Judge Is Replaced After Polls Open

By MARJ CARPENTER

A light vote and much confusion greeted voters in the City Council race here this morning.

First item of confusion was a lack of clarity on who was to vote where. Advance notification as to voting places listed them by city precincts, which differ from the county precinct numbers stamped on the registration slips.

Precinct 1 is also 1 on the county and its voting place is at the Northside Fire Station. Precinct 2 in the city, is both 2 and 22 in the county vote at 11th and Birdwell Fire Station.

Precinct 3 in the city, which is both 3 and 16 in the county, vote at 18th and Main fire station. Precinct 4, which is both 4 and 15 in the county, vote at the Central Fire Station and precinct 5 is 8 in the county and votes at Airport School.

DISMISSED

Another area of confusion erupted when Mrs. Rufus Davidson of 220 NE 11th, called the city secretary at 8 a.m. today and said she had been relieved of her duties as assistant election judge at the Northside Fire Station by Mrs. Albert Rodriquez, 402 Bell, the afternoon before.

Robert Massengale, city secretary, along with Mayor Pro-Tem Eddie Acri and City Attorney Jim Gregg began an investigation since only the mayor or the mayor pro-tem had the authority to relieve Mrs. Davidson.

It was discovered that the judge in Box 1, Mrs. Albert (Sally) Rodriquez, did not live in the precinct, but lived in Precinct 8 or city precinct 5. Two of her workers, Louis Brown and Mrs. Brown, also did not live in Precinct 1.

District Judge R. W. Caton quoted the election code, which states, "All judges and clerks of any general, special or primary election shall be qualified voters of the election precinct in which they are named to serve."

OUT OF TOWN

Mayor Wade Choate is in Austin attending a governor's conference. In his absence, Mayor Pro-Tem Acri, who is chief administrator in the city today, relieved Mrs. Rodriquez, Brown and Mrs. Brown of their duties at 10:20 a.m., replacing them with Mrs. Davidson as judge and Ben Dendida as assistant judge.

The three city officials then toured the other boxes and found all in order except Acri reported that one of the boxes had a candidate sitting there drinking coffee. The man was asked to leave.

The total vote at the boxes between 11 and 12 a.m. today was only 548 with 18th and Main leading with 210 voters. Central had 117, Birdwell, 134, Northside, 52, and Airport, 35. The vote was expected to pick up considerably late today.

The ballot includes 10 candidates for two spots, with one of them having announced that he is no longer seeking the office.

Frost Mixed With Freeze In Big Spring

By The Associated Press

The Weather Service forecast today a freeze and frost for a vast area of Northwest Texas mainly north of a line stretching from Andrews to Big Spring to Aspermont.

Temperatures were expected to reach the middle 20s in the Panhandle and South Plains upper 20s to near 32 degrees in the South Plains by Wednesday morning.

The Weather Service warned that all tender vegetation should be protected.

The cold weather followed snow in parts of the Panhandle and South Plains Monday and rain in many areas.

Four Bed Pilots Paid $100 A Week

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Four healthy young men are being paid $100 a week for lying flat on their backs in bed for nine months.

They are volunteers in a research project on how to maintain healthy bone growth balance in prolonged space flight, as in a two-year mission to Mars.

HEALTH THREAT

Loss of calcium from the skeletal bones is a major health threat from the prolonged weightlessness that space voyagers would encounter, says Dr. Stephen Hulley, project director at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here.

Prolonged bed rest helps produce the effects of weightlessness and results in a lag in the body's normal production of new bone tissue.

The loss of essential calcium deposits in the bones produces a condition called osteoporosis. Bones become brittle and weakened. Simple fractures are a serious hazard.

The current four bed volunteers are the latest group in a total of 40 young men studied in the project financed over the last five years by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Hulley is testing on them a diet supplement of phosphate and calcium tablets.

TAKE PILLS

Two of the men receive approximately double the normal intake of both mineral elements. The two others — the control group — get none.

Hulley said a previous test group showed no loss of calcium through the first three months of bed rest. He said the protection against calcium depletion appeared to break down in the fourth month.

The experiment now is being repeated to extend over a nine-month period, ending in September. Two men will take diet supplement pills the first half, then get none. The other two will take the pills during the last half of the test period only.

Two of he volunteers arejobless San Francisco men. Two others are serving terms at Safford federal prison.

Nixon Not 'Impounding' Fed Funds?

AUSTIN (AP) — President Nixon is not "impounding" federal funds that otherwise would be allocated to Texas, Under Secretary Floyd H. Hyde said today.

"If Congress can't add, then the President has to subtract," the high official of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) told a news conference.

"There's no constitutional question about impounding funds to meet a budget. Thomas Jefferson did that."

The news conference preceded a special conference of federal, state and local officials.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon won the first big test of the year with Congress on federal spending when the Senate failed today to override his veto of the vocational rehabilitation bill.

SNAKE STEAK — Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Smith of Ada, Okla., show one possible solution to buying meat during the boycott this week. A friend gave them the three diamondback rattlesnakes. They decided eight pounds of meat is eight pounds of meat, and dressed the snakes out later for table use.

SAYS ADMINISTRATOR HERE

More Facilities Needed If Hospital Law Passes

By ANN STEVENS

Officials of the local Veterans Administration Hospital said they have had no official word concerning possible admittance of non-veterans which is currently under Congressional consideration.

Thousands of wives, widows and children of veterans would become eligible nationally for free medical care at VA facilities under terms of a bill passed 87-2 by the Senate and viewed favorably in the House.

The action would be a radical departure from the government's age-old policy of reserving VA care exclusively for ex-servicemen.

The Nixon administration opposes the bill on grounds that it would cost too much and would run at cross-purposes to administration proposals for government-backed national health insurance.

'OVERTAX US'

"We're using our facilities now at 95 per cent capacity," said Jack Powell, administrator of the Big Spring VA hospital. "Any drastic increase in demand for health care would overtax us unless we had more money, space and personnel to take care of it."

Stressing that he has received no official notice on progress or effects of the legislation, Powell said he believes the bill will deal mainly with out-patient care.

"Most of what they're talking about is expanding treatment for people who can walk in, get treatment and walk out again," he indicated.

Asked to estimate the number of people who would become eligible locally for the expanded care, Powell said he has "not the faintest idea."

HALF RELATED

"If we look at census statistics, it would probably represent about half the population, though," he said, pointing out that about half the people are immediately related (wives, children, dependent parents) to veterans.

The hospital has a bed capacity of 250. Average daily patient load is about 225, and often the facility operates at full capacity, Powell noted.

Approximately 320 persons are now employed by the hospital. Powell said the bill, if it concentrates as expected on out-patient care, might not overtax the local facility as far as space and equipment are concerned but would definitely require addition of more personnel.

VETOED EARLIER

Virtually identical legislation was passed by Congress last year and was pocket vetoed by President Nixon. The White House has said Nixon will probably veto it again, but Senators and House members predict that his veto will be easily overridden.

As presently written, the bill gives the VA wide discretion in carrying out its provisions. It would allow, but not require, the VA to provide hospital or nursing home care to the wife or child of a veteran totally and permanently disabled in the line of military duty, and the widow or child of a veteran who died from a service-connected disability.

The VA is currently limited to providing medical care to veterans whose illnesses and injuries result from military

Lights Out On Gold Coast

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A massive power outage affected some two million residents and businesses along Florida's Gold Coast today after four generators shut down at a power plant near Fort Lauderdale.

Some areas reported power restored within minutes, but others were still without power three hours after the outage began. Power company officials said the cause of the blackout was unknown and efforts were under way to restore full power shortly.

The blackout hit an 80-mile stretch from south Palm Beach County to Homestead, 35 miles south of Miami. Homestead has a municipal generating plant and was not affected.

Lory Snipes, a spokesman for Florida Power & Light Co., said: "Due to problems unknown at this time, the four generating units at our Port Everglades plant tripped out of service. Apparently, they were responding to signals from our automatic protective devices, which are designed to protect the generators when they sense a problem."

William Johnson, a spokesman for Florida Power Co. in St. Petersburg, 250 miles northwest of Miami, said his company was supplying extra power to FP&L and that other facilities in Tampa, Jacksonville and Georgia were doing the same.

'I'll Never Forgive Him'

DALLAS (AP) — The husband of one of Dallas' top Fight Inflation Together organizers has broken the three-day-old meat boycott.

"I cheated," Dr. Leslie Demetri admitted.

"I'll never forgive him" declared Dallas branch FIT chairwoman Cheri Demetri.

Dr. Demetri, an intern at St. Paul's Hospital, devoured a hot dog with chili while hundreds, perhaps thousands, of other FIT husbands faced meatless platters Monday night.

"I'm on call here at the hospital," Demetri said, "and the cafeteria only had one dish without meat. It was a kind of soup — I don't know what they call it — but it looked terrible. So I ate a hot dog instead."

Deposits Up 3.8 Per Cent In Banking Institutions

	March 28 1973	April 18 1972	Gain or Loss
Loans and Discounts	$33,309,632.24	$31,475,425.60	$1,734,206.64
Deposits	69,790,373.33	67,208,363.27	2,582,010.06
Cash	11,886,718.51	11,336,425.86	547,292.65
Total Resources	77,157,473.14	73,618,985.87	3,538,487.27

Deposits in Howard County's four banks showed a healthy if not phenomonal gain over a year ago when the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency issued a call for reports of conditions of all national banks as of the close of business Wednesday, March 28.

Deposits were up 3.8 per cent over the corresponding period for 1972.

Loan and discounts also increased 5.5 per cent, cash 4.8 per cent and total resources 4.8 per cent.

Bill Reed, president of the Coahoma State Bank, said the $3,282,073.13 on deposit there constituted an all-time record for a called date. He attributed the gain of $164,579.88 over the Dec. 31 call to the late cotton crop and the health of the economy in general.

Deposits in the four banks totaled $69,790,373.33. On April 18, 1972, the banking institutions had $67,208,363.27 on deposit.

Loans and discounts amounts to $33,309,632.24, which $1,734,206.64. Cash aggregated $11,886,718.51, or $547,292.65 more than a year ago. Total resources amounted to $77,157,473.14, compared to $73,618,985.87 last year.

The banks also showed a whopping 51.2 per cent gain in U.S. Bonds but slight decreases in other bonds and federal funds sold.

By individual banks, the figures were:

FIRST NATIONAL — Loan and discounts, $18,324,942.85; deposits $34,054,771.48; cash, $5,788,969.32; total resources, $37,782,904.24. In addition, the bank had $1,083,283.45 in U.S. bonds, $8,874,893.33 in other bonds and $2,500,000 in federal funds sold.

STATE NATIONAL — Loans and discounts, $8,303,298.88; deposits, $22,808,910.73; cash, $4,118,090.85; total resources, $24,660,114.99. Also, the bank had $3,581,643.65 in U.S. bonds; $4,766,561.34 in other bonds; and $3,700,000 in federal funds sold.

SECURITY STATE — Loans and discounts, $4,471,803.57; deposits, $9,644,617.99; cash, $1,416,009.83; and total resources, $10,927,203.73. Added was $968,677.85 in U.S. bonds, $2,581,463.81 in other bonds and $1,200,000 in federal funds sold.

COAHOMA STATE — Loans and discounts, $2,109,586.94; deposits, $3,282,073.13; cash, $563,648.51; total resources, $3,787,250.18. U.S. bonds totaled $522,000; other bonds, $377,891.38; and federal funds sold, $200,000.

Latest In School Needs Supplied

Note: This is one of several stories focusing attention on local industries, printed in connection with Big Spring's "Salute to Industry Week."

A real example of ingenuity that paid off in an industry is Big Spring's GAMCO.

It is a constantly growing and progressive industry that keeps up with the very latest in school supply needs.

Addition of a new film strip-cassette tape program this past year brought them up to date in the newest of school media.

Some ten different subject matters at the elementary and high school levels are covered in GAMCO's new film strip-cassette combinations.

Harold Davis, president, said these are being used by school districts for both classroom use and for individualized instruction.

Other major products of the company include a complete line of math equipment including a $25,000 math laboratory, chalk boards, trophy cases, projector transparencies, 16 mm film projectors and filmed programs for classroom use.

Davis recently stated that sales during 1972 totaled $1.6 million to top the 1971 sales by $100,000.

The 85 persons employed by the firm earned a total of $520,000 during the past year.

Early during 1972 the company added 600 square feet of space onto the plant to expand the print shop. This shop prints over 600,000 supply catalogues each year which are sent to every school in the United States.

Also during the past year, the company purchased 22,500 square feet of space adjacent to the present plant. This land was formerly owned by the Datamate Corporation.

This increases the size of the physical plant by 50 per cent.

The company is also building its own recording studios and tape processing labs, which are near completion.

Court Calls Impounding Highway Funds Illegal

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled that President Nixon acted illegally in impounding federal highway construction funds appropriated by Congress.

The ruling came on Monday as the appeals court upheld a decision by U.S. District Court Judge William Becker of Kansas City that the President could not withhold $89 million in road funds from the Missouri Highway Commission.

In its 2-1 majority opinion, the Court of Appeals said funds appropriated by Congress "are not to be withheld from obligation for purposes totally unrelated to the highway program."

HOUSING MONEY

President Nixon has said he intends to curb inflation by holding federal spending at $250 billion. He has impounded some $15 billion appropriated by Congress for federal programs such as housing, rural conservation and highways.

A government attorney who had represented former Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe, told the court in January the President is not obligated by law to spend money appropriated by Congress and that if such spending is to be mandatory, Congress must pass a law to that effect.

Judge Donald P. Lay said in the appeals court's majority opinion, however, that nothing in the 1956 Federal-Aid Highway Act "explicitly or impliedly allows the Secretary of Transportation to withhold approval of construction projects for reasons remote and unrelated to the act."

