Hope to Get Record Amount In Victory Clothing Collection

The Victory Clothing Collection in Artesia and North Eddy County is now under way and it is hoped that a record amount of clothing will be assembled by Jan. 31. The campaign, of course, opened Monday, Jan. 7, and is to close on January 27.

A check-up on the progress of the drive will be made at 7 o'clock Friday night, Jan. 18, in the office of Judge J. D. Josey in the city hall. Judge Josey, who is general chairman, has sounded a plea for all of the members of the various committees to be present for this meeting.

He pointed out that this not only includes all present for the organization meeting held on Friday night, Jan. 4, but all who have been named by the various civic organizations of Artesia. Several of these were not present for the first meeting. Every civic organization, as well as community and church organizations in Artesia, were requested, he explained, to name a committee to serve. Many of these were present for the first meeting. Others failed to attend. He urged everyone to be in attendance for the meeting this week.

Mrs. Joe Nunn, who was named chairman of the arrangements committee, has announced that clothes depots in Artesia have been set up at the Alfalfa Growers Association, the J. C. Penney Company store, the city hall basement, and the Artesia Locker plant. Depots also have been set up at Hope, Cottonwood, and in Loco Hills, as well as at Dayton and Atoka. Others serving with Mrs. Nunn are Mrs. L. A. Hanson, Calvin Dunn, and Joe Phelan.

Clothes, of course, can be deposited at any one of the depots any time between now and the end of the campaign. The collection in Artesia has been definitely scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Jan. 26. This collection is slated to get under way at 1 o'clock that afternoon and it will be completed during the afternoon.

The present plans call for only one house-to-house collection. Anyone who is unable to leave his donation of clothes at one of the depots is requested to have it ready and waiting on the porch when the general collection over the entire city is made, it was explained.

In the national campaign, which is now under way, some 100,000,000 garments are being sought for the sufferers in the war-torn countries. In the campaign last spring a total of 25,000,000 garments were collected. Every type of clothing is needed including shoes, bed clothing, and especially clothes for babies and children, it was explained.

The complete list of the other committees named to serve include, publicity, A. L. Bert and Orville E. Priestley; advertising, A. P. Mahone, Hugh Kiddy, and Mrs. Frank Thomas; education, Rufus Stinnett, Mrs. J. H. Walker, Mrs. Fred Jacobs, and J. Bud Farrar; shipping committee, Mrs. J. W. Schildneck and E. M. Perry.

Judge Josey announced that several other members of the shipping committee would be named to aid and assist in the preparing of the boxes of clothing for shipment.

The plea for all merchants and business people to save their cardboard boxes continued to be sounded this week. Not only were merchants requested to save their cardboard cartons but they were also urged to employ care in the opening of the boxes in order that they can be used to pack clothing in the clothing drive.

Only the larger boxes are to be used, it was explained, if a sufficient number of these can be secured.

Packing of the clothing will probably get under way on Monday, Jan. 28, or on Monday following the house-to-house collection here Saturday afternoon, Jan. 26.

The boxes are to be collected and taken to the basement of the city hall where the packing will be done.

Would Budget $8000 For Civic Promotion

Artesia will not only continue to have a Chamber of Commerce but with a full time experienced secretary and with ample funds to carry on Chamber of Commerce work if the plans discussed at the regular monthly meeting of the organization are carried out here.

Although attendance for the January luncheon of the organization Thursday noon on the Roof Garden was small those present indicated they not only favored an organization but proposed a budget of $7500 to $8000 in order to provide the working fund for the civic program.

The group also voted in favor of continuing the monthly luncheons and of an active campaign not only to secure more members but to secure an increase in the present dues of Chamber of Commerce members.

President Artie McAnally, who presided for his first meeting following his election, gave a brief report on the recent election of directors and officers. He then explained to the group that a definite decision should be reached regarding the organization and the kind of an organization that Artesia desires.

Two different plans were submitted concerning dues. One proposal called for the securing of members and pledges. Another idea advanced called for an effort to collect the year's dues now and to create the fund in the bank. This, it was pointed out, not only provided the money on which to operate but it also eliminated the necessity of making collections and gave the secretary and office help more time to devote to civic problems.

