Fit and Ready for Second Term Tasks

Slightly grayer and slightly more bald, but fit and ready for his second term, his strong features unmarked by the strain of his "depression" administration, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt especially posed before the inauguration ceremonies.

80,000 Homeless As Waters Roll

MANY CITIES FACING MAJOR CATASTROPHE

PITTSBURGH IS AGAIN MENACED BY GREAT FLOOD

By The Associated Press CHICAGO, Jan. 22—Relentless rivers of the Ohio Valley, swelling toward the highest crests in their history, swept man and his puny barriers before them today.

Flood waters along thousands of miles of riverfront in 10 states claimed at least 11 lives, made more than 80,000 homeless and caused property damage that mounted into the millions.

The grim prospect of a major catastrophe hung over cities and towns along the banks of the yellow Ohio, with 15,000 homeless in the Portsmouth area and 10,000 in the Cincinnati District.

Added to the homeless, the injured and the ill were the unemployed, thousands of them forced from water-logged factories.

The nation's flood panorama stretched from Pittsburgh where waters eddied again into the business district, the "Golden Triangle," to northeastern Arkansas and southeastern Missouri, plagued by heavy rain, swelling backwaters and the rising Mississippi.

The Ohio reached a stage of 70 feet at Cincinnati today. Meteorologist W. C. Devereaux predicted the "greatest flood on record" for Cincinnati and lower river points.

A sheet storm whipped the Southern Illinois flood zone, breaking telephone and telegraph connections and adding new hardships to the army of workers reinforcing dikes and levees. Shawneetown, isolated by high water, threatened with the worst flood since 1913, was completely cut off when wires went down. Naval reservists went on the air immediately to establish radio contact with the stricken area.

Twenty nine hundred convicts in the Kentucky state reformatory at Frankfort manned pumps when flood waters of the Kentucky river swept into the institution.

At Pittsburgh, water crept thru the streets of the industrial district for the first time since the devastating inundation last March.

Spectacular Gas Blaze Is Caused By Explosion

Sudden change in temperature was believed responsible for the parting of a gas line leading to the Cargary Corporation's gasoline plant west of Pampa about 3 o'clock this morning.

The line parted with a roar that could be heard by residents of west Pampa. Escaping gas could be heard after the first explosion and until wells leading into the line had been shut off.

C. F. Free, superintendent of the plant, said this morning that between 15,000,000 and 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas was being forced through the line with 200 pounds pressure. Damage will be repaired immediately.

Flames from the broken line shot 250 yards from the spot. Only the lucky direction of the wind saved the plant from being destroyed.

Wind from the north and the explosion occurred about 400 yards east of the plant.

It was at first believed someone was trying to "tap" the line. Not until this morning did employees determine that the line parted. "Tappers" have been active in that section recently, Mr. Free said.

LEADERS HIT BY PRESIDENT IN INTERVIEW

STATEMENTS ARE 'NOT IN ORDER,' HE DECLARES

(By The Associated Press) Secretary Perkins' efforts for General Motors strike truce break down; company officials leave Washington.

Next move put up to President Roosevelt by corporation head and labor leaders.

John L. Lewis, strike director, says campaign among Ford and Chrysler employes to follow settlement.

Chrysler Corporation closes four Detroit plants because of glass shortage.

General Motors says 75 per cent of workers in 43 plants protest cessation of operations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Roosevelt said today statements, conversations and headlines were "not in order" in efforts to settle the automobile strike.

The President made his first comment on the sit-down strike in General Motors plants at his first press conference of his second term.

In response to questions about the statements in government efforts to settle the widespread strike, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I have no further news than what you have. Of course, I think that in the interest of peace there come moments when statements, conversations and headlines are not in order."

In a departure from customary rules of his press conferences, he allowed this statement to be quoted.

It aroused immediate speculation over whether he directed it against any particular statement by either side, or press interviews and other remarks given by representatives of both sides.

Negotiations for further conferences ended abruptly for the second time here yesterday after conferences at the labor department.

Both Alfred P. Sloan Jr., company president, and bushy-haired John L. Lewis, strike generalissimo, indicated their belief a White House conference was the next logical step.

The White House has given no indication, however, that Mr. Roosevelt would take any immediate move to take over the role of peace-maker.

Secretary Perkins' final effort to bring about a peace agreement broke down last night when Sloan expressed disapproval of a statement by

ULTIMATUM IS SENT REDS IN NORTH CHINA

NANKING, Jan. 22 (AP)—Military authorities issued an ultimatum today to the revolting communist-inspired armies of the northwest, ordering them to surrender by midnight (10 a. m. CST) or war would follow.

At the same time reports here indicated the revolution had spread from Shensi province to Kansu and Tsinghai, threatening the safety of 38 Americans.

Unconfirmed reports said the government had rushed an airplane to Lanchow, capital of Kansu, in an effort to evacuate foreigners.

Reports filtering in to the U. S. embassy from the outlying districts, however, indicated many of them were fleeing to the comparative safety of the Yangtze valley.

According to a radiogram received by the United States embassy from the American Seventh Day Adventist mission at Lanchow, the situation was uncertain but no efforts were being made toward evacuating from the city proper as yet.

No mention was made, however, of other sections of Kansu province or Tsinchih where it was known the exodus has started.

Mission offices at Hankow were said to have been informed by their workers in the affected area that grave uncertainties existed, necessitating abandonment of homes and mission properties.

The communist armies were reported leaving their strongholds to the north and penetrating southward, occupying the principal cities on the great northwest lanes of travel.

Carl Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Foster, left Pampa-Jarratt hospital today for his home at Phillips camp after an appendectomy.

Advisory Board For C-C Named

Four newly elected Pampans and one re-elected member will comprise the 1937 chamber of commerce advisory board. It was revealed last night when retiring members counted ballots mailed by members.

The new board will be comprised of Lynn Boyd, Mel B. Davis, Farris Oden, M. A. Graham and De Lea Vickers, re-named.

The retiring board was composed of Ivy E. Duncan, Dan Gribbon, Bert Curry, H. C. Wilson and De Lea Vickers.

Sandies - Harvesters To Meet Here on Nov. 11

The 1937 Harvesters will meet Amarillo here next Armistice day, and Lubbock will play in Amarillo on Thanksgiving day. It was decided today, in a meeting of football coaches and school heads of the district in Plainview.

The remainder of the Pampa football schedule calls for games at Lubbock on Oct. 29, at Plainview Nov. 19, and with Berger on Harvesters field on Nov. 25. The district schedule was made without argument, reports from the meeting said.

Newspapers in the district will be asked to publish before October 1 the name, place of birth, and date of birth of every player in the district, the grid mentors voted. Eligibility will be discussed in a district meeting in Amarillo on Oct. 9.

Another vote at the Plainview meeting favored division of schools into A and AA classification for grid competition.

Attending the meeting from Pampa were Supt. E. B. Fisher, Coach Odus Mitchell, and Harry E. Hoare, sports editor of the Daily NEWS. Coach Blair Cherry of Amarillo was not present, as he was in Ft. Worth conferring with Dana W. Bible, newly elected coach of Texas University.

AIRMEN FAIL TO BREAK UP REBEL LINES

(By The Associated Press) Socialist airmen five times today attempted to break the lines of Madrid's Fascist besiegers.

Squadrons of government planes dropped tons of bombs on Fascist lines south and west of the beleaguered capital while infantrymen were capturing a strategic hill dominating the northwestern battle zone.

Portugal, long fearful such civil strife would spread through the entire Iberian peninsula, blamed two days of terroristic bombings on international agitators and said the "Spanish Reds" had previous knowledge of the bombings.

Portugal, long fearful such civil strife would spread through the entire Iberian peninsula, blamed two days of terroristic bombings on international agitators and said the "Spanish Reds" had previous knowledge of the bombings.

The insurgent headquarters at San Sebastian added a threat to the complicated international situation, announcing the Fascist fleet in Biscaia bay had been ordered to halt and inspect any vessel encountered in waters controlled by insurgents.

Germany, meanwhile, made ready to reply to the British note demanding a ban on foreign volunteers. The note, being put in final form after Reichsfuehrer Hitler's approval, will be favorable in tone but will make no detailed commitments.

Plans for an insurgent coup in autonomous Catalonia, reports from Perpignan, France, said, were frustrated when a ton of dynamite was discovered in a villa outside Barcelona.

Directors for aiding the landing of Fascist troops also was found, the reports declared.

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 22 (AP)—Pope Pius XI, himself dangerously ill, recited special prayers from his sickbed today in memory of his predecessor, Benedict XV, who died just 15 years ago.

Mass was said simultaneously in the private chapel, adjoining the sick room, for the man who made Pius both archbishop and cardinal.

Dr. Amintore Milani, the pontiff's chief physician, made a prolonged examination of the holy father's condition after he was officially reported to have passed a bad night.

Excruciating pain in his left leg, these sources said, interspersed with periods of semi-suffocation kept his doctors and nurses constantly vigilant.

LATE NEWS

MONTREAL, Jan. 22 (Canadian Press)—Three of the Rondeau quadruplets died today after doctors sought to save them by a desperate race over icy roads to a hospital.

The two youngest babies—Joseph Achille Alfred and Marie Lise—died at 6:30 a. m. Another of the quadruplets, whose identity was not immediately made known, succumbed shortly after 11 a. m.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—John L. Lewis rallied strikers paralyzing the automobile industry to sit tight for an "honorable settlement." Talking to reporters shortly after President Roosevelt had suggested "in the interest of peace" a truce in "statements, conversations and headlines," Lewis said the strike would continue "long enough to force General Motors into a collective bargaining contract."

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors corporation, returned today from Washington conferences on the sit-down strike in General Motors plants with the statement: "There is hope. I can say that. It's so terrible important. We've got to do something. The situation must be solved."

FIREMEN GET CHECK A check for $15 was given to the Pampa fire department today by Manager R. J. Hagan of the Portland Gasoline plant, with a note of appreciation for services of the firemen who made a run to the plant the first of this week to subdue a threatening blaze.

Chief Ben White and members of the department in turn thanked the plant for its substantial token of appreciation.

JAP MILITARY CONTROL MAY BE NEAR END

CALIFORNIANS FIGHT FREEZE IN ORCHARDS

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22 (AP)—Citrus growers of Southern California, fighting to protect a total investment of $500,000,000, kept orchard heaters going hours past the dawn today combating the worst freeze since 1913.

Preliminary reports indicated the damage was not as much as had been feared when forecasts were issued indicating possible lows of 16 degrees at scattered points.

In Los Angeles the official minimum was 24 degrees but Col. L. H. Daignerfield said the warm air drifting from the heated orchards probably prevented the breaking of the all-time low temperature here of 28 degrees, set in 1885 and 1913.

Unofficial, front-porch thermometers dipped as low as 20 degrees, and icicles formed under ice box drains.

Citrus men said the orchard heating was the longest and most intensive the world has ever seen. The pall of oily smoke over Los Angeles, through which the sun shone but dimly even at 8:30 a. m. P. S. T., was the thickest seen here in a generation.

It was so heavy at the harbor that fog horns were kept blowing all night.

It will probably be hours, and perhaps days, before agricultural experts can survey the crop, valued in its entirety last year at $112,000,000, to determine if the damage of the first great freeze of the winter, Jan. 9, has been further increased.

