Action Of Supreme Court To Be Ignored In Move Made Monday; Groups Satisfied With Agreement

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—The Texas legislature will be requested to act upon the proposal of Oklahoma to retain acreage heretofore claimed by that state, but shifted into Texas by a decision of the supreme court of the United States, in fixing the boundary line, without any recommendation from the committee considering the problem.

The Texas committee, after meeting jointly with an Oklahoma legislative committee voted 11 to 1, in executive session to submit to the legislature a compact proposed by the Oklahoma, under the terms of which the old boundary, along the eastern Panhandle of Texas and the western border of Oklahoma would be recognized instead of the line fixed by Commissioner Samuel S. Gannett under orders of the supreme court to locate the true 100th meridian and fix it as the division line.

The line heretofore recognized as the boundary line was established by John H. Clark, U. S. commissioner in June 1898.

County Agents and Farmers Open Four-Day Meeting Series; Ten Counties To Be Represented

County agricultural agents and farmers of 10 South Plains counties will gather here today for a four-day meeting at the County Experiment station, three miles east of the city, for a detailed study of experimental crops during annual field day week.

Schedule of meeting which is designed so that the station will not be too crowded at any time, follows:

Tuesday—Hale, Lamb and Crosby counties.

Wednesday—Dawson, Lynn and Garza counties.

Thursday—Lubbock county.

Friday—Terry, Gaines and Hooker counties.

GRASS BUR REMOVED

McQueney Child Undergoes Operation For Mischap

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 26. (P)—William Koehler, eight, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Koehler of McQueney, was reported recovering at hospital here Monday night following an operation to remove a grass bur from his throat.

Company C's Gang Meets

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 26. (P)—Forty-nine former doughboys, young in years but old in experience, warmly greeted one another here tonight and some of them actually wept for joy as Company C of the 142nd Infantry, 36th division, held its first reunion.

At the close of a banquet the veterans elected officers.

D. W. Stokes of Orange was named president. Stokes captained Company C when it went across and later was promoted to major. J. A. Nelson, of Jasper, was chosen vice-president, and Grover F. Stock of Port Arthur was selected secretary.

Stokes hopes to make the reunion an annual affair.

Carlisle Child Wounded In Gun Accident; Rinsinger's Condition Unchanged; Boy Recovering

The condition of Nadine Loveless, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Loveless, of the Carlisle community, who was seriously wounded Monday morning about 9 o'clock, by the accidental discharge of a .22 caliber rifle, last night was said to be slightly better, but no improvement in her general condition was offered.

The child was shot yesterday when Barney Beeland, 8, her half-brother, was playing with a gun, which was found in the road near Brownfield.

She was rushed to Brownfield for emergency treatment and was brought to this city to the West Texas hospital shortly before noon.

Rinsinger's Strength Is Rapidly Waning

No improvement was the report of hospital attaches last night as to the condition of Alvin P. Rinsinger, 20-year-old Texas Tech student, who was critically injured August 18 in a motorcycle accident. Last reports stated that the youth's strength was fast waning while his condition has become alarming with recent development of rigidity of his neck.

Hospital attendants announced last night that he is resting fairly well but his general condition is poor.

Rinsinger sustained a crushed skull when he fell against a curb in the 1900 block on Nineteenth street, after his motorcycle had struck Lee.

Local Contractor Injured In Fall

O. L. Robertson, 1920 Main, Lubbock contractor, was injured Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock when he fell from the roof of a house which he was painting at 2202 Avenue M.

He was rushed to the Lubbock sanitarium suffering of a badly wrenched right leg, bruised left chest and lacerations about the head.

Robertson was working on the roof and was knocked from the building. He could give no cause for his fall, stating something struck him but he could not tell what it was.

The injured man was resting well in the hospital last night.

First Cotton Of Season Arrives In City Monday; Altman Brings Second

The first bale of 1929 Lubbock county cotton to be ginned was brought in yesterday by S. W. Smith, who lives nine miles west of this city on the Casey farm closely followed by the second and belonging to W. L. Altman, living five miles west of the city.

The Smith cotton in the wagon weighed 1,445 pounds and weighed 508 pounds when ginned at the Farmer's Gin company's plant.

The Altman cotton weighed in the wagon 1,500 pounds and ginned 508 pounds.

A premium of $75 was paid for the first bale by the Lubbock chamber of commerce while Mr. Altman received $25 for the second bale. A price of 17 cents was offered for the bales and refused by owners who preferred to hold them.

Smith gathered his cotton from a field of 25 acres while that of Altman came from one of 35 acres.

Hundred Lubbock Citizens See Progress In New Area To West; High School's Band Makes Trip

By AL HILL.

DEPARTING from Lubbock at 6:30 o'clock Monday morning, eating lunch on the spot where "Billy, the Kid" once used as his headquarters, two miles west of Portales, N. M., 30 automobile loads of Lubbockites motored approximately 300 miles, in the dual interest of a new highway and the approaching Panhandle South Plains fair.

Had the Graf Zeppelin been flying westward over the South Plains from Lubbock, bright and early Monday morning, the globe striders on this great airship would have discerned a great cloud of dust, whirling ever onward as per schedule. Approximately 100 Lubbock citizens, including the high school band, under direction of H. A. Anderson, motored from the city hall towards New Mexico, to be joined at Hurstwood with another car and seven Lubbock county citizens.

Morton-Levelland Join

Seven or eight cars joined the party at Levelland and at Morton 20 more automobile loads of boosters, headed by George Lance, president of the Morton chamber of commerce, and leader in the project of opening up a new highway from Lubbock to Elida and Portales, N. M., via Morton. Between Morton and Elida, the towns of Emory, Causey and Dora, N. M., were seen.

Oil Frauds Cited In Texas Courts

Fort Worth Man Testifies Of Alleged Fraud In Receivership Proceedings In State

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The senate patronage committee opened a new phase in its investigation of federal appointments in southern states when it heard testimony today about alleged fraud in receivership proceedings against Texas oil companies.

Fred W. Strang of Fort Worth, Texas, the only witness, told the committee that "something is radically wrong in Texas" and that manipulations of politicians and lawyers were responsible for collection of large sums of money from oil men.

Knows Of Cases

Strang, who said he had known of many such cases and had been indicted in one of them himself, said that $50,000 of oil frauds were not paid and that eventually oil properties, owners of which have been indicted, wind up in the hands of politicians.

He read an affidavit signed by G.

Religious Riots Claim 100 Lives

(By Associated Press) Alarming news of the grave disturbances between Jews and Arabs continued to be received from Palestine despite military censorship. The death list has reached 100, with hundreds wounded. Rioting started Friday over the ancient dispute regarding Jewish worship at the Walling Wall. It has spread to far parts of the country and, according to reports from Syria, assumed proportions of an Arab revolt against the government.

Arab attacks on Jewish tents and colonies appear to be continuing with unabated ferocity. Three persons were killed at Haifa and many wounded when Jewish defenders beat off Arab attacks from the Mount Carmel suburbs.

In London it was considered the British government had taken a firm grip on the situation.

Texas Faces Loss Of $7,000,000 On Delinquent Taxes

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—If the penitentiary committee now making a swing throughout the east was ready with its report, the legislature would be immediately called into special session to protect the state from an estimated loss of $7,000,000 in fees paid for the collection of delinquent taxes, Governor Moody said today.

The chief executive's statement was made after he conferred with Senator Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock, chairman of the fee investigation committee which held a session here today. Senator Parrish received a report from the comptroller's office showing that 47 counties had entered into contracts, through commissioners' courts, for the collection of delinquent taxes at commissions of from seven to 33 1-3 per cent.

Loss $7,000,000 Yearly

Based on the state tax commissioner's report that delinquent state taxes total $50,000,000, of which $35,000,000 is collectable, Texas will lose $7,000,000, the governor estimated.

"There is nothing that can be done until the legislature passes a statute prohibiting the commissioners from entering into these contracts," the governor said. "The supreme court recently held these contracts were valid. If the legislature does nothing else, it should prohibit such contracts."

Brasoria Has Much

Senator Parrish said that in Brasoria county the committee found delinquent taxes amounting to $2,500,000 and that county officials said $1,000,000 could easily be collected. For this service a private firm will receive $333,000, despite the fact that the county attorney is charged with the duty of making collections and is paid for work which the outside agency does, he stated.

Death Takes Aged Local Physician Here Last Evening

Dr. O. H. Westlake Dies At 9:30 Last Night After Illness Of Several Weeks; Had Been Here 23 Years

Dr. Orville H. Westlake, one of Lubbock's earliest physicians, died last evening at 9:30 o'clock at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. O. Waters, 1621 Broadway, after having lived here for 23 years. He had been feeble for several months and his death had been expected almost daily for several weeks.

Funeral services are to be read at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Waters residence by Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the deceased had been a member for many years. Burial will be in the Lubbock cemetery.

Widow Survives

Surviving Dr. Westlake are his widow, Mrs. Jennie Westlake, 83, who was his bedside at the time of his death and his daughter with her family, Royce Waters, of Corpus Christi; Miss Willette Waters, of this city, and Mrs. Jack McLarty, of Midland. Mrs. McLarty was called to Lubbock several days ago by her grandfather's illness and was here with her baby at the time of his death.

The deceased was born on June 2, 1843, in Detroit, Mich., but he came

Holder Undecided On Next Campaign

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (P)—Ray Holder of Lancaster has not made up his mind definitely whether to run for lieutenant governor or try for reelection to the legislature, he said here today.

He said he was to run for lieutenant governor the opposition would base its fight against him on his vote against the race track and fair association bill during the regular session.

Speaker of the house, W. S. Barron of Bryan said in Austin recently that if Holder did not run for lieutenant governor, he would consider doing so.

GIRL RECOVERING

Anton Girl Will Return To Health After Poisoning

Miss Billie Pirtle, 20, of Anton, daughter of Dr. J. B. Pirtle, who was taken to the Lubbock sanitarium following poisoning self administered, Miss Pirtle, in a spell of despondency swallowed four potassium permanganate tablets late Sunday afternoon and was brought here for treatment Sunday night.

Attending physicians and nurses were certain of her recovery last night, they said. She was resting easily at a late hour Monday.

BURGLARS SOUGHT

CORSICANA, Aug. 26. (P)—Officers today sought burglars who last night entered four Corsicana business establishments and escaped with $2,300 in cash.

SANTANDER, Spain, Aug. 26. (P)—King Alfonso today had his first ride in an airplane.

And Some Are Homely Still

CHICAGO, Aug. 26. (P)—American women went in heavy for beauty aids last year; four thousand tons of powder alone, and enough lip-stick to reach from Chicago to Los Angeles by the way of San Francisco.

Figures presented today at the tenth annual convention of cosmeticians and hair artists went further. There were also used: 552,500 tons of cleansing cream; 26,250 tons of skin lotion; 19,109 tons of complexion soap; 17,500 tons of nourishing cream; 8,750 tons of foundation cream; 6,562 tons of bath powder and 2,375 tons of rouge.

"Women are five to ten pounds lighter than they were a year ago, because of diet and exercise," said Mrs. M. B. McGavran, president.

City Tax Rate Is Reset At $1.25 By City Commission

Called Session Results In Action On Assessments; Bids On Avenue H Subway Advertised Soon

The tax rate for the city of Lubbock for 1929 was fixed at $1.25 following action taken by the city commission last night at the city hall in called meeting. The rate remained the same as that of last year.

The regular meeting of the commission was to have been held last Thursday night but an insufficient number of members was present in the city for a quorum and the meeting was postponed until last night. Routine matters of lesser importance were presented and briefly discussed.

Action Underpass

The Avenue H underpass came up for consideration and announcement was made that prompt action will be taken. The council expects to be ready to advertise for bids on construction within a few days. Some delay will have to be worked out before this action can be taken.

Together with members of the commission, a delegation of property owners on 13th street met presenting a proposal to widen the pavement on 13th from L to Q.

From 30 to 55 feet. If this proposition is promoted it is understood that the entire street will have to be widened from Avenues O to Q.

A favorable discussion of the proposition was had.

Aged Man Charged In Fatal Shooting

COLORADO, Aug. 26. (P)—Joe Tinnie, 70, tenant farmer of Mitchell county, today was charged with the fatal shooting yesterday of Charles Scuddy, 65, Mitchell county pioneer. Tinnie's bond was set at $5,000 which he had failed to make late today.

