Bankhead To Introduce New $350,000,000 Farm Program

Same Results Secured With AAA Expected

Southern Senator Claims His Plan Is His Interpretation Of Administration's Views On New Legislation

Bill Is Explained

Would Seek Appropriation To Finance Drafts To Farmers Based Upon Compliance To Plans Of Secretary

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. — Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) announced tonight he would introduce —probably Tuesday—legislation for a new $350,000,000 farm program representing his interpretation of the administration's views.

Explaining that his bill would "broaden and enlarge" the 1935 soil conservation act, Bankhead declared it would "accomplish in a large measure the same results that have been secured under the AAA."

Appropriation Sought

The southern senator said an appropriation of $350,000,000 would be sought to finance "drafts to farmers based upon their compliance with plans promulgated by the secretary of agriculture."

In practical application, Bankhead said, these would include "diversification and rotation in crops, crop adjustments and soil building."

Asked if his was administration legislation, Bankhead said it "contains my interpretation of the agreement reached at the White House conference this week, of which I was a member."

Stand Court Test

He added that after consultation with colleagues and "able lawyers outside congress," he was "fully satisfied that the new bill will stand the test of the courts if it ever reaches the courts."

The senator said his bill, which he hoped to have attached as an amendment to the first appropriation measure taken up by the senate, would authorize administration of the farm program through the present AAA organization.

Asked how the program would be financed, Bankhead said that would be decided later, adding, "we want to keep this entirely separated."

Date Is Fixed

Earlier today, Secretary Wallace fixed Feb. 15 as the date when the new program should become effective to apply to crops grown in 1936.

In his first press conference since AAA was invalidated, Wallace said preparation of legislation was a "congressional function," but he added:

"The important thing is to expand the definition of the soil conservation act to include specifically soil conservation and preservation of fertility and not merely erosion control."

Lives Of Two In Oklahoma Claimed As Cold Wave Hits

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 18. (AP)—Snow laden winds howled out of the northland tonight bringing death to two persons in Oklahoma, covering southern sections with a heavy snow blanket and driving the mercury in the Panhandle to the lowest levels of the year.

T. K. McClintic, 45, Tulsa, Skelly Oil company construction superintendent, was killed instantly near Durant when an oil truck skidded from an icy bridge.

Exposure claimed the life of Charley Daugherty, 33, near Stringtown. His body was found by a United States marshal.

Proposed Oil Boycott Will Not Be Offered At Session

GENEVA, Jan. 18. (AP)—Officials of the League of Nations predicted tonight that the greatly advertised proposed oil boycott against Italy would not see the light of day at a meeting of the council beginning Monday.

Great Britain, they pointed out, seems opposed to any British initiative toward imposing new sanctions. Premier Pierre Laval of France has always regarded the oil sanction with disfavor.

Justice Of Peace Offers A Free Ceremony For Honesty

POTTSTOWN, Pa., Jan. 18. (AP)—O. C. Beacraft, justice of the peace at Sanatoga, near Pottstown, today offered to marry free of charge any couple that would admit the girl proposed.

Kirby Claims Thousands To Join In Fight

Veteran Of Political Wars Declares Roosevelt Is Socialist, Not Democrat And Must Not Be Renominated

By HARRELL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Jan. 18.—Aged John Henry Kirby, veteran of the political wars and wealthy lumberman, predicted today at least 10,000 "good Democrats" would gather at Macon, Ga., Jan. 29 for a southwide convention of anti-Roosevelt Democrats.

Kirby and Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia called the convention.

Start Ball Rolling

"We will start the ball rolling and we hope it will gain such momentum that President Roosevelt, who is a socialist instead of a Democrat, will not be renominated," said Kirby, chairman of the southern committee to uphold the constitution.

He named Jesse Jones, wealthy fellow townsman and chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation as a "possibility" in the event President Roosevelt's renomination is blocked. He said he believed Jones could defeat any Republican nominee.

Jones often has praised New Deal administration acts and recently said Roosevelt's renomination was assured.

Has Several Leaders

"We are not interested at present in the identity of the candidate who would replace Roosevelt," said Kirby. "Democracy has several leaders who are well qualified to serve as the nation's chief executive. Our primary concern is returning the party to the principles which made it great."

He said if the state presidential nominating conventions did not espouse the principles of "real Democracy," which would be re-stated at the Georgia gathering, and did not name delegates who would vote for a candidate in sympathy with those principles, contesting delegations would be sent to the national Democratic convention.

Westminister Abbey Burial For Kipling Is Considered

LONDON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Rudyard Kipling, Great Britain's poet and story teller who died early today, may be buried in Westminister Abbey, among the nation's greatest sons.

Kipling's own wishes for his burial place, friends said, probably will be the only deciding factor. Throughout his life he shunned national honors, refusing Knighthoods several times.

The British museum disclosed that Kipling, shortly before his death, gave it the manuscript of "Kim," probably the greatest as well as one of the most popular of his longer works.

MAN IS SUICIDE

WACO, Jan. 18. (AP)—Walter Koehler, 29, was found hanging in a baling wire noose from a rafter in the barn at his home near Prairie Chapel today. A suicide verdict was rendered after an inquest. Surviving are his widow and parents.

Mrs. John Teal Says She Will Stand By Accused Husband

By GORDON WEBB
Avalanche-Journal Staff

CIRCUMSTANCES of which she knew nothing overnight altered the trend of Mrs. John Teal's life, gave her a new name, and took from her, at least temporarily, her husband.

Two weeks ago she was known only as Mrs. William Owens. She had been happily married for five years. Assistant foreman in a railroad roundhouse, her husband provided amply for her and her daughter.

Husband Is Arrested

Events, shaped by the slaying of a woman school teacher in Bailey county April 7, 1918, suddenly reached from Texas to the Owens home in Pendleton, Ore. Teal, alias Owens, was arrested and carried to Lubbock to face an indictment charging him with the murder of the school teacher, Miss Evelyn Monts.

Today "Mrs. Owens" has accepted as her own the name, Mrs. John Teal—a name she had not heard until her husband was arrested. She is a guest of relatives she did not know she had.

Will she stand by her husband?

"Absolutely," she replied quickly. "All the way through.

"I couldn't do anything else."

Friends Are Aiding

The attractively-dressed, blue-eyed woman, whose dark hair is showing gray strands, then explained how their friends were aiding them.

"Our friends up there have helped us already," she said.

"They took up a collection among the shop employes and friends. They've been quite decent."

Mrs. Teal has two daughters, one of whom is married. The other is Miss Mildred Smith, who is here with her mother.

"He (Teal) has been like a father to both of them," she declared. "He could not have treated them better.

Wonderful Husband

"He certainly has been a wonderful husband, and I believe in him."

She said she had known Teal about two years before their marriage Sept. 2, 1930. Her friends in Pendleton still call her "Mrs. Owens," she said.

"Up there," she explained, "it comes natural for them to call me by that name."

Mrs. Teal and Miss Smith are staying at the home of Teal's aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Teal.

Young Bandit Being Sought

Swaps Possible Short Prison Term For Threat Of Death Sentence When He Abducts Secret Service Agent

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 18.—Federal and state officers watched snow-swept Oklahoma and Texas highways tonight for a youthful fugitive who unwittingly swapped a possible short prison term for the threat of a death sentence by abducting a United States secret service operative.

Leonard W. Johnson, 26, charged in a counterfeiting case at Texarkana yesterday, seized Operative William C. Morgan's pistol while en route to the county jail at Paris, Texas, forced him to accompany him on a wild, 13-hour ride, and fled when the government agent jumped from the machine at Bokchito, Okla., early today.

Shifted To Texas

Reports that the fugitive had sideswiped an officers automobile in Denton county, Texas, shifted the hunt back across the state line tonight.

Federal officers said the case was an exact parallel with the kidnaping of two Paris, Texas, officers last

"You'd Be Surprised," Man's Reply After His Long Swim

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 18. (AP) — Marcus Jacobson, 20, jumped 156 feet from the Delaware river bridge today, then swam 800 feet to the Philadelphia shore.

He was taken to a hospital where he was reported to have suffered a strained back.

Police asked him why he did it.

"You'd be surprised," was the answer.

Gang Crimes Of America Flayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Inspector Arthur Bishop of Scotland Yard told reporters today that America's kidnapings, rackets, swindles and gang crimes "couldn't happen in England."

He avoided talk of the Lindbergh case, but defended the death penalty for violent crimes. "Men show they have no right to live when they do certain things," the inspector declared.

The first question drew a quick reply. "I can tell you that," he smiled. "There is no kidnaping in England."

"Persistence" is the secret of the "Yard's" success, he said:

"That and the cooperation of the public. But I think that persistence is the real answer. We don't leave a case until we've got the fellow who did it."

Texas Senate Facing Shift By Elections

Five Of 16 Whose Terms Will Expire Plan To Retire; One In Doubt; Hotly Contested Races Expected

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—Existing alignments in the state senate may be shifted sharply through results of the coming elections.

Of the 16 senators whose terms expire next January, five have indicated they would not seek re-election and another is in doubt. In addition several incumbents face what may prove to be hotly contested races.

These Will Retire

Those who have signified an intention to retire include the veteran Senator J. W. E. H. Beck of Dekalb, Ernest Feilbaum of San Antonio, E. J. Blackert of Victoria, W. 4R. Poage of Waco and Roy Sanderford of Temple. Senator Clint Small, around whose head have centered some hot legislative battles, may not run again.

Sanderford has announced for the Democratic nomination for governor against James V. Allred, incumbent. Feilbaum will retire because of illness and Poage will run for congress.

To Seek Reelection

Senators who will seek re-election include Gordon Burns of Huntsville, trying for a full, four-year term, W. B. Collie of Eastland, Tom Deberry of Bogata, Will M. Martin of Hillsboro, G. H. Nelson of Tahoka, Will Pace of Tyler, John S. Redditt of Lufkin, John Hornsby of Austin, Ken Regan of Pecos and Albert Stone of Brenham.

Four senators who are holdovers are reported to be considering races for other offices and would remain in the political swim even if their ambitions were thwarted.

Political circles report that Senator Tom Holbrook of Galveston, the senate dean, Senator Weaver Moore of Houston and Senator L. J. Sulak of LaGrange will try for congressional berths. Senator Joe Hill of Henderson reputedly is mustering his forces for a campaign to succeed Ernest O. Thompson as a member of the railroad commission.

Several house members likely will seek election to the senate.

Rep. William A. Shofner of Temple and Rep. J. Manley Head of Stephenville may campaign against

Final Ballot On Bonus Bill Is Postponed

Proposal To Pay In New Currency Turned Down By Decisive Margin; Vote On Passage Set Monday

Changes Blocked

Senate Bill Certain To Reach House By Monday Night And Completed Plan To White House By Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. — After turning down by a decisive margin a proposal to pay the soldiers' bonus in new currency, the senate late today deferred until Monday the virtually certain passage of the coalition bill to discharge the $2,000,000,000 debt in cashable small bonds.

A sudden change in plans by Democratic leaders delayed the action just as it appeared that a final vote was in sight. Another 15 minutes probably would have disposed of the issue.

Can Lose Nothing

Just as Senator King (D-Utah) arose to present the final amendment, to pay only the cash surrender, or present value, of the adjusted service certificates, Senator Borah (R-Ida) called attention to the hour and remarked that since the bill was to be passed anyway nothing would be lost by putting off a final vote.

Democratic leaders conferred hurriedly and the signal "no decision today" was given.

The new currency amendment, proposed by Senator Thomas (D-Okla) was rejected 64 to 27, with many senators who previously had favored a similar method of payment in last session's vetoed Patman bill, including Senator Borah, voting in opposition.

Another Plan Offered

Only three Republicans, 22 Democrats and the two farmer-labor members voted for the amendment. Nineteen Republicans, 44 Democrats and the progressive, LaFollette, answered "no."

A viva voce vote shouted down another proposal by Thomas to make an outright appropriation of $2,237,000,000 to discharge the debt.

Two other amendments went down to defeat without record votes—one by Senator Hayden (D-Ariz) to deduct from the payment bonds any debts other than bonus borrowings owed by the veterans to the govern-

Critics Want New Evidence

Governor Hoffman Is Watched As Other Officials Openly Show Skepticism; Claim It's Up To Him To Produce

(By The Associated Press)

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 18.—The critics of Governor Harold G. Hoffman, openly skeptical of his "new evidence" in the Lindbergh case, watchfully waited tonight for him to show what he's got.

"It's up to the governor to produce," was the sentiment of those who sided with Attorney-General David T. Wilentz in the belief that the chief executive "hasn't got a thing."

No Evidence Produced

The attorney-general, who not only says no new evidence has been produced but also that the governor lacked legal right to grant the 30-day reprieve which he extended to Bruno Richard Hauptmann two days ago, conferred during the day with Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the state police.

Wilentz said afterward there would be no formal statement.

The two men, major actors in effecting the conviction of Hauptmann, gave careful study to the fiery statement which Governor Hoffman made yesterday—a statement in which he defied his foes to impeach him and expressed doubt

Lehman can grant clemency.

Anxiety Over Condition Of King Deepens

Growing Concern Over Great Empire And Entire World Caused By Reports From The Bedside Of George V

(By The Associated Press)

SANDRINGHAM, Eng., Jan. 18. Anxiety over the condition of King George V deepened tonight when it was announced he had showed further symptoms of a heart attack.

The 70-year-old monarch is ill in Sandringham house, the royal residence, of a bronchial ailment. His illness caused growing concern throughout his empire and the world.

Crisis In 48 Hours

A crisis may be expected in about 48 hours, a high source said tonight.

Bronchial catarrh has affected his majesty's lungs and nose, causing hoarseness, feverishness and sore throat. A pulmonary inflammation, it was said, has affected the lungs and been carried to the heart, causing cardiac weakness.

A group of anxious-eyed country folk, waiting at the palace gates, read with sinking hearts a late bulletin which told of a grave turn in the condition of their beloved neighbor, "his majesty, the squire."

Bulletin Announced

The bulletin said:

"His majesty, the king, had some hours of restful sleep.

"The cardiac weakness and embarrassment of circulation has slightly increased and gives cause for anxiety."

"Embarrassment of circulation" was interpreted to mean that heart action was growing weaker.

A bulletin issued at 10 p. m. (4 p. m. Central standard time) said there had been no change in the king's condition since the previous bulletin.

Barring a sudden change for the worse, it was announced, there would

Treacherous Snow And Ice Reported For Wide Section

Cold, North Wind Sends Mercury Skidding To 2 Degrees In City This Morning; At Least Six Persons Are Hurt As A Result Of Cold Wave; Traffic In Lubbock Is Slowed

WINTER'S icy fingers locked the entire South Plains in a frigid grasp last night and early this morning. Temperatures that fell with a thud reminding of tumbles by residents on snow and ice Saturday recorded the season's abysmal low of 2 degrees at 1 o'clock this morning and, indirectly, caused injury to at least six persons.

Snow slanting in a northern blow that howled at times at a velocity of 30 miles an hour, and which later turned to ice, laid a treacherous white carpet over Lubbock and the South Plains ranging to depths of four inches and making for hasardous traction for man and vehicles.

Midnight check showed six persons had been treated at West Texas hospital for injuries resulting from accidents.

Fred Hill and Alvah Selmon, both of Slaton, were taken by Sanders ambulance to West Texas hospital after a wreck at Fourteenth street and Avenue H at approximately 11 o'clock at night.

The men were driving their light roadster north on H and struck the rear of a heavy sedan two negroes had left on the right side of the street when they went in search of gasoline.

The men were thrown through the windshield of their car by the impact, and cut, and the negroes' machine was propelled approximately 30 feet onto a sidewalk.

The victims were able to go to a nearby filling station, where V. S. Smith, employe, telephoned for the ambulance. The negroes drove away before identification could be made.

Selmon, bleeding profusely from the head, seemed to be the worse injured.

Tells Of Mishap

Version of the accident was given by E. Turner of 903 Broadway, who was in the filling station adjacent to the accident scene.

Four Are Injured In Falls

J. A. Pressley, about 60, of 310 Avenue Q, remained in the hospital for treatment of a fractured right hip. The former fire marshal and peace officer's condition was not believed dangerous.

Treated For Fracture

A. F. Phillips of 2627 Twentieth street, was treated for a slight fracture and sprain of the left wrist.

A Texas Technological woman student, who was not identified by hospital records because she had not entered the hospital, suffered injury to middle finger of the right hand. It was believed formerly dislocation had resulted.

Two other automobile wrecks were reported. None was injured in

Supreme Court Decision On TVA Likely To Come Monday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP) — The supreme court presumably scrutinized a variety of New Deal litigation at its secret conference today, stirring speculation that it had completed a final draft of its Tennessee valley act opinion.

The TVA ruling may determine whether the government can sell surplus electricity in competition with private utilities. A brief session for announcement of decisions will be held Monday before the court takes a two week's recess.

Norther Hits In All Parts Of The State

Freezing Temperatures Forecast Along Coast; Mercury Falls To Low Points Over West And North Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Freezing temperatures were forecast Saturday night for Brownsville, near the mouth of the Rio Grande, and for the Texas coast as a driving snow storm enveloped more than half of Texas.

A low of 28 to 32 degrees was predicted for Brownsville and the lower Rio Grande valley, the Texas citrus area, as the temperature dropped there in a few hours from 75 to 55 degrees at 5 p. m.

Drops At Houston

Houston enjoyed the summery reading of 81 Friday afternoon, but the thermometer was down to 37 at the same hour Saturday afternoon and citizens of the port city prepared for a drop to 26 degrees before dawn Sunday.

Snow was reported as far south as Temple and Palestine. Flakes fell steadily at Corsicana, and heavily at Waco and Gatesville.

The "norther" drove the temperature down to 10 degrees above zero in the Texas Panhandle and caused the mercury to fall considerably below freezing all over North and West Texas.

Heavy snow blanketed the West Texas Plains as far south as Big Spring. Livestock suffered severely from the cold but ranchers were jubilant over the moisture. Matador had five inches of snow.

Fall Even Lower

Weather bureau observers said the temperature would fall even lower by Sunday morning, possibly as low as five degrees in the Panhandle.

The worst snow storm since 1933 whitened the Dallas area. Starting with sleet shortly after daybreak, the strom turned to snow and it fell steadily for hours. It was 26 at Dallas and Fort Worth.

Airlines, despite the heavy snow, sent their ships through on schedule. They reported ceilings high

Retail Merchants Of Southwest Forming Independent Buying Association

Major Cities Are Selected

Merchants Will Be Required To Have Sound Financial Rating; Meetings Set Here Today And Monday

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock has been chosen as one of a group of some 15 cities in half a dozen mid-west and southwestern states in which retail merchants with sound financial credit and rating are forming an independent buying group to handle nationally known lines of merchandise.

