New Members On Faculty

With eleven new members on the Perryton school faculties this year, there will be considerable "getting acquainted" going on for the first few days of school this year before teacher and teacher and patron.

First let's see where those that have resigned are going to be this coming year. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Duke are in San Angelo where Mr. Duke is principal of the Elementary grades, a decided and deserved promotion. Mrs. Lea Ida Boyle decided not to teach this year. James D. Langford resigned to enter the lumber business at Canadian. Boyd Payne goes to Seymour as head coach. Miss Sara Robinson resigned at the close of school last spring to return to her home at Corsicana. Mrs. Oleta McSpadden was not an applicant for another year, she joined her husband who had been transferred to Tyler. Elmo Scott and Chester McLeRoy are in the Army.

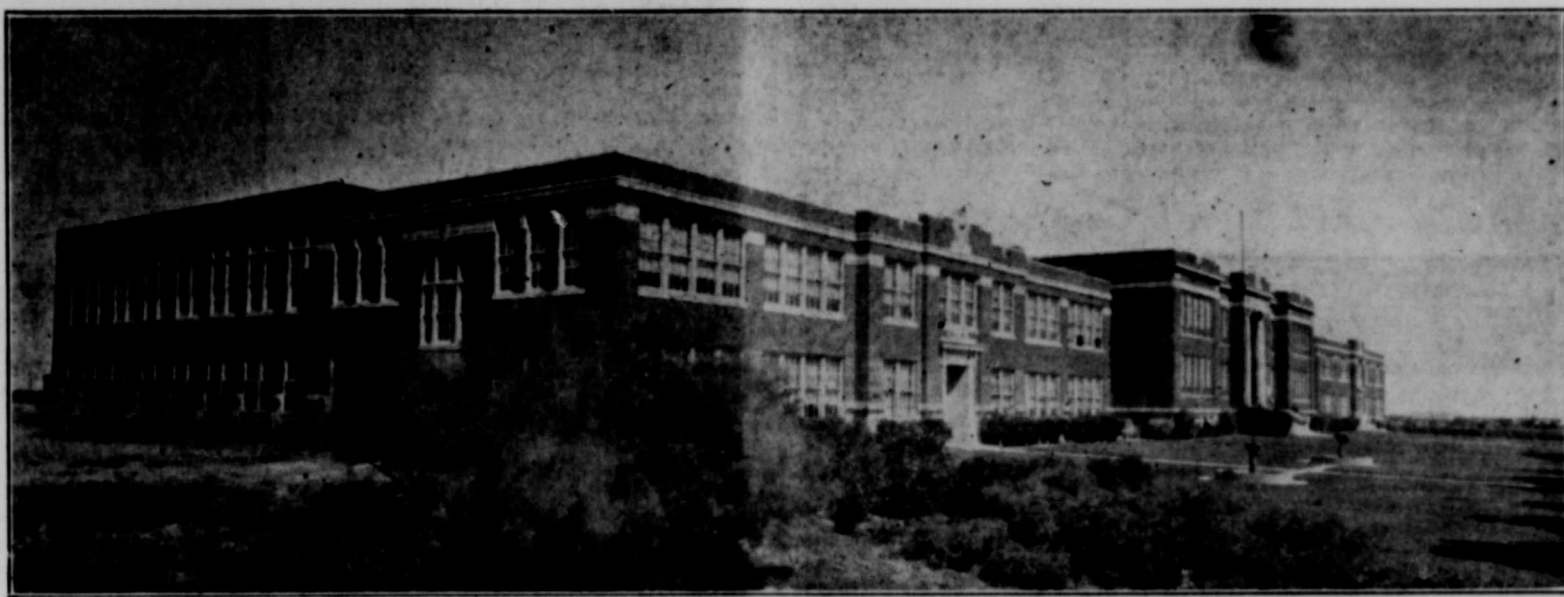

Miss Edith Copeland, listed previously a member of this year's faculty, did not accept her appointment as she had accepted an offer to go to Plainview, Milton Hill, employed as assistant senior high.

Faculty for 1940-41 Term Perryton Public Schools is Complete

Superintendent C. Wedgeworth of the Perryton Public Schools was faced with the same wave of last minutes resignations of school teachers as experienced by heads of schools in every part of the country. There will be a number of new teachers on the faculty, practically all of them being replacements due to resignations for service in the United States Army or other national defense projects.

The Perryton school faculty for the coming term ranks higher in educational attainments than any previous faculty. Every member has as much as a B. A. degree. Six of the high school faculty have their M. A. and the remaining members have completed over one-half of M. A. work. The same high standard exists in the Junior High and Elementary staffs where many have M. A. degrees or are working toward same.

Teachers in the Perryton schools and subject or room are as follows: Senior High School: E. D. Kelley, principal; W. F. Cox, Manual Arts; J. R. Reece, Mathematics. See No. 6, Back Page

With a record of one of the most successful years in the history of the Perryton schools behind him Superintendent Wedgeworth is looking forward to an enrollment this year that will without question break all records.

