MINISTER LEAVES JAIL

Freedom Rider Says Southerners Are Un-American, Un-Christian

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—An Episcopal minister, who returned Wednesday night from Mississippi where he spent 23 days in jail as a "Freedom Rider," says Southerners are un-American and un-Christian.

The Rev. Grant Muse, white pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Berkeley, told newsmen that he and other riders were abused and ridiculed by their jailors.

He said in Parchman penitentiary, where he spent half his time after his arrest in Jackson, jailers used a type of handcuff called a wristbreaker and goaded rider prisoners with rods charged with electricity.

Muse said he and another prisoner shared a cell, 6 by 9 feet, with a basin, toilet and two cots.

"For the first two days food was adequate. But after that we existed on corn bread, green beans and chunks of pork fat with two- or three-inch bristles on it."

Riders were fed large doses of a mixture called Black Annie, milk of magnesia in blackstrap molasses, Muse said.

He was one of six San Francisco Bay area riders arrested June 20 after they had entered a Negro waiting room in Jackson.

He was sentenced to four months but was released when the Congress of Racial Equality paid his $500 fine.

When they were transferred from Jackson to Parchman prison, he and the others were loaded into trucks like cattle, Muse said.

As they approached small towns, the drivers would turn on sirens and flashing red lights.

"Then they would stop and let the natives look in at us and jeer," he related.

County Shares In Wide Rainfall Across Texas

Weather Blamed In 7 State Deaths

(By The Associated Press)

Thunderstorms roamed the South Plains and western edge of the Panhandle early Thursday as Texas counted seven deaths blamed on the turbulent weather.

Fresh showers fell along the upper coast after a night in which hard new rains beat down on Austin and the coastal regions.

Three Negroes drowned in a flooded stream at Bastrop and a Houston blind man drowned in a flooded bayou. Two Livingston men died of injuries received when their car, in a blinding rainstorm near that Southeast Texas town, rammed a tree. Electric shock during a rain north of Houston killed another man.

Heavy rains surgde over Scurry County north and east of Snyder in West Texas.

The rain gauge on the farm of Mozell Roggenstein caught 5.3 inches in ah hour and 45 minutes. Mrs. C. L. Lee, living 12 miles northeast of Snyder, measured 5 inches of rain.

Coastal rains were heaviest at Angleton, Freeport, Clute, Lake Jackson, Beaumont and Galveston.

Waco measured 1.38 inches during a high wind and electrical storm that lasted only 15 minutes.

At Austin, struck by flash floods last week, a cracking electrical storm dumped up to 3.9 inches of rain after 10 p.m. Wednesday on the western part of the capital.

High water closed at least 30 Austin streets. Firemen rescued nine persons from cars stranded in water that ran five feet deep in some streets. Lightning hit three houses but no one was hurt.

East Austin, twice flooded recently, reported only .10 inch.

Angleton, in the Houston area, was flooded by Brushy Bayou, fed by 9.6 inches of downpours since Sunday. The water reached doors of stores over a six block area and ran hub deep in the streets. The bayou is five miles north of town, but the floodwaters spread easily over the flat land.

Clute, Freeport, and Lake Jackson had flooded streets. Water got into a few houses and stores in Clute but drained quickly.

Beaumont measured 3.30 inches of rain, Galveston 3.17, Houston 1.45, Childress 1.13, Amarillo 1.12, Alpine 1.08 Wednesday.

Forecasts called for more of the same sort of soggy weather. A cool front was moving sluggishly southeastward across Texas, colliding with warm, humid air moving north from the Gulf.

The Weather Bureau issued a severe thunderstorm warning for a 120 mile belt from the Del Rio area to Corpus Christi, but the alert expired at 9 p.m. Wednesday with no great damage reported.

Where the new rains fell on soggy fields, particularly along the middle and upper coasts, heavy crop damage mounted. cotton farmers were especially hard hit.

A creek swollen by weekend rains caused the drowning deaths of Arthur Peterson, 12, and his brothers, Carl, 5, and Leslie, 10.

Area Receives 4th Big Fall Since July 1

Saturated Howard County received another generous helping of rain Thursday morning—the fourth important precipitation to fall since July 1.

Moisture provided by the early morning shower averaged half an inch in most parts of the county and topped two inches in the Vincent community.

In Big Spring the rainfall varied from .46 inch gauged at the U. S. Experiment Station to 1.20 reported in the southwest part of town.

Texas Electric Service Company switching plant had .48; its downtown plant .65. On Sycamore street a gauge showed .80.

Light hail fell with the rain in many parts of the county. Some washing damage was reported where heavier rains fell. Continued precipitation is slowing the growth of cotton and increasing the weed problem, farmers said. Ranchers had no complaint however — the rains continue to benefit the pasture lands immeasurably.

An inch and a half of rain fell on Lake J. B. Thomas and Sheriff Sid Reeder, Borden County, said that one area in his county near Fluvanna had 5.5 inches. This is on the Lake Thomas watershed. In Gail, Sheriff Reeder said two inches of rain fell. This matched the 2 to 2.5 inches reported in the Vincent area by County Judge there was some washing in that community.

The rains moved in around 6 a.m. and continued for over an hour. Brilliant electrical displays accompanied the deluge. Texas Electric Service Co., reported many interruptions due to the storm but no serious difficulties. In Ackerly, where half an inch of rain was guaged, lightning struck a transformer and blacked out part of the town.

Vealmoor community was soaked with 1.75 inches of rain. The heavy fall was largely localized. Four miles south of Vealmoor the guages showed .60 inch.

Luther reported .50 inch rain as did the Wilkinson ranch, west of town. Forsan had .51 inch.

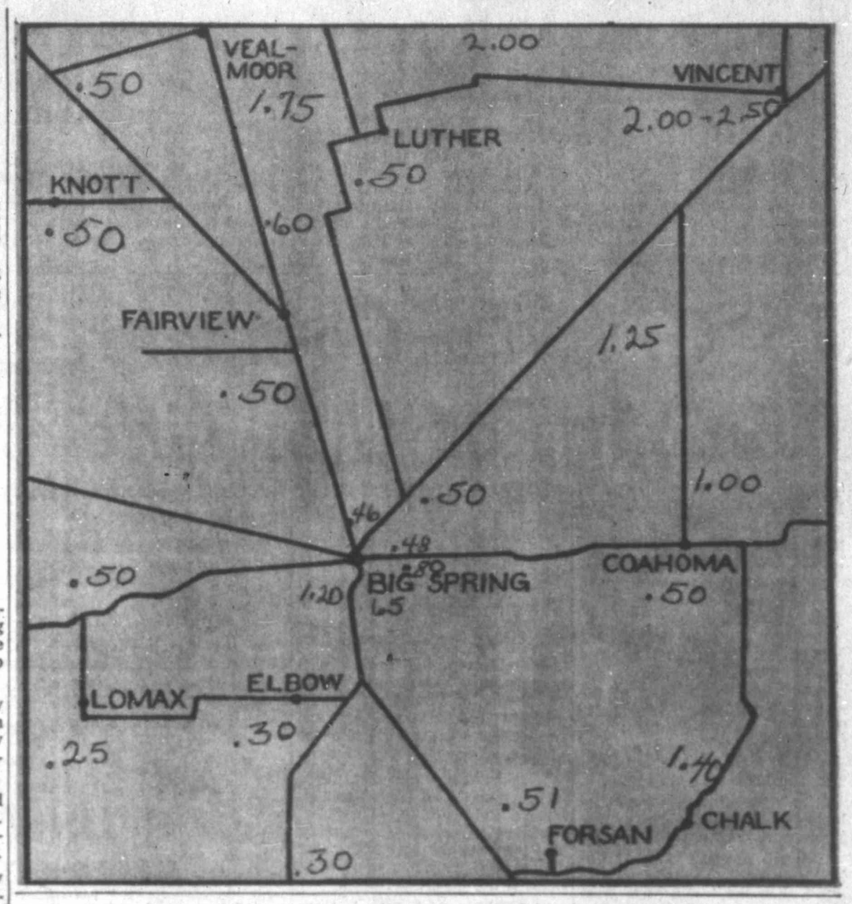
Coahoma has half an inch but a mile north of that community an inch of rain fell.

Lomax had only .25 inch and Lee's Store, on the Howard-Glasscock County Line had .30 inch. Knott had from .30 to .50 inch.

Fairview reported .50 inch.

Colorado City had from 1.09 to 1.14 inches; Sweetwater .80; Eskota .70. There was no report from Morgan Creek. The TESCO gauge there is read at midnight.

The Experiment Station reportfallen in Big Spring so far the first 13 days of July have aggregated 2.18 inches. Total rain for the year as gauged at the Experiment Station now stands at 13.05.



Riders Due Here, But Not First Time

By BOB SMITH

A planned sit-in for today by integrated bus riders will not be the first such incident for Big Spring, although a previous demonstration was not planned or organized and was carried on by a lone Negro woman.

Information from Greyhound Bus Co. officials and local police was that a group of Freedom Riders was due to eat lunch today at 1:25 p.m. at the local post station. The group was coming by way of El Paso, Van Horn and Pecos, having passed through the latter city at 10:45 a.m.

The lunch stop here was supposed to be for 25 minutes.

Bus company spokesmen said the integrated group would be served, and any "incidents" would have to come from outside the post house. The Greyhound company has ordered its post houses integrated.

The riders, consisting of seven Negroes and four whites, is scheduled to hit Abilene at 4:40 p.m.

The previous incident occurred several months ago, when a Los Angeles Negro woman, Mrs. Almena Lomax, refused to enter the Negro lunch room at the Big Spring Greyhound bus terminal.

Mrs. Lomax, a newspaperwoman, was on her way back to Tuskegee, Ala., her original home. She referred to her trip as a "journey to the beginning," hoping that the advantages she had gained in California might be of use to her people in the Deep South.

The first experience her children had with segregation came in Big Spring, when passengers piled off at the Greyhound depot here for a lunch stop, en route to Alabama by way of El Paso.

Mrs. Lomax decided she wasn't going to be segregated, and headed into the white lunch room. She faced down objections first by a waitress and then by the proprietor. She and her uneasy children stepped out of the cafeteria - style line, taking a table, and the Negro woman vowed to sit out the lunch period there.

Police were called, and a deputy came in to try to get the woman to move into the colored room, but she was adamant. Four policemen came in quickly, but stood around rather helplessly in face of recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings.

Meanwhile, local citizens and other passengers studiously ignored the incident, except for a jovial, heavy - set Latin American who seemed vastly to enjoy the sight, and a Marine officer who quietly gave moral encouragement by first filling his plate, sitting down at a table, and then refusing to eat.

Nothing more came of the sit-in demonstration, and the bus left shortly for points east.

Later, Mrs. Lomax wrote an account of her experience for "The Nation," an ultra-liberal magazine. Her version reflected a sort of reverse prejudice in which she was quite willing to believe the worst about the first city in which her children were forced into racial humiliation.

Her description flattened West Texas slang more than it is actually spoken, and she referred to the deputy as having "a face like a monkey wrench . . . raw wrinkled skin," and described the summer uniform of the city police as "looking ridiculously like Hollywood versions of Texas Rangers."

Her article also failed to give credit to the Marine officer, leaving the impression that he was "too sickened" to eat in the same room with Negroes.

Before Mrs. Lomax left Big Spring, she announced her intention to sue the bus company and the proprietor of the post house for denying her civil rights. It is not known if the suit was ever filed.

Police Chief Jay Banks, commenting on the sit-in planned for today, took a wait and see attitude.

No interference with the Freedom Riders was planned. Police were to be present, however, in case any incidents should develop.

Eichmann Refuses To Say Nazi Killers Criminals

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann, clinging grimly to his "honor" as an SS officer, refused today to admit that any Nazi who killed Jews was a criminal.

The former Gestapo colonel would only concede that the slaughter of six million Jews he is charged with helping to administer was "heinous, hideous."

Israel Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner cracked Eichmann's aplomb again after four days of blistering cross-examination. He extracted a flood of justifications on how a man could follow Hitler's murderous orders and still live with himself. In sum, Eichmann's explanation was that no matter how horrible, orders had to be followed because of the SS oaths of loyalty.

Finally shaken, Eichmann begged the Israeli court—regardless of his sentence—to permit him to write a book on the pogrom "as a deterrent to the generations to come." It was an outright plea for his life.

Presiding Judge Moshe Landau sternly rebuked Eichmann and told him that regardless of what he would write in such a book, "You will have to say it first here."

The prosecution assault had Eichmann leaping to his feet and firing back his replies. The courtroom audience erupted in such frequent outbursts that the court threatened to eject the spectators.

The SS oath, Eichmann pointed out, was: "My honor means loyalty."

"All of us were members of the same order bound to the Reichs-Fuehrer (Hitler) by oath," he said. "I regard violation of loyalty as the greatest crime a man can perpetrate."

"Greater than murdering six million people?" Hausner shouted.

"No, of course not. I was not dealing with extermination. Had I been ordered to do so I would have shot myself," he said.

When finally ordered to come out with his views, Eichmann faced the court, squared his shoulders and declared he recognized the pogrom as "one of the most hideous, heinous crimes in the history of mankind."

But, he said, he did not have "as much as a little finger" in a Gestapo order for his own deputy to deliver poison gas to the extermination camps.

'American' Nazis Parade

Storm troopers of George Lincoln Rockwell's self-styled Nazi party carry signs near Washington Union station. At the same time, delegates to the convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People were arriving by train. Police barred the Rockwell group from the station grounds.

Man Drowns In Stock Tank

Antonio Perez - Solis, 27, was drowned about 6 p.m. Wednesday, while swimming in a stock tank on the Frank Whittaker farm, three and a half miles west of Vincent.

According to a 12-year-old son of an employ on the Whittaker farm, he saw Perez-Solis start swimming across the tank. The boy said the man doubled up and went under, about half-way across the tank. He ran for help and the man was taken out of the tank about 20 minutes later. Artificial respiration was administered, but was unsucessful.

Perez came to the United States July 7, and was employed by Frank Whittaker through the Howard County Farm Labor Association. He was born July 5, 1934 at Ranch San Cristobal, Real De Catorce, Mexico, and listed it as his home.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice, who went to the scene, ruled that death was due to drowning.

Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home sent an ambulance to the scene and again artificial respiration was tried.

Funeral services are pending at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Good Catch Is Expected

Lake J. B. Thomas appeared Thursday morning to have a chance to catch a substantial volume of water from early morning showers.

Elevation at noon was 2255.92, an increase of .41 foot in the lost six hours. This approximated 3,000 acre feet of water.

R. A. Schooling, lake superintendent, said that both Bull Creek and Gavitt Creeks, which empty in from the north, were running well.

The river also was running after rains approaching two inches over most of the shed. In the upper reaches of the Bull Creek and Gavitt Creek sheds, there was one area with rains up to about five inches.

Teacher Pay Raise Due Action In House

AUSTIN (AP)—The $810 teacher pay raise bill headed for House action today. Backers said it had been okayed for movement.

The bill would cost the state $144 million in the next two years. It was approved Wednesday by the House Education Committee. Rep. Dewitt Hale, the sponsor, said he would seek House passage today.

In the Senate, passage of the $2.6 million Senate appropriations bill was considered possible. Sen. Ray Roberts of McKinney, the sponsor, said it is up to Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey whether it comes up on the Senate floor, but "I sort of imagine he'll be ready."

The bill was approved in 20 minutes by the Senate Finance Committee.

House tax writers worked late into the night, but floor consideration of a tax bill appeared unlikely before next week.

The Senate Education Committee whizzed through a hearing on the teacher pay raise bill, identical to the Hale bill. Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, the author, said he is not ready to move with the legislation.

Both houses passed bills during the regular session, giving teachers an $810 boost in minimum salaries and a $108 per year experience increment. No tax law to pay for the increase passed so the bills died.

Total cost of the Hale-Aikin bills would be $180,376,000. The state would pay 80 per cent, or $144,301,000. Local school districts would pay the rest. The legislation would give beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree a minimum of $4,014. Local districts can pay more than the minimum, however.

On tap for committee hearing this afternoon was Rep. Charles Ballman's bill which he said embodies Gov. Price Daniel's tax program.

The House Revenue and Tax Committee heard testimony Rep. Bob Eckhardt's gas tax aimed at interstate pipeline companies which buy gas from Texas producers through dedicated reserve contracts. The bill went to a subcommittee.

"My bill just says that where natural gas is not bringing as much as one penny tax to the state on each 1,000 cubic feet, then an additional tax is levied equal to the difference between the additional amount would be paid mostly by the pipeline companies, he added.

In a resolution adopted 120-19, the House authorized a committee to look into the recent increase in auto insurance rates ordered by the State Insurance Board.

"I don't think the people of Texas believe their interests have been looked after properly. I think the people are going to blame the legislature for this increase," said Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, who asked for the investigation.

Case Against Hoffa Dismissed

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A federal judge dismissed today the government's mail-fraud case against Teamsters union President James R. Hoffa and two other men.

Judge Joseph P. Lieb threw out the case against Hoffa, Henry Lower and Robert E. McCarthy Jr. on the ground that the grand jury that returned the indictment against the three last year at Orlando was improperly selected. This was the main argument of defense attorneys.

