Wind-Swept Blaze Destroys Grain Elevator Wednesday

BLAZE DESTROYS ELEVATOR

Roaring blaze demolished the elevator at Hart Grain early Wednesday morning. Firemen were able to contain the blaze to the one structure. Damage costs were not available at presstime. In the picture foreground, firemen are shown moving a truck with a pickup. The truck, parked for the evening, was standing too close to the fire for safety. Olton volunteer firemen joined Hart, Dimmitt and Plainview departments in fighting the blaze. (STAFF PHOTO)

Heavy Damages To Tanks, Grain

A portion of Hart Grain Co. was destroyed by raging fire early Wednesday morning.

The first building constructed for Hart Grain, an iron clad elevator, was reduced to smoldering embers. Firemen from four towns were helpless against a 30-mile-per-hour wind. Nothing in the structure was salvagable.

Two steel tanks adjoining the elevator were also heavily damaged. And, at presstime, it was believed the 28,000 bushels of maize stored in them were in the same condition.

Elevator co-owner Roy Burrus said he guessed the grain in the two tanks would be damaged about 50 cents per hundred-weight. Burrus said the amount was only a guess, however, because the insurance adjuster from Amarillo had not yet arrived.

"All grain was insured at full market value," Burrus stated. He also said the elevator was insured to the maximum, $20,000, but figured the amount would fall about $10,000 short of completely replacing the structure, which was constructed in 1947.

He estimated damages to the steel tanks would run about $5,000. "Some of the steel sections will have to be replaced," he said. The tank on the east side of the elevator was damaged heavily. Its side was wrinkled and the tank leaned toward its weaker wall.

Firemen Arrive

Volunteer firemen of Hart were on the scene when Olton Volunteer Fire Department arrived. The latter was closely followed by the departments of Dimmitt and Plainview.

So strong was the northern wind, firemen were unable to effect the blazes until the structure was lying on the ground.

The firemen were also hampered by hose splitting. Hose was strung from the fire site down the highway to the Panhandle Compress well. Sections of hose would break under pressure, and have to be replaced.

All but the Hart department left Hart about 5 AM. The siren sounded in Olton about 1 AM.

The incident was the fourth such elevator fire at Hart. Farmers Grain was leveled about six years ago. That fire started about middle of the afternoon, however.

The Wednesday morning blaze was also the third major fire in or around Hart since the city's recent purchase of its first fire engine. The others were a grocery store fire and hay barn fire, which lasted about two days.

Fire Discovered

Workmen were turning grain when the initial blaze was discovered. Burrus said the men picked up the cover to the boot pit to see the fire well underway. It quickly spread throughout the wood and tin structure.

The elevator had contained about 12,000 bushels of maize and costly machinery.

It did not however, house the very expensive grain dryer purchased about two years ago. It is located in the steel house on the east end of the bins.

Shortly before noon yesterday, Burrus said a "little bit of fire was still burning in the steel tank on the west side of the burned elevator".

Hart firemen carried buckets to the top of the east row of grain bins to extinguish a blaze in the cat walk house before the sun came up yesterday. After it became light, they pulled hose atop the west row to put out a similar fire.

Catholic Church Dedicated Sunday

Between 300 and 350 attended the dedication of Olton's first Catholic Church Sunday afternoon. It has been named St. Peter's Catholic Church.

Presiding was the Most Reverend John L. Morkovsky, Bishop of Amarillo. Mass was offered by Msgr. W. F. Bosen of Nazareth.

Pastor of the Olton church is Father Norbert F. Wagner, pastor of the Sacred Heart Church of Littlefield. St. Peter's Church is a mission of the Littlefield parish.

Mass will be held Sunday, December 21, at 5 PM. Christmas Day mass will be staged at 11 AM. St. Peter's Catholic Church is located in the 200 block of East 11th Street.

DEDICATION SERVICE

LAST MINUTE ORDERS PLACED

Small Dwelling Has Ideal Floor-Plan, Well-Used Space, Step-Saving Convenience, Cheerful Colors

By SUE MAY

Just the house plan for a young family and easy-to-care-for materials . . . the R. V. Allcorn home is so conveniently arranged and planned around their family's needs that it is remarkable.

Gayle and R. V. have two small children, Bryan, their 2½ year old son, and Brynea, their 6 month old daughter.

The Allcorn home, located southeast of Olton on the Eby farm, has taupe colored walls and ceilings throughout the house. This simplicity in house color gives a feeling of warmth and ties the entire house together attractively.

