Lewis Refuses To Recognize Coal Trustee

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21—John L. Lewis reportedly blocked the seating of former federal Judge Charles I. Dawson as the coal operators' trustee of the miners' welfare fund at a stormy three-hour session today.

The three trustees — Chairman Lewis, Dawson and Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH)—refused to talk about what went on at the bitter meeting. Dawson had sought to succeed Ezra Van Horn as the operator representative.

Welfare Funds Blocked

Dawson was elected by a vote of the coal operators who signed the 1948-49 contract. That pact expired June 30, and Bridges has refused to vote to use any welfare royalties—estimated at $13,000,000 —collected since that date. It is virtually the only money remaining in the fund. Only $850,000 is still in the treasury from collections on coal mined before the contract ran out.

The votes of Lewis and Bridges would nullify each other on the board today on any issue involving the recognition of Dawson as a member. Some observers speculated that Lewis may have decided Dawson would line up with Bridges and refuse to allow pensions or welfare benefits from the $13,000,000.

Van Horn resigned in a letter to the coal operators and not to the trustees—a point which Lewis was quick to use as an argument against the legality of seating Dawson.

Van Horn was in Washington most of the day, but returned to Cleveland tonight.

Meeting Set Friday

Another trustee session is scheduled for Friday, December 2. Dawson may take the fight for his seat into court before that, in the opinion of some persons aware of the set-back.

In effect, today's action postponed a showdown between Lewis and Bridges over using the miners' padlocked funds.

Lewis has insisted that the dwindling welfare fund continue to pay the miners' hospital bills.

But Bridges, as a co-trustee with Lewis, has challenged the legality of spending the money in the absence of a formal contract between Lewis' UMW union and the coal operators who pay for the fund.

About $13,000,000 has been collected from soft coal operators since the miners' contract expired last June 30. Since then the miners have been working off and on, without a contract.

Silent on a heralded battle over the fund issue, Lewis and Bridges emerged from a three-hour trus-

Acheson Asks Help To Free Jailed Envoy

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The United States today asked 30 nations—including Soviet Russia—to join in bringing pressure on the Chinese Communists to free American Consul General Angus Ward and his staff from a Mukden jail.

An unprecedented personal appeal for urgent concerted action was sent by Secretary of State Acheson over the weekend to the foreign ministers of every country with representatives in China.

The new step, announced by the State department, was taken amid a mounting outcry for the use of force if necessary to free the consular officials, who were jailed four weeks ago on charges which the United States has denounced as "trumped up."

Appeal Set Precedent

Officials said Acheson's personal appeal was without diplomatic precedent. It went out Friday night, a few hours after President Truman called the treatment of Ward an outrage.

Acheson's move posed a direct test of the attitude of Soviet Russia and of four other Soviet bloc countries to which his message was dispatched.

Some diplomatic officials voiced the suspicion privately that Russia as the principle backer of the new Chinese Red regime may have instigated the Ward incident as a blow to American prestige.

"As a matter of urgency," Acheson asked each foreign minister to "express to the highest Chinese in Peiping through such channels as may be available to you the concern which your government undoubtedly feels" over the treatment of Ward.

Red Action Scored

Acheson declared the Communists' action is "in direct violation of the basic concepts of international relations which have been developed throughout the centuries."

Although consuls do not enjoy diplomatic immunity like ambassadors and ministers, Acheson noted it has been "universal practice" to accord them freedom of movement to let them communicate with their governments and to grant bail in the event they are charged with criminal offenses.

Ward and his aides, Acheson said, have actually been deprived of their freedom for an entire year. They were put under house arrest last November when the Communists captured the Manchurian capital, and have not been permitted to leave although the consulate was formally declared shut last May 19.

Acheson turned to the international appeal after Communist au-

One Dead, 10 Hurt In Area

TRAFFIC mishaps continued to take their toll on the South Plains Monday with the death of one man from injuries received Sunday near Lamesa and the injury of 10 others, one critically, in four other accidents.

Jacinto Martinez, about 50, died Monday morning in Lamesa General hospital from injuries received when his truck overturned late Sunday 20 miles southwest of Lamesa.

The latest accident occurred about 11:25 p.m. three miles east of Lubbock on the Lubbock-Idalou highway, sending the drivers of two cars to Lubbock Memorial hospital. Neither apparently was injured seriously and attendants described their conditions as good.

Crosbyton Man Involved

The drivers were Leslie L. Blake, 34, of Amarillo, and Elmer Carl Adkins, 22, of Crosbyton. Both cars were heavily damaged in the collision — all but head on. Both drivers were reported alone.

Both men were being held overnight for observation. Adkins was suffering from shock and lacerations, while Blake received a bruise on his shoulder and head and face lacerations.

Adkins, driving east in a 1947 Chevrolet, said he was going home after attending a barber school in Lubbock. He said he was a farmer. Blake was driving toward Lubbock in a 1940 Plymouth coupe.

A Rix Funeral home ambulance took the men to the hospital. Highway patrolmen said investigation of the mishap was continuing.

Woman's Condition Critical

In a critical condition in Treadway-Daniel hospital in Brownfield Monday night was Mrs. J. D. Gibson, 38, of Morton, injured shortly before noon in a mishap 10 miles north of Brownfield at the Needmore gin.

Four other persons were injured in the accident with Mrs. Gibson, and two of these remained in hospitals last night.

In another Terry county wreck, two men were injured when the car in which they were riding collided with a Meadow school bus. None of the children in the bus were injured.

Lubbock Woman Injured

A Lubbock woman was hospitalized with injuries received in an accident about 7:30 a.m. Monday at the intersection of Seventeenth street and Ave. X.

In the mishap north of Brownfield about 11 a. m., Mrs. Gibson received a severe head injury, several broken ribs and possible internal injuries.

Armed Bandit Holds Up Station In Abernathy, Flees With $117

BY TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

AN Abernathy filling station attendant was hijacked of $117 about 9:30 p. m. Monday by a lone bandit who asked for chewing gum and took cash to give the Lubbock area its second armed robbery in three days.

Early today, the search for the man who robbed the Otis Pope service station at the south edge of Abernathy was concentrated in Lubbock after motorists reported seeing a hitchhiker at New Deal. Abernathy is 18 miles north of Lubbock and New Deal is 11 miles north of here.

Late Saturday night, the alarm went out all over West Texas for three armed bandits who robbed the Economy Department store in Lubbock of $1,000 in cash and escaped after taking a store official, Archie Skibell, as a temporary hostage. No trace of the men has been reported.

It was reported Monday night, with Texas Highway patrolmen, sheriffs and their deputies, and police departments throwing up road blocks

Victim Here Unidentified

By ROGER SOUTHALL

AN unidentified white man, thought to have been in his fifties or sixties, last night was found dead in a burning railroad culvert near Fifteenth and Ave. A by city firemen who had been called to extinguish the blaze about 10 p. m.

He was tentatively identified by a companion who said he rode into Lubbock with him on a railroad flatcar several hours earlier. However, positive identification of the dead man has not been made, the District Attorney's office said early this morning.

The companion, who identified himself to police as O. V. Bird, and who said he resided at Brownfield, told investigating officers the man was a Roy Purdue of Lubbock. The identification was only tentative, however. No relative could be located by that name at a late hour.

There were no identification papers in the man's clothing, officers said.

C. E. Lynn, justice of the peace who investigated, said a verdict as to the nature of the death would be made today after a report from the District Attorney's office has been submitted to him.

Officials theorized that the dead man might have crawled up into the low culvert and built a fire to seek warmth. The wooden tunnel, which had been treated with a creosote preservative solution, was a roaring blaze before firemen arrived at the scene.

The Central Fire station was informed of the railroad culvert fire at 10 p. m. and dispatched two trucks to the scene immediately after.

In Industrial Area

The culvert, which is maintained primarily for drainage purposes, runs at an angle beneath several railroad tracks which serve a number of industrial firms, including several gins, a compress, and a transfer and storage company, all of which are nearby.

The tracks run in a general southeast - southwest direction, while the culvert runs roughly

Committee Opposes Rearmament Plan

U.S. Urged To Keep Troops In Germany

BY RICHARD S. WEIL
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Nov. 21. — A four-man congressional committee recommended tonight the "long-term" occupation of western Germany and proposed its rearmament "at the proper time, if necessary."

The committee declared, however, that it is opposed to rearmament at present.

The congressman said in a statement that in no case should Western Germany be re-armed until it is a member of the European family of nations.

Council Membership Favored

The committee, preparing its report for Congress, urged the admission of Germany into the Council of Europe.

It reported after a survey that west German leaders are "concerned over the rise of some authoritarian movement, supported by refugees and expellees," but are "convinced there will not be any revival of Hitler-model Nazism."

The committee warned there must be no occupation troop reductions even though the Russians withdraw their forces from eastern Germany.

The statement was released soon after reports were received that Russians are planning a 60 per cent slash in control Commission personnel to conform with a program to give east German officials more responsibilities.

The congressional group is composed of Reps. William L. Pfeiffer (R.-NY), Thomas S. Gordon (D.-Ill.); Clement J. Zablocki, (D.-Wis.); and Jacob K. Javits (R.-NY).

The committee said in a statement:

"We have found no evidence to support any prospect of an early withdrawal of occupation forces.

Nine-Story Hotel, Office Building Is Planned In Snyder

(Special To The Avalanche)

SNYDER, Nov. 21—Snyder was assured Monday afternoon of a nine-story hotel and office building with the announcement of Park Terrace Plaza, Inc., that it would erect the structure four blocks west of the square.

Hank Avery is architect for the building and J. B. Pierce is associate architect. The edifice will be erected by the Aver-Stanford company of Midland, it was announced here Monday afternoon.

Cruse Realty company in east Snyder will be exclusive agents for Park Terrace Plaza, Inc., backers state.

Snyder's newest building will have a foundation for 12 stories, according to officials of the project. The first floor will be devoted to commercial shops and stores. Second, third and fourth floors will be devoted to a hotel with 350 rooms, a ballroom and covered terrace. Fifth through ninth floors will be devoted to office rental space. A total of 68,000 square feet of office space will be available.

The structure will have three elevators, a roof terrace, and of vital importance to oil-rich-Snyder a storage garage for 200 cars.

UN Assembly Votes To Make Libia Sovereign Nation

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP)—The United Nations Assembly voted overwhemingly today to make a sovereign nation of Libia, the biggest colony of the African empire lost by Italy in war.

Libian independeence will be effected not later than 1952 under the binding decision left to the U. N. under terms of the Italian peace treaty.

The Assembly voted also—over bitter Ethiopian protests—to send Italians back to Africa as trustees for 10 years over Italian Somaliland, and set up a U. N. commission to decide within a year what to do with Eritrea.

The final vote on the three-point program for disposal of the old Italian colonies on the Mediterranean, Red sea and Indian ocean coasts of Africa was 48 to 1, with nine countries abstaining.

Ship Owners, Captain Blamed In Disaster

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 21. (AP).—Justice R.L. Kellock reported today the captain and owners were at fault for the disaster to the Great Lakes steamer Noronic which burned at her Toronto dock Sept. 17 with a loss of 118 lives.

Justice Kellock, special royal commissioner to investigate, filed a 30,000-word report.

He ordered Capt. William C. Taylor, 66, master of the Noronic, to surrender his masters certificate for a year, and the Canada Steamship lines, the owners, to pay costs of the investigation.

His report recommended sweeping safety precautions on passenger-carrying Great Lakes ships.

Frank Wilkinson, lawyer for the Canada Steamship lines, said civil actions asking a total of $325,000 damages from the company already have been started in Cleveland.

All but one of the nearly 600 passengers were from the United States, mostly in the Cleveland and Detroit areas.

'Open Door' Plan In China Urged

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

FLUSHING MEADOW, N. Y., Nov. 21. — The United States is drafting today a United Nations resolution demanding that any Chinese regime practice an "open door" policy safeguarding foreign rights and privileges.

The draft proposal, expected to be presented during U.N. debate on Nationalist China's charge that Russia is directing Communist aggression in the Far East, will provide the United States with opportunity to raise the case of Angus Ward, American consul imprisoned in Mukden by Chinese Communists.

Vigorous Action Expected

International News Service learned from authoritative sources that Ambassador-at-large Philip C. Jessup is prepared to act with great vigor in the political committee, whether Ward and his assistants have been released or not by that time.

Jessup is in daily consultation with Washington on the Chinese

A. N. Brooks, 62, Abernathy, Dies While Working On Roof

ABERNATHY, Nov. 21 (Special)—A. N. Brooks, 62, of Abernathy died of a heart attack while shingling a roof of the farm home of Charlie Cunningham, 14 miles west of Hale Center at about 4:15 p. m. Monday.

Friends lifted his body from the roof of the house and rushed him to the Hale Center hospital where he was pronuonced dead on arrival.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist church of Abernathy, with the pastor, Rev. H. T. Pendley officiating. The Rev. Herbert Brown of Platt, N. M., will assist in the service.

Burial will follow in the Abernathy cemetery with the Sanders Funeral home of Lubbock in charge.

Brooks is survived by his wife; three sons, Leonard and Malcom Brooks of Abernathy and Nonie Earl Brooks of Amarillo; a daughter, Mrs. Johnny Cloud of Texline; two brothers, J. W. Brooks of Abernathy and E. W. Brooks of Weslaco; and three sisters, Mrs. Wills Ellis of Drumwright, Okla., Mrs. Johnny Wells of Tulsa and Mrs. Alvis Sours of Clayton, N. M.

Man Dies In Lamesa Of Wreck Injuries

LAMESA, Nov. 21. (Special)—Jacinto Martinez, about 50, was fatally injured Sunday at 10:30 p. m. when the truck in which he was riding overturned on a side road near Flower Grove, 20 miles southwest of Lamesa.

Martinez, a farm laborer of San Antonio, had been working on the farm of Jesse Merric. When his truck overturned he was pinned beneath the truck bed. Carried to the Lamesa General hospital by an unidentified motorist, he died there about 6 a.m. Monday.

Survivors include his wife who is in San Antonio. Funeral arrangements under the care of the Higginbotham Funeral home are incomplete.

(Martinez' death was the 24th on the South Plains in the past 23 days and brought the area's toll for the year to 81, only 10 below the 91 which Texas Highway patrol district officials last January had forecast would be claimed during the year.)

Brief Reconciliation Attempt Ended By Gun Wielding Wife

DETROIT, Nov. 21. (U.P.)—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kemp, separated for three weeks, met downtown early today and agreed to start their married life over anew.

They went to their home to talk things over.

"All of a sudden," the 29-year-old wife said, "all the things he done to me suddenly came back to my mind."

She grabbed a gun and shot her husband, an attorney for U. S. Fidelity and Guaranty Co.

Their brief reconciliation was ended as an ambulance rushed Kemp, wounded in the side, to a hospital. Police jailed his wife on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Byrnes Denounces Truman Plan As Threat To Nation

BY JOHN R. HENRY
INS Staff Correspondent

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 21. — Former Secretary of State Byrnes charged tonight that President Truman's "fair deal" is "threatening" America with "creeping socialism" and government by "police powers."

Byrnes, former Supreme court justice who was named to the cabinet by Mr. Truman in 1945, declared that within the government there is a "dangerous group" of "selfish men who love power—the power to spend the money of other people."

Slash In Debt Demanded

The ex-cabinet member, who was Democratic Senate "whip" in the days of the Roosevelt "New Deal," called for a slashing of taxes and the public debt in the interests of the "little fellow."

Byrnes told the Conference of Southern Governors assembled in Biloxi that "this week it was stated in Europe that our first line of defense is the River Elbe." The fiery southerner asserted:

"I disagree. Our first line of defense is not the Elbe or the Rhine; It is a sound, solvent American economy.

"And that economy is now threatened."

Governors Urged To Fight

Byrnes demanded preservation fo the rights of individuals and the states and a slash in federal spending.

He told the governors to "stand up and fight" for these principles, adding that he would like to see governors and congressmen "go to Washington with their hats on their heads instead of in hand."

Byrnes proposed that the U.S. treat the new Western German republic as an equal. Byrnes declared:

"Our policy for the future should be determined now. We must treat the western republic an equal. I think the latter course

Unidentified Man Still Unconscious In Lamesa Hospital

(Special To The Avalanche)

LAMESA, Nov. 21—A man listed merely as "Mr. X" has been in Lamesa General hospital since early Saturday night unconscious with a fractured skull.

The man was brought in by two unidentified men about 7:30 p. m. Saturday, hospital attendants said. One of the men said the injured man "fell out of a pick-up," and then the two vanished before they could be questioned.

Had No Identification

There was no identification in the man's effects which included some small change and several snapshots, Dawson county Sheriff Roy King said.

On the back of one of the photographs there was what appeared to be the words "Jonesboro, Arkansas." King said the man is about five feet, 10 inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds, and has brown hair and blue eyes.

He was dressed in overalls and a jumper when brought to the hospital, and is thought to have been picking cotton in the area.

The victim, his skull severely fractured in the center of the forehead, has been unconscious all the time. Thus far authorities are at loss to identify the man, and no one has inquired as to his condition, according to attending physician Dr. U. H. Zee.

Siamese Twin Girls Born In Canada Reported Doing Fine

EDMONTON, Alta., Nov. 21. (AP)—Siamese twin girls, born to Mrs. Bud Townsend, 20, in hospital in Tofield, 35 miles southeast of here, were reported doing fine today.

The babies, weighing a total of nine pounds, 12 ounces, were born last Thursday. Townsend, 22-year-old clerk, said the children are united at the abdomen in front, but otherwise are "perfectly developed."

He said it was difficult to say yet whether any attempt would be made to separate them. The babies have been placed in an incubator.

Man Hurt In Electra Refinery Explosion

ELECTRA, Nov. 21. (AP)—An explosion and fire at the Waggoner refinery near here tonight injured one man and caused several thousand dollars damage.

George M. Reich, about 60, was brought to a hospital here with third degree burns on his hands and face.

The fire destroyed the pumphouse at the refinery, which is a mile and a half west of Electra. A fairly strong wind blowing at the time luckily was in such a direction as to blow flames away from the office building, stills, laboratory, and storage tanks.

J. O. Walkup, superintendent of the refinery, said the 5,000-barrel a day plant would have to shut down for several days. He said no estimate of damage could be made now through "it will run into the thousands of dollars."

The blast, at about 7:30 p.m., was heard from four to five miles. The resulting flames could be seen three miles distant.

More Freezing Weather Seen

Freezing weather will return to Lubbock and the South Plains again early today, with the mercury expected to skid to a crisp 25 degrees, the Lubbock Weather bureau station said late last night.

However, a warmup is expected during the afternoon with the outside possibility of scattered and light showers in the southern portions of the South Plains.

Mercury On Skids

The mercury had dipped to 37 degrees at 12:30 a.m. today and overcoats were in style on Lubbock streets late in the night.

Monday was a cool day throughout. The mercury plunged to 28 degrees early Monday and never got above 54 degrees in the afternoon. It started its downward trend early Monday night.

Fairly strong winds were expected today with increasing cloudiness late tonight and possibly Wednesday.

Some Rain Foreseen

Meanwhile, over the rest of the state, higher temperatures and some rain were indicated today, the Associated Press said.

But Monday night temperatures hit the skids again, dropping toward predicted lows of 24 to 30 in the Panhandle as well as South Plains, and 26 to 32 in the northwest and extreme north parts of

Suspect Held In Slaying Of Child

(By The Associated Press)

FRESNO, Calif., Nov. 21. — A 25-year-old cotton picker was booked tonight on a charge of murder in the brutal rape slaying of 17-months-old Josephine Yanez.

Deputy Sheriff Hubert Nevins said the man, Paul Gutierrez, admitted in a statement that he had "spanked" the baby a bit but had blacked out and did not remember what had happened.

He was arrested this afternoon, six miles west of Huroh, the tiny community near where the child was raped and smothered and thrown in the mud in what police called the most vicious murder ever committed in Fresno county.

Statement Is Given

Nevins said Gutierrez gave the following account in a statement to the court reporter and District Attorney James Theusen:

He had been doing some drinking and had smoked a marijuna cigarette before going to a Saturday night dance near Huron. Nobody would dance with him, because of his condition, and he left.

He heard the baby crying in her parents' car, opened the car door and picked her up and "spanked her a little bit." She kept on crying, perhaps for 10 minutes.

From then on, Nevins and Theusen quoted Gutierrez as saying he did not remember anything until he came to at his cabin yester-

Chambers Claims Hiss Was Red Stooge And Spy For Russians

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Whittaker Chambers pictured Alger Hiss today as a Communist stooge, a liar and a spy for the Russians.

Chambers, the government's chief witness in Hiss' second perjury trial, testified that the handsome, 45-year-old defendant:

1. Went to work in the Justice department and later in the State department at the behest of a Communist underground chief;

2. Turned over State department documents to a Soviet spy ring at regular intervals as late as 1938;

3. Entertained Chambers in his home nearly a year after the last date on which Hiss says the two men met.

The short, stout Chambers—once a Communist courier by his own admission, later a $30,000—year editor and now a Maryland farmer— gave names, dates and a wealth of details as he testified for the second day.

Hiss, 45, who rose to high State department office listened with scarcely a sign of emotion. Once or twice he smiled broadly. His graying wife, Priscilla, also nam-

Oil Slick In Oslo Fjord May Be Clue To Missing Airliner

(By International News Service)

OSLO, Nov. 21.—A report by a search pilot tonight that he spotted an oil slick on Oslo fjord raised fears that it marked the spot where a Dutch airliner crashed Sunday night with 28 Jewish refugee children, three nurses and a crew of four.

Divers, diving equipment and all available boats in the area were directed to the spot to investigate. The area is near a sparsely-populated stretch of coast.

It's location could have accounted for the fact no one has reported seeing the plane crash.

The pilot's report on the oil slick came after darkness halted a vast ground-sea-air search for the missing airliner which disappeared only a few minutes away from a landing at Oslo's airport.

Every available member of the Norwegian home guard in the area was called out to join the hunt for the missing airliner.

Norwegian, Swedish, Dutch and Danish military planes, Norwegian ships and a small army of Norwegian men, women and children equipped with walkie-talkies, scoured the bleak coastal area

Iranian Ruler Seeks U. S. Cash To Stave Off Russian Threats

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Shah of Iran is an engaging and refreshing young man. No devious Oriental approach for him. He thinks his country's position is important to the West, that it is due more than it is geting for its help in the war, and he has come to the United States to ask for it.

In return he offers to pay—is paying—with returns from Iran's vast oil fields, and with profitable opportunities for American investors.

Two Projects Underway

Iran has two big projects under way. First comes enlargement and modernization of the army, to protect the territorial integrity promised by the Big Three at Yalta and threatened ever since the war by Russia.

Iran was turned into an Allied military base during the war, operated jointly by Britain, America and Russia, for the purpose of shipping to Russia about one fifth of all the war materials she had to use against the Germans.

The present Shah's father was forced from his throne under accusations that he was pro-German. He had started a vast development program for the country which fell to pieces during the war years. He was particularly interested in agricultural production. When he started in 1926 Iran produced 7,000 bales of cotton annually. When he was ousted in 1941 production was up to 50,000 bales. During the war it dropped to 12,000.

The same thing happened to the whole Iranian economy. The young Shah has something when he claims that the war cost Iran heavily.

"We are not bargaining for the help we were privileged to extend to other areas," he says. "But just remember how important is the security and prosperity of our country to consolidated freedom and the other aims dear to democratic countries."

He means that he must have the military and economic strength to withstand pressure from the Soviet Union, which considers the Iranian oil fields a natural part of its own, and takes a strictly practical and nineteenth century view of the rights of large nations as against underdeveloped areas. The Kremlin has complained in all apparent innocence that the United States fails to understand its interest in Iran.

The Big Three also promised economic aid to Iran after the war. The young Shah has launched an ambitious program involving the expenditure of $656,000,000 — a large sum for Iran—on agriculture, factories, housing, roads, health and education. The program is directed by his brother, designed to put the country's 17,000,000 people beyond the appeal of Communism.

Russia, of course, would be glad to develop Iran and, after her own fashion which is unacceptable both to Iran and the West, keep her Tehran promises. Some people think she will eventually insist on doing so, by force if necessary. In the meantime, the odds are that the young Shah will get the preventative he came for—money.

More Crop Storage Sought By Texas Farm Federation

DALLAS, Nov. 24. (AP)—Members of the Texas Farm bureau federation asked today that the Commodity Credit corporation provide more crop storage.

The resolution was passed at an open hearing preceding opening of the 16th annual state convention this evening.

The Texas Farm bureau federation has about 40,000 members. It is affiliated with the National Farm bureau.

The storage resolution was introduced after several farm delegates complained of high cotton storage charges in South Texas airplane hangars and warehouses.

Rebellion Of Selznick Players Indicated By Reluctance Of Stars In Okaying Plans

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 21—Looks as if it is a rebellion with some of the Selznick players. Shirley Temple doesn't want to go to Europe, and hopes to go to Hawaii instead, with her father and mother and baby daughter, after her divorce Dec. 5.

Louis Jourdan, best man at David's wedding, is still bitter toward him. He went on that personal appearance tour which was a terrific flop. He argues that Selznick has put him in a terrible rut and makes no effort to lend him for good pictures. Mrs. Jourdan went to New York to be with Louis, who has really been in a state over all this trouble.

Talk is that Louis and Guy Madison may go into court to see what they can do about breaking their contracts with Selznick. Louis and Guy are on suspension.

Scott Mixup Possible

Ruth Roman, who is being groomed at Warners for bigger and better roles, draws Randolph Scott as her next movie partner. She will have to watch her step so that she doesn't get the Scotts mixed up, because Zachary Scott is also in "Code 45."

I am singing June Havoc's praises because June and a company of 20 singers and dancers plane out of here Dec. 18 to put on Christmas and New Year's shows for our Air Force men still stationed in Berlin.

June and these kids are giving up their own Christmases with their families to make the Yuletide brighter for the homesick men. I might add that June is giving up a $7,500 a week engagement at a Chicago theater to make the jaunt.

Unhappy Side Cited

Chatter in Hollywood: Elizabeth Taylor is finding being a star has its unhappy side. She can't go anywhere with any young man without having it blasted all over the world.

Her latest crush is Vic Damone. They go horseback riding practically every afternoon. He is ga-ga over her as all the other boys who meet her.

The command performance in London Thursday night is reported as the best yet. Ben Lyon, as master of ceremonies, covered himself with glory.

