (AP)—Spring is here story No. 2, series of 1931:

Not even the oldest oldtimer hereabouts can remember a winter as mild as this one. Pussywillow is in bloom, robins chirp in the parks and one citizen says hollyhocks in his garden are six inches above ground.

Five Italian Airmen Killed

cidents at the start of the daring squadron flight to Natal, Brazil. Ten of the planes arrived there under command of Gen. Italo Balbo.

The first accident occurred when one of the planes piloted by Capt. Ena Silvio Recagno made a forced landing just after the take-off. The plane plunged about 150 feet into the sea. First Sergeant Louis Fois was killed. He was a mechanic.

Captain Recagno, Lieutenant Renato Abbriata and the radio operator, Sergeant Mario Mancini, were unhurt, the communique declared.

The second accident took the lives of four men. The dead, the entire crew of the second plane:

Capt. Louis Boer, pilot.
Lieutenant Danilo Barbicinti.
Sergeant Felice Nensi, mechanic.
Sergeant Ercole Imbastari, radio operator.

The plane was forced to land on the ocean 10 minutes after the flight started. It came down in flames and all were burned to death. The plane was destroyed.

The communique declared both accidents were a result of risks which were described as inevitably involved in taking off with a full load required on a long transatlantic flight.

Two other planes which descended to the ocean as they approached the coast of South America were proceeding toward Brazil, the communique said. One was expected to arrive late tonight and the second tomorrow, at the island of Fernando Noronha, 125 miles off Natal, where the 10 other machines succeeded in making port without mishap.

BRAZILIANS FETE LEADER OF FLIGHT

NATAL, Brazil, Jan. 7. (US)—Gen Italo Balbo, Italian air minister who led 39 companions to fame in the first air armada flight from Africa to South America, flew through a riotous round of receptions and congratulatory ceremonies today.

The air minister and the crews of the 10 planes which successfully made the crossing of the South Atlantic were guests of honor at a luncheon given by the provisional governor of Natal this afternoon, and tonight were present at a ball given by the Natal Aero club.

The 10 planes of the black, red, white and green squadrons were being overhauled meanwhile at the Natal naval air station, preparatory to the last stage of the long journey from Italy. The planes will probably be flown to Rio de Janeiro Brazilian capital, on Friday, if the overhauling and cleaning of the motors is completed by then.

room at Notre Dame when the arrival of President Doumergue signaled the beginning of the requiem mass, shortened at Joffre's own request. The highest officials of the government were there in bomber garb and representatives of many nations, many of them attending as the personal representatives of rulers and sovereigns.

The choir sang the familiar "Libera Me Domine," and then the "Dies Irae," before the organ swung into the impressive notes of the requiem. Monsignor Joseph Marie Tessier, bishop of chalons-Sur-Marne, read the absolution and gave the final blessing.

Outside in the square in front of the cathedral the cortege formed, republican guardsmen in the lead. On either side of the coffin marched a company of infantry and behind, after the marshal's immediate family, marched the president, members of the government, and the diplomatic corps, including Walter E. Edge, American ambassador.

An orderly led "Sorciere" the marshal's horse, caparisoned in black.

There was intense silence as the cortege moved slowly up the Rue de Rivoli to the Palace de la Concorde and the Grand palace, where it turned and crossed the Alexander III bridge to the great square in front of the Invalides. There Louis Barthou, minister of war, paid the government's eulogy.

He hailed Joffre as a "savior of world liberty" and said that he was there to "voice the unanimous gratitude of the nation."

After the funeral oration the marshal's body was born solemnly to the sacristy where it will remain until the mausoleum at Louveciennes is ready.

Railroad Head Urges Economy Consolidations

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 7. (AP)—Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railway, tonight urged consolidation of railroads to reduce expenses.

Addressing the Des Moines Chamber of Commerce, Budd said the condition of railroads has been brought into sharp relief by the present economic situation and the variety of competition they face.

The Great Northern head, however, forecasted that returning normal business conditions would be as effective for railroads as for other lines of industry.

Here's Quick Way To Break Up a Cold

Makes You Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

The thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all.

Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back to first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

HILL'S Cascara Quinine Compound

Too much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine, prescribed by doctors for conditions due to excess acid. It is always a liquid; it cannot be made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips' and the word genuine in red.

JUNIOR C.-C. FIXES BUDGET

$6,670 Fund Appropriated For 1931 Work

The board of directors of the Junior chamber of commerce adopted a budget of $6,670 for the year 1931 at a meeting Wednesday night at the chamber of commerce offices. The report of proposed expenditures for the year was made by Shadie F. Hale, chairman of the budget committee, the board approving the recommendations as read.

Appointments Approved

Maurice Cheek, president, named chairmen of 15 committees that he has appointed since being inducted into office. The board approved the appointments.

On recommendation it was voted to extend cooperation to the KGKO radio station here in an attempt to secure an increase of power from 500 watts during the night hours and 1,000 watts during the day to 1,000 watts at all hours. It was pointed out that a powerful radio station in Wichita Falls is a civic asset and that efforts to obtain more power for the station here would be in line with present plans for the advancement of Wichita Falls.

It was also voted to aid the heads of the vocational school here which is being inaugurated by the federal government and the public school system, in that assistance would be given in finding a temporary location for the institution.

It was decided that the board of directors and other members of the Junior chamber of commerce would act as ushers at the senior chamber of commerce annual meeting to be held at the Memorial auditorium on Friday night.

Approval was granted to the membership drive committee in its plans for conducting the campaign and a grand prize of either a suit of clothes or a trip to the U. S. junior chamber of commerce convention to be held in Des Moines, Iowa, during the summer was authorized to be given to the member securing the greatest number of points in the drive. Approval of $10 hats as prizes to team winners in the membership contest was given.

Senior Division Thanked

A resolution was passed to extend a vote of thanks to the senior chamber of commerce for cooperation given the junior organization during the past year and that a pledge of support to the senior group be given for the ensuing year.

An invitation from the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce to attend the annual banquet there Thursday was read. It was decided to send 10 or more representatives to attend the meeting there.

Several members of the organization will attend the inaugural party of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce there Friday night, it was said, although the date conflicts with the annual meeting of the senior chamber of commerce here.

Aged Woman Dies In Iowa Park Home

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Nannie Fulton, 80, Hall county pioneer and a resident of Wichita county during the past 10 years, succumbed to an attack of influenza at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Peterson, Wednesday. Mrs. Fulton had been in failing health for several years.

Funeral services will be held from the Peterson home, three and one-half miles northwest of Iowa Park at 2:30 Thursday afternoon. Rev. G. N. Neafus of the First Baptist church will officiate.

Mrs. Fulton came to make her home with Mrs. Peterson after the death of her husband in Memphis about 10 years ago. She is survived by six children. They are: Mrs. C. A. Peterson, Iowa Park; Robert Fulton, Amarillo; Mrs. C. H. Green and Mrs. Lizzie Nondorf, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Hexie Tilton, Akron, Ohio; and Mrs. Dollie Winburn, Amarillo.

Auto Strikes Negro, Police Seek Driver

A hit and run driver was being sought by city police Wednesday night after James Taylor, a negro, 813 Fort Worth street, was run down and slightly injured earlier in the evening in the 800 block on Fort Worth highway.

The negro was walking on the highway when he was struck by the automobile which was coming toward the city. Witnesses of the accident said the driver failed to stop.

The negro was taken to the Wichita General hospital where minor injuries were attended.

J. H. Pogue, motorcycle officer, who investigated and who escorted the ambulance to the hospital, was also slightly injured when he was struck by an out-of-town motorist at Ninth and Lamar street intersection. The officer received bruises and his motorcycle was damaged.

SHRINE DANCE

Approximately 100 couples, composed of Shriners and their ladies attended the dance given in honor of Potentate Ed Peterson and members of the nobility Wednesday evening by Maskat Temple band.

The affair was held in the auditorium of Maskat temple on the top floor of the City National building from 9 to 12 o'clock. Charles S. Richardson was master of ceremonies and Leon C. Taylor was chairman of the committee on arrangements. Refreshments were served.

Girl Paralysis Victim Weeps For Lover After Elopement Is Barred

CINCINNATI, Jan. 7. (UP)—The love of Charlotte Dessauer, 24, a patient at the home for incurables here, for a man known as "William" was darkened today by the memory of a romance that failed.

Miss Dessauer, who is a victim of infantile paralysis and cannot walk, was placed in the institution several months ago by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Barlinger, of Detroit. She immediately fell in love with "William," who was an attendant at the institution.

William, who was described as being 53 years old and handsome, paid much attention to Miss Dessauer. In fact he paid so much attention to the patient that he was discharged on Dec. 30. Love, stronger than duty, prompted him to disregard previous warnings.

But William persisted. Last Friday night he came to see Miss Dessauer. He entered the building through the basement and was discovered by Miss Drusilla Schenk, the superintendent. He ran and escaped.

Yesterday the superintendent sensed an incipient romance. The patient was unusually cheerful and sang frequently. She asked that her window be left open. So Miss Schenk kept watch.

Early today her vigil was rewarded. An automobile came up the drive. William stepped from the car and unloaded the implements by which he hoped to capture the girl—a long ladder and a clothes basket.

Stealthily he moved across the lawn, ladder in one hand and basket in the other. Apparently the waiting superintendent made a telltale move for William stopped suddenly, dropped his romantic gadgets and ran. He leaped into his metal steed and was seen no more. Miss Dessauer wept.

Police said that William was married and had two children.

Wichita's Need for Improvements In Water System Told Legion

Membership of 700, Announced by Friberg, Gives City Largest Post in Texas

Wichita Falls' need for improvements in the water system was explained to members of Pat Carrigan post, American Legion, at the monthly meeting of the organization Wednesday night at the Memorial auditorium.

Herbert Voelcker, chairman of the water improvements campaign committee, told of the necessity for an adequate supply of soft water for industrial and home use, and declared savings by improvements in the system will more than pay for the cost of the proposed $1,000,000 bond issue. Scores of men will be given employment if the bond issue carries, Mr. Voelcker said.

Legion Members Entertain

Entertainment at the meeting included numbers by Fritz Heimer's String orchestra, directed by Fritz Taylor, a member of the legion, and old time fiddlin' by J. F. Green, another legion member. Dr. L. I. Lucey gave a thrilling account of a South African lion hunt which he made in 1915-16.

Tom B. Martin, reporting for the membership committee, declared there are now more than 700 members enrolled in the Pat Carrigan post, giving Wichita Falls the largest post in the state. Comparative figures given by Adjutant J. F. Friberg showed Amarillo with 62, San Antonio with 149, and Wichita Falls with 670 as of Jan. 2.

Mr. Friberg also called the attention of members to the special radio program dedicated to Gen. John J. Pershing over station WFAA at Dallas at 10:15 Saturday night. Speakers on the program include Hal Brennan, state commander, and Gen. John A. Hulen. Mr. Friberg also reported claims filed for disability allowances since July 28, 1930, numbered 99, on which awards of $260 a month or $3,120 annually had been approved.

Many New Members

The time to file suit on government insurance policies has been extended to July 31, 1931, Mr. Friberg announced.

Other reports at the meeting included that of C. C. Kirby, chairman of the executive committee; Milton J. Gaines, entertainment committee; Jacob B. Price, legislative committee; drum and bugle corps, L. K. Hotham.

More than 200 members attended the meeting Wednesday night, of this number 50 were new members attending their first meeting, it was announced.

DEATH CLAIMS 'DADDY' BALL

Veteran Katy Worker Dies At Age of 77

Henry M. (Daddy) Ball, 77, pioneer Texan and railroad man and a resident of Wichita Falls for 20 years, died early Wednesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. K. Fretwell, 404 Seventh street.

For the past 20 years and since coming to Wichita Falls he had been continuously employed with the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railway here as lamplighter. He worked at this occupation Monday and had been in good health prior to an illness Tuesday which developed into pneumonia and resulted in his death Wednesday night.

He was known to a host of railroad men in Wichita Falls and at Denison, his former home.

He was born in Shreveport, La., and moved to Texas shortly after his marriage over 53 years ago to Mrs. Ball, who died last month. He resided in Denison for a number of years before removing to Wichita Falls.

Burial will be beside the body of his wife in the Denison cemetery, where he had been sexton for seven years while residing there.

Funeral arrangements are not expected to be completed before the arrival of sons and daughters from California, although services will probably be held here Sunday.

Several sons and daughters, grandchildren and a son-in-law were at the bedside at the time of death.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Mildred Adams of Fort Worth, Mrs. Pearl Hunter of Ryan, Okla., Mrs. M. K. Fretwell of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Mary Froman of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Annie Anderson of LeForth, Texas; one son, F. M. Ball of Los Angeles; 18 grandchildren, one of whom, Henry Renfro of Wichita Falls, Mr. Ball reared from early childhood; and four great grandchildren.