SOME CHOICE

Concurring in the decision was Judge Gerald W. Heaney of Duluth, Minn. Lay, of Omaha, Neb., and Heaney were appointed to the court by former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The dissenter was Judge Roy L. Stephenson of Des Moines, Iowa, who was named to the appeals panel by President Nixon.

In his dissenting opinion, Stephenson said his interpretation of the highway act was that Congress "made a deliberate choice ... to grant to the executive discretion in determining the extent to which apportioned funds will be made available for obligation."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., and 19 other Democratic Senators had filed a friend of the court brief supporting the highway commission's contention that the money should be released.

Ervin had called the practice of impoundment "contemptuous of the role of Congress in our tripartite system."

Missouri took the matter of impoundment to the federal courts last year after the administration held up money for the completion of 252 miles of interstate highways. Five other states — Florida, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Idaho — joined in the case as friends of the court in support of Missouri.

Commission Will Meet April 10

Because of a misunderstanding on the date of the meeting, County Commissioners Court will not meet with a state official from Austin until April 10.

On April 10, the court will confer with this official about warehousing of surplus commodities and compensation for transportation of the commodities.

NO MORE SECRET SESSION

Trying To Plug Flood Of Leaked Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate investigations committee, acting to plug a flood of leaked information, said today it will hold no more secret sessions with convicted Watergate spy James W. McCord Jr.

All further interviews with McCord will be conducted by the committee staff at undisclosed times and places with a view to beginning open hearings within 10 days to two weeks, a committee spokesman said.

EXTRA! EXTRA!

A secret session scheduled with McCord Wednesday before the full committee was canceled.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, said his panel does not expect to hold private formal sessions with any other witness.

Ervin told a news conference there are "indications" that either McCord or his attorney, Bernard Fensterwald, may have been the sources of the leaks which triggered newspaper stories on what McCord told the committee in private last Wednesday.

HOUSE ON ORDER

Monday, after yet another news account quoted supposedly secret testimony linking the White House to the spying, President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, complained of "irresponsible leaks" and called on Ervin to "get his house in order."

Earlier Monday, Ervin, just back from an absence of several days to attend a family funeral, said at a news conference he was worried about the news leaks. "I think that infinite harm can be done to an individual to charge him with complicity in a case of this kind in the absence of any concrete evidence," he said.

The comments came after columnist Jack Anderson said convicted Watergate spy James McCord gave the committee a written memorandum quoting G. Gordon Liddy, a Nixon reelection official also convicted in the case, as saying the wiretapping was planned at a meeting in the office of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Anderson supplied The Associated Press with a copy of the alleged McCord memorandum, but it carried no signatures or other identifying marks, and its authenticity could not be determined.

BUGGING

However, a source familiar with the matter said the memo appears to be an authentic copy of one McCord supplied to the committee on March 26.

The memo quoted Liddy as saying "bugging and other related operations" were discussed in February 1972 by Liddy; Mitchell; White House counsel John W. Dean III and Jeb Magruder, another Nixon campaign official.

"About 30 days after the February meeting in the A-G's office, Liddy told me that the operation 'had been approved' and that the funding for it would be through shortly," the memo said.

"My impression was that the word of this approval came from Dean, although this was not specifically stated by Liddy."

This account is substantially what McCord was reported earlier to have told the Senate committee in person last week. Mitchell and Magruder denied it at the time. Dean has been silent, but the White House says he wasn't involved.

Compromise Is Court Verdict

A six-person jury ordered a compromise in a civil trial over a disputed bill Monday in Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena's court.

Resco Service and Supply Co. had filed suit against Albert Richards, doing business as Al's Trading Post.

Ochotorena was in school this morning. Attempts to locate a juror or official who would or could reveal the amount of the judgment were futile.

Task Forces Study BBB

Reports on a Better Business Bureau, a cross-country track meet, and a tourism brochure were presented by task forces of the Economic Development Council of the Chamber of Commerce at the group's meeting this morning.

Ron McNeil, head of the retail task force, announced that his group will meet with Al Beatty, manager of the Permian Basin Better Business Bureau, April 23 to discuss benefits of joining the regional bureau.

Chamber Manager Ron Mercer explained that the Chamber has two options — to start a Better Business Bureau of its own locally or to join the regional bureau.

"I think it would be more feasible economically and professionally to become a division of the regional bureau," said Mercer.

The convention and sports task force announced three local meets upcoming: District 1, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc., Thursday and Friday; the Suez Temple Ceremonial (Shriners), May 4-5; and the Optimist Club Motocross, May 4-5.

Mention was also made of a cross-country track meet being planned here.

Arnold Marshall of the tourism task force reported that photographers are being engaged to take pictures of local points of interest to be used in a promotional brochure for state tourist bureaus.

Spokesmen for the Industrial Team announced planning of a reorganization and retraining session by early fall, and Ellis Britton of the manpower-labor force announced an unemployment insurance clinic on April 10.

Three Are Moved To State Prison

Cecil Murel O'Dell, 44, Fontana, Calif., Daniel Ortega Diaz, 18, and Steve Gordon Rogers, 20, were taken to Texas Department of Corrections facilities at Huntsville this morning.

O'Dell faces a three year sentence; Diaz, four to six years; and Rogers, two to five years.

DONALD MINYARD

Don Minyard Joins Staff

Appointment of Donald C. Minyard as assistant district manager of the seven-county Big Spring district was announced this week by the Social Security Administration.

Minyard, who assumed the position Monday, transferred from the Abilene district SS office where he was operations supervisor.

Prior assignments for Minyard, who began work for Social Security in 1966, included Abilene, San Angelo and the New Orleans, La., training center. His work in Abilene earned him a superior performance award in 1972.

A native West Texan, Minyard replaces Bill Patton who died in January. Minyard is a 1959 graduate of Texas Tech with a BBA degree in economics.

His wife, Sharon, and children will join him here after school is out for the spring. Carrie, 15, will be a sophomore student, and Jeff, 7, will be a second grader.

Policy Changes Forthcoming?

Possible changes in policies concerning use of the Chamber of Commerce meeting room will be considered by the Organizational Affairs Council at its noon meeting Wednesday at Holiday Inn.

Chamber Manager Ron Mercer explained that outside organizations allowed in the past to use the C of C meeting room have often abused it by bringing in food contrary to regulations, leaving trash, leaving doors unlocked and other inconsiderate actions.

Mercer indicated that the council may decide to either charge a fee for use of the room or completely stop allowing outside groups to use the room.

The council will also review Chamber by-laws and policies for possible recommendation to the board of directors.

HHH Says Country Facing 'A Constitutional Crisis'

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — This country is facing "a constitutional crisis," Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., declared Monday.

The onetime Democratic candidate for president aired his views at an afternoon news conference and a night address to students at Abilene Christian College.

He defined constitutional crisis as a situation in which "the executive and legislative branches of government (are) struggling over who should have the power over spending."

SERIOUS DOUBTS

Humphrey was asked at the news conference if he favored aid to north Vietnam, particularly in view of prisoner of war accounts of torture. He said, "I've had serious doubts around aid anyhow, and I said I'd support it on two points only: (1) that the funds not come out of domestic programs and (2) that other countries contribute."

He said the United States should be part of an international group if it gives aid and added, "But we're going to have trouble getting it approved anyway."

Asked to comment on actress Jane Fonda's assertion that the POWs were lying about torture, he said, "Jane Fonda is a fine actress ... and she's entitled to her opinion."

Humphrey also was asked if comment on former Texas Gen. John Connally's rumored switch to the Republican party and said, "If he (Connally) becomes a Republican, he could well get the nomination in 1976 if he starts early."

Most of Humphrey's comments, however, centered around the Nixon administration and the presidential impoundment of funds appropriated by Congress.

"The (constitutional) crisis faced today," said the senator, "is a deliberate, conscious and manufactured attempt to concentrate in the executive branch of government power forbidden it by the Constitution."

He alleged that President Nixon has chosen to practice the type of impoundment considered to be illegal—that is, policy impoundment.

"Policy impoundment is executive arrogance," Humphrey said. "It encroaches upon the constitutional prerogative of Congress and it violates the separation of powers.

"Nixon says he's a law-and-order President, but he continues to break the law."

Kidnapers Holding Three Men, Boy

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Kidnapers are holding three men and a boy in Argentina. Each was abducted separately.

The victims are Antony R. DaCruz, technical operations manager for Eastman Kodak Co. in Argentina and the first American kidnaped in the country; retired Rear Adm. Francisco Agustin Aleman; Gerardo Scalmazzi, an Argentine branch manager of the First National Bank of Boston, and Angel Fabiani, 16-year-old son of a wealthy Buenos Aires businessman.

BIG RANSOM

DaCruz and Aleman were kidnaped Monday and authorities said leftist political groups were responsible. Fabiani also was kidnaped Monday, but members of his family said his abductors were believed to be common criminals interested only in a big ransom. Scalmazzi was kidnaped last Wednesday in Rosario, but it has not been determined whether his seizure had political overtones.

About six or eight young men ran a pickup truck into DaCruz's car near the Kodak plant in a Buenos Aires suburb, pulled DaCruz out and drove off in another vehicle, witnesses told police. Authorities said the 43-year-old executive may have been hurt.

A Kodak official said the kidnapers telephoned and identified themselves as members of a leftist guerrilla organization but had not made ransom demands yet.

A company spokesman said DaCruz was born in Portugal, got a graduate degree from the University of Minnesota, and has worked for Kodak in Rochester, N.Y., and in various Latin American countries. He is a naturalized U.S. citizen; his wife is a Greek who studied at the University of Minnesota, and they have a son at school in Britain.

Adm. Aleman was seized before dawn at his downtown apartment by three young members of the People's Revolutionary Army who tied up his wife and son.

duly, and in some cases, to veterans with ailments unrelated to military service.

LEGION OPPOSES

One group opposing relaxation of admittance policies is the American Legion on grounds that care available to veterans themselves should be improved first.

"What they're trying to do is socialize VA medical service," remarked George Zachariah, finance director of the local American Legion chapter.

"The thinking of the Legion is that if you open the doors to members of veterans' families, the next thing you know the doors will open to everyone. It wouldn't work to the advantage of the veterans," he said, stressing, however, that he cannot speak officially for the chapter but only for himself.

Soil Experts Due To Attend Dinner

About a dozen local farmers and ranchers have been invited to discuss problems they have with forage crops at a dinner at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Holiday Inn, according to Bill Fryrear of the Big Spring Experiment Station.

Fifteen soil experts from Oklahoma, Texas and the Washington D. C. area will be in Amarillo Tuesday and in Big Spring Wednesday, Fryrear said, in an effort to find out what the agricultural research service need to do to help growers of forage crops for livestock feeding.

Hicks Is Named To Play Cast

John Hicks, Big Spring High School senior, was one of 10 named to the All-Star cast at Saturday's District 5-AAAA University Interscholastic League one-act play competition in San Angelo.

Two others from the local high school won honorable mentions also awarded to 10 people. They were Susan Smith, senior, and Linda Richardson, junior.

Contest winners were San Angelo Central High, first place; Midland High, second; and Midland Lee High, third.

Suit Is Settled Out Of Court

A jury in 118th District Court was dismissed after parties in a suit for damages reached an undisclosed agreement out of court Monday afternoon.

Furr's Inc. was the defendant, and Mr. and Mrs. L. I. Stewart, the plaintiffs.

Trying To Bomb Foes To Peace Settlement

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes, including every available B52 bomber in Southeast Asia, gave Communist forces in Cambodia their heaviest pounding of the war during the night as part of the Nixon administration's campaign to force them into a cease-fire, reliable sources reported today.

UNABLE TO SAY

The sources compared the bombing to the attacks on Hanoi and Haiphong last December that were aimed at forcing North Vietnam into a peace settlement. But the Communists in Cambodia are widely dispersed and have none of the industrial concentrations vulnerable to air attack that the North Vietnamese had.

The sources said they were unable to say just how many strikes U.S. pilots flew or how many tons of bombs they dropped. But they indicated about 120 B52s were used in the attack, and that could mean a total of 3,600 tons of bombs dropped.

The U.S. Pacific Command in Honolulu, the official source of information on American air operations in Indochina, made its usual uncommunicative announcement that U.S. B52s continued operations over Cambodia Monday for the 7th successive day.

Military sources said some of the big bombers, along with F111 fighter-bombers, supported Cambodian government troops advancing into the Kirirom plateau 60 miles southwest of Phnom Penh.

LONG GONE

The government troops reportedly reached the plateau and found a deserted base camp of the Khmer Rouge Communists. But meanwhile other government forces south of Phnom Penh continued to retreat and abandoned the garrison town of Chambak, 30 miles south of the capital.

A number of U.S. congressmen contend that President Nixon no longer has constitutional authority to use American air power in Cambodia, but Defense Secretary Elliot Richardson in several recent appearances has contended that they are wrong.

HEAVY WEAPONS

He told a news conference in Washington Monday that the administration's objective in Cambodia "is to see the cease-fire come into being there." He added that Cambodia is a vulnerable flank to South Vietnam since "it would be a base to launch attacks."

The Vietnam cease-fire prohibits U.S. planes from hitting inside South Vietnam, but there have been reports they are still attacking concentrations of Communist troops and supplies in Cambodia that are destined for South Vietnam. U.S. and South Vietnamese intelligence reports tell of substantial movement of North Vietnamese troops, tanks and heavy weapons near the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border.

Howard Farmers Readying Land

Land preparation for the coming cotton planting is in full swing for Area Two, a 20-county area including Howard County, the Texas A&M and USDA extension service reports.

Onions and potatoes are being planted. Small grains are growing well, and wheat prospects are good. Livestock are in good condition, and the market remains "bullish."

