CHARGE WAS IGNITED

Aged Grandfield Man Unwittingly Stands Over Lighted Charge

DAVIDSON, Okla., Feb. 15. (UP)—Accidental explosion of dynamite setting in the bed of a small stream one and one-half miles east of here where a bridge is under construction, meted instant death to M. G. McKinney, Tillman county highway employe, late today.

McKinney, who was about 60 years old, was standing over the dynamite charge when it exploded. His body was blown several feet. It was mutilated.

McKinney knew the charge was set but did not know the fuse had been ignited, fellow workers said. He was clearing away other employes when the charge went off.

The body was taken to the Mohr Undertaking parlors at Grandfiled at 6 o'clock this afternoon, and will be held here pending arrival of five children, three of whom live in Dallas, one in Davidson, and one in California. No funeral arrangements had been made tonight.

MONKEY BILL WINS VICTORY

'Passage' Doesn't Count; Solons 'Get Hot'

AUSTIN, Feb. 15. (UP)—An anti-evolution bill won in the Texas house of representatives, 50 to 33, late today, but it was a hollow victory. The vote was unannounced for lack of a quorum. A quorum is 100.

According to the house parliamentarian, the bill is pending business for Monday. The house adjourned until Monday after the vote was taken. The vote, registered on the voting machine but undeclared by the speaker, has no effect.

Before receiving its favorable vote, the bill was amended to prohibit teaching as a fact that man evolved from a lower animal and teaching that the Genesis account of creation is false.

The Rev. J. W. Harper of Mt. Pleasant is author of the bill.

The author of the bill stressed the words, "as a fact." He declared the bill does not prohibit teaching evolution as a theory.

"You can't teach religion in the schools and you ought not be allowed to teach anti-religion," declared the sponsors of the measure.

"The Tennessee legislature is like a monkey on a lamb and wants the Texas legislature to jump on the limb and be a monkey, too," said Representative Jack Keller of Dallas.

"Tennessee found it a failure," said one side.

"Tennessee refused to repeal it," shouted Harper.

"We are just making monkeys out of ourselves discussing it," said Representative B. D. Richardson of Van Zandt county.

"I suggest we leave the topic and attend to state affairs," continued Richardson.

"You may claim your great, great, great grandmother was a monkey," said the Representative W. H. Wiggs of Paris. "My great, great, great, great grandmother was a lady. You may claim your great, great, great, grandfather hung by his tail but my great, great, great grandfather—if he hung at all—it was by his neck."

CITY'S WRATH MOVES CHICAGO POLICE TO ACT

Law Enforcers Get Orders To Close Every Underworld Dive

BUSINESS MEN IRED

Gang Executions Excite Windy City as Nothing Ever Has

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 (UP)—The doom of Chicago gangland was sounded tonight when State's Attorney John A. Swanson, who had called a conference of all law-enforcing officials to discuss yesterday's massacre of seven gangsters, ordered every "speak-easy" beer flat, gambling house and dive to be closed "tight" immediately.

"Every police captain in the city will be held to strict accountability for condition in his district," Swanson said. "When I took office and promised to wipe out racketeering and vice in Chicago I was promised the cooperation of the police department and I must have it. These vice conditions still exist and are responsible for the holocaust that occurred in our territory yesterday."

Officers Grim

The gravity of the situation was reflected in the group of officers in the room, including Commissioner of Police William F. Russell, Sheriff John E. Traeger, deputy commissioners of police and the captains of every district station in Chicago. Not a smile could be noticed as Swanson addressed the officers.

Following the conclusion of the conference, the state's attorney announced he had recommended that the Cook county board of commissioners voted a reward of from $20,000 to $25,000 for the arrest of the men who murdered seven gangsters in "Bugs" Moran's garage in North Clark street.

Jury Probe Asked

Simultaneous with Swanson's edict, the Chicago Association of Commerce in executive session made a demand for a grand jury investigation to determine if police officers were connected with the St. Valentine massacre.

In a statement issued following the meeting, the association stressed the need of an immediate reorganization of the police department, courts and prosecution agencies.

The association is representative of 6,500 business and professional institutions which employe hundreds of thousands of persons. The statement was addressed to the mayor, state's attorney, governor of Illinois, attorney general, and chief justices of municipal, criminal, circuit and supreme courts.

Shakeup Urged

"Chicago's progress and security," the statement reads, "depends entirely upon an immediate and comprehensive reorganization of all law enforcing agencies — courts, prosecutors and police — whether state, county or city, who are clothed with responsibility for the enforcement of law."

Chicago was aroused tonight as never before in its history. The extent of the incensed feeling at the continued murders and slayings laid to gangs connected with the beer and liquor industry was shown today when millionaires and civic leaders stepped forward voluntarily to serve on the coroner's jury.

Trio Jailed in Strange Death of Capitalist

GREENVILLE, Texas, Feb. 15. (AP)—Officials today considered calling a special grand jury to investigate the death of Glenn A. Coulson, 60, capitalist and retired jeweler, found in his hotel room shot to death early today.

Authorities worked together to solve the mystery of the aged man's death. Three suspects are held. The condition of the room indicated that robbery might have been the motive.

Dallas finger print experts were called to Greenville to assist in the investigation.

Monoxide Gas Kills Two Wichitans At Big Still

J. I. Williams and L. B. Gross Found Dead; One Gave Life In Last Effort to Rescue Companion, Officers Believe

Investigations following the discovery of the bodies of J. I. Williams and L. B. Gross, both of Wichita Falls, asphyxiated by monoxide gas beside a still on the Williams farm in Clay county Friday afternoon, may lead to a number of arrests, according to G. P. Jones, justice of the peace at Henrietta, who conducted an inquest over the bodies.

Verdict Returned

A verdict of death from asphyxiation from monoxide gas was returned by Mr. Jones upon the testimony of Dr. M. A. Beckman, Wichita county health officer. Dr. Beckman said the fumes had accumulated from the gasoline burners beneath the copper stills.

The bodies were discovered Friday morning lying beside the still in the basement of a new dairy barn 75 yards from the Williams home. They were found first by a friend of the Williams family, summoned by Mrs. Williams after she became alarmed at the prolonged absence of the two.

Wichita and Clay county officials who were called to the scene accepted a theory that Williams had first been overcome by the fumes and that Gross had first turned off the gas burners under the still and then attempted to rescue his companion before he himself lost consciousness. The position of the bodies and the fact that Gross wore a mask which had fallen away from his nostrils led to the theory.

Bodies Removed

The body of Gross was found lying squarely on its back, with Williams body lying face down across it. Williams face was between the feet of Gross, and his own feet near Gross' shoulders. Officers believe Gross may have been trying to drag Williams to safety. In an interview with County Attorney Glasgow Friday afternoon Mrs. Williams said she had no reason to suspect foul play or to believe that any one would plan injury to her husband.

Frank Morgan, constable of precinct No. 1 in Wichita county and John W. Saye, deputy, were called to the scene and assisted in directing the removal of the bodies and the examination of the still. The bodies were taken to the Merkle

Breathless Spectators Await Next Episode of 'What Became of Mamie?'

Just When 'Villain' Threatens 'Heroine,' Curtain Falls on First Week of Johnston's Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—The leading lady of Oklahoma's political drama was left in a thrilling situation today as Gov. Henry S. Johnston's impeachment trial broke off in the middle of the most intriguing story of the day, thus continuing it until next week.

Spectators left the senate court room wondering what transpired at a conference about two years ago between Miss O. O. Hammonds, former confidential secretary to Johnston; George D. Key, Democratic state chairman and Dr. Ernest C. Mobley, pastor of an Oklahoma City church. It was testified that the two had been delegated to persuade Mrs. Hammonds to resign her position.

To Complete Story

Mrs. Hammonds resigned only a few days ago, after Johnston was suspended from office.

Key and Dr. Mobley are to appear before the senate court Monday to complete the story, and neither would reveal the contents of the concluding installment.

Mose Anderson of Guthrie, secretary of the Oklahoma Masonic grand lodge, related the first chapter. He and eight other friends of Johnston held an all-night conference with the governor soon after his inauguration in 1927, Anderson said, and asked Mrs. Hammonds' removal. The tempest which has raged about the woman secretary's position already had gathered some momentum.

Masons in Conference

Johnston is a past grand master of the Masonic lodge in Oklahoma. The group of conferees included two other high Masonic officers, two justices of the state supreme court a district judge, Gus Wollard, chairman of the state board of affairs, Dr. Mobley, Key and himself, Anderson said.

The governor's friends told him, Anderson said, that Mrs. Ham-

BRITAIN WANTS CURB ON ARMS

Ambassador Announces His Country's Plans

By A. L. BRADFORD

(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

Setting a precedent, Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States, in an interview with the United Press, made public a formal and considered statement nouncing negotiations will soon be opened in a further effort "to reach an agreement between the principal naval powers of the world for the limitation of naval armament."

This statement from the British diplomat, which is believed to have been made only after careful consideration with the British government in London, may well prove to be the most important move for disarmament since the call for the famous Washington conference, as in the new effort all cars will be taken to avoid a failure such as that at Geneva.

"It would therefore seem," said Sir Esme in his statement, "that everything points towards an early resumption of negotiations, and, with a far better understanding of the needs of the respective parties than existed at Geneva in 1927, there should be a very good prospect of their being brought to a satisfactory conclusion."

Sir Esme Howard's statement in reality constitutes the first step in further disarmament negotiations and there is every expectation that it will be followed rapidly by a series of developments leading in the near future to another international conference on limitation of naval armaments.

OFFICERS JAIL LUNATIC AFTER GUN BATTLE

Escaped Asylum Inmate And Deputies 'Shoot It Out' in Field

ALL ESCAPE INJURY

Father-in-Law of Man Joins In Cannonade With Shot Gun

In the face of a fusillade of bullets fired at close range in a field northwest of town, Charlie Gant and Dick Morris, deputy sheriffs, Friday afternoon brought a prolonged gun battle to a close by the recapture of a former inmate of the Wichita Falls state hospital for the insane.

At least 15 shots were exchanged as the fugitive ran across the field, stopping at intervals to level a .38-caliber pistol, steady it with both hands and fire point-blank at his pursuers. His gun had been twice emptied and refilled for the third time before he stopped and waited, his hand on the loaded gun, for the officers to approach.

Officers Return Fire

His fire was answered by the guns of the officers, each of whom fired several times. He fell to the ground at one time during the chase and said afterwards that the fall was occasioned by the nearness of one of the shots. Mr. Gant and Mr. Morris said late Friday that they had been careful to avoid hitting the man as he ran, their shots having been fired in an effort to frighten him into a standstill.

The man, now held in the Wichita county jail, was convicted of lunacy in the county court here several months ago, according to the records. He escaped from the state hospital last fall, and since that time has been at work as a meat cutter in Dallas, he told officers.

Thursday night he returned to Wichita Falls in an effort to see his wife and children, living with his father-in-law on a farm northwest of town. He appeared at the home of his father-in-law early Friday morning. Shortly afterwards he drew his pistol and began firing, three shots being discharged within the house, one of them across a table where the wife and children sat at lunch.

Farmer Uses Shotgun

The father-in-law then resorted to his own shotgun, according to his account to the district attorney's office. He discharged a load of bird shot at the frenzied man, wounding him once in the cheek and leaving a network of tiny holes in his coat. The visitor fled.

A complaint charging assault to murder was filed with Mike Anglino, assistant district attorney, Friday afternoon. Bearing the warrant for his arrest, the deputies met the defendant in the road as they approached the farm. When he saw Deputy Morris jump from the officers' car, the accused man simultaneously drew his gun and began running. He leaped a fence into a field, both officers close behind him. Some of the shots were fired within a range of 40 feet, Mr. Morris said.

Subsists to Capture

In spite of the flying bullets, the pursuers went on with the chase. Mr. Gant had turned to drive the car in an attempt to head off the runner when he suddenly stopped.

Members of the district attorney's office had not determined the exact status of the case late Friday afternoon, although they indicated that a determined effort would be made to place the man in a confinement he would be unable to break.

