EX-CATS WIN IN DOUBLE BILL WEDNESDAY

The ex-Cats of Ft. Worth defeated the Hubbers and the Harley Sadler baseball crew in a bargain day bill yesterday afternoon at McCall Park with scores of 5 to 4 in the first game and 6 to 3 in the nightcap bill.

Two left-handers Lefty Williams and Lefty Potter respectively, tossed the initial contest for the ex-Cats and the Hubbers. Both wreathanders allowed ten hits each in the final contest of the double-header "Trio" Goodbread, comedian of the Panther outfit, and Lefty Holmes started and worked one inning each when they were relieved by Joe Paik, veteran pitcher of the Ft. Worth club and Paterson, right hander of Marley's nine.

The ex-Cats leave this morning for Olin where they will meet with the Lamb County All-Stars at that city. One of the greatest gatherings known to baseball in Lamb county is expected to flock to the contest between Joe Paik's ex-Panthers and the Lamb county boys off Tuesday. Thursday the Slator baseball club will meet the ex-Felices at Slator where another big reception is expected.

Wichita Falls Is All For Williams He Managed The Spudders To A Flag

Williams was appointed manager of the club in mid-season of 1926. He thought it only a make-shift agreement. But he got the job this spring and immediately started to build.

Williams managed the Spudders to a flag in the past three years, only to show up some of the other. And these seven rival managers figured it would happen again.

Women Golfers In Stormy Course On Titular Fairway

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Leading contenders for the 1927 women's golfing championship of the United States sailed a stormy course today over the rolling fairways of the Cherry Valley club.

Among those whose little aspirations met disaster in this opening round of match play were numbered Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, winner of the crown in 1925, 1926 and 1924, and Miss Helen Pattison, champion of Bermuda.

Hurd went down before Mrs. Henry Prosser of Los Angeles, Calif., by a margin of one up in a hard-battle as she has ever been called upon to fight. Miss Pattison was beaten by 2 and 1 by Miss Jane Brooks of England.

Other contenders for the title were Miss Glenn Collett of Providence, R. I., winner in 1922 and 1923, Mrs. Alex Stirling Fraser, Ottawa, Canada, winner in 1915, 1916, and 1920; Mille Simpson of Tulsa, Okla., winner of the title in 1910, and Miss Ada MacKenzie, champion of Canada.

The most impressive showing of the day was made by Miss Maureen Orent, Metropolitan champion, who knocked five strokes from woman's par in the 12 holes, needed to win from Mrs. Elmer P. Harwood, of Chicago. Miss Orent lost on a single hole and won by 3 and 6.

ATHLETICS TAKE PAIR; YANKS ARE IDLE

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20.—The Athletics finished the season's work with the Browns today by winning a double header by scores of 4-1 and 7-3.

Crowder blanked the Athletics in the opener while the ninth inning when bases to Cobb and Cochrane and a single by Fox tied the score.

Milton Gaston was solved for six runs in the first inning of the second game and made a strike wild pitch each of which allowed a runner to score from third base.

Lockney Longhorns Will Have Lighter Eleven This Year

(Special to The Avalanche) LOCKNEY, Sept. 20.—Starting the season with only a better men returning to school, the Lockney Longhorns are not expected to make a very good showing in football this year, according to Coach Harrison.

Thirty men have turned out for formation and only a few are showing the desired form in the early stages of the game.

According to Assistant Coach Demaris, the Longhorns will be even lighter than last year's team. However, the difference in weight will be made up through added practice.

Grady Durson, twice captain of the Buffalo football squad and Buffalo three letter man, and Gordon Deaton, also letter man from Sul Ross State Teachers college are the chief assets of the Longhorns this year and even though the supply of good material is lacking, these men are expected to turn out a first division team.

Seven intercollegiate games have been scheduled. The first will be played with Olin high school on Friday, September 23.

A game for the New Orleans victors, Wichita Falls players and fans, which was given at the Kemp Hotel, climaxed the reception.

