Bids for Water and Sewer Work Tentatively Accepted

Accepted subject to revision were some $170,000.00 worth of construction work by the City Council of Eldorado in a long Tuesday afternoon session.

The usual bugaboo—rising costs of labor and material—caused bids to be higher than had been estimated some months ago, and city engineers are revising some of their specifications and the bids which were provisionally accepted Tuesday will most likely be officially accepted next Thursday with revisions.

Accepted on this basis were: Bid for chlorinator from the San Antonio Machine and Supply Co., for $1,916.00.

Bids for two water pumps from Fairbanks - Morse of Dallas; one for $1,595.00 and one for $1,304.00. Bid for steel storage reservoir of 500,000 gal. capacity went to Texarkana Tank and Bridge Co., for $25,890.00.

For water distribution system and sewer collection system, bid went to Joe Bland Construction Co. of Austin for $120,545.00.

Bid for pump station to J. C. Truchart of San Antonio for the sum of $24,883.00.

Total of the above bids comes to $176,133.00, which will be revised downward.

In addition to these figures there was a bid of $9,426.55 for water and sewer lines in the Page and Derrick addition, which they will pay for themselves.

It is understood that work will be started soon after final acceptance next week.

LIONS CLUB MEETS

O. C. Fisher, Congressman from the 21st district, was speaker at yesterday's Lions club meeting. He discussed the Suez canal issue and how it affects American actions in that area and the Middle East. He was introduced by E. C. Hill.

Touching briefly on the last session of Congress the Congressman pointed out that while this was a free-spending Congress the budget was balanced for the first time in five years.

Charlie Trigg presided. Next week's meeting will feature a Humble film on conference highlights of '55. Charlie Trigg will be in charge.

County To Get New Pick-Up

Peters Chevrolet Co. was low bidder when county commissioners met last week to consider bids on a new half-ton pickup for the county. At a previous meeting the court voted to replace the 1949 Chevrolet pickup owned by the county.

BAND PARENTS TO MAKE PLANS TO RAISE FUNDS

The project of raising money for taking care of the expenses of the football banquet has been taken over by the Band Mothers Club, and the members are already at work planning methods.

Immediate projects were selling of cakes for dessert Tuesday night at the PTA picnic, and taking charge of the concession stand at the Junction game.

As there is no pep squad this year, the football banquet and dance, which they had previously financed, must be financed through another organization, and the Band Mothers have assumed this task.

The club, which has been operating for a number of years under a semi-inactive status, met in call session Monday night to make plans for the future. Mrs. Gus Love was elected chairman and Mrs. James Williams, Mrs. W. A. Van Dusen and Mrs. Hazel Thompson were chosen as a telephone committee.

Two were appointed to talk with the school board concerning the possibility of purchasing more band uniforms for the growing band, and to buy new caps for the band members. It has been estimated that there might be 75 in the marching band if uniforms were available.

Miss Hawkins Addresses County H. D. Women

Miss Eudora Hawkins of the Public Relations department of West Texas Utilities of Abilene, was guest speaker Sept. 10 for the H. D. council meeting.

Primary interest was in explaining the constitutional amendments to be voted on in November. The eight amendments were read, then stated in the simplest of descriptive words and given full treatment of pro and con arguments.

Council members will give the same program to home demonstration clubs and it is hoped that each club member will in turn explain the amendments to at least three voters.

A local guest speaker was Mrs. J. P. Montgomery who presented some inspiring thoughts on "Why America Remains Free," in preparation for the 169th anniversary on Sept. 17 of the Constitution of the United States of America.

A copy of Mrs. Montgomery's talk will be given to every club member and will be read at each club meeting.

MRS. MABEL PARKER GETS STATE OFFICE AT ASSN. MEETING

Mrs. Mabel Parker, treasurer of Schleicher County, was elected third vice president of the County Treasurers' Association of Texas Saturday in San Antonio. Mrs. Parker had been on several committees since the establishment of the organization eight years ago, and during the past year had been on the influential Board of Directors.

The eighth annual conference of the Association, composed of all 254 counties of the State of Texas, was in session during the weekend in San Antonio, at the Hilton Hotel. Mrs. Parker, who has attended all sessions of the conference since its organization, returned home Sunday.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Constance McDavid, Houston, first vice president; Clyde Bostick, Lamesa, second vice president; Mrs. Neva McGregor, Corpus Christi, secretary-treasurer.