The living room and kitchen-dining room are combined in one large room. Two room-dividers separate the living room from the kitchen. One divider makes a snack bar on the kitchen side and a magazine rack on the living room side.

The curtains that drape the high windows in the living room are sheer and almost the same shade as the walls. The gray cotton shag carpet is wall to wall in the living room side—it stops abruptly at the two room dividers before entering the kitchen.

The aqua and pink upholstery looks lovely with the blonde woodwork and Gayle's pride and joy is a huge "room closet" at the back of the living room. The blonde wood paneling on the closet wall in the living room, looks like one straight sheet of paneling, however it opens with a push, to show the "room closet".

The kitchen is a "dream"—with its pebble floor covering; its gorgeous blonde cabinets trimmed in hammered aluminum and built-in china cabinet; and its high-wide picture window by the dinette.

The cabinets curve around two walls and have a corner sink.

A wide opening leads from the kitchen into the utility room and the hall. The utility room sports a pantry, broom closet, storage closets, washer and dryer and a antique-looking desk, painted aqua and trimmed in gold.

The hall, utility and nursery are covered in the pebble linoleum.

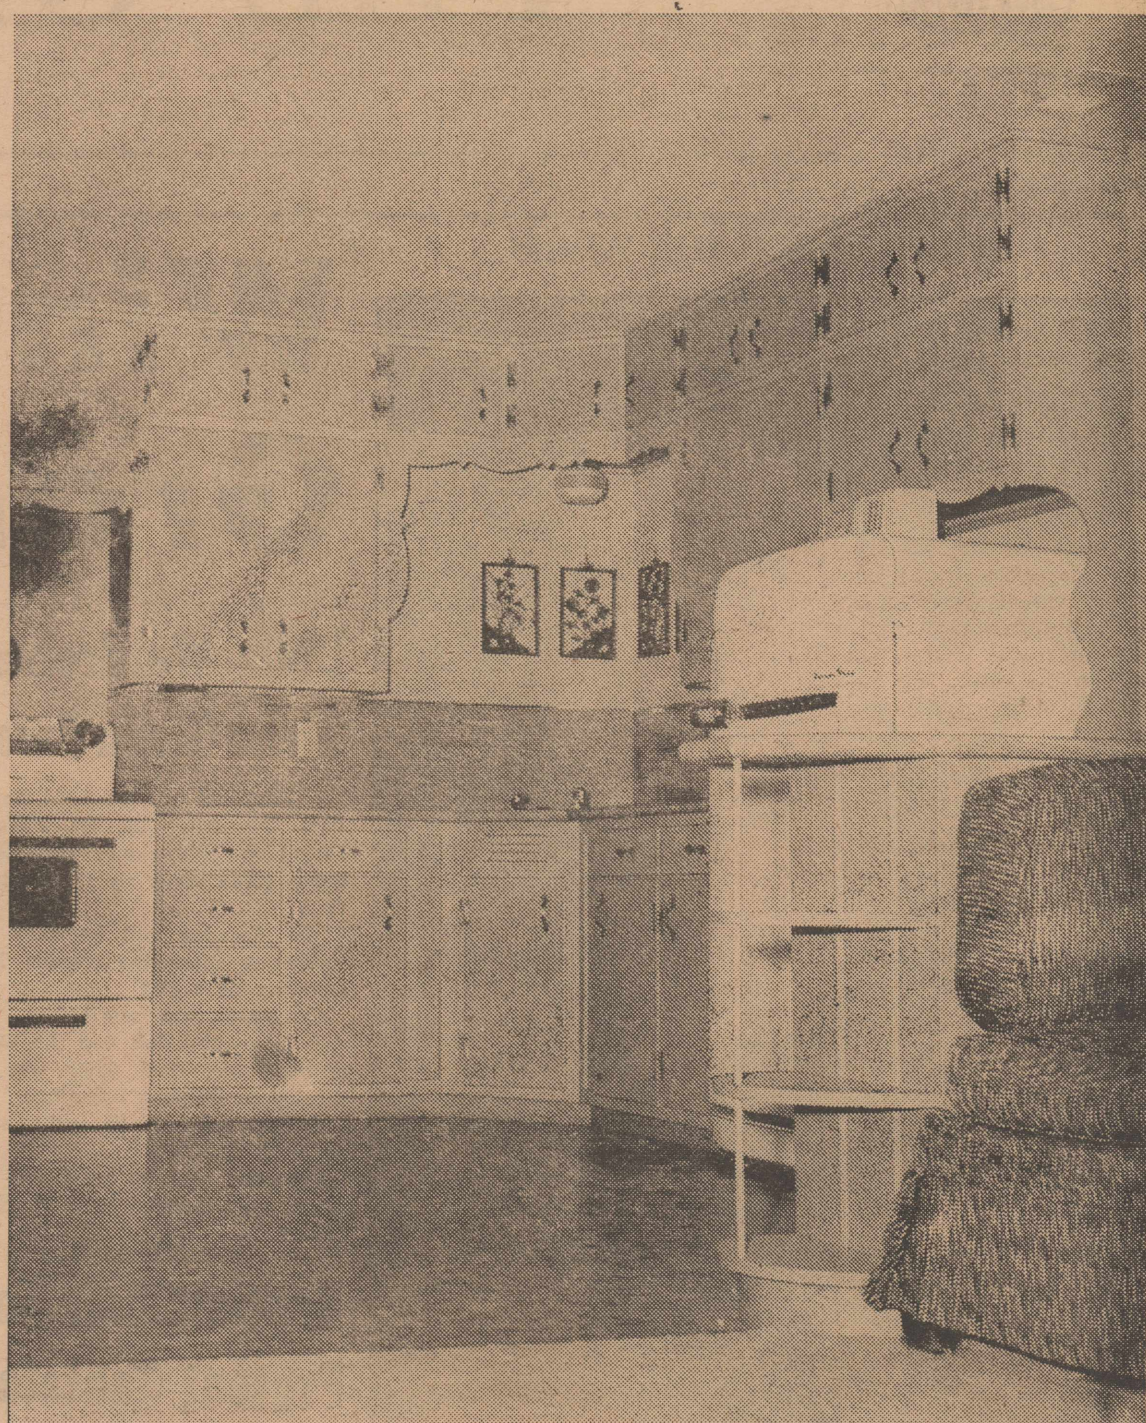

The Nursery—Bryan's and Brynea's room—is precious. Brown

Gayle is reading to her 2½-year-old son, Bryan, in her attractive, modernistic living room. The living room is very graciously decorated in shades of pink, gray, and aqua. In the picture above you see the snack bar-magazine rack that helps to separate the living room from the kitchen. The living room and master bedroom are covered with gray cotton shag carpet and the rest of the home is laid with pebble linoleum.

Books On Parade

By Mardema Ogletree

Christmas Is Always by Dale Evans Rogers, Revell, $1.00.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, America's favorite cowboy's wife has written another book to add to her list. Her list includes Angel Unaware, To My Son, and My Spiritual Diary.

