O'Reilly honored at luncheon

Senior Warden Tom O'Reilly was only in Colorado City for 14 months, but he received an affectionate sendoff last Thursday, his last day here before moving to Gatesville to assume leadership of the 2,900-bed maximum security Hughes Unit.

About 100 TDCJ employees and community members gathered for a noon luncheon in the Wallace Unit Visitation Room, eating barbecue and trimmings and being entertained by the proceedings.

Senior Warden Rodney Cooper, who has served at the Telford Unit in New Boston in Northeast Texas since June last year, is returning at the end of this month.

Wallace Warden Eddie Wheeler opened the program by presenting Warden O'Reilly with a Wood's Boots gift certificate from the employees of the Wallace and Ware Units and their Sweetwater, San Angelo and Big Spring Work Camps.

Chaplain Wayne Horton joked that O'Reilly, 50, had asked Huntsville for "a younger picture to put on the wall" at the Wallace Unit and, after a search, was mailed a 1957-58 "School Days" photo of himself in Pasadena, near Houston.

The framed photo of a resolute looking boy with a firm chin was presented to the warden.

Chaplain Eddie Riley said

O'Reilly often inquired about the spiritual progress of inmates during his tenure here, and the chaplain showed an inmate's carving of a shoe soul with "Saved Any Souls Today?" under it.

Because firearms may not be taken into the prison, City Manager Steve Shutt gave him a color photo of a Remington Model 870 12 gauge pump shotgun with two barrels, two boxes of ammunition and a case that the city and county were giving him.

Mayor Bob Reilly and County Board of Economic Development member Bobby Lemons, in behalf of the Mitchell

Hospital project nears resumption

County Hospital District Administrator Rick Rickard said Monday the district's stalled $7.5 million hospital and doctors' clinic construction project will probably get going again at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 28.

That's when board members will hear architect Robert Cox of Austin and Project Manager Bob Wallace of Lockhart report on negotiations with general contractor Cooper Construction of Odessa about firming up the foundation.

"It's to the point now where we've got to get it going again," Rickard said.

"That's going to be a pretty action packed meeting, I imagine."

Asked if the prospects are good to resume work, he said, "I don't think there're prospects of anything else. It's just a matter of getting the i's dotted and the t's crossed."

Cox said at the panel's July 24 meeting that it would cost $70,000 to $80,000 to hire the Land Stabilizers Co. of San Antonio to inject a slurry under the foundation pad and counteract the possible future effects of sand under parts of it, mostly the south end.

Cox had already ordered most of the work stopped at Rogers Road and South Interstate 20.

He said then that the district should not have to pay anything, but Rickard reported at the board's Saturday, Aug. 11,

Coach Guy Morriss

Two city natives coach at Kentucky

New University of Kentucky Wildcats Head Football Coach Guy Morriss and outside linebackers-strong safeties coach Larry Hoefer have something in common neither of them knew about until Hoefer arrived in Lexington this year.

Neither lived here very long, but they were both born in Colorado City.

"It is weird, isn't it?" Coach Morriss asked in a telephone interview last Friday.

"I didn't know that until we read each other's bios. It's funny how people's lives cross sometimes."

Morriss' father Ross, a pharmaceutical salesman, moved the family to Talco, near Mt. Pleasant in Northeast Texas, when he was less than a year old.

He has never been back, but he knows Frankie Grimmert of Snyder and Snyder native Dave McGinnis, an NFL coach.

CHS is "recognized," county enrollments told

Colorado High School won a "recognized" rating with its new TAAS Test results while Hutchinson and Kelley Elementary Schools and Colorado Middle School were all rated "acceptable," school board members were told Monday night.

In a special 7 p.m. meeting, TAAS Coordinator Marcy Claxton reported CHS sophomores earned the distinction with spring passing rates of 93.2 percent in reading, 92.2 in mathematics and 89.3 in writing.

The school got the Texas Education Agency's highest rating last year, "exemplary," but Supt. Buddy Compton said the test was harder this time.

School Board President Larry Blasingame was absent for the first time in his 12 year tenure, having been called to Odessa because his daughter, Catherine Allen, was having a difficult time delivering a baby.

The baby was delivered by Caesarean section Tuesday morning.

Board member Jesse Muñoz Jr. was also absent.

Compton said the middle school missed being recognized only because 78, not 80, percent of its economically disadvantaged children passed reading.

Cookoff plans underway

It doesn't make sense to go to a barbecue cookoff, smell the tantalizing scent of succulent barbecue and not be able to eat any of it.

So after a few years of having the World Championship Boer Goat Cookoff without a public food booth, sponsors of the Oct. 5-6 event will operate one again this year.

Association President Linton Ray Webb of Loraine said the booth "sold out of everything" last year.

"They can drive up and honk to get one to go, and we'll bring it out to them," he said.

Plates of barbecued Boer Goat, potato salad, red beans and bread go for $5 and iced tea and soft drinks for $1.

The booth will be at the gazebo on Ruddick Park's south side.

More than 150 plates were sold last year.

The cookoff association had to be reorganized following the death of Secretary-Treasurer and stalwart organizer Julia Bennett of Loraine last January.

Larry Farr is vice president, and his wife Susan has moved up to take Ms. Bennett's place.

"We're going to miss her deeply," Webb said last Friday.

As the wife of snake handler-hunting guide Don Bennett and friend of the late Loraine cropduster Casey Merket, Ms. Bennett was an original sponsor of the cookoff when it was first held in Merket's honor in 1995, the year after his death.

She died from a heart attack.

Forty two three person teams came here last year from throughout West Texas and the state to vie for the $1,000 first

Beneficial Farm Bill touted

West Texas farmers have a lot riding on Congress' consideration of the proposed new 10 year Farm Bill this fall.

Recently approved by the House Agriculture Committee, the $168 billion measure is only good under the government's 2001 financial profile, U. S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Abilene told a forum of county leaders last Wednesday.

If the House and Senate don't pass it and the President doesn't sign it before Christmas, $79 billion will no longer be available.

Rep. Stenholm told 40 directors of various governmental entities, farmers, ranchers and other interested people at the hour long 3:30 p.m. gathering at the First National Bank that the prospects appear to be reasonably good.

The Senate Agriculture Committee backed off on funding that exceeded what President Bush had said he would sign before Congress recessed on Aug. 3.

The bipartisan process that produced the bill, with Ranking Member Stenholm and Republican Committee Chairman Larry Combest of Lubbock leading the way, should build support in the House.

There are more unknown factors in the Senate, where Democratic Iowa Sen. Tom Harkin is ag chairman.