Judge Dave Shanks Says County Schools are Ready for Opening

All schools in Ochiltree county will begin Monday, September 8. This will include the schools outside of the Perryton Independent School District, so reports Judge Dave Shanks, ex-officio county superintendent of schools.

Every year sees fewer small rural schools. Last year there was six in the county other than the big Perryton school. This year the total drops to five with the closing of the Alfalfa school, probably the oldest school in the county.

Schools that have passed out of the picture in the past few years include Ridge, Blodgett, Black, Alfalfa and Cedar Bluff. Pupils from the area served by these schools are being transported either to Perryton or Spearman.

Rural schools that will operate this year are, Taz, Mrs. Nadine Carrick, teacher; Huntoon, Edgar C. Allen, principal; Mrs. Lena Brilhart, primary; McMillen, Mrs. R. T. Bowen, teacher; Lakeview, Mrs. Buford Black Wallace, teacher; and Waka, Lee B. Carter, principal. Mrs. Violet Igou and Miss Evangeline Mullins, teachers.

High school pupils from Huntoon are transported to Booker and Perryton; high school and some grade students from McMillen come to Perryton; Waka high school pupils come to Perryton.

Parent-Teachers Begin Activities With School Term

Every fall with the ringing of the school bells, the Parent Teacher Association becomes active. After a summer of vacation everyone should be ready to go to work with enthusiasm.

The object of this organization is to promote the welfare of children and youths in the home, school, church, and community; to raise the standards of home life; to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; to bring into closer relation the home and the school in order that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child. Thus to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

This association is noncommercial, non-sectarian and nonpartisan. Its purpose is educational and it does not have a financial end.

USO Chairman Asks Wheat Pledges Be Paid

T. V. Elizey, USO chairman for Ochiltree county is making a final appeal to people who signed and pledged wheat to the USO to either make arrangements for their elevator to deliver the wheat to the USO or pay the equivalent of their pledge in cash.

It is believed that many people who pledged wheat thought that it was an order to their elevator to deliver the wheat. Such was not the case. You pledged that you would deliver to your elevator the wheat to be placed to the USO. So Chairman Elizey is now asking that each person who has signed a pledge card and has not delivered the wheat, to contact their elevator at once and authorize the transfer of their pledged wheat to the USO.

In many cases it may be that the pledge has put all wheat under government loan. In this case Chairman Elizey is asking that you pay in cash the amount of your pledge at the offices of the W. B. LaMaster Realty Co. at once. And it's not too late to make a donation to this worthy cause. There are hundreds of people in Ochiltree county who have not given a thin dime to the USO. Do it now!

JUST HERE and THERE

It is understood that the State Highway department will start Monday on leveling and repairing portions of Highway 111 and 83 within the city limits. This is a repair that is badly needed and Perryton is thankful to the state highway officials for assuming maintenance.

County Judge Dave Shanks is to be commended for his publicly announced stand to see that boys and girls of school age are not allowed to work or loiter around public pool halls and similar places of amusement.

Waka Club

"My yard improvement shows the cooperation of my entire family," stated Mrs. G. A. Burger, yard demonstrator, at the meeting of the Waka Home Demonstration club on Tuesday, September 2, in her home.

She continued: "I had several goals to meet this year as I had very little planted. The first achievement was to build a yard fence; then a hedge of 21 honey-suckles. A spirea hedge planted the year before was enlarged. Planting a lawn was the next step. We used buffalo, bermuda and clover and have a solid carpet as a result."

An arched entrance sets off the lovely perennial flower garden in the back yard. A rock walk leads to this spot of beauty. Eight different varieties of shrubs have been planted with a total of 54 shrubs. All this improvement has been made at a cost of $11. Mrs. Burger plans to put out more trees next year.

Those present for the meeting were Mesdames Dan Manning, J. R. Stump, Dan Blickenstaff, P. W. Wernicke, Marvin Groves, H. N. Elledge, Dan Teater, Fred Butler, T. E. Miller, Jim Davis, John Luthi, L. R. Conner, Allan Dennison, C. A. Igou, members, and Mrs. Roy Leitch. Mrs. D. W. Hart, Mrs. D. W. Dunnahoo, Leota Williamson, Bonnie Elledge and Darlene Teater, visitors.

Texas Cattle Sales Exceed Last Year

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 3—All classes of Texas livestock except calves moved in greater numbers to out-of-state markets and the Fort Worth stockyards in July than a year ago, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Shipments totaled 5,427 cars, compared to 5,167 in July, 1940. A gain of 59 cars marked cattle shipments, bringing the July figure to 3,060 carloads; hogs increased 64 cars to 645; and sheep gained 106 cars to 947. A total of 775 carloads of calves was shipped, down 69 cars from July a year ago.

Farm Income in Panhandle Shows Largest Gain in Entire State

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 3—Cash is more plentiful for Texas farmers than it has been in a long time, with a fifty million dollar margin of gain in income this year over last, up to August 1, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

During the first seven months of 1941, farmers have sold produce valued at $205,589,000, the bureau estimates.

