THREE MORE BRADY JURORS NAMED

RELIGION IS BROUGHT INTO QUESTIONING

JURY BOX IS ONE-HALF FILLED NOW; TRIAL PROGRESSING

(By Associated Press.)
COURT ROOM, AUSTIN, Jan. 23.—Going rapidly down the line of veniremen, counsel selected three new jurors this morning to half fill the John W. Brady murder trial jury box.

The three men, who joined three already chosen, were:

John Dittmar, 58-year-old farmer, who had known Brady as an eminent jurist.

R. P. Burke, sign painter, a Methodist, who said Brady's religion—Catholicism—would make no difference to him. He was a dapper, nervous man.

F. E. Evans, 31-year-old mill hand, who said he didn't hardly ever get a paper and knew little or nothing about the Brady case. The lawyers did not ask him about his religious beliefs, but he told reporters, "I don't belong to no church."

Brady was even more expressive than usual, occasionally asking the name of a venireman from some one at the press table, but never speaking to the lawyers.

Mrs. Brady was there, too, along with other relatives who have been with her husband since checking frequently. About an hour after the noon recess the jury, dressed in black and having a rather funeral aspect, came in and solemnly sat down behind Brady. He had not been noticed in the court room before.

The defense used two more challenges.

Colorado Intervenor's Inject Fight In ICC Hearing; Stewart On Stand

FEMININE PLEAS FAIL TO MOVE JUDGE AND YOUNG MATRONS DRAW JAIL TERMS

Feminine charm and sorrowful intonation of pleas failed to move Benjamin Kucera, special county judge, this morning when he sentenced two young women to 30 days in jail on charges of theft, in connection with alleged shop lifting at three stores yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Annie Dillard and Mrs. C. P. Blunt were arrested yesterday afternoon on charges of shop lifting merchandise valued at about $35 at Kessle's, Acorn and Jones dry goods stores, all located at Slaton.

They were brought to this city last night.

After pleading guilty this morning, the two pleaded lengthily before Special Judge Kucera for mercy, but to no avail.

Judge Kucera was elected to the special position by the bar association this morning, in the absence of County Judge Robert H. Bean, who is in Austin in the interest of highway matters.

One branch of the Santa Fe's proposed 380-mile new construction program is a 220-mile line from Amarillo to Las Animas, Colorado, passing through Pritchett, in Baca county, Colorado.

They indicated that Springfield citizens originally had been led to believe the route would come through their city, but Stewart denied any such promise had been made. He was questioned at length by Grand Jury, attorney of Lamar, and by A. C. Gordon, also representing the Lamar and Springfield contestants.

PROPOSED ROUTE GETS OPPOSITION OUT OF TWO CITIES

(By Associated Press.)

AMARILLO, Jan. 23.—A spirited contest over the routing of the proposed New Santa Fe lines in Southeastern Colorado developed at today's hearing here before Interstate Commerce Commission Examiner T. F. Sullivan.

J. W. Stewart, Amarillo, chief locating engineer for the Santa Fe, was cross examined at length by attorneys representing the cities of Lamar and Springfield, Colo. Stewart had been on the stand two hours yesterday.

HERE'S LATEST IN INSURANCE

LONDON, Jan. 23 (P)—Insuring a pedestrian against the damage he may do in a traffic accident is the latest wrinkle in policies here.

The company pioneering in personal liability insurance for jay-walkers charges $1.25 for a policy paying up to $2,500 toward any judgment against the pedestrian policyholder for an accident due to his negligence.

British magistrates already have held careless pedestrians liable for road crashes and ordered them to pay damages.

ORTIZ RUBIO HAS PRAISE FOR HOOVER

PRESIDENT-ELECT OF MEXICO LAUDS U. S.; TAKES POST SOON

(By Associated Press.)
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, in a brief interview today said that President Herbert Hoover personally went out of his way to demonstrate good will toward Mexico during the visit of Ortiz Rubio to Washington. He described him as an honest and cultured man who undoubtedly would do everything in his power to increase the cordiality of American relations with Mexico.

The president-elect said he found on his visit to the United States that Mexicans lawfully residing there and of good conduct were not molested by American authorities as had been charged in some newspapers here. He cited the fact that while he was in Kansas City the mayor had publicly eulogized the Mexican colony of that city.

The president-elect did not reply directly to a question as to what his government would do to protect Mexicans against injustices in the United States.

He announced that he would make known his cabinet on the eve of his inauguration on February 1.

MEXICAN WOMEN WELCOME FIRST LADY

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—Mexican women today welcomed the first lady of their land home from the United States with a parade of 250 automobiles driven and occupied entirely by women. The parade was headed by three women on horseback wearing native costumes and escorted by 20 men, riders in Mexican cowboy regalia.

The parade went from the statue of Independence to the home of President-elect Pascual Ortiz Rubio, where Señora Ortiz Rubio was given flowers. The leaders of the demonstration urged her to lead the women in a movement for social regeneration of Mexico.

GIL AND FAMILY TO VISIT IN EUROPE

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 23.—Although President Porfirio Gil has declined to make known what he plans to do after relinquishing his post to President-elect Ortiz Rubio February 1, the newspapers claim to have learned he will go to Europe with his family on a visit of recreation.

The papers say he will leave in March and will spend several weeks abroad, going by way of New York.

ICE GORGE WORRY TO FLOODED AREA

VINCENNES, Ind., Jan. 23.—Officials today awaited the report of an airplane pilot and a photographer who planned an aerial survey before determining what action should be taken toward breaking up the huge ice gorge near Riverton, Ind., several miles up the Wabash river from its mouth.

Protest of officials and residents of Mt. Carmel, Ill., and Vincennes last night halted plans to dynamite the gorge. The complainants said they feared the loosed ice and water might have disastrous results in the already flooded districts.