Two Escape Plane Crash

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Snow of Hilltop Lakes, Tex., escaped with minor injuries as their single-engine Beechcraft crash-landed Monday in southeast Madison County near the Boston community.

A Federal Aviation Agency official at Fahetteville said Snow told him the plane was a total loss but the couple suffered only minor injuries.

The spokesman said Snow thought part of the plane's propeller broke off, causing the forced landing.

State Trooper Don Cater said a witness watched the plane pass over and heard the engine shut off. He said that as the craft neared the top of some trees on the side of a mountain, "he pulled the nose up" and set the plane down in the trees.

"He really did a good job on taking her in," Cater said.

Divorce To Cost Her $35 A Month

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — The local court has granted Karolina Mutz a divorce from Franz Sottopera, her husband of 33 years, but it's going to cost her $35 a month. She works, he is unemployed and in poor health, and she must pay him alimony, the court said in a ruling made public today.

Stanton Team Triumphs In Abilene Contests

STANTON — Livestock, range and land judging teams from the Stanton Future Farmers of America won a narrow sweepstakes victory in Monday's contests at Abilene Christian College although the groups failed to win a single first place.

Individuals of the teams placed no higher than fourth in any of the contests, and the chapter itself placed no higher than second in team efforts.

Six individuals of their top teams were, however, in the top 10 in two of the meet contests. This gave the chapter a slight edge over Jonesboro FFA which actually tied Stanton in team points. The tie was broken in livestock judging where neither team was in the top 10.

Members of Stanton's three teams, coached by Nolan Parker, are Jackie Rudd, Lynn Romine, Brad Hull and James Franks, and; Clint Creech, Jody Yates, Randy Henson and Jerry Kennedy, livestock; and Darell Bradshaw, Dennis Ireton, Denneth Hull and George Franks, range.

The chapter's top range team placed second, its land team took third, and its number two range team placed fourth. Individuals winning honors were Rudd, Romine, Ireton, Hull and George Franks.

In team competition, Jonesboro FFA won the range contest, Snyder FFA won the land contest, and Coleman County 4-H Club placed first in livestock judging.

Other area teams and individuaals placing included: Loraine FFA fifth, livestock; Dan Hightower, Flower Grove FFA, tenth, livestock; Lamesa FFA, seventh, land; Bruce Terry, Lamesa FFA, second, land; and Lamesa FFA, eighth, range.

Bank Call Discloses Deposits Up Sharply

By The Associated Press

The state and federal call for first-quarter reports from Texas banks demonstrated today that institutions in many cities of smaller population set all-time records for money on deposit. Larger cities set new highs for the first quarter but not necessarily the highest in their histories.

LARGE RISES

The Associated Press tabulation showed that every county reporting figures showed an increase, including some large rises over the same period a year ago.

Like many points, Harris County (Houston), was off a small percentage from year-end figures when deposits are usually at their high point for the year. But they reported deposits of $7,793,939,917, up more than a billion dollars from a year ago.

In Dallas County, although bank deposits were below the record high of $8,299,890,783 recorded at last year's end, they surpassed the $7.5 million mark, up almost $900 million over the comparable date in 1972.

Ft. Worth showed total Tarrant County deposits at $2,168,514,515 compared with $1,961,535,013, slightly below year-end figures.

San Antonio, where a year-ago deposits were not immediately available, reported deposits as of March 28 at $1,935,861,216, slightly below year-end figures.

TYLER 'BOOMS'

Although Wichita County (Wichita Falls) showed big gains in the city and smaller gains in other banks in the county, the totals showed $353,588,517.68 for March 28 and $339,816,304.87 a year ago.

William Hartley, president of the clearing house association at Tyler where deposits showed a $42 million increase optimistically said that the business climate in Tyler and East Texas continues to improve at a very satisfactory rate.

A Taylor bank president, Oliver Howard of the Citizens National commented, "We think that 1973 is going to be a good year," he said, "realizing at the same time that getting the people out of Vietnam and trying to get settled down to routine business is going to require some adjustments."

WE ARE HAPPY

"Certainly, we are happy to make these adjustments," said Howard.

"The increase in Lamar County can be attributed to the county's stable economy and the increase in Paris business which has generated much of the increase in deposits," said Ted Mapes, vice president of the Citizens State Bank at Paris.

Reports with the March 28, 1973, figures first and year-ago totals second:

Dallas County $7,500,796,182 and $6,663,373,682.

Harris County (Houston) $7,793,630,429 and $6,779,673,071.

Cook County (Gainesville) $51,999,849 and $46,875,899.

Pecos $14,498,884 and $11,891,242.

MIDLAND FIGURES

Midland $328,473,917 and $297,649,008.

Anderson County (Palestine) $48,451,640 and $42,455,090.

Taylor County (Abilene) $271,891,760 and $237,309,537.

Orange County $86,392,897 and $80,054,291.

Smith County (Tyler) $253,007,661 and $210,377,998.

Tarrant County (Fort Worth) $2,168,514,515 and $1,961,535,013.

Amarillo - Canyon $474,047,211 and $449,958,874.

Victoria County $248,853,197 and $218,627,239.

Wichita Falls $318,617,371 and $305,566,783.

Lamar County (Paris) $79,456,294 and $69,911,142.

Gregg County (Longview) $210,155,241 and 180,120,896.

One Of Three Men Placed In Cells

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Authorities said James Isabel, 38, a Fort Worth area resident, surrendered Monday on charges filed after a Van Alstyne deputy sheriff was wounded last week.

They identified Isabel as one of three men in a car which officer Charles Williams stopped for investigation. He radioed for help after being wounded and Police Chief Mike Rollins blocked their route at Howe, a few miles north.

Two of the car's occupants fled on foot and a third was taken into custody at Howe.

Isabel and the others were named in complaints charging two counts of assault to murder and one of felony theft.

MAIL FRAUD CHARGES

Fed Grand Jury Indicts Former Police Chief

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted a former Lower Rio Grande Valley peace officer Monday on charges of mail fraud in connection with Texas Reserve Law magazine.

The indictment, containing 30 counts, names James E. Helton, 54, who now lives in Tulsa, Okla. He once was police chief at Rio Hondo, Tex.

A spokesman for the U.S. attorney's office here said Helton was expected to surrender to federal authorities in Oklahoma, perhaps today.

DID NOT APPEAR

Helton is accused in the indictment of taking amounts from $12.50 to $49.50 from businessmen in four states for advertising in Texas Reserve Law magazine and for memberships in the Auxiliary Police and Reserve Law Officers Association.

The indictment states the memberships were to include group life insurance and subscriptions to the magazine. It makes these further charges:

The advertisements did not appear and those who purchased memberships did not receive the life insurance or the magazine subscriptions.

Helton took over operation of Texas Reserve Law Publishing Co. in January 1971 from Leon E. Schumacher and moved it to Grand Prairie, Tex., and next, in May 1971, to Rio Hondo. He is said to have also opened an office at One Main Plaza in Houston later in 1971.

Helton then "mass-produced" and mailed statements to many business firms, notifying them they owed certain amounts to the association for advertisements and memberships they had not actually ordered.

SECOND NOTICES

When payments were not received quickly, second notices printed on colored paper were sent.

The indictment also says Helton refused to appear at a Dallas meeting of the association's directors April 4, 1971, to examine membership and financial records.

Helton is accused of calling a Corpus Christi meeting of the directors April 18, 1971 "for the purpose of regaining control of the association by the defendant and installing directors more favorable to the defendant."

Other counts in the indictment specifically charge Helton with mailing statements and receiving payments from business firms in Edinburg, Houston, San Benito, Quanah, Port Isabel, McAllen, Austin, Corpus Christi, St. Louis, Mo., Metairier, La., and Portales, N.M.

Hop Over To T.G.&Y.

Hop on over to T.G. & Y in the College Park Shopping center for your Easter needs.

If you are hunting Easter baskets, they have every variety — big ones, tiny ones and all the sizes in between. They have sturdy ones, fancy ones and even buckets which can later be used as a sand pail.

T.G. & Y., the store that is always ready for every holiday, also has all the appointments that go with Easter baskets.

Easter grass comes in packages in many colors, green, or if you prefer — pink, yellow or lavendar.

There is every kind of candy Easter egg you can think of, including traditional jelly beans, soft candied eggs, chocolate eggs, candy covered chocolate eggs in every size and description.

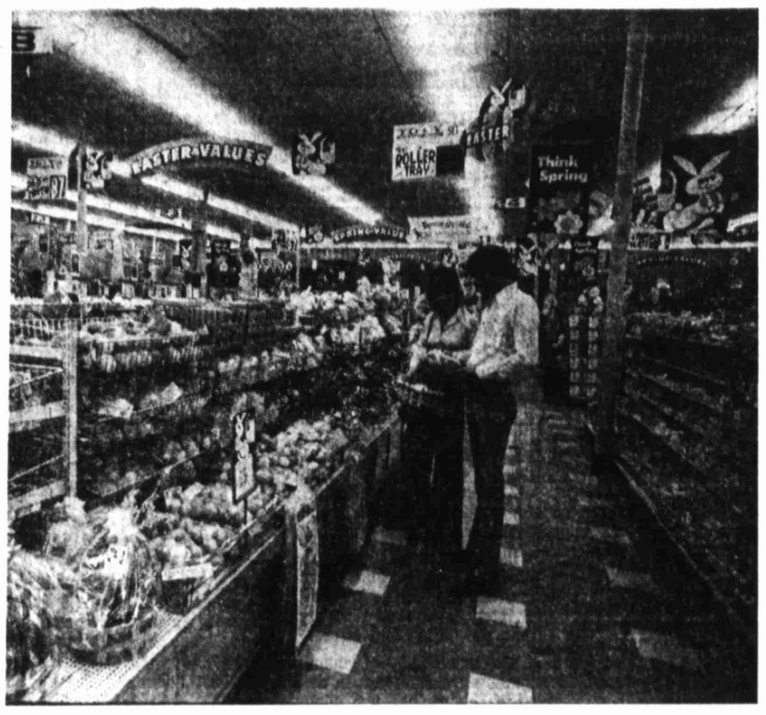

And bunnies. You'd almost believe they were multiplying over night at that store.

They've got every color of Easter rabbit you can think of from pink to blue to green to purple to yellow and orange. They have soft cuddly bunnies and big fierce looking bunnies and cordorouy bunnies and long haired bunnies. They even have bunnies on wheels that you can ride if you prefer.

They have Easter greeting cards for everybody. Definitely if you're hunting an Easter surprise, that would be a good place to look.

They also are ready with garden needs for the spring gardening enthusiast — from spring tools to fertilizer to whatever you might need to get out to the garden.

Drop by the College Shopping Center and go into T.G. & Y. You will be amazed at the Easter and spring selections.

Nursing Inn Offers Care

Big Spring Nursing Inn is home for 145 Big Spring citizens.

We should all think of it that way. It is different from a hospital and is simply home for these elderly persons in their golden years.

This week, they added a beauty shop inside the building which will help the women find life more enjoyable. Give a woman — any age — a beauty shop and she's happier about the whole world. Mrs. Linda Dahmer will serve as beautician.

Big Spring Inns, owned by MLS Industries out of Columbus, Ohio, is one of 37 nursing homes owned by that company. And all 37 homes share their knowledge and know-how to attempt to offer the very best to their residents.

In the southwest region, they keep-up-to date by means of a company newspaper whereby they keep in touch with each other. Rudolph (Rudy) Crane, manager since December, has had five years nursing home experience.

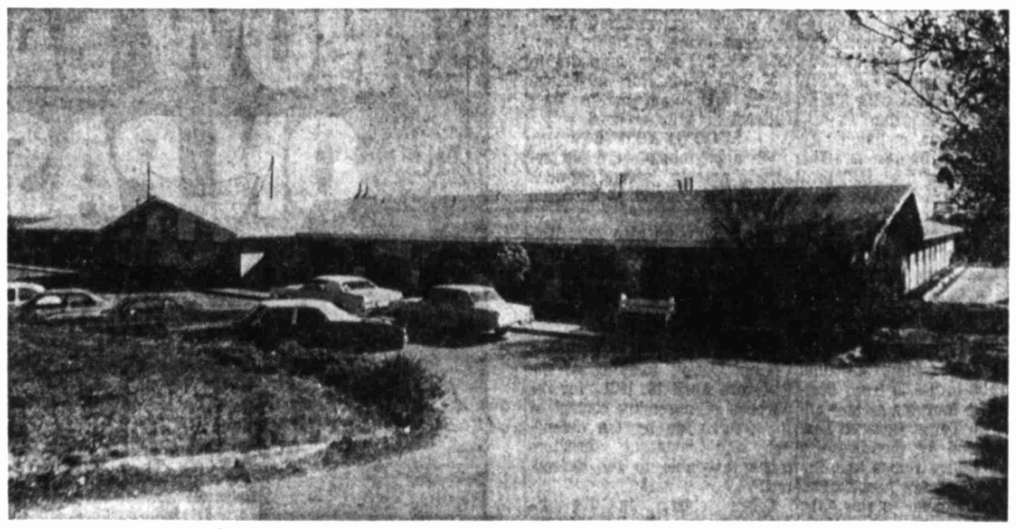

The average age of the 145 residents is around 75 years. The facility employs 60 full-time workers, including nurses, cooks, aides and office personnel.

There are two main buildings and a laundry and maintenance building. The home has its own laundry because cleanliness is of prime importance to a nursing home.

The churches and clubs who remember the nursing home residents with special acts of kindness, religious services, birthday special remembrances, and attention at the holidays are really appreciated.

It is hoped that a number of groups and individuals will think about the importance of Easter in relation to the elderly.

The public is invited to visit the nursing inn or to call and inquire about their facilities.

