

Many Courier Readers Have Entered Contest

TRADES DAY ONE OF BEST EVER HELD IN LAMESA

The First Monday Trades Day was a whizzer. The crowd was one of the largest yet. Business men report a very fine business all day.

The Trades Day crowd was one of the happiest and jolliest that has ever visited Lamesa on a First Monday. It was a common expression to hear some one on the street ask, "Have you told your LIE yet?" and then a friendly hand shake and a hearty laugh were exchanged.

There was lots of trading. Patrons were taking advantage of early spring shopping and the bargains the merchants always offer on Trades Day. Both customer and merchants were benefitted very much from the extra large crowd that was here on Monday. Some even think that the crowd was larger than last Saturday.

Next First Monday a $10 prize will be given to the person telling the TRUTH. Begin now to think of some unusual happening that was really the truth and be ready to enter it for next First Monday.

It will be a sort of believe it or not contest. It must be the truth and the one entering it must be able to prove it—but it must be unusual. Begin thinking now. Enter any time up till 5 p. m. next First Monday, March the Fourth. Anyone may enter.

These merchants made last First Monday possible: Dal Paso Drug, Hull's Cash Grocery, Noret's, Hurl's Haberdashery, Hatch's Grocery, A. G. Waugh, Pratt's Kash & Karry Self Serving Grocery, Richardson's Variety Store, Yates Hardware, Taylor-McCall Drug Co., Dawson County Courier, Collins Dry Goods, Clark-McDonald Drug, Bryant Pharmacy, Davis Food Store, Bryant Link Co., Pierce's Toggery, J. C. Penney Co., Wilkes Grocery, City Grocery and Market, Baldwin's, Arnett Motor Co., Allen Hardware, Farmers Co-op Gin Society No. 1.

TORNADOES TO MEET ACC KITTENS FEB. 15-16

On Friday and Saturday nights of next week, February 15th and 16th, the Tornadoes wind up their home season with the strong A. C. C. Fresh men. The Abilene outfit boasts one of the strongest freshmen teams of any of the Abilene schools and come to Lamesa to beat the records made by their rivals the Simmons Fish.

Coch Gregg hopes to see considerable improvement in his team by that time and feels that these games will put the locals in good trim for the district series that will start in Lubbock the following week end.

Wilson high school will bring their ever threatening tall boys for a game here Friday night of this week. The Wilson outfit has always been tough. The last high school team to beat Lamesa at home was from that school. This year Coach Nix's outfit show to be one of the best teams he has had, having already sewed up the championship of Lynn county and are standing by for the district tussle.

Tuesday night of this week the Tornadoes defeated the Lubbock Westerners in a rough contest 46 to 25. This was the second defeat the locals have handed the Westerners this season.

LOCAL SCHOOL OFFICIALS ARE RE-ELECTED

In a recent meeting of the school board the three heads of the Lamesa Independent School were re-elected. F. T. McCollum was re-elected for his eleventh year as principal of the High School. G. M. Roberts was re-elected for his 8th year as principal of the Grammar School.

V. Z. Rogers, Superintendent for the past ten years was elected for a three year period by the board last year. In a meeting of the board last Tuesday evening the board voted a confirmation of Mr. Rogers election and set his salary for the coming school year period, according to W. B. Collins, president of the school board. Mr. Rogers has two more years, according to the election records of the school board. His salary is set by the board each year for the next school year.

CLUB NEWS

By Miss Madeline Cox, Home Demonstration Agent Dawson County

Reporter's Meeting

On Saturday February 9th, at 2:30 p. m. a meeting of all paper reporters for both girls 4-H and women's home demonstration clubs will be held in the Agent's office. Every reporter in the county is urged to be present.

The purpose of this meeting is to organize a Reporter's Association for Dawson county. On March 23, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, Extension Editor, will conduct a reporters conference. The following from Dawson county will attend this conference: Chairman of county reporters association, chairman of county council, chairman of sponsor's group, and one club reporter chosen from the reporter's association.

Miss Ruth Rbinson, bedroom demonstrator of Fairview 4-H club has started her bedroom improvement. Ruth has papered her room with a dainty pink and green figured paper. Recently a double closet has been added to the room to accommodate the clothing of Ruth and her twin sister who is a bedroom co-operator. Ruth plans to do her room in pink. The problems are now the refinishing of floors and woodwork and in providing an inexpensive dressing table.