Coffin, Ind., was suffering from water both from the Wabash and Black rivers. The town is protected by a levee which was weakening. Should it break, a wall of water would be loosed onto the town.

William Fortune, head of the Indianapolis chapter of the Red Cross, said aviation from Fort Benjamin Harrison would be asked today to fly planes to Claypool Hill, near Decker, Ind., where thirty families were reported unharmed without supplies.

Little Houston Girl Accidentally Shot

HOUSTON, Jan. 23.—Geraldine Brooks, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brooks, was accidentally shot in the head at her home here last night by her uncle, Fred Rucker, 26, who was examining a .38 calibre pistol.

Lorena Brooks, 7, also was wounded in the left arm.

The younger child is in a critical condition.

Thirty workers in a proposed factory at Knitting, Sweden, are expected to produce 100,000 pairs of silk hosiery a year.

MEXICAN PARTY BESIEGES INDIANS WHO WIPED OUT HOME OF RANCHER; FIMBRES STILL AFTER FAMILY'S SLAYERS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Jan. 23.—(P)—Determined to exterminate the Apache Indian band which murdered Mrs. Francisco Fimbres, a party of Mexicans are organizing a winter watch at the portals of a deep set canyon in the Sierra Madre mountains.

At their head is Francisco Fimbres, husband of the slain woman and father of their young son, who disappeared at the time the Indian outlaws raided the Fimbres ranch three years ago.

The civilian party will be supplemented in the spring by a unit of the federal Mexican army, bringing the total besieging force to approximately 600.

Relentlessly since the visitation of savagery, Fimbres has stalked the marauders of his peaceful rancho. Only the recent Mexican revolution interrupted him.

Recently he succeeded in spotting his prey in a camp in the Canyon of the Caves. The heavy snows and steep walls of the canyon afford a natural protection which would make an attack suicidal, but the rigors of winter passes will, he believes, pin the quarry until spring.

Encamped at the mouth of the canyon Fimbres and his friends will await the breakup of winter and at the first opportunity they will strike.

Bloodhounds, backwoodsmen and cowboys have helped Fimbres in his numerous expeditions in pursuit of the Apaches.

Rogelio Loreto, president of Agua Prieta, used his influence to obtain from the Mexican government permits for Fimbres to wage war on the outlaws and help in the organizations of the stalking posse.

One expedition a year ago carried Fimbres and his men through tortuous mountain trails and deep snows to altitudes of 10,000 feet, but they found only abandoned camps.

From time to time, fairly authentic reports have been received that a white child has been seen in the company of the Apaches and Fimbres holds to the hope that his son has been kept in the custody of the red men, to be raised as a member of the tribe, and that he can be rescued when the besieged camp can be taken. The child was two when he disappeared.

A 2-year-old sister was spared by the raiders of the Fimbres ranch but the mother's mutilated body was found by the husband when he returned home after an absence of a few days.

NINETEEN TOWNS SEEK VET HOSPITAL

DALLAS AND FT. WORTH FAVORED; HEARING IS SCHEDULED

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—With Dallas and Fort Worth favored by the Veterans' Bureau, a hearing was held Wednesday on the location of the proposed $1,200,000 veterans hospital for Texas.

Towns seeking the hospital were Brownsville, Cleveland, Del Rio, Marlin, Mineral Wells, Raymondville, San Angelo, San Marcos, Kerrville, Austin, Palestine, Galveston, Brownwood, Eastland, Houston, Waco, Greenville, Dallas, and Fort Worth. Representatives from the districts in which these towns are located presented their claims to the federal board on location.

Among the points advanced were the climate of Austin, the "ideal transportation facilities" and dairy farms of Palestine, the temperate weather and southern hospitality of Marlin and Waco, the "quiet" of Greenville, and the Mineral waters of Mineral Wells and Marlin.

In the latter city, according to Representative Rayburn, "temptations do not allure." He said Greenville is far removed from the evils of narcotics and rum.

Houston was urged by Representative Garrett as an inland seaport with good climate all the year round. Representative Lee declared the government should recognize the rapidly developing west area and place the hospital at Mineral Wells, Brownwood or Eastland, centers of

PREPARATIONS MADE ON SHOW

FAT STOCK SHOW WILL HAVE NEW BUILDINGS
FOR THIS YEAR

(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, Jan. 23.—Having spent more than $250,000 on new buildings, and other improvements and having materially increased its prize lists in practically every department, the expanded Southwest Exposition and Fat Stock Show will be held here March 8 to 16.

Responses from breeders of fine livestock and poultry indicate that every foot of available floor space will be in use despite the fact that the new exhibit halls have almost doubled the amount of room heretofore available.

Two new exhibit halls have been erected to take the place of those destroyed by fire during the show last March.

One of the new buildings will house the poultry and the agricultural show. Merchants and manufacturers will occupy most of one of the other new exhibit halls.

Scouts are in the field obtaining the pick of rodeo livestock for the show. A number of bulldozing steers already have been corralled and are being fed in the exposition livestock pens to get in first class condition for the rodeo.

The sales feature will be one of the attractions at the livestock and poultry shows. It is estimated that almost $400,000 worth of blooded livestock will exchange hands during the eight days of the exposition.

MUCH CATTLE PUT ON FEED

MILLION HEAD BEING FED IN PANHANDLE,
BUTLER SAYS

(By Associated Press)
AMARILLO, Jan. 23.—Cattlemen in the Texas Panhandle are feeding a million head this winter, the largest number in any section of the country, according to Grover C. Butler, secretary of the Panhandle livestock association, estimates.

"We have about a million cattle feeding in the Panhandle this winter," he said. "It is not as many as we usually have. There are many cattle being fed on full feed. Most of them are both feed and pasture."

"The pastures this winter have been in good shape. I do not think the cold weather has hurt cattle as much as people think. We know better how to take care of them."