Telephone Expansion Project Under Way Now In Eldorado

Two telephone equipment expansion projects have just begun in Eldorado, Ted Maxwell, district manager for General Telephone Company of the Southwest, said today.

One of the projects involves the addition of dial switching equipment which will expand the capacity of the Eldorado dial plant by about 10%. Fifty lines of dial equipment will be installed in the dial office here.

With the additional dial equipment, the Eldorado office is expected to be large enough to provide for the needs of the town until the end of 1958, Maxwell stated.

Another project underway is the installation of equipment to make it possible for operators in some 6,000 cities and towns throughout the nation to dial Eldorado telephone numbers without the assistance of a San Angelo operator. By eliminating the necessity of a San Angelo operator handling a distant operator-dialed call to Eldorado, long distance service to Eldorado will become faster.

Total cost of the two projects will exceed $10,000, Maxwell estimated. The projects are scheduled to be completed in September.

Goodfellow Open House Is Scheduled Saturday

The annual open house for kids 8 to 10 will be held this Saturday, Sept. 22nd at Goodfellow AFB, it is announced this week.

Scheduled for 8 to 12, the open house will feature conducted tours, displays, and an aerial show. Refreshments will be served.

County Tax Valuations Go Over $15 Millions

This week as county tax collector's office assembles all its figures in preparation for tax collecting on October first it is revealed that a new milestone has been reached. Tax valuations for Schleicher are now over $15 million.

The total valuations as given in the tax collector's office yesterday come to $15,104,256—a jump of nearly half a million over last year, when total was $14,651,094.

The significant thing about the new valuation is that Texas law requires that an auditor must be employed in all counties where valuations exceed $15 million. At just what date the law will be invoked for this county will be up to District Judge Joe L. Mays, who is charged with the responsibility of making the appointment. County Judge Bearce reported that a ruling would be forthcoming in the near future. Another problem for the county would be to provide office space for a new county official—the Schleicher court house is already crowded.

In 1950 the total taxable valuation for the county was about $6½ million. It went over $10 million in 1952, and passed $12 million in 1953.

The year 1954 added 2 more million to put it up to above $14 million. Workers in the collector's office estimate that there will be another jump of at least $1½ million next year.

New oil fields and new pipe lines account for the increase since 1950.

Tougher Competition In Store For Eagles Friday

The Eldorado Eagles, who opened their football season on September 7th against the somewhat gentle San Felipe Mustangs from Del Rio, and then drew an open date on Sept. 14th, will go tomorrow night to Big Lake where they will encounter tougher competition in the Reagan County Owls.

HUNDREDS ATTEND BIG P.T.A. PICNIC TUESDAY NIGHT

A crowd of between 500 and 600 teachers, friends, students and parents met on the courthouse lawn Tuesday night for the first P. T. A. program of the year—an old fashioned picnic and get-together. For the picnic, the crowd divided into groups according to the grades in school. The Senior class sold soft drinks and coffee, and the Band club sold cakes and cookies.

After the picnic everyone gathered around the High School Band for a program. Mrs. Gus Love was the leader for the program. Students from each class introduced their teachers and sponsors, and the room counts were given. Winners of the room awards were: Mrs. Jack Jones 2nd grade, Mrs. Elton Donelson, 4th grade, the seventh grades and the Freshmen and Sophomores tied in high school.

The new room awards for the elementary grades were shown. They are felt pennants for each month with a symbol appropriate for the month, and will be kept by the classes winning them during the year. The money awards will still be given to the Junior High and High School classes. It must be understood that only P. T. A. members can count in this contest for these room awards, and the following points are given—mother one point; father, 2 points; grand mother, 3 points; grand father, 4 points.

Recognition was made of the Constitution of the United States since this is the 169th anniversary of its adoption.

The band and pep squad made up the remainder of the program with their music and cheers.

It was announced that the October program will be "We the people support our teachers" and will present information on the forthcoming teacher legislation to be voted on in November.

It was announced that 45 new members have registered since the opening day of school. This brings the total enrollment in the P. T. A. unit up to 309.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Mund were their daughter Jane, teacher in the Corpus Christi school system, and their son Jack, who received his wings in graduation services at Laredo recently. Jane and Mr. Mund attended the graduation.

