

Tariff Obstacles Are Augmented By Action On Board

Completion Of Bill During
Special Session Unlikely
As Demand Is Made For Consideration Of Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—Obstacles to completion of a tariff bill during the special session were augmented today by a demand for the consideration of President Hoover's nominees to the federal farm board.

Beyond one day, or possibly several, to be devoted to this latest factor loomed the disposition of an export debenture rider. After that remained in the balance of individual amendments before rate schedules could be reached.

Abandon Meetings
With the abandonment of conferences of leaders on means of expediting tariff consideration, it was considered virtually certain, with these other items incident to further delay, that the bill would go into the regular session. Chairman Smoot of the finance committee has indicated he would ask night sessions as a last expedient.

As the senate turned to consideration of nominees to the federal farm board, with opposition to it expected, prospects were not only that the bill would be a long time on the senate floor, but that many weeks in conference would be necessary if an attempt is made by the senate and house conferees to reinsert the flexible tariff provision, which President Hoover desires, and the house continued in the bill.

The brunt of opposition to the farm board nominees is expected to be borne by Carl Williams of Oklahoma, cotton representative on the board, and Sam R. McKelvie, Nebraska, wheat representative. Earliest opposition suggested to Alexander P. Legge, chairman, seemed to have diminished.

Senator Norris, Nebraska, republican independent leader, announced his intention of proposing an export debenture rider before consideration of rate schedules, earlier, Senator Thomas, democrat, said he would move to recommit with instructions to limit revision to farm schedules. While the consensus was that neither proposal could muster a majority, the respective proponents were determined the senate should go on record.

With talk also of a move by members of the democratic-republican independent coalition to seek reconsideration of the agricultural schedule first, which under ordinary procedure would be considered after six other schedules had been disposed of, prospects for early disposal were further dimmed.

publican leaders might move to defer action on the entire tariff question until after the biennial elections next fall in the event consideration should continue far into the regular session. Rumors have circulated, too, that the president would veto a bill without the flexible plan, but nothing to substantiate or deny them has come from the White House.

Bible Class Will Review 4 Lessons

The next lesson for the Scofield Bible class, recently organized in this city, will be a review of the four lessons gone over to this time, according to an announcement last night by M. H. Duncan, teacher of the lesson: The next meeting of the class will be Monday night.

Questions on the first examination also will be reviewed in order that members of the class may know just the kind of answers to give and in what form. Last Monday night a new lesson was assigned but officers of the class have announced it will be best to review the former lessons and the examination rather than to cover additional material.

More time will be given on the first examination, according to the announcement. The papers will not be sent off next Tuesday. From Monday night's class only one lesson, as a rule, will be assigned for the week's work.

Every Day He Is Growing Shorter And Shorter; Shrinks Nine Inches In Eight Years To Baffle All Physicians

By NEA Service.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16. — One man in twenty-five million.
That's what physicians say of Joseph E. Mayott, 55, who has shrunk nine inches in height in the last eight years. He is afflicted with a strange malady known as Paget's disease or osteitis deformans. In 1921, Mayott was five feet seven inches and weighed 170 pounds. In 1929, he is four feet 10 inches and weighs 140 pounds.

Mayott is confined to the United States Veterans' hospital at Sante Fe where he has been under the care of physicians for the last three years. He has been the subject of intensive study by many prominent physicians in the west, because of the rarity of the disease. It is estimated that there are not over three or four cases known in the United States at present.

Bones Are Shrinking.
All of the bones in his body, with the exception of the skull, are shrinking, causing him to lose about one inch per year in height. Oddly enough, the skull is increasing in size, and while his trousers have been shortened from 32 to 27 inches his hat has increased from 6 7/8 to 7 1/4.

The disease was discovered by Sir James Paget in 1876. It is estimated that since that time, only 250 cases have been known to medical science.

The malady is not necessarily fatal, according to Colonel James A. Mattison, chief surgeon at the United States Veterans' hospital. And it would be possible for a man to live 50 years with the affliction. Nothing of the cause of the disease is known, and any attempts to cure it have been fruitless.

Mayott has been slightly crippled, but aside from occasional pains in his feet and legs, and occasional headaches, he is not incapacitated. In his spare time, he weaves scarfs in the occupational therapy department of the hospital. Disappearance of cartilage in leg joints and in his spine are responsible for the pain, causing a dislocation of nerve centers, according to Colonel Mattison.

In Blazing Tropics.
Mayott served with the engineer corps during the Spanish-American war, afterwards spending a number of years in South American countries as an engineer.
"I have never been sick a day in my life," said Mayott, "even though I traveled through fever-ridden swamps in South America, including the 'pest hole of the world' in Ecuador, and I have had no tropical diseases that might have led up to it."

Physicians, however, speculate as to whether or not the rigors of his life in the tropics, including the strain of an 18-months' journey on horseback, covering many thousands of miles, is responsible for his condition.

He has been an engineer all his life, and worked at the Canal Zone during the construction of the Panama Canal, afterwards receiving a Congressional medal for his services there. He likewise served in France during the World war, as a U. S. civilian employee, working in the Quartermaster Construction department.

Canada sent 1,350 automobiles to New Zealand in July.

Mrs. Turner Case Gets Continuance

Tahoka Woman Charged In Slaying Of Husband At Wilson Nine Years Ago; Witness Absent

(Special To The Avalanche)
TAHOKA, Oct. 16.—Due to the absence of a defense witness, the case of Mrs. Mollie Turner, charged with the murder of her husband on their farm near Wilson nine years ago, has been continued until May 10.

John Turner, the missing witness and son of Mrs. Turner, drew a fine of $500 from Judge Fritz R. Smith and an attachment is being issued for him on the judge's order. Smith, who is district judge of the district comprising Scurry, Borden, Nolan, Mitchell and Howard counties, was sitting on the bench here due to the fact that Judge Gordon B. McGuire is disqualified in the case.

Mrs. Turner was first indicted for the suspicious death of her husband soon after the killing in 1920, but due to insufficient evidence the case was dismissed. Last year new evidence came to light and the defendant was again indicted by the Lyon county grand jury, tried, convicted and given 20 years in the penitentiary, but the case was reversed.

Beet Association Expenditure Told In Lobbies Probe

Cost Of $70,000 Used In Maintaining Washington Headquarters Listed In Senate Investigation

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. — An annual expenditure of $70,000 by the United States beet sugar association with headquarters in Washington was listed today before the senate lobby committee by H. A. Austin, secretary and treasurer of the organization.

Appearing as a witness at the committee's second day of inquiry into reports of efforts to influence congress in drafting the tariff bill, he testified that during the first nine months of this year the association had expended approximately $36,000 and that of this much had been contributed to publications and pamphlets relating to sugar production.