In the past few seasons the Slator Tigers have taken the last two appearances against the Lubbock grid machine by scores of 7 to 6 each instance. Mitchell who formerly handled athletics in both the Post and Memphis high schools has his recruits in a building mode for this afternoon.

Six Thousand Fans Greet Pelican Team

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Six thousand yelling fans, their cheering mingling with the strident notes of band music, greeted Manager Larry Gilbert and members of the New Orleans Pelicans, champions of the Southern loop, on their arrival tonight for the Dixie championship series which opens Wednesday afternoon on the home grounds of the Wichita Falls Spudders, the Texas league champions.

The Pelican team and supporters were met at the railway station by a delegation of athletes headed by Walter M. Harrison, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. They formed in line and, with the band leading the way, marched through long lines of cheering Wichita Falls fans to the Kemp hotel where Pelican headquarters were established.

At 8 o'clock the pelicans paraded through the downtown streets in automobiles supplied by Wichita Falls citizens.

FELLOWSHIP IN WORSHIP

Come, let us kneel before the Lord our Maker. Psalm 95:6. PRAYER: Most gracious God, may not one of us ever neglect, as some do, our united worship of Thee.

SCHOOL CHILDREN AND AUTOS

Opening day of the public schools in San Antonio was marked by three accidents to children, each run down by an automobile in the street. That is a bad beginning for the scholastic year, particularly as San Antonio had an unfavorable record of child fatalities in 1926—there being 12 killed by automobiles during the year, according to police department count—and as there is danger of a less flattering showing for 1927.

There is hardly ever a year passes that some school child is not injured in most every community in the State by an automobile accident of some kind. Speed and the fact that too many people entrust the driving of their automobiles to too small children is one reason that there are so many accidents.

CRIMINAL CARELESSNESS ON THE ROAD

A fatal accident on a Wisconsin highway the other day illustrates a rather common evil among the many varieties of careless driving. According to witnesses, a man driving south at a high speed, in order to get ahead of a slower moving truck, turned into the north-bound right-of-way and crashed into north-bound car.

If there are in fact the circumstances of this accident, the one responsible should be sent to prison for manslaughter and for a long term. It is proper to make all due allowance for accidents where unforeseen conditions arise, but drivers should be taught by severe penalties not to gamble with others' lives. The case is worthy of comment because driving recklessly around corners and vehicles obstructing the view ahead is an offense any one on the road frequently sees.

The extraordinary increase of motors in recent years has brought many inexperienced drivers upon the roads, and this makes motoring more hazardous than we hope it will be later. These hazards are inevitable in a period of transition.

There will always be enough of serious accidents with everyone doing their dead level best to avoid them, to say nothing of the many additional fatalities that will result if just even a few careless drivers get at the wheel. The average person we believe is in too big hurry to get to where they are going no matter whether they are just going down town to spend the day gossiping or spitting tobacco on the sidewalks, or whether they are really in a hurry to get to the station before the train that is not due for an hour gets there, and leaves without you.

THE LEGION IN PARIS

Legionnaires now in Paris are living over again the days of 1917-18. How every stay-at-home war veteran must envy them! He can see them in his mind's eye, gathered in lively groups playing at games, singing the old-time songs, or merely chatting together, exchanging reminiscences or banter, talking politics or literature.

The Legion Tower of Pisa is officially declared safe for the time being, but doomed eventually to fall. It might aptly be renamed the Mussolini Tower. The New Yorker.

YOUR HEALTH

Editorial Assistant of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The popular slogan that clean teeth never decay is probably correct if associated with the right definition of a "clean tooth". It is equally true that millions of unclean teeth never decay.

Breaking the Enamel About 1890 it was shown that certain acids formed by the action of mouth bacteria on a substance containing sugar when held in contact with enamel of the teeth for a certain number of hours would cause the enamel to fall apart and open the way to destruction of the softer substance beneath.

Since the acid must exist in contact with the teeth in order to do such work, the process usually goes on only in the tiny pits, fissures or other defects in the enamel, or in the spaces between the teeth.

