Greek Army Annihilates Estimated 30,000 Fascist Troops

Two Divisions Of Italians Are Wiped Out

Defenders Take Initiative As Fascists Retreat

(By The Associated Press)

ATHENS, Nov. 15. (Friday)—The Athens radio announced early today an Italian army corps of two divisions had been annihilated in the Pindus mountains rather than the one division as previously reported. Two divisions normally have a complement of 30,000 men.

The radio announced that in addition to the Fascist division which penetrated Greek territory, another division which attempted to come to its aid was wiped out.

Greeks Take Initiative.

The Greek army now is taking the initiative along the entire front, the announcement added.

"After having faced an enemy three times, more numerous and heavier, and dispersed the invaders," said the radio broadcast, "the Greek army has taken thousands of prisoners.

"Now it has taken the initiative and is advancing in all sectors."

Italians Re Flight.

Reliable reports from the front meanwhile said the Greeks were fighting on Albanian soil on both the right and center sectors. In the coastal region it was said they had reached the Albanian frontier and that the Italian retreat there was taking on the aspect of flight.

The Athens radio said 16 Italian planes were destroyed yesterday at Koritza, Albania.

A high command communique declared 73 Italian warplanes were shot down during the day and that another 19 planes "probably have been damaged beyond repair."

Taking the initiative in the air as well as on the ground, the high command said its planes bombed the Italian invasion base at Koritza, 19 miles inside Albania, and that planes on the ground were destroyed.

Prisoners Seized.

More than 200 prisoners and war materials "of all descriptions" were reported seized.

Greek planes were said to have swept low over marching Italian columns, scattering them.

The high command charged that Italian planes "indiscriminately bombed" a number of interior Greek towns, inflicting civilian casualties, including some dead, and demolishing a number of buildings. Hospitals also were reported hit.

In all the day's widespread operations, the communique said, only 13 Greek planes were lost.

U.S. Citizens Are Convicted In Italy

ROME, Nov. 14. (AP)—George Ehret of New York and Miss Grace Gunther, another United States citizen, were convicted today of violating Italy's foreign exchange laws and sentenced to seven and six years imprisonment, respectively.

Ehret was also fined 360,000 lire (about $15,000), and Miss Gunther was ordered to pay a fine of 50,000 lire (about $2,500).

The trial started yesterday.

The prosecution produced evidence intended to show that Ehret and Miss Gunther collected large sums in dollars from individual Americans and sold them for lire at rates higher than the official exchange.

Their counsel argued they were not familiar with the exchange law.

Your Help Is Needed In Toy Pickup

LUBBOCK Goodfellows, Boy Scouts and the needy children of the city will need your help, Saturday morning.

The Scouts are to stage their annual toy pickup during the forenoon. They expect to call at every home in Lubbock. If there are any toys about your home for which you no longer have use and which might be repaired, the Goodfellows and the Scouts urge that you leave them on your front porch, plainly marked, where they can be found.

The toys will be repaired and on Christmas morning they will be distributed among the several thousand children in the city who must depend on the Goodfellows for just about the only Christmas happiness they are to have.

The toys, according to John B. Tyler, pickup chairman, should be ready by not later than 9 o'clock.

Partial Relief From Cold Seen For West Texas

(By The Associated Press)

Prospects of relief yesterday presaged the end of a four-day cold wave in the frigid Midwest.

The weather bureau at Chicago predicted an upward trend in temperatures for most of the states in the central region but added that the rise would be slow.

Moderation favored Nebraska, after record November lows had been reported—including —16 at Valentine, —15 at Burwell, —12 at Overton and —3 at Omaha.

Toll Increased.

Minima readings included Dickinson, N. D., —22; Pierre, S. D., —15; Pueblo, Colo., and Sioux City, Iowa, —5; Goodland, Kas., —4.

Searchers patrolled the Lake Michigan shore near Ludington, Mich., for additional bodies of sailors who lost their lives in gales which swept over the shipping lanes Monday and Tuesday.

Listed as lost were two big freighters and two fishing tugs and the 67 men who were aboard the four boats when the storm struck. Two other boat hands also perished.

The 6th deaths on Lake Michigan, plus 90 fatalities attributed to the cold and destructive winds in the inland sector of the northern states, increased the toll to 159.

Cold In Southland.

Wintry weather dipped into the Southland Thursday with no immediate relief in sight from the below-freezing temperatures that threatened crop damage.

Whipped by cold north winds, the southern sector was expected to

Stroud had pleaded guilty.

Slayer Pegs With His Life For Killing Pretty Wife

By FRANCIS E. RABBITT

McALESTER, Okla., Nov. 15 (Friday)—Roger Cunningham, 34-year-old wife strangler whose attorney fought unsuccessfully in two courts to snatch him from death at the eleventh hour, was executed in the state prison electric chair a few minutes after midnight today.

Cunningham entered the death chamber at 12:06 a. m., the lethal current was applied at 12:07 for 30 seconds and again at 12:11 for 40 seconds. The prisoner, who exhibited unusual vitality, was pronounced dead at 12:13.

The young housing inspector who left the body of his socially prominent wife, Eudora, in an Oklahoma City sewer ditch March 6, 1939, uttered no sound as he went to the chair.

Warden Jess Dunn stepped forward and asked: "Have you anything to say, Roger?"

The prisoner shook his head and sat down calmly and coolly.

"He can take it," voices in the crowd of 80 muttered.

Upstairs, in the warden's office, Attorney Herbert K. Hyde waited by an open telegraph wire, hoping to the last for a reprieve.

But the court denial of a sanity hearing had left his only recourse the governor—and Gov. Leon C. Phillips had stated that he would not interfere.

Cunningham had based his defense on an insanity plea, and Phillips asserted his "every constitutional right has been protected and guarded every step

Airline Through Lubbock Sought At CAA Hearing

Several Companies Seeking Right To Operate Here

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Establishment of a series of new air routes throughout the Southwest to give new or improved service to dozens of cities between the Gulf of Mexico and Denver was urged today before a Civil Aeronautics board examiner.

Numerous witnesses said there was a need for faster communication in the petroleum and cattle industries.

Several Through Cities.

Under consideration by Examiner Thomas Wrenn were applications of four airlines, Braniff Airways, Inc., Continental Air Lines, Inc., Trans-Continental & Western Air, Inc., and Essair, Inc.

Braniff proposed to fly from Denver to Laredo, Texas, via Amarillo, Lubbock, Big Spring, San Angelo and San Antonio. Braniff also proposed a connecting route to Houston via Abilene and Austin, and another from San Antonio to El Paso, via Uvalde, Del Rio and Marfa.

Continental airlines asked to operate from Austin to Hobbs, N. M., via San Angelo, Big Spring and Midland. Continental also proposed to operate from Pueblo, Colo., to Amarillo, via Trinidad, Colo.

Other Routes Asked.

TWA sought to operate from Amarillo to Houston, via Lubbock, Abilene and Austin, with a connecting line from Abilene to Fort Worth and Dallas.

Essair wanted permission to establish a route from Houston to Garden City, Kas., via Sutin, Abilene, Lubbock and Amarillo. Essair proposed another route from Austin to Lubbock with stops at San Angelo and Big Spring.

William Redding, representing the Denver Chamber of Commerce, said there was great need for direct air service between that city and all central and western Texas.

Carl Hinton, manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, and William Haldan, representing the Fort Worth chamber, said their cities would welcome improved com-

Bullitt Offered Post In Britain

By J. C. STARR
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Ambassador William C. Bullitt has been offered the post of envoy to Great Britain to succeed Joseph P. Kennedy, it was reported reliably tonight after he disclosed that he had sought unsuccessfully to leave the government service.

Informed sources said Bullitt still was considering a request that he accept the London assignment but was disinclined to do so for the same reason that he submitted his resignation as ambassador to France.

Bullitt, in a brief statement, said he did this because he "felt that I could be of more service to my country if I were free to write and speak without the restrictions imposed by official position."

Information Lacking.

No official information was available on whether Kennedy had submitted his resignation but it was believed that he had made known to the president his desire to be relieved.

Bullitt said he had expressed orally to the president several times his desire to resign and engage in speaking and writing. On November 7—two days after the election—he said he tendered his resignation in writing.

"The president again, as previously, expressed his wish that I should not resign, and there for the present the matter rests," Bullitt said.

Navy Bomber Crashes Near Hawaii Islands

HONOLULU, Nov. 14, (AP) — A naval bombing plane crashed into the sea from an altitude of 4,000 feet today, killing both occupants, Lieut. Thomas D. Cummins and Chief Machinists' Mate L. D. Staniewski.

Observers said the 5-B-7 bomber, attached to the aircraft carrier Yorktown, "seemed to go into a spin, from which it did not recover."

Officers Slay Man After Kiss Of Death

NEW YORK, Nov. 14, (AP)—"Red Murray" Pershing, 40, ex-convict and parole violator, was killed in a barroom gun battle with three detectives tonight after receiving a "kiss of death" from a former St. Louis beauty.

His gun emptied in a futile fusillade that terrified 15 patrons, Pershing died at the feet of the detective and the 34-year-old woman who had identified him a few moments earlier with a kiss.

Detective John C. Kenny identified the woman as Dorothy Mori, 34, winner of a beauty contest in St. Louis in 1927. He said she arranged the rendezvous and tipped off police by way of balancing accounts for a beating Pershing gave her a week ago.

Kenny quoted the woman as having said that Pershing stole a diamond ring from her and beat her so badly that she had to be treated at a hospital.

Never Heard Of Draft

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—Lee A. Gilliam, 29-year-old transient, was not evading the draft, he emphasized when he was stopped for questioning by a policeman today and could not produce a registration card.

Gilliam declared he never had heard of the draft.

"We ain't got nothing like that in Alabama," he said.

He was booked for failure to register.

RAIDED NEARBY NAVAL BASE.—This is a view of part of the city of Taranto, Italy, where British naval planes raided an Italian Sea base. The British claimed their bombers damaged two Italian battleships and probably a third as well as two cruisers smuggled behind shore defenses. Bids Called For New Engine

Call for bids on a new Diesel engine for the city electric plant to be opened at 7 p. m. on Dec. 2 was issued by the city commission at its semi-monthly meeting in the city hall Thursday afternoon.

The call specified that it is to be of 2,700 to 3,600 horsepower, largest of the engines now in the plant is 2,200 horsepower. Officials estimate that the new engine will cost between $200,000 and $225,000.

A proposal is being held under consideration by the commission to call an election on a bond issue for the machine which, according to officials, will be urgently needed before it can be delivered to keep pace with the growing demand for electrical power.

Contract Approved.

Contract with Ed Hambright and George Reinhardt under which they are to pay $150 for the privilege of salvaging automobile frames on the city dump ground southeast of the city was approved.

Purchase of brick of dark gray color to be used as facing for the new police department building at Ninth street and Avenue J from Brick and Tile, Inc., at $21.50 per 1,000 was approved. Approximately 33,000 bricks will be required, officials said. R. C. Ball company was awarded contract to erect the building several days ago.

The commission passed without taking any action on the following

Kansas Still Does Not Know Who Next Governor Will Be

(By The Associated Press)

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 14.—Here it is nine days since the election, Kansas still doesn't know who its next governor will be—and the strain is beginning to tell.

Last night Democrats sent two sheriff's deputies to the state house to watch the office of Frank J. Ryan, Republican secretary of state.

In Ryan's office are the as yet 7,100 uncounted out-state absentee ballots which will decide whether Republican Governor Payne Ratner gets another two years or must step aside for Democratic William H. Burke. At present Burke has a lead of 1866 votes.

The custodian made the deputies comfortable in Ryan's office where they remained all night—then he assigned two watchmen to watch the watchers.

And just to play safe, he stationed another man in the cold outside to keep an eye on the windows.

The counting may not be completed before another nine days. Kansas' election law permits Kansans away from home to cast absentee ballots on election day and allows 10 days for these to reach Topeka. That's tomorrow. Then the counting starts.

Nazi Bombers Hit Hospitals

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 15. (Friday)—Two London hospitals suffered the heaviest blows loosed upon London last night in a regular Axis nightly air raid which was otherwise comparatively light.

The second one struck was declared simply to have lost "some casualties."

The first was hit by four heavy bombs, one of which smashed down directly upon a wing devoted to the chronically ill. An undetermined number of persons were killed and wounded there.

Store Is Bombed.

Hit, too, was a suburban department store in which hundreds of shoppers were standing. They had had no opportunity to take cover, for at that time no air raid warning had been heard.

Aside from these cases there had been no heavy damage here up to early this morning.

A southeast town reported a school, a church and an amusement park damaged and at least one fatality. There one raider crashed in flames; another was shot down by a British Hurricane fighter.

A Midlands town was bombed and there were a number of casualties in a row of houses smashed flat.

Yesterday had been much kinder

Bond of $250 each was set Thursday by J. P. Inmon, justice of peace, for J. J. Johnson, Howard Braswell, Harry Wheeler and O. A. Webb, charged according to the justice's records with keeping a gambling house.

The case formerly had been on file in county court, officials said.

Police said Rufus Bundy of 1615 Fifteenth street had reported loss of a diamond ring in a burglary.

Mrs. W. D. O'Brien of 2513 Twenty-second street complained that a purse containing $4.10 had been stolen from her.

An automobile recently stolen from Peter Evans of Dallas was recovered at Plainview, Hale county officials informed Lubbock police. Wintry weather had burst the motor head or block, reports said.

Soviet-German Parley Ends

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Nov. 14. — Vyacheslaff Molotoff and Adolf Hitler have fixed Soviet Russia's sphere of interest in the authoritarian new order for Europe, Africa and Asia, sources usually in the know asserted tonight after the Russian's departure for home.

Officially, the Hitler-Molotoff talks led to "mutual accord on all important questions of interest to Germany and the U.S.S.R." But neither the questions nor the decisions were listed.

Unofficial but reliable sources left no doubt they were firmly convinced Russia is ranging herself on the side of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis.

Texas Baptists Take Over Hardin-Simmons

HOUSTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Baptist General convention of Texas tonight absorbed the Hardin-Simmons university of Abilene upon the request of the Sweetwater district association, which had operated the institution nearly 50 years.

Direct control of the university will be limited to trustees elected by the convention.

The university is one of the state's largest denominational schools with over all attendance of about 1,300 students. Its productive endowment amounts to $1,234,000; its unproductive endowment amount to $260,000.

Under the terms of the agreement, the convention will not assume the university's indebtedness of $43,000.

Britain Opens Air Offensive

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 14. — In a new aerial offensive apparently intended to put Italy definitely out of the war as a naval power, the Royal Air force last night and early today made another attack on the naval base at Taranto, starting at least seven big fires in a rain of high explosives and incendiaries.

While the big bombers were attacking under clear moonlit skies, other British planes, the air ministry said today, bombed Berlin, a thousand miles to the north.

They struck, too, said the air ministry, at Italian strongholds and outposts from the Libyan desert to Albania—going to work particularly in that phase of the campaign on the Italian ports used as supply bases for the Fascist invasion of Greece.

In the pattern of violence thus spread out on areas of two continents, these were among the announced results:

RAF Scores Again.

In Italy: The docks and harbor of Taranto were hit, the British said, by RAF bombers following the trail of naval planes which on Monday night were declared to have crippled three Italian battleships and four other warships. This new raid was described by an authorized source as "highly successful."

Gasoline Flames Fatal For Mrs. L. E. Williams

Three-Year-Old Son Dies Early This Morning

(Special To The Avalanche)

LEVELLAND, Nov. 15. (Friday) — Flames from a gasoline stove fatally burned Mrs. Lonnie R. Williams, 28, and her three-year-old son, Mickie Thursday night.

Ironically, the tragedy fell on the 22nd birthday of the husband, who also suffered burns.

To Sam Drake, reporter on the Hockley County Herald, the following story was related:

Mr. and Mrs. Williams, who had lived here two and a half months and were operating a cafe, had gone home from Levelland and the husband attempted to light the stove. It was about 8:15 o'clock.

Pressure Blew Out Match.

Pressure blew out the match he held and spear was blown from the stove against an oil lamp less than four feet away.

In Sheet Of Flame.

Immediately the room was enveloped in a sheet of flame.

Williams, his clothing afire, made a dash for his automobile, parked near the house, and grabbed a coat. Extinguishing his clothing, he ran back into the house and attempted to drag the torch-like bodies of his wife and son from the room, but they were futilly pressing with last vestiges of strength against the top of a window screen.

Before he could make his way through the inferno to them, neighbors, including Earl Lane, dragged the woman and her son through the window and rushed them to Phillips-Dupre hospital, where Mrs. Williams died 30 minutes later. The child died at 12:15 o'clock this morning.

Tried To Shield Child.

Williams, severely burned about the face and hands, will recover, it was announced.

A note of heroism was injected into accounts of the tragedy. Mrs. Williams attempted to the last to shield her child from the blaze. When pulled through the window of her burning residence, she had shoved the child into the window.

Mrs. Walker To Head Federation

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. — Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview was elected president of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs tonight, defeating Mrs. O. H. Carlisle of Houston, 432 to 229.

Late and large balloting delayed a decision in the only contested race to select a successor to Mrs. Joseph Perkins of Eastland. Mrs. Walker was the honoree at an installation dinner which began before the tally clerks could conclude their count.

Unopposed candidates were Mrs. Grace Vance of Refugio for first vice president, Mrs. George Ripley of Dallas for second vice president, Mrs. Grover C. Johnson of Wichita Falls for secretary and Miss Ethel Foster of Sterling City for treasurer.

Meat Of Dogs Soon May Be Used By Germans As Food

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Nov. 14—The meat of dogs was legalized for human consumption today for greater Germany, effective Jan. 1, 1941.

Inspection of dog meat will be made under provisions of a new law effective on that date when that commodity is to be controlled in the same manner as meat from cattle, hogs, goats, horses and other domestic animals.

Dogs and hogs after being slaughtered are to be examined for evidence of trichina. The same applies to wild hogs, bears, foxes, river wolves, badgers and other meat-eating animals intended for human consumption.

Horse meat now is available in some restaurants and is served without the customer having to surrender his precious meat points, demanded for beef, pork and other meats.

Unlicensed and unclaimed mongrels presumably will furnish an additional supply of low-cost meat, although many better canines are trained for military service with the armed forces.

Textbooks On Democracy Ordered Placed In Texas Schools By Education Board

Books To Go Into Three Grades

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 — The Texas State Board of Education today ordered three textbooks on democracy and a textbook on community civics to be placed in the public schools at the beginning of the second term of the 1940-41 school year.

The democracy books, described as "spark plugs" to arouse interest of pupils in study of democracy will be made available in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. Other more advanced books on democracy will be available in September for the next school year.

Funds To Be Reduced

The decision to buy the books at once will reduce the unexpected textbook fund at the end of this year to $250,000 it was estimated. The fund asked for textbooks this year was $500,000 less than for previous years.

The immediate use of the democracy books was ordered without dissenting vote. Unanimous vote also met a proposal to require school superintendents in ordering textbooks to include a statement that the number of books ordered is needed to conduct the school efficiently and that if the school finds it has any surplus the extra books will be returned immediately.

Will Reduce Total Expenditures

Ben F. Tisinger of Dallas proposed this new form of requision. He said it will reduce total expenditures and also end the blame being placed on the state board for filling schools with unused textbooks. The board orders no books, Tisinger pointed out, that responsibility resting with the superintendents.