After the show the entire cast was presented to King George, Queen Elizabeth and the Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret. Princess Elizabeth talked at length with Rosalind Russell, Greer Garson, and Bebe and Ben.

Parody Scores Hit

Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon scored singing a "Mrs. Miniver" paradoy, paraphrasing the old song, "Oh, Mr. Gallagher, Oh, Mr. Shean."

The top English stars, Margaret Lockwood, Ralph Richardson, John Mills and Anna Neagle appeared with our Hollywood stars.

Donna Reed, who has been sick since the birth of her baby, is up and around and on crutches. Her doctors are puzzled at the condition of her legs, which makes it painful for her to walk. She seems to be suffering from something similar to arthritis, and may be on crutches for some weeks.

Grant To Arrive

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Cary Grant will get in Tomorrow from New York. It won't surprise me if Betsy Drake becomes Mrs. Grant by Christmas.

Dore Schary is one the same train, returning from his triumphant trip with "Battleground."

Dickie Moore, a few years ago an enchanting child star, will be a father in May. His wife is the former Patricia Dempsey. Dickie, who is making a picture at Monogram with Roddy McDowell, has asked him to be godfather.

The reason Judy Holliday is in New York is because she has her eye on Cole Porter's new musical "Summer Lightning"—and looks like she will get it.

Lana Turner's hair has changed from golden to silver—the latest gasp in coiffure color.

Andy Devine got plenty of applause in San Francisco where he went to appear for the Variety Club charities.

TOURIST TRADE TO JUMP

Japan's tourist industry will reach $1,000,000 proportions this year, experts predict, $508,399 having been spent in the country during the first six months of 1949.

STOPS LAXATIVES—FEELS BETTER!

"Have been eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN 3 years and it's wonderful! Now I don't ever need a laxative, feel so much better. I've told plenty of others too!" Expansion Of Libraries Abroad Favored As 'Cold War' Weapon

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21. (AP) — Libraries abroad should be expanded to help the United States win the cold war, Milton E. Lord, of Boston said here today.

Lord is president elect of the American Library association holding its southwest regional conference here.

He said American books, magazines, newspapers and movies distributed by library outposts were countering Soviet propaganda and hostility to the United States particularly in Latin-America.

Many Jamaicans made their first trips to the United States or Canada since 1947, after travel restrictions were relaxed this summer.

Reds Ready With New Type Bombs, Scientist Claims

PARIS, Nov. 21. (INS)— A German scientist who fled from Russia was quoted today in the French picture magazine "Match" as claiming the Soviets have radio-guided missiles which could reach New York in 45 minutes.

The scientist, who was not identified, also said the Russians have developed unique "cold bombs." The magazine said these bombs are capable of "freezing all life" in the area they hit.

The German also reportedly said the Russians now have "storm bombs" which can create storms, including thunder and lightning.

New Delay Granted In Fraud Trial Of Congressman Thomas

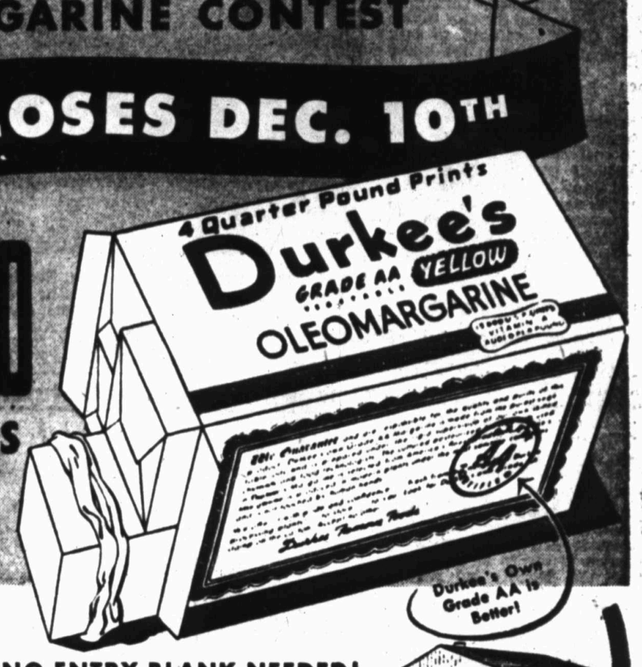

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP) — The trial of Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) on fraud charges was delayed again today.

Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff reset the trial for next Monday at the request of Thomas' attorney who is engaged in another trial.

The other trial, a gambling conspiracy case, is expected to end this week.

In that event, it appears certain that Thomas will go on trial next Monday.

Clifford, One-Man Brain Trust, To Leave Post As Truman Aide

BY FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. — Clark M. Clifford, President Truman's "one-man brain trust," will leave his job as special counsel to the chief executive early next year.

White House sources declared that Clifford, "ghost writer" of history-making presidential speeches, has considered quitting for some time and Mr. Truman has been fully aware of his wish to return to private law practice.

Announcement Expected Soon

A presidential announcement that Clifford will depart from the White House is expected shortly. Clifford is reluctant to discuss his plans.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said for publication regarding the move:

"Any announcement of Mr. Clifford's plans will have to come from the President."

At the White House it was pointed out that the 43-year-old Clifford has held his position at a personal financial sacrifice.

His annual government salary has been $12,000. Congress recently boosted the pay of the special counsel to the President to $20,000 a year.

White House quarters insisted that there is no disagreement between Mr. Truman and his legal [illegible] dubbed by some the "wonder boy" of the Truman "Fair L

These quarters state that Clifford's contemplated resignation is prompted entirely by a desire to return to his law practice in which he was a partner in a prominent St. Louis firm.

Clifford reportedly was disappointed, however, when the President by-passed him to appoint then-Sen. McGrath (D.-R.I.), attorney general to replace Tom Clark when the latter was elevated to the Supreme court.

The handsome, six-foot-two Clifford has occupied the post of special counsel to the President since June, 1946. He succeeded to the job after Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, who had been President Roosevelt's special counsel, returned to private practice in New York City.

Naval Career Cited

Clifford entered the Navy as a junior lieutenant in 1944, and when Mr. Truman made James K. Vardaman his naval aide in 1945, Vardaman brought along Clifford as his assistant.

A few months later, when Vardaman was named by Mr. Truman to the Federal Reserve board, Clifford stepped in as naval aide with the rank of captain.

As an aide to Vardaman, Clifford had helped Rosenman prepare presidential speeches, and this brought him to Mr. Truman's attention.

A few weeks after Rosenman resigned in January, 1946, Mr. Truman was confronted with a threatened railroad strike, and decided upon a showdown to avoid nationwide economic paralysis. He called in Clifford to prepare, in a matter of hours, a decisive message to Congress asking power to call out the Army to run the railways.

The President was so impressed by Clifford's railroad strike message that he appointed him special counsel.

FIGHTS BREAK OUT AT UNION MEETING — A peacemaker, center between the slugging contestants, takes an unappreciated left to the face as opposing factions in the National Maritime Union express their opinions in a meeting in New York. Exchange of views took place at general membership meeting at which President Joseph Curran returned dramatically from Texas to take charge of the intra-union squabble concerning dismissal of 14 minor officials. Youth Admits Shooting Girl Friend In 'Jealous Rage'

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 21. (AP). County Attorney Daniel C. McDonald said today Franklin D. Wade, 16, admitted he shot his 16-year-old girl friend in a "jealous rage" over her interest in other boys.

McDonald said Wade would be booked in the revolver death of Katherine B. Furbish on a charge not yet determined.

Wade's oral admission, McDonald said, came after hours of questioning.

The girl was a sophomore at Portland High school. The shooting occurred last night in her home during the absence of her parents.

Earlier, Police Captain Edward M. Kochian quoted the boy as saying he got the revolver belonging to Katherine's father and pointed it at his head "to frighten her and that she was shot when she grabbed for the weapon.

RAFB Band Receives Jaycee Ovation Here

The Reese Air Force Base band Monday sealed a friendship bond between the Air Force and the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce with a 30-minute concert at the Jaycee luncheon meeting in Hilton hotel.

Ably directed by Chief Warrant Officer Carmine Luce, the band received a long and loud round of applause for its symphonic paraphase of "The World Is Waiting for The Sunrise" and an equal ovation for its rendition of the late Glenn Miller's styling of Verdi's "Anvil Chorus."

In typical luncheon meeting fashion, the dessert was saved for last when Mrs. Edith Noel Luce, wife of the band's director, made her Lubbock debut with three soprano solos, including "Romany Life" and the heartwarming and always popular "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

She concluded the program with a medley of "Service Songs" which reminded a majority of the Jaycees present of their service days during the last wars.

Honored guests at the meeting were Cols. George W. Pardy and George H. Blase of RAFB.

Weldon Gibbs presided and Hill Baggett gave the invocation. Jack Blankenship was program chairman and A. C. White announced the program.

Los Angeles Citizens Unite To Defend Fair Name Of City

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21 (AP)— The City of Los Angeles was knee deep today in a counter-campaign to defend its fair name from a nationwide postcard attack.

The chamber of commerce, the office of the mayor, the city council, police department and federal postoffice inspectors all are busy trying to find out who has been telling chambers of commerce throughout the country that Los Angeles is a crime-ridden, unsafe place from which folks should stay away.

Printed postcards, hand-addressed were mailed from San Diego about Nov. 13 to chambers of commerce across the nation. They were in the name of the "public relations committee of the Los Angeles citizens safety council in cooperation with the national tourists and travelers association."

Harold W. Wright, general manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, immediately labeled them "utter balderdash" and said neither signer is known as a bona fide organization here.

Wright now has the chamber's stenographers getting out letters to cities which have sent the cards back here. He is thanking them for calling the matter to the chamber's attention and again denying the truth of the condemnatory statements.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

EVERYTIME you turn the radio on, pass by a drive in or listen to the younger things sing, you find yourself hearing "Mule Train." The author of the tune, which we think should be reserved for hog callers and lumberjacks, was written by Stuart Hamblem, who is the Slim Jim of the West Coast.

Hamblem was converted during an evangelistic campaign in Los Angeles about three weeks ago and now is on a northern tour which he describes as "my first trip for the Lord."

TFWC PRESIDENT

MRS. J. Howard Hodge of Midland, new president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, is well known here where she has visited on many occasions as guest of her sister, Mrs. Minnie Fickas, 1610 Ave. L.

Since she has no children to demand her time, Mrs. Hodge strikes us as an ideal club woman. She bristles with energy, makes an excellent talk and has exquisite taste in her clothes. She likes to travel and that, too, is good because presidency of the TFWC calls for much time away from home. This is a large state to cover, as any traveling person can tell you.

The Hodge's ranch style home in Midland is a dream home, with the furnishings tasteful and the rooms always in perfect condition. In addition to being an immaculate housekeeper, the vivacious woman is a good cook. She and her husband moved to Midland 18 years ago as newlyweds. She is the former Veda Wells. He is a theater manager.

Mrs. Hodge taught an adult Sunday school class in the Midland First Baptist church for several years. She had aided in the promotion of many civic projects in the oil city.

The federated club president's main hobby is collecting cups and saucers and plates.

FOILING THIEVES

AS Carol Lane, travel authority, points out, if you use the family car today the chances are excellent that by night fall it could have been stolen by a car thief a number of times — and with ridiculous ease, too.

Car thieves are a clever lot and, according to police warnings, they often specialize in a fine degree. Some go to work, for example, only when they spot a car idling at the curb; others prefer unlocked cars parked in crowded business districts; still others check the driving and parking habits of owners for a day or two before making the theft with comparative safety.

You can do much to foil a would-be thief with these suggestions:

1. Vary your parking place downtown and always put the car away at home. (So many Lubbock people do not put the car in the garage at night, we wonder more cars aren't stolen here than are!)
2. Always close the windows tightly — and lock the car door religiously.
3. Never leave the engine running, even in front of your home.
4. In strange cities, park in a garage or ask a policeman to suggest a good parking lot.

Twenty-three cars are stolen every hour make certain yours is not one.

WE NEED HELP

ONE of our resolutions for 1950 is to file recipes columns that seem to strike a happy response with our readers. We mean to do that but the paper is destroyed and then before we know it another holiday has rolled around and we have requests for the recipe.

Will someone telephone us (don't bother to write it and send it) the recipe for eggless, sugarless fruit cake we ran several years ago? Please do. It had a foundation of graham crackers, marshmallows and maraschino cherries. We have had three requests for the recipe lately and cannot find it in our files.

We'd appreciated it and so would the woman who made the requests.

Gay Color Is Keynote

BY VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you are a bachelor or a career girl living in a small and perhaps dreary room, give your quarters a lift with color. See what a brilliant red or yellow or green bed cover, draperies and throw pilows will do for a tired old room. Keep in mind, also, that tailored accessories are the best choice because they help keep a small room looking streamlined and uncluttered, making it appear larger.

There are many handsome and inexpensive fabrics such as corduroy, which in a fine wale with velvety texture can help give a room a decorator touch. Try a combination of deep brown and bisque, bittersweet throw with gray pillows, a ruby and green ensemble, of your own color scheme. One smart room ensemble comes in seven rich colors, available with bolsters, round or square throw pillows.

If your room is small, a studio bed is the answer to gracious living. You can push it against the wall on three sides, pile it high with pillows, and perhaps a bolster on one side to give a sofa effect. That way you will have all the comforts of a good mattress at night, and a luxurious looking sofa by day, ideal for the career person who must entertain.

A girl living alone can be more feminine in her home decor, if she chooses. If she likes ruffles, she can find them in attractive bed throws in solid color cotton, rayon and wool.

One striking room combination combines dark green corduroy draperies and bed throw with several silver-grey pillows and one or two in ruby. A shaggy chartreuse cotton loop rug and a chartreuse chair give contrasting color, topped with a large comfortable chair upholstered in red and gray fabric. One wall is papered in a wide silver and white stripe, another painted green and two others in chartreuse.

"I can make you a BETTER COOK this THANKSGIVING!"

SAYS AUNT JENNY

"Easy as pie—just do these 2 simple things!"

"AND NOW is the time to do them! With Thanksgiving close at hand, folks coming to dinner, your cooking will be put to a real test. So start today doing the two things that have made millions of women better cooks: (1) Use Spry, the wonderful new, better-than-ever Spry that's now at your grocer's. (2) Use the tested Spry recipes in the Spry ads and on the Spry labels. Follow directions exactly, measure accurately—and you're all set for success! "But be sure to use Spry. There isn't another shortening in the land exactly like it. New Spry is blander, creamier, mixes so easily with your other ingredients, gives meltingly tender, flaky, nut-sweet piecrust. (Just try my recipe at right and you'll see.)

"Spry gives better cakes, too, thanks to its superior new Cake-Improver ingredient. Better fried foods—crisp, delicate-tasting, easy to digest. Take my advice—get Spry today in the big, money-saving 3-lb. can. Use it every time you bake or fry. The flood of compliments you get will tell you you're a better cook!"

SERVE MY THANKSGIVING PUMPKIN PIE

Never made a pie before? Don't be scared to try. It's EASY to get tender, flaky piecrust by Spry's "Can't-Fail" method, all explained in my recipe at the right.

TRY AUNT JENNY'S SPECIAL
THANKSGIVING PUMPKIN PIE

1½ cups canned or cooked pumpkin
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
2 tablespoons molasses (optional)
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 cup evaporated milk or top milk
1 unbaked Spry Pie Shell

Combine pumpkin, sugar, salt, spices and molasses and mix. Add eggs and milk and mix thoroughly. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 to 45 minutes, or until knife inserted comes out clean.

When cool, decorate pie with little cheese pumpkins, as pictured. Shape pumpkins from softened yellow cheese, cut them in half, lengthwise, laying each half on filling cut side down, with stems (made of citron) toward center of pie.

Spry "Can't-Fail" Pie Shell

Mix 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Measure out ½ cup Spry.

Step 1 for Tenderness—Cut in about ⅔ of the Spry with pastry blender or two knives until as fine as meal.

Step 2 for Flakiness—Cut in remaining Spry to size of large peas.

Sprinkle 2½ tablespoons cold water over different parts of the mixture. Mix thoroughly with fork until all particles cling together and form a ball of dough. Shape with fingers into smooth, flat round. Place on floured board; with floured rolling pin, roll toward edge with successive light strokes, keeping dough round. Roll into a circle ⅛ inch thick. Place in 9-inch pie pan. Pat with piece of dough to fit into pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan; turn back edge. Flute rim.

REMEMBER! ALL SPRY NOW AT YOUR GROCER'S IS NEW BETTER-THAN-EVER SPRY!

Party Is Courtesy

A gift-tea given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Wright, 2521 Twenty-fourth, Sunday was a courtesy to Miss Grace Plants, who is to marry Nelson A. Mc Lain Dec. 23. Mrs. Marguerite Bynum was assistant hostess.

The line was made up of Mrs. Wright, Mrs. R. C. Plants, mother of the honoree; Miss Plants, Mrs. F. A. McLain, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. George Plants of Seymour; Miss Elsie Plants of Pampa and Mrs. Frank Wright.

Mrs. R. L. Stewart and Mrs. Vera Maxey alternated in presiding at the refreshment table and the bride's book. The table was centered with white mums and snapdraggons and lighted with white tapers.

Refreshments carried out the honoree's chosen bridal colors of aqua and pink.

Forty-two guests called between 3 and 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Eathel Roddy presided at the gift display.

Town Talk

MRS. ISABEL GASSISON of 2217 Fourteenth and her sister Mrs. Thomas Currie of Amarillo returned last week from a month's tour of several midwestern and southern states.

Their first stop was in Kansas City to visit relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Hill Garrison and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Garrison. After stopping at Vincennes, Indiana, to see points of historical interest, they journeyed to Cincinnati, where they visited a cousin, Mrs. Jennie Shoup. While there, the group attended the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ. The three women then went to Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Garrison considers their visit at Richmond, Va., extremenly interesting, as they attended St. John's church, where Patrick Henry exclaimed "Give me liberty, or give me death," and sat in the pew once occupied by the famous American.

After visiting Williamsburg, the old restored capital of Virginia, the group journeyed to the Cumberland mountains in Tennessee. They spent one night on Lookout mountain, on which is located Cumberland Gap. Mrs. Garrison's and Mrs. Currie's father was stationed at this point during the Civil War.

Mrs. Garrison say that she enjoyed seeing Monticello, home of Thomas Jefferson at Charlottesville, Va. She formerly taught history in Lubbock Public schools for 19 years, and had always desired to visit the historical Monticello.

Also accompaning the tourists were Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Newbold of Amarillo.

Mrs. James G. Jarrett and baby son, David, are visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. C. J. Reynolds, 2209 Ninth. They will return to their home in Beaumont Thursday, after a week's stay in Lubbock.

Included in Thankgiving week visitors in Lubbock is Miss Sarah Cates, a pretty gray-eyed brunette of Wilson and Ardmore, Okla. She is dividing her stay with her sister, Mrs. H. A. Watson, 3003 Nineteenth, and a niece, Mrs. Oliver Thomas, 2618 Twenty-second.

Mrs. Clyde F. Elkins, 1803 Thirteenth, is visiting in Austin as the guest of relatives.

After a brief absence from Lubbock, during which they planned to make their home in Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Crumpler have returned. Mrs. Crumpler enjoys a reputation as a capable book reviewer and club worker.

Dr. Ross Hodges, 62, Member Of Pioneer Ranger Family, Dies

RANGER, Nov. 21. (AP) — Dr. Ross Hodges, 62, Ranger veterinarian, died today of a heart attack.

He was stricken yesterday. Hodges was a member of a pioneer Ranger family.

Survivors include the widow and a son, Bill Hodges of Fredericksburg; two brothers, Dick Hodges of Fort Worth and Dr. R. H. Hodges of Ranger, and a sister, Mrs. L. L. Neale of Ranger.

Hudson Announces Price For New Model Entry Into Field

DETROIT, Nov. 21.(AP)—Hudson Motor Car Co. announced today its new low priced model, just introduced, will have a list price of from $1,675 to $1,795.

The lower figure is for the three-passenger coupe; the higher tag for the four-door sedan.

The new model, which Hudson has named the Pacemaker, went on public display in dealer showrooms today. It is the first of the new entrants in the lower priced field. Kaizer-Frazer has announced plans to introduce a model to compete in the Chevrolet-Ford-Plymouth price field and Nash reportedly has one in prospect.

Two more new 1950 models to be shown this week are Ford's Mercury and the redesigned Pontiacs. Details of both will be disclosed on Friday.

DENTUR-EZE

Newsmen Aroused By Council Refusal To Okay Recording

DENVER, Nov. 21. (INS)—Denver city council today aroused the wrath of radio newsmen by refusing to permit airing of an official hearing.

Sheldon Peterson, news director for station KLZ, had requested permission to record the proceedings for broadcast later.

The hearing involved charges which had been brought against City councilman Herbert C. Dolph, sr., accused of taking a $500 "gift" in connection with a liquor license. Dolph was acquitted by a directed verdict, of criminal charges arising from the acceptance of the money, but council itself now seeks to exclude him on grounds that his action tended to "bring council into public disrepute."

Members Deny Rights

Six of seven council members voted to deny broadcast rights to both KLZ and station KMYR, after questioning Peterson on "whether the entire proceedings will be broadcast or portions deleted."

The KLZ official said the limitations would prevent airing of the entire hearing and explained that the intent was to present "the highlights of the testimony, omitting the technical legal arguments."

He said every effort would be made to be impartial and to give both sides of the discussion. By implication, Peterson noted that newspaper reporters covering the hearing also would not and could not present a verbatim report to the public.

Shortly after the request was denied, both KLZ and station KFEL exercised, for the first time, the new editorial privileges granted radio stations by the FCC to comment on the decision.

Said Peterson:

"It is apparent council does not want you (the public) to hear the actual proceedings."

Princess Elizabeth Takes Up Role Of Sailor's Wife

VALLETTA, Malta, Nov. 21 (U.P.)—Princess Elizabeth of Britain took up the role of a sailor's wife today as she rejoined her husband Philip, duke of Edinburgh.

After kissing her year-old son Prince Charles goodbye, she stepped into a Viking of the king's flight in London yesterday and was whisked to the Mediterranean island of Malta via Nice with an entourage of 16 persons. Her husband is stationed here with the Royal Navy.

Their second wedding anniversary was yesterday.

She and the duke celebrated the event last night at a small party which broke up early to permit the princess a good night's rest after her 10-hour journey.

The duke, Earl Mountbatten, Gov. Sir Gerald H. Creasy and Navy Commander-in Chief of the Mediterranean area Admiral Sir Arthur Power greeted her on arrival.

The princess wes expected to remain for three weeks, returning to Britain in time to spend Christmas at Sandringham with King George, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Charles.

It marked the third time the princess had left Britain. In 1947 she accompanied the king and queen and Princess Margaret to South Africa. A year later, in November 1948, Elizabeth and Philip spent a few days in Paris.

Veteran Admits 150 Burglaries After Giving Self Up

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21 (INS)—A youthful Army veteran who financed his yen for nightclubs and women by committing 150 burglaries in six months could thank his conscience today for putting him into jail.

Held in San Francisco was 21-year-old Floyd Christy who walked into central police station last night and confessed his amazingly successful, albeit short-lived career in housebreaking because he was "tired of living this way."

Lists Many Burglaries

The blonde-haired former soldier who has a Japanese wife and child in Nippon listed 115 burglaries in his native Portland, Ore. and Los Angeles and another 35 in San Francisco, all since last June. Christy's succinct explanation:

"I like to run around night clubs with women."

Christy, an orphan who spent three years in the Oregon State training school for boys on a petty theft conviction, said he netted about $400 in cash a week plus about double that amount in sales of jewelry, watches and other valuables.

Quit Engineer School

The young veteran said he enrolled in a Los Angeles school to become an "airplane engineer and designer." He said that lasted only ten days.

"It was a washout," he explained, "I wanted to live in style."

Christy, who said he served in Japan as an agent of the Criminal Investigation department, declared he married a 20-year-old girl called Tushika and that they have a baby daughter named Linda.

The young man said he wants to "take my medicine" adding:

"When I finish pounding rocks for this I hope to go back to her in Japan."

Historical Museum Granted $300 Bible By Panhandle

CANYON, Nov. 21. (Special)—Citizens of Panhandle, Texas, have donated a beautiful King James Version of the Bible costing over $300 to the Panhandle-Plains Historical museum on the campus of West Texas State.

The money was raised by David M. Warren, editor of the Panhandle Herald. Mr. Warren is also a past president of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society and is a member of the board of regents for Texas university.

Printed by the World Publishing company of Cleveland and New York, the Bible weighs over 25 pounds and is printed in regular book type. Only 975 of the Bibles were printed.

Citizens of Panhandle also purchased one of the Bibles for the Carson county library.

Co-Ed Disappears On Oklahoma Bus Trip

DENTON, Nov. 21. (U.P.)—For the second time within 18 months, a college co-ed has disappeared in the Texas-Oklahoma area.

The latest to disappear was Vivian Daney, 19, a Southeastern State college co-ed at Durant, Okla. She has been missing since last Tuesday.

Early in June, 1948, Virginia Carpenter of Texarkana, Tex., disappeared at Denton. She had just enrolled for the summer session at the North Texas school.

Her mother has spent more than $1,000 in the last 18 months in a fruitless search for her missing daughter, last seen getting into a yellow convertible occupied by two young men.

The Oklahoma girl, recently named one of the most beautiful at the Durant school, was last seen at Hugo, Okla., after leaving her home at Talhini, Okla., by bus for Durant.

At first, she was believed to have left the bus at an intersection west of here to board another bus to Durant. Bus line authorities later reported she came to Hugo.

Five-Year Sentence Given In Embezzling

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 21. (AP)—John Frederick Becker, 43, former assistant cashier of the First National bank of Paducah, was sentenced to five years in Leavenworth penitentiary today for embezzling $48,386.15.

Federal District Judge William H. Atwell pronounced sentence after receiving Becker's guilty plea. Becker also pleaded guilty to six counts of false entry in accounts of bank deposits.

Becker's wife, mother and one of two sons were in court with him. The judge told Becker he had taken more than $100,000 since 1941, but prosecution was outlawed because of statute limitations.

C. C. Renfro, Dallas attorney for Becker, said the defendant has sold his large dairy interests and home at Paducah to repay more than $34,000.

Judge Atwell passed sentence after informing Becker he could receive a maximum of five years and $5,000 fine of each of the seven counts against him. The counts covered a period from Jan. 1, 1947 to March 25, 1949.

