PROFITEERS RESPONSIBLE FOR TROUBLES

Excessive Prices During War and Post-War Times Held to Blame for Present Financial Difficulties.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Wartime and postwar profiteering were held responsible for a large part of the financial difficulties of American railroads in an exhibit filed by the railway union before the railroad labor board today. Decreases in the cost of materials have already brought a large measure of relief to the roads, the exhibit said, and this should be taken into consideration before the employes payroll is sliced.

Two industries in which profiteering was most rampant were those from which the railroads purchased the bulk of their materials—the iron and steel industry and the coal mines according to W. Jett Lauck, economist for the Unions, who compiled the exhibit "a conservative estimate," he said, "of what this profiteering cost the railroads from 1916 to 1919 is $75,000,000 a year in coal bills and $200,000,000 for steel and iron products, including equipment and repairs from locomotive and car companies.

"Prices in 1920 were increased to such extent that the proportion attributable to profiteering was unquestionably much greater, and would probably have totalled $500,000,000," the exhibit continued. "It must be understood that these estimates are thoroughly conservative and are based upon information which is by no means complete."

CABLE CONTROL WILL BE ASKED BY UNITED STATES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—While distribution of the former German cables in the Pacific will be deferred pending settlement of the status of the Island of Yap, it was learned today that the United States will make an effort to have cable communication to the Dutch East Indies, and as far east over the lines now in possession of Japan, restored as soon as possible.

During the war the cables radiating from the Island of Yap were sealed by the Japanese authorities and have never been reopened. The cable formerly extending from Yap to Shanghai was deflected from the Chinese city to a point in possession of Japan in the far east. Whether an attempt will be made by the American government to have the cable restored to Shanghai, was not disclosed.

SACRIFICE MADE FOR RAILROAD

Leading Citizen of Graham Renounced Thousands for Town's Good.

How one of its leading citizens renounced several thousand dollars of personal gain to bring the rails of the Wichita Falls and Southern to his town was learned by the citizens of Graham at Graham, Friday from the lips of Frank Kell, builder of the road, who responded to insistent demands from the crowd for a talk. Mr. Kell did not call the name of the man in question but every citizen of Graham and not a few from other places supplied it—M. K. Graham.

"When it first became known that we were to construct a line south from Newcastle, this man communicated with me," Mr. Kell said.

"He asked me to investigate the feasibility of running the line through Graham.

"At that time I did not believe the topography of the country feasible for the building of such a line, nor did the fact that the route re-

HORSE LEAPS UPON AUTO AND DRIVER INJURED

Stratton says that after striking him in the face the horse fell from the radiator dead.

U. S. TO STICK TO ALLIES ON HUN PROPOSALS

Anything Germany Submits Must Be of a Character That Governments Will Be Willing to Consider.

Defeated Country Held Resposible for War and Are Morally Bound to Make Restitution.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Any reparations proposals the German government may submit to the United States for transmission to the allies must be of a character those governments will be willing to consider and therefore will probably be made clear to each government seperately, pending a reparations offer official comment was withheld. It was known, howvr, that diplomatic representatives of the allied governments had exchanged opinions today on Secretary Hughes' reply and it was understood that the situation had been discussed informally by officials of the United States and those of the interested European nations.

The declaration of Doctor Simons, the German foreign minister, in the reichstag that the German government "must go to the extreme limits of what the German people can furnish in the way of reparations," was interpreted here as an acceptance, in principle at least, of the American position that the United States stands with the allies in holding Germany responsible for the war and they are morally bound to make restitution to the full extent of her ability to pay.

The American government also, it is understood, does not propose to disassociate herself from the allies in the matter of certain economic adjustments growing out of the war and therefore whatever reparations proposals from Germany she may place before the allied governments will first be carefully considered in the light of their common interests.

PAPER MAKERS NEGOTIATE ON WAGE QUESTION

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 22.—Paper manufacturers in this country and Canada will have to reconsider their proposals for a new working agreement to become effective May 1, if a strike of the union paper makers in the mills controlled by the 22 companies involved in the present dispute is to be averted, Jeremiah T. Carey, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Workers, said here today. The proposals which included a 30 percent reduction in wages, a nine-hour day instead of eight hours, no overtime pay, elimination of yardmen from the agreement and the right of either side to resume negotiations on 90 days' notice, were overwhelmingly rejected by the brotherhood in the recent refrendum, Mr. Carey said. Of about 12,000 members, only five voted to accept them.

IMMIGRATION BILL PASSES LOWER HOUSE

Legislation Would Close Doors of U. S. to Influx of Foreign Born Political Refugees.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—After rejecting an amendment seeking to open the doors of the United States to foreign political refugees, the house today passed the immigration restriction bill substantially in the same form it went through last session only to be given a pocket veto. The bill now goes to the senate where republican leaders said today it would be passed without delay.

The measure is designed to be operative over a period of 14 months and would limit the entry of aliens to 3 percent of the number of nationals of any country in the United States at the time of the 1910 census.

Three amendments slightly modifying its provisions were adopted by the house. One would permit admission in excess of the 3 percent limit of all aliens clearly proving they had been subjected to religious persecution in their native land and were seeking refuge here solely to avoid such hardships.

The second would admit children of American citizens under 18 years of age, independent of the percentage of limitation and the third would give preference to families and relatives of American citizens and former service men honorably discharged from the army or navy, regardless of whether they had been naturalized.

In determining the question of admissibility under the restricted total the principal fight was over an amendment offered by Representative Sabath, Illinois, ranking democrat, on the immigration committee, to open the gates to protest refugees. This was lost after debate during which Representative Mondell, the republican leader, who said that under it, even the former German emperor could come here.

WICHITA FALLS JOINS WITH GRAHAM IN SPIRIT OF FRIENDLY RIVALRY

Friendship Boosters Visit New Neighbors to Extend Felicitations on Completion of New Raliroad.

Complete understanding, and a feeling that all of the participating communities were united to wage a common fight, the upbuilding of their section of Texas, seemed the outstanding feature of the celebration Friday at Graham of the completion of the rails of the Wichita Falls and Southern to that place, participated ir by nearly 400 Wichita Falls business men and women, and around 300 from intervening towns.

And, with this celebration of an accomplishment, and cementing of neighborly ties, came both a realization of the difficulties under which the project has been brought to a successful consummation, and a fuller realization of its value to the communities which it serves.

Hospitably Welcomed

This feature of the trip was developed in the course of the mass meeting on the court house square at Graham after the visitors from Wichita. Archer and other Young county points had been welcomed with a hospitality and cordiality which will long in the future bring a warm feeling for the people of Graham on the part of the visitors who were fortunate in being that city's guests on the occasion.

The welcome was made apparent before the train bearing the visitors had hardly entered the city, the train being greeted by every steam whistle within the confines of Graham.

On detraining, the visitors formed in lengthy column behind the band from Wichita Falls, paraded the downtown streets and were taken directly to the satisfying meal prepared for them by their hosts. Following the meal came a band concert on the square by the Wichita Falls band, the meeting, and then a baseball game, and automobile rides over the city.

In the baseball game, in which Wichita Falls was represented by the Elks team, and Graham by the "Hi-Jackers," their T-O league entry, the Wichitans came off decidedly second best, to the tune of 11 to 5.

Like the welcome given by the actions of the citizenship, the welcome given by the Mayor of Graham, E. S. Graham, was a real one. The mayor, as was the other speakers, was introduced by S. Boyd Street, president of the Graham Chamber of Commerce.

Wichita Falls Territory.

"Now that the steel rails of progress have bound Olney and Newcastle to Graham for the first time in their history, and soon South Bend and Eliasville will be reached by this new road," Mayor Graham said, "We hope that the ties of friendship and business may bring us even closer together than they have in the past. This is the sincere desire of every citizen of Graham.

"Today also marks the realization of the dreams of those men of Wichita Falls who have made this thing

EDWARDS DISLIKED BY DEMOS

Confirmation of Brigadier General to Major General Strongly Opposed.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Strong democratic opposition voiced at a meetig of the senate military committee today to confirmation of the nomination of Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards, first commander overseas of the 26th (New England National Guard) division, to be a major general. The subject was discussed at a conference with Secretary Weeks, who urged confirmation, outlining the qualifications of the officers recently nominated by President Harding to be brigadier and major generals.

The opposition to promotion of General Edwards was said to have been based upon his military record, a more complete investigation of which it was said, was suggested. The secretary was requested to supplement information given the committee today at a meeting tomorrow. Meanwhile, action on all nominations was deferred.

General Edwards' name headed the list of major generals nominated by President Harding, although the last administration had refused to recommend him for promotion.

WICHITA FALLS JOINS GRAHAM IN FINE SPIRIT

possible; men who are in every sense of the word 'Empire Builders.' A few weeks more and the whole of the North Texas oil fields, the greatest in the world today, will be statewide acknowledged trade territory of Wichita Falls. The credit for this great undertaking belongs entirely to you, and we of Graham and Young county congratulate you upon the foresight, energy and perserverance which has made this dream of yours, to control this territory, come true. Upon the expectation of this road Graham has doubled her population. Now that it has become a reality, we are confident of even greater and more permanent growth.

First to Back Judgment

"We welcome you here today, not as strangers, for we know what you have accomplished in Wichita Falls, and we know, in part at least, your plan for paved roads, schools, parks and other municipal improvements, and that your ambitions will not be satisfied with a population of less than 100,000 and that in the not distant future. We also know that you are aware of the opportunities in Graham and Young county, because your people were among the first to back their judgment with their money and a large percentage of the building done in Graham, during the past year, has been planned by Wichita Falls brains and put into effect with Wichita Falls money.

"I take this opportunity to express to you the appreciation of the citizens of Graham, not only for what you have done for us, but also for all you have made possible for us; and to assure you that your faith in Graham has not been misplaced. Every rainbow has two ends, and in this case the proverbial pot of gold is at both ends; Graham at one—Wichita Falls at the other. The door of opportunity stands before us; co-operation is the magic word. We ask yours and pledge you ours."

Neighborliness and Interest.

"We want you Graham people to feel that this trip is not merely a commercial affair—a trade excursion—although it is true that our merchants who are here are naturally telling you about what they have to sell," declared Mayor Cline in reply to the address of welcome. "But our feeling in turning out on this trip goes even further than that. It is prompted by that feeling of neighborliness and community interest that is characteristic of West Texas, of which all the communities represented here are a part."

Referring to the railroad line, the mayor spoke of the difficulties in the way of its construction, and of the difficulties which had been overcome by its chief builder, Frank Kell, in the building of this line "which did not lend itself to grain building."

Not Mechanical Being.

"In thinking of this man, however, I don't want you to think of him as a mechanical individual who performs wonders," the mayor continued. "I hope you won't think of him simply as a railroad builder, and a power in the grain and other important lines of business, for as a matter of fact he is a very intensely human being, interested profoundly in the development and welfare of the people of Wichita Falls, Graham and every community in between."

In speaking of his impressions of the upbuilding of Graham, the speaker referred in glowing terms of the men and women who first seized and held Graham and the rest of the West Texas country for civilization, the "Old Timers."

"We of a later generation should show them a profound reverence and a proper appreciation of their nerve, foresight, faith, stamina and good character which has made this progress we see in our section of the state possible," he said with feeling.

Speaking more directly to the people of Graham, the speaker referred to the similarity of the people of Wichita Falls and Graham in their energy, faith in the future and aggressiveness, declaring the people of the two communities to be the "same kind of folks" and bound to pull together in the upbuilding of the section.

The Oil Men

In connection with the oil development at its heighth in this section, he had occasion to say a word for the oil men.

"There are some men and some women who follow the oil game who are undesirable," he said. "You have some, we had many, and have some yet. They misrepresent and swindle on the basis of these misrepresentations. They are to the oil game as the pickpockets who follow the circus are to that institution.

"But don't be suspicious and aloof of the real oil men who are among you on account of these people, for the legitimate oil men are real citizens and builders.

"I can say they are real fellows from an acquaintance of more than twenty years with them, during which I have slept under boilers with them, and stuck my cold feet under the same poker table.

"The blame for the other's misdoings are a part of the price we have to pay for development, and are a part of the burden which must be borne by the legitimate oil men."

Fort Worth Represented.

Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Colonel Louis J. Wortham, editor in chief of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, and W. M. Massie, the president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, were on the speaker's platform, and were called on for addresses.

Mr. Whaley spoke enthusiastically of the wonderful progress that Graham had made during the past year, of the wonderful oil resources now being rapidly developed, and finally, in climax of the untold possibilities that are opened up by the new railroad.

Colonel Wortham told of his first introduction to Graham, when as a youth he had been a Texas ranger, and rode a cayuse over the surrounding country. He also dwelt upon the fact that Graham is particularly distinguished by the fact that the first cattle raisers' association in the state was organized there.

He discussed at length the valorous history of Young county with all of West Texas during the great war, and spoke with great feeling of the traditions and ideals of the pioneer builders, which are being cherished and fulfilled by the present generation.

Hints at Division.

The colonel at one time showed a disposition to speak in rather pronounced favor of the division of Texas, in speaking of the achievements and the possibilities of West Texas, but aroused no enthusiasm from his audience by this passage. He concluded with the rousing statement that Texas was sufficient for an empire in itself.

Mr. Massie's talk was very brief, expressing the pleasure that he and the others from Fort Worth felt at being at the Graham-Wichita Falls party.

A Common Fight.

"Wichita Falls in Wichita county, Archer City in Archer and Olney, Newcastle and Graham in Young county are bound together in one common fellowship and united in one common fight for the upbuilding of their section," was the significance of the occasion as characterized by Frank Kell, who came forward to speak at the insistent demands from the crowd.

Mr. Kell traced the difficulties of the building of the line from the angle of one on the "inside," telling of how after difficulties of construction and financing were overcome, those interposed by the law under the Transportation act interposed. He spoke of the fight which followed before a permit necessary under the new law was obtained, and gave credit to the business men of Graham for a telling share in the winning of that fight.

"In fact it is due almost entirely to the foresight and aggressiveness of your own business men, rather than to we who are building the line, that Graham was included in the line—a most fortunate circumstance for both the town and us, for events have proved that the leaving out of Graham would have been a colossal mistake for both," the speaker declared.

Rapid Construction.

He referred to the fact that application had been made for the permit in October, it had not been received until March, and that an excursion was being run over a part of the line in April, little over a month and a half later.

In opening his talk, Mr. Kell introduced himself as a native born Texan following the example of Colonel Wortham, and as a native of West Texas. He told how his father was practically a native of Texas, and of how some of his mother's people had even been in Houston's army at the time of the Texas revolution. He first visited Graham as a boy, he said, 45 years ago.

His second visit was made last year when he was conferring with Graham business men with reference to the building of the new railroad line through Graham, making this his third trip.

His business, he pointed out, brings him in touch with not only business men, but agricultural and livestock men of every state west of the Mississippi, and declared that the citizens of West Texas, among whom he has grown up, outranks them all in intelligence, industry and aggressiveness.

Per Schedule

Starting off so near on time as to mark it as unique the entire trip down was carried off entirely according to scedule.

Exactly at 8:10 Captain R. E. Shepherd shooed the last of the bunch aboard, the engineer signalled, and the train moved forward. And it continued its course just as had been planned for the entire trip.

Banners containing slogans of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association, the Rotary, Wichita, Kiwanis, University and Ad Clubs decorated each of the ten coaches and gave a gay and festive air to the train, so much so as to thrill even the most train hardened critters on the right of way.

Souvenirs Numerous

Souvenirs of various sorts were distributed by various merchants, fancy caps, arm bands and various decorations adding to the holiday appearance of the hundreds Black and yellow skull caps bearing the significant words "Who Can Beat It?" were distributed by a coffe colored youngster, wearing a bright yellow satin coat, also embellished by Bert Bean's coffee slogan, and these caps formed the official headgear for the entire trip.

One of the most unique of the souvenirs and one, the peculiar significance of which on a trip of this sort, can be easily understood was the "bull protector" distributed by D. J. Carithers of the Holliday Creamery Company. The "protectors" were to be seen on many an ear during the trip.

The coming rodeo was also well advertised.

Souvenir Rings

Joseph Huckins, Jr., of the Kemp hotel, and of Oklahoma City, was circulating largely among the crowd, handing out souvenir "rings" to the ladies The "rings" were contained in a cowbell acquired in Archer city.

There were numerous highlights of the parades and side shows in Archer City, Olney and Newcastle. At all three places the band and Captian R. E. Shepherd headed a parade, and led a musical program. The Archer City visit was distinguished by a sprint for the train by Sheriff Joe McDowell of Archer county and Judge W. N. Bonner.

High Lights at Olney.

At Olney Bob Waggoner was boosted up to the concrete standard of one of the street lights and called upon for a bass solo. In the meantime Dr. Joe Daniel, a "Who Can Beat It" cap perched jauntily on his head, did a little politics, canvassing the ladies in the crowd with S. A. L. Morgan.

At Newcastle the crowd was "lemonaed up" by the ladies of the Newcastle Civic league, and several Wichitans made themselves conspicuous by frequent trips to the lemonade pitchers. The Civic league hospitality at Newcastle was especially appreciated since the crowd was thirsty, and after the parade to the center of the business district, dusty and the lemonade was extra fine.

Rotary Delegation Newcastle.

The Rotary club delegation marched in a body in all three parades, headed by H. J. Foerster as standard bearer, carrying the silk banner of the Wichita Falls club.

The band music was interspersed with vocal music, solos by R. E. Shepherd and George C. Taylor, with Horace Robbins, Ben E. Neal and others in some fancy chorus work.

The stay at Newcastle took on the dignity of a program, the Wichita Falls booster while gathered in the business section, being welcomed to Newcastle by Rev. J. A. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, the organizer of the Chamber of Commerce, and it's vice president and secretary. The response to the address was made by Hubert M. Harrison, the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce's general manager. Both expressed the spirit of friendship and neighborliness between Wichita Falls and Newcastle, and spoke in glowing terms of the opportunities of the present and the possibilities of the future.

Representatives of Archer City and Olney joined the train at their respective towns, and the Newcastle delegation was more than 200.

BOY RUN DOWN BY AUTO AND INJURED

Knocked down and run over by a Cadillac touring car at Seventh and Seymour streets, Friday afternoon, J. D. Pipes, fifteen years old, son of Mrs. O. V. Pipes, 603 Seymour street was severely injured, according to the report given friends on the police force by witnesses.

The boy was removed to his home by the driver of the car and a physician summoned. X-ray pictures were taken to locate any possible internal injuries, according to the report.

It doesn't take an X-ray to see the bones in a crapshooter's hand.

Promised to Investigate

"After some correspondence, however, I finally agreed to investigate the feasibility of this line before definitely locating the new road. He answered me that he was satisfied with this assurance and would rely on my promise.

"Just before the line was definitely located, I instructed the chief engineer to survey a line from Breckenridge, through Graham to Newcastle.

"I did not think any more of the feasibility of the line at this time than I had at first—I was merely giving these instructions to make my word good. I told the engineer at this time to lose as little time and spend as little money as possible in the making of this survey.

"Much to my surprise the engineer reported to me that the line through Graham was a feasible piece of construction.

"I then got in touch with the business men of Graham, through their railroad committee, and we concluded a deal which brought the rails of the road to the city.

"And let me say right here that the credit for the bringing of this line to the city belongs as much to the business men of Graham, as it does to we from Wichita Falls who built it.

Offered to Fight

"But I want to go back from this a little. Even before the road reached this stage, and when we first let it be known that we were not considering Graham, one of your prominent men said that he would fight us every inch of the way in the attempt to build a line south from Newcastle which did not include Graham.

"'You can't be serious,' I told him.

"'You have an immense body of land in the western part of the county through which the road will pass. It is entirely logical that you should lay out a townsite in the western part of the county in the middle of this body of land.

"'It will make you one of the richest men of the state.'

His Principal Concern

"'It will be sufficient as it is to keep me,' was the reply. 'The building of a line such as you propose would take care of me, but it would not take care of my town—that is my principal concern right now.'

"I don't know that it is proper for me to speak of these negotiations, but I do it at this time, because I had promised myself that at some opportune time I would tell the citizens of his town what he had done for them," said Mr. Kell in conclusion.

Town Topics

G. Clint Wood, who has been in Houston for a few days, left there Wednesday for Spartanburg, S. C., where he will be the guest of Mrs. Wood's grandparents, Captain and Mrs. T. B. Martin. He will go from there to New York city on business, returning via Chicago, where he will stop a few days and visit his daughter, Lulu, who is a student at Northwestern university.

John W. Richardson, who was injured painfully in a fall at the home of his son, P. S. Richardson, 1903 Elizabeth, Thursday is said to be much improved.

APPOINT RECEIVER FOR BOND COMPANY

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, April 22.—W. D. Hart of Austin has been appointed receiver of the Lion Bonding and Surety company of Nebraska by Judge Ireland Graves of the 26th district court of Travis county.

It was on the petition of Millican & Hamby, local agents of the company, that this action was taken, the petitioners alleging that the company is insolvent and that its assets have been taken over by the commissioner of insurance of Nebraska. Attorney Hart qualified by giving a $10,000 bond.

A B. V. D. Correction

"We recently advertised . 'Men's B. V. D. Style Union Suits' to describe garments that did not bear the red woven 'B. V. D.' label. This was an error as 'B. V. D.' is not a style or type of or descriptive term for athletic underwear; 'B. V. D.' is the trade-mark of The B. V. D. Company.

"The B. V. D. Company having complained of this use of their trade-mark, we wish to say that hereafter, so that we may not injure The B. V. D. Company and so that the public may receive the right service, we will only refer to the trade-mark 'B. V. D.' to advertise goods bering the red woven 'B. V. D.' label. We have no desire to infringe in any way on The B. V. D. Company's trade-mark rights."

Daintiness and Delicacy Secured by Use of Butter

The careful housekeeper is always on the alert for new and delicious dishes to serve to her family. When these dishes can be made high in food value without sacrificing any of their other good features, and when, in addition, they can be made to contain a vital food property that makes children grow and grown folks feel better, she is more than interested.

Below we give a group of tested recipes for a number of new and unusual dishes, all using butter to round out the other good qualities of the dish and all therefore containing a liberal portion of "vitamines," the growth-producing property found only in butter-fat and the yellow parts of eggs.

NEW POTATO DRESSING.
(Potatoes for Six.)

¼ cup cracker crumbs
⅛ cup Mistletoe Butter
⅛ cup boiling water
4 tablespoons minced parsley
½ teaspoon paprika

Blend the cracker powder with the butter, then beat in the boiling water. Add the seasonings and pour, very hot, over the potatoes after they are in the dish ready to serve.

SOFT GINGER BREAD.