This latest small book, Christmas Is Always, develops the idea that every day we receive wonderful gifts from God. And every day we should show our love and appreciation to God and man by our own sacrificial giving.

She says, "Love is the greatest power there is, and love is the meaning of Christmas . . . Christmas, my child, is love in action. When you love someone, you give to them, as God gives to us . . ."

Wouldn't it be more Christlike for us to visit someone in need of food or clothes, instead of exchanging a lot of gifts and gadgets which have little use?"

And she suggests giving to orphanages and entertaining orphan children during the holidays.

She gives us a little about how Christmas is celebrated elsewhere. In Czechoslovakia, she tells us, "the people celebrate Christmas by visiting their friends and foes and forgiving any misunderstandings which might have arisen during the year; Christmas to them means the ending of old quarrels and the beginning of the new year among new friends. God must love that! He never gives us His peace until we have drowned every hate and grudge and bitterness in the great sea of His love and mercy . . ."

The Tipton Home Story by L. E. Fooks, published by Firm Foundation Publishing Co., $3.00.

Here is a book that exemplifies the true spirit of Christ-like giving. All royalties from the book go to the Tipton Home, Tipton, Okla.

The author is not a professional writer, but a minister of the Church of Christ. He has done a great deal of research about the early days of the Tipton Home and was assisted and inspired by his wife, who grew up in the Tipton Home.

The result of their efforts is a true story about homeless children, about the dedicated men and women who worked to care for them despite tremendous difficulties.

The Home had a humble beginning at Canadian, Texas in 1921. It was moved to Tipton in 1924 after it was given some fertile land there.

Olton is fortunate in having one of the principal characters in the Tipton Home Story living with us now. She is Mrs. Robert Chitwood, who is now making her home with her son and daughter-in-law here, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Chitwood.

