FRONT STREET STEAMBOATS 'ECHO' IN COURT

Stories Told Bench Of Wharf And Dock Facilities In The Year One

WATLAND ET AL SUIT

Judge R. E. Huff Recounts Records Of "Marine Exploitation"

Real estate along the Wichita river was once scheduled for conversion to wharf apd dock sites to accommodate steamboat trade, it developed Thursday in the 89th district court where A. R. and O. T. Watland are threshing out their differences with the city of Wichita Falls in a law suit involving title to some Front street land.

Information that this city was destined to collect honors as an inland port did not get into the official records of the trial. But in commenting on Wichita Falls "as was and is," Judge R. E. Huff remarked that back in the halcyon days of pre-boom development the Front street territory was advertised "for purpose of sale" as suitable for marine exploitation.

"The river was supposed to be navigable then," he said, "and all this land in here was laid out for docks and wharfs so the steamboats could come up and unload." He pointed to a map of the city and indicated a strip lying west of where the Denver tracks now span the river bed and extending westward for a considerable distance.

It seems that in those days nonresidents were more susceptible to persuasion when a realtor threw out a verbal smoke screen of "cotton wharves, river packets, warehouses, dock facilities" and kindred topics. Hence, it is said, maps of the time were prepared accordingly.

Most of the day was spent in taking of testimony of men who were familiar with the Front street section back in the early years of the present century. The dispute itself is one in which the plaintiffs contend that the city unlawfully acquired the section of ground between Ohio and Indiana which has been paved and labeled "Front street." A strip lying between the two avenues and extending back from Front street to the river is the bone of contention. The plaintiff introduced testimony Thursday and the defense was engaged in questioning of witnesses when court closed at 5 o'clock. It is thought the trial can be finished Friday.

E. E. Fisher represents the plaintiffs and W. E. George, city attorney, and John Kilgore are handling the case for the defense.

Texas Man Convicted Under Eugenics Law

ALTUS, Okla., March 12. — An Altus jury convicted this week the first man to be found guilty in Oklahoma of violation of the state eugenics law, passed in 1921.

Evidence showed that the man was from Kenndy, Texas, and that he came to this place last January under an assumed name. He married an Altus girl, and a short time later passed worthless checks for over $150, which led to his arrest. While in jail he was found to be afflicted with a contagious disease. He will be given sentence in the district court from one to five years in the state penitentiary.

BRANDS JUVENILES STORY

Judge Says Boy Was In School At Time of Killing.

LOS ANGELES, March 12. — Juvenile Judge Harry D. Archbald today heard arguments on the charge that Harold (Sonny) Willis, 14 years old, shot and killed Dr. Benjamin last April, a crime for which the boy's mother, Mrs. Margaret Willis recently was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

The district attorney branded the charge as an attempt by Mrs. Willis' attorneys to gain clemency for her, alleging that the boy was in school when Dr. Baldwin was killed.

SAUSAGE SALE TO SANTA FE IS LATEST TIP

San Antonio Would Be Connected With Territory To San Angelo

SAN ANTONIO, March 12.—A board of directors of the chamber of commerce voted approval this afternoon of the reported proposal of the Santa Fe railroad to purchase the San Antonio, Uvalde & Gulf railroad and connect San Antonio with territory northwest to San Angelo and south to Brownsville.

The Santa Fe proposes to build a line from either San Angelo or Brady through Fredericksburg to connect with the S. A. U. & G. railroad here, according to information submitted to the directors.

The plans also include an extension of the S. A. U. & G. from Fowlerton to Brownsville. The road would then connect with the Rio Grande railroad from Brownsville to Point Isabel which is owned by W. T. Eldridge of Sugerland. Eldridge, who owns 48 per cent of the stock of the S. A. U. & G. railroad, was represented to the directors as being in favor of the purchase of the railroad and it was rumored that he had given an option to the Santa Fe of his minority stock in the S. A. U. & G.

The extension of the S. A. U. & G. railroad from Fowlerton to Brownsville would give San Antonio a direct line to the Rio Grande valley.

The directors favored the proposed purchase of the S. A. U. & G. railroad believing that by building the road between San Angelo or Brady the trade territory to the northwest of San Antonio would be more easily developed.

The country between San Antonio and San Angelo is rapidly becoming more of an agricultural territory, it was pointed out.

DARK SKY BUT NO RAIN

Murky Atmosphere Thursday Fails to Break Drouth

A cloudy sky and murky atmosphere Thursday promised, but did not fulfill, relief from the drouth that has gripped this section for weeks. The day was warm and balmy with a "feel" of impending spring showers. Up until a late hour Thursday night, however, they had failed to put in an appearance.

Cloudy with possibly rain today was the weatherman's prediction yesterday.

TELL ABOUT IT IN PAPERS IS MEDIC ADVICE

American Medical Association Editor Offers Weapon Against Quackery

DEMAND HEALTH NEWS

Calls Health a Saleable Commodity For Which There Is Eager Market

Editor's Note: The persistent refusal of a great majority of physicians to "speak for publication" to newspapers because of the "ethics of their profession as they explain it, makes the following story carried by the Associated Press last night quoting the editor of the journal of the American Medical association particularly interesting.

CHICAGO, Mar. 12.—Calling the newspaper the greatest medium for medical education of the public, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the journal of the American Medical association, analyzed the press accounts of medical news before members of the American Medical association today at the closing session of the annual congress on medical education, licensure, public health and hospitals.

Dr. Fishbein laid particular emphasis on the tendency of newspapers to print "news" discoveries that are not new or in any way established. The cures for tuberculosis, for cancer and for pneumonia have become the bane of medical life, he said.

"The moment such announcements are broadcast physicians are besieged by patients for information which they are unable to give, because the newness of the discovery does not warrant any accurate judgment.

"On the whole, however, editors are beginning to realize more and more that medicine and science are special topics demanding men of special training," he said, in telling of the publicity machine built by the medical association to combat attempts of "publicity seeking quacks."

Dr. Fishbein flayed the "publicity hound" saying "due to lack of scientific knowledge, the average reporter falls an easy prey to the medical exploiter of the press. In this way these men take advantage of the public's desire for scientific news for individual gain.

"The newspapers try to play fair with their readers, but it often becomes a question of whether the best judgment has been used. I think I am safe in saying that the medical education of the public is the one certain method of overcoming the evils of quackery, of cultism, and of medical fraud."

"The public wants to get information on health," said Herman N. Bundesen, commissioner of health for Chicago, in his address before the congress.

"But health matters must be brought down to the average intelligence of the newspaper reading public," he said. "Health is a saleable commodity and there is an eager market for it. It is better to show how to keep well than to exhibit or relate matters of disease to the degree of disgusting the reader. The 'do's' should predominate in newspaper copy regarding matters of health."

RAIL STOP BILL PASSED

The bill compels erection by railroad companies of suitable warning signs indicating the point where the driver is to stop.

Court Battle Seen As Couzens Fights United States Income Tax Dun

William Boyce Thompson.

E. L. Doheny.

Senator James Couzens.

Uncle Sam Says He Owes 10 Million

WASHINGTON, March 12.—A court battle involving many millions of dollars collected by the government in taxes is expected to be the result of the treasury department's demand that Senator James Couzens of Michigan pay $10,000,000 additional tax on the transaction he made with Henry Ford six years ago in transferring his interest in the Ford Motor company.

The senator says the present action is "a penalty for Republican irregularity."

The matter comes up at a time when the Couzens senate committee is airing reports to the effect that individuals and corporations saved many millions of dollars in income taxes through treasury rulings and laxity in audits.

Many American newspapers carried a summary of one of these reports contending that William Boyce Thompson, at one time chairman of the finance committee of the Republican party, had been allowed deductions of $597,000 for stock losses, which were not substantiated by adequate data and that a huge profit in ore lands had not been properly taxed.

The government is now pressing a suit against E. L. Doheny, oil magnate, his wife, two of the directors in his concerns, and two of his concerns, for $804,561.52 alleged income taxes due for 1919.

ADAM DID NOT PULL "BONER" SAYS SPEAKER

Dr. Debow Of Oklahoma City Defends First Man And Proverbial Rib

"Sister Ferguson may make the state of Texas a good governor. I can't say. That is if she is not meddled with too much, and even if she does fail on the job, it will be no worse than men governors have done time and time again. Only recently the governor of Indiana has been called to serve a term, the guest of Uncle Sam. And you remember the fate of Governor Jack of Oklahoma City. So I say again, Sister Ferguson may do as well if not better, than some of the men governors," Dr. Charles Debow, pastor of the First Methodist church of Oklahoma City, told Wichita Falls club women at the Forum meeting Thursday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. speaking on the subject, "Women and the New Social Integration."

Thinking in Nots

"There is too much negative thinking; too much of a tendency to classify, and too much attention paid to little things instead of the things that really count in life, the speaker declared. "We made the forces of disintegration which have broken up society, now can there be anything that can be a center of integration? The first thing must be in the fundamentals, and the first fundamental is good will, both national and individual, as against strife, hatred and suspicion. As a requisite of good will, you should think kindly of all sorts of people whether or not they are different from you."

As the second fundamental he named freedom. Here he stated that autocracy is as dead as a door nail, that no one has the right to govern anybody.

Co-operation was given as the third fundamental, followed by justice, "where no one is barred from any good thing of life by arbitrary means."

In defending women's sphere in the world, Dr. Debow said: "It is not a question of defining womans sphere, but determining her value in any sort of sphere. What kind of a mother or business woman will she make?

No Strife of Sexes

"Much has been said about the strife between the sexes that was to follow the coming of woman suffrage, but I do not believe any such thing, for woman and man were made to work together. Neither do I believe the man that said that the one who made woman from Adam's rib pulled a bone. Together we are to make a better world, each doing his full share and neither despising the other."