1 cup Mistletoe Butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sour milk
1 cup black molasses
2 eggs
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon soda
3 cups flour

Cream the sugar with the butter and the eggs. Add the milk and molasses, then the soda, flour and ginger sifted together twice. Pour in a greased shallow pan and bake until firm in the center—about forty minutes. If the bread falls, cracks or is soggy, it is baked at too high temperature.

BROWN SUGAR SAUCE

⅛ cup Mistletoe Butter
1½ cups brown sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg

Cook the sugar, water and butter for five minutes. Add spices and serve very hot over apple dumplings or any pudding.

COOKED SALAD DRESSING
(To Have on Hand.)

2 eggs yolks
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt.
½ cup cider vinegar
¾ cup boiling water
Cayenne—paprika
½ cup Mistletoe Butter.

Beat the egg yolks, salt and sugar until light. Blend in the flour and vinegar. Beat in the boiling water and seasonings and cook over hot water until thick. Melt the butter and beat it in with a fork. Put this dressing aside to use as needed. One tablespoonful of it beaten in a cup of whipped cream, will serve four or six fruit salads.

'WHITE WAY' SYSTEM MAY BE EXTENDED

A number of property owners in the residential sections of Wichita Falls are making inquiries at the Chamber of Commerce regarding the possibility of adopting a standard design of street light somewhat similar to the downtown "white way" system, according to E. P. Nevin, of the street lighting department of that body. It is probable that a plan will be drawn up in the near future whereby the poorly lighted residence sections of this city will be provided for under the same plan of "pro rating" the expense of lighting such as followed in the downtown section. The idea which will be followed will be concerned with the proper number of lights to provide adequate lighting.

A number of inquiries have been received by the local Chamber of Commerce regarding the lighting system and a great deal of favorable comment has been passed upon the system by visitors to this city. It is said that Wichita Falls has more lighting frontage of a modern type at the present time than any city of the size in the state.

The entire system is now completed and in working order, the lights on Scott avenue and Eighth street which were unavailable for the opening night and celebration, having been completed and turned on.

Finishing touches in the form of green paint are being applied to all of the ornamental poles and the downtown section.

Neff Asserts State Has Too Many Officials

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, April 22.—Governor Neff said that he had discovered that the state had too many officials on the payroll and that they are not all earning their salary and that the state has too much duplication and overlapping machinery, in an address here today before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. The governor told of numerous other discoveries he had made since taking office.

The governor mentioned his "law enforcement program" which he has announced he will re-submit at the special legislative session, pointing out that while the governor was charged with enforcing the laws of Texas, "he stands with bet little authority and practically helpless, in the presence of the greatest crime wave in history." He said that he had also discovered the governor possesses no authority to remove inefficient officers, yet he was charged with efficient administration of the state affairs.

"There is entirely too much harmony around the capitol," said the governor, "in regard to expenditure of money. Those who appropriate the people's money should not be at all times on such harmonious terms with those who spend it."

The governor said he had concluded that the governor's office was no "primrose path of pleasure" as no matter what action he took it was bound to raise an objection from some part of the state and the people were not backward in voicing such objections."

IT WAS LUCKY FOR DENNIS, HE STATES

Chattanooga Man States Tanlac Overcome His Troubles! Can't Say Too Much for It.

W. F. Dennis, 203 Tyerly St., Chattanooga, Tenn., formerly of Mobile, Ala., makes an interesting statement regarding Tanlac.

"It certainly was lucky for me," said Mr. Dennis, "that I got hold of Tanlac when I did, for I was just about down and out. Off and on for three years I have been down with malaria. For ten months on one occasion I was confined to the house most of the time.

"As I usually spent my winters in Chattanooga, I came back here last September to spend the rest of my life with my daughter. When I arrived here I was in a very weakened condition, for the malaria was fast getting the best of me. I had no appetite, felt weak and tired all the time and had pains in my stomach that were completely upsetting my nerves. I slept very little and got up mornings nearly exhausted. In fact I was about 'all in' and kept getting worse.

"Five weeks ago I got Tanlac and my appetite picked up with my first half bottle. Soon I was able to sleep all night and felt like a new man. I eat any kind of food set before me and enjoy it. I have gained several pounds in weight and feel better than I have in five or six years. Tanlac has saved me money and given me health, too, and I can't say too much for it."

Four of the outstanding figures at the first national convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, to be held in Chicago, are the Walshes. Frank A. of Kansas City, former chairman of the war labor board; Senator David I. of Massachusetts, and the two sisters-in-law of Lord Mayor MacCurtain, who preceded Terence MacSwiney as chief executive of Cork, and who was assassinated last March. They will all deliver speeches.

Frank A. Walsh who is leading the legal fight to prevent the deportation of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork, who provoked an international diplomatic dispute when he slipped into this country last January as a stowaway, will be one of the principal speakers at the convention. Senator Walsh will be chairman of it.

Other speakers are to be O'Callaghan himself, and Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney whom the Irish regard as a martyr no less than Robert Emmett, since he starved himself to death in Brixton prison, London, last summer, rather than acknowledge the jurisdiction of the British authorities.

Huns Resist Demands for Gold Transfer

PARIS, April 22.—Germany's formal reply to the demand of the reparation commission that the gold reserve of the Reischs bank, the German imperial bank, be transferred from Berlin to the Rhineland, which, according to intimations received here, will be a refusal, had not been received by the commission up to late this afternoon. It was believed that in accordance with the German custom it is not actually delivered until the last minute of the time set, which expires at midnight.

The expected refusal, however, will not be regarded as changing in any way the situation between Germany and the allies, but merely as one more instance of German resistance to the allied requirements on reparations, to be considered in connection with the whole question by the allied supreme council.

REPORT ON CARE OF SOLDIERS.

President Harding's commission, appointed to investigate and report on the conditions under which the sick and disabled soldiers are being cared for, undoubtedly holds the record for dispatch and efficiency. In three days it has covered the ground an investigating committee from congress would have spread over as many months, and formulates a brief list of recommendations with the advice that they be at once put into operation by presidential decree pending congressional action, though at the same time asking that laws be enacted as speedily as possible. There may be considerable temerity in the suggestion to congress that it carefully avoid a repetition of the inconsistencies in existing laws governing soldier relief, but congress could do far worse than accept the suggestion.

The aim of the commission was to produce a plan that would accomplish the desired result in the most direct manner. It suggests, therefore, that there be put under one head or "director general" all the activities designed to promote the health and welfare of the ailing service men. It is perceived that under present administration there is a lack of co-ordination which works actually to the disadvantage of the purpose and no remedy except a reorganization and centralization of authority can be applied. It is further recommended that authority be delegated to competent subordinates so that delays may be eliminated and all decisions made promptly without being subject to the present endless delays due to necessity for reference from one department to another or for the approval of those higher up. If a soldier needs to be transferred from one hospital to another certainly those in charge of his case are capable of deciding the question and of ordering the transfer all between two suns.

It is noteworthy that the commission found time and inclination to make the recommendation that there be an "exertion of humanizing influences to impress the sick and wounded with the fact that the nation is entirely concerned in their welfare and rehabilitation." This course is humane and its necessity revealed by the finding of the commission of the "present deplorable failure on the part of the government properly to care for the disabled veterans." No wonder the brave fellows think the American people don't care what happens to them and no wonder the commission sees fit to emphasize the necessity of imparting this cheer to the sick in mind and body.—Mobile Register. (Dem.)

NO FEDERAL MONEY FOR NEGLECTED ROADS.

The good practical sense which happily seems to be a marked characteristic of Mr. Harding's mind is shown by his determination to check federal contribution to highway construction where states neglect to make proper provision for upkeep.

Building roads at great expense, and then not keeping them in condition, is inexcusable waste; waste not only of the original expenditure but waste through the inefficiency of the roads as transportation agencies. The influences which profit directly by public appropriations, of course, will get as much money from the federal government as possible, and their interest thereafter lapses, but federal taxpayers—and we are nearly all in that class nowadays—will be grateful to Mr. Harding if he will insist that no federal money goes to any state unless it is to be well spent and the investment protected—that is, the investment is the good road, and if the good road is allowed to go to pieces, the investment were better not made.

Upkeep pays. For every day a defect in a road is neglected the cost of repair increases almost geometrically. Economy and efficiency demand that roads, once laid, should be constantly watched and promptly mended. If a state does not provide for this it should have to help from Uncle Sam.—Chicago Tribune. (Ind. Rep.)

DEFERRING WAR EXPENSES.

A new plan to ease the burden of federal taxes is receiving considerable support, especially among business men who are heavy taxpayers. It proposes "legislation providing for refunding to each taxpayer, in the form of U. S. twenty-year 4 per cent bonds, to be issued for that purpose, one-half the amount paid as income war and excess profits taxes for the years 1920 to 1923 inclusive."

It is urged: (1) That the government would receive in cash full amount of the tax levied, as it does under the present arrangement; (2) that the taxpayer would in effect have his taxes cut in half, as the bonds would constitute a liquid asset; (3) that the burden of war costs would be spread over a longer period, thus granting relief during this difficult time of business reconstruction.

The idea is unquestionably appealing, on first thought, to nearly all classes of citizens. Who would not like to get a rebate of 50 per cent on the federal taxes he is paying this year, with the promise of a similar rebate for the next three years? Yet there are many doubtful things about the plan.

Perhaps the most doubtful feature is the fact offered as a merit—that the bonds received "would constitute a liquid asset." That would indeed help out many a business firm and many an individual, but it would tend inevitably to check the wholesome deflation of recent months and encourage renewed inflation. Hard as the process may be, is it not desirable that the deflation be allowed to take its natural course? Everybody knows how the Liberty bond issues raised prices. A big bond distributing like the one proposed, becoming the basis of additional billions of loans and credits, would turn prices upward again before they have found their proper level.

It is doubtful whether it is wise to defer these war expenditures for 20 years or any other prolonged period. There is sound logic in arguing for a prompt wiping out of the war debt, so as to get the nation as soon as possible on a sound basis for real prosperity. It is particularly doubtful because, as matters stand, a large part of the 50 per cent rebate proposed represents money that is being used not to pay the principal of the war debt, but to pay current expenses; and it is a fundamental business principle that current charges should be met by current income. —Brattleboro Reformer. Editorial Digest

THE WEST ON THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM.

Newspaper comment from west of the Mississippi on President Harding's message to congress on the whole bears out the judgment of the rest of the country—little extravagant praise and almost no bitter criticism. A great many papers make no general comment upon the document at all, but are content to discuss various issues it raises at great length from the point of view of their various political persuasions.

Excerpts follow:

"President Harding's policy with regard to peace and international relationships arising from the war seems to be clearly defined in his message." — St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Ind.)

"On disarmament, world peace, economy, cost of living, taxation, railroad recovery, justice to soldiers—all problems of enormous difficulty—the message speaks a steady purpose to concentrate the best energies of the government. The message is full of encouragement to the expectation of the country that these questions will be tackled in good earnest at last, not hurriedly, but with the serious care that alone can work out constructive measures of relief and recovery."—Topeka Capital (Rep.)

"It is sufficient to say now that in its earnest plea for economy and its rejection of the equivocal and war provocative League of Nations it meets with the approval of a majority of the people."—Dallas Times Herald (Ind. Dem.)

"President Harding's first message to congress is a plain statement of the nation's condition and the questions which confront it, set forth in plain language, and very worthy of study. Recognizing frankly that the conditions surrounding the tasks of legislation and administration are as difficult as ever confronted the government, the message nevertheless breathes the spirit of confident, optimistic Americanism that characterized Mr. Harding's inaugural address a month ago. Every true citizen of the republic will accept with hearty good will the president's invitation to "join in the effort to find our normal, onward way again." — Tacoma Ledger (Ind.)

"President Harding's first address to congress is suggestive both of the hand of Jacob and the voice of Esau. In part it shows the influence of Charles E. Hughes and Herbert Hoover, and of eminent republicans outside the cabinet who have favored the League of Nations theory and ideals if not the league covenant as written." — Omaha World-Herald (Ind.)

"The message that President Harding delivered to congress Tuesday had the right ring to it from start to finish. The message, as a whole, is strong and reflects the sentiment of the majority of the American people."—Hastings (Neb.) Tribune (Rep.)

"When President Harding stood up before the two houses of congress and crowded galleries to deliver his first message, he surprised his hearers because he waved, figuratively speaking, two red lanterns—danger signals for two groups who least expected them from the new president. One group was the senate and the other was big business."—St. Paul News (Ind.)

"Perhaps we have been somewhat spoiled by the wonderfully clear and lucid English habitually used by Woodrow Wilson in his public papers, so that President Harding seems especially involved and muddy in his style of statement."—Great Falls (Mont.) Tribune (Dem.)

"The more President Harding discusses the League of Nations the less clearly do we understand his position. This is not so much because of what he says or does not say as it is because of the seemingly inspired interpretative statements that follow his remarks."—Norfolk (Neb.) News (Ind.)

"A strong message, on the whole; strong in conviction and purpose, though there may be some to complain that it lacks in the sentimentalism dictated by 'visions' and 'voices' to which congress and the country had become somewhat inured. A practical man, Mr. Harding deals practically with every topic touched upon; and certainly there was never a time when the problems of this nation and of the world called more earnestly for practical treatment." — Seattle Post-Intelligencer (Ind. Rep.)

"The president's first address is no startling utterance of statesmanship, and it can be said without disrespect that nobody expected it would be. A rabid partisan of the president's political faith could extol it, if he desired to make himself ridiculous by carping criticism of it. There is nothing great, nothing profoundly impressive in the address, but it suits the conditions and circumstances under which it was delivered, and its contents and spirit will be sure to draw the nation into a sympathetic attitude toward the president, now at last engaged with the gravest problems that an American president ever faced."—Houston Post (Dem.)

"Nothing of a revolutionary nature is put forward in President Harding's message to congress. No alchemy is to be employed to bring back prosperity and restore former conditions, as nearly as they may be restored following the great world upset. Legislative panaceas can only go so far and they have always a rebound to them."—Denver Rocky Mountain News. (Ind.)

"President Harding's first message to congress is a ringing fulfillment of every pledge he made during the campaign and an inspiring vindication of the confidence upon which the people based their unprecedented majority for him at the polls Nov. 2 last." — Kansas City Journal. (Rep.)

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BY AN AMATEUR CYNIC.

I don't believe that all politicians are dishonest nor that all dishonest men are politicians.

He had arrived before his wife and a middle-aged siren had cornered him. At first he resented it and then he warmed up to the situation. In fact, he was getting to that age where a man talks about himself.

Then his wife arrived. Both the women greeted each other sweetly. He sort of felt that he was out of it.

DINNER STORIES

A milkman in a country town was brought before the local court to answer a charge of adulteration.

"You are charged," said the magistrate, "with selling adulterated milk. Have you anything to say in answer to the charge?"

"Well, your honor," replied the milkman, "the night before it was raining very hard and the only cause I can give is the cow must have got wet through.'

Here is a story of an Irish barrister who pleaded for a client who had bought a public house and found that the license had just been taken away.

"I appeal to you for my unfortunate client who bought this public house," he said. "What is it now but the corpse of a public house with the living, breathing spirit of the license taken away from it?"

ATTENDS SCHOOL FROM HOME WITH SMALL POX CASE

Called by a solicitous neighbor, to investigate a sick child in the 200 block on Travis street Friday morning, Quarantine Officer Herbert Jackson reported that he found one child with a serious case of smallpox, and two other children who had been sleeping in the same room, attending school at the San Jacinto school.

The children were immediately removed from the school and preparations at once made for complete fumigation of the building and vaccination of children, who might have been exposed.

Officers said that such a flagrant violation of quarantine laws was subject to heavy penalty, but that they did not think arrests will be made in this case, as the parents were ignorant both of what was the nature of the disease and of the quarantine regulations.

Officers also said that the family were too poor to obtain medical aid for the sick child, and that the case is being treated by city health officials.

WILL FORM FRESH PRODUCE MARKET THIS AFTERNOON

Establishment of a regular market here for the selling of fresh vegetables, eggs and chicken grown on farms near Wichita Falls is expected to follow from a meeting of representative truck growers which has been called for 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This meeting was decided upon last Saturday by a few farmers who met with Mrs. Smock and Crawford of the Civic league and J. A. Kemp in order to get the idea of a large number of farmers who would be interested.

Everyone who is interested is invited to come to this meeting as plans for the market necessarily depend on a full representation at this meeting and a full co-operation between the growers.

The first definite step that is expected to result from this meeting will be the setting up of a market at some downtown corner, probably at Ninth and Scott streets.

A trial is desired of the market for the ladies of the civic league believe that once the citizens and housewives find they can buy freshly grown vegetables and produce from home people they will be glad to support the market.

LAKE WICHITA OPENS SEASON NEXT SUNDAY

Sunday has been set as the date for the official opening of the summer season at Lake Wichita although the first public dance will be given tonight in the pavillion. A general remodeling in the various attractions, including the swimming, dancing, boating, refreshment and amusement concessions, have been going on for some time and everything is in readiness for the official opening.

Among the features which are planned to make the lake a pleasure spot this summer are free movies. Films are being booked and as soon as a screen can be built this feature will be started.

It is planned to give three public dances each week in the pavillion in addition to the private affairs which the Cypher and Comus clubs and the Elks are understood to have planned. The celebrated Texas Blue Devils orchestra has been procured for the dances, it was announced.

GERMAN CASTLE ON RIVIERA UNTENANTED

By Associated Press.

PARIS, April 22.—At Beaulieu sur Mer on the Riviera stands a beautiful mansion in the midst of a large and shady park. It is the property of Prince and Princess Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst. Sequestrated at the beginning of the war and used as a hospital for American soldiers during the war the property was recently put up for auction by the French sequestration officials. It was estimated to be worth 80,000 francs and considered cheap at that price. Nevertheless, no one came forward to buy. The property is now uninhabited and is considered burdensome to the sequestration officials.

35,000 PINTS OF WHISKEY A DAY!

CHICAGO, April 22.—Chicagoan's will have to get along on 1,600,000 gallons of booze per year, according to rules drafted by Ralph W. Stone, new dry chief for the central department.

Druggists have been notified that they will be permitted to draw only one hundred gallons of whiskey and wine each per quarter. There are 2,000 drug stores in Chicago.

From the standpoint of the individual this means that 5,000 pints of whiskey and wine a day is to be divided between Chicago's 3,000,000 people.

BOOCH SPONGERS

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 22.—The prohibition enforcement bureau here has a "sponge brigade."

It's the idea of Assistant Attorney General Roy Hubbard, of Kansas.

The "spongers" all armed with sea-going wash rags, raided an alleged "blind tiger." As they entered the house, Mrs. Anna Markewich crashed a strong jug on the kitchen floor. As the "booch" drained away into floor cracks, the "sponge brigade," went into action. Kneeling on the kitchen floor they "salvaged" a quart of the "home brew booch."

Now Mrs. Marewich and five men, found in the house, face federal charges.

IT SIMPLY ISN'T DONE

BOSTON, Mass., April 22.—Professor Albert Einstein, whose theory of relativity has upset the scientific world, will not get the freedom of the city if he comes to Boston on a visit.

No one in the City Council objects, as was the case in New York City, where one member of the board of estimate said he didn't know him. But the mayor's office announced that as no one had given the freedom of the city during the Peters administration, that record is likely to hold good until the mayor passes out early next year.

The city will be glad to banquet and entertain him, as it did General Pershing, King Albert of Belgium and General Nivelle of France. But as for giving him the freedom of the city, it simply isn't being done.

Gendarmes transported the burglar across the frontier, but he laughingly told them that he would return shotly, since he liked the prison at Bellinzona. He is not the only man who has been impressed by the leniency with which prisoners are treated in Switzerland.

Roman Races To Feature Big Round-Up

The Iowa Park special cowboys roman standing race will be one of the added features of the Round-Up which will be staged here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The business men of Iowa Park wishing to lend their aid and co-operation to Mr. Burnett in the staging of the Round-Up here, have made up a special purse of $250 for a cowboy roman race which will be known as the Iowa Park special, Leonard Stroud, Tommy Kirnan, Florence King and Montana Jack Ray have already announced their intention of entering roman teams in the race and there will probably be six or seven teams entered making an exceptionally large field for this kind of race.

Cowboys and cowgirls continue to arrive in the city for the contests and Manager Burnett, who motored in from the Triangle ranch Friday, stated that already there are more entries than last year and the entries do not close until next Wednesday night at which time it is expected that the greatest number of contestants ever entered in a similar event in this state will have signed entry blanks.

One of the latest entries in the cowgirl bronc riding is Mildred Douglas Hirkle, twice winner of the cowgirls bronc riding at Cheyenne and Pendleton, California; Frank of Ridgeway, Colo.; Rene Hafley of the same city and Miss Mamie Francis the expert lady rifle shot were among the arrivals Friday.

DECORATIONS WILL REMAIN FOR RODEO AND FEDERATION

To greet the state meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs and the coming Rodeo and Round-Up, officials announced Friday that the decorations which have been placed on buildings and across streets, welcoming the Knights Templar will not be removed.

In commenting on the order, officials said that both events were of importance to the city and they felt that Wichita Falls should keep on her holiday clothes until they are ended.

BOYS SURRENDERED TO COUNTY OFFICERS

Four youths and boys, alleged to have confessed recent automobile thefts Friday, were surrenderd to county authorities by Chief of Police Huff.

Two of them admitted, Chief Huff said, having removed casings from C. F. Carter's automobile.

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish." —Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backache, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness and "the blues" a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Might as Well Pony Up Now for Minstrel Ticket

Mister there's no use, you had just as well buy a ticket to the University Club minstrel now as to wait, for after you hear from the first performance you wouldn't miss it, any way, and then besides there are 800 high school students laboring individually and in groups for a long list of prizes, and they won't be denied.

The race for the high ticket sales record is being chiefly contested between the senior and junior high groups, according to current rumors, which places first, one then the other in the lead.

Members of the cast announce, however, that they have one kick to make at their publicity managers concerning their announcements of the show, wherein they continally call it a "minstrel" and fail to credit them for the m[illegible] vaudeville part of the entertainment.

The vaudeville acts are reported full to the brim with friendly and pretinent quips with a personal touch of local application to the jests, that insure an enjoyable evening to all, as well as songs and entertaining skits of wit and humor.

Summary: Sacrifice hits, Marshall, McDonald 2; stolen bases, Tanner; two-base hits, Works, Eibel, Bush, Miller, Tanner, McElwee; home run, Rothfuss; struck out by Marshall 4, by Bush 2; base on balls, off Bush 10; hit by pitched ball, Tanner; time 1 hour 45 minutes. Umpires Kane and Daly.

Hitting Bush at inopportune moments for run scoring, but taking advantage of twelve gifts of trips to first, the Spudders broke even in the series with the Gassers yesterday afternoon by taking the long end of an 11 to 1 score. "Rube" Marshall was in mid-summer form and held the visitors to five hits, two of which coming in the fourth inning saved the Gassers from a white-washing.