Mrs. E. L. Craddock, wardrobe demonstrator for Wilson Home Demonstration Club has made four dresses by her foundation pattern. There have been eight foundation patterns made in the Wilson club.

Mrs. Craddock plans to improve two storage places. In one room she has an old portable wardrobe cabinet to which she will add more shelves racks and shoe bags. She plans to build a new closet in another room. With a minimum expense, Mrs. Craddock will have two good places for clothes storage.

To Hold Meat Contest For County Early in March

For three days, November 27-28-29, the meat show will be held in Lubbock. Home Demonstration women from Dawson county will participate in the meat show this year.

Two cans of any one meat product will be necessary for an entry. One can will be opened and the other can placed on exhibit. To compete in the county exhibit, a minimum of 35 entries or 70 cans must be made. Besides individual entries and the county exhibit, each county will have a team demonstration. The demonstration will be given from the standpoint of utilization of canned meat. In a recent drawing, Dawson county drew ground chicken for use in the team demonstration.

In order to select the best team in Dawson county to send to Lubbock a county contest will be held some time early in March, at which time a team from each club will compete in the contest on utilization of canned ground chicken. The winning county team will enter the contest at Lubbock.

In order to secure the widest variety of recipes on the utilization of canned chicken, each team will secure recipes for their use. Each team will provide equipment and materials with which to work. THE MAN FROM YONDER

By Harold Titus

He stopped after a time and opening a drawer of his big desk took from it a bottle of whisky, shook himself and muttered softly. For a time he held it in his hands, debating. Then, with finally, muttered: "No... A clear head now!" He shut the liquor in its place and resumed his pacing. Nicholas Brandon may have ruled Tincup and the surrounding country with an iron absolutism. He may have had a deserved reputation for being a strong man, a resourceful man. But tonight, alone in his office, remembering the words and looks and gestures of Bird-Eye Blaine, a lowly employee of an insolvent venture, seeing again the flash of that letter waved before his eyes, he was no commanding figure. He was a frightened man, a haunted man, battling to retain a hold on himself.

CHAPTER IV

Ben Elliott had been on the job at Hoot Owl just two weeks. Able Arnitage was with him for the night. Ben was tireless, it seemed. Since the beginning he had labored daytimes, schemed until late at night, and now he spent another hour with Able, trying, as he said, to make every dime look like a dollar. "Now, say!" His face took on a curious smile as they finally folded their papers. "I haven't had much time to think about anything but patching up this outfit and getting it to function, but through it all one thing's kept bobbing up so often it's got my curiosity on its hind legs. "Who was McManus? What about Sam Faxon? Where does the little girl you're guardian for come in?" "Little girl!" Able said, startled and then smiled. "Why, Dawn is—" "I keep hearing about these men McManus and Faxon and how Brandon is trying to beat you down so he can cheat the orphan child. How about it all?" Able's smile died out. He shoved up his spectacles and rubbed his sleepy eyes. "We haven't had much time for history, have we? I'd intended to give you the story of this property but we've been so concerned with bank balances and paper due and breakdowns and such things that I just haven't had time. "I'll have to make a long story short: just hit the high spots. First, Nicholas Brandon and Denny McManus came into this country when they weren't much more than boys. They were the first hardwood operators in this country. The pine had been skinned out, but not many hardwood camps had at that time gotten this far from the centers of things. They'd had some experience and a little money but they hit at the right time, picked up a raft of timber for a song and started turning it into a fortune. "McManus was married and had the daughter, Dawn. Brandon never married. Just when they were swinging nicely, everything running smooth as butter, McManus' wife died. He was as deeply in love as any man I've ever seen and it sent him completely to pot. He took to heavy drinking and got himself in a bad way. "Of the two, Denny was the more popular. He was friendly, charitable, had a heart as big as a camp store and as soft as a sponge. He'd go the route for anybody. Why—probably you've never even heard this—when old Don Stuart rimmed the company it was McManus who stood in the way of prosecution. Don had cruised and bought a lot of stuff for them. He always had been a drinker himself and on one spree got into some sort of mess and crooked the company out of three or four hundred dollars. Enough, anyhow, to