In July, for example, an index of agricultural income compiled by the bureau stood at 111.7, or 11.7 points above the five-year average for July from 1928 to 1932, and 43.1 points above the index for July 1940.

All sections of the state shared in the increase, the largest gains over January 1-August 1, 1940, occurring in the Panhandle, around Amarillo, plus $10,000,000, and in the sections around Wichita Falls and Abilene, around Fort Worth and Dallas, and around San Angelo, with increase of five to six million dollars.

Income for the first seven months of 1941, compared with that of the corresponding period last year, for the state, was $205,589,000 against $156,337,000 in 1940. In District 1-N, the Panhandle, income jumped from $17,922,000 in 1940 to $27,440,000 in 1941.

Texas Farmers Triple Egg Sales

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 3—Texas farmers and poultrymen sold almost three times as many eggs in July as a year ago, with total shipments amounting to 305 carloads, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reports.

Bulk of the shipments, 259 cars, went to out-of-state points, New York taking 73 cars and Pennsylvania taking 41.

Movement of Texas-raised chickens was cut in half, however, to only 15 cars, while five carloads of turkeys were shipped compared to six in July, 1940.

Avoid Accidents in the Kitchen

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 3—Life insurance companies have figures showing that many thousands of deaths and disabling accidents each year result from accidents in home kitchens. To cut down on kitchen casualties, Louise Bryant, Extension Service specialist in home management, suggests a check-up to make this important room in the house safe.

A third of the deaths of children under five from home accidents come from scalds and burns. To avoid such tragedies, cook with the handles of all pots and pans turned to the back of the stove so they'll be out of reach of children.

Safety catches can be put on petcocks to prevent children from turning knobs on the gas stove; matches should be kept in non-inflammable containers out of their reach. Canning in a pressure cooker and deep-fat frying are two of the more dangerous cooking jobs, so children should be kept out of the kitchen during these processes.

The Little Boy who wasn't there -

LAST YEAR HUNDREDS OF CHILDREN WERE HURT BETWEEN HOME AND SCHOOL!

It was nine o'clock in the morning, the opening day of school. The teacher called the roll and everybody answered by holding up his hand. Everybody, that is, except little Frank Wallace. He wasn't there.

Frank was in the hospital with his little body mangled. His head hung at an unnatural angle. Both his legs were broken and he was coughing blood. The doctor shook his head. Mrs. Wallace stood there, sobbing quietly and Mr. Wallace clenched and opened his fists—

YOU KILLED FRANK WALLACE! You drivers who relied on your horn, rather than on your brakes, on good luck rather than on good sense. You took that little boy out of a classroom where he belonged, and put him into a cold, damp grave.

Drivers, be careful! Little children don't always stop to think before running into the street. We who are older must think for them. We must have our cars in good condition so that we can stop when we have to. We must go slowly in school zones, obey the traffic warnings and the schoolboy safety patrol.

We must save lives, not squander them.

Because—your own children go back to school Monday. Are they safe?

YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR HIM

IF you haven't seen to it that your car is in good condition, with the brakes, lights, and steering all functioning perfectly.

IF you don't drive slowly enough to bring your car to a complete stop within 2 feet in a school zone, or if you disobey any warning or traffic signs or signals or the directions of the schoolboy safety patrol.

IF you do not at all times do your duty as a citizen by respecting the rights of others, whether they are fellow drivers or unsuspecting children, and by safeguarding those rights as you would safeguard your own.

The Library Corner

Several new non-fiction books of general interest have been received at the Public Library recently. Among them is "The Other America" by Lawrence Griswold. We should all know more about our South American neighbors, since our futures are sure to be more and more closely related. The information is here in this book, usefully arranged and presented. The author also has a good deal to say about Pan-Americanism and about the part the United States can and should play as a good neighbor.

Another book of year-round help is "Practical Flower Gardening" by Katherine Cloud. It tells you what to do in your garden in fall and winter, as well as in the more active seasons of spring and summer. The book will be understood by the beginner and appreciated by the experienced garden lover.

Also of interest to many of Perryton's garden makers is a new book on rock gardening: "Rock in Gardens and What to Grow in Them." This book is a short cut to lovelier rock gardens. It explains simply the principles of design and construction essential to good results. It tells how to choose rock plants for a succession of bloom and how to cultivate them. You can even have a winter rock garden. Anyway it is not too late to start one for next year, for early spring display.

In the juvenile department perhaps the most important acquisition so far is a fine new edition of the Junior Classics, in ten volumes, beautifully illustrated and printed, and graded according to subject material and age interest, re-telling the well-loved old tales enjoyed by children all over the world for generations past. Ask Mrs. Winter, the librarian, to show the set to you.

And while we are on the subject of children's books, after school starts the Children's Story Hour will be given Saturday afternoons only at three o'clock.

"My Sister and I"

A poignant story is told. A story that needs few words but tells why the Allies—Australia, Belgium, British Commonwealth, Czechoslovakia, the Allies—France, Greece, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Norway, Poland and Free France—are fighting against aggression and for world freedom. These two children are French refugees who have lost their parents and await their assignment to new homes—homes that will be orphanages.