No Roach Means No Roaches

The manufacturers of Johnston's No-Roach are not bragging or boasting . . . they are just stating a fact. No-Roach means exactly that . . . no roaches!

This claim is made with knowledge obtained through twenty years sales experience, thousands of laboratory tests, and millions of satisfied customers.

Johnston's No-Roach (comes in a brown amber bottle with brush attached) is different . . . and it's different for many reasons. No-Roach eliminates the need for frequent application of messy, unsafe sprays and powders . . . No-Roach is clean and easy to use and is effective for months.

When you use Johnston's No-Roach, simply brush this odorless, colorless liquid around baseboards, sinks, tablelegs . . . behind cabinets and appliances . . . on shelves and inside cabinet doors. Use Johnston's No-Roach in bathrooms and anywhere else cockroaches may breed. No-Roach dries fast to form an invisible path of death that kills cockroaches, ants, silverfish, spiders, all crawling insects — and best of all it continues to kill effectively for months.

CONTROL ANTS

To keep ants out of the house, brush No-Roach across window frames and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. No-Roach is, available at Safeway, Furr's, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's, Foodway, Giant Discount and all grocery stores. It is distributed by Kimbell.

Crash Kills 19

PORTO ALEGRE, Brazil (AP) — Nineteen persons were killed when an intercity bus and a truck collided headon in southern Brazil and the bus plunged upside down into a river, police said today.

The accident occurred outside the town of Ijui, near the Uruguayan and Argentine borders. Both drivers survived the crash but were injured.

Teen's Blunder Is Embarrassing

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas teenager handed a police officer his driver's license Friday and then discovered to his chagrin that he had made a mistake.

The boy, stopped by the patrolman for a traffic violation, handed the officer the license, apparently without having a look at it beforehand.

Feeling something struck on the back of the laminated license card, the officer turned it over and found a single marijuana cigarette.

The policeman promptly arrested the youth for juvenile deliquency.

THE STATE NATIONAL BANK
BIG SPRING, TEXAS

Hill, Teague On Program

Claude W. Brown, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, announced today that Attorney General John Hill of Austin, and Dr. William J. Teague, administrative vice president of Purex Corporation, Ltd., will be the two principal banquet speakers at the 55th Annual Convention in Abilene April 12-13.

The 1973 convention is being held in the $3.5 million Abilene Civic Center.

Mr. Hill, who took office Jan 1, will be the featured speaker at the opening banquet Thursday evening. Leroy Langston, executive vice president of the Citizens National Bank in Abilene, and WTCC vice president of District V, will preside at the Thursday evening event.

Dr. Teague of Lakewood, Calif., a former Abilene resident, will speak at the annual banquet Friday evening. He is also a former assistant to the president of Pepperdine University in Los Angeles. Garnet Gracy, senior vice president of the First National Bank in Abilene, and WTCC treasurer, will preside at the annual banquet.

President Brown has also announced that five native Texans who have achieved national recognition in the fields of education, writing, business and industry, and journalism will be honored on Friday at the noon luncheon.

They will be presented the coveted WTCC Displaced West Texan Award and will be inducted to exclusive membership in the West Texas Order of the Golden Chaparrral.

Those to be honored are the two featured banquet speakers, the Honorable John L. Hill and Dr. William J. Teague; T. J. Barlow of Houston, president and chief executive officer of Anderson-Clayton; Winston M. Estes, author, of Springfield, Va.; and George McCue of St. Louis, arts editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

THE THRASHER BROTHERS

Police Reserves Will Sponsor Singing Show

Well known television gospel singers, the Thrasher Brothers, billed as the singing Americans from America Sings, will appear in Big Spring at 8 p.m. Saturday at the City Auditorium.

They are sponsored by the Big Spring Police Reserves. Tickets are available at Gibson's Discount, The Record Shop and College Park T.G. & Y.

Performing to over 2,130,000 each week by way of TV, they move skillfully through songs of patriotism and inspiration.

Their talent carries them beyond the field of gospel music into the realm of business. Each in his own right is an outstanding business man. The group contains the president of The Aknell Corporation, president of AmSings Productions, Inc., vice president-sales of Medical Specialties Corporation. Four are members of the governor's staff of Alabama.

All the musicians, par excellence, playing several instruments each.

Driver's Ed Will Be Taught At HC

Driver's Education will be offered as a special interest course at Howard County Junior College beginning today, 7-9 p.m., in the Adult Education Building, Room 1.

Harold Wilder will be the instructor, and the objective of the course will be to assist students in obtaining a Texas drivers license. Fee will be $40.

The class will offer 18 hours of instruction, the first six of which will be in the classroom, and the last 12 will entail six hours of driving observation and six hours of actual driving.

No one under 18 years old may enroll.

Interested persons may preregister by phoning the college at 267-6311 Ext. 32, or by simply attending tie first class meeting.

Paper Converting To Photo Offset

SWEETWATER — The Sweetwater Reporter will begin offset printing this summer in a newly remodeled plant following its sale to the Donrey Media Group of Fort Smith, Ark. last week.

Spokesmen for the paper said plans call for the new plant to be built adjoining present facilities. The offset process will enable the paper to reproduce four colors.

Mark Palmer of Weatherford assumed duties as general manager after last week's sale.

Using FBI As Political Peeping Tom?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Les Aspin says a 1971 FBI memorandum to Oregon agents shows the Nixon administration has been "using the FBI as a political Peeping Tom and gossip columnist since it took office."

The memorandum from the Portland, Ore., FBI field office, dated Jan. 21, 1971, was released by Aspin, a Wisconsin Democrat, on Monday.

Six categories of information were to be forwarded to the administration, the memorandum said, including "items with an unusual twist or concerning prominent personalities which may be of special interest to the President or the attorney general."

The FBI issued no formal answer, but a spokesman said, "We wouldn't report to the President or the attorney general matters of a strictly political nature."

The memorandum says collection of data for an "FBI intelligence letter for the President" was initiated by the bureau in 1969 and was code named "inlet."

Agents were instructed to forward data of sufficient importance "to secure the President's interest and to provide him with meaningful intelligence for his guidance."

Three's A Crowd

TEEN FORUM

THREE BOYS: (Q.) I have three boy friends. I like one most of all, but I also have dates with the other two. All of them are too jealous for their own good, and they all know each other.

It seems that recently every time one of them calls me I have a date with one of the other two. I do not believe in lying, but I also hate to tell one of them I have a date with another one, or even that I have a date.

I don't want to give any of them up, but it is getting very difficult to keep all of them in a good humor. Can you help me? — 17 in Indiana.

(A.) You do not have to tell a boy you have a date, or the name of the boy you have a date with.

All you have to say is, "Thanks, but I have other plans for that night." If you wish, you can add, "How about some other time?"

That is not a lie. It simply is not specific.

This way of answering, of course, may not completely solve your problem. You are likely sooner or later to lose one of the boys, or two, or maybe all of them.

I am sorry this is so, but many boys want an exclusive girl, and in a group of three boys the odds are that at least one will demand a steady rather than a girl who dates other boys.

* * *

BIG IN MIDDLE: (Q.) I have fat around my hips, waist and stomach. When I sit down it sags over my pants. I swim a lot but that doesn't seem to help. I drink a lot of beer. Could this affect my weight? I am 14, 5 feet tall, and weight 105. — Busting Out in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Cut out the beer. You do not need it, and it is one of the most fattening things you could find. Also cut down on sweets and starches.

I am sending you a set of exercises for the waist and upper hips. Do them regularly.

For some girls your height, 105 pounds is not bad at all. But if it all collects in the middle it is a problem. You may have to cope with this tendency all your life. So start now, get it under control, and keep it that way.

Loose Screws Spark Recall

LYNDHURST, N.J. (AP) — Some 10,000 Volvos are being recalled for the second time in five months in the United States because of loose screws that could lead to steering difficulties, the Swedish auto company said Monday.

A spokesman said some screws on the inside of the dashboard of the 1973 model Volvos were coming loose, falling inside the dashboard and rubbing against the steering column.

The autos had first been recalled in December and the screws put back in, the spokesman said. He said the second recall was decided upon after it was discovered the screws, not their placement in the dashboard, were the problem.

Price, Arrick On Elite List

AUSTIN — The University of Texas has named 182 students to the College of Pharmacy honor roll for the 1972 fall semester.

Students qualifying for the honor roll accumulated at least 36 grade points (B average) for the semester.

Among 38 students capturing "highest honors" was Jerry Lee Price of 604 George Ave. in Big Spring. Earning "honors" was Georgelyn S. Arrick of 1210 E. 18th in Big Spring.

He helps assure that the electricity you use is accurately measured.

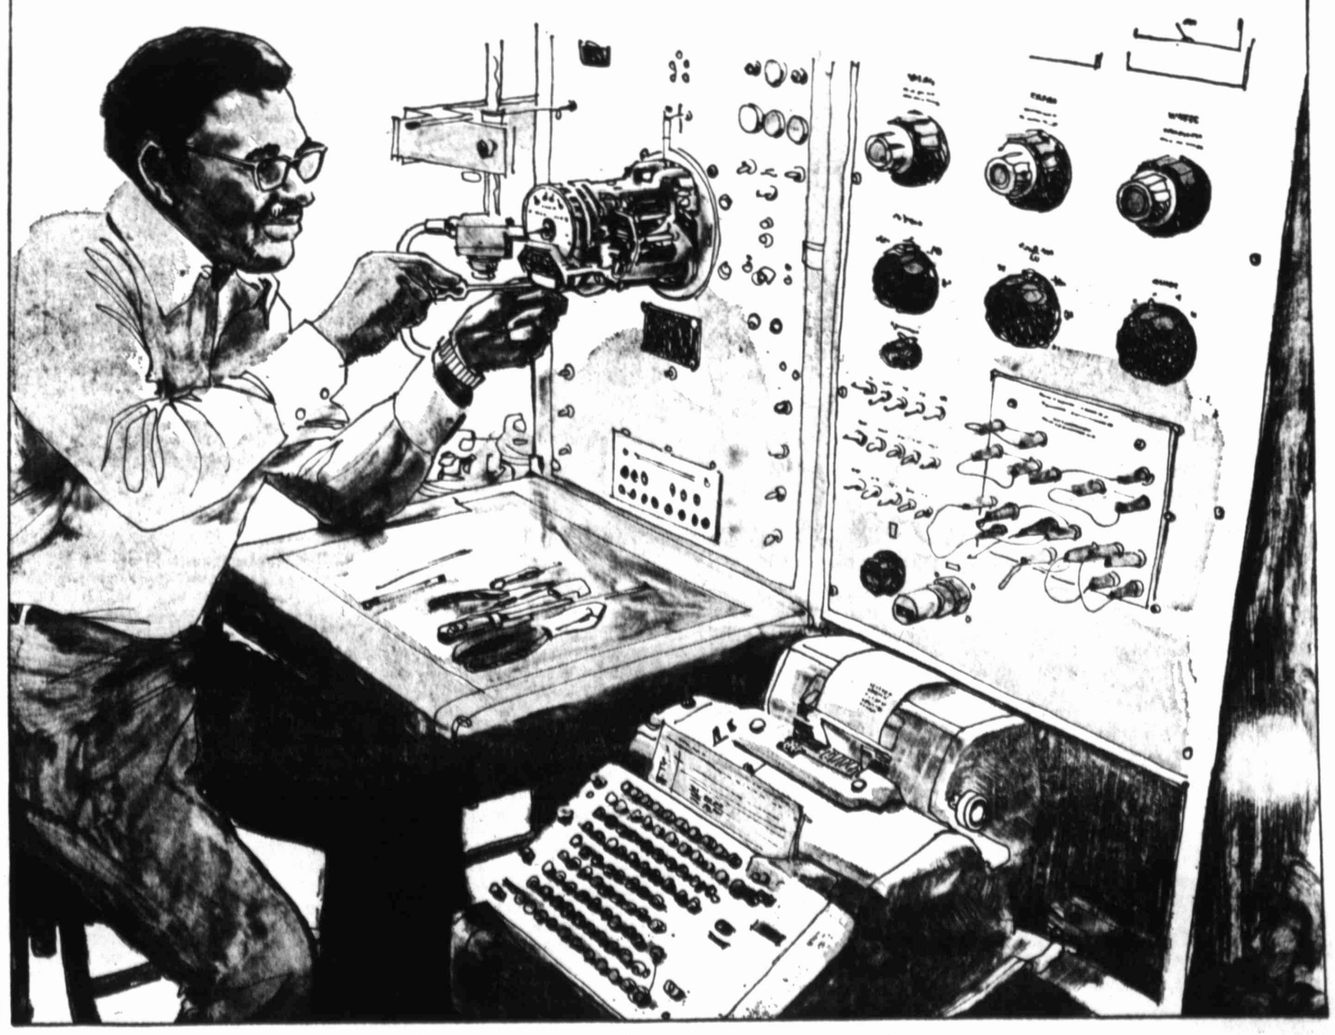

Our meter testers help make sure that the electric service you use is probably the most accurately measured product you buy. Your electric meter has the accuracy of a fine watch.

The meter tester uses a computer device that is typical of the sophisticated equipment we use today to control the quality of our services. It can measure the accuracy of a meter to within 1/30,000th of a kilowatt hour. And the accuracy of this equipment is checked regularly against the standards set by United States government agencies.

At Texas Electric, trained people operate precision equipment in a continuing program designed to assure the accuracy of your electric service bill.

Will Success Spoil Dollar?

The fact that we never had it so good is one reason we never had it so bad.

We have never had more money to spend nor a higher standard of living. Because of this we have created such things as an international trade deficit that threatens to wreck the dollar.

Consider wine. Last year the U.S. imported 37-million gallons of table wines — an increase of 44 per cent over 1971. We bought 41 per cent more wine from France, 38 per cent more from Italy and an amazing 115 per cent more from Spain.