While the House bill increases conservation spending by 80 percent to $16.5 billion, Stenholm said, that may not be enough to satisfy Sen. Harkin.

"If you add to X, you take away from Y," he told the group in FNB's break room.

One big "X" that Stenholm and Combest do not want weakened is the extremely valuable counter cyclical payment program to establish a 73 cents a pound target price for cotton, guaranteeing farmers at least that much.

The price of cotton this year has been wallowing in the 30 cent range.

The 17th District congressman said this is the first time in history that members from the same state have held the top two positions on the Ag Committee, much less from adjacent districts.

Combest represents the 19th Congressional District, the late George Mahon's old district.

"The only thing I'd change about Larry is the title in front of his name," Stenholm said.

With a bachelor's degree in biology and a minor in secondary education, Morriss had planned to teach but never seriously considered coaching.

Patriots Coach Raymond Berry invited Morriss to staff meetings in his last year as a player and hired him as an offensive line assistant in '88-'89.

"They must have seen something in me as a player

Tyler woman joins family after a 25 year search

Cindy Wilkerson of Tyler started looking for her lost family 25 years ago, when she was 17 years old.

But it was an off and on ambition because she had been adopted twice as a 3 and 5 year old and was afraid of rejection.

Then she contacted Tarrant County Court Adoption Intervenor Bonnie Solecki, who got her onto the trail that led to two brothers in Michigan and a sister, Sue Rivera, in Colorado City.

"I didn't even know I had a sister," Ms. Wilkerson said at a family reunion last Saturday at the Housing Authority building on Oak Street.

"Two weeks ago, Bonnie said, 'You better sit down. There were eight of you children.'"

Her brothers, Gordon and Richard Turner, and sister ate and met with other family members, reviewing personal histories and mapping plans for future activities.

Ms. Wilkerson, who grew up in Mount Pleasant and was "Miss Mount Pleasant" in 1977, and Gordon Turner have the same father, Gene Mullins of Fort Worth, whom her brother plans to visit.

She wants to visit their mother, Rita Johnson of Rogers, Ark.

The two boys, Ms. Rivera and Melinda McNamara of Lodi, Mich. were raised together by their great uncle and aunt, James and Maxine Turner.

Ms. Johnson and her husband James raised their two youngest daughters, Victoria and Melissa.

Neither Ms. Rivera nor Ms. Wilkerson knows the name or whereabouts of a still missing sister who is believed to have been adopted by the doctor who delivered her in 1963.

"I'm so excited," said Ms. Wilkerson, who operates her own vending machine business in Tyler. "They're precious people just like I figured they would be."

She and her husband Dean, who owns a paint and body shop, have three children.

FIRST GRADER Gabriel Gutierrez Jr. was serious about his coloring Monday for teacher Lisa Stephens at Kelley Elementary School. He was one of 243 students to participate in the first day of classes there.

UBS schedules Big Spring drive

United Blood Services of San Angelo will be at Big Spring Scenic Mountain for a blood drive on Wednesday

August 29, 2001 from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Please call the Volunteer Desk at 268-4778 for an appointment.

"All blood donors at the blood drive will receive a free meal from the Yellow Rose Cafe," said Sherry Morton, Community Relations Representative, "and Scenic Mountain is great for providing extra incentives to blood donors, thereby helping supply the blood needed to service area facilities."

Donors must be at least 17 years old, weigh more than 110 pounds and be in good health. We also ask that you have proof of identification and know the names of any medication you may have taken in the past 30 days.

Library restroom redone

Mitchell County commissioners Tuesday approved a $3,885 expenditure to make the women's restroom at the county library compliant with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

They also told the Library Board to proceed with having the east side of the 340 Oak St. library's foundation repaired to stop a crack in the east wall.

Stanton contractor Junior Heidelberg said he will remove a toilet partition and commode, raise the lavatory, create a five foot wheelchair turning space in the center of the room and widen the door from two to three feet.

The restroom will be left locked to be used by women and handicapped men. The men's restroom will be unchanged.

Library Board members Bob Reilly and Kerry Cain and Librarian Nancy Mayo attended the 9 a.m. called meeting with Reilly saying Heidelberg might also be considered to fix the east wall.

Pct. 2 Commissioner Carl Guelker was absent.

Reilly said Heidelberg built the now vacated McDonald's restaurant building and new Park's Chevron convenience store and is at work in the G Kell Building at North Hwy. 208 and Interstate 20, where Reilly has his insurance office.

The man said he had made a cursory inspection of the library building.

Identifying it as "a foundation problem," he said he would have to "dig it out and pour concrete" to repair the crack and keep it from growing.

"It's just going to keep sinking now that it's started," he said.

"It's got to be fixed," said Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston. "It's just going to get worse if we don't."

The one item meeting lasted 15 minutes.

O'REILLY

County Commissioners Court, read a proclamation and resolution declaring Thursday "Tom O'Reilly Day" and thanking him for his service here.

O'Reilly said the TDCJ often transfers wardens, and they try, often unsuccessfully, not to form ties that will be hard to break.

"You get attached to people, and that makes it difficult to say goodbye," he said.

"In 25 years, Colorado City is as good a place as I have ever been. For community support, y'all have more than anybody in the system, I'll promise you."

He praised his correctional officers' and supervisors' work ethic and twice called C-City and Mitchell County "a showplace" as a setting for the TD-CJ.

"As they say in the Irish, I hope you're in Heaven a full half hour before the devil knows you're dead," he said.

In an informal conversation before a Wednesday morning photo pertaining to recognition of the units' $17,030 Special Olympics-Texas contribution, O'Reilly said he has no specific retirement plans because he still enjoys his work and is in good health.

His wife Peggy is a personnel representative at the Ramsey I Unit in Rosharon.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I have moved back to Colorado City after 30 years of ministry. I have enjoyed the last 23 1/2 years as a Volunteer Chaplain in prisons all across the United States but for the last 10 years here in Texas. I look forward to doing some volunteer work here at the Wallace and Ware Units, plus my letter writing to every state and prisons in 19 foreign countries (Japan, Philippines, Egypt, Thailand, Africa, Australia) these are a few.

This Christmas the ministry will send out 2,500 christmas cards to children of prisoners. We could use some help with donations of Christmas cards, envelopes, and postal stamps. If you would like to donate cans call 915-728-2364.

budget workshop that Cooper had estimated $350,000 and asked the district to pay it.

"I don't know how much it's going to cost, but those proposals had a lot of fluff in them," he said Monday.

