Farmers suit wants FmHA action

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Four Texas farmers have filed a class-action suit seeking a court order requiring the Farmers Home Administration to make immediate determinations on loan applications, contending the agency has caused problems for farmers by not acting more quickly.

A favorable ruling in the suit, filed Thursday in U.S. District Court, would force the agency to make loan decisions within 60 days of application and disburse the money with 15 days of approval, said Bruce Magness, one of four lawyers representing the farmers.

Magness said the agency has money for farm loans, but that bureaucracy has stopped the flow of money to farmers.

Magness said one of the plaintiffs, rice grower Mark Frick of Matagorda County, was forced off of his farm because the agency took too much time.

After Frick was told his loan money would be forthcoming, he was told to get a short term note from a private bank on an FmHA guarantee, Magness said. When the deadline for the short term note at the bank passed without his receiving the FmHA money, Magness said, Frick was forced to leave the farm.

Magness said the administration is legally bound to provide farmers with money for living and operating expenses while awaiting loan decisions.

"We would hope that (U.S. District) Judge Halbert O. Woodward would order the USDA to comply with its own regulations," Magness said.

"There are farmers who applied in December of 1985 and last January who still are waiting for a decision," he said. "FmHA has not made the money available. And we've had farmers forced off the farms while the awaited a decision. Others have been told they are approved but have received no funds."

Major fund raiser...

May Day auction set here Saturday

The Senior Center will kick off its ninth annual May Day at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

May Day is the center's major fund raising activity of the year, and proceeds from the event help it offer a slate of activities involving county residents age 60 and over.

Quilt makers have been working since last May creating the 30-odd quilts which will go on sale at auction beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Each quilt is a one-of-a-kind. A special offering this year will be a Sesquicentennial quilt pieced in red, white and blue and quilted in a star pattern.

Dr. Robert Taylor has donated two bronze sculptures also. These include "Rare Eagle," a head study of a Golden Eagle, and "Blue Sentinel," portraying a blue quail.

The eagle piece is from an edition of 30 which is now almost sold out. The quail is from a limited edition of 50.

Grady Morris of Colorado City has again donated his services as auctioneer for the sale. He will be assisted by his wife and volunteers from the center.

Other items for sale include an oak cheval dressing mirror, a round oak dining table, a Ridgeway triple chime grandfather clock and a Silvertone gramaphone dating to 1910-15.

The coliseum will open at 2 p.m. to allow viewing of the quilts and other items. Also opening at that time will be booths offering baked goods and arts and crafts items. Other refreshments will be sold also.

Musical entertainment will begin at 3 p.m. and local vocalist Cindy Hataway will sing at 5:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission to the coliseum.

For individuals with tickets, a barbecue meal will be served from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. No tickets will be available at the event, however.

Last year, the May Day program netted the center $27,743. The majority of this, some $25,000, was from the sale of the quilts, the bronzes donated by Taylor and other donated items.

More information about May Day can be obtained by calling the center at 573-4035.

Rescued climbers improve

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Two teen-agers who survived more than three days buried in a snow cave on Mount Hood with six companions were reported slowly improving today, and doctors said they were optimistic that both would recover.

Their companions, two adults and four youngsters, were pronounced dead Thursday after being found in the cave, dug in an effort to escape a savage snowstorm that enveloped the mountain during an annual school outing.

The cave was discovered by a rescuer who poked through 4-5 feet of snow on the treacherous slopes, 8,300 feet up the 11,235-foot mountain, and struck a backpack. It was just five feet from where the body of another member of the outing was discovered Wednesday.

Of the 13 climbers who began hiking up the mountain Monday, four survived, including an adult and a girl who walked out Tuesday seeking help.

CHOIR TO PERFORM — The Snyder High School Acapella Choir will be performing a selection of popular hits at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Worsham Auditorium as part of the annual spring pops concert. Tickets for the concert are priced at $3 each and will be available at the door on a first-come, first-serve basis. (SDN Staff Photo)

25 schools accept band event invite

Snyder High School will be host for some 36 bands representing 25 schools Saturday as part of the third annual Snyder Band Festival for beginner bands.

The festival will begin at 8 a.m. and will end sometime Saturday night.

Concert programs will be presented in Worsham Auditorium throughout the day. The public is invited to these performances.

The Snyder Junior High stage band, comprised of second year students, will perform first on the program at 7:40 a.m. The local seventh grade band will perform in concert competition at 1 p.m.

The festival is designed to give beginning band students — mostly fifth, sixth and seventh graders — an opportunity to experience UIL-style competition.

This will include both concert and sight reading for full bands plus individual music contests.

In addition to the full band contests, individual students can also compete in UIL-style solo and ensemble contests. These will also be held throughout the day.

As of Thursday, 1,200 entries had been received for these contests.

Both bands and individuals will receive ratings based on the UIL system ranging from first division (superior) to fifth division (poor).

Menu review, cookouts...

Cafeteria service aims at changes

American Food Management, which contracts with Snyder ISD for its cafeteria food service, has indicated it will introduce new policy next school year to both encourage student customers and to allow more local input into menus.

The service received some complaints from parent groups this past spring regarding its menus, and the changes are seen as methods to both address complaints and to improve service, school officials say.

One of the new ideas — a noon meal "western cookout" — was to have its initial test run Friday.

At Stanfield Elementary, the food service brought in portable grills for the noon meal and offered students hamburgers cooked over a charcoal grill.

If Friday's cookout proved feasible, school officials say such meals will be offered at all school campuses next year at least once.

The "input" portion of the plan will see the expansion of a food service committee to be comprised of one teacher, student and parent from each campus.