Up to last night the loss was unofficially estimated at upwards of $15,000,000.

Two of Quebec Quadruplets Die

MONTREAL, Jan. 22 (Canadian Press)—Two of the Rondeau quadruplets, rushed to St. Justine hospital in a 40-mile dash over icy roads during which their ambulance crashed into a snow plow, died today.

Hospital attendants announced the dead babies were Joseph Achille Alfred and Marie Lise, third and fourth in the order of birth.

The two boys and two girls were born yesterday to Mrs. Arcade Rondeau, 40-year-old farmwife of St. Thomas, Que.

Fearful the infants weighing little more than two pounds each, could not live unless placed in incubators, physicians ordered them brought here before dawn.

All reached the hospital alive and apparently unharmed in the accident, doctors said.

At the end of his mercy dash, the ambulance driver was carried from his seat on a stretcher. He, the doctor, and one of two nurses accompanying the quadruplets were injured in the crash.

LITTLE DAMAGE DONE BY BLAZE AT PLANT

Little damage was done by a fire at the Barrett Bros. packing plant this morning. The blaze started from the water heating system for the scalding vat, and burned through the roof at the rear of the plant. The fire department quickly extinguished the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Goodner of White Deer visited here briefly Wednesday, enroute to West Columbia to spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. John Barnhart.

LARGEST HONOR COURT TO BE MONDAY NIGHT

One of the largest Courts of Honor in the history of the Adobe Walls Boy Scout council is scheduled for Monday night in the district court room at the court house.

Not only will a record number of advancements and merit badges be awarded, but a record crowd is expected. The Court of Honor will center largely around a program to be given by Troop 14 and by a contest between Troops 80 and 16.

Parents and friends of boys in all troops are expected to be present. All interested persons, particularly teachers, ministers and members of institutions sponsoring the troops are invited to attend.

At least 200 merit badges and a fourth as many advancements will be awarded at the Court of Honor.

C. H. Walker, president of the Adobe Walls council, announced that some official of the council would be act as secretary to Chairman L. L. McColm who will preside at the court. Mr. Walker said that an engagement at McColm would prevent him from attending.

JUDGE SPEAKS OF DELINQUENT YOUTH IN CITY

Junior High P-TA's Speaker Tells of Problem Here

The changing problem of juvenile delinquency in Pampa was discussed by County Judge Sherman White before Junior High Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon, who emphasized that help for the underprivileged child is the greatest need because most young delinquents come from this group.

Today's problem is different from that of five years ago, the former county attorney said. It was the years 1931-'32 that most children were sent from Pampa to state training schools. He gave credit to school bands for helping solve the delinquency problem, saying that a boy or girl who loves music does not become a criminal. Credit was also given the Boy Scout movement for its influence on boys.

"Most bad girls and boys are caused by bad parents, who in most cases deserve the punishment. Just as long as these parents neglect their children, Gray county will have juvenile problems," said the speaker.

The association met at high school cafeteria for a program and business. Mmes. L. M. Colm, Bob Seecs, and Principal R. A. Selby were named as a nominating committee for next term's officers.

Junior High band, directed by A. C. Cox, played three numbers. Mrs. J. Pool gave the invocation, and Mrs. Ray Reeder led songs with piano accompaniment by Miss Lois Amlin.

Mr. Selby announced that school glee clubs will present an operetta soon in the new high school auditorium. He thanked the association for a gift of new books for the school library.

Miss Opal McKay's room received the award for having the largest representation of parents at the meeting.

GERMANY'S COLONIAL DREAM TO COME TRUE

BERLIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Persistent yet officially denied rumors amid the ranks of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler's black-uniformed "schutz staffel" today had it that Germany's colonial dream would be partly realized Jan. 30.

That is the day der fuehrer will address the reichstag, commemorating four years of nazi power in Germany, and members of the body-guard heard the reich was about to lease part of the Portuguese Angola for 99 years.

(Angola, containing 476,712 square miles covers a section of Africa twice as large as Germany itself and has many precious raw materials which are either scarce or non-existent in Germany. These include gold, silver, copper, manganese, cotton and rubber.)

Hitler's newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, attacked Czechoslovakia, as the Soviet Union's military outpost in central Europe.

Going beyond a thinly veiled warning from the foreign office to Germany while opportunity remained, the nazi leader's paper definitely linked Czechoslovakia to Russia.

The foreign office mouthpiece, Diplomatiche Politische Korrespondenz, made two definite charges: 1. Czechoslovakia is drifting into communism. 2. Its airports are being enlarged and improved in preparation for use by Soviet bombers.

Students Listen To Inauguration at Skellytown School

BY MRS. W. W. HUGHES. SKELLYTOWN, Jan. 22.—Ogdon Stroud's seventh grade had charge of the chapel program Wednesday, the day of the second inauguration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Wayne Tomlin presided over the program which consisted of a talk on "The History of Our Government," by Frances Lamb; "How the President is Chosen and Elected," by James Jett; "Relations Between Congress and the President," by Dorothy DeMoss, and "Relations Between the President and the Supreme Court," by Aladden Werth. When they had finished speaking the radio was turned on and the entire student body listened to the inauguration of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner, and the President's inaugural speech which followed.

The Skellytown Parent-Teacher association met Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. Mrs. J. A. Arwood, president, was in charge of a short business meeting, after a devotional led by the Rev. W. P. McMicken. Mrs. John Belgie was in charge of the program, which consisted of a group of songs by the fourth and fifth girls' chorus under direction of Bill Alsop; Billie Black and Tamara Arwood appeared in a tap dance; Elvia Spear played a piano solo. The principal speaker was F. E. Fisher of Skellytown, who spoke on "Efficiency."

Following the program all were invited to see the art exhibit prepared by Miss Sue Michle of work from the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades.

The picture presented by the P-T-A, each month to the room having the greater number to register was presented to Mrs. Bill Alsop's fourth grade room. Out-of-town guests for the event were Suot. George Heath and Mrs. Heath of the White Deer school.

The school board of Skellytown and White Deer have agreed to match the P-T-A's $80 in buying equipment to further music and art in Skellytown school. The most urgent need in this line was found to be a new piano, which will be purchased soon. Plans are being made to buy a radio-phonograph.

Miss Sue Michle, eighth grade teacher in the Skellytown school, has been out of school this week due to illness. She is at home in Lubbock.

Former Agent to Take Raton Post

Miss Ruby Adams, former home demonstration agent of Gray county, and Miss Mary Sifton, Potter county agent, have been visitors here from Amarillo. They were guests at a Mexican supper in the home of Mrs. Frank Leard Wednesday evening, when several friends were present.

After spending that night with friends in Canadian, they visited here briefly yesterday on the return trip to Amarillo.

Miss Adams, who has been supervisor of a federal home economics project in Amarillo since October, is to leave today for Raton, N. M., to accept a place as home demonstration agent of that county. She will attend a conference of agents at Las Cruces before taking up her duties Feb. 1.

ABERNATHY TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT; RATED AS STRONG AS WESTERNERS

LUBBOCK FIVE IS CLASSIEST SEEN IN CITY

SUPERB QUINTET WINS 36 TO 19 GAME LAST NIGHT

The Harvesters are not scheduled to have an easier time with Abernathy tonight at the local gym than they had with Lubbock's Westerners who defeated the local cagers 36 to 19 in the Pampans' first Panhandle League contest last night.

Observers generally agreed that Coach Goobor Keyes' Westerners were the classiest basketballers seen here this season. The Lubbock hoopers have won and lost from Abernathy, 1936 district champions, and they have twice defeated a team, Spade, that whipped Abernathy.

Led by a center that took all-regional honors last year, the Abernathy team is expected to play the Harvesters 31 to 16 on a road trip early this season. Abernathy will invade the local court at 8 o'clock tonight when the game will start, expecting to make it two in a row by a big score.

Lubbock Downed Plainview
The Harvesters may not find the competition so keen tomorrow night when the Plainview Bulldogs play the Pampans in a second Panhandle league contest. Lubbock Tuesday night smacked Plainview 24 to 14 on the Westerner floor, and that score indicates the Bulldogs ranked several points stronger than the Harvesters. The score at the half was Lubbock 12 and Plainview 6.

Plainview has a strong defense and most of the Westerner shots, as last night, were made from the vicinity of the center stripe. Plainview starters are Miller and Williams, forwards; Sigmon, center; Lovorn and Huston, guards, and Wylie and Louis, reserves. The Bulldogs held the Westerners to 4-all in the first quarter.

Lubbock Has Great Team

The least written about the Lubbock-Pampa battle last night, the better for all concerned. However, since this story will probably last another half column or so one might as well begin by saying that it was high time Lubbock brought a basketball team to Pampa. The Harvesters have won the Panhandle league title for the last three years, and for the same period have crubbed the Westerners. It appears that the Lubbock high school has the first basketball team worth bragging about it has had in a decade, and the 1937 club looks like a district winner.

It now begins to be fairly obvious that the 1937 Harvesters are going to have an exceedingly hard time getting out of the district. The team is probably below the average of all those Ochs teams coached, but even it has great possibilities and if and when the time comes when Cox and Dewey and Heiskell can play as good in a game as they can in practice, the Harvesters will go to town, even against Lubbock.

For instance, Cox and Heiskell and Dewey look good in practice; they hit the basket, they grab rebounds, they snag jump balls, they smother the second string goal shooters on the defense, but they have not yet acquired that experience which is necessary to play even better in games than in practice. They will, and it is predicted that they will, before the district tournament.

Simmons, Ford Star

Another thing. That was the roughest game seen here this season, and the Harvesters were the victims. For instance, Ayer never got but one opportunity to make a pivot shot (which he missed), because the Westerner defense was holding him from behind. The tall, heavy Lubbock footballers-on-vacation fouled continuously and they would not have lasted five minutes if the referee had called every foul. The Harvesters played rather cleanly during the first half, but during the last half they charged, and held deliberately and took the penalties that were assessed. Proving that one team cannot do any good at scoring if the other is playing rough and getting by with it.

With the exception of one field goal by Kilgore, all the other points from the field were by Ayer. Simmons, tackle on the 1936 Lubbock football team, six feet three inches tall and weighing 200 pounds, reminded one of Moose Hartman. He led the scoring with 14 points. Ayer was second with 11 points.

The Westerners shagged 80 per cent of all rebounds, they got the tip even when Ayer batted the ball at center. On numerous occasions, the Westerners forwards got away for setup goals. The Westerners missed many crisp shots, but the Harvesters missed all of theirs. It was practically impossible for Dewey to hit the basket. Ford, center, was Lubbock's other star; he made five field goals. Simmons was the roughest man on Lubbock's team and was not assessed a single foul, and Ford could have been fouled out the first quarter. With two minutes to go, Coach Keyes sent in his substitutes.

Independent Cage Tourney To Begin At Miami Tonight Basketball Over The Panhandle

BORGER, Jan. 22 — Shorn of everything but their playing suits, the Borger court teams conceded all honors to the boys and girls teams of Spearman Wednesday. The boys were out-netted 21 to 30 and the girls from Borger went "down under," 10 to 16.

Well along in play for the present year, the Bulldogs have failed to unmatch so much as one pair of players who pass without knocking the window lights out of athletic plants. Last night's appearance on the Spearman court was a repetition. Farflung heaves sailed into walls, the audience, or the opponents' heads in the course of the 32 minutes of play. Opening in the watchful Spearman defense went for little or naught as the locals blundered passes and were outfought on rebounds and jump plays.

