Six-County Farmer Meeting Is Tuesday

Rainfall Sets New All-Time Record

All annual rainfall records, it is believed, have already been broken up to this time this year in Lynn county since records have been kept here. Up to Thursday morning, the rainfall for the year had mounted to 30.73 inches, according to the government rain gage kept by the News.

In some portions of the county the rainfall has exceeded this amount, according to reliable reports and judged from the amount of water on the ground in those portions following periods of heavy rainfall.

The precipitation in Tahoka this month thus far amounts to 5.25 inches, and it is possible that in some localities the rainfall has been at least twice that amount.

For the year, the rainfall here by months has been as follows: January .56, February 1.38, March 2.71, April 2.63, May 11.09, June 4.05, July 2.60, August .46, September to date 5.25.

During this month the rainfall here has come in the following installments: September 2, .19; Sept. 3, 1.09; Sept. 7, .22; Sept. 8, 2.05; Sept. 12, 1.26; Sept. 17, .44.

As a result of the unusual amount of precipitation, the county has produced probably the largest feed crop in its history, and the cotton yield per acre promises to be near the top, though the acreage is not as large as it has been in several other years. The total yield has also been reduced considerably by destructive hailstorms that have visited some sections of the county and repeated in some of them.

It now seems fairly certain, however, that the second largest crop in the history of the county will be harvested this fall.

Due to the excessive rainfall, the crop has just barely begun to open, and the prospects are that picking will not open up in full blast for at least two weeks yet.

Bulldogs To Open With Andrews

Tahoka High School Bulldogs will open their home season tonight at 8 o'clock with the Andrews Antelopes. It will be the first meeting of the two teams, and little is known of the visitors' strength.

Tahoka's team received a severe blow this week when it was found that four men were ineligible under the eight semester rule. These are Kelly King, guard, Garland Walker, tackle, Jack Swafford, full, and Edwin Rogers, all of whom Coach Leo Jackson had been depending on for much first-string service this year. The first three played against Lamesa last week.

Tahoka, going out of her class to compete with Lamesa, heralded as the Class AA team to beat this year, lost 33 to 0 in a game in which the nervous Tahoka boys, many of them, were playing their first game of varsity football. The game was played at Lamesa before a large crowd.

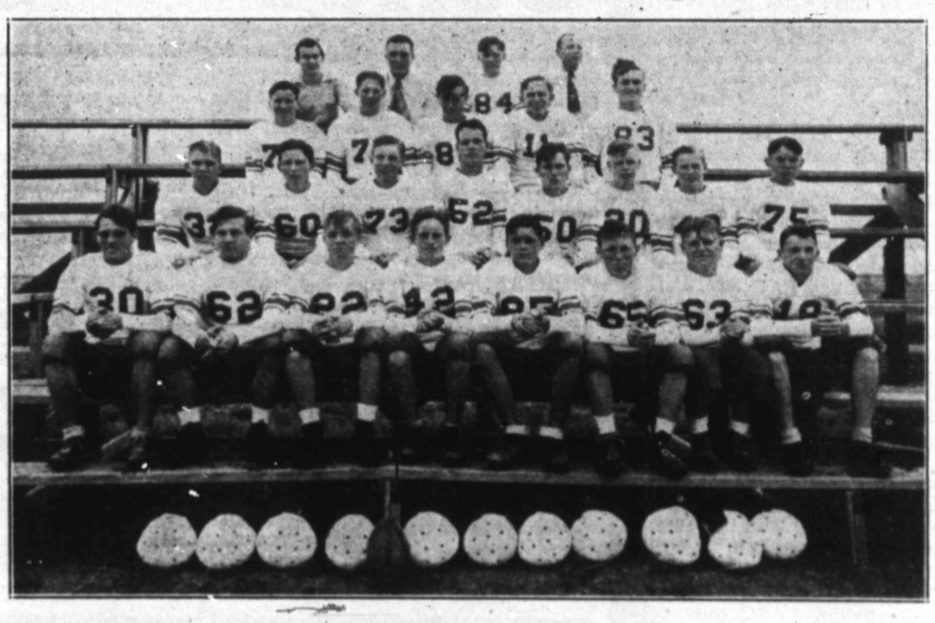

Though the play was ragged at times, at other times the Bulldogs showed they had the stuff by stopping a large percent of the Lamesa line play cold. In fact only one of the Lamesa scores was made on straight football. One was a 45-yard run to pay dirt, another was on a 60-yard punt return, a third was on a long pass and run of 55 yards, another on a pass for nearly as much and the other was from the 15-yard line.

Tahoka boys gained much experience in the game, and though three of the men playing last week will not play tonight, fans may expect to see as scrappy a team as Tahoka has ever had, a team that even yet is due to be heard from in this district.

Tahoka's colorful band, 51-strong, will perform during the game and between halves.

Business Men Will Visit Grassland

Tahoka business and professional men will attend a rural-urban meeting at Grassland Thursday night of next week with 50 to 75 farmers of that community as their guests. The meeting is being sponsored by the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce and the Grassland Home Demonstration Club, of which Mrs. A. L. Shepherd is president.

The Grassland farmers picked by the H. D. Club will be guests of a like number of Tahoka business men. A dinner will be served by the ladies in the school gymnasium beginning at 8 o'clock, and a program will be presented by the Grassland community.

The meeting is strictly a goodwill project designed to better acquaint the rural and town people.

President Wynne Collier of the Chamber of Commerce has appointed Calloway Huffaker, chairman, Leonard Craft, Fred McGinty, W. S. Anglin, and Charles Townes on the local committee of arrangements for the meeting.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to sponsor one such meeting each month in Lynn county communities during the winter.

WTCC Promises Cotton Pickers

Jed A. Rix of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce told Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors and members at a meeting here Tuesday afternoon that body would do its best to see that Lynn county farmers had sufficient cotton pickers by the time the season gets well under way. He expressed a belief that sufficient pickers would be available as a result of the WTCC's work.

Also at the meeting, the local C. of C. adopted a resolution endorsing the WTCC fight for adjustment of freight rates.

Mr. Rix stated that the annual Chamber of Commerce convention will be held this year in Midland in November.

Local Girl Wins $100 Tech Award

Miss Mary Margaret Tunnell, a Tahoka high graduate and a senior in journalism in Texas Tech, has been awarded the Mrs. J. T. Hutchinson journalism scholarship of $100 for the second consecutive year, it was announced in Lubbock a few days ago by Cecil Horne, head professor of journalism.

The scholarship is presented each year to the student journalism major in sophomore or junior years having highest scholastic average.

Miss Tunnell had a grade-point average of 2.83, or approximately A-minus, for last year's college work.

BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING IN TAHOKA

The annual meeting of the Brownfield Baptist Association held in the Baptist Church here on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week was one of the most largely attended meetings in the history of the Association. It is believed that there were more han four hundred people in attendance, 340 having registered on Tuesday. It is believed that quite a number did not register. The main auditorium of the church was filled almost to capacity throughout the day.