A third proposal to leave a four weeks interval between the time textbooks are recommended by the textbook committee and adoption by the state board was left over for action at the next board meeting when members suggested it might not be necessary to act on it if the school law is changed to take text adoptions away from the state board.

A financial report of the textbook division was presented by H. W. Glass, its head. This report estimates that $1,940,000 will be needed for purchase of new textbooks next year unless gradual introduction of the new books is ordered, and $500,000 will be required for replacements. With gradual introduction the estimate was $1,800,000. It was pointed out estimates are required by law to be 25 per cent high to take care of any contingencies and that actual expenditures for new books will probably be between $1,800,000 and $1,600,000 and the total cost of books about $2,000,000.

Tisinger Reviews Purchases

Tisinger gave a short review of textbook purchases for the last 20 years showing that despite the great increase in number of different books furnished to the schools, and increase of 30 per cent in school days a year supplying free textbooks to schools costs no more now than 15 years ago. He said 190 free texts are supplied now compared with 73 fifteen years ago.

This meeting of the board is the final one for three members including President James Strong of Carthage. Other members whose terms expire are John Laird of Lufkin and Tisinger. Successors are to be named by the governor.

What's Ahead? . . . Last Of Three Articles

New Congress Ready To Go Along; Strong Roosevelt Men Hold Key Posts; Cooperation With FDR Regime Assured

Last of three articles interpreting the probable course of the New Deal in the next four years.

By BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—President Roosevelt will enter his third term with a Congress more likely to go along with him than any Congress since the "first hundred days" of the New Deal.

On the surface, the new Congress will not be very much different from the one that goes out of existence at the end of this year.

Measuring by the intangibles, however, it is likely to be very much different. A new spirit is due to pervade the relations between the White House and Capitol Hill. There will be better harmony and closer team-work, which will mean the President will have less trouble getting his measures approved and less trouble stopping measures that he does not like.

There are several reasons for this.

Foremost is the simple fact that President Roosevelt won election to a third term by a handsome majority. During the first year of his new term, at least, he will be in the position of a man whose policies have just been approved by the electorate. His prestige will over-ride opposition in a way it could not during the last two years.

Allied with that is the fact that a great many Democrats in Congress will have the feeling that they owe their own seats to the President. Some of them will be newcomers—the "coat-tail riders" who are always brought in by a presidential landslide. A larger number will be men who had hard fights in their home districts but won out because the Roosevelt ticket pulled them through. From all of these men there is likely to be ready, willing co-operation.

Beyond that, the political mechanics of the situation will be improved.

Rayburn-McCormack Team Potent

Speaker Sam Rayburn and Majority Leader John McCormack will make a loyal and effective liaison team between the President and the House of Representatives — much more effective, probably, than last year's team fo the late Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn. Bankhead was not an entirely well man during a good part of the past session. Younger and stronger, Rayburn figures to be a much greater aid to the administration than his predecessor was. McCormack, in turn, is able, energetic and loyal. He and Rayburn will work well together.

Allied with them will be a new source of strength that the Bankhead-Rayburn team lacked — Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Texas, a thorough New Dealer. Johnson served during the recent campaign as secretary of the Democratic congressional committee, with the job of helping Democratic candidates get elected to Congress. He did an exceptionally good job and the election found a large number of Democratic congressmen feeling deeply indebted to him. The influence he will be able to exert will be correspondingly increased.

Negative Gain With Wallace

The picture in the Senate is changed in the same way.

In the first place, the vice president will be Henry Wallace instead of John Garner. Garner had been off the New Deal reservation for years. Technically, of course, the vice president is merely the presiding officer of the Senate and exercises little influence. Actually, Garner was a good deal more than a presiding officer. He carried a lot of weight with a number of the southern Democrats, and quietly but effectively swung that weight against the New Deal on more than one occasion.

Wallace will have much less cloakroom influence than Garner had. The New Deal's gain in having Wallace up there in Garner's place is purely negative — but none the less important.

The Democrats retain a one-sided majority in the Senate, and although there may in actual numbers be slightly fewer Democrats there in the next session than in the last session, from a practical political standpoint the Democratic strength will be greater.

Two Democratic senators who were completely and irrevocably anti-Roosevelt—Rush Holt of West Virginia and Edward R. Burke of Nebraska—were beaten in the primaries. Holt's successor, Harley M. Kilgore, will go along with the administration. Burke's seat will be filled by the Republican Hugh Butler, who can't oppose the administration much more than Burke has done.

Another Democratic senator who opposed many New Deal measures was William H. King of Utah. His seat will be filled by Abe Murdock, who is thoroughly loyal to the New Deal.

Next Weeks Look Peaceful

The New Deal suffered a blow when its Senate whip, Sherman Minton of Indiana, was beaten. Offsetting that loss is the fact that the extremely influential Senator Jimmy Byrnes of South Carolina has been working in close harmony with the administration. Between Byrnes and the majority leader, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, President Roosevelt will probably have more effective leadership in the Senate in his third term than he had in his second.

In the Senate, too, as in the House, the intangible effect of the last election will be great. For the first session, at least, the Democratic majority will be pretty constantly mindful that it is a majority because it had President Roosevelt at the head of the ticket in the last campaign. The numberous anti-New Deal coalitions between Republicans and dissenting Democrats will be noticeably fewer.

Technically, of course, the pre-election Congress is still in session, and there is still some work for it to do before the year ends. It will be much more "co-operative" with the administration than it was earlier in the year. There is not, for instance, an outside chance that such a measure as the Smith amendment to the Wagner act, bitterly opposed by the New Deal, can be brought to a vote and passed in the Senate. President Roosevelt is not likely to have trouble with Congress in the few weeks that remain of his second term.

Beyond that—for his third term, to repeat, he has a House and a Senate very likely to work with him. The big question remaining is simply this:

What sort of work is he likely to ask his third term Congress to do?

American Education Week Observed By P-TA Organizations Thursday

The Woman's Angle
by Margaret Talbot

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (Special)—To have and to hold American Democracy is the general theme of the forty-third annual fall convention of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs in session in this beautiful city that is devoting more newspaper attention to visits of Edgar Guest, H. G. Wells and Old Man Winter than it is to the arrival of over 700 women. But the women have had an opportunity to practice democracy again and again during this three day convention.

It's a democracy when a women loaded with animal pelts furs to Mrs. Maxey and Mrs. Dyer) and dripping with ice (diamonds to you Mr. Anderson) stands in the registration line for hours by the side of a timid little club delegate who wets a nervous pencil between tightly compressed lips as she sets down each item of expenses to carry back to the club paying her expenses. It's a democracy where the governor of the state comes beaming into a convention and leads an original song "Beautiful Texas" that is coming to be thought of as THE state song in many sectors. And it's a democracy when a woman with three homes, such as brilliant Mrs. Carl L. Schrader of Ithaca, N. Y., general federation chairman of fine arts, tells an audience drawn from Texline to Texarkana and El Paso to Gladewater that the fine arts are our second line of defense, "the only things that all countries of the world still have in common."

A POSSIBLE COMPLAINT

IF WE had a complaint to voice of this convention it would be that there is too much confusion and disorganization. Lubbock club women arrived in Austin late Tuesday evening and after attending a tea at the Woman's club were directed to hotels where reservations had been made weeks in advance. But lucky was the woman who was sent to a room before an hour or more wait standing wearily in line. Wednesday morning seventh district delegates and visitors stood in a jammed line in the spacious foyer of the beautiful Federation Headquarters from 9 o'clock until 2 o'clock, time for the deadline of registrations. Everyone who votes must be a registered delegate. In the meantime convention program was being carried out for those fortunate enough to get under the ropes and sign their names on the dotted lines.

The freezing weather is not too much bother to Panhandle and South Plains women although it does cut down visits to places of interest. Austin people are as apologetic as if there had been a mixup in weather ordered this week.

POLITICS WARMING UP

Although "politicking" is not allowed in the headquarters, the hotel lobbies are buzzing with excitement and no legislator has ever engaged in more heated arguments than we have listened to since our arrival Tuesday. Mrs. O. B. Carlisle of Houston, opponent of our own Mrs. T. W. Walker of Plainview, visited a seventh district breakfast Wednesday morning by invitation of Mrs. J. M. Rutherford, retiring president. The two are warm friends and Mrs. Rutherford had been entertained at Mrs. Carlisle's headquarters to her enjoyment and the dismay of the club women from the top of Texas who are trying so hard for wholehearted cooperation in showing other parts of Texas that a West Texan is entitled to the office after 29 years. Of course when these lines are being read we will know who is elected but as they are being written it is nip and tuck some bother and lots of fun.

MRS. GODSEE INTRODUCED

AT THE breakfast Wednesday morning Mrs. H. F. Godsee was introduced as the new seventh district president and she spoke a few gracious words, giving her theme for the next two years as "the quest of the fine art of living." Later in the morning she appeared on a radio program. Mrs. Emmett Kerr of Lubbock was introduced as the new district secretary.

SHOULD TRY TO AID MANKIND

Most impressive to the writer thus far was Mrs. Schrader's talk because ever so often the convention gets down to the theme of the gathering, national defense. Of course her address was based on the fine arts, books, art and music but she stressed the necessity of having spectators as well as performers in these fields. One is alive, she said, when one has an appreciation of the fine art which may be attained if one devotes his leisure time to a pursuit of them. She pointed out that machinery has given man more time to devote to the hobbies but unless he has a discerning eye he will likely allow power, success and luxury make him seifish and material in his desires. In our pursuit of the fine arts we should try to benefit not only ourselves but mankind, she said.

Mrs. Schrader has an excellent voice and she gave her audience a few hints on appearing before a microphone. You are not shouting to the country, you are speaking to one person or two or three, she advised. We can find no better example of a successful lecturer than President Roosevelt and his fireside chats, she said.

Mrs. Lexie Dean Robertson, of Rising Star, poet laureate of Texas, read her poem, Texas Speaks to Her People, written somewhat in a Carl Sandburg vein and continuing the theme that in preparing our defenses we must not overlook the vital defense of the spirit.

Junior High Will Have Open House

Parent-teacher associations met Thursday afternoon for discussions which are of interest to mothers of growing children. They included nervousness, democracy and work the children are doing in the schools.

The George M. Hunt P-TA met at the Central Baptist church with Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools, as guest speaker. His subject was "Education and the Democratic Way of Life." He pointed out the challenge the schools and the homes must meet if democracy is to be preserved.

Patriotism Discussed

The Junior High P-TA met at the school with Jay E. Gordon in charge. The theme was on "Symposium of Americanism and Patriotism In the Home and the School." Mrs. Isabel Garrison led an informal discussion on objective in both the home and school.

The theme of the discussions was based on the Americanism and patriotism in the songs, "My Country 'Tis Of Thee," and "America The Beautiful."

Sam Leifeste talked on how the schools are teaching children a trade because people are happier when they are working. He stated that this was "Americanizing."

Mrs. F. L. Rankin and Mrs. John Miller reported a recent P-TA convention in Dallas.

Tea Hour Planned

This afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock the Junior High P-TA will entertain the parents with an open house. Classes will be conducted by teachers so that parents will know the type of work being taught their children.

Why Didn't They Want You, Mommy?

Obtain... and Hold Their Admiration—DON'T be a Wallflower Mother—Serve Admiration Coffee!

"Why didn't they want you, Mommy?" Poor little darling... wise beyond her years, she'd noticed the silence that greeted her mother's eager proposal to prepare coffee for the Mother's Club. But she didn't know... and Mommy didn't know... how different it would have been—if only Mommy had known about the goodness of Admiration Coffee before. Hostess—or wallflower... the choice is yours.

So don't you risk it—not even once. Don't be known as a poor coffee maker—don't expect just any coffee to satisfy any more than you would expect just any size shoe to fit. Avoid embarrassment... avoid being a wallflower mother—serve Admiration Coffee! It's foolproof. Remember... more Southwestern housewives use Admiration than any other coffee. Admiration is so dependable!

IT SAVES—Admiration's blend of full-bodied and more expensive coffees makes it economical to use. Many housewives report that they get more cups per pound. A Tip to remember.

IT SATISFIES—Men... yes, and women, too... go for Admiration's extra rich and extra mellow flavor. A Tip to remember.

IT PROTECTS—Scientific vacuum packing and modern cellophane packaging, etc., bring you Admiration protected from coffee staleness. A Tip to remember.

Defense Training Courses Under Consideration For Texas Tech's Curricula

Further Data On Work Received

Further information from the United States office of education in regard to engineering defense training has been received at Texas Technological college, where courses which might be offered under the program for which Congress appropriated $9,000,000 are being considered.

President Clifford B. Jones said the college would offer its cooperation in the national program. "We are tremendously and continuously interested in making available our every resource in national and state defense," he said Thursday.

Inquiries Are Received

College officials several days ago invited inquiries from persons interested so that it might be determined the extent of interest and the specific courses attracting greatest interest. O. V. Adams, dean of engineering, said this morning several inquiries had been received.

The following courses are under consideration: Machine Design, Tool engineering, Aeronautical Engineering, Explosives, Engineering Drawing and Sanuitary Engineering.

For Immediate Practical Application

According to information received at Tech from the Federal Security agency, U. S. office of education, Washington, D. C., the special courses "will concentrate upon training of immediate practical application to defense jobs."

The special courses will be established "for the intensive training of over 30,000 students with technical backgrounds to meet future needs of both industry and government in carrying out the defense program."

Courses would not be available at Tech only to students now enrolled in college. On the contrary, each course would require full time and courses therefore would not be available to students continuing a regular college course.

As for employment after completion of the course, the information from Washington makes these statements: "As the program develops arrangements will be made to facilitate the placement of students in defense positions as they complete their training. Much of this will be done by direct contacts between engineering schools and nearby industries, but students will also have available the facilities of state and federal employment offices and the U. S. Civil Service commission."

Of Special Interest To Engineers

The courses are expected to be of special interest to men with engineering degrees not now employed in industry or those who consider their present employment unsatisfactory; persons with B. A. degrees who have majored in mathematics or physics, or in the case of the course in explosives, in chemistry, but who are not now employed in industry, and persons with three or more years of work in an engineering college now employed in engineering fields which are at present not particularly active.

"Actual and potential needs for additional technical and supervisory personnel will determine the specific courses to be offered and every effort will be made to maintain a continuous balance between the supply of trainees and demands for their services," the information continues.

To Forestall Potential Shortages

"The first courses to be established will be designed to forestall potential shortages of inspectors of materials, chemicals, explosives, instruments and power units; designers of machinery, equipment, tools and dies, and aircraft power plants, structures and instruments; production engineers and supervisors; physical metallurgists, marine engineers and naval architects. As other needs become apparent, additional courses will be added to this program."

Before a coordinated plan for the country as a whole is made, institutions desiring to take part in the program are to submit preliminary plans stating the need for trained technician in their areas, the facilities and personnel they have available for giving the necessary courses, the number of students that can be taught and the approximate cost of instruction.

There will be no tuition charges. Federal allotments to the participating colleges may be used to meet cost of salaries, materials and supplies, reference books, the operation of buildings, the maintenance and repair of equipment and, to a limited extent, the purchase or rental of additional equipment and the leasing of space in non-college buildings.

High School Students Of Iowa Married

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Nov. 14. (U.P.)—A romance that started two years ago when they played together with dolls and built doll houses, has culminated in marriage for Alfred "Sonny" Foster, 16, and his 14-year-old girl friend, Betty Jean.

It started when the girl's parents moved next door to the Andrew Foster home. Betty Jean liked dolls and "Sonny" was fond of building doll houses, so they became inseparable playmates.

Recently the Fosters moved out of the neighborhood and it seemed natural that Betty Jean should go with them.

The boy and girl wanted to get married. Their parents consented and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. C. Shrout, pastor of the Central Nazarene church here.

The honeymoon was a month in Colorado visiting relatives.

Guinn Brothers Sell Holdings

(By The Associated Press)

FALLS CITY, Neb., Nov. 14. — B. G. Guinn of Odessa, Tex., co-owner of Pawnee Royalty company announced today the company's oil properties in the Forest City basin have been sold to the Ohio Oil company of Findley, O.

Guinn, who owns Pawnee jointly with his brother, W. A. Guinn, of Slaton, Tex., declined to reveal the exact consideration, but said the deal involved a large amount of cash and overriding royalty rights.

Leases On 65,000 Acres

The sale, which brings a major Midwest oil company into the New Falls City field, included leases on approximately 65,000 acres of land, principally in Richardson and Nemaha counties in Nebraska and Brown county in Kansas.

Pawnee brought in the oil discovery well in Nebraska a year ago and had drilled eight other producers since then. The Ohio firm, former Standard Oil subsidiary, will take over the properties Saturday.

Seasonal Increases In WPA Employment

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14. (A.P.) — Seasonal increases in WPA employment quotas for November in all states of region six except Louisiana were announced today by C. B. Braun, regional director of the WPA.

The regional increase for the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Mississippi amounts to 15,200 persons but Louisiana is not participating because adequate projects have not been certified as available, Braun said.

Dutch Jokesters Plan To Erect Monument To An "Unknown Cow" Killed In Conflict

Associated Press Feature Service

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 14.—War and occupation have not squelched Dutch humor.

"We Netherlanders are going to erect a statue to the unknown cow at the end of the war," one Dutch farmer solemnly remarked. When asked to explain, he said "Well, the daily official reports of British bombings on Dutch soil always state that only cows were hit."

A Dutch woman entered a shop at the same time as two German soldiers. Politely the Germans insisted, "After you, madam." Her retort in untranslatable Amsterdam slang was, "No, thank you, gentlemen—after you. You are in a hurry no doubt. You have to go to England, don't you?"

A number of Dutchmen and a German soldier, sipping their beer at a pub, were discussing the width of the English Channel. The German warrior insisted it would take only half an hour to get across. The Dutchmen challenged the assertion. They brought a map to prove their point.

The Teuton soldier ended the argument with a gesture of disdain.

"Oh well," he said, "just British propaganda."

Rationing is a fruitful theme for Dutch jokesmiths. The following question and answer combine butter, gasoline and textiles, all of which are scarce and rationed, in one joke.

Question: "What is the acme of impossibility?"

Answer: "To cleanse a grease spot on a woolen coat with gasoline."

Six-Day Week Is Sloan Proposal

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Industry's five-day work week should be supplanted by a six-day week when and if necessary to speed national defense, Alfred P. Sloan, chairman of General Motors corporation said last night.

Sloan said "this should be the first step . . . when the slack of unemployment is taken up and the increasing speed of industry has been utilized to the fullest practical extent." He added that "a general shortage of labor resources does not appear likely in the near future."

Girl Guides in Leper Companies of India gave up meat and fish for a week and presented the money thus saved to a Gift Week Fund.

Five-Year Program For Baptist Expansion In Texas Recommended By Leader

Dr. Truett Gives Plan To Session

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 14—Dr. George Truett of Dallas, former president of the World Baptist Alliance, recommended to the Texas Baptist convention today "a definite program for the gradual enlargement of all our convention work, for the next five years."

"The hope of Texas and of America and of all this poignantly suffering and imperiled world lies in the response of Christ's people to his call to them to be faithful to him and his cause.

To further this response, Dr. Truett, in presenting the report of the committee on an enlarged program, suggested Baptists give "increasing and far larger emphasis to the primary work of evangelism and missions," and formulate and execute plans to "fortify, enlarge and endow" institutions.