The board is also slated to adopt its 2001-02 budget and set the property tax rate at 39.57 cents per $100 in valuation, which would raise the average tax bill from $83.41 to $94.49.

The current rate is 39.6 cents, but the district's valuation has increased.

where they thought I would be a good coach," he said.

"That's when I got the bug."

He was offensive coordinator at Mansfield High School, near Fort Worth, and coached offensive lines at Valdosta State in Georgia, San Antonio of the Canadian Football League, the Arizona Cardinals and Mississippi State University before arriving at Kentucky in '97.

He still counts himself an adherent to the philosophy of Berry, a Paris native who is retired at East Golden, Colo.

The Wildcats went 2-9 last year and plan to improve despite the loss of 19 scholarships over the next three years because of NCAA violations during the tenure of previous coach Hal Mumme.

"So far, so good," said Morris just after practice. "It's a matter of changing attitudes and philosophies, practical habits and intensity levels."

"We got back to old fashioned, basic football principles -- blocking, tackling, throwing and catching with a high tempo and high intensity."

"We need to have great discipline and be very well conditioned, hit the weight room, eat right and study film. You just can't overlook any part of the game anymore because your competition sure won't."

The Wildcats are in the Southeast Conference with Florida, Georgia, Tennessee and South Carolina.

Hoefler volunteered that he "was born in Colorado City in Root Memorial Hospital," the forerunner of Mitchell County Hospital.

He has a twin brother who is an Abilene dentist, Dr. Barry Hoefler.

His late father F. G. worked for Pan American Oil Co., and his mother Billie still lives in the Key City.

The family left here when he was about a year old but did not go as far as the Morrissses.

Hoefler graduated from Abilene Cooper in '69 and maintained a nearly exclusive Texas playing and coaching resume until coming to Kentucky.

He was an all conference defensive back and most valuable player at McMurry University when the Indians were a top 10 NAIA squad.

He coached at Tarleton State in Stephenville, Big Spring and Abilene High Schools and West Texas A&M and the University of Texas at El Paso before working the '89-'93 seasons at the University of Missouri as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator.

Hoefler coached the outside linebackers and went to four bowl games at Texas Tech in '94-'99 and was defensive coordinator and linebacker coach last year at Texas-El Paso as the Miners went 8-3 and were Western Athletic Conference co-champions.

Former Tech defensive coordinator John Goodner has joined him with the blue-wearing Wildcats.

Hoefler has met three other McMurry graduates in Lexington -- "two preachers and a banker."

"We keep up with West Texas, I'll promise you," he said. "We keep up with the Wolves and everybody."

"I recruited the State of Texas when I was with the University of Missouri. There's nothing better than Texas high school football."

"It's so well coached, and there is a lot of emphasis on it from the community."

Morris said it "is the best high school football in the country -- always has been and, I think, still is. It's highly competitive, so you've got to prepare yourself."

"There's a lot of pressure in Texas on high school coaches," he said. "That makes you get out and go to the clinics and stay current."

"If you're not a good teacher, you're probably not going to last in the coaching profession. The cream rises."

He has two brothers in Arlington, Keith and Vic, neither of them involved in football.

Its overall results were 85.4 percent in reading, 92.4 in math and 88.3 in writing.

Hutchinson's passing percentages were 84.9 in reading, 88.7 in math and 82.3 in writing.

Kelley's students are not separately tested.

Compton said Monday's first day enrollment showed 1,045 students in the four schools -- a decrease of 19 from last fall's 1,064 that will shrink as late enrolling students arrive.

He said there were 306 at the high school, down 29; 251 at the middle school, up 18; 245 at Hutchinson, up six; and 243 at Kelley, down 14.

Westbrook Schools opened Monday with 144 students, down one from last year, while 166 students, eight fewer, attended the first day of classes in Loraine, officials said.

With Vice President Sally Neff presiding, the C-City panel okayed hiring Hope Fullwood of Roscoe to replace fourth grade teacher Susan Goodman, who moved to Rockdale.

It set 7 a.m. Monday, Aug. 27, to adopt the district's 20-01-02 budget and set its property tax rate.

Cafeteria Director Pat White won approval to raise most snack bar items by 25 cents.

"The TEA says our a la carte and snack bar prices should be high enough to encourage students to eat on the 'A' line, where we would receive reimbursements," Ms. White said.

Iced tea is being dropped from 65 to 50 cents, and ravioli, square pizza, corn dogs and burritos are going up from 75 cents to $1.25.

The CCR Column

Classified ads tell stories

By Bob Campbell

Everything's cheap in classified advertising, even a divorce.

"Divorce, $175," says one in a recently skimmed publication. "Only one signature required! Uncontested."

"Lump Sum Cash $$$." We buy structured insurance settlements, lottery winnings and casino jackpots.

"Farm and Heavy Equipment" is a column we could make more of, judging from the size of the annual Loraine Farm Equipment Sale.

Some people give up looking for what they want and advertise under "Want to Buy."

You see why they couldn't find it --

"Looking for a large supply of antlers."

"Hydraulic or cable dump trailer and broadcast silage chopper."

Cemetery arrangements are sometimes romantically proffered -- "Two crypts side by side, $2,200 each."

With Colorado City being a nationally known antiques center, we could promote the industry more with an Antique Guide and an "Antiques and Collectibles" column.

Pets are a big item in classified sections in other places:

"Nanday Conure, young, very gentle bird, $350. Includes large cage and toys."

"Green Iguana, large reptarium, accessories, 20 gallon tank, wire cage, protein skimmer filter."

"Yellow Head Amazon Parrot, $800. With cage, $1,200."

"Python Boa Babies, Burmese $60, Red Tailed $80."

"Tom Thumb, beautiful orange male tabby, polydactyl (extra toes), neutered, shots current."

Hunting leases, reloading equipment, boats and fishing gear are naturals in a recreational area:

"Dove hunters now booking, large sunflower field, stock tank on two sides, $35 a day."

"Hog hunts, bow, pistol, rifle, no shot, no fee."

"Crappie-bass boat, 14 foot flat bottom aluminum with 25 hp Mercury, electric starter, trolling motor, live well, great trailer with spoke wheels."

Some ads from Abilene offer "The Cheapest Cigarettes and Cheapest Beer in the Big Country" while others try to solve associated problems.

"If you want to drink, that's your business," says an Alcoholics Anonymous notice. "If you want to stop, that's ours!"

"Airplane Star Duster II Project. New fuselage tacked, lower wings complete, spars, ribs, tip bows, fittings for upper wing and center section."

