WINTER'S TOY—Looking like a toy village one would expect to see by the side of a boy's model railroad layout, this is actually a few homes and an auto storage lot in Fort Scott, Kan., buried under 25 inches of snow. National Guard troops were called out to dig out Fort Scott in the wake of what weathermen call the most vicious storm to hit the area in years.

Leader Advertising Effective A Long Way From Home

Results from Wellington Leader advertising reach a long way—to the far northwest, Guy Bell, manager of Cicero Smith Lumber Company, found.

He advertised TV trays from his company's home supply department, and this reply he received from Mrs. Chester Cloyd, Route 1, Twisp, Washington, explains itself:

"I'm enclosing a clipping from The Wellington Leader. If you still have any of these left, I would like to have 8. I don't care if they are sets or not, just 8. If you will mail these to me and send me the bill, including postage, I'll send you a check in return, and greatly appreciate it".

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd have subscribed to The Wellington Leader since leaving here before World War II.

Planning Meeting to See If Steer Show Will Be Held

A planning meeting to determine if the public wants a Steer Show here before the annual Fat Stock Show in Amarillo has been called for Friday night, January 21, at 7:00 p. m. in the county court room.

There has been considerable sentiment during the last two or three years for such a show, County Agent J. W. Thomas said, and notices of the meeting have gone out to those whose interest in such a show is known.

It is a public meeting, however, and anyone interested is invited.

For several years, the Youth Project show has been held after the Amarillo event, and some of the calves have already left the county.

Mr. Thomas said that tentative plans are to exhibit the show calves on a Saturday afternoon preceeding the Amarillo event, for about two hours on the court house square.

"The boys feel they are putting too much money in their calves and must show them out of the county and sell at premium prices in order not to lose money", the county agent explained.

The show would be open to any boy or girl belonging to a 4-H Club or Future Farmer Chapter who is feeding a calf for show purposes.

Public Invited

Music Club to Present Hansel and Gretel Sun.

The Wellington Music Club will present a concert version of Humperdinct's opera, "Hansel and Gretel", at a silver tea Sunday afternoon, January 23, in the community building, beginning at 4:00 p m., Mrs. Charles Caldwell, club president, has announced.

The opera follows closely the traditional story of Hansel and Gretel, but the presentation is one that will appeal to both children and grown-ups, and those attending are urged to bring their youngsters.

The presentation Sunday is a "cut" version with the less important scenes omitted, thereby bringing it to about an hour in length. Although it is a concert version, sung by the adult members of the club, there will be costumes and stage properties.

Mrs. Jack Kopp, who is directing the opra, sings the role of Hansel, while Mrs. A. L. Elliott will portray Gretel. Mrs. Robert Lewis takes the father's part and Mrs. John Holton the mother. Mrs. William Barjenbruch will sing the role of the witch, who lures the children to her gingerbread house, and Mrs. Lawrence Warrick is the sandman who lulls them to sleep.

The girls chorus and dancers are Mary Beth Kelso, Nell Gholson, Ann Gholson, Ada Carol Thomas, Frankie Sue Campbell, Mary McCaskill, Janice Davis, LaVena Murdock, Linda Singley, Bette Elliott, Saundra Faulkner and Joyce Warrick.

Mrs. Clark Anderson will be the narrator.

"This is light opera, something that everyone can enjoy", Mrs. Kopp declared. "It is presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company each year at Christmas, and we feel that each of you will enjoy it, just as do those who hear it every holiday".

Celia Ray Anderson and Patricia Sullivan, talented young girls, will draw the back drop.

Mrs. Charles Caldwell, president of the club, and Mrs. Velman Warrick are in charge of the scenery.

In order to add interest to the production, each one attending will be presented a leaflet containing the words to the numbers sung.

Refreshments will be served following the opera.

Wellington to be Featured In Wichita Times Sunday

Wellington will be presented as a full-page feature in the Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, Sunday, January 23, Bill Shelton, state editor, told the Wellington Leader.

Mr. Shelton was here Monday, January 17, to collect material and pictures for the page, and to visit with a number of local firms.

Six hundred free copies of the paper are being distributed to homes in town early each morning, as part of the newspaper's promotion program for Wellington.

This is the second time Wellington has been used as a full-page feature by the Wichita Falls newspaper. Year before last, pictures were used exclusively. This time an effort is being made to present groups who were not included in the other feature.

Merchants Push Trade-at-Home Program, Expand Good Will Days

Wellington merchants put their approval on the Good Will Days each Saturday afternoon at 4:00 p. m.

The first drawing will be $50 in script, and if the first name picked is not present, drawing will continue until the script is given away.

