Recovery Seen For Nation In Rising Prices

Bulls Ride Through Market On Rails During Early Trading And Later Transfer; Motor Issues Show Gains

Cotton, Wheat Up

Bond Issues Advance $10 To $60; September Recovery In Many Lines Is Expected By Business Leaders

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10—Convinced rising prices foreshadowed important business recovery, buyers forced stocks, bonds, cotton, wheat and other commodities to new peak levels for the summer today.

Bulls rode through the stock market on rails during the earlier hours of trading and transferred to motors in the final dealings in a buying movement which sent many issues up $1 to $8 a share. Save for Monday's turnover, the volume of trading in the stock exchange at 4,429,390 shares, was the largest of the year.

Advances Are Good

In bonds many issues advanced $10 to $60 per bond of $1000 par value, price averages indicating the best advance since early June and total transactions, at $17,023,000, were the largest since January.

Wheat, evidently anticipating the government crop report after the close, advanced 1 1-4 to 1 3-4 cents a bushel. The crop as of Aug. 1 was estimated at 723,000,000 bushels, a reduction of 14,000,000 bushels from the estimate a month earlier and 171,000,000 bushels under last year's crop.

Cotton Keeps Going

Cotton again forged ahead to new high levels for the recovery as bankers still were working on the plan of forming a credit corporation to facilitate financing of the movement of the raw staple to the mills. Extreme gains of around $1.50 a bale were not maintained but final prices were 85 to 95 cents a bale. Some quarters in the textile trade have noted a substantial improvement in the demand for cotton clothes this week.

A substantial assortment of miscellaneous commodities again joined the advance after moderate setbacks in the previous session. Raw sugar, crude rubber, silk, hides, silver futures and other lines were in the procession of advancing prices.

Recovery Expected

Midwest business statistics, it was pointed out in some quarters, indicated "clearly the upward movement was based on hopes of busi-

Lancaster Denies Murder Of Clarke And Details Grim Scene Of Suicide

Admits Writing Two Notes And Signing Victim's Name

(By The Associated Press)

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 10.—Capt. W. N. Lancaster, on trial for the slaying of Haden Clarke, declared today he did not, in jealous retribution, kill the man who replaced him in the affections of his former fiancee, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

"I think Haden Clarke committed suicide," he said. "I think he killed himself with good intentions because of an illness he had contracted. I see his act as a beautiful thing."

Gives Firm Denial

"No," the British aviator answered firmly when both Defense Counsel James M. Carson and State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne asked him if he killed Clarke.

"I knew before I went to bed (the night of the fatal shooting) that Haden could never" marry Chubbie (Mrs. Keith-Miller) and I think he knew it too."

He told today how he and Clarke had retired to the same room at the home here of Mrs. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix, after a heart-to-heart talk about the love mix-up.

Awakened By Shot

"I was awakened by a bang," Lancaster related in calm tones. "At firs' I thought it was a window banging.

"'What was that, Haden'? I asked.

"I heard a gurgling noise from the bed. Fumbling for a light, I turned it on.

"There was Haden lying on the bed. Blood was streaming about his chin. I jumped from my bed and ran to his."

He said he shook Clarke by the

Garner's Challenge To Prohibition In Texas And Religious Bigotry In Party Is Lauded By Joseph Tumulty

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — Joseph P. Tumulty, who was secretary to President Wilson, sees in Speaker Garner, Democratic vice presidential candidate, a man who has challenged religious bigotry within his own party and dared to fight against prohibition in his native state of Texas.

Prizing his long-time friendship with the speaker, Tumulty, in a letter to Michael E. Hennessy of the Boston Globe, sought to refute rumors that Garner is intolerant and declined to support Alfred E. Smith in 1928 because of the latter's religious faith.

"John Garner," Tumulty wrote, "would despise and turn away from anyone who would suggest that he lift himself into office or power through the use of religion."

"At a time when Texas was a seething cauldron of Ku Kluxism and its inevitable aftermath, prohibition," he added, "John Garner stood in the first line trenches, his banner waving high, fighting the twin devils of intolerance—prohibition and Ku Kluxism. He stood then, as he stands now, with the liberal forces of Democracy, who refuse to concede to ecclesiastical politicians the right to say how a man should drink or how he should kneel to worship the God of his fathers."

Walker's Last Defense Up In Hearing Today

Fateful Proceedings Are To Get Underway Thursday As Governor Roosevelt Hears Evidence In Case

(By The Associated Press)

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 10.—With disappearance of a threat of legal interference with a public hearing tomorrow, Governor Roosevelt tonight was ready to hear Mayor James J. Walker's last defense against contentions he should be removed by the governor.

Fateful as will be the proceedings to the political career of the New York City executive it also is joined importantly with the presidential ambitions of Mr. Roosevelt, the Democratic choice this year. Walker in many minds symbolizes Tammany Hall. His exoneration would have an effect in the west and south where the historic political organization is distrusted and in the urban east where Mr. Walker has a following. Removal of the mayor would reverse the effects.

Makes No Comment

At the executive mansion, where Roosevelt spent most of the day reviewing parts of the evidence, the governor did not comment upon a petition to tie his hands or its subsequent dismissal by Supreme Court Justice John E. McGeehan.

Albany county's Democratic organization marshaled thousands to give "Jimmy" a public demonstration of its affection when the smiling well tailored mayor swung out of his train tonight. New York sent him up the Hudson with cheering throngs.

White haired Samuel Seabury, relentless foe of Tammany Hall, who prepared the case against Walker, arrives tomorrow with seven of the youthful assistants who have aided him in the New York City investigation.

Reduction For Farm Products Is Widespread

Department Of Agriculture In Report Says Acreage Cuts And Lowered Yields Loom As Major Factors

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. — The Department of Agriculture today reported a widespread decline in farm production prospects for this year as a result of reduced acreage and a lowered yield from planted fields.

With production of cotton, tobacco and wheat, all money crops, leading the way downward, the department said "unusually low total production" was in prospect. Only rice and sugar showed signs of yields above the usual average.

Cotton Is Smallest

Corn, oats and barley appeared destined for nearly average crops, although prospects for corn declined in round numbers from 2,896,000,000 to 2,820,000,000 bushels during July. This figure compares with 2,563,000,000 bushels produced in 1931.

"The cotton crop," the department said, "seems likely to be the smallest harvested since 1923."

The cotton forecast three days ago, showing prospects for more than 5,000,000 bales under last year, sent prices rocketing upward from the low levels around which they had clung for nearly a year.

The tobacco crop appeared to be the smallest, with one exception since 1913.

Wheat was following the downward trend with prospects for the

Loyal Troops Concentrated To Attack Seville; 200 Persons Under Arrest; Reports Say City Is Bombed

Former King Alphonso Taking No Part; Object Of Revolt Is Believed To Put Prince Juan Carlos On Throne

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Aug. 10.—Monarchist leaders of the army, who rose in rebellion today against the sixteen months old republic of Spain, failed in an attempt to seize the principal government offices in Madrid after street fighting in which at least eight persons were killed but they captured the city of Seville.

GENERAL FLEES

MADRID, Aug. 11. (AP) — General Jose Sanjurjo, leader of the royalist revolt, fled from Seville early today, said a report here.

Tonight the entire nation was under what amounted to martial law. Loyal troops were being concentrated for an attack on Seville from the north and 200 persons were under arrest for participating in the rebellion.

Bombing Reported

There was an unofficial report from Seville that federal planes were bombarding the city. This report was not confirmed, but it was certain the government was using airplanes in a pacific mission in an endeavor to get the rebels to surrender.

A squadron flew from Madrid to distribute over Seville copies of a proclamation from the government and from congress.

Sanjurjo Is Leader

The principal leader of the royalist revolt appeared to be General Jose Sanjurpo, commander of the civil guard when the monarchy was overthrown in April, 1931, whose loyalty to the republic frequently has been suspected. It was General Sanjurjo who escorted former Queen Victoria to exile when she followed the ousted Alfonso XIII out of Spain.

Alfonso apparently was not associated with the movement, at least

Speedy Marriage For Film Couple

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10. (AP) — John Gilbert, actor of romantic movie parts, was married for the fourth time tonight in a ceremony at his studio dressing room.

He telegraphed his fiancee, Virginia Bruce, film actress, at 2 p. m. and told her to show up for a wedding at 6 p. m. Surprised on a sound stage in her screen makeup, Miss Bruce demurred at such suddenness but hurried off the set at 5:45 p. m. and was a bride by 6:30. Previously there had been no definite plans for the wedding. A few hours earlier Gilbert hurriedly got his marriage license at the courthouse.

Pastor Given Brief Respite

Berrie Appears In Court On Wednesday And Is Granted 24-Hour Delay; Attorneys Will Seek Bail

(By The Associated Press)

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Aug. 10. — Dressed in a natty grey suit and scarlet tie, the Rev. S. A. Berrie, hymnist-pastor, came to court here today and obtained a 24-hour delay in arraignment on an indictment charging the murder of his first wife.

Earlier has attorney, Grover P. Watkins, had announced his intention of seeking bail for the preacher, who married a 19-year-old Sunday school teacher less than two months after the first Mrs. Berrie died, allegedly of poison, last March 21.

Request Denied

The matter of bail awaited Mr. Berrie's arraignment, although District Judge Enloe V. Vernor today denied a request for the pastor's removal from the city to the county jail. Authorities said the police still were working on the case.

Mr. Berrie, raven haired and personable despite his 52 years, appeared composed except for an apparent antigonism toward newspapermen.