Past President Ralph Petty expressed the belief that Artesia was not ready for a Chamber of Commerce with ample funds to carry on all civic work. And he stated that unless ample funds are provided there is little use to continue.

It is expected that an active campaign will be launched here by committees in the near future to secure additional members, increased dues to get the organization ready to tackle civic problems, which confront the community.

The next regular monthly luncheon will be held Thursday noon, Feb. 14, on the Roof Garden of the Artesia Hotel.

Those present voiced the opinion that the budget would have to be increased to employ an experienced secretary and to provide additional office help as well as the necessary working funds.

Several suggestions and ideas to do this were presented by Wesley Sperry, Mayor Emery Carper, Charles Gaskins, J. D. Smith and others. The entire membership present appeared agreed that it would require a substantial salary to employ an experienced secretary and that additional funds would have to be provided to employ an office assistant and to provide money for the various civic projects.

President McAnally said the board of directors would discuss all phases of the program and endeavor to carry out the wishes of the group.

Arba Green, who recently resigned as secretary-manager but who is continuing until a secretary is hired, gave a report on the finances of the organization. He stated there was approximately 117 members paying dues into the organization and that about $3000 was collected in dues the past year.

March Of Dimes' To Raise Paralysis Fund

alph Hayes and D. D. Archer have been appointed codirectors of the "March of Dimes" committee in North Eddy County, to lead community in its part of the annual drive to raise funds for the fight on infantile paralysis, which opened Monday and will continue through Thursday, Jan. 14.

The appointment was made by Irwin F. Murphy of Carlsbad, county chairman.

A proclamation issued by Mayor Emery Carper, he urged all to cooperate in the campaign and to deposit gifts in collection boxes being set up by the directors and their committee. Hayes and Archer said that as former years, half of all the money collected in the county will go here to finance the hospitalization, care, and treatment of local sufferers. The other half goes to headquarters of the National Foundation and is used for financing research, education and emergency aid in epidemics throughout the nation.

In the past, "March of Dimes" coin collection boxes will be placed at convenient spots throughout North Eddy County and coin cards will be distributed.

In the light of widespread public knowledge of the National Foundation's tremendous achievements in recent epidemic years, the codirectors said, the local appeal committee is expecting a greater response this year than ever before.

"The North Eddy County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is arming now, against the possibility of an outbreak in the summer ahead," Hayes said. "They must have the necessary funds to help our health officials, physicians, and hospitals provide the finest available care and treatment for infantile paralysis patients."

Archer pointed out that when a polio outbreak occurs, no one knows how much special equipment and appliances, or how many physical therapists and nurses, may be needed.

WHEREAS, the disease of infantile paralysis rages in many cities of our nation every year, leaving in its wake, hundreds, even thousands, of stricken men, women, and children, many of them crippled for life, and

WHEREAS, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, by assuring care and treatment for all victims of poliomyelitis and by carrying on its great program of research for the prevention and possible cure of this virulent disease, has earned the overwhelming gratitude of the American people, and

WHEREAS, the "March of Dimes," conducted annually by the National Foundation will be held January 14 to 31.

THEREFORE, be it resolved that all citizens are urged to cooperate with the "March of Dimes" in Artesia, to deposit their gifts in collection boxes set up by the Committee or send them to: March of Dimes, Ralph Hayes or D. D. Archer, local codirectors, Artesia.

You'll Pay for It

REGARDLESS OF WHAT HAPPENS in the many strikes over the nation; regardless of how they are settled; the increases given; and the contracts — the public will pay the bill. Those increases in wages are going to come out of the buyers' pockets — that not only applies to those who are engaged in the strike and seeking more wages — but it applies to every citizen, who buys the products of that plant where the strike has been called.

It will not only cost more money in order to get the product produced and that will mean a higher price will have to be paid for the product but the cost of the present delay in reconversion costs everyone as has been recently pointed out.

Whether the demand of 30 per cent in wages is granted or whether there is a compromise on this angle, the public will pay the bill.

And this increase in pay and an increased price for a product is a rather vicious circle. We may receive more money for what we do but when we pay more money for what we get — then it all comes out the same. The result is that we do not have any more money to spend for other things than we had before.

