HOOVER BANK AID PROGRAM MEETS APPROVAL

Earnshaw Shuts Out Pepper Martin And Athletics Even Series Standing, 3-0

OKLAHOMA BOY GARNERS ONLY REDBIRD HITS

Diminutive Outfielder Has As Big a Time as His Teammates Flop

SEVEN GAMES SEEN

Connie Mack Up Against It For Pitchers but Gabby Street Isn't

By SID MERCER
Universal Service Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—Believe it or not you skeptics but the Athletics shut out Pepper Martin today in the fourth game of the world's series between the American league champions and the former Oklahoma drug store cowboy.

That makes it all even again in a four-game split and the heat worn camp followers are wearily contemplating another cross country dash to St. Louis to find out the correct answer in the back of the book. It looks as if it may go to the seventh game.

The score today was 3 to 0 because the Pepper Kid was twice basely deserted by his St. Louis boy friends after making the only two hits yielded by big George Earnshaw.

Triumph for Martin

They left him flat on second base with the tying run in the fifth inning and abandoned him at the same station after he had doubled in the eighth. Even so, the game was almost as much of a personal triumph for Martin as for Earnshaw. He made another brazen steal on Mickey Cochrane and his two hits ran his series total up to nine. He needs only three more to tie the record.

It was the turn of the Cardinals to sweat and strain for base hits this afternoon and they were a complete bust except for Martin. Earnshaw's great effort calls for more superlatives than were showered on Burleigh Grimes yesterday.

Only One Walk

Big George trumped the Grimes lead by holding the Cards to Martain's double and single and adding a coat of whitewash. He walked

Physicians Fear Edison Is Weaker Despite Fight

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 6. (UP)—Harvey Firestone, summer vacation crony of Thomas A. Edison, visited the Edison home today seeking to have what may be the last chat he will ever hold with his friend.

Despite the sturdy resistance of Edison to the disease that is slowly weakening him, physicians today indicated their belief that he is sinking and that his death may be merely a matter of days.

The afternoon bulletin on his condition, issued at 5:30 p. m., by Charles Edison, said:

"Mr. Edison has not wanted to sit up so much today, and has slept more than usual in his bed. His breathing and pulse indicate that it is a natural sleep.

JURY TO TRY CAPONE PICKED

Rural Atmosphere Given Income Tax Case

By DAMON RUNYON
(Copyt., 1931, by Universal Service, Inc.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—A fragrant whiff of green fields, and growing rutabagas, and parsnips, along with echoes of good old Main street, crept into the grime stained federal building here today as your Uncle Sam took up the case of Al Capone, and gathered a jury in what you might call jig-time.

It is a jury made up mainly of small towners, and Mr. Michael J. Ahern, chief counsel for Al Capone, frankly admitted dissatisfaction to the court about it.

He said it struck him as very strange that so many citizens who had served on petit and grand juries in the past three years had been collected on this panel. He suggested that it might be more than coincidence.

He wanted all these persons dismissed, but Judge James H. Wilkerson overruled his motion, the jury was sworn in with nine veterans of courtroom jabber among the 12 good men and true, and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock the government of these United States starts work on Al Capone.

The truly rural atmosphere of the proceedings today in the matter of the veniremen was a distinct shock to one-half expecting to sniff a sour odor of drifting gun smoke and to see sinister looking beezarks with

Morrow Services Set Today

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., Oct. 6. (AP)—Unpretentious dignity will characterize funeral services tomorrow for Senator Dwight W. Morrow in the First Presbyterian church, where the family has worshipped 26 years.

President Hoover will be unable to leave Washington to pay tribute to his friend and adviser, but will be represented by Vice President Curtis at the head of a congressional delegation.

The Rev. Carl R. Elmore, pastor of the church of which the senator was a member, will officiate. In line with the family's wishes for a simple service, there will be no honorary pallbearers.

Mrs. Anne Lindbergh, Morrow's daughter, and her husband, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who are in China sent a message of condolence, the contents of which were not revealed.

Their cablegram was one of hundreds of messages of sympathy. Former President Calvin Coolidge, a college chum, and Premier Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain were among those expressing sorrow.

A decision to bury Senator Morrow in Brookside cemetery in Englewood completed funeral arrangements.

A steady procession of automobiles and van loads of flowers, moved steadily up to the Morrow home today. Only the closest friends were permitted to enter.

BANK BANDITS ESCAPE AFTER RYAN HOLDUP

Employe Wounded by Accidental Discharge Of Pistol

LOOT TOTALS $3,000

Pair Flees in Car Stolen From Owner at Duncan

RYAN, Okla., Oct. 6. (UP)—Two bandits driving a Ford coupe stolen at Duncan held up the First National bank here this afternoon and escaped with $3,000.

A bank employe, Tom Hughes, who was talking over a telephone in the vault, unaware a robbery was in progress, was slightly wounded by the apparent accidental discharge of a nervous bandit's pistol.

Oliver Anderson, bookkeeper, was alone when the bandits, roughly dressed, entered, presented a check to be cashed and covered him with a pistol.

The older of the two bandits stepped behind the teller's cage.

Hughes walked out from the vault, surprising himself and the bandits.

"Say you turned in a burglar alarm didn't you?" asked one of the men.

"No, I didn't," Hughes replied.

"Well, get the money!"

Hughes, still dazed by the turn of affairs, started to get the cash for the bandits. One of the bandit's guns suddenly discharged apparently unintentionally.

The robbers fled.

Jefferson and Stephens county officers joined in the chase.

Stocks Regain Five Billions On Reports Of White House Parley

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Some $5,000,000,000 was restored to security values in Wall street today, as the stock market surged upward in the swiftest advance in recent financial history.

This was Wall street's response to news that leaders in financial, business and public life had been summoned to Washington to consider an aggressive program to check the vicious circle of deflation.

This sudden bulge in quoted values added more than 12 per cent to stature of shares listed on the New York stock exchange. The extent of this sudden restoration of quoted values is staggering. The figure approximates the total amount of currency in circulation in this country, and exceeds the total amount of our monetary gold. Furthermore, the estimate, based on price indices, is regarded as conservative.

In many quarters in Wall street, it had been felt the September decline, which had lopped more than $12,000,000,000 from quoted values in the stock market, was being carried on largely by hysteria, and today's about face was indicated as strong evidence of the soundness of that analysis.

The bond market, normally, more staid than stocks, recovered substantially in active trading. Leading commodities also joined the upturn. Cotton futures sold up more than $2 a bale, and closed with net gains of $1.55 to $1.75. Wheat and corn gained about 1½ to 2 cents a bushel.

The stock exchange authorities took further cognizance of the agitation for checking short selling by ordering members to label all short

SUIT ATTACKS OIL SHUTDOWN IN OKLAHOMA

Producer Seeks Injunction Against Military Lid On Wells

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6. (UP)—The first attempt of any petroleum producer to break Gov. William H. Murray's military shutdown of Oklahoma's flush oil fields was started late today in the United States district court here.

Frank Russell, president of the Russell Petroleum company, filed suits against the executive, Adj. Gen. Charles F. Barrett and Lieut. Col. Cicero I. Murray, enjoining them from preventing production in the vast Oklahoma City field.

Governor Murray declared martial law over the oil fields on Aug. 4, declaring he would curtail production in the state until crude petroleum purchasers raised their prices to $1 a barrel. The price now is at a top of 70 cents.

Violation Charged

Russell's petition alleged the governor violated the state and national constitutions when he ordered the shutdown.

"The governor superseded his rights in going over civil authority," the suit stated.

Russell, operator of two wells in the field and holding interests in 15 others, charged the shutdown had left him "almost penniless" because he could produce and sell no oil.

"The executive order," the suit declared, "superseded and in effect sets aside the proration order of the corporation commission and subordinates the civil authority to

Dallas Men Shot When Business Deal Flops

DALLAS, Oct. 6. (AP)—Failure of a proposed real estate transaction was blamed tonight for the shooting of two Dallas business men as they sat at their desks in the market district today.

Fulbright is chairman of the committee representing the National Industrial Traffic league and Whitford R. Cole, president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad company, is chairman of the committee representing the American Railway association.

The investment of highway funds in these warrants was ordered to help tide over a deficit in those state funds.

State to Slash Well Allowable For East Texas

AUSTIN, Oct. 6. (AP)—Gov. Ross S. Sterling said tonight he had assurances from members of the Texas railroad commission that the allowable in the East Texas field would be reduced from 185 barrels to 150 barrels per well within the next few days.

Governor Sterling said he understood the new order would be issued as soon as all members of the commission were in Austin, probably Friday.

R. D. Parker said there are approximately 2,200 producing wells in the field. That would make production in the field approximately 330,000 barrels daily. Late figures showed production recently had exceeded 400,000 barrels.

RUSSELL TELLS OF DUNDEE 'JOB'

Suspect Leads Officers to Bank Safe

Hunter Russell made a signed statement at Archer City Monday night admitting that he and three other men burglarized the First State bank at Dundee Jan. 16, according to information given The Record News Tuesday by O. M. Wylie, assistant district attorney at Archer City.

Hunter told authorities that the 5,000-pound safe, which was hauled away from the bank, was blown up with nitroglycerine, Mr. Wylie said. Sheriff Perry Browning and members of his department fished acetylene torches and other welding equipment from the Wichita river about five miles southwest of Wichita Falls Sunday.

It was at this spot, Hunter was quoted as saying, that the safe was blown up. A short time before the river was sounded for the welding equipment a safe combination, paper wrappings for currency and a five-cent piece were found in the vicinity.

Mr. Wylie said Russell, in telling of the Dundee robbery, admitted to about 30 or 40 other burglaries he had participated in.

Russell was brought to Archer City Monday night from Benjamin, where he had been convicted and given a two-year sentence on a burglary charge. He was taken to Cleburne Tuesday to face still another charge of burglary.

The bank lost about $1,000 in money and $10,000 in notes and bonds. Russell claimed in the statement that the notes and private papers were burned.

Kelly Hunt, who resides about five miles from Wichita Falls a short distance from the Seymour road, and Erwin Spicer, already under sentences totaling 10 years, also are charged in connection with the bank burglary. A fourth man, who is at large, is wanted on the same case. Spicer will enter a plea of guilty Wednesday to the Goree burglary, according to the Knox county sheriff at Benjamin.

PARTY LEADERS ASSURE AID OF NEXT CONGRESS

Three-Fold Plan Outlined In Dramatic Parley At White House

FUND BEING RAISED

Broader Rediscount Power For Federal Reserve System Urged

By FRASER EDWARDS
Universal Service Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—President Hoover in a dramatic and momentous conference at the White House tonight reached an agreement with Republican and Democratic leaders in congress on a program to aid the financial situation of the country.

It comprises assistance to the weaker banks of the nation, broader powers for the federal reserve board, and added funds for the federal land banks.

Congress to Help

Congress, the president was assured, will go along with the president on this program.

As to international affairs, no agreement was reached.

The program agreed upon includes:

1—Establishment of a federal corporation, similar to the war finance corporation to administer a revolving fund of $500,000,000 to aid the banks of the country.

This is contingent upon a proposition now being worked out. Banks of New York City, the president said, have agreed to raise the half billion dollar fund. Already they have raised $150,000,000 of this sum. They will administer this fund to bolster up the weaker banks throughout the land. Should, however, the action of the New York banking group be unable to meet the emergency, the federal corporation will be set up.

Rediscount Change

2—Amend the federal reserve act so as to give the federal reserve board broader powers in rediscounting paper. This will release funds for the banks and relieve much of their present difficulty.

3—Strengthen the federal land banks, which make loans to the farmers. While no set figure of the appropriation needed was fixed, it was estimated that $60,000,000 would be sufficient. This will give each of the federal land banks $5,000,000 for loans.

President Hoover also proposed that an agreement be made to secure united action on administration efforts to aid Europe.

On this, however, there was divided opinion. The conference decided it could make no agreement except on specific proposals.

The conference, which began at 9 o'clock, ended at midnight.

Hoover Pleased

As the members dispersed, President Hoover at once began preparing a lengthy statement. He appeared visibly pleased at the results obtained.

Before 16 senators and 16 representatives, the president frankly explained the financial situation and asked that politics be put aside and a unity of action taken on the constructive measures he outlined to aid the banking business of the nation.

It was made plain, however, that the president has no intention of calling congress in extra session.

On this point, however, members differed. Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, said:

"I do not think this is the proper way to proceed. Congress should be called into extra session at once to adopt any legislation necessary to meet the situation."

Watson Approves

Senator Watson, majority leader, expressed his satisfaction over the agreement reached.

Including the president, there were 37 men in the gathering.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Under-Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills, Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board, and Walter L. Newton, legislative secretary of the president, were gathered about the chief executive as he faced 16 senators and 16 representatives.

The conference opened in the

Wichita Trade Trippers Visit 800 Firms in First Good Will Tour

About 800 business concerns in towns of this area were visited Tuesday by members of the Wichita Falls manufacturers and jobbers division on the first of a series of contact trips in the trade territory.

Leaving here at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, five automobiles, each containing several members of the division, proceeded to one or more towns. Cities visited are Nocona, Belcherville, Bellevue, Henrietta, Olney, Archer City, Seymour, Dundee, Holliday, Mankins, Mabelle and Frederick.

Seventeen members of the manufacturers and jobbers division participated in the initial trip.