His bride has been exonerated by authorities.

Panhandle Farmers Holding Wheat Despite Higher Price

AMARILLO, Aug. 10. (AP) — In spite of the recent increase in prices, wheat farmers of the Panhandle are still holding their grain, according to figures released today by the three railroads serving this territory.

The figures show that not more than 15,000,000 bushels of the 1932 crop have been shipped. Only 3,000 carloads have been shipped during the past three weeks, while normally twice that number would have been loaded out, railroad officials said.

Officials of the Amarillo grain exchange and the railroads estimated that 7,000,000 bushels of the new crop and several million bushels of the 1931 crop were still held by farmers.

Man Charged With Assault In Shooting Of A Dentist

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10. (AP)—F. O. Cole of Von Ormy was charged in a complaint filed before Justice of the Peace John R. Shook today with assault to murder Dr. H. P. Beatty, dentist, who was shot at the Cole home Monday night. Dr. Beatty was in the medical arts hospital suffering from a wound in the mouth, which knocked out several teeth, and a flesh wound in the left leg.

Roving Gypsy Bands Scenting Prosperity Return In United States And Slow Trek Begins

Unofficial "postmistress" for the gypsy tribes of America, Mrs. W. H. Cole of Fort Smith, Ark., shown above, says their letters indicate they are heading back for the United States in the belief prosperity soon will return here. Sketches illustrate some of the characters visiting her drug store, which is the crossing place of all gypsy trails.

"Postmistress" Of Romany Tribes States That Wanderers Are Heading This Way

FORT SMITH, Ark., Aug. 10.—If you are looking for prosperity, follow the gypsy tribes that roam the world.

For guided by some instinct that seems almost uncanny, gypsies seem to know where money is being made and go there. It seldom has failed.

Shortly before the arrival of depression in the United States in the fall of 1929, lots of them seemed to sense that bad times were coming and departed for other lands. Now—which appears a hopeful sign—they are coming back.

Store at Crossroads

Take all this from Mrs. W. H. Cole, who, with her husband, operates a drug store in Fort Smith. That drug store is at the crossroads of all the Romany trails in the world, for through it the wandering tribes communicate with each other.

For 15 years Mrs. Cole has been their unofficial "postmistress," forwarding letters and telegrams to and from all parts of the globe and maintaining communication with the scattered bands.

Returning Now

"They are coming back now," says Mrs. Cole. "I've been getting letters from South America, Australia, Europe and South Africa which indicate lots of them are planning an early return to the United States. It seems like a good omen for the return of prosperity; gypsies always seem to know where money is being made."

The gypsies know Mrs. Cole and trust her with many important services. In 1923, for instance, she was appointed administratrix for the estate of Yonko Urich, aged king of the Russian gypsies. She handled Yonko's $80,000 estate, of which $40,000 was in cash. Every heir was satisfied.

Walker Issues Challenge For A Real Record

Crosbyton Candidate Answers Charges Of Homer Pharr In Statement; Declares He Is Running Clean Race

A challenge for Homer L. Pharr, candidate for re-election as 72nd district court judge, to "run on what is his real record and not on a fictitious record" was made Wednesday by W. P. Walker of Crosbyton, his opponent in the August 27 primary.

Statements made at a rally at which Judge Pharr spoke here Tuesday night regarding the sheriffs of Hockley and Crosby county were attacked by Walker.

Will Not Reply

"Judge Pharr delivered a speech Tuesday evening to a crowd of about 300 people here in which he charged that I and my supporters were playing 'dirty politics,' indulging in 'hokum', 'buncombe', and 'clap-trap'," Walker said. "In addition, he attacked certain sheriffs, including the sheriff of Crosby county, and insinuated improper motives in my candidacy. Several persons today inquired as to whether I will answer the speech.

"It is my intention to make no speech in reply to this type and character of assault upon my candidacy. I will have nothing to do with the race of any sheriff and I will not enter into any controversy between the present district judge and any official in the 72nd judicial district. So far as I am concerned, each sheriff who is in office or who is a candidate for office will attend to his own affairs and run his own race without any interference from me.

"It is my fixed determination to

Pure Food Law Charges Rapped And Defended In Statements Wednesday; Metcalfe States Profit Is Taken Away

Recent police practice of filing pure food law violation charges against persons arrested during beer raids was defended Wednesday by Chief of Police Wiley L. Metcalfe after an attorney yesterday refused to permit his client to plead guilty of such a complaint.

The suspect, Charlie Jerry, negro arrested Tuesday night, was charged with prohibition law violation in Justice of the Peace J. S. Connell's court yesterday afternoon. Judge Connell said he would set bond at $750.

Legalizes Law Violation

"Such procedure is legalizing a business prohibited by law," Hill Stewart, attorney for Jerry, declared in the peace justice courtroom yesterday afternoon when the complaint was filed.

"We are going to take the profit out of beer selling," Chief Metcalfe said later, adding, "and that will stop it."

"We must fight the beer joints with something, and taking the profit away is about the most successful. Good people in many sections of town have complained

Texas Textile Mills Resuming Full Operation As Business Shows Gains

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Aug. 10.—Two plants of the Texas Textile mills, employing 800 people at Dallas and McKinney, have resumed operations at maximum capacity after running during the summer on a three and four day a week basis.

C. R. Miller, an official of the company, gave improved business conditions and a deluge of orders as reasons for the increased productions.

"The Dallas mill and that at McKinney are now working at capacity," Miller said. "From present indications it will not be long before we will have to re-open the mill at Waco, which was shut down last spring."

Miller said the upswing in cotton and commodity prices had accelerated demand from the trade for textile products but the demand already was in evidence before the markets moved upward.

"Jobbers and retailers all over the country simply were down to the bottom of their stocks," he said.

Speaking Engagement In City Is Cancelled Wednesday As Governor Is Sent To Bed As Result Of Poisoning

All Other Scheduled Speeches Of Chief Executive Will Be Held Up; Mrs. Sterling At Husband's Bedside

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 10.— Governor R. S. Sterling will be out of that political campaign picture the remainder of the week, sent to bed by his wife and his physician to recuperate from an attack of food poisoning suffered late last night at Gonzales after a political address in his campaign for renomination.

The governor's physician said he might allow the chief executive to resume his campaign tour Friday but Mrs. Sterling, who was in Fort Worth campaigning in her husband's behalf, said, "no," and that the governor would remain on the shelf the rest of the week. She talked to the governor by telephone.

Speech Here Cancelled

Governor Sterling's campaign speeches for tomorrow were cancelled by his physician, Mrs. Sterling cancelled them for Friday and Saturday.

The governor became ill at Gonzales late last night and was forced to cancel today's engagements and return to Austin where he was placed in bed.

At first the governor was believed to be suffering from ptomaine poisoning but an examination showed it to be a milder form of stomach ailment.

While the governor was incapacitated temporarily, his campaign moved on. Speakers filled his engagements today and others were obtained to take over the schedule for the rest of the week.

He had planned to campaign the remainder of the week in West Texas, leaving here early tomorrow. His West Texas engagements will be filled by R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth.

Pat Dougherty, the governor's secretary, said the governor insisted he would be all right after he had rested. The physician was called at Dougherty's insistence.

Work Is Strenuous

The governor has been making a strenuous campaign. During the past week he has made an average of ten speeches each day. He worked at the executive offices Monday until 7 p. m. and then held a lengthy conference with his advisors at the mansion.

Up to last night he apparently was

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Aug. 10.—M. G. Massingill, 50, a farmer, was fatally shot early today as he lay in bed at his home several miles southwest of Gatesville on the Pidcoke road.

Mather McLendon, 35, who with his wife and children, had lived at the Massingill home, was charged with murder in a complaint filed by District Attorney Tom L. Robinson.

Hounds Are Used

After the shooting, blood hounds were used in an effort to trail the slayer, believed to have fled into nearby hills. They failed to pick up the scent.

Robinson said a little daughter of McLendon said she was awakened by a shot and heard a man say, "I've killed Massingill, and now I'll kill you." Another McLendon girl said she saw her father and mother scuffling over a gun. In the struggle, the gun stock broke.

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10. (AP)—Investigators today changed their theory regarding the murder of D. J. Markley and his wife, Mrs. Almena J. Makley, and declared they were following new clues.

TAMPICO, Mexico, Aug. 10. Robert Buck, 18, American flier, landed his airplane here at 6:10 p. m. today in an effort to set a new junior air speed record between Newark, N. J., and Mexico City.

Annual All-Day Meeting Of Loyal Sisters Needle Club Is Wednesday

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN

IN THE mail there is a card from Margaret Turner, who is having a vacation in New Mexico. It's cold up there—or, at least, she assures me I would freeze—and her other contribution is that she has "seen so many fat women I feel Garbo-ish."

That beats these cards from other vacationists "wishing you were here, etc., etc." Margaret is being a bit more truthful. She has to work three feet away the rest of the year.

THE FALL HATS

YOU have to have pretty hair to wear the hats that are being shown for fall, according to a visitor recently home from Dallas. The things tilt over one side of the coiffure and show much too much of the hair for a casual comb.

Remember those Empress Eugenies last fall? They showed a lot, too, and that may have been one reason their popularity waned. It is easy enough to have a perfect hair comb unless you get out in this wind or work in the office all day—really work—or do a lot of the things a lot of us do.

However, we'll probably wear 'em just the same.