Mrs. Chitwood was matron of the Home, and her late husband was superintendent of it for many years, including the heart-breaking depression years. Among the many tributes to these fine people scattered through the book are the words of Dr. Ball, "Dr. Chitwood, we think you and your wife and staff are doing one of the greatest jobs in the world right here . . . Taking these little children who have had the misfortune of losing their homes and bringing them here and training them so they may become men and women and be a great asset instead of a liability to society."

Saunter With Sue

BY SUE MAY

What Olton beauty operator told a man she could cut his wife's hair in a "peeled cut" like her husband's?

Well, really, she wasn't talking to the party she thought she was being funny with—actually he was a stranger who probably thought, "This Cat's real gone—mentally, that is!"

"Superb" is the word for this truly marvelous frozen chocolate dessert with its green-tinted, peppermint-flavored center layer. No short-cut recipe is this, but your pride in the result will be worth every bit of time and care it costs you.

Peppermint extract to taste
Green coloring

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Combine gelatin and cold water in mixing bowl; mix well. Add scalded milk, sugar, and salt, and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add cream. Chill chocolate mixture until slightly thickened. Place in bowl of ice and water and whip with rotary egg beater until fluffy and thick. Pour 1/2 of chocolate mixture into large mold or individual molds and chill until firm. Place remaining chocolate mixture over lukewarm

Olton Home Ec. Girls Make List For Safe Holidays

After the completion of a 12-week unit in Food for the Family, some of the Homemaking I and Homemaking II girls are studying Home Safety and First Aid.

The classes have had practical experience and class discussion of the need for proper first aid facilities in the home and car, Mrs. Archie Sorley, one of the H.E. teachers, said.

"Some of the girls have made individual reports on various phases of first aid treatment and general safety practices in the home," Mrs. Sorley remarked. "Demonstrations have been given and study made on such topics as: home care of the sick, burns, wounds, fractures, sprains, strain, poisons, fires in the home, artificial respiration, precautions during tornadoes, colds, shock and so on."

In studying safety in the home, the classes will have a brief lesson and demonstration on hazards which can be avoided in the home during the holidays. Some of these suggestions are:

1. Christmas Tree
  1. Select fresh Christmas trees, with the needles being green and flexible.
  2. Spray the tree with fire proofing mixture and allow to dry.
  3. Place it in a container filled with moist sand. Discard the tree as soon as it appears dry.
  4. Make sure the tree stand is sturdy.
  5. Place it in a cool area away from fireplaces, radiators, or stoves.
  6. Do not place near draperies, curtains or combustible materials.

II. Lights

1. Lights especially around tree, should be fireproof.
2. Check lights and cords ahead of time and replace as necessary.
3. Never use cords and sockets that are frayed and broken.
4. Keep cords out of the way, but do not hide them under rugs or wrap them around the tree.
5. Attach lights securely, standing upright without touching the tree.
6. Turn off lights if they get too hot.
7. Never allow lights to burn

Tableau Is Presented To Eastern Star

Demonstration Party Held In J. R. Banks Home

Mrs. Martin of Earth was demonstrator.

Mrs. Banks served cherry angel food cake and lime punch to guests Mesdames James Sanderson, Arnold Washington, Ernest Baker, Ray Banks and Mike Dent.

When you leave the house.

III. Other Decorations and Suggestions

1. If candles are used as table decorations, keep them away from combustible materials. Never let them burn too low.
2. Discard all wrapping paper unused by placing it in a fire-proof container. A household wastebasket is a potential fire hazard when filled with wrapping.
3. Keep pathway and stairs free and clear of boxes, gifts and toys.
4. Know the number of your fire department and keep a fire extinguisher in a convenient place.
5. Do not overload circuits.
6. To avoid accidents in the kitchen when preparing the Christmas feast, be safety conscious at all time. Do most of the meal planning and preparations ahead of time.
7. Turn handles of utensils to back of range. Keep knives and sharp instruments out of reach. Use safe stepladders to reach high shelves.

"Make this Christmas a safe and merry one in your home by observing these safety precautions," Mrs. Sorley advised.

Large Crowd Attends Concert

Approximately 500 persons attended the joint band-choir Christmas concert Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

For the first time in years, Olton had a guest conductor at the concert. He was C. M. Stookey, professor in music at Eastern New Mexico University, Portales, NM. Stookey directs the Sunshine Band Camp in which a large portion of Olton students enroll each summer.

Fred Stockdale is band director and Mrs. Joe Harper is choir director.