BORGER, Jan. 22 — Nifty basketball, played by two nifty quintets, pleased a large audience of fans in the Phillips High School gymnasium Wednesday night, especially "nifty" in that the Phillips Blackhaws took a contest from Wheeler by a 43 to 28 count. The Phillips girls made it a regular victory homecoming by defeating the Wheeler girls, 40 to 19.

"Old Hutch" Hutch, ball hawking Phillips forward, ionized the scoring in the boys' contest, making a grand slam total of 21 points. "Old Hutch" converted rebounds and open shots seven times in the first half and threw in a free pass for good measure, in the last half banging away for three more field connections.

Fowler Second High

"Monk" Fowler, also a Phillips front liner, Ripleyized on seven field goals. Unwinding with his right hand the "Monk" peppered short shots and propelled long throws in such manner as to bring the on-lookers to applause. Smoothness of his execution was a joy to behold for his components but a pain in the basket for the Wheeler five. "Monk's" "believe 'em or not" shots gave him second scoring honors with 14 points.

While the large totals amassed by the two forwards factored in the Phillips win, their mates were also very much in the running. Control of the ball after retrieving same from the backboards was largely pre-eminent in the victory. Demings, Blackhawk center who fouled out in the latter part of the game; Boulter, guard; and Sangster, guard, used floor work for all there was in it to assist their mates carry thru the victory colors.

WHEELER CAGE NOTES

BY FERROL FICKE

The Wheeler senior girls' and boys' basketball teams made a trip to Mobeetie Tuesday night. The boys were defeated by a score of 31-24; the girls were defeated by a score of 20-27.

The Wheeler grade school junior girls and boys, the high school boys B team made a trip to Lela Tuesday. All teams were defeated except the grade school junior boys.

The senior boys' and girls' A teams played ball at Whittenburg Wednesday night.

FORMS OF FOOTBALL MOST POPULAR SPORT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—In America the national sport is baseball; the world over it's football.

The game is played in almost every nation. Countries may have other sports peculiar to their own section, but virtually all have soccer. Soccer is played in the United States, too, but has been edged into the background by American football. The American style game is played in only a few other nations and hasn't the popular general appeal of soccer.

Some nations have college, club and county teams and many also have professional soccer clubs. There are regional and national championships in the various countries. Italy won the soccer championship in the 1936 Olympic games.

Subs' Trophy

When they lost to Ferryston in the finals of the basketball tournament, the second string, headed by Roy Lee Jones, 1936 all-regional guard, defeated LeFors and Groom to advance to the finals. Jones was given much of the credit for the victory, but his mates, McKay, Cunningham, Enloe, Kilgore, Maxey Noblitt, scored the points that were necessary to win. The second scored all but six points scored by Jones. It was Jones' last day of eligibility. Did the seconds shoot their way in that tournament? They have not looked as good since then. The trophy is the only one a second team has ever won for Pampa high school.

PRESENT-DAY UMPS PLAYED BY OLD TRIS

CLEVELAND, Jan. 22 (AP)—What did the old-timers of baseball have that present-day players don't have? "Umpires," Tris Speaker, named to baseball's Hall of Fame this week in a poll of major league writers, said today.

"Fellows like Cobb and Hornsby and myself were called colorful because we'd put on a show," said the former outfielder. His likeness will appear with other baseball greats in a memorial at Cooperstown, N. Y., where the national pastime originated 98 years ago.

"I could come racing in from center field, purple with rage, push the umpire in the chest and tell him what I thought of him."

"When I was through a fellow like Tom Connolly, Jack Sheridan or Billy Evans would say, 'okay this. That's your story. You know mine—and I'm running this game. Get out there and play ball!'"

The Pampa Independent basketball team, composed of former high school stars, will take part in an independent tournament to be played in Miami tonight and Saturday. The Pampa quintet drew a bye in the first round and will not play until tomorrow. Games will start at 7 o'clock.

Practice has been taking place at the high school gymnasium whenever a period was available and the team has become a pretty fair combination.

Out for practice are Elmer Irving, Junior Strickland, Albert Webber, Roscoe Pinnell, Bill Dunaway, Jess Patton, Orville Heiskell and Jack Bailey.

Teams entering the tournament will be: Phillips 65, Mobeetie, Groom, McLean, Skellytown, Pampa and Miami. Miami and Mobeetie play at 7 o'clock Friday night. The other games for Friday night are Groom and Skellytown, 8 o'clock, and McLean and Phillips at 9 o'clock. The results of the games will be played Saturday night. Prizes will be awarded to the winners. Pampa will play Saturday night.

MUNGO SALARY TO BE HIGHER THAN IN 1936

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers apparently have seen the future of their star pitcher, Van Mungo, insists on a pay increase this year. At any rate, the club announced today the big right hander's 1937 contract will call for a salary higher than he received a year ago.

Whether the terms have been boosted to meet the $1,500 or $2,500 increase Mungo was reported seeking is not known. The Dodgers said "many players received increases" in the club's contracts, mailed out today and Mungo was one of them.

The temperamental fireballer was supposed to have received $12,500 in 1936.

If you don't think Trader Hornsby came out on top in that three for three deal with the Indians, the record books may change your mind. Hornsby gets a 25-year old shortstop, compared to the aging Lyn Lary at 31. And if the Rajah can't take Billy in hand and improve his defensive work, then he's been slipping lately.

Tagging the bases: Ole Fox Clark Griffith is plenty burned up over Pitcher Buck Newsom's request to be traded by the Senators. . . Griff says he'll hang onto Buck now. . . But a top-flight catcher, like the Browns' Rolfe Hemsley or the Indians' Frankie Pytlak, may make him change his mind. . . Texas Christian University's pass catching end, Lou Meyer, may wind up at second base in organized baseball.

Coaches Welcome Return of Bible

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Southwest conference coaches joined today in hailing the return of Coach Dana X. Bible to the loop as adding new prestige to the conference but offering stiffer competition for the other members.

Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist said Bible "stands for everything fine in the game."

"His acceptance of the Texas job is a compliment to the conference," Bell added. "I'm glad he's back but his teams probably will make it tough on the rest of us."

Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of Texas Christian said:

"I think the conference is very fortunate to get Bible back, although he may be a little rough on us in the matter of wins and losses."

Coach Jimmy Kitts at Rice said he was "extremely pleased."

"It is one of the best things that could happen to the conference," he said.

SKI TOWER BEGUN

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Construction of a tower 190 feet high has begun at Soldier Field, where the annual United States jumping championships will be held Feb. 7. The tower, which will be one of the highest ever built for a ski meet, will have a foundation 28 feet square, with ballast weighing 200,000 pounds, and taper to eight feet square at the top.

'DAFFY' DEAN SIGNS UP FOR BRANCH RICKEY

BUT MANAGER IS AGAIN STUMPED BY OLD 'DIZZY'

DALLAS, Jan. 22 (AP)—One half of the Dean brothers act was in the fold today and Branch Rickey was talking a 1937 National League pennant for his St. Louis Cardinals.

The dynamic vice-president and general manager of the Redbird system took just three minutes of Paul (Daffy) Dean's time yesterday to get his name on a contract. He admitted, however, there was no time limit on the signing of brother Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, in the throes of his annual holdout act.

Paul, reinstated yesterday after voluntarily retiring from baseball during the 1936 season because of a lame throwing arm, blew into Rickey's hotel suite ready to negotiate. He admitted he was in a hurry to get back to the hospital and see his 48-hour-old son—Paul Jerome Dean, nine pounds, one ounce of prospective pitcher.

Rickey was stumped on the "Dizzy" Dean case.

"Three weeks ago Dizzy wanted $100,000. Ten days later he had lowered his demand to $50,000. I'm going to wait 20 more days and maybe he'll be down in our range. You sports writers tell me all I know about Dizzy. He's not really a bad actor."

Unless there is a decided change in the remainder of the National league club rosters, the Cardinals will walk in with the flag, Rickey said.

"After the 1936 season I predicted we would win the pennant in 1937. We did—and I haven't made a forecast since. This year I feel our pitching is stronger and the team has more speed. Unless the rest of the clubs have strengthened in a way I don't know about, we should win."

Rickey said the pitching staff was the strongest in Cardinal history. He named the Deans, Winford, Len Warneke, and Jess Haines as his mainstays and then brushed off his best adjectives on several rookies.

The greatest volume of iron ore since 1930 passed through Great Lakes ports in 1936.

Dana Bible May Get Blair Cherry As His Assistant

'JUST ANOTHER GAME,' BOYS SAID AFTER FIRST CAGE TILT

LAWRENCE, Kas., Jan. 22 (AP)—The young instructor, a soccer ball in hand, addressed the group of lightly-clad youngsters whose gaze wandered questioningly toward two peach baskets, one nailed to the balcony railing at each end of the gymnasium.

"The idea," he said, "is for one side to get the ball in a basket without running with the ball, striking with the fist, or holding, tripping, pushing or shouldering an opponent. Let's see, there are 18 here. That will make nine on a side."

All groups are in accord as most satisfactory. He said he would request a meeting with Chancellor Burnett at the athletic board of the Nebraska school Saturday.

Delay in agreement between Bible and regents was attributed to Bible's unusually high salary and long-term contract demands. It was believed the regents finally met his terms, although some thought there was a compromise. All details remained cloistered in strictest secrecy. A definite salary figure probably will be announced after Bible resigns formally at Nebraska.

Bible's contacts with eastern and mid-eastern grid powers gave rise to speculation whether efforts might be made to fill the open date of December 4 on the Longhorn schedule with one of those teams.

Bible refused to name his assistants although rumors persisted Blair Cherry, coach of the Amarillo State high school champions, and Ted Twomey, line coach under Chevigny, might become members of his staff. Others, however, thought he would bring part of his Nebraska staff with him and reorganize the Texas set-up completely.

Employment of Bible caused re-echoing among the student-body and alumni of the university.

President H. Y. Benedict of the university, who had stated he opposed paying coaches salaries in excess of administrators and professors, approved Bible, saying "Assuredly I shall give him my fullest cooperation."

Bible commented as follows: "We have had a fine conference. The conditions presented and in which

'JUST ANOTHER GAME,' BOYS SAID AFTER FIRST CAGE TILT

That scene, enacted at the Springfield, Mass., Y. M. C. A. college ball in 1891, marked the origin of basketball. The originator, now sturdy, erect, 75-year old Dr. James A. Naismith of the University of Kansas physical education department, expressed keen interest today in plans for the re-enactment in Madison Square Garden, New York, Jan. 27, of that first game.

"I recall very clearly the boys' reaction when they entered the gymnasium that day and saw the baskets," chuckled Dr. Naismith. "They said, 'Oh, oh, just another game,' but full of vigor and vitality, they welcomed any change from the 1-2-3-4 routine of dumbbells and Indian clubs."

"Yes, that first game was a pretty wild affair, but the boys soon caught on."

Oddly enough, Dr. Naismith never played the game, except a few times on faculty teams.

AMERICA ISOLATED ONLY IN MILITARY SENSE

Congress may be looking toward a balanced budget, but a dark shadow is falling across the balance sheet—two dark shadows, in fact, with more to come. They are cast by the 35,000-ton battleships which Uncle Sam is going to be building shortly.

