Minister and Guest

Two Narrowly Escape as Lightning Strikes

A Wellington minister and his guest from Olney narrowly escaped death Tuesday evening, July 9, when lightning struck the tree under which they were sitting.

The Rev. Verrell Leeper, pastor of the Lurie Baptist Church, had only his hair singed when the lightning ricocheted from the large tree limb, but Arthur Gameson, 40, of Olney, was knocked unconscious.

Rev. Leeper's nephew, Larry Gibson, visiting here from Long Island, New York, applied artificial respiration to Gameson until a Kelso ambulance arrived. Both men were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where they were examined and later released.

Gibson only recently completed a life guard's course in New York.

Gameson's young son, Allen Earl, was with them but had only a cut on one arm from flying bark. The trio was sitting in aluminum framed deck chairs, Rev. Leeper said.

Mrs. Leeper and Mrs. Gameson were neighbors in Edinburgh, Scotland, and later the two families were friends when

First Methodist

Christian Adventure Week for Church Youth

Christian Adventure Week, which opened at First Methodist Church Monday, July 8, and will continue through Friday, July 12, is one of the key activities for youth of the church, the Rev. Davis Edens, pastor, pointed out.

This program is directed at junior high boys and girls of the church, giving them an opportunity to hear adult community leaders in various phases of Christian living.

Miss Linda Schubert, your director, is in charge.

Sessions open each evening at 6 p.m. with a supper. Recreation follows, and then there is a discussion session, closing with questions and answers.

First of the guest speakers was District Attorney John T. Forbis of Childress, who discussed "Being Christian in My Profession."

"If all the laws in my law books were boiled down it would be similar to the Sermon on the Mount, he told the boys and girls.

Mrs. Bernice Welch was the speaker Tuesday evening, July 9. Her talk centered on the Christian aspect of making a better life for oneself through education.

Wednesday evening, a panel of parents will answer questions from the boys and girls, centering around maintaining a Christian home.

Mr. and Mrs. Cal Hurst will be hosts to the group Thursday night for a backyard party.

There will be a film-strip on "First Dates". Coach Don Beck will then discuss with the boys and girls some of the things brought out in the film.

On the closing evening, Friday, the Rev. Davis Edens is tentatively scheduled to discuss the work of a minister.

The high school band is sponsoring a 42 party Thursday night in the club room of the community building, Tubal Cain, director, announced.

The party will begin at 8 p.m.

This is one of a series of benefit events by which the band members are raising money to finance their October trip to the State Fair of Texas, where they are one of a small number of bands invited to play.

The Thursday night event will feature also a Chinese auction of cakes and pies.

There will be game diversions for children and baby sitters to take care of small youngsters, Cain added.

Speed Limits Go Up to 70 mph on August 23

The speed limit on Collingsworth, as well as all other highways in the state, will be increased to 70 miles per hour for daylight driving, effective August 23, Clyde Drake, resident highway engineer, said this week.

The new night speed will be 65 miles per hour.

The change-over will be made on the morning of Aug. 23.

The exception to this increased speed limit will be on some farm-to-market roads, Drake said, with safety as the determining factor.

Recommendations as to which roads shall not have the 70-mile limit will be made by local highway department offices to the State Highway Department in Austin, which will then review each case.

The local department has not yet gone over the FM roads in Collingsworth, but this will be done in the near future.

An added feature of Min. Brooks' sermons will be illustrations by means of the magnetic board.

Sermon studies announced by him include:

Two Make-Up Games Due

Little League Opens Second Half of Season Play Monday

The second half of Little League baseball play began on Monday, July 8, and 25 games are scheduled before the season ends, Aug. 2.

The winner of the first half is not definitely decided, due to two games that were rained out and still have to be played, it was reported by Harry McEwen, president of the Baseball Association.

Both games involve the Cubs, coached by Gilbert Forrest. So far, they have won 3 games.

Leading the League at this time are the Dodson Indians, who have won 5 games. If the Cubs win both make-up games, then the tie will have to be played off.

Quail is only one game behind the leader, having won four.

The Braves also have three wins to their credit, the Twins have won one game and the Dodgers are in the cellar.

A doubleheader played Monday, July 8, opened the second half, with the Dodgers meeting the Twins and the Quails playing the Indians.