Father Gives Life To Save His Son

LEHI, Utah (AP) — A father gave his own life for his son's Wednesday. He leaped into a sewer trench and, with his body, shielded the boy from the full force of a cave-in.

The collapsing dirt pushed 36-year-old contractor Darrel Adams' face into the opposite wall of the trench, and a chunk of asphalt pinned his head in that position.

Rescue workers, digging frantically, were too late to save Adams. But beneath the dirt, cradled between his dead father's knees and arms, they found 14-year-old Richard Adams still alive.

The boy was hospitalized overnight for observation.

Road Mishap Kills Two Near Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — Two sisters were killed and their mother and another sister injured Wednesday when their pickup truck overturned at the Sparenberg Community, 12 miles south of Lamesa.

The dead were Nancy Lou Gonzales, 11, and her sister, Mary Sue, 18 months. Injured were Mrs. Albert Gonzales, 29, and another daughter, Janie, 3.

Mrs. Gonzales is reported in serious condition at Medical Arts Hospital. She suffered a broken leg and contusions about the head. Her daughter is in fair condition. Her left arm is fractured and she also suffered contusions and lacerations.

The accident occurred at 6:20 p.m. Wednesday on Farm-to-Market Road 828 in the Sparenberg Community. The pickup Mrs. Gonzales was driving was traveling east when it went off the road, then swerved back and overturned on the pavement. The truck skidded 60 feet before coming to a stop.

Mary Sue apparently died instantly when she and her mother were thrown from the pickup. Nancy Lou died at the scene about 20 minutes later. She had been caught in a door between the pickup and the pavement.

The accident took place about 200 yards from the Gonzales' home on the Walter Lantz farm. The father was the first to reach the scene.

Funeral services for the two girls are pending at Higginbotham Funeral Home.

15 Girls To Compete Tonight For U.S. Title

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Fifteen girls ranging from 34-22-35 to 37-24-36, and from student to real estate speculator, compete tonight for the title Miss U.S.A.

They are the girls who survived the first round of judging at the Miss Universe beauty pageant. Twenty-eight others seeking the Miss U.S.A. title were eliminated Wednesday night.

The judges hit a snag at the end. They had four places left to fill and six girls to fill them: Miss Indiana, Miss Kentucky, Miss Michigan, Miss New Jersey, Miss Texas and Miss West Virginia.

After a tense five minutes of balloting, Miss Indiana and Miss Texas were eliminated.

"I'm the shortest (5-foot-3) girl in the contest. I never thought they'd pick me," said Miss West Virginia, 20-year-old Kathy McManaway of Princeton. "I thought they wanted only beautiful, long-legged girls."

Kathy, a college junior, also has the most modest dimensions, along with Miss Michigan, who is Patricia Lyn Squires, a 19-year-old nursing student from Milan.

Miss Nevada, the most liberally endowed of the 15 girls, is Karen Weller of Las Vegas, an 18-year-old college freshman and model. Seven other girls also are models, either full or part time.

"Our training as models might have helped," said Miss Alabama, Suellen Robinson, 19, of Fairfax, a college sophomore. "That ramp was long and the way we walked and carried ourselves must have made a big difference."

"I felt like running the last 100 feet," said Janet Marie Hawley, 19, of Salt Lake City.

The Miss Universe competition will be held this year on Friday and Saturday nights.

Marlene Britsch, 21, of Claremont Harbor, Miss. moved to Mississippi from New Orleans last year and started a real estate business.

Engineer Puzzled On Why Wife Drove Before Train

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)— Ernest O. Howard expects to climb back into the cab of his locomotive next week, still mystified why his wife apparently drove her car in front of his speeding train.

"It's a mystery to me. I actually don't know why she picked my train," said fireman - engineer Howard after his release from a hospital.

No clue to the puzzle comes from Mrs. Howard, 39, who knew her husband was at the throttle of the train. She has remained unconscious since the July 5 crash.

Police hold a note said to have been written by Mrs. Howard before the crash, but have so far refused to talk about it.

Salem Police Chief George Eades said only that it appeared the collision may not have been an accident. No charges are being planned at this time.

Just out of the hospital, where he was treated for shock, Howard said, "She was despondent over ill health for a period of years.

"She was highly nervous.

"This is a terrible blow to me. The most horrible thing I can imagine beyond the scope of anybody's imagination."

Howard said he expects to return to work shortly on the same run, probably after a visit to his doctor Friday.

He has not seen his wife since getting out of the hospital, but she is attended by nurses and relatives.

"I hope and pray she is all right. It is in the hands of the Man Above. I pray his will be done," Howard said.

AN EPISTLE ON UNITY

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383.

The epistle of Paul to the Ephesians has its theme, Christian unity. It speaks of how peace is made between Jew and Gentile; how Christ had died that "He might reconcile both unto God in one body . . ." (Eph. 2:14-16), which body is the church (Eph. 1:22, 23).

The Christians at Ephesus were exhorted to be "endevouring to keep the unity." Thus unity is a thing that must be worked at.

The Ephesians were to work at the job in a practical way, walking worthily of their calling, "with all lowliness and meekness, with long suffering, forbearing one another in love." (Eph. 4:1-3).

These things are ethical and practical, rather than what is usually called, doctrinal and organizational. But we have not finished the exhortation. It goes on to say, "There is one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all . . ." (Eph. 4:4-6).

Hence, piety, love and ethics cannot do the job for unity, without these bedrock things, which are "doctrinal" and "organizational." We must get our doctrine and organization right, too.

Tonight at 7:30, Ron Durham will speak and show color slides on the Australian mission field. Welcome. —adv.

Foreign Students Like Friendliness Of People

How do two exchange students, one from Egypt and one from Germany, communicate with each other?

In German or French—two of the five languages in which they are versed.

"When we talk about the girls, we talk in French," Youssef Bissada said to the delight of the Downtown Lions Club Wednesday. They could talk in English easily enough. Gottfried Schichtharle, his companion, could make it in Norwegian or Latin.

The two explained their educational backgrounds to the club members and answered various questions. They are at Cosden until Sept. 1 under the program of the International Association of Exchange Students in Technical Experience. Schichtharle said he hoped to obtain his doctorate before he went into practice. Bissada indicated he would find an urgent demand for his talents in Egypt when he gets his master's degree.

Perhaps the one thing that has impressed them most in their stay here is the extreme friendliness of the people. Both said they were amazed by the easy, sincere manner in which people accept them.

Schichtharle said that he spent about five hours a day in high school, but that there was considerable homework. High school goes for 10 months, but in contrast University is but for six months of a year. The elementary and high school system in Cairo, Egypt, where he attended a French school, are similar to those in Germany, said Bissada. Costs of university are much less than here, running about $60 a month for room and board and $60 to $70 for a semester's tuition.

The two were introduced by Elbert Boullioun, president. During the meeting Old Monarch certificates went to Bob McEwen, Dr. Dick Lane and K. H. McGibbon for 20 years of membership and to George Melear, Avery Falkner, R. H. Snyder and Roxie Dobbins for 15 years membership.

Actors Group Slaps Conduct

MEXICO CITY (AP)—For two months the National Association of Actors (ANDA) has been conducting a determined campaign against indecorous conduct by showgirls and comedians — especially at border night clubs.

A spokesman from ANDA said two months ago the association issued a circular letter to its regional delegates, asking them to keep a censoring eye upon what goes on at nightclubs notorious for the easy friendliness extended by performers to the customers, once their act is over.

Tijuana, Juarez, Monterrey and Guadalajara are among the cities where a greater number of complaints originated, he said.

New Bridges

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Two new bridges may be built between Ciudad Juarzez and El Paso, a border official Rafael Lopez Lagunes said Wednesday. The Ministry of public works is studying the project. Lopez said more people cross the Rio Grande daily at El Paso than at any other border point, and that present facilities are inadequate.

Fire Crews Hope To Halt 2 Coast Forest Blazes

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK, Calif. (AP)—Fire fighters today hoped to contain two of California's largest brushland fires of the season, barring more hot winds that have aggravated one of the state's worst droughts in history.

The fire advance slowed five miles from the Bass Lake resort, just off State Highway 41, the year-round route into Yosemite.

Crews were slowly drawing lines around blackened 63,000 acres of brushland that flank this famed Sierra vacation spot.

Towns threatened by flames were apparently out of danger.

The largest fire, which centered about 15 miles south of the park, has burned 38,000 acres, consumed two mountain villages and trapped and killed a couple fleeing in their car.

Dean Schlobohn, State Division of Forestry dispatcher at Fresno, was optimistic.

"If we get a little rain, without the winds, we should be able to control this fire in two days," he said.

Forty miles to the northwest fire fighters made progress with a blaze that began in Calaveras County Sunday and raced south into Tuolumne County, covering 25,000 acres.

Nature helped the fire battlers as winds died down, but a human menace plagued them.

An arsonist set two brush fires Wednesday near Jamestown. The blazes consumed hundreds of acres but no buildings, a forester said.

The large fire flared up Tuesday, burning the Madera County communities of Nipinnawasee and Ahwahnee. Only a few buildings were left standing.

Only known casualties were Mr. and Mrs. George Kipp, both in their 60s, who were burned to death in their car on a mountain road as they fled Ahwahnee.

Forestry officials said most of the uncounted evacuees were taken in by residents of nearby communities.

State Division of Forestry dispatcher John Gookin said the new blazes in the boulder-strewn Jamestown area were quickly contained, but predicted fire fighters will have a hard job in extinguishing them.

He said a pyromaniac has plagued the area for several years.

Rebel Flag Up In The Air

LONDON (AP)—The English owner of an old Confederate flag said today he is reluctant to surrender it to the Sons of the Confederacy in Texas.

"I bought this flag sometime ago," said David Shure, owner of an antique shop. "The Texans say it's theirs and they're sending someone to get it."

The Texan is Richard E. Dwelle, president and publisher of the Athens, Tex., Review.

"I understand that Mr. Dwelle will be arriving Friday to claim it," said Shure in an interview. "If he shows up I shall be glad to talk to him, but I'm not at all sure I'll turn over the flag."

He was reluctant to say where he bought the flag.

"I understand it's a genuine battle flag," he said.

Shure said he had received a great many telegrams and letters about the flag.

"The people most interested," he went on, "seem to be the Major Howdy Martin brigade of the Sons of the Confederacy, in Athens, Tex.

"Indignant telegrams have been signed Frank E. La Rue Jr., adjutant, Texas division."

Shure said he wasn't sure how the Texans learned he had the Stars and Bars.

"Of course a lot of Americans visit my shop," he added.

The antique dealer said the Round Table of the American Civil War had urged him not to hand over the flag to the Texans. The Round Table is made up of British students of the War Between the States.

"They've told me to hang on to it," said Shure.

"If Mr. Dwelle comes to see me tomorrow—and I understand he will—I shall listen to him. If he makes out a good case, I may let him have it so he can take it back to Texas."

Inspection Loss To Hurt Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association said Wednesday that cancellation of the association's market inspection work would hurt the cattle industry.

Dolpph Briscoe, Uvalde, Tex., rancher and president of the association, said his organization has filed a new application after the Agriculture Department cancelled its authorization effective Sept. 1.

He said the inspection service is necessary to identify cattle and establish rightful ownership. Last year more than 100 workers inspected 4.8 million head of cattle, he said.

The Agriculture Department said that authorization is being withdrawn because continuation of the service is not in the public interest.

Berlin Refugee Flow Increases

BERLIN (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today the heavy flow of refugees into West Berlin indicates the Communist East Germany regime was stepping up pressure on its citizens.

"The refugee situation proves that conditions over there have become unbearable," the West German leader told a news conference. "A panic seems to have broken out."

Refugees now cross easily from East Berlin to West Berlin and are flown to West Germany. Soviet threats to hand over more authority to East Germany have encouraged the Red regime there to demand control over air corridors to West Berlin. This would close the refugee escape hatch. West Berlin is 100 miles inside East Germany.

Within East Germany the tension over Berlin has brought a stepped-up campaign to make people support communism more actively. Party members are urged to do more grass-roots organization work.

These organizing efforts, plus food shortages of such staples as potatoes and butter appear to be major causes for refugee flight.

The Communists imposed new controls in East Berlin again today to stop the drain on their sagging economy. West Berliners hereafter can obtain services in East Berlin only by changing their marks on a one-for-one basis. A Western mark is worth 4.62 East marks in West Berlin. West Berliners have been taking advantage of the cheap East German money by getting haircuts, laundry service and the like in East Berlin.

Adenauer held the news conference at the close of a two-day stay in Berlin, his first visit to the isolated city in 18 months. He then flew through rainy weather back to Bonn in a U.S. Air Force plane. West German planes are not permitted in the corridors over East Germany.

Adenauer rejected direct negotiation between West Germany and Communist East Germany, as urged by Soviet Premier Khrushchev. He also turned down again West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's suggestion for a 52-nation conference on Germany, made up of Germany's wartime enemies.

The chancellor said again that a German settlement must be based on self-determination of the entire German people.

He complimented Secretary of State Dean Rusk for setting "a pattern of restraint" in the Berlin negotiations.

Lamesan Gets Life

ALAMOGORDO, N. M. (AP)—Roy Leon Handy, 21, of Lamesa, Tex., changed his plea from innocent to guilty of murder in the first degree and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary here Wednesday.

The guilty plea came as a surprise to jurors and the courtroom.

Handy was on trial in connection with the shooting of D. F. (Jack) Leflar, 31, of El Paso on Feb. 5.

A jury of three women and nine men was seated late Tuesday to hear the trial. The prosecution, led by Dist. Atty. Dan Sosa of Las Cruces, was ready to start its presentation when the guilty plea came.

Dist. Judge Allan Walker sentenced Handy to the state penitentiary at Santa Fe after the jury recommended life imprisonment.

Handy was arrested Feb. 22 and spent five months in the Otero County jail. He told deputies he and Leflar were target shooting when Leflar started running and yelled, "try and hit me."

Handy led officers to the isolated site on the Mescalero Apache Indian reservation where Leflar's body was found. He had been shot with a .22 caliber weapon.

Hundred Officers Seek Cop Killer

KREMMLING, Colo. (AP) — A hundred officers, some with submachineguns, stalked through the rugged northwestern Colorado mountains searching today for a fast-draw gunman accused of killing two officers and wounding two others.

State Patrol Lt. Hiram Short, 49, of Craig, Colo., and Undersheriff John Clark, 68, of Eagle County, died Wednesday night from bullets fired by the tousle-haired desperado.

Sheriff Chancy Van Pelt, 54, of Grand County, and Robert Hoover of Grand Junction, a State Game and Fish Department education officer, were hospitalized at Denver with serious bullet wounds.

The slayer, described as in his early 20s, was driving a car purchased July 3 at Sioux City, Iowa, by a man giving the name of Delmar Dean Spooner of Storm Lake, Iowa. Officers said Spooner left Storm Lake July 6.

Officers said they believed they trapped the gunman in a ravine near State Bridge, Colo., about 15 miles southwest of Kremmling near Piney Creek. The area, popular with fishermen, is about 130 miles northwest of Denver.

The gunman abandoned his car after a gun fight in which Clark was wounded in the jaw.

Some officers said the desperado may have been wounded before fleeing on foot into the mountain fastness.

Officers pieced together this sequence of events:

Hoover, driving westward on U.S. Highway 40, stopped to assist a motorist whose car appeared to be stalled. Hoover became suspicious after the driver failed to produce adequate identification and radioed for the sheriff and the state patrolman.

The three questioned the motorist for a few minutes and decided to take him to Kremmling for further examination. They started walking to Van Pelt's car when the motorist drew a pistol and fired rapidly at Short and Van Pelt.

After wounding them, the gunman fired on Hoover, who had rolled into a roadside pit in an effort to escape the shooting.

The gunman raced away in his car, driving through Kremmling and turning southward on a road toward Eagle County.

Sheriff Henry Knuth and his undersheriff, Clark, drove northward to intercept the fleeing man. When they attempted to stop the approaching car, the Iowa auto rammed into the officers' vehicle.

At the same time, a shot through the window struck Clark in the jaw. The gunman jumped from his car and ran into dense roadside woods.

AFROTC Units To Graduate

Maj. Gen. James V. Edmonson will address members of the USAF ROTC Summer Training Units in a ceremony Friday marking the graduation, and close of the 28 day summer camp. Gen. Edmonson is in charge of officer procurement and is one of the top speakers of the Air Force.

The general will leave the base Friday afternoon, following the graduation exercises and the traditional parade and review.

Seventeen cadets will receive their commissions as second lieutenants. They represent 15 colleges in nine states. These 17 are seniors who were, for one reason or another, unable to attend the camp last summer.

The ceremony will begin with a parade and review on the line at 9:30 a.m., Friday.

British Troops Leave Kuwait

KUWAIT (AP)—More of the British troops that were rushed into Kuwait to defend it from Iraq's annexation threat have been ordered to withdraw.

Britain ordered the pullout Wednesday of more than 1,000 commandos and several hundred other troops. Their departure will leave 3,000 of the 5,000 troops Britain rushed in two weeks ago at the request of Sheik Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah, Kuwait's ruler.

Kuwait told a meeting of the Arab League in Cairo it would ask for withdrawl of all British forces if Iraq drops its claims, or if the league sends Arab forces to Kuwait to replace the British.