"Only Incidental."
Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, asked if "the real purpose" of the publications was not to spread the idea of a high tariff, but Austin insisted this was "only incidental."

The witness also said a number of "press releases" had been sent to Washington newspaper correspondents and to newspapers throughout the country.

It was estimated by Austin that 90 per cent of the sugar production in the country was represented in the association.

Expert Recalled.
Before turning to the sugar tariff lobby, the committee recalled Frederick L. Koch, tariff commission expert, to ask if the pottery industry had protested his testimony at a secret hearing of the republican members of the house ways and means committee when that group was framing the tariff bill.

Koch said he understood William H. Rogers, tariff adviser of the United States Pottery association had gone so, but this questioning was not pursued at any length, the committee calling Austin shortly after a recess.

Austin testified he did not employ any newspaper writers to prepare the "press releases" most of which he believed went into the waste baskets.

"I think it's all bunk to try and get things like that in the paper," he said, with a smile.

Freed After Sale Of Whiskey Still

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 16. (AP) — Thomas L. Seagraves, operator of a sheet metal works here, was freed today, although he admitted he manufactured a "super contrivance" which the state contended was a still. He was charged with possession and sale of a still.

Seagraves admitted he made the apparatus from specifications furnished him by a federal prohibition officer. The verdict left the exact nature of the apparatus in doubt. Seagraves' lawyers argued he had as clear a right to sell the apparatus as a grocer had to sell malt and sugar and that the vendor was not required to determine what use was to be made of the commodities he sold.

Just Naturally Good

Good tobaccos . . . made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD'S goodness

A chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces . . . But it's still dangerous to your stomach.

So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos . . . and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette.

OLD GOLD tobaccos are naturally good. Carefully selected from Nature's best for smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch.

You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence.

Coat Lengths Rise As Skirts Drop

BY LUCY CLAIRE

Fashion Expert for Central Press. While we are intrigued watching the skirt lengths go down, it is quite as intriguing to note that coat lengths are going up. This is the natural outcome of cause and effect. As mentioned before in these articles, the lengthened skirt is responsible for the change in silhouette, and the shortened coat length is, not an illusion created by the lengthened skirt, having the coat where it was before, but making it appear much shorter. It is an actual subtraction from the coat length as a solution of what to do about the long, irregular skirtline now in vogue for day-time wear.

Not that the long coat is out of fashion. The shorter coats have recently arrived as yet, except in jacket form and for evening wear, but many of the smart women seen at the Ritz and other smart places in New York have adopted the shorter coat for wear with the dipped-in-the-back and other irregular skirt lines.

The coats are perhaps a trifle shorter than the regulation three-quarter length as we have known it, and may be quite plain and tailored or more dressy and flared. Fur coats are being made up in this style, and the fur jacket is coming back, both afternoon and for sports wear. Several of the foremost Paris houses are showing fur jackets with dresses. A brown and yellow tweed frock, for instance, has a brown baby lamb jacket lined with the tweed.

Straightline coats, anywhere from three to 15 inches shorter than the skirt, are frequently seen among the tweed ensembles. The color contrast is not so often seen in the afternoon ensembles. Fur borders are a feature of many short afternoon coats. It is in the evening wraps that we again meet the contrast of color. Maggy Rouff and Lelong endorse the fashion for white evening frocks under wraps of some rich shade of velvet, deep violet, for instance.

In the full length coats many of the morning models remain straight line and are belted. In none of the coats is the princess line over-emphasized, though its influence is strongly felt. The flare on afternoon coats is placed low in full length models, and they occasionally carry the dip in the back.

The sketch illustrates the three types of coats. The first is in the silhouette of the three-quarter afternoon coat worn with the irregular hemline. The second is a jacket of fur by Chanel, with little rippling capes over the shoulders, and the third is a favorite model for the full length coat, also developed in fur. This last is of brown caracul in a wrap-around model, showing the princess influence, and slightly longer at the back and sides. The high standing collar is of blue fox, while the deep cuffs are of the caracul.

Lecturer Follows Planned Routine

Mrs. Dougan To Demonstrate Intricate Cookery Details In Her Talks At School Here

One of the most unusual instances of concentration in platform speaking is to be found in the lecture routine of Mrs. Myra Dougan, noted domestic science expert, who will conduct a series of cooking school lectures under the auspices of the Avalanche-Journal at the Uptown Dance Palace, October 21 to 25.

Many women who fly into tantrums in their cooking routine, when interrupted by the ringing of the door bell, or the intrusion of the members of the household, have marveled at the ingenuity of this remarkable woman whom facing an audience of hundreds of women, her every movement subject to the invited scrutiny of her onlookers, proceeds to handle the most intricate of cookery details in orderly sequence; paring, kneading, mixing, peeling, and at the same time lecturing in detail regarding the very operations which she is demonstrating.

"I early found," says Mrs. Dougan, "that if I was to continue in my work, I would have to elaborate on the same procedure followed in my own home kitchen—that of not permitting outside intrusions to interfere with a well-formulated plan. While my lectures are not memorized and there is only a general uniformity in the program I follow at each day's demonstration, I have long since formed a habit of arranging my work so that when I take the platform, I begin my lecture and my demonstration work with a preconceived idea of just what items I'm going to demonstrate first—which items I am going to permit to cook while I prepare others, and I allow the general inspiration from my listeners to stimulate the course of my remarks, outside of the definite specifications as to products and recipes."

"In this capacity, I claim no particular ingenuity. Before I took the lecture platform, I followed the same outline in my own kitchen duties and the systematization and harmony which characterizes my appearance and demonstration on the stage is within the reach of any woman who wishes to apply herself conscientiously toward the elimination of drudgery from her kitchen activities.

"One item that I stress is the essentiality of every woman having available recipes which eliminate the uncertainty in cooking methods and allow for a definite allocation of the time she intends to spend in the kitchen. The second is the necessity of providing cooking insurance by selecting tried and tested products, which experience of hundreds of thousands of cooks have proven worthy and reliable.

"In each of my lectures, I am glad to answer questions either from the floor of the auditorium, or at the conclusion of the instruction class, in which I will be glad to assist as far as possible in demonstrating means by which the average woman can eliminate the greater part of the nervous wear and tear of cooking."

Double Shooting Believed Solved

Bookkeeper Suicides After Killing Advertising Expert Found In Inn Room
By Manager

WALLINGFORD, Conn., Oct. 16. (P.)—Police were convinced today that Mrs. Anna Bryan Ayres, advertising expert who earned $100,000 a year, had been shot to death by William Gaylord, bookkeeper, who then killed himself. Their bodies were found yesterday in a room at the inn.