In other words, we have not accomplished a single thing after all is said and done. And we pay the bill, the taxpayers and citizens, whether it is increased spending on the part of the government for the articles they need or buy or whether it is increased cost for the things the public buys.

The handling of labor and labor situations is one of the matters, which the American Democracy has not learned to handle as yet. There doubtless is a solution — one, which we must learn to find. But such a solution can not be dictated; it can not be secured by demands; it can not be obtained with the government taking sides. During the last five to ten years the government has been on the side of labor and arrayed against management.

Legislation and laws, which denied management certain rights and privileges and yet guaranteed these to labor, have been placed on the statute books.

It seems to us it is time for government to wipe the slate clean on labor legislation, back up as far as necessary, take a running start with a neutral position in mind at all times and adopt that legislation, which they need.

Such a position would be for the good of the greatest number — the American people not involved in plant management and not involved in labor unions or strikes.

After all, they deserve consideration too. It is their government. And we are firmly convinced that the American government should not permit or tolerate anything on the part of management or labor, which interferes with the rights, liberties and privileges of the American people.

After all — the public, the American taxpayers, foot the bill and pay the cost. There are far more of these than those involved in strike or plant management. They are in the vast majority, their rights and liberties need a little more consideration than has been extended to them under the New Deal administration. — O. E. P.

Signs of Progress

IN THE PAST 30 DAYS two frame buildings on Main Street have been moved.

Both have been removed from Main Street in order to make room for progress and improvement.

One of these was the building located just east of the city hall, a frame and sheet metal structure. It was moved to make room for the new $100,000 theater to be erected this spring.

The other building, located on West Main Street, was removed last week to provide room for the building now under way to house the new men's clothing store.

Not only have two frame structures been removed from Main Street, but there are under construction on this Main Street two new modern tile, brick and concrete brick structures but one other is to be started in the immediate future. The theater, the fourth, is to be started this spring.

One new concrete structure, the Artesia Electric Company building, has been erected in the past six months; several structures have been modernized and a number of other jobs are being contemplated.

Buildings under construction will take care of some of the present needs but other buildings are needed. A building could be erected on all of the vacant lots between the Santa Fe Railway and Sixth Street and yet there would be even a greater demand for buildings than the number that could be provided.

These are merely signs of the times—signs of progress.—O. E. P.

We'll Determine

FOR YEARS ARTESIA has sat back with a small Chamber of Commerce limited in the funds for operation purpose and limited in the number of civic workers active in the organization.

And for years we have pondered what neighboring cities with active and alert Chambers of Commerce have done or are doing. We have complained when we failed because we hadn't made the effort when they have won because they put forth everything necessary to accomplish their goal and objective.

Artesia has grown from a small village into a town. And from a town into a city.

It has arrived at the stage where we go forward with civic organizations working and striving to bring the improvements we need or we go backwards.

Today the situation is clear. Our course will be one that we determine.

Whether we have an active, alert Chamber of Commerce with an experienced and qualified secretary-manager with ample funds on which to operate and do things will depend directly on us.

The officers and members of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce are urging those, who must foot the bill, to make the decision. They are being requested to advise what kind of an organization they want; what price Chamber of Commerce activities they want; what they will put into such a movement not only of their means but of themselves.

And whether we have the kind of a Chamber of Commerce and the kind of an active manager working for the progress, advancement, growth and expansion of our city is going to depend on us — the citizens, business and professional people of Artesia.

We will only have that which we create by our energy and efforts and with our money.—O. E. P.

Do Unto Others

NOTHING WAS TOO GOOD for the survivors of Bataan's death march when they came out of their Japanese prison camps, and nothing is too good for them today, for they have earned the undying gratitude of their fellow Americans.

The starved, maltreated prisoners, who had been heroes in defeat became the object of the nation's care.

Had they become cut off from our aid and become dependent upon our allies for the food and clothing at the time of their liberation from the Japs, we would have expected that they would have been accorded similar treatment — the best possible, at least as good as our allies gave their own soldiers. Had our allies done less, international friendships might have become strained.