The second drawing will be for $25. in script. This will be drawn for only once and if the name drawn is not present, it will be held over and added to the following Saturday's drawing.

In another major business promotion decision, the merchants voted to sponsor Dollar Day each month on the first Monday.

This will be a program in which each merchant will offer the buying public of Collingsworth county, and the surrounding area as well, top quality merchandise at substantial savings in price.

"This is not a plan for merchants to get rid of undesirable merchandise. We want to stress that" Mr. Parsons declared. "It is our opportunity to attract trade to Wellington and let the people see that what we have to offer is the same thing that the big-city stores are offering their customers".

Other members of the Chamber of Commerce committee working with Mr. Parsons to push through the Trade at Home program are George Shadid, Henry Sullivan, Jim Cochran, Ernest Lewis, Mack Saied, Jr., Luther Sullivan and J. C. Ward.

Merchants who have been participating in the Good Will Days Program include:

Trew, en route to Tulia, was driving alone when his car overturned on the slick pavement. He was thrown from the vehicle.

His leg is broken between the knee and hip, and he will be hospitalized at Plainview for some time yet.

April 15 is Deadline

Motor Vehicle Inspection Lagging Through State

AUSTIN, Jan. 15 (Spl.)—A lot of Texas car owners are apt to be mightly unhappy three months from today.

That was the opinion expressed last night by Co. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, after a conference with George Busby, Chief of the Safety Department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division.

A review of the motor vehicle inspection figures at the half-way point in the current inspection program showed the two officials that only 1 out of every 5 autos in the state have had their annual safety check as required by law.

"That means", Garrison said, "that a lot of Texas car owners are apt to be mighty unhappy three months from today because they won't be allowed to operate on the streets and highways without the proper approved inspection sticker".

The Public Safety Director also pointed out that the longer motorists delay, the longer will be the waiting line at the inspection stations as the April 15th deadline approaches.

A single note of encouragement was offered by Chief Busby who said that the State's nearly 4,000 inspection stations would be able to handle the inspection of some 2 1/2 million vehicles which have not yet been checked without prolonged waiting in line provided the owners begin taking their cars in without further delay.

Failure to secure the inspection by April 15th will subject motorists to a probable fine if they continue to operate their cars after that date.

Instruction for Students

Youth Center to Sponsor Weekly Square Dance

The Wellington Youth Center is sponsoring a series of square dance and folk dance sessions, along with instructions for boys and girls who desire it, during the winter months, R. T. Savage, adult Youth Center president, announced this week.

Savage conferred with other officers and student officers recently to determine how interest in Youth Center can be revived.

The first session will be Friday evening, January 21, from 7:30 to 10:30 p. m.

In addition, all regular games and other activities sponsored in the past by Youth Center will be continued, and boys and girls not caring to square dance will have an opportunity to participate in these.

There will be adult sponsors at all sessions, and a number of the areas better square dance callers and instructors are being contacted this week, Savage said.

Adult officers serving with Mr. Savage are Mrs. Alvin Horton, secretary; Mrs. Hook Elliott, equipment chairman, and Mrs. Frank Campbell, hostess chairman.

Appreciation, Honesty, Giving, Work

YOUNG FARMERS URGED TO APPLY BASIC PRINCIPLES OF LIVING

Advise of the sort not found in books or learned in the classroom was given out by Tom Britt, successful Wheeler-Hemphill county rancher, to Wellington's Future Farmers when he was their guest speaker at the annual Father-son banquet Monday night, January 17.

Early in his speech, Mr. Britt reminded the boys of the Biblical command that the land should rest one year in seven, just as man rests one day in seven.

Turning to the cardinal principles of manhood, the speaker told them that habit is a chain. "You weave a thread on it each day until it will not break", he said.

First of these principles he named as appreciation—the mutual appreciation of son for father and father for son. "Tell them you appreciate them. It will help", he advised.

Turning to honesty, he urged the boys to keep their word always, to live up to their promises, but to be wary of giving these promises they give. Breaking contracts he termed not honorable.

"Borrow no more than you can repay", he told the youths. "It's not good to run out on debts. Your needs are not the source of trouble with debt. Your wants are the source. Your banker is your friend. If you are turned down, check and see why. Maybe you are not reliable. Pay your debts. Don't life beyond your means.

"Too many young people think they should start out where your dads and mothers are now. We owe you only the chance to succeed.

"Give something", he told them as the third principle. "Don't take all the time". Causes of mental failure he named as failure to face realities, and failure to serve fellow man.