Arrangements are in charge of the Dalton-Powell Funeral home.

FIRE DAMAGES HOUSE

A vacant three-room house at 416 Bonner street was damaged to the extent of $250 when fire of undetermined origin wrecked two of the rooms early Wednesday night, according to the report of fire officials. The house was owned by Tom Chisholm.

MELLON NAMED IN OIL FIGHT

Treasury Secretary Charged With Fighting Tariff

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (UP)—Agitation for an oil tariff to protect distressed mid-continent operators broadened today to include charges against Secretary of Treasury Mellon and to connect the plight of oil men with the general unemployment situation.

There was also the suggestion the oil tariff proposal might have a bearing on the extra session of congress which President Hoover hopes to avoid, but which may be necessary, if a legislative jam develops. Plans for reopening the oil wells of Kansas and Oklahoma were discussed with President Hoover at the White House late today by Secretaries Lamont of commerce, Hurley of war, Wilbur of interior, and Senator Arthur Capper, Republican, Kansas.

Directors of the Midcontinent Royalty association, in a telegram which Senator Elmer Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, placed in the congressional record, charged that Mellon, whose family controls the Gulf Oil company, a large oil importing concern, was using his influence against enactment of an oil tariff.

The association urged Thomas to force an extra session of congress if necessary to obtain consideration of the needs of the oil industry. An investigation by the federal trade commission also was suggested.

Secretary of Interior Wilbur entered the discussion again with renewed opposition to the tariff idea. He recommended the United States import most of its oil, conserving its own for the future.

Wilbur argued enactment of a tariff would require too much time and have little effect as a relief measure. His statement drew an immediate reply from Representative W. A. Ayres, Democrat, Kansas, who said there is a parallel between the situation of distressed oil operators and workers unable to obtain employment.

"Secretary Wilbur," Ayres said, "probably has forgotten we are appropriating millions of dollars at the present time to assist in relieving fearful conditions of unemployment."

Ayres said expiration of oil leases worked a hardship upon farmers "almost as much as the drouth." The situation calls for opening of wells and resumption of production instead of importation of oil, the Kansas congressman asserted.

WIRT FRANKLIN ASSAILS WILBUR

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 7. (UP)—Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum Producers association of America, attacked the administration's petroleum policy as he left for Washington oil relief conference.

"Secretary Wilbur has not progressed a day since the ill-fated attempt of the administration at Colorado Springs in June, 1929, to form the oil states into a compact to throttle development and perpetuate the orgy of importation that he again approves," Franklin said.

The Oklahoma City independent operator referred to Wilbur's statement attacking the proposed tariff on oil.

"I hope Wilbur reiterates before the governors' meeting his un-American views, and if he does, I want him to remain to hear my answer. He is ridiculous, especially in view of his education," Franklin said.

Q.—In ancient Greece, what name was given to sixes by those who threw dice?—S. A. W.

A.—Sixes, which were high, were popularly called "Aphrodite."

Q.—Which is the larger city, Toledo or Columbus, Ohio, and how do they rank as compared with 10 years ago?—W. E. R.

A.—Preliminary census reports for 1930 give Toledo a population of 290,803 and Columbus, 289,056. They rank, respectively, 26th and 28th in the list of leading cities, the same positions which they held in 1920.

Q.—What were the "Newburgh Addresses"?—P. L. B.

A.—The Newburgh addresses were two anonymous letters, written in behalf of the American soldiers whose pay had been withheld, which appeared in 1783 after the close of the revolutionary war. It was afterward made known that Gen. John Armstrong wrote them.

Q.—Where is Empress Josephine buried?—E. W.

A.—Her grave is in the small church of Ruell.

Q.—What is basal metabolism?—M. M.

A.—It is the energy conversion rate of the human body when resting quietly, several hours after the latest meal.

Q.—Was the drouth last summer worse than any that has preceded it?—A. M. C.

A.—It was the severest in the climatological history of the central and eastern portions of the United States. The growing season from March to August was the driest of record in the middle Atlantic states and the Ohio and middle Mississippi valleys.

Q.—Have the Olympic games ever been held in the United States?—W. N. D.

A.—They were held in the United States at St. Louis in 1904. The next Olympic games will be held in this country in Los Angeles in 1932.

Q.—What is the name of the child welfare foundation recently established?—S. B.

A.—The W. K. Kellogg Child Welfare Foundation has been established at Battle Creek, Mich., by Mr. Kellogg. It is for the treatment of backward children throughout the country.

Q.—When was the Gaelic language at its height in Ireland?—N. S.

A.—Deasmumhan O'Cleirigh says that as a living language it reached its acme of perfection in the 17th and 18th centuries. Thereafter, it declined as there was a law against its use. Now, Gaelic is the official language of the Irish Free State.

Q.—How many unemployed people are there in Germany?—E. S. L.

A.—No fewer than 3,500,000 persons are unemployed in Germany and there are prospects of this number increasing later in the winter.

Q.—What substance gives a Worcestershire sauce its characteristic flavor?—A. J. M.

A.—The characteristic flavor is imparted by the soy bean.

Q.—Where are oil stones found?—F. C. D.

A.—The most extensively used oilstones in the United States come from Indiana and Arkansas. Oilstones are also made artificially from powdered corborundum.

Q.—How much water is there in a dense fog?—C. S.

A.—By studying fog off the grand banks it was determined that a block of very dense fog 100 feet long by 6 feet high by 3 feet wide contains about one-seventh of a glass of water. This is divided into about 60 billion droplets.

Why Jobs Are Scarce

THROUGH all of the celebration of high prosperity during the years immediately preceding the unpleasantness of October, 1929, sober watchers at the banquet were conscious of the presence of a grinning death's head. This spectre bore the cumbersome name of "technological unemployment," which was just a nice way of saying that more and more men were being thrown out of work each year by the invention of more efficient machinery.

Right now, of course, we have so much unemployment of the old-fashioned, familiar kind that this more modern variety is being forgotten. But when prosperity returns we shall see it again, and it will be, as it was before, a sobering reminder that our industrial machine is in need of a better balance wheel.

However, a new angle on technological unemployment is given in a recent statement from Prof. William B. Bailey, economist of the Travelers Insurance company. Prof. Bailey makes this point:

"During the last 10 years agriculture has released about 400,000 workers annually, and between three and four million fewer persons live today on farms than 10 years ago. Industry, trade and transportation have been forced to find jobs for all these persons, in spite of the alarm raised over technological unemployment in industry."

Prof. Bailey thinks industry has done remarkably well in finding those jobs; and he points out:

"We assume that new inventions have thrown so many persons out of work. If agriculture was caring for the three or four million persons that it has turned to the cities for industry, trade annd transportation to look after, this unemployment problem today would be much less severe."

True enough. And not only would conditions in this depression be better; in normal times this "technological unemployment" problem would be about non-existent.

All of this indicates that the problem, in normal times, is primarily not so much an industrial problem as an agricultural one. If agriculture can be restored to its old-time health, the city man will feel the beneficial effects quite as much as the farmer. There will be less competition for jobs. Work will be easier to find. Wages will be higher. Technological unemployment will be just a phrase, and not an evil death's head.

And that, of course, shows that the restoration of agriculture is an issue that ought to engage the attention of the industrial sections quite as much as it engages the attention of the corn belt.

The New Year's Challenge

INTERVIEWS, incidents and investigations daily prove the increasing predominance of one problem as this country's greatest for the immediate future—that of relieving economic dependence of a large portion of its population.

Proration of oil, adjustment of prices on farm products, and prohibition will continue to receive much serious attention. But they are secondary to the paramount importance of evolving methods of providing for each deserving citizen means of maintaining himself and his family respectably without snuffing out his most valuable possession—self-respect.

The entire nation, even most of the world, can study its own economic problem by studying Wichita Falls, just as this city may scrutinize its own condition by studying those of other communities. So nearly are they all afflicted similarly with an excess of family heads without means of supporting their families. England has her dole system; scores of American cities their soup and bread lines; Wichita Falls has her community chest. All three designed to transfer from the more fortunate class sufficient food, fuel and clothing to maintain physical life among the numerous unfortunates. All three afford temporary relief, blessed because the need for it is so intense. Yet all three, in like measure, are designed to convert the recipient of such aid into an habitual, resigned object of charity. It is not amiss to consider the possible effects of such a growing social disease within the nation's citizenship.

If humanity's miracle-working intelligence evaluate adequately the dangerous elements revealed by the present world-wide situation, and applies itself to the successful formulation of corrective practices, then the suffering of the millions who live by charity alone today will have been an accepted sacrifice for the happiness of future generations.

Psychiatry and the Courts

IT IS an entirely sensible set of suggestions that the National Crime commission has made in connection with the handling of psychatric cases in American criminal courts and prisons.

Realizing that the "expert testimony" racket has become a farce, the commission proposes that each state provide psychiatric clinics for large courts so that an impartial and detailed examination could be made of the mental state of every man accused of crime.

The advantages of such a step are obvious. Rich defendants could no longer evade justice by hiring all the experts in sight to testify that they are mentally deranged; and, on the other hand, a poor man, genuinely unbalanced mentally, would have a much better chance of getting the treatment he needs than he does under the present hit-or-miss system.

The way our courts handle psychiatric cases has been a disgrace for years. It is to be hoped that the commission's proposals get real attention.

A Third Party

SENATOR NORRIS refuses to lend his support to a third party movement, and thereby doubtless shows his political wisdom. Nevertheless, one is forced to wonder if sooner or later some such movement will not make itself manifest, with a good deal of force.

It is truism today that there is very little fundamental difference between the two major parties. The divisions within the parties—Senator Norris and Senator Moses, for instance, are technically members of the same party, as are Senators Heflin and Wagner—are far more striking than the contrast between the two parties as a whole.

This is hardly a healthy situation. Eventually there must be some sort of realignment. In the past, such realignments have usually been touched off by the appearance of new parties. Will that be the case in this situation? And if so, how far ahead of us is the realignment?

Resolutions

I am going to stop imbibing
Wretched liquor—I'm subscribing
To the theory that the sober man
Is best;
I am through with clubs nocturnal,
Calling utter strangers "Colonel"—
And the act of spilling highballs on my vest.
(For my will grows very strong
As the New Year comes along!)

I am done with fickle fillies,
They have given me the willies
Through the year that gently
faded out of view;
I am finished writing verses
Filled with moaning and with

The Spirit of Broadway

Broadway, to hear Arthur James argue it, is a state of mind, a comedy, a tragedy, a smile and a frown. With one hand it bestows, and with the other it takes away. Broadway is a cynic and an optimist, a royal good fellow, a pretty woman, a highball and a headache. The underlying spirit of Broadway is the spirit of the carnival. Less concentrated places separate their fete days with long, heavy period of commonplaces. Broadway's holiday is perpetual.

The great thoroughfare is all things to all men. It yields to all men what they have the strength to take, and then, like the water is drawn from the sea, Broadway takes its own again. It is the street of opportunity, of gilt paint, of color, of high lights and deep shadows. It countenances the vulgar when the vulgar is rich, it tolerates art, but does not indorse it. It laughs with the spendthrift while his money lasts, and forgets him when he has ceased to be interesting.

Broadway's chief lure is its life. It lives hard, lives gayly; but it lives. The dynamic activity of the greatest street in the United States represents the quick beating of the heart of a speeding nation. Broadway breathes with the breath of the runner and speeds with the great strides of progress. It is as restless as a troubled sleep. It demands new life to feed its life, new forms to people its sidewalks, new faces for its red and gold playhouses and its upholstered restaurants. It demands new money, new laughter, new buildings, and gets them all in each succeeding fortnight. Those who require the concentrated essence of lighter life come to the carnival place to get it. Those who are young of heart and free of purse like Broadway better than all that the best of the provinces can provide.

The outlanders rail at Broadway but their shoutings are drowned by the din of the cabaret shows. Broadway doesn't care who likes it. It asks nobody to its party. It bars no man because of his past, and greets no man because of his future. It is the street of the present. It is a series of ephemeralties. Like the four o'clocks of the garden, it has its fresh blooms every day. Broadway is a juggernaut and a flowery chariot. It is an arena that doubly crowns its victors and turns its face from the defeated. It is not typical of New York nor of Manhattan, nor of any section, locality or place. It is typical only of itself. Its code and its costs are of its own making.

Broadway's dialect is a mingling of the jargon of many tongues blent with a patois individual and distinct. Broadway is a mosaic contrived of living fragments. Its elements are one and many. It is united in the intensity of its life; it breathes and speaks and moves and rushes on with a concerted rhythm that defies definition. Broadway is loved and cursed, admired and scoffed. It responds not and resents not. It burns its candle at both ends but takes thought to have fresh candles to light the flickering wicks of the old.

