OKLAHOMA CITY FLOODED

LIGHTNING AND WIND DESTROY WIRES NEAR HERE

Service to Vernon and To Oklahoma Points Is Interrupted

RAIN IS VERY LIGHT

Storm Spends Its Force In Wichita Falls Proper

Telephone and telegraph wires north and west of this city suffered considerably from the high winds and lightning accompanying Monday night's storm, according to reports in the local office here.

It was reported that about half the poles between here and Vernon were down and that there was also interruption in the service to Oklahoma City, Lawton, Grandfield, Devol and other northern points.

Lightning Damage

The wind was responsible for some of the loss, although lightning caused most of the trouble. Wires and fuses were burned out in a number of places by the electrical disturbance playing around the poles.

All damage would be repaired by this morning, telephone company officials declared.

Blow Hardest Here.

It is reported here that this city saw the worst of what proved to be a mild disturbance. The storm came up about Electra and blew itself out after passing over Henrietta.

Its effects were not even felt in Dallas and Fort Worth, it was declared.

A threatened storm that caused considerable uneasiness here but that did little or no actual damage, played about Wichita Falls Monday night, bringing a brilliant electrical display, some rain and high winds. The rain did little other than lay the dust, and although lighting crackled overhead incessantly for several hours, it failed to hit anything. Burkburnett and Olney also felt the heavy wind.

Coming up out of the north about 8 o'clock, a heavy wind brought clouds of dust down from the river. This subsided later and a brief and none too healthy fall of rain followed. The electrical disturbance continued for some time after the rain had left, eventually passing on to the south.

So far as could be learned last night, the storm proved a threat only in all the surrounding territory and, aside from disturbing the peace of mind of the more apprehensive, could not be charged with any damage.

MAYOR AND KIDS IN FIGHT AFTER CHURCH IS ROCKED

FREDERICK, Okla., May 28.—Mayor E. U. Gamblin Monday fired the first shots in what promises to develop into a kid war, with the mayor and property-owning citizens on one side and the youngsters who can't resist the temptation of a window and a brick on the other.

For several days gangs of small boys have been committing depredations with stones on public buildings, notably the Dahlia Avenue Baptist church, in process of construction. This afternoon the mayor in a formal statement declared war.

$12,000 LOSS IN LAKE ROAD FIRE

Grocery and Drug Store Burn When Stove Starts Blaze

Fire, believed to have started from an overheated gas stove, completely destroyed the Wilson grocery and Lake Drive Pharmacy in the 2100 block on Grant street at 10 o'clock Monday night. A long delay in turning in the alarm, and the inability of the fire department to reach a fire plug when the apparatus was brought to the scene was responsible for the loss.

Estimates last night placed the property damage at between $10,000 and $12,000.

Home Destroyed

Both businesses were housed in the same frame structure. The grocery was operated by A. L. Wilson, who lived with his family in the rear of the store, and the drug store was owned by J. F. Varby. These men declared that a gas stove had been left burning in the grocery last night and that the blaze, in all probability, originated from this. Neighbors told firemen that when they peered through the windows, when the flames were first noticed, the wall behind the stove was in flames.

Alarm Delayed

The alarm was turned in by H. B. Lindsey, 3120 Buchanan, who ran from his home to the scene, and then finding that the fire department had not been summoned, ran back again to reach a telephone.

When firemen arrived, flames were curling over the fire plug on the sidewalk in front of the store. A pumper truck was run up in an effort to hook on to the plug, but the fire, fanned by strong winds, nearly enveloped it and it was necessary to move out of court destruction of the machine.

Before hose lends could be strung to a distant plug, the building was practically consumed.

Despite an ominous electrical display overhead and a threatened deluge of rain, a large crowd gathered to watch firemen combat the blaze.

DAYTON, Ohio, May 28.—Dayton welcomed "her boys" home tonight.

Last seen when they were winging their way across the continent aboard the giant monoplane T-2, a few weeks ago, pushing their way eastward in a successful attempt to establish new records, Lieut. Oakley G. Kelley and John A. MacReady, on their return tonight were honored guests at a banquet tendered by citizens of Dayton.

Flying the monoplane from San Diego to Washington in short laps, the visitors landed at 8:15 o'clock tonight, coming to Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.

A few minutes after the landing the two officers walked into Memorial Hall and the crowd assembled to honor them and other fliers from McCook and Wilbur Wright fields, with a cheer.

All city offices were closed in Dayton this afternoon in honor of the fliers. Twenty-two aviators from McCook and Wilbur Wright fields took part during the afternoon in the greatest flying circus ever held over Dayton to celebrate the return of the two lieutenants. Races, stunt flying, and every other type of flying known to American aviation, thrilled those who watched the exhibition, though the men in whose honor the circus was given were miles away, piloting the monoplane toward Dayton from Fort Scott.

BILLBOARD TAX LOSES

Associated Press Dispatch

AUSTIN, May 28.—The house today passed finally one major revenue bill, engrossed two others and killed a fourth. The Lackey billboard tax bill went down to defeat when the lower branch refused, 42 to 56, to reconsider its action last week in striking the enacting clause from the measure. The Patman bill, levying a gross receipts tax on electric light, express and other companies was passed, 71 to 29.

Passage of the Patman bill was on suspension of rules after a brief discussion. The committee amendment striking telephone companies from provisions of the act was adopted, in view of a separate bill covering such firms. The tax as passed is placed at 2½ per cent.

Theater Bill Engrossed

Two bills by Representative Baldwin, providing for an occupation tax on theatrical firms and on circuses, were engrossed after several attempts to amend them and to lower the tax. The theatrical tax is based on the size of the town and charge, while the circus tax depends on the number of railroad cars employed and the nights exhibited.

The Bonham-Price bill, proposing reduction of $60,000 appropriation for flood control and reclamation work to $300,000 was debated, and was pending business when adjournment was taken.

School Bill Deferred

After debating at length, a resolution opposing reduction of school appropriations, it was referred to the educational committee without action.

CUTTING IN ON CLOSEUPS'

The Movies by Josephine Fisk

OLYMPIC—Anita Stewart in "Rose of the Sea."
STRAND—Florence Vidor in "Conquering the Woman."
EMPRESS—Charlie Chaplin in "Tillie's Punctured Romance."
MAJESTIC—D. W. Griffith's "Birth of a Nation."
GEM—Marguerite Courtot in "Outlaw of the Sea."

CHARLIE CHAPLIN SCORES AS USUAL—

Charlie Chaplin is back again, this time in "Tillie's Punctured Romance" being shown at the Empress theatre this week. He is better than ever, in one of the funniest pictures he has ever appeared in.

Charlie as a heart-breaker is good. In fact he is so good that he punctures Tillie's romance—then makes up for it by clearing things immediately. The picture is so funny that you are laughing nearly all the time, and so full of exciting incidents that everyone from 7 to 70 will want to see it. It will be at the Empress today.

SOMETHING NEW IN COWBOY STUFF—

He was just a western cowboy like we see clanking spurs on the streets every day, and was more accustomed to bucking broncs that rolling steamers, but when he struck oil and became rich he left his ranch and started on a trip to see the world.

All went well until he hit the southern coast of France. Then all went wrong. He was standing on the deck of the schooner probably wishing for a sight of Texas prarie when he saw a girl floundering, seemingly in the need of assistance in the bay off the southern coast of France. Maybe the fact that she was beautiful gave him added speed as he made a perfect dive over the side of the ship.

Then imagine his astonishment when he dragged the girl on board and she broke loose from his grasp.

"What do you men by this outrage, you fool," she shouted, "you unspeakable idiot!"

Then she dove over the side of the schooner.

But they met again, and fate threw them into some peculiar relations until—well it is all in "Conquering the Woman" being shown at the Strand this week. And it's a good show too.

"BIRTH OF NATION" IS STILL GREAT—

Again D. W. Griffith's famous production "The Birth of a Nation" is appearing in Wichita Falls, due chiefly to the fact that it drew capacity crowds on former appearances here. The production is being shown at the Majestic theatre and already large audiences are attending each showing.

As long as there is a memory of the civil war, as long as there is a memory of the losing cause of the South, as long as there is a memory of the sickening period of reconstruction following the civil war—just that long will the "Birth of a Nation" draw a large audience at each showing.

Probably never in his career has Henry B. Walthall played in such a magnetic picture, and probably has he ever given such a true representation of his part in a picture as he does when he plays the part of the Little Colonel in the "Birth of a Nation." It is also in this picture that the deceased Wallace Reid began his climb to fame. Wallace Reid takes a minor part in the picture but it is here that his ability is first recognized.

ZIPPY SEA PICTURE GETS OVER GOOD—

"Rose of the Sea" at the Olympic is a good picture. And Rose, the girl of the sea, is pretty. In fact she is so pretty that when she leaves the waves of the ocean to hit the breakers of New York society life she causes more than one wreck in the lives of the young men of the set she is thrown with.

She was accustomed to storms on the ocean where she lived with the old salt who had adopted her when she was wrecked on a far away isle when only a few years of age, but when she found herself in love with a handsome young spendthrift in the big city she was at a loss. But her beauty and nerve carried her through, although she came in contact with a crowd of society gamblers who attempted to ruin her, and in the end she was able to bring about a happy settlement of all the tangled affairs of her sweetheart.

Anita Stewart plays the part of Rose, in "Rose of the Sea" which is being shown at the Olympic, with Rudolph Holding playing opposite.

officials predicted the stream would go higher here.