Mr. Butler estimates the normal movement out of the Panhandle in a year is between 500,000 and 600,000 head. Most of the young stuff goes to Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois," he added.

Intimate Chats

with Eve Ve Verka on PERSONALITY-BEAUTY-HEALTH

Madame Ve Verka Will Conduct The Avalanche-Journal Free School of Beauty and Charm, February 3-7

Which do you like best, winter or summer? Why?

Both seasons have points to recommend them, from the point of view of the health seeker. The out-of-doors calls in summer, and most of us are more active during the balmy season. That means health. But it's healthy in summertime for the germs, too, and not so healthy in the cold of winter. Germs need warmth to grow.

And so it goes. Very much as the old lady used to remark, with a gesture of resigned dismissal, "It's six of one, and half a dozen of the other." I could multiply the parallel comparison indefinitely.

But certain it is that in winter, for all its germ-proof blanket of coldness and its invigorating winds, does present one pitfall to those who endeavor to keep a high standard of health.

And that pitfall is the winter diet. In winter the body needs more fuel foods than in summer. It must be kept warm, not only from without, but from within. There is a legitimate natural craving for those foods which produce heat in the body.

But most of us abuse this natural call of the body for a rich (that is, a heat and energy giving) diet. We overeat.

And our overeating is of rich, fatty, greasy, meat, dishes and heavy sweets and pastries. With the overeating of meats and sweets in the body chemistry.

The digestion of meats leaves an acid residue in the system. Cereals likewise. Sugars, taken in excess of actual need (which is amazingly low) form what are called secondary acids which cause all kinds of trouble in the body. Taken in normal quantities, sugars leave a neutral ash.

And so it is that very frequently in winter, we produce in our systems, condition of acidity which is known to be extremely favorable to the old enemy, the cold germ. Out-germs, too.

The condition of acidity produces many unpleasant symptoms. In the body, many persons who suffer from vague, scarce-defined ills could trace the source to acidity. Hyperacidity tills the soil of the body for disaster. The diet, therefore, should be rigorously censored, and surplus meat and sugars denied. For them, should be substituted those foods which leave a residue of alkaline ash.

This alkaline ash will counteract the too-great acidity and preserve the proper chemical balance in the body.

Foods which leave an alkaline ash are as follows: all fruits (except plums and cranberries), all vegetables and milk.

If you find yourself willy-nilly with a cold, an emergency means of counteracting these acids, is the taking of a teaspoon of baking soda every two hours in a glass of warm water. The cold itself produces an acidity, which the soda neutralizes.

Dr. V. S. Cheney, medical director of a great industrial enterprise has done much to popularize this antidote for colds.

The periodical taking of baking soda for other purposes, however, is to be discouraged.

What difference does a few years in age make between husband and wife?

It may make a lot. And it may and should make no difference whatever.

If you marry a man or woman a lot older than yourself and then keep thinking of that difference and impressing it on everyone you know, you will eventually succeed in making your partner old and he or she will probably begin to act that way. This may make a breach between you that will keep widening until you will really feel as if you had contracted a measliness.

Years make very little difference in the real youth or age of people. We all have seen old people in their teens or early twenties and young people of three score and ten or more. An alert intellect and vigorous body with a faculty for getting enjoyment out of life at all times will make any one seem young, no matter what the family Bible has to say about their age.

So why let a few years, more or less, spoil a romance if you love one another?

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am another reader of your 'Living and Loving' column, and think it is great. Would you please advise me about this? I am 18 and am going with a fellow about 11 years older than myself. He wants me to marry him in several months. I think he is the only one, but some people say so much difference in age would cause us not to get along. We never quarrel.

"I've been with quite a number of fellows and don't care for them at all beside him. I'm not like some of the girls that write in and have just been with a fellow."

"WONDERING."

If you love your boy friend and you are congenial—as you evidently are, from your letter—marry him, no matter what anyone says. You may take a little more seriously than he, come 18-year-old girls and enjoy the comradeship of a man a bit older, and he may be the boyish type of man. Anyway, what's the difference as long as you're happy together?

A charming young sage of 17 writes:

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I just want to say to the girls between 15 and 18 years, that if they think they're in love and write for advice but say they cannot give up this or that boy, they have a lot to learn. I am over 17 and about to graduate from high school.

"Boys, as well as girls, make up part of my life. But love has never entered my mind. A true friendship between high school boys and girls will be more appreciated when these children grow up rather than this play at romance business.

"Don't think I'm the grandmother sort, because I like to have good times as well as others, but there are good and bad ways of having a good time.

"Good luck to you, Virginia Lee. Your task is a hard one. Many do not realize it. SUE."

In the words of the immortal Shakespeare, Sue dear, "A Daniel come to judgment, a very Daniel." Thank you very much for your kind words about the column and your appreciation of what it means to try, even in a very humble way, to help people out of their difficulties.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a reader of your column and enjoy it very much.

"Virginia, do you remember 'Disguised'? I've been thinking of her ever since I read her letter. I know her, felling, and advise her not to leave home. My father watched me and my friends. We didn't allow me to leave the house even on Sunday

DAIRYING IS ON INCREASE

NEW WEATHER RAPIDLY SHOWING UP IN HALE COUNTY FARMS

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 23.—A new wealth that is rapidly coming to the Panhandle-Plains country is making itself especially well known in Hale county. That prosperity follows the dairy cow can be plainly seen when figures for 1929 obtained by the Plainview Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture show that 800,000 pounds of butter were shipped out from this city. Accounting for this figure there were 525,000 pounds of butterfat sold to local buyers bringing to Hale county dairy farmers approximately $210,000,000.

While the above figures are not astounding to those who have kept in touch with the rapid development going on in this section in the dairy industry they are at the same time a tremendous increase over any previous year.