This committee will have the opportunity each month to review proposed menus and to offer its comments to the regional supervisor for American Food Service.

Artie Butler, assistant superintendent who oversees the cafeteria operation, said, "This will give the local committee the chance to review and comment regarding these menus before they are served."

He noted also parents will be sent notices outlining who their campus representatives are.

"If parents have comments they would like to make, we'll encourage them to talk to either us or members of the committee," he said.

The food service also plans to

The feller on Deep Creek says, "It's tough to make a mistake, but it's tougher still to find out you made a mistake and no one noticed."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

James Roberts, in the Andrews County News, had some post-election comments.

"Remember several years ago when two candidates for mayor of El Paso met in a bar in Juarez and, while carrying on a conversation, shot each other under the table?

"Well, evidently, politics haven't changed all that much in the border city of El Paso.

According to an Associated Press story out of that city, a crusty justice of the peace who ran his campaign from his favorite bar and an opponent who disapproved of the unusual choice of headquarters will be matched in a runoff.

"But four other candidates all lost bids to gain the Democratic Party's nomination for office last Saturday.

"Those candidates included one who's dead, two who were released from jail on bond last week and promptly continued campaigning, and another who complained he was not allowed out of a mental health facility to cast his vote.

"As one bewildered reader wrote the El Paso Times newspaper before elections, 'Good luck, El Paso. We are confronted with candidates who, if elected, will conduct their political affairs in a jail, a hospital, a lunatic asylum, a beer joint or a cemetery--that's some of the good ones!'"

Walter Buckel, in the Lamesa Press-Reporter, commented on the growing use of the telephone by sales people.

"A woman called Tuesday from some distant point to tell me my name had been selected as the winner of a gorgeous diamond ring.

"I would have to purchase an order of light bulbs, however, and that she would need to know my credit card number and home address. When I questioned the price, the cost, the fallacy of such an offer, she hung up. What a shame to miss an opportunity like that.

"Thursday a fellow had one of the nicest fishing rods to be manufactured for me--if only I would give my home address and order some office supplies.

"But I don't fish," I replied. "However, if the pole is at least 20 feet, maybe I can use it to gather my pecans."

"Again, an impolite hanging up of the phone.

"Warning to all of you. The boiler room operators are manning the phone banks and calling everyone in the country selling everything from phone book covers to office supplies to light bulbs and okra seed.

"We deplore being unfriendly, but a call from a pitch artist is tempting and a golden opportunity to lead them along, let their phone bill run up, and then tell them how the chiggers bite in Katmandu."

Ask Us

Q. — How much do U.S. taxpayers pay for services given former U.S. presidents?

A. — A publication called the National Journal reported these expenses total more than $26 million a year. Former Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter are entitled to Secret Service protection, office rent, phone bills, stamps and administration costs of the presidential libraries.

In Brief

Author dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore H. White, the Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist whose "Making of the President" books chronicled the presidential elections from Nixon vs. Kennedy to Nixon vs. McGovern, has died at age 71.

White, who also was responsible for the insider style of reporting on politics and the characterization of the Kennedy years as Camelot, died late Thursday at Lenox Hill Hospital.

He had been in critical condition at Lenox Hill since he was admitted May 9 after suffering a stroke, said hospital spokeswoman Anne Warner.

White, born May 6, 1915, was stricken three days after his birthday while writing a sequel to his autobiography at his East Side townhouse, according to his longtime friend, writer Richard Clurman.

Junta guilty

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Three former junta members were convicted of negligence for launching and losing the 1982 Falklands War with Britain and have been sentenced to up to 14 years in prison, a source within the Supreme Council of the Armed Forces said today.

The source said the council, Argentina's highest military tribunal, sentenced Gen. Leopoldo Galtieri, a former president and army commander, to 12 years; former navy commander Adm. Jorge Anaya to 14 years in prison; and former air force chief Gen. Basilio Lami Dozo received eight.

The council source spoke on condition of anonymity.

Playmates threatened with beatings

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Playground bullies not content with stealing lunch money are demanding a share of parents' rent money and in one case made a young extortion victim walk on thin ice across a frozen pond, police say.

"It happens right across the board from slum areas to schools in good areas," Detective George Pigeon said this week of a case in which a 9-year-old who feared a beating gave up part of his parents' rent to older schoolmates.

Detective Lt. Anthony Pioggia Jr., who heads the Youth Aid Bureau in the state's third largest city, said a crime wave by youngsters is no surprise.

"It happens on a regular basis that kids are beaten up and robbed. It's not an epidemic, but it's not going away either," Pioggia said. "They either beat up the kids or threaten to beat them up. They use knives or whatever means adults use to rob people.

"But 10 years of age is kind of young to be doing this. This is spring fever. As soon as the weather gets warm, the kids go wacky."

On Tuesday, Pigeon helped arrest an 11-year-old boy on extortion charges in the rent money case. A 10-year-old accomplice wasn't charged.

"He has sticky fingers for cold hard cash, nothing else," Pigeon said of the 11-year-old. Police believe the youngster, who has been arrested for theft before, spends the money he steals on candy, toys, video games and junk food.

Pioggia said about 2,400 juvenile court complaints were obtained in each of the last two years, and police made 619 juvenile street arrests in 1984 and 695 in 1985 for all types of offenses.

"I know our arrests are already up, especially for March and April," he said.

In one case last winter, some children robbed another in a city park and then forced him to walk across thin ice on a frozen pond, he said. "It's not par for the course to make a kid walk on thin ice.

"He didn't fall through but he could have."