ELECTRIC CO-OP HAS GROUP MEET FOR LINEMEN

Line Superintendents and Line Foremen of Group 4 of the Electric Co-Ops held a regular conference here Tuesday morning, with the local employees hosts to the visitors. Present were nine visitors, and local employees, Don McCormick, manager, Elton McGinnis and Clifford Schooley.

The meeting was under direction of Otto Wood, of the Texas Extension Service. The Southwest Texas Electric Co-Op entertained the visiting delegation with dinner at a local cafe.

Henry Speck Jr., who has been at home with a serious leg break, returned to work this week, after absence from duty since April 4.

O.I.I.C. COMMITTEE MEETS

Several from here attended the Oil Industry Information area committee meeting in Midland Tuesday of this week. These were George Cales, chairman; C. O. Dewey, vice chairman; Joe Andrews, school chairman and Mrs. Joe Kreklow, women's chairman. Mrs. Cales accompanied the group and visited with her brother and his wife in Midland.

Plans for the essay contest were discussed. The local Lions club will again put up a $25 bond for the first prize in the high school. On the area level $500, $300, and $200 scholarships will be given.

Post Script

Schleicherites are used to the idea of being an oil county. Eldoradoans are accustomed to seeing the smoke from the Huldale Fields at all times—and the glare which lights up the sky alarms no one.

Not so the passing motorists! One of these got so upset the other night when he saw the smoke and the glare from the fires of Huldale that he turned in the fire alarm in Eldorado!

The publisher had some business that needed looking after in Ruston, La., so closed the shop Thursday and Friday and made the trip there and back in two days. The publisher and wife and son Bill—the crew in other words—enjoyed the trip, and especially enjoyed the greenery of eastern Texas and Louisiana, with the tall pines and other growing things of that part of the country.

Cotton is coming in pretty regularly these days. The local gin reported 290 bales Monday evening.