Houston Man Indicted On Charge Of Attacking Girl

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (AP) — A negro porter was indicted by a Harris county grand jury today for the rape of an 11-year-old white girl.

George Honey Young, 28, was charged yesterday before Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan who ordered him held without bond.

The girl, a sixth grade student, was attacked Saturday morning after she was lured from a neighborhood football game in Houston's Riverside residential area.

CHOCOLATE CAKE with Brown Sugar Icing

Quick-method recipe

Sift together into one bowl:
2 cups sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar

Add:
½ cup Snowdrift (Emulsorized, quick-blending)
¾ cup milk

Mix enough to dampen flour. Beat 2 minutes. If by hand, count beating time only. With electric mixer use "low speed"; scrape bowl often. Scrape beaters after 2 minutes.

Add: ¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
2 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled

Beat 1 minute. Turn into 2 greased 8" layer pans lined with plain paper. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 25 minutes. Cool and frost with—

BROWN SUGAR ICING: Mix 1 cup light brown sugar and ⅓ cup less 1 tbsp. granulated sugar with ⅓ cup hot water in saucepan; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Boil rapidly until syrup spins a thread (240° F.). Beat 2 egg whites foamy; add 1 tbsp. sugar, then beat until stiff. Slowly pour syrup into beaten whites, beating constantly. Add 1 tsp. vanilla, ⅛ tsp. salt. Beat until icing "peaks."

TECHNICALITIES BAFFLE YOUTH

Jury Quickly Frees Bewildered London Boy Of Murder Charges

By WALLACE S. HULLETT
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Nov. 21.—A London jury took less than 30 seconds today to acquit bewildered, 12-year-old George Edward Crick of an unprecedented murder charge in the death of his four-year-old playmate.

George stood in the big circular dock under the glass-domed roof of Old Bailey criminal court, where some of Britain's most notorious murderers and other criminals have been brought to book.

He was the youngest defendant to appear in the historic old court according to available records.

George's face showed that he was unable to cope with the legal technicalities of the trial.

Smiles After Verdict

But he smiled after the verdict was given and he left the court with his father, who told reporters the boy had suffered "great shock and strain."

George pleaded not guilty as the trial opened.

The small boy, whose fair, tousled hair fell constantly over his eyes, was accused of murdering his playmate, Stanley Victor Graves, of Perival, Middlesex, whose body was found in the Brent river at Greenford.

George whose home is at Alperton, also in Middlesex, at first denied and then admitted in preliminary hearings that he knew how the Graves boy had disappeared.

Police said that after telling several different stories, George admitted striking Stanley on the head last Oct. 24, pushed him against a tree, and the four-year-old stumbled and fell into the river.

The prosecutor described some of these conflicting statements today but the defense contended it had failed to make a case.

The judge in a 35-minute summary called on the jury to decide whether murder or manslaughter had been committed, and if they found neither had been committed, to acquit.

George at first did not seem to understand he was free again when the verdict was announced, and his father led him gently from the courtroom.

Services Are Conducted For Albert S. Alsobrook In Lamesa

LAMESA, Nov. 21. (Special)—Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist church here this afternoon for Albert Sidney Alsobrook, 66, laundry route driver and Lamesa resident for 39 years, who died at his home Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Sam A. Thomas, pastor officiated. Burial was in the Lamesa cemetery under direction of the Higginbotham Funeral home.

Woman Executive Sues U.S. In Tax Withholding Battle

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 21. (AP)—Vivien Kellems fired a law suit at the government and more criticism at Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today in her battle against the income tax withholding law.

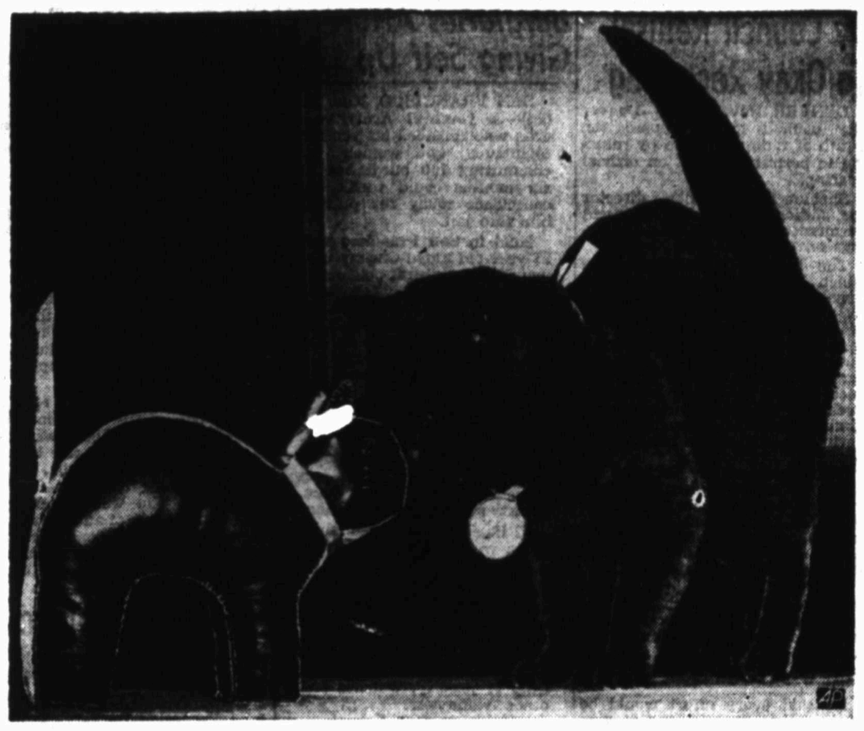

The suit, Miss Kellems announced here, was filed in federal district court in an effort to recover $7,819.20 which, she asserted, the government took from her "in the tradition of the boldest bank robber."

Of Snyder, she said:

"The only difference between Mr. John Snyder and Mr. Jesse James is Mr. James was an 'outlaw' and used a gun."

Previously, Miss Kellems had invited Snyder to have her indicted for her refusal to collect withholding taxes from her employes in her cable grip manufacturing plant. She wanted to be indicted, she explained, in order to test the constitutionality of the withholding tax.

Her invitation has gone ignored. The Treasury department, instead, has seized $7,819.20 of her money through liens on her company's bank accounts.

Violin Pawned For $10 Turns Out To Be $20,000 Instrument

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 21 (U.P.)—Police said today a $25,000 violin, built 235 years ago, had been pawned for $10.

The violin "Peter Guarnerius," was returned to its owner, Geza de Kresz, after being stolen last Friday.

Norman McFadden, 30, was charged with stealing the instrument. Police said he took it to a beer parlor where he offered it for $15. There were no offers, so McFadden dropped the price to $10, made a sale, and started treating the house.

The man who bought it, later pawned it — also for $10, police said.

Rites Scheduled For Lamesa Man Today

LAMESA, Nov. 21 (Special)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Albert Burnice Dossy, 35, who died of pneumonia in a hospital here today.

Dossey, a farmer, had been resident here for 26 years, was a veterin of World War II and a member of the Baptist church for the past 11 years.

Services will be held in the Klondike Baptist church with the Rev. James officiating and burial in the Lamesa cemetery with the Higginbotham Funeral home in charge of arrangements.

Dossey is survived by his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dossey of Lamesa; grandmother, Mrs. T. A. Crow of Gatesville; three brothers, A. B. Dossey of Hobbs, Wallace Dossey of Carlsbad and Tom Dossey of Lamesa; three sisters, Mrs. Earnest Mitchell and Miss Ina Lee Dossey of Lamesa and Mrs. W. E. Crow of Hobbs; a daughter, Wanda Jean, 12 and a son Jerry Burnice, 2.

REASON ENOUGH

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Nov. 21 (U.P.)—Laborer Jose Carrasco dived 135 feet from a bridge into a river yesterday. Arrested for attempted suicide, he was released promtly when he explained that he had done it in honor of Argentina's first lady, Mrs. Eva Duarte Peron.

Tickets Go On Sale For Opera Programs

Tickets now are available for the presentation of "La Travita" on Dec. 7 and of "Carmen" on Dec. 8 by the Boston Grand opera, American Legion officials announced Monday. The opera will be presented at Lubbock Senior High school.

Reservations may be made by telephoning the office of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion, No. 2-375, or by going to or writing to that office at 910 Texas Ave.

Prices are $1.80, $3, and $3.60 for a seat at one performance. All seats will be reserved and the prices are determined by the location of seats.

The two performances will be sponsored by Allen Bros. post, which recently signed a contract to bring grand opera to Lubbock during a visit here of a representative of the opera, which will fill a series of engagements in the Southwest.

The order in which the operas will be presented has been reversed, "Carmen" formerly having been scheduled on the first night.

COMMERCIALISM SCORED

The Catholic church in Australia, fighting against exploitation of teen-age girls, is denouncing "the base commercialism to which the chastity of a girl is comparatively unimportant alongside a dividend for corsets."

A team of Nigerian soccer players, most of whom play barefoot, now is meeting leading amateur teams in Britain.

Insurance Men Make Plans For Regional Sales Meet

Fourteen members of the Lubbock Health and Accident association Monday laid plans for a forthcoming regional Annual Sales Congress in their regular monthly luncheon session at Hotel Lubbock.

The association, composed of persons engaged in the health and accident insurance field, also heard Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, in a speech, "The Insurance Business from the Other Side of the Fence." Guy traced the history of the insurance business from Spain, in the 1200's, to its present position today. He urged listeners to "do a better job every day so that insurance may continue a free private enterprise, instead of being made into a state-owned and operated activity."

Harlie D. Woods, president of the group, presided, and explained plans for the regional Sales Congress, to be held throughout the day of December 5 at the Hilton hotel.

The Lubbock regional meeting is one of four being held in Texas under the auspices of the Texas Association of Accident and Health Underwriters. Other regional meetings will be in Dallas, San Antonio and Houston.

The Bolivian Congress has moved to curb "harmful union activities."

British Middle Class On Spot

BY SEYMOUR BERKSON
General Manager, INS

LONDON — To glimpse what Britain's present crisis actually means in terms of human beings rather than statistics, let me introduce you to Mr. and Mrs. William Mills and their two children, John, 20, and Ann, 17 — a typical middle class British family.

Let us visit them in the cozy living room of their little four-room flat in London's Kensington section and talk to them about their problems.

For the problems of the Mills family are typical of what is going on in sorely beset Britain today. Their fears and hopes are the fears and hopes of the British middle class in general.

War Service Seen

Mills, a lean, sandy-haired man of 50 who saw active service in both world wars, manages a large London apartment building.

As such, he is more fortunate than many others of equal income, for the Mills family has a fairly modern apartment. Overcrowed though they are in its four tiny rooms, they consider themselves lucky in view of the still acute shortage of living quarters in bomb-ravaged London.

Everything is spic and span. The miniature living room is simply but tastefully furnished with inexpensive utility furniture.

About the only frill is a gay pair of bunnies in porcelain that adorn the top of the mantelpiece; their only luxuries are an electric refrigerator of prewar vintage, and a radio.

Radio Tax Paid

For the radio they pay an annual tax of one pound ($2.80) for the right to listen to the government controlled BBC, Britain's only radio network.

By American standards the Mills family would rate at the lower and of the middle class since its annual income in terms of comparable purchasing power represents the equivalent of about $3,800 before taxes.

But their net income is typical of the middle class as a whole in Britain today because those middle class people in higher income brackets are being automatically cut down to about the Mills level by taxes.

Food Provides Problem

The primary problem of the Mills family is food. Their diet is far poorer and less varied than it was before the war — and the cost much higher.

Like other British housewives confronted with the same problem, Mrs. Mills has had to become a mathematical magician to plan her menus within the severe limits of rationing and high prices.

Their total meat ration gives the Mills family just enough for a Sunday roast once a week and a tin of canned corned beef or minched ham for one other meal during the week.

The meat ration per person for a whole week is only twelve ounces — 3/4th of a pound. Two ounces per person is the weekly ration of bacon.

Son Attends College

Mills and his wife forego their own meager bacon rations every week in order to turn them over to their growing son, John, a stalwart 6-footer who is studying chemistry at the University college of Exeter on a government scholarship.

As for eggs, they are virtually non-existent unless one can afford to pay the equivalent of $1.50 a dozen or more on the black market.

The legal ration is one egg a week per person — but that is theoretical as eggs are hard to find even with ration coupons. And when a British family does find one or more, they are usually cold storage eggs shipped from Poland or Denmark.

Shrewd Shopping Needed

Mrs. Mills has to shop shrewdly because the family income cannot afford even some of the foodstuffs that are on the market.

She queues up sometimes for agonizingly long periods to get some fresh fish at bargain prices, or walks to half a dozen shops to find the right vegetable at the right price. Her main worry is to provide the basic health requirements for her son and daughter.

"I try mostly to locate those foods which are plentiful and therefore not exorbitantly priced," Mrs. Mills explains. "We avoid all luxuries because the prices are too high. Besides meat, eggs, butter, sugar, tea, and milk are among the rationed items in limited supply."

Paradoxically, the price of rationed foods is relatively inexpensive because the Labor government gives subsidies to keep those prices in leash.

Peter Pays Paul

It is a game, however, of robbing Peter to pay Paul, for the food subsidies come out of the public pocketbook by direct taxation. And a diet of rationed foods alone would be not only monotonous but definitely sub-standard, so people like the Mills have to buy unrationed as well as rationed foods and for the former they must pay the market price.

Mrs. Mills does all her own housework and earns a little money (about a pound and a half —$4.20—per week) on the side by working a few hours a day for the same apartment management that employs her husband.

She mends the family's clothes —and this is quite a chore in itself because new clothes are now virtually out of reach of the Mills family pocketbook.

The only clothes Mrs. Mills has been able to purchase during the last three years have been two ensembles and one party dress.

One Suit Purchased

Her husband has been able to buy only one new suit since he was demobilized from the army and that was purchased nearly three years ago.

With the British purchase tax as high as 100 per cent on some clothing and other items considered "luxuries," the Mills family thinks only in terms of things that are absolutely essential.

For example, an ordinary tweed business suit that would have cost eight pounds before the war now costs twenty pounds including a 33-1/3 per cent "luxury" tax.

In terms of the present dollar equivalent of the devalued British pound, 20 pounds (slightly less than $60) would not be considered expensive in America; but it must be remembered that Mr. Mills' salary is not in dollars, that he earns less than he would on the same job in America, and that in terms of actual purchasing power it is as if he had to pay about $125 for such a suit.

Savings Are Light

The Mills family save whatever little sums they can put aside from their earnings to provide adequate clothing for their son and daughter. Their daughter, Ann, is studying beauty culture and hopes to graduate soon and help contribute to the family income.

Aside from the premiums on a modest insurance policy, the most the Mills family has been able to save has been about twenty-five pounds ($70 at the recently devalued rate of exchange) during the past year.

And now with the recent devaluation of the pound and the resulting increases in prices, Mills doubts there will be any savings whatever.

Like most other members of the British middle class, Mills feels that the devaluation of the British currency will result in a tighter squeeze on the family budget than ever before.

This sorry state of affairs regarding the drop in standard of living as a result of the devaluation was publicly admitted by Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps at a press conference on Oct. 12.

U. S. Standard Higher

To realize what this means, it is important to bear in mind that the standard of living of the average family in England is already far below that of the same kind of family in the U.S.A. This is reflected in the following comparative statistics:

In the U.S.A., there is one automobile for every four people; in Britain, there is one for every twenty-four.

In the U.S.A., there is one telephone for every five people; in Britain, there is one for every thirty-five people.

In the U.S.A., an average of 6¼ working hours are required to purchase a decent pair of men's shoes while in England the same pair of shoes requires 25½ hours of the average workman's time.

Car Used Sparingly

Returning to the Mills family, they happen to be fortunate enough to have an old car, but they use it only on Sundays and then very sparingly because their gasoline ration provides for only 90 miles of motoring per month.

Like everything else, gas is expensive and recently, as a result of devaluation, was hiked to the equivalent of 30 cents U.S. a gallon.

Papa Mills has to pay the equivalent of 36 cents U.S. a package for the cheapest brand of cigarets available in London. The most popular brands are 49 cents a package.

Britain's Labor government is not popular with Mr. Mills and his wife, who have seen their hardships increase with each passing year.

But their son—typical of the new generation growing up under socialistic influences—is inclined to favor the Labor government.

Colored Thinking Claimed

His thinking is somewhat colored by the fact that his own scholarship to the university is being financed with government funds. He thinks it quite normal to depend on government for any and all free services it can render.

Papa Mills sees both sides of the question with greater maturity. He recognizes the popularity among the lower classes of food subsidies and the national health insurance program whereby medical services are furnished free of charge, but he feels that the Labor government has "gone too far in its experiments."

U. S. Aid Appreciated

The Mills family, like most British families, is very conscious of the aid being rendered to Britain by the Marshall plan and they feel that their plight would be even worse than it is were it not for American assistance.

"We realize that without the Marshall plan we and others like us in England would be living on fish and vegetables with very little bread or anything else," Mills said.

Life is not easy for the Mills family.

But like countless other middle class British families, they try to grin and bear it as best they can, hoping somehow for a brighter tomorrow.

SYMPATHY BINDS

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 66, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us:

"I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 268 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 212.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

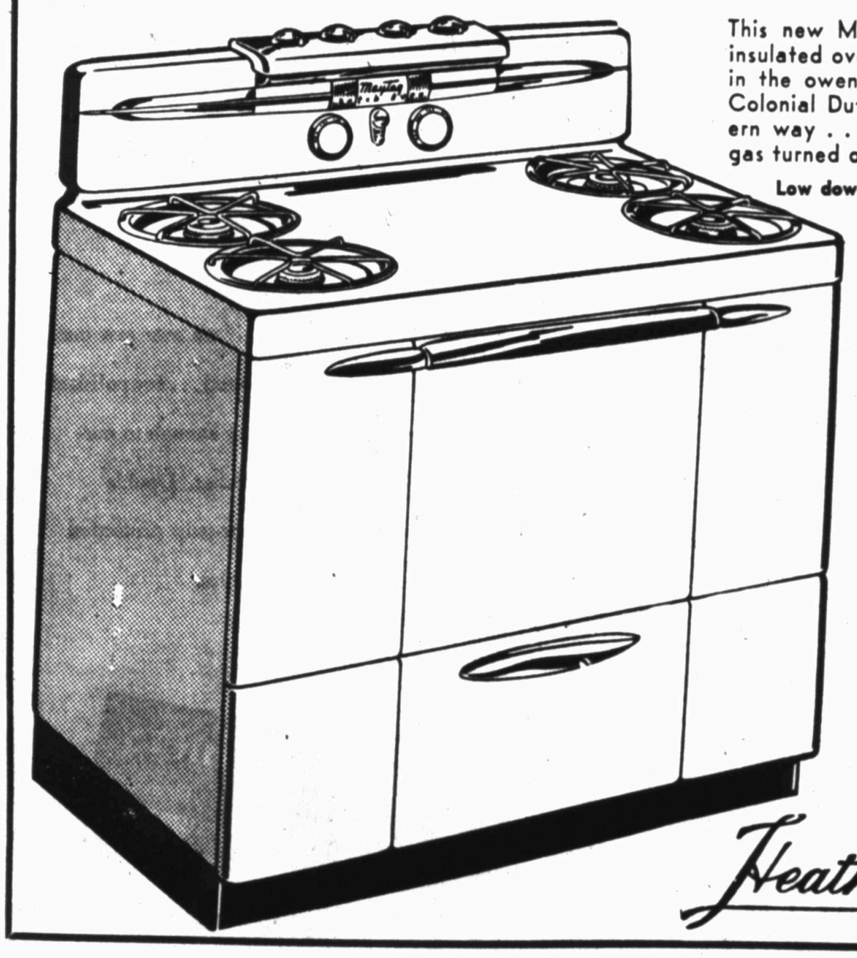

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

Cleveland Indians Sold To Syndicate For $2,200,000

Business Men Buy Property

By DICK SMITH
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND, Nov. 21. — A group of Cleveland business men purchased the Cleveland Indians today and selected Hank Greenberg as general manager for three years.

Ellis W. Ryan, 45, an insurance executive, who took over Bill Veeck's job as president, said his syndicate paid approximately $2,200,000 for the property.

Veeck Signs Papers

Greenberg has been vice president in charge of the American league team's farm system. He came to the Indians last year after a big league playing career in which he twice won the American league's most valuable player award while with the Detroit Tigers.

As the sale was announced, Jack H. Harris of Cleveland sued the Corporation and Veeck for $1,200,000.

Harris, who owned 38 1/3 of the 1,125 shares in the sold corporation, charged Veeck with "usurpation, abuse and misuse" of his authority in dealings with Tribe farm clubs.

He claimed Veeck's ownership or control of Oklahoma City, Dayton and Zanesville, O., franchises was financed with money borrowed from the Tribe without authority.

Veeck signed the sales papers, grinning as usual.

He gave no hint of where he next will use the executive ability and magic showmanship which during his 41 months here helped his ball club win the 1948 championship and—in the last two seasons—draw nearly 5,000,000 fans to home games.

When he and his associates bought the property June 22, 1946, Veeck paid a reported $1,250,000 for it. His personal profit from the deal was estimated at $500,000 for a stock holding of about 30 per cent.

Veeck Offers Help

In addition to the Indians' franchise, Ryan's purchasing group got ownership of League park and working agreement with 13 minor league clubs, including San Diego in the Pacific Coast league and Oklahoma City in the Texas league.

The new owners, Ryan said, hope to "retain the entire Tribe organization" and to devote themselves to "a bold effort to make and keep this city first in baseball." He added Veeck has offered to give them "every bit of help we want."

"I'm no Bill Veeck," the blue-eyed, graying new boss of the Tribe said, "but my associates and I hope to keep Veeck's progressive policy in operation. We will make a bold effort to make and keep this city first in baseball. As of right now, we plan to concentrate on building the club back to championship strength."

"No one will ever have three nicer years than Cleveland gave to us," Veeck said.

"The only way a man can make any big chunk of money under the present tax setup is to sell something he has created and to take advantage of the capital gain provision," he added.

Veeck, 35, was divorced last month and has three children. Expenses connected with the divorce and his approaching marriage to Mary Frances Ackerman, 27, former Pittsburgh model, apparently weighed heavily in his decision to give up the ball club.

Ryan listed these six Clevelanders as members of his purchasing syndicate:

George A. Medinger, president of the Fostoria Industrial Service Co.; Donald W. Hornbeck, partner in the law firm of Miller & Hornbeck; Harry E. Small, executive vice president of the Bank of Ohio; Guy W. Waters, president of the Rausch Nut and Mfg. Co.; Nathan Dolin, manager of the Cleveland Arena box office; and Jack B. John, vice president of Ryan's Insurance company.

GAME SOLD OUT

AUSTIN, Nov. 21 (AP)—The A. and M.-Texas Thanksgiving football game is a sellout again. The University of Texas athletic office announced at 5 p. m. that it had sold the last ticket of a group of 1,500 offered for sale Saturday at 1 p. m. The tickets were unclaimed from the allotment previously reserved for students. All other tickets had been sold early in the season.

Ticket Sale For Brownfield Game Brisk

Injuries Slow Down Westerner's Attack

What may be the last home appearance of the Lubbock Westerner football team will be seen here Thursday afternoon at Jones stadium against the Brownfield Cubs in the traditional Thanksgiving day contest.

Already slated for bi-district competition, the Bronc Busters will be out to establish their 10th victory, and fourth district win, of the 1949 season in the Cub tilt, a job that may not be hard to accomplish since Brownfield is suffering from the effects of nine straight shellackings and is a bit worse for wear following last week's 58-0 loss to Odessa.

Ticket Sales Brisk

Despite the record of the Brownfield eleven, ticket sales Monday at Lubbock High school were brisk, according to E. J. Lowrey, athletic business manager. Lowrey said also that the Brownfield school had ordered 500 student and 500 adult tickets and would be up in force for the holiday game.

Local football fans may purchase tickets for the 2:30 p.m. encounter at the high school before game time to be assured of getting better seats. Reserved seat tickets are $1.50.

Still rated as the second team in the state by Texas sports writers, the Westerners have fallen heir to a number of late-season injuries which threaten to slow the offensive and defensive efforts Thursday and which held Lubbock somewhat in check last week in defeating Midland, 28-7.

Brown, Young, To Play

Slated to see action this week are Quarterback Bobby Brown and Fullback Malcolm Young. Brown missed the Midland game because of a stomach disorder, but he was all right in practice Monday. Young received an ankle injury in the Odessa tilt and missed the Midland game.

Added to the list of injured linemen is Billy Wright, stellar right end, who suffered an injured foot and toe Friday night when a bus jack fell on his foot as he was helping remove equipment from the bus which brought the players back from Midland.

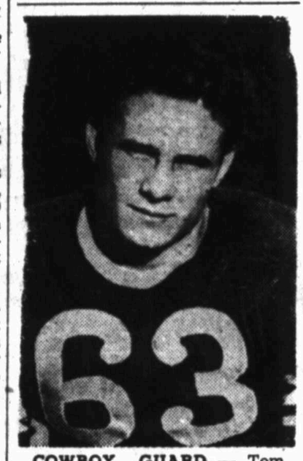

Along with Tackle Joe Brock and Guard Freddy Gray, both out with knee injuries, Wright will watch the game from the bench Thursday. Brock and Gray were both off crutches Monday and will probably be ready for next week's bi-district encounter with the District 4-AA winner, to be decided Thursday in a game between Austin of El Paso and El Paso High.

Taylor Impressive

Without the service of four starters last Friday, the Westerners seemed to flounder around at times, with three fumbles hurting scoring opportunities. But five pass interceptions more than made up for the fumbles, three touchdowns resulting from the pilfered aerials. Lubbock's passing show was limited to five completions in 16 attempts.

On the ground, substitute left Halfback Mack Taylor added 103 yards to his season's total on 11 carries from scrimmage for ball-carrying honors, and he made three touchdowns, one on a 46-yard gallop. Taylor's performance was very encouraging.

Monday at practice the Westerners ran offensive plays against the High school Cowhands, whose best defense was against passing. Several times the young Westerners broke up passing tries, intercepting many.

COWBOY GUARD — Tom Adams will be making another appearance before his South Plains friends Saturday when the Brownfield player takes the field with the Hardin-Simmons team. Adams, state light heavyweight boxing champion in Golden Gloves, will be playing against Texas Tech for the last time.

