Solons Caught In Grand Jury Net

BONUS BILL GETS WAY AND MEANS COMMITTEE O. K.

Vote 16 to 4 for Bill But Hit Snag When Form Is Reached

SOLONS NEAR CLASH

Treadway and Crowther Nearly Meet In Hot Debate On Issue

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Soldier bonus legislation got away to a flying start at the first executive meeting today of the house ways and means committee when it voted, 16 to 4, to frame a bill, but a snag was struck when the form of payment was discussed.

Attention was centered on two plans—paid up insurance and a two-fold scheme with options of full cash payments or insurance.

After a heated discussion of the proposals, marked by a spirited verbal battle between Representatives Treadway, of Massachusetts, and Crowther of New York, republicans, further consideration was postponed until tomorrow.

Nearly Clash.

Representatives Treadway was one of those voting against any form of a bonus and when Mr. Crowther later charged the committee with dilatory tactics which, he said, were aimed to delay progress of the legislation, Mr. Treadway took issue. One word led to another, and Representative Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, stepped between the two members when they started toward each other. A reconciliation was quickly effected.

The other three who opposed the bonus were Representatives Tilson, Connecticut, and Mill, New York, republicans, and Collier, democrat, Mississippi.

Cash Payments Popular.

Representative Bacharach advanced the paid up insurance scheme and was instructed to prepare data on it. Several proponents of the full cash payments option spoke for it, including members of both parties and Chairman Green, who is opposed to such a scheme, admitted tonight it had gained considerable strength.

The two-fold proposition was endorsed yesterday by the committee of five democrats named by the house democratic conference to confer with the committee on bonus legislation. Representative Jeffers, of Alabama, chairman, declared its cost would not exceed $1,400,000 and suggested it be financed by a bond issue.

REV. BARCUS TO BE SOUTHWESTERN HEAD

By The Associated Press.

MARSHALL, Texas, March 6.—Dr. J. Sam Barcus, pastor of the First Methodist church here, has been nominated for president of Southwestern university at Georgetown and has notified the nominating board that he will accept if the appointment is approved by the board of trustees and the Methodist bishops, it was announced today. A vote of the trustees by mail is expected to be made soon. The vacancy was caused by the resignation of Dr. W. P. Horn to accept the presidency of the new Texas Technological college.

British To Abandon Singapore Navy Base

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, March 6.—It is stated on high authority that the government has decided not to proceed with the Singapore naval base scheme. The decision has been communicated to the dominion government and the government is awaiting its replies before announcing its decision to parliament.

House To Sift Bribe Charges Against Pair

Chicago Report Starts Action On Veteran's Bureau Dealings

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Immediate disclosure of the names of the two representatives charged in a Chicago grand jury's report with accepting bribes was demanded today by the house.

A resolution directing the attorney general to transmit the names to the house was adopted unanimously after Representative Longworth, the republican leader, had announced the accused men would have an opportunity to defend themselves on the floor.

"Presented by Crooks."

Mr. Longworth said he had been informed the evidence against the two house members had been presented to the Chicago grand jury "by crooks and criminals," and came up incidentally during the investigation of alleged veterans' bureau frauds.

The republican leader disclosed that he had discussed the situation with Acting Attorney General Seymour and John W. Ed. Crim, special government counsel in charge of the Chicago grand jury's inquiry, and had gained the impression that no action could be expected by a grand jury here with regard to the charges within a month.

Publication of the grand jury's report referring to two house members without naming them, in the opinion of Mr. Longworth put the entire membership of the house under suspicion and made prompt action to establish the identity of the accused imperative.

Reported b. the rules committee without a dissenting vote, after a two-hour session, the resolution was brought up within a half hour by Chairman Snell. After 40 minutes discussion, it was adopted after a phrase which called for transmission of the names "if not incompatible with public interest" had been eliminated at the suggestion of Representative Stengall, democrat, Alabama.

BAR SAUNDERS FROM RE-OPENING STORE

By The Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 6.—Judge J. W. Ross issued a temporary injunction in federal district court here late today restraining Clarence Saunders from opening tomorrow what was planned as the initial unit of a new nation-wide chain store system.

The temporary injunction was granted on a petition filed by the Piggly Wiggly corporation of which Saunders formerly was the head and was based on alleged contract rights.

The restraining order issued today will remain in effect pending a hearing of the petition on its merits March 17. Judge Ross required the Piggly Wiggly corporation to furnish $20,000 bond.

MEXICAN REBELS CAPTURE CITIES

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 6.—Capture of two cities by rebel forces is reported in dispatches received today by Adolfo Jiminez, rebel consul. Troops under general Nicolas Flores operating in the state of Queretaro have taken the city of Jalapa and forces under General Galindo are in possession of Coquimitlan in the state of Colima.

MAKE ATTACK ON CATTLE CHARGES

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—Rates on carload livestock in Texas are "unreasonable, unduly prejudicial and discriminatory," according to an application filed today with the Texas railroad commission by the Livestock Traffic association of Fort Worth. The association asks a revision of the rates. A hearing on the application was set for April 8 by the commission.

Daugherty to Be Back In Washington Friday With His Official Life Held In Balance; Resignation Expected

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Attorney General Daugherty will return to Washington tomorrow from Florida to find that his tenure of office again hangs by a slender thread.

Unless he can present new and overpowering arguments why he should remain in the cabinet, there is every expectation in administration circles that he will be asked without delay to retire to private life.

He probably will reach the capital in time to attend the regular Friday cabinet meeting, and a final decision regarding him may be announced by President Coolidge after the whole situation has been talked over again by the executive and his chief advisers.

Department Silent

Today there was no explanation from any official source regarding the circumstances of the attorney general's unexpected return to Washington. Neither would the White House or the Justice department make any predictions regarding his course after he arrives. But it was tacitly conceded that his first duty would be to report to the president, and probably learn without delay of a final decision regarding his retention in office.

The administration's sifting of eligibles to succeed to the post of attorney general, a process of which there was further confirmation today in administration quarters, progressed during the day to the point to where a selection of a successor could be made quickly.

Three Candidates

The attitude toward the appointment of the three jurists under consideration—former Senaotr Kenyon of Iowa, now a federal circuit judge; Chief Justice Wilbur of California, and Federal District Judge Dietrich of Idaho—now is known to President Coolidge.

The special senate committee which next week is to begin investigation of Attorney General Daugherty and the department of justice, held no meeting today, giving Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, the committee prosecutor, an opportunity to prepare for the opening of hearings. It is still hoped to start the hearings Monday. New information was received today by Senator Brookhart, republican, Iowa, chairman of the committee, and turned over to Senator Wheeler.

CONGRESS ACTS ON TAX RELIEF

Takes Action to Give Cuts By March 15; Delay Is Feared

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Machinery was set in motion in congress today to remove from the revenue bill the provision for a 25 per cent reduction on personal income taxes payable this year and incorporate it in a joint resolution which could be adopted before March 15, when first installments are due.

Acting on a request from the treasury department, the senate finance committee unanimously indicated its desires to agree to such a proceedure, and Chairman Green of the house way sand means committee, announced he would place the proposal before that committee tomorrow. If adopted, Mr. Green said, he would call for a special rule which would permit the house to take the resolution up immediately.

A flare back which leaders late today admitted was growing to considerable proportions developed, however, and fear was expressed by some members of both parties that removal of the proposal from the revenue bill might leave that measure open to delay in enactment.

The Day In Washington

President Coolidge deferred proclaiming a new wheat tariff rate until tomorrow.

Henry Ford's Muscle Shoals bid reached the stage of amendment in the house.

By a vote of 16 to 4, the house ways and means committee decided to report a soldier's bonus bill.

The senate finance committee determined upon pushing a resolution providing reduction for tax payers in the taxes to be paid March 15.

Charles R. Forbes pleaded not guilty to charges against him and made bond before a United States commissioner.

Representative Theodore E. Burton, republican, Ohio, is one of those being considered for secretary of the navy, it was learned.

Consideration of a successor to Attorney General Daugherty was continued at the White House.

Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, charged there was a deliberate campaign on by the republican party to undermine confidence in the Daugherty investigation committee.

The White House made public telegrams to and from Samuel Knight in regard to his employment as special counsel in the Standard Oil company of California lease case.

SAN JUAN, P. R., March 6.—Two hundred representative Texas business men arrived in San Juan today on a commercial cruise through the West Indies. They will remain here for two days.

SHOALS DEBATE COMES TO CLOSE

Flood of Amendments Are Offered With More To Be Presented

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Close of general debate in the house on Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals late today opened the way for a flood of amendments and consideration of the McKenzie bill, which would authorize its acceptance, was begun section by section.

More Coming.

A variety of proposals to make drastic changes in the terms of the proposed contract were submitted with representatives indicating that many more would be offered tomorrow when consideration of the measure is begun. None of the amendments offered today was put to a vote.

Probability that more than a score of amendments would be offered caused leaders to doubt whether a final vote on the McKenzie measure could be reported before Saturday.

INSURANCE RATES CUT ON GARAGES

By The Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—Reductions in the fire insurance rate on private garages, open cotton yards, theatres and certain other classes were announced today in new schedules issued by the state fire insurance commission.

The rate on private garages is reduced from 50 cents to 20 cents for not exceeding three machines and from 10 cents to five cents for each additional machine.

The charge of 25 cents against open cotton yards that do not maintain a watchman is omitted and the rate of 50 cents on those having private fire protection is reduced to 25 cents making a total reduction of 50 cents on this class.

The rate on standard fireproof theatres was materially reduced.

BYFIELD ADMITS HE GOT $25,000 CHECK FROM CANDLER 10 MINUTES AFTER FINDING HIM IN WIFE'S ROOM

By The Associated Press

DECATUR, Ga., March 6.—Admission by Clyde K. Byfield that he had received a check for $25,000 signed by Walter T. Candler of Atlanta, "about 10 minutes" after he had charged Candler with having attacked Mrs. Byfield was the outstanding development today in the trial here of the $100,000 suit brought against Candler by Mrs. Byfield.

Byfield also admitted signing a paper exonerating Candler, but said his signature was obtained because he "was afraid that Candler's friends were about to attack him."

Plaintiff Rests.

The trial started today and before recessing tonight the plaintiff's case rested its case after Mr. and Mrs. Byfield had testified. Two medical experts also testified. The defense announced that it would probably close its case tomorrow.

The suits grew out of an alleged attack upon Mrs. Byfield by Candler, eldest son of Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta soft drink king, in Mrs. Byfield's stateroom on board the steamer Berengaria, July 17, 1922.

Mrs. Byfield testified that she and her husband were close friends of Mr. and Mrs. Candler and that early in 1922 Mr. Candler suggested a trip to Europe. He later made financial arrangements for the Byfields to make the trip, said Mrs. Byfield.

"On the last night out" she said, "a champagne dinner was given by members of the party." She testified at 2:30 o'clock in the morning she retired after being escorted to her stateroom by her husband, who returned to the party.

"That You, Walter?"

"Is that you, Walter?" Mrs. Byfield stated she asked a man whom she had seen slip into her darkened stateroom, adding that she knew it could not be her husband as he would have turned on the lights.

The only reply from the man whom

Tariff Rates on Grain Products To Be Ordered Today By Coolidge

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Mar 6—Increases in the tariff rates on wheat, flour and wheat products, will be ordered tomorrow by President Coolidge acting under authority conferred upon him by the flexible provision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

Proclamations setting forth the new rate on the basis of comparative cost of production of wheat and the other products in Canada and the United States were drawn up today for the president's signature. Necessity of referring the draft to the tariff commission for checking of some of the production figures, however, delayed issuance of the proclamation.

The president, under the flexible provision of the tariff act, may proclaim increases amounting to 50 per cent of the existing rate. Such an increase if applied to wheat, and it is generally believed the full increase will be ordered, would make the tariff on that grain 45 cents a bushel.

MESSAGES SENT TO M'LEAN DRAW ORATORY FLOOD

Harrison, Heflin and Caraway Denounce Oil Actions

DEFENDED BY LODGE

Massachusetts Senator Replies to Charges From Democrats

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The senate chamber over which Calvin Coolidge so recently presided today became the forum of debate on his official acts and political fortunes, remarkable alike for its solemnity and for its bitterness.

Impelled by the disclosure that he had sent two telegrams to Edward B. McLean while the oil inquiry was at its height, a half dozen democratic senators turned upon the president the same implements of attack they have employed so often recently against members of his cabinet.

Defended by Lodge.

He was defended with equal fervor by Henry Cabot Lodge, the republican senate leader from his own state, who not only penised the president's attitude toward the oil scandal, but deplored the tendency toward disparagement of public men which he said had dragged senate traditions to an unbecoming level.

In turn, Senator Lodge was himself attacked by democratic senators as one of those who helped to lead the assault on President Wilson which Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, declared had sent the war president to an untimely grave.

Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, brought Mr. Coolidge's name into the debate with a demand that he personally explain to the country his communication with McLean and not leave that explanation to White House statements issued by his secretary, C. Bascom Slemp.

Lodge Takes Sides.

The speech went unanswered for more than two hours and then Senator Lodge, after communicating with the White House, arose to explain why the president had communicated with McLean and to assure the senate that "whatever record leaps to life, he never will be ashamed."

The pronouncement of the republican leader was followed by a disclaimer by Senator Harrison that he had attacked Mr. Coolidge. He declared he merely had called upon the president for an explanation because statements from his secretary could not be accepted.

Heflin Raps Lodge.

Declaring that if the situation were reversed, Senator Lodge would be among the first to lead the fight against a democratic administration, Senator Heflin, democrat, Alabama, not only assailed President Coolidge, but also charged that Secretary Slemp

2 U. S. PRELATES TO BE MADE CARDINALS

By The Associated Press.

ROME, March 6.—Two American prelates will be elevated to the cardinalate at a secret consistory to be held March 24. They are Archbishop Hayes, New York, and Archbishop Mundelein of Chicago.

This announcement was made at the Vatican today. Pope Pius in giving two additional red hats to the United States was moved by the generous response of the American people to appeals for the suffering state of Europe.

The pontiff is said also to have desired to honor the people of the United States for their spirit of self denial and loyalty.

NEW RECRUITS FOR RUM FLEET

Booze Cargo Off New York Coast Now Worth 11 Millions

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6.—Scout cruisers of the "dry navy" today reported that the rum fleet had increased to 28 vessels, the biggest liquor fleet off New York since the first group of tramp schooners established a market there 18 months ago.