ELECTRA YOUTH GIVEN 6 YEARS

Pettiett's Mother Hysterical As Verdict Is Read

Rudy Pettiett, 20, Electra youth, was given a six-year prison sentence for assault to rob a garage in Electra on Dec. 6 by the verdict of a jury in the 89th district court Friday afternoon. Pettiett was sentenced just 48 hours after F. L. (Chief) Eaves, indicted with him, received a seven-year sentence.

Both defendants claimed through the trial testimony that an enemy had lured them into an attempt to rob, and had then tipped off to Electra officers who interrupted the alleged attempted hold-up. Pettiett was wounded in the head by a bullet from an officer's gun said to have been fired when the defendant made a move to resist arrest.

Pettiett's mother, who had been at his side throughout the trial Friday, broke into loud cries when the sentence was read. She was led from the court room in hysterics. C. C. McDonald, attorney for the defense, again asked for a poll of the jury.

The testimony introduced by Sam Spence, district attorney, and George W. Anderson, assistant district attorney, Friday covered much the same ground as that offered in the trial of Eaves.

PAIR IN JAIL AT VERNON IN WALDEN DEATH

RIDDLED BODY FOUND

Youth Missing Since Sunday Found Shot to Death In Oil Field

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Feb. 15.—Vernon Donohue, about 28, and Raw Williams, about 24, employes in the Grayback oil fields, were in jail here tonight charged with murder and officers were seeking Oyse Jeffrey, likewise charged with murder, in connection with the death of Herman Walden, 21, of Rock Crossing, whose body was found this afternoon in a creek canyon near Hilltop, 23 miles southeast of here.

Donohue and Williams were arrested here soon after officers had been notified that Walden's body had been found. The third arrest, Sheriff R. L. Rheay said, is expected Saturday. The murder charges were filed in Justice of the Peace J. L. Justin's court by District Attorney John Myers.

Missed Since Sunday

Walden had been missing since Sunday. Investigation into his whereabouts was started here yesterday, when his father, Henry Walden, informed Sheriff R. L. Rheay that his son was missing, and that he suspected foul play.

The body was found this afternoon by Curly Meyers, manager of a Rock Crossing oil field casing crew, of which Walden was a member, and Albert and Henry Walden, brother and father, respectively, of the victim. Sheriff Rheay was notified immediately.

From evidence gathered by officers today, it was surmised that young Walden had been slain either late Sunday night or early Monday morning, after a quarrel with some companions in Hilltop. He is known to have been in Hilltop Sunday night, and is thought to have joined in a wager, an argument over which is believed to have caused ill feeling, according to Deputy Sheriff L. D. Campbell, one of Sheriff Rheay's aides in the investigation.

Wichitan Seriously Hurt When Boy Hurls Rock Through Car Windshield

A rock thrown through the windshield of a passing automobile by a small boy playing on Lamar avenue near fourteenth street about 8 o'clock Friday night was given as the cause of an accident which sent Robert Hayes, local fruit vendor, to the hospital suffering from lecerations and probable internal injuries.

According to accounts given Police Officers Ellis Summers and Homer Bentley by a man who was riding in the truck driven by Mr. Hayes, the rock thrown by the boy crashed through the windshield directly in front of the driver.

Mr. Hayes was said to have thrown himself back from the flying glass with such force as to pull the steering wheel loose from the steering post. The truck, traveling at a moderate rate of speed, crashed into a small coupe belonging to W. C. Thomas, 2104 Yale avenue, which was parked against the curb.

The injured man was picked up unconscious and carried into the office of Dr. Fred Gross, 1405 Lamar. The Burris-Shepherd ambulance transferred the injured man to the Wichita General hospital, where it was reported that full extent of his injuries could not be determined before Saturday.

The companion of Mr. Hayes was not injured, it was reported. Both cars were said to have been badly damaged.

Mr. Hayes, who lives at 104 Jalonia street, has been employed for some time by E. G. Barnes, local fruit dealer, according to information given by other produce dealers.

He had been sinking for the last three weeks and for about four months his health had been such that he had not engaged in active work. He was 80 years old.

His wife, Martha McFarland Stone; his daughter, Elizabeth Creighton Stone, and the two attending physicians, who also were old friends of Stone's, were at the bedside.

As general manager of the Associated Press, Stone made his greatest contributions to the profession of journalism. He went to Europe and established offices and bureaus of the Associated Press in foreign countries. He made exchange arrangements with foreign agencies whereby foreign news became available to American newspapers. FIVE CHURCHES AT WALTERS

Town Gives Support To Religious York

By C. W. ROGERS
Record News Staff Correspondent

WALTERS, Okla., Feb. 15—Walters is one Oklahoma town in which religious dissension and enmities arising from differences of opinions have no place.

The ministers of its churches and their congregations dwell in harmony on the principle that he who loves not others lives unblest, according to expressions from both ministers and laymen.

Men of all denominations, or none at all, fraternize at the meetings of the Loyal Men's Bible class, conducted by the Rev. S. D. Perkinson, minister of the Christian church.

At the meetings of the Rotary club Father Leo Claus is addressed as "Leo" by the Rev. Joseph L. Bandy, pastor of the First Baptist church, according to the Rev. Mr. Bandy, and the latter is addressed as "Joe" by Father Claus.

Elder F. J. Spivey, minister of the Church of Christ, emphasizes that he entertains the profoundest respect for the opinions of others earnestly seeking the truth.

The Rev. R. H. Lewelling, pastor of the First Methodist church, was taken to a Wichita Falls hospital late in January suffering from pneumonia and for a time his recovery was doubtful. He is now reported as convalescing.

New Building

The Rev. Mr. Lewelling, formerly of the Arkansas conference, occupied pastorates at Fort Smith, and later at Weatherford and Tipton, Okla. He was called to Walters in November of last year. The Methodist church structure here was completed during the ministry of the Rev. B. M. Nelson, now pastor of the Capitol Hill church at Oklahoma City.

The Rev. J. L. Bandy, pastor of the First Baptist church, is sometimes referred to as "the railroad preacher." He spent the early years of his manhood in railroad service and resigned from the position of yardmaster for the Frisco at Enid, Okla., to begin preparation for the ministry. After serving several years as pastor at Wilson, Okla., he came to Walters a little more than three eyars ago to become pastor here. During his ministry his congregation has increased to 462 resident members, a net gain of 150.

On July 1, 1928, the present edifice of the First Baptist church was completed at a cost of approximately $60,000, including equipment. The educational plant of the church, of which Mr. Roy Bandy is director, contains 40 rooms.

Man of Many Resources

The Rev. Leo Claus, D.D., pastor of St. Luke's Catholic church, came to Walters in May, 1925. In 1927 the new St. Luke's church was completed. Prior to coming to Walters, Father Claus was stationed for more than two years at Okmulgee, Okla. Father Claus is a graduate of the University of Louvain, Belgium. He received his degree in theology in 1922 and then proceeded to the United States.

Elder F. J. Spivy, minister of the Church of Christ, is a man of many resources. In the business life of Walters he is proprietor of the Spivy studio and gift shop. For four years he was in the United States army and when mustered out was technical sergeant in charge of the 23rd aerial photographic section stationed at Post field. He has mapped considerable of the southwest. He now is specializing in commercial photography and portraiture.

The Rev. S. D. Perkinson, minister of the Christian church, has occupied his present charge three years and in that time membership of his congregation has increased 50 per cent. Prior to coming to Walters he was stationed at Lawton four years. He instituted a Loyal Men's Bible class there that had a maximum membership of 454. Other pastorates in his long experience in the ministry included churches in Dallas, Waco, Taylor, Temple and Denton, Texas.

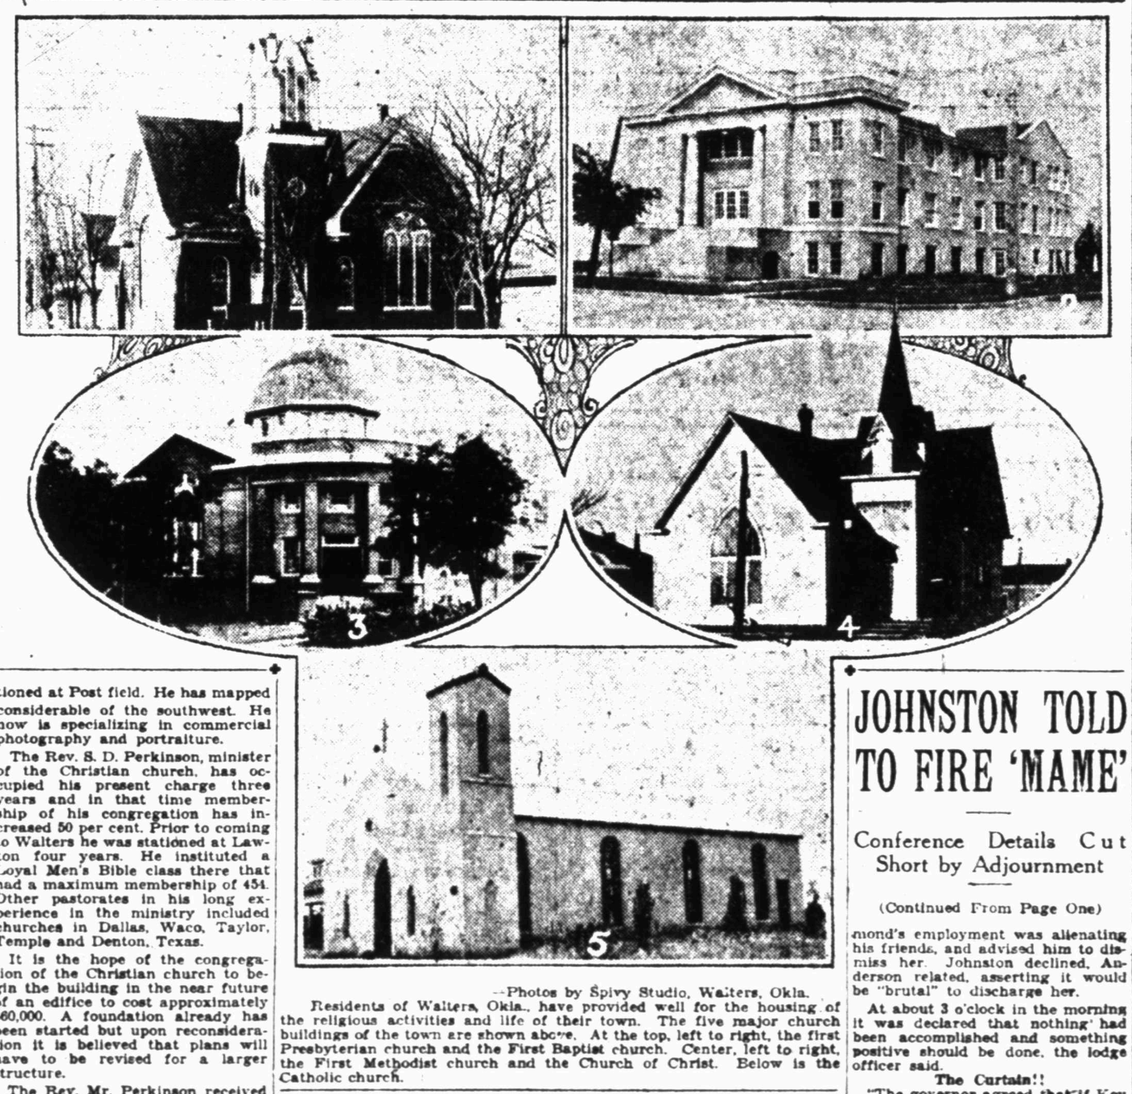

It is the hope of the congregation of the Christian church to begin the building in the near future of an edifice to cost approximately $60,000. A foundation already has been started but upon reconsideration it is believed that plans will have to be revised for a larger structure.

The Rev. Mr. Perkinson received his degree of theology from Transylvania college at Lexington, in his native state, Kentucky.

The service in the ministry of the Rev. John H. Green, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Walters, has extended over a period of 30 years since his graduation from Louisville seminary. Since his residence here, beginning last March, there has been 22 accessions to his congregation.

The Rev. Mr. Green was stationed at Graham, Texas, five years; at Tecumseh, Okla., three and a half years. Other Texas pastorates included Cooper, Ladonia, Detroit and Kerrville.

