House offering compromise deal

AUSTIN (AP) — House and Senate negotiators tackled one of their major areas of conflict today with the House offering a compromise package of $255.6 million in spending cuts for higher education.

Rep. James Rudd, D-Brownfield, chief House negotiator, said the compromise was a 9 percent reduction in 1987 spending, compared with the House original $320 million reduction, a 13 percent cut.

The Senate originally proposed $118 million in cuts for operating state colleges and universities.

"These cuts average 4 percent from our original positions and we think this is a fair and reasonable cut to take over the biennium," Rudd said.

The conference recessed until 3 p.m.

Early releases at question...

Prison levels feared

TYLER, Texas (AP) — The Texas Department of Corrections is reaching the bottom of the barrel in efforts to come up with inmates to parole in order to keep the state prison population from overflowing, a state lawyer said.

If the state releases prisoners early to comply with a prison reform mandate, the result could be an increase in crime, said Scott McCown, an assistant attorney general.

"We are reaching further and further down in the barrel," McCown said Monday in a hearing before U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice.

The hearing entered its second day today.

Justice, who set limits on prison population in an order settling a prison reform lawsuit, is considering whether the state can ease overcrowding in the TDC through a temporary emergency relief proposal.

Last week, Gov. Mark White announced that 300 minimum-security prisoners would be moved to the Fort Wolters National Guard Armory to keep prison population within 95 percent of capacity and avoid early releases of inmates.

"Without the beds, a significant number of parole decisions will be made," McCown said Monday. "Of that decision number, we know there will be a 33 percent failure rate and that, we know, is crime the state could forego."

Snyder to greet wagons

The second of two state-sanctioned Sesquicentennial Wagon Trains–one substantially smaller than its predecessor–will travel through Snyder Wednesday.

A Snyder welcome is planned, however, to include members of the Snyder High School band and the Scurry County Sheriff's Posse. A local fire truck will accompany the wagons also.