"Don't feel it is tough if you have to work hard", he advised as his next principle. "Work is hon-

FIGHT POLIO
GIVE GENEROUSLY
MARCH OF DIMES

We're Facing A Bigger Job Now

Prevention

March of Dimes Funds this year will help finance the research work that is being done and that must be done in the future. Sometime this spring we should know the results on the trial vaccine given almost one-half million children last year. March of Dimes Money helped finance this. If this is not the answer to our quest for polio prevention, we must try again, and again it would be March of Dimes Money that makes it possible.

Treatment

While science works to protect healthy children, those already stricken must have constant and expensive treatment. It must be given by experts. The equipment is costly – iron lungs, rocking beds, braces – for only with these things can the stricken overcome the crushing handicaps polio forces on them.

Released Acreage Allotments For Only One Season on Voluntary Basis

Regulations regarding acreage allotments that are not used in the 1955 crop year, but are turned back for the season to the county ASC committee, were explained more fully this week by Millard Brown, ASC secretary.

Any part of any 1955 farm acreage allotment which will not be used in 1955 and which is voluntarily released to the county committee by the applicable closing date shall be deducted from the farm acreage allotment and may be reapportioned by the county committee not later than the applicable closing date to other farms receiving farm acreage allotments in the same county in amounts determined by the county committee to be fair and reasonable on the basis of past acreages of cotton, land, labor and equipment available for the production of cotton, crop-rotation practices, and soil and other physical facilities affecting the production of cotton.

The State committee shall establish closing dates for purposes of the foregoing provisions for the entire State or for areas in the State if there is a substantial difference in planting dates for different areas in the State. The closing date so established for releasing farm acreage allotments shall be the date on which the planting of cotton normally becomes general on farms in the State or area, and the closing date so established for reapportionment of such released acreage to other farms in the same county shall be the latest date on which cotton can normally be planted on farms in the State or area with reasonable expectation of producing an average crop. If all of the allotted acreage voluntarily released is not needed in the county, the county committee may surrender the excess acreage to the State committee for reapportionment to counties as provided in ss 722.616 (g).

Any farm acreage allotment released for 1955 only shall, in determining future farm cotton acreage allotments, be regarded as having been planted on the farm releasing such allotments if cotton was planted on such farm in at least one of the years in the three-year farm base period, except that acreage released by the owner or operator of a new cotton farm will not be regarded as planted on such farm unless a part of such allotment is retained and cotton is planted on the farm in 1955.

Any part of any farm acreage allotment may be permanently released in writing to the county committee by the owner and operator of the farm, and reapportioned as provided in this paragraph. In determining future farm cotton acreage allotments, the planting in 1955 of reapportioned cotton acreage shall not be considered. For the purpose of determining future State and county acreage allotments, reapportioned acreage will be credited to the State and to the county in which such acreage was planted.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the county committee shall not accept a release of a farm acreage allotment permanently or for 1955 only if (1) such release is opposed by a person whom the county committee determines will subsequently have an interest in the farm as owner or operator, or (2) the county committee determines that the farm is being acquired for governmental or other public purposes.

Dodson Church Lists Schedule

The calendar of events for the South Baptist Church, Dodson, for the next quarter will include a Training Union Study Course, now planned for the first week in March, the Rev. Bill Hendricks, announced.

Later in the spring, there will be a Youth Week and a weekend retreat for young people.

Several special events may also be scheduled, the pastor said.

Study Churches At Prayer Services

Monday night prayer meetings at the South Baptist Church in Dodson during the coming weeks will include a series of studies of the various denominations, with emphasis on smaller groups, the Rev. Bill Hendricks, pastor, said.

The group has only recently completed a study of the beliefs of its own church.

"The churches in the new series will be discussed from a constructive and informative standpoint. It is not our purpose to be critical, but we do feel that the members should know what those of other faiths believe", Rev. Hendricks said.

Self Evaluation By School Maps Year's Progress

by Lorene Adcock

The Collingsworth County Teachers Association held its second meeting of the year at the Wellington High School on Wednesday afternoon, January 12th.

The meeting was presided over by the President, Mr. H. C. Yarbrough.

The problem taken up by the organization was: Accreditation and Self-Evaluation.

Dr. Emmett Smith from WTSTC at Canyon presented the subject through a verable discussion of the background of accrediation under the old system which was done by a committee of 30 school men in Texas who set rules and standards by which a school was accrediated.

He explained the present program by pointing up the new idea that has been developed during the past five years. That is for the teachers themselves to take a look at their own school and make a decision—Are we a good school?—Are we an accrediated school?—Also are we a poor school?—If so, what will we do to improve it?

