All Portales Firms Close by 12 p. m.

All Portales firms have agreed to close their places of business at 12 o'clock at night. This was agreed to upon a petition circulated by Marshall J. H. Bond, the purpose of the closing by this hour, to do away with any loafing place, that might be used by petti criminals.

Two burglaries have occurred in Portales within the past month, and it is thought that if there were no place in town to loaf till late hours, the night watchman would better be able to check up on all suspicious characters.

The Curfew law will also be again put into operation and all under the age of 18, will be required to be off of the streets by 10:00 o'clock.

Marshall Bond asks the fullest cooperation from the parents as tothis ruling.

Death Penalty For Bank Robbery In N. M. Bill

Santa Fe, Feb. 16.—Death sentences for robbery or attempted robbery of banks with the use of firearms would be made mandatory under a bill introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Jones, as one of a group of the uniform bank law bills.

The bill would provide that for robbery from banks in which firearms are not used in execution of the robbery that the penalty be from five to fifty years in prison

The death penalty would prevail if the robber only carried a revolver and did not use it or shoot.

Several states of the union have adopted this law as a measure of protection of banking institutions. The theory is to make the penalty for such a felony so great that contemplated robberies of banks would be greatly discouraged.

Other uniform banking laws endorsed by the American banker's association and the New Mexico banker's association were introduced. One would set a limit of six months on stop payments and similar transactions unless the order was renewed at the end of six months, and another would relate to methods of clearing checks.

Steinberger Test Drilling Below 300

It is rumored that this company and other major companies have made locations for tests and within a few weeks, much activity is expected.

First Methodist Church Notice

Last Sunday was a great day with the Methodist Church. Great crowds are coming to the services and we are pleased to note the rapid increase in the attendance, it is our aim to make the services worth while to all who come our way.

Many new faces were to be seen among the regular attendants Sunday, we were delighted to have them with us.

Next Sunday the Pastor speaks on the subject, "Jonah and the Whale." It must have been an awful experience to be swallowed by a fish, what do you think? Come with us Sunday Morning at the 11 o'clock hour and hear Sowell on this subject.

Dr. A. L. Moore speaks at the evening service. He is a great man and a great preacher, hear him at the Methodist Church Sunday evening.

Three fine Leagues at 6 p. m. Back the young people in their work, and then before the evening service there will be an old time sining of songs, you will enjoy having a part in that kind of service, old songs that every one can sing, the songs that our fathers and mothers sang when they were young. You will find a warm welcome, and that good old time hospitality that will send you home with a new lease on life, and make you glad you were at church.

Junior Play Next Thursday Night

Next Thursday night, February 82, the Junior class will present "Her Step-Husband," at the High School Auditorium.

"Her Step-Husband," by Larry E. Johnson, is one of the best three act comedies for amateur production that has been written within the last few years. The action centers about a complicate plot to obtain possession of Aunty's money for "Little Willie" at any cost, even at the price of employing a step-husband.

The Juniors have chosen the best of their talent to represent them and guarantee the production to be a big success.

Dorothy Forbes, Ereth Maxwell, Clarence Bruce and Kenneth Jones, have been cast for the leads, with Myrtice Shock, Eulla Williams, Jessie Lee Yoachum and Nathaniel Hancock supporting them.

Although the Juniors were forced to pay a high royalty in order to get a play of this quality, they expect to be able to finance the annual Junior-Senior Banquet with the proceeds. Ticket sales will commence immediately.

J. C. Penny Co., Coming to Portales

Buchannan for the erection of a brick building on the corner now occupied by the Buchannan Service Station, to be occupied by the store of J. C. Penny, which will soon come to Portales.

While the contract was practically completed, it had to go to the New York office for verification, but it is the opinion that there is no doubt about them locating here.

The expansion program of this national organization covers the placing of over 500 new stores this year, and their selection of Portales is a good omen for the prosperity which is in store for this section of the state.

Prevent That Cold

Prevent that cold. If you feel it coming, or if everyone has it and you are quite sure that you are next, tear a leaf from grandmother's old note book and prevent it.

When grandfather came home with a cold, grandmother rushed quickly for lemons and made a real big lemonade. She didn't know why lemons were good for colds but she knew that they were and her old fashioned remedy produced results.

Now the scientific reason has been discovered. Doctors tell us that it is not only benificial to take a hot lemonade before retiring to make one prespire and rid the body of toxic subtances, but that lemonade should be taken several times during the day as well.