On the second day the attendance was not so large, some being detained at home by the showers which began falling early Wednesday morning, but there was a good attendance in spite of the rain.

There are thirty-five Baptist churches which are listed as members of the association, twenty-nine of them being represented with messengers at the meetings here Tuesday and Wednesday. A few of the smaller rural churches located in the more distant portions of the association failed to have messen-

Lee Dodosn, Tahoka High School principal, who was called into the service last spring, was given his discharge at Fort Bliss, El Paso, on Tuesday of this week. He was one of the first men released from that camp under the new 28-year age limit of the Selective Service Act.

Dodson returned to Tahoka that night to resume his work in the Tahoka schools. He had been here on furlough about ten days to assist in the school opening, but was called back to camp last Friday, and was issued a discharge Tuesday.

They expect to be in Washington all of next week.

Merchants Hear Lecture Series

Dr. T. C. Root, professor in the department of business administration and economics in the Texas Technological College, gave the first of a series of lectures to the members of the Retail Merchants Association in the district court room here Tuesday night. His subject was Credit Information.

He was giving another lecture at the same place on Thursday night while this this paper was being printed, his subject being Analysis of Credit Information.

His subject for next Tuesday night will be Collections, according to Miss Viola Ellis, secretary of the Association.

Fairly good crowds of business men have been in attendance, but Miss Ellis thinks that many others should avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these lectures, which are given free of charge.

Miss Ellis quotes Dr. Root as stating that heretofore where this course of lectures has been given the business men attending have paid from $5.00 to $$15.00 each for the course. It makes no difference with him, however, as he is receiving his pay any way. But the course offers information and instruction that should be valuable to any business man, Miss Ellis thinks.

Dr. Root is not a mere theorist; he has had practical experience as a business man and speaks largely from that standpoint.

Mr. Cade has likewise gained the reputation of being a far-seeing, level-headed business mah, and he and Mr. Nowlin should make a strong team.

Tom Curry Died Suddenly Sunday

Tom Monroe Curry, 60, died at his home two miles west of Draw last Sunday morning, September 14. He suffered an attack of heart trouble and died before a physician could be summoned.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church here Monday afternoon by Rev. G. E. Turrentine, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Geo. A. Dale, of the Baptist Church. Burial was made in the Tahoka cemetry.

Tom Curry was born on July 19, 1881, at Hubbard, Texas. He was the son of Wiley and Nancy Ann Curry, who preceded him in death. He united with the Methodist Crurch at Dover, Texas, in 1900, according to members of the family, during a revival meeting under an old brush arbor.

In 1907 he was united in marriage with Miss Delia Isham of Prairie Hill at Hubbard, Hill county. To this union were born three children: Mrs. Audrey Dyke of Brownfield, Mrs. Pearline Murphy of Lubbock, and Thomas Curry of the home. He is survived by the wife, these three children, and five grandchildren: James, Eugene, and Monroe Dyke, and Bette Joyce and Barbara Sue Murphy.

Two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. W. M. Thompson, Mrs. J. Y. Thompson, Jack Curry, and Wiley Curry, all of Tahoka, also survive him. He leaves also three half sisters, Mrs. Ida Dillard of Des Moines, Iowa, Mrs. Tex Knight of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. John Sewell of Teague, none of whom was able to be present, but many cousins, nieces, and nephews were here.

Mr. Curry and family came to Lynn county twenty-one year ago and he had resided here practically ever since.

He was highly respected by his neigbors and friends, and his death is deplored by many of the people of this county.

Farmers Urged To Dig Silos

With the best feed crop in several years now maturing in Lynn county, the Farm Security Administration is encouraging its borrower families to stabilize their business and increase their incomes by properly conserving and utilizing their crop resources.

Wyman J. Welch, County FSA Supervisor, believes that although farmers may expect increased incomes during the present period of national defense, they also face higher production costs.

"Farm families cooperating with this agency," Mr. Welch said, "are being assisted in increasing the net returns from each acre of land by using their feed crops so that the maximum pounds of butterfat, beef, pork, wool and so forth are produced.

"The farmers who utilize their acreage to best advantage, who conserve their feed supplies by proper storage and feeding practices, and who manage their farm plants on a sound business basis are the farms who will prosper most now and in the future.

"For example," Mr. Welch continued, "an acre of sorghums fed as silage will go approximately twice as far as when fed in the form of dry bundles. This is especially true with dairy cows. This fact, coupled with the comparatively low cost of trench silos, is expected to result in an additional number of these storage facilities here this year."

"The best substitute for pasture is silage, and silage can be had by every dairyman even though he has only two cows," Mr. Welch said.

Citing the saving of feeding silage, the FSA supervisor said dairy farmers especially appreciate the value of this ration. He told of an experiment made at the Ohio State Station, where dairy cows received a dry roughage ration of hay and stover with 13.5 pounds of grain were compared with cows being fed 58 pounds of silage, a little mixed hay and four pounds of grain. The silage-fed cows gave 15 per cent more milk at 41 per cent less cost.

Sounding a warning that crops next year may not be as abundant as they are this year, Mr. Welch stated that since a good crop is on hand at the present time every effort should be made to see that it is properly conserved, and in most cases, placed in trench silos.

"Fact is," he concluded, "this is a mighty good time for farmers to lay in a supply of feed that will last them at least two years."

Information about constructing trench silos, their location, size, cost, harvesting and filling operations may be obtained without charge from the FSA office or the Extension Service office.

AAA Speeds Up Work For Defense

Speeding up AAA work in the county to meet the demands of the defense campaign for greater food production, the AAA office promises that all farmers in the county will receive their 1942 allotments by November 1.

During the month of November, the farm plan, incorporating a survey of food production in 1941 and pledges on food production in 1942, will be presented for consideration of every farmer in the county in a farm-to-farm canvass, Vernon C. Willhoit, chairman of the county USDA Defense Board and the county AAA committee, said.

Definite plans for the food production sign-up have not been made, Willhoit announced, but, according to Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard's recent announcement of food production goals, the campaign will be completed by December 1, and every farmer in the nation will be asked to do his part in meeting the food needs of this nation and the nations fighting aggression.

Allotment notices for cotton, wheat, and peanuts will be in the hands of producers before November 1 so that they can make definite plans as to how best they can do their part in the food drive. No allotments will be issued this year on vegetables or general crops.

New Home Man's Brother Is Killed

Thomas E. Clements died at his residence in Lubbock last Sunday after being fatally shot with his own gun. His dead body was found lying on the ground just outside the kitchen with a .38 calibre pistol just inside the kitchen door. A bullet had taken effect just above the right temple. The pistol is presumed to have been fired accidentally.

