Showdown Is Seen Today On Filibuster

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 9 — Senate anti-filibuster leaders claimed "unexpected" Republican support tonight for a showdown attempt to break the southern-led talkathon tomorrow.

The debate, directly involving the right of filibustering and indirectly keyed to the bitter civil rights controversy, has jammed the Senate's legislative machinery for nine days.

Majority leader Lucas (D-Ill) told newsmen late this afternoon that 33 senators so far had signed a petition to end the Dixie filibuster against a proposed change in Senate rules. The change would open the way to curbing filibusters and thus make it easier to pass civil rights legislation.

To Be Filed Today

The list included three GOP senators—Flanders (Vt), Reed (Kans) and Smith (NJ)—who had previously gone on record as saying they would vote against an attempt to halt the debate at this stage.

Only 16 names are required on the so-called cloture (debate limiting) petition, which Lucas said he will file tomorrow.

Lucas reiterated his intention to file the petition tomorrow as the Senate at 8:01 p.m. (CST) wound up its second consecutive night session. Senator McClellan (D-Ark) held the floor through the evening.

Showdown Expected

"The Senate must get along with its business," Lucas said in making the announcement.

He later told newsmen he thinks Vice President Barkley will rule tomorrow on whether the petition can be entertained. The Illinois senator said he expects a showdown vote on that ruling Friday.

But if Vice President Barkley rules that the petition can be entertained a majority of those present will be necessary to uphold his ruling. And to put an actual limit on debate requires a two-thirds majority. The Senate has 96 seats.

Among the signers of the petition were 17 Democrats and 16 Republicans.

Taft Among Signers

The GOP signers included Senators Taft (Ohio), Knowland (Calif), Ives (NY), Tobey (NH), Saltonstall and Lodge (Mass), Flanders (Vt), Ferguson (Mich), Baldwin (Conn), Brewster and Mrs. Smith (Maine), Thye (Minn), Morse (Ore), Reed (Kans), and Hendrickson and Smith (NJ).

Senator Reed told a reporter

Lyndon Johnson Joins Filibuster

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) made his first Senate speech today, a prepared 7,500 word statement opposing the move to limit debate.

It was a part of the southern filibuster and it was full of arguments defending the tradition of unbridled debate in the Senate.

Only a score of senators were in the chamber throughout most of the speech—an average attendance when the filibuster is the sole order of business, but most of them listened attentively as the tall, slender Texan read quietly and unemotionally through his script.

Dallas Teacher Wins Court Case Over Student Whipping

DALLAS, March 9. (AP)—Schoolteacher Nellie Golightly today won a lawsuit in which she had been charged with "unusually harsh and severe punishment" to students.

District Judge W. L. Thornton refused to issue an injunction against the teacher. The injunction had been sought by 22 parents of Lanier school pupils.

Judge Thornton said evidence presented during the two-day hearing in 44th district court did not bear out the parents' fears that the teacher would unreasonably punish students in the future.

He also said he "had no right to suspect" that Miss Golightly would violate a recent ruling by the Dallas board of education forbidding corporal punishment by teachers, other than principals.

The ruling dissolved a temporary restraining order against the teacher issued by Judge Thornton when the suit was filed Jan. 18.

Miss Golightly, a teacher for 23 years, denied charges made against her by students and parents.

Price Support Decision Near

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 9—Cong. George Mahon of Colorado City and Lubbock, said today he expected an early announcement by the Agriculture department concerning a price support program for grain sorghums.

Cong. Mahon made the announcement after he and Rep. Poage of Waco, had conferred with Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan.

Quick Decision Sought

Decision and announcement on the parity program for grain sorghums likely will be made within the next day or so, the two solons said. Agriculture department officials would not say just what the price support would be.

Cong. Mahon appealed to Sec. Brannan and Ralph Trigg, president of the Commodity Credit corporation, urging the immediate announcement of a 90 per cent parity support price. Mahon pointed out the dismal prospect of anything under that leading to the planting of more cotton during a surplus year.

Officials said that the machinery has been placed in operation for the announcement but all details are not fully completed.

Other Grains Affected

When Mahon complained at the delay because of the effect this would have on the cotton crop, he was told by the officials that it was necessary to consider grain sorghum in its relationship to corn and this was the cause for the delay. Also, it was pointed out that the sorghum price support program was related to all other feed grains.

A member of the Agriculture committee, Poage said after the meeting with Sec. Brannan that the announcement probably would be made within the next 24 hours.

"There is even reason to believe that we will get price supports for the 1949 grain sorghum crop," Poage told a reporter.

"We asked for a 90 percent of parity loan. However, Agriculture officials reminded us that the loan on last year's crop was only 78 per cent of parity."

Cong. Mahon, in joining Poage in the plea to officials, noted that unless farmers were assured a

W. R. Smith, 73, of Slide, a resident of this vicinity for about 25 years, died about 9:30 p.m. Wednesday in St. Mary's hospital where he had been receiving treatment since he broke a hip last Friday.

Mr. Smith had been in poor health for several years. Definite funeral arrangements have not yet been made, Rix Funeral home reported last night.

Survivors include the widow; four sons, S. M. of San Angelo, Hubert H. and O. W. of Slide, and Tom of Tucumcari, N. M.; three daughters, Mrs. J. S. McCullar and Mrs. Raymond Suttle of Lubbock and Mrs. Geneva Phillips of Tucumcari, N. Mex.; and 13 grandchildren.

Acheson Says Terms To Be Published

Prompt Signing Of Pact Is Foreseen

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 9 — Secretary of State Acheson predicted today that the North Atlantic reciprocal defense pact will be signed by the participating powers the first week in April.

He said the text of the treaty will be made public about a week in advance.

Acheson declared American adherence will make clear the determination of the United States to exercise its inherent right to protect itself against aggression from any source.

Keynote Is Freedom

The secretary, referring to the low state of national preparedness at the outset of the first and second world wars, said the United States could not afford to make the same mistake three times.

He staunchly defended the Atlantic pact in a long, informal news conference statement. In reaching the decision to join, he said, this government undertook to recognize a world situation which has been in existence for many years.

There is nothing artificial in the pact, he continued. Rather, he said, it is based on common ideas and institutions, the keynote of which is freedom — and further it is wholly within the provisions and intent of the United Nations charter.

Publication Impossible

The secretary noted that he had discussed provisions of the alliance at considerable length with the Senate Foreign Relations committee on Tuesday.

He said he thought he had cleared up the questions in some senatorial minds, and expressed pleasure over the "pleasant comments" made to the press about his appearance.

Answering criticism from some congressional quarters that the state department was remiss in not publishing the text of the agreement sooner, Acheson said that would have been impossible.

Follows Rio Treaty Pattern

He explained that the ambassadors of the other eight participating countries have been working for several weeks on the text paragraph by paragraph and it hardly would have been appropriate to publish the text a paragraph at a time.

He declared that in all cases the conferences had been able to harmonize their views.

The Atlantic pact, Acheson said, is patterned after the treaty of Rio De Janeiro. The latter binds all of the American republics to a

Bikini Is Claimed Uninhabitable For Next 25,000 Years

(By The Associated Press)

HONOLULU, March 9—Dr. Nils P. Larsen, chairman of the Hawaii group for world government, asserted today it will be 25,000 years before anyone can live on Bikini, site of atomic bomb tests in 1946.

Larsen spoke at a Kiwanis club luncheon. Later he told a newsman his authority was a high Naval officer who talked with scientists after a recent check of radioactivity at Bikini.

(There has been nothing very definite published as to the time that Bikini again will be habitable. Two years ago, Dr. Stafford Warren, head of radiological safety for the atomic bomb project, said Bikini might have to remain depopulated for decades.)

Jury Holds Fate Of 'Axis Sally'

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP) — A federal jury weighing the government's treason case against Mildred E. (Axis Sally) Gillars was unable to reach a verdict tonight and was locked up until morning.

Court attaches said the jury was locked up for the night in a Washington hotel. Heretofore, they have been permitted to go home.

Federal Judge Edward M. Curran turned the case over to the jury at 12:03 p.m., after admonishing them to "weigh the evidence dispassionately."

Death Sentence Possible

Judge Curran left the courthouse about 5:35 p.m., but left instructions he should be called if the jury wanted any advice on points of law or if it was ready to report.

If convicted, the 48-year-old former broadcaster for the Nazi radio would face a possible maximum penalty of death in the electric chair.

However, the American government has never yet in its 150-year history executed a civilian for treason.

A West coast death sentence on treason charges is now pending, but is being appealed. It involves Tomoya Kawakita, of Los Angeles, convicted last October of

Lubbock Elder Is Injured In Wreck

John Freeman, 2810 Twenty-first, elder of the Church of Christ at Seventeenth and Ave. N, was among six persons injured Tuesday night when the automobile in which they were driving skidded on wet pavement and overturned at Sallisaw, Okla., according to an Associated Press report from Sallisaw Wednesday night.

Freeman suffered a crushed chest and a possibly punctured lung, according to word received Wednesday by relatives here. Mrs. Freeman, accompanied by her daughters, Mrs. George Caddell of Amarillo and Mrs. Dorris Jones of Lockney, left Tuesday night for Fort Smith, Ark., where all the injured were hospitalized.

Oklahoma State Trooper A. C Rayburn, who witnessed the accident, identified the other injured persons as Carl Hammer of Pampa, who received fractured ribs and a back injury; Mrs. Carl Hammer, internal injuries and multiple fractures; Lester Hathaway of Mobe, possible skull fracture; and Van Bonneau of Dodson and Ernest Markwell of Shawnee, Okla., who reportedly received minor injuries.

Texas Facing Prospect Of Tax Increase

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 9—The legislature may be forced to levy new taxes to bridge the $80 million gap between needs for state money and income, Gov. Beauford H. Jester said Wednesday.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert cut his estimate of spending money available for the next two years by $22 million, blaming reduced crude oil production and declining prices for the drop.

On Jan. 1 the comptroller estimated $318 million would be available from general revenue for spending. Wednesday the figure was $296 million.

Major Issue Arises

It brought the 51st legislature's major issue—spending and taxation—into new sharp focus. It is such a grim financial fact, Jester said, "that we can not overlook the possibility that the legislature will be forced to levy new taxes."

Senate Finance Chairman Jim Taylor said the job could be done without new taxes.

"It would be foolish for the state to expand its services to the extent that would require more taxes when it is evident that we are either in a static financial situation or actually on the downswing," he said.

Ray Kirkpatrick, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, did not consider the revised estimate "too serious." He said his main interest was in the four major appropriation bills.

"After we take care of those four, then we'll just have to spread the money around as far as it goes. Somebody's bills were going to get chopped down anyway."

When Gov. Jester listed what he called legitimate requests for state funds in his budget message Feb. 17, he said they exceeded revenue by $49 million. Today, they exceeded revenue by $80 million.

Commenting on this, Jester said it is "imperative" for the legislature to carefully screen each request for funds to decide which is absolutely needed in the light of what the state can afford and what the "people most earnestly want done."

Obligations Claimed

"Will the utmost care and caution on the part of the legislature suffice to close this gap?" Jester asked. "The state has certain obligations, and many of them, upon which it can not afford to default."

Calvert was chief clerk in the comptroller's office when the late Comptroller George Sheppard issued the original estimate of income.

He said that reductions in allowable oil production—brought on by increased oil imports and growing stocks—were taken into

Solons Vote To Hike Wage Base

WASHINGTON, March 9. (INS)—The House Labor committee Wednesday approved a bill to raise the minimum wage from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

Rep. Lesinski (D-Mich.), committee chairman, said the bill will be brought up for action on the House floor a week from Monday.

Committee approval, by a 15-6 vote, came after defeat by a narrow margin of a Republican amendment which would have exempted all retailers from the minimum wage, overtime and child labor provisions of the federal wage-hour law.

Wrangling Ended

The committee approved instead the administration proposal to exempt only those retailers doing an annual volume of business of less than $500,000.

Rep. Bailey (D-W. Va.) declared that the Republican amendment proposed by Rep. McConnell (R-Pa), would have "removed more than one million people from protection of the wage-hour law."

Wednesday's action ended six weeks of wrangling in executive sessions of the committee on the measure, an important portion of President Truman's legislative program.

The committee beat down two attempts to modify the increase in the minimum wage.

The group defeated, 14 to 11, a

House Okays 'Radar Fence' To Warn U.S. Against Air Attack

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 9 —Two defense moves to guard the United States against sneak aerial attack and to develop long-range missiles for counter-attack won unanimous approval in the House today.

By voice vote, the lawmakers passed and sent to the Senate:

1. A bill authorizing the Air Force to set up a "radar fence" to warn of the approach of enemy planes.

2. A measure approving construction of a 3,000-mile range for testing guided missiles.

Military witnesses have testified that robot missiles capable of traveling 500 miles will be ready for testing this year. This compares with the wartime German V-2's record of about 250 miles.

At the outset, the bills would limit expenditures to $85,500,000 for the radar warning system and $70,000,000 for the missiles range. Ultimately, the radar net is expected to cost $161,000,000 and the rocket-test range

Floods, Storms And Snow Batter Parts Of Nation

(By International News Service)

THE March "lion" clawed widely-scattered sections of the nation Wednesday with floods, a sharp earthquake, tornadoes, and below-freezing temperatures.

Hundreds were homeless because of floodwaters in Nebraska, Iowa, and Montana.

The earthquake jarred San Francisco and surrounding areas within a 200-mile radius.

Buildings Are Damaged

The Mobile, Ala., Weather bureau reported tornadic winds struck Terry, Miss., today and killed one person and injured several others.

The outskirts of De Ridder, La., were lashed by a small tornado shortly before noon. The twister destroyed one building and damaged at least five others but no deaths or serious injuries were reported.

Two to three inches of snow were forecast for the Chicago area along with cold weather.

Sub-freezing temperatures, which plagued western states all winter, were welcomed in Nebraska where they eased the flood threat. However, Beatrice, Seward and Crete still were covered by water from the Big Blue river.

More Rain Falls

Iowa's streams were swollen again by new rain and snow. The Des Moines river poured over its banks at Ottumwa, the scene of tragic inundation two years ago. The state there early in the day was 10.1 feet. The river is bankful at 9.15 feet.

North of Sidney, Mont., minor floods were reported. Ice 30 to 40 inches thick blocked the Yellowstone river and sent water over its banks.

A total of 120 families were evacuated from homes in the western part of Beatrice, Neb. Twelve business establishments were re-

Sharp Quake Causes Some Damage In San Francisco Area

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9 — A sharp earthquake jolted San Francisco and surrounding areas in a 200 mile area at 6:28 a.m. (CST) today.

The tremor, felt in two distinct shocks five seconds apart, lasted for 11 minutes on university seismographs.

In Hollister, 75 miles from San Francisco, the earthquake shattered some windows, rolled stones on hillside gardens and cracked a number of plaster walls.

No damage was reported in San Francisco other than one cracked waterpipe.

Rumble Precedes 'Quake

The 'quake, which was preceded by a definite rumble, setoff 29 false burglar alarms in San Francisco.

One woman was reported to have died of a heart attack during the shock in Hollister but the report was unconfirmed.

University of California seismologist Perry Byerly said the earthquake was "of moderate intensity." He declared it was followed by an "after shock" not felt by most persons at 6:57 a.m.

Byerly said the earthquake centered about 75 miles south of San Francisco near Hollister along the San Andreas geological fault.

The temblor registered a shock force of seven, which Byerly described as the beginning point of a destructive earthquake.

It rattled dishes and shook buildings as far from San Francisco as Fresno, about 200 miles to the southeast.

Fresno State college seismologist Dr. Calvon McKim said the shock had a "terrific displacement" and that its jolting force was so rapid it

Warmer Weather Is Forecast For Area

The mercury was expected to dip to a chilly 28 degrees early today as a two-day cold front continued over the South Plains. A definite uptrend in the readings were seen during the day, however, the Weather station said late last night.

The temperature dropped to 36 degrees early Wednesday morning, rising to a maximum of 55 during the afternoon. Fairly strong winds buffeted the area during the early part of the day Wednesday.

Snow flurries were reported in the Panhandle and sleet at Wichita Falls early Wednesday as the cold front drove deep downstate. However, no heavy precipitation was reported.

Holdup Is In West Virginia

(By The Associated Press)

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., March 9—Four gunmen in a melodramatic holdup reminiscent of "wild west" days robbed everybody aboard a Baltimore and Ohio express train, shot one person and slugged several Wednesday night.

Two of the robbers forced the Ambassador, Detroit bound from Baltimore, to stop outside this small town in the eastern panhandle of West Virginia. They were joined by two accomplices and escaped in a car they stole from a nearby night club.

(No estimate of the loot in the train robbery was available late Wednesday night, but it was believed to be at least several hundred dollars. Jewels also were reported taken, the International News Service said.)

Passenger Was Slugged

A chef was shot in the leg when the robbers fired twice to make passengers open the club car which they had locked. A passenger and three trainmen were slugged with gun butts. None required more than first aid treatment when the train arrived in Cumberland.

Terrorized passengers said the gunmen went through the cars twice, taking everybody's cash.

The robbers, who boarded the train at Washington, brought the train to a halt by pulling the emergency card a few minutes after it left Martinsburg. There were about 100 persons aboard.

Pulling what passengers said appeared to be .45 caliber revolvers, they started pushing around the riders and demanding their money. Rebecca Davis, a negro girl going to Detroit was hit behind the ear.

Shoot Through Door

Club car passengers locked the door when they became aware of what was happening. The gunmen shot twice into the car, one bullet richocheting and inflicting a flesh wound on a chef's leg.

After making a clean sweep of money among the passengers, the gunmen headed for the front of the train. They met Engineer C. C. Moore who had come back to investigate the emergency signal. He

Two Burglaries, Thefts Probed

Police and other law enforcement authorities reported a quiet day and night Wednesday, with several thefts interrupting investigation of two Tuesday night burglaries and other previous offenses.

Jo Williams of 1702 Ave. C told police that $10 in bills and a small amount of change had been stolen from a money box at that address. A 15-year-old negro boy, named as a suspect, was later arrested and confined to the juvenile ward of county jail.

Other Arrests Made

Other arrests were announced by the sheriff's department. Ray W. Rogers, 29, charged with check law violation, was arrested late Wednesday, and Lenora Carmichael, 22, of Memphis, was returned from Amarillo by Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank and Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson. She was wanted on a warrant charging theft.

William H. Thomas, 32, of Lubbock, charged with theft by bailee of a car from W. R. Sheely, was arrested about 7 p. m. last night by Deputies Sheriff John Barnett and B. F. Forrester.

Crackdown On Oil, Gas Waste In Texas Fields Is Promised

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 9—Promise of an early and "exacting" crackdown on waste of war-necessary oil and gas in Texas came from the Railroad commission today.

A series of hearings was ordered to begin April 19 for a re-examination of gas flaring and well performance to determine every reservoir's "best rate of production."

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said that an oil producing reserve must be built "in case of war."

"The quantities of oil that would be required in an aerial war with round the world planes and guided missles and rockets would stagger the imagination," he said, adding:

"The oil, shortage scare is definitely behind us. We can truly be critical and exacting in preventing physical waste in the production of oil and gas in this state.

"We now have 500,000 barrels a day ready reserve at the turn of a valve. It is highly desirable from a safety defense standpoint that this daily producing ability reserve be built up to at least one million barrels per day."

House Committee Given Credit For Helping Keep U.S. On Guard Against Communist Infiltration

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Chief Investigator, House Un-American Activities Committee, 1938-1945; Edited by Bob Considine.)

No. 28

IN this concluding article of my series I'd like to get a few things off my chest, things I could not say while working for the House Un-American Activities Committee.

I don't regret any of the years I spent with the Committee though the work was neither easy nor rewarding. It was work that somebody had to do, and from its seed, has sprung two tremendous Government programs, the $17,000,000 inquiry into the loyalty of Government employees and, directly or indirectly, the multi-billion dollar Marshall Plan to fortify European democracy against Communist infiltration.

But the House Committee, pioneers and forerunners in this work, at a meager fraction of the cost of subsequent development, has never known a period when it was not under attack. Vilification from Communists is understandable, for the Committee wields a tremendous weapon against them: exposure. Criticism from honest liberals has hurt the Committee much more. I know the morale of my own staff reached its all-time low when, after we unearthed the "pumpkin papers" which conclusively corroborated the spy-ring testimony of Whittaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley. President Truman repeated his charge that it was all a red herring.

Unions Admit Claims

Yet Mr. Truman emphasized in his vigorous Inaugural Address the very differences between Communism and Democracy which the Committee had been revealing

Taxes Dig Into High Incomes

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—People earning above $6,000 a year make up only 4.23 per cent of the federal income tax payers, but pay 51.27 per cent of total income taxes, the Treasury department said today.

President Truman has indicated he might like to see taxes raised for that $6,000-and-up group.

Higher Incomes Hit

The Treasury report furnished the most recent information available on where income tax money comes from, although the year it covered was 1946.

Only 2,227,013 out of the 52,600,470 persons filing federal income tax returns that year were listed as having income above $6,000. They paid $8,242,353,000 of the $16,075,913,000 individual income tax total.

Tax Bill Low

Only 94 persons — fewer than one in 500,000—reported income over $1,000,000 for the year, and just ten of them took in over $3,000,000. The total tax bill for the $1,000,000-up group: $119,120,000.

Almost half the people making returns showed income under $1,750 a year. Their total tax bill: $1,393,990,000.

Of the 52,816,547 making returns, 14,900,851 had no taxes to pay at all—because exemptions or deductions reduced their net income below the taxable minimum.

Acheson Picked As Best-Dressed Man

NEW YORK, March 9. (U.P.) Secretary of State Dean Acheson beat out President Truman Wednesday as the government's best-dressed man.

The newly appointed secretary topped the annual list issued by the Custom Tailors Guild of America, Inc. Mr. Truman was just behind him in the voting among men in government, Edward Balletta, president of the guild said.

Others selected in the 10-category list were:

Harold E. Stassen, president of the University of Pennsylvania, in education.

Clark Gable, in the movies.

Lou Boudreau, of the Cleveland Indians, in sports.

Ray Bolger, dancer, theater.

Morey Amsterdam, night club and television entertainer, comedy.

Elliot Lawrence, orchestra leader, music.

Charles A. Munn, sr., society.

Richard Kollmar, who eats breakfast in public, radio.

More Than $14,500 In Red Cross Fund

More than $14,500 have been received by the Red Cross in the advanced gifts campaign, officials estimated last night.

Truman Chumley, advanced gifts chairman, reported that his teams had collected about $13,324, and Mrs. J. H. Stiles, Red Cross executive secretary, said about $1,200 had been sent directly to headquarters.

General solicitation and employes' divisions in the fund drive began solicitations Wednesday morning following a kick-off breakfast in Hotel Lubbock. The divisions met separately, with Jack Stone, chairman of the employes' group presiding at one meeting, and A. B. Watkins, chairman of general solicitation, in charge of the other.

Headquarters for the fund drive have been established in Dunlap's department store, in the northeastern part of the building. Mrs. Morley Jennings is in charge of headquarters, receiving money turned in by workers and also money that members of the public want to take to headquarters.

Solicitation in the residential section will open next week, with women serving as workers in that portion of the drive. Mrs. W. B. Agee is chairman of the women's division. Mrs. W. B. Price, Miss Lula Mae Cravens and Mrs. W. F. Eisenberg are members of the women's division committee.

Texas House Okays Bill Providing Stiffer Penalty For Trespassing

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—The House passed a bill today putting more force behind those "trespassers-keep out" signs.

The bill approved on final passage 84-48 raises the fines for trespassing to $1 to $500 and allows state game wardens to enforce the laws. Present fines are $10 to $100 and state game wardens have no authority to enforce the laws.