Mrs. V. B. Riley Buried Here Monday

Funeral services were conducted for Mrs. V. B. Riley, Monday, Feb. 5, at the Missionary Baptist Church here with Rev. W. P. Aslin officiating. Mrs. Riley died here late Sunday evening at the family home after a lingering illness. The deceased was born 37 years ago on November 2, 1897 in Tula, Mississippi. At the age of fourteen she was united with the Baptist church there and since then has been a devout Christian. In 1916 she was married to V. B. Riley. They continued to make their home in Mississippi until 1923 when they moved to this county where they have made their home every since. Mrs. Riley is survived by her husband, six children, Davis, Johnny, Weldon, Imogene, Jamie Marie and Norman; her father of Ontario, Cal., three sisters, Mrs. F. Vines and Mrs. H. C. Oswald both of this city and Mrs. W. M. Riley of Ontario, Cal.; four brothers, Deck Davis, Lamesa, E. C. Davis, Fort Worth, W. I. Davis of Jacksonville and B. P. Davis of Houston.

County Jail Scene of Unusual Incident

The Dawson County jail was recently converted into a religious scene and baptistry when Jack Camp, age 46, a prisoner, was immersed in a bath tub within the walls of the local bastille, according to Jap Randle, deputy sheriff here. The Rev. Leroy Smith, Baptist minister student at Wayland College at Plainview Texas, and pastor of the Munger Baptist church ten miles northwest of Lamesa, performed the ceremony. Some fifteen persons witnessed the baptism, among them being the wife of the prisoner. The nature of the charge against Camp is withheld. His conversion was made two weeks ago, before his confinement.

Grassland To Be Hosts To Singers

We are asked to announce that the Lynn County Singing Convention will be held at Grassland, Sunday February 10, and that all singers in this county or any other have a cordial invitation to come and take part in the day's program. Regular business of the day will begin about ten o'clock, we understand, and will continue through the day. Visiting singers will be guests of the Grassland community. The Stamps-Baxter quartet and a number of other noted musicians are expected to be present. Several local people are making plans to attend, among them our girls' quartet. So hunt up your song books, pack your lunch basket, and go prepared to spend a very pleasant day. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bradford and Mrs. R. L. Kayal visited in Lubbock Sunday.

MUSIC PROGRAM FOR SCHOOLS WELL RECEIVED

Olive and Richardson have already sent their orders in for phonographs and records and she feels sure that other districts will take advantage of this opportunity soon.

Eagle's Eye View of the Poultry Outlook

The outlook for the poultry raiser was never better than it is today. On account of the fact that there is a feed shortage in some twenty odd states and lots of poultry raisers will not be financially able to raise their usual amount of chickens, there is bound to be a big shortage of laying pullets and hens by fall and with good feed crops over the country there is bound to be the largest spread between feed prices and egg prices that we have had in a long time.

Fryer prices should be better than they have been since 1929. Fryers should easily bring enough to clear your pullets up to fryer age. Based on the present prices of our Eureka Brand starting mash and growing mash, feed costs to grow a two pound fryer will be about 15 cents. We do not think you can go wrong in raising all the chickens you can care for this year. But buy a good quality chick, it does not cost any more to feed out a good quality chick than it does a common run chick from unimproved flocks.

We are prepared to supply you with the best quality chick we have ever turned out. All our flocks are culled to a standard and pullorum tested (blood tested) by the stained antigen method under our supervision, and all reactors removed from the flocks.

Make your poultry plans now, and book your orders in advance

The Delphian program of February 5 was on "Literature in Texas Before 1890." Mrs. R. E. Simpson was the capable leader for this entertainment.

Mrs. Hardy Morgan gave from memory "Progress in Texas Literature from 1865 to 1890." These facts were very interesting and well presented.

Mrs. M. C. Lindsey gave "Early Writers in Texas" in her usual sincere and pleasing manner.

Last a large number of boys with six shooters and ten gall on hats as well as other cowboy characteristics sang cowboy songs. There were two solos by R. L. Collins and Delbert Thermon. These songs were under the direction of Miss Asalie Key.

Mrs. W. P. Averitt has been visiting clubs in the Seventh District. She discussed some phases of work being carried out by these clubs.

