REPORT SQUABBLE HALTS EMERGENCY FARM LOANS

SAN ANGELO (AP)—Because of a disagreement between the Farmers Home Administration (FHA) and regular lending agencies the emergency livestock loan situation in West Texas is in something of a snarl, a newspaper says.

The San Angelo Standard-Times said yesterday granting of the loans in the area was "slowed down" and that "it appears to be much the same picture in other FHA offices."

"About 40 loan applications are stalled in the FHA office in San Angelo," the newspaper said.

But Howard C. Warner, in charge of the San Angelo FHA office, said the drought relief loans to ranchers were not completely cut off.

"We're getting some loans approved and some turned down," he said.

Meanwhile, in his State of the Union address to Congress today, President Eisenhower said:

"Because drought also remains a serious agricultural problem, I shall recommend legislation to strengthen federal disaster assistance programs. This legislation will prescribe an improved appraisal of need, better adjustment of the various programs to local conditions, and a more equitable sharing of costs between the states and the federal government."

The President added that he later would submit recommendations designed to assure "steady alleviation" of the "most pressing concerns" of farmers.

The Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assn. said it has asked Gov. Allan Shivers and members of the Texas delegation in Washington to try for a quick solution of the problem.

The Standard-Times explained the situation like this:

Last year the FHA began granting loans to farmers and ranchers who had borrowed their limit from banks and regular lending agencies. However, before the loan was granted the banks had to sign a 3-year non-disturbance agreement. In each case the income from a ranch was divided equally between the FHA and bank in paying off the loans, the newspaper said.

"Now the FHA is asking a larger percentage of income before it will agree to a 1955 loan for a rancher who borrowed from the FHA in 1954," the Standard-Times said.

In some cases, the story said, the FHA is asking for an agreement that the 1955 loan will be paid in full before any payments are made on a pending 1954 FHA loan or on a bank's original loan. Where 1954 loan payments could be spread over three years, the FHA is asking that 1955 loans be paid within one year.

"The banks said the FHA is breaking its original agreement to split income for loan payments," the Standard-Times said. "They say the FHA committed itself on the split payment plan for three years. And as first lien holders the banks are not approving the 1955 loans."

Walter McKay of Fredericksburg, state FHA director, told the Standard-Times that the FHA was breaking no agreement. The FHA never intended to commit itself for three years, he said. If the FHA wants to work out a different arrangement for second-year loans it has the right to do so, he emphasized.

Ike Asks For Harmony; Predicts Prosperous Era

SENATE DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Warns Both Parties To Face Trial

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appealed today for bipartisan harmony and told the new 84th Congress both parties are "on trial" in the free world's struggle to win enduring peace and prevent an atomic "holocaust."

In a State of the Union message noting the shift in control of Congress from Republicans to Democrats, the President declared America's prosperity outlook "is good"—that "business activity now surges with new strength" and that personal income after taxes is "at a record level."

As for the international situation, year "there has been progress justifying hope, both for continuing peace and for the ultimate rule of freedom and justice in the world."

"But sobering problems remain ahead" and they require continued heavy spending—two thirds of the entire federal budget expected to run about 64 billion dollars—to buttress the free nations against any Communist aggression, he said.

"The massive military machines and ambitions of the Soviet-Communist bloc still create uneasiness in the world," he said. "All of us are aware of the continuing reliance of the Soviet Communists on military force, of the power of their weapons, of their present resistance to realistic armament limitation, of their continuing effort to dominate or intimidate free nations on their periphery.

"Their steadily growing power includes an increasing strength in nuclear weapons. This power, combined with the proclaimed intentions of the Communist leaders to communize the world, is the threat confronting us today.

"To protect our nations and our people from the catastrophe of a nuclear holocaust, free nations must maintain countervailing military power to persuade the Communists of the futility of seeking their ends through aggression."

The President's prepared 7,800-word message, carried nationwide on television and radio, contained no real surprises. Much of the legislative program he outlined for the year ahead already had been announced by the White House or disclosed by other sources. Much of it was a renewal of previous requests not granted by Congress.

Eisenhower held out no hope for tax cuts this year and repeated that he wants postponement of excise and corporation tax reductions now scheduled for April 1. They total about three billon dollars yearly and both Democratic and Republican leaders have predicted Congress will vote a postponement.

The President said he is hopeful the reductions can be made next year.

He called for emphasis on modern air power in readying the nation for any attack, and for "reduction of forces in certain categories"—an obvious reference to the cuts planned in Army, Navy and Marine manpower.

On the domestic front, there was a formal call for hiking the 75-cent minimum wage to 90 cents an hour. That would mean a pay raise for 1,300,000 workers now covered by the minimum wage act who are earning between 75 and 90 cents an hour.

So far as the general administration program is concerned, the new aspect this year is that Eisenhower must count even more heavily on the Democrats—now in control of Congress—for a big measure of cooperation in getting it enacted.

Democratic leaders already have pledged cooperation in the foreign policy and national defense fields, and the President noted today that he has "already . . . expressed assurances of unreserved cooperation" in those areas.

There has been no such exchange of pledges on domestic issues, but Eisenhower declared that "the strength of our country" requires teamwork on a broad scale.

With Democrats and Republicans alike casting an eye ahead to the 1956 elections, Eisenhower put it this way:

"Our quest for peace and freedom necessarily presumes that we who hold positions of public trust must rise above self and section—that we must subordinate to the general good our partisan, our personal pride and prejudice. Tirelessly, with united purpose, we must fortify the material and spiritual foundations of this land of freedom and of free nations throughout the world.

"As never before, there is need for unhesitating cooperation among the branches of our government.

"At this time the executive and legislative branches are under management of different political parties. This fact places both parties on trial before the American people.

"In less perilous days of the past, division of governmental responsibility among our great parties has produced a paralyzing decision. We must not let this happen in our time. We must avoid a paralysis of the will for peace and international security."

The President's message was divided into three main parts keyed, he said, to the three main purposes of the federal government:

"First, to maintain justice and

Congress Pay Hike Boosted

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — Urging a "long overdue" salary increase for members of Congress and federal judges, President Eisenhower today got behind a drive already under way in Congress.

Eisenhower told the House and Senate the boost should be to "a level commensurate with their heavy responsibilities." He did not recommend any specific salary figures in his State of the Union message.

However, Chairman Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee already has introduced a bill to give Congress members and most federal judges an 80 per cent pay boost. Celler has given the lesiglation top priority for consideration by his committee. He said in an intervew the House will get a chance to vote on it within a month, if he has his way.

"It will be passed, too," Celler said.

In his message, Eisenhower also served notice he will ask shortly for a boost in postal and Civil Serviee worker pay, together with an increase in postal rates.

Celler, who introduced the pay hike measure at the opening of the new House session yesterday, said he will ask the Judiciary Committee to consider it within the next few weeks. House leaders don't want to delay action on the bill until next year, when all House members are up for election.

Separate legislation to raise the pay of postal workers and all other federal employes by perhaps 5 to 10 per cent is scheduled for early consideration by the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

Celler's bill follows in general the recommendations of a special commission created by the last Congress to study congressional and judicial pay scales.

"The increase in the cost of living, the increase in comparative salaries in business, the inequities within the whole government salary structure amply justify these adjustments," Celler said.

His bill would make the pay of members of Congress $22,500 annually, exclusive of a $2,500 expense allowance. Congressmen now receive $12,500 plus the $2,500 expense item.

Justices of the Supreme Court would be raised from $25,000 to $35,000 with the chief justice receiving $500 more than the associate justices, as he now does.

Circuit judges, Court of Claims judges and judges of the Customs and Patent Appeals Court would be boosted from $17,500 to $25,000.

District judges would receive $22,500, a raise of $7,500.

Judges of the Customs Court and the Tax Court would be raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

U.S. attorneys and their assistants would be given salaries based on the size of their districts and their duties, the range being from $12,000 to $20,000 for the attorneys and from $6,000 to $15,000 for their assistants. Their pay now is fixed by the attorney general.

The most recent congressional pay raise, in 1947, boosted salaries from $10,000 to $12,500 and gave an annual expense allowance of $2,500.