The reason this practice should be followed is that lemons have an alklaine reaction in the body. More and more is the fact becoming appreciated that lemons and oranges, though acid in taste, have a final alkaline balance of the body.

Authorities claim that an acidosis caused from the lowering of the alkaline balance is present with every common cold and that its correction is the quickest and most effective way of curing a cold. This means that we must eliminate or greatly reduce for a while our consumption of acid-forming foods such as bread, cereals meat, eggs, fish and fowl, and use the alkaline forming foods such as milk, fruits, fruit juices and vegetables in goodly quantity.

Do not by any means understand that one should entirely eliminate acid forming foods from the diet for a long period. Our most common and essential foods are acid producers but absolutely necessary on account of their valuable protien and carbohydrate content. It merely means that when a cold is present or apparently due to arrive, we must make our body more alkaline as quickly as possible by eliminating or reducing these acid-producing foods for a brief period and eating heavily of the alkaline producing foods.

Preventing a cold, however, is much easier than curing one—particularly on that is deep-seated and needs the attention of the skilled physician.

Add the old-fashioned lemon cure of grandmother, a little strongly alkaline bicarbonite of soda, and you have a preventive yet very efficient. Squeeze the juice of a lemon in a half glass of water, and add half a tea spoon of soda and drink it immediately. Repeat at least three times during the day, and if you wish, a final glass of old-fashioned hot lemonade may be taken before retiring.

Such a goodly quantity of alkaline producing beverage should prove sufficient to ward off the cold that you anticipate. Furthermore even though a cold is not threatening, you have placed your body in such shape that one will find it difficult to take root for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stoneker in company with L. H. Stoneker, father of S. S. Stoneker and Mrs. McRay, who is visiting in the S. S. Stoneker home drove over from Plainview, Sunday afternoon and all except Mrs. McRey spent the night in the P. H. Bond home. S. S. Stoneker wife, and Mrs. McRay returned to Plainview Monday morning. L. H. Stoneker is a brother-in-law of Mr. Bond and will visit Mr. and Mrs. Bond for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Martin drove over to Lubbock Saturday, in their new Chevrolet coach, and were present at a banquet for the Utilities people on that evening. They returned Sunday by way of Plainview.

The Moody Home Damaged By Fire

On last Sunday morning during the hour of church services, the residence of T. E. Moody was discovered to be on fire.

The fire started from the flue in the clothes closet, and before aid could be given the wearing apparel of the Moody family was destroyed. The Moodys were in Clovis at the time of the fire.

Prompt action by the fire department saved the house from complete destruction.

Mr. Moody states that the damage to furniture and building was around $1700.00.

The furniture was badly damaged by fire and water.

The flames were confined to the ceiling and were checked before an airway was burned through.

A stiff wind was blowing from the south, and for a while it was thought that the Baptist parsonage and church were in danger.

A hole was cut into the roof, and water turned in which checked the fire before it broke through the roof.

Ezra Watts, of Santa Fe, is spending the week with his family in Portales.

—o—

Arthur F. Jones, cashier of the First National Banfi, and Chairman of the New Mexico Bankers Agricultural Committee was called to Las Crucea last week to make a talk on farming and fertilizers, before the state meeting of County Agents. It is reported that he made a fine speech, as he was full of his subject.

—o—

The latitude of this department enables to cover every item as being "sassiety" news. Now that this has been explained, we will go into the tax problems of the state. There is considerable opposition to sales tax, the auto tax, the cigarette tax, and from the sounds coming from former tax meetings in this county, there must be opposition to the property tax. The editor of this department heartily commends any move that will eliminate all taxes. He is in favor of free text books, free gasoline, free groceries, free picture shows free dry goods, and in fact free everything but newspapers. Now when some liberal minded tax wizard will show how this is to be accomplished and at the same time abolish taxes, the editor will contribute 15 cents towards building to his memory a monument that will make the statue of Liberty look like a hitching post.

—oo—

Burglars again visited Portales without registering their names for use in this department. Some stores seem to be more popular than others. Ed. J. Neer says that he has no fear of his drug store being burgarlized, as no one would want to steal pills, but he would hate to have them break into his undertaking department and steal his cooling board or a caskket or two.

—oo—

The other day the son of the editor went into Yoachum's Gro. and called for a dimes worth of dog meat. Bob swelled up and said that he sold nothing but beef and pork, except on Fridays, when he tried to sell fish.

—oo—

Otto Kaptino played the millionaire in the Little Theater plays till he is beginning to look the part on the street as in the plays.