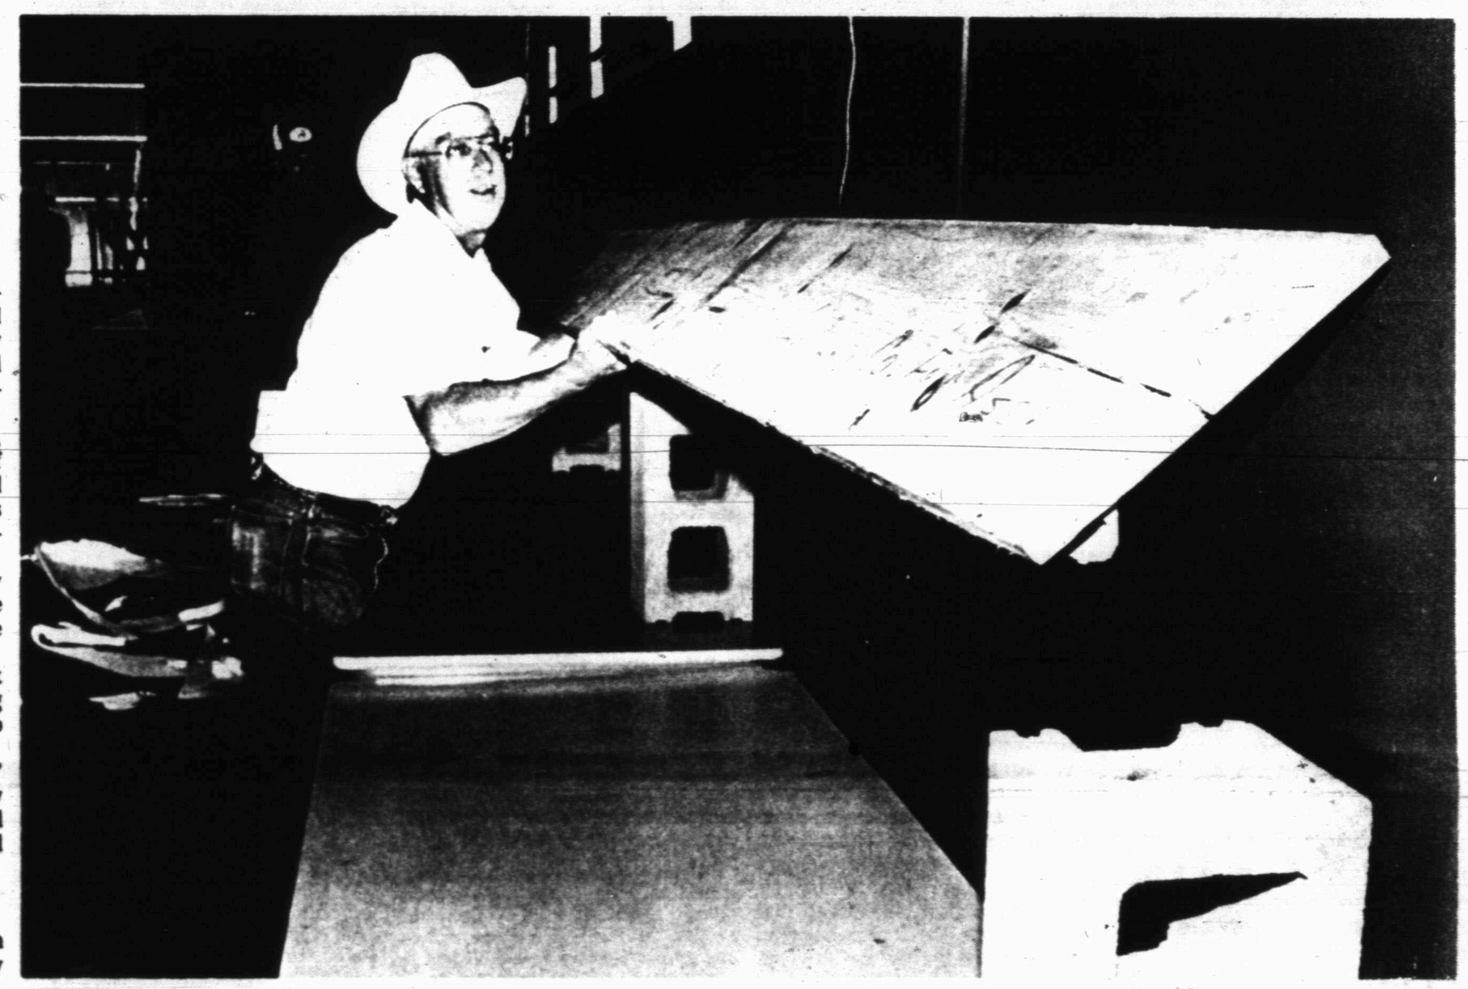

The train, which reportedly contains from three to five wagons, is scheduled to arrive here approximately at 4 p.m.

SHS band members are to meet it at the Varsity Square shopping center and will accompany it to the downtown square.

The wagon train members' destination will be the Scurry County Coliseum, where they will camp Wednesday night and all day Thursday. They are scheduled to leave Snyder Friday morning.

The campsite will coincide with the 21st annual Scurry County Fair, also due at the coliseum. Local fairgoers will be invited to visit with the wagon train

Boosters plan sale, barbecue

As part of Snyder High School Homecoming activities, the SHS All Sports Booster Club has set two fund raising activities for the week.

Wednesday, booster club members will be selling Snyder Tiger shirts and hats at Kmart during the store's regular business hours.

Memberships in the booster club will be sold also. These include $5 for individuals and $10 for families.

Also, Kmart will be selling its line of Tiger-related merchandise and will be donating a portion of their profits to the club.

The second fund raiser will be a barbecue meal to be served Friday from 5 until 7 p.m. prior to

Work continues for fair opening

Wednesday will mark the second day of preparation in the coliseum for the Scurry County Fair–a warmup for the 21st annual event which will open its doors to the public at noon Thursday.

Activity Wednesday will be marked also with a busy flow of entries in various fair competition categories.

From 1 until 8 p.m., entries will be accepted in the home economics division, agricultural products, educational and community exhibits, canned goods, open beef, dairy cattle and breeding sheep.

Container grown plants, part of the opening day's Flower Show, will be accepted also from 1 until 6 p.m. Wednesday.

The textiles division includes embroidery, cut work, crochet, knitting, quilts, spreads and comforts (to include antique), rugs, sewing and pillows.

The handicraft division is equally diverse to include such projects as ceramics, jewelry, leather, metal, decoupage, woodwork, paper mache, pottery, novelty kits, macrame, weaving, tole and decorative painting, batik, antiquing furnitue, foil art, furniture, artificial flowers and Christmas decorations.

Fair Kiddie Barnyard seeks pets for display

Children throughout the county are invited to bring their pets Wednesday to be included in the Kiddie Barnyard during the Scurry County Fair.

Pets will be accepted from 3:30 to 9 p.m. in the ag annex. Mary Langford, who is spearheading the effort, noted that children should also bring sufficient food for the animal for the fair's four-day run. "We will feed them and make sure they have water," she said.

At 9 a.m. Thursday, the animals will be judged by category by a panel of out-of-town judges with blue, red, white and "best of show" ribbons to be awarded.

"As the children bring in their exhibits, we will take a picture of them," Langford added. "We will place the child's picture on the cage so that they can show their friends that the animal is really theirs."

A variety of activities are scheduled in the Kiddie Barnyard this year including a treasure hunt for toddlers up to five years old. Participants will search for $25 to be hidden in sand. The event is scheduled for the fair's duration.

Also set is the annual "Fly or Fry" chicken flying contest scheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

At 10 a.m. Saturday, children can enjoy a pedal tractor pull. Langford added that efforts to host an adult tricycle race following the tractor pull are also underway.

A goldfish tank for young children is also scheduled. "If a youngster catches a goldfish, he can take it home for a quarter," Langford said. "And we aren't using hooks."

Building estimate to be half of 1985

With only one month remaining in the city's fiscal year, new construction in Snyder is apparently going to equal approximately one-half of the totals experienced here during 1984-85.

The city's fiscal year begins Oct. 1, and through August the local building estimate totals some $3.5 million compared to $6.6 million one year ago.

The exact figures are $3,541,722 and $6,633,425 respectively.

The month of August didn't greatly benefit the year's total, as building permits issued through the city equaled less than $141,000.

The largest single project was a $56,000 expense for a church building applied for by representatives of the Living Word Church.

The building permit was issued to Alfred Guzman. The structure is to comprise some 1,550 sq. ft. and be located at 3307 Ave. H.

The next largest permit total was for five mobile home move-ins at a total estimated value of $44,500.

One new residence was applied for also, a structure to be located at 214 26th St. and to be built by Robert Garcia.

For the year to date, there have been 21 new single family residences applied for here and 46 mobile home move-ins.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A sign of growing old is when there is too much room in the house and not enough in the medicine cabinet."

Monday started the runoff election for Snyder city council, and then in November there will be the general election for county and state posts.

It takes a thick hide to run for public office, and keeping a sense of humor always helps. We're reminded of a story of a friend of the late Will Rogers who was running for office, but his candidacy had not picked up much steam.