Christian Science War Relief Work

BOSTON, Aug. 27.—(Sp.)—One war relief activity which has been little publicized is The Christian Science War Relief Committee, with main offices at 237 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts. Two thousand and nine hundred and ninety-nine cases—half a million garments—valued at $489,368.23, in the nine months of the Committee's existence, is their record to date.

The work is an activity of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, and branch Christian Science churches throughout America. Only new garments or those comparable to new are accepted by the Committee.

These are furnished almost entirely by members of the Christian Science organizations. They are shipped to a central Christian Science committee, in London, where they are allocated to different almoners in England and Scotland. The work is in the hands of members of the Christian Science denomination until the garments are distributed. They are gladly given and knew what to do for it. Nowadays we have many polite words for it, meaning the same thing, but when we are listless, have bilious spells, bad breath and gas pains with sluggish intestinal action we still use ADLERIKA, the product Grandma found best 40 years ago. Take home a bottle of ADLERIKA today and try it. At your Druggist's SANFORD DRUG CO.

Science War-time Committee was able to meet an appeal for blankets. Particularly, many thousands of blankets had been shipped and had just arrived.

Not only are garments made by sewing units in about thirteen hundred places throughout the United States, but thousands of new garments are purchased and sent from a War Relief Fund generously contributed by Christian Scientists. Three motor kitchens have been sent and a motor truck or van is maintained in England for quick deliveries.

The Committee in Boston is grateful for the records of goods sent as well as for the fact that because services are so largely voluntary, its overhead expense is only 4.1 per cent. It also rejoices that less than one per cent of the goods shipped is all that has been lost by sinkings.

The main depot for shipping to England is located in Boston, but shipments are also made from Portland, Oregon; New York City, and Los Angeles.

Root rot fungus spreads by slow growth along roots from plant to plant, even when they are dormant, at the rate of a foot or so a month.

Studies made at a state University reveal that only 37 per cent of pre-school children in many rural areas of the country have ever had a health examination.

This ONE Machine Does But Harvest

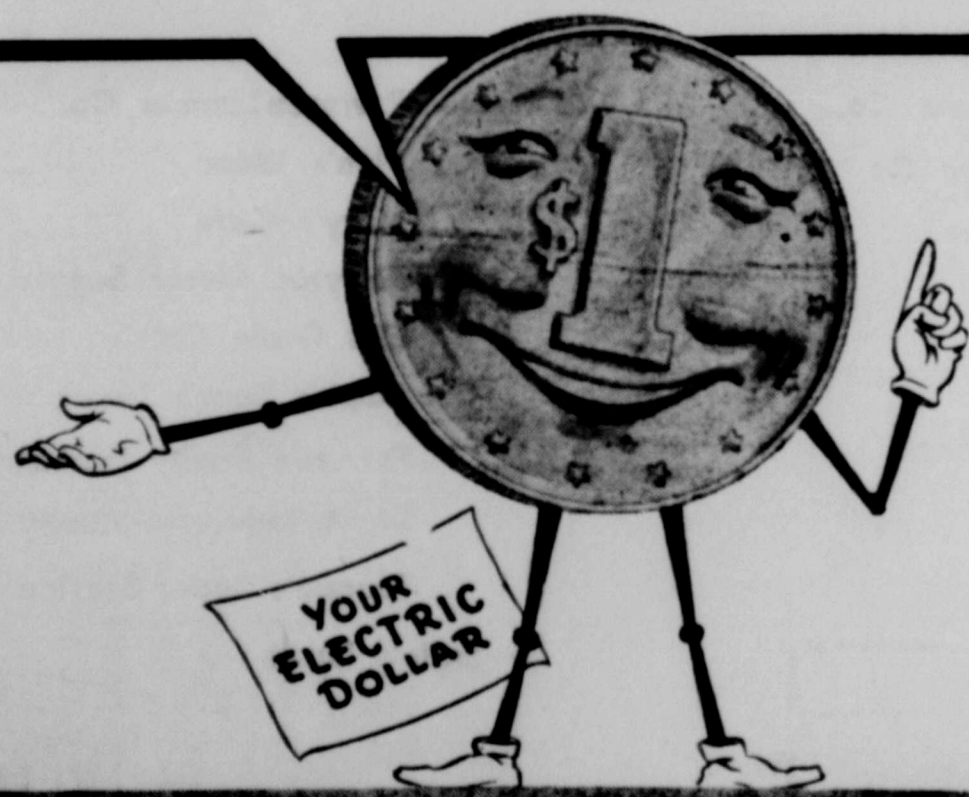

DEMPSTER TILLING and DEEP FURROW SEEDING

YOU need only this one machine to do every job from one wheat harvest to the next... and to follow the new system of farming that greatly decreases the waste possible. Think of the money you save not having to buy several machines... of the time, labor and fuel saved by doing several jobs in one operation.