One of the meetings at which the select list of merchants will perfect their groupings is scheduled for today and Monday at the Hotel Lubbock when between 40 and 50 men from the Plains section will gather. Not all of the grouping plans will be perfected at this time, owing to illness of one of the leaders. A later meeting is scheduled for Kansas City, Mo., February 3.

List Is Given

Lubbock will be placed in a group of cities including Kansas City, Mo., Oklahoma City, Okla., Denver, Colo., Lincoln, Neb., McAlester, Okla., Wichita, Kansas., Pueblo, Colo., McCook, Neb., and other towns like Abilene, Salina and Hays, Kansas, North Platte, Neb., and Dodge City, Kansas.

Yesterday noon a group of men and women arrived here from Amarillo to open a three-day meeting in the Hotel Lubbock. Heading the group is Howard Brown, Kansas City., Mo., vice-president and general manager of Smith-McCord-Townsend Co., for half a century a leading wholesale dry goods house there.

He had with him some 12 persons, all but two of them connected with his company, and they started a three day "market week" of their own. The ballroom of the hotel is being used as a sample room, as well as several private rooms on the second floor.

To Form Association

"I am here to meet some of the leading independent merchants of this section, to form a master purchasing association," he explained. "There will probably be about 30 or 35 merchants in this group. We expect, however, about 40 to 50 for the meeting.

"We are sponsoring a group of retail merchants in some 15 localities, who will conduct their business including buying and selling along certain lines. These men will act and meet as groups; they will buy and advertise as groups and will conduct their business much as a chain store in buying and distributing merchandise.

"It is our plan to come to Lubbock about every 30 to 40 days, with our lines and to meet these merchants in our group. We will hold a regular market week of our own ten to twelve times a year.

To Buy Membership

"Members of our groups will buy and hold a membership in the organization and they will continue to pay a fee for co-operating with us. We believe the advantages that we are offering them will make it interesting enough for them to continue with us."

The Plains country is the only section of Texas in which the Kansas City house has been operating for the past decade. Prior to that time they did some business in North, East and Central Texas, but in recent years have confined their activities to this section.

Merchants in this section include such towns as: Roswell, Clovis, Tucumcari and Carlsbad, N. M., on the west, to Lamesa and Brownfield on the south; Spur, Matador and Shamrock on the east and Dalhart on the north. Big Spring and Midland may be included.

"Cap" Rowland, Lubbock, a resident here since 1930 and long a representative for the firm, is being retained here as district manager.

Here for the meeting, besides Mr. Brown, are the following purchasing department heads: Miss Edna Coleman, lingerie; Miss Gladys Dowell, millinery; Earl Dorner, ready-to-wear and Miss Pearle Allen, assistant; Harry Newell, piece goods and staples and All Eagle, assistant; Keif Wilkerson, underwear and hosiery; Carl Poorman; men's and boys' furnishings; L. M. Rishell, rubber footwear. All are from Kansas City.

S. Bullard, Chicago, sales manager for Marshall Field, and W. E. Rodenberger, assistant sales manager are in the party.

Besides Cap Rowland, Art Littman, an advance man for Smith-McCord-Townsend is in the party.

Leaving Kansas City January 11, they were in McAlester, January 12 and 13; Oklahoma City, January 14 and 15; Wichita, Kansas, January 16 and 17. From here they go to Pueblo, Colo., January 21-22; Denver, Jan. 22-23; McCook, Neb., January 23-24; Lincoln, Neb., January 25-26 and home January 27.

Man Is Shot To Death While His Wife And Child Watch

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 18. (AP) — While his wife and two children looked, Walter Werner, 40, owner of a general store ten miles from San Antonio on the north loop road, was shot and almost instantly killed late yesterday as he started to crang the automobile of his brother-in-law, Willie Helmke.

Three shots were fired. Mrs. Werner told deputies sheriff, all of them striking Werner in the upper chest.

Helmke, 34, was arrested last night at his farm home. Officers said Helmke told them he had gone to the Werner store to discuss with his brother-in-law a check he had received for some land.

There was an argument, the deputies said they were informed, and Helmke claimed Werner picked up a piece of iron and started toward him, while he was sitting in his car. The shots were fired, Helmke declared, when he feared he would be struck.

Formal Statement Of Candidacy For District Attorney Given By Berry

Formal statement anent his candidacy for district attorney of the 72nd judicial district Saturday was issued by George Berry, Lubbock attorney.

"Fully realizing that all public offices belong to the people, and that from a majority choice of all the voters a man is selected, and knowing that the public does not owe me anything, I make my announcement . . . subject to action of the primary in July, 1936," Berry said by way of preface.

Has Four Counties

"I am now, and have always been, a Democrat, having supported the nominees of the party in every instance, and my local activities in the party are known to the public.

"Your district attorney should be morally and religiously qualified and from a knowledge of the criminal laws, and experienced in their application both in and out of courts. I believe that the people are entitled to know about the candidate for any office before being asked to vote for him and, upon my merit alone, I submit my candidacy.

Born In Hood County

"I was born in Hood county, Texas, 37 years ago. When eight years of age I removed with my parents to Young county, where I lived until coming to Lubbock seven years ago. I attended the country schools near my father's farm, worked my way through high school at Fort Worth, attended Texas Christian university there by working for a newspaper, served in the army during the war, and paid my own way through Cumberland university, being admitted to the bar in 1923. I have been actively engaged in the practice of law since 1924, first in Young county and in Lubbock since coming here.

"My family consists of my wife, a daughter of four and a son 11 months old. My father-in-law and mother-in-law reside with us in Lubbock. We are home owners and taxpayers in the district, and have assumed our duties and obligations in the up-building of our community, and in doing that which is counted good citizenship.

"I am a member of the Baptist church, Masonic lodge, The American Legion, and at present, the Texas member of the National Law and Order committee of the American Legion. My work in the religious and civic affairs of my community has been both pleasant and beneficial, and my assistance to many who have needed assistance has been a pleasure as well as a duty. My record in this respect in Lubbock bespeaks of what I have been doing.

Ability Is Known

"My ability as a lawyer in both criminal and civil law is known to the people of Lubbock and with my past experience as a prosecuting attorney I feel that all will find me qualified in this respect. In asking you for this office, I fully realize the responsibility. Should I be elected, your trust will not be betrayed.

"As your district attorney, it will be my duty to meet each issue as presented to me, squarely as it arises, to be honest with myself and my fellow man, to prosecute without becoming personal as to the defendants or the witnesses, to prosecute vigorously the persistent violator, but to temper justice with mercy to the first offender, and to never abuse personally the man or woman who does not agree with me whether his honest views are agreeable to me or not.

"The people of his district have a right to bestow this honor where they see fit. It is yours to do with, and you should do with it as you consider the best for the people. You are urged to carefully investigate me and my record, to give me your vote, and, if I am elected, to stand by me, and we will work together for the good that is mutual to all of us; for together as a united citizenship we can do well—alone we can do nothing."

Mr. Long Was In A Run - Down Condition, Weak And Nervous

Gly-Cas Easily Restores Him To Health; Kidneys And Bowels Regulated—Lauds Action Of New Remedy As "Greatest Ever"

It is actually astonishing what this new Gly-Cas will do in the most stubborn cases of rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles and many local people now realize how fortunate they are in having this new remedy Gly-Cas.

MR. J. E. LONG

Read what Mr. J. E. Long, age 70, 110 West Ave. B, San Angelo, Texas, said recently in lauding the action of this new remedy:

"It is pleasure to tell others of a medicine that will give the results of this new Gly-Cas," said Mr. Long. "For sometime my system had been in a general run-down condition and I was terribly weak and nervous. My kidneys were a constant source of distress, was up at all hours of the night and my appetite was practically entirely gone. I was also badly constipated and I was continually using the strongest of laxatives but with no good effect. I tried various types of medicines but in spite of them all I got practically no benefit until I began Gly-Cas—it proved to be the one REAL medicine of them all."

"Gly-Cas brought about a remarkable change in my condition by the time I had finished my first box," continued Mr. Long, "I am enjoying the best health I have had in many months now. My kidneys and bowels are regulated, appetite better and my former strength and energy is fast returning. I do not hesitate to tell others about Gly-Cas for I know from my own experience that it is one medicine that gives results even when all else fails."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Co., 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—No C. O. D. Mail Orders.—Adv.

Age Limit For Schoolboys Increased To 19 Years As Result Of Referendum

Schools Ballot To Keep Eight Semester Rule

Interscholastic League To Act On Result Of Poll; Vote Of 499 Schools Favors Lifting Of Limit From 18 Years

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—The age limit for participation in activities of the University of Texas Interscholastic league was increased to 19 today with announcement by the executive committee of results of a preferential referendum vote by member schools. The schools voted also to retain the eight semester rule.

The referendum was ordered when schools protested the action of the committee last May in reducing the age limit from 20 to 18. The 18-year-old limit would have become effective next September.

The referendum carried four proposals: 18-year limit retaining the eight semester rule; 18-year limit abolishing the eight semester rule; 19-year limit retaining the eight semester rule and 19-year limit abolishing the eight semester rule.

The winning proposal received 1,916 votes.

Strong opposition to the 18-year age limit was voiced last November at a section meeting of the league in San Antonio. Many football and basketball coaches and superintendents asserted it would result in scores of worthy students leaving school because they would be denied the privilege of interscholastic competition. The group favoring the 18-year limit contended it was unfair to pit boys who progressed normally against the older ones in inter-school contests.

Votes on the other propositions were: 18-year limit abolishing the eight semester rule, 2,733; 18 years with eight semester rule, 2,928; 19 years abolishing the eight semester rule, 3,072. Out of 1,065 ballots received, 499 expressed a first choice preference for the 19-year limit retaining the eight semester rule.

Dean T. H. Shelby, chairman of the committee, said the order of the results was maintained in each class of high school, namely conference "A" football, conference "B" football, conference "C" football and junior high schools, and other high schools.

Smallest Total Wins

Officials explained that under the preferential ballot, calculated on the sum of the ranks, the proposition with the smallest total wins. Each first choice was counted as one unit; second choice as two units, third as three and fourth as four.

With 499 schools the 19-year limit retaining the eight semester rule was first choice and second choice with 307, third with 233 and fourth with 26.

The 18-year limit abolishing the eight semester rule ranked second with 133 first choices, 295 second, 533 third and 99 four.

The 18-year limit with the eight semester rule was third with 230 first choices, 228 second choices, 190 third choices and 418 fourth choices.

The proposal to raise the limit to 19 and abolish the eight semester regulation received 203 firsts, 238 second, 99 thirds and 524 fourths.

Dodgers Make News... Collins Sore At McCarthy..."How Can You Wreck A Wreck?"...Hudlin Favored In Tourney

Baseball Gossipers At Work, Players Soon Will Be

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Around the hot stove league: Any time the Dodgers out-bid another club for a ball player, it's news . . . That's why the Lindstrom deal caused so much commotion in Flatbush and nearby points . . . When Casey Stengel heard about it, he cracked: "At last we've got a professional on the club."

There may be another baseball feud cooking, brothers . . . Eddie Collins was plenty burned up at Joe McCarthy's remark that the Red Sox are "just an improved club" . . . Collins is sorry he can't say the same for the Yanks . . . "Let them go ahead and stand pat . . . It probably will mean they'll wind up behind the eight ball," he said.

WELL, HOW CAN YOU?

Have the Reds told Kiki Cuyler to go ahead and make a deal for himself? . . . Re all the moaning in Philly re Connie Mack wrecking the A's, Bill Dooly asks: "How can you wrecka wreck?" . . . And an eighth place wreck, at that . . . The Braves will not trade Wally Berger except on a four-for-one basis . . . and all the incoming players must be regulars.

The blood pressure of Prexy Gerry Nugent of the Phillies must have shot up 20 points when the International League averages came out and he found his prize buy, Outfielder Woodley Abernathy, supposed to be all kinds of a slugger, hit only .276 for Baltimore last season.

ONE GREEK, ONE BELGIAN

Roxie Lawson, Detroit pitcher, Mel Ott and Zeke Bonura all play independent basketball during the winter to keep in shape . . . They're pretty good at it, too . . . Alex Kampouris of the Reds is the only Greek in big time baseball . . . and Emil Leonard of the Dodgers is the lone Belgian . . . Chief Joe Guyon will manage Fieldale in the Bi-State League this year . . . Lee Head, Knoxville manager, went to bat 402 times last season and fanned only once.

Charlie Dressen is stressing speed in Redland . . . The 1935 Reds stole more than twice as many bases as the 1934 outfit . . . The Reds swiped more bases last year than any other National League club except the Cardinals.

TOO MANY HORSES?

Willis Hudlin is favored to win the baseball players' golf tournament at Sarasota because he's been cracking par consistently all winter . . . Fred Browning, who will toil in the New York-Penn loop this summer, is a nephew of Jim, the wrassler . . . Nashville is hot after Walter Stewart, just let out by the Indians . . . Chicago writers say the bangtails had something to do with Freddy Lindstrom leaving the Cubs.

Glenn "Slats" Hardin May Not Enter Olympics Because Of Muscle Trouble And U. S. Hurdling Hopes Diminished

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—America's cherished ambition to reclaim world supremacy in hurdling in the 1936 Olympic track and field sports has been dealt a double blow.

On top of the withdrawal of Percy Beard, the great Alabama high hurdler, from the ranks of candidates for your Uncle Samuel's team, comes the information that Louisiana State's Glenn Hardin, the world record-holder over the 400-meter-hurdling route, faces an uphill fight even to make the trip to Berlin.

Torrance Is Ready

Muscular trouble in his legs has beset Hardin for the better part of a year, according to Bernie Moore, the L. S. U. coach.

Hardin has been described as the "perfect quarter-miler" by coaches. He is rangy and has one of the longest strides ever measured.

Meanwhile Hardin's former teammate at L. S. U., "Baby Jack" Torrance, has lost none of his capacity for heaving the 16-pound shot farther than any other athlete in history. The holder of the world record of 57 feet, 1 inch, will be the No. 1 Olympic shotputter, in Moore's opinion.

Tall Timber

West Texas Fish Reach Ceiling

CANYON, Jan. 18. (AP)—The freshman basketball team at West Texas State Teachers college may not be the best first year squad in the country, but it claims to be the tallest.

The average height of the starting line-up is six feet four inches. Only two of the 16 aspirants for the team fall below the six-foot mark.

Red Hays, forward, is the "runt" of the starters, standing only five feet 10 inches. Raymond Shackleford uses his towering six-foot eight-inch stature to hold down the center position. Ben Arthur, six feet seven inches, takes care of the other forward assignment. The guards are Melvyn Cullender, six feet three inches, and L. O. Speer, six feet two inches.

Olympic Squad One Of "Best"

Brundage Views U. S. Team As One Of Strongest To Ever Go Into Action; Newcomers Add Power To Americans

By AVERY BRUNDAGE
Pres., American Olympic Committee
(Written Especially For The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 18. (AP)—Inspired by the approach of the games of the eleventh Olympiad, American athletes in a score of sports during the past year notably improved their performances.

From the broken records and championship marks set in 1935, we are assured that we will have at Berlin one of the best teams the United States has ever sent to the Olympic games. This applies to all sports from track and swimming to fencing and weight lifting. Basketball and canoeing, on the program for the first time, should provide new fields to conquer.

New Stars Develop

Many members of our 1932 team have retired, making way for newcomers. To take advantage of these openings a whole crop of new stars has appeared. The potential possibilities of this new generation of champions who are just hitting their stride, together with the demonstrated ability of the reliable veterans of former years, relieve us of any apprehension about the success of the team that will wear the stars and stripes in 1936.

We are cheered, too, by the knowledge that our team will do credit to the United States in exemplifying the high ideals of amateur sport, off as well as on the field of competition. From recent correspondence we are certain that our athletes appreciate the deeper significance of the Olympic games and that they do not share the lack of understanding of fundamental Olympic principles which has led some well meaning people to be influenced by the false and misleading propaganda spread by those who either wish to destroy the Olympic games or to use them for ulterior purposes. If these games meant nothing more than determination of a few champions, they would not have the significance they hold in our life today.

Something Besides Athletics

Those who were responsible for the revival of the Olympic games and who guard their purity look far beyond the athletic possibilities. They visualize the creation and strengthening of the bonds of friendship that should exist among all civilized nations by frequent peaceful intercourse on friendly fields of sport where competition breeds mutual respect and not suspicion or hatred.

Texas Defeats Baylor To Tie Hogs For Lead

Longhorns Win Second Game Of Season From Bear Cage Team With 30-24 Victory On Austin Court

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—The University of Texas defeated Baylor university in a Southwest conference basketball game tonight, 30 to 24. It marked the second victory of the season for the Longhorns over the Bears, Texas having won the first game of the series at Waco 24 to 23.

The game was exceedingly fast from the start and at times grew rough. Texas played smoother all-around game and had the edge in passing. The Texas margin of victory, however, lay in the ability of Texas players to make good on free throws. The Longhorns were credited with 12 free throws out of 17 tries while the Bears made good on only two of seven chances.

Baylor took a three-point lead early in the game but was quickly overhauled by Texas and the Longhorns never were headed, although the Bears drew to within one point shortly before the end of the half.

Collins, Texas center, copped scoring honors with ten points on two field goals and six free throws. He sank six of eight charity tosses. Taylor, Texas captain and forward, scored eight points on three field goals and two free throws while White, substitute Baylor center, was high for the Bears with three field goals and one foul. T. Alford, Baylor forward, scored three field goals before going out of the game about the middle of the second half on personal fouls.

Former Notre Dame Star Takes Over New Job Soon

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 18.—The University of Texas board of regents today approved appointment of Ted Twomey, former Notre Dame star, as football line coach. Twomey now is line coach at the University of Kentucky.

Twomey was advised of the action immediately and ordered to report at his earliest convenience. He will participate in spring training.

Succeeds Moynihan

The appointment was approved by the board of regents in a telegraphic pool conducted by the regents' athletic committee. Twomey's appointment was recommended unanimously by the athletic council.

Twomey succeeds Tim Moynihan, former Notre Dame center, who served as line coach two years. Moynihan said shortly after the first of the year he would not return to Texas but would seek a head coachship and if he could not obtain one would go into business.

Twomey finished playing for Notre Dame in 1929. He was regarded by the late Knute Rockne as one of the finest tackles in Irish grid history.