Will Rogers suggested to his friend that he become more flexible on the issues. He was urged to broaden his base.

The potential office holder resisted. "The voters will have to take me as I am," he said adamantly. "I'm not going to try to please everybody."

"I didn't say everybody," Rogers corrected. "Just enough to get elected."

Once elected, a person has to work on humility. A lot of times, people tell an office holder what they think the office holder wants to hear.

When Harry Truman became president of the United States, House Speaker Sam Rayburn offered the president this bit of advice: "From here on out you're going to have lots of people around you. They'll try to put a wall around you and cut you off from any ideas but theirs.

Concluded the Speaker, "They'll tell you what a great man you are, Harry. But you and I both know you ain't."

Did you hear about the Snyder couple who are looking for a new baby sitter?

The one they've had for the past eight years has been called to Washington–as an expert in anti-terrorism.

Ask Us

Q. — How high has Lake Thomas risen as a result of the rains here?

A. — In all, the lake rose 9.2 vertical feet, according to water district officials. This equals 25,000 acre ft. and pushes the lake's level to 2,228 ft. above sea level, 30 ft. below the spillway.

In Brief

Trade deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The deficit in the nation's broadest measure of foreign trade hit a record $34.7 billion during the April-June quarter, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department said the deficit in the country's current account, which includes trade in merchandise and services, climbed 2 percent above the $34.0 billion total from January through March, the previous record.

Local

SDN contest

The second week of the SDN Football Contest proved more difficult for the guessers than the first. Three misses took first prize, and four mistakes earned the second place money.

Nancy Roemisch of 2105 29th missed three of the sixteen games, and Mark McCormick of 3201 Houston missed four.

Another contest appears in today's issue.

Tax tabled

Ira School trustees tabled the 1986-87 tax rate Monday night during the regular September meeting. The tax rate will be set at a special called meeting on Sept. 24.

In other business, trustees amended the 1986-87 budget and officially accepted the resignation of Beverly Clements, school secretary. Theleca Wilson was then employed in her place.

Chamber due

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce will have its regular September meeting Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Directors will gather at the chamber office.

Blood today

Individuals may donate blood Tuesday from 1 until 8 p.m. at the community-wide drive being conducted at the Senior Citizens Center.

Tuesday's drive will feature an expanded list of local firms which donate merchandise for donors. In addition, a "friendly competition" between Snyder's financial institutions is part of the effort.

Weather

Snyder Temperatures: High Monday, 88 degrees; low, 66 degrees; reading at 7 a.m. Tuesday, 68 degrees; no precipitation; total precipitation for 1986 to date, 21.02 inches.

Snyder Area Forecast: Tonight: partly cloudy with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. Low in the upper 60s. Light southeast wind.

Reagan's mandatory drug tests draw immediate fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan's proposal to mandate drug testing for some federal employees as the cornerstone of an attack on drug abuse is meeting immediate resistance from members of Congress, unions and civil libertarians.

"This is the federal government's way of just saying 'no' to drugs," Reagan said Monday in signing an executive order requiring urine and blood test for federal employees in "sensitive positions" and calling for a 40 percent increase in government spending on drug abuse.

More than half of the new money, $500 million, would go to increased law enforcement efforts to combat drug trafficking. But the major thrust of Reagan's proposal — and most controversial — is to use the federal work force to, in the words of a White House statement, "set an example for all employers to provide drug-free work places."

The proposal met immediate opposition on Capitol Hill, where the House last week passed by a 392-16 vote a bill to use the military and increase federal spending on the drug problem by $6 billion over five years.

Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger, in an interview Monday, labeled as "pretty absurd" the House directive ordering Reagan to send military forces to U.S. borders to help stop drug smuggling.

"We've always in our country, quite properly, said the military shouldn't engage in domestic law enforcement," Weinberger said. "The time that would be diverted into this is enormous. You would have to have commanders and various witnesses testifying in court in thousands of cases, and those things are never over quickly."

While the House bill called for a military role to stem the supply of drugs, it carefully avoided the issue of mandatory testing as a means of decreasing the demand for drugs.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee on civil and constitutional rights, said Monday he is confident Reagan's order of mandatory testing will be held unconstitutional in court.

Convicted spy may not get plea bargain

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government might still abandon a plea bargain agreement with admitted spy John A. Walker despite public statements by Justice Department officials to the contrary, Defense Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger says.

Weinberger, in an interview Monday, said the government's agreement to request a life sentence for Walker hinged on his complete disclosure of the activities of his spy ring.

"There have been some indications that he has been less than forthcoming on some things that we believe he promised to be forthcoming on," Weinberger said.

The future of the agreement "depends on John Walker," he continued.

"If John Walker shows deception in all of his disclosures that he has agreed to make, that would end the transaction. ... If he violates that at any time, why that agreement is off and we're back to the fullest possible punishment that can be administered."

Weinberger met for about 35 minutes Monday with correspondents from The Associated Press and other wire services. He addressed a number of other topics, saying:

—A House bill that would direct the armed forces to attempt to seal the nation's borders against drug smugglers is "pretty absurd." The desire is understandable, but the order represents a dangerous misuse of military personnel, he said.

—He doubts a French decision to require visas from American visitors will help reduce terrorist attacks, but France should be applauded for its efforts to attack terrorism.

"Any more aggressive policy against terrorism is always welcomed. It's a good indication of the seriousness with which they're taking the whole problem."

—The weekend bombing at the airport in Seoul, South Korea, was an "outrageous act" and although there is no proof, he suspects North Korea was behind it.