To omit Broadway is a calamity; to survive Broadway is an achievement. Broadway is a strong wine of which all may sip, but of which only the strong may drink deeply. Its lure is its life and its carelessness of life. Its vulgarities are incidental, not material. Its camaraderie is as free as the air, yet costly as jewels. Men have conquered the professions, but have fallen in the hurry of the feet on its crowded surface. Broadway welcomes heroes and proves them clay. Its people are the high, the middle and the low. It loves a clown better than a king and prefers a song to a sermon. Broadway is cold to the failure, adamant to the prude, pitying to its critics and hearty to all new life.

The spirit of Broadway is the spirit of a child. A bauble pleases it as mightily as a masterpiece. It caters to each of the senses rather than to the head, to the heart rather than to the soul. It holds with Elizabeth, that life is a bog over which we must travel lightly, for if we stop we sink.

Song, laughter, wine, beauty, color and life—always life—these are the good things of Broadway. The bitterness, the failure, the tragedies—these are for the side streets into which are crowded those whose steps have grown heavy in the swift dance. Broadway is the light that never grows dim, the fire that never burns low—the heart that always palpitates.

By Way of Report

Our recent paragraph re: "If I was free to do the things I might," from the song hit, "If I Could Be With You," has enticed much mail, all of it from subscribers who concur with this dep't that the proof-room was wrong and that we were correct in scolding the lyricist for writing it ". . . if I was," instead of "if I were."

The line of demarcation 'tween "was" and "were" lies in the possibility or impossibility of the statement, although both are suppositious and therefore subjunctive. For example: If Winchell WAS the best columnist—because possible—If Hellinger WERE—impossible!!!!

Merciless Truth

This would be a better world to live in if we only could sleep as soundly when we want to go to bed as we do when it is time to get up.

LITTLE MISS NOBODY

By VIDA HURST

SYNOPSIS

Dolores Graham, 36 years old and unusually attractive to men, and Dr. Fenton are found in each other's arms, shot to death, in the latter's office. Celeste, 19 and equally beautiful, is the daughter of Dolores. Because of the scandal attached to her mother's death, Celeste is ostracized from her "crowd" and becomes a Miss Nobody instead of a respected girl.

Celeste is forced to take a new job at the Elite Department store and she meets and falls in love with Dale Hamilton Jr., son of the owner of the store. At the store Celeste meets Blondie McManus, a sophisticated girl of Celeste's age with a heart of gold.

Russell Graham, Celeste's father, deserts her and goes to northern California in search of work because of the scandal. Blondie moves into Celeste's apartment and they share expenses on a 50-50 basis.

Through Dale Hamilton, Celeste gets a job in Randolph Clayton's offices as private secretary. Dale and Celeste are admittedly in love with each other, even though Dale knows all about the scandal which made her a "Little Miss Nobody."

One day Dale fails to keep a date with Celeste and, although he comes into the office on several occasions, he fails to speak to her. Wondering what can be the matter, Celeste accepts a dinner engagement with her employer, Mr. Clayton.

At dinner they meet Dale Hamilton. It is 10 o'clock before Celeste reaches her apartment, to find Dale sitting in his roadster waiting for her.

They go for a ride and have a reconciliation. Dale makes Celeste promise never to go anywhere with Clayton again.

Time passes. Christmas rolls around and Clayton calls Celeste into his office to give her a miniature of his mother as a Christmas present.

Celeste is informed that her father has been killed in an automobile accident. She spends her first Christmas day without either her father or mother. Dale gives her an engagement ring for her present. Pat, Dale's sister, calls him on the phone.

Some time later Patricia Hamilton calls on Celeste to talk her out of her "affair" with Dale. She tries to persuade her that the best way of showing her love for Dale is to give him up.

Celeste decides to give Dale up and refuses to talk to him on the telephone or to see him. Her heart skips a beat when he stops at her desk to demand an explanation.

Celeste refuses to either explain or see him again. A week, which seems like years, passes. Celeste begins to wonder if, after all, Dale loves her enough to give up allowance and family connections for her. She determines to find out.

That night at Celeste's apartment Dale calls and they make up. They decide, however, that it will be better to wait until Dale's family is reconciled to Celeste before getting married.

The weeks roll by and Dale proves to be the ideal lover for Celeste. Blondie is going to marry Billy and Dale suggests that he rent an apartment for Celeste when the lease expires. She refuses and they quarrel about it. Celeste returns her engagement ring. Blondie comes home.

"What are you doing?" he asked, "Packing" she replied

CHAPTER XXXVIII

Celeste had asked her husband to come to dinner that evening. Stopping to purchase the groceries reminded her of the old days with Dolores. She bought a thick T-bone steak instead of her father's favorite chops, artichokes, whole wheat rolls and a box of huge sun-ripened strawberries. It took some time to select the necessary staples. Oil, vinegar, sugar, coffee, pepper and salt. She enumerated them, frowning because she had lost the list she had made while waiting for Mr. Clayton to finish a telephone conversation. Ordering so many things all at once made her feel like a bride, but the painful ache in her heart had not lessened.

She would have the nicest dinner she knew how to cook and after they had eaten it she would tell Dale their marriage could no longer be a secret. His engagement to one girl and marriage to another might be a joke in the eyes of the select circle in which the Hamilton family moved but it was far from funny to Celeste. She doubted if Cynthia Atwood would regard it so either. Nor his mother and Pat. His father as described by Dale seemed nothing but a figure-head. The owner of a chain of department stores on the Pacific coast, a powerful figure in the business world, but only a "straw boss" in the bosom of his family.

It was "the mater" whose word was law to Dale. "The mater" who had ruined Pat's life. And "the mater" whom Celeste dreaded. Nevertheless it was too late now to tell her and take their medicine.

She cooked the artichokes in boiling acidulated water with oil and a bit of garlic as Dolores had taught her. She made coffee, stemmed the strawberries and broiled the steak, but she was deeply, seriously upset by the problem which confronted her. Bitterly hurt by the fact that her husband had lied. If he lied about one thing he would undoubtedly lie about another. How was she ever to know when he was telling the truth?

Yet her resentment softened at sight of his eagerness when he arrived at 7 o'clock. He had brought a suitcase with some of his clothes.

"Thought I'd leave them here," he explained, smiling as only Dale could smile. "What a grand feed! I didn't realize I was marrying a cook as well as a beauty."

The table with its flowered dishes and pink glassware was decorated with two pink candles in flat glass holders, and a bowl of purple iris. Celeste with a white apron over her blue smock was as dainty and sweet as if she had not been working in R. R. C.'s office all day. She poured the coffee and transferred the steak to a warm platter, and brought two small saucers of melted butter for the artichokes. But that dinner was destined not to be eaten.

"Where did you go for lunch?" Dale asked, serving the steak.

"Blondie and I ate at the New York store."

He frowned.

"You know, darling, I'd rather you didn't see so much of her any more."

Celeste had planned to wait until they had finished dinner, but the irritation in his voice roused an answering resentment in her.

"Why? She isn't working at the store since she was married."

"I know. Oh, she's all right—a good scout and all that, but now that you're my wife. . . ."

The time had come. Celeste straightened in her chair and said, desperately, "She gave me some information you won't like."

The shot told. Dale whitened and put down his fork.

"Cynthia Atwood has been buying her trousseau," Celeste continued. "She showed some of the girls on the mezzanine her ring."

"Well, what of it?" he tried to say lightly.

Celeste flared, "Either we are married or we're not. You can't be engaged to her and married to me."

"But I am married to you . . ."

"Then you must admit it. I will be putting me in a false position to have you spending part of your time in this apartment while another girl poses as your future wife."

"What difference does it make so long as we know she isn't?"

He leaned across the table to take her hand, which she had burned lifting the steak from the broiling pan, and he kissed it tenderly before he continued.

"I was engaged to Cynthia. I may as well admit it. The family have been trying to railroad me into it for years. When you broke with me I decided it didn't matter."

"Then you lied when you said the announcement of your engagement was just a joke?"

"I did," he confessed remorsefully. "I was afraid I'd lose you if I told you the truth. But it was only because I loved you, Celeste. It's you I've always loved."

In the face of recent events she could not doubt it, but his weakness disgusted her.

"You shouldn't have married me under the circumstances. If I had known the truth I'd have insisted that we wait."

"Too late for regrets on either side now," he reminded her. "But, at least you can understand why our marriage must be a secret until I get things adjusted."

Disillusionment, was staring from the blue eyes across the table.

"You can't go on living with me until you tell your family."

"But Celeste . . ."

"I mean it," she cried. "You must make your choice. It's for you to decide."

She was mistaken. The decision did not rest in Dale's hands but with fate. Before he had a chance to reply the telephone was ringing.

"Mrs. Hamilton, this is Hugh Murdoch on the Herald. I understand that you and Mr. Hamilton were married three days ago in Yuma. You were Celeste Grahm, daughter of Dolores Grahm who was murdered . . ."

Pat had been right. The story would be reprinted with all the details, for an insatiable public's delight. Well, it had to come sometime. At least the secret was out. The story of their elopement would be known to every one in Los Angeles tomorrow.

"Dale!" she cried.

His head was buried in his hands. He was crying like an overwrought child, "I can't face them. My mother, Cynthia, Pat . . . What will they think of me?"

With a face like death Celeste arose, and going to the dressing room began to throw things into her suitcase. She did not touch the garments Dale had given her. After several moments had elapsed he followed her.

"What are you doing?"

"Packing."

"Why?" he demanded.

"I'm getting out. Then you can say it isn't true. Instead of your engagement being a mistake it was your marriage."

Her voice was broken with pain.

"You'll do nothing of the kind," Dale said, firmly. "Put on the dress I bought you and we'll go to the house immediately and get it over with."

Celeste hesitated.

"But, Dale . . ."

"I mean it," he insisted. "I've told you before we're a rotten bunch. Selfish and ingrowing. But you've married me. We may as well make the best of it."

"But, Dale, it's only because I thought you were sorry. You've acted so queer. I've felt as if you were disapointed in me."

He stopped her with a kiss.

"You do as I tell you. And hurry before that lousy newspaper reporter calls my house."

All her faith in him came surging back to her. Obediently she ran to the closet and brought out her dress.

BRIDGE FIRM'S STOCK PAID

25 Per Cent Dividend Is Paid Holders

DENISON, Texas, Jan. 7. (AP)—An end to several years of litigation was seen today in announcement by the Red River Bridge company, owners of the Colbert span, that a 25 per cent dividend in liquidation would be paid stockholders.

It was the first step in liquidation proceedings releasing $90,000 cash and represented 75 per cent of the organization's capital stock of $120,000.

It was announced Texas and Oklahoma had withdrawn claims to the bridge earnings which permitted the courts to release a portion of the company's assets.

Under an agreement with the states the span group was to receive $60,000 cash payment and 14 months operating privilege in view of construction of a free bridge west of the toll structure.

A letter to stockholders said the company expected further dividends in the liquidation proceedings soon. The war department also was expected to report soon on a plea asking release of impound funds due differential in toll rates charged at the bridge.

Mountain Bandits Prey on Explorers

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7. (AP)—High up amid the snow and ice of Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, the two volcanoes which do eternal sentry duty outside the valley of Mexico, bandit gangs have taken to robbing mountain climbers.

A party of tourists arrived here yesterday and told of being held up as they toiled up the snowy sides of the crater of Popocatepetl. They list all their valuables. Another party recently was victimized on the slopes of Ixtaccihuatl.

The climbers claim that the robbers have placed guards at the approaches to the mountains to notify confederates of likely prey. The climbers then are trapped in inaccessible spots.

Fear Felt for Safety Of Texan With Marines

Special to The Record News.

OLD GLORY, Texas, Jan. 7.—W. H. Flowers of this place is anxiously awaiting tidings from his son, Rex, who is with the United States marines stationed at Managua, Nicaragua, where insurgents recently attacked a marine detachment, either killing or wounding every member of the whole detachment. No communication from Flowers has been received by his parents since a letter of Dec. 15, 1930, which stated that he expected to arrive at Old Glory about Jan. 1 for a visit with home folk.

Highland Heights Executive Board Has All Day Meeting

Mrs. John Glaab was honoree on her birthday Wednesday when the executive board of the Highland Heights Woman's council met for an all day session at the home of Mrs. Frank Creighton. Following a short social hour a delicious covered dish luncheon was served and the afternoon meeting was called to order by Mrs. Creighton, president.