"Pregnant? Don't panic! Find the 'perfect family' for your infant or toddler. Counseling, maternity related living expenses, legal-medical expenses paid. Call Ann."

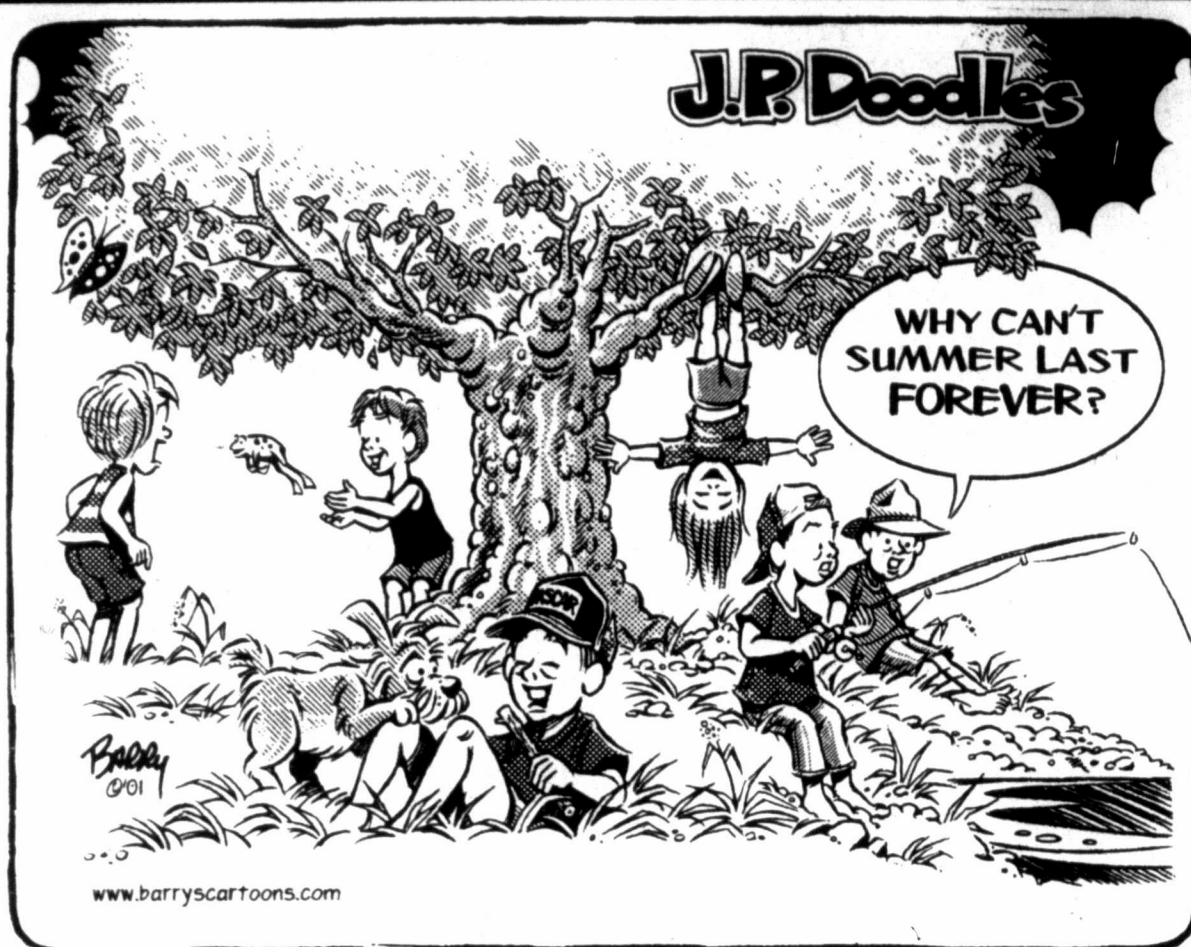

Some people run businesses with classifieds, delivering and stacking firewood, converting heirlooms into lamps and pet sitting.

But while ads in most papers compete for attention, you can be sure that yours in the Record will be seen.

Few papers are read more intensely than this one. Many of our readers read every word.

You can say a lot in a 25 word ad and run it five weeks for $15.50.

The cost drops to 10 cents a word, or $2.50 a week, thereafter.

The back forty

by Roger Pond

The Back Forty

I should have known when I saw the sign stating, "under new management--truckers welcome." The previous owner must have gone broke or was run out of town, and the truckers didn't feel welcome for some reason.

A sign like that is a dead giveaway. Everybody knows truckers don't care if they're welcome or not -- as long as the food is good. (Did you ever see a sign saying, "truckers not welcome"?)

But I walked by the sign without even thinking and sat down at the end of the counter. I was in a hurry and ordered apple pie and coffee.

What could be more American than apple pie and coffee? Well, I'll tell you straight away this wasn't an American apple pie. This was about the most foreign piece of cookery I have ever seen.

This pie was floating around the saucer in some sort of liquid I assume dripped from the refrigeration unit. The crust was soggy. The apples were soggy. It was like pie ala moat.

But I was in hurry and began to eat as best I could.

Then I heard a woman's voice in the kitchen, "I hope we make some money at lunch time, 'cause I got to buy some Pine Sol and see if I can get rid of that smell."

I began to think, "I'm having enough trouble trying to get this pie down without hearing about any smells in the kitchen."

The woman comes out of the kitchen and stands at the end of the counter and says, "Boy, that's the awfulest smell I ever seen. Have you ever smelled a skunk up close like that? You know when you go by one on the road you just get a whiff, but up close they smell just awful!"

The other customer was finished eating, and I suppose he was listening, but I couldn't look up. Sometimes it's best to mind your own business.

"My dog got into it with a skunk this morning, and boy did he get nailed!" she continued. "My boyfriend heard the awfulest racket out in the yard and ran out to break it up -- and that skunk squirted the dog right in the face just as he got there. Frank came running back in the house with the dog right behind him and before I could slam the door, he ran in and rubbed his face all over the rug."

"Frank?" I thought. "The dog," she said. "And now I got to get some Pine Sol or something to get rid of that smell. You can put tomato juice on a dog, but you can't do that with a rug."

"How about Frank?" I thought to myself.

The bill for that apple pie float and a lousy cup of coffee was $1.80. It was worth it, though. I did get a column out of it.

Dorothy Faye's Table Top Creations

By Tumbleweed Smith

You hardly notice when you pass from Winnie into Stowell. Both are cities in Chambers county in southeast Texas. A new landmark has been built in Stowell. It's a restaurant called Skip's Outrageous Bar & Grill.