Show Is Responsible
Largely responsible for the increased dairy production has been the Texas Panhandle-Plains Dairy show held here annually. Its effect has been felt not only in Hale county but in practically every county in the Panhandle of Texas. Hale county's agricultural program, directed by the county agricultural and home demonstration agents, is responsible for much of the interest in the dairy business.

Dallas Newspaper Man Is Found Dead

DALLAS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Wilbur S. Shaw, 33, Dallas newspaper man and editor of the Dallasite, a magazine, was found dead at a street intersection in the residence district today. He apparently had been frozen to death, or hit by an automobile.

Shaw was last seen in the press room at the city hall late Tuesday. His watch, the crystal shattered, had stopped at 10:23 o'clock last night. His body bore no marks above the waist indicating he had been killed but his legs were bruised. One hand had been injured, and his hat, with blood on it, was found 30 yards from the body.

GIGANTIC WATER POWER PROJECT IS PLANNED FOR THREE COUNTIES; WILL COST SEVENTEEN MILLION DOLLARS

(By Associated Press)

LLANO, Jan. 23.—A development company has obtained options to purchase land, fronting Colorado river in Llano and Burnet counties, preparatory to erection of a hydro-electric dam near Kingsland. Llano county. It is the largest unit in a proposed six-dam $17,000,000 water power development of Colorado river in Travis, Llano and Burnet counties.

It is said the proposed Kingsland dam will cost eleven million dollars, and will call for two or three years construction period. It will be approximately two miles long and 130 feet high. The reservoir will store 1,150,000 acre-feet water as a year round power supply for five dams below. Water will be backed up a distance of six or seven miles above Kingsland. It is said.

Mills To Have Dam
An upper power dam will be located two miles below Marble Falls, where an existing low dam of the Textile Mills company will be built up and completed.

Llano center of the granite industry in Texas, is the largest potential user of electrical power to be generated by the Kingsland dam. During 35 years of the local granite business, the industry has been hampered by lack of dependable fuel and transportation.

Six quarries and six finishing plants operate in Llano county some still using oil and steam engines. The surface of an inexhaustible supply of monumental and building stone has barely been scratched.

YEAR OUTLOOK IS FAVORABLE

ALL PHASES OF WORK IN TEXAS FACING GOOD SEASON

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Jan. 23.—Industrial, agricultural and general employment prospects for 1930 are given in a pamphlet just released by the United States Department of Labor and received by Harold M. Young, assistant district manager of the Dallas district office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Francis I. Jones, director general, stated that although in the last few months of 1929 industry receded and unemployment became pronounced, 1929 was an outstanding business year. Confidence, the fulcrum of business, was considerably shaken but vigor and strength again were evidencing themselves, he said, and predicted 1930 would measure 1929 in volume of business.

Prospects Favorable
Regarding Texas, the report stated the industrial prospects compared favorably with those existing a year ago. While the present outlook in the textile and lumber industries was only fair, the optimism was expressed improvement would be shown in the second quarter of 1930. Other industries reported a more favorable outlook and the consensus was that when many projects planned were under way, resident labor would be well employed. A large volume of building was reported from the principal Texas cities, which was expected to give steady employment to all those craftsmen. An increase in the amount of public works over 1929 and a large amount of money spent on highway construction, levee construction, and flood control projects was likely. No change in the acreage planted was expected. In this connection, it was stated that although some of the cotton farmers might reduce acreage in answer to the call of the Federal Farm Board, the appropriation was that the acreage would be planted to something else and not abandoned.

NORWAY'S AID MAY BE ASKED FOR EXPLORER

TWO SUPPLY SHIPS MAY NOT BE ABLE TO REACH BASE

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The New York Times will ask a report originating with an amateur radio operator in Washingtonville, Ohio, that the City of New York flag-ship of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, has reached the Antarctic ice barrier on which is Little America. Admiral Byrd's base, was declared today to be with bases in fact by Captain H. H. Bailey, manager of the expedition and personal representative of Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, in New York.

"On the contrary," said Captain Bailey. "The City of New York has reached only the edge of the ice pack, in Ross Sea, a very different matter, and owing to the unprecedented condition of the ice pack, the New York and the Eleanor Bolling may not succeed in negotiating the southward passage to Admiral Byrd's base—at least not without the aid of larger vessels. This is a critical contingency. The Eleanor Bolling will join the City of New York on the northern edge of the ice pack about January 28. If by that time the ice is sufficiently open both vessels will proceed to Little America. But there is at present no indication that the ice pack will be sufficiently open."

Asking For Assistance
"We are therefore asking the assistance of the state department to solicit the cooperation of the Norwegian government in making available to Admiral Byrd the aid of the powerful whaling vessels now fishing north of the ice pack. Five such vessels are now within striking distance of Little America, designed especially for operations in the Antarctic. One of these ships can force her way through the pack and negotiate the return voyage northward in ten days under normal conditions."

"To avoid spending another year in ice barrier the expedition must depart from its base at Little America not later than February 20."

"CON" GAME STILL WORKING THOROUGHLY; MAN LOSES $4,500 IN SAN ANTONIO SWINDLE

(By Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 23.—These new fangled rackets may be "the real Mac" in Chicago, but the old time confidence game still gets the call in the Alamo city.

The same game which turned J. Frank Norfleet from a peaceful citizen into a nationally known manhunter went over big for three "con" men here and a winter tourist is minus $4,500.

Became Victims
Norfleet was victimized and straightaway became a nemesis among confidence men, sending many to prison.

E. Miller, of Minneapolis, Minn., a tourist, met two middle-aged men who seemed friendly enough. Days passed with them becoming closer acquainted. Then the trap was sprung.

A friend of Miller's new acquaintances had a tip on the stock market. Miller was persuaded to play with his friends. They won almost $50,000 paper profits. But before they could collect, another man, the tipster, told the trio they would have to show $25,000. One of the "friends" said he could get $10,000 and the second, promised to ante $10,500. Miller put up $4,500.