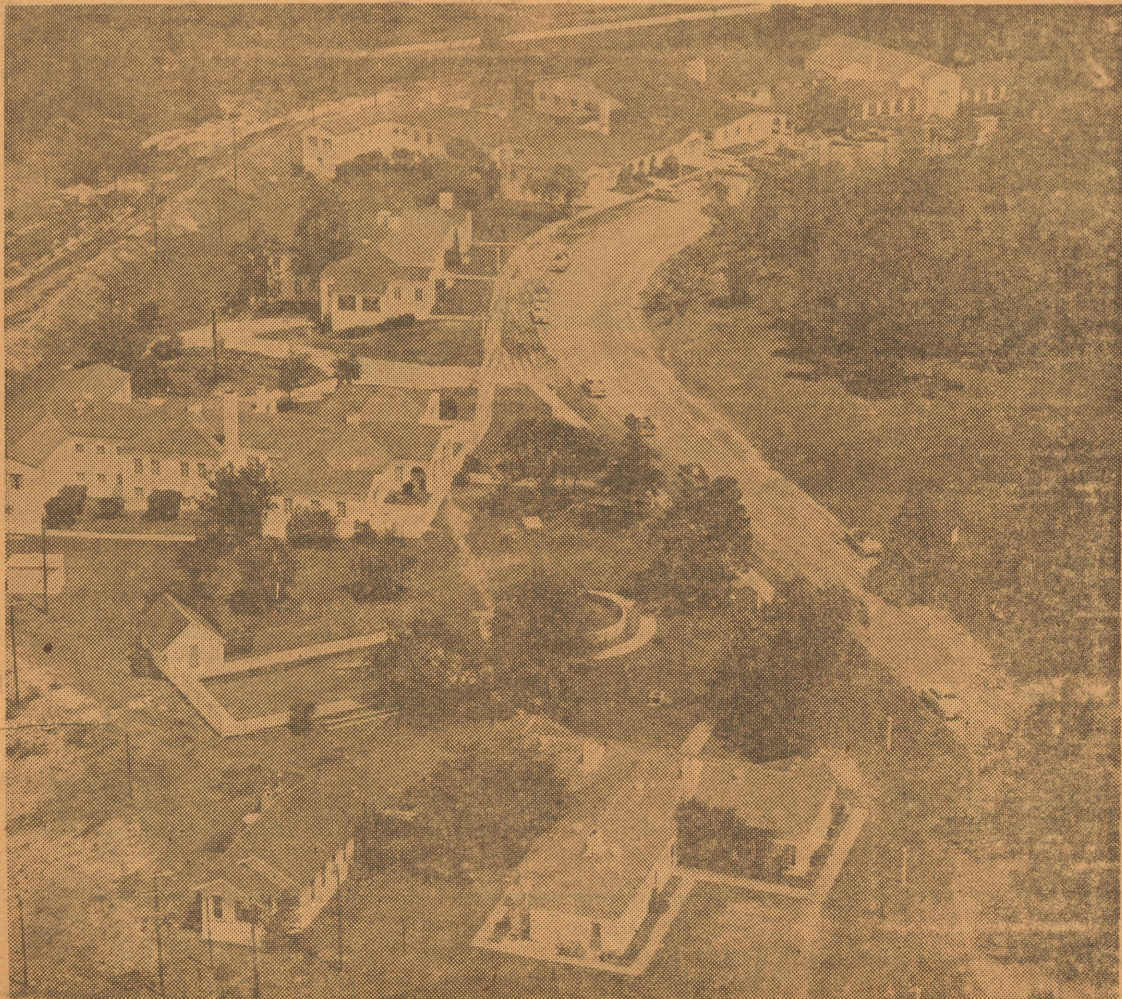

Advertised for sale this week in this issue of Success are five Shell houses in Menard County, about 15 miles from the City of Menard. They are from the old Shell pump station located on the 10-inch line later sold to Phillips.

The Polo Team, district champions, are looking for another district winner to play, and it is understood that Roby may be next in line. So date, time, place, and team are yet to be selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lloyd returned from ten days' stay on their irrigated farm at Batesville and returned there Monday to complete gathering of their cotton crop this week. They have about completed picking over the 70 acres twice, which will leave only scrapping. They estimate that they will make a bale and a half on their crop, which is being gathered by Mexican Nationals.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Mattie Cozens during the weekend were her brother-in-law and sister Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nixon of Fort Worth, who also visited in Ozona.

The meeting included morning and afternoon sessions.

Proposed Amendments Commented On By Dorsey Hardeman

The general election ballot will include several proposed amendments of the State Constitution.

In this, and perhaps subsequent articles, I shall try to discuss the proposals as an aid to the citizens of the 25th Senatorial District in determining their course of action thereon.

The order of presentation bears no relation to the degree of importance which may attach to specific proposals as they vary according to interests. Any change in the basic law is of vital concern and deserves the thoughtful consideration of all citizens.

H. J. R. 23 relates to the reallocation of County tax levies annually by the Commissioners' Court, rather than at six-year intervals following an election for such purpose. The overall rate will be retained and only its reallocation among the four constitutional funds would be authorized.

H. J. R. 30 proposes financial aid to needy disabled persons between the ages of 18 and 65 and authorizes an annual appropriation of not more than $1,500,000.00. This authorization would "bridge the gap" between the time that parents are "legally" released from the support of their children and up until such time as they become eligible for old age assistance. (Incidentally, this proposal will not be voted on at the general election on November 6, but at an election to be held on November 13. This was due to a "bust" in writing the provision.)

J. R. 31 relates to the payment of compensation to persons fined or imprisoned unjustly. Some such mistakes have occurred and the State has no authority to reimburse or compensate these unfortunate individuals. The amount, regulations, etc., would be left to the discretion of the Legislature.

H. J. R. 46 pertains to the oath of office required to be taken. The present oath is applicable only to "elected" officials, although it is taken by "appointed" officials. This proposal is designed to provide for appropriate oaths for each type of officials.

H. J. R. 9 relates to the denial of bail to any person accused of a felony less than capital who has been theretofore twice convicted of a felony, the second conviction having been subsequent to the first both in point of time of commission of the offense and conviction therefor, after a hearing and upon evidence substantially showing the guilt of the accused pending trial, by any judge or magistrate and providing that if such accused is not accorded a trial within sixty days upon such accusation, the order denying bail shall be automatically set aside and such accused be given the right to bail.

This is a major departure in the "law of the land," to the effect that any accused is entitled to bail, except in capital cases where the proof is evident. Sufficient safeguards may have been incorporated in the proposal to not abridge such basic right "unduly" if such can actually be done. "Repeaters" are aggravating to prosecutors and enforcement officers, but sight should not be lost of established fundamental rights. The presentation of proof of substantial guilt of an accused, together with his right to trial within 60 days, will have the tendency of cooling the ardor of "witch-burners."