Author of the bill is Rep. A. W. Moursund of Johnson City. Reps. M. B. Etheredge jr, of Huntsville and Hiram Childress of Sweetwater spoke against it. Childress contended that present laws were adequate.

Missouri Solon's Bill Would Give Reporters Legal Privilege

JEFFERSON CITY, March 9. (U.P.)—The House of Representatives Wednesday was offered a bill which would grant news reporters legal immunity from revealing their sources of information.

It was believed to be the first such measure ever introduced in a Missouri legislature.

The bill was authored by Rep. Meredith Garten, a Republican newspaper man from Lawrence county. He said the proposed legislation, which is now in 11 states, has been endorsed by Dean Frank L. Mott, school of journalism, at Missouri university, and "numerous newspaper and radio news men."

Speedup In Prison Farm Output Sought

HUNTSVILLE, March 9 (AP)—Farm wardens of the Texas Prison system today received orders to speed up agricultural programs and apply sharp teeth to efforts to curb dope peddling among inmates.

"I want results today," General Manager O. B. Ellis told a meeting of the farm wardens and other key personnel of the system.

Ellis indicated his new directives are only the first of a long series to be made in rapid succession now that Governor Beauford Jester has signed the $4,196,085 appropriation bill for Ellis' plans for reorganization and modernization of the farflung system.

He called for an immediate 40 percent increase in the system's agricultural acreage and an intensive campaign to deliver a knockout punch to the dope racket.

His agricultural plans call for 4,000 additional acres of cotton, a 1949 crop of $1,000,000 compared with $400,000 last year—2800 more acres in truck farms, 2000 in corn, and 200 in Irish potatoes.

MYSTERIOUS LITTLE MAN POPS UP ALL OVER TOWN

Detectives can't explain the mystery of a little man dressed in red, with lather all over his face, who has been popping up in local bathrooms while men are shaving. He hands the shaver a Pal Hollow Ground Razor Blade, and disappears. He does no harm; in fact, the men report that Pal is the best blade they've ever used. Yesterday he showed up in this office and left a note reading: "Pal Hollow Ground is the slickest, quickest blade going. They're in all good stores—you still get 4 for 10¢, 10 for 25¢, 21 for 49¢, 44 for 98¢—Double or Single Edge." Strange case, isn't it?

COLLAPSE OF MARK RECALLED

Unusual Person Will Perform For Publishers At Annual Meet

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, March 9—Sideglances at celebrities:

The talk had turned to inflation, and Louis Lochner, the historian who worked out of Berlin in the early 1920's, said that not even China—where the Chinese dollar recently rose to the astronomical rate of 1,250,000 for one American buck—could match the German mark of 25 years ago.

"I got on an omnibus one day and noticed that the gentleman just ahead of me was Albert Einstein," Lochner recalled. "Einstein handed the conductor a trillion mark bill and waited for his bundle of hundred million mark notes in change.

"He counted them very carefully and then complained that the conductor had short-changed him a billion marks. The conductor angrily demanded that the great man count his change again, and when Einstein did so he discovered that it was he who had been in error.

"He apologized, but the conductor was still angry. 'That fellow ought to learn arithmetic!' The conductor fumed at the world's greatest mathematician."

Others Also Hit

Fritz Kreisler, sitting near Lochner as he told the story, shook his head sadly.

"I was in Mexico not long before the mark collapsed," he remembered. "And, needing the money, I sold full rights to all my compositons for 50 marks each. In the 30-odd years that have since passed, I have never received a nickel in royalties for the best works of my life."

Indian Expert To Perform

U.S. publishers who assemble each year at the famous Banshee luncheon, a feature of their annual convention, will see an astonishing gent perform when they gather in New York next month.

He is Kuda Bux, a 43-year-old Indian from Kashmir, and if he is not supernaturally endowed he is a magnificent fakir.

He will ask publishers to appear on the stage and write their choice of headlines. Then, blindfolded beneath layers of biscuit dough, adhesive tape, cotton and half dozen heavy napkins, he'll go to the board and do an editing job on the "heads."

The man, who has no formal education, can make such changes in any language. He can distinguish colors while blindfolded. Recently, on Bob Ripley's first television show, Kuda Bux rode several laps in the then current 6-day bike race in New York, blindfolded, before crashing into the infield. He got up, though bleeding briskly, and rode another lap.

I had the job of unbandaging him. There was absolutely no way in which he could have seen the awed and silent crowd that assembled in front of him. But he motioned with his arms like a breast-stroke swimmer and said, with a winning trace of Indian ham, "Out of the way boys; you're in line with the television camera."

He has submitted himself to the fangs of a cobra without suffering ill effects, and reportedly once had himself buried for 12 days. He has walked barefooted over burning coals officially tested at 1,400 degrees farenheit. But this, for some reason, is difficult for him. He must prepare himself for this hot foot by 72 hours of contemplation.

Sissy.

At the recent Overseas Press club dinner for George C. Marshall, Secretary of State Dean Acheson ended his tribute to his former chief by saying:

"I am but a lieutenant who continues to await his captain's voice of command and comfort—but who hears only the thin echo of his own words."

Banker Freed In Embezzlement Faces New Charges At Cleburne

CLEBURNE, March 9. (AP)—Edgar J. Williams, former cashier of the Citizens Banking company of Joshua, will be tried next Monday on a charge of embezzling $1,000. even though he was freed of a similar charge last week, District Attorney John A. James said today.

Originally, Williams was indicted on nine counts charging misappropriation of some $27,000. After he was exonerated last week, the district attorney indicated the other indictments would not be pressed because of the question of double jeopardy.

However, James said he had an opinion from a higher court which held that jeopardy was not involved when the offenses did not overlap, although they were similar.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Victims Receive Aid

Two Lubbock women suffering from effects of carbon monoxide gas in a residence at 3206 Thirty-sixth received assistance from a fire department rescue team early Wednesday. Firemen expressed their opinion that oxygen was near depletion because the house was tightly closed and a fire was burning in a stove.

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and assistant Chief Glenn Smith administered oxygen with an inhalator to elderly Mrs. Clay Jones and her daughter, Mrs. Frances Darnal. It was believed by a physician who later examined the victims that their condition was satisfactory.

Mrs. Jones arose at 5 a. m. and became ill. She returned to bed. Her condition grew worse and she went to the residence of a neighbor, who called the fire department.

The women came here approximately a week ago from Hereford, firemen were told.

Examinations To Fill Several Civil Service Positions Set

Announcement has been made by the Civil Service commission of examinations for filling several types of vacancies in the federal service.

Among positions to be filled at present are nurse, meteorological aid, investigator-auditor, and museum art specialist.

Salaries for the nurse positions range from $2,974.60 to $3,727.20 annually. Employment will be with various federal agencies in the state of Texas.

Meteorological aid salaries range from $2,498 to $2,974 per annum. Employment will be with federal agencies in the Southwest.

Most of the positions to be filled from the investigator-auditor examination are in the Department of Agriculture, with a salary of $3,727 yearly. No written test is required, but applicants must have had at least four years of responsible experience which has demonstrated their ability to analyze accounting and bookkeeping records, and to conduct audits and investigations. Persons appointed will be required to travel almost constantly within their assigned territories.

The museum art specialist examination is for filling positions mainly in the National Gallery of Art and National Collection of Fine Arts, Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C. Salaries range from $2,974 to $8,509 a year. A college degree and appropriate experience are required.

Additional information concerning these positions, or applications for the examinations, may be obtained at the local Civil Service commission office, room 217, Federal building.

AMERICAN RED CROSS AND WAR VETERANS

EACH year when the American Red Cross fund drive gets underway you hear a disgruntled veteran say he won't help to support the program because he didn't like the way it was run overseas. Or you hear some say that he heard of a veteran who received ill treatment at the hands of workers in a canteen or a recreation center. Oddly enough these remain rumors and can never be traced. The veteran is in Hungry Horse, Mont., or Thief River Falls, Minn., and the person telling the yarn cannot remember his name and so on.

One of the complaints we've heard GI's make is that they paid for coffee and doughnuts in a canteen and they thought they should have been gratis. As a matter of fact, the overseas canteens charged for that service because they were asked to do so by the Red Cross in our allied countries. Before we entered the war the funds in those countries were exhausted and they were forced to charge for their handouts to keep going.

TO show you that Lubbock war veterans are standing behind the Red Cross program, we'd like to point out that veterans are running the campaign. Homer Hensley, a former GI, and Neil H. Wright, jr., who was an Air Force officer, co-chairman of the dirve; Ernest St. Clair, chapter chairman, is a veteran as are chairmen in other communities and towns, such as Gene Cade at Frenship; Robert H. Davis, who heads the drive in the rural area around Slaton and Lewis Hollingsworth, Slaton.

Recently the blood bank at the Red Cross office had to be balanced because of so many calls and an appeal went out to employes at the VA. Among the donors were two crippled veterans, one of whom said, "I am glad to be on the giving end of a transfusion, since I received 22 transfusions when I was in a hospital overseas." Another who will be an invalid for life because of injuries in an airplane crash, had to be lifted out of his wheel chair on to the table, and he was proud and glad to do so and the workers were just as proud and glad.

We just mention these incidents to show that where there are a few vetetrans who may have a gripe against the Red Cross, there are many, many more who are grateful for services in the past and are anxious to do their part to raise funds for merciful deeds in the future.

SENSE OF HUMOR

WHEN we think of E. K. Hufstedler, sr., it will be to remember that he had a marvelous sense of humor. It's true that in recent years Mr. Hufstedler was successful in his business and in his farm and oil ventures, but during the depression he found things a bit rough and yet he never lost the ability to laugh and to encourage others to laugh with him.

Even an illness ten years ago that left Mr. Hufstedler's voice a bit husky, did not affect his jovial spirit.

And we shall remember that he was a father who found time to go hunting and fishing with his two sons and who was more of a buddy to them than a parent.

And we are glad to know that his sons are carrying on a talent that was handed down from their father — a faith in West Texas. Because Mr. Hufstedler thought this was the greatest country in the world, although he lived here only a quarter of a century. He has said on several occasions, "I wish I had heard of the South Plains when I was a kid!"

Officers Elected

Mrs. Howard Patterson was elected president of George R. Bean Parent-Teacher association at a meeting of the group Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the school.

Other new officers chosen include Mrs. Joe Boothe, first vice-president; Mrs. R. R. Holmes, secretary; and Mrs. J. R. Eagan, treasurer.

A chorus of fifth grade students, directed by Mrs. John Rush, presented several vocal selections, and John Wilson, juvenile officer, was guest speaker. His topic was "The Home—A Place to Develop Citizenship and Responsibility."

The 36 members present voted to present the retiring president, Mrs. R. O. Kershner, with a life membership in P-TA.

Confederate Navy Talked

Naval men of the Confederacy were discussed by Mrs. J. H. Hankins and Mrs. T. R. Prideaux for Stephen Wilkinson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Wednesday afternoon in the Hankins home at 2413 Broadway. The speakers were introduced by Mrs. Russell Ray.

Matthews Fontaine Maury, a Naval man and scientist, who was instrumental in establishing the Annapolis Naval academy was discussed by Mrs. Hankins. Stephen Russell Mallory who was little in the public eye except as secretary of the Confederate Navy was discussed by Mrs. Prideaux.

Mrs. Dan Blair announced that Mrs. Hankins has been made district chairman of the UDC. It was reported also to the chapter that a congratulatory telegram was sent Wednesday morning to Stephen Dupuis of Brownfield, a Confederate veteran who was celebrating his 104th birthday.

Others present were Mesdames Mary Lovell, John Lemond, E. A. Hankins, N. L. Edding, L. V. Risinger, H. P. Baker, J. C. Crawford, J. D. Ross, L. A. Kerr and Miss Mamie Crump.

An executive meeting will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the J. H. Hankins home.

Decorating Points Will Be Discussed By Consultant Here

Practical suggestions on interior decoration will be given by Miss Clara Dudley of Yonkers, N. Y. Friday and Saturday in a series of three lectures sponsored by the Casey Carpet company. Miss Dudley is a color scheme consultant for the Alexander Smith and Sons Carpet Mills of Yonkers. Her talks will be given at 2 p. m. both days and at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Miss Dudley will discuss feminine influence in interior decorating, the combination of charm and function and working from the floor up, she will demonstrate with fabrics how to coordinate the colors of drapery, slip covers, paint and wallpaper in the home.

The lectures are free. Reservations for the lectures are being made by the Casey company, by telephone or letter.

PIN-WORM Mystery Ended

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries and millions of victims have sought a way to deal with these pests that live in the human body. Even today, experts report that one out of every three persons examined was infected with Pin-Worms.

But now you can and should do something about Pin-Worms. Because a new, scientific treatment — Jayne's P-W Vermifuge—offers real relief. P-W's principle ingredient is a medically-approved drug that attacks Pin-Worms in the intestines and removes them from the body.

So watch for the warning signs in your family... fidgeting, nose picking and especially the tormenting, embarrassing rectal itch. Then ask your druggist for P-W, the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by the famous Jayne Co., specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years. Destroy those Pin-Worms... relieve that itch.

Just Remember: P-W ⊕ for Pin-Worms!

Music Is Offered

Allegro Music club's Wednesday program was given in the home of Mrs. Don Mitchell, 1717 Thirty-second, with Mesdames S. J. Nabers, R. B. Parkinson and H. M. Phillips as co-hostesses. Mrs. Aubrey Woodfin directed a program on "The Rococo Age."

Presented were: Fur Elise (Beethoven), Mrs. John Howell; Du Biste Die Ruh (Schubert), Mrs. A. J. Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. T. W. Womack; Canzonetta (Tschaikowski), Mrs. Newton Walton, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Haddon; To Be Sung on the Water (Schubert), Mrs. F. C. Stanley, accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Croslin; Ah! Fors'e Lui from La Traviata (Verdi), Mrs. C. N. Hallmark, accompanied by Mrs. James Atcheson; and Ballade in G Minor (Chopin), Mrs. D. W. Douglas.

Among the 35 persons attending were six guests, Mesdames Charles Read, W. A. Marquis, Ed Napier, Noble James, Mack Hiatt and Frank C. Goodwin.

During the business session, duties for the April district federation convention were assigned among members.

Scout Day Is Planned

Extensive plans are being made to assure success of the Play day to be given for Girl Scouts in observance of the 37th birthday of the national organization Saturday at the established camp, Las Leonitas, at Buffalo lake.

Brownies and Intermediate Scouts are to meet at 9:30 a. m. at the Fourteenth street entrance to Carroll Thompson Junior High school where they will board buses to take them to camp. Return will be made at 3 p. m. If mothers prefer to take Brownies to camp by private car, they will be permitted to do so, it was announced this morning by Mrs. H. H. Hunter, program committee chairman.

There will be one troop leader or one other adult for each troop; first aid kits will be handy and persons with knowledge of applying first aid will be in the party.

Girls are asked to take sack lunches. Dessert and drinks will be furnished.

The program for the day will include supervised folk dancing, hikes, story telling and contests.

Church Classes Set Meetings For Today

Dinner, Gift Party Honor Misses Leon And Stanley

The Colonial room of the Hilton hotel was setting for a dinner given Tuesday night as a courtesy to Miss Barbara Carol Leon, bride-elect of Walter Samuel Scheef of Houston. Mrs. R. L. Scheef and Mrs. H. C. Leon, mothers of the couple, also were special guests. Hostesses were Mrs. L. E. Settle and her daughter, Miss Mary Settle.

The bride-to-be wore a corsage of blue iris; Mrs. Leon wore blue iris and Mrs. Scheef wore daffodils. The table's main decor was a mirror arrangement featuring yellow-billed white swans holding ivy and flanked by crystal candelabra with white tapers.

Mrs. John Oldham played organ selections of the betrothed couple's favorite numbers.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. R. L. Suther of Lawton, Okla., Mrs. L. C. Weaver of Plainview, aunts of Miss Leon and others present were Mrs. L. D. Marshall, Mrs. Wayne Martin, Mrs. M. T. Leon, Mrs. Sam H. Batton, Mrs. U. S. Robinson, Mrs. J. E. Walter, Mrs. U. U. Clark and Miss Mary Katherine Fincher.

Two Are Hostesses At Evening Party

Miss Joyce Stanley, bride-elect, was named honoree at a gift party given by Misses Nelda Chapman and Betty Vaughn Tuesday night at 2906 Twenty-first. Sixty guests called. During the evening Dorman Stanley played piano numbers.

Assisting in hospitalities were Mrs. J. W. Chapman, Mrs. Bill Rogers and Miss Helen Somers.

A table arrangement of yellow and white snapdragons carried out the honoree's chosen colors. Extending from the centerpiece were white streamers lettered in gold with "Joyce And Dick March 20."

Miss Stanley is the bride-elect of Dick Markham.

Ladies Auxiliary At Wednesday Meeting

Twenty-five women attended a Wednesday afternoon meeting of Jewish Ladies auxiliary at Congregation Shaareth Israel. Mrs. Louis Freed read the organization's by-laws for the benefit of new members.

Mrs. Louis Wilk and Mrs. M. Label were hostesses.

Greasy burners on a gas stove can be cleaned with a minimum of effort by washing in hot soapy water to which ammonia has been added.

Committee Credited With Helping Keep Nation Alert To Reds

—through the lips of willing or reluctant witnesses — for more than ten years. Labor leaders who condemned us a decade ago for suggesting that their unions were being contaminated by Communism have since reluctantly conceded that we were correct.

President Roosevelt made at least two determined efforts to wipe out the Committee. Failing, for the simple reason the people want the Committee, he demanded of Martin Dies that the Committee thereafter confine its inquiries to Fascist activities. Committee members who tended to regard Communism with the same cold eye as they regarded Nazism were signaled out for especial scorn by pet columnists and commentators. The committee was forbidden to reveal, six months before the attack on Pearl Harbor, the scope of Japanese subversion in Hawaii and on the Pacific Coast. It is unimportant but relevant that I, after being instrumental in exposing the fact that Joe Lash and other pro-Communist youth leaders were enjoying White House hospitality, was "railroaded" into the Army. I quote the word "railroaded" because it is not mine. It was said by two Army colonels in discussing with me the curious phases of my induction.

THE legend has grown, and has been carefully nutured by clandestine and well-meaning interests, that the Committee has ignored Fascism to concentrate on Communism. That is a lie, as our records will prove. As the one more familiar with those records than anyone else, I know there are still many Fascists and fellow scum in the country, ready to pollute the American bloodstream. All they lack is a Fuehrer. Martin Dies fought the Klu Klux Klan in the face of six-shooters. My father campaigned against the Klan when it meant that he must face political ruin in his district and danger to himself and his family.

The Nazis lack a Fuehrer and a purpose. The Communists have both, and combine the fanaticism of Hitler's followers with remarkable guile. They are irrevocably charged with fighting of a war with every ideal which made this country great. In event of a war with Russia they will be infinitely more destructive saboteurs than were the comparatively clumsy subversives.

It is not easy to fight Communism. Communism, contrary to a popular phase, IS something new under the sun. Its members and champions, many of them misguided liberals, can infiltrate, contaminate and dominate almost any field — including the pulpit, though Communism is by rule a Godless calling. Graduates of Russian training schools are the world's leading authorities in the practices of disorder. It is incontrovertible that every key point, strategically, in the United States has been studied faithfully against the day when peaceful-looking American Reds will be called upon to come into the open and fight for Mother Russia. We have shown through testimony that they are past masters at working within the warp and woof of the United States Constitution. We have seen Henry Wallace, their befuddled sympathizer, come within a heartbeat of the Presidency. We know from the testimony of ex-Communists Whittaker Chambers and Elizabeth Bentley that many Communists and distinguished followers have risen high in Government circles.

Several Persons Dropped

We further know that between January 1, 1947, and December 16, 1948, 151 State Department people were removed from the Federal payroll, 91 of whose cases were classified as "of acute significance." And that is only one department. Coincidentally or not, it was State Department policy which abandoned China's 400,000,000 humans to the advances of Russian-controlled Chinese Red armies, and it is the considered opinion of men like Gens. Claire Lee Chennault and Patrick J. Hurley that we may one day be confronted by many of these millions, armed and thoroughly indoctrinated. Coincidentally or not, it was the State Department—admittedly contaminated at that time—which sold Poland, another ally, down the river.

One of the chief criticisms directed at the House Committee is that we have smeared the reputations of good citizens. As I said earlier, I am not the official apologist of the Committee. It has made its mistakes. But whenever I hear anyone use the word "smear" in connection with the Committee's efforts I must ask him to name those persons we have smeared (of the hundreds of witnesses we have heard and the thousands of names introduced).

THE name of Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the National Bureau of Standards, usually is brought up. Beyond his name there is usually silence. As I have pointed out, I made an effort to have Condon called as a witness in answer to his request. That he wasn't called, however, is comprehensible. This friend of many pro-Communists, who was not cleared by the Atomic Energy Commission to share A-bomb secrets at the time he was in charge of the Bureau's atomic scientists, was not heard because the Committee could not obtain from the White House the letter which J. Edgar Hoover had written suggesting that Condon was a poor security risk. I hope the Committee eventually gets that letter. I hope it hears Condon.

If Americans digested all they have read in anti-Committee papers they must believe we used rubber hoses to extract testimony. The Committee is not a judicial body and never will be by law. It cannot operate under the rules of evidence, cannot issue indictments, cannot hand down verdicts. It was established solely to hear witnesses and, from their testimony, recommend legislation.

Hollywood Probe Blasted

The Committee absorbed considerable punishment during its investigation of Communism in Hollywood, where the ideology has taken such a foothold that there are figures to prove that Party collections from members and their followers amount to $32,000 a week. It was held in many quarters that we had no right to ask witnesses whether they were Communists. It was said that a man's politics are his own business, as indeed they are.

But we were not asking for information on a political affiliation. We simply asked these people, by asking them if they were Communists, whether they were members of a conspiracy determined to overthrow this form of Government. The fact that ten of them refused to answer on constitutional grounds, knowing, perhaps, that the Committee was in possession of 33 Communist Party cards of Hollywood celebrities, is, I will continue to believe, most significant.

It is equally significant that ten of the 40-odd witnesses we questioned in the Alger Hiss-Whittaker Chambers case stood on their constitutional rights, and that in his own testimony Hiss made 198 uses of the phrase "to the best of my recollection" or its qualifying counterparts.

THE Committee hears, by and large, a type of witness completely foreign to other Congressional committees in search of information. More often than not it is faced with subversives and fellow travelers who are superbly well trained and well advised in the incitement of public sentiment. The reactions of some members to their type of testimony have been provoked very artfully.

What the Committee has revealed over the last ten years is hard for many Americans to believe. The average citizen cannot comprehend that one of the top officials of the super-important Board of Economic Warfare was a gamboling nudist whose literary output had to be confined to the pornographic division of the Library of Congress; that his successor was a kind of male strip-teaser dancer; that pressure enough was put on respectable authorities to cause the shipment out of this country of more than 1,300 pounds of uranium products at the time we were attempting to develop the A-bomb; that the chief Russian spy in the A-bomb espionage ring was impervious to arrest.

The average American must have found it hard to believe, too, that Lee Pressman, Harvard bred and an important Government official; Harvard-produced George Silverman, who rose to the rank of assistant to the discredited Gen. Bennett Meyers, and others could have gone far in Government despite the presence of thick dossiers on their activities. It was also generally incomprehensible that the Treasury Department phones of Assistant Secretary Harry Dexter White were blocked off by the F.B.I. for a long period.

Hiss Testimony Hit

We were condemned for listening to the accusations made against Alger Hiss, president of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, even after his testimony became increasingly evasive and he was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury.