Included in the concert were the Beginners Band, fifth graders; Cadet Band, sixth, seventh, and eighth graders; Mustang Concert Band, high school students; and high school chorus club.

The "Blue Notes", high school stage band, also played during the concert.

Royce Bodkin announced the band portion of the program.

Stockdale said over 200 students participated in the program. The same organizations will present their annual Spring Concert, April 21.

Mrs. Harper and Stockdale both expressed appreciation for the support that was given their joint concert.

Bohner Trips Levelland To Win Tournament

Bohner High School boys won their own invitational basketball tournament here Saturday.

A one-day event, Bohner had to play three games to receive their first-place trophy. They downed Levelland, 58-54, in the finals, Brownfield, 74-37, and Anton 101-34.

The 101 points against Anton was a new scoring record for the Olton Negro school. Previous high is believed to be 83, scored last year.

Floydada won the consolation title by defeating Brownfield, 54-44.

High three-game scorers for the local crew were Euel Jackson, 60 points, Curtis Jackson, 48, and Julius Sheffield, 37. C. Jackson hit 25 against Anton.

Other Scores

Other scores in the tournament were, Anton over Tahoka, 51-35, Brownfield defeating Tahoka, 75-35 and Levelland tapping Floydada, 50-38.

Bohner girls, in an exhibition game, were defeated by Brownfield, 28-20.

After enjoying a healthy lead throughout the first three quarters of play against Levelland, Bohner saw its point spread dwindle in the final frame. The lead bounced back and forth several times during the last three minutes of play.

Olton's Mustangs face Nazareth in the first round of the Tulia Invitational Tournament today at 2:30 PM.

Olton and Nazareth girls will square off in the preceeding game, which is to commence at 1:15 PM.

Should the Olton males win, they will take on Adrian the following day at 3:30 PM. The girls, in case of a win, will meet the winner of the Farwell-Silverton tilt.

A loss would pit the Mustangs against the loser of the Farwell-Silverton contest. The girls will meet the girls teams of the same schools, if they lose their opener.

Other teams in the tourney are Tulia, Turkey, Kress, Quitaque, Muleshoe, Hedley, Dimmitt and Adrian. Dimmitt boys will not play in their event.

Finals for the boys division will be played at 8 PM Saturday. Girls finals will be played Saturday at 7 PM.

Consolation in the girls division will be 3 PM Saturday, with the boys following at 4:15 PM.

Olton played in a tournament last weekend at Hereford. They were defeated two games in a row; losing to Canyon and Levelland.

Since Cotton Prices are now very close to the loan price, we feel that this is the time to put your cotton into the Pool Sales. Most cotton in the grades SLIM and lower has a good chance of selling on actual samples, and all of your light spotted cotton has a very good chance of selling. When we sell the cotton, the producer receives back all of the over the loan net profit that his individual bale brings.

For cotton that is already in the loan, either Form A or Form G loan, all that is necessary is to bring or send us the equities along with $1.00 per bale.

Your local ginners can get in touch with us for you and get the full details if they do not already have them.

We are organized to help the producers realize more money from West Texas Cotton.

Golfing Rules Are Listed

RULE 30
Provisional Ball

1. Procedure
If a ball may be lost, out of bounds, unplayable, or in a water hazard or lateral water hazard, to save time the player may at once play another ball provisionally as nearly as possible from the spot at which the original ball was played. If the original ball was played from the teeing ground, a ball may be teed anywhere within the teeing ground; if from through the green or a hazard, it shall be dropped; if on the putting green, it shall be placed.

a. Before playing a provisional ball, the player must announce his intention to his opponent or his marker. The player is not obliged to state the reason for which he plays a provisional ball. He may not restrict the purpose for which it is played except to state that it does not apply to a ball in a water hazard (Rules 33-2 and 33-3.)

b. A provisional ball may be played only before the player or his partner goes forward to search for the original ball.

c. Play of a provisional ball from the teeing ground does not affect the order in which the sides play (Rule 12-2.)

d. A provisional ball is never an outside agency.

2. Election Of Ball To Be Played
The player may play a provisional ball until he reaches the place where the original ball is likely to be. He shall then elect to play either:—

a. The original ball, in which case there shall be no penalty, or

b. The provisional ball, under penalty provided for in the Rule governing the particular case.

When the player makes his choice, the other ball shall then be retired from play.

If the Rules permit the original ball to be dropped without penalty, the player may do so before electing which ball to play.