Twomey Has Coached At Georgia, Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 18. (AP)—Ted Twomey, whose appointment as line coach at the University of Texas was announced today, has served as first assistant to Chet Wynne, head football coach at the University of Kentucky, since the fall of 1934.

His appointment to the post at Texas was recommended by Jack Chevigny, a former teammate at Notre Dame when both played under the tutleage of the late Knute Rockne.

Twomey, selected as an All-American tackle while at Notre Dame, formerly was line coach at the University of Georgia.

No announcement has been made at Kentucky regarding a successor to Twomey, although it was known a week ago that Texas officials were negotiating with him. If spring practice at Kentucky starts next month, it is possible Twomey will be able to work with the local football squad before he reports to Chevigny at Austin.

BY BOB CAVAGNARO
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Johnny Revolta's winning of the 1935 professional title and the $1,000 purse that goes with it enabled the curly-haired Milwaukee shotmaker to top the nation's money-winners for the past year, official checkup today showed.

Revolta, labeled by such old-guardsmen as Gene Sarazen and Walter Hagen as the man-to-beat in the future, competed in 34 events and collected $9,543 from $135,000 in gross purses.

Henry Picard, the Hershey, Pa., stylist, was next with winnings of $8,417 in 30 events, and Horton Smith of Chicago third with a total of $7,790 in 26 tournaments.

The big winner in 1934 with close to $7,000, Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., was sixth last year with $5,498 in 21 starts.

Rice Owls Cop 34-20 Victory From Froggies

Off To 22-9 Lead At Half, Owl Team Wins Second Triumph Of Season As TCU Loses For First Time

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Jan. 18.—The tall, smooth-working Rice Owls had an easy time of it tonight as they defeated the T. C. U. Horned Frogs, 34-20.

Hitting the hoop from all angles and controlling the leather easily on every jump ball, the Owls took a big 22-9 lead at the half and loafed through the closing 20 minutes for a decisive triumph.

Owls Stay In Race

It was the first defeat for the Frogs who had played only one game before tonight. The victory left the Houston team very much in the running for the Southwest conference title.

Seale, Owl forward, led the scoring with nine points. The point-making, however, was well scattered on both sides. Capt. Willie Walls, who also played a good floor game, rang up six points to lead the Purple. Eaton and Lodge, the Rice guards, turned in a fine game.

Ponies Hurry In Last Half To Beat Aggies

DALLAS, Jan. 18. (AP)—The Mustangs of Southern Methodist university put on one of the dazzling finishes for which S. M. U. teams are noted, tonight to defeat the Texas Aggies 31 to 27 and take over third place in the Southwest conference basketball race.

The A. and M. Cadets, fighting for their first conference victory, took a lead nine minutes after the game started and held it until nine minutes before the end.

Ranspot Saves Game

Big Keith Ranspot, called in at center when Hugh Haren fouled himself out of the game, pulled the game out of the S. M. U. loss column. Barely into the contest, he looped a long one to tie the score at 25 all, and before the end of play he basketed two more.

Bill Blanton, the Methodist's star forward, also was sent to the exit by the foul route, but he managed to chalk up 10 points for the scoring leadership of the game before he went. Happy Lee with 7 points led the invaders.

Speaker Urges That Boxing Take Lesson From Baseball; Encourage Small Promoters

CLEVELAND, Jan. 18. (AP)—Tris Speaker's at bat again.

This time it's with an idea from the diamond, which he wants to apply to the squared ring.

He took over his duties as chairman of the Cleveland Boxing commission recently, and today he outlined one of the principles he hopes to bring into local fisticuffing:

"Give the small promoter a chance," he said. "Give him a chance to put on small shows and develop the youngsters. To me, it's like bringing 'em up from the minors to the majors.

"Baseball needs the minors for its material, and boxing needs the small shows to find the lads who some day will break into the big shows."

The way to help the small promoter, he explained, is to give him some cooperation in cutting down the overhead, particularly when two referees, two timekeepers, two doctors and a large business personnel hardly seem warranted by the size of the program.

Azucar Washed Up; He Wins Santa Anita $2,500 Feature

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18. (AP) — Azucar, winner of the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap last season, showed today he was far from "washed up," as some track observers claimed, by winning the $2,500 added San Felipe handicap for three year olds and up. The time for the mile was 1:36.

Failure of the betting fraternity to back Azucar made the payoff $42.80, $16.20 and $8.20.

Ariel Cross was second by a head, paying $4 and $3.60. Scotch Bun was third, paying $6.80.

Hub Clothiers Want Games With Cage Teams; Win From Tech Freshmen Here, 39-29

Lubbock's independent athletic squadsmen, Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, have turned their attention to basketball. In fact, it has been turned that way since late last year, and already the Rosenthal basketeers have gone to town in a handsome way.

Victories have been won over the Lubbock High school Westerners, 44 to 27, and the Texas Tech freshmen. The Clothiers defeated the Picadors, 39 to 29, Friday night.

And the Clothiers want more games. They're ready to play anybody anywhere who can guarantee traveling expenses, and they prefer to play away from home.

Any independent, high school or college team desiring games with a "fast, goal-shooting, high-powered basketball team," is urged to communicate with Sam Rosenthal at the Hub Clothier store or with Ernest Dowell, active manager of the Rosenthal athletic interests.

Ducks Of South Which Got By Hunters To Be Counted

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 18. (AP) — Thousands of men will be stationed at winter watering places for ducks in the south next Friday through Sunday, to count the quackers and ascertain the probable "left overs" from the hunting season which will return to breeding places in the north next summer, according to C. R. Landon, of the federal biological survey office here.

While Landon's chief work for the survey is extermination of predatory animals in Texas, he will have representatives at the coastal watering places for ducks, and will employ other observers or beak-counters, he said Saturday.

There will be observers around Copanao Bay, as well as along the flats south by Raymondville and Brownsville, and east by Matagorda Bay to Port Arthur, Beaumont, High Island, Houston and Galveston areas. Such work will be conducted wherever ducks frequent the South, Landon said.

Westerners To Play Plainview Cagers Here Tuesday Night; Varsity Football Letters To Be Awarded To 1935 Stars

Leaders in the Panhandle Basketball league race with two victories in as many starts, the Lubbock High school Westerner cagers hope to remain undefeated Tuesday night when they meet the Plainview Bulldogs here.

It will be the first home conference" game for the Westerners, who went to Plainview to defeat the Bulldogs, 32 to 31, a field goal in the last half-minute of the game bringing the winning point. Coach Goober Keyes and his Westerners were back home yesterday happy with a 28 to 17 Friday night triumph over the Amarillo Sandies at Amarillo.

One of the largest crowds of the high school season is expected Tuesday night, not only to see what should be a classy basketball engagement but to pay tribute to the Westerner football squad of 1935.

Between halves of the basketball game, Lubbock letter men of the late pigskin campaign will be presented with sweaters, symbolic of service on the gridiron. It is to be a special ceremony, "open to the public" for the first time. The letters generally are presented during student assembly, but the occasion is to be given special place this year.

Players eligible for "varsity" letters, reserve and special awards, were announced at the annual football banquet in December, but the boys were compelled to achieve satisfactory scholastic standing before the presentation could be made.

The basketball game is the only one major interest here this week.

Rice Owls To Play Cagers Of LSU Twice This Week

HOUSTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Louisiana State has been added to Rice Institute's impressive basketball schedule. The Owl cagers will journey to Baton Rouge for a two-game series with the Tigers Jan. 22-23.

L. S. U. played here last year and fans still are talking about the exciting, free-scoring battle which the Owls annexed.

Members of the Rice squad already are looking forward eagerly to their invasion of the East next month. They will play Long Island University at Madison Square Garden, New York, Feb. 19, and Duquesne University at Pittsburgh Feb. 21.

Long Island and Duquesne are reputed to have strong aggregations. Long Island recently nosed out the Dukes, 36-34.

Rod Fenton Gets Walter Stratton In Main Mat Event This Week; Crippled Children's Fund To Receive Benefit

Promoter Sled Allen won't be setting a precedent when he hangs out the S. R. O. signs at the Auditorium this week. Nor would it be anything new for him to turn late comers away entirely, and that is what is almost certain to happen Wednesday night.

Not only is the all-star card he has arranged good enough to stack the fans in, but Promoter Allen is turning over his show house, or a large part of it, to the American Business club, which, with the help of other civic clubs of the city, is conducting an advance ticket sale.

Proceeds from the advance sale, which will continue until Wednesday noon, will go to the crippled children's council fund of Lubbock. The A.B.C. annually conducts a program for the benefit of the crippled children. This year Promoter Allen turned over the advance sale of general admission tickets for a regular Wednesday night wrestling show to the club.

A report last night said that between 500 and 600 tickets already had been sold by the civic club committees. The goal is two thousand, which would almost fill the Auditorium.

Allen has arranged the best possible card for the special occasion. Rod Fenton of Canada opposes Walter Stratton in the main event; Danny McShain and Dory Detton take the spotlight for the semi-final, and the show opens with Nick Bozinis, powerful Greek from New York, wrestling Al Sears of St. Louis.

Just before the championship game, Lakeview defeated the Ralls B team, 30 to 10, for consolation honors.

In games leading up to the finals tonight, Lakeview defeated Roaring Springs, 28 to 8; Abernathy eliminated Dickens, 76 to 8; Ralls put out Lorenzo, 29 to 21 in the other semi-final game.

Awards will be made early next week, Coach C. B. Hendrick of Ralls High school announced.

Levelland Wins Own West Texas Tourney

LEVELLAND, Jan. 18. (Special) Defeating Whitharral, 23 to 16, in the final and championship game, the Levelland High school Lobos won the second annual All-West Texas high school basketball tournament here tonight.

Fourteen teams competed in the tournament. Sixteen had filed entries, but two dropped out before preliminary eliminations started Friday.

Frenship High school, coached by Ameral Payne, won third place by defeating Wilson, 25 to 10.

The all-tournament team, announced by Coach Bill Stevens of Levelland tonight, consisted of Gerron of Whitharral, center; Davis of Levelland and Hamel of Wilson, forwards; Payne of Levelland and Wester of Frenship, guards.

Hamel of Wilson won the medal offered the player in the tournament displaying the most sportsmanship.

County Cage Title Goes To Union Team

McCLUNG, Jan. 18. (Special) — A five-man squad of "Tom Thumb" cagers from the Union school won the official junior high school boys basketball championship of Lubbock county tonight with a fine passing and goal-shooting exhibition here that defeated the Roosevelt juniors of McClung community, 18 to 17, then nosed out New Deal, 18 to 16, in the final game.

The small-statured boys from Union, coached by E. F. Dawkins, pulled an upset to nose out the Roosevelt team, pre-tournament favorites, in a semi-final game. They had won from Liberty, 17 to 6, in the first round, but were figured to go no further. Coach Dawkins had only five men in uniform, and none of them could reach a low ceiling on stilts. But they passed to each other perfectly, and shot goals unerringly. Peterson and Gamble, forwards, led the scoring, Peterson taking the starring role with his one-hand shots.

New Home Wins

Union lost, however, in the all-junior tournament final to New Home of Lynn county, which participated in the invitation bracket with Lubbock Junior High, Clauene and Brownfield. Lubbock won by forfeit from Clauene and New Home won by forfeit from Brownfield, then New Home defeated the Lubbock Cowboys, 12 to 9 to win the invitation bracket. New Home won from Union, 21 to 13, in the all-tournament final, but it did not rob Union of the county championship.

In the invitation senior high school bracket, the Roosevelt High first team won first place by defeating the Roosevelt "B" team, 26 to 17 in the finals. The Roosevelt regulars had won from Liberty, 54 to 8, while the B team had beaten Becton, 43 to 15 and won from Idalou, 26 to 21. George Seagler, Roosevelt forward, was high point man of the tournament with 28 points.

Lamesa Wins Class B Tournament At Home

LAMESA, Jan. 18. (Special) —The Lamesa High school second team won the Class B invitation basketball tournament here tonight with an 18 to 14 victory over Klondike in the finals. The local C. C. C. team won consolation honors by defeating Five Mile, 15 to 14.

Members of the winning team received individual silver basketball trophies, while bronze prizes went to members of second place and consolation winners.

The Golden Tornado first team, ineligible for the tournament, defeated Post High school, at Post, 34 to 11, Friday night.

Lamesa will play Tuscola here next Friday night, and Sweetwater will invade the Tornado court Saturday night.

Unfair Trade Ideas Rapped

Texan Offers Legislation Designed To Increase Powers Of Trade Commission To Halt Unfair Practices

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Legislation designed to increase the federal trade commission's powers to halt unfair and deceptive trade practices was prepared today by Chairman Rayburn (D-Tex) of the house interstate commerce committee for introduction Monday.

The bill proposes four major changes in the law:

1—Declares "deceptive acts and practices" unlawful in addition to the "unfair methods of competition" now specified.

Trusts Are Included

2—Includes "trusts" in the scope of the law along with corporations.

3—Gives the circuit court of appeals power to restrain practices involved in a commission proceeding pending final court decision.

4—Limits to 60 days from the date of a commission order the time in which application may be made to the circuit court for review of the order.

Believed Wise Move

Rayburn said the changes would "expedite proceedings and avoid unnecessary expense," and "are believed to be wise in the light of the federal trade commission's 21 years of experience under the present act." He emphasized the legislation would empower the commission to put a stop to practices that are against the public interest, whether engaged in by one or many persons, or by all in the industry.

The Texan said there are some extensive businesses operated under the name of "trust" which resemble a corporation in organization and operation and consequently should be treated as corporations under the trade commission law.

Several Million Dollars To Be Allotted For East Texas

CROCKETT, Jan. 18. (AP)—Harry Hines, chairman of the Texas highway commission, said here last night that several million dollars would be spent in completing the East Texas highway system in the near future.

"We contemplate wider roads, with the most-modern construction, to reduce the number of accidents which have caused loss of so many lives," he said at the tenth annual banquet of the Crockett Chamber of Commerce.

"The highway commission is endeavoring to close every gap in Texas' artery of highways in order to induce travel over the state during the Centennial."

He urged caution on the highways in order to reduce the death rate from accidents.

He also advocated enactment of a strict drivers' license law.

Bad Weather Blocks Plans To Outline Work For Year

Bad weather Saturday disrupted plans of the county agents for sponsors of 4-H clubs of the county to meet here and make plans for 1936 work among boys and girls.

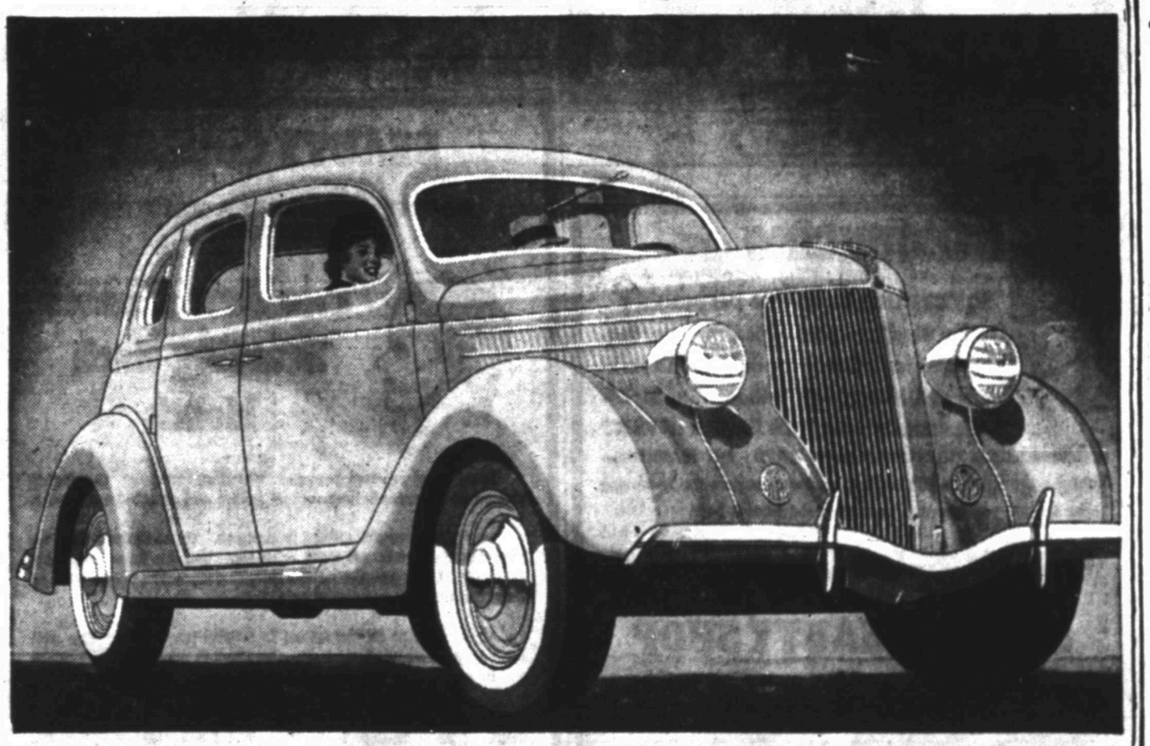

Only two of the 10 girls' club sponsors were here said Miss Gladys Sanders, assistant home demonstration agent. Her meeting will be held next Saturday from 3:30 to 4:30 p. m. following a meeting of the county home demonstration council.

Three men sponsors appeared, Charles A. King, assistant county agent and club leader, said. He plans to call a meeting of sponsors early this week. A representative to compete with other club boys for a trip to the national 4-H club meeting in Washington, is to be selected.

County Commissioners Court Being Asked To Rescind An Order Leaving Precinct Officers On Fee Basis

Fifty petitions, which Saturday night carried signatures of both district judges, professional and business men, requested that county commissioners court rescind an order passed Jan. 13 leaving all justice precinct officers on a fee basis.

Offices affected by the petition are three: Justices of the peace in precinct 1, places 1 and 2, and of the constable here. Officers, respectively, are J. T. Trigg, J. J. Dillard and J. C. Roberts.

In its Jan. 13 session, commissioners had voted to compensate county and district officers by salaries, as provided by law set out in revised civil statutes, but "unanimously ordered . . . all commissioners being present and voting 'Aye,' that precinct officers . . . be allowed and they shall . . . continue to draw such fees of office as may be earned . . . in performance of the duties of their offices . . . and that they be not paid any salaries for such services . . ."

"On Aug. 24," the petition says out, "the people of Lubbock county voted on a constitutional amendment for abolishment of the fee system, and said amendment carried by a substantial majority."

"The people have spoken," it continues, "and we have said by our ballot that we favor the abolishment of the fee system by a convincing majority, and we respectfully request that you rescind the order above referred to and place said officers on salaries."