Daniel Plans To Push For Peress Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Daniel (D-Tex) said today he will move to touch off a new investigation of the case of Irving Peress, the Army major whose promotion and discharge have been a prime target of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

Furthermore, Daniel said, at least 25 senators of both parties will join him in sponsoring a resolution which would place the Senate on record as believing that the full story "should be made public."

Peress, an Army dentist, was given an honorable discharge after he had invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions in an Army personnel form concerning communism. His case was a major issue in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who presided over them, said in an interview he regards the Daniel resolution as a firm notice to the Pentagon. Mundt said he will be one of the cosponsors.

"It sort of signals," Mundt said, "that if the Pentagon doesn't voluntarily release the facts about who was responsible for the promotion and discharge of Peress, one of four Senate committees certainly is going to move in with a new investigation in an effort to find out."

The army has said repeatedly the case was badly handled and that about 30 persons were involved in it.

The Army disclosed yesterday that John J. McManus, the major who signed Peress' honorable discharge papers and who later was released from active duty, has applied for a return to duty. The Army said the application is under study.

DeLois Faulkner, 20, of Sallisaw, Okla., stands in the winner's circle of cotton bolls after winning the Maid of Cotton contest in Memphis, Tenn. The honey blonde, a recent graduate of Oklahoma A&M, holds six other "queen" titles. She won over 21 other girls.

Gas Hike Set For Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. said today it put into effect under bond on Jan. 1 a 10.7 per cent increase in the price of its natural gas sold to wholesale customers in six Midwest states.

The $7,200,000 annual rate boost is subject to approval by the Power Commission. Any part of the increase the commission might fail to approve after a hearing would have to be refunded.

Panhandle applied for an 18 per cent, or $12,127,000, annual rate hike on June 30, 1954, based on a 6 per cent return on its capital investment.

The commission suspended the increase June 30 under a procedure which would have allowed the company to put it into effect Jan.1.

However, on Dec. 13, the commission threw out the increase entirely on the ground that it had previously ruled Panhandle was entitled to only a 5 per cent return.

It told Panhandle it might still raise its rates under bond Jan. 1 by submitting tariff sheets reflecting the lower rate of return. This is what Panhandle did, a company spokesman told a reporter.

U.S. Citizen Is Suspect In PanamaKilling

PANAMA (AP) — Panama police held a 34-year-old U.S. citizen incommunicado today in connection with Sunday's slaying of President Jose Antonio Remon. They were questioning at least 70 suspects in the gang-style murder.

Police said they picked up Martin Irving Lipstein—tentatively described as a schoolteacher from New York—at the airport 24 hours after Remon and two other men were shot to death at Juan Franco race track.

Authorities said they had released another U.S. citizen, Roy Bettis, 36, a native of Waukegan, Ill., who is employed by the Canal Zone administration but lives in Panama City. Bettis was questioned about the activities of one of his truck drivers on the night of the murder. National guard headquarters said they had no information against Bettis.

News of these developments came after police announced that ex-President Arnulfo Arias, one of the first arrested, had been moved to national guard headquarters in Chiriqui province 200 miles west of here.

Arias, an arch political foe of Remon, was picked up at his plantation 300 miles west of here shortly after the slaying. Authorities later said the murder weapons were German-made Schmeisser machine guns of a type confiscated from Arias previously.

Arias was ousted from the presidency in 1951 in a coup headed by the national guard force, then under Remon. Remon was elected president for a four-year term in 1952.

Police were tight-lipped about Lipstein, but reliable sources said tests made of his clothing showed traces of gunpowder. Informants said police became suspicious because of his unkempt appearance and his excited reaction Monday when told he could not leave Panama because outgoing flights had been canceled.

Authorities said they were trying to find out why Lipstein had sailed for Italy from Vera Cruz, Mexico, Dec. 17, then decided to disembark at Guaira, Venezuela, and come to Panama.

Hammarskjold, Chou Confer

TOKYO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold met today with Red China's Chou En-lai and presumably went right to the point of his trip halfway around the world—the 11 American airmen the Reds convicted of espionage.

Peiping radio made the briefest acknowledgement of the meeting, saying only that Hammarskjold met Chou, premier and foreign minister, at 3 p.m. The broadcast pointedly omitted any mention of the purpose of Hammarskjold's trip.

Chou and Hammarskjold first met yesterday when the U.N. official paid a courtesy call shortly after his arrival by plane. They met again at a cocktail party and then at dinner last night.

U.N. sources have said Hammarskjold expects to wind up the conversations with the Chinese Communists this weekend and head back to the United States.

Plans To Cut Armed Services Strength Due To Be Modified

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's armed services appeared today to face a somewhat less stringent belt tightening than was in prospect a week ago.

Top House Democrats let it be known that a strong national defense, rather than a balanced budget, would be their primary consideration in guiding appropriations in the new Congress.

And President Eisenhower, in a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson made public late yesterday, accepted Pentagon proposals for continued reduction in personnel strength, but mentioned force levels slightly above those originally proposed.

Eisenhower said he contemplated an armed force strength by next June of about three million—or 60,000 more than the Pentagon had proposed. He said it would not be wise to fix a "rigid" target for 1956, but he thought a "goal" of 2,850,000 could be aimed at—"with any further material reductions dependent upon an improved world situation." Wilson had suggested a 2,815,000-man level by June 1956.

At the Pentagon, the word was passed that a "resurvey" since manpower goals were announced Dec. 20 resulted in the 35,000 increase for 1956. The Army, which would bear the sharpest reduction, apparently would get about 25,000 of the 35,000.

Speaker Sam Rayburn told the House yesterday he disliked levying taxes, then added:

"But looking the world in the face like I must today and seeing the dangers that lurk for our freedom and our opportunities, as long as times are like they are I am going to vote to levy the taxes and to appropriate a sufficient amount of money to make our country so strong that no international desperado will dare attack us."

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo), who will head the House Appropriations Committee, said in an interview today, "We must decide to cut out spending on things that, while desirable, are not essential at this time." Cannon put his emphasis in air power. He said appropriations must be tailored to meet the need for a military machine that "can strike back effectively" at Communist aggression within 12 hours.

"Neither the Army nor the Navy could reach Moscow before the war was over, but an adequate air force could," Cannon declared.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), who will be chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said he will call in Wilson and the Joint Chiefs of Staff soon—indicating that it might be next week—to explain in the current version of the "new look" which the Eisenhower administration started when it took over two years ago.

Committee members then will make their own recommendations. A similar study has been promised by the Senate Armed Services Committee under Sen. Russell (D-Ga).

Cannon's view about air power did not appear at odds with those of Eisenhower. In his letter to Wilson, the President reiterated a doctrine he had expressed before.

He said the first objective must "be to maintain the capability to deter an enemy from attack and to blunt that attack if it comes—by a combination of effective retaliatory power and a continental defense system of steadily increasing effectiveness."

And the President made another point he had used before:

"Because scientific progress exerts a constantly increasing influence upon the character and conduct of war, and because America's most precious possession is the lives of her citizens, we should base our security upon military formations which make the maximum use of science and technology in order to minimize numbers in men."

Request To Close Station Protested

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)— The Santa Fe Railroad's request to close its station at Blackwell, 28 miles south of here, brought sharp protest from Blackwell citizens at a hearing here yesterday.

Headed by Postmaster Maureen Stewart, a group from Blackwell, population 400, appeared before Railroad Commission examiner C. F. Petit.

Representing the railroad were Division Superintendent W. A. J. Carter of Slaton, Galveston attorney Jack McMicken and Trainmaster L. R. Mitchell of San Angelo.

Findings will be submitted to the Railroad Commission for action.

Winter Back On Stage

A brief run of extra-warm weather ended yesterday when the maximum temperature reached only 59 degrees. The overnight low of 26 degrees was also a sharp drop from the readings on previous days. By 7:30 this morning the temperature had risen to 28 degrees.

Air Force Stressed In Defense Program

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower outlined today a defense program designed to deter Russian aggression and help save the world from a "nuclear holocaust."

In the face of Democratic questioning of proposed cuts in Army strength, he said the forthcoming military budget, due for presentation on Jan. 17:

1. "Emphasizes modern airpower in the Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps."