Ten years ago Joe Curran, of the Maritime Union, denounced the Committee vitriolically when we tried to bring out that his union was saturated by Communism. In 1946 he had to fight for his life against the Communists he had nurtured. We have seen the same things happen in many unions. But when one of our first witnesses warned against that peril, Dies was called to the White House and castigated by President Roosevelt for picking on the CIO on the eve of an election.

Leon Josephson, one of the few witnesses we've had who was prosecuted by the Justice Department and imprisoned for the contempt he displayed for Congress, once said to an American consular officer, "I consider the orders of the Central Committee of the Communist Party above the laws of the United States, and I would do anything short of murder to carry them out." Many others the Committee has heard might have been as frank.

THE Committee, as constituted is not equipped to deal with Communism. Communism has brought into being new techniques and tactics never envisioned by the founders of our Government. It may well be necessary to streamline even our judicial processes if we are going to cope with the menace. Gerhart Eisler's case is pertinent. He functioned for 20 years in this country, carrying out some of the most treasonable acts imaginable. The most closely organized group ever to appear on the American scene was at his command. He traveled back and forth to the U.S.S.R. on false passports; defied Congress. Yet he is still out of jail, and travels extensively over this country making speeches under the auspices of various front organizations whose leaders are dedicated to the destruction of this government.

Committee investigators were long encouraged by the White House to exterminate Nazis by exposing them, which we did to a great extent. But when two of our men raided Communist headquarters in Philadelphia and seized records of great concern to the interests of the people, they were arrested on the orders of a Federal judge and the Committee was ordered to return the files.

Could Solve Question

The F.B.I., if left alone, could clear up Communism in this country. I'd trust my life and the lives of my family in the hands of the F.B.I., if no political considerations were involved. It should be an independent bureau. Instead, it is hitched to the Department of Justice whose top men, politically appointed, are sometimes guided by political considerations. As extensive as are the files of the House Committee (files consulted by 20,000 accredited Government agents in the last decade) the F.B.I. files are of much greater magnitude. J. Edgar Hoover's men could round up at least 25,000 potential Communist saboteurs in short order, if war broke out with Russia. Some F.B.I. men, however, have discovered that their most comprehensive investigations of Communist subversives have been ignored when recommendations were urged for their prosecution. We know, for these men have come to us for support, and so have the Civil Service Commission investigators, State Department men and others—their morales cracked by frustration.

The last time I saw Whittaker Chambers he said he was sorry the espionage case had developed into the pattern of a personal battle between himself and Hiss. He said that this overemphasis of a dramatic case had distorted the real picture—the scope of the conspiracy.

That is true. The Committee has not yet had an opportunity to probe deeper into the serious charges lodged by ex-Communist Elizabeth Bentley, who admittedly operated in Washington during the wartime period, whereas Chambers left the party, and such work, in 1938. Her charges point definitely to treason as well as espionage. There is no statute of limitations on treason. It is punishable by death.

WHAT will become of Chambers and Miss Bentley remains to be seen. Their testimony stood up under an exhaustive series of checks. In the quarter century of the Communist conspiracy against this Government they are the only two of their type who have broken with the party. If they are jailed for their confessed crimes against this Government, we can expect little or no future help from American Communists who now may be wavering. My own feeling is that Chambers and Miss Bentley can tell more.

Personally, I seem to have committed the crime of attempting to expose people who seek to destroy our way of life. It is a job for which I was hired by chosen representatives of the people of the United States; a job to which I attended to the best of my ability. It is not a very good job, really, for the simple reason that it is now unfashionable, if that is the word, to be primarily interested in America and the preservation of its liberties. Apparently it is bad taste to expose the fact that Government documents of great importance are being stolen; that a President demanded the admission to this country of Mrs. Earl Browder, over the protests of the State Department, because he did not want to be embarrassed by Joe Stalin's questions; that a number of Government officials, by their admission or refusal to answer, have been mixed up with a gang of cold-blooded subversives; that choice military secrets, including A-bomb data, have been passed on to the leaders of a country which since V-E day has overrun Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Albania and most of China.

If it's all the same to you, I'll bow out.

Raiders Best North Dakota, 62-57, In NAIB Tourney

Techsans To Meet Hamline Five In Quarter-Final Tilt Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 9 (AP)—Don Grove's 22-point shooting paced the Red Raiders of Texas Tech to a 62-57 victory over North Dakota university in a second round game of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament tonight.

Ranging ahead by 10 points at the half, 33-23, Tech had to turn on the power in the last five minutes to stave off the Dakotans' rally. Tech was leading by seven points with five minutes remaining, when the Dakotans threatened The Raiders shut off a late Dakota spree and clinched the victory on field goals by Ardis Barton and Charlie Pinnell in the last minute.

Grove got his points on 10 field goals and a pair of free throws. Jiggs Jackson hit for 10 points and Gene Gibson added nine to the winning total.

Ed Weber, Dakota forward, caused Tech plenty of trouble. He scored 18 points and was a hawker under both baskets.

Grove Opens Scoring

Texas Tech scored first on a medium range fielder by Don Grove and the lead changed hands three times before Grove again put the Red Raiders in the lead with a two-pointer. There were eight minutes of playing gone at the time and Tech held a 14-12 advantage.

Grove hit twice more from the field, Jiggs Jackson once and Charles Pinnell got a free throw before North Dakota could make another point.

Charles Meredith and Ed Weber paced a brief Dakota drive that narrowed the score to 24-20. But Gene Gibson assisted Grove in another spree that shot the count to 33-23 at the halftime.

To Meet Hamline

Tech will meet Hamline university of St. Paul, Minn., in the quarter-finals tomorrow night at 9:05, the same hour that tonight's game started. Hamline was beaten only by St. Thomas, another St. Paul team, and by the powerful Phillips "66" Oilers twice during the regular season.

Hamline, victors 83-66 over Indiana Central tonight, has two of the most sought-after players by the pros in Verne Mikkelsen, center, and Hal Haskins, forward. Each boy has scored over 400 points in the NAIB tournament over a three-year span.

High School Nine Will Play Friday

Twenty baseball hopefuls are working out for Westerner Coach Fred Taylor at Chapman field diamond this week, but two may be cut from the squad this week. Team manager is Spider Harris.

Nearly every position on the squad is filled two deep, and the pitching department is well-stocked with seven possible hurlers, including two who have regular fielding duties.

On Friday, weather permitting, Coach Taylor plans to give the boys competition in the form of an intra-squad game at 4 o'clock. Saturday a practice game is scheduled with Boys Club team. Election of a team captain will be not made at this time.

Scheduled for pitching duties are Jack McCabe, Bennie Day, Jimmy Hamilton, Mac Taylor, and Berry Allen. Jim Wilson and Morris Turner will also be used on the mound.

Behind the plate are Norman Bantz and Merle Burchett. Holding down the first base position is Jessie Fullerton, and Charles Galey is on the keystone sack. Morris Turner and Powell Hinson are at third, and Bob Brown and Dan Adkisson will fill the hole at shortstop.

Arizona Five Downs Baylor In NCAA Tilt

DALLAS, March 9 (AP)—Ball-hawking Arizona beat Baylor, 55-47, tonight in the opening game of the district six NCAA basketball playoff.

Arkansas swarmed over Rice, 50-34, tonight to advance to the finals of the district six NCAA basketball playoff.

Leon Blevins, a snake-hipped forward who threaded in and out of the Baylor giants, whipped in 25 points in carrying the Wildcats to an upset triumph.

Arizona advanced to the finals of the playoff tomorrow night.

Arizona broke in front but couldn't hold the lead and midway in the first period Baylor pulled away. But the Wildcats came storming back, took the lead just before the half and never were behind from there on out although once tied.

Coming back from intermission Junior Crum put one in from straight out and Blevins looped a field goal. Don Heathington cashed in on a Wildcat foul, Jim Owens did likewise and Preston and Heathington got field goals to tie the score again. Crum, however, sneaked in for a basket and Baylor never could catch up again. Heathington drew within a point but Blevins, Johnson, and Hones added six points.

From there on Baylor fought desperately but Arizona was controlling the ball three-fourths of the time.

Crum made 14 points and Heathington 13 to rank second and third in the scoring.

Hamline Drops Indiana Central

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 9. (AP)—A tourney favorite, Hamline university of St. Paul, pulled away in the second half to beat Indiana Central of Indianapolis 83 to 66 in the second round of the National Association of Intercollegiate Basketball tournament today.

Hamline's victory moved it into the quarter-finals against the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, Lubbock, Texas, who beat off a late challenge by North Dakota university to win 62-57.

Earlier, Beloit college of Wisconsin downed Southwest Missouri State Teachers college 66-47 to enter the quarter-finals tomorrow. The Missouri team was the last college quintet to fall from the unbeaten ranks this past season.

The Rangers of Regis College, Denver, Colo., became a titular contender by beating the St. Thomas college Tommies of St. Paul 53-52 in a tight squeak.

In the lower bracket, four teams emerged with victories during the day to move into the quarter-finals.

The Hornets of Kansas State Teachers college of Emporia stung a strong Iowa State Teachers college quintet 63-49, while Eastern Illinois State Teachers college upset San Jose State Teachers college 81-75. Northwestern Louisiana State Teachers college also advanced with a 59 to 57 victory over Brigham Young university.

Qualifying Rounds Set For Golf Meet

Qualification rounds for members entering Lubbock Country Club's High-Low tournament will be played Saturday and Sunday, and pairings will be made Sunday night after all scores are in.

When all the scores are returned, the pairings are made according to the scores posted, and a high scorer will be paired with a low scorer to make the matches more even.

Elimination is expected to last approximately six weeks before the championship game is played. Matches will be played every week, and the winners of each match will advance.

This has always been a popular tournament and is continuing this year after a one-year lapse. There will be 128 golfers qualifying for the tourney, which is the first of the season.

Bill Henderson To Meet French Boxer In El Paso Friday Night

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE
Sports
PAGE SIX. LUBBOCK, TEX., THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1949

Mougin Expected To Be Tough Foe

Bill Henderson, Lubbock featherweight fighter and Texas Tech student, left last night for El Paso where he will meet Jean Mougin of France in a 10-round main event.

Mougin, a 23-year-old boxer with the title of "Blond Tiger," is the former French lightweight champion. He accompanied Middleweight Marcel Cerdan, world's champion, to this country and has had 16 fights since his arrival. His first outing was in a semi-final in Madison Square Garden, New York.

Henderson, accompanied by Babe Ritchie, second and manager, drove to El Paso after a light workout yesterday afternoon at O. C. Foster's Gym. He expects to weigh 132 pounds for the fight and will give about three pounds and some height to Mougin.

Worked Out Against Roach

The Lubbock fighter went four fast rounds Monday against LaVern Roach, middleweight contender, and picked up several useful pointers. He worked out lightly Tuesday and tapered off Wednesday. He is in top shape for the main event.

Henderson has fought 14 times since turning pro and has won all his bouts. Most of the fights have ended in knockouts or technical knockouts, with only three decisions among the totals. He possesses a good left jab and hook, with a powerful right.

Mougin has left a trail of good fights behind him since his arrival in the United States. He possesses a punch, but is more of a boxer, according to reports. He is described as being tall and on the slightly built side, but with a wiry frame. He has fought most of his fights on the West Coast, but also has appeared in Las Vegas, Nev., and Phoenix, Ariz.

Bill's Biggest Test

It will be the Tech student's biggest test so far. If he can get past this hurdle, he will have beaten someone with some reputation and could become established. His most recent fight was Feb. 28 in Phoenix, when he scored a TKO in the tenth round over Sammy Galvan of El Paso. Henderson paced himself for 10 rounds to see whether he could go the distance, found he could and finished strong.

The fight will be broadcast from El Paso arena by KSEL, 950 Kc, beginning at 10 p.m. Bill Parsley, sportcaster, will do the blow-by-blow account.

THOMAS TINKERS LEAVE FOR STATE MEET TODAY

Thomas Tinkers basketball team will leave here today for San Angelo and the state TAF tournament in San Angelo. The Tinkers, accompanied by Lucien Thomas, their sponsor, will make the trip in private cars.

The Tinkers won the District Two, TAF basketball tournament here recently. They will have company in the Levelland Refiners, one of the stronger independent area teams, which will represent the 23 counties outside Lubbock county comprising District Two.

Kentucky's Groza, Beard Named To All-America Five

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Two players from Kentucky's national champions and one each from St. Louis, Yale and Denver were named today to the 1949 Associated Press All-America collegiate basketball team.

Selected by a vote of 404 sportswriters and broadcasters, in the wake of a season involving the heaviest intersectional tours on record, were Alex Groza and Ralph Beard of Kentucky, "Easy Ed" Macauley of St. Louis, Tony Lavelli of Yale and Vince Boryla of Denver.

Macauley and Beard are repeaters from the 1949 All-America.

A third member of the Kentucky quintet, Wallace (Wah-Wah) Jones, topped a 1949 second team composed also of Dwight Eddleman of Illinois, Bob Harris of the Oklahoma Aggies, Bob Cousy of Holy Cross and Verne Gardner of Utah.

Ernie Vandeweghe of Colgate; Kevin O'Shea of Notre Dame, Dick Schinttker of Ohio State and Jim McIntyre and Meyer Skoog, both of Minnesota, make up a third team. Thirty-five additional players received honorable mention.

Layne, Turner, Ramsey Attend Session

Former All-American Players Watch Tech Gridders Work Out

All-American football players dominated the third day of spring football training yesterday at Texas Tech, with no less than three former nominees watching the Red Raiders.

Bobby Layne, who is on the spring coaching staff of Tech, earned his award at the University of Texas. Cyde "Bulldog" Turner, pro All-American for eight years, made the Little All-American at Hardin-Simmons. And Red Ramsey, coach at San Angelo Junior college, was a Little All-American while at Texas Tech.

Turner and Ramsey merely watched practice, but Layne took an active part, coaching the quarterbacks and backs. He is concentrating on ball-handling, while helping with the passing.

Tech's linemen were given an opportunity to do some head knocking yesterday and they responded eagerly. Action was rugged much of the time and most of the players were worn and tired last night.

Coach Dell Morgan worked with an offensive unit and Line Coach G. B. Morris tutored the defensive line. Spurred by the stings of rebuke by the coaches, the players schimmaged harder than might have been expected on the third day of practice.

Several of the linemen showed up well and the concensus is that the Raiders will have more capable reservers than a year ago. There also will be more weight in the forward wall, although many of the linemen will be sophomores and need additional experience.

Meanwhile Coach Tipp Mooney and Layne worked with backs and ends in another section of the field, stressing passing and quick-opening plays. Main effort was to get timing down correctly, as well as being in the right place at the right time.

Coach Morgan indicated after yesterday's session that the first large scale scrimmage probably would be held Friday or Saturday.

LUBBOCK ENTERS ELEVEN EVENTS

Nine Westerner Trackmen Will Go To Fort Worth Meet March 18

Names of nine Westerner trackmen qualifying for the trip to the Southwestern Recreation Track and Field meet in Fort Worth March 18-19 were announced Wednesday by Coach Fred Brown.

They are Charlie Williams, Malcom Young, Wayne Stroud, Donald Decker, Danny Boone, Donnie Rawls, Eddie Goetze, Douglas Ross, and Alfred Adair. Also accompanying the boys will be Coach Pat Ferris and Davis Hopper, manager.

Eleven events will be entered by Lubbock in the meet, an annual affair and one which draws some of the top cinder men in the Southwest. This year will be the twenty-sixth season for the classic.

The events and persons entering the events follow:

100-yard dash. Williams, Young, and Stroud.

220-yard dash: Williams, Young, Stroud, and Boone.

440-yard relay; Williams, Young, Stroud, and Decker.

220-yard low hurdles: Decker.

Half mile run: Eddie Goetze.

Broad jump: Williams, Boone.

Discus: Ross.

Pole Vault: Adair.

High jump: Adair.

Shot-put: Adair.

An intra-squad track meet was held by the Westerners Tuesday to determine the boys making the trip, based on their performance in the meet.

O'Dowdy Pins LaDue At Arena

In the main wrestling event at Sled Allen's arena last night Pat O'Dowdy made good the challenge that he could defeat Monte LaDue.

The headliner was short, and each fighter went into the ring to finish off the other in the quickest manner, using any hold within his power. After only six minutes of the first fall LaDue subdued O'Dowdy with a series of knee stomps and a body smother, but in the second fall O'Dowdy was on the winning end. This one lasted nine minutes, and Rowdy won with a face lock and knee stomp.

After the second fall LaDue refused to leave the ring and dared O'Dowdy to return to continue the fight. After one minute both men went out of the ring, and LaDue did not return so the match was awarded to O'Dowdy.

The first main event went to a draw after Dory Funk and Buck Weaver had each won one fall. The match was a crowd-pleaser from the opening gong, and fans got their money's worth on this event alone.

A whirling toehold enabled Funk to win the first fall after 17 minutes of hard wrestling. Both men were forced to call on all their knowledge of the ring in this bout.

Weaver came back with a flying headlock in the second fall to turn the tables on Funk and take the fall in 17 minutes. The third fall went the limit as each man proved too wise to be downed, and the match was declared a draw.

George Overhauls of Amarillo defeated Balk Estes in the preliminary event after 34 minutes of wrestling. In the first fall Overhauls pinned Estes with a full nelson in 14 minutes, but the second went to Estes in the same time with an alligator clutch.

Overhauls concluded the clean, fast bout after four minutes of the final fall with another full nelson.

INDIANS BEGIN PRACTICE

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 9. (AP)—Oklahoma City Indians baseball crew opens spring training at Marshall, Tex., tomorrow with 30 men listed on the team roster.

Team Meets East Chambers Today

New Home Girls Win State Tourney Tilt

HILLSBORO, March 9. (AP)—Seagoville, East Chambers, New Home and Teneha loomed as the "big four" after the first round of play in the Girls State High School Basketball tournament.

They brushed past opening day opponents today and the stage was set for a crucial meeting tomorrow between East Chambers and New Home.

Rogers, Forreston, Dalhart and McLean also advanced to the quarter-finals.

Teneha defeated Lawn, 28-23; Dalhart walloped Kildare, 33-15, and McLean defeated West Columbia, 34-27.

Other games in the championship bracket match: Rogers vs. Forreston; Teneha vs. Dalhart; McLean vs. Seagoville.

East Chambers, which won the state crown in 1947, dumped Millsap, 38-18; Rogers beat Huckabay, 38-28, Forreston nosed out Roosevelt, 30-27, and New Home walloped Cranfills Gap 63-33.

Ozell Collins paced East Chambers' victory, tossing in 20 points. High scorer for Millsap was Ruby Lee Warren with nine.

Dorothy Rachui rolled up 25 points in pacing Rogers to a ten-point victory over Huckabay. Huckabay's ace was Adell Barron, who tallied 17 points.

Pairings for tomorrow afternoon's first round consolation games: Noon—Millsap vs. Cranfills Gap; 1:10 p. m. Huckaby vs. Roosevelt 2:30 p. m.; Lawn vs. Kildare; 3:30 p. m. West Columbia vs. Post.

Championship bracket games will be played tomorrow night.

NEW HOME GIRLS DROP CRANFILLS GAP, 63-33

HILLSBORO, March 9 (Special)—New Home piled up the largest score in this year's State High-school Girls Basketball tournament here today, defeating Cranfills Gap, 63-33.

Cranfills Gap got off to an early lead, but Colleen Savage, who scored 30 points for the winners, began hitting the basket from close in to give New Home a 38-18 lead at halftime.

Hitting long shots, good for 20 points, all on field goals, was Emadene Robinson for New Home. Joy Dean McClintock made seven free throws and three shots from the field for 13 points. Savage's total came on 14 field goals and two free throws.

Coach W. R. Fleming's sextet was never in danger after a few minutes of the first quarter, and the girls pushed out in front and continued to extend their lead throughout the game. A good defense held Cranfills Gap well in check.

FORRESTON GIRLS UPSET ROOSEVELT SEXTET, 30-27

HILLSBORO, March 9 (Special)—An upset removed Roosevelt from the running for a state championship today as Forreston spilled the South Plains team, 30-27.

Heading the Roosevelt girls was Bertha Jones with 19 points, but she fouled out of the game with approximately three minutes left, and Forreston went on to win the ball game.

Roosevelt got off to an early lead and held a 17-9 advantage at halftime, but Forreston came back strong in the third quarter, scoring 11 points while holding Roosevelt to seven, to cut the lead to 24-21.

But after Jones left the game Forreston went ahead, 29-27, and then stalled for time, making the other point on a free throw.

POST GIRLS LOSE ROUGH GAME TO SEAGOVILLE

HILLSBORO, March 9. (Special)—Post High school's girls team dropped into the consolation bracket of the state tournacent here tonight, losing a rough 30-26 game to Seagoville.

Post took an early lead and held margins of 8-4 at the first quarter and 11-8 at the half. But Seagoville, which had been off-form, rallied to take over the lead midway through the third period and hold it.

Seagoville took a 24-21 advantage as the third period ended and fought off every Post threat to win going away. The winners were more aggressive and had a better balanced club, with several girls joining in the scoring.

Janet Stewart poured 19 points through the hoops for Post to take scoring honors, while Madge Sorrell topped the winners with 10.

Big City Title Games Slated

HOUSTON, March 9 (AP)—Big City Conference basketball teams arrive here tomorrow for final workouts prior to Friday's opening of their first annual championship tournament.

Eight teams—two each from Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston—will take over the Houston public school field house court for an hour for final practice sessions.

The field house will be turned over to North Dallas and Sunset the Dallas champions and runner-up, respectively, from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m.

San Antonio's entries, champion Lanier and second place Brackenridge, follow at 5:30 p. m. with undefeated Paschal and runnerup Polytechnic of Fort Worth moving in at 6:30 p. m.

Milby, Houston's first place winner, and San Jacinto, which finished only a game behind Milby, will have completed their workouts earlier in the day.

With Paschal, on the basis of its undefeated record as the heavy favorite, the tournament gets under way at 2 p. m. Friday with Lanier (11-1) meeting San Jacinto (10-4). Paschal (10-0) and Sunset (7-3) tangle at 3:30 p. m., with North Dallas (9-1) meeting Brackenridge (10-2) at 7:15 p. m., and Milby (9-3) clashing with Polytechnic (7-3) at 9 p. m.

Pro-Amateur Golf Association Will Hold Meeting On Tuesday

A meeting of the West Texas Professional-Amateur Golf association will be held Tuesday, March 15, at Lubbock Country Club to set the dates of the monthly meetings for the year.

In the afternoon the professionals and amateurs will play matches over the 18 hole course.

Webb, Spencer To Get Giant Relief Roles

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 9 (AP)—New York Giant manager Leo Durocher is going to try rookie pitchers Sam Webb and George Spencer in relief roles. Webb won 18 games for Jersey City last year and looked impressive in a few starts for the Giants at the tail-end of the season. Spencer is up from Knoxville of the Tri-state league.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Don Johnson, big right-hander who was the sensation of the New York Yankee training camp in 1947, again is drawing raves. Johnson allowed only one hit in a three inning intra-squad game Wednesday.

VERO BEACH, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Pity Cal Abrams, rookie outfielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Dodger president Branch Rickey was lauding Abrams' ability when the youngster let a third strike go by in an intra-camp game.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Manager Joe Kuhel of the Washington Senators apparently is giving Gil Coan first crack at the vacant left field job in preference to two hot-shot rookies, Clyde Vollmer and John Simmons.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Even Boston Red Sox manager Joe McCarthy, usually cautious about estimating ball players in the spring, is beginning to enthuse about pitcher Tex Hughson.

The big righthander, a total loss last season because of arm ailments, was breaking off well controlled curves yesterday in batting drill.

BRADENTON, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Johnny Sain, Red Barrett and Rookie Bob Hall will pitch for the Cooneys today in the second intra-squad game of the Boston Braves.