Police say the juvenile hoodlums in the rent money case demanded their terrified victim give them $100 or threatened to beat him up. The victim took the cash from his parents, who had set it aside to pay their rent, and gave it to the two older boys, Pigeon said.

The 10-year-old's mother found $50 in his possession and reported it to school officials, who called police.

Pigeon said the 10-year-old, who hadn't been in trouble before, seemed remorseful, while the 11-year-old, who is in a foster home, was defiant. He said the boy was charged earlier in the school year with stealing $125 from an adult's purse at the school and with stealing cash from a fast-food restuarant and was suspected in another purse theft at the school.

Psychologist Stephen Armstrong, former head of a program for destructive children at Baystate Medical Center, said the case was unusual in this city of 150,000 people.

Presser facing imminent indictment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jackie Presser, the Teamsters president and former labor adviser to the Reagan administration, is facing imminent indictment because he used funds from a Cleveland local to pay so-called ghost employees who did no work, federal law enforcement officials said.

Presser, 59, should be indicted by a grand jury before Monday's opening of the Teamsters convention in Las Vegas, Nev., the officials, who spoke on condition they not be identified, said Thursday.

CBS News also reported Presser has been told by the Justice Department he will be indicted by a grand jury in Cleveland today. The network, quoting sources familiar with the investigation, said Presser was scheduled to appear for arraignment in Cleveland on Saturday.

The New York Times, in today's editions, also reported Presser would be indicted today.

CBS and the Times reported that an FBI agent also would be indicted on charges of making false statements about the Teamster leader's relationship with the bureau.

Presser would become the third of the past four Teamsters presidents to be indicted while in office. With an income from the Teamsters of more than $755,000 last year, he also is the nation's highest paid union official.

The Teamsters, with 1.6 million members, is the nation's largest union.

Duke Zeller, the union's chief spokesman, did not return phone calls to his hotel room in Las Vegas, where he was preparing for next week's Teamsters convention, which is held once every five years. Presser is expected to be re-elected to a five-year term as the union's president at the meeting.

Presser's attorney, John Climaco, also could not be reached for comment.

According to a report issued a week ago by the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, the ghost workers' investigation of Presser collapsed a year ago when several FBI agents reported to the Justice Department that they had authorized Presser to make the payments.

All smoking ends up the same

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — How much nicotine is in the cigarettes called "lights," "super lights" and "ultra lights"? I've tried to stop smoking, with no success. Even Smokenders didn't help. It's hard to kick the habit of 50 years, but maybe switching to "lights" would help.

DEAR READER — The amount of nicotine in a cigarette probably makes little difference to the smoker, because the chronic smoker is trying to satisfy the brain's nicotine center. Filtered cigarettes provide less nicotine, so the smoker has to use more to get a "hit." Switching to "light" cigarettes probably won't help you stop smoking, but the manufacturers will love you, because you'll need to purchase more cigarettes to satisfy your urge. You might consider using a brand of nicotine gum; it's available by prescription.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Could you please tell me why any doctor in his right mind would operate on an 83-year-old woman and remove her spleen? It was supposedly manufacturing an excess of white blood cells, but she never survived the operation.

DEAR READER — Without more information, I could not form an opinion about operating on an 83-year-old woman. However, if she were active, alert and independent, the operation may have been appropriate. She may have had a form of leukemia (a lympho-proliferation disorder) from which she might have died without spleen surgery. Sometimes these situations are tough to call. I am sure the patient's doctor would be willing to discuss, with family members, the reasons for the surgery, as well as the reasons the patient did not survive the operation.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My mother, a lady in her mid-70s, has a slight unanticipated stool discharge. Is there such a thing as a loose sphincter muscle, or is this a consequence of aging? My mother has not consulted a doctor, out of embarrassment.

DEAR READER — Some degree of fecal incontinence can be caused by a normal age-related relaxation of the anal sphincter. This unpleasant situation can be made worse by soft or liquid bowel movements. Also, senility can contribute to the problem, because old people sometimes "forget" they have to go or do not respond to the normal urge to defecate. In your mother's case, the problem may be nothing more than a muscular weakness of the sphincter. I suggest that she seek medical attention, despite her embarrassment.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is there any truth to the speculation that caffeine causes people to get hard of hearing and makes glaucoma and cataracts worse?

DEAR READER — To my knowledge, caffeine does not cause the conditions you mention. It is primarily a stimulant and can produce nervousness, insomnia, irritability and rapid heart rate. Some patients, with high blood pressure and glaucoma, have been advised by their doctors not to use caffeine-containing beverages.

What is HYPOGLYCEMIA and how is it treated? You can find out in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on HYPOGLYCEMIA.

No need for greed

By James Jacoby

Greed is a terrible thing, whether exhibited in everyday living or at the bridge table. When dummy's ace of spades took the first trick, declarer showed his contempt for the adroitness of the defenders by quickly leading a low diamond from dummy. But East was ready. He rose just as quickly with his ace, thankful that he didn't spear a singleton king in his partner's hand, and returned a spade. That was curtains for our selfish declarer, who got his just deserts for trying to squeeze an unconscionable number of overtricks from a contract that should easily have been made.

Since declarer started with eight top tricks, he needs only one more to score his game. With eight clubs in the combined hands, he has a perfect safety play available. He should play a club back to the king in his hand and then lead a low one up toward dummy. If West plays low, he will play dummy's nine. That may lose to East, but the ace will next drop the last outstanding club, establishing declarer's (or dummy's) fourth club. Should West show out on the second club, declarer can rise with the ace and lead back toward his jack, guaranteeing a trick and the contract.