Dr. Debow was the second speaker on the program at the general meeting of the Forum, following Mrs. J. U. Fields, who spoke on "Citizenship." His address was exceptionally brilliant and interesting, and he received enthusiastic applause from the audience.

May Klu Klux Wear Robes in Cemetery?

AUSTIN, March 12.—The attorney general today received a letter from Sam McClure, cyclops of the Houston ku klux klan, asking if the anti-masking law just passed by the legislature would prohibit wearing of robes and masks of the klan order at the burial of a member, provided the regalia was worn only inside the cemetary.

The attorney general replied this was a question for the local authorities and that enforcement of the law was their responsibility. He referred Mr. McClure to District Attorney Soule of Houston, for information on enforcement of the law.

$5,000 Damage in Fire at Frederick

FREDERICK, Okla., March 12.—When Night Patrolman Claude Barbee was making his rounds at 5:20 Thursday morning he discovered flames burning inside the office of Dr. J. J. Rogers upstairs in the Mounts building on Grand. An emergency alarm with pistol shots brought the fire department on a quick run.

Moss, life insurance agent, suffered heavy smoke and water damage. Smoke and water also did damage to the City Barber shop and the Nuf-Sed Tailor shop below the Rogers office.

The Mounts building is insured in the sum of $21,500, according to a statement by its proprietor Thursday morning. The loss of Dr. Rogers is approximately $2,750 on his equipment, which amount is partially covered by insurance.

DIVORCEE DEAD IN HOTEL; GRID STAR IS HELD

Insurance Policies Of Big Total On Woman's Life a Factor

KANSAS CITY, March 12.—A first degree murder charge was filed here today against Roy M. Turner, 25, former University of Kansas football player of Atchison, Kan., following issuance of a deputy coroner's report that poison had been found in the stomach of Mrs. Dora Gage, Atchison divorcee, who died here yesterday.

Turner was arraigned and held without bond.

He was arrested yesterday in a hotel room with Mrs. Gage after her screams had attracted attendants. Before death, Mrs. Gage said that Turner had given her a drink of poison from a bottle and had later thrown the bottle from a window. Fragments of a bottle were found by the police beneath the window of the room.

Reticent to Police.

Reticent when questioned by the police, Turner told friends today that "things look bad; but I know I can clear myself."

He said he met Mrs. Gage last November in Atchison. He sold her an equity December five in a farm near Nevada, Mo., for $11,300, he related, taking Mrs. Gage's note for $8,000 and retaining as collateral life insurance policies she had obtained. Later, he said, he sold the note and with it went the insurance policies.

Yesterday afternoon, Turned stated he met Mrs. Gage near a Kansas City hotel where she had obtained a room. Mrs. Gage told him, Turner said, that she wanted to talk to him about her note, saying that mortgages on the Nevada farm had been foreclosed.

On going to Mrs. Gage's room, Turner said, he found her drinking from a bottle.

"I tasted the stuff' Turner said. "I said it tasted rotten and she asked me to throw it out of the window. So I did."

Thought Her Ill.

"I believed the woman was dangerously ill from over drinking," he added, "and I stayed by to summon assistance. Those that came to the room found me there, still trying to be of some help."

While at the university, he met Miss Marie Husted, daughter of a farmer who lived near Lawrence, Kan. They were married early in 1923.

June 4, 1923, Turner's bride drowned in the Cottonwood river, near Emporia. Turner said that a canoe in which they were paddling overturned.

The wife held life insurance policies totaling $15,000, part of which Turner received in a settlement.

An inquest was held at Emporia, Turner said, and the death was adjudged to have been accidental.

VENUE CHANGE WILL BE ASKED IN LA GRANGE TRIAL

LA GRANGE, Texas, Mar. 12.—Stating that conditions now exist which make it probable that William H. Langhorn may not get a fair and impartial trial here on the charges of murder, criminal assault and assault with intent to murder, Judge J. M. Jefferies, late today gave his consent to a hearing of a motion for a change of venue. This action caused considerable surprise.

GENEVA PEACE PACT RECEIVES SOLAR PLEXUS

England And All Dominions Except Ireland Reject Portocol Terms

DISARMAMENT LOST

Leaders Believe That Treaty Of Nations Has No Hope Of Survival

GENEVA, March 12.—(AP)—The impression that international disarmament has received a set back was shining forth like some sinister beacon at Geneva tonight as a sequence to today's memorable meeting of the council of the league of nations at which England and all her dominions except Ireland, rejected the Geneva peace protocol. This protocol was expected to achieve disarmament by establishing in the world the reign of compulsory arbitration and security.

Great Britain today not only threw the protocol over board but declared it was hopeless to try to rescue it with the idea of successful revision. Austen Chamberlain, the British secretary for foreign affairs, stood rigidly against compulsory arbitration of all disputes which is one of the main features of the protocol. Alluding to the immigration issue, which was indirectly raised by Japan in connection with the protocol, he asserted that British objection to compulsory arbitration had been increased because the protocol had weakened those league covenant stipulations which were designed to prevent interference by the league in matters of domestic jurisdiction.

Of the other countries represented on the council France stood solidly by the covenant in a defensive address by M. Briand, yet offered a kind of welcome to Mr. Chamberlain's substitute suggestion of special treaties.

Otaly, through Vitterio Scialoia, foreign minister, came out flatly for Mr. Chamberlain's proposal of special treaties while Viscount Ishii for Japan announced that Tokio had not completed examination of the protocol, but appreciated its lofty and noble ideal and would continue its study in profound sympathy and cooperation.

It seemed clearly to appear from the general discussion as well as the private utterances of the leaders of the various countries after the council's adjournment, that the Geneva protocol as now framed has little hope of survival.

"Where Buyer and Seller Meet"

Neil O'Brien Tells Of First Visit To Wichita Falls and Oil Advices

"I HAVE received advice in my life," remarked Neil O'Brien, head mogul of the Neil O'Brien Minstrels which played Thursday evening at the Palace theatre, "but the best bit of friendly warning I ever had given me, was that I received seven years ago when I came to this place for a two-day engagement. It took considerable influence to get me a room at that time because of the boom and when I finally did get one, the first thing I saw when I entered it was the sentence 'Buy oil stocks—and walk home.' "Whether he heeded the advice or not, Mr. O'Brien neglected to say.

"How did I ever come to put on burnt cork?" he continued.

"Well, when I was a kid I was always what my elders called 'a smart aleck.' I considered the name a delicate compliment and did all in my power to deserve it. When I was 16 years of age I went inside a theatre for the first time. The show that night was aminstrel, and immediately after the wandering troupe had left town, my boy chums began to tell me that I was good enough to go on the stage, and I firmly believed it myself, at the time. So several months later I got an offer to go along with a passing show at a salary considerably less than a poor street cleaner now gets.

"That was 33 years ago, and the last 30 years of that time I have been in the roll of a black-faced comedian. It was only a few years ago however that I managed to become owner of my own troupe."

In discussing his past years on the road, the show owner waxed eloquent in his denunciation of present show conditions as compared with "old times." He explained that in past years he had been accustomed to walking into a New York office and getting his road route at a single conference. Now, he stated, it was necessary to jump several hundred miles between playing places in a single day, as for example, the troupe was scheduled to play in Durant the first engagement after here, and then had to jump back down to Dallas the next day

Kimbro Further Bares Facts Of Klan's Insides

Tells How "Search Light' Was Recommended As Klan Paper

HOUSTON, March 12.—George B. Kimbro Jr., continued today to report on the inner workings of the knights of the ku klux klan Inc., on the witness stand in the 55th district court, in the suit involving nearly $600,000 in claims, counter-claims and damages.

Like Wednesday's testimony today's was a tedious process of laying a predicate for his cross-action against the klan for money he alleges is due him, and for $500,000 damages.

Kimbro's attorney, E. J. Clark, first read to the jury a letter in which the propagation department of the klan, under date of June 13, 1922, recommended the "Searchlight," an Atlanta weekly publication, as the official organ of the klan.

Then news dispatches from the Searchlight of October 11, 1922, were read telling of the organization of the "national associated klans" and asserting "the millionaire George B. Kimbro" was to be imperial wizard. It called him a "disgruntled and banished member of the klan who was withholding thousands of dollars belonging to the klan."

Kimbro then testified that he had never had anything to do with the national associated klans, and had opposed its incorporation.

Asked further about the "Searchlight" Kimbro reported numerous occasions when E. Y. Clarke, former acting imperial wizard of the klan, had urged klan subscriptions to it and declared its circulation necessary to klan growth.

Other documents introduced were "bulls" attributed to Imperial Wizard Simmons and Clarke, one denying that there were any inner quarrels in the klan, and the other calling for repudiation of alleged propaganda accusing the klan of complicity in various crimes.

This was later offered in Kimbro's statement that he had been ordered by Clarke to investigate all outrages, and to "whitewash" the klan whether guilty or not. Kimbro asserts he used large sums of money in these investigations throughout, as he had been instructed and that the klan was indebted to him for them, rather than that he owed the klan anything. He stated that no account of such expenses were kept on specific orders from Clarke, who did not wish any evidence in connection with the matter ever to become public.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., March 12.—The case of the United States against Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, charged in grand jury indictment with having accepted emloyment in a matter in which the United States held interest after his election as United States senator, was set down by Judge C. N. Pray today for trial in the United States court here, April 16.

Famous Agent Of War Time Missed Since In August

Dr. Korlgranes Knew Many Of German Blotters Secrets

NEW YORK, March 12.—The New York American says today it has learned that Dr. Arnmgaard Karlgraves, whose exploits as an international spy won him world-wide fame, has been missing since last August when he took a trip to St. Louis to gather information concerning an alleged plot to restore the Hohenzollerns to the throne of Germany.