SARGON TREATMENT GIVEN INDORSEMENT BY JUDGE A. M. GRAY

"Only a remarkable medicine could do what Sargon has done for me. I was one of the first to put it to the test in San Antonio. I have been wonderfully benefited.

JUDGE A. M. GRAY

"For 10 years I have been in failing health. I was badly rundown, very nervous and had severe pains in my side. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep well, and would arise mornings feeling tired and worn-out.

"After meals I suffered intolerable pains from indigestion. If I ate heavy or fried foods I would suffer for hours from gas which would press up against my heart.

"I had to take powerful laxatives very often. I am thoroughly convinced that a badly disordered liver was responsible for my troubles.

"Sargon proved to be far superior to any medicine I ever took. My color is better, my appetite splendid and I have gained weight. I sleep well, and awaken refreshed and invigorated. I am stronger and my general health much better than for many years.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills along with Sargon, I believe, aided materially in my restoration to health. Their laxative action is dependable, and they cause no griping or cramping.

Monoxide Gas Fatal for Two

Undertaking company in Wichita Falls.

The first of a series of arrests is expected within 24 hours, Mr. Jones said Friday night, the uncovering of the still having developed a number of significant clues upon which both Wichita and county officers are working.

Sheriff W. G. Braley, S. O. Hamm, state highway officer, and Ellis Summers of the city police inspected the plant concealed beneath the dairy barn, newly constructed, Friday afternoon.

Elaborate Plant

The still room in which the two men were found Friday is one of the cleverest and most elaborate whisky plants ever uncovered in this part of the state, according to Ellis Summers.

The still was located in the cellar of the dairy barn and was so cleverly concealed that it could hardly have been detected by observance of the ground floor of the building. A trap door to the plant was built under a trough in one of the stalls, which lined the sides of the main floor. The raising of the fake trough opened the passage to the lower floor, officers asserted.

An elevator, the shaft for which was concealed by a large feed box, was operated from the cellar by means of a windlass and on this elevator the whisky manufactured in the 800-gallon still was raised to the main floor, Summers said.

Another fake trough on the opposite side of the building from the passage to the cellar served as a chute down which material for mash was poured into the deep vats which lined the walls of the still room. These vats were about 6 feet long, 4 feet wide and 3 feet deep, giving room for a large quantity of mash to be manufactured, Summers asserted.

The cellar and the room in which the whisky was manufactured was estimated by Summers as being 10 feet deep, 16 feet long and 12 feet wide. About 40 gallons of whisky in wooden kegs and several hundred gallons of mash were in the room, Summers said.

The room, according to Summers, had very little ventilation other than through the cracks in the elevator shaft. He said that it was probably an easy matter for the air to become impure in a short time when the gas burners under the still were being used.

No funeral arrangements had been made late Friday evening.

JOHNSTON TOLD TO FIRE 'MAME'

Conference Details Cut Short by Adjournment

mond's employment was alienating his friends, and advised him to dismiss her. Johnston declined. Anderson related, asserting it would be "brutal" to discharge her.

At about 3 o'clock in the morning it was declared that nothing had been accomplished and something positive should be done, the lodge officer said.

The Curtain!!

"The governor agreed that if Key persuaded her to resign he would accept the resignation. It was agreed that Key and Dr. Mobley should see Mrs. Hammonds at her home that morning." The senate adjourned. Dr. Mobley will be called to finish the story Monday.

Effort of Johnston's advisors was not the only one made to remove the woman secretary. A resolution was introduced in 1927 by Senator Jess Pullen, asking Johnston to discharge Mrs. Hammonds. The resolution was voted down, and Pullen in the present session has voted consistently in support of the administration. Late in 1927, when legislators were attempting to convene themselves in impeachment session, dismissal of Mrs. Hammonds was named by the dissidents as the price of peace. Johnston, in refusing, allegorically referred to her as a "ewe lamb" and the movement henceforth was dubbed the "ewe lamb rebellion."

Locks Are Changed

Further evidence of Mrs. Hammonds activities was heard by the house investigating committee. J. R. Spencer, capitol engineer, said he had changed locks on the doors of the governor's office a few months ago at her request.

"Mrs. Hammonds said too many keys were out and that she wanted the locks changed," Spencer said.

Most of the impeachment court session was occupied with testimony relating to the bureau of criminal identification and investigation, under supervision of the governor's office. Dr. J. Q. Newell warden of the state penitentiary, testified that Johnston took no action after he had been informed of alleged improper conduct by A. B. Cooper, operative of the bureau. Cooper was discharged after the house started its inquiry last month, and told the house investigating committee he had been accused of drunkenness.

TRIO CHARGED WITH SLAYING

Two in Vernon Jail, Third Being Hunted

was when he entered a car which stopped near him on the streets of Hilltop last Sunday night.

What happened after that, officers said, is not known, nor is the spot of the alleged murder known.

Piecing out facts they have obtained, officers worked on the theory that young Walden had been taken to the lonely creek and shot. When the body was found, the chest was discovered to have been riddled with shotgun slugs, and the chopped condition of the ground near the body indicated that one or more additional shots had been fired, Deputy Sheriff Campbell said.

Abandoned Car Found

An abandoned automobile was found about a quarter of a mile from the spot last Monday. This car, Sheriff Rheay said, today has been identified.

Sheriff Rheay and his deputies, accompanied by Justice of the Peace J. C. Justin, went to the spot where the body was found as soon as its discovery had been made known to them. An investigation was started by Justice of the Peace Justin, who later returned a coroner's verdict of "death from gunshot wounds."

The Waldens had lived in the Rock Crossing community for about two years. Young Walden leaves his father, four brothers, and two sisters.

The body of the victim was brought here, in charge of the Underwood Undertaking parlors. Funeral services tonight had not been announced.

Physicians Find Bullet Lodged in Head Of Negro

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15. (UP)—Physicians here who made an X-ray picture of the skull of William Stewart, 41-year-old negro, before releasing him from a hospital, where he was taken after a fall on an icy sidewalk, found a bullet lodged in his head. "It must have been there a long time," Stewart said. "My wife shot me in the head after a little argument 22 years ago."

NEW TRIAL FOR EAVES ASKED

Juror Prejudiced, Attorney Claims in Plea

Claiming that the jury which Wednesday gave F. L. (Chief) Eaves a seven-year sentence for assault to rob had heard other evidence than that introduced as testimony in the trial, C. C. McDonald, attorney for Eaves, Friday afternoon filed a motion for a new trial before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court.

The motion claimed that one juror, after qualifying as having formed no opinion about the case, talked to the other members of the body about the defendant and other people involved in the trial.

The defendant alleges that these remarks were made at a time when most other members of the jury were agreed upon a five-year sentence.

The motion asks that each member of the jury be called before the court so that his personal testimony may be obtained.

Judge Martin did not set an exact date for the hearing, but indicated that it would be the first week in March.

Check Writer Tries Same Store Twice—Lands in Jail

His first check was given to the store three days ago and had come back from the bank, and when he attempted to cash the second officials at the drug store called police headquarters.

The man made an attempt to escape by going into a nearby recreation parlor where he was pursued and arrested by W. P. Belcher and Ellis Summers, city officers. He was being held under charges of forgery and investigation Friday night at police headquarters.

BEWARE OF DIETS WITHOUT BULK

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Will Protect You

People are more careful than ever before about diet. They diet to clear complexions. They avoid certain foods to stay thin. They eat others to get fat. But many are running a serious danger because they are missing the "roughage" or "bulk" foods that every person must have to keep well.

As a result, constipation gets in its deadly work. Headaches, listlessness, circled eyes are only the first symptoms. In the end, constipation ruins health, wrecks beauty and may cause serious disease.

Don't neglect your daily roughage. That is nature's rule. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will supply it. A healthful cereal to eat each day. To use in cooked dishes or to serve with milk or cream. To mix with other cereals.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation—to prevent it. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. It is 100% bran. Doctors recommend it. Your grocer sells it. Served by hotels, restaurants, dining cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

REPUTATION OF JURIST SPLIT

Clark 'Played' Both Sides During Campaign

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15.(UP)—An alleged pledge of Justice J. W. Clark to vote a certain way on a suit pending in the supreme court in return for political support was told the house investigating committee today.

A large number of Atoka county citizens, Clark's home county, were before the committee during the day.

Testimony that Clark had denounced the klan in his campaign although a member of the klan was given by a number of witnesses. Clark in turn denounced anti-klan organizations when addressing klan meetings, witnesses said.

Clark's reputation in Atoka county as to ability and integrity is divided, in some quarters "ace high" and in others "deuce low" as one witness characterized it.

A number of the jurors who tried Clark's libel suit against the Tulsa World and O. O. Owens were to go before the committee. This trial resulted in a $50,000 verdict for damages for Clark.

C. W. Bailey, one of the jurors, testified that in his opinion Clark's reputation was as good today as it had been at any time in Atoka county.

Testimony that it was common knowledge in Atoka that M. E. Trapp would be held ineligible to succeed himself as governor prior to the court's decision in the case was given.

Lewis Blankenship, Atoka county farmer, testified that Jesse Phillips told him that Clark asked how he could get Phillips' support in his campaign for re-election to the state supreme court and that Phillips told him he would have to kick Trapp out as a candidate. Clark told Phillips that the court was going to kick Trapp out, Blankenship said Phillips told him.

Clark told Blankenship, the latter said, prior to the court decision in the Trapp case, that he (Blankenship) had just as well get the Trapp idea out of his head as the court was going to hold Trapp ineligible.

Among the witnesses, in addition to Bailey and Blankenship, testifying were Sam Butler, Milton Lee and T. L. Akers, all of Atoka county.

An appraisal of the value of the Fred P. Branson home at Muskogee was filed with the committee. This appraisal was made by S. M. Hillegoss, H. B. Lambert and John Philpin, Muskogee real estate men. They estimated the value of the property at $12,500. Previous testimony shows an effort was made to sell this place to Woosey John Deere, restricted Ute Indian, for $35,000.

Huge Dock Fire At Buenos Aires

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 15. (INS)—Shipping was imperiled by a disastrous fire which broke out this morning upon the Buenos Aires docks, where great quantities of inflammables were stored.

At noon the fire was still burning fiercely and several ships were in danger of destruction. The damage was then estimated at several million pesos.

Tanks, in which 8,000,000 litres of gasoline were stored, were threatened and the firemen concentrated their efforts to prevent the tanks from exploding.

Seven hundred American automobiles were among the frieght consignments destroyed in the pier sheds.

After a long, hard struggle firemen succeeded in getting the flames under control early in the afternoon.

Funeral arrangements for the two Hollingsworths have not been made. They were slain after an argument late Wednesday night with Lloyd Hollingsworth, according to the latter's confession to officers.

We Keep on Hoping

IN THE TOWN of Orrville, Ohio, a four-year-old boy was kidnaped six weeks ago. Since his disappearance the police have searched everywhere for him. Private citizens have helped. A famous private detective has been retained. But no trace has been found. Apparently he is gone forever.

But the boy's mother still keeps a Christmas tree lighted in the living room of her home. It was just two days after Christmas that the boy disappeared, and the Christmas tree was still standing. The mother has kept it there ever since, with the little chap's toys grouped around it on the floor. Every night the tree is lighted.

"He'll come back, some day," she says. "And when he does he'll be terribly disappointed if the tree isn't there. He loved it so much. So we're keeping it ready for him."

Strange, how people cling to hope. The hardest thing on earth, for most of us, is to accept tragedy at its worst. So long as there is the faintest gleam of hope we will hold fast to it, even though it stretches our misery out over many days and weeks. We can't get ourselves to face the ultimate calamity if there is any way of dodging it.

Yet it may be that this is a good thing.

How many of us are kept going by the fact that deep down we keep the faded remnant of an ancient hope that we long since ought to have discarded? Most of us, probably. We delude ourselves with worn-out dreams, and pretend that the hard reality is softer than it looks; and thereby we manage to keep at work and do our parts in the world.

Probably that's inevitable. All of us start out with high dreams and brave plans. We tell ourselves that some day—10 or 20 years hence—we shall have made the world our oyster and opened it. Perhaps we are after some very material bit of success in the workaday world, or perhaps it is a more vague desire to get rich experience and full development of our hidden powers; it doesn't matter, that early desire is the mainspring that keeps us plodding forward.