Recommends Higher Budget.

Dr. Truett recommended a convention budget of $1,100,000 for 1941 and a gradual increase until in 1945 the figure would be $1,500,000.

"Neither state nor church can live by controlling the other," Dr. J. B. Thiwell of Baylor university declared in an address which was read by P. D. O'Brien of Stamford.

He declared the church must war vigilantly against "the rise of the totalitaian state, gambling, liquor, easy, unscriptural divorce and unholy remarriage," and the "evil of war" — "national wars, racial wars, economic wars and wars growing out of fear."

Increased Budget Adopted.

Early B. Smyth of Dallas, in a report on Christian education, said most of the Texas Baptist institutions are now debt-free, and the debts of others are being regularly reduced.

An increased budget of $1,070,000 for the coming year has been set up by the convention.

Calling for approximately $20,000 more than for the last fiscal year, the new budget, adopted by the convention yesterday, apportioned $340,000 to southwide causes, $380,000 for payment of debts and $341,000 for state missions.

The Rev. R. C. Campbell, convention secretary, speaking yesterday, told delegates that "dictators have made their appearance in other days, and as sure as God is God, the dictators of the present day with all the evils of totalitarianism will be downed."

He reviewed briefly the history of Baptists in Texas, saying that during 100 years the work had grown from one church to 3,100; from one association to 110, from a dozen members to 730,767, and from one preacher to 2,500.

H. D. Bruce of Midland, chairman of the committee on hospital boards, told the convention that Baylor Hospital at Dallas, the Hendricks Memorial Hospital at Abilene, the Hillcrest Memorial Hospital at Waco, the Valley Baptist Hospital at Harlingen, and the Memorial Hospital here had given $250,000 worth of services during the year.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

New Pneumonia Type Discovered

By STEPHEN J. McDONOUGH
Associated Press Science Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 14—A new type of pneumonia caused by a virus instead of bacteria was described today before the annual meeting of the Southern Medical association.

Heretofore pneumonia was believed due entirely to one or more of 33 specific types of the pneumococcus bacteria, but Dr. Warfield T. Longcope of the Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, Md., declared that the new type of the disease, sometimes fatal, cannot be attributed to any of these.

An Insidious Form.

It is an insidious form of the disease, he said, because it may develop for as long as three weeks with a dry cough, irregular fever, sometimes high fever, blueness of the skin and nausea before a chest examination reveals true pneumonia.

The disease is highly contagious, Dr. Longcope declared, many cases having occurred among nurses, physicians and medical students working among infected patients.

Neither sulfapyridine of sulfathiazole, the two drugs which have markedly reduced the pneumonia death rate during the past two years, is effective against the "X" or virus type of the disease, he added.

Postal Employes Prepare For Holiday Mailing Rush

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—The 303,654 regular employes of the U. S. Post Office department have received preliminary orders to meet the department's annual bugaboo—the Christmas mailing season.

The instructions were in the Postal Bulletin by Ambrose O'Connell, first assistant postmaster general, and were directed also to thousands of special employes to be hired from Nov. 15 to Jan. 15.

The usual large supply of "Shop Early — Mail Early" placards and "Preparation for Christmas Mailing" posters will be furnished all postmasters, O'Connell said. He asked that all "employes coming in contact with the public stress early mailing" and suggested parcels may be marked "To Not Open Until Christmas."

O'Connell outlined a "mail early" campaign—"without expense to the department"—by using radio; newspapers trade and organization journals; business and civic organizations; theaters; ministers; school teachers; public utilities "and large business concerns generally."

He said the department would make no regular deliveries on Christmas day and regular employes who must work Dec. 25 will be given as much time off as possible. Plans are being made to open branch offices in districts where mailing will be heavy and information desks will "aid and direct" the public he said.

"The frequency of collections should be increased as becomes necessary," O'Connell said, "in order to keep outlying stations and street letter boxes clear of deposited mail. Full advantage should be taken of relay service to keep the foot carriers on their routes delivering mail the maximum amount of time.

He asked the postmasters to advise large advertisers to withhold heavy mailings of catalogs calendars and circulars from Dec. 7 to Jan. 1. His instructions do not apply to current advertising pertaining to holiday sales.

Special workers employed during the Christmas rush should be taken from civil service lists if possible, O'Connell said, and if possible they should be unemployed persons with dependents who are capable of performing the "rigorous" work. He said the department disapproves the "employment of close relatives," and warned "all persons who are not citizens of the United States must not be employed."

Eight Theological Students Who Refuse To Register Face Prison Sentences

Year And A Day Set As Penalty

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. — Eight theological students who refused to register for selective service were sentenced in federal court today to serve a year and a day in a federal prison to be designated by the attorney general.

The students were "conscientious objectors" from the Union Theological seminary. When they were indicted Oct. 21 for refusing to register in compliance with the selective training and service act they pleaded guilty.

Recommendation Accepted

The court accepted U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill's recommendation for sentence, while noting that the maximum term possible was 5 years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Federal Judge Samuel Mandelbaum said that if at any time within the period imposed the defendants decided to comply with the act the court would be "only too happy" to moderate the sentences.

Prisoners Are Listed

Those sentenced were:

Richard J. Wichlei, 23, of Binghamton, N. Y., a graduate of Syracuse university; William N. Lovell, 26, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who was president of the Union Theological student body and is a graduate of Yale; Donald Benedict, 23, of Newark, N. Y., Albion college graduate; David Dellinger, 25, of Wakefield, Mass., Yale graduate; Meredith Dallas, 23, of Grosse Point, Mich., Albion graduate; George M. Houser, 24, of Denver, Colo., University of Denver graduate; Joseph G. Bevilacqua, 24, of Buffalo, N. Y., Tufts college graduate, and Howard E. Spragg, 23, of Malden, Mass., also a Tufts graduate.

The sentencing was in a courtroom crowded with quiet, grave-faced men and women. Court attaches said it was one of the most solemn scenes they had witnessed.

The eight young men surrendered immediately, and were taken to the office of U. S. Marshal Lee Lowenthal to be fingerprinted before removal to the federal house of detention.

Great Human Biological Change Is Noted In College Freshmen; Rising Number Of Smaller Individuals Found Over U.S.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14. — A great human biological change found in the records of more than 65,000 American college freshmen in the last decade is reported in Science by Dr. C. A. Mills, of the University of Cincinnati.

Among them, a rising number of smaller individuals, he says, indicates a reversal in the human growth tide under which for a century young people have been progressively larger and heavier than their parents.

Dr. Mills attributes the change to weather which he says has been growing warmer for 80 years and in the last 10 has reached a "critical" level where its effects again are working on humanity as similar weather did during the dark ages.

This growth reversal, he adds, was first hinted in growth statistics in 1938 and now is becoming more definite. The upward trend in physical stature and in weight had been attributed to better diets. This food factor, Dr. Mills says, has not deteriorated, yet the statures are falling.

His freshmen were studied in four state universities Kansas, Cincinnati and Wisconsin and in the women's college of the University of North Carolina.

The girls at all four universities, he finds, are reaching adolescence earlier. In the South this change showed in the girls born in 1918 and in the North came with the girls born in 1920 and 1922.

Among the boys, height and weight still are going up at the University of Wisconsin but a reversal appears under way farther South.

"It appears," Dr. Mills declares, "that adult stature may be actually receding at lower latitudes in the United States."

He points out that almost continuous unseasonable warmth has prevailed over the earth since 1929 except for a brief period of subnormal temperatures. In 1934 the weather was particularly warm. After that year, he says, there was a distinct regression in both height and weight of Cincinnati high school students.

"Certainly," he proceeds, "this cessation or reversal in the growth tide cannot be related to any increasing dietary inadequacy here in America among families sending children to college. The dietary of this class of people in America probably never has been better than it is today.

"The marked physical recession of mankind during the dark ages occurred during centuries of world warmth, while the recent racial growth expansion has come with generally lower earth temperatures.

"From the standpoint of general racial biology it would seem important that astronomers and climatologists direct more systematic and intensive investigation into the causative background of world weather. Weather has ceased to be merely a subject for conversational pleasantry. It is rapidly coming to be appreciated as one of the really major forces dominating man's existence."

New 10-Year High Set In Texas Auto Sales

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (AP)—New automobiles on the Texas market pushed October sales of passenger cars to a new 10-year high for that month.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business reported registration of new vehicles in 16 counties totaled 7,411, an increase of 35.4 per cent above October, 1939, and 7.5 per cent above September, 1940. Registrations more than tripled those of October, 1931.

Hitler Praises Nazi Workers

(By The United Press)

BERLIN, Nov. 14. — Adolf Hitler told munitions workers who gathered at his chancellory today that German workers, "who gave German soldiers the best weapons in the world," had rendered decisive assistance "so that great German successes could be achieved with such restricted sacrifice of blood."

"With this unified labor front Germany will hold out through the war and after victory will develop a German social state which will be the most exemplary in the world," the fuehrer said.

His speech was brief. It was addressed to 85 armament front workers who received the war service cross, and 40 women workers from all parts of the reich.

"This war is carried out not only by soldiers," Hitler said, "but equally decisively by the gigantic army of millions of workers in German factories and the German arms industry."

DIES OF INJURIES

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — Forrest A. Jones, 27, died today of injuries suffered when an automobile driven by H. B. Barnsburg overturned three times at a curve within the city. Barnsburg was injured seriously.

Catholic Hierarchy Is Pledged To Defense

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Catholic hierarchy has pledged support to United States' defense efforts, at the same time calling attention to the appeal of Pope Pius XII for universal peace prayers on Nov. 24.

The day of prayer was cited at a meeting of the archbishops and bishops yesterday as "a day of universal prayer for the war-afflicted of all nations and for the establishment of just peace and the reign of charity uniting all men in brotherly love."

State Law Said Unreasonable

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. — A statewide conference of the State Safety association will be held in Dallas on Nov. 18 for the purpose of making recommendations to the next legislature to raise state and city speed limits into conformity with modern traffic conditions, George Clarke, executive secretary, announced today.

"The present traffic laws of Texas hitch the modern automobile to a horse and buggy speed limit," Clarke said. "The unreasonably low speed limits of 45 miles an hour for state highways and 20 miles for cities and towns are at the bottom of much of the speeding on highways and on city streets."

Drivers Will Obey Limits

"Most drivers will stay within speed limits if the limits are reasonable," he said.

The conference will be attended by Col. Homer Garrison, jr., director of the department of public safety; Captain Hill Foreman, chief of state highway patrol; Dewitt Greer, state highway engineer Major Harry Phillips, traffic and safety engineer of the state highway department; Thos. Willier, city traffic engineer, Houston, Virden A. Rittgers, city traffic engineer, San Antonio; W. H. Klapproth, city traffic engineer, Dallas; Clitus Jones, executive secretary, Dallas Citizens' traffic commission, and executives of the Texas Safety association.

Dance Assured For Tech Exes

Guarantee of sufficient funds to finance the downtown homecoming dance Saturday night, should income from ticket sales fail to pay for the dance, was given by the Lubbock county chapter of former students of Texas Technological college at a meeting Thursday night in Lubbock hotel.

In underwriting the event, the chapter offered to make up any deficit by individual donations from members.

Cawthon Is Speaker

The group, including 50 or more persons, heard a talk by Head Coach Pete W. Cawthon on football, from the standpoint of prospects, reputation of the Tech football team and cooperation alumni may offer in athletic success at the college.

He said he had been asked what schools besides Texas Tech are not in conferences and in answer he displayed a list of 190 colleges and universities, including such well-known schools as Brown, Bucknell, Colgate, Harvard, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Villanova, Virginia, West Virginia and Yale.

Although not big either in weight or numbers, Texas Techs squad this year is one of which alumni may be proud and has much in common with the team which went to the Cotton bowl, the coach said.

A "Rough" Job

Concerning prospects for victory in the Tech-Wake Forest homecoming game Saturday afternoon, he was neither optimistic nor pessimistic. He conceded the team has a "tough" job ahead of it and may be defeated.

He discussed impressions the team has made elsewhere this year and said comments are the best of any season in the 11 he has been coach.

Coach Cawthon said he received a letter Thursday from a Tech ex-student in Miami who wrote that the Miami university gridsters returned there so disgusted after defeat by Texas Tech that the university lent its assistant coach to help Wake Forest work out a defense.

For Ex-Students

The coach urged former students to join the Matador club.

At the meeting, besides Lubbock county former students, were two couples from out of town, Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Gabriel of Old Hickory, Tenn., and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams of San Angelo.

Members of the chapter turned in money for dance tickets already sold and retained other tickets, which they will sell or turn in Saturday.

The dance will be held exclusively for former students and their guests from 9 to 12 o'clock in Lubbock hotel, with Ned Bradley's orchestra playing.

ASSIGNMENT IS MADE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — The War department today assigned Col. John G. Booton as constructing quartermaster at the Baytown, Texas, ordnance works.

Capt. James E. Moore, 38th infantry, Fort Sill, Okla., was assigned to the Second division, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Sunday school will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

SYDNEY, Australia (U.P.)—A hen, killed by Mrs. C. F. Membrey for the family table, was not exactly the "goose that laid the golden egg" but it was the hen who had two 22 grains of gold in its gizzard. Efforts are being made to locate the goldbearing ground on which the hen must have fed.

Mexican Newspapers Hailed FDR's Recognition Of Camacho As Republic's Head

Gesture Is Said Friendly One

(By The United Press)

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14.—Newspapers today hailed what they termed President Roosevelt's recognition of Manuel Avila Camacho as president-elect of Mexico.

"In recognizing Camacho as the president-elect of our republic," wrote El Popular, "President Roosevelt has given one more proof of his loyalty and respect for the principle of non-intervention . . . and has made simultaneously patent his proposal to continue the 'Good-neighbor policy' . . . for the permanence of American solidarity."

The newspaper Nacional similarly marked Mr. Roosevelt's contribution to the good-neighbor policy and added appreciation of the "signal distinction" accorded Mexico.

Wallace Has Word Of Praise For Mexicans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — Vice President-elect Henry A. Wallace today praised the people of Mexico for a "passionate belief in democracy" which, he said, they share with the people of this country.

In a formal statement on his selection as President Roosevelt's personal representative at Mexican inauguration ceremonies Dec. 1 for President-Elect Avila Camacho, Wallace said:

Delighted To Make Trip

"I am delighted to be selected to represent the president at the inauguration of Avila Camacho as president of Mexico. I have been greatly interested in Mexico for a long time but have heretofore been unable to visit there.

"It will be a pleasure to spend a little time with the Mexican people and to see something of their great country. The citizens of Mexico have many ties with the people of the United States, not the least of which is a passionate belief in democracy. So I shall be particularly happy to be present at the inauguration of their new president."

Traffic Is Resumed Over State Highways

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — Resumption of traffic over usual routes was announced by the Texas highway department on the following roads where temporary traffic facilities had been in use:

U. S. Highway 80, around Leon river bridge work at east city limits of Eastland and in El Paso county for half a mile just south of the New Mexico state boundary.

U. S. highway 84 in the city of Coleman.

State highway 329 in Falls and Bell counties where 12 miles of asphalt was being placed between U. S. highway 77 at Lott and state highway 53 in Bell county.

Draft Reveals Seattle Woman Who Posed As A Married Man

SEATTLE, Nov. 14. (AP) — Add strange doings brought to light by the draft registration—

A Seattle woman who for ten years had been masquerading as a man,—and a married one at that—was so upset by fear of being drafted that she was on the verge of insanity, authorities said.

Authorities identified the male impersonator only as "Mr. X" and said an insanity complaint had been filed. "Mr. X" drew a low draft number and brooded over the inevitable exposure an army physical examination would bring.

An autobiography penned by "Mr. X" in recent weeks indicated, authorities said, that she impersonated a man because she was the sixth daughter to be born to parents who longed desperately for a son.

Army Quarters Are Enlarged

District army recruiting office is now located in larger quarters on the second floor of the federal building, the change having been made late Thursday, Major Walter Jessen, district officer, said.

Six rooms are to be used, rooms 200, 201, 202, 203, 204 and 206. Major Jessen's office will be in room 206, with Lieut. Homer Johnson, medical officer. Room 200 will be used for medical examinations. Additional medical equipment was received Thursday.

Capt. Everett Bright, assistant recruiting officer, will be in room 205, with several of the clerks in an adjoining room. Authorization for the change was received Thursday by Postmaster Amos Howard, building custodian.

Offices Were Changed

The fish and wild life service, formerly in rooms 209 and 206 was moved back to its former location, 219, at the west end of the hall. Last June the two offices changed locations when the army recruiting office here was advanced to a district office.

Sub-stations are located at Plainview, Amarillo, Pampa and Childress. Recruits from these stations are given medical examinations and sworn into the service here, being assigned to fill quotas from various departments of the army.

Levelland Shows Building Boom

LEVELLAND, Nov. 14. (Special)—Figures compiled yesterday revealed that during the first ten months of the current year building permits issued totaled approximately $190,575.00 with a number of the applications for both business and residential buildings being received the past few days.

Construction began Monday of this week on a two-story brick front building that will face the Courthouse on the south side of the square. Being erected by Carl Ratliff the building contractor is R. C. Brown and construction superintendent is Joe Allen. The structure will have a 35 foot frontage and extend 122 feet deep.

First floor of the building will be given over to a business location while plans call for office espected to be completed and space on the upper floor. Foundation work on the structure was nearing completion yesterday as workmen began laying first rows o. tile for the walls of the building.

A 15 foot frontage adjacent to the East wall of the Ratliff building and extending 86 feet will House the Hockley County Abstract Co., and the Plains Insurance Agency. This structure is being built concurrently with the two storied building but will only be one story high. C. G. Slough and R. H. "Dick" Godfrey, partner and manager, are erecting the structure which will have a reception lobby in front and a hallway extending down the east side to the offices.

Since October 1 permits have been issued for 14 residential structures in addition to four other business buildings.

McCann's Grocery will soon move into their new location as will the Red & White Store.

J. Warren Pearcy has had the new location for the Red & White store under construction for several weeks and completion is expected within a short time.

Other business locations include a 14 by 30 foot extension to the Bigham Furniture Company store and a frame and sheet iron structure built by Guetersloh for use as a garage work shop.

W. H. Place, Amarillo, has four residential houses under construction, three of which will each be 22 by 28 feet in size and are ready for occupancy by tenants by December 1.

Other residences that permits have been granted for include:

Mrs. C. J. Conatser, a frame duplex; E. L. Birdwell, frame house for tenant, 24 by 28 feet; Glenn Cannon, frame house.

R. O. Hamill, tenant residence; J. Worley, 14 by 34 residence; A. J. Kaufman, 28 by 30 feet, residence, to be completed by November 15. I. N. Johnson, 24 by 28 feet, frame residence, to be completed by December 1. M. E. Lambrt, 24 by 28, residence, completion, December 1. Luke Cole, 24 by 28, frame residence completion, December 1.

C. H. Micheal, frame extension 12 by 32 to residence, completion by December 1.

Era Of High Taxation Predicted By Texan

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 14. (AP) — Hugh Potter, Houston, Tex., real estate dealer, predicted today "an era of the highest taxation our people have ever endured," but said that real estate would enjoy a "relative advantage."