2. "Intensifies attention to new weapons, "especially those of rapid and destructive striking power."

3. Assures maintenance of "effective, retaliatory force as the principal deterrent to over aggression."

Until there is world agreement on armament limitations, the President said, "we must continue to improve and expand our supplies of nuclear weapons for our land, naval and air forces while, at the same time, continuing our encouraging progress in the peaceful use of atomic power."

The President put early in his address his warning about the steadily growing strength of Russia in nuclear weapons.

"To protect our nations and our peoples from the catastrophe of a nuclear holocaust," he said, "free nations must maintain countervailing military power to persuade the Communists of the futility of seeking their ends through aggression. If Communist rulers understand that America's response will be swift and decisive—that never shall we buy peace at the expense of honor or faith—they will be powerfully deterred from launching a military venture engulfing their own peoples and many others in disaster."

Eisenhower said that while aiming at the goal of realistic limitations of armaments and enduring peace, the United States must "maintain powerful military forces because there is no present alternative—forces designed for deterrent and defensive purposes alone but able instantly to strike back with destructive power in response to an attack."

Eisenhower yesterday made public a letter to Secretary of Defense Wilson outlining a reduction in armed force personnel from a present strength of about 3¼ million to about three million by next June, with a "goal" of about 2 million a year later—depending upon world conditions. The Air Force, alone of the services, would be increased by about 14,000. Some Democrats have protested that now is not the time to cut military manpower.

Eisenhower urged enactment of "several important measures" of concern to the military, including:

1. Extension of the draft act, providing for two-year service. The present law expires next June 30.

2. Measures, to be detailed to Congression Jan. 13, designed to increase the attractiveness of military service as a career and check the failing rate of re-enlistments.

3. A "Program to rebuild and strengthen the civilian components of our armed forces." This refers to the reserve program.

Congress in the past has been cool to any form of Universal Military Training.

Wife Of GOP Senator Walks Out During Neuberger's Talk

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wife of a Republican senator walked out last night on a speech by Oregon's new Democratic Sen. Richard L. Neuberger assailing "character assassination" in political campaigning.

Mrs. George W. Malone, wife of the senior senator from Nevada, booed and then left the crowded Presidential Room of the Statler Hotel while Neuberger was speaking.

Neuberger, sworn in yesterday as a senator, shared the speaker's platform with Vice President Nixon and New Jersey's new Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case at the annual congressional dinner of the Women's National Press Club.

Neuberger said a "distinguished member" of the Republican party engaged in below-the-belt tactics in the 1954 campaign.

He named no names. Some Democrats have accused Nixon of such tactics. The vice president listed Neuberger as a "left-wing" candidate at Pocatello, Idaho, last Oct. 25.

Nixon did not join in a burst of applause which greeted Neuberger's first reference to "character assassination." He did join in the handclapping at the end of Neuberger's talk, however.

By that time Mrs. Malone—known to friends as "Katie"—had left the room, declaring in audible tones:

"I've had all I can take."

Outside, she had a verbal tiff with Mrs. Perle Mesta, the party giver often called the official hostess of the Truman administration.

Onlookers said Mrs. Mesta, formerly minister to Luxembourg, chided Mrs. Malone for walking out on a speech by one of her husband's colleagues. Mrs. Malone reportedly contended Neuberger's speech wasn't worth hearing. Then, said the witnesses, the women exchanged some personal references.

Mrs. Malone had been seated at a table near the center of the big ballroom with her husband, a member of the GOP Senate group most friendly to Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Malone remained at the table.

Some 70 senators and several hundred other persons, including a number of Eisenhower administration officials, attended the dinner.

Neuberger, the final speaker, said that if both Democrats and Republicans agree to campaign "on issues and not on character assassination" then "we will have contributed something to American life which will endure in all the years ahead."

Assailing "guilt by association", the new senator said Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California avoided such tactics and was completely fair in Oregon speeches he made against Neuberger last fall.

Nixon stuck to pleasantries and avoided political controversy in his own brief welcoming address. Case said in another brief talk that the test the voters will apply to both Democrats and Republicans in 1956 will be the degree of support they give to President Eisenhower's program.

"I hope and predict the Democratic party under its experienced leadership will do well in the next two years," Case said. "I know our party will do well."

Couple Pleads Guilty To Swindling Charges In County Court Here

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace of Post, formerly of Snyder, pleaded guilty in county court yesterday afternoon to charges of swindling by worthless check.

Wallace paid his assessessment of $28.50, including court cost, and his wife was held in the county jail pending his raising of money to pay a fine for her, this assessment being withheld.

The court offered to withhold temporarily the assessment of one of them pending raising of the money to pay their fines and redeem their checks, and the couple decided the wife would remain in jail while he returned to Post for the money.

The charge against Wallace concerned a $2.40 check passed to Homer D. Cary, Jr., and the charge against her was on a $10 check to Searcy W. Orr. The county attorney said he had complaints on several other checks from them which they agreed to redeem for a total of $47.70.

Woman Admits She Poisoned Sandwich

IONIA, Mich. (AP)—Prosecutor Rex O'Connor says Mrs. Edith White, 34-year-old mother of two children, has admitted she placed rat poison in a sandwich packed in her husband's lunch box.

She was arrested yesterday at her farm home and held for investigation.

Her husband, Floyd, 35, said the sandwich tasted strange when he bit into it at the Michigan Wheel Co. in Grand Rapids, where he works as a materials control man.

He took the sandwich to the plant doctor, who turned it over to O'Connor. The prosecutor said he would take it to the state police laboratory at Lansing for analysis before filing a formal charge.

Mail 'Cover' Not Serious, George Says

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he does not think a Senate probe of a 1952 "cover" put on the mail of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) turned up "anything the attorney general would regard as serious."

George, who served on a special two-man committee which conducted the investigation last month, said he does not believe anything further will be done about the matter.

McCarthy, in a separate interview, said he wants the matter referred to the Justice Department. He termed the check on his mail "a vicious violation of law."

The special committee's report condemned the use of "mail covers" by any Senate committee and recommended that the Senate refer to the Justice Department the testimony it took. However, the committee took no position on the question of whether such "covers" are legal.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), the other committee member with George was defeated last November.

Their report was filed with the secretary of the Senate Dec. 3. The parliamentarian said the report will remain in the secretary's possession unless the Senate votes to send it on to the attorney general.

A "mail cover" is an investigative technique in which a government agency asks a postmaster to furnish it with information on the addressee, return address and postmark of all mail received at a certain address. The special committee was told it is used often by the FBI.

The check was put on McCarthy's mail and that of some of his associates for three weeks in 1952 by a Senate elections subcommittee which was investigating his financial affairs.

freedom among ourselves and, to champion them for others so that we may work effectively for enduring peace;

"Second, to help keep our economy vigorous and expanding, thus sustaining our international strength and assuring better jobs, better living, better opportunities for every citizen;

"And third, to concern ourselves with the human problems of our people so that every American may have the opportunity to lead a healthy, productive and rewarding life."

He told the new Congress, "We shall have much to do together; I am sure we shall get it done—and that we shall do it in harmony and good will."

Then he called for action in these fields:

Foreign trade—A gradual reduction of "certain tariff obstacles to trade," by the United States as well as other nations, to "assure broad benefits to our own and other peoples." In a special message to Congress next Monday the chief executive will renew his call for a 15 per cent cut in American tariffs over a three-year period—a proposal shelved by the Republican-run 83rd Congress.

Foreign aid — Without any specific mention of plans to call for economic aid to free nations of Asia to help thwart the threat of Communist aggression, Eisenhower said, "There is a growing will to improve the living standards of all men." Such aid, he said, "promises us allies who are strong and self-reliant . . ."

National defense — Eisenhower said the United States must maintain powerful military forces because "there is no present alternative." He said those forces are designed for defensive and deterrent purposes alone and "are able instantly to strike back with destructive power in response to an attack."

He cautioned against placing too much reliance on any one kind of weapon, and against preparation for only one kind of warfare. That, he said, simply invites an enemy to resort to other methods.

In saying the forthcoming military budget emphasizes the importance of modern air power and new weapons, he said such a policy "assures the maintenance of effective, retaliatory force as the principal deterrent to overt aggression."