A rise of two feet was reported coming down the river from the northwest. The crest is expected to reach here tomorrow morning. Unless flood waters fall rapidly within the next 48 hours, it would be necessary to use boats to bring provisions to the city from Packing Town, where stock yards and packing houses are located.

Bridges Washed Out.

Early in the day, the swollen river broke over the south Robinson street levee and tonight flood waters covered that thoroughfare for more than a mile from Poplar street north almost to Wheeler Park.

From that point, the fartherest southern point that marks the river's course through the city, the flood waters had completely inundated the lowlands to the northeast, flowing over bridges or washing them away, rising high above the window ledges of many homes and forcing every resident of the Walnut Grove section to flee.

Chairs, tables and other household furnishings were swept through the streets of Walnut Grove in a swirling muddy current. Several houses and stores were overturned as the rush of the water washed away foundations.

To the west the waters had broken over the levee guarding Wheeler Park. Every foot of that big playground was covered.

Many of the zoo animals had to be left in the cages. It is believed that many have been drowned.

Western league baseball park was a muddy lake. The water had risen through the lower sections of the grandstands.

Exchange avenue, traffic artery to Packing Town, was under water for more than a mile.

Gas Line Breaks

The Capitol Hill section to the south was virtually cut off from the rest of the city. Early tonight the gas feed line that furnishes fuel to Capitol Hill broke at the South Robinson street bridge.

A heavy rain, reaching almost the proportions of a cloud burst, descended on the city during the day. A fall of 1.67 inches was recorded within an hour.

A 48-hour limit on all livestock shipments was announced tonight by stockyards officials.

LEVEES HOLDING

PINE BLUFF, May 28.—Levees surrounding Southeast Arkansas plantations below Pine Bluff were successfully resisting the flood tonight.

With a gauge of 24.4 feet this morning and with a rise of but two inches during the day, the crest of the high water in the Arkansas river was passing Pine Bluff tonight. It is believed that by morning the water here will begin falling and the worst of the situation will be over.

FREE AIR RIDES FOR SOME

D. Easley Waggoner, vice president and general manager of the United Fidelity Life Insurance company of Dallas, and A. R. Epperson, field supervisor, will go as passengers in the airplane which the company is sending to Wichita Falls and some of the other important cities of west Texas, during the week of May 27-June 2.

The plane used is the one which the company uses in paying death losses, this method of hurrying the payment of death claims being one of numerous unusual practices originated by officials of the company. The plane is a late model Curtiss machine of standard type and construction. The purpose of the west Texas trip, according to Mr. Waggoner, is merely to allow company officials to become better acquainted with their policy holders. It was planned as one detail of the company's campaign to keep in close touch with and to understand the needs of policy holders.

Captain Epperson and Mr. Waggoner intend to take off from Love Field in Dallas Wednesday morning, and will make their first stop at Wichita Falls, where they expect to arrive in about two hours after leaving Dallas, barring accidents and unfavorable weather conditions. Approximately a half day will be spent in each of the cities to be visited and as far as time will permit, every policy holder meeting the plane will be allowed to enjoy the thrills of a jaunt through the clouds.

The following schedule for the trip has been arranged:

Wednesday afternoon, Wichita Falls and Iowa Park.
Thursday morning, Electra.
Thursday afternoon, Vernon.
Friday morning, Kirkland.
Friday afternoon, Crowell and Knox City.
Saturday morning, Stamford.
Saturday afternoon, Breckenridge.

R. E. Compton, local agent for the company, is in charge of arrangements here.

firmative; they were W. C. Poston, W. C. McCloud, William H. Leach and C. H. Hightower. Mr. Hightower wanted to know whether he had to answer the question when it was put to him, and when Judge Bledsoe said he did, he replied in the affirmative.

Nephew of Lee Present

The jury was drawn shortly before court adjourned for the day. None of those who said they were members of the ku klux klan were drawn on the jury.

The interest in the case settled about the presence of F. T. Lee, nephew of General Robert E. Lee, commander-in-chief of the confederate armies, who is here as the government's star witness. He came from his home near Richmond, Va., and carried a large book, presumably having to do with the Lee family records, under his arm when he entered the court room.

Mr. Lee faced in the court room the defendant, "General" Robert A. Lee, whom the government alleges in the indictment has been posing as a descendant of the famous General Lee. The two gray-haired men presented a pathetic scene as they sat facing each other during the proceedings, the one who is to question for the government the alleged lineage of the other. The defendant "General" Lee, favors in appearance the great southern general.

WANTS TO HELP OTHER WOMEN

Grateful for Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I am willing to write to any girl or woman who is suffering from the troubles I had before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My back always ached, so I could not go about my housework, and I had other troubles from weakness. I was this way for years, then my sister-in-law took the Vegetable Compound and recommended it to me. In the time I have been taking it, it has done wonders for me. I keep house and am able to do lots of work besides."—Mrs. Helen Sevcik, 2711 Thomas St., Chicago, Ill.

Women suffering from female troubles causing backache, irregularities, pains, bearing-down feelings and weakness should take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Not only is the worth of this splendid medicine shown by such cases as this, but for nearly fifty years this same sort of experience has been reported by thousands of women.

Mrs. Sevcik is willing to write to any girl or woman suffering from such troubles, and answer any questions they may like to ask.

NEW GEMS BY

A Treasure Trove of Humor From His Newly Discovered Newspaper Writings.

AN OPPORTUNITY NEGLECTED

A GUARDED SECRET

It is time to call a halt upon those who persistently circulate the alleged joke that a woman cannot keep a secret. No baser ingratitude has been shown by man to the fair sex than the promulgation of this false report. Whenever a would-be humorous man makes use of this antiquated chestnut which his fellowmen feel in duty bound to applaud, the face of the woman takes on a strange, inscrutable, pitying smile that few men ever read.

The truth is that it is only woman who can keep a secret. Only a divine intelligence can understand the marvelous power with which 99 married women out of 100 successfully hide from the rest of the world the secret that they have bound themselves to something unworthy of the pure and sacrificing love they have given them. She may whisper to her neighbor that Mrs. Jones has turned her old silk dress twice, but if she has in her breast anything affecting those she loves, the gods themselves could not drag it from her.

Weak man looks into the wine cup and behold, he babbles his innermost thoughts to any gaping bystander; woman can babble of the weather, and gaze with jejune eyes with the orbs of the wiliest diplomat while holding easily in her breast the heaviest secrets of state.

Adam was the original bish; the first tell-tale, and we are not proud of him. With the dreamy appealing eyes of Eve upon him—she who was created for his comfort and pleasure—even as she stood by his side, loving, and fresh and fair as a spring, the wretched cad said, "The woman gave me, and I did eat." This reprehensible act in our distinguished forefather cannot be excused by any gentleman who knows what is due to a lady.

Adam's conduct would have caused his name to be stricken from the list of every decent club in the country. And since that day, woman has stood by man, faithful, true, and ready to give up all for his sake. She hides his puny peccadilloes from the world, she glosses over his wretched misdemeanors, and she keeps silent when a word would pierce his inflated greatness, and leave him a shriveled and shrunken rag.

And man says that woman cannot keep a secret!

Let him be thankful that she can, or his littleness would be proclaimed from the housetops.

BANDIT—

at McAlester, Okla., is believed by the federal officials to have been the leader of the bandit gang which staged the daring robbery a few months ago of federal reserve bank truck in front of the government mint at Denver.

Sherrill, according to prison officials confessed when arrested by a posse following a train robbery June 10, 1918, that he and fellow gangsters had committed to memory detailed plans for robbery of the Denver mint.

His statements at the time were regarded by officials as too "fanciful" to be believable.

At the time of his arrest at McAlester last Thursday, Sherrill is said to have given the name of Home Johnson. His positive identification as Sherrill was made by finger prints sent to A. J. Renoe, special agent in charge of the bureau of criminal identification at the federal penitentiary here.

Warden W. I. Biddle detailed two guards who left for McAlester tonight to return the prisoner.

EAGLE CREEK CO. TOUCHES SAND IN SWASTIKA FIELD

OLNEY, May 28—The Eagle Creek Oil company went to the sand Sunday night and tonight is setting casing in cement. This location is 600 feet southeast of Swastika 2A and looks like a good well.

The American Refining company is changing to a standard rig. Oil is oozing over the top of the casing into the slush pit. Storage is being placed.

The Sun company well is two feet into the sand tonight and this well will standardize. There is 300 feet of fluid in the hole.

Seven new locations were made today.

WOMAN'S PAINS LIKE TORTURE

Kentucky Lady, In a Dangerous Condition After a Siege of Influenza, Found Cardui Very Helpful

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Influenza left Mrs. Volney A. Handy of 127 North Sixteenth street, this city, in a dangerous condition. "I suffered tortures with my sides," she says; "and across my back. It seemed the pain would start at the back of my neck and sides—a pain that felt like I was pulling in two. I couldn't stand on my feet. My limbs just gave way.

"I had taken Cardui as a tonic. I knew it was good. I told my husband I would try it again. I had used other things without relief. . . . After one-half bottle of Cardui, the pain got less hard, and I seemed to relax. I could straighten up. After one and a half bottles, I was able to walk around and do my work. My back was stronger and the bearing-down pains left. I took altogether three bottles, and it strengthened me.

"Why, before I took Cardui, I was so nervous and in such a fix I couldn't eat or sleep. Afterwards my nerves were better. I gained my strength. I began to eat and sleep and was like another person."