Unfortunately, most of us miss our aim by a mile. We fail to get the success we had in mind, we fail to achieve the full experience and the emergence of our latent abilities as we had planned; and if we made ourselves realize it, it would be too much for us. So we whistle to keep our courage up. We tell ourselves that some day, somehow, we shall get what we are after, and then everything will be fine.

The Christmas tree, blazing in that Ohio home for a boy who probably will never come back, is a symbol for all of us. And there is in it just a faint ray of encouragement. There is just an outside chance that some day that missing boy will come back. So it is with the rest of us; by a lucky chance, our hidden dreams may yet come true. So we keep on hoping.

Old and New Havana

HAVANA is rapidly becoming one of the favorite ports of call for the American tourist. The great influx of visitors has made the Cuban capital a "boom town"; hotels and shopkeepers are thriving, and the city is becoming Americanized at a rapid rate.

To the American tourist, Havana's chief charm—aside, perhaps, from the fact that Cuba does not have prohibition—lies in Havana's atmosphere of old-time romance. Relics of colonial Spain are found on every hand, and they constitute the city's chief attraction.

But a writer in the current Harper's Bazaar reveals that the Cuban finds these things extremely boresome. To him, the notable things about the city are its modern improvements. He waxes eloquent over the wide new streets, the electric lights, the Americanized suburbs, the up-to-date shops; while the American visitor, fleeing from just such things, spends his time looking for that which is out of date and quaint.

Medical Society Warns Against Monoxide Gas

THE Wichita County Medical Society joins this newspaper in warning the people of this section against the dangers of monoxide gas from heating stoves and the exhaust from automobiles. The danger is one that warrants attention from the medical society and a warning from such a source ought to carry the necessary weight to cause people to be cautious.

Hardly a winter has passed but there have been deaths here and in many other communities from this cause and all because ordinary caution was not observed. And the failure has largely been due to ignorance of the danger.

The saving of a single human life is worth a lot of precaution and until a very thorough warning is given the press and the medical profession will not have discharged their duty in the matter.

ADVICE TO MELON GROWERS

The United States department of agriculture has issued a warning to growers of watermelons advising that a reduction in acreage of 10 to 20 per cent be made. The department states that unsatisfactory prices may result unless the reduction is made. The report advises about the same cantaloupe acreage as planted in 1928, stating that the low prices for cantaloupes of last year was due to the unusual weather conditions which caused an overlapping of market seasons.

THE WAY WITH THE COMMISSIONERS

Well, folks, we all had a big time over at the courthouse the other day when we met with the commissioners court. Of course we didn't get anything we asked for, but then we're nothing but a bunch of puny, piking taxpayers and we aren't supposed to know what we want or how to get it. We'll say this for some of those who tried to make speeches there Monday—they would have been real good if they could have only been finished.

We are not much of a parliamentarian—we are a very poor excuse as a newspaper man, but we'll personally and individually guarantee each and every reader of this column that if a delegation of free born, white American tax-paying citizens ever call on us in our office for the purpose of working out a problem of vital importance, we'll try to give our visitors a patient and courteous hearing until the matter has been settled.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Billings and Bolt are a couple of New Yorkers who watch with hilarious interest what O. Henry (was it O'Henry?) called the whirligig of life. The other day they were discussing the day's news over their coffee in one of the few remaining Park Row restaurants where a man may linger over coffee without drawing a sour look from his waiter.

"My best item of the day," Billings said, "is the paragraph about the pickle."

"Pickle?" Bolt said. "What pickle."

"Chicago (A. P.)—Five years of experimentation, said Prof. George E. Starr of the University of Michigan, have culminated in the production of a seed that will grow a shapely cucumber.

"'Civilized Americans,' said Professor Starr, 'demand that their food be pleasing to the eye as well as to the palate.'"

Billings tucked the clipping back into a convenient vest pocket without shortening his grin by so much as the width of one tooth.

"What I mean," he said, "is that that seems to be a swell piece of news. What a world of possibilities it opens up!"

Bolt looked blank. "What possibilities?" he asked.

"Almost," Billings chuckled, "too many to name. Think, lad! This world is going to have beautiful pickles. Of course," he interjected hastily as Bolt was about to comment, "I'm aware this world has had beautiful pickles before. But since the Volstead act the old familiar brand has been illegal. But now see where we go. If pickles are to be beautiful what is going to happen to the sandwiches that pickles have always trimmed? Me, I've always been aesthetically irritated by the homely, square affairs that have been passed to me when I asked for sandwiches. Now, likely, I'll have my soul overjoyed by something chic or even recherche. For certainly if the pickle is to leap to the front of the style parade the sandwich dares not lay far behind."

Bolt began to grin. "I get you. You mean that this pickle pulchritude is going to go a lot further than the mere removal of the warts? You're probably right. In fact," he added, "after thoughtful consideration I'd say it ought to mean the entire beautification of the home."

"That's the idea," Billings cried. "Beauty everywhere. Why should there be any ugliness if mother is able to serve lovely pickles, pickles of entrancing shapes and contours?"

"It'll mean a lot down on the farm," Bolt reflected. "Heretofore the pickle—that is to say, the unpickled pickle, otherwise known as the cucumber—has been a lowly crop. The sensitive, beauty-loving agriculturalist has had to hide it behind cornstalks and potato plants. But now—"

"Isn't it the truth!" Billings cried. "Now we'll find lovely pickles, like morning glories, adorning the roadside fences. And every old-fashioned garden, in among the asters and peonies, the phlox and nasturtiums, the bachelor buttons and the snapdragons, will have a centerpiece of verdant pickle vine."

"And imagine what is going to happen to art," Bolt added. "Especially in the field of still life. When you come to think of it, these poor painter devils have been handicapped there with nothing but apples and such to work on. Now it'll all be different. And how! Two, three years ahead there'll be a big hurrah from the Metropolitan Museum, and the newspapers will all tell about how the most important space in the gallery of moderns has been given over to 'A Pickle,' by Sergeant, Junior."

"We've been overlooking the blow that is going to be struck at all the Fifth avenue window displays," said Billings. "For after all what chance will even the most alluring negligee have against a pickle after the pickle has been beautified? What'll happen is that just as soon as these shapely pickles get a national distribution there'll be no one looking into the Fifth avenue windows. No one at all. They'll be bunched, to the last, eager-eyed, beauty-loving soul, in front of the delicatessen shops a block further west."

"Maybe not," Bolt observed after a moment of thought. "Because if the pickle is going to be shapely enough, lovely enough, to draw crowds, the French modistes will hop onto it. They'll, so to speak, pickle everything. We'll have the Lady Duff Gordon Pickle gown and Poiret's Picklette for flappers. And in the society columns we'll read that Mrs. Astergould was ravishingly gowned in a Paris creation with Chantilly lace in a pickle motif. We'll have Pickle bonnets, Pickle everything. And why not? If people stand for ugly alligator shoes, they certainly oughtn't to object to a pickle or two on a dress or loque."

"It'll be the salvation of the jewelers," said Billings. "They've been working the same old ideas over for centuries. But now, when Mrs. Vanderbelmont goes down to Tiffany's for something that the common herd isn't wearing she can come away with a cute little $80,000 diamond-decked necklace of pickles in the very newest shape devised by Professor Starr."

"What I'll bet," said Bolt, "is that after the poor old pickle has been glorified beyond anything that Ziegfeld ever did for the American girl, some carping reformer will come along and object to its ugly name."

"I doubt it," Billings said decisively, after all, a pickle by any other name—"

"That costs you the check," Bolt said, getting up.

FAVORITE JOKES OF FAMOUS FOLK

As Told by Them to FRANK E. NICHOLSON

By MACK SENNETT

Meet Mack Sennett—Hollywood's Knight of the Bath. The majority of today's up-and-up movie actresses first worked in Mr. Sennett's movies of bathing beauties. Tradition has it that there was once a bathing beauty who could swim, but she did not have to—being a bathing beauty is, after all merely a matter of form.

MACK SENNETT

"This favorite story of mine," Sennett said, "might be called 'The Spirit of Chicago.'

"Anyhow, the woman in the story had gone to one of these analysts to be socko-analyzed. The psycholanalyst told her that there was a thread of insanity in her family. She rushed home to her husband.

"'Oh, George,' she exclaimed, 'the psychoanalyst told me that there was insanity in my side of the family. Isn't it wonderful! Just think—I can shoot you whenever I want to!"

ART CRITICS IN WRANGLE

Genuineness of Painting Is Contested

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (INS)—Georges Sortais, French art expert, and Sir Joseph Duveen, British art connoisseur, today locked horns through the written word—at the Duveen $500,000 libel suit.

Sortais, art expert for the tribunal of the Seine, Paris, in a deposition declared that the painting "Le Belle 'Ferroniere" owned by Mrs. Andree Lardoux Hahn of Kansas City, the plaintiff, is a genuine Leonardo da Vinci, and not a copy of the Louvre painting. Sir Joseph has stated in writing that the Hahn painting is only a copy.

Sir Joseph testified:

"The right eye in the Hahn painting is bead-like. It is too large and out of perspective."

Sortais deposed:

"The eyes in the Hahn painting are well set and perfectly drawn. There is not the slightest weakness in the face. It was executed by a great master."

The deposition of Sortais described the Hahn painting in detail, declaring that he had examined it at the Paris home of Madame Montrot, Mrs. Hahn's godmother, who gave it to her for a wedding present.

"The construction and setting are unattackable," said Sortais. "I attribute it in full confidence to the brush of Leonardo."

A True Story "Seems Too Good To Be True"

"I HAVE HAD a wonderful experience with Cardui, and I am indeed glad to tell women who are suffering from ill health about it," writes Mrs. R. A. Webb, 2309 McKinney Ave., Dallas, Texas.

"I first started suffering when I was about thirteen years old. I had severe pains in my side and back, and would have to remain in bed for several days at a time—without energy for anything. Nothing seemed to relieve me.

"I wouldn't give up—I still felt like there was something that could be done. Some friends who came to see me asked if I ever took Cardui. I told them I had taken almost everything else but Cardui. So they insisted that I order a bottle while they were there, and I did. After I took the third bottle, I had a good appetite, began gaining in strength and began to think life was really worth living.

"Sometimes when I think back over my condition it seems too good to be true. I only weighed 90 pounds when I was in such health, and now I weigh 125 pounds."

CHIC AFTERNOON FROCK OF SATIN

Pattern 1412

For women of discernment, the smartest thing for afternoon wear is satin, fashioned into a softly flattering frock as shown in design 1412. Two tones of fabric are decidedly chic, especially when introduced in sweeping diagonal lines, so slenderizing and becoming to every figure. A fracefully draped cascade adds that bit of femininity voiced by fashion.

Brown and beige satin create a stunning gown for all occasions, the bodice of the lighter shade. A pert bow of brown satin lends charming finish at the shoulder. Note how the narrow belt passes through the jabot at the waistline and clasped by a dainty buckle. Another smart suggestion for this model would be both sides of crepe satin, the dull side used for the bodice.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44.

Size 38 requires 3½ yards, 40-inch material.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of 15 cents in coins carefully wrapped stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Record News Pattern department, 243 W. 17th street, New York city.

Man Who Sins Pays and Pays And Pays, Dot Tells Young Oat-Sowers

That Expensive Crop of Wild Oats—What Are a Woman's Privileges?—"Who Is This Dorothy Dix?" Cry Some Doubting Readers.

Dear Dorothy Dix—We are a couple of sheiks who are busy sowing our wild-oat crop. We stay out nights. We go on wild parties with wild women, and raise Cain generally. But sometimes we wonder if this is leading us to a manhood in the real sense of the word. Last night we had an argument about it with some other collegians, and they contended that we were right, that youth must follow its course, and we must have our fling while the blood ran hot in our veins. What do you say?

—ALPHA AND BETA.

Answer: I often wish that some philanthropist would endow a chair of Moral Agriculture in our colleges that would teach young men the cost of raising a wild-oat crop, and prove to them by facts and figures that it is a disastrous business that will almost surely land them in bankruptcy for life.