He also pointed up that each teacher in the system would participate in the evaluation and that the final report to the Texas Education Agency, which is to be made by each Superintendent by next November 1st, would be somewhat of a progress report since the evaluation program deals with 12 major principles and only two of them are being given special attention this year.

An expression from the Supervisor and Superintendent of the county voiced the opinion that they were pleased to evaluate their own schools. The teachers also seemed to look forward to the evaluation with a great deal of anticipation, when materials arrive from Austin and the working machinery is really set up in the respective schools in the county.

Dr. Smith further stated that the extension course 451 in education, which is to be held here during next semester, will be centered around the problem of accrediation and self-evaluation.

Styling that's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

The styling spotlight blazes down on a low-cost car this year—for the Motoramic Chevrolet is stealing the show from the high-priced cars with its subtle sweep of line, the brilliant sophistication of its European-type grille, the bold rake of its deep-curved windshield.

And there's even more excitement in the way it drives—the velvety comfort of Glide-Ride front suspension and outrigger rear springs, the handling ease of Ball-Race steering, the flashing performance of the new 162-h.p. "Turbo-Fire V8" engine or the two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. All this—plus the extra-cost options of Powerglide or Overdrive and a full range of power assists. Try a 1955 Chevrolet—now—and you'll know why it is stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars.

HOW DO I PLAN FOR HOUSE HEATING?

Flue-vented heating keeps indoor air fresh, more healthful, more pleasant. Window sweating is reduced; moisture from combustion is eliminated. Flue-vented heating is recommended by Lone Star for residential installation.

If your furnace isn't the correct size, you'll never achieve comfort heating. Insist on expert engineering... on a heating system designed to deliver the correct amount of heat at proper intervals in exactly the right places.

A furnace without a good duct system is like a fine automobile engine in a pushcart. Plan for installation by experienced, reliable personnel. Luckily for most homeowners, new gas central furnaces are compact — fit in small closet areas or in attics.

Here's a good way to judge a heating system! Modern flue-vented perimeter gas heating systems actually put heat in the floors. Children can play with less danger of catching colds. Chilly feet become a thing of the past. "Toe-tucking" days will be over!

There are only ten more days in which to pay for poll tax.

It is an off year, but there are always the city and school elections and generally some special election such as a bond issue on which you really do want to vote.

The time is growing very short in which to have your car inspected and get your current sticker. Less than a third of the cars have been inspected up to the present time, and it is doubtful if all the rest can be accommodated.

This is the year that farmers as well as engineers, accountants, and a lot of other people will go under social security for the first time. Perhaps you would like to know how this will affect you. First you pay 3 per cent of your net income up to $4,200. On amounts above that you do not pay and you receive no benefits above the maximum. What are the benefits? Well, suppose that your net income is $3,600 a year. At the age of 65 a farmer and his wife will start drawing $147.80 a month. If he dies before 65 and she is left with one child under 18 the payment will be the same. When the child reaches 18 her payments will drop to $73.90. You can get forms at the post office and the nearest social security office is in Amarillo, but for the first year it might be wise to get a tax expert to help you fill out your forms. Furthermore you must have a birth certificate to qualify for social security benefits.

Went to a most interesting picture show Monday night prepared by the Purina company and shown by Singley Mill. It concerned the digestive system of a cow. They had cut a hole in the side of a Holstein and inserted a glass window through which pictures of the digestive process were taken. One question most frequently asked was did it affect the health of the cow. Evidently not, she has had calves since the first pictures were made and is still giving plenty of milk.

There is a story in this issue of The Saturday Evening Post that every American ought to read, and if you agree with it send a copy to your senator and congressman. It concerns the brainwashing that the Communists give our helpless military men who are their prisoners. It is writtne by Real Admiral D. V. Gallery of the United States Navy.

Admiral Gallery charges that our present military regulations say that a prisoner may state his name, rank and serial number, but beyond that he must clam up and endure whatever ungodly tortures the communist devils inflict on him. As far as the regulations go, anything more can bring public disgrace when and if he ever gets home.

The Admiral further says: All through the whole stinking record of brainwashing in Korea, one thing stands out like a sore thumb. What the Reds were after was propaganda such as germ-warfare confessions and peace appeals. Any military information they picked up was a by-product. As a solution he suggests that we tell the world, that, hereafter, captured GI's will confess to any and all charges. But that is only a small part of his article. If you want to get thoroughly ashamed and angry, get a Post and read the whole story. Then mail it to your Congressman and Senator.