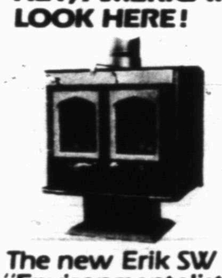

—And it is clear the government of Philippines President Corazon Aquino requires additional economic and military assistance from the United States, but that Mrs. Aquino will have to help the Reagan administration convince Congress to approve such aid.

Weinberger's remarks on the Walker case were somewhat surprising because a Justice Department spokesman announced last week that Walker's plea bargain would be heeded by the government, even though Walker had flunked recent lie-detector tests.

The spokesman, John Russell, said Monday he would not discuss Weinberger's remarks but that he stood by his earlier statement.

Heart symptoms lead to worry

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — In the year before my husband had a heart attack, he became more difficult to live with. It was almost as if he became a different person. (His heart attack was caused by blocked arteries.) A woman whose husband was in the coronary-care unit at the same time said her husband also went through a personality change before his heart attack. Does this make any sense to you?

DEAR READER — In the months before a heart attack, patients with coronary atherosclerosis (blocked arteries) may experience a variety of warning symptoms, such as shortness of breath, recurring chest pressure and occasional chest pain. As far as I know, personality changes are not common. However, a patient may worry that these early symptoms might reflect heart disease, and therefore may become fearful, grouchy and impatient.

It's more likely that your husband's personality change was caused by factors other than blocked arteries.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Three years ago, due to a cancerous papilloma, my daughter, 20, had a modified radical mastectomy. All lymph nodes were clear and she is very well. The surgeon checks her, but does not do any X-rays or tests. Is this adequate? Also, will it harm her to have children?

DEAR READER — I believe that your daughter should have a periodic mammogram of the remaining breast in addition to the usual routine medical examinations. I am not aware of any studies showing that pregnancy should be avoided by women who have had breast papilloma. Papilloma tumors are usually benign, so your daughter may want to double-check the accuracy of the first diagnosis by requesting a pathological review of the original growth.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What are some of the problems associated with Hashimoto's thyroiditis? Once treatment is started, how long is it before relief is felt?

DEAR READER — Hashimoto's thyroiditis is an unusual form of thyroid malfunction. Experts now believe that patients with this condition develop an allergy to their own thyroid glands, which are attacked by the body's immune system. Thyroid deficiency results.

In some people, the disease is associated with other autoimmune (self-allergy) disorders, such as pernicious anemia, Sjogren's syndrome and lupus. The diagnosis is established by blood tests that show thyroid underactivity and the presence of thyroid antibodies. Treatment consists of administering thyroid hormone to overcome the deficiency. Improvement usually occurs within weeks of hormone replacement.

Like thyroid deficiency from other causes, Hashimoto's thyroiditis causes fatigue, menstrual irregularities, coarsening of the skin, intolerance to cold weather, hair loss and constipation. If left untreated, the disease can produce heart disease and a general physical deterioration.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report on ALZHEIMER'S DISEASE discusses symptoms, management and new studies of this tragic and irreversible disease. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to mention the title.

Unstable market creates havoc

HOUSTON (AP) — Every time the price of oil drops a dollar, Mexico loses $500 million on oil exports, a Mexican official said.

"Our income will be affected by $7 billion to $8 billion this year. That's a very heavy weight for Mexico. And that very much affects trade for Mexico," said Alfredo del Mazo, the country's minister of Energy, Mines and Parastatal Industries.

Woman Unsure Where to Go For Confidential AIDS Test

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1986 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am a 27-year-old woman engaged to marry a fine man. I just received a telephone call from the man I went with three years ago. We were lovers for nearly two years. He told me that he was advised by his doctor to inform me that he is bisexual, and had several male lovers during our relationship. He said he had been tested for AIDS and the results were positive! He told me not to panic — that it didn't mean he has AIDS; it means he has been exposed to the virus, and I should be tested.

Abby, I am terrified! I'm too embarrassed to ask my doctor for such a test. There are absolutely no secrets in that office, and I don't want anyone to know I requested a blood test for AIDS.

Must I tell my fiance? We have been intimate, and I suppose he should be tested, too. Please, please help me. I can't eat. I can't sleep. I am ...

TERRIFIED IN HOUSTON

DEAR TERRIFIED: Your fiance must be told, and you both should be tested. Please don't panic. It's true: A positive result does not mean you have AIDS; it means you have been exposed to the virus and you could transmit it through unsafe sex practices.

If you can't bring yourself to go to your physician, call your nearest gay and lesbian community services center and ask where you can get a blood test with the utmost of confidentiality. Good luck.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: After dating through four years of college, Betty and I are getting married in December. Both our families are thrilled, but there's a potential problem. Betty smokes at least a pack of cigarettes a day. She enjoys it and doesn't plan to quit anytime soon. But since my parents are very opposed to smoking, she's never smoked in their presence, so they have no idea that Betty smokes.

Now that we're engaged, however, I'm worried that they will eventually find out. We will be living near them and they will be visiting sooner or later and are bound to find out. Betty has even suggested that she may as well smoke in front of them now since they'll learn the truth soon anyway.

She has a point, but I know it would break my parents' hearts to see her light a cigarette. On the other hand, I won't be able to tell my wife she can't smoke in her own home. Help!

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR CAUGHT: For you and Betty to hide from your parents the fact that she smokes is childish. As for smoking in your own home, smokers with good manners refrain from smoking in the presence of those who find it offensive, regardless of where they are.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Mary (not her real name) and I have been living together for 10 years. I'm on friendly terms with her parents. Last month they invited us to their 40th wedding anniversary dinner to be held at a fancy place. They said all the men would have to wear suits and ties. Well, I don't even own a suit because I wear only jeans, so I went out and bought a suit. It set me back $128, which is a lot of money for me, considering I'll probably never wear the suit again.