Below this last was space for signatures.

"There will be at least 2,500 names on the petitions in 10 days," said one spokesman. "There would be more if we could contact more persons.

"Ours is not a brief with the commissioners court. We simply wish the vote of the people to be carried out in the court's order."

"The fee system has made it difficult for the constable," said Roberts. "There is approximately $1,400 owed my office, most of which I never will be able to collect, even though I earned it. When a man goes to jail in lieu of fine I get nothing under the fee system, even though I possibly went to expense to apprehend and arrest him."

Justice precinct officers are allowed maximum salary of $1,800, with one-third the excess in fees up to $2,200. None made that much. One realized approximately $2,000, one approximately $1,800, the other only approximately $500.

Statement Of County Given

Payments Of $30,845.14 Will Be Made By Lubbock County In 1936 From Its Interest And Sinking Funds

Payments totalling $30,845.14 will be made by Lubbock county during 1936 from its interest and sinking funds for bonds and warrants indebtedness, a financial statement prepared for creditors this week by County Auditor J. Y. Boyd indicated.

Total payments on the county's indebtedness will amount to $62,-960 during 1936, the report shows, the difference to be made up by $32,134.86 to be paid by the state.

Sinking fund requirements are divided into: $14,000 for bonds, $8,500 on warrants and $40,480 for interest.

Bonds Total $661,000

Bonds outstanding against the county, as of Dec. 31, 1935, total $661,000, with warrants of the same date totalling $130,000, making an aggregate amount of $791,000, Boyd stated. Cash on hand to the credit of the debts, $15,563.22, and securities of $10,500, reduce the net indebtedness as of Dec. 31 to $764,-936.78.

The amount paid by the state this year on the county's indebtedness has been set at 75 per cent of the state's proportion by the Board of County and District Road indebtedness, Boyd said. Their payments, including all interest and most of the principal, are on road series "B" and "C" bonds and road refunding warrants. During the year 1936, such payments had totalled only 50 per cent. The state payments are on road building expenses for state highways, except for overhead expenses which include preliminary surveys and securing of right-of-ways.

State funds are paid to the counties according to the amounts available from revenues derived from the board's share of the gasoline tax, Mr. Boyd explained.

British King

be no further statement tonight. Three physicians were remaining within call throughout the night.

One of England's greatest heart specialists, Sir Maurice A. Cassidy, was called to Sandringham today from London. Oxygen was administered to the king last night but it was explained that this is a modern treatment for a catarrhal condition.

Men and women outside the royal residence knelt on a thick mantle of snow to murmur prayers for the recovery of the stricken monarch, the small, bearded man with deep-set, tired eyes whose gentle reign of more than a quarter of a century has captured the devotion of his 450,000,000 subjects.

Prince Is On Hand

As lights of the residence twinkled on, the slender figure of the Prince of Wales, the king's only bachelor son and next in line of succession to the throne, was seen passing nervously back and forth in front of an upper window. He arrived from London yesterday.

Special prayers will be offered throughout the nation tomorrow.

Because of the "disquieting" nature of King George's illness Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin decided to remain in London for the week-end.

Latest bulletins from the bedside gave rise to the belief an emergency council of state will be called shortly.

This is customary when the king's life is believed in danger and was done in 1928, when George was seriously ill.

New Evidence

as to Hauptmann having been the only person involved in the Lindbergh kidnap-murder.

Serve No Purpose

After their conference it was learned they had agreed that "no good purpose would be served by controversy with the governor on his theories or points of view."

This attitude was quite general among the governor's political foes. The talk of asking his impeachment quieted, in keeping with the uncertainty many legislators felt as to just how strong the governor's position in the case might be.

The next legislative session, on Monday night, was awaited eagerly, however.

The canny ones among his opponents were hesitant about voicing strong criticism, fearing that the governor might have something with which to strike back and confound them.

The fate of Hauptmann, whatever side issues may develop, rests upon the ability of his counsel or the governor to produce new evidence of such importance as to warrant either a new trial, commutation of sentence, or, conceivably, a pardon.

year, which resulted in the death sentence being imposed on Arthur Gooch, Oklahoma outlaw, under the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

Prisoner 13 Hours

Operative Morgan told his chief here, F. V. Sorels, of being held prisoner 13 hours after Johnson had wrested his pistol from him on the outskirts of Paris. He was forced to drive to Queen City, Texas, where Johnson picked up his wife and two children, Morgan said.

Mrs. Johnson and the children were left at a Paris hotel later after she had refused to go further. Morgan's chance to escape came at Bokchito when they stopped at a filling station for gasoline, he said.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Stock prices nosed downward today throughout the abbreviated session.

Acute pressure was absent, but weakened evening up and the lack of important bidding in a number of the recently active groups induced a general sag in the list. Turnover in the stock exchange totalled 1,075,000 shares.

A decline of .3 of a point was registered by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, at 57.3. The industrials, rails and utilities used in the compilation declined about equally.

Beside the power and carrier issues, motors, steels and mines appeared rather friendless during the whole session.

Bonds, too, failed to attract a buying following. Most corporate issues were rather heavy. The majority of U. S. government obligations worked a little lower.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 18. (AP)—The cotton market appeared to be inclined to await further developments in the new farm program today and with the volume of business restricted futures slipped off from 5 to 11 points.

There was little selling pressure on positions, but the customary week-end liquidation and evening up of commitments found a scarcity of buyers. A little speculative selling on poor exports aided bearish developments.

At New Orleans prices ended the session at the lows for the day with March at 11.36, May at 10.84, July at 10.53 and Dec. at 10.26. The January position was not traded in at New Orleans closing at 11.30 bid.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 18. (AP)—Cotton lost about enough ground today to cancel Friday's gains.

March sold off from 11.40@11.31 and closed at 11.33 with the general market ending barely steady at net declines of 3 to 10 points.

Except for some southern selling toward the close business was attributed chiefly to technical readjustments or switching between months.

NEW YORK—Journal of Commerce: The government pool still believed to be long some Jan. and is willing to sell it at 11.36. Apparently the pool is willing to switch January and May at 70 points. Some traders feel that if the pool sold Jan. and bought March at 70 points discount it would be able to get out even on its March contracts or part of them at 20 points under the level at which it can break even on January. The pool operations continue to be criticised. The most dangerous factor in the view of the trade is the possibility that consumption may decline here and abroad as a result of price set up. Spinners cannot buy cotton based on a near month and get out whole and the difficulty is said to run all the way down the line of distribution so far as cotton prices are effective. The export business recently said to be suffering. This week exports dropped to 118,-000 bales vs. 220,000 the previous week and 138,000 a year ago. Ceylon interests say that big houses show daily orders from abroad that do not justify operation.

NEW ORLEANS—Weather map shows much rain in the cotton region with snow in the northwest temperatures are irregular varying from above to well below normal.

Wallace said he believed the people of the United States would be "gravely concerned" over efforts of manufacturers to obtain refund of processing taxes paid the treasury.

Public opinion, he added, "would not tolerate" refund of these taxes which he asserted have been passed on to the consumer by processing firms. The supreme court's decision in a rice millers' case has been interpreted as requiring the return of the impounded $200,000,000.

Rep. Harold Beck of Texarkana may attempt to perpetuate the family name in the senate by running for the place to be vacated by his multi-initialed colleague and Rep. Morris Roberts of Pettus, a prospective contender for the speakership of the 45th legislature, may change his mind and try to replace Blackert.

Should Small refuse to listen to the importunings of his friends and decide against a third term, several house members are regarded as potential candidates for his place, the group including Rep. Halmond Stanfield of Amarillo.

Reach House Monday

It appeared certain that the senate bill would reach the house by Monday night.

Administration leaders hoped a final measure could be dispatched to the White House Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Roosevelt has guarded closely his intentions toward it.

The senate bill would pay in $50 bonds the full 1945 maturity value, less loans and some interest, of the 3,500,000 bonus certificates outstanding.

Provisions were mostly steady because of prospects of a light movement of hogs.

Lawyers Are Retained

Employment of the law partnership of Bledsoe, Crenshaw & Dupree to defend her husband was announced by Mrs. Teal yesterday. She was interviewed in the office of George W. Dupree, a member of the firm.

To illustrate the respect which she said Pendleton residents had for Teal, she offered a letter signed by Voyne M. Gurdone, former Pendleton grocer, and now an Oregon state police captain.

Gurdone explained that "Owens" had purchased groceries from him for several years.

"In all his dealings, he was very honest." Gurdone wrote. "His conduct during that time was beyond reproach and he was held in high regard by all who knew him."

Queen Is Urged For King Cotton

GREENVILLE, Miss., Jan. 18. (AP)—It has been recommended that King Cotton take unto himself a wife—Queen Soybean — as a companion money crop to cotton in the south.

"We have relied all these years on King Cotton," S. A. Withers of Tunica told a gathering of 400 agriculturists meeting to discuss the possibilities of soybean growth. "He has been a mighty good old soul, but it isn't for a man to live unto himself alone and what he has needed all these years was a queen. Let's give him a queen and let that be soybean."

The agriculturists were warm in recommending soybean production. Dr. E. E. Sheets of the department of animal husbandry, Mississippi State college, said soybean oil meal could be used at a large saving in place of the 20,000,000 bushels of corn bought outside the state annually.

Norther Hits

enough to insure safe flying.

Cold Rain On Coast

Cold rain drenched cities along the gulf coast and freezing weather was forecast for that region.

Fog and heavy rain caused a collision about a mile below Sabine Pass between the American tanker Pueblo and the British steamship Vordelia. Both vessels were proceeding slowly at the time. They headed back to Port Arthur for repairs.

Because of a disturbance centering near the Texas coast, the weather bureau ordered storm warnings displayed. The New Orleans weather bureau said the storm would move northeastward, attended by strong shifting winds probably reaching gale force Saturday afternoon or tonight.

Sleet, Hail Reported

Sleet and some hail accompanied the "norther" into Texas, being followed by snow as the cold wave advanced southward. Snow covered the region from Roswell, New Mexico, eastward to Little Rock, Arkansas, extending far into the north.

After light snow at Pampa and Amarillo, the wind died there and the skies gave indications of clearing. It also was clear at El Paso during the day. Borger had no snow. The Borger temperature was 14.

The weather bureau said the storm swept straight south from Canada, where the mercury was as low as 38 below zero. The eastern reaches of the Rockies were touched.

Three Inches At Wichita

Wichita Falls reported three inches of snow—the heaviest since January, 1930. The temperature there was 19 degrees. Snow continued to fall during the afternoon. Electra likewise had three inches.

To the east, Gainesville had three inches and a temperature of 19. It was the heaviest snow there since Dec. 15, 1932. Snow had been coming for six hours at Gainesville, with no sign of ceasing.

Coleman county ranges and grain fields were covered with from one to three inches of snow, which continued to pile up steadily. The mercury was down to 20, with visibility limited to two blocks. It was the first beneficial snow in several years for Coleman.

Traffic Almost Halted

There was snow at Texarkana, while Shreveport streets were covered with heavy sleet and hail. Traffic was almost halted. The temperature in Shreveport was 35.

Corsicana had snow and sleet, mixed with rain, chilled the Waco area. San Angelo reported heavy snow in that range section. Sherman, Denton and other Northeast Texas cities were well blanketed.

The forecast for Dallas and Fort Worth was temperatures of from 10 to 16 degrees Sunday morning. An inch of snow fell at Dallas, the heaviest since December of 1932.

Haskell had four inches, the first of any consequence since 1930. Clearing skies in mid-afternoon relieved the anxiety of stockmen about their livestock. The fall provided ideal moisture for small grains, and also benefitted the ranges.

Olney had three inches of snow, Llano "snow flurries" and Midland reported dry snow fell steadily as the temperature dropped to 19 degrees.

Kansas Relief Strike Now Is Believed To Be Closed

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Jan. 18. (AP)—Bourbon county's relief strike, which saw a group of 125 men, women and children pitch camp in the courthouse lobby, apparently was ended today.

None of the protesters, routed Thursday night by tear gas, sought to stay last night and none showed up today.

One of the leaders, John Babbitt, secretary of the Farmer-Labor union, remained in custody of officers but no charge was yet placed against him.

either, said police, who said a bus driven by Buster Skipworth of 1311 Fifteenth street and parked in 1000-block Nineteenth street to discharge a passenger was struck at 12:30 o'clock by a car driven by C. H. Willingham of 1705 Avenue S, when the Willingham machine skidded on snow and ice. Drivers figuring in a slight crash at Avenue Q and Broadway at 2:30 o'clock presumably adjusted their differences and left without need of police arbitration.

Law-Breakers Quiet

Law-breaking was on the wane. "Not a call was received up to 11 o'clock," said Night Sgt. Eastin Wolffarth of the police, himself suffering acutely of a cold. "It is probable that so few accidents, considering conditions, were due to motorists keeping off the streets."

Municipal airport, where the low of the season was reported, said snow resulted from a shift of wind currents to the east from north northwest at 6 o'clock Friday afternoon. Within five minutes velocity had increased 18 miles an hour to 30. Then the cold breath struck.

High Is But 27

High temperature was 27 degrees, as registered on recording and commercial thermometers.

Benefit from the four-inch snow which fell over Lubbock was estimated to be slight, "because of its drifting," said the Texas Experiment sub-station. The snow was of average texture, classified neither as "wet" nor "dry." Ten inches of snow would be equivalent to one inch of rainfall, under that classification.

Santa Fe reports Saturday morning gave depth of snow as follows:

Canyon, two inches; Happy and Tulia, four; Kress to Slaton, three; Lockney and Floydada, three; Texico, four; Muleshoe, three; Sudan and Amherst, four; Littlefield to Lubbock, three; Bledsoe, Seagraves and Crosbyton districts, three inches; Wilson, two; Tahoka to Lamesa, inch and a half; Southland, two; Post, one; Snyder, quarter inch.

Fort Worth and Denver: Dimmitt, three inches; Hart, four; Sterley, four; Plainview, three; Petersburg, three; Lockney, four; Quitaque to Turkey, three; Texline to Childress, two to three inches.

Taxi Business Booms

The cold and snow boomed business for taxicabs and gave additional calls to garages and wrecker services.

Plumbers, however, reported the mercury had not dropped sufficiently low to freeze and burst water lines. Two plumbers reported they had received no calls to repair lines.

Increase in calls for taxicabs ranged from three to ten times the normal requests, a survey of the cab stands showed.

One company, which reported the greatest increase in calls, complained of many "dead calls."

Take First One

"Some persons seemed to have called four different cabs, and they left in the first one which got there," it was said.

Plea of taxi companies to "give us a break" was heard. Roy Cozart, representative of those who spoke, said cab companies have placed governors on their machines so as to insure less risk in traffic accidents.

"Now if the public will allow us just a bit more time as a result, we will give our most determined cooperation and attempt to make all calls as quickly as the law allows," he said. "On cold, bad mornings we should be allowed just a bit more time than usual. Our efforts to serve the public must not be made at the cost of reckless driving."

Another company reported it had been "very lucky about dead calls."

Bus Lines Busy

Twice as many persons as normally were riding the city bus lines.

Several garage and wrecker services reported towing in cars with frozen radiators, but the cold had not been severe enough to burst the radiators, it was said.

A few automobiles also had been pulled from snow-filled borrow ditches on roads running east and west.

Several others, too cold for self-starters to move, were pushed by garage automobiles.

Highways remained clear, except for occasional drifts. Traffic continued, but at a slower pace.

Forward Driving Power Is Absent

(By The Associated Press)

Although some of the forward driving power was absent in business and industry last week, the economic status of the nation remained distinctly favorable when compared with the previous week and the comparable period a year ago.

A slowing down in retail trade was noted in some sections of the country, in many cases because of unsettled weather, but various surveys declared business in the aggregate much better.

Wholesalers found a greater interest among retailers in new spring lines, and a decidedly cheerful tone was sounded by one survey which stated retail stocks by the end of this month should be the lowest in six years.

The department of commerce for the week ended Wednesday reported "retail trade in substantially all parts of the country maintained a consistent upward trend. . . ."

Real Enforcement Of Liquor Law Now Being Established

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (AP)—D. B. Benson, chairman of the Texas liquor board, said today that convictions in open saloon cases at Houston were "proof that real enforcement of the liquor law is being established."

With continued cooperation of local officers, he said, "the board is confident that illegal operators will come to realize they 'can't get away with it.'"

Four hundred factories closed in England during 1933, while 463 new ones were opened. These employ 29,500 workers.

Farm Tension Is Said High

Southern Tenant Farmers Unit Sends Telegram To President Demanding Protection For Their Rights

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 18. (AP)—H. L. Mitchell, Southern Tenant Farmers union secretary, predicted today that sharecroppers will "act to defend their rights" unless the "federal government steps in."

Mitchell sent a telegram to President Roosevelt charging landowners and their representatives broke up a meeting of sharecroppers at Earle, Ark., yesterday and added that feeling was "running high."

Asks Protection

He asked the president to "protect the union's constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech and the right to peaceable assembly."

Mitchell said the telegram was sent to the president last night after Howard Kester, Nashville minister and sharecropper organizer, "was dragged from the little church on the outskirts of Earle and threatened with lynching by an angry mob of plantation owners."

"About 500 white and negro sharecroppers were in the church listening to union speakers," Mitchell charged. "Blackjacks and clubs were used to drive the people away afterwards. Men, women and children were clubbed unmercifully."

Investigation Sought

An investigation by a personal representative of the president or by a congressional committee was asked in the telegram to the White House, he said.

Mitchell said "resentment" among union members and other sharecroppers in Crittenden and Cross counties "is high," and that officers of the union "are attempting to maintain peace and calm," but that "unless these methods of tyranny, cruelty and oppression" are stopped, the people "will themselves act to defend their rights."

Man Carves Family Name Off Relief Rolls; Health Found

PEEBLES, O., Jan. 18. (AP)—With a kitchen knife he made from an old saw, 77-year-old Henry H. Lewis has cut his family's name from relief rolls and regained his health.

Lewis, former tenant relief farmer, started his novel trade by making the knife for his daughter, Mrs. Dennis Nelson.

A relief case worker in Adams county saw the knife on one of her visits and appointed herself sales manager for the product. She took the knife with her, showed it to her friends, and soon had a large number of orders.

Now he is making knives of all sizes and shapes from pieces of scrap steel, saw blades, cross-cut blades, and scythe blades.

Altus Man Is Near Death As Result Of Highway Accident

ALTUS, Okla., Jan. 18. (AP)—C. O. Bingaman, 52, Altus, was in a hospital tonight with a fractured skull after his automobile skidded from a highway five miles south of here today, presumably after a tire had blown out.