Quail Couple Joins Oklahomans in Observing Double Wedding Anniversary

by Mrs. G. T. Stephens

While a double wedding is rare, it is even more unusual for these couples to observe their thirtieth, or pearl, wedding anniversary together, but Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gollihugh of Quail and the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Squyres of Oklahoma City were able to do that December 21, when they met at Lawton, Oklahoma

Mrs. Gollihugh and Rev. Squyres are brother and sister.

This pearl anniversary was observed in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Squyres, parents of Rev. Squyres and Mrs Gollihugh, and with a sister and brother-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Clyde Littlefield. The Squyres family formerly lived here.

The couples were married at the Lillie Baptist Church December 21, 1924, in a double ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Gollihugh have made their home at Quail, with the exception of four years in Oklahoma. Rev. and Mrs. Squyres have lived in Oklahoma City.

The anniversary luncheon was a Mexican meal, and the afternoon was spent visiting and recalling earlier years of their marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Gollihugh have eight children: W. A. (Dub), John, Billy, Betty Lou, Peggy, Larry, Evon and Paul.

Rev. and Mrs. Squyres have one son the Rev. Gerald Squyres of California, and two adopted children, Melva Joyce and Ray, who were the children of Rev. Squyres sister and were taken on her death. There are also four grandchildren.

Mrs. Gollihugh was before her marriage Miss Pearl Squyres and was born in Fisher County. Mr. Gollihugh was born in Oklahoma and came to the Salt Fork Community in Collingsworth County when he was a year old.

Mrs. Squyres was Miss Luna Lowe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowe of Wellington. The family lived at Jacksboro before coming here.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I see where the National Labor Relations Board has ruled that there is not any corporate sin being committeed if an auto manufacturer fires a hired hand who insists on buying some other make of car.

It looks like the common people are just losing one freedom after another these days. Our self-rated betters are telling us how much we have got to lay aside for a rainy old age, how much corn to plant, and that the nudists' art magazines are not good for our souls. And now a big employer is being backed up by the government labor board in doing away with a man's freedom to undermine his own job by trading with his boss' competitor if he wants to.

I hope this new type of freedom-tampering don't trickle down into this area any time soon. Friend of mine in another town has got a very good job cooking in a restaurant, but if the boss made him eat there he would have to quit because he knows what he puts into the stuff.

FIGHT POLIO
Give to the MARCH OF DIMES

It's A Bigger Job

The March of Dimes is facing its biggest job. It pays the cost of current Polio victims who need help. . It pays for research that must go into finding a preventive for infantile paralysis. That's why, more than ever, we need your contributions to the March of Dimes.

Half Your Money Stays Here

That's right. One-half of every dollar. . . of every dime. . . you give, stays here in Collingsworth County. Judging from the past few years it is likely we will have one or more cases of Polio this year. When you give to the March of Dimes, you will be helping some Collingsworth boy or girl. The other half of your dollar goes to the National Fund, and that, too is available when County funds run out.

Our Quota - To Top Last Year

There's no quota. . . except to top last year's drive. That will be a big job, but we're counting on the people of Collingsworth to respond.

Public Schools – The Citizen's Trust

It has often been said that the public schools belong to the people. The statement implies that the people have rights and responsibilities to their schools.

On one hand, they have the right to determine policies relative to curriculum and construction of new schools. On the other hand they are responsible for supporting schools with necessary financial and moral assistance.

These rights are exercised and responsibilities carried out through duly elected school boards. These officers should be the most carefully selected of all public officials. They should be the best qualified persons available—genuinely interested in improving education.

The school board stands between the school personnel and the people. Therefore, the board has the obligation of keeping people informed not only of the needs of the public school, but of the good work the schools are doing.

School personnel are charged with actual operation of the schools. All three —the people, the school board and the teachers—should understand and respect each other's role in public education.

Proper control of public schools demands knowledge and understanding. While the schools tell the people what they are doing and why, there are other means by which the facts can be obtained—through a citizens educational advisory committee which deliberately sets out to study school problems and makes recommendation to the school board that are based on fact.

Taxpayers should be honest and sincere in searching for facts and in presenting suggestions. Those desirous of improving education will be alert to those who look for and magnify objectionable features, or what they think are objectionable features.

They will be on guard, watching for those who have a personal axe to grind and demand that school teachers not teach certain things. They will be especially vigilant for those who would undermine the public schools or destroy them while pretending to be acting in their best interests.

Most Americans want good schools. But good schools cost money; take a lot of planning and study; plenty of though! And like any other community-wide institution or project, we the taxpayers, get out of our schools—just about what we put into them.

Non-Advertiser Does Injustice To Self

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole half, or even a quarter page ad in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a two-line space.

A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town.

The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own, is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising man.