The exposed surfaces of the teeth seldom decay because the natural movements of the lips, cheek and tongue help to keep them clean.

Dietary Mistake Associated with the cause of tooth decay are errors in the diet. It is useless to take in large amounts of calcium, unless the calcium is assimilated.

Once decay begins, once the enamel of the tooth is broken down, bacteria, constantly present in the mouth, aids the destruction. Chemical changes occur that are disastrous.

The most that anyone can do to keep teeth clean is by the best methods possible, to overcome acids by the use of proper alkaline washes or pastes, and to see that the diet is of the proper nature to keep the teeth in a state of satiation.

Borger is having the same trouble that Lubbock had many years ago, that of getting the houses numbered. We are just hoping that Borger will get this splendid convenience and necessity supplied, and that they will do a better job than Lubbock did.

For many months—several years after the numbers were placed on the houses they were not right, and many of them are wrong yet, though a great improvement has been made since the City has begun to issue a number with every building permit.

OUT OUR WAY

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN.

SO THINK WE

We think that the mechanics of Lubbock—who can spare the time should go on the last booster trip this week and assist in welcoming the patrons of the South Plains to our annual exposition.

We think that even though the rain does not do any particular good to the cotton it is certainly fine on the wheat.

We think that the last few baseball exhibitions given in Lubbock have shown baseball that the exhibition season is in the majority in this section.

We think that the Avalanche-Journal publications are striving to serve Lubbock and the South Plains with the best news service afforded by much larger publications of the state.

We think that there are very few husbands getting by in Lubbock without appropriating the wife with new fall clothing these days.

We think that the merchant of this city that fails to take advantage of the advertising medium offered by the Avalanche-Journal and other fair editors is missing the chance of advertising opportunities.

We think that it may be all right to take things as they come, but be sure they belong to you.

We think that there is one fellow who may boast of getting rich overnight—Gene Tunney. The champion's share of the fight to be pulled off in Chicago tomorrow evening amounts to a cool million.

We think that one Lubbock man says that a woman may be taken for granted but she never goes without saying.

We think that the way the cotton market has been acting it is pretty hard to tell whether farming is a business or part of politics.

We think that when better enforcement laws are provided for, there is one constitutional amendment that will need them.

We think that the Lubbock gridiron fans will enjoy the initial clash of the season this afternoon when the high school leads meet with the Slaton high school team at Merrill Park.

COTTON PICKING MACHINE

The machine age has contrived an apparatus that promises to replace the picturesque plodding cotton picker of Dixie with machines that pick, strip and clean the bolls.

The International Harvester company stated Friday that after many years of experimentation it has built three machines, a picker of a spindle type for use in the old south; a stripper for use in the Southwest, and a cleaner for general use.

The company regards the picker as still being an experiment but the stripper and cleaner already have proved their adaptability. A number of pickers have been placed in Dixie where their performance will be carefully noted. The problem in the old South is made more difficult because the entire crop cannot be picked at one time and a machine must pluck the ripened bolls without disturbing green ones which may be adjacent. In the Southwest the cotton generally ripens evenly.

Two men can operate the machine, one guiding the tractor and the other controlling the picker. The International statement said. The machine can pick from two to five bales a day equivalent to what two men could do in from eight to 15 days, it continued.

So far all the machines produced at the International plant have been hand-made. Quantity production is awaiting final results of observations this year—Abernethy Review.

It seems that the inventing of a successful cotton picking machine has been about the longest in materializing of anything else. It is hard to get a machine that will do the work in the cotton field just

EDITORS TO MEET.

Program for the fall convention of the West Texas Press association was arranged Saturday with Paul Barrett, editor of the Midland Reporter, as chairman of the committee.

Other members are Bowen Pope of Hamlin, Luther Watson of Sweetwater, and W. E. Reid of Colorado. The convention will be in Lamesa.—Midland Reporter.