Water Board Asks Full Facts Be Studied in Water Program

In a letter addressed to five member-cities of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority and one potential member, directors of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District raised the question of whether residents of those cities can afford to pay the water rates that will be required if the Greenbelt-sponsored dam is built on Salt Fork. The present proposed site is north of Lelia Lake.

The letter went out over the signature of Dan Henard, president of the board of directors of the Collingsworth water district.

Continued cooperation with Greenbelt in its water development efforts was repeated. But at the same time, the cities were asked to give full study of all facts on both the Greenbelt proposition and on the one proposed by the Collingsworth Water Board before elections are held this summer to approve or reject the Greenbelt Authority.

"One thing we would like to mention is that we are not in competition with the Greenbelt Authority. There is ample room and ample water for both, in the event the cities wish to go with the Greenbelt rather than with us," Henard declared. "If that is the decision, such will have our full cooperation. Again we state that all we want is a full and free decision in the light of all the facts."

If the Greenbelt dam is built, only slight revamping of plans will be necessary for the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District to carry out its program, which call for a dam on Elm Creek, a holding reservoir on Salt Fork in the western part of the county, a diversion to carry floodwaters of Salt Fork, which are good waters, to the 75,000 acre-foot reservoir on Buck Creek.

Questions raised in the letter are based on published reports of a July 5 meeting of the Greenbelt Water Authority Board, and on the Greenbelt Engineering report, dated May 24, 1963, but made available to Wellington only last week.

The election is of vital concern to Wellington, Henard points out. The town voted itself into the Greenbelt Authority at the time of its formal organization, and under the law it remains a member until it takes the necessary legal steps to be removed from the authority.

One question raised is this: If the Greenbelt dam is built, what will be the water rates after the first five-year period for which Greenbelt engineers say a rate of 30 cents per 1000 gallons at the gate can apply for Clarendon, Hedley and Childress and Quanah, and 37½ cents for Paducah and Crowell.

It appears here that rates beyond 5 years can be set by Greenbelt Authority at whatever figure it needs to operate and pay itself out in the proposed 35 years.

On the 30¢ gate rate, Henard pointed out: "On the basis of studies, there is considered to be a 20 per cent water loss between the gate and the customer's water meter. Added to this is the cost to the city for water distribution, generally regarded by cities to be about 20 cents per 1000 gallons.

"This would mean a water cost to the customer of 50 to 55 cents per 1000 for water alone and that does not include what the individual cities add as charges for sewer service or garbage collection." This does not include stand-by water plant expenses and amortization of such capital outlay.

The Collingsworth Water Board, in the plan it has laid before the cities of the Greenbelt area, proposes a water rate of 30¢ at most and a rate possibly as low as 18¢ if federal funds are received on the project.

Greenbelt is forbidden by law from accepting federal monies in its construction, but rather its cost must be paid back out of money received from the sale of water.

The Greenbelt report shows a lowering of cost estimates between 1961 and 1963 reports, although they were prepared by the same engineers—in this in the face of rising costs.

For example, the cost of pipe line construction was dropped from $27,000 per mile in 1961 to $17,424 in 1963 for 12-inch line; from $31,500 to $21,384 for 14-inch pipe and $45,000 down to $35,112 to $43,000 per mile for 21-inch line.

$300,000.00 was lopped off the cost of the proposed treatment plant — $1,257,000 down to $957,000; land costs were dropped from $150 to $36 per acre.

Henard admits the change in dam sites may mean a difference in land costs . . . but not that much difference.

The Greenbelt engineering studies further lead the Wellington board to doubt if the potable water can be stored anywhere east of Highway 70, leading from Clarendon to Groom. Thirty-five per cent of the proposed Greenbelt reservoir lies east of this line.

The proposed Greenbelt reservoir would be of 23,000 acre feet capacity, but the sponsors hope to sell the State of Texas storage space in the reservoir so that a 90,000 acre-foot reservoir can be built.

The smaller size would fill the needs of the member cities to the extent of a projected 5,840,000-gallon-per-day capacity by the year 2000, says the Greenbelt. Irrigation is not con-

On Bulldozer

Injunction Hearing Postponed to July 23

Two steps were taken during the past week in the suit by which three county men seek to prevent the Commissioners' Court of Collingsworth county from acquiring a new tractor-bulldozer under a lease-purchase agreement with West Texas Equipment Co. of Amarillo.

Plaintiffs are Dr. Chas. B. Jones, Cal Sugg and James Doneghy.

At the request of the defendants, Judge Luther Gribble ordered that the hearing on the plaintiffs' application for a temporary injunction is postponed until Tuesday, July 23.