Although the various groups visiting towns of the section did not assemble on their return here early Tuesday night, it was reported by several of the trippers that Wichita Falls is looked upon in a very friendly attitude by most of the merchants and business men in the territory. The trippers, it was said, were received with the utmost of courtesy, and were on numerous instances given valuable suggestions and criticisms relative to Wichita Falls and the service rendered by the wholesaling and manufacturing interests here.

C. H. Thompson, chairman of the division, was enthusiastic concerning the value of the trips on his return here. He declared that he believed the undertaking of visiting business concerns over the entire section will prove to be one of the greatest aids to the development of Wichita Falls' manufacturing and

BOOTHS PREPARED FOR WICHITA COUNTY FAIR OPENING

NEW FEATURES MARK EXHIBIT

Grounds Ready for First Day Thursday

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Oct. 6.—Bunting, flags, strings of gaily twinkling lights announce the approaching third annual Wichita county fair which will open at Iowa Park formally Thursday morning.

The fair grounds are being sprinkled daily and all effort is being made to make this the most outstanding free show that has ever been staged in Wichita county.

A new feature of the fair will be the exhibit of calves bought by G. C. McGown, county agent, for the benefit of the members of the Boys Hegeri Growing club, who will feed them through the winter. Mr. McGowan purchased 10 hereford calves from Ed Foster of Sunshine Hill Monday and these, with other calves bought later, will stay on exhibit at the fair grounds through Saturday.

Community Exhibits

Community booth exhibits, another new feature of the 1931 fair, promise to be full of interest. Friberg got the first start in this contest when Ben Greer of that community, was on hand Monday getting things lined up for display. It has been stated that this new plan of bringing products of an entire community together for exhibit has created keen competition in other fairs and several surprises await those interested in agriculture in this section of the show.

The home demonstration display and the live-at-home exhibit, sponsored by the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce will occupy a specially prepared building. The growth of this department caused it to be moved from the regular woman's building, which it has occupied previously, and placed where necessary space is available. Miss Ethel Luise Webb, home demonstration agent, was on hand Monday supervising arrangements. Miss Webb was assisted by Mrs. C. C. Burrows, president of the Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration club. Miss Webb had with her two jars of watermelon syrup made of juice from ripe melons. One jar was from red melons and one from yellow fruit. This department will feature large exhibits, and more products. A special showing of watermelon cho-chow, preserves, pickles, and crystalized rinds for use in fruit cakes. Harding club, Burkburnett, will enter an exhibit of 74 cans, in competition with other demonstration clubs of the county.

Rug Display

Miss Webb requests that all entries in this department be placed by 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, Oct. 7, as all judging is planned to be completed Wednesday. Misses Vera Leggett of Vernon, and Audrey Hall of Henrietta, home demonstration agents of their respective counties, have been secured as judges.

Miss Webb stated that a special exhibit will show a variety of hemp rugs made from the natural hemp, showing each successive step in the making of the rug beginning with raw material and ending with the finished product. Hemp rugs can be made very attractive and the cost is nominal. Hence, this special effort to acquaint the public with this feature of the work.

Livestock Division

Earl Knox, general chairman of the livestock and agricultural department, is busy keeping in touch with each division. W. L. Hodges, Valley View; Ben Greer, Friberg; George Keith, Fred M. Gates and G. C. McGowan, of Wichita Falls, are lining up early in the interest of this part of the fair. H. R. Overbey, Iowa Park, chairman of the dairy department of the fair for the past two years, states that some unusually fine animals will be shown this year. Mr. Overbey attributes the increase of interest in this division to increased interest in dairying and the growing realization that the Wichita county fair is a permanent organization. Mr. Overbey states that almost every community in the county will be represented by some exhibitor of quality dairy cattle. Electra and Burkburnett will exhibit in groups and several prominent breeders of dairy and beef cattle will have several head each on exhibit.

Carnival attractions of the Tidwell shows, were in full swing Monday night, and many were enjoying their first appearance in town. For the past two years this company has furnished carnival attractions and the fair management has secured them for the third season with the confidence in the show they would offer. Seven rides are included in their program.

Murder of Oklahoma Police Chief Linked With Oilton Slayings

DEPEW, Okla., Oct. 6. (UP)—The body of Police Chief George Luckett was found in an alley behind a garage here today.

He had been shot to death. Sheriff Willis Strange said that evidence indicated the officer had struggled with an assailant. Death had been caused by a buckshot wound. Luckett's pistol and holster were missing.

The slaying added another chapter to an apparent outbreak of violence in Creek county. Sunday night a boy was slain and a bandit killed during an attempted robbery at Oilton.

Killings Connected

Deputy Sheriff Herb Christie, Drumwright, came here to assist in the investigation and, although he declined to say whether the Luckett shooting had any connection with the Oilton shootings, it was believed Luckett was shot by a man he attempted to question in the Oilton case.

A. C. Fox, garageman who lives across the street from the place Luckett was slain, said he heard a shot about 3 a. m. but did not investigate. The officer's body was not found until several hours later.

Probe Pushed

Meanwhile, search continued for the bandit who fled after he and his companion, Elmer Higgins, alias Elmer Reed, attempted to rob Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Butler at Oilton. Higgins was slain by the druggist after the bandit had shot the druggist's son to death. Mrs. Butler was wounded.

Police continued to hold for investigation two of three persons arrested shortly after the shooting. Mrs. Leo Hevener was released from the Drumright jail but Mrs. Lula Alford and Hevener were held. Officers said they were not held in the Butler robbery, however. Higgin's body was held at Oilton for possible identification by Sedan, Kan., officers who said he might have been connected with recent Kansas bank robberies.

Cotton School Land Lessees Ask Cut in Rental to Oklahoma

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 6.—A group of Cotton county school land lessees met at the distrist court room in Walters to perfect an organization to fight for a reduction in rentals now being charged by the state school land department. Practically every school land lessee in the county has joined the organization and agreed to seek a reduction of 25 per cent in rentals.

Rentals have been materially increased during the past few years until at the present time they are nearly three times the amount charged 10 years ago. Poor crops and low markets during the past two years have made it practically impossible for the lessees to pay the rentals. Unless a reduction is secured or the time of payment extended it is believed a large portion of the lessees will be forced to vacate their property.

Six Contracts to Be Made on Thursday

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 6.—County judge Hoffman announced that the commissioner's court would meet in special session Thursday, Oct. 8, at which time bids will be received for the building of six small bridges in commissioner's precinct No. 3 on the Estelline-Tell road. The bridges to be built are to be made of wood and are small, the judge stated.

Also the office of justice of the peace will be filled when the commissioners meet in this special session. Several applications have been received for the office recently made vacant by the death of A. N. Gillis. Should an occasion arise for the justice of peace before this time a special session will be called.

The University of Southern California has started a $15,000,000 building program, to be spread over a 10 year period.

TILLMAN ASKS SCHOOL RECESS

Month's Closing Proposed By Chamber

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 6.—At a brief session of the chamber of commerce here Monday, the president of the group was authorized to appoint a committee to confer with the board of education of the Frederick schools, in an effort to secure dismissal of the schools for a month.

Dr. T. F. Spurgeon, who offered the motion, said that the problem of caring for necessities of the poorer families this winter would be materially lessened if the school children were given this opportunity to pick cotton for a month.

It is also hoped that such a solution will prevent the coming into the community of so many transients, who would then remain as a burden during the winter.

Alice Bryant, for 36 years first grade teacher in the Carson City, Nev., school, has retired.

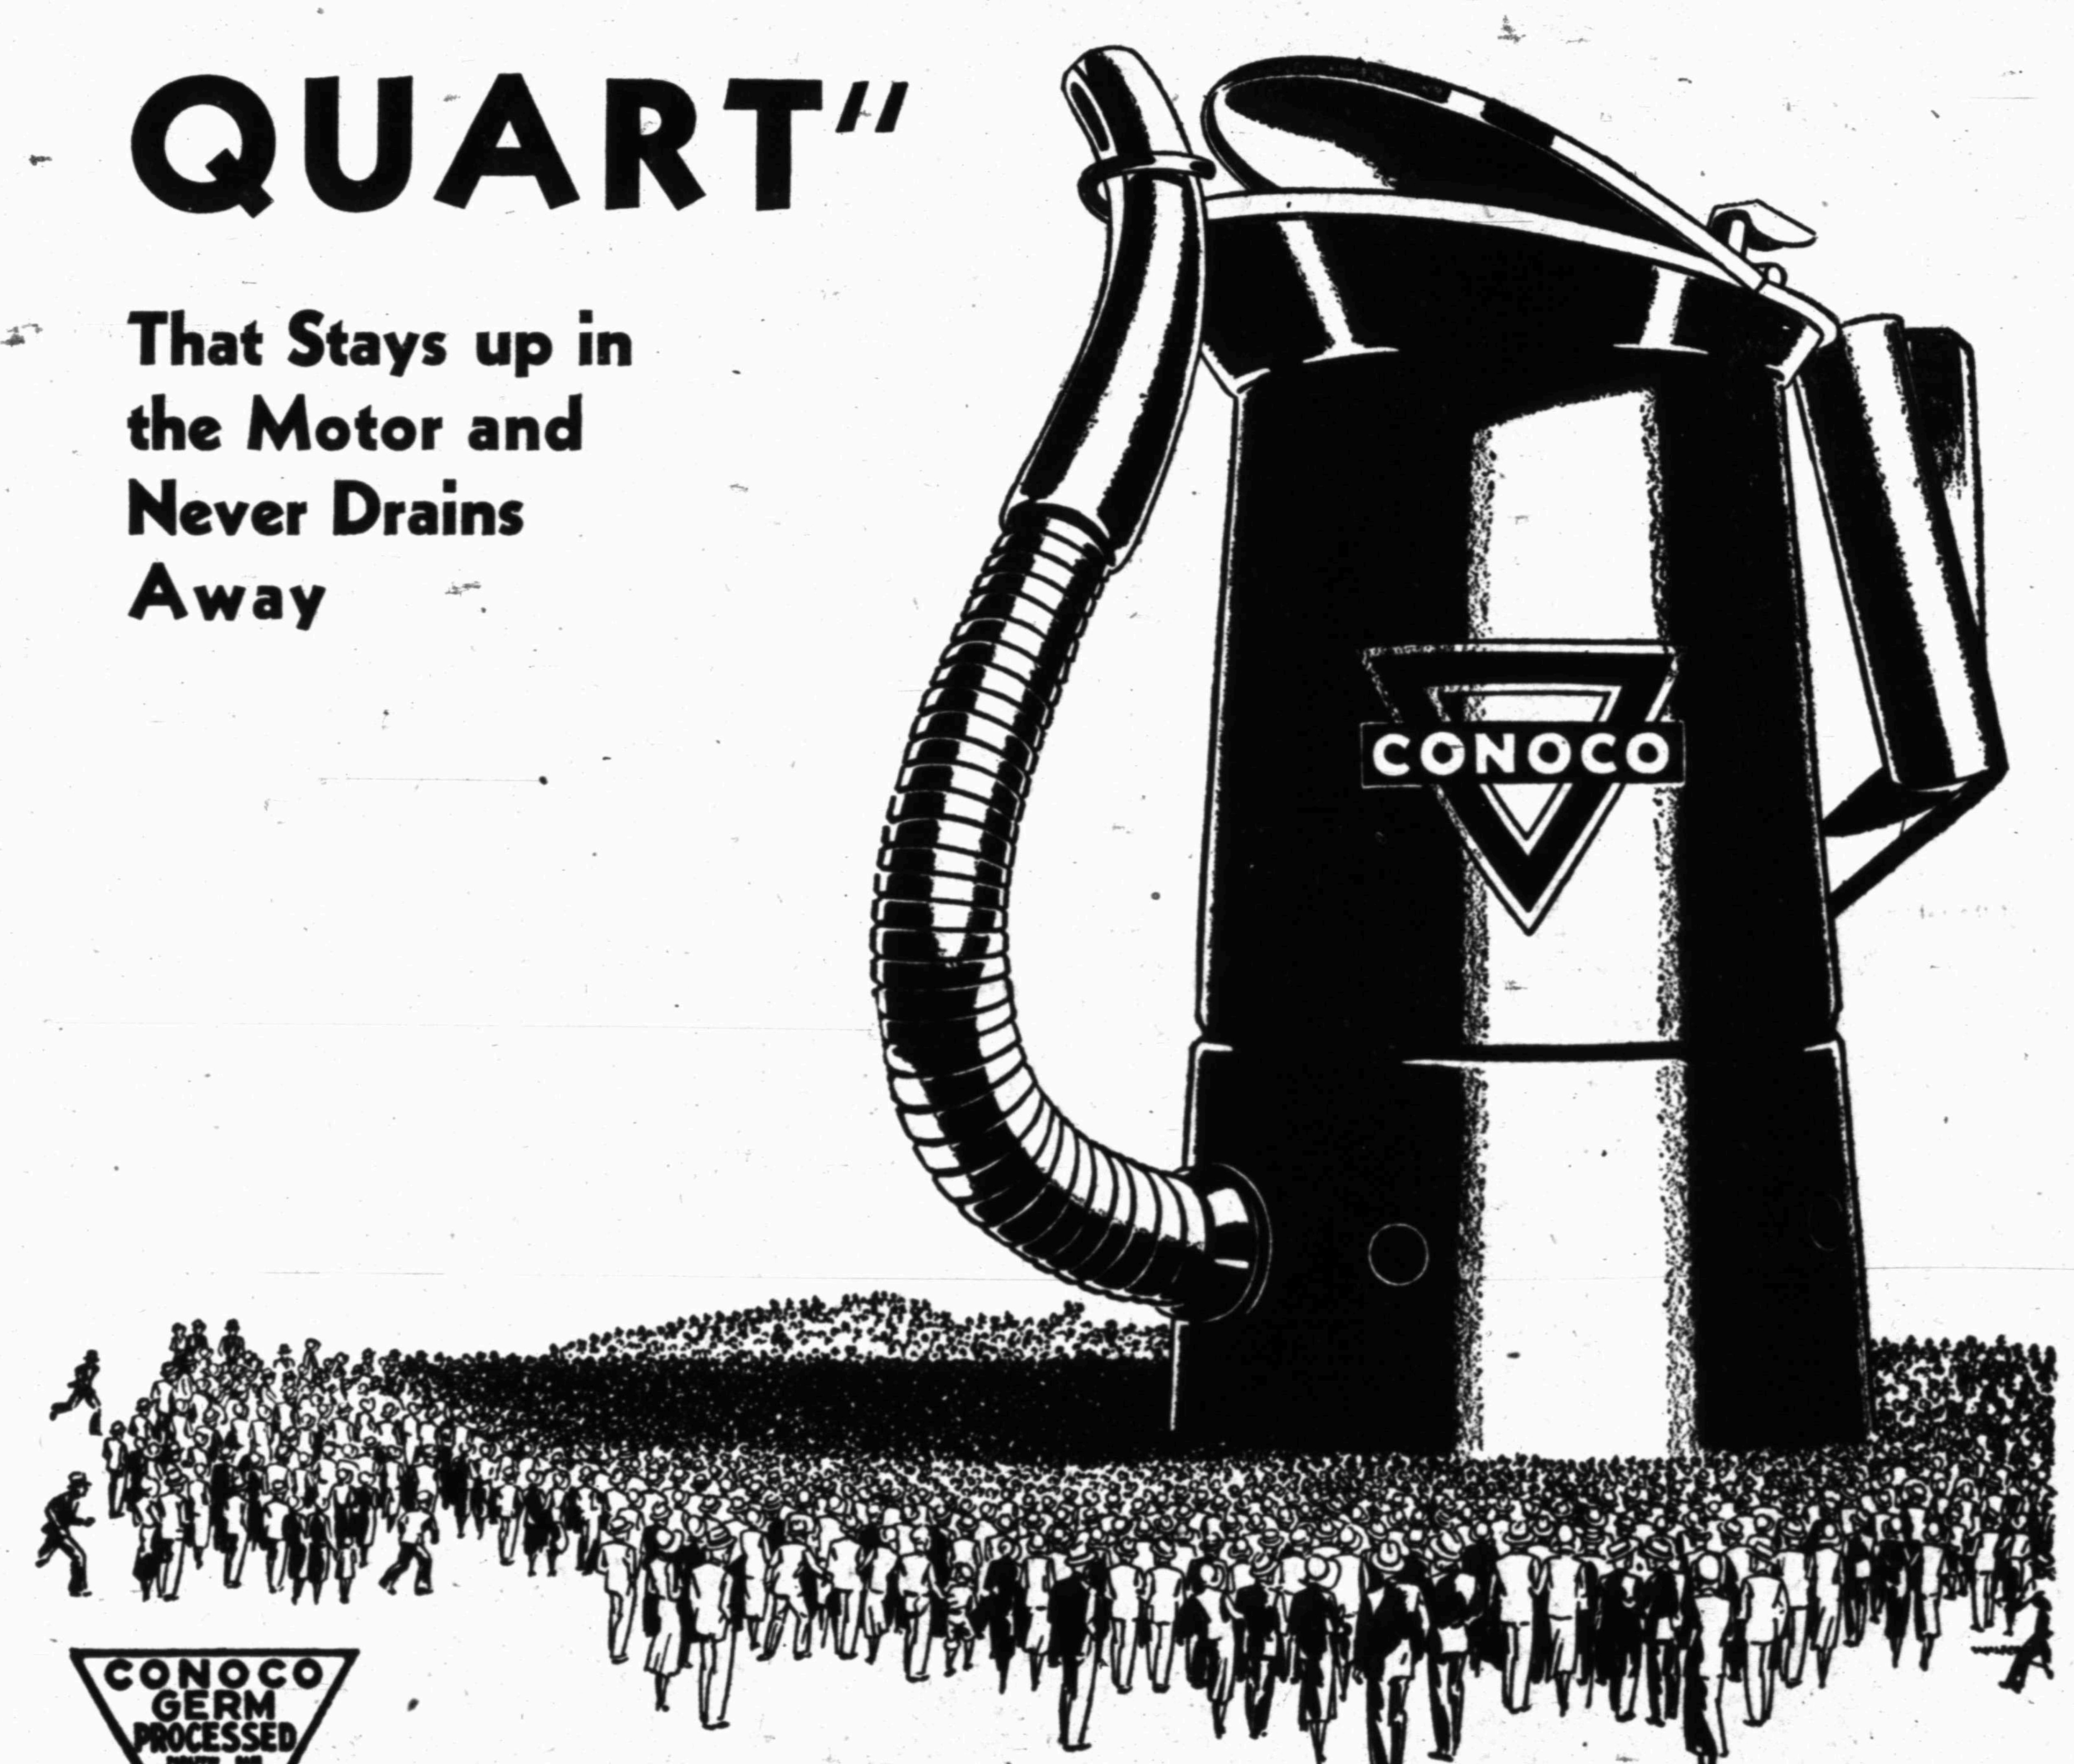
THE "HIDDEN QUART"