The cause of the shooting had not been definitely learned. It occurred on Scuddy's farm, 25 miles south of Colorado. He was shot twice with a pistol, one bullet striking the right arm and the other passing through the body, as he was repairing a fence near Tinnie's farm house, also located on Scuddy's farm. The men were said to have had a disagreement several days ago.

AMENDMENTS DEFEATED

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (P)—Both proposed constitutional amendments submitted at a special election on July 16, were defeated by a decisive vote, the state canvassing board revealed today in an official tabulation.

Two-Year-Old Bull Lives For Six Days With Cotton Seed Sole Nourishment

He made his bed so he had to lie on it.

Last Tuesday a 2-year-old registered bull was reported lost or stolen from the farm of Crouch and Mathews, farmers living about six miles south of Lubbock.

County officers were notified and an extensive search made for the animal, valued at $150.

Monday morning one of the partners visited a small shack, seldom used, about 100 yards from the house. Opening the door he found the bull contentedly munching away at the last of two bushels of cotton seed.

It is believed that the animal, enclosed in a pasture by himself, had in some way opened the door to the shack, got inside and locked himself in. Though six days was spent as a prisoner without water, sufficient food was furnished through the cotton seed stored there.

When the announcement was made that the Graf Zeppelin would fly from El Paso to Oklahoma City by way of Midland, many Lubbock citizens hoped for a sight of the big bag. An Avalanche telegram, however, to the El Paso Herald, an associated newspaper, resulted in the report that the Zep would follow an airline course from Midland to Oklahoma City, thus missing Lubbock by nearly 200 miles.

The Graf Zeppelin swung idly at its mooring mast here today after triumphantly completing the third lap of its planet-circling flights while preparations went feverishly ahead for the craft to soar gracefully away before midnight for Lakehurst, N. J., on the final swing around the globe.

Labor Unions To Stage Parade Here

Caravan To March Through Streets Of Lubbock Monday Morning, September 2; 500 Expected In March

In an endeavor to indicate in a measure the part they have played in the building of Lubbock thus far and to pledge public promise of the role they expect to play in the city's future growth, Lubbock labor unions will stage a Labor Day parade here on Monday morning, September 2, it was announced last night.

Delegates representing between 400 and 500 union craftsmen were present at the session and announced that they expected to make 1929's Labor Day mean more to this section than ever in the past.

City and county officials and units of the National Guard stationed here will have parts in the parade and the craftsmen, in special uniforms, will form their line of march on Avenue F, between Broadway and 16th street at 8:15 o'clock next Monday morning.

Following the parade most of the union men will go to Johnston's ranch to spend the balance of the holiday.

Activities Of Missionary Societies Are Continued In City

New Members Received Into Church Women's Societies; Business Meet Follows Methodist W. M. S. Program

First Presbyterian, First Christian Societies Meet In Units Yesterday For Bible Study

ALTHOUGH many social clubs have discontinued meetings during the late summer, church women's societies are, as a whole, continuing their usual activities of other months during the year and the city-wide evangelistic campaign which is now being conducted is adding impetus to the usual devotional services.

Six units of the First Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon and during the First Christian Ladies Aid met in the homes of members.

A general meeting of the First Methodist Women's Missionary society was conducted at the church and a program preceded a business session participated in by those in attendance.

Mrs. Peter's Leader Mrs. J. D. Peters was leader for the afternoon and the devotional services was conducted by Mrs. R. F. Dunn.

Specialties for the afternoon consisted of a reading by Miss Lucy Dee Owen and a vocal solo by Mrs. L. L. Munger.

Mrs. H. T. Kimbro discussed "Primitive Homes and the Missionary Task" at the meeting and a talk on "The Christian Approach to the Problem" was made by Mrs. C. E. Love.

Elect Chairman Mrs. M. W. Dunn was received as a new member in the Young Matrons' Auxiliary of the First Christian Ladies Aid yesterday at a meeting with Mrs. E. L. Stahlner, 1016 12th street.

Mrs. Townsend Waddill was elected chairman of the circle following the resignation of Mrs. L. E. Grimes, who has been serving in that capacity.

Since the circle met two weeks ago members have made 25 calls on prospective members and people who have been ill and have taken trays of food to three of the sick.

Devotional yesterday was conducted by Mrs. W. C. Wood and Mrs. Waddill from the N. M. W. B. Romans. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostesses to Mesdames Paul Barrie, C. D. Wiley, L. E. Grimes, Fred Childress, R. D. Allen, W. C. Wood, O. A. Terry, Herbert Carlock, T. W. Waddill, M. W. Dunn, N. M. W. B. Romans, Leo Edwards and Miss Burns.

Reserve Member Mrs. J. W. C. Woods was received as a new member in the Asbury Methodist W. M. S. yesterday afternoon in a meeting at the church. The mission study was led by Mrs. P. B. Williams and those who had parts on the program were Mesdames L. H. Thomas, O. H. Cline, V. P. Haddell and C. P. McCollum.

Women in the Methodist societies yesterday participated in the holding of Zone 2 in the Lubbock district Wednesday in Abernethy. The Asbury society and two auxiliaries in the First Methodist church are expected to be represented at this meeting.

Hostesses for meetings of the First Presbyterian Auxiliary were Mesdames P. E. Alverson, R. H. Moore, L. C. Ellis, F. A. White, Joe Wilson and R. C. Harvey.

Yellow Predominant Color In Chic Frocks At Tennis Tournaments

Mrs. James C. Auchincloss

Mrs. Harris B. Fisher

Mrs. Charles B. Harding

By BETSY SCHUYLER
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Women's tennis matches, it seemed to me viewing them midst smart crowds at Easthampton and Forest Hills, are the ultimate triumph of modern femininity.

Two little girls in white, standing in the vast green, waited upon by masculine umpires, masculine line-men and ball chasers and cheered by thousands of masculine throats in addition to feminine ones, sweat and get excited at without benefit of a single chance to be coy, or employ a spec of their sex wile. Clean, beautiful sportsmanship that should teach the weaker sex a lot! Apparently the galleries felt much the same thrill in the game, judging by the vast crowds enthusiastically cheering.

The only yellow thing about the sport in recent days is predominating color tone of the spectators' attire. A bird's eye view of the stands and the exclusive club porches after the game, seemed yellow to be the outstanding color in the very gay throng that took on the aspect of a field of colorful flowers blowing in the breeze every time applause swept through.

Playing in the Best Style Of course the players wear white. Helen Wills tops her Patou two-piece frocks, when not in action, with a geranium red cardigan and inevitably wears her eyeshade. Little Betty Nuthall is extremely feminine in her dainty silk or handkerchief linen logs. At Easthampton she wore a short, pleated white silk dress with elaborate hand-work and a feminine little square neckline. At Forest Hills her white handkerchief linen frock with fitted top and pleated skirt joined a natural waistline, had a tiny blue edging and she wore a blue band around her hair.

White sleeveless frocks were almost as popular as yellow touches. At the Seagraves, N. J., invitation tennis and cricket tournament, Mrs. James Auchincloss wore a smart white silk pique frock with a surplice closing fastened with three pearl buttons. The skirt was full and her yellow French jersey jacket had a new type of collar, a round one, stitched for a wide finish. She was one of many who wore wide waist belts of color with white frocks. Frances Auchincloss sponsored a much be-ruffled blouse tucked into her linen suit skirt.

Summering at this or that place and staying put is a thing of the past with smart resorters. It is a custom now to spend a day or two in New York en route here or there, tea at the Casino, a night on the St. Regis roof or some other smart place to see stars, and then be off to another destination. Mrs. Muriel Vanderbilt Church and her mother, Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, made a hurried shopping expedition here one day. Among other things, Mrs. Harris B. Fisher has a square printed georgette evening gown with feather trimming and a stunning gold sports outfit for more Caratoga afternoons. Muriel likes yellow, too, wears a plaid yellow topcoat for sports, orange felt hat and has painted historic Dingley Place at Newport a soft yellow, with blue chimneys, roofs and blinds.

Pink Will Be a Winter Favorite With most feminine modes, pink, promises to be an fall this winter. Louise Iselin, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Josephine August, Mrs. George D. Widener and Marian Wilson are a few of the smart Saratogans wearing pink at the Brook Club of an evening.

Collars are one of the outstanding style details used for individuality in summer resort costumes. Mrs. Harris B. Fisher has a square printed chiffon, in soft reds and pinks that features a squarish collar that has double floating scarf ends and in the back.

The day of prints just must be swept over, so popular, are they. Viewing the Narragansett Bay regatta last week, Mrs. Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte wore a green and yellow printed chiffon. Mrs. Gibson Fahnestock had a rose printed frock on and Mrs. Horace Back a brown printed ensemble.

The lining of coats have their own importance. Mrs. Charles B. Harding topped a two-tiered printed frock with a plain coat with a star-spangled lining that was most effective.

A Floral Note in the Mode Luncheon at the Central Park Casino has become a pleasant mid-day event for townsohitters. I have noticed the increasing number of women who wear an orchid or two or a little shoulder nosegay, as a pleasant gesture of compliment to the rather cheery, holiday atmosphere of the place. Mrs. Louis Latham Clarke had a sweet cluster of three orchids pinned on the shoulder of her green lightweight tweed and printed silk ensemble.

I have noticed that the "Mask" mules designed by Ferrugia have gone social and now appear as the design for stunning evening slippers. Frederica Gallatin wore a pair in silver and blue with a soft blue flat crepe evening gown at Easthampton. The "green hat" that was once

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MISS HELENA RUBINSTEIN

In my last article, I told you of three fundamental principles underlying the scientific care of the skin. Those three simple steps will keep the young skin healthy and beautiful. However, many women neglect their skins when they are girls, and so in their thirties, forties and fifties, when their beauty should be at its best, they find that their skins no longer look fresh and lovely—their contour no longer has that clear-cut look of youth.

But don't be discouraged! If you are willing to give a little time and thought—and the correct, scientific treatment—your skin can be restored to health and beauty.

As we grow older, our circulation slows down. We no longer lead the active lives of childhood—no longer romp and play. And so the blood flows less and less swiftly through our veins! And that is the cause of most of our skin trouble! Exercise—active exercise—will help a lot.

If you can play golf or tennis, ride horseback, swim—by all means do so. A good brisk walk is also very beneficial. Every woman owes it to herself, her friends and family, to take some form of brisk exercise every day. There's nothing like it for healthy and beauty. But if you've once allowed your circulation to slow down, become even the tiniest bit sluggish, you will need even more than daily exercise to bring it back and restore it to beauty. You need specific stimulation of the skin—and that, fortunately, you can get by means of a liquid stimulant applied directly to the skin and which acts in the form of local exercise—a stimulant that makes all the little cells of your skin work.

WORK IS REVIEWED

Reports Given On A. & M.'s Short Course Saturday

At a meeting of Lubbock county 4-H club boys and girls held Saturday afternoon in the courthouse, reports of the Short Course at College Station and discussion of individual exhibits were featured.

Those who made reports of the Short Course trip were Fred Elliott, Jack Stahlcup, O. B. Hauke, Arville Elliott, Erwin Reed, Ray Middleton, Willie Mae Frather, Marie Fleming, Vergie Moores and I. J. Thornton.

Instructions for individual exhibits at the Panhandle-South Plains fair were given by Miss Louise Baird, home demonstration agent, and County Agent D. F. Eaton.

SLATE DEMONSTRATION

Deep Plowing Work To Be Given At Seagraves

(Special To The Avalanche) SEAGRAVES, Aug. 26.—A deep plowing demonstration on dissection will be held here Tuesday, and several hundred farmers are expected to be present to witness the program being made here by deep plowing farmers and methods of conducting the work. Caterpillar tractors will be used by a number of implement houses in plowing, and farms where deep plowing has been practiced for several years will be visited. Talks will be made by County Agent McPartridge and other experts.

The purpose of deep plowing in this section is to mix the tighter sub-soil with the sandy top soil to prevent blowing and drying that has so long proven a detriment to farming in Gaines, Terry, Dawson and other West Texas counties. Experiments here are being watched by agricultural experts all over the state.

SCHOOLS ARE READY

BIG SPRING, Aug. 26.—Sixty teachers have been selected and will begin their respective duties in the Big Spring schools on opening date of September 3, according to W. C. Blankenship, superintendent. The first meeting of the faculty will be held on August 31, prior to opening date and the usual teachers institute will be dispensed with at this time. The schools have five buildings, namely: high school, junior high, and three ward buildings; each school has an active parent teachers' association.