Mrs. Ayres, 41, was the divorced wife of Ernest Ayres, former American professor, and mother of three children. Her home was in West Haven, Conn., 46, lived in West Hartford.

Bodies Found.
The bodies were found by the manager of the inn, who broke down the door of the room after efforts to get an answer from the couple failed.

The tragedy climaxed an infatuation which had brought a proposal of marriage from Gaylord, who wanted to divorce his wife. Letters from Mrs. Ayres from Gaylord indicated she had refused to marry him, she was advertising head of the Berger Brothers Corset factory in New Haven.

Mrs. Ayres and Gaylord registered at the inn Monday night as Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gray of New Haven.

FAVORS A. W. S.
Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of women, expressed herself as favoring the proposed organization of women students Wednesday. In her opinion a club that would take in all of the clubs on the campus as well as those women students who are not in any of the clubs, is needed.

She pointed out that an organization of the type of the Association of Women Students, is a great help to all the clubs on the campus. The Association can be depended on to back all of the clubs in their work, such as the sponsoring of plays, teas or dances.

To Be Centralized.
"The new club will not be a federation, but an entire association of women. Its power will lie in its centralization. Its work will be official. A good slogan for it would be 'Association of Women back of every woman's organization on the campus.'"

The club was proposed at yesterday's convocation and its proposed constitution printed in this week's Terrador.

INSTRUCTOR ILL.
James T. Shaver, associate professor of education, has gone to the

CARTER-HOUSTON
A SUNSET
DEPARTMENT STORE

13th Street and Avenue J

Discusses Quality and Service

The governing ideal of Carter-Houston shall always be to so conduct our store that it will deserve, win, and hold the ever increasing confidence, good will, and patronage of the public.

To gain and hold your trade we know that we must render a very definite form of service.

Service must start with the building of the store, the buying of the merchandise, the hiring of the help, the courteous showing of merchandise, the selling and prompt delivery.

In the new Carter-Houston Department Store you will find service that began months ago and will continue and improve through the years.

You will find a service that does not end until the customer is fully and completely satisfied.

You will find a service that will inspire you to trust on sight every piece of merchandise that we offer, every statement that we make, every promise we give, and every price we name.

Carter-Houston believes that the real bargain is quality merchandise.

Quality is a short word—just seven letters—but it is the all important factor to consider in the production and sale of merchandise.

Low price does not always mean good value. In any purchase it is the quality of the goods which underlies real and lasting satisfaction. From the purchaser's point of view, price is the first and great consideration. "How Much?" is the natural response to an arisen desire to acquire. But the failure to consider "how good" may mean the saving of a few cents at the loss of several dollars.

"Good value" can only mean merchandise in prices as low as a consistent quality standard can permit.