3. Ball in Water Hazard: Option Prohibited
If a player has played a provisional ball under this Rule and the original ball be in a water hazard or lateral water hazard, he may play the original ball as it lies or continue the provisional ball in play; but he may not drop a ball to obtain relief in the manner provided for in Rule 33 or in any Local Rule.

Exception:—Application of a provisional ball to a ball in a water hazard waived in advance under Rule 30-1a.

4. Ball Unplayable: Option Prohibited
If a player play a provisional ball under this Rule and deem his first ball unplayable, he must continue playing with the provisional ball; he may not then proceed under Rule 29-2b.

Penalty For Breach Of Rule:
Match play—Loss of hole; Stroke play—Two strokes.

SECTION VIII
OBSTRUCTIONS, GROUND UNDER REPAIR, CASUAL WATER
RULE 31
Obstructions

1. Movable Obstruction May Be Removed
Any movable obstruction may be removed. If the ball be moved in so doing, it shall be replaced on the exact spot from which it was moved, without penalty. If it be impossible to determine the spot or to replace the ball on the exact spot from which it was moved, the ball shall, through the green or in a hazard, be dropped, or on the putting green be placed, as near as possible to the spot from which it was moved but not nearer the hole, without penalty.

When a ball is in motion, an obstruction may not be removed except the flagstick and the clubs and other equipment of the players.

2. Interference by Immovable Obstruction
When the ball lies on or touches an immovable obstruction, or when an immovable obstruction within two club-lengths of the ball interferes with the player's stance, stroke or backward movement of his club for the stroke in the direction in which he wishes to play, the ball may be lifted without penalty. Through the green or in a hazard, the ball may be dropped, or on the putting green placed, within two club-lengths of that point on the outside of the obstruction nearest which the ball originally lay; it must come to rest not nearer the hole than its original position.

The player may not measure through the obstruction.

Interference with the line of play is not of itself interference under this Rule.

Penalty For Breach Of Rule:

AUTHOR DONATES HIS PLAY TO OLTON HIGH

Don Waldrip, high school principal, received a letter Friday week from Rod Serling, famous television playwright.

The circumstances, that led to his letter, went something like this:
Mr. and Mrs. Waldrip became very interested in high school one-act plays when they took the Archer City high school One-Act Play cast to compete in state interscholastic League competition. (Mr. Waldrip directed the play and Mrs. Waldrip did the make-up.)

Mrs. Waldrip saw NBC Matinee Theatre on television one afternoon later and was so impressed by the play because, as she felt, it would be ideal for high school one-act play competition. The writer was Rod Serling.

She told her husband about the story. He was impressed, so he wrote to the Lubbock television stations and asked how he might write the director of NBC Matinee Theatre.

The Lubbock stations gave him the address of Albert McCleery, executive director of the show, and Mr. Waldrip wrote him inquiring about the play.

Mr. McCleery wrote Mr. Waldrip that he was forwarding his letter to the playwright himself, since he (Serling) held all rights.

Friday, Waldrip received this letter:

When a ball is in motion, an obstruction may not be removed except the flagstick and the clubs and other equipment of the players.

2. Interference by Immovable Obstruction
When the ball lies on or touches an immovable obstruction, or when an immovable obstruction within two club-lengths of the ball interferes with the player's stance, stroke or backward movement of his club for the stroke in the direction in which he wishes to play, the ball may be lifted without penalty. Through the green or in a hazard, the ball may be dropped, or on the putting green placed, within two club-lengths of that point on the outside of the obstruction nearest which the ball originally lay; it must come to rest not nearer the hole than its original position.

The player may not measure through the obstruction.

This letter was printed in a paper in Corpus Christi some years ago, but think it can bear reprinting.

Dear Santa Claus:

It has been a long time since I have written to you. I have now moved from the old home on Happy Street to a house of loneliness and doubt which stands at the end of Disillusion Avenue.

ALL THE GLORIOUS bright little baubles that I had in years gone by are now either broken or tarnished and tearstained.

Please bring me a few of those toys that I once had: the stirring bubbles of joy; the tinkling bells of cheer that rang in my voice; the candles of faith that shone in my eyes; the frankincense and myrrh of steadfast hope that strengthened my soul; and the lodestar of universal love that gleamed in my heart.

In the years past, I realize I did not appreciate those priceless treasures or care for them as I should have, but now I repent my carelessness and humbly ask you to remember me with another supply this CHRISTMAS.