Miss Geraldine Smith New President Of Sans Souci Club; Misses Moxley and Snyder Officers

Looking forward to the opening of the Texas Technological college next month and the social activities of the college, members of the Sans Souci club have elected new officers and are discussing parties, dances and other affairs for the fall months. The Sans Souci society is one of the most prominent campus organizations.

Miss Geraldine Smith was elected president to succeed Mrs. J. E. Stiles. Miss Lucille Moxley, is the new vice president and Miss Mary Snyder was elected secretary-treasurer.

Boy Who Caught Burglar Becomes Chief Sleuth

By MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Writer

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Forty-two years ago, in Barnmouth, England, a schoolboy named John H. Ashley caught a burglar. His work was so courageous and competent, his evidence so precise, that the artless judges publicly complimented him. One called him a natural born detective.

Right then was born an ambition which has just been realized beyond young Ashley's wildest dreams. He now is Chief Constable of the Criminal Investigation Department of Scotland Yard, which means that he is the official Sherlock Holmes of what the British claim is the greatest detective force in the world.

If New York's criminal records can furnish any comparison, the British are right. In New York during the first six months of 1929, there were 148 homicides and no convictions for first-degree murder. During the entire year of 1928, there were only 18 murders in London. Eleven were solved and the murderers convicted.

Ashley, tall, be-speckled, soft-spoken—looking like a typical English schoolmaster—not only is responsible for the detection of criminals in the vast metropolitan area of London, but also for other parts of Great Britain when despairing local police call upon Scotland Yard for its expert aid.

Sought Sleuthing Career
As soon as Ashley was 21, the amateur burglar-catcher hot-footed it to London to offer his valuable services.

But it was not quite so easy as it looked. He was taken on the police force, assigned to Albany street station and for six years he pounded the pavements as an ordinary cop. At last, in 1899, he was transferred to the Criminal Investigation Department and soon began to show his real mettle. Later he rose to the job of Divisional Inspector of the Bow street division and there made himself famous.

On Nov. 2, 1917, two days after one of the worst air raids in London's war history, a man crossing Regent square in Bloomsbury stumbled over a rock. He called the police. They opened it and found inside the headless, legless and handless body of a woman.

Tell-Tale Script
On top of the mutilated remains was a piece of brown paper on which was written: "Blodie Belgium." In an arseway, not far distant, was found another package wrapped in paper. This contained the dead woman's legs.

There seemed nothing by which to identify the body. Nobody had been reported missing. The police were against a blank wall.

Then Ashley took a hand. Beneath the blood coagulated on the sheet in which the body was wrapped, he noticed a laundry marking. He assigned a set of his men to the tireless work of checking up on every laundry in London. In the meantime, examining the body itself, Ashley made up his mind that the murder had been committed either by a medical man or by a butcher. The carving of the limbs had been done very deftly.

His men finally found a laundry which recognized the marks on the sheets. An examination of their books led to the discovery of the person to whom the sheet belonged. She was traced and found to be the paramour of a Frenchman who lived in Bloomsbury and who was employed in a sausage factory.

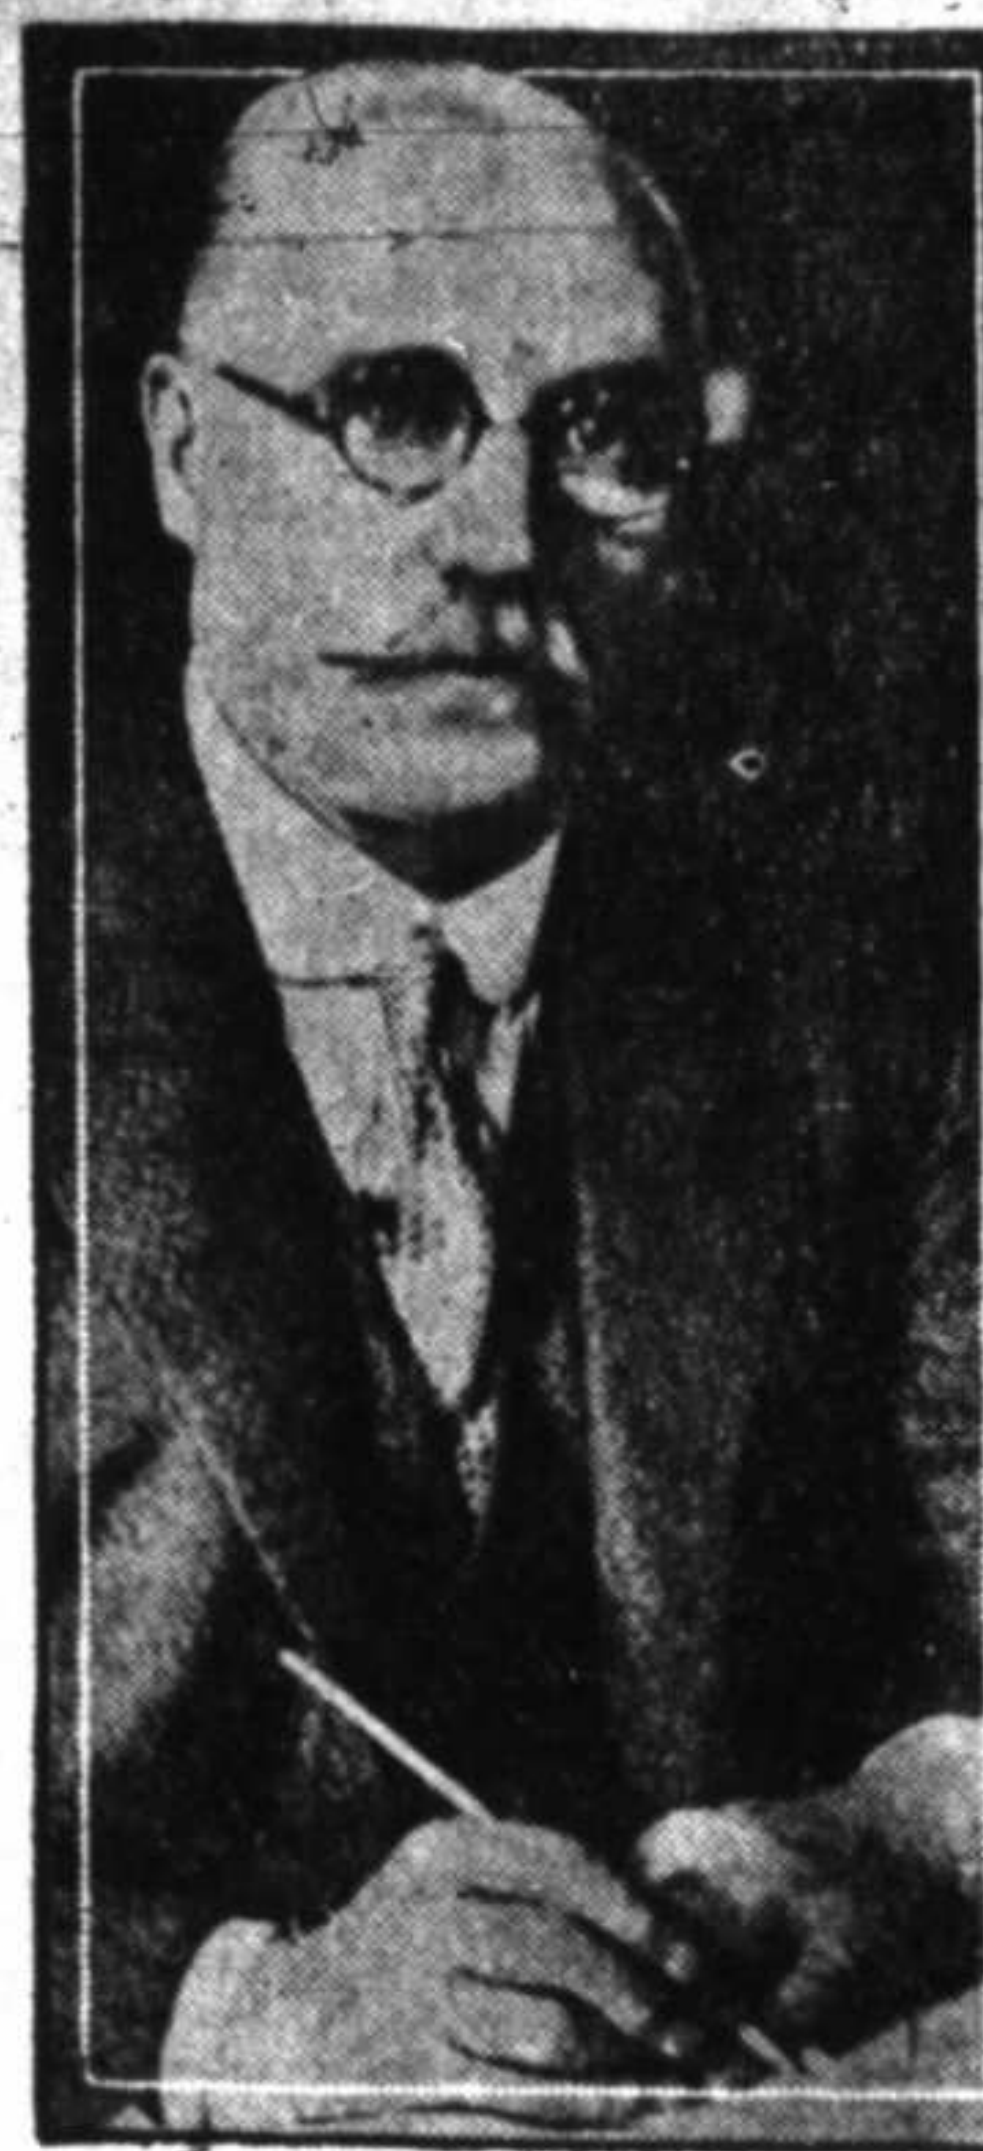

Ashley sent for the man and asked him what seemed to the Frenchman to be some idle and foolish questions.

"By the way," said Ashley, "I wish you would take that pad and write—This is a terrible war."

The man smilingly complied. Ashley gave him various other sentences, all dealing with the war. Then at last he mentioned what a terrible mess the German armies had made of poor little Belgium.

"Write 'Blodie Belgium.'"

Following the clue
The man did so, spelling it—"Blodie Belgium"—just as it had been written on the piece of brown paper. The writing was very similar. Ashley sent his men post haste to search the premises occupied by the suspect and, sure enough, hidden away in a cellar they found the severed head and hands of the victim.

The man was hanged. His new paramour was sentenced to seven years imprisonment and died in a madhouse.

This case had thrown Ashley into intimate contact with Fred Wensley, then chief inspector at Scotland Yard. Wensley, who was afterwards to be the head of the G. I. D., marked Ashley as a man worthy of swift advancement. He made him chief officer of the Criminal Record Department.

Reorganized System
As such Ashley completely overhauled the place. He made it possible for the detectives to be able within a minute to turn to any man's record, whether the clue they had was a nick-name, a criminal's haunts, or his finger prints.

What Ashley learned there, he never forgot. He has a marvelous card index memory and the G. I. D. men claim that he practically knows by heart the contents of the records he handled. Wensley saw to it that he was constantly advanced in rank until he was second only to Wensley himself. When the latter retired on July 31, it was inevitable that Ashley should succeed him.

Both his brothers followed him from Barnmouth to London and also joined the police force. One, who died a few years ago, had charge of the finger prints bureau. The other, who is attached to the Special Branch, had the responsible job of guarding Stanley Baldwin, when the latter was Premier.

Center School To Present Carnival

A carnival is to be given on Friday afternoon and evening at the Center school house, about 18 miles northeast of Lubbock and proceeds from the affair will be used in paying for a light plant at the school and buying play ground equipment according to an announcement made this morning by H. B. O'Neill, principal of the school, who is managing the event.

Beginning at noon, there are to be ball games, races, indoor and outdoor programs of various natures until late in the evening, he said, and an attendance of between four and five hundred is expected.

A girl basketball game is to be played at 6 o'clock in the evening and a boys' basketball game will be played at 8:30 p. m. on a lighted court. These are match games with other communities. The indoor program will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will be continued after the last outdoor basketball game.

Demos Gather To Start Fight For Reducing Tariff

Intentions Of Conducting Filibuster Disavowed By Leaders; Opposition Is Clearly Indicated

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (P)—Democrats of the senate finance committee were called today to begin detailed preparation of the organized effort they will undertake in the senate next week to reduce many rates in the pending tariff bill and change administrative provisions.