H. J. R. 11 pertaining to the commitment of persons of unsound mind is a most important departure and is emphasized by the pathetic situation, along with the helplessness of the individual. A similar proposal was rejected by the people of Texas in 1949, but its sponsors were undaunted and have again succeeded in bringing about its submission.

This question is highly controversial. While the present method of some 80 years acceptance and experience may not be the best, nevertheless, the utter absence of absolute standards of medical or psychiatric determination and cure for such cases, being decided upon mere opinions based on "hearsay," in most instances, it should receive the most soul-searching consideration. It appears to hold more possibilities for abuse than under existing procedure; while, on the other hand, less publicity and less embarrassment might attach.

Some apparent safeguards are included, but these may easily be formally complied with, while the substance is overlooked.

S. J. R. 5 proposes changes in the teachers' retirement program by authorizing an increase in the State contribution not to exceed 6% of the compensation received annually, and in no event, not to exceed $504.00 for any one year, as well as changing the time for retirement and provide for the withdrawal of funds under prescribed conditions.

The rising cost of living and the desire to attract and retain teachers to the profession and to enable others to retire are advanced as justification for its adoption.

S. J. R. 2, if adopted, will authorize the issuance of an additional one hundred million dollars of bonds for the Veterans Land Board to purchase land for resale to eligible veterans. Recent scandals in this department, no doubt, will have a tremendous influence on this.

This concludes the brief resume of the proposed amendments of the Constitution to be voted on at the general election. It deals with H. J. R. 15 known as the "stock gambling" amendment.

A similar proposal was defeated in 1951 when it was submitted as a single and separate issue. Now, it is included with two other proposed amendments in a package-deal. Whether this was to mislead is not known. Certainly, it is "sugar-coated" in such fashion as to be hardly recognizable by the less discerning.

After embracing two lengthy proposals relating to the College Building Fund which are, more or less, window dressing, although Lamar Tech at Beaumont and the Negro University at Houston are added, despite the allocation of certain other monies to these two schools for building purposes.

This "package-deal" is designed to provide a "legal" plan for "playing the stock market" with OPM (other people's money) namely, one-half of the Permanent University Fund of $250,000,000 with no other requirement than the exercise of "judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing." Bad investments or losses will be borne by the children of this and future generations and the Regents will have enjoyed the thrill of "playing the stock market" and competing with Wall Street operators at no personal loss or responsibility whatsoever.

The proposal is presented as broadening the investment base of the Permanent University Fund "to increase earnings . . . without any increase in taxes." Sounds good. Suppose, however, there is a loss of capital, then will it not have to be restored by taxes?

The sensitivity of the stock market to the President's health is well known. His heart attack threw a five billion dollar loss in the market in September, 1955 (later recovered with inflation) and his stomach ache in the early summer, likewise, caused a violent reaction in Wall Street.

Did the founding fathers who wisely established this Fund and provided for its investment in tax-supported securities ever intend that a group of political appointees—nine Regents—should "play the stock market" or speculate with this Fund or any part thereof?

The yield from authorized securities—government bonds, etc., is now 2.7%. It is only proposed to increase the yield, assuming no loss, and all profit, to 3.4% or the magnificent increase of only seven-tenths of 1% if no loss is sustained.

The Regents are all men of highest integrity, engaged in various pursuits and appointed for different reasons. I am not advised as to their financial wizardry or ability. I only know that "playing the stock market" is a hazardous undertaking, and, more so, with public money. If they are financial wizards their services would be "snapped-up" by investors everywhere.

Perhaps, the Regents propose to "buy 'em low and sell 'em high" and win all the time.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Root rot is caused by a spiral-like worm which measures approximately one-seventieth of an inch long. There are many different species with a majority of them attacking cotton.

Experiments continue with fungicides, acids in irrigation water but as yet no satisfactory results have been found. Experiments are being conducted by the Texas Experiment Stations, USDA stations, and individuals under the supervision of county agents.

Deep early fall plowing and crop rotation have brought fields that had a 95% cotton kill by root rot back to a two bale production per acre under irrigation by practicing crop rotation with grasses or legumes, grain sorghum and cotton.