There was also some discussion of plans toward making womans day successful for the benefit of "Permanent Headquarters."

FAREWELL PARTY FOR MRS. J. W. TIPTON

On Sunday evening, Mrs. Hubert Nelson and Mrs. Eugene H. Surface were hostesses for a farewell party at the Manse, given for Mrs. J. W. Tipton who, with her family, moved Monday to Abilene where they expect to make their home. Mrs. Tipton was presented with gifts from her friends expressing their esteem of her and their regret of her leaving.

An attractive plate, using the Valentine motif, was served. Every plate held a red heart, on which each person wrote a wish for the honoree. These hearts were strung on a red ribbon.

Those attending the affair were: Meses Messengale and Ragle; Mesdames Hardy Morgan, H. B. Wilhelm, Sam Richardson, C. E. Ault, O. T. Murphy, R. E. Simpson Webb Randle, Hubert Nelson, and Eugene H. Surface. Ann Tipton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tipton, and many of her little friends also attended.

Mrs. Tipton and her family will be greatly missed, especially by the Presbyterian church of which all were members. There has been no more faithful, truly helpful, and conscientious Christian worker in "the little white church on the corner" than Mrs. Tipton. But what is our loss is some one else's gain.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY IN REGULAR MEETING

Mrs. A. H. Smith had the meeting of the Missionary Society last Monday. A good attendance was had. The meeting began by singing favorite hymns, which included "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," "It is Well With My Soul," "Blessed Assurance," "I Would Be True," and "Count Your Blessings." After a business discussion, Mrs. R. E. Simpson led us in the devotional thought, "If the Salt Has Lost Its Savor." The meeting was closed with prayer. A brief social time followed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. C. E. Ault. Let's have a perfect attendance.

DELPHIAN DAUGHTERS MET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The Delphian Daughters met Friday at 4:30 P. M. at the attractive home of Mrs. F. T. McCollum.

Mrs. A. E. Jacobs, sponsor, presented her members with a clever year book. Her interest in this club has been untiring. Mrs. Jacob has certainly done her part toward making the Delphian Daughters successful.

The theme of the program was Texas Indians. A legend of the Blue Bonnet was given by Loretta Rainey Travis. This was a reminder that Texas adopted the Blue Bonnet as a state flower in 1920. Until that time it was known as Buffalo Clover. The derivation of this name was due to the buffalo's fondness for the plant.

Chrystelle Marr's piano solo "Indian Dance" made the twenty guests feel almost as if they were participating in the chants and chases of the red man.

Billy Jim Lott told a story of "The Hogan," which happens to be the Navajo Indian house. This story made us notice the costumes and dress of the Indians. Artistic yet weird beauty of the Indian race in miniature dances were revived. The "War" and "Rain" dances were accompanied by Mrs. Russell Clark, her interpretation of this music made this scene more realistic than ever.

The first American was well impersonated by Katy Lee Randle, Billy Jim Lott, Betty Jo Bryant, and Billy Grace Webb. These girls wore the traditional costumes probably similar to those worn by those people who Columbus perhaps correctly deemed Asiatics when he gazed for the first time on American shores.

Mrs. W. K. Crawley entertained members and guests of the La Feliz Club at her home on North First last Wednesday afternoon.

In the games of "42" enjoyed during the afternoon Mrs. Grady Scott was presented with the prize.

Members attending were Meses. M. E. Smart, B. F. Fulkerson, Gus White, Grady Scott, Jesse Paulk, A. S. Alsbrook and C. B. Hendrix. Special guests were Mesdames Guthrie Allen, M. C. Lindsey, V. Z. Rogers and E. B. Bowen.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MRS. CHILDERS

On Monday, February 4th, a number of Grandmother Childers' friends and relatives surprised her with a birthday dinner. She received many lovely gifts.

Grandmother Childers was 81 years young for indeed she is young and active for a woman of her age. She is a devout Christian character, one loved and respected by all who know her. Her faith in God grows stronger with the passing of each day. She has been a consecrated Christian for more than 70 years.

Her husband, J. J. Childers passed on to his heavenly home in 1919, and since then she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Adkins of Lamesa.

She has five children living, thirty-three grandchildren and forty-two great grandchildren.