Womanly pains cause great suffering, and a medicine that will relieve them is indeed worth knowing about. Thousands of women have written to tell that Cardui helped them, relieving such symptoms as those described above. If you suffer in this way—

Boys' Wash Suit Should Be Linen

By ELOISE

The color is fast, the material durable and the styles are many if the boy's summer suit is of linen. There is always a charm in the middy or sailor style for the little boys and it is most popular in white or blue trimmed with red, white or blue braid. One wise mother who makes rather than buys her young son's clothes always makes two pair of pants to one blouse. In this way she does not have several half worn blouses with no trousers to match. Of course today one can buy these suits for such reasonable sum that it seems a waste of good time to make them at home but when one considers an extra pair of pants and the extra wear assured by them the effort is worth the trouble.

This suit is ayster white linen, which is cool and easy to launder, It is trimmed with navy blue braid on the sailor, the vest and cuffs and, of course, there is the blue emblem and stitched pockets, and a blue silk tie. Such suits are worn for play of for dress-up.

Some Palatable Recipes For Making Egg Dishes

When one considers the amount of nutriment contained in eggs, the many ways in which they can be served and the ease and speed with which they can be prepared for the table it is strange that they are not even more highly esteemed as an article of food instead of being considered as they so often are—as one of the luxuries of the table.

In point of view of their food value eggs, even at 10 cents each, are an economical food and it is rarely that they reach that price.

Woman's World suggests the following recipes:

All measurements are level.

Spanish Scrabbled Eggs.

One tablespoon butter or vegetable fat, one sweet pepper or pimento minced, one tablespoon of minced onion, one cup diced tomatoes, canned or fresh, six eggs, one-half cup stock or gravy, two-thirds teaspoon salt, one-sixth teaspoon pepper, one tablespoon grated cheese and slices of toast.

Melt the butter or vegetable fat in a frying pan and cook the pimento and onion in it for five minutes. Add the tomatoes, bring to boiling point and cook five minutes longer. Beat the eggs with the stock or gravy, add them to the mixture in the pan with the salt and pepper and cook slowly until set. Pile on the slices of toast, sprinkle the grated cheese over the top and set in a hot oven 375 degrees Fahrenheit—until the cheese is melted.

Eggs Benedict.

Three English muffins or six rounds of bread, six small rounds of broiled ham, six eggs (poached) one cup Hollandaise sauce, parsley and a lemon.

Split and toast the muffins, or toast the bread and butter lightly. Put a portion of the ham on each round and over this lay a carefully poached egg. Cover with a spoonful of the sauce and garnish with parsley and cut lemon.

Hollandaise Sauce.

One-half cup butter or vegetable fat, four egg yolks, one and one-half tablespoons lemon juice, one-half teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon cayenne, one-third cup boiling water.

Cream the butter with a fork, add the yolks of eggs, one at a time, beating after each is added until like mayonnaise. Then add the lemon juice, salt and cayenne, place in a double boiler and add the water. Beat with a Dover egg beater until it is like thick boiled custard.

Eggs in Prison.

Two cups finely minced meat or fish, one cup thick white sauce, six eggs, buttered crumbs.

Season the meat or fish appropriately—if beef use onion juice and minced parsley; if lamb add a little tomato sauce or a few chopped mint leaves; season chicken, veal or fish with lemon rind and juice, etc. Oil individual custard cups and sprinkle thickly with buttered crumbs. Add the minced meat or fish to the white sauce, put a spoonful of the mixture in each cup, break a raw egg over this, cover with another spoonful of the fish or meat and bake 15 to 20 minutes in a moderate oven—350 degrees Fahrenheit. Turn out and garnish with mashed potato, well steamed rice, spoonfuls of peas or creamed young carrots and parsley or watercress.

Strawberry Float.

Three eggs, two cups milk, one-fourth cup sugar, one cup diced fresh strawberries, one-half cup of sugar (additional).

Separate the whites from the yolks of the eggs and use the yolks to make a custard with the milk and sugar, then pour this into a deep dish. Dice the strawberries, cover with the one-half cupful of sugar and set aside for at least one hour. Just before serving whip the whites of the eggs as stiff as possible, drain and add the strawberries, pile high on top of the custard and pour the syrup from the berries over the whole. Garnish with a few additional whole strawberries, if desired.

Ladies' Club Sandwich.

Four slices crisp toast, four tablespoons minced or potted ham or tongue, one tablespoon melted butter, one-fourth teaspoon dry mustard, two hard-boiled eggs, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Have the eggs freshly cooked and hot. Melt the butter and add the mustard an dthe ham or tongue to it. When hot spread this mixture on the slices of toast and lay on two of the portions of hard-cooked eggs cut lengthwise into about five slices. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover with a lettuce leaf and over each put a generous spoonful of mayonnaise. Cover with the remaining slice of toast. Cut each diagonally into two potions and serve immediately.

ALIENS COMING IN.

According to Washington advices during the last fiscal year, the number of immigrants admitted was 309,556, of whom 243,053 were from countries to which the three per cent limitation applies. That is, three per cent of nationals in this country in 1910.

About 75,000 more immigrants have arrived already this year from these countries, chiefly European, and the excess over last year by June 30, promises to be close to 100,000. Furthermore it is claimed that with the Canadians and others not subject to limitation who are coming the total immigration this fiscal year is likely to be not far from 450,000, an excess of nearly 150,000 over last year.

It is said immigration from the British Islands this year already is nearly equal to the 79,577 admitted in 1921 before the three per cent law went into affect, which was not far short of the normal British immigration before the world war. It is significant that German immigration is now five times the volume in 1921 and in excess of the normal volume before the world war.

Skilled and unskilled labor furnished the principle increases in the immigration this year over last year and while more workers are coming, fewer workers are departing. According to the immigration statisticians in the ten months of this fiscal year only 65,775 aliens have emigrated, compared with 198,717 last year.

In addition, last year 70,126 native born Americans and 9,072 naturalized Americans emigrated, chiefly to Poland, Canada and Italy. This is what prosperity is doing for America. Last year thousands of natives and naturalized Americans emigrated. This year thousands of aliens, seeking to better their economic conditions, landed on these shores.

MONEY TO BURN.

An Iowa editor of a weekly farm journal prints the astounding information that the American railways make $25,000,000,000 profit every year. This is not the most depressing side of the story. Many of his readers will gulp if down and swear it is the gospel truth. There are men who contend that figures never lie. They should go to Iowa and interview the author of the $25,000,000,000 profit story. Not long ago an expert estimated the value of American railways somewhere in the neighborhood of $9,000,000,000. Politics is a funny game and the Iowa editor must be a devoted follower of Senator Smith Brookhart, who is preaching an amazing gospel of political economy.

WHEAT AND COTTON

Grain exports from the United States for the second week of May amounted to 6,120,000 bushels. There must be money in the European countries. They are buying more American corn than ever before and wheat importations have been very great. No wif there should be a famine crop of cotton this year with a thirty-cent price, there should be a half billion dollars of new money placed in the pockets of Texas. All the civilized world must wear clothes and most of the civilized world buys and wears cotton garments.

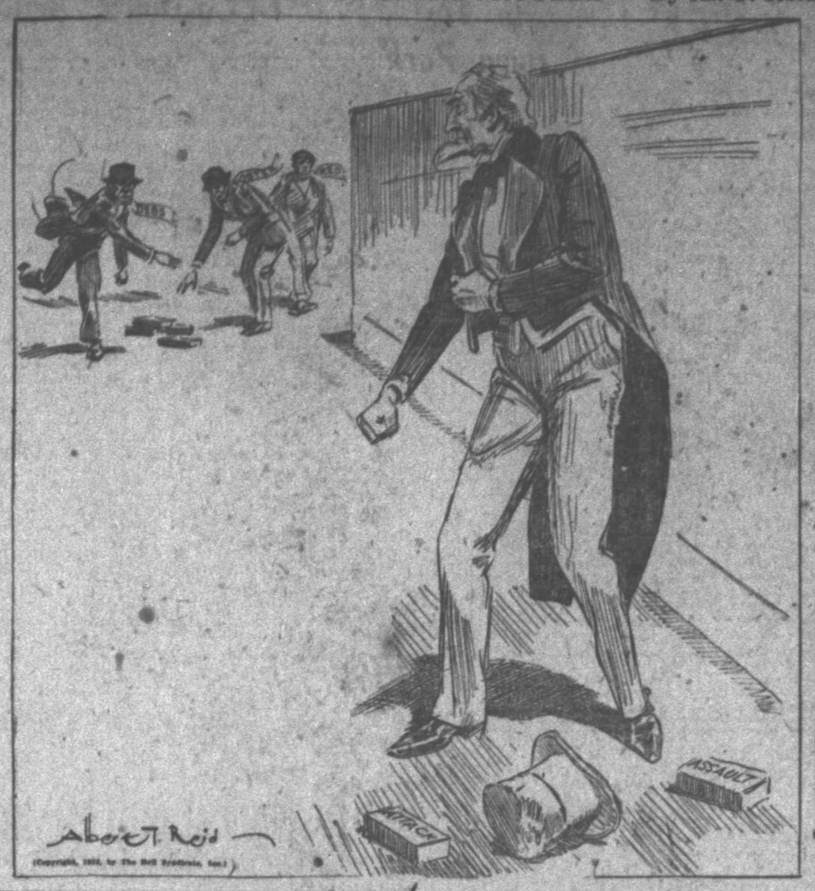

LEADS THE WORLD

According to trade journals, the steel output for the month of April finished a new high record of production of 50,000,000 tons a year. This exceeded by five per cent the record of September 1918, which was the highest reached before. There is a fly in the ointment, however. These trade journals say that the buying tide may ebb as they fear when orders are filled customers will have stocked up to present needs. Regardless of this a steel output of 50,000,000 tons a year must be staggering to the minds of the Titans of the trade. As a producer of steel, America leads the world.