"We were looking around, trying to figure out what type of business was needed here," says Dorothy Faye Hamilton, who runs the restaurant with her son Skip. "We figured everybody eats out, so here we are."

They had no background whatsoever in the food business. Dorothy Faye had owned about ten businesses before, but none of them had anything to do with food. "I thought Skip would enjoy visiting with customers. He's a people person."

The place resembles a Colorado Ski chalet. "The interior walls are from a hundred year old barn on our ranch that Skip tore down. The bar, the booths, the table tops were all built from that barn wood."

The table tops. Now there's a topic of conversation. They're what really make the place unique. They contain memorabilia from families in the area. The items range from a football ticket for a Rice Institute football game in the fifties to a baby's ankle bracelet. There are newspaper stories, photographs, key chains, things mailed from the San Jacinto monument in 1936 and little doo-dads you usually find stuck in drawers somewhere. "It's accumulated stuff," says Dorothy Faye.

Her family had pictures, her husband's family had pictures. "We had all kinds of little items, but nobody saw them. They were in boxes stuck in closets. We decided to drag all this stuff out and let people enjoy it."

People brought in things when they found out what she was doing. "I went to the high school annual staff in Winnie and bought some pictures. Some of the newspapers gave me pictures. I collected these items over a three year period. We figured if we were going to name the restaurant outrageous, we needed to do something outrageous. The building is outrageous for Stowell, Texas. And instead of writing checks for things to hang on the walls, we decided to do local things on our table tops. It's a collage of life in the area during the 20th century."

Making the table tops was tedious. First the items had to be arranged and glued down, then epoxy was poured over them. "It's a real nasty process you go through," says Dorothy Faye. "I made about fourteen pours on each table and they have to be done twenty-four hours apart. The epoxy has to set up with each pour and you have to pour it real thin. It's a very slow process."

Building the table tops was as big a job as building the restaurant. "I had never done anything like this. I just bought the stuff, read the directions and said OK, here we go. I bought it at Home Depot. It's called Bills 50. And we went through tons of it for our twenty tables and the bar, which seats twenty-seven."

She says it's a really neat marketing tool because people come in and sit at one table and they have to come back to sit at another table to see who's picture or write-up is on that table. The table tops have some information about just everybody in Stowell and Winnie.

FARM BILL

"I would rather be chairman and have him as the ranking minority member."

In a wide ranging discussion, he said West Texas Democrats generally did not fare well in statewide remapping of state House and Senate districts by the Legislative Redistricting Board in Austin, although Mitchell County stayed in Rep. Rob Junell's 72nd District.

"It comes payback time in politics, and this was the time," he said.

Knox City Rep. David Counts' 70th District was wiped out, and he was paired with Vernon Republican Rick Hardeste.

Speaker of the House Pete Laney of Hale Center's 85th District was stretched all the way to Big Spring.

Officials attended from the County Commissioners Court, Board of Economic Development and Hospital Board, City Council, Colorado City School Board and other groups.

Mayor Bob Reily said the Colorado River and Morgan Creek would run better when it rains if they were cleared of salt cedars.

County Farm Bureau President David Stubblefield said some chemicals that could be used to eliminate water hungry salt cedars are prohibited because Mitchell is one of only three counties where endangered poppy mallow flowers grow wild.

Hospital Board member Larry Johnson asked if Medicare reimbursements could be speeded up, adding, "We could go broke waiting on our check."

City Manager Steve Shutt said plenty of state and federal grant money is available to lay new sewer lines, but there is little to repair streets and highways.

"The streets, bridges and roads were built in the Eisenhower Administration, and they're coming apart," he said.

Stenholm said endangered plants and animals should be protected, but it can be overdone.

"We've about got the Concho Water Snake put to bed," he said, referring to a controversy during the O. H. Ivie Reservoir project southeast of Ballinger about 20 years ago.

"Nobody will ever convince me that you damage a water snake by building a lake."

Mark Lundgren of Stamford, Stenholm's district manager, said Secretary of Health and Human Services Tommy Thompson in Washington is aware of the problem of tardy Medicare payments to hospitals and wants to solve it.

Stenholm has co-authored a bill with Arizona Republican Congressman Jim Kolbe to let people divert some of their Social Security payroll taxes into individually controlled personal accounts.

It is not a "privatization" measure, he emphasized.

"We have to make some changes or the system is going to self destruct for our children and grandchildren," he said.

He said people 55 years older and older would not be eligible for the program.

There are occasional examples of congressional bipartisanship, Stenholm said, but the idea that bipartisanship is often aspired to "is pure bull."

The 12 term congressman is the only one of 51 Ag Committee members to have helped write the 1980 Farm Bill.

Only Stenholm and Combest worked on the '85 legislation, and only he, Combest and controversial California Congressman Gary Condit were on the committee in '90, he said.

Eighteen committee members were there in '95, and the proposed new bill is the first for 33 others.

Noon Lions Club hosts Gordon Wood, E.J. Holub

The Colorado City Noon Lions Club has announced a series of distinguished speakers in September and October.

Program Chairman Hollis Gainey said Burle Pettit, editor emeritus of the Lubbock Avalanche Journal and its former longtime sports editor, will be the featured speaker on Friday, Sept. 7, at the Civic Center.

Pettit, a Moran native, is a member of the University of North Texas Board of Regents in Denton, his alma mater.

Others will be retired football coaches Gordon Wood of Brownwood and Louis Kelley of Lubbock Sept. 21 and 28 and former Texas Tech University All American linebacker and center E. J. Holub of Midland Oct. 12.

Gainey said non-members may attend the luncheons, but you should notify the Civic Center beforehand at 728-2072.

The meal is $5.75. There is no charge if you do not eat.

Coach Wood's teams won two state championships at Stamford and seven at Brownwood, distinguishing him as the winningest high school coach in the nation with 394 victories.

Coach Kelley retired last spring after a noted career at Estacado High School, where he produced a number of future college All Americans and professional players.

A Lubbock High School graduate, Holub was Texas Tech's first All American.

"He won it on both sides, and that was unheard of," Gainey said, meaning Holub played offense and defense.

Having 12 knee surgeries, Holub played 11 years for the Kansas City Chiefs, appeared in seven Pro Bowls and was a four time All Pro linebacker.

Todd Mouser and Heather Craven

Mouser, Miss Craven married

Heather Craven of Colorado City and Todd Mouser of Bastrop, Texas proudly announce their recent marriage.