Mrs. W. R. Hammond read the minutes of the previous meeting and Mrs. Paul Steed made an encouraging treasurer's report. Other reports showing the splendid work done by departments were given as follows: Mrs. F. E. Curd, evangelical, Mrs. Paul Barnett, visiting; Mrs. Patrick Henry, day nursery; Mrs. Harley Snyder, welfare; Mrs. Jean de Merio, publicity; Mrs. R. B. Craft, sick and flowers; Mrs. John Glaab, kitchen and Mesdames H. E. Kurtz and Phil Hesler, program.

Division reports were given by the following leaders in order: Mesdames Patrick Henry, G. W. Curd, J. P. Chastain and E. L. Moon. Reports on old and new business were followed by recreational reading of Scripture and inspirational New Year resolutions were made by each member present.

Mesdames B. B. Craft, Paul Steel and Patrick Henry were delegated to attend the next council meeting ready to tell the funniest thing that has ever happened to them.

Announcement was made that the next meeting of the general council will be held at the church Monday, Jan. 12. Members adjourned were Mesdames Patrick Henry, W. P. Couch, Frank Creighton, W. R. Hammond, G. W. Curd, A. L. Williams, E. L. Moon, Jean de Merio, Paul Steed, B. B. Craft, John Glaab, J. P. Chastain, P. B. Curd, Harley Snyder, Paul Barnett, Phil Hesler and H. E. Kurtz.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

About three weeks ago we bought a current magazine to have something "light" to read on a day we spent in bed. We have decided it better to keep worthwhile books beside us, for the magazine left us with a bad taste in our soul and a wonder in our mind as to the effect such fiction would have upon immature readers.

There was a study in horror by a man who usually gives gentle humor and kindly characters to his readers. Why did Irvin Cobb write such a story as "January Thaw?" The tragedy of the story is no lesson for a reader. It merely smears ugliness on life.

"Exit Laughing," by a writer new to us, was different. Though the story of a tragedy, the comedian who hated his dying partner because he always had "stolen his lines and laughs", was still kindly enough to "send him out laughing."

"No One Man" is the continued hysteria of Rupert Hughes; an author who still clings to the standard of unsettled morals more prevalent just at the close of the war. The title tells the story of the book, a story of a pretty, popular and little criticized girl with no sense of a moral value. That a girl might love attractive men as they happen along, and still be just as true is not a likable theory for 1931 daughters.

"They're Never Too Old to Love," by another comparatively new writer is a story where a gentle little old maid is made to fall desperately in love with a man young enough to be her son; he exploits the love to get the spinster's money. Not an impossible story, for we came across one just as pitiful in real life, but without a genius writing it, it has no excuse for being.

"Back Streets," the cruel story of a kept woman whose character has threads of nobility. Fanny Hurst writes often of the underside of life with her vivid pen. The story wrings the heart. But why wring people's hearts?

A market flooded by books such as "Back Street" and "No One Man" must have once confronted Augustine Birrell when he wrote musingly, "There were no books in Eden —there will be none in Heaven;— but between times it is different."

We turn from such froth to biographies and histories that have a wider, grander range and tell of things that have happened to the world.

History is a field that every one should enter. A man may be a good judge of things but unless he knows history he has no standard by which he may measure the world of today.

There have been great republics; people have yearned for freedom and democracy since time began to be recorded. The mistakes chronicled by past civilizations are a torch to light the modern world.

The Vogue in Miniature

Pattern 2076

By ANNE ADAMS

The new mode has given us this ravishing style for the smart youngster not yet in her teens. It boasts a gracefully flared collar, divided in back and front, and a skirt flounce that repeats the flare. Sleeves come with the pattern, although sleeveless dresses are extremely smart and becoming. There are bloomers, also.

Pattern 2076 makes up beautifully in dimity, swiss, lawn, batiste, georgette or organdy. A pastel solid color or a print would be equally cunning. In the larger sizes, a belt or sash may be worn for additional chic.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12. Size 4 requires 2¾ yards of 36-inch fabric.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yardage for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred), for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Splendid Speakers Feature Ben Franklin P.-T. A. Meet

"It is interesting to note the evolution of your organization from a money raising organization to one that really studies the child as related to the teacher," said C. P. Mosley in addressing members of Benjamin Franklin P.-T. A. at the school Wednesday. The world of the buggy day and that of the automobile and airplane were cleverly compared by the speaker. "Where it used to be a case of time and effort to satiate our desires; it is now only decision and an exchange of commodities," he said.

"The effort to obtain is worth a great deal, and we should teach our children the value of obtaining this commodity, viz; money;" he continued in part:

"Let them learn early the value of earning. The greatest mistake we, as parents, make is always and continually giving the child what he wants without any thought on the part of the child of selection. Either an allowance or a possibility to earn their own money should be granted a child. We teach how to earn and say little on how to spend. Thrift is both wisely spending and wisely saving and the decision of the child on spending is a major decision; it should be counted as such."

Mr. Mosley was the chief speaker on the Thrift Day program in a meeting opened by Mrs. M. T. Clements, president and turned over to Mrs. John Martin, program chairman. The song "America" was sung by the P.-T. A. body before Mr. Mosley's address. Miss Norma Rollins, first grade teacher, was introduced and made a vivid talk on "The School of Tomorrow," saying that she acted in the part of prophet and defined education as it guided growth, developed individuality and changed the attitude of the public.

Tomorrow's School

The importance of the first six years of a child's life was stressed and the new method of caring for the misfit child mentioned as one of the splendid things of the school of tomorrow. "In the new school," she continued, 'there will be standard, scientific tests used in grading and classifying a child. This will enable a child to find and correct his own errors."

Methods of using machines for routine work, the films, radio and television were mentioned as methods of producing better teachers. Miss Rollins spoke of the broader objectives in education, including health, citizenship, leisure, fundamentals, religious and ethical training, vocational training and worthy home membership and the far reaching effects of these objectives. "The task of school is not complete," she said, "until its children are at work as healthy, productive and harmonious members of the social group."

Lovely violin numbers were given by Arthur Davis, a talented pupil of Ethel Allen Nelson. Miss Irena Pierce read the minutes of the last meeting and Mrs. D. L. Hill gave an interesting treasurer's report. Mrs. J. B. Stokes gave the city council report and plans for the anniversary party were announced by Mrs. Paul Steed. Following reports by other standing committee chairmen, the room count was taken, showing Miss Keller's low second grade room winner.

Members and friends present included Mesdames M. T. Clements, J. L. Gibbs, A. A. Spencer, H. E. Webb, C. D. Whitley, Henry Milliken, J. W. Ginsberg, L. H. Estes, H. C. Jasper, C. A. Morris, J. B. L. H. McDUFF

Special to The Record News.

ANSON, Texas, Jan. 7.—L. H. (Hill) McDuff, for 31 years a resident of this county, died Sunday night, Jan. 4, at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. S. Palmer, after a long illness, and was buried in the Bethal cemetery Tuesday afternoon, the services being held from the Bethel Baptist church and conducted by Rev. Walter M. Copeland of Vera, a former pastor of Mr. McDuff in this county, assisted by Rev. G. W. Thomas of Anson.

Mr. McDuff had been in poor health for some years, and has suffered a number of severe attacks that threatened to take his life the past year.

He was born in Tuscaloosa county, Alabama, July 3, 1881, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McDuff. He moved with his family to Hill county, Texas, when he was about 15 years of age, and to Jones county in 1899, settling on the Kennedy farm at Antelope. He and Miss Ethel Harrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harrell of Swan's Chapel were married. To the union five children were born all of whom survive: Mrs. Robert Purifoy, Harrell, Carroll, Joe Edd, and Leah Jean McDuff, all of whom were present when he passed away.

Mr. McDuff's only brother, W. F., died in Anson in December, 1929. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. M. F. Drury of Point Isabel, who is in bad health and was not able to attend the funeral; Mrs. W. P. Cox of Littlefield; and Mrs. R. S. Palmer of Anson.

New Officers Elected In Wednesday Study Clubs

Study clubs of Wichita Falls met in luncheons Wednesday to elect officers for the 1931-32 club year. Members of the Pieria Study club met at the home of Mrs. J. E. H. Railey for a buffet luncheon with Mesdames Claribel Weber, Ralph Birk and George B. Bancroft as assistant hostesses.

Mrs. Ralph DeShong was elected president and serving with her are Mrs. Wm. D. Bratton, vice president; Mrs. Maurice L. Stephens, recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph A. Birk, corresponding secretary and treasurer and Mrs. T. D. Moore, parliamentarian.

The following members answered the roll call with interesting current events: Mesdames George S. Bancroft, Wm. D. Bratton, Ralph A. Birk, Ralph DeShong, Allen B. Duncan, William M. Haney, Thomas D. Moore, James G. Oakley, Maurice L. Stephens, Claribel Weber, J. E. H. Railey and John Prewett and Miss Clara Schuls.

Modern Study

Dresden bowls filled with dainty pastel flowers and Dresden place cards made a lovely table in a private dining room at the Wichita club Wednesday when members of the Modern Study club met there to elect officers.

Miss Lucile Smith was elected president; Miss Mary Tancred, vice president; Mrs. Bob Mathis, secretary; Miss Jeanette Moore, treasurer; Miss Marjorie Bright corresponding secretary; Miss Willette Jarrell, parliamentarian; Mrs. Dick Carpenter, press reporter.

Members present were Mesdames Bob Mathis, Dick Carpenter, Frank Woods, H. N. Seevers, Miss Willette Jarrell, Mesdames Arnold Cureton, Ray Hirschi, Misses Mary Tancred, Marjorie Bright, Jeannette Moore and Lucile Smith and Mesdames Gertrude Davidson, Jimmie Anderson of Fort Worth and Ernest Robertson.

1923 Study

Mrs. Jack B. Dale was hostess Wednesday to members of the 1922 Study club when the president, Mrs. Clyde Gibson, presided in a short business session and Mrs. Phil Lash, chairman of the nominating committee, made a report which was unanimously adopted.

Mrs. W. H. Newell was elected president; Mrs. J. M. Spoonts, vice president; Mrs. T. A. Bradley, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack B. Dale, corresponding secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Clyde Gibson, parliamentarian; Mrs. R. P. Brouthertin, press reporter; Mrs. S. H. Rider, forum representative and Mrs. George A. Patterson, federation councilor.

Mrs. S. H. Rider was director in the lesson on "Decameron," and the roll call was answered with interesting assigned stories. Mrs. Marshal Perry read a well prepared paper on "Boccaccio—His Life and Works," and Mrs. J. M. Spoonts made a splendid report on the literary style and influence of the "Decameron." The program was closed with an interesting open discussion under Mrs. Rider's leadership.

Members present were Mesdames Jack B. Dale, Clyde Gibson, Phil F. Lash, W. H. Newell, S. H. Rider, J. M. Spoonts and Mrs. Marshal Perry.

New Century Jr.

Mrs. Overton Abernathy was hostess to members of the New Century Jr., club Wednesday with an informal luncheon which was followed by a short business meeting with the roll call in which the members reviewed assigned topics and election of 1931-32 officers.

Officers elected in the business meeting were Mesdames Paul Harding, president; Ray Arnhold, vice president; O. B. Kiel, secretary; Dillard Anderson, treasurer; John Hampton, corresponding secretary; Elva Killingsworth, parliamentarian; Chester Wynne, critic and Ted Krohn, forum representative.

A New Foe to Fat

A few years ago, millions of people suffered from excess fat. It was a blight to beauty, health and vim. Lives were shortened, all life's joys reduced.

Now look about. Excess fat is fast disappearing. Not by starvation, not by harmful drugs. Science has discovered that a great cause of excess fat lies in a weakened gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. Its secretion helps turn food into fuel and energy. A scanty secretion lets too much food turn to fat.

Now doctors the world over combat that cause. They feed the lacking factor until weight returns to normal.

That factor is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to fit the average case. Thus any obese person may employ this method in its best form at small cost.

Marmola has been used for 24 years —millions of boxes of it. Users have told others, and the use has spread. Now a large part of the slenderness you see is due to this master help.

Now excess fat is folly. It is also folly to starve or overdo, or use methods harmful or absurd. The right method—the method which all doctors now employ—is at your call. The price at your drug store is only $1.

Go get it today if you need it. A book in the box gives the formula and explains the reasons for results. Don't carry this burden longer when people all about you have so easily thrown it off.

"I heard a lot about California Fig Syrup, so when my baby, Wanda, became constipated I got some for her. It relieved her constipation immediately, gave her an appetite, made her bright and happy again.

"I have also used Fig Syrup for her colds and upsets. It has kept her strong and vigorous."