As in the previous games, the Spudders played rings around the Gassers showing them a variety of defensive and offensive work that Billy Smith's present crew will never hope to duplicate. Bush's wildness in the first inning went a long way in crushing the visitors for the Spudders garnered five counters with only one hit. Work's double to left with the bases full. The entire home gang toed the plate in the opening frame, four drawing passes, Buddy Tanner being hit, McDonald sacrificing and Marshall, McDonald and McElwee contributing the three outs.

Day Very Hot

The day was hot as real baseball weather should be and the ball players showed the effects, putting up a much snappier contest than when the cold spell was on. "Rube" was at his best and toyed with the visitors throughout the nine frames being in trouble only once when two hits and a fielder's choice allowed the lone visitor's run to trickle over the pan.

Big First Inning

The Spudders started with the usual rush after the Gassers had been set down in order in the opening frame. Rothfuss was walked and Tanner was scraped by a pitched ball. McDonald dumped the pill in front of the plate, Rothfuss going to third and Tanner to second, but Mac was out at the initial sack, Vann to Eibel. Clark, Miller and McElwee looked on over and drew free transportation Miller's walk forcing in Rothfuss and McElwee's sending Tanner across the plate. With the bases full, Works, as usual, came through with a double scoring Clark and Miller. Kitchen then bunted to Eibel who threw to the plate. McElwee decided not to come home just then and Bush, who had the ball, threw to second to catch Kitchens. Hartford returned the ball to Vann who caught McElwee sliding to the plate. Marshall ended the inning with a long fly to Massey.

Continued wildness by Bush in the second frame gave Tanner another free trip to first after Rothfuss was out, Eibel unassisted. McDonald sizzled down the first base line and Clark filled the bags by walking Miller. Again McElwee forced a run in by drawing a base on balls but Works was unequal to the occasion this time taking three beauties across the heart of the pan without swinging.

Bush Settles Down

Bush settled down after the second frame and although he issued four more free passes and was touched for seven hits, one a home-run and one a triple, he allowed the Spudders only two other five counters. Rothfuss hit a home-run in the seventh. It was a terrific clout over the right field fence that cleared the enclosure with yards to spare but as the bases were empty and did no more damage than to cost the management the price of a baseball.

With this win over Shreveport the Spudders are now almost even in the percentage column, having won three and dropped four. Those who have watched the Spudders from the first of the training season to yesterday afternoon are unanimous in saying that of the seven games played the Spudders should have won at least five and that bad breaks, coupled with the ineffectiveness of the hurlers, at first, were responsible for losing at least one game to both the Dallas and the Gasser clubs while the other two losses were really due to the visitors, as wins.

Cats Here Today

The Fort Worth Cats come here this afternoon for a series of three games and at least one person is known to want to bet the visitors will not win more than one of the three contests. With good pitching, such as Darrough, Bowman and Marshall have shown the winning of two out of three should not be a very hard task. A clean sweep would send the Spudders on their first road trip with a percentage of over .500 something very much desired by local rooters.

FROM THE ROOF

Yesterday's game looked somewhat better than the contest on Thursday. The sun shone bright and warm and Oklahoma failed to move over in Texas.

Outside of the perfect day yesterday's game also looked better from the percentage column viewpoint. The win shoved the Gassers down a peg and raised the Spudders a notch.

Works' double in the first inning came with the bases full. Five times in the seven games he has worked, he has been placed in the position where a hit meant at least two scores and the youngster has come through handsomely with the exception of the last time yesterday afternoon when he struck out.

The fast double play engineered by Clark and Tanner and finished by Works in the eighth frame, was a classic. Bush was responsible for the only double killing of the game and Vann was the victim.

Tanner was officially credited at bat twice during the fray but managed to make two hits and score four runs.

Danny Clark hasn't made a hit in two games, although he has managed to score once. The keystone sacker clouts 'em but he has been unlucky enough to have a waiting fielder grab the ball for a putout.

Rothfuss now leads the Spudders in hitting, having made 14 hits in 29 times at bat for an average of .483.

Works added two more wallops to his string while McDonald, Miller and McElwee are one more ahead.

AMATEUR LEAGUE

The Methodists won from the Morgan Seeders yesterday afternoon in the only game played of the regular Amateur league schedule, the final score being 7 to 4. The North Side club has dropped out of the league and have been replaced by the South Methodists. Following is the box score:

Rube Marquard Has Difficulty In Re-Marrying

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 22.—"Rube" Marquard, Cincinnati pitcher, uncertain of his status in the matrimonial league, has twice in so many days tried to have a "make sure" marriage ceremony performed. Marquard married his present wife, who was Miss Naomi Malone of Baltimore, after being divorced from his first wife, known on the stage as "Blossom Seely."

In some states a second marriage is not recognized before elapse of a certain length of time after a divorce has been granted. The time limit for Marquard expired yesterday. With Mrs. Marquard he immediately endeavored to have a second ceremony performed in Pittsburgh, but failed. Today the couple journeyed to Beaver on a similar mission, but again were balked. On both occasions a license was refused because Marquard did not have with him a certified copy of his divorce decree.

Glancin' 'Round The Sport World

WITH VAN

There never was a manager in the game with the color possessed by John McGraw and Frank Chance. The latter is now out of it, having retired to his orange grove in California. But this year finds another manager with a "lot o' color," and it's none other than our old Maharajah of Swat, Tyrus Raymond Cobb. They've clothed Ty in the purple robes of authority this year and he threatens to come through successfully. He'll not win a pennant, but his team will be up there fighting all the way, and before he finishes he will have a pennant winning aggregation, which Detroit has missed many years. Cobb has personality and in making himself popular with the players. He is injecting that old gray matter, with which he is so abundantly supplied, into his efforts and we predict Cobb in a year or so will be one of the managers of the game.

During the recent wrestling match in New York a "masked marvel" was introduced on the stage and challenged Strangler Lewis. The latter accepted the defi and now folks are wondering whether the masked one was ol' Plestina himself. Lewis says, "What's the difference, Plestina looks the same to me as all the others."

Reports show that the French military class of 1921, called to the colors during April, has yielded 210,000 men, which is more than 75, percent of youths 20 years of age who are subject to military service. This is the first time such a high percentage of effectives has been secured, and newspapers attribute it to a decrease in the use of alcohol, the spread of sports in France and improved living conditions on French farms.

Wild Bill Donovan, who is old at the managing game, but new at the head of the Philadelphia National league club, is a type that has personality and color, and he says: "My team will win some games and lose some games, but I am always looking to strengthen and build up into a winner." Bill is going to finish in the second division, but his men are going to give him the best there is in them.

Johnny Evers, the new Cub pilot, is another individual with color. The fighting, fire-eating Trojan seems to have won the confidence of his men and they "are playing their heads off" for him. Those who watched him in the first game at Chicago, and his work on the line, where he and Bill Killifer did the coaching, said it was perfection itself. John has a lot of baseball brains and he's going to do fairly well with the material he has on hand at present.

Roush Holds Out Until Reds Meet All His Demands

CINCINNATI, April 22.—Still far apart in their views on the salary question, Ed Roush, centerfielder of the Cincinnati Nationals and President August Herrmann, ended a conference held late today to bring the star batsman back into the field.

Roush said that he would not yield a penny in his demand for $20,000 a year and a three-year contract.

A director of the club said that even if the club was in eighth place on July 4 he would not give Roush a nickel additional to his present salary of $15,000 a year.

Roush said he would return to his Indiana farm tonight. Both Herrmann and Roush will consider counter proposals, however, it was said.

THIS SPORTING LIFE

Al Munro Ellis the baseball statistician, wants to sell "the deeds of Babe Ruth, inning by inning—" a full statement of everything Babe does throughout the season. Not half explicit enough, Al. Why not have details, day by day, of how much and what Babe eats in his five daily meals; how much egg he spills on the front of his silk shirt; how often he changes said shirt; how long it takes him to fish his collar-button out from under the bureau; what language he uses as he gets it—why, Al, the field is unlimited, just unlimited!

The war between the Turks and Greeks is great stuff, full of thrills and heroic doings. When the bugle sounds, the Greeks charge—that was always one of the best things they could do—and bombard the Turks with a barrage of blacking-boxe shoe-brushes, fruit, candy, knive forks and soup-spoons. The Turk send a torrential gas of cigarette smoke right into the faces of the Greeks then rush forward and smother the foremost assailants under heaps of rugs. And thus the tigerish conflict continues till one party or the other sees a nickel lying loose—whereat the fight is renewed till all of them are done up or dead!

Kelly and Ruth On Even Terms In Homer Race

NEW YORK, April 22.—The home-run batting race between "Babe" Ruth of the New York Americans and George Kelly, of the New York Nationals, remained at a dead heat today when each pounded out his fourth circuit clout of the season. Elmer Smith, of Cleveland, and Emil Meusel, of the Philadelphia Nationals, are only a step behind, with three home runs to their credit, while Bob Meusel, Emil's brother of the New York Americans has two. Several other players have made two also.

Ruth is far ahead of last year's schedule as he did not make his fourth home-run in 1920 until May 11. Kelly's home-run total for 1920 was 11. Ruth made 54.

Race Fixers Are Ruled Off Track At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, April 22.—By order of the Maryland racing association one horse owner, P. L. Chinn, is ruled off all tracks under the supervision of the commission, and another hores owner, C. N. Freeman, is suspended until December 31, 1921.

This action was taken following a meeting of the board today at which counsel for Chinn and Freeman were heard in executive session.

Chinn and Freeman had been charged with conspiring to "fix" a race at Bowie on April 13, as a result of this trouble their entries were barred from the Harve de Grace meeting. The race at Bowie which started the trouble was won by a horse named Vulcanize.

Evidence in possession of the racing commission was not made public. Sale at public auction of the horses of the two owners is authorized. Chinn owns 11 horses, Freeman six.

Polo Club and Round-Up Teams Schedule Games

Representatives of the Wichita Polo club and the Round-Up polo team met in the offices of Jerome S. Stone Friday morning and arranged for a series of three games, the first to be played at Call Field Sunday, May 1. The second game will be played Saturday, May 7, and then if neither team has won two straight games, the third game to be played Sunday, May 8.

Cowboy Team Good.

It did not take long to convince the local club that the cowboy team is worthy of their steel and immediately after the arrangements were completed there was a general stampede in the direction of Call Field, getting ponies and players into form and hardened for what are expected to be some gruelling contests.

Dave White will captain the Round-Up team. He has just returned from a series of games at Long Island, wherein his team defeated several of the fastest teams of New York and New Jersey.

Hugh Strickland, another of the cowboy team, has played with the best teams of Wyoming, and is a worthy opponent on any team, while "Slim" Caskey, the famous bulldogger of this city, played polo with the A. E. F. occupation forces in Germany.

Jim Casey, the fourth member, is one of the best horsemen in the state.

Those best posted on the sport predict a great series of games and while they will not concede an advantage to the cowboy team local polo fans are of the opinion that the local club is up against a real bunch that will be hard to beat.

AMERICAN POLOISTS CONTINUE WINNING

LONDON, April 22. — The American polo team today continued its string of victories in practice matches in Sunbury field. The Americans, Louis E. Stoddard, Thomas Hitchcock Jr., J. Watson Webb and C. C. Rumsey, scored a victory today by eight goals to two against a scratch team composed of Maj. F. W. Barrett, Earl Whopping, Robert E. Strawbridge and Capt. Frederick Guest. Stoddard and Hitchcock made an excellent showing, each scoring three goals.

MANY NEW RECORDS EXPECTED AT MEET

AUSTIN, April 22.—District elimination contests now being held over the state under the University of Texas Interscholastic league organization in preparation for the big annual state meet here on May 5, 6 and 7, offer evidence that many previous records will be broken this year and that the meet will be an assembly of the best high school athletes in the state. One exceptionally good record lately reported is that of Lawton Thomas of Electra, who in the fourth district meet held at Olney, broke the state high school record for the 100-yard dash, making it in ten seconds flat, and took three other first places on the track. District winners already reported to state headquarters here are:

District 11, held at Marshall—Winner, Hallettsville.

District 13, held at Comanche—Class A, Santa Anna; Class B, Gustine.

NOSING 'ROUND WASHINGTON

I came very near being shot in the White House grounds the other day. Yep! You see, my friend is a bit on the order of what the modistes call "stylish stout." Rather more than a bit, indeed. Looks something like a slightly youthful Irvin Cobb. Also wouldn't consider it decent of him out of doors not to "wear" his stag-handled cane. Altogether, not unlikely to be taken for a real somebody. He was fishing round in his breast pocket for the letter his senator from "back home" had given him to the president's secretary. Drew out what may have seemed an important looking document.

As we came along the path toward the executive offices there was an upstage looking bunch thronging about the little steps—rollicking gamins, smartly turned out flappers, a sprinkling of rather rakish looking young males and (in their best black silk) a populous representation of those highly honorable and very ample figures who have generously mothered the young sons and daughters of the American prairies.

Suddenly from the side lines they popped out—a whole battery of them, with their bug-like machines on tall stilts. The motion picture camera men were taking no chances that anything important would escape their fire. Evidently they couldn't quite place us, however, so we got through the door without further incident.

When we had entered the grounds through the gate at the far side of the lawn my thoughtful friend had threwn away his lighted cigar, feeling that promiscuous smoking here would be taboo from danger of fire to so precious a national jewel as the White House. Within the ante-room to the executive office the scene very decidedly suggested one of those jovial masculine gatherings termed a "smoker." The seething and motley company of (obviously) newspaper men put one in mind of the recent arrival at a military training camp of a nondescript batch of drafted men not yet got into uniform. General air about the room of loafing in a corner cigar store.

Then, suddenly a rising murmur and a pell-mell push toward the door. My friend and I were swayed out upon the step and saw at the gate directly at the street corner of the building the movie camera men very vigorously clearing for action. They had halted close before them a tall, striking and very distinguished figure. You instantly recognised him by the insignia which he wore on the slope toward his chin of his under lip—a wisp of whiskey (light straw color), such as decorated the illustrious countenance, too, of the late James Abbott McNeil Whistler.

He was, this gentleman, looking very sheepish, continually bowing in a rather strained manner to the camera men and lifted his black derby hat to them. They were scrambling about the legs of their engines and cranking away with a rattle. "Over this way a little, Mr. Paderewski!" yelled one. "Hold on, Mr. Paderewski, there you are!" bawled another. Boisterous mirth about the door. "That's good!" "Sure, he's only a premier."

Then a deferential scattering to make way for him as he approached. Held him up again, the camera guerillas, on the steps. He was bowing with an effect of increasing strain and the intensity of his sheepishness becoming painful to contemplate. His hair a white brush thrusting out behind. Ghostly white bow tie. His black clothes beautifully sleek and pressed. At close up his features blunter, less sensitive in chiseling than appears in his photographs. The flesh of his face striking in the degree of the pinkness and fairness of complexion of the races of northern Europe.

BROOKLYN'S TEAM SAME AS IN 1920

Brooklyn's chances in the National League this year would seem to depend more upon the changed conditions in the other clubs than upon an estimate of the Superbas' own strength. They will start the season with practically the same lineup with which they won the championship last year. They still have the same pitching staff, and it is possible that Cadore and one or two others of the pitchers may be even better than in 1920.

The infield situation is uncertain because of the aging of Ivan Olson and the failure to find a new man to take his place in case he should slip seriously. Buster Caton, formerly of the Pirates was expected to act as a reliable substitute for Olson, but has developed a bad arm and has been sent home by Manager Wilbert Robinson. Ed Konetchy, the oldest first baseman in the league, batted over .300 last year, but whether he will be able to repeat in this, his 15th season, is a question.

Pete Kilduff will again be at second and Jimmy Johnston at third. Both were getting better every day last season and their improvement in form is expected to be a strong point in favor of this year's team.

Behind the bat the prospects are uncertain. Otto Miller, who has been with the club 11 years and last year was expected to do little playing, unexpectedly went back to his early form and became a star again. Whether he can repeat this year is another question like that concerning Konetchy. Ernest Krueger was an erratic thrower last season and will probably be second string catcher this season, but will have a rival in Zack Taylor, a youngster who sat on the bench all last season but showed considerable merit in his few opportunities. Brooklyn recently bought Meyer, formerly with the Athletics, but he was slow in reporting.

The old outfield of Zack Wheat, Hi Myers and Tommy Griffith have all reported, but Wheat and Griffith are getting along in years and whether they will be able to repeat their excellent performances of 1920 is uncertain. Bill Lamar and Bernie Neis are giving all of the veterans a hard run and the club is well supplied in outfield material, while the reserve strength of the infield is decidedly light at this stage.

On the whole, the chances of the club will depend on the number of veterans batting up to their 1920 form and the pitching staff coming through even better than it did last year. A slipping by the veterans and any series of accidents to the pitching staff would probably mean new champions in the National League this year.

CHICAGO

With the return of Johnny Evers as manager of the Chicago Nationals, a new fighting spirit is expected to be instilled into the players—a spirit that was totally lacking last season, in the judgment of critics. The coming season will be the second time Evers has been in command of the club. For years he was a member of the team, covering second base with the famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination.

"I don't know where we'll finish," is the way Evers himself sums up the coming season, "but I do know this ball club is going to fight."

The Cubs have added little new material of worth and have lost one man, Davy Robertson, who was suspended because of failure to report. Whether his retirement is a loss or a gain cannot be determined until the season is well advanced.

Manager Evers regards his pitching staff as one of the best in the league, with Alexander, Tyler and Vaughn forming the backbone of the department. He expects this trio to win at least 60 games. Virgil Cheeves, a 20-year old right-hander from Texas and Oscar Fuhr, a left hander from Omaha, are promising candidates. The remainder of the staff consists of Abe Bailey and "Speed" Martin, holdovers, and several recruits.

The infield presents a new first baseman to fill the gap caused by the release of Fred Merkle. Turner Barber, who played the position for a time last season, and a trio of youngsters, Ray Grimes, Tom Whalen and Alfred Young—are fighting for the berth, with the chances favoring Grimes, or Barber. Grimes is a twin brother of the Grimes with the Giants. He batted .389 in the Eastern league last season.

Zeb Terry, who ran second in fielding last season, will again be at second base, while Charley Hollocher will operate at short. Hollocher submitted to an operation last season but has come back stronger than ever. Charles Deal, is looked upon as the regular third baseman.

Hoke Warner, who had trial with Pittsburgh, and Johnny Kelleher, manager of the St. Joseph, Mo., club last season, will likely be retained as utility infielders.

There will be no change behind the bat. Killefer will do the bulk of the catching, with Bob O'Farrell second string man and Tom Daly operating chiefly as a pinch hitter.

In the outfield, Evers has a great array of talent. Max Flack will be in right field as usual, with Maisel, purchased from Portland, as the choice for left. Twombly and Friberg are candidates for center, although neither is regarded as a finished fielder. Barber may draw the assignment later.

The fiery personality of Evers is expected to add several points to the Cub's percentage standing. From the first day of the spring training trip the players have hustled.

BOSTON

Gone are the Braves of yesteryear. This city will scarcely know its own team when it comes back from the South. Resignations, trades and disagreements have so changed the personnel that it is only reminiscent of the team of a year or two ago.

The change in the Braves is almost revolutionary. With the passing of George T Stallings, the Miracle Man of 1914, to the Rochester Internationals, Fred Mitchell, his "right eye" of that year and subsequently manager of the Chicago Cubs, stepped into the managerial role. The Indian Head is gone from the uniforms, "Rabbit" Maranville is gone from the infield; only Gowdy and Rudolph remain of the 1914 champions and Rudolph's comeback is doubtful.

It will be a team top-heavy in outfield strength, with the former Pirates Southworth and Nicholson fairly certain of regular places, and last year's quartet, Powell, Sullivan, Cruise and Eayrs contending for the odd place with two likely looking youngsters, Nixon and Archdeacon, the latter described as a flash on his feet.

Barbare will be inserted at short in place of Maranville, with Holke holding down first base again, Ford playing regularly at second, and Boeckel probably at third.

Young blood probably will constitute the bulk of the raves' pitching staff. Rudolph and Fillingim have ailing arms that need the summer sun for treatment, the cold and damp of Galveston's training camp having failed to work out the kinks. Joe Oeschger, Scott and Watson will be available early, but the shoots of young John Cooney, of lefty Leo Townsend and his right-handed name sake, Ira Townsend, are expected to supplement the veteran arms in the early campaign.

PHILADELPHIA

The personnel of the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club will be virtually the same this season as last, but if the veteran pitchers perform up to expectations, the club should finish better than last year. Such is the opinion of sport writers who have been sizing up the team in its practice games at Gainesville, Fla., and on its more recent barnstorming tour northward.

Meadows, Ring, Hubbell, Smith and Causey, all right handers, are the man upon whom Manager Donovan must rely to a great extent to pull the club out of last place. The best of this quintet are Meadows and Ring. Walter Betts, a Delaware boy who won a place as reserve pitcher last year, has also received much praise from the sporting experts for his pre-season showing.

But altogether the season's crop of recruit pitchers seems to be distinctly disappointing to the experts, nor do they wax over-enthusiastic concerning any of the recruits for the other positions.

Of the new men, those who seem to have the best chance to retain regular positions are John Peters, a big catcher obtained from the Birmingham Club of the Southern Association last fall, and Frank Bruggy, another backstop, who has been in big league company before, and who was brought from Buffalo in exchange for Tragressor and certain legal tender.

The infield, it is said, is not reassuring. The loss of Paulette weakens the first base position. Neither Jack Miller nor Meusel measure up to his defensive standard. Fletcher at short, Rawlings at second, and third base an unsolved problem between Ralph Miller and Russel Wrightstone is the forecast. Donovan is said to be depending upon Williams, Neale and Stengel as the outfield trio, which, in the opinion of the experts, will make that department stronger than the rest of the Quaker machine.

PITTSBURGH

When the Pittsburgh National League appears at Cincinnati for the opening game of the 1921 season, "Rabbit" Maranville will be at shortstop. Since the retirement of Hans Wagner several years ago, the Pirate management has experimented with a number of men in the short field. Maranville, obtained from Boston during the winter, has been brilliantly performing, according to training camp reports, and the management expects to have as tronger team than it has had since the pennant-winning days of 1909.

George Whitted, last season's third baseman, will be stationed in right field, provided Clyde Barnhart shows the form at third base expected by Manager Gibson. Barnhart, graduating from the semi-pro ranks, went to the Southern Association in 1920 and was recalled by the Pirates last fall.

Two men are contesting second base. George Cutshaw, a veteran who covered the keystone sack last year, is being given a hard fight by "Cotton" Tierney, a youngster from Tulsa, Okla.

Harold Traynor, purchased from Portsmouth, Va., and from whom it is said Pittsburgh paid $10,000, will be carried as a substitute infielder. He is a shortstop and has shown excellent form in training, the management announces, but with Maranville playing his accustomed game the youngster has little opportunity of breaking in as a regular.