Sorearmed Johnny Beasley, bonus rookie Johnny Antonelli and Bob Hogue will be the hurlers for the Brownies.

TUCSON, Ariz., March 9 (AP)—The world champion Cleveland Indians play their first intra-squad game of the spring season today. The six pitchers, chosen by coach Bill McKechnie because "they are a little looser than the others," are Steve Gromek, Lyman Linde and George Anderman for Susce's Pets and Mike Garcia, Roy Welmaker and Dick Rozek for Harder's Pals. They are to work in that order, three innings each.

TAMPA, Fla., March 9 (AP)—"Good pitch, no hit, no field" was the word from the Cincinnati Reds' camp after Wednesday's second intra-squad game. Both teams made only 10 hits and there were five errors as the Hattons beat the Sauers 2-1.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 9 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals scheduled another intra-squad tilt today as manager Eddie Dyer prepared for the first exhibition game against the New York Yankees Saturday.

BURBANK, Calif., March 9 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns played their first intra-squad game yesterday—a one-sided 6-0 affair. Holdout Jerry Priddy watched from the sidelines. Bill Sommers of San Antonio held down second base in Priddy's place.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 9 (AP)—Taft Wright's big bat was the talk of the Philadelphia Athletics' training camp today.

Slaton Wolverines, Lubbock Colored All-Stars To Meet

LORENZO, March 9 (Special)—The Slaton Wolverines and the Lubbock Colored All-Stars, independent basketball teams, will collide here tomorrow night at 7:30.

The public is invited to attend and admission prices will be 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for children.

Slaton was beaten 25-21 earlier in the season by the All-Stars, the only victory in three starts for the Lubbock team.

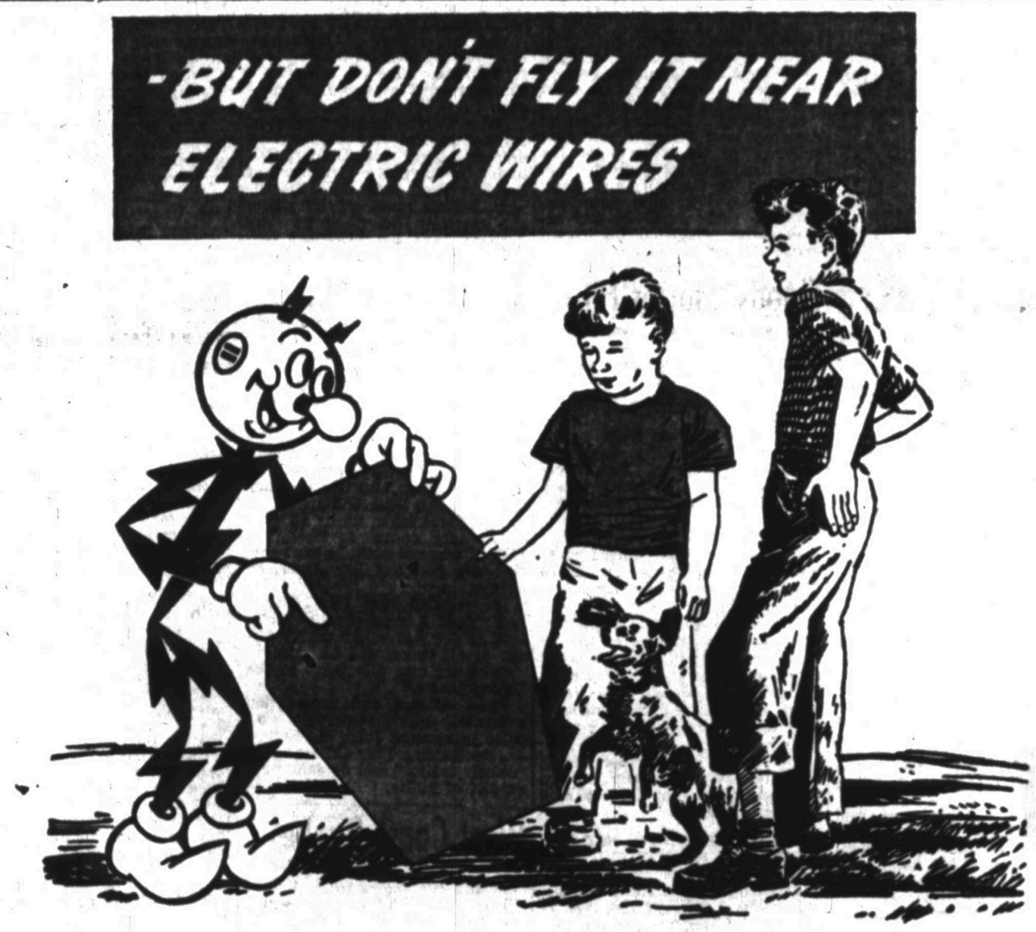

Mrs. John Markham Wins Blind Bogie In Ladies Weekly Play

In weekly play of the Country club Women's Golf association Wednesday in blind bogie and low putt, Mrs. John Markham won the blind bogie over the 18 hole layout, and Mrs. M. M. Brown was low on putting.

In the nine hole flight Mrs. Fenner Tubbs carded low score on blind bogie and Mrs. E. S. Hall made low score putting over the shorter route.

The power company supplying Mexico City will spend $50,000,000 on new facilities.

Dairymen Claim House Victory

WASHINGTON, March 9. (AP)—Dairy interests claimed a first round victory today in the battle of oleomargarine vs. butter.

The House Agriculture committee gave a thumping 24 to 3 approval to a bill to lift all federal taxes from oleo—but also voted to prohibit the sale of yellow-colored oleo in inter-state commerce.

Dairy state lawmakers agreed in committee hearings to the repeal of federal taxes on oleomargarine. But they had fought bitterly to prohibit interstate sale of the spread when it is colored yellow.

Their margin, however, was narrow. By a vote of 14 to 13, the committee turned down a proposal that would have permitted interstate sale of yellow oleo, although it would have required public eating places to advertise they were serving margarine.

Reps. Poage (D-Tex) and Abernethy (D-Miss), along with other backers of proposals to free oleo from all restrictions, quickly announced they would carry their fight to the House floor.

SOUTH PLAINS MEN NAMED TO COTTON GROUP POSTS

LOS ANGELES, March 9. (AP)—The National Cotton council served notice today of a continuing fight for unrestricted marketing of yellow margarine, despite the House Agriculture committee's favorable action on a liberalized bill controlling sale of the product.

The council concluded its three-day session with the re-election of Board Chairman Oscar Johnston, Scott, Miss., President Harold A. Young, North Little Rock, Ark., and other officers.

Cotton seed oil is the principal ingredient of all margarine and cotton seed processing is a vital branch of the cotton industry.

Five directors for each of the six branches of the cotton industry represented by the council were elected. They include:

Growers—N. C. Williamson, Lake Providence, La., Delmar Roberts, Anthony, N. Mex.; George G. Chance, Bryan, Texas.

Ginners—W. J. Ely, Snyder.

Warehousemen—Claude T. Fuqua, jr., Houston, B. L. Anderson, Ft. Worth.

Merchants—Burris C. Jackson, Hillsboro, Texas.

Crushers—George A. Simmons, Lubbock.

Now and then he would glance toward the spectators' gallery where his attractive, dark-haired wife sat. Mrs. Johnson wore a black hat and dress and a necklace. Seated beside her were Mrs. Celia Hare Martin of McAllen, secretary to Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex), and Miss Mary Rather of Austin, one of Johnson's secretaries.

Only once was Johnson interrupted.

That was when his senior colleague, Senator Connally (D-Tex.) arose to ask him if the pending move to limit debate was "aimed at the South."

Johnson Congratulated

Johnson replied "that is true," and then resumed.

Southerners say the primary purpose of the proposed debate imitation is to pass civil rights legislation.

When Johnson finished, Senator Russell (D-Ga.) was the first to step over to his desk and congratulate him, then Senator Stennis (D-Miss.), followed by Connally. A line then formed of those wanting to shake Johnson's had.

Texas House members were gathering for a luncheon on the other side of the capitol when Johnson began speaking.

Reps. Patman and Lyle, however, were on hand at the start.

Before the address was finished word got across to the House side and those who managed to hear the end included Reps. Thornberry (Johnson's successor in the House), Regan, Worley and Burleson.

Senator McGrath (D-R.I.), chairman of the Democratic national committee, presided over the Senate during the speech.

about $200,000,000.

The House Armed Services committee recommended the radar screen as "the only reasonably effective means known today whereby the effectiveness of an enemy air attack may be reduced."

The bill directly gives the Air Force the job of guarding the nation against air attack. The Air Force would also have the jurisdiction over the guided missile range, but all services would use it.

The proposed radar system would be linked up with a similar network in Canada and would be augmented by four radar picket vessels operated offshore by the Navy.

Eight control centers, scattered across the country, would supervise the warning system. Immediately the approach of hostile planes was detected, interceptor squadrons would be rushed into action to head off the enemy.

Showdown Seen

there was "absolutely nothing inconsistent" about his planning to vote against Barkley's expected ruling and his signing of the cloture petition.

Senator Alexander Smith (R-NJ), who signed the cloture petition, had told reporters previously that he would vote against the Barkley ruling unless he became convinced later that support of it was the only way to reach a vote on the rules change question.

He could not be reached immediately for comment.

Oratory Rolls On

Democrats who signed were Anderson and Chavez (NM), Douglas (Ill), Green (RI), Kilgore (W-Va), Lucas (Ill), Magnuson (Wash), McGrath (RI), McMahon (Conn), Miller (Idaho), Murray (Mont), Myers (Penna), Neely (W-Va), O'Mahoney (Wyo), Pepper (Fla), Taylor (Ida), and Thomas (Utah).

Lucas said the number who signed the petition indicated that the administration is "gaining."

Knowland, also working to end the filibuster, said he had found "unexpected" GOP support for this move to end debate.

Meanwhile, the flow of southern oratory rolled on unchecked, with Senator McClellan (D-Ark) telling his colleagues that the Communists will be "elated" if the fight to save the filibuster is lost.

"Every Communist in America and throughout the world, in my opinion, will applaud every vote for this (debate-curbing) resolution," McClellan said.

Signers "Congratulated"

"But while applauding, they will be laughing at those who so easily but terribly blundered."

At one point, McClellan exclaimed bitterly:

"You couldn't compromise with the gang behind this (civil rights) legislation."

Lucas issued a statement "congratulating" Republican and Democratic signers of his petition.

Lucas announced tomorrow's critical test after a closed-door session of northern and western Democrats.

South Still Confident

But Dixie legislators, pledged to a last-ditch fight, were still confident of beating down the administration leader's strategy.

Senator Russell (D-Ga), captain of the filibuster team, previously had claimed 58 votes—a sizeable majority—to defeat any attempt to cut off debate at this time. But that was before Lucas began rounding up signatures on black and white.

Southerners fear that a time limit on debate would clear the way for passage of President Truman's anti-lynch, anti-poll tax and other 'civil rights" proposals.

Minimum Wage Bill

McConnell motion to raise the minimum to 65 cents for the balance of this year and then tie it to the cost of living.

The group also rejected an amendment by Rep. Sims (D-S.C.) to raise the minimum wage immediately to 60 cents an hour and then boost it five cents a year over the next three years to a top of 75 cents.

The vote to knock out a Republican substitute containing the exemption for all retailers was 13 to 12, with three southern Democrats joining nine Republicans in opposing the administration.

Labor Bill Delayed

The sharp division within the committee threatens to delay the administration's bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley law. Earlier, Rep. Kelley (D-Pa.) had predicted this bill would be ready by April.

Kelley, heading a subcommittee holding hearings on the Taft-Hartley repealer, was forced to postpone the hearings until Thursday because of Wednesday's two-hour dispute in the full committee.

The Pennsylvania congressman conceded that his repealer bill in its present form would have difficulty in obtaining the approval of the full committee.

Kelley said he hopes to complete hearings by March 22 if there are no further delays.

Amarillo, Big Spring 20-30 Clubs To Visit Local Group

Members of 20-30 clubs in Amarillo and Big Spring will be guests of the Lubbock club at a Dutch supper next Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Lubbock hotel.

Plans for the district meeting were laid at a 20-30 club luncheon and business meeting here last night. Approximately 100 persons are expected to attend the meeting next week, club spokesmen estimated.

Bandits Halt Train was banged on the head and herded back to the cab where the three crewmen were held at gunpoint.

Engineer Moore was ordered to back up the train to a grade crossing siding. There the four gunmen forced the crewmen out of the cab, robbed them and fled.

Injured Are Treated

The injured persons were treated by Dr. Frank Wilson when the train arrived in Cumberland about an hour and a half late. The express continued on to Detroit after a brief layover here.

William Spangler, a passenger from Cumberland, said the two men had sat in front of him. He said they were drinking and had been arguing with the steward.

The holdup scene is in the mountainous section of northern West Virginia close to the Maryland and Pennsylvania borders.

Car Was Stolen

(The daring bandits got on board the Ambassador, a "regular" on the Baltimore to Detroit run, two miles north of Martinsburg, the INS reported.

(They applied the brakes and forced the engineer to back up on a siding while they went through the train seizing cash and jewels from the passengers and crew, the INS said.

(Police said the quartet immediately after the train robbery held up the nearby Clover Rail night club, fired a few shots in the air and escaped in a stolen automobile from which Charles Oroke and his wife were forced out at gunpoint. Oroke, in addition, received a blow on the head from the butt of a gun, the INS reported.

(There was no exact estimate of the amount of loot taken by the bandits, but it was believed to total thousands of dollars.

(The bandits abandoned the Oroke automobile two miles from the grade crossing where the train was originally stopped, seized another, drove for a few miles and abandoned it, too, leading police to believe they were on foot.

(Two of the bandits went up ahead to take care of the crew while two others went through the four coaches.

(Engineer C. C. Moore, of Cumberland, Md., got down from his cab to investigate and the bandits forced him at gunpoint to lie down in a ditch.

(Robert Mort, diesel mechanic supervisor, and a fireman also were forced into the ditch by the bandits who worked speedily to collect their loot.

(The train was delayed an hour and 15 minutes before proceeding to Cumberland, en route to Detroit. The train crew was changed at Cumberland.

(A four-state alarm for the capture of the bandits was broadcast when word of the robbery reached Martinsburg.

Mort told police "they took everything I had" and that they obtained $110 from the fireman—not named. They then ordered the mechanic, the engineer and the fireman to lie in a ditch.

(Police said that the gunmen wore no masks, and appeared to be desperate, the INS said.)

common defense, with attack on one constituting an attack on all.

The secretary traced the history of events leading up to the decision to bind western Europe into a common defense front.

These events, he said, began back in 1947 when it became unhappily apparent that Soviet Russia and its satellite states were intent on delaying and obstructing world economy recovery and the solution of postwar problems. Two meetings of the council of foreign ministers ended in failure that year.

Because of this situation, President Truman laid before Congress what is now known as the "Truman doctrine." This involved military aid to Greece and Turkey.

Then, in June, 1947, former Secretary of State Marshall unfolded the beginnings of the European aid program in his famous Harvard speech. It was also in 1947 that the Rio pact was concluded.

Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen is due in Washington tomorrow. Denmark is expected to join the pact, and may do so at the outset.

There is continuing speculation that Italy, Iceland, and Portugal will come in at a later date.

Clashes Between Arab, Jewish Forces Near Red Sea Reported

HAIFA, March 9. (INS) — The Arab-operated Ramallah radio in Palestine said tonight that Trans-Jordan troops have clashed twice with Israeli troops 24 miles north of the Red sea port of Aqaba.

An Israeli military spokesman said he had no news of such a clash.

(A Reuters dispatch from Amman earlier said Trans-Jordan asked UN truce observers to go to the area because of authoritative reports that a "considerable Israeli armored force" is moving toward Aqaba.)

Lew Ayres Accepts Lead In 'Daybreak' After Rejecting 35 Scripts; Has Murderer's Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, March 9.—Lew Ayres told me a few days before he took off for Death Valley with his paint brushes, that he had read 35 scripts since he made "Johnny Belinda," and had turned them all down.

Then today, came word that one of the scripts Lew had taken with him is Niven Busch's story, "Daybreak," and he likes it enough to accept the starring role.

"Daybreak," which is Busch's independent production, has the sort of idea that Lew likes—the story of a man who commits murder and then is haunted by his act the rest of his life.

Actor's Stock Rises

If you saw "Command Decision" you surely remember George Washington Culpepper Lee in one scene. He was the drunken soldier. So good is that one scene, played by Marshall Thompson, that he's had his salary tripled—but not before he left M-G-M and went to Sam Goldwyn.

Seems Thompson was let out by Metro and was given a part in "Roseanna McCoy" by Goldwyn. Then, when M-G-M was casting "Battleground," a role came up of a boy who started out young, unsophisticated, and who ends up drinking brandies and carrying on with French girls. It cried for Mr. Washington Culpepper Lee Thompson—so he's back, and getting much more money.

Criticism Amusing

Amusing is George Jean Nathan's criticism of Clifford Odets' play, "The Big Knife," which he called maniacal raving.

"Even if what Odets writes," says George Jean, "were fact, melodrama is no good unless it makes fact seem reasonable."

This is the play in which Odets lets go at Hollywood. Much has been said about John Garfield, who owes much to our town, taking a job in this mad "Meller."

Garfield may be coming back to Hollywood for Warner brothers. A deal for six pictures is in the offing. John, you may remember, made his first picture, "Four Daughters" on the Warner lot. Seems they're all returning to Warners—Cagney, Garfield, et al.

Bob Cummings and Ken Murray gave the customers at "The Blackouts" their money's worth when Bob did a scene from his movie, "Let's Live A Little," and Ken played Hedy Lamarr. No, he wasn't as pretty.

consideration then, but subsequent "drastic cuts" in production were not fully discounted. Both the price and the number of barrels of oil produced are vital factors in Texas' income.

Decline Is Seen

The comptroller's new estimate came one day after the House committee on Revenue and Taxation recommended passage of a bill taxing natural gas one cent per 1,000 cubic feet. If this measure is ultimately passed, it would have little effect on the new financial crisis which deals with general revenue funds.

Three-fourths of the estimated $22 to $23 million a year that it would produce would be used specifically for building feeder rural roads. One-fourth would go to the public schools.

The House passed a bill Wednesday that would produce between half a million and three million dollars a year. It was a license on billiard halls.

Calvert said he had consulted the best known and most widely accepted authorities in and out of the state on the revenue problem.

"I have concluded from studying these authorities and from watching the progress of collections in our office that receipts from crude oil tax will be reduced by 15 per cent below the original estimate during the next year and one-half," he said.

After that, he thought normal growth would probably offset the loss.

Renewal Of Pioneer Airlines License In Texas Is Foreseen

WASHINGTON, March 9 (Special) — Byron Skelton, Temple city attorney, predicted here today that the license of Pioneer airlines to operate across Texas would be renewed by the Civil Aeronautics board. Skelton, Hammond Moore of Temple Chamber of Commerce and Rep. W. R. Poage, 11th district, conferred with Russell Adams, member of the CAB, who told them a five-year renewal would be considered. No permanent licenses are being issued for feeder services, he said. In 30 days it is expected that a show cause order will be issued for interested parties to show cause why Pioneer's license should not be renewed.

police by Bill Holmes of 2419 Twenty-third.

The sheriff's office at Post informed local officials that a water pump valued at $200 had been stolen there.

Store Breakin Reported

A plea of innocent was entered Wednesday morning by a 28-year-old Lubbock man charged with reckless driving. He was required to post bond of $100 and will appear later for trial of the case before a jury in corporation court.

Loot valued at $40.82 was reported taken in a burglary sometime Tuesday night of B. E. Black's grocery at 2801 North First, the police said Wednesday morning.

Nothing was believed taken in another breaking and entering, of J&K service station at 1619 Ave. H, police detectives were told by J. V. Kirkland, owner, of 2106B Seventh, and D. L. Jones, manager.

Glass Pane Knocked Out

City Detectives Lee Rice, jr., and L. W. Forrester said entrance to the grocery was through a door, the glass pane of which had been knocked out to allow manipulation of a latch.

Taken were 22 cartons of cigartes valued at $37.62, four pounds of aged cheese valued at $2.20, and 100 pennies removed from an unlocked register.

J. J. Moore, of Moore's Bonded patrol, reported the station burglary. Police were unable to locate the owner or manager until the place was opened this morning. It was not believed that anything was taken, but the place was ransacked.

The station had been burglarized the night of March 2 by someone who knocked out a southeast window, the same one broken Monday night, and reached in and took approximately $40 from where it had been hidden in an oil case.

The sheriff's department said Harmon E. Jones, about 23, had surrendered to that department and had posted $1,000 bond on a burglary charge in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace.

Jones and a 20-year-old negro, Bill Homer, who had failed to post $1,500 bond, were charged Tuesday in complaints filed by assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars accusing them of burglary the night before of Wilke Iron and Metal company of 2501 Ave. F.

Police detectives and the sheriff's department recovered approximately $1,500 worth of property a few hours after the negro had been arrested by suspicious police and a truck in which the property had been loaded was recovered abandoned. The truck's load had been taken to four miles southeast of the city and hidden in a ground silo and a shed. Tracks of the vehicle had been swept out, officials said they believed.

Homer was charged in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of the peace.

Next grand jury will be convened April 4.

Concluding Part Of Church Training Class Is Conducted

Concluding the third annual Parent-Teachers training class at Broadway Church of Christ, Dr. F. W. Mattox of Searcy, Ark., will lecture this morning at 10 o'clock on "Parents' Relation to Children in the Home," and at 7:30 o'clock tonight on "Practical applications of Teaching Principals to the Bible Classroom."

Almost 400 persons attended the classes last night, according to Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway church.

Discussing "Levels of Teaching Efficiency," Dr. Mattox last night described the four levels as regarding the human relations of the teacher to the class, the use of teaching materials, release of the energy of the students to a high level of awareness, and the purpose of Bible school teaching. Lectures last night were supplemented by displays of teaching materials, including pictures and opaque slides.

Cafe Group Opposes Sale Of Horse Meat

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—Houston restaurant men joined the battle against horse meat Wednesday, announcing that any members of the Houston Restaurant association who knowingly dispenses horse meat for human consumption will be expelled.

The association reiterated its stand taken in a letter to the City Health department, and lauded unanimous Senate action in Austin Tuesday that passed into law a bill outlawing sale of the meat over food counters.

Association President John L. Lewis told the group, "So far as law is concerned, we've got all we need—a state law with teeth in it."

The new law makes a first offense punishable by a $1,000 fine or two years in prison, or both. A second offense under the same statute subjects the violator to a five-year prison term. The regulation does not apply to horse meat sold before its enactment.

Meantime, Assistant District Attorney Paul Maynard said first evidence of the revival of the horse meat scandal would be presented to the Harris county grand jury Friday. His first witnesses, Maynard said, would be city officers who conducted the recent investigation.

ported flooded.

In Seward, Neb., water poured into the basements of the high school, City Hall, Library, and all business places.

New Threats Seen

Three hundred-fifty engineers, National guardsmen, Red Cross workers and local residents joined forces to fight the Big Blue river flood waters.

The Des Moines Weather bureau said the Des Moines river, upstream from the city would fall slightly during the next few days as would the lower Raccoon river.

The bureau said the Mississippi river and its tributaries in the southeast corner of the state would continue to rise at a slow rate for the next few days, with stages from Keokuk, Ia., to Louisiana, Mo., two to three feet above flood stage.

The danger of immediate floods in eastern Wyoming and Eastern Colorado were minimized by cold weather and snow.

TORNADO DESTROYS NEGRO SCHOOL IN MISSISSIPPI

TERRY, Miss., March 9. (INS)—A small tornado demolished a negro school at Terry, Miss., late today, killing an 11-year-old girl, and injuring several other students.