A Paris cablegram carries the news that France is face to face with its old problem—the lack of children to take the places of those who are dying off. It is different elsewhere. Last year Germany reported an excess of 700,000 births over deaths; Italy reported 460,000; England, 293,000; in France the death rate continued higher than the birth rate.

Representative Sam Johnson of the Texas legislature is the author of a blue sky bill. There are federal judges who do not seem to need a blue sky bill. They get the ear of the postmaster general and then the shut off order comes.

AS GOOD A WAY AS ANY TO START TROUBLE —By Al. T. Reid

The BLOOD SHIP

By NORMAN SPRINGER

The Man With the Scar.

It was the writing guy who drew this story out of Captain Shreve. He had heard of the death of "King" Waldon, down in Somoa—Waldon, the trader, of the vanishing race of island adventurers—and he expected to travel about the South Seas investigating the "King's" past, so he could write a book about the old viking.

We lay in the stream, with a half dozen hours to pass ere we proceeded to sea. It was Sunday, so we were idle, the four of us lounging on the lower bridge deck—the Captain, Briggs, myself, and this writer.

"You must tell me what he looked like, Captain," he said. "Is it true, he was such a giant of a man, and possessed of such enormous physical strength? And that he had a great scar on his face, or head, about which he never spoke?"

Captain Shreve sat up straight in his chair. I followed his gaze with mine, but saw only a tug towing a dilapidated coal hulk.

The captain's eyes were upon this tow. "Well, by George, what a coincidence!" he exclaimed.

The tow was passing abreast, but a couple of hundred yards distant.

Any seaman could see with half an eye she had once been a fine ship. The clipper lines were there.

"What a horrible looking old tub!" the writing guy said. "Not a difficult task to invest her with her true personality. An old work horse—eh?"

"Why, blast my eyes, young feller, look at the lines of her!" said Shreve. "That horrible old tub is the Golden Bough!"

The passenger only blinked. The name meant nothing to him. But it did to me.

"The Golden Bough?" I echoed.

"But I do," said Briggs. "There she is. All that is left of the finest ship that ever smashed a record with the American flag at her gaff. She's a coal hulk now, but once she was the finest vessel afloat. Those old, broken bulwarks yonder have looked upon life, I can tell you—and upon death."

"The dangerous life of the sailor, I presume," drawled the writing guy. Falling from aloft and being washed overboard and all that sort of thing."

"Not always," retorted Captain Shreve. "There were other ways. Knives or bullets, or a pair of furious hands—if you care for violent tragedy. But I did not mean the physical dangers of life particularly; I meant, rather, that fate tangles lives on board ship as queerly as in cities ashore. I mean that the Golden Bough, in her day, left her mark upon a good many lives. She broke men and made them. And once, I know, she had to do with a woman's life and a woman's love. There was a wedding performed upon that ship upon the high seas, and a dead man sprawled on the deck at the feet of the nuptial pair, and the bride was the dead man's widow!"

"Did you ever make a voyage in the Golden Bough, Captain," I asked.

"Yes," replied the captain. "I was a witness to that wedding, and I played my small part in bringing it about. Yes, that old wreck has had a good deal to do whit my own life. I received my first boost upward in the Golden Bough. Shipped in the fo'csle, and ended the voyage in the cabin, stepped into dead man's shoes. And more important than that—I won my manhood on those old decks."

"Let us have the yarn, Captain," I begged.

Captain Shreve squinted at the sun, and then favored the passenger with one of his rare smiles. "Why, les," he said. "We have an idle afternoon ahead of us, and I'll gladly spin the yarn."

* * * * *

Then, if I must have a beginning for the yarn said Captain Shreve, I'll began with that morning, in this very port of San Francisco, when I walked out of the shipping commissioner's office with my first A. B.'s discharge in my hand, and a 12 months' pay day jingling in my pocket.

It was the heyday of the crimps, and I walked through the very heart of crimpdom, along the old East street. No; I was looking for a boarding house, the Knitting Swede's.

A fine hole for a young fool to seek.

I was A. B. at last; a full-fledged man! Of course, I must straightway prove my manhood; so I was bound for the Knitting Swede's.

Everybody knew the knitting Swede in those days. The king of crimps! He sat in his bathroom in East street, placidly knitting socks with four steel needles and as placidly ignoring law and man.

Stories about him were without number. It was the Knitting Swede who shanghaied the corpse on board the Tam o' Shanter.

It was the Knitting Swede who drugged the skipper of the Sequoia and shipped him back in his own fo'csle.

It was the Knitting Swede that sent the crowd of cowboys to sea in the Enterprise.

Well, I found the Swede's place easily enough. And he was there in person to welcome me.

He suspended his knitting for a moment.

"Ja, you kopu for a good time, and, by and by, a good ship," says he. "Yoost trust the Swede—he treat you right."

So he sent my bag upstairs to a room, accepted my money for safekeeping, and I set up the drinks for the house.

I saw one chap who really attracted me. I should liked to have chummed with him, and I went out of my way to be friendly toward him.

He was a regular giant of a man, with yellow hair and frosty eyes, and a very white face. He had a jagged, bluish scar over one eye, which traveled up his forehead and disappeared beneath his hair, plainly the result of some terrible clout. But it was not these things, not his face or size which drew me to him; it was his bearing.

It was nothing he said or did, but his demeanor declared plainly he was utterly reckless of events or consequences.

He discouraged my friendly advance with a cold indifference, and my idea of chumming with him during my pay-day "bust" soon went glimmering.

On the third evening of my "bust" my mettle was tested. There was a woman in the Swede's house, a slim wisp of a little Jewess, with the sweet face of a Madonna and the eyes of a wanton. Well—she smiled on me.

But she belonged to the Swede's chief bouncer.

The bully objected, with a deal of obscene threatening, to my fancied raiding of his properties. We had it out with bare knuckles in the Swede's big back room.

After he had taken the count, I began to pull my shirt over my head. I heard a sharp curse, a yell of pain and the clatter of steel.

When my head emerged, I beheld my late antagonist slinking away before the threatening figure of the man with the scar.

The bully's right arm dangled by his side, limp and broken, and a sheath-knife was lying on the floor at the big man's feet.

The sight gave me a rather sick feeling at the pit of the stomach, for I realized I had narrowly escaped being knifed.

The scar-faced man remarked, "You must never take your eyes off one of that breed!"

That was a purple night for me. I was the victor, and the fruits of the victory was very sweet.

The Jewess murmured adoring flatteries in my ear. Oh, I was a great man that night! The house caroused at my expense till late.

Next morning the Swede interrupted his knitting long enough to toss my last 10 dollars back across the bar.

"You thump mine bouncer, you take his voomans, so—you take his job, Ja? You ship by the Knitting Swede?"

I'll admit I was completely bowled over for a moment. Yet I realized clearly enough I would only be happy with the feel of a deck beneath my feet, and the breath of open winter in my nostrils. I was of the sea, and for the sea.

And if anything were needed to make my decision more certain, there was the little Jewess. There was a hint of command in her voice. "Boy, say yes! I want you to. Boy!"

"Boy!" To me, a 19-year-old man, who had just been offered a fighting man's berth! I saw more clearly just what the Swede's offer meant. An ignoble slavery. Not for me!

I'll only ship in a proper ship, Swede," I said, decisively.

The Swede nodded. My refusal did not disconcert him. He was going to ship the crew for the Golden Bough that night. That meant he needed sailors. And every man who was in debt to the swede, or in any way under his thumb (and I suspect every man Jack of them was under his thumb in some fashion or other,) quaked in his boots and thought, "Will the Swede choose me?"

For they knew ships, those men, and they knew the Golden Bough. Some of them had sailed in her.

The Swede grinned joeosely at me. "How you like to ship by the Golden Bough?"

I knew of the ship, the most notorious blood-ship afloat, and the queen of all the speedy clippers. I knew of her captain, the blackhearted, silky-voiced Yankee Swope, who boasted he never had to pay off a crew; I knew of her two mates, Fitzgibbon and Lynch, who each boasted he could polish off a watch single handed, and lived up to his boast.

So I stood there, half wishful, half afraid, deaf to all save my own swirling thoughts. And there happened that which gave me my decision.

It was the man with the scar. He had been lounging against the bar, an uninterested spectator of the bestowing of the gunnership.

The crowd was still talking about the Golden Bough. And the talk had progressed from skipper and mates, to the ship's mystery, of the captain's lady.

"Uncommon queer, I calls it," said one chap. "They call 'em man an' wife, but she lives to port, an' he to starboard. Separate cabins, dash me! They even eats separate.... He's nasty to her—I've heard the devil snarly at her more than once, when I've had a wheel.... Blank me, she's a blessed angel. There was I with a sprained wrist big as my blanket head, an' Lynch a-hazin' me to work—and every morning she trips into the fo'csle with her bright cheer an' her linaments."

"He beats her," supplemented another.

The man with the scar turned on the Swede and his voice was sharp and commanding.

"Swede, does the Golden Bough sail to-morrow?"

"Ja, with da flood," the Swede answered.

"Then I ship in her," declared the man. "I ship in the Golden Bough, Swede!"

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Just What is a Co-operative Marketing Association?

Sunday's editorial in the Record News on co-operative marketing was the cause of the above question being asked.