The dollars we sent abroad for wines increased far more than the increase in gallons. The increase in the price of wine in the last two years has ranged from 39 per cent for some wines to as much as 400 per cent for others.

For the first time since 1900 we bought more goods abroad in 1971 than we sold there. We did this again in 1972. Each year our trade deficit was more than $6 billion.

In the light of our luxury purchases from abroad, maybe the question we shoud be asking is:

"Will success spoil the American dollar?"

Questionable Law

The Texas Legislature has approved and sent to Gov. Dolph Briscoe a bill to allow the use of aircraft to hunt down and kill animal predators in eight counties.

Under terms of the bill, permits for aeral predator hunting can be issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department; hunting of birds, such as the golden eagle, from aircraft would remain prohibited.

This seems to be an unwise piece of legislation. It will be next to impossible to police hunting from the air, to see that such permits are used only to hunt down coyotes and other predators and not abused to hunt game or birds.

Nor is it clear that coyotes cause as much livestock loss as is charged to them. Although coyotes are often found feeding on dead lambs, etc., the National Audobon Society argues these animals may actually have died of other causes, and the coyote merely feeds on carrion. So the need for such a law is highly debatable.

There seems to be little chance Gov. Briscoe will not sign the bill into law; he is himself a rancher. But any attempt to extend the aerial hunting into other counties should be combatted, and an effort should be mounted to rescind the law at the first opportunity.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

How does one find a way to stop feeling self-pity after the death of a family member? I feel so disadvantaged following this last bereavement. It's as if God has favored others, but with me, He's been cool and cruel! M.O.

You have in the Bible book of Job, two great statements that ought to encourage you. Above all others, here was a man who could have indulged himself generously in self-pity, and justified it. In a brief time, you see, he lost all his children and possession.

The statements show his solution, however. "Man is born unto trouble as the sparks fly upward" (5:7) and, "Though he slay me, yet will I trust in Him," (13:15). In other words, he first recognized that hardship and heartbreak were inevitable. Secondly, he discovered how to handle those problems — by trusting God.

It is not unusual for you to feel self-pity — or even remorse after a family member dies. The things is—how you cope with it, and how you learn to dissipate those feelings that become so destructive. Here's where the reading of the Bible and prayer play such a strategic part.

Don't come to God reluctantly, or hesitatingly. Cast yourself upon Him with abandon — as a child should in his dependence on a father.

I have yet to find a person who did what the old hymn suggests "Lean on the everlasting arms" — who found they were not satisfactory for every crisis.

Mills Shakes Shultz

By Rowland Evans
And Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — The first clear sign that President Nixon's rigid economic theorists were truly alarmed by growing political pressure on food price controls came Friday, March 23, when George Shultz, Secretary of the Treasury, paid a strictly private visit to the Capitol Hill office of Rep. Wilbur D. Mills.

Shultz, usually the essence of doctrinal self-confidence, was clearly shaken by runaway food prices. He asked Mills: What can we do? The reply from the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee was that the permissive Phase III control program has proved a disaster and everybody (except possibly Shultz) knows it. The answer, Mills went on, is to freeze retail food prices.

SHULTZ SAID nothing, not trotting out his old arguments about the ultimate success of the administration's policies. That same day, Shultz got an earful at the labor-management Advisory Council meeting from president George Meany of the AFL-CIO. If the government wants to hold down wage hikes, Meany asserted it had better freeze farm-to-market prices.

If the demands from Mills and Meany were not enough, Shultz got more of the same early the next week from Mr. Nixon's secretly commissioned polls: the public views Phase III with utter contempt, considering it totally incapable of holding back inflation.

Therefore, these highly confidential polls showed, consumers have been on a buying spree to beat the next prces increase. In long White House meetings last week, non-economic advisers forecase a political-economic disaster unless the President did something.

By Wednesday night, the economic theoreticians advising Shultz seemed ready to surrender. Insisting on their own economic rectitude, they nevertheless acknowledged that, under savage political pressure, Mr. Nixon would have to be ready, as in 1971, to discard his economic game plan.

HANOI'S FLAT refusal to extend the four-power Joint Military Commission beyond March 28, set in the Paris ceasefire, came in the face of strenuous U.S. efforts to keep it going and, thereby, maintain some American presence in Vietnam.

In fact, the White House is bitterly disappointed by Hanoi's refusal. U.S. military and diplomatic officials had been somewhat encouraged by Hanoi to believe that the commission — the Vietcong, South Vietnam, North Vietnam and the U.S. — could continue beyond the terminal date.

The refusal is just one more sign that the "ceasefire" may never have been intended by the Communists as more than a figleaf cover for withdrawal of all American troops. Even the four-power commission had been hamstrung by near total lack of Communist support in its efforts to make the ceasefire work. Now, without the U.S. and Hanoi, the two-power remnant (Saigon and the Vietcong) will probably turn out to be useless.

Furthermore, Communist representatives on the Joint Military Commission were largely restricted to sparsely populated battle areas. Under the new two-power arrangement, Vietcong operatives will be in the big cities to stir up political trouble.

A footnote: Refusal to extend the four-power commission exactly fits Hanoi's pattern since the ceasefire: illegal introduction of troops and supplies into South Vietnam; obstacles to international inspection; total refusal to remove Communist troops from Cambodia and Laos.

A SERIOUS MOVE to promote Secretary of Commerce Frederick Dent as Republican nominee for governor of South Carolina is underway with the full (but discreet) support of the state's top Republican operative: Harry S. Dent, late of the White House staff and now Republican National Committee counsel.

F. Dent, no relation to H. Dent, surprised politicians recently when in response to a reporter's question he declined to rule himself out as a possible gubernatorial nominee.

Although Gov. John C. West cannot succeed himself, any Republican — including textile executive Dent, a transplanted Northerner — would have a rough uphill fight in 1974.

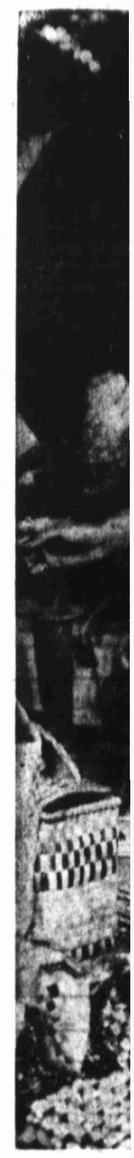

THOSE PRIVATELY urging John B. Connally to announce his formal conversion to the Republican party include the GOP's most powerul friend in the labor movement: Frank Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters union.

Sand With History

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Last week we brushed aside a little of the sand on Padre Island and uncovered some interesting bits of history. Before the ceaseless wind blew away their foot prints, both pirates and priests left their mark on these solitary dunes.

MANY ADVENTUROUS men, minor and major, have used Padre Island as a stopping point, a base of operations, or a permanent home. Several ranching enterprises flourished from time to time, and wild horses once roamed the island in great numbers.

Alexander Singer, brother of the sewing machine magnate, settled with his family on Padre Island after being shipwrecked. They settled on the site of Padre Balli's Rancho Santa Cruz and developed a profitable ranching and trading empire.

WHEN THE CIVIL War began Singer fled — as he was in sympathy with the North. The family fortune, including jewelry and tableware of wrought silver and gold, as well as gold and silver coins, was packed in tubs and hastily buried. (Who knows whether all the treasure has been recovered?)

There are many other tales of legend about Padre Island, an 80.5-mile stretch of which is preserved as a National Seashore Area. But the present is what concerns us now.

AS YOU ENTER the island from the causeway, a right turn takes you to Isla Blanca Park by an unusual frame structure that houses the offices of the Park Board and Port-Isabel-Padre Island Chamber of Commerce. You'll check in there if you want to use the trailer parks, cabanas, or campsites in this park or in Andy Bowie Park five miles north.

FROM ISLA Blanca Park's protected beach, the jetty extends out into the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico for a full mile. On one side, forming the entrance to the ship's channel, the water is 42 feet deep. On the other side, water extends down to possibly 15 or 20 feet deep. Both sides have many varieties of fish, ranging in weight from the tiny fingerlings to the 500-pound Sea Bass. If you're not a fisherman, you can still enjoy a walk out on the jetty, as you watch the big ships come and go, or there's a section of the beach set aside for surfing.

THE ANDY Bowie Park is in an earlier stage of development, but you can pitch a tent there, park for dune exploration, or drive to the beach for picnicing. It requires careful driving, but you can travel up the island from here on hard-packed sand near the water.

Between the two parks and up the island for several miles is Highway 100. Both the Laguna and Gulf sides are lined with motor hotels, motels, apartments, restaurants and private beach homes.

PADRE ISLAND provides a different sort of vacation for West Texans who yearn to wiggle their toes in wet sand. If you like sun and wind and water — it's for you.

Certain Crimes Up

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The good news in Washington last week was that crime had dropped in the capital by 50 per cent. There is some question about the figures released because certain crimes committed in Washington were not included in the statistics. Had they been, the optimism about the decline might be considered premature.

Here are some of the crimes not reported in Washington in 1972:

Housebreaking at the Watergate Hotel was up 100 per cent.

ILLEGAL BUGGING of politicians increased 73 per cent. While officials explained the upsurge in this crime was due to a presidential election year, law-and-order advocates feel the rate of illegal bugging will continue because of the permissiveness of bleeding-heart Justice Department lawyers.

Acts of perjury in front of grand juries, Senate committees and in civil cases reached an all-time high, surpassing even the record made during the four years of the Harding Administration.

Attempts to intimidate witnesses and obstruct justice were up 23 per cent.

Destruction of subpoenaed documents and paper shredding of crucial evidence increased 33 per cent.

The rape of Public Television continued unabated and blackmail of TV station owners broke all previous records.

Administration assaults on the networks were up 43 per cent over 1971.

CRIMES OF passion against newspaper correspondents hit new record highs and the mugging of news sources tripled under the Nixon Administration.

Armed robbery of the American taxpayer by the military-industrial complex showed a 34 per cent rise over 1971 — a previous record year for this type of crime, because very few of the military-industrial complex holdups are reported, law-enforcement experts do ot see any chance that this type of crime will go down. (When one government employee reported that Lockheed was robbing the public blind, he was immediately fired.)

Column Writing Gigs

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a newspaper columnist gets tired of hearing:

"What else do you do for a living besides write a column?"

"Can you help me get a couple of passes to the hockey game?"

"I'm much too busy myself to read what you write, but my wife says that now and then she likes your stuff."

"I already have trouble enough justifying your salary to the business department. If you want a new swivel chair, you'd better buy it yourself."

"Where do you get most of your ideas, anyway — at clearance sales?"

"Do you call Nixon or does he call you?"

"I suppose whenever they get a big grocery ad, you get thrown out of the paper. Right?"

"I guess with a name like yours — C. Bascom Prunewhip — there isn't much else you could do but write a column. But I think you're a long way from making it a household word."

"Hey, Bascom, look intelligent — the boss is on his way in."

"What makes you such an authority on everything? You never met a payroll in your life."

"When you go to lunch, do you ever pick up your own check?"

"Why do you guys always feel you have to find fault with something? If you were running it, the world would be in an even bigger mess."

"It's much easier to understand Bascom's column if you simply hum 'Onward, Christian Soldiers' while you read it."

"I used to write a column for our high school newspaper. It isn't easy, is it?"

Hemachromatosis

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Now that hexachlorophene has been determined as possibly brain damaging, what treatments for acne are left? Am I supposed to turn into a battle zone waiting for new medications?

I have severe acne and have been using medicated soaps, a complexion brush and good diet. Alcohol makes my skin dry but doesn't do much else.

I get plenty of exercise but school is too tough for more than eight hours of sleep. I also find my diet difficult because everything is greasy.

Please suggest EVERY cure or aid I'm not trying now. We can't afford a dermatologist or psychiatrist which I've been told is necessary to end my problems. What effects do hexachlorophene have on the brain? — M.T.I.

Unlimited use of hexachlorophene was blamed because of fear of what might happen from its use in total-body bathing of babies, but it hasn't been dismissed from use because it still has its values.

Soaps containing it can be obtained on prescription and, for acne, it would not be used for the entire body, but rather for the affected areas. Likewise, thorough rinsing will do two things: first, the rinsing is necessary for best results with acne; second, it will remove any hexachlorophene remaining on the skin, to prevent possible absorption. There are other medicated soaps that do not contain hexachlorophene.

Of course, other antibacterial preparations may also be used — antiobitics of the tetracycline type are widely used. The antibiotics are used in small doses, and you must see your doctor (or a dermatologist) about that. Only occasional visits would be necessary, and I doubt if the expense would be as great as you fear.

I would doubt that you need a psychiatrist. Who said you did?

When you ask for "every" other method of treating acne, that's a pretty big order. I do, however, suggest that you read my newly revised booklet, "Controlling Acne, Blackheads and Pimples." It tells you what to do, and why. If you'd like to read it, send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

I doubt that you have suffered any brain damage from the hexachlorophene; I don't know that any adult has ever shown to have done so. But the fact that laboratory animals, exposed to considerable amounts, did so, was the reason for the limitations.

Diet may require some thought but shouldn't be too difficult. You are right in avoiding too much fat or fried foods.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Am looking for someone who can tell me what it means to be born in a veil (membrane). I was, and was told it had a special meaning. I was born in 1914. Hope you will be able to answer, as I've been waiting a long time. — M.C.

Well, you have waited a long time — and the "veil" hasn't had any significance. And it wont.

Such a veil is one of the thin membranes within the uterus and surrounding the fetus before the baby is born. Usually these membranes are expelled with the afterbirth, but sometimes a segment can adhere to the baby's head.

It was an old superstition that to be born with a veil (or caul, as it was sometimes called) meant the baby would grow up to have powers of foretelling the future. Nothing to it, of course.