That Stays up in the Motor and Never Drains Away



CONOCO GERM PROCESSED PARAFFIN BASE MOTOR OIL

—is Worth its Weight in Gold to Any Motorist!

It's not the mileage your speedometer shows that makes your car wear out quickly, lose power and need costly repairs. It's motor wear, caused by friction, that does it! And almost half of all this motor wear occurs while you're starting. Cut down starting wear and you'll give your motor longer life.

That's just what the "hidden quart" of Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil does! It stays up in your motor and never drains away and thus cuts down starting wear! Ordinary oils drain away, leaving working parts unprotected until oil is pumped from the crankcase through the motor, which takes several minutes. Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil penetrates and combines with metal surfaces of working parts, stays there and never drains away. The "hidden quart" safely lubricates every cylinder, piston and bearing the instant you touch the starter.

The "hidden quart" is worth its weight in gold to you! From the first fill with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, you'll have this "hidden quart" up in your motor, giving safe lubrication at all times, lengthening your motor's life. Drain your crankcase now . . . fill with Germ Processed Oil at any station displaying the Conoco Red Triangle.

WHEN YOU OVER-INDULGE

THERE are times when we all are tempted to take a holiday from the usual prudence.

Where is the person who wants to be discreet in diet every day in the year? It isn't human!

And it isn't necessary!

Your stomach won't be poisoned by every little indiscretion if you will just remember to give it the friendly aid of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It will sweeten the sour system and put things to rights.

Suppose you do overload your stomach with those things that bring on acidity? Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will neutralize many times its volume in acid. Just take two spoonfuls before and after such over-indulgence. It's a very simple way to prevent those miserable mornings which follow too much to eat and drink.

When you over-indulge—eating, drinking, smoking—don't suffer for hours! Nature will restore a proper alkaline balance in time, but Phillips' Milk of Magnesia acts immediately. A creamy, pleasant-tasting emulsion that sweetens the stomach, dispels that sour gas, and relieves the nausea and headache, and feeling of billiousness due to overdoing. (Phillips' milk laxative properties always help the bowels at such times.)

Make sure it's genuine. The signature of Chas. H. Phillips on the wrapper and bottle will tell you it's the real product endorsed by the medical profession. Less perfect preparations do not act the same.

For a Healthy Mouth

Use Phillips' Milk of Magnesia as a mouthwash every evening before retiring. Use Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth paste, to keep the teeth clean and white.

BANK AID PLAN WINS APPROVAL

Congressional Leaders Told Of Program

president's study, the historic Lincoln room of the mansion which is on the second floor, east side of the house.

Meeting Transferred

It was crowded, hot and stuffy, and within a few minutes the conference was transferred to the more spacious library also on the second floor.

Outside the White House a score of newspaper correspondents kept a vigil, waiting for the conference to break up and hoping for a statement from the president which would officially reveal the plans he has in mind.

Documents Brought

Under-Secretary Mills, and other officials brought with them heavy portfolios of papers, presumably to present the facts and figures of the present situation.

The president himself outlined the general purpose of the unusual emergency conference at a noon conference with the press in the following statement:

"The purpose of my conference with members of congress tonight is to advance a national unity in the setting up of constructive forces in place of destructive forces now working in the depression.

"I feel that it is not proper in advance of this conference to make any announcement."

White House officials elaborated on this statement by adding that the conference was for the consideration of domestic affairs rather than international, but it would concern international affairs to the extent they have affected domestic matters.

The attempt to surround the conference with secrecy gave rise to a flood of speculation which was deprecated by White House officials. Several phases of the conference were obvious, however, and the purposes of the conference have been gleaned from reliable sources.

Meantime, signs of encouragement sprang up on every side. In New York, the security markets swung upward with a confidence unequalled in many weeks, and Washington was filled with high anticipation.

Tomorrow another detail of the same problem will be examined by a gathering of bankers and real estate men, members of a finance committee of the president's conference on home building.

One of the things in which Wall street and many bankers everywhere have been most interested is the tie-up of real estate credit for the small borrower. For this it is hoped a solution may now be at hand through a liberalization of some of the credit requirements now operating to freeze the assets of otherwise substantial institutions.

Some of the existing restrictions on credits and security rediscount trace back to the federal reserve law itself. Of course only congress can amend the law, but the administration is prepared to help by construing the statutes as favorably as the congressional leaders will permit.

Private Capital Included

But private capital, as well as the reserve system, will be asked to do its part in the recovery program. It is by throwing into a unified effort the entire force of the great financial institutions, backed by the direct cooperation of the federal reserve board, that the president hopes to give the whole national structure of banking and industry a definite push toward better times.

Those invited to the conference were selected by Mr. Hoover because of their positions of leadership in the two party organizations, and their membership on the committees which handle fiscal legislation.

Those present at the conference: President Hoover; Secretary Mellon and Under-Secretary Mills of the treasury; Eugene Meyer, chairman of the reserve board; and Walter Newton, secretary to the president.

Republican senators: Watson, Indiana; Reed, Pennsylvania; Carey, Wyoming; Borah, Idaho; Walcott, Connecticut; Glenn, Illinois; Vandenburg, Michigan; Bingham, Connecticut; Townsend, Delaware.

Democratic senators: Robinson, Arkansas; King, Utah; Walsh, Montana; Swanson, and Glass, Virginia; Wagner, New York; and Harrison, Mississippi.

Republican representatives: Tilson, Connecticut; Lucas, Massachusetts; Davenport, New York; Crowther, New York; Bacharach, New Jersey; McFadden, Pennsylvania; Aldrich, Rhode Island; Snell, New York; Treadway, Massachusetts.

Democratic representatives: Garner, Texas; McDuffie, Alabama; Byrns, Tennessee; Bland and Crisp, Georgia; Goldsborough, Maryland; Stevenson, South Carolina.

sales as they are transmitted to the floor of the exchange, and by permitting no such orders to be executed, unless they can be executed without depressing the price of the stocks.

It was said in conservative banking and brokerage circles that such a spectacular stock market as today's should be regarded largely as reflecting the correction of a panicky psychology, rather than the start of a major upturn, and that it was hoped a period of stability and quiet would ensue. It was explained no concerted action to boost the market had been taken by leading banking interests, but it was understood the movement was facilitated by withholding of hang-over liquidation.

The market, however, was regarded as impelling testimony as to Wall street's confidence in the success of measures being developed in Washington. One of Wall street's leading bankers said whatever plan finally comes out of the Washington conferences "will receive the cordial cooperation" of Wall street bankers.

Negro Couple Jailed After Man Is Shot

Charges of aggravated assault against a negro and his wife were filed in county court late Tuesday after the husband had been shot with a .22 caliber pistol in an affray with the woman.

The suit charged Cicero Murray, the executive's cousin, in charge of the oil field troops, was "wholly inexperienced as an oil man up to the time of Governor Murray's administration."

CAPITAL FIELD ALMOST IDLE

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 6.—Martial law in the Oklahoma City oil field was two months old Monday, and a check showed the capital area almost idle.

Only activity was a small corps of roughnecks busy cleaning up the leases on which are producing wells now shut down. Tanks are being cleaned out and everything made ready for the lifting of the shutdown. Just when it will come no one knew.

In the two months' time the O. C. field has produced 483,585 barrels of oil, most of it coming from new completions and from old wells taking the balance of their official allowable under proration orders now abrogated by martial law.

Seven gasoline wells have produced an average of 565 barrels a day during the shutdown and Sunday the area yielded 440 barrels of gasoline and Monday it totaled 472 barrels. In addition the Great Southern Oil company picked up 636 barrels of oil from the slush pit and sump, swelling Sunday's total production to 1,076 barrels. Pipe lines moved out 3,497 barrels Sunday and 2,313 barrels Monday.

Capone's Trial Gets Under Way

bulging hips scowling about the corridors.

Instead of this, we had horny-handed tillers of the fruitful soil of Illinois. We had small town storekeepers, and mechanics, and clerks who gazed, frankly interested, at the burly figure of the moon-faced fellow who is causing all this excitement and said:

"Why, no, we ain't got no prejudice again Al Capone."