Drivers Should Check Auto Lights

Danger must be seen to avoid it and motorists should get lighting equipment on their vehicles in proper shape for the increasing hours of darkness that will be with us during the next few months.

Every vehicle operator should make sure that all lights are working properly; have headlights checked for correct aiming, and keep all lights clean.

Burned out, improperly aimed lights or those covered with dirt not only are no good to the driver of the automobile or truck, but can actually create a real menace and hazard to other drivers.

Improperly aimed lights can blind oncoming traffic, which in turn can ram the offending vehicle, or can create a fatally false impression in approaching drivers of the direction the on-coming vehicle is traveling. One headlight out can cut down on visibility and confuse other drivers, leave blind spots in which pedestrians or parked vehicles can't be seen.

Correctly functioning lights give maximum visibility, but even the best isn't nearly as good as natural sunlight. For this reason, drivers should reduce speed to be able to stop within the distance they can see danger under reduced visibility conditions.

Few drivers realize how much a clean windshield helps in safer and easier night driving. A film of dust hardly noticeable in daylight not only cuts down visibility after dark but diffuses headlight beams of approaching vehicles and makes a blinding opaque screen which may make a driver totally unable to see the road.

Then, remember to show common sense and dim your lights for approaching traffic. And it's highly dangerous to get mad when the other fellow doesn't dim his lights and flash yours back on bright. That can result in two "blinded" drivers and lead to a terrific collision. If one can see, that's at least 50 per cent better than neither being able to see the other.

LABOR SECRETARY MITCHELL

WASHINGTON. D. C.—One of the most important goals of education should be the bringing about of mutual understanding and respect between the two productive forces in our economic system—capital and labor, employers and employees. The final success of the Communist-Socialist effort to undermine and eventually overthrow our American system depends upon the success of their unrelenting effort to creat constant civil war between the employees and employers of America. Throughout the world the they have used this area of conflict as their entering wedge of destruction.

The problem has been a focal point of my interest for years. In our work at Harding College and in my various activities with the National Education Program the improvement of employee - employer relations has been a principal objective. The question of ways and means to expand the gains made in recent years in labormanagement relations was on my mind as I was ushered into the oak-panelled office of Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell. It is a baronial-sized room and the Secretary fits it; he is a big man with thickdark hair and the powerful shoulders of a pro-football fullback.

AUTHORITY ON SUBJECT

Secretary Mitchell came from behind his big desk with warm cordiality. At his suggestion we seated ourselves in comfortable leather-upholstered chairs out on a relatively quiet Washington street. As we talked he was completely relaxed. I knew that he could discuss labor management relations from vast experience and with authority; for, as one of the nation's topnotch employee-relations men for 20 years, he had achieved great success in industry and in such big department stores as New York's Macy's and Bloomingdale's.

He readily agreed that one of the great goals this nation must set itself, if it is to be secure in a world whirling in Socialism and Communism, is mutual understanding and respect between employees and employers in the business and industrial world. He considers the problem to be one dealing with a "human equation". We cannot legislate good labor relations, he said. "They begin not in a government building in Washington or some state capital but at the local plant level".

HUMAN RELATIONS

But what specifically could be done at the local plant? "Well", said Secretary Mitchell, "if, for instance, management generally would pay more attention to the quality of its supervision in the field of human relations, instead of relying on legal talent to untangle the knots caused by poor human relations, the results would be beneficial. I have found in my associations and experiences that the American working man is a good American, an dif he thinks management is right he will assert this feeling".

Thus if management is giving the working man a square deal, if its relationship with its employees is good, and if it communicates the pertinent facts about its business problems to its employees, they will usually react reasonably, the Secretary of Labor believes. He recognizes that the desired climate of harmony is agitated in some instances by Communists and Socialists who seek to create unrest among employees and cripple the working of the American system. Management can combat this, through the communication of facts—where mutual respect exists.

Education means developing the mind, not stuffing the memory.

The driver who speeds along at 85 is literally killing time.

A boy seldom inherits his bad habits from his father—father usually hangs on to all he has.

...and the biggest bargain in your budget today is your electric service. The fact is that West Texas families get almost twice as much electricity per dollar today as they did twenty years ago. For mere pennies a day electric service helps you live better, feel better, play better, work better. Just a few examples:

For about a nickel you can refrigerate all your food for a whole week end. Hot water is always on tap for just a few pennies' worth of electric service. Television is enjoyed by one and all for just a few cents of electric power a day. Everything comes out clean in the family wash for just pennies of electric service.

And all this low-cost electric service is right at your finger tip...around the clock. Usually bargains don't come this easy, or this big. No wonder everybody loves this bargain...ELECTRIC SERVICE.