For the trouble with boys is that they are too young to have found out that when we dance we always have to pay the piper. They think that they can have a wild time and go the pace that kills, and when they get tired of rackstering that they can cut it all out and settle down, and that will be all there is about it. The past will be past, and they can go on with the future. They think they can plant thistles and gather figs, and that the wild-oat crop they have sown will never come up to bother them.

Never was there a greater mistake. Never was there a more erroneous belief than that while the woman who sins must pay for her wrongdoing, the man who sins goes scot free. He also must pay, and pay, and pay.

Let's count up the cost of the wild-oat crop you are sowing and see if it is worth what you are paying for it. You are spending your nights in wassail. That means you are neglecting your studies. You are throwing away your opportunities for a good education, and that is something you will pay for the balance of your life.

You have the opportunity to acquire culture that will give you poise, and charm of manner, and make you not only an interesting companion for everybody else, but for yourself. You have the opportunity of storing up information that will serve you at every turn, no matter what business or profession you elect to follow. You are given the opportunity of developing your mind so that you can get the very most out of whatever brain power God gave you.

But you are not doing it. You are letting your chances for an education slide by. You are loafing through college, and you will pay for it by being hampered by your ignorance, and by having formed habits of idleness that will take you years and years to break, if you ever do. Pretty steep price for a few good times, isn't it? You are drinking too much. Most of the seed of the wild-oat crop is kept in a bottle. You don't mean to be a drunkard. No man starts out with that intention, and you intend to cut out drink after a while. Perhaps you will.

To your dying day, however, and that will be twenty or thirty years sooner than it should be, you will be paying for the things that the vile, raw liquor, that is all that any college boy can buy now, has done to your stomach and nerves. Dyspepsia, diabetes, Bright's disease, frazzled nerves, that is the price tag on drinking when you are young.

And the wild women with whom you go on wild parties. They are the most costly item in all the wild-oats bill of expenses. Don't delude yourself into thinking that petting parties are cheap. Don't fool yourself into believing that when you get tired of Mamie and Sadie you can kiss them good-by and ride away. Far from it. They will hang on as long as you have a dollar in your pocket.

Or if you have the misfortune to have a rich father, one of them will marry you when you are half drunk and full of alcoholic sentiment, and you will find yourself tied to a wife for whom you have neither affection nor respect. Or you will be made defendant in a disgraceful breach of promise suit. Or blackmailed.

Every day you read in the paper about some young fool at college who has been married to some woman old enough to be his mother while they were out on a wild party. Or of some boy whose parents are trying to buy off a gold-digger who has got her clutches upon him. Or of some man who has been shot and killed by some woman he was trying to get rid of. Every day you see on the street men who should be at the height of their vigor in mind and body who are premature senile. Men shaking with Saint Vitus dance, rheumatic hobbling along on their canes and dragging their feet an inch at a time, who are paying for the wild-oat crop they sowed in their youth.

Believe me, son, the most inexorable law in all nature is that as we sow, we reap. Figure it out for yourself and see whether you are going to want to harvest the crop you are planting when you are spending your time at college running around at nights, and drinking and going on wild parties with wild women. —DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Do you think women have too many privileges?

—ANXIOUSLY WAITING.

Answer: If women have any privileges, I don't know what they are.

I have heard people speak of women having the privilege of voting, but that is merely their right, since they live in a country that grants the franchise to all of its citizens. I have heard people speak of women now having the privilege of following any gainful occupation they choose, but certainly it seems to me that women have a right to earn an honest living. I have heard people speak of it as a privilege that women are able to travel alone, and go to places of amusement alone, and, if they inherited money, to have control of their own fortunes. But surely these are nothing but mere human rights.

So what especial privileges have women? They are amenable to the laws as men are. They have to give as good work, or better, than men do to hold down a job. Mrs. Grundy deals twice as hard with them as she does with men when they step aside from the straight and narrow path, and they haven't the privilege of picking out their own husbands.

So what are women's privileges?

Are you miserable half of the time—a needless slave to sore throat?

At the first sign of sore throat, gargle with Listerine, full strength. Time and time again it checks sore throat before it gets serious.

Because Listerine, full strength, is powerful against germs that cause colds and throat irritation. For example, it kills even the stubborn B. Typhosus (typhoid) germ in 15 seconds. Repeated tests prove it.

You will be delighted to find how quickly Listerine checks ordinary cases of colds and sore throat. When it does not, call your physician.

Our helpful free book, "Personal Hygiene," is worth having. Write to Dept. S. 82, Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

—And for COLDS

Countless colds start when germs are carried to the mouth on food. By using Listerine on the hands before every meal, you attack such germs and lessen the risk of cold. Remember this, mothers, when handling baby's food.

Famous food scientist urges sugar in diet

"Make your foods more palatable," he suggests

WE RECENTLY went to one of the country's great universities and asked an eminent food scientist his ideas about sugar in the diet. "Sugar is the most inexpensive condimental food in the world," he said.

Then he went on to explain what he meant in detail. "Sugar makes the diet more palatable," he said. "Sugar is Nature's incomparable flavor. Sugar is one thing that makes the daily dullness of our overly refined foods endurable. Another thing, it is wholesome. Another thing, it is inexpensive."

This famous man has hit it. Sugar is perfection in sweetness. It is the ideal flavor—also a food.

Think of how good foods are made delightful to the taste by the addition of sugar. What could be better for us than grapefruit, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, baked apples or stewed dried fruits of all kinds, fresh or canned berry pies, cereals, jellies and jams? All of these are examples of excellent foods full of minerals, vitamins and other health elements made delightful to the taste by the addition of sugar.

Sugar in connection with cocoa or chocolate can make milk into a delicious beverage for thousands of children and adults, who find milk more tasteful when sweetened. The flavors of nearly all vegetables are improved in the cooking by the addition of sugar.

There is no substitute for sugar in good cookery. The sugar way is the happy way. The Sugar Institute.

ELECTRA, IOWA PARK, CLARA AND BURK IN CAGE SEMI-FINALS

PLAY RESUMES THIS MORNING

Survivors Clash Tonight On Hawks' Floor for Title

By a Staff Correspondent

IOWA PARK, Texas, Feb. 15.—Electra, Iowa Park, Clara and Burkburnett high school compete in the semi-finals of the Wichita County Interscholastic league basket ball tournament, Clara by drawing a first-round bye and the remaining three by winning their games Friday night in the Iowa Park high gymnasium.

A dark horse loomed in the tournament when Electra upset the dope in defeating the Cashion Cats in the opening game of the senior competition, 28 to 20. Cashion had been established as the tournament favorite.

Iowa Park advanced by beating Valley View, 39 to 9, and Burkburnett eliminated Fairview, 28 to 20.

Semi-final Matches

Semi-finals in the championship division will be played Saturday morning, along with the semi-finals in the intermediate class. Clara plays Electra and Iowa Park tangles with Burkburnett in the senior games. In the intermediate division, Electra plays Clara and Fairview meets Allendale, the first of the four games starting at 9 o'clock. The tournament closes Saturday night with the final in each division, starting at 7 o'clock.

The Electra Tigers were the best of the six teams on the court Friday night in defeating Cashion. Electra had not been strongly considered, but its victory of tonight makes it a heavy favorite to sail on through the county competition and into the district meet.

Tigers Lead Cats

The Tigers' short passing attack early ran up a long lead over the Cats, whose long loopers were not making connections with any regularity. The half found the Bengals leading, 19 to 5, with Cashion failing to register a field goal. The Cats came along speedily in the third quarter and closed the gap to 21 to 16, with Electra failing to sink a field goal in the period. At the start of the final quarter Lepley and Owens dropped in long heaves to cut the lead to a single point, but Captain Cloninger slipped in under the basket to count two short ones and then added a difficult shot to cinch the decision for the Tigers.

Iowa Park had an easy time in disposing of Valley View, but was none too impressive in so doing, while the Burkburnett Bulldogs had to hustle all the way to beat out Fairview by eight points.

Clara Junior Victor

Clara won the first championship of the Wichita county scholastic basket ball tournament when the high school juniors defeated Electra, 20 to 19, in the finals of that division early tonight on the Hawks court.

It was a thrilling game with the issue in doubt all the way.

Clara won its way into the finals by defeating Iowa Park, in a game that was in doubt all the way, 8 to 6. Electra buried Burkburnett Ward juniors under a score of 61 to 12 in its semi-final game.

Fairview defeated Burkburnett high, 22 to 16, to win its way into the semi-finals of the intermediate division. Lineups:

Will the Old Man Get Him This Year?

Texas-Ags Hold Sway Turkey Day

Other Teams Finish Season On Saturdays

WACO, Feb. 15. (AP)—The annual Thanksgiving day football game between Texas university and A. and M. college this year will hold undisputed sway on the Texas turkey day gridirons.

Athletic council of S. M. U., Rice institute, T. C. U. and Baylor university, other members of the conference, have ratified the action taken several weeks ago in Dallas when it was suggested that these schools make other dates for their final football games in order that interest might be centered on the annual Longhorn-Aggie contest.

Under the plan, T. C. U. and Baylor will meet Nov. 23, Rice and S. M. U. Nov. 30.

Contracts have been signed for 1930 on the same dates. According to this plan Rice, S. M. U. and T. C. U. will have an opportunity to book a game with the Arkansas Razorbacks.

5 NEW PILOTS IN BIG SHOW

That Is, Counting Harris, Who Merely Shifts Jobs

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (UP)—Five major league clubs have changed managers since the start of last season.

The new American league managers are Walter Johnson at Washington, Lena Blackburne at Chicago and Bucky Harris at Detroit. The new National league managers are Judge Emil Fuchs at Boston and Billy Southworth at St. Louis.

Of the four new managers who started the 1928 season, two made good and two failed. Those who were retained are Burt Shottor, pilot of the Philadelphia Phillies, and Roger Peckinpaugh, leader of the Cleveland Indians. William B. McKechnie was deposed as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals despite the fact that his club won the national league pennant. Jack Slattery resigned as manager of the Boston Braves near mid-season and was succeeded by Rogers Hornsby, who was sold to the Chicago Cubs during the winter.

Johnson Leads Solons

After one season as manager of the Newark International league club, Walter Johnson will return to manage the Washington Senators, succeeding Bucky Harris. Johnson broke in with the Seantors in 1907 and completed 21 consecutive seasons as a pitcher before he resigned at the end of the 1927 season to take charge of the Newark club.

Fired by Clark Griffith, Bucky Harris was engaged as George Moriarty's successor at the helm of the Tigers. Harris, the youngest manager in the majors, was far from a failure at Washington. In five seasons as manager of the Senators, Washington never finished out of first division.

Johnson and Harris both have inherited good ball clubs and the spectacle of seeing two former teammates battling for the pennant along with the Yankees and Athletics is by no means an idle dream.

Arena Built in 10 Days

Lena Blackburne succeeded Ray Schalk, now John McGraw's first lieutenant, as manager of the White Sox July 4 last season. Blackburne impressed Charles Comiskey with his ability to handle the White Sox and was reappointed for the coming season.

Southworth Returns

Billy Southworth will be the Cardinals' fifth manager in five seasons. Only 34, he will be the youngest in the majors. Southworth demonstrated the qualities Breadon and Rickey want in a manager at the Rochester farm last season when he piloted that club to the International league pennant in his first attempt at managing a team.

Southworth has played with the Indians, Braves, Pirates, Giants and Cardinals as an outfielder and will try for the right field berth on the St. Louis club the coming season.

Judge Fuchs, president of the Braves, never played professional baseball, but he hopes, with the aid of Johnny Evers and Hank Gowdy members of the 1914 miracle team, to instill new life into the Boston club.

This experiment with a former New York City magistrate as manager may result in the Braves' becoming an even worse joke than they were last season. Whatever success the Braves enjoy probably will be entirely up to Evers and Gowdy.

PARIS JUNIORS WIN

PARIS, Texas, Feb. 15. (AP)—Paris Junior college won the first of a two game basketball series with Gainesville Junior college here tonight, 47 to 28.