The West Texas association is West Texas editors, and the West Texas editors, and their first meeting, which was held at Colorado last year—brought out the fact that there are a mighty line bunch of men pushing the pen for the several newspapers in this country.

The newspapers of the west have had much to do with the rapid development of this section. Thousands of columns of publicity have been printed in this country, and with it too many years of constant pounding of facts and figures into the minds of the people elsewhere, before they could realize that there was really something in this country. It finally looked in to the minds of the people that there was something in this country, as a result they came and were pleased with this country, they saw the possibilities of the west, and they at once commenced to improve and develop the country to the extent that rapid progress has been going on for several years.

The Secret Of Federal Power Made Plain In Constitution

EDITOR'S NOTE: In this, the eighth of a series of twelve articles, Mr. Atwood reveals the federal strength of our Constitution carries. Tomorrow, The Form of Government the Constitution Provides.

By HARRY ATWOOD President, Constitution Anniversary Association.

The Constitution contains a number of unusual features which at the time of its adoption were new in government.

First, the Constitution provided for a permanent union of states under a federal government with provision for additional states to enter from time to time, but with the provision for lawful exit therefrom.

In other words, it changed the condition from a loose confederation of states into a union of states which could not withdraw from the union without destroying the plan of the Constitution.

The first reason for its being the first successful federal government.

There has been much loose and theoretical discussion on this question, but nowhere in the original Constitution is there any provision to justify a state in an attempt to withdraw from the union.

Balancing Nation and State. Another novel feature of the Constitution was that it set up a dual form of government, well balanced between the nation and the states, operating directly upon the people as individuals as well as upon the states.

The dual form of government resulted in a dual citizenship. A person may be a citizen of the United States and a citizen of a state. A citizen of the United States, might not be a citizen, temporarily, of any state. That is a citizen might move from one state to another state and not have realized in that state long enough to have qualified for citizenship there. In such event the status would be that of an inhabitant, but a citizen of a state is automatically a citizen of the United States.

The authors of the Constitution made a very clear distinction between what are properly constitutional provisions and what are properly statutory enactments, and what are properly statutory enactments, which has resulted in writing into their constitutions much material that should properly be statutory enactments, and this is also true of the constitutions of other countries.

No Salary Named. The Constitution did not specify the amount of salary for any public official. Its authors well knew that what might be a princely salary in might be insufficient compensation with the lapse of time, and that all such matters to be determined and regulated by statute law.

The Constitution does not provide definitely the number of members that should constitute the legislative department; nor does it stipulate how many justices should sit on the supreme bench, nor how many federal courts should be, nor does it provide how many officers should be appointed by the president or what offices should be created. All such questions were left to be governed by statute as population increased, as conditions changed, and as new problems arose.

For example, all that is said in the Constitution with regard to the postal service is "to establish post-offices and postroads." Those five words are sufficient as a constitutional provision for the postal system. The question of where post-offices should be located, how much they should cost, who should be employed in the postal service, what pay they should receive, whether mail should be carried on dirt roads, railroads, waterways, or air routes, are all matters to be decided by statute, as are its conformity to change and development.

Shows Discrimination. The Constitution contains many provisions indicating bias discrimination if the insertion of what are properly constitutional provisions and the omission of what should be properly statutory enactments.

An essential characteristic is that a constitutional provision should be permanent in its nature, while a statutory provision may be temporary and changeable.

Without going into the question of the merits of the principle of prohibition, as such, it is quite evident that the language of Amendment XVIII is statutory material and this fact doubtless accounts for some of the difficulties it has incurred.

It is so necessary for the federal Constitution to deal with this highly important problem, it would seem that a more effective and proper amendment would be "Congress shall have the power to define and regulate the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor."

Desperado Slays Three Aboard Coast Guard Boat In Battle On High Seas

In this third of five articles on the Coast Guards' war with Florida rum runners, an official report of the reddest battle of all is given. BY RODNEY DUTCHER, N.E.A. Service Writer. (Copyright, 1927, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—National attention recently was focused on the situation which the Coast Guard confronts in Florida waters when a captured rum-runner turned on his captors at sea and killed three of them before he was subdued.