Liner Rescues Crew Of Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — The Coast Guard said today it had picked up a message from the liner Queen of Bermuda stating it had rescued the entire crew of 10 men from a foundering fishing vessel in the stormy Atlantic north of Bermuda.

The Coast Guard said the message read: "Have rescued entire crew of 10 men from Student Prince."

New York Coast Guard headquarters said it was trying to get confirmation from its own sources in Bermuda. The message was picked up at 10:48 a.m., EST.

An earlier cable dispatch from Hamilton said the Queen of Bermuda was on the scene of the foundering craft, but all attempts to get a lifeboat over "to aid four survivors so far failed, as seas too rough for launching."

The Queen of Bermuda sighted the fishing craft about 8:35 a.m., and said it was planning to pick up survivors.

LOBSTER CHOWDER
. . . easy and good for Sunday night supper

Helps For Homemakers

Send your questions to "Helps for Homemakers," Snyder Daily News, or call 3-5486.

Lobster chowder makes a fine Sunday night supper dish. If you try this easy recipe, be sure to serve crackers with it. Remember that practically every kind of cracker benefits from a brief period in the oven. Put the crackers on a large square of aluminum foil in a moderate or hot oven and take them out as soon as they are tinged with brown. They go, foil and all, into a basket to cool off a bit and crisp; then they come to the table while they are still warm. A big bowl of green pepper rings, carrot and celery sticks, and green and black olives will be fine accompaniment to the chowder.

ROCK LOBSTER CHOWDER

2 cups diced potatoes
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup minced onion
½ cup minced green pepper
6 cups milk
2 6½-ounce cans South African rock lobster

Cook potatoes rapidly in a small amount of boiling salted water until tender; drain. Melt butter in saucepan; add onion, celery and green pepper. Cook over low heat until onion is wilted and yellowed. Stir in potatoes and milk; add lobster in large chunks and liquid from can. Bring slowly almost to boiling; do not boil. Stir as little as possible so lobster won't shred. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes six servings.

* * *

Here are some helpful hints about the care of your fine wool wearing apparel and for handling the usual spots we acquire on our clothing.

Coffee spots should be sponged with cold water to avoid leaving a brown stain.

Fruit and sweet food stains can almost always be removed with cold water sponging.

Powder marks will usually yield to brushing, but in stubborn cases they should likewise be sponged with cold water.

Cosmetic spots should be removed by sponging lightly with a good cleaning fluid.

Grease spots should be sprinkled with talcum powder, French chalk or Fuller's earth to absorb the major part of the fluid grease. After leaving the powder on the grease for ten minutes, the remaining substance may be brushed off. With excessive grease it may be necessary to repeat the process several times. Another method is to place the fabric right side down on a blotter or absorbent towel and sponge lightly with a good cleaning fluid.

Mud spots should be allowed to dry away from heat, then "ruffled" and brushed away.

Mrs. James Kincaid was hostess to Cosmorama Club yesterday afternoon in her home at 3189 Dalton Drive.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

Reports are that:

Big Spring, Snyder's district opponent for Friday night, has a season record of 4-6, or almost the same as the Snyder Tigers, after taking Andrews this week 75-51. Charles Clark, who has paced the team all season, now has a point total of 192, or more than 19 points per game.

Sweetwater has won six of eight games, the last one over Lake View Monday night 82-45. The squad has scored 555 points for a game average of 69.2. Pacing that team is Dale McKeehan with 235 points which is an average of 29.2. The Mustangs will open district play at Lamesa Friday night.

Vernon, which hasn't been playing many games, will go into district play at Levelland Friday night with an 0-5 record.

Plainview will take a record of 8-5 into district play Friday night when it hosts Breckenridge. The squad holds two conference championships. Two of their four losses were to powerful Pampa, the last one a 70-44 affair Tuesday night.

Snyder High School has not yet been placed in a baseball district for this spring. Hopes are that Snyder will get a better assignment this time than last, when it competed with Vernon, Wichita Falls, and Abilene in district play. The district was spread out too far, and the Interscholastic League indicated it would re-assign Snyder this time. Speedy Moffett is baseball coach here.

Less than a dozen boys have started cross-country running in preparation for the coming track season. Most of the high school cindermen here are now playing basketball. Heavy track drills will not start until the cage season ends in mid-February.

Head coach John Conley has sent out notifications to about 40 schools concerning the third annual Canyon Reef Relays to be held here in March. Entries will not be taken for awhile.

Junior high seventh and eighth grade teams were to start play at 2:30 this afternoon in Sweetwater in their first basketball games since the holidays.

85-Foot Field Goal To Be Remembered

By JACK STILLMAN

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—George Linn's field goal of nearly 85 feet Tuesday night against North Carolina will go down among basketball's greatest thrills.

Officials at the University of Alabama Wednesday took a recap of the event, and brought Linn back to the Alabama field house to show them exactly where he was standing. They measured the distance and said it was 84 feet, 11 inches. And now they're trying to determine if it is a record.

Tide Coach Johnny Dee said the basketball which Linn hurled is being sent to the Basketball Hall of Fame, now being established by the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches at Springfield, Mass.

A bronze plaque will be inserted into the Alabama field house floor, marking the spot from where Linn launched his long shot.

"How could there possibly ever be a longer shot?" Dee exclaimed.

Linn, 20-year-old forward who sometimes plays center, is a junior from Columbus, Ohio. He's 6-4 and weighs 185 pounds. He was Alabama's second highest scorer last season with an average of 13.8. His average this year is 18.5.

Linn probably is among the least excited about his exciting shot. He figures he was "just plain lucky."

The long field goal came in the final seconds of the first half Tuesday night, with the Tide leading North Carolina 39-29. Linn took a rebound off the Tarheel backboard. Looking at the clock, he leaned backward. The ball almost touched the floor.

The field house was almost jammed to its capacity of 4,000. They shouted "shoot-shoot!" Linn leaned forward and threw the ball with an easy overhand motion. It struck the Alabama backboard just above the rim, and richocheted through the hoop as the buzzer ended the half.

There was a deathly silence in the field house. And then pandemonium.

Alabama went on to defeat the Tar Heels 77-55.

Hawaii Readies For Its Annual Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (AP)—Otto Graham, retiring king of the professional quarterbacks, and Paul Larson, 1954 collegiate champion passer from California, will match their skills Sunday in the ninth annual Hula Bowl.

The contest will put the Hawaii All-Stars bolstered by five pro luminaries against college All-Stars and University of Hawaii players.

Graham, who led the Cleveland Browns to the National Football League title, can pitch to such ends as Gordie Soltau of the San Francisco 49ers and Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch of the Los Angeles Rams.

Coach Jimmy Lovell of the College All-Stars named as his backfield starters Larson, Dickie Moegle of Rice and Bobby Watkins of Ohio State at halfbacks and Carroll Hardy of Colorado at fullback.

Longhorns Honor All Sportsmen In School

AUSTIN (AP)—The University of Texas banquet honoring its 1954 lettermen in all sports will be held here Jan. 13, with Southern Methodist athletic director Matty Bell as speaker.

The fete, sponsored by the Ex-Students Assn., is in honor of Texas athletes who won conference championships in baseball, track, tennis, golf and cross country and finished in a tie with Rice in basketball.

New Big State Ump

FORT WORTH (AP)—John Krikorian, Brockton, Mass., has been signed as an umpire for the Big State League during the 1955 season, President Howard Green announced today.

Senate May Probe Boxing During Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a "strong possibility" a Senate committee this year will conduct a drive against racketeering in boxing much along the lines of the crime hearings by the Kefauver committee five years ago.

That was the word today from Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash), an ardent sports fan who quarterbacked for the University of Washington Rose Bowl team in 1926.

Magnuson said in an interview he is considering such hearings in his new role as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

"First I want to discuss the situation with other senators and get their views," he said. "But I know there is a strong possibility we will take a good look at boxing to see if we can turn up evidence of organized racketeering."

Magnuson said he has long been concerned over what he termed invasion of the sport by "racketeers and other shady characters."

"In the old days, though," he said, "only a relatively few persons saw the fights. They were in small arenas and most of the spectators were men. But boxing is now in everyone's home. Everybody sees the fights, father, mother and the kids.