Gophers Win Senior Boys Club Battle

Monday was a heavy day at Boys club, with five basketball games being unreeled.

Senior game was between the Golden Gophers and Unconscious Five, with the Gophers banging out a 28-22 victory as Ray McClarty basketed eight points, bettering Bill Diamond's six points. For the losers Sammy Adams had nine points.

In one of two Junior league tilts the Five Fools squeezed out a last-minute, 19-18 victory over the Big Five. High for the Fools were Dennis Calvert with eight points and Preston Wolfe with seven. For the losers Billy Simms counted six markers and Keith White five.

The Sorry Lot looked all right in drubbing the Fungus Five, 44-9, with Bobby Tollison shooting from every angle to win scoring honors for the day with 25 points. Bobby Craig had 13. John Blocker made three for Fungus Five.

Dale Ball led scoring in the Pee Wee league, pacing the Palominos to a 31-10 win over Five Angels. Dean Fawcett's four points was high for the Angels.

A Pee Wee victory was won by the Maulers, defeating the Wildcats, 14-3, as Paul Sikes bucketed six points and Zack Tannery pitched in four. Buddy Robertson had four for the losers.

Games today are Mustangs Vs. Buffs in the Pee Wee loop; Midget Eagles Vs. Alley Rats; Junior Basketeers Vs. Fancy Five; and the Senior Seventh Street Thugs Vs. Unconscious Five. The Boys club Independents meet Barber college at 8 p.m. in the older division.

QB Club Has Quiet Night

The quietest night of them all was the verdict rendered after the Quarterback club's usual Monday night meeting had ended.

Coach C. R. Pattison of Lubbock High school, Coach Allie White of Texas Tech's freshmen and Coach Dell Morgan of Tech's varsity were the speakers at the meeting held in Hotel Lubbock.

Coach Pattison advised fans not to take Brownfield too lightly, but said that he expected to be able to give his reserves considerable experience in the game. He told the crowd that Lubbock players were a little stale at the present moment because they couldn't regard Midland and Brownfield too seriously. But the coach also assured the Quarterbacks that the Westerners would come out of it before they met the El Paso squad.

Injuries Slowed Team

In regard to the Midland game, Coach Pattison said that the Westerners didn't look so good much of the time. Part of it he attributed to the fact that the game was an anti-climax to the tougher games on the schedule. Part of it was because injuries caused him to shuffle the lineup, with only four regulars playing regular positions. Penalties, fumbles and a determined Midland eleven also made a difference.

Coach Pattison said that the Bullgdogs had used an unusual defense against them in that they used an eight and nine man line.

In the question period that followed, Coach Pattison discussed the blocked punt that gave Midland possession of the ball and a first down, after the kick had been blocked on fourth down. He also was asked when the state playoff final game would be played and he replied that it probably would be played Dec .24, although it might be advanced to the Monday following Christmas.

"We wouldn't care where it was played," the Lubbock mentor declared, "If we can just get that far."

Abilene Discussed

He also answered a question about the Abilene High school squad, saying that it was one of the better teams in the state and would give any other eleven a hard game.

Coach White declared that the Picadors settled down and played their best game of the year to beat West Texas State college's Calves. "We did it the hard way," Coach White said, "pounding down the center. Our passes weren't working and most of them were intercepted. The defense was pretty good, with one or two exceptions. The boys finally got down to business."

Coach Morgan stated that the beating Tech handed New Mexico was like a big dog finding a little one he could lick. He said that New Mexico was big but slow and that Tech forced them to hit up the middle.

Cowboy Offense Strong

Discussing the important game with Hardin-Simmons, which will be played here Saturday, Coach Morgan said that the Cowboy defensive record wasn't good. He asserted that Hardin-Simmons believed that the best defense was a strong offense, which was brought out by their record this season.

"I feel that we are capable of stopping them, at least part of the time," Coach Morgan declared. "We will have a hard time with Hook Davis and the passing combination of Ford to McChesney."

The coach went on to discuss other aspects of the Hardin-Simmons attack and admitted that the Raiders were weak on strong linebackers. He declared that it took a quick linebacker to break up the type of pass thrown to McChesney, but that the squad had settled down Monday to work on improving.

Discuss Sun Bowl

Coach Morgan, asked about the bowl prospects, said that Tech probably would be invited to appear in the Sun Bowl, even if Hardin-Simmons should win Saturday.

He announced that a member of the Sun Bowl had called him Monday night to pin him down, but that Tech wasn't talking bowl until after Saturday's game. Moreover, he asserted that the Raiders would go to the bowl only if the players themselves wanted to go. And, he added, at the present time it was only a 50-50 proposition.

Pictures of the Tech-Texas Western game concluded the meeting.

Longhorns May Be In Top Shape For Thursday's Tilt With Aggies

AUSTIN, Nov. 21. (AP)—Texas may be in the best physical condition of the season Thursday when it mets Texas A&M at College Station.

Both first string defensive ends, Ray Stone and Paul Williams are expected to be ready for action in the traditional Thanksgiving day battle.

Stone has been out with a groin injury since the first quarter of the Rice game and Williams was injured in the SMU game.

Tackle Jim Langford and Linebacker June Davis, bothered by injuries, are also expected to be in good shape.

Guard Bud McFadin, who suffered a broken nose in the 13-14 loss to TCU, will be ready for the Aggie battle.

Both the Longhorns and Aggies had open dates Saturday.

BAYLOR SKIPS PRACTICE

WACO, Nov. 21 (AP)—Baylor's football team skipped practice today, but will get down to heavy work tomorrow for its crucial meeting Saturday with Rice institute. The players struggled with final examinations in the class room instead of figuring offense and defense formations today.

Cal And Ohio State In Rose Bowl

Both Chosen By Unanimous Vote

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—It's undefeated California against once-beaten and twice-tied Ohio State in the Rose Bowl New Year's day.

The co-champion Buckeyes of the Big Ten and the clear-cut champion Bears of the Pacific Coast conference were unanimous choices today of their leagues for the Pasadena classic.

Waldorf's Second Trip

For Coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf of California, it will mark a second straight bowl test against a sky-rocketing young Big Ten mentor.

Last New Year's day, Northwestern's Bob Voigts, a former Waldorf protege, led the Wildcats to a 20-14 win over California. It was Voigts' second season at the Northwestern helm he inherited from Waldorf when Pappy went west to make good in a big way at Berkeley.

Now it's Wesley Fesler, in his third year as Ohio State's head coach, with whom Waldorf must match wits in the Rose Bowl.

Tied With Michigan

Ohio shared the Big Ten title with Michigan following their 7-7 tie last Saturday, but the Wolverines were ineligible for a Pasadena return this season. Michigan appeared in the Rose Bowl two seasons ago, hammering Southern California, 49-0. The Big Ten bans a bowl repeat by the same team within three seasons.

The Buckeyes had a 27-0 defeat by Minnesota and a 13-13 tie with Southern California in a campaign that included victories over Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Pittsburgh and Illinois.

California, which swept unbeaten through 10 games, downed Southern California, 16-10, in its toughest battle of the season.

Rice Owls Begin Preparations For Crucial Tilt With Baylor

HOUSTON, Nov. 21. (AP)— The Rice Owls, bruised and banged in their game with Texas Christian, did more looking and planning than actual work today.

Coach Jess Neely said there will be little rough work this week as he prepares his Owls for the Baylor game Saturday, a tilt that will determine the Southwest conference championship and the Cotton Bowl host.

Two players — and a trainer — were injury victims in the TCU game.

Joe Watson and Gerald Weatherly, a pair of centers and linebackers who are mainstays in the Rice defense, missed practice today with sprained knees. Weatherly also has a bruised hip.

Both are expected to be in shape for Baylor.

Trainer Eddie Wojecki reported to work today with a stomach ache. He said he had eaten some bad meat.

The players, however, said Wojecki chewed too vigorously on his tobacco while TCU was on that second half rampage against the Owls Saturday at Fort Worth.

DEFENSE IS TOP PROBLEM

Tech Opens Drills For H-SU Tussle With Light Workout

Serious drills in preparation for the deciding game of the year in the Border Conference, the meeting with Hardin-Simmons here Saturday, began yesterday at Texas Tech.

But Coach Dell Morgan, well pleased with the fine performance of the Red Raiders against New Mexico, eased up considerably on the squad. It was a light scrimmage entirely devoid of contact work and the usual Monday night scrimmage between reserves seeing little action in the preceding game was dropped.

First consideration this week will be in establishing a defence capable of stopping Hardin-Simmons' great passing attack. Quarterback John Ford has been pitching to End Bob McChesney with deadly consistency this year, carrying the Cowboys along to five victories, four of them over Border Conference teams.

Must Stop Davis

The second consideration, although not necessarily second in importance, will be devising a way to stopping the thrusts of Halfback Hook Davis, the brilliant Cowboy back.

The third consideration will be to stop the rampaging drives of Halfbacks Pat Bailey, Dunnie Goode and Chick and Nolan Tiger. All are hard hitting backs and have done much of the shorter damage for the Cowboys this season.

Next on the list will be a way to stop Fullback Ray Troutman, who hits the line hard and fast with his 220 pounds based on a six foot frame.

And the over all defense will be a means to stopping the passing of Ford, the end sweeps of Davis and the up the middle plunging of Troutman. It's a three-pronged attack that has caused trouble to almost every team except West Texas State college.

Raider Spirit Good

If this year's edition of the Raiders can stop the Cowboy attack, it will be doing something that last year's team couldn't do. In that final 1948 game, won by Tech 28-20, the Cowboys piled up 17 first downs to Tech's 14, gained 145 yards rushing to Tech's 172 and added 206 yards by passing to 30 for Tech.

Raider spirit is good and the short session yesterday found the revitalized Techsans going through a drill designed to halt the Cowboys, both in the air and on the ground.

Tech came through the Lobo game in good shape, although Quarterback Milton Rathbone reinjured his trick knee, Guard Milburn Haydon hurt an ankle and Halfback Cal Steveson received a bruised knee. All probably will be ready by Saturday.

SECRET AGGIE DRILL

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 21 (AP)—Texas A. & M.'s football squad worked two hours behind locked gates today as it got ready for the Thanksgiving day game with the University of Texas. Coach Harry Stiteler said secret practice also will be held tomorrow and Wednesday. Trainer Bill Dayton expects all the Aggies to be in shape for the game.

Port Arthur Leads, Lubbock Second In Schoolboy Grid Poll

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP).—Abilene's climb from seventh to fourth featured the weekly Dallas News poll of Texas schoolboy football teams.

The Eagles replaced Marshall as Port Arthur, Lubbock and Wichita Falls remained one-two-three.

Marshall dropped to sixth, Highland Park (Dallas) from sixth to eighth, Austin arose from eighth to seventh and Pampa fell from ninth to tenth while Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) went from tenth to ninth.

Twenty-four writers voted in the poll.

Port Arthur got 18 first place votes, Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Abilene two each.

The rankings and points:

1. Port Arthur (220).
2. Lubbock (210).
3. Wichita Falls (164).
4. Abilene (150).
5. Corsicana (144).
6. Marshall (136).
7. Austin (110).
8. Highland Park (89).
9. Thomas Jefferson (35).
10. Pampa (32).

Touring Wayland College Quint Bows To Oklahoma Team, 68-42

ADA, Okla., Nov. 21. (Special)—East Central State Teachers college turned in a 68-42 victory over the touring Wayland college Pioneers of Plainview here tonight before a large crowd.

The fast breaking home team surged to a 35-17 lead at the half and was never threatened by the Pioneers, who made their first appearance of the season.

Forward Overton led the Ada team with 22 points, while Howell and Ray, each with eight points, played fine floor games. Guard Billy McClellan pitched in 13 points for the Pioneers, while Don Dally and Ed Billings, forwards, played good defensive ball for the losers.

The two teams will meet again tomorrow night.

Lubbock Cagers Play Abernathy

Opening game of the basketball season for the Lubbock Westerners will be played at 8 o'clock tonight in Abernathy.

Coach David Cook, making his coaching debut at the helm of the Westerners, will have two lettermen and one squadman from last year's squad in the starting lineup.

Starting at center is Jim Wilson, an all-state selection last year at the state tourney in Austin. Veteran Jimmy Sexton will start at one forward position and Walter Norton at the other forward spot. Guards are Earl Ince and Tom Cheatham, a squadman last year.

Four of the starters are over six feet tall. Norton is six-four; Wilson, six-three; and Sexton and Cheatham, six-one. Ince is only five feet nine inches tall.

The Abernathy contest opens a full season for the Westerners, which includes two tournaments during the year—one in Plainview and one in Lubbock.

The first home game is Friday, Nov. 25, a return match with Abernathy, and on Dec. 3, Plainview invades Lubbock.

KID GAVILAN WINS

MONTREAL, Nov. 21 (AP)—Welterweight challanger Kid Gavilon scored an unanimous 10-round decision over Laurent Dauthuille of France tonight at the Montreal forum. Gavilan weighed 151 and Dauthuille 154½.

Some of the giant redwoods in California are believed to be more than 4,000 years old.

3-A All-District Team Chosen

Three Positions Landed By Spur

FLOYDADA, Nov. 21. (Spl.).—Spur's Bulldogs, newly-crowned grid champions of District 3-A, tonight landed three berths on the official all-district team chosen by the nine coaches of the conference.

Lockney and Floydada each placed two men on the all-star first team, while Paducah, Abernathy and Tulia took one position each.

District grid mentors, meeting here tonight, each named a first and second "all opponent" team for the 1949 conference season. Each "first team" vote for a player counted five points, while three points were awarded for each "second team" ballot.

Six seniors, two juniors, two sophomores and a freshman were honored with positions on the all-district eleven.

DeJuan Strickland, 180-pound Lockney back, was the lone first-year man selected for top honors. Guard Robert Huckabee was the other choice from Lockney.

Lindsey, Blair Named

Spur, which finished its conference slate with seven wins and one defeat, placed Backs Melvin Lindsey and Clyde Blair and End Joe King on the all-district aggregation.

Floydada, the early-season pacesetter in 3-A, had End Everett Perry, jr., and Center Aubrey Guthrie on the top team.

Back Pat Green, Paducah; Tackle John Looper, Abernathy; Tackle Frank Hash, Crosbyton; and Guard Jack Ballanger, Tulia, were the other all-district selections.

Ralls, which missed a first-team berth, landed three players on the second eleven. Abernathy and Crosbyton put two men each on the runnerup eleven, while Matador, Paducah, Spur and Lockney each gained one position.

The complete 3-A all-star roster, with respective classifications, weights, and teams:

FIRST TEAM

E-Everett Perry, jr., Sr., 160, Floydada.
E-Joe King, Sr., 165, Spur.
T-John Looper, Soph., 240, Abernathy.
T-Frank Hash, Sr., 170, Crosbyton.
G-Robert Huckabee, Sr., 180, Lockney.
G-Jack Ballanger, Jr., 160, Tulia.
C-Aubrey Guthrie, Jr., 160, Floydada.
B-Melvin Lindsey, Sr., 170, Spur.
B-Clyde Blair, Sr., 140, Spur.
B-DeJuan Strickland, Fr., 180, Lockney.
B-Pat Green, Soph., 170, Paducah.

SECOND TEAM

E-Dyain Bolander, Sr., 170, Ralls.
E-N. A. Lee, Jr., 165, Paducah.
T-Bailey Noble, Sr., 200, Ralls.
T-Dean Henderson, Sr., 200, Ralls.
G-Vernell McAlpine, Jr., 165, Spur.
G-Richard Savage, Sr., 165, Crosbyton.
C-Barry Thompson, Soph., 175, Lockney.
B-Rockne Geiske, Sr., 155, Matador.
B-Arnold Ratheal, Sr., 170, Crosbyton.
B-Don Snodgrass, Sr., 140, Abernathy.
B-Jimmy Miller, Jr., 160, Abernathy.

Two District Crowns Still To Be Decided

(By The Associated Press)

Two district championships in Class AA will be determined Thursday, then the battle for state honors will be on the way.

These district champions await the play-off:

District 1-Pampa, District 2-Wichita Falls, District 3-Lubbock, District 5-Abilene, District 6-Breckenridge, District 7-Paris, District 8-Highland Park (Dallas), District 9-Marshall, District 10-Conroe, District 12-Galveston, District 13-Corsicana, District 14-Austin, District 15-Alice, District 16-Harlingen.

The District 4 title will be determined Thursday when El Paso High plays Austin (El Paso). If Austin wins it will all be over but if El Paso wins, Austin, El Paso and Ysleta will finish in a tie for the title. Then the winner will be decided by the flip of a coin.

The District 4 champion plays Lubbock in the bi-district round.

District 11 will crown its kingpin Thursday when Port Arthur and Beaumont, both unbeaten in conference play, clash at Port Arthur. The winner will play Galveston.

Sites and dates for five of the bi-district games have been set. They are:

Wichita Falls at Pampa, Highland Park at Paris, Conroe at Marshall and Corsicana at Austin, Dec. 2; Breckenridge at Abilene, Dec. 3.

Port Arthur and Lubbock are the general choices to meet in the finals.

The permanent home of the United Nations in New York City is expected to be completed by the fall of 1951.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

That burning question, "Who's the fastest Westerner of them all?," will be answered at 4 o'clock this afternoon at Chapman field.

It's no secret that the 1949 Lubbock starting backfield has speed toto spare. But for several weeks, there's been considerable speculation as to who—Wayne Stroud, Bobby Brown, Charley Williams or Malcolm Young—is the fastest of the four.

So, to settle any doubts that might be clouding the public's mind, Coach Pat Pattison has agreed to permit this quartet to run a special 100-yard sprint during today's Westerner workout.

The practice will be open to the public, and it would'nt surprise this writer if several hundred fans turn out to see the long-discussed dash.

Each sprinter will wear a complete "game" uniform, and carry a football over the 100-yard route. Individual times will be clocked by timers, so that an aggregate time for the entire backfield can be determined.

Unfortunately, the Westerner quartet is not at tip-top shape for such a race. Young has been troubled for the last few days by an ankle sprain, while Brown last week fell victim of a mild stomach disorder.

Even so, today's friendly competition should be well worth watching, and its results of interest to Westerner fans.

My only pre-race prediction is that fans who expect times in the "10 second flat" zone will be sadly disappointed. Sprinters in full football regalia, and carrying a pigskin, simply can't do 100 yards that fast.

The official world record for 100 yards under these conditions is 11.2 seconds. It was set in 1942 by Willie Steele, a star negro sprinter at San Diego State college.

In recent years, there have been equipment improvements—particularly the adoption of low-quarter shoes for backfield players—which have produced greater speed on the gridiron.

But you still won't find gridders running 100 yards in 10 seconds flat, despite numerous claims to the contrary.

Notre Dame landed four men on the INS All-Midwest football team. They were End Leon Hart, Tackle Jim Martin and Backs Larry Coutre and Emil Sitko. Oddly, Minnesota Tackle Leo Nomellini, who has been considered a "sure-fire" bet for All-America honors, failed to make the All-Midwest first team. He was on the second eleven, behind Martin and Al Wistert, Michigan . . . Work on the new $25,000 grandstand at Lamesa's football field already has begun. Completion is expected before the start of the 1950 season . . . McMurry's Indians, newly-crowned champs of the Texas conference, would give just about anything on the campus (except, of course, Brad Rowland) for a bid to the Sun Bowl. Should both Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons reject invitations to the El Paso tilt, it's possible that the Indians might wind up there against Georgetown Jan. 2 . . . McAdoo Chevrolet's independent basketball team in Seagraves is seeking games with other quints in this area. Interested clubs should contact either Jim Myers at McAdoo Chevrolet or Charlie Lawrence at Seagraves High school . . . New Braunfels, the top Class A power downstate, has scored 436 points in nine games . . . LaVern Roach, the Plainview middleweight, has departed for New York to resume the pro ring career he temporarily abandoned a year ago.

Attempts are underway to match Bill Henderson and Eddie Bertolino, Galveston, in a Texas lightweight title bout to be staged here, probably in January. Bertolino is the top contender for the now-vacant lightweight crown, and state boxing bosses have indicated they will sanction such a match as a championship affair . . . Sundan, Seagraves and Sundown, recently lowered to Class B for next year's Interscholastic league competition, will have an opportunity to have their appeals to remain in District 4-A reconsidered at a district executive committee meeting scheduled for early December. However, a unanimous vote of all district members still will be required to gain admittance for any of the three schools . . . Melvin Lindsey, star passer for the Spur Bulldogs (who meet Littlefield Thursday in a bi-district game) formerly was a junior high grid standout in Lubbock . . . Midland football fans are peeved (and rightly so, I think) at an Associated Press report which stated "Lubbock used third-stringers most of the way" in beating the Bulldogs last week. An informative note had been put on the state AP wire to the effect that Lubbock had substituted freely in the game, but the AP roundup Saturday misconstrued the earlier information. Actually, Lubbock did have four key performers sidelined with injuries, and several other regulars played at new positions in an experimental makeshift lineup. But Westerner regulars did see a great deal of action, and Midland deserves full credit for a surprisingly strong showing. However, I am not disappointed in Lubbock's play, since I feel that the Westerners—who, after all, weren't "out for blood" Friday night—had the game pretty well under control all the way.

Baylor's Burk Leads Passers

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Adrian Burk, Baylor's mighty bomber, has taken over in Southwest conference passing, lock, stock and barrel.

The precision man of the Bears shot into first place last week as he drew even in the number of games with Paul Campbell of Texas.

Burk now has rifled 169 throws and completed 99 for 1318 yards and 13 touchdowns. He has an average in completions of .586—the best in the conference among passers who've thrown as many as 100 and one of the best in the country. Burk's average is bettered in the conference only by that of Southern Methodist's Doak Walker, who has completed 33 of 54 passes for 598 yards and a .611 record. Only five of Burk's passes have been intercepted.

Smith Holds Lead

Campbell, who was idle last week, fell to second place. He has connected on 81 of 165 passes for 1233 yards and seven touchdowns. Lindy Berry of Texas Christian is third with 89 of 193 for 1195 yards and nine touchdowns.

Bob Smith of Texas A. and M. held onto his lead in ball-carrying although he did not play last week. He has 671 yards on 133 runs. Gordon Wyatt of Rice moved within 84 yards of Smith as he brought his total to 587 yards in 116 carries. Geno Mazzanti of Arkansas went into third place, replacing Bobby Lantrip of Rice. Mazzanti has gained 578 yards on 100 tries.

Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist continues to top the punters with an average of 43.4 on 15 boots. Doak Walker of Southern Methodist is second with 41.6 on 22 kicks and Dan Wilde of Texas Christian is third with 38.8 on 33.

Proctor Top Receiver

Bobby Dillon of Texas still leads the punt returners. He has averaged 19.5 on 10 runs. Berry is second with 17.6 on 19 and Mit Johnson of Baylor has moved into third place with 15.8 on 19 returns. Only those with as many as nine returns are considered in the statistics.

Ben Procter of Texas held onto his lead in pass-receiving. He has caught 39 for 642 yards and six touchdowns. J. D. Ison of Baylor has gathered in 36 put for only 411 yards. Morris Bailey of Texas Christian has caught 33 for 462 yards.

Berry leads in total offense with 1421 yards on 306 plays. Burk is second with 1249 on 193.

Rice leads in team offense with 359 yards per game. Texas is second with 355. In defense it's Texas, which has allowed 213 yards per game. Baylor is next with 217.

Port Arthur Parochial School Has Played Five Tie Grid Tilts

PORT ARTHUR, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Bishop Byrne Shamrocks certainly aren't the winningest football team in the country ,but they may be the tieing-est.

In 11 starts this season, Byrne High has marked up five deadlocks. There were two wins and four losses.

OU "Welcome" In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Dan Rogers, selection chairman of the Cotton Bowl, said today the field from which the visiting team will be picked was the most jumbled he had ever encountered.

Only one undefeated team from over the nation is in the available list. That is Oklahoma and Rogers said Oklahoma sure would be welcome in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 against the Southwest conference champion.

Villanova Report Discounted

Baylor and Rice play at Houston Saturday for the title. The winner will have lost only one game for the season.

Rogers said he might be able to obtain the visiting team during the week. It seems he has good idea whom Rice and Baylor might like to play in the Cotton Bowl.

Reports that Villanova was being considered were discounted. Villanova has an 8-1 record but lost to Tulsa, which hasn't much of a record. Moreover, it was intimated that neither Rice nor Baylor would want to play the Eastern team.

Rogers jotted down the records of Virginia, Duke, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, Louisiana State, Maryland, Missouri, North Carolina, Tennessee and Tulane. Of that group Duke, Tech, Missouri and North Carolina each has lost three games. Kentucky and Louisiana State have dropped two each, Tennessee has lost two and tied one and Tulane has lost one and tied one. Rogers would like to consider Notre Dame and Army but knows neither would come.

Director-General James H. Stewart prepared to mail out tickets. There were more than three times as many applications as tickets and a drawing had to be held.

Tickets will start moving out about Dec. 1.

Oklahoma Drops To Third Spot

California Moves Up In Weekly AP Poll

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—California has taken over the job of chasing distant Notre Dame in the Associated Press football poll.

The next-to-last voting of the season finds Notre Dame still way out in front with 113 of the 151 first place votes cast by football writers and sportscasters across the nation.

California moved into second place with 24 firsts after its convincing 33-14 triumph over Stanford to win the Pacific Conference crown.

Oklahoma dropped a peg to third position, being hard pressed to grab a 28-21 verdict over Santa Clara. Eleven writers put the Sooners in the No. 1 spot.

Ohio State Advances

Army, the other member of the "Big Four" held fourth place although idle getting ready for Saturday's big game with Navy.

Ohio State advanced two steps to fifth on the 7-7 tie with Michigan that earned a share of the Big 10 title and a Rose Bowl date with California. Michigan and Rice followed next in order with Minnesota still eighth.

Baylor and Tulane made the top 10 grade, supplanting Southern Methodist and Virginia. Tulane's 28-14 win over Virginia sent the Cavaliers crashing into the lower regions.

Four of the top ten teams have finished their regular schedule. All the others, with the exception of Notre Dame, wind it up Saturday. The Irish still will have a Dec. 3 date at Southern Methodist.

Rice-Baylor, a clash of No. 7 vs No. 9, may be the top game of the week. Rice downed Texas Christian, 20-14, Saturday while Baylor polished off Southern Methodist, 35-26. The Southwest Conference title and Cotton Bowl host job will be at stake.