Mrs. Bingaman, 45, also was injured severely. Physicians held little hope for Bingaman's recovery.

Poems And Stories Of Kipling Are Among The Favorites Of Americans

(By The Associated Press)

Many of the poems and stories of Rudyard Kipling have been among the favorites of American readers for years, and some of his phrases have become virtually "household sayings."

Among his best known works are "The Recessional," "If", the "Jungle Books", "Barrack Room Ballads," "Kim," "Soldiers Three," "The Man Who Would Be King," "Without Benefit of Clergy," and "Captains Courageous."

Among the frequently used quotations from Kipling are these:

"You're a better man than I am, Gunga Din!"

". . . The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under the skin."

"East is east and west is west, and never the twain shall meet."

"Lord God of host, be with us yet, lest we forget—lest we forget."

C. A. Bennett Gives Formal Statement On His Candidacy For County Clerk

C. A. Bennett yesterday announced his candidacy for Lubbock county clerk, subject to the action of the Democratic primaries.

Bennett, in his statement, said:

"My boyhood days were spent in Eastern Tennessee where I received my education. After spending three years in East Tennessee Wesley university, I taught school for a short time in that state. Then I went to Collin county, Tex., where I taught school three years. A short time afterward, I entered the grocery business and have been engaged in that capacity ever since.

"I am not appealing to the sovereignty of you people from sympathy, but on the high plane of citizenship. I feel that I am worthy of the place, capable and trust-worthy. I come to you not as a dictator but as an humble citizen. I had rather have the confidence and respect of the people than to be a potentate.

"If elected, will run the office in an efficient and business-like manner and will close it in a Democratic manner after two terms, with sincere confidence and believing the decision of the voters of Lubbock county."

First Name Is Boon To Air Traffic Executive

By NEA Service

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 18.—To the fact that her first name is so perfectly, ridiculously feminine, Twyla O'Hara, district air traffic manager of Central Air Lines, attributes much of her success in what is considered a man's job.

In fact, Miss O'Hara believes that if she hadn't had the name, she might never have set herself, just as a kind of vindication, to the task of proving she was as good as any man. And now that she has done so, she finds her name an asset because it makes people curious about her. While satisfying their curiosity, she gets a chance to sell the idea of air travel.

Wherever there are people to be convinced, there you will see Miss O'Hara. Sometimes she goes from city to city where new planes are being shown and acts as hostess to interested citizens who want to go aloft to try them out.

"Flying is the most fascinating business in the world," she says, and knows what she is talking about because she has been impresario, school teacher, hospital technician and interior decorator.

Miss O'Hara's employer, J. C. Condon, president of Central Air Lines, says that judging by Miss O'Hara, girls are dependable, trustworthy and quick to learn the ropes.

TWYLA O'HARA

Miss Murray is wearing a blue alpaca dress trimmed in white and blue accessories. Her bouquet is to be rosebuds.

Miss Ratliff To Play

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Charlotte Ratliff will play a violin solo, "Serenade" (Toselli), accompanied at the piano by her mother, Mrs. John L. Ratliff. They will play Lohengrin's bridal chorus as a processional and during the service will play "The Old Refrain" (Kreisler).

The couple will stand before the fireplace to plight their troth. Ferns are being placed on either side of the fireplace and a bowl of spring flowers is on the mantle.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father.

To Have Reception

Afterwards there will be an informal reception for the eighty wedding guests and the bride will cut a wedding cake. This will be served with coffee by Miss Virginia Murray, sister of the bride. The cake will center the dining room table, which will be lighted by candles. It will be decked with sweetpeas and smilax.

The couple will leave immediately for High Island, where Mr. O'Neal is employed by an oil company.

Miss Murray is one of the most popular members of the younger set in Lubbock. She holds membership in Las Chaparritas club at Texas Technological college, where she was a junior student in the department of architecture and allied arts.

Mr. O'Neal, a former student at Texas Technological college, is a former member of the Wranglers club.

Methodist Young People To Speak At Society Meeting

The young people's division of the First Methodist church will present a program on "Facing Life With Jesus Christ" at a meeting of the women's missionary society at the church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Talks on the subject will be given by Miss Nannie Margaret Overton, Jane Alice Brownfield and Katie Lee Graham.

Special music is being arranged by the division.

Parliamentarian To Direct Drill

The City Federation of Women's clubs will have an important meeting at 3 p. m. Friday in room 212, Hotel Lubbock. An annual parliamentary program will be conducted with Mrs. H. F. Godeke, state federation parliamentarian, giving a practical demonstration of parliamentary usage. A sanitation project, begun at the last regular meeting, will be considered.

Mrs. W. A. Jackson, president, is requesting the presence of every club president, all members of the federation executive board and every chairman of the convention steering committee to meet at the same place at 2:30 o'clock in business session. At that time spring district convention plans will be discussed and approved, she said.

COURAGE is not just
To bare one's bosom to a sabre-thrust
In sudden daring:
Courage is to grieve
Over many secret wounds, and make believe
You are not caring

Courage does not lie
In dying for a cause. To die
Is only giving:
Courage is to feel
The daily daggers of persistent steel
And keep on living

ON SAYING REVEREND

WE do not know who is the author of this,—but it should be widely read:

Call me "Brother" if you will.
Call me "Parson," better still.
Though plain "Mister" fills the bill.—
If that title lacketh thrill.
Even "Father" brings no chill
Of hurt or rancor or ill-will.
If "D. D." the name append.
Then "Doctor" doth some fitness lend.
"Preacher" (Ugh!), "Pastor," "Rector," "Friend,"—
Titles almost without end.—
Never grate and ne'er offend;
A loving ear to all I bend
But how that man my hearth doth rend
Who blithely calls me "Reverend

The point is that "Reverend" should be used only when the first name or initials also are used, or when the title "Minister," or "Doctor," or "Canon," is also used. Here are examples of right usage: the Rev. John Smith; the Rev. J. B. Smith; the Rev. Mr. Smith; the Rev. Dr. Smith; the Rev. Chaplin Smith. Here are examples of wrong usage: "Rev. Smith," "Good morning, Reverend." Even the notices sent out by ministers flagrantly violates this usage; so it is not surprising that many laymen have the habit.

ENGLAND'S FORGOTTEN MAN

LIST us among those who believe that Rudyard Kipling did not receive due praise. Now that he has gone it will be easy enough for critics to sing of his works and describe him as the greatest writer of our time and one of the greatest of any age. We wonder why he was forgotten for so many years? Why was he not knighted and given honors certainly due him?

If he had written little else, Kipling's universally knwon "On the Road to Mandalay," loved and sung by young men, old men, baritones and tenors, would have brought him fame. His prose and poetry have been read enthusiastically everywhere books are available, and still his own countrymen seemed to question his eminence as a writer and had little to say to him in recent years. We were questioned several times as to whether Kipling was alive long before his fatal illness.

If you have not heard his "Recessional," as sung in an arrangement Miss Myrtle Dunn likes you have something to look forward to in harmony.

Project Is To End This Year

Over Two Hundred Foundation Patterns Were Finished In 1935; Greater Goal Is Set For Coming Months

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of excerpts from the detailed annual report made for 1935 by Miss Norfleet Grimes, Lubbock county home demonstration agent. The last of the series will appear in the Avalanche-Journal next Sunday. The report includes activities and accomplishments of the girls' and women's clubs in the county.)

"There are 18 home demonstration clubs with an enrollment of 400 members. These clubs are Becton, Broadview, Caldwell, Canyon, City Line (Slaton), East Side, Foster, Hardy, Homemakers (Carlisle), Idalou, Hurlwood, Monroe, Posey, Shallowater, Slide, Southwest Ward, Union and Wolfforth. Canyon and Posey clubs were organized during the year. No clubs have disbanded.

"There is a home demonstration council, a reporters association and a recreational association in the county.

"Two demonstrations carried this year were wardrobe and farm foods supply.

School Is Held

"This is the second year of wardrobe work. Thirty-one demonstrators attended a two-day training school January 30-31. It was decided that the year's plan would include:

"February, grooming and personal hygiene; March, check patterns made in 1934 and make patterns for new members; April, a sewing machine clinic, courtesy of local Singer company; May, prescription for an adequate clothes storage space.

"In the afternoon Mrs. Emma Phillips, a local beautician, demonstrated daily and weekly care of the face and hands, and gave some practical ideas on grooming. The agent demonstrated the making of hand lotion and semi-greasy cold cream and gave samples of each to the demonstrators. Both were popularly received by club members.

"On the second day Mrs. A. R. Shipp, winning demonstrator of 1934, reviewed the principles in making a foundation pattern, and patterns of demonstrators were checked or made for demonstrators who did not have them. Miss Mabel Erwin, professor of clothing at Tech, gave a helpful demonstration on getting style into the pattern. She stressed collars, cuffs, belt fastenings, weaves and lines in giving this effect. She had illustrations.

Goals For Cooperators

"Cooperators goals' for Class I were: Make foundation pattern; make slip and neighborhood or street dress; wear dress and slip to achievement programs; improve clothes storage space by having a rod for hanging dresses and adequate shelving. For class II they were: Check fit of foundation pattern; make slip and sheer dress by pattern; wear dress and slip to achievement programs; improve clothes storage space by having a rod for hanging dresses and adequate shelving; make a sleeve board.

"The agent visited each demonstrator at least twice. Each demonstrator kept clothing expenditures for herself or family, depending upon her class. Class I demonstrators spent an average of $24.25 with a range of $11.24 to $69.90. Each demonstrator who had not improved her storage space to the fullest in 1934 made added improvements in 1935.

"May 25 was a red letter day for the wardrobe demonstration work. As a number of cooperators had expressed a desire to see the dresses judged, it was decided that all club cooperators should be invited and that the whole day's program would consist of judging of dresses. Mrs. Dora Barnes was with us for the occasion. In the morning 67 cooperators and demonstrators, wearing sheer dresses, were judged and in the afternoon 93, wearing street or neighborhood dresses, were judged.

Each Club Represented

"Each of the 18 clubs were represented in the 160 judged. Diversity coupled with judgment was shown in the selection of materials and in the fastenings for belts, neck finishes and color and style selections.

"Mrs. L. K. Hart of Posey placed first in Class I and Miss Vera Ballew of East Side won in Class II.

Blondes Rank First In Coiffure Styles With Guild

The first three places in a selection of the "ten best" hair styles by the Coiffure Guild of New York went to screen actresses, all of whom have blonde hair. Bette Davis (center), with her "cocktail coiffure" was chosen first; Ina Claire (right), second; and Helen Chandler (left), third. All but three of the ten were of the theater. Countess von Haugwitz-Reventlow, the former Barbara Hutton, was fourth in the voting. (Associated Press Photo)

Wee Bits Of Gossip Giving Comings, Goings, Doings Of Well Known People

DEAR Louella: Next week is dead week at Tech and from the looks of things it's going to be dead week about town generally. That's a shame too, because nearly everyone I know has some new clothes to wear.

It seems to me there is more interest than usual in spring fashions this year. Not only are the stores showing them early but, according to clerks, people are buying the things up as fast as they are unpacked.

Maybe Sand Won't Blow

Whether that is a sign of the times or not, I don't know. Personally, I think it is a long gamble. The sand blew so much last spring the buying public didn't have the heart to venture out in new clothes. This year it is counting on the law of averages. The sand just can't blow that much this year, it reasons.

Now don't accuse me of trying to be philosophical. Perhaps I have been a bit influenced by a book Rev. Bill Vivrett suggested that I read, "Asylum" by William Seabrook. If you want to get wise to yourself, spend an evening reading it. Unlike most treatises on mental derangements, it will leave you optimistic with a will to control, make use of, even capitalize upon your weaknesses rather than let them control you.

MARGARET Everheart Waghorne went back home to Denver and I didn't get to tell her goodbye. Her baby, Sarah Elizabeth, is the most beautiful child I've ever seen. She is like the magazine covers The Woman's Home Companion had several years ago.

This is the nineteenth day of leap year and no one has proposed to Burl Huffman, he says. He was in the office the other day in a grey suit, azure blue flannel shirt, homespun tie of the same color and black, and I wondered why nobody had.

I have a girl friend, though, who has bet me a hundred dollars, with no likely prospect in sight, that she will marry this year. It will be tough sleding for me if she doesn't.

One of Mrs. J. G. Oslin's pecan pumpkin pies found it's way in the office the other day, and you should have beheld the sudden popularity of the girl for whom the pie had been intended. I was fortunate enough to get a fair sized slice and I must say it was delicious, and a real treat at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

MRS. J. O. Ellsworth left suddenly the other day for Utah to visit her father who is quite ill. I haven't heard of any further reports.

At a club luncheon the other day, the women amused themselves and each other by writing rhymes to absent members. Mrs. Roscoe Wilson who is in Houston, and Mrs. O. F. Sensabaugh in Ballenger. In their midst were two of Texas' recognized poets, Mrs. E. L. Robertson and her sister, Miss Buena Sowell of Waxahachie. Neither experienced nor inexperienced scribes seemed aware of ability or inability on the part of the other, as the pastime was all in fun.

It Can Be Done!

I mention this because it shows that a group of women can get together and have an amiable time without the jealous criticism for which the fair sex universally is notorious.

You may think the modern woman no longer is fearful of her neighbor's stinging remarks unless you have served women in the capacity of a news reporter for several years, recently. Only the other day a Lubbock matron discovered she had two engagements the same afternoon. As she was to be one of several hostess for one party it was natural that she submit regrets saying why she could not attend the other. When the report of the party she helped give was telephoned to the society editor, her name accidentally was overlooked and subsequently it did not appear in the newspaper account.

THE next day the woman and three of her friends telephoned the society editor explaining the "urgent need for a correction" because the hostesses for the other party might think the woman in question had—well, they didn't exactly say "lied" but that is what they implied that they feared.

Everybody is ginning around, attending committee meetings by the dozens in preparation for several spring conventions for which local women are to be hostesses this year. Maybe all that early activity is why Lubbock has the reputation for being an ideal convention city.

The post holiday seige of weddings and bridal parties having almost passed, officers in our clubs having been elected and installed I guess we will settle down until St. Valentine's Day. I think most of us can use the sleep, too, don't you?

I'll see you next week.
Yours, Lou.

Archeologists Off To Mexico For Research In Mayan Ruins

LAREDO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Dr. J. Alden Mason, archeologist of Philadelphia and authority on the Mayan ruins in Mexico, passed through here recently en route to northern Mexico for further exploration. He was accompanied by Robert H. Merrill, an engineer of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Richard A. Martin of San Antonio.

Dr. Mason said that bones of extinct animals and arrow points found recently in the beds of dried lakes in New Mexico pointed to human habitation many ages ago. He is extending the search into old Mexico for the same or different types of evidence to support the theory. He plans to explore numerous caves and other probable places for traces of ancient races.

Merrill headed a surveying party from Tulane university to Uxmal, Yucatan, and made measurements for the reproduction of a Mayan monastary at the Century of Progress, Chicago, in 1935.

Rice Institute Assesses $5 Fine On Studes For Absences

HOUSTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Rice institute has an unusual but highly effective method of preventing students from cutting classes immediately before or after holidays.

For each unexcused absence the two days immediately preceding or immediately following vacation periods, the offending student is fined $5.00. Excuses are examined closely and the percentage of students who leave early for their homes or return to school late is very low.

The Christener Is Christened

To Mrs. Isabelle Anderson fell the honor of christening the new destroyer U. S. S. Perkins at the Puget Sound Navy yard, Bremerton, Wash. The way champagne flies around as she breaks the traditional bottle against the ship's nose makes her seem as much an object for christening as the ship.

Compulsory Teaching Of Spanish In Schools Near Mexican Border Urged

(By The Associated Press)

McALLEN, Jan. 18.—The Cervantes club of the lower Rio Grande valley adopted a resolution last night urging the Texas legislature to pass a law making the teaching of Spanish mandatory in schools within 100 miles of the Mexican border, and making the language optional in other counties.

Approximately 200 members attended the valley-wide banquet.

Officials Detained

Prof. Luis Torres V of Guadalajara, Mexico, federal Mexican school inspector, and Prof. Serafin Luna, school inspector for the state of Tamaulipas, were detained at Reynosa, across the border, and were unable to appear as scheduled.

John H. Gregory of McAllen, president of the Texas State Teachers association, advocated the establishment of an adequate system of financing education in Texas. He suggested that taxes be levied on sulphur and crude oil to raise needed educational revenue.

The compulsory Spanish teaching motion was entered by Polk Hornaday, Harlingen attorney.

Had 'Em Worried But "Worthless" Solves Puzzle

AUSTIN, Jan. 18 (AP) — One word in an estate tax return gave the internal revenue collector's office considerable worry for a few minutes.

Under bonds was listed "bundesfehulddarfschienbung." The collector's assistant was worried until he noticed in the value column the notation, "worthless."

More Than Thirty People Are Violently Killed In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Jan. 18 (AP)—More than 30 persons met violent deaths in and near Amarillo during 1935.

Highway fatalities headed the list with 16, including two men who were blown to bits when a nitroglycerin truck exploded. Six persons were slain, eight committed suicide and one man was fatally injured by an explosion in his home.

The police department, which records only the accidents within the city limits, listed 126 persons injured in traffic crashes.

A safety campaign, inaugurated by the city in the latter part of the year, will be continued in 1936, officials announced. Fewer accidents occurred after the drive was started.

Alien Rules To Be Tighter

Spokesman For Harry Hopkins Says Relief Head Pledges Efforts To Keep Out Of U. S. Aliens Due For Relief

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—New efforts to keep needy aliens out of the country were pledged today as a spokesman for Harry L. Hopkins asserted that estimates of the proportion of foreign born on relief were too high.

In the past three years, the state department estimated, strict enforcement of immigration laws prevented the entry of 1,000,000 aliens who might otherwise have increased the relief burden.

Officials said no specific showing of cash is required of aliens seeking entry but every applicant for a visa must prove that he can support himself or that he has relatives who will take care of him. In the last fiscal year the state department said, 17,291 "quota" visas were issued out of 233,798 applications.

The Hopkins spokesman said aliens already here, however, may look to the government for assistance just as though they were native Americans.

Published estimates that one out of every seven foreign born is on relief he described as "ridiculous" but said no exact figures were available because the relief administration has never asked the nationality of those seeking aid.

Jac Gubbels Is Soon To Be A Naturalized U. S. Citizen

AUSTIN, Jan. 18 (AP)—Two years of waiting for naturalization caused by a two days delay, may soon end for Jac L. Gubbels, Austin landscape architect.