Yesterday they told Mary they changed their plans, and instead of throwing the party, they decided to take a trip. I am steamed and think they should reimburse me for the suit. I would like your opinion. I hope you decide in my favor because I would like to show it to them.

STEAMED

DEAR STEAMED: Sorry, I don't agree with you. You never know what the future holds, so if another fancy occasion comes up, you'll be well suited.

Astro-Graph

By Bernice Bede Osol

Sept. 17, 1986

The secret to your success in the year ahead is to be as cooperative as possible with everyone with whom you have dealings. This means family members as well as social and business contacts.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Even after soliciting advice from others today, their suggestions aren't apt to register, and you'll proceed as you initially intended. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that will govern you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, PO Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Pay special attention to common-sense health routines today. Don't over-exert yourself to a point that you know is beyond your normal endurance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You might have a bit of a problem handling youngsters today, but it won't be nearly as much as you could have if you let outsiders butt in with their two cents' worth.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It's best that you and your mate decide early on laying down household rules today. After that, it's important that you each support the other.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Keep your ideas and concepts in proper perspective today. It's OK to think grandiose schemes, provided you don't leave out the essential details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) For safety's sake, give a bit more protection than usual to your prize possessions today. An unscrupulous individual might take a liking to something you value.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your judgment is sound today when it comes to things that affect you alone. However, when you extend yourself to make decisions for others, it's another matter.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Guard against tendencies today to anticipate more than you're entitled to. If you expect too much, you could be disappointed.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) For the sake of your image, don't wear out your welcome at a social gathering today. If you're one of the first on the scene, try to be one of the first to leave.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A person on whom you're relying today might not be there when you need him. The lesson to be learned is that the only one you can always count on is yourself.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be careful, when conversing with others today, that you don't introduce sticky issues that will place your listeners on the opposite side of the fence.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Caution is essential in every step of your financial dealings today. If you get a little careless, you could lose something you've already gained.

The case of the overlooked clue

South always took finesses with assurance, certain that his air of smooth confidence unnerved the opposition. He quickly played low from dummy on the opening diamond lead. East won the queen and returned a spade. Again declarer played low, and West's king won. So far declarer was not playing in great luck. When a spade was returned, he won the queen and played another spade back to his ace, drawing trumps. Now came a heart toward dummy. West played low and the king won. That was better. Another heart was taken by West's jack. But when West tried to cash the heart ace, declarer ruffed. He now crisply played a diamond to dummy's jack. When that held, declarer was home if he simply guessed the location of the club queen. Not wishing to seem the slightest bit unsure of himself, South quickly played a club to the ace and back to the jack, losing to the queen.

"Well," he lamented, "I needed to be lucky at the finish to catch the heart ace, diamond king and club queen all in the right hand."

"Maybe so," snapped North, "but after West had played the king of spades and the jack and ace of hearts, and was known to hold the king of diamonds, wouldn't it seem a little strange for him to also hold the club queen and not have opened the bidding as the dealer?" And the confidence that South so prided himself upon went the same way as the four-spade contract — down.

Montana surgery successful but QB's future is uncertain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - The back surgery undergone by San Francisco 49ers quarterback Joe Montana should reduce the chance of future problems, said a team spokeswoman. But it's still not known whether the two-time Super Bowl champ will be able to play again.

Experts say such an operation involves several days in the hospital, six or eight weeks of recuperation and orders not to lift anything heavy for at least three months.

"We understand it was a successful operation," said Coach Bill Walsh. "So we're optimistic that he will be back in football."

The surgery on Monday at St. Mary's Hospital involved widening the spinal canal and removing a spinal disc, said team spokeswoman Shelley Wollman.

Dr. Robert Gamburd, a back specialist with the team, said the surgery was needed because Montana's fifth lumbar disc had been damaged and had been pressing on a nerve. He said there was some urgency in operating now so that Montana wouldn't suffer lasting nerve damage.

On Sunday, the team's orthopedic specialist, Dr. Michael Dillingham, said of the $1 million-a-year player, "There is a chance he won't play football again. I think there is a general consensus that Joe will play again, but there is also the risk that even if the surgery is successful, it won't relieve that pain."

Gamburd said Montana's recovery period will last from three to six months. "The success rate in somebody returning to a normal life is 90 percent," he said. "Returning to play professional football is in a different league," he said.

Montana, 30, has a history of back pain. He aggrevated the problem throwing a pass during the 49ers' season-opening 31-7 victory over Tampa Bay, a game in which he completed 32 of 46 passes for 356 yards.

With Montana on the sidelines, the 49ers lost on Sunday, 16-13, to the Los Angeles Rams with former Rams' backup quarterback Jeff Kemp at the helm.

Before Sunday, Montana had missed just two games in his career due to injuries, both of them relatively minor.

Berndt trying to plug leaks in Owl program

HOUSTON (AP) - New Rice University football coach Jerry Berndt knows he'll have problems in rebuilding the Owls into a competitive football program.

He just hasn't identified all the problems.

"Because we've been down for so long, there are going to be a lot more problems," Berndt said Monday, explaining Saturday's 45-3 loss to Southern Methodist.

"There are problems out there that haven't been addressed yet, things that I don't even know about that will have to be dealt with.

The Owls crumbled in the first half against the Mustangs and lost for the first time under Berndt. The Owls defeated Lamar 28-14 in their season opener Sept. 6.