The restraining order issued June 23 against the commissioners' court remains in force.

A supplement petition filed by Judge W. T. Link, attorney for the plaintiffs, named West Texas Equipment Co. of Amarillo an additional party defendant.

Both instruments were filed in the office of Lorene Jenkins, county-district clerk, on July 8.

Road Equipment Plan Approved

The Commissioners' Court, meeting Monday, July 8, amended a June 12 amendment to the 1963 budget and on the basis of what it called grave public necessity, transferred $3,000 from the equipment purchase item to the equipment hire item of the road and bridge fund.

The court then authorized the county judge to enter a contract with the West Texas Equipment Co. of Amarillo for the lease of a tractor-bulldozer for four months for a rental of $1,999, payable $500 on the execution of the contract, $500 on July 18, $500 on August 18, and $499 on September 18, according to the agreement.

The contract is to have a purchase option subject to the terms and provisions of Article 2368A, Section 2, of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas.

The Commissioners' Court authorized a lease-purchase contract on a bulldozer in June and this became the subject of a suit filed in district court.

Sherry Crownover Weds Billy Hudspeth in Home Ceremony

Miss Sherry Crownover became the bride of Billy J. Hudspeth Friday evening, June 28, in a ceremony performed at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Crownover of Dodson.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hudspeth II of Hollis.

Performing the ceremony was Minister L. M. Ginn, minister of an Amarillo Church of Christ.

The fireplace, before which the couple stood, was decorated with a mantel arrangement of lemon leaves and candles, and at the sides were pedestal baskets of red gladiolus.

Wedding music was presented by Miss Mary Graham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white nylon lace, with a scalloped neckline and pearls studding the bodice front. The full floor-length skirt was made of rows of narrow ruffles. Her shoulder veil fell from a tiara of iridescent pearls, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. She carried a bouquet of red rosebuds on a white ribbon.

Mrs. Ted Crownover of Dumas, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a white brocaded cotton dress with a cowl neckline and full headpiece. With it she wore a dainty red headpiece and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

Mr. Hudspeth was his son's best man.

The ring bearer was Ricky Crownover of Dumas, nephew of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony. In the house party were Miss Edith Lemons, Miss Linda Ford and Miss Jan Gully.

As the couple left on a short wedding trip to Clinton, Okla., the bride wore a white suit with red accessories and her corsage was of red gladiolus.

A spring graduate of Dodson high school, the bride is also a graduate of Altus Beauty School.

The bridegroom attended Hollis high school and is now employed by the Santa Fe Railway in Amarillo, where the couple will make their home.

Wheat Farmers Build More New Terraces

Terrace building on wheat land comes to the forefront this time of year, Bob Crawford, work unit conservationist of Soil Conservation Service, reminds.

In spite of the great mileage of terraces built already in Salt Fork Soil Conservation District, under the SCS program, more terraces are slated this summer.

Glenn King, east of Dozier, recently finished 4½ miles of new terraces, Lynn Courtney of SCS said. About 5 miles of terraces were built in 1952, and King has been well pleased with this job. He plans to finish terracing his wheat farm.

East of Lutie, E. W. Fain built about 3 miles of terraces and Sam Seago put up about 1½ miles on his farm east of Dozier.

Dr. J. B. Hollis of Mangum, Okla., plans to build terraces on his farm near Dodson under the Great Plains Conservation Program, Courtney said.

I Saw. . .

by Virginia Robey

➤ There's another side to these trips to Lugart: In one of the groups' spending the night the Fourth were Badge and Burnalee Duncan and Velman and Dora Fern Warrick.

At the first beach they stuck their cars and decided to hunt another location, the girls going by boat. They found a likely spot, Burnalee stopped the boat and then it wouldn't go. She and Dora Fern had to get out in waist deep water to pull it ashore.

It was nearly dark, and they had to build a fire so the others would know where to come. As they were bringing in an armload of twigs a car drove up and thinking it was some of their party, the girls hailed them. A moment of silence, then a youthful but strange masculine voice:

"Well who are you ladies, leaders of the Girl Scouts?"

➤ It was just a little later James and Jerry Stavenhagen and Rusty and Bill Henard came up to the first attractive beach found by the others. They also stopped and also stuck, according to reports.

➤ Betty, wife of school board member David Baumgardner tells this:

She was cleaning out a storage closet the other day and came across some of his third grade English papers.