Cotton burrs put back on the soil definitely helped to lessen root rot disease in combination with the rotation.

Electricity has reached 99% of Texas farms according to latest census bureau figures. The old fashion "beef club" has been superseded by the deep freeze, and more farm folk eat fresh fruit and home-grown steaks the year round.

Cities breed ISMS. Hitler movement was born in the city. So was Marx's theory. People who live crowded together tend to think collectively.

79% of the presidents of the U. S. have been farm boys.

76% of all the large executives of the U. S. are farm boys.

59% of all the senators and representatives to the U. S. Congress have been farm boys.

We could name the percentages of many more truths on leadership in favor of rural life. Always keep in mind that a nation of substantial landowners tends to preserve that which is dear.

There is a surplus of rice in this nation and Texas plays a big part in rice production. Producers in rice areas are in the business of producing rice and beef cattle. Rice acreage allotments being cut, rice farmers are turning to production of grain sorghums for market and feeding cattle—either by broadcast or in rows. The yields are tremendous and each producer has his own drying equipment as rice has to be dried before marketing. This machinery can also be used to dry grain sorghum to the minimum 12% moisture for storage or market. Artificial drying is a must in this humid area.

This within itself is a small item but is given to show that agriculture is changing rapidly in many areas in this time of agriculture revolution!

We have noticed changes in our own county during the past two years with the coming of irrigation water. Soil tests show Schleicher County soil to be adapted to alfalfa and clovers. It could mean that land infested with root rot in cotton could be turned to a legume in the farm operation once every three years not only as a necessity but as profitable, if large yields could be secured by proper fertilization and proper amounts of water. Only time will give us the answer.

Precautions should be taken in handling cotton on the way to the gin. This can mean more dollars per bale to the producer.

On the basis of the 1956 loan values on 1-inch cotton, if the presence of trash in cotton causes a loss of one grade below middling the grower loses about $11.00 on a 500-pound bale. A decline of two grades below middling will result in a loss of $24.00 a bale.

Hay certificates may be obtained by producers who desire hay to winter livestock under the Drouth Emergency program.

Miss Gainell Belk is located in the commissioners court room, ready to take your application and issue your certificates. Producers may receive $7.50 per ton on hay that is to be used between now and December 31, 1956.

Hay in the state of Texas is 23% below normal. Hay is also below normal in the United States as a whole, but in some states a hay surplus still exists.

PRESBYTERIAN MEN'S CLUB

At the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club Monday night officers were elected for the year 1957. This was done in order that these elected officers might attend a District Training School during November in order to be ready for the next year's work. Those elected were: Walter Warren, president; Wilson Page, vice-president, and Roy Collins, secretary-treasurer.

Another interesting part of the program was the entertainment by Mrs. Oliver Teele's high school sextette. We really enjoyed their performance and the fried chicken supper that followed.

Alliance To Stress General Holiday Use Of Bible Reading

The Ministerial Alliance met in regular session Monday morning at the Episcopal Church, with Rev. Alanson Brown, Episcopal minister, Rev. J. C. Hancock, First Baptist, Rev. Russell Heaner, Methodist, and Rev. James L. Spencer, Presbyterian, in attendance.

It was decided to place special emphasis on the Christmas Bible reading, a list of Bible readings which is suggested for use from Thanksgiving through Christmas. The Alliance is ordering material listing these readings, and will ask for the cooperation of the stores in helping distribute it—it will be mainly book marks imprinted with the Bible reading series.

Members of the Alliance stress the fact that these readings are designed to supplement, not replace, the present plan of Bible reading.

Other business of interest to the churches of the city was discussed.

I thought For The Week Ministerial Alliance

What would the world be like—what would our community be like, if we should all attend Church Worship and get from it what is there to be had? One of our great troubles is that we take along with us as we enter the Sanctuary, all of our prejudices, hates, grudges and a multitude of things that we should not even be carrying at all. As one man has said and many experienced, My Church is:

A room of quiet A temple of peace
A home of faith Where doubtings cease;
A house of comfort Where hope is given,
A source of strength To make earth heaven,
A shrine of worship A place to pray

I found all this in my church today. When we can honestly quote these lines as our own we can also say with the psalmist, "I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord." — James L. Spencer.