"There may be problems of attitude, of not totally understanding what we're trying to do or a lack of total belief that we can get it done," Berndt said. "I just don't know yet."

Berndt accepted the Rice job with eyes open after studying game film over the past three years of Rice games.

"I watched films of Rice's last three seasons and there were times when they gave up," Berndt said. "I think some of our guys got the 'oh, no, syndrome' when we got behind 14-0 and that shouldn't make a bit of difference.

"I don't know what the problem is. When we were down 14-0 that shouldn't have been a problem. We were still in the game but 35-0 was a different story."

The Owls will use the open date to prepare for a non-confernce game Sept. 27 in Rice Stadium against Southwest Texas State.

They returned to workouts today and Berndt hoped to find his team in a solemn mood.

"I hope our staff has a tough time getting our kids into the workout because that will tell me how much they hated to lose that," Berndt said. "I'll be a little concerned if we're too resilient."

"It was a total breakdown on our part for a blowout like Saturday to occur," Berndt said. "Of the 69 offensive plays, we had only about a dozen where our young men did what they were supposed to do.

"It was the same on defense. We had people who had run plays correctly all season, do them wrong Saturday."

Rice stopped the Mustangs on turnovers on SMU's first two drives before the visitors burst to a 35-0 lead.

Berndt said he planned some personnel changes prior to Rice's next game.

"We're going to look at the film six or seven times and then decide," Berndt said. "Then we'll probably move some people up and push some others down."

The love affair - if there ever was one - with Wally Manns is over. The 6-6 player, who at one time was listed as one of the top 30 junior college players in the United States, is gone from Western Texas.

"We didn't feel like he was mentally ready to be in school and play basketball for us," was about all Coach Phil Spradling wanted to say on the subject.

Manns wouldn't have been eligible to play for the Westerners until January. After storming on to the juco basketball scene by averaging double figures in points and rebounds last year, he sat out the second half of the season after failing to make his grades. This time, the issue is over almost before it began. No one has to worry if Manns will make his grades again.

Meanwhile, Spradling is quietly building what appears to be a pretty solid team. He'll return all-conference guard Alvin Lee, who lead the team in scoring last year, as well as John Lewis. A couple of other players who didn't see much action, Amos Jones and Terry Ridgeway, are back. Joining the team as a sophomore also is Kevin Kendrick.

"I think we're going to have to depend a lot on our sophomore guards - Alvin Lee, John Lewis, and Kevin Kendrick," said Spradling. "We're kind of young, you know, we have mostly freshmen. But I think the guards we have coming back are going to show solid leadership to the rest of the guys. I think having experienced guards is much better than having experienced players inside and inexperienced guards because the game is so fast-paced in this league and your guards control the ball."

The freshmen offer some good height. Harvey Marshman, from Richmond, Va., is 6-8 and Igor Gojanovic, a product of Switzerland, is 6-7. Marshman has looked very promising inside and Gojanovic is reputedly one of Switzerland's top players.

"He could have gone to a major college but it's best for him to ease into American basketball at the junior college level. He's a real smart kid. I think he'll be a great help to us," said Spradling.

Other members of the squad include 6-6 freshmen Gerald Wells of El Paso and Tom Marcussen of Australia, 6-5 freshmen Darrell Nelson of Richmond, Va. and Greg Dudgeon of Australia, 6-2 Cedric Hannah of Los Angeles, 5-9 Willie Greathouse of Snyder and 5-11 Tagzan Goff of Tulsa.

The Westerners work out each day from 3:30 p.m. until 6 p.m. in the college gym. Basketball fans are welcome to attend workouts.

Denver Broncos stop Steelers at Riverfront

PITTSBURGH (AP) - The Denver Broncos are discovering that help can sometimes come from the most unlikely sources.

Like the Pittsburgh Steelers' fans.

The Broncos improved their record to 2-0 Monday night by beating the Steelers 21-10 in a game that may have turned on a touchdown the crowd helped them get.

It came late in the third quarter with Denver holding a 7-3 lead. But Pittsburgh was coming on - Gary Anderson had just kicked a 42-yard field goal to give the Steelers their first points in seven quarters dating back to last season, and the always noisy crowd was aroused.

On a third down and one from the Pittsburgh 34, quarterback John Elway faked to Sammy Winder who dove high into the line. Then Elway, who threw for 243 yards and three touchdowns, faded back, hiding the ball on his hip, holding it ... holding it ... holding it ... then flicking it finally over the defense to a wide open Steve Sewell who scooted into the end zone.

"Steve was covered all the way," Elway said later, "and I was about to look for my secondary receiver. Then I heard the crowd roar and the defensive back seemed to let up and Steve was all alone."

"I knew the guy was with me," Sewell said of Harvey Clayton, the Pittsburgh cornerback who was covering him. "But as I looked back, I saw a Pittsburgh guy throw up his hands like he had stopped Sammy and the crowd roared and then I was all alone. All I had to do was wait for the ball come down."

The Pittsburgh loss was the Steelers' second straight following a 7-9 1985, their first losing season in 15 years.

Denver is 2-0.

Lady Tigers battle Big Spring tonight

BIG SPRING – Coach Vicki Nelms' Lady Tigers go against the new kid on the block here tonight.

The Tigers are scheduled against District 2-4A newcomer Big Spring in the final match of a three-contest slate, at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

A freshman match opens the show at 5 p.m. Junior varsity teams play at 6:30 p.m.

Snyder and Big Spring have frequently played each other over the years but few matches have been as important as the one tonight. Snyder is 2-1 in district volleyball action and needs a victory to stay in contention for a second straight title.