Patterned after the "dream car" first displayed at the General Motors Motorama, Chevrolet's Nomad station wagon is now in production. This adds a fifth station wagon to the 1955 Chevrolet line. It reflects, the company says, a strong demand for a "different" styling in this type of car.

Washington Teams Continue Active Cage Schedule

The Washington Panthers and Pantherettes are continuing their basketball play, competing in matched games and tournaments.

Two victories and one loss have been chalked up by the Panthers in matched play. January 3, they defeated Childress 62 to 40, then on January 5 lost to Borger a tight 67 to 65. They came back, however, and on January 12 won over Memphis 49 to 45.

The Pantherettes also have won two and lost one. In their January 3 contest with Childress, they were losers 56 to 21, but in the Borger game they took a one point victory, 26 to 25. Their game with Memphis was a 28 to 15 win.

The two teams participated in the Pampa Invitation Tournament January 8. The boys were defeated in their first game by Shamrock, then lost in the consolation game to Borger. The Pantherettes defeated Pampa and Shamrock only to lose to Plainview in the finals. This, however, brought them second place trophy.

In the Hollis tournament January 15, the boys defeated Fredrick and Hollis and went into the finals with Altus, where they lost. The girls defeated Hollis girls by a score of 25 to 24.

Stockman Buy 2,857,220 Pounds Emergency Feed

County farmers have received purchase orders for 2,857,220 pounds of grain under the emergency feed program, Millard Brown, ASC secretary, reported this week after the latest check had been made.

The emergency status of the county means these 261 farmers and livestock men who have participated in the program have saved $28,572.20 on that amount of feed, since the holders of purchase orders buy the grain at $1.00 per hundred less than the market price, and the feed dealers are reimbursed for this amount by the federal government.

Most of the buyers now are getting their grain in sweet cake, a mixture which not only includes the grain, but also sufficient soybean and cottonseed meal to bring the protein content up to government specifications. Reimbursement is based on the grain content per ton of cake, either 1200 or 1500 pounds.

Reviewing briefly the procedure by which a livestock owner may get emergency feed, Mrs. Betty White of the ASC office explained that application is made through the FHA office and approval is given by the FHA committee composed of Roy Thomason, S. H. Manuel, and A. S. Whitson. The application then goes to the ASC office, which issues the purchase orders.

"SHORTY" GOES TO COLLEGE—Long after "Shorty" has passed on to the world of steaks and roasts, he'll be remembered with fondness on the campus of some agricultural college. The 1100-pound Aberdeen Angus grand champion steer of the recent International Livestock Exposition at Chicago, Ill., brought $15 a pound at auction, second all-time high price. Janice Hullinger, 16, of Manly, Ia., who is shown with Shorty, plans to use her $16,650 purse to send her three brothers to college.

Coleman to State Farm Bureau Meeting in Waco

County Farm Bureau President Wood Coleman of Dozier has been invited to attend a special statewide county president's conference January 24-26 in Waco, according to Riley Dunson, publicity chairman for the county organization.

Purpose of the conference is to permit county presidents to express their opinions on what can be done to make the Texas Farm Bureau more effective in serving farmers and ranchers, the publicity chairman said. Every phase of Farm Bureau activity will be examined.

In a letter to the county president, TFB President J. Walter Hammond said: "With your help and cooperation, this can well be the most important and far-reaching meeting of the year for furthering the development and growth of the Texas Farm Bureau".

The conference is the first of its kind ever called by the state farm organization. According to County President Wood Coleman it will be a work-shop, committee-type meeting, with attendance limited exclusively to county Farm Bureau presidents.

Major subjects to be discussed at the Waco meeting include organization structure, administration, membership acquisition, policy development, policy execution, service to members, public relations and special activities.

The county president expressed the belief that the important meeting would be the "spring-board" for the Texas Farm Bureau to make tremendous gains in membership. The TFB now has 55,670 members out of a potential of about 300,000.

Farm Bureau membership acquisition efforts in 51 counties in Texas will be given a "shot in the arm" at a state-wide captains' meeting February 7 in Lubbock, according to Riley Dunson, publicity chairman of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau.

Purpose of the one-day meeting at the Lubbock Hotel is to give recognition to the voluntary membership leaders who will mastermind membership campaigns during the Spring months. A similar meeting will be held September 22 in Austin for the counties which hold Fall membership drives.

Speakers at the Lubbock meeting will include J. Walter Hammond, Waco, president of the Texas Farm Bureau; and Roger Fleming, Washington, D. C., secretary - treasurer of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Attendance at the meeting is limited exclusively to county membership chairmen and community membership captains. Door prizes will be given at the meeting.