Battleships are complicated things and they aren't built on lunch money. By the time these proposed additions to the fleet are put into commission, the country will have spent something like $70,000,000 on them—with the prospect of adding a couple of equally expensive ships to the fleet every year or so for an indefinite period.

Seventy millions isn't such a tremendous sum, as government handouts go these days. But the money does count up, when you peel it off your roll in layers like that.

Without building any battleships at all, we are spending something like half a billion on our navy this year. The battleships simply mean that it'll be a long time before the navy gets any cheaper.

Now the point of all this is that what we can do in the way of cutting government expenses depends to a very great measure on the unpredictable flow of events overseas.

We aren't building that enormous navy just for the esthetic pleasure of looking at big gray steamboats. We are building it because, with the world in the state it's in, we know that we may need it pretty badly one of these days.

So before we can think of getting back to the old days when budgets balanced themselves painlessly, we have to see whether the outside world is going to let us. And that, in turn, is merely a sample and our actions these days are subject to the pressure of forces over which we have no control.

We spend huge sums and plan endlessly to restore prosperity. We may do a first-rate, effective job—but day after tomorrow some upset in Europe may knock the bottom out of world recovery and put us on the skids for another long decline.

We re-establish our faith in simon-pure democracy. But if we are jimmied into a war next week, and war-time censorship, regimentation, and rule by the brass hats descend on us, where is our democracy? Out the window, or the duration of the war at the very least.

Whether we like it or not, we are a part of world society. We are not down in the cockpit—the Atlantic is still broad—but our boasted isolation is isolation only in a military sense.

In a limited but tragically real way, our collective future can be changed overnight by the actions of some irresponsible megalomaniac in uniform.

The sad fact is that we can't even guess at our future without keeping one eye on Europe. And in the Europe of today, unfortunately, almost any disastrous thing may happen overnight.

FOREIGN LEGION

The most surprising incident, perhaps, in the Spanish civil war, has been the defense of Madrid.

When the conquering Gen. Franco with his Fascist army reached the edge of the capital, the world expected that it would fall quickly. That expectation, no doubt, was responsible for the premature recognition of Rebel Franco's "Nationalist Government" by the governments of Germany and Italy. The defenders have held out now, against direct assaults and the terrors of air bombardment, for many weeks, and have seemed to be growing stronger.

Credit must be given, doubtless, to the spirit of the native defenders. Men, boys and women have behaved like heroes, and their courage helps to efface many a stain made by the cruelty which they themselves have practiced on their enemies. There has doubtless been help, too, from friendly nations, in the form of war supplies to match those furnished the rebels by Italy and Germany.

But the determining factor now seems to have been an unorganized "foreign legion" headed by a German exile, Gen. Emil Kleber, and composed of Germans, Italians, Poles, Austrians, Britons, Frenchmen and even Canadians and Americans.

Most of these are exiles from their own countries. The rest are volunteers who, whether from a spirit of adventure or of principle, want to help the lawful Socialist government against the Fascist rebellion. Most of them obviously regard Socialism, or even deeper shades of red, as preferable to Fascism.

Editorial of the Day

SYPHILIS AND PUBLICITY (Washington Post) Earlier in the week an editorial appeared in these columns entitled "Fighting Syphilis." A decade ago few publications would have dared to mention the disease in print; only a vague reference to a social disease" would have been deemed proper.

Believing that such an attitude seriously handicaps attempts to bring syphilis and gonorrhea as well—under control public health officers and private doctors have just concluded a conference here in which they discussed plans to drag venereal diseases into the open the better to fight their menace. It was to support these efforts that the editorial in question was written.

Undeniably the physicians are correct in diagnosing prudery and its corollary ignorance as principal factors blocking eradication of venereal diseases. This is testified by letters received from various persons who read the editorial. One asks how a person with syphilis can obtain treatment. A "dear friend" is so afflicted, but doctors in his little town appear unable to help him.

He has been referred to the nearest public health officer. From that official he will learn that syphilis, unless too long neglected, is generally curable. The "dear friend" will be directed to a competent physician.

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON.—Mr. Roosevelt, as he moves toward some action to curb the powers he feels have been usurped by the U. S. Supreme Court, will undertake to show that his attitude toward the Constitution is similar to that of the founding fathers who wrote it, and that members of the court are the ones who have misinterpreted that document.

In his first message to this Congress, the president urged all hands to read the constitutional debates. You can do that with surprising results, because the history of the Constitution's origins is still unknown to the great bulk of Americans.

Just how interesting such study can be was demonstrated in Washington the other day by Irving Brant of the St. Louis Star-Times, an authority whose "Storm Over the Constitution" is kept handy around the White House and in other important New Deal offices.

If it could be proved that the framers of the Constitution intended to give Congress the power to establish mercantile monopolies, Brant argued in a speech to the People's Lobby, it would follow that the government had constitutional power to go far beyond anything found in the New Deal and could even take over the economic life of the nation.

No answer to Brant's effort to prove that government monopolies are constitutional is available, because the American Liberty League, which was asked to send the chairman of its lawyers' committee or somebody else to debate the point, didn't accept the invitation.

Three days before the Constitution was signed, Brant pointed out, one James Wilson of Pennsylvania told the convention: "As to mercantile monopolies, they are already included in the power to regulate trade."

Wilson was the outstanding legal scholar of his time and Washington made him one of the original justices of the supreme court.

Brant finds further evidence in the fact that George Mason of Virginia gave as one reason for his refusal to sign the Constitution that "the Congress may grant monopolies in trade and commerce."

Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts, also refusing to sign, complained that "under the power of commerce, monopolies may be established."

James Madison, often called the Constitution's "father," said that "the power to regulate commerce is indivisible and ought to be wholly under one authority."

Madison also proposed in letters to Washington and Edmund Randolph of Virginia: "Let the national government . . . have a negative in all cases whatsoever on the legislative acts of the states as the king of Great Britain heretofore had. This I conceive to be essential and the least possible abridgment of the state sovereignties."

Madison further recommended that states be reduced to "the condition of counties." Alexander Hamilton, meanwhile, was saying that states, as states, "ought to be abolished."

There were seven staunch defenders of state sovereignty at the convention, Brant said, and all seven took a walk or refused to sign. So how, he asks, can anyone consider the Constitution a states' rights document?

Yesteryear In Pampa

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY City officials announced that in keeping with the trend of business, the city would retrench for the year . . . no new projects were contemplated. . . . salaries were reduced; departments consolidated, and expenses cut in other ways.

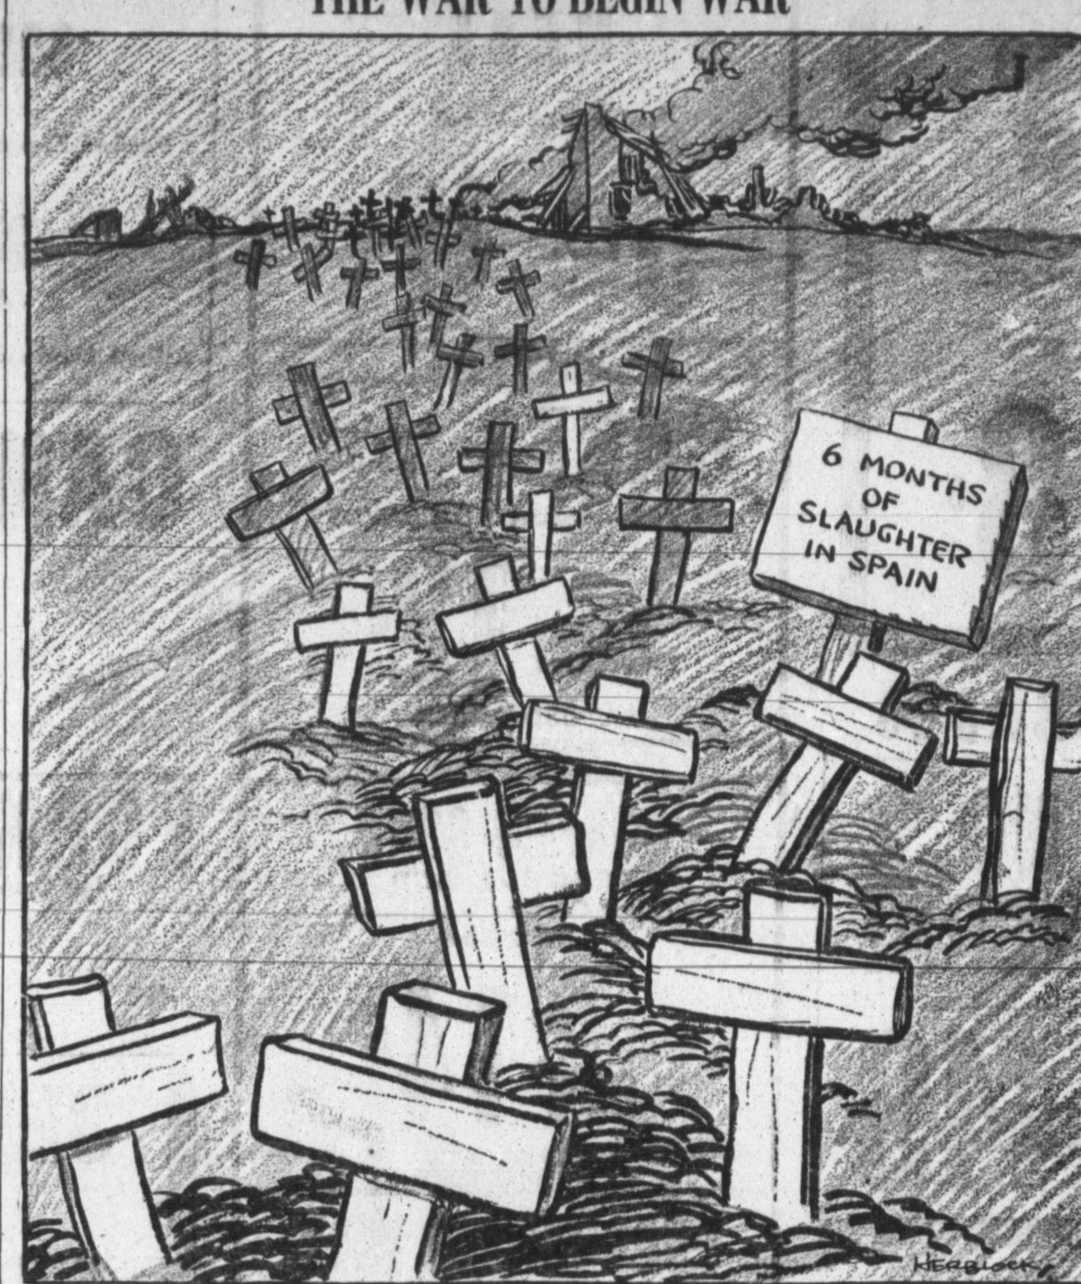

The Harvester B team defeated Mobeetie B team, and the Guerrillas won over the Miami B team in a Miami basketball tournament.

Berton Doucette celebrated his birthday with a dinner.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY H. L. Polley was presented the distinguished service award for young men of the city, at the annual Jaycee banquet. Dr. C. H. Schulkey acted as toastmaster, and Dale Greer of Vernon installed new officers.