A native of Holland, Gubbels prepared to receive his citizenship papers in July, 1933. He failed to present necessary witnesses and a short time later when he reappeared with the required number officials informed him the seven-year period allowed for completion of naturalization process had expired two days before.

His only alternative was to file new papers and wait two years. Federal Judge R. J. McMillan scheduled his second application for consideration this month.

"Recovery, Wasteful Spending, And Centralized Government" Said Issues

GOP Counsel Hits New Deal

Kansan Makes Charges Against Administration Saturday In Speech Before Women's National Republican Club

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—John D. M. Hamilton, general counsel of the Republican national committee, said today the basic issues of the 1936 election will be "recovery, wasteful spending, and centralized government."

Hamilton, also national committeeman from Kansas, expressed his view in a speech prepared for delivery at the 15th anniversary luncheon of the Women's National Republican club.

Recovery Is Greatest Problem

"Recoery is the greatest problem bearing on the present state of the union," he said.

"Governmental waste and spending is the greatest problem bearing on the future state of the union. And centralized government is the greatest problem bearing on the union itself as we know it—an indestructible union of indestructible states."

Criticizes New Deal

Hamilton sharply criticized some of the New Deal methods.

"Government regulation is not an invention of the new deal," he said. "Prior to the advent of Mr. Roosevelt to the presidency . . . there was governmental regulation and plenty of it.

'To say, therefore, that those of us who oppose the New Deal's theories of governmental direction oppose all governmental regulation is to strain the meanings of words.

"It is not government regulation administered by men under a law that they advocate and that we oppose, but government direction imposed by men active above the law and, indeed, questioning the force of law. . . .

Favor When Necessary

"Nor do we oppose the extension of such governmental regulation as is necessary and reasonable when that extension comes in answer to a demand of the people as a whole."

Hamilton referred to Secretary Ickes, Harry Hopkins and Rexford Tugwell, three administration leaders, as "New Deal mercenaries," and said the Democratic theory is that "American citizens, to obtain economic security, must be ready to sacrifice political liberty."

Where Russia Speeds New Railroads Eastward

Double-tracking of the Trans-Siberian railroad has been completed by Russian convict labor between Irkutsk and Khabarovsk, making better transport for soldiers in case of war with Japan. Plans also go forward for a northern branch from west of Lake Baikal to the Amur river, because the present line has many vulnerable tunnels near the border around Lake Baikal. Eastern terminal of the new line might be Nikolaevsk, boom cities being pushed to replace abandoned Vladivostok. A connecting line would run up the Amur. Meanwhile the Japanese-Manchukuoan advance in Chahar (arrow) aims to cut overland communication between China and Outer Mongolia, which is under Soviet influence, and into which Soviet railway lines are also projected.

Amateur Hour Is Planned At School

Washboard musicians, crooners, dancers, impersonaters, and many other type entertainers at Senior High school will be given a chance to show their abilities on February 20 when "The Westernor World", school paper, sponsors an amateur hour during the regular chapel time. Rosemary Harlan, senior, has been appointed chairman of the committee in charge of the program.

Following the Major Bowes, Fred Allen, and Ray Perkins' types, the program will be represented with a microphone and a studio audience. Hudson Powell will be master of ceremonies, taking the part of the high school's "Major Bowes". Other members of the committee in charge of the program are: Misses Inez Davis, Ruth Sanders, Flora May Betts, and Bill Wood, James Hendryx, and John B. Rountree.

Winners in this amateur contest will probably participate in the South Plains Amateur contest to be sponsored by the Mother's club of Senior High in the spring.

"I put TERRAPLANE first because I put Safety First"

"Go ahead, kids . . . that car's got BRAKES!"

NO one needs to be reminded that safe driving in winter, more than at any other season, calls for a car that is safe.

Then why not start this new year with the "safest car on today's highways?" Terraplane—with more new and important safety features than any other low priced automobile ever had!

Bring Safety up to Date!

For safer riding, safer steering, safer stopping, Terraplane brings you Radial Safety Control (patent applied for). Here is a revolutionary principle of front axle and spring design which new owners from coast to coast are hailing as the greatest safety feature in many years.

For added safety on the highway—greater steadiness on curves—two more 1936 improvements: Tru-Line Steering and the Rhythmic Ride.

Safer Bodies! Safer Chassis!

The world's first safety engineered chassis is now combined with America's first bodies all of steel, and seamless roof of solid steel.

There is extra safety, too, in Terraplane's record-breaking performance, to take you out of traffic "tight spots." And in the Electric Hand, an optional extra, for easier gear shifting and safer driving.

Road Show To Be Wednesday

Much Discussed And Much Publicized Play Being Offered In Panhandle City; Tickets Are Now On Sale

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AMARILLO, Jan. 18—Reservations are being received from every section of the Southwest for "Tobacco Road," which will be presented here next Wednesday night, January 22, in municipal auditorium.

Because the company will arrive here late the curtain on the first act will not go up until 8:45 o'clock.

Tickets On Sale

Mail orders for tickets are being filled by Miss Lois Black at The News-Globe office in Amarillo. The prices range from 55 cents to $2.20.

Seats in the first parquet and boxes are $2.20; in the second parquet and loges, $1.65; in the balcony, $1.10 and 55 cents.

Stamped, self-addressed envelopes should accompany mail orders so tickets may be returned to avoid a wait at the box office.

"Tobacco Road" is the much discussed, much publicized play, which now is on its third year in New York.

Story Of Poor Whites

The story of "poor whites" in the back country of Georgia is startling, yet it is humorous. Everywhere this show has been appearing before capacity crowds and advance reservations indicate the spacious auditorium in Amarillo will be packed next Wednesday night.

The company coming to Amarillo is the same company that began a week's engagement January 12 in Kansas City.

Two of the strangest pieces of baggage ever carried by a theatrical company are in the property list of "Tobacco Road." Wherever "Tobacco Road" plays the property man brings into the theater five tons of Georgia earth and 35 pounds of turnips.

Both play important parts in telling the story of the Jeeter Lesters, the central family in the play.

Loans Made To Livestock Men

Thirty Per Cent Of Loans Of Lubbock Production Credit Association Is Made On Livestock

Thirty per cent of the loans made during 1935 by the Lubbock Production Credit association were to livestock men, Wade W. Cooper, secretary manager, said Saturday in discussing the work of the group following the annual meeting of stockholders Friday. Loans amounting to $345,752 were made during the year. There were 663 such loans.

"Seventy five per cent of the new business this year is on livestock loans," he said. "We make livestock loans for 12 months, but it is generally understood the loans will extend beyond that time.

Consider Loans For Feeding

"The association would consider loans to farmers, with experience in feeding, if they had the feed. Our loans are mostly on range cattle and the returns come out of the increase in production."

Mr. Cooper is planning to have men in each of the nine counties in which he operates, who will have authority to make loans, so that borrowers will not have to come all the way here to close their applications.

Inspection costs are based on actual costs; interest rates are five per cent.

To Expand Work

M. L. Jones, Houston, assistant to President Tully Garner of the Production Credit corporation, who addressed the Lubbock meeting Friday, said the association was going more and more into the making of livestock loans.

"Last year the 38 associations in Texas made loans of $12,500,000," he said. "They repaid $10,500,000. The business represents an increase of approximately 145 per cent over 1934. We had $6,000,000 in loans outstanding at the close of the year.

Tom Black In Charge

"We have in Texas, at Fort Worth and San Angelo, one large livestock association. The Fort Worth office is in the old Tom-Sanders location, in the northeast corner. Tom Black, formerly of Higgins, is in charge. They make livestock loans exclusively at Fort Worth, but the San Angelo office makes some crop production loans."

Mr. Jones addressed meetings at Wichita Falls, Memphis, Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock. He will be in Midland Monday and will also speak at several other meetings.

While here Saturday, before leaving for Sweetwater and Midland Mr. Jones discussed with Mr. Cooper plans for enlarging the scope of operations.

Texas Legislature's Error In Writing Liquor Law Leaves Act Enforceable

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Jan. 18.—The Texas legislature, in framing the new liquor law, confused the Arabic numberal eleven and the Roman numeral two and thereby made an otherwise unenforceable law enforceable under an old statute, it was revealed in a test case here Friday.

The new liquor law, attorneys said, would not be enforceable from a practical standpoint had the legislature not made the error. The revelation came during the trial of J. Weinberger, J. B. Jordan and Miss Ruth Weeks on a charge of "operating an open saloon."

Relation To An Accomplice

The point at issue, when the error was discovered, was in relation to the testimony of an accomplice. The defense attorney, Tom Sanders, contended liquor board inspectors, who purchased liquor, were accomplices and their testimony, under court rules, needed corroboration. The judge agreed that unless the officers were specifically excepted by law they would be accomplices under the general statutes relating to accomplices and principals.

Assistant District Attorneys Arnold Krichamer and Herbert Tigner found that the captoin of the regulatory bill stated plainly that chapter 7 of title 11 (eleven) of the penal code of 1925 and certain civil statutes were repealed by the act. However, section 49 of the new liquor bill states:

Amendments Repealed

"Chapter 7, title 11 (two) penal code of Texas of 1925 etc. and all amendments thereto are hereby expressly repealed."

The lawyers found that title 88 (two) has no chapter 7, and that title 88 (two) does not have any bearing whatever on the liquor situation.

What the legislature intended to repeal was title 11 (eleven) which is article 670 of the Dean law which expressly excepts from the accomplice rule any officer called to testify as a witness in a liquor trial.

Rule Remained Unrepealed

But when the legislature called title 11 (eleven) title 88 (two) the all important clause exempting liquor case witnesses from the accomplice rule remained unrepealed on the statute books of Texas.

Judge Frank Williford assessed Fred Barrow, operator of The Brass Rail, and Lola Stewart, waitress employed there, fines of $100 each on a charge of operating an open saloon. That meant that the state had obtained convictions in the first liquor cases tried here since enactment of the new law.

Dispatches from Coromandel in the interior hillsides of Minas Geraes state, Brazil, say a diamond unearthed there weighing 141 carats was sold to Joaquim Aguiar, industrialist, for 496 contos (about $30,000) and is valued at 1,200 contos (about $72,000). Other large stones are the Orloff diamond, 194 carats; Pitt diamond, 187 carats, and Kohinur diamond, slightly over 106 carats.

Education Plus...

THE boy who delivers your daily newspaper is more than just a carrier boy. His first duty and interest is in his school work. The newspaper industry realizes this and is doing everything in its power, through its own efforts and by co-operation with the educational authorities, to encourage newspaper boys in their scholastic activities. The task which these boys have undertaken — the prompt and regular delivery of newspapers to the people on their routes, which requires less than an hour and a half a day—is but an additional educational course that goes hand in hand with their school work. As young merchants they are learning the fundamentals of business under conditions that are ideal for their welfare and development. The fact that these boys, almost without exception, rank well above the average in their studies is testimony to the success of their training. Encourage your carrier boy to continue in this work, which is preparing him so adequately for the future.

Your carrier boy is a young merchant, buying his papers and selling them to you at a profit. His income depends on his collections. Help him by paying him promptly every week.

Hoover's New Farm Plan

IN a speech at Lincoln, Neb., last Thursday night, Citizen Herbert Hoover trotted out a new plan to lead agriculture back to prosperity and it seems to be a pretty good one, too.

Borrowing from the New Deal only subsidization of new crops and retreat from marginal lands, Mr. Hoover's program attacked the problem from all sides as he told 8,000 listeners in the auditorium of University of Nebraska what should be done for the man behind the plow. Doubtless he and his advisors have given much thought to the matter and in all probabilities his words and ideas will be well measured by Messrs. Roosevelt and Wallace as they work on their own substitute for the Supreme court scuttled AAA.

It is too bad Mr. Hoover didn't think of all those plans and then put them to work to help the farmer when he was living in the big house at the end of Pennsylvania avenue.

If he had, who knows but what the farm problem would now be relegated to the limbo of forgotten things.

But when Mr. Hoover was in office—as any wide-awake farmer will tell you—he was too busy waiting for prosperity to "turn the corner" to pay much attention to the man of the soil. True, he and his aides dished out collection after collection of high sounding words and phrases to and about the farmer, but that's as far as he got. Upshoot of the whole thing was that the present national administration—whether by methods constitutional or unconstitutional—is the first in modern American history to turn words and plans into action and deeds. And that was a point overlooked by Mr. Hoover in his fourth speech attacking the administration which succeeded his own.

The Avalanche-Journal is of the opinion that the farmers of America are wiser, politically, than they were six years ago when Mr. Hoover's regime offered them verbs and adjectives instead of action.

We feel that the informed farmer read and digested Mr. Hoover's speech, then wondered why he hadn't brought out all those things when he was the President and why, then, he hadn't done something about them.

Next November, we think, will find a farming element tuned to a program which amounts to more than mere suggestion—a program which assures action rather than oratory, facts rather than fancies, assurances rather than promises no matter how beautifully the latter may be presented.

Compared to the Republican party's garrulous record, the Roosevelt administration can truthfully show its own record to be done of action.

And that will be reflected when the ballots are counted nine months from now.

CHICAGO'S NEW TRAFFIC TOLL

Up to the morning of January 12, Chicago's 1936 traffic toll had exacted the lives of 31 persons, injured 433. Think of it!

In 11 days of the new year, in but one American city, automobile mishaps had killed nearly twice as many persons who died in the nation's worst air tragedy—that of Goodwin, Ark., on Tuesday night—and, in addition, had injured almost a half thousand!

In commenting on the dubious record, the Chicago Tribune pointed out that 98 per cent of those accidents would have been physically impossible on an elevated highway and the paper is energetically campaigning for such a thoroughfare.

Doubtless the Tribune is correct in its figures and perhaps an elevated highway is needed.

But we would say, without fear of contradiction, that 98 per cent of the accidents never would have happened if drivers had been paying attention to their business and driving as they should.

One pleasant way to escape boredom while sitting at home waiting for bedtime is to take a nap.

An odd thing about the Ethiopian fray is that neither side is resorting to the Buck Rogers paralysis gun.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

He that trusteth in his riches shall fail: but the righteous shall flourish as a branch.

He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind: and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart.

The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life; and he that winneth souls is wise.

Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner. Proverbs, XI: 27-31.

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

WHEN the new AAA measure reaches the Supreme court for a test, Chief Justice Hughes will learn that words cast upon the air come back when you least expect them. Bright young AAA-ers in on the secret are chuckling over his prospective predicament.

FDR's substitute solution is based entirely on the national government's power to preserve "soil fertility." Excessive and unplanned production, the President argues, endangers the "general welfare" of unborn Americans by impoverishing the land. Therefore he will give the farmers the same financial help they received under the crop control program invalidated by Mr. Hughes & Co. The only difference lies in the new warrant for passing out public funds.

Arguing as a lawyer years ago, Mr. Hughes told the honorable court that Congress had the authority to tax or borrow "for agricultural development throughout the country in accordance with a systematic and general plan to promote the cultivation of the soil." Canny Mr. Roosevelt will confront "Chief Justice Hughes with the words of "Lawyer" Hughes.

SUSPICIOUS: Political mathematicians figure that President Roosevelt will lose to his unknown Republican opponent by 9,600,000 votes if the Literary Digest canvass counts noses correctly.

The theoretical majority for some lucky fellow is based on a total presidential vote of 41,000,000. On the basis of the Digest poll that breaks down so as to give 24,800,000 votes to the GOP nominee, 15,200,000 to Mr. Roosevelt and 1,000,000 to all minority candidates. Republican dopesters privately admit that such a mathematical conclusion is too good to be true. It inclines them to share Democratic suspicions that for the first time the poll is producing a lopsided result.

The normal total of floating voters—No-Man's-Landers—is approximately 6,000,000. But if the Digest forecasting is authentic, it means that almost 6,000,000 Roosevelttites in 1932, together with about 2,000,000 new voters, will prefer somebody else in the White House. Practical politicians in both camps consider that a prospect too remote to make winter bets on.

JOWL: J. P. Morgan wasn't playing up to the press gallery when he apologized for his 20-year-old characterization of newspapermen as congenital "idiots." As he explained, he has come to know them better from two prolonged stays at the Capital. Now he even appreciated their sense of humor.

When senatorial examiners brought out that Mr. Morgan had forced Great Britain to live up to a $55,000,000 contract with American rifle manufacturers, a reporter wrote a "fake lead" for the amusement of his colleagues. It read: "Allied victory was assured when American bankers aided American rifle manufacturers by deftly slicing a $55,000,000 pound of flesh off the right cheek of John Bull's jowl."

Morgan's bulky frame shook with laughter as he read it. "I don't know what cheek it was," he commented, "but I do know that the operation was performed with surgical precision."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

ARTHUR H. VANDENBERG'S stock is rising swiftly in Republican inner circles. New Yorkers in close touch with the Borah boom predict confidently that the Idahoan will step aside at the psychological moment and hand over his delegates to the Michigan senator.

A friend and supporter describes Borah's attitude this way: "Bill a realist. He knows his own nomination—if he could get it—would split the party wide open. He also knows he's pretty old for the grind of a nominee's campaign. But he's determined to have a decisive voice in selecting the candidate and he wants to be the real power behind the presidential throne. He would consider that the crowning achievement of his career.

"He figures he can play Warwick at the convention in a way that will stake him a decisive claim for the job of privy counsellor number one. He would welcome the post of Secretary of State—as Bryan did in 1913. Meanwhile he will play safe by clinging to his Senate seat. Vandenberg fills his 'liberal' bill better than anyone else in sight."

ACCEPTABLE: Other hidden factors are operating in Vandenberg's favor. Conservative New York leaders are primarily concerned about two things—a united Republican party and a nominee who can be trusted to "behave" if elected.

They have been suspicious of the Michiganite on the latter score. But lately they have conned his record with a microscope and decided there's nothing in it to cause any serious apprehension. Naturally they differ with Borah as to who should have the inmost track at the White House—and are confident they could win that contest.

From the party harmony angle, the strength of Borah sentiment around the country is reluctantly taken as proof that liberal Republicans must be satisfied with the candidate if there is to be a real chance of beating Roosevelt. Here again Vandenberg is indicated ahead of Landon or Knox or Dickson. An astute GOP backstager remarks: "He has few ardent supporters, but still fewer enemies—and that's what counts." Most of the men who will put up the heavy dough find him acceptable, although they don't exactly rave with enthusiasm.

AMENDMENT: This idea of broadening the federal government's powers by constitutional amendment has more complications than a hound has fleas. All sorts of cross currents are beginning to flow. New York sharps learn that farm and labor leaders are less inclined to go hell bent for it on second thought. It's all very well to strengthen the arm of a liberal administration—but what would happen when conservatives come back to power? It would be too ironic if the additional authority they had worked to confer on Washington were used to slap them down.