Tulane Meets LSU

Another top game that could disturb the rankings is the Tulane-Louisiana State struggle at New Orleans. These old rivals are primed for a real brawl before a sellout crowd of over 80,000.

The total vote with points figured on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first votes in parentheses)

1. Notre Dame (113)	1,459
2. California (24)	1,266
3. Oklahoma (11)	1,173
4. Army (1)	963
5. Ohio State	618
6. Michigan	590
7. Rice	519
8. Minnesota	368
9. Baylor	268
10. Tulane	158

The second ten—11. College of Pacific (2) 125; 12. Stanford, 79; 13. Louisiana State, 71; 14. Santa Clara, 63; 15. Maryland, 54; 16. Villanova, 51; 17. Southern California, 41; 18. Tennessee, 39; 19. North Carolina, 32; 20. Cornell and Kentucky, each 28.

Others receiving votes: Michigan State, 27; Princeton, 25; Missouri, 14; Duke 11; Pittsburgh and Virginia, each 8; Southern Methodist 7; Wisconsin, 6; Dartmouth, 5; Alabama and Pennsylvania, each 4; Texas, Wake Forest and Brown, each 3; North Carolina State, Oregon State and Wofford, each 2; Iowa, Washington, St. Bonaventure, Xavier and Arizona State, (Tempe) each 1.

STANFORD ACCEPTS BID

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21 (INS) The Stanford football team voted today to accept a bid to play the University of Hawaii in a post-season game in the Pineapple Bowl Jan. 2.

Bell Telephone Isn't Ringing

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP).— Telephone calls were not so numerous for Coach Matty Bell of Southern Methodist today.

In fact, the Methodist mentor said last night the only call he had gotten since his team lost to Baylor 35-26 Saturday was from a sports writer who wanted to know if anybody had called him.

It could be, mused Matty, that the fact SMU had lost two games and tied one, was out of the Southwest conference race and out of the bowl picture was the reason folks had lost interest.

"We don't reserve to play in a bowl game," Bell said. "Our record wouldn't warrant a spot in a major bowl. Moreover, I'm worrying about how to beat Texas Christian Saturday and how to keep Notre Dame from running us out of the park Dec. 3."

The Methodists came out of the Baylor game in good shape. Dick McKissack, fullback, got some bruised ribs but will be ready to go against TCU. Those who played against Baylor were given the day off. The other members of the squad did some running.

Business Manager of Athletics Lester Jordan said the coaches may not be getting any telephone calls but he certainly is. "Everybody wants Notre Dame-SMU tickets," he commented. "They don't seem to care about SMU's record and the fact that we're supposed to be slaughtered by Notre Dame. In fact, some of them talked like they wished we'd get beat 100 to 0."

Law Violations Numerous Here

A wide variety of law violations, including two minor thefts, came to the attention of law enforcement officers and the courts in Lubbock on Monday.

Gerald Craft, 20, of Lubbock route 7, paid a fine of $50 in corporation court Monday after pleading guilty to charges of failure to report an accident involving an injured person. Police said Craft was driver of the car which struck Grady Nell Hill, 16, of 2021 Eighth street, Sunday afternoon at Main and Ave. L. The girl received a deep cut on her forehead.

Theft of two suede leather shirts valued at $50 from the Excel Frontrier store, 1107 Thirteenth street, was reported to police. The shirts apparently were taken by shoplifters.

Negro Reports Holdup

Willie Wright, a negro of 309 Eighteenth street, told police that a negro man walked into his house Monday afternoon, drew a knife and relieved him of $6 in 50 and 25 cents pieces.

Three Slaton Latin-Americans pleaded innocent of aggrevated assault in connection with the knifing Saturday of Jose B. Aguiler, about 50, Slaton Latin-American, at Slayton.

They were Willie Lyendecker, 29, Aguiler's former son-in-law, and his friends, Pedro Remirez, 32, and Joe Garcia, 21, all of Slaton.

They were arrested by Slaton's Chief of Police E. H. Ward, who swore to charges.

They were remanded to jail in lieu of $500 bond each, by County Judge Walter Davies.

Two Men Charged

Fred Montoya, 38, and another man still at large were charged in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, with robbery by assault of Santiago Rivas, who said $300 was taken from him.

Montayo denied the charge, but said he and the other defendant had taken a pistol from Rivas at a cafe after Rivas had displayed it and they had feared he would harm himself or someone else. The pistol was recovered, A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney said.

Albert Wolf, 57, of Prescott, Ariz., who earlier in the day had pleaded innocent of a county court charge of liquor law violation, changed his plea Monday afternoon to guilty. He was fined $150 and costs.

Man Pays Fine

John Warner Owing, 18, was arrested on a check law violation warrant. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and county court costs. The sheriff's department said detainers for his arrest on check charges had been lodged by Anson, Amarillo and San Antonoi. At least two of these places have filed felony charges, officials here said.

Bond of $1,000 was set for J. H. Lemley, charged with burglary of a residence in 1700-block Eighth. He was arrested Sunday. City Patrolman V. P. Stephens swore to the complaint before District Attorney Lloyd Croslin.

Seymour Store Burglarized

Police were informed that Corner Drug store at Seymour had been burglarized early Monday and that a safe containing insurance papers and approximately $400 in currency had been taken.

S. D. Lenox, 26, a negro, was released on $1,500 bond on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

These county court judgments were filed by Judge Walter Davies:

Jessie Talancon, 32, of San Angelo, $75 and costs, drunk driving; and Simon B. Sivells, 33, of Lubbock, $75 and costs, drunk driving.

The following persons pleaded innocent of liquor law violations, and Judge Davies set trial appearance bonds:

Katherine Warren, 31, a Slaton negro woman; Bennie Lesley Williams; George Melton, 28, of Slaton (two cases); E. C. Dorman; and Albert Wolf, 57, of Prescott, Ariz.

Willie Sanders, 33, a negro, was charged Monday with assault with intent to murder Ambrose Bo Beal, a negro who was shot late Sunday afternoon on a farm near Shallowater.

Ernest Malone, 20, a negro, was charged with felony swindling. Bond of $1,000 was set for him. The charge that he induced a cleaning establishment to surrender to him for $3.15, cleaning charges, clothing valued at more than $50 owned by another person, Frank Aguilar, by representing he had authority of Aguilar to call for the property.

T. W. Copeland, 19, of 2400-block Wolfforth, posted $750 bond in connection with a burglary charge. It was alleged he broke and entered Lone Star Ceramics house, at 405 Ave. V.

Gifts For VA Hospital Patients Donated By Legion Auxiliary

Gifts for patients of the VA hospital at Waco were brought to the monthly meeting of the American Legion auxiliary Monday by attending members. The gifts, to be given to patients in the hospital, will in turn, be given by them to their parents and families as Christmas presents.

At the meeting, presided over by Mrs. O. G. Drake, president, it also was decided to send $50 to the same hospital for more gifts and an additional $25 to the VA hospital in Amarillo. The money sent to the Amarillo hospital will be used for gifts to be purchased by the hospital representatives there.

It also was decided at the meeting to hold a Christmas party for the American Legion and auxiliary members. Time and place have not yet been selected.

Chairman of the Rehabilitation committee in charge of the gifts is Mrs. Sid Lowery. Co-workers are Mrs. H. J. Kendrick and Mrs. W. E. Klein.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. L. Strader and Mrs. Lois Harwell.

Lubbock Couple In Line For Surprise

Somewhere there's a honeymooning couple from Lubbock who are blissfully unaware that they aren't really married.

So reported the Associated Press last night from Fort Worth after a marriage license issued in Fort Worth Nov. 3, 1947 was returned Monday to Tarrant County Clerk's office. The license showed that the ceremony was performed in Tahoka last Saturday, or two years and 16 days later.

But, since a new marriage license law went into effect in October, the two-year-old license was invalid, the Associated Press reported.

Efforts to trace the bride and groom through Lubbock directories was to no avail last night. The Tahoka justice of the peace who performed the ceremony had never seen them before, and could not furnish any information as to their whereabouts. "All they told me was that they lived in Lubbock," he told The Morning Avalanche by telephone last night.

So until the newlyweds repeat their marriage vows — this time with a brand-new license in hand— they're just not hitched.

Choir School Program To Be Given Tonight

More than 100 members of combined Lubbock church choirs attended a choir school under the direction of Cecil E. Lapo, minister of music at the First Methodist church in Wichita Falls, at 8 p. m. Monday at First Christian church.

Under Lapo's direction, the choir rehearsed new anthems to be introduced at 7:55 today at a public program at the First Christian church.

Lapo's interpretation of anthems and his interesting views on choir work were received Monday evening by the group.

The program, which will be given today, is as follows:

Prelude, "Grand Chorus" (Guilmant), Rev. Lowell C. Green, organist; processional; invocation, Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of St. John's Methodist church; introduction of guest director, Dr. Travis White, pastor of the host church; hymn sing; anthems, "The Heavens Are Declaring" (Beethoven); "God So Loved the World" (Statiner); "Brother James' Air" (Jacob); address, "Music of the Church," Mr. Lapo.

Anthems, "Lift Up Your Hearts" (Lapo), "What Can This Mean?" (Stealy), "Break Forth, O Beauteous Heavenly Light" (Bach); offertory, "Be Thou Contented" (Bach-Lapo), Robert Scoggin, organist: anthems, "Beautiful Savior" (Christianson, "Psalm 150" (Cesar Franck), "Love Divine" (Pritchard-Jones, Hallelujah chorus from "The Messiah" (Handel), James F. Metts, organist; benediction, Rev. David Zacharias, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church; recessional.

Mrs. Ernest A. Wilpitz will be accompanist for the anthems and Mr. Scoggin accompanist for the hymns.

Survivors Of B-29 Crash Doing Well

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 21. (AP)—The 18 survivors of a B-29 crash, picked up Saturday after 79 hours in two overcrowded life rafts on rough seas, were much improved today. Some were playing poker — but used dominoes instead of money.

The U. S. Air Force fliers are recuperating at Kindley field hospital here under the care of Col. Dan R. Sewell, base surgeon. Sewell said they are all responding rapidly to treatment and should be able to leave the hospital within four days.

Even Master Sgt. Roy H. Coulter, 46, who is suffering from shock and exposure, is coming along well, the physicians said.

south of Oslo for the vanished plane to no avail before nightfall.

Search To Resume Today

The search will be resumed tomorrow for the chartered DC-3 which disappeared on the last leg of a flight from Tunis to Oslo. The children, allegedly fleeing from anti-Semitic attacks in Casablanca and other parts of North Africa, were bound for a Norwegian rehabilitation camp pending their reunion with their parents in Israel.

Swedish helicopters, pilots and mechanics were dispatched from Stockholm today to join in the search and are expected to arrive in Oslo tomorrow.

A parachute signal light, which may have been dropped by the airliner, was found in the wooded Nordmarka forest north of Oslo and experts at Oslo's Fornebu airport examined it for a possible clue to the whereabouts of the plane.

But the main arm of the search was concentrated in the pine-wooded area south of Oslo and the desolate Oslo fjord district where a shaft of light was seen during the day behind a ridge near Oppegaard. Another light, as if from a fire, also was reported near Gjejsjoen.

Nothing came from this, however, and it was feared the plane may have plunged into the fjord, without leaving a trace.

Mountains in the area rise to a height of 1,200 feet, and it was feared the plane may have rammed into one of them and fell out of sight, if it did not plunge into the fjord while trying to find a hole in the fog for a landing.

Chambers' Testimony

ed by Chambers as playing a role in the spy drama, sat soberly beside her husband.

Chambers said Hiss joined the Justice department in 1936 and the State department the next year in accordance with the wishes of "J. Peters."

He identified Peters earlier as head of the Communist underground in the United States. Peters, also known as Alexander Stevens, left the country nearly two years ago.

Operations Outlined

Chambers gave this account of how he gained access to State department secrets in 1937:

"Mr. Hiss would bring documents from the State department to his home at the end of the day's work. I would then take the documents to Baltimore where they would be photographed. I would return them to Mr. Hiss at his home that same night."

Hiss made the documents available, Chambers related, at the instigation of Col. Boris Bykov, identified by the witness as the former master mind of the Soviet underground in this country.

Chambers said he introduced Hiss and Bykov at a restaurant in New York's Chinatown in 1937.

"The substance of the conversation," Chambers said, "was that the Soviet Union was acutely endangered by the rise of Fascist powers. It needed help, and would be tremendously helped if Mr. Hiss could obtain documents relating to the Far East and other areas."

Hiss denied to a grand jury last year that he ever gave Chambers any State department papers. The jury didn't believe him and indicted him on a perjury charge. It also accused him of lying when he said he didn't see Chambers after Jan. 1, 1937.

Chambers gave the lie to that second statement in today's testimony, too.

He said he called on the Hisses around Christmas, 1938, in their Washington home and told them he had broken with the Communist party. Hiss and his wife, Chambers said, tried to talk him out of it.

Recounting some of his own Communist activities, Chambers said he applied for a passport in 1935 when he was planning a trip to England "to work in the Soviet apparatus."

He said "J. Peters" gave him a birth certificate in the name of David Breen and he used this in making his passport application.

Hiss' lawyer, Claude B. Cross, told the jury in his opening address last Friday that David Breen died at the age of three and one-half. He described Chambers' use of the birth certificate as "ghoulish."

The witness also testified that Hiss, in 1935, gave an old Ford roadster to the Communist party.

Man Found Dead

due east and west.

One fireman said he looked into the culvert from the east end while fighting the fire and smoke, and thought he saw someone inside, but presumed it was another fireman coming through from the west end of the tunnel-like structure.

Body Found By Fireman

Some moments later, when the smoke had thinned inside the culvert, Buck Price, a member of the fire department, saw the body inside.

The culvert is approximately 60 feet in length from end to end. The man's body was approximately 20 to 25 feet from the west entrance to the tunnel.

Fire department members called the police department. Soon afterwards, E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, and Judge Lynn also were called to the scene.

At the time the body was discovered, officials said it looked as though the man had started to crawl toward the west entrance, presumably because it was nearest.

Tunnel Not Too High

The interior of the tunnel is approximately four feet high, making it impossible for an average-size person to go through without crawling or stooping.

The man was found in a crouched, crawling position.

The body was removed from the culvert by E. E. Cannon, member of the fire department, who crawled into the culvert and attached a rope to the body. It was then pulled to the east entrance of the culvert and placed in a McDonald Funeral home ambulance. The body was taken to that funeral home later.

The body was badly burned, especially about the face, shoulders, and back.

Investigation was being continued early this morning by the district attorney's office and by city detectives. They indicated they thought the death was accidental, although not ruling out other possibilities.

thorities at Peiping ignored direct U. S. protests and requests for information.

The State department said today there was still no acknowledgement to a note which Consul General O. Edmund Clubb sent to Gen. Chou En-Lai, Communist foreign minister, on Nov. 3.

The State department's sole information about the charges, which have come via the Communist press and radio, is that Ward and the four others were accused of beating a Chinese consulate employe who asked for back pay for his services.

Other staff members have been permitted to send food and clothing to those in jail, but have been denied interviews and their official dispatches giving the American version of the episode have been intercepted.

Sydney, Australia, plans to replace all its streetcars with buses seating 70.

Death Of Southland Woman Still Puzzle

POST, Nov. 21 (Special)— No further developments in the death of Mrs. Marvin Truelock, 41, Southland housewife who was found dead in her bedroom shortly after noon last Wednesday, were reported over the weekend by Garza County Sheriff E. M. Bass.

Sheriff Bass said he has received several telephone calls from persons in this area offering theories as to Mrs. Truelock's death. Relatives, he said, have been unable to shed any more light on her death.

Mrs. Truelock was found dead by her son Wednesday afternoon. Cotton socks were stuffed into her mouth and a metal open-face gas stove had been pulled over her head. Her hands were held loosely behind her back by a piece of cotton rope.

Byrnes Denounces

either as a defeated state or as is the wise course."

Byrnes, who accompanied Mr. Truman to the Potsdam conference, said that for the time being the U.S. must keep forces in Germany we cannot leave them helpless against attack from without or from subversive groups within . . ."

Byrnes said that "our goal must be to bring the eastern zone into the western republic," he added:

"If the Soviets persist in dividing Germany and should arm the Communists of Eastern Germany, then we must make other decisions.

" . . . Even though we now feel less fearful of war with Russia, we cannot be less vigilant.

Foreign Aid Cut Urged

The former New Deal official and Supreme court justice again gave his personal endorsement to America's bi-partisan foreign policy and urged that financial aid to Europe be continued, but on a decreasing scale. He declared:

"Even though we now feel less fearful of war with Russia, we cannot be less vigilant.

"We are properly rendering financial assistance for rehabilitation of western Europe. It should be continued, but I want Congress to carefully investigate these requests for aid."

Tax Reduction Favored

"The cold war with the Communists is given as the excuse for the increased expenditures of government, but it is not a satisfactory explanation for vastly increased expenditures for other purposes."

Byrnes charged that "big government is growing bigger" and charged that it was "more dangerous than big business" because it can not be regulated.

Byrnes cited the failnre of the socialist regimes in Britain and Western Europe to stand on their own feet and asserted:

"It would seem prudent for us to hold fast to our system of government and put our financial house in order.

Power Concentration Hit

"Too many people are asking the federal government to perform the functions of state government. Too many people want to lean on the government, forgetting that the government must lean on the people. They seem to be more afraid of life than of death . . .

"We are threatened with the concentration in Washington of the powers of local government, including police powers, with the imposition of a creeping, but ever-advancing socialism program."

Byrnes, unofficially heralded as the new spokesman for the States' Rights advocates, said it would "serve no useful purpose to criticize the political parties or individuals responsible for the growth of the federal aid system."

Turning to a consideration of foreign policy, Byrnes, who received a prolonged ovation from the governors, criticized Russia's conduct in Germany and expressed the hope that dismantling of German industries will be abandoned.

He explained:

"Our goal must be to bring the eastern zone into the western republic on equal terms."

He urged also that if Russia eventually agrees to the idea that all of Germany should be reunited, "we should renew the offer we made to Russia in 1946 to enter into a 40-year treaty, providing for four-power control to prevent rearmament of Germany."

Abernathy Holdup

in an effort to apprehend the Abernathy burglar.

J. W. Carter, 54, attendant at the Pope station, a Chevron station, was alone when the bandit walked in, he told Deputy Sheriff J. W. Stricklin of Hale county.

Carter said the man said he wanted some chewing gum, and when he went to the cash register to make the change, the man said, "Give me the money."

"I looked up and the man was holding his hand in his overcoat pocket as if he had a gun," Carter told Deputy Stricklin.

"He took the money and asked for my billfold," Carter related. "I gave it to him, but I didn't have any money in it."

Carter told Stricklin that he "thought about grabbing at the gun, but I backed out. I guess I got scared."

He said that he never actually saw a gun, but that the outline showing through the coat pocket looked enough like a gun to convince him.

Part Of Receipts Taken

Earlier, it was reported that between $40 and $45 had been taken, with Pope removing about $80 to his house behind the filling station shortly before the robbery. However, the Highway patrol and sheriff's officers were informed later that the amount taken was $117.

Carter said the man ran out of the station and then walked away to the east and disappeared in the darkness. Carter notified Pope, and Pope notified Stricklin, who spread the alarm all over the South Plains.

Road blocks were set up north of Lubbock and south of Plainview. One hitchhiker was found in a truck at the Lubbock road block, and taken to Highway patrol headquarters for questioning. He was released because he did not fit the description of the man wanted.

Description Is Given

Carter said the bandit was wearing a long, tan overcoat and was bareheaded. He estimated his height at 6 feet, his weight at 150 pounds and his age at 25 years. He said the man had a ruddy complexion and that his hair was sandy in color and bushy.

The empty billfold taken from Carter had a horsehide design embossed on the side.

Deputy Stricklin said it was the first filling station robbery he could recall in Abernathy. The Pope station, on the west side of the Lubbock-Amarillo highway, is at the extreme south edge of town, apart from other businesses.

Stricklin said the town of Abernathy was thoroughly searched. He said practically the entire population was "deputized" for the hunt, with some 30 cars driving hither and yon, in and around Abernathy.

Detectives of the Lubbock police department reported no new developments in the Economy Department store robbery of Saturday night. Fingerprints taken from a water fountain cooler used by one of the armed trio were being sent to the Federal Bureau of Identification in Washington for a check.

Area Wrecks

Danny, who received a leg injury and lacerations about the head. Attendants said his condition was satisfactory.

J. D. Gibson, 41, identified as the driver of the Gibson family car, and a son, Jack Gibson, 17, both were released from the hospital after treatment for minor cuts and bruises.

Truck Is Overturned

Also hospitalized was Burl Rutherford, 40, of Levelland, identified as driver of a Halliburton Cementing company pickup truck which rolled over several times after the collision with the Gibson car.

After treatment at Brownfield, he was transferred to West Texas hospital in Lubbock for observation. He received lacerations on his head and hands, and his condition was not believed to be serious.

According to the Texas Highway patrol, Gibson was driving east on a farm to market road in a 1949 Hudson while Rutherford was driving north on State Highway 51, between Brownfield and Levelland. The impact of the collision sent the pickup truck rolling, finally coming to rest against a power-line pole.

All were brought to Brownfield by an ambulance from the Brownfield Funeral home.

Bus Collision On Dirt Road

The other Terry county mishap, involving a car and school bus, came about 4:30 p. m. at the intersection of two dirt roads four miles west and two miles north of Meadow.

Earl Mauldin, about 40, of Meadow route 1, driver of a 1949 Chrysler, was brought to Lubbock Memorial hospital with a broken jaw and a fractured shoulder. Attendants said his condition was not critical.

Riding with Mauldin was Jose Romo, jr., 25, who was released after being treated at Lubbock Memorial hospital for a hand injury.

Highway patrolmen said Lloyd Hunt, coach of the Meadow High school Bronchos, was driving the school bus, a 1946 or 1947 Chevrolet. The left front of the Chrysler was heavily damaged, while the school bus was damaged on the right front. Patrolmen said Mauldin was driving north and Hunt was driving east.

SUPPER IS PLANNED

The Friendship class of First Methodist church will have a covered dish supper at 7 o'clock this evening in the church Fellowship hall. Each member is asked to bring a covered dish to the supper.

Group To Name Officers At Later Meeting

Area Oilmen To Meet To Study Plans For Section Of AIME

BY KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

An organizational meeting aimed at establishing a South Plains sub-section to the Permian basin chapter of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical engineers was attended by 54 oilmen in the Hilton hotel ballroom at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Election of officers was postponed by the group until another meeting to be held some time in December. Officers of the Permian basin section will meanwhile appoint a committee to work with the local group in establishing a sub-district.

Work Is Related

Robert R. Shaffer of Levelland presided over Monday's meeting, describing the functions of the AIME and outlining by-laws for chapters of the national organization. South Plains oilmen who are now members of the group belong to the Permian basin chapter.

A talk by R. M. Leibrock of the Stanolind Oil and Gas company, Lubbock, keynoted the meeting. Leibrock discussed the factors to be considered in determining the feasibility of gas injection, pointing out that the method is often quite successful in getting greater sweep. He used results of several experiments to illustrate his points, with the aid of a slide projector.

General consensus of the group was to ask for a sub-section at the present time, perhaps with the stipulation that a vote be called within six months on the advisability of breaking away into a full section. Many felt the opportunities for acceptance into AIME would be greater if they first organized under the tutelage of the Permian basin group.

Two types of membership will be offered by the new chapter—affiliate and full member. An affiliate member would participate in all local activities but would not receive national publications and other benefits. A student chapter is already functioning at Texas Tech.

Jurisdiction of the South Plains section would include all those counties generally considered in that region, according to Shaffer. No membership dues were passed or other business transacted by the group Monday night, pending further word from the Permian basin district and the December meeting. Date of the second meeting has not yet been announced.

The movement to establish an AIME district locally gained impetus last month at a joint meeting of the Permian basin-Tech chapter in the Hilton hotel here. Shaffer and several other men of the Lubbock-Levelland and surrounding area have since been pushing the drive.

cotton. He said an attempt had been made to wash blood spots from Gutierrez' clothing.

Commenting on Gutierrez' statement of "blacking out," District Attorney Theusen said that even without the man's admission, "we have enough evidence to warrant holding him. I'm confident he will fill in the gaps later."

Brilliant investigative work preceded the arrest.

Nevins said prints found in the mud where the child lay showed that the coat worn by the assailant was not a common coat weave, and that it had three buttons on the cuff. Footprints gave officers an indication of the man's size.

Numerous Tips Checked

Running down numerous tips on men seen with mud and possibly blood upon their clothing, the officers were led to Gutierrez.

"In his cabin," Nevins said, "we found this coat with a particular weave matching the casts we had taken, and the three buttons on the cuff. We found blood on the coat, which Gutierrez admits he tried to wash off."

Huron is about 40 miles southwest of Fresno.

The little victim was a daughter of Joe Yanez, 29, a ranch worker, and his wife, Teya, 22. She was kidnapped from their car just after midnight Sunday morning.

The couple had attended a dance at Huron. They couldn't get a baby sitter, so they took turns tending Josephine and her 2-month-old sister, Gloria, in the car. Then, as they were ready to leave for home, Yanez went into the hall for a moment to talk to his wife. When they returned, Josephine was gone.

After an all-day search, her body was found face down in a muddy furrow in a field. Her head had been shoved into the mud. There were flakes of mud in her lungs.

East Texas.

For today the Weather bureau predicted warmer weather in all of West Texas and in the northwest portion of East Texas.

Occasional rain was predicted for the extreme south portion of East Texas today and in both the southwest and extreme south portions Wednesday. Higher temperatures also are expected Wednesday.

Rain also was predicted for the Pecos valley and eastward Tuesday night or Wednesday.

Early Monday the Texas low reading was 24 at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle. Lubbock reported 28 and Amarillo 30.

Woman Receives Head Injuries In Car-Truck Collision Here

Miss Mary Jane Turrentine, 27, of 3123 Twenty-first street, received several head lacerations in a car-pickup collision about 7:45 a. m. Monday at the intersection of Seventeenth street and Ave. X.

She was taken to St. Mary's hospital by a passing motorist. Hospital attendants said Monday night that her condition was good.