The slaying of such smuggling desperados as this one is breathtaking.

An official report to headquarters here by an intelligence officer described the encounter as "one of the most dramatic sea fights in the history of the Coast Guard."

In a 46-foot launch, it was reported, "Tommy" Alderman, left Miami Saturday night, August 1, with Robert E. Weech as engineer and assistant master. Sunday morning he arrived at Rimini and loaded up with liquor.

Shot Stops Engine
At 1 p. m. Sunday Alderman sighted Coast Guard patrol boat 245. A rifle shot was fired across his bow. He stopped the engine.

The CG-245, the investigator explained, was headed for Rimini with Secret Service Agent Robert K. Webster aboard as a passenger. It was commanded by Boatswain E. C. Chandler, and manned by Boatman's Mate Lawrence F. Tuttle, Boatman's Mate John A. Robinson, Machinist's Mate Frank Lehman and Victor A. Lambly, and Seaman H. M. Canine and J. L. Hollingsworth.

She approached the rum-runner and made fast. Sanderlin boarded Alderman's boat and searched for Alderman and Weech for arms. He then entered the forward hatch and Tuttle sent Lehman and Hollingsworth to pass the sacks of liquor over to the CG-245.

Got His Guns
Meanwhile, it appeared, Alderman surreptitiously fired himself. At any rate he was taken on board the 245 by Sanderlin, who entered the pilot house and called the patrol boat base ashore by radio while Robinson, Canine and Webster boarded the "Tommy."

"The action then started," related the investigator.

"Alderman shoots Sanderlin once in the back killing him almost instantly. The radio message stops abruptly. Lambly, who is unarmed, makes a jump for the engine-room hatch, hoping to reach the armory. He is not quick enough. Alderman steps from the pilot house and fires at him. The bullet pierces his right side, strikes his spine, and paralyzes his legs. He drops to the lower engine-room platform and crawls forward between the engines to avoid being seen from above."

"Hands Up"
"Alderman quickly returns to the pilot house and takes Sanderlin's pistol. Webster, in the meantime, jumps to the stern of the V-107. Alderman approaches the starboard pilot house door, levels both pistols at the people on the V-107, orders "hands up," and calls Weech to him. Before Weech could get on board the 245, Robinson grabs a wrench from the deck of the V-107 and leaves it at Alderman's head. The wrench misses and Robinson promptly dives overboard to avoid being shot.

"Alderman then orders all hands to stand on the stern sheets, but there is not room enough for all and Webster, Tuttle and Hollingsworth are compelled to stand in the cockpit. Weech is by now alongside Alderman on the 245 and Alderman remarks 'I hope two of them and I will kill the rest with their own guns.'

Alderman's Order
"Still keeping them covered, he orders Weech to break all gasolines lines of the 245. He then steps on board the V-107 and stations himself near the forward engine-room hatch.

"Weech goes below and orders Lambly, who is helpless, to tear out the gasoline lines. Lambly replies that he cannot see his legs and is helpless. Weech kicks him and beats him with his gun and again orders him to tear down the gas line on pain of death if he disobeys. In actual darkness to avoid being seen, Lambly bands a wrench to Weech, who tears down gasoline lines, which permit about five gallons to run into the engine compartment.

order Lambly on deck. Weech states that Lambly cannot move. Alderman orders Weech to kill him with his pistol, but Weech objects. He then orders him to fire the boat and burn Lambly to death. Weech sets matches and lights on and throws it below. It lands on a bunch of wet, oily waste and no fire results.

Pleasant News
"Alderman then tells all hands that he is going to kill them one at a time and orders them to get on their knees and pray if they so desire. Webster suggests to Alderman that he should not kill so many people over a little liquor, but that he should give them a pulling boat and a fighting chance to get ashore. Alderman replies, 'I'm going to kill you first, you one of those who are not afraid of who you would get the goods on good men, etc.'