Then you have the South with its ingrained resistance to encroachment on states' rights. That hinders sponsorship of the amendment by the Democratic party. On the other hand, conservatives are not unanimously opposed by any means. Some who have fascist leanings feel that greater federal powers might be just the right medicine in the right hands.

Finally the prohibition specter looms big in the background. With such an amendment it might again be imposed on the country by simple act of Congress. That gives wet liberals pause. The issue is inevitable—but there will be more talk than action for a long time.

INVISIBLE? Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey evidently likes to play a lone hand. In the two moves of his career that have attracted most attention—the New Jersey sales tax and his efforts in regard to Hauptmann—he acted without asking advice from anyone. Both times he got himself out on a limb and did his party no good. The boys are plenty sore at him.

Insiders can no longer see Hoffman's vice-presidential chances with a telescope.

THE NEW BOOKS

Phil Stong Writes About Iowa Again In "Career;" Booth Tarkington Publishes Another And It's Standard Again; "We Soviet Women" Is Interesting Insight On Soviet Russia

"CAREER," by Phil Stong; (Harcourt, Brace, New York).

THIS time Phil Stong is writing about Iowa, dealing with the people and territory which made "State Fair" such a success. It is where he belongs in a literary sense, and although "Career" is not another "State Fair" is is also not another "Week End," praise be.

This is the story of an Iowa storekeeper who is at the same time the mainstay of his community. It is likewise the story of an Iowa community in the years immediately before the depression, a depression which Carl, the storekeeper, foresees and which Clem the banker does not foresee. Mr. Stong surrounds Carl with a large cast, including his fine and generally upstanding son Ray, his wife Amy, the bankers' family, two or three genial drunks and so on.

Position Handed Down

Carl has been adviser and father confessor to the community for many years, and before him his father and grandfather occupied the same position. So that it is with a sort of helpless sadness that Carl sees the town bank headed for the rocks, and imagines the disaster which will follow. His problem is more acute than it might seem on the surface, because he must salvage enough from the wreck to pay Ray's remaining expenses at medical school, and because he is last approaching the $25,000 total which is to be the bulwark of his and Amy's old age. This last is safe, however, in a strong box.

Well, obviously the crash must come. Carl, being bright, sees it ahead of time and withdraws his son's money and his own cash balance. His neighbors accuse him of letting them down when the doors are closed. And Carl makes, in the end, his own sacrifice—in addition to everything else, he must take on a new burden, and a difficult one to bear.

Story Holds Reader

There is a great deal of homely and amusing material in "Career." The story holds the reader, excepting for a few places where excursions into the past retard the pace too much. Yet there are those who will find it a little dilute; a little like those stories of miraculously good men who cheerfully shoulder huge burdens in the old style Sunday school weeklies.

Up To Standard

"THE LORENZO BUNCH," by Booth Tarkington; (Doubleday, Doran, N. Y.).

IT is nice to have so standard a product as that of Booth Tarkington alight occasionally upon this desk. Mr. Tarkington's name upon the jacket means, usually, a novel about homely people, stuffed with the authentic detail of homely lives. It will be written in the leisurely Tarkington style, free from attempted high flights; delightfully free from unintentional low spots.

Last fall "Mr. White, The Red Barn, Hell and Bridewater" arrived to be the exception which proves the rule. That was not standard Tarkington; comparatively speaking, it was not popular Tarkington either. But "The Lorenzo Bunch" is once again on the proper tack.

Story Of Four Families

This is Mr. Tarkington's story of the four families who lived on the top floor of the Lorenzo, a middle western apartment house which was just a trifle above the means of the "bunch," and of the Foots, who moved into the Lorenzo at the behest of one of the men in the "bunch." Mr. Foot was handsome, and his wife was beautiful.

The bunch was moronic, with one or two exceptions. From the very beginning of the book a suave gentleman, Mr. Gillespie Ives, drives his expensive foreign-looking car about the neighborhood, making eyes and trouble.

Plotted Very Neatly

Mr. Tarkington has plotted his book very neatly indeed. There is a story, and a good one. Things happen with terrifying probability, without too much flexing of the arm of coincidence. But the plot is as usual incidental with Mr. Tarkington. The emphasis is on characterization, on the Tarkington ear for the subtleties of unsubtle speech.

Perhaps also there is a little more of the satirical than is usual—Tarkington always has jabbed at our frailties, of course, but usually with a chuckle. There is a note of weary bitterness in some of the things he says about the Lorenzo bunch, and particularly in much of the comment on Irene Foot, the beautiful newcomer.

Don't take "The Lorenzo Bunch" too lightly.

Quite Different

"WE SOVIET WOMEN," by Tatiana Tchernavin; (E. R. Dutton, N. Y.).

TATIANA TCHERNAVIN, who exposed the agony she and her family endured at Soviet hands in "Escape From The Soviets," has a quite different book on the market today.

That is, "We Soviet Women" is less personal but tells precisely the same story. It is a record of a number of Soviet women and what they have suffered, told in 15 short narratives which combine to inform the reader that Walter Duranty is wrong when he says that the Soviet experiment is succeeding.

Takes Long Chance

In publishing "We Soviet Women," Mme. Tchernavin takes a long chance, of course. The most obtuse must know the obvious answer of Soviet partisans—that any civilization can be slandered by picking out isolated examples. The story of a sharecropper in sparse Southern land might be used to indict all Southern life. A Massachusetts mill hand who had been given a raw deal might similarly be used. But, the Soviet authorities would reply, nobody should be so stupid as to condemn America on such evidence. Conversely—

Yet the other side may say with equal sincerity that, after all, evidence and the action predicated upon evidence are only the result of catching up such small straws, and combining them into a structure. A civilization cannot be condemned on such spotty evidence, but trends in it may.

Passages Effective

So much for the value of the book. As writing, it has great passages; there is a spare and cutting prose in the first story, "Vera," which almost hurts the reader. Some other passages are even more effective. The last section, dealing with Mme. Tchernavin's effort to recover her furniture, and the GPU woman she had to deal with, is one of the least valuable—after all, the Tchernavin furniture might have been ruined in Hoboken.

On the whole, most readers will find "We Soviet Women" less compelling than "Escape From The So-

Woman Worker Called Chivalrous

"You Have To Be Good To Match A Man's Salary"

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

IF you want to match a man's salary, you have to be good! Better than he is. Much better. Even then, there will be many young Eve's pampered sons who will insist that the mere fact of having been born into the group which votes by divine right of sex instead of constitutional amendment rates a larger monetary compensation.

Helen Welshimer

Women must be better at their jobs, than men are, in order to earn the same amount of money — according to women and statistics.

The magazine published by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs — "Independent Women" — is opening this subject wide for discussion. It is sponsoring a contest in its current issue in which it asks women to give experiences indicative of the fact that women must do work superior to that of their male associates to win the same recognition and financial reimbursement.

The figures compiled by the United States Office of Education reveal that men teachers receive salaries twice as large as women. Other occupations and professions follow suit, generally speaking. Only specialized and creative work escape.

Men Aggressors Since Eden

WOMEN may pray for a business millenium but that day of light and sweetness is far away. It will take generations to break down the barrier and bring about public recognition that women can compete as human beings, before the sex line is drawn.

It isn't fair to blame men because women aren't reaping a more generous reward. The whole economic system got off to a bad start that morning Adam and Eve realized that their lease in Eden had expired and henceforth they must do their own farming. Adam became the aggressor and protector. As centuries passed men were the fishers and hunters. They starred in the Industrial Revolution. Women saw that their laundry was cared for, their bread was baked, and their fires kept bright.

The idea that a man must receive an income which would enable him to support his family was an accepted one. When a woman worked it was assumed that she had only herself for whom to provide — and probably received some help from her father or brother, too. Salaries became established on the basis of responsibility, not merit. Today, when often the situation is reversed and women are the sole wage-earners of a family the assumption is false.

Employers Pay Lower Salary

MAYBE women are benefiting, though. There is a complaint abroad that it is easier for a woman, than a man, to find a job. When an employer can get a woman's services for a salary lower than a man requires, it isn't because he wants a woman's touch around the office that he chooses one. It's business, that's all.

If men kicked themselves out of their berths, there should be no lamentations in Israel!

Maybe the present-day juxtaposition of the sexes, in which men learn the intricacies of dish-washing while women punch time clocks, will bring a wiser business understanding.

Amelia Earhart, who was brave enough to head across the Atlantic, all by herself one summer morning three and one-half years ago, became vocational consultant for women at Purdue University this year. Among the questions which she asked the co-eds was one which read:

"If you were the wage earner and your husband ran the home would you consider his work financially equivalent to yours?"

Women Pay Check

WHEN the answer is "no", the girl is in character with a man-given point of view. At that, whether or not it is a man or woman who stays at home to answer the telephone and chat with agents, "no" may be the wrong answer as easily as the right one. It all depends on the comparison of the two jobs.

Anyway, when a woman has a family to support she can't stretch five loaves and two fishes to feed a multitude any more than her husband can.

There is one thing more. Nine out of ten women prefer that if the family boasts only one salary check it bear a man's name. If there are two checks, a wise woman wants her husband's to carry the largest figure. Being women we are like that. We are very fond of a nice old attitude called chivalry.

A Great University Being Builded

Library Of Congress Is Nerve Center For Research

BY IRA BENNETT
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18—Comparatively few persons are aware of the fact that a university gigantically greater than any other is taking form in Washington, with the Library of Congress as its heart and nerve center. The dream and plan of George Washington for a national university in the federal city is becoming a reality on a scale vastly exceeding even his splendid conception.

The Library of Congress is no longer merely a library of and for Congress. It is the national library, but it is more than that. Partly by unplanned growth and partly by design, the matchless stores of knowledge accumulated in government establishments are becoming parts of a university of unique character and unapproachable richness and size. Nothing resembling it has ever existed.

One Of World's Largest

Everybody knows that the Libraray of Congress is one of the largest deposits of books, manuscripts, maps and periodicals in the world. It is rapidly becoming the largest. But it is not commonly known that the scope of its activities has been expanded to make it the powerhouse, so to speak, of the greatest distributing system of knowledge that is available to mankind. Instead of a warehouse it more nearly resembles a lighthouse, whose powerful beams will penetrate further into the unexplored fields of research than any other institution, and furnish hitherto unknown facilities to searchers for truth in every branch of knowledge.

Here in Washington are special accumulations of knowledge which the newly developing university system of the Library of Congress is making available to students and specialists. The departmental libraries, laboratories and scientific bureaus are full of valuable material. The library is also photostating thousands of documents in Spain and other countries, besides building up a "Union catalogue" listing every important book in all libraries in the United States.

The problem of mobilizing stored-up knowledge long ago engaged the practical mind of the Librarian of Congress, Dr. Herbert Putnam. He had no difficulty in obtaining physical resources—a plant, books, an annex and personnel. What he needed was a liaison system, connecting inert material with live searchers for knowledge. He solved the problem by bringing about creation of the Library Trust Fund board, with authority to accept endowment and to enlist the services of experts and consultants.

Public-spirited individuals and foundations have furnished funds which are enabling the library to expand into an institution possessing some of the features of a university. But it is more than that. It may be called a "House of Studies"—a house of many mansions, each furnished with the spoils of ages—with a chamber for music, another for art, another for history, another for aeronautics and so on. The "chairs" in five divisions are filled with adepts of recognized preeminence in their respective fields. In addition the library is enabled to enlist the services of consultants in many divisions, besides honorary consultants who serve without pay.

Why a division of aeronautics in the Library of Congress? The answer quickly appears when the plan is revealed. Thanks to the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics, an endowment was provided which brought about concentration of aeronautic libraries in the Library of Congress and allowed for important purchases. The collection is now the most complete and valuable in the world. It becomes a live center of information and an invaluable agency for stimulating research and invention, largely through the efforts of its chief, Dr. Albert F. Zahm. His superb qualifications, both in practical experience and in research, are en-

Winter Moisture Gives Good Prospects For Wheat Crop; Acreage Is Increased

Condition Of Crop Is Good

Reports Gathered By Santa Fe Officials Reveal Brighter Outlook For Crop; Acreage Is 877,300 In Area

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

WITH winter snows and moisture adding moisture in sections where fears had been felt that there might be a short wheat crop, reports indicate the crop in many sections of the South Plains is better than for several years.

More moisture will be needed before spring, but the crop is in far better shape than had been expected two months ago.

Hopes Realized

Many farmers last fall dry planted their crop in the hope that late fall rains would come and bring it up. Their hopes were realized by December moisture.

Recently the Santa Fe division office here sent out questions to agents relative to wheat acreage and increase or decrease over the past year. Replies have been received and tabulated, showing an acreage of over 875,000 for the coming crop harvest.

Five To 33 Per Cent

These reports show Muleshoe, Slaton, Post, Snyder, Tulia, Kress, Plainview, Lockney, Floydada, Lamesa, Crosbyton, Ralls and Lorenzo show increases ranging from five to 33 per cent.

On the other hand Sudan, Shallowater, Snyder, Hale Center, Abernathy, show decreases.

Farmers in the wheat area believe that the roots this year are deeper in the ground than for several years. There has not been as much cattle grazing as in other years, owing to the late crop. However, there will be some grazing from now on, as the wheat growth is increasing.

Not As Large Producer

The South Plains area is not as large a wheat producing section as the North Plains. Most of the wheat in this section is found in Floyd, Hale and Swisher counties. Bailey also is a good wheat county.

Reports indicate Tulia will have the largest acreage, 225,000, a 10 per cent increase over last year. Plainview's 175,000 acreage is 20 per cent above 1934; Hale Center and Kress have 65,000 acres each, the former a decrease and the latter an increase. Happy has 75,000 acres.

Floydada, 50,000 acres, shows an increase, while Muleshoe's 40,000 acres is 10 per cent under last year. Lamesa has five per cent more than last year, with 40,000 acres in all. It is a new wheat growing section.

Reports of the acreage and change for the past year are:

Station—	Acreage

Americans Are Eating More Cashew Nuts, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Americans are eating more cashew nuts, says the bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

In 1929-30 cashews were less than one-third of one per cent of all tree-grown nuts eaten. By 1934-35, consumption had reached 13.9 per cent and was exceeded only by walnuts and pecans. The cashew tree is a tropical evergreen and except for a few experimental trees in southern Florida and southeastern Texas is not grown in this country.

About 98 per cent of the cashews eaten here are imported from India and two per cent from other parts of Asia and Haiti. The nut has wide use in confections and the kernel yields an edible oil. Natives, where the tree grows, use the juice of the nut for healing cut and abrasions of the skin.

More Than Million Trees To Be Planted In Shelterbelt

AMARILLO, Jan. 18. (AP)—From 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 trees will be planted next spring on the Soil Conservation Service demonstration projects in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado, officials have announced.

The action was decided upon after it was determined a loss of only 23 to 25 per cent had been sustained on the 17,000 trees set out on the Dalhart project last year.

The chewing gum industry began in 1860 on an outlay of $55 Today the American public spends $1,000,000 weekly on the product.

Brady Co-Operative Poultry Group Is To Receive $30,000 From Sale Of Eggs

(By The Associated Press)

BRADY, Jan. 18—Frank V. Hurd, secretary-manager of the Brady Co-Operative Poultry association, announces that members of the organization have held 4,500 turkey hens off the market and expect to receive approximately $30,000 from the sale of eggs this year.

Laying will begin about the middle of January, J. D. Prewit, county agent, said, and contracts for more than 80,000 eggs have been made with hatcheries outside the state. Most of them will go to Minnesota, the county agent stated.

To Ship January 25

The first shipment of about 3,500 eggs will be made around Jan. 25, and it is expected shipments will increase rapidly thereafter. One of the largest raisers in McCulloch county has 830 hens and 100 toms. Others have flocks of 60 to 250, all of the Bronze strain.

The association this year bought an electric incubator with a capacity of 5,800 eggs. Unsold eggs will go into the machine at four-week intervals, Hurd said. Last year the association shipped 80,902 eggs, bringing its 100 members $12,685.38.

Good Profits Cited

E. O. Moore received $863.75 for the eggs from his flock of 130 hens and raised 306 young turkeys in addition; and W. B. Carroll $318.71 from 50 Bronze hens and raised 183 for market. Cost of feed and death loss gave an approximate net profit of $5 for each laying hen.

During the laying season County Agent Prewit supervises the flocks to insure observance of association rules protecting breeding, feeding and flock management. Reports are received from buyers giving the fertility, hatchibility and texture of each flock. By this means it is possible to hold fertility to an average of 86 per cent and hatchibility to 72 per cent regardless of the distance the eggs are shipped.

It is estimated the association will produce 180,000 eggs this year.

Farm Trend Cited By U. S. Official

DALLAS, Jan. 18 (AP)—D. P. Trent, regional Resettlement administrator, said today that reports recently released by the U. S. bureau of the census indicated an enforced shift of Texas tenant farmers from good land to less profitable farms.

The Resettlement administration is charged with reversing that trend and assisting farmers toward use and ultimate ownership of better land.

Landowners Increase

The number of share crop families in Texas has been cut 29,000 in the last five years, and the number of landowners has increased, but Trent said that no indication of better farming conditions. Many of the share croppers, he said, have been turned off good land and have taken up little tracts of their own in unprofitable areas where few will be able to earn an adequate living.

"They are building a greater relief problem for the future," he said.

Has Fewer Farms

Trent pointed out that Ellis county, with an average land value of $55 an acre, has 1,354 fewer farms than it had five years ago. Another county in Texas, which he did not name, with land valued at only $17 an acre, has increased the number of its farms by 715. On Ellis county's $55 land there are less half as many share croppers as five years ago. Trent said owners of the land have found means to operate it with fewer men, and much of the land has been turned back to pasture to stop erosion.

Conditions in the two counties are generally typical of the state, Trent said.

Edwin Thomas Howes, eccentric Londoner, lived a miser's life and starved himself, but lit his pipe every morning with a one-pound note. He continued the practice until his recent death.

Plow Reached Present State Of Utility Only After Long Painful Progress, Says USDA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The plow, first among basic farm implements, reached present utility only after centuries of painful progress, says a statement from the United States Department of Agriculture.

Research by the bureau of Agricultural Engineering shows that the first plows, fashioned from crooked tree branches, were pulled by one or more men, another forcing the crude implement into the soil. The barbarous custom of hitching draft animals to plows by their tails was practiced as late as 1631.

The statement relates that when effort was made to introduce castiron plows in the United States farmers declared they poisoned the soil and prevented crops growing. Sir Robert Peel, English statesman, in 1860 gave his farmers "two iron plows of the best construction." On his next visit they were using wooden plows, believing iron plows made weeds grow.