Clements was a brother of Will Clements of the New Home community in this county. News of the tragedy came as a great shock to him, and he has the sympathy of many Lynn county friends.

CATCHES NICE SALMON

A. H. (Buddy) McGonagill and Levi Noble returned last Saturday from a vacation trip to California and the far Northwest, after having been away from Tahoka two weeks to a day. Buddy came back spinning some kind of a tall fish story that seemed to arouse the curiosity of all the doubting Thomases that infest his part of town. He gave the real low-down of the whole matter to the News man, however. It was a sixteen-pound salmon that he pulled out of the waters of one of the rivers up in Oregon—not such an incredible tale after all. Buddy avers that he and Levi had one grand and glorious vacation. But Levi had no luck with his hook.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. W. B. Gray will fill his regular appointment at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and evening. The topic of the morning sermon at 11 o'clock will be: "When a Man Comes to Himself." For the evening service at 8: "Why Prayers are Unanswered."

The Sunday morning Adult Bible Class at 9:45. General theme: "The Book of Revelation and this Time in Which We Live." This is an interesting study which should concern us all. The public is cordially invited to this study class and to the regular morning and evening services.

SUB-DEBS ELECT

New officers of the Sub-Deb club were elected at the club's regular semi-monthly meeting September 4. These officers will serve for the ensuing three months.

Officers elected were as follows: Myrna Gaignat, president; Peggy Fenton, vice president; Dorothy Fulkerson, secretary; Mary Beth Fenton, treasurer; Alita Lois Stewart, reporter; Helen Pemberton, parliamentarian; and Dorothy Jean Applewhite, social chairman.

Mrs. Boullioun honored the girls and their dates with a barbecue in the back yard of her home Friday, Sept. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Weaver and children were recent visitors with her parents in Dallas, where her father, B. T. Ussery, former resident of this county was a patient in Baylor Hospital with pneumonia. Upon their return another daughter, Mrs. Troy Copelin, went down and has notified relatives here that, after three weeks, their father is showing considerable improvement.

Wilson King of Kelley Air Field, San Antonio, was a recent visitor here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King.

Dodson Tells Of Life In Army

At the Rotary luncheon Thursday, with Supt. W. T. Hanes in charge of the program, Principal Lee Dodson gave the low-down on how to get in and how to get out of the army.

Lee was recently discharged from the army under the new law which exempts persons over 28 years of age from service under the Selective Service Act passed last year.

But Lee indicated that, aside from some such cause, it is much easier to get into the army than to get out of it. He said that every man in training exercises to the fullest extent his great Amerecan privilege to "gripe," but intimated that they mean no harm by it.

His talk was very interesting, punctuated with a good deal of fun as he went along.

Miss McNatt and Mr. Donald Turner invited the Rotarians to attend the Food and Feed program to be given in the American Legion Hall next Monday, and Miss McNatt stressed the importance of proper attention to the diet, asserting that a large percentage of the youth of our country are being rejected for military training on the grounds that they are physically unfit. She attributed this unfitness in large measure to defects in the diet.

Ed Cook Killed

Funeral services were conducted by Elder Virgil Lowrance of Slaton, pastor of the Primitive Baptist Church, assisted by Elder Tyne W. Smith of Draw, and the body was laid to rest in the Tahoka cemetery.

Pall bearers were nephews of the deceased: Floyd Carpenter of Loop, Ed and Dan Carpenter of Tahoka, Clarence and George Carpenter of Post, Richard Cook of Walnut Springs, Ernest Cook of Corsicana, and Delmos Davis of Lorenzo.

Honorary pall bearers were: W. B. Slaton, W. E. Smith, Waldo McLaurin, R. P. Weathers, Fred Bucy, Fred McGinty, Oscar McGinty of Spur, Jeff Lambert, Claude Tyler, and P. E. Askew of O'Donnell.

Definite information as to the circumstances of the tragedy are lacking, but from known facts highway officers and members of the family have been able to fairly accurately reconstruct them, it is believed.

Mr. Cook had been down to Hubbard City in Hill county to bring back to his farm in the Wells community a negro couple who had worked for him the past three years, but it appears that for some reason he was coming back without them.

Upon reaching a filling station between Azle and Springtown, he drove his truck upon the outer driveway and stopped. It is believed that his lights had been giving him trouble, for when his truck was started up later, the lights were found to be flickering. Unable, doubtless, to arouse any one at the station, he started to walk across the highway in the direction of a residence on the opposite side. When he went upon the highway, a truck being driven by another man struck him. Instead of being knocked down he was thrown upward by the terrific impact, through the windshield and into the cab of the truck.

We have seen no statement from the driver of the truck respecting the affair and have no information as to his version of it.

Whether for some reason Mr. Cook failed to see the truck or whether it was coming at a greater rate of speed than he estimated or whether he became confused or blinded by the bright lights and thus failed to get out of its path, friends here do not know.

Telephone messages reached the family here a few hours later, and an ambulance went down from Lubbock during the afternoon and brought the body back. Later it was turned over to the Harris Funeral Home here, who had charge at the funeral services and at the interment which followed.

Born at Athens, Texas, on March 15, 1878, Mr. Cook was 63 years of age. He was married to Miss Ida Robertson at Athens on July 15, 1899. He removed with his family from Kerens, Navarro county, to the Wells community in this county in October, 1924. Acquiring quite a large body of land in the community and establishing a store there, Mr. Cook greatly prospered through the years. In addition to his farming and mercantile operations, he made a practice of raising cattle which he fed on the feed produced on his farms and often hauled them to market at Fort Worth. He took a keen interest in public affairs and was an outstanding citizen of his community and of the county.

Hosts of friends came Sunday afternoon not only from Wells, but also from O'Donnell, T-Bar, Three Lakes, and other communities, as well as from Lubbock and Post and other neighboring towns to attend the funeral services and to express their sympathy to the family and relatives.

Burleson Remodels Filling Station

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burleson are completely remodeling the building in which she operates the Tahoka Service station at Main and Lockwood streets, junction of the two highways. When finished, this promises to be one of the most handsome and attractive service stations on the South Plains.

The present roof is being torn away and a less extensiye but higher roof is taking its place. The brick columns at the front and the posts supporting the present roof will necessarily be removed. The pumps will also be removed and lined up diagonally so as to be more accessible to the customers, and the posts supporting the new roof will be placed in a line with the pumps. The curb along the east side of the building will be removed and the approaches into the station from all directions will be made to slope, for the convenience of the public and the station attendants alike.

The walls of the building will be dashed pure white, with attractive red tiling finish at the bottom along the front. The ceiling will consist of highly polished pine-knot wood. The office interior will be likewise finished. In other words, this is going to be a "swell" station, according to Mrs. Burleson, the manager of the business, who enthusiastically described the structure to a representative of the News as it will appear when finished.