The dry navy made a complete tour of the rum fleet today. It listed the name, estimated capacity and registery of each ship and announced that the cargoes aggregated 224,000 cases, worth approximately $11,000,000 at rum row prices.

The return of the fleet was marked by a spurt among prohibition forces ashore especially on Long Island. The day's results included six prisoners and the confiscation of six trucks, 415 cases of whiskey and wine and 201 gallons of alcohol with an estimated total value of $25,000.

Bryant-Bilyeu Oil Fraud Case at Shreveport Goes To Jury Thursday Night

Publicity Agent's Work Described By Witnesses; "Got Scared and Quit."

By The Associated Press.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 6.—Instructions to return a sealed verdict in case they reached an agreement during the night were given the jury in the trial of the alleged oil stock fraud cases against John C. Bryant and F. W. Bilyeu in federal court here today. Examination of witnesses was concluded at 4 o'clock and the case went to the jury at 6 o'clock. Clifford Bryant, brother of the defendant, was the last witness on the stand.

He testified that he got into the oil business against his desire and inclination and that he knew nothing about it. Questioned by attorneys for the defense he showed that he didn't. He said, he had $10,000 of stock in the Burkburnett-Claiborne Oil company but had nothing to do with the sale of stock, preparation of stock selling literature or anything else of an executive or administrative nature. He was given a job in Baton Rouge, he said, among the duties of which was mailing out the Capitol City Oil News, the stock selling circular issued at intervals by the company, copy for which he said was prepared by Bilyeu. His duties in Memphis, where the company later established an office, were the same he said. He left the company when Bilyeu "got worse and worse in the lengths to which he went in writing stuff for the Burk-Homer News, as the organ issued from that office was called. The breaking point came when he insisted on printing a story to the effect that Bryant "might be the next governor." The story didn't say governor of what state. It was run without his brother's knowledge or consent he said, and was run over his protest. He advised his brother of what was about to transpire and quit.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Comptroller of the Currency Dawes today approved the conversion of the Guaranty state bank of Chillicothe to the First National bank of the same town. The national bank is capitalized at $15,000.

LAW ATTACKED

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—The state cattle tick law is attacked in an appeal filed today in the court of criminal appeals by J. A. Bailey, cattle raiser of Cherokee county. He was fined $25 for failure to dip a shipment of cattle from a quarantined area.

Washington Shaken As Coolidge-M'Lean Wire Issue Comes Up

Other Issues Pushed in Background By New Developments; Injunction Suits to Be Filed Against Sinclair and Doheny.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Two telegrams from President Coolidge to Edward B. McLean, caught in the dragnet of the oil committee, stirred up another breath-taking commotion today in official Washington.

Shortly after the first message had been read by the committee, a statement was issued from the White House declaring it related to a local patronage question in the District of Columbia.

Presentation of the second telegram was followed by two White House statements. At first it was stated the message was a response to a congratulatory telegram from McLean on the president's Lincoln day speech but a later statement explained that a mistake had been made and that in reality the president was replying to a McLean telegram commending him for not demanding the resignation of Secretary Denby.

Later in the day the telegraphic exchange between the White House and the McLean cottage at Palm Beach became the subject of a fiery debate in the senate, with Republican Leader Lodge defending the president against a scorching attack from the democratic side of the chamber.

Will File Suits.

The effect of the whole development was to completely throw into a shadow a number of other important moves in the oil inquiry, including an announcement by government counsel that civil action to annul the Sinclair and Doheny leases would begin next week and criminal proceedings would follow shortly.

Injunction suits to prevent further removal of oil from the Teapot Dome and Elk Hill reserves, the special counsel announced, would be filed in the federal courts in Wyoming and California and a hearing on the motion given by the Wyoming court at Cheyenne on March 13. Annulment of the leases will be asked for on ground of "fraud and illegality," and a special federal grand jury will be impanelled here about April 1 to consider criminal features of the oil disclosures.

Knight Nomination Delayed.

While action of the nomination of Samuel Knight to be special counsel in the recovery suit against the Standard Oil company of California, was being delayed in the senate, the White House made public correspondence showing that Mr. Knight had informed Washington before his selection that he never had been employed by an oil company. His confirmation will be opposed on the ground of oil connections.

President Coolidge also informed the senate he could not under the law grant its request that the income tax returns of principals in the oil scandal be turned over to the oil committee, but said he would be glad to comply if legal technicalities were removed. The senate promptly passed an inspection resolution and sent it to the White House.

TEAPOT COMMITTEE TO PROBE BORDER RAIDS.

By The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 6.—The inquiry into Mexican border raids by a sub-committee of the senate foreign relations committee headed by Albert B. Fall, then senator from New Mexico would be investigated by the senate committee now investigating the Teapot Dome oil leases and other charges, it was indicated here today when four men who were connected with the Mexican investigation were summoned to appear before the committee.

Four Summoned.

W. A. Wiseman, formerly in charge of the Mexican bureau of the department of justice in San Antonio, Captain Hanson, immigration inspector in charge of district number two; Gus Jones, head of the bureau of investigation in San Antonio, and B. C. Baldwin, captain of Texas rangers, were summoned to appear before the committee at once. All of the persons summoned aided Senator Fall in his investigation of the border condition and were witnesses before the subcommittee.

GEDDIES ADMITS THAT HE MIGHT BE PROHI ADVOCATE IN AMERICA

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 6.—Sir Auckland Geddes, whom the pilgrims entertained tonight in honor of his return from Washington, kept the word which he gave upon departing from New York, that he would continue as unofficial ambassador of American people on this side of the Atlantic, by a remarkable speech which for candor and frankness has rarely been surpassed at a meeting of the Anglo-American society.

The former British ambassador barely made his reply to toasts by Lord Desbrough; John Robert Clynes and former Premier Baldwin before he roused the distinguished gathering of King George's subjects by saying:

"I don't think the people of England recognize amid the mass of stories of violation of the prohibition laws of the United States how strong the feelings of the best minds of the best people of America is on the subject of prohibition. Given the American problem, given the American climate, I think that if I were an American I would be a prohibitionist."

TEXAS ENTERS SULPHUR FIELD

New Producing Company In Brazoria County Affects

By BASCUM N. TIMMONS
Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The features of the sulphur industry in 1923 were the agreement between the American and Sicilian sulphur producers regulating the world's sulphur market and the entrance into the sulphur industry of a new producing property, the Noskins Mound deposit in Brazoria county, Texas, operated by the Freeport Sulphur company, the interior department said in a statement today. The production of sulphur increased from 1,830,942 long tons in 1922 to 2,035,847 tons in 1923 and the shipments increased from 1,343,624 long tons in 1922 to 1,618,841 tons in 1923. Both production and shipments reached new high levels in 1923 compared with previous records of 1,879,150 long tons production in 1921 and of 1,517,625 long tons shipment in 1920. The estimate value for 1923 is $26,000,000, compared with $22,000,000 for 1922, at approximately the same rate per ton.

Stocks which amounted to nearly 2,500,000 long tons at the end of 1922, increased to nearly 2,900,000 tons at the end of 1923, practically 1.8 times the shipments in 1923, so that if production should cease entirely shipments from stocks could be maintained for nearly two years at the rate for 1923, which was the record high rate.

The exports of sulphur, or brimstone, in 1923 amounted to 472,525 long tons, valued at $7,105,260, compared with 485,664 tons in 1922, valued at $7,095,628, a decrease in quantity but an increase in value. The exports in 1922 were the highest ever made, and those for 1923 were second only to those for 1922 and 1920.

The production of pyrites in the United States in 1923 was 151,628 long tons, valued at about $661,000, compared with 169,043 long tons valued at $671,241 in 1922, an increase in quantity but a decrease in value. Of the 151,628 tons produced 170,997 tons were either sold or consumed by the producing companies. Pyrites was produced in five state in 1923—California, New York, Ohio, Virginia and Wisconsin. The combined production of California and Virginia was 170,300 long tons; New York produced 11,000 tons; Ohio, 138 tons, and Wisconsin, 190 tons. The mine of the Connecting Lluk Mining company, Wisconsin, was operated only five months in 1923, as the fill was destroyed by fire on June 1.

The imports of pyrites in 1923, practically all from Spain, were 259,721 long tons, valued at $1,242,574 compared with 279,454 long tons in 1922, valued at $1,190,101. About 4,000 long tons reported by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce as imports of sulphur from Spain should undoubtedly be reported as pyrites. The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce is investigating these imports and the 4,000 tons will probably be added to the 259,721 tons given above as imports of pyrites.

MESSAGES SENT

had not told the truth to the oil committee about his trip to Florida.

Senators Caraway, McKellar, and Dial, democrats, vigorously assailed Mr. Lodge in connection with the attacks on President Wilson, and Senator Caraway charged that the then Senator Fall of New Mexico, had been sent to the White House by the senate to "turn back the covers" on President Wilson's bed to determine what his real condition was.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, prosecuter in the oil inquiry, declared as the debate was drawing to a close, that Senator Lodge was undertaking to use the prestige of the presidency to minimize the oil disclosures.

FREDERICK SCHOOLS TO GET $15,000 RESULT OF NEW BILL

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 6.—Frederick city schools will profit to the extent of $15,000 from the bill passed unanimously by the Oklahoma legislature Monday, now up to the governor for signature, providing state aid to the extent of $15 per pupil, according to County Superintendent Clay W. Kerr recently. According to Kerr receipt of this money means that there will be no short school terms in the county and that daily average attendance throughout the county will be greater as citizens will see that all children within school age attend school, and that regularly, that they may profit from this fund.

The bill recently passed was not of an emergency nature so it is not thought likely that this money will be available for the present school year.

RED PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE

Itched and Burned. Lost Sleep. Cuticura Heals.

"My trouble began with little red pimples breaking out all over my face. Later the pimples became larger and were so sore that I could hardly wash my face. They itched and burned so at nights that I could not sleep. The trouble lasted about three months.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and purchased some. In less than a week I could see a difference in my face and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Donald Newsom, Piano, Texas.

Visitors' Viewpoints

"Twenty days of February saw three times as many linotype machines sold in this district than has ever been sold here in any 30 day period. This on top of a period of acknowledged depression and during a month that is always conceded to be dull."

This was the remark of L. F. Bookman of New Orleans, representing the Mergenthaler Linotype company in a district enclosed by a line through Wichita Falls, Gainesville, Fort Worth, Brownwood, Sweetwater, and Vernon. "These machines have been bought by country printers, and when the rural newspaper goes in heavily for improvement you may count on the best kind of crops last year, excellent present conditions, and better prospects.

"Those that always excuse any sort of activity in Wichita Falls and the surrounding territory, saying that it is only the result of oil and nothing else, will be surprised to learn that these machines have been bought by papers hardly affected by oil, in communities depending almost entirely upon their agricultural resources. This goes to prove that the prosperity of the Wichita Falls territory has something more permanent than oil for its foundation."

R. R. Creager, oil man of New York, in Wichita Falls in connection with his interests here, had a great deal to say yesterday upon the progress Wichita Falls had made in the last 10 years.

"Wichita Falls has grown since I was first here from a town of small shabby buildings, dusty, dirty streets, and no good restaurants to a city of towering buildings, wide paved streets and any number of excellent cafes. The change is remarkable, but what is more remarkable is the pronounced indication that the change is as yet incomplete and that there are yet great things in store for this city."

MOURNING PERIOD FOR WILSON OVER

Although the 30-day period of official mourning for Ex-president Woodrow Wilson was up on the morning of March 3, four days ago, several flags in this city were to be seen still at half mast yesterday.

The postoffice flag was a notable exception, it having been raised to its normal position.

FREDERICK C. OF C. BOOST FOR AGENT OF COTTLE COUNTY

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., March 6.—Definite action on the part of the county commissioners in reference to the employment of a farm demonstration agent for the coming year is expected at this week's meeting of the commissioners, who will discuss the Frederick chamber of commerce's proposal to them and take action. The chamber of commerce has agreed to pay the salary of the agent, if employed, until the beginning of the new fiscal year in June.

Tillman county has heretofore employed a demonstration agent until the past year when the resignation of S. D. Johnson left the county without the services of such a man.

she said she recognized as being Candler, was that he "placed his hands on my shoulders."

"He would not leave the room when I ordered him to do so," the witness continued.

"And this is when your husband came in," she was asked.

"Yes, and after he saw Candler, he became enraged. I said: 'Darling I'm glad you come;' but my husband struck me in the face. He struck me a number of blows, perhaps eight or ten, as hard as he could hit me."

Says He's Drunk

Mrs. Byfield said Candler fell to the floor when her husband entered the stateroom and exclaimed: "Clyde, I'm drunk." She denied that Candler came to her aid during the beating being administered her by Byfield, but admitted "he smashed my husband in the nose so hard that blood came, and then the two men began to fight."

She testified she did not remember anything else.

"Walter, how can you do this?" Byfield testified on direct examination that he asked Candler when he found him in his wife's room.

"I then jumped on him and pounded him hard," Byfield continued, "then I went wild and jumped on my wife. I told Candler that he had ruined me, ruined my wife and ruined my business."

"He told me that he would make it good," the witness said. "He promised me a check for $25,000. I told him I didn't want anything from him, but after some persuasion I accepted the check."

"On cross examination he denied he had attempted to "blackmail" Candler.

Low-Brow Reviewer Gets Kick Out Maskateer Minstrel, Even If He Can't Understand All They Did

They came back last night, those merry, musical Maskateers in a melange of minstrelsy at the Wichita theatre.

There were those who said probably the minstrel would not be so well attended last night because the show was given here for two nights a few weeks ago. This deduction from the doubters was a mistake. A large crowd was there, for two reasons. There were many who saw the show before and knew just what was in store for them.

Then there were those who did not see the minstrel the last time and welcomed the chance to make the show on a return engagement. Reviewing the proceedings last night is simply repetition. Practically every person in the city who has not conscientious scruples against laughter or an aggravated attack of rheumatism making pedal locomotion impossible, has attended one of the last three Maskat shows.

These all know the offerings were good. Those of the minority who for some unknown and not accepted reason deliberately cheated themselves from an evening particularly designed to "drive dull care away" don't deserve a review. Briefly though this is what happened.