The American says that friends of Dr. Graves have placed the case in the hands of a private detective agency which has reason to suspect that he may have met with foul play. Investigation by this agency, the American says, revealed that Dr. Graves had discovered a plot to stage a royalist coup in Germany on March 1, and to place the crown prince upon the throne.

Two days before his disappearance Dr. Graves is said to have predicted that President Ebert of Germany would die within a period of eight months of last August. President Ebert's death occurred February 28, last, well within the period mentioned in this prediction.

Dr. Graves also is declared to have asserted that there were powerful influences working among German-Americans in the United States both in favor of the planned royalist coup and against it in favor of the republic. He himself is said to haev decided to aid in thwarting the coup.

The American says that a former department of justice operative knew of Dr. Graves' disappearance, but had lost his trail at a railroad station in New York from which he was about to leave for St. Louis.

Dr. Graves was interned at Fort Oglethrope by the American government during the World War. He has written two books exposing the workings of the German spy system and is said to have once been chief of the German secret service.

IMPOSTOR IDENTIFIED

Uncle of Buda, Texas, Aids Officers To Find Alleged War Veteran.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 12.—The Minneapolis Tribune today publishes a story that Arthur Lopez, who posed for more than a year as Arthur Frazier, Indian world war soldier, confessed that he was Lopez and then repudiated his confession, has been identified by his uncle Steve Acosta of Buda, Texas.

The identification, the Tribune says, was made through a questionnaire which was mailed to Acosta February 28 and the answers mailed back from Buda, under the date of March 8.

Because She Loved Him So

She was only seventeen, beautiful, fresh and wholesome. He was forty-five and wealthy—gross in appearance, grosser in mind. Her purity, her beauty of body and soul, appealed to his jaded fancy. And she married him — or rather, her parents sold her to him. Then youth and love—strong, clean, fine—came to besiege her heart with true reverence and adoration. What did she do? What could she do? She found an answer to that question—but through a process so strange, so startling that it simply proves that no fictionist's fancy is half so strange as truth. Don't miss this true-life story, entitled "Playing With Fire" in True Story Magazine for April. And this is but one of 18 absorbing features.

New Productive Zone On East End Of Carey Pool Seems Assured

White Bros. No. 5, Kunkel, Gets Sand At 1,163

Depth Is Several Feet Below Water Level In Other Wells

FIVE FEET DRILLED

New Pool, If Such, Already Bounded To East And North

White Brothers No. 5, Kunkel, on the east end of the Carey district, south Archer county, seems definitely to have opened a new productive zone in that area, underlapping the upper strata much as was found on the east edge of the Roxana lease to the west.

Five feet of the sand encountered at 1,163 feet had been taken last night; the well showing about 300 feet of oil in the hole and lots of gas. It will be dry drilled further today with every possibility of making a well of the same class as its western brothers.

Should, as appearances indicate, the well open a new productive horizon, the proposition of definition is already accomplished on two sides, 1,800 feet east, where Petroleum Producers and others have failed to make a well in their No. 1, Kunkel, and less than half that distance to the north where Harvey and Taylor et al. failed to make a commercial producer.

The expanse of such a new zone, to give it its most limited scope, would possibly include a large portion of the White lease, of the Shaw-Rathke-Petroleum Producers 19 acres to the south, and of the Sun company lease to the south, its real area, now of course, a matter of speculation.

The different productive strata in the Carey district were all more or less clearly marked in the old Harvey-Taylor dry hole, where one sand showing oil lay under another from 1,100 feet to 1,214 feet, none of them, however making a well. The break between the sands here in almost every instance, however, was shale. In White Brothers No. 5 a two and one-half foot stratum of lime was pierced just above the new sand.

Numerous wells in the Carey district are making water at much shallower depths than the sand was encountered in this test.

SMACKOVER CRUDE CUT

News of the Fields

Turman, Greenway

Turman and others No. 1, Greenway, located in the northwest quarter of block 2402, TE&LCO survey, due east of the Harmel pool was drilling yesterday again after being shut down for some time at about 600 feet.

Texhoma, Panhandle

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company is making a location in Wheeler county, near the Whittington well recently completed, with other interested parties in a section of land there.

A party of engineers, geologists, and others of the Texhoma have spent a large part of the current week there, and it is probable that the test will get going very soon.

This is probably the most outlying of all Texhoma operations, their work in Shackleford and Montague counties to date having probably outdistanced other of their drilling. The Wheeler county production, at present embodied in the Whittington well, is from a stratum just below 2,000 feet, approximately 1,000 feet shallower than in other districts in the Panhandle.

Rumanian Output.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, Mar. 12.—The recent bringing in of several gushers has raised the Rumanian crude oil production to approximately 60,000 barrels daily.

Winnipeg, Bond

The Winnipeg Oil company's No. 5, Bond et al., is showing for a 350 to 400-barrel producer from sand at 2,285-2,306 feet, in the northeast ten acres of section 100, H&TCRR survey, block 14, Wilbarger county. It is the first Winnipeg deep sand well, the other producers on this lease producing from the 2,000-foot strata.

Panhandle-Flowers

The Panhandle Refining company and Flowers are held up on their No. 1, Travis county school lands, in the north portion of block 23, northeast quarter of the survey, north Throckmorton county, waiting for a water line. The test is rigged up and otherwise ready to go.

Panhandle-Larkin

The Panhandle Refining company and Larkin and White will pull their pipe and attempt to reset a packer after pulling all the rubber off in the last attempt in their No. 2, Richards, in block 23, A. J. Morgan survey, south of Throckmorton, Throckmorton county. Once the water is shut off the well should make ten to twenty million cubic feet of gas from sand 1,264-67 feet.

Texhoma Leases

Harbison.

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company was still swabbing yesterday on its No. 9, Harbison, Swastika, southwest Archer county, with the expectation of putting the well on the pump today for a possible 125-150 barrel producer.

Burnett-E.

The Texhoma's Burnett E-2, south of Fowlkes Station, Wichita county, and an offset to the E-1, recently completed as the opener in a new pool here is a rig.

Richardson, Thomas

Richardson Brothers are drilling at about 300 feet after spudding on their No. 1, Thomas, located near the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of block 200, Reynolds Land and Cattle company, southwest of Throckmorton, Throckmorton county.

S. E. Company, Dunn

The Southern Exploration company was drilling yesterday past a depth of 1,820 feet in its No. 1, Dunn, Byers sub-division, Petrolia district, Clay county, after coring a dry sand at 1,779 feet.

Richardson, Boone

Richardson Brothers No. 1, Boone, west of the Comac pool, west Archer county, is drilling below a last reported depth of 1,333 feet.

Daniels-Rutis, Keith

Daniels and Rutis expected to get casing out last night for their No. 1, Keith, north of Orth, north Young county, to set on a sand encountered at 790 feet and penetrated three feet.

Daniel-Rutis-Cline

Daniels-Rutis-Cline have completed their No. 4, Stampfli-Roberts in the northeast corner of their ten acres in block 2408, TE&LCO survey, west end of the Harmel pool, southwest Archer county, and have a 200-225 barrel well from sand topped at 1,321 feet.

East Carey Test

Petroleum Producers et al were drilling yesterday at about 1,500 feet on their No. 1, Kunkel, in the southwest corner of their 51 acres east of the Carey pool, BBB&CRR survey, abstract 31, south Archer county.

Another Test For North Wilbarger

Another test for north Wilbarger county in the area between the Pease and Red rivers is prospective as a result of the purchase of a 1,000-acre block formerly owned by Kaiser and others just west of Odell, near the Hardeman county line by C. A. Everts. Location has been made in the center of lots 9 and 10, section 20, H&TCRR survey, block 10, on the H. D. Tennison farm, and it is expected to get started right away.

Showings obtained in the few wells drilled in this practically untested portion of the county since 1919 have prompted a drilling campaign for north Wilbarger county that promises a thorough testing of that area before it is finished.

The area shows tests drilling now by Allday Drilling company, Stidham-Thrasher-Hamilton-Smith-Shadbolt, Texhoma Oil and Refining company, two, Simms Oil company, Duke et al, and Holmes and Freeman, two. It is probable that play will take in the extreme eastern part of Hardeman county before long, showings obtained in the old Vassey-Odell well in section 4, two miles southeast of Odell, and in the old Neece test drilled back in 1919, making the section especially attractive for drilling.

Marland, Throckmorton

Odell.

The Marland Oil company of Texas and Hutson and Hamilton are drilling below a last reported depth of 3,120 feet on their No. 1, J. T. Odell, after being shut down for some time on a water sand at 3,050 feet. The well is located in southern Throckmorton county near the southwest corner of block 696, Premium surveys.

Lila D. Martin.

The Marland Oil company of Texas and McGee and Goldston are drilling below a last reported depth of 1,385 feet on their No. 1, Martin, located near the center of the north line of 2165, TE&LCO survey, eastern Throckmorton county.

J. J. Keeter.

The Marland Oil company of Texas and McGee and Goldston are shut down for gas at about 700 feet in their No. 1, Keeter, near the northwest corner of block 2188, TE&LCO survey, northeast of the town of Throckmorton, Throckmorton county.

Richardson, Wallace

Richardson Brothers are drilling below a last reported depth of 1,810 feet on their No. 1, Wallace estate, Martha Trammel survey, abstract 963, east of Rendham, southeast Baylor county. The test will be drilled to 2,000 feet.

Atlantic Will Redrill Reeves Wilbarger Test

Old Well 2 Miles South Of Noble To Be Carried Deeper

The Atlantic Oil Producing company is starting at once to redrill the old Atwood-Reeves well in the southeast quarter of section 24, H&TCRRCO survey, block 4, three miles southeast of the Noble well, Wilbarger county, and take it up from its old depth of 2,100 feet to the general horizon uncovered by the Noble well at about 2,250 feet.