Truett Giles, who recently graduated from the Airplane Mechanics course, Chanute Field branch, Air Corps Technical School, at Chanute Field, Illinois, is now visiting his parents at Redwine, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Giles, while on furlough prior to being sent to Wichita Falls. He is accompanied here by his wife.

Rotarians Visit Neighbor Clubs

Tahoka Rotarians attended two inter-city meetings the past week, one at Lubbock on last Thursday night and one at O'Donnell Tuesday night.

Fourteen members of the Tahoka club were among the 364 Rotarians from 30 West Texas and New Mexico clubs who were guests of the Lubbock club at its annual inter-city meeting. The principal address was by Carthey Robbins, director of Rotary International, from Stuttgart, Arkansas. Chicken barbecue was served.

Tuesday night, twenty Tahoka Rotarians, along with delegations from Post, Lubbock and Slaton were guests of the O'Donnell club, and O'Donnell really knows how to feed, Tahoka Rotarians aver. Chicken barbecue, with almost every "trimming" imaginable, was served.

Jack M. Randall, Lubbock attorney, was the principal speaker. Tahoka furnished a duet, a Canadian song, by Dr. J. W. Sinclair and R. P. Weathers, to the hilarity of the crowd. Jack Norman of Slaton rendered several vocal numbers, and he and his accompanist, Mrs. Ferrell, teamed together to present a whistling duet, "Indian Love Call." As a bit of comedy, James Applewhite and Namon Everett, attempted to sing "Home On The Range", and Miss Florence Gary, talented O'Donnell singer, accompanied by Mrs. Newell Hughes, sang several numbers.

W. G. Forgy, editor of the O'Donnell Press, arranged the program. Supt. S. F. Johnson is president of the O'Donnell Club.

Scout Will Receive Highest Award

Tahoka Boy Scouts will hold a Council Fire program Monday night, September 22, at 7:30 p. m. on the lots near the Scout hall, Scoutmaster A. R. Millken announces.

At this meeting, Tiny Jolly of the local troop expects to receive the Eagle award, which is the highest possible ranking for a Boy Scout. Tiny, will be the first Tahoka boy ever to receive this award.

Scouters, parents, and friends of Boy Scouts are invited to the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Edwards and family are now at San Benito, where he is employed at an airport.

Review Of Book Brings Out Crowd

The book review given by Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell and sponsored by the B. & P. W. Club in the high school auditorium Monday night attracted a good-sized audience and the Club realized a neat little sum from the proceeds, according to Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes, a member of the B. & P. W. Club. Quite a number of O'Donnell people and other out-of-town people were in the audience.

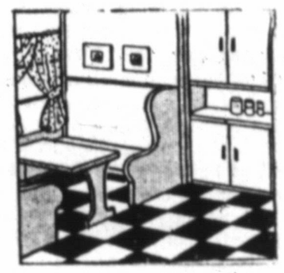

Mrs. Stokes says that the unanimous opinion was that the review by Mrs. Tunnel was super-fine, the book under discussion being The Keys to the Kingdom.

Mrs. Tunnell, it is said, has been invited to give a book review in Galveston soon.

Congratulations . .

To Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Wells, who are announcing the arrival of a nine pound boy, born September 10. He will be known as James Wesley.

Aubrey Maines of O'Donnell accepted a job as mechanic at Boyd Smith's service station. His family consists of a wife and son.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

NEWS HAIL REPORT IS MISUNDERSTOOD

Last week we gave a report of the damage and destruction wrought by hail in some communities in Lynn county. Among other things, we said: "The storm seems to have struck hardest in the West Point community, where a number of crops of both cotton and feed were almost completely wiped out . . . In that communiay much of the cotton was literally stripped of all foliage and bolls, absolutely nothing of value being left. Cotton that promised a yield of half or three quarters of a bale per acre Monday morning promised nothing after the storm had passed. Fine fields of feed were beaten to shreds."

Now, we thought that fairly well conveyed the idea that the crops in the West Point community were totally ruined, or nearly so.

But this week a good lady friend came in from that community with the complaint that we had left the impression that they really had some crops left out there, and she was bent on having that impression corrected.

Down at the end of the story, after reciting much of the damage that had been done in differen parts of the county, we appended a paragraph in which we undertook to convey the idea that ravages of leaf worms were probably not nearly so serious as some people thought. Here is the paragraph word for word:

"The storm revealed one encouraging fact, however, to all who have eyes to see. Out at the Claude Wells farm eight miles west of Tahoka, for instance, the hail beat all the leaves off the cotton plants, and many of the bolls, and probably ruined a large percentage of the bolls that were left, but with all the leaves out of the way, there the bolls were, plainly visible, countless millions of them, round and plump, shining in the sunlight. They ranged in size all the way from half-grown to full-grown; and this field must have been typical of a thousand others in Lynn county. And if the army worms should eat every leaf off of every stalk of cotton in Lynn county tomorrow it would not seriously damage any of these matured or near-matured bolls. There are enough of them to make a wonderful crop worms or no worms."

Now, what there is in that paragraph, or that story to indicate that the people in the West Point community were still going to make some considerable cotton is more than we are able to find. It doesn't even indicate, so far as we are able to understand the English language, that the Claud Wells crop was likely to produce any considerable yield.

We were merely trying to say that with the leaves all beaten off, the bolls on the plants became clearly visible, and that there were millions of them—even though they had been ruined by the hail. The heavy fruitage on the plants in that field, which had been made visible by the devastating hail, was typical of the fruitage of a thousand other fields in Lynn county—which the hail had not hurt. That was the idea we were trying to get over; possibly we didn't express ourselves in English that was beyond misinterpretation upon a cursory reading, and hence the good lady's righteous indignation.

We wound up by stating that these matured or near-matured bolls in the cotton fields of the county, then hidden by the foliage, would not be materially damaged even if the worms should immediately eat all the leaves off the stalks. There may be some who would take issue with us on this last statement, but it was made by one who spent most of his boyhood in the cotton fields, when and where the army worms were just as numerous and avaricious as they are here and now, and who has helped to sprinkle the poison himself on many an acre of cotton; and we still stand by our guns on that point without substantial modification. Ravages by leaf worms will cause the squares and the small bolls to shed but they will not materialy affect the grown or near-grown bolls.

Boll Worms will attack and destroy near-grown bolls, but not the leaf worms.

Anyway, to satisfy all minds, we will repeat that the cotton crops and many of the feed crops in the West Point community have been almost completely wiped out, obliterated, annihilated, and destroyed by the hail.

President Roosevelt's order to shoot on sight all German submarines and surface raiders prowling in and on the waters of the Atlantic hit the spot with us. It was a foolish act of appeasement when four years ago we passed the Neutrality Act and surrendered our historic doctrine of Freedom of the Seas. It has been responsible for the sinking of thousands of tons of American goods enroute to Europe, has helped Hitler to conquer thus far, and has finally gotten us into trouble just the same. You can't compromise with a robber or a pirate and gain anything by it.