FOR YOUR FRUITS

IF YOU use a prepared fruit pectin for canning, here is a way to prepare peach and plum jam that may be different.

Four cups or 2 pounds of prepared fruit, seven and one-half cups or three and one-fourth pounds of sugar and one bottle of fruit pectin.

To prepare the fruit, pit one pound of ripe plums without peeling. Cut into small pieces and crush thoroughly. Crush or grind about two pounds of fully ripe peaches.

Measure sugar into large kettle. Add prepared fruit, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 11 8-ounce glasses.

Another such recipe is for ripe peach jam. It is prepared as follows:

Four cups or 2 pounds of prepared fruit, seven and one-half cups or three and one-fourth pounds of sugar and one bottle of fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, peel about three pounds of fully ripe peaches. Pit and grind or chop very fine. If peaches lack flavor or tartness, add juice of one lemon.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit, tightly packed, into large kettle. Mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard one minute. Remove from fire and stir in pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about eleven 8-ounce glasses.

WOMEN DO THINGS

JUST another instance of how women are doing all sorts of things these days. Up in Alaska where there is only one broadcasting station, there is a woman operator. So she runs the station. This operator is Mrs. James Britton.

Women do all sorts of things, you know, so if you are thinking now of the career you will follow after the depression is all over and plumbing looks as good as anything else, why go ahead and be a plumber. As a matter of fact, you can look over the question of becoming an auto mechanic, a policeman or almost anything else that happens to appeal.

Up in Philadelphia there was a survey of the women gainfully employed. Out of the 246,136, there are building contractors, electricians, garage mechanics, building laborers, chauffeurs, policemen, printing compositors, paperhangers and commercial travelers.

Verdict Of Suicide Given In Death Of Philanthropist

DALLAS, Aug. 10 (AP)—Warren Diamond, wealthy sportsman and philanthropist, was found shot to death today in the bathroom at his home. There was a bullet wound in his head. A pistol lay on the floor near his body. A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned. Diamond was 55.

For several years Diamond had been in ill health. Last Saturday he went to a Dallas hospital, remaining there until today, when he told his nurse he had decided to return home. He dressed, called a cab and rode home.

His wife, who said she met him at the door, told police he went upstairs. She said she was uneasy about his sudden return from the hospital and summoned a friend of the family, George Foote. Diamond had been despondent because of his health. Mrs. Diamond and Foote found the body.

Shower Of Stars Is Scheduled To Be Seen Tonight

Lubbock's amateur astronomers will have a chance of seeing one of the best showers of shooting stars in several years this week-end, according to dispatches received from famous observatories and authorities.

The stars are expected to appear tonight or one or two nights afterwards.

Each year from mid-July to August, the earth cuts through the Perseid meteor stream, a vast, elliptical ring of particles of cosmic dust and stones extending two or three billion miles.

The ring is about 50,000,000 miles wide.

The group forms a necklace for the sun, and it takes 108 years to travel around its orbit, but along the orbit are meteors traveling together. The Perseid group first was noted in 1833. It assumes its greatest proportions every 33 years.

The stream of meteors cutting the earth's orbit strike the atmosphere and friction of the hurling bits set them off in a flash of light—the common "shooting star."

Usually they have to compete with moonlight, but this time the moon will be out of the way, for it sets around midnight. The fiery drops are rather scattered, averaging ordinarily from 15 to 50 per hour.

There is some doubt about the precise position of the dense portion of the stream, so that observers are warned to be on the lookout after midnight on at least three nights this week-end.

Swim Teams Give Uncle Sam Added Olympic Laurels

Buster Crabbe Is Sensation; Wins Big Race

American Men And Women Hang Up New Marks To Take Lead In Waterways With Boats And Swimming

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Clarence (Buster) Crabbe, who learned his swimming at the Hawaiian Islands, came up from behind today to stage a surprise victory for Uncle Sam in the 400-meter free-style finals of the tenth Olympiad before 12,000 persons.

In bringing to the United States its first racing championship of the men's division, Crabbe set a new Olympic record of 4 minutes 48.4 seconds and, in so doing, also bettered Arne Borg's world record, posted in Sweden at 4:50.3 in 1925.

Buster Crabbe

It was a riotous finish which gave Crabbe the title. Jean Taris, blonde, curly-haired Frenchman, had set a terrific pace from the start, with his stiff-arm stroke jumping into a lead of two meters on the first lap which he maintained until the 300 meter mark had been passed.

Crabbe's triumph enabled the United States to retain its team lead with a total of 42 points, against 37 for the Nipponese, who finished third, fourth and fifth respectively.

The United States women's springboard divers started the fifth day of the aquatic carnival for Uncle Sam this morning by sweeping the first three places, just as the Yankee men divers had done.

Miss Georgia Coleman, Los Angeles, who placed second in 1928, won the event with a total of 87.52 points, with her 14-year old teammate, Katherine Rawls, Miami Beach, Florida, second with 82.56 and Jane Fauntz, Chicago, third, scoring 82.12.

Crabbe was as much surprised as the crowd, over his victory. He had been pointing for the 1500 meters, believing he wasn't quite fast enough for the shorter distance. Whether he can come back in the longer race after the gruelling preliminaries in the 400 meter event remains to be seen.

The Yankee girls staged a mild sensation before the diving started, when Dr. Leo Donath, president of the international swimming federation, ordered Miss Coleman and Miss Fauntz back to the locker-rooms before the competition, demanding a change of suits on the grounds the ones they wore were cut too low in the back.

The triumphs in the diving gave the American women's team 39 points, to continue as leaders. Australia stands second with 12, Holland and Japan third with 5, Denmark fifth with 4, Great Britain and Germany next with 3 each, Canada following with 2, and South Africa and Austria last with 1 each.

The United States gave a new twist to Olympic sailboat history today, carrying off major honors in yachting competition of the international games.

Never before has this country won a championship with its boats. Now it has two of the four titles at stake. Sweden has one of the other two but cannot win the last—so the Yankees get the heavy end of the honors.

Establishing some kind of a record by not listing a knockout in 27 battles over the two day and night period so far, the world's leading boxers waded through another set of preliminaries today in their drive today on Olympic championships.

While the bouts have been fast and furious, the contestants have been so evenly matched only a few knockdowns have been registered let alone gold old-fashioned kayoes.

Babe Didrikson To Get Big Welcome

DALLAS, Aug. 10. (AP) — Mildred Babe Didrikson, heralded as the world's greatest woman athlete since her spectacular performances in the Olympics, will return home tomorrow and receive one of the greatest receptions ever accorded a Dallas son or daughter.

New York gives the famous a ride up Broadway and Dallas will give the Babe a ride down Elm and up Main to the city hall where she will be officially welcomed by city fathers. She then will be guest at a Dallas Chamber of Commerce and Dallas Salesmanship Club luncheon which will be open to the public.

Tomorrow promises to be the biggest day in the athletic life of the 19-year-old Babe; even greater than when she broke the world's records in the 80-meter hurdles and the javelin throw at the Olympics.

Prior to the luncheon an informal reception will be held for Miss Didrikson at a local hotel by society and club women.

Miss Didrikson left Los Angeles late today. She planned to stop three hours at Fort Worth tomorrow morning where she will be guest at a breakfast and then "primp up" for the final plane ride to Dallas.

Efforts were made to have Mr. and Mrs. Ole Didrikson of Beaumont, Babe's parents, here for the celebration, but they wired they could be unable to attend. The girl's older sister, Billie, will be here. Babe's three brothers and two other sisters will be absent.

Sarazen Is Out Of Pro Tournament

Willie Klein Leads Qualifiers With Card Of 144

(By The Associated Press)

ROCKVILLE CENTER, N. Y., Aug. 10.—Gene Sarazen's hopes of capping his United States and British Open Golf championships with a victory in the Professional Golf association's tournamen t at St. Paul, Aug. 30-Sept. 3 faded today when he failed to place among the 14 qualifiers from the metropolitan district.

KLEIN

Sarazen, who turned down an invitation to compete at St. Paul without playing in the qualifying rounds shot a 152 to finish in a seven-way tie for the last three positions. His par four on the first extra hole, however, was not good enough Johnny Golden and Mike and Joe Turnesa carding birdie 3's.

With the hope one of the qualifiers would decide to withdraw, Sarazen, Leo Diegel, former P. G. A. champion, Tony Manero and Henry Miller, an unknown New Yorker, carried on. Sarazen won on the third extra hole with only a slim chance of playing in the finals.

Chance To Play Yet

There is a chance that Charles Lacey, assistant pro to Sarazen at Lakeville, might drop out, leaving the way open for Sarazen to compete for his third major title. Lacey shot a 150 today, two strokes better than his employer.

Willie Klein, Wheatley hills professional, showed the way to the qualifiers with a 36-hole card of 144. He toured the first 18 holes in 69 and the afternoon round in 75.

Four strokes behind with 148's trailed Billy Burke, former National Open titleholder. Walter Kozak, Tom Boyd and James Hines, A. E. MacDonald of White Plains shot a 149 but withdrew before the playoff.

Other qualifiers were, Paul Runyon, Charles Lacey, Bobby Cruickshank, Pat Circelli, Johnny Farrell, Henry Barron, John Golden, Mike Turnesa and Joe Turnesa.

Sarazen never could get going, taking a 76 on both rounds. He had a chance for a 151 on the last hole but took a six.