For fifty years, wise mothers have been secure in the knowledge that a child's headachy, bilious, feverish or fretful spells can be quickly and safely overcome by California Fig Syrup. Physicians recommend its soothing aid to keep the bowels clear in colds, or children's ailments; or whenever bad breath, coated tongue, or listlessness warn of constipation.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

(Copyright, 1930, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Meatless Diets

The fact that there is an important relation of diet to health is not a new idea. It probably occurred to even the most ignorant little boy among the most primitive cave dwellers when he felt a tummy ache after dining too heartily on green crabapples.

It is only natural that observing physicians should notice that certain foods are better to use than others in certain diseases. Even 2,000 years ago Hippocrates said that food is the best medicine, but the curious fact exists that it was only in the last few years that there was anything like a scientific method of observing the results.

The meatless diets have had a great deal of popularity and many followers. These diets are divided into three main types. First, the fruit and nut diet, indulged in principally by those of aesthetic tastes who believe that the higher a food is grown above the ground the less material and the more spiritual will be the eaters thereof. Second, those who have an abhorrence of taking animal life either directly or indirectly for their own sustenance. This group does not use either milk or eggs because to do so would mean the raising of cattle and chickens, some of which would be non-productive and would be slaughtered. Third, the vegetarians who will eat milk and eggs and who have no ethical scruples against eating meat but believe it is unwholesome.

The first effort to study diet scientifically probably began with this last group, but since they started with a definite belief, they were apt to search for facts to prove their contention, and to avoid investigating other theories which might disprove their conclusion.

The evolutionary theory is frequently quoted with the additional statement that the apes live on fruits, nuts and cereals alone. This statement is obviously erroneous to anyone who investigates the dietary habits of apes, for in addition to these foods, they also consume insects, worms, eggs, small birds, roots, bark and leaves. It also does not sound logical to believe that man's diet should be patterned after a diet of apes insamuch as man's greatest advances have been made on a mixed diet, including cooked food.

The statement that human beings should avoid meat, because of purins and uric acid substances which it contains, required serious investigation. However, it has been found that there are just as many of these end products in such foods as oatmeal, beans, lentils, asparagus, etc. It has also been stated that the use of meat lowers one's sensitiveness and makes one less gentle and more ferocious and more easily angered. This is only theory and has not been proven, but if it were true, how is it that such domesticated animals as the bull and the billy goat are so easily aroused and made angry when they both are grass-eating animals? And why is it that there is so much fighting and banditry in India and China where a large proportion of the people have very little or no meat in their diets, while the Eskimos who live almost wholly on meat are noted for their gentleness and unusually happy dispositions?

It is not my intention in this article to prove that vegetarianism is good or bad for one, but it is well to point out that we should not depend too much upon theories, but depend more upon practical observation, not upon individuals, but upon a large scale.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dangers of Chloroform

Question—T. L. writes: "I was recently operated on and have not been well since. Could it be possible that I have swallowed some of the chloroform given me as an anesthetic? Would that be poisonous?"

Answer — Although extremely poisonous in vapor form, comparatively large quantities of chloroform can be taken into the stomach without producing death. The smallest dose which has proved fatal to an adult is 15 grams, but with a child an amount as small as three and a half grame has resulted in death. The symptoms are burning sensation, followed by numbness, sometimes temporary excitability and delirium followed by narcosis, pale face, livid lips, convulsions followed by bloody stools, general pain and sensations of anxiety. People poisoned by chloroform internally sometimes live for several days before death occurs.

Too Much Acidity

Question—W. R. asks: "What is the cause of extreme acidity, which will be relieved for a time and always return. Most evident at night several hours after eating. Always feel as if I had been eating lemons or something acid. The taste of acid is pronounced even in my mouth.

Answer—I consider the most pronounced cause of extreme stomach acidity is through the use of improper food combinations. Follow my weekly menus and I am sure you will be able to avoid your trouble.

Bright's Disease

Question—Mrs. O. D. H. writes: "I have been suffering from Bright's disease for a good many years. Will you please tell me your treatment?"

Answer—Bright's disease is caused by faulty metabolism. No particular food is responsible. Send a large self-addressed stamped envelope, and more complete directions will be forwarded.

STEERS AND PORKERS OPEN SOUTHWEST CAGE SEASON TONIGHT

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The signing on the dotted line has already begun in the ranks of the Spudders. Prexy Huff announced Wednesday the first 1931 Spudder to make his mark on the year's agreement was Roland Flinn, the Towering Terror from Maine.

The nickname, of course, being of my own concoction, and arrived at by studying this right-hander's record last season with the Augusta club of the South Atlantic league. Judging from the statistics, he was a terror, no less. As for the towering part of it, he was the lengthiest specimen in the spring training camp last year—and scouts remarked that if he ever could get that post oak height manipulating in harmony with his big right arm he would do some pitching.

With the Spudders he showed up terribly, due, in the first place, to lack of experience, and secondly to bad health. The sudden change from the frigid temperatures of Maine to North Texas tropics left Flinn a sick man, and he was in no condition to do any kinda work. So Prexy Huff sent him along to Augusta for seasoning. There he rounded into shape and won no less than 16 ball games for a club that deserved no such pitching. It was a sorry club from beginning to end, and Flinn's accomplishment in turning in a string of victories deserves no end of praise.

The Towering Terror impressed us last year as being a fine chap, though a Yankee. We hope this impression will not be changed when his lengthy person portrudes into view again this year. But you can never tell in this uncertain world. For instance, since the Maine hurler left here the Maine Stein song has been Rudied and Valleed in every nook and corner. Now if the Towering Terror comes back on wings of song, with his thunderous basso profundo exhaling that ditty, the Rambler is going to borrow a step-ladder and pour a few things in Mr. Flinn's ear.

Salary Cuts

Gossip about signing of contracts always leads to talk of how fat the salaries of the baseball players will be this year. From all indications, they won't be fat at all. Baseball has been hit hard by business depression. It's in a worse condition now than it was last year, and every club in the league felt the sting of depression last year. Official figures are not available, but the Spudder treasury at the end of last season was thousands of dollars short of the total on hand at the end of the 1929 season.

League President Gardner believes there will be wholesale slashing of salaries all over the league this year. Prexy Huff has already determined to wield the axe in no uncertain manner, and no doubt will turn a deaf ear to pleas for increase in salary.

The players, of course, will buck and storm, but their wrath will be expended against a stone wall—a wall of circumstance. When the people at large are not prosperous, or at least well fixed enough to spend four bits every now and then on a ball game, the players cannot expect to go on reaping boom day salaries.

We said the players would buck and storm. Well, that will be on the surface, more or less. Underneath, their tempers no doubt will be as smooth as a current at the bottom of the ocean. Baseball players, like everybody else, need the cold coin these days, and they will be glad to get any kinda job, or I miss my guess. One would think there will be no holdouts at all this year, as so many applicants seek jobs on ball teams. With the exception, of course, of the flashes in the major leagues, who chronically join the holdout league each year. But Prexy Huff, and no doubt every other club owner, expects the usual amount of quibbling over salaries. It's an old custom in baseball, if not indeed the business world at large.

The Heavyweights

A newspaper man arose in all his glory, and also, perhaps, in an unpressed suit, and told the New York Boxing commission the other day it was a "bunch of jackasses" for the way it has handled the Schmeling affair. I admire that scribe. I don't exactly understand all that has transpired anent the boxing situation, except that Schmeling has been ousted as champion in New York state, and that somebody is to fight somebody next June for the title—nor do I give a dern—Nor, I opine, does anybody else give much of a whoop. I tried to follow developments for a long time, but when the commission started doing this and that idiotic thing I gave up in disgust. It is my opinion the public quit exuding to any extent over boxers the day the Manassa Man Mauler limped from the throne. Everything since then has been chaos, with one fraud succeeding another in the glare of the spotlight—and with the New York commission gradually taking on the visage of the Democratic party's patron saint. Nobody knows now whoinell the next champion will be, and from my researches in the boulevards it doesn't appear anyone is working up a sweat over the matter.

Breckenridge Football Star Goes Under Knife

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Jan. 7.—Garland Carey, football star of the 1929 and 1930 Buckaroos, underwent an operation at the Westside hospital Sunday. The operation repaired a bone dislocation in his shoulder. Carey sustained the original injury in an automobile accident last summer. He was hurt again during football season but played through the remainder of the season in spite of his bad shoulder.

Carey is the second Buckaroo patient in the Westside hospital at this time. Walter Beadle is still confined to the hospital with a leg injury he sustained in football scrimmage last fall.

GYMNASIUM TO BE DEDICATED

Neither Team Enters Race As Favorite

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Jan. 7.—Two teams that have fought it out for the Southwest conference basket ball title for the last two years will inaugurate the 1931 race tomorrow night at Austin, the champion University of Arkansas Razorbacks meeting their arch rivals, the University of Texas Longhorns, in the first of a two-game series.

Preceding the opening tilt, there will be ceremonies dedicating the Longhorns' new $500,000 gymnasium, said to be the finest structure of its kind in the South. Coach Fred Walker's pupils are counting strongly on celebrating the formal opening with a victory.

Although the Razorbacks have swamped the conference field for five straight years and the Longhorns, for the most part, have been their sternest opposition neither has been established a favorite in the impending race. That distinction falls to Coach Francis Schmidt's Texas Christian university quintet, which will launch its campaign against Rice Institute Friday night at Fort Worth.

Former Stars Absent

Both Texas and Arkansas will be minus several of last year's stars. Gone from the great Razorback team of '30 are Wear Schoonover and Roy Prewitt, who scored 178 points between them in 12 conference games last year. Lost to the Longhorns by graduation are "Big Un" Rose, Nona Rees, "Sugar" Camp and Frank Cheatham, all regulars last season. Rose contributed 96 points, and was due to be missed.

Both teams have encountered a number of defeats in practice, but have shown symptoms of real strength in their last few games. In Elkins and Earl Taylor, forwards, and Captain Fomby, center, the Longhorns have discovered a great scoring combination, and W. Taylor and Ingrum have done some fine work as guards. That was the lineup expected to start for Texas.

Arkansas will have three veterans in its lineup, Captain Jim Pickren at forward, Holt at center and Creighton at one guard. Two sophomore stars were scheduled to occupy the other positions, Gibson at forward and Murphy at guard.

Owls Journey North

Rice Institute's invasion of North Texas the last two nights of the week promised to supply fully as much fireworks and have as important bearing on the conference chase as the series at Austin. After tackling Texas Christian Friday night they will face Southern Methodist here Saturday night. Then, after a day's rest, they will invade Fayetteville for two tussles with Arkansas Monday and Tuesday.

Leading the Owls into hostile territory will be Captain Ray Hart, flashy forward who piled up 107 points last season. Paired with him in the front line will be Dixon, a sophomore sharpshooters, with Blake Sellars, a six foot, five inch soph, at the important center post.

With only a day in which to recuperate from their battle at Fort Worth, the Owls will encounter one of the best Southern Methodist fives of recent years here. With veterans at all five positions, if necessary, a flock of sophomore stars to fill in, the Mustangs promise to make a strong bid for the title.

Jean Basket Ball Teams Split Even

Special to The Record News.

JEAN, Texas, Jan. 7.—Jean's two basket ball teams managed to only get an even break in the games they played last week. The high school Pirates first team took the Loving High Steers into camp by the score 16 to 13 in a hard fought game on the Loving court Friday evening. Pratt, Pirate center won the game almost single handed, as he made 14 points before going out on fouls in the last quarter of the game.

The Pirate second string lost to the Murray team by the score of 18 to 12 on Murray's court the same evening.

Jean's Bulldogs, independent quintet, lost to the Antelope independents on the Jermyn court Friday night by the score of 26 to 16. Pratt and Allen were high point men for the Bulldogs in this game with seven points each. However they came back strong Saturday night to defeat the National Theater team decisively by the count of 19 to 32. This gives the Bulldogs three wins out of three games in the City league at Graham and are tied for the lead by one or two other teams who have not lost a game thus far. Wednesday night they take on the Ramseygram quintet in another City league game. All the City league games are played in the Memorial building.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 7.—The local basketeers were carried down in defeat on the local court last week to share the cellar with Fairview. The Hawks are not what the dope had them to be, but if past performances are to be relied upon the Birds will soon be playing a much better game and will be able to give the winner of the round robin schedule a good fight for the title. The Valley View Harvesters are in high favor to win the title at present.

Greyhounds Look Good

The Clara Greyhounds will be in the running at the close of the season while the Cashion Cats are in to offer much opposition to their foes. None of the contesting teams have a snap and all are evenly matched, except for the teams that had a training period for football. These teams are getting into better condition as the season wears on, and the dope has it that there is going to be a dark horse show up in one of the weaker teams.

The results of last week show that the Hawks were not at their best, while the Fairview delegation were proved unable to cope with the Bulldogs.