PASTOR ATTENDS MEETING

Rev. James L. Spencer, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, is out of town, attending a meeting of the Presbytery's summer camp committee, of which he is a member. Evaluation of the past summer's church camping program will be an important item of business, and there will be suggestions toward improving of the program for the coming year.

Rev. Spencer has been serving on the church educational committee two years and on the camping committee one.

Cattle Prices Weaken

One of the largest offerings of grass cattle and calves of the year arrived at Fort Worth Monday and most classes reflected weaker prices. Sales ranged from steady to 50 cents lower, with the medium and common cattle and calves showing the larger declines.

Continued dry weather in the Southwest has narrowed the outlets for stockers, especially the plainer kinds.

Comparative prices: Good and choice slaughter steers and yearlings $17.00 to $26.00; fed heifers $24 down. Plain and medium butcher cattle $12 to $17, with some canner kinds down to $10. Fat cows $9.00 to $12.00, few young choice cows $13.00 or above. Canners and cutters $6.00 to $9.00. Bulls mostly $9.00 to $12.50. Good and choice fat calves $14.50 to $17.50; baby beef heavies to $18 or above, one such lot of 15 creep feds weighed 650 pounds at $20. Cull to medium slaughter calves $8.00 to $14.00. Stocker steer calves $19.00 down; stocker steer yearlings $18.00 down.

Hogs Advance

Choice butcher hogs topped at $16.50 to $16.75 at Fort Worth Monday, a 25c higher market than at the close of last week. Heavy butcher drew $14 to $16.25, and some pigs drew $12 to $14. Sows cashed at $13 to $14.50.

Sheep and Lambs Strong
The rather small supply of sheep and lambs at Fort Worth Monday was sold and weighed early in a very active market at stronger prices. Good and choice slaughter lambs cashed at $18 to $20, strictly choice kinds quotable to $21, and shorn lambs sold from $19 downward. Cull to medium lambs drew $10 to $17. Stocker and feeder

They drove through New Mexico, and in Arizona visited the Grand Canyon and in Nevada spent the night at Las Vegas. They stopped at Yosemite Park and spent the night in Yosemite Valley, then drove on to Concord, California.

There they visited Mr. and Mrs. Mildred Deaton and family, former Eldoradoans, who took them on a weekend fishing and camping trip to Clear Lake, 100 miles away.

They spent four nights at Los Angeles. They visited Knotts Berry Farm, Disneyland, Farmers' Market, Catalina Island, and other scenic spots, then went to San Bernardino, where they visited Santa's Village and spent the night.

They returned home by a different route. At Las Cruces, New Mexico, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Tom Riddell, a former Eldorado teacher and his wife.

Mrs. J. A. McCullum, who makes her home with her daughter Mrs. Jess Walston, has returned from Dimmitt where she was called because of the illness of a son.

Here to help celebrate Mrs. Fred Watson's birthday Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Spurgers and sons of Silver, and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Perry and sons of San Angelo, were here for the weekend.

Mrs. L. D. Ochsner returned Sunday night from Wichita Falls, where she was called because her father, R. P. Shelton, who makes his home with a daughter, Mrs. O. R. Moore, had had a heart attack. George drove to Wichita Falls with her, then went on to Athens to visit John and his family, and to Austin, before returning home.

SHHEEP AND GOAT ASSN MEETS IN BIG LAKE SATURDAY

San Angelo.—Directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and members in that general area will meet at Big Lake Saturday, September 22, for the Association's fall meeting. J. B. McCord, Coleman, TS&GRA president, has announced. The general and all committee meetings will be at the new high school building and will begin at 9:30 a. m.

"It will be the first time that such a meeting has been held in Big Lake and I hope we will have a good attendance of both directors and members. The Association officers and others have been very busy this summer and I am anxious that their reports be heard," McCord said.

Reports covering activities on emergency drought and credit, feed laws, proposed water legislation, Mexican national labor record-keeping and the new incentive level for the 1957 wool clip will probably be covered. Most important, he added, will be the vote to adopt the new districts set up for the purpose of election of directors.

A barbecue dinner will be served at noon at the high school cafeteria.