The well was plugged with mud when it was abandoned, but it is believed that this can be drilled out in possibly ten days. A derrick is on the ground and it is intended to start the operation at once. Aside from the interest attached to the experiment as a pure wildcat proposition the mechanical difficulties of the redrilling will cause the progress of the test to be watched closely.

North Montague Test

Daniels-Rutis-Petroleum Producers have drilled fifteen feet of sand and into lime in their No. 1, S. E. Howard, Finnis Robertson survey, north Nocona, Montague county, and have a very small well if a producer at all, at that depth, sand topped at 1,270 feet.

Mooers et al, Kunkel

Mooers-Kennedy-Douglas were drilling yesterday below a last reported depth of 160 feet on their No. 1, Kunkel, offsetting the Mooers et al No. 1, Ieckert, producer, to the southwest, TE&LCO survey, block 1593, on the Young-Archer county line.

S. E. Company, Pace

The Southern Exploration company expected to start up yesterday at 1,518 feet on their No. 1, Pace, northwest of Archer City, Archer county, after breaking part of their rig and having to wait on parts, Harris subdivision of the Club ranch, block 112.

Marland, Ward

Marland Oil company of Texas is moving a rig on the ground for their No. 2, Ward, to be located in the northwest corner of the southeast quarter of block 1378, TE&LCO survey, south Archer county, approximately a half a mile north and west of the No. 1, dry and abandoned at 1,065 feet.

THE LIBERTY OIL FIELD.

The discovery of oil at Liberty means somewhat more than just another oil field. Its influence on the ancient county seat may very well be all that was needed to make this rather quaint and somewhat sleepy little town respond with an activity that will land it in a class alongside of Ranger and Mexia and other of the widely known and highly progressive towns which entered into the business of making a city immediately oil was discovered. The new Liberty field is just the right distance from the town to justify almost extravagant predictions as to its influence in building on the banks of the Trinity one of the most substantial towns in southeast Texas. The field is about the same distance from town as Spindle Top field is from Beaumont. It is close enough to make Liberty the seat of all the oil field activity and far enough to leave ample room for municipal expansion independent of the oil field.

Liberty is one of the oldest communities in southeast Texas. Under the Spanish regime Liberty was the capital of a vast territory that included Jefferson county. The old court house at Liberty teems with traditions and there is a citizenship in Liberty that traces back to the earliest history of the state. There is in this citizenship a civic pride, a loyalty and steadfast love for the home soil that will result in turning a very large portion of the proceeds from the oil field into civic improvements. Situated midway between Houston and Beaumont, Liberty affords all the essentials for creating and establishing its own oil field activities.

Naturally Beaumont will benefit by the discovery and development of the new field. So will Houston and the entire state and nation, but the town of Liberty will contain itself and include the oil field among its individual possessions. That is already evident in the promptness and the efficient manner in which the people of Liberty are preparing to accommodate the increment in business and population. Thus this new Liberty field is different. It is not the first field in Liberty county. The Hull field is in Liberty county also, but it never had and never will have the same effect upon the county seat as will the field nearer town.

The town of Liberty has all the essentials needed to make a flourishing little city. The country to the north of the county capital is the most fertile and picturesque in all southeast Texas. Far back beyond the Civil war Liberty county produced large quantities of cotton and other farm products and sustained some of the great plantations by which the south was known throughout the world. Its Trinity river bottom to the north of the city is a veritable Nile valley for its fertility and productiveness and with such inspiration and wealth as the people of Liberty may acquire from the oil field it is not unlikely that these ancient plantations will be restored to the further advantage of the city as a rade center.

These and many other reasons serve to establish the difference, the significance, between the new field at Liberty and the numerous other oil fields in the coast country. Batson, Saratoga, Hull, Vinton and other fields remained merely oil fields, but Liberty is going to be different because there is a background, a foundation already laid at Liberty for a substantial city and the oil field will be the means of developing the city and the various other resources of the county so that the oil field will be always a Liberty project, an intimate factor of that city rather than become annexed to Houston or Beaumont.

PRESS COMMENT.

A Compliment.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: As King George sails away to regain his health it ought to gratify him to know that his government considers it necessary to establish a commission of the foremost statesmen of the realm to do for a few weeks what the king does all the time.

"Not Obsolete."

New York Herald Tribune (Rep.): As a plane expert Admiral Fiske knows that the air arm of the navy is as yet in the experimental stage. He consequently holds that for the present, at least, the nation with the best battleships, supported by submarines, cruisers and airplanes will control the seas. That is the common sense of the naval situation. Naval strategy has not yet been revolutionized, a fact which no strategist as sound and competent as Admiral Fiske is likely to leave out of the reckoning.

No New Terms for Russia.

Chicago Daily News: Mr. Hughes' successor as secretary of state, Frank B. Kellogg, having had little or no experience of soviet or communist diplomacy, may be induced to acquiesce in the appointment of a commission. But it is not likely that the terms offered to Russia by Mr. Hughes would be modified by the president or the new secretary of state. Those terms are moderate and reasonable. They include the abandonment of communist propaganda in America by Russian agents, the return of American property confiscated by the soviet regime and the acknowledgment of Russia's debts to the United States.

None of those demands can be withdrawn by the United States. By granting them in good faith Russia could have had recognition at any time, and can have recognition now. If Senator Borah contemplates unconditional recognition, as some of his speeches appear to hint, the White House is bound to disappoint him.

Leaguers in Name Only.

Minneapolis Journal: The North Dakota legislature killed a bill to indemnify depositors in closed banks by means of a ten million dollar state bond issue, and another bill to compel deposits of public funds in the state bank, equipped with convenient branches. Half the Non-partisan league majority in the lower house voted with the independents. Shades of Townley! Has the radical element in North Dakota finally learned that the state can not fill its treasury out of a magic pump?

TALA SPEAKS TO THE WORLD.

Some nations are modest and seclusive, as Daisy Ashford would say, "while others are not." Nobody has ever had to complain of the bumptiousness of the Republic of Tala in Central America; indeed, few people have ever known there was such a thing. Buccaneers never plundered it, Spain never ruled it, President Monroe did not throw the mantle of his doctrine around it, inasmuch as he had never heard of it. Peace tribunals have never been pressed by it; the league of nations never knew it. Yet it has flourished since time was not in the memory of man; it was prosperous when Columbus first penetrated the Caribbean; it hugged itself securely while stout Cortez and all his men stood speechless "upon a peak in Darien," laying claim to all shores lapped by the blue Pacific. It is, with the exception of the Republic of San Marino, the oldest state this side of the Far East.

Probably it would have continued to be forgotten had there not occurred, week before last, an unfortunate incident on the San Blas coast of Panama, which is included in the territory of Tala. One R. O. Marsh, an American explorer, is reported to have raised the United States flag at Carti, one of the settlements in the San Blas region, accompanied with the somewhat paradoxical proclamation that the land henceforth belonged to Colombia. Whether the Talese thought they were being made sport of, or whether they were genuinely alarmed at the prospect of such mixed claims, is not yet clear. At any rate, on February 21, they set out to impress upon the whites whose territory it was, and before they were through at least four Panamans were killed and many other attacked. While the business may sound a bit bloodthirsty, we are inclined to sympathize with the Talese.

Living as they have, unmolested and unmolesting in their jungle country since long before the dawn of history, they naturally resented so sudden an infringement upon their rights. Their independence is precious to them, and if living at peace with one's neighbors for countless centuries justifies it, they have certainly earned the right to their.

Moreover, they are by no means a wild, inchoate people. On the contrary, they have a most intense nationalism. It is their proud boast that the parity of their blood has never been sullied. Intermarriage with either whites or blacks they sternly prohibit among themselves.

They live in communities of thatched houses raised on stilts, resembling the Malay settlements, built close to the water's edge. Their principal occupation has always been trading with fish and fruit. Since the founding of Colon, that city has been their principal entrepot. Silently they appear in the harbor, exchange their produce for other commodities, and swiftly paddle back to their settlements on the San Blas coast. While white men are permitted to land in their villages, they have not been encouraged, as the Talese are a small people and recognize that white settlements spell the doom of their liberty. They have gone their ways and lived in peace—as near a reproduction of Moore's Utopia as could be desired.

Wherefore the insolent act of the American adventurer in suddenly informing them that their age-old republic was no longer a fact and that they were citizens of another nation was swiftly resented, and if the mimic warfare that followed was not in accordance with the diplomatic preliminaries of the present day, who can blame them?

After administering punishment to the white intruders, the Talese, that their attitude might not possibly be misunderstood, sent identical copies of a bold and solemn Declaration of Independence to the President of Panama and the American minister. But alas, meanwhile the Panamans have rushed police to the San Blas coast settlements and the United States has dispatched the cruiser Cleveland.

The Talese await both, stolidly and with determination to maintain their ancient rights unimpaired.

TEXAS A STEP AHEAD.

If railroad statistics are any indication, Texas is a step ahead of the rest of the country. While the railroads of the United States failed to show as large revenues for 1924 as for 1923 and were only able to make earnings by greatly reducing operating expenses, Texas roads increased their net income last year by nearly 50 per cent. Both operating revenues and operating expenditures of Texas railroads increased for 1924, but in the proportion of 10.06 per cent for the former and 2.50 per cent for the latter. The fact that the ratio of expenses to revenues declined from 79.11 in 1923 to 73.67 in 1924 shows that our roads are succeeding quite as well with their program of economy as are those of the nation. But the important thing is the expansion of both items. This is evidence of Texas' sustained development and advancing prosperity.

VOTING BY MAIL.

Mr. William E. Hamilton of Milwaukee has undertaken a campaign in behalf of mail voting.