Hurry Up and Slow Down Is Good Advice for Oldsters

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: You missed the mark in your response to "The Mrs. in Orlando," whose husband wouldn't slow down. I've spent 34 years running after a husband who is in a hurry to get to the car, get up from the table, rush to the check-out counter, etc., and I'm tired of it.

Most of the time he has to wait until I get there anyway to leave or set out for wherever we're going. He simply doesn't see his actions as being inconsiderate.

That poem, "Slow Me Down, Lord," was beautiful, but it was too long. A man in a hurry would never get past the second line.

TAGALONG

DEAR TAGALONG: Sorry. I received a lot of positive feedback on that poem. A "rebuttal" from a retired woman in Anaheim:

DEAR ABBY: Not all retirees continue the frantic pace of "The Mrs. in Orlando." Some seniors have the opposite problem; we have trouble "getting energized." For us I paraphrased the Rev. Peterson's poem, "Slow Me Down, Lord," as follows:

Speed me up, Lord!
Start the pounding of my heart
And concentration of my mind.
Quicken my slow pace
With a vision of my limited earthly time.
Give me,
Amid the confusions of my day,
The calm of self-chosen priorities.
Break the spell of quietness,
Let not soothing music or television
Keep me from activities.
Help me know
When to wake up,
When I've had sufficient sleep.
Teach me the art
Of channeling my energy
So I get things done —
And still have time
For flowers and friends,
Pets and children, smiles and books.
Remind me each day
That there is more to life
Than "sitting around."
Let me look upward
Into the branches of the towering oak
And know that it is still producing.
Speed me up, Lord,
And inspire me to spend my strength wisely,
Remembering life's important values
That I may meet more challenges
And fulfill a greater destiny.

THREE SCORE AND FOUR IN CALIFORNIA

DEAR ABBY: You credited "Slow Me Down, Lord" to the Rev. Wilferd A. Peterson. It seems to me that it was written by the late Cardinal Richard Cushing of Boston, who died in 1970.

COULD BE MISTAKEN

DEAR COULD BE: The poem was erroneously credited to the late Cardinal Cushing by others — not by the cardinal himself — but it was in fact written by the Rev. Wilferd A. Peterson, who is well and alive at 85 in Grand Rapids, Mich.

DEAR ABBY: I am assigned to a base in Japan and don't often get a chance to see my family. Last year, when I was back in the states, my father seemed a little more fragile than I had remembered him the previous year. Later I took the advice I read in your column just before Father's Day: "Write a letter to your father and tell him how you feel about him. And why." Although I love both my parents very much, I didn't often say it.

Dad died of cancer in January. His was a very brief illness, lasting only a few months from the time of diagnosis.

At his funeral I learned that the letter I wrote, which made me feel a little foolish for saying what was in my heart, had made the rounds of the family. He was proud of that letter and read it to anyone who would listen — he had even sent it to his sister three states away.

Although I never heard it from him, I came to realize that my letter gave him much more pleasure than I thought it would.

A wonderful person is now gone, and a big piece of my life is missing. But thanks to you, I feel that I completed the final segment of the circle. I thank you for being thoughtful enough to stress the importance of this final act of family love. It made his day, and it made mine.

Net income increase reported

HOUSTON (AP) — Exxon Corp. reported a net income increase of $385 million during the first quarter of 1986, but the company's chairman said the factors contributing to the increase won't be comparable in ensuing quarters this year.

Chairman Clifton C. Garvin Jr. attributed Exxon's first-quarter earnings to a natural tendency for product price changes to lag behind those of crude oil and to the falling exchange value of the dollar.

Against foreign currency, the dollar has declined about 25 percent since 1985. Since oil is priced in dollars in international trade, oil prices have declined even further abroad than in the United States, Garvin explained to about 1,000 stockholders attending an annual meeting Thursday.

"Because we have a substantial share of the foreign market, there was a resulting favorable impact on our first-quarter earnings," Garvin said. "This impact was further multiplied when foreign currency earnings were translated into dollars at the new exchange rate."

But he warned, "there isn't much doubt that there are harder times ahead."

Garvin told stockholders he could not predict whether the price of oil would substantially increase.

"The market changes of the magnitude recently seen imply a whole new ball game. Whether prices will continue on down, or reverse themselves, and what their ultimate impact may be, remains to be seen," he said.

"Technically, there is no good reason to believe that prices will recover substantially in the short run," he added. "Until some combination of demand growth and decreased production from relatively high-cost areas makes inroads into this surplus, it will continue to hang over the market."

Like many other energy-related companies feeling the side effects of unstable oil prices, New York-based Exxon, the second largest corporation in the country, announced in March it would reduce its 1986 capital and exploration expenditures by 26 percent. The company also is restructuring by consolidating various company divisions.

The company also is reducing its workforce by 6,000 or about 15 percent. Some employees and divisions may be relocated.

"Not any one unit is being targeted," said Lawrence G. Rawl, the company's president.

During Thursday's meeting, stockholders re-elected 19 directors for another year.

Stockholders also overwhelmingly rejected proposals that would have limited corporate and educational contributions, offered new stock option plans, stopped Exxon from doing business in South Africa and forbidden expansion of its coal mining explorations in Chile.

For the first quarter, Exxon reported a net income of $1.7 billion.

Scientists grow virus for AIDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — California researchers for the first time have grown the AIDS-causing virus in animal cells in a development that may unlock the secret by which some cells slow the germ's reproduction.

Until now, the virus — which can destroy the body's protective immune system — has been grown only in cells of the human immune system, the ones it attacks and kills after causing acquired immune deficiency syndrome, researchers said.