Big Donation

TORONTO (AP) — The fund-raising campaign for the new Toronto zoo got a big boost. It reached the $2.5-million mark following a $50,000 contribution from General Motors of Canada Ltd., a report said.

The total to date represents 4.2 per cent of the $6 million objective needed to buy additional animals and new facilities.

Brando At Site

William F. Buckley Jr.

Marlon Brando decided to go to Wounded Knee. We got that intelligence originally from Miss Shasheen Littlefeather herself, who, representing the Native American Affirmative Image Committee, declined Mr. Brando's Oscar for him. A Native American is an Indian, for those of you who came in after the 17th century. It isn't clear what Brando's mission in Wounded Knee is to be, but it is clear that he is on the side of the Indians — on the grounds that Indians have been mistreated by the movies.

MARLON BRANDO wears the moroseness of the human race heavily on his shoulders. It is a lucky accident nature that in the past he has been laconic not only on the screen but off it. One wonders whether he is now casting off his inhibitions, even as he did his pants, in his last movie, resolving to become Mr. Jane Fonda. One social encephalophone from Hollywood is rather a lot as it is and one can only hope therefore that on reaching Wounded Knee, Brando will have buried himself deeply there, and be adopted by the Oglala Siouxs, whom he can instruct in the devil-law of the white man.

Brando's Oscar was for his portrayal of The Godfather, the Mafia head who looked after his family and friends by shooting and torturing those who stood in his way. I have not seen any picture at the expense of savage American Indians which goes much further than The Godfather does against predatory Italians, but Brando has solved that problem. You see, the Mafia are simply typical Americans. Here is Brando on the point during a recent interview: "I think (The Godfather) is about the corporate mind. In a way, the Mafia is the best example of capitalists we have. Don Corleone is just any ordinary American business magnate who is trying to do the best he can for the group he represents and for his family."

Don Corleone, you will remember, is the Godfather whose agents slaughter agents of a competing family with machine guns, knives, garrotes, and poison. Just the way Colonel Sanders, the corporate magnate, treats other people who try to sell fried chicken.

BRANDO IS anxious that you should thoroughly understand his point and if he had difficulties in making it during the interview it must have been because Miss Littlefeather wasn't there to help him out. Look, he said, "I think the tactics the Don used aren't much different from those General Motors used against Ralph Nader."

The Don executed his rivals and tossed them into the East River. General Motors sent someone to follow Ralph Nader around, and for its pains paid several hundred thousand dollars to Nader for invading his privacy. But the distinction blurs in the inflamed ninny-mind of our morose activist . . . "unlike some corporate heads," Brando went on, "Corleone has an unwavering loyalty for the people that have given support to him and his causes and he takes care of his own."

A Devotion For Today . .

If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new." (II Corinthians 5:17)

PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that knowing of Thy liberating power ourselves, we will tell others of Thee, whose kingdom is love and liberty. Amen.

Students of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser who will play Wednesday are Rinda Lee, Annabeth Deats, Dawn Estes, Craig Chravetti, Peggy Cook, Tammy Tonn, Elise Wheat, Jay Huskey, Rachel Nabors, Michelle Coffee, Kathy Rhymes, Debbie Baker, Larry Wheat, Kevin Penner, Brent Odom, Julia Ray, Brenda Harland, Kathy Huskey, Rhonda Riley, Suzanne Smith, Jaylene Saunders, Beth Boeker and Brenda Thomas.

'Sexuality Pendulum' Viewed By Doctor

"We have progressed from the extremely puritanical times of the late 1800's, when all sexuality was suppressed, to a state of superficial relationships," said Dr. Ron Cohorn, guest speaker Saturday for the Permian Basin Assembly of Phi Sigma Alpha.

Dr. Cohorn, director of the outpatient clinic at Big Spring State Hospital, spoke at Coker's Restaurant on "The Mature Personality." He said a mature ideal of sexuality is just one of several qualities of a mature person.

"During the puritanical times, people grew up with guilt and misconceptions about the role of sex between man and woman," said Dr. Cohorn. "Now, the guilt is gone, but it has been overdone. People are becoming dissatisfied, because there is no more responsibility to love and family."

Dr. Cohorn said the swing to another extreme was to be expected after so much repressiveness. He compared the change to a pendulum, and said it will eventually swing back and settle on a more mature and functional sense of sex.

Other qualities of a mature personality, according to Dr. Cohorn, are independence, productiveness, developed standards and ideals and a conscience that are in line with culture and society the person is part of.

"The mature personality will learn to deal with hostile feelings in responsible and productive ways," said Dr. Cohorn. "The person will have a firm sense of reality and will be flexible and adaptable to society. He or she will also be free from feelings of inferiority, egotism and extremes of competitiveness.

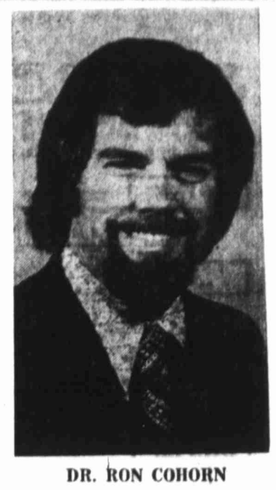

"Some people feel extremely inferior. They never compete or try to make themselves do better. They just defeat themselves with their attitude. Others compensate by developing exaggerated facades of strength and adequacy. Neither personality is productive as far as the person's happiness and relationship to other people."

Cohorn said the mature person will have a feeling of being capable, but not to the point of "putting others down."

Members of the Permian Basin Assembly of PSA were present for the dinner meeting, and Mrs. Ophelia Nolan, Midland, district president, presided during election of new district officers.

The new officers are Mrs. Lula Wilson, Lamesa, president; Mrs. Callie Jo Mason, Big Spring, vice president; Mrs. Hugh Sloan, Midland, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs., Betty Johnson, Big Spring, program chairman.

The local chapter was hostess for the district meeting. It was announced a state PSA convention is scheduled in October at Midland.

Whose Problem?

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 34 years old, and I am 35. We've been married for 12 years. I am a school teacher, and he does counseling. About six months ago he started to buy me some rather expensive presents. At the same time he himself came home with an expensive gold watch, some tailor-made suits, and finally a new expensive automobile.

I knew he couldn't afford all those things on what he made, so I had a long talk with him and he confessed that he has been getting large amounts of money from a woman. He described her as a high-priced call girl. He said he was helping her to work out her problems, that his interest in her was strictly professional and in appreciation for helping her get her head together she kept giving him large amounts of money.

He has been spending a lot of evenings away from home. Does this sound professional to you?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Not very. An ethical counselor usually charges a set fee, and doesn't accept "large amounts of money." It's all right for him to help her get her head together as long as he doesn't take too many things apart.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: To the correspondent who said wedding presents were out of style — that they just passed the tray and collected money instead:

Last summer we attended a wedding where the festive dinner was prepared by friends who were members of a gourmet cooking club. Their "gift" was preparing the dinner. Another friend donated his services by painting two rooms in the old house where the bride and groom were going to live.

Soliciting gifts of money would be considered bad form in our circles, and we are by no means the idle rich. Imaginative gifts suitable to the circumstances rate tops. BILL

DISTRICT GATHERING

Colorado City Plans HD Meet Thursday

A home demonstration club district meeting is scheduled Thursday in Colorado City at the First Baptist Church. Registration will be from 9-10 a.m., and about 25 women from Howard County HD clubs plan to attend.

Announcement of the meeting was made Monday at the HD Council meeting in the agent's office. Mrs. J. C. Williams, Texas HD association chairman, said there will be workshops on recreation, cultural arts, citizenship and family life.

It was announced that since the beginning of 1973, HD clubs in Howard County have gained 30 new members. In April, Bruce Griffith, county agent, will speak to all clubs about lawn care.

Mrs. Alden Ryan, past THDA chairman, presented a pin to Mrs. Waynon Etchison, council chairman, for her services in behalf of the council. Devotion was by Mrs. John Couch, and Mrs. A. D. Martin of the Coahoma HD Club was a guest.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a yellow cloth and centered with a terrarium and various Easter season accents.

AAUW Examines Social Services

Social services offered by various organizations were outlined Monday for the morning study group of American Association of University Women, at the home of Mrs. C. R. Wiley, 1721 Yale.

Services rendered by the Texas Department of Public Welfare, Howard County and the Salvation Army, were discussed by Mrs. Alvin Schroyer Jr., Mrs. Paul Kionka and Mrs. Preston Harrison.

Mrs. Bruce McDonald told members that AAUW social groups need to redirect their long-range social service goals, particularly in respect to establishing well-baby clinics and planned parenthood centers.

The group will meet for a program on "Education" May 7, place to be announced.

New Slate For Society

New officers were elected Monday evening by Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society in the church parish hall. They are Mrs. Keith Thompson, president, Mrs. John Quigley, vice president; Mrs. Walter Ross, treasurer; and Miss Wanda Anderson, secretary.

Mrs. Fred Hyer presided, and prayers were by the Rev. Louis Moeller who discussed portions of the mass and outlined their significance.

Mrs. E. W. Brewer was hostess, and new members introduced were Miss Ramona Molina and Mrs. Thompson. Named to the altar committee for April were Mrs. L. D. Gilbert, Mrs. D. E. Hattenbach, Mrs. Kay Williams and Mrs. James Cape. Miss Molina won the attendance prize.

The group will meet again May 7 at the Holiday Inn.

BSSH Has Dance For Residents

Approximately 150 residents of Big Spring State Hospital attended an "April Fool" dance Friday evening at Big Spring State Hospital where music was provided by Glenn "Bottles" White and his band from Lamesa. Decorations were by Mrs. Dale White who created a festive air with the use of small tables, balloons and crepe paper. Numerous prizes were awarded to participants during the evening.

Hal McRae Shortens Swing, Gets 4 Hits

By The Associated Press

Kansas City's Hal McRae tried to send the ball careening into the stands whenever he stepped up to the plate. Unfortunately, his lusty swings were missing the target. Then he shortened his swing.

"I hit a couple of balls deep earlier in the spring and I got carried away," McRae recalled. "I guess I lost my head for a while."

McRae was advised to work on regaining his short stroke and he found it in time to wallop three doubles and a single, driving in three runs Monday as the Royals registered a 7-2 exhibition baseball victory Monday over the St. Louis Cardinals.

In other games Monday, Montreal whipped Boston 5-1, the Chicago White Sox defeated Texas 8-4, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 6-4, Oakland battered California 8-3, the Chicago Cubs clobbered Cleveland 15-2 and San Diego upended Milwaukee 5-3.

Elsewhere, Baltimore beat Atlanta 7-3, the New York Mets blanked the New York Yankees 5-0, Detroit triumphed over Cincinnati 4-1, Minnesota beat Houston 3-0 and San Francisco edged Los Angeles 3-2.

The Cubs smothered the Indians under a 22-hit onslaught but may have lost third baseman Ron Santo who was struck in the wrist by a pitch. Santo was taken to a hospital for X-rays but the results were not immediately known.

Detroit right-hander Joe Coleman and southpaw John Hiller combined for a three hitter and Al Kaline and Bill Freehan provided the Tigers' offensive punch with two hits each.

Dave Hilton lashed a two-run homer in the first inning that started the Padres en route to victory.

The Orioles scored three runs in the third inning off Gary Gentry, ending the Atlanta's hurler's 19-inning scoreless streak.

Jon Hart hit a two-out single in the bottom of the ninth as the Giants nipped the Dodgers behind pitcher Tom Bradley, who went the distance for Los Angeles.

Joe Decker led a trio of Minnesota pitchers who limited Houston to three singles as the Twins scored in the first on Gary Terrell's double, an error and sacrifice by Dan Monzon and added runs in the seventh and ninth innings.

Dal Maxvill spearheaded an 11-hit Oakland barrage by hitting three consecutive singles and driving in two runs.

John Jeter drove in four runs for the White Sox with two doubles and a sacrifice fly.

Veteran Bob Bailey hit his first homer of the exhibition season and rookie Pepe Magual cracked his fourth as the Expos took an early lead with single runs in four of the first six innings.

The Pirates stunned rookie righthander Larry Christenson for six runs and seven hits in the first three innings and then survived a Philadelphia rally highlighted by Greg Luzinski's solo homer.

John Milner and Wayne Garrett hit home runs in support of John Matlack's five-hit pitching as the Mets closed a two-game sweep over the Yankees.

OVER SAN DIEGO
Beaty Standout In Utah's Win

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars' Coach LaDell Andersen feels Monday night's first-round American Basketball Association victory over San Diego was more than a playoff triumph.

The 107-93 conquest was a confirmation of his long-held theory that a fast-breaking team is a winning team.

"Our win was just a case of a fast break and a good defense," the Stars' coach said following his team's first post-season game. "It's a ball-control game."

Veteran Zelmo Beaty did his share of controlling. The agile center pumped in 25 points and pulled down 14 rebounds, all on two of the weakest knees in pro basketball.

Teammate Ron Boone, a reserve guard through most of the season, hit 27 points for the game's scoring honors. Jimmy Jones added 19 for the Western Division champions.

Stew Johnson led the Conquistadors with 22 points and Chuck Williams had 20. Red Robbins dropped in 18 for San Diego.

The two teams play here again Wednesday night and then move to San Diego for games three and four on Saturday and Sunday.

The other ABA first-round playoffs swing back into action tonight. In the East Division, the Carolina Cougars face the Nets in New York and the Kentucky Colonels visit the Virginia Squires in Norfolk. In the West's other battle, the Denver Rockets host the defending ABA champion Indiana Pacers.