"Kids are growing up being taught good sportsmanship. But when they see the fights and the wrestling matches on television, I feel certain they start wondering what's the use.

Four Irish Placed On Texas All-Opponent

AUSTIN (AP)—Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Rice and Southern Methodist, all of which either defeated or tied the University of Texas last season in football, placed men on the Longhorns' all-opponent football team.

Texas players voted four men from Notre Dame—tackles Sam Palumbo and Frank Varrichione, back Ralph Guglielmi and end Dan Shannon—onto the team.

Other players named were backs Frank Eidom of SMU, Henry Moore of Arkansas and Dicky Moegle of Rice, guards Bud Brooks of Arkansas and Kenneth Paul of Rice, center Kurt Burris of Oklahoma and end Max Boydston of Oklahoma.

Senior Bowl Coaches Say South To Win

By HOYT HARWELL

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Both Senior Bowl coaches are predicting a happy day for the South in the sixth annual classic Saturday, just like they did before the last three games. The North won them all.

Jolly Steve Owen, director of the South forces and a rare optimist among coaches, is enthusiastic over the 25 stars picked for his squad.

"You know, I believe we've got better personnel than we've ever had," he said after looking at his team in several workouts.

Grim Paul Brown agrees with his opponent.

"How can we possibly win?" he asks.

The boys Owen has include ends Max Boydston, 207, of Oklahoma, and All-America Frank McDonald, 201, Miami; tackles Sid Fournet, 225, Louisiana State, and All-America Reed Rex Boggan, 235, Mississippi; guards Frank Mincevich, 240, South Carolina, and All-America Bud Brooks, 201, Arkansas, and All-America Center Kurt Burris, 209, Oklahoma.

Colleges Load Both Barrels For TV Talk

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Having fired a salvo at the pros for invading "collegiate territory" with their Saturday night football telecasts, the colleges train their guns on each other today in an open discussion of the controversial television problem.

Video is the hot potato of this NCAA convention. And it's a cinch that the multiple issues won't be even half settled by the roundtable talks today and by the appointment of the new 1955 TV committee Friday.

The six alternative proposals to be suggested by the outgoing 1954 TV committee and other parties boil down to a contest between another national "Game of the Week" program, with slight variations, and a series of regional or geographically distributed telecasts.

It looks as if the national card, backed by the numerically powerful, 101-member Eastern College Athletic Conference will win out over the regional backers, which include the influential but numerically weak Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences.

The blasts at the pro National Football League were touched off yesterday by Matty Bell of Southern Methodist at an NCAA roundtable meeting.

Reading a report prepared by a special NCAA committee, Bell said, "it was completely unthinking and selfish for the professionals to black out their own games but to telecast their Saturday night games into collegiate territory."

Bell said the NFL was "discourteous" in declining to appoint a committee to meet with an NCAA committee to discuss the matter.

At the time of the NFL's refusal to meet with an NCAA committee, NFL Commissioner Bert Bell said such a meeting might be interpreted as a "conspiracy" to restrain television activity.

Although he said he didn't want to "declare war" on the pros, Matty Bell said the colleges should not permit their coaches or other athletic personel to participate in professional sports in any way, and that college sports facilities shouldn't be made available for pro activities.

Big Money Meets Begin

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golf's richest winter parade of tournaments gets under way Thursday with 133 professionals heading into the first round of the $32,500 Los Angeles Open at the Inglewood Country Club.

Starting a procession of 15 tournaments lined for the winter tour, the field was loaded with proven talent and a host of the young and hungry—all taking dead aim at the $5,000 top money in the L. A. Open proper, with its $25,000 pot.

Fifteen women professionals, playing in threesomes sprinkled throughout the field of males, seek first money of $1,000 in their separate $5,000 purse.

The sum of $2,500 was paid out Wednesday to winners in a pro-amateur warmup for the big show.

Opinion was divided among many as to the probable winner of this 29th annual L. A. Open. But the names of Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison were prominent in speculation.

Lloyd Mangrum, a former winner of the event, was also a strong possibility.

The onetime National Open champion carded a 65 in yesterday's round.

Inglewood, a public course, measures for the tournament 6,308 yards. Par is 36-35—71.

Giants Finally Decide Willie Needs Some Aid

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—As a sort of afterthought, the New York Giants announced yesterday that they had signed an outfielder named Don Mueller for the 1955 season. Evidently, someone in the world champions' organization got to President Horace Stoneham and convinced him that Willie Mays, great as he is, will need a little help.

As we like to reconstruct it, the conversation between Stoneham, speaking from his winter home at Phoenix, and his assistant here in charge of contracts must have run about like this. Horace, still dreaming of that catch Mays made in the first game of the World Series, was a trifle irriated at having his favorite reverie interrupted.

"If it isn't important," we hear him snap, "don't bother me. I've got important things on my mind."

"But Boss," pleads our contract man, "don't you think we ought to be doing something about Mueller? I was thinking maybe we might even give him a little raise. He had a real good season."

"A raise! What'd that guy do to deserve a raise? I thought I told you if there were going to be any raises give 'em to Willie."

"You did, Boss, and we've already given him a good one. But Don's going to notice if he doesn't get one too. Maybe you didn't notice, but he was out there in right field every day, just like Willie was playing center, and he didn't hurt us at all. Did you realize he got seven hits in the series?"

"If he did they must've been pretty little hits. I know that Willie hit 41 homers for us during the season and I'd like to know how many this guy you're hollering about got."

"He didn't do so good there, Boss. He only got four all year. But he got 212 hits, which was more than any other batter in the league, and he struck out only 17 times. You'll have to admit that's pretty good. And another thing you might not have noticed, he had a better batting average than Willie going into the last game of the season. He finished only three points back of Willie's .345."

"Well (somewhat mollified), if you really feel that way, go ahead and give this Millard, or whatever his name is, a little hike. From what you say, I guess he didn't hurt us any. I'd still like to know why my manager never said anything about him to me."

"That's just it, Boss. Don's been around steady ever since 1950, but Leo never gave him a regular job until last season. Leo was always looking to find some big guy who could unload home runs into those right field stands. But now he thinks like I do that Don's a good man to have in the lineup."

P.S.—The metropolitan press, obviously as confused about Mueller's worth as was Stoneham, estimated that the mysterious outfielder will receive anywhere from $20,000 to $28,000 for his services next season. They agree only that he is 27 and might have a fine career ahead of him if he keeps out of Willie's way on fly balls.

Sugar Ray Has Good Start On Comeback

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — For 10 exciting seconds, it was the Sugar Ray Robinson of old—swift, sharp and deadly.

In that brief burst, the 34-year-old former middleweight champion swarmed over Joe Rindone, of Boston, and scored a knockout at 1:37 of the sixth round last night to successfully start his comeback.

As a howling crowd of 11,973 urged him on, Robinson floored the inept, confused Rindone with a flashing series of lefts and rights that made one wonder why Sugar Ray ever left the ring.

But before that, the sleek New Yorker was cautious and uncertain, showing obvious signs of his 30-month layoff. His famous one-two combination wasn't clicking, although his footwork seemed as good as ever.

"I was satisfied with my showing," he said in his dressing room. "Even though my combinations weren't working, I at least had an opportunity to try them.

"I can't honestly say it was one of my better fights. "It'll take time to regain the touch."

Robinson was stung into action when Rindone, who did little more than huff and puff through the first five rounds, landed a solid left and right to the head. It was his first serious gesture of the nontelevised fight.