W. R. Combs' resignation as justice of the peace at LeFors was accepted by the commissioners court, and E. A. Vance was named to fill the post. A number of Pampans went to Amarillo to see the state production of "Tobacco Road."

THE WAR TO BEGIN WAR

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—The talk in a late hour coffee shop, after taking in the flora and fauna, finally got around to Ward Morehouse, Broadway columnist, playwright, also considered something of an authority on the Civil War.

"Where is Ward?" I inquired of Mark Barron, his one-time collaborator and former room mate. "I haven't seen him around lately."

"Well," drawled Mark, "after his defeat by a revolving door, he hasn't been feeling so good."

"What do you mean, defeat?" "War," he explained, "revolving door in Twenty-One the other night and it turned round and knocked hell out of him."

Then there is the sad plight of Gilbert Miller, who only has four hours in the office of every organization in making out weekly pay-rolls at the turn of the year, but because these things are always a little more complicated in the theater, due to things being figured out on a per performance basis, the Miller business managers were literally muddled in pieces of paper full of figures."

See, this explanation is evidence enough that the only maddest of ambitions can persuade a man to become a Broadway producer. You might make a success of it, and then look what happens! You go crazy trying to figure out who gets what and why!

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. JAGO GILDSTON ARTHRITIS AND ARTHRITIS. Like headache, arthritis may be due to various causes, some of major importance. What can or should be done for the arthritides depends upon its nature and cause. . . .

Such a patient is not likely to suffer much or to become disabled. Treatment for this condition will include weight reduction, if the patient is at all overweight, rest for the joints involved, and for its body as a whole, and physical therapy including heat and massage. The drugs used will be few, and principally aspirin.

The patient must conserve her joints by placing as little strain upon them as possible. Foot of importance, but not seemingly responsible for osteoarthritis. Diseased tonsils and teeth should be treated principally because of their possible effects on the general health of the patient, and not because it is expected the arthritis will thereby be cured.

The patient does not require any special diets, except for weight reduction. A good, well balanced diet, and one adequate in vitamins and mineral salts will serve well.

Talks to parents

MUSIC LESSONS By Brooke Peters Church An ardent admirer once asked a famous jazz player where he learned his technique. The answer was unexpected: "Cherry studies and Chopin, preludes."

A great deal of jazz is played by a great many people of very limited or one-sided musical training, but the best of the highly wrought modern jazz calls for a technique that can well be learned from the study and practice of serious music. Many children who hate music lessons would practice earnestly and

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—Scarcely had preview echoes of "One in a Million" begun to fade before Hollywood was thoroughly skate-conscious. Sonja Henie may not be entirely responsible, but hers is the first film to feature skating and may take credit for starting a cycle on ice and rollers.

Jack Dunn, whose rink talents have been waiting at Universal for their opportunity, will get started on a contemplated feature of the new Fred Astaire-Ginger Rogers picture is a dance on skates. There also is a skating chorus or two spotted in other films, and it is a matter of course that Sonja Henie will make another picture.

Before the preview this seemed a matter rather for conjecture. The blonde Norwegian Olympic champion was not exactly "picture material," you know. One-picture star-dom was freely predicted for her. But no! The picture reveals a chubby, dimpled cuteness most fetching aside from the girl's well-known prowess on the ice.

Comedy Busters Her Excuse for her skating, surrounded by elaborate ice ballets, is provided by a comedy built on the sure-fire formula of "Sing, Baby, Sing." There are Adolph Menjou, the Ritz brothers, Borrah Minnetwitch, Arline Judge, Jean Hersholt, Don Ameche, Dixie Dumar and several others, most of them slightly mad in behavior. But when Sonja dances on skates, you can forget everything else. She is more graceful than a bird-in-flight, and less earthbound.

Stern stuff is this year's companion piece to "The Informer." It is "The Plough and the Stars" from Sean O'Casey's play, directed by the same John Ford who made "The Informer" memorable.

The setting again is the Irish rebellion, in the spring of 1916. There is a love story between Barbara Stanwyck and Preston Foster. Deriving its title from the flag of the rebellion, the film tells of the uprising against war-harassed Britain, the brief triumph, the losing struggle, the ultimate failure.

Film Has 'Everything' Courage, heroism, great deeds mingle in the streets with comic quirks of caution, treachery and petty thievery. The masses are living, fighting small fights. The idealistic leaders call, and the living and laughing and fighting of small fights go on, however inconvenienced by the bullets and bombs from the big fight. When the shooting is over, Foster is still there as the Irish idealist, and Miss Stanwyck still weeps beside him—for a future of waiting while he fights again.

An all-time record for shipments of bituminous coal was made on the Great Lakes in 1936.

New Plans for Novel Parties

Would you like a new idea for your Valentine party? A fine booklet, called Successful Parties, available through our Washington Information Bureau, suggests new games and new decorations for the season. Here are menus and amusements for six or twenty guests.

Successful Parties is a complete handbook for the modern hostess. It describes twenty-eight novel plans for entertaining at home, covers every season of the year, and is richly illustrated with photographs of table arrangements. Packed with up-to-the-minute hints on announcements, place cards, stunts, and novel table decorations.

A copy will be mailed to any reader of The Pampa Daily News. Enclose ten cents to cover cost, handling and postage.

Use This Coupon. The Pampa Daily News, Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith ten cents in coin (carefully wrapped) for a copy of the booklet Successful Parties.

Name Street City State (Mail to Washington, D. C.)

This is a line of three perpendicular cliffs on the northeastern coast of Ireland. According to legend, they were built by giants. The three cliffs are formed of vertical basalt columns and called the Little Causeway, the Middle Causeway, and the Grand Causeway. The last has a width of nearly 120 feet and extends about 500 feet into the sea.

Q. When was Elton College, England, founded? E. J. A. It was founded in 1440 by Henry VI. It was intended as a preparatory school for King's College, Cambridge.

Q. Who was Sojourner Truth? E. H. A. She was a Negro lecturer, born in Ulster county, N. Y., about 1790. In 1827 she escaped from Michigan, where she was held as a slave, and discarded her real name for Sojourner Truth. Though quite illiterate

Q. How many people live in the Fiji Islands? B. C. A. About 190,000. Of these, 185,000 are natives.

"Truth" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist on Sunday, Jan. 24.

The golden text is: "The Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations" (Psalms 100:5).
Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Thou art great, and doest wondrous things: Thou art God alone. Teach me Thy way, O Lord; I will walk in Thy truth" (Psalms 86:10, 11).

The lesson-sermon includes also the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Material sense never helps morals to help understand Spirit, God. Thru spiritual sense only, man comprehends and loves Deity. The various contradictions of the Science of Mind by the material senses do not change the unshakable truth, which remains forever intact."

There will be no morning service. The public is cordially invited to attend services here.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
John S. Mullen, minister
Kingsmill and Starkweather
9:45 a. m. Sunday school. All senior and adult classes meet together in the main auditorium for the devotional exercises which will be conducted by the Royal Women's class.

11 a. m. Morning worship. Sermon by the minister. "The Unconquerable." The Lord's supper is always observed by this church at the morning hour and will also be observed at the night service for those unable to attend in the morning. Special music by the choir.

6:30 p. m. Christian Endeavor for all young people.
7:30 p. m. Evening evangelistic service. Sermon by the minister. "Reddigging the Wells." A solo will be played on the vibraphone by Howard House who will also make a crayon picture which will be given away to the largest delegation. After many postponements, due to the illness of the evangelist, it is planned to begin the evangelistic meeting on Sunday night. The meeting will continue for an indefinite time with services every night except Saturday. The programs will include special music, vocal and instrumental, together with crayon pictures at practically every service. The evangelist, Marshall Masters, will arrive in the city on Monday and will preach his first sermon on Monday night. He is a young man who is minister of one of the largest churches in Texas and has had wonderful success in the evangelistic field. He is a very clear, concise, forceful speaker with a fine personality and a fund of humor that makes his messages interesting and intelligible to young and old alike. Those who have heard him are enthusiastic over his ability as a speaker. For those with young children, a nursery will be in operation where they will be taken care of, without any worry to the mother.

STERLING STALLIONS.
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—It may cost money to make his Calumet farm here one of the nation's leading thoroughbred establishments, but Warren Wright is willing to spend it. He invested nearly $100,000 in acquiring the two stallions, Chance Play and Bostonian. Moreover, Wright owns the young sire, Hadagal, and is one-fourth owner of the $24,000 imported French sire, Blenheim II.

Approximately four and a half million persons were injured and 31,500 killed in their homes in 1935.

Intervention of Government in Strike Demanded

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22 (AP)—On the heels of an announcement by government conciliators that further federal action was necessary to settle the 85-day maritime strike, San Francisco bay area city and county officials were called to meet here today to formulate demands for government intervention. While the deadlock continued on the Pacific coast, a group of striking seamen in New York approved a resolution to terminate in Atlantic and Gulf ports a walkout which started in sympathy with the west coast workers.

Offshore shipowners here scheduled a conference with the stevedores this morning to talk over an alternative peace offer by longshoremen involving wages and working hours.
Mayor Angelo J. Rossi of San Francisco, together with scores of other public officials and business men, has advocated presidential intervention as the only means of a "speedy" solution to the strike, which has cost millions to coast business.

WHOLE CITIES LIE IN PATH OF OHIO RIVER

7,000 RESIDENTS ARE DRIVEN TO HIGHER GROUND

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—The rampaging Ohio river threatened to engulf whole cities and villages today as it beat back lowland defenders along the thousand miles of the nation's most critical flood front.

It poured through a broken levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., driving 7,000 residents to high ground. It ripped a half-mile gap in earthen levees at Portsmouth, Ohio, filling one section of the city with water seven feet deep. City officials previously flooded the business and industrial district purposely to save a million dollar sea wall. Some 13-

Rampaging streams in middle Tennessee brought new human misery and property damage, with the total refugees exceeding 1,500.

More rain threatened to add power to the swollen Cumberland river, now at 51 feet, 11 above flood stage, at Nashville. The city water supply at Clarksville was threatened.

River front areas of Johnstown, Pa., were inundated by flood waters from the Stony Creek river and residents retreated to higher ground.

The list of dead by states was: Illinois, 3; Ohio and West Virginia, 2 each; Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and Missouri, 1 each.

The Ohio poured through a broken levee at Lawrenceburg, Ind., driving 7,000 residents to high ground. It forced officials of Portsmouth, Ohio, to flood the business and industrial districts purposely to save a million dollar sea wall.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22 (AP)—The steel city's three big rivers surged upward today, flowing into low-lying parts of the downtown "Golden Triangle" and threatening to rise to a crest of 33 feet—eight feet above flood stage.

Buildings were evacuated near "The Point"—confluence of the Allegheny, Monongahela and Ohio rivers—merchants in some stores moved stocks to higher floors, fearing a repetition of the $200,000,000 disaster of last March.

Gov. George H. Earle, in Washington since the inauguration ordered Major General Edward C. Shannon, commander of the national guard, and other state officials to Pittsburgh.

On the basis of early reports, Meteorologist W. S. Brotzman predicted a stage of 33 feet tomorrow. The river backed up water several blocks into the lower North Side, where many buildings were abandoned after the March flood.