But the United States is doing much less for the heroes of Europe's death march, the millions of men, women, and children who survived a terror comparable to that suffered by the Men of Bataan. They must look to the United States for food and clothing to rebuild and protect their emaciated bodies.

Faced with that responsibility, there should be no doubt as to the outcome of the Victory Clothing Collection. There should be no hesitancy on the part of anyone as to what to do with a particular garment, which is on the borderline of usefulness to the individual; it should be given.

We should do unto these suffering millions as we would have had done unto our Men of Bataan, had the responsibility rested in the hands of our allies.—A. L. B.

Artesia Needs

SLOWLY BUT SURELY Artesia's needs in the way of professional men is being met and filled.

For instance, Artesia during the war years has had three attorneys. They did the job but they worked long hours to do it. Now Artesia has four and in the near future is to have a fifth attorney here.

Artesia has need for other professional men—professional men in order that it will not be necessary to drive 75 to 100 miles to secure this service.

Artesia certainly needs in the medical field a good eye, ear, nose and throat man. She has needed one for a good many years. Local doctors, physicians and surgeons usually recommend one in a nearby city.

The city certainly needs a good veterinarian available here at all times for the stockmen and for the stock owners and breeders.

Certainly there is need for experts in several other lines. The obtaining and securing of cabinet work and planing mill work is a difficult task. There is a field here for that product.

There seems to be little question but that there is a place for a brick and tile plant.

There are those seeking desirable locations. There are those seeking such places as Artesia where they can develop a fine practice or a fine business in an ideal climate and a real little city.

It is up to us in Artesia to sell the professional men and the business people we need to round out our requirements as a thriving and prosperous city.—O. E. P.

Takes Leadership

LEADERSHIP IS REQUIRED in the development, growth and expansion of any community.

Artesia is no exception to the rule. There are in Artesia scores of individuals vitally interested in the future growth of this city. There are many individuals willing to do all they can to help develop Artesia into the city it can and will become.

Leadership is never too plentiful. Either the community is not blessed with those with civic leadership, or those, who possess it are not in clined to use it for their community or they haven't the time.

But the way must be shown in all communities for the progress the community desires to enjoy to prevail.

This progressive spirit and leadership must be displayed in the city governing body; the Chamber of Commerce; the civic clubs and all other community organizations.

Communities must have leaders with courage, vision, far-sightedness and who possess faith.

More progress has been blocked in towns and cities over the nation by a pessimistic attitude or an attitude based on fear than any other one thing.

It is those individuals who possess faith and courage, who show the way; provide the necessary leadership; and who help communities to grow, progress and expand.

Yet the fact remains that an employee has sold his or her time. The employer has bought it and is paying for it. So they owe this time to the employer. In the second place it is rather amazing just how much of a morning or an afternoon can be spent in going after a drink; visiting with one or a half dozen friends, who drop in and answering a few personal phone calls. It can take an hour or these interruptions can cost 30 minutes to an hour a day. An hour a day is six hours a week or almost an eight hour day. And the press of work; the effort, which is going to be necessary to be put forth during the coming months is not going to afford time for personal and private affairs during business hours. Employees, who follow this practice or permit to be done, aren't being fair to their employer.

Friends and relatives, who bother calling the employe on personal and private affairs or drop by to interrupt them for personal and social reasons aren't being fair to the employe. The future isn't going to afford time for these things. And employers, judging from comment being heard aren't going to tolerate such practices. They have had to stand for this and many other things they did not like in the past three or four years. They had to stand it because they couldn't replace the employe. But those days are slowly disappearing. In the future the employe, who does his or her job; halts personal visits and personal telephone calls while on the job is going to receive the best jobs; the best pay; and the promotions.

When people lack leadership with vision, courage and faith and when their hearts are filled with fear — they do not go forward.

ation, points out. Curtailed production of cotton, leading source of protein feed for the Cotton Belt and Western range areas, is a major cause of the critical scarcity of cottonseed meal and cake facing livestock producers at this time, Ward said. He cited Department of Agriculture reports estimating the 1945 cottonseed production at 3,703,000 tons, 24 per cent below the year prior and 28 per cent below the 10-year average. The indicated crop is the smallest since 1896 with the exception of 1921.