—oo—

One day last week, Mit Price was in the City Clerks office kicking about the water main on Colorado street being froze up. He state that he missed his Saturday night's bath and had to go through Sunday without changing anything except his mind.

Mrs. J. E. Camp has a Great Dane pup. It is still only a pup, in spit of the fact that it is the size of a yearling steer. It is a fine dog and of a very gentle disposition.

Mrs. Lee English and Mrs. A. J. Goodwin motored to Lovington, N. M., Sunday where they met Mr. English and they continued their journey to Carlsbad where they all enjoyed going through the cavern Monday, returning to Portales Tuesday.

With the demand for its cars at the highest level in the history of the company, the Chevrolet Motor Company is preparing for the greatest year in its history with its sixteen gian factories now busy on a 1,250,000 car production program for 1929.

This statement was issued here today by Add Hobbs, local Chevrolet Dealer, who recently returned from El Paso, where he attended the thirtieth of a series of 40 nation-wide sales meetings that are being sponsored by the company this winter.

Through the medium of these meetings the company hopes to bring the 1929 Chevrolet sales message directly to every Chevrolet dealer in the United States. The day's program which embraced a grahpic sales presentation in the Texas Grand Theatre in the afternoon and a banquet in the Crystal Ball room of the Hussmann Hotel in the evening, was one of the most elaborate every attempted by an automobile manufacturer.

Milnesand

(Delayed)

Look how the clouds are flying south. The wind blows loud and shrill. But, ole Milnesand's still on the map, Just like the snow man on the hill.

Old February came in just like a lamb. But the last few days, we've felt the icy breath of winter, guess He must be going out like a lion.

Quite a number of our young people motored to Crossroads Sunday afternoon to singing.

We learned last Sunday that Grandpa Webb, as he was familiarly known here, had passed away at his home at Lake Arthur, N. M., on Jan. 9. Grandpa was at one time a resident of the Milnesand community and his death will bring sorrow and regret to his many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Doughtie have the distinction of driving the east school truck. Mrs. Doughtie says she adores little girls. But oh, bother the boys.

Our school is just fine. And the attendance is increasing gradually we sincerely hope we will have enough pupils to hold three teachers another term.

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Watson are at home to their friends at 307 South Main, Milnesand, New Mex.

Miss Lorena Brown of Stroud, Okla., is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. N. Parkinson.

This makes seven business houses now owned by Dr. Hensley and his son, Turner. He has confidence in Portales, and is not afraid to invest his money in Portales property.

The Farmington Republican wants to split New Mexico and Colorado from North to South, giving the east half to Colorado and the west half to New Mexico. What have we done to want to kick us out of New Mexico into Colorado?

Deskin Wells again comes out with a special edition of 40 pages boosting the cooking school conducted by the Wellington, Texas Leader. Deskin has got the habit of publishing forty odd page papers, and seems to get away with it. It is a task of the average weekly to put out from eight to sixteen pages, bearing the necessary amount of news and advertising to keep them from going into thered. Deskin is giving Wellington a real newspaper and deserves the patronage which he is receiving.

The News is in receipt of a letter from a subscriber taking it to be task for its attitude on peddlers. The word peddler covers a wide territory, but the News in speaking of peddlers does not have reference to farmers selling their products This is a legitimate line of business as are also the Watkins and Raleigh agents, who have taken out license, and who are really conducting a business in their territory But there is a large class of peddlers who are here today and gone tomorrow, who offers goods in glowing terms, and when the goods are found to have been misrepresented the buyer has no resource. The local merchant is here every day in the year, and has to make good all claims for his goods. The peddler pays nothing towards keeping up the expense of the town or county and many enterprizes which go to make up the community. It is safer in every instances to tell them to pass on.

Portales is progressing. In fact in the past month of representatives for chain stores have been investigation the local conditions with view of entering Portales. These people as a rule have accurate information as to the resources of the community in which they seek to place one of their stores, and according to this Portales is a growing town and has a bright future.

STATE LANDS

There is now a discussion at Santa Fe over the leasing of state lands, several years ago the lease rates on public lands were reduced from 5 to 3 cents per acre. The News has long contended that this lead is leased too cheap. In fact it should bring in rental equal to the taxes on privately owned lands of the same nature in the same location. The reduction was made to aid the cattlemen to come back after the cattle slump of 1920. This time has passed, the state lands should bear their portion of the burden of the state. As it now stands it is much cheaper to lease state lands than to pay taxes on lands owned by private individuals. With a fair rental this land would in a measure relieve the tax situation in the state. Commissioner Pankey favors raising the minumun to 5 cents per acre. A great portion of this land should bear a rental of from 10 to 25 cents per acre.