Mayor John J. Eley, jr., said the swirling wind caved in one portion of the concrete-block wall of the school, burying several children under the debris.

All injuries were found to be minor, however, when the children were extricated. The mayor said three children suffered ankle injuries, several others broken limbs, and one received head lacerations.

Mayor Eley reported the tornado sliced through a small area about 200 yards wide. It struck a tomato packing plant atop a hill, ripping off the roof, then swooped into the valley where the school was located, demolished it, and rose again to unroof a house on the opposite side of the valley.

Man Kills Wife, Friend, Self While Mother-In-Law Listens

NEW YORK, March 9 (AP)—Police said a man shot and killed his wife and a man friend tonight and then committed suicide—while the wife's mother in California listened over the phone.

Detectives said Emory Holt told his wife's mother in Hollywood "I am sorry for what I am going to do." Then, they said, Holt shot his wife, Norma Holt, about 28, and David Whittaker, while the mother listened to Mrs. Holt's screams for help and mercy.

He then turned the gun on himself, police said.

The triple-shooting, which police said stemmed from the husband's suspicions of a love-triangle, took place in Whittaker's 156th story apartment in the fashionable London Terrace development on West 23rd street.

Uncle Sam Gets Part Of Truman Salary

HST Struggles With Income Tax During Florida Vacation

By ROBERT G. NIXON
INS Staff Correspondent

KEY WEST, March 9 — President Truman, even as you and I, went through the annual anguish today of making out his income tax form.

The President, on vacation at the U. S. submarine base at Key West, took time out to groan through calculations of his exemptions to arrive at the sum he owes Uncle Sam.

Check Accompanies Return

Signed with the presidential signature — a bold "Harry S. Truman" — and accompanied by check, the return was sent to the White House in the regular courier plane to be mailed to the Internal Revenue bureau at Kansas City, Mo.

Many people may think that the President of the United States gets his $75,000 annual salary tax free. Far from it, Uncle Sam takes a bite of around $37,000 out of this sum.

The amount was a little less this year, the Republican 80th Congress having put through a four billion dollar tax reduction last year, over the President's vehement opposition.

Reduction Small

But the reduction wasn't much, and the President, confronted with heavy expenses in maintaining the White House establishment for which he must pay out of his salary, is just about as poorly off as ever.

It will be better next year, however.

The 81st Congress has boosted the President's income to $100,000. This, of course, will also serve to increase his income tax, especially if the President's new tax increase measure is approved.

But the Congress also has voted the President a $50,000 annual tax free fund for maintenance expenses, so that, out of his salary, he may emerge from the White House four years hence with some money saved.

Rent Controls Await Filibuster Action

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP) — Administration plans for early action on rent controls hinge on tomorrow's scheduled test on cracking the Senate filibuster.

With Southern Democrats claiming enough votes to defeat that move, prospects were dim for Senate consideration of the rent law extension bill—or any other measure—any time soon.

In the House, Democratic leaders admitted they may have to accept a watered down version in order to get any rent control measure approved. The present rent law runs out March 31.

The House is to open debate tomorrow on a 15-month extension bill which does not contain some of the provisions the administration asked in its request for a two year continuance of the rent curbs. The wartime enforcement powers, for example, were scrapped by the House Banking committee.

'Axis Sally' Trial

cruelty against captured American soldiers in Japan during the war.

In two recent treason cases, also involving broadcasts for the Nazis, the defendants were sentenced to life imprisonment. They were Douglas Chandler and Robert Henry Best

As the seven-week trial here enterend the climactic phase, Judge Curran instructed the jury at length on defense claims that "coercion, compulsion and necessity" drove Miss Gillars to make her propaganda broadcasts from Germany during World War II.

These factors, he said, could be used as an excuse for treason unless the jury believed that Miss Gillars suffered a well-grounded fear of "immediate death or great bodily harm" if she had refused to obey her German masters.

"Love" Not Defense

"And a fear that she might be sent to a concentration camp is not sufficient," Judge Curran said.

The jury retired at 12:03 p.m. to deliberate on Miss Gillars' fate. It was their duty to bring in a simple verdict of guilty or innocent.

Judge Curran told the panel of seven men and five women that defense claims Miss Gillars fell under the "hypnotic influence" of the late Prof. Max Otto Koischwitz, a Nazi radio official whom she tearfully described as "my destiny," was not sufficient reason to justify a verdict of acquittal.

In her six days on the witness stand, the Maine-born defendant had testified she loved Dr. Koischwitz, a one-time professor at Hunter college, N.Y., so much she would have died for him.

But she also blamed him for switching her from broadcasting entertainment programs to mouthing Nazi propaganda and said she would never have been brought to trial if it had not been for him.

Judge Curran also told the jury that although Miss Gillars' U. S. passport was taken up by an American vice consul in Berlin in 1940, it was not sufficient to show that she had lost her American citizenship.

He recalled that Miss Gillars had signed a stipulation acknowledging she was an American citizen at all times, and he said:

"She did owe allegiance to the United States."

Final defense and prosecution arguments ended yesterday, with chief prosecutor John M. Kelley, Jr., denouncing Miss Gillars as an "unholy traitor" and demanding a verdict of guilty.

West Coast Quake

moved the seismograph light beam over the record sheet at such speed it was difficult to follow.

McKim expressed surprise that "a lot more people didn't feel it" in the San Joaquin valley areas.

The sheriff's office at Hollister, the approximate center of the 'quake, reported the tremor "really shook this building."

Windows Shattered

Plate glass windows in Hollister storefronts were shattered, groceries spilled to the floor, windows and dishes were broken and several Hollister telephones were shaken off their stands.

Old timers who still vividly remember the great 1906 earthquake and fire, which leveled most of San Francisco, called today's shock "just a baby."

But one admitted that "you don't get used to any 'quake — big or small."

Dr. Byerly said his records showed similar shocks every two to four years in various parts of the bay area.

The seismologist said there was actually only one distinct tremor but as the shock waves traveled at various speeds through the earth's crust two separate tremors could be felt at points away from the center.

fair return on their grain sorghum, farmers in a large section of West Texas would plant their land to cotton this year.

This would be counter to the department's long-range plan of cutting down on the production of cotton because of steadily increasing supplies of that fiber, Mahon added.

Parity is a price calculated by the government to assure farmers approximately the same purchasing power they had in a given base period, usually the years 1909 to 1914. Under the support program, a farmer turns his crop in as full security on a loan at the fixed parity level when the market price falls to a certain point below parity.

Student Chemical Group Meeting Features Talk By Tech Professor

"The creative scientist and the creative artist have much in common," Ivan L. Little, professor of philosophy at Texas Tech, told members of the Tech Student Affiliate chapter of the American Chemical society at a meeting of the group Wednesday night.

The man who creates scientific hypotheses must use his imagination as much as the man who writes a book, Little told his audience. He cited the example of Capernicus, who theorized that the earth moves around the sun at a time when all knowledge pointed that the opposite was true.

"Those who master the scientific method must give range to the play of imagery," Little said, "and, conversely, the scientific method gives a means of utilizing untamed creative thought."

The society's safety committee reported that fire extinguisher hoses are on hand for use when needed as replacements in chemistry department laboratories, and that safety instructions are to be placed in boxes in each laboratory.

Plans for an engineers' show project will be laid at the next meeting of the society at 7 p.m. Wednesday.

Bascom Giles In Right Mood To Run For Governor Of Texas

FORT WORTH, March 9. (AP)—Bascom Giles, 48-year old state land commissioner, was in the right mood to run for governor of Texas today.

He lent his tacit approval to such an idea when he came to Fort Worth to address the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

"It is too early to announce for office," Giles said after his speech on the tidelands issue before the Jaycees, "but I am thinking it over."

Giles hurried from the Jaycee luncheon to the DRT for a similar speech before he drove back to Austin. He was accompanied to Fort Worth by Rep. Joe Pyle.

The land commissioner, now serving his sixth term in that office, sought to prove Texas' title in the tidelands as well as other public lands by referring to history of the Republic of Texas.

City Commission To Open Bids At Meeting Today

Mayor W. H. Rodgers announced the city commission will convene its semi-monthly session at 1:30 p. m. today, the usual hour, to open a number of bids. None is for a major project, but representatives of several out-of-town bidders already are in Lubbock. The opening will be for their convenience and information.

Immediately after the opening, the mayor said, the meeting will be recessed and members of the commission will attend the funeral for E. N. Hufstedler, sr., in a group. E. K. Hufstedler, jr., is a member of the commission.

City Manager Steve Matthews announced that city offices in the city hall will be closed from 2:30 to 4 p. m.

Program To Aid State's Farmers Save Top Soil Is Handed Solons

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP) — Pleas for $10,000,000 for equipment and supplies to help Texas farmers save the state's top soil were laid before the Senate Finance committee today.

The appropriation is sought in a bill by Senator W. A. Shofner of Temple.

"Your top soil is washing away unless immediate steps are taken, we're not going to have enough left to grow anything in 15 to 20 years," he told the committee.

R. M. Boswell, Kenedy farmer and director of the State Conservation Association District supervisors, said the bill is not aimed at putting private operators out of business but would help the small farmer with the little jobs private business is not interested in.

Boswell warned that unless the state takes the leadership in a soil conservation program, the "federal government will eventually do it on a socialistic basis."

He testified that soil conservation is for the general welfare of the state.

The money sought would be allocated to the various soil conservation districts in the state to be spent in whatever way the elective directors in each district feel will best serve soil conservation purposes in that district.

Machinery for contouring, ditching, fertilizing and sowing soil-conservation crops would be available to farmers at a minimum charge set in each district. Seeds and fertilizers could be made available under the bill.

A subcommittee was instructed to report on the bill within one week.

Ever-Alert Constable Breaks Up Alleged Houston Betting Den

HOUSTON, March 9. (U.P.)—Roving Constable Dale Richardson of La Porte, who has a way of thinning out "back room" crowds, did it again Wednesday.

Richardson, formidable and 26, stalked into an alleged gambling house and arrested two operators and nine horse players.

It was almost a repetition of his appearance here two weeks ago when he arrested three dice players, and then claimed he waged a "one-man battle" to get them in a Houston jail.

Of his foray Wednesday, Richardson said he failed to notice the heavy traffic in a cafe until he was almost shoved off his seat at the counter.

"I was sitting in this cafe, and people walking back and forth from a room in the rear nearly knocked me off the stool," he recounted.

When he casually walked to the rear room, Richardson said he saw "the proprietor. . . taking bets from clients, while his helper posted up the odds on the rundown sheets on the wall."

The constable said that while he took down the names of patrons, a voice on the earphones was giving the rundown on the first race at the fair grounds in New Orleans.

Constable's Office Nearby

The establishment, Richardson noted, was "just a few blocks away" from the office of a constable.

The 11 persons arrested were charged before Justice Thomas I. Decker with gaming, but Richardson insisted to reporters his swoop was not a planned raid.

"But when I saw what was going on," he explained, "I felt like it was my duty to enforce the law."

Houston police, still somewhat non-plussed by the turn of events, looked to Chief B. W. Payne for an official view.

Said Payne: "I guess the law gave him (Richardson) the right to do it if he wants to."

Two Austin High Youths Deny Kidnapping Fellow Student

BROWNWOOD, March 9 (AP)—Two Austin high school students were apprehended near here late today by State highway patrolmen after a wild automobile chase.

They denied, in sworn statements, that they forced a third Austin High school student to accompany them from Austin to near San Saba, Tex., yesterday.

The youths gave up the chase after abandoning their automobile in the old Camp Bowie maneuver area.

They had been the object of a wide search by police officers in West Texas since yesterday.

District Attorney Ralston P. Haun took a sworn statement from one of the youths and County Attorney David J. Morris took a statement from the other. Sheriff Otis F. Shaw witnessed both statements.

The youths denied in the statements that they kidnapped Phillip Waters of Austin.

Los Angeles Policeman Tells Of Watching Marijuana Party As Dancer's Trial Opens

LOS ANGELES, March 9 (INS)—Goings on in the Hollywood Hills cottage before police staged a midnight marijuana raid last Aug. 31 and nabbed actor Robert Mitchum and others were bared in court today at the narcotics trial of dancer Vicki Evans.

Vicki is the last of the all-star cast composed of Mitchum, starlet Lila Leeds and real estate man Robin Ford, to have an inning in court.

The witness who described events leading up to the raid was Police Sergeant A. M. Barr who told a jury of eight men and four women that he peeped through a bedroom window for an hour and a half in the interests of justice. He related:

Dancer Washed Hair

"I saw Miss Evans washing her hair. Before she put her hair up, the telephone rang and I heard her say over the phone:

"'Yes, Honey, I think I can be away from here a little after midnight. Call me then.'

"Miss Leeds joined Miss Evans in the bedroom and the phone rang again. Miss Leeds answered and said: 'Oh, where are you?' Then she gave some directions, hung up and said to Miss Evans:

"'The boys are at the bottom of the hill. They'll be here right away and they're loaded.'"

Barr related that Mitchum and Ford entered the house and Miss Leeds asked the film actor:

"'Have you got any stuff with you?' Mitchum told her, 'Listen we always have plenty. We have both white cigarets and brown cigarets.'"

Barr then quoted Miss Leeds as saying, "'Hurray, I want one of the white ones.'"

The officer said that when he entered the house he seized a partially smoked cigaret at gunpoint from the actor. Barr continued:

"I asked him if he had any more and he replied, 'No, I was clean when I came here.'"

Barr identified 15 marijuana cigarets taken from Miss Leeds and a number of marijuana butts.

Miss Evans, Barr continued, wanted to take the blame because "'Bob and Lila have so much to lose.'" Barr said he told her:

"'No, we don't work that way.' Mitchum then confessed to me:

"'I've been a long time smoker of marijuana cigarets. I had one only a couple of days ago.'"

When Vicki's trial opened yesterday, both Mitchum and Miss Leeds were ready to testify as defense witnesses but their lawyers refused to let the film pair take the stand.

Texas Community Says Area's Cows Far Better Than Average

SPRINGTOWN, Texas, March 9. (AP)—This North Central Texas community prides itself in having better-than-average cows.

Future Farmers of Springtown recently made a survey to prove it. The survey revealed that the average bossie of the town produces 5,200 pounds or 603 gallons of milk annually, containing 241 pounds of butterfat.

The nation's average is only 4,789 pounds of milk per cow, with 182 pounds of butterfat.

Texas City Chemical Company May Curtail Output Permanently

TEXAS CITY, March 9. (AP)—Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation revealed Wednesday that the recently-concluded 43-day strike at its mammoth plant here might enforce permanent abandonment of certain processing units.

Plant Superintendent H. M. Ross said recovery from effects of the walkout was slow, and that immediate full production was out of the question.

"The decline in chemical markets, coupled with the loss in business from the strike and the transfer of the production load to other carbide plants, will prevent us from starting back into full production immediately," Ross stated.

Many units are still idle at the sprawling chemical factory, Ross added, and might remain so. He emphasized that a certain amount of curtailment would have been in order, regardless of the strike.

TURKEY FEELS SOVIET PRESSURE

Red Cabinet Shifts May Herald Mediterranean Area Cold War

By JAMES E. ROPER
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 9—Moscow announced Russia's third cabinet change within a week Wednesday amid first indications that a possible Soviet cold war spring campaign may be starting in the eastern Mediterranean.

Reports from Istanbul said the Soviet cabinet shift was accompanied by a demand that Turkey outline its attitude on the Atlantic pact, or a subsidiary Mediterranean agreement, for the information of the Soviet government.

At the same time little Albania, undoubtedly with Moscow's backing, began a war of nerves against Marshal Tito with a call to Yugoslavs to revolt and "free the nation from the treacherous Tito gang."

The latest Soviet government shift brought Russia's top industrial expert, Alexander I. Yefremov, into the cabinet headed by Premier Josef Stalin. The addition increased the Soviet cabinet from 13 to 14 members, including Stalin.

Yefremov was relieved of his duties as minister of the machine tool industry and replaced in that capacity by a compartive unknown, Anatoli I. Kostousov.

The shift made Yefremov a deputy chairman of the council of ministers or, in Western terminology, a deputy premier.

Promotion Follows Pattern

On the surface, Yefremov's promotion appeared to follow the pattern of freeing top executives from their departmental routine for the more important work of charting cabinet policy.

Two recent such changes were the release of V. M. Molotov from the duties of foreign minister and A. I. Mikoyan from the duties of foreign trade minister.

There was no immediate indication whether the Russian note to Turkey, which has not been confirmed officially, might be the opening gun in a renewed Russian postwar drive to gain concessions from Turkey in control of the strategic Dardanelles strait between the Black and Mediterranean seas.

Notes Similar

The Russian note to Turkey was similar to a recent note to Norway demanding to know Norway's intentions on the Atlantic pact. Norway rejected the Russian offer of a non-aggression treaty and announced that she would join the Atlantic pact.

There has been no immediate Soviet reaction to the Norwegian defiance, although unconfirmed reports have told of new Soviet troop movements in the Scandinavian and Baltic areas.

Unofficial quarters in Ankara said the request to know Turkey's attitude on the Atlantic pact was made by the Soviet ambassador. The Turkish foreign office replied that Turkey was interested in a "regional pact of a defensive nature" but that more specific information would have to wait until Foreign Minister Necmeddin Sadak returned from Paris.

The Albanian war of nerves indicated that Moscow might be moving to unseat its defective satellite leader in the Balkans.

Greek Communists recently announced plans to form an independent Macedonia, carving it out of areas of Greece and Yugoslavia. Hungary recently stopped war reparations payments to Yugoslavia and joined Czechoslovakian workers in an appeal for a Yugoslav revolt.

House Battles Over Basic Science Measure

JUST $1,000,000—The sheet of Chinese postage stamps held by Col. William J. Scheyer has a total face value of exactly $1,000,000 —in Chinese Nationalist currency. The face value in American money, however, is slightly more than 8 cents. Col. Scheyer, who currently is visiting in Lubbock, acquired the stamps during his recent 18-month tour at Tsingtao, China, with U. S. Marine and Navy forces there.

Marine Officer Tells Of Months Of Duty, Observation In China

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Staff Writer

After spending 51 months in China, Col. William J. Scheyer of the U. S. Marine corps says he is willing to agree with most other Americans that the Chinese situation is "a mess."

Col. Scheyer recently returned from an 18-month tour at Tsingtao, on Shantung peninsula in northeast China, where he was chief of staff, Fleet Marine force, Western Pacific.

Problem Up To China

Currently in Lubbock for a six-day visit at the home of Dr. R. T. Canon, a long-time friend, Col. Scheyer in an interview Wednesday openly admitted that the Chinese situation is a puzzle to him.

"Everyone seems to have a solution for the Chinese problem," he said. "I spent a total of 51 months there, however, and studied the situation constantly during that time. Frankly, the solution is beyond me, except that I do believe that the Chinese are going to have to work out their own destiny for a while."

Col. Scheyer, a class of '23 graduate of the U.S. Naval academy who has seen considerable service with the Marines in the Caribbean and Pacific areas, explained that the Chinese Communists now control practically all of North China, the region in which he recently was stationed.

Red Control Complete

"I'd say that Communist control there is about like Ivory soap —99.44 per cent pure," he said. "Only isolated areas have not fallen into Communist hands. One of these is Tsingtao, which formerly was the summer base of our Navy's Asiatic fleet. The Communists closed in to within 30 miles, where they have set up an 'iron curtain' much like that of the Russians."

The colonel said that until a recent reduction, United States forces at Tsingtao were of approximately one brigade strength. All American forces remaining there, he added, are based aboard ship and are well equipped. Vice Admiral Oscar Badger, son of the U.S. Naval chief in World War I, is in command of the outpost.

Make Minor Attacks

The Communists have launched no direct attacks on Tsingtao, the colonel said, although there have been occasional raids on the city's perimeter. But there remains concern over the possibility of an all-out attack by Red forces.

Of the recent self-imposed exile of Chiang Kai-Shek, former president of the Chinese Nationalist government, Col. Scheyer said he still believes that Chiang is the man who will be regarded as outstanding in Chinese history of this era."

He said he holds a high regard for Chiang, whom he considers a "sincere patriot," and added that he thinks there is a definite pos-

No Action Taken On New Proposal

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, March 9 — The House wrangled with the basic science bill for five hours this afternoon and then adjourned without taking any action.

The motion to adjourn squeezed by on a one-vote margin, 69-68. Backers wanted to stay and get action.

Tomorrow is the day for the House to consider Senate bills before any unfinished business is taken up. Only a few minor Senate bills were on the calendar and it was possible the debate on the basic science measure would begin all over again.

Amendments Are Blocked

The bill would set up a state board to examine all practioners of the healing arts. It is sponsored by the Texas State Medical association and bitterly opposed by the chiropractors.

Its backers in the House fought steadily and kept all crippling amendments from being adopted. Six amendments were adopted but made only minor changes.

Tempers flared and hot words were exchanged just before the adjournment motion ended the wrangle.

Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth urged the House to adjourn.

"You're tired and I'm tired to a point that is silly," he said: "I like this bill but I object to a majority holding my feet to the fire. I'm not going to support any effort to cut off debate and amendments."

Agreement Is Hit

Hull said he objected to any agreement between Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio and the speaker that debate would be cut off if an adjournment motion failed.

Ridgeway and Manford denied any such agreement.

"I don't appreciate anyone accusing me of an underhanded deal with the speaker," Ridgeway said.

Manford told the House that he had said only he would accept Ridgeway's motion to shut off debate if a motion to adjourn failed.

This flareup came after Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas, one of the leading opponents, introduced an amendment striking out section 9 as written in the bill, and substituting the exact words. He then withdrew the amendment, saying:

"The authors refused to accept this amendment. I introduced it just to show how arbitrary they are."

Hull's point was that the incident just showed that it was time for the House to quit and get a night's sleep.

One of the backers, Rep. Jack

Hufstedler Rites Are Set Today

Funeral services for E. K. Hufstedler, sr., 63, widely-known South Plains landowner and equipment dealer, will be conducted at 3 p.m. today in the Broadway Church of Christ. Mr. Hufstedler died in St. Mary's hospital Wednesday morning at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of the Broadway church, will officiate at the final rites. Burial will be in Tech Memorial Park cemetery under the direction of Sanders Funeral home.

Mr. Hufstedler, who came to the South Plains in 1925, was widely known among farmers and agricultural people. He and his two sons, E. K., jr., Lubbock city commissioner, and J. D., owned farm equipment stores in Lubbock, Plainview, Levelland and Littlefield.

Born in Randolph county, Ark., Nov. 4, 1885. Mr. Hufstedler moved to Texas with his parents when he was three years old. His family settled in Hood county, where Hufstedler grew to manhood.

He was engaged in the cotton and grain business in Tolar, when he came to the South Plains in 1917 and purchased land in the Canyon community, east of Lubbock.

Moved Here In 1925

In 1925, he and his family moved here. He continued in the cotton and grain business until 1930 when he entered the farm equipment business here and at Plainview. He opened the Levelland store in 1939 and the Littlefield store in 1945.

Mr. Hufstedler was married to the former Dottie Lou Lawing in Hood county, Nov. 5, 1905.

Besides his wife, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. J. V. Morton, and Mrs. C. C. Woodson, Levelland; Mrs. J. E. Snelson, and Mrs. Kenneth Allen, Fort Worth; the two sons, E. K., jr., and J. D., both of Lubbock; 14 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. John Neeley, Tolar; two half-brothers, Guy Hufstedler, Amherst, and Troy Bowers, Lubbock; five half-sisters, Mrs. Audrey Warren, and Mrs. Burley Anderson, Lubbock; Mrs. Dora Raven, Ozona; Mrs. Maude Rush, Levelland; and Mrs. Ruth Miller of the Canyon community; and a step-mother, Mrs. S. Religion Seen As Aid To Happy Marriage

Dr. Evans To Close Lecture Series At Texas Tech Today

Dr. Louis Hadley Evans, L.L.D., Willson lecturer at Texas Tech will present the final lecture of this year's series of talks this morning at 11 a.m. in the college gym.