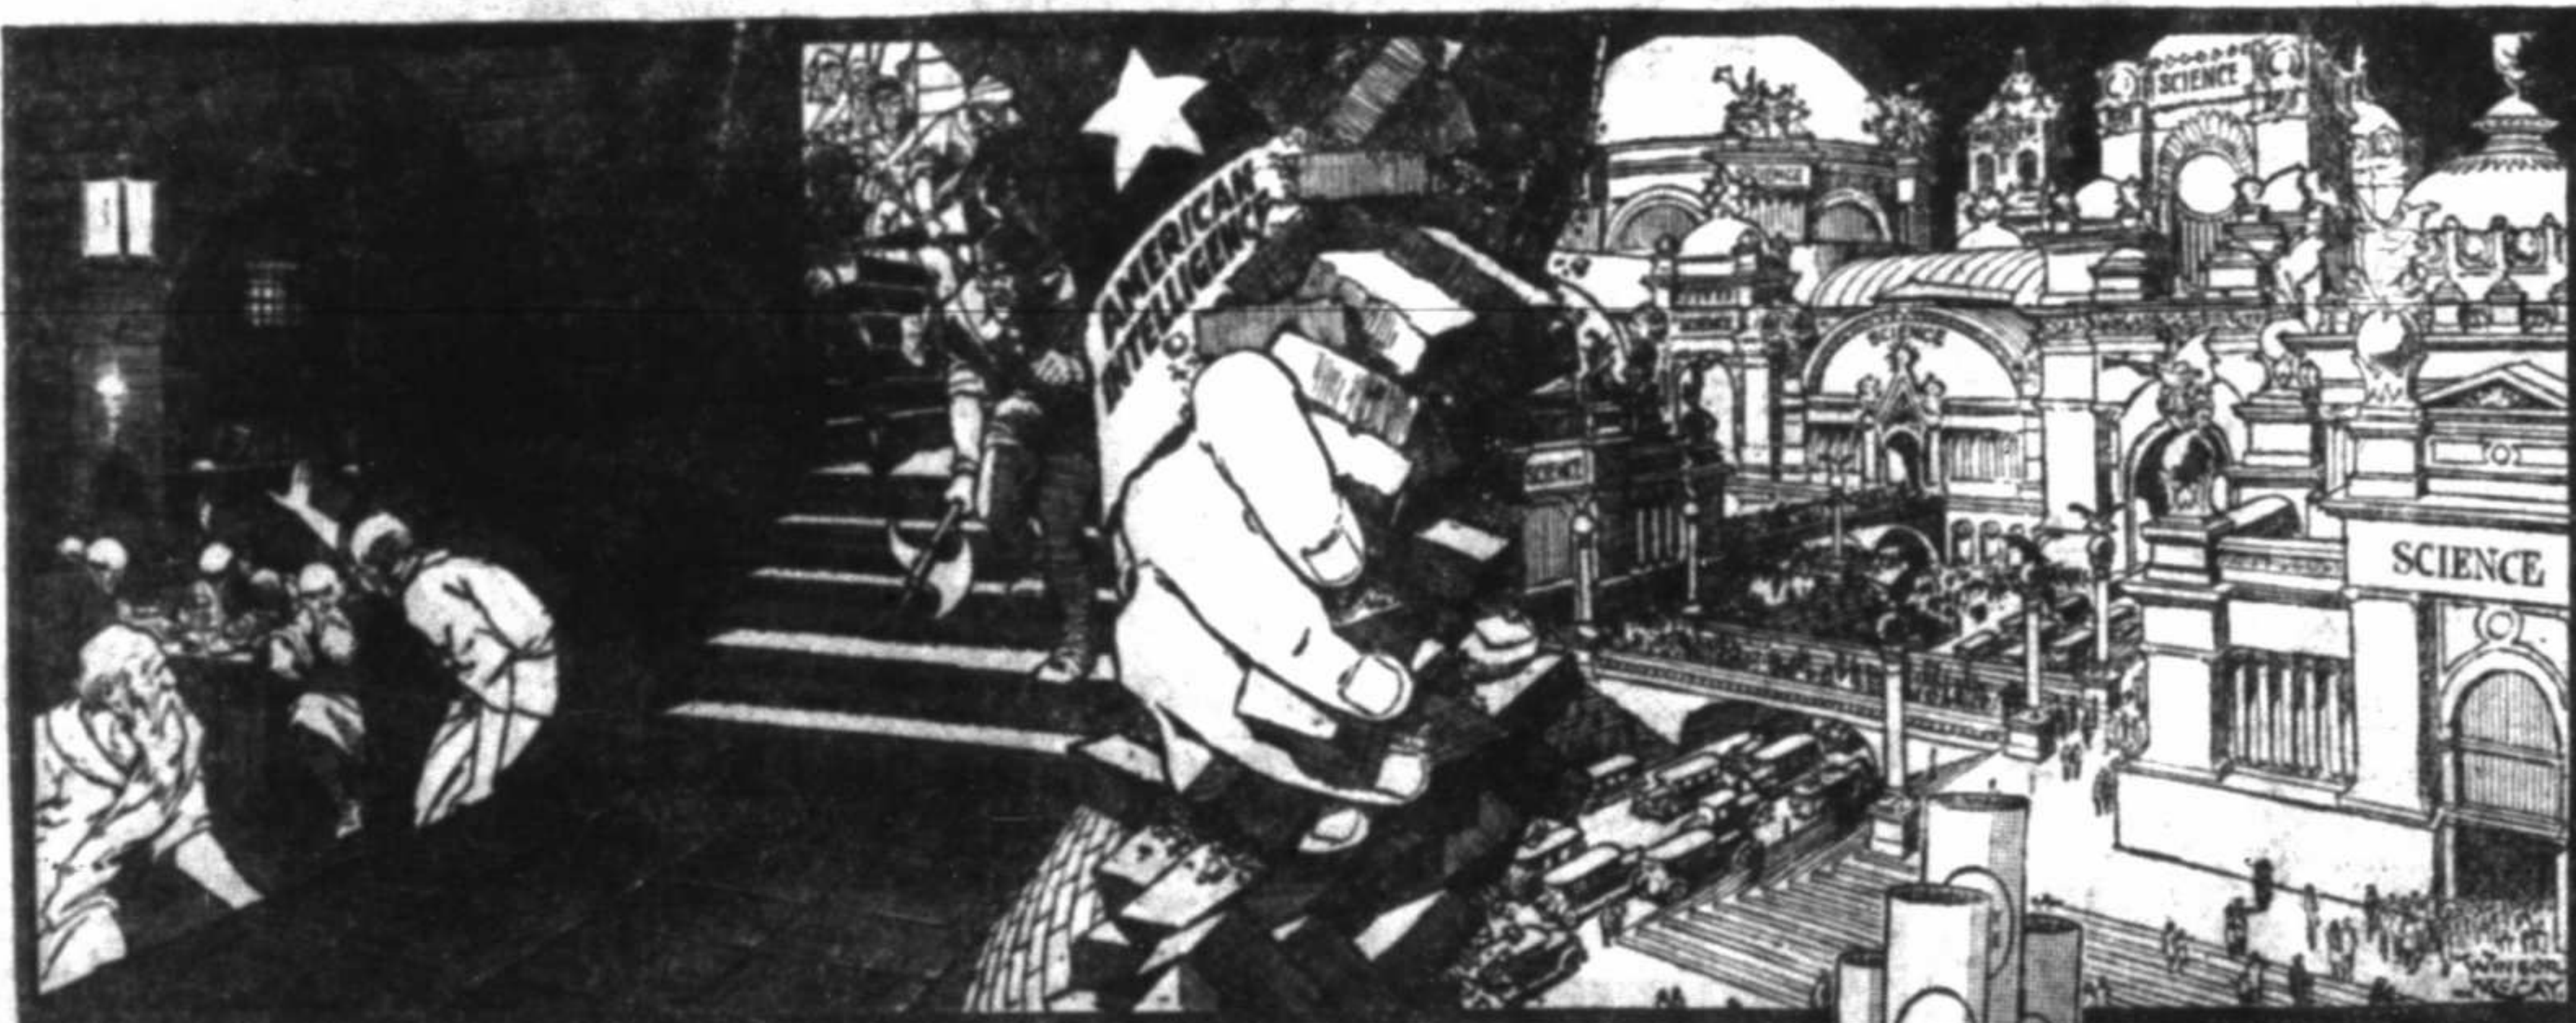

These two things—service and quality—will be considered first at Carter-Houston's. Add to that the buying capacity that allows us to buy under the market, and an outlet that allows us to take smaller profits, depending on quicker turn over for our dividends, and with these three things you have the necessities of a high class department store.

These are the policies on which Carter-Houston is founded and they are the policies that will prevail. We have confidence in our ability to carry out these policies to the letter.

No More "Iron Maidens"!

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Never again need scientific research grope in darkened cellars behind doors bolted against torture. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has swept before it the ignorant barrier which stupidly impeded men of genius and science marches proudly on.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

MEASURES OPPOSED

Universal Conscription Is Voted Down By Labor

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 16. (P.)—Without dissent or debate the convention of the American Federation of Labor today expressed its opposition to measures pending before congress for universal conscription in time of war.

It adopted a committee report declaring it to be "essential as an evidence of good faith to the world that the American people shall, at least for the present, refrain from warlike preparations in the enactment of legislation."

Conscription of labor in war time, it added, would mean that "trade unions would be dissolved."

'STATE RESTS CASE

LAMAR, Colo., Oct. 16. (P.)—The state rested its case against How-land L. Royston, second of the five-able gang to face a Poudre county jury on a charge of first degree murder, five minutes after court convened today and Byron G. Rogers of defense counsel, announced to the court he was willing to let the case go to the jury without argument. He offered no testimony.

Resumption Of Army-Navy Football Relations Likely

Chairman Of House Naval Committee Urges Superintendents To Meet And Arrange Post Season Game At Chicago

President Hoover Shows Keen Interest In Restoration Of Football Relations Between West Point And Annapolis; Would Amend Rules

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—Hopes for the resumption of the annual Army-Navy football classic were revived somewhat today after Chairman Britten, of the house naval committee, urged President Hoover to insist that athletic relations between West Point and Annapolis be restored and a game played this year.