We do not know about the wisdom of the state highway bond bill now pending in the legislature, but it is possibly a better bill than either of the measures originally proposed. At any rate, the new governor seems to be able to get along with the legislature and to help the two houses iron out their differences.

Nobody can doubt the patriotism of the American Legion; and as for us, we do not doubt its wisdom in taking a firm stand in support of our President's foreign policy.

Yes, we are in favor of destroying all the Nazi rattlesnakes we can find on the Atlantic, or the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. Dayton B. Nance of Barrington, Illinois, and their longtime friend, Henry Rawn, of Waukegan, same state, have been here the past week visiting Mr. Nance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Nance. Dayton, who has visited here many times, is manager of a large chain grocery store in Barrington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cline of Lubbock were here Sunday visiting her mother, Mrs. L. R. Brooks. Mrs. Cline is the former Miss Jo Alice Brooks of this city. She was married in June. She recently graduated with highest honors at the Lubbock Sanitarium Nursing School and is now a nurse in that institution.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rogers, who removed from Tahoka to Lubbock a few months ago, moved last week back to Tahoka. Mr. Rogers is handling the accounts of the Tahoka Clinic. The people of Tahoka are glad to have this good family back.

Dr. E. E. Callaway of Abilene was here Monday looking over his farms, and he remarked to a representative of the News that the cotton on his farms was even more promising than he expected to see.

TAHOKA BOYS GIVE LOW-DOWN ON MANEUVERS

Four well-known Tahoka boys who are in the army now and are participating in the maneuvers down in Louisiana have sent to the News the following well-written letter, giving a graphic recital of some of their experiences and observations while fighting this mock war down in the swamps. Here it is:

Somewhere in La. (?)
Sept. 4, 1941.

Lynn County News:

Having read several items concerning the activities of Tahoka boys in army posts in numerous camps throughout the United States and its possessions in late editions of The Lynn County News, we will attempt to describe the gigantic war now in progress in Louisiana.

The shrill blast of the First Sergeants' whistle at 4:00 a. m. arouses us from a none too pleasant slumber on a bed of pine needles, ticks, and a covey of "chiggers". Having successfully chased down an egg and a cup of "Joe", we wash our "meat cans" and the day begins.

In the early morning mists the forward observer reports a strong detachment of cavalry and tank units are advancing to our immediate front. Low flying pursuit and dive bombers are strafing our position and bombing our lines of communication to the rear with the army's new type "sack of flour" bombs. The situation is critical. Our battalion commander orders a displacement to the rear. Everything is in a state of confusion; tank troops have broken through our first line troops and knocked out a whole battalion of artillery on our right. Pulling another slick "Dunkirk," we at last reassemble our shattered forces and retreat.

Taking up new positions fifty miles away and supported by heavy artillery (155 mm. Howser), we dig in for another pincers movement. To our rear comes the rumbling of the 2nd armored division (Hell on wheels) to stop the advance of the Red forces. Intense heat gives way to the shadows of the pines. Night descends on the weary troops. Hour after hour, until the wee hours of the morning, our tanks, cavalry, engineers have been moving up. All is in readiness for our down offensive. Arise! ye stalwart men of Tahoka; the time has come!!!

Dawn breaks. Word is passed down the line—the mighty offensive is on!

Tanks to the left of us—Tanks to the right of us—into a veritable wall of lame and smoke the Tahoka boys go forward, supported by our battery.

Through the day and far into the night the Blue forces smash all front lines of resistance of the enemy.

We Tahoka boys suddenly find ourselves surrounded by enemy troops. We pour wave on wave of hot lead into the enemy but they are too many. The truck in which we ride is captured, and we are taken to the rear for internment for the duration of the battle.

Bribing a sentry, we managed to smuggle out this uncensored report of the "Battle of the Bayous." This script may never reach the Democratic world, but if by miracle it should get through, you will know we have sacrificed our liberty for a cause.—The Tahoka Fincks; Robert Maddox, James K. Connolly, James Foster, Finis Connolly.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express grateful thanks to our many friends for their every act of kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. The floral tribute was comforting in its silent message of esteem.—Mrs. Ed. Cook. Mr. and Mrs. R .F. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Cook and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dial, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook and family, Mr and Mrs. T. Ellis and family, Harold Cook.

FORMER RESIDENTS OF TAHOKA VISIT HERE

Mrs. Syd Sanders of Waso, Mrs. A. D. Sanders and baby Sydney Doss of Plainview, and Mrs. A. D. Shook of Waco spent the week end here visiting relatives and friends.

Relatives visited were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Sanders, Mrs. Lee Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Boullioun; friends visited included Mrs. Raymond Weathers, Mrs. Hall Robinson, and others.

Mrs. Syd Sanders and Mrs. A. D. Shook were former residents of Tahoka.

George Randolph Lindly, son of Geo. Lindly of T-Bar, is now aboard the Aircraft Carrier Saratoga with headquarters at Honolulu, Hawaii, his father told The News last week. George has been in the Navy for several months.

New oil lasted 5,683 miles longer than the runner-up in Death Valley Death-Test ...CERTIFIED

Your own engine gauge-stick can tell you best about Conoco Nth motor oil. Next-best is to buttonhole the most frugal car owners you know around town. Some have never yet added a quart since changing to Conoco Nth. And you can see why right here—by the mileage figures from the Certified Death-Test of Conoco Nth oil vs. five other big brands.

The whole big success of Conoco Nth started down in Death Valley—so hot you can't sweat. Here 6 new stock cars, strictly alike, each got one 5-quart fill of some one oil being tested. Then the Official Referee clamped on the locks; never a drop of oil could be added.

Eyed by impartial officials every instant, the cars all reeled off their 57 miles hourly. Here and there on the desert a carcass lay bleaching—and desert death awaited these car engines, too. For none could finish till its oil hit bottom—finishing the engine beyond repair.

5 BIG-NAME OILS bought retail by Referee. One 5-quart fill per car. Not another drop throughout the hot desert Death-Test.

CONOCO Nth gave nearly Twice the miles averaged by the others tested!

The 5-quart fill of Conoco Nth lasted 13,398 miles . . . Certified. Conoco Nth outlasted one big brand by 8,268 miles. Even the best of the five was outlasted 5,683 miles by Conoco Nth oil. Such a real difference must have a real source. And two real life-givers created by man . . . two modern synthetics . . . are in Conoco Nth motor oil.

You know of modern vitamin synthetics, making up for Nature's life-givers lost in some modern food processing. Similarly, the extreme refining needed by oils for current cars has been destroying Nature's best life-givers! But in their place today Conoco Nth brings your engine the two patented Conoco synthetics.

One of these—man-made under the famed Germ Processed oil patent—will keep your engine OIL-PLATED with lubricant that can't all quickly drain off of inner surfaces. So OIL-PLATING is on guard against wear in advance!