The farmer who has gained title to his lands should not be penalized so that the cattlemen may secure cheap grazing lands. New Mexico is developing, and this development is placing a burden upon the farmers of the state. As increased development goes on this burden will increase unless the state lands produce a revenue equal to the taxes on the privately owned lands.

From press dispatches it is learned that the Mountain States Telephone company is preparing to spend the better part of one million dollars in improvements of its service in New Mexico. In looking over the list of towns in which these improvements are to be made, Portales is conspicious by its absence. The telephone equipment in Portales is obsolete and the Chamber of Commerce would do well to bring to the attention of this company that this town needs to be included in the improvement program. The central office at Portales, gives the best service possible with the limited equipment. This office is located several blocks out in the residence district, which is a handicap to the users of the telephone service. At the hands of the Mountain States Telephone Company, Portales is treated as a despised step-child.

The Voc. Ag. boys have outlined their projects on a three year basis which gives project work more practical value.

Thre will be ball games with Rogers, Saturday night at Floyd.

Laura Hall.

ROGERS

Eagles Gaining.

Last Thursday night the Rogers Eagles were victorious over the Causey Steers with the score of 21-17. The first quarter ended with the Eagles in the lead by 3-2. The second quarter was the hardest fought, and the Eagles gained the lead of 11-3. In the third quarter the Steers came to with a bang and gained on the Eagles by four scores. The game was a fast and thrilling one.

Girls Victorious.

The girls walked away with a victory from the Richland girls with a score of 17-37.

The teams both showed excellent coaching. The game was kept absolutely free from fouling. Four Rogers players were put off for personal fouls. The last minute and half of the game, only one forward played for Rogers. In spite of these difficulties, the Rogers girls exercised their organized team work, and were victorious.

Coming Games.

Next Friday night the Rogers boys will play Sudan, Texas, and the girls Milnesand on the home court. We are hoping the Eagles will win both games as they have improved wonderfully in the last three weeks.

Saturday night both teams will meet Floyd on the Floyd court.

Valentine Party.

Last Saturday night the Junior-Senior Class entertained the High School and Faculty with a Valentine party. The color scheme of Red and White was carried out in the decorations, the costumes of the hosts and hostess, and in the refreshments. A grand march led by the Juniors and Seniors in costume started the fun. After many different games and contests, red lemonade and red and white cake was served.

Chapel Programs.

Wednesday morning the Junior-Senior Class entertained the school in chapel. Their program was as follows.

Arkansas Traveler—Quincy Page and Bill Morrison.

The Lazy Man—Bruce Lackey.

Songs with Acrobatic Stunts—Class.

Pantomine—Class.

Pie-eating Contest—Boys.

Friday morning the sixth and seventh grades will have charge of a chapel program. All parents and friends are cordially invited to any and all of these programs.

To The Citizens of Portales

I wish to say that if I have gained for myself any worthwhile representation since coming to Portales I value that reputation far too highly to sacrifice it at the altar of faulty workmanship.

Where I learned what I know of plumbing people got put in jail for failure to respect ordinances for more strict than those of Portales. Training gotten under such conditions could hardly fail to reflect itself on the work one does in after years.

So far I have done but few jobs in Portales that would not stand the strictest inspection and these were only extension to old jobs and those property owners absolutely refused to pay for better jobs.

As to price, I have always done all my work at a cheaper price, considering quality, than the same work would cost in neighboring towns or than it would cost here if you were paying a man who employed experienced help. By doing nearly all my own work myself I am able to make you lower prices.

It has never been my policy or desire to revolutionize methods of doing either plumbing or wiring but I do favor better work and the use of better materials because if a workman does not want and strive to make each job better than the last he is not much of a craftsman—has no love for his work and had better quit the business.

Last summer while talking to a member of the Mountain States Inspection Bureau of Denver, I learned that the people of Portales are paying annually $1.00 per thousand more for fire insurance than they should do if their wiring jobs were done by an experienced, licensed bonded wire man and properly inspected. Think of the money you are pouring into the pockets of insurance companies to get them to carry this added risk and yet you are not protected as you would be under proper conditions.

Never yet have I turned out a job that I would not guarantee if I were allowed by the property owner to put it in as I advised and wanted to do it.