Members of the 1920 team who will not be seen in Pittsburgh uniforms this year are outfielders Southworth and Nicholson and infielder Barbare who went to Boston in the trade that brought Maranville to Pittsburgh and Catcher William Haeffner, who has retired from baseball.

The following players probably will be wearing Pirate uniforms when the season opens. Schmidt and Lee of last year's team and Skiff and Wilson, recruits, catchers; Adams, Cooper, Hamilton, Ponder, Carlson, all veterans and Zinn, Yellowhorse, Eberhardt, Glazner and Morrison, recruits, pitchers; Grimm, first base; Cutshaw or Tierney, second base; Maranville, shortstop; Barnhart, third base; Bigbee, left field; Carey, center field and Whitted, right field. Ray Rohwer, a San Francisco collegian and Homer Summa, who was with the team last season have been showing well and are expected to be retained as extra outfielders, if they continue to show their present form.

NEW YORK

Right up in front from the start is the place in the 1921 pennant race which the followers of the Giants expect the team will occupy after the opening game on April 13. Whether the New York players will verify this confidence of the club patrons remains to be proved. If careful preparation and excellent coaching during their training can bring success the Giants certainly have had the best of everything in that line throughout the southern trip.

Manager McGraw and his assistants, Hughey Jennings and Jesse Burkett, with Cozy Dolan helping out, certainly form a staff of directors and instructors which could not be duplicated by any other club in the National League. McGraw this year will be strictly a bench manager and he will intrust the coaching to Jennings and Burkett.

Changes may be made in the lineup before the initial game, but McGraw and his assistants seem to be pretty well satisfied that they will be able to put a championship team into the flag contest.

With plenty of pitchers and an excellent catching staff to pick from everything looks good in these departments. The infield seems to be working well together while in the absence of Benny Kauff, Brown at center is filling the place acceptably with Young and Burns at their old positions in the outfield.

Sickness and injuries during the training trip impaired the usefulness of Dave Bancroft at short, "Goldie" Rapp at third and Frank Frisch, the "Fordham flash" at second, but all three may be the regular men at these infield positions at the opening of the season, with Kelly at the first sack.

McGraw has had more luck with his pitchers than he experienced a year ago in the South. Douglas, Nehf, Sallee and Bryan came to prime form quickly, while Toney Barnes and Shea were slower in getting into playing trim. Snyder, Smith and Gonzales with Gaston make up the catching staff and outside of the batteries, the line-up for the opening game may read as follows: Burns, Bancroft, Frisch, Young, Kelly, Brown and Rapp.

CINCINNATI

When the Reds take the field for the opening game of the season in this city on April 13 against the Pittsburgh Pirates, they will be a remodeled ball club from that which won the National League pennant and the scandalous world series in 1919. Unless Ed Roush, center fielder and Henry Groh, third baseman, who are holdouts, capitulate and return to the line-up there will be only three of the Reds of 1919 in the game. They will be Pat Duncan in left field, Jake Daubert at first and Ivy Wingo behind the bat.

Even the appearance of Jake Daubert depends upon the condition he is in for playing as the veteran player did not go with the team to Texas for spring training. If he is not in shape, Pitcher Rube Bressler, who is the handy man of the outfit, will be perched on the first station. At second will be Louis Fonseca obtained from a Western league. Fonseca is one of the best finds of the playing season.

He has clinched the regular job at second base, unless Groh returns, it being the intention of Manager Moran to put Groh at second base if he signs up. But the veteran will have a hard time replacing Fonseca if at all. At the shortfield will be Sam Crane. Larry Kopf the shortstop of the team for three seasons says he has retired from the game. At third will be Sam Bohne, secured from the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League who is regarded as the equal of Groh at the "hot corner."

Duncan will be in left field. Charlie See will hold down center unless Roush returns. In that event See will be shifted to right where once roamed Earle Neale who was traded to the Philadelphia Nationals. If Roush continues to hold out the veteran George Paskert will be in right. Eller, Luque and Fisher are the only pitchers of the 1919 team left to Moran. Ring, Ruether and Sallee have gone. The team as at present constituted has developed unexpected strength at the bat and the work of the infield has been high-class.

Manager Moran believes that he has gathered together an ambitious team, a club that will win far more games than it will lose. The fans believe that it is sure to finish in the first division and perhaps very high up in select circles should Roush and Groh be wearing the Red when the gong sounds for the first battle of the season.

ST. LOUIS

With added strength on the mound Manager Branch Rickey expects to enhance the chances of the Cardinals in this year's pennant race. Having led the National League in batting with .289 and being well up with the leaders in scoring runs last season Manager Rickey assumes that the "punch" will continue in evidence and that his team will do better than tie for the top of the second division where it finished in 1920.

The Cardinals will present a rearranged infield. With Milton Stock a hold-out, Roger Hornsby has been shifted over to third base, and George Toporcer, a bespectacled recruit without previous professional experience, has succeeded Hornsby at second. Fournier and Lavan, are back at first and short, respectively, and Harold Javrin is again available for the utility role.

In the outfield, Jack Smith, who like Stock, hit better than .300 last year, also is a hold-out. The other veterans, McHenry, Heetheote, Shotten and Schultz are in line, however, and reinforcements have been obtained in the persons of Leslie Mann, from Boston, and Clarence Mueller, a minor league recruit, who has made a strong bid for a permanent place.

The catchers, Clemons, Dilhoefer and McCarty, are in line, likewise the veteran pitchers, Schupp, Sherdel, May, Doak, Haines, Goodwin and North. The pitching staff has been increased by the acquisition of Riviere, a collegian, who came into prominence for his work in the semi-professional field in Texas last year; Bill Pertica of Los Angeles, and "Dixie" Walker, from the New Orleans club of the Southern league, all of whom appear to have a good chance of remaining in fast company.

NEW YORK SUGAR

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market today and while no business was reported, the undertone was easier. Prices were quoted at 4 5-8 for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.64 for centrifugal by the committee, while uncontrolled sugars ruled at 5.27.

Following yesterday's decline in raws there was a readjustment by several of the local refiners in refined with prices unchanged to 25 points lower, fine granulated ranging from 7.20 to 7.50.

Sugar futures were active and closing prices were 13 to 14 points net lower or within a few points of the lowest under continued liquidation by outside interests prompted by weakness in the spot market. Final bids May 3.96; July 4.06; Sept. 4.08.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, April 22.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Trading in the wool market this past week has continued in a moderate manner, the mills taking more or less wool from day to day, but in no large volume. Prices on the whole showed little change, although the market is erratic. The tariff is the center of attraction.

"The situation at the mills is healthy. Shearing is progressing in the west, but little has been done on the new clip."

Oregon has an area of 96,000 square miles (France has only 204,-062 without Alsace-Loraine), compares majestically with Rhode Islands 1,250 square miles.

STOCKS MOVE FORWARD IN FAST TRADING

NEW YORK, April 22.—On dealing approximating the largest turnover of any session so far this year the stock market today moved forward in an impressive manner, numerous issues sharing in the extreme gains of 2 to 5 points.

Factors contributing varying degrees to the advance included easier money tendencies, more favorable trade prospects and cables from London which seemed to justify hope of an early and satisfactory outcome of the British coal strike.

Oils, motors and kindred shares were especially prominent and scored the most substantial gains, outstanding features of these groups comprised Studebaker, General Asphalt and Mexican Petroleum. Crucible and United States Steel and several ot the popular equipments also evinced unwanted activity.

Rails held back until the last half of the session, when they were brought forward many of the dormant specialties.

Dealings in foreign exchanges were comparatively light in comparison with yesterday's activity. Germany's latest mediation plea was without visible influence on rates to London and continental points, aside from recovery in marks.

In the bond market all liberty issues strengthened and local utilities also improved.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Duns tomorrow will say:

After long continued liquidation, more stability has developed in some markets with a definite gain in business. Completion of the readjustment is yet to be attained in many instances and improvement is not general, but basic conditions are gradually strengthening. A tendency toward easing of the monetary stringency partly reflected in some lowering of discount ratts, is a favorable augury, and freer marketing of grain are making for a lessening of the financial tension in country districts. Recent sudden changes in temperature have been detrimental alike to crop advancement and seasonal increase in retail distribution, yet weather influences are secondary to some other factors in the present situation, questions of prices and wages being uppermost.

GOLD SHIPMENTS FROM ORIENT HERE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Gold valued at $7,500,000 to $8,000,000 arrived here today on the steamer Eastern Knight from Port Said. This shipment—one of the largest ever received from the Orient—was consigned to several local bankers.

WHEAT SCORES PRICE GAIN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 22. — Wheat scored a substantial gain in price today, influenced more or less by assertions that enactment of emergency tariff bill was to be looked for next week. The market closed strong 1 to 3 1-2 cent net igher with May 1.27 1-2 to 1.28 and July 1.06 1-3 to 1.06 3-4. Corn finished 1 1-8 to 2 1-8 cent up, oats unchanged to 1-2 cent higher and provisions at an advance of 25 to 35 cents.

The upward tendency began at the opening and with only brief interruptions, continued throughout the day and bulls were favored of reports of orange rust insections of Kansas and Oklahoma. In addition, more optimistic views were expressed regarding likelihood that the British coal strike was approaching a settlement. Export sales to Belgium and Germany helped to bring about rallies, and the market closed at the topmost figures of the day.

Corn and oats were strengthened by further export business in corn. Besides rural offerings continued light. Provisions advanced on packers buying. At first, however, the market was weak owing to a temporary break in value of hogs.

STRIKE NEWS SENDS COTTON 22 POINTS UP

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—Moderate gains were the rule in the cotton market today after a hesitating opening, during which prices were 4 to 6 points under the close of yesterday. A better opinion of the chances of settling the English coal strike, reports of a much better demand for spots in the markets in Texas and highly unfavorable reports of the damage by prevailing weather conditions over the belt were the main reasons back of the buying. At its best the market stood 22 to 24 points over the close of yesterday.

The weather map showed too much rain in the western and central divisions of the belt and the forecast called for rain in the Atlantic with fair weather but cooler temperatures elsewhere in the belt. Reports from the interior were that streams were high and that much cotton had been drowned out in low lands and that crops had been washed out on the uplands in central portions of the belt. The western belt complained that the soil was so wet, planting and replanting would be seriously delayed.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Early irregularity was followed by a sharp advance in the cotton market here today, but increased southern hedge selling was encountered around 12.63 for July and that delivery closed at 12.49 with the general market closing barely steady net 3 points lower to 10 points higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 10 points to a decline of 2 points, and sold off a few points during the early trading on reports of increased nervousness in Liverpool. Liquidation of May contracts was again absorbed by trade interests who sold July and October and during the middle of the day the market became more active owing to rdeports of a better felling in the stock and grain markets, accompanied by Wall street and western buying. There was also southern buying on unfavorable weather in the belt and for a time the market showed considerable strength with May selling up from 11.83 to 12.00 and October from 13.05 to 13.27. Some later months made new high ground for the month on this advance. Southern selling became a little more active above 13.25 for October, however, while there was still more or less nervousness over the British coal strike or the question of war preparations and closing prices showed reactions of some 13 or 14 points from the best. Private advices from Liverpool reported a healthy undertone with some speculative buying in late months. Exports for the day were 8,870 bales, making 3,968,873 so far this season. Port receipts 22,849. United States port stock, 1,465,169.

D. & R. G. Elects New Officers in Reorganization

By Associated Press.

DENVER, April 22.—Directors were elected here today at the first meeting of stockholders of the new Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad company of Colorado, which is to take over the property of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, sold at foreclosure sale here last November. Among the directors chosen was Alvin W. Krech of New York, who also is chairman of the board of the Western Pacific railroad company, and president of the Equitable Trust company of New York, which holds a $30,000,000 mortgage on the property.

While no selection of a president of the new line was made, it was understood generally that this place would go to Joseph H. Young of Salt Lake City, Utah, for many years president of the Norfolk Southern railroad.

The directors elected, all from New York, were F. W. M. Cutcheon, Ide Burin, John B. Dennis, Frederick H. Ecker, A. M. Hunt, Alvin W. Kretch, John B. Marsh, Robert W. Martin, George Welwood Murray, Lyman Rhoades, John Y. Robbins and R. B. Young.

Mr. Young, a resident of Norfolk, Va., was connected with the old Denver & Rio Grande system under the Gould administration. It is expected he soon will retire from his present position and enter upon his new duties within the next few wetks.

It is understood that his election was acceptable to the Denver & Rio Grande protective committee, which recently opposed transfer of the system to the interests now in control.

Pigs were scarcest and the market was unchanged.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A more or less disposition to await development in the British coal mining disputes or in the matter of German war preparations, has been reflected in a small volume of business in the cotton market here during the week. Notwithstanding nervousness and uncertainty in these directions however, prices have ruled generally steady owing to absence of selling pressure fro mthe south, reports of less favorable weather for the start of the new crop, and the hope for an expanding export demand as soon as conditions abroad became more settled. Trade advices from both Liverpool and Manchester have contributed to the latter, creating an impression here that a good business was pending in Lancashire.

MEXICAN SAILINGS

PORT ARTHUR, Tex., April 22.—The Ward steamship line on April 25, will begin three sailings a month out of this port for Mexican ports, it was announced at the office of the trans-Atlantic line here today.

City Teachers Have Picnic at Lake Wichita

Beginning their afternoon activities with picnic games on the special car, which took them to the lake, and carrying the holiday spirit throughout, including motor boat rides—and it is even rumored that now and then a shy pedagogical whisper of that well-known malady of Spring time was noted by certain hawk-eyed elders—all leading to the crowning event of the day—a camp supper—constituted the most enjoyable social event of the season for approximately 100 of the teachers in the city schools, who held a picnic on the banks of Lake Wichita Friday afternoon and evening, according to the report of teachers attending.

Sausages, baked over glowing coals, bacon browned to a crisp in the same manner, browned toast and coffee boiled in an open can, with a stick laying across its top—as taught by old cowmen to prevent its boiling over—together with a long menu of prepared confections and fruits, brought along by some of the less confident, constituted the chief portions of the menu as reported.

Although some members of the board were in attendance, the picnickers announced that speeches regardless of their possible timeliness and interest, were absolutely tabooed by all present.

DEPUTY MARSHAL GOES TO KNOX CITY ON PEONAGE PROBE

After overseeing the 1,500 quarts of confiscated liquor captured in the raid by Federal officers Friday morning, safely deposited in a vault in the courthouse and placing guards at the door to protect it, United States Deputy Marshall J. A. Allen left Friday night for Knox City.

Deputy Marshal Allen said that he was making the trip, under directions from the Dallas office, in connection with the reports of Mexican peonage in West Texas counties.

One of the arguments for free speech is that so little of it is worth anything.—Johnstown Democrat.

ROUGH ROAD FOR MOVIE MAD GIRLS

LOS ANGELES, April 21. — Among the fields dotted with vast studio buildings and acres of beautiful bungalows in Hollywood, where most of Los Angeles' output of 85 per cent of the world's motion pictures is produced, there functions the Hollywood Girls' Club—an institution that has become nation-wide in its purposes and with an influence for good that reaches into all the large cities and into even many of the small towns of the United States.

The club is housed in an impressive and palatial appearing colonial residence set in a garden of blossoming trees and flowers. The white pillars at its entrance are wreathed with roses and jessamine and its interior is homelike, comfortable and convenient in its atmosphere.

Just what happens when Mary Smith, of Carlinville, Ill., or Jane Jones, of Emporia, Kan., or Mabel Black, of the Bronx, New York City, suddenly become "movie-mad" and without money or experience to back them after they have arrived here, make their way to Los Angeles?

Rosy Dreams Only Asset.

They usually come to the attention of some kind-hearted person in film land who enlists the aid of the Hollywood Girls' Club, and were it not for this organization these girls who chased a rainbow across the continent would be in pitiful plights, facing perhaps sordid or tragic fates.

This club has put into practical operation the "Big Sister" idea and the 300 girls comprising its membership are pledged to act in the capacity of Good Samaritans to girls from all over the country who come to Los Angeles with rosy dreams of a future in the "movies" as their only "asset."

The club is partially self-supporting, twenty-two of its members constantly living there. In addition there are housed the unfortunate girls who cannot find employment and who have no money. For six weeks these girls are sheltered and given their meals while they endeavor to locate themselves somewhere in the industry which has attracted them with its promises of big pay and future fame.

The fund for this temporary emergency is supplied by donations and yearly subscriptions from the various studios, while charitably inclined individuals from various parts of the country frequently send checks for the furtherance of the work. The board of managers is comprised of the wives and mothers of famous directors and producers, active workers among whom are Mrs. Jesse Lasky, Mrs. Cecil B. DeMille and Mrs. William DeMille.

Disillusionment Awaits.

Helen Jerome Eddy, widely known screen star, who is one of the founders of the club, and who teaches a free class in dramatics for the benefit of the girls who are anxious to learn something of the technique of the stage and screen, is emphatic in warning young girls against leaving their home environment and coming to Los Angeles to work in films unless they have ample private means and excellent preliminary training.

"If older and more experienced people could only talk with them before they start on their vain pilgrimage, hundreds of the 'movie-struck' girls would never come to Los Angeles," observed Miss Eddy. "My advice to girls thinking of entering the film world is to talk the matter over with their parents, or if they have none, to thresh the question out with their spiritual adviser and two or three persons well versed in the drama.

Pretty Face Not Only Requisite.

"The ranks of the film workers are already badly overcrowded in Los Angeles, and there are plenty of well-trained actresses and girl performers to supply the demand for years to come, if not one new recruit journeyed to California to reinforce their numbers.

"Somehow the idea has gone abroad that a pretty face and a good figure are about all that are essential to advance rapidly to stardom. There never was a greater fallacy, as many disillusioned girls have found on their arrival in the great film centre.

"Where one girl succeeds in the movies' there are a dozen who fail to realize their dreams of fame, money and short hours. Motion picture work is now a highly specialized business and requires lots of brains, lots of energy and the ability to keep going in the face of the most disappointing reverses.

"The life of an office girl, or that of a teacher, or a clerk in the East or Middle West may seem of little promise, but it is better in most cases than that of a disappointed, 'movie-mad' girl who has followed the rainbow to California to find the pot of gold and success is not awaiting her here."

MOVIELAND

Viola Dana.

"What shall it be? An in, out, spit or speed ball? asks Viola Dana as she faces the batter in a contest on the Metro lot. This does not happen in her newest picture, however. She merely plays ball to keep fit and trim for her strenuous picture work. Her picture has nothing to do with baseball and sand lot spring training.

"Home Stuff" is the name of her next story. It was adapted for the screen from the story by Frank Dazey and Agnes Johnson.

MAUDE ADMAS TO PRODUCE

Although Maude Adams has refused all offers to appear in motion pictures, it became known last week that the distinguished actress will become a producer of films. For some time she has been interested in a new process for making natural color motion pictures and will probably direct the first production herself. Miss Adams will not appear in this film herself and it is not thought that this will interfere with her forthcoming return to the stage, which has been announced for next fall.

EDNA PURVIANCE TO FORE

Having established Jackie Coogan on the pedestal, Charlie Chaplin now plans to give Edna Purviance her big chance for fame and fortune. Miss Purviance will have a part of unusual opportunities in Chaplin's next two-reeler.

THE YOUNGER SET

Wesley Barry and Jackie Coogan are in New York. These youngsters have created such a furore that all the grown-up motion-picture stars are mad with jealousy.

MISS FREDERICK'S RETURN TO STAGE

Although no definite word is forthcoming, it is generally understood that Pauline Frederick plans to return to the stage next season in an A. H. Woods production of "Tin Pan Alley," by Leroy Clemons and Thomas Grant Springer.

PROFITEERS RESPONSIBLE FOR TROUBLES

Excessive Prices During War and Post-War Times Held to Blame for Present Financial Difficulties.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 22.—Wartime and postwar profiteering were held responsible for a large part of the financial difficulties of American railroads in an exhibit filed by the railway union before the railroad labor board today. Decreases in the cost of materials have already brought a large measure of relief to the roads, the exhibit said, and this should be taken into consideration before the employes payroll is sliced.

Two industries in which profiteering was most rampant were those from which the railroads purchased the bulk of their materials—the iron and steel industry and the coal mines according to W. Jett Lauck, economist for the Unions, who compiled the exhibit "a conservative estimate," he said, "of what this profiteering cost the railroads from 1916 to 1919 is $75,000,000 a year in coal bills and $200,000,000 for steel and iron products, including equipment and repairs from locomotive and car companies.

"Prices in 1920 were increased to such extent that the proportion attributable to profiteering was unquestionably much greater, and would probably have totalled $500,000,000," the exhibit continued. "It must be understood that these estimates are thoroughly conservative and are based upon information which is by no means complete."

CABLE CONTROL WILL BE ASKED BY UNITED STATES

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—While distribution of the former German cables in the Pacific will be deferred pending settlement of the status of the Island of Yap, it was learned today that the United States will make an effort to have cable communication to the Dutch East Indies, and as far east over the lines now in possession of Japan, restored as soon as possible.

During the war the cables radiating from the Island of Yap were sealed by the Japanese authorities and have never been reopened. The cable formerly extending from Yap to Shanghai was deflected from the Chinese city to a point in possession of Japan in the far east. Whether an attempt will be made by the American government to have the cable restored to Shanghai, was not disclosed.

Federal authorities said it was one of the boldest attempts at liquor smuggling for some time past and that theey expected further developments.

SACRIFICE MADE FOR RAILROAD

How one of its leading citizens renounced several thousand dollars of personal gain to bring the rails of the Wichita Falls and Southern to his town was learned by the citizens of Graham at Graham, Friday from the lips of Frank Kell, builder of the road, who responded to insistent demands from the crowd for a talk. Mr. Kell did not call the name of the man in question but every citizen of Graham and not a few from other places supplied it—M. K. Graham.

"When it first became known that we were to construct a line south from Newcastle, this man communicated with me," Mr. Kell said.

"He asked me to investigate the feasibility of running the line through Graham.

"At that time I did not believe the topography of the country feasible for the building of such a line, nor did the fact that the route re-

HORSE LEAPS UPON AUTO AND DRIVER INJURED

By Associated Press.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, April 22.—How a horse leaped upon the radiator of his car as he was driving along a country road and poked a hoof through the windshield of the car, striking him in the face, was described here by Robert Stratton of Ayrshire, Iowa. As a result of the accident Stratton was forced to have his left eye removed.

Stratton says that after striking him in the face the horse fell from the radiator dead.

The accident happened last Sunday evening as he and his son were driving along a country road near Ayrshire. They were just about to pass a man on horseback when suddenly the horse reared and charged the machine. The rider was bruised but not seriously injured. Stratton's son suffered minor scratches.