After the bountiful repast, Rev. Vorhees read a portion of God's word from the 31st chapter of Proverbs, and then asked God if it be his will to spare Grandmother for for many years, as her life is such a blessing. (Signed) "One Who Loves Her."

MISS THELMA LEWIS AND HOWARD DEAN MARRY

Of interest to their many friends was the marriage of Miss Thelma Lewis to Mr. Howard Dean on February 2nd.

Mr. Dean has resided in this county for the past five months but has lived here before. The young couple will make their home in Seminole for the present where Mr. Dean is employed.

Social Security
Washington.—At last after years talking, a social security program is before congress. And now that it is before congress there is a brand new outburst of talk, because it seems the "social securers" can never agree among themselves. The result is that leadership in the house and in the senate is trying vainly to follow administration instructions, and has run afoul of all kinds of difficulties. The end is not yet, but it is safe to say without fear of any necessity for retraction that the social security program will not go back to President Roosevelt as a law in the form it was presented as an administration bill.

I find everywhere among those not charged with responsibility for the social security legislation that there is much confusion and lack of understanding as to what the President has proposed. It is easily understood. Any time that it requires thirty thousand words to explain a piece of legislation obviously that legislation must be comprehensive. To comprehend what the length of Mr. Roosevelt's social security message is, it is only necessary, I think, to remind readers that the message with its explanation would fill approximately 35 columns of ordinary newspaper. Many persons will naturally fall asleep before they wade through that much material.

But, let us attempt to summarize the social security bill. It provides, first, for a national system of compulsory contributory old age insurance; second, it authorizes appropriations to be used as federal subsidies (plain gifts) to the individual states to help them pension the aged who cannot be brought under an insurance system predicated upon their service in commerce and industry; and third, a voluntary system of old age annuities is set up.

The system of compulsory contributory old age insurance is designed to protect those who are no longer able to work, but who have done their turn on the payrolls of industry. An old age fund is set up in the treasury of the United States. Initially the money comes from the treasury, but thereafter there is a tax operating on payrolls of all those who employ workers in numbers exceeding four. This tax will start January 1, 1937, at a rate of 1 per cent. It is increased to 2 per cent as of January 1, 1942; 3 per cent as of January 1, 1947; 4 per cent as of January 1, 1952; and 5 per cent after January 1, 1957. The employer pays the tax but he collects half of it by deduction from the payroll of the individual worker.

The age of 65 years is fixed as the time when a worker shall retire and receive this pension. The pensioner can receive as much as $30 a month. If the individual dies before retirement, his dependents receive back the amount paid in his behalf.

As a part of the old age pension system the legislation sets up an old age fund in which workers may purchase an annuity, but they never may acquire more than a total of $9,000 maturity value—the ultimate amount from which their income may be increased.

Then there is the much discussed unemployment insurance. This also is predicated upon a tax on industrial payrolls, but it is a state proposition. That is, the federal government is attempting to encourage individual states to enact legislation which will protect the worker in periods such as that through which we have passed since 1929. In other words, this phase of the legislation is designed to cause workers and their employers to lay aside a certain percentage of their income while they are employed to be used when times are hard.

There are countless subdivisions in the bill none of which are simple that seek to protect the many who for one reason or another do not qualify under the general terms of the legislation. For instance aid to dependent children is provided. Federal health subsidies, a kind of health insurance, is proposed. Maternity aid is arranged, and extraordinary cases are covered, such as aid to crippled children. There are other subdivisions much too intricate to analyze here for the reason that their application is decidedly limited. The drafters of the legislation sought to cover all. Whether they have done so can be determined only after the legislation has been in operation for some years.

Counting the Cost
I have been unable to compute the cost of this legislation to the federal and state governments and no one of course, can approximate the expense it will be to industry. It is one of those things so far reaching in its effect as to make utterly impossible advance calculations of the cost in dollars and cents. Suffice it to say that all through the bill as it now wends its way through legislative channels are frequent paragraphs where money is either appropriated or authorized to be appropriated in the future. One way covered the money phases of the bill the other day with a remark that it was not unlike the conversations between Amos and Andy, the radio comedians for there is five million, three million, twenty million, seventy eight million and so on through the list. Yet it is not the money phases that constitute the difficulties in the legislation as the leaders in congress see them. The bill sets up an intricate system of administration against which even the present far flung list of New Deal agencies pales into insignificance.