The past president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in a speech prepared for the organization's annual convention, declared:

"While the total national tax burden is inevitably going up there are emerging several influences which, it is believed, will cause these increases in taxation to settle more heavily proportionately on forms of wealth other than realty than they will on real estate itself, thus increasing the relative desirability of real property as an investment."

VOTE DIDN'T COUNT

BRYN ATHYN, Pa., Nov. 14. (AP)—Voters in this Philadelphia suburb approved Sunday movies in the general election, but found out today it didn't count. The elections board said the referendum had been placed on the ballot in error.

It didn't make a great deal of difference, though, because the borough has no theaters.

McElroy To Go To Work Soon

Lee Hick McElroy, 1936 graduate of Texas Technological college and the new assistant county farm agent, will begin his duties Saturday morning, said C. C. Johson, county farm agent, Thursday afternoon after a visit here of the new assistant, who has been stationed at Amherst in a similar capacity for Lamb county.

While here Thursday Mr. and Mrs. McElroy arranged for a home. They will reside at 1502 Twenty-eighth street. Mrs. McElroy is the former Miss Bernice Dean of Lubbock and, like her husband, is a graduate of the college.

Registered in college from Post, he returned there as vocational agriculture teacher in the high school, serving until Feb. 1939, when he resigned to enter extension service at Amherst. While in college he majored in animal husbandry and was one of the leading students during his work here. He was a member of the junior livestock judging team which placed first at the annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth in March, 1935. In college he was a member of Block and Bridle club and of the Tech Aggie club.

Member Of Rotary

McElroy succeeds Monroe U. May, who recently resigned to become farm agent of Castro county at Dimmitt. K. J. Edwards, district agent leader, approved the transfer Monday after a conference with the commissioner's court of Lamb county.

His successor in Lamb county will be Hubert T. Duke, who has been Agricultural Adjustment administration secretary-administrator for Kent county at Jayton. He is a brother of Earl T. Duke, of the plant industry department of the college and is a graduate of Texas A. & M. college. He is married, his brother said, and the couple have a son.

While at Amherst McElroy had a strong program of club work for Lamb county, working under V. F. Jones, farm agent.

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy were active in community and social affairs at Amherst and he was a member of the Littlefield Rotary club.

Red Cross Displays Here Are Superior

Displays advertising the American Red Cross membership campaign in Lubbock are superior to any others J. Ray Dickey, campaign chairman, saw in a trip through towns and cities as far away as Phoenix, Ariz.

Dickey made that statement today upon his return to Lubbock. Culver Hill, chairman of the campaign publicity committee, has had charge of advertising the local campaign through placards, window display and other mediums.

Dickey said he would call a meeting of heads of the various campaign groups Saturday, so that a check might be made of exact number of memberships sold.

Dickey said efforts would be made to give every person an opportunity to buy membership in the Red Cross. He asked that anyone missed in the canvass and desiring to contribute to the campaign call him at his business, 4133, or residence, 39.

ARRESTS ARE ORDERED

DENVER, Nov. 14. (AP) — Police Chief August E. Hanebuth has ordered the arrest of persons distributing pamphlets bearing such titles as "The Situation as I See it," by Adolf Hitler. Draft Advisors Are Named To Committee

Ten additional selective service advisory board members for Lubbock county were named Thursday by a committee composed of Judges E. L. Pitts, Judge Daniel A. Blair and Durwood Bradley.

Following names were announced: For Slaton, E. R. Legg, Roy Boyd, J. W. Alspaugh and E. T. Thornton; for Posey, Sam M. Gentry and C. Z. Fine; for Shallowater, Earl Teague, Henry Mahoney and A. C. Wright; for Lubbock, Harve Kendrick of the postoffice.

Attempt To Be Made Next Tuesday To Vote Adjournment Of National Congress

Summons Solons Back To Capital

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Senators and representatives were summoned today from all parts of the country to vote next Tuesday on a resolution that would send them home again.

With election over, Speaker Sam Rayburn was confident that house members would vote to end the 76th session of congress—provided he can get them back here.

Efforts of administration leaders to get an adjournments or long recess before the election, collapsed because of the opposition of all House Republicans and many Democrats. House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, jr., still opposed adjournment, but Rayburn thinks that enough Democrats have changed theid minds to make it possible.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early issued a statement yesterday asserting that Mr. Roosevelt was not particularly interested in any pending legislaion and had nothing additional to suggest.

Last Rites Read For Neville Chamberlain

By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 14. — The ashes of former Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain were placed beneath the stone floor of Westminister abbey today in a silence broken only by the voice of the Arch-bishop of Canterbury commending his spirit to God.

The Angelican service for the man who had tried to aver the war lasted forty minutes in an interval between air raid warnings.

Body Cremated.

At the end of the ritual, the choir sang. Mrs. Chamberlain, heavily veiled, knelt on the floor and, taking chrysanthemum petals from her handbag, dropped them into the small crypt where the urn rested.

The public was excluded and those who went to the cold gray abbey—including the Duke of Gloucester, representing the royal family, Prime Minister Winston Churchill and his cabinet, and dignataries of the church—were quietly admitted as they presented cards marked "secret."

The order of the burial service, printed in blue ink, was headed with an air raid precaution in flaming red.

Chamberlain died last Saturday. His body was cremated yesterday.

ported to have returned to base—perhaps Malta or Crete. At the same time, circumstances of Monday night's raid made it appear that the planes of three British aircraft carriers—the Eagle, the Illustrous, the Ark Royal—were now in position to strike again and again at Italy.

In Germany: Berlin—which had an eminent Soviet guest in the Russian premier and foreign minister, Vyacheslaff Molotoff—attacked, and fires started in the night.

Targets Hit Again.

Among objectives bombed in the capital, the air ministry said, were the Schlesischer railway station—a familiar target now—and the Grunewald freight yards.

Elsewhere in Reich territory the ministry reported these targets hit again: Cologne power station; factories at Dortmund and Dusseldorf; the important Rhine port area of Duisburg-Ruhrort; coke ovens at Lintfort; oil plants at Gelsenkirchen, Hanover, Leuna; airdromes in various areas, and a seaplane base at Norderney; the docks at Calais and Wilhelmshaven.

In this German phase of the campaign, the British acknowledged the loss of two planes.

Port Is Pounded.

In Albania and along the desert front: the vital Albanian port of Durazzo pounded once more in a long series of attacks and further damage left amid the flames still burning from previous raids.

Valona, another Albanian port to the south, bombed heavily; an ammunition dump and motor transport concentrations hit.

Sidi Barrani and Derna in the western desert raided, along with Bardia and Bengasi in Italian Libya; more fires started; ships in Bengasi harbor bombed.

As the world prestige of the British navy and air fleets correspondingly rose, it was understood that five new 35,000 ton battleships of 30 knots, of the King George V class, now have gone into service.

Morale Threatened.

If they are in fact in service Britain's total of capital ships stands at 19 against an Axis capital strength, as figured here, of nine.

To many here, the action at Taranto was the greatest victory for Britain since the defeat of the massed squadrons of German bombers which sought control of British air in the late summer and early autumn.

They suggested that it would have a tremendous diplomatic and propaganda value—heartening the Greeks and Turks, sobering Spain and perhaps Russia, and perhaps even leading to such a decline in Italian morale that quick victories would be needed to head off a possible popular movement against Mussolini.

Netherlands Give Germans Trouble

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP) — Dr. Alexander Loudon, the Netherlands minister, said tonight the Nazis were encountering increasing resistance in his country.

"German soldiers, nowadays, hardly dare to go out after sunset because so many of their number have been pushed into canals and drowned," he added in an address prepared for a dinner meeting of the Holland society.

City Starts Sixth Month Of No Deaths

Lubbock today has an impressive aggregate of 154 consecutive days without a traffic death—five "deathless months" — and plans are being made to continue the good record.

Not since about 1:30 o'clock the afternoon of June 14 has a fatal automobile accident occurred within the city limits of Lubbock. The last victim was Sammy Hatcher, 2134 Nineteenth street, who died of injuries received when struck by a car in front of his home.

The record has been made while preparations continued for the start Sunday of a safety campaign to be continued under sponsorship of the Junior Chamber of Commerce through the remainder of the year.

Lewis Kittrell, police traffic sergeant, reminded that the safety record thus far will be in particular danger during the next few days.

Traffic to the Texas Technological college-Wake Forest game Saturday afternoon, to the Lubbock-Amarillo High school game Thursday afternoon and the usual heavy movement during the Thanksgiving holiday period will combine to create one of the most perilous periods of the year.

of the way."

But Hyde appeared suddenly at the penitentiary yesterday afternoon with two alienists. He asked the Pittsburgh county district court for writs of habeas corpus and mandamus which would have forced a mental examination. It was denied.

Hyde then appealed to the criminal court of appeals unsuccessfully.

Four husky guards led Cunningham to the scarred old chair which had taken 58 other lives. He was strapped securely, the work of a minute. Electrodes were clamped on.

Not a movement of a face muscle was noticeable. Cunningham closed his eyes as the black mask was adjusted.

Envoy Fred Goddard of the McAlester Salvation army and John D. Seal, prison chapiain, were with Cunningham during his final minutes in the death cell.

"He admitted he did it but said he didn't know why," Goddard said. "He said he'd rather not discuss it any more."

Puffs On Cigar.

The condemned man, with hope abandoned shortly before midnight, appeared to gain a stronger grip on himself as the end neared. He puffed steadily on a cigar until he was led from the cell.

Three hours before he went to his death, Cunningham was visited by his attorney, who rapped on the bar and said: "It's Herbert."

"Roger, boy, keep your chin up," Hyde said as the prisoner lifted his head from his bunk in the shadows.

The prisoner asked to speak to Hyde alone and Dunn placed two chairs at one end of the death cell corridor.

Grotesque Scene.

It was a grotesque scene as the two sat there in the pale, yellow light of death row.

A white handkerchief covered Cunningham's clean-shaved head. He wore a spotless white shirt. Hyde offered a cigar, which the prisoner accepted hesitantly. They talked low and earnestly 10 minutes.

As a final request Cunningham asked that Hyde request Mrs. Joel P. Stokes, the slain woman's mother, to forgive him.

He paused at his cell, shook hands with reporters and told them goodbye, then flung himself on his bunk face downward.

to Britain; no major attacking squadron was able to reach the city and late in the afternoon 20 British Spitfire fighters were declared officially to have "utterly routed" a swarm of 40 German Junkers dive bombers, and an escort of Messerschmitt fighters, which sought to attack Dover harbor.

Fifteen Junkers were shot down, the air ministry announced—13 of them by a single squadron of 12 Spitfires—while British losses during the entire day were only two planes. Total German losses yesterday were put at 19.

More Are Trained.

The Nazis apparently are lessening the number of full-powered nightly visits because of the hazards over the channel and south coast routes to London. A powerful force of RAF night-flying fighters is gradually being built up with the actual battleline being pushed nearer the Germans.

Three steps in this campaign were thus unofficially described tonight:

Fighter patrols are regularly taking off in the late afternoon to attack the night raiders as they set out from occupied France.

Spitfires and Hurricane fighters are escorting flights of RAF bombers every suitable day across the channel to harass the air fields used by night raiders.

More and more fighter pilots are being trained, like their colleagues of the bomber command, to become expert in night flying.

DIVORCE SUIT FILED.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. (AP) — Suit for divorce was filed today by Mrs. Leta Gosden against Freeman Gosden, the "Amos" of radio's "Amos and Andy team." She charged mental cruelty. The couple has two children and has been married 13 years.

Crosby Sheriff Clears Docket

Sheriff Jim Williams of Crosby county has only one unsolved case, but it bothers him plenty.

It is the Lorenzo bank case. The bank was robbed several months ago and Irvin Bownds, cashier, slain, as all know.

Other than that, the sheriff has solved the only two cases of felony import that have been reported since the last term of court.

Suspects Arrested.

Recently the sheriff arrested three men, two at Clarendon and one at Memphis, suspected of having burglarized a service station in his county. He recovered five casings and a quantity of oil, but an adding machine and a cash register could not be found despite the suspects' having informed him to take a search warrant and look around a bit in Knox county, he said.

The culprit in the other burglary was a 6-year-old boy.

"His case was the most unusual burglary I've encountered," the sheriff said Thursday in Lubbock.

A Ralls house was ransacked and eggs broken all over the place. Flour was scattered and in it could be discerned small footprints.

Tried To Cover Up.

The sheriff called in a bunch of juveniles and got information leading to his detaining the 6-year-old for questioning.

The boy admitted breaking into the house and breaking a dozen and a half eggs. He said he couldn't decide why he broke them. "I moved the bucket from a shelf and it fell. Some of the eggs broke. I picked up the others and began throwing them. Then I tried to cover up the mess with flour from a bin," the boy said.

It was the flour that led to his detention.

Next term of 72nd district court is the second Monday in January. There will be a grand jury.

More Italians Taken

ations, the Greeks said they lost only one plane.

Fascist troop reinforcements were reported hurrying today from the Yugoslav frontier toward southern Albania in an effort to halt Greek advances in that area which military experts said were assuming proportions of a counter-invasion.

In every Greek account, the Italian war on Greece thus had become a disaster for the invaders on this, the 18th day of the campaign.

Good News Told.

Briefly summarizing the position, a government spokesman said the Greeks were advancing all along the 100-mile front and were known to be on Albanian soil at numerous points.

"The news from the front is excellent," he remarked. "Our troops push the advance in all three (main) sectors . . ."

In the center of the battleline the Greeks were declared in dispatches from the front to have cut out a new salient; to the south—in areas abandoned by the Italian right wing—the defenders were reported to be rapidly mopping up, above Ioannina Greek troops were said to be systematically driving into Albanian territory and imminently threatening the destruction of Italian communications.

Greeks Advancing.

In the coastal Epirus sector to the west, which fronts upon the Ionian sea, other Greeks were advancing, and on the northern front a government spokesman reported that the Greeks still held fast to their mountain positions dominating the important Albanian town of Koritza.

By none of these successes, however, were the Greeks cheered so much as by the news that Italian troops had been forced to abandon positions on the Yugoslav frontier to hurry south.

This maneuver suggested to some observers here that continuing British and Greek air attacks on vital Italian naval bases, Taranto in particular, had halted the transport of reinforcements from Italy.

undergo even colder weather today with the thermometer dropping below freezing marks from western Carolina to the Gulf coast.

Forecasts of a drop close to 25 degrees during the night along the Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama coasts were made by weathermen. Subfreezing weather was indicated for northern Florida. In the interior, even more frigid weather was expected.

The mercury dropped into the low 20's Thursday morning in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky and Arkansas. Rising temperatures were forecast in Texas and Oklahoma Friday.

In Alabama, farmers were advised to hurry up uthe gathering of potato and tomato crops. The sugar and truck crop regions of southern Louisiana also were affected by the cold. The principal citrus areas in Florida were expected to escape the freeze.

munication with other points in the western part of the state.

Ted Grobie, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, told the examiner that oil men in that area frequently had to go to Austin to discuss proration orders and would welcome an air service.

Hudson Smart, representing the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, and C. Y. Early of Brownwood declared air service was needed to other Texas cities.

The hearing will continue tomorrow.

"MASTER PLANNER"—Britons are expecting ever-increasing R. A. F. counter-attacks against their foes, inspired by Sir Charles Portal, new Chief of Air Staff, who is known as an apostle of attack. As head of the bomber command, he drew up the "master plan" of blasting German embarkation ports and supply bottlenecks which is largely credited with staving off invasion.

News Briefs

Police early this morning said a report of a burglary at 134 East Broadway had been made, with a claimed loss of $21 in property, including a suit, a pair of shoes, a pair of hand clippers and a razor. M. McDaniels made the complaint, police said.

Premier Of Egypt Is Fatally Stricken

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 14. (AP)—In the midst of reading King Farouk's speech from the throne expressing loyalty to Great Britain, Egyptian Premier Hassan Sabry Pasha crumpled to the floor and died today at the opening session of Parliament.

Before setting out for the meeting of parliament the king had invested the premier with the Insignia of the Grand Collar of Mohamed Ali, highest of Egyptian honors.

He collapsed only three feet from the king whose eyes filled with tears. The government ordered a state funeral for tomorrow.

Reading of the speech was continued by the president of the Senate. In it the king said Egypt had made her alliance with Great Britain "with complete sincerity, both in letter and spirit," had full confidence in her ally, and that her policy was to maintain friendship with all nations except Britain's enemies."

Canadian Air Courses Ahead Of Schedule

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—William A. Bishop, air marshal of Canada, said tonight that the pilot training program in the Dominion is a year ahead of schedule, in spite of the fact that many instructors had to be sent into action in England to help repel the Nazi air attack.

He came here to lecture tomorrow night before the National Geographic society.

Bishop, who a month ago was in England observing aerial combat, predicted "a long war" but ultimate victory. "But I don't for a moment think we are not going to get some very bad knocks."

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 14. (AP) — A section of the ceiling of the Harris Alvin motion picture theater collapsed tonight causing a stampede among its 150 patrons.

Four persons were taken to the hospital for treatment of injuries and several others were hurt in the wild scramble for exits.

Rumanian Oil Taken By Nazis

By ROBERT ST. JOHNS
Associated Press Staff Writer

BUCHAREST, Nov. 14. — Despite ice, floods and earthquakes, Germany has drawn a stream of more than 1,000,000 tons of oil from Rumania this year for her war machine and rising imports are forecast.

Many Rumanian refineries may be shut down seve l weeks due to damage from the tremors since Sunday, but reservoirs are full and some companies had already been capping wells to restrict production.

Until the refineries resume production again, shipment will be made from these stores. The only effect on Axis military plans may be the consumption of reservoir stocks which otherwise might have been shipped south in event of an extensive campaign in the Balkans and Near East.

American oil men here express belief that shipments to Germany may approach 200,000 tons this month and the same in December. The highest previous month's shipment was in May, 1936, when 194,000 tons were moved. Shipments may reach a possible total of 1,400,000 tons in 1940, compared with 1,285,000 tons in 1939, and 1,765,000 in the record year of 1936.

Conference Ends

cluding long hours with Fuehrer Hitler, sufficed to bring agreement on what reliable informants said was a basis of "strictly business give-and-take."

Meanwhile, a speech by the Fuehrer himself pictured Germany in the post-war role of a model "socialistic state." It is this "socialistic state," he told munitions workers and army labor groups, which is fighting "a plutocratic, capitalistic England."

Molotoff, Soviet premier and foreign commissar, No. 1 collaborator of Joseph Stalin, took the train for Moscow with his large retinue at 11 a. m. (3 a. m., C.S.T.)

Molotoff Disturbed.

British bombing planes disturbed Molotoff last night in Berlin and the daily communique of the German high command reflected the ferocity of the war at sea between Germany and Britain. It reported destruction of eight British merchant ships, five by one submarine and the others by bombing planes.

An official announcement on the Berlin raid said the British dropped bombs "aimlessly over the outermost suburbs" while strong anti-aircraft defenses kept them away from the center of the city. Some fires resulted, it was said, but these were quickly extinguished.

Persons usually in the know left no doubt they were convinced that Russia was ranging herself on the side of the nations which entered the pact of Berlin Sept. 27—Japan, Italy and Germany.

No Actual Adherence.

This may not necessitate actual adherence to the pact, but for the purpose of realistic politics the outstanding fact is that all four powers agree, German sources assert, that the British empire is doomed and the question of heritage arises.