Big Spring, 0-3, moved into 2-4A this season after dropping down from Class 5A last season.

Pecos leads the district with a 3-0 record. San Angelo Lake View is 3-1 and Lamesa is 2-1.

Boone run caps California victory over White Sox, 6-5

by The Associated Press

Perhaps Bob Boone will never be known as "Lightning" or "Speedy," but how many of his California Angels teammates can say they scored from second base on a fly ball?

"We'll never hear the end of it," California Manager Gene Mauch said after his 38-year-old catcher did just that in the Angels' 6-5 victory Monday night over the Chicago White Sox. "I've been telling Boone, to keep thinking he can act like a kid, and he keeps trying to show me up."

Boone's dash - on a deep fly to Chicago left fielder John Cangelosi - highlighted a five-run seventh inning the Angels rode to a victory that reduced to 11 their magic number for clinching the American League West title.

When asked why he ran on Ruppert Jones' fly, which already had scored Dick Schofield from third, Boone shurgged and said, "I knew I couldn't walk home."

Elsewhere in the AL, it was New York 5, Baltimore 3; Cleveland 4, Minnesota 0; Toronto 5, Milwaukee 2, and Texas 6, Oakland 2.

Yankees 5, Orioles 3

Don Mattingly knew what to look for and what to do when he got it.

"When Don Aase gets behind in the count, you know you're going to get a fastball," said Mattingly, who hit a 2-1 pitch into the right-centerfield seats for a decisive three-run homer in the seventh inning.

The homer - on a pitch out of the strike zone - was his second in six at-bats this season against the Baltimore bullpen ace. He has four hits against Aase this season.

Dave Righetti finished up for his major-league leading 40th save. He has has converted 23 consecutive save opportunities.

Blue Jays 5, Brewers 2

Toronto's Willie Upshaw, with just 10 hits in his last 44 at-bats, knew it was time to make some changes.

"The changes I made (in his batting stance) felt good," said Upshaw, who went 3-for-4 and hit a decisive three-run homer in the fifth inning for Toronto.

Rookie left-hander John Cerutti, 9-3, pitched seven strong innings as the Blue Jays remained in a second-place tie with the Yankees. Both trail idle Boston by 8½ games in the East.

Indians 4, Twins 0

When Phil Niekro talks, fellow knuckleballers listen.

"Phil Niekro told me that what I have to do is start the game with command of just one of my knucklers," Tom Candiotti said after pitching a seven-hitter for Cleveland's fourth consecutive victory.

Niekro, 47 and a lifetime 311-game winner, has helped Candiotti, 29, master the knuckleball. Candiotti, 14-11, throws the floater at various speeds.

In pitching his third shutout, Candiotti tied Minnesota's Bert Blyleven for the league lead with 14 complete games.

Rangers 6, A's 2

There are times when a knuckleballer has no idea where his pitch is heading. It was one of those nights for Charlie Hough, whose first pitch of the game sailed six feet behind Oakland leadoff hitter Donnie Hill.

"At one point, I was even aiming at the hitters and hoping the ball would break over the plate," Hough explained.

But he hung on, pitching five innings to improve his record to 13-10. Dale Mohorcic pitched the last three innings for his seventh save.

Overeaters Anonymous adds 3rd weekly meeting

Overeaters' Anonymous, a program for out-of-control eating, announces plans to expand to a third weekly meeting. The new session will meet at 9:30 a.m. each Saturday morning, beginning this Saturday. The meetings are held at St. John's Church Parish Hall, 2214 42nd St. All are welcome. The meeting is free. Call Joyce at 573-7149 for more information.

This Saturday morning meeting is in addition to the 10 a.m. Monday and 4 p.m. Thursday weekly meetings. All are welcome to any or all of the meetings, said Jo, a spokesperson for the organization in Snyder.

"Overeaters Anonymous really appreciates the support the Snyder Daily News has given us by making our meetings known to the public," she said. "That's probably one of the bigger reasons we're growing."

Kellye Cash said among least liked

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss America says she has no idea why anyone would say she was the least-liked contestant in the pageant and denies that she traded on her famous relative's name.

Miss Florida Molly Pesce, a loser in Saturday's contest, said the winner, Kellye Cash of Tennessee, was unpopular and arrogant and won in part because she is the grandniece of country singer Johnny Cash and because the judges didn't appreciate feminism.

"Honey, between you and me, that girl was the least-liked girl around. ... She acted like she knew she was going to win," Ms. Pesce, who failed to place among the 10 finalists, told The Orlando Sentinel in a story published Monday.

"The judges were looking for a different type of girl than I am," she added. "They wanted a sweet kind of non-aggressive Southern belle. The judges apparently wanted country. All those girls in the top 10 were alike."

Miss Cash, contacted at her New York City hotel, said Miss Florida might have been quoted out of context.

"I do not think I was the least liked," said Miss Cash. "I made a lot of friends at the pageant. I don't know why or if she said that. I do not think my relation with my uncle had anything to do with my winning.

"It wasn't Johnny in the swimsuit who won, it was me," Miss Cash said.

The local visit is sponsored in part by Snyder's two Dairy Queens.

The train which will visit Snyder is the Lone Star Wagon Train. It left from Weatherford July 5 and is scheduled to travel through the central cities and towns of Texas through Nov. 28, ending in Austin.

It was to visit Big Spring Monday and to be in Vincent Tuesday.

Other area cities to be visited by the train include Colorado City, Roscoe and Sweetwater. From here, it will head back into Central and South Texas.

Abilene minister gave no clue to impending suicide

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — In his last sermon, the Rev. Dr. David Ray used humor to exhort churchgoers to attend an evening service.