Mr. Guy B. Jones, county agent, is an authority on co-operative marketing and we have asked him to tell us about it.

Mr. Jones points out that mere verbal agreements between farmers and growers to pool their produce for marketing purposes have not been successful as there are always some who will at the last moment sell their products independently. This tendency on the part of producers has cast discredit upon co-operative associations, but he says:

"The true co-operative marketing association is where there is a legal obligation on the part of the producer to deliver to the association. Penalties are provided for those who do not deliver. The Texas statutes provide for penalties to be imposed upon those who do not comply with their contracts.

The co-operatives in Texas and many other states that are successful are all modeled after the California plan where the grower is under a long time contract to deliver his products to the association. Usually the grower contracts to deliver his crop over a period of at least five years.

The only continuously successful co-operatives are those with the compulsory contracts that insure delivery of the product so that the association can make delivery when a sale is made.

In the real co-operatives the farmers are seeing their products sold direct to the consumer, the exporter or the big distributor. It means that they are cutting out the middleman and getting his profits. The associations market the products gradually as the market demands and do not dump.

In most commodities there is a selling season when the product is dumped and the price goes down because the market does not need all the crop at once. The cotton crop goes on the market in a period of about 90 days and during that period only about 25 per cent of the crop is demanded by the spinners. The co-operatives sell gradually as the market demands and gets good prices. The farmer gets a better price through the co-operative because the co-operative gets a better price than the farmer does."

More Truth Than Poetry

—By James J. Montague—

WE SHALL NOT PASS!

Undaunted because the Americans won
The prize for the non-stop dance
She has snapped into action and boldly begun
Another new contest, has France.
From the Place de Bastille to the Rue de la Paix
Resounds the continuous hum,
Week in and week out, and all night and all day,
Of the challenging non-stopping drum.

Staccatoing tenor and boom-booming bass
Roar loud in the visitor's ears,
While whiskered and veteran drummer boys race
To achieve world applauded careers.
The poilu, with confident trust in his powers,
Is convinced, to the very last man,
That he can continue to drum for more hours
Than any American can!

All glory to France! Let us generous be—
One prize is enough for a while!
Though our rivet mechanics—between you and me—
Can beat her best drummers a mile.
But with all of the noises that daily offend
The deafened American ear,
With never a stop from week-end to week-end,
We can do without dums over here.

And if we contend, and captured the prize,
The Frenchman, all hungry for fame
Would never despair, but would swiftly devise
Some new sort of non-stopping game.
In dancing we've shown that we have them outclassed
But the truth might as well be confessed,
For they never would stop till they beat us at last
At a non-stopping snail eating fest!

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

TIMING

When the illiterate but able General Forrest said that the commandar to win a battle "must git thar fust with the mostest men" he was merely starting the principle that must be followed by every automobile engineer, and every good golfer.

The effective use of energy depends not so much on the amount of energy at one's disposal as upon the application of it at the right moment.

Many very powerful men cannot drive a golf ball half as far as others with half their physical strength.

They have not learned to put the power behind the ball at the right place in the swing. They expect a great deal of it, but it is expended either before the club reaches the ball or after it has passed it.

Any motorist knows what happens if the timing of his machine goes wrong.

The impact of the explosion strikes the piston head either too far up in the cylinder or too far low down in it.

No matter how powerful is the explosion, it becomes ineffective unless it is let off at exactly the right time.

The woodchopper cuts down the most trees who makes the axe meet the tree just when it is traveling fastest.

The mental worker accomplishes the most results when he has learned to concentrate his thought so that it can grapple with his work at the time when it will do the most good.

If all the wasted energy in the world could be saved, nobody would be bothering about coal bills, for there would be about a quarter of the demand for coal as there is now.

It is "getting thar fust with the mostest" energy which has made it possible to drive at 30 or 40 miles an hour a ship which with its old fashioned engines and propellers would have crawled 10 or 15.

Conservation of energy consists not only in storing it up so that there will be enough to use in time of shortage; it consists in delivering exactly the right amount at exactly the right time.

That makes for economy, and economy of any sort of energy is necesary to the best results.

If you learn to put all the thought you have to the problem you are given to solve, you are likely to succeed in the job, no matter how hard it is.

But if you scatter your thought you waste it. And no matter how great natural ability you have, it will be of no use to you if it is not used as scientifically as the automobile engineer uses his gas explosion.

What Today Means To You

By MARY BLAKE.

GEMINI

Astrologically speaking, today is a very good one for practically all things. It will bring unexpected happiness and most probably through a social engagement. After nine o'clock however, good aspects are surplanted by those of an unfavorable nature.

A child born today will be sturdy in mind and body, with a pronounced talent for drawing.

You should be blessed with an extraordinarily strong and retentive mind but lacking the power of verbal expression. You have wonderfully fine constructive ideas and are capable of putting them into actual form and superintending their execution. Through your insatiable thirst for knowledge and your versatile nature you could take up most any line of work and make a big success of it.

Whether or not you succeed is entirely up to you. You certainly have the brains and the ability but you lack tenacity of purpose. You will find all things interesting and will start many of them thinking that you have found just the right groove for your talent, but alas, you suddenly drop that when you see that it does not ripen into successes if touched by a magic wand. This is the most unfortunate condition in your make up because you waste so much time and energy and accomplish nothing. The varied, superficial knowledge that you will attain in this way will never be of any real benefit to you.

Discouragement is not one of your faults, for you always attribute your failures to some other cause than yourself. It is never too late to start so why not make a firm resolution today that you are going to stick, to what ever you are doing until you have made a success of it or at least have completed the task?

You are never entirely sincere with yourself but approach nearest to it if you go into the field of art. Your sense of color is very highly developed and with your vivid imagination and orgnality counted. It might be dress designing, interior decorating, landscape gardening or arranging window displays for shops.

Your nature is romantic and you are very apt to have several love affairs under way at the same time.

Well known people born on this date are: Jean Louis R. Agassiz, naturalist; Albert G. Riddle, lawyer; Amelia J. loomer, reformer (she introduced the costome of bloomers.)

RAIL STOCKS GO UP QUICKLY

Good Showing Made In April Adds Strength To Issue

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 28.—Railroad and equipment stocks were bid up sharply in today's active stock market, while profit taking and bear selling were conducted in the steels, oils, motors and other speculative industrials.

Strength of the rails was the result of the unusually favorable showing made by some of the large systems in the April earning statements, now being published. While there was some switching of speculative interests from the industrials to the rails, heavy investment buying was generally regarded as the principal factor in the rise of the carrier stocks, which with few exceptions have occupied a secondary position in the market for many weeks.

The outstanding strong spots in the railroad list were Atlantic Coast Line, Santa Fe, New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Northern Pacific and Texas & Pac, the net gains ranging from 1 to 3 points.

Some of the short selling of the industrial stocks was based on the theory that a technical reaction at least was due after four successive days of rising prices. California Petroleum, which was pushed up nearly 20 points last week, fell back 4¾ points. American Locomotive was pushed up 4⅜ points and Baldwin 2½. Continental Can also was heavily bought on reports of increased earnings, rising a point.

Call money opened at 4½ per cent and then increased to 5 per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged, the bulk of the business being done at 5 per cent in each.

Establishment of another new low record for German marks at .0016¼ cents was the feature of the quiet trading in foreign exchange. Demand sterling and French francs held fairly steady at 4.62 and 0.62 cents, respectively.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, May 28.—Competition for desirable cattle and calves was comparatively good and the market opened in due season at prices that were in line with last week's close. Undesirable cattle found conditions identical to those that have prevailed for some time and on all such the trade was extremely slow. Stockers of common quality were neglected. Receipts amounted to 7,500 head of cattle and 2,000 calves, the cattle supply including 1,000 head that were on through billing.

Several buyers were anxious for hogs, but regardless of this the market was lower, the loss being close to 10 cents to 2 cents. Shippers paid 7.20 and packers bought at 7.15. Bulk sales made a range of $7 to 7.20 and receipts were estimated at 1,500 head. Pigs, slow, steady, at $5 to $6. Four thousand head of sheep were on offer. The market was steady to 25 cents lower. Good wethers sold at $6.50.

DRY GOODS MARKET

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 28.—Cotton goods were steadier today with some inquiry noted for unfinished goods for late fall delivery. Yarns were steady. Burlaps showed more firmness. Wool goods were quiet. Silk and silk-wool filled goods were in better demand.

COTTON MAKES SMALL GAINS

Greater Advance Checked By Realizing As October Hits 25

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 28.—A further advance on bullish weather and crop advices was checked by realizing as the price of October contracts approached the 25 cent level in the cotton market today. After selling at 24.98, that delivery eased off to 24.68, and closed at 24.79 with the general list closing barely at net advances of four to 15 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 12 to 19 points and showed considerable strength during the earlier trading. The market worked up to 27.45 for July and 24.48 for December during the middle of the morning. At this price July was back to within two points of the best price touched on the advance of last week, while all the new crop months made new high ground for the movement, with the general market showing net advances of 20 to 32 points. The market was easier during the afternoon under realizing or scattered selling for a reaction. July reacted to 27.18 and December to 24.22, making the market about net unchanged to 5 points lower and last prices were several points up from the lowest on covering. Five more private crop reports were issued, the condition figures ranging from 70.0 to 72.5 and indicated crop yields of from 11,400,000 to 12,085,000 bales. So far eleven of these reports have been issued, the average of the condition figures being 70.5 and the average of the crop indications about 11,920,000 bales.