How high the waters might go was a matter of conjecture, which observers said depended on the amount of rainfall in the next 48 hours.

MERCURY SOARS TO 72 IN RIO GRANDE VALLEY

Cold Wave to Leave Panhandle, Says Forecast

(By The Associated Press)

A stinging cold wave chilled North Texas today while Rio Grande citrus belt basked in almost summery weather.

There was an amazing range of temperatures, varying from 6 above zero in the Panhandle to 72 at Brownsville as the winter's latest onslaught forged across the Lone Star state's extraordinary expanse.

Furries of sleet and rain, freezing as they fell, turned the northern part of the state into a treacherous network of ice-slicked highways and sleets, again threatening disruption of communication and power lines.

Despite the norther's tight grip this morning, the weatherman saw some hope of relief in clearing skies to the west.

For the second straight day Amalillo thermometers registered a low of 6 above zero this morning. The mercury had not been above 18 at Amarillo in the last 24 hours. Berger was chilled by 10-above-zero weather but had no snow.

From those minimums, the temperature chart gradually crept upward in readings to the south but only the Gulf coast plains and the lower Rio Grande valley showed readings above the freezing mark.

The low pressure area which kept the cold wave out of the valley still blocked its advance today. Brownsville's barometer reading 26.66. The weather bureau said it was probable the high pressure area to the north would push the cold wave out into the Gulf.

Minimum temperatures this morning included Wichita Falls, 14; Lubbock, 16; Abilene, 18; Vernon, 16; Dallas, 22; Fort Worth, 21; El Paso, 30; Paris, 21; Longview, 29; Palestine, 27; Corsicana, 23; Houston, 40; and Galveston 66.

Brownsville, with a balmy 72, had little to fear. The cold wave which caused any damage to the citrus crop.

It was clear at El Paso, Lubbock and other points west, but the rest of the state was heavily overcast in most parts.

San Antonio, with the mercury down to 31, reported slow rain freezing as it struck the ground. Rain was falling at Houston.

Rain during the night turned to ice at Palestine. Longview had light mist, while Paris, with the streets covered with sleet, was in fear of having trouble again with its power system. In the bitter norther a week ago, sleet caused disruption of power service at Paris.

Streets were covered with ice at Corsicana, causing minor mishaps. A heavy mist which fell at Fort Worth and Dallas throughout the night froze on the streets. Sleet began falling in both cities about daybreak, adding to the hazards of motoring.

At San Angelo, where the temperature sagged to 22 last night, the ground was icy with sleet.

It was expected there would be some losses in new-born lambs in the San Angelo range country. Abilene reported an inch of snow over the Plains.

Beaumont came in with information the norther, creeping slowly southward, had not gripped that section of the Gulf coast yet. The minimum stayed above 70 and there was no sleet or snow.

Corpus Christi said the cold wave struck there this morning, the temperature falling to 48 and freezing weather expected. Drizzling rain preceded the cold.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Three cents a bushel smash in Chicago wheat quotations during the morning today sent the market down to ten cents under the season's top level.

A Japanese cable reported that an agreement had been reached between Japanese and American textile interests limiting exports to this country in the next two years to 250,000,000 yards. The 1937 total was limited to 180,000,000 yards.

Colder weather in the west with rising temperatures in the central belt were predicted by the weather man.

Lewis there would be "no half-baked compromise."

"We found it useless at this time to discuss further any ideas we might have," said Sloan before leaving for New York early today.

"Any time the President sends for us, we'll be here."

Lewis, who declared his campaign to organize Ford and Chrysler workers would follow settlement of this walkout, was asked if he believed time for White House intervention had arrived.

"That's up to the President," he said, "but labor intervened for him."

He referred to the support which he and many other labor leaders gave Mr. Roosevelt in the 1936 presidential campaign.

Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan remained here for further meetings with Miss Perkins and her aides.

Lewis asserted the sit-down strikers would stay in the Fisher body plants in Flint, Mich.

CINCINNATI REPORTS GREATEST FLOOD OF OHIO OF ALL TIME

CINCINNATI, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Ohio river reached a stage of 70 feet today and meteorologist W. O. Devereaux predicted "the greatest flood on record" for Cincinnati and lower river points. He predicted a probable crest between 71 and 72 feet at Cincinnati for tonight or Saturday.

This city of 750,000 people faced the possibility of curtailed if not discontinued electric service.

H. C. Bickwell, president of the Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co., in a statement said:

"Indications are that if the river continues to rise the supply of electricity will be curtailed at almost any time, but it will be maintained in part as long as possible. There are, however, possibilities, of a complete shut-down of the power plants should the rate of rise at the present time be continued throughout the day."

"Even though the worst happens, we hope to obtain sufficient electricity through our interconnections with other cities to render service for the most essential needs."

NEBRASKA LEGISLATOR MOVES TO KEEP BIBLE

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 22 (AP)—John Knickerham, 310 pound legislator from Grand Island, asked Nebraska's unicameral legislators today to instruct the state university board of regents to take steps to retain Coach Knickerham's Bible.

Thomas of Omaha objected and the resolution was laid over until tomorrow.

Bible was selected yesterday as football coach at the University of Texas.

Knickerham's resolution said Bible had brought "much fame to the university in the last nine years and should be retained."

"It is the sense of this legislature that the board of regents be authorized to retain Coach Bible," Knickerham's proposal read.

DETROIT, Jan. 22 (AP)—The apparent failure of Washington conferences to break the deadlock between General Motors Corporation and the United Automobile Workers of America had no noticeable effect on the strike centers today.

Most of the members of the U. A. W. A. board of strategy were in Washington and there was no comment at the union headquarters here.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors, and William S. Knudsen, executive vice president, arrived today from Washington but offered no comment on the strike affecting the organization's plants when they left their private railroad car.

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Twenty-seven persons, three of them women, were being held in the city jail for investigation today as city and county officers added by Texas Rangers launched a clean-up drive following a series of darning holdups. Two couples were hijacked and one of the men shot and slightly wounded Thursday night after a daylight holdup in a downtown finance company earlier in the week.

Van-Tage is a new, advanced medical compound of 30 medications, 21 of which are the Finest Natural Herbs, and not one a habit-forming drug. It is taken after meals and mixes with the food in one's stomach, thus throwing off the poisons that foster stomach troubles and stimulating the kidneys and liver to function more efficiently. It acts within 10 minutes to stop gas pains, sourness, bloate and belching. It will not gripe or nauseate you like ordinary liver medicines. It will work the bile from the liver as black as ink. At the same time Van-Tage drives the poisons from the kidneys and relieves backaches, bladder irritation and weakness. Often relieves children from bed-wetting in a few days, strengthening the nerves by natural means.

Now, whether Van-Tage will help you as it has thousands of others—whether it will relieve your suffering in a day or a week—remains to be seen. But in the light of what it has done for others, it is surely a mistake not to try it for 25 CENTS, only a fraction of its worth. This introductory offer is good Friday and Saturday ONLY, so read the rest of this announcement and act at once. Do this in fairness to your self, your family.

WHAT IT WILL DO!
Van-Tage will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSED BEFORE.

It will bring out awful gases and impurities (frequently from the first dose) which may have been inside you a long time, causing you many days of misery with headaches, dizzy spells, skin eruptions and lazy, drowsy, tired feeling.

Van-Tage will relieve acid conditions and make the digestive organs sweet and clean and give quick relief from indigestion, bloating, sour stomach, shortness of breath and dyspepsia.

IT WILL give you the greatest appetite you EVER HAD IN YOUR LIFE.

Van-Tage will act as a diuretic to sluggish kidneys and flush out quantities of impurities that may have become dammed up inside by causing BACKACHE, SHARP PAINS and RISING AT NIGHT.

It will make your liver more active; will clear away old bile deposits, thus relieving spells of biliousness and sick headache.

Rheumatism is often caused by acid arising from stomach hyperacidity. Neuritis is also many times traceable to an acid stomach which poisons the nerves.

IT WILL clear up skin eruptions that are caused by the impurities in the organs, which overcome the sallowness or "muddiness" that is due to sluggish liver and will work to restore the ROSY GLOW OF HEALTH into your cheeks.

Van-Tage will act on your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, build you up in general and make you LOOK, ACT and FEEL like a DIFFERENT MAN or WOMAN, years younger than your real age.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

By LOUIS SCHNEIDER

SETUP. On Tuesday your correspondent exclusively disclosed that J. P. Morgan and his associates are privately financing a new gold field in South Africa. Here's additional news behind the news on the subject. The properties will be developed by the newly organized West Rand Investment Trust, Ltd.

The London banking house of Morgan, Grenfell & Co. handles the financial matters of the Anglo-American Corporation. The new West Rand Investment Trust will be a subsidiary. The corporation will be registered in Pretoria, South Africa. It will have a capitalization of $4,000,000 sterling consisting of 8,000,000 ten-shilling shares. No public offering will be made.

LIKED. Industrial Rayon is the new long-pull favorite of portfolio managers. Here's the reason as confidentially disclosed to your correspondent. Earnings will show betterment due to two factors. They are price increases on viscose process rayon and the discontinuance of the 5 per cent discounts on weaving and hosiery yarns. For all of 1936 the company will report a net of $2.25 a share against only $1 for 1935. Prospects for 1937 are regarded as favorable.

FACTS. Securities Exchange Commission figures disclose that the public lost $3,000,000,000 in investment trust stock purchases—and lots more thru the purchase of other stocks because people were not properly "informed" . . . Brazil will burn 100,000 bags of coffee each day . . . Department of Commerce discloses that workers and business lost $20,000,000 each due to current labor difficulties. . . Smaller business communities would benefit if Congress permitted branch banking—Washington insiders don't expect the bill to be passed at this session . . . The aim of every chart reader playing the stock market is to buy them in the valleys and sell them on the hills . . . The tire industry sees the country using about 55,000,000 tires this year—so said J. D. Tew, Goodrich president . . . Of 40,000,000 automobiles in all the world about 28,270,000 are registered in the United States.

UTILITIES. Informed utility circles say that the administration is doing most everything possible to bring about a better feeling between the TVA and private utility interests. Inside information is that the administration is about to announce a TVA power pool. But since utility executives insist that the TVA is unconstitutional they will not accept any agreement unless it is in their favor. This accounts for the recent demand for the utility equities.

AIRPLANES. As previously mentioned in Financial Whirligig the buying of airplane shares is attributed to speculative interests. The enthusiasm was further stimulated by the recent statement of a well known Boston sales volume. The fact that airplane manufacturers enlarged production facilities and charged expenses against 1936 operating costs is expected to permit 1937 earnings per common share.

LEADER. As a result of United Air Lines' sale of its ten Boeing ships to Pennsylvania-Central Air Lines, United first quarter earnings will be increased. This due to the fact—so an insider stated—that the price obtained was higher than the value at which the planes had been carried on the company's books due to stiff write-offs.

REPORTS ARE THAT: Building construction activity to continue all through year—good for Celotex . . . Motor and automobile accessory shares harbor large short interest . . . Columbian Carbon will sell 14-passenger ships, 10 are 21-passenger ships and eight will be sleepers. The rest are regular carriers. In all it makes United Air Lines one of the leaders in the air travel field.

LET'S KNOW TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. As evidence of good faith inquiries must give their names and addresses, but only their initials will be printed. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. How many delegates from what municipalities met in the San Felipe consultation, Nov. 3, 1835? D. H. K.