Then came a hurry call to one of the friends after the pool had been collected from the stock tipster who had the winnings. The friend had to go to Atlanta, Ga. He agreed to meet Miller there and split his winnings.

Miller followed. Finally he went back to Minneapolis. Chief of Police Owen Kilday of San Antonio heard of the swindle and wired Miller to return to the city at the expense of the police chief. Miller did and became the guest of Chief Kilday while detectives combed the city for the three "con" men.

Parrot Fever Germ Given Isolation

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (AP)—The organism causing psittacosis, or parrot fever, has been isolated in the bodily excretions of Mrs. Vearle Whitson of Westmont, Ill. Dr. Lloyd Arnold of the state board of health said today.

Dr. Arnold last week found the same bacteria in the body of a parrot owned by Mrs. Whitson. The parrot died.

Mrs. Whitson has been ill two weeks but her condition has been improving daily.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

The bewitching charm of soft, flattering curves... the lure of a graceful, modern figure... don't spoil it by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. Over-indulgence is not commended—when tempted to over-indulge, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that modern, enchantingly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

BILL TILDEN MEANS IT THIS TIME

WHO WILL BE MISSING IN THE DAVIS CUP COMPETITION FOR THE FIRST TIME IN OVER TEN YEARS

BY JACK SORDS

Central Press Sports Cartoonist-Writer

Father Time has chalked up another victory, for it appears that Bill Tilden means it this time in announcing his withdrawal from international competition in the future.

This season will be the first in a good number of years that the once invincible Tilden will be missing from the Davis Cup team in 1919 to help bring home the famous trophy that then rested with Australia. Bill Tilden has carried the brunt of America's attack. Even after the departure of the silver cup for foreign shores his efforts have been foremost in the attempts to bring it back. But 37 years is a heavy load on a tennis player's shoulders and the strain of grueling matches proved too much for the lanky veteran.

In his prime Tilden probably was the greatest star the racquet game has ever known, and with little Bill Johnston, the pair formed the strongest of all Davis Cup doubles combinations.

ROVING THE SPORTS WORLD

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
JOURNAL SPORTS EDITOR

Baseball fans of Texas have turned their eyes toward the 1930 League campaign in an effort to pick from the eight clubs entered a team or teams that look like the best bets to lead the pack through the coming season. Advance notes give the Fort Worth Panthers, Beaumont Exporters and the Houston Buffs the inside track while the strength of the remainder of the crowd is at the present time a rank uncertainty. Wholesale rebuilding is the order in practically every Texas League City and all three of the favored leaders mentioned above will have their lineups bolstered by former major leaguers.

Ted Robinson and Sam Lard, the new Fort Worth owners, have been spending tons of dough in their efforts to give the Cowtown another pennant winner. At Houston, the Buffs fans are greeted almost daily by news from "headquarters" in St. Louis, informing them of the release of one or more Cardinals to Houston. Beaumont is the dark horse of the club, but at the same time the club shapes up as a powerful diamond aggregation. "Big O" Eckhardt, former Texas University star who once roamed the outfield for the Amarillo Texans and later went to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, is practically assured of a berth on the Beaumont outfield.

Shreveport, the Louisiana entry in the Texas League, is facing the problem of reshaping its entire infield with the exception of first base. The Sports have an abundance of fly chasers, but must find a new third sacker, shortstop and second baseman. Two major vacancies appear on the left side of the infield following the promotion of Shreveport Bernie Deriviers and Third Baseman Ernie Holman. The flashy Shipper shortstop has been sold to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast league and Holman goes to the Boston Braves. Both of these played prominent parts in the Shreveport club last year, and will be extremely hard to replace.

Second base has also been left open as a result of a sale to a major league club. Cecil Stewart, key-stone guardian, was turned over to the Cleveland Indians last fall on option. But Shreveport fans believe the Cleveland management will turn Stewart back to Shipper headquarters unless they decide to purchase him outright. Gus Whelan, at first base, is the only member of the 1929 infield that is now on the team's roster.

Compensation for the shortstop position left open by Deriviers will be keen, but a promising recruit from the South Plains, E. Mueller, who hails from Littlefield, is likely to give Joe Huarte from Lynn of the New England league a battle for the job. Mueller formerly played second base for Lubbock and last year was with Ballinger in the West Texas league. The leading candidate for the hot corner post is Baker, with Piedmont last summer. He was drafted by Lynn and that club sold him to the Sports. Two other youngsters, William Andrews from Terre Haute and C. Smith from Lindale of the Georgia-Alabama circuit, are out for this position.

This column, for several reasons, had no comment to make on the recent statement of the Rev. H. L. Munger, pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, when the latter took this and other newspapers to task for neglecting church news and giving too much space to sports and other subjects. We were and still are, of the opinion that the pastor had a perfect right to express his views on the matter and that our side of it would be superfluous. Naturally we feel that Munger's opinion is biased and based upon misinformation, but an expression of ours concerning the pulp would probably be just as far wrong.

Jinx Tucker, Waco News-Tribune sports scribe, recently took occasion to differ with Rev. Munger and we reprint here his opinion on the subject:

The Lubbock minister's opinion on the amount of space given to sports in modern-day newspapers is very interesting, because it goes to show how gravely mistaken a pastor can be. Perhaps the world would be better off if the Lubbock minister were correct. We believe it would be nearer correct, if he said that for every one that is 20 interested in the religious page of a newspaper, we stop to wonder just where the minister got such misinformation. We believe it would be nearer correct, if he said that for every one that first turns to the religious page of a newspaper, there are 100 who turn to the sports page.

Speaking further, Tucker says: "We note that this newspaper never did make a suspension of service to answer questions relative to how many converts there were at certain revivals. It would be unusual if even one would be interested enough to ask a question along that line, yet on football and baseball results there have been as many as 3,000 queries in a day. The most important of the religious meetings have drawn about one-tenth as many people as attend the most important football games in this section."