HERE'S WHAT IT DOES—With machine as shown above you go into the stubble field immediately after harvest—cultivating, forming furrows and damming in one operation so that ground is ready to catch and hold moisture. Later you can level ridges and prepare excellent seed bed with trash on top to prevent soil-blowing. Then with machine as shown below you do an ideal job of seeding, depositing seed in wide, 6-in. moist seed bed, covering seed uniformly with moist soil.

PERRYTON EQUIPMENT

YOUR OTHER DOLLARS ARE SHRINKING IN VALUE . . . BUT I'LL BUY MORE TODAY THAN I EVER DID

Prices of most items in the cost of living have followed a steady upward trend since the low point of the depression, but while other prices have been going up, the cost of electricity has been coming down. Right now, the unprecedented demands of the defense boom are forcing the prices of food and other essentials to still higher levels, but electricity was never cheaper than it is today. Year by year, due to increased use and successive rate reductions, the average cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity has come down until today the average customer of this company receives 52% more electricity for his money than he did 10 years ago. Today . . . more than ever . . . electricity is your biggest bargain.

Perhaps You Remember

THIS IS NOT the first time that you have called upon Dodge automotive plants and men to meet a National Emergency. You probably remember that you called them to the colors once before; that you found their service good; that their dependability was not a catch-word, but a watch-word, in France and on the training fields at home, for the highest mechanical excellence.

Now again you have called Dodge to the National Defense. And Dodge has swiftly answered. Already many thousands of its highly trained men have been transferred from the work of building motorcars to the more urgent and crucial tasks of building army trucks, tanks, guns and airplane assemblies. Again Dodge is throwing its great industrial weight into your program of Defense. And, as you require, Dodge will again remain a defense force, with every ounce of its energy, every inch of the way.

You May Also Recall

You may clearly remember that the first time you called on Dodge for aid in National Defense, its motorcars were reaching the very peak of their first young success. Then suddenly, remember, there were fewer of them because there were fewer men to make them, and less material to make them with. Perhaps you also remember that it was these fewer Dodge cars, and the qualities inherent in them, that helped to lay the lasting foundation for a worldwide reputation for Dependability.

Later — A Quarter Century

Again Dodge moves full speed ahead in the service of the Government,—with full knowledge of its duty and confidence in your own respect for the speed that is Dodge. These cars will, of course, always remain at their finest. You may approach your own Dodge purchase with complete confidence in its returning value,—its ability to serve you so extremely well for even more years that you would normally choose to drive it. It is a firm fact these are the finest cars Dodge has ever built. . . . There can be no curtailment of Dodge quality. . . . No substitute for Dodge Dependability.

Modern France Enemy of Democracy

A short time ago, in the beautiful, historic French town of Fontainebleau, squads of workmen went to work on a wrecking job. That involved the tearing down of two huge statues. One statue was of a great Frenchman who had fought for democracy—Marshal Lafayette. The other statue was of a great American who led a victorious democratic army—General John J. Pershing.

There is a tragic symbolism in this. For it indicates how completely France has deserted the democratic way of life, and embraced the doctrines of the total state as laid down and enforced by Hitler.

It is generally felt that the great bulk of the French people hate Hitler, and pray for allied victory. But, so long as the present Vichy government exists, there seems no other course than to regard modern France as an ally of Germany.

The hope that General Weygand would eventually refuse to use his great African army to help the Germans is, in the view of most experts, futile. The recent appointment of Admiral Darlan as head of the French defense shows the way the wind blows. Darlan is anti-democratic, and pro-Nazi. It will not come as any great surprise if the French fleet is in time placed at Hitler's disposal.

The Right to Speak

The recent report from Washington that censorship legislation for newspapers, radio, motion pictures and all other forms of communications in and out of the United States was about to be introduced in Congress brought a prompt denial of any such plans from President Roosevelt. In spite of that, however, the news association that circulated the original story insists that it is true. Americans who value their liberty can only hope that it is not.

Freedom of the press has always been one of the fundamental freedoms in our democracy. Today we are arming to defend those freedoms—all of them. Our eyes are fixed outside our country for signs of aggression against us. But aggression does not always come from abroad. It may be well from time to time to turn back our gaze and search America for signs of internal attack upon traditional liberties.

In the dictator countries, freedom of the press was one of the first freedoms to fall under the axe of government decree. Take away a man's right to say what he honestly thinks, and you set the stage for a nation of puppets, all dancing to the vicious music of subtle propaganda. It has happened in other nations. We dare not let it happen here.

Dispelling the Fog

By CHARLES MICHELSON
Director of Publicity, Democratic National Committee

The effort of the Hoover-Landon wing to commit the Republican party to the policy of isolation marks a deliberate attempt to end the principle of no partisan politics in the defense program.

It is particularly brazen in the light of the circumstance that the minority party's candidates in the last national election have both indicated their adherence to a contrary view. Wendell Willkie has openly declared his accord with the policy of President Roosevelt, and Senator McNary has voted for nearly all of the measures that call for aid to the democracies that are fighting the Nazis.