"For three seasons, cotton oil mills have been importing soybeans from the Corn Belt to make up the deficiency of protein resulting from reduced cotton production and increased livestock production and feeding," Ward said. "However, we cannot expect other regions, also large livestock producers, to grow the feeds our Cotton Belt livestock need.

"Sound livestock production and balanced farming both require increased feed production in the Cotton Belt, and cotton, supplying cottonseed meal, cake and hulls, is the key crop in our livestock and balanced farming programs. Livestock producers and businessmen, as well as cotton farmers, have a big stake in seeing that more cotton and cottonseed are produced in 1946."

"HIT-RUN" DRIVER MUST LOSE LICENSE A "hit and run" charge constitutes a charge of failing to stop after an accident and disclose the identity of the driver, Attorney General C. C. McCulloch held.

In an opinion for Jess Mitchell, director of the Drivers' License Division of the Bureau of Revenue, McCulloch said the two charges are synonymous and that the law requires revocation of the license of the person convicted of such a charge.

Mitchell asked the opinion after, he said, a person in Clovis was charged and convicted of a "hit and run" violation but was allowed by the judge to retain his drivers' license.

Up and Down Main Street

TAKE HUSTLING UP AND DOWN MAIN REQUIRE TIME

Many of our customs and practices, which we have enjoyed, permitted to prevail and which have existed in the past four years are slowly going to disappear during the coming months. They are going to have to be discontinued because in the near future everyone is going to have to settle back down to business and to hustling for the business which they enjoy. The days of selling are going to return. It is going to require effort. It has been a buying period, which has ruled with plenty of money circulating. No selling was required. And as we settle back down to normal, routine and to hustling once again it will take more effort, more time, and less interference. Many complaints have been heard and are continuing to be heard over the city about employes being stopped during their working hours by visits of members of their families, by friends, relatives and others while they are at work. Many complaints are being registered about telephone calls, personal calls, over business phones from friends or relatives of the individual's families. The employers complain that these phone calls not only tie up their phone which is for business only but they complain about the interruptions in the employes work. They have to stop their work; they are interrupted in their work; it all causes delays and costs time, which has been bought and is being paid for by the employer. Other practices, which are ruling and have ruled, which interfere with production, will have to be halted in the days to come.

Clothing Will Admit One to Movie Jan. 18

A free movie, part of the Victory Clothing Collection campaign here, will be presented at the Valley Theater at 4:30 o'clock on Monday, Jan. 18. It has been announced by Ray Bartlett.

Admission for the feature picture, "The Frontier Gal," all technicolor Western special, will be five garments for the collection.

Besides the Western special, a short film feature, "UNRRA Reports to the U.S.A." will be shown. It is being distributed by the War Activities Committee of the Motion Picture Industry.

The film has footage showing shipment and distribution of clothing contributed by the American people in the United National Clothing Collection of last April.

A record amount of clothing was given in payment for admission to the show last April. It is hoped and expected that even a large amount of clothing will be donated this time.

FCC Assigns to New Mexico 20 Frequency Modulation Channels

The Federal Communications Commission has tentatively assigned 20 frequency modulation radio channels to New Mexico.

Four channels were assigned to Albuquerque, and two each to Carlsbad, Clovis, Gallup, Hobbs, Las Vegas, Roswell, Santa Fe, and Tucumcari.

The assignment was made in a plan for FM channel allocations which would provide the country with approximately 1500 of the static-free stations.

Generally the number of FM channels assigned on a preliminary basis to each area exceeds the number of broadcast stations by 50 to 100 per cent.

The tentative allocations do not include 10 so-called community channels. The community channels may provide as many as five additional stations in some areas. These stations will have a maximum power of 250 watts and limited range.

While the tentative pattern sets out the number of channels each area is entitled to, the commission explained that it will merely serve as a guide in passing up FM applications.

In some instances, the commission said, the number of channels appears insufficient for probable needs. "When the demand grows in these areas," the commission said, "it is usually possible to re-allocate channels from adjacent areas where the demand is less and where service may already be sufficient."

CAA Inspector Al Meyers will be in Artesia Friday, Jan. 18, to give written examinations, or issue commercial licenses to former Army pilots.