U. S. TO STICK TO ALLIES ON HUN PROPOSALS

Anything Germany Submits Must Be of a Character That Governments Will Be Willing to Consider.

Defeated Country Held Resposible for War and Are Morally Bound to Make Restitution.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Any reparations proposals the German government may submit to the United States for transmission to the allies must be of a character those governments will be willing to consider and therefore will probably be made clear to each government seperately, pending a reparations offer official comment was withheld. It was known, howvr, that diplomatic representatives of the allied governments had exchanged opinions today on Secretary Hughes' reply and it was understood that the situation had been discussed informally by officials of the United States and those of the interested European nations.

The declaration of Doctor Simons, the German foreign minister, in the reichstag that the German government "must go to the extreme limits of what the German people can furnish in the way of reparations," was interpreted here as an acceptance, in principle at least, of the American position that the United States stands with the allies in holding Germany responsible for the war and they are morally bound to make restitution to the full extent of her ability to pay.

The American government also, it is understood, does not propose to disassociate herself from the allies in the matter of certain economic adjustments growing out of the war and therefore whatever reparations proposals from Germany she may place before the allied governments will first be carefully considered in the light of their common interests.

PAPER MAKERS NEGOTIATE ON WAGE QUESTION

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 22.—Paper manufacturers in this country and Canada will have to reconsider their proposals for a new working agreement to become effective May 1, if a strike of the union paper makers in the mills controlled by the 22 companies involved in the present dispute is to be averted, Jeremiah T. Carey, president of the International Brotherhood of Paper Workers, said here today. The proposals which included a 30 percent reduction in wages, a nine-hour day instead of eight hours, no overtime pay, elimination of yardmen from the agreement and the right of either side to resume negotiations on 90 days' notice, were overwhelmingly rejected by the brotherhood in the recent refrendum, Mr. Carey said. Of about 12,000 members, only five voted to accept them.

POLAND SCOFFS AT WAR THREAT FROM TROTSKY

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Leon Trotsky's threat of a possible war of revenge against Poland, reported to have been made by the Bolshevik leader in an address to students at the Moscow Military Academy,, is not taken seriously by Polish representatives in Washington.

At the Polish legation, it was said that official information from Warsaw indicated that a Bolshevik offensive was unlikely. John F. Smulski, president of the national Polish committee of America, scoffed at Trotsky's threat.

IMMIGRATION BILL PASSES LOWER HOUSE

Legislation Would Close Doors of U. S. to Influx of Foreign Born Political Refugees.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—After rejecting an amendment seeking to open the doors of the United States to foreign political refugees, the house today passed the immigration restriction bill substantially in the same form it went through last session only to be given a pocket veto. The bill now goes to the senate where republican leaders said today it would be passed without delay.

The measure is designed to be operative over a period of 14 months and would limit the entry of aliens to 3 percent of the number of nationals of any country in the United States at the time of the 1910 census.

Three amendments slightly modifying its provisions were adopted by the house. One would permit admission in excess of the 3 percent limit of all aliens clearly proving they had been subjected to religious persecution in their native land and were seeking refuge here solely to avoid such hardships.

The second would admit children of American citizens under 18 years of age, independent of the percentage of limitation and the third would give preference to families and relatives of American citizens and former service men honorably discharged from the army or navy, regardless of whether they had been naturalized.

In determining the question of admissibility under the restricted total the principal fight was over an amendment offered by Representative Sabath, Illinois, ranking democrat, on the immigration committee, to open the gates to protest refugees. This was lost after debate during which Representative Mondell, the republican leader, who said that under it, even the former German emperor could come here.

Friendship Boosters Visit New Neighbors to Extend Felicitations on Completion of New Raliroad.

Complete understanding, and a feeling that all of the participating communities were united to wage a common fight, the upbuilding of their section of Texas, seemed the outstanding feature of the celebration Friday at Graham of the completion of the rails of the Wichita Falls and Southern to that place, participated in by nearly 400 Wichita Falls business men and women, and around 300 from intervening towns.

And, with this celebration of an accomplishment, and cementing of neighborly ties, came both a realization of the difficulties under which the project has been brought to a successful consummation, and a fuller realization of its value to the communities which it serves.

Hospitably Welcomed

This feature of the trip was developed in the course of the mass meeting on the court house square at Graham after the visitors from Wichita, Archer and other Young county points had been welcomed with a hospitality and cordiality which will long in the future bring a warm feeling for the people of Graham on the part of the visitors who were fortunate in being that city's guests on the occasion.

The welcome was made apparent before the train bearing the visitors had hardly entered the city, the train being greeted by every steam whistle within the confines of Graham.

On detraining, the visitors formed in lengthy column behind the band from Wichita Falls, paraded the downtown streets and were taken directly to the satisfying meal prepared for them by their hosts. Following the meal came a band concert on the square by the Wichita Falls band, the meeting, and then a baseball game, and automobile rides over the city.

In the baseball game, in which Wichita Falls was represented by the Elks team, and Graham by the "Hi-Jackers," their T-O league entry, the Wichitans came off decidedly second best, to the tune of 11 to 5.

Like the welcome given by the actions of the citizenship, the welcome given by the Mayor of Graham, E. S. Graham, was a real one. The mayor, as was the other speakers, was introduced by S. Boyd Street, president of the Graham Chamber of Commerce.

Wichita Falls Territory.

"Now that the steel rails of progress have bound Olney and Newcastle to Graham for the first time in their history, and soon South Bend and Eliasville will be reached by this new road," Mayor Graham said, "We hope that the ties of friendship and business may bring us even closer together than they have in the past. This is the sincere desire of every citizen of Graham.

"Today also marks the realisation of the dreams of those men of Wichita Falls who have made this thing

EDWARDS DISLIKED BY DEMOS

Confirmation of Brigadier General to Major General Strongly Opposed.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Strong democratic opposition voiced at a meetig of the senate military committee today to confirmation of the nomination of Brigadier General Clarence R. Edwards, first commander overseas of the 26th (New England National Guard) division, to be a major general. The subject was discussed at a conference with Secretary Weeks, who urged confirmation, outlining the qualifications of the officers recently nominated by President Harding to be brigadier and major generals.

The opposition to promotion of General Edwards was said to have been based upon his military record, a more complete investigation of which it was said, was suggested. The secretary was requested to supplement information given the committee today at a meeting tomorrow. Meanwhile, action on all nominations was deferred.

General Edwards' name headed the list of major generals nominated by President Harding, although the last administration had refused to recommend him for promotion.

Importers' Representatives Attack Currency Regulations in Proposed Legislation.

possible; men who are in every sense of the word 'Empire Builders.' A few weeks more and the whole of the North Texas oil fields, the greatest in the world today, will be statewide acknowledged trade territory of Wichita Falls. The credit for this great undertaking belongs entirely to you, and we of Graham and Young county congratulate you upon the foresight, energy and perserverance which has made this dream of yours, to control this territory, come true. Upon the expectation of this road Graham has doubled her population. Now that it has become a reality, we are confident of even greater and more permanent growth.

First to Back Judgment

"We welcome you here today, not as strangers, for we know what you have accomplished in Wichita Falls, and we know, in part at least, your plan for paved roads, schools, parks and other municipal improvements, and that your ambitions will not be satisfied with a population of less than 100,000 and that in the not distant future. We also know that you are aware of the opportunities in Graham and Young county, because your people were among the first to back their judgment with their money and a large percentage of the building done in Graham, during the past year, has been planned by Wichita Falls brains and put into effect with Wichita Falls money.

"I take this opportunity to express to you the appreciation of the citizens of Graham, not only for what you have done for us, but also for all you have made possible for us; and to assure you that your faith in Graham has not been misplaced. Every rainbow has two ends, and in this case the proverbial pot of gold is at both ends; Graham at one—Wichita Falls at the other. The door of opportunity stands before us; co-operation is the magic word. We ask yours and pledge you ours."

Neighborliness and Interest.

"We want you Graham people to feel that this trip is not merely a commercial affair—a trade excursion—although it is true that our merchants who are here are naturally telling you about what they have to sell," declared Mayor Cline in reply to the address of welcome. "But our feeling in turning out on this trip goes even further than that. It is prompted by that feeling of neighborliness and community interest that is characteristic of West Texas, of which all the communities represented here are a part."

Referring to the railroad line, the mayor spoke of the difficulties in the way of its construction, and of the difficulties which had been overcome by its chief builder, Frank Kell, in the building of this line "which did not lend itself to grain building."

Not Mechanical Being.

"In thinking of this man, however, I don't want you to think of him as a mechanical individual who performs wonders," the mayor continued. "I hope you won't think of him simply as a railroad builder, and a power in the grain and other important lines of business, for as a matter of fact he is a very intensely human being, interested profoundly in the development and welfare of the people of Wichita Falls, Graham and every community in between."

In speaking of his impressions of the upbuilding of Graham, the speaker referred in glowing terms of the men and women who first seized and held Graham and the rest of the West Texas country for civilization, the "Old Timers."

"We of a later generation should show them a profound reverence and a proper appreciation of their nerve, foresight, faith, stamina and good character which has made this progress we see in our section of the state possible," he said with feeling.

Speaking more directly to the people of Graham, the speaker referred to the similarity of the people of Wichita Falls and Graham in their energy, faith in the future and aggressiveness, declaring the people of the two communities to be the "same kind of folks" and bound to pull together in the upbuilding of the section.

The Oil Men

In connection with the oil development at its heighth in this section, he had occasion to say a word for the oil men.

"There are some men and some women who follow the oil game who are undesirable," he said. "You have some, we had many, and have some yet. They misrepresent and swindle on the basis of these misrepresentations. They are to the oil game as the pickpockets who follow the circus are to that institution.

"But don't be suspicious and aloof of the real oil men who are among you on account of these people, for the legitimate oil men are real citizens and builders.

"I can say they are real fellows from an acquaintance of more than twenty years with them, during which I have slept under boilers with them, and stuck my cold feet under the same poker table.

"The blame for the other's misdoings are a part of the price we have to pay for development, and are a part of the burden which must be borne by the legitimate oil men."

Fort Worth Represented.

Porter A. Whaley, secretary of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Colonel Louis J. Wortham, editor in chief of the Fort Worth Star Telegram, and W. M. Massie, the president of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, were on the speaker's platform, and were called on for addresses.

Mr. Whaley spoke enthusiastically of the wonderful progress that Graham had made during the past year, of the wonderful oil resources now being rapidly developed, and finally, in climax of the untold possibilities that are opened up by the new railroad.

Colonel Wortham told of his first introduction to Graham, when as a youth he had been a Texas ranger, and rode a cayuse over the surrounding country. He also dwelt upon the fact that Graham is particularly distinguished by the fact that the first cattle raisers' association in the state was organized there.

He discussed at length the valorous history of Young county with all of West Texas during the great war, and spoke with great feeling of the traditions and ideals of the pioneer builders, which are being cherished and fulfilled by the present generation.

Hints at Division.

The colonel at one time showed a disposition to speak in rather pronounced favor of the division of Texas, in speaking of the achievements and the possibilities of West Texas, but aroused no enthusiasm from his audience by this passage. He concluded with the rousing statement that Texas was sufficient for an empire in itself.

Mr. Massie's talk was very brief, expressing the pleasure that he and the others from Fort Worth felt at being at the Graham-Wichita Falls party.

A Common Fight.

"Wichita Falls in Wichita county, Archer City in Archer and Olney, Newcastle and Graham in Young county are bound together in one common fellowship and united in one common fight for the upbuilding of their section," was the significance of the occasion as characterized by Frank Kell, who came forward to speak at the insistent demands from the crowd.

Mr. Kell traced the difficulties of the building of the line from the angle of one on the "inside," telling of how after difficulties of construction and financing were overcome, those interposed by the law under the Transportation act interposed. He spoke of the fight which followed before a permit necessary under the new law was obtained, and gave credit to the business men of Graham for a telling share in the winning of that fight.

"In fact it is due almost entirely to the foresight and aggressiveness of your own business men, rather than to we who are building the line, that Graham was included in the line—a most fortunate circumstance for both the town and us, for events have proved that the leaving out of Graham would have been a colossal mistake for both," the speaker declared.

Rapid Construction.

He referred to the fact that application had been made for the permit in October, it had not been received until March, and that an excursion was being run over a part of the line in April, little over a month and a half later.

In opening his talk, Mr. Kell introduced himself as a native born Texan following the example of Colonel Wortham, and as a native of West Texas. He told how his father was practically a native of Texas, and of how some of his mother's people had even been in Houston's army at the time of the Texas revolution. He first visited Graham as a boy, he said, 45 years ago.

His second visit was made last year when he was conferring with Graham business men with reference to the building of the new railroad line through Graham, making this his third trip.

His business, he pointed out, brings him in touch with not only business men, but agricultural and livestock men of every state west of the Mississippi, and declared that the citizens of West Texas, among whom he has grown up, outranks them all in intelligence, industry and aggressiveness.

Per Schedule

Starting off so near on time as to mark it as unique the entire trip down was carried off entirely according to scedule.

Exactly at 8:10 Captain R. E. Shepherd shooed the last of the bunch aboard, the engineer signalled, and the train moved forward. And it continued its course just as had been planned for the entire trip.

Banners containing slogans of the Chamber of Commerce, the Retail Merchants Association, the Rotary, Wichita, Kiwanis, University and Ad Clubs decorated each of the ten coaches and gave a gay and festive air to the train, so much so as to thrill even the most train hardened critters on the right of way.

Souvenirs Numerous

Souvenirs of various sorts were distributed by various merchants, fancy caps, arm bands and various decorations adding to the holiday appearance of the hundreds Black and yellow skull caps bearing the significant words "Who Can Beat It?" were distributed by a coffe colored youngster, wearing a bright yellow satin coat, also embellished by Bert Bean's coffee slogan, and these caps formed the official headgear for the entire trip.

One of the most unique of the souvenirs and one, the peculiar significance of which on a trip of this sort, can be easily understood was the "bull protector" distributed by D. J. Carithers of the Holliday Creamery Company. The "protectors" were to be seen on many an ear during the trip.

The coming rodeo was also well advertised.

Souvenir Rings

Joseph Huckins, Jr., of the Kemp hotel, and of Oklahoma City, was circulating largely among the crowd, handing out souvenir "rings" to the ladies The "rings" were contained in a cowbell acquired in Archer city.

There were numerous highlights of the parades and side shows in Archer City, Olney and Newcastle. At all three places the band and Captian R. E. Shepherd headed a parade, and led a musical program. The Archer City visit was distinguished by a sprint for the train by Sheriff Joe McDowell of Archer county and Judge W. N. Bonner.

High Lights at Olney.

At Olney Bob Waggoner was boosted up to the concrete standard of one of the street lights and called upon for a bass solo. In the meantime Dr. Joe Daniel, a "Who Can Beat It" cap perched jauntily on his head, did a little politics, canvassing the ladies in the crowd with S. A. L. Morgan.

At Newcastle the crowd was "lemonaed up" by the ladies of the Newcastle Civic league, and several Wichitans made themselves conspicuous by frequent trips to the lemonade pitchers. The Civic league hospitality at Newcastle was especially appreciated since the crowd was thirsty, and after the parade to the center of the business district, dusty and the lemonade was extra fine.

Rotary Delegation Newcastle.

The Rotary club delegation marched in a body in all three parades, headed by H. J. Foerster as standard bearer, carrying the silk banner of the Wichita Falls club.

The band music was interspersed with vocal music, solos by R. E. Shepherd and George C. Taylor, with Horace Robbins, Ben E. Neal and others in some fancy chorus work.

The stay at Newcastle took on the dignity of a program, the Wichita Falls booster while gathered in the business section, being welcomed to Newcastle by Rev. J. A. Chase, pastor of the First Christian church, the organizer of the Chamber of Commerce, and it's vice president and secretary. The response to the address was made by Hubert M. Harrison, the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce's general manager. Both expressed the spirit of friendship and neighborliness between Wichita Falls and Newcastle, and spoke in glowing terms of the opportunities of the present and the possibilities of the future.

Representatives of Archer City and Olney joined the train at their respective towns, and the Newcastle delegation was more than 200.

SACRIFICE MADE FOR RAILROAD

quired some eleven miles of additional track commend it to me.

Promised to Investigate

"After some correspondence, however, I finally agreed to investigate the feasibility of this line before definitely locating the new road. He answered me that he was satisfied with this assurance and would rely on my promise.

"Just before the line was definitely located, I instructed the chief engineer to survey a line from Breckenridge, through Graham to Newcastle.

"I did not think any more of the feasibility of the line at this time than I had at first—I was merely giving these instructions to make my word good. I told the engineer at this time to lose as little time and spend as little money as possible in the making of this survey.

"Much to my surprise the engineer reported to me that the line through Graham was a feasible piece of construction.

"I then got in touch with the business men of Graham, through their railroad committee, and we concluded a deal which brought the rails of the road to the city.

"And let me say right here that the credit for the bringing of this line to the city belongs as much to the business men of Graham, as it does to we from Wichita Falls who built it.

Offered to Fight

"But I want to go back from this a little. Even before the road reached this stage, and when we first let it be known that we were not considering Graham, one of your prominent men said that he would fight us every inch of the way in the attempt to build a line south from Newcastle which did not include Graham.

"'You can't be serious,' I told him.

"'You have an immense body of land in the western part of the county through which the road will pass. It is entirely logical that you should lay out a townsite in the western part of the county in the middle of this body of land.

"'It will make you one of the richest men of the state.'

His Principal Concern

"'It will be sufficient as it is to keep me,' was the reply. 'The building of a line such as you propose would take care of me, but it would not take care of my town—that is my principal concern right now.'

"I don't know that it is proper for me to speak of these negotiations, but I do it at this time, because I had promised myself that at some opportune time I would tell the citizens of his town what he had done for them," said Mr. Kell in conclusion.

"We recently advertised . Men's B. V. D. Style Union Suits' to describe garments that did not bear the red woven 'B. V. D.' label. This was an error as 'B. V. D.' is not a style or type of or descriptive term for athletic underwear; 'B. V. D.' is the trade-mark of The B. V. D. Company.

"The B. V. D. Company having complained of this use of their trade-mark, we wish to say that hereafter, so that we may not injure The B. V. D. Company and so that the public may receive the right service, we will only refer to the trade-mark 'B. V. D.' to advertise goods bering the red woven 'B. V. D.' label. We have no desire to infringe in any way on The B. V. D. Company's trade-mark rights."

Daintiness and Delicacy Secured by Use of Butter

The careful housekeeper is always on the alert for new and delicious dishes to serve to her family. When these dishes can be made high in food value without sacrificing any of their other good features, and when, in addition, they can be made to contain a vital food property that makes children grow and grown folks feel better, she is more than interested.

Below we give a group of tested recipes for a number of new and unusual dishes, all using butter to round out the other good qualities of the dish and all therefore containing a liberal portion of "vitamines," the growth-producing property found only in butter-fat and the yellow parts of eggs.

NEW POTATO DRESSING
(Potatoes for Six.)

¼ cup cracker crumbs
¼ cup Mistletoe Butter
¼ cup boiling water
4 tablespoons minced parsley
½ teaspoon paprika

Blend the cracker powder with the butter, then beat in the boiling water. Add the seasonings and pour, very hot, over the potatoes after they are in the dish ready to serve.

SOFT GINGER BREAD.

1 cup Mistletoe Butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup sour milk
1 cup black molasses
2 eggs
1 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon soda
3 cups flour

Cream the sugar with the butter and the eggs. Add the milk and molasses, then the soda, flour and ginger sifted together twice. Pour in a greased shallow pan and bake until firm in the center—about forty minutes. If the bread falls, cracks or is soggy, it is baked at too high temperature.

BROWN SUGAR SAUCE

½ cup Mistletoe Butter
1½ cups brown sugar
1 cup water
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg

Cook the sugar, water and butter for five minutes. Add spices and serve very hot over apple dumplings or any pudding.

COOKED SALAD DRESSING
(To Have on Hand.)

2 eggs yolks
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt.
½ cup cider vinegar
¾ cup boiling water
Cayenne—paprika
½ cup Mistletoe Butter.

Beat the egg yolks, salt and sugar until light. Blend in the flour and vinegar. Beat in the boiling water and seasonings and cook over hot water until thick. Melt the butter and beat it in with a fork. Put this dressing aside to use as needed. One tablespoonful of it beaten in a cup of whipped cream, will serve four or six fruit salads.

'WHITE WAY' SYSTEM MAY BE EXTENDED

A number of property owners in the residential sections of Wichita Falls are making inquiries at the Chamber of Commerce regarding the possibility of adopting a standard design of street light somewhat similar to the downtown "white way" system, according to E. P. Nevin, of the street lighting department of that body. It is probable that a plan will be drawn up in the near future whereby the poorly lighted residence sections of this city will be provided for under the same plan of "pro rating" the expense of lighting such as followed in the downtown section. The idea which will be followed will be concerned with the proper number of lights to provide adequate lighting.

A number of inquiries have been received by the local Chamber of Commerce regarding the lighting system and a great deal of favorable comment has been passed upon the system by visitors to this city. It is said that Wichita Falls has more lighting frontage of a modern type at the present time than any city of the size in the state.

The entire system is now completed and in working order, the lights on Scott avenue and Eighth street which were unavailable for the opening night and celebration, having been completed and turned on.

Finishing touches in the form of green paint are being applied to all of the ornamental poles and the downtown section.

Neff Asserts State Has Too Many Officials

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, April 22.—Governor Neff said that he had discovered that the state had too many officials on the payroll and that they are not all earning their salary and that the state has too much duplication and overlapping machinery, in an address here today before a joint meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. The governor told of numerous other discoveries he had made since taking office.

The governor mentioned his "law enforcement program" which he has announced he will re-submit at the special legislative session, pointing out that while the governor was charged with enforcing the laws of Texas, "he stands with but little authority and practically helpless, in the presence of the greatest crime wave in history." He said that he had also discovered the governor possesses no authority to remove inefficient officers, yet he was charged with efficient administration of the state affairs.

"There is entirely too much harmony around the capitol," said the governor, "in regard to expenditure of money. Those who appropriate the people's money should not be at all times on such harmonious terms with those who spend it."

The governor said he had concluded that the governor's office was no "primrose path of pleasure" as no matter what action he took it was bound to raise an objection from some part of the state and the people were not backward in voicing such objections."

IT WAS LUCKY FOR DENNIS, HE STATES

Chattanooga Man States Tanlac Overcome His Troubles! Can't Say Too Much for It.

W. F. Dennis, 203 Tyerly St., Chattanooga, Tenn., formerly of Mobile, Ala., makes an interesting statement regarding Tanlac.

"It certainly was lucky for me," said Mr. Dennis, "that I got hold of Tanlac when I did, for I was just about down and out. Off and on for three years I have been down with malaria. For ten months on one occasion I was confined to the house most of the time.