The Republican Vice Presidential candidate of 1936 heads the Navy Department and Hoover's Secretary of State is now Secretary of War, with neither of them favoring his Republicanism. Most of the important figures in the defense set-up are listed as Republicans, and so are also characterized as "warmongers" by the isolationist group in the minority party, who refuse to admit that these are motivated by the sentiment that they are patriotic Americans first, and so are willing to answer the call of country.

The day after the Hoover-Landon group issued its round robin, a caucus of Republican House members followed suit. According to the New York Herald Tribune's report of that session, the caucus was "virtually forced on Joseph W. Martin Jr., Republican floor leader and chairman of the Republican National Committee. Chairman Martin, regardless of the division in his party, has militantly worked both sides of the street on the isolationist issue.

The G. O. P. Dilemma

Whether the Hoover group succeeds in making the Republican party the isolationist—or appeasement—party is of purely academic interest to the Democrats. We have only sympathy with Chairman Martin who feels that unity is the only hope of his following and has been bent on preventing an all-out break between the Hooverites and the Willkieites.

There is a pathetic note in the statement attributed in the Baltimore Sun's account of the caucus to an Ohio member, to wit: "We can be for peace and perhaps be licked in the next campaign; we can be for peace and war and probably get licked; we can be for war and certainly get licked."

According to the pronouncement of the Hoover-Landon junta, "The American people should insistently demand that Congress should put a stop to step-by-step projection of the United States into undeclared war."

The House Republicans insist that the invocation of the junta did not direct the action of the stormy caucus, although it followed within twenty-four hours. The step-by-step specified movements were the occupation of "bases outside the Western Hemisphere" (Iceland), and promises of "unauthorized aid to Russia." Another sententious utterance was this: "Few people honestly believe that the Axis is now or will in the future be in a position to threaten the independence of any part of this hemisphere if our defenses are properly prepared."

The occupation of Iceland—on the invitation of that land—before Hitler could grab off that stepping-stone to this hemisphere, is part of the proper preparation of our defense. We have consistently done what we could to check the on-march of the Axis. Aid to Russia, which is now blocking the Nazi effort at world conquest, is the most immediate method of staying the onslaught, and making aggression from the Pacific side more improbable.

We are sending all sorts of war material to England, with the idea that Great Britain shall do all the damage possible to the Axis. A bomb dropped from a Russian airplane on Berlin produces the same effect as an identical bomb delivered by the R. A. F. A Nazi transport sunk in the Baltic diminishes the strength of Hitler as much as one sunk in the North Sea.

It may have been a coincidence that the Republican caucus followed within twenty-four hours the broadcast of the junta; it may be a coincidence that the entire group that called on Congress to oppose the President's program was composed of those who have opposed Roosevelt right along—but the evidence is that the campaign is simple politics.

In their announcement, the crisis in the Pacific was ignored, which suggests that Mr. Hoover remembers his own attitude when Japan started on her career of Asiatic conquest and Secretary of State Stimson vainly strove to get a united front of powers against that aggression.

Where the People Stand

As for the "few people who honestly believe" that the Axis constitutes a threat to the United States—why are we building a two-ocean Navy, creating a war-time army and spending billions on billions of dollars in a defense establishment, if only a few of us accept the idea that we are menaced?

Under our system, the opinions and desires of the public are expressed through Congress. What validity is there to the assumption that all are out of step except the Hooverites?

Last year the country had a clear opportunity to express its view—and re-elected Roosevelt for a third term in the face of Hooverite warnings and Ham Phay stories of the dire things that would happen if the voters returned Roosevelt to the White House. The course the administration would follow was clearly indicated before last November. Many of the steps on this course had already been taken. There has been no change in public sentiment in the meantime.

The alleged polls, which the isolationists are so fond of quoting, are barren of significance, even where and if they were on the level. In effect, the ballots asked whether the voter wanted war. Nobody wants war. No authoritative individual has ever suggested that we declare war. War has come to this country in the past because it was forced upon us. It is probable, to put it mildly, that it would have been forced on us during the existing crisis, had it not been for our defensive measures. Our base in Iceland, the President's high-seas conference with the British Prime Minister and similar steps are just as much measures in our defense as the expansion of our war craft production, for example.

Texas CCC Leads Nation

In June there were 16,437 Texas boys in Civilian Conservation Corps Camps, 8,592 in Texas and the remainder in Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. In that month these boys returned to their families over $230,000 and the government estimated they earned real wages in the amount of $986,197.

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 7

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Text: Revelation 2:1-11

'Revelation' Is Significant

THE Book of Revelation was written for Christians of its own time in their persecuted and hard pressed condition. Because of this fact, the book has particular timeliness today. The emphasis upon "the last things" was to bring these suffering Christians the vision of ultimate victory and the glory of the triumph of right and truth. We must be careful not to dissociate the book from its own time and purpose in the conditions that the Christians of the early church were facing, for it is only in this way that we can derive the full message of the book for today.