"Webster suggests that if the 245 is to be fired by trained snipers it might be best to start the V-107's engine and be ready for a quick getaway."

Leaving Weech on deck, Alderman went into the engine room. He started the engine and returned. The engine belted, Weech went down. That—

Turning the Tables
"Alderman looked down the hatch to see what he was getting. Webster and Tuttle jump for Alderman, followed by Hollingsworth, Canine and Robinson. Webster grabs Alderman's right arm but is not quick enough to strike the rum-runner and he promptly falls dead. Tuttle and Canine seize his left hand gun. Robinson, who has picked up a triangular boat anchor, strikes him a heavy blow on the head which knocks him out.

Put In Irons
Canine then faced Weech and Robinson, knifed him on the head and rolled him overboard. Weech later was pulled on deck. Weech and Alderman were put in irons. Hollingsworth was fished out of the water and Lambly was pulled out of the engine room.

Lehman started the radio again, called the base and the CG-245, 244 made the run of 34 nautical miles to the scene in 55 minutes.

Alderman and Weech were imprisoned in the Brown county jail. Lambly died three days later. Alderman and Weech face Federal court trials for murder.

The families of Sanderlin and Lambly were left destitute. Lambly's widow was given six months' pay, amounting to $304. Sanderlin's widow was given a little more.

MORROW NAMED AS ENVOY TO MEXICO

NEW AMBASSADOR FORMERLY WAS MEMBER OF MORGAN BANKING FIRM

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Apparently determined to leave no stone unturned toward settlement of the Mexican problems before his term expires, President Coolidge disclosed today he had drafted Dwight W. Morrow, his friend and classmate, and a partner in the New York banking firm of J. P. Morgan and company, for duty as ambassador to Mexico.
The appointment was approved today by the Mexican government and was announced immediately at the White House.
Mr. Morrow will sever his connection with the Morgan company at once. The president expects him to take up his duties in Mexico City under recess appointment within a week, although the exact date of his departure has not been fixed. He succeeds James R. Sheffield, resigned.
That Morrow's selection would meet opposition because of his connection with the Morgan company, which has been closely identified with dealings between bankers and Mexico on loan problems, was recognized at the state department even before the president's decision became known. There were hints of this opposition as soon as word of the appointment reached senators now in Washington.
Chairman Borah, of the foreign relations committee, which will pass on Mr. Morrow's nomination, said in a formal statement that Mr. Morrow undoubtedly would carry out the policy of the American government to warm Mexico, and his opposition or support of his nomination would turn entirely on what he regarded as that policy.
Mr. Borah, was an outspoken critic of the Mexican policy of the administration during the last session of congress.

dead comrades, a thousand Legionnaires were off for Verdun—cockpit of France—traveling in immense motor cars. It was a subdued and quiet group which went to visit their dead, leaving the carnival spirit behind in Paris.
The Legionnaires were welcomed at the Verdun marketplaces by the Mayor, Deputy Schleiter. The "boys" were entertained at a luncheon by the City of Verdun and they moved on to visit Fort Douaumont, Hatton Chatel, Saint Mihiel, Thiaucourt, Pont-A-Mousson, and other points of interest.
On the road from Verdun to Saint Mihiel, a little cemetery called "The cemetery of the Unknown," the Americans stood at attention for a full minute before the graves of these nameless heroes.
Given Warm Reception.
The people of Verdun and Saint Mihiel gave an enthusiastic reception to the Legionnaires.
At Rheims a ceremony of thanks was held by the people in expressing their gratitude to the people of the United States not only for their aid in the war but for their help in reconstruction.
Life, decked out in flags, gave a cordial greeting to the Americans