Wellington and Collingsworth Have What Industry Wants

This hot and muggy weather is not time to forget that we are working and must work for that type of industry that will supplement Collingsworth county economy.

Of interest, then, is a recent survey on those factors industries consider most important in locating new sites.

The four basic requirements, in the order named, are: location near a highway, an abundant labor supply, good land and proximity to markets.

Each of these Wellington has. While we may feel off the beaten path sometimes, the facts are that we are centrally located for some of the southwest's largest and best markets — Amarillo, Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Dallas, Fort Worth and Oklahoma City. Everyone of these is a growing center. Not one is static.

We have abundant labor — a survey last year by the Chamber of Commerce brought this out. And there is a greater potential labor supply. Attend any gathering where a number of former residents are present. There are those among them who want to come back to Collingsworth if they can support themselves and their families adequately. There are the young people who would stay here if they, too, could support families.

The land is here — that goes without saying. There are other considerations brought out by this survey. Among these was an abundant water supply, and this is all the more reason why we should buckle down behind our own water program. A favorable state and local tax structure is considered, as is its rail service, community cultural and recreational assets, nearby vocational training facilities and availability of raw materials.

The study re-emphasized this fact: the trend in location was strongly out from the cities to suburbs and small towns and rural areas.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the Supreme Court has knocked off work for the summer.

But my short vacater neighbor says he is not jealous about this, as people in the school teaching business and the Supreme Courting business obviously need these great long vacations.

Says the school teachers need time every year to get their nerves re-strung, and the high court justices need time to get out amongst us people and see which ones of our social habits need changing next.

I see where here a while back the tax reduction bill had No. 1 priority in Congress, but now it has taken a back seat while the civil rights proposition goes No. 1.

Seems this crash shift of primary objective got triggered by a few little groups of ram-bunctious citizens holding what are jokingly called demonstrations on the streets.

Which reminds that amateur or pressure-sensitive parents also sometimes get panicked into policy changes when their problem children put on demonstrations of kicking and screaming and throwing things.

I see where Pres. Kennedy tells us we have got to deal with the world as it is, and learn to live with such afflictions as Russians in Cuba, etc.

My passivist neighbor says the gutless way of life doesn't require much energy but has its drawbacks, like when you face the fact that you have got a louse in your hair and live with it.

But he understands how this philosophy of sufferance with existing irkments can be conscientiously preached by any politician in the market for reelection.

I see where some Congressmen are complaining to the electorate, which don't hire bureaucrats and can't fire same, that bureaucracy has got too big and sassy.

Seems like Congress has sloughed off a lot of its responsibilities to Bureaus which it set up to do its work while its members politicked, and now it has got a bad dose of inferiority complex.

In fact, the more ethical members of Congress are pretty flabbergasted by what they have created, like parents sometimes are.

The Rev. and Mrs. M. C. McGuire and son, of Livingston, Calif., were Sunday visitors at the Baptist Church. They were on their way home and stopped to attend the morning service.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up—as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes—they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

MEXICAN ISLAND IN U. S. CITY

Texas State Highway Department has discovered an island of Mexico in the heart of El Paso.

Highway department claims that there is a 3/4 mile section on U.S. Highway 80 in El Paso where you can drive thru Texas and see Old Mexico with one eye and New Mexico with the other eye.

Department says Cordova Island became a Mexican oasis in the Texas city of El Paso under the Guadalupe Hidalgo Treaty of 1848. Treaty provided that artificial changes in the Rio Grande's course would not affect Cordova Island's boundary. Now that the meandering river has changed its course the island is surrounded by American soil.

VETERANS LAND SALE BRINGS IN PROFIT

AUSTIN.—Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said the sale of 82 tracts of forfeited veterans land (totaling 2,230 acres) was "gratifying," since it brought in more than the state's original investment plus taxes paid since forfeiture.

The block of tracts in Zavala, Maverick and Hidalgo counties brought $211,753.84. This included $155,001 for an 886-acre unit in Zavala county, which Grady Claude Hogue of Cisco won after some spirited bidding.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bairfield of Clarendon were Sunday visitors in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Crawley.

Funeral Rites Here Friday for Earl Smith

Funeral services were conducted at First Baptist Church here Friday, July 5, at 4 p.m. for Earl E. Smith of Savannah, Ga., who was killed in an accident near Dublin, Ga., on Tuesday, July 2.