THE Book of Revelation, the only book of its kind in our New Testament, is what is called an apocalypse. This form of writing arose out of the tragedies and necessities of the time, for prior to the persecution of the early Christians, the Jews during the Maccabean period had passed through terrible persecutions. Under such conditions messages had to be hidden and put in the form of imagery, visions, and symbols. We have an example of this at the very moment in the text to which the letter "V" has become a symbol of opposition to Nazi Germany throughout large portions of Europe.

BECAUSE of the difficulty of interpretation, many thoughtful readers take little interest in the Book, but this itself is a form of thoughtlessness, dictated by a rather too prosaic and practical attitude. The Book of Revelation, as a matter of fact, is one of the most remarkable pieces of writing that has come into our English language. Its imagery appeals to almost the whole gamut of the human emotions in its presentation of beauty, tragedy and terror, sublimity and spiritual conceptions. If, instead of trying to make exact interpretations at every point, we enter into the vast sweep and the general meaning, the Book comes to us with considerable light. We can understand it much better when we read it bearing in mind the situation of churches and Christians, hard pressed by present day persecution, when many under dire suffering are courageously living in the faith and hope the Book depicts as the ultimate glory.

"Five Fundamental Principles of Redemption." "The Case of Judas Iscariot."
Was Judas "a devil from the beginning"? Was he ever a saved man? Was he finally lost? Is there a practical lesson for today in the "Case of Judas"? These questions will be discussed in the Sunday night sermon by the pastor and the first named subject above will be the subject for the sacramental message Sunday morning.
It is desired that we have a record attendance at the Lord's table at the morning hour.

Christian Science

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Scripture which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 7.
The Golden Text is: "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God" (1 John 3:1).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Timothy 3:16, 17).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is the idea of Spirit; he reflects the beatific presence, illumined the universe with light" (page 266).

IT HAS NOW COME TO PASS

On account of inflated age, deflated health and business qualifications, I have decided to quit pretending that I am a merchant and that people are flocking to me to buy my goods, when they are not. Trying to improve my health and usefulness to mankind, calls for a change. Come and see what I have to offer to the best bidder on next to the best corner, in the best town, county and state.
If you did not buy to help me stay, Buy now to help me get away.

A Sincere "Thank You"

After seven years of doing business with the finest folks in the world, we're "pulling up stakes" and leaving Perryton. It is with a genuine feeling of regret that we must tell each and everyone of you, "Goodbye and Good Luck."

Perryton has been kind to us! You have been generous and most considerate in your patronage and business dealings. But we have the opportunity to move to a field that offers a larger and more lucrative future than we believe possible here.

In bidding adieu to our many Perryton friends and customers, we would indeed be ungrateful if we did not express our heartfelt gratitude for your support, your friendship and above all your sense of fairness and spirit of cooperation.

Before we close our business on Saturday, September 6, to pack up and move our equipment and merchandise, we want to tell each of you how thankful we are for everything.

Strange paradox of the war is that many of Britain's children will be healthier because of it. Thousands of children evacuated from the big cities are enjoying their stays in the wholesome countryside.

Larry MacPhail Proposes Slick New York Stadium

BY ART BRONSON

LARRY MACPHAIL, whose able management has put the Brooklyn Dodgers on the map, has visions of a stadium for his team that would outdo anything yet built. He'd like to have the city of New York construct a stadium that would be the last word in sports. It would seat 200,000. Philadelphia Stadium seats 105,000, and Soldier Field in Chicago has accommodations for 120,000.

MacPhail believes his team could easily attract 200,000 to its important games. World series games played in such a stadium could be offered to the fans at prices of $1 to $5 per seat. Yankee Stadium, which seats 80,000, is obsolete, MacPhail says.

STADIUM of the future should provide plenty of underground parking space for the convenience of the fans, MacPhail thinks. He would eliminate bleachers altogether. He doesn't think fans should sit out in the sun and rain, even at reduced rates.

WHEN Brooklyn fans go to a ball game, by the way, they make a circus out of it. Here's Joe Williams' description of a Brooklyn game, which will give you some idea of what goes on:

Stubborn Resistance in Africa

Despite burning sands and blinding heat, British patrols carry out their missions daily along the African front. Here they are having a bit of trouble getting a balky mule into action.

Strictly Fresh

THE President has vetoed a bill to "freeze" wheat stocks. It is a little early in the season for such cold measures.

Maybe another reason for the eastern oil shortage is that so much of it is being poured on troubled waters.

Churchill's emphasis on the "Pacific peril" may put an end to pacifist puerility in our policy toward Japan.

Maybe the reason the Duke of Kent visited President Roosevelt at his Hyde Park estate is that he couldn't get a hotel room in over-crowded Washington.

LARRY MACPHAIL

"There was a band in the grandstand and composed of paying guests. As the band played people danced in the aisles. There was a fellow who always blows up balloons and kills them with a sudden, sharp blast when an opposing hitter is just about to swing. There were fights, with policemen supposedly coming to the rescue and gleefully joining up with the battlers, not even pausing to ask, 'Is this a private fight?'"

Convictions for Drunken Driving Are Increasing

AUSTIN, Sept. 3.—Convictions for drunken driving in Texas have increased 340 per cent under the new law making this offense a misdemeanor, State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., reported today.