"As I usually spent my winters in Chattanooga, I came back here last September to spend the rest of my life with my daughter. When I arrived here I was in a very weakened condition, for the malaria was fast getting the best of me. I had no appetite, felt weak and tired all the time and had pains in my stomach that were completely upsetting my nerves. I slept very little and got up mornings nearly exhausted. In fact I was about 'all in' and kept getting worse.

"Five weeks ago I got Tanlac and my appetite picked up with my first half bottle. Soon I was able to sleep all night and felt like a new man. I eat any kind of food set before me and enjoy it. I have gained several pounds in weight and feel better than I have in five or six years. Tanlac has saved me money and given me health, too, and I can't say too much for it."

Four of the outstanding figures at the first national convention of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic, to be held in Chicago, are the Walshes. Frank A. of Kansas City, former chairman of the war labor board; Senator David I. of Massachusetts, and the two sisters-in-law of Lord Mayor MacCurtain, who preceded Terence MacSwiney as chief executive of Cork, and who was assassinated last March. They will all deliver speeches.

Frank A. Walsh who is leading the legal fight to prevent the deportation of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork, who provoked an international diplomatic dispute when he slipped into this country last January as a stowaway, will be one of the principal speakers at the convention. Senator Walsh will be chairman of it.

Other speakers are to be O'Callaghan himself, and Miss Mary MacSwiney, sister of Terence MacSwiney whom the Irish regard as a martyr no less than Robert Emmett, since he starved himself to death in Brixton prison, London, last summer, rather than acknowledge the jurisdiction of the British authorities.

Huns Resist Demands for Gold Transfer

PARIS, April 22.—Germany's formal reply to the demand of the reparation commission that the gold reserve of the Reischs bank, the German imperial bank, be transferred from Berlin to the Rhineland, which, according to intimations received here, will be a refusal, had not been received by the commission up to late this afternoon. It was believed that in accordance with the German custom it is not actually delivered until the last minute of the time set, which expires at midnight.

The expected refusal, however, will not be regarded as changing in any way the situation between Germany and the allies, but merely as one more instance of German resistance to the allied requirements on reparations, to be considered in connection with the whole question by the allied supreme council.

REPORT ON CARE OF SOLDIERS.

President Harding's commission, appointed to investigate and report on the conditions under which the sick and disabled soldiers are being cared for, undoubtedly holds the record for dispatch and efficiency. In three days it has covered the ground an investigating committee from congress would have spread over as many months, and formulates a brief list of recommendations with the advice that they be at once put into operation by presidential decree pending congressional action, though at the same time asking that laws be enacted as speedily as possible. There may be considerable temerity in the suggestion to congress that it carefully avoid a repetition of the inconsistencies in existing laws governing soldier relief, but congress could do far worse than accept the suggestion.

The aim of the commission was to produce a plan that would accomplish the desired result in the most direct manner. It suggests, therefore, that there be put under one head or "director general" all the activities designed to promote the health and welfare of the ailing service men. It is perceived that under present administration there is a lack of co-ordination which works actually to the disadvantage of the purpose and no remedy except a reorganization and centralization of authority can be applied. It is further recommended that authority be delegated to competent subordinates so that delays may be eliminated and all decisions made promptly without being subject to the present endless delays due to necessity for reference from one department to another or for the approval of those higher up. If a soldier needs to be transferred from one hospital to another certainly those in charge of his case are capable of deciding the question and of ordering the transfer all between two suns.

It is noteworthy that the commission found time and inclination to make the recommendation that there be an "exertion of humanizing influences to impress the sick and wounded with the fact that the nation is entirely concerned in their welfare and rehabilitation." This course is humane and its necessity revealed by the finding of the commission of the "present deplorable failure on the part of the government properly to care for the disabled veterans." No wonder the brave fellows think the American people don't care what happens to them and no wonder the commission sees fit to emphasize the necessity of imparting this cheer to the sick in mind and body.—Mobile Register. (Dem.)

NO FEDERAL MONEY FOR NEGLECTED ROADS.

The good practical sense which happily seems to be a marked characteristic of Mr. Harding's mind is shown by his determination to check federal contribution to highway construction where states neglect to make proper provision for upkeep.

Building roads at great expense, and then not keeping them in condition, is inexcusable waste; waste not only of the original expenditure but waste through the inefficiency of the roads as transportation agencies. The influences which profit directly by public appropriations, of course, will get as much money from the federal government as possible, and their interest thereafter lapses, but federal taxpayers—and we are nearly all in that class nowadays—will be grateful to Mr. Harding if he will insist that no federal money goes to any state unless it is to be well spent and the investment protected—that is, the investment is the good road, and if the good road is allowed to go to pieces, the investment were better not made.

Upkeep pays. For every day a defect in a road is neglected the cost of repair increases almost geometrically. Economy and efficiency demand that roads, once laid, should be constantly watched and promptly mended. If a state does not provide for this it should have to help from Uncle Sam.—Chicago Tribune. (Ind. Rep.)

DEFERRING WAR EXPENSES.

A new plan to ease the burden of federal taxes is receiving considerable support, especially among business men who are heavy taxpayers. It proposes "legislation providing for refunding to each taxpayer, in the form of U. S. twenty-year 4 per cent bonds, to be issued for that purpose, one-half the amount paid as income war and excess profits taxes for the years 1920 to 1923 inclusive."

It is urged: (1) That the government would receive in cash full amount of the tax levied, as it does under the present arrangement; (2) that the taxpayer would in effect have his taxes cut in half, as the bonds would constitute a liquid asset; (3) that the burden of war costs would be spread over a longer period, thus granting relief during this difficult time of business reconstruction.

The idea is unquestionably appealing, on first thought, to nearly all classes of citizens. Who would not like to get a rebate of 50 per cent on the federal taxes he is paying this year, with the promise of a similar rebate for the next three years? Yet there are many doubtful things about the plan.

Perhaps the most doubtful feature is the fact offered as a merit—that the bonds received "would constitute a liquid asset." That would indeed help out many a business firm and many an individual, but it would tend inevitably to check the wholesome deflation of recent months and encourage renewed inflation. Hard as the process may be, is it not desirable that the deflation be allowed to take its natural course? Everybody knows how the Liberty bond issues raised prices. A big bond distributing like the one proposed, becoming the basis of additional billions of loans and credits, would turn prices upward again before they have found their proper level.

It is doubtful whether it is wise to defer these war expenditures for 20 years or any other prolonged period. There is sound logic in arguing for a prompt wiping out of the war debt, so as to get the nation as soon as possible on a sound basis for real prosperity. It is particularly doubtful because, as matters stand, a large part of the 50 per cent rebate proposed represents money that is being used not to pay the principal of the war debt, but to pay current expenses; and it is a fundamental business principle that current charges should be met by current income.—Brattleboro Reformer. THE WEST ON THE PRESIDENT'S PROGRAM.

Newspaper comment from west of the Mississippi on President Harding's message to congress on the whole bears out the judgment of the rest of the country—little extravagant praise and almost no bitter criticism. A great many papers make no general comment upon the document at all, but are content to discuss various issues it raises at great length from the point of view of their various political persuasions.

Excerpts follow:

"President Harding's policy with regard to peace and international relationships arising from the war seems to be clearly defined in his message." — St. Louis Post-Dispatch (Ind.)

"On disarmament, world peace, economy, cost of living, taxation, railroad recovery, justice to soldiers—all problems of enormous difficulty—the message speaks a steady purpose to concentrate the best energies of the government. The message is full of encouragement to the expectation of the country that these questions will be tackled in good earnest at last, not hurriedly, but with the serious care that alone can work out constructive measures of relief and recovery."—Topeka Capital (Rep.)

"It is sufficient to say now that in its earnest plea for economy and its rejection of the equivocal and war provocative League of Nations it meets with the approval of a majority of the people."—Dallas Times Herald (Ind. Dem.)

"President Harding's first message to congress is a plain statement of the nation's condition and the questions which confront it, set forth in plain language, and very worthy of study. Recognizing frankly that the conditions surrounding the tasks of legislation and administration are as difficult as ever confronted the government, the message nevertheless breathes the spirit of confident, optimistic Americanism that characterized Mr. Harding's inaugural address a month ago. Every true citizen of the republic will accept with hearty good will the president's invitation to "join in the effort to find our normal, onward way again." — Tacoma Ledger (Ind.)

"President Harding's first address to congress is suggestive both of the hand of Jacob and the voice of Esau. In part it shows the influence of Charles E. Hughes and Herbert Hoover, and of eminent republicans outside the cabinet who have favored the League of Nations theory and ideals if not the league covenant as written." — Omaha World-Herald (Ind.)

"The message that President Harding delivered to congress Tuesday had the right ring to it from start to finish. The message, as a whole, is strong and reflects the sentiment of the majority of the American people."—Hastings (Neb.) Tribune (Rep.)

"When President Harding stood up before the two houses of congress and crowded galleries to deliver his first message, he surprised his hearers because he waved, figuratively speaking, two red lanterns—danger signals for two groups who least expected them from the new president. One group was the senate and the other was big business."—St. Paul News (Ind.)

"Perhaps we have been somewhat spoiled by the wonderfully clear and lucid English habitually used by Woodrow Wilson in his public papers, so that President Harding seems especially involved and muddy in his style of statement."—Great Falls (Mont.) Tribune (Dem.)

"The more President Harding discusses the League of Nations the less clearly do we understand his position. This is not so much because of what he says or does not say as it is because of the seemingly inspired interpretative statements that follow his remarks."—Norfolk (Neb.) News (Ind.)

"A strong message, on the whole; strong in conviction and purpose, though there may be some to complain that it lacks in the sentimentalism dictated by 'visions' and 'voices' to which congress and the country had become somewhat inured. A practical man, Mr. Harding deals practically with every topic touched upon; and certainly there was never a time when the problems of this nation and of the world called more earnestly for practical treatment." — Seattle Post-Intelligencer (Ind. Rep.)

"The president's first address is no startling utterance of statesmanship, and it can be said without disrespect that nobody expected it would be. A rabid partisan of the president's political faith could extol it, if he desired to make himself ridiculous by carping criticism of it. There is nothing great, nothing profoundly impretsive in the address, but it suits the conditions and circumstances under which it was delivered, and its contents and spirit will be sure to draw the nation into a sympathetic attitude toward the president, now at last engaged with the gravest problems that an American president ever faced."—Houston Post (Dem.)

"Nothing of a revolutionary nature is put forward in President Harding's message to congress. No alchemy is to be employed to bring back prosperity and restore former conditions, as nearly as they may be restored following the great world upset. Legislative panaceas can only go so far and they have always a rebound to them."—Denver Rocky Mountain News. (Ind.)

"President Harding's first message to congress is a ringing fulfillment of every pledge he made during the campaign and an inspiring vindication of the confidence upon which the people based their unprecedented majority for him at the polls Nov. 2 last." — Kansas City Journal. (Rep.)

BUSHNELL'S ANIMATED CARTOON MOVIES OF NEWS EVENTS—IN EIGHT REELS

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

BY AN AMATEUR CYNIC.

I don't believe that all politicians are dishonest nor that all dishonest men are politicians.

I don't believe all I see in the newspapers, and I don't believe all that I see elsewhere either.

I believe that some things are coming down—elevators, for instance.

I will walk around the block any time to escape meeting a man who wears perfume.

I believe that only one sex is more peculiar than the women—the men.

I don't pay my money for lectures. I can get plenty of them for nothing at home.

I have nothing in my cellar, and in that way I escape many evening visits from tiresome neighbors.

The Spanish-speaking nations in the league of nations want the league to adopt Spanish as its official language. So long as nobody cares what the league is talking about anyhow, what's the difference.

They have invented a baby cab that can be folded and carried under the arm, but they have not yet invented a baby that can be shut up.

DIPLOMACY.

It was at one of those afternoon teas which means nothing. You entertain all of your friends, and the cost for doing this is low.

He had arrived before his wife and a middle-aged siren had cornered him. At first he resented it and then he warmed up to the situation. In fact, he was getting to that age where a man talks about himself.

Then his wife arrived. Both the women greeted each other sweetly. He sort of felt that he was out of it.

I hope that I live long enough to see a woman appointed ambassador plenipotentiary to a foreign country.

They simply are born with that diplomatic instinct.—Marcel Steinbrugge.

THUS, SHE TOLD HIM TO GO TO—

Dear Roy: My stenographer loves me. Just a while ago I finished dictating a stack of mail that would choke a whale and then asked, "Now whom else should I write?" She said, "Nero, and deliver the letter yourself."

If you need a new stenog here's one out of a job.—NIG.

GETTING DOWN TO EARTH.

They came into a restaurant and sat down. His hair was long; her hair was short. He seemed worried; while she peered out beyond the process of pancake flopping.

"Grace, it's no use. Ralph's spirit will not communicate with me."

A young chap sitting opposite laid aside his knife and fork and started.

"Ah, Cameron," she said, "I think you and Ralph are not in accord."

Just then the waitress interrupted with a "Whatchewant?"

The man didn't scan his card.

"Corned beef and cabbage, for two," he replied.

DINNER STORIES

A milkman in a country town was brought before the local court to answer a charge of adulteration.

"You are charged," said the magistrate, "with selling adulterated milk. Have you anything to say in answer to the charge?"

"Well, your honor," replied the milkman, "the night before it was raining very hard and the only cause I can give is the cow must have got wet through."

Here is a story of an Irish barrister who pleaded for a client who had bought a public house and found that the license had just been taken away.

"I appeal to you for my unfortunate client who bought this public house," he said. "What is it now but the corpse of a public house with the living, breathing spirit of the license taken away from it?"

Harry "Snub" Pollard says that "it's all in the way that you look at a thing." Which means that the Pathe comedian has a new story. A little colored boy, son of one of the "extras," had been caught "borrowing" a dime from the pocket of his fathers trousers which swung from a peg in the dressing room.

"Shame on you!" raved the indignant parent. "Shame on yo' fo' stealin'! Next time ys'll be usin' slang."

A teacher had told a class of juvenile pupils that Milton, the poet, was blind. The next day she asked if any of them could remember what Milton's great affliction was. "Yes ma'am," replied one little fellow; "he was a poet."

ATTENDS SCHOOL FROM HOME WITH SMALL POX CASE

Called by a solicitous neighbor, to investigate a sick child in the 200 block on Travis street Friday morning, Quarantine Officer Herbert Jackson reported that he found one child with a serious case of smallpox, and two other children who had been sleeping in the same room, attending school at the San Jacinto school.

The children were immediately removed from the school and preparations at once made for complete fumigation of the building and vaccination of children, who might have been exposed.

Officers said that such a flagrant violation of quarantine laws was subject to heavy penalty, but that they did not think arrests will be made in this case, as the parents were ignorant both of what was the nature of the disease and of the quarantine regulations.

Officers also said that the family were too poor to obtain medical aid for the sick child, and that the case is being treated by city health officials.

WILL FORM FRESH PRODUCE MARKET THIS AFTERNOON

Establishment of a regular market here for the selling of fresh vegetables, eggs and chicken grown on farms near Wichita Falls is expected to follow from a meeting of representative truck growers which has been called for 3 o'clock this afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. This meeting was decided upon last Saturday by a few farmers who met with Mrs. Smock and Crawford of the Civic league and J. A. Kemp in order to get the idea of a large number of farmers who would be interested.

Everyone who is interested is invited to come to this meeting as plans for the market necessarily depend on a full representation at this meeting and a full co-operation between the growers.

The first definite step that is expected to result from this meeting will be the setting up of a market at some downtown corner, probably at Ninth and Scott streets.

A trial is desired of the market for the ladies of the civic league believe that once the citizens and housewives find they can buy freshly grown vegetables and produce from home people they will be glad to support the market.

LAKE WICHITA OPENS SEASON NEXT SUNDAY

Sunday has been set as the date for the official opening of the summer season at Lake Wichita although the first public dance will be given tonight in the pavillion. A general remodeling in the various attractions, including the swimming, dancing, boating, refreshment and amusement concessions, have been going on for some time and everything is in readiness for the official opening.

Among the features which are planned to make the lake a pleasure spot this summer are free movies. Films are being booked and as soon as a screen can be built this feature will be started.

It is planned to give three public dances each week in the pavillion in addition to the private affairs which the Cypher and Comus clubs and the Elks are understood to have planned. The celebrated Texas Blue Devils orchestra has been procured for the dances, it was announced.

GERMAN CASTLE ON RIVIERA UNTENANTED

By Associated Press

PARIS, April 22.—At Beaulieu sur Mer on the Riviera stands a beautiful mansion in the midst of a large and shady park. It is the property of Prince and Princess Hohenlohe-Schillingsfurst. Sequestrated at the beginning of the war and used as a hospital for American soldiers during the war the property was recently put up for auction by the French sequestration officials. It was estimated to be worth 80,000 francs and considered cheap at that price. Nevertheless, no one came forward to buy. The property is now uninhabited and is considered burdensome to the sequestration officials.

35,000 PINTS OF WHISKEY A BOOZE

CHICAGO, April 22.—Chicagoan's will have to get along on 1,600,000 gallons of booze per year, according to rules drafted by Ralph W. Stone, new dry chief for the central department.

Druggists have been notified that they will be permitted to draw only one hundred gallons of whiskey and wine each per quarter. There are 2,000 drug stores in Chicago.

From the standpoint of the individual this means that 5,000 pints of whiskey and wine a day is to be divided between Chicago's 3,000,000 people.

BOOCH SPONGERS

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 22.—The prohibition enforcement bureau here has a "sponge brigade."

It's the idea of Assistant Attorney General Roy Hubbard, of Kansas.

The "spongers" all armed with sea-going wash rags, raided an alleged "blind tiger." As they entered the house, Mrs. Anna Markewich crashed a strong jug on the kitchen floor. As the "booch" drained away into floor cracks, the "sponge brigade," went into action. Kneeling on the kitchen floor they "salvaged" a quart of the "home brew booch."

Now Mrs. Marewich and five men, found in the house, face federal charges.

IT SIMPLY ISN'T DONE

BOSTON, Mass., April 22.—Professor Albert Einstein, whose theory of relativity has upset the scientific world, will not get the freedom of the city if he comes to Boston on a visit.

No one in the City Council objects, as was the case in New York City, where one member of the board of estimate said he didn't know him. But the mayor's office announced that as no one had given the freedom of the city during the Peters administration, that record is likely to hold good until the mayor passes out early next year.

The city will be glad to banquet and entertain him, as it did General Pershing, King Albert of Belgium and General Nivelle of France. But as for giving him the freedom of the city, it simply isn't being done.

Gendarmes transported the burglar across the frontier, but he laughingly told them that he would return shotly, since he liked the prison at Bellinzona. He is not the only man who has been impressed by the leniency with which prisoners are treated in Switzerland.

Roman Races To Feature Big Round-Up

The Iowa Park special cowboys roman standing race will be one of the added features of the Round-Up which will be staged here next Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The business men of Iowa Park wishing to lend their aid and co-operation to Mr. Burnett in the staging of the Round-Up here, have made up a special purse of $250 for a cowboy roman race which will be known as the Iowa Park special. Leonard Stroud, Tommy Kirnan, Florence King and Montana Jack Ray have already announced their intention of entering roman teams in the race and there will probably be six or seven teams entered making an exceptionally large field for this kind of race.

Cowboys and cowgirls continue to arrive in the city for the contests and Manager Burnett, who motored in from the Triangle ranch Friday, stated that already there are more entries than last year and the entries do not close until next Wednesday night at which time it is expected that the greatest number of contestants ever entered in a similar event in this state will have signed entry blanks.

One of the latest entries in the cowgirl bronc riding is Mildred Douglas Hickle, twice winner of the cowgirls bronc riding at Cheyenne and Pendleton, California; Frank of Ridgeway, Colo.; Rene Hafley of the same city and Miss Mamie Francis the expert lady rifle shot were among the arrivals Friday.

DECORATIONS WILL REMAIN FOR RODEO AND FEDERATION

To greet the state meeting of the Federation of Women's clubs and the coming Rodeo and Round-Up, officials announced Friday that the decorations which have been placed on buildings and across streets, welcoming the Knights Templar will not be removed.

In commenting on the order, officials said that both events were of importance to the city and they felt that Wichita Falls should keep on her holiday clothes until they are ended.

BOYS SURRENDERED TO COUNTY OFFICERS

Two of them admitted, Chief Huff said, having removed casings from C. F. Carter's automobile.

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa.—"After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did, for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish." —Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backache, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness and "the blues" a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Might as Well Pony Up Now for Minstrel Ticket

Mister there's no use, you had just as well buy a ticket to the University Club minstrel now as to wait, for after you hear from the first performance you wouldn't miss it, any way, and then besides there are 800 high school students laboring individually and in groups for a long list of prizes, and they won't be denied.

The race for the high ticket sales record is being chiefly contested between the senior and junior high groups, according to current rumors, which places first, one then the other in the lead.

Members of the cast announce, however, that they have one kick to make at their publicity managers concerning their announcements of the show, wherein they continually call it a "minstrel" and fail to credit them for the mi vaudeville part of the entertainment.

The vaudeville acts are reported full to the brim with friendly and pretinent quips with a personal touch of local application to the jests, that insure an enjoyable evening to all, as well as songs and entertaining skits of wit and humor.

Score by innings:	R
Shreveport	000 100 000— 1
Wichita Falls	510 210 20*—11

Summary: Sacrifice hits, Marshall, McDonald 2; stolen bases, Tanner; two-base hits, Works, Eibel, Bush, Miller, Tanner, McElwee; home run, Rothfuss; struck out by Marshall 4, by Bush 2; base on balls, off Bush 10; hit by pitched ball, Tanner; time 1 hour 45 minutes. Umpires Kane and Daly.

Hitting Bush at inopportune moments for run scoring, but taking advantage of twelve gifts of trips to first, the Spudders broke even in the series with the Gassers yesterday afternoon by taking the long end of an 11 to 1 score. "Rube" Marshall was in mid-summer form and held the visitors to five hits, two of which coming in the fourth inning saved the Gassers from a white-washing.

As in the previous games, the Spudders played rings around the Gassers showing them a variety of defensive and offensive work that Billy Smith's present crew will never hope to duplicate. Bush's wildness in the first inning went a long way in crushing the visitors for the Spudders garnered five counters with only one hit. Work's double to left with the bases full. The entire home gang toed the plate in the opening frame,, four drawing passess, Buddy Tanner being hit, McDonald sacrificing and Marshall, McDonald and McElwee contributing the three outs.

Day Very Hot

The day was hot as real baseball weather should be and the ball players showed the effects, putting up a much snappier contest than when the cold spell was on. "Rube" was at his best and toyed with the visitors throughout the nine frames being in trouble only once when two hits and a fielder's choice allowed the lone visitor's run to trickle over the pan.