Dr. Glenn Hickey and the Rev. J. F. Michael conducted the services and burial was in West Wellington Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Palbearers were George Scott, Jim Martin, Joe Christoph, Doc Barjenbruch, Hiram Cudd and Wayne Cudd.

The accident occurred when the truck which Mr. Smith was driving topped a hill and immediately below a pickup truck was pushing a car onto the highway. There was not time for him to stop, according to information received here.

Two other persons were killed and two critically injured in the accident, friends said. All were occupants of the car or pickup.

A native of Collingsworth county, Earl Smith was born here Nov. 16, 1910, the son of Mrs. Ella Smith, now of Lubbock, and the late Walter Smith.

He grew up in the Quail community and on Dec. 24, 1931 he was married in Hollis to Miss Ola Maye Clay of Quail.

He was employed as a driver for Cudd Brothers here for many years, and he was known as one of the safest and most careful truck drivers to operate in this area.

He was a member of the Baptist Church and for many years he was a member of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department.

Surviving Mr. Smith are his wife and one son, Wilbur Earl Smith, and two granddaughters, all of Savannah, Ga. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Ella Smith of Lubbock; four brothers and two sisters: Dudley Smith of Hemet, Calif.; Buster Smith of Lorenzo; Bill Smith and Jack Smith of Lubbock; Mrs. Clarence Blevins of Quail; and Mrs. Burlin Wilson of Pasadena, Texas.

Benny Moores Home from Greece

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Benny Moore and son, Eddie, came last week to visit her mother, Mrs. Homer Ingram, after 20 months tour of duty with the Air Force in Athens, Greece.

They are also visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Duncan, and will visit his mother, Mrs. L. A. Moore, and other relatives in Lubbock.

His new assignment is at the Air Force Base at San Angelo.

Suzanne Dickey and a friend, Carl Ann Calvert of Dimmitt spent last week here with the former's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson, and with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Hunter and Steve.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Dan Henard has sent out a remarkably well written and factual letter concerning the Collingsworth plan of conserving waters of this area. There is a story about it in another part of the paper. Copies of the letter have been sent to the newspapers, city officials and water district officials of all interested towns and cities. If you want a copy of the entire statement you can get a copy from any official of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District.

Below you will find three of the many highly interesting points made in the letter:

QUALITY OF WATER—The topography of Collingsworth county and its twin parallel basins of Buck Creek and Salt Fork permit storage without contamination or pollution of flood waters from the Salt Fork in a fine reservoir in the Buck Creek watershed and it is our opinion, based on the best engineering available, that this pure rain water so stored will be equal to or superior in quality to water stored in the presently discussed Greenbelt location NE of Clarendon on the Salt Fork River in Donley county. In fact, we doubt the ability to store, without gyp pollution, water anywhere on the Salt Fork—the name alone should make one wonder. The statement recently made (1) (6) (8) that the presently discussed Greenbelt site is the ONLY source of potable water left in the area is no doubt made in entire good faith but simply is erroneous.

QUANTITY OF WATER—The Collingsworth plan gives an amount of potable flood water from its vast area that is so much greater than the flood-water-plus-low-flow water from the small watershed of the Greenbelt site that there is literally no comparison.

LOCATION—The Collingsworth location of its Buck Creek reservoir is so many miles nearer to the cities to be served that cost savings on pipe lines alone will be tremendous.

Reports of the lateness of the cotton crop on the South Plains has been in circulation for two weeks. We drove over to Lubbock on July 4 and I was startled to find out how really late the cotton crop is in that area. Some of it was just coming up with two and four leaves showing and nearly all of it was appreciably later than the replanted acres below the caprock. On the average their frost date line is two weeks earlier than it is here. They may come up with another bumper crop, but they are going to be battling against time.

There was a story in the Amarillo News about the waste of water in the bar ditches around Plainview. That is not the only place where water is being wasted. We saw a distressing amount of water in the bar ditches along the fields around Floydada, Ralls and Lubbock. The excessive runoff is caused by hard packed dry ground on top and wet ground below which prevents penetration. Such waste is sickening when you remember that some experts say those wells will play out in 40 years and others estimate it may be no longer than than 20.

It does not seem possible, but Fair time and school time are nearly here. My little family will have to hustle if we work in a summer vacation, and this is complicated by the fact that we can't agree on what we want to do.