And the latest Conoco synthetic—man-made under U.S. Pat. 2,218,132—will check "festering" of oil that's encouraged by foul leftovers from every engine's normal firing. This common oil trouble is now checked or inhibited by the new man-made Conoco life-giver—Thialkene inhibitor.

You'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil in sinister Death Valley, any more than you repeat other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at recommended intervals. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before adding a quart, judging by this big fact: 5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were outmileaged 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil. Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

CERTIFIED I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

ODDS & ENDS

by Eee Eye, the Elder

Sometimes we become puzzled as to what to fill this column up with. It is usually the first copy which we prepare for the next issue of the paper.

Sunday came and we didn't know what we were going to write about. But in scanning over the pages of the Sunday Avalanche as usual, we noted an unusual number of our long-time friends who figured in the news columns. That's odd, we said to ourself, and maybe it all belongs in Odds and Ends.

So here goes.

The first story that attracted our attention after we got off the front page was a feature story from Washington about Oveta Culp Hobby, wife of ex-Governor William P. Hobby, and a picture of her using the telephone.

The story referred to her as "the first woman to head a War Department section," and the writer stated that Mrs. Hobby's job "is to find out what women want to know about the army and then tell 'em."

Other facts stated about Mrs. Hobby were that "she is executive vice-president of the Houston Post, of which her husband is publisher; that last year she was a director of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association and has been engaged in newspaper work for ten years; that she started out as a law student, was a clerk in the Texas legislature at the age of nineteen, and that she has written a book on parliamentary law which is ued as a text-book in Texas and Louisiana schools.

Oveta Culp Hobby is indeed well known throughout Texas and in newspaper and other circles throughout the nation.

Now the perpetrator of Odds and Ends can not claim a personal acquaintance with Mrs. Hobby.

But, we knew her father, Ike Culp, long before she was born. Her father and this writer's brother-in-law in fact were law partners for a number of years, having their office in the town of Killeen in Bell county.

Before that Ike Clup had served a term in the legislature from Coryell county. While residing at Killeen, he made the race for the state senate, but he was defeated by the then youthful Earl B. Mayfield of Bosque county. That was the first political office Mayfield held, but he stepped up rom that to state railroad commissioner, where he served for a number of years, and from that position he went to the United States Senate, being defeated at the end of his first term by Tom Connally.

While Ike Culp was still living and practicing law in Temple, Bell county, his daughter, Oveta, was given a clerkship in the House of Representatives. There she learned legislative procedure so well and so thoroughly mastered the subject of parliamentary law, that she was made official parliamentarian of the House. When a Speaker or other member of the House became puzzled as to correct parliamentary procedure in any situation all that he had to do was to consult Oveta Culp.

It was while she was serving in this capacity in the legislature that she met and was married to ex-Governor W. P. Hobby, whose first wife had died.

Practically every ex-Bell countian, who resided in Bell county during the first fifteen or twenty years of the present century will well recall Ike Culp of Killeen and Temple.

Then we turned over a few pages and read that little "human interest" story about Roy Mitchell of Belton, appearing under a Temple date line.

"Twenty years ago, Farmer Roy Mitchell pitched big league baseball," the story stated. "Recently he demonstrated that he had lost little of his speed and control.

"Wildcats had been lunching off Mitchell's goats and pigs. When he happened upon one of the big cats he was unarmed. He maneuvered it into a corner and threw a rock at it, killing it almost instantly.

"Mitchell pitched for several big league clubs, including the Cincinnati Reds."

All former Bell countians well remember Roy Mitchell, too.

And they will also well remember his brother, Leslie Mitchell, who for a number of years also enjoyed much local fame as a baseball star.

And, remembering Leslie Mitchell, they will remember one of the most tragic chapters ever written into the history of Bell county.

Leslie Mitchell served for a number of years as a peace officer in Belton. He was one of the most popular officers the county ever had.

One night his telephone rang and a woman's voice told him that some intruder was prowling around her home. She lived out near the edge of Belton among the Live Oaks. Leslie mounted his horse and rode out to the residence. He could find no prowler. After consulting the lady, he went back to town.

He had scarcely gotten back to town when he had a second telephone call from the same lady. He and another officer rode out to see about it. As they rode up and dismounted and started in the direction of the house, a gun was firsed by some one lurking in the brush and the shadows. Leslie Mitchell fell mortally wounded. A vicious negro had fired the fatal shot. The negro escaped.

But when the news spread, hundreds of men armed themselves and took up the search. The next day that negro was found.

What followed was heralded by the newspapers of the North and the East as another disgraceful blot on the escutcheon of the Southland, another lynching had been perpetrated in Texas. Infuriated men had lost their heads and for a time had become blood-thirsty beasts, wreaking terrible and brutal vengeance upon the midnight assassin of their faithful servant and friend upon the brute who had been molesting a highly respected widow and her daughter under cover of darkness, evidently with some fell design in his heart.

And so that is the train of thought which this little news story about our friend Roy Mitchell of Belton brought to our mind.

Then we turned over a few more pages and there was the comic strip, Wash Tubbs, by Royston Crane.

When we first knew Royston Crane he was a schoolboy in Sweetwater, the son of Judge and Mrs. R. C. Crane. As a schoolboy he became noted locally as a cartoonist.

After Royston finished high school he felt the urge to see the world. He struck out on his own. But he could not resist the temptation to experts his thoughts at frequent intervals in picture. We are not acquainted with all the details of the happenings of that period, but we know that it was not long until he was drawing cartoon for one or more of the big daily newspapers in the North, and he has been pulling down a nice salary as a cartoonist ever since.

His parents, Judge and Mrs. Crane, are pioneer residents of Sweetwater and are well known throughout a large section of West Texas. Judge Crane himself is quite a scholar and historian, and for years he has been president of the West Texas Historical Association.

His father was the noted William Carey Crane, one of the early presidents of Baylor University, while that institution was still situated at Independence in South Texas.

That should be enough for one sitting; but just then we reached over and picked up the Star-Telegram and turned through its pages.

Imagine our surprise when on the front page of the Oil News section we were greeted by the picture of Nelson Puett, a staff member of the sub-office of the Federal Tender Board No. 1, whatever that may be, recently opened at Midland, covering counties in Texas and New Mexico. He was born at Moffat and brought up in Temple.

The father of Nelson Puett and the grandmother of Frank P. Hill, associate editor of The Lynn County News, were brother and sister; and Frank's middle name is Puett.

All this may have seemed a bit personal, folks, and it may not interest you a whit, but interesting or not we felt that it appropriately belonged in Odds and Ends; and so that's that.

NEW HOME FFA BOYS REPORT ACTIVITIES

The three classes of New Home F. F. A. boys vaccinated 516 hens for Mr. Weeks for roup and fowl cholera and treated them for worms last week.