The United Arab Republic told the meeting that while it approves sending Arab units to Kuwait, it felt states bordering Israel—which include the U.A.R.— should keep their troops ready for any conflict with their Jewish neighbor. U.A.R. delegate Mohammed Hassan el Zayat said troops for Kuwait therefore should come from other Arab nations.

Snyder Seeks Park On Lake

A new state park may be established on the shores of Lake J. B. Thomas.

R. W. Barlow, assistant executive director of the State Parks Board, told an assembly at Snyder Wednesday that the board is "very interested in a state park in that locality if a suitable location could be secured."

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, was among those on hand for the meeting. Others included Jim Thomas, Barlow's assistant; William H. Wilson Jr. and W. A. McGlaun, members of the CRMWD board; Joe Cargill, president of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce; Woody Forrester, chamber manager; and representatives of the Snyder Jaycees.

Barlow told the group that about 500 acres would be necessary for a park site and pointed out that the State Board does not have funds for such purchase. The property would have to be a gift or on some lease arrangement, he said.

Retail Committee To Meet Friday

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Retail Committee has been called for 10 a.m. Friday in the C-C offices.

Gilbert Gibbs and Jim Lewis, chairmen, are urging a full attendance. They said plans will be made on a city-wide "back to school" promotion, and groundwork laid for the annual Christmas season activities.

Leach will make three awards in each of 11 categories. Mrs. Ennis Cochran is judge and Joanna Patterson, craft instructor, will be usher. The show will be held in the all-purpose room.

No Clues Turned Up In Theft

Officers Thursday continued their search for the four Negroes implicated in the theft on Tuesday morning of $380 from the Newsom Food Store on West 3rd Street.

Fern Cox, deputy sheriff, said that no new leads have developed and that efforts to identify the pink and white 1957 automobile, in which the quartet was riding, have been unsuccessful.

Pole Downed

Firemen were called to Nineteenth and Nolan at 7:05 a.m. today when an electric line was struck by lightning and downed. It was repaired without incident, but the fire stations received numerous calls about the line.

South Tyrol Shaken Again By Bombings

BOLZANO, Italy (AP)—Troubled South Tyrol was shaken again today by terrorist bombings of power plants as Austria and Italy exchanged bitter protest notes in the flareup of the dispute dating back to World War I.

A dozen predawn blasts and crackling gunfire — apparently from army sentries guarding the power plants—echoed in the Alpine resort province where the German-speaking minority is demanding autonomy from Italian domination.

The terrorists directed their latest attacks primarily at power installations and railway lines.

Two power plants were reported damaged during the night. One was the Cardano plant, southeast of Bolzano, which supplies power as far as Piedmont on the French border.

Half a dozen electrical power pylons were damaged or knocked down and a railway tunnel for a local line was dynamited.

The raiders struck on a moonless night in drenching rain. The series of bombings appeared well coordinated.

Attacks were reported near Castebello, Nazschaves, Ora, Termeno, Frangarto and Salorno in the Bolzano area and at Ronchi, Valsugana, Lavaredo Torri del Benaco and Rival del Gardo in neighboring Trento.

The bombings were more of the agitation of the German-speaking Tyroleans who are being supported by Austria in their demands for the dominant voice in local government.

Austria formerly owned the South Tyrol but turned the area over to Italy after World War I.

Italy, in a sharp protest note Wednesday called Austria's attention to "its responsibility concerning . . . the recent terrorist acts in Italy."

Austria in turn complained of Rome's new restrictions on the Italian-Austrian border, where all crossers now must have visas and passports. Previously only identity papers were required.

Italy, angered by the latest flareup in dynamitings, also suspended further diplomatic negotiations with Austria on the dispute.

Snags Hit Femme Derby

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A plane crash in which no one was injured and continuing bad weather have thrown more snags into the Power-Puff derby.

For the first time in the 15-year history of the coast-to-coast air race for women, the original deadline had to be extended 24 hours—to 1 p.m. today.

Only 10 of the 97 planes in the San Diego to Atlantic City had crossed the finish line at dusk Wednesday and of those one was disqualified for bypassing two mandatory stops.

Two women were eliminated when their plane crashed in a field near the Lynchburg, Va., airport. Mrs. Teresa Vasquez of San Diego was the pilot of the Beechcraft Bonanza. She was accompanied by Miss Grazia Sartori of Rome.

The women were shaken up but unhurt.

Bad weather for the second straight day hampered many of the aircraft, which were grounded at Montgomery, Ala., and Jackson, Miss.

Among arrivals thus far, the team of Mrs. Elizabeth Hall of Oroville, Calif., and Mrs. Zoe West of Willows, Calif., held first place in the unofficial standings.

Disqualified was the team of Mrs. Barbara Kiernan of Boston and Mrs. Barbara Evans of Manhasset, N.Y. They arrived Tuesday, coming directly from Dallas.

Denies Tourist Business Is Bad

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The government tourist department said Wednesday that contrary to some reports, the tourists business has increased this year.

It said there have been 261,727 visitors to the interior from January through May compared with 261,394 for a similar 1960 period. They spent about $42 millions compared with $41 millions last year.

These figures, officials said, do not include visitors or spending along the border—figures which range far higher.

Earlier this week the Mexican Tourist Association said April and May were the worst tourist months in years.

Legion Baseball Game Postponed

The American Legion baseball game scheduled in Lamesa at 6 p.m. today has been postponed due to the weather.

Sanity Hearings

Five jury hearings on sanity matters are docketed for Friday morning at 10 a.m. at the Big Spring State Hospital. Ed C. Carpenter, county judge, will preside. The state will be represented by Wayne Burns, county attorney.

Khan, President Hold Their Final Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pakistan President Ayub Khan and President Kennedy held their third and final conference today. Kashmir, Pakistan's relations with India, and other problems were reported to figure in the talks.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk met the Pakistani leader at the entrance to the White House and escorted him to Kennedy's oval study.

"Both sides are pleased with the outcome of the talks," Rusk told newsmen.

"We have gone around the entire world situation," Rusk said, "and the problems confronting the Western allies have been thoroughly examined."

Strong assurances of continued U.S. economic support for Pakistan's $5-billion five-year plan were expected to come from the meeting.

The two leaders were to discuss the Kashmir question at their second White House meeting Wednesday but concentrated instead on Pakistan's economic development problems.

Ayub will be host to the Kennedys tonight at a formal dinner in a downtown hotel.

A communique will be issued before his departure Friday for New York aboard a U.S. Air Force plane.

U.S. and Pakistan officials both agreed that Ayub's visit here so far has cleared up misunderstandings and improved U.S.-Pakistan relations.

Pakistan officials made no secret of their desire that the United States take a more prominent role in inducing India to meet with Pakistan at a conference table to arrange a settlement of the Kashmir dispute.

Pakistan has held out for a plebiscite conducted by the United Nations to decide whether Kashmir belongs to Pakistan or India. India has turned down the plebiscite and incorporated two-thirds of Kashmir into the Indian National Union.

While holding out for a plebiscite high Pakistan sources indicated this would not bar the United States or some other third party from suggesting that India's Prime Minister Nehru and Ayub meet to arrange a negotiated settlement.

Col. Crowell Leaves Tuesday

Lt. Col. Dick M. Crowell, commander of the 331st FIS at Webb AFB, will leave Tuesday for his new assignment at Newport, R. I.

Col. Crowell will join the Air Force Staff at the Navy War College where he will instruct in ADC procedures and tactics.

Because of high ranking student officers attending the War College and the technical quality of the material presented, only the most qualified squadron commanders from each of the various Air Force Commands are chosen for this assignment.

Under the command of Col. Crowell, the 331st FIS has risen to one of the top squadrons in the Air Defense Command.

Some of the colonel's past assignments include a tour with the 1st Air Division in Okinawa and a tour as instructor pilot at Williams AFB, Ariz. He served as a member of the Training Staff at Ontario, Canada and, before coming to Webb AFB in 1959, was director of combat operations for the 33rd Air Defense Division at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Col. Crowell is well known in the civilian community, having been active in various military-community projects. He has been one of Webb's members on the Base-Community Council, has assisted in various civic projects, and has maintained membership in the Rotary Club.

COL. DICK CROWELL

The officers of the 331st and their wives were hosts at a formal dinner party last Friday evening honoring Col. and Mrs. Crowell. Wednesday evening the colonel was given final tribute at a dining in at the Officer's Club honoring him and welcoming his replacement, Lt. Col. Jack C. Price.

DEAR ABBY

Find Something To Pass Time

DEAR ABBY: My problem won't seem big to you, but it is big to me. I sit home, bored to tears, every night. No, I am not alone. My husband is lying on the couch with the earpiece of the transistor radio in his ear, listening to the baseball game. This happens almost every night. And on Sunday there is a double-header. I don't dare talk to him because I might be interrupting the best part of the game. He claims he still loves me. We have five children under six, but I would like to be talked to once in a while.

BORED

DEAR BORED: Don't tell me that a mother of five children under six can't find something relaxing to do for a few hours every evening while her husband is listening to the baseball game. Take a bubble bath. Read something. Take up needlepoint. Or get interested in baseball, too. But don't whine and plead boredom or your husband might go elsewhere to listen to the game in peace.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have a friend whose children NEVER have "colds," she calls their sniffles "sinus trouble." She claims it is not catching but, every time she sends her children to my house to play when they have "sinus trouble," my children get head colds. What do you do with a person like that?

MIDDLE OF THE BLOCK

DEAR MIDDLE: You tell her when the children have "sinus trouble" to please keep them home.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have a teenage daughter who is considered a beauty by everybody. We are middle class people, go to church regularly and try to live right. My daughter always has had plenty of dates. She has dated some of the finest and wealthiest boys in our city. But she never dates them more than once, although they ask her.

Now for my problem: She enjoys dating only the lowest kind of boys. She has even given me false names so I won't find out how low they are. Her father (who died when she was a child) always liked to pick up with the cheapest kind of trash. (I never told her about this). Could it be inherited? Why should a beautiful 18 - year - old girl, with nice clothes and a good home, want to go around with scum?

PUZZLED MOTHER

DEAR PUZZLED: People pick "inferior" companions because they want to feel "superior." It is not inherited. In spite of your daughter's apparent advantages, she still feels a sense of inferiority. Tell her to watch her step. Her reputation is at stake.

Weather In Atlantic Could Provide Test For Satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. AP) —A weather disturbance in the Atlantic could provide a quick test for the new camera-carrying Tiros III hurricane-hunter satellite.

The 285-pound satellite rocketed into orbit Wednesday to photograph and perhaps discover the cause of tropical storms. Within hours, the Miami Weather Bureau reported a disturbance southeast of Puerto Rico, 400-600 miles east of the Lesser Antilles.

Above-normal shower activity, clouds and moderate winds were reported from the area. Weather officials said over-all conditions were not favorable for hurricane development, but Navy hurricane patrol planes were to make a thorough aerial investigation.

A Tiros project officer said Tiros III probably would pass over the disturbance zone today and there was a possibility its two television cameras would obtain pictures of the potential storm.

A Thor-Delta rocket boosted the meteorological satellite into an orbit ranging from 460.74 to 506.52 miles above the earth. It circles the globe once every 100 minutes.

On its first pass, Tiros III transmitted 35 pictures showing cloud cover formation over Newfoundland, the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the St. Lawrence Valley region.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration described the photos as "excellent."

If project officials suspect the disturbance in the Atlantic could develop into a hurricane, they can command the two cameras to take pictures when the satellite is over the weather system. The photos will be stored on magnetic tape and played to ground stations at Wallops Island, Va., or San Nicolas, Calif., when Tiros III passes overhead.

Kidnaper's Daughter Dies

EVERETT, Wash. (AP)—Brenda Collins, 4, daughter of convicted kidnaper George Edward Collins, died Wednesday in a fire which swept a two-story wooden residence.

Collins, 23, was convicted Feb. 22, 1958, of second-degree kidnaping in the abduction of Lee Crary, 8, of Edmonds, Wash., in September, 1957. The child escaped after being tied to a tree. His parents got a note demanding $10,000 ransom.

Brenda was living with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Collins. They were away when the fire broke out from undetermined causes.

Collins is serving a 10-year term at the state reformatory in Monroe. His wife's whereabouts are not known.

Lightning Fatal To 8

CLINTON, N.C. (AP) — The farm workers were in the field harvesting tobacco when a typical summer shower started.

The workers, all nine of them, sought refuge in a nearby barn, as they had done before, leaving the cut leaf under a shelter, planning to return to their tasks after the shower ended.

For eight of them, there was no return.

A bolt of lightning smashed down the barn door, seared across the damp ground and cut them down in an instant, leaving no mark on their bodies.

Several other people in the barn were unhurt.

Among the victims was the sharecropper couple operating the simple farmstead, Oscar and Annette Cottle. Another was a 70-year-old Negro woman. The rest were teen-agers.

The lone survivor from among the nine was Eugene Daughtry, 16, who was hospitalized for shock. "I guess I was mighty lucky," said the strapping Negro youth.

"I had my head against one eurer," he went on, "and I saw the lightning when it came in. Something seemed to hit the back of my head. Then I heard the thunder, and that's all I remember."

The door was knocked off its hinges by the lightning bolt, but the barn was otherwise hardly damaged.

Killed in addition to the Cottles were William Keel, 13; Mary Morrisey, 70; Joyce Ann Mathis, 13; Ludie Mathis, 18; Earl Bell, 15; and Samuel Newkirk, 16. All but Keel and the Cottles couple were Negroes.

Guatemalan Plot Crushed

GUATEMALA (AP) — President Miguel Ydigoras claimed complete control of Guatemala today after crushing a new plot against his regime. But Ydigoras proclaimed a state of siege, a modified form of martial law.

A communique said the plotters were rounded up as they prepared to attack an air force base near the capital. Unofficial reports said about 100 persons were arrested. Machineguns, grenades and ammunition were seized.

Ydigoras said banners of Fidel Castro's Cuban revolutionary movement were taken from the rebels, but he conceded that the plot could have been planned by followers of former President Carlos Castillo Armas, a firm anti-Communist who was assassinated four years ago.

Sources close to the government said leaders of the conspiracy included extreme rightists who took part in an abortive revolt last November.

Several retired army officers were involved but none on active duty, a government spokesman said.

The nation was reported calm in the wake of the arrests. Troops were stationed at strategic points.

Psychiatrist Seeks Reincarnation Data

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) —Are there persons living today who lived another life in another body — perhaps in some bygone century?

An eminent University of Virginia psychiatrist isn't sure, but he says he has found enough evidence in a 10-year study to warrant further investigation.

For additional proof he is leaving Saturday for India and Ceylon, where several children claim to have memories of another life.

The doctor, Ian Stevenson, is professor of neurology and psychiatry and chairman of that department at the university's School of Medicine. He will work under a grant from the Parapsychology Foundation in New York.

He says succinctly, "There is some evidence that part of the human organism survives physical death." He says he is not referring to any organic part of the body, but "to what was called the soul in the 19th century."

Speaking of case studies of children who claim to have lived before, Dr. Stevenson says, "apparent memories of this kind are fragmentary, and usually fade as the children get older. Such children usually remember from a dozen to 20 items, and these are usually scenes of strong emotional significance, such as the death of a mother or father."

Dr. Stevenson said he hopes to release a full report within a year on one such case—this one involving a woman in Philadelphia.

He said that under hypnosis the woman undergoes a personality change and switches from English to an early form of Swedish dialect. Out of hypnosis, she speaks no Swedish at all and has no apparent connection with such a background.

If this sounds much like the famous case of the Pueblo, Colo., housewife who believed she was Bridey Murphy in 19th Century Ireland, Dr. Stevenson isn't worried. He believes in the evidence produced in that study, but adds it is not one of the best examples.

Dr. Stevenson said he is going to India for a seven-week visit because cases suggesting a previous existence are more prevalent there than in Europe or America. He said that perhaps the Buddhist and Hindu beliefs in reincarnation provide a favorable climate for stories of this kind.

In his studies, Dr. Stevenson acknowledges the possibility of a fantasy. It is entirely possible, he said, that the person could have learned the information through such normal channels as a newspaper, a family member or an acquaintance.

He admits, "This aspect of parapsychology is not yet recognized by many as a branch of science. There is slender evidence, nothing like proof. But the evidence of survival that we do have, slight though it is, justifies much more investigation."

Before coming to the University of Virginia four years ago, Dr. Stevenson, 42, a native of Montreal, Canada, was an associate professor of psychiatry at the Louisiana State University School of Medicine in New Orleans, and was a consultant in psychiatry to the Louisiana Department of Public Welfare and the Southeast Louisiana State Hospital.

Spaceman Gets Bussed

LONDON (AP)—A pretty British dental nurse kissed Soviet spaceman Yuri Gagarin Wednesday night and pronounced him "the most kissable man in the universe."

"Oh, it was wonderful, just wonderful," said Olivia Brayden, 23. "I'm mad about him. I shall remember it always."

Olivia ambushed the 5-foot-5 Russian as he emerged from the Soviet Embassy on his way to a reception. She flung her arms around his neck and gave him a solid smack on the cheek.

Yuri, a married man whose wife remained in Moscow, looked embarrassed.