Kiwanis Athletic Club Team Beats Slaton Juniors, 6-5

The Kiwanis Athletic Club baseball team, composed of the outstanding diamondeers of the large squad of juniors which make up the club, defeated the Slaton Juniors, 6 to 5, Tuesday afternoon to register the second consecutive victory over the Slaton team. Both victories were by one-point margins. Last week the Lubbock team won by a 9 to 8 score.

Pitcher Knight of the Lubbock forces was nicked for nine hits Tuesday but he kept them well scattered to prevent runs. The local youngsters jumped on Bloodworth and Bryant for a total of five hits, which they converted into runs for most of the scoring.

T. Jones, Mast, Venerable, Finn, Knight, Royalty, Moore, J. Jones and Loper composed the Lubbock batting order.

Composed of about 50 members, The Kiwanis Athletic club meets each afternoon, except Saturday and Sunday, at the Fair park grounds. They are under the supervision of Del Morgan, Texas Tech coach, and his assistant, Harry McCubbin. Directors of the club state that all boys of Lubbock between the ages of 9 and 15 years are eligible for membership in the organization.

Sports Writers To Select Most Valuable T. L. Player

HOUSTON, Aug. 10. (AP) — The "most valuable player" of the Texas League will be selected again this season, by vote of sports writers in each of the league cities.

This time, in addition to $100 in cash and a scroll, there will be an extra prize, the Charles Mangold cup, to be awarded in Dallas.

The name of the winner will be made public on Labor Day.

Each league city will vote as a unit, its sports writers determining among themselves how the vote shall be cast.

Jerome H. (Dizzy) Dean, the erstwhile Houston right-hander who went up to the big leagues, won the award last season.

Brooklyn Battles Nearly Five Hours To Win Doubleheader; Cardinals Continue Hitting Spree To Beat Phillies

(By The Associated Press)

BROOKLYN, Aug. 10.—The Dodgers battled the Cincinnati Reds for 22 innings and four hours and 53 minutes of actual playing time today but they finally came through to win two games, 6 to 1 and 10 to 9, and wind up only one game behind the third place Boston Braves. The second game was the long one, going 13 innings.

Brooklyn had little or no trouble winning the opener behind Van Lingle Mungo's six hit hurling but the second was an entirely different matter. The only likeness was that Frank O'Doul was a big figure in both clashes. He clouted two home runs in the first and scored the winning run in the second.

Brooklyn closed its home stand against the west with a record of 14 victories and four defeats.

South Plains Invitation Golf Tournament Is Set For Sunday, August 21

Players From 19 Counties To Be Invited Here

The second annual South Plains Counties invitation golf tournament will be held over the Meadowbrook Golf club course here on Sunday August 21, Bill McMillan, owner-manager of the local course, announced yesterday.

Golfers from 19 South Plains counties will be invited to participate in the tournament, which will consist of 36 holes of medal play. McMillan said he believed more than a hundred golfers would enter the tournament.

Open to all golfers of the designated counties, the tournament will consist of an 18-hole qualifying round on the morning of August 21, followed by 18 holes of medal play in the afternoon. Morning scores will determine into which of the three or four flights the players will fall. Afternoon scores will be added to morning scores for a 36-hole total which shall determine winners in each flight. Attractive prizes will be offered to winners in each division, McMillan said.

The golf playing element of the following counties is to be represented here in the second tournament of its kind:

Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Kent, Garza, Lynn, Terry, Yoakum, Dawson, Gaines, Borden, Scurry Cochran, Hockley, Crosby and Lubbock.

The list includes Plainview, Spur, Lamesa, Post and Littlefield, in which towns outstanding golfers of the South Plains are to be found.

Beaumont Gains Tie For Top In Win Over Buffs

BEAUMONT, Aug. 10.—The Yiddish due of Isadore Goldstein and Hank Greenberg teamed up here this afternoon to lead the Exporters to a 5-0 victory over the Houston Buffs, Goldstein limiting the mighty Bisons to three scattered singles while Hank cracked out his 29th homer of the season with Fritz aboard in the third. It was Goldstein's first start for the Exporters since his return from Detroit and it wasn't until the fifth frame that the Buffs nicked him for a hit.

Goldy's great tossing elevated the Bakermen into a top place tie with the Dallas Mavs, who took a 6-2 licking at Longview.

GOLF by ART KRENZ

Many times when the ball is lying well in the fairway and maximum distance is desired, the tee stroke is the one to use, hitting the ball squarely. But when the lie is close, or a controlled shot with little run is desired, the stroke should approach more nearly that of the iron.

A common mistake of the duffer when using the wood club through the fairway is an attempt to lift the ball by directing the blow upward. Remember what has been said about iron play—to get the ball up hit down on the shot. This also applies to the wood when the lie is close.

The loft of the club, plus the backspin imparted to the ball by the downward blow, plus speed will give the ball its rise.

Of course the stroke should not be as abrupt as that used in playing a mashie or mashie-niblick. The brassie shot rarely takes a divot; it only strips the grass from the sod beginning at a point slightly ahead of the ball.

Iris plants at Columbia, S. C., have bloomed continuously for seven months this year—usual residents say.

Comment Here And There

REGARDLESS of the final outcome, this year's Presidential campaign will be marked by plenty of oratorical fireworks, judging from the personalities of the men who will bear the stumping burden for both major parties.

Texas' John N. Garner is a hard hitting, slashing, driving speaker and may be expected to carry the fight right into the Republicans' front yard. And Vice-President Charles Curtis, although he is growing a wee bit old, is a fighter from the word "go" and can be depended upon to "pour it on" as he troupes about the country begging votes for Mr. Hoover.

Back of Garner will be orators of the calibre of former Governor Byrd, Governor Albert C. Ritchie and Big Jim Farley while back of Curtis will thunder Patrick J. Hurley, Postmaster-General Brown and Ogden Mills. Judging from this distance, plenty of fur will fly before the people have a chance to vote.

"Whistling in the graveyard" is the description which might well be applied to remarks concerning the national political situation by Texas Republicans as they completed their recent state conclave. The boys of the GOP didn't fool anybody by whooping it up for Mr. Hoover and by their statements that the November election is "in the bag" for the incumbent.

But what was even more ludicrous was the fact that Texas Republicans nominated a full ticket and announced that they would wage a "vigorous campaign" in behalf of their nominees. The action provoked smiles, even in this era of Republican panic for everyone knows the GOP hasn't a Chinaman's chance to elect anybody in Texas this year.

Under the caption "The Cotton Crop", The Abilene Morning News publishes a cotton survey which should prove interesting to South Plains people, who, as usual, are looking to Old King Cotton to turn the tide of depression. Says The News:

"It appears from official estimates that West Texas is in the cotton production scene this fall in a grand manner.

"Crop condition reports issued by the federal-state crop and livestock reporting service Monday give the condition of the crop as of August 1 as 69 per cent of normal, compared to 75 per cent last year.

"The crop in the northwestern division of the state—Panhandle-Plains region—is 80 per cent of normal; that in the west, 82 per cent; that in the west central region, 77 per cent. These three divisions cover the West Texas area, and to see just how good the yield in this territory is just compare it with the condition in the other divisions, as follows: North, 69; northeast, 69; central, 66; east, 65; south, 59; southeast, 66.

"The condition of the crop on August 1 was lower than a year ago except in the northwest sector.

"The Texas output is estimated at 3,826,000 bales this season, compared with 5,320,000 bales last year and a five-year average of 4,613,000 bales.

"The report is decidedly bullish, and it is not surprising that the market hopped up five dollars a bale when the government estimate was announced.

"West Texas has grown the present crop at lower costs, in all probability, than any crop in several years. It has produced an enormous feed crop, and what cotton money the farmers receive will be more nearly pure 'velvet' than they have enjoyed since the boom years.

"Opening of the crop will mean employment to thousands of persons. If the price rise continues, the West Texas cotton production will solve many an economic problem in the next few months."

WALKING ON THE ROADS

Pedestrians and drivers are frequently at odds in traffic adjustments, but their interests coincide in the demand for footpaths on the main highways.

Walkers have as much right as motorists to use the road when no sidewalks are provided. They do so, quite aware of the danger, because they have no separate lane. Against their will, the highway pedestrians are the bane of motorists, who must thread a way around them. The job is ticklish in broad daylight and dangerous after dark. There will continue to be accidents as long as foot travelers and motor vehicles use the same groove.

Some traffic problems are complex. But here is one that is simple and readily answered at no extravagant cost in most cases. Moreover, it suggests a way to relieve highway congestion without building wider roads. Use of a highway by vehicles and pedestrians often makes, in effect, a single lane highway of a standard two-way road.

Many Complications Arise

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—A good dentist is careful not to yank a badly ulcerated tooth right out, just as it is, without a thought of any other consideration than getting rid of that particular aching molar.

He knows that such treatment is dangerous.

Jerking the tooth out unceremoniously breaks down the tissues all around it, of course, and is quite likely to scatter the previously localized trouble through the patient's whole system, perhaps with very serious consequences.

Driving the bonus boys so abruptly out of Washington has had something of this effect.

Washington itself is rid of the B. E. F., to be sure, but increasingly alarming complications are manifesting themselves throughout its surrounding territory, to a considerable distance—and spreading, maybe.

IF THE expelled veterans, given their initial impulse, had kept on going, the authority which started them might have reckoned that its policy was sound from a practical standpoint, whether defensible or not, on humanitarian grounds.

Apparently they have not kept on going, however. Instead, there are signs that the B.E.F.'s expulsion has started a fresh surge of ex-service men from every direction toward the seat of government—presumably in a movement of sympathy and solidarity with their buddies.