Britten suggested that Secretaries Good and Adams call the superintendents of the academies together with an impartial authority on football regulations to adopt a set of rules on eligibility of players—the center of the controversy for more than two years. The annual game hereafter would be played according to the rules adopted.

Want Neutral Ground. To avoid a game this year in the home territory of either institution Britten proposed that a neutral location be used, preferably Soldiers Field, in Chicago. He named December 6, as a post-season date which both teams have open, and said every facility would be made available at Chicago for the teams and student bodies.

Britten said the president, who recently expressed the hope the teams would resume their yearly tilt, showed keen interest in the suggestion. He predicted the game would be played this year at Chicago, where the famous 21-21 tie in 1926 was fought by the service institutions before more than 100,000 persons.

Secretaries Good and Adams discussed bringing Major General W. B. Smith, superintendent at West Point, and Rear Admiral S. S. Robinson, superintendent at Annapolis, together in the hope that an agreement could be reached. However, they have taken the stand that would not force the teams to play unless an agreement is reached between the superintendents.

The Philadelphia gentlemen who lost 18 tickets to the World series and got them back through a "leak" and found, as doubtless believes in Santa Claus.

And the man who found the ducks and returned them evidently believes in a hereafter.

One of the unsung heroes of the 1929 Athletics, so the papers say, is Frank (Home Run) Baker, the fellow who discovered baby-faced Jimmy Foxx over in eastern Maryland and sent him to the A's.

They also say that Thomas, in company with Mrs. Thomas, witnessed the Cubs in every game during the final two weeks of the season, diagramming in detail the weaknesses of the Bruins for Connie Mack.

Guess the Mrs. must have gone along to determine whether or not Messrs. Hornsby, Wilson, Cuyler and Stephenson had any sock appeal.

The Yale president informs us that the Eli eleven certainly didn't travel 1,500 miles to Georgia just to play a football game. He said it merely was a good-will trip to assist in the dedication of Georgia's new stadium.

And how those Bulldogs assisted.

Indian Quarterback Runs 200 Yards For Winning Touchdown

By NEA Service. NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 16.—A 200-yard run for a touchdown by an Indian quarterback, Kelly, playing with the Texas A. & M. eleven in 1927, stands out as one of the most thrilling, yet comic pieces of grid action in football records.

Like most Indian players, Kelly was a colorful athlete, but in this particular game at Baton Rouge he exceeded by far the expectations of the fans. His famous run produced the winning touchdown.

Texas A. & M. and Louisiana State were the principles of the contest. Kelly called his own signal to carry the ball, which at that time was on his own 45-yard line, near the sideline. He swept around and on the short side, but found his way blocked. He cut off from his interference and twisted and dodged through a pack of Louisiana tacklers to the opposite side of the field. Again he changed his mind when a would-be tackler seemed about to head him off. Four times across the field the Indian raced through his bewildered teammates and his determined foe. He side-stepped, twisted, dodged, and beat off tacklers with a straight arm. Because they were unable to tell where he was going next, Kelly's own mates could help him but little. They blocked here and there and cut down a few men.

Tech Gridsters Work On Attack For Indian Tilt

Matadors Flash New Plays In Scrimmage Wednesday Against Frosh Gridmen; Squad Leaves Friday

A continued assault against the freshman football forces held the center of the stage again Wednesday on the Tech athletic field as the Matadors held their first practice session of the year behind closed gates.

Taking this opportunity to put in valuable time, the Tech mentors sent their charges out to battle the first year gridmen with a full category of new plays which will be employed in the invasion of the McMurry Indians at Abilene Saturday.

An unmistakable spirit of optimism was prevalent in the Tech camp yesterday as the scarlet-clad warriors snapped into action with a vim that indicates that nothing short of an overwhelming victory is anticipated when the stronghold of the Redskins is visited Saturday.

The fact that the Methodists have never suffered defeat on their home field adds further weight to the seriousness of the task at hand for the Matadors. With their field dedicated to the memory of a fallen comrade, the Indians will be fighting to the last ditch to protect their goal line.

Coaches Higginbotham and Payne will leave here with the squad shortly after noon Friday for Abilene. With one exception, the Matadors are in the best of condition for their battle with the Tribe. Calvin Swift, center, has been out this week with an injured leg and is not likely to see action in Saturday's tussle. Another pivot man, Jones, is being groomed to step in Durham's shoes in case the starting center is forced to retire.

Yesterday's starting backfield of Green at quarter, Walker and Hodges at halves and Woodbridge at fullback looms as the most likely combination to open the fireworks Saturday.

Hodges will be playing before his home town fans and is expected to give a good account of himself. A large number of local grid fans will accompany the Matadors to Abilene for Saturday's encounter.

The squad of sixty-five Tech freshmen football candidates will be divided into two groups this afternoon. Coach Rhodes Ingerton holds his first regulation football games between squad members.

Beginning at 4:30 the Picadors will tangle up in the regulation encounter which was scheduled for last Saturday.

Lamesa Band Will Compete At Fair

(Special To The Avalanche) LAMESA, Oct. 16.—According to Conway King, local director of the band in the state contest at the State Fair at Dallas, October 20, King says the band is in the very best competing condition and is built around the nucleus of the state band winning at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Amarillo three years ago.

King has directed the local band for the past two years, coming to Lamesa for this position from Weatherford. He is well known among band directors of the state. King states the state band contest will not take place in connection with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at El Paso but officials of the state organization decided to hold it at Dallas this year as a single feature.

Cardinal Giant Goes Up And Over After His Man

After all, there's nothing like a football game for real action and thrills. Fans who saw Pop Warner's 1929 eleven win from the Olympic Club team 6 to 0, witnessed a freak bit of tackling by Herb Fleishacker, giant Stanford halfback. The Cardinal husky made a desperate dive over the sprawling form of an interference runner to bring down Morton Kaer, former All-American halfback on the Olympic Club team after he had received a punt. A disruntled Cardinal is shown on the ground at the right.

Gotham Is Agog As Winter League Season Opens Up

Yanks In Spotlight Pending Appointment Of Successor To Huggins; Jints Seek Hughie Critz

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP)—The end of the world series failed to close the baseball season on Forty-second street where the Giants and the Yankees already are in the beginning of what promises to be an active winter league season. The Yanks at the moment are in the spotlight because of the impending appointment of a successor to Miller Huggins. But John McGraw's forces are gaining attention through the possibility of acquiring Hughie Critz from Cincinnati.

By a process of elimination, Arthur Fletcher, the former Giant shortstop and present coach of the Yankees, was agreed upon almost unanimously by volunteer guessers, but the feeling prevailed in other quarters that Colonel Ruppert was ready to pull a "Connie Mack" on the boys. The fact that Dan Howley already has been signed by Cincinnati, that Eddie Collins apparently is lukewarm toward the proposition and that Bob Connery is well fixed in St. Paul gives strength to Fletcher's chances.