So did his Soviet bodyguards. They grabbed the girl and pushed her back into the crowd gathered to see the spaceman.

Gagarin — who was kissed on both cheeks and the mouth by Soviet Premier Khrushchev after his space flight — quickly recovered his composure. He smiled, climbed into the car and rubbed at the lipstick on his cheek with his handkerchief as the car pulled away.

"Yes, I have a boy friend," Olivia told newsmen, "and I don't think he's going to like it very much."

Wayward School Bus Forgotten

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A wayward school bus wasn't really wayward—it was just forgotten.

The bus turned up Tuesday when a driver reported to owner Howard Illing that it had been parked at the driver's house. The driver said he had just forgotten about it until he read newspaper stories saying that Illing had reported the bus missing from a parking lot.

"I wondered why you didn't come and get it," the driver told Illing.

Jury Forms In Griffin Suit

BEAUMONT (AP)—A jury was to be seated today in the civil suit seeking the removal from office of suspended Dist. Atty. Ramie Griffin.

Lawyers agreed Wednesday on 24 prospective jurors. Each side struck six from the list from which the 12 jurors will be chosen.

The prospective jurors were questioned individually instead of in a group.

The 24 were chosen from a panel of 247.

Griffin has been under suspension since March 15 when the removal suit was filed.

Acting Dist. Atty. W. G. Walley Jr. was assisted in the prosecution by Joe Moss and Fred Hooey of Houston.

The five main charges against Griffin allege:

1. That he conspired with N.H. Helms, operator of the Jefferson Novelty Co. in Port Arthur, to allow pinball gambling in the county.

That he misused fees charged for collecting worthless checks.

That he accepted bribes to allow a mixed drink club to operate.

That he was drunk in public at a party for members of a grand jury last fall at the High Island fishing pier near Gilchrist.

That he failed to file injunction suits against gambling places and houses of prostitution.

Down For Count

British fighter Terry Downes stands over his opponent, Paul Pender of Brookline, Mass., who slipped to the canvas in the sixth round of their title bout in London. Pender was down for the count of two. Downes, of London, won part of the middleweight championship recognized in New York, Europe and Massachusetts when Pender quit at the end of the ninth round because of a deep cut over his left eye. Referee is Ike Powell of Wales. (AP Wirephoto via radio from London).

College All-Stars Open Grid Practice

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The 1961 College All-Star football team — 56 strong — reports to Head Coach Otto Graham today to open a three-week training program.

The collegians, who wound up their school competition last fall, will oppose the champions of the National Football League, the Philadelphia Eagles in the 28th annual All-Star game Aug. 4 in Soldier Field.

Graham's assistant coaches and the players register at Northwestern University today. The squad will hold one-a-day practice sessions Friday and Saturday and start twice-a-day session at Dyche Stadium Monday.

This is Graham's fourth year as head coach of the All-Stars. The former Northwestern and Cleveland Brown quarterback now is head football coach at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy.

Graham's assistants are Don Doll, formerly of Southern California; Dick Stanfel, San Francisco; John Sauer, U.S. Military Academy; Mike Scarry, ex-Cleveland Browns player and former coach at Washington State; and Dante Lavelli, Cleveland Browns.

Looking for beef as well as speed and ability, coaches selected 25 players who weigh from 230 to 285.

Ends include Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh; Earl Faison, Indiana; Marlin McKeever, Southern California; and El Kimbrough, Northwestern.

Among the tackles are Joe Rugens, 245, Illinois; Ken Rice, 245, Auburn; Bill Shaw, 250, Georgia Tech; and Bob Lilly, 255, Texas Christian.

Guards include: Jack Novak, 225, Miami of Florida; Myron Pottios, 228, Notre Dame; Jim Tyrer, 265, Ohio State, and Bruce Tarbox, 235, Syracuse.

Center prospects include Frank Visted, Navy; Mike Pyle, Yale; and Greg Larson, Minnesota.

Backfield prospects include: Tom Matte, Ohio State quarterback; Joe Bellino, Navy; Bob Crespino and George Blair, Mississippi; Tom Mason, Tulane; and George Flemming, University of Washington.

Philadelphia starts drills at Hershey, Pa., Friday.

Majors Resume After Time Out For Inter-League Tilt

By The Associated Press

The major league pennant races interrupted by a wild wind in San Francisco, pick up again today with the All-Star game heroes back in the pack in the National League running and the All-Star game goats on the threshhold of first place in the American.

The New York Yankees, whose sluggers, Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, contributed just one single between them in seven trips as the NL beat the AL 5-3 in 10 innings at San Francisco Tuesday in the windswept All-Star game, play at Chicago tonight and could regain the lead from idle, first-place Detroit.

New York slipped one percentage point behind the Tigers Sunday before the three-day All-Star game break.

In the National, the Cincinnati Reds take a five-game bulge into the opener of a four-game series with the seventh-place Chicago Cubs at Cincinnati. The second-place Los Angeles Dodgers, with pitcher Don Drysdale sidelined by suspension and catcher Norm Sherry sidelined by injury, start a three-game set at home against last-place Philadelphia.

Roberto Clemente of Pittsburgh drove in the winning run in the All-Star game an dWillie Mays of San Francisco, who batted in the tying run and scored the clincher, go back to belting against each other as the third-place Pirates play the Giants this afternoon at Candlestick Park, San Francisco's Cave of the Winds.

The other NL game sends Milwaukee to St. Louis tonight.

In the American, it's Baltimore at Boston, Minnesota at Cleveland and Kansas City at Washington.

The Yankees, 3-2 over the White Sox this season, send Bill Stafford (7-4) against Chicago and Early Wynn (7-1), the right-handed veteran who will be shooting for his 292nd career victory and sixth in a row. New York figures to have first baseman Bill Skowron back and doesn't expect to be without Mantle, who injured his wrist while batting in the All-Star game. Skowron injured his back once again in pregame practice on Sunday.

Willie Mays' Wife Seeks Separation

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The twice-divorced wife of Willie Mays filed a separate maintenance suit against the San Francisco Giants star Wednesday claiming he was indifferent, hostile and arrogant.

Scarlett Wendell (Marghuerite) Mays told a news conference at her attorney's office Willie "would come home in the evening, have dinner in his room and then go out to play pool. He plays pool almost every night he isn't playing baseball."

Charging mental cruelty, the svelte Mrs. Mays, who has a daughter, 14, by a previous marriage, asked $3,500 a month support for herself and the couple's 2-year-old adopted son, Michael Rosiny.

Port Aransas Man Leads Fish Derby

PORT ARANSAS, Tex. (AP)— C. W. Belcher of Port Aransas boated three large sailfish Wednesday and took the lead in the deep sea roundup.

His fishing partner, Clay Caldell of Corpus Christi, also caught three. All but one of the six fish measured more than seven feet.

Ken Ehman of Boerne took third place with two catches.

The tournament ends Friday.

IT'S 'BAD,' BUT—

Majors Go Right On Offering Those Big Bonus Payments

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues are paying out bonuses due to total $9,000,000 for high school boys and collegians and everybody in baseball says it's bad and ought to be stopped.

That's the way it is every year but nobody does anything about stopping it. Baseball is like that. The majors virtually ruined the the minor leagues with their television and said they sure hated to see the minors fade out, because then they wouldn't be able to get developed players. But they were getting millions of dollars for the broadcasts, so they just went right on doing them.

Few minor leagues are left and those that are functioning are losing money. The Texas League made two shifts with half the season not finished in order to stay afloat.

The baseball men say it's bad to pay a high school boy, who isn't likely to be able to stick in even the high minors, $100,000 bonus. It's costing a lot of money and the results are poor.

On the part of professional basbeall it is a bad practice. However, based on the way baseball operates, it is no more than just. Baseball signs boys just out of high school and boys who are only freshmen in college. Those boys are giving up an education for baseball and they deserve to be paid a sum that a college education would be worth. It is only reasonable to believe that an education would be worth $100,000.

If baseball had the same rules as pro football there would be none of the gigantic bonuses. Pro football will not sign a boy until his class has graduated in college, then it's by draft.

Pro baseball, however, refuses to follow such a line. Under its rules a high school boy can't be signed until he has finished his eligibility but the collegians are free game for the pro baseball scouts. The only stipulation is that a collegian won't be signed during the current college year, unless he's over 21 years of age. Then he can be signed anytime.

Actually, baseball is pretty strict regarding high school boys, which is commendable. A boy still in high school cannot be signed unless his high school eligibility has expired. Even then he is not obligated to report for baseball service until the class with which he originally entered high school has graduated (in other words, eight semesters after his original entry in the ninth grade).

Pro scouts can talk to high school students about baseball contracts at any time and they can conduct tryouts during the summer vacation. Pro baseball cannot pay the boy anything in the tryout camp.

The high school boy is taken care of but the collegian certainly is not. And if he gives up an education in favor of baseball he should be paid a sum commensurate. So it is difficult to sympathize with baseball because it is spending itself out of business by paying $100,000 in bonuses.

Thomas And Brumel Match Shaping Up

MOSCOW (AP) — Jumbo Jim Elliott has been running John Thomas through a concentrated course in high jumping and said today he hopes to see a successful end to the program in the United States-Soviet track meet Saturday and Sunday.

The Soviets have been building up to this showdown meeting between Thomas and Valery Brumel, the world's two top high jumpers, for months. Just Wednesday Soviet coach Gabriel Korobkov said the burden was on Thomas and that Brumel would win.

"John has been looking very good," said Elliott, the U.S. team coach. "If he keeps up his present form, I've got a hunch he's going to be hard to beat."

Elliott revealed that he has been working on Thomas' takeoff more than anything else.

"I think John has been worried too much about the bar and not enough about the takeoff," said Elliott. "I have been trying to get him to forget the bar.

"I think he has been approaching the bar too slowly and at the wrong angle. I have had him working on moving in a little faster, and then approaching the bar straight instead of at the angle he has been using."

Elliott is not a newcomer in coaching high jumpers. In fact, on the basis of how high the jumper can get over his own height, Elliott developed one of the best ever. Little Phil Reavis, 5-8, rose 6 feet, 10 inches—14 inches over his own height.

Thomas, for example, has gone 10¾ inches over his own height. He stands 6-5½ and his world record is 7-3¾.

Hard Storm Batters British Open Links

BIRKDALE, England (AP) — Paul Runyan of LaJolla, Calif., shot a 77 and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, an 81 as the early starters in the second round of the British Open Golf Tournament trudged through the dying gasps of a summer storm.

Thousands of dollars worth of damage was done to the clubhouse and the course during the night by the heavy rains and terrific winds. Hundreds of workmen started clearing the course of debris at daybreak to make it fit for play.

Stranahan, who had a 75 in Wednesday's first round, was the only early starter to break 40 on the out nine where par is 36. His card today was 39-42-81. Runyan registered 41-36-77. He also had a 75 Wednesday.

Weather conditions were such that Bobby Locke, the South African who has won this title four times, lost is ball off the first tee and registered an 8. Christy O'Connor of Ireland and Bob Charles of New Zealand, who led the qualifiers, each had a 7 there. Charles finally made it around in 84 for a two-day total of 156.

Dick Shapman Sr., the last of the six Americans in the field of 108, shot a fine 36-36—72.

David Miller of Scotland and Jean Garaialde of France each carded 69 to join Johnson.

Alan Brookes of South Africa and Lionel Platts of England each had 70s.

Arnold Palmer thought his chances in the tournament improved with the heavy rain drenching the parched fairways.

"I'm happy to see the course getting a soaking," said the favored pro from Latrobe, Pa. "It needed rain—and I'm sure playing conditions will be the better for it."

Palmer was poised at 70 after the first round of the championship, which carries a first prize of $3,920. He was two strokes behind the three first-day leaders—defending champion Kel Nagle of Australia, Harold Henning of South Africa and Dai Rees of Wales.

Three others were on 69, but Palmer's biggest rival for the title, Gary Player of South Africa, trailed at 73.

"I'm quite content with the position I'm in," Palmer said. "A great deal depends on the weather, but don't forget that the rain is not going to suit only me. It's going to please everybody in the field."

None of the 108 golfers competing for the title wants rain while they're actually playing, But most agree that the drenching will make the greens hold the ball better.

The reason why it suits Palmer is that he always plays right for the pin with raking irons—and the slower the greens, the more likely he is to start scattering birdies around.

The other three golfers at 69 were Dave Miller of Scotland, Norm Johnson of England and Jean Garaialde of France.

Ford To Receive Greater Rest

CHICAGO (AP)—Whitey Ford, who won 16 games in the first half of the season by working every fourth day, is going to get an added day of rest between starts of the New York Yankees the rest of the year.

Manager Ralph Houk announced the change today as the Yanks arrived for the opener of a 12-game road trip tonight against the Chicago White Sox.

Ford, at 32, is enjoying his finest season with a 16-2 record that tops the majors, isn't unhappy about the change, although it could keep him from a possible 30-victory season.

Tulsa Breaks Ice With Pan-Am Win

By The Associated Press

Tulsa went on a hitting spree Wednesday and became the only Texas League team to win a Pan American Association encounter.

The Oilers pounded out 22 hits in squelching Poza Rica 16-3. The 16 Tulsa runs was the largest total registered in this season's Pan American play.

San Antonio and Veracruz were deadlocked, 1-1, when the game was called after six inning because of rain. Two other games, Amarillo at Puebla and Ardmore at Mexico City Reds, were postponed by rain.

The Texas League teams fared poorly in the other two games. The Mexico City Tigers lambasted Victoria 6-1 and Monterrey defeated Austin 6-2.

The Oiler victory pushed the second place Tulsans to within two games of idle Amarillo in the Texas League standings.

Veteran Jockey Killed In Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidney Cole, a veteran jockey, was thrown and killed today during a workout at Aqueduct race track.

It was the second jockey death of the year at the huge track. Roy Gilbert was thrown during a race during the spring meeting.

Cole, born in Brooklyn but a resident of Elmont, N. Y., was killed in full view of the crowd in the grandstand as he worked out aboard a filly, Laurel Mae, on the back stretch between the first and second races.

Cole, planning a three-quarter mile workout, was thrown just about 20 yards after the start. The filly seemed to shy, turned into the rail and threw Cole into the infield.

Fans 4 In Inning

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thanks to a passed ball by catcher Del Rice, Ryne Duren of the Los Angeles Angels tied a major league record on May 18 when he fanned four Chicago White Sox batters in one inning.

No-Hitter Sparks First Round Of LL Playoffs

Bobby Bowers threw a no-hitter at the VFW in the Little League playoffs Wednesday evening and gave the T-Birds, International winners, a 1-0 victory over the VFW runnersup in the National League.

The victors managed to crowd a run over in the first and it took Bowers' great performance to hold on to the margin. The T-Birds got five hits but except for the first they couldn't bunch them.

Bowers got a double in the fifth but died on base. On the mound he struck out 11 and walked only three. Tonight the T-Birds are due to meet the Pirates at International League Park.

Homer Breaks Up Pitchers Duel Of Bucs, Local 826

A home run by Gary Rogers, with one aboard, broke up a pitchers duel Wednesday evening to give the Pirates, winners in the American League, a 2-1 victory over Local 826, runnerup in the Texas League.

Local 826 had gone ahead in the top of the sixth when Cuthburtson singled and was forced by Tony Martinez, who then advanced on Clendenin's walk and came home when Roberts mishandled Sapata's grounder.

Jackie Cathey singled to open the sixth for the Pirates, Sanders went down swinging and Rogers poled one out of the park to break up the ball game.

Rogers, who also was the winning pitcher, struck out 12 and walked only one. Ben Martinez was only slightly less effective, whiffing 10 and walking two. Each allowed only two hits.

The Pirates are scheduled to meet the T-Birds this evening, weather permitting, at the International League park.

Cards Swamp Sabres, 12-5

The Cardinals used the big innings to crush the Sabres in a Little League playoff game Wednesday, 12-5.

The Cards, winners in the National Major League, caught up with the Sabres with two runs in the bottom of the first, then went ahead to stay on a 4-run outburst in the second. Four more runs came in the fourth to ice it away.

Johnny McCullough got credit for the victory, striking out 10, walking four and scattering 7 hits. Except for issuing three walks and a single in the first, he was never in serious trouble although the Sabres got him for three runs three successive singles and a double.

Jack Ellis was tagged with the loss. He gave up 6 runs, six hits, struck out six and walked three. Mike Pederson, who succeeded him, gave up four hits, six runs.

Kirby Horton homered for the Cards in the second with one on.

The Cards now are due to meet the Colts this evening.

Lake Austin Hit By Flash Flood

AUSTIN (AP) —Damage was estimated at $100,000 in a predawn flash flood that swept pleasure boats from their mooring on Lake Austin.

Rains up to 5 inches sent Bull Creek on an 8-foot rise. The creek is a major tributary to Lake Austin. The lake was choked with debris in many spots.

Hardest hit was the Bull Creek lodge and dock, where dozens of boats were damaged or swept away.

The flood followed heavy rains that blocked Austin streets and marooned motorists Wednesday night. Skies cleared at daybreak.

Hurled In Brooklyn

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Clyde King, manager of the Rochester Red Wings of the International League, worked in 201 major league games for the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds as a relief pitcher from 1944 to 1953.