Sig Iverson of the Iverson Tool Company and guests flew into Artesia Saturday in the Iverson Tool Company twin-engine Cessna from Fort Worth. Iverson is well known in Artesia.

Very little flying was done in Artesia this past week because of high winds and cold weather, two unfavorable conditions for flying.

Mrs. Oscar (Lindy) Samelson has begun in earnest to work on her private license. Others nearing the goal are Britton Coll, Willard Bradshaw, the Rev. R. L. Franks, S. S. Sutton, and Clare Meisinger.

The Ecouper for which Burle Hazel is the dealer in Artesia, was demonstrated Tuesday of last week at the municipal airport. It was the new 1946 model. Pilots who flew the ship were Scratchy Rideout, the Rev. R. L. Franks, Dr. Pete Starr, Sug Hazel and Burle Hazel. The coming of the demonstrator was not known prior to its arrival in Artesia, where, after it was flown over town several times, a number of people came out to look at it.

A new member of the staff of Hazel Flying Service, municipal airport, is Robert Ehle, who comes to New Mexico from Anitowoc, Wis., to take over the mechanical work at the municipal airport. Ehle has worked for several years as an A. & E. mechanic and has experience on both large and small-type aircraft.

The Rev. R. L. Franks, the flying preacher, dropped posters of the coming revival of his church, the Assembly of God, over town Tuesday of last week. He is becoming an accomplished pilot.

All pilots and student pilots are invited to attend the free ground school given at 7:30 o'clock Thursday nights at the municipal airport. Subjects to be covered are Civil Air regulations, meteorology, aircraft maintenance, and navigation. This class will be held every Thursday night until the courses have been completed.

The Livermore Oil Company Fairchild 165 was weathered in Artesia last Thursday night.

The pilot had been weathered in at El Paso three days. His home is Lubbock.

Morgan Nelson of Roswell was a guest at the Municipal airport Friday. Nelson has taken over the farm formerly managed by Mervin Worley on the Cottonwood. This farm has a fine airport adjoining it. Nelson placed his order with Sug Hazel for a new 100-horsepower Piper cruiser. His parting remark was that since he had an airport, he simply had to have an airplane.

There will be no more "ride 'em cowboy" horseback riding in the Chicago city and Cook County forest preserves. The county commissioners, aiming to halt the practice of "Wild West" riding, have ruled that a rider will have to own a license and he must be astride a duly licensed horse. Furthermore, his license may be revoked for from 30 days to a year if he gallops through preserves, heedless of hikers and pedestrians.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given that the City of Artesia, New Mexico proposes to sell, subject to the provisions of law, the South 100 feet of the North Half of Block 22 in the Original Town (now City) of Artesia, together with the building thereon known as the old library building.

The City Council will receive bids for said real estate up to February 5, 1946, which bids will be opened at the next regular meeting of the City Council held thereafter. The City Council reserves the right to reject any and all bids. If any bid is accepted, the bidder will be required to enter into an agreement with the City and post a forfeit of 10% of the amount of the bid and to pay the purchase price in cash upon approval of the title and expiration of the publication time. The agreement upon the part of the City to sell said property will be conditioned that there will be no protests filed which would prevent said sale under the provisions of law with respect to the sale of property owned by municipalities.

Dated this 10th day of January, 1946.

T. H. Ragsdale,
City Clerk 3-1tc

MORE PRECIOUS THAN SILVER OR GOLD

American consumers, who sometimes find it hard to imagine the meaning of hunger, will be interested in learning why coal production in North China has nearly doubled during the past month. Officials say the sudden spurt is directly due to the arrival of flour for distribution by UNRRA. Promise of payment in the much-needed white flour attracted many of the workers back to the mines.

FATS SHORTAGE CONTINUES

Reserve stocks of fats and oils this fall were at their lowest point since 1938, with little prospect of an improvement in the situation before 1947. By Oct. 1, factory and warehouse stocks totaled a fourth less than a year prior.

FREEDOM!

to Fend for Herself...

WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT SHE CAN WEAR?

THIS LITTLE GIRL is free—to fend for herself! Free—to face a multitude of problems.

Her problems are the world's problems. Let's face them! For instance, let's face the desperate need for clothing now in Europe and Asia.