Opposition to a large number, if not most, of the provisions in the bill as passed by the house and modified by the finance committee republicans has been clearly indicated. At the same time, democratic leaders have been at pains to disavow any intention to conduct a filibuster.

Latest assurance to that effect has come from Senator Harrison of Mississippi, who asserted "orderly, reasonable debate" and a "full and frank discussion of every item in the measure and a record vote on the various increases of present duties and tariff amendments would be demanded, but that no filibuster would be attempted."

The bill is counted on by Representative Byrns of Tennessee, chairman of the democratic national congressional committee, to help his party increase its voting strength in next year's elections.

Pampa Editor Has Praises For City

"One gets a distinct shock when arriving in a city so beautiful as Lubbock after driving over an unpaved road leading to the incorporate limits," said Olin E. Hinkle, managing editor of the Pampa Daily News, who visited in this city last night, enroute to Canyon, following a vacation in New Mexico. Hinkle, a strong advocate through his editorial columns for city beautification and adoption of a city planning system, expressed marvel at the rapidity with which Lubbock is growing. "The City Commission here is acting wisely in proposing a city planning program while Lubbock is experiencing a phenomenal growing period," he said.

"One thing which arrests attention here is the impressive permanence of business and residence structures," he continued. "I believe Lubbock has more brick homes in proportion to population than any city in West Texas."

Lockney Youth Is Victim Of Mishap

Funeral services for Burrell Bolivar, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bolivar, who live seven miles southwest of Lockney, will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church of Lockney, with Rev. C. J. McCarty, pastor of the 18th Street Baptist church of Lubbock, officiating.

Young Bolivar died at his home Monday morning, following injuries received Sunday night in an automobile crash near Lockney.

Survivors are the parents, four brothers and three sisters.

COLLINS' HOME BURNS

Former Lubbock Minister's Home Burns In Floydada

Destroying practically all of the belongings of the family the home of Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Collins burned Sunday morning at Floydada.

Reports of the loss were made in the city by Fred and W. Groce Monday, Mrs. and Mrs. Groce visited the Collins family yesterday and learned of their misfortune. Rev. Collins was formerly pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here.

WON'T LOSE EYE

Lockney Child To Be Able To See Following Injury

Reports from the Lubbock sanitarium last night stated that Pauline Hill, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hill, who live five miles east of Lockney, probably will not lose the vision in her right eye, which was injured Sunday evening.

The child was struck by a stick while playing with other children at her home and was rushed to Lubbock for treatment by her parents. Physicians last night stated that she is resting well and that sight probably will not be impaired.

BUILDING NEW CHURCH

Presbyterians Expanding In Big Spring

(Special To The Avalanche)
BIG SPRING, Aug. 26.—The Presbyterian church building which has been in use for this purpose between thirty-five and forty years sold here today for $700 to the Lutheran congregation and will be moved to their site in Government Heights where it will be remodeled.

The lot on which the church was located will be offered for sale for business property being located within one block of the business district.

The Presbyterian church now has under construction a new $65,000 edifice at the corner of seventh and Rannels street. The brick work on the $65,000 Baptist church has been completed and work on the inside is now in progress. The church will probably be completed by October 1st.

TRANSGRESSORS PAY $144

Fifteen transgressors of the law paid a total of $144 into city coffers Monday morning, following weekend violations in this city.

Six were fined for traffic violations, five for vagrancy, three for drunkenness and one for fighting.

ADVERTISING TOWN

Junction Sending Out 3,000 Circulars Praising City

(Special To The Avalanche)
JUNCTION, Aug. 26. (P)—The Junction Chamber of Commerce is sending the town and the people of Texas in 3,000 circulars which have been mailed out in the last three days.

That the town has a population of 1,500, bus lines from all points east and west, north and south, many tourists, and is the county seat of Kimble county, is told in the pamphlet.

It has the aldermanic form of government, a modern water and light system, school with full university affiliation, paved streets 65 miles of sidewalks, a modern fire department, modern ice plant and ice cream factory, and a nine hole golf course.

Ready For 15-Mile Swimming Battle At Toronto

By NEA Service.
TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 26.—(AP)—International color will be characteristic of the Wrigley 15-mile marathon swim for men August 28 at Toronto, when 300 entries from many European countries and the United States will compete for prizes totaling $50,000.

Swimmers will not be allowed to start if the temperature of the water is lower than 58 degrees. Last year, in the icy waters, none finished the gruelling race.

Hubbers Cop Tilt From Tacks, 12-11

Lubbock Nine Wins Fourth Straight From Amarillo On Local Diamond Sunday; Win In Eleventh

Story book baseball was enacted at Merrill Park Sunday afternoon and the Lubbock Hubbers "won out" in the end, just as the home folks would have it.

Facing almost certain defeat at the beginning of the ninth frame, the Hubbers overcame a five run lead held by the Amarillo Tartars. Texans and tied the score at 10-10.

Forced into extra innings to decide this final battle of the season between the two clubs, neither team was able to push across a counter in the tenth. The visitors counted one in their half of the eleventh, but Raymond Ater checked the attack in the deciding frames, hurlers likewise worked for the visitors, none of which were effective.

Besset led the batting attack for the Tacks, being credited with three singles, a double and triple in seven trips to the plate.

The Texas batted Alec McCall from the hulk in the third and continued their assault on Jackson, but Raymond Ater checked the attack in the deciding frames, hurlers likewise worked for the visitors, none of which were effective.

Seven-Run Rally In 8th Brings In Win For Chicago

National League Leaders Cut Loose With Vicious Attack On Red Hurlers To Cop 9-5 Decision

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Cubs refused to be stopped by Eppa Rixey today and after trailing for seven innings, loosed a vicious attack in the eighth that brought seven runs and a 9 to 5 victory. A crowd of 35,000 turned out for the first contest of the two game home series to see the Cubs lift their margin over the idle Pirates to 13 1-2 games.

Rixey allowed but six hits in the first seven frames. Hornsby's 29th home run of the year bringing the only runs. In the eighth a walk and two singles drove him from the mound. Rube Ehrhardt replaced him and was touched for five more hits.

A freak home run by Norman McMillan, which took a bounce into the stands after starting out as an ordinary single, finished the Reds' downfall by bringing the last four counts.

Hubbers To Meet Dawson All-Stars Here Tomorrow

Players Picked From County Tournament On Team On Barnstorming Tour Over Section

Staging a barnstorming tour of all West Texas, the Dawson County All-Stars will be in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon to cross bats with the Lubbock Hubbers at Merrill Park.

Made up of stars picked from the Dawson county tournament recently held in Lamesa, the club promises to be one of the strongest teams the locals have met this season.

Fresh from their fourth straight victory over the Amarillo Texans, the Hubbers are anxious to get at the throats of the outfit that has any resemblance of Lamesa. Several regulars from the Lamesa nine are included in the lineup for the All-Stars.

Leonard Rose, the Lamesa right-hander who has won every start against Lubbock this season, is likely to be on the ground for the visitors.

Business Manager Joe Chisum announced last night that Hopper and McColl would be held to hurl for the Hubbers. The same lineup that downed Amarillo Sunday will be sent against the invaders from Dawson county.

Chorus Casting Connoisseurs Call For Crews Of Comely Cuties With Captivating Collegiate Curves; Cunning Clothes Certain To Command Comment In Current Casts

BY GILBERT SWAN
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The new model chorus girl of 1935 and 1936 will not have to worry about the 18-day diet.

She can be a bit plumper again, with something of the Clara Bowesque modeling. The vogue of the boyish build and the slightly anemic appearance seems to have passed. They have begun going in for dangerous curves, languorous lines and hectic hips.

The show girl, to be sure, is as tall as ever, but she must be shapely rather than languid.

Such is a composite picture gathered from the leading Broadway producers who are now putting their seasonal shows in shape.

Taller, plumper, flaunting figures. Take, for instance, the glorifying "Ziegfeld." "We are taking them a bit taller and a bit plumper this year. The show girl is at least an inch taller than she was last year and the "pony" is at least pound heavier."

Says Vincent Freedley, of Aarons and Freedley, "Choruses may come and choruses go, but chorines go on forever. In my opinion there is little difference in public tastes. The esthetic and artistic have brought about a more decorative and rangy type, but the public has never lost interest in youth and curves."