Exports today 11,928, making 1,427,572 bales so far this season. Port receipts 5,807. U. S. Port stocks 388,620.

SUGAR MARKET.

Associated Press Dispatch

NEW YORK, May 28.—While there was no change in the price of Cuban raw sugar, which is held at 6½ cents, cost and freight, or 8.28 for centrifugal, duty free sugars were lower, sales being made on the basis of 8.16 for centrifugal. The only sales in the local market included 12,000 bags of Philippine Islands about due at 8.16 and 14,000 bags of Cubas for July loading at 6.43, f. o. b. Cuba, equal to about 6 9-16 cents, cost and freight.

The raw sugars market weakened under increased liquidation or realizing. Closing prices were the lowest of the day and from 6 to 9 points net lower. Closing: July 6.46; September 6.57; December 6.01; March 4.78.

There was a fair inquiry reported for refined sugar and prices were unchanged at 9.75 to 9.90 for fine granulated.

Refined futures nominal.

WHEAT MARKET GROWS WEAKER

Buyers Hold Off Owing To News of Bearish Aspects

Associated Press Dispatch

CHICAGO, May 28.—Weakness developed in the wheat market today owing more or less to better weather conditions and to buyers holding off on account of persistent notice of bearish aspects of the grain futures law and of the government attack on sugar speculation. Wheat closed unsettled at 1-8 to 1 cent net decline with July 1.14 1-8 to 1.14 1-4 and September 1.12 3-4 to 1.12 7-8. Corn finished at 1-4 cent off to 1-4 cent gain, oats 3-8 to 5-8 cents down and provisions at losses ranging from 7 cents to 20 cents.

Corn and oats averaged lower with wheat, but corn was steadied somewhat by reports of a better cash demand from the east and at Kansas City. Heavy arrivals of hogs here and in the west, put down provisions.

Oil Interest Turns to Test At Iowa Park

With the well drilling past 1,100 feet, interest of the oil fraternity is turned to the deep test of Roy I. Carter, being put down north of Iowa Park. The well, which was spudded in two weeks ago, has been shut down for several days, because of lack of water, but after purchasing a tank one mile from the well and running a line the entire distance, the drillers are again making hole fast.

The well is located four miles north of Iowa Park, in a rank wildcat territory, which has hitherto been untouched, and if completed as a producer would greatly effect drilling operations in Wichita county, as it might open up a new strip of oil between the Burkburnett pools and the Electra fields, being half-way between the two.

The well is going down fast and will probably be completed within the next 10 days. It will be drilled either to oil or 2,000 feet, according to the drilling company, and that depth can be drilled in a few more days. In the meantime, scouts are watching the well with unusual interest.

WELLS PLUGGED

Wells plugged in the last few days and abandoned by the drillers are given below:

The Dundee-Electra Oil company's No. 1, on lot 8, section 3, of the Palo Pinto school lands, on the Richardson tract, in Archer county.

No. 8 well of the Seucrity Oil Reserve, on the McCall tract, section 28, of the Denton county school lands, Archer county.

No. 1 well of Reed & Bailey, on the Thompson land, in Archer county, section 20 of the A. T. N. C. L. survey.

No. 2 of the Texhoma Oil and Refining company, on section 1 of the S. P. Ry. survey, on the Parkey lease in Archer county; No. 2 of the same company, on the Helm ranch, section 21 of the Palo Pinto county school lands; and Texhoma's No. 1 on the Kirk tract, in Archer county, section 4, H. & T. C. survey.

No. 1 of the John G. Lane Drilling company, on the Waller tract, section 6, of the T. C. S. L. survey, in Wichita county.

E. B. Bailey's No. 1 well on Farish tract, section 98, of the A. T. N. C. L. survey, in Archer county.

No. 1 of Penn & Rogers, on the Withers-Bevering tract, in Clay county, which was a test that failed to show oil.

No. 1 Hornsby-Dodson, of Joseph Shaw, in Wichita county.

Texhoma No. 3 In

The Texhoma Oil and Refining company yesterday completed their No. 3 well on section 2, Kemp and Kempner tract, in Archer county. At the usual depth the well began pumping, making 125 barrels in the first 24 hours, and looks good for that amount daily.

LOUIS GLASS IS NOT GUILTY

Case Draws 50 Witnesses From Burk to Judge Gibbs' Court

A verdict of not guilty was returned Monday afternoon by Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs when the preliminary hearing of Louis Glass, charged with incest, was held. The case occupied several hours and drew nearly 50 witnesses and spectators from Burkburnett, where the Glass family lived.

Statutory charges of a most serious nature had been made against her father by Alice Glass, aged 15, and were substantiated in part, by several brothers and sisters. Their testimony however, was inconclusive, and statements from officers and neighbors of Mr. Glass that he bore a reputation for honesty, industry and veracity and that his conduct had always been exemplary resulted in his acquittal.

Spuds Make It Two In Row With Crabs, 9-4

LOCAL BATSMEN BRING IN NINE RUNS IN FIRST TWO STANZAS OF FAST CONTEST

Perryman Knocked From Box By Spudder Sluggers. Kiefer Holds Locals to One Hit In Last Six Innings of Game.

All's well that ends well, and yesterday's encounter both started well and ended well for the Salmite boys, winning the second game of the series with the Sand Crabs by a score of 9 to 4. The two overwhelming victories of the last two days have gone a long way toward putting the old time pep back in the Spudder team. Skipper Salm was strutting all over the park prophesying what his boys were going to do from now on, and we must agree with him, the home town boys are going strong, and if the last two games are any criterion of the way they are going to play, look out league leaders.

In yesterday's game the Sand Crabs just didn't have a chance after the first two innings were over. They started the fray with two runs but the local boys showed them that two runs was not enough to win a ball game by coming back and swatting in four tallies. In the second stanza Stauffer held the visitors to a standstill, Witry, Perryman and Bittle being sent back to the bench before they had even seen what first base looked like.

The last half of the inning was just like eating pie for the Spudders. Stauffer opened up with a clean single to left, took third on Bescher's single to center, and trotted over the plate when Coombs singled to left. Bescher went to third and Coombs took second on Munson's error. Kiefer relieved Perryman at this stage of the game and just to show that he was a good fellow, filled the bases by walking Tanner. Cotter popped out. Grigsby came up with blood in his eye and Kiefer, to avoid trouble, steered the horsehides out of his reach, walking him and forcing in Bescher. White wanted a home run but contented himself with knocking a two-bagger down the third base line, emptying the bases and taking third on the throw to the plate. Berger fouled out and Bischoff was thrown out, Westerzil to Kearns.

The remainder of the game developed into a pitchers' battle, Kiefer tightening up and allowing the locals only one more hit. Galveston scored one in the third when Ostergard came in from second on Westerzil's single to center.

Neither side was able to chalk up anything in the fourth and fifth stanzas. Both twirlers were at their best and batsmen had to content themselves with easy flies, Connoly and Coombs being unable to even touch the pill.

Galveston again put one over on the locals in the sixth by chalking up a tally on one hit and two walks.

Too much was enough however, and although the Crabs succeeded in filling the bases in the eighth with no outs, they were unable to score. Ostergard hit into a fast double play. Stauffer to Bischoff to Cotter. Connolly was out, White to Cotter.

The Spudders made short work of the ninth inning, Westerzill and Munson flew out and Kearns was out, Tanner to Cotter.

Fast playing on the part of the Spudders prevented the visitors from scoring on several occasions.

LITTLE LESSONS IN Big Sports

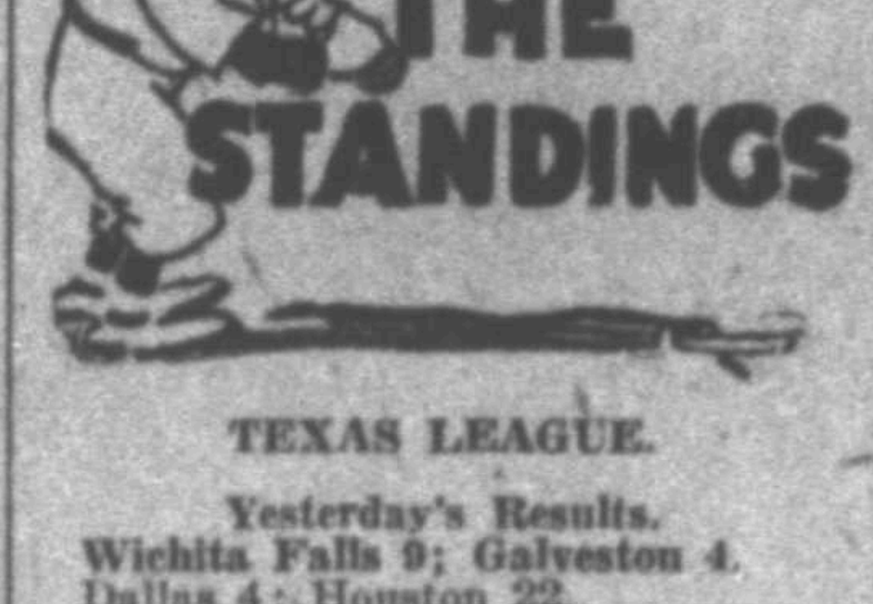

What are the important points to watch in the start of the driving swing?

Answered by Bob MacDonald

Veteran tournament player, winner of the Metropolitan open championship, 1921, and the Texas open championship, 1922. Famous the world over for his long distance driving.