I will hang my empty heart right by the chimney, SANTA, and, please, this is what I want. Give me a large basket of FORGETFULNESS with which to cover up all loneliness and empty brooding. A large box of FORGIVENESS for those who robbed me of laughter and filled my eyes with tears. Leave me enough of the cement of HOPE to mend the shattered fragments of joy and tuck in a little SONG OF CHEER. And, please, SANTA, leave quiet a lot of plain old fashioned FAITH, UNDERSTANDING, UNSELFISHNESS, and TOLERANCE that I can share freely with FRIENDS and NEIGHBORS.

If you know the answer of the popular question being asked this past week of "What is the real name of the carrier the Indian Mother places across her back to carry the Papoose in?" Will you please call or write me?

When I was called about the above reminded me of a few years ago when the men's conversation at Washburn was getting slack—some one would ask, "How fast will a fly be flying in a car and car traveling at 60 miles per hour?" That could always put life into the duller of days.

All I want for Christmas is the respect and love of my fellowman. To me, they are greatest GIFTS to be GIVEN by MAN. They are neither bought or sold, but are a priceless treasure.

Today let's re-read the story of the Birth of Jesus and re-read John 3:16. If all the world could and would love each other just a little more, our world problems would be over.

This year let each of us put CHRIST back into the word CHRISTMAS.

Pappy and I want to wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

The new City Hall building has been accepted by the City Commission.

The building is 25 x 60 feet and is built of cinder block with a brick front. Ed Harris was contractor.

Hart's fire truck is also being housed in the City Hall.

Hart Church Dedicated Sun.

Bishop John Morkovsky of the Amarillo diocese blessed and dedicated St. John's Catholic Church Sunday, December 14, at 11 A.M.

The Bishop met his congregation outside the church, then the Bishop, Father Peter Marsh of Holy Family Church, Nazareth, Father Frances Nmyer of Amarillo and Father Jesus Quintera, assistant to Father Marsh and pastor of the St. John's Church, led the congregation into the church.

The blessing and dedication was held with a sermon and welcoming address by the Bishop. Afterwards, Mass was offered by Father Marsh, assisted by the Priests and served by the altar boys, Sam Burt, August Roy Brockman, David Garcia, and Gerónimo Flores.

Father Marsh commended the people for helping with their time and efforts in getting the church ready for the dedication. He also said it was "good that the church was being dedicated and blessed so near the day of our Lord's birth."

After services at the church, a dinner was served in the Legion Hall to about 200 people.

Get-Acquainted Party Honors Two

A get-acquainted party in honor of Mrs. Carol Davis and Mrs. Bobby Reed was held in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Davis, December 10.

White carnation corsages were presented to the honoree, her mother Mrs. Winton Hackler, and the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. Harvey Davis.

About 50 gifts were registered.

Assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames O. C. Kittrell, Roy Futrell, Jimmie Davis, Joe Newman, Percy Hart, Milton Sharp, Preston Upshaw, D. D. Myrick, T. L. Byrd, Paul Brooks and Jim Brooks.

Kenneth Ellis Writes Home About Mission In Suez Canal, French Girls, Monaco Palace

(Editor's note: Below is the second part of a letter sent by Kenneth Ellis to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Ellis. He is serving on the USS GREENWICH BAY with the US Navy.)

PART 2

After 11 days, many lonely mid-watches and a goodly number of first cruise mal-de-mer cases, we arrived in Lisbon Portugal. The ship's company trooped ashore there to what many consider the best liberty we have encountered. Highlight of our Portugal visit was the inland tour some of the men enjoyed up to the Shrine at Fatima. From Lisbon we sailed to Gibraltar where we made a brief stop for fuel and water. The famous Rock, standing as eternal as the word itself implies, was quite an interesting sight. Those who had never seen it found that, from our position, it was hard to photograph and still achieve the Prudential Life Insurance view.

Once past Gib we plowed through the blue waters of the Mediterranean Sea toward Barcelona, Spain. Sunny Spain certainly lived up to its reputation as did the fascinating city of Barcelona. We all wandered around the shady boulevards and avenues and found immense satisfaction in leisure of the sidewalk cafes. Naturally, the bull fights attracted a throng of white-clad G.B. sailors but the bull fights were rivaled by visits to Barcelona's Old Spanish Town, the city's magnificent Cathedral, and a gigantic industrial fair which was currently being held. Special mention is deserved by the many hours whiled away listening to the Spanish guitar music and watching fiery senoritas dancing the fandango.