TRADE TRIPPERS

In an educational way.
Officials of the fair distributed tickets free to the school children which will admit them on School Children's Day, at the fair, Thursday, Sept. 22. Judge Klett, told of the exhibits and attractions, that will be seen at the fair and invited the citizens in each town to "come on along."
'It Is Our Fair.
'It's not my fair, it's not your fair, it's not his fair, it's our fair. The Lubbock Saturday and Sunday fair, the Lubbock County fair, the Levelland Chamber of Commerce declared late yesterday in welcoming the boosters. "It is our fair and all South Plains citizens should be there to see it and should do their part to make it a success for the benefit it will do this section."
Both Judge Klett and Dr. Horn praised the Levelland people for the work they have done to have a fair this year. The Hockley county fair, the Lubbock Saturday and Sunday fair, exhibits will be brought here to be shown as a Hockley county exhibit at the South Plains exposition.
School children were turned out at most places to welcome the boosters and to scramble for the tickets they had been given away. At Littlefield the thousands of students that attend the school here, were out to welcome the boosters. Schools at Shallowater, Anton, and Amherst were also turned out while the Lubbock fair boosters were in their towns.
One of The Best Trips.
The trip is classed with the best that has ever left Lubbock and much credit goes to B. Sherrod and G. P. Kukkendall, the committee in charge for the success of the caravan. The Lubbock high school band was along again as a feature of the caravan. A clown ace kept the kids roaring with laughter and the Lubbock business men on the trip helped deliver circulars, distribution catalogues, and other advertising regarding the fair.
Ladies Help Out.
A number of ladies went on the trip and seemed to get a real pleasure in helping boost Lubbock and the fair. The ladies assisted in giving out the advertising about the fair and did their part in making the trip a success and in creating a favorable opinion for Lubbock in each of the towns visited.
The caravan stopped at Muleshoe for lunch, where shallow water that is found at a depth of 15 feet and less, has permitted those resourceful people to develop a number of profitable truck farms. Cantaloupes have been shipped out in carloads to Chicago and other markets. R. L. Brown of Muleshoe honorary South Plains Fair told members of the Lubbock booster caravan.
The Bailey County Fair will be held there Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week and Brown will bring the best exhibits here from that fair. Cochran and Lamb counties will likewise be represented here at the fair with county exhibits.
Gaines County Next.
The crusade made yesterday will be the last but not the least, started by Lubbock merchants this year. A smaller group of citizens will visit Gaines County Friday. This trip will take the citizens to Stargazer, Seminole and other cities in that vicinity. J. F. Holburn and W. T. Smith, however, showed the caravan south staged last Friday will head this delegation. It is likely that a string instrument band drums and other entertaining features will be included on this trip. Anyone who can go should call Rayton or Holland or the Chamber of Commerce.

head of Jerseys to show against the Ferguson herd of about the same number that will come from Amarillo, Texas. Tech will have the best head of Holsteins in the dairy show.
A number of pure dairy cattle have been shipped into the Plains section in the past few years and a number of these individuals will likely be entered in the fair just opening in Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 27. A carload was distributed here last week from the Taft ranch and a majority of these Jerseys will be entered at the fair. It is believed.
In the swine pens, fair officials expect the selection of Duroc, Berkshire and Poland Chinas that will be entered by Lillard of Arlington and Charles Franz, E. A. Poe and other swine breeders are expected but entries have not yet been received.
The Texas Tech will enter 18 head of sheep and about the same number will be entered by H. O. Pettit of Abernathy. Mules, horses, and other stock will be entered by local people.
Directors of the livestock department are: Ray C. Mowery, superintendent of the department; W. E. Stangel, superintendent beef cattle division; J. A. Medlock, superintendent of the dairy division; Dr. Y. J. Aiken, superintendent of the horse and mule division; Douglas Pounds, superintendent of the swine division; and Don L. Green, superintendent of the sheep division.
NO CHANGE TO BE MADE IN WESTERN CIRCUIT
OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 20. (AP)—After a six hour conference between eight Western league club owners, President Dale Gear announced that there would not be any change in the 1928 circuit.
The announcement dispelled the rumor that Tulsa and Oklahoma City were to withdraw in favor of the Texas league.