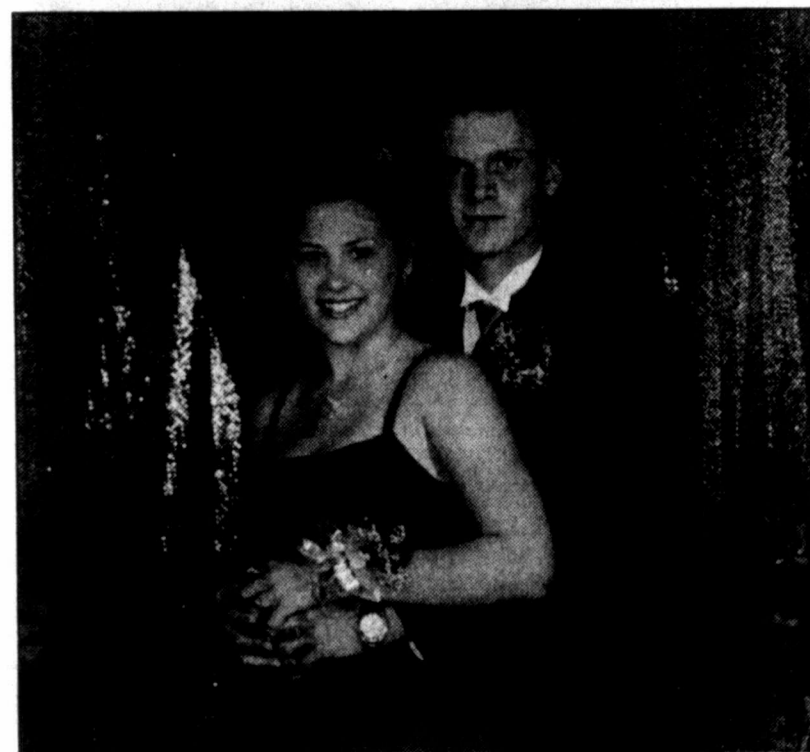

The couple exchanged vows in Jamaica on August 7, 2001 at the Grand Lido Resort in Ocho Rios.

Upon their return a reception was held at Toro Plata

Ranch in Bastrop.

Heather is employed by Jhonson Controls in Austin as an Application Engineer. Todd is an electrician with Encompass Electrical Technologies.

The two have made their home among the beautiful pines east of Bastrop, Tx.

Chelsea Davidson and Jeffery Fox

Fox, Miss Davidson to wed

Roger and Cassie Davidson of Loraine would like to announce the engagement of their daughter Chelsea Lee Davidson, to Jeffery Garland Fox of Colorado City, Texas.

Jeffery is the son of Jerry and Shella Fox of Colorado

City, Texas.

The wedding ceremony will take place on October 27, 2001 at 6 p.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, in Colorado City, Texas. A reception and dance will follow.

Atkins, Miss Sellers are united

Julie Nicole Sellers of San Angelo, Texas and William Robert (Robbie) Atkins of Colorado City, Texas were united in a double ring ceremony at 6:30 p.m. May 19, 2001 at the Church of Christ of Colorado City, Minister Tim Mills of the Church of Christ in Alpine, Texas officiating.

The bride's parents are Mark and Laurie Sellers of Colorado City. Grandparents of the bride are Jim and Betty Calvert of Dunn and Mike and Betty Sellers of Austin, Texas.

The groom's parents are Tim and Julie Atkins of Colorado City. Grandparents of the groom are Patricia Atkins of Breckenridge, Texas; Carl and Sherry Graef of Houston, Texas; David and Edna Smith of Magna Utah. Great-Great Grandmothers are Fern Woolsey of Cherokee, Texas and Gloria Smith of Jacksboro, Texas.

Her father gave the bride in marriage. The bride wore an A-line gown with a sweetheart neckline of snow-white imperial satin and poly chiffon tenderly crafted by the groom's mom. The corset bodice styled with twin spaghetti straps featuring hundreds of hand-sewn sequins and pearls in an exclusive pattern upon a Venice applique. The corset laced back intertwined with corded satin and outlined with delicate re-embroidered lace accented with clear sequins and pearls creating an enchanting sculpted bodice, the enduring satin gown layered with poly chiffon featured block pleating flowing to a soft delicate court train.

Enhancing the bride's glowing features and continuing the theme of her gown, she wore a delicate rose and baby's breath circlet with a removable waist length veil framing her with white chiffon edged in imperial satin then tapering to a simple scallop lace on organza, the brides hair styled in beautiful soft curls above and cascading around her face and the headdress, she carried a spectacular multitude floral bouquet provided by Colorado Floral.

Bridesmaids were Amy Vaughn friend of the bride, and Autumn Calvert of Alpine, cousin of the bride. Their sleeveless sheath dresses were cornflower blue in shinning imperial satin with a side walking slit along with silk sheer over-arm wraps of deep purples and coordinating blues.

The groom wore a white double lapel tuxedo, and white cummerbund, making them a stunning couple. The groomsmen Chris Bolin friend of the groom of Colorado City, and Bobby Sellers, brother of the bride, of Lampassas, Texas wore purple dress shirts under black lapel western vests with black pants and bow ties.

Crimestoppers offers reward

An Adams fertilizer trailer was stolen recently from Colorado Feed & Seed. The trailer has a stainless steel tank, black metal frame, pin hitch, with an "S" marking on the tongue. The trailer is valued at $7300.00.

Crime Stoppers will pay up to $1000.00 reward for information leading to the indictment of the person(s) responsible for the felony theft. Call 728-TIPS (8477). You will not be asked your name and no one will know who called.

Ushers and candlelighters were Timmy Atkins, brother of the groom of Colorado City, and Trae Calvert, cousin of the bride, of Alpine.

The bride ascended the altar under triple arches with an assortment of deep blue, and purple flowers and wrapped greenery draped together with snow-white ribbons and bow. The altar was adorned with dual candelabras and long tapers. Each aisle was decorated with a tulpe bow.

Singing "When I Fall in Love" by Celine Dion and "From this Moment" by Shania Twain for the couple were Melissa Harris and her sister Amanda Hicks of Midland, friends of the bride and groom.

The bride's table featured a drape of cornflower imperial satin, a cherished clock personalized with the bride's and groom's names and wedding date, a gift from the bride's grandparents, the brides beautiful standing bouquet, a floating three-tiered traditional white cake and frosting, with ornate trims and purple bows of ribbon, atop each floating layer were miniature bouquets featuring a mixture of blue, purple, and white flowers, and a silver punch bowl.