Palace Of Prince Ranier

In Cannes, France, we encountered an entirely different atmosphere . . . and how! We anchored about 1,000 yards right off the famed Riviera and counted the seconds until liberty call and the boats took us ashore. While we were waiting to go ashore, we couldn't avoid noticing the many Bikini-clad lovelies that paddled out to the ship or buzzed around us in motor speed boats—in fact, you might say we were completely driven to distraction by it. In Cannes we enjoyed the swimming and the beautiful violin music at night in the large open-air cafes. It was here that the crew was treated to the most outstanding tour of the cruise. From Cannes, the tour motored down to the famous Cote D'Azur to Villefranche, past Nice and ultimately to Monte Carlo in the principality of Monaco. The visit to the famous gambling casino at Monte Carlo and to the Palace of Prince Ranier and Princess Grace was a treat long to be remembered. Leaving Monte Carlo, the tour wound its way high up into the Maritime Alps of France with a visit to the perfume factories at Grasse. The weather was perfect.

Twenty-four hours ahead of Cannes lay Genoa, Italy, the home of Christopher Columbus. We sailed into Genoa harbor and shortly thereafter were completely enveloped in a whirl of pizza pies, busy traffic, and tempestuous Italians. Genoa will be long recalled for the warmth of its citizens and a local song hit, "Nel Blu De Pinto De Blu", which, we later learned, was to become the number 1 pop tune back home. A tour was arranged here to visit Milan, Italy, and those who took advantage of it brought back glowing reports of the beautiful Italian countryside.

By this time, June was reaching its latter stages and we were becoming more and more alarmed with the news originating in our next port of call—Berit, Lebanon. At last, clearance was not obtained for the GREENWICH BAY to visit Beirut due to the increasing civil strife there and we happily substituted a quick trip to Pireaus, Greece, and nearby Athens. In Athens, we toured the ancient Acropolis and posed for one photograph after another amid the ruins of the Parthenon. As we left the Aegean Sea, we set a course for a virtual paradise in the Mediterranean—the beautiful islands of Rhodes. Here we found a warm, lazy sun beating down on the flower-bedecked and widely vegetated island. The overall effect produced an air of leisure that is seldom, if ever, experienced in America.

Mission In Suez Canal

We then proceeded to Port Said for transiting the Suez Canal and, on the way, changed into our "short-shorts" (tropical uniforms). Once in the Canal, the previously joking expression—"The vacation is over"—seemed to sweep the entire ship with the first reality of our mission. The 87-mile transit began on the night of June 29th and it might be truthfully noted that little sleep was had on that occasion. It seemed that you could actually reach out into the darkness of the night and touch the tension surrounding the heavily-guarded waterway. But we could also feel awed in another way as we entered this modern-day "point of no return". Though for the most part the night obstructed our view, we passed the place where the Exodus occurred, and where the seas parted, just south of Port Said. Shortly thereafter we passed El' Qantara, which is where the Holy Family crossed when fleeing from King Herod. On leaving the Canal, we entered the Gulf of Suez and, inland at the southern end of the Gulf, Mount Sinai where Moses received the Ten Commandments rose in the distance.

After several days in the Red Sea, we rendezvoused with the USS VALCOUR—the ship we had been sent to relieve. They were plenty happy to see us and both ships put into Massawa, Eritrea, to allow Rear Admiral Harold M. Briggs and his staff to move aboard the GREENWICH BAY. This is a port now belonging to Ethiopia, and formerly an Italian Colony. King Haile Selassie rules Ethiopia as you know, and it is the land where the Queen of Sheba once ruled except when she was "galavanting" with King Solomon. Here at Massawa we celebrated July 4th in the kind of 100 degree-plus heat that is indescribable to anyone—save possibly a person who possesses a magnetic attraction to blast furnaces. Here also we lost our "lovable" Executive Officer and picked up his new and equally "lovable" replacement.

Enter Persian Gulf

As we left Massawa we "broke" the Admiral's two-star flag and became the Flagship of the US Naval Forces, Middle East. The VALCOUR disappeared on their way home. In a few days we had rounded the Gulf of Aden and the Arabian peninsula and were making our way northward through the dark waters of the Arabian Sea toward the Gulf of Oman. At last the Green Witch had once again become "The Ghost of the Arabian Coast." Rounding Oman and sailing into ever increasing temperatures, humidity and calmness of the sea, we entered the Persian Gulf and the historical lands visited by Marco Polo, Alexander the Great, Sinbad the Sailor, Aladin, and Ali Baba and the forty thieves.