At least most of them said that, in effect as Judge James H. Wilkerson patiently prodded them with questions to ascertain their reactions to the cause now in hearing, as the lawyers say.

Judge Wilkerson was expediting the business of getting a jury to try Al Capone on charges of holding out your Uncle Sam's "piece" of the Capone enterprises, your Uncle Sam's "piece" being the income tax.

Your Uncle Sam says Al Capone has shorted him $215,000 on an income of $1,038,000 in six years.

Your Uncle Sam hints that Al Capone derived this tidy income from such illegal didoes as bootlegging, gambling and the like, and forgot to remember your Uncle Sam in cutting up the swag.

The defense exhausted its 10 peremptory challenges and got one extra while the government used up its six. The selection of the jury in one day is regarded as amazingly quick work, and the trial may not be as long drawn out as expected.

Judge Wilkerson tried to make it very clear to the men in the jury box that Capone is being tried on charges of violating the income tax law, and nothing else. He kept hammering at this point.

"If you happened to be on trial under similar circumstances as exist here, would you be willing to have your case heard by a jury in the same frame of mind as you are at the present time with reference to this defendant?" was a frequent question from the court.

Accidental Shot Fatal to Tillman County Pioneer

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 6.—Barney Gibbs, 41, Tillman county pioneer farmer was fatally injured late Tuesday afternoon when an automatic pistol accidentally discharged in his hand. The bullet pierced his eye and he died two hours later without regaining consciousness.

A negro woman, an old servant in the Gibbs family was shot through the arm and lung when Gibbs, first picked the gun from the seat of his car. The second shot from the automatic struck the farmer.

The woman, Mollie Clines, said Mr. Gibbs came to the cotton field to estimate the day's pickings and was preparing to drive her back to the farmhouse when the accident happened. She said she called her employer's attention to the gun, a .25 caliber automatic, in the car and warned him of its danger. The gun was discharged twice in quick succession as Gibbs took it in his hand.

Mr. Gibbs came to Tillman county in 1902 and has been prominent in farmer circles since that time. He is survived by a wife and five children, his father, W. R. Gibbs, Frederick, and several brothers and sisters. The children are Otis, Bonnie, Anita, Bettie Joyce and H. A. Jr. No funeral arrangements had been made Tuesday night.

If your scalp burns and itches, if your hair comes out, if you have loose dandruff, give Listerine a trial. If you do not see improvement in ten days you will be an exception. Just douse it on the scalp full strength and massage vigorously. Keep the treatment up systematically. Note how it cleans and heals the scalp, and gets rid of those telltale flakes.

If infection is present on the surface of the skin, Listerine attacks it. A powerful germicide, it kills bacteria in 15 seconds, the fastest killing time accurately recorded by science.

Listerine helps to dissolve oily crusts and quickly removes them, as well as horny scales. And Listerine quickly relieves that burning, itching sensation. It soothes inflamed or irritated areas of the scalp.

If scalp is excessively dry, a little olive oil may be used in connection with the Listerine shampoo, or independent of it. The oil aids in dissolving crusts and scales and keeps hair from drying out. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

Contracts for nearly $5,000,000 worth of new highway construction were let at the recent session of the state highway commission, 340 miles in 58 projects being included with 90.0 miles of concrete, 72.6 of asphalt and 21.7 of gravel. Grading and drainage structures for 145.9 miles, 23 new bridges, eight grade crossings eliminations were provided for . . . Haskell county plans a celebration of the closing of its gap in No. 30, north and south across the county, which gives a paved road with the exception of one stretch from the Red to the Rio Grande at Del Rio . . . Another Red-to-the-Rio Grande route, already two-thirds paved and with paving of the remainder agreed to, is U. S. 66, which is to be a 100-foot super-highway, according to association backing it, extending through San Antonio to the Rio Grande at Hidalgo . . . State 40 has been designated as U. S. 271 from Fort Smith, Ark., to Beaumont via Paris, Tyler, Lufkin . . . Cities along state 22 are seeking state aid for its improvement, furnishing a new route from Fort Worth into Central and East Texas via Hillsboro, Corsicana, Palestine, Rusk . . . State 23, Cisco to Shackelford county line, is being topped with asphalt . . . Hunt county's "sidewalk," as the facetious have termed the one-way concrete slab out of Greenville, is to give way to an 18-foot concrete road entering Greenville by a new route and with an underpass instead of grade crossing . . . Texas delegates from several cities plan to attend a meeting in Chihuahua City seeking extension of U. S. 67 across Mexico from Presidio where it enters the republic. It would save 200 miles between Texas points and the Mexican Pacific coast.

Haskell Farm Students Prepare Poultry Feed

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Oct. 6.—Herman Henry, vocational agricultural teacher of the Haskell high school gives out the information that his students of the Haskell high school are taking advantage of the low price for feed. A feed grinder was secured from T. A. Pinkerton and a tractor was furnished by Jones Cox & Co., and with these two implements the boys started in to grind enough mash for laying hens to last them all winter. Ground wheat, oats, maize, barley, wheat bran, shorts, and cotton seed meal, formed the ingredients for most of the mash mixed. More than two thousand pounds of grain was ground and supplemented with other feeds. Practically all students of vocational agriculture have poultry either as a major or a minor project.

Good Will Too Late

"PREMIER LAVAL and Briand today shook hands with President Von Hindenburg and went into conference with German statesmen on measures of cooperation to restore the confidence of Europe."

So reads a paragraph from a recent cable from Berlin. It is welcome news, and it may foreshadow great things; but to some people in this generation it will simply re-emphasize the old truth—that the most tragic phrase in the history of international relations is the phrase "too late."

The president of Germany and the premier of France meet and shake hands. In the background, if there are such things as ghosts, there must be several army corps of spectral soldiers who are wondering why some such things couldn't have been done 17 years ago.

In 1914 the heads of great nations were wary about shaking hands. There was no talk then of cooperation between French and German statesmen to "restore the confidence of Europe." Instead the monarchs and prime ministers and generals struck heroic attitudes, and several million young men who had been told that it was sweet and proper to die for one's country went out to find out if it were so.

To be sure, conditions today are not like the conditions of late July and early August, 1914. Yet today's crisis, which takes the head of the French government to Berlin, does not contain the seeds of half as much harm for the world as the one of 1914 contained. Indeed, if the statesmen had conferred instead of rushing to arms in 1914 there would be no crisis today at all.

All of which, perhaps is something like crying over spilt milk. The world war dead will not come out of their graves—unless to peer, dim shadows, at Franco-German rapprochement—and there is little use in talking about what might have been.

But it doesn't hurt us to be reminded that the world war was a frightful blunder, a blunder which a little sanity could have averted. There are people who can look with equanimity on a repetition of such a blunder; indeed, when President Hoover proposes that we spend only $340,000,000 on our navy in the next 12 months there are people ready to protest until they grow hoarse. The handshake in Berlin is a cheering spectacle, but we should not forget that it would have saved 10,000,000 lives if it had come 17 years earlier.

The Passing of Royal Immunity

WHEN British journalism permits an open attack on the royal family, the inception of a new era may be assumed. And that is precisely what happened recently to the amazement not only of England, but of the whole world.

Free speech and free press abound in England as nowhere else on earth. But the person of the king, and of the heir-apparent, have been subject matter which British newspapers and the British public have let strictly alone. The crown is the abstract ideal upon which the United Kingdom has been built. As the individual in whom that ideal finds personification, the king has been largely immune to criticism.

But the extreme pressure of economic stress has caused convention and formal courtesy to be thrust aside. Stark realities have asserted themselves as the factors which today determine the trend of living. Consequently, when the king voluntarily cut $242,500 from his annual income, and the Prince of Wales $48,600, those who resented it as a tactful gesture were allowed to voice their feeling.

The shocking attack appeared in Forward, a paper published in Scotland by Tom Johnson, but lately a minister in the king's government. It took the form of a biting, satirical bit of free verse. It laughs cynically at the king's "sacrifice; it laments the fact that should King George die, his queen would be left with but $350,000 annually. It concludes sarcastically: "Now the king has so little he will just wear a loin cloth like Gandhi."

The published poem not only illustrates the unusual freedom accorded the British press, but typifies the collapse of tradition in the face of widespread hunger and distress.

Coolidge Says "No!"

IT IS hard to tell whether Mr. Coolidge's recent announcement concerning his plans for 1932 is more interesting to Republicans or to Democrats.

For the Republicans, of course, it removes a huge element of uncertainty from the pre-convention plans. The program is fairly well mapped out now; the campaign itself, and not the preliminaries, now becomes the objective. The air is clarified, and more or less definite plans can be made.

The Democrats, too, will find the atmosphere cleared. They can be fairly sure, now, who their opponent will be next year, and they too will be able to make more definite plans than before.

Incidentally, the mere fact that his announcement has drawn so much attention testifies to the hold that Mr. Coolidge still has on the public mind.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

SAWED OFF JAIL BARS WITH HIS SOCKS—Fred Tredwell, arrested for burglary and incarcerated in the Lyon county jail at Emporia, Kan., in 1899, spent two months of his time carrying out his scheme of escape. Tredwell wore home-made woolen socks which he raveled into yarn. He covered the yarn with soap and rolled it in sand and cement particles which he scraped from the cell walls. The sanded yarn acted as a rasp, and each night the prisoner drew a strand over the cell bars, eventually severing them completely.

After his escape he was again jailed, and revealed his carefully laid and laboriously executed plans.

DELMAR STEINBOCK AVERAGED 16 YARDS EVERY TIME HE CARRIED THE BALL—Steinbock of the Frederick, Okla., High school is considered a marvel in that state because of his ability on the gridiron. From a yannigan to quarterback in one season is he record of his rise. Never before a grid candidate, Steinbock reported for practice at the start of the 1930 season, and in a few weeks he played sensational football. During the season he carried the ball 81 times and averaged 16 yards per run.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith, Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

CHAPTER XXII

The more that Nollie Day considered the idea of spending a few weeks at Mrs. Judson's ranch up near the Canadian border, the more she liked the suggestion.

She was tired out from the New York heat, and the confinement of her work.

But she must "carry on." She needed money immediately.

Besides, this getting away at once would serve to put behind her the memory of her uncomfortable exit from the Galbraith firm.

The jealousy and spite of Miss Galbraith . ... Mr. Billing's hateful proposition!

Added to this, new scenes might make her put at the back of her mind her feeling for Tony O'Brien.

The handsome Irishman was now out of town on his vacation.

But Nollie had the letter—the thrice-blessed letter he had written her in the name of Jimmy Judson.

So he had liked her awfully after all. The whole magic of the evening hadn't just been in her own imagination.

She could write him to his office, explaining fully the whole situation.

Or she could be mysterious . . . keep up the glamor . . . not tell him who she really was . . . but send him a letter, thanking him for his, from the ranch of Mrs. Judson.

Suppose he followed her up there? Suppose he felt about her as she did about him?

"Fool that you are!" she told herself. "Come back to earth! Snap out of your dream!"

When Tony found out who she was, and that she'd fooled him, it wouldn't endear her to him.

No. Why should he look at her, with so many pretty rich girls in his world? Girls who would be only too anxious to annex him?

He'd seen her at her very best—her super-best—dolled up to beat the band in a $250 ensemble given her by Mrs. Judson.

Even her complexion hadn't been her own that night. That—and the ministrations of the hotel manicurist and hairdresser—had been paid for by the same generous woman.

Forget it all. Get down to solid things. Think of her future.

Her health, too. She was tired out in New York. Cooped up in an office in this heat, and working late as well, health, beauty and youth suffered.

So she'd grab this chance of a vacation—for it would be that, despite the sectarial work that she would do—up at the ranch of Mrs. Judson.

"Pack up your duds and be here tomorrow at—let me see—" —the widow consulted her engagement book. She added: "I have to have this by me always. I've no more memory than a jackrabbit."

Nollie could vouch for that being true. But she was glad of it.

Because her miraculous meeting with one Tony O'Brien had been the outcome of the widow's forgetfulness.

"Ho. Hum. I've an appointment with my lawyer at noon tomorrow in the Equitable Trust buliding. Then I've a sort of a garden-party from 4 o'clock onwards, up in Westchester county. We'll take that in on our route."

"You mean, you want me to travel with you?" asked Nollie diffidently.

"Of course. Besides being Jill-of-all-trades, you'll be my companion-secretary. You'll enjoy it."

Well, life was queer. Who would have thought of this a few weeks ago, when she was working so hard in the downtown import house, and Mrs. Judson was over in Europe?

But take what the gods gave. The trip would do her good, both mentally and physically. She would be absorbing new angles on human nature.

Nollie wrote a letter to Uncle Cy that night. The second since she had come to New York.

The first had met with no reply. She wasn't surprised at that, since she had sent it to his home address.

Aunt Sarah probably had commandeered it? She hadn't given it to Uncle Cy? Or perhaps she had forbidden him to write?

What did it matter anyway? Only tonight she had an impulse to be nice to Uncle Cy, because he'd been fond of her in his peculiar way, and she felt happier herself now.

She was leaving town, she wrote, to go up as private secretary to a rich lady on a lovely ranch near Canada.

She closed her letter, mailed it, not giving her new address.

Forget the old humdrum existence of the past. She had paid those relatives-of-adoption to the full. She'd worked hard for them for years. What did they count in her life?

But Nollie was kind, and her heart misgave her a little as she thought of Uncle Cy. She would keep in touch with him, in any case. And if things prospered with her, and if ever he needed anything, she'd help that gruff, pernickety, hen-pecked old uncle.