Bootleggers' War Is Blamed in Slaying

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—Police today believed a bootleggers' war may have caused the death yesterday of Jasper Guiotta, section laborer, whose body was found on a lonely road three and a half miles north of Pittsville, Mo. Thirty barrels which had contained mash, a heating device and three barrels of empty whisky bottles were found by police in the man's home.

A theory that Guiotta may have worked as a section hand by day and as a bootlegger by night, was advanced by police.

MIAMI BEACH ARENA READY

40,000 Seats Available For Strib-Sharkey Battle

By FRANK GETTY

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 15.—A picturesque and sturdy fight arena, its vast expanses of Florida pine gleaming in the sunlight against a deep blue background of sea and sky, stands ready today for an anticipated attendance of 40,000 at the Sharkey-Stribling fight.

The first proof of the success of any fistic venture of consequence is its arena. Contracts with fighters, even the actual sale of tickets, never convinced the average human being half so much as a look at the seats themselves, stretching away in every direction from the ringside, rising in orderly tiers towards the sky.

Arena Built in 10 Days

"Mike" Carey, brother of "Bill" Carey, the promoter, has built this arena with good natured energy in the record time of ten days. While "Bill" has been dressing up for the social functions at which a promoter's attendance is required, "Mike" has had his coat off, acquiring sunburn and blisters beneath the hot sun, which beats down upon what formerly was the flaming Park Golf course, a level expanse strewn with waving cocoanut palms, a stone's throw from Biscayne bay.

There is room in this arena for more than 40,000 spectators as it stands, but it can be enlarged upon short notice. Already the advance sale of tickets has been such that "Mike" is busy extending the upper tiers of seats still farther back towards the waters of the bay on one side and the ocean on the other.

May Be Permanent

The arena is as sturdy a one as ever a fight fan stepped into. The lumber used has been cut two inches thicker, in some cases, than required by Florida building laws. "Mike" has provided a play-place which may yet remain as a permanent addition to Miami Beach.

At present, Carl Fisher, whose word is all but law in these parts, objects to permitting the arena to remain on Flamingo park after the fight on the 27th. Unless this arena is left standing or another built to replace it, it is doubtful if the Madison Square Garden corporation will consider holding another important heavyweight fight here next winter. On the other hand, if Miami Beach had a permanent arena, these fights certainly would come to be annual fixtures.

DAILY DOPE

By LARRY DAILEY

REFUTATION OF the argument of those pessimistic persons who are inclined to bewail that the present younger generation isn't all that it should be, a plaint doubtless held by some "view with alarmers" of my father's day and of my father's father's day, is to be seen in the basket ball gymnasiums of Texas this week and next. There are, to be sure, youths who carry hip flasks and girls who smoke cigarettes. But my contact with the so-called "flaming youth" has given me the idea that the boys and girls of today are, as a whole, pretty much all right.

Look at the basket ball games, for example. You will find your scholastic student concerned with how their team comes out in these tournaments, and not with where to buy a drink of gin or the latest sweetie. Boys and girls of high schools of the southwest, and I am referring particularly to Texas and Oklahoma where my work has been in the last two years, are a wholesome lot. Indeed, on the average, I would wager that you would find your prep student in this part of the country at least equal, yea, SUPERIOR to the average oldster in moral turpitude.

THERE IS nothing radically wrong with the youth of today when it confines its interest to athletic contests and other scholastic affairs as do the boys and girls of Texas. So the basket ball tournament do something more than settle championships; they provide a most excellent outlet for the energies and enthusiasm of the students.

EARL THOMAS of Paducah, Texas, takes pen in hand to write in and tell me he is a consistent reader of this column, which is flattering, and to send his selection of an all-star, all-time baseball nine, which is excellent. Mr. Thomas' selection follows:

Pitchers—Walter Johnson and Dazzy Vance.
Catcher—Muddy Ruel.
First base—Jim Bottomley.
Second base—Frankie Frisch.
Third base—Frank Baker.
Shortstop—Roger Peckinpaugh.
Left field—Ty Cobb.
Center field—Tris Speaker.

Mr. Thomas shows knowledge of baseball in his selection. And he names some tossers who have not previously been chosen for such a team by fans in this newspaper's corner of endeavor.

DAZZY VANCE is a great pitcher, Mr. Thomas evidently likes the hurlers who whis the old ball down the line like a rifle shot. For Johnson was and Vance is the speed king of the game.

Muddy Ruel is a great catcher and Bottomley a star first baseman. Peckinpaugh was named one year as the most valuable player in the American league. He is the first shortstop to be named in place of Hans Wagner in this column.

Also, for the first time, the name of Babe Ruth is left off this team and is supplanted by Mr. Thomas in favor of Paul Waner, the scintillating Sooner. A great ball player is little Paul, the most expert scientific batter since the day of Willie Keller, though there will be those to question Mr. Thomas' selection over Ruth.

Walker-Ace Go In Las Vegas Looms

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15. (US)—Tom Kennedy, a nice young fellow trying to get along in the strange and twisted lanes of fight promotion, today obtained an option of Mickey Walker's services calling for the middleweight to defend his title against Ace Hudkins in Las Vegas, Nevada, at a date to be named later.

Kennedy's option was given by Jack Kearns and witnessed, signed and sealed in due legal form. Under its terms Kennedy has until April 1 to raise $150,000 demanded by Kearns for Walker. Once that sum is in hand Kearns and Walker will sign articles calling for a 20-round fight against the formidable "Nebraska Wildcat."

TEXAS MOGULS MEET SUNDAY

Gardner and Ankenman Call Schedule Conclave

DALLAS, Feb. 15. (AP)—Texas league club owners are to meet here Sunday to consider playing schedules for the coming season and adopt one if it is satisfactory, it was announced today.

Since President J. Doak Roberts, who usually draws up the schedules, has been ill in bed for seven weeks, the meeting was called for Sunday by J. Alvin Gardner and Fred Ankenman, presidents respectively, of the Wichita Falls and Houston clubs.

Ankenman and William Ruggles, statistician, have completed two schedules which President Roberts had carried to the middle of an intended split-season.

It was indicated that club owners will appoint an executive committee to handle league affairs until President Roberts recovers. Several bus companies also were reported to have said they would present bids for transportation.

President Roberts was removed from his home to a hospital Wednesday, and physicians said that despite a heart attack today his condition was not serious. They added that worry over his work had retarded his recovery.

BORGER PLANS NEW BUILDINGS

Old Boom Days Shacks Soon to Go

Special to The Record News

BORGER, Texas, Feb. 15.—Borger is to have a building boom this spring, if plans of local business men for the organization of a local group to handle the financing of homes for prospective owners materializes.

At the same time a campaign to secure easements from oil companies holding surface leases on the acreage in the townsite, is to be staged by the chamber of commerce. Information on the ownership of the leases is being assembled and this will be used by the organization for the campaign.

Shacks Torn Down

First evidence of the building boom is seen in the large number of three, four and five-room houses now being moved here from nearby oil camps and the tearing down of numerous "boom day" shacks.

The Mariand Oil company, company officials said, have sold about 150 buildings at the various camps here. Many of these have been bought by Borger residents and are being moved to town. Others have been purchased by Carbon Black companies to be used for residences for employes.

The Bartex camp, southwest of town, has been dismantled and the houses moved away. Many of them are in Borger.

Another camp is to be dismantled by the Mariand company. This is the camp on the Johnson A lease, north of Borger. There are dozen houses on this lease.

The Eastern Carbon Black company will erect immediately a score or so of houses for its new Rock Creek camp, south and west of town. Some of these houses have been bought from oil companies and are being moved there.

The Palmer corporation also will erect additional houses for its employes. Sixteen more are to be built in addition to those now at the camp.

"Wild" Street Deserted

Some of the old frame and galvanized iron houses and store rooms in the north part of town have been torn down or moved away. Dickson street, once the center of the "night life" of Borger in the boom days, is now practically deserted.

Some of the oil companies purchased buildings and had them moved from this street. Others were moved to Belle Plains, Pampa, Le Fors and other oil field towns.

It is reported that business men are planning to raise a "jack pot" of between $20,000 and $25,000 or more to loan to home owners and prospective owners to build.

As long as the present surface leases continue in effect, out of town building and loan associations cannot make loans, according to local business men. Neither can a local building and loan association, chartered to do business in the state. Only by making personal loans can this be done, it is said.

Use Own Capital

To handle the proposition it is planned to have a group of men in Borger supply the working capital. Loans would be made along the same lines as the building and loan groups, but without the organization handling the loans.

Numerous reports of business buildings to be erected this year in the event an easement on leases for drilling operations is secured. John Miller and A. P. Borger, with others, are said to be interested in a hotel proposition.

Miller says he knows of several men who are ready to erect down town fire proof business houses provided they can make a loan of half of the amount necessary to construct the building.

The Panhandle Lumber company has a location on which it is prepared to build a building for garage purposes, it is reported.

Aliens Barred From U. S. Jobs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (INS)—The house today passed the Box bill providing that aliens coming to the United States to engage in business cannot be admitted as "temporary visitors" under the immigration laws.

The bill is designed to overcome a circuit court decision holding that aliens in Canada had the right to cross and recross the line each day to their work in the United States, without complying with the United States immigration laws.

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: What's that bag of mud an' moss yo' got there?

MACK: That's beauty clay from th' frog pond.

MORAN: How come yo' don't dig it outta th' cellar?

MACK: Is yo' goin' crazy?

MORAN: I is askin' yo' a question.

MACK: If we digs any more beauty clay outta th' cellar, th' building is liable to cave in.

MORAN: I thought yo' told our customers yo' was importin' that beauty clay.

MACK: I does import it. I imports it up th' cellar steps.

MORAN: Yo' is so crooked that a little salt on yo' would make yo' a pretzel. Yo' is losin' all our customers.

MACK: What's wrong now?

MORAN: Nobody but a foot would mix lather in a man's ear.

MACK: I hadda mix it somewhere. He was a tough man to shave.

MORAN: How come?

MACK: I needed plenty of lather. All we got is small cups in this shop an' his EAR held a QUART of lather.

If Big Boy has nerve enough to mix lather in a customer's ear he will soon be picking out ingrown hairs with a lawn mower. The citizens of the town held an indignation meeting last night and it looks as if Big Boy's eyes are going to closed for repairs.

Abdominal Hernia

An abdominal hernia or rupture is usually preceded by a general weakness of the abdominal muscles and is brought on by an unusual internal pressure due to the intestines being distended from food or gas, or being prolapsed so low in the abdomen as to make a heavy burden upon the weakened walls.

It is possible to cure a hernia that has not progressed too far by reducing the internal pressure and then developing the abdominal muscles. This cure cannot take place in large ruptures, however, since the tear through which the hernia protrudes usually occurs, not in the muscles, but in the ligaments, and these cannot be repaired even by exercise, and a surgical operation may have to be resorted to.

It is a good plan to begin the treatment as soon as the first symptoms of pain are noticed or when the hernia is first discovered. The patient should immediately secure a good rupture support and wear it constantly until he is assured by his doctor that the cure is complete. Through a delay in using this truss a cure may be frustrated. The next thing to do is to avoid all gas-forming foods, especially onions, cooked cabbage, etc.

The quantity of food should be kept to the minimum of the body's requirements. The menus outlined weekly in my newspaper column may be used. It is a good plan to take at least one enema a day and better two, one in the morning and one at night, using only a quart of plain water each time. The enema should be taken in the knee-chest position and the rupture support should be worn at the same time. These enemas should be continued for several weeks or over several months if it is necessary.

One should also start developing the abdominal muscles through taking a careful course of setting up exercises, the most beneficial of which are those exercises taken lying on the back with the hips elevated so that the abdominal contents will be carried by gravity toward the thorax. These exercises must be taken very carefully at first and used at least twice daily, gradually increasing the amount each day as the strength of the abdominal walls permits. Long walks should also be used each day to increase the general strength to produce a better tone of all the muscles of the pelvis.

The cold sitz bath is also of service in this trouble as it assists in increasing the strength of the muscles and ligaments. In fact, if one is sure that the hernia has been properly replaced, a jet of cold water may be directed upon the ruptured area exclusively for 15 to 20 minutes for several days at the beginning of the self-treatment.