Mrs. Louella B. Thompson's sextette was hitting on all six with the cut-out wide open last evening. Every cylinder was in perfect co-ordination and the "Sextette from Lucia" was the finished products and the audience had to be satisfied with just hearing it twice though insisting for a third offering. Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Wayne Holmes, Rev. Leslie Miller, William Young, A. L. Holmes and "Shep" Shephard were the official starters of last evening's program and did an excellent job.

Mrs. Thompson next sang a song, the name not being on the program and the reviewer a low-brow, makes it impossible to remember what the title was but it was an extract from Browning's "Pippa Passes," that is, the words were. Mrs. Thompson with the Camp Fire girls in pantomime while she sang, obliged with another impressive selection.

"The Boy on the Bicycle," Sherman Mundon, was a new addition to the program and was a second Joe Jackson with his act. It would be hard to convince anyone he had not been on the stage before.

Virgil L. Whitworth can do more with a xylophone than anybody we have ever seen. It would be treat for this man to give an entertainment some evening himself. He has such a large following here and then the crowd wouldn't be running him to death with encores and making him come out so often when his modesty makes him not want to consume the entire time of the program.

Mrs. J. S. Pitman in character songs. They are all excellent. Particularly the negro ones and more particularly her rendition of "He May Be Yo' Man But He Comes to See Me Sometimes." Talking or singing or singing and talking Mrs. Pitman is good and a limited program preventing a large number of offerings by her is the audiences only handicap.

Getting to the minstrel proper. Space, time, a limited vocabulary and many things prevent an extended review or minute account of what those boys did last night. Why with Geo. Hodgins, chief of police, telling about snakes a mile long; Dan Daniels pleading the cause of Louisville Lou, Judge Sartin just 'shonin' for his old gang; Judge Rogers telling his court (not courting) experiences; Les Stringer and Charlie Nolen trying to fight all the time; "Doc" Fletcher waxing technical and arithmetical explaining how far a smile will go; Miss Annie Mae Cato dancing and kicking the end men off stage; Jerry Moffett arousing the paternal instinct in everybody with "Dream Daddy" and W. B. Richardson singing with divine inspiration "Wonderful One;" then end it up with the best amateur quartet in the United States, the Shrine Maskat boys, you have the show.

War Cry Sale In Wichita At Head Of List

More copies of the War Cry, Salvation Army publication, are sold in Wichita county every week than in any other county in Texas, according to Envoy E. Pauline Swartz, who lectured Thursday night to a large crowd at the Salvation Army Citadel. The 850 that are disposed of here each week easily exceed the total of any other county in the state.

Envoy Swartz's address was mainly about William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army. She spoke of the work done by the great leader and gave some facts and figures dealing with the tremendous expansion of the organization since it was first conceived and launched in the slums of London's Whitechapel district. Started locally in 1865, Envoy Swartz said, the Salvation Army has now expanded until it is fighting in 70 countries and colonies. One and one half million War Crys are sold every week, she said.

FRENCH FRANC AT NEW LOW LEVELS

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6.—The French franc today plunged to a new record low level at 3.95 cents. At the same time the discount on French futures was increased to ten points a month below the spot price for the next three months. The unprecedented increase of almost a billion francs in French note circulation to a new high total of 40,265,900,000 francs brought a flood of selling orders from foreign capital which precipitated the decline.

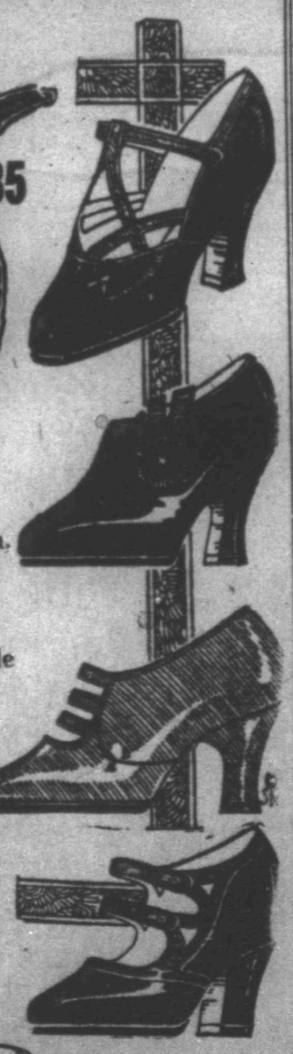

Makes Cold Chills Come

Folks simply can't help showing that slimly, blotchy or rough faces are unpleasant for them to look at much less associate and become intimate with people who so careless about their appearance as to let these skin blemishes rule their destiny. No wonder it seems like "cold chills" run down their backs as they pass by you.

Not long ago Black and White Ointment was introduced in this country to remove such skin disfigures, and the way it quickly gets rid of them is responsible for its instant popularity and emendous sale of nearly two million packages a year. Your dealer has it and can supply you. It is economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size.—Adv.

Crude Slumps In U. S. Fields

DECREASE 3,500 BARRELS DAILY

Central and North Texas Production Gain Reports Show

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6.—The daily average gross crude oil production of the United States decreased 3,500 barrels for the week ending March 1, totalling 1,884,900 barrels, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. Daily average production east of the Rocky mountains was 1,280,000 barrels, an increase of 1,750; California production was 646,100 barrels, a decrease of 5,250.

Oklahoma had a daily average production of 402,150 barrels, decrease of 5,950; Kansas, 62,900, decrease 1,150; north Texas, 67,500, increase 2,400; central Texas, 201,300, increase 5,800; north Louisiana, 50,900, decrease 750; Arkansas 121,050, increase 1,600; gulf coast 97,150, increase 2,800; eastern 100,000, decrease 2,800; Wyoming and Montana 129,550, decrease 1,000.

Daily average imports of petroleum at principal ports for the week ended March 1 were 318,571 barrels, compared with 258,428 for the previous week.

There were no changes reported in crude oil prices for the major districts, mid-continent being quoted from $1 to $2 a barrel, according to the gravity of the oil; Pennsylvania crude at Bradford district $4.50, and all other grades $4 a barrel; gulf coast $1.65 a barrel with some companies quoting grade "B" $1.40. California crude ranges from $1 to $1.40 a barrel, depending upon the gravity of the oil.

SPECIAL FREIGHT RATES ORDERED

Austin Bureau, Record News.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 6.—Special freight rates on crude petroleum from Three Rivers, Tex., to San Antonio, were ordered by the Texas railroad commission Wednesday, effective Thursday. In tank car shipments, a rate of 10 1-2 cents per 100 pounds was ordered, on application of the San Antonio, Uvalde and Gulf railroad.

NEW OIL FIELD NEAR M'ALESTER

By The Associated Press

McALESTER, Okla., March 6.—Oil was struck today in a test well being sunk 18 miles west of here by the Parraffine and Reliance Oil company. It is the first oil ever found in Pittsburg county, although there are many gas wells in the vicinity. The bit struck the oil sand at 3,642 feet.

Bronchitis Best Treated With Vapors

Direct Treatment with Vaporizing Salve Immediately Reaches Congested Air Passages.

If a cold has been neglected and has gone down into the chest, producing acute bronchitis, thoroughly redden the skin over throat and chest with hot, wet towels to open the pores. Then massage briskly with Vicks for five minutes, spread on thickly and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

For hours after Vicks is applied the vapors of Camphor, Menthol, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc., are inhaled directly into the infected air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

Being externally applied, Vicks is especially good for children and is used by millions of mothers to prevent or relieve cold troubles.

Dallas Gasoline Increased Four Cents Thursday

By The Associated Press.

DALLAS, March 6. — Gasoline prices were increased four cents a gallon here today by the Magnolia Petroleum company, bringing the new price to 21 cents per gallon retail.

No official reason was given for the boost in prices which had not been met by other companies during the morning. Local retailers expressed the belief that consumption of a large portion of "distress" gasoline which has been on the market for several months combined with recent advances in crude oil prices was responsible for the higher rate.

BEAUDOIN MAY EXTEND WILMOT POOL NORTHWEST

F. G. Beaudoin's A. D. Thompson Lands No. 1, lot 6, block 21, Thompson lands, Archer county, is setting and cementing casing for test of sand encountered at depth of 1,584 feet. The test is being watched with interest by a number of operators as a completion would extend the Wilmot field one-half mile northwest.

GUADALUPE OIL LEASES HIGHER

25 Acres On Harris Place Near McKean Well Brings $35,000

Special to The Record News.

SAN ANTONIO, March 6.—The Marines No. 2, of the United North and South Oil company, Inc., in the Guadalupe county extension to the Luling field, is making oil at the rate of about 600 barrels per day, but is not yet completed, according to a statement by K. C. Baker, vice president and general manager of the company.

The Shanklin No. 2 of the same company also is drilling in and gives every evidence of a producer, being estimated at around 500 barrels, while the No. 2 Marines is thought to be good for as high as 1,500 barrels, when it is finished. The No. 2 Shanklin and No. 2 Marines are both higher up on the structure than the Marines No. 1 well on the same leases.

The No. 1 Shanklin became a water well at the production depth and is being carried down for a deep test, being already around 3,300 feet. The No. 1 Marines was the first producer in Guadalupe county and is making about 200 barrels of oil per day with some water. The No. 2 is free from water, as is the big McKean No. 1, nearby, which has been producing 4,000 barrels per day for the past eight days.

There are activities of all kinds in Guadalupe county at present, with several other wells drilling. J. K. Hughes and C. C. Canaan are both on the Allen tract near the Allen No. 1 of the North and South, which is a 1,000-barrel well, and locations have been made clear across the McKean, Marines and other leases around the production area, while the Magnolia Production company has started erecting a rig for a test on the Schubert lease farther to the northwest than any of the producing wells. Prices of acreage around the production area are still mounting skyward in Guadalupe county and sales are being made daily, 35 acres having changed hands Tuesday on the Harris lease northwest of the McKean at $1,000 per acre.

RIGGING UP

By SUMMERS

The Western Petroleum Refiners' association meeting ended yesterday in Dallas. The attendance was unusually good this year, according to reports.

Capitalists of San Antonio are planning the building of an oil refinery at either Harbor Island or Aransas Pass, where ships can draw anchorage in 23 feet of water.

So far as drilling operations and new work is concerned in western Osage county, everything is held up pending the holding of the big lease auction sale of Osage lands March 18 and 19, when 100,000 acres will be offered to bidders.

Capacity of the Nyanza refinery at Wilson, Okla., is to be increased to 3,000 barrels, according to Altitude Petroleum company of Tulsa.

California operators are beginning to start wildcat tests. Producing fields are reported to be declining at a rapid rate and the major fields are practically defined.

Paul Shoup, vice president of the Southern Pacific railroad and president of Pacific and Associated Oil companies in an address at Los Angeles declared the gasoline supply of the United States in storage is less than enough to meet the nation's needs for the next 60 days.

The Doherty interests are reported to have purchased the Topeka, Kan., Gas Distributing company's plant for $700,000.

The Texas company is completing a 55,000-barrel tank on the Burnett lease in Carson county, and is erecting storage tanks at its No. 3, Burnett, which is nearing completion.

MONTAGUE TEST DOWN 2,300 FEET

The Mascho Corporation's J. L. Howard No. 1, Limestone County School Lands survey, western Montague county, near Stoneburg, is drilling at 2,300 feet. The test is three miles southeast of the discovery well of the Gulf Production company's producer on the Worsham ranch lands, Clayton and Montague counties.

BAILING STARTED BY R. M. F. COMPANY

The R. M. F. Oil company's L. F. Wilson No. 17, lot 14, block 27, American Tribune New Colony Lands survey, Archer county, will likely be completed today as bailing was started late Thursday afternoon from sand encountered at depth of 1,577 feet. Operators visiting the test were of the opinion the well would make a splendid producer.

COWLING-NEWELL FEELING FOR SAND

Cowling, Newell and Brundage's Seay No. 2, Fowler survey, Wichita county, is below 1,100 feet and is feeling for the sand. The firm's No. 1, an offset to the No. 2, is pumping 75 barrels daily from sand found at depth of 1,200 feet.

TEXAS COMPANY HAS RESUMED DRILLING

The Texas company's Mrs. J. Tuberville No. 1, block 17, Tuberville lands, Archer county, has passed up a sand encountered at 1,485 feet and have pulled casing and resumed drilling to deeper horizon.

FREE WOMAN IN HARPER DEATH

Mrs. Abe Gross Absolved Of Blame In Accident

Complete exoneration was given to Mrs. Abe Gross Thursday by Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn when a hearing was had in connection with the fatal injury last Sunday night of George Harper. Mrs. Gross, whose automobile struck the man at the corner of Seventh and Lamar streets, was absolved of all blame in the accident after testimony of witnesses in the case had been heard.

It developed at the hearing that at least two eye witnesses of the accident had seen a Ford coupe brush past Harper just after he had been hit by the Gross machine. The witnesses could not say positively that the coupe had struck the man, but they remembered very plainly having seen the machine. These statements were accepted as proof of the reports that two automobiles had figured in the accident.

Testimony given before Judge Gwinn showed that Harper had stepped in front of the Gross machine, which was traveling at a reasonable rate of speed, and that the driver of the car was in no way to blame for striking the man.

SULPHUR WILL CLEAR A RED, ROUGH SKIN

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation begins at once to soothe irritated skin and heal eruptions such as rash, pimples and ring worm.

It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.—Adv.

WHAT HENRY FORD SAID.

Henry Ford, as a political man of mystery, won a hundred million dollars worth of publicity while he remained a political man of mystery. Then, without consulting the stars, he declared for Calvin Coolidge and now he isn't a political man of mystery.

He is just as willing to talk as ever. He says a high tax on the rich hurts the poor and that those who favor high impost merely advocate an increase in the cost of living. In his meek and lowly way it is his viewpoint that an administration or set of legislators advocating high taxes should be run out of office.

He also contends that high taxes on the rich put burdens on the poor. High taxes curtail industrial activity. Furthermore, he says, there should be nothing political about taxes. No one seems to care how much government costs provided the money is raised from the other fellow. Every cent the government spends, just as every cent a citizen spends, has to come from somewhere.

From a purely selfish standpoint Wizard Henry says it does not make the least difference to him whether the government taxes him one per cent or ninety or ninety-nine per cent; that he is in business not to make money as money but to do many things which he believes are of public benefit and that he can put his money to better public use than the government can.