The outwardly-flowing tide, meeting the incoming wave, has been stopped by the latter.

Now the prospects is for a strongly reinforced sweep backward, upon the capital, and while there is no likelihood that Washington will be submerged it has ample resources to protect itself, the situation may become highly unpleasant everywhere in its vicinity.

REPORTS from Johnstown, Pa., for example, suggest the sort of difficulties that many towns in the Keystone State, Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and even farther away, perhaps, presently will find themselves confronting.

Johnstown, to be sure, has had its embarrassments hastened and aggravated by the generous, but possibly ill-advised, invitation extended by its ex-prize fighter mayor, Eddie McCloskey, to the retreating bonus crusaders to make it their headquarters. It was a kindly, hospitable gesture. Nevertheless, it is not hard to understand the consternation which it evidently has caused among business men of the place.

Certainly no one who has so much as passed through the town can consider it an ideal spot for the concentration of an army.

There literally is no room, for one thing.

The bulk of the community dwells in a deep cup in the midst of lofty, precipitous hills—a cup so small that the addition of 1,000 or so to its normal number of human occupants must actually crowd it. Ideal park, where the bonus forces are said to be camped, is on the heights, but is only an acre or two in extent. There is space enough back in the country, but it is Pennsylvania's coal region, with a population too poor to feed itself, not to mention bonus guests.

Johnstown, likewise dependent on the prostrate mining industry, naturally is overflowing with its own unemployed. Is it any wonder that the local chamber of commerce laments Mayor McCloskey's hospitality?

BUT ALL THIS is only a foretaste.

The bonus crusade was formidable enough just as a bonus crusade.

Now the affair is being given the aspect of a convergence of the unemployed generally upon Washington—up to the gates of the city, anyway, if not into it.

It promises to develop into siege in earnest.

B. E. F. Commander Walter W. Waters actually has obtained a gift of land close by the district line, on which to plant a veterans' "colony."

Here's permanency!—with a vengeance.

Executive Secretary Benjamin C. Marsh of the People's Lobby, whose national unemployment survey has been more thorough than anything the government has undertaken, says that, aside from jobless workers with nomes of some sort, the country is alive with bands of nomadic work-hunters. Railroad managements confirm this account, admitting the freight train crews are powerless to cope with the rush of stowaway passengers, traveling aimlessly—anywhere—and simply have to carry them.

Waters' colony, predicts Marsh, will fairly stampede these itinerants in its direction. To be sure, it can only be nucleus—or maybe a "magnet" would be a better term.

But, as a "magnet," it will be sufficient, Marsh says.

The early bonus seekers talked of assembling 1,000,000 veterans in and around Washington. Nearly everyone knew that that was a ridiculous exaggeration; but it is no exaggeration to speculate concerning the possibilities of a general unemployment concentration in terms of a plurality of millions, according to Marsh, the people's lobbyist.

WASHINGTON, indeed, has been making a clean sweep of so-called "vagrants"—not straggling bonus seekers alone, but floaters of every discription—since the B. E. F.'s expulsion.

Yes, a single city can do it, nods Marsh—but only at the expense of other cities.

By ruthless military methods, he concedes, the District of Columbia undoubtedly can be kept free of the dispossessed and destitute; municipalities like Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Richmond at best will be able to do nothing more effective than to pass them back and forth.

Moreover, if there is to be a continual crowding in of more, from every point of the compass upon the capital, as a center, it is Marsh's prophesy that the congested area will be constantly expanding—with Washington virtually beleaguered and the br[oken] country, perhaps two or three states deep, supporting (for, as Marsh says, that will be inevitable) a horde of invaders exceeding their own populations in number.

In 1913 M. C. Berg of New York City discovered the boy wonder, Zerah II. in a Leeds, England, slum district. Though Zerah never had any schooling he had a supernatural mind for mathematics and was able to solve any difficult problem in but a few seconds. The boy was exhibited throughout Great Britain and the United States as a featured vaudeville attraction, and his prowess with figures was tested thousands of times without failure. Physicians who examined the boy could not account for this power, outside of the fact that the boy's brain was abnormal.

But in the early part of 1916, when Zerah II was but 19 years old, he commenced to lose his peculiar power and within a year he was absolutely helpless in so far as mathematics were concerned.

TOMORROW: "UNDER FIRE 800 TIMES."

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

By Laura Lou Brookman

BEGIN HERE TODAY

CHERRY DIXON, pretty 19-year-old daughter of wealthy parents, marries DAN PHILLIPS, newspaper reporter, after a quarrel with her parents. It is a Leap Year marriage and Cherry does the proposing.

She and Dan move into a cheap apartment and Cherry's first struggles with housework are discouraging. DIXIE SWANSON, movie critic of the News, is friendly. Cherry meets handsome MAX PEARSON, also of the News, who tries to make love to her.

BRENDA VAIL, magazine writer, comes to Wellington and Dan meets her. She asks him to collaborate in writing a play. Dan begins to spend most of his evenings at Miss Vail's apartment. Discord arises between Cherry and Dan. He agrees to meet her for lunch one day but fails to appear. Later she sees him with Brenda. When Cherry accuses Dan of deceiving her they quarrel. He leaves the apartment and when he returns Cherry is gone. A week passes in which he does not hear from her.

Daff asks Brenda to go to New York with him. She agrees to go at the end of a week. He gives up his job. Meanwhile Brenda prepares to receive a visit from M. P. HARRIS, representative of a motion picture company, from whom she hopes to win a contract as a scenario writer.

Dan discovers a story he has written published in a magazine under Brenda's name. He goes to the apartment where in an angry scene Brenda admits taking the story. She tells Dan she is through with him. Just then the doorbell rings.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLVI

BRENDA'S expression altered instantly. There was just time for a quick glance into the mirror to reassure herself. Angry color flamed in her cheeks but that was all right. Rather becoming.

"I'll get out as soon as I can," Phillips promised beneath his breath.

They heard the hall door open and close, the murmur of voices and then footsteps. Brenda, radiant and smiling now, hurried to greet the newcomer.

"Mr. Harris!" she said with saccharine inflection. "This is such a pleasure—"

"And for me, too, Miss Vail."

The man on the threshold was young looking. Tall, well set up and rather handsome. His hair and eyes were dark. He wore a dark suit, carried a brief case. As he spoke he stepped forward, surveying the room with a swift glance and his eyes turned to Dan.

Brenda intervened. "Mr. Harris," she said quickly, "this is Mr. Phillips. He's—why, why, DAN—!"

For suddenly Dan Phillips had thrown his head back and burst into a shout of laughter. "Mr. Harris!" he exclaimed. "So this is your Mr. Harris, is it! Oh, this is too much—!"

The laughing continued, became noisier.

Brenda Vail said hotly, "I don't know what you're laughing at. I don't understand—!"

All at once she saw that something had happened to Mr. Harris. The brisk, business-like manner was gone. Harris was — yes, he looked sheepish. He was actually grinning, looking at Dan as though the two knew each other. It was incredible.

"What's — what's this all about?" the woman asked helplessly. "I'd like to know the joke, too." She looked at Harris. "You—you are Mr. Harris, aren't you? That's your name, isn't it? Do you know Mr. Phillips?"

The stranger's face sobered. "Yes I know him," he answered. "I didn't expect to see him here, though. It's—rather a surprise. Changes things somewhat. I—well, with Dan here I suppose I may as well be frank. I'm the Mr. Harris you were expecting, Miss Vail, and then again, I'm not. My name is Harris—that is, it's my middle name. You had a note from me saying I'd call this afternoon to talk to you about picture rights on your stories. The fact is—well, I'm not a representative of United Actors as I told you—"

"You're not with United Actors? Then you're not the man who wrote me!"

"Oh, yes I am. I wrote the letters and sent them to a friend of mine to remail from New York."

"But, Mr. Harris—!" Brenda Vail's face had lost its animation. She was staring at the man uncomprehendingly, almost stupidly. "If you're not the Mr. Harris, who are you?" she demanded.

"My name is Pearson, Miss Vail. Max Harris Pearson. I'm on The News."

"You—on The News! You mean here in Wellington? You mean you haven't anything to do with motion pictures? Then United Actors — they don't want my stories?" Suddenly she turned on Pearson with blazing anger. "What did you do it for?" she cried. "How dare you? Oh, but there must be a law against this sort of thing. I'll see that you pay for it. Tried to trap me, didn't you? Thought you'd get money—"

Brenda's afternoon had been too much for her. She snatched up the nearest thing at hand, a pottery vase, and hurled it across the room. The vase hit the wall, shattered into pieces. Brenda's anger was not appeased. She caught up a cushion from the davenport, ripping the silk so that the cotton lining fell to the floor.

"What did you do it for?" she

Letters To The Editor

Judge J. E. Vickers Writes On Recent Editorial

Editor, The Morning Avalanche:

With reference to your editorial in the Morning Avalanche, "Fergusonism Right Here," in which you severely castigate the appointment and record of Walter Witcher as District Attorney, and invite the writer and others to defend his appointment and administration,

I decline to enter into a discussion of personalities relating to local matters that could serve no useful purpose in this campaign; and frankly, Mr. Editor, I think anyone who does so transcends the bounds of propriety and good taste in bringing to the fore what was once a local issue which can serve no useful purpose other than to arouse old animosities and reopen old sores which have been healed by the soothing lapse of time. Personally, I have no desire whatever either to defend or to criticize the appointment and record of Walter Witcher; and what I might think of such appointment and record would not help in the least in solving the so-called issues of Fergusonism vs. Sterlingism.