The National Basketball Association playoffs don't resume until Wednesday night when, in Eastern Conference play, the New York Knicks take their 2-0 lead into Baltimore against the Bullets and the Boston Celtics try to make it two in a row against the Hawks in Atlanta. In the Western Conference, the Milwaukee Bucks and Golden State Warriors, tied 1-1, play game No. 3 Thursday night in Oakland and, on Friday, the Los Angeles Lakers try to increase their 2-0 lead over the Bulls in Chicago.

A-B Handball Meet Slated

The A and B Division City Handball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday at the YMCA, with entry deadline Wednesday for anyone interested in competing.

Entry fee is $3.50. Handballers may register by calling 267-8234 or in person at the YMCA. Action will start at 5 p.m. Friday, and again at 9 a.m. Saturday. Finals will be played at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Tito Arencibia is the defending champion.

Mike Thomas won the C Division title last week and Bill Arencibia captured the Novice crown. Thomas defeated Skippy Eggleston 21-12, 21-14 in the finals, while Arencibia's victory was a 21-2, 21-9 triumph over Don Lovelady.

In the Class C consolation play, Gary Goswick defeated Kent Fish 21-11, 21-8 and Jim Bubela was the novice consolation winner by virtue of a 1-21, 21-10, 21-7 win over Jerry Hunter.

College Cagers Okayed For International Play

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's chances against the Soviet Union's basketball team zoomed Monday when the National Collegiate Athletic Association, under prodding by a House subcommittee, agreed to open the way for college players to participate.

The move means the U.S. team could obtain the services of all-America center Bill Walton and other top-notch underclassmen.

Walton's participation, however, still hinges on several factors, including a decision by the UCLA junior to play.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCAA, told the special House education subcommittee his organization would sanction the eight-game tour if the sponsors of the game, the Amateur Athletic Union, would apply for certification and the application meets all of the NCAA criteria.

An AAU spokesman, who was observing the hearing, immediately obtained an application. Byers said copies of the application would be distributed to the NCAA sanction committee and could be acted upon by Friday or Saturday.

Rep. John Dellenback, R-Ore., urged the NCAA to act with speed so that underclassmen, now barred from playing against the Russians, will be able to be selected.

Without NCAA certification, the U.S. team would be composed primarily of college seniors. Already selected for the squad are Steve Downing of Indiana; Ernie DiGregorio, Providence; Mike Edwards, Tennessee, and Doug Collins, Illinois State.

Site Of Super Bowl IX To Be Decided

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Selection of a site for Super Bowl IX occupied the National Football League club officials today, one day after the group decided to begin step to expand the 26-member league.

New Orleans, Miami and Los Angeles were scheduled to make a pitch for the 1975 post-season spectular between the two conference champions. Insiders indicated New Orleans, with a new stadium to open in 1974, had a slight edge in the selection.

Birmingham, Ala., and Jacksonville, Fla., were scheduled to make presentations for the 1975 Pro Bowl contest. But league officials said a decision on the site was not expected before Wednesday.

Pete Rozelle, league commissioner, who earlier Monday said expansion was being played down, announced later in the day he was forming a four-member committee to proceed "with deliberate speed."

Rozelle, establishing no specific timetable, said owners of the 26 clubs "generally were pro-expansion in a very healthy discussion."

He said the committee, to be named before the week-long meetings are completed, would develop criteria for a market research group and report to club owners at their meeting in New York in June.

Six Seeded Players See Action Today

HOUSTON (AP) — Second seeded Roger Taylor of England and five other seeded players were to see first round action today in the 39th annual River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

Taylor was to meet Fred Stolle of Australia in the feature match of the completion of the first round singles competition.

Eight singles matches were played Monday and all the favorites came through as expected.

First seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., defeated Ray Moore of South Africa, 7-6, 6-3 in top match of first day competition.

In other first day singles matches third seeded Brian Fairlie of New Zealand beat Ismail El Shafei of Egypt, 6-3, 6-1; fourth seeded Arthur Ashe beat Graham Stilwell of Great Britain, 7-5, 6-5; sixth seeded Tom Okker of the Netherlands defeated Jean Chanfreau of France, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4; seventh seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia beat Haroon Rahim of Pakistan, 6-2, 6-0; Vladmir Zednik of Czechoslovakia defeated Frantisek Pala of Czechoslovakia, 6-7, 7-6, 6-3; Jeff Borowiak of Tiburon, Calif., defeated Bob Carmichael of France, 2-6, 7-6, 6-3; and ninth seeded Dick Crealy of Australia defeated Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 6-3, 6-2.

Other seeded players scheduled to see action today include fifth seeded Mark Cox of England who meets Prenjit Lall of India; eighth seeded Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia who meets Owen Davidson of Houston; 10th seeded Alex Metreveli of Russia who plays Joaquin Loyo-Mayo of Mexico; 11th seeded Rosecoe Turner of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., who meets Pierre Barthes of France; and 12th seeded Tom Gorman of Seattle, Wash., who meets Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia.

Riessen had trouble with Moore in the first set which was determined by the tie breaker. He had little trouble in the second set as he broke away to a 4-1 lead and ran out the string to win the match and take the first step toward the $10,000 first place money.

"I've had a lot of trouble lately because I'm a little tired, more mentally than physically, I guess," Riessen said. "And this is our third different court surface in three weeks. We've been indoors, now we're outdoors and next we go back indoors."

Doubles play begins Wednesday with finals in both singles and doubles scheduled Sunday.

Brown Unsure About Plans

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) — Young Larry Brown, the American Basketball Association's Coach of the Year for the 1972-73 season, isn't sure he will continue as head coach of the Carolina Cougars.

"I didn't want to be a pro coach," Brown explained Monday after receiving the honor in his first season on the job. "I don't know if I'm in the right area. I always wanted to be a college coach."

The 32-year-old Brown, the youngest coach in pro basketball and in the midst of a "multi-year" contract with the Cougars, said he would not make a decision on his future until after the ABA playoffs.

Currently, Carolina, the ABA Eastern Division regular-season champion with a 57-27 record, and the New York Nets, fourth-place finishers with a 30-54 mark including only three victories in 11 games against the Cougars, are tied 1-1 in their best-of-seven opening-round series. They play game No. 3 tonight at the Nassau Coliseum.

Brown, an overwhelming winner of the Coach of the Year award, receiving eight of 10 votes from his colleagues, said, "It was something I didn't think about at the beginning of the season and something I didn't expect."

Virginia's Al Bianchi and Denver's Alex Hannum got the other votes.

Aronstein Enters Gym Competition

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Jay Aronstein of Pittsfield, a senior and co-captain of the University of Massachusetts gymnastic team, will compete on the still rings at the NCAA Gymnastic championships April 5-7 at the University of Oregon.

Coach Tom Dunn said Aronstein ranks among the top five collegiate performers in the nation on the basis of his dual meet and championship meet performances this season.

Nicklaus Overshadows Field, Chi Chi Says

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Little Chi Chi Rodriguez has no illusions about extending his winning streak to two with a victory in the famed Masters this weekend.

"Jack Nicklaus will be there," Chi Chi explained.

"When Jack takes a week off (as he did in the Greater Greensboro Open), it's anybody's tournament," Rodriguez said Monday after his one-stroke victory over Lou Graham and Ken Still.

"But Augusta National (the site of the Masters) was made for Jack Nicklaus and Jack Nicklaus was made for Augusta National."

RALLIES

The 37-year-old Rodriguez, down to a wiry 120 pounds because of a diet he "hopes will help me live to be 140 years old," came from two strokes off the pace with a five-under-par 66 in the rain-delayed final and picked up $42,000 for his seventh tour triumph in 14 years on the pro tour.

He had a 72 hole total of 267, 17 under par on the squishy, water-logged 7,021-yard Sedgefield Country Club course. Graham, who had a final 69, was one stroke away for the third week in a row. He tied at 268 with Ken Still, who bolted into contention with a last-round 64 that included 11 one-putt greens.

Rodriguez and the rest of the field that is eligible for the Masters were delayed one day in getting to Augusta, Ga.—where Nicklaus has been practicing for a week—by the rains that plagued the tournament, caused two postponements and left the course a soggy, gooey quagmire.

Rodriguez started the final round two strokes back of coleaders Graham and Billy Casper. Casper and Graham both encountered trouble on the front nine, despite rules that allowed all players to lift, clean and place the ball in the fairway and through the green, and Chi Chi stormed past them on a string of three consecutive birdies starting on the seventh hole.

TWO IN TIE

Behind Graham and Still came Casper and veteran Gay Brewer, tied at 270. Brewer, who has played extremely well this year and is a strong contender at Augusta, closed with a seven-under-par 64. Casper matched par 71.

Bobby Nichols was along at 271 with Doug Sanders, Rod Funseth and Lee Elder at 272. Elder needed to win to become the first black player to compete in the Masters. He once got within one stroke on the mild, windy final day, but finished with a 68 and so missed his chance at qualifying.

Sam Snead, who first won the Greensboro tournament in 1938, was among the leaders for the first three rounds but slipped back to par 71 and a tie for 12th at 274.

Still, the 60-year-old marvel beat Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino by two strokes. They tied at 276, Palmer with a closing 69 and Trevino 70.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Final scores and money winnings Monday in the $210,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament on the 7,021-yard, par-71 Sedgefield Country Club course (a-denotes amateur):

For What It's Worth

Jack Cowan

Here are a few notes, rich in cultural content, high in educational value, and possibly worthy of lining your canary cage . . .

* * *

Andrews golfers got the last laugh after all. A month or so ago when District 2-AAA play opened in Fort Stockton, two members of the favored AHS Mustang team were spotted dragging on a couple of cigarettes — presumably on the back side of the course. And of all the people to do the witnessing, it had to be the Fort Stockton coach.

Proclaiming himself judge, jury and executioner, the Panther boss levied a fine of 20 strokes on the Andrews No. 1 team — 10 shots a cigarette—and the Mustangs promptly found themselves 18 shots off the pace. Meanwhile, the ruling was appealed to the district committee, which took its time in worrying about it.

Fortunately for the Ponies, the No. 2 team is almost as good as the No. 1 boys and the AHS coach was able to shuffle his players in such a way that they weren't hurt too badly, and the tournaments went on.

Last week the district's superintendents met on the matter and deadlocked 3-3 on whether or not to rescind the penalty, so it was sent to the State University Interscholastic League. The UIL folks ruled that making up penalties on the spot like the Stockton coach did was a no-no, and recommended the district adopt a code of ethics or something equally harmless.

With the 20 strokes back the Mustangs' No. 1 group jumped from third to second for an Andrews sweep.

Hmmmm. Maybe smoking isn't that bad after all . . .

Speaking of golf, Howard County linkster Rick Cox had a good old time in my out-laws' hometown of Ballinger over the weekend.

Playing with Kyle Henry of San Angelo in the annual partnership event, he aced his very first shot of the tournament — a hole-in-one on a 275-yard par four. But that shook him up so badly he doubled-bogied the second hole. Then, angered by the double bogey, he scored an eagle on the third.

Then, possibly worried that such extreme strains might do untold damage to his heart and mental structure, he settled down and fired a sweet 68. He and Henry finished second in the tournament to a pair of Texas Tech golfers, Shane Fox and Steve Long.

* * *

Little Kathy Jones will probably be well-remembered by anyone who attended the Big Spring Jaycees' Permian Basin Belle Relays Saturday at Memorial Stadium.

The Baird sensation won all five events she entered and rolled up 50 points — the exact same thing she had done only the day before in Stephenville. She won the long and triple jumps, the 100-yard dash, the high jump and the 60-yard dash.

For some reason, however, she wasn't after any records, and did only what she had to in order to win. She high jumped 5-0, higher than anyone else, and quit when she got there. After sailing over 5-11 the day before, she could have easily crashed the 5-2½ relays record. It was the same thing in the triple jump. She took three preliminary jumps, the best a 34-9, and figured that was enough to win. So she passed up the other three.

Apparently, she wasn't interested in posterity or anything like that. Just medals and points. And she got plenty of both, as she finished fourth in the team standings. One thing about it though — she's only a junior and that means she'll be back next year.

Jayhawk Netters Contend In San Jacinto Tourney

PASADENA — The Howard County Junior College tennis team will be here Friday and Saturday for the annual San Jacinto Tennis Tournament. Manny Flores, Terry Wood, Jay Box and Bill Alcocer will make the trip with Coach Will Roan.

The team is in action this afternoon in a Western Conference match with Amarillo College. The Jayhawks owned a 12-0 league mark going into the affair.

The four Hawks entered the Central Texas College Tournament in Killeen last weekend, and scored several victories.

Flores, Wood and Box all had to win preliminary matches before gaining a spot in the first round, while Alcocer ran into CTC's Juan Ceron and lost in his first match.

Flores lost to Schreiner's Larry Ludwig 6-2, 6-1, Billy Moebes of Blinn stopped Wood 2-6, 2-1, 6-1 and Warren Woo of Schreiner whipped Box 0-6, 6-2, 7-5. Alcocer's score was 6-1, 6-2.

Alcocer teamed with Box in doubles, and the pair defeated Anthon and Adams of Schreiner 6-3, 6-1 before running into CTC's Juan and Paco Ceron in the second round. The Cerons survived three match points and scored a 6-3, 4-6, 7-6 decision.

In the other doubles action, Flores and Wood beat Moebes and Pozo of Blinn 6-1, 6-4 and then lost to Ali Khan and Asghar Abid of CTC 7-5, 6-3.

Boxing Takes Body Blow, Says Greene

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The commissioner of the World Boxing Association, Abe J. Greene, said Monday the greed of closed circuit television has dealt a crippling blow to live boxing matches.

"If the operators of closed circuit television would forsake momentary greed they could be thinking of new bonanzas for the future," Green said.

"It is high time the closed circuit television solons gave a thought to helping to build up the talent which will feed their own operations a year hence," he added. "Without making such preparations they'll ultimately find the talent cupboard will be bare."