Number Of Sheep And Lambs On Feed Shows A Decrease

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The bureau of agricultural economics reported today the number of sheep and lambs being fed for market in the principal feeding states on January 1, was 5.4 per cent smaller than the number at the same time last year.

The bureau estimated 5,260,000 head of sheep and lambs were in fattening pens in the chief feeding areas.

The decrease was in the Corn Belt states, where the preliminary estimate recorded 2,956,000 head compared with the final estimate of 3,312,000 head a year ago.

In the Scotsbluff section of Nebraska and Wyoming, the number was somewhat larger. In the western states, including North Dakota, Oklahoma and Texas, there was an increase of 55,000 from the 1935 total of 2,249,000.

Dusting Cotton With Poison In South Proves Fatal To Bees

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18. (AP)—Dusting cotton with poison from an airplane is hazardous to bees. Entomologists of the United States Department of Agriculture say that although poison dust saves many plants from lice, worms and bugs, it is difficult to control. Much of its drifts to adjoining fields and if it settles on flowers from which honey bees are gathering nectar the bees are killed. In some localities entire apiaries have been exterminated.

RAINFALL IS HEAVY

ALICE, Jan. 18. (AP)—Rainfall in Alice the past year totalled 43.05 inches, compared with last year's figure of 23.24 inches, J. W. Blankinship, U. S. local weather observer, reports. The heaviest rains fell in June and September, those months registering 11.36 and 13.68 inches, respectively. August was the driest with only .10 inches. This year's precipitation is the second heaviest in 22 years, being exceeded in 1919 when 51.11 inches fell.

Argentina Has Acreage Gain

Governor Jose Castells Back In Chaco After Making Arrangements To Settle Americans In Area

(By The Associated Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 18—Argentina, which recently made plans to settle the North American cotton farming families in the Chaco territory, has increased cottoh acreage 70 per cent over last year to a new record of 809,600 acres.

This was announced by the National Cotton board shortly after Governor Jose Castells of the Chaco had returned from a trip through the American cotton belt, where he made tentative arrangements to bring ten Texas and Mississippi cotton families to Argentina in 1936.

The Americans, under the plan, will be used as "missionaries" to show Argentine farmers how to grow cotton properly.

Ragweed Is Found To Be Good For Tobacco In Crop Rotation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—Ragweed has been found good for tobacco and sufferers from hay fever would gladly have this poisonous growth put to such work exclusively.

Tobacco specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture know that some weeds in a crop rotation often give exceptional quality to the tobacco leaf. In a two-year rotations with different weeds in South Carolina, ragweed as a preceding crop gave highest value and highest yield. Tobacco after ragweed averaged 1,873 pounds an acre with a leaf of such quality that the total acre value was $410.37 a report from the department states.

More Interest Is Being Shown By Farmers In Certified Seed

More interest is being shown by farmers in purchase of state certified grain sorghum seeds for planting this year, than before, according to Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment sub-station here. It was at the Lubbock station that state certified seed has been developed during the past score of years.

Farmers are writing in to the station to ask about securing seed. Mr. Jones has a shortage this year, owing to a fire in a storage barn in the fall of 1934 that destroyed a large portion of his seed. He is recommending, however, the purchase of seed from breeders of this area.

Ordinance On Skating Invoked In Amarillo After Christmas

AMARILLO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Because Santa Claus brought so many roller skates to Amarillo children, an old city ordinance forbidding skating on sidewalks is to be invoked.

City Manager H. R. Smith admitted he was only half-heartedly in favor of the plan but said any further complaints would be turned over to the police.

"Where else can children skate with any satisfaction or safety", he asked.

WORK EXPANDED

ALICE, Jan. 18. (AP)—The rural rehabilitation program for Jim Wells county is being expanded to afford every distressed family a chance to work back to independence. George E. Voss, county supervisor of rural resettlement work, announces.

Enrollment of new clients is in progress. All families accepted for either permanent or temporary work must be approved by the county advisory committee. Direct grants for subsistence will be made to those in dire need, Voss stated.

START OFF ACTIVE

AUSTIN, Jan. 18. (AP)—Austin's construction, which exceeded $5,345,000 last year, started the new year with a $250,000 permit for a girl's dormitory at the University of Texas.

Public Works administration loaned and granted the university funds for the structure to be four stories high and contain 90 rooms.

Another women's dormitory, also financed by the P. W. A. is nearing

Farmers In Texas Take Advantage Of Debt Adjustment Aid Of Resettlement Administration; Cases Being Settled

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 18.—More than 2,000 Texas farmers threatened with loss of their property have recently turned over their cases to local committees working to bring about adjustment between debtors and creditors, it was announced today by D. P. Trent, regional director of the Resettlement administration.

This number of cases have been filed with committees since reorganization of the work was undertaken by the Resettlement administration last September. The local committees serve without pay, under guidance of employes of resettlement, one employe covering 30 or 40 counties.

179 Cases Settled

Trent said that 179 of the cases have already been settled. The average case involved $8,000 and was scaled down $450 in principal, and the interest also reduced.

About half the cases were settled by refinancing through the original creditor. Most of the remainder were refinanced through a government agency. In a few cases, bankruptcy was taken, under which the farmer received what amounts to a three-year moratorium during which he pays a reasonable amount of rent and retains possession of his property.

Trent also reported that in the Resettlement administration's major activity, Rural Rehabilitation, nine thousand new Texas families were enrolled during the month of December. Most of them received "emergency grants" averaging $19 for the month, pending such time as these families will be able to make arrangements for land and obtain approval for farm and home plans upon which loans may be based.

PALESTINE, Jan. 18. (AP)—Thomas J. Milton, 35, an itinerant printer, left his cork leg in a Los Angeles hotel last summer.

That didn't bother him. Now, however, he has lost four fingers off his left hand and can no longer grip a crutch. So he is trying to locate the leg.

The fingers were amputated because they were badly seared a couple of weeks ago when Milton lost consciousness from malnutrition as he rode a locomotive tender and continued for 25 miles with an arm pinioned by a steam pipe.

Shelterbelt Finds Precedent In Early Days; Farmers Back In 1880 Sought Data On Work

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—The Great Plains shelterbelt, or windbreak, project finds a precedent in pioneer days. United States Forest Service officials detailed to this vast undertaking say that early settlers planted "on their own" and modern farmers set out trees under state and federal supervision.

One of the earliest records of windbreak planting is a report of forestry by the Kansas State Historical society in 1880, giving information on adaptable species, suggested spacing, culture methods, effects of trees on adjacent field crops and exact locations of the oldest successful plantings.

Passage of the Timber Culture act in 1873 was an important event in tree planting history. It provided homesteads for those who agreed to plant a certain amount of land to trees. Amended subsequently, and repealed in 1891, it nevertheless sowed the idea of tree culture in the Plains area, a statement from the United States Department of Agriculture says.

Much bon fide planting was done under the act but there also were many cases of insincere and even fraudulent attempts at growing trees with the intent of getting free lands.

Built By Rockefeller Millions

Cathedral-like in its austere beauty, this white marble building has just been completed in Jerusalem to house the Palestine Archeological Museum. In its halls will be displayed the historic treasures that have survived the years, many of them dug from the dust of centuries by scientific expeditions. Construction of the building was made possible by a $2,000,000 gift from John D. Rockefeller, jr.

The Chessboard

Sixteen persons, the largest number to attend a Lubbock chess club meeting since the first city championship tournament here, were present at a meeting at the home of Dr. R. S. Underwood last week.

Three high school students, J. T. Lamm, Bob Lindsey, and Hugh Thomas, attended. A high school chess club may be formed, they said, with Frank Ward as sponsor. Ward, a teacher, is a club member.

The club repeatedly has invited all persons interested in learning the game to attend. The group will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the home of V. O. Jennings, 2207 Twentieth street.

With only three games to be played, Dr. Alan L. Strout's team was leading that of Dr. R. S. Underwood 8½-3½ in the first intra-club team match. The team captains drew an interesting game and postponed playing the second.

The results of last week's play, with Strout's players listed first: Strout ½, Underwood ½; J. R. Taylor 1, Gordon Webb 1; V. O. Jennings 1, R. J. Allen 1; G. V. Pardue and Rod O'Neall, games to be played; Frank Ward 1, Glenn Ridge 1; Thad Risinger 2, T. C. Root 0.

M. Najdorf, the Polish master, is one of the most brilliant of the younger chess players. He won the following game in a Warsaw tournament last year:

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS, No. 103

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As the mad Niarchus crept stealthily up behind Tarzan to slay him, a sudden, expectant silence descended upon the Baalites. Immediately the ape-man's suspicious were stirred. His nostrils quivered, then dilated, and he detected the close approach of one of the tribesmen.

Niarchus raised his knife. Tarzan whirled. In wild panic, the high priest struck out. The Jungle Lord grasped his wrist and wrenched the knife from him. Then he seized the screaming creature, hoisted him high above his head, and turned toward the Fiery Pillar!

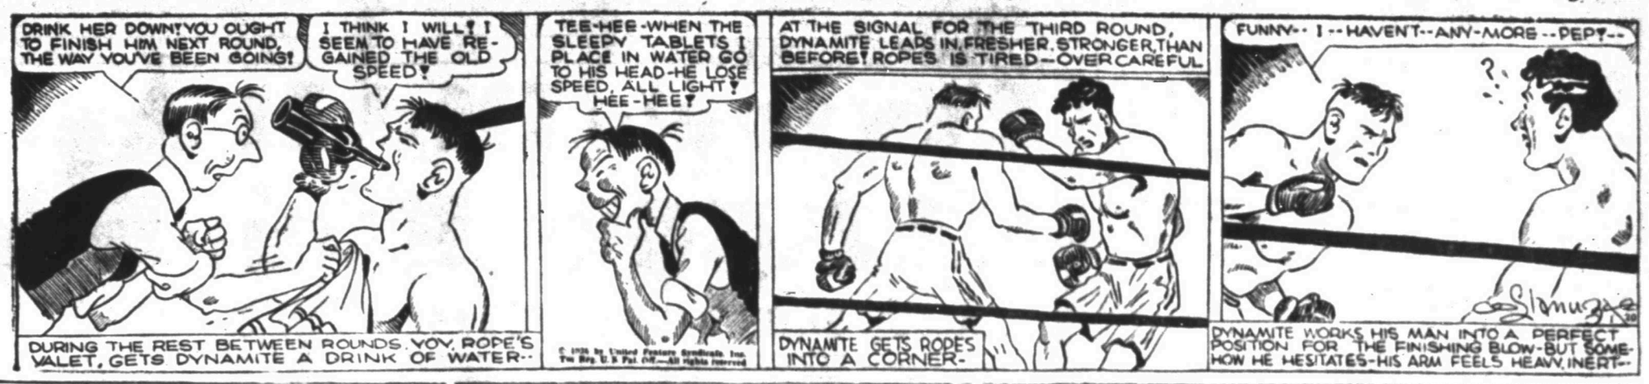

"Now," cried Tarzan, "you shall know the pain and death which you have so often decreed for others. I shall hurl you into the Fiery Pillar!" When Lady Beth translated his words, Niarchus begged: "Have mercy, O Ackander, on thy poor servant. I believe in thee!"

Tarzan answered: "I shall spare you if you will put no further hindrance in my path." Niarchus promised willingly enough; but still his crafty, distorted mind sought means of destroying the stranger who interfered with his brutal rule over the tribe.

Today's newest tractor—the Oliver Row Crop "70"—is the most efficient tractor ever offered by the Oliver Company, a six-cylinder, two-plow tractor, weighing 3,000 lbs.

Bits Of News And Comment Gleaned About Capitol Hill

BY DONALD A. YOUNG
Associate Press Texas Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18 (AP)—It was a tense moment for his audience when President Roosevelt came to that part of his Jackson Day banquet address about the Supreme court decision invalidating the AAA.

"I can not——" a quick glance at his audience, and Representative Marvin Jones of Amarillo moved forward on his chair. "—and will not——" with a characteristically vigorous shake of his head, "render offhand judgment without studying, with the utmost care two of the most momentous opinions ever rendered in a case before the Supreme court of the United States."

Jones, chairman of the House agriculture committee which framed the original and amended AAA act, had said earlier he wondered what the president would say. Afterward he chuckled and remarked that the president had done "exactly right."

Jones At White House

ALMOST immediately after the court's decision was made public, Jones was called to the White House. For several hours he joined the president, Secretary Wallace and Chester Davis in discussing the decision and seeking "a way out." Later, Wallace, Davis and Jones went to Wallace's office to continue deliberations which lasted until midnight. The Texan approved calling to Washington 150 farm leaders to discuss the problem and declined to suggest any specific plan or predict what the administration would do.

Mahon At Conference

REPRESENTATIVE George Mahon of Colorado headed a small group of West Texans at this conference. Others were C. H. Matthews of Eagle Lake, H. G. Lucas of Brownwood, L. P. Mahew of Kress, J. R. McCrary of Calvert and L. Trousdale, a Houston rice miller, also participated in the discussion.

Dies' Bill To Fore

AS substitute legislation was presented, the domestic allotment plan proposed last session of congress by Representative Martin Dies of Orange came to the fore. Dies would have the government pay cotton growers, for example, the difference between the current market price and 12 cents on that part of their crops which the agriculture department fixed as their share of the national domestic production.

A grower's production in excess of this quota would have to be disposed of at the current world market price.

Individual quotas would be determined partly on the ability of an individual farmer to conserve his soil. In this manner, a premium, so to speak, would be paid to a soil conservationist or diversificationist in the form of a higher allowable.

Three Texans Vote 'No'

OF Texas' 21 house members, 18 voted for passage of the bill authorizing payment of soldiers bonuses. The three who voted no were Representatives James P. Buchanan of Brenham, Fritz Lanham of Fort Worth and Hatton Sumners.

The day before the vote, Sumners told the house he voted for each proposition in favor of the nation's soldiers "until the government expenditures began to exceed its receipts."

"My appearing today is not for the purpose of trying to beat this bill but I am taking advantage of the psychology of the situation to say to my colleagues on this floor that there is a limit to the nation's credit," he said. "We have spent billions of dollars trying to get where we are. There must be a limit. If we keep increasing this deficit just as certain as the sun rises the time will come when this government will put out an issue to the people and the issue will not go over and the crash will come.

"These soldiers were not afraid to become military casuals in the war and I am not trying to strike any heroic pose when I say that I am perfectly willing to become a political casualty if I feel that I am doing it in the interest of my country."

Johnson Speaks For Bill

ON the other hand, Representative Luther Johnson of Corsicana spoke for the bill in the general debate. He asked for its passage "so delayed justice may be done to the veterans and at the same time that the country may be benefited by increased purchasing power." He said the veterans in eight counties of his congressional district were entitled to $4,264,014.59 under the pending bill.

Blanton Defends Scheme

IN a strictly partisan floor speech, Representative Tom Blanton of Abilene stoutly defended the scheme to have Democratic dinners on Jackson day.

"When Republicans need money to finance their campaigns they send out a little message to their rich angels and the money comes in at $50,000 a whack," he said . . . "We Democrats get ours from small contributions from small Democrats."

Represents West Texas

REPRESENTATIVE George Mahon represented West Texas at the recent funeral of Capt. R. G. Carter. He was granted a Congressional Medal of Honor for "most distinguished gallantry in action" with the Comanche Indians at Fresh Water fork of the Brazos river in Texas while a cavalry officer Oct. 10, 1871. At that time he succeeded in holding at bay some 200 Indians when they attacked him and his small detail of five men.

Mahon also represented Clifford Jones, Spur businessman.

On the west coast of Africa, canned whale meat has become an established commodity.

Thumbnail Reviews

"IT Must Be Your Tonsils," by Kenneth Roberts (Doubleday, Doran): Mr. Roberts, whose "For Authors Only" was a very keen book of essays, takes a fling at the medical profession; very amusing in spots.

"SMOKE in Her Eyes," by Allene Corliss (Farrar & Rinehart): what Mr. Vallee calls "lahve," all tricked out anew.

"ART in America," by Holger Cahill and Alfred H. Barr, jr., (Reynal & Hitchcock): a very rapid but informative review of America's progress toward a distinctive art of its own.

"GRAND Tour," by Patrick Balfour (Harcourt, Brace): London to India in an elderly Rolls Royce; one of the best and most amusing travel books in recent years.

"ARCHY Does His Part," by Don Marquis (Doubleday, Doran): what puzzles us is how Marquis can keep Archy alive and amusing so long; he's added Pete the Dog this time.

"THE String Glove Mystery," by Harriette R. Campbell (Knopf): Let's just pretend this hunting set mystery wasn't written in the first place.

"THE Coming American Fascism," by Laurence Dennis (Harpers): Mr. Dennis re-defines everything, and then argues that his sort of fascism is inevitable and proper; most of his readers will disagree, probably.

"The Tale of Two Horses," by A. F. Tscriffely (Simon & Schuster): the author of "Tscriffely's Ride" describes anew his long horseback ride from Argentine to New York, full of adventure and understanding of animals; in theory, Mancha and Gato, the horses, have written alternate chapters.

thusiastically acknowledged by aeronautical scientists here and abroad.

The Division of Aeronautics answers tens of thousands of inquiries yearly, placing inquirers in touch with all knowledge in any branch of the subject. DR. Zahm has at his command, quickly available, the world's accumulation of information concerning man's struggle for conquest of the air, from the earliest times to the latest reports from navigators and explorers. Entire libraries have been incorporated in the division, such as the Tissandier collection, the Hoernes collection, the Silberer collection, the Maggs collection, the Langley collection, and others.

In close cooperation with the patent office, the division has assisted in researches into priority of inventions and the value of inventions.

Any citizen desiring information concerning any feature of aeronautics may freely draw upon the resources of this immense library and upon the assistance of its staff. The spirit of the division is "public service."

The Division of Aeronautics of the Library of Congress is a splendid example of what can be done by philanthrophy wisely directed.

Collingsworth Students Are Going To School Very Cheap

WELLINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Ellen Sweat, Leona Deger and Ozette Bennett, graduates of Samnorwood High school in Collingsworth county, are attending Sul Ross State Teachers college at Alpine at a cost of $13 a month, each.

Their expenses are for house rent, groceries, utilities, clothing, amusements, transportation and other traveling expenses to and from home. Supplied with a large amount of home-canned fruits and vegetables, they rent a college cottage and take water and electricity through college meters to take advantage of its commercial rate.

Peru supplanted Brazil the first six months of 1935 as an important purveyor of cotton for Japan, official figures showed.