As for Critz and the Giants, John McGraw admittedly would be glad to get the Cincinnati marvel for any price short of a "whole ball team," which is what Dan Howley doubtless will demand. Sidney Weil, new owner of the Reds, named Critz the other day as one of the men his club would not trade in the building up campaign which was launched today with the acquisition of Harry Heilmann.

The sale of Andy Cohen to the Newark Bears today indicates that McGraw has a deal for a new second baseman under way. The Giants could afford to part with Benton and Reese to get Critz, but Howley probably would demand Hogan and Leach in addition. This, McGraw hints, would be far too much. The Giant's chieftain also is silent regarding his willingness, or lack of it, to include Benton in such a trade.

Longhorns Point To Tilt Saturday With Sooner Crew

Texas Eleven Facing Hardest Game Of Season With Oklahoma University At Dallas This Week

(Special To The Avalanche) AUSTIN, Oct. 16.—With three successive wins tucked neatly under their blankets, the University of Texas Longhorns are pointing this week to the hardest game on their schedule—Oklahoma University at the Fair Park Stadium, Dallas. The game will be played Saturday before an overcrowded stadium of 20,000 football-mad fans.

Texas' eleven returned from Arkansas where they won their first conference game in high spirits and in good condition. The game was the making of the Longhorn team, ardent sport followers said. It gave the greens just the needed bit of confidence which will send them through to a successful season.

Oklahoma is touted as the greatest team in the Missouri Valley conference. Certainly they lack none in experience with their seventeen lettermen in uniforms. Certainly their backfield is great, because Tom Churchill, all-conference back last year, was shifted to the line because of the wealth of material. And the line is now described as the greatest in Oklahoma history.

Have Full Strength Texas will have its full strength for the first time of the season Saturday. Nick Gatours, husky young Austin giant, will return to guard with a healed ankle. Captain Brown, who has been hampered with an injured hand, will be in pink of condition.

Both teams are expected to rely largely on their great passing attacks. Texas proved that her overhead game was perhaps the greatest in University history Saturday against the Pipers. The Sooners always have a great passing team.

Especially great was the play of Claude Meadows of Waco, Wilson Elkins of San Antonio and Milton Perkins of Bastrop in the Texas backfield last Saturday. These boys, coupled with the regular punch givers in the first line, give Clyde Littlefield a world of confidence as he takes on his highly touted inter-sectional foes this week.

Six hundred new roads are being constructed in Belgium.

COACHES EYE BROTHER Two coaches are watching with interest the work of a youth who is trying for a backfield position on New York University's football team this fall. The two are Stafford and Jack Connor, and the backfield candidate is their younger brother, Vic.

Bank Deposits At Plainview Boosted

Three-Quarters Of Million Dollars Increase Shown Over Total Of One Year Ago; Wheat Is Cause

(Special To The Avalanche) PLAINVIEW, Oct. 16.—Deposits in the three Plainview banks have increased nearly three quarters of a million dollars over the deposits of a year ago. The total deposits in Plainview banks is $4,107,868.57. A year ago the deposits were $3,372,221.21, showing an exact increase of $735,647.36.

The bulk of this increase is in money resulting from the wheat crop, the cotton crop and the feed crop, which is below normal, having scarcely started to move.

Compared with earlier estimates of cotton the feeling of many well posted men now is more optimistic. Weather conditions have been ideal for maturing the crop. It appears from estimates from varied sources that this year's earnings in Hale county will run 25 per cent or more below last year's when approximately 22,000 bales were ginned.

FORWARD ACCEPTANCE French Government Will Be Represented At Meet

PARIS, Oct. 16. (AP)—The French government today forwarded its acceptance to London of the British government's invitation to join in a naval conference in London in January.

France will emphasize her willingness to participate in the conference because she believes it will prepare and facilitate the work of the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva and lead to a general conference on all armaments.

It is understood the text will add that France on various occasions made clear the French attitude on questions likely to figure on the agenda of the London conference.

UNIQUE TURF RECORD Only once in history has the Belmont Park Turfity been captured three times in succession by the same trainer. Colin, Maskette and Sweep, owned by the late James R. Keene, were victorious in 1907, 1908 and 1909, respectively.

In the State of Sao Paulo, Brazil, there are 11,000,000 banana plants.

Utah Grid Sage

Utah Grid Sage

Out in the Rocky Mountain conference where men are men and football champions are the Utah Utes, they have a lot of respect for the coaching ability of Ike Armstrong, above, University of Utah mentor, in his fourth season as chief of the Redskins. The reason is that Armstrong produces teams that have won 22 of 23 conference games, winning outright two Rocky Mountain championships and taking second once. Twelve lettermen from last year's championship team are on the Ute squad again this year. Armstrong, who was an assistant football coach at Drake University before coming to Utah, believes his 1929 group will cop another championship.

Minister Visits Labor Convention

MacDonald Gives Interview At Session Of American Federation Of Labor In Toronto, Canada

TORONTO, Oct. 16. (P)—A visit to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in session here was the first engagement today for J. Ramsay MacDonald, British premier. With his daughter, Isabel, he arrived here yesterday from Niagara Falls for a stay of one day on their way to Ottawa.

In an interview, Mr. MacDonald emphasized the point that no "theatrical announcements" should be expected as a result of his visit to the United States. His informal discussions with President Hoover, he said had created a proper atmosphere in which to conduct future negotiations.

Thousands were gathered at the station to greet them and cheered the prime minister as he made his way from the train to a motorcar. Before boarding the train, the MacDonalds spent several hours viewing Niagara Falls from various vantage points and made a trip on the small steamer, Maid of the Mist. They also inspected a hydro-electric plant at the falls.

Innocent Cheat

was by no means an easy thing to do.

"I'd like to fall in love with you,"

Then he paused.

"And?" Shalimar invited.

"I don't think you're worth it."

With your easy talk of divorce and alimony, but I don't think it ever would come to marriage. I'm too poor for that."

Shalimar's face suddenly became blank. She sat back and stared at him.

"Just what," she asked, "are you proposing to me?"

PRIESTESS JAILED

Official Of Religious Cult Held For Theft

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16. (P)—

Mrs. May Otis Blackburn, high priestess of "The Divine Order of the Royal Arm of the Great Elemen," was held in jail today in default of $70,000 bail for trial in superior court on twelve counts of grand theft brought by Clifford Dahney, wealthy oil operator and former member of the religious cult.

The cult came under fire of city and county authorities recently when Dahney filed charges that Mrs.