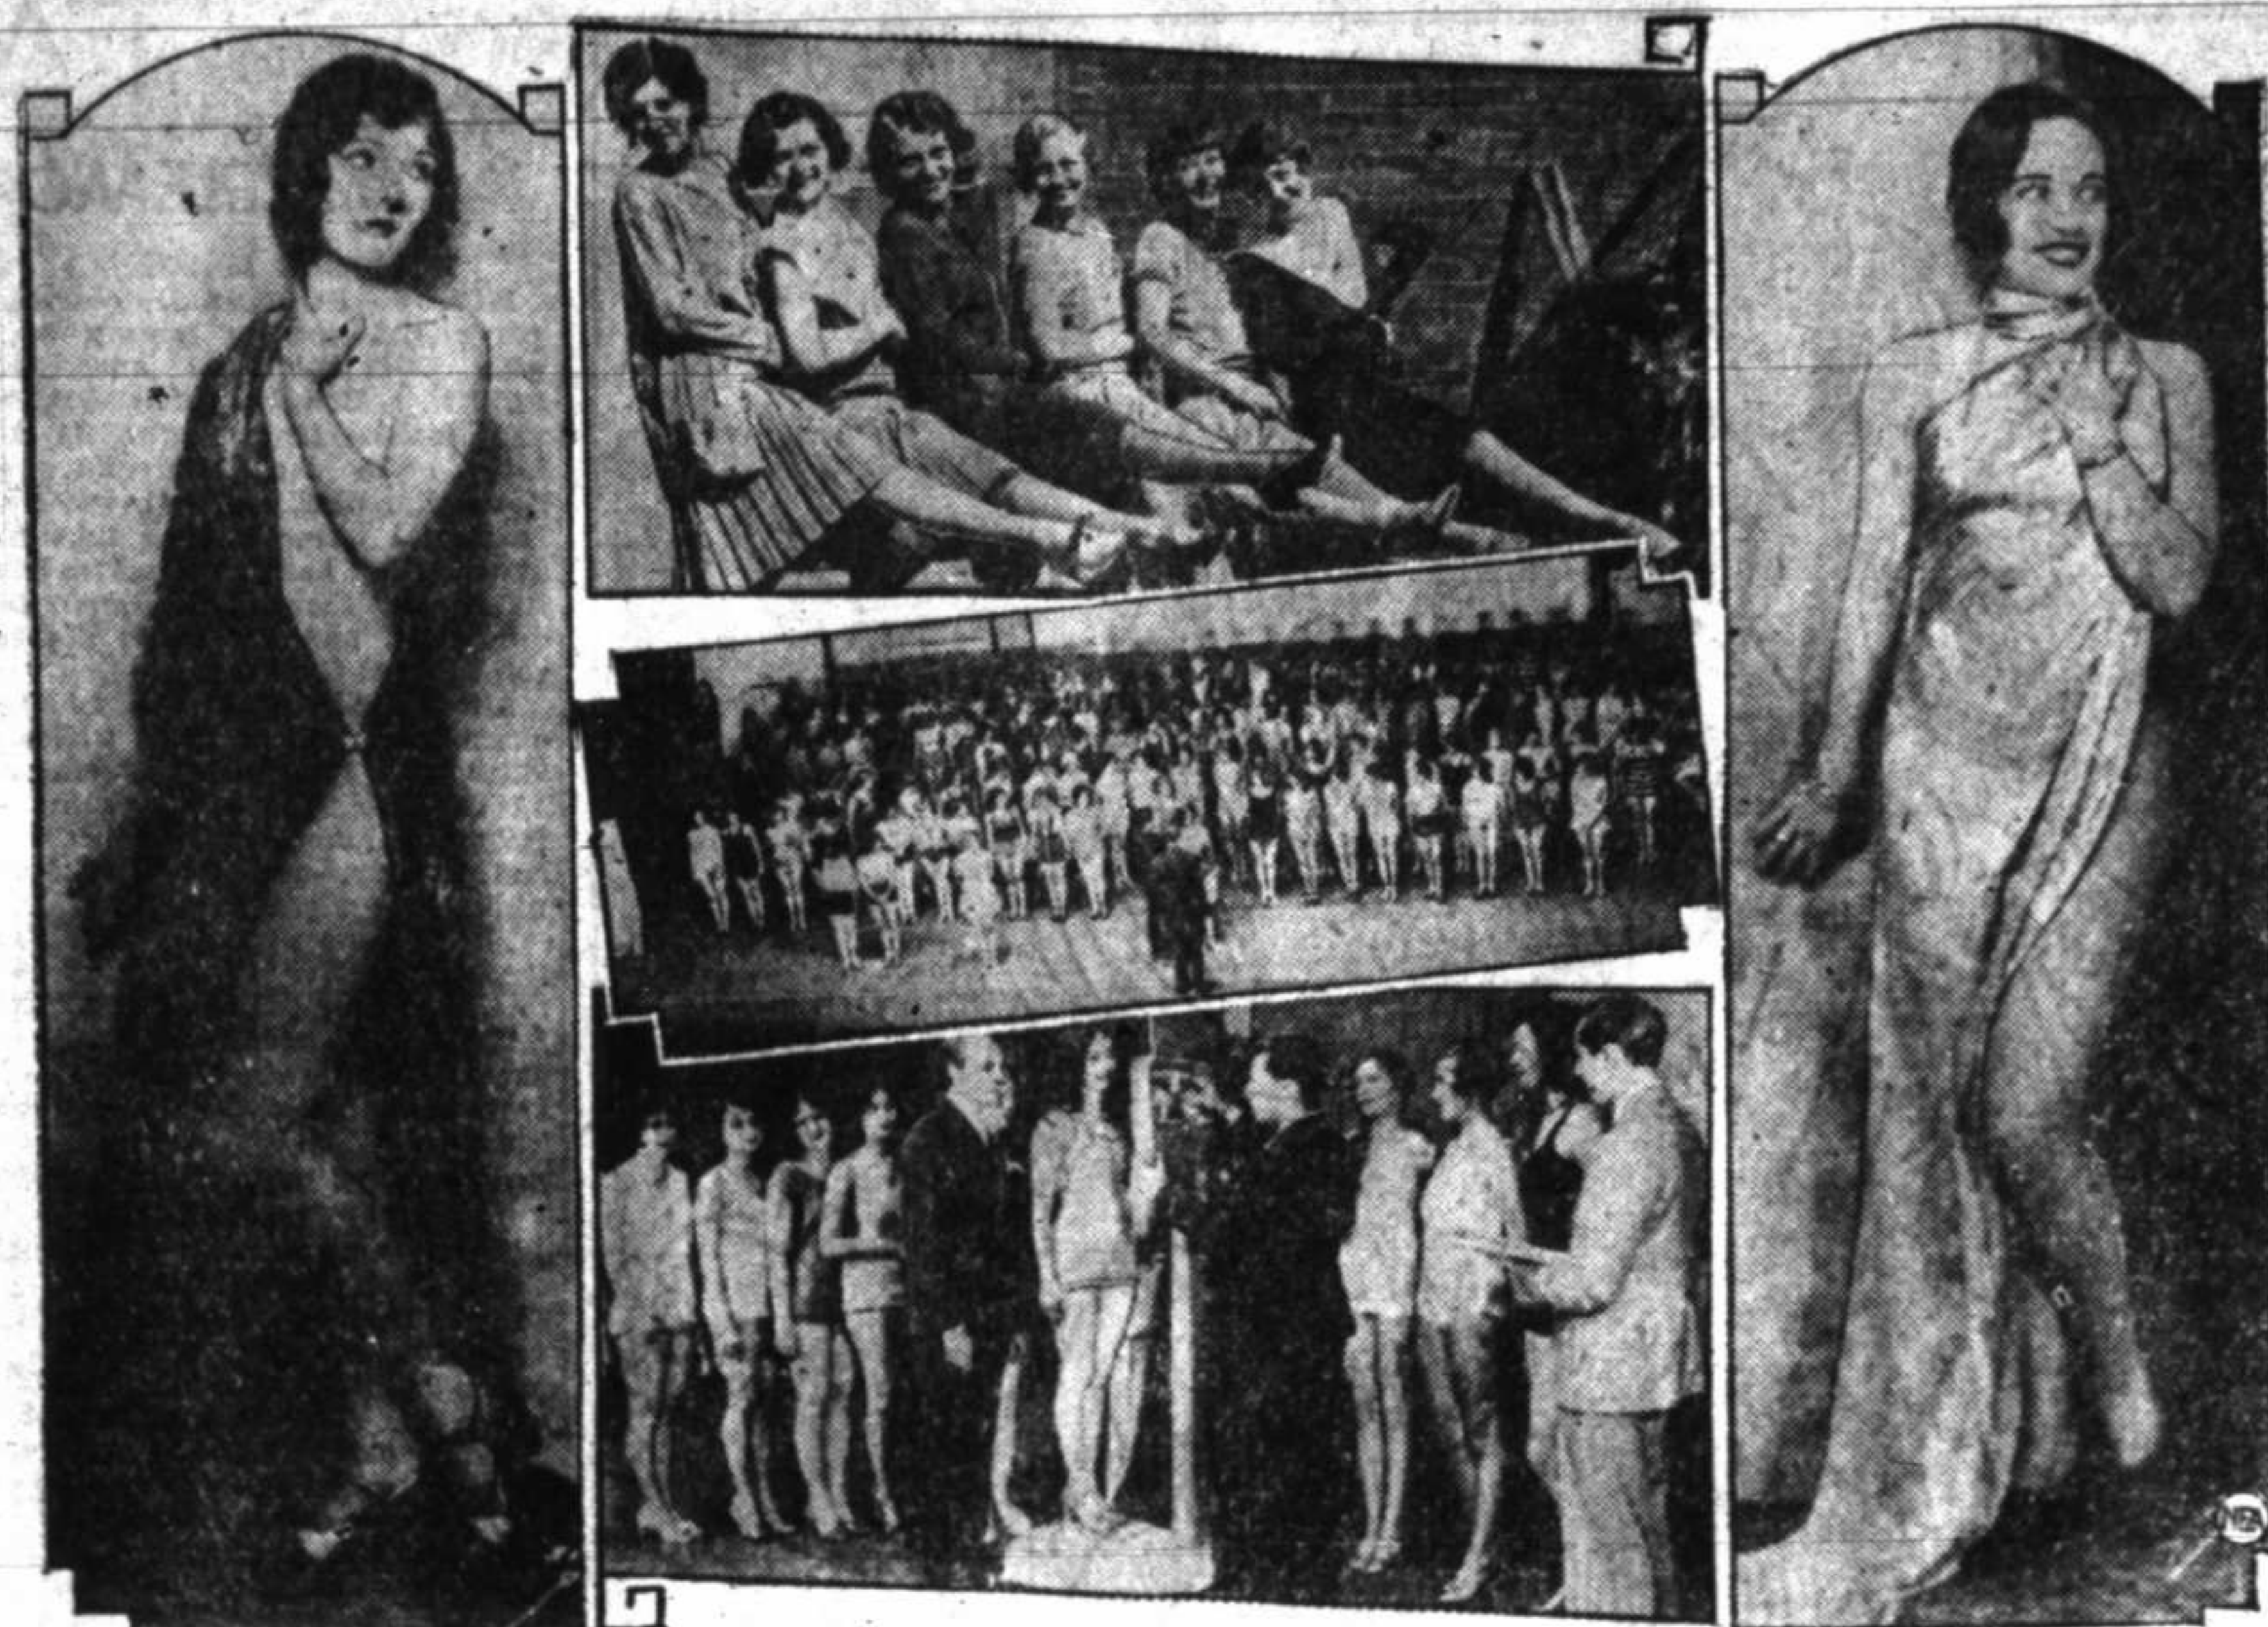

Says Earl Carroll, as he selects his newest show girls: "I have never changed my methods. Yes, I'm picking them a bit stockier than they were last season, but I'm still picking them as I believe the public wants them. No matter how many there are, or how new they are to the theater, I put them on the stage and look at them from the point of view of everyone in the audience. Figures are figures, and have been since Venus lost her arm."

When Health Counts. Schwab and Mandel, when they are ready for a new show, will select peppy, collegiate types, as they have for the past several seasons. To stand the wear and tear of peppy dancing they must be a rather healthy crew.

And so it goes! The height requirements for front line dancers remain between 5 feet 2 inches and 5 feet 4 inches.

The field for selection is unusually large. From 500 to 700 girls are appearing for each "chorine" call. The actual number required for a production is about 25. Variety, the theatrical weekly, places the circulating chorine population at 3,000. And more are arriving daily.

The majority of these are studies in human ego. Only one out of 20

Taller and stouter are the specifications for the chorus girl of the new season. Olive O'Neil, left, and Marcia Eoff, right, are typical of the new style in chorines. Upper center is a group of candidates trying out for an Aarons and Freedley show. Center is a whole stage full of girls who jumped at Earl Carroll's call. You see him, in the lower photo, weighing and measuring the bathing-suited applicants who passed the first inspection.

In addition to whatever glory she can derive from it, there is only a fairly comfortable living in "making salaries range up to $150 a week, but the average wage for a continuous

The candidates, as usual, are from Nudily will be sectional. It will,

for instance, be important to a portion of Mr. Carroll's productions, and it will be qualified with M. Ziefeld, Vincent Freedley and the Mes-sars. Schwab and Mandel inform me that it is important at the moment. Both of these concerns have done very well by presenting the Chorine Americana in her most hoyden state. A little suggestion is a more dangerous thing than an acre of nakedness, they will inform you.

Nor does M. Freedley believe that tastes in chorines vary much from season to season.

He believes in freshness and symmetry, with the audience inclined to Sun-tan On Stage, Too.

The influence of the sun-tan vogue also is going to be felt. At least two forthcoming productions will feature numbers in which the merry maid-ens are tanned to a mahogany brown. As a matter of fact, a large number of young ladies of the ensemble have achieved healthy tans in the Long Beach theatrical colony, which has been thriving this summer. And they have found themselves in considerable demand.

According to M. Ziegfeld, who has been somewhat of a style setter, the American girl is beginning to need less glorification. She is beginning to glorify herself. She grows gradually more athletic, more versatile, more supple and attractive. And because she does, the audience will begin to ask for types that are a bit better—while remaining symmetrical.

And, of course, they'll get what they want.

Three Thousand Workmen Will Toil For Seven Years In Construction Of Huge Boulder Canyon Dam; Structure To Be Highest In World; Appropriation Expected This Fall

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The building of Boulder Dam on the Colorado river on the Nevada-Arizona border, which will be the highest dam in the world and for which Congress has authorized $165,000,000 will require seven years.

Four of those years will be devoted to the preparations necessary before the erection of the dam itself can begin.

Congress is expected to make the first appropriation this fall so the gigantic task can be started in the near future.

Preliminaries of almost prodigious scope are now being planned by the engineers of the federal reclamation service in the Interior Department in their tentative seven-year program.

In the first year they will construct 41 miles of railway from Las Vegas, N. M., over which they will transport the personnel and an enormous amount of machinery and material. They will also start on the temporary power plant to be used for the dam operations.

Four-Mile Long Tunnels.

In the second year they will begin the four great tunnels, 50 feet in diameter and a mile long, through solid rock, which will serve as diversion channels for the Colorado river during the construction period.

In this year they will also start on two high cofferdams, one above and one below the dam site, and designed similarly for protection from the river.

In the third year begins the excavation work. The engineers will dig down to bed rock for the dam's foundations and into the sides of the canyon, which is to be the actual site of the dam.

In the fourth year the excavations will be completed and then the first concrete will be thrown into the foundations of the dam itself.

The best of America's engineers agreed that there is nothing of dangerous nature involved in the building of Boulder Dam and that a plan is quite within the limits of what is considered feasible.