Russia, it is recailed, dreamed for centuries of a southward outlet to world seas. Hence the Axis powers are willing to show their "disinterest" in that section of the world, roughly comprising Iran, Afghanistan and British India, the informants declared.

On the other hand, they said, it may be taken for granted that Russia has agreed not to interfere with Axis claims to Europe and Africa.

Where China stands in the reported arrangement could not be learned. Russian sources indicated, however, that the Soviet union has not dropped China.

Informed sources said Turkey would have to make up her mind definitely on her future place. European Russia and Turkey alone have been excepted from what the Rome-Berlin Axis considers its European sphere.

It was argued that Germany, Italy and Russia all feel that Turkey in due time will drop her ties with Britain and seek an anschluss with the totalitarian powers.

Informed quarters said that all parties concerned would join in efforts to bring about a non-agression pact between Russia and Japan.

The claim of J. R. Hinds, 209 Avenue R, to damages as the outgrowth of the collision of his automobile with a city truck at Seventh street and Avenue Q last Nov. 8.

The request that $800 be appropriated by the city to match approximately $3,500 in labor, materials and supervision for the construction of a building to house a National Youth administration project designed to provide instructions in the building, repair, maintenance and operation of radios.

All members of the commission attended Thursday's session. They are Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Commissioners W. G. McMillan, W. B. Price, Hub Jones and Garland Newsom.

AGED ACTOR DIES.

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 14. (AP) — Charles Fontaine Lorraine, noted English actor of the 19th century, died at his home here today at the age of 100 years and 11 months.

SHARES PERILS—Queen Elizabeth, whose disregard for personal danger stiffens the morale of her subjects, is pictured in Southwark leaving a new air raid shelter which she inspected during raid.

More Insuring Of Mortgages Okayed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—The Federal Housing administration received authority today to insure mortgages on another billion dollars of home construction.

The increase, authorized by President Roosevelt, raises to $4,000,000,000 the total of mortgages which the FHA may insure and comes during the agency's busiest year since it was created in 1934.

Congratulating Stewart McDonald, FHA administrator, for his "remarkable record," Mr. Roosevelt said that "you have demonstrated that comfortable homes for people of moderate means can be provided at low cost and without loss to the government, whether the homes are owned by the occupants or rented by them."

Officials said the FHA had been self sustaining for some months, and this year expected to put $9,000,000 into its reserve. Its income is from a one-half of one per cent charge for mortgage insurance and a charge of $3 for each $1,000 of construction value for inspecting homes while they are being built.

FHA insured mortgages have been aggregating about $120,000,000 monthly this year and running well ahead of last year's business.

Japanese Announce Troops Withdrawn

SHANGHAI, Nov. 14. (AP) — Japanese military authorities announced today their troops had been withdawn from southwestern Kwangtung province, as they already had been done in neighboring Kwangsi province, strengthening the belief in foreign circles here of another impending move against French Indo-China.

Just as they explained their withdrawal earlier from Kwangsi, the Japanese declared they were moving out of southwestern Kwangtung because their troops were no longer needed there as a result of newly-gained bases in French Indo-China.

Contradicting the Japanese explanation, Chinese said the invaders were driven out at bayonet point and that Yamchow was reoccupied during the morning. A Chinese army communique said Chinese forces entered the town shortly after the Japanese embarked under cover of darkness.

Four-Year-Old Child Makes Trip By Air

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14. (AP)—Four-year-old Frank Daspit, motherless and traveling alone, arrived from Manila today aboard a clipper plane.

Pan American airways said he was the youngest passenger ever to make the crossing alone.

The boy is a son of Lieutenant Randall Daspit, attached to the submarine Pike, stationed in Manila waters. The child's mother died recently. An aunt, Miss Betsy Daspit of Homa, Louisiana, will rear the youngster. She met him here today.

Mother And Daughter Die Of Poisoning

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14. (AP) — A mother and daughter were found dead of poison today by police officers summoned by residents of their apartment house.

They were identified from a diary as Mrs. Frances Ethel Simmons Whitten, 43, and Mrs. Julia Catherine Simmons Rutledge, 21, her daughter, formerly of Keller, Tex.

A note signed with the initials of the younger woman gave directions for disposal of her body.

US Entry Would Elate Britain

BOSTON, Nov. 14. (AP)—Commander Thomas D. Galbraith, member of the British purchasing commission, declared tonight that it would be a "glorious and happy day" in British history if this country should decide to take up arms against "the totalitarian nations."

He spoke a few hours after Navy Secretary Frank Knox told an earlier session of the New England conference this country would not "appease anyone on earth," and added, "we are going to give Great Britain every possible degree of aid short of leaving ourselves defenseless."

Calls For Unity.

Knox called for "unparalleled unity" in building national defense and in preventing "organized treason" from within. He declared that "we have the strongest fleet today that floats the seven seas. It is not only stronger, but thank God it's ready."

Galbraith told a Rhode Island session of the New England conference in his prepared address tonight that it "isn't true" that "any nation engaged in such a struggle as that in which we are engaged today would not welcome the active assistance of a great and friendly nation."

Eastern Bulwark.

Asserting that "we don't expect America to come into the war to pull British chestnuts out of the fire," Galbraith added:

"But should America ever decide that the totalitarian nations threaten her trade, her standard of living, the liberty of her people, her independence, the American way of life, and that it is necessary for her to take up arms in the defense of these things, then that indeed would be a glorious and happy day in the annals of British history."

He described Britain as "the eastern bulwark of democracy."

'Model' Defense Laws Talked By Officials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (AP) — More than a score of state officials and representatives of national organizations discussed today the justice department draft of "model" defense laws which may be submitted to state legislatures meeting next year.

The suggested laws deal with sabotage prevention, regulation of secret organizations and uniform-wearing groups, control of firearms and explosives, protection of public property, reputining of special police, and mobilization of home guards.

NO FAULTS FOUND.

DALLAS, Nov. 14. (AP)—A committee of engineers investigating the wrecked bleachers at Ownby stadium where forty people were injured during the A. and M.-SMU game Saturday has found no faulty materials or construction, President Umphrey Lee announced today.

Kansas Proration Law Victorious In Court

WICHITA, Kas., Nov. 14. (AP)—A 3-judge federal court decision upholding the Kansas Corporation commission's right to divide the state's oil market equitably between prorated pools was hailed today by oil men as "a complete victory for the Kansas proration law."

The opinion, written by Judge Sam G. Bratton, New Mexico, senior member of the circuit court of appeals, and District Judge Richard J. Hopkins of Kansas, held the commission was within its rights in limiting production in the Otis pool of Rush and Barton counties.

Circuit Judge Walter A. Huxman of Kansas, third member of the court, dissented from the majority opinion.

Plaintiffs were the Bay Petroleum Corp., Denver, and the partnership of Morgan, Cobb and Flynn, Tulsa, operators in the Otis pool who supply oil to the Bay Refinery at McPherson, Kas.

Fort Worth Prepares Rodeo, Horse Show

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP) — One hundred and thirty cowboys and cowgirls were entered for the All-American Rodeo and Horse show today as the books were closed and final preparations begun for the show's doubleheader send-off tomorrow night.

Opening day festivities begin at 4 p. m. with a downtown parade in which will be 21 bands, 180 rodeo queens, two movie stars, two governors, members of the Will Rogers family, rodeo cowboys and delegations from at least 128 Texas and Oklahoma cities.

Dedication of the Will Rogers Memorial coliseum at night will be a 45-minute memorial to the late humorist-philosopher for whom the coliseum is named. Cowboys and cowgirls, bands and queens and two movie stars who knew Will Rogers will be massed in the coliseum for the dedication ceremony.

Defense Copper Is Bought From Chile

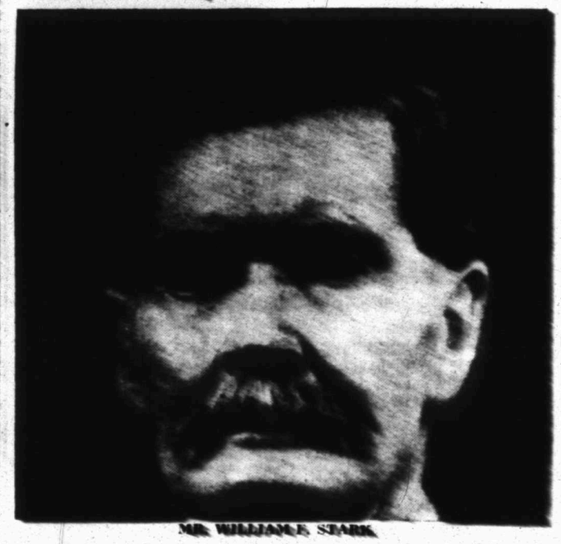

NEW YORK, Nov. 14. (AP)—Substantial purchases of copper by the United States government, duty-free, from Chile, Peru and Mexico, for rearmament purposes were reported today by reliable industrial sources.

The action, taken to forestall any threat of reduction in this nation's supplies of the important metal, was said to have the approval of the major copper producers which, for some time, have been "protected" from foreign mining competition by a duty of four cents a pound on importations.

Approval was obtained through conferences between the domestic companies and the national defense commission in Washington. The conferees were said to favor the limiting of stock held by the government to around 10,000 tons, to protect needs and yet to avoid any threat to domestic production.

HIS MY CASE PERFECTLY FORMER POSTMASTER SAYS ABOUT HOYT'S COMPOUND

My Trouble with Constipation, Sour Stomach, Gas Bloating, Dyspepsia, and Stiff, Sore Joints was Banished by Hoyt's, Mrs. Stark, Aged Lubbock Man Explains.

MR. WILLIAM P. STARK

The day never dawns but someone who suffers from indigestion, constipation, headaches, muscular pains or nervousness comes to the Mark Halsey Drug Store and learns from the Hoyt Man of the relief Hoyt's Compound may give. The Hoyt Man, a special laboratory representative, invites YOU to come and let him explain the action of this scientifically prepared medicine which thousands say has brought them relief. One who has recently praised Hoyt's Compound is 78-year-old Mr. William P. Stark of 1924 Sixth St., Lubbock, who states: "I am a former postmaster and a retired merchant of Yeso, New Mexico, and have lived in Lubbock for the past eleven years. I was afflicted with constipation, sour stomach, gas bloating, dyspepsia. The suffering became almost unbearable. My bowels were very irregular, causing my system to be filled with poison. My whole body was one pain after another, my joints became stiff and sore, and even my neck was stiff all the time. Due to weak kidneys I had to get up four or five times a night. My nerves were shattered, and I couldn't get a night's rest. The food I ate wouldn't digest, I had no appetite. I became very run-down, and lost a lot of weight.

"I began taking Hoyt's Compound, and now I feel like a new man. I can eat anything without pain in my stomach. My food digests, and the sourness and bloating have gone. My bowels are regular, my sleep unbroken. Stiffness and soreness in my joints are gone. Hoyt's is the greatest medicine I have ever taken; it fits my case perfectly. I take this opportunity to publicly endorse this great medicine!"

Hoyt's Compound is the modern liquid extract of medicinal roots and herbs, which countless former sufferers praise publicly by way of sworn statements voluntarily given for publication. Let the Hoyt Man tell you of many cases which have come to his personal attention wherein persons who have suffered found relief in Hoyt's. Talk with him today at the Mark Halsey Drug Store. Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by all leading druggists in this area. Adv.

Deacons Hit Town This Morning; Picadors Battle Cowboy Frosh This Afternoon

Wake Forest To Arrive At Eight O'clock Today

Wake Forest's rugged Deacons, a gridiron machine commonly regarded as Texas Tech's toughest opposition of the 1940 season, roll into Lubbock this morning at 8 o'clock, via Santa Fe.

A large delegation of students and fans is expected to meet Coach Peahead Walker and his boys with the idea of showing that West Texas hospitality is a good match for the Southern brand. Each member of the Deacons will be presented with a big-brimmed cowboy hat as he steps off the train.

Dvoracek Still Out

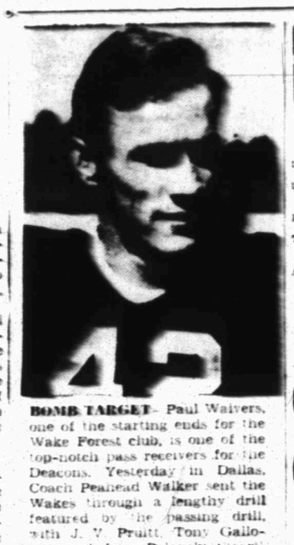

But the Red Raiders are not letting their hospitable feelings for the visitors extend to the ball game which is scheduled for Tech Stadium Saturday afternoon. On the contrary the Techsans have been putting in their hardest practice licks of the season this week. Thursday afternoon, behind gates that were locked as they have been all week, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith put their boys through offensive and defensive manuevers that lasted until darkness called a halt.

Big Charlie Dvoracek is not expected to be ready to play Saturday. He has been in a hospital since his nose hit somebody's knee in the Centenary game. But Walter "Jumbo" Webster has been doing marvelous work in practice this week, and is expected to plug the gap capably.

Otherwise the Techs are in perfect physical shape. Mental condition is, of course, harder to measure, but all outward indications seem to show that the Raiders are ready for this game as the top contest of the season.

Both teams will work out in Tech Stadium tonight. The Deacons drilled in Dallas yesterday, concentrating on a passing offensive.

A near-sellout is anticipated for the game, partly because of the annual Home coming celebration of which the contest is a feature and partly because this game is just the best home tilt of the season for the Red Raiders.

Deacons Work On Passing In Dallas

(Special To The Avalanche)

DALLAS, Nov. 14.—The Deacons of Wake Forest had to fight a strong gale and near-zero weather in their workout last night in Memphis, but this afternoon's practice session was staged under more normal circumstances. Coach Peahead Walker gave his boys a thorough two-hour drill in the public high school stadium here.

The squad is scheduled to leave here tonight and will arrive in Lubbock at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Louis Trunzo is running at the right guard post and will probably start against Tech Saturday in the place of injured Frank Kapriva.

Passing Drill Featured

Today's practice centered largely around an improvement of Wake's passing game as Coach Walker had J. V. Pruitt, Tony Gallovich and Jolting John Polanski throwing from their regular positions against the second team, Long John Jett and Paul Waivers, the No. 1 ends, were on the receiving end and indications were that the Techsans will see a barrage of aerials Saturday.

The Deacon mentor again warned his boys of the powerful undefeated Red Raiders, expressing the belief that they would be stronger than Duke or Clemson, only teams that have won over Wake this season. Special attention was called to the pile-driving plunges of Charlie Dvoracek and the general all-around ability of Backs Jumbo Webster, Milton Hill, C. L. Storrs, Thayne Amonett, Roger Smith and a host of others.

Calf Ropers End Year With Scoreless Tie

Coach Gordon Thompson's Junior High Calf Ropers closed the books on a drab season Thursday afternoon by playing the Levelland Junior Loboes to a scoreless tie on the Junior High field.

The game was the fifth and last of 1940 for the Calf Ropers. They lost their first four games by one touchdown each.

Each team threatened once yesterday, only to have an intercepted pass nullify any chance of a score. Early in the game the Levelland lads drove inside the Lubbock 20 but the Calf Ropers intercepted a Levelland pass in the end zone for a touchback.

Then in the third period, Thompson's boys charged down toward the Levelland goal, only to have a pass intercepted and the threat cut short. Intercepted passes and fumbles by both teams were frequent in the fourth quarter.

Lubbock High Netters Go To Lamesa Today

Coach Ross Ayres will take his Lubbock High school tennis team to Lamesa today for a return match with the Tornadoes.

Making the trip will be Donald Cook, Lovern Curlee, John L. Perry and John DeGarmo. Perry and Curlee will play the singles, Cook and DeGarmo the doubles.

Two weeks ago the Lamesans came to Lubbock, losing all matches to the Westerners.

Cubs Shake Up Office Staff

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Nov. 14—The Chicago Cubs, continuing a "rearrangement" of executive personnel which began with dismissal of Team Manager Gabby Hartnett, named a Chicago newspaperman general manager of the club today.

The post, a new one for the club, will be filled by James T. Gallagher, 36-year-old baseball writer of the Chicago Herald-American, who on many occasions was critical toward the National league team, particularly during the two and one-half years it was under the direction of Hartnett.

Dean To Go To Camp

Gallagher said the principal aim of his office would be to eliminate the confusion which seems to have marked Cub executive matters and to improve the team's relations with the public.

"We will definitely name a manager to succeed Hartnett before the minor league meetings early in December," said Gallagher.

"Running the team on the field will be the team manager's job; and his alone. With several promising young players coming up I think the club has possibilities. So far as Dizzy Dean is concerned, I favor taking him to camp and determining once and for all whether he can pitch major league ball."

Wilson Also Mentioned

Meanwhile, the hot-stove-league rumor kettle boiled on a successor to Hartnett. While the Cub president, P. K. Wrigley, said he had interviewed no one, the name of Bill Meyer, manager of the American association Kansas City club continued to lead the list.

Jimmie Wilson of the Cincinnati Reds has been mentioned as another possibility.

The Cubs also announced the resignation of Charles A. Weber as treasurer, to be succeeded by William L. Veeck, Jr., son of the late Cub president. Weber withdrew his resignation as vice president and will aid Veeck and Gallagher.

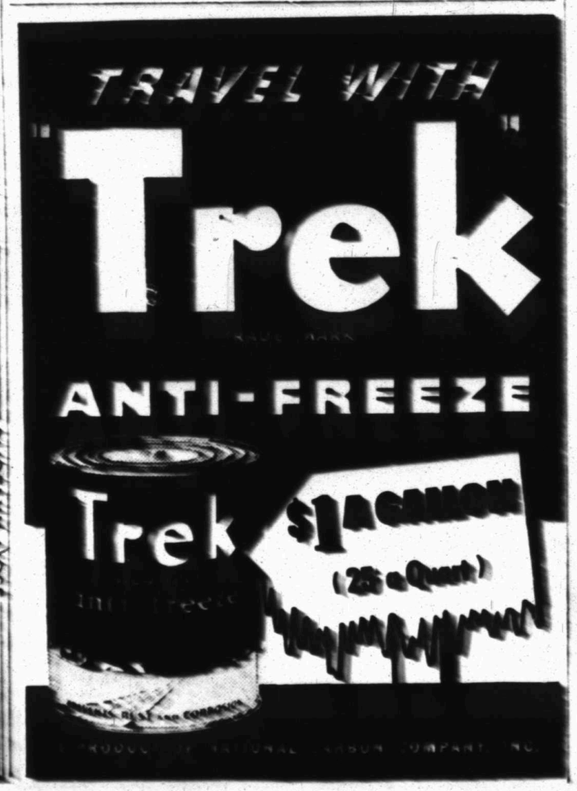

American investment in Hungary at the beginning of this year totaled over $52,000,000.

Big Red Rolls On Tech Offense Rates Second

By GAIL FOWLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SEATTLE, Nov. 14. — Although they slowed up somewhat since last week, Cornell's Big Red gridders still rank comfortably ahead in American Football Statistical bureau figures released today.

Cornell dropped from 429 to 408.2 average yards per game as a total offensive unit but is still some 42 yards ahead of its nearest competitor, Texas Tech's Red Raiders.