O. H. Stowe, county athletic director, said the results of the last contests showed the weaknesses and that many of the minor faults will be corrected in all of the contesting teams.

Valley View Hopeful

Valley View has in past years shown much promise of putting forth a championship team, only to have their hopes blasted by one of the squads that did not have a strong showing at the beginning of the season. Clara has always had a strong delegation to put forth in the contests and was the winner of the county tournament last year, and promises to make a strong bid for the same honors during the current season. The Iowa Park Hawks have in past years shown a weak start in the cage contests but have finished near the top for a number of years, and if past performances hold true they will be in the running at the close of the year.

RYERSON WINS MEDAL HONORS

72 Score Leads Field In Miami Tournament

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 7. (AP)—The smooth stroking putter of Jack Ryerson, Cooperstown, N. Y., brought him a 72 for medal honors in qualifying play of the Miami mid-winter amateur golf tourney today.

Ryerson went into the cup with one putt on five greens to tie par on the Miami Country club course.

Win Day, 15-year-old Chicago youngster, was second among the qualifiers with a 75. His score stood up from yesterday's play against the 77 today of Jimmy West, Miami, defending champion, who tied with Lee Chase, Buffalo.

Frank Lewis, Miami, broke par with a 35 on the back nine, but scored a 79 for the day.

Ryerson was one under par going out, and one over on the return trip.

Match play between the fewer than 60 entrants in the tournament will start tomorrow and continue through Sunday. Tournament officials had expected more than 100 entries in the first big amateur event of the Florida winter golfing season.

Mahanay's Bowlers Strengthen Lead

Mahanay's Cafeteria five won all three games of their series Wednesday night against the Huff Insurance quintet and now hold the City league leadership by a margin of three games. Hub Clothiers and Kruger Jewelry are tied for second place.

Galloway of the league leaders turned in the high score for the evening with 641 for three games and with 248 for single game.

COYOTES LOSE TO CHRISTIANS

Pack's Early Lead Dwindles To 36-29 Defeat

Rallying in the last quarter, the First Christian church quintet trounced the high school Coyotes in a practice skirmish on the Coyote court Wednesday by the count of 36-29. It was the second game in two days for both aggregations, the Christians losing in a championship battle to the First Methodists and the Pack swamping the Archer City cagers Tuesday night.

Coach Barry Holton's charges started at top speed and looked like certain winners at the first quarter, the Pack scoring machine rolling up an even dozen points to a solitary score for the church five. The invaders gained slightly during the second quarter, but the Red and Black tossers still held the upper hand, 16-8. After a brief rest during halftime the prep dribblers came back with a world of fight and determination to chase their lead up to 13 points, the score resting at 28-15, at the end of the third period. Monroe Griffin, versatile sharpshooter, started the barrage of field goals for the church with a pair of two-pointers in quick succession. From then on the Coyote gunners seldom got a shot and only chalked up one point during the last stanza. The flurry of goals that came from anywhere and everywhere ate up the lead of the Red and Black quintet and had lots to spare.

Raymond Allen, eagle-eyed center for the losers, continued his brilliant goal-shooting begun the night before. Bob Brandon was close on the heels of the scintillating center with 10 points. Griffin, Birchfield and J. Janeway were the big guns in the victory, the former leading the scorers of the night with 15 points.

A large crowd lined the court to see the two teams battle.

Boxing Dilemma Murky as Ever After Moguls Argue All Night

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Worn out vocabularies rested today and the question of where and when Max Schmeling would fight some one for the heavyweight title was answered only by silence.

Nate Lewis, matchmaker at the Chicago Stadium corporation, and Sidney Strotz, president of the corporation, discussed with Joe Jacobs, manager of Schmeling, their $500,000 bid for a championship match with Young Stribling until daylight came this morning and then all went home to bed without anything to announce for the papers. For the purpose of ballyhoo it seems likely nothing of moment will be announced until the clamor raised by the New York state athletic commission's withdrawal of championship recognition from Schmeling has died.

Bill Carey, president of Madison Square garden and the owner of a contract on Der Maxie's services for a match here in June, still ponders his next move in the muddled situation.

Carey still would like to pit Jack Sharkey, now recognized as the "outstanding heavyweight," by the local commission, against Stribling with the winner fighting Schmeling for the title in June, despite the commission's refusal to permit such a program.

Carey and Jacobs discussed prospects for the Schmeling-Stribling match with George F. Getz, wealthy sportsman, by telephone to Chicago. Getz sponsored the late Tex Rickard's invasion of the mid-West metropolis with the second Tunney-Dempsey match in 1927 and there seemed a likelihood today the garden considered a similar move with Stribling and Schmeling to the exclusion of Lewis, Strotz, and the Stadium corporation.

LOCALS BEAT VERNON TEAM

Methodists Whip Wranglers, 51 to 32

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Jan. 7.—The First Methodist basket ball team of Wichita Falls, fast stepping outfit of the Sunday School league in Spudderville, completely bewildered the Vernon Wranglers, local independents, here tonight and subdued the home-town crowd, 51 to 32. It was a fast game with many thrills, and was hugely enjoyed by a crowd of about 200 that packed the high school gym. It was the second game in as many nights for the visitors, who Tuesday night defeated the First Christians of their city to cinch the first half crown of the split Sunday School league season.

The visitors took an early lead and never relinquished it, ruling the roost at the half, 27 to 11. Rawls, Methodist center, made the locals gasp by sinking 15 clean field goals for a total of 30 points. Though he chucked only one field goal for his total of two points for the evening, Jim Levey, former Spudder star, delighted the audience with his ability as a showman, and was roundly applauded. Wranglar Thompson was high point man for his team with 11 points.

This is a Sign of Gracious Living in many Smaller Homes

The good taste of their decorative scheme and furnishings is enhanced by telephones conveniently located throughout the house . . . .

THE WOMAN who presides over a home of moderate size frequently gives her personal attention to much of its routine. And she enjoys it thoroughly, if household arrangements provide for the smooth conduct of her daily program.

Telephones in all the important parts of the house have a large share in this pleasant scheme of things. They save time and many unnecessary steps. Incoming calls can be answered from the living-room, the kitchen, or the bedroom. Friends can be called, or orders given to the stores, from telephones upstairs or down. Whether she be busy in the nursery or the pantry, or at ease in the living-room, the modern woman appreciates the comfort and satisfaction which sufficient telephones provide.

Telephone convenience, so important to those who live in smaller homes, is well within their reach. Its cost is surprisingly low. We will gladly help you in planning the most satisfactory telephone arrangements for your home. Just call the Business Office, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

BREAKFAST is a time for planning the many activities of the day . . . domestic affairs . . . social engagements. And how convenient it is to have a telephone within easy reach of the breakfast nook . . . for making necessary arrangements as they come to your mind. The intelligent housekeeper appreciates this modern touch.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—An opening decline in response to relatively easy Liverpool cables was followed by advances in cotton today on covering and trade buying. Contracts were comparatively scarce after the early selling had been absorbed and it did not require a great deal of buying to send the price of March up from 10.08 to 10.24. March closed at 10.23 compared with 10.14 at the close of the previous day, with the general market closing steady at net advance of 4 to 11 points.

The advance from the early decline may have been encouraged by the former ruling of the grain market and the steadier tone of bar silver, but the factor most emphasized was the relative scarcity of contracts after the early selling had run its course. This was supposed to reflect a steady spot situation in the South and except for a little selling at the opening, local brokers reported very little hedging during the day.

Liverpool cables reported covering and continental buying in the market there but said the Manchester cloth market was unsettled with advices from India and China discouraging. Exports today 52,882, making 4,141,363 so far this season. Port receipts 16,507. U. S. port stocks 4,095,644.

Futures closed steady, 4 to 11 points higher; spot steady; middling 10.25.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 7. (AP)—The cotton market was a quiet pre-holiday affair today as trading will be suspended locally tomorrow, anniversary of the battle of New Orleans. The fact that Liverpool and New York will be open increased the disinclination to trade. After declining 6 to 7 points in early trading prices rallied and advanced 11 to 12 points from the lows. Trading became somewhat more active in late afternoon on belated shorts covering and prices made new highs 15 to 17 points above the lows. There was a slight reaction on some months at the end on realizing and the general market closed steady at net gains for the day of 3 to 9 points.

Liverpool came in one to four points worse than due and private cables stated that shorts covered but market was affected by disturbed conditions in Manchester. First trades here showed losses of 2 to 3 points and the market continued to ease off in early trading on liquidation March dropping to 10.11 and May to 10.36 down 6 to 7 points from the previous close.

The market later in the morning rallied on covering by shorts in advance of the holiday here tomorrow and by early afternoon March had traded up to 10.22 and May to 10.48 up 11 to 12 points from the lows and 5 points above the previous close.

In late afternoon prices advanced to new highs owing to shorts covering before the holiday tomorrow. March traded as high as 10.26 and May at 10.53 or 15 to 17 points above the early lows. Prices reacted slightly on some months at the end owing to some realizing March closing at 10.26 and May at 10.50 or 9 to 7 points net higher respectively on those active months.

Port receipts 12,081, for week 78,563, for season 7,102,792, last season 7,097,556. Exports 25,882, for week 124,480, for season 4,002,200, last season 4,335,014. Port stocks 4,200,001, last year 2,653,206. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 117,196; last year 122,975; spot sales at Southern markets, 9,977; last year 11,275.

Futures closed steady at net advance of 3 to 9 points.

Firmness Holds Sway in Stocks Due to Internal Technical Moves

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (US)—Firmness prevailed on the stock exchange most of today's session, although a late recession from the highs limited net gains to fractions except among the railroad shares. The latter achieved new high price levels in response to continued buying which seemingly ignored the remainder of the market.

There was little actual news to influence the market, so that it was responding chiefly to internal technical conditions. The opening was fairly strong but dullness developed from which, except among the Rails, prices yielded from the best prices of the day.

Specialties dominated speculative interest, with pool work very conspicuous in a few of the most active issues. The commodity markets moved within a narrow range with both corn and wheat maintaining firmness.

The bond market was extremely strong, with the entire government list back almost to the highest prices of 1930. The revival of interest and buying in the bond market is one of the most encouraging developments of the new year, and lends strength to the report originally published here that a powerful banking pool was organized during December to stabilize bond prices.

It was more obvious than on any previous recent day that so-called specialties are being utilized to maintain the moderate increase in confidence until fundamental conditions are recognizedly improved. Thus, while Steel common, American Can and others of like caliber were inclined toward dullness and at least comparative softness, United Aircraft and Vanadium were under active sponsorship, and both closed fractionally higher on the day.

Aircraft has been sponsored marketwise within the past fortnight by two different interests and although the long-term outlook for the company is considered attractive, its current activity is chiefly speculative in character. Incidentally, its recent price improvement is understood to be attracting considerable profit-taking and light speculative short selling.

Vanadium remains the outstanding mystery of the market. A tremendous short interest has been built up in the stock, in recognition of its high selling price in ratio to per-share earnings. Some of the company's own directors declare the stock is selling too high while others are identified with the bull side. Yet the stock attracts new buyers almost daily, some of whom can hardly be dismissed as speculative.

Usually reliable estimates were made that the Steel corporation's unfilled tonnage report, due Saturday, would show an increase for December of somewhat over 200,000 tons. While this appears decidedly encouraging on the surface, statisticians were quick to relate that a "normal" increase for the month, based on previous years, would equal about 7 per cent over November totals. Thus, over 300,000 tons gain would be normal.

Then, too, exceptionally low rate of activities at Steel mills accounts for a good part of the increase expected. During the past week, mill operations in the Steel industry were increased and the weekly review of the trade disclosed a most encouraging pick-up in demand from automobile companies.

The auto shares receded fractionally. Copper stocks witnessed profit-taking, although persistent demand was noticeable for Cerro de Pasco which, even on the $2 dividend, base just established, yields over 8 per cent.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. (AP)—Cotton gray goods markets were unchanged today with moderate sales of some print cloths and further inquiry for sheetings and other coarse yarn goods. Interest in shirtings, some lining goods, and scattered lots of staple fine cottons was reported. Rayon fabrics were quiet, and rayon yarn markets were unchanged and quiet. Burlap markets were unchanged for future shipment with reports of some spot sales made at easier prices. Spot raw silks advanced sharply in Japan and forced New York prices up 5@10c without adding to local business. Deliveries are beginning on heavy orders taken in December by some smaller houses for spring fabrics indicate good merchandise movement in this section of the market.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7. (AP)—Demand continued to improve on the cash grain market today with all offerings quickly absorbed. Price advances were reported in the coarse grains and milo and kaffir were wanted. No. 1 hard wheat of any protein was probably worth 79@81c; delivered Texas common points. Estimated receipts: Wheat, 10 cars; corn, 5; oats, 1; barley, 2; and sorghums, 1 car.