HEREFORD STOCKER-FEEDER SALE IS SUCCESSFUL

The second special Hereford stocker-feeder sale, held at the Union Stock Yards in San Antonio on September 13 was an outstanding success with over 1,500 head sold. This is the second such Hereford sale to held in San Antonio and was sponsored by the Texas Hereford Association, in cooperation with the commission companies and the Union Stock Yards Company. Sellers, commission company salesmen and officials of the Texas Hereford Association were pleased with the prices paid and the number of cattle present. The market news reporter quoted the market at 50c or more higher than earlier in the week. The large number of uniform cattle made the top price of $22.50 on steers and $18.00 on heifers possible.

Observers Schedule Area Exercise Sunday

Ground Observer posts throughout the area served by the filter center in San Antonio will hold an area exercise this Sunday afternoon, September 23rd, from 2:00 to 6:00 o'clock. Eldorado's ground observer post will take part.

Air National Guard, Civil Air Patrol and possibly other military aircraft will participate in the exercise, and effort will be made to have aircraft over every post, and to track them from post to post, in the filter center.

The exercise will be cancelled only in event of extreme bad weather throughout the area, it was stated.

James Williams, supervisor of the local post, urged all observers who can to meet at the telephone booth on the courthouse lawn this Sunday afternoon to participate.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Menees and daughters Lois and Ruby spent the weekend in Brownwood and visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Newton. The Meneeses were accompanied home by two grand daughters, Theresa and Barbara Lawson, who spent several days in Eldorado.

Suspense Clings To Annual Antelope Hunt

Austin.—Port of the suspense preceding the fall antelope hunts will carry right on into the actual harvest dates, reports the Chief Clerk for the Game and Fish Commission.

This is because some of the more than twelve hundred persons taking out the special permits will be unable to make the shoots. The licensees have been alerted so that if they cannot qualify at the last minute, they notify the Game and Fish Commission. Then alternates are notified in the order in which the names are listed from the public drawing held at Commission headquarters in Austin.

The premium for persons turning back their permits at the earliest possible time, is receiving the highest priority for the next antelope season. This fall thirty-six persons were automatically granted 1955 antelope hunting permits because they turned back their 1955 licenses early enough for them to be re-assigned.

By the law of averages, according to the Chief Clerk, a similar number of permits will be left dangling right up until the shoots begin. Season west of the Pecos will be held in two three-day periods from October 1 through October 7. The Panhandle shoot comprises three three-day periods from October 11 through October 19th.

Successful permit holders have been notified of the extraordinary regulations governing the closely supervised hunts. For example, binoculars and telescope sights are considered standard equipment to determine sex of the animals since both males and females have antlers. Seventy-two doe antelope have been earmarked for harvest west of the Pecos to reduce overpopulation and restore herd balance.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Jackson several days were Mrs. J. C. McKinley and Jimmie of Austin.

"We all believe in the American tradition of doing things the democratic way. Voting for the candidate of your choice is one of the privileges accorded to Americans. Through this means of selecting our office holders our country remains free and democratic.

Today the task of conserving soil and water resources is being carried on in the democratic tradition through soil conservation districts. Managed by supervisors engaged in farming themselves and chosen by their fellow farmers and ranchers, the soil conservation districts that blanket Texas and the nation are created under state law to give the land owners the authority they need to carry out their responsibility to conserve the soil for the benefit of future generations.

The districts ask for and receive assistance from U. S. Soil Conservation service and other agencies. But they are responsible only to themselves and the state law creating them. They are democratic.

The soil conservation district is a means of bringing government to the local levels. It provides a means for the local people to solve their own problems.

The conservation of our soil and water resources is a job that must be done if we are to survive.

The job of the soil conservation district supervisor is a big one. He receives no financial compensation for his time and efforts. The soil conservation districts need all the help they can get in fulfilling their responsibility to the land.

One of the many ways in which land owners can help their district is by voting. It is their responsibility to the soil and country. The supervisors willingly give many days of their time and often at expense to themselves to see that soil conservation work is being carried forward.

On Tuesday, October 2nd, the election of a supervisor for Zone 3 of the Eldorado-Divide Soil Conservation district will take place. The election will be held on the Pfluger farm six miles west of Eldorado at 3:00 p.m.

You as a landowner, make it a point to be present to elect the supervisor, who will assist and represent you the next five years.

Zone 3 is bounded on the south by Farm Road 33 and on the east by Highway 277. The north and west boundaries are the Crockett, Irion and Tom Green county lines.

A short program will be presented by technicians of the Soil Conservation service and the Future Farmers of America