Dr. Evans, who was brought to Tech by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada from his pastorate in Hollywood, Calif., has chosen "Religion, a Social Necessity," as his topic for the final lecture.

The Presbytertan minister spoke to a capacity audience Wednesday at the college on the subject, "Love, Marriage and the Home."

He declared that "if the American home is to stand tomorrow, it will have to have strong ties of religion deep down in the hearts

Area Vets Are Returned Home

Remains of 12 South Plains men who lost their lives during World War II, as well as a number from the Panhandle area, are being returned to the United States from Europe aboard the United States Army transport Barney Kirschbaum, the Army department has announced.

A total of 6,785 American war dead are aboard the vessel, of which 371 are being returned on instructions of next of kin residing in Texas. Armed forces dead originally interred in temporary military cemeteries in France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, and England are among those being returned to this country.

The Army department stated that each next of kin would be notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel, and again after arrival of the remains at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

South Plains war dead being returned, with next of kin as listed by the Army, are:

SAFETY CAMPAIGN MAPPED

1948 Accident Death Toll In U.S. Is Claimed 'Disgrace'

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—The 1948 accident death toll of 98,000 is a disgrace to a civilized nation, the president of the National Safety council said here Wednesday.

"It is, in a manner of speaking, mass murder by apathy," said Ned H. Dearborn of Chicago.

Speaking before the tenth annual conference of the Texas Safety association, Dearborn said "Those people were killed because America, both in official and private walks of life, has not become sufficiently alarmed over the accident toll to do a real job of reducing it."

Campaign Is Planned

"If 98,000 people were to die of typhoid fever or any other disease in an epidemic, you can bet the country would take steps to prevent such a thing from happening again," he said. "Yet year after year we shrug off such a toll from accidents as 'something inevitable.'"

The death toll from accidents, he said, could be cut in half in one year if the people were willing "to go to a little trouble and work to apply a remedy already in their possession."

"After 35 years of study and research, organized safety now knows why, how and when accidents are caused, and how they can be prevented."

Earlier in the day, Charles A. Miller, Houston, president of the Texas association, advised Dearborn and others attending the conference of plans for "community level" campaign during 1949.

In his presidential report Miller said the safety movement will be taken to the cross-roads of every county in Texas, to every citizen and to every organization.

Miller said that if 1947 rate of traffic fatalities had prevailed in Texas last year the 1948 traffic deaths would have reached a spectacular new high of 2,218.

Warning Is Given On Socialization

LITTLEFIELD, March 9 (Special) — W. D. Rogers, jr., a member of the Hub chapter of Toastmasters International, was guest speaker today at the luncheon of the Littlefield Lions club.

Rogers, speaking on "Socialized Medicine, a Stepping Stone to a Socialistic State," warned against possible dangers in allowing socialization to gain a foothold in the United States.

"It is true that our democracy has developed weak spots in the form of monopolies in economics, and strong minorities in politics and lobbying," Rogers said. "But to correct the problems of the United States is not to resort to socialism, but to correct democracy's weak points."

All forms of government have certain shortcomings, he added, but history has proved democracy to be the soundest governmental system yet developed.

He traced the origin of socialized medicine, and listed possible disadvantages that might result should it be adopted in this country.

Advance 'Scouts' Of Capistrano Swallows Arrive Few Days Early

SAN FERNANDO, March 9. (AP)—The swallows will come to San Juan Capistrano mission on St. Joseph's Day, March 19, as always but they may be 2,000 short in number.

Police Lt. Chris Pfaff said yesterday that an advance scouting party of the birds landed here and took up abode—at the San Fernando jail farm.

State's Cattle Industry Given Start More Than Two Centuries Ago By Spanish Group

Texas' cattle industry, which usually accounts for about 10 per cent of the nation's beef cattle population, had its beginnings more than two and a half centuries ago, according to Louis Franke, extension editor at Texas A. & M. college.

Franke states in a recent article that the cattle in Texas began in 1690, when a Spanish expedition crossed the Sabine river. This expedition, which finally constructed San Francisco and de los Tejas mission, drove cattle along to supply food for its members.

Other starts of cattle, Franke states, came in 1716 when Capt. Domingo Ramon, a Spaniard, laid out the Old San Antonio Road, and in 1718 when San Antonio de Valero mission was set up in the San Antonio area.

These early cattle were of Moorish stock, brought to the West Indies by Columbus on his second voyage to America in 1493, and moved on to Mexico by Cortez in 1519.

The Moorish cattle drifted away from early Texas missions and roamed wild over the costal prairies.

Later, French types of cattle were brought to Louisiana, and the Atlantic coast was stocked with cattle from northern Europe —including America's first group of Herefords, imported from England by Henry Clay in 1817. Stephen F. Austin sent Atlantic coast cattle to his colonies of Columbus, Washington - on - the - Brazos, and San Felipe de Austin.

The European and French cattle interbred with the wild herds of Moorish stock in Texas, creating the famed Texas Longhorn, whose numbers increased rapidly between 1835 and 1860. No one knows how many Longhorns were in Texas when the breed was at its peak, but more than 10 million were driven up Midwestern cattle trails during the three decades after the Civil War.

Later, as the state became more thickly populated and the vast areas of open range were broken up, the Longhorn gradually disappeared from the scene, as purebred cattle gained in popularity with Texas ranchmen.

In the early post war period when new cars and trucks began to make their appearance in limited numbers on the South Plains market, we adopted the policy of not DEMANDING that the purchaser of a NEW DODGE CAR or TRUCK trade their old car or truck in to us just for the privilege of buying a new vehicle.

Now that the Used Car and Used Truck valuations have changed, customers have found it more desirable to trade in their old cars and trucks on the purchase of a new DODGE.

Today, for the first time in the post war era, we have an excellent stock of CUSTOMER USED CARS and USED TRUCKS on sale at prices you would normally expect to pay for USED VEHICLES.

OLD LAW FINALLY DEAD

Kansans Drink Legal Liquor For First Time In Over 68 Years

TOPEKA, Kan., March 9. (AP)—Kansans drank legal liquor in their homes and private clubs Wednesday for the first time in more than 68 years.

Officially, the Sunflower state's famous and stringent "bone dry" laws were wiped off the books when an act of repeal was published in the state newspaper late Wednesday. But a ruling by the state's attorney general declared prohibition repealed at midnight Tuesday night.

The repeal was demanded by the people in a referendum last November. It was passed by the legislature last week and Gov. Frank Carlson, who says he won't drink anyway, signed it into law Tuesday.

New Law Explained

The new measure permits:

1. Kansans to bring up to one case of intoxicants into the state for their own use.

2. Possession and consumption in cities which voted wet in November.

But it prohibited:

1. Public drinking outside private homes or duly recognized private clubs."

2. Sale of liquor by the drink. Consumers must order set-ups at clubs.

Liquor will be sold by packages within the state as soon as a liquor control commission to be named by Carlson begins functioning in about two months.

Many Take Advantage

Meanwhile, however, scores of Kansans took advantage of their new rights to bring in stocks from adjoining states without scanning the rear-vision mirror for signs of the State Highway patrol.

At Hays, Kan., Frank Vsteck jumped the gun Tuesday and was arrested for liquor violation several hours before Carlson signed the bill. Attorney General Harold Fatzer said Vsteck would be prosecuted notwithstanding the new law.

State enforcement agencies and civic officials were gearing for the new era. Fatzer called a meeting here Wednesday with the County Attorney's association to brief the local officers.

Carlson said the new law "introduces a situation in which each of us will have a definite and personal and public responsibility.

Students Are Warned

"It was evident from the outset that, after nearly 70 years of prohibition, this would be a most difficult task in which I did not personally welcome a part, but one which required me to do my duty as governor," he said.

Chancellor Deane W. Malott of the University of Kansas and President Milton S. Eisenhower of Kansas State college issued statements warning students not to bring liquor on the campuses.

Some city officials were disappointed because the law didn't give local governments a bigger share of sales revenue.

A Manhattan, Kan., newspaper publisher predicted the new law would put hundreds of bootleggers out of business but said there still would be some bootlegging to after-hours customers and minors.

Most folks thought the change from dry to wet would go unnoticed after a few weeks. They took the new law in stride. They simply turned up the lights, threw up the shades, smiled at the cop on the beat and took a drink from a clearly labeled bottle without fear of punishment.

Rehearsals Underway For Annual Tech Varsity Show

Rehearsals for "Milestones in Melody" annual Tech Varsity show to be presented April 4-6 are well underway but talent for individual numbers between acts is still needed, according to Bill Parsley, director of the show.

Parsley went on to say that all of the speaking parts for the musical comedy were filled. The show, which was written by Ruth Cook, a senior Home Economics major from Orchard, is mostly built around the part of Larry Billings, a typical college student. Billings will be played by Bill Wright, a junior Arts and Science student from Midland.

Tech Journalists To Hold Special Election

A special election to fill the office of student president for the Southwestern Journalism congress will be held at Texas Tech Wednesday according to Clint Formby, student council president.

The congress which is to be held at the college April 29-30 will include journalism students from colleges and universities from all over the south and southwest.

The successor to Ray Cook, senior journalism student from Childress who has resigned the office, will be picked by a secret ballot of the students from the Tech journalism department.

Clark Schooley, assistant professor of journalism, said it was customary for two members of the host school to serve as president and student president of the meet. Prof. Cecil Horne, head of the Tech journalism department, will act as general president of the congress. This will be the first time in 13 years that Tech has been host to the congress.

Other member schools have asked Tech to pick a successor to Cook, and Schooley said the journalism faculty has asked the student council to aid in the election.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Showing Of Oil Is Reported In North Central Andrews Test

Kewanee Oil & Gas company appears to have found production in the Devonian at its No. 1-C University, on the north side of the Shafter Lake field in north-central Andrews county.

This exploration, located 660 feet from south and west lines of the southeast quarter of section 12, block 13, University survey, took a drillstem test in the Devonian at 9,825-9,900 feet.

The tool was open three and one-half hours. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. The volume was not gauged or estimated.

Clean Oil Recovery

Recovery was 6,000 feet of clean oil and not water. The drill pipe unloaded considerable oil while the tester was being pulled. Open flowing bottom hole pressure was from 150 pounds to 1,500 pounds. Shutin bottom hole pressure, after 15 minutes, was 3,200 pounds. Hydrostatic pressure was 4,800 pounds.

The oil fill up during the three and one-half hours the tool was open was calculate dat 43 barrels for the period.

The project is credited by unofficial sources with having entered the Devonian between 9,825 feet and 9,830 feet. Elevation is 3,260 feet. On that corelation it is approximately 74 feet high on the top of the Devonian to the Stanolind Oil &Gas company No. 1-BG University, one location to the east which indicated production in the Devonian. Those indications were not sufficient for an oil well and the No. 1-BG University was finished as a small producer from the Wolfcamp-Permian.

Oil Signs Develop

Oil signs from an unidentified lime and chert formation adjacent to the Landon pool of extreme couth-central Cochran county devaloped for Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Edwards, 660 feet from north and 528 feet from yest lines of section 13, block L, psl survey.

This prospector was originally started as a northeast outpost to the Landon-Strawn production, but missed that pay and was drilled ahead for a wildcat test.

A one-hour drillstem test was run at 10,763-800 feet in the unidentified lime and chert zone below the Strawn-Pennsylvanian. A 1,650-foot water blanket was used. A fair blow of air held at the surface for a part of the period.

Recovery was the water blanket with a rainbow show of oil on top followed by 40 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud.

Operator has made more hole to 10,830 feet, and was preparing to take another drillstem test. No accurate geological correlations have been reported on the current horizon. Very few deep tests have been drilled i nthe area, and the Stanolind venture ra naltogether different to the formations encountered in the Landon field.

Taking Drillstem Test

Humble No. 1-B Moore, Ellenburger exploration in northwest Scurry county, 10 miles northwest of Snyder, and 1,880 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 492, block 1-A, H&TC survey, was bottomed at 8,301 feet, 99 feet into the Ellenburger ,and was taking another drillstem test.

This project developed some free oil o nthe section between 8,125 feet and 8,241 feet, in drillstem tests. The zone at 8,241-61 feet recovered 20 feet of slightly oil and gas cut mud, in a 45-minute investigation. No water was developed.

Another test was run at 8,241-81 feet. The tester was open 67 minutes. No gas showed at the surfcae. Recovery was 20 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud. No water appeared in that test.

Operator representatives have not made any surmises as to what they think about the possibility of developing a commercial oil well from the shows so far found in the Ellenburger, in this wildcat.

American Pilot With Chinese Airline Tells Of Capture By Reds

SHANGHAI, March 9. (INS)—An American pilot whose passenger plane was commandeered in mid-air by Chinese Communist aerial pirates a month ago returned Wednesday to Shanghai.

The young flyer, Donald Hassig, reached Shanghai after his release from Communist-held Tsinan in Shantung province March 4.

He was accompanied by two Chinese members of the crew.

Hassig was flying his Chinese National Airlines corporation plane to Tsingtao with ten passengers aboard when six of them captured the craft and took over the controls an hour after it took off.

They flew the plane to Tsinan, the provincial capital of Shantung, but were unable to land it themselves because of poor visibility.

In a statement regarding the incident, CNAC officials said the pirates forced Hassig to land the plane himself. The airline said Hassig and his crew were well treated during their confinement in a Tsinan hotel where they were denied any outside communication.

The fate of the passengers was not made clear by CNAC.

Hassig and his companions reached Tsingtao by rail and highway travel after their release.

Rotarians Hear Talk By Hollywood Pastor

In an address to members of the Lubbock Rotary club at their weekly luncheon Wednesday noon in Hilton hotel, Dr. Lewis H. Evans, pastor of First Presbyterian church of Hollywood, Calif., declared that America has a battle with selfishness which she must win above all others.

Dr. Evans has been giving the 1949 Willson lectures this week on the Texas Tech college campus.

Citing the decline in expenditures for "the human equation" in American life, Dr. Evans said "This money business is the storm center of our lives . . . It's God's way of making men.

Character Most Important

"Someone has said a man's pocketbook is the most sensitive nerve in his body—it is a megaphone shouting what he is . . .

"Some men are too busy making a fortune to make a friend," he declared. "But when life is done, it doesn't make any difference who he is—his character is all he has left . . . Character is the one lasting thing.

Visitors Attend Luncheon

"We must learn to make money, take it and not let it be our master," he declared.

Dr. Evans was introduced by Jas. G. Allen. Out-of-town visitors at the luncheon included: A. D. Steed, Amarillo; E. B. Hearne, Little Rock, Ark.; Bill Deardorf, Plainview; Bob Lewis, Midland; Raymond Goddard, Waco; Burnet Roberts and Artie Forehand, Levelland; Robert Van Lardingham, Inverness, Miss.; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Casseday and Mrs. John Codey, jr., Snyder; and Carrol F. Hinners, Fort Worth.

Co-Op Group In Meeting Here

The second of a series of meetings which are being held as follow-ups to last month's annual meeting of Consumers' Co-operatives Associated, was held Wednesday at the Plains Co-op Oil Mill here.

The first of the series was held Tuesday in Amarillo. A third is to be held in Abilene today. Others are scheduled for a number of other cities in Texas and Arkansas in forthcoming weeks.

Highlighting the Wednesday meeting here was the announcement of the recent election of Leonard F. Cowden of Amarillo as president of the National Co-operatives organization. The organization represents five million farmers who own 10,500 local cooperatives in Canada and the United States.

Approximately 150 farmer-members from this area attended the sessions. A lunch was served at noon.

Cowden is the first man from the Southwest to hold the national office.

The main purpose of the gathering was to report to the farmer members of Consumer Co-operatives Associated, which includes seven states, the business operation for the year just closed.

Volume of business of co-ops in the seven-state area was $13,800,000. From that members realized a margin or saving of $615,000, or 5.63 per cent of all their purchases through co-operatives.

Departmental reports were held Wednesday morning. Tom C. Jones of Amarillo made a financial report. T. M. Menke reported on business operations, and Donald W. May of Lubbock discussed co-operative education.

Cowden, who in addition to his national office, also is executive vice president of the regional co-op organization, gave a general summary report.

Joe Denton, manager of the Co-operative refinery at Levelland, reported on refinery operations.

Also participating were C. J. Shipley, field representative of the regional co-op organization; and Henry Baldridge, manager of the local co-operative, who recently was named to succeed Victor Billingsley, resigned.

Wednesday afternoon the Farmers Compress Co., and Plains Co-op Oil Mill held regular monthly meetings with their directors.

George Blair of Dallas, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Co-operatives, spoke on the work of the federation.

Opening Is Changed For Crosbyton Rodeo

CROSBYTON, March 9. (Special)—Dates for the second annual Crosbyton rodeo have been re-set for May 12-13-14 by directors of the association.

The rodeo originally was scheduled later in May, but because of a conflict in dates with the Post Stampede, a change was made.

All performances of the Crosbyton show will be staged at night this year, Tillman Reeves, association secretary, has announced. There will be no Sunday show, he added.

Champion Calf-Roper, Contender, To Meet In Crosbyton Contest

CROSBYTON, March 9. (Special)—Toots Mansfield, world champion calf-roper of Big Spring, is to meet Red Whatley, Crosbyton contender for the title, in a match April 17 at the local rodeo arena.

Mansfield, who also is president of the Rodeo Cowboys association, amassed the largest point total of any roper in RCA-recognized rodeos last year.

Whatley also is recognized as one of the country's top ropers, having appeared in many of the better-known rodeos, including that staged annually in Madison Square garden.

Midland Firm Perfects New Equipment For Oil Industry

MIDLAND, March 9 (Special)—The Western company, of Midland, has announced that it is now equipped to provide jet casing perforating and jet formation shooting to the Permian basin oil industry.

Commercial names of the new services are Western "Pipe-Jet" Casing Perforating and Western "Pay-Jet" Formation Shooting. Both services are based on the jet-charge principle which only recently has been adapted to oil industry use. The company has been licensed under all leading patents to provide its jet perforating. The newly developed "shaped charge" manufactured by Dupont is utilized in both services.

As it is the first company to provide jet open hole shooting to West Texas and New Mexico, The Western company is aiding in the pioneering of the development of the new service.

John F. Younger, manager of Western's perforating department, has just returned to Midland from the Dupont laboratories in Wilmington, Del., where he conferred with the manufacturers of the charges and furnished them with first-hand information on the action of the charges in the field.

To keep abreast of the latest developments, Western's geologists and engineers are compiling all available performance material from other sections where jet formation shooting is now in use.

The African Rinderpest Conference, from Nairobi, Kenya, launched a drive to eradicate rinderpest (cattle plague) from all Africa, through use of vaccines.

SOVIET'S RELEASE AGAIN ASKED

New York Grand Jury Studies Details Of Espionage Case

NEW YORK, March 9 (INS) — New York's federal grand jury investigating Communist espionage received the details today of how FBI agents trapped a Brooklyn girl employe of the Justice department and a Soviet United Nations official.

Four FBI agents told their stories to the grand jury. It was presumed the jurors were shown stolen government documents allegedly found on the young woman, Judith Coplon, 27, when she was arrested with Valentin A. Gubitchev in New York last Friday.

May Enter Home

The grand jury adjourned until 11 a. m. tomorrow amid reports that the government hopes for indictments against the 32-year-old Gubitchev and the Barnard college graduate either tomorrow or Friday.

The four FBI men were the only witnesses heard today.

Following the jury session, Miss Coplon's attorney, Bertram Adams, and her brother, Bertram, conferred with special assistant U. S. Attorney General Raymond P. Wheatty and Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas J. Donegan.

Adams later told reporters that Bertram Coplon had received permission to enter his sister's Washington quarters and remove her clothes and belongings.

Bail Not Released

A government spokesman confirmed this purpose of the conference and said:

"The apartment already has been thoroughly searched."

The attorney for Miss Coplon said he has not yet been able to raise the $20,000 bail required for her release from a detention cell.

Coplon declared to newsmen that he considers his sister "entirely innocent." One reporter asked Coplon if he is a "radical." He replied:

"I'm a Republican, if you consider that radical."

In Washington, meanwhile, the State department ruled that Gubitchev, now suspended from his post in the U. N. secretariat, cannot claim diplomatic immunity.

Secretary of State Acheson read the ruling at a news conference shortly before meeting with Soviet Ambassador Panyushkin.

The Soviet Ambassador requested the meeting to repeat his demand of last Saturday that Gubitchev, now in a detention cell in New York in lieu of $100,000 bail, be released.

Panyushkin's renewed demand may have been prompted by Gubitchev's complaints against his treatment. Yesterday the spy suspect was visited by two Soviet officials and complained he had been kidnapped by the FBI.

Gubitchev also expressed bitterness at being forced to associate with "common criminals" in the house of detention.

There is every indication that the government will oppose all efforts to win Gubitchev's release. At his preliminary arraignment last Saturday the $100,000 bail was asked on the ground that it was feared he might flee if released from custody.

Wheatty told the court that Gubitchev has no American connections and it might be difficult if not impossible to apprehend him if he skipped bail.

Just what documents were shown to the grand jury today was not disclosed. The documents in the case are regarded as the government's chief evidence against the pair.

They are believed to be abstracts of papers dealing with national defense, found in Miss Coplon's purse when she was taken into custody with Gubitchev last Friday as the couple kept a rendezvous on a Manhattan bus after attempting to shake off FBI men.

First Post-War Cotton Cargo To Russia Leaves Houston Port

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—The first load of cotton to go directly from Houston to Russia since the war left Port Houston Wednesday aboard the Irish motorship Empire Glencoe.

The cargo will be unloaded at Vladivostok, across the Japan sea from the Japanese island of Hokkaido.

The Empire Glencoe also carried 450 tons of ammonium sulphate from the new Phillips Chemical company plant. Its destination was Takao, Formosa, and is the first shipment from the new Houston industry.

News Briefs

Larry Solley, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Solley of Lubbock route 7, was reported in good condition at West Texas hospital, where he was admitted Wednesday morning for treatment of first and second degree burns received when he pulled a kettle of boiling water down upon himself in the Solley residence.

Graveside services for Marilyn Hanks, two-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hanks of Abernathy, will be conducted at 10 a. m. today at Wolfforth cemetery. Rev. W. A. James, pastor of the Baptist church of Wolfforth, will officiate, with burial under direction of Rix Funeral home. The infant died Tuesday in Lubbock Memorial hospital. Survivors include the parents and three brothers.

Cp. Arlin Hinsley, who recently returned from serving two years in the occupation forces in Japan, arrived in Lubbock Wednesday morning for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stevens of 1902 Ave. E, and his grandfather, also of that address. He also will visit several sisters here, including Mesdames Lewis Coffee, Johnny Jones, E. W. Julian and Jimmy Fair. At the conclusion of his furlough, Cpl. Hinsley will report to Roswell, N. M., where he is to be discharged from the Army.

Final rites were held at 3 p. m. Wednesday in the First Baptist church at Anson, for James C. Howe, 26, of 3203 Ave. H, who was killed Monday night in an automobile accident near Hale Center. Burial followed in Mount Hope cemetery, Anson. Howe had lived in Lubbock since 1946.

Arrangements are being made for the formal inauguration of Dr. D. M. Wiggins, new president of Texas Tech, early in May. Speakers for the occasion are being contacted and details of the program will be announced later.

The condition of Rev. A. F. Laing, pastor of the Lubbock First Church of the Nazarene has improved according to relatives. Rev. Laing was taken home from West Texas Hospital yesterday where he had been confined for the past two weeks as a result of a heart attack.