He wants a statute passed by the state which will permit citizens of a town, village or city ward to vote by mail if they choose.

This would enable the plan to be tried out on a small scale before its adoption on a larger one.

Mr. Hamilton says that at present if he is sick or absent from the city he can vote by mail, and he cannot understand why he should not do it when he is well and at home.

The absent voting law protects the secrecy of the ballot and it protects the ballot box so that no one who is not registered can be a voter.

One point that is brought out is that the expenses of mail voting would be less than the present system.

For instance, in Mr. Hamilton's district it would cost $1,943.20 to mail each person a ballot with a prepaid return envelope enclosed. The expenses for competent help would be about $100. The cost of the envelopes would amount to $150. Other expenses would remain about the same. So we have a total expense of $2,200 for mail voting, as against $5,863 for voting in person.

Besides this, it is reasonable to suppose that a larger number of people would vote if voting was made easier.

Under the present election law only about 16 per cent of the potential vote was cast in Mr. Hamilton's district, and it is estimated that at least 90 per cent of the voters would exercise their franchise under the new method.

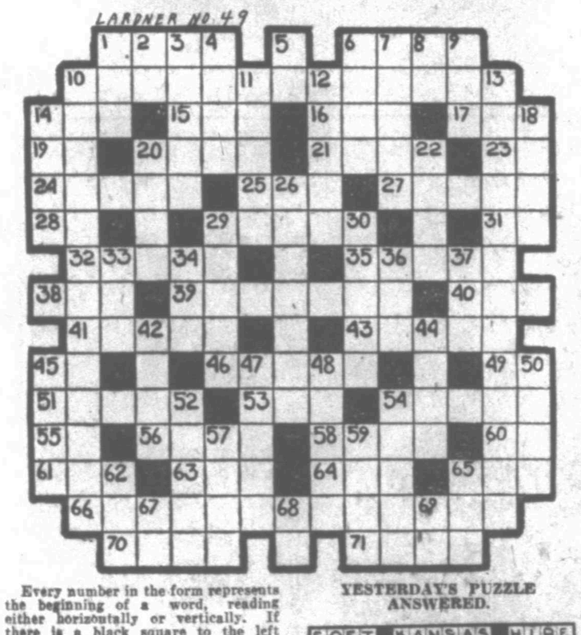

Voting by mail seems to have everything in its favor as a cheaper, simpler and more up-to-date plan than voting in person. The secrecy of the ballot and other matters have been carefully worked out and the postoffice is abundantly able to handle the mail vote.

Mr. Hamilton asks, "Why not use the postal service to make the exercise of our franchise more private and convenient? Why not bring out the stay-at-home vote; give us better facilities for intelligent voting, and save lots of money to the taxpayers? Here would be a good field for women to promote progress. Would not voting by mail appeal to them?"

Cross-Word Puzzle

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completel yfilled. ## Irrigation

Rights of Way For Farmers Laterals.

While according to the contract between the two irrigation distiicts it is only required that laterals be constructed to the land lines of tracts of eighty acres or over as they were under date of January 1, yet it may be that the irrigation district may see fit in the future to construct many more laterals to small tracts of land.

The reason for this lies in the fact that as the lands are divided up into smaller tracts there is going to be trouble between the purchaser of many of these tracts in regard to rights of way for feeder canals and waste ditches. No individual has the right to cross another individual's land without his consent. A private citizen cannot condemn a right of way for his own canal.

The irrigation district, however, has the right of eminent domain, or the right to cross any one's land with a canal upon payment for the land appropriated and the damage done.

Now suppose a man has purchased a tract of land but finds himself shut off from the district lateral on account of some unobliging neighbor refusing him right of way. Suppose he went to the district officials and offered to bear the cost of condemning a right of way and to pay for the construction of its right of eminent domain and build the ditch for him.

Maintaining this canal may present some legal complications if it is left to the man himself to do it, but very probably this could be arranged through the district hiring him to maintain his own ditch and then having him pay them for the expense. This would make him a district employe while at work on his own canal.

Such procedure may be resorted to in the future to overcome disputes between neighbors. It is undoubtedly the duty of the district to see that every land owner gets water if it lies within their power to do so.

Activity is the sign of good health—the loafer is seldom a well man.

We delegate our gardening to the gardner and he, thereby outlives us.

And the best known cure for ills like these,

More Truth Than Poetry

ABDEL KRIM.

A fearless bird is Abdel Krim;
No league of nations worries him.
The rules it makes
He calmly breaks;
And when the Spaniards smother
His latest effort to rebel,
He's only quiet for a spell,
And well they know
That soon he'll go
To work and start another.

He does not fight for high ideals,
For these are things he never feels.
He does not fight
For law or right,
Or to oppose aggression.
He keeps on battling night and day,
Because it is the only way
That he can find
To give his mind
Unfettered self-expression.

We don't approve of Abdel Krim;
He puts a trifle too much vim
In making war
And shedding gore,
To suit the humble writer;
But anybody must agree,
Who's followed his career, that he
Throughout his life
Of hectic strife
Has been a first class fighter!

What Today Means To You

By MARY BLAKE.

PISCES.

"Friday the 13th," will scare all victims of ignorant superstition, but it has no terrors for those who have more health in the fundamental forces of nature, than belief in the fatalistic qualities of man-made days and numerals. The planetary aspects of today, as it happens, are quite benign, and although they do not encourage excessive zeal or denounce greater material progress, they presage a condition of positiveness, and reveal an urge to perform your customary duties with intelligence and consciousness. The vibrations indicate that literary or artistic efforts will be exceptionally favored, and that, in addition, peace and contentment will prevail in the home circle.

A boy that first sees the light today will be blessed with a strong constitution, and enjoy exceptionally good health. He will not be addicted to study, but disposed to forsake learning for the pleasure it will derive from outdoor sports and pastimes. He will have a strong character, but should be trained for something other than a sedentary occupation. A girl, however, born today will not be physically strong, and will require assiduous care and attention during childhood. She will, temperamentally, be very amiable, and have the "old fashioned" craving for a home of her own, and children. She will not be dominating, but will generally get her own way by persuasive arts, rather than by forceful methods.

Those who celebrate their birthdays on this date are, generally, speaking, of simple character, industrious, frugal, and without any great ambitions. They are satisfied with life as they find it, and rarely, if ever, experience the urge to do, or accomplish anything out of the ordinary. They are truthful, sincere and loyal—satisfied to believe what others have believed before them, and not much troubled with the "whys" or "wherefores" of life's problems. They all make excellent companions, as they are invariably in a receptive mood, and not only find, but give pleasure in association by never putting up an argument. They, especially if engaged in agricultural or outdoor pursuits, are fated to go through life placidly and contentedly, and, possibly, secure greater happiness than those who, fired by ambitious dreams, keep fighting and struggling to reach, what is too often, an unattainable goal.

Successful people born on this date are: William F. Warren, once president of Boston university; Charles Hallock, naturalist and author; William W. Everts, theologian and author; Joseph K. Emmet, actor, was best known in his character "Fritz, Our Cousin German"; Ernest Ingersoll, author; O. G. Villard, publisher.

HOW IT STARTED

"Out of Debt, Out of Danger."

Here is a rather platitudinous little saying which would seem, to the user of trite phrases, to have been coined perhaps by someone in a witty mood and to have lived because of its aptness and the "catchiness" of its alliteration.

The fact is, however, that "Out of debt, out of danger," is found to be several hundred years old, having had an auspicious beginning in English literature. The first recorded association of debt and danger we find in the following passages in More's famous "Utopia," dating from 1516:

"But they much more marvell and detest the madness of them whyche to those riche men in whose debt and danger they be not do give almost divine honoures, for none other consideration but because they be riche."

And Shakespeare, in the "Merchant of Venice," makes use of the expression in only slightly different form from our modern phrase when he speaks of a debtor being "within the danger of his crediter."

POEMS THAT LIVE

THE LIFE WITHOUT PASSION

They that have power to hurt, and will do none,
That do not do the thing they most do show,
Who, moving others, are themselves as stone,
Unmoved, cold, and to temptation slow,—

They rightly do inherit heaven's graces,
And husband nature's riches from expense;
They are the lords and owners of their faces,
Others, but stewards of their excellence.

The summer's flower is to the summer sweet,
Though to itself it only live and die;
But if that flower with base infection meet,
The basest weed outbraves his dignity.

For sweetest things turn sourest by their deeds;
Lilies that fester smell far worse than weeds.

—William Shakespeare.

A DAY WORST THAN LOST.

If you sit down at set of sun
And count the acts that you have done,
And, counting, find
One self-denying deed, one word
That eased the heart of him that heard—
One glance most kind,
That fell like sunshine where it went—
Then you may count that day well spent.

But if, through all the livelong day,
You've cheered no heart, by yea or nay—
If, through it all
You've nothing done that you can trace
That brought the sunshine to one face—
No act most small
That helped some soul and nothing cost—
Then count that day as worse than lost.

—George Eliot.

YOUNG GIRLS ARE THE BIGGEST OF ALL GAMBLES IN THE WIFE MARKET—WIDOWS ARE A PRETTY SAFE BET BECAUSE THEY KNOW THE ROPES—BUT NEAR-OLD MAIDS ARE THE REAL, GILT-EDGED SPOILERS OF HUSBANDS.

A man of 35 wants to know whether to pick out a flapper, or a widow, or a bachelor girl for a wife.

Well son, matrimony is a gamble that puts oil stocks and suburban developments in the sure-thing class. No human being can tell beforehand how any marriage is going to turn out, nor what sort of a wife any woman will make. All that you can do is to use your best judgment, and then keep your fingers crossed for luck. But I should rate the three matrimenial propositions you submit to me as hazardous, conservatice and gilt-edged.