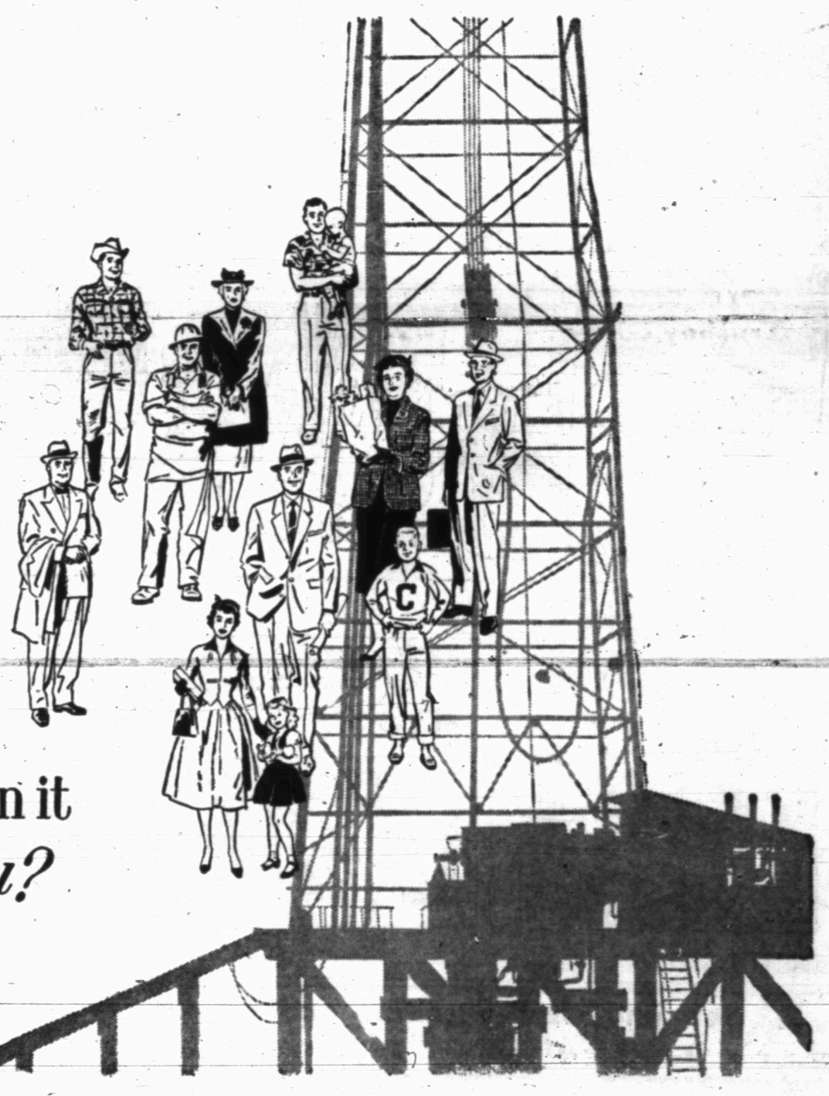

Robinson tore after his backpedaling, 28 - year - old opponent, clubbing him with six, seven, eight blows to the head and body. A roundhouse right sent Rindone crashing to the canvas.

The crowd, largest in Olympia Stadium since June 1952, went wild.

Robinson's two managers said they had made no definite plans for the future.

Robinson weighed 159 to Rindone's 163 1-3.

What's in it for you?

Every Texan profits in a large way from every barrel of crude oil and every cubic foot of natural gas produced in the State.

Directly. Taxes paid by the petroleum industry to support all agencies of the State Government, including schools, old age assistance, and welfare institutions, totaled $170 million in 1954, more than a third of all the taxes collected by the State. And, in addition, the industry pays millions in other taxes to counties, school districts, and municipalities.

Indirect profits are even greater. Industry employees receive and spend about $850 million a year; royalty and lease payments to landowners add up to $500 million. Most of this money passes promptly into trade channels.

As a result, you'll find oil dollars on every balance sheet in Texas and in every bank account, including your own.

...But you can't figure profits in money alone.

The chief profit from the production of oil and natural gas rests in what these fuels do: In the miles you cover with your car...in heat for your home...in the usefulness of articles made from petroleum hydrocarbons...in the power that moves long trains across the continent and turns the wheels of the large industrial plants.

This profit Texans share with all Americans. It is reflected in the American standard of living, which is the world's highest; and it provides a dividend of national security, because a well developed, efficiently operated petroleum industry is one of the major resources in the U. S. arsenal for national defense.

AGREE ON CITATION

Sen. John McClellan (R-Ark), left, who will be the next chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee, shakes hands with the retiring chairman, Sen. They agreed to cite for contempt of Congress a Massachusetts defense plant worker, Edwin Garfield, who failed to answer a subpoena to testify during the probe of communist infiltration of U.S. industry.

Driver Of Expensive Auto Has Problems

By SAUL PETT
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—A friend of mine has a problem which is relatively rare but quite human.

His problem involves an expensive automobile—not how to pay for it but how to live with it.

You see, my friend Don lives in a small, middle-class suburb, which means nobody is really loaded or really hungry. There are very few $5,000 chariots in town.

Don runs his own business, which provides a comfortable income. Still, it's not a big type income. But Don's wife's uncle has such an income, and the cars to match. He's so proud of his four-wheeled light cruisers he'd be extremely pleased if his favorite niece's husband owned one.

And so it came to pass that Don's old car was dying with the shakes and shudders. To replace it with a new model of the same brand would cost almost $3,000. So his wife's uncle said, "You can have my '54 car for $3,000," which, as every boy on a scooter knows, is a bargain. Without thinking, Don said Sure, he'd take it as soon as he could sell his old car.

Since then he hasn't been sleeping well. He and his wife have had some heated discussions. But she insists he can't back out of the deal now because it would "hurt uncle's feelings."

Besides, their younger children have tried the push-button windows and the gadget for raising and lowering the radio antenna and the gismo that squirts water on the windshield and they won't hear of any other car.

But Helen, their eldest child, insists, "I positively will not be driven to school in that car. Everybody will say we're trying to be too fancy."

Don has measured and remeasured his garage. While the car is shorter than the Queen Mary, it positively won't fit his garage even with the bikes and power mower removed. He could lengthen the garage. Yes, but will the local building code allow him to build out in front of the house line? Or will he have to get a new house?

She is one of four persons since 1951 to qualify for the bar without formal schooling.

AREAS OFF LIMITS TO RUSSIANS

Blackened areas in 39 states, covering about 27 per cent of the U.S. area, have been declared off limits to Russians—plus all of the U.S.-Mexican border except Webb county, Tex., and the Great Lakes section of the Canadian border. The underlined 16 cities are those in otherwise open areas also declared off limits to Russians. Non-underlined cities on the map, such as New York, Chicago, New Orleans, Omaha, El Paso, Seattle, Spokane, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Antonio, are among 31 cities declared open in otherwise closed areas.

Prof Makes Talk Despite 'Red' Charges

HOUSTON (AP)—A Harvard University professor of geology delivered a lecture here last night without incident although American Legion charges in advance of the address linked him with Communist front groups.

Dr. Kirtley F. Mather called the charges ridiculous and said the "American thing" for his American Legion critics here to do would be to "shut up."

In a letter to the Houston school board, Loren D. Sark, chairman of the American Legion's Americanism Committee in Harris County, alleged that "20 or more" citations on file with the House Un-American Activities Committee linked Mather with Communist front groups.

The letter asked the school board not to allow Mather to speak in the junior high school auditorium where he delivered his lecture.

"I have never heard of two or three of the groups," Mather told reporters here. "Four or five quoted from my publications in their material. In two or three instances, it was a case of mistaken identity."

He added that he had never been permitted to answer the House committee's citations.

Mather said he was proud to have been associated with "four or five of the organizations."

"They should never have been cited as subversive," he said.

He named two as the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee and the American-Soviet Science Society. The first, he said, cared for wounded Loyalist veterans of the Spanish Civil War. The second, he said, "was formed about 1940 to translate Russian scientific works into English."

TV Funny Man Is Not Funny At Home

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — John B. Guedel, 42, produces such funny TV programs as Groucho Marx's You Bet Your Life and Art Linkletter's People Are Funny, but at home—

His wife Beth divorced him yesterday because she said she found him anything but humorous. She said he told her he wanted to live apart from her and their two children and added that he often left their home without saying when or if he was coming back.

Her lawyers said that under a property settlement she will get a minimum of $710 a week, plus support for the children. The Guedels were married in 1936.

Ranchers Pestered By Uranium Hunters

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Hold on there podner, the West isn't so wild any more.

The rustlers are fewer and less deadly. The diamondback rattlers are no great threat to honest cattlemen. And the coyotes are just pests.

But doggonit, podner, these fellows prowling 'round with those Geiger counters are enough to run a poor cattleman plumb loco, the ranchers say.