The state-wide Spring Round-up of members will be February 14-19, with drives set for kickoffs on February 14 where possible.

Counties planning Spring drives include: Childress, Collingsworth, Deaf Smith, Donley, Hall, Lipscomb, Randall, Wheeler, Bailey, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, and Yoakum.

Ferguson Dealers See New Models At State Meeting

Lawrence Warrick and Dewey Barker of the Warrick Machinery Co. took a good look into the future of farming methods when they attended a Ferguson dealer's meeting recently at San Antonio, Tex.

Mr. Warrick has returned prepared to tell farmers of Collingsworth County of the new and exclusive features of a new model Ferguson tractor reportedly years ahead of its time.

The new model introduced at the dealers meeting revealed the results of more than three years of research by Ferguson engineers. They have incorporated into this tractor inventions and combinations of features that have long been wished for by the farmers, but never before offered by any manufacturer.

Some of these inventions are fully as spectacular as Ferguson's introduction of the original 3-point hitch and hydraulic draft control system, the dealer reports. Mr. Warrick will introduce the new tractor to local farmers as soon as his initial shipment arrives.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS

BY CHARLES LITTLE JR.

Singley Mill & Elevator

On Monday night it was our pleasure to show to some of the folks of Collingsworth County a new film that Purina has just released. It is the most remarkable motion picture ever produced. It's the amazing new "Rumen Story," a 26 minute color sound movie actually filmed inside the stomach of a cow.

This new film shows for the first time such inside shots as: food entering the cows stomach, salivary glands at work, micro organism attacking roubhage, water gulped into the rumin, plus the birth of a burp.

Rumin research is not new. Scientists have used various methods in testing rumin activity. More than two years ago, openings were made in the sides of healthy, living cows and steers at the Purina Research Farm.

These openings made it possible to take actual samples from the rumin, or paunch for further study. By studying this bacterial action Purina research men are able to formulate proper supplements to feed these bacteria that do the heavy work in the rumin and help get the most meat, milk and wool from your grain an roughage.

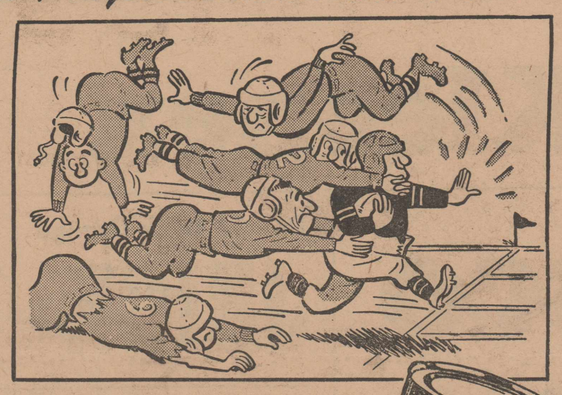

Scientists in agricultural experiment stations and colleges and commercial research laboratories have been and will continue to work toward a solution to all the mysteries of rumin nutrition. This never ending research with live animals in laboratories feed lots and research farm points to the ultimate goal of all scientists engaged in this fascinating task to develop better feeds and feeding practices for all livestock and dairy farmers.

Those present at the meeting were J. W. Thomas, John Coleman, Deskins Wells, Mr. and Mrs. John Brim, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Mauldin, Richard and Charles, L. A., Mike and Glenn Gilmore, John Wolf, V. K. Orr, J. D. Crooks, Dwane Scott, R. L. Maberry, Winfred Dollar, Forrest Lemley, Frank Thomason, John Jackson, E. F. Bartlett, Bill Davis, J. W. Martin Jr. and Hoyt Langley.

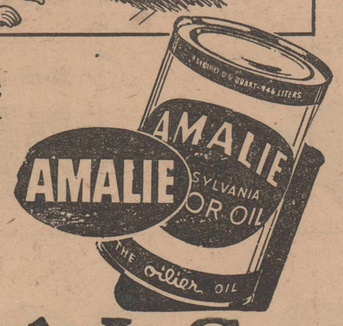

Prizes were awarded to Glenn Gilmore, R. L. Maberry and Dwane Scott.

—and so are some motor oils! MADE better by Old Mother Nature. Made tough. Tough enough to stay up on that cylinder wall, at any normal engine heat — keep hot steel from grinding away steel. No matter what "detergents" are added to that oil, to help it keep gummy sludge out of those ring-grooves, it's the OIL that has to keep those hot moving parts A-P-A-R-T. Will YOUR oil do that?