He says he did not spend the money he made before the era of high taxes. He put it into production. It has gone to the support of two million people. It has permtted the farmer and his wife to come to town whenever they like. It has let millions of people get out into the fresh air and it has made the automobile a thing that the poor man can have.

Furthermore, he says, with the high surtaxes advocated as a benefit to the poor man or the men of moderate means he doubts if ever he could have reached a point where he could have reached a car under $1,500 and that only by paying very low wages.

He insists he should have to pay low wages for the backs of men and not the backs of machines would have had to bear the weight of production. It is the opinion of the billionaire manufacturer that the men who tell the country that the high incomes must be cut down are not working for the benefit of the masses but what they are really saying is something like this:

"You workmen and farmers have got all you ought to have. Let us stop progress right here. From now on this country must be run for the benefit of the politician."

Henry Ford is one of the most interesting men on the stage of action. He is not a radical. He makes no bones in saying that he is interested in seeing everybody getting a better living with less effort, he is against anything which stops the country where it is and his theory is that one of the great troubles with Europe is that the people exist for the government.

Taxes over there take up what surplus ought to be used for bettering conditions. He holds that if the surplus of industry is taken away then in hard times a concern must borrow and soon we have industry owned by banks. That is what has happened in Europe. Sometimes I wonder if support of the Mellon bill by the banks is sincere. It is all rather funny in a way. The radicals support a high tax program which would throw industry into the hands of the banks while the banks support a program which would keep industry in the hands of the owners and operated for the benefit of the people."

Not many moons ago Henry Ford was the idol of farmers and wage earners. They clamored for him to become a candidate for the presidency. He is just the same Henry Ford today that he was then and his views, speaking of taxation, should be just as acceptable as before he ceased to be a political man of mystery.

PANTOMIME -:- By J. H. Striebel

No Wonder Coolidge Favors a Heavier Inheritance Tax.

It Happened In Egypt

I stayed only long enough to settle my big children into their quarters, and then I darted back to Cairo, in a taxi. It was a long half-hour before Biddy and I were wildly shaking hands in a huge private sitting-room all red-and-gold brocade and crystal chandeliers, as it had been in the days of Ismail.

"Now tell me what happened, from the beginning," I said, when I had made her sit down by me on the sofa, and was trying to warm a cold little hand in mine.

What it all amounted to, told disjointedly, was this: Since Monny had had an inspiration the day after our arrival in Cairo, to give Rachael Guest a lot of her new unworn clothes, Rachael had become quite girlish and "flighty." No harm in this; but, it had seemed to Biddy that Rachael deliberately incited the girl to do things which "Antoun" disapproved. Brigit fancied that Bedr's influence had been at work, for knowing as he did that "Antoun" would gladly have given him marching orders, he took pleasure in thwarting his superior when he could do so with safety.

Bedr had told Rachael stories of the fascination of hasheesh smoking, and had said that no stranger knew Cairo who did not visit one of the "best houses" where hasheesh, though forbidden, was still secretly smoked. He had assured her that there were several which were "perfectly respectable," even for the "nicest ladies and gentlemen"; and Rachael probably at his suggestion, had tried to persuade Monny to make the expedition. Monny had mentioned it to "Antoun" in the presence of everybody; and "Antoun" had perhaps too brusquely vetoed the idea. He said that there were no such houses, which could be visited by ladies, and that it was absurd to think of going. That word "absurd" stung Monny. She began to protest that Bedr knew Cairo as well as Antoun did, and was as likely to be right.

But Miss Guest stopped her with a hand on hers, and a "Dear Monny, please don't let us think of it any more, if Antoun Effendi disapproves."

Monny was apparently contented to let the idea slip, and Brigit had thought that in the excitement of getting ready for the ball, she and Rachael had really forgotten it. Then, before writing me, she had overheard Rachael say to her friend, "It's for 12 o'clock sharp." And Monny had answered, "Won't it be great! Does Bedr think—" But she had stopped stopped short at sight of Brigit.

Even this did not suggest to Biddy a visit to a "hasheesh den," for various other plans had been broached and discouraged by "Antoun." When I didn't arrive, she soothed herself by reflecting that, after all, she need only keep a sharp watch over Monny when midnight drew near.

Until half-past 11, she told herself, she need not be on the alert every instant; but therein had lain her mistake. Mrs. East had brought a costume with her from New York, and while Biddy "lost herself" in watching the efefct of this magnificence on Sir Marcus, the girls vanished.

Without alarming Mrs. East, Brigit had begun to search, but the two had been seen by nobdy. It seemed cruel to frighten Mrs. East., when the great scheme, whatever it was, might be no more than an innocent freak. So Biddy slipped across the garden to the hotel, and sent an Arab messenger off in a taxi with a hastily scribbled note to the address "Antoun" had told her would find him. In less than an hour he arrived and when he had listened to her account of what had happened, he said after a minute's reflection that the ladies had almost surely gone with Bedr to some hasheesh den or a place masquerading as such. Off "Antoun" went to look for the missing ones, though, and assured Biddy that she should have news as soon as possible.

It was not till 3 o'clock that she had begun to be very anxious and had disturbed the harmony of Sir Marcus Lark's duet with Mrs. East. Even then she would not have spoken, had she not feared that the ballwould break up, and then there would be no man to appeal to!

Sir Marcus had been inclined to smile at the notion of danger; but he, like Anthony Fenton, was ignorant of any private qualms which troubled Brigit O'Brien. She could not tell him who she was, and that she considered herself far from being a "mascot" to her fellow-travelers. If she had told, and added that she feared enemies who might for certain reasons make a mistake in Monny's identity and take her to be Esme, he would have said that such melodramatic things didn't happen, even in Egypt.

Even as we spoke a big voice boomed at the door: "May I come in?" and Sir Marcus strode into the room. After we had talked over the strange disappearance he turned to me suddenly.

"By the way, Lord Ernest, did Corkran say anything to you about an intention to throw over his job on the Candace?"

"No. He said he was going to call on you that's all."

"He did call. I was out—on this business, as it happens. He waited, and I found him, making himself at home in my sitting room—which I use as a kind of office. I wish I knew how many of my letters and papers he had time to read."

"Surely he wouldn't—"

"I shouldn't say 'surely' was the word. I'd gone out in a hurry and left things scattered about—which isn't my habit. When I came back, it struck me that my desk looked like a bit tempting for a man with a retired conscience. To my surprise he informed me that he'd come to 'hand in his papers,' as he called it. It struck me as d—d queer, considering Corkran's character."

"As he spoke, there was a knock at the door. One of the liveried Arab servants of the hotel ushered in a dwarfish brown man in a dirty turban and a shabby black gabbeah. He held out a piece of folded paper, not in an envelope, and Biddy cried, out as she unfolded it: "Why, Duffer, inside it's addressed to you! It says:

"'For Lord Ernest Borrow. To be opened by Mrs. Jones in his absence."

Within the outer wrapping was a second folded paper, of the same kind. And I saw that the address, scrawled in pencil, was in Anthony's handwriting.

CHAPTER IX.

The House of the Crocodile.

The letter had evidently been dashed off in a great hurry.

"Give the bearer 200 piastres and let him go. Don't try to make him speak. I have promised this. Then quick to Jarvis Pasha and get him to raid the House of the Crocodile. Question of hasheesh. We must be smuggled out when arrests are made—also Bedr, to save scandal.—A.

Anthony was one who knew precisely what he wanted and why he wanted it. I obeyed his instructions implicity, and an hour later, with 20 of Pashas men, I forced my way into the House of the Crocodile.

"What a grand idea to install a hasheesh den here!" I could not help thinking as I followed at Pasha's heels to the head of the stairs, where a curtained doorway led into a small anteroom. There on the floor, sat Bedr el Gemaly, the picture of dejection. Had I raised my voice in the next room, he would perhaps have ventured in to see what I could do to help him; for now, at sight of me, he scrambled up in shame-faced eagerness.

"Oh, my lordship!" he began to cackle. "Praise be to Allah you are come! I was persuaded to bring the young ladies here. They would make me do it. Yes, sir. It is not my fault. They pay me. I have to obey. Then we got caught, like we was some rats. No fair to punish me. The ladies all right. No harm come, except a little sick."

"If no harm has come, that's not due to you, but to a very different man, as you well know," I said. And as I spoke the man I had in my mind appeared before my eyes.

"Hullo!" I exclaimed joyously.

Pasha turned to Bedr, "You brought two ladies here, I understand," he said quick and sharply. "Then you must have acquaintance with the place. For good reasons which have nothing to do with you, I shall not arrest you, but you will have to report at the governor at in the hour, or you and I regret it. Do you know the way out at the back of the house?"

"I do, gracious one," Bedr responded with business-like promptness.

"Then take these gentlemen and the ladies, whom I do not need to see, out by that door, and you will not be allowed to go, because my men who are there have seized Ernest Borrow, and they have my instructions."

We waited for no more, but followed Anthony, who made a dash through the further room and into another there, on a mattress, crouched two forlorn figures.

"Lord Ernest! Oh, how glad I am," cried one of these creatures while the other, less vital or more miserable, whimpered and gurgled a little behind her veil.

"Come along, quick!" I said, and they came. Bedr led the way, thankful to show himself of us. Anthony followed as if to protect or screen the girls from sight. And in a few minutes we were speeding our way back to the hotel. So it was over, this adventure!

Yet was it over?

At last! It now appears that the investigators in Washington have discovered the secret of perpetual motion.

Harry Drummond, of The Editor & Publisher, New York City in town today said he doesn't own an auto and wouldn't have one. The reason: Too much trouble to drive in New York.

All of which is interesting and makes the man of the smaller city really apperciate his gasoline buggy.

Another thing he told us about traffic regulation in New York which should be of interest to the Unsafe Drivers Club of Wichita Falls: The traffic cops in New York do not arrest you or even tag you. All they do is to make you get out of the line and go around the block, taking your place farther down the line. But that is enough for it takes about a half hour to get back into line after you have overstepped the traffic regulations.

An Illinois recluse died the other day. Searchers found $16,000 in lard cans hidden in a cupboard. The old bird lived the life of a miser and it took him fifty years to accumulate that amount of money.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Playing and Work.

One Mother Says:

So many mothers think that playing with the children means stopping the regular work. On the contrary I believe it increases the companionship between mother and child if they can "play together" while mother carries on her regular work. When I am ironing, daughter and I play "imaginary hide and seek," each in turn thinking of some place she is hiding, while the other tries to guess. When I mend she sits nearby, and we repeat nursery rhymes together, or act out imaginary scenes in which I am "the lady next door," and she is also a little housewife, come visiting. As a result, she never expects me to drop my work to amuse her.

TO TU TANK.

We fancied that your mausoleum
Whose splendors spread abroad your fame,
Would be set up in some museum,
And labeled neatly with your name.
We thought the last remaining curtain
That hid your withered, mummied brow
Would be removed. We felt quite certain
That you would be Old Stuff, by now.

Four thousand years or more you slumbered
Within your narrow golden cell,
While kings and emperors unnumbered
Arose to pomp and power—and fell.
Oblivious of all life around you,
You lay preserved with spice and myrrh.
We wonder not that when they found you
It caused a temporary stir.

But you were dead—and for that reason
(Which proves our logic is awry)
We thought that for a fleeting season
You'd figure in the public eye.
"Beside some column they will park him
When once they've dug him up," said we.
"Enclose him in a case, and mark him Exhibit Number Thirty-Three."

But we were wrong, they toil so slowly
They do so little, day by day,
They may not ever get you wholly
Removed from where you so long lay.
Four thousand years of inanition
You spent within that crumbling tomb.
But we are filled with a suspicion
That you'll take longer to exhume!
We fancied that your mausoleum

TIMELY VIEWS on WORLD TOPICS

COPELAND POINTS OUT NEED FOR SERUM BILL NOW BEFORE CONGRESS

"Many city people think that farmers are old-fashioned and behind the times. But in getting laws passed to protect their cows, hogs and chickens from fake vaccines and serums they have showed themselves to be more up to date than many public spirited city people," said Royal S. Copeland, physician, and senator from New York, in an interview regarding the serum bill before congress.

"Following the discovery that many contagious diseases were caused by germs, there came into use a number of special new remedies for the treatment of these diseases. These remedies are known as vaccines and serums. They are used in the treatment of diseases of men, women and children, as well as diseases of domestic animals.

"These remedies may be dangerous as well as useful, so great care is necessary in preparing them.

"In 1902, the congress of the United States enacted the first vaccine and serum law so that no vaccines or serums intended for use in the treatment of human beings could be sold without a license issued by the United States public health service.

"Such licenses were issued only to manufacturers producing such remedies in well managed laboratories, subject to government inspection. This did away with contaminated serums, which before the law was passed had caused the death of many children from lockjaw and other deadly maladies.

"Following the enactment of this good law, it was found that is years went by some manufacturers who sold vaccine in bottles stamped with the approval of the government license made wild claims about their remedies in order to increase their sales. These claims met with the strongest disapproval of the best element of the medical profession.

"Certain vaccines, sold under government license, were advertised in medical journals and circulars to conquer tuberculosis, a claim absolutely unfounded. Other vaccines were veritable cure-alls, which the venders alleged would do away with, many of the ills of mankind, from Bright's disease to wobbly knees.

"Some manufacturers advocated the blind use of serums and vaccines in the treatment of many diseases which could properly be treated only by the most skillful surgical specialists in the medical profession. They filled the medical world with propaganda stating that any practioner could by the simple injection of these vaccines conquer appendicitis, diabetes and other grave maladies. They even advocated vaccine for epilepsy and melancholia. These claims were manifestly false and misleading and dangerous to the people of this country."

SOILS AND SOIL PHYSICS.

Angleworms.

The angle worm is chiefly noted as being excellent fish bait. Every small boy knows that if he digs in damp spots in the field or around the barn that he can soon fill his bait can with wiggly crawling angle worms. He knows also that they are first class bait for almost any kind of fish.

While the humble angle worms serve a most useful purpose in the world's work by acting as bait, he serves other purposes and does other work not so well known, but equally useful and perhaps more valuable.