Aggies Lead In Time Play

Alabama retained its leadership as the best total defensive team, Lafayette kept first place as the rushing leader and Texas A. & M. retained line play honors in defense against rushing, a department in which the Aggies also led last year. Utah State is again the best defender against passes and Texas Mines is still the team with the best punting average.

The leaders include:

Total offense—Gains rushing and passing)—Cornell, 409.2 yards average per game; Texas Tech, 367; Navy, 344.6; Boston college, 340.7; Arizona, 332.2; Duke, 322.3; Detroit, 319.9; Mississippi State, 317.7; Lafayette, 315.7; Penn State, 313.3.

Rushing offense—LaFayette, 290.6 yards average per game; Texas Tech, 287.6; Boston college, 258.1; Brown, 254.6; Tennessee, 242.

Pass offense—Cornell, 209.3 yards average per game; Marquette, 152.8; Texas Mines, 145.9; Princeton, 139; Missouri 133.1.

Cleanup Games Slated In District 5-A

Cleanup business in District 5-A is scheduled today and tomorrow, only one conference contest will remain to be played after Saturday, the Thanksgiving Tahoka-Levelland engagement.

Brownfield has already put the south half title safely out of reach of other contenders, adding the finishing touches Monday with a 27 to 6 victory over Sla.on. Olton is generally regarded as the champion in the north half, but Olton school officials are not making any plans for playoff games until after Friday's game with Sudan. If Sudan beat Olton, a remote possibility in view of the season records of the two teams, and Littlefield beat Muleshoe the north half would be wound up in a three-way tie. Both those games are to be played this afternoon.

The third game in the district matches O'Donnell's Eagles with Tahoka's Bulldogs in the annual renewal of a traditional battle for the unofficial Lynn county championship. The game will be played Saturday as a feature of Tahoka's Homecoming celebration.

Helwigs Win Scotch Foursome Play

In scotch foursome play at Country club Thursday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Helwig won top honors.

"Remorseful" golf featured the day's play. Opponents in each foursome were allowed to recall four shots during the round, forcing them to be played over.

KILGORE WINS

KILGORE, Nov. 14. (AP)—Kilgore defeated a stubborn Paris Junior college team 20-14 tonight and needs only to win over Schreiner Institute to retain its conference crown.

Tech Frosh End Season; Kickoff At 2:30 O'clock

Texas Tech's tempestuous freshman footballers close out their football season and open the annual Tech Homecoming celebration this afternoon in Tech Stadium, playing the ambitious freshmen from Hardin-Simmons. Kickoff is set for 2:30 o'clock.

The Picador charges of Coaches Berl Huffm... and Dixie White have already gallo... to three victories this fall, and boast a record marred only by a 14 to 13 defeat by the Cameron Aggies of Lawton, Oklahoma. Since that game, the Camerons have won the Oklahoma Junior college championship.

Familiar Names Appear

Comparative scores indicate a victory for the Techsans. In their most recent victory, Coach Huffman's boys rolled up an impressive 34 to 7 score on the West Texas State Teachers frosh, while the Little Cowboys had trouble stopping the Buff freshmen, 12 to 7.

Several names familiar to South Plains grid fans will be in the Little Cowboy starting lineup. Dick Cazzell, who played a lot of right tackle for Amarillo against Lubbock last Thanksgiving, will be at the same position for the HSU greenies. And then there is Harold Bagley, who bulwarked the Brownfield Cub line last season and will be at center this afternoon.

No radical changes are planned in the Picador starting eleven. What is nominally the second team started against West Texas State Teachers, but it is planned to open with the top eleven today. Among the better-known boys in the Tech starters are Howard Alford, former Westerner halfback who will open at quarter; Maxey McKnight, fiery-haired lad from Littlefield who starred at both end and back positions in high school and will be at a halfback; Pat Parris, another former Westerner, at right guard; James Reed of Crosbyton at left guard; and big Avon Sewalt, quite a handy young man to have around when in need of an extra point or a field goal, former Westerner who will start at left tackle.

Cowhands End Season At Plainview Today

Coach Cy LaMaster's Lubbock High School Cowhands, who manage to play a pretty stiff schedule for themselves as well as serve as cannon fodder for the Westerners, go to Plainview this afternoon to wand up their football business for 1940.

The Cowhands will play the Plainview Reserves, a team that the Cowhands beat 29 to 7 once before this season. Upset 7 to 0 by Denver City last week, the Lubbock lads will be trying for their sixth victory of the season against three defeats.

The Bullpups whipped out to take a lead over the Cowboys early in their previous game, but that seemed to ire LaMaster's lads, who bounced back to give their opponents a thorough trouncing.

Yes, Sir, The Doctor Picks The Deacons

Litkenhous System Likes Aggies, Boston, Longhorns

By DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

The Big Red of Cornell with a 101.6 power point rating is still mathematically champion of the Nation's gridders. Cornell, experiencing a let down against Yale, should be in fighting trim for a Dartmouth victory. Pennsylvania remains the only real threat in the way of a perfect season for Cornell.

Tennessee goes into the mid-November struggle the No. 2 team of the Nation with an average of a flat 100 and should have little difficulty in decisively defeating the rejuvenated Virginia team.

The leaders of the Big Nine have a corner on the power of the country. Minnesota ranks third, Michigan fourth, Northwestern fifth. The standout game of the country is between Michigan and Northwestern. Michigan rates only eight-tenths of a point better than Northwestern, so hold your hats. After the terrific struggle between Michigan and Minnesota last week, either a let down or revenge will be the order of the day.

A. & M. Again In Southwest Spotlight

Texas A. & M. again takes the spotlight in the Southwest. The ratings indicate that they are one touchdown better than Rice. The fans of the East have a treat in store for them. The Boston College-Georgetown, D. C. game figures as close as the proverbial Scotchman, with Boston commanding a 1.8 advantage.

Across the continent we find Stanford playing Oregon State in a struggle which may determine the West Coast nominee for the Rose Bowl. Should Stanford play according to form, they will whip the Oregon Staters by one touchdown and then have only California to hurdle in their march for the Rose Garden.

Jumping back to the Midwest, we find the boys in charge of the box office at South Bend competing with their neighbors up the lake. Notre Dame is only 4.1 power points better than Iowa, so should have a scrap on their hands.

System Has 85.9 Average Correct Guesses

Last week the system came through with some close picking. Among the important battles of the country we gave you Fordham, Stanford, Alabama, Mississippi State, Kentucky, Wake Forest, Duquesne and Missouri as winners, as well as Cornell, Tennessee, Duke, Northwestern, Boston College and Nebraska. There are no alibis for the Michigan-Minnesota game. The system predicted that Michigan would be the winner by one-tenth of one point, whereas they lost by one point. It called for a close, tough game and, as was pointed out, the home town advantage proved to be the decisive factor in the game.

Statistically speaking, the over all average last week was 85.9 on the 56 games. On the thirty-one games involving the top fifty teams of the country, the system correctly forecast all but eight, which is 73.3 per cent correct. When you consider that seventeen games figured by less than ten points and one of them had a difference of only one-tenth of one point, the results were fair enough.

Probable winners are set in blackface type. The ratings are used thus: Cornell, the rating of which is 101.6, plays Dartmouth, 68.6. If Cornell isn't hampered by injuries and other misfortunes and if Dartmouth can't bring forth its best, which is the average type of football Cornell will win by about five touchdowns, the difference being 32 points. The results, when the difference is so much, could be from three to seven touchdowns.

Cowboy Rush Ends At 15

Lubbock's Junior High school Cowboys finally lost a game.

The Cowboys were only one game short of two successive unbeaten seasons yesterday afternoon, when they went to Big Spring to play the Little Steers. Big Spring bowled them over, 7 to 0, thus stopping the winning streak at 15 games.

In 1939, the Cowboys captured nine straight victories, then ran up six more before running into the stubborn Big Spring team.

Football Tickets Voided In Move Against Scalpers

School officials struck back Thursday at scalpers, by voiding a block of 50 tickets found to have been bought with speculative intent.

Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools, said late Thursday it appeared the complexities that had threatened normal ticket reservations for the Amarillo-Lubbock schoolboy game the afternoon of Nov. 21 had lifted.

"We believe now that scalping attempts have been discouraged to the extent that the public will have no trouble," he said, "and that the crowd will have no difficulty in buying its tickets at the established prices."

An Equal Chance

He did not need to explain that ducats are being taken at a lively clip and that comparatively few are available, however. The stadium at Tech field comfortably seats approximately 11,000 persons; the school has constructed 1,792 additional seats and is erecting bleachers for still more, approximately 1,300. In addition, all efforts to accomodate the "standing room" contingent will be made, Dr. Irvin said.

The public has been "understanding about the entire problem," he told newspapermen. "We regret the happenings of the last few days and will do anything possible to assist the public in seeing the game at established prices."

He added that although school officials have been constantly on the alert for scalpers, this was the only definitely proved instance that has been revealed. No instance has been discovered, he added, of a single ticket that actually has been sold for more than the regularly established prices.

Identity Not Revealed

Dr. Irvin did not reveal the identity of the would-be scalper except to say that the incident was one, which does not cast reflection in any way upon anyone who has assisted in the sale of the tickets.

The superintendent announced that those who have reserved and paid for seats in the temporary boxes to be erected may obtain them any time after 9 o'clock Friday morning by calling at the high school. He reminded, however, that there need be no rush in calling for them as they will be held until called for.

Dr. Irvin said also there is a "probability" that about 150 additional temporary box seats may be available for sale. If so, he said, ample notice will be given, so that every person may have an equal chance to obtain them.

Mighty Mites Win Again

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14. (AP) — Masonic Home's mighty mites thundered on toward the state schoolboy football play-off tonight with a 7-0 victory over Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) in the game generally conceded to be the championship struggle of District 7.

The Masons thus remained undefeated, untied and unscored on and virtually in possession of their sixth district title in nine years.

Pre-Homecoming Pep Rally And Gigantic Bonfire To Be Held At Tech Tonight

Old Grads Will Be Called On

Spotlights, a public address system, and a 30-foot pile of boxes and crates will set the stage for the 1940 Texas Tech annual pre-homecoming bonfire tonight at 8 o'clock on the Tech campus between the gymnasium and the men's dormitory.

According to student president, James Snyder, a temporary platform will be erected at the site of the bonfire, and returning exes and alumni will be called upon to make short impromptu speeches before lighting of the fire.

Pep Rally Is Scheduled.

Prior to the bonfire the student body will hold a pep rally in the gym at 7:15 o'clock. The yells, band music, and various speeches by Snyder, Raymond Lee Johns, president of the Alumni and Ex-Students association, Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith, President Clifford B. Jones, and Douglas Walker, Wake Forest coach will be broadcast over radio station KFYO.

This year there will be no cause for hard feelings between freshmen students, who in past years have collected material for the fire, and nearby property owners. City Manager, W. H. Rodgers, has donated all the material necessary to the Student Council.

Fish students will act as sentinals to guard the tower of wood to prevent any attempts to light it before the pep rally ends.

PROFIT TAKERS ACTIVE

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Intermittent and selective rallies speeded up the stock market today but profit taking interfered with a general advance and closing prices were irregularly higher.

Steels took the rising play at the start, then slipped. Coppers, oils and an assortment of senior issues joined the swing, and, at the last, a burst of buying in rubbers tended to offset selling elsewhere.

It was the eighth consecutive session in which volume topped the million-share mark. Transfers totaled 1,384,290 shares against 1,068,280 yesterday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was handicapped by a lower utility composite and ended unchanged at 46.1. Of 875 individual issues traded, 421 were up, 249 down and 195 unchanged.

Spurring the speculative pick-up, brokers said, was a slight easing ... dividends, pleasing industrial earnings statements and renewed optimism over European war developments. Strength of commodities also was a bolstering influence.

U. S. Rubber Common and Preferred, Goodyear and Goodrich held gains of 1 to more than 4 points.

Heavy demand for copper in armament and private consumption stimulated shares in this group.

Forecasts of growing petroleum requirements propped the oils.

Prominent on the advancing side were Chrysler, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., Boeing, Dow Chemical and Preferred stocks of Western Steel Casting, American Woolen and Market Street Railway.

Forward in the curb were shares of ... America, Brewster Aero, Bell Aircraft, Colts Patent Firearms, Gulf Oil, International Petroleum and N. J. Zinc. The curb turnover was around 241,000 shares versus 132,000 the day before.

Texas Thanksgiving Turkeys Moving To Market

Growers Receive Better Prices

(By The Associated Press)

Texas turkeys from a Thanksgiving crop of excellent quality moved in large numbers today toward next week's festive tables.

The street market for northern and eastern Thanksgiving sales closed at most Texas shipping centers Wednesday, with prices on a strong tone. At Cuero there was a raise of a full cent on reports of heavy losses in northern flocks through wintry weather.

A cent higher than a year ago, the Cuero market was 11½ cents for No. 1 hens. Prices at Brownwood just before the market close were the same as in 1939, 11 cents for No. 1 toms and 13 for No. 1 hens. Brady reported that the 11 and 13 cent quotations there were about two cents under last year on the same date. At Plainview dealers paid 15 cents for young hens, 12 cents for young toms, and three cents under those prices for old birds.

Cuero buyers estimated 10 per cent of the total DeWitt county crop had moved within the past four days and that cold, dry weather had aided the market by reducing weight losses in handling of birds. The county expected to show a five to ten per cent gain in yield over 1939.

When the market closed ten carloads had been shipped from Brownwood, eleven from Brady, and 5½ from Plainview.

Leslie Powis, who finally got Old Clubfoot, displays the mutilated paw that gave the wolf his name. Two toes are missing from right front foot, which also suffered in encounters with traps.

Clubfoot Puts His Foot Into It For Last Time

(By NEA Service)

NEWBERRY, Mich., Nov. 14.—As it must to even the best of wolves, death came to ornery Old Clubfoot the other day. After eluding the hot lead and cold steel of upper Michigan hunters and trappers for many a year, the notorious old timber wolf ran afoul of a radio technician by the name of Leslie Powis, who lives here in Newberry.

At least twice before the big brute had been trapped. Both times he tore loose, losing a forepaw once to get his nickname, Old Clubfoot, and dropping two claws from his other front foot in the second encounter.

But the other day Old Clubfoot was not as young as he once was, and he put his foot in it. Powis placed his set so that the wolf entered a narrow approach and couldn't miss the trap. This time the trap held.

Powis, whose hobby is trapping, had prepared his own special "wolf call," had waited with baited trap for three weeks after running across the trail of the wolf whose forays had made him the most sought after animal in the upper peninsula.

Old Clubfoot was eight feet from tip to tip, and that's some wolf. But he was gaunt, having fallen upon unhappy hunting in his old age because of his missing paw. He weighed about 100 pounds, but Powis estimated he would have hit 150 had he been in good flesh.

Constance Bennett Is Granted Reno Divorce

RENO, Nev., Nov. 14. (U.P.)—Constance Bennett, the movie star, today was granted a divorce from her third husband, Marquis de la Falaise de la Coudraye a few hours after she filed the petition.

Miss Bennett told the court that the titled Frenchman, formerly the husband of Gloria Swanson, had deserted her Jan. 1, 1937. She was granted the decree after a 10-minute hearing.

Andy Welliver, the Reno chief of police who sent Miss Bennett roses and ordered his officers to sound their car sirens every hour when the actress came here six weeks ago, was her residence witness.

Champion Cattle Bring 20 Cents

(By The United Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 14.—The grand champion carlot of fat cattle, exhibited by Emil Bucks of Davenport, Iowa, in the American Royal Livestock show, sold at the premium price of $20 a hundredweight in the auction of prize-winning beef at the American Royal sales pavillion today.

The price was about $6 a hundredweight over the quotable top for prime beef steers on the open market in Kansas City. Reflecting an improved demand for beef, the top sale today was $4 a hundredweight more than the $16 paid for the grand champion load at last year's Royal. The load was purchased by the Lou Williams Meat company, for the pioneer grill of the Milner hotel.

Herefords Bring $16.

Andrew Anderson of Encampment, Wyo., received a premium price of $16 a hundredweight for his grand champion carlot of Hereford feeders. An Eastern stockman, Martin Shafer of York, Pa., was the purchaser.

Later in the sale, however, a second place load of Hereford feeders, raised by Dan Casement, well-known Manhattan, Kans., stockman, set the top price for the day, $17.75. The price was paid by Bucks, exhibitor of the grand champion fat carlot.

The champion load of Hereford fat cattle, owned by Noel Moss of Princeton, Mo., sold at $15.25 to the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City.

The champion Angus feeder cattle, owned by Fred Claussen of Russell, Kans., brought $15.25, with Bucks, exhibitor of the champion fat steers as the purchaser. Bucks said he intended to use the feeders as foundation for next year's show cattle.

Julius Peterson of Elbert, Colo., who had the champion Shorthorn feeders, got $14.75 for his shipment from an eastern order buyer.

'Who's Who' Program Is Given At Kiwanis Club On Thursday

A "Who's Who" program to acquaint Kiwanians with members of the club, was held Thursday noon at a luncheon in Lubbock hotel with the educational committee in charge and Dean A. H. Leidigh presiding as chairman.

On blank forms, members were asked to give information about other members, including their home and business addresses, line of work, length of membership and other items. Others then read the information and members made guesses as to the identity. There were 26 persons thus described. S. C. Wilson was co-chairman with Dean Leidigh.

President W. L. Stangel announced two committees. A Boy Scout committee was announced as, J. C. Reynolds, Marion Sanford, Roy Bass, Lamar West and Otis Felty. H. D. Woods, A. C. Jackson and R. L. Hooten were named a ticket committee for the dance to honor Texas guardsmen on Nov. 30.

No meeting will be held next Thursday because of the holiday, President Stangel said, the club to meet Wednesday with the Rotary club at the same place.

Gail Patrick Granted Divorce On Thursday

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14 (AP)—Gail Patrick, movie actress, was awarded an interlocutory degree of divorce today from Robert H. Cobb, Hollywood restaurant executive, and vice president of the Hollywood Baseball club.

She told the judge she couldn't get along with her husband.

"How long had you known this man before you married him?" the judge asked.

"Two years and a half," the actress replied.

"Surely, in that length of time you should have been able to find out what his disposition was," the judge countered.

"Well, you see, we're both Irish," Miss Patrick replied with a smile.

She charged cruelty, saying Cobb was moody and morose for weeks, frequently told her he didn't wish to stay married, and that the marriage couldn't possibly last.

Soviet Russia Rushes Her Domination Over Three Little Baltic Countries

Captors Said To Be Harsh

HELSINKI, Nov. 14. (U.P.)—Soviet domination of the political, social and economic affairs of the three Baltic countries recently incorporated in the Soviet Union has been thorough and far-reaching, according to reports received here.

Diplomatic and foreign business men who formerly resided in the countries — Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania — which were seized by the Russians three months ago, have withdrawn due to pressure from the Soviet authorities.

The departure of the foreign government representatives from capitals of the three countries makes communications from within the areas difficult. The reports of the outgoing diplomats and business men all show the Soviet's campaign is progressing rapidly.

All private property exceeding a certain margin has been nationalized. Exceptions were only made with German firms after a strong German protest. The army has been dissolved and the Soviet constitution is being established in all spheres of national and private life. The position of the Lutheran church, which was predominant in the Baltic countries, and that of the other churches is now the same as in Russia proper, that of a tolerated sect with no rights or property.