The prospectors hunting uranium cross the fences, dig in the pastures and roam over the ranches without saying a word to anybody.

And because of a law passed in 1919, the ranchers can't bother them about transpassing or intruding.

The Texas Legislature in 1919 gave landowners who had bought land from the state the right to lease land for oil and gas. The state wanted a one-sixteenth royalty. The landowner could get that much or more, just so long as the state received one sixteenth or half of any amount more than that.

But the 1919 Legislature hadn't heard about uranium and didn't worry about such minerals. Neither did the ranchers.

So the rights for minerals other than oil or gas belong to the state. A citizen can go hunting them. And prospectors fan out over the ranchlands every weekend.

Directors of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn. were expected to use strong words today in passing a resolution here asking for the same rights on uranium and other minerals they now have on gas and oil.

Fort Worth Atty. Oliver Fannin says a new law is necessary.

"And that's what we need," said a cowman, "before every one of the 7,300,000 acres of land involved is infected with uranium hunters."

"It's not just weekenders that are doing it," the ranchers complain. "Every doggone store clerk in the Southwest is writing Sears and Roebuck and Montgomery Ward for Geiger counters. They plan to spend their two-week vacations hunting A-bombs on our ranches."

Arms Meeting Plans Made

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., chief U. S. delegate to the U. N. plans to go to London late in February for a closed meeting of a U. N. disarmament subcommittee, informed sources reported today.

They said the United States wants an experienced and high-level diplomat at the complex talks on arms regulation and control of atomic energy.

If the talks run more than three or four weeks, they said, Lodge's U. N. deputy James J. Wadsworth will probably take over from Lodge. Wadsworth handled the disarmament subject in U. N. Assembly debates last fall.

The Assembly instructed the U. N. Disarmament Commission, of which Lodge is chairman for January, to set up a five-nation subcommittee again to discuss proposals for regulating conventional arms and controlling atomic energy.

The five nations who will take part — United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Canada—held similar talks in London last spring.

Fatherly Advice

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—When City Atty. Charles Baskins decided to go on a vacation he recommended his father Les Baskins for appointment as acting city attorney during his absence.

At a City Council meeting yesterday the elder Baskins looked over a proposed ordinance and commented, "This ordinance doesn't say what it ought, and might not have the effect intended."

The question of who wrote it arose and the reply was "Charles Baskins."

"Well, he needs some instruction then," father Baskins said as he prepared to redraft the proposal.

Gulf Freeway Being Made One Of Safest

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The Gulf Freeway, also called the Houston-Galveston Expressway, is being turned into one of the area's safest thoroughfares instead of the most deadly as formerly.

Houston Traffic Lt. L. H. Ellisor said it was all because of eight motorcycle officers' conspicuously posted atop freeway overpasses during rush hours.

That's all the cops do — just sit there looking ready for speeders.

"We're not out there to give tickets," one said. "We just want to be seen."

Blasphemers Picked Up In Connecticut

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP) — A man who exhibited wounds in his hands and feet and claimed he was Jesus Christ was among four Polish refugees facing blasphemy charges in City Court today. All four claimed to be 2,000 years old.

Police said John Tschaplinski, 50, when arrested yesterday, was wearing a crown of thorns, causing him to bleed from the head, and wore a loin cloth made from a diaper.

A seven-foot wooden cross with four spikes and a stack of $20 bills were found in his kitchen.

Police said they had taken him into custody several weeks ago after he was found passing out $20 bills at the New Britain General Hospital, but they released him after questioning.

Arrested with him yesterday were Mieczyslaw Majewski, 38, who was wearing a black robe and had a long beard; and two women, Antonina Suszko and Dina Karanowicz, about 30. Police said all four came here three years ago and lived in the same tenement.

They are not known to be members of any religious sect here.

City Prosecutor Steven E. Perakos said the four were booked on an alleged violation of a Connecticut law which forbids persons to claim to be a deity.

Asked whether Tschaplinski received the wounds from the spikes on the cross, Perakos said he didn't know "but he could have." Police described the wounds as fresh. Detectives quoted Tschaplinski as saying his wounds miraculously appeared at 6 a.m. Sunday.

He told police he and the three others earned the money in local factories. Police said Miss Suszko has a bankbook with several thousand dollars in deposits recorded.

More Older Persons Buying Homes Now

By ED MORSE
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you discouraged at 40, or 45, or 50?

Take heart. You're a powerful groundswell in the housing market—statistically, that is.

This is something new. For years, "Youth must be served" has been the virtual motto of the home-building industry. The returning veteran and his young bride formed the tidal wave of postwar housing demand.

Since V-J Day more than nine million Americans bought homes. About 3 million GI loans have been granted. Before most of these GI privileges end July 25, 1957, it's estimated another five million will be used.

That's the big, brassy music of the housing bandwagon—but a new and significant overtone has been added by a solid segment of demand by oldsters with cash in their jeans.

Home builders should sit up and take notice at this important fact: there are 57,414,100 folks over 40 compared with 47,682,900 between 20 and 40.

More than 20 years have been added to life expectancy since 1900, according to the National Office of Vital Statistics. Easier living, medical discoveries, steadier incomes from social security, pensions and annuities have made older people livelier customers.

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York reports that even at 65 there are 34 persons working out of every 100.

If you're 40 you have a life expectancy of 33 more years. At 55 statistics say you'll probably hit 76. So, from the housing viewpoint, it seems worthwhile to make yourself comfortable for the big remainder of your years.

The National Assn. of Home Builders quoted recently from a survey of people over 40 conducted by the magazine Lifetime Living.

This survey showed that 45.6 per cent of these people, even though their average age was in the mid-50s, planned to build or buy new homes.

Can they afford to? The NAHB says income is generally in the highest bracket for people between 45 and 54. The survey showed that 80.5 per cent already owned homes.

The importance of LOW SHELF PRICES to food shoppers

Food "specials" can be deceptive unless regular, everyday shelf prices are low, too. The plain truth of the matter is: You lose the "savings" that you get when you buy "specials" unless the "other" items on your shopping list are low in price, too. It is Safeway policy to bring you special buys . . . and the lowest possible prices every day on regular shelf items. Listed in this advertisement are 54 of our hundreds of reduced, regular shelf prices — the items that you buy day in and day out . . . week in and week out . . . year in and year out. If you're paying more for these items, then, you're losing money — a considerable sum of money when you consider that there are 52 shopping weeks in a year. Smart shoppers have learned from experience that it's Safeway for the greatest food savings in Snyder. Be sure . . . shop Safeway!

Alger's Secretary Likes Being Texan

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A young California woman is now a Texas congressional secretary—and says the treatment she received recently in Dallas is making a real Texan out of her.

She is Miss Mary Hornbeck, on the staff of Dallas' Republican Rep. Bruce Alger.

Miss Hornbeck will play second fiddle to Frank Crowley, who had worked for a trailer manufacturer in the Dallas area.

"I've worked here for years as a congressional secretary with Californians," commented Miss Hornbeck, "and I have had numerous occasions to see how friendly and easy going Texans can be.

"For two years, working with Rep. Hiestand, I have looked through my door across the corridor into the offices of one of the Texas members, Brady Gentry of Tyler. Everyone who came around there seemed so friendly."

Miss Hornbeck drove her car eastward across West Texas one morning last November. She had been home to California and was motoring back with her mother and sister-in-law.

"We were near Abilene," she recalls, "when I turned on the car radio to listen to the news and heard that Alger had just been elected to Congress.

"The idea just struck me suddenly, that here was a chance to get a job with a Texas Congressman, since he was a Republican and I had had considerable experience working in Republican congressional offices.

"I felt a little silly," she added, "but I told mother and Bernice that when we reached Dallas I was going to try to get in touch with Alger.

"I told him I was sure he didn't have many experienced secretaries to draw from in Texas who had worked for Republicans.

"He was very nice, but it was Sunday and he suggested I come by his office the next morning for an interview. I told him I would be glad to stay there and work for just what my expenses would be, if he wanted to see what I could do."

Miss Hornbeck said Alger telephoned to Washington to check some of her references and then "hired me with what he says was a grain of salt."