First, there is the ponderous organization for administration to be created here in Washington. Beneath that there are state organizations in every state, regional and county organizations and even city administrative bureaus. I think it takes no stretch of the imagination to foresee how many workers will be necessary to do just the plain chores of keeping the records of all the individuals on the government payrolls, federal and state, for administration of this legislation.

Here in Washington, we will have a social insurance board, a group of three members, receiving $10,000 a year each and serving for 6 years. The federal emergency relief administrator will have duties to perform in conjunction with the social insurance board as well as apart from it. This is not all. The secretary of the treasury is charged with the management and investment of all the monies under the various funds and it is he who must see that they are properly disbursed.

Jealousy Aroused
In congress, considerable jealousy has arisen among committee chairmen, party wheel horses and those who would enjoy being administration spokesmen. Some of them, it hardly needs to be said, believe their political salvation lies in following the administration blindly and in addition there is another segment of legislators who keep their eyes on the historical significance of passing events. This group wants to have a leading part in enactment of the social security legislation, because, it must be said, this is the greatest experiment undertaken by American government. From the lobby conversation is it perfectly evident that there are many men in the house and senate who would be willing to retire whatever rewards their political service has given them only to be known as the father of the social security legislation.

This condition has precipitated several humorous circumstances. Senator Wagner of New York sponsored the legislation in the Senate and Representative Lewis of Maryland proposed it in the house. Senator Wagner's committee arranged to start hearings on a stated date in the senate and that date was announced rather suddenly. No sooner had the Wagner committee hearings been announced than Representative Doughton of North Carolina scheduled similar hearings before his ways and means committee in the house. He set the hearings one day ahead of the senate and the rivalry between the two for headline witnesses has been, to say the least, a source of many jokes.

Trouble Ahead
Some weeks ago I reported to you that there were rumblings of difficulties ahead for the President's gigantic works program, as his new experiment in recovery is described. He asked congress for a lump sum of $4,800,000,000 with which to revive the heavy industries and other lines of commercial endeavor that they may absorb some of those unemployed now on relief rolls. It will be remembered that in his annual message to congress he said with emphasis that federal aid to destitute must stop; that the giving of relief directly was a state responsibility.

The first hitch encountered by the administration wheel horses in guiding the public works bill through congress developed in the house when the leaders, anxious to pass the legislation as the White House dictated, sought a special rule which limited debate to a couple of hours and made it almost impossible for individual members to amend the bill. Several scores of Democrats and all of the republicans balked. For several days the house leaders fought gallantly to keep the stubborn opposition from running away with things, but the defections from the Democratic ranks became so large that a compromise had to be offered. It was accepted and the Republican critics and Democratic opponents were successfully squelched.

Ground Hog Sees Shadow; Six More Weeks of Winter
If it is really true that our shy friend Mr. Groundhog can predict the state of weather when he rouses from his nap on February 2, we are probably due six weeks' more winter weather.
When the little fellow ventured out Saturday morning, he was greeted by cloudless skies and balmy breezes. He refuses to be fooled by such false pretenses according to tradition, and promptly ducks back in his hole for another siesta.
Whether he has any effect on it or not, most of the country can expect severe temperatures for at least six weeks more, and probably two or three months more cold.
We have inquired diligently this week, but so far have failed to find anyone who saw Mr. Groundhog Saturday who has made his fleeting appearance. If you saw him, please come in and report.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Moore and Mrs. J. R. Moore are visiting in Dallas, Waco and Temple this week.

IMPORTANT!
To All Delinquent Tax Payers:
At the last special session of the Legislature a law was passed knocking off all penalties and interest in the payment of school taxes for 1933 and preceding years. In many instances these penalties amounted to $50, $100 or more.
Provided, however, these delinquent taxes for year 1933 and preceding years are paid by and not later than March 15, 1935.
This is an opportunity which delinquent taxpayers may never receive again to save a considerable amount in payment of your delinquent taxes for 1933 and preceding years. Men who study such matters closely are firmly of the opinion that the Texas legislature will never again enact a law knocking off penalties and interest.