The Sovietization has increased in intensity since the departure of the foreign diplomats and other neutral observers. It is depriving the Estonians, Latvians and Lithuanians not only of their independence as nations won after the World war but also of the semi-independence which they enjoyed under Tsarist rule.

Discipline Stern.

A high Red Army officer admitted it was not easy to teach the Baltic nations discipline. He said the Estonians were the most stubborn, "but," he added, "we shall know how to bend their backs."

The process of "bending the backs" is in full swing wherever resistance is found. Ten large rooms in the former Home Office in the government's castle on the "Dom-berg" in Tallinn are now occupied by the "NKWD" or GPU. From there the Bolshevization is directed.

The leaders of the Estonian Communist party, now the only legal party in the country, were bitter when they realized the GPU had all political power. The Estonian Communist party, just as the Communist parties in the two other Baltic countries, gets its instructions from the local section of the GPU.

The first and most important task of the GPU is to render harmless those elements within the population which could be suspected of capitalistic or nationalistic sympathies. Eighteen hundred Estonian policemen of all ranks have been either arrested or forced to work at the Russian bases during the last three months. The number arrested is reliably estimated at 150 to 200.

All state or municipal officials or workers who were members of the dissolved Civic Guards have been dismissed without pension. Three thousand officers of the Estonian army have been informed that they will soon be "transferred" to barracks in Russia, "to complete their training." It is generally believed that they will be absorbed into the Red Army as soon as they have acquired sufficient knowledge of the Russian language and the Soviet military regulations.

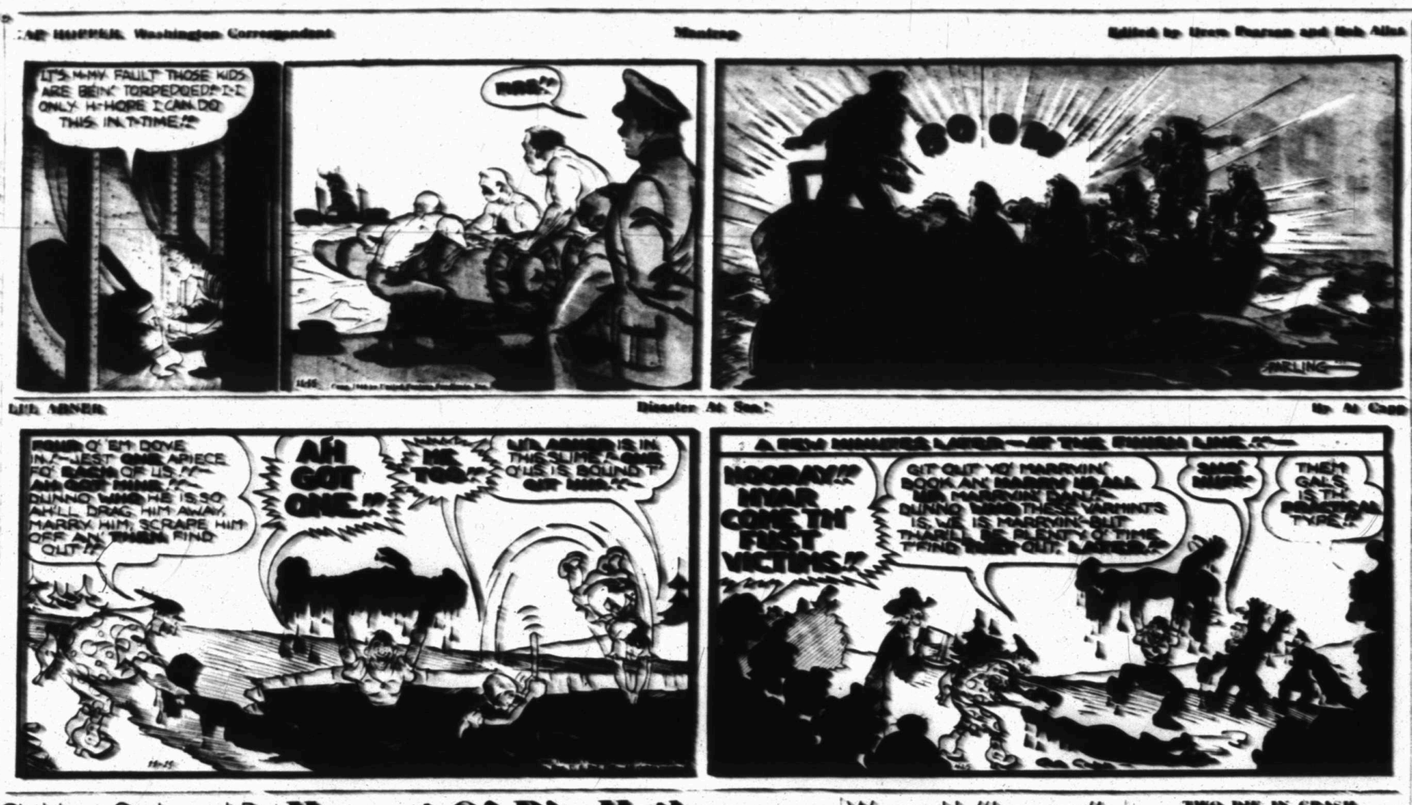

But by far the unluckiest lot is that of the so-called capitalists. Hundreds of formerly wealthy tradesmen, owners of houses, business enterprises or of "capital" in any other form have been expropriated and are looking for work. Many are held in prisons awaiting trial for alleged offense against the economic interest of the state.

A large air-raid shelter under the "Dom-berg" in Tallinn has been converted into a prison. The shelter consists of old casements from the times of Charles XII of Sweden. They are cold, damp and dark.

Other political prisoners have been sent to Russia. The Soviet mail boat Molotov takes prisoners on board each time it stops at Tallinn. The arrests are made secretly and usually during the night.

The frequent arrests and the dictatorial rule of the GPU is resented by the former upper classes and workers. Two serious incidents happened in September, one in Narva, where a demonstrating crowd clashed with Russian troops. In Tallinn on Sept. 26, four school boys were arrested when they demonstrated against the demolition of a monument for students and teachers killed in the war of liberation.

The effects of the "incorporation" are also felt economically. Before the incorporation, Estonia was a rich country, with a high standard of living and no unemployed. Now prices are rising and certain goods become scarce. A large part of Estonian grain stock, which was sufficient for two years, has been taken to Russia.

Children Orphaned By Second Auto Accident

ENTERPRISE, Ala., Nov. 14. (U.P.) For the second time in a few months, four small children here have been orphaned by automobile accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Stinson, of the Mount Pleasant community, adopted the children when their parents were killed in an accident.

Recently, Mr. and Mrs. Stinson were killed in an automobile accident, which also claimed the life of Ollis Williams, 23.

Harvest Of Big Hothouse Crop Is Well Underway

By WILLIAM B. ROUNDS.
United Press Staff Correspondent.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 14.—Below-freezing temperatures have ended the growing season and field work has stopped for most American farmers, but in the nation's "greenhouse capital" a $5,000,000 harvest is well started.

The crop, mostly tomatoes, cucumbers, leaf lettuce and radishes, is under glass shelter covering 250 acres, the largest area in the United States devoted to hothouse raising of vegetables.

Marketing of the fall crop, the year's second, has begun.

The five-year-old industry will provide out-of-season vegetables this year for consumers from the Eastern seaboard, the Rockies and south to Florida.

Yields of greenhouse-grown plants are by comparison greater than from vegetables grown out of doors.

Profits, however, are less because expenses are considerable. An atmosphere resembling the tropics must be maintained within the greenhouses. A temperature of 70 degrees is kept at all times during all seasons and a 90-degree humidity is necessary to produce luxuriant growth desired.

Water Bills Are Large.

As a result, the heating plants are comparable in size to those of large factories. For each acre under glass 650 tons of coal will be burned a year and 38,000 gallons of water used weekly for "rain." The water bill of the industry approximates $100,000 yearly. Glass invested in greenhouses by the Cleveland growers is said to total $7,000,000, a cost of $28,000 per acre. About $150,000 additional is spent annually for fertilizer.

Keep Bees In Hothouses.

As a result of the near-perfect growing conditions, the "artificial tropics" can produce jungle-like products. Tomato and cucumber vines, tied so they grow perpendicularly and cared for daily, grow from 16 to 20 feet in length.

To reproduce perfect summer-like conditions the year around, the growers keep bees in the hothouses to spread pollen among the plants.

The annual harvest — in spring and fall — totals abo 4,000,00 baskets of tomatoes, 250,000 baskets of cucumbers, 100,000 baskets of radishes and 750,000 baskets of leaf lettuce.

Texas College Girls Stage Knitting Drive

AUSTIN, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — Nu Epsilon Tau Tau, honorary inter-sorority group at the University of Texas, has sent letters to every major American college to promote a national campus knitting campaign. All their knitting would be for the American Red Cross.

June Carr of Dallas, member of the knitting campaign committee, said the movement here just sort of happened. "We had a meeting and took a vote."

Members of N.E.T.T. are working through their individual sororities to make the campaign nationwide.

Wayne U. "Lawyers" Get Practical Work

DETROIT, Nov. 14. (U.P.)—To acquaint senior law students with the practical side of the law by an internship period similar to that served by doctors, the Wayne university law school has launched a program of apprenticeship training with the cooperation of Wayne county attorneys.

Through the Legal Aid bureau of Detroit, a non-profit agency operated cooperatively by the Detroit Bar association and the Detroit community fund, students are placed in offices to assist practicing attorneys with all necessary work in law cases except actual court appearances.

Personal interviews with clients, experience in looking up law and preparing briefs, and training in terms and procedures peculiar to practice in Michigan are provided.

Formal classes for seniors are before noon, making the afternoons free for internship. The amount of class work required will not be diminished.

TWO DIE IN CRASH

ROBSTOWN, Nov. 14. (AP)—J. H. Thomas, 54, Robstown farmer, and his son, Johnny, 15, were instantly killed at noon today at a grade crossing south of here in collision with a northbound Missouri-Pacific passenger train.

VIRGINIA EDITOR DIES

HARRISONBURG, Va., Nov. 14. (AP)—John Randolph Crown, editor of the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record since 1923 and for eight years a member of the Washington bureau staff of the Baltimore Sun, died today.

Manchuria's 1940 soy bean crop is estimated at nearly 4,2000,000 tons.

Ten Health Rules For Homes Given

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14. (U.P.) — The United States Public Health Service lists the following ten essentials for a healthy home:

1. A pure and sufficient water supply.
2. A safe milk and food supply.
3. Sanitary refuse and sewage disposal.
4. Sufficient ventilation, heat and light.
5. Space sufficient for ordinary family demands.
6. Absence of excessive dampness.
7. Screening against flies and mosquitoes.
8. Protection against other insects and rodents.
9. Protection against fire hazards and other accident risks.
10. Adequate play space and sunshine for children.

A healthful home environment is interpreted by the service to be one affording freedom from disease and the prevention of premature death and is "associated with comfort, decency, convenience, and even joy in the daily routine."

Are More Warnings Needed?

FATAL blasts within minutes of each other in three northeastern plants engaged in the manufacture of explosives should jerk people of the nation back to keen awareness that danger from "Fifth Columnists" is something that will be with us every minute until the world returns to sanity.

Those tragedies weren't accidental. The fact that they occurred almost at the same time in the same territorial area under similar circumstances in plants which are contributing in one way or another to the manufacture of munitions for this nation or Great Britain are conclusive circumstantial proof that they were the result of organized enemies within our nation.

They suggest the possibility that the plot for this particular moment may have been far more ambitious than actually was achieved—that probably plots aimed at other similar plants may have failed of success. They suggest that the danger of similar or worse outrages is present every minute.

These tragedies are proof of the need for haste in the enactment of stronger laws, and in the expansion of the forces of law enforcement so as to cope more effectively with this danger.

They evidence the need for laws which will enable operatives of our government to keep alien communities within the nation under such surveillance that agents of dictatorships will find it impossible to work among them. Every last one of these explosions occurred in areas where the foreign-tongue population is large, in communities where such organizations as the German-American bund has been particularly active.

The blasts pointed once more to certain areas which are inimical to our way of life. If those spots cannot be obliterated completely, then certainly no time should be lost in doing whatever needs to be done to reduce the danger from such sources to a minimum.

Oil And Mexican Defenses

SUCCESS of negotiations now admittedly in progress for naval bases off the eastern and western shores of Mexico may have been placed in some jeopardy because of the unquestioned and admitted interest that some of the major oil companies—Standard Oil among them—have in the proceedings.

Doubtless the defense scheme of this nation would be strengthened if certain bases could be secured on the Mexican shores—especially on the western coast where they might add to our protection of the Panama canal. But there is no reason to believe that the need for such sites is quite as urgent as some of the propagandists pretend.

Especially has the motive of the negotiations been placed in question by the acknowledgment of the proposal to pay large sums to Mexico for the bases so that Mexico can, in turn, pay large sums to the American and British oil companies whose properties were "expropriated" several years ago. The circumstance certainly justifies a suspicion that a round-about method may be in contemplation for Uncle Sam to hand big wads of cash to the oil companies. That kind of a suspicion is especially unfortunate at this time because it could cast a cloud over the entire national defense structure.

Of course, if the need can be shown that the bases are an urgent and a vital need, people of this nation are going to approve whatever expenditure is necessary without consideration of who eventually will get the money. But they aren't going to approve even the smallest kind of expenditure if there should be the slightest grounds to suspect that the deal is being engineered for the sake of Standard Oil and its kind.

Under the circumstances, it would seem that Uncle Sam would follow the wisest course if he would eliminate the possibility of all suspicion if bases actually are needed. It would be a simple matter, if the deal should be consummated, to include the provision that none of the money would be paid to the oil companies. That might be an inconvenience—even an injustice—to those companies. But it is far better that they be inconvenienced—even that they suffer injustice—than to take any slightest chance that they might cast remotest suspicion on any part of the national defense plan.

Chapter 34.

Tara's Prisoner.

Temu glanced at the mouth from which those words came as if for a moment he contemplated some sort of sweet violence against it. "Some day, somebody's going to nip off the end of that sharp little tongue of yours if you don't reform."

She shrugged. "You see," she said, "we start out to play and we end up in a quarrel. There's no goddess in me."

He turned his pony aside to round a sharp outcrop of shale. "You can be mighty sweet when you want to be. You are the Tara. You look like the Tara."

"Perhaps I do look like the Tara," she admitted, and added angrily, "It is a coincidence that Sherlock took advantage of His princeling wanted a white wife and no adventuress. They looked me up and decided I'd do."

Temu's brows had drawn together. "You would make out everyone to be scheming and insincere."

She stared at him a moment, her lips parted. "You're right," she agreed suddenly. "That is the way I was taught to use my mind—to distrust everyone until he proves himself."

"You didn't distrust your half-brother."

"And I was a fool. You see the trouble it brought upon me."

"Do you still distrust me?"

"I distrust your loyalty to your Prince. A girl might forgive a man who goes to any length to win her for himself, but when he breaks all the laws to secure her for another man, it's not so complimentary."

Temu grinned. "I stand corrected."

Across the plain from the north appeared tiny moving speaks on the landscape. Through the glasses they proved to be a splendidly mounted band of horsemen armed to the teeth.

"Chinese opium runners most likely," he said. "They follow the less frequented trails of hill and desert. Probably headed for Lanfou."

A thrill of excitement went through Lynn. "Or they may be a party of Dick's men out looking for me."

Temu increased the pace of his lame horse. "I can see they are not, but still I wish to avoid them." Lynn hung back. He halted and called. "Come! Hurry!"

She took her time and when she caught up with him deliberately dismounted. "I don't want to hurry," she said.

He was out of his saddle in a flash and strode to her side. "Mount your horse at once, Lynn."

Instead she sat down on a convenient boulder. He caught hold of her upper arms and drew her to her feet. She went limp and would have fallen had he not supported her. He shook her a bit. "Shall I tie you to your horse?" he demanded.

"How long would it take?" she asked calmly, her eyes on the fast approaching cavalcade. Lynn was a tall girl, firmly built and well proportioned. He lifted her as lightly as if she were a dummy and fastened her to the saddle with a leather thong about her waist. Then he mounted his own horse, caught up her pony's rein, and made for the breaks of a deep canyon.

Hard Crossing.

It was one of the greatest chasms that Lynn had ever seen. On some of the more terrifying ledges she was glad to be tied to the saddle. In one particular place iron crowbars had been driven into the perpendicular thousand-foot cliff, and on these cross-pieces, broad flat stones were placed.

Temu dismounted and led his horse across while Lynn watched with suspended breath. The animal trembled with fear, but there was some power in the man that compelled obedience. When it had almost completed the passage it stumbled. Lynn stifled a scream. Temu jumped back nimbly, escaping death by a hair's breadth, and somehow, drew the horse safely after him.

He came back to Lynn's side. A little sprinkle of golden-brown freckles stood out across the bridge of her nose. He regarded her pallor for a moment before he spoke.

"Don't be frightened, Tara Lynn. It is not in the stars that harm shall come to you on the desert road. Will you ride across or walk?"

"I'd rather fly," she said tremulously.

He smiled and unfastened the thong that bound her and had her dismount. He took one of her hands.

"To fly is not impossible. His hand on hers had power. Her consciousness lifted.

He drew her easily to the firm footing of solid ground on the farther side. She stood leaning against him a moment, breathing deep and slow, her eyes shut while he scrutinized the long lashes trembling against cheeks in which faint color pulsed. Then she stepped back and looked at him, a vague smile curving her lips.

"You must have hypnotized me," she said. He did not deny it.

"All ideas are hypnotic. Cling to those that do not limit your powers."

He went back and brought her pony across.

"I doubt if the opium smugglers will come this way," he said. They mounted and continued the descent until they reached the easier going near the flat bottom of the canyon.

Then suddenly, on a curve above a gravel slope, Temu's horse stumbled and went over. Temu jumped. He landed clear on the edge of the bank. But his head struck a rock and he lay still in a strange, unnatural position.

Lynn dismounted and ran to his side. She turned him over, face to the sky. A trickle of blood ran down his temple. With shaking hands she wiped it away. It wet her handkerchief and more came. She had no water; there was little she could do. She stared at Temu's face, pale under the weathered bronze, yet serene and strong, almost stern, even in this sleep of unconsciousness. Never had she felt more helpless.

At last with an effort she rose and moved him into a more comfortable position at the edge of the trail. Then she walked up and down trying to compose herself and still the excited beating of her heart. Presently in panic-stricken tones she ventured to call. No answering sound came except a mocking echo and a bounding slide of rocks. She backed her way down the trail towards the level floor of the main gorge, calling and listening, calling and listening.

Finally she fancied she heard an answering voice. Then she caught a single note as if metal struck against stone. She ran farther along the trail until she could hear the ring of shod hoofs and the jingle of accoutrements. A band of Mongol horsemen rounded a cliff and came into view. They were traveling down the canyon floor.

Lynn recognized the leader. She caught her breath in astonishment.

Sen. Plan.

"Chin Pak!" she called. He heard her voice and with an answering shout led his men up the side trail. They dismounted and knelt in deep respect. Dick must have sent him in search of her.

"Chin Pak," she demanded, "who am I?"

He touched his head to the ground and raised it. "The Goddess Tara."

"You told me once you wished to serve the Tara."

"Yes, Missie, it is true."