Goal of the Victory Clothing Collection is 100,000,000 garments, plus shoes and bedding. If your contribution seems negligible, bear this in mind: Every garment you give means one more human being saved from cold or sickness or possibly death.

About 25,000,000 people overseas received clothing collected from Americans last spring. But for every person clothed so far, a dozen more remain virtually threadbare. Your spare clothing will be distributed free, without discrimination, to victims of Nazi and Jap oppression in Europe, the Philippines, and the Far East.

In most any town or city overseas there is someone who can translate English. You can help build international friendship by writing a simple, friendly letter to pin to the clothing you contribute.

Dig into your attics, trunks, and closets today. Dig out all the clothing you can spare. Take it to your local collection depot now.

What YOU Can Do!

- 1 Get together all the clothing you can spare.
- 2 Take it to your local collection depot immediately.
- 3 Volunteer some spare time to your local committee.

Dig Out Your Spare Clothing TODAY!

Karakul Sheep, Oddities, Moved Here from Hills

The first flock of Karakul sheep ever brought to the Pecos Valley, and one of the few flocks in the United States, is being fed at the Bullock feed pens north of Artesia, where they were trucked Jan. 6 from the Sacramento Mountains because of heavy snow.

The flock of 42 ewes and three bucks and a number of lambs—the ewes had started lambing when they were moved—belongs to Gene Boans of Burnett Canyon, north of Mayhill, where he placed them a number of months ago.

They were moved out by Boans and his brothers, John and Ed Boans of Artesia, over mountain roads covered with two feet of snow. John Boans said it snowed a little Friday and then started snowing hard about 9 o'clock Saturday, Jan. 3, and continued all through Sunday. It was still snowing that evening when they came out of the mountains, he said.

Karakul sheep are native to Bokhara, Asia, where they roam the desert. The first were introduced into the United States in 1908. Today there are only a few thousand of them in this country and the Boans flock is one of several in this section of the country.

From the first shearing of the black, heavy-haired Karakul sheep in his flock last fall, Boans had blankets custom made, a number of which were bought by Artesia people. They are light in weight, but very warm. He plans to build up the flock, which will be moved back to the mountains in the spring.

The odd-looking sheep, unknown to most people, may be seen at the Bullock pens.

Prisoner of War Camp At Artesia Is in Process Deactivation

Work of moving from the Artesia Prisoner of War Camp started Friday, for deactivation of the establishment here. In recent weeks there had been only about a hundred prisoners here.

Of them about half were moved to the Roswell Prisoner of War Camp and the remainder were left here to tear down the barricade and clean the barracks.

DUCK SEASON IS TO CLOSE SUNDAY, JAN. 20

Mrs. Keith Edward of Hatch, N. M., who spent several days visiting her sister, Mrs. Ivan Glose, returned to her home Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. C. D. Ham of Waco, Tex., who spent three weeks visiting her daughter, Mrs. Grant Uhl, has returned home.

Mrs. B. F. Wooden and Miss Carrie V. Wooden, mother and sister of Mrs. C. C. Harris, arrived Sunday evening from Sapulpa, Okla., for a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Harris and daughter, Patty.

Rev. Tuttle Is New Pastor of Christian Church

The congregation of the First Christian Church of Artesia on Sunday issued a call to the Rev. Kenneth H. Tuttle of Fort Morgan, Colo., and he has accepted the local pastorate.

The Rev. Mr. Tuttle, who was heard from the pulpit of the First Christian Church here Sunday, Jan. 6, is expected to be here for the first Sunday in February.

In the meantime, Sam Stewart, lay preacher, will be in charge of the services on Jan. 20 and 27.

The church has had no regular pastor since last July, when the Rev. Kenneth Hess resigned here.

Since then and until Mr. Stewart returned from service in the Army, Aubrey B. Gregg of Roswell, lay preacher, supplied in the Artesia church.

The Rev. Mr. Tuttle is married and has two young children. He received his master's degree at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa. He has held a pastorate at Fort Morgan the last two years, prior to which he was at Topeka, Kan., two years.

The new pastor comes here highly recommended by the state secretary, the Rev. C. C. Dobbs of Denver.