When each person lives entirely isolated from every other person he has on one's wish to consult but his own, but when conditions of isolation change, someone becomes his brother's keeper; another's wishes must be consulted. So it is in wiring or plumbing your own buildings. In communities no one has the right to jeopardize his neighbor's property by fire from faulty wiring or his health from faulty plumbing. When considering doing either of these jobs place yourself in your neighbor's shoes—view the situation from his point. Then see a licensed and bonded craftsman about doing your work.

Respectfully submitted,
FRED L. OHR.

A number of members of the Methodist Church gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Raymond on Monday and Tuesday afternoons where they quilted a quilt for Mrs. J. G. Compton. The ladies enjoyed a pleasant time quilting and talking.

Exhibiting Poultry

When poultry needs to be washed for exhibition purpose, it should be done in a room 70 to 80 degrees free of draft. The exhibition coop should be placed at convenient distance from stove with sides and top lined with paper or cloth to prevent draft and cean shavings in the bottom. Provide three tubs and do the washing in first and rinsing in next two. Put in plenty of water to cover birds and have water in first tubs heated slightly so as to be comfortable, while somewhat cooler in the other. Use plenty of soap and rub it through all feathers, but do not rub against feathers as this would break them. Then rinse birds thoroughly until all soap is out. Blot the surplus water off the feathers with towel.

Remove particles of dirt on feet and shanks with toothpick. Then moisten rag with sweet or olive oil and rub on shanks, wattles, ear lobes and comb. As this will tend to bring out true color in these parts. This operation should be repeated after birds reach the show care being taken to not put on too much oil.

Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear

WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and the Houdaille shock absorbers.

Though the Ford tires are designated as 30 x 4.50, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel-spoke wheels.

For best results, the tires on the new Ford should be kept inflated to an air pressure of 35 pounds and checked regularly to insure this pressure all the time. This is important. Low inflation breaks down the sidewalls of a tire. By causing overheating, it also destroys the rubber that acts as an insulation, with consequent separation of the cord.

At the end of each 5000 miles, when you have the front wheels packed with grease, it is a good plan to have the wheel alignment checked. This will prevent premature wear.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications.

English II class are writing short stories. Some of the stories have no titles, while other of them have. Some of the titles are these: "It might have been," "Experiences of three Flappers," "Bessie O'Donnell," "Alice Smith," and "Chips off the old Block." Those short stories that do not have titles have good plots. There are eleven members in the class. Four stories have been read aloud to the class thereby helping those who have not started their short stories.

Before the class began on their short stories they read many short ...es in the "American Magazine" and in "Literature and Life." This assisted them very much.

INEZ

(Delayed)

The snow seems to be liking this locality or at least its staying with us. We suppose the cold weather is fine as we haven't heard of anyone asking for a lower degree of temperature. However, it has been fatal to some radiators and young calves.

Mrs. T. J. Mullins said she had received her May-Flag.

Miss Audra Morrison spent the night Sunday with Misses Clora Tollett and Opal Corbin.

Our S. S. and League was fine last Sunday in spite of the cold weather.

Our former pastor, Robert O. Tomlinson, visited with us over Sunday, having turned his car over Saturday on his way home.

A. L. Moore, of Roswell, failed to meet very many of the stewards of this charge when he and Bro. Sowell of Portales came out last Saturday.

Several regrets have been expressed that our Pastor, Richard D. McSwain felt it better to give up his work here. Our best wishes go with him to his new field of labor. And now we're wondering who our new pastor will be.

Let all members know about our Standard Cokesbury course at Inez beginning Feb. 28. We invite every one to attend the first night anyway, beginning at seven o'clock. Our Conference S. S. Supt., Fred B. Fause, is to be the instructor in this course and no exams will be necessary to obtain credit.

Telephone News

New Mexico Telephone Users Place Daily Average of 2017 Long Distance Calls in 1928

Telephone "Traveling" Increases Daily

One of the most important factors that made possible the recent reductions in Long Distance rates, effective February 1, was the increased use of the service from day to day. In 1923, for example, an average of 1225 long distance calls were placed each day from various parts of the state. In 1928 the daily average in New Mexico was 2017—a substantial increase.

In 1923 an average of 24,590 calls to distant points originated each day in the entire Mountain States territory. In 1928 the number had increased to 31,819.

If, under the latest schedule of rate reductions, the use of Long Distance continues to increase, it not only tells a story of the telephone's increasing value in your business and social life, but unmistakably indicates a growing New Mexico.