Police said the driver of the pickup truck was Ralph Harvey Edler, 50, of 1909 Seventeenth street, he told investigating officers that he left home, and the stop sign on Seventeenth street was the first place he tried his brakes. They didn't work, he added.

Miss Turrentine was driving a 1941 Chevrolet sedan, while the pickup was a 1949 Chevrolet. She was given a traffic citation for failure to have an operator's license on her person and Edler was given a citation for improper operator's license

Confers With Britain

Jessup has been in particularly close touch at the U.N. on the Chinese issue with Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan. A British source told INS that the "difference" of viewpoints between Britain and the United States has been patched up in consequence of the above private talks.

On that basis, the British source claimed that the U. S. state department "understands fully the special British position in China" and that "pressue" no longer is being exerted by the American government to influence British policy in China.

Poland set the stage in the meantime for challenging Nationalist China's legal status at the U.N. by formally requesting the secretary-general to circulate as a document the recent Chinese Communist communication demanding that Tingfu F. Tsiang be disqualified. Any delegation can now demand a meeting of the general committee to consider Tsiang's position.

of Europe the end of the occupation still lies beyond calculation.

"No responsible German official we have talked to favored an end to the occupation in the present situation.

"All agree that the withdrawal of U.S. forces now or in the near future would have serious consequences in Germany."

Germans Favor Occupation

The committee, which has been in Germany for three weeks to prepare a report to Congress, said the German leaders consider the occupation will last for a minimum of five more years.

West German leaders were described by the committee as being confident that "Eastern Germany will crack before Western Germany because of grave economic difficulties."

The committee reported the eastern zone has been hit by a lack of machinery, obtainable only from Western Germany, and power cuts resulting from shortages of turbine parts and cited East German admissions of falling production and output of inferior goods.

The committee described as "hopeful" American attempts to reconstruct Germany politically, but said:

"The testing ground of democracy and totalitarianism in Western Germany is, in the last analysis, the mind of the individual German."

tees' meeting behind closed doors with a terse announcement that a decision will be sought at another session 10 days hence.

All payments to miners from the funds, except emergency hospital costs, were cut off September 16 by vote of Lewis and Bridges. Many office workers employed by the once-wealthy welfare fund, were laid off last week, because money collected before June 30 is almost gone.

After today's session, the trustees announced:

"At this meeting a number of questions arose which will require additional consideration and some study by the trustees before determination of the issues can be reached.

"It was accordingly agreed that the meeting would recess to be reconvened, if at all possible, within the next en-day period, the exact time to be subject to the convenience of the trustees."

None of the trustees would elaborate, although the operator representative, Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, indicated that no vote was taken on the spending of any money.

That led to the belief that Lewis, who is chairman, had sidestepped any vote and given his colleagues an opportunity to consider all the legal and financial problems involved in unfreezing the funds.

WIFE MAKES PLEA FOR HELP

U. S. Help Asked In Locating Missing American In Vienna

By IRVING R. LEVINE
INS Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Nov. 21. — The wife of an American businessman missing since Friday behind the Iron Curtain urgently appealed today for American and British help in finding him and U. S. authorities said they are "very active" in the case.

Mrs. Robert Vogeler, jr., blonde, shapely and Belgian-born, chain-smoked nervously in her Vienna apartment as more than 85 hours passed without official word of her husband.

An assistant vice president of International Telephone and Telegraph Co., Vogeler was last seen at 9 a.m. Friday in the American legation in Budapest, preparing to rejoin his wife in Vienna.

Asked Officials For Help

Mrs. Vogeler, who said she had received an unofficial report from a Hungarian source that her husband was nabbed on the Hungarian border, revealed that she has sought help from the American, British and Swiss legations in Vienna.

She said she is keeping her two children at home out of fear they might be kidnapped. But the children, Robert, 9, and William, 8, played cowboys unconcernedly in the yard.

Mrs. Vogeler recounted that Vogeler went to great lengths to let Hungarian plainclothesmen know he knew they were shadowing him — even offering to buy them drinks, and jokingly putting on a fake bushy beard while they watched.

Last May, Mrs. Vogeler said, her husband and two other officials of I.T. & T. were held for four hours by Russian police in the Soviet zone of Austria because their passes had expired.

On the report of her husband's arrest she also quoted the source as saying that Vogeler's secretary, Agnes Sador, was arrested Saturday morning and that all the files of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. in Budapest had been taken.

The Vogelers formerly lived in Jackson Heights, Long Island, and La Grange, Ill.

Nathaniel P. Davis, U. S. minister, told International News Service "the American legation is very active in the Vogeler case." He refused to divulge details, but added:

"I think these will be made in close co-operation with the State department in Washington.

He said he could not confirm whether Vogeler actually is under arrest.

(In Washington, the State department revealed it has demanded "an urgent and thorough investigation" by Hungary into Vogeler's disappearance. The U. S. demand was filed with the Hungarian foreign office by Davis.)

Snubs Burn Texas Demo County Heads

DALLAS, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Dallas Times Herald said today "Texas Democratic county chairmen were still burning as an aftermath of a series of snubs handed them at their state convention in Houston last Friday."

"Texas' two U. S. senators and some 10 U. S. Representatives listed on the program of the convention of the Texas Association of Democratic County chairmen, failed to show up. They had accepted invitations, W. E. Biggs, Greenville association president, said.

"Most of the party hangers-on who customarily swell attendance of a convention such as that at Houston also were absent, due primarily to the fact that Speaker Sam Rayburn, the main attraction at a big rally climaxing the convention, was at another Houston hotel and did not attend the business sessions of the gathering.

"Biggs, in a telephone call to a Times Herald reporter, charges that the snubs were deliberate.

"There apparently are some who think that the chairmen's association is trying to usurp the duties of the state executive committee," Biggs said.

"The Greenville man, re-elected state president at the convention declared that he has called a meeting of the association's executive committee for 10 a. m. Dec. 10 at the Roosevelt hotel, Waco, to discuss the snubs and possible retaliatory action."

Last Rites Scheduled For Widely-Known Texas Oilman

DALLAS, Nov. 21. (AP)—Last rites were to be held today for Britton Eaton Cranfill, 60, who shared in the discovery of three Texas oil fields.

The Dallas and Wichita Falls independent oil operator died here Saturday. He had been ill several months.

Cranfill owned the Dixie Royalty Oil company and the Southwest Oil Production company.

He discovered three Texas oil fields during his operations in the Wichita Falls area with two brothers, Truett and Tom E. Cranfill, and with Robert Seay. One was the Sand Hills pool in Crane county, another was in Baylor county and the third at Richland, Navarro county.

Orange Shipyard Sold To Steel Firm For $1,001,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (U.P.)—The General Services administration today accepted a $1,001,000 check for the government-owned shipyard at Orange, which has been sold to the Consolidated Western Steel Corp.

Consolidated Western, a subsidiary of U. S. Steel Corp., paid 72.3 per cent of the $1,384,333 "fair value" placed on the yard. It plans to use the facilities for the fabrication of structural steel.

Sale of the facilities to Consolidated Western was directed by Congress at its last session. Provisions of the national security clause will apply for five years during which time the government has the privilege of reclaiming the property.

Meeting Of WTCC To Study Water Problem

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21 (AP)—West Texas attacks its water problems at a meeting here tomorrow of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Actually, the solution already has been decided upon. It is to build six or eight dams in the Colorado, Canadian, Brazos and Red river basins.

From the lakes backed up by these dams, pipelines will carry water to thirsty West Texas towns.

To put the program into effect, the WTCC will organize a regional water association to advocate construction of the dams.

WTCC's president, Odessa banker John D. Mitchell, said the program "is the only solution."

The chamber's plan is for the dams to be built with government loan funds, which would be repaid through sale of water by municipalities.

Principal speakers tomorrow will include Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex), William E. Warne, assistant secretary of interior, and Michael Straus, reclamation bureau commissioner.

Five Lubbock Educators Are Named To NEA Committee

Four Texas Tech faculty members and one Lubbock High school instructor have been appointed to the program and activities committee of the Panhandle Section of the National Education association by Dr. Karl E. Ashburn of McMurry college, president of the section.

They are Dr. Reginald Rushing, Prof. Thomas F. Wiesen, Prof. Howard E. Golden and Dean Haskell Taylor of Tech and Miss Bessie Bullock of the high school.

Other committee members are Prof. Arnold Richards of McMurry college, Dr. Wade Hartrick of Texas Western, Prof. William F. Haggard of West Texas State and Prof. Janice K. McCoy of Amarillo college.

Newly-elected officers for the coming year include Prof. Nelda Snow of Texas Tech as secretary-treasurer.

The Panhandle section of the organization is composed of all the college and high school teachers of business subjects in West Texas.

Next year's sectional conference will be held in Lubbock, it has been announced.

Son Of Lubbockite Honored In Pacific

KADENA, AFB, Okinawa, Nov. 21—Corporal Lonnie C. Camp, son of Mrs. Mary E. Camp of Lubbock, Texas, has been selected as "Airman of the Month" for October, by Colonel D. M. Crabtree, jr., commanding officer of the 1811th Airways and Air Communications Service Group.

The "Airman of the Month" is a competitive program among the Airmen of the second four grades, with each individual being judged upon his merits of soldierly appearance, leadership, efficiency, and reputation of character. In being selected as a model Airman, Corporal Camp is exemplificative of the qualities for which this commendation was made. Camp served as the Training NCO in the Operations and Training Section of Group Headquarters.

Although this is his first tour of duty on Okinawa, he saw service in this area of the Pacific while serving with the United States Marine in 1945. Prior to his enlistment in the Air Force, he was affiliated with numerous firms in Denver, Colorado, where he resided for five years.

'CACTUS JACK' PLANS QUIET DAY

Garner To Celebrate Birthday Today Shelling Prized Pecans

UVALDE, Nov. 21. (AP).—Former Vice-President John Nance Garner intends to celebrate his 81st birthday tomorrow shelling pecans.

He confied to an acquaintance today that if too much company doesn't drop in he'll pocket about $1.50 from this task. He sells his products on the local market at 75 cents a pound.

The pecans were gathered from Garner's own grove, one of his proud possessions.

Garner Still Hearty

Garner was hale and hardy and seems well on his way to achieving another of his ambitions, to live to be 93. He wore khaki trousers and an Army combat jacket to ward off the morning's coolness.

When Garner retired in 1941 after 46 years in public life he said he would like to live to be 9 "so that more than half of my life can be that of a private citizen."

He rigidly has stuck to this privacy since leaving Washington after he and President Roosevelt parted company. He consistently has refused comment on any of the many issues that followed his retirement.

Garner still loves to rove the Texas brush country that gained him the nickname of "Cactus Jack." Last week he trudged over his favorite hunting ground with his old crony, Ross Brumfield, Uvalde garage owner.

Box Well Stocked

He declined to say what he and Brumfield bagged, but his face lit up when he confined that his deep freeze box is pretty well filled with froglegs, fish, venison and eight ducks.

Garner lives alone in his big two-story home. A housekeeper has dropped in daily to do the inside chores since the death last year of Mrs. Garner.

Garner said he plans to stick to his daily routine tomorrow. This includes getting out of bed at dawn, feeding his chickens and puttering about his nine-acre yard and grove. After that he'll get down to shelling pecans.

But his "too much company" remark indicated the Texan did expect the day to be a bit more than routine. Close friends are certain to make "happy birthday" calls. They have been doing this since Uvalde's first citizen came back from Washington eight years ago.

Insurance Firm Leaders Making Tour Of Lubbock, South Plains

Top officials of the Great National Life Insurance company of Dallas will spend today inspecting properties in Lubbock and immedate area in which the company has investments.

Monday, the group, which includes top officers of the company and members of the executive committee of the board of directors of the company, made an extensive tour of an area west and southwest of Lubbock to inspect investments made by the company in the past 12 to 15 years.

Headed by S. J. Hay, president of the company, officials are: Carl C. Weichsel and Robert F. Weichsel, vice-presidents, Webster Atwell, general counsel for the company, Ray Coffman, manager of the mortgage loan department, and executive board member W. W. Overton, who is also chairman of the board of the Texas Bank and Trust company.

Also accompanying the group is W. R. (Bill) Tillson, farm and ranch loan manager of the firm.

Inspect Farm Properties

The Dallas men left Lubbock at 9:30 a.m. Monday for their inspection tour of the area, going first to Brownfield to inspect farm properties on which the company has made loans, then to a Yoakum county ranch. The inspection tour also included a swing through the Morton, Levelland, and Littlefield areas, where extensive loans have been made.

These investments, incidentally, have resulted in no "trouble" or losses, Mr. Hay pointed out.

The Great National Life Insurance company was among the first to make large loans on Texas Ave., and Avenue H property in Lubbock, as well as among the first to finance developments in Lubbock's industrial sections.

The group also will visit the Texas Technological college campus today.

Mr. Hay, who is also a director of the Dallas National bank, the Dallas Power and Light company, Hesse Envelope company, Dallas Chamber of Commerce, the Institute of Life Insurance of New York, the American Service Bureau of Chicago, an executive committee member of Southern Methodist university, a trustee of Dallas Public Library, and executive committeeman of circle 9 and region 10 of Boy Scouts of America, revealed himself as a warmly human individual.

"We are highly pleased with our investments on the South Plains," he said. "About 12 or 15 years ago we became highly optimistic about the area after an economist-engineer surveyed it for us. He convinced us we were right in making heavy investments here, and we thought we were optimistic."

"But the area has far exceeded anything we dreamed of 12 or 15 years ago."

The company's investments include farm and ranch properties, municipal and school bonds, oil properties, city residential, business and industrial developments.

Mr. Hay, was recently elected president of American Life Convention, made up of companies who have in force 95 per cent of the Life insurance in force in the United States.

He spoke at the college Monday morning to pre-law students of George W. Dupree. His subject was "Law of Contracts."

He expressed particular interest in the college and young people generally.

"I feel that if freedom survives, it must be through education," he commented. "Only by educating young people in self reliance and good citizenship can we solve the complex problems of our civilization and form of society."

As for opportunity, today, he feels that today's youth has greater opportunities than in the past "because so few are willing to pay the price, leaving plenty of room for those who are willing to pay the price.

Charges Filed Against Lamesa Man Involved In 'Pole-Axing'

LAMESA, Nov. 21 (Special)—A negro man has been charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the "pole-axing" of another negro in Lamesa Sunday afternoon.

Sheriff Roy King said Ira McCoy, about 45, operator of the White Star Cafe in the negro section of Lamesa, was charged and that bond had been set at $1,500. McCoy has also been charged with illegal sale of liquor with bond set at $300, King reported.

McCoy allegedly struck Oliver Lee Young, about 30, on the head with a pole-ax in the cafe. McCoy claims that Young was drinking and beating a woman and that Young resisted his efforts to make him leave the cafe.

Young was hospitalized, but went home today. His condition is thought not to be serious.

Tech Co-Eds 'Adopt' Young Greek Girl; Monthly Financial Aid To Be Forwarded

An organization of co-eds at Texas Techonological college "adopted" a 10-year-old Greek girl through arrangements announced Monday from the Foster Parents Plan for War Children in New York.

The organization is DFD club, a social organization for women students.

The co-eds became the foster parents of Ipatia Pavlidou, Greek girl whose father was killed in January, 1941, in the Italian war with Greece.

The arrangement is financial, not legal. The club will contribute $15 a month for care of the girl, who lives in Piraeus with her mother.

Even before they had to leave their village, the little girl and her mother were finding life difficult in their wartorn country. In October of 1948, the Greek Army ordered the evacuation of the entire village in which they live. Ipatia and her mother fled to Piraeus, where they live in two small rooms emergency quarters shared with Mrs. Pavlidou's parents, two brothers and a sister.

One of Ipatia's uncles has been called into the Army, receiving no pay since the required period of Army service in Greece is served without pay.

In the two rooms in which the six persons live, there are no utility connections. Water Must be carried from a distance. Ipatia's mother receives a pension of about $20 a month, which falls far short of the needs to feed, clothe, pay rent, buy fuel and provide medical care for herself and daughter. The earnings of the grandfather and one uncle are insufficient for care of their families.

Help was sought for Ipatia under the Foster Parents Plan for War Children. Packages of food and clothing are given to her regularly by the organization and to supplement that, a small cash grant is given to her mother monthly to help with Ipatia's home needs.

"Your 'adoption' will continue this help," the organization notified DFD club in a letter sent to Miss Mary Hammack, club business manager.

Ipatia was described as an attractive child with brown curls, olive skin, and big brown eyes. She is in the fourth grade at school and hopes to be a school teacher some day.

Aly Khan Spikes Rumor Of Fabulous Gift From Father

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Nov. 21 (AP)—Prince Aly Khan laughingly dismissed as "complete nonsense" today a French press report that his father, the Aga Khan had promised him his expected baby's weight in diamonds.

A baby is due to be born here to the prince's wife, movie actress Rita Hayworth, in the near future.

"I only wish the story was true," the prince said with a broad smile. "I wish somebody would give me the baby's weight in diamonds—or just a single diamond."

MAN ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

FLORESVILLE, Nov. 21. (AP)—Kenneth Jackson, 21, was accidentally killed yesterday while deer hunting near here. A bullet from a rifle apparently richocheted from a tree and struck the Kenedy youth in the throat. Ray Jackson, jr., his brother, told investigators he fired the shot at a deer.

UNDER MARSHALL PLAN PROGRAM

U. S. Geologists To Be Loaned To Britain For Work In Africa

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Marshall Plan officials disclosed today that 30 American geologists soon will be "loaned" to the British to help them look for strategic minerals in darkest Africa and other remote places.

The geologists, together with 28 surveyors, will be delivered to British officials for assignments lasting until the Marshall plan program runs out in the middle of 1952.

It is an Economic Co-operation Administration project intended to help the British develop out-of-the-way resources and thus find means for increasing their dollar supply, the shortage of which caused the devaluation of the pound.

The surveyors will be taken to England for indoctrination, then sent as a team to Africa to work out a system of landmarks from aerial photographs already made by British in Kanya, Tanganyika and Uganda. They may also work on the West coast.

It is going to be rugged and perhaps sometimes exciting for the venturesome 28. They will be in wild, "big game" country and will have to get out in all kinds of jungle and bush, and in fair and foul weather, and identify landmarks.

Most of the geologists will go to Africa, but a couple will be sent to North Borneo and Sarawak and one to British Guiana.

To Be Jobs

They will be given solo assignments by local British geological surveys to prepare "geological maps" of particular areas, showing minerals and rock formations.

Francis D. Kewhew, regional ECA specialist handling the project, says Africa is practically untapped as far as minerals are concerned. Geologists are certain, he declared, that every known mineral in the world is to be found in Africa except one—oil.

Oil companies have spent millions searching Africa for oil, thus far with only meager success.

The geologists will not be equipper with Geiger counters, and thus are expected to find no uranium. But they will report whatever they find. Their discoveries will be filed away as "classified" secret information.

W. D. Johnston, jr., of the geological survey, is recruiting the 58 men. Johnston intends to visit men on their lonely assignments once in a while to keep up their morale.

The British have made it clear that they are not keen on getting youngsters out of school for the geological work. They want more mature men. The British have run short of geologists and surveyors, since training of such men had to be suspended during the war.

Wife Of New Mexico Governor Resting After Injury To Hip

ALBUQUERQUE, Nov. 21 (INS)—The wife of New Mexico's governor, Mrs. T. J. Mabry, was reported resting comfortably in an Albuquerque hospital today after she broke her hip for the second time in a year yesterday.

Mrs. Mabry spent a year on crutches after breaking her left hip in a fall on the steps of an Albuquerque hotel Nov. 6, 1948.

The governor's wife was still walking with a cane when she slipped, fell and broke her right hip on the steps of the executive mansion in Santa Fe yesterday.

Doctors said today they can not yet determine if surgery will be necessary.

Testimony Continues On Damages Action In District Court

Testimony will be continued this morning before Judge G. V. Pardue and a 99th district court jury in the $38,500 damages action of Buna Lofland against Richard E. Jackson and others.

The case stems from an early morning injury Nov. 24, 1948, at Ave. L and Fourteenth, when Miss Lofland, then 60, was struck by a car as she was en route to her mercantile business between Broadway and Thirteenth on Ave. J.

She charges she was struck by a car driven by Jackson, when allegedly within scope of employment by the Avalanche-Journal Publishing company. The publishing company was made a party defendant. It employs Jackson as an advertising solicitor. In its answer, however, the company said Jackson was en route to work at the time of the mishap, in his private automobile, and was not acting within scope of employment. It filed a cross-action asking that in case of judgment against it, it recover against the other defendant.

She claimed to have suffered permanent injuries in the mishap.

Woman On Stand

She related from the witness stand Monday her version of how the accident happened. She said Jackson was negligent in making a turn and striking her.

Cross-examination by counsel for the defense indicated Jackson and the publications corporation will hinge their defense on proof that the mishap was unavoidable and that Miss Lofland was guilty of contributory negligence.

Mrs. Eva Maddox of 1219 Fourteenth testified for the plaintiff, as did Dr. J. H. Stiles. Mrs. Maddox quoted the driver of the automobile as saying immediately after Mrs. Maddox had seen Miss Lofland fall and had run outside that he had been "blinded" by the sun, which was just rising.

Dr. Stiles said Miss Lofland's incapacity up to now has been total, that disability will be about 25 per cent after lessening of the present total incapacity.

The case of the plaintiff, represented by the firm of Campbell and Adams and that of Vickers and Vickers, may be rested by noon, after which the defendants have two or three witnesses to introduce to the stand. The firm of McWhorter, Howard and Cobb represents Jackson, that of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam the publishing company.

The jury is composed of Earl Merrell, J. E. Sliger, O. A. Oldham, Belverd Needles, M. C. Price, H. E. Ross, T. G. Seymore, G. W. Hunt, R. V. O'Neal, J. G. West, R. G. Knott and George Deardorff.

South Plains Seaman Serving In Mediterranean Commended

Nelms P. Young, seaman of Lorenzo, and Alvin T. Stewart, seaman apprentice of Rt. 1, Petersburg, were among personnel who received a "well done" from Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, newly appointed Chief of Naval operations, according to a recent Navy announcement.

Admiral Sherman, commander of the Sixth Task Fleet to which Young and Stewart are attached on the destroyer USS Charles P. Cecil, told those who served under him in the Mediterranean:

"On detachment after nearly two years, I wish to express gratitude to all hands on the efficient manner in which they always applied themselves to all tasks assigned them and also my pride in their accomplishments and in their standards of loyalty, duty and discipline.

"I am confident that, under your commander, you will continue as a powerful factor in maintaining the policies and prestige of the United States in the Mediterranian.

"Well done."

Rear Admiral John R. Ballentine relieved Sherman as commander of the Mediterranean fleet.

REA Grants Loans To Missouri Co-Ops

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (U.P.)—The government today granted $13,350,000 in loans to enable farming areas in central Missouri to get hydro-electric power from government-built dams in northern Arkansas.

The Rural Electrification administration granted the loans to provide new generating and transmission facilities to deliver the power to REA-financed electric distribution cooperatives.

A loan of $11,350,000 was granted to the Central Electric Power cooperative, Linn, Mo. At the same time REA approved a $2 million loan to Sho-Me Power Corp., Marshfield, Mo.

The loans will provide for a transmission and distribution network to enable rural areas in 35 Missouri counties to use power from the Bulls Shoals dam now being built by Army engineers in northern Arkansas. The dam is scheduled for completion in 1953.

The Linn cooperative receiving the larger of the two loans is made up of five distribution cooperatives and the Sho-Me Power Corp. Sho-Me has a close working arrangement with 10 other distribution coops in central Missouri.

The loan to the Linn cooperative will finance construction of a distribution network serving 35 counties in Missouri, and a steam generating plant to supplement the hydro power. The separate loan to Sho-Me will provide for transmission lines from the dam to the load centers. It will be used together with the previous loan of $2,195,500 granted Sho-Me last March.

'Bum Shoulder' Helps Salesman Win $26,515 On Radio Quiz Show

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21. (U.P.)—A Portland paper company salesman said today that his "bum shoulder" helped him win $26,515 in prizes on NBC's "Hollywood Calling" radio program.

Ray Campeau, 31, who correctly guessed "Dead End" as the film of fortune, explained that he was home to receive the telephone call only because the shoulder had been bothering him. He said he hadn't seen the movie but remembered reading about it.

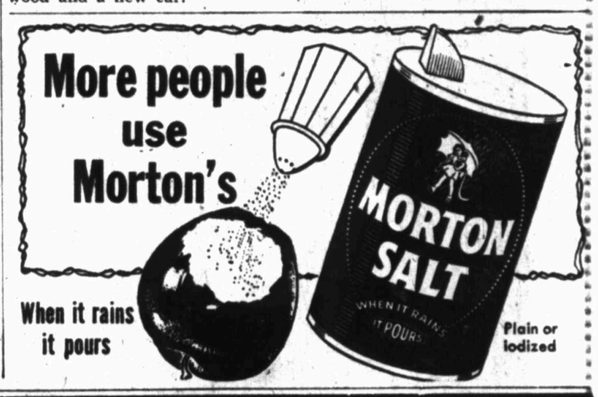

Mrs. Campeau said she answered the telephone, but asked her husband to do the talking because "he's smarter than I am." The Campeau's have two daughters, Diane, 9, and Beatrice, 7.

The prizes included an all expense trip to Italy, clothes for all members of the family; several hundred dollars in cash, a $500 U. S. savings bond, a trip to Hollywood and a new car.

PUMPKIN-PINEAPPLE PIE

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 cup cooked or canned pumpkin
2 beaten egg yolks
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup crushed pineapple (9-oz. can)
Pie crust mix
½ cup heavy cream
Candied cherries or nutmeats

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat pumpkin in top of double boiler. Mix beaten egg yolks with ¼ cup sugar, add salt, crushed pineapple with juice, stir into the pumpkin. Stir over boiling water 3 minutes. Add gelatin, beat until well-blended, chill until syrupy. Beat egg whites, fold in ¼ cup sugar and then fold in the pumpkin mixture. Pour into 9-inch baked pie shell or into pan lined with crumb (corn flake or graham cracker) pastry. Chill until firm and garnish with whipped cream and candied cherries or nutmeats.

FOR THE FARMER:

A Long-Range View

ONE of the several Washington correspondents of The Morning Avalanche gathered some information this week relating to foreign market prospects for farm products. This information should be of particular interest to the South Plains.

The findings are not too cheering. But, at least, they are realistic — which, we are sure, is the sort of information farmers of this area want. Whether it is good or bad, they would like to know what seems to lie ahead.