Next day she rose at 8 o'clock, breakfasted in a drug store at the counter, and started her shopping.

She was going to a ranch. To a garden-party first, at a beautiful country home. Motoring.

Well, she certainly had her morning occupied with the cloths-problem!

Forty-seven dollars was all she possessed in this wide world after her rent was paid. This saving represented nine weeks of scrimping.

At one of those wonderful little shops that run between Fifth avenue and Broadway in the Thirties, Nollies bought several dresses.

A little knitted three-piece in pale pink, that was only $4.95.

The little woolly skirt was smartly cut. There was a sleeveless sweater. A Cardigan.

She bought another variation of the same, in blue. It was light weight. Warm. And becoming.

For $4.98 she bought a well-cut dress in washing silk, the exact shade of her eyes, and a belted smart little full length coat, in tweed of the same color, that was marked down to $7.50.

"Now," she thought worriedly, "what about the right thing for this green-party?"

In another little shop she saw a flowered chiffon dress with blue and pink roses in the pattern. It was reduced in price from $16.95 to $8.50. It fitted Nollie to perfection.

Then she bought a blue straw hat to go with this—and a small blue and a small pink felt—and a pair of sport shoes, and a pair of smarter shoes at $5 a pair—and her shopping was finished.

Raskob Summons Demo Leaders To Help Rustle Party Funds

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—John J. Raskob has invited 50 prominent Democrats to a private dinner next Tuesday to find a way to pay off the party's indebtedness and to finance next year's campaign for the presidency.

The Democratic national chairman hopes to raise $1,500,000, representing the party's deficit, before 1932, and another $6,000,000 for use of the national organization.

The indebtedness report of the Democratic national committee filed with the house of representatives shows that the New York County Trust company holds a note for $422,900, and Mr. Raskob a personal note for $355,250.

The plan is to get a dozen $50,000 donations to start the campaign. Many Democratic leaders have expressed doubt at the wisdom of such a campaign at this time.

Creek Election Dispute Left to County Board

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 6. (UP)—The state supreme court, today ruled the Creek county election board has original jurisdiction to hear and determine the election contest involving the superior court office of that county.

Appeal on this case was made from a judgment denying a court action to force the board to convene and determine the election dispute.

W. F. Pardoe and C. O. Beaver were candidates for the position. A motion by D. C. Sellers, election board member, to dismiss the appeal, was denied.

Hoover Approves Plan for Joint Veterans' Parley

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—President Hoover today approved plans for a seven-day conference of veterans administration officials here designed to secure economy and expedite "direct relief to the veterans of all wars." The conference will begin Oct. 26.

Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans affairs, said after a conference at the White House that Mr. Hoover approved of the move which was designed also to devise "ways and means to simplify the procedure of the combined activities represented in the veterans administration."

The American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, Hines said, will be invited to the conference along with managers of the veterans administration's field activities.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Stop a minute and think about this fact. You can ask our information bureau any question of fact and get the answer back in a personal letter. It is a great educational idea introduced into the lives of the most intelligent people in the world—American newspaper readers. It is a part of that best purpose of a newspaper—service. There is no charge except two cents in coin or stamps for return postage. Get the habit of asking questions. Address your letter to The Record News Information bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Who played Mary Jane in Huckleberry Finn?—S. K.

A.—Charlotte V. Henry.

Q.—How many women were carrying life insurance in 1930?—R. C.

A.—There are no compiled figures. Based on the experience of a few of the large life insurance companies, it is estimated that about 19½ per cent carry insurance.

Q.—What is bull-fighting called in Spain? How many bulls are killed in a year?—D. J. F.

A.—Bull-fighting, the national Spanish sport, is called tauramjuia in Spain. About 1,300 bulls are killed annually in Spain. At least six bulls are killed at each corrida (bull fight.)

Q.—Where is the largest copper mine in the eastern United States?—G. McG.

A.—The outstanding cooper mine in the east is the Fontana mine on Eagle creek in Swain county, North Carolina.

Q.—What is the record attendance for a colored college football game last year?—G. H.

A.—The largest attendance was that of Oct. 25, 1930, when 20,000 spectators saw the Wilberforce-Tuskegee scoreless game in Chicago.

Q.—Please describe the Rocky Mountain jumping mouse.—D. L.

A.—This tiny mammal looks like a kangaroo and hops about, using its tiny forelegs as hands rather than feet.

Q.—Does history mention a nurse of Romulus and Remus other than the wolf?—S. W.

A.—They are said to have had a nurse named Acca Laurentia.

Q.—What sort of a fruit is the Calamondin?—B. R. S.

A.—The Calamondin is a variety of citrus fruit (Citrus mitis), which is unique among citrus fruits in being the hardiest of the acid species now being grown in America. Its dense head with bright green leaves, upright habit, and small fruits resembling tangerines in shape and color, make it one of the most ornamental of the citrus allies. The fruits are bright orange red, one to one and a half inches in diameter, with deep orange flesh. The juice is well flavored and very acid. It is a valuable garden fruit adaptable to those sections where the Satsuma and Kumquat are grown—and is unsurpassed among ade-making fruits.

Q.—What is meant by piling Ossa on Pelion?

A.—Mount Olympus, according to Greek mythology, was the home of the gods. Ossa and Pelion were nearby mountains. Pelion had a flat summit and Ossa was conical. According to the tale, the giants Ephialtes and Otus arranged to pile Ossa upon Pelion in order to reach the top of Olympus.

Q.—Why are mufflers not used on airplanes?—W. G. A.

A.—The common method of muffling, which is to insert resistance in the exhaust line so that the fluctuations in pressure which produce the noise are reduced, is objectionable in an airplane since resistance causes a back pressure on the engine and hence reduces power. Mufflers of this type are heavy, which fact is another reason for their being impracticable for airplane use.

Q.—When was the Cathedral of Notre Dame built in Paris?—W. E.

A.—The present cathedral was begun in 1163 and the towers were finished in 1225. The first church upon this site was built upon the ruins of a temple of Jove about 375.

Q.—What is the purpose of Yom Kippur?—J. H.

A.—It is the Jewish Atonement day. The American Hebrew says: "Judaism lays emphasis on the call to the individual sinner and transgressor for a direct, personal straightening out of his moral and ethical account with men and with God. This is the reason why fasting became one of the chief observances of Yom Kippur. Let a man realize what a puny weakling he becomes when self-deprived of food and drink for 24 hours, and he will be more likely to confess his wrongding, to repent the damages his selfishness and acquisitiveness may have visited on others, and repair them; to seek and to grant forgiveness. Let him for the space of consecutive hours in the atmosphere of worship, meditate on his deeds and misdeeds of a 12-months that is past; devote himself wholly to contemplation of the numerous opportunities for well-being and well-doing which he cast aside for whatever reasons; place himself frankly before the bar of his own conscience, being at the same time his own accuser and his own judge, and, at the end of the Atonement day, he will emerge a better, a finer a more sanctified spiritual being."

Members of the Adams Street Methodist Woman's Missionary society met at the church Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. L. M. Switzler opened the meeting and Mrs. M. Mix presided in the program.

An inspiring talk was made by Mrs. S. E. Trevathan, member of the Floral Heights Missionary society who told of the necessity of a missionary society in the church and special work that may be done in the community.

Mrs. Trevathan introduced a very charming visitor in Mrs. H. W. Barton, district secretary, who also offered interesting suggestions.

Members of Adams Street W. M. S. plan to hold meetings each Tuesday instead of Wednesday so that they may have visitors from other groups. A special missionary program is planned for next Tuesday.

Mrs. Trevathan gave the closing prayer dismissing 10 members and two guests.

Hi-Y Club Seeks Charter

Consideration of a contitution resulted in steps preliminary to acquiring a charter for the local Hi-Y boys' club of the high school and Junior college, when the boys met Monday night in the basement of the Highland Heights Christian church.

T. F. Richardson, faculty sponsor of the boys, stated Tuesday that they lack only a few more steps toward finishing the constitution, after the completion of which it will be only a matter of a few days to acquire a charter from the state Young Men's Christian association.

James Lee is president of the Hi-Y organization.

Indians at Assembly

Five American Indians in full costume furnished entertainment for students of the high school and college at the general assembly program Tuesday morning.

The Indians included a "big chief medicine man," his squaw, their two sons and their adopted son. The Indians presented dance, flute and song numbers illustrating the ancient customs of the Indian people. The medicine man illustrated how the Indians were accustomed to build fires with cedar bark and flint before matches were used. Some of the dance numbers were a bow and arrow dance, a war dance, feather dance, the dance and prayer given with the administration of medicine by the medicine man, and other dances given around the camp fire.

Preceding the Indian program, Albert E. Kelly spoke to the students, urging all who intend to go to Childress Saturday for the game to make reservations for the special train.

Detectives who worked on the case Tuesday expressed the opinion that experts opened the safe. Great skill, they said, was used in knocking the knob and opening the safe. Entrance to the building was gained when the intruders broke a glass in the rear door to reach a night latch. About $100 of the money obtained was silver.

COMFORT for COLICKY BABIES

with Castoria's gentle regulation

"The best way to cure colic," says a famous doctor, "is to prevent it." And the best way to prevent it is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste.

But there's one thing to remember here. A tiny baby's tender organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged.

This is just the place Castoria comes to a mother's aid. Castoria, you know, is made specially for the delicate needs of babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation which is absolutely harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics.

Children never fight Castoria. They like its taste and the relaxed comfort its gentle regulation brings.

For many years it has helped mothers through trying ordeals with colicky babies, with children suffering from digestive upsets, colds and other little ailments. Keep it on hand for your children. You can always tell genuine Castoria by the name Chas. H. Fletcher.

Paralysis From Accident

A paralyzed and helpless person is always a pitiful sight. In some cases the body may appear normal and yet the one afflicted is unable to accomplish the simple tasks of personal care without assistance.

A touching case was called to my attention through the medium of a letter which stated in substance: "Ten years ago my wife met with an accident which left her with a paralysis of the lower limbs. The legs have a normal appearance but only a slight feeling of sensation. She can only get about in a wheel chair. I never want to admit defeat in bringing about her recovery. I have spent thousands of dollars in doctors' fees, but apparently she has not been benefitted. Now she has developed bed sores which prevent her from sitting up more than two hours at a time. Please don't tell me that nothing can be done. I am not going to give up trying. Isn't there something that can be done?"

In this case the fact that the legs after 10 years still have a normal appearance and a slight feeling of sensation is encouraging. If I had the patient under my own supervision, I could make certain electrical tests to find out which nerves or which parts of the spinal cord are affected and which function properly. Such a knowledge would be of value in determining the extent of possible improvement and for arranging electrical treatments to stimulate any nerves which are partially paralyzed. It is however, often possible to accomplish a great deal through general care even without this specific knowledge.

Bed sores are very apt to appear on a paralyzed person. They are caused by constant pressure on a part which interferes with the circulation between large bones and the skin, most bed sores usually occurring in the region of the hips and lower back. Very little can be accomplished in overcoming the paralysis until the bed sores have healed. It is a good plan to give the patient treatments with a lamp which radiates ultra-violent rays. Such a lamp can be purchased at any surgical or physio-therapy supply house. The entire body should be rayed two or three times a week and the rays should be given a little longer and about once a day on the bed sores. A dry antiseptic dressing may then be applied. Bed sores may be prevented by changing the patient's position frequently and massaging the skin with alcohol where the pressure occurs.

The diet should be carefully regulated whenever one is confined to bed or a wheel chair and does not obtain enough exercise. Fasting sometimes produces miraculous results in the early stages of paralysis and even in cases of some duration short acid fruit fasts are often distinctly beneficial. Starches, sugars and fats must be restricted.

The treatments which may be used are massage, manipulation, hydrotherapy, and various electrical treatments. The patient should be taught to try to move the affected limbs, being assisted by some one in moving them. Often this effort is distinctly helpful as it teaches the patient to get control of the nerves. There are many cases of paralysis where nature has brought about a repair of the injured tissues but the patient does not know this and has forgotten how to make the necessary movements. This is usually in cases of several years standing where the limbs appear normal and are not atrophied.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tumor on the Brain

Question—"Worried" writes: "Will you kindly tell me the symptoms of a tumor on the brain and the treatment for same?"

Answer—A tumor on the brain is too serious a condition to give advice about without examining the patient. The symptoms would depend entirely on the size and location of the tumor, and it would be hard to diagnose such a case from the symptoms alone. Some of the common symptoms of such a condition may be paralysis, mental abnormalities, and convulsions. Some cases have to be operated upon while in others a fast seems to bring about a reduction of the abnormal symptoms.

Olive Oil Is Digested

Question—Mr. Y writes: "I am trying to use two ounces of olive oil and the juice of an orange every night to prevent constipation. Will this much olive oil be too rich for me?"

Answer—Olive oil is wholesome, but it is not very laxative in small amounts, as it is digested. Two ounces a day would not be harmful if you enjoy it, but in order to overcome constipation it is necessary to keep the diet well balanced and develop a good tone of your abdominal muscles.

Stammering Needs Correct Training

Question—J-J-J-Jim writes: "Will you please tell me how to overcome my stammering? I am not troubled ordinarily but, when I become nervous, I can hardly say a thing. I have had this trouble for some time, but it seems to be getting worse."