Texas Safety Group Plans Extensive Drive

HOUSTON, March 9. (AP)—Texas' 1949 traffic safety campaign will be carried to the crossroads of every county in the state, the president of the Texas Safety association said here Wednesday.

Charles A. Miller, Houston, in a presidential report before the opening session of the tenth annual Texas Safety conference, said "What we want is a united public will for action in every community."

The association president said a new low in the state's mileage death rate was established last year.

"If the 1947 rate of traffic fatalities had prevailed in 1948," he said, "last year's traffic deaths would have reached a spectacular new high of 2,218. Instead, 145 lives were saved. The economic loss was $5,818,000 less than it would have been at the 1947 rate; 12,180 accidents were prevented, and 4,205 injuries prevented."

Westerner Cage Squad Guests Of Exchange Club At Luncheon

Members of the Lubbock Westerner basketball squad Wednesday were guests of the Exchange club at its weekly luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Coach Roy Morris, in a brief talk, commended his boys' performance both on and off the basketball court during the past season, then introduced all members of the squad.

At the conclusion of Morris' address, he was presented a flycasting rod, fly assortment and bait box, and flycasting instruction booklet by Dr. Jim Reynolds on behalf of the club.

Preceding Morris' talk, Joe Kelly, sports editor of the Avalanche-Journal, spoke briefly in tribute to the performance which carried the Westerner cagers to third place in the state Class AA race.

President Charles Cathey, presiding at the luncheon, announced that Bill Bartlett had been appointed chairman of the directors committee for this year's local Soap Box Derby. Other members of the committee are Glenn Woody, P. K. Palmer and Joe Holmes.

One new member, Alex Cook, was introduced at the luncheon.

YOU CAN ENJOY GOOD HEALTH

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

(and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

NO MATTER how long you have been suffering from stomach, kidney and rheumatic distress, and what drugs you have tried before, you can, now, hope for relief if you take GEO-MINERAL. With your eyes SEE the results seven days after you start taking it.

DRUGGISTS, Chemists cannot make GEO-MINERAL. It comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO dope, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY Nature's minerals—the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

Wonder Minerals

FOR THOUSANDS of years sufferers, on advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to get cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Mineral Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

WE HAVE all heard of the miraculous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece, where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

IF YOU ARE a sufferer, and can not go to the mineral springs, try GEO-MINERAL which contains a blend of the same minerals that can be found at the world's best springs. The minerals in it may work miracles.

Amazing Results

WATCH your elimination from your bowels two or three days after you start using GEO-MINERAL. The waste, black as coal, will break away and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities—poisonous waste—coming out of your kidneys, and feel the relief. Be sure to watch for all this to realize its priceless value.

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, may have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite when your eyes lack that bright spark and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is them what you need.

Read What They Say!

"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there's none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, manufacturers know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefits. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better. GEO-MINERAL: 1 bottle $1.10, 6 for $5.00

Texas Crop Outlook Good; Fruit Trees, Grains Making Progress

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—Texas' crop outlook was bright today under promise of spring.

The United States Department of Agriculture reported increased field activities following sufficient drying of soils after late February and early March rains.

Peaches were in full bloom in south and coastal counties and in pink bud in Central Texas.

Some spring-planted oats and barley were up.

Grains Making Progress

Wheat, winter oats and South Texas flax were all reported making good progress. Corn planting and sweet potato bedding was active in South Texas and Northeast Texas respectively.

East Texas tomatoes were in good condition and the lower valley crop was showing improvement. Onions were in good condition in Laredo, Winter Garden and Eagle Pass districts but blight was bad in the Coastal Bend area.

Citrus Trees Recovering

The lower valley citrus trees were coming out of the freeze damage in better shape than had been expected, especially the older trees. Leaf growth was heavy and some buds were beginning to bloom, USDA said.

Mark of February's hard freeze, however, still remained. Carrot tops were still in poor condition. The lettuce crop cutting was light and quality poor. Cabbage was very slow.

Good progress was reported in the replanting of Lower Rio Grande valley crops of snap beans, sweet corn, tomatoes and squash. The potato crop had grown out of the freeze damage and beet tops were making fairly good growth.

A good moisture reserve was reported for all areas.

sibility that the time will come when Chiang will be asked to return to the government.

Chiang Loses Backing

He said that the Chinese masses had a high regard for Chiang, even though they opposed many of his government's high officials, until the collapse of Chiang's final, desperate effort to stabilize Chinese currency by establishing the gold yuan as a monetary unit. The plan failed miserably, with the exchange rate of the yuan to American dollars skyrocketing from 4-1 to 273-1 within a few months, causing many Chinese to lose practically all their savings.

"With the failure of the yuan plan, the Chinese people's regard for Chiang turned to hatred," Col. Scheyer said.

As for the Communists who have taken over in North China, the colonel doubts that the United States can "do business" with them, "even though they have acknowledged the fact that they are going to need outside help to restore the country to normalcy."

"In any event," he concluded, "I think any solutions offered by the United States are a matter for the State department—not the military. And I repeat, the solution certainly is beyond me."

Col. Scheyer, a native New Yorker, attended Marion Military institute, in Marion, Ala., before entering the Naval academy. He first met Dr. Canon in 1924, the year after he left the academy, when both were stationed at the Marine base at Quantico, Va. At the time, Dr. Canon was a Navy doctor.

Since that time Col. Scheyer has seen duty in Haiti, Nicaragua, China, and, during World War II, in the South and Central Pacific area. He participated in the American invasions of Guadalcanal, Rendova, Munda and Guam.

After the war, he was stationed in Washington, D. C., before returning to China. He is now on leave, after which he will return to Washington for an assignment there.

Col. Scheyer and his wife arrived in Lubbock Tuesday, and plan to remain until Sunday. It is their first visit here.

The Philippines ,rebuilding from the war, now have 3,900 miles of telegraph lines.

Lufkin Group Sends Anti-Red Resolution To HST, Top Officials

LUFKIN, March 9. (U.P.)—An anti-Communist rally in the Lufkin high school auditorium Tuesday night resulted in the passing of a resolution which Wednesday was on its way to President Truman.

The resolution called upon the President and other government officials to urge the United Nations to place the iron curtain countries on trial for "unspeakable crimes" against the Christian religion.

Dies Addresses Group

The principal speaker at the meeting, which was sponsored by the Angelina County Junior Chamber of Commerce, was former Congressman Martin Dies, originator and first chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee.

Dies told his audience that "the missionaries of Stalin's philosophy throughout the world are, likewise, at war against religion and God."

He cited the trials of Cardinal Joseph Mindszenty in Hungary and of Protestant churchmen in Bulgaria as evidence that Communism "is waging a ruthless and determined war upon the church and all it stands for."

The resolution, which was sent to Vice-President Alben Barkley and other high government officials as well as to President Truman, was signed by Lufkin business and civic leaders.

Group Leaves Austin To Probe 'Mix-Up' In Soldier's Reburial

AUSTIN, March 9 (AP)—A five-man investigating committee left here today for Three Rivers determined to find out who's right and who's wrong in the fuss over a Latin-American soldier's reburial.

Rep. Cecil Storey of Longview, head of the House committee said he did not expect the probe to be a "long drawn out affair."

"All I want to find out is what are the facts and who's telling the truth," he said.

The formal investigation opens tomorrow in Three Rivers on the reburial of Felix Longoria, who was killed on Luzon during the war. The soldier's body was returned to the United States at the request of his wife and relatives.

Public attention was attracted to the little South Texas town when it was reported the director of a Three Rivers funeral home "discouraged" the use of his chapel for the reburial rites.

The speaker said that "there are three great choices we have to make today: Of our God, of our vocation, and of our life partner." Of the last of these three choices, he commented that "thoughtless puppy love leads to a dog's life later on."

Marriage is a 50-50 proposition, Dr. Evans declared. The woman who thinks her husband's only occupation is to cater to her every whim is a regular client of the divorce courts, he added. Marriage partners "must be interested in God to succeed in their home and in society," Dr. Evans said.

He warned marriage partners not to "make the mistake of living just for each other. Husband and wife must live for something else—religion."

Following he said, "I challenge you to give me the name of one couple who prayed together for one week before they went to a divorce court."

In conclusion he said, "Dig spiritual wells deep so that you may drawn on them. With only money one can build a house; with love one can build a home; and with God one can build a temple."

Tech Band Plays

The invocation Wednesday was offered by Rev. David V. Sieberg, pastor of Shepherd King American Lutheran church here. Dr. Evans was introduced by W. L. Stangel, dean of the agriculture devision at Tech.

The Texas Tech band played one number, and the Tech Men's Glee club, under direction of Richard Richards, sang Handel's "Alelujah, Amen."

The benediction was offered by Rev. Chester Gleason.

the Broadway Church of Christ and served on the executive building committee for the new church.

Mr. Hufstedler was a great enthusiast for the South Plains country ever since first coming here in 1917, he had exhibited a high regard for the future of the South Plains agriculturally and economically. He often declared that the area was still in its infancy as far as its expansion was concerned.

Five Women Die In Florida Auto Mishap

VENICE, Fla., March 9 (INS)—Five New Jersey women were killed today when their automobile collided with a truck and plunged into a bay near Venice.

State highway patrolmen said the car was submerged in 10 feet of water and the occupants were all trapped inside.

The force of the collision sent the automobile reeling off the road.

The victims were tentatively identified as Mrs. George B. Sawyer, Mrs. Charles R. Scott, Mae F. Currier, a Mrs. Stevens and a Mrs. Frink.

All were said to be from Paterson or Pompton Lakes, N. J., and were vacationing at Tarpon Springs on the Florida Gulf coast.

Venice is a small coastal town 30 miles south of Sarasota.

Texas Pioneer To Celebrate 100th Birthday In Dallas Today

DALLAS, March 9. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Stephenson Reedy, whose blue eyes still sparkle, will be 100 years old tomorrow.

Friends already had sent two birthday cakes today. She lives with her only surviving relative, Miss Daisy Reedy of Dallas.

Mrs. Reedy can't quite remember how long it took her to come by train to Tyler, from Kentucky in 1882—except that it was several days.

Her husband, the late Daniel Reedy, was a state representative from Smith county from 1907 to 1913. When the Reedys first lived in Tyler it was just a little farm town with a lot of wooded acres arpund it.

"We didn't know then that it was going to be an oil town and rose center," she said with another sparkle of her blue eyes. "If we had we probably would not have moved to Dallas in 1920."

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

MINNEAPOLIS (U.P.)—Peter Pafiolis walked out of the police station traffic office, where he had just paid a $2 parking ticket to find a policeman writing a tag for his car. He was fined another $2 for parking in a "restricted" zone alongside the city hall.

Basic Science Bill

Ridgeway of San Antonio, got up after almost three and a half hours of debate to say he wanted the bill thrashed out and would not call for a vote on the bill until all amendments were disposed of.

Just before Ridgeway spoke, a motion to adjourn lost 53-82. Earlier, Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas moved to send the bill back to the committee on constitutional amendments but this lost 85-55.

Several Amendments Offered

Opponents of the bill, bitterly fought by chiropractors, were using 'wear 'em down' tactics. When the House recessed for two hours about 1 p.m. Rep. Douglas Bergman of Dallas commented they still had "about 10 or 15 amendments to offer."

The bill would set up a state board to examine all practitioners of the healing arts. It is sponsored by the Texas State Medical association.

Earlier today the House passed on second reading a bill licensing recreation billiard rooms, 72-58. Backers of the measure did not press for immediate final passage because they did not have enough votes to set aside the rules.

Senate Session Short

The Senate met for only five minutes and then adjourned for lack of a quorum. With 21 senators needed, only 17 of the 31 answered morning roll call.

Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont, author of the billiard hall bill, estimated the licensing would bring in between half a million and three million dollars a year.

REDS PERFECT UNDERSEA CRAFT

U.S. Admiral Says Soviets Have Over 200 First-Rate Submarines

By GEORGE MOISE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 9 — Adm. Louis E. Denfeld, chief of Naval operations, estimated today that Russia has a fleet of more than 200 submarines, "a good percentage of them being the most advanced schnorkel type."

Denfeld made his estimate in the current issue of the magazine "Ordnance," published by the American Ordnance association.

In the same magazine Lt. Commander Burke Wilkinson, summarizing what is known of Soviet naval strength, said that 30 schnorkel subs from the German undersea fleet had been taken over by the Russians, "and the Soviet building program is being stepped up to an estimated yearly production of 200 by 1950."

German Engine Seized

Wilkinson also refers to Russian seizure of at least one German submarine engine which, through the use of hydrogen peroxide, supplies its own oxygen and is powerful enough to drive a submarine up to 25 knots submerged.

A schnorkel, or breathing tube for diesel engines, is unnecessary for operation of this engine.

Wilkinson, however, does not mention the fact that American Navy experts estimate that the hydrogen-peroxide engine can be used only for short bursts of high underwater speed. Nor does he mention the extreme difficulty of handling pure hydrogen-peroxide, one of the most volatile substances known.

Chemical Used As Booster

Hydrogen-peroxide is used in specially designed diesels as a temporary booster, much as water injection is used in aircraft engines.

Denfeld, in his article, says that modern anti-submarine methods, still secret with the Navy, have proved more than a match for the schnorkel undersea craft.

Even though the two writers do not agree on the number of Soviet schnorkel subs, one of them, Denfeld, points out that the U. S. Navy recognizes the importance of undersea warfare and is working to strengthen itself both offensively and defensively in this field.

But at the present count, the U. S. has nothing like 30 schnorkel subs. Six converted fleet type submarines, or "guppys" are known to be in operation. And figures given to Congress in budget discussions revealed that six more subs are being converted and at least five of 11 undersea craft under construction or projected will be of this type. Giving this nation a total of at least 17 sometime next year.

Mechanical Ability Discussed

Wilkinson goes into the mechanical ability of the Russian sailor as a factor in the effectiveness of any Soviet fleet. He quotes a diesel engineer, Lt. Commander Edwin W. Yorke, who worked for some time with the Russians, as saying they are comparatively inept but are improving.

Yorke points out that he has not been in Russia for several years, and adds:

"As far as the Soviets building Naval vessels of reasonable efficiency (is concerned), I fell quite confident they are capable of doing this with or without German help. In addition to the tremendous amount of naval equipment given them during the war, they no doubt picked up a considerable amount of know-how from every manufacturer supplying the navy with materials.

Plane Will Try For Cargo Load Record

FORT WORTH, March 9. (U.P.)—An attempt to carry the heaviest pay load (100,000 pounds) ever lifted by an airplane will be made here within six weeks, it was reported Wednesday.

Consolidated-Vultee officials said their XC-99, double-decked experimental transport version of the B-36 superbomber, would make the attempt.

The six-engined cigar-shaped plane, brought here Feb. 11 from Convair's San Diego, Calif., plant, is undergoing the final phases of flight testing at Convair here.

It was designed to carry 100,000 pounds of cargo, or 400 soldiers, or 300 litter patients and attendants.

A Fort Worth pilot will be at the controls on the test flight, and possibly will be Beryl A. Erickson, test pilot who was aboard the gigantic transport the first time it flew in San Diego.

If the test proves successful, it will exceed the previous record set by the B-36, officials said. The B-36 carried an 84,000-pound bomb load to Muroc Air Force base in California last Jan. 29.

Legion Groups Plan Home-Talent 'Gay Nineties Revue' At Tahoka

TAHOKA, March 9. (Special)—Plans for "The Gay Nineties Revue," a home-talent show to be presented at 8 p.m. March 18 in the Tahoka high school gymnasium, have been announced by the local American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary.

A floor show patterned after vaudeville shows of the 1890's will highlight the revue.

Woman Files Suits For Two Divorces In Dallas District Court

DALLAS, March 9. (U.P.)—A woman filed a suit for two divorces in 9th district court Wednesday to keep valid her third marriage.

Mrs. Georgia Pereg Bruhin asked the court either to annul her two previous marriages or grant outright divorces. Her husband, Thomas A. Bruhin, joined her in the suit.

She testified that she married a man named Celestino Auguirre at Corsicana, in September, 1940, and they had a child. In 1943, her petition said, she learned that Auguirre's real name was Joe Garcia and that he already was married and attempting to obtain a divorce from his other wife.

She said she married another man in June, 1947, at Waco, after believing Garcia had been killed overseas.

But, she said, her second husband abandoned her 11 months later and she married Bruhin.

Sponsors of a new School on Industrial Management, started in Australia, failed to get the cooperation of trade union leaders who had been asked to attend.

Oklahoma Legislators Discuss Plan To Tax Gasoline At Refinery

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 9. (U.P.)—Despite violent opposition, the Oklahoma legislature Wednesday showed interest in a plan for oil-producing states to tax gasoline one cent a gallon at the refinery.

The House of Representatives late Tuesday advanced on a 49-42 vote a bill calling for such a tax in Oklahoma. However, a final vote will not be taken until similar bills now pending in other states are enacted into law.

Meanwhile, the Senate adopted a resolution setting up a five-man committee to serve with a similar group in the House and the governor to see if Midcontinent oil-producing states will go along with the plan.

Specifically named in the resolution are Texas, Louisiana and Kansas.

Gov. Roy J. Turner indicated he does not favor the tax unless it is levied by all other states that have refineries.

Rep. Kirksey Nix, McAlester, author of the House bill, estimated it would bring more than $30,000,000 a year into state coffers and would make it possible to repeal all consumer taxes on gasoline.

The Senate resolution called for study of an excise tax at the refinery to raise an estimated $30,000,000 for roads.

Sen. Max Cook, Clinton, who introduced the measure, said the tax would lower the pump price of gasoline in Oklahoma by about two cents.

Rep. Rhys Evans, Ardmore, predicted that if such a tax is levied the refineries will move to Texas and other states.

"Don't sit here and dream that Texas will put a penny tax on its gasoline at the refineries," he said. "They are just waiting to play Oklahoma for the sucker again. I've seen men move from Ardmore to Gainesville because Texas has no income tax."

Body Of Missing New York Boy Found In Ice-Covered Pond

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9. (U.P.)—Clarence Bibb, 12, went to Albany hospital for an injection Monday and failed to return home. A companion, Christopher Kittle, told Clarence's mother he had left the boy in Washington park.

Mrs. Bibb searched the park for two days. Finally she asked Christopher to show her the exact spot where he had left her son. He led her to a hole in an ice-covered pond.

Clarence's body was recovered two hours later.

1949 FORECASTS

An Echo Is Sounded

THE MARCH issue of the Kiplinger Magazine (The Changing Times) places the spotlight on what most people call "the return of economic normalcy."

The magazine, produced by W. M. Kiplinger, widely known writer on business trends, forecasts that the Year 1949 will take the nation a long way out of the war-spawned morasses of inflation, but that it probably will not lead us into a serious repression.

"We are on the way back to nearer normal," the Kiplinger Magazine says, "but it is clearly a very high normal at that, and certainly nothing to cry about. The boom spoiled a lot of people, and now they've got to get over being spoiled."

In short, the March issue of the Kiplinger Magazine says exactly what the Editor of The Avalanche-Journal said in January in articles sent these papers from New York. In those articles, The Avalanche-Journal, well inside the first month of the year, described events as indicating that 1949 will bring a great deal of "levelling off" in business and industry. In these words, the articles said: "There probably will not be a full-blown recession in 1949, but the year will bring a buyer's market. It will take us farther toward economic normalcy than recognized authorities expected it to do while viewing this year's prospects in late 1948."

THE KIPLINGER Magazine sees unemployment slowly increasing at least until mid-1949. It sees good, overall business for the year, but profits about 20 per cent off last year's figure. Among other things, it forecasts a continuation of the gradually decreasing costs of living; a complete return to normalcy in the automobile field; the appearance of honest-to-goodness post-war cars, instead of slightly restyled pre-war models. It sees television hurting the theater and night club business, night spots, lodges and other societies which customarily meet after sundown. It says, as The Avalanche-Journal said in the Editor's series, that television probably will not be available to smaller cities located farther than 50 or 60 miles from large cities for at least five years, perhaps longer.

Fewer houses and other construction jobs will be done this year than in 1948, the Kiplinger Magazine says, but it sees good business, never-the-less, in the building field this year. A new "stripped-down" type of housing is expected to become quite popular, according to Mr. Kiplinger's view.

All in all, the Kiplinger Magazine's forecast for 1949 is interesting and reassuring to those who might be fearful of extreme, general business difficulties this year.

In Lubbock and over the South Plains, the report is especially interesting, because it bears out forecasts made in The Avalanche-Journal weeks before the Kiplinger Magazine was set into type.

Happiness insurance comes to a married couple when they try to insure the happiness of each other.

Old Dobbin had his faults but no one ever bumped into the buggy because the driver didn't give the proper traffic signal.

Definition of a small town: A place where the only traffic problem is to keep from running over a neighbor's dog.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Morning Avalanche, March 10, 1929.)

The Easter season was heralded Friday afternoon at a bridge party given by Mrs. J. L. Holt and Mrs. Alex Hensley in the home of the former, 1918 Ave. N. Guests were Mesdames Joe Logan, H. W. County Agent Dave F. Eaton estimated that "approximately 250 more farms will be found dotting the broad expanses of the South Plains next year." The new farms, mostly in the northern and western sections of the county, represent "a colonization movement which has been steadily increasing in this area during recent years."

Pop Goes The Queen

By BOB WADE and BILL MILLER
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: John Henry and Sin Conover win an expense-paid week at a swank California resort after a successful appearance on a quiz program. After being assigned a cottage at the Las Dunas hotel, a wounded man, Homer Anglin, appears, flourishing a gun. Anglin leaves apparently believing he has made a mistake. Then Mr. Trim, representing the quiz show sponsor, appears and introduces himself. Sin and John Henry dine at the Ship of the Desert, an exclusive cafe where waiters are in Arab costume. As John Henry starts to pick up the check, he discovers that the waiter has left a Queen of Diamonds on which was scrawled "Your deal." They ask to see the manager.)

V

THE headwaiter, colorful in his Foreign Legion uniform, paused at the top of the staircase and waited for the Conovers to reach the balcony. Sin held tight to John Henry's arm. He could feel her trembling a little.

Behind them, down the twisted staircase, there dinned the renewed clatter of dishes as the Ship of the Desert continued business as usual.

The headwaiter knocked on the oak-paneled door at the east end of the balcony. A man's bass grated, "Come in," and the Foreign Legionnaire opened the door to bow the Conovers into the office ahead of him.

It was all leather except for the spacious plate-glass window at the other end. A burly man stood there contemplating the glowing pattern of Azure, his light-blue suit contrasting with the brown walls and the moon-touched velvet outside. He wheeled and took his hands from his pockets as the headwaiter closed the door.

"This is the owner, Mr. Barselou," he said. "Mr. and Mrs.—ah—"

"Conover," John Henry filled in. Barselou inclined his bold head. The Legionnaire left, closing the door softly.

"Now, Mr. and Mrs. Conover," Barselou rumbled in a slow-freight voice, "suppose you sit down and tell me what seems to be the trouble."

Overwhelming as both the man and his huge desk were, Barselou didn't gain complete domination. Sin sank gratefully into the leather embrace of a chair, but John Henry advanced belligerently to the older man. "This," he said, and flipped the pasteboard queen face up on the desk's surface.

BARSELOU lowered his big frame into his swivel chair and picked up the card with the tips of his fingers.

John Henry said, "That's what goes on in your restaurant. That's why I insisted on seeing you."

"What and why?" Barselou chuckled. "T'is further in the dark than you are, Mr. Jones."

"Conover," Conover corrected.

The man behind the desk snapped his fingers. "Sorry. I've been thinking all evening about somebody named Jones. Tell me about the Queen."

"Start at the beginning, Johnny," Sin suggested immediately.