Lema Leads In Canadian

WINNIPEG (AP)—Tony Lema, a former U.S. Marine from California, carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the Canadian Open Golf Championship. He posted a sizzling 5-under par 65.

Meanwhile, some of the top names in golf, including Billy Casper, Doug Ford, Doug Sanders, Dow Finsterwald and Stan Leonard, sought to recover from over-par performances in Wednesday's rain-drenched opening round of the 72-hole tournament at Niakwa Country Club.

Lema, 27-year-old from San Leandro, Calif., fired six birdies with the help of some razor-sharp approach shots and a couple of clutch putts.

Hot on Lema's heels with 66s were rookies Bob Pratt, Houston, Tex., and Jacky Cupit, Longview, Tex., and Jon Gustin, Philadelphia. Marty Furgol and Howie Johnson, both of Lemont, Ill., were tied with Dave Hill, Denver for fifth. Each shot 67.

Bracketed at 68 were George Knudson, Toronto; Joe Tachan, Winnipeg; Bob Goalby, Crystal River, Fla.; Frank Boynton, Corpus Christi, Tex.; Mac Main, Danville, Va.; Tom Nieporte, Bronxville, N.Y.; and Jerry Steelsmith, Glendale, Calif.

Several hundred persons are expected to attend a testimonial dinner. Speakers include Lewis Jones, dean of men at Texas Tech.

Cawthorn attended high school in Houston played football at Southwestern University and coached at Beaumont High, Terrell Prep, Austin College, and Texas Tech. He also coached teams at Detroit and Brooklyn.

Craft Is Named Houston Manager

HOUSTON (AP) — Harry Craft, a member of the coaching staff of the Chicago Cubs, was named manager of the American Association Houston Buffs Wednesday.

Craft, former manager of the Kansas City Athletics, succeeds Lou Klein, who returns to the coaching staff of the Cubs.

Craft began observing the Buffs Tuesday and will take over active direction of the club Sunday.

Klein took over as Buff manager two months ago when Grady Hatton was promoted to director of player personnel for the National League Houston Colts, owners of the Buffs.

The Buffs this year have a working agreement with the Cubs.

Craft was an outfielder for six years with the Cincinnati Reds. He was a minor league manager from 1949 until 1955 when he joined the Athletics as a coach.

Gal Pro Class

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The second annual Ladies Professional Golf Association school will be held at the University of Michigan here Aug. 7-11. Among the pros who will teach are Patty Berg, Marilynn Smith and Peggy Kirk Bell.

Colts Upset Toby's, 11-5

Toby's winner in the Texas League, became the only victim among the favorites Wednesday in the first round of the Little League playoffs when the Colts, American League runners up, put on a 11-5 decision.

Leon Flores and Johnny Renteria had back - to - back homers in the fourth for Toby's but that was largely the extent of the power for the losers. Arrick, first up in the fifth, also smashed one out of the park for the Colts.

The Colts hopped on Chavarria, Toby's ace pitcher, for three runs in each of the first three innings. Except for the two homers, Johnny Stone, winning pitcher, scattered hits effectively.

The Colts are due to meet the Cardinals of the National League at the American League park this evening, weather permitting.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT (AP)—Dick Sikes, a jobless ex-caddy, and 15 other assorted hopefuls today entered the third round of match play of the 36th National Public Links—the man on the street's golf tournament.

In addition to the 21-year-old Sikes, who plans to pass up the fall semester at the University of Arkansas if he can land an airplane factory job in Wichita, the field includes:

Len Pietras, 27, National Caddy champion in 1951 and now a service foreman in a Toledo, Ohio carburetor plant.

Bill Kelley, 27, of Caroapolis, Pa., a Trinity (Tex.) College graduate who hopes to get a house construction job in Michigan.

Elmer Clites, 46, Antioch, Calif., a machine operator in a paper factory.

John Schlee, 22, who migrated to Memphis State from Seaside, Ore., on a golf scholarship.

Jay Law, 43, is a wood-pattern maker at Harper Woods, Mich.

Frank Campbell, 35, a Leeds, Ala., insurance man, who was runnerup in the tourney at Denver in 1959.

Roy Atkins, 46, a Portland, Ore. fireman.

Jim Hughey, 21, a Memphis railroad clerk.

Bob Lunn, a fuzz-faced 16-year-old son of a San Francisco policeman.

John Molenda, 22, student at Detroit Tech.

Bill Wright of Seattle, 25-year-old sixth-grade teacher, who became the first Negro ever to win a United States Golf Association title by taking the Public Links crown in 1959 at Denver.

Tom Tanaka, 43, a fire inspector at Hickam Air Field, Honolulu.

Mike Andonian, 35, high school math teacher at Pontiac, Mich.

Gary Peterson, 21, University of Minnesota physical education senior.

Lopez May Retire After End Of Current Season

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Al Lopez, veteran baseball player and manager who has spent 36 of his 52 years in the game, said Wednesday he may retire at the end of this season.

However, in an interview with Ralph Warner, Tampa Tribune sports columnist, Lopez said he didn't know what it would be like to "be out of the game."

When asked directly if he planned on retiring, he answered: "Could be."

Lopez, pilot of the Chicago White Sox, has been a manager 13 years.

The Tampa native started playing professional baseball as a 16-year-old catcher in the Florida State League. He spent 18 years as a major leaguer before becoming a manager.

In Chicago, the Sun-Times said it had contacted Lopez in Florida and quoted the White Sox manager as saying: "I don't know where he (Warner) got it."

Lopez said he told Warner he's not worrying about next year because he has a contract which runs through 1961 and "I'll finish the season before making any decisions."

♦♦ In Conjunction With Your ♦♦ Present Business or
OWN A NEW BUSINESS WITH AN EXCLUSIVE MARY CARTER PAINT FRANCHISE GRANT OF TEXAS

Be a part of one of the fastest growing paint firms throughout Texas and the Southwest. Only a few select areas still remain open for franchise. Already over 50 franchises have been granted in Texas, and these dealers are realizing huge profits through a continuous FREE paint offer. With every gallon or quart sold, a gallon or quart is given away absolutely FREE of extra cost.

THIS FREE OFFER FREE COSTS YOU NOTHING

These franchises can be granted in conjunction with your present business as a separate department, or as an entirely new retail paint store selling Mary Carter paint products exclusively. In either case you receive an exclusive franchise, therefore, you will be the sole distributor of Mary Carter products in your area. It is normal for our retail outlets to turn their inventory over eight to ten times yearly. Our products are manufactured in Conroe, Texas for Texas use and are formulated to resist the extreme climatic conditions of the great Southwest. The rapid acceptance of these Mary Carter franchises by Texas businessmen is due largely to the specific benefits that are granted to each franchisee. These benefits help the dealer to realize immediate profits. The following are only a few of the benefits granted: There are no franchise fees or royalty payments; your advertising is co-oped 50/50. A minimum skeleton stock is your only investment outside of your operating capital. Paint experience is not necessary since you will be thoroughly trained by our own personnel, at our expense. Our franchise grants are very flexible to your needs and your trade area. For instance, if you already have a business, add a paint department to capitalize on your customer traffic and make huge profits. Groceries, hardware, feed and seed and many other dry good line outlets have increased their profits by opening a Mary Carter paint department. You, too, can increase your income with a Mary Carter franchise for an inventory investment of $3000 or less depending upon your needs and the size of your trade area. If you are not in business now, you can open your own full line Mary Carter store with an inventory investment of $5000 or less in direct relationship to your needs and your trade area. This flexible program enables more businessmen in Texas to qualify for our franchise grants.

Mary Carter franchises have received wide acceptance by businessmen not only in the Southwest, but throughout the nation. This is best illustrated by the fact that we have over 600 retail branches in 36 states. Our paint franchises are unlike any others offered by competitive paint companies. You risk nothing except time and overhead since your inventory is refundable. We are able to offer this guarantee since our success story is unparalleled in the paint industry. We welcome a visit by you to any of our retail branches in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arkansas and neighboring states, so that you can see the success of our dealers and learn how you, too, can increase your income with a minimum amount of investment. Be a part of this fast growing Texas corporation. Our franchise grants are the envy of the paint world, consequently they are highly coveted. You may qualify for one of the areas still open for franchise in Texas. Upon request, literature will be forwarded to you free of any obligation.

U.S. Warns Sauce Can Cause Food Poisoning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has warned that Hayden's hollandaise sauce could cause food poisoning.

The FDA Wednesday advised consumers to destroy any of the sauce they might have on hand and said dealers should stop selling the product. Shipments are being seized at several points across the country.

The FDA said 25 cases of food poisoning have been reported by the Los Angeles City Health Department and that the product in California has been quarantined.

FDA Commissioner George P. Larrick said the manufacturer has been asked to recall the product—a cream sauce used mostly on vegetables—from the market.

The maker of the sauce is Hayden's Hollandaise, Inc., of College Point, N.Y. In New York, Joseph Buch, the firm's attorney, said it had been in business for some 30 years and that there was "never any incident like this." He said the company had received no report of the FDA analysis.

Latins To Learn Commie Tactics

FORT AMADOR, Panama Canal Zone (AP)—The U.S. Army unveiled plans Tuesday to instruct Latin-American military commanders on the theories and practices of Communist aggression.

The course, which will stress means to combat subversive and guerrilla tactics developed by the Soviet and Chinese Communists, will begin July 31 at Fort Gulick in the Canal Zone. It will be similar to one now taught at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Many Latin-American republics have requested such a course.

Nixon, Tower To Trade Talks

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., will speak in each other's states during a series of fund raising dinners next fall.

Texas Republican Chairman Tad Smith, said this after a visit with Nixon Wednesday.

They also discussed the possibility of Nixon touring Texas to assist GOP congressional candidates next year, but no decision was reached.

The central committees of both states will prepare the schedules for the mutual exchange of talks by Tower and Nixon.

Jammed Doors Bring Death

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Richard Hock, 33, a movie stunt man well versed in dangerous exploits, burned to death when the doors of his compact car jammed after a traffic accident.

Hundreds of persons on the crowded Santa Monica beach saw Hock's car collide with another small auto Wednesday, then watched as the stunt man vainly attempted to free himself after the front-mounted gas tank exploded.

William Holland, a beach club employe, attempted to put out the flames with a fire extinguisher. He also tried to pry open a door before the flames drove him away.

The other motorist, Gerald Irving, 40, Canoga Park, escaped serious injury.

In Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. is hospitalized for a complete physical checkup. A spokesman at Mt. Sinai Hospital said that Davis entered the hospital Tuesday and is expected to be released by Friday.

Laredo Wins Industrial Award

HOUSTON (AP)—The City of Laredo was judged the grand award winner of the Texas Manufacturers Association's 11th annual industrial week competition.

Hull Youngblood, vice president for TMA public relations, said Laredo held a vigorous campaign, "Laredo in the 60's," to revitalize the economy of the area through the location and expansion of industry.

Youngblood said awards of merit also were made to Denton, Garland, Grand Prairie, Kingsville, Lewisville, Midland and Mineral Wells.

Disaster Area

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Small Business Administration designated Tarrant County, Tex., Wednesday as a disater area as result of floods June 24 and 25. The action permits home owners, business firms, churches and charitable institutions to apply to the SBA for loans to repair damage.

Retailers Elect

AUSTIN (AP) — Edward Sullivan of San Antonio was elected president of the Texas Retail Federation Wednesday. Jack Price of Sherman was named first vice president.

Site Of Air Wreck Probed

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Tight-lipped federal and company investigators tried to pinpoint responsibility today for a United Air Lines DC8 jet liner landing crash that killed 17 persons Tuesday.

Of the 122 aboard, at least 50 received hospital treatment and 38 suffered minor injuries. None was in critical condition.

United imposed a complete blackout on any explanations of all seven crew members who escaped or from other company employes. UAL President W. A. Patterson, here from Chicago, refused to answer any queries from newsmen.

Federal investigators turned aside reporters' questions with a cryptic "There's nothing to say."

Fire Chief Allie Feldman of Denver snapped back at critics who alleged there was delay in fire - fighting equipment reaching the crash scene.

"It didn't make any difference how many pieces of fire equipment we had there we couldn't have saved those 16 people," Feldman said. Those 16 passengers died in the flaming wreckage. The 17th victim was a Denver city engineer.

He was crushed when the mammoth airliner, reporting a hydraulic system malfunction, skidded from a runway at an estimated speed of 120 to 140 m.p.h. and slammed into his truck, in use on a construction project.

New Set Of Twins

Mrs. Marion Pearson looks admiringly at her seventh set of twins at a Jacksonville, Fla. hospital. The boys were number 17 and 18 for the 37-year-old mother and her 43-year-old husband, a television repairman. The boys will be named by their father. One weighed 5 pounds 10 ounces, the other 6 pounds 11 ounces. Thirteen of the Pearson children are living.

Relief Cost Revolt Grows

By The Associated Press

Moves to lighten the relief load are under way in many sections of the nation.

They vary in form—putting the able-bodied to work for their dole, cracking down on chiselers, or training unskilled men and women so they can help themselves.

Newburgh, N.Y. has brought the subject of public aid to national attention. The city plans to override state objections and put new rules into effect Saturday. The rules would, among other things:

Make the mother of illegitimate children ineligible for further aid if she has any more children out of wedlock.

Limit welfare recipients, except for the aged, blind and disabled, to three months of assistance in any one year.

5 PER CENT

Newburgh officials estimated about 5 per cent of the city's 31,000 population is on relief. They contended taxpayers no longer can afford the mounting costs. And City Manager Joseph Mitchell asserted:

"There is a crying need for a reappraisal of the role of welfare in our society."

It's a big subject. The unemployed now number 5.6 million. Individuals on general relief rolls total about 1.5 million. Automation is causing concern about the future.

An Associated Press survey today showed that work-for-hour-relief programs are becoming widespread but they are far from general in scope. One theory behind them is that a man who has to work for a relief check will look for a better job.

A work policy has been in effect since 1956 in Phillipsburg, N.J. Mayor Arthur W. Paini said every able-bodied man applying for relief is put to work in parks or on roads for $1.50 an hour. He figured the plan has cut welfare costs from about $50,000 a year to around $20,000 last year.

SAVE BILLIONS

"If this system were employed all over, it would save billions of taxpayers' dollars," he said.

How do reliefers react?

A woman recipient went on duty in a library as part of a work relief program set up this year by the Washington State Legislature. She liked it well enough to work longer than necessary to earn her monthly benefits.

The Washington Department of Public Assistance mentioned that case to pinpoint what it called a good response to the program.

The Washington state legislators trimmed $14.5 million from the sum requested by the department for the 1961-63 period. That led, in turn, to a 10 per cent cut in payments to those who receive general and disability assistance and aid to dependent children. The reduction affects almost 60,000 persons.

Eight counties in Oregon required men on welfare rolls to cut brush along highways, prepare surplus food for distribution and clean up fairgrounds this summer.

HARD WORKER

Louis Ringuette, chairman of the Josephine County Welfare Commission, spoke of a small, elderly man who runs a chain saw in tree-and-brush clearing work. He said: "You'd think he was getting $5 an hour the way he keeps it going."

Marion, Ill., gave work-for-relief a trial for seven months. Only about half of the eligible workers showed up. The city dropped the program in April of this year but resumed it again last week.

Five years ago Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) Ohio, began a program for retraining employable relief clients. It hired personnel specialists. They catalogued relief rollers, gave them on-the-job training in county hospitals and other institutions and helped them get work. John J. Schaffer, county welfare director, said more than 1,400 persons have been put on payrolls. He reckoned the transfer cut the relief load by about $1.5 million.

TRAINING SHOP

Cook County (Chicago) operates a training shop where reliefers learn to handle spray paint equipment, sewing and metal working machines and electrical appliances. Last month the center sent 888 persons to private employment.

In a pilot program in Cincinnati, 40 persons who had been on relief for an average of three years were trained for jobs as maids and hotel housemen. These people had cost the state $65,000 a year in direct payments. The training program, costing a total of $850, made them self-sufficient wage earners.

"You can make good citizens of low IQs," commented Mary Gorman, director of Ohio's Department of Public Welfare. "They will do things happily that a more intelligent person would not do because he would become bored. They should be taxpayers, not welfare recipients."

TIGHTEN UP

Texas tightened up its aid to dependent children program with an appreciable saving. Assigning specialists to make more thorough investigations brought these results: a drop from 24,974 cases involving 79,957 children and $1,768,372 in June, 1959 to 19,652 cases involving 60,586 children and $1,471,914 in June, 1961.

Louisiana enacted a law last year to cut off aid to dependent children to any mother who had an illegitimate child after she drew a welfare check. Action was made retroactive, and 22,500 of the youngsters were removed from the benefit lists.

But the law also provided that a mother could regain eligibility by proving her home was suitable. One way was by getting married legally. One way or another, all but 4,500 of the children have been restored to the rolls.

Florida also has whittled down its aid to dependent children load. Under a 1959 law assistance can be stopped when a family doesn't have a suitable home. The results: a review of 15,000 cases and many voluntary withdrawals.

FRAUD FIGHT

Rhode Island is stepping up a drive against fraud in the collection of public assistance. A new law there provides stiffer penalties for such deception.