The groom's table featured a snow-white organza drape, the couple's engagement photograph highlighted the table, and the groom's cakes were triple cheesecakes with freshly sliced strawberry topping.

After a honeymoon trip to San Antonio, the couple will make their home in Colorado City. The bride is a student at Angelo State University and is employed by Colorado City Livestock Market. The groom is a recent graduate of Western Texas College with a degree in welding and is employed by S&S Construction of Big Spring Texas.

Notice of Public Hearing on Tax Increase

The MITCHELL COUNTY HOSPITAL DISTRICT will hold a public hearing on a proposal to increase total tax revenues from properties on the tax roll in the preceding year by 17.06616 percent. Your individual taxes may increase at a greater or lesser rate, or even decrease, depending on the change in the taxable value of your property in relation to the change in taxable value of all other property and the tax rate that is adopted.

The public hearing will be held on August 28, 2001 at 6 pm at Mitchell County Hospital Physical Therapy Department.

FOR the proposal: Larry Debusk Larry Johnson
 John Martinez Dale Geiger

AGAINST the proposal: Shirley Clifton

PRESENT and not voting: Kent Boyd

ABSENT: Kenneth Rogers

The following table compares taxes on an average home in this taxing unit last year to taxes proposed on the average home this year. Again, your individual taxes may be higher or lower, depending on the taxable value of your property.

	Last Year	This Year
Average residence homestead value	$21,055	$23,878
General exemptions available (amount available on the average homestead, not including senior citizen's or disabled person's exemptions)	$0	$0
Average taxable value	$21,055	$23,878
Tax rate (per $100)	0.396150	0.395700
Tax	$83.41	$94.49

Under this proposal, taxes on the average homestead would increase by $11.08 or 13.28 percent compared with last year's taxes. Comparing tax rates without adjusting for changes in property value, the tax rate would decrease by $0.00045 per $100 of taxable value or 0.11 percent compared to last year's tax rate. These tax rate figures are not adjusted for changes in the taxable value of property.

1,300 FREE BACKPACKS were delivered to Colorado City School District Monday morning by representatives of ATOFINA and Chevron oil companies. From left are Chevron Operations Supervisor Karl Ivanhoe of Westbrook, Supt. Buddy Compton, ATOFINA engineers Danny Kite and Pete Spicer of Houston and Arcadis GM Co. employee Brady Kolb of Midland. They later gave 180 clear backpacks to Loraine students and 150 to Westbrook's.

TEXAS AEROSPACE SCHOLAR Kris Farquhar of Loraine combined study on the Internet with a visit to the Johnson Space Center in Houston.

Mars mission is simulated

Kris Farquhar of Colorado City was one of 200 Texas high school students who spent six days at the Johnson Space Center in Houston using their math and science skills to design a human mission to Mars this summer.

Farquhar was nominated by State Representative Troy Fraser to be a part of a unique educational experience, called the Texas Aerospace Scholars Program. The program is the result of a partnership between NASA - JSC and the State of Texas to encourage students to pursue engineering options in school.

After being nominated, Farquhar began the program with twenty-four weeks of distance- and web-based learning experiences that culminated in a six-day long visit to JSC in Houston. Farquhar and his teammates used their imagination, coupled with math and science skills, to develop a plan for how humans will get to Mars and then learn to live and work on the planet's surface.

Kitten Arthur

Arthur named president

Kitten Arthur, principal at Hutchinson Elementary, was named District XIV President for the Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association.

Arthur and her fellow officers from the 20 TEPSA districts across the state were installed at the association's annual Leadership Conference, held this year in July in Galveston.

"Much of TEPSA's strength comes from the service of our state and district leaders," said Executive Director Sandi Borden. "So we're excited to have Kitten lending her talent and experience."

Arthur received her B.A. from Angelo State University and her M.Ed. and Mid-Management certification from Abilene Christian University. She has educational experience at the elementary, middle and high school levels. She has been a teacher, a curriculum facilitator and a principal. She received the Teacher of the Year Award and was the Partnership Schools Initiative District Recipient.

TEPSA represents more than 4,900 elementary and middle-school leaders, including principals, assistant principals, central office administrators and supervisors of reading, mathematics, science, special education and other disciplines.

ACE PITCHER James Crow of Brownwood led his Junior Midget team to a second place finish at the state tournament in Hawkins, in Northeast Texas near Tyler.

Young Crow stars in tourney

James Crow, age 7, son of David and Melissa Crow of Brownwood and grandson of Nancy Crow and Cecil and Sue Crow all of Colorado City led his team, the Jr. Midget Yankees, to a second place finish in the State Jr. Midget tournament in Hawkins, Texas the week of July 23. The team played seven games in four days to earn their final place in the tourney.

During the regular season, James played for the Cardinals. Defensively, he pitched and played first base. He completed the regular season with four wins, one loss and three saves. He racked up 100 strike outs in 11 regular season games. He ended regular season play with a batting average of .577. This team finished second in the district. James was then invited to be a pick up player for the Yankees.

During the tournament, a pitcher can pitch a total of 12 innings during the week. James pitched all 12 innings allowed with two wins, no losses and one save. He racked up 26 strike outs during his innings and only allowed six hits. His batting average for the State Tournament was .333.

James was awarded three game balls during the tournament. Two were given to him for his pitching performances and one for his outstanding defensive performances.

Head Coach Gerald James gives words of encouragement to his varsity football squad moments after the finish of their two-hour controlled scrimmage against Munday. Each team scored only once with the defense dominating the play on both sides.

Moguls test JV, Varsity Wolves in Saturday's scrimmages

The Colorado City Wolves varsity and junior varsity football teams received their first test of hitting someone other than each other Saturday morning during a controlled scrimmage held at Wolf Stadium.

Head Coach and Athletic Director Gerald James sent his varsity players on the field first with the junior varsity seeing action later. Despite the heat a good crowd witnessed the practice until the heat became too intense causing several fans to leave in favor of their air-conditioned homes.

Class 6-A Munday has traditionally been a play-off team and returned six offensive and seven defensive starters from a team that finished last year at 7-3 and out of the play-offs.

The feisty Moguls from Munday came prepared to scrap it out with the Class 2-A Wolves with the varsity bunch scoring once while allowing the Wolves to score only once as well.

The Junior varsity also played heads up with Munday with the visitors scoring once and held the Wolves pretty much intact throughout the scrimmage.

Despite not moving the ball on offense as well as anticipated, Coach James was not disappointed in his teams play.