Blackburn and her daughter snatched him of nearly $40,000 for publication of "The Sixth Seal," a cult book under preparation, which they asserted would reveal all the secrets of nature, including the location of precious minerals.

"I Feel Like I Have A New Life Before Me," Says Woman

Mrs. Taylor Says She Suffered 30 Years When She Began Taking Orgatone —Now Feels Better In Every Way

"I am simply feeling so improved as far as my health is concerned, that I feel like I have a new life before me, since taking Orgatone," said Mrs. A. E. Taylor, residing at 1904 Jackson St., Amarillo, Texas. In her statement to the Orgatone representative.

"Yes, sir, I am feeling like a different woman and I want everybody to know it," continued Mrs. Taylor. "I have suffered with a badly disordered stomach and constipation for thirty years and one bottle of Orgatone has done me more real genuine good than anything else I have ever tried. I guess I ought to know real medicine when I have tried it as I certainly have taken enough of it in my years of illness."

"I had been suffering for so many years with a very bad stomach and other troubles, and my condition had become wretched. After meals gas would form and bloat me up until I would get so miserable and dizzy at times I could hardly stand on my feet. I lost all desire for food of any kind and the little I did eat caused me constant misery in my stomach and I lost energy and all interest in everything."

"I tried most every kind of medicine and did everything I know how to do trying to get relief, but I kept getting worse all the time. "Orgatone has completely changed life around for me and I just can't find words to express my gratitude for it. I have been relieved of those terrible bloating spells and those sickening bilious attacks have left me as well as my constipation. My appetite is better now and I can eat as much as I ever could and I relish my meals. I wish I could have the opportunity to personally thank the maker of Orgatone for placing this wonderful medicine in reach of suffering people."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowen's Drug Store. Adv.

Cotton Declines; Stock Prices Break

Opening Advances Followed By Drop In Cotton Values

Renewal Of Southern Sales And Liquidation Causes Downward Trend Late In Market Wednesday

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP)—An opening advance promoted by unfavorable features in the weekly report of the weather bureau and relatively steady Liverpool cables was followed by declines under a renewal of southern selling and liquidation in cotton here today. Prices made new lows for the movement, December selling off from 18.27 to 18.11 and closing at 18.12 compared with 18.19 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed easy at net declines of 3 to 9 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points with October contracts selling up to 18.18 and March to 18.64 during the early trading on trade buying and covering.

Declines Late
Lowest prices were reached in the late trading when new October contracts sold at 18.01 and March at 18.50 or 4 to 9 points lower.

At the close December was 66 points below May compared with a difference of 68 points at the close of the previous day.

Liverpool cables said there had been covering and continental buying and that hedge selling in that market but that sales of cotton cloths were disappointing with buyers cautious.

Exports today, 27,692 making 1,432,809 so far this season. Port receipts 79,915. U. S. port stocks 1,859,788.

Cotton Reacts After Advance

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16. (AP)—Following an early advance cotton reacted late today due to lack of sustaining support, freer offerings and large crop movement. December contracts, which had sold up to 18.18, eased and closed at 18.03, or 6 points net down. The general market closed steady at net declines of 3 to 7 points.

The market opened steady in response to relatively higher Liverpool cables. Initial trades showed advances of 3 points and the market advanced to 18.12 by 10:30 a. m. January hit 18.29 and March 18.24 or 9 points over yesterday's close.

Wheat Values In Break Wednesday

Wheat Traders Unnerved By Unexpected Breaks When Scantiness Of European Demand Is Reported

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
CHICAGO, Oct. 16. (AP)—Unnerved by unexpected breaks in wheat values in Liverpool and Buenos Aires and by persistent, scantiness of European demand, wheat traders here became heavy sellers today.

Chicago prices for wheat collapsed to the lowest level reached since July 10. It was estimated that stocks of wheat at European ports now, totaling 40,000,000 bushels. Trans-Atlantic buying of North American wheat today for ocean shipment amounted to 200,000 bushels.

Close Shaky
Chicago wheat closed shaky, 3 7/8 to 4 1/4 bushels lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1 1/2 to 1 7/8 down, oats 7/8 to 1 1/4 up, and provisions ranging from 17c down to a rise of 2c.

A big share of the severe selling pressure, which developed today in the wheat market here came from holders of future delivery contracts who on a large scale were letting go in order to put a stop to losses.

rounded out and citizens here confidently expected the county to be back under civil law by the end of the week.

Charges To Remain
Ranger Charles T. Wickman, who arrived here today said the rangers, or some of them at least, would remain in Hutchinson county after the troops depart to assist the new peace officers in getting acquainted with their problems.

An unexpected was announced today when Calhoun told reporters that John Hutton White, representative from this district, had notified Governor Moody that he was leaving the legislature and asking the Governor to call a special election to fill the vacancy.

White, in his resignation, emphasized the statement that his resignation had nothing to do with the acute political situation here before the assassination of District Attorney John A. Holmes, the overt act which brought troops on the trail of the criminal ring.

White said that he resigned because the position reduced his income and because he had never been in sympathy with the state administration. He indicated that he might become a candidate for state senator if Clint C. Small, of Wellington, present senator from this district resigned.

Rotarians From Panhandle-Plains Gather Here In Program And Feed

mous in their praises of the affair. Singing Is Feature

After Dr. Joseph A. Hill, Canyon, president of the West Texas State Teachers' college, pronounced the invocation and the crowd joined in singing "America," the barbed wire, chicken, salad, boiled eggs and other "fixins" were served. Immediately following the banquet the program was called with President Group singing, led by Dr. James Marcus Gordon, dean of the school of Liberal Arts at Texas Tech, during which special numbers were sung by J. Ed McLaughlin, president of the Dallas club, and Bernard Bryant, Stamford, 41st District governor, was featured after which the Dallas club, with 24 out of a total membership of 25 on hand for the occasion, rendered a song selection.

Wright Is Praised
Neil H. Wright, for the past three years chairman of the Lubbock club's Inter-City Relations committee and "daddy" of almost a dozen younger clubs in the territory, made a few remarks, in which he stressed friendship and fellowship which emanates from Rotary organizations. Widely known among 41st District Rotarians and a former president of the Lubbock Club, Mr. Wright, at the conclusion of his remarks, was urged as the 1930 District Governor by Governor Link of Spur, in attendance at the session.

Praising the Lubbock club for its remarkable attendance record and its work in forming new clubs in this section, District Governor Bryant characterized the organization here as "not only an out-standing club of the 41st district but, for its size, one of the outstanding clubs of Rotary International, now represented in 33 nations over the globe."