All three classes have been on a field trip to study leaf worms and flea hoppers. The first year boys went on a field trip to watch spraying for leaf worms. The first and second year boys studied flowers, trees, and shrubbery. The second year boys also cut weeds around feeding pens. We treated a cow for mastitis for Mr. Allsup.

Football Queen Will Be Named

(By Ruby Nell Smith)

A cheering section composed of non-uniformed high school students will be on the bleachers tonight at the local football field yelling for the Tahoka Bulldogs.

Benoy Gattis, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. I. Gattis, will serve the student body of Tahoka High School as head yell leader. Other yell leaders are Jerry Noble, Peggy Fenton, Billy Driver, Mary Beth Fenton, Derwood McClintock and Jerine Bartley. Their sponsor is Miss Ruby Nell Smith of the high school faculty.

In the past few years there has been a movement in the more progressive schools to disband uniformed pep squads and sponsor a student cheering section.

It is the opinion of local school officials that a cheering section is more democratic than a uniformed pep squad. All students will be required to pay to see football games, instead of those few able to buy a uniform being able to see all the games free.

The bleachers at the Bulldog Field will be reserved for members of the Tahoka High School band and students in the cheering section.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our deepest gratitude to the people of Tahoka for their unbounded thoughtfulness, kindness, attentiveness, and sympathy expressed in every conceivable way during the illness and upon the death of our beloved companion and father, T. E. Park. Among others, we wish to thank the doctors for their ministrations, the ministers for their kind and helpful words, the choir who sang so beautifully, the members of the Masonic order who had charge at the cemetery, all those who remembered us with lovely floral offerings, and just everybody. The people have been so wonderfully kind. We thank you every one—Mrs. T. E. Park, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Park and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rainey Park, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Park and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Bartley and family, Mr. Noah Rainey.

CARD OF THANKS

We deeply appreciate all the good deeds, kindnesses, and words of sympathy bestowed upon us by our friends and neighbors at the death of our loved one, Tom Curry.—Mrs. Tom Curry and children and all the other relatives.

Their uniforms are Canadian, but their sleeve tabs identify these five men as soldiers of free Belgium training in Canada for overseas service.

JOLIETTE, Quebec—There is a Belgian army contingent in training on North American soil today.

The main Belgian army, a valiant force of more than 600,000 was compelled to lay down its arms last year after a heroic, eighteen-day struggle against the mechanized German invaders.

But another Belgian force remained independent and gave its allegiance to the Belgian refugee government in London. These were the troops of the Belgian Congo, who have since helped in driving the Italians from Ethiopia.

A second free Belgian army was formed in Britain from Belgian soldiers who had been evacuated with British and French forces at Dunkirk, from Belgian residents of Britain and France, and from the hundreds of adventurous Belgians who have made good their escape from the continent one by one, often by devious and dangerous routes. It is a small force, but grimly determined to aid in wresting its homeland—and Europe—from Hitler's grasp.

Now there is a third force of free Belgians in our part of the world, at a military camp tucked away a few miles from this typical French-Canadian town. This, too, contains men who fought the Germans in Belgium last year and then escaped to neutral or Allied soil. One, now a corporal, reached Canada by way of France, Spain, Portugal and Brazil—a trip of 12,000 miles. But there are other men in this camp, men of Belgian descent, who have never been to Belgium themselves, yet felt impelled to serve under the black, gold and red banner of their fathers' native country.

These men wear Canadian uniforms, drill with Canadian equipment and even receive their commands in English. But the small, gold-lettered tabs on their tunic sleeves identify them as sons and descendents of free Belgium, voluntarily taking part in the Allied struggle against Axis world domination.

Scout Committee In Meeting Here

The Southeastern District Committee on Scouting held its regular meeting Friday night, Sept. 12, at Tahoka with eight members present.

The program of Scouting was discussed and results thus far in the year were measured. Objectives for the remainder of the year were outlined for each town in the district. Renewed emphasis upon the part of Scouting in the National Defense program was stressed with plan under way for the organization of emergency patrols in each troop.

Members attending were: Rollin McCord, Tahoka; Rev. W. B. Swim, Post; Houston Hoover, Post; A. M. Jackson, John C. Jenkins, Fagen Genn, L. B. Hagerman, G. E. Welch, all of Slaton; and Bevington Reed, Field Scout Executive.

Next regular meeting will be held at Slaton Oct. 16 at the Slaton Scout Hall.

Mrs. J. K. Applewhite states that her daughter, Greta Joyce, is located in the Scotish Rite Dormitory on the University of Texas campus and enrolled in the school this week. Mrs. Applewhite and Mrs. W. O. Henderson accompanied her to Austin last week.

P. T. A. ORGANIZES FOR ACTIVE YEAR OF WORK

The Tahoka Parent-Teachers Association met Wednesday afternoon for the initial session of the current school year, with Mrs. Fred McGinty acting as chairman.

The following committees were appointed for the year:

Program: Mrs. James Clinton, chairman, Mrs. L. F. Craft, Mrs. Claude Donaldson, Mrs. Era Stewart.

Membership: Mrs. Stella Duke, chairman, Mrs. Harlan Cook, Mrs. Jack Fenton Mrs. Louise Wyatt.

Social: Mrs. Roy Edwards, chairman, Mrs. John Hamblen, Mrs. W. T. Hanes, Mrs. Conway Clingan, Mrs. W. S. Taylor.

Budget and Finance: Mrs. Frank Hill, chairman, Miss Ruby Nell Smith, Mrs. J. K. Applewhite, Mrs. A. C. Weaver.

Hospitality: Mrs. Harley Henderson, chairman, Mrs. H. L. Blackburn, Mrs. C. G. Franks.

Study: Mrs. Lenore M. Tunnell, chairman, Mrs. E. L. Smelser, Miss Lucille Hall, Mrs. Roy Finch.

Publicity: Mrs. D. G. Ridge, chairman, Mrs. Frank George, Mrs. A. O. Conley, Mrs. Deck Dunagan.

Publications: Mrs. E. I. Hill, chairman, Mrs. Loyd Edwards, Mrs. K. R. Durham.

Much enthusiasm was evident for a very profitable year in the field of Parent-Teacher relations. A membership drive will be staged in connection with the National Parent-Teachers' Week October 13th to 19th, during which all parents with children of school age are cordially invited to become members, however the local chapter stresses the fact that all parents are invited to attend sessions which are held every third Wednesday, whether they are members or not. This, they feel, will result in the closer Parent-Teacher co-operation which is so necessary to the building of the type of future citizenship needed in America today.

It is planned to have meetings at Night so fathers may also attend and learn what is being done by the Association.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ratheal went to Brownwood last Friday accompanied by Miss Mildred Cooper, who was entering Howard Payne College, after completing a post graduate course in the Tahoka High School.