Big First Inning

The Spudders started with the usual rush after the Gassers had been set down in order in the opening frame. Rothfuss was walked and Tanner was scraped by a pitched ball. McDonald dumped the pill in front of the plate, Rothfuss going to third and Tanner to second, but Mac was out at the initial sack, Vann to Eibel. Clark, Miller and McElwee looked 'em over and drew free transportation Miller's walk forcing in Rothfuss and McElwee's sending Tanner across the plate. With the bases full, Works, as usual, came through with a double scoring Clark and Miller. Kitchen then bunted to Eibel who threw to the plate. McElwee decided not to come home just then and Bush, who had the ball, threw to second to catch Kitchens. Hartford returned the ball to Vann who caught McElwee sliding to the plate. Marshall ended the inning with a long fly to Massey.

Continued wildness by Bush in the second frame gave Tanner another free trip to first after Rothfuss was out, Eibel unassisted. McDonald singled down the first base line and Bush filled the bags by walking Miller. Again McElwee forced a run in by drawing a base on balls but Works was unequal to the occasion this time taking three beatules across the heart of the pan without swinging.

Bush Settles Down

Bush settled down after the second frame and although he issued four more free passes and was touched for seven hits, one a home-run and one a double, he allowed the Spudders only another five counters. Rothfuss hit a home-run in the seventh. It was a terific clout over the right field fence that cleared the enclosure with yards to spare but as the bases were empty it did no more damage than to cost the management the price of a baseball.

With this win over Shreveport the Spudders are now almost even in the percentage column, having won three and dropped four. Those who have watched the Spudders from the first of the training season to yesterday afternoon are unanimous in saying that of the seven games played the Spudders should have won at least five but that bad breaks, coupled with the ineffectiveness of the hurlers, at first, were responsible for losing at least one game to both the Dallas and the Gasser clubs while the other two loses were really due to the visitors, as wins.

Cats Here Today

The Fort Wirth Cats come here this afternoon for a series of three games and at least one person is known to want to bet the visitors will not win more than one of the three contests. With good pitching, such as Darrough, Bowman and Marshall have shown the winning of two out of three should not be a very hard task.

A clean sweep would send the Spudders on their first road trip with a percentage of over .500 something very much desired by local rooters.

FROM THE ROOF

Yesterday's game looked somewhat better than the contest on Thursday. The sun shone bright and warm and Oklahoma failed to move over in Texas.

Outside of the perfect day yesterday's game also looked better from the percentage column viewpoint. The win shoved the Gassers down a peg and raised the Spudders a notch.

Works' double in the first inning came with the bases full. Five times in the seven games he has worked, he has been placed in the position where a hit meant at least two scores and the youngster has come through handsomely with the exception of the last time yesterday afternoon when he struck out.

The fast double play engineered by Clark and Tanner and finished by Works in the eighth frame, was a classic. Bush was responsible for the only double killing of the game and Vann was the victim.

Tanner was officially credited at bat twice during the fray but managed to make two hits and score four runs.

Danny Clark hasn't made a hit in two games, although he has managed to score once. The keystone sacker clouts 'em but he has been unlucky enough to have a waiting fielder grab the ball for a putout.

Rothfuss now leads the Spudders in hitting, having made 14 hits in 29 times at bat for an average of .483.

Works added two more wallops to his string while McDonald, Miller and McElwee are one more ahead.

Rube Marquard Has Difficulty In Re-Marrying

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 22.—"Rube" Marquard, Cincinnati pitcher, uncertain of his status in the matrimonial league, has twice in so many days tried to have a "make sure" marriage ceremony performed. Marquard married his present wife, who was Miss Naomi Malone of Baltimore, after being divorced from his first wife, known on the stage as "Blossom Seely."

In some states a second marriage is not recognized before elapse of a certain length of time after a divorce has been granted. The time limit for Marquard expired yesterday. With Mrs. Marquard he immediately endeavored to have a second ceremony performed in Pittsburgh, but failed. Today the couple journeyed to Beaver on a similar mission, but again were balked. On both occasions a license was refused because Marquard did not have with him a certified copy of his divorce decree.

Glancin' 'Round The Sport World

WITH VAN

There never was a manager in the game with the color possessed by John McGraw and Frank Chance. The latter is now out of it, having retired to his orange grove in California. But this year finds another manager with a "lot o' color," and it's none other than our old Maharajah of Swat, Tyrus Raymond Cobb. They've clothed Ty in the purple robes of authority this year and he threatens to come through successfully. He'll not win a pennant, but his team will be up there fighting all the way, and before he finishes he will have a pennant winning aggregation, which Detroit has missed many years. Cobb has personality and in making himself popular with the players. He is injecting that old gray matter, with which he is so abundantly supplied, into his efforts and we predict Cobb in a year or so will be one of the managers of the game.

During the recent wrestling match in New York a "masked marvel" was introduced on the stage and challenged Strangler Lewis. The latter accepted the defi and now folks are wondering whether the masked one was ol' Plestina himself. Lewis says, "What's the difference, Plestina looks the same to me as all the others."

Reports show that the French military class of 1921, called to the colors during April, has yielded 210,000 men, which is more than 75, percent of youths 20 years of age who are subject to military service. This is the first time such a high percentage of effectives has been secured, and newspapers attribute it to a decrease in the use of alcohol, the spread of sports in France and improved living conditions on French farms.

Wild Bill Donovan, who is old at the managing game, but new at the head of the Philadelphia National league club, is a type that has personality and color, and he says: "My team will win some games and lose some games, but I am always looking to strengthen and build up into a winner." Bill is going to finish in the second division, but his men are going to give him the best there is in them.

Johnny Evers, the new Cub pilot, is another individual with color. The The fighting, fire-eating Trojan seems to have won the confidence of his men and they "are playing their heads off" for him. Those who watched him in the first game at Chicago, and his work on the line, where he and Bill Killifer did the coaching, said it was perfection itself. John has a lot of baseball brains and he's going to do fairly well with the material he has on hand at present.

CINCINNATI, April 22.—Still far apart in their views on the salary question, Ed Roush, centerfielder of the Cincinnati Nationals and President August Herrmann, ended a conference held late today to bring the star batsman back into the field.

Roush said that he would not yield a penny in his demand for $20,000 a year and a three-year contract.

A director of the club said that even if the club was in eighth place on July 4 he would not give Roush a nickel additional to his present salary of $15,000 a year.

Roush said he would return to his Indiana farm tonight. Both Herrmann and Roush will consider counter proposals, however, it was said.

THE SPORTING LIFE

Al Munro Ellis the baseball statistician, wants to sell "the deeds of Babe Ruth, inning by inning—" a full statement of everything Babe does throughout the season. Not half explicit enough, Al. Why not have details, day by day, of how much and what Babe eats in his five daily meals; how much egg he spills on the front of his silk shirt; how often he changes said shirt; how long it takes him to fish his collar-button out from under the bureau; what language he uses as he gets it—why, Al, the field is unlimited, just unlimited!

The war between the Turks and Greeks is great stuff, full of thrills and heroic doings. When the bugle sounds, the Greeks charge—that was always one of the best things they could do—and bombard the Turks with a barrage of blacking-boxe shoe-brushes, fruit, candy, knive forks and soup-spoons. The Turk send a torrential gas of cigarette smoke right into the faces of the Greeks then rush forward and smother the foremost assailants under heaps of rugs. And thus the tigerish conflict continues till one party or the other sees a nickel lying loose—whereat the fight is renewed till all of them are done up or dead!

NEW YORK, April 22.—The home-run batting race between "Babe" Ruth of the New York Americans and George Kelly, of the New York Nationals, remained at a dead heat today when each pounded out his fourth circuit clout of the season. Elmer Smith, of Cleveland, and Emil Meusel, of the Philadelphia Nationals, are only a step behind, with three home runs to their credit, while Bob Meusel, Emil's brother of the New York Americans has two. Several other players have made two also.

Ruth is far ahead of last year's schedule as he did not make his fourth home-run in 1920 until May 11. Kelly's home-run total for 1920 was 11. Ruth made 54.

SAN ANTONIO GETS MAJOR OUTFIELDER

Frank Baker, reinstated by Judge Landis yesterday, made his first appearance in an American league game in several years, batting for Ferguson in the ninth and rolling an easy grounder to second base.

Race Fixers Are Ruled Off Track At Baltimore

BALTIMORE, April 22.—By order of the Maryland racing association one horse owner, P. L. Chinn, is ruled off all tracks under the supervision of the commission, and another horses owner, C. N. Freeman, is suspended until December 31, 1921.

This action was taken following a meeting of the board today at which counsel for Chinn and Freeman were heard in executive session.

Chinn and Freeman had been charged with conspiring to "fix" a race at Bowie on April 13, as a result of this trouble their entries were barred from the Havre de Grace meeting. The race at Bowie which started the trouble was won by a horse named Vulcanize.

Evidence in possession of the racing commission was not made public. Sale at public auction of the horses of the two owners is authorized. Chinn owns 11 horses, Freeman six.

Polo Club and Round-Up Teams Schedule Games

Representatives of the Wichita Polo club and the Round-Up polo team met in the offices of Jerome S. Stone Friday morning and arranged for a series of three games, the first to be played at Call Field Sunday, May 1. The second game will be played Saturday, May 7, and then if neither team has won two straight games, the third game to be played Sunday, May 8.

Cowboy Team Good.

It did not take long to convince the local club that the cowboy team is worthy of their steel and immediately after the arrangements were completed there was a general stampede in the direction of Call Field, getting ponies and players into form and hardened for what are expected to be some gruelling contests.

Dave White will captain the Round-Up team. He has just returned from a series of games at Long Island, wherein his team defeated several of the fastest teams of New York and New Jersey.

Hugh Strickland, another of the cowboy team, has played with the best teams of Wyoming, and is a worthy opponent on any team, while "Slim" Caskey, the famous bulldogger of this city, played polo with the A. E. F. occupation forces in Germany.

Jim Casey, the fourth member, is one of the best horsemen in the state.

Those best posted on the sport predict a great series of games and while they will not concede an advantage to the cowboy team local polo fans are of the opinion that the local club is up against a real bunch that will be hard to beat.

C. Rumsey, scored a victory today by eight goals to two against a scratch team composed of Maj. F. W. Barrett, Earl Whopping, Robert E. Strawbridge and Capt. Frederick Guest. Stoddard and Hitchcock made an excellent showing, each scoring three goals.

MANY NEW RECORDS EXPECTED AT MEET

AUSTIN, April 22.—District elimination contests now being held over the state under the University of Texas interscholastic league organization in preparation for the big annual state meet here on May 5, 6 and 7, offer evidence that many previous records will be broken this year and that the meet will be an assembly of the best high school athletes in the state. One exceptionally good record lately reported is that of Lawton Thomas of Electra, who in the fourth district meet held at Olney, broke the state high school record for the 100-yard dash, making it in ten seconds flat, and took three other first places on the track. NOSING 'ROUND WASHINGTON

I came very near being shot in the White House grounds the other day. Yep! You see, my friend is a bit on the order of what the modistes call "stylish stout." Rather more than a bit, indeed. Looks something like a slightly youthful Irvin Cobb. Also wouldn't consider it decent of him out of doors not to "wear" his stag-handled cane. Altogether, not unlikely to be taken for a real somebody. He was fishing round in his breast pocket for the letter his senator from "back home" had given him to the president's secretary. Drew out what may have seemed an important looking document.

As we came along the path toward the executive offices there was an upstage looking bunch thronging about the little steps—rollicking gamins, smartly turned out flappers, a sprinkling of rather rakish looking young males and (in their best black silk) a populous representation of those highly honorable and very ample figures who have generously mothered the young sons and daughters of the American prairies.

Suddenly from the side lines they popped out—a whole battery of them, with their bug-like machines on tall stilts. The motion picture camera men were taking no chances that anything important would escape their fire. Evidently they couldn't quite place us, however, so we got through the door without further incident.

When we had entered the grounds through the gate at the far side of the lawn my thoughtful friend had threwn away his lighted cigar, feeling that promiscuous smoking here would be taboo from danger of fire to so precious a national jewel as the White House. Within the ante-room to the executive office the scene very decidedly suggested one of those jovial masculine gatherings termed a "smoker." The seething and motley company of (obviously) newspaper men put one in mind of the recent arrival at a military training camp of a nondescript batch of drafted men not yet got into uniform. General air about the room of loafing in a corner cigar store.

Then, suddenly a rising murmur and a pell-mell push toward the door. My friend and I were swayed out upon the step and saw at the gate directly at the street corner of the building the movie camera men very vigorously clearing for action. They had halted close before them a tall, striking and very distinguished figure. You instantly recognised him by the insignia which he wore on the slope toward his chin of his under lip—a wisp of whiskey (light straw color), such as decorated the illustrious countenance, too, of the late James Abbott McNeil Whistler.

He was, this gentleman, looking very sheepish, continually bowing in a rather strained manner to the camera men and lifted his black derby hat to them. They were scrambling about the legs of their engines and cranking away with a rattle. "Over this way a little, Mr. Paderewski!" yelled one. "Hold on, Mr. Paderewski, there you are!" bawled another. Boisterous fairth about the door. "That's good!" "Sure, he's only a premier."

Then a deferential scattering to make way for him as he approached. Held him up again, the camera guerillas, on the steps. He was bowing with an effect of increasing strain and the intensity of his sheepishness becoming painful to contemplate. His hair a white brush thrusting out behind. Ghostly white bow tie. His black clothes beautifully sleek and pressed. At close up his features blunter, less sensitive in chiseling than appears in his photographs. The flesh of his face striking in the degree of the pinkness and fairness of complexion of the races of northern Europe.

BROOKLYN'S TEAM SAME AS IN 1920

Brooklyn's chances in the National League this year would seem to depend more upon the changed conditions in the other clubs than upon an estimate of the Superbas' own strength. They will start the season with practically the same lineup with which they won the championship last year. They still have the same pitching staff, and it is possible that Cadore and one or two others of the pitchers may be even better than in 1920.

The infield situation is uncertain because of the aging of Ivan Olson and the failure to find a new man to take his place in case he should slip seriously. Buster Caton, formerly of the Pirates was expected to act as a reliable substitute for Olson, but has developed a bad arm and has been sent home by Manager Wilbert Robinson. Ed Konetchy, the oldest first baseman in the league, batted over .300 last year, but whether he will be able to repeat in this, his 15th season, is a question.

Pete Kilduff will again be at second and Jimmy Johnston at third. Both were getting better every day last season and their improvement in form is expected to be a strong point in favor of this year's team.

Behind the bat the prospects are uncertain. Otto Miller, who has been with the club 11 years and last year was expected to do little playing, unexpectedly went back to his early form and became a star again. Whether he can repeat this year is another question like that concerning Konetchy. Ernest Krueger was an erratic thrower last season and will probably be second string catcher this season, but will have a rival in Zack Taylor, a youngster who sat on the bench all last season but showed considerable merit in his few opportunities. Brooklyn recently bought Meyer, formerly with the Athletics, but he was slow in reporting.

The old outfield of Zack Wheat, Hi Myers and Tommy Griffith have all reported, but Wheat and Griffith are getting along in years and whether they will be able to repeat their excellent performances of 1920 is uncertain. Bill Lamar and Bernie Neis are giving all of the veterans a hard run and the club is well supplied in outfield material, while the reserve strength of the infield is decidedly light at this stage.

On the whole, the chances of the club will depend on the number of veterans batting up to their 1920 form and the pitching staff coming through even better than it did last year. A slipping by the veterans and any series of accidents to the pitching staff would probably mean new champions in the National League this year.

CHICAGO

With the return of Johnny Evers as manager of the Chicago Nationals, a new fighting spirit is expected to be instilled into the players—a spirit that was totally lacking last season, in the judgment of critics. The coming season will be the second time Evers has been in command of the club. For years he was a member of the team, covering second base with the famous "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination.

"I don't know where we'll finish," is the way Evers himself sums up the coming season, "but I do know this ball club is going to fight."

The Cubs have added little new material of worth and lave lost one man, Davy Robertson, who was suspended because of failure to report. Whether his retirement is a loss or a gain cannot be determined until the season is well advanced.

Manager Evers regards his pitching staff as one of the best in the league, with Alexander, Tyler and Vaughn forming the backbone of the department. He expects this trio to win at least 60 games. Virgil Cheeves, a 20-year old right-hander from Texas and Oscar Fuhr, a left hander from Omaha, are promising candidates. The remainder of the staff consists of Abe Bailey and "Speed" Martin, holdovers, and several recruits.

The infield presents a new first baseman to fill the gap caused by the release of Fred Merkle. Turner Barber, who played the position for a time last season, and a trio of youngsters, Ray Grimes, Tom Whalen and Alfred Young—are fighting for the berth, with the chances favoring Grimes, or Barber. Grimes is a twin brother of the Grimes with the Giants. He batted .389 in the Eastern league last season.

Zeb Terry, who ran second in fielding last season, will again be at second base, while Charley Hollocher will operate at short. Hollocher submitted to an operation last season but has come back stronger than ever. Charles Deal, is looked upon as the regular third baseman.

Hoke Warner, who had trial with Pittsburgh, and Johnny Kelleher, manager of the St. Joseph, Mo., club last season, will likely be retained as utility infielders.

There will be no change behind the bat. Killefer will do the bulk of the catching, with Bob O'Farrell second string man and Tom Daly operating chiefly as a pinch hitter.

In the outfield, Evers has a great array of talent. Max Flack will be in right field as usual, with Maisel, purchased from Portland, as the choice for left. Twombly and Friberg are candidates for center, although neither is regarded as a finished fielder. Barber may draw the assignment later.

The fiery personality of Evers is expected to add several points to the Cub's percentage standing. From the first day of the spring training trip the players have hustled.

BOSTON

Gone are the Braves of yesteryear. This city will scarcely know its own team when it comes back from the South. Resignations, trades and disagreements have so changed the personnel that it is only reminiscent of the team of a year or two ago.

The change in the Braves is almost revolutionary. With the passing of George T. Stallings, the Miracle Man of 1914, to the Rochester Internationals, Fred Mitchell, his "right eye" of that year and subsequently manager of the Chicago Cubs, stepped into the managerial role. The Indian Head is gone from the uniforms, "Rabbit" Maranville is gone from the infield; only Gowdy and Rudolph remain of the 1914 champions and Rudolph's comeback is doubtful.

It will be a team top-heavy in outfield strength, with the former Pirates Southworth and Nicholson fairly certain of regular places, and last year's quartet, Powell, Sullivan, Cruise and Eayrs contending for the odd place with two likely looking youngsters, Nixon and Archdeacon, the latter described as a flash on his feet.

Barbare will be inserted at short in place of Maranville, with Holke holding down first base again, Ford playing regularly at second, and Boeckel probably at third.

Young blood probably will constitute the bulk of the raves' pitching staff. Rudolph and Fillingim have ailing arms that need the summer sun for treatment, the cold and damp of Galveston's training camp having failed to work out the kinks. Joe Oeschger, Scott and Watson will be available early, but the shoots of young John Cooney, of Lefty Leo Townsend and his right-handed name sake, Ira Townsend, are expected to supplement the veteran arms in the early campaign.

PHILADELPHIA

The personnel of the Philadelphia National League Baseball Club will be virtually the same this season as last, but if the veteran pitchers perform up to expectations, the club should finish better than last year. Such is the opinion of sport writers who have been sizing up the team in its practice games at Gainesville, Fla., and on its more recent barnstorming tour northward.

Meadows, Ring, Hubbell, Smith and Causey, all right handers, are the man upon whom Manager Donovan must rely to a great extent to pull the club out of last place. The best of this quintet are Meadows and Ring. Walter Betts, a Delaware boy who won a place as reserve pitcher last year, has also received much praise from the sporting experts for his pre-season showing.

But altogether the season's crop of recruit pitchers seems to be distinctly disappointing to the experts, nor do they wax over-enthusiastic concerning any of the recruits for the other positions.

Of the new men, those who seem to have the best chance to retain regular positions are John Peters, a big catcher obtained from the Birmingham Club of the Southern Association last fall, and Frank Bruggy, another backstop, who has been in big league company before, and who was brought from Buffalo in exchange for Tragressor and certain legal tender.

The infield, it is said, is not reassuring. The loss of Paulette weakens the first base position. Neither Jack Miller nor Meusel measure up to his defensive standard. Fletcher at short, Rawlings at second, and third base an unsolved problem between Ralph Miller and Russel Wrightstone is the forecast. Donovan is said to be depending upon Williams, Neale and Stengel as the outfield trio, which, in the opinion of the experts, will make that department stronger than the rest of the Quaker machine.

PITTSBURGH

When the Pittsburgh National League appears at Cincinnati for the opening game of the 1921 season, "Rabbit" Maranville will be at shortstop. Since the retirement of Hans Wagner several years ago, the Pirate management has experimented with a number of men in the short field. Maranville, obtained from Boston during the winter, has been brilliantly performing, according to training camp reports, and the management expects to have as stronger team than it has had since the pennant-winning days of 1909.

George Whitted, last season's third baseman, will be stationed in right field, provided Clyde Barnhart shows the form at third base expected by Manager Gibson. Barnhart, graduating from the semi-pro ranks, went to the Southern Association in 1920 and was recalled by the Pirates last fall.

Two men are contesting second base. George Cutshaw, a veteran who covered the keystone sack last year, is being given a hard fight by "Cotton" Tierney, a youngster from Tulsa, Okla.

Harold Traynor, purchased from Portsmouth, Va., and from whom it is said Pittsburgh paid $10,000, will be carried as a substitute infielder. He is a shortstop and has shown excellent form in training, the management announces, but with Maranville playing his accustomed game the youngster has little opportunity of breaking in as a regular.

Members of the 1920 team who will not be seen in Pittsburgh uniforms this year are outfielders Southworth and Nicholson and infielder Barbare who went to Boston in the trade that brought Maranville to Pittsburgh and Catcher William Haeffner, who has retired from baseball.

The following players probably will be wearing Pirate uniforms when the season opens. Schmidt and Lee of last year's team and Skiff and Wilson, recruits, catchers; Adams, Cooper, Hamilton, Ponder, Carlson, all veterans and Zinn, Yellowhorse, Eberhardt, Glazner and Morrison, recruits, pitchers; Grimm, first base; Cutshaw or Tierney, second base; Maranville, shortstop; Barnhart, third base; Bigbee, left field; Carey, center field and Whitted, right field. Ray Rohwer, a San Francisco collegian and Homer Summa, who was with the team last season have been showing well and are expected to be retained as extra outfielders, if they continue to show their present form.

NEW YORK

Right up in front from the start is the place in the 1921 pennant race which the followers of the Giants expect the team will occupy after the opening game on April 13. Whether the New York players will verify this confidence of the club patrons remains to be proved. If careful preparation and excellent coaching during their training can bring success the Giants certainly have had the best of everything in that line throughout the southern trip.