The angleworm is the original dirt eater. He literally eats and digests dirt. He brings soil from below ground to the top, opens up tiny burrows that admit air and does other beneficial work.

If you have never thought about the matter it will be a surprise to you to learn that scientists estimate that in an acre of ground well populated with angle worms they will turn over ten tons of soil in 24 hours. Figure this up over a period of years and it will be apparent that as an earth worker the angle worm is quite important.

The angle worm and his peculiar habits have been investigated by other than small boys with a desire for fish bait. No less a scientist than the great Charles Darwin, the father of evolution, made detail studies of the angle worm and his peculiar habits.

Next time you go fishing you can think of the angle worm as being something besides good fish bait.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

By MARY BLAKE

PISCES.

Until evening the aspects are very adverse and great caution should be used in all matters, particularly those pertaining to money. The evening is excellent for social functions and all forms of amusements.

A child born today will be impulsive in its early youth, but in maturity powerful and successful in all walks of life.

If today is your birthday you are over critical and constantly analyzed all your own emotions as well as those with which you come in contact. Even in affairs of the heart you are always conscious of your every emotion, and for that reason you always want the other person to make the advances so that you may act the critic.

Your mind is one that plans eagerly and rapidly but unless you discipline yourself severely you will never bring any of your projects into successful operation, and while you are bemoaning your luck, others will be making your dreams their realities.

You have a keen sense of the artistic and are erratic and easily irritated, but once assured of a person's loyalty there is nothing you will not do for him.

You are fond of people and rather inclined to the social life. You are magnetic and to a certain extent physically intuitive, although on the whole not enough of a gambler to trust your impulses. You are not a spendthrift with your charity, as you prefer to help rather than to give.

Women born on this day are suited for business careers or activities of a social nature, and if confined to a domestic life should acquire a diverting interest outside of the home.

Successful people born on this date are: Luther Burbank, horticulturist; Touro Robertson, printer and inventor; Henry Draper, scientist; James M. Thoburn, M. E. bishop; Daniel Giraud Elliot, scientist; Richard M. Upjohn, architect.

Here And There In The World Of Daily Interest To Women

Musician's Club Plans For Formal Opening of Junior College April 8

Formally announcing the opening of the new Junior college auditorium, April 8, and launching the ticket sale campaign for the St. Louis Symphony which will be the attraction on that date, the Musicians' club entertained with one of the loveliest luncheons of the early spring at the Wichita Club Thursday at 1 o'clock.

Mrs. R. A. Lyle gave the invocation after which Mrs. John Wegg King, president of the club in her usual pleasing manner, explained the purpose of the luncheon, which preceded the regular bi-monthly program of the club. She announced the formal opening of the new school with the concert by the St. Louis Symphony orchestra on the date announced, explaining that the new piano bought and furnished by the Musician's club will be installed for this occasion, the proceeds of the concert to be used in making the first payment on the instrument.

Mrs. King then introduced Mrs. M. M. Adickes of the board of education who told interestingly of the work done by the board in connection with the plans and building of the new institution of education. She said that she considered the Junior college the realization of the biggest achievement yet sponsored by the people of Wichita Falls, and that the bond issue for this purpose showed the spirit of the people and went over big. She also stated that the board felt that there has never been a day since the bond issue that the community has not been back of the move. That the Musician's club planted the seed when they promised the piano for the auditorium and that following this, there has been many gifts towards furnishing the new school. She stated further that the school is scheduled to be the civic center of the city on account of the spacious, well equipped auditorium.

Following Mrs. Adickes' talk, Mrs. H. B. Patterson, a charter member of the club, was introduced and she spoke feelingly of the organization of the club 14 years ago, its ideals of that time which has been fully realized and of the splendid things undertaken and accomplished by the club. She said in part that the giving of this piano by the Musician's club will be a source of inspiration to others to do something for this new institution.

After Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. J. A. Kemp, an associate member, was introduced. Mrs. Kemp spoke in a gracious manner, complimenting the organization on their enthusiasm and loyalty, saying that it is so easy for a club to grow luke-warm and make excuses for not being there. She said, "Be there at the right time and at the right place, if you want to make a success of an organization. She also stated that she considered the building of the Junior college here, just the wheel that Wichita Falls lacked in her machinery to the tide the right way. She also spoke enthusiastically of the piano the club is giving the college, saying that it will send a message to many people. Quoting Van Dyke, she said, "That music speaks a message to the soul and we are better for having heard it.

Miss Annette Walsh in a few well chosen words spoke of the director of the St. Louis Symphony orchestra under whom she studied, telling women something of his personality and his mode of teaching. Her talk was thoroughly enjoyed.

Splendid Program.

Mrs. O. E. Nichols was in charge of a splendid program which followed the luncheon on the topic, "The Symphony Orchestra." Mrs. Nichols in her usual capable manner gave a most instructive lecture on the subject, explaining the use of the instruments separately, also talking on Liszt's symphonic poem "Les Preludes," with a pianatic analysis, illustrating the themes on the piano and giving the whole work with Victrola records by the Philharmonic orchestra of New York.

The program was given as a sort of preliminary to the concert to be given here April the 8.

The luncheon table was attractive in its suggestion of springtime, with center baskets of spring blossoms and ferns in baskets, the handles tied with tulle in pastel shades. Places were designated by cards on which were dainty boutonnieres of spring flowers.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Lucille B. Huff, R. W. Gutzler, Forrest, Fred Weeks, C. W. Wallace, R. R. Robertson, Burris, P. P. Langford, C. A. Rodgers, E. A. Nelson, J. E. H. Bailey, J. A. Kemp, F. Fowler Bible Class Gives Lovely Dinner.

One of the loveliest parties of the season was given Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian Church, when members of the Fowler Bible classes were hostesses at a seven o'clock southern dinner, honoring the Carrigan Bible class, and their wives.

The scene laid for the dinner was a typical cotton patch, even to the centerpiece for the tables, where a tiny cotton stalk was daintily placed, one was made to think they were truly down "in Dixie." The favors were minature pickaninnies, each dressed in the brightest of orange, which harmonized most beautifully with the colored lights suspended over each table.

After the guests were registered, they were immediately invited to dine, and were most cordially welcomed by a charming hostess at each of the ten tables. Mr. and Mrs. J. Sidney Pitman were there with their ten-piece orchestra, and while the guests were being served most bountifully by the members of the Echo choir, they were also being entertained every minute. Mrs. T. B. Couch gave two very clever negro dialect readings and Mrs. S. M. Couch Jr., delighted everyone with a violin solo of southern melodies.

Telegrams were received during the evening from Judge Carrigan and Mr. S. A. Harris, expressing their regret at not being able to be present, and in the absence of Mr. Carrigan, Chas. I. Francis gave a very clever talk, expressing his delight at being there and thanking the women most profusely for their hospitality.

The Echo choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Pitman, gave two very enjoyable numbers and, the entire company then joined in the singing of old southern songs. As the strains of "Goodnight Ladies" were heard, everyone knew they must leave, but it was declared by all to be one of the best ever.

Hostesses for the tables were Mesdames R. A. Thompson, A. H. Carrigan, S. H. Burnside, O. W. Hines, C. W. Beavers, J. M. Bell, J. D. Robertson, J. W. Culbertson, J. A. Harris and Chas. Hagman. Decorating Committee, Mesdames W. B. Jarrell and L. W. Grayson. High finance and food, Mesdames A. E. Phillips, F. M. Kell and H. J. Strief.

Covers were laid for 125 guests.

Auxiliary to Give Mexican Benefit Program.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Central Presbyterian church will give a program at the church Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the church when the Rev. A. B. Carrero of Fort Worth, pastor of the Mexican Presbyterian church here, will speak on his work among the Mexican people here and in east Texas.

Mrs. E. S. Goodner, president of Dallas Presbyterial will give a short talk on Presbyterial work. Mrs. Vasquez of the local Mexican church and some of the girls from the Sunday school will give a group of readings and songs in Spanish.

Miss Vivian Railey will give a violin solo and Miss Gibson will give a vocal number.

An offering will be taken which will be used in advancing the work in the local Mexican church.

Everybody is invited to attend and encourage these Mexicans who are striving to become Americanized.

Personals.

Mrs. W. E. Millican and Miss Josie Larkin arrived Thursday from Houston for a visit with relatives and friends here. The women made the trip overland alone and their friends are glad to know of their safe arrival without car trouble of any sort. Mrs. Millican will join her husband here who is a well known oil operator, and will be the guest of her mother, Mrs. W. T. Ivey. She will remain several months while Miss Larkin will stay one month.

Harrison-Moore Wedding Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrison, 1510 Twelfth street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Lucy Marie, to R. F. (Pete) Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore, 1603 Eleventh street, the ceremony being read on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Floral Heights Methodist church by the pastor, the Rev. S. A. Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore are at home to their friends at 1310 Eighth street.

The bride who was a senior at the local high school, is one of Wichita's Fall's most talented and popular girls, while the groom is a member of one of the city's most prominent families and is a promising young business man.

U. D. C. With Mrs. Lankford Saturday.

The W. R. Scurry of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet at the home of Mrs. P. P. Langford Saturday afternoon with Mesdames M. M. Adickes, W. B. Patterson, G. D. Anderson and Bert Bean joint hostesses.

Roll call will be answered with items of U. D. C. activities.

Y. W. A. Lamar Baptist Holds Business Session.

Members of the Y. W. A. of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church met in business session at the church Tuesday afternoon when after the singing of America, devotionals were led by the Rev. A. J. Holt. Solos were given by Misses Irene Garver and Hazel Waggoner and readings were given by Misses Faye Powell and Evelyn Ard.

Miss Pearl Copeland talked on "Immigrants" and Miss Irene Garner talked on "The Negroes and the work being done for them by southern Baptists."

The session was concluded with prayer by Mrs. H. W. Conn, and there were 25 members and several visitors present.

Unity Junior With Mrs. James Barnard.

"The Great Divide," by Moody, furnished the topic for the lesson for the Unity Junior club Wednesday afternoon at the weekly meeting held at the home of Mrs. James Barnard, with Mrs. Jouette Bonner, leader. Mrs. Bonner opened the program with a splendid synopsis of the play, after which three papers were read.

Mrs. Leslie Stringer gave a sketch of Moodys life; Moody's interpretation of character was given by Mrs. Harry White and Mrs. C. I. Francis discussed Moody's unusual placing of the climax at sustaining of interest at the end.

Following the papers, the members enjoyed an interesting round table discussion.

During the social half hour, the hostess served refreshments to Mesdames Jouette Bonner, Elizabeth Erwin, Charles I. Francis, J. L. Jackson, Jr., W. U. McCutcheon, Alfred Miller, Skeen Staley, Leslie Stringer, Jack Speegle and Misses Thelma Kahn, Agnes Reid, Florence Sammons, and Annette Walsh.

Alamo Mothers' Club Announce Program.

The Alamo Mothers' club will meet at the school Friday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 o'clock when reports will be given by the membership and attendance committee who have been doing special work in this department.

After the business session, a delightful program will include:

Devotionals, Mrs. Milton Johnson.

Vocal selection, Mrs. Jerry Schaefer.

Talk, "The Influence of the Home on a Child's Religious Education," Miss Dorothy Burns.

Quartette, Mesdames Jerry Schaefer, E. J. Bartels, L. O. Packer and Miss Valois Compere. Miss Lucy Huggins, accompanist.

Reading, Miss Dena Kouri.

Circle Two to Give Pie Social.

Members of Circle Two of the D. O. D. class of the First Methodist church South, will give a pie social in the basement of the church this evening at 8 o'clock for the benefit of the new church fund. The women are expected to furnish a pie.

Reuting His Skates

"Jimmie and I haven't any skates." The little girl who lived next door to Bud watched him jealously.

"Well, I'd rather have that ice cream cone you have than these old wheels," grinned Bud, who had taken his skates off the wagon and was wearing them on his feet again.

"Say, I'll let you have my cone if you'll let me have one of your skates," was Sallie's offer. "An' I'll bet Jimmie'll give you his all day sucker if you'll let him skate on the other one!"

"Well what do you know about that!" exclaimed Bud. "The poor kids want one skate apiece!" While Sallie went to find her brother, Bud made one of his skates smaller to fit Sallie's foot and the other larger for Jimmie's. Then he sat on his steps and ate his ice cream cone.

DOROTHY DIX'S LETTER BOX

If a Girl Is Too Brilliant She Will Frighten Away Beaux—If She Is Too Silly She Will Bore Her Husband After Marriage—There Is Great Safety in Mediocrity for a Woman.

Do men prefer the silly girl to the intelligent girl? This is the momentous question that was debated not long ago by the young women at the University of Chicago.

If they judged men by their own observation and experience the "ayes" must have carried the argument almost by acclamation, for girls find out at a very tender age that most men, and all boys, have a greater horror of a feminine highbrow than they have of anything else in the world, and if a young woman wishes to have beaux she must make no public display of any gray matter that she has concealed under her Gasconne cut.

So universal is this masculine aversion to feminine brains, unless they are scrambled, that no one would dream of trying to arouse a man's interest in a girl by telling him how intelligent, how well educated, how brilliant and witty she is, for well we know that wild horses couldn't drag him to see her.

So when we press agent a girl to a man we put the loud pedal on her looks, and exploit her pep, and the way she dances, and how well she dresses, and we conceal the fact if she is intellectual as carefully as we would hush up a scandal.

That jellybean boys should prefer silly, gum chewing flappers is natural enough. Like to like, and empty head to empty head. They can giggle and two-step or no-step, and talk jazz, and dance together in a perfect sympathy of idiocy.

But what no woman can understand is why intelligent, brainy men also prefer feminine geese to feminine owls.

Yet they do, and it is idle to deny it. The blue stocking has been anathema to men from all times. You never see men flocking about girls who are serious thinkers. The pretty dunces marry all around college graduates, and it is almost an axiom that the less sense a girl has the more beaux she has.

Highly educated men will marry girls with virtually no education at all. Students will marry women who have never read anything deeper than "Bertha, the Beautiful Cloak Model." Wits marry women who have not intelligence enough to see the point of a story, and who never understand what their husbands are talking about. Yet these marriages are not failures, because the men did not care for intelligence in women.

Of course, vanity is the real explanation of why men prefer silliness to sense in a woman. Their egotism demands that they should know more than she does, that they should pose as oracles to her and that she should be filled with awe and admiration at their wisdom.