In a report published today in the journal Science, scientists at the University of California, San Francisco, and the Chiron Corp. of Emeryville, Calif., say they now can grow the virus in non-immune cells from monkeys, minks, mice and humans.

Dr. Jay A. Levy, principal investigator of the study at the university, said viral reproduction was poor in these cells, especially those from mice. The virus grew best in the human cells, but not as well as in human immune cells.

This slow reproduction means that either the animal cells lack something that more susceptible human cells have, or that human cells lack an inhibitor to the virus that the others possess, Levy said.

"If we can learn how mouse cells limit the AIDS virus growth, we may be able to find a way to suppress the virus growth in humans," he said.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Attempting to dominate others today will produce unpleasant results. But if you are charming and polite, things will work out.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Do some comparison shopping today before making an important purchase. It will be a bit of an imposition, but your purse will appreciate your efforts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) A fresh approach will be required today to resolve a persistent domestic problem. The solution may be only temporary, but it's better than marking time.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your productivity will be greatly reduced today if you are easily discouraged. No one promised you a rose garden, so don't expect one.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your activities might be limited today owing to a lack of resources. But if you use your imagination, you'll find ways to shake money from the cookie jar.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Unless you pace yourself sensibly today, you may run out of steam before you finish what you hope to accomplish.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Making do with what you have is a wise course of action for you today. Don't borrow money from anyone unless it's absolutely essential.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Someone who caused you problems previously could be a thorn in your side again today. Avoid this person, and mingle only with your tried-and-true pals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) A task you're hoping to complete today might have to be temporarily shelved. Use your time constructively by switching to another project.

"...about the word 'gospel'"

The meaning of this word is simply "good news." Our English word "gospel" is a corruption of an ancient English word "godspiel" which meant "happy story." We use this word to translate the New Testament Greek word "Euangellion," which also means "good news."

The story of Christ--who He is and what he offers--is the classic "good news" of all time. In a time when most all the news we hear on radio and TV is bad, it's refreshing to know that there is still Good News!

Remember that the good news of the gospel is not just good, it is also important--so important, in fact, that it will be a determining factor in who is saved, and who is condemned at the judgement (See 2nd Thess. 1:7-9)

Ballot nickname is outlawed

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Democratic Party leaders have decided they won't allow Railroad Commission candidate Percy Strother Ervin to call himself "Sam" on the June 7 runoff ballot.

The 71-year-old Dallas oil and gas consultant said he would not contest the Thursday decision of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

"I think I will get more sympathy this way," Ervin told reporters.

Thompson makes bid today in triple jump

AUSTIN -- Snyder's Karlene Thompson was attempting to cap off a stellar high school career here today as she competed in the Class 4A Girl's State Track Meet.

Thompson, who has already signed a volleyball scholarship with Texas Tech University, was entered in the triple jump at 1 p.m.

As one of the top female athletes to ever compete for Snyder High School, Thompson has twice qualified for regional in five events. She also went to the state track meet here a year ago in the triple jump, and placed fourth.

Her best effort in the triple jump has been a 38-11¾, which she recorded two weeks ago at the Region I-4A meet.

This season, the senior athlete also earned all-state and all-state tournament honors in helping Snyder to the 4A state volleyball championship. She was also all-district and all-region, and named to at least one all-state team in basketball.

Thompson's effort here today will be complimented by what is expected to be one of the best UIL state track meets in years, if the weather clears.

Seven sprinters with times of 10.27 seconds or better in the 100 meter dash were ready to run at the boys' national high school record of 10.18 at the meet today and Saturday.

The UIL meet combined boys' and girls' individual and team competition in track as well as golf and tennis.

Class 4A championships were to be decided Friday night, although some Class A and 3A individual events also were scheduled today.

On Saturday, final events in Class A and 3A will be completed by mid-afternoon. After a two-hour recess, champions in 2A and 5A will be determined.

In boys' track, at least six state meet records could be in trouble, including the oldest record, a long jump of 25 feet 1¾ inches by Dudley Haas of Corpus Christi Ray in 1959.

Kevin Adkins of Garland has jumped 24-10 this year, and Chuck Cockrell of Van Vleck has leaped 24-9.

Tim Gargiullo of Plano East and Eric Henry of Conroe McCullough already have run faster than the state meet record of 9:00.1 in the 3,200 meters, and Kyle Henderson of Karnes City has cleared 16 feet 7 inches in the pole vault, which is one inch short of the state meet record.

Among the competitors in boys' track is Texas A&M bluechip football recruit Percy Waddle of Columbus.

Waddle, a record-breaking pass receiver, has the third best time in the state in the 400 meters and runs on the 400- and 1,600-meter relays.

In girls' track, Tracy Mayfield of Fort Worth Southwest has run 11.25 in the 100, which is faster than the national high school record, and Houston Sterling's Carlette Guidry has approached national marks in the 200 and triple jump.

Sterling's 400- and 1,600-meter relay teams also have run nearly as fast as the national records in those events.

Alissa Bell of Aldine has leaped 20-5¾ in the long jump, a fraction over the state meet record.

2-4A headed for third crown...

Snyder girls leading at state

AUSTIN -- District 2-4A was zeroing in on its third state championship of the 1985-86 school year this morning as Snyder and Andrews led the way in the Class 4A Girl's State Golf Tournament.

Paced by two-time 2-4A medalist Leslie Light, Snyder flashed a 374 over the first 18 holes of the rain-ravaged Jimmy Clay Golf Course. Andrews was four strokes back at 378, followed by Brenham, which shot a 385. Fredricksburg and Raymondville were tied for fourth with 415s.