A rupture should not be permitted to continue because of the danger of strangulation and gangrene or obstruction. In cases of long standing, an operation may be advisable, but it is better to try this method first, since the operations are not always successful and even if they are, they do not remove the internal pressure and there is a danger of recurrence.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dying Hair

Question: M. R. J. asks: "What kind of dye do you suggest one use to darken the hair?"

Answer: Different types of hair require varying formulas. Any dye not contaiming lead or gallic acid might be used, but I suggest you first consult a competent hair specialist regarding the type most suitable for your hair. It is well to try the effect upon a small strand first to see what the general effect will be.

Starch in Bran

Question: D. K. L. asks: "Does bran contain very much starch in comparison with wholewheat? We are using your muffin recipe, using half bran and half wholewheat. By using half one and half the other, is the starch content cut down?"

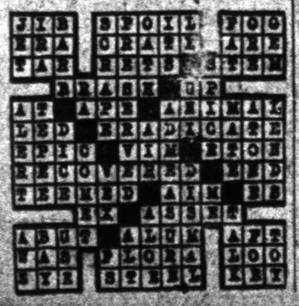

Answer: Bran contains very little starch in comparison with either wholewheat or white flour. You will find difficulty in making bran muffins out of real wholewheat flour and bran mixed half and half unless you use sugar or a large amount of shortening, as the muffins will be crumbly and will not stick together long enough for you to bake them. The wholewheat flour you are now using is probably not entire wheat flour but one of the 80-40 kind which contains 60 per cent of wholewheat and 40 per cent of white flour.

Clabber Milk

Question: May J. asks: "Does not a pint of clabber milk with a baked apple, an orange, or grapefruit make a wholesome breakfast?"

Answer: Clabber milk combines better with the baked apple or with some other stewed fruit than it does with oranges or grapefruit. This is probably because the clabber milk contains quite a large amount of lactic acid which does not combine well with the citric acid of the orange or grapefruit.

Lack of Funds Forces Hutchinson County to Run 'Subscription School'

Special to The Record News

STINNETT, Texas, Feb. 15.—For the first time since in the early days of Hutchinson county, a "subscription school" is in full operation, with the salaries of instructors paid for by public subscription.

This is the situation that maintains at Stinnett, county seat, where lack of funds caused the Stinnett Independent School district to close down its new $80,000 plant, just completed a year ago.

The Misses Melva and Mildred Bullock, of Borger, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Bullock of Borger, who were on the regular staff before the schools closed, are teaching in the subscription school. Miss Billie Christian, daughter of William S. Christian, former Democratic county chairman, is the third teacher.

No high school work is being given. All of the pupils in the high school are attending other districts.

Grade work from the first to the seventh inclusive is being given by the three teachers.

Some of the high school pupils are attending Plemons school. A few are going to Borger. Plemons has the only accredited school in the county.

Children from Phillips Camp, whose parents are employes of the Phillips Petroleum company, are going to Plemons, the former county seat. They are being hauled to and from the camp, northeast of Borger, by bus mornings and evenings.

Judge W. R. Goodwin is chairman of the finance committee of Stinnett citizens who are raising funds for the carrying on of school work. He was named by the school district trustees.

It is hoped to be able to continue the school work for the grade children until in May.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (AP)—Relatively steady Liverpool cables and bullish week-end statistics were reflected by moderate advances in the cotton market today, but prices eased in late trading under realizing. May contracts, after selling up to 20.10, or 13 points net higher, declined to 19.96 and closed at 19.99, compared with 19.97 at yesterday's close. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 2 points on March. Later deliveries were 1 to 2 points net higher.

After some irregularity, attributed to southern selling and realizing, prices advanced on covering and trade buying. Some commission house demand was reported, also local buying promoted by expectations of bullish week-end figures.

March contracts sold up to 20.03, and the new October contract to 19.48, making net advances of about 9 to 13 points on the more active positions. Demand, at no time active or general, seemed to slacken at these figures. Failure of the weekly statistics to promote additional buying of consequence increased a disposition to take profits on early purchases. The unsettled tone of the stock market probably was a factor, as brokers with Wall street connections were among the sellers.

Prices broke below yesterday's closing quotations on old crop months in the late trading. March sold off to 19.88 and July to 19.62, making net declines of 1 to 5 points on these positions. New crop months sold within 2 or 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations. The close was a shade up from the lowest on most months as a result of covering. The week-end figures showed a decrease of 142,434 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton, compared with a decrease of only 76,376 bales for the same week last year. Spinners' takings for the week were 321,-132 bales against 273,703 last year. Private cables reported trade calling and buying of near months by leading spot houses in Liverpool and said there was slight improvement in demand for cotton cloth from India, but that yarns were freely offered.

Exports today, 13,421 bales, making 5,-994,789 this season. Port receipts, 11,697. United States port stocks, 2,103,544.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15. (AP)—The cotton market showed some strength early today, but the improvement met realizing and some selling later on the higher money rates and an easier stock market. May contracts, after advancing to 19.49, eased off to 19.35 and closed at 19.38, or unchanged compared with yesterday's close. The general market closed steady, net unchanged to 2 points lower.

Liverpool cables were irregular at the start here, but first trades showed gains of 2 to 4 points due to some covering of yesterday's sellers, and as the generally unfavorable weather over the belt led traders to believe it would further hamper crop preparations, buying continued after the start, absorbing realizing on small setbacks. Moderately bullish weekly statistics added to the firmness and March advanced to 19.40, May 19.49 and July 19.50, or 6 to 18 points above yesterday's close.

At these levels considerable realizing was encountered and the decline in stocks probably encouraged some selling by ring traders, as did the advance in call loan rates in New York. At any rate, May dropped to 19.35 and July 19.38, or 12 to 14 points under the morning highs.

In the final trading there was some covering and the close was 2 to 3 points above the lowest, with March at 19.27, July 19.40 and October 19.21, or unchanged to 2 points down compared with the previous close.

Receipts, 13,286 bales; for week, 85,011; for year, 8,195,534; last year, 6,016,708. Exports, 5,421; for week, 105,784; for year, 5,-1,932; last year, 4,836,971. Stocks, 2,-162,363; last year, 2,223,061. Stocks on shipboard, 138,389; last year, 131,801. Spot sales, 16,841; last year, 9,953.

Early Stock Rally Nipped in Bud When Banks Withdraw Loans

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 15. (US)—Usual week-end jacking up of the call money rate caused further decline in stock prices today. A half-hearted rally at the opening was stopped when the banks started calling loans and as $60,000,000 accommodations were withdrawn the call rate jumped from a renewal of 6½ to 10 per cent.

Steady liquidation and continued professional pressure on recent favorites kept the list sliding throughout the afternoon so that most issues closed near the low. General Electric lost 7⅜, Johns-Manville 9, Houston Oil 6¾ and Packard over 4 points.

Steel and Chrysler met the most selling from professionals, and the former dropped 3⅝, while the latter lost over 2 points more. Rails were sold in less volume than industrials, but Canadian Pacific declined 4½ points more, while others finished from 1 to 2 points lower. Volume of trading remained below the 4,-000,000-share level.

It took the best brains in banking circles almost five hours to decide to do nothing further about the stock market at this time, but the public started buying stocks again right at the opening. The resulting rally was short-lived, however, for this time the most powerful bankers apparently are willing to co-operate with the reserve and "correct the stock market."

The bankers called it a correction, but whether that, or just one of the well known shake-outs, the fact remained unchanged that the banks called $60,000,000 more loans just at the time when it would most upset whatever confidence had been revived by the maintenance of the rediscount rate at 5 per cent.

Current money developments are bullish on the bank stocks at last. Earnings of the largest loaners are running at record figures, particularly over the week-ends, for it has become a habit to jack the call rate 2 or 4 per cent every Friday and get the larger return on loans carried to the next week.

Out-of-town bankers called most of the money in today, it was claimed. As there was no special commercial or business development the only reason could have been that those institutions also "will co-operate with the reserve board." At least the co-operation apparently is to be given over the week-ends.

TEXAS REVIEW

FORT WORTH, Feb. 15. (AP)—About a seasonable supply of cattle listed for the day's trade here Friday, with cattle a little slow in spots, but most classes steady. Sheep trade limited to feeder classes and about steady. About half of the hog supply was on direct billing.

About a dozen loads of slaughter steers in for the day, and they sold at $9.00 to $11.50. Values about steady on all kinds with bulk of sales in the $10.00 notch.

No bulls of any consequence offered. A few heavy bulls sold around $8.00, common light bulls at $6.25 to $6.75.

Slaughter yearlings and heifers slow but about steady with the week's decline. Sales at $10.25 to $11.30 for the better kind, while packers of the common kind sold around $7.50.

The supply of cows very light, but butchers and beef cows and canners and cutters sold steady. One load of cows sold at $7.50; canners and cutters at $5.00 to $6.00.

The supply of calves sold at steady with light receipts. A car lot sold at $11.25 to a packer buyer, while the common cull calves sold at $6.50 to $7.00.

Trade in stocker cattle light, but values appeared steady.

With nothing but feeder lambs included in the receipts, and a light offering of them, they sold at steady values with clipped feeder lambs at $12.00.

Hogs a little slow in getting started, but early sales considered steady to 10c lower, with the best rail butchers at $10.10 and truck top at $9.65. Bulk of the 175-250-pound butchers sold at $9.40 to $10.00. Packing sows, $8.25 to $8.75; pigs at $6.25 to $8.00.

MIDWESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 15. (AP)—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Further weakness developed in hog prices around the 11-market circuit. Scattered sales were completed on opening rounds at steady to slightly lower prices, but later trade was very slow, with an uneven decline of 10@35c. The day's top of $10.50 was paid in Chicago. Total offerings were around 115,950 head, an increase of 14,800 over last Friday but 30,-000 short of the corresponding day a year ago.

Comparatively large sheep receipts were absorbed at mostly steady prices, some weakness showing up on lambs at a few markets. Choice lambs in Chicago realized $17.10, while at Omaha a top of $16.65 was maintained. The supply approximated 54,800, against 34,278 a week ago and 36,666 a year ago. The movement of lambs from western feeding areas to Feb. 9 amounted to 1,831 cars, as compared with 2,256 cars for the same date in 1928.

Cattle receipts totaled around 10,300, about the same as a week ago and the corresponding day last year. Chicago reported additional strength on light yearlings, but generally values on most killing classes were unchanged. No immediate price recovery on fed steers is expected, as demand for dressed beef will have to expand considerably before any material advance could be attained. A decrease in the movement of warmed-up steers, however, will prove instrumental in obtaining a better outlet for the better grades of steers than has been carried in the feed lot from four to six months.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (AP)—Hogs—Receipts 46,000; 10@15c lower; top $10.50 for 180-280-pound weights; packing sows $9.40@10.90.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, Feb. 15. (AP)—Sharp setbacks in wheat values took place today, but not until after the market again had outdone all top record quotations this season. Selling to realize profits developed on a big scale in the late dealings, and was accompanied by reports that Argentine was offering wheat to Europe 15c below wheat from North America. Furthermore, Missouri river markets were freely tendering wheat to come here.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were nervous, ⅝@¾c to 1¼c net lower. Corn finished at ¼c decline to ⅛c gain, oats ⅛c off to a shade advance, and provisions unchanged to a downturn of 60c.

Desire to collect profits on wheat holdings was increased today by the fact that in some cases the market here showed nearly 8c a bushel advance over prices current at one time last week. Besides, the Liverpool trade was giving signs of reluctance to follow price bulges.

The fact became more and more evident toward the end of the day that the wheat market here was at least temporarily finding it difficult to digest heavy selling from holders who were eager to realize gains. Under such circumstances, the market met with a sinking spell, and closed at but little above the day's bottom level.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat, but received better support than wheat did on the later decline. Country offerings of corn were somewhat larger and primary arrivals today were 1,539,000 bushels against 539,000 bushels a year ago. Argentine corn shipments were the smallest so far on the crop.

STOCK-A-DAY

PITTSBURGH STEEL COMPANY

5 Year Record

The Pittsburgh Steel company is a complete unit in the steel industry having subsidiaries engaged in production of ore, coke, semi-finished and finished steel product. Its yearly ingot capacity is 650,000 tons. The company is a big producer of seamless steel tubing, wire products and fencing. Its plants are located at Monessen, Allenport and Glassport, Penn., all on the Monongahela river with facilities for cheap transportation of raw and finished products by water as well as by rail.