Quotations on coarse grains ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 78@79c; No. 2 white 81½@83c; No. 2 95 per cent white, 81@82c; No. 2 yellow 81@82c.

Oats—No. 2 red 45@46c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.30@1.33; No. 2 kaffir $1.27@1.30.

Dealers also quoted, basis delivery group one— No. 3 mixed corn 77½@78½c; No. 2 white corn 81@82c; No. 2 yellow corn 80@81c, to which add 3c for delivery group three. No. 3 white oats 44@44½c, to which add 1 cent for delivery group three.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. (AP)—Indications that corn was being locked up in cribs on farms, and that immediate larger supplies from rural sources appeared unlikely, hoisted all grains today. With offerings to arrive meager and only at prices above the market, corn jumped to the highest point in weeks, 8 cents higher than a week ago. Advances were in the face of brisk profit-taking.

Corn closed unsettled, ⅝@1¼c above yesterday, wheat ⅜@1½c up, oats at ⅜c decline to ⅜c advance, and provisions 2@37c higher.

Almost from the outset, corn pursued an irregular upward course zigzagging as a result of profit-taking, but forged in the final hour to the day's top figures. The rise accompanied reports that a sudden turn in more wintry conditions would bring about increased feeding demand, with further curtailment of receipts.

Primary arrivals totaled but 525,000 bushels against 1,196,000 a year ago, and Chicago had only 66 cars, with other main centers even less. Kansas City just 20.

Wheat and oats were governed mainly by corn. Need of moisture over domestic winter wheat territory was a further strengthening factor, together with continued adverse harvest conditions in Argentina, and liberal flour purchases from Kansas mills.

Provisions advanced with hogs and cereals.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 81⅝c, 82c; July 65⅝@65¾c, 68⅛@68¼c. Corn—March 71¼c, 74c; May 72⅝@72½c, 75⅝@75¼c; July 73⅝c, 76⅛@76⅜c.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 7. (AP)—(U.S.D.A.)—Livestock trade was featured by an active demand for fat lambs at firm to 25c higher prices. Shippers in Chicago paid $9.10 for choice lambs and at Omaha fed wooled lambs realized $8.60 on shipper accounts. Mature killing classes of sheep ruled steady to strong while feeding lambs shaped the upturn on fat lambs. The supply approximated 61,300.

Hogs found a moderately active outlet at values unevenly steady to 20c higher. Lighter weights, 220 pounds down, generally showed more advance than strong weight butchers. The top of $8.25 was realized on 150-170-pound averages at St. Louis. Offerings were around 110,000.

Receipts of cattle were estimated at 33,600. Better grades of fed steers and yearlings continued to meet a fairly broad demand at fully steady prices. Chicago scored $13.25 on medium weight steers and yearlings and secured $12.35 for heavy steers. Country buyers are taking moderate interest in good to choice quality light weight feeders selling around $8.00@8.50. Finishers at Kansas City paid up to $9.75 for fleshy light weight steers suitable for a 60-90 day feeding period.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Jan. 7. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Hogs—1,300, steady to 10c lower, rail and truck top $7.90; mixed rail hogs $7.90; 170-250 pound truck hogs $7.75@7.90; packing sows 25c lower, mostly $6.25@6.50.

Cattle—3,000; about steady, slaughter steers around $6.00@9.25; better grades fat yearlings scarce; few light weights around $8.00; butcher heifers $6.00 down; good fat cows $5.10; butcher cows $3.25@3.65; bulls scarce; stocker trade poorly tested; slaughter calves steady to 25c lower; heaviers around $7.00 down.

Sheep—2,500; killing classes steady to quarter higher; good to choice shorn fat lambs $7.25; good fat lambs $7.00; good shorn aged fat wethers up to $5.00; feeder lambs strong, mostly $5.00@5.25; fleshy feeder lambs up to $5.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 1,300; market steady to 10c lower; rail and truck top, $7.90; packing sows, $6.25@6.50.

Cattle—Receipts, 3,000, including 700 calves; all classes about steady, but packer demand for butcher stock rather quiet; slaughter steers, $6.00 down; good fat sows, $5.10; butcher cows, $3.25@3.65; low cutters, $2.00@2.60; slaughter calves, $7.00 down.

Roberts, treasurer; Grady Shipp, secretary; and directors E. G. Alexander, Fred Madison, James A. Jordan, J. W. Walker, Edwin McMath, L. R. Bain, L. W. Kiker, Roy Pierce, J. L. Jacobs, F. E. Cave, Walter Thatcher, and R. E. Story.

Those retiring from the board of directors are President Silverthorne and Directors Chauncey Gidney, David Bates, Floyd Covington, Lynn Williams, O. J. Sexton, E. Q. Perry, Dan Cook, and Lester W. James.

The president's annual report will show the results of one of the most active year's work in the history of the organization. Josh Lee of the University of Oklahoma at Norman will be the principal spaker. His subject will be "Conservative Optimism."

More than 20 neighboring towns will be represented at the meeting.

NEWS of the FIELD

K. M. A. AREA

The Deep Oil Development No. 1 Munger estate, located in block 30, Wichita Valley lands, one mile north of Kemp City in Wichita county, cored 22 feet of lime topped at 3675 feet which after being analyzed showed a small amount of oil. At present the hole is being cleaned out preparatory to setting 8 3-8 casing. In order not to pass up any chance of making a well this lime at 3675-97 feet will next week be given a shot to determine its value as a producing formation.

NORTHWEST OF JEAN TOWNSITE

H. R. Stasney and associates No. 1 E. M. Eichelberger, located in section 1446, T. E. & L. survey, northwest of Jean in Young county, soured at a depth of 891 feet.

NORTHWEST OF NEWCASTLE

P. K. Deats No. 1 S. Furr, located in section 37, T. E. & L. survey, northwest of the town of Newcastle in Young county, ran into a gob of water in a sand at 802 feet and was abandoned.

NORTHEAST OF NEWCASTLE

E. Remington and others No. 1 Belknap Coal company, located in section 3, T. E. L. survey, in Young county, has no need for connections as the test is completed as a dry hole at 585 feet.

NORTHWEST OF OLNEY

E. B. Madden and others completed their No. 2 J. T. Richardson well in block 22, J. Scott survey, abstract 374, in south Archer county, estimated at 300 barrels. The well, which topped the sand at 1165-78 feet, is in the north half of block 22, and four miles northwest of the town of Olney.

OKLAHOMA TEST

Wilson Pace & Wilson No. 1 well, located in the southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 8, township 1, north range 9 west in Comanche county, has topped a sand at 1592 feet and drilled eight feet into. In the event of a producer it will mean a nice northwest extension to the Duncan northwest field, and the outcome of a haliburton test will be watched with interest.

Stove distillates, gas oils and fuel oils also show decreases in stocks for the week, with a gain in production for distillates and gas oils and a slump in fuel oils.

2 Noted Dempseys Exchange Greetings

HOUSTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—Two noted Dempseys met here today.

They were Congressman S. Wallace Dempsey of the house rivers and harbors committee and Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight boxing champion.

Said the congressman: "I know Jack and like him very much. We met at a big banquet a few years ago."

Said Jack: "If the congressman can make my weight, I'll meet him any time. He's a good sport."

The retired boxer was here en route to Galveston to referee a wrestling match. The congressman stopped over on his return from the Rio Grande valley, where he inspected proposed waterway sites.

Bell County Asks For Stricter Bus Regulation

BELTON, Texas, Jan. 7. (AP)—The Bell county commissioners' court yesterday passed resolutions requesting the 42nd legislature to enact laws to more adequately regulate motor buses and trucks operating on state highways and public roads.

CAUCUS OF G.O.P. CALLED FEB. 26

All Newly-Elected Members Of House Called

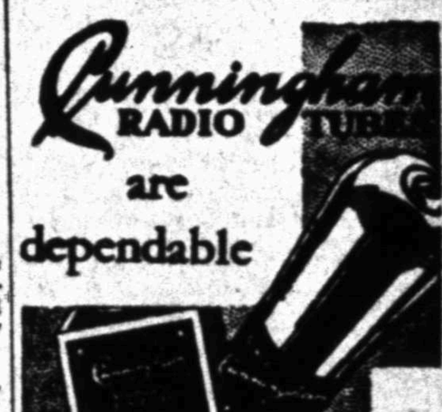

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—A caucus of the Republican members of the house was called today for Feb. 26 by Chairman Wood of the congressional committee.

All Republican members-elect to the house in the 72nd congress have been invited.

Wood said the purpose was to select candidates for speaker and officers of the house, along with a Republican leader.

Previously, Representative Garner of Texas, the minority leader, issued a call for a Democratic caucus on Feb. 28. While the Democrats do not at present plan to select a candidate for leader, they expected to select a candidate for speaker.

The action taken by the Republican leaders in calling for the caucus was taken at the capitol to indicate that they plan to resist all efforts of the Democrats to capture control of the next house. In previous years, the Republicans have waited until congress was convened either in special or regular session before caucusing.

HEAVY VOTE IN C.-C. ELECTION

More Than 400 Ballots Polled on First Day

Within 24 hours after ballots had been mailed out more than half of the 800 members of the chamber of commerce here had cast their votes for the selection of five directors to be added to the board, according to the announcement of John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce.

Ballots were mailed to the membership Monday night and Tuesday's incoming mail held a large portion of the votes.

J. S. Bridwell, president of the chamber of commerce here urged that all members vote, explaining that votes can be cast in person at the chamber of commerce offices Friday. Those planning to vote by mail are requested to be sure to get their ballots into the mails not later than Thursday afternoon. Ballots that are received by mail will be kept in a safe until Friday when they will be placed in a ballot box at the offices and turned over to a tellers committee for tabulation in time to announce the winners during the annual meeting to be held Friday night at the Memorial auditorium. Voting will close promptly at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, it was said.

McKenney to Deliver Talks on Commandments

Beginning with the evening service Sunday, Dr. S. Stephen McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church, will open a series of 10 sermons on "Moral Law in Modern Life." The sermons will be based on the Ten Commandments, each address bringing out one commandment.

Sunday evening's sermon will be on "Modernized Idolatry" and the subjects for the remaining talks are "Materiality," "Profanity," "Sabbath Desecration," "Disobedience to Law," "Murder," "Adultery," "Dishonesty," "Perjury" and "Covetousness."

Special music will be given with each service which will be conducted at the evening hour each Sunday through March 15 inclusive. The public is invited to hear the sermons.

New Officers of K. P. Lodge Assume Duties

MAJESTIC: "Free Love" with Conrad Nagel and Genevieve Tobin. Short subjects and sound news.

STRAND: Jean Harlow, Ben Lyon and James Hall in "Hell's Angels." Mickey Mouse comedy and sound news.

STATE: "The Lion and the Lamb," with Ramond Hatton and Carmel Myers. New Tom Tyler serial and Oswald the Rabbit comedy.

GEM: Moran and Mack in "Anybody's War." Comedy.

A hasty glance at "Free Love" reveals that it has a few things to its credit. Zazu Pitts, for example, is the maid, which gives it about a 25 per cent start toward success.

The lad who played "Ned" in "Holiday" is the "best friend," while Genevieve Tobin and Conrad Nagel repeat their congeniality as found in "The Lady Surrenders." As far as cast is concerned, there is no particular fault.

Conrad Nagel and his fat friend, with the aid of Eugene Field, and a self-waddling duck, put on one of the best speakeasy scenes found in any picture. "Now don't you go till I come," stutters Nagel as he parks the duck outside and staggers on in, "and don't you make any noise!"

"Free Love" evidently isn't nearly so seductive as its box-office title, but it does deal with freedom in marriages, which is usually considered just a little different from ordinary definitions of free love. Miss Tobin is so effective as a sort of wife one wouldn't like that she gets intolerable at times.

For midnight mystery, there is the hair-raising "The Cat Creeps" to be shown at the witching hour next Friday night. It is a talkie of "The Cat and the Canary" with Helen Twelvetrees.

Nichols to Speak At Junior C.-C. Luncheon

Ray Nichols, Vernon newspaper man, will be the principal speaker Friday noon when the Junior chamber of commerce holds its first semi-monthly luncheon of the new year, according to an announcement Wednesday.

A large number of guests are expected to attend due to the influx of chamber of commerce officials arriving that day to attend the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce annual meeting Friday night.

Maurice Cheek, president, and other officers will speak to outline goals set for the ensuing year of work. The meeting will be primarily of an organization nature and new members will be introduced and old members will be pledged for 1931.