Light, a junior, shot an 84 to make a bid towards state medalist honors. The individual race is being led by Seagoville's Kelly Kifer, who turned in an 83 Thursday. Neisy Rodriquez of San Antonio Alamo Heights is tied with Light for runnerup honors, also with an 84.

While Light's 84 led the Lady Tigers, it took teamwork to wrestle the early lead here. Two other Snyder girls shot under 100. Xalyn Harris flashed a 94 and Lea Ann Thompson offered a 96. Michelle Holder's 100 rounded out the scoring as Angie Lay's 112 was not tallied towards the team total.

"Xalyn was hitting the ball real well. On the practice round Wednesday she shot a 103 and she came back real well Thursday," said Coach Jan Kruse.

"I thought we would be in second or third place today. Pleased? Yes, definitely. Hopefully the pressure will be on the other teams. But we really didn't feel much pressure yesterday because we were playing with other teams that finished second in their regions and the girls didn't know what Andrews and Brenham were doing. Today, we'll be playing with them (Andrews and Brenham). I don't think we'll get tense. We might. But probably after the first couple of holes we'll get over it."

Andrews was led by Melissa Northcott, who shot an 87. 2-4A runnerup medalist Genny Kovacs carded a 91.

The teams were to tee of at about 11 a.m. for the final 18 holes.

Despite holding the lead at the half-way point, Kruse wasn't ready to claim victory yet. She rejected any congratulations.

"It's not over yet. There aren't two halves to this, only a whole. Yesterday we didn't gain anything, really. We played well and we're proud of that, but we have to play well again today to win it all."

District 2-4A, reputed as one of the most competitive in the state, already has two state championship trophies for the 1985-86 school year. Sweetwater won the Class 4A football championship and Snyder took the girl's volleyball crown.

McHale covered but Bucks still fall to Boston, 122-111

BOSTON (AP) - The Milwaukee Bucks were determined to keep Kevin McHale from beating them. He'd get the ball in the low post and they'd surround him.

"They double-teamed all over the place," the 6-foot-10 McHale said. "One time I looked up and I had three guys coming after me. I just wanted to get rid of the ball and hide. I felt like Custer and the Indians were coming after me."

A 122-111 loss to the Celtics Thursday, two nights after a 128-96 rout, leaves Milwaukee in jeopardy of being bounced out of the NBA playoffs by Sunday.

"We knew when we came here we'd have our hands full," Bucks' forward Terry Cummings said after Boston's 38th consecutive homecourt triumph.

They're going back to Milwaukee for the third and fourth games, Saturday and Sunday, of the best-of-seven Eastern Conference final. Despite losing all seven of its games this season with Boston, which has won 26 of its last 29 contests, Milwaukee hasn't lost hope.

"I truly think we can win," Bucks' Coach Don Nelson insisted. "I'm not trying to be funny."

McHale wasn't exactly laughing about the defensive attention he got. But he did what he had to do. He passed the ball to a teammate.

"The Bucks' game plan was that they weren't going to get beat by Kevin," said Larry Bird, who paced Boston with 26 points. "It was imperative that we hit the outside shots."

"We wanted to bring the ball down low all night," said McHale, who had 20 points. "But they double-teamed us down low. If you double-team, there's usually someone open."

Often, it was the guards. Danny Ainge hit 10 of 12 field-goal attempts for 23 points and Dennis Johnson connected on 8-of-15 for 21. Center Robert Parish also had 21 as Boston tied a playoff record held by three other teams with five players scoring at least 20 points each.

The Celtics had 34 assists, giving them a total of 73 for the first two games.

McHale did manage to shake free from his defenders for two key baskets when Milwaukee threatened late in the game. With Boston leading 107-101 after squandering a 13-point advantage, McHale made a layup with 2:45 left. He was fouled and made the free throw.

Alton Lister, who had a career playoff high 22 points for Milwaukee, followed with a hook shot to close the gap to 110-103, but Ainge hit a layup and McHale again got loose for a layup that resulted in a three-point play. That boosted the lead to 115-103 with 1:47 to go. Cummings, who scored 23, got the next four points, but that eight-point deficit was the closest the Bucks would get.

Rockets resume NBA series with LA in Houston tonight

HOUSTON (AP) - Los Angeles Lakers Coach Pat Riley sees a simple solution to his team's confrontation with the Houston Rockets tonight in the NBA Western Conference championship series.

Houston evened the series at 1-1 on Tuesday because, Riley said, "they jumped higher, ran quicker and played harder."

Now, it's the Lakers turn.

"We won't do anything different from Tuesday's game, we'll just do it harder," Riley said.

The series resumes in The Summit, where the Rockets have lost only five times this season.

But the Lakers have won 14 of their last 15 games on Houston's home court and Houston's Akeem Olajuwon says the pressure is still on the Rockets.

"The pressure is on us to win both of these games because we can't afford to lose at home," Olajuwon said. "We have to have these two games."

The Lakers will be looking for forward James Worthy to break out of a shooting slump that has seen him hit only 12 of 32 shots in the series.

"I've had trouble getting my shots, that's obvious," Worthy said. "I just have to face the basket more and maybe look outside for the shot too."

The Rockets surprised the defending NBA champions 112-102 Tuesday night at The Forum in Inglewood.

The fourth game of the series will be played in Houston on Sunday.

Although a split in the two games in Houston would give the home court advantage back to the Lakers, Riley isn't thinking split.

"We came here to win, period," Riley said. "I'm never going to accept anything less before we've even played."

Los Angeles also started last season's conference final against Denver with a split in the first two games at home but the Lakers went on to win three straight and then defeated Boston for the NBA title.