DAILY MARKETS

NEW YORK COTTON
NEW YORK, Sept. 20. (AP)—Predictions of frost for northwestern sections of the cotton belt were followed by very sharp rallies from an opening decline in the cotton market today, but apparently, no general apprehension of serious damage to the crop was felt, as prices later broke into new low ground for the movement.
December sold up from 20.45 to 21.25, or 80 points from the early morning low, and declined to 20.35 at 20.42. The general market closed steady at net declines of 22 to 31 points.
The market opened easy at a decline of 15 to 24 points, and liquidation and southern selling proceeded by a favorable view of the overnight weather news and relatively weak Liverpool cables. October sold off to 20.98 and March to 20.78, but the market steadied as soon as initial offerings had been absorbed and trading buying as well as covering was reported.
This caused rallies of 16 or 12 points from the lowest, and later there was a sudden spurt of buying on the forecast for frost in northern Arkansas, Oklahoma and northwest Texas, which was regarded as expanding the chances for the crop. For a time the market was extremely active and rather excited on active covering by local sellers.
Offerings were comparatively light after the heavy selling of the past several days. The market was up to 20.90 for October and 21.55 for March, or 58 to 60 points net higher and 80 to 85 above the low levels of the morning. The feeling along the local traders, however, appeared to be that it was rather too early in the season for temperatures low enough to damage the crop materially, and as soon as the first flurry of buying subsided, prices turned easier.
Part of the selling of the decline which followed was attributed to the south and was supposed to be a furthering of the cover that was also being done by the earlier buyers, and a renewal of liquidation. Prices made new low ground for the movement in late trading, October declining to 20.68 and March to 20.63 or 25 to 31 points net lower. The close was with 2 1/2 to 4 points of the lowest on most positions.
Exports today 2,275 bales, making 764,489 so far this season. Port receipts 71,300. U. S. Port stocks 1,459,780.
NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20. (AP)—Following a gain of approximately $4.25 a bale over initial lows the cotton market turned easy late today on liquidation and hedge selling, prices dropping to within 1 1/2 points of the early low. December eased off to 20.29 and closed at 20.24, 22 points net down.
Although Liverpool cables were better than due at the start here first prints showed losses of 11 to 28 points due to the liquidation of weekly margined accounts. The colder weather in the west and the market recovered some of the loss. Prices fluctuated aimlessly until formal predictions of frost in Oklahoma, Arkansas and north Texas were issued. Prices then soared 1 1/2 points before the buying subsided, with December showing the maximum gain and selling to 21.12.
CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET
CHICAGO, Sept. 20. (AP)—Increasing anxiety as to whether frost will bring a knockout to the corn crop led to a wild new advance in corn prices today. Assertions that no important damage had resulted from frost last night in the northwest and west, not only failed to relieve trade tension today, but were followed by a steady fresh buying that raised December delivery of corn 7 1/2 cents a bushel and put a level and provisions on the upgrade.
Corn closed flurried, 6 cents to 7 1/4 cents net higher, wheat 5-8 cent up, oats 3 1/2 cent to 1 1/4 cent advance, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to a rise of 22 cents.
Wheat, rye and oats moved up decidedly at the last with corn. Earlier, the wheat market tended downward on account of reports of welcome rain in Australia and expected moisture in Argentina.
Provisions followed the leadership of corn and were unaffected by a down turn in the value of hogs.

BROWN WATER PLEA REFUSED

FIGHT TO OBTAIN BOOST IN PERMIT MEETS WITH FAILURE
AUSTIN, Sept. 20.—The last plea of Brownwood water district in its fight to obtain permit for the impounding of 200,000 acre feet of water from tributaries of the Colorado river in Brown county, a motion for modification of the state board of water engineers' recent order granting permit for only 125,000 acre feet, was denied by the board today.
Chairman J. A. Norris, and member C. R. Clark, advised A. H. Dunlap to turn down the request which was tantamount to a rehearing plea.
The board, however, granted the district the right to build a sluiceway higher in the dam than the lowest point in the stream while its original order set out that the sluiceway should be at the lowest point.
Dunlap later may issue a statement setting out his reasons for dissenting, he said.