If you are itching for a scrap on the Witcher record, I suggest that you challenge him to a joint discussion, and in the presence of the assembled multitude, you gentlemen roll up your sleeves, bare your breasts, tighten up your girdles, and then 'cut loose on each other with all of your oratorical thunder. You doubtless know Mr. Witcher's address, and personally I think he is amply able to defend his own record.

In the meantime, while the side-show event is on between you and Witcher, the main tent performance between Fergusonism and Sterlingism will proceed as usual, and the boys from the "forks of the creek," those men and women who know what it is to wrest a frugal living from the soil by dent of hard work; those horny handed fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of toil; those who have been fed up on promises of the "Big Business Governor" and his satellite, Dan Moody; those who owe no allegiance to public service corporations, utility companies and Standard Oil and its various subsidiaries, will march right on with their fight to rid Texas from the grip of corporation control and put the government once more where it belongs—in the hands of the people.

And, Mr. Editor, after you and Witcher have finished your side-show, the writer trusts you will have ample time to get in proper condition to "hold your nose when you vote for Sterling"—quoting from your own editorial in The Plainsman's column of some weeks ago.

J. E. Vickers,
Lubbock.

(Dear Judge: Thanks for your letter. However, I must admit that I'd run a mile before I'd get on a stump to debate with W. C. Witcher. He's the best stump speaker I've ever heard and I don't know of anybody who could compete with him under those conditions; Write again. The Editor.)

Speaker Garner Is Snowed Under By Invitations But He Turns Deaf Ear

UVALDE, Aug. 10 (AP)—If it were possible for Speaker John N. Garner to accept all the invitations extended to him to fish and rest at various places in the United States and Mexico while he is vacationing at his Uvalde home, he could go to a different place every day between now and November, and still not be able to visit all the places to which he has been invited.

The same holds true of speaking engagements, Mrs. Garner, his wife and secretary, stated. From the requests which have come to him from Texas alone, Mr. Garner could speak twice daily from now until election day and still not make the rounds, she declared.

To all of the fishing expeditions, the Democratic vice presidential nominee has turned a deaf ear. Not that he does not appreciate them, his wife explained but going from place to place would give him but little opportunity to rest and relax, and these are the things that the speaker craves most. He prefers to remain close at home, taking occasional short trips to the streams nearby with some of his old fishing cronies, often remaining in the woods but a few hours. His daily routine calls for several hours rest each afternoon, and then joins his little granddaughter, Genevieve, in a horseback ride, or perhaps the two attend the theatre.

Many fishing invitations have come from Mexico, one was extended by Hal Mangum of Eagle Pass, owner of the 500,000-acre ranch in Coahuila, formerly the property of General Trevino. Another was from Thos. D. Martin, asking the speaker to visit Don Martin lake, 75 miles south of Laredo. So numerous have the invitations become that Mr. Garner's clerks keep a separate file for them.

Mr. Garner spends most of his time away from the office and Mrs. Garner answers virtually all of the correspondence directed to him. Questioned as to whether he would fill any of the speaking engagements, her reply was that after Mr. Garner had taken a much-needed rest he would go to New York to ascertain the wishes of the Democratic national committee and Governor Roosevelt regarding his speaking program. One thing appeared almost certain, however, and that was that at least one speech would be made before he left Texas. It will be delivered in his home town when the people stage a huge celebration in his honor some time late in August.

Attendance Group Named For Races

An attendance committee, of which W. O. Daniels is chairman and other members of which are agents of the principal oil companies in business in Lubbock, will ask the cooperation of service station managers and employes in selling to automobile owners stickers which will admit occupants of cars bearing them to municipal airport, August 23, when ships in the national transcontinental handicap air derby will stop here.

The announcement was made following a meeting in the chamber of commerce Wednesday morning of the attendance committee. Chairman Daniels sold the first sticker to Mayor J. J. Clements. The stickers cost 50 cents.

Oil company agents at Wednesday's meeting were Floyd Beall, Ross McWhorter, G. W. Scott, J. C. Powell, D. N. Leaverton, W. B. Price, and C. C Byars.

REDUCED 30 POUNDS NEVER FELT BETTER

Safe Way To Lose Fat

Take the case of Miss Madelone Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter:

"I have used Kruschen Salts for one year—when I started I weighed 140 pounds—now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life."

That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight—as the fat goes you gain in health—skin clears—eyes grow bright—activity replaces indolence.

Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar of Kruschen that costs but a trifle lasts 4 weeks—get it at Mark Halsey Drug, City Drug, or any drugstore in the world—but for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts. Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 10. (AP)—Cotton again made new highs for the present upward movement today in very active trading at the highest of the day prices were close to a dollar and a half a bale above the close of yesterday. After starting 9 to12 points down on poor cables and hedge selling prices gradually advanced on active business owing to higher stocks and wheat and active trade and speculative demand until prices gained 37 to 39 points from the lows. There was a reaction of 10 to 12 points in the late trading on profit-taking and the market closed steady at net gains of 14 to 19 points. Profit-taking in the late trading caused prices to sell off 10 to 12 points from the best of the day. October closed at 7.14, or 16 points net higher for the day, and December closed at 7.30, up 14 points net higher.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 5 to 6 penny points up.

Port receipts 10,326, for week 47,866, for season 91,622, last season 20,926. Exports 3,260, for week 64,337, for season 145,102, last season 40,487. Port stock 3,336,222 last year 2,767,598. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 67,141, last year 41,256. Spot sales at southern markets 6,690, last year 7,833.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP)—A renewal of active general buying in cotton today on unfavorable crop advices and strength in the stock market carried December up to 7.44 with all positions making new high ground for the movement. Reactions followed later under realizing and December closed at 7.32. The general list showed net advances of 17 to 19 points.

Opening 6 to 8 points lower in response to lower Liverpool cables, realizing and some southern and foreign selling, the market quickly met new buying from trade and commission house sources. Demand became more active following publication of the weekly weather report which made a bullish impression on sentiment, it was further stimulated by the action of the stock and grain markets. The advance extended to 7.27 for October and 7.69, for May, or 29 to 32 points above yesterday's close, and about 40 points above the morning low. The rise met some selling for far eastern account, and after the more urgent demand had been supplied, prices eased, the close showing reactions of about 11 to 13 points from the best. Brokers who sometimes act for the cooperative interest were credited with selling during the afternoon and some scattered southern offerings were reported both at the opening and again during the later trading.

Liverpool reported local and foreign liquidation, influenced by the later troubles in Lancashire. Exports today 25,165 making 123,387 so far this season. Port receipts 16,228. U. S. port stocks 3,352,365.

Renewed Enthusiasm For Advance Is Evident In Stocks; Gains Revealed

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP)—Renewed enthusiasm for the advance appeared on all financial fronts today.

Stocks, far from meeting the reaction which a large section of Wall street has been expecting, surged upward in the second largest turnover of the year, 4,429,390 shares, and closed with many net gains of 2 to 8 points.

Commodity prices, led by wheat and cotton, further reflected the hopes which have been raised not only by prospects of strong potential aid but by reports that some replacement of inventories was actually going forward. Bonds went ahead vigorously after a rather lukewarm start in most categories.

Shares generally closed under their highs due to late profit taking but buying was well diversified throughout the day, with rails, utilities and a few motors taking turns in the front ranks. American Telephone was again a center of activity, up 3 7-8 net. J. I. Case's rise was 8 1-2, International Harvester's 4 1-2. Chrysler soared about 3, an unusually large move. U. S. Steel, after rising 4, reduced its gain to 2 3-4. Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio closed 2 to nearly 4 higher, while Norfolk and Western jumped 7 1-2. Allied Chemical, American Can, Johns-Manville, Consolidated Gas, American Smelting and Coca Cola were other prominent gainers.

Fight All Offenders

The chief declared that every "small offender" would be charged with violating the pure food law "if he will plead guilty," and the others and the "big boys" would be charged with the felony offense.

Jerry was arrested and between 50 and 60 bottles of beer confiscated in a raid in the 1300-block of Avenue Q.

Several persons, who pleaded guilty of violating the pure food laws, have been fined $25 in corporation court.

The weekly reports, electric power production and steel ingot output showed slight recessions from the previous week and weekly reports of freight movement on the New York Central and Pennsylvania were off somewhat from a week ago.

Nevertheless, bulls were confident scattering signs of improvement, notably in textiles, would broaden to include many lines by September. The steel trade reviews again stressed confidence in the industry that it would see a turn after Labor Day.

Read Says Rally Plans Continuing

Plans for a gigantic South Plains rally for Governor Ross S. Sterling, candidate for re-nomination, at Broadway and Avenue K Friday night at 8:15 o'clock will continue despite illness of the governor, L. Wesley Read, secretary of the South Plains Good Government League said last night.

The league may ask some prominent Sterling supporter to speak in addition to R. A. Stuart of Fort Worth, West Texas campaign manager for Sterling, who will make the tour slated for this section Friday and Saturday.

Engagements have been arranged at Spur, Crosbyton and Lubbock Friday afternoon and night, and at Plainview, Tahoka, Lamesa, Sterling City, and San Angelo Saturday.

Mr. Read said he would telephone Mr. Stuart Thursday to complete arrangements for the rally speaker.

run this race to the end on a clean, dignified plane. I ask the continued confidence and support of the voters, and I assure them that I will use only legitimate and proper means to secure the nomination August 27.