Of course, the young girl is attractive. She is easy on the eyes. She is bubbling over with high spirits and full of pep and go. She is so full of the wine of life that she intoxicates a man who is getting along toward middle age, and she makes him feel that if he married her he would renew his youth.

But if he does, maybe he finds out very quickly that this is not true. As soon as the honeymoon is over he slumps back into his own age class, and there is a generation of difference in inclinations and desires between them.

He has had his playtime of life, and wants to settle down. Her playtime is just beginning, and she wants to settle up. Her feet ache to gad about of an evening. His yearn for slippers against the radiator. He wants a fireside companion. She wants a dancing partner. And so it goes.

Many mature men marry young girls under the belief that the way to get the kind of a wife they want is to catch one while she is young and train her in the way he wants her to go. Never was there a more erroneous theory than that young girls are plastic, and as clay in the hands of the potter. On the contrary, they are as immobile as granite and as hard to change.

Long before any husband ever gets hold of her, heredity and environment have formed the girl's character, and there are very few modifications of it that the man she carries ever succeeds in making. If mother has raised her up to be industrious and thrifty and unselfish and sweet-tempered, she will make the sort of a wife whose price will be above rubies.

But no mere husband can make a slattern neat, nor a spendthrift economical, nor teach a little spitfire calm and poise.

Nor can a husband change a dull, brainless girl into a brilliant woman, nor inculcate his own literary tastes into one who never reads anything but the society columns in the daily papers.

So, taking it all in all, the young girl is a dangerous risk as a matrimonial investment.

On the other hand, the widow offers every element of safety to the man who marries her. For one thing, he does not buy a pig in a poke, so to speak. He knows what he is getting when he leads her to the altar, for what she is going to be she already is.

He can judge of her mentality and tell whether he finds her line of conversation interesting or boring. He can ascertain whether she is a good and thrifty housekeeper, or a spender and a waster. He can even find out how she thinks a husband ought to be treated, and whether she was a nagging wife or not.

A widow is also a preferred risk in matrimony because she does not enter it with the impossible expectations and demands that a young girl does. Having had experience with one man, she knows that no man is a demi-god, and that all have their faults and weaknesses and peculiarities, as well as their good qualities and that a wise woman shuts her eyes to the blemishes and magnifies the virtues of her lord, and thus gets along in peace and comfort with him.

Likewise, the widow has found out that the way to hold a man's love and make him purr under your hand is to feed the brute and make him comfortable. Therefore the man who marries a widow nearly always gets a wife who has regard for his stomach, and respect for his pocketbook, and who laughs at domestic difficulties over which a girl wife would have hysterics.

But the real government bond matrimonial commitment is the old maid, the woman who has seen the Spinsters' Retreat at the end of her pathway, and who suddenly gets invited into the matrimonial fold.

She has known what it was to be lonel yand companionless. She has known what it was to have love to give and nobody on whom to bestow it. She has found out how impossible it is to make a real home for one. And so when some man does come along who has sense enough to appreciate her and want her for a wife she spends the balance of her life in adoring him.

She is the true husband spoiler because it is such a joy for her to have somebody to do things for. To her, making a home is no drudgery; it is the fulfillment of the dream of her life, and she makes a companion of whom her husband never tires, because she spends her time crowning his head with a halo and burning incense at his feet. Which is a soothing thing for the feelings of any man.

So there you are, son, and which one of the women you choose depends on how much gambling blood you have.

DOROTHY DIX.

"BE ON TIME" SPEAKER URGES.

"Punctuality isn't a matter of personal choice, but we owe it to others to be on time," said Rev. Leslie Miller to the mothers and teachers of the San Jacinto school, Thursday afternoon at their regular meeting held at the school.

Rev. Miller stated that if one would practice being on time at anything they happened to go to, that it would soon become a habit to them and that they would never be late. He believes that it helps to mold one's character by being punctual.

Following his talk, a business meeting was held. The mothers plan to have a rummage sale March 21. The place will be announced later.

SOCIETY

"Think for yourself and vote as you please—but vote, is the slogan of the American citizenship department of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs. Too long we have blindly followed the lead of others who simply "fix" things for us. We need to study, read, think and act for ourselves. A woman never develops a power she does not use," Mrs. J. W. Fields, who has announced her candidacy for president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, told women of the Forum, Thursday afternoon at the general meeting held at the Y. W. C. A.

Speaking on "The Joy of Citizenship," Mrs. Fields continued, "No woman ought to complain of her life being aimless when so many worth-while things are crying out to be done. If we could get women to think and talk as much about citizenship as they do about their clothes they would now be considering political events and be ready for the next election. We women of today should read political news, keep ourselves informed and be prepared to come with the events of the coming elections."

Tells Voting Interest.

"Recent political results indicate that more and more the voters of American are thinking for themselves. In the past national election, 30,993,232 voted against 26,646,273 in 1920; this developed a voting interest of about 53 per cent as against 49 per cent of the electorate of 1920," Mrs. Fields said.

"The department of our government which should interest us the most is the American home. The creation and perpetuation of the home is the greatest business we as women can have. We should be the most concerned about youth, especially about our young womanhood. The joys of youth with all its joys of living, with ideals of love and work must have an outlet and be guided into safe channels. It is our part as senior club women to direct this thought and action toward constructive measure. We must get the girl's viewpoint on life and direct this thought and action toward constructive measures. When seemingly the young people are beset with every temptation, should we not try to give the girls an opportunity to know something about the pleasure of co-operative work. The girls will find new fields to conquer, so give them a chance to display their talents, education and spirit of service, in pageants, fairs, plays and musicals, and having wholesome recreation and supervision," Mrs. Fields said in part.

Seymour Guest Speaks.

Following Mrs. Field's address, Mrs. James A. Britain of Seymour, president of the first district Federation of Women's clubs, who is here the guest of Mrs. J. C. A. Guest, was introduced and spoke informally, expressing her hearty appreciation of the co-operation of the Wichita Falls club women during her administration.

Mrs. Ben G. O'Neal, first vice president of the Women's Forum, introduced the speakers of the afternoon, which included besides Mrs. Fields, Dr. Charles DeBow of Oklahoma City. Both addresses were enthusiastically received, and Mrs. O'Neal announced that Mrs. W. R. Potter, another candidate for the office of State Federation president, to be the next speaker on the Forum program.

A social hour followed the talks, when tea was served with Mesdames W. N. Maer and W. W. Fraser, presiding at the tea table.

Francis of Electra, presiding. The devotionals were given by Mrs. Homer McGregor and business was taken up until time for luncheon. The long luncheon tables were prettily decorated in the colors, purple and white. This suggestion was carried out in the place cards and favors. Ferns, palms and cut flowers furthered the scheme. About 50 members, including women from six different counties were served by the Dorcas class of the church. Following the luncheon, Mrs. Frances again took charge. Mrs. F. C. Barron sang two numbers and led the women in a general sing-song. This was followed by an organ number by Mrs. F. R. Collard. MRS. FRED BARRON AT AUSTIN SCHOOL

"Are our boys and girls of today not as strong as the boys and girls of yesterday, who had the old fashioned mother? What are we, mothers of today, going to do about the many propositions that are facing us about our children and our home?" asked Mrs. Fred C. Barron who talked to the Mothers club of the Austin school, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Barron stated that she believes the children now are just as strong as years ago. In colonial times the mothers stayed at home and worked when the children went any where. The children soon out grew their mothers. Now the mothers to an extent goes with the child, lets them know that they are interested in what they are doing and the children do not have the chance of "out growing" their parents.

Mrs. W. K. Niles gave the devotionals and an interesting comparison of the mother, at the time Jesus was on the earth and the mother of today. Misses Etta Maddrey and Frances Smith, composed a little playlett which they called "Thanks." They presented about fifteen little girls, in it, each bringing with them a minature of something that the club had given the school.

Dobbins, won low among the members, and among the guests Mrs. J. H Fowler won high. All were presented with pretty gifts. Those present were Mesdames G. O. Loughridge, N. A. Hagen, J. H. Yallee, W. ## Loosen Up That Cold With Musterole

Have Musterole handy when a cold starts. It has all of the advantages of grandmother's mustard plaster WITHOUT the blister. You just apply it with the fingers. First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Made of pure oil of mustard and other simple ingredients, Musterole is recommended by many nurses and doctors. Try Musterole for bronchitis, sore throat, stiff neck, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, croup, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back or joints, sore muscles, sprains, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. It may prevent pneumonia and "flu."

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Produce

AUSTIN, March 12.—Texas yesterday shipped 218 cars of nine fruit and vegetable commodities, the feature of the shipments being the rolling of two cars of onions for 56 from the nation as a whole and imports from Mexico of 10 cars. Other shipments were one of 38 cars of lettuce, 53 of 116 cars mixed vegetables, 57 of 71 cars spinach, 63 of 168 cabbage, 7 of 158 grapefruit, one straight car of beets, 10 of carrots and 24 of the two mixed.

At Laredo yesterday the shipping point market on spinach continued unsettled around 30 to 40c bushel cash track and 40 to 50c usual terms. Cabbage at lower valley points was very weak, the wagon load market dropping to $6 for ordinary quality with best not selling above $10 per ton. Usual terms cars only brought $10 to $12 per ton f. o. b. Some discouraged farmers are plowing up their cabbage to plant cotton and corn. Beets and carrots at valley points were unchanged. The first bushel of beans was moved yesterday from the valley.

AUSTIN, March 12.—Eggs continued to advance. Texas points paying mostly $7.25 per case of 30 dozen this morning, with a few sales as high as $7.50. At Chicago this morning, the market was firm to a half cent higher with ordinary firsts listed at 27 to 27½c dozen and in New York eggs were barely steady to possibly unchanged. Butter at Texas points is also stronger with packing stock bringing mostly 16 to 17c; creamery A, 49c; creamery B, 47c.