3000 Workers Needed.

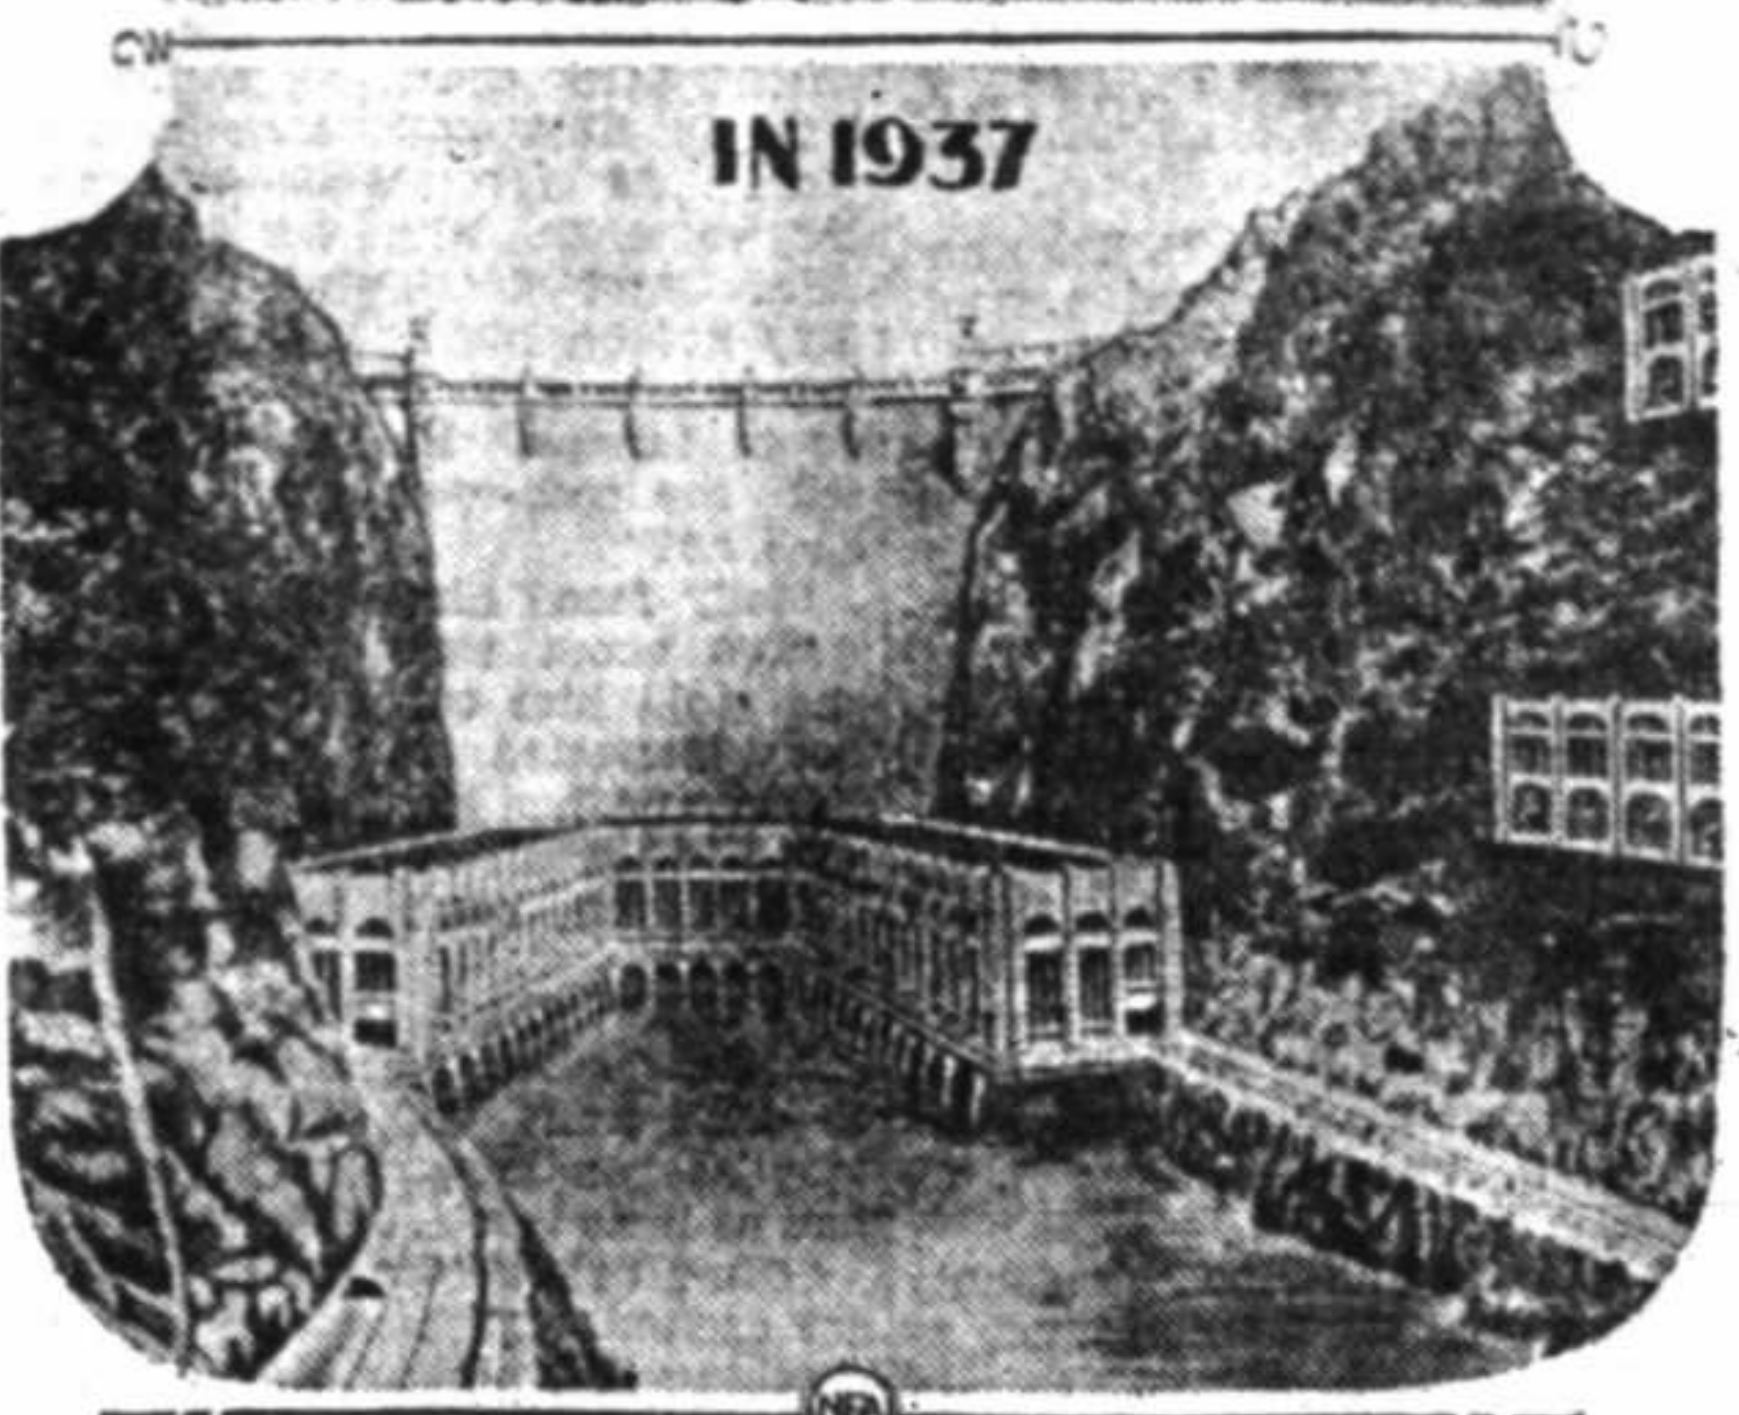

The controlling construction factor, however, is the cramped quarters at the bottom of the canyon. It is estimated that about 150 engineers and perhaps 3000 other workers will be used on the job.

The plan is to lower and lift these men in huge elevators for a distance of at least 1000 feet and the installation of these elevators will be a spectacular piece of engineering. The workers will live in model government town on the river side, about a mile from the site.

The river rises every summer and the tunnels are built the engineers must get in and build their cofferdams high enough to divert waters before they get into the excavation where the dam is to be made.

Drill Through Solid Rock.

These tunnels through the walls of the canyon, running parallel with stream bed, will be approximately circular with a 50-foot diameter. They must be drilled and blasted of the solid rock and their ca-capacity is designed to carry as big a flood as ever came down the Colorado. They will be lined with concrete. After the dam is built two of them will function as permanent spillways and the other two will carry water under full reservoir pressure for Boulder Dam's big permanent power plant. A net-work of smaller tunnels will also be dug out for power water.

The upper cofferdam, of course, will divert the waters of the river into the tunnels. The lower cof-ferdam will be designed to keep them from backing up into the excavation and building operations. For behind the engineers will be digging down a couple of hundred feet to find the dam foundation.

The proposed 41-mile railroad would tap some of the nearby gravel deposits and quarry sites. About half-way from the Las Vegas it would fork, one branch going to the top of the site and the other toward the bottom. The so-called residence level above the dam is about 1600 feet higher than the bottom of the lowest excavation. Latest information is that the railroad plan will be definitely adopted, though an aerial tramway, suspended on cables, has been suggested.

Although all these preliminaries are essential and require great expense and labor, the biggest single item of the job is the concrete for the dam. It is estimated that 3,- 500,000 cubic yards of concrete and 4,000,000 barrels of cement will be used to build Boulder Dam to its elevation of 1200 feet.

In Three Big Projects

There are three main projects in the general program:

1. The dam and reservoir.

2. The power plant—a million horsepower development.

3. The all-American canal.

The first is expected to cost about $70,000,000 and the other two about $40,000,000 apiece. Later on the city of Los Angeles—approximately 200 miles distant—plans to make the largest expenditure ever made on a city water supply by constructing a great aqueduct from the reservoir which will pump water for a lift of 1400 feet with cheap water. The maior section of this aqueduct will be concrete and the rest part tunnel and part pipe line.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

NO NATION THAT CAN HELP IT RECOGNIZES EXTRATERRITORIALITY IN ITS MIDST NOW-ADAYS EXCEPT AS A DIPLOMATIC COUNTRY

BY CHARLES F. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Except on a very small scale, as a diplomatic country, no nation of today will recognize extraterritoriality in its midst if it can help it. Diplomatically it still prevails quite generally.

That is to say, all foreign powers' official representatives in Washington, for instance, are supposed to be living in their native lands, subject only to their laws; not ours. They laugh at prohibition. Some of them laugh at our traffic regulations. Otherwise they might commit burglary or murder, and we could do nothing about it beyond asking their home governments to rank them hence in a hurry.

This is all right enough, with a corps of more or less respectable diplomats. Obviously it would never do applied to every foreigner in America.

Yet such is the system which China has to put up with.

There all Americans, Britons, Frenchmen, Italians, Japanese and the citizens of several smaller countries possess extraterritorial rights. Germans, Austrians and Russians also formerly possessed them, but the Germans and Austrians lost theirs through the World War and the Russians voluntarily surrendered Russia's, hoping to win Chinese friendship by doing it.

To illustrate how it works:

An American who gets into trouble in China must be turned over to his own nearest consul, to be tried by a United States federal judge—holding court right there in China, with a United States district attorney, a United States marshal and all the customary American personnel and accessories.

Naturally the Chinese howled that the extraterritorial foreigners get most of the breaks in the transplanted tribunals—whether the complaint be well or ill founded.

Of course nearly everyone assumes the explanation to be that the occidental nations—and the Japanese—like Chinese justice so little that they simply will not allow their citizens to be subjected to it.

It is the correct explanation. No—now; and has been for quite a while. The Chinese themselves feel that way about it. The new Nanking government considers that the lately established republic is intolerably humiliated by such a system. Strange to relate, the original idea was that the foreigners were the ones humiliated.

Anyway, it was thus that Sultan Suleiman the Magnificent regarded extraterritoriality in the fourteenth century.

Nobody ever forced anything he disliked upon Suleiman.

It was Suleiman who forced extraterritoriality upon the Christians in the Ottoman empire. Christians, he said, were a low-lived crowd of infidels who were entirely unentitled to be noticed by Moslem law. Consequently, they would have to get along with their own law if they wished to remain in his dominions.

They did—on an extraterritorial basis—until after the World War in Turkey itself, and to this day in Egypt and Morocco.

Americans never actually have had formally organized courts in Turkey, Persia, Egypt and Morocco, as they have in China.

The courts had to try their cases.

President Kemal Pasha ended it in Turkey proper in 1923. Some of the powers objected, but the new Turkey-American treaty is unratified yet, and extraterritoriality is extinct under Kemal, whose code virtually is Italian—plus the death penalty.

Persia followed his example in abolishing the "capitulations," as the extraterritorial agreements were called, about a year ago, and adopting a mixture of European laws for natives and foreigners alike.

Consular trials continue in the land of the pharaohs and in Sultan Mulai Mohammed's practically internationalized realm.

Aliens were extremely unwelcome in China and Japan when they first arrived in the far east. When finally granted a few trading ports it was much on Sultan Suleiman's terms—the Chinese and Japanese were too busy to bother with them—if they must litigate, they would have to do it among themselves.