Funeral Rites For Zac Davis Jr. Held

Funeral services were held here Tuesday afternoon for Zachary Taylor Davis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Davis of Lamesa, Texas, and grandson of Mrs. Frank H. Smith of Athol, Tenn.

Mr. Davis, member of a pioneer Maury county family, was born here May 15, 1914, but spent most of his boyhood in Nebraska and Texas where his family has lived for some time and where he received his education and attained the rank of Eagle Scout in the Boy Scout organization of which he was an enthusiastic member.

He had been working recently at the duPont plant at Old Hickory, and it was there that he was stricken ill last Friday and rushed at once to the Madison Sanitarium, Madison, Tenn., where he succumbed Monday morning.

A group of ten or twelve Nashville Eagle Scouts visited the undertaking establishment at Nashville where the body was taken to pay their respects, and at the services here, conducted by Rev. H. B. Hodgkins, Episcopal rector, a squad of two scouts from each of the local troops formed an escort of honor and blew taps at the grave.

Services were at St. Peter's Episcopal Church, with Proctor Polk, Sam Cason, and James Thomas of Nashville and Looney Walker, William Thomas and Addison Thomas of Columbia serving as pallbearers. Burial was in the Smith family lot at Rose Hill cemetery.

Besides his parents, Mr. Davis is survived by his brothers, Frank and Louis Davis, and a sister, Elizabeth Lee Davis, all of Lamesa, and by his grandmother Mrs. Frank H. Smith of Columbia and his aunt, Miss Carrie E. Smith, of this city.

Mr. Davis had many friends here, where he had visited last summer, and his death came as a great shock. He was a young man of the highest character and held in the greatest esteem by all who knew him.—Columbia, Tenn., Paper.

Luncheon Club Has Good Program

It was the beginning of "President Month" at the Luncheon Club Tuesday at noon at the Williams Hotel.

"Ted" F. T. McCollum was the master of ceremonies and the Principal speaker too. He put one by the custom, the program chairman—and club Tuesday. As a rule and as a Ted was the man in charge of getting up the program—always secures a principal speaker, other than himself. But Ted chose to do all the speaking himself—much to the club's dislike. Dislike because to add further to the grind of the affair, Ted read his address which was more or less a ridicule of the club and its activities the past seven years.

It was voted that never again would Ted be permitted to act as program chairman, since he broke all precedents set by the etiquette making organization.

In spite of the fact that Ted's number was reprimanded Miss Bettie Burgess a senior in the high school delighted the club with two vocal solos and Lamar Cole entertained the club with a trombone solo, which were arranged by Mrs. Matt A. McCall so that the club would not be completely without entertainment at this meeting, she perhaps knowing that Mr. McCollum would have charge of the program.

Next Tuesday another ex-president. It will be hard to take, but boys come on and take your medicine. It will really do you good.

Prize dance and amateur entertaining contest Saturday night. See other advertising in this paper for particulars.

At least one test of a man's character is his reception of a bill collector, especially if the collector is a lady. If all the bill collectors were to have a convention and record the fill receptions and unnecessary words that have been poured in their ears. We all—would be ashamed of ourselves.

GET THE FACTS SEE HOW SEIBERLING Air Cooled PROVIDES TWO ANTI-SKID TREADS THAT GRIP AND PROTECT TO THE LAST MILE Drive in

The eyes of the road beneath your car are blind to trick phrases, pretty colors and exaggerated claims—only facts count in the constant struggle between speeding rubber and grinding concrete. Saying that a tire will not blow out—that it is three or four times safer—that it is "the marvel of the tire world" may tickle the vanity of the ballyhoo artist, but unfortunately you cannot ride with safety, economy or satisfaction on ballyhoo.

When a tire blows out or falls long before it should, it is poor consolation to remember that it was supposed to be burst-proof and three or four times safer.

Seiberling tires are built to wear well—not read well. They reflect in mileage, safety and economy the fact that F. A. Seiberling has been building good tires since 1898. Glib phrases make good reading but as F. A. Seiberling says—"You'll go farther on facts."

Come in and let us show you visible proof of the superiority of Seiberling Air Cooled tires—the only tires with two anti-skid treads that grip and protect to the final mile.