"That's true, but Denver didn't have Ralph (Sampson) and Akeem," Lakers guard Michael Cooper said. "We've got our work cut out for us this time.

"It will be difficult from here on in. They got their split and now it's up to us to go down to Houston and win at least one."

"We won't change anything," Olajuwon said. "I don't think we will worry about their shots. We'll just try to play our game."

Riley said the Lakers would study and learn from the second game.

Steve Howe barred from pro baseball

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) - San Jose Bees pitcher Steve Howe, whose promising career with the Los Angeles Dodger was shortened by drug abuse, has been barred from professional baseball because of a disputed drug test for cocaine use.

Howe, his attorney and Bees president Harry Steve said they were told there had been a positive result for cocaine use from a urinalysis, which they said was administered May 1 at the direction of Commissioner Peter Ueberroth's office.

"I have used nothing," said Howe, adding that he has been repeatedly tested by the Class-A Bees with negative results since joining the team on March 20.

"I have had no involvement with drugs since I've been here. None. Zero. I think it's a conspiracy to keep me out of baseball."

Rich Levin, a spokesman for Ueberroth's office, refused to comment on the results of the test.

Rangers derail Detroit, 8-1

by The Associated Press

Lots of factors go into a baseball player's success. Don Slaught credits, among other things, his memory and the weather.

Slaught had a bases-loaded triple and a two-run homer Thursday night, leading the Texas Rangers to an 8-1 rout of the Detroit Tigers. His big hits came off Detroit starter Frank Tanana, a teammate of Slaught's last year in Texas. Slaught remembered what Tanana likes to do.

"Frank changes speeds a lot," said Slaught, a catcher by trade who is hitting .301 this season. "Tonight, we got to him real quick. That's what you have to do.

"I caught him last year, so I sort of knew what he was trying to do."

Tanana allowed six runs, seven hits and three walks in 2 2-3 innings.

In other AL games it was, Kansas City 6, Cleveland 3; Baltimore 5, Minnesota 3; and Chicago 8, New York 1.

Royals 6, Indians 3

Frank White hit his fifth career grand slam to cap a Royals comeback. With one out in the eighth inning, the second baseman sent a 2-0 pitch from Rich Yett into the right-field bleachers.

"It was hooking foul, then all of a sudden it started to slice. I couldn't believe it," said White. "It was amazing. I was disappointed when I first hit it because it looked like it was way foul."

Indians starter Ken Schrom took a 3-1 lead into the bottom of the eighth but Jim Sundberg and Jamie Quirk hit leadoff singles. Losing reliever Scott Bailes threw away Willie Wilson's sacrifice bunt to let in a run. White was the first batter Yett faced.

Orioles 5, Twins 3

Mike Young and Juan Beniquez both hit their first home run of the season as Mike Boddicker upped his record to 4-0, with 1 2-3 innings of relief from Don Aase, who earned his ninth save.

Young's solo homer in the second off Twins ace Frank Viola gave Baltimore a 2-1 lead and snapped a 32-game, 103-at-bat home run drought for Young, who hit 28 homers last year. Beniquez's two-run shot in the third was his first homer in 40-at-bats.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - A Cincinnati sportswriter swore out a private criminal complaint with the district attorney's office charging Cincinnati Reds pitcher John Denny with slamming him against a wall in a hallway underneath Veterans Stadium.

The complaint, taken out by Cincinnati Post reporter Bruce Schoenfeld, 24, charged Denny with simple assault, terroristic threats and harassment, all misdemeanors, said Sheryl Stein, a spokeswoman for the district attorney.

Chernobyl death count rises to 10

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet newspapers today indicated the death toll in the Chernobyl disaster has reached 10, and one account said five victims were firefighters who braved fierce radiation to battle flames engulfing the nuclear reactor.

Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev said Wednesday that nine people had died since the April 26 disaster at the Ukrainian power plant 80 miles north of Kiev. But U.S. bone marrow specialist Dr. Robert P. Gale said Thursday that some of the 299 hospitalized radiation victims were expected to die.

Reports in three different Soviet newspapers today identified eight people who died after the nuclear accident, and whose names differed from those of the two victims Gorbachev identified by name Wednesday.

The Communist Party daily Pravda today described the grief felt by plant workers on hearing that one of their comrades had died of his injuries.

"For a long time, we cannot begin the conversation," Pravda's correspondents wrote. "Just a few minutes ago, word arrived that Lelechenko had died. Burns and radiation did their work. Lelechenko was their friend."

Pravda said the dead worker's friends hailed him as "a real hero" who was at the nuclear plant in the first hours after an explosion ripped apart the No. 4 reactor, spewing radioactivity and sparking a fire.

The Communist youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda praised the firemen who battled the flames, which took more than 50 firefighting teams about four hours to control.

It focused on Viktor Kibenok, 23, saying he fought the flames for up to three hours heedless of the danger from radiation, which it called the "invisible enemy."

Komsomolskaya Pravda said Kibenok died of burns and radiation 15 days after the accident, and identified four other firemen who also had died.

The Moscow daily Moskovskaya Pravda published a dispatch from the official Tass news agency that said Alexander Akimov, a shift leader at the No. 4 reactor, and Anatoly Kurguze, an operator, also died of burns and radiation after the accident.

In addition to the eight named in today's reports, Gorbachev identified by name two other men who apparently died in the explosion.

Also today, a Soviet environment specialist said radiation in Kiev was measured at 0.15 to 0.2 milliroentgens per hour, within the normal range. Nikolai Kozlov, deputy chief of the State Committee on Weather and Environment, said he had no information on the accident's effects on agriculture, and asserted there has been no contamination of water supplies.