I. O. O. F. MEETING

The Wichita encampment I. O. O. F. will hold its regular meeting at Odd Fellows hall Thursday night, at which time the patriarchial degree will be conferred.

This is the first meeting of the new year, and the first meeting night since it was changed to the second and fourth Thursday nights rather than on Friday nights as formerly. The annual report will be made by the secretary.

GRAND JURY HALTS WORK

Investigators to Reconvene Friday

Work of the January grand jury halted at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday for a brief recess after more than 100 witnesses had been examined since Monday morning. Deliberations will be resumed at 10 a. m. Friday, it was announced.

The grand jury's recess was taken for the purpose of obtaining the attendance of extra witnesses who were absent during the first three days of the week, according to George Anderson, assistant district attorney. No report of findings which may have been concluded to date was made Wednesday.

Demonstration Clubs Open New Year's Work

Work of the home demonstration clubs of Wichita county for 1931 was inaugurated Wednesday afternoon when members of the Pleasant Valley club met at the clubhouse at Iowa Park with Miss Ethel Luise Webb, county home demonstration agent.

Mrs. E. F. Jones of the Beaver Creek community will entertain members of the Beaver Creek club at her home Thursday afternoon in the first meeting of the year, it was announced. The Bowie club will meet Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. A. Yeager, three miles from this city on the Petrolia road.

Team Leaders Named In Junior C.-C. Campaign

A drive to secure new members will be opened here next week by teams of the Junior chamber of commerce membership committee, it was announced Wednesday by C. A. Spragins Jr., chairman.

Five teams have been selected with J. Will Gray, Paul Lacey, W. B. Swint, Thomas R. Vague and Gerald Coffey being named as captains. A contest will prevail between the teams and a grand prize will be awarded the man securing the largest number of points. Hats will be awarded to the high man of each individual team upon the completion of the drive, which will last one month.

31 Divorce Cases Dismissed by Court

Divorce cases numbering 31, all filed prior to Jan. 1, 1930, were dismissed by Judge P. A. Martin of the 89th district court Wednesday afternoon for "lack of prosecution."

Prospective litigants in most of the dismissed cases have worked out reconciliations, Judge Martin said.

PUBLIC SPEAKING

E. M. Averey has returned to Wichita Falls from his home in Fort Worth to continue his classes in public speaking which he has been conducting in the council room of the Memorial auditorium for the past several weeks. Classes will continue to be held on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30 o'clock.

WAURIKA C.-C. NAMES HEADS

Achievements Listed in Annual Banquet

Special to The Record News.

WAURIKA, Okla., Jan. 7.—Achievements of the chamber of commerce during 1930 were discussed at the general assembly and banquet held at the Stuard hotel Tuesday night.

B. G. Ralston, as the main speaker of the evening, outlined the work of the chamber of commerce for the past year. He told of the new cooperative creamery, now in operation, which was brought to Waurika through the efforts of local business men who donated $5,000. The remaining $15,000 was given by the Oklahoma State Farmers' union.

A clean-up campaign was started and funds donated to assist in the work.

Trades day with prizes amounting to $150 were held each month.

Perhaps the most work was done in trying to provide better roads for Jefferson county. Committees from the chamber of commerce have met with a group from Wichita Falls, Byers, and Petrolia in an attempt to get a good road from Wichita Falls to Ardmore, through Waurika.

Station Sought

Other committees have attended meetings in Oklahoma City and letters have been written to all cities located on highway 81 asking for support in the movement to complete the paving of this highway across the state.

A movement of importance to the entire county was started in October by the local chamber, in an attempt to get a pecan buying station from the Pecan Growers association located here.

A band stand was erected in Delphian park by the chamber of commerce in June to provide a place for free concerts during the summer.

For the first time Main street was lighted at Christmas. Colored lights extended across the street, for a distance of three blocks. The entire cost of installation was paid by the chamber of commerce.

Officers Elected

A musical program consisting of a group of vocal numbers by Miss Fannie Cashion accompanied by Miss Dorothy Surface, a reading by Miss Ruth Eleanor Storms, and a group of cornet and clarinet duets by Houch Bolton and Donald Morrison was given at the meeting. J. M. Dyer gave a short talk on trading at home.

Following the program election of officers was held at which time B. G. Ralston was elected president and C. S. Storms was elected vice president with W. A. Orr retained as secretary.

Six new board members were elected. They were as follows: Marshall Samples, J. T. Capehart, P. F. Dawson, L. H. Stone, Charles Storms and J. M. Dyer.

Board members who remain in office are E. J. Osterhaus, Floyd Miller, P. W. Denney, Charles Snider, Gene Brown and B. G. Ralston.

Members whose term expired are Walter Gibbins, president during 1930; Tom Sims, Henry Gresham, O. E. Heacock and W. W. Morrison.

Duke Elects New C.-C. Officials

Special to The Record News

ALTUS, Okla., Jan. 7.—Claude Brown has been elected president of the Duke Chamber of Commerce according to returns of the recent election.

Frank Stockton is the new vice president and Edwin Darby is secretary.

Board of directors include B. M. Skidmore, Carl Ross, V. McElroy, J. T. Peterson, Cecil Massey, Marvin Long, E. Darby, R. H. Mays and T. W. Alexander.

Postal Receipts For 50 Cities Decline

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (INS)—Postal receipts at 50 selected cities during December were $2,212,702.24 below those of December a year ago the totals being $38,572,146.74 and $40,784,848.98 respectively the post-office department announced today.

The four cities to show the largest increase were: Minneapolis, 5.48 per cent; Atlanta, 4.78 per cent; Washington, D. C., 3.06 per cent; Omaha, 2.19 per cent.

BOX SUPPER

Maskat Temple to Hold 'Country Party' Friday Eve

Members of Maskat Temple, their families and friends will be entertained by the degree team Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock with an old-fashioned country party and box supper, according to an announcement made by Sidney A. Gaines, chairman of arrangements for the affair.

Each lady is asked to bring a box lunch which will be auctioned to the highest bidder by J. T. Yeargin. Special entertainment features are being arranged and the affair promises to be the best of its kind ever held by the order, according to leaders. The party will be held in the auditorium of Maskat temple on the top floor of the City National building.

NEGRO WINS SECOND TRIAL

Norford Sentence Reversed By Appeals Court

Reversal by the court of criminal appeals at Austin of a 10-year sentence imposed upon James Norford, Wichita Falls negro, several months ago on a charge of murder before Judge Allan D. Montgamery of the 30th district court was announced Wednesday.

The appellate court's action was based upon failure of the trial court to grant the defendant's motion for a trial on the question of sanity.

The murder charge against Norford grew out of the deaths of his wife, Ada Norford and Andy Bird. Conviction and the resulting 10-year sentence concluded trial of the defendant for the alleged murder of the woman. Trial on the indictment in connection with the death of Bird has never been called. Norford was defended by Attorneys Edgar Scurry, John Davenport and Robert Crain.

Seymour Suspects Admit Car Theft

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 7.—Two young men, arrested after they were found asleep in an automobile here Tuesday night, admitted the car had been stolen from Hutchison, Kan., according to Deputy Sheriff Chloe Shawver who made the arrest.

All spare parts of the machine had been traded along the road for gasoline, the officer reported. Only a hosiery sample case, with the name removed, was found in the car. One of the youth's admitted he had served a term in the Oklahoma penitentiary. The prisoners are being held awaiting word from Kansas officers.

College Seniors To Hear Special Sermon

Approximately 60 mid-term graduates of the Junior college will be special guests of the First Methodist church Sunday morning when Dr. S. Stephen McKenney, pastor, will deliver the commencement address. He will speak on "The Inward Vision."

Special music is being arranged for the service, to which the public is invited to attend.

Mailing Yourself

LONDON.—It is possible in Belfast, through arrangements with the postoffice department, to become a human parcel and express oneself to any part of the city at the rate of about six cents a mile. Messengers are employed for this service. They call for and deliver the human "packages" to the desired destination.

OPTIMIST CLUB TOLD OF CREED

Vernon Members Join In Initiation Here

Members of the Optimist club, together with a number of visiting Optimists from Vernon, were given a thorough review of the organization's creed at the weekly luncheon Wednesday noon when an initiation ceremony was used for the first time in welcoming new members into the local club.

New Members

The initiation ceremony used here Wednesday was originated by the Vernon Optimist club, and the Vernon visitors supervised its presentation here. New members inducted into the club were Tom Hansen, Don McCune, Buford H. Brown and Fred J. Patterson. George W. Truett, Olin E. Brown, and Arthur Howard renewed their membership after an absence of several weeks from the club's roster.

Brief expositions of the 10 tenets of the Optimist creed were given Wednesday by Jesse Garrett, Frank Byrd, S. E. Smith, Ivan Traxler, B. D. Sartin, Solon R. Featherston, Aubrey Foster, Dr. C. M. Simpson, M. A. McHenry, and Ed Gossett, all of whom except Judge Sartin, Dr. Simpson and Mr. Featherston are members of the Vernon club. Mr. Gossett, the concluding speaker, also summarized the entire creed.

"Optimism involves an attitude of mind and an attitude of conduct," he said. "Optimism holds that as a man thinks, so he is; that shadows are but a part of the sunshine, that we sleep to wake and fall to rise. It calls upon us to put into practice that which we profess. It is non-sectarian, nonpartisan. Optimism is a creed for thinking and a creed for living, not shutting its eyes to facts but facing them."

Return Visit

Other Vernon Optimists present Wednesday were Bob Tabor, Dr. W. W. Micks, Jess Cockrell, Rufus Byers, C. Q. Rogers and John B. Lawson.

It was announced that members of the local club will return the visit next week, where an inter-city Optimist meet will be held on Thursday, Jan. 15.

Marvin Lee Kelly with harmonica solos, and numbers by the Blue Room trio from radio station KGKO, comprised the musical program given Wednesday. The trio is composed of Miss Lorene Tucker, Cleo Grantham, and A. B. Rische.

Junior C.-C. Selects Aviation Committee

Joe B. Carrigan Wednesday was appointed to the chairmanship of the Junior chamber of commerce aviation committee, according to officials of the organization.

Other members of the committee appointed by Maurice Cheek, president, were Eugene B. Clark, Leslie Stringer, Fulcher Armstrong, O. L. Dockum, and Earl Stilley. James E. McKanna of the senior chamber of commerce aviation committee is sponsor for the junior aviation group.

Other names will be added to the committee on the completion of the membership drive now on, it was said.

Vacant House Damaged $1,500 in Blaze Here

Flames which broke out in a vacant house at 1628 Lucile street early Wednesday morning caused damage estimated by J. L. McClure, fire chief, at $1,500. The two-story structure was owned by Fred A. Smith.

Damage of $100 was done by a fire shortly before noon Wednesday to the house occupied by Mrs. Rena Case at 1519 Seventh street. The fire was believed to have originated from burning trash.

A third blaze Wednesday afternoon did minor damage to a garage and fence at the home of J. H. Faichney, 1711 Ninth street. Origin of the fire was undetermined.

Lions Hear Talk By C.-C. Leader

Annual inventories of the mind are quite as important as annual physical examinations according to an address given by Maurice Cheek, local attorney and president of the Junior chamber of commerce, before members of the Lions club at the Kemp hotel Wednesday noon.

Mr. Cheek announced that his talk was suggested by a paragraph which appeared recently in Home Town Talk in The Record News, but enlarged upon the importance of a frequent checking up on one's mental condition.

Vocal selections by R. E. Shepherd, accompanied by Mrs. Shepherd, comprised musical entertainment included in Wednesday's program.

It was announced that Dr. R. H. Graham, district president of Lions clubs, is still under treatment at the Methodist hospital, Fort Worth, as a result of injuries received in an automobile accident some weeks ago.

Shorter Hours Bill Is Set Up by Committee

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. (AP)—The house bill proposing a 44-hour week for postal employes was given a place on the privileged calendar today by the senate Republican steering committee.

The measure of Senator Howell, Republican, Nebraska, to set up a stringent prohibition enforcement act for the capital city was given first place.

After that, the postal employes bill will be taken up.

Escobar Marital Breach Closing

MONTREAL, Jan. 7. (AP)—Prospects of amicable settlement of the matrimonial differences between the Mexican general, Jose Gonzales Escobar, and his wife were seen today by counsel for Mrs. Escobar, who is in El Paso, Texas. General Escobar led the unsuccessful Mexican revolution of 1929.

Gilles Gadbois, Mrs. Escobar's attorney, spoke to her last night by telephone about plans for a reconciliation. The general also chatted with his wife, Gadbois said.

Attempts to locate possible deposits by the general in Montreal banks have failed. In her suit for annulment of their marriage Mrs. Escobar requested that such money be seized.