Hence they fight shy of the lady who is better read and better informed than they are, and devote themselves to the little nit-wit who rolls calf-like eyes at them and asks them imbecile questions.

If a girl wishes to be popular in society, to have many dates and to make a good marriage, it pays her a great deal better to cultivate the outside of her head than it does the inside, and to spend more time manicuring her finger nails than she does to polishing her mind. This is why a really clever woman never lets any man find out how clever she is, and why so many apparently foolish and frivolous girls give us surprises by showing unexpected sense and sanity. For mighty few girls are as big fools as they seem to be.

But while men like silliness in women in their hours of ease, when they come to do business with women they demand good, hard, horse sense. They do not want stenographers and saleswomen with lovely domes of solid ivory through which no idea of efficiency can ever percolate.

Nor do men wish their wives to be quite the morons after marriage that they seemed to be before marriage. The "child wife" who was so romantic and appealing a figure in the days of courtship is mighty apt to get on a man's nerves when he has to deal with a woman who hasn't sense enough to learn how to keep house nor intelligence enough to settle any question herself, and who can only weep and wring her hands when the bills are beyond reason, and the children are sick and she doesn't know how to take care of them.

So while men prefer the silly girl to the intellectual girl, and they find her ignorance enchanting before marriage, after marriage they would like her to develop a good, large, serviceable bump of good, hard, horse sense. But as for real intellectuality, they can do with a very little of that.

So the girl baby in her cradle might well pray to her fairy godmother and say, "Give me neither brilliance nor idiocy, but just a medium supply of brains, so that I will not frighten some man away from marrying me nor bore him after we are married for there is great safety in mediocrity for a woman. Selah."

TWO ROUNDS STATE CAGE MEET TO BE PLAYED TODAY; MEDALS READY FOR BEST TEAMS AND MEN

By The Associated Press

AUSTIN, Texas, March 6.—High school basketball champions throughout the state have now been determined and the fourth annual interscholastic league basketball tournament will be held at the University of Texas March 7 and 8.

Sixteen teams will participate in the tournament. These teams have already been three times champions, each having won its county, district and bi-district meet. The games to be played in Austin Friday and Saturday are as follows:

Friday Morning:

Gatesville vs. Flatonia.
Oak Cliff, Dallas, vs. Laredo.
Bryan vs. Wichita Falls.
Lytle vs. Stephenville.

Friday Afternoon:

El Paso vs. Brownwood.
Sherman vs. Ralls.
Houston vs. Tehaha.
Austin vs. Groveton.

The second round will take place Friday night. The contest to decide the state championship will be staged Saturday. For the first time a consolation tournament for teams eliminated in the first round will be held.

After the close of the tournament Saturday night Governor Pat M. Neff will present the cups and medals. A silver basketball given by the University Co-Operative society will go to the team winning second place. The university consolation cup will go to the team which emerges victorious from the consolation tournament. Seven gold medals will be awarded to members of the champion team, and seven gold medals will go to the team winning second place. The five members of the all-state team will be given gold medals, and a special gold medal will be awarded the player displaying the best sportsmanship during the tournament. All medals are presented by Cullum & Boren company of Dallas.

A. M. Venne and W. G. Morrison of San Antonio will serve as the tournament officials, and the all-state committee composed of Berry M. Whitaker, director of intramural athletics at the university, George McCullough, famous Varsity athlete, and Al Diviney will choose the all-state team and award the medal offered for sportsmanship.

GIANTS -- YANKS CAN'T RULE B. B. AGAIN, IS SLOGAN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 6.—In a determined effort to stop the flow of baseball championships toward New York, which has had a monopoly of National and American league pennants for the last three years, major league managers have begun preparing their teams for the 1924 campaign. Fourteen of the 16 teams in the two major leagues have again selected southern training camps at which to boil out the excess poundage acquired during the winter lay-off and to stage their annual battles between the rookies and regulars. The Pittsburgh Pirates are doing their preliminary work in California and the Chicago Cubs are back again at Catalina Island, off the California coast.

The training season will be of unusual interest to the fans because of the determination of John McGraw and Miller Huggins to get their machines in order to set records of four consecutive championships in their respective leagues and an equal determination on the part of their opponents to break the string of New York championships.

Manager McGraw has taken his charges to Sarasota, Fla., a new training camp, where his principal task will be to reconstruct his shattered pitching staff. The National league champions expect the stiffest opposition from Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, with possible trouble from the St. Louis Cardinals. Pat Moran, manager of the Reds, has the advantage of starting the training season with what is generally regarded as the best pitching staff in the National League. He hopes to strengthen the weak spots of his outfit and with this accomplished the Reds would appear to have the best chance to succeed the Giants. The Pirates, however, must be figured at all times as dangerous contenders.

The New York Yankees start their training season with the champion ship lineup of 1923 intact. In addition to boiling away the excess poundage of his players, Manager Huggins will endeavor to rid them of excess confidence gained by reason of their victory over the Giants in the 1923 world series. In an early survey of the American league teams Tris Speaker's Indians and Ty Cobb's Tigers appear as the most formidable rivals of he Yankees.

There is much speculation as to what the Athletics will do in the coming campaign. They set a speedy pace for a time last season, but cracked under the strain of the victorous campaign, injuries and unlucky breaks. Connie Mack has opened up his purse this winter and has obtained several players which will make his team one that will bear watching. The Philadelphia Nationals appear doomed for second division depths again.

Both Chicago teams have been strengthened for the 1924 race, and while several changes have been made on the two Boston clubs they remain as unknown quantities. Washington will enter the race under a new manager, Stanley Harris, the brilliant young second baseman, having been named to lead the team. Wilbert Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, expects to work a big improvement in his team.

Florida is the most popular training state with nine camps. Alabama and California each have two, while Georgia, Texas and Louisiana each have one.

The 1924 training camps are located as follows:

Today's Iron

Calling for M'sieur Virgil Cheeves.

With the exception of this most touted moundsman slated to go with the Spudders this season, every deliveryman is now in the yard. Cheeves is said to be around Dallas these days, which leaves it a good matter of conjecture he is waiting for something. Probably his other pair of socks. We hope the "Chief" gets 'em to the satisfaction of all.

The slight rain Thursday morning had nothing to do with the case. Those boys out during the forepart of the afternoon not acquainted with this brand of climate probably remarked that it certainly is marvelous. It certainly is.

Now, contrary to custom of all baseball officials since time immemorial, the specie of regalia to be worn by the Spudders will not this trip be left to a vote of the fans. For, the Wichita Falls uniform is just about ready to be fitted, and time grows short for suggestions. It is highly probable the white home outfits as well as the gray road garments, will not be adorned with a gushing oil well, as some fans had hoped. But such are the ways of baseball men.

This year's toggery will be a quiet white and black when at Athletic field. Just virgin white with black border, unassuming and unostensious. The out-of-town, week-end habiliments will be a modish gray, with just a touch of black trimmin'. Caps will be the same, except home lids will be of white background while traveling toppers will be grey. Socks will be the same, yesterday, today and tomorrow—one for all and all for one.

Along about season opening, gray coats are expected to be issued. This will make it all the more binding on the other boys.

Curtis "Red" Covington, peppery backstop for the Marlin Bathers last year, dropped by to watch the Spudders awhile Thursday afternoon. "Red," although up from his home town of Alvord, is on his way to Marlin today, he said. He will start workout with the Tulsa club of the Western, now in camp there.

Covington went to Marlin of the Texas association last year after finishing a championship captaincy with the Baylor Bears. He held up his contract with Marlin this year for more beans, and promptly got it when both Waco and Temple offered to give him his demands. Last season he was the recipient of negotiations with the Spudders, but was already in the Marlin fold. Covington says he wouldn't mind it a bit to get a chance with Wichita Falls. A teammate, Teddy Lyons of Baylor, is again on the White Sox pitching staff this year.

LITTLE LESSONS IN BIG SPORTS

GOLF.

What type of practice is most beneficial to a golfer? (This means practice other than playing a regular course.)

Answered by
BOB CRUICKSHANK

Runner up in National Open championship, 1923, and the man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchison, Sarazen and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. Runner up in Pittsburch tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Sarazen.

Personally, when I am playing a certain club badly, I always practice it more than any other club, but not immediately before a game. An odd half-hour or even 15 minutes, whenever possible, will help any player greatly. I would not practice too long with any single club, for as soon as the interest wanes, the practice is useless. A few shots with each club, one or two out of the rough, and some bunker work around the green will help eventually. Finally, finish off with a few long and short putts alternately. This should not take more than 30 minutes, will not tire any one and will be interesting.

By FEG MURRAY

T stands for tennis, temperament and Tilden, all of which are more or less synonymous. "Big Bill" was runner-up in 1918 to my brother, Lindley Murray, and second to Billy Johnston the next year, but since then has reigned supreme as national champion.

T also stands for track and Thomson, Earl Thomson of Canada, Long Beach, California, and Dartmouth was one of the greatest of all track athletes. Any drawings I make of Earl should really show a rear view, for that is the one I had of the world's and Olympic hurdle champion in numerous races.

Tunney is another T who holds a title—Gene is the American light heavyweight champ, and if McTigue ever condescends to fight him he will undoubtedly hold the world's title, too. Gene is the only one of the A. E. F. champs to make good, and is one of the few men who have lost a title and then rewon it.

S.M.U. BASEBALL PROSPECTS OUT

Mustangs Hope to Be Again In S. W. Running, Being Second Last Year

DALLAS, Tex., March 6.—In order to give his new material the once over and to get the squad started to training, Coach B. Y. Freeland of Southern Methodist university, has issued the first call for baseball men and preliminary practice has already begun. A large number of new men have reported for practice as well as a number of letter men from last year.

Among the new prospects are: Le Roy Deck of Muskogee, Okla., infielder; Charles Turner of Dallas, pitcher; Bob Milliken of Dallas, pitcher; Lefty Loftus, letter man from 1919 team, pitcher; Jack Smith of Celina, first baseman; Lyman Robinson of VanAlstyne, infielder; Charles Merrill of Ladonia, third baseman; Lake Morrison of Ferris, outfielder, and John Cannup of Royce City, infielder.

A number of letter men from last year are on the basket ball squad and will not be able to report until after the end of the basket ball season; but this will not be a disadvantage because they will be in good shape to start the baseball grind, and the preliminary practice is being held mostly in order to condition the men.

Last year the Mustangs finished only one-half a game behind the conference winner, Baylor, after playing a harder schedule than the Bears. With practically the same team back and a number of valuable additions from among the new men, Coach Freeland, it is believed, will have his nine in the race from the beginning. The pitching staff seems to be the strongest ever. P. G. Matthews, veteran hurler, will be back for his last year, and vows it will be his best; Duke Bassinger of Slayton, Texas, who suffered a broken leg in the second game last year, is back and should go well as big league scouts who have given him the once over believe he is big league stuff; Forrest Runnels, the surprise and sensation of the conference last year also is back.

In the infield Coach Freeland will have: Captain Lawrence Reisor of Celeste, who probably will be shifted from third to first base; Gene Bedford of Dallas, second base; Logan Stollenwerck of Hillsboro, short stop; and Clink Pearson of Lubbock, third baseman who was ruled ineligible last year after the season started. In the outfield is Aubrey Bishop of Floydada Frank Payne of Rockwall; Benny Leonard is of Rockwall, and Collis Irby of Dallas. All these are letter men and a number were conference picks last year.

FISH-GAME COM. VISITS WICHITA

To Look Over Situation In This Section; May Lend Aid

Walter W. Boyd, state fish and game commissioner, will be in Wichita Falls today to confer with sportsmen in regard to matters in hand concerning the protection, conservation and stocking of game and fish in this section, Harris H. Roberts, secretary of the North Texas Fish and Game association, stated last night. Commissioner Boyd will drive up from Decatur, Roberts said he was informed.

Sportsmen of this district have for some time sought aid of state and federal authorities toward bettering the fish and game situation, Chief among the plans is the further stocking of Lake Kemp and the diversion lake with game fish.

Expect Definite Decisions.

It is expected Boyd will give more definite decision to these matters after looking over the lay of the land. He will be conducted over the lakes and shown the possibilities of the big bodies of water as fishing resorts.

Two propositions in particular will be presented to Boyd: that of a fish hatchery at Lake Kemp and of a warden to enforce fish laws at both lakes. Prominant citizens have signed telegrams to the commissioner asking for allotments of game fish and for a hatchery, while sportsmen now behind the association formed last Tuesday night have pushed the idea of a warden. In reply to requests for a warden, Boyd stated he would furnish a motor and pay a man, if it is held legal for his department. If this is not done, the new association proposes to do this, itself. Boyd stated over the telephone to officials of the association that his department has the money and only needs to have free rein in the matter.

The North Texas Fish and Game association has undertaken to get cooperation behind these movements, for which reasons it was formed. It is now the belief of members, said Secretary Roberts last night, to bring into the association ranchmen and farmers, who really have as much interest in fish and game as do the sportsmen. With landowners and sportsmen working together to make for respect for game laws, and to build up the supply, the work of the association will be well under way, Roberts added.

Meeting Tuesday.

Second meeting of the association will be held here Tuesday night, when every person in this section of the country interested in the questions at hand are urged to be present. It is hoped Commissioner Boyd will be at the meeting to make suggestions and state his plans for aiding.

Fish-Game Census.

It is being talked by sportsmen that a fish and game census of this territory should be first step in the general work on the problems. With this taken, a systematic re-stocking of quail and game fish would then be in order.

SPUDDERS SETTLE DOWN TO TRAINING; 15 PLAYERS OUT

Nothing particularly new in the doings at Athletic Park Thursday, except two brand new faces. Wright and Kopp, pitchers, were added to the total of batterymen now up to their ears in training.

The lost sheep to date from the pitchers' fold is one Virgil "Chief" Cheeves, one time Cub slab artist of tenders years.

Amongst the catchers now in there is, of course, Marion, Pittsburgher, who is counted on to rip a wide swath in Texas league baseball this season, along of "Bubber" Jonnard.

Thursday morning's shower cut short workout during the forenoon, but all was pep and gravy for the regular afternoon session.

Kopp Sensation.

And now for the confession. There was a development of yesterday that might with all fairness be placed in the category of new and unusual things. For Carl Kopp, just 16 from points west, and taken from Denver, is a member of the horn-rimmed fraternity, and proud of it.