Hence extraterritoriality on their soil.

Japan saw her mistake and corrected it in 1899. China is but just beginning to realize her error—just beginning to make a fuss about it, at any rate.

President Chiang Kai-Shek is mighty clamorous, in fact.

"Let's wait," he rejoins the powers, "until you adopt a set of statutes like the laws of the United States." Even the United States, with all our traditional friendship for the Chinese—declined, a few days ago, to waive American treaty rights until something definite is offered in place of them. "Then, maybe—by degrees," promises the state department.

The truth is, the Chinese republican government was too unceremonious for the rest of the world's peace of mind in grabbing the Eastern Manchurian railroad from Russia recently.

The capitalist powers may have smiled at the soviet's discomfiture—all the same, they have their doubts of the precedent.

Russia yielded extraterritoriality—and now look at her!

INTRODUCTION OF POISON GASES IN INDUSTRY CREATES NEW DANGERS

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The speed of modern life and the introduction of many new processes involving strange and hazardous chemical substances have brought new dangers to mankind. Often the human being is unaware of the risk he undergoes.

The great disaster in the Cile Clinic in Cleveland was a manifestation of the harm that may be wrought by a poison gas when it is developed in quantities suddenly where numerous people are assembled. The gas in this case was nitrogen dioxide. It is proposed to tell in this series of articles something about the various poisonous gases.

Probably the greatest number of fatalities due to poisonous gases are caused by illuminating gas carbon monoxide from the exhaust of motor cars and more recently gas escaping from some electric refrigeration systems.

Illuminating gas is carbon monoxide, while the gases used in electric refrigerators are sulphur dioxide, methyl chloride and ammonia.

During the past year, 29 persons were poisoned by gases from household refrigerators in Chicago and of this number 10 died. All these cases resulted from systems using methyl chloride, which is quite difficult to detect, because it has practically no odor, and from multiple unit systems. These systems are used mainly in apartment houses and the refrigeration unit is generally in the basement with the gas piped throughout the building.

"Every man pays for the amount of his own mind, and every man's wages increase in proportion to his ability to act as a boss or foreman of himself and others."—Alfred Kaufman, president, Link-Belt Company.

"Today, certainly, no man dare exercise his full legal rights over a woman in this country. He knows better and he has now rechristened his timidity. He calls it chivalry."—T. Swann Harding, (The Nation).

"The test of a law is public accord. When that is lacking the law becomes a hollow phrase devoid of living spirit. No amount of mechanical tinkering can make it a living thing."—U. S. Senator Robert F. Wagner.

"So long as individuality has a place in business, the small merchant will be able to compete even with giant stores and mergers."—Joseph H. Appel, (Forbes Magazine).

"Without free and rapid communication, a democratic continent is an impossibility."—Sir Arthur Keith.

"It cannot be true that any improvement has taken place in the drinking habits of our industrial workers that might not just as well, or even more notably, have taken place with the onward march of human progress, had the 18th amendment never been adopted."—Former Senator William Cabell Bruce, (Current History).

Among some Indian tribes it is improper for a mother-in-law to speak to her daughter's husband.

Today's Poem

THE ONE HOPE

When vain desire at last and vain
Go hand in hand to death, and all
Is vain.
What shall assuage the unforgotten
And teach the forgetful to forget?
Shall Peace be still a sunk stream
Or may the soul at once in a green plain Stoop through the spray of some sweet life-fountain
And cull the dew-drenched flowering amulet?
Ah! when the wan soul in the golden air
Between the scriptural petals softly blown Peers breathless for the gift of grace unknown—
Ah! let none other alien spell
soe'er
But only the one Hope's one name be there—
Not less nor more, but even that word alone.
—Dante G. Rossetti

COLLEGE TO BE RAZED

HAVANA, (AP)—Belen college, founded by Jesuits 127 years ago, is to be razed to make way for an extension of the Malecon, or sea wall drive. The interior department requested that the building, one of the oldest in the city, be vacated.

TRADES DAY POPULAR

TAHOKEA, Aug. 26.—Saturday trades day in Tahokea, drew one of the largest crowds of the year to town. The event is being held for the fourth Saturday of each month under the sponsorship of the Tahokea Chamber of Commerce.

Sugar is found in the sap of nearly 200 plants and trees.

The SHINING TALENT

By ELEANOR EARLY © 1929 by NEA Service Inc.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MOLLY BURNHAM, charming playmate of a former scene with BOB NEWTON and RED FLYNN. Bob has been drinking and insists that he wants his baby, Molly took the child when Bob's wife died, and now she lives in mortal terror lest he take her away. She has grown to love little RITA, as though she were her own child, and her whole life revolves about the baby.

After Molly gets rid of her quarrelsome callers, she writes a letter to her old sweetheart, JACK WELLS, who is going to Italy. She humbly admits that she is lonely and longing, and stays that she wishes they might go together.

Molly writes until breakfast time, when Red Flynn telephones to say that MRS. BULWER-EATON, a middle-aged millionaire's wife, has called with a letter. Leviathan. Then she destroys her letter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVIII

There were stories after that about Jack and Mrs. Bulwer-Eaton. They said that in the Bulwer-Eaton mansion there was a golden bathtub, with cupids painted on it. And they said that a French maid bathed the pomenians each morning in the gold tub. There were rumors that the two were married, although no record could be found of the marriage. It was whispered, also, that the old woman had adopted Jack, and would make him her sole heir.

European correspondents met the Leviathan when she docked at Liverpool. Mrs. Bulwer-Eaton was accompanied by her personal maid, a secretary, and two stalwart guards. With plenty of team work, the quartet fended off reporters, and Mrs. Bulwer-Eaton made a successful getaway.

Jack was not with her, and there was a rumor that he had gone ashore disguised as a steward. Still, the couple was never seen. Cameramen bribed the servants, and gained entrance to the various Bulwer-Eaton homes. They photographed the million-dollar bathtub. And the statues of Cupid and Psyche in the old lady's boudoir.

Feature writers did articles on the mosaic floor in the ball room, comparing it to the art of Nero's banquet hall. They described, in great detail, the rug woven in Tunis for Mrs. Bulwer-Eaton, depicting the characters of a famous comic strip. They counted the cut crystal chandeliers, and the gold handles on the bureau drawers. And, by the time they were through, half the world thought young Mister Wells had done pretty well by himself. And the other half thought he ought to be ashamed and shouldn't be allowed to live.

Everybody read the news but Molly. She had given orders that every word about the infamous Bulwer-Eaton-Wells affair be destroyed before the papers were brought to her.

nervously. "I'm sure I've no notion of getting married, or having a family, or anything of the sort."

"But you ought to. That's what's the matter with you, Molly. Your life is incomplete. You need a husband. Children. Requited love."

"Bob!" she appealed. "You make me sound like an old maid with a complex. Stop it."

He put his arm around her awkwardly.

"Now listen to me, little girl. We've been friends for a long time. Haven't we? We know each other pretty well."

She nodded, squirming uncomfortably.

"Well, I'm a fairly broad-minded sort of chap. I've stood back and watched you and Red Ryan, and I've kept my mouth shut. I believe that a girl should have enough experience to get a sane slant on love, exactly as men do. It gives them a better chance of happy marriage based on reasonable values."

"Sometimes, Molly, it's made me pretty sore, seeing you run round with Ryan. That night I came in, and found you in his arms..."

"Bob!" she cried.

"But that's all right," he went on. "If you hadn't played around a bit, the first man who brought through your guard to kiss you, would have given you such a devil."

HAD GIVEN UP
HOPES OF EVER
BEING WELL

"I Am Just Simply Feeling Great Since Using Orgatone," Says Lubbock Citizen

"I was in such a terrible condition, really, I had given up all hopes of ever being a well man again," said J. W. Gordon, of 1511 Ave. F, Lubbock, Texas, who has been in the plumbing business here for quiet a while.

"I haven't been in good health for two years," he continued. "My system seemed to be all run down, and my appetite was very poor and I just had aches and pains all through my body. Right after every meal, gas would form and blast me up until I would be miserable for hours afterward, and couldn't hardly get my breath. I had a bad case of constipation and had to take strong laxatives all the time."

"I was extremely nervous and couldn't sleep well at night, and would roll and tumble and when I got up of a morning I would feel worse than when I went to bed. I would have dizzy spells and would be very bilious. I was going down hill every day and knew that I needed something to put me in condition."

"Seeing Orgatone so highly advertised and recommended by everyone here in town, I decided to try it and it has certainly set me right. My run down, nervous, irritable feeling are gone and my appetite trouble afterward. All of my aches and pains have left me, and I sleep like a log every night and feel simply great. I see about Orgatone, for it has brought back my health when I had given up all hopes of ever being as well as I am today."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowens Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

FILMS DESTROYED

Lyric Theatre Has Slight Blaze Late Sunday

Two reels of film were destroyed while slight damage was done to the machine in a fire which started in the operator's room of the Lyric Theatre Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

No damage was done to the building, as chemicals quelled the blaze before any headway was gained. The house was practically empty.

CATTLE STOLEN

Buel Boles Loses Cow And Two Heifers Sunday

A cow and two heifers were stolen sometime Sunday night from the farm of Buel Boles who lives ten miles southeast of Lubbock, according to a report received Monday at the sheriff's department.

No clues have yet been located, according to a report last night.

Cotton Flounders; Stocks Go Down

Both Markets Are Hit By Irregular Buying Movement

Closing Comes After Day of Irregularities; Trading Shows Downward Trend On Weather Conditions

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Nervousness over weather conditions in the southwest and uncertainty as to the showing of the approaching end-month reports was reflected by comparatively quiet and irregular cotton trading today. After selling up to 18.80 at the start, December contracts reacted to 18.75 but recovered partly and closed at 18.76. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 3 to 8 points.
The opening was steady at an advance of 1 to 12 points in response to steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued dry weather in the southwest. October sold up to 18.81 and March to 19.17 on the initial demand, but these prices advanced considerably. Selling prices fell off to about 18.42 for October and 19.02 for March contracts during the middle of the morning, or about 5 to 9 points below Saturday's closing quotations.
Closing quotations were within two or three points of the lowest. Cables advised reported that hedging and liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and covering in the Liverpool market.
Port receipts today 27,404. U. S. port stocks 575,528. Exports, 5,861. Making 169,818 so far this season.

No Definite Trend Develops in Orleans
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Cotton fluctuated aimlessly here today without definite trend. An early advance met hedging and selling. December declined from 18.84 to 18.68. It closed at 18.70, or 5 points net down. The general market closed steady at net declines of 3 to 6 points.
Initial trades were unchanged to 2 points down. Prices rallied in sympathy with a higher opening New York. October sold up to 18.55 or 9 points above Saturday's close. On a decline, October hit 18.43 or 13 to 15 points down. The bottom final prices were near the lowest with October at 18.43 and January 18.76.
Receipts 29,322; for week, 49,610; for year, 285,160; last year 162,585. Exports 10,549; for week 10,588; for year 162,599; last year 199,302. Stocks 581,737; last year 499,186. Stock on shipboard 39,178; last year 54,630. Spot sales 30,797; last year 8,414.

Trading Is Dull On Chicago Wheat Board
Associated Press Market Editor CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Wheat prices rallied in a narrow range today, their tone depressed by liquidation in September and the absence of export demand. Trading was dull.
Corn sold down actively because of beneficial rains in the firing fields of the northwest. Closing quotations were 1 1/8 to 1 5/8c below Saturday's. A bushel under Saturday's final figures.
Wheat finished 7-8 to 1 3/8c down. Oats 1-2 to 3-4c lower, and provisions were weak, hard selling of 12 to 20c. Ribs and bellies finished unchanged to 7c down.
The bottom level of the day was about three cents a bushel under Saturday's final figures.
The visible supply of wheat increased 7,459,000 bushels to a total of 178,827,000, somewhat less of an advance than many traders had looked for. The increase last week had been 13,355,000 bushels. Corn supply diminished 1,306,000 bushels to 5,799,000.
Provisions were under strong pressure, lard particularly falling off rather sharply.

Steady Prices On Texas Cattle Held

FORT WORTH, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Steady prices prevailed on all classes of cattle here today. Light calves around steady with heavy calves around 25c lower. Steers 8.75 to 9.65, or about steady, 6.00 to 6.75. Cows and heifers this morning strong 5.25 to 6.00.
The calf supply was liberal. Bids 50c lower on heavy calves. Most sales around 25c lower. Heavy calves 9.50 to 10.50. Light calves sold at 11.75 to 11.25. The bulk calf calves sold around 6.00.
Stock buyers took several loads of calves at 10.00 to 11.25.
Heavy heifers 8.50 to 9.25. Sheep 75c lower. Shorn lambs sold at 11.50. Hogs five to 10 cents lower. Best rail butchers 10.80. Truck lot 10.35; heavy packing sows 7.50 to 8.25.