The expert Washington consensus is, according to this report, that the foreign demand for American farm products will continue large through 1950. After that, this demand is expected to begin dropping sharply and to continue indefinitely at a comparatively low level.

The principal reason given for this prospect is that once war-wrecked agricultural nations again are producing more and more for their own needs. Some are nearing the point, which they probably will reach by 1951, of producing a surplus of many products—grains, in particular—they now obtain chiefly from the United States. These nations not only are expected to cease their importations, but also to become competitors of the U. S. in other foreign markets. The expectation is that, since their production costs are lower, they will be able to undersell Uncle Sam in many of the markets.

The bright spot in the picture, as Washington appears to see it, is that a sharp drop in the foregin demand for American products is not expected for another year to 18 months.

That, at least, affords some time for adjustment to the anticipated conditions, so as to minimize as much as possible the harmful effects they might have upon our farm economy — the effects they almost certainly would have if they should take us completely by surprise.

A Dangerous Thing

THE Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, for once, has a legitimate squawk. It is squawking vigorously, because of a reported "postcard campaign" designed to discourage travel to Southern California.

The postcards from vaguely identified sources are described as branding the Los Angeles area as unsafe, crime-ridden, corrupt, in the grip of a business depression and reeking with unemployment.

With no desire to encourage tourist travel, but solely in a spirit of fair play, these reports should be branded for the exaggerations they are. The Los Angeles district unquestionably does have its problems of crime and corruption. But these conditions probably are not much, if any, worse than in most metropolitan centers of comparable size. The visitor to Los Angeles is about as safe, insofar as his person and property are concerned, as he would be in New York, Chicago, Baltimore, or any other large city.

But the observations of the Editor and others of The Morning Avalanche personnel who have visited Southern California recently tend to confirm, in some degree, the postcard statements concerning business and unemployment there. Business this year has been considerably below that of last year. Southern California is not a good place to go to hunt for a job. Californians aren't able to take care of their own unemployed by a wide margin — and when jobs are available, naturally, residents of that state almost invariably get preference.

Nor is Southern California an attractive field for most investments at this time — particularly, investments in realty and small businesses. As a rule, values still are inflated. Asking prices still are based on the business volumes of the war and postwar boom years.

But these unfavorable conditions do not mean that the visitor to that area is in any greater danger than the visitor to almost any other place. Campaigns like that aimed at Southern California should be discouraged and condemned as unfair, and also because, if effective, similar drives might be aimed at other regions.

15 Billion Dollars Doesn't Buy Much Anymore

The Cameo

By VIRGINIA TEALE
Distributed By NEA, Inc.

(THE STORY: Three people want, and two people claim to own, a valuable cameo which has just turned up in a California art colony. Both Nell O'Neill and Martin Falter claim ownership. Andrey Yakov, a Russian artist; Hagar Blair, a gift shop proprietor, and her assistant, Stephanie Smith, want it. The cameo is in the possession of Arnold Pfieffer, a weaver, who says Martin commissioned him to sell it in San Francisco. Stephanie has just told Hagar that the cameo is more precious to her than anything in the world.)

VIII

STEPHANIE twisted her slender fingers in and out, making a little basket of her hands, "Oh, Hagar, I'll tell you about it, but not right now. But I will, believe me, I will. Only, please, let's get it before someone else carries it away!"

Hagar couldn't resist the urge to pry a bit more. "You realize, don't you, my girl, that you're trying to talk me into spending my old-age security money on this thing and then wait around for you to pay me back at about $5 per week? And for why?"

Stephanie pressed her hands to her face and began to sob. Hagar placed an awkward hand on Stephanie's shoulder.

"Now, now," she said gruffly, "let's not drown ourselves. If it means that much to you, we can probably figure out something. First things first, though. You go get a handkerchief and mop up."

As Stephanie stumbled toward the rear of the shop, Hagar started the closing up chores.

"I'd be a perdition liar if I didn't admit I'm enjoying the whole thing. Stolen jewels, a chase, everything but a murder. Well, if we can get away with it, I think I have a plan that will out-fox everybody and put that Giovanni delle Corniole cameo right smack in the middle of my collection. Until you can buy it, of course. Are you through mopping up?" Hagar went to the back room.

In the small, makeshift sitting room behind the stock shelves, she found Stephanie curled up in one of the battered old armchairs, smoking a cigaret and looked surprisingly calm and poised once again. Hagar flopped into a chair opposite her.

"Well," she began, "the thing to do first is get hold of Falter. I've an idea that Nell O'Neill can't prove her ownership of the cameo, nor can he. I definitely smell a large mouse. But, if Yakov's going to take a chance on buying it, I can at least make a couple of passes in that direction myself and see what happens.

"One thing I do know," she went on, "the cameo has not been reported missing or stolen by anyone. I'd be bound to bear about anything like that. So we'll have to assume that either Nell or Falter are the legal owners. Another thing, I'm convinced now that Falter didn't steal the thing from Nell—she'd have accused him. I think she gave it to him for reasons of her own. And I think she's probably planning to get around him some way to get it bask. But if I know that old deadbeat, Falter, she's got a job cut out for her."

HAGAR grinned at Stephanie. "Here's another angle: If Nell did give the cameo to Falter, how's she going to explain it to Tom, her husband, if Falter should start to stir up a stink?"

Stephanie looked dazed. "I can't quite understand what you're planning, Hagar. All I can think of is, what will happen if Yakov gets the cameo before we do?"

Hagar mashed out her cigaret and stood up. I'll tell you what I'm going to do right now: I'm going to put on my coat, hop in my car and hunt up Falter. He offered me the cameo for $12,000, and I'm going to see what will happen if I tell him 'yes' on the deal. Maybe I'm a senile old turkey to think of spending that much cash, but you can't take it with you, as the man said."

Hagar shrugged into an enormous topcoat and belted it snuggly.

"Do you want to came along, Stephanie?"

Stephanie looked up at last.

"No, Hagar," she was saying. "I'll stay here and hope."

"Well, I must say you don't look very hopeful right now—"

"It's probably too late."

Hagar stared, then, with impatient gestures, she began to pull on a pair of shabby pigskin gloves. "That's neurotic," she told Stephanie. If you lie around mooning about somebody else getting hold of your cameo, they probably will."

All at once Stephannie's eye began to blaze again with the blue fire. She sprang out of her chair and stood before Hagar with her fists clenched:

"They won't. It can't happen! I've waited too long!"

HAGAR watched the girl's face admiringly. The tight, beautiful muscles of her arched neck, the raised bosom, the straight-as-a-die shoulders.

"Now, now," Hagar soothed absentmindedly. "I'll go hunt out Falter and see what's up. Who knows, maybe by this time tomorrow we'll have our little cameo. Meanwhile, let's be practical. While I'm gone, why don't you run up to the house and put that pot of stew on the stove? We've got to keep up our strength if we're going to be pushing and hauling with Nell O'Neill and Falter, to say nothing about that Russian heavy." She waved her car key and moved toward the door, "I may be late getting back —depends on whether Falter's at home or abroad. If I'm not there in a couple of hours, you go ahead and eat. Adios!"

Hagar felt in excellent fettle as she slipped through the shop's front door, walked down the street and got in her toy-sized red car.

There, right where she might have sat upon it, was the silver box, the box belonging to the carnelian cameo. It was open. And empty.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IF there is anything in this world I despise it's hypocrisy.

The dictionary defines hypocrisy, among other things, as "feigning to be what one is not, especially the false assumption of an appearance of virtue or religion; canting simulation of goodness."

BRANDEIS

Or, in plain English, a hypocrite is just a sanctimonious deceiver who sticks his nose into other people's business.

Look at all the fuss they are making in England over poor little Princess Margaret because she has smoked a cigarette in public!!!

Or, to get close to home, you should see the letters I get every now and then when my picture is published with a pipe in my mouth.

Just the other day a woman threatened to cancel her newspaper subscription unless I stopped smoking.

Usually these hypocrites invoke religion to prove that any kind of amusement is wrong.

I say that religion has absolutely nothing to do with their prejudices.

Some doctors say it is, some say it isn't.

Only recently an eminent heart specialist, whom I asked about smoking, said this:

"Smoking isn't any too good for you. It contracts the muscles and makes the heart work harder.

"But if you really have the urge to smoke, the irritation of not being allowed to smoke may hurt you more than the smoking itself.

"So, my advice is —use your own judgment.

"At any rate smoking in moderation probably won't cost you more than a year of your life. You may die at 79 instead of 80. Then again you may not."

Where do these blue-noses get the idea that dancing or going to the movies is sin?
They claim it's in the Bible.
In the 150th Psalm it says
"Praise him with the timbrel

AUTO LOAN UNDER FIRE

RFC Loans Scored

BY RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: — "How come," explodes H.E.S. of Pomona, Calif., "that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation can afford to lend fifty million dollars to the Kaiser-Frazier Corporation, which is in the highly competitive automobile business?" Answer: There is no moral justification for this loan, and the same answer applies to the millions which the R.F.C. has advanced to the Lustron Corporation for making prefab houses. There is no valid reason why one automobile firm should be singled out for government financing, while its competitors operate on their own funds and initiative.

TUCKER

The original R.F.C. was a depression agency. It was authorized to buy the obligations of hard-pressed industries, or to advance money to them until economic conditions improved, and it was managed as a strict, businesslike proposition when Jesse H. Jones headed it. Now it has been transformed into a political pawnshop.

HANDOUTS: The Lustron people, who have not yet made good their rosy predictions of volume output, and have lived only off federal handouts, sold themselves to housing agencies and prominent members of Congress (one House member has since become a Lustron official at a fancy salary) when homes for veterans were scarce immediately after the war.

Once the government tossed its money into the Lustron pot, it had to fatten the kitty to try to get back its original bad bet.

Amendments to the R.F.C. Act permitting this sort of operation were passed in 1947 and 1948 under White House sponsorship. Therefore, they have a legal basis. But Congress will probably stop such practices at the next session.

BRICKER?: T.O.S. of Forest City, N.C., wants to know why Senator John W. Bricker has disappeared from political view, and he phrases his query most quaintly to wit:

"Immediately after the 1944 Republican convention, we heard the comment that the politicans 'loved Bricker but married Dewey.' The Ohio man apparently stood high in the politicians' esteem.

"Lately we never hear Bricker mentioned as a presidential possibility. He seems to be a 'forgotten man.' What has happened to him? Is it because Taft has a more spectacular record? Is it because Taft has become more of a symbol of rock-ribbed Republicanism? Or is Taft just smarter?

"Does the alleged deal between Taft and Bricker still hold — namely, that they will take alternate turns at trying for the presidential nomination?"

HOPELESS Answer: Senator Bricker has been a tremendous disappointment to his friends here an in Ohio. He is colorless and ineffective on Capitol Hill. Moreover, he has generally lined up with the most hopeless reactionaries on the Republican side of the aisle. Politically, he has not improved on acquaintance, although a likable individual otherwise.

On the contrary, Senator Taft is known as "Mr. Republican" in the press gallery for his attitude on public questions. Insofar as the G.O.P. has any brains on Capitol Hill, he has them.

I don't know the latest terms of the "alleged deal" between them to take alternate turns for the nomination. I think that applied only to the years 1940, 1944 and 1948. If Mr. Taft has extended the so-called pact to cover 1952, he is not so smart a man as I judge him to be.

Assuming that Mr. Taft wins reelection to the Senate next year — and I believe he will — I do not see how he can fail to win the presidential nomination. Also assuming that he makes no fatal blunders — fatal, that is, politically — between now and 1952.

VETERANS: Numerous readers, including T.K.M. of Forest City, N.C., and E. S. of Springfield, Mass., ask whether veterans pensions were liberalized by the last session of Congress.

Answer: Yes, they were. But it would require too much space for me to explain and analyze the changes that were made. I would suggest that people interested in these questions get in touch with the local headquarters of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled Veterans, Amvets etc. They usually have a man whose duty is to explain the meaning of any revision. This also applies to widows of World War I and II veterans.

If local headquarters of these organizations cannot answer your questions, send a hot letter of complaint to their respective headquarters at Washington, D.C.

CLAIMS: Many readers, including old newspaper friends, want information on the new War Claims Commission, which was created to receive and pass on claims for compensation based upon mistreatment of American soldiers in Japanese and German prison camps. Since I cannot reply to all the letters I received on this question, here is a general answer:

The new commission is still in the process of organization, according to Chairman Daniel S. Cleary. He says that full details on how to make application will soon be given to the press for nationwide publication. He expects to have application forms available, and will distriubte them through some government agency, probably the Veterans' Administration's local or state offices, when they are ready.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, Nov. 22, 1929.)

Members of the 1928 bridge club were entertained at Slaton Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dick Skelton.

Guests appeared at the party dressed in Gypsy costumes and at refreshment time were served, seated on the floor, from a pot of gumbo.

Prizes in the games went to Mrs. O. A. Terry for high score among the members, and to Mrs. Kirby Brown for high score among the guests. Mrs. Leo Edwards won a prize for high cut.

Visitors present were Mesdames Lee Ragland and Clayton Gammill of Lubbock and Mesdames Kirby Brown, L. V. Lienhard, J. A. McGinnie, R. E. Weisinger, and George Merriott of Slaton.

Members attending were Mesdames O. A. Terry, W. A. Sylvester, M. N. Hale, J. R. Bush, Fred Childress, Gib Jackson, Numa Roberts, Leo Edwards, E. L. Pitts, J. Ray Dickey, and W. B. Hearrell.

"The Changing Conception of Education" was the subject discussed by Mrs. J. T. Shaver at a meeting of the George M. Hunt Parent-Teachers association Thursday afternoon. Henry Clark spoke on the Community Chest and a Thanksgiving program of songs and readings was given by children by the rooms of Misses Forbis and Virginia Mantor.

Pictures for having the largest number of mothers present at the meeting were awarded to Miss Mantor's room on the first floor and to Miss Gladys Prior's room on the second floor. Mrs. W. E. Twitty presided for the business session.

WELFARE FUND COMPARED

Military Costs Boost Spending

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA — A congressional report just completed attempts to give an objective, non- political analysis of just how much a "welfare state" America does have.

It's a study of what is being done by government directly to aid the unemployed and low-income families. The authors, members of the Joint Committee on the Economic Report, avoid any comment on what is good or bad about the various programs. But certain evaluations are obvious.

Most apparent is the modest cost of this country's direct "welfare" efforts in comparison to the staggering expenditures on such things as foreign aid and national defense. For instance, last year the total bill for old-age assistance, aid to dependent children, aid to the blind and general assistance was $1,700,000,000. That includes costs to federal, state and local governments. Per U. S. inhabitant the cost was $11.86. That's close to less than one-tenth of what was spent for military purposes.

Totals Are Compared

Under a new public low-rent housing program annual contributions of about $238,000,000 have been authorized for the whole country. That's just about the same sum appropriated for military housing.

There are about 17,200,000 workers who are not covered by any kind of old-age or unemployment insurance. They include agricultural workers, domestic help and others.

There are 5,200,000 persons who work for federal, state and local governmental agencies. Only a tiny fraction are covered by any kind of unemployment insurance.

THE report states:

"Inability to engage in gainful work because of illness or injury ranks high among the economic hazards of workers in the U.S. But only the states of Rhode Island, California and New Jersey now administer temporary disability programs providing cash benefits in case of nonoccupational disability."

Those examples show how little co-ordination that there has been in the long-time development of overall welfare programs. The money is not going to satisfy greatest needs first. Nevertheless, the report furnishes an imposing list of activities that are being carried on in this field.

By August of this year there were over 2,600,000 persons getting old-age assistance and 1,400,000 dependent children receiving help. The federal government does not give direct cash help to needy persons except in those two categories, and in the case of a few persons who come under a "general assistance" program.

Rehabilitating The Lame

Under the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation, which works with the state agencies, 58,000 handicapped persons a year get rehabilitation training which enables them to become self-supporting. There are federal grants to the states totaling $22,000,000 a year for health and welfare services for mothers and children and crippled children. And about one-quarter of all U. S. kids in public schools benefit from the national school-lunch program administered by the Department of Agriculture.

The report says:

"Although most of the veterans' programs are designed for the benefit of all veterans and their dependents, others are specifically intended to meet the needs of the low-income veterans and their surviving dependents. Such programs show a great increase in participation during periods of general unemployment."

THE authors admit that several other important federal programs, which they don't consider in detail, contribute indirectly to helping low-income families. They say:

"Perhaps the most important of these are the agricultural price-support program, although not specifically direct to that end, has reduced sharply the number of low-income farm families. Neither does this report cover such broad general programs as education or public health, which provides services that are of great significance to low-income families but which are also available to the community as a whole."

It is in this latter area where the "welfare state" becomes a strictly political issue.

Hobb's Council To Hear Police Officers Fired By Mayor Heard

HOBBS, Nov. 21. (INS)—The city council of Hobbs is to hear from two policemen fired early Saturday morning by Mayor J. Paul Heard.

Assistant Chief Ivan Read and Joe Draper, patrolman, contend that their police commissions remain in force until revoked by the city council.

They claim Heard has no authority to fire them and that they are still employed by the police force in spite of the mayor's action.

Science Stalks Nation's Prime Killer In Vital Fight For Lives

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 21—Remember the headlines of last summer, when the polio epidemic was at its worst? They were grim, indeed. In New York alone, 60 persons died of infantile paralysis during July.

But during the same month, 4,650 New Yorkers died of heart trouble and it scarcely made the papers.

About 200,000 Americans die of heart disease every year, and about 800,000 more contract it annually. It's the country's No. 1 killer by a huge margin. Deaths in the biggest battles of World War II occurred with less frequency than sedentary Americans at home were dying of heart trouble! There may be as many as 15 million Americans with heart disease.

Woman Heads Drive

Foremost in the ranks of organizations combatting this scourge is the New York Heart association, whose annual drive for funds for research (the goal this year is $750,000) is headed this year by Mrs. Arthur Baer, a heart sufferer herself.

It's an all-out fight to find the answer, to train young doctors to continue the search, to encourage the medical departments of the state's universities to probe the reasons why that most incredible of the organs—the heart—breaks down as often as it does.

At a constructive round-table discussion among leading heart specialists the other night, Gov. Tom Dewey, acting as moderator, called on Dr. Homer W. Smith to outline the advances being made in heart research.

Unknown Answer Sought

"We are searching for an answer that no one knows," Dr. Smith said. "But we are searching everywhere that the answer might be concealed, and with every facility known to modern science."

He listed the most advanced biochemical and bacteriological methods, "high velocity, high pressure recording instruments, electronic circuits and electronic analyzers of elaborate design; radioactive elements and heavy water from the Atomic Energy commission, flame photometers, war gases (nitrogen mustards), advanced mathematics, exercise machines, catheters and withdrawing blood from the heart. . .everything but an atomic pile."

He could not tell where the answer would be found.

"It will be at the end of a path, doggedly pursued, but one never knows just which path.

Diamonds From Carbon

"Marvelous things in medical science turn up in the queerest places. Sulfanilimide was a dye. Penicillin was a nasty mold that made a nuisance of itself in Fleming's laboratory. Radioactive iodine came out of the atomic bomb. Acth (cortisone) was a little hormone out of the pituitary of pigs and cows... the pituitary gland which Descartes said was the seat of the soul.

"Dicumorol, the anti-coagulant so useful in the prevention of thrombosis, came out of rotten clover which killed cattle. Streptodornase and streptokinase, which would have saved many lives in the war if we had had them were enzymes invented by the deadly streptococcus."

He saw no reason to despair.

Expansion Profits Man

"It is not chaos. It is a picture puzzle, or a series of picture puzzles, which fit together in large areas with this difference—there is no fixed periphery to the box. The edges go on expanding to the continual profit of mankind.

For instance, in 1900 the life expectance in this country was 49 years. In 1945 it had jumped to 66 years. Thirty per cent of persons now 65 owe their survival to advances in medical science made in their lifetime.

"Since 1900, many diseases have been made elective. You don't have to have them if you don't want them: infantile diarrhea, dysentary, tetanus, diptheria, smallpox, yellow fever, malaria, typhus, typhoid fever measles, scurvy, rickets, pellagra.

"Within the last few years, pneumonia, diabetes, pernicious anemia, mastoiditis, and a host of deadly infections like meningitis have joined the list of diseases under fair control."

The passion and devotion which rid the land of some of the above will beat heart disease, too. But only if the proper support is given to the fight against this country's most sinister and implacable enemy.

In Chapter 3 of Ecclesiastes we read "A time to weep, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance."

ISN'T there enough trouble in this world of ours without begrudging us the few joys and diversions we get out of life?

Again, to cope with the hypocrites, I quote the Bible, this time the 31st Chapter of Jeremiah:

"I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow."

Please, you carpers and meddlers, let us have a few laughts. Let us dance a bit and be fools a bit.

Above all, let us mind our business—and you mind yours.

Studebaker To Close Plant Because Of Steel Shortage

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 21. (INS)—The Studebaker Corp., announced today that it will suspend production of autos and trucks from Nov. 30 to Dec. 12 because of a shortage of steel.

Company officials said they plan to maintain production at the present rate of approximately 1,400 units a day through Nov. 30 and to resume production at the same rate on Dec. 12.

P. O. Peterson, vice-president in charge of manufacturing said that only seven working days will be lost through the forced shutdown.

Peterson explained that Studebaker was able to keep production going for two months after the steel strike because "we started accumulating steel beyond our immediate needs for ourselves as well as our suppliers as far back as last May."

He added:

"Unfortunately, the strike lasted longer than anyone had expected and we find ourselves with our steel reserves depleted some 10 days before the resumption of shipments from steel mills will help us."

Cotton Ginnings In U. S. Pass '48 Total

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21. (AP)—The census bureau reported today that 11,693,204 bales of 1949-crop cotton had been ginned to Nov. 15 this year.

Ginnings to the same date last year totaled 11,678,631 bales.

Included were 2,063 bales of American - Egyptian cotton compared with 2,304 bales last year.

Ginnings to Nov. 15 this year and last, respectively, by states included: Texas 3,958,059 and 2,659,070.

RECIPE FOR GOBBLER STUFFING

- 3 quarts soft bread crumbs
- 2½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon sage
- ¾ teaspoon thyme
- 2 tablespoons parsley, chopped
- ½ cup shortening, melted
- ½ cup onion, minced
- ¼ cup butter
- 1/3 cup boiling water (about)

Combine bread crumbs, salt, pepper, sage, thyme, and parsley, and mix thoroughly . . . Melt shortening in skillet, add onion, and saute lightly for 2 minutes, being careful not to brown onion . . . Add bread crumbs and saute until very lightly browned, stirring constantly from bottom . . . Melt butter in boiling water and pour over crumbs, tossing lightly with two forks. Add more water if additional moisture is needed . . . Makes enough stuffing for one 8-pound bird.

For a moist stuffing, use soft bread crumbs from day-old bread. A good way to prepare the crumbs is to cut slices of bread into small cubes, removing the brown crusts if preferred.

Texas Farm Group Asks Tax To Build More Roads

Cotton Farmers Hit Seed Policy

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 21—The Rural Roads committee of the Texas Farm Bureau federation agreed today the state should build roads from farm fields to the farm market highways that criss-cross the state.

A committee resolution would ask the legislature to tax natural resources or make an appropriation to build farm to highway roads.

The resolution will go before the 16th annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau tomorrow at its afternoon session.

More than 600 delegates of the 38,000-member farm organization had registered today. More are expected to arrive tomorrow.

Change Is Made

Loys D. Barbour of Iowa Park, Wichita county, is chairman of the Rural Roads committee.

In a resolutions committee hearing on field crops, several cotton farmers charged oil millers were making an unfair profit off the cotton by-product. "The difference in what we are paid for cotton seed and what the miller makes as profit is too much," one farmer complained.

Roy Davis, a cotton seed ginner from Lubbock, told the hearing that the gins and mills are just as interested in seeing the farmer get a good price for his cotton as the farmer himself.

"But the supply of cotton seed has caught up with the demand in most cases," Davis explained. "The gins are paying about all they can to keep their businesses out of the red." They make $5 a ton profit today, he said.

B. F. Vance, state chairman of the Federal Production and Marketing administration, told the group that the government was interested only in seeing that the farmer got $46.50 a ton for his cotton seed. "The government will buy it from the farmer outright at that price."

The government will see that the ginner gets $48 for his product, Vance said.

OLD ADAGE PAYS OFF

When George Gilding, then 18, found a purse in London, in 1918, containing 25 cents, and took it to the police, the owner, Mrs. J. Hinsley, said she would never forget his honesty — and last week her will showed she had left him $14,000.

Prince Identified As Bank Robber

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Nov. 21 — Three witnesses testified today that Ollie Otto Prince of Corsicana was the bandit who robbed the Malone State bank of $15,764 on Oct. 5, 1948.

The defense called seven witnesses who said Prince was in or near Corsicana during the period in which the robbery was committed.

Malone is about 34 miles from Corsicana.

The trial of the 44-year-old used car dealer began today. He was to have gone on trial on a charge of robbing the Mt. Calm bank, but District Attorney W. H. Moursund of San Antonio decided to try the Malone case first. Witnesses in the Mt. Calm case were excused until 9:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Prior Sentence Noted

Prince already is under a 10-year sentence for robbing a bank at Rice, in Navarro county.

Guy Mann, vice-president of the Malone bank, was the first witness today. Throughout his testimony, Mann referred to the robber as "Prince."

Asked if he could identify the bandit, Mann pointed a finger at Prince and said:

"That is the man."

Mrs. Weldon Kaddatz, assistant cashier of the bank, and Willie Geltmeier, a bank customer, were the other witnesses who said they recognized Prince as the robber.

Trio Locked In Vault

Mann, Mrs. Kaddatz and Geltmeier were the only persons in the bank at the time of the robbery, which took place about 11:50 a. m. The bandit locked them in the bank's vault.

J. C. Bowie, Corsicana tractor implement dealer; Rufe Hawthorne, negro tenant on Prince's farm; Brady Hensley, negro tenant on an adjoining farm; Jim Cowart, white farmer of the Streetland community near Corsicana; W. H. Brow, Corsicana service station owner, and W. C. Watson and E. W. Rhodes, garage owners, were the defense witnesses. They told of seeing Prince in or near Corsicana at times ranging from 11 a.m. until about 1 p.m. the day of the robbery.