"I want it clearly understood that I am not running on his demerits. On Friday evening, July 22, the night before the first primary, Judge Pharr, having the last speech following Robert H. Bean and myself, told about 1,500 people in front of Hotel Lubbock that he had been reversed in only 23 cases since he had been on the bench. As a matter of fact he had already been reversed in 35 cases.

"Judge Pharr used these figures to eliminate his fellow-townsman Robert Bean, from the race. From now on out I want him to run on what is his real record and not on a fictitious record. I have no objection to his running on his true record, but I do not want him to tell the people he is superior to more than 100 district judges in Texas, basing his conclusion on inaccurate figures."

Nearly 1,000 Unemployed Men Are Reported In City

Nearly 1,000 unemployed men are reported by the Lubbock Unemployment council, which is seeking jobs for these persons either in town or on farms. Payment will be accepted in farm produce or in groceries from Lubbock employers, W. H. Jones, manager, said.

The council will meet Friday night at the headquarters at 708 1-2 Thirteenth street, Mr. Jones announced.

Spanish Revolt

not directly associated. (The former king was hunting near Koenigswart, Czechoslovakia, while the Spanish authorities were moving against the rebels. His spokesman said he would not comment.)

Spain Is Seething

Political observers expresed the belief the object of the movement was to enthrone Prince Juan Carlos, third son of Alfonso, who now is a cadet in the British navy.

Spain has been seething with political unrest for months while the cortes indulged in seemingly endless debate over the momentuous problems presented by Catalonia's insistence on autonomy and by Agrarian reform measures which would parcel out the great estates among the peasants.

Climax Is Reached

This unrest reached a bloody climax at dawn this morning when rebels and loyalists met in battle before the ministry of war, in which Prime Minister Manuel Azana has his office.

Government authorities had been informed an attack was imminent and the attackers were met by bursts of machine gun fire from detachments of the Madrid police under the command of Director of Public Safety Menendez.

General Sanjurjo seized the government offices in Seville and also took control of the smaller town of Jerez De La Frontera, to the south, where he set up rebel headquarters. The naval garrison at Cartagena on the southeast coast was reported to have mutinied. Civil guards of the southern provinces, including Cordoba and Algeciras, threw their strength behind the rebel movement.

Prepared To Resist

Reports from Seville were that General Sanjurjo, who had proclaimed himself captain-general of Andalusia, was prepared to resist all efforts by the government to dislodge him. It also was reported that regular troops at Cautas and other Andalusian points had declared themselves against the republic and for Sanjurjo.

Premier Azana informed the congress that the movement was monarchist in origin and that it resulted from efforts to suborn the soldiers. The premier asserted the rebels would be punished by all measures within the law.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10. (AP)—Demand was especially good for wheat on the Fort Worth cash grain market Wednesday while other grains, except corn, were fairly easy selling. Estimated receipts included: Wheat 48 cars; oats 10; barley 1, and sorghums 1.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard 59@61. Barley No. 2 nominally 31 1-2@32. Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 65@68; No. 2 kaffir 63@65.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed nominally 40 1-2@41 1-2; No. 2 white nominally 41@42; No. 2 yellow nominally 47 1-2@48 1-2.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 20@20 1-2.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. (AP) — Advancing strongly in a revival of big general buying, wheat today withstood onslaughts of profit taking and held most of its gains. Soaring of securities furnished the chief impetus to speculative purchases of wheat. There were also intimations of good export demand for United States hard winter grades and in some quarters belief existed the government wheat crop report from Washington after the close would contain a bullish surprise similar to that which recently electrified the cotton market.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1 1-4 to 1 7-8 above yesterday's finish, corn at 1-4 to 1-2 decline, oats unchanged to 1-4 to 3-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to a rise of ten cents.

Cotton Officials Visit In Lubbock Wednesday; Say Crop Estimate Low

J. A. Stewart, Atlanta, Ga., cotton statistician, whose report on cotton crop conditions is widely used by mill owners and shippers throughout the south, stopped briefly in Lubbock yesterday to visit with H. E. Blocker, cotton broker, and to inspect the crop in this territory.

In commenting on the federal government cotton crop estimate released this week, Mr. Stewart told Mr. Blocker he agreed with the estimate as a whole, with the exception of the Texas figures. These, in his opinion, are a little low.

"Mr. Stewart said he spent Sunday with Carl Robinson, the federal statistician at Austin and in discussing with him the Texas figures, told Mr. Robinson he was too low," Mr. Blocker said. "Mr. Stewart was of the opinion the Texas crop will be a little better than 4,000,000 bales.

"The difference between the 1931 crop of 5,300,000 bales and the 1932 estimate of 3,826,000 bales is a little high.

"Mr. Stewart comes to Lubbock about four times a year. He was on the last week of a 5,500 mile trip from Atlanta. He was here in June. On his way to Lubbock Mr. Stewart said the boll weevil was cleaning the cotton fields from Eastland to Abilene."

With the statistician was A. J. Walford, New York City, of the Marshall, Geer and company, members of the New York Cotton exchange. It was his first trip into this section. W. Isham, of Spartanburg, S. C., son of a mill official, was chauffeur for the party. They were to spend the night in Wichita Falls last night, returning to Vernon and Clarendon and other points on the Denver today and then go to Oklahoma City, where Mr. Walford is to return to New York by plane and Mr. Stewart to Atlanta by car.

lowest yield since 1917, except one.

The preliminary estimate of winter wheat production was about two per cent above the July forecast, as weather was favorable for harvest over most of the winter wheat belt. Prospective yields of spring wheat were reduced by about eight per cent during July because of hot dry weather in the northern great plains which caused premature ripening of late sown wheat.

The combined winter and spring wheat crops were 13 per cent below the 1924-28 average production.

Fruits have been unusually hard hit, the apple crop promising little more than two-thirds as large a crop as last year, while the indicated yield for fresh shipment was about one-eighth smaller than in 1931.

The peach crop for 1932 appeared to be 40 per cent less than the bumper yield of 1931.

Murder Denial

shoulder but "there was no reply." Asked by James Carson, his attorney, if the pistol was in Clarke's hands, he said it was "not in his hand. His right hand was across his breast—the pistol lay beside his right hip."

After he was aroused by the shot, he said he "looked around the room—out in the hall—on the table. I could find no notes or anything to indicate what had happened.

"Then I sat down and wrote two suicide notes. I don't remember the words. I asked Haden if he could sign them.

"There was no answer but a groan and Clarke's head moved feebly back and forth.

"Then I did something I shouldn't have done. I called Chubbie—there was no answer—I took a pencil and signed the notes, one 'Haden' and one with the initial 'H.'"

Oscar Callaway Refuses To Be Independent Candidate

BROWNWOOD, Aug. 10 (AP)—Former Congressman Oscar Callaway of Comanche said today he would not accept the nomination for attorney general on the ticket of the "good government" party, formed yesterday at Dallas.

Callaway made the following statement: "I note in the Brownwood Bulletin that I was nominated for attorney general on an independent party ticket. I know nothing at all about it. It was without authority from me. I am a Democrat and support the platform and nominees of the Democratic party, though they sometimes do not suit me."