"Yes, do." Barselou's face was fierce even in geniality.

"Okay," said John Henry. He dropped abruptly into the padded chair by the desk. "Okay," he said again. "It was like this." John Henry told what it was like.

When he was done, Barselou rubbed a spadelike hand over his heavy paw. He swung his flinty eyes from one to the other before he spoke. "Incredible."

"I suspected that waiter from the beginning," Conover said truculently.

Sin was more tactful. "We're getting tired of that sort of thing, Mr. Barselou."

Pale eyes sparkled. "Why? Has something else like that happened?"

"Not exactly," said John Henry, silencing his wife with a husbandly glance. "My wife means we're tired from our trip, that's all."

"Yes, quite a drive from San Diego," agreed the restaurant owner, fiddling with the card again. "The queen symbol intrigues me—it might be the calling card of a wealthy woman. Yet you say it or this 'your deal' inscription has no significance for you." Insistence raised subtle spikes in his deep voice. Sin shook her dark-red locks.

"WHAT are you going to do about the waiter responsible?" John Henry wanted to know.

"Get him up here," said Barselou decisively. "What'd he look like?"

That stopped Conover. How do you remember a waiter? "I think he was short and kind of fattish—"

"He had red eyes, added Sin.

Barselou said, "I know all the waiters who work here at the Ship—I should, since I see to my own hiring and firing. The simple fact, Mr. Conover, is that we have no such waiter."

"That's ridiculous." The young man shoved to his feet. "Don't tell me a stranger could walk in here, serve us our meal—and nobody would know the difference! How about the headwaiter? How about the cook?"

Barselou remained undisturbed, almost mocking. "Perhaps it was a joke, Mr. Conover. Perhaps even a joke intended for somebody else. About all I can do is apologize profoundly—which I do—on behalf of the Ship of the Desert. And to pick up your check, of course."

Sin's hand was tugging at his sleeve but John Henry's stubborn chin jutted out. Barselou's bland assumptiveness annoyed him. "That's very nice," he said, "but if it's all the same to you I think we'll take a look around before we go."

When Barselou spoke his voice had changed but his words were still polite. "Naturally. I'm anxious to find out anything I can."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

YOU may remember that a few days ago I told you about note I found in my pants when the cleaner's boy came: "It isn't easy to make popovers pop."

Well, I am going to write about that important subject today and, perhaps, some reader will take pity on my wife and tell her just exactly how to make popovers pop.

BRANDEIS

If any of the publishers who publish this column feel that they shouldn't have to pay for anything as unimportant as my wife's popovers, let them ask their own wives to tell them what is more important — cooking or world affairs.

I am a popover fiend.

As I told you a few weeks ago I could eat popovers at least once a week.

But my wife has never yet been able to make her popovers pop, and so we make her popovers pop, now and then on Sundays and have our popovers in one of the restaurants that specialize in this delicious concoction.

There are two disadvantages about such a trip to New York.

In the first place, it means getting all dressed up when both of us like to loaf around in our old clothes on Sundays.

In the second place, we have figured out that a popover trip costs us approximately ten dollars, or more, including gas, oil, parking, etc., and five dollars each is too much to pay even for popovers.

In addition, every time I do eat those New York popovers I add at least two pounds to my weight when the doctor insists that I must hold my tonnage down, and when it has taken my wife all week to comply with the doctor's orders by feeding me properly.

Because, you see, when we go to New York for popovers, that does not mean just popovers. That also means sausages and eggs and potatoes and a lot of other things which are included in the price of the popovers.

SO, recently my wife has been experimenting with popovers at home, but she has not yet been able to make them pop.

By popping I mean that beautiful top that makes a popover look like the cap on a French chef's head.

Her popovers are kind of puny, and so are the ones her friends make.

She has asked several of them for advice and a few have even made some of their own and brought them over to us.

But they are all little bitty ones with practically no chef's cap on them at all. They have gummy stuff inside and look as if they became tired of life before they ever had a chance to grow up.

What does my wife do wrong? Maybe you readers know.

She takes 1 1-4 cups of flour, 1-4 teaspoon of salt; 2 eggs; 1 teaspoon of sugar and one cup of milk.

She mixes the flour, salt and sugar. She gradually adds the milk and well-beaten eggs. She beats thoroughly. She fills the small ramikins, well greased and piping hot, half full of the batter. She bakes the whole mess in a hot oven for about thirty or forty minutes. Toward the end she reduces the heat to prevent the popovers from becoming too brown.

Nothing wrong with that, is there?

But the darn things won't pop!

HST'S POLICIES SCORED

Threat To Program

By ROGER WARREN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—After the smoke of the rumpus over filibuster has blown away, the critical test of Congress will come, so far as legislation on the President's program is concerned.

Committee reports are being whipped into shape. Next in line is the showdown on the floor on such controversial issues as social security, medical care, economic controls, labor, taxes and other Truman time bombs.

So far this has been a Compromise Congress. Signs indicate that it is likely to continue so, unless the civil rights feud blows Administration forces into vindictive, die-hard blocs.

Although this has not been a Rubber Stamp Congress, Democratic discipline has been effective. Minority Republicans have not been merely stubborn no-men. Compromise action from here on depends on to what extent the left-wingers curb their whole-hog-or-nothing attitude and the President is willing to accept half loaves.

RETURNS: Republican Senators and Congressmen, too, have been studying the election returns. A great many of them are willing to go along with the President "within reason."

But this tendency to cooperate could be checked if the man in the White House continues to brand all Republicans as reactionaries. Even the liberal "Young Turks" are getting fed up with the Administration smears.

For example, a new spurt of bad blood has been injected by certain remarks made by Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson at a meeting of Louisiana labor officials.

In discussing the Taft-Hartley law, he went back to 1902 to dig up a story about a railroad president who is supposed to have said: "The rights of laboring men will be protected—not by labor agitators but by the Christian men to whom God in his infinite wisdom has given control of the property interests of the country."

Then he described as the magnate's counterpart those who "unable to halt unionism by brute force have fettered unions by law."

"REMEMBER": Most Republicans are willing to accept certain modifications in the T-H Act provided they are assured the public interest is paramount in the revised legislation. They blow their tops when any Administration mouthpiece stirs up class warfare in an attempt to scare off amendments to the labor bill now under consideration.

They also are getting their dander up because the Democratic National Committee supplies local orators with speech material in which the theme "remember" is emphasized.

To quote one hint sheet: "Remember that (under GOP rule one-fourth of the farms in Spottsylvania County, Pa., went under sheriff sales hammers. Remember desperate laborers slaved for ten cents an hour in some industries. Etc."

LABELS: The President in his warpath mood is not likely to call off the dogs to please Republicans. As he is convinced that his appeals to class interests won him the election, he also thinks that further appeals will drive his program through Congress, regardless of the sensibilities of moderate Republicans.

Labels can still be loosely applied to Republicans.

In the Senate right wing stalwarts like Bricker of Ohio, Capehart of Indiana, Wherry of Nebraska and others boast of their conservatism. Opposite to them in the GOP are Morse of Oregon, Flanders of Vermont, Baldwin of Connecticut and many other well known liberals.

But led by Senator Vanderberg most Republicans today refuse to be tagged by extreme labels.

They picture their revitalized party as the offspring of the marriage between conservative and liberal in which the better characteristics of both strains are dominant. They consider themselves midway between an easy mark and a nickel nurser—midway between Santa Claus and Scrooge—midway between crackpot and standpatter.

In the House the divisions are more sharp because each Congressman is more likely to reflect narrow, sectional opinion.

BALANCE: Middle-of-the-road Republicans argue that balance is more accurate a reflection of American tradition and current sentiment than is right or left extremness.

The American Revolution, they explain, was a revolution not a debate. It abolished for us the reactionary divine right of kings. But it did not go to the sanguine extremes of the French Revolution. Our Constitution was a revolutionary document. But it set up checks and balances.

Moderation, they maintain, still is the most widely favored result of legislation. This practical balanced idealism, they say, they will apply to national health insurance, housing, labor and other reforms. But if President Truman rejects compromise in light of the current economic situation, they will build roadblocks in front of his program.

FREEZER: If he insists on "all or nothing," they boast that with coalition Democrats they have enough votes to give him exactly nothing. In fact, one prominent Democrat already has told GOP leaders that his committee had put the Truman tax bill into "a deep freezer in a room where the temperature is below zero."

As Republican presidential campaign policies for 1952 will be made by this and the next Congress, rather than by any national party conference as suggested by GOP National Chairman Scott, the next Republican candidate for President may emerge from the House or Senate.

Republican Warwicks will probably shy away from an outsider like Willkie or another governor like Landon or Dewey. They have been unsuccessful with governors since Calvin Coolidge—and even this former Chief Executive of Massachusetts came to the White House via the Vice Presidency. Governors Bricker and Warren also failed to make the Number Two spot.

DUFF: This unlucky gubernatorial albatross is one of the reasons why his friends are trying to persuade Gov. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania to run against the Quaker State's Democratic Senator Francis J. Myers in 1950.

Duff's liberal record in Harrisburg is praised by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, himself one of the "Young Turks" most frequently mentioned as a candidate for president.

Duff's sponsors think that if to that progressive record can be added a couple of years on Capitol Hill, be with Pennsylvania's 35 electoral votes will be a formidable figure in the next Republican National Convention.

Suggested theme song for the company that makes the car one has to step down to get in: "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

Whatever became of all the many New Dealers who would all but fight at the drop of a hint that Henry Wallace was not a 100 per cent American and a sincere and capable Utopia usher-inner?

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

OPPOSITION TO MEASURE NEEDED

Spy Legislation Given Approval

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It is rather a sad commentary on the state of the world today that a great Democracy such as ours, if it is to assume the leadership which it has inherited, must have as an adjunct a spy system that is, like our Army, Navy and Air Force, "second to none."

During the very brief consideration by the House of the "hush-hush" bill legalizing and implementing our espionage system already established in the Central Intelligence Agency—C. I. A.—it was emphasized that our spy system has been much weaker than those of other nations.

STOKES

But now, by the grace of this bill, we will have a first-class one and will be able to hold our heads in the world, and will be even as other nations. There are enough hints in provisions of House Bill 2663 for our agents, their travel abroad, their confidential expense accounts, and such, to assure us of American spies in the best old-world tradition.

Bill To Become Law

The bill is certain to become law since a similar measure, with one exception, was passed by the Senate in the last Congress. It was unanimously approved then also by the house armed services committee, but failed of house action in the last-minute rush. The exception in the current measure is the provision for admitting up to 100 aliens a year, outside of immigration laws, to supply the C. I. A. with information.

It was made plain, in the restricted explanations in the House, that these will be foreigners who will be taken under our protection to tell us all about what goes on in Russia and her satellite nations behind the iron curtain.

This reporter watched the proceedings in the House, for the bill did seem to be a landmark. Many measures involving departures from established ways and traditions of far less significance have provoked notable debate. This, however, was little more than routine and, after all, it is routine in these times, which is itself a bit frightening. During the 40 minutes of debate permitted under the extraordinary procedure adopted for this bill this reporter counted from 75 to 100 members present of the 435, though others came in at the end when summoned for the vote. Only four votes were cast against the measure; 384 for it.

It was with reluctance that Rep. Dewey Short (Mo.), ranking Republican member of the Armed Services committee, supported the bill. He said there were doubts in the minds of many members about it.

"We're engaged in a highly dangerous business," he said. "It's something I abhor. But sometimes we have got to fight fire with fire."

He agreed there was "some plausibility" in objections raised by the single member who voiced a protest against the project as a whole, Rep. Marcantonio (N.Y.), lone American Labor party member. The New Yorker argued that this was the first time Congress had been denied a full explanation of all provisions of any bill, and contended that it would invade civil liberties by a provision he cited that would permit C.I.A. agents to be assigned to labor unions, commercial firms, and other groups.

Protest Was Needed

Rep. Marcantonio, however, carries little influence in the House because of his long adherence to the general foreign policy line taken by the Henry Wallace third-party movement, with which he was associated.

It would have helped if somebody had stood up, one of those old-fashioned fellows that we refer to as "a democrat with a small D," and at least said for the record, as such men used to do so eloquently, just where all this brings us. What, for example, it means in the history of civilization when the once free-and-easy, live-and-let-live democracy, which for so long has given its own glorious sort of moral leadership to the world, now has to lower its standards and set up an elaborate spy system, even as other nations. It somehow seems out of character.

There should be a better way; but if we can't find it, maybe there isn't any other way for the time being.

That's the philosophical attitude. But it's very hard for anyone who has watched so many battles here for individual freedom and against secret police systems and all they mean to sit and take it without speaking out in protest. A blind sort of protest it is, of course, the world being as crazy as it is today.

CHOICE FARM

One of the choice farms in Lubbock County. The 160 acres are perfectly level, the irrigation well is above the average. The house has five rooms, is modern and is newly decorated. Plenty barns, sheds and new tenant house. This farm is near Lubbock but the price is only $200 per acre.

LOCKER PLANT

Approximately $10,000 will handle an unusually good opportunity in a well established Locker Plant and Grocery store. Returns on this business are highly satisfactory. It has no competition in the town in which it is located. Grocery stock will invoice about $4000. 3 Years lease at $75 per mo.

BEAUTIFUL

Beauty and comfort are combined in this 3-bedroom home on 38th Street. Expensive carpets cover the living-dining room combination. Sliding doors make the 850 square feet useable, and you will love the many built-ins and double closets. Let us prove the beauty of this home. Only $10,000 with $6,850 loan which can be assumed.

OWNER TRANSFERRED

3-Bedroom home in Southwest Lubbock, because of a business transfer it is being offered, at less than replacement cost. Many features not ordinarily found; plastered walls, insulated and weatherstripped, air conditioned from roof, a large garage and expensively landscaped yard. Sacrifice price $12,000 with large loan.

SAFETY A FACTOR

A home where your children will not have to cross dangerous traffic arteries going to school, and a place you will be proud to own. The rooms are large, the kitchen is conveniently arranged and elegant. A spacious living room is complemented by beautiful mantel and mirror. It is a good buy, the price is less than you would guess.

Solon Advocates Corporation Tax

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex) said today that Congress should force corporations to distribute more of their earnings to stockholders, perhaps through a penalty tax.

Patman said, too, he is starting a campaign to get the Federal Reserve board to reduce margin requirements on stocks from 75 to 50 per cent.

The chairman of the House Small Business committee outlined his plans at a news conference.

Asked whether he is advocating an undistributed profits tax on corporations, he replied:

"Yes, at least something to make them pay out their earnings."

He said he didn't know about the rate.

Dividends Reduced

Patman said that before the war corporations normally paid out two-thirds of their earnings, after meeting taxes, to their stockholders. Now they are paying out about one-third, he said.

In dollars, he said, this means that corporations earned nearly $21,000,000,000 after taxes last year and paid stockholders only $7,000,000,000, retaining $7,000,000,000 more than was normal under pre-war practices.

"The retention does two things," Patman said. "It deprives the government of from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 revenue and deprives stockholders of the opportunity of investing money as they chose instead of as the officers and directors choose."

The corporations, Patman said, are receiving "costless capital" and "making consumers pay for their expansion programs."

A reporter asked whether forced distribution of more earnings would "help halt the downward skid we are in."

Increased Stability Seen

"Why certainly it would," Patman replied. He said his proposal would not be inflationary but stabilizing.

Patman said he is writing a letter today to the Federal Reserve board asking for immediate lowering of margin requirements on stocks.

He said he is doing so "on the theory the capital market has almost entirely dried up."

"If margin requirements are reduced," he said, "it will encourage and stimulate capital into the market, which will help small business enterprises that are so much in need of capital at this time."

Citing what he called an outstanding example of discrimination against stocks, Patman said a person buying a car for $1,800 is required to pay $600 down, or one-third. But to buy stocks just as valuable, he said, a purchaser must make a down payment of $1,350, or 75 per cent of $1,800.

Residents Of Six States Warned Against 'Dangerous' Cough Syrup

DENVER, March 9 (INS) — Residents of six western states were warned today against use of a cough preparation said to be dangerous.

Wendell Vincent, Denver chief of the U. S. Food and Drug administration, said the preparation called "Syrup of Urethane", manufactured by a Stamport, Conn. firm, causes a lowering of the white blood corpuscles, which in turn could cause death within a short time.

He said it was not known whether the product has been put on the open market, but it has been distributed in half-ounce samples to many physicians in Denver, Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Albuquerque, Boise, Idaho and El Paso.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 9. (AP)—Cotton futures turned irregular today in slow trading. Liquidation in nearby March unsettled the balance of the market. Some selling was encouraged by fresh price reductions on some types of cotton goods because of the slow rate of sales, and the immediate export outlook was also confusing to traders. There was one March transferable notice issued today, with that delivery expiring on March 17.

Futures closed 45 cents a bale lower to 5 cents higher than the previous close.

Wall Street

STOCKS DROP LOWER

NEW YORK, March 9. (AP)—A drowsy stock market coasted a little lower today.

The decline was far from decisive but at the final bell losses of fractions to more than a point were in the majority. A couple of issues affected by specific news developments swung more than three points.

Trading: 640,000 shares of stock changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped 3 of one point to 83.2. Of the 942 individual issues which appeared on the ticker tape, 380 declined and 300 advanced.

Liggett and Myers Tobacco dropped $1½ to 84 following news the company had in mind issuing more stock.

Pittston Co., a holding company specializing in coal stocks, went over the other way with a rise of 3⅜ to 26⅝. The move was evidently in response to a report that Clinchfield coal, controlled by Pittston, had just developed gas production on property in Southwest Virginia.

Marked down on the list board were U S Steel, General Motors, Caterpillar Tractor, Lockheed, American Telephone, Consolidated Natural Gas, Anaconda Copper, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Allied Chemical, Owens-Illinois, Radio Corp., American Tobacco, Santa Fe, Great Northern Preferred, Union Pacific, Texas Co., and American Airlines.

On the plus side were Youngstown Sheet, Studebaker, Goodrich, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, J. C. Penney, Philip Morris, Nickel Plate, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Skelly Oil (Up 3¼ to 112¾), and United Air Lines.

STRIKE IN INDIA FAILS

BOMBAY, India, March 9 (AP)—A Communist-instigated strike of Indian railway workers was a "total failure" today, railway officials declared. Reports from western and central India said the workers reported for duty as usual.

Lubbock residents who failed to appear on traffic tickets issued by the police department in 1948 are now reporting in large numbers to police headquarters to arrange for disposition of their cases, officials said Wednesday.

But there are some who continue to disregard police announcements that those who failed to obey summonses on tickets issued last year will be arrested on warrants that are being issued.

One person so arrested Wednesday morning paid fines totaling $56.

Another was required to pay $33.

Approximately $500 in "old assessments" have been levied in the last few days.

The police recently had announced that they preferred not to issue warrants if those charged will report voluntarily and plead guilty to charges or else post a bond for trial by jury.

Tickets by the dozens have been paid off as a result, but warrants of arrest have been prepared against others, and still are being drawn.

In addition, it has been discovered that some of the offenders probably have disqualified themselves from retaining their operators licenses, because of the number of "moving" violations charged to them.

Efforts are being made to determine how many fall into that category, it was announced. State officials are cooperating with the police in that direction.

Rites For Don William Calvert To Be Conducted In Flomot Today

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. today in Bryan McDonald & Son Funeral chapel for Don William Calvert, 52, who died very unexpectedly at his home on the Slide road about 11:40 a.m. Wednesday. Mr. Calvert had been a resident of Lubbock and this vicinity for about six years.

Burial will be in Flomot cemetery at approximately 4:30 p.m. under direction of McDonald Funeral home.

Survivors include the wife; the mother, Mrs. M. D. Calvert of Flomot; a son, Basil Calvert of Sundown; a daughter, Mrs. Maxine Green of Flomot; three sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Morton of Lubbock, Mrs. Ethel Martin of Floydada, and Mrs. Alma Purdy of Littlefield; three brothers, Ottie Calvert of Flomot, D. L. Calvert of Petersburg, and Roy Calvert of Abernathy; and five grandchildren.

Methodist Church To Operate Nursery During Conference

A nursery will be operated at First Methodist church Friday for children of parents, teachers and others attending the nursery conference, it was announced Wednesday.

The conference will be one of a series conducted in the Northwest Texas conference by Mrs. Uel D. Crosby, director of children's work in the Northwest Texas conference, and Miss Emma Jane Kramer of Nashville, Tenn., pre-school specialist from the General Board of Education of the Methodist church.

The conference will be conducted for parents and teachers of children through three years of age, and anyone else interested.

Those attending are to take sack lunches. The church will serve hot drinks.

LEGAL NOTICE
Proposed Amendments to Zoning Ordinance of the City of Lubbock, Texas

NOTICE is hereby given that the Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended to the City Commission that Zoning Ordinance No. 661 be amended as that:

Section 2 of said Ordinance shall contain the following definition:

"SERVANTS QUARTERS

A building for separate accommodations for bona fide servants and shall be limited to 288 square feet of floor space."

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on March 24, 1949, at 2:30 o'clock p. m., in the City Commission room on the second floor of the City Hall in Lubbock, to consider the recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission to determine the advisability of adopting its proposal, and at which time and place all interested persons will be given an opportunity to protest against the proposed amendment or make recommendations in support thereof.

After said hearing the City Commission will determine whether the Zoning Ordinance will be amended in accordance with such recommendation.

W. H. Rodgers
Mayor of the City of Lubbock Texas

Job No. 377
Date Feb. 28, 1949
INVITATION FOR BIDS
(CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT)

PLAINS
City
TEXAS
State

SEALED BIDS, subject to the conditions contained herein, will be received until 2:00 o'clock, the 28th day of March, 1949, at the office of Mr. Roy Elliott, Supt. of Schools, in the Grammar School Bldg. at Plains, Texas, and then publicly opened, for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for the erection and completion of a High School Building and additions to Grammar School Building at Plains, Texas, for the Plains Rural High School District No. 1.

The minimum prevailing labor rates of the district, shall be paid for the construction of the proposed work and shall be approved by the Trustees of the Plains Rural High School District, No. 1.

The bid form shall contain a statement that the prices bid are based on such wage rates.

Copies of the plans, specifications, schedule of minimum wage rates, and other contract documents are on file at the office of Mr. Roy Elliott, Supt. of Schools at Plains, Texas, and are open for public inspection. Plains, specifications and contract documents may be examined without charge in the office of the Architect, J. C. Berry and Kerr and Kerr, at 313-B West 10th St., Amarillo, Texas, or will be forwarded to prospective contractors upon deposit of $25 per set as a guarantee of the safe return of the plans, specifications and contract documents. The full amount of this deposit will be returned to each actual bidder submitting a bonafide bid immediately upon return of the plans, specifications, and contract documents. No refund will be made upon plans and specifications which are returned within ten (10) days after the award of the contract.

Each bid must be accompanied by a bid bond, a certified check or cashier's check made payable to Roy Elliott, Pres., for an amount to 5% of the total base bid.

Performance bond will be required for an amount of not less than 100% of the contract price.

Payment bond will be required for an amount of not less than 100% of the Contract price.

Each bidder shall state in his proposal the time he will require to substantially complete the construction of the proposed work. Liquidated damages for delay will be in the amount of $25 per day, for each day that the work remains incomplete.

Bids must be submitted on standard form of bid and the successful bidder will be required to execute the standard form of contract for construction within ten days after formal award of contract.

Right is reserved as the interest of the County may require to reject any and all bids, to waive any informality in bids received, and to accept or reject any items of any bid, unless subject bid is qualified by specific limitation.

Envelopes containing bids must be sealed, marked, and addressed as follows: Bid for High School Building at Plains, Texas. To be opened 28th Mar. (day), To Mr. Buford Elliott, Pres., Plains High School, Plains, Texas.