West Virginia has found considerable evidence of cheating in applications, especially in the program for distributing surplus commodities. The chiseling took the form of lies about income and dependents to establish eligibility. Starting this month, applications will include an oath that the information is true.

There have been some steps towards broadening rules.

Connecticut, for example, abolished its "settlement requirement" for assistance. Previously, applicants had to live in the state at least four years, and had to be self-supporting during that period.

California's legislature recently made aliens eligible for state aid and increased payments and generally liberalized eligibility regulations for various programs.

General relief is a state and local business. But the federal government contributes to other kinds of programs and reserves the right to withhold funds if a state plan doesn't meet its approval.

The Indiana Legislature, in 1951 made the welfare rolls public records, and thus open to inspection. Federal aid was withheld. But the stalemate ended when Sen. William E. Jenner, R-Ind., got a rider attached to an appropriation bill in Congress that sent U.S. assistance to Indiana despite its open-books law.

Famed Mansion Will Be Razed

NEW YORK (AP)—The 50-room Vanderbilt mansion, once a center of the city's high society, will be razed to make room for a 20-story modern apartment building.

The Frouge Corp. said Tuesday it has purchased the limestone structure at Fifth Avenue and 67th Street, and will tear it down to make way for a cooperative apartment building.

Fall Previews Show Fashions Deceptive In Line And Fabric

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone who doesn't already know that women are a deceptive lot would get an instant education at the New York couture group's fall style previews this week.

More than 200 female writers here for fashion press week saw the mannequins demonstrate their witchery.

Clothes did the tricks.

For example, on the runway stood Whistler's mother, shoulders bent wearily under the weight of a huge fringed white shawl, a demure white skirt reaching her toes. Then as suddenly as she could whip off the shawl she turned into somebody's sultry granddaughter in a decollete dinner gown that even a non-Whistler would whistle at.

Time and again models strode the runway in Monte-Sano's "poor girl" cloth coats—big woolly plaids not too expensive looking for a trip to the Internal Revenue office. Yet for the walk back they were rich girls, with coats reversed to mink, nutria and cat fur sides, proving you can always hide money in the lining.

Yet even the most knowledgeable women reporters were deceived by some of designer Jane Derby's Empire silhouettes.

"Is she or isn't she?" they whispered behind their hands as pretty young ladies paraded one by one in dresses that belted and flared out suddenly at the bosom line in an enceinte way. They weren't.

Fabrics in the show were foolers too. Coats that looked like politically historical vicuna were not. Materials quilted to seem like karakul fur had not a hair. Dresses that appeared to be knit or jersey or cottons were something else again.

There was no fooling anyone about color trends this year, however. Designers Jane Derby, Monte-Sano and Branell showed their partiality to forest greens, deep navies, and black and brown combinations.

And white, once reserved for brides and summertime tans, is a snowy favorite for winter with each designer. But then fashions for fall and winter are as contrary as they are deceptive.

Gray and brown, brown and red, orange and red—hitherto unheard of hues in the same company—are now compatible companions. Wools once preferred for coats and suits are slinky tubular evening dresses. And satins, reserved to go with the cocktail shaker, have become a part of tailored little business suits.

But there's no point in being deceptive about the high cost of keeping in style this year. Instead of that one good, serviceable winter coat ordinarily expected to last several seasons, a Monte-Sano spokesman predicts that at least three or four will need to be in every woman's closet.

Dresses and suits will continue to match coats, an expensive style trend that began this spring.

Women Are Successful As Mountain Lookouts

DUNSMUIR, Calif. (AP) — Now women are taking over the mountain tops.

They live in lonely lookout posts, protecting the national forests around Mt. Shasta in northern California from the scourge of forest fires.

The 600 square miles of forest land bracketing Mt. Shasta, known as the Sacramento district of the Shasta - Trinity National Forest, is guarded by just four lookouts—al, women.

Most of the other lookouts to the east and north of the mountain also are women.

Women have proved better qualified for the lonely duty than men, says John Watt, district ranger.

They are better able to maintain the alert and careful watch, and to withstand the monotony of 13 solitary hours daily searching for telltale traces of smoke.

They're accurate, to the point, and don't miss a thing, Watt says. He recalled the startled deer hunters on Mt. Eddy when smoke jumpers parachuted down on them shortly after a woman lookout spotted their large campfire.

A lookout, living alone on a mountain top, faces some danger from accidents, snakes, wild animals and the general public but mostly she needs a healthy respect for, but calm attitude toward lightning.

Once lightning ripped the phone right out of the hand of Pearl Cown, a widow in her late 40s, spending her sixth summer on Mt. Bradley south of Mt. Shasta.

Lookouts are cautioned to keep thier phones unplugged when thunderheads hover too closely. But lightning - set fires must be quickly charted and reported.

"During a lightning bust I may report seven to 10 fires in an hour," Mrs. Cown says.

The lookout has to say it quickly and get off the air to allow other lookouts to report.

The women used to be allowed half an hour after dark to gossip with each other by radio. But that has been curtailed to save batteries.

Even a man and wife on separate mountains southeast of the Sacramento District can exchange only brief messages. "We save a lot of talking for winter," says Mrs. Irene Sherman, who spends her summers atop Little Round Mountain while her husband, Carl lives on Hirz Mountain.

Among women lookouts in neighboring forest regions are a service wife whose husband's sea duty coincides with her mountaintop vigil in the McCloud district, and a wife who shares Bear Mountain lookout duties with her retired husband.

Ah, Wilderness

In her lonely lookout post high on Mt. Bradley, Calif., Mrs. Pearl Cown surveys the surrounding countryside in search of smoke, which may indicate the dread forest fire.

Programs Are Varied For Garden Groups

Tips on growing iris were given to a local garden club Wednesday afternoon, while another group prepared for the fall flower show by viewing flower arrangements.

PLANTERS CLUB

Mrs. Norman Read, a member of the Big Spring Garden Club, was guest speaker for the Planters Garden Club Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Donald Hine.

Taking the subject of irises, Mrs. Read told the group of the plant's history from earliest Biblical times and encouraged members to grow the flower.

Well-drained, slightly elevated soil, is necessary, the speaker said, with beds made of a third soil, a third peat moss and a third sand. Bone meal should be added at planting time, but should not touch the rhizome, Mrs. Read cautioned.

Rhizomes should be divided in July and August about every two to five years, with foliage cut in the shape of a fan, Mrs. Read said. Cut brown spots from the rhizome and dip in a solution of Clorox to disinfect.

A question and answer period followed the discussion.

On display in the family room was a table laid in a patriotic theme; a skipper blue cloth was centered with a white panel with a scattering of gold stars. Crystal holders supported tapers, and red and white roses were in a white pitcher.

Mrs. Hine was appointed reporter for the club. Members discussed the possibility of organizing and sponsoring a junior garden club in the near future.

For the next meeting a salad luncheon is slated with the hostess and place to be announced. Ten members and three guests, Connie Hine, Ann Trantham and Wynelle Collins, were present.

Uncle, Nephew Keep Family Busy, Grandmother Reports

An uncle and his nephew are the reasons Mrs. Henry Stewart, 1808 E. 15th, describes her family as busy. The uncle is the Stewarts' four year-old son, Don Henry, and his nephew is the Stewarts' one year-old grandson, Michel David Myrick.

Mrs. Stewart and her daughter, Mrs. C. J. Myrick, 305-B W. 8th, spend so much time running after their two boys that they seldom have time for anything else. That is one good reason why they collect easy and quick to make recipes.

Other than Don, Mrs. Stewart's family also includes a 15-year-old daughter, Alice, and Mrs. Stewart's husband, all of whom are hearty eaters. It's a good thing that Mrs. Stewart doesn't mind cooking; in fact she enjoys it.

Cooking was Mrs. Stewart's job before Don was born. She was home service advisor for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., which called for giving advice on how to cook and what to cook.

Mrs. Stewart can't remember ever learning to cook, but she does remember having to stand on a box to make cornbread when she was a child. Like mother, like daughter, both of Mrs. Stewart's daughters learned to cook when they were youngsters. Mrs. Myrick recalls that her father always said that a girl who can't cook a whole meal isn't old enough to date.

An example of the Stewarts' "busyness" is their seven room home, completely built by Mr. and Mrs. Stewart in a three-month period. Always making changes around the house, Mrs. Stewart and her husband plan to remodel the living room by repainting, adding new furniture and taking out a window.

With that much work lying ahead, Mrs. Stewart likely will prepare easy, quick, cool meals. As her husband likes desserts, especially pies, Mrs. Stewart knows an ice box pie recipe that fits the above category.

PINEAPPLE-JELLO PIE

This recipe is perfect for summer as it is refreshingly cool to eat and to make.

1¼ cup pineapple (crushed)
1 pkg. lemon jello
¾ cup sugar
1 cup evaporated milk (chilled)
1 tbsp. lemon juice

Bring pineapple to a boil and add jello and sugar. Cool until stiff; whip evaporated milk, add 1 tbsp. lemon juice; add and mix with gelatin. Pour into baked pie shell and refrigerate until set.

A favorite pastime for the Stewarts is having company over to play games of 42 or having friends for dinner. Mrs. Stewart's company dish is chicken cornetti. This meal-in-one is made with an abundance of vegetables and serves from 10 to 12 persons.

CHICKEN CORNETTI

1 4-lb. stewing chicken, cut up
Water
4 tsps. salt
1 lb. broken spaghetti
2 cups finely diced celery
½ lb. cubed pimento cheese
¼ cup chopped green pepper
½ cup chopped onion
2 tsps. paprika
1 No. 303 can whole kernel corn
½ cup sliced stuffed olives

Cover chicken with water. Add salt; cover and simmer until tender, 2 or 3 hours. Cool. Remove meat from bone and cut into pieces. Bring broth to boil; add spaghetti, chicken, celery, green pepper, onions and paprika. Cook 12 minutes. Add corn, olives and cheese, cook 5 minutes.

Other ways Mrs. Stewart stays busy is doing voluntary work for the state hospital, by teaching patients to cook and keep house; attending the College Baptist Church and taking her son swimming each Thursday.

Uncle And Nephew

Don Stewart and his nephew, Michel David Myrick, are more like brothers as they always play, fight or get into mischief together. Here the boys patiently wait to sample Mrs. Henry Stewart's pie.

There's A Cheese For Every Taste

That centuries-old art of cheesemaking has progressed to a point you can find a cheese for every taste, mood or occasion.

The wide range of distinctive flavors, textures and colors plus the ease of serving with no waste make cheese a favorite for summertime meals and snacks. And how nutritious cheese is, too!

Natural cheeses such as Cheddar, Colby or the many other varieties contain almost all the protein, butterfat, sugar and minerals of the whole milk from which they are made.

June Dairy Month is a good time to get better acquainted with the many varieties of cheese, points out the Agricultural Marketing Service, since most dairy foods are selling at special prices during this national festival.

You'll find natural cheeses, process cheeses and related products—each with its own characteristics—so save money by selecting the kind of cheese best suited for your purposes.

Natural cheeses must age or ripen. This influences flavor, so they may range from mild to very sharp. Also, they may be firm or soft in body. These factors will govern how you wish to use them. All are good eaten "as is."

Pasteurized process cheese is a blend of fresh and aged natural cheeses which have been shredded, mixed and heated with no further ripening after heating. The blend often contains vegetable or meat products which modify its flavor.

Cheese foods or spreads resemble process cheese, but contain less cheese, with nonfat dry milk or whey solids and water added. They are milder in flavor, spread more easily and melt more quickly than process cheese.

Potatoes In Resin Go With Shrimp

If you are lucky enough to be able to cook potatoes in resin, you'll find they'll taste wonderful with this shrimp.

WEST COAST SHRIMP

2 lbs. jumbo shrimp (12 to 16 to a pound)
¼ cup butter
2 cloves garlic (crushed)
Lemon Wedges

Shell and devein raw shrimp. Melt butter with garlic; dip shrimps in mixture. Skewer shrimp and broil over charcoal just until opaque through—about 5 minutes, turning once.

Serve at once. Use any of the garlic butter left to pour over shrimp. Makes 6 servings.

Flummery Pie

Flummery Pie is adapted from a recipe popular in the 1890's. This version uses a creamy fresh fruit filling and a pie shell with a fancy border.

Have You Tasted Flummery Pie?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Any cook who wants applause needs only to bake a pretty, fancy pie shell. Easy to do, if you have a bit of time, and such an elegant show for company.

What will you choose for the pie shell's rim—crescents, coins or buttons? For any of these borders, fit the pastry into the pie plate and trim the overhang even with the plate's edge; now use the trimmings for the shapes.

Cut out crescents with a small crescent-shaped cutter from a canape-cutter set; press the crescents onto the slightly moistened pie-shell rim so they barely touch.

For coins, cut out ¾ inch rounds, using the center of a doughnut cutter or a thimble. Overlap the rounds on the slightly moistened pie-shell rim pressing down lightly.

For buttons, make cutouts with a small metal bottle cap and place these, just touching, on the slightly moistened pie-shell rim. Now use a wooden skewer to simulate button holes by piercing the center of each round of dough in four places.

How to fill the decorated baked pie shell? Here's Fruit Flummery Pie!

Desserts named Flummeries were popular in the 1890's, and one of these was made with sweetened and flavored gelatin mixed with beaten egg whites and lots of cream.

This 1961 recipe bears weight-watchers in mind, so it calls for lots of fruit and a minimum of cream. Our family tasted it after a spicy main course and judged it "refreshing."

FRUIT FLUMMERY PIE

2 cups thinly sliced fresh pared peaches
¾ cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1-3 cup very hot water
1 tbsp. lemon juice
Salt
2 egg whites
½ cup heavy cream
Fancy Pie Shell

Sprinkle fruit with sugar and allow to stand 30 minutes. Soften gelatin in cold water; add very hot water and stir until dissolved; cool.

Mix sugared fruit, dissolved gelatin, lemon juice and a dash of salt. Chill until partly set. Whip egg whites until stiff; whip cream until stiff.

Fold beaten egg whites, then beaten cream, into fruit-gelatin mixture. Turn into baked Fancy Pie Shell.

Chill until filling is set; before serving garnish with extra fruit.

FANCY PIE SHELL

1 cup sifted enriched flour
½ tsp. salt
1-3 cup shortening
2 to 4 tbsps. cold water

Sift together the flour and salt. Cut in shortening until it is the size of small peas. Sprinkle with water while mixing lightly with fork.

Turn out on prepared pastry cloth and form into a ball; flatten to ½-inch thickness and smooth edges. Roll out ⅛-inch thick; fit into 9-inch pie plate; trim overhang; decorate edge with cutouts from trimmings.

Prick shell with fork. Bake in 425 or 450 degrees oven for 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool and add Fruit Flummery filling.

Dry Crumbs

To make fine dry bread crumbs, cut off the crusts from bread that is stale but not hard. Dry the bread in a slow oven, then put through the food grinder.

Lemon Puff Is Delicious Dessert

SWEET LEMON PUFF

4 large eggs (separated)
1 can (14 ozs.) condensed milk
1½ tsps. grated lemon rind
1-3 cup lemon juice
½ cup finely crushed zwieback
1½ tbsps. sugar
2 tbsps. butter (melted)
¼ cup finely chopped pecans

Beat egg yolks until thick and ivory colored; beat in until thoroughly blended the condensed milk, lemon rind and juice. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff; fold into lemon mixture.

Mix zwieback crumbs, sugar and pecans; pat half into buttered 8 by 8 by 2-inch pan. Pour in lemon mixture; sprinkle with remaining crumb mixture.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 30 minutes; allow to remain in oven with heat turned off and door closed for 1 hour. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Clean Range

The surface units of a range should be wiped off at least once each day; some homemakers wipe them off after any meal for which any large amount of cooking has been done.

Pennsylvania Sweets, Sours Inspire Racy Slaw Relish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

The seven sweets and seven sours of Pennsylvania-Dutch tables have inspired a racy accompaniment to a simple meat course. Recently tested, this Hot Slaw Relish is one we will make many times. Try it and see how it stacks up with your family's and your own taste buds.

Frankfurters and boiled new potatoes "go good" with this sweet-sour cabbage. One reminder about the franks: They need only to be plunged into boiling water and allowed to simmer, covered, for 8 to 10 minutes. They should never be boiled.

After scrubbing the new potatoes in cold water, pare a wide band from around the middle of each and steam the spuds in their jackets. Don't drown them in water! You can steam a pound of new potatoes in as little as half a cup of water with a teaspoon of salt.

Keep the saucepan on high heat until the water bubbles again, then turn the heat low for the 25 or 30 minutes of cooking they'll need. If any water remains, drain it off, and shake the potatoes in the saucepan over low heat for about a minute so they will dry.

We find this Hot Slaw Relish tastes delicious also with roast beef and buttered noodles and with broiled or pan-fried steak and creamed potatoes.

Keep it in mind, too, when you are roasting a leg of lamb or baking a half ham because it should do a lot for some of the leftover meat that is usually sliced thin and served cold.

HOT SLAW RELISH

1-3 cup firmly - packed light brown sugar
2 tsps. salt
½ tsp. celery seed
1-3 cup cider vinegar
½ cup corn oil
2 tbsps. horseradish mustard
1 head (2 lbs.) green cabbage

In a large heavy skillet, stir together the brown sugar, salt, celery seed, vinegar, oil and mustard. With a large sharp kitchen knife, shred the cabbage; there should be about 8 cups firmly packed.