Manager McGraw and his assistants, Hughey Jennings and Jesse Burkett, with Cozy Dolan helping out, certainly form a staff of directors and instructors which could not be duplicated by any other club in the National League. McGraw this year will be strictly a bench manager and he will intrust the coaching to Jennings and Burkett.

Changes may be made in the lineup before the initial game, but McGraw and his assistants seem to be pretty well satisfied that they will be able to put a championship team into the flag contest.

With plenty of pitchers and an excellent catching staff to pick from everything looks good in these departments. The infield seems to be working well together while in the absence of Benny Kauff, Brown at center is filling the place acceptably with Young and Burns at their old positions in the outfield.

Sickness and injuries during the training trip impaired the usefulness of Dave Bancroft at short, "Goldie" Rapp at third and Frank Frisch, the "Fordham flash" at second, but all three may be the regular men at these infield positions at the opening of the season, with Kelly at the first sack.

McGraw has had more luck with his pitchers than he experienced a year ago in the South. Douglas Nehf, Sallee and Bryan came to prime form quickly, while Tony Barnes and Shea were slower in getting into playing trim. Snyder, Smith and Gonzales with Gaston make up the catching staff and outside of the batteries, the line-up for the opening game may read as follows: Burns, Bancroft, Frisch, Young, Kelly, Brown and Rapp.

CINCINNATI

When the Reds take the field for the opening game of the season in this city on April 13 against the Pittsburgh Pirates, they will be a remodeled ball club from that which won the National League pennant and the scandalous world series in 1919. Unless Ed Roush, center fielder and Henry Groh, third baseman, who are holdouts, capitulate and return to the line up there will be only three of the Reds of 1919 in the game. They will be Pat Duncan in left field, Jake Daubert at first and Ivy Wingo behind the bat.

Even the appearance of Jake Daubert depends upon the condition he is in for playing as the veteran player did not go with the team to Texas for spring training. If he is not in shape, Pitcher Rube Bressler, who is the handy man of the outfit, will be perched on the first station. At second will be Louis Fonseca obtained from a Western league. Fonseca is one of the best finds of the playing season.

He has clinched the regular job at second base, unless Groh returns, it being the intention of Manager Moran to put Groh at second base if he signs up. But the veteran will have a hard time replacing Fonseca if at all. At the shortfield will be Sam Crane. Larry Kopf the shortstop of the team for three seasons says he has retired from the game. At third will be Sam Bohne, secured from the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League who is regarded as the equal of Groh at the "hot corner."

Duncan will be in left field. Charlie See will hold down center unless Roush returns. In that event See will be shifted to right where once roamed Earle Neale who was traded to the Philadelphia Nationals. If Roush continues to hold out the veteran George Paskert will be in right. Eller, Luque and Fisher are the only pitchers of the 1919 team left to Moran. Ring, Ruether and Sallee have gone. The team as at present constituted has developed unexpected strength at the bat and the work of the infield has been high-class.

Manager Moran believes that he has gathered together an ambitious team, a club that will win far more games than it will lose. The fans believe that it is sure to finish in the first division and perhaps very high up in select circles should Roush and Groh be wearing the Red when the gong sounds for the first battle of the season.

ST. LOUIS

With added strength on the mound Manager Branch Rickey expects to enhance the chances of the Cardinals in this year's pennant race. Having led the National League in batting with .289 and being well up with the leaders in scoring runs last season Manager Rickey assumes that the "punch" will continue in evidence and that his team will do better than tie for the top of the second division where it finished in 1920.

The Cardinals will present a rearranged infield. With Milton Stock a hold-out, Roger Hornsby has been shifted over to third base, and George Toporcer, a bespectacled recruit without previous professional experience, has succeeded Hornsby at second. Fournier and Lavan, are back at first and short, respectively, and Harold Javrin is again available for the utility role.

In the outfield, Jack Smith, who like Stock, hit better than .300 last year, also is a hold-out. The other veterans, McHenry, Heathcote, Shotten and Schultz are in line, however, and reinforcements have been obtained in the persons of Leslie Mann, from Boston, and Clarence Mueller, a minor league recruit, who has made a strong bid for a permanent place.

The catchers, Clemons, Dilhoefer and McCarty, are in line, likewise the veteran pitchers, Schupp, Sherdel, May, Doak, Haines, Goodwin and North. The pitching staff has been increased by the acquisition of Riviere, a collegian, who came into prominence for his work in the semi-professional field in Texas last year; Bill Pertica of Los Angeles, and "Dixie" Walker, from the New Orleans club of the Southern league, all of whom appear to have a good chance of remaining in fast company.

STOCKS MOVE FORWARD IN FAST TRADING

NEW YORK, April 22.—On dealing approximating the largest turnover of any session so far this year the stock market today moved forward in an impressive manner, numerous issues sharing in the extreme gains of 2 to 5 points.

Factors contributing varying degrees to the advance included easier money tendencies, more favorable trade prospects and cables from London which seemed to justify hope of an early and satisfactory outcome of the British coal strike.

Oils, motors and kindred shares were especially prominent and scored the most substantial gains, outstanding features of these groups comprised Studebaker, General Asphalt and Mexican Petroleum. Crucible and United States Steel and several of the popular equipments also evinced unwanted activity.

Rails held back until the last half of the session, when they were brought forward many of the dormant specialties.

Dealings in foreign exchanges were comparatively light in comparison with yesterday's activity. Germany's latest mediation plea was without visible influence on rates to London and continental points, aside from recovery in marks.

In the bond market all liberty issues strengthened and local utilities also improved.

DUN'S REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Duns tomorrow will say:

After long continued liquidation, more stability has developed in some markets with a definite gain in business. Completion of the readjustment is yet to be attained in many instances and improvement is not general, but basic conditions are gradually strengthening. A tendency toward easing of the monetary stringency partly reflected in some lowering of discount ratts, is a favorable augury, and freer marketing of grain are making for a lessening of the financial tension in country districts. Recent sudden changes in temperature have been detrimental alike to crop advancement and seasonal increase in retail distribution, yet weather influences are secondary to some other factors in the present situation, questions of prices and wages being uppermost.

NEW YORK SUGAR

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—There was no change in the local raw sugar market today and while no business was reported, the undertone was easier. Prices were quoted at 4 5-8 for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 5.64 for centrifugal by the committee, while uncontrolled sugars ruled at 5.27.

Following yesterday's decline in raws there was a readjustment by several of the local refiners in refined with prices unchanged to 25 points lower, fine granulated ranging from 7.20 to 7.50.

Sugar futures were active and closing prices were 13 to 14 points net lower or within a few points of the lowest under continued liquidation by outside interests prompted by weakness in the spot market. Final bids May 3.96; July 4.06; Sept. 4.08.

BOSTON WOOL MARKET.

BOSTON, April 22.—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

"Trading in the wool market this past week has continued in a moderate manner, the mills taking more or less wool from day to day, but in no large volume. Prices on the whole showed little change, although the market is erratic. The tariff is the center of attraction.

"The situation at the mills is healthy. Shearing is progressing in the west, but little has been done on the new clip."

Oregon has an area of 96,000 square miles (France has only 204,092 without Alsace-Loraine), compares majestically with Rhode Islands 1,250 square miles.

GOLD SHIPMENTS FROM ORIENT HERE

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Gold valued at $7,500,000 to $8,000,000 arrived here today on the steamer Eastern Knight from Port Said. This shipment—one of the largest ever received from the Orient—was consigned to several local bankers.

WHEAT SCORES PRICE GAIN IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, April 22. — Wheat scored a substantial gain in price today, influenced more or less by assertions that enactment of emergency tariff bill was to be looked for next week. The market closed strong 1 to 3 1-2 cent net higher with May 1.27 1-2 to 1.28 and July 1.06 1-3 to 1.06 3-4. Corn finished 1 1-8 to 2 1-8 cent up, oats unchanged to 1-2 cent higher and provisions at an advance of 25 to 35 cents.

The upward tendency began at the opening and with only brief interruptions, continued throughout the day and bulls were favored of reports of orange rust insections of Kansas and Oklahoma. In addition, more optimistic views were expressed regarding likelihood that the British coal strike was approaching a settlement. Export sales to Belgium and Germany helped to bring about rallies, and the market closed at the topmost figures of the day.

Corn and oats were strengthened by further export business in corn. Besides rural offerings continued light. Provisions advanced on packers buying. At first, however, the market was weak owing to a temporary break in value of hogs.

STRIKE NEWS SENDS COTTON 22 POINTS UP

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—Moderate gains were the rule in the cotton market today after a hesitating opening, during which prices were 4 to 6 points under the close of yesterday. A better opinion of the chances of settling the English coal strike, reports of a much better demand for spots in the markets in Texas and highly unfavorable reports of the damage by prevailing weather conditions over the belt were the main reasons back of the buying. At its best the market stood 22 to 24 points over the close of yesterday.

The weather map showed too much rain in the western and central divisions of the belt and the forecast called for rain in the Atlantic with fair weather but cooler temperatures elsewhere in the belt. Reports from the interior were that streams were high and that much cotton had been drowned out in low lands and that crops had been washed out on the uplands in central portions of the belt. The western belt complained that the soil was so wet, planting and replanting would be seriously delayed.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Early irregularity was followed by a sharp advance in the cotton market here today, but increased southern hedge selling was encountered around 12.63 for July and that delivery closed at 12.49 with the general market closing barely steady net 3 points lower to 10 points higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 10 points to a decline of 2 points, and sold off a few points during the early trading on reports of increased nervousness in Liverpool. Liquidation of May contracts was again absorbed by trade interests who sold July and October and during the middle of the day the market became more active owing to rdeports of a better felling in the stock and grain markets, accompanied by Wall street and western buying. There was also southern buying on unfavorable weather in the belt and for a time the market showed considerable strength with May selling up from 11.83 to 12.00 and October from 13.05 to 13.27. Some later months made new high ground for the month on this advance. Southern selling became a little more active above 13.25 for October, however, while there was still more or less nervousness over the British coal strike or the question of war preparations and closing prices showed reactions of some 13 or 14 points from the best. Private advices from Liverpool reported a healthy undertone with some speculative buying in late months. Exports for the day were 8,870 bales, making 3,968,873 so far this season. Port receipts 22,849. United States port stock, 1,465,169.

D. & R. G. Elects New Officers in Reorganization

By Associated Press.

DENVER, April 22.—Directors were elected here today at the first meeting of stockholders of the new Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad company of Colorado, which is to take over the property of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, sold at foreclosure sale here last November. Among the directors chosen was Alvin W. Krech of New York, who also is chairman of the board of the Western Pacific railroad company, and president of the Equitable Trust company of New York, which holds a $30,000,000 mortgage on the property.

While no selection of a president of the new line was made, it was understood generally that this place would go to Joseph H. Young of Salt Lake City, Utah, for many years president of the Norfolk Southern railroad.

The directors elected, all from New York, were F. W. M. Cutcheon, Ide Burin, John B. Dennis, Frederick H. Ecker, A. M. Hunt, Alvin W. Kretch, John B. Marsh, Robert W. Martin, George Welwood Murray, Lyman Rhoades, John Y. Robbins and R. B. Young.

Mr. Young, a resident of Norfolk, Va., was connected with the old Denver & Rio Grande system under the Gould administration. It is expected he soon will retire from his present position and enter upon his new duties within the next few weeks.

It is understood that his election was acceptable to the Denver & Rio Grande protective committee, which recently opposed transfer of the system to the interests now in control.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

NEW YORK, April 22.—A more or less disposition to await development in the British coal mining disputes or in the matter of German war preparations, has been reflected in a small volume of business in the cotton market here during the week. Notwithstanding nervousness and uncertainty in these directions however, prices have ruled generally steady owing to absence of selling pressure fro mthe south, reports of less favorable weather for the start of the new crop, and the hope for an expanding export demand as soon as conditions abroad became more settled. Trade advices from both Liverpool and Manchester have contributed to the latter, creating an impression here that a good business was pending in Lancashire.

City Teachers Have Picnic at Lake Wichita

Beginning their afternoon activities with picnic games on the special car, which took them to the lake, and carrying the holiday spirit throughout, including motor boat rides—and it is even rumored that now and then a shy pedagogical whisper of that well-known malady of Spring time was noted by certain hawk-eyed elders—all leading to the crowning event of the day—a camp supper—constituted the most enjoyable social event of the season for approximately 100 of the teachers in the city schools, who held a picnic on the banks of Lake Wichita Friday afternoon and evening, according to the report of teachers attending.

Sausages, baked over glowing coals, bacon browned to a crisp in the same manner, browned toast and coffee boiled in an open can, with a stick laying across its top—as taught by old cowmen to prevent its boiling over—together with a long menu of prepared confections and fruits, brought along by some of the less confident, constituted the chief portions of the menu as reported.

Although some members of the board were in attendance, the picnickers announced that speeches regardless of their possible timeliness and interest, were absolutely tabooed by all present.

After overseeing the 1,500 quarts of confiscated liquor captured in the raid by Federal officers Friday morning, safely deposited in a vault in the courthouse and placing guards at the door to protect it, United States Deputy Marshall J. A. Allen left Friday night for Knox City.

Deputy Marshal Allen said that he was making the trip, under directions from the Dallas office, in connection with the reports of Mexican peonage in West Texas counties.

One of the arguments for free speech is that so little of it is worth anything.—Johnstown Democrat.

CONFISCATE 1,400 QUARTS OF WHISKEY

Federal officers Friday night had made no arrests in connection with the raid of a vacant house at 1109 Austin street Thursday night and Friday morning in which 1,400 quarts of whiskey were obtained. Although officers made no definite announcement as to clues upon which the department is working, it is known that they have at hand information which probably will result in the uncovering of one of the largest bootlegging schemes that has ever been exposed since the event of national prohibition.

Certain factors in connection with the investigation lead officers to believe that the recovery of the $50,000 worth of liquor here is but one end of a bootlegging industry which is probably national in scope. Officers connected with the investigation and county officers were inclined to place special significance on the fact that the liquor was apparently shipped or brought here by truck either directly or indirectly from Vancouver, British Columbia.

The liquor was in quart bottles in twenty-four barrels with six barrels that apparently had been emptied and sold. The barrels bore Canadian shipping marks and in addition the bottles were wrapped in Vancouver newspapers. Officers have other evidence as to their shipping.

Information regarding the raid was not made known by officers until Friday morning. H. D. Bishop, special agent of the department of justice, connected with the local federal office and Jim Allen, deputy United States marshal, entered the house on Austin street about 3 p. m. Thursday and stayed there until 6 o'clock Friday morning waiting for the return of the men who are believed to have brought the liquor to the house several days ago.

It is know that for several days women living in that section of the city have seen men both during the day and night leaving the house with bundles and suit cases.

Early in the evening J. B. Fitts, well known local real estate owner, came to the house. Mr. Fitts has charge of the rental of the property which belongs to R. E. McConnell. Mr. Fitts told the officers that the house was not rented to any one and expressed surprise when told by the officers that it contained the large amount of liquor and had apparently been the rendezvous for local bootleggers for several days.

It is believed that men connected with the sale of the liquor were warned that the officers had discovered the liquor and were concealed in the house waiting their return. Officers have been given general description of the men that have been seen at the house during the last few days.

It is pointed out by officers that the quantity and quality of the whiskey makes it certain that the scheme of operation was not that which have previously been discovered in this section. The whiskey bore the "Sunnybrook" label.

ATTORNEY FEES OF $120,000 BASIS OF LITIGATION

Attorney fees totaling $120,000 are asked by Lemuel H. Doty, local attorney, in suit now on trial in federal court against E. M. Foster, former local oil man. The case opened with a jury before Judge James C. Wilson, Friday morning.

At time of adjournment Friday evening Judge Wilson was hearing a motion to quash the writ of attachment on certain property in which the defendant is interested. The trial recalls the famous Sanders-Foster partnership operation in local oil fields. The defendant, Foster, was formerly associated with the late Mrs. Sanders in extensive oil operations in this section.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES

VIENNA, April 22.—The Chancellor of the Austin republic, Dr. Mayr, flatly turned down an invitation of the British government to come to London for a conference which was to name a new "committee for the investigation of the Austrian question." His reply was that the time for investigation had passed, that Austria needed prompt help "in deeds, but not words," and that his going to London would be merely a waste of time, and the naming of a new committee a waste of effort.

WOMEN SEEK SIMPLER AND MORE LIBERAL DIVORCE LAW

NEW YORK, April 22.—Is the uniform divorce law approaching?

Recent legal proceedings in several well-known families have made the need of a federal divorce law seem imperative.

The National League of Women Voters, now in convention in Cleveland, has recognized the necessity for such legislation. Part of the programme of the convention includes cussion of the divorce problem and the adoption of resolutions to liberalize and simplify the laws surrounding it.

Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, one of the New York members of the organization, announced today that not only divorce, but kindred subjects, pertaining to the protection of women and children, such as child labor laws, will be discussed at the convention.

"I thoroughly believe," she said today, "in a programme for liberalizing and unifying divorce laws."

"Part of our general plan for the codification of laws, and their unification, includes not only consideration of divorce laws, but those which affect children.

"This is a necessity now, as never before, in the United States. Every section of this country is closely bound by interconnections and our laws should be more uniform.

"Laws governing divorce should have dignity and humanity incorporated in them."

Miss Pugh Urges Change.

Further approval of the league's programme was expressed by a young woman lawyer, Miss Lucille Pugh, who agrees that the present system of marriages and divorce is inadequate and unjust.

"I believe that marriage should be looked upon as a civil contract which can be dissolved or abrogated when conditions change and when it is proper and right to do so," she said.

"The happiness of two people is the one thing on which the state must depend for its existence.

"And that happiness should be guarded. It is the state's duty to protect it.

"By standing in the way of more liberal divorce laws the state is not doing its duty. It is cutting its own roots thereby.

"But I would not be too lax. Such grounds as cruelty are often interpreted too leniently. A woman may say it is cruel if her husband does not kiss her when he leaves for business in the morning.

"Such a reason for divorce, if ever made one of he grounds, should be carefully defined.

"Divorce should be granted when two people find it impossible to be a help to each other. That is the whole idea.

"The state should not make it an obligation on either party to the unhappy marriage to resort to collusion.

"How could the laws be unified? I think if a constitutional amendment could be passed, making the law uniform, but leaving the enforcement of it to the state, it would be very satisfactory. Then people wouldn't have to go to a federal court for a divorce but to the state courts as usual. This would be a great protection to women and to children as well.

"I don't know how it would work out—if it would be easy to adjust or not. If not, then we ought to find some efficient way.

"One report, which may be incorrect, has it that the League of Women Voters would place two years as the period between marriage and divorce. This is too long. If people can't get along for two years it is a serious thing. I don't know whether that means that they want a woman to wait two years to get a divorce, or two years till she may re-marry after being divorced. In either case, it is too long.

Hard to Define Cruelty

"Many people, if cruelty were made a ground, would say that incompatability should be synonymous. It's easy to say that so many things represent cruelty.

"The point should be that if two can't honestly get along together the state that married them should give them relief

"Women should have the custody of their children, I believe. That is woman's natural vocation anyway, the one she started out with.

"When a divorce is given to the father the child—if of tender years—is given to the mother. That is only right and just. Circumstances have so much to do with every case, though. If a woman is wholly bad the child is better away from her, no matter how young.

"Let us be honest and fair and have sensible legislation.

"Health certificates with marriage licenses are a good idea. We should make marriage hard to achieve. Now it's hard only to be divorced, not to get married. The very young don't know their own minds and rush into disastrous marriages. They should be protected.

"But what good is it to the state or to any individual to keep two people together who want to be apart?

"It's hypocrisy, nothing else.

"Our laws are not for the strong, but for the weak. And women should always be protected."

SOLDIER BODY WILL BE BURIED HERE SUNDAY

The body of William Alonza Mann, former member of the A. E. F., who was killed in action in France in October, 1918, will arrive here Sunday.

Funeral services under the auspices of the American legion will be held Sunday at the chapel of the Hines undertaking company. Definite details will be announced later.

William Mann, who was 23 years of age at the time of his death, went overseas in June of 1918, as a private in Company K, 106th Infantry. In September of that year he was captured by the Germans. He escaped from the German prison and met death on October 28.

In addition to a brother, C. M. Mann, he is survived by his father, Samuel T. Mann, a resident of this city.

OFFICERS RECOVER CAR.

Left on a side street, after the joy riders had finished a night of hilarity in another man's automobile, an Essex touring car belonging to Neal C. Powers, which was stolen Thursday evening from near the Olympic theater was found Friday morning by Officers Eyerly and Peterson.

PICKPOCKETS ACTIVE.

The theft of two watches, which were lifted from his pockets by a pickpocket as he stood with a small crowd in front of one of the local jewelry stores, was reported to the police Thursday by J. F. Riggs. One of the watches was a seven-jewel Elgin and the other a 15-jewel Watham, according to the report.

REFRIGERATOR KISS —DIVORCE!

DENVER, April 22.—Mrs. Anton Konrad, fifty-five, has grown "cold" toward him during the past few years, so Anton Konrad, seventy-one wants a divorce.

"I like affection," he told the court in his petition, "and she doesn't hug and kiss me like she did when we were first married."

Konrad was given a preliminary decree.

SEES THROUGH IT ALL.

BOSTON, April 2.—"Any girl appearing at the confirmation service in this church in what I consider immodest attire will be sent home."

With this ultimatum Rev. Thomas O'Neil of St. Monica's church, South Boston, wound up a vigorous sermon against "daring" modern fashions at a mass, largely attended by young women.

"The time has come to call a halt," he said. "The styles are not designed either for modesty or comfort, but to attract attention. Parents are to blame for the short skirt and sketchy, transparent waists that are so popular."

Jones Probing Honaker No. 1 Test Charges

Numerous consultations were held Friday at the office of District Attorney Jones with stockholders of the East Wichita Oil company and persons who purchased leases near the wildcat test of the company during the period in January when the test was reported to have struck an oil sand.

The investigations are being conducted in connection with the arrest Thursday of C. A. Williams, former driller of the test, who is held under $5,000 appearance bond, pending preliminary hearing which is set for April 30. Williams is charged with swindling over $50, the complaint being filed by a local resident, who claims that he purchased a lease near the test on the representation of Williams that the test which he was drilling had struck an oil sand.

No information was given out Friday by the district attorney's office regarding the investigation that is being made in connection with William's arrest. Several men and two women voluntarily came to the courthouse during the day, giving information regarding their connection with the drilling of the East Wichita test.

EXPERIENCE VS. SERMONS
—No sermon about saving, no matter how forceful or eloquent, can ever have the same weight as the experience of having money when you need it, or of being without it when the need is pressing. The lives and experiences of non-savers are the best sermons on the subject.