Although dropping both games of their two-ply series with the Tech Matadors, the members of the Oklahoma Christian college basketball squad which closed its two-day stand here Wednesday night won the admiration of hundreds of Lubbock college fans for the unusual sportsmanship exhibited. The Soon-

TECH QUINTET CHALKS UP 7TH STRAIGHT WIN SMITH AND ESPINOSA TIE IN AGUA CALIENTA

OKLAHOMANS AGAIN LOSE TO MATADORS

LOCAL COLLEGIANS ARE OUT IN FRONT WITH CAGE RESULTS

A fiery Mustang from Oklahoma Christian college, dominating play for a brief spell last night at the college gymnasium but its belated stampede lacked the sustained force to overcome a long lead piled up by the flying Texas Tech cagers and the Matador quintet swept the two game series with the invaders, 42 to 24, to run its string of court victories to seven straight.

Finding the basketballers from Soonerland without the hustle that characterized their performance of the first night, the Tech aggregation last night was not so hard pressed for victory as on Tuesday night. A near-capacity crowd packed the Matador basketball plant to see the Paymen win their seventh successive game and hold their record clear for the season.

Rest Up This Week

The Matadors rest up the remainder of this week in preparation for four successive games next week with teams from the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association. On Monday and Tuesday nights the Wildcats of Abilene Christian college will pay their annual visit to the Tech arena. Sul Ross Lobos are here on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

These four games will wind up the long home stand for the local quintet for on the week following Coach will lead his charges on their yearly assault on Abilene where five games will be played on successive nights. The series starts on Feb. 3. Two games are carded with McMurry, one with Simmons and two with A. C. C.

Thrills Aplenty

Although last night's exhibition lacked the sparkle that characterized the opening fray between the two clubs, the contest was packed with thrills and at one juncture it appeared that the Christians would overtake the Matadors with a wild shower of baskets. The visitors were trailing, 19 to 6, at the half, but came back with a rush at the outset of the closing frame and were within six points of the locals in short order.

Tech's first marker came on the first tip-off when Bill Maxwell sank a field goal from close range. Pyron, flashy but diminutive Mustang forward, knotted the count a minute later when he tossed a pair of free throws through the hoop. This was the signal for the Matadors to break loose, and with Clarence Hodges setting the pace, the Paymen went into the lead and were never headed.

Hodges shines during the first half game from all angles. The speedy Matador forward broke through to score cripes, made beautiful one-handed thrusts and when backed away from the netting sank two-pointers from the extreme corners. Maxwell, with 7 points during the first period, was Hodges' running mate in the opening stanza, the two together accounting for 17 of the 19 points registered by the locals during the first 20 minutes of play.

Playing without the services of Roy Minis, their rangy center, the Mustangs were never quite able to gain their stride. So consistently were the visiting forwards bottled up that only two field goals were made by the invaders in the first half. Credit here must be given the Tech man-for-man defense, which functioned almost to perfection during the early part of the fray.

Visitors Come Back

Maddox, Pyron and Windle found their shooting range for a spell at the beginning of the last period that made matters look dark for the Tech cause. The inevitable let-down on the part of the Matador defense was responsible in a large measure for this spurt.

Just when it appeared that their lead was seriously threatened, the Tech five came to life again and started another assault on the netting that sent them far into the van of their opponents. Hodges continued his scoring tactics and was ably assisted by Fisher's passing. The latter also did a little firing on his own part, sinking four field goals during the half.

Maxwell Has Trouble

Bill Maxwell, who led the Matadors in scoring in the opening game, found himself completely covered last night, with the husky Maddox dogging his tracks continually. But despite this, the Tech rebound artist carried off second scoring honors with 11 points. Hodges was high with 18 markers.

Al Maddox, with 8 points, was the leading scorer for the Cordell aggregation.

er boys played hard and clean, taking all decisions without a grumble and battling up until the last whistle.

This is the type of athletics that college officials welcome to Lubbock and the sort that always carry the well-wishes of the spectators. The majority of the visitors from Cordell were strongly impressed with Texas Tech and it would not be at all surprising to see several members of the team that played here enter the Matador school next fall.

PIONEER OF RING WIPES PICTURES AND WOODWORK ABOUT MADISON SQUARE GARDEN; SAYS OLD TIMERS WERE TOUGH

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Madison Square Garden is a dim, cool place in the afternoon, full of shadows that blot the outlines of the battle ring and fuse the endless rows of empty seats into banks of dark. Footsteps echo loudly, and folks usually talk in whispers in the amphitheater that by night blazes with light and roars to the roars of fight rapt multitudes.

There are dim figures, too, in the corridors, mostly wasted old fellows with mops and pails of suds, washing floors for an hourly wage. There are others dusting the walls, wiping the glasses in huge pictures that show the likeness of the late Tex Rickard, John L. Sullivan, Dempsey, Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Jack Johnson, Joe Gans and hosts of almost forgotten warriors of the ring.

Only one of the charmen hums to himself, whistles occasionally, chuckles at his work. He's a short, chunky, happy negro with arms that stretch down to his knees. His shoes are almost without form, his trousers baggy, mismatched. A gray checkered coat sweater, fitting his arms all right, stretched down to his knees in incongruous fashion. Diligently he wipes pictures and woodwork with a dirty cloth, a shapeless cap on the back of his black hairless head, a grin on his wide, flat features.

Yet this happy negro, 58 years old and glad of the chance to work at mental tasks, is Joe Walcott, the Barbadoes demon, perhaps the greatest fighter that ever lived. He once weighed 129 pounds, for an epic battle with Kid Lavigne, and as the welterweight champion of 35 years ago he never scaled over 142 pounds. But he knocked out great fighters in five classes—Lightweight, welterweight, middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight. His most amazing victory was a seven-round knockout of Joe Chynoweth, crack heavyweight, when Walcott weighed 146.