He also pointed out the Amarillo, Fort, and Crosby clubs as outstanding and urged attendance at the annual conference of 41st District clubs, scheduled next spring at Temple. He stressed the Sixth Objective of Rotary International, dealing with world peace and international relations; closer cooperation between employers and employees; boys' work and cooperation between urban centers with their rural territories.

Chorus Is Applauded
With Wallace W. Rix at the piano a mixed chorus composed of six ladies and four men, rendered two enthusiastically received musical selections. Included in the chorus were: Medadene, Homer D. Grant, R. L. McKnight, G. N. Atkinson, Carl Scoggin, Harry Blocker, and J. T. Shaver; Messrs. Edgar Immon, Carroll J. Atchison, Edgar Shelton, and Harry Blocker. The renditions were praised by later speakers, and by George Link, former Spur club president, in particular, who described it as being "heavenly."

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Paul W. Horn, Lubbock, president of Texas Technological college, whose writings in the magazine of Rotary International have brought world attention to himself and to the Lubbock club. Drawing a parallel between the recent World Baseball series and the work of Rotarians, he said in West Texas, Doctor Horn took the stand that the spirit of the Philadelphians was identical with that of West Texas, who "refuse to quit even in the face of almost insurmountable odds."

He characterized the club as "Cornelius MacGillivuddy," Philadelphia manager, as a real Rotarian, because he gets the best from his players. The noted educator also counseled his hearers to practice the club's relations and to work out that "there is no reason for jealousy among West Texas cities because where you live is the best town for you—where I live is the best town for me."

After generous applause had been accorded Doctor Horn's remarks, Chairman Wright called upon representatives of each club present to make a few remarks dealing with the work of their individual organizations. Speakers called upon, and their clubs, were as follows:

Speakers Are Listed
Guy Saunders, Amarillo; Dr. Joseph A. Hill, Canyon; George Link, Spur; Judge R. E. L. Kinder, Plainview; Ed McLaughlin, Dallas; Judge William Walker, Crosbyton; Joe McGowan, Brownfield; Robert Sone, Floydada; Artie Baker, Lockney; Judge Jake Mabe, Levelland; Jess Hillard, Dalhart; L. A. Wilson, Slaton; and Roy Holland, Post.

The Rally club, with 22 of 24 members present, led in attendance, followed by Plainview, with 20, Slaton with 18 and Littlefield with 15 out of a membership of 23. Others represented with the numbers present, were:

Canyon, 10; Amarillo, 4; Brownfield, 9; Spur, 10; Floydada, 4; Lockney, 3; Levelland, 10; Crosbyton, 8; Post and Stamford, one each, and Lubbock, 6. Of the Rotary clubs in this area only Pampa, Sweetwater and Carlsbad, New Mexico, were not represented.

Close After Eleven
At the close of the remarks on the part of visitors Chairman Wright closed by stressing the value of the meeting. President Clements followed suit. The meeting closed shortly after 11 o'clock.

Particular credit for the success of the evening was given to Walter A. Myrick, Jr., and members of his committee on arrangements. In addition to Rotarians active in the

Deluge Of Sales Cause Of Drastic Stocks Decrease

Prices Drop To One Of Lowest Levels Of Year In Secondary Reaction In Wednesday Session

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 16. (AP)—The secondary reaction in preparation for which Wall Street has been shortening its sales, broke over the stock market with a deluge of selling in the last hour of trading today, and sent prices into one of the most precipitous declines of the year.

Bears took advantage of demoralizing industrial news, including sharp declines in steel mill operations and total loadings of revenue freight, to launch an attack which sent traders long of stock into hurried retreat and uncovered stock loss orders like strings of fire crackers.

Decline Severe
The decline was nearly as severe as that of October 3, which, measured by most price averages and indices, was the sharpest in recent stock market history. Utilities were hardest hit, and carried considerably below the levels reached in the further decline of October 4. Other shares generally failed to reach the low levels of that date by a few points.

The market was dull, as it had been previously this week, until the late selling wave, but that carried total sales to only 4,068,000 shares, compared to 7,473,000 on October 3, and 5,622,000 on October 4.

The motion of Homer B. Winston, Terry county judge to recommend that legislature pass a law in which salaries for county judges who are ex-officio county superintendents might be paid out of the school fund instead of the general fund was passed.

The committee appointed to draft resolutions was composed of Judge Dixie Kilgore, Dawson county; William McGeehee, Floyd county; and H. N. Holly, Scurry county. The by-laws and constitution committee was composed of Judge W. A. Graham, Swisher county, and Commissioner G. W. Whitfield, Hale county.

Included are vocal solo, piano and organ numbers, readings and story telling. Mrs. Williams will sing two vocal solos, one being "Ho, Mr. Piper" by Curran. She is well known in musical circles in Lubbock, having appeared in a number of concerts during her stay in the city.

shortly after noon. He was taken off the circus train where he had been since arriving from Corpus Christi, led through the streets of Kennedy and then to the circus site, where he was exhibited for the last time.

Few Tears Shed
Few tears were shed as his former handlers led him "have it" with the machine gun. Several circus performers, however, who had known "Big Red Black Diamond" for several years, bade him farewell before he left the circus lot and there was a tear or two here and there.

The firing squad led loose the first burst of lead at 3:15 P. M. Black Diamond seemed stunned and stood still. Another round of shots and he rolled over slowly on his side but he was still alive. Another burst of bullets and then one shot into the brain and Black Diamond had reached the end of the sawdust trail.

method, one opposing any law that may be enacted that would place a further burden on the general fund of the county, and another favoring the employment of a contract man to represent this part of Texas before the highway department and in all other matters in which the association would be interested were adopted.

Ask Short Route.
Upon recommendation of Richard Dyess, former judge of Shackelford county, the association passed a resolution asking the State highway department to build the shortest and most practical route for State Highway No. 1 between Weatherford and Mineral Wells in the relocation and rebuilding of the road. Mr. Dyess pointed out that the hard-surfaced route directly west from Weatherford would divert traffic which, in case of good roads, might come over roads from the South Plains.

A motion, from the floor, was passed by the officials that the association meet semi-annually, April and September being designated as gathering months.

Program Committee.
Another floor motion which was passed recommended that the president, secretary, together with the board of directors, constitute a program committee.

Upon a motion by Commissioner J. T. Pinkston, of Slaton, passed by the association, the president of the body was authorized to name five members to compose an advisory board. Those appointed by Judge Dyess are Commissioner T. J. Yarr, of Lynn county; George W. Whitfield, of Hale county; E. W. Henderson, of Floyd county; John C. Day, of Scurry, and J. T. Pinkston, of Slaton.