My wife says no questions will be asked if the person who carted off her wicker basket from the alley will put it back. Tuesday morning she set the basket full of newspapers beside the trash cans. Someone came along and crammed the papers in the trash can and took the basket with them and it happened between 7:45 and 8:00 o'clock in the morning. This is her peach picking basket as well as plum and paper basket.

A second reminder: This is the year to put up fruit. We do not have such an abundant supply every year. John Puryear brought us by some of his Hale Haven peaches and they are beauties. His orchard is another one that is so loaded that the limbs of the trees are breaking.

FOR 21 YEARS SERVICE

The teacher who has served Samnorwood school district longest is Miss Maudie Coffee, who has taught first grade through those years. Meeting Monday

Cancer Crusade Tops Past County Records

This year's county Cancer Crusade totaled $1,100.61, L. B. Bratten told directors of Collingsworth County Cancer Society in a meeting Monday night, July 8.

"This is the best response ever made by the county, exceeding by more than $200 the high for any previous years," Bratten said.

The drive was under the direction of Mrs. Gorman Owens, chairman, and Mrs. G. L. Jones, assistant chairman.

Bratten reported that the crusade on a state-wide basis also exceeded any previous record.

During the business session, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb and Mrs. James Richardson were named delegates to the district meeting of the Cancer Society units to be held in Dumas in early October. Two other delegates will be named later.

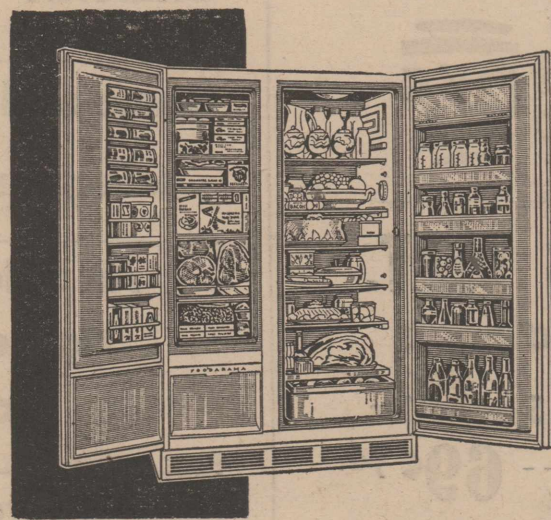

Bratten will attend the state convention in Houston in November.

Tom Williams of Amarillo, district director for the American Cancer Society, visited the local unit and conferred with Bratten Friday. He returned recently to this post after serving the Omaha, Neb., district.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Darden and Susan, of Lorenzo, were week end visitors in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Zook Thomas and Nancy.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Alldridge were his sisters, Mrs. Laura Wood and Ruth of Dallas and the Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Hallmark of Oklahoma City.

Few Army Worms

Insect Situation Under Control Here

With the web worm infestation under control, County Agent Cecil Regier said there are no insects of major importance to be found in crops over the county.

After a check of county fields Tuesday, July 9, Regier said a few army worms are to be found, but they are not of major importance at this point.

These worms did considerable damage in central Texas last year, and the county has the potential for a build up, Regier pointed out.

Deputy Clerk Has Surgery

Mrs. Harold Elbert, deputy county clerk, underwent major surgery in Groom Hospital on Monday, July 8.

She will be away from her work about a month, according to Lorene Jenkins, county clerk.

Mrs. Elbert's daughter, Glynell, also underwent an emergency appendectomy during the week end.

Roy Rodgers of Fort Cobb, Okla., was in town Tuesday visiting old friends. He was on his way to Levelland for the Pioneer Day Saturday, July 13, where he will perform.

Lanny Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford, returned home Tuesday after a week's visit in Denver with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Burt Jr. and Bob.

Miss Kay Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Payne of Abilene is visiting in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Allen.

Mrs. Terry Adams and son, Timmy, of Bovina, visited over the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith. They were en route home from Kansas, where Adams is in the wheat harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith and Kim, and Mrs. Larry Smith of Fritch visited their parents, Mrs. C. J. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith and other relatives the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Kennard Smith, Alexa and Frances Ann, of Sweeney, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Alexander. Her son, Kenny Smith, is spending the summer with his grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bura Handley had as their guests last week their grandchildren from Plainview, Linda, Charles and Pete Brock Bonneau. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bonneau, came during the week to attend the Keesee reunion and the children returned with them.

Regier praised the fast work of county farmers in spraying for web worms, pointing out that many would have lost a cotton crop without such quick action.