Alfred Holman Is At Home To Await State's Next Move

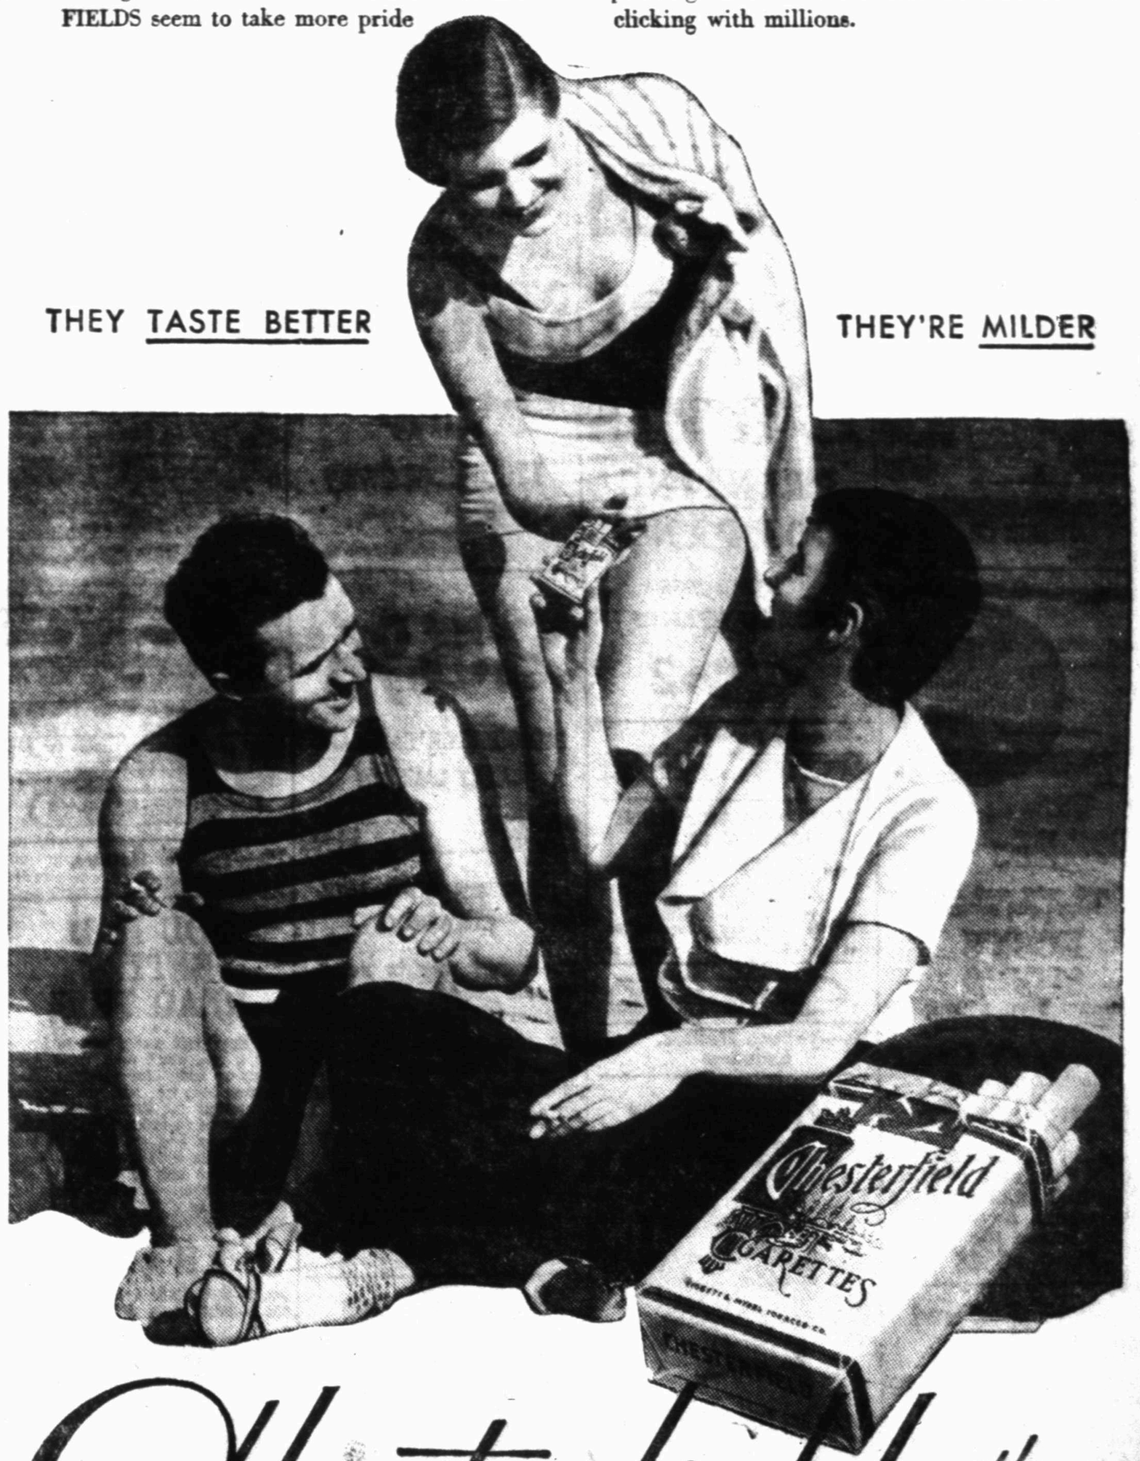

CINCINNATI, Aug. 10. (AP) — Alfred Holman came here today uncommunicative as usual, to await North Carolina's next move in bringing his daughter, Libby of Broadway fame, before a court to answer to an indictment charging murder of her husband, Smith Reynolds.

Holman did deny reports he was furnishing material to a Cincinnati writer for a "life story" of his daughter.

Two Sacramentans have been booked 155 times each by the police department of the California capital.

One Smoker tells Another

IT is perfectly natural for smokers to talk to each other about what they smoke and why they smoke a certain brand. Tastes differ, and therefore different people smoke different kinds of cigarettes. Those who smoke CHESTERFIELDS seem to take more pride in telling other smokers — "that CHESTERFIELDS are milder; that there is no harshness —no bitterness." They also tell them — "that CHESTERFIELDS taste better: that they have a pleasing aroma." . . . CHESTERFIELDS are clicking with millions.

Three Minute Relief From Periodical Pain

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B.C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded off a different principle from most relief giving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no other drug formula can do in so short a time. "B.C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B.C." in 10c and 25c packages wherever drugs are sold. (adv.)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 10 (AP)—Despite strenuous protests from organizations in several states, Gov. Murray has said that Jess Hollins, negro sentenced to death for attacking a white girl, must go to the electric chair Aug. 18 unless he takes his case before the criminal court of appeals.

Alleged to have been convicted and sentenced in thirty minutes after his capture without a jury trial or a defense attorney, Hollins has failed to appeal although he has been granted three stays of execution.

LEAP YEAR BRIDE

by Laura Lou BROOKMAN

The two men exchanged glances. A hysterical woman is not a pleasant sight. Phillips said: "There's no use losing control of yourself, Brenda. People will hear you—"

"What if they do! Do you understand what he's telling me? It means I can't go to Hollywood! The money—I'd counted on $10,000 at least—it means there won't be any money! What am I to do now? I've never been so humiliated. So—so mistreated! I'll see that you pay for this. I'll see that you suffer—"

Pearson was actually sorry for her. Rage had made Brenda Vail into a haggard, shrew-like old woman. She looked years beyond her age. Her lined, twisted face was pathetic.

"I'm sorry," he said sincerely. "I shouldn't have done it. There were reasons but—well, there's no use going into that. Miss Vail, I deliberately deceived you, and I deserve whatever you think of me. But after I've said I'm sorry, I'm afraid there's nothing more to be—"

"Oh, you think that, do you?" Brenda snapped. "Well, you'll find there's plenty I can do about it. I'll have you arrested. I'm going to make you pay—"

"I'm afraid you won't be able to do that," the young man said quietly. "You see, Miss Vail, I've been a newspaperman too long to take chances where law is concerned. There was no mention of money in my letters. I didn't sign anyone else's name. When you examine those letters closely, you'll find there's nothing whatever in them on which you can base charges."

"You think I'd believe that? You think I'd even listen to you? Well, I'm going to see my lawyer!"

"Then you'll only be obliged to pay fees for nothing. It will be rather foolish."

Perhaps Brenda believed him. Perhaps she saw that suddenly every one of her glamorous dreams had faded. The vision of Brenda Vail, the great scenario writer—her name flashing on the silver screen—her photograph in newspapers — wealth, fame, influential acquaintances — all that had vanished. The woman turned away, covering her face with her hands.

"We'd better go," Phillips said. "Brenda doesn't want us here, Max."

"Yes, go! I never want to see either of you again! Get out of my sight, I tell you—"

Her angry, high-pitched voice followed them out into the hall. Silently, the two men entered the elevator and rode to the ground floor. They stepped out on the street and Phillips was surprised to see how light it was. A little after five o'clock. It seemed hours since he had entered Brenda's apartment, but in reality it was less than 45 minutes.

Gant parked here on the right," Pearson said. They turned a corner, got into the roadster, and Pearson started the engine. They had traveled several blocks before either spoke again. Then Dan said:

"There are several things about all this I don't get."

"There's a lot I don't get either. Guess all I did was make a fool of myself."

The lines of Phillips' face had hardened. "You're not the only one!" he said venomously.

"Look here!" It was Pearson speaking. "Don't tell me if you don't want to, but there's one thing I'd like to ask. Are you and Brenda Vail—I mean do you—?"

"You heard her say she never wanted to see me again, didn't you? Well, I can assure you it's mutual! What's more, she never will see me. I'll take care of that all right!"

"But what about your play?"

"What about your motion picture company? Brenda was explaining to me just before you came, that the play's so bad the agents laughed at it. Unfortunately it wasn't supposed to be comedy. Oh, I've been getting a line on myself all right—"

"I'm glad of it," Pearson told him. "I was beginning to think you'd lost your head entirely. That's how I got into this mixup. Senseless apparently. I suppose that's what usually comes from stepping into other people's affairs. But I couldn't stand by and see a dame like this Vail woman put the skids on you! I figured that if I could get her interested in going to Hollywood—make her think she had a chance at the big dough—she'd, well, show up in her true colors. She's vain, of course. Terribly vain. You see I took the trouble to look up Brenda Vail rather thoroughly."

"How'd you do that?"

"Oh, sent a couple wires. You didn't happen to know about Brenda's marriage, did you?"

"Married? But she's not—?"

"No, she isn't married now. Husband died two years ago—killed in a taxi smash-up. Seems he was crazy about Brenda and she led him around by the nose. The dope is that this husband could really write and people who knew both of them insist he wrote the magazine stories printed under Brenda's by-line. At any rate she hasn't had a thing published since his death."

Phillips' lips tightened but he did not speak.

"Listen, Dan," Pearson went on. "I hope you're not sore about what I tried to do. Suppose I should have known the thing was silly but it seemed to work. At least she fell for those letters. I wouldn't have tried such a thing if I hadn't known about the phoney game Brenda pulled."

"I'm not sore," Phillips assured him. "At least not at you. When I think what a complete idiot I've been—"

"Forget it. She's not worth worrying about."

"Oh, isn't she? Listen, let me out of this car. I've got to find a telephone."

"You can't do that, Dan. I won't let you. You can't go back to that vampire. I tell you!"

"She's not a vampire! She's—an angel. She's the sweetest, dearest, most wonderful girl in the world! Stop this car, Max. I tell you I've got to telephone! Good Lord—you don't think I'm talking about Brenda Vail, do you? It's Cherry! I tell you I've got to find Cherry!"