A player should watch the left arm, hand and knee when starting a driving swing. The left arm should be perfectly straight; the left hand should be directly over the right shoe; the left knee should be bent slightly in the direction of the ball. Care must be taken not to twist the left foot or it will throw the player off balance. The right arm should be well pulled in to the right side, at the elbow.

FORT WORTH, May 28.—"On the advice that Dr. Brooks gave the student body of Baylor, urging them not to hear my address in the city auditorium at Waco Tuesday night on 'The Menace of Evolution,'" Rev. J. Frank Norris said, "I have this to say:

"First of all, I want to thank Dr. Brooks for this amount of notice of my address.

"And, second, I want to thank him for the great compliment he pays me in making this address, because a man holding his exalted position, as president of a great university, would not pay any attention to the dead.

'I am wiring him an invitation to be present and hear my address on evolution. For, in the issue of October 22, 1922, the Daily Press of Fort Worth published a statement from him in which he said: 'The scholarship of the world has accepted evolution.'

Dink Addington Goes Back to Old Job In Joplin, Mo.

A wave of regrets passed around the Record News office last night.

Dink Addington was telling the boys goodbye.

Coming here several months ago from Joplin, Mo. Dink has served as sport editor since that time. But he had done his work back in Joplin too well. They remembered it after he had gone and called him back—offering him everything from the presideney of the Western league to a fight promoter's velvet in the winter months. Dink stuck fast and ignored the persistent telegraph messages for several weeks, but with each succeeding wire the offer brightened. Finally he regretfully placed his resignation.

Dink was in the opinion of the managing editor of this newspaper the most able and dependable sporting editor who has ever presided over the sport desk. He went about hsi work in a quiet, unassuming way, but he is capable of doing more in less time than any man who has ever held a similar position on the paper. A good writer, an experienced man and a jovial, agreeable coworker—Dink Addington will be missed by everybody from the top floor to the bottom in the Record News office.

He goes back to the Joplin Globe, accompanied by his pretty young wife, whom he induced to come down to Wichita Falls and say the happy words shortly after his arrival here. The couple has been living in the Hoffman apartments and has made many friends.

Dear Sir: I notice that Walter Hagen is driving stands with his feet quite well apart, while George Duncan keeps his feet somewhat closer together. I am about Hagen's height and build, but find that I can drive much better by keeping my feet more like Duncan. I saw the match at Pelham last year between you and Hagen and Duncan and Mitchell, and Duncan was outdriving Hagen. Which do you think is the better stance?—F. P. E.

Answer

The main reason for the difference between Hagen and Duncan in the stance is that Hagen uses a fairly flat swing, while Duncan uses an upright swing. Also, Hagen puts more effort into hitting a full shot than Duncan, and has more of a tendency to sway along the line of play. For this reason he has to take a wider stance to brace himself and keep his balance. With an upright swing, Duncan doesn't throw his right shoulder and side around with the club so much as Hagen, and for that reason doesn't need to brace himself so much with a wider stance to keep his balance.

The matter of determining how wide apart you should place your feet, of course, depends a good deal on your height. A short player should not "spraddle" out so that he has difficulty in pivoting at the hips, while the tall player, especially if he swings somewhat flatly, needs a little wider base. A wide stance is commendable for a player who is inclined to sway.

If you get better results with a fairly close stance, my advice to you would be to stick to it, unless you find difficulty in keeping your balance.

FARM POPULATION ON DECREASE

Map shows centers of decrease in rural population

Hard times on the farm are causing a rapid shift of population. Last year no less than 2,000,000 people gave up the effort to get a living out of the soil and moved to town. To offset this, upward of 900,000 left town for the country, a loss of 1,120,000, or about 3 per cent of the whole farm population. The net reduction was not so heavy, because there were 925,000 births on farms, against 265,000 deaths. The final loss was 1.5 per cent.

The low price of wheat in the West and the ravages of the boll weevil in the South were the two principal factors in this exodus. And the general depression of 1920 and 1921 had an especially depressing influence on farming. These conclusions and many other facts regarding the status of the American farm have been assembled in an effort to find out what is the matter with farm life.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace views the situation hopefully.

Secretary Wallace also believes that the men who direct industry, commerce and finance are coming to realize more than ever before the necessity of bringing about what he terms a favorable adjustment for the farmer.

"They see the menace in conditions so unfavorable to agriculture as those of the last three years," he said. "They now understand more clearly that their own future is inseparably linked up with the farmer and that in doing what they can to help him get on his feet again they are helping themselves as well."

In the Middle Atlantic group—New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey—the farm population on January 1, 1922, was estimated to be 1,889,000. January 1 of this year it had decreased to 1,847,000. This took into account the excess of births over deaths in the ratio of 43 births to every 15 deaths.

In the New England group, taking into consideration that births exceeded deaths by about 28,000, the farm population in the last year decreased from 540,000 to 525,000. In the South Atlantic group—West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida—the farm population decreased from 6,565,000 to 6,241,000, which indicated a net loss to agriculture in those great farming states of 324,000 persons. There were 251,000 births in 1922 against 64,000 deaths.

The next group, the East South Central—Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana—showed a net loss of about 180,000 persons. In the West South Central group—Arkansas, Oklahoma and Texas—the number decreased from 4,532,000 on January 1, 1922, to 4,375,000 at the end of the year, a net loss of 157,000. As in all other groups, the loss was largely reduced by the normal increase. There were 38,000 deaths, and the number of births exceeded 143,000.

In the farming states of the Middle West, the West North Central group—Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri—the farm population on January 1, 1922, was approximately 5,245,000. On December 31 last this total had decreased to 5,101,000, showing a loss of 144,000. In those states births totaled 130,000 and deaths 39,000.

The East North Central group—Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin—on January 1, 1922, had an agricultural population of 4,981,000. Of these, 148,000 moved into towns and cities in the year just ended. The babies again came to the front. Births numbered 135,000 and deaths 41,000.

In the Mountain group of states—Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado, Arizona and New Mexico—the loss by the movement from farms was 63,000, a decrease from 1,172,000 to 1,100,000. Births were 26,000 and deaths 7,000.

In the Pacific group—California, Oregon and Washington—it was expected that the farm population would show a substantial increase. Instead, it dropped about 47,000, a decrease from 997,000 on January 1, 1922, to 950,000 at the end of the year. Births numbered about 20,000 and deaths 9,000.

BYERS CHICKEN RAISERS MEET

Record News Man Gives Demonstration On Caponizing

By AL OLSTON
Extension Department, Maricle Coal and Feed Company

I wish the poultry raisers of Wichita Falls could have been with me at the demonstration I gave at Byers last Saturday at the Bridge Coah Grocery store. I do not believe I ever met a more interested or more sincere crowd in my life. Mr. Noffman of the Morman poultry yards was there with a splendid display of his breeds. Rev. Hundley of the Baptist church had his reds there, telling the world about them.

Nearly everyone reads the poultry articles in The Record News, and if Byers community keeps up at the present stride, it will soon be giving Wichita Falls a hard fight to hold the present honors for northwest Texas. I am sure that Byers will soon be one of the foremost in the raising of capons.

It is a great pleasure to give a demonstration in culling and caponizing, when one is giving it to as interested folk as came to Mr. Guther's store. They tried for themselves, and were not a bit backward about asking questions on the subjects they were not sure of. The sentiment of the crowd was: "Who would have thought it was as easy as that?"

Feeding of Birds

Mr. Maricle of this city gave an interesting talk on the proper feeding of ill birds. There seems to be some difference in Byers as to the proper breeding for a show bird and that of a laying bird. As I was unable to see all the interested persons, I shall now do as I promised and give my personal opinion through these columns. I say personal, because the well-known breeders have their different ideas, for there is no national set basis as to breeding.

Heretofore breeders have only bred for professional show birds. I have worked for many such breeders, and have helped to raise some of the most beautiful birds I have ever seen, but I have never yet seen a hen so raised that is much of an egg producer. Nor have I seen the offspring of a male so raised that ever amounted to much. The only benefit is the advertising value.

But today so many people are demanding the utility bird basis of quality for the judges to make their opinion upon, that these birds are fast passing into the discard. I have known some raisers of fine show birds who used to cop first prizes always, but when it came to a showdown they did not know the first principle of raising egg-producing fowls. Therefore, I say that in my opinion the utility bird is the only one due any awards that may be offered in the fowl world.

How to Breed

Regardless of the breed, be sure that you have a male up to the specifications of the American standard of perfection, as this is the law of the poultry world. This is our judge and jury. Be sure you have a record of his mother and grandmother. Then breed him with hens that come from egg-producing stock, as near as possible from a stock that came from as good record stuff as he is from.

You can overcome the poor showing defects of the bird by putting the oversize comb, color bird with others that stand up. For instance, if you have a male whose comb is oversize, breed him to hens with smaller combs, and if a hen is a little off color or shape, breed her to a male that does not have these defects. This is what we call building one's breed.

There is but one sure way to do this, and that is by trap-nesting. Of course, culling will help you to get rid of these useless birds.

My next article will be along this line of breeding and inbreeding.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Turkey Raisers, Byers, Texas; Question—"Does it pay to caponize turkeys?"

No, not for the market value, for there is no established market to date. But for personal use, yes. Thanks; call again.

50 SCOUTS LEAVE FOR SUMMER TRIP

Approximately 50 boy scouts, under the supervision of I. H. Roberts, president of the scout council, left Wichita Falls Monday morning, en route to Crateville Park to spend their two weeks on their annual encampment. Chester Powell, scout executive, left Friday afternoon with a small squad of boys to get the camp in readiness for the new arrivals.