Kopp has the record of wearing his specs into the hottest of boxes and pitching baseball. In the Colorado country he has made good the past few seasons, and is believed in a fair way to step in the Texas.

Portside Addition.

Wright, the other new slabman arrival, is one of those most desired of Spudders—a portside pitcher. He immediately goes into the ranks of Fussell, Hodges et al., with the duty imposed to deliver a winning southpaw slabster. He comes from the Three-I, along with Hodges and Hoots, and is a Pirate protege.

All Out.

All players having reported were in the spangles yesterday, presenting a sizeable bunch. Pitcher Wetzel, who came in Wednesday afternoon, got into the works. He will be remembered as the Denver purchase, having not felt willing to play ball with that club from the close of the season year before last until this good day. He looks like a comer.

The crowds are growing at each practice session. And to date the size-up appears like this to interested spectators: Pitchers Fussell, Wright, Wetzel, Faulkner, Freeman, Morgan, Crozier, Hodges, Hoots, Gibson, and Kopp; catchers Jonnard and Belcher; outfielder Marcum; Skipper Tanner.

"By Cracky" Awful Cussin' At Texas

AUSTIN, Tex., March 6.—Swearing is prohibited in athletic circles at the University of Texas.

If the best player on Coach Billy Disch's baseball team were to utter a curse word, he would have to turn in his uniform immediately. Coach "Doc" Stewart is equally as strict with the football and basket ball players.

The most profane expression Billy Disch ever uses is "Good My." When the Longhorn mentor says "Good My," the boys know something terrible has happened.

Coach Stewart's chief "cuss" word "By Cracky." When the Texas coach says "By Cracky, Bobbie," Captain Bobby Robertson of the basket ball team knows his coach is very angry about something.

Landon-Hill	4	2	.666
Iowa Park	4	2	.666
American Legion	2	4	.333
Knights of Columbus	2	4	.333

The city basket ball league wound up its 1924 schedule last night in a three-cornered tangle. Contrary to the standings of the split season, which shows the four teams to be in a double tie for first and second places, respectively, the whole status of the club standings is a jamboree of figures.

Completing and enlarging the situation, the leading Landon-Hill quint last night lost to the lowly Knights of Columbus, 36 to 33, while Iowa Park tied for first place by defeating the American Legion, 43 to 30.

It all figures out like this: The Knights are to play the American Legion for two games' decision, in which a win for the K-C would tie them with Landon-Hill and Iowa Park must play it off for the decision of the second half of the season. This settled, Iowa Park, winner of the first half, must be contended with for the gonfalon of the whole season. If the Knights are defeated by the Legion, Landon-Hill must beat Iowa Park for this half season and then again for the whole season's honors. If Iowa Park should win the first it would give them the big title without dispute. But first, the Knights and Legionnaires must decide their dispute. Only one thing is settled: The American Legion team is eliminated from the running, entirely.

The Landon-Hill and Knights of Columbus game was close and tight last night. It decided lots of things and made all matters worse. The second game proved to be a walkover for Iowa Park over the demoralized Legion five.

Van Horn for Iowa Park was high point man, leading with 11 field goals and one free pitch. Faichney, K-C was second with nine field shots and a foul pitch.

Woman Jailed For Violating Narcotic Laws

Charges of violating the federal narcotic laws were filed Thursday with U. S. Commissioner L. ntz against May Howard after she had been arrested Thursday morning by Deputy Sheriffs Hawkins and Mc. .d at her home on Flood street. According to the officers, about $30 worth of morphine was found in her possession.

This is the second arrest on narcotic charges made by Hawkins and McDonald in the last two weeks, another woman having been jailed recently when some morphine and cocaine were found in her home.

Both cases will come up for attention in the March term of the United States district court which convenes here the 24th of this month.

GULF COAST LINE WANT I. AND G. N.

Austin Bureau
Record News

AUSTIN, March 6.—The state railroad commission will hear, on behalf of the interstate commerce commission, application of the Gulf Coast Lines to acquire the stock of the International-Great Northern railroad, at Austin, April 15. On request of the interstate body, Chairman Clarence Gilmore of the state commission yesterday notified the federal commission the hearing could be held here, and at that date.

The Gulf Coast Lines, following notice of intention to purchase the International-Great Northern, applied to the interstate commerce commission for a certificate of "convenience and necessity" authorizing it to take over the stock of the I.-G. N. road.

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. Just apply Musterole with the fingers. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

PRICES ADVANCE STOCK MARKET

Pool Operations Are Resumed and Bear Traders Make Coverings

Market Features.

Total stock sales 792,000 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 98.73; net gain .76.
High 1924, 101.24; low 94.88.
Twenty railroads averaged 83.99; net gain .37.
High 1924, 85.90; low 82.74.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 6.—Resumption of pool operations and extensive covering by bear traders, who apparently acted on the theory that a number of stocks had been oversold, resulted in a further advance of prices in today's more active stock market. While net gains in a number of active issues ranged from 1 to 2 1-2 points, the general list failed to break out of the narrow trading area in which it has been moving the past three weeks.

Commission houses reported that public interest in the market was still at low ebb, probably through fear of further unfavorable political developments at Washington. Today's market ignored the publication of telegrams bringing the name of President Coolidge into the oil inquiry and a further break in French francs, which carried them below four cents each to a new record known for all time. Operators on the long side, however, were encouraged by the decision of the senate finance committee to seek immediate enactment of a joint resolution providing for a 25 per cent reduction in personal income taxes payable this year, so that it may apply on installments due on March 15.

Buoyancy of a number of the high priced industrials was one of the features of the session. Woolworth jumped nearly 12 points to 310, a record, a recovery on publication of a statement, showing a large increase in February sales. A jump of more than 4 points in Corn Products, revived rumors of a possible increase in dividend.

Strength of the tobacco issues was attributed to the activity of the Whelan interests in these issues. American Tobacco closed nearly five points higher at 150.

Oils were bid up smartly, in the early trading on expectations of higher crude prices, but reacted from their top price, on the announcement that the government had brought suits to cancel the leases on the naval oil reserves.

Rails were firm despite the reported decrease in freight car loadings.

The market was not without its weak spots. Case Threshing broke 10 points to 50, a new low, on the passing of the preferred dividend, and Pittsburgh steel broke from 3 to 1 7-8 and then recovered its loss on reports that a pool in that stock was disbanding.

A big increase in note circulation was the primary reason for the latest drop in French francs to 3.96 cents, the lowest on record. Belgian francs reacted in sympathy, but the other foreign exchanges held relatively steady, demand sterling easing slightly to $4.29 5-8.

Call money ruled unchanged at 4 1-4 per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

By The Associated Press
FORT WORTH, Texas, March 6.—A fairly good outlet prevailed for the bulk of Thursday's cattle receipts and prices remained generally steady. Around 1,700 head of cattle and 500 calves were on offer. Steers and some classes of yearlings were slow, but cows were in strong demand and the calf trade was again brisk. Odd cows of good quality and weight sold up to 7.50, but the car load top was 5.25. Canners sold at 2.00@2.25 and cutters brought 2.25@2.75. Heifers and yearlings sold at 7.00@8.00 and calves at 6.75@7.25.

Around 2,200 head of hogs as fresh receipts and 200 or 300 head in addition as holdovers were on offer, a decline of 10 to 15 cents, and being very draggy on that basis. One car of good sort went at 7.40, to a packer, most of the run clearing at a range of 7.10@7.35. Pigs remained steady. A few fat grades ranged up to 5.75, but a spread of 5.25@5.50 caught most grades.

Some attractive sales appeared in the sheep house where receipts amounted to 1,200 head. Two decks of choice fat lambs went at 15.25, the top for the season, some made 14.75 and other 12.75. Two decks of good feeder lambs notched 13.50. The market was very active.

Manila Cigar Exports Increase.

SET BACK FOR GRAIN MARKET

Corn Sells Heavy, But Closes Day Unsettled

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, March 6.—Heavy selling in the corn market today led to something of a price setback for all cereals. Cold wave predictions, together with slackening of demand for the lower grades of corn arriving here, had much to do with the increase of selling pressure.

Corn as well as wheat and oats closed unsettled, corn at 1-8 to 3-8 cent net decline, May 80 to 7-8 to 81 cents, wheat unchanged to 3-8 cents lower, May 1.11 1-4 to 1.11 3-8 and July 1.11 3-8 to 1.11 1-2, with oats 1-4 to 5-8 cent off and provisions varying from 1 to 10 cents low to 5 cents gain.

Dealings in wheat were greatly restricted by uncertainty over the outcome as to the McNary-Haugen bill, discussion of the measure occupying brokers far more than actual pit transactions.

Oats were depressed chiefly by selling ascribed to the northwest. Most of the oats selling was in the May delivery.

Provisions were quiet and without significant change.

COTTONSEED OIL.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 6.—Cottonseed oil was quiet but steady today. Prices moved up 3 to 6 points in sympathy with lard and cotton, but in the absence of outside support the market reacted later and closed 5 points higher to one net lower. Sales 4,000 barrels, prime crude 8.62 1-2 nominal; prime summer yellow spot 9.80@10.25; March 9.80; May 10.22; July 10.56, all bid.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, March 6.—The cotton market showed a firmer tone today on reports of a better demand for export in the south, and the relatively steady showing of the Liverpool cables. May contracts sold up to 29.23 in the late trading, or 82 points net higher and 168 points above the lower level of last Monday. This price attracted a flurry of realizing just before the close and May reacted to 28.99, with the general market closing easy, but 62 to 64 points net higher.

The opening was firm at an advance of 11 to 34 points on the better showing of Liverpool and expectations that the Lancashire labor disputes would be settled at today's conference in Manchester. There was considerable realizing by recent buyers in the forenoon, but it was absorbed on comparatively moderate setbacks. Prices turned upward early in the afternoon on reports that exporters were buying in the Memphis market for shipments to both Germany and Russia.

Buying of new crop months here for continental account was also reported on the advance which extended to 28.84 for March and 26.00 for October contracts, or about 60 to 82 points above yesterday's closing figures on the more active positions. There was realizing at these figures and offerings became a little heavier following reports that the Manchester conference had been adjourned until Monday. The highest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when the market appeared to be influenced by reports of optimism over reparations prospects in London and firmness in the stock market. A southwestern authority estimates present indications as pointing to an acreage increase of 34 per cent. Port receipts today were 8,626. U. S. port stocks 759,877. Exports today 5,084, making 4,405,335 so far this season.

Rio's Blind Parade City Streets.

By The Associated Press
RIO DE JANEIRO, March 6.—Hundreds of blind men, women and children marched in a parade through the business section of this city recently, in an effort to promote public interest in better educational and asylum facilities for blind people.

The marchers walked in groups holding each other by the hand. A band headed the parade, and many of the marchers carried banners tending to rouse popular sympathy.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

One main advantage of a stock or commodity exchange lies in its ability to forecast coming events. Many times companies are able to weather adverse factors in various trades because the market warned them.

Consider the position of the manufacturers of cotton goods. Last year the cotton market soared and futures in cotton were high, too.

This warned the dealer in cotton goods that there would probably be a shortage of cotton. Consequently he, in turn, was probably able to decrease the rate of consumption of cotton goods and to some extent stem the demand for cotton.

If there had been no exchange to warn of this impending shortage it is possible that there would have been a period when all of the cotton would have been used up, and there would have been none available until the new crop came in.

APPOINT RECEIVER FOR GRAIN COMPANY AT FREDERICK

Special to The Record News.
FREDERICK, Okla., March 6.—J. A. Mathis was appointed receiver for the Billingslea Grain company of this city by District Judge Frank Mathews at a hearing conducted in Frederick recently. The defunct Oklahoma State bank brought the action through the state banking commission. The receiver's bond was fixed at $1,000. Mathis is entered as an "assistant liquidating agent" of the bank and is to receive a salary of $200 a month from that institution but no fees, etc., from the Billingslea company.

At the time of the failure of the Oklahoma State bank it was believed that it would make a substantial payment to depositors, but to date they have received nothing.

W. W. MURPHY, Sheriff
Wichita County, Texas.

CITATION BY PUBLICATION.

The State of Texas, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Wichita county, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon M. O. Danciger, A. W. Jackson, A. E. Jackson, J. B. Jackson, J. R. Jackson, J. A. Hodges, E. C. Delong, E. C. De Long, J. E. Delong, J. E. DeLong, Spencer Vandeventer, Spencer Vandevanter, W. A. Wood and A. W. Major by making publication of this citation once in each week for four successive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your county, to appear at the next regular term of the 89th district court of Wichita county, to be holden at the court house thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas, on the 1st Monday in April A. D. 1924, the same being the 7th day of April A. D. 1924, then and there to answer a petition filed in the 78th district court on the 15th day of February A. D. 1924 and on the same day transferred to the 89th district court, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 15382-C, wherein J. W. Ginsburg and C. J. Bohner are plaintiffs, and A. W. Jackson, A. E. Jackson, J. B. Jackson, J. R. Jackson, J. A. Hodges, E. C. Delong, E. C. De Long, J. E. Delong, J. E. DeLong, Spencer Vandeventer, Spencer Vandevanter, W. A. Wood, A. W. Major, M. O. Danciger, Big Chief Oil company, a joint stock association, C. E. Basham, trustee, W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon are defendants, and said petition alleging that on September 29, 1919, the defendant M. O. Danciger executed to the defendants W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon a "fifty-fifty" drilling contract on an oil and gas lease covering the following land in Wichita county, Texas: South 1 acre of west 3 acres of east 6 acres of north 10 acres of south 20 acres of that certain 100-acre tract leased for oil and gas by Mrs. Lillis Morgan et al. to A. C. Parker and particularly described in said original oil and gas lease dated Feb. 17, 1919, and recorded in book 113 at page 476, Deed Records, Wichita county, Texas, which contract provided that the said W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon should drill one well on said premises at their own expense, and after completion of same and the payment of $10,000 to M. O. Danciger out of oil, said W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon should receive from said M. O. Danciger an assignment of an undivided one-half interest in said lease, and that thereafter the operating expense of said lease would be borne one-half by M. O. Danciger and one-half by W. J. and A. H. Sheldon. That said W. J. and A. H. Sheldon fully performed said contract and received said assignment and thereafter operated said lease for the joint account of themselves and the said M. O. Danciger up to about October 1, 1922, at a total and necessary cost of $11,651.14, half of which should have been and should be paid by the said M. O. Danciger, but no part thereof except the sum of $3,842.33 has been paid, leaving a balance of $1,683.24, which the said M. O. Danciger has failed and refused to pay; by reason whereof the said W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon acquired a lien upon the undivided half interest of the said Danciger to secure the repayment of said advances. That on the 24th day of May, 1923, said W. H. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon transferred to plaintiffs their said undivided one-half interest in and to said lease, and plaintiffs succeeded to all of the rights of the said W. J. and A. H. Sheldon and have since operated said lease at their own expense at a necessary cost to plaintiffs of $2,782.48, no part of which has been paid by anyone other than plaintiffs, and one-half of which, amounting to $1,391.24, should have been and should be paid by the said M. O. Danciger, who has failed and refused so to do. That on the 5th day of June, 1923, said W. J. Sheldon and A. H. Sheldon assigned in writing to plaintiffs their debt, lien and cause of action aforesaid for their said advances in the sum of $1,683.23 and plaintiffs are now the owner of same, and are entitled to recover of and from the defendant M. O. Danciger $3,078.48 and a foreclosure of their lien securing the same upon the undivided one-half interest of said oil and gas lease now owned or claimed by the defendant M. O. Danciger, and the other defendants. That all of the defendants claim some interest in or lien upon said undivided one-half interest, the exact nature of which is to plaintiffs unknown, but that said claims are without foundation and in any event are wholly inferior to the lien of plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs pray for judgment against the defendant M. O. Danciger for their debt, 3,074.48, and against all the defendants foreclosing their lien upon said undivided one-half interest in said oil and gas lease, leasehold estate, premises, well, equipment and appurtenances, and for general and special relief.