"But if He tells you it's all right to stay home and watch TV, I want you to know I'm going to pray that your TV tube blows up," Ray told the congregation at South Side Baptist Church.

After they laughed, he added, "I did that in another city once and between 7 and 8 p.m. that night, the cable went out and no TV in town worked. You think the church wasn't packed Monday night?"

Those who heard the sermon Sunday morning said there was no indication of internal turmoil that would cause Ray to take his life a few hours later.

Friends said, however, that the 53-year-old evangelist had been depressed by the death of two close relatives in the past two weeks, and that he expressed dissatisfaction with his own preaching that morning.

"But it was a marvelous sermon. My kids (ages 5 and 10) even came home talking about it, and they're not always that attentive in 'big church,' " one distraught member said.

Ray, a former Hardin-Simmons University official who had been a fulltime evangelist since 1978, was found dead of a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the driveway of his parents' home near the Wylie community in south Abilene shortly after 4 p.m.

The body was found in the driveway near a mobile home that served as "traveling study" for Ray and his wife during their far-flung evangelism ministry. They moved the headquarters of his ministry in 1984 from Abilene to Ruidoso, N.M.

Justice of the Peace Clarence Collins ruled the death a suicide. He said Ray placed a 12-gauge shotgun under his chin and pulled the trigger.

Ray had opened a four-day revival Sunday morning and was scheduled to preach at the church again at 7 p.m.

The Rev. Dale Hill announced the death to a hushed congregation Sunday night, then led a brief meditation.

Ray was pastor at Trinity Baptist Church in Fort Worth from 1961 to 1965; Haltom Road Baptist Church, 1965-67; and First Baptist Church in Lubbock, 1967-72.

Ray was only 33 when he was called to become pastor of First Baptist Church of Lubbock, then the second largest congregation in the Southern Baptist Convention.

There were more than 5,000 additions to the church during his pastorate, but the "administrative and executive duties of a church of that size took their toll on David when his great love was preaching," said Dr. Elwin Skiles, chancellor of HSU and president when Ray was a member of the HSU staff.

Ray took a leave of absence to regain his health in 1971, but resigned the following year, officials in Lubbock said.

He is survived by his wife; one son, David Michael of Houston; two daughters, Janet (Mrs. Rick) Spurlock of Miamisburg, Ohio; and Kelle (Mrs. David) Vanderberg of Coppell, Tex.; one grandson, Joshua Spurlock; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Ray of Wylie.

His only sister, Joyce Saur, died Sept. 2 — the day before Ray's 53rd birthday — in Irving after an illness of 12 years, and his aunt, Bessie M. Jackson, was buried Saturday in Coleman.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Pioneer Drive Baptist Church in Abilene.

Fair activities lead to opening

The general ag exhibits are open to "any and all" agricultural products grown in Scurry County. General categories include feed grains, cotton, sheaf grains for forage, grains and seeds, fruits, vegetables and nuts.

In the canned goods competition, the fair events will include pickles and relishes, canned fruit, preserves and jellies and canned vegetables.

Items entered may not be more than one year old.

Entries will be accepted also Wednesday for the first of the show animal competitions. Due in the coliseum are open beef and dairy cattle plus breeding sheep.

The judging for both divisions will take place Thursday with only purebred classes offered.

In the educational exibit categories, the classes include FFA, 4-H and scouting; FHA, extension homemaker clubs and civic organizations.

The community exhibits are to be designed to "tell a story" and must contain at least 10 different agriculture products.

The coliseum doors will open Wednesday at 8 a.m. for commercial exhibit construction also.

The coliseum and its adjacent ag annex will be open until 10 p.m. Wednesday to allow for final preparation prior to Thursday's official opening of the fair.

LISA DIANE HAWES

Locals' daughter begins study

WEATHERFORD, Okla.–Lisa Diane Hawes of Snyder has been accepted and is enrolled in her first semester in the Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Pharmacy. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hawes of Snyder.

Following the completion of 60 semester hours of pre-pharmacy courses, a student is eligible to make application to the Southwestern Pharmacy School.

The Admissions Committee selects students for admission to the SWOSU School of Pharmacy, based on such factors as the student's grade point average, academic consistency, ACT or SAT scores, character references, physical and emotional health and personal objectives and motivation.

Inmates should serve ⅓ of term

AUSTIN (AP) — Saying the state is being dishonest by requiring criminals to serve a fraction of their prison sentences, a state lawmaker wants reform of parole laws to require inmates to serve at least one-third of their time.

Rep. Dan Morales said his survey of state parole laws indicates that Texas has the most liberal good-conduct rules in the nation, allowing too many prisoners to spend too little time behind bars.

"The problem is, we in state government simply have not been honest with regard to the true situation," Morales told a news conference Monday.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

PERFECT SCORE $100.00

FIRST PRIZE $12.50

SECOND PRIZE $5.00

Entries Must Be In By NOON FRIDAY

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. On the entry blank at the bottom of the page, fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the business firm on the entry blank. Then clip out the entry blank and send it to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, SNYDER DAILY NEWS, BOX 949, or bring your entry by the News Office. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

To avoid splitting the prize money a TIE-BREAKER slot will be provided on each entry blank. Pick the score for that game only and in case of a tie the one who picks the winner and the nearest number of total points will receive the prize money. The same formula will apply to second prize winners. In case of a tie for a perfect score, the same formula would apply.

There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted for any one person. More than one will disqualify all the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing except in the case of the tie-breaker. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the story in next Tuesday's SDN. Employees of the Snyder Daily News and their families are not eligible to enter.