Today he polishes the pictures of men who quailed before him decades ago, ring heroes now dead, whose shades might tremble a bit even now at the touch of Walcott's hands, now harmless. He fought when a lifetime's earnings in the ring did not equal the pittance paid ordinary fighters today for a single bout.

Furthermore, he doesn't think that the entire crop of fighters in the smaller classes today could have furnished George Lavigne, Saginaw Kid, with an interesting night's work. Joe has a tremendous respect for Lavigne, as well as Tommy West, who had a disconcerting habit of biting chunks from his scalp in the bloody battles they fought decades ago.

The old timers, Joe says, were tougher, stronger, were just as good boxers, and took the game more seriously than do the gladiators of the present era. To his mind, the easiest men to bring down were the big fellows despite his own scanty five feet of height.

"Ah liked to play with them big boys," Joe grinned as he swabbed away at the woodwork. "Ah has habit of biting chunks from his scalp in the bloody battles they fought decades ago."

"I was able to run so far and so fast when I won the London Olympic race at 22. I weighed 118 pounds."

ONE STROKE IS HELD OVER OTHER STARS

PACEMAKERS TURN IN 224 CARDS FOR 1ST 3 DAYS

(By Associated Press)

AGUA CALIENTE, Lower California, Jan. 23.—The stubborn Agua Caliente course, which through 34 holes of play held its par of 71 unbroken, today stretched before 58 prospectors for the world's largest golf treasure in the final round of the $25,000 classic.

Two pacemakers, Horton Smith of Joplin, Mo., and Al Espinosa, Chicago, clung to a meager one-stroke advantage as they turned to the final eighteen holes, eleven strokes over perfect figures. Their score for three days play stood at 224.

Nearest contenders were Al Watrous, Detroit, Charles Guest, Los Angeles, and Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, Calif., a stroke behind the 21-year-old Missourian and the ardent of the fairways from Chicago. Two strokes away was Johnny Farrell, the strongest eastern threat while Mortie Dutra, Tacoma, Wash., MacDonald Smith, Long Island, N. Y., and Gene Sarazen, New York, held close to the front with 275.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 23 (AP)—More than 130 of the leading lights of Simon Pure Golf in Texas and a number of out-of-state devotees of the ancient and profane pastime will swing into action today in the first annual San Antonio Country club invitation tournament.

Of these starters, sixty-six will qualify for play in three flights during the following three days.

Many of the visiting golfers and local entrants shivered through final practice rounds on the course Wednesday in preparation for the event.

TOLLEY MAY PLAY IN NATIONAL OPEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Unless his business interferes, Cyril Tolley, British amateur golf champion, expects to compete in the United States amateur and open championships this year. Tolley's business keeps him in the United States a large part of the year and will give him the opportunity to compete unless it is pressing too hard at the time the tournaments take place.

"I am looking forward especially to the open," he said yesterday. "For as yet I have never competed in one of your national open championships."

He expects to return to England April 30 to take part in the Walker cup matches. If he is chosen for the British team, and in the British championships, he will return later in the summer.

Temperatures of 30 and 90 degrees below zero are not uncommon in Little America. During last September the average temperature there was 44 degrees below.

HOLDING OUT IS ONLY A HABIT, CLAIMS BASEBALL MAGNATE.

DON'T BOTHER ME WITH NO MORE CONTRACTS UNLESS YOU CAN OFFER ME REAL DOUGH, AS I AM PLANNING ON GOING AFTER THE HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP!

WELL, THEN I'VE GOT A NEW ARGUMENT THIS YEAR, ANYWAY.

WELL, IT'S ABOUT TIME TO HOLD OUT AGAIN. I'LL JUST MAKE IT TOO GRAND AND GET MY NAME IN THE PAPERS!

SINCE HOLDING OUT DOESN'T MEAN ANYTHING, A GUY MAY AS WELL DO IT UP RIGHT.

DID YOU GET YOUR PRICE, DUGAN?

CITY PLAN IS ASKED HERE

PLAN COMMITTEE WILL MAKE REPORT TODAY ON STUDIES

A lengthy considered city plan will be recommended to the Lubbock City Commissioners when a committee from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development appears before the municipal body this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Members of the city planning group are Charles A. Guy, chairman; N. L. Peters, H. N. Roberts, J. B. Maxey, C. H. Mahoney and George Benson.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and BCD accepted the report of the committee and passed a vote of thanks December 20.

WESTERNERS PLAY LAMESA TONIGHT

Repulsed repeatedly by their opponents in practice games, the Westerners of Lubbock High school will make another desperate attempt to break into the win column tonight at Lamesa when they tangle with the Golden Tornadoes in what promises to be a close struggle.

The Lamesa court aggression has won the majority of its games thus far and unless the Westerners show more than they have been able to exhibit in previous contests, the Lubbock crew will likely take another beating.

On February 14 the Tornadoes will come to Lubbock for a return match with the Westerners. Saturday night at the college gymnasium the local high school quintet will meet the Crosbyville Chiefs in another practice skirmish. The Morgan-coached five is given an even chance to take the measure of the lads from the Crosby county capital.

Weather May Keep Lettuce From Feast

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23. (AP)—Unless the weather moderates before Friday, delegates to the 26th annual convention of the Western Fruit Jobbers association, which opens here tomorrow, will be without their banquet lettuce. A carload of what Secretary William Garfitt termed the "finest lettuce ever shipped" cannot be unloaded from its especially constructed refrigerator car without freezing, according to railroad officials. The carload, 1,300 heads, was contributed by growers after they had canvassed the entire Imperial Valley of California for special heads.

However, the convention will have its grape fruit as 2,000 of a new pink seedless variety arrived from growers at Mission, Texas.