Two hundred and thirty driver's licenses were suspended or revoked upon conviction for driving while intoxicated between June 19, when the law became effective, and Aug. 22. This compares with 56 suspensions in the same period last year.

Law enforcement officers and safety officials contended that the old law, under which a first offense was a felony, was so strict that enforcement fell down through reluctance of juries and courts to send a defendant to the penitentiary. The recent Legislature enacted the new law which makes the first offense a misdemeanor punishable by automatic suspension of the driver's license for six months and a fine or jail sentence or both. The second offense becomes a felony punishable by a one-year suspension of the driver's license and a penitentiary sentence.

Eight convictions under the new law were for second offenses and one was for a third offense.

These figures do not give an absolutely clear analysis of results obtained under the new law. Colonel Garrison pointed out, "because many city officers now are filing first offense cases in state courts, whereas they were previously filed in municipal courts. Nevertheless, the increase in convictions has been so overwhelmingly large that the new law apparently has already proven its effectiveness."

THAT REMINDS ME

Our Farms May Feed Russians

BY RALPH HERBERT

WASHINGTON.—Experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture are watching with keen interest the progress of the Russo-German conflict, their special concern being whether there will be Russian thousands to help feed in addition to what is already planned for Great Britain and, possibly, China.

Lord Beaverbrook, minister of supply of Great Britain now in this country, has been quite frank in his statement that his country hopes for great quantities of cheese, dried eggs, dried milk and canned fruit, meat and vegetables, so that the 45,000,000 in the United Kingdom can be properly fed. Long ago, foreseeing this need, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard called for more production in cheese and other dairy products.

THE Russian situation so far stacks up as follows: The German advances in northern Russia do not affect the food problem greatly, because that section is a consuming, a grain-deficit area. The more serious blow is in the south, particularly in the Ukraine, which supplies 40 per cent of the country's sugar beet production and contains many of the biggest and best sugar mills.

The Ukraine has always been one of the chief bread baskets of Russia. The part already invaded, or now a scene of battle, grows about one-fifth of the Ukraine's famous wheat acreage. Wheat and other small grains are usually harvested in the latter part of July and early in August. Sugar beets are harvested in autumn.

THERE have been some claims by the Russians that a goodly part of the wheat crop has been harvested and transported out of reach of the German invaders. But that will not be possible with the sugar beet crop. The Russians may destroy the sugar beets and unharvested grain, as Stalin commanded, but the result may do more than disappoint the hopes of the Nazi leaders for a new stock to their larder. It may also vitally affect the feeding of the Russian people. If so, it is not improbable that Russia may turn to the United States not only for airplanes, tanks, machines and tools, but also for food.

One thing that may hamper the Russians in getting their harvested crops out of the grasp of the Nazis is the matter of transport. The Soviet's railway system in that part of the empire is probably already overtaxed in carrying men and supplies to the front.

Frank Cunningham's Father Passes Away

J. A. Cunningham, age 61, father of Frank Cunningham, proprietor of the Club Cafe, died last Saturday at a hospital in Palestine, Ill., following injuries received in an automobile accident on August 27.

Frank was on a rambling fishing trip in Arkansas at the time of the accident and every known method was used to get in touch with him but he was not contacted until Friday when he stopped at the home of his father-in-law, C. M. Boren, Perry, Okla., while enroute home to Perryton. He went from Perry to his father's home at Flat Rock, Ill., where funeral services were held Monday.

Frank and his two brothers, Lyman of Chicago and Paye of Sayre, Okla., are the only close survivors.

Mrs. J. H. Shearer and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Shearer left Sunday for their home in Los Angeles after a week's visit with J. H. Shearer.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Witt and Kay, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Witt and her niece, Donna M. Clark of Gruver are visiting with relatives in Dallas and Cleburne.

Foreign Service Available in Regular Army

Under recent regulations young men entering the Army through their Selective Service Boards have no chance of seeing the world. It is only by an enlistment through the Regular Army Recruiting Service that the young man's normal appetite for travel and adventure in foreign lands can be satisfied. The U. S. Army Recruiting Station at Lubbock, Texas, (with sub-stations at Amarillo, Plainview, Pampa and Dalhart) now has many vacancies for service in the Hawaiian Islands and the Philippine Islands and young men registered for the Selective Service but who have not been called are eligible for enlistment in these vacancies.

For service in the Hawaiian Islands there are the following vacancies: Infantry, Coast Artillery Corps, Field Artillery, Corps of Engineers, Medical Corps and Ordnance Department.

For service in the Philippine Islands there are the following vacancies: Infantry, Coast Artillery Corps, Field Artillery, Quartermaster Corps, Medical Corps, Ordnance Department and Chemical Warfare Service.

These vacancies are something new, heretofore it has been the policy of the War Department to send no one to Foreign Service with less than one year's service. Now a young man can enlist for one of these vacancies and be sent to Foreign Service without delay.

There are only a few of these choice vacancies left so young men desiring to travel and see the world should apply for enlistment at the nearest recruiting station without delay.