Poultry trends lower with hens quoted at 19c; springs, 40 to 42c; old cocks, 8 to 9c; turkeys, 25c; geese, $1 each; ducks, 75c each; guineas, 25c each.

CHICAGO PRODUCE

CHICAGO, March 12.—Butter, lower; creamery extras, 49½c; standards, 49½c; extra firsts, 47½c@48½c; firsts, 41@45c; seconds, 34@37c.

Eggs, higher; receipts 7,731 cases; firsts, 28¼@29c; ordinary firsts, 27@27½c.

Poultry, alive, unsettled; fowls, 24½c; springs, 31c; roosters, 19c; turkeys, 23c; ducks, 28c; geese, 18c.

AUSTIN, March 12.—Egg receipts of the four markets yesterday were 56,036 cases, including 30,666 New York and 7,731 Chicago. The storage movement was almost entirely to the coolers, 3,624 cases trending inward. New York 2,435, Chicago 350, Boston and 50 Philadelphia for a total of 945 cases withdrawn.

Stocks on hand in New York were 45,650 cases; Chicago, 19,618; Boston, 780, and Philadelphia, 152. Stocks on hand in cold storage warehouses of the United States March 1, per the report of the bureau of agricultural economics, released today, were 22,000 cases, compared with 44,000 a year ago and the five-year average of 28,000 cases.

Dressed poultry receipts totalled 54,126,713 pounds, including 335,502 for New York, 77,120 for Chicago, and 136,091 for Boston. The storage movement was a net withdrawal for the four markets of 619,666 pounds. This left stocks this morning 38,268,553 pounds, Chicago; 30,591,008 New York; 10,550,750 Boston and 4,400,820 Philadelphia. Stocks on hand in storage warehouses of the United States March 1 totalled 130,508,000 pounds. This included 19,656 pounds of turkeys, compared with 16,094,000 a year ago; 19,849,000 pounds of fowls compared with 13,047,000; 44,339,000 pounds of roasters compared with 32,490,000, and 18,660,000 pounds broilers, compared with 10,958,000 a year ago. Total stocks are 37,611,000 pounds heavier this year than last, and 39,882.00 pounds heavier compared with the five-year average for March 1.

AUSTIN, March 12.—But 26 cars of spinach cleared St. Louis today, eight of which were destined each Boston and Philadelphia. The market showed little feature, trade continuing very dull and unsatisfactory.

Kansas City, no arrivals, 3 track; dull 75c.
Chicago, 5 Texas arrived, 34 track; weak, 50 to 75c.
St. Louis, 10 Texas arrived, 53 track; steady, 50 to 75c.
Cincinnati, no arrivals, 3 track; stronger, 65 to 85c.
Cleveland, 1 Texas arrived, 6 track; stronger, 90c to $1.00.
Detroit, no arrivals, 9 track; steady, unchanged.
Denver, no arrivals, 4 track; dull, 75c.
New York, 4 Texas, 9 other arrivals; weaker, 60 to 65c.
Boston, 14 Texas arrived, 39 track; weak, 65 to 75c.
Philadelphia, 11 Texas arrived, 31 track; steady, 45 to 80c.
Pittsburgh, 4 Texas arrived; dull, 50 to 75c.
Baltimore, 7 Texas arrived, 9 track; weak, 85c to $1.00.
Washington, no Texas, 10 other, 30 track; steady, $1.00 to $1.25.
Fort Worth, no arrivals or track supplies; weak, 90c to $1.00.

Cabbage markets were steady with Boston firm on Texas stock. The market, however, does not show any advances which the trade and the light clearance would seem to indicate are justified.

Kansas City, 5 Texas arrived, 12 track; steady, $2.50 cwt.
Chicago, 11 Texas, 1 other arrival, 48 track; steady, $2.00 to $2.25 cwt.
St. Louis, 2 Texas arrived, 23 track; weak, $30 ton.

FORT WORTH, March 12.—As far as the cattle market was concerned, salesmen found trade conditions entirely satisfactory, all classes meeting with a broad demand and clearing on a steady to higher basis. Steers and yearlings were quotably unchanged, and canners were not much better than steady, but fat cows were strong to 10 cents higher, and calf values indicated a slightly better trend. Receipts were posted at 2,000 head of cattle and 500 calves.

Small receipts of beef steers were purchased early and at steady rates. Several sales were made at $6.50 to $7.25.

Consignments of cows were wanted, and anything possessing flesh commanded small premiums. Several deals in carlots were made at $5.00 to $5.50 and individuals ranged as high as $6.00. Yearlings of good quality continue to sell freely at strong to higher rates. The best here in carlots cleared around $7.50 to $8.00. Bulls were purchased at a spread of $2.50 to $4.25.

Very active trading was witnessed in the calf division, and quality was fairly desirable. The top end of one carload from South Texas went at $9.00. A good many heavy calves were taken at $7.00 to $7.25.

Sales in the stocker division were in line with recent quotations. Receipts did not offer anything very attractive. The hog market was a slow, stubborn affair. Salesmen were asking a rather liberal advance, due to reported higher markets elsewhere, but packers were unwilling to put on much and at noon the trade was just getting a start. Sales were only 10 to 15c up. Carloads sold up to $13.90 and $14.00 was being asked in the truck division with early offers up to $13.85 and $13.90. No change was noted in the pig trade, the best grades going at $10.00 to $10.50 and sows were steady at $12.00 to $13.00. Hog receipts were estimated at 2,000 head.

Cattle: Receipts, 2,500, including 500 calves; market strong to 10 cents higher; calves steady; beeves, $3.50@8.50; stockers, $3.50@7.50; fat cows, $3.50@6.00; cutters, $2.25@2.75; canners, $1.75@2.10; heifers, $3.50@7.50; yearlings, $3.50@9.00; bulls, $2.50@4.25; calves, $2.50@9.00.

Hogs: Receipts, 2,000; market 10 to 15 cents higher; top around $14.00; bulk, $13.50@13.75; best medium weight, $13.90@14.00; good mixed, $13.75@13.90; good light, $13.50@13.75; fair mixed, $13.00@13.50; fair light, $12.75@13.00; common, $8.50@10.50; packing sows, $12.00@13.00; pigs, $8.00@10.50.

NEW YORK, March 12.—Speculators for the advance gained control of today's stock market, which moved irregularly higher under the leadership of the railroad and public utility shares. Many active issues showed net gains of 1 to 3 points with a dozen or so specialties scoring advances of 5 to 11 points.

There was a marked relaxation of selling pressure at the opening and prices bounded upward in all sections of the list. Bear traders covered freely with the market showing a tendency to dullness when their immediate requirements had been met.

Buying of the rails was stimulated by the marked improvement in earnings shown by class one carriers in January, as compared with the same month last year and rumors of other favorable dividend and merger developments affecting the southwestern carriers. The three Wabash issues reached new peak prices for the year on extreme gains of 2 to 3 points. Rock Island closed 2 points higher at 52¼. Western Pacific, which recovered a sensational 16 point advance yesterday by touching 55, forrfeited more than half of its gain, closing at 46¼.

Reading was bid over 3 points to 79¼ and then eased to 78⅝. Norfolk & Western showed an extreme gain of 4½ points at 131¼ and then slipped back to 130½. Good buying also was noted in Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, Atlantic Coast Line, Canadian Pacific, Chicago & Alton preferred, Chicago & Eastern Illinois common preferred, Lackawanna, Pere Marquette, Frisco common, St. Louis-Southwestern common and preferred, Seaboard Air Line preferred and Texas & Pacific, all of which closed 1 to 2½ points higher.

Utah Securities soared over 10 points to a record top at 69¾ on reports that its assets would be taken over by a new company.

The rise in the so-called pivotal industrials was a more orderly one. U. S. Steel crossed 124 and then slipped back to 123¾, up ⅛. Baldwin showed a net gain of 1⅝ to 137¼ and American Can closed ¼ higher at 177¾ after selling 2 points above that figure. Studebaker showed a small fractional gain at 44¼. General Electric soared 12 points to 277, closing a point below the top. Ludlum Steel jumped nearly 8 points to 44½ on an official denial of reports that there will be no change in management.

Call money renewed at 4½ per cent and then dropped to 4. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

A firm undertone characterized the foreign exchange market. Sterling was in brisk demand, demand bills ruling about ⅛ of a cent higher around 4.77⅝. French francs and Italian lire eased slightly but most of the other European rates showed moderate gains.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 12.—The cotton market after a barely steady opening soon turned reactionary with rater liberal liquidation of the tired long interest. Prices were on the down grade practically all through the session, the reactions developing whenever the selling tapered off proving small and short lived. At the lowest of the day reached in the late afternoon, May showed a loss of 37 points and December a loss of 43 points compared with yesterday's close. The close was only a few points above the lows with May 35 and October 38 points net lower for the day.

It was a weather market pure and simple. Although the map showed no rains it did show barometric lines which induced map readers to predict early rains for Texas and the official forecast predicted rain for East Texas. This expectation of rains, possibly overnight and a few sprinkles reported from points in Texas and Oklahoma served to renew the liquidation started yesterday and the selling movement kept up with intermittent intensity all day.

At the start Liverpool was about as due but the local market opened 1 to 5 points down and early trades with May at 25.00, July 26.09 and December 25.21, proved the highs of the day. The selling which set in almost from the start carried prices down by successive stages to 25.43 for May, July 25.68 and October 24.77, or 37 to 44 points above the lows showing net losses for the day of 36 to 38 points.

The spot demand was reported to be less pressing than it has been mainly it was believed, because of the fact commitments for the first half of March have been filled. On the other hand exports for the day were liberal 42,798 bales, including 18,718 bales cleared by Galveston and 21,100 cleared by Houston.