Herein fail not, but have before said court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 18th day of February A. D. 1924.

A. F. KERR, Clerk.
District Court Wichita Co., Texas.
(Seal) By W. Pickens, Deputy.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued by the clerk of the county court of Wichita county at law, on the 29th day of February, 1924, in a certain cause wherein L. L. Cowans, plaintiff, and M. A. Zeff, defendant, in which cause a judgment was rendered on the 1st day of February, 1924, in favor of the said plaintiff, L. L. Cowans, against said defendant, M. A. Zeff, for the sum of five hundred fifty-five dollars with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum from date of judgment, together with all cost of suit, I have levied upon, and will, on March 18, 1924, at the Electra Pipe and Supply company place of business in the city of Electra, Wichita county, Texas, within legal hours, proceed to sell for cash to the highest bidder, all the right, title and interest the said M. A. Zeff so had on the 19th day of October, 1923, in and to a certain junk yard, situated in the city of Electra, Texas, and operated by M. A. Zeff and Albert Zeff under the name

CHILDREN LIKE "TWIN" SERIES

Popular Books at Library In Demand By Kiddies

Children's stories of other lands are very popular at the library according to information received from Miss Lucia Powell, librarian, in regard to the juvenile circulation. Calls come frequently for books on other countries, and it is found that the stories that are in demand more than the others among children in the third grade or fourth, are the Twin Series, by Mrs. Lucy Fitch Perkins.

Mrs. Perkins did not stop with the stories of her books, but she made the drawings for her illustrations. Each book is filled with pictures that show just what she intended for her story to teach. This series explains vividly the life and conditions in countries whose children have come to form a numerous portion of our own population or in whose history America has a keen interest and to foster a kindly feeling and a deserved respect for the various nations.

"The Mexican Twins" is the story of Antonio Francisco Gomez, and his twin sister, Margarita Teresa Gomez. The life of the average Mexican child is made clear in this picturesque story.

To read the conversations between Jean and Jock "The Scotch Twins," is to read the real Scotish dialect. The mother of these two children died when they were only 10. They kept house for their father in the little gray home on a heathery hillside in the Highlands of Scotland. Their numerous adventures, the discovery of the cave, and the fishing will probably be the scenes appealing to members of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls.

Monie and Monnie are "The Eskimo Twins," they with their dogs, Nip and Nap, tell a true story of the north. The contrast in their lives and that of the American boy or girl has made this story popular with the children.

"The Japanese Twins," gives a correct picture of the best phase of Japanese home life. Taro and Take live in a dramatic atmosphere, and the little volume appeals to the dramatic tendency in children. The illustrations, including jinrikshas, fans, parasols and sand gardens are unique. Customs of the little people are made quite clear in this story.

For children who are interested in history, the story of the "French Twins" lays a background for the child's study in the subject, and makes a valuable supplement to the study of current events. The Foreign Legion the Battles of the Marne, Joffre's visit to the United States and other important events are closely connected in the lives of Pierre and Pierrette. This book is a war story of soldiers, trenches and battlefields, and it shows the necessary part played by the women, children and old people during the war.

THINGS YOU SAY, DO AND SEE AND SOME YOU DON'T

Paul Barnett is in Whitesboro where he was called by the serious illness of his mother.,

Curtis Covington of Alvord, who has until recently been at Burkburnett, was visiting in Wichita Falls yesterday. He is on his way to Marlin for spring baseball training.

Mrs. Alma Y. Miller, county clerk, returned Thursday from Shreveport where she was called as a witness in some court actions at that place.

John Davenport, local attorney, returned Thursday from Fort Worth where he has been on legal business.

George R. Monroe, a Dallas attorney, was in the city Thursday on legal business.

Mrs. Mary Rasco, a deputy collector in the office of County Tax Collector Guy Raley, has resigned her position and will leave soon for Houston to make her home. She has been an employee of the office for the last five years.

Dr. W. G. Harris of Plano is visiting his son, H. M. Harris, 1825 Lucille street for a few days.

OPEN MURPHY CASE IN 89TH

Sheriff Defendant In Suit For $10,000 Damages

The plaintiff rested Thursday afternoon with the understanding that one more witness was to be introduced in the case of Barney Johnson, a minor, who is suing Sheriff Murphy for $10,000 damages as the result of alleged false arrests, imprisonment and abuse suffered last October. The defense put one witness on the stand Thursday and will continue with the case after the plaintiff's remaining witness is introduced Friday.

In his petition the plaintiff, who said he was 16 years of age at the time of his arrest, sets forth that in October, 1923, officers came to his home on an Archer county lease in search of a brother-in-law wanted on a statutory charge. Failing to find the older man, the plaintiff alleges, the officers took him. On the stand Thursday afternoon the boy testified that he was locked in the main jail instead of in the juvenile ward, which his years warranted, and that as a result of action of the kangaroo court in the jail, he was forced to fight another prisoner. He holds that he was injured in the fight.

LAWTON MAN DROPS DEAD HERE

J. A. Smith, about 50 years old, tool dresser of Lawton, Okla., dropped dead while at work at the W. R. B. Machine and Tool company, 615 Wichita street, about 8 o'clock Thursday morning.

It was reported by officials of the company that Mr. Smith came to this city from Lawton Wednesday night to begin work at the W. R. B. company as a blacksmith. He began work Thursday morning, and after working less than an hour, he stepped back from his anvil and fell to the floor. Death was instantaneous.

A physician was called, and although he had not made a thorough examination, thought death was probably hastened by heart trouble. A fellow worker stated that Thursday morning the man had not complained of any ailment but remarked about having a pain in his right side.

Justice of the Peace R. V. Gwinn, was called to hold an inquest.

The body was forwarded to Lawton, the former home of Mr. Smith, by the Hines Undertaking company last night. Surviving him are his wife and six children, the oldest of which is 14.

C. H. Judd Plans Inspection Of Junior College

Dr. C. H. Judd, director of education in the University of Chicago and one of the foremost educators of the country, will be in Wichita Falls within a short time to make a study of proble s connected with the junior college in this city. Word was received here Thursday that Dr. Judd intended including this city in his tour of Texas points supporting junior colleges.

A complete study of the junior college problem is being made by Dr. Judd as a part of the Texas educational survey and is compiling material for his reports Dr. Judd will make visits to Hillsboro, Stephenville, San Antonio, Arlington, Fort Worth and other points.

It is not known just when he will arrive in Wichita Falls.

"MAKES YOUR DOLLARS HAVE MORE CENTS"

NEW WOMENS CLUB WILL BE ORGANIZED

A new woman's club will be organized today north of Burkburnett by Miss Georgia Lansford, county home demonstration agent. A beef canning demonstration will be given in connection with the organization.

Miss Lansford reports that since the first of the year, 14 whole beeves have been canned by members of the various women's clubs of the county and of this number, eight have been canned by Mrs. Casper Greyer of the Friberg community. A total of 1,400 cans have been obtained from the eight beeves she has put up.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nauseless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds, coughs, sore throat, and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the fi t step in the treatment is the nauseless calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old s le calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and colds and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One or two Calotabs at bed time, with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Genuine Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price 35c for the large, family package; 10c for the small, vest pocket size.—Adv.

JACKSON-JOHNSON JURY IS DIVIDED

A hung jury was reported Thursday night in the R. M. Johnson vs. J. L. Jackson suit when, after being out all afternoon, the jurors were dismissed for the day without having arrived at a verdict. They will convene again at 9 o'clock this morning to consider further.

The case was started Friday in the 89th district court before Judge P. A. Martin. The plaintiff is suing the defendant for $850 commission alleged to be due him for services rendered the defendant as a real estate salesman.

A number of special issues are involved in the case and at one time Thursday afternoon the jury came into court and asked for special instructions.

WHEN KIDNEYS HURT CONSULT YOUR DOCTOR

Drink Lots of Water All Day and Take Salts If Back Aches.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

ROTARY HEARS ENVOY SWARTZ

Says Australia Needs More People and Recommends It

"Australia is in need of people, and Rotary clubs should send fine young people there to populate that country," said Envoy E. Pauline Swartz, lecturer and evangelist of the Salvation Army, in an address on "Australia" to the members of the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp.

"Australia is a large continent, as large as the United States, with probably not more than 5,000,000 inhabitants. Two-fifths of that number live in the two largest cities of Sydney and Melbourne," she said. "Because of the extremely high duties on all materials that are shipped into that country, the cost of living is very high."

Envoy Swartz explained the resources of the country were such that more people could be kept there. In regard to manufacturing she declared that there was little, practically no manufacturing on the continent. More automobiles are sent to that country by the United States than by any other foreign nation, since the manufacturing of automobiles is practically unknown there.

"Australia is careful concerning the people she lets enter her boundaries. Rich people with foreign servants must give bond and guarantee that these foreigners will not make their homes permanently in that country.

"In Melbourne there are no slums. The poor districts are found, but the government officials will not allow certain classes of people to remain in that city."

In the introduction to her lecture, Envoy Swartz said, "When I go into a hotel and I look around, and when I see the wheel of a Rotary, I feel that I have protection enough."

A. H. Britain made a short talk in behalf of the art fund that the special art committee for the interior decoration of the junior college is trying to raise. The Rotarians voted to sell the property given by the Rotary club to the superintendent of schools during the boom, and it is now no longer in use, and give the proceeds to the art committee.

Harry Drummond of New York, who is writing a series of articles for the "Editor and Publisher," with which publication he is connected, explained the object of his visits over the country, securing information which will be of interest to buyers of advertising. He pointed out the fact that the information the buyers usually receive is merely statistics, which does not mean as much to them as detailed information concerning retail activities. Mr. Drummond has articles now appearing in the "Editor and Publisher," and the article he is preparing on Wichita Falls will appear within the next five weeks.

Reports were heard from the committees for the district Rotary conference to be held here April 2, 3 and 4.

Will Open School For Scoutmasters Here, March 17

This course is open to any man over 21 years of age, whether they want to become a scoutmaster at present or not.

There will be a complete exhibition of hike outfits handicraft, and nature study exhibits.

The course will be taught by a local physician and Field Scout Executive MacKeil and Scout Executive Creighton.

To File Complaints Against Three Youths

Complaints charging assault and battery are to be filed today against the three men who late Wednesday night caused considerable damage to the Manhattan cafe on Ohio avenue, it was announced Thursday by the county attorney's office. One of the three men was arrested by city police Wednesday night.

John D. Kostas, proprietor of the place, told officers Thursday that when he sought to quiet an argument the trio was having, all available cutlery, chinaware and other handy missels in the place were hurled at him. He was painfully bruised and considerable damage was done to the cafe.

SIX MASONS TAKE DEGREES

Red Cross and Malta Conferred Thursday On Candidates

At the regular meeting of the Wichita Falls Commandery, No. 59, Knights Templar at the Masonic temple Thursday night, the Red Cross and Malta degrees in full form were conferred upon Herbert Voelker, W. B. Baldwin, Harry Weldon, George Carl Wright, Robert White Hassell of Petrolia, and Van Leslie. The Red Cross degree was conferred by Captain General Leslie Stringer, and the Malta by Sir Knight George Lawler, acting eminent prior.

During the dinner hour, the Commandery was entertained by vocal selections by George Taylor who sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," playing his own accompaniment on a guitar. He answered the applause of the members by singing "There's a Land of Beginning Again."

Miss Glenore Fisk, playing her own guitar accompaniment, sang "Me and My Little Guitar," and by request sang "La Paloma." Miss Fisk with the Camp Fire Girls who served the meal sang a Camp Fire song for an encore.

A short talk was made by Mr. Drummond, a past grand commander of New York state, and inspector of commanders of the state. He told of the value of the work of the Commandery.

John Mills, a visiting commander from Dallas made a brief talk to the members.

Expect Decision Soon In Jaffe Appeal Case

A decision is expected soon from the court of civil appeals at Amarillo which is now considering the appeal of Harry Jaffe, against whom an $8,000 judgment was returned in July, 1922, after he had been sued on a statutory charge by Katy May Deckard. The arguments in the case were heard Wednesday, according to word reaching here.

PAVING OPERATIONS SHUT DOWN IN CITY

Paving operations throughout the city were shut down Thursday with the exception of work on the Indiana avenue repaving project. Workmen continued tearing out wooden blocks at the Sixth street end preparatory to putting in new curbing and gutter that will be necessary before the new bricks are laid.

Work on the Lamar street project between Fourth and Fifth was discontinued temporarily, the city engineer's office reported.