Corn Youth Recovering From Gunshot Wounds

Oscar Cothren, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cothren, 1118 7th street, who sustained a shotgun wound Friday night on a farm one and one-half miles southwest of this city, last night was reported as recovering rapidly at the Lubbock sanitarium. His condition at this time is thought not to be serious.
W. A. Wolfe, 74-year-old farmer, was released on $1,000 bond following an investigation, in connection with the shooting. After the inquiry he was charged with assault with intent to kill and was bound over to await action of the grand jury.

Madeline Kelly Has Turn For Worse Last Night

Madeline Kelly, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Kelly, 410 Avenue U, who was critically injured in an automobile accident August 11, last night was said by hospital attendants to have taken a turn for the worse after continued improvement for the past week. Exact nature of her condition could not be determined.
Miss Kelly received injuries in an accident which occurred at the intersection of Texas avenue and Sixteenth street when a car driven by Robert Austin, negro, collided with the one in which she and five companions were riding.

counties has resulted in a decision by the committee that some bill will be introduced at the next legislative session limiting the amount which any county or district officer may receive. Senator Parrish said.
Another situation which will be remedied by law if recommendations of the committee are accepted by the legislature is the one involving bonds of district and county clerks, members of the investigating group stated. The bond, set at $5,000, should be made higher, they agreed.
Interest from trust funds are being diverted to personal use instead of being distributed among wards, members of the committee said that investigation disclosed. In one instance, they said, a county official is receiving interest amounting to $4,000 annually. The committee will spend tomorrow in Waco.

Bull Campaign Is Struck By Deluge Of Profit-Taking

Downturn Comes After Assortment Of Premier Issues Go To New High; Tight Money In Prospect

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The rampant bull campaign on the stock market was resumed today, only to run into an increasingly heavy storm of profit-taking, to which was added a deluge of bear selling. About half of the day's previous advance was lost, and many issues depressed below the last week's closing quotations.
The downturn did not come until after another impressive assortment of premier issues had been sent up to record levels, many gains running from 5 to 9 points. A few inactive issues registered a maximum gain of 40 points. Operators for the advance centered in the rails and communication share.

Rails Rise To Record.
Associated Press Index of 20 rails, based on final quotations, rose about 2 points to 157. High record. The indices of 50 industrials and 20 utilities sagged moderately.

The prospect of tight money over the month caused some traders to hasten to take their profits. Call money was at 7 per cent. Time money unchanged at 8 3/4 to 9 per cent. Indications of rapidly increasing seasonal credit requirements of business were seen in a firmer undertone in commercial paper, little moving at less than 6 1/4 per cent, and a slight increase in bankers' acceptance rates for the longer maturities.

A few stocks reached new low prices for the year, notably Chicago and Eastern Illinois, down 6 points to 25, and Fashion Park, down 5 to 60.

Communications Up.
American Telephone and Western Union rose to new high levels, but lost some of their gains.

Allied Chemical advanced 12 points to a new peak at 348, but closed at 341 1/2. U. S. Coppers were heavily bought on prospects of higher metal prices.

Foreign exchanges were irregular with Sterling again under pressure, the demand rate dropping to $4.84 3/16, the lowest of the year. Sterling cables were steady at $4.84 25/32.

Seekers Satisfied

V. P. Crowe, of Oklahoma City, assistant attorney general of Oklahoma and representative Jim Nance of Walters, Okla., speaker of the Oklahoma house of representatives said they were satisfied with the action of the Texas committee. "We were of the opinion the Texas committee would vote to recommend to the legislature that the proposed compact be not ratified," Crowe said. "We feel action in leaving the matter entirely to the legislature gives us a good chance to retain the acreage."

Pair Of Blankets Recovered From Two Boys Here

City officers are this morning seeking the owner of a pair of blankets supposedly stolen from an automobile early last night, and found on two Lubbock youths.
The property is being held at police headquarters while the two boys, arrested in northeast Lubbock, are being held for investigation.

Population Jumps Three Sets Of Twins Born

Lubbock's population took a decided jump Saturday night and Sunday morning when Father Stark, not satisfied with doing things in a singular way, placed six infants, three sets of twins, in his best supported hammock and delivered them to three Lubbock families.
Two girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ford, 1710 Avenue H, shortly after 11 o'clock Saturday night. The mother and girls are doing nicely.
Death claimed one of the two born Sunday morning about 3 o'clock to Mr. and Mrs. J. Leberstein, 1225 Texas Avenue. A boy was still born, while the other, a girl, and the mother are reported doing well. Dr. J. P. Latimore was attending physician for the above families.
A girl and a boy were born from 2:15 to 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Rountree, 800 15th street. The mother and babies are doing nicely, according to Dr. O. W. English, attending physician.

County Attorney Vaughn Wilson Has Warning To Merchants Allowing Slot Machines Operation In Stores Here

Definite warning was issued Monday by County Attorney Vaughn Wilson to all Lubbock merchants that should they exhibit any kind of slot machine in their stores they will be liable to arrest and a penitentiary sentence of from two to four years.

Persistent efforts, on the part of certain companies through their representatives, have been made to place such machines here though they have been warned by county officials. One salesman from Dallas was in Lubbock yesterday and told officials that a group of Lubbock merchants had requested him to place a machine in their establishments. He was seeking permission to do so and was referred to Article 619 of the Penal Code of Texas.

Refuses Permission
His efforts seeming to be frustrated, the salesman declared that County Attorney Wilson "refused his permission through lack of courtesy to the merchants."

"I do not believe it is lack of courtesy which prompts me to try and save Lubbock merchants from throwing themselves into a prison sentence of not less than two years," said Mr. Wilson.

The article referred to of the Penal Code reads:
"If any person shall directly or indirectly employ or another, or through any agent or agents, keep or exhibit for the purpose of gaming, any policy game, any gaming table, bank, wheel or device of any name or description whatever, or any table, bank, wheel or device for the purpose of gaming which has no name, or any slot machine, any pigeon-hole table, any jenny-lynd table, or table of any kind whatsoever, regardless of the name or whether named or not, he shall be confined in the penitentiary not less than two nor more than four years, regardless of whether any of the above mentioned games, tables, banks, wheels, devices or slot machines are licensed by law or not. Any such table, bank, wheel, machine or device shall be considered as used for gaming, if money or anything of value is bet thereon."

The mighty ship of the air moored today after conquering the stormy Pacific on the flight from Tokyo. Reaching the coast line at San Francisco amid the rays of the setting sun yesterday, Dr. Hugo Eckener, its commander, circled the bay region and then headed for Los Angeles, hovering the city through the hours before dawn and headed for the morning mast as the new day broke.

Moored At 5:35.
By 5:35 a. m. the aerial visitor had been made fast and the happy passengers descended from the cabin.

There was Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer of many strange lands, who said the trip had been "marvelous" and a "wonderful experience." Equally as enthusiastic was Lieut. Commander Charles E. Endicott, hero of the Shenandoah disaster, who characterized the ocean crossing as the "finest flight" he had ever had. The other passengers expressed their enthusiasm in the superlative.

A 45-hour hop to Larchmont, starting about 11 o'clock tonight, was expected to complete the around-the-world cruise. Twelve days of actual flying, the shortest time in which man has gridded the globe, is believed by the Zeppelin officials an achievement almost within sight. Commander Eckener plans to take his 771-foot dirigible with 52 persons aboard along the southern route across the Rockies, and then move into the Middle West to pass through Cleveland Wednesday morning and land in Larchmont Wednesday night. The decision to cross the Rockies at night by moonlight was understood to have been made to take utmost advantage of climatic conditions.

The exact route of the Zeppelin will be determined largely by weather conditions, favorable winds being the deciding factor. However, if conditions are favorable the following cities and communities on the air lanes between them may expect to see the great silver cruiser of the skies.

San Bernardino, Cal.; Phoenix, or Tucson, Ariz.; Lordsburg, N. M.; El Paso, Midland, Texas; Oklahoma City, Muskogee, Tulsa, Okla.; Kansas City, Jefferson City, St. Louis, Mo.; Springfield, Chicago, Ill.; Toledo, Cleveland, O.; thence on through the Hohawk valley through Syracuse, Buffalo, Albany, New York and Larchmont, N. J.

It was the third lap, just completed, which added new laurels to achievements of Dr. Hugo Eckener, and in the opinion of many marked a new epoch in lighter than air commerce. This was the first non-stop flight ever made across the Pacific Ocean, a hop of 5,800 miles from Kasumigaura, Japan, Tokyo, to Los Angeles.

P. Edgell, which he said was typical of several cases.
The affidavit said Edgell, acting for Owen A. Talbot of Dallas, gave Col. W. E. Talbot of Dallas, $2,000. Col. W. E. Talbot, in turn, gave Col. W. J. Donovan, who was then assistant to the attorney general, in an effort to prevent proceedings against Wood. Talbot, Strang said, was a "political" friend of R. B. Cressler, who is a republican national committeeman for Texas.

Wood, however, was convicted, and Strang testified that Talbot's brother-in-law was "put in charge of the property which was worth upwards of a million."

So called prosecutions against "oil men," Strang continued, "are carried to the point of conviction and then their properties disappear."

Queen "Dead Boy" Out To Be

An unidentified boy, reported dead in an underpass on Plainview highway yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, proved source of mystery to officers and ambulance drivers.

Two Wichita Falls youths, hiking through the country, stumbled upon a boy about 15 years old lying in the underpass, and thinking he was dead after he failed to respond to calls and shakes, put in a call from the country club to Bynum Brothers stating that they had found a dead boy.

An ambulance was rushed to the scene together with officers and when they arrived nothing could be seen of the supposed "dead boy" nor the other two. The surrounding country was searched and the two hikers found. They stated that the youth, called of a party of boys scouts camped about six miles from the city, had started to town and evidently had fainted. Returning from the country club they discovered signs of life and administered artificial respiration.

He was revived before the ambulance arrived and disappeared.

Air Races

over the state of Ohio in four hours, 22 minutes and 59 seconds.

Other air derbies were headed toward the national air races. At Milwaukee, Wis., pilots in the Portland to Cleveland race, were holding over the night prepared to finish their race at the Cleveland event were to spend the night in Louisville and will finish tomorrow. The Oakland to Cleveland racers were headed for Omaha, Neb.

Lee Schoenhar of Los Angeles roared across the finish line at 5:25 p. m. completing in 13 hours and 50 minutes a non-stop flight from Los Angeles, where he took off this morning as the first entry in the Los Angeles to Cleveland non-stop air derby. His speed was 160 miles an hour.

Thrilled By Stunts.
While the crowds waited the arrival of the various racers they were kept thrilled by stunts and maneuvers of other pilots. The piercing whine of diving planes, the deafening roar of squadrons in battle trials made the airport a din throughout the day.

There was some anxiety felt when Ruth Elder failed to finish the women's air derby on scheduled time. She finally landed several hours late, reporting she had lost her way and gone to Akron, where she obtained fuel and her bearings.

Elder welcomed the delegation with cold lemonade, served by young ladies of the city, R. L. Allen, and Rev. Joe F. Grizzle, of that place, delivering addresses of welcome.

In the cooling shade of giant cottonwood trees, where the headquarters of "Billy The Kid" once were in existence, Coe Howard, former member of the New Mexico legislature; Mrs. Marie Cavanaugh, present legislator of that state, and Sam M. Seay, secretary of the Fortale chamber of commerce, welcomed the visitors and told the romantic tale of the change came over the Fortales section since the days of outlawry.

Portales not only has changed from a pioneer trading point to a bustling agricultural metropolis, but it is preparing to become a college city, with the building of the New Mexico State Teachers college there in the near future.

The personnel of the Lubbock boosters included, L. G. West, Mr. and Mrs. Morton J. Smith, George Benson, Mrs. W. A. Goodman, R. J. Murray, K. Carter, Jr., James H. Goodman, Wayne Hudson, Sheriff Wade Hardy, Alton Hudson, Garret Reeves, George H. Moore, E. Kancher, E. A. Tusha, R. M. Walker, Dr. George Smallwood, H. A. Anderson, Elmo Wall, T. E. Boyd, C. J.