So, while her mother and sister-in-law continued on to Washington by plane, Miss Hornbeck launched her Texas career. She took dictation and typed out replies to scores of individuals who had sent in congratulations to Alger on his victory, among them President Eisenhower.

"During that week everyone treated me royally," she finished. "Coming on the rest of the way to Washington I carried a Texas flag showing through the window. It may have looked a little odd to some, seeing that flag and my California license plates."

Gadget Out To Cure Cow's Stomach Ache

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dr. J. A. Muffly, of Lewisburg, Pa., is demonstrating at the 55th annual conference of Pennsylvania veterinarians a gadget to cure a cow's stomach ache. It's a magnet on the end of a plastic tube which can be slithered into the animal's stomach to remove any metal objects that have been swallowed.

It Sure Would

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP)—County Judge James A. Coolahan has granted Howard Goldbrick, 17, permission to change his name to Borodin. Goldbrick said he is going into the Army in May and his name might prove embarrassing.

Man Charged For Serving Time In Jail

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ollie O. Ballard is accused of spending New Year's Eve in jail for Bill Smith.

Smith had pleaded guilty to contracting without a license and was sentenced to spend five weekends in jail.

Smith and Ballard were arraigned yesterday on charges of conspiring to obstruct justice, a felony.

"I didn't know serving time for someone else was wrong in California," said Ballard. "Back in Georgia they do it all the time."

Both men will appear next Tuesday at preliminary hearing.

Purse Is Recovered, Sandwich And All

DETROIT (AP) — When a man snatched Mrs. Virginia Ranson's purse last night, she gave police a detailed description of what was in it.

Minutes later, Robert Butler, 40, was arrested after a chase. He had a woman's purse on him. And in it was everything Mrs. Ranson had listed—including a ham sandwich.

Butler, held for investigation of armed robbery, sighed:

"I didn't even have time to eat the sandwich."

Demos Quiz Administration On Cuts In Government Spending

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—What does it profit a man to save his money if he can't protect it from an enemy?

In a nutshell that's what many Democrats say they want to know about the cuts which President Eisenhower proposes for the armed forces.

His administration, particularly Secretary of Defense Wilson, is in for stiff quizzing by the Democrats who took control of Congress yesterday. Judging from what they've said, they will ask:

Is the administration, for the sake of economy, reducing the armed forces to a point where they can't protect this nation's interests?

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) says he's afraid he's looking at "bargain-counter" defense. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) says he's afraid this country's vital military strength may be lost in the name of economy.

And Rep. Vinson (D-Ga), who will head the House Armed Services Committee, says he will call Wilson before him for a full explanation.

It was Wilson who started the ball rolling Dec. 20 with the announcement of a big reduction in the armed forces, particularly in ground troops. Why the cut? Less fear of war in part, Wilson told newsmen.

This wasn't what Secretary of State Dulles told newsmen several days later when they asked if the military cuts were the result of less fear of war. That wasn't the reason, he said.

He said improvement in weapons meant the military forces needed fewer men. This apparent conflict raised this question:

If one said one thing, and one another, what was the real reason? Was it to save money?

Reduction in ground troops meant this country would be less able to throw in troops against the Communists if they attacked anywhere in the world.

The United States might retaliate with air power but unless native troops were available to stem the Red assault where it occurred, air strikes might not be enough.

The crisis in Indochina last year was recalled. The Communist-led Vietminh were trampling the French. There was danger they might take all Indochina. The administration had to consider the question of intervening.

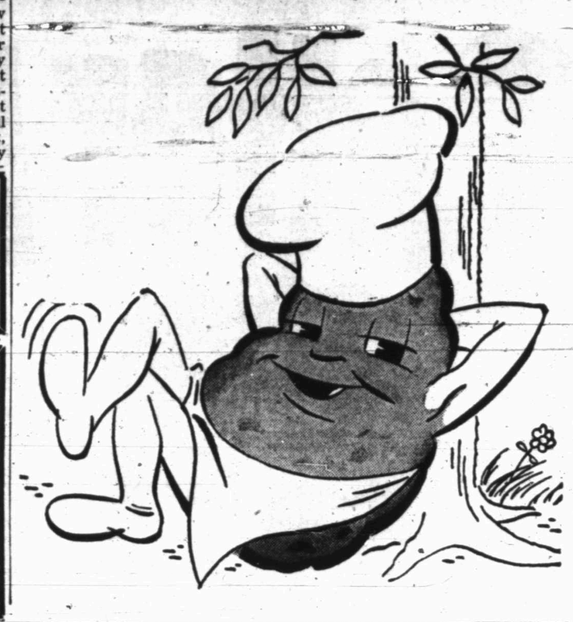

It was reported later Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff and member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, opposed intervention on the grounds he didn't have ground troops to back it up.

In June 1952, in the midst of the Korean War, the armed forces totaled 3,636,000. When that war ended in 1953, it was possible to reduce to some extent the number of men under arms.

As of today the armed forces number about 3,218,000, a reduction of 418,000 since June 1952. The administration now proposes a further cut to 2,850,000 by June 1956, a reduction of almost 800,000 men since 1952.

Eisenhower gave an explanation in a letter to Wilson, made public yesterday. This letter, backing up Wilson, may have been intended to take some of the heat off him.

The explanation goes like this: (1) This country must be ready to meet any form of aggression, since no one can predict how it will come; (2) this country must depend as much as it can on new weapons and scientific development in order to cut down on manpower and save lives; (3) this country must be able to retaliate fast against any attack in order to discourage such an attack in the first place; (4) since no one can foretell how long the cold war will last, keeping up the minimum necessary defense force will be a drain on the economy so expense must be spared where possible; (5) the United States will have to have forces able to help out other peoples if they're attacked.

Greek Starts Home With New Daughter

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Lt. Norman K. (Moose) Donahoe plans to leave for Naples Saturday on the first leg of his trip home with his 17-month-old adopted Greek daughter—if red tape doesn't hold him up.

"I hope to get through Friday noon," said the Texas-born, 27-year-old Navy fighter pilot, as he impatiently waited for an official Foreign Ministry translation of all documents needed for the foundling, Roni Marie.

Donahoe said the flurry of last-minute paper work has kept him from seeing the child for two days. She is remaining at the foundling home until the eve of their departure by U. S. Air Force plane. Donahoe hopes to catch a U. S. Navy flight from Naples to the United States.

Donahoe and his wife Helen, 27, who is of Greek descent, are childless. He is stationed at Cabaniss Naval Auxiliary Air Station at Corpus Christi, Tex. They were unable to find a child for adoption in Texas and decided to try Greece after learning there were hundreds available there.

Mrs. Donahoe is waiting for her husband's return at her sister's home in Brooklyn.

Man Is Cleared Of Connection With Shooting At C-City

ARTESIA, N.M. (AP)—Colorado City, Tex., officers cleared Carl Leon Wadley yesterday of any connection with an eight-year-old fatal shooting in Texas.

Wadley is held here in jail on a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits.

He was questioned yesterday about the shooting of Israel Gardner in Colorado City in 1946. Later officers said they were satisfied he was not connected in any way with the shooting nor was he a witness of it.

Wadley has volunteered to return to Colorado on a bogus check charge as soon as Artesia officials are through with him.

Expert Gives Sad News To Collector

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—B. F. Rimmer read in the Corpus Christi Caller of an expert coin collector visiting here with a 1913 liberty head nickel valued at more than $10,000.

Rimmer quickly called the newspaper. "I've one too!" he exclaimed.

Expert J. V. McDermott of South Milwaukee, Wis., convinced Rimmer the nickel was a phony. The date on many 1910 and 1912 liberty heads have been illegally altered to appear as 1913 coins.

Only five 1913 liberty head nickels were made and the whereabouts of each is known.

Couldn't Wait Turn

SIDNEY, Ohio (AP)— A gunman who couldn't wait his turn to get to a cash register last night robbed a supermarket of $492.

Police said he walked to the head of a long line of shoppers with a can of coffee in one hand and a pistol in the other.

Judy Bryan, 19, cashier, said he told her, "Keep still and you won't get hurt."

After scooping bills and change from two registers, the man walked out with many customers unaware of the robbery.