Add the shredded cabbage to the mixed seasonings in the skillet and toss together.

Simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until the cabbage is as tender as you like and flavors are blended.

NOTE: If the relish is to be served sandwich-style with frankfurters in buns, there will be enough of the hot slaw for about 12 franks.

Dutch Style

Hot slaw relish goes good with franks, new potatoes and a loaf of homemade bread. This dish is inspired by the Pennsylvania Dutch sweets and seven sours.

Now, a really different barbeCUE sauce made by folks — and for folks — who know good barbeCUE.

A Devotional for Today

It came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. (Luke 6:12.)

PRAYER: Under the canopy of the sky, O God, we come to Thee. Teach us to be appreciative of Thy works around us. Teach us to become more aware of Thy presence in the beautiful out of doors. Through Christ, who prayed in the garden, we pray. Amen.

(From The Upper Room)

The Difference In Towns

With the challenge "let's finish the job," the YMCA has launched its effort to retire the remaining debt on the new plant.

The appeal is for old friends of the Y to continue their previous pledges just one more year, and for others, who did not have a part, to join in having a share of this community achievement.

Of course there are conistant appeals for our dollars, but this one has some extra merit.

First of all, the new plant has proven that it has opened up service on volume and in activities far beyond what was ever claimed before the building was erected. This validates the wisdom of the decision to erect the building before every dollar was in hand.

Secondly, the YMCA building is an evidence of community conscience. It says as few other things could say that the people of Big Spring believe in worthwhile institutions to the extent of digging into their pockets so that adequate, modern facilities can be provided for them. A lot of towns, which never really get off the ground, talk about the desirability of these things. Big Spring has done something about them. Indeed, it is still doing something about them in this current appeal. We hope that you will be a part of it.

Potentially Important Achievement

The latest United States space achievement is as timely as it is potentially important.

The orbiting of the Midas III space missile was more successful than anticipated. The scope of the orbit reflects far more power in the orbital stage rockets than heretofore employed. It also indicated an ability to put the objects into whatever pattern of orbit may be desired.

This is important for a variety of reasons, none more impressive at the moment than that Midas III puts in an appearance every 2 hours and 40 minutes over Russia. In the nose of the missile is an infrared eye which scans the area hundreds of miles below for evidences of heat, such as rockets would generate, and thus presumably could detect rocket launchings.

Now this does not signal whatever security that warning can purchase any more than two robins make a spring. But it does demonstrate the practicality of establishing a network of such objects which would keep Russia under almost constant surveillance. Thus, the drawing board idea of a spy-in-the-sky to replace the U2 reconnoissance plane is a step nearer reality.

This sort of space achievement is a stone in the platform which will enable us to negotiate from a position of strength in the critical days ahead.

Russia Putting Planes In Cuba

WASHINGTON — Authoritative information has been received here that Russian MIGs have been supplied to the Castro government in Cuba. The warplanes did not arrive in time to be of help to the Cuban dictator before the ill-fated invasion several weeks ago, but the presence today of Soviet war supplies is confirmed.

This step is one that has not been given any publicity. The reasons are not known. Those who do comment on it privately say that the Cuban government requested the munitions and thoereticaly is free to buy them from any country in the world.

BUT WHILE, strictly speaking, any government may obtain aid from an ally, the United States does not recognize the right of any European power to gain a foothold in any country in this hemisphere. Originally known as the "Monroe Doctrine," this principle has been adopted as part of the international law of this hemisphere by the other countries in Latin America.

What the United States now observes, therefore, is to definite attempt on the part of the Soviet government to set up a military base in this hemisphere. The fact that this is being done in collaboration with an existing government does not alter the principle involved. Cuba is 90 miles away from the United States and a relatively short distance from other countries in Central and South America which have free governments.

FOR SOME strange reason, some of the Latin - American governments have been hesitant to come out forthrightly against the Soviet infiltration of this hemisphere. Yet, if any one of them got into trouble, it would be pleading with the United States for help. Unfortunately, the administration here has not crystallized its own Latin - American policy except to announce just before the Cuban invasion that the United States would not intervene militarily. This was, unhappily, construed widely to mean that under no circumstances would the Washington government come to the assistance of a Latin-American government if it should be subverted or, indeed, seized by a foreign power and a puppet government established to carry on its diplomatic relations as well as other functions.

THE SOVIET scheme is to set up puppet governments everywhere. Moscow has done so in the Balkans. It is preparing to do so in other Latin-American countries, as it has in Cuba.

So the concrete question which faces the United States government is whether a puppet government, established with the economic and military aid of a European power which now sends warplanes to such a country, should be ignored and no steps taken to combat the hostile influence which has been generated. Certainly the relations between the United States and Cuba have grown steadily worse under the inspiration of Soviet advisers who play a prominent part in the Cuban government.

THE BASIC FACT is that Cuba today has a puppet government. There have been no elections to give the Cuban people a chance to express themselves. They have been enslaved through methods introduced by Soviet stooges who occupy "advisory" positions in the government at Havana. Thus, a police state, instead of a free government, prevails in Cuba.

The Kennedy administration has not yet made up its mind what its policy eventually will be in Cuba. But it is difficult to see how there could be a completely hands-off attitude while the Soviets quietly ship in more and more munitions of war to aid the Castro government. The Russian MIGs could at any moment pursue guerrilla tactics and damage American cities. The Russian government naturally would disclaim all knowledge and all responsibility, and yet considerable injury might well be inflicted for which no recompense could be obtained.

THE CUBAN problem has been drifting along without any concrete action by the United States. The shipment of Russian MIGs to Cuba, however, accentuates the danger, and it is surprising that even in Congress so little attention is being paid to what is happening 90 miles away from the territory of the United States.

What Others Say

Getting into college is becoming harder and harder. Time was when just about any young person with the desire and a few assets was welcomed by most institutions of higher learning. But prospective students are becoming so numerous now that a weeding out process has become a necessity. The colleges want the better students. The others can fend for themselves.

With these facts in mind George Hedden, director of admissions at Rochester Institute of Technology, has some advice which is applicable to youngsters all the way back to first grade. He says the poorest risk for college "is the student who is capable of excellent work but has never done it. If he thinks he can wait until college to start working, he is highly mistaken."

It's another way of saying mental laziness can become a fatal handicap.

With modern parents child psychology is nearly a semi-profession. Parents attend lectures, group therapy and counseling programs with the zeal old-timers flocked to revival meetings. Attitudes and practices alter as newer theories are advanced.

Some experts believe it is entirely natural for a kid to grab the big apple for himself and leave the runty apple to his guest. The experts contend that superenforced manners should not restrain this basic impulse, but many non-progressive parents still feel that some restraint and emotional discipline are essential to character development. Parents are cautioned severely about giving kids too much love and protection. Simultaneously, they are strongly admonished not to give the kid too much rope.

In most homes whippings are horrible examples of the lack of parental control and equipoise. Punishment should be completely objective and should carry a minimum of loss of youthful dignity. The erring child should be understood more and upbraided less. There is also serious latent harm in giving obvious affection when a child hurts himself. The answer must lie somewhere between the sadistic peach switch and the consuming kiss of commiseration. But the best part of it all, perhaps, is that the parents are so busy choosing among newer theories, the kids grow up about as naturally as the parents did.

Kennedy's Course Hard To See

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's tougher to figure where President Kennedy is heading—after almost six months in office—than it was with President Eisenhower in the same length of time.

Eisenhower's performance up to mid-July 1953 clearly foretold the course his whole presidency would take:

He would be cautious, conservative. He considered himself not an innovator but a pacifier and would try to avoid both experiments and explosions. And he would let his key men operate strongly. It turned out that way.

His programs were conservative, even when extending and broadening New Deal programs. He tried nothing basically new, even in foreign affairs. His military alliances, for instance, were simply built on President Truman's.

HE BECAME SO popular as a pacifier of troubled conditions, even the Democrats were afraid to tangle with him and Premier Khrushchev made friendly noises until the American U2 spy plane was shot down over the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower was so cautious he never once said whether he considered the Supreme Court ban on public school segregation good or bad. And he let the strong men in his Cabinet run their shows with a minimum of interference.

Perhaps Kennedy's attitudes, unlike those of the older Eisenhower, are not as fixed at 44 as Eisenhower's were at 62. Or perhaps Kennedy, not too positive on where he's heading, will adapt himself to changing conditions.

So far, like Eisenhower, he's been generally conservative. For example, in his domestic programs, although some think his proposal on medical care for the aged goes too far.

IT MIGHT BE argued Kennedy has to trim his sails because he has to deal with a highly conservative Congress and that once Congress became more liberal he would too.

But Eisenhower, too, had to deal with a conservative Congress, run most of the time by Kennedy's own Democrats. And there's no reason to think, short of national emergency, future Congresses will be less conservative.

In a number of ways—if not always in foreign affairs—Kennedy, like Eisenhower, has been cautious. For instance, like Eisenhower, but unlike Truman, he has carefully tried to avoid angering anyone.

In foreign affairs his conduct hasn't been clear at all. For the most part he has talked with restraint and even went to Vienna to try to understand Khrushchev better.

But he also approved the pathetically weak Cuban invasion which not only was a disaster but angered friends and foes around the world.

They're Fit For The Job

NEW YORK (AP)—I'd hate to be a mother.

When your hard-up neighbor down the street wins $356 on a daily double racetrack bet, he is hard enough to live with.

In one afternoon he has gone from the poor mouth to the rich mouth.

The morning found him reluctant to recognize his own virtue. The evening finds him unable to resist the temptation to denounce his government—dispraise his taxes. The money he has won has made him an authority on everything.

I'd hate to be a mother because she is like the gambler who won a daily double. It changes her whole outlook, too.

She gambled on a small investment and her reward as a winner is a moist bundle of maybe 7 pounds or so of crying human protoplasm. It is wet at both ends and dry probably only in the middle. And it stays that way month after month.

Life is full of laughter, but for some mystic reason no baby is ever born smiling. They all enter this world struggling in anger and fear and hunger. Too many leave the same way.

I'd hate to be a mother.

The year before she became a parent she is eager to discuss such intellectual questions as whether the earth would be better if Picasso had got stuck in his blue rather than his pink mood, or if Dr. Albert Schweitzer and Tennessee Williams could shake hands across the distance.

But the day after she becomes a mother she becomes a tigress.

A hundred thousand or more infants may be born on a single day, but her world is instantly concentrated to the squirming kingdom of newness.

Day after day she reduces herself (by enlargement) trying to make this dewy glob into a person. She has to curb its normal, strident, gluttonous, wide-mouthed appetite for self-indulgence into discipline and acceptance of the aims and rights of others. She has to escort it sensibly and sensitively from yearning to learning to earning.

It is a hard and always difficult and often lonely and sometimes heart-breaking task.

The reward: If she does a good job—and microbes or war don't ruin her effort—the darn thing goes off on its own, leaving her to start its own family. If she does a bad job, it complains with the breath she gave it to object against the life she conferred.

I'd hate to be a mother. The job has so much responsibility.

Perhaps that is why women make the best mothers. They are much better gamblers than men.

Men bet themselves against now, and not always willingly. But most women are eager to stake themselves against eternity, gambling on a finer issue.

Motherhood is for the birds—or women with feathers of hope in their soul.

Eyesight Changes Varies With Individuals

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Doctor: I am heartbroken and can do nothing about it. I am a teen-ager with a few more years of school left and a lot of studying to do.

"I have myopia and it seems to get worse every time I have my eyes examined. I curse the day I put glasses on. My girl friend who needed glasses and would not wear them now has the same vision she had when she was told she needed them. Why do doctors give glasses when they know this will happen?

"Isn't there some drug like cortisone or drops that would help by relaxing the eye? I was also told that contact lenses might stop the progression. Do you think so? —S."

Young lady, I'm sorry you are so upset. Don't be. Glasses don't cause any change in your fundamental vision.

There are all sorts of eye variations, from one person to another. In some people myopia (just plain old near - sightedness) develops rapidly, in others slowly. That's why some children need glasses in grade school and some white-haired old people don't require them at all.

There are no drugs, no drops, no diets that will affect the rate at which the eyes are going to change. Cortisone will have no effect (although in some very rare diseases affecting the interior part of the eye, cortisone has been effective.)

In certain cases exercises will help if there is a muscle imbalance. The small, but important muscles by which the eyes focus sometimes do not pull with equal strength in their assigned directions. But this does not mean that all, or even most, cases of nearsightedness are caused by this or can be helped by this. The only advice I can offer is to go to a reliable eye specialist and abide by what he tells you. Flitting from one doctor to another, or from one idea to another, wastes time and money.

There is no essential difference between contact lenses or any other kind. Whether the lenses are close to the eyeball, as in contacts, or are half an inch away, as in ordinary glasses, the purpose is the same: The glasses accept the light rays, modify the angle at which the rays are bent, and compensate for whatever flaws may be present in the lenses of the eye.

Don't expect contact lenses, or any other kind of glasses, to change your eyes. They won't. All glasses can do is bend the light rays so they strike the eye at a different angle. That's why you should not feel that the use of glasses hurts you, and that not using them helped your girl friend. There was simply a difference in the rate at which your eyes changed.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Why would a doctor want to remove the node glands from the neck when he already has removed a skin cancer from the lip, with a wide margin? Is it taking too much of a chance to keep a close check for any swelling of the glands in the future?—D.C.J."

Removal of a gland in the neck, in such a case, is to determine whether the cancer has spread to the gland. It is a proper procedure. Removal is not too difficult. The microscope will show whether any dangerous changes are occurring. If you wait until swelling is apparent, you have wasted some valuable time.

NOTE TO MRS. D. M. M.: Injury to cartilage can be painful for a long time. Since your doctor has identified the trouble, you needn't worry, but there isn't much to do about it except wait for the slow healing process to take place. Simple analgesics (pain-relievers) like aspirin are my best suggestion.

Around The Rim

Under The Same Cover—But Separate

Despite the fact that it leans a bit to the left, I have read the "Saturday Review" for many years, principally because it is the only magazine of criticism that manages to separate its editorial policies from its various reviews. In the overall field of literary criticism, the magazine's editors do a commendable job.

All this leads up to a recent article carried in the magazine's pages concerning the relationship between the newspaper and advertiser. The author of the piece finally got around to admitting that it is best that the advertiser has no right to dictate the contents of the newspaper, but as he trudged through several thousand words, he stirred doubts.

THIS IN TURN LEADS me back to recall experiences of my weekly newspaper days. Of all newspapers, probably none are so receptive to the advertiser's likes and dislikes. This is because the weekly battles against daily papers and a multitude of radio stations for its advertising volume, that it to say, its life blood.

Many times I heard such statements as:

"I'd rather you didn't print that story about my son being involved in a wreck while he was drunk. The other people will recover and not much harm was done. By the way, let's discuss that advertising contract."

"Put this article on the front page this week, will you? I'm buying a full page ad, by the way."

"JUST KEEP MY name out of the paper at all times, unless I let you know. And keep my ad running regularly, please."

Somehow, these folk always connected news stories and advertising space. It required a lot of time and patience explaining to them that the two are not connected other than that they appear in the same paper.

A grocer sells apples because people want apples. A newspaper sells space because merchants want to tell folks about his products. Newspaper advertising has been proven a tremendous boost to the business world and to economic life as we know it. Advertising space in the newspaper has an inherent value that makes it well worth the price.

On the other hand, news is something that happens. No one buys it or produces it as a money-making gimmick. It is carried because it is of general interest to everyone. It is free, spontaneous, and a service.

THAT NEWS AND advertising are dependent on one another, is clear. But a newspaper does not sell news; it sells space. And in most newspapers, the advertiser has no control over the contents or treatment of the news.

Several times I was reminded that other media would make concessions regarding their best advertisers. And many times I lost a few dollars from advertising clients. I suppose all newspapers do, at one time or another.

But only so long as advertising and news are kept separate, will the newspaper owe its first responsibility to the people who plunk down a nickle, a dime, or a quarter, as the case may be. And there is where the first responsibility is due.

Peaceful Revolution In Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico. — Few Americans from the mainland, I fear, have any clear idea of the importance of the peaceful revolution that has transformed Puerto Rico in the past 21 years, or its inestimable value to the cause of democracy not only in this hemisphere but around the world.

EVEN A FEW statistics will reveal the reason Puerto Rico is always a-prowl with official visitors examining her economic and social revolution for helpful hints to improve conditions back home.

In 1940, for example, this island was indeed "the poorhouse of the Caribbean." Today, oil-rich Venezuela is the only Latin-American nation that enjoys a higher per capita income than Puerto Rico, although the latter's natural resources are almost wholly confined to scenic beauty and a tourist - tailored climate.

WHEN A GROUP of brilliant young Puerto Ricans began to plan the organization of "Operation Bootstrap" 21 years ago, the Puerto Rican had a life expectancy of 46 years. A heritage of ill health was one of the island's many afflictions at that time. Today — in less than a generation — the life expectancy has increased by an amazing 25 years to a total of 71 years.