Answer—I would advise you to consult some doctor or psychologist who makes a special study of correcting stammering. The cure requires a great deal of personal attention from some instructor who understands the mental processes. If you do not know of any one who specializes in this, perhaps some vocal instructor in your neighborhood can tell you where you can obtain this help.

Stephens County Surveys Needs

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 6.—School teachers are being pressed into service by the Red Cross to make a check of all families in the county who will need assistance this winter.

Questionnaires are being sent to every school principal in the county to be filled out listing the number of needy families in the district and the number of children in the school who are without proper food and clothing. It will require a month to complete the survey.

County commissioners are expected to complete plans for unemployment relief through road work when they return from the state chamber of commerce meeting at Tulsa Thursday and Friday. The farm-to-market road program will be discussed at the meeting and the county is expected to raise a special fund of $30,000 to be matched by state funds for this work.

EARNSHAW'S TWO-HIT JOB SQUARES WORLD SERIES AGAIN

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

A little thing like Burleigh Grimes dern near pitching a no-hit, no-run game in a world series didn't so much as evoke the twitter of an eyebrow from Dr. Hoover, presiding magistrate of these United (except on the prohibition question) States, according to H. Allen Smith, a United Press sleuth who hovered near the presidential box during the third game of the series Monday.

"Careful scrutiny of his (Dr. Hoover's) features during the game," writes Mr. Smith, "revealed that he apparently isn't a very rabid fan.

"During the early stages of the contest he sat and looked at the players with what appeared to be an apathy best described as 'intense.' He might have been looking over the department of agriculture's report on the corn borers' progress in Rhode Island.

"But gradually he became interested in the performance of Mr. Grimes. When Burleigh and his chief foe, Lefty Grove, were engaged in a bit of horse play, the president seemed keenly interested. His expression changed, as though one of his secretaries had just stepped up with Mr. Coolidge's latest article."

Plenty of Pep

We hear that the girl pep squad of the high school is having regular "workouts," practicing a choice assortment of whoops and hollers that will be unleashed at the Childress game next Saturday. We hear that the squad is rounding into shape rapidly, and that the girls will be all primed to do their best rooting when the boys of the red and black dig their cleats into Childress sod.

Let's Have a Good Band!

The recently formed high school band, directed by Tom McCarty, who is an excellent tennis player, is also rehearsing diligently. McCarty, in addition to playing tennis, plays the trumpet. Just how his trumpet playing compares with his tennis playing I haven't had a chance to determine, for in the clamor of the last game here we couldn't distinguish one horn from another. But everybody was ump-pa-pa-ing in great form, or loud form, at least.

The band sounded pretty good under those conditions, with everybody yelling all around it. In fact, those are ideal conditions for renditions by any newly-organized band.

Getting a band into shape is just about as hard a job as getting a football team into shape. Every member must be able to play his part. The horn player must insert the "pa-a" immediately after the tuba hits the "ump." Thus you have the well known "ump-pa," for which German bands are famous. It is also the English pronunciation of umpire.

There must be snap and vigor in a band; otherwise you might as well junk it. In addition to hitting the right notes and keeping the instruments in tune, a good band should stick to the original tempos. And there are a hundred other requisites of a good band that I could write, but I won't tire you with them. You see, I know a great deal about bands, and I'm interested in them.

I'd like to expend that interest in stimulating the young horn-blowers who are out to make the high school band. We had just as well have a good band as a mediocre one. With a little work, we can have a good one.

The first step in the making of a good band is the creation of competition for favored positions, as you might call them. Just as several husky lads battle it out for a halfback post. You have to have the same spirit in a good band. Say you have five trumpet players. In a small band you should have two solo trumpeters, with the other three taking the harmony parts. Now the thing to do is to stir up a fight among the five trumpeters for the two solo positions.

Get the same thing going all through the band, clarinet players trying to edge out each other, trombone moaners trying to show each other up—and you're bound to have a good band eventually.

The Rambler is very interested in music. I go in for the high-brow stuff, and make no bones about it; but the guys that kid me for weeping over Beethoven don't realize that rhythm is one of the main factors in music, and can be heard in a good high school band as well as in a Beethoven sonata. Melody, the other prime factor, can also be heard in a small band, if the director has any instinct at all. The only thing you can't get in a small band is the elaborate development of themes, and goodness gracious you don't want that in a high school outfit. Especially a band that is organized principally to raise a din at football games.

With a little work, we repeat, we can have a good band in our high school. It can be made into a concert band, good enough to give lively and inspiring programs at the assembly periods, or on special occasions. But McCarty must have material, just as Holton needs material for a football team. Material that will work. Poof McCarty! He'll have to sweat many afternoons at rehearsals, and we understand what that means, for we've had considerable band and orchestra experience. But we think the effort worth while.

Back in the dark ages of 1922 when the Rambler infested the University of Texas, I was booked for five courses. Let's see, I believe they were advanced French, English, philosophy, comparative literature and anthropology. I got a small kick outa trying to speak like a Frog, and no kick at all out of the rest of my courses, but boy I was a candidate for a solo position in Blondy Pharr's Longhorn band! Them were the days, mates. There were about 60 places in the band to be filled, and well nigh a 150 musicians turned out, eager to be assigned one of those orange and white uniforms, and to call themselves members of that organization. At rehearsals we puffed and blew like steam engines, and if the guy next to you hit a sour note you inwardly chirped with glee and said to yourself: "Well, there's ONE guy I won't have to worry about!" Competition was stiff, boys, and it was a fight for the finish. One of my pals made the grade as third trumpet player and thought the world was hisn. I made one of the solo positions, and I haven't stopped bragging about it yet!

BUT HE DIDN'T STOP MARTIN

'Pepper' Gets Only Blows Off Mack's Ace

only one man against the four passed by Grimes.

Only three National leaguers shook hands with Jimmy Foxx at first base and only two reached second.

Against this brand of pitching Sylvester Johnson, making his first world's series start, was a dead fish from the start. He buckled several times and finally broke in the sixth when Foxx hammered a tremendous home run over the left field stands and out of the park to start a bombardment that blew Sylvester off the rostrum.

Jim Lindsay and Paul Derringer pitched out the string but anybody could tell the vote was counted before they arrived.

Another August Day

It was another muggy, stifling day—a slice of August served in October to the great discomfort of 32,000 and some odd who ran a high temperature all afternoon between the heat and the spectacle of the Athletics bursting their St. Louis bonds. But it was great weather for pitchers. Earnshaw was hot when he started and he finished with all cylinders popping as he bore down in the ninth to preserve his two-hit game.

RECEIPTS FALL SHORT

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELphia, Oct. 6. (AP)—The 1931 series player pool, derived from a major portion of the gate receipts of the first four games, amounts to $320,303.46. This is the smallest in nine years and nearly $100,000 below the record pool, split by the Yankees, Cardinals and other first division clubs in 1928.

Of the total pool, 70 per cent or $224,212.42 goes to the Athletics and Cardinals, divided on a basis of 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers. The winners' end amounts to $134,527.45 and losers total $89,684.96.

Cut down to a basis of 25 shares, the winners' split would amount to $5,381.09 per share and the losers' $3,587.39.

The even flow of luck and pitching efficiency in this series keeps putting off the big break of the series. Gabby Street was in a position to gamble today. He lost but he can come back tomorrow with Hallahan, with Derringer in reserve, while Mack has run out of his Grove and Earnshaw oil temporarily and must take the gambling chance himself tomorrow.

Some think it will be Walberg and some think it will be Hoyt. This may eventually put it up to Grove again to pitch the big money game.

Street Sitting Pretty

Street is in a better position. The old sergeant will have Grimes ready for the Friday game in St. Louis. Burleigh had his sore finger, the one that was damaged in the ninth inning yesterday, X-rayed today at the Jefferson hospital and no fracture was revealed.

Today the A's got the jump for the first time in the series. They scored on Bishop's single, a secrifice and a double by Simmons in the first inning and that was all that Earnshaw needed.

Seven of the Cardinals perished on strike-outs, the unfortunate Jim Bottomley contributing two of them. As for the St. Louis offense, when you hear about Martin you have heard it all. It was a case of "one for all" but not "all for one," the pepper person stood out against the Earnshaw background like a soltaire on a field of black velvet. He was all alone.

He ruined Earnshaw's hitless game in the fifth with a clean single that hopped past Dib Williams. Previous to this Frisch had walked and stolen second in the fourth inning. Mickey Cochrane has yet to throw out a runner in this series.

There was one out when Martin got on in the fifth and he perpetrated the most audacious steal yet recorded. Everybody was watching him and daring him to go and when he got ready he went. But Earnshaw fanned the next two men.

The second hit was a liner that struck just inside the left field foul line and rebounded from the wall for a double. Martin was the first man up in the eighth but now the situation had changed. The Cards had to have three runs and there was no percentage in taking useless risks. Once more Earnshaw turned on the smoke and when Big George threw down his glove there was Martin—still on second base.

From the first to the sixth inning Johnson scattered three hits but his effectiveness vanished with the effort. The A's did all their scoring with two out. Foxx's homer in the sixth was followed by Miller's double and singles by Dykes and Williams. Lindsey came in then and fanned Earnshaw but the damage was done.

The play by play account of the game follows:

First Inning

Cardinals—Flowers flied to Haas. Watkins popped to Earnshaw. Frisch flied to Simmons. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Bishop singled to center field. Bishop ran to second on Haas' sacrifice bunt, Flowers to Bottomley. Cochrane grounded out to Bottomley unassisted, Bishop going to third. Bishop scored on Simmons' double against the left field wall. Foxx walked. Miller flied out to Wilson. One run, two hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Cardinals—Bottomley hoisted to Foxx. Hafey grounded out, Dykes to Foxx. Martin fanned, swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Dykes singled to center field. Williams fanned. Dykes ran to second on Earnshaw's hot shot to Johnson, who recovered the ball for a putout at first. Bishop flied out to Martin, who made a nice running catch in left center. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Third Inning

Cardinals—Wilson flied to Simmons in deep left. Gelbert grounded out to Foxx unassisted. Johnson fanned, swinging. The Cardinals went down in order for the third straight time. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Haas singled to right field. Cochrane grounded to Frisch, forcing Haas at second base, Cochrane being safe at first when Bottomley dropped the relay. Simmons hit to Frisch and the Cardinals completed a double play this time via Gelbert and Bottomley. No runs, one hit, one error.

Fourth Inning

Cardinals—High bounced to Earnshaw and was out at first. Watkins flied to Miller. Frisch walked and was the first Cardinal to reach base. Frisch stole second. Bottomley fanned, swinging. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Foxx grounded out, Gelbert to Bottomley. Miller popped to Gelbert. Dykes bounced to High and was out at first on a neat play. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning

Cardinals—Hafey grounded out, Williams to Foxx. Martin hit to left field for a single. It was the first safe blow off Earnshaw. Wilson fanned, swinging. Martin stole second, Cochrane's throw hitting the dirt and bouncing off Williams' chest. Gelbert fanned on a third called strike. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Athletics—Williams fanned, swinging. Earnshaw popped to Gelbert. Bishop hit sharply to Bottomley for a scratch single, the ball bouncing off the first baseman's shoulder. Haas grounded to Gelbert, forcing Bishop at second with a toss to Frisch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning

Cardinals—Johnson fanned. High rolled to Earnshaw and was out at first. Watkins flied to Simmons. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Cochrane lined to Martin. Simmons hoisted to Martin in deep right center. Foxx hit a home run over the upper roof of the left field stands. It was a terrific drive. Miller drove a double against the scoreboard in right center. Miller scored on Dykes' single to left. Dykes ran to second on Williams' single past short. Johnson was replaced by Lindsey. Earnshaw fanned, swinging. Two runs, four hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning

Cardinals—Frisch was out, Earnshaw to Foxx, on a bunt. Bottomley fanned, swinging. It was his second straight fan. Hafey flied to Miller. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Athletics—Bishop flied to Watkins. Haas fanned, swinging. Cochrane walked. Simmons singled to center and Cochrane raced to third. Simmons went to second on the throw-in. Foxx flied to Martin. No runs, one hit, no errors

Eighth Inning

Cardinals—Martin drove a long double against the left field wall for his second straight hit. Wilson flied to Miller in short right. Cochrane made a sensational catch of Gelbert's foul at the edge of the stand behind the plate. Collins batted for Lindsey and fanned on three pitched balls. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Athletics—Derringer replaced Lindsey in the box for the Cardinals. Miller fanned, swinging. Dykes bounced out, Derringer to Bottomley. Williams flied to Watkins. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning

Cardinals—High flied to Simmons, Watkins to Miller and Frisch to Simmons. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Burk Expects Hard Game at Olney Friday

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Oct. 6.—The Olney High school Cubs will be the opponents Friday at Olney of the Burkburnett High school Bulldogs. The Bulldog team expects a very hard game, as Olney has not been defeated by the Bulldog organization in the past few years, and from every indication has all the weight and power of former years. The game will be the second conference contest of the season for the Bulldogs, and is considered one of the most important games of the year. In their first conference tilt, the Bulldogs defeated the Henrietta High Bearcats, 25-0.

FANS PREPARE FOR CHILDRESS

Sale of Special Train Fares Reported Gaining

Wichita Falls Tuesday was still in the throes of preparations to match the efforts of Childress citizens in making the first conference game of district No. 2 a success from all angles.

Ticket sales for the special train, to bear the Coyotes and Wichita Falls fans to Childress next Saturday for the initial game of the season, were reported gaining, although the campaign for the sale of the choo-choo fares had been underway but a few days. The fare for the round trip will be $2.15. The special will leave over the Fort Worth and Denver lines at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. The trip back home will start at 7 p. m. Tickets may be purchased at the high school or at the chamber of commerce office.