"I was happy with the way our kids got to the ball on defense," said James. "Overall it was a good practice for us but of course our defense is still ahead of the offense which is normal this early in the season. On offense we weren't expecting them to go an eight-man front on us, but we made adjustments and were able to move the ball a little better. It's something we will be working on though because we know that this week when we scrimmage Coleman we will be seeing quite a bit of an eight-man front."

Coach James said that going into the scrimmage he was going to stay with the running game and despite the Moguls defensive scheme they pretty much stuck to that plan.

"We stuck pretty much to the things we wanted to work on," said James. "We did some good things and then there are things we need to work on. That's what these scrimmages are for, to see where we are both offensively and defensively. We will be ready for the eight-man front this week when we travel to Coleman."

The final tune-up before the season officially kicks off will be when the Wolves test former Wolves coach Phillip Richey's Coleman Bluecats this Friday night.

Wildcats manhandle Cougars

The Westbrook Wildcats travelled to Klondike last Saturday for a controlled scrimmage and dominated the host Cougars, hosing the squad to less than 100 yards of total offense.

"We were very proud of the way these kids played," said Westbrook head mentor Andrew Hannon. "It was a total team effort on the kids part. They came prepared to play and did just that."

The Wildcats scored three times against Klondike, all through the air from the tight offense that Westbrook runs. The offense totaled 268 yards with 115 of those coming on passes.

Defensively Coach Hannon had a right to brag on his troops as well as the tough defense that held Klondike out of the end zone throughout the scrimmage with very little threat of scoring.

"Though we normally don't single out anyone as having a good game, we do want to say that offensively Chris Matlock, Adam Roemisch and Cody Rich had an outstanding game," said Hannon. "On the defensive side Jim Hale, Colt Rich and Landon Graham had a super game."

This Friday Westbrook will once again take to the road when they travel to Southland Eagles in a 6 p.m. tilt.

Southland returned all but one starter from last year's squad that finished the season at 3-7 and in fifth place in the six-team district.

Strep throat lays Wolves low

Several members of the Colorado City Wolves football team had to fight off a bout with strep throat last week with as many as seven or eight missing at least a day or two of practice according to head coach and athletic director Gerald James.

"I don't think we had a practice last week that we didn't have at least two or three out with it," said James. "We had more trouble with that than we did with the heat."

Coach James feels that one of the reasons for so few heat related problems is due in part to the work of trainer, Sherry Miller.

"One of the first things I asked for when accepting the job as head coach was the hiring of a trainer," said James. "I appreciate the school board listening to my requests because it has really paid dividends in keeping our injuries taken care of and with the two-a-day practices, she has been invaluable by keeping the kids hydrated with fluids and being on top of everything before it has a chance to become a problem. The kids have to do their part as well by letting one of the coaches or Coach Miller know if they are not feeling right."

In light of the past weekend's deaths of two athletes in Houston during football practices, Coach James said it was very unfortunate that these accidents happen but that everything possible is done here to prevent such occurrences.

"You never like to hear about anyone dying during practice or in a game," said James. "I know that Dr. Roach and Dr. Scott both do a great job in giving our kids their physicals and if they find something wrong they will not give them permission to play. We appreciate all their great help in helping getting the kids with the strep throats back and in good health like they did. They also are a valuable commodity to us."

Coach James said he felt like he would have all but Brent Moore well enough to play by the first game of the regular season which will be the home opener against the Stamford Bulldogs on Friday, August 31. Game time is set for 7:30 p.m.

Ladies battle "big girls" in Abilene

The Lady Wolves varsity volleyball team ran into some stiff competition this past weekend when they travelled to Abilene to compete in the annual Bev Ball Classic.

The local ladies were matched up with predominately schools from larger 3A, 4A and 5A classes with reputations from good volleyball programs.

On Friday, the Lady Wolves were placed in pool play with teams from Weatherford, Aledo and Abilene.

Colorado City began match play going down at the hands of Weatherford by scores of 4-15 and 6-15. They then took on Aledo which resulted in losses of 4-15 and 7-15.

The class 5A Abilene Eagles were next on the list for the Lady Wolves and the Lady Eagles were pushed by the lower classified ladies before going down in defeat 13-15, 5-15.

This put the local ladies into the challengers bracket play on Saturday with the Lady Wolves tangling with the El Paso Gurgers. The girls went down in defeat by scores of 7-15 and 11-15.

That loss threw them into the consolation semifinal round of the challenger bracket and the Lady Wolves faced Fort Worth Christian, losing to them by scores of 13-15 and 7-15.

Coach Gale Keeton feels the experience of playing against higher classified schools will help in the long run in getting the Lady Wolves prepared for district play.

"We are not yet consistent or aggressive in our play" said Keeton. "I feel that will all come with time as the girls get more experience playing with each other. There are three girls on the varsity that didn't play at all last season so we are an inexperienced team but if we get just a little more consistent we should be ready when district starts."

Bulldogs get extra practice time

While other schools in the area were scrimmaging last week the Loraine Bulldogs were getting an extra week to pound on each other as they opted to not have an open date this season allowing them to start the regular season off on Friday, Sept. 7 at Klondike.

That means that this Friday they will travel to Paint Rock for their first contact other than each other and head football coach Victor Garcia said the Bulldogs are prepared.

"I think the kids will be ready this week to play," said Garcia. "After three weeks of facing each other they should be ready to hit someone else."

On Friday, Aug. 31, most of the area teams will be starting regular season play but Loraine will be taking on district rival Hermleigh in a 6 p.m. battle at Hermleigh.

"They are in the same boat as we are so we will get a chance to see each other twice this year," said Garcia. "This should be a good test for us as most everyone has picked us to battle it out with them for the cellar but I think our kids will have something to say about that."

Westbrook took on Loraine's first week opponent Klondike in a scrimmage last Saturday and handily disposed of them holding them to less than 100 total yards and no touchdowns.

Graham returns to county beat

By Carl Graham
Like a bad penny, I keep coming back!

Former sports editor Casey Eagan has moved on to be the sports editor at Baytown so after being at the Big Spring Herald for almost two years and a brief stint for the Roscoe Times, I am back at the Colorado City Record as sports editor.

Though some things change, some things stay the same such as the attitude of all the area coaches and coaching staffs.

I am expecting a great year for all three area football teams as well as the Colorado City Lady Wolves volleyball teams.

I am looking forward to working with each one of you and do not intend on leaving anyone out that wants their teams covered. I will need help from some of the coaches in order to meet the 3:00 p.m. deadline each Tuesday but if each one does their part I will do my part to see each team is covered.

Thanks for your cooperation in advance and "Best of Luck" to each and everyone of you this year.