NEW RADIO TUBE IS DEVELOPED; WILL CUT DOWN NUMBER OF UNITS REQUIRED

Here are the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Self—his 29 and she 63—enjoying a pleasant hour looking at the wonderful scene as disclosed by the first Mr. Self's old-fashioned stereoscope.

BY NEA Service

TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 23.—The groom is 29 and the bride is 63, and they are enjoying their honeymoon as much as anybody could ask, even if the bride's grown children are a bit upset about it.

But that doesn't bother the newbyes—Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Self. He calls her Trixie and she calls him Gene.

The groom was a nephew of Mrs. Self's first husband, Jefferson Self, and he helped out around the house during the husband's last illness. Then he went to work for the widow, planting raspberries on her 10-acre ranch. And as the raspberries ripened, love ripened. Mrs. Self says:

"I looked at Gene and he looked at me, and I said, 'Gene, if I was younger I think I'd marry you, and then nobody could make you leave the place.' He didn't say anything. Then next day I said, 'Gene, if you don't want to get married I'll adopt you.' He looked at me a minute and said, 'Oh, shucks, Trixie, if you want to we'll get married.'"

"Folks tease us, but I don't mind. I declare, getting married has taken years off my age. I don't feel a day older than a girl of 45. After you've lived with a man for years, like me and my first husband, you get so you need one around the house."

"I kept one husband, so why can't I keep another? There's just two rules for keeping a husband—feed him well and give him lots of hugging and kissing."

The cottage the honeymooners occupy is a mixture of the old and new. An old rosewood organ and an old-fashioned stereoscope represent the amusements of the first Mr. Self; a radio and phonograph have been installed by the second.

"No one ever had a better wife," says Self. "She feeds me better than anyone in the neighborhood. We get along fine, don't we Trixie?"

"Indeed we do!" smiles Trixie.

Eckhart Dissatisfied With Beaumont Club

EL PASO, Jan. 23. (AP)—Oscar Eckhart, former Texas University football star, who in a Seattle uniform led the Coast League in triples last year, today prepared to return a 1936 contract to play with Beaumont in the Texas League to whom he has been sold. He said it was unsatisfactory.

Trapp To Run For Oklahoma Office

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Jan. 23. (AP)—M. E. Trapp, former governor of Oklahoma, announced today that he would be a candidate for nomination for governor in the democratic ticket in the primary election next summer. He asserted he would base his campaign platform on his record in the executive office and the application of business methods for government.

Trapp was elevated from lieutenant governor to the governor's office in 1923 by the impeachment and removal of Jack Walton.

MICHIGAN OFFICIAL ATTACKS REPORT

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 23. (AP)—Professor Ralph W. Algier, chairman of the board in control of athletics of the University of Michigan, in a letter to Dr. Howard J. Savage of New York, author of bulletin 23 of the Carnegie foundation, accuses Dr. Savage of having "no intention to be fair and accurate" in the bulletin, which cites a number of colleges and universities as "subsidizing" or "recruiting" athletes.

The letter answers statements by Dr. Savage after Professor Algier's annual report was presented to the university faculty Monday night. Professor Algier gave out a copy of the letter for publication today.

Professor Algier accuses Dr. Savage of questionable tactics in sending to the president of the University of Michigan a report of conditions at Ann Arbor different from the report which he incorporated in bulletin 23, and of making misleading inferences in his report of athletic conditions at Michigan. The professor reiterates his accusation that the investigator removed letters from the files of the athletic department to which he was allowed full access and returned photostatic copies when the originals were requested.

GIRL DIES OF BLAST BURNS

MISS B. ROUNDTREE IS VICTIM OF BURNS HERE WEDNESDAY

Miss Beatrice Roundtree, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Roundtree, of Enoch, 60 miles northwest of Lubbock, died last night at 8:55 o'clock in a local sanitarium as result of burns suffered Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock when an oil stove exploded at the family residence.

The mother is also in a serious condition, after having received burns around her arms and hands.

The body of the daughter was severely saturated. The accident occurred while she was refueling the stove in preparation for the noon meal.

An ambulance from Littlefield carried the body overland last night to that city, where funeral services are scheduled to be held today.

The father and mother, four brothers and sisters, and an uncle, Ed Atkins, of Littlefield, survive.

An informal program, inaugurating a series of meetings, was observed last night by the Lubbock Hi-Y group, which met at the Logan store on 14th street.

night to change and hold regular weekly banquet programs.

With Dan Powers as sponsor the program last night was featured by musical numbers presented by Reuben Dyess, U. V. Blake and Max L. Raine.

Legal Battle Over Board's Order Opens

MADISON, Wis., Jan. 23. (AP)—A legal battle to test the power of the state real estate brokers' board in barring the sale of certain Texas land in Wisconsin, was launched today.

John Schunk, Milwaukee broker, obtained a temporary injunction from Circuit Judge A. C. Hopmann to prevent the board from interfering with his sale of Texas property.

A. T. Uehling, Madison, member of the board said, a conference would be held with the attorney general to determine what action should be taken in rebuttal.

At the Cross-Roads of Health
SSS has meant a new day to many a person

A CLEAR SKIN comes from within

Lack of appetite, loss of strength, skin eruptions, that "tired feeling" and other human ills may be due to a lack of red-cells in your blood.

If you are tired—lack you—if your skin is not clear—if your appetite is "gone"—you owe it to yourself and friends to try S.S.S.

"MY despair was so great I could have cried. The good cheer and merry happiness of others only mocked at my condition. I had begun to wonder why life could be so cruel. No appetite. No strength. Skin blemishes always embarrassed me. Aches and pains coursed through my body. I wanted to restore my health and live. What was I to do? . . . happily the day came and I found the right road to Health when a friend recommended S.S.S."

You may be one of the thousands with a low blood count—to this may be attributed "run-down" systems, skin troubles, and even more serious ailments. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

SSS You owe it to yourself and friends to give S.S.S. a trial. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.