Greene, who also is New Jersey Athletic Commissioner, challenged closed circuit promoters to pump some of their earnings into small fight clubs so that they can stage quality fights. He said the public gets shortchanged by big paydays for a few headline boxers while the rest of the sport languishes in red ink.

"Don't you think that closed circuit TV promoters should turn some of their money back into boxing to stimulate boxing development?" Greene asked a luncheon meeting of the New Jersey Boxing Writers' Association "Don't you think they might set up a fund of, say $1 million which should be allocated fo rhelping stage fights and develop talent?"

Lexington Wins AAU Cage Title

AFHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Lexington gained its first Men's AAU Basketball Championship with a 89-84 victory Monday night over Cincinnati.

Lexington was led by George Bryant, who scored 29 points. He was named the tournament's most valuable player. The former Eastern Kentucky University player averaged 34.2 points per game during the tourney.

The Armed Forces All Stars, champions for the past five years, took third place with a 112-85 victory over Tampa in Monday night's consolation game.

HOROSCOPE

CARROL RIGHTER

Wednesday, April 4, 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Unless very careful, you could become involved in an argument that would only leave scars. Avoid and discussions about money or material matters. Carefully study your expenses and assets, and devise a more suitable budget plan.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you plan your time wisely you are able to handle monetary affairs to your satisfaction. Forget a social matter if it's too expensive. Show that you have your feet squarely on the ground.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It would not be wise to find fault with a higher-up because you don't agree on a subject, so keep mum. Don't take any chances concerning a civic matter. Home is your best bet tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have some confidential matters to attend to and should do just that instead of going off on a tangent. Make intelligent plans for the future. Study plans most carefully. Relax tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Find a better way for taking care of promises you have made. Try not to quarrel with an associate or you could find trouble. Call a friend tonight who can be helpful to you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show more pride in your work. Carry through with what higher-ups expect of you and gain their goodwill. Several duties are not to your liking but they have to be performed. Take it easy tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Study new ways to get ahead in the future, and then everything works to your advantage. Newcomers you have met recently could get you in trouble, so avoid. Concern yourself with old friends.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) With bills to pay and other duties to perform, an early start on getting them behind you is wise. Don't pry into the affairs of others and you get along better. Strive for good health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Tell associates what you desire of them in a quiet and positive way, and gain their cooperation. Don't argue for best results. Most points can be studied carefully before taking action.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Give co-workers the benefit of any doubt and get along better with them. Try to understand their viewpoints better. The evening is particularly good for the social side of life.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to have entertainment that you enjoy provided you don't spent too much money. Try to express special talents, but don't force them. Show more devotion to mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try not to lose your temper at home and you avoid unfortunate circumstances. Eliminate whatever is causing friction. Don't forget to pay important bills. Take health treatment.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be particularly careful in travel and you can avoid accidents. Cut down on expenses instead of adding to them. You have to be more efficient in handling routines. Don't waste time.

Not Prepared For Transport Woes Raised By Grain Deal

HOUSTON (AP) — The new undersecretary of the Department of Transportation says his department was not prepared for transportation problems caused by the administration's grain deal with Russia.

"After three weeks, you are not an expert at it," Egil Krogh said Monday, indicating the time the White House has placed the grain movement problem in his department's lap.

CARS BACKED UP

Krogh was in Houston to address the 71st annual convention of the American Road Builders Association. Krogh said 53 ships were waiting to be loaded with grain in the Houston-Galveston area. He said this compares with 58 last week. Some 2,000 freight cars are backed up, he added.

Krogh said there may be ways to increased grain handling capacity or of routing cars more efficiently but he has not yet found the answer.

Ane he said he does not yet know who will pay for the solution to the problem once it has been found.

MORE GRAIN

He said his mission is to look at the immediate problem of getting more grain to Russia quicker and to the long range solution of such traffic problems.

In his speech before the road builders, Krogh explained the administration's decision to tap the Highway Trust Fund to aid urban transportation problems.

"We are asking the Congress to set aside $1.1 billion from the fund to be allocated to the nation's cities for use in helping these cities solve their urban transportation problems," he said.

CONGESTION

"A significant portion of these funds will continue to be spent on highways or highway related projects."

He said the emphasis on the administration plan for money from the highway fund will be on flexibility. He said the administration does not think the trust fund is sacred.

"Congestion is common to all our major cities," he said. "The suburban highways and the approaches to our cities are filled with bumper to bumper traffic and in all downtown sections this congestion has deteriorated into chaos."

Transfers Writer To Labor Camp

MOSCOW (AP) — Dissident sources say Soviet writer Vladimir Bukovsky has been transferred to a labor camp after completing two years in prison. He was sentenced last year to 12 years' detention.

Bukovsky, 30, was sentenced in January 1972 for "subverting Soviet authority." He previously spent three years in a labor camp and two in a prison psychiatric asylum for his political activities.

Urged To Snub President Thieu

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI has been urged by some Roman Catholic priests and laymen to snub President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam if he asks for a papal audience during his visit to Rome.

But the Vatican says that if an audience is requested it probably will be granted.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
4 ◇	Dble.	Pass	4 ♡
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: King of ◇

Altho North's double of West's preemptive four diamond bid is intended primarily for penalty, partner is permitted some latitude in leaving the double in.

South displayed good judgment in bidding four hearts for, with the favorable lie of the cards, West cannot be defeated on the deal. In fact, he can actually win 11 tricks, for North can do no more than cash out his two minor suit aces. If he does not take the ace of clubs promptly, West will be able to discard his two clubs eventually on his partner's long spades.

Against four hearts, West opened the king of diamonds and the ace was played from dummy. The ace of hearts was cashed and, when West showed out, discarding a diamond, East was revealed to hold a sure trump trick.

South's outlook was not very promising for, with two apparently inescapable losers in the red suits, he must hold his remaining loss to only one more trick.

A heart was led from dummy and when East played the nine, South covered with the jack to win the trick. The jack of clubs was put thru, West played the king and North the ace. Having overcome the first obstacle, South cashed his third high heart, the king, leaving the queen outstanding, and then proceeded to run the clubs. East followed for two more rounds; however, on the last club—the ten—he discarded a spade.

The moment of decision for South had arrived. He could lead a spade toward dummy's king, playing West for the ace. However, this prospect did not appear promising for, if West held that card in addition to the king of clubs and his diamond honors, he might have been expected to open the bidding with one diamond rather than make a preemptive call.

East's failure to ruff the fourth round of clubs provided further enlightenment to the declarer. It appeared to him that, if East had another diamond, it would have been routine for him to trump in and then return his partner's suit.

East's apparent reluctance to be on lead strongly suggested that he had no convenient exit once he was in. South, therefore, led a fourth round of hearts and awaited the result.

East won the trick with the queen of hearts and, having nothing left but spades, he could do no more than cash the ace of that suit, thereby establishing North's king for the fulfilling trick. South's losses on the deal consisted of one trick each in spades, hearts and diamonds.

Terrorists Kill, Rip Heart Of Town

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Terrorist gunmen killed one man during the night in Northern Ireland and devastated the heart of a country town with a bomb.

A man about 25 was shot in the head at close range, and his body was left in a ditch near Portavoge, a fishing village in County Down. It was the 756th confirmed death in the nearly four years of communal warfare.

About 100 pounds of gelignite exploded in the town of Dungiven, causing widespread damage on the main street and wounding three girls with shards of flying glass.

Police said a few minutes before the blast a caller claiming to be a member of the extremist Protestant Red Hand warned of the bomb, which was planted outside a tavern owned by a Roman Catholic in the preponderantly Catholic town.

In the Irish Republic, intelligence agents were investigating reports that 95 tons of arms and explosives for the Irish Republican Army were unloaded last week from the small freighter Claudia before the Irish Navy captured her off the southeast coast;

One of the ship's West German owners was quoted as saying Monday that the ship should have been carrying 100 tons of weapons for the IRA. The Irish government said it found only five tons.

Lennon Appeals Deportation Order

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Beatle John Lennon says he has appealed a federal deportation order.

Lennon's lawyer said Monday that if the appeal is turned down his client will take the case to other courts. He added, "It could take a number of years" before the case is finally decided.

Lennon had been given 60 days to leave the United States voluntarily or be deported as an undesirable alien. The order was issued on March 24.

The judge also found Lennon's Japanese wife, Yoko Ono, deportable, but granted her application to stay here as a permanent alien resident. Lennon's application was denied because he was arrested in England in 1968 on a charge of possessing hashish.

Job Prospects For College Grads Best In Four Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Job prospects for students who graduate from college this spring are the best in four years, but the future may continue to present problems, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education said today.

"Although the short-term crisis is phasing out, the long-run situation still deserves careful study," the commission said in releasing a new report on college graduates and the job market.

The report said the job market for college graduates in both 1972 and 1973 made it clear that the poor employment prospects facing college graduates in 1970 and 1971 were in large part associated with the economic recession of those years.

HEALTH CARE

But the impact of economic recovery could be blunted during the remainder of the decade by a surplus of college educated persons, if adjustments are not made, the commission said.

"The realistic problem for the 1970s may be the necessity for the absorption of some college-educated persons into jobs which have not been traditionally filled by persons with a college education," the commission said.

Assessing individual occupations in the 1970s, the commission said prospects for teachers and college faculty members were dim, while employment prospects were bright for health care personnel and managers generally. It also said employment opportunities for computer operators, office machine operators and recreation workers would go up steadily, and that prospects for engineers would go up and down.

BLACK WOMEN

The commission said that while job prospects for women would be reduced because of fewer teaching opportunities than in the past, they would be enhanced by more opportunities in health care.

"College-educated black women will be among the most favored prospective employes in all fields as employers seek to make adjustments to achieve greater representation of minorities on their payrolls," the commission added.

Official government predictions of major surpluses of college-educated persons, as well as the recent experience of college graduates searching for jobs have highlighted recent concern about the labor market prospects for college-educated persons.

Clark Kerr, chairman of the Carnegie Commission, said that between now and 1980 some 75 per cent of the college-educated persons entering the labor market would be filling positions vacated by other college-educated persons or would assume positions in expanding occupations that already have high demands for college-educated personnel.

Of the remaining 25 per cent, about half would find positions that have been or can be educationally upgraded to make use of a college education, he said. However, the other half would need to accept positions that do not lend themselves to such upgrading, Kerr said.

Alcohol Abuse Film Slated

Two films concerning alcohol abuse will be shown Wednesday at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The public is invited.

The films will be presented in Room 219 at 9 a.m. and at 1 p.m. One follows a man and his drinking problem from high school days through his business career.

The other emphasizes warning signs of approaching alcoholic problems.

Castration Of Rapists Remark Hasty

NEW YORK (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says his comment in South Africa suggesting castration as a punishment for convicted rapists was an "offhand, hasty, spontaneous remark...that I regretted almost as soon as I said it."

Graham's comment that convicted rapists "should be castrated — that would stop them," was made at a news conference in Johannesburg.

"I meant to come back to it before the conference was over and correct it but got sidetracked on other issues," he said in a statement issued Monday from his home in Montreat, N.C.

The evangelist returned Wednesday from a 10-day visit to South Africa in which he preached at the largest racially integrated rallies ever held in that country of mandatory racial segregation, or apartheid.

'ANTI-COMMUNISTS'

Kremlin Cracking Down On Jehovah's Witnesses

MOSCOW (AP) — A court in Lithuania has sentenced four Jehovah's Witnesses to five years in labor camps and five others to lesser terms.

The Witnesses were accused of building an underground organization, printing and disseminating anti-Soviet literature and urging disobedience of Soviet laws. Sovietskaya Litva, the newspaper of the Lithuanian Communist party, said the sect's literature and theological directives came from the headquarters of the Witnesses in Brooklyn, N. Y., headed by Nathan Homer Knorr. It called him a "reactionary anti-Communist."

'STRICT REGIME'

The paper said the Witnesses in the Soviet Union are headed by Wiljius Araijus, described as an elderly man. It reported a court in the Baltic port city of Klaipeda sentenced him and two associates to five years in "strict regime" labor camps and another person got five years in a less severe labor camp.

Two more Witnesses got two-year sentences, another got 2½ years, and two others were put on probation for three years.

The paper said Araijus organized secret groups of Witnesses in Lithuania, Latvia and around Leningrad and Kaliningrad.

Sovietskaya Litva said the Witnesses had a tightly organized, "multi-stage" leadership structure throughout the Soviet Union that was highly efficient in arranging secret meetings for Bible readings, smuggling pamphlets into the country and reproducing and distributing them.

'THE WATCHTOWER

The paper said a Witness in the town of Vaynod, Alexandra Gechaite, "set up a workshop" to reproduce the sect's magazine, "The Watchtower," and other Jehovist tracts.

"Those in Brooklyn employ any means to win supporters in our country and incite in them an anti-Soviet spirit," Sovietskaya Litva said.

The group's leaders urge their followers "to shun civic activities, not to observe Soviet laws, and they incite absurd inventions about the 'satanic' character of Soviet power," the paper continued.

Beating Death Charge Filed

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP) — Murder charges were on file here today against an escaped prisoner in connection with the beating death Saturday morning of a 40-year-old Longview, Tex., man.

Roland C. Lange was found beaten to death in a local motel room. He was a packaging engineer specialist for the Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co. on special assignment in Winston-Salem.

Richard Elmer Crisp, 30, was taken Monday to Forsyth County jail here and held without bond pending an April 11 preliminary hearing.

Police detective Capt. Joe E. Masten said Crisp escaped from the Moundsville, W.Va., prison while serving time for forgery.

Masten said Crisp and Lange had an argument over money at Lange's hotel room and a scuffle in which Lange sustained fatal head injuries followed.

Crisp was arrested in a downtown Charlotte motel restaurant.