Mann testified Prince came into the bank through a side door and

Hub City Kiwanis To Hold Session Today

F. L. McDonald, head of the journalism department at Texas State College for Women at Denton, will be principal speaker at a charter night meeting of the Hub City Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock at 7:30 p. m. today.

Mr. McDonald is governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International. He will be introduced by W. C. Williams of Borger, lieutenant-governor for this district.

A total of 53 charter members are on the roll of the new Kiwanis club here, organized in the past two months. Jason Gordon is president; Jas. W. Spears, vice president; Paul McLain, secretary; and Dude Buster, treasurer.

Attending the charter night program will be a large number of out-of-town Kiwanians, including a group of 20 which will come here by special bus from Borger, Pampa and Stinnett. Eight will be here from Snyder and Amarillo, Plainview and other towns are expected to send representatives.

Gerre Hanock will furnish dinner music during the meal.

Tech Club Doing Its Part To Better Good Neighbor Policy

At work in its own way to promote better international relations is an organization in Lubbock—the Cosmopolitan club composed of 30 students in Texas Technological college from 15 countries.

The promotion of good will may take the form of a friendly gesture like that made recently when the club presented a set of United Nations flags to the college, or it may take the form of presentation of music like that "south of the border."

The Conjunto Pan-Americano band, frequently called the Latin American band, is made up of five members and one honorary member of the Cosmopolitan club.

Although not directly a part of the Cosmopolitan club program, it performs in keeping with one of the club aims in that furthering good will is its purpose.

"By means of this band, we try to convey our good will," said James Lakas from Colon, Panama, who beats the tom-tom in the band and who also is vice president of the Cosmopolitan club.

"None of us are players back home," he said. "We do that for novelty. We do that to show something typical south of the border, like in Texas you wear a cowboy suit."

Last spring several students collected in the room of Guido Rodriguez from Alajuela, Costa Rica. Darrel Kirkpatric, student from Dalhart, began playing Spanish music on his guitar. Lakas began beating rhythm on the dresser. Then Rodriguez and Kirkpatric rendered a vocal number. From that performance came the decision to organize a little orchestra. The three students decided to ask other students to play the maracas and the claves.

The group practiced, with Lakas using a wastepaper basket in place of a drum. Bandsmen serenaded women's dormitories.

Some of the co-eds leaned from their windows, greeting the music with enthusiasm.

Truman-Aleman Meeting Urged

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21 (AP)—President Truman and President Aleman of Mexico were urged today to meet along the Rio Grande and exchange captured battle flags seized a century ago in the Mexican war.

The proposal was made in similar letters Rep. Bentsen (D-Tex) sent to the two chief executives. Bentsen's office announced his action. He is in Texas.

Bentsen pointed out that legislation already passed by the Senate and expected to get house approval early next year calls for the return to Mexico of flags of that republic held by the United States.

Would Aid Relations

He said Mexico also holds flags captured from U. S. troops.

In view of the friendly relations now existing between the two neighboring countries, and as an expression of hemispheric solidarity, it would be fitting that the two presidents exchange the flags at a celebration along the Texas-Mexico border, said Bentsen.

The legislation to which he referred, introduced by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, provides that:

"The President is authorized to cause to be delivered to the government of the Republic of Mexico, with such escort and such appropriate ceremony as he shall deem proper, the flags, standards, colors and emblems which were captured by the military forces of the United States in the Mexican war of 1846 to 1848 and are now in the custody of the national military establishment."

Rites Conducted For Clauene Victim Of Tractor Accident

CLAUENE, Nov. 21 (Special)—Funeral services were held here today for Wayne Hollis, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hollis crushed Sunday by a tractor he was driving.

Services were held at the Fellowship Baptist church here with the Rev. R. S. Sparkman of Wells officiating. Burial was in Levelland cemetery under the direction of the George C. Price Funeral home.

The young Hollis was reportedly maneuvering the tractor around the yard on the Bert Wise farm, near here, when he cut the wheels too short and turned the tractor over.

Survivors include his parents and two brothers, Wilburn D. "Sam" Hollis and Ronnie Hollis, both of Levelland.

'LITTLE MARIE' IN HOSPITAL

Youngest Member Of Girlstown, Hit By Polio, On Recovery Road

(Special To The Avalanche)

GIRLSTOWN, U. S. A., Nov. 21—Relief pervaded Girlstown this afternoon as its residents learned that "Little Marie" is recovering from polio.

"Little Marie," who was two years old Nov. 7 and is the youngest resident of Girlstown, will have no ill effects, said Miss Amelia Anthony, founder and director of Girlstown.

Miss Anthony took the little girl to Scottish Rite hospital at Dallas last Tuesday and remained there with her several days.

Muscles in the left arm and hand have been weakened, but physical therapy will restore complete use to that arm, said Miss Anthony.

The relatively light nature of Marie's illness has been attributed by doctors to the fact that she received treatment immediately upon becoming ill.

One of the policies of Girlstown is to take a girl immediately to a hospital when she registers even as much as one degree of temperature above normal. Marie was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital about three weeks ago because she registered a temperature and appeared to have a cold. Hot packs were applied and diagnosis given. She was not placed in an iron lung, as often is the case with patients suffering polio in more serious form. She was transferred to the hospital at Dallas for further treatment and to remain until everything is done that can be to assure she will not have ill effects.

Girls at Girlstown have continued in school, leading a normal life, concerned over Marie's "cold" but protected from knowledge of any worse disease until the "danger period had passed.

Sunday marked the end of the period when other girls might have contracted the disease had they been subjected to it at the same time as Marie or if the disease were communicable. Thus they were saved from worry and also from developing imaginary aches and pains, said the director.

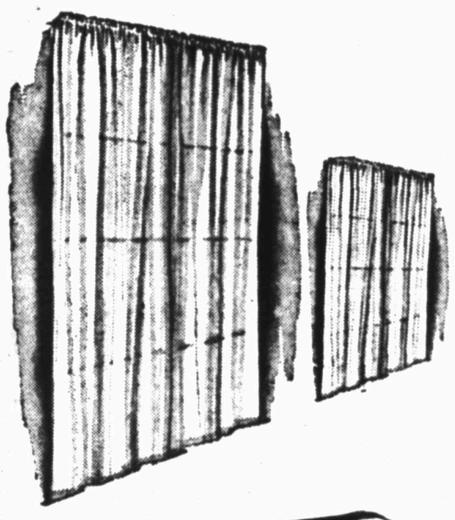

Precautionary measures of having grounds and corrals sprayed with DDT and of having water tested were taken at Girlstown after Marie became ill, although where she contracted the disease was not known and it may have been on any of various visits she made outside of Girlstown. Also, numerous persons have visited Girlstown.

During the first 10 days in November, 52 new cases of polio were reported in Texas.

VIOLENCE FEARED BY JUDGE

Stroble Met By Jeering Crowd At Hearing On Slaying Of Girl

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 21. (INS). A jeering muttering crowd of nearly 700 persons greeted Fred Stroble, 66, when the "kindly grandpa" appeared for preliminary hearing today in the sex-slaying of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoft.

It was the largest crowd in the history of Los Angeles courts.

Municipal Judge Leroy Dawson, admittedly fearing violence, cleared the entire seventh floor of the Hall of Justice of all spectators.

The courtroom itself was packed, with every seat filled.

Rear Door Used

Stroble, unemployed baker who confessed to the killing, was sneaked into court by a rear entrance as hundreds of persons jammed the roped and guarded corridors.

The handcuffed little man, grandfather of two youngsters who were Linda's playmates, mumbled:

"I want to die. I deserve to die. I sure am nervous but it won't matter, anyway."

He glanced once at a table in the courtroom where Linda's little red shoes were placed beside an ax, one of the weapons used in the child's death.

And then Stroble stared straight ahead, apparently emotionless.

Bail Is Denied

At the end of the hearing he was bound over to the Superior court without bail. His arraignment was set for Friday morning. At that time he can either enter a plea or ask for additional time in which to plead.

Stroble bowed his head, once, and twitched nervously when Dr. Federick Newbarr, Los Angeles county autopsy surgeon, testified that strangulation was the cause of death.

The physician also said that he had found approximately 34 abrasions, cuts and bruises on the brown-eyed girl's body.

Dr. Newbar said that there was no evidence of criminal attack.

Signed Confession Read

However, Stroble's signed confession, which was read into the evidence today by Deputy Police Chief Thad Brown at the request of a public defender, Henry O. Langendorf, included a statement that Linda was killed last Monday because she screamed when Stroble began to fondle her.

At recess, Stroble sipped nervously at a glass of water. He said that he had sent a note last Saturday to his daughter, Mrs. Sylvia Hausman, asking her to come to see him.

"But I don't expect them to come," Stroble said quietly. "They're too nervous."

"I ain't got any money. I was playing the races at Tijuana (Mexico) where four or five men robbed me of $1,000 in a bar recently.

Film Ordered Taken

At one point Judge Dawson halted the hearing to order his bailiff to seize the film from a movie camera belonging to one of the spectators.

Harold Glucoft, an uncle of the young victim, was the first witness. He had identified her hacked body when it was found buried in a trash pile last Tuesday, to climax one of the largest manhunts in Southern California police annals.

Stroble was arrested Thursday by a rookie cop in downtown Los Angeles.

Tech Club Active

the summer, then reorganized this fall and again serenaded the women's dormitories. An invitation to play at a Ko Shari club dinner followed. After that, other organizations invited the band to play.

Band members are Kirkpatric, who plays the guitar: Victor Lolas from Arequipa, Peru, who plays the claves, made up of two long sticks; Guillermo Perea from Arequipa, who plays the maracas, a round rattle which now is manufactured commercially but which was made primitively from Spanish vegetables, with seed causing the rattle; and Lakas, who plays a tom-tom, which was lent to him by a co-ed and is similar to those used in Mexico. Rodriguez is vocalist with the band.

Entertained At Dance

The band frequently asks a co-ed, Miss Maxine McCollum, to tap-dance with the band, and she often asks the band to play for her when she has a tap dancing engagement.

Latest engagement of the band was at a dance sponsored by the Cosmopolitan club Saturday night in the Green room of the recreation building. Open to other students and held for purpose of raising funds for club work, the dance attracted more than 100 students.

Included in a variety of entertainment offered during a floor show were several numbers by the band.

A decidedly international flavor pervaded the room as young men from Peru and from Mexico and from other countries danced with girls from the United States.

Club Purpose Cited

Although jitter-bugging was learned by some of the students in their own countries, some of them have developed the jitterbug technique to greater extent since coming to Texas, said Jim D'Acosta, from Mexico City, president of the Cosmopolitan club.

D'Acosta said the Cosmopolitan club has six aims: To bind together all international students in Texas Tech; to further a spirit of international goodwill in this community; to publicize Texas Tech in countries from which the members come and throughout the world; to take active interest in those problems of interest to foreign students; to locate, orientate and aid in any other way new foreign students coming to Texas Tech, and to provide means of educational entertainment whereby persons who come in contact with international students will become broadened through the experience.

Speak English At Meetings

Club officers are D'Acosta, president; Lakas, vice president; Miss Matina Zanga from Greece, secretary; Labang Naw from Burma, treasurer, and Perea, reporter.

Five countries are represented by the officers.

In addition to its 30 members, the club has 11 honorary members, including presidents of language clubs and the International Relations club on the campus. The Texan who is a member of the band also is an honorary member of the club. He majors in foreign languages.

The club was organized last January. D'Acosta has been president since its organization.

"We speak English during club meetings," said D'Acosta. Members are anxious to learn English, so they can study and also so they can carry on conversation with other students unable to speak their languages.

The Cosmopolitan club president is a brother of Emil D'Acosta, who was graduated from Texas Tech in August and now lives in Fort Worth. Their mother is a native of the United States.

WEST, EAST COMPETE

American and British films competed with films made in Russia and other behind-the-curtain countries at an international festival held recently in Czechoslovakia, Prague reports.

NEW PLANES RECEIVED

The Yemen government has acquired four new airplanes, two of them DC's but is making little use of them and thus far has not accepted offers to use them during the pilgrimage season to Mecca.

STOCKS SHOW MODEST DECLINE

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP)—Stocks beat an orderly retreat in today's market and closing prices were fractions to more than a point lower.

The modest decline started from an average price level that was equal to the highest point reached this year.

That stocks backed away from the heights was attributed chiefly to profit-taking in the wake of last week's lively advance. Trading volume on today's decline was only $1,180,000 shares, well below the pace of the previous week. It compared with 1,690,000 last Friday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average dipped 3 of a point to 68.4, utilities held unchanged while industrials were off .5 and rails down .4. Declines outnumbered advances 524 to 293 among the 1,100 issues traded.

Railroad issues, which failed to match the advances of the industrials last week, accompanied them on the downside today. Financial troubles of the carriers have been given emphasis in the past few days by suggestions that a co-ordinated federal policy on transportation and that subsidies to make up passenger losses may be needed.

Dividend news adversely affected some leaders today, including Du Pont whose directors ordered a $1.50 payment. Although this would bring the year's total, adjusted for the 4-for-1 split, to $3.40 a share against $2.44 a year ago, the stock fell to a loss of nearly 3 points before recovering to close off 2¼ at 61⅛. It was the second most active issue of the day. J. I. Case finished at 44, down ¾, after its directors declared an increased quarterly dividend of 75 cents and year-end payment of $2.80.

Santa Fe was off 1¼ at 94¼. Fractional losses were recorded for General Motors at 65⅜, Studebaker 26⅛, Republic Steel 22, Texas Co. 62, Standard Oil N. J. 68¼, Westinghouse Electric 27⅞, Baltimore and Ohio 8⅜, Union Pacific 82¼, American Woolen 24½ and U. S. Rubber 32½.

Holding gains were such issues as Kennecott Copper 51¼, McIntyre Porcupine 57⅜, Homestake 44¾, Hilton Hotels 10⅞, Goodrich 69⅛, U. S. Gypsum 107 up 2, and Woolworth 46⅜. Household finance tacked on ¾ at 39¾, as its directors ordered payment of a 10 percent stock dividend.

Some long-term U. S. government bonds eased slightly in over-the counter trading. Corporate obligations were generally steady on the exchange.

On the curb Globe-Union had a rise of 1¼ points after declaration of a year-end $1 extra dividend. Advances also were registered by National Pressure Cooker, Pantepec Oil, Colonial Airlines, E. L. Bruce and Domestic Credit. Ending with declines were Cities Service, Creole Petroleum, Louisiana Land and Exploration, Raytheon, United Light and Railways, Argus, Glen Alden Coal and American Maracaibo. Turnover on the curb totaled 330,000 shares against 480,000 last Friday.

Commodity futures were mixed. Cotton at New York moved up 5 to 35 cents a bale. At Chicago wheat was off ⅜ of a cent a bushel to up 2 cents, corn advanced 1 to 1⅛ and oats closed ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher.

Officials of Londonderry, England, unable to locate one of their water mains, used a mine detector with complete success.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 21 (AP) — Corn jumped off with gains of around a cent and held there for the rest of the session on the board of trade today. Other cereals, firm early, slipped and lost part or all their gains before the close.

A new grant by the Economic Cooperation administration to European countries to buy American corn helped that grain. Cash arrivals sank and a good demand forced quotations higher in the spot market. All deferred deliveries made new seasonal highs.

Wheat was aided by rumors Mexico was in the market for 1,000,000 bushels. However, the July delivery, representing the 1950 crop, sank. December and May oats scored seasonal peaks by a small fraction and then fell back on profit-taking.

Wheat closed ⅜ lower to 2 cents higher. December $2.13⅜-¾, corn was 1 to 1½ higher. December $1.25⅞-$1.26, oats were ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, December 78, rye was ⅛-1¼ lower, December $1.33⅛-¼.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Nov. 21 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard, 2.34¾-40¾.
Oats No. 2 white 92-92½.
Corn No. 2 white, Texas only, 1.61-63 nominal.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo, per 100 lbs 2.13-18.

Swift Murder Trial Planned For Confessed Slayer Of Girl

TWIN FALLS, Ida., Nov. 21 (INS) —Plans for a swift first-degree murder trial for 16-year-old Neale Butterfield, confessed slayer of 7-year-old Glenda Joyce Brisbois were mapped in Twin Falls today.

District Judge Hugh Baker and Cassia County Attorney Adonis Neilson of Burley conferred and Judge Baker said it may be possible to try Butterfield during the current session of court.

Butterfield, a high school junior, was arraigned within a few hours after he admitted to officers that he struck the little girl over the head with an automobile bumper jack and tossed her body into a canal.

U. S. EXPORTERS WARNED

Americans who export to El Salvador are being warned of a tendency by merchants there to refuse payment for United States imports until a substantial price reduction has been granted.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 21 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in moderately active trading today. Evening-up operations in nearby December and switching from December to later months dominated the market. A leading spot firm sold 4,000 to 5,000 bales of December against purchases of the March 1950 delivery. Friday of this week is first notice day for December contracts. Mill buying against textile sales was fairly active. Hedge selling helped to discourage rallying tendencies in the market.

The Census Bureau report showed ginning to November 14 of 11,693,204 bales, with ginnings in the first half of November heavy and more than 900,000 bales larger than in the same period a year ago.

Futures closed 5 to 35 cents a bale higher than the previous close.

Communist Inventor Develops New Method Of Planting Acorns

LONDON, Nov. 21 (AP)—A Communist inventor has devised an acorn-planter which makes a squirrel look like a fool.

The Soviet news agency Tass told it today in a dispatch from Bucharest. It said the planter, invented by Nica Moisei of Barlad, Rumania, performs five operations:

"It digs a small furrow, throws acorns into it at fixed intervals, covers them up with earth, stamps the earth firmly in and registers the place."

Wild life observers say squirrels often forget where they bury acorns.

Tass said Moisei's planter will save a lot of man hours in reforestation projects.

Prince Identified

asked the location of a cotton company. He said Geltmeier pointed out the place to Prince.

"Prince did not leave and I became suspicious," Mann said.

The bank official said Prince went into the bank's middle room, into which the vault opens.

Mann said he followed Prince into the room and Prince met him at the door, a gun in his hand, and motioned Geltmeier into the room too.

Mann said Prince handed him a sack and said:

"Get going—I want your money and I want it quick."

Money Put In Sack

"I put about $2,600 in one dollar bills in the sack and tried to get by with that," Mann said.

But, he said, Prince told him: "I want big money and want it quick."

Mann said he put about $12,000 in fives, tens and twenties in the sack.

He said Phince then ordered him and Geltmeier to the front of the bank, where he took money from the tellers' cages.

Mrs. Kaddath said she didn't know the bank was being robbed until the bandit herded Mann and Geltmeier to the teller's cages. She tesified the time of the robbery was 11:50 a. m., saying she glanced at her watch as the three witnesses were bieng locked in the vault.

Four-Team Playoff Will Decide All-America Football Champion

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. (AP).—Cleveland's Browns have not yet won the 1949 All-American football conference title, Commissioner O. O. Kessing said tonight.

Kessing said that the 1949 crown would not be determined until the final round of playoffs on Dec. 11.

It was believed that Cleveland won the title yesterday by defeating the second-place New York Yankees, 31 to 0. That was the eighth victory for the Browns, who also lost one and have tied two games. They have one game left to play.

After the defeat the Yankees had a record of seven victories and three defeats with two games left.

The top four clubs in the seven-team circuit begin a two-round playoff on Sunday, Dec. 4 with the No. 1 team playing No. 4 and the No. 2 and 3 clubs competing in the other fray. The winners will meet on Dec. 11 and the victor then will be the champion, no matter what the club's season-long record.

FORMER COMMUNIST TESTIFIES

First Of 'Surprise Witnesses' Takes Stand In Bridges Trial

By CONSTANCE HITCHCOCK
INS Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21. — The first of several expected Sunday punch "surprise witnesses" testified briefly today at the Harry Bridges perjury and conspiracy trial in San Francisco.

He was John (Big John) Shoemaker, one-time business agent in Bridges' turbulent CIO Longshoremen and Warehousemen's union and an admitted ex-communist.

Bridges and two top aides, Henry Schmidt and J. R. Robertson, are accused of lying under oath when they swore Bridges was not a Communist. Their testimony was given when the 48-year-old Australian-born labor leader was granted American citizenship in 1945.

Testimony Cut Short

Shoemaker's brief testimony was cut short and the jury was excused after Defense Attorney Vincent Hallinan objected when he asked: "And did there come a time when you joined the Communist party?"

An explosive wrangle between Hallinan and the prosecution in which the government asked the defense attorney be fined for contempt preceded Shoemaker's brief testimony.

The contempt fine was asked by Assistant Prosecutor William Paisley after Hallinan insisted on asking witness Loyd Garner what portions of the Bridges immigration ruling and the supreme court ruling on Bridges he had read.

Garner is the immigration examiner who handled Bridges, application for citizenship.

Judge Harris had ordered the defense to confine itself to the present action. Hallinan however insisted on asking Garner questions about the ruling granting Bridges citizenship until Paisley asked he be fined, saying:

"If this isn't contemptuous, I have never seen contempt."

Hallinan retaliated by asking Judge Harris to call a mistrial. The jurist refused both motions but he warned Hallinan that if "you persist in this conduct, studied as it may be," he might be fined.

The attorneys were ordered to appear at 9:30 a.m., tomorrow to argue Hallinan's right to ask the questions and his right to object to Shoemaker's testimony on his membership in the Communist party.

The hulking, ex-longshoreman who stands a full six foot six, had time to give only a brief summary of his career in the ILWU before the defense blocked his testimony.

Shoemaker said he was "on the bum" until he joined the longshoremen in 1933. He said he came from O'Fallon, Ill.

Chief Prosecutor F. Joseph Donohue said earlier that Shoemaker would testify that as a Communist business agent in 1933 or 1934 he enrolled Bridges in the Communist party.

His appearance on the stand was delayed until almost the end of the day by the unexpectedly long cross-examination of Garner.

Hallinan sought to impeach Garner's testimony in a heated wrangle with the prosecution.

Hallinan accused Garner of giving false testimony when he said he had asked Robertson and Schmidt at the citizenship hearing whether Bridges was a Communist. The defense attorney said no questions were contained in the transcript of the proceedings.

Federal Judge George B. Hallinan, after the point was argued in the absence of the jury, ruled that the defense must confine itself to testimony in the present case.

Garner, told the court that Bridges and his two aides on trial with him, J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt, all denied Communist party membership at the citizenship hearing.

Bridges Formerly Cleared

Under cross-examination, Garner said he was aware at the time that Bridges had been cleared by the U. S. Supreme court of a charge he was a Communist.

The examiner said he had amended further inquiry but that he was ordered by superiors to withdraw his opposition to granting Bridges' petition for citizenship.

Schmidt and Robertson testified at the hearing as character witnesses, saying Bridges was not a member of the Communist party.

The trial is the government's third attempt to prove Bridges is a Communist and deport him to his native Australia. The two previous attempts, both which Bridges won, were civil actions.

Barkley And Bride Reach 'Shangri-La'

SEA ISLAND, Ga., Nov. 21.(INS) —Vice President Barkley and his bride reached "Shangri-La" today —the Georgia resort of Sea Island.

Barkley and the "second lady" announced formally tonight that Sea Island was the objective of their three-day honeymoon trip which began Friday.

The vice president said:

"We will spend several days of our honeymoon in this Georgia resort. Where we will go or what we will do after that is hard to say. But Sea Island is definitely our 'Shangri-La.' "

Barkley told newsmen after his wedding to the former Mrs. Jane Rucker Hadley of St. Louis that he and his attractive 38-year-old bride would go to "Shangri-La" the mythical city of happiness, for their honeymoon.

The couple had spent last night in Atlanta, Ga., after stops at his Paducah, Ky., home and Nashville, Tenn.

(An official of the Saxony hotel in Miami Beach, Fla., said Barkley had made reservations there but had set no specific date.)

The "Veep" told newsmen that he and his bride were undecided how long they would stay at Sea Island.

Possible Aid To Spain Discussed

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 21. (U.P.)— A group of touring U.S. senators headed by Elmer Thomas (D-Okla) yesterday discussed possible American aid to Spain with Spanish Minister of Industry Juan Antonio Suances, it was disclosed today.

The seven legislators, members of the Senate Armed Services committee, talked possible dollar aid to Spain through direct loans or credits or through Spain's incorporation in the Marshall plan.

The conference was held in the country home of industrialist Pedro Grandarias in Toledo province. American Charge D'Affaires Paul Culbertson and prominent Spanish bankers attended.

Solons See Bullfight

Following the talks, the senators and their wives were entertained at a private bullfight in a small building on the estate. They cheered as amateur matadors made passes at a year-old steer. The steer was dedicated to the American party.

Sen. Dennis Chavez, (D-NM), thanked the hosts in Spanish for their hospitality and expressed the hope for continued friendship between Spain and the United States.

The senators were scheduled to leave Spain without meeting Generalissimo Francisco Franco who was to preside at a special service in El Escorial today to commemorate the 13th anniversary of the death of Jose Antonio Primo de Rivera, founder of the Falange party.

The senators planned to leave for Paris by air today.

Oregon River Yields Bodies Of Three Men

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 21.(INS) —Fog-shrouded waters of the Willamette river in northwest Portland tonight yielded up bodies of three men drowned when their taxicab plunged off a lumber dock three days ago.

Victims were Frank Wing, 40, cab driver and his passengers, Don Schrieman and Ed Mazarceth, sailors.

They apparently went off the dock during a dense fog early Saturday at about sailing time of the seamen's steamer, the China Bear, of the Pacific Far East line. The ship sailed after waiting six hours for them.

Search for the driver started after he radioed the radio taxicab company office he was coming in but failed to. His own car has stood unclaimed at the office since Saturday.

Fresh skid marks were discovered today at the edge of the dock and an all-day dragging revealed the cab and the three bodies in about 30 feet of water.

France's merchant marine now has 622 vessels of over 100 tons in service.

Tech Dean Named To Post At San Antonio Livestock Show

W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture at Texas Technological college, has been named superintendent of the Aberdeen-Angus division of the first annual San Antonio Livestock exposition to be held Feb. 17-26 at the new $2,000,000 Joe Freeman-Bexar county colliseum, according to announcement from San Antonio received here Monday.

Stangel will act as one of a group of volunteer superintendents who will conduct operation of the exposition.

The 10-day show will feature livestock exhibit and auction, Gene Autry World's Championship rodeo, carnival midway, commercial farm machinery and appliance exhibits.