A. There were 81 delegates representing 12 local constituencies participating in the conference or consultation, which lasted from Nov. 4, to Nov. 14, 1835.

Q. Who was the president of the 1835 San Felipe consultation? D. H. K.

A. Dr. Branch T. Archer, who came to Texas from Virginia, in 1831 following a duel in which his opponent was killed. He had served in the Virginia legislature. He represented Brazoria county in the second convention of Texans that met at San Felipe April 4, 1835, to consider the Newhall Ranch lease in California looks like a big money maker in the making.

Q. Who succeeded Austin in command of the Texas forces? W. W. T.

A. Following the setting up of the NEGRO WANTS LICENSE TO 'COOK-AND-DO'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (P)—County Clerk B. T. Hoff opened his eyes wide when a 73-year-old negro plopped down $3.10 and applied for a "cook-and-do" license.

"There's no such thing," Hoff said. "What you want is a marriage license."

"No it ain't either," replied the negro. "What I want is a license for a woman to cook and do little things around the house."

The clerk says that older residents had informed him that it was not uncommon for unscrupulous persons to take advantage of negroes by selling them worthless "cook-and-do" licenses.

Townsend Plan Tester Lays in Supply of Grub

CHELAN, Wash., Jan. 22 (AP)—When it came to a choice between new store teeth and a grubstake, Curtis C. Fleming, 63-year-old Townsend plan tester, took the latter today.

The unemployed orchard worker, given $200 for the test last Saturday, said it dawned on him that the $50.21 remaining after a 5-day spending spree wouldn't last forever. And there was a possibility another $200 might not be forthcoming on Feb. 15, the end of the 30-day period.

So a supply of beans, bacon, flour, and coffee, with possibly a few new clothes, will use most of the remaining money, Fleming said. He had thought something of getting a new set of teeth. But then, he has managed without them for years.

Meanwhile, Chelan merchants moved to stimulate growth of the "kitty" fund built by charging themselves two per cent on every transaction in which a tagged velocity dollar figures. It is hoped the fund will provide new "pension" payments. As the sixth day of the test started, $13.94 was in the fund.

MARY PICKFORD NOT CERTAIN OVER PLANS FOR HER WEDDING

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 22 (AP)—Mary Pickford expressed uncertainty today over plans for her marriage to Charles (Buddy) Rogers, which friends had said would take place in England late in March.

"Both Buddy and I want to be married on our own soil," Miss Pickford declared.

"Despite all this talk we have not set a definite time nor are we at all positive the ceremony will be performed in London. Our original plan to be married either in New York or Hollywood in all probability will be carried out."

Seamen Open Way For Walkout End

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Striking seamen of New York opened the way today for termination of the New York or Hollywood in all probability will be carried out.

Strikers in all affected eastern and Gulf ports and the maritime unions of the west coast were asked to ratify a resolution adopted by 2,200 seamen last night calling the ship workers back to their final action on the proposal.

The resolution said the action was taken "in order to maintain our present gains and to gain additional strength, as well as to prosecute our case with all possible advantages at the hearings of the National Labor Relations board, which can be best secured by demonstrating our sincere desire to reach a peaceful settlement of all issues still in dispute."

Leaders said the joint maritime council approved the plan. Joseph Curran, leader of an insurgent group of the International Seamen's union, called the walkout in the year and a half since the strike never received the approval of the I. S. U. officers or of the International Longmen's union headed by Joseph F. Ryan.

Theft Is Charged Against 6 Persons

HOUSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Charges of box car burglary and felony theft were on file today against six persons in connection with what L. B. Guynes, special agent for the Missouri Pacific railway, said was an inter-state cigarette theft ring.

Guynes said the men, arrested here Jan. 1, were charged as follows: B. J. McCabe, alias Jack Walters, in Montgomery, Bastrop, Bee, Liberty and Jefferson counties, Texas, and at Lake Charles, La.; Floyd Gaskin, in Montgomery, Jefferson and Bastrop counties and in Lake Charles; Thomas Mills, in Montgomery and Fort Bend counties; B. H. Richardson, in Bee, Bastrop, Jefferson and Fort Bend counties; and Maurice Hudson, in Liberty county.

Guynes said 86 cases of cigarettes were stolen in Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nebraska, Louisiana and Illinois.

A woman arrested with the others had not been charged.

BURNED TO DEATH SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Burns received when his clothing caught fire from an open stove proved fatal to Stetson Robinson, former local insurance man. He died in an Amarillo hospital last night, according to word received here.

Robinson, 59, formerly an insurance inspector here, was fatally burned at his home in Amarillo Sunday.

BRAND RECORDING LOG GREAT BEND, Kas. (AP)—Registration of cattle brands is one Barton county business in a permanent slump. The last registration was in 1935. Only 42 brands have been registered since 1872 and most of these were recorded before 1900.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson

ONLY THE EXTREME TIP OF A ROOT RESPONDS TO GRAVITY! CUT OFF THE VERY TIP, AND LET THE ROOT FLOAT, AND IT WILL NOT GO DOWNWARDS, BUT STRAIGHT AHEAD.

DARWIN first showed that, if about one-twentieth of an inch of the tip of a root is removed, it does not respond to gravity. If the root is first laid on its side for a few minutes and then cut off, it does, after a time, curve downwards.

International Sunday School Lesson

TWO MIRACLES OF MERCY. Text: John 5:2-9; 6:8-15. BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D. Editor of Advance.

A part of the testimony offered by the Gospel of John in proving the thesis with which the Gospel opens—namely, that Jesus is the Eternal Word and the incarnation of God—is the witness of the mighty works or miracles of Jesus. The Golden Text of this lesson, taken from John 5:26, emphasizes this. "The very works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me."

The miracle of Jesus, recorded in the Gospel of John, would seem to have a symbolic meaning in addition to the literal record. The miracles that are the subject of the lesson have to do with the giving of health to the sick and food to the hungry.

In the first miracle, wrought for the man waiting at the pool of Bethesda in hope that he might find healing from an infirmity of more than 38 years' duration, we have a tragic picture of suffering humanity. In some form it can be duplicated in almost every age.

Around this pool of Bethesda there had arisen a tradition that an angel went down at a certain season of the year and stirred the waters, and that whoever should then first be dipped in the pool would be healed of whatever disease he had.

If we dismiss with a smile, or a cynical gesture, this strange tradition, the explanation of which cannot be believed in, let us recall how often again and again, even in our own time, suffering people have clutched at just so slight a ray of hope in anything that promised relief from disease and pain.

Fortunately, our faith does not depend upon our attitude toward the physical miracle, but upon our attitude toward Jesus Himself. He is the Bread of Life. This is where the real teaching of our lesson leads us.

BRITISH BOBBIES CARRY NO GUNS AND CONTROL USE OF FIREARMS

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE, AP Feature Service Writer. NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Britain has up on the United States the control of firearms in the hands of criminals—a problem which has been submitted to congress by Attorney General Cummings.

Rarely in England is a crook found in possession of a pistol. Even the police do not carry guns, excepting on special occasions when a few pistols may be served out to picked squads—to be returned to headquarters when the emergency has passed. The bobby depends on his truncheon.

No person may purchase a firearm without a special police permit, and it is exceedingly difficult to obtain permission. A would-be purchaser must have a valid reason for possessing a gun. If you have a gun permit, you may not purchase cartridges for it without police consent. And if discharged cartridges must be accounted for before more can be obtained.

All Guns Accounted For. Dealers in firearms, all of whom are registered, cannot sell a gun to a person who does not have a certificate. They may, however, repair a gun for a person without a certificate. All sales and repairs are reported to the authorities, with full details.

Arms manufacturers are registered, and their output is officially recorded. Theoretically, the authorities know where every gun in the country is, and practically the system is pretty airtight.

MAN IN DENMARK IS GOING 'WILD WEST'

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—It must be that some of the tales of Helena's wild and woolly past have filtered through to far off Denmark. Postmaster Harry Hendricks commented as he read Jens F. Koller's inquiry about the price of "sombro, cowboy boots, good skin chaps and revolver."

The letter, postmarked Odens, Denmark, was addressed to the "largest shop which is dealing in cowboy boots, hats, etc."

"I wrote him that he can spend from $100 to $500 for the outfit, depending on how many frills he wants thrown in," said the merchant to whom Hendricks gave the letter.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Gray County—Greeting: You are hereby commanded, as you have been commanded once before, that you summon by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the County of Gray, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in the nearest County where a newspaper is published, once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, D. D. Frank and his wife, Mrs. D. D. Frank, whose residence is unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable County Court, at the next regular term thereof, to be held in the County of Gray on the first Monday in February, 1937, at the Court House thereof in Pampa, Gray County, Texas, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court, on the 7th day of December, A. D. 1936, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 1485, wherein General Motors Acceptance Corporation, a Delaware corporation, with a permit to do business in Texas, is plaintiff, and D. D. Frank and Mrs. D. D. Frank are defendants.

The nature of the plaintiff's demand being as follows, to-wit: Suit for the sum of four hundred one and 44/100 ($401.44) dollars, principal and interest, and the further sum of sixty and 21/100 ($60.21) dollars attorneys fees, being the balance due upon a certain promissory note executed February 23, 1936, in the principal sum of $554.84, payable in monthly installments of $30.84 each, beginning on April 10, 1936, payable to the order of Jack Lane Chevrolet Company, the trade name under which Jack Lane was doing business, said note being payable at the offices of General Motors Acceptance Corporation, and containing the usual provision for acceleration of maturity, and 15 per cent attorney's fees if placed in the hands of an attorney for collection; said note was secured by first, valid and subsisting chattel mortgage lien upon the following described property, to-wit: One 1936 Model Chevrolet Sedan, Engine No. 6042246, Serial No. 15198. Plaintiff prays for judgment for the sum of $461.65, and for foreclosure of its Chattel Mortgage lien upon the above described automobile, as said lien existed on the 28th day of February, 1936, and at all times thereafter.

Herein fail not, and have you before said Court, on the said first day of the next term thereof, this writ with your endorsement thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Pampa, Texas, this 31st day of December, A. D. 1936.

King without a country

Chapter IX

An expensive orchestra from Paris played the song hit of the year, "I'd Give Up My Throne for You." Japanese lanterns festooned the wide grounds of the Villa Man Mangarite. Now and then a sleek motor car would glide in through the outer gates to deposit some late comers. And Paul and Ardash stood side by side on the terrace below the balcony, greeting their guests.

It seemed to Paul as if the entire population of the villas along the shore of Bay St. Francis must be there. All the friends and acquaintances of whom he had seen so much during the past year had passed down the receiving line; in addition there were people he had never seen before, friends of his friends and acquaintances of his acquaintances. Ardash and Countess di Marco had made up the list of guests; it looked, he decided gloomily, as if they had taken the postman's summer directory and copied off the names verbatim.

The last guest had finally arrived and been greeted. Reggie Van Twynne detached himself from the group at the improvised bar and sauntered over to the host and hostess.

"What you need's a master of ceremonies," he said. "Want me to act for you? I'll get the party rollin'."

He turned away and mounted to the temporary platform where the orchestra was holding forth. He whispered to the director, and the drummer beat a long roll to command attention. The guests clustered about the dance floor that had been laid on the lawn and looked up, expectant.