Mrs. W. T. Clinton and Mrs. James Clinton were in Lubbock Wednesday to attend the funeral of the former's nephew, Gordon Dickinson, who met death in an airplane accident at Hobbs, N. Mex., on Tuesday.

South Plains Fair Plans Big Show

Lubbock, Sept. 15—With the 28th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair now only a short time away, final arrangements and details are steadily picking up momentum, as officials prepare to handle a record attendance which it is anticipated will perhaps well exceed 150,000.

Crews are busy daily clearing up the grounds and buildings, and generally touching up the appearance of the park, the grandstand and rodeo grounds where performances by big-time riders and animals will be a nightly feature.

Among free attractions before the grandstand each afternoon will be high-type vaudeville and circus acts, while the 30-acre, mile-long midway of the Beckmann and Gerety Shows will be operating full tilt, day and night with the largest and most varied carnival entertainment ever offered a West Texas audience.

The catalogue and premium list is expected to be received from the printer and ready for distribution in a few days and inquiries concerning this indicate wide interest in the exposition.

It is expected that the agricultural department will be particularly interesting this year due to an unusually good season and anticipated bumper crops of all kinds. This is expected also to be reflected in the livestock department.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. King of Las Vegas, New Mexico, were here last week visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King, who accompanied them over to Hobbs, New Mexico, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie King, Lonnie being another son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. King.

Wynne Collier and Harlan Cook have been attending the West Texas Pharmaceutical Association in session at Lubbock this week. Mr. Collier is a director of the organization of druggists.

Mrs. M. M. Grisham of Riverside California, is here for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Cooper, and family. She came on Monday of last week.

The winning class will be determined by season ticket and student activity ticket sales and percent of class membership in the cheering section at each home football game.

REV. SHEWMAKE REPORTS SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL

Rev. A. W. Shewmake recently returned from Enville, Oklahoma, where he conducted a most successful revival. There were 46 professions of faith, he reports.

He has been invited to return to that place for a two weeks revival again next summer.

Brother Shewmake reports that the boll weevils assisted by excessive rains and Johnson grass had cleaned up the cotton crop in that section of Oklahoma. Enville is situated near Marietta.

SMALL'S RELATIVES HAVE REUNION

They had a glorious time out at George Small's residence last week, especially on Saturday, according to his story.

George and his three sisters had their first reunion in forty years the last half of the week, and on Saturday nearly all of his other kinfolks came.

Mrs. Maggie Burns of Plainview, 79, his oldest sister, Mrs. Mollie Burns of Spearman, 72, second on the list, and Mrs. J. D. Hester of Brownwood, 66, George's baby sister, all came Thursday. George is the only brother living; and so there they were all of them, all that are left of the original family; and George says that they all just cut up like kids and had a "big time".

Then on Saturday morning all his other kinfolks began to roll in, including his children and families, and soon there were thirty-six of them present.

But George and Mrs. Small had prepared for the occasion. They had bought a nice fat lamb, laid in some beef, and slayed a bunch of chickens; so, they had a big barbecue dinner and supper.

But far better than all the "eats"—which must have been simply "tops"—was the association together of all this group of kinfolks, especially of George and his three sisters. They hope to have another such meeting some time.

T. E. Park Dies

daughter, Mrs. Bama Keever, died February 22, 1925.

Mr. Park was a native Tennesseean, having been born at Bolivar in that state on December 13, 1863. He was married to Miss Lyda Jane Rainey October 28, 1886, and of this union the above mentioned six children were born. He removed with his family from Tennessee to Texas in 1896, locating at Whitewright in Grayson county. Ten years later they moved over into Cooke county, and in December, 1915, they moved from that county out to Tahoka.

At the age of 17, T. E. Park was converted and united with the Presbyterian Church. A few years ago he united with the Methodist Church here and has been a devoted member, being a faithful attendant upon its services and of the Sunday School. In fact, he seemed to take great delight in attending religious services and often attended those of other churches in the town. He won the esteem and affection of Christians of every denomination here, as well as of those who attend no church. The unanimous verdict is that he was a good man.

Mr. Park joined the Masonic fraternity at Myra in Cooke county and remained a member of the order until death.

A kind and affectionate husband and father, a true and devoted friend, a loyal and patriotic citizen, Tahoka has suffered a distinct loss in the death of this aged but useful man.

Among the out of town visitors here for the funeral were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Jesse D. Cox of Brownfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Crow, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Foreman, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Barnett, and Mr. Arthur Standifer, all of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Fulton of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Fulton and Mr. J. M. Payne of Lubbock.

Student Cheering Section Planned

(By Ruby Nell Smith)

Nominees for football queen of Tahoka High School were selected at class meetings the past week.

This contest will run during the entire football season. The queen will be crowned at the annual homecoming game which is scheduled for November 20. Tahoka Bulldogs will play the Brownfield Cubs at that time. Identity of the queen will not be revealed until the afternoon of the football game.

The winning class will be determined by season ticket and student activity ticket sales and percent of class membership in the cheering section at each home football game.

Each week the class in the lead will be announced in the official football program to be distributed at the game. The picture of the winning candidate will appear in the program for November 20.

Baptist Meeting

Various reports made at the business sessions of the annual meeting showed the work generally to be prospering throughout the association.

The annual sermon was delivered at 11:30 o'clock Tuesday morning by Rev. W. H. Jackson of Wilson. Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Slaton, preached Tuesday night, and the closing sermon of the association meeting was brought Wednesday afternoon by Rev. Pennington.

On Tuesday night there was a Baptist Brotherhood meeting at which reports from the presidents of several local Brotherhoods in the association were heard. This was followed by a unique program rendered by the Young People's organization, the culminating event being the crowning of Miss Mary Beth Roddy as queen.
Beth Owens as queen.

Many were heard to compliment the women of the Tahoka Church on the great feast that they spread for the host of visitors on each of the two days of the annual meeting, and especially upon the first day. It must have been a task to provide that great abundance of food for the visitors, but the food was there in great variety and abundance just the same.

Our women were congratulated, too, upon the fine manner in which they decorated the auditorium and the dining room with flowers.

An annual meeting of the Brownfield Baptist Association always attracts a good crowd when held in Tahoka, and this apparently was the most successful meeting in that respect, and possibly in other respects, ever held in the bounds of the association. Not only was there an unusually large number of the lay members of the churches present, but local Baptists who have attended many such meetings were heard to remark about the amazingly large number of visiting ministers here. It was unanimously conceded to have been a great gathering of representatives of the denomination.

NOWLINS TAKE TRIP DOWN IN STATE

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Nowlin and daughters Peggy and Nancy took Truett Cooper back to the A. & M. College the first of last week and returned home Thursday. Truett will be a senior this year.

After a thorough inspection of the college under Truett's guidance, the Nowlins proceeded to Houston, Galveston, and San Antonio, where they found much of interest. They report a very enjoyable trip.