From Childress comes the announcement that all civic organizations in the city are boosting the game with might and main, and that delegations of Childress students will be detailed to insure a proper reception for the visitors from Wichita Falls.

Wichita Falls is making an effort to match the spirit shown by the Childress citizens. One step in that direction was taken yesterday when it was announced classes at Junior college would be suspended Saturday in order that college students could take advantage of the special train and see the Coyotes and Bobcats in the opening game of the league race.

It was also announced yesterday that special uniforms for the girls' pep squad, ordered recently, had arrived, and that the squad would be attractively attired when it takes its position on the sidelines to join in the rooting.

Meanwhile Coaches Holton, Lindsey and Morris continued to drive the Coyotes in practice. For the second successive day the boys were worked until nightfall yesterday. It was a general workout, involving every phase of the game, but Childress plays were given special attention in the scrimmage.

The dope from Childress has it that the Bobcats are fighting and with determination to whip the Coyotes. The Bobcats have yet to win a game. In every practice scuffle this season they have been defeated, but apparently this has not dampened the spirit of the Childress boys.

Redwings Again Defeat Saints in Little World Series

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 6. (AP)—Winning, 4 to 3, in the fifth game of the little world series here today, the Rochester Redwings took an apparently impregnable lead over their American association rivals, the St. Paul Saints.

It was the fourth straight victory for Manager Billy Southworth's charges. They need only one more win to end the series. About 8,000 people saw the game.

The sixth game of the series is to be played here tomorrow.

Army-Navy to Play Second Benefit Game

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—The thrill of another gridiron clash between West Point and Annapolis, with the unemployed benefitting, will be given American football fans this fall.

Secretary Adams of the navy department and Acting Secretary Payne of the war department tentatively arranged for the game. Only details of the exact time and place remained tonight for settlement.

Several suggestions have been advanced that this year's game be played in a city other than New York, the place of last year's game which the Army won, 6 to 0. That game netted about $400,000 for the unemployed.

Navy officials favor Franklin field, Philadelphia, Annapolis' last scheduled game will be there Dec. 5, when the academy plays the University of Pennsylvania.

Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, has informally suggested Chicago. Cleveland and other cities also have been suggested.

The probable date of the game is Dec. 12. Considerations of securing as large attendance as possible may make it necessary, naval officials said tonight, to play the game at the polo grounds in New York.

The question of eligibility rules which has prevented the two academies from playing scheduled games for four years will not enter into the arrangement.

ARCHER CITY GETS POETIC

'Fighting Song' Heard As Team Grooms for Crowell

By DAN POWELL
Record News Correspondent

ARCHER CITY, Oct. 6.—If practice, confidence and enthusiasm goes toward winning a football game, the Archer City Wildcats will win Friday's game with Crowell.

Coach Bill Cooper has spent the forepart of the week in working his fiery kittens on smoothness in action, forward passes and in mystifying plays that have been very satisfactory to Coach Bill, and caused him to say "You boys can whip your weight in wildcats, and if the Crowell pack is not overweight and underrated you will win." So much for practice.

Now for confidence. The fans are confident the Archer High Wildcats possess a team that will not only win Friday's game, but the championship of class B in district 3. The players are confident that they will put every ounce of their power and skill in Friday's game.

And now as to the enthusiasm. The "old town" has caught the craze and will turn out Friday as they have never before to give their home "Cats" the boost of the season. This enthusiasm is shown by the gatherings at the practice game. One of these gatherings this week turned into a regular "roar." The "yell squad" composed of some 50 girls sang the 'Fighting Song," a part of which goes:

"Old Crowell is a coming,
We hear him in the brush;
Fix yourself for springing,
And mash him into mush.

"We've eaten Eagles, Bluebirds,
Hawks;
We've tied the Coyote in his den;
Now up with a mew and a squawk,
And fix the Crowell clan."

Archer City expects a big crowd from all over the county and throughout the district at Friday's game, and fans are assured of their money's worth.

White Sox Whip Cubs to Win Baseball Title In Chicago

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Donie Bush's White Sox, cellar dwellers of the 1931 American league race, are the baseball champions of Chicago.

Salvaging their only hope of one of the most disappointing campaigns in years, the Bushmen won the city championship today by crushing the Cubs, 7 to 2 in the seventh and final game of their annual battle. It was their first victory in the series since 1926.

Today's victory was the 11th in 18 series for the White Sox. The Cubs have won six, while one was tied.

Lamesa Makes Good Start Towards Pennant

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 6.—The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, under Coach F. T. McCollum, are making a good start toward class B district two championship. Although the team is made up of lightweights it is fast and has responded readily to coaching. The strength of the team as a defensive aggregation was shown in its games with the strong class A teams which won by small margins, Big Spring 13 to 0, and Lubbock 32 to 0. It has won a 6 to 0 match over the Lamesa All-stars, the first game of the season; 30 to 0 over Crane High school, and 26 to 0 over Rotan High school.

It was scheduled for a game with Tahoka here Oct. 9, its first conference game, but Tahoka has forfeited this game, and this date is open at this time, according to Coach McCollum. Other matches have been scheduled with Colorado here Oct. 16, and Brownfield here, Oct. 30. Other dates are open.

Coach McCollum is assisted by Coaches Gregg and Bryant in the preparation of the squad, and Treadaway is captain of the team.

LEOPARDS OPEN SEASON FRIDAY

Team Matched With Dunbar High of Paris

The Booker T. Washington High school Leopards open their football season here Friday at 3:30 o'clock at Washington Athletic park against the Bulldogs of the Dunbar High school of Paris, Texas.

The loss by graduation of Johnson and Brown, backs, and Jefferson, Payne, and Pointer, linemen, has caused Coach Daniels considerable worry in trying to replace them with capable men. Thirty-five men have been in uniform each day since the opening of school, and the coach feels that his new material will fit in nicely around Bush and Jackson, backs, and Bazy, Temple, Freeman, and Flurry, linemen.

The records show that the Dunbar Bulldogs played championship football in their district last season, defeating by healthy scores some of the best teams in their section of the state.

The Leopards will play most of their games away from home this season, having played all but one game at home last year.

The Leopards had a great football machine last year, and attracted many white patrons to games here.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—A sharp rally occurred in cotton today and prices advanced around $1.75 per bale.

The December position, after selling at 5.50 early, advanced to 5.89, later reacting partially and closing at 5.82, a net advance of 31 points, while the general market closed steady at 31 to 35 points net higher.

The opening was steady, 1 point higher to 2 points lower. On the whole, the volume of business, while quite large, was not as large as on some of the active days last week and trade buyers displayed some hesitation about following advances and there was an absence of aggressive new buying owing to the large percentage of the crop still to be marketed and a tendency to await Thursday's government crop estimate.

The average of eight private crop estimates indicated a yield of 15,569,000 bales while the average guess of 87 members of the New York cotton exchange was 15,960,000, which compared with the September government estimate of 15,686,000.

Liverpool cabled that the market there had been influenced by Bombay buying, hedging, covering and easier sterling and said that cloth sales to China were encouraging. Exports today 18,934 making 881,747 so far this season. Port receipts 73,642. U. S. port stocks 3,485,382.

Stock Market Values Shoot Up Under Hope of Business Revival

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (US)—A phenomenally advancing stock market, which added almost 10 per cent value to average quotations, today, was the response to the sudden overnight intimation that great constructive developments are pending in the economic situation. Prices moved forward at a pace probably not exceeded, proportionately to the respective price levels, even during the fantastic bull market era prior to the 1929 panic.

There was no mystery about the incentive to buy stocks, and no mystery was made as usually of the sources of the buying. That the financial and political worlds, as represented by Wall street and Washington respectively, had finally arrived at some satisfactory basis for cooperation was sufficient to stir up tremendous enthusiasm.

Lacking the usual opposition of bear-selling at advancing prices, the upturn gained momentum rather than lost speed as it proceeded through virtually the entire session. Short selling, frowned upon by the stock exchange and virtually banned by the repeated restrictions, has been hardly existent during the past week or more. Then, too, the great depreciation had discouraged most of the aggressive bear crowds who have virtually withdrawn entirely from the market, though some had veered around within the past 10 days to the bull side.

Practically right up to the close, prices marched forward without a let-up except for such profit-taking which quite naturally was being invited by the abnormally rapid appreciation recorded.

Purchasing, in the absence of short covering on any scale due to practical extinction of a short interest, was virtually exclusively genuine, either for speculation or investment holding. Morgan brokers, and banking representatives vied with brokers for "the public" in the mad rush to acquire stocks, as some prognosticators hailed "the end of the bear market." It was a dramatic day for the stock exchange with only a few skeptics remaining.

The presidential official announcement that a great constructive program had been constructed and would be made public overnight was accepted as conclusive evidence of a new spirit of cooperation in which the mightiest banking powers were alligned in support of a governmental plan, possibly for the first time during the bear market.

Whether the great bull movement was staged by the banking powers as a demonstration of their power, for impressing the Washington authorities of the value of their cooperation, remains to be proven. For the day, the market accepted as sufficient unto itself the market's remarkable turnabout immediately upon the dense gloom and pessimism of the preceding few days, when staunch individuals questioned even the advisability of keeping open the stock exchange.

With prices booming five and ten points, there was no discrimination of an investment nature. It was mainly a demonstration of immense relief that the dire forebodings of frantic investors and speculators were unlikely of realization.

The whole market staged a tremendous celebration. No other term quite describes the performance which developed out of the hope that out of the intense darkness a new spirit of collaboration and cooperation is developing. Such collaboration between political and financial powers has long been proclaimed by this column as essential to restoration of stabilized markets and the commencement of a lasting turn for the better.

If the promises of the last few days are fulfilled, what is happening now may well mark the turning point.

The bond market joined stocks in the uprush and the performance of bonds was accepted as more conclusive proof that "something was in the wind."

The question on everybody's lips was: "What great program has Hoover promulgated to meet the demands or terms or desires of the great banking powers?"

Undoubtedly, upon the highest authority this column learns, the president, with the approval and promised hearty backing of the banking world, has evolved a plan which it is hoped will relieve the banking situation of the entire nation. The major plank of the program, which is of course subject to congressional approval, involves lifting from the banks the great frozen assets comprising real estate debts, bond and stock loans frozen by lack of ready markets, and foreign loans which have become frozen.

Speculators who had successfully anticipated the sudden turn were taking profits toward the close. Then, too, there was considerable skepticism toward the open buying by the banking interests, which was too unorthodox to impress the skeptics. The rapid pace was inducing caution, but the happenings of the last few days are such that they may prove momentous.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 6. (AP)—Robust upturns in grain prices today kept pace with a spirited advance of securieits. Much of the augmented buying which accompanied the rise of wheat especially was associated with general expectance that some important constructive news would follow a conference at the White House tonight to consider the present business situation. An upswing of British exchange rates and a reported complete stoppage of winter wheat seeding in western Kansas counted also as an incentive to buyers.

Wheat closed firm 2@2½c higher, corn 1½@1¾c up, oats ⅛@1¼c advanced, and provisions varying from 10c decline to 15c gain.

Wheat traders plainly gave evidence of the most cheerful frame of mind they have enjoyed in a long while. Sharp advances of the stock market were an early source of encouragement, inasmuch as recent bearish action of securities had formed the greatest immediate obstacle to efforts for higher prices on grains. Commission house demand though broadened much more when main attention in the wheat pit focused on apparent likelihood that the White House conference called by President Hoover would prove to be of unusual significance in the direction of business improvement.

Corn and oats chiefly reflected the advances of wheat and stock. Unsettled weather over the corn belt was an additional incentive to buyers.

Provisions averaged higher with stocks and grain, despite lower hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Dec. 46¼@46⅜c, 48⅛c; May 50⅛c, 52⅛@52¼c. Corn—Dec. 34@34⅛c, 35⅝@35⅛c; May 38c, 39½c.

WHEELER ROAD WORK PUSHED

Concrete to Be Laid on Two Highway Routes

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Oct. 6.—Actual laying of concrete on highways 66 and 4 through Wheeler county is expected to start within the next few days after arrival of delayed machinery at the Shamrock construction plant. Gravel pits south of Shamrock are complete and work has been held up pending arrival of machinery to be used at mixing and washing plants which have been established near the Rock Island depot.

Offices have been established for the L. E. Whitham & Co. in a building on Main street after partitions had been erected and the interior painted and remodeled. C. I. Dillon, head of the office department, arrived Sunday and took charge of the office.

Work on an underpass one mile west of Shamrock at the intersection of highway 66 and the Fort Worth and Denver rail lines is being rushed and the project is nearing completion.

All state and national roads out of Shamrock are closed now prior to laying of concrete and with the exception of the road to McLean travel is being directed over detours that were used when grading work was underway on the roads. To McLean travel is sent over a road lying south of the Rock Island rail line to Amarillo.

With the completion of the present paving project Wheeler county will have one of the best highway systems in the Panhandle, having all state and national roads paved through the county.

FREE PRISONERS

MOSCOW.—Soviet Russia, showing a change of heart, recently freed 700 political prisoners in labor camps and Moscow jails, and shortened the terms of more than 100 others. Among the prisoners are some of the best minds of the former czarist Russia, and these are to be encouraged to work for the good of the new country.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 6. (AP)—Firmer resistance to price declines was noted in cotton goods markets today, but business continued light. Rayon fabric markets were dull following a readjustment of yarn values due to the abandonment of the guaranteeing policy. Burlaps were unchanged locally and in light demand. Wool goods markets were quiet in first hands. Silk manufacturers were doing a light nearby business.