"Friends, Romans and countrymen, including the Scandinavian," said Reggie, swaying a trifle. "We are here tonight to celebrate a 'spiculous occasion. This is a great anniversary and we've got to treat it right."

"Exactly one year ago tonight our host—" he bowed and gestured freely toward Paul, who stood near the orchestra with Ardash's arm linked in his—"our host stepped down from his lofty pinnacle and became one of the boys. He threw away his stuffed shirt and put vine leaves in his hair. He quit being king of Northumbria in order to become what nature meant him to be—a playboy and a playboy, ladies, gentlemen and camp followers. I give you our host—his royal highness, Paul, king of the pleasure coast—an' our hostess, the lady his wife, her royal highness, Ardash, the queen of love and beauty."

He raised both arms and a shrill cheer, mingled with gay shouts of laughter, went up from the lawn. Reggie patted the orchestra leader on the back and climbed down.

"Did I give you a send-off?" he asked Paul and Ardash. "People, when I open a party it stays opened." He looked up at Paul and Ardash. "My friends, what you need is a drink. Come with me an' get it."

Paul followed him to the bar and obediently took the glass which was promptly placed in his hand.

"Didn't know about the program we got fixed up, did you?" Reggie asked him. "The countess an' I did it. Ardash told us to go ahead. She gave us carte blanche. An' mister, when you see it" He looked triumphantly at his host and jabbed him solemnly in the waistcoat with a forefinger. "Young girls have gone to jail an' strong men've left home for less than is going to be done here tonight."

This, Paul concluded two hours later, was no exaggeration. Performers from all the hot spots within a 100-mile radius seemed to have been pressed into service. There were blues singers, torch singers, and singers whose ditties might have brought blushing to the ears of cash customers at a stag smoker. There were fan dancers, muscle dancers, and just plain dancers whose talents, as far as Paul could see, consisted solely in an extraordinary willingness to perform without any clothes at all.

A young man at Paul's elbow looked appreciatively at the scene.

"So this is an orgy," he said slowly. "I've always wondered what they did at orgies. Now I know."

Paul turned away and walked outside a secluded spot among the shrubbery that fringed the farther end of the villa. The monotonous jungle beat of the orchestra, the burbling wall of its saxophones and its muted trumpets, the laughter and the bursts of applause and the shrill voices, came to him faintly here; he could look away from the lighted lawn, with its color and its movement, and see the dark bay under its canopy of stars.

As he looked, it seemed as if he looked across the shadowing of years as well as across the water, and saw his own kingdom again, fair under the summer sky, with its bustling cities, its neat and smiling countryside, its great myriad of people weaving the unending pattern of their history.

And it seemed that he could see the long procession of his predecessors, the kings who had reigned before him, passing in ghostly review.

And all of them, it seemed, had this in common—that they served a greater thing than themselves, sometimes without knowing it, sometimes falteringly and uncertainly, but always instinctively and, in the end, faithfully. They had found their freedom in service, and they stood out now, not so much as individuals but as figures in an unbroken procession, as men who marched in time to the beat of some drum that could summon men to transcend themselves.

He rubbed his forehead wearily. He had broken that procession, he had stepped out of it—for love, for freedom, for the need to fulfill some obscure responsibility to his own soul. Now he could see that he had made an impossible bargain—that freedom was a queer, mocking thing which a man gained by turning away from it, that love could be insubstantial and shifting, with a light that faded and a glamour that deceived. And he was conscious of a tremendous homesickness for his own land and his own people; a great desire came to him to leave this silly, drunken revel, board his stout little sailboat, steer north around sullen Cape Roman, and set a course for his home land—returning, like some mariner-king of old, from a tour of far countries and strange places, to the place that was his.

He took a step forward, impulsively, as if to turn desire into action. Then he paused; a man and a woman, dimly outlined against the lights on the lawn, had strolled near him. They did not see him. They sat down on a bench a dozen paces away—Ardath and Reggie Van Twynne.

Reggie, who had seemed quite intoxicated two hours ago, must have grown sober as the evening progressed. His voice, when he spoke, was clear, without the fuzziness that had marked his speech a little earlier.

"Ardath, kid," he was saying, "how long are you going to carry this on, anyhow?"

Paul waited, tense, for her answer. "I could pretend that I don't understand what you mean, Reggie, but I won't," she said. Her voice sounded flat and tired. "I won't even pretend that I'm shocked and insulted. But I can't give you an answer—not a real one. All I can say is, 'I don't know.'"

"Listen," said Reggie. In the dusk Paul could see him turn to face her, one arm looped over the back of the seat so that his hand rested lightly and familiarly on her shoulder. "Listen, Ardash. You were cut out to be my sort of person, not his. You know that, don't you?"

There was a brief pause. Then Ardash said, "I suppose I do. Yes, I suppose I do. Reggie, that doesn't speak very well for me, does it?"

"I don't see why not," said Reggie hotly. "I know—I've been places and done things. I've had my name in the Sunday supplements as a playboy, and all that. But after all—what's he? Just a runaway. Just somebody that took a run-out powder when he found himself in a spot."

"That isn't fair, Reggie."

"It is, too. He couldn't stand the gaff as king, so he quit. Now he can't even stand the gaff here. He's a stick. He thinks he can have his fun without paying for it, and now that he's beginning to find out he can't, he can't take it. He mopes. He doesn't like this gang we travel with. He doesn't even like you, really."

She murmured some protest.

"He doesn't," Reggie insisted. "Of course, he's got a yen for you. That doesn't mean anything. You can have a yen for a person you don't even like."

Ardath remained silent.

"You and I, now," Reggie went on.

CALIFORNIAN HAS LARGEST LICE DISPLAY

PARASITES ARE CARRIERS OF DREAD DISEASES

By SAM JACKSON
(AP Feature Service Writer)

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—California, never slow at claiming to be "first" in anything, so far has not broadcast this one:

It has the largest collection of lice in the world.

Before you nod "Yes, yes," and begin to identify them by name, it should be made clear that what is meant is real, literal lice—the parasites that infest men and animals.

The collection is in the laboratory of Gordon F. Ferris, professor of entomology at Stanford university, who has spent 20 years in his unusual quest.

They're Aristocrats

At times Dr. Ferris keeps living lice, but the great bulk of his little guests is safely embalmed on microscope slides. These can be filed away in small space, and the collection that is the envy of every other louse fancier in the world—four of them, to be exact—could be stowed away in a good-sized trunk.

Considering their humble status, lice have quite an aristocratic lineage. Professor Ferris believes they date back to the evolutionary period when birds and mammals originated.

They also are exclusive, and will live only on the kind of animal to which they are adapted. A human being cannot acquire lice from a dog, says Professor Ferris; nor can a dog from a cat. There are believed to be about 500 species, each with its particular host, but Ferris has collected and studied only two.

"We're two of a kind. We may be only a pair of treys, but we're a pair."

"And he's a king," said Ardash slowly.

"There was a long silence. "We're a shabby, shabby pair," said Ardash at last. "You're right, in a way. I am your kind, not his. His kind is too good for me. He's innocent. Reggie. He's like a child—trusting, and good, and soft of heart. . . . I can't let him down. I'm all he's got. He gave up too much for me. As long as he wants me, I've got to be on hand."

"You think so," Reggie looked out at the dark bay for a full minute. Then he stood up, and extended a hand to help her to her feet. "Well," he said, "I'll be around. Sooner or later, you know, the bottom'll fall out of all this. You know that as well as I do. When it does, little Reggie'll be on deck."

They moved away, and left Paul alone.

about 225. The missing specimens are from the rarer wild animals.

Louse Like Elephant

For some strange evolutionary reason, Haematomyzys Elephantis, the little chap that infests the elephant, has developed a proboscis strikingly similar to the trunk of his host.

One division of lice is nourished by biting the flesh, but the two species which the human race has to worry about are of the sucking variety. They live on blood, and are carriers of the dreaded disease, typhus, which causes such ravages in prisons, armies and other concentrations of human beings.

"Probably 75 per cent of the human race has lice, improbable as it may seem to us in the United States," says Professor Ferris. "In China and central Asia the condition is probably normal. The remedy, however, is simple—personal cleanliness."

Strapped to Wrist

The life span of lice is from a few weeks to three months, but the longest Ferris has been able to keep them alive in captivity is only two days. Even that involves some personal sacrifice. The lice are placed in a small container like a wrist watch case, with a fine screen on top and a piece of chiffon on the bottom. It is then strapped on the arm of the professor or a research assistant.

The captive lice can feed thru the chiffon, but can't migrate.

Some danger attaches to this experiment and extreme precautions are taken to obtain insects which are not infected. One British investigator happened to get some typhus-carrying lice. The experiment was fatal.

FISH STATISTICS

LEWISTON, Mont. (AP)—Twenty million fish have been raised at the Lewistown fish hatchery since 1921, Iver Hodge, superintendent, says. He estimates the cost of producing fish is about one cent an inch for each inch growth up to seven inches. All the fish are released in Montana streams.

Consider their humble status, lice have quite an aristocratic lineage. Professor Ferris believes they date back to the evolutionary period when birds and mammals originated.

They also are exclusive, and will live only on the kind of animal to which they are adapted. A human being cannot acquire lice from a dog, says Professor Ferris; nor can a dog from a cat. There are believed to be about 500 species, each with its particular host, but Ferris has collected and studied only two.

"We're two of a kind. We may be only a pair of treys, but we're a pair."

"And he's a king," said Ardash slowly.

"There was a long silence. "We're a shabby, shabby pair," said Ardash at last. "You're right, in a way. I am your kind, not his. His kind is too good for me. He's innocent. Reggie. He's like a child—trusting, and good, and soft of heart. . . . I can't let him down. I'm all he's got. He gave up too much for me. As long as he wants me, I've got to be on hand."

"You think so," Reggie looked out at the dark bay for a full minute. Then he stood up, and extended a hand to help her to her feet. "Well," he said, "I'll be around. Sooner or later, you know, the bottom'll fall out of all this. You know that as well as I do. When it does, little Reggie'll be on deck."

They moved away, and left Paul alone.

It's our family's whiskey, neighbor—and neighbor, it's your price!

This shows you the New Year's Feed they got up for us Wilkens That's me standing up. On the further side of the table next me it's Pop Easley that's been distilling close to 20 years. Then Dan Coyle. Dan started cooping for Dad 42 years ago. Next Dan it's Mell Swank and Baldy Riggle. Baldy sizes up the grain. With their back to you it's Bill Alloway up this end—and he's been a cooper 38 years. Next Bill it's Jim Ekas, head stacker. Then my brother William and my brother in law Tom. Harry E. Wilken

Look at the old timers that help us put up our Family's Whiskey!

Lots of these fellows was making whiskey before ever you were born

I take it there must be a lot of folks wondering who we got helping us fill all the orders that's piling in for this Family's Whiskey of ours. Well I don't know of any better way of showing you than letting you look the men over yourself in this photo here. These men were born and bred in the whiskey business you might say.

Take Old Dan Coyle behind the bottle there. He was working with Pa Wilken 42 years ago. And as more than likely you've heard—Pa Wilken's personal experience with whiskey making comes to something even more than 42 years. And that's not mentioning all Grandpa Wilken's experience either.

WILKEN FAMILY BLENDED WHISKEY