The commonwealth has built schools, hospitals and health centers with unswerving persistence. Schooling is compulsory (and free) through the sixteenth year. And although the rich United States can not yet afford to teach a secondary language in the vast majority of its public schools, English has been compulsory in the schools of this Spanish - speaking island since 1952.

EIGHT-SIX PER CENT of her people are literate, and the percentage increases every year.

In 21 years, Operation Bootstrap, a combination of imagination, daring and brilliant planning, has produced these and other miracles by transforming the island from a poverty - stricken agrarian community to a prosperous industrial one.

In 1940 the island lacked capital as well as natural resources for manufacturing. And there was the long haul to the mainland markets. The Bootstrappers were at once faced with the necessity of importing capital and materials. But they found a simple but astute solution to their double - barrelled problem: the government of Puerto Rico offered any new industry started in the island complete tax exemption for 10 years.

NOT ONLY did the government offer tax immunity for a decade but it also offered a large labor market eager to work and adept at learning new skills. To date, the program has attracted to the island 684 manufacturing plants both large and small, and many bearing such world-famous names as American Can, Union Carbide, General Electric, Remington Rand, Parke - Davis, Phelps Dodge and Van Raalte.

As prosperity, hope and a decent living standard have come to the island, communism, the ever-present threat to Latin America, has disappeared in Puerto Rico. In the senatorial elections of 1956, with a registered electorate of 700,000 persons, the Communists polled 83 votes.

The American Way Of Doing

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. — Shall we mobilize? In Washington, the question envisions the call-up of reservists and the forward movement of troops and weapons. But here on Long Island, once the happy haunt of the polo set but now a teeming colony of aero-space industries, a different image arises. What? Mobilize our scientific front?

First, ask what is the scientific front? Almost side by side out here stand Republic Aviation Corporation's new Research & Development Center, opened last April, and Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute's new graduate School of Engineering, still unfinished. The juxtaposition, indeed the interdependence, of big business and advanced scientific learning—that's the scientific front!

BROOKLYN POLY got its 25-acre site, plus $50,000 from Republic Corp., plus sums from several tax-free foundations, plus $375,000 from the taxpayers through the National Science Foundation. It is a lo: more difficult to mobilize brains than battalions. The multiple marriage of industry, schools and government has produced many victories for us. It would be dangerous to start fiddling with a winning combination.

H. A. Pearl, a Master of Science from Brooklyn Poly and one of its busiest sons, was making this point very emphatically, telling his interviewer:

"YOU CAN'T conscript invention. The Russians have the advantage there, because they are used to doing what the State tells them to do. For instance, NASA is much in need of scientific talent —but if we went into the industries and universities and tried to draft the talent, it just wouldn't work out."

Mr. Pearl, an intense and valuable person who was in charge of dielectric materials for the Air Force's airborne electronics for nine years before taking jobs with Bell Aircraft and later Republic, remarked upon another American peculiarity which often gets pious tut-tuts from the intellectualists.

"IT'S ALMOST useless," he said, "to ask for funds to do basic research in America. In Russia, if they need pure research, that's what they order up. But there's always a Congressman on every committee who'll want to know what the money's to be spent for, and he isn't satisfied to hear that in basic research you can't really be specific."

The disadvantage, however, turns out to be more seeming than real when a practicing scientist like Mr. Pearl begins to unfold the subject. We have now reached a stage in aero-space development when the design of vehicles and instruments has gone far ahead of the materials which Nature has provided. Despite the horse-and-buggy preachments about our need for minerals in underdeveloped countries, this nation's critical supply is more in our own laboratories than in these alien lands.

"IF THE MINERALS don't exist in Nature," said Mr. Pearl, "we make them. But we don't make them unless there's a demand. For instance, here you have a piece of lumber. If you want to build a house with it, you take a saw and cut it up. But suppose you wish to make paper out of the wood, or cloth out of the wood, or a moth-resistant cloth out of the wood. Why, then, you break up the wood into its molecules, and reassemble them in a combination that repels moths. But, first, you have to learn a lot about molecules.

THIS IS HOW spacecraft and space systems are to be built from now on, as far as anybody can see. The natural products are being taken to pieces, by molecules, by atoms, by neutrons. In many instances (because we are "lazy" or in a tearing hurry to materialize a new design, says Pearl), we coat or paint spaceborne instruments with the right combination to resist radiation, to give flexibility to brittle objects or what not.

Well, the American way is not the European or Oriental way. We do not regiment very well. We do not tolerate much day-dreaming. We have a national purpose, but almost no national patience. Still, until now, we have always beaten the foreign blackguards who did things differently—and there's no need to be apologetic, or to change the American way for theirs.

Flynt Takes Helm At Elbow School

Darrell Flynt has been elected principal of the Elbow School, Joe Holladay, superintendent of the Forsan County Line Independent School District, said today.

He had taught in schools of this area for the past decade and comes to his new assignment from Sterling City where he has been teaching in the high school for the past three years. Prior to that he was on the Garden City High School faculty for two years and at Runnels Junior High in Big Spring for a year. Managers and directors from the 26 co-ops will make up the delegates.

Damages Sought In Tower Blasts

RENO, Nev. (AP)—The American Telephone & Telegraph Co. is asking $2.75 million damages from two men charged with blasting micro-wave towers in the Utah and Nevada desert.

Bernard Brous, 51, and Dale C. Jensen, 23, are awaiting trial on charges of setting off explosives May 28 at three stations in the remote area. The stations have been rebuilt.

The utility company civil suit, filed here Wednesday, also lists 10 John Does, two unnamed corporations and a co-partnership, likewise not named. After their arrest in Mexico last month, Brous and Jensen said they were the only members of a "Republican army" and dedicated to the overthrow of AT&T.

Disillusioned

MEXICO CITY (AP) —The newspaper Ultimas Noticias said Wednesday the Mexican engineer who has headed Fidel Castro's petroleum industry is in Mexico and will not return to Cuba. The account said Alphonso Gutierrez has become disillusioned about Communist control of Cuba.

Spanish-Mexican Foods Give Salad Right Lift

Fair exchange! Way back in Aztec days the Spaniards found the tomato, among other new-to-them foods, in Mexico. They said thank-you by sending their oranges and olive oil over the seas.

These three foods, plus some others well-liked south of the border, make this interesting salad.

Because the salad is named Fiambre—the Spanish word for "cold meat or late news"—it was originally concocted from leftover meat! So although our recipe calls for chicken don't hesitate to make a substitution; leftover turkey or roast veal or lamb could certainly be used.

If you do cook a chicken specially for Fiambre, buy a big broiler-fryer or a small roasting chicken and simmer it in a quart of water with an onion, half a dozen sprigs of parsley, a rib of celery plus leaves, ¾ teaspoon salt and some pepper-corns.

When the bird is cooked, in about an hour, take it from the broth and cool it. Then remove the skin and the meat from the bones, cutting the meat into good-sized pieces.

The broth should be strained and chilled; then the fat can be taken from the top easily and the clear broth stored in the refrigerator or freezer for later use.

Although this recipe calls for Iceberg lettuce, a mixture of salad greens may be used. Romaine, escarole, chicory and water cress are always a refreshing combination.

FIAMBRE

- 1 small head Iceberg lettuce
- 3½ to 4 cups cubed cooked chicken
- 3 medium-sized tomatoes (cut in wedges)
- 1 medium-sized red onion (slice paper-thin and separated into rings)
- ½ cup olive oil
- ¼ cup red wine vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. black pepper
- 2 oranges (cut into membrane-free sections)
- 2 avocados (sliced)
- 1 bunch small radishes

Remove some of the large outer leaves from the lettuce and arrange on salad platter; knife-shred the remaining lettuce and put it into a mixing bowl.

Add chicken, tomatoes and onion rings to the shredded lettuce; push to one side of bowl and in empty space add olive oil, vinegar, salt and pepper, beating with a fork.

Toss salad mixture and dressing together; arrange on large lettuce leaves on salad platter. Garnish with oranges, avocados and radishes. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Franks Are New Recipe

During this week, and the entire summer, serve this tricky new recipe as the main course of your backyard picnic. Five deep slits are made in each frankfurter, then it is broiled or sauteed. The frankfruter curls.

Arrange them on hamburger buns and fill the centers with your favorite kraut relish. Delicious!

KRAUT APPLE ROUND DOG
(Makes 6-8 servings)

- 6-8 frankfurters
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 2 cups sauerkraut
- 2-3 cup apple juice
- ½ tsp. celery salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- 1 canned pimiento, cut into strips
- 6-8 hamburger buns, split

Cut 5 deep slits in each frankfurter without cutting all the way through. Melt butter or margarine. Add frankfurters and cook over low heat until browned on all sides. Combine kraut, apple juice, celery salt, pepper and pimiento; mix well. Add kraut mixture to frankfurters.

Cook over low heat 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Place frankfurters on bun bottoms. Drain kraut mixture. Top frankfurters with kraut mixture and bun tops.

PIMIENTO KRAUT
(Makes 8 servings)

- 2 cups sauerkraut, drained
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- ¼ cup chopped canned pimientos
- 8 frankfurters
- 8 hamburger buns, split
- 8 slices process Cheddar cheese (about 8 ounces)

Combine kraut, mayonnaise and pimientos; mix well. Chill. Meanwhile, cut 5 deep slits in each frankfurter without cutting all the way through. Broil frankfurters 5-7-inches from source of heat 3 to 5 minutes; turn.

Arrange hamburger buns with frankfurters on grill. Arrange cheese slices on bun bottoms. Broil, 2 minutes, or until frankfurters are browned and cheese is melted. Arrange frankfurters and kraut mixture on buns.

Favorite Version Of Southern Dish

Here's one of our favorite quick versions of a well-known Southern main dish.

SOUTHERN SHRIMP

- 2 tbsps. each butter and flour
- ½ cup (1 medium-size) finely diced onion
- 1 cup (2 medium-size) finely diced green pepper
- 2 large cloves garlic (crushed)
- 1 can (1 lb.) stewed tomatoes
- 1 can (15½ ozs.) cut okra
- ¼ to ½ tsp. salt
- 1 to 2 tsps. Worcestershire sauce
- ¼ tsp. thyme
- 1 lb. shrimp (cooked and shelled and deveined)

Melt butter in 12-inch skillet over low heat; stir in flour. Add onion, green pepper and garlic; cook, stirring often, until wilted.

Add tomatoes and okra, including liquid in cans, and seasonings. Cook slowly 10 to 15 minutes. Add shrimp and reheat.

Makes 6 servings. (Medium-size shrimp are fine to use; cut them in half horizontally after cooking and cleaning.)

Too Cheap

Don't buy produce merely because the price is low. Unless the low price is caused by an oversupply, you may be getting "bargain" quality as well, points out the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Friend's Filling Is A Favorite

A friend of ours dreamed up this pie filling and it's a favorite with her guests.

SHERRY LIME PIE

- 1 pkg. (3 ozs.) lime-flavored gelatin
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup pale dry sherry
- 1 cup heavy cream

Midas Satellite Circling Earth, Keeps Eye On Reds

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP) —A Midas satellite equipped to detect hostile missile firings was circling the earth every 2 hours and 40 minutes today in a record-breaking orbit that repeatedly takes it over the Soviet Union.

Midas III, the first in the missile-alarm series to be launched from the West Coast, carries infrared equipment which can spot rocket exhaust.

The rocket—a big Atlas booster topped by an Agena second-stage vehicle—blasted off at 8:12 a.m. Wednesday from this Navy missile base adjacent to Vandenberg Air Force Base.

Safe

Mrs. William Roever of Bellaire, Tex., watches over her exhausted daughter, Becky, 12, after the girl was found alive and without serious injuries on the rugged Oregon coast. A helicopter crew plucked her off the rocky beach after she was lost for three days and took her to a hospital at Seaside.

De Gaulle Warns Reds Against Pushing Crisis

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle said Wednesday the West will never let the Soviet Union settle the fate of Berlin alone "as if the three great powers had no rights there."

The French leader in a television speech warned the Soviets they are creating a crisis over the former German capital that threatens the peace of the world.

De Gaulle charged the Soviets with calling for peace "while formulating requirements which threaten to put it in danger."

"The Soviets are renewing their threat of unilaterally settling the fate of Berlin . . . if Washington, London and Paris do not give up the present status of the town as required by Moscow," he said, then warned: "I declare once more, there is no chance of this being accepted."

He further warned the Soviet Union it must bear the full responsibility for any "grave consequences" of a crisis over Berlin. At the same time he called for an atmosphere of true cooperation and coexistence in which "a problem like that of Germany would lose much of its bitterness and might, at some moment, be considered objectively by the interested powers."

MODERN ARMS

De Gaulle told his own people that France must speedily purchase modern arms to replace the World War II weapons that most of her forces have. Starting in September, he said, the length of French draftees' military service will be cut by an unspecified number of weeks, and funds thus saved will be used to modernize the army.

In Moscow, meanwhile, the West German government told the Soviets free elections throughout divided Germany must precede the signing of any German peace treaty.

The West German note replied to a Soviet note proposing that separate peace treaties be signed with West Germany and Communist East Germany. Bonn replied that a peace treaty must be concluded with a legitimate German government freely elected by all the German people.

VIOLATE RIGHT

"A separate peace with only part of Germany would violate the right of self-determination of nations laid down in the Charter of the United Nations, which the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics has recognized and pledged to respect," the Bonn note said.

West Berlin continued calm as storm clouds gathered overhead. But the flight of refugees streamed into the "escape hatch" from Communist East Germany at a rate of more than 1,000 a day—the highest in eight years.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, visiting West Berlin to demonstrate the close links between the isolated city and West Germany, conferred with Mayor Willy Brandt and other city government officials. In a communique they reaffirmed five principles agreed upon during Adenauer's last visit to the city in January 1960:

1. The Western Powers have a right to be in West Berlin;
2. The legal, financial and economic ties between West Berlin and West Germany are the basis for the city's freedom;
3. Free access to West Berlin must not be restricted;
4. No international agreement on Berlin should contradict the clear wishes of its people;
5. West Berlin must continue to be the meeting place for Germans.

CONSULT ALLIES

In Paris, the United States, Britain and France consulted their allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on their replies to the Soviet note of June 4 threatening to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany this year. There was no indication when the replies would be delivered, but De Gaulle's speech and the West German note made clear the other allies would join in firm opposition to the Soviet attempt to remove the Western protection from West Berlin.

In Gettysburg, Pa., former President Eisenhower declared that a Western surrender to Khrushchev on Berlin would be far worse than the British-French surrender of the Czech Sudetenland to Hitler at Munich.

Eisenhower told Paul Martin of the Gannett News Service that he firmly believes the Soviets do not want an all-out war over Berlin or anything else but will use other methods to achieve their ends.

Judge Finds Short Solution

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Margaret Longenecker told the court she hadn't ordered the slacks and, what's more, they didn't fit her.

Millie Kahn, who made the slacks, disagreed on both counts and demanded payment.

When someone suggested that Mrs. Longenecker model the disputed garment in court, Superior Judge Steven S. Weisman threw up his hands, halted proceedings and reached for his checkbook.

"For heaven's sake," he said. "Superior Court is no place for a backyard argument. If you can't settle this, I will."

He handed Mrs. Kahn a check for $13 in payment for the slacks.

"I'll donate it to charity," said Mrs. Kahn.

"And I'll donate the slacks to charity," said Mrs. Longenecker.

"Next case," said the judge.

The case reached Superior Court on appeal from Small Claims Court.

Riders Held After Change In Intentions

By The Associated Press

Four "Freedom Riders" who earlier agreed to stop their tour of the South in exchange for suspended fines and jail sentences changed their minds and returned to jail at Little Rock, Ark.

One of the four, the Rev. John C. Raines, 27, of Setauket, N. Y., said Wednesday night the group discussed the matter and decided that to leave would be giving up something they believed was right.

Raines said he assumed the group would begin serving six-month sentences.

Municipal Judge Quinn Glover convicted the group on breach of peace charges Wednesday but said he would suspend their six-month terms and $500 fines if they would go home.

The four, arrested Monday night when they stopped at Little Rock en route from St. Louis to Shreveport and New Orleans, La., at first agreed to leave but later decided to remain in jail.

Meanwhile at New Orleans Judge John Minor Wisdom of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals granted a convicted Freedom Rider the right to take her case to his court. It was the first of the Freedom Rider cases to reach this judicial level.

Wisdom signed a certificate of probable cause allowing Elizabeth Wyckoff, 46, New York free lance writer, to appeal to the federal appeals court.

Miss Wyckoff was arrested June 2 at the Trailways bus terminal in Jackson, Miss., for breach of the peace and convicted on June 5. Jackson City Judge James Spencer sentenced her to a $200 fine and a suspended 60-day jail term. She refused to pay the fine and went to the state prison to work it out at the rate of $3 per day.

At Jackson, Spencer convicted two Jackson Negroes for breach of the peace in the city's first lunch counter sit-in. He fined Lavaghn Brown, 16, and Jimmie Travis, 18, $200 and sentenced them to four months in jail.

At San Francisco, five Bay area religious leaders are heading a "mission to Mississippi" in an attempt to help remove segregation barriers in Southern interstate travel terminals.

About 35 clergymen from throughout the United States are scheduled to begin a series of meetings in Mississippi July 20 with both segregationist and integrationist leaders.