After the period of war prosperity, earnings fluctuated somewhat widely. For the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927 net was $1,951,988. For the year ended June 30, 1928, it was $1,342,142. This reflected slack conditions in the oil industry in the latter part of 1927. For the first quarter of the fiscal year 1929 earnings were better than for the whole fiscal year of 1928.

Early in 1928, the company issued $11,000,000 in 20 year 6 per cent bonds and paid off its entire issue or six per cent notes due in 1929 and 1930. The $11,000,000 now represents the funded debt outstanding. Capital stock outstanding includes $10,500,000 in 7 per cent cumulative preferred of $100 par and $52,350,000 in common of $100 par. Dividends have been paid regularly on the preferred. They were discontinued on the common Jan. 3, 1927.

As of June 30, 1928, total current assets amounted to $17,278,939, current liabilities amounted to $1,929,-422, and net working capital was $15,349,497 and book value applicable to the common stock totaled $140.08 a share. Profit and loss surplus was $9,927,569.

JUDGE STRIKES BACK AT FOES

Disbarment of Attorneys Is Asked by Crump

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 15. (UP) Disbarment of attorneys who filed a petition to disqualify him or himself and his associates was sought today by District Judge George C. Crump in a supreme court response.

The response was an answer to a writ of mandamus issued by the supreme court on a petition charging Crump and his associates with fraud and conspiracy in a land case.

Judge Crump picked a referee to determine the true facts in the land case involved. He asks disbarment of the "guilty parties."

Conspiracy Charged

John W. Wilmott and R. J. Roberts, Wewoka attorneys, were charged with Crump with entering into a conspiracy to defraud the Indians of their land, the petition to disqualify Crump and also the petition for writ of mandamus, show.

The attorneys signing the petition to disqualify are C. L. Grant, E. B. Cutler, Irvin L. Wilson, Lydick, McPherren & Jordan, and Biggers, Vickers & Aldridge.

Crump previously had prepared a response naming only Lydick and Wilson. He withdrew this response and amended it. Instead of asking merely for the disbarment of Lydick and Wilson, he asks that the referee by the facts ascertain the guilty parties and the supreme court disbar them.

Judge Crump seeks a referee to determine the true facts in the land case involved. He asks disbarment of himself and John W. Wilmott and R. J. Roberts, Wewoka attorneys, if Lydick's and Wilson's charges are true.

If they are unable to prove their charges of fraud, Crump seeks their disbarment, charging them with an attempt to gain some favor in court by dishonest methods.

Valuable Oil Land

The case deals with Indian lands in Seminole county which was decided in 1924. The land at that time was of little value. Oil development had made the land valuable.

The suit was brought to quiet title to the land. It was decided without an appeal. Lydick and Wilson reopened the case this year, charging Crump and others entered conspiracy to defraud the Indians of the land.

The law firm of Biggers, Butler, Aldridge & Grant of Wewoka were attorneys with Lydick and Wilson, the Crump response says. When they learned the contents of the petition they asked their names be withdrawn from the action, the response says.

Judge Crump set the case for hearing in his court, but Lydick and Wilson failed to appear either on Feb. 2 or Feb. 9, the two dates set by Judge Crump.

The next he heard of the case was the alternative writ of mandamus by the supreme court disqualifying him in the case on the charge of fraudulent conspiracy in the original case.

The plaintiffs in the case, A. A. Vierwon and B. H. Rogers, were represented in the 1924 settlement by Orr and Woodford. The Davis Coker allotment is the land involved.

Lydick and Wilson charged Vierwon and Rogers through Judge Crump deprived Amanda and Richmond Coker of their title to lands. It was charged Wilmott and Roberts were not employed by the Cokers in the land case. An attempt to set aside the judgment was filed in December, 1924, the petition charges.

Crump's response alleges he is barely acquainted with either Vierwon or Rogers. He says he had no interest in the case. He charges the Lydick and Wilson petition is a deliberate fraud filed to gain some advantage in court.

He asks for a hearing on the facts in the case before a referee appointed by the court.

Funds to Build New Cruisers Discussed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15. (INS)—Apparent differences between President Coolidge and congress over the money to be appropriated for new cruisers were discussed today between the president, Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader, and General Lord, director of the budget.

"We will see that all of the money that can properly be spent this year will be provided, but we will not open the doors too wide," Tilson said after the conference.

The conference followed the president's action yesterday in sending to congress a budget estimate of $12,?30,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930. It has been claimed that the president by this method was trying to prevent any actual construction of the cruisers during the remainder of the fiscal year.

THREE JAILED FOR ROBBERIES

Negroes Caught in Parker Store by Police

Two negroes were arrested and identified for attempt to burglarize a store and another was caught following the theft of a suit case of clothes from a servant house in police activities Friday night against thieves.

Two negroes, who were caught in the act of looting the C. H. Parker grocery store at 507 Indiana avenue, were nabbed by O. A. Roberson and Homer Bentley, city officers.

The blacks entered the front door, which apparently had been left unlocked, according to the officers. One of them began moving boxes of groceries and other goods to the back door while the other drove a car to the back door and was waiting to truck the goods away when they were surprised by the officers.

Several breaks on the Parker stores involving a loss of several hundred dollars in merchandise have occurred since early fall.

A neat piece of detective work on the part of Elmer Thornton and M. A. Perdue, city officers, led to the arrest of the negro who took a suit case of clothes from Lillian Gordon, who resides in a servant house in the rear of 1609 Taylor street.

The officers located the clothing in a servant house about two blocks away.

NEGRO MAY SOLVE NUMBER OF BURGLARIES

A probable route to the solution of a part of the house burglaries and thefts which have been almost a nightly occurrence here during the last few months may result from the arrest and identification of a negro who was caught in the act of prowling about the outside of a residence on Avenue J Thursday night.

The negro was seen peering under the window curtains and trying the windows by R. G. Wilt, manager of Atlantic and Pacific Tea store at 1914 Grant street.

Wilt said he walked up to the negro and asked him why he was looking under the window curtain and that the negro turned upon him to attack him. Wilt ran to a telephone and called W. P. Belcher and Ellis Summers, city officers, who located the would-be house prowler shortly before midnight.

Wilt lost no time in identifying the negro Friday at police headquarters. Chief of police Frank Burns said Friday evening that he intended to question the negro and conduct an investigation of his activities.

Hilarious Autoist Crosses River On Traction Bridge

The ambitious attempts of an inebriated driver to guide his flivver over the street car bridge across the river Friday night were thwarted by the untimely appearance of a street car bound in an opposite direction.

The experimental young man in the automobile took violent exception to the intrusion of the street car, claiming the right of way of an explorer. The street car obligingly backed up and let him across.

The motorman in charge of the street car called for the police who searched the neighborhood for wrecks or any other evidence of the progress of the pathfinder.

Raley and Tittle File Court Claims For $32,000 Claimed as Tax Fees

Suits asking a total of $32,048.94 as back commissions claimed for the collection of delinquent taxes were filed Friday against Wichita county and the county commissioners court by Guy C. Raley, tax collector, and M. L. Tittle, his predecessor.

Mr. Raley claims that the commissions due him from the county total $18,642.93. The commissions are due on delinquent taxes collected between 1923 and 1925, according to the petition. Mr. Tittle, claiming commissions on delinquent taxes collected between 1920 and 1923, asks $13,406.01.

The suits are in the nature of a friendly test of the legal status of the claims. The question of the commissions arose out of a test of the validity of a law which in 1919 repealed the statute which allowed tax collectors five per cent on delinquent collections. The supreme court recently held the repealing act invalid in a suit arising in Bexar county, holding that the old law, granting the commissions, has been the governing act.

Both Mr. Raley and Mr. Tittle allege that they put in their claims for commissions at the time the collections were made, acting on a belief that the repealing act would not stand up. Both collectors claim that the county commissioners court agreed to return the commission money to them if the law should at any time be knocked out.

Stop Rheumatic Pain With Prescription A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain.

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else as good to drive out rheumatism.

Over a Billion Deadly Germs in a Single Drop of Water

Germs are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water. And just a few of these tiny germs, if they get into your blood through a cut in your skin, may make you so sick you will be in bed for weeks—may cause the loss of a limb through blood poisoning—may even infect you with that most dreadful and fatal of diseases, lockjaw.

Just because you can see no dirt in a cut does not mean that it is clean. You cannot see germs. The only safe and sane thing to do, is to thoroughly wash every cut, no matter how small, with Liquid Borosone, to kill the germs, and then dust it with Borosone Powder, to hasten the healing. Liquid Borosone costs 30 cents, 60 cents, $1.20 and $1.50; Borosone Powder, 30 cents and 60 cents, and can be had at Miller Drug Store.

BLUE CURTAIN PLAYERS WIN

College Cast Takes First Honors in Contest

The Blue Curtain Players of the Wichita Falls Junior college won first place in the district one-act play tournament, which was held in the auditorium of the Junior college Friday night. "Two Crooks and a Lady" was the title of the play winning first place, and the Blue Curtain Players will next enter the production, written by Eugene Pillott, in the state contest which is to be held Feb. 22 at Weatherford, Texas.

Weatherford Junior college won second place with the play "A Slave with Two Faces," a production bringing out the two sides of life, as lived by mortals. First the ugly and cruel side, and then the pleasant and beautiful side.

"The Man on the Kerb," a play with the setting in England, won third place by John Tarleton Agricultural college of Stephenville. The play was directed by Miss Lillie V. Lillard.

Judges for the contest were W. W. Fisher, W. L. Lipscomb, chairman of play reading committee of the Little Theater of Dallas, and Miss Mary McCord, head of the public speaking department of Southern Methodist university.

Cast of characters in the winning play was: Mrs. Sims-Vaine, played by Elva Remington; Lucile, her maid, by Pansy Mills; Miller, "The Hawk," by Lloyd Wyatt; Miss Jones, the nurse, by Lela Belle Jenkins; police inspector, Wilbur Kent; and an officer, which was played by Jim Tom Barton. Miss Juanita Kinsey, head of the dramatic department, directed the play.

In the state contest held last year at Weatherford, the Wichita Falls Junior college dramatic club won second place, and Weatherford Junior college carried away highest honors in the event, with the presentation of "Helen of Troy."

The tournament, an annual affair is sponsored by the Junior College Public Speaking Association of Texas, of which Miss Kinsey is vice president.

Friday night was the first time that the contest has been open for public attendance and was witnessed by an estimated crowd of 500 spectators.

POTATO MATINEE

Three Bushels and Several Onions Contributed By Children

Three bushels of potatoes were dropped in the baskets at the Mission theater Friday by children who used that form of ticket for admission to the showing of "Tarzan the Mighty."

Announcement was made Thursday that on Friday and Saturday one potato would admit any child under 12 to the show, the tubers thus collected to be given to the Salvation Army. Some of those attending Friday traded two or three spuds each for their entertainment, while a number brought onions as legal tender when they found the potato sack empty.

The same offer holds for Saturday, up to 6 p. m.

TRUCK BONDS URGED HERE

Chatham Outlines Plan At C.-C. Luncheon

Urgent recommendation that the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce together with truck operators of this community work out an insurance and bonding plan to cover the industry locally was made by James W. Chatham, industrial and traffic manager, at a luncheon held by the division Friday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Mr. Chatham recently attended a state meeting held at San Antonio, and based his recommendation for immediate local action upon the fact that the state organization is not yet sufficiently established to effect any relief for a situation which demands adequate regulation. The motor truck committee of the division was instructed to meet next Monday, Feb. 18, at 9 a. m. to work out a proposal which will be submitted to local operators of truck lines.

Saturday, March 3, was selected as the date for the annual Traveling Mens' banquet, which will be held at 7 p. m. on that day. A committee of which George Mobley is chairman will meet at the chamber of commerce next Monday morning at 11 o'clock to prepare the detailed plans for the event.

The division approved the publication of 3,000 rate circulars to be issued by the traffic department, and authorized placing of advertisements in the circular to defray publication costs.