"Now think carefully and answer me this. Are you loyal to me above all men?"

"Above all men, Missie. Are you not one with the gods?" He met her eyes with genuine devotion.

"I can depend on you?"

"To the death, Missie."

She asked abruptly, "Where is my brother?"

"He go to Darchi to carry out his plans. He say me find you and follow him."

"And you will obey?"

"If that is your wish, Missie."

Then she told him that Temu Darin was lying on the trail above, unconscious. "He is my prisoner," she added. "He must not be harmed or turned over to my brother or the Duke of Sachto. He belongs to me. Do you understand?"

"Yes, Missie, Temu Darin belong to the Tara."

She pointed to the water bag hanging to his saddle. He directed certain of the men to make camp on the canyon floor. Then he and one other mounted their ponies and climbed up the trail.

When Lynn arrived at the spot, Temu was sitting up holding his head. The wound had stopped bleeding. Chin Pak was offering him a bowl of water. Temu glanced at her and grinned faintly.

"This young fellow tells me I am your prisoner."

"Turn about is fair play," she smiled. "How do you feel?"

"A bit groggy, that's all."

"You see it doesn't work," she mocked him with one of his own arguments. "You can't escape your destiny. You may evade the Chinese rides only to get caught by Dick's and my men. Let Chin Pak help you to his horse and take you down to camp."

"I believe I can climb on a horse by myself." He rose and proceeded to do so. Lynn caught the bridle rein, she wasn't taking any chances. Temu grinned again. Chin Pak took the prisoner's revolver and place it in his own belt. He led the horse down the trail.

Lynn turned and followed the other man who had clambered down the slide to the place where Temu's horse lay dead among the boulders. The Mongol had removed the equipment and was waiting respectfully for her on the trail above. She noticed that shadows were already deepening on the ridges. Her own horse whinnied impatiently.

Down at the camp on the floor of the gorge, she found Temu lying on a bear-skin rug in a blue and white tent. He was looking pale and worn, and let down.

"I've not had enough sleep in days," he sighed. The wound had begun to bleed afresh. She surmised he had struggled to resist his captors. He fell asleep while she dressed the cut. A smiling tenderness flooded her heart.

Food Rationing Said Strengthening British

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 14. (U.P.)—David John Rodgers, British consul, says the English people growing more healthy on wartime rations.

"We have always eaten too much," Rodgers said. "Food rationing is not only conserving food, but is rectifying the English diet. Now we are learning moderation in food. I think it is unlikely that when the war is over the English people will go back to their classic British breakfasts and heavy lunches. The afternoon tea custom may also disappear.

"The rationing plan was put into effect not so much because there is a scarcity of food in England," the consul explained, "but because we want to build up a reserve."

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON.
By Ray Tucker

REPUBLICAN and Democratic strategists are now engaged in plotting the future program and direction of their respective parties. It has become the great national guessing game.

With all apologies to these political planners, including Wendell Willkie, the individual who will determine the course of American politics—parties—and personalities is Franklin D. Roosevelt. And even he—although the political Napoleon of the moment—may be influenced by world events which he cannot control. Should the United States be forced to enter the war, somebody now unknown may become the dominant figure on the American scene and Mr. Roosevelt's successor. It is even conceivable that, through becoming embroiled directly or indirectly on a large scale, as we are now, 1944 may witness another breaking of historic precedent—a national coalition ticket and party.

It may sound fantastic, but FDR now has a cabinet composed of four Republicans (Ickes, Knox, Stimson, Perkins), a National Defense commission consisting chiefly of GOP-ers and a former Republican as Vice President. The GOP's 1940 nominee was a former Democrat, and mustered tremendous support in that group. Party lines are being smashed here and in England—not by accident but by the force of circumstances. In any event, this is the prospect which the more thoughtful folk at the capital envisage.

ROLL: A new Republican party will be reborn—or reshaped—pending such a fortuitous realignment of national partisans. It will be as different from the pre-1940, Penrose-Watson-Hoover model as a modern automobile is from the chugging vehicle of forty years ago.

Wendell Willkie—more than was true of Herbert Hoover or Alf Landon after their defeats—is the titular leader or boss of the Republican party. He does not intend to relinquish his grip, as he revealed on Monday night. He has placed his GOP squarely on record for the President's social and economic reforms, thereby removing those gains as issues from future political campaigns. He has exalted a new crop of younger, more aggressive and more appealing GOP leaders—Stassen of Minnesota, Burton of Ohio, Dewey, Taft, Martin, Vandenberg, etc. He attracted to his standard millions of independents and Democrats. A simple comparison of his vote with the Republican totals of 1932 and 1936 shows that he has built a new party in the face of disheartening difficulties.

How Mr. Willkie directs these vast forces—barring the emergency mentioned above—will decide the role which he and they will play in the next few, fateful years. It does not matter so much what he says or has said, as he himself realizes. What will count is what he does with these millions who still look upon him as a "crusader," though vanquished.

SEPARATION: Like the Republican organization, the Democratic party will never be the same again. If he has not already attained his early objective, the President means to transform it into a movement most aptly described as popularistic. It will be, roughly, pro-liberal and pro-labor, as contrasted with the Democratic party which formerly sought the suffrage of the inarticulate underprivileged in the North and the conservatives of the South.

In the recent campaign such old-fashioned Democrats as Garner, Glass, Byrd, Harrison and George took a walk or a stroll. Although the Southern states have voted overwhelmingly for the President three times, they still elect and reelect to Congress men who oppose him major policies. And it is a fact that Mr. Roosevelt would have been reelected without the electoral votes from below the Mason and Dixon Line. The men and groups to whom he owes his record-shattering triumph are Norris, LeGuardia, LaFollette and labor. It is on the basis of these men's philosophies that the President will construct a new party—or try to. The obliteration of party lines as revealed in the election may assist him in his task.

Mayor LaGuardia's announcement that his Roosevelt-Wallace Progressive committee will become a permanent organization is the tip-off to this new state of political affairs. The President and the mayor now believe that they can perfect a plan they have frequently discussed and dreamed of—namely, a sharp separation as between liberals and conservatives.

CONFIDENCE: The business picture for the immediate future—the next few years at least—is so rosy that it appalls government economists. They recognize that it will rest on a shaky foundation—non-productive rearmament spending—and so confine their predictions to a short-range period.

Any uncertainty caused by the Presidential election—and it was of small importance—has now been removed. In view of fresh American aid to Great Britain, the fear of an imminent and world-shaking Hitler victory has disappeared, despite some crossing of fingers. Unfilled orders of the heavy industries have hit an unprecedented peak. Their commitments assure increasing activity and employment through 1941. Even a slight bit of price and wage inflation will not dismay the privateers if it is not allowed to get out of economic bounds.

The government admittedly has no legal checks to prevent any upset resulting from excessive speculation, inflation and profiteering. But President Roosevelt now figures he can obtain such authority from Congress overnight, if necessary, or exercise it during any Congressional recess in the expectation that it will be ratified later.

NEW YORK.
By Richard Waldo.

TEAMWORK between the British admiralty and our merchant marine is close to that of allies. Except for information deemed valuable to the enemy, and suppressed on that account, London is sharing naval intelligence with U. S. shippers whose lack would triple the navigation hazards.

Our marine insurance people had been warned of a cruising German raider just 10 days before it betrayed its position by shelling the Canadian convoy in the North Atlantic. For whatever benefit it might be to U. S. captains, the admiralty has supplied further information. The raider, identity unknown, is using the name of the Scharnhorst. It has been fitted for a minimum of a year's service without returning to base. Fuel, food, even relief crews will be supplied by relief ships by rendezvous on the high seas.

There isn't even any mystery involved in the way the supply vessels circumvent British search and keep the appointments. Spanish, Swiss and Portuguese craft obtain British navicerts for legitimate cargo and clear for specified journeys. Enroute they discharge small amounts of fuel, food, medicinals and necessities to German "pick up" launches carried by the raider. The amounts cannot be detected by subsequent British policing at point of arrival. The only commodity that cannot be transferred by this system is the munition supply. So far as naval sources have learned, the projectiles are being flown from Germany to Spain, to Morocco, to coastal French Africa from which points small blockade runners will slip them out to sea.

PARIS: The next three weeks will confirm or repudiate a sensational tip which private European sources say involves final disposition of the French fleet. Marshal Petain, having resisted all German efforts to absorb the French squadrons and distribute them among the Axis navies will be presented with just such a division as a fait accompli. France's navy is now spread along both shores of the Western Mediterranean. The only large concentration permitted is in Marseilles.

The ships, while formally decommissioned, are actually ready for duty within 2½ hours of call. Crews are on furlough at a skeleton force in each port of France or French colony, is ready for immediate sail orders.

The plan, as understood in New York shipping circles, calls for simultaneous boarding of all ships by mixed delegations of French and German officers. Then in staggered order of departure and by different routes, the fleet is to converge on Italian naval bases. The protests of Vichy would be too late to be effective.

Here And There In Texas

By GORDON SHRADER
United Press Correspondent

AUSTIN, Nov. 14.—Threats of Texas legislators to pare appropriations of the state Department of Agriculture and to transfer most of its functions to A. and M. college have turned the limelight on this branch of the state government.

State Senator W. C. Graves of Dallas recalled that the state had abolished the office of tax commissioner in 1939 and turned its duties over to the state comptroller. He proposed that duties of the agriculture department be given to A. and M. college.

The office serves no useful purpose except for the personal benefit of J. E. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, Graves asserted. McDonald was re-elected Nov. 5 after he had come out for support of the national Republican ticket, but ran far behind other Democratic nominees.

College Doesn't Want Job.

While resentment at McDonald's advocating election of Wendell L. Willkie, while he was a Democratic nominee, has instigated the present movement to pare the department, the proposal to abandon the department and place its activities in the college is not new.

The college authorities have been luke-warm to such suggestions, principally because they feel A. and M.'s cordial relations with the farmers and stockgrowers might be harmed if the college had to take on regulatory duties now placed in the Department of Agriculture. Some of the legislators propose to avoid that by giving enforcement duties to the state Livestock Sanitary commission, which directs cattle tick eradication.

UNDER the current state appropriation act, the Department of Agriculture receives $202,201 annually. The legislature appropriated $254,931 a year but Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel blue-penciled enough items to bring the cost down to a little over $200,000.

On this basis the department is self sustaining as its last annual report shows receipts totaling $260,424. Most of the income is from fees collected from farmers, marketers, seed dealers or others engaged in agricultural activities.

The commissioner, personally, receives a salary of $4,200 a year. Most of the division heads in the department receive $2,700 a year. Full-time inspectors are paid $1,800 a year and pay of employes with technical knowledge ranges from that up to $3,900 a year.

Travel expense appropriation of the department is $30,000 a year. That much was left after Governor O'Daniel took out separate travel expense appropriations from various fee-earning divisions.

Breeding Work Halted.

One of the functions of the Department of Agriculture is likely to be abandoned entirely. It is the Jack and Stallion service, supervising use of breeding stock that the department purchased during the days of parimutuel horse racing. A part of the "take" at race tracks was given to the department to buy breeding stock. Since racing with bets has been made unlawful the stock owned by the department has become so depleted and its animals so aged, that the commissioner, himself, has recommended the few remaining animals be turned over to county commissioners' courts.

LATEST report of the department gives some figures on what it does. Its warehouse division looks after 1,110 bonded warehouses storing crops. Another section licenses 500 farm co-operative associations. Grading services is conducted for turkeys and eggs and some crops. Seeds are tested for viability and to determine presence of seeds of noxious weeds. The seven banned weeds are Johnson grass, Russian thistle, bindweed, wire grass, blue weed and Bermuda grass.

There is also a field seed certification section in which participation by growers is voluntary. If the growers participate and their seed pass tests, certificates are issued. Last year there were 30,170 field seed certifications involving 2,960 acres of sorghum besides broom corn, small grains, alfalfa, flax and millet.

A seed laboratory division made 10,193 laboratory tests. A nursery section tested 776,402 citrus trees and the fruit and vegetable inspection service handled 40,147 carlots of products and made 45,254 inspection tests of grape fruit and oranges.

Weights Division Active.

A weights division included in its work tests of 984 vehicle and livestock scales, 31,718 other scales, 24,426 gasoline pumps and 12,848 milk bottles of which only 971 bottles were correct. The others were broken.

In reweighing 190,307 packages 66,671 were found to be correct, 23,694 were overweight and 99,648 were underweight. Other work included reweighing 4,913 bales of cotton. Milk and cream tests numbered 32,145.

Other divisions of the department carry on relentless search for pink bollworm, Mexican fruit fly and other pests that damage crops.

FLOWERS, too, are given attention. The report shows inspection of 1,080 greenhouses, 3,240 florist shops, 1,502 wholesale houses, 2,646 chain and department stores, and 64,000 transit inspections. During the year 61,165 devitalized plants were condemned and 1,060 illegal shipments found.

The marketing service includes a citrus station at Weslaco and another for livestock and other products at San Antonio. Statistics are not gathered on crop production and crop prospects generally as such a federal service is available.

Kansans Plan Youth Group

MANHATTAN, Kas., Nov. 14. (AP)—Frank Rickel, 21, and Merrill Peterson, 19, students at Kansas State college here, are planning a nation-wide youth organization for the preservation of democracy.

The group, to be known as "Democracy's Volunteers," has been endorsed by prominent educators and writers including Lewis Mumford, lecturer and author; Freda Kirchway, editor of Nation and Reinhold Niebuhr, author-professor of the Union Theological Seminary at New York City.

The five-point general program of the organization, as announced by Rickel and Peterson, follows:

(1) Belief in democracy as the best expression of human dignity and integrity and the pledge to work unstintingly for it.

(2) Recognition of democracy's fault and belief that these can be corrected "by intelligent opinion and determined action."

(3) Belief that autocracy and despotism cannot be appeased and that free peoples must stand together when their liberties are threatened.

(4) Condemnation of youth's inaction and recognition of the necessity of accompanying education with action.

(5) Determination to lay now the foundations for a just and permanent peace under the influence of democracy.

The group favors government sponsored work-camps where youth can work and exchange ideas with young people from other parts of the country, "all aid to Britain," an aggressive stand in the Far East and forums in schools and between schools.

Almost a million acres of submarginal land have been purchased in the southwestern dust bowl by the Department of Agriculture since 1935.

Japanese Threat Stops US Entry

By GLEN M. STADLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Nov. 14. — Jacques Doriot, 42-year-old auto mechanic and former deputy who is regarded by thousands as the strong man who can lead France by an authoritarian regime, told the United Press he believed the United States will not enter the European conflict, chiefly because of Japan.

"I think that the United States has hesitated to throw itself into the European war because it was afraid of a war in the Pacific and the Atlantic," he said on his 42d birthday anniversary in his small fifth floor office near the d Royal Palace.

"The recent pact of Germany, Italy and Japan strengthens that belief. I also believe the lesson of France and England makes the people of America desire to remain at peace. Besides, America is not prepared. That was proved when she was unable to give France effective help in aviation."

He said he felt that in spite of Mr. Roosevelt's "personal democratic and antitotalitarian tendencies," the President was forced to declare against war, thus reflecting the strong anti-war feeling of the people.

In regard to the United States' attitude toward France during the recent war, Doriot, who first was elected to the Chamber of Deputies in 1924 while serving a six-months prison term for preaching fraternization of French and German troops in the Rhur, criticized America for promising France aid in event of war.

"France's defeat is not only military but political," he said. "The first consequence was the disappearance of French democracy and the Third Republic. This is justice because the French democrats were the most r nerous to want a war which could be avoided. Besides, they had gre t illusions of aid which the democracies of the entire world would bring them. They believed the English democrats would make a great effort to send an army to the continent. This did not happen.

"They also thought that the American democracy would solidarize with France, that it would bring help first, in material, then men. You know better than I why this didn't happen. The promising speeches of Mr. Roosevelt were not followed by acts.

"The French democrats also believed that Russia would likewise help them. This didn't happen. Thus, the French democracy found itself almost completely isolated. It was the victim of its imprudence and its illusions of the solidarity of democracies."

Leaders Were Opposed

Doriot said democracy did not represent the real French people, but "the political expression of the plutocracy, of international finance —especially Jewish finance—of big capitalist interests and an ideology which almost all people of Europe had already rejected. The French democracy spoke English, Russian, even American; it did not talk French. It is due to this fact that France has been for years pregnant with a revolution."

The founder of the French Popular Party said the masses of the French people did not believe in the war. He said the French set out for fighting with as much hate against their own regime as Germany. He believes the war's result would have been the same if it had started in October, 1939, instead of May, 1940.

Doriot's massive body seemed to fill most of the room. He tugged at his chin and talked in a measured voice. He started his political career as a Communist deputy and mayor of the industrial suburb of St. Denis. Later he became a violent anti-Communist who accepted totalitarianism shortly after Hitler's rise in Germany.

He spoke of his plan for the rebirth of France as the man who might be the one to carry it out. It was Aristide Briand who once said: "Doriot will lead France some day."

Hopes To Bar Jews.

Doriot said he believed in a corporate state—all Frenchmen united in one large fraternal community without class dictatorship — and a government "which will be apt to be on good terms with the regimes dominating the European peninsula. That is, Germany, Italy and Spain." His totalitarian plan would eliminate Jews, sending them eventually to form a nation of their own, probably in Africa.

"In my opinion," he said studiedly, "this state must be corporate to permit an association of all factors of production; the employer, the technicians and workers reunited in their corporate branches. This means that such a state will leave little space for combinations of international plutocracy and finance.

He admitted that unemployment had become critically serious. He said that unemployment, which totals more than 302,000 in the Paris area, or more than entire France in normal times, can be decreased by:

Elimination from the big cities of workers who cannot be useful there, repa riating them to farms; elimination of foreigners; institution of a family salary which would permit the women to return to the homes; organization of youths to teach professions; reclassification.

Kissing Bug Found Guilty

MANHATTAN, Kans., Nov. 14. (U.P.) Dr. C. H. Kitselman and Dr. R. C. Smith of the Kansas State college faculty have discovered a carrier of sleeping sickness, a disease which has been killing horses in the Middle West since 1912.

The carrier was the assassin bug, commonly called the "kissing bug."

Kitselman and Smith noted spread of sleeping sickness ended abruptly after the first killing frost. They suspected some bloodsucking insect.

A check on mosquitos brought no results. They next tried the assassin bug, which feeds on animals at night and hides by day.

They found 50 per cent of the assassin bugs taken from a pasture where horses were infected were carriers of the disease virus. Subsequent tests brought the same results.

"It is the most encouraging lead toward the solution of the disease yet discovered," Kitselman said. "However, we have yet to determine whether the assassin bug is the true carrier of a mere vector of the disease."

Sleeping sickness developed in the Middle West in 1912. Since 1934 the disease has become more severe and losses greater.

While a recently discovered vaccine has curtailed deaths, the manner in which the disease was spread was not previously known.

Nine-year-old Sebastino Soares was bitten to death by a snake at his home near Rio de Janeiro Brazil.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

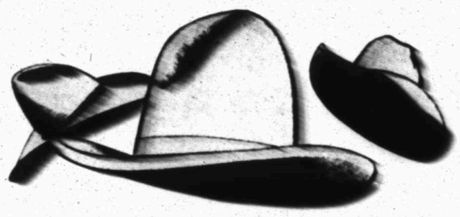

Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv.