A well known southern authority estimated the February consumption by domestic mills at 537,000 bales.

"Blackface" Eddie On Wichita Bill This Week End

He Sings Songs, Plays An African Harp And Strums Banjo

"Blackface" Eddie Ross, a well-known minstrel, is headliner at the Wichita theater this week. During his career, Ross has been a factor in practically every important minstrel organization in his period. He has scored so much success since entering vaudeville that it will probably be a long time before he will look for new fields to conquer. A capable monologist, he sings songs and plays his African harp, as banjoes should be strummed.

"The Music of Motion," presented by Helene Coyne and Henri French, is a terpsichorean melody. Each graceful step of these clever dancers has a harmonious note, but it is also a combination of music and motion.

A piano is just what the player makes it. Ned Norworth is positive that its real purpose is comedy and therefore proceeds in a little display of eccentric variety to demonstrate just how a piano may be made a comedian. With the instrument, he manages to portray all kinds of levity, farce and burlesque. Mr. Norworth is also a popular composer and musical comedy favorite.

The Texas Four is a male quartette from the Lone Star State. All four of the men are Texans, hence the name. Each is a soloist and each a humorist. Together they are one of the best liked group of singers on tour. They mingle fresh and extemporaneous humor with their songs.

Norma Telma is a brilliant extraordinary. His contortions and not his shots make him extraordinary. He gets on the table and while balanced in an extremely difficult pose he makes the balls execute all kinds of didoes and funny capers about him.

Crissie and Daley are comedy pantomimists and impersonators of dolls and animals. Their act is said to be unusually clever.

Three negro youths were arrested by the police Thursday afternoon in connection with the robbery Wednesday night of the Service Tailor shop, 1515 Monroe. Three or four dresses and several smaller articles of wearing apparel, left there for cleaning, were taken.

"Must Keep Honor With Peace," Avers Woman To Joint House and Senate

AUSTIN, March 12.—Women of the American Legion auxiliary believe "in peace with honor," and not "peace at any price."

Declared Mrs. O. D. Olliphant of Trenton, N. J., today to a joint session of the Texas legislature.

Mrs. Olliphant declared a recent conference on national defense called at Washington to counteract the publicity that had been given a proposed amendment to the federal constitution eliminating the national guard and providing that no munitions of any kind shall be manufactured in this country.

"The women of America are willing to raise their boys to be soldiers when the national honor is at stake," she said. "We want peace, because we know the alternative of peace—war."

"We are determined to have peace with honor, not peace at any price. We want to see America safe for all times, and we pledge ourselves to America first."

Minstrel Show Is Success at Palace

A minstrel show de luxe, with clever black face work, a dash of chili in the form of a red hot Spanish act, a sprinkling of gorgeously gowned girls, a ring of wonderful singers backed by a high powered orchestra formed Neil O'Brien's offering to the Palace theatre audience Thursday.

Action was rapid fire with singing and dancing of the highest order. The show was gorgeously dressed in wonderful costumes, stage sets and lighting effects. Part one listed comic ditties, patter, ballads and some clever dancing, while part two, the olio staged in brilliant style a complete musical revue including everything from the sunny Spain, a graveyard, a barber shop, an old fashioned garden, a fashion review and a wharf to the elaborate butterfly scene in a blaze of color and song which closed the show.

One lone case was the sum total of business called up for attention Thursday morning in city police court. It was a traffic violation which was speedily disposed of.

Emold Gives History of Pre-war Russia

The history of Russia, 25 years ago, was given to the Junior Colleges Literary Society last night by G. Emold, native Russian, who fled from the country in 1903 to escape the tyrannies of the Tsar, and to obtain an education in America.

His story dealt with the Russian following the Japanese war when the peasants were at the depths of their illiteracy period, of how Jews were not permitted to attend schools, of how the was forced to bribe the master to let him come to classes, of how the entire populace were made to live in constant dread of the knut and of Siberia.

In a resume of his life, Mr. Emold, who is in the tailoring business in Wichita Falls, stated that his parents were over in Russia now, forbidden by law to come to America, even though he was a naturalized citizen.

In concluding his talk on the Russian people, the speaker made an appeal against the race prejudice that had sprung up against Russia because of its soviet ideals, asking that Americans educate themselves to the point where they can understand the Russian and know him for what he is, "a lover of liberty."

Public Is Invited to College Art Exhibit

"You and your friends are cordially invited to attend an Art reception to be held at the Junior college Sunday, March 15, 1925, at 3 o'clock."

So reads an invitation issued by the Art committee of the Junior college, headed by Mrs. W. W. Silk for the art tea at the college, the initial purpose of which is to unveil the D. O. Johnson mural painting, the work of Emil Hermann, local artist. The great canvas, 70 feet long, has required six months for completion, and is the gift to the school of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Johnson of Wichita Falls.

An appropriate program has been arranged by the art committee and will be presented during the afternoon in the auditorium.

The art reception serves also as a formal opening of the exhibition of 27 paintings from the Taos Society of Artists, loaned to the local committee through the courtesy of the Sam Yunt galleries at Kansas City. "Taos," Mrs. Silk states, is pronounced like "mouse."

The exhibit is great in educational value, Mrs. Silk declares, explaining that the work is purely American.

"There is no European touch, and the technique is distinctly American. The Taos artists have gained international recognition for the manner in which they paint the Indians and western scenery. They do it as no other artists in the world are able to do it.

"There are only 15 or 20 painters in the association, and for several months a year they live in the adobe huts at Taos, the ancient dwellings of the Aztecs, studying their art. The remaining time they spend hard at work in the eastern colonies, and their devotion to this one line of art has produced wonderful results.

The paintings will remain on exhibition until March 30, it is stated.

Jesse Not John Is Simpson Verdict

It required just five minutes for a jury in the 78th district court to decide Thursday afternoon that Jesse Simpson was Jesse Simpson and not John Simpson. In so deciding, the jurors returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the case of the Texas Employers Insurance association vs. Mrs. Nora Simpson of Cross Plains, Texas.

The trial, started before Judge Guy Rogers the first of the week, involved the identity of a man killed in July, 1923, in a refinery explosion near Burkburnett. He was known as Jesse Simpson, but the contention was made by Mrs. Simpson that the dead man was really her husband, John Simpson, who had left home some time before. She sought and obtained a judgment through the industrial accident board, and the Texas Employers Insurance association started cross action to abate the decree.

Methodists to Hear Oklahoma Lecturer

Coming as the second offering for this month in a series of high class programs, being sponsored by the Methodist Young People's association of this city, will be the lecture tonight at the Floral Heights Methodist church, by Dr. Charles DeBow of Oklahoma City, who will speak on "The Challenge of an Unfinished Task."

Preceding the lecture, the Wichita Falls Choral club will sing a group of old southern melodies, "Massa in the Cold, Cold Ground," "Old Kentucky Home," "Carry Me Back to Ole Virginny" and "Old Black Joe," and Miss Evarts Martin, harpist, will play "Drink to Me With Thine Eyes," and "Last Rose of Summer."

The Choral club offerings will be given under the direction of the leader, Mrs. Luella B. Thompson. There will be no charges, but a free will offering will be taken.

Funeral in Dallas For Miss Andrews

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon in the Grace Methodist church, Dallas, for Miss Irene Andrews o fthat city who was killed early Wednesday afternoon in an automobile accident near Decatur. Burial was in a Dallas cemetery. A number of friends of the girl went from Wichita Falls to Dallas to attend the last rites.

Miss Andrews was fatally injured when the car in which she and a party of friends were returning from Dallas to Wichita Falls was struck by another machine a mile and a half north of Decatur on the Meridian highway.

She was the secretary to Dr. Walter J. Johnson, pastor of the First Methodist church, south, in this city.

Pouring of the concrete foundation of the new Wichita Falls and Southern shops and roundhouse southwest of the city has been started. A new plant is to go up to replace the one destroyed by fire last Saturday night with an estimated loss of around $125,000. The construction work will be pushed as rapidly as possible, officials of the road have announced.

Investigation of Women's Death Ends

With the release of two negroes arrested Thursday morning and later the release of the man with whom she was riding at the time of the accident, police yesterday dropped further investigation of the death Wednesday night of Mrs. A. N. Bridges, fatally hurt in an accident on the Henrietta road. They were convinced, they said, that it was unavoidable.

Mrs. Bridges died in the general hospital an hour and a half after the one-horse buggy in which she was riding was struck by an automobile. Her companion was locked up by the police pending a thorough investigation into the affari.

One Doctor Here to Every 1,155 Persons

Doctors are scarce in Wichita Falls, if figures of the American Medical association are correct in stating that the number of doctors in the United States average one for every 724 persons.

Wichita Falls has only one doctor for every 1,155 persons according to statistics from the office of Dr. M. M. Walker, president of the local medical association. Forty-five doctors are registered there, and they serve at least 52,000 people.

IMPORTANT NOTICE
We have been informed that strangers to this city, who are now working here selling a motion picture advertising scheme have been spreading the propaganda that the Al Ellis Advertising Agency is about to go out of business. And for the benefit of the advertisers of Wichita Falls we wish to state that we have not any intentions of going out of business.
As evidence of such the Al Ellis Advertising Agency have contracted for and moved on to the old J. L. Downing property at Ninth and Brook streets this city, where we will utilize the eight-room house, which is on the said property, as our general offices and studio for making up-to-date motion picture advertising.
We are also planning on building stores on the frontage of the said property, therefore it does not appear that we intend to quit business in the near future, but are making all preparations for better motion pictures.

Child-birth
Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers!
When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used 'Mother's Friend' and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes." Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA 46, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores—everywhere.