Civic Players' First Production Stamped as Success by Audience

If the pleasure of about 450 persons in an opening performance be a criterion for the ensuing season, the Civic Theater Players assured themselves a large and favoring patronage during the coming winter with their presentation of "A Lady's Veil" at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday night.

The two-hour mystery comedy compiled by George Middleton and Stewart Oliver is light in its motivation and purposed to unfold an interesting story rather than to delve psychologic depths. For that reason, with its highly effective mystery element, it was chosen as the new organization's opening attraction.

The cast presented under the direction of J. C. Strauss Jr., maintained a surprising tempo in their action, and a commendable articulation of parts. Occasional lapses in dialog and stage business commonly expected on first nights in amateur productions were rarely detected Tuesday night.

Miss Dorothy Campbell, cast in the titular role, carries the principal burden of dramatic continuity, and proved herself as resourceful as charming in the varied moods which it demands. Langourously alluring one moment, lightly facetious the next, and finally a shrewd and virile woman of affairs, Miss Campbell's impersonation of Marie DuQuesne was highly satisfying.

Kendrick Cushing and H. H. Ferrell divide honors as two bachelor brothers, into whose apartment the lady of mystery is suddenly dropped. The emotional type skillfully portrayed by Mr. Cushing provided an excellent male counterpart to the romantic phases of Miss Campbell's role. To Mr. Ferrell was assigned much of the repartee which gives the play a wealth of pleasant humor. Materially aided by Aunt Hen, as played by Margaret Cushing, Mr. Ferrell made the most of his opportunities. Ridley Maples scored heavily as the obsequious but sinister butler.

A. F. Edwards, J. W. Thorne, Gerald Coffey, and Allan Rowan comprised the remainder of the cast, each being charged with the success of a particular scene. The entire cast is to be commended.

Sets and lighting effects afforded by the Memorial auditorium proved of great value in the presentation of the season-opener. Reaction of the more than 400 persons present definitely stamped the Civic Theater Players' premier as successful. The play is to be repeated Wednesday night at 8:15 o'clock. Tickets will be on sale throughout the day at Renfro's No. 1.

'SCABS' TAKE JOBS ON DOCKS

Strike-Breakers Replace Union Longshoremen

HOUSTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—A maritime labor committee today was duplicating its work of yesterday in recruiting non-union dock workers to replace union longshoremen who went on strike Thursday rather than accept a wage cut.

The downtown labor station operated by the committee was opened again. Approximately 600 men were hired yesterday but they were paid off last night and the committee started all over again today.

Some of the same workers were going back on the job this morning. Some had dropped out after being paid and were supplanted by new men. A handful of striking longshoremen picketed the labor station but there was little heckling and no disturbance. Quiet also prevailed on the docks.

Murray Whets Appetite By Turning Somersaults

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 6. (UP)—This business of standing on your head is conducive to a hefty appetite, an exponent of that phase of acrobatic art declared today.

He was none other than William Henry Murray, colorful, eccentric, etc., etc., governor of Oklahoma.

Murray admitted that he was in a "right frisky mood" when his colleague, Gov. Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, asked him out to supper last night. He gave vent to his friskiness, he said, by turning himself upside down on his host's lawn, much to the delight of Governor Bryan.

"And I guess that's why I'm so hungry this morning," he said at the union station over his meal of broiled salt mackerel, rolls, butter and coffee. He was returning to Oklahoma City from a three-day speaking tour in Iowa and Nebraska.

Surviving her are her husband, B. Pasley and baby daughter, Marcella Laverne; her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, of Fort Smith, Ark.; one sister, Mrs. Ruby Sutton, of Hedley, Texas; two brothers, J. G. Wilson of Memphis and Chester Wilson of Fort Smith, Ark. All were present for the funeral. Interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Shamrock Strengthened For Game With Sayre

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Oct. 5.—When Sayre footballers meet the Shamrock Irishmen on the Shamrock gridiron next Friday they will find a team that is stronger and better than the Shamrock team which played Erick to a 6-6 tie in the second game of the season at Erick, Okla.

Two men from Fort Worth have been added to the lineup and changes have been made whereby Sims, a former half, is now playing end.

Sayre, each year a contender for honors in its conference, has a stronger team this year than usually and has beaten Cheyenne, Okla., and Wheeler, who took the Shamrock gridsters for a loss in the first game of the season for Shamrock. However, Hooker of Wheeler was out of the game with Sayre because of an ankle injury and he was the mainstay of a one-man team when Shamrock was defeated.

C-C APPROVES NEW PROJECTS

Buffalo Herd, U. S. Building Are Discussed

report is to be heard at the next meeting of the board. Decision to take action on the matter followed the request of several members of the board that an investigation be made.

H. W. Underhill, head of the construction company awarded the contract for the construction of the federal building here, spoke briefly before the board, and outlined the advantages of granite over limestone. Granite facings, he said, are more beautiful and add years to the durability of a structure. He said also that construction material prices have decreased greatly within the past few months, and will result in the construction of a much finer building than was at first anticipated. The contractor was introduced to members of the board by Frank Kell.

Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., introduced to the board the proposition that efforts be made to obtain the Goodnight herd of buffalo. The state game commission has been granted appropriations for the purchase of the herd, it was explained, and will place the herd on some range selected from a number that are expected to be offered by various communities of the state. Mayor Nelson suggested that a range in the vicinity of Diversion lake be offered.

A committee to conduct efforts to bring the herd here was appointed after the meeting by J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber. The committee is formed by George H. Williams, chairman, and Walter Nelson Jr., J. H. Allison, Judge W. N. Bonner and B. B. Greever.

The committee will confer with the state committee named to select the range. Gen. John A. Hulen, vice president and general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, Fort Worth, is chairman of the state committee. Other members are to be appointed in the near future, and at that time the local committee will confer with the state group. In the meantime the committee here will conduct an investigation to select a site for the proposed range and will work out plans to obtain the tract.

Meat Show Planned

Plans for the proposed meat show were presented by J. N. Sherrill, chairman of the chamber's agricultural committee. Planning of details of the event will start in the immediate future, it was said.

With reference to the Wichita Falls baseball franchise, the sports and recreations committee was authorized to present data to the St. Louis Browns, owners of the club here, designed to show that the city will support the team as well as any other place in the state where the franchise could be transferred. Considerable discussion was heard on the matter, inasmuch as rumors are prevalent that the Spudder franchise will be moved to another city next season. The sports committee is headed by Carter McGregor.

The committee named to arrange for the ground-breaking celebration for the new postoffice is composed of B. B. Greever, chairman, and O. P. Maricle, postmaster; Ed Howard, former postmaster here; Herbert Voelcker, architect for the new building; Orville Bullington, who was a leader in securing federal authorization for the construction of the building; Jerry Vinson, Lester Jones, Frank Cripliver, J. W. Lyle and Burton Stayton.

The committee held its first meeting during the afternoon, and tentatively set the date of the celebration for the morning of Oct. 15. Invitations have been extended to John W. Philip, assistant postmaster general, and to Congressman Guinn Williams to be present for the event. In the event acceptances are received, the two officials will be principal speakers on the program.

Postmaster Maricle will have the honor of turning the first shovelful of dirt on the project, and will be assisted by former postmasters of Wichita Falls.

Tentative arrangements only thus far have been made, Mr. Greever reported Tuesday. Plans will be definitely completed by Saturday, he said.

Kansas City Buildings Bombed in Labor War

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 6. (UP)—A long smouldering labor war—allegedly the attempt of unions to force their workers upon city contractors—flared today with the bombing of four buildings.

Three theaters and a state-erected highway garage were dynamited.

"I've ordered every officer to shoot to kill," Police Chief Louis Siegfried announced tonight. "It's a waste of time to arrest bombers."

Chief Siegfried's drastic order was made necessary, he said, because the recent Wickersham report on crime, discussing police brutality, made it "almost impossible" to obtain convictions on a police confession.

Robertson County Wars On Truck Law Violators

HEARNE, Texas, Oct. 6. (AP)—Robertson county officers filed traffic violation charges against the operators of 79 cotton trucks here today.

The 79 operators were charged variously with using over-length trucks, over-width, improper lights, lack of state license, chauffeurs license or permit from the state railroad commission.

Tariff Made Issue Pan-American Parley

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. (AP)—An unmistakable determination to make an issue of high tariffs was expressed today by delegates to the four Pan-American commercial conference.

A Cuban proposal that import duties remain unchanged for two years, pending a study by a special committee, formally was introduced. A disagreement on its disposition followed.

GAS MEETING HERE TODAY

Leaders to Discuss City's Drive for Low Rates

City Manager V. R. Smitham, Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., City Attorney Thelbert Martin and members of the city council will hold a conference Wednesday noon at the Wichita club with the citizens' advistory committee created several months ago to aid the city in its fight for lower domestic gas rates.

Judge J. T. Montgomery is chairman of the committee. Its other members are Ed Howard, Luke McCrory, Burton Staton and Homer Lee. Appraisal of the local plant of the Municipal Gas company, and the passage of an ordinance lowering gas rates here, were the result of recommendations made by Judge Montgomery's committee to the council earlier in the year.

The ordinance adopted here to provide 50-cent gas after Oct. 1 was suspended last week by the state railroad commission pending final determination as to the justice of the measure. To obtain such a suspension, the Municipal Gas company posted a $60,000 bond.

Plans for carrying forward the city's campaign for actual reduction of the gas rates here will be discussed Thursday, according to Mayor Nelson. Recommendations as to Wichita Falls' immediate procedure will be asked by the city council from Judge Montgomery's committee, it was said.

Junior C-C to Sponsor Campaign To Secure Books for Kemp Library

A campaign to secure donations of current books for the Kemp public library was planned by the board of directors of the Junior chamber of commerce, which held its semi-monthly meeting at the Wichita club Tuesday noon.

The board authorized the printing of slips to be inserted in book sale packages at book stores here and calling attention of the purchaser to the need of the library. Many persons, it was explained, purchase books and after reading them have no further use for them. An appeal also will be made to members of the Junior chamber of commerce asking that they donate books to the library. Henry Penix, chairman of the committee in charge, reported to the board on the matter. Other members of the committee are Overton Abernathy and H. B. Dudley.

Discussion was given to the special train to be operated from Wichita Falls to Childress Saturday, when the Wichita Falls High school football team plays its only out-of-town conference game. T. J. Waggoner Jr., president of the junior chamber, urged all directors to attend the game at Childress and to give a part of their time and efforts to obtaining other passengers for the train.

Each director gave assurance that he would be among the crowd of 10,000 sought by the organization to attend the Wichita county fair at Iowa Park on Wichita Falls day, Thursday.

Discussion also was heard by the board on means of improving attendance at the semi-monthly membership luncheons.

Youth Fined $25 for Aggravated Assault

Pleading guilty to a charge of aggravated assault before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Tuesday morning, a youth was fined $25 and costs, according to County Attorney Louis V. Abernathy.

It was charged that during a struggle between the defendant and another young man, a gun in the hand of the former was discharged. A plea of leniency, entered by the second party to the encounter, was influential in obtaining the light sentence, Mr. Abernathy said. Pleading guilty to theft of a watch valued at about $30, a Mexican youth was sentenced to five days in the Wichita county jail, plus costs of trial.

Physician Files Suit For $10,000 Damages

Suit for $10,000 damages was brought in district court here Tuesday by Dr. C. C. Deen against Dr. George P. Snyder of Glen Rose, Texas, the plaintiff alleging that he has been damaged by notices published in Wichita Falls papers by the defendant during the past few months.

Dr. Deen alleges that he was for a considerable period employed by the defendant at a sanitarium in Glen Rose, and withdrew from that position to pursue a private practice here. He declares in his petition that in his advertisements his experience at Glen Rose was cited, and that Dr. Snyder published in papers here announcements allegedly designed to discountenance the plaintiff with the public. He seeks actual damages of $5,000, and exemplary damages in like amount.

Arguments upon a motion for new trial filed with Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court Tuesday afternoon by attorneys for John Alsup, former Fort Worth policeman sentenced Sunday to 10 years on a murder charge, will be heard Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, it was announced Tuesday.

Jones County Brothers Average 1,500 Pounds Of Cotton Daily

ANSON, Texas, Oct. 6.—Anson has plenty of men who do lots of work, but perhaps to two brothers belongs the palm for bringing in the fleecy staple. They are Joe and Oliver Womack, sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Womack who live north of town on the C. Whittemore farm.

These two boys are now pulling around 1,500 pounds of cotton daily, second pulling, whereas two weeks ago they were gathering a full bale of 1,900 pounds daily. Other smaller children in the family also make good records.

At the usual price of 35 cents a hundred for pulling, they are making $2.50 to $3.30 daily each, and as cotton and other products get cheaper this looks like a good deal of money.

Business Council To Study Outlook Of Oil Industry

Mr. Hines, it was said, will speak generally on the oil industry as it affects this area. A part of his comment will concern future prospects of the oil industry here.

E. H. Eddleman, chairman of the chamber's oil and gas committee, will have charge of the program.

Mr. Hargett has issued a special invitation to local oil men and those affiliated with oil offices, here to attend the meeting. As is customary, he said, the meeting will be opened for a general discussion immediately following the arranged program.