A milliroentgen is a thousandth of a roentgen, the unit used to measure ionizing radiation. Scientists say exposure to 50 or more roentgens in a year can be dangerous.

Gale, of the University of California at Los Angeles, heads a team of foreign doctors assembled by U.S. industrialist Armand Hammer to aid the Soviets in treating radiation victims. Gale's speciality is bone marrow transplants. Bone marrow is destroyed by intense radioactivity, and death can result.

Gorbachev met Thursday with Hammer and Gale at the Kremlin to extend his personal thanks for their services, but also used the occasion to criticize the attitude taken by the Reagan administration.

Gorbachev told the Americans the Soviet people viewed their deeds "as an example of how relations between the two great peoples should be built if there are political wisdow and will in the leadership of both countries."

But he added, "The conduct of the Washington officialdom in these difficult days, however, is deeply disappointing: It is shameful speculation on the accident and gross attempts to exploit it to discredit the entire policy of the Soviet Union and to sow mistrust towards its peace initiatives."

His remarks were carried by the official Soviet news agency Tass. He did not give examples of the behavior he was criticizing.

Western governments, including the United States, have complained Moscow was slow in releasing information about the nuclear accident, which officials of the Vienna-based International Atomic Energy Agency have called the worst in history.

The Soviets have accused the West of using the disaster for propaganda purposes, including trying to damage the Soviets' reputation as reliable partners in arms control. In addition, they say Western media reported wild speculation about the accident and its consequences.

Cullen Davis transfers land

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — T. Cullen Davis has transferred land worth $314,000 as partial settlement of a lawsuit filed by a man who claims the Fort Worth industrialist was responsible for a shooting spree 10 years ago that wounded him and left him paralyzed, the Dallas Morning News reported today.

Davis signed papers transferring about 70 acres of land in southwest Tarrant County to Gus Gavrel Jr. and the law firm of Gavrel's attorney, the newspaper said. The transfer comes three weeks after the $15 million dollar lawsuit was settled out of court.

A person familiar with the details of the settlement said Davis also agreed to make a cash payment in addition to transferring the land, the Dallas newspaper said. The amount of the cash payment has not been disclosed.

Gavrel's suit stems from the 1976 shootings at Davis' $6 million mansion. Davis' 12-year-old stepdaughter Andrea Lee Wilborn and Stan Farr, a companion of Davis' estranged wife Priscilla Davis, were killed. Mrs. Davis and Gavrel were wounded.

Gavin comments

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. Ambassador John Gavin, leaving his post here at a time of renewed frictions between the United States and Mexico, said Thursday he wishes this country a future of "strength, freedom and prosperity."

Gavin spoke positively in his farewell speech about the future of U.S.-Mexican relations and joked about the sometimes sharp criticism of his tenure here.

The speech to the American Chamber of Commerce marked the end of five years as chief of the largest U.S. diplomatic mission in the world. President Reagan has not named a replacement yet for Gavin, whose resignation officially takes effect May 31.

Gavin noted that one Mexican columnist suggested that no one would be acceptable as U.S. ambassador in some circles here. "Let's face it; she's telling it like it is," he said.

The latest tension between the neighboring countries developed after a U.S. Senate subcommittee held hearings earlier this week on Mexico including allegations that widespread corruption here is helping the drug trade reach unprecedented levels.

But Gavin, whose allegations of corruption here were strong last year after U.S. special narcotics agent Enrique Camarena Salazar was killed, said in his speech, "Our joint war on drugs has had its ups and downs, but it will continue.

"It is not just the production side we must attack," the ambassador said. "We must eliminate the market."

He also said drug-related corruption "exists on both sides of the border, wherever the merchants of this slow death do their business."

Gavin spoke out against what he called sanctimonious positions that do not consider the U.S. side of corruption, and he called for care in making accusations.

The Mexican government presented a formal protest to the U.S. State Department on Wednesday, reiterating its view that the United States is not doing enough to combat drug production on its own territory and to crack down on domestic distrubtion and consumption.

Two involved in minor collision

A two-vehicle minor collision was investigated by police Thursday.

Involved in the 8:30 a.m. mishap in the 3800 Block of Austin Ave. were a 1983 Datsun driven by Dana Sue Smith of Rt. 3, and a 1981 Chevrolet driven by Reggie Allen Price of 2605 35th St.

Assault attempt noted to police

Police are investigating a misdemeanor assault complaint filed Thursday evening involving an alleged attempt to run a local man down with a pickup.

The incident was reported to police around 11 p.m. No arrest was made in connection with it as of Thursday evening.

In other action, city officers logged four misdemeanor arrests Thursday including one jailed for driving while intoxicated, one for public intoxication and two on warrants for failure to pay fines and make court appearances ordered in misdemeanor cases.

Changes noted for food service add more "monotony breakers" next year — special days tied to holidays or other events.

Such days are used currently, for example the traditional turkey and dressing meal each November and December for Thanksgiving and Christmas.

The plans next year will expand these days to at least once a month. In October, Halloween will be observed. January will see a "Texan Day," February, a Valentines Day; March a St. Patrick's Day; April, Easter; and May, a "summer fun day."

In addition to special menu items, decorations are planned in the cafeterias in conjunction with each day.

With the changes in menus and schedules projected next year, Butler said Friday no increases in the price of school meals are expected.

Next school year will mark the second full year for American Food Service in Snyder.

This past year, it implemented a salad bar at junior and high school.

Also this year, the company returned to preparing the main entree and vegetable items at each campus. The central kitchen concept is now used for baked goods only.