The boys made the trip in cars furnished by the Texas, Texhoma and Wichita Electric companies. They arrived at the Wichita mountains at about noon Monday, and from that time on will be under camp discipline. Mr. Powell plans to teach the boys many useful things in scoutcraft during the next two weeks.

ELECTRA WILL GREET ATHLETES

Reception for Thomas And Stanford on Return From Chicago

Special Dispatch to Record News

ELECTRA, May 28.—A big reception is being planned for Lawton Thomas and Harvey Stanford, who went with Prof. B. M. Dinsmore to Chicago, to participate in the national interscholastic events. Stanford tied for second place in the high jump, and Thomas ran fifth in the 100-yard dash. Local supporters of the men were hopeful of their winning first place, after their showing in the state meet, when Electra won first place with these two athletes.

FORD DAY PLANNED

ELECTRA, May 28.—Plans are being perfected for a Ford day early in July instead of Electra's regular monthly trades day. A long list of prizes will be offered to persons of almost every type coming in a Ford. Distance prizes will also be offered. A special program of entertainment is being prepared by the chamber of commerce and agriculture, in an effort to have a record-breaking crowd.

WATER FROM AUXILIARY.

ELECTRA, May 28.—Water was pumped Saturday night for the first time through the line from the auxiliary pumping station near Red river. One well is supplying more than 200,000 gallons a day.

Council Authorizes Contract In County Library Co-Op Proposition

Another important step in the county library expansion program was taken Monday night when the city council authorized Mayor Collier to sign the contract drawn up between the city and the county, whereby the latter takes over from the former control of the Kemp public library. No opposition was expected from the city commissioners but their signing the contract means that the only step left now in the project is the authorization of it by the county commissioners court.

This will be given in the near future, it was indicated last night.

The contract was read in full or the commissioners by Judge A. H. Britain, chairman of the committee which drafted it. Provisions of the instrument have been made public before.

By a unanimous vote the council then adopted the provisions and authorized the mayor to execute the city's portion.

Authorization of the plan has already been given by the library board and it is understood that the three outside towns to be benefited, Electra, Iowa Park and Burkburnett, have already made provision for furnishing room and equipment for the branch offices.

FAST HORSES SIGNED HERE

300 Thoroughbreds Will Enter Races at Texas-Okla. Fair

With more than 300 race horses and jockeys being signed for the Texas-Oklahoma races this summer, L. J. McClure, secretary of speed, declares that the fair will be featured by the best race meeting ever held in Texas. The greater part of the horses have already been signed, with the jockeys who will ride them, and include some of the fastest and best stock in the country, according to those in charge of the meet.

Arrangements are already under way for the holding of the races in connection with the fair, and construction work on the big track at Call Field was started some time ago. Mounds of dirt are slowly rounding into shape for a speedy track and crews of horses and men are working daily at the grounds to have the track in the best possible condition for the meet.

In the three-quarter mile race, some of the fast ones are: Doctor Mac II, ridden by J. Kelly, Wild Fellow, ridden by C. Gray, Mady McCormick, ridden by H. C. Smith, The Floater, ridden by J. Stockdale, and Goddess Stokes, ridden by G. H. Finnell.

The horses in the mile and forty-yard race are fast, and have some of the best in the south entered. Cave Man, ridden by H. Wells, the owner, will run against such horses as Granny Lee, ridden by H. H. Fawcett, John Burwell, with W. Daniels up, Lauren James, ridden by J. Waggoner, Patsy Mack, with C. Tryon, and Henry Walbank, ridden by Kelly.

The Merchants Derby, run by three-year-olds and up, for a purse of $10 will be entered by Jack Harrison with W. H. Groff up, Louella Sykes, ridden by William Bailey, Tuttle Girl, ridden by F. Smith, and Brown Dick ridden by W. Daniels.

A special race of five-eighths of a mile will be run with St. Kane, Princess Pat, Harry Julor, Less Lawson, Mineral Queen, Mady D., Jefferson and others ridden by good jockeys. All are among the fastest and will give a good race.

Other horses that will be entered in the various races include Lucky Mack Dan Foster, Trixie T., Race Dan, Sapitika, Hot Shot, and all the best of the south that can attend.

The races will be held daily at the fair, under the direction of a committee on racing, with L. J. McClure, veteran racing promoter, as secretary of speed in actual charge of the tracks.

Prisoner Who Refused To Eat Gets 15 Years

Associated Press Dispatch

DALLAS, Texas, May 28.—A jury sitting in criminal court late today found Jim Riley guilty of criminal assault and sentenced him to 15 years in the state penitentiary. The jury deliberated one hour.

The prisoner sat with downcast eyes during the trial. He refused to eat for four days. County officers finally forced him to eat his food.

Because of trouble with sand in the well, it has been concluded, however, to dig a catch basin covering an acre of ground into which water will seep, rather than try to sink other wells. This will, engineers say, obviate the caving trouble. All that will be necessary will be to clean out the basin every six months or so. The water is apparently of splendid quality.

Your blood changes in the Spring. Why?

YOUR blood is thicker and more sluggish in Winter than in Summer—it has to be to keep you warm. Then comes warmer days and lighter clothes. Your blood, still thick and heavy-laden, is slow to throw off its impurities. What happens? The impurities crowd out through the skin—boils and pimples appear—you feel sluggish and tired! The remedy for this condition is S. S. S. It is the ideal blood purifier, because the medicinal properties are purely vegetable. It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it's your foundation—make it rich—get blood strength—we all need it, especially rheumatics. S. S. S. will improve your appetite and give you greater energy, strength and endurance.

Mr. Harry C. Bachman, 4736 Main Avenue, Norwood, Ohio, writes: "I had skin eruptions—pimples and blackheads. I took S.S.S. and was happily surprised at the results I got in less than three weeks' time."

Try it yourself. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size is more economical. Get a bottle today!

MUNDAY SCHOOL CLOSES SESSION

Rev. Heath Delivers Sermon; Present Diplomas To Fifteen

Special Dispatch to Record News

MUNDAY, Texas, May 28.—The Munday public school closed one of its most successful terms in history last Friday. The entire week was taken up with different commencement exercises in which practically every grade took part. The baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. J. O. Heath to a large audience at the Methodist church. He impressed very vividly on the minds of the students that their culture and learning would profit them nothing without the recognition of God in their daily lives.

Superintendent N. S. Holland of the public schools of Stamford delivered an address Friday night to a large audience, at which time diplomas were presented to the following: Bertha Manuel, Henry Arkeison, Hilton Hogan, Hugh Lott, Bernice Bowden, Mamie Humphries, Verna Norman, Kate Hodges, Cecil McGraw, Frances Mayes, Gertrude Moore, Ollie Bateman, Alma Stogner, Dessie Banks and Thelma Palmer.

At a recent meeting of the school board, Prof. J. Horace Bass was re-elected as superintendent and W. A. Wilson is principal. The entire faculty of 15 teachers was re-elected.

The Parent-Teachers' association is planning a lunch room at the high school building for the coming term.

More than 600 pupils are now enrolled, and the erection of a modern $400,000 high school building was necessary this year, which, in addition to the large building already in use will house the school comfortably. The Munday people are justly proud of their school, and an even brighter year is anticipated for the coming year.

GIFTS FOR LADIES

Handkerchiefs from each member of the club were given Monday afternoon to two ladies active in the work of the church by the Woman's Society of the Floral Heights Methodist church. Those receiving the tokens of appreciation were Miss Genieva Wisdom, former secretary to the pastor, who is leaving the city, and Mrs. Mary B. Adams, who is relinquishing direction of the church choir after three years service.

The presentations were made in a novel manner by Mrs. W. B. Chauncey, president of the club. They came at the close of the regular mission study meeting, led by Mrs. Milton Johnson, following which a social hour was enjoyed.

NO ACTION ON MAP SYSTEM

Commissioners Discuss Block Plan at Meeting Monday

Although some discussion of the matter was had, no action was taken by the county commmissioners Monday on the county block system. No plans were suggested by which the mapping of the district could be done more rapidly than under the terms of a recent contract made by the court for the mapping of the whole county.

It was found that this system would not be sufficiently fast and some other methods must be devised.

No more discussion was had of the case of former County Clerk Harris, who has been instructed to return approximately $1,400 in excess fees back to the county. At last week's meeting an order was entered instructing that suit be filed for the money but Mr. Harris later intimated that he would make a settlement out of court.

P. T. McDonald, constable of precinct 4, asked for and was given permission to employ two more deputies in his district at Electra.

CAPT. KING MADE HONORARY MEMBER OF KIWANIS CLUB

Capt. John "Rip Rap" King, subcontractor on the irrigation dams, was made an honorary member of the local Kiwanis club Monday in recognition for his entertainment extended at the time the club went as a body to the site of the main storage lake. At that time members and their wives were the guests of Captain King on an inspection tour and barbecue dinner.

A vote of thanks and congratulations was also extended by the club to Louis Pink for fostering the idea of a municipal golf club. The Kiwanians have recently carried to completion their idea, which is now represented by the municipal golf links at the foot of Brook street. The congratulations were extended Mr. Pink on the occasion of his marriage Sunday.

Paving Work Started On Collins Street

Street paving gangs have started work on Collins street, between Brook and Baylor and prospects now are that that stretch of improvement will be completed within the next week or 10 days. Grading crews have been busy on Lucille street between Brook and Marshall for three weeks and brick is now being put down here.

Old Home Town Stuff

THINGS YOU SAY, DO AND SEE AND SOME YOU DON'T

Tomorrow is Memorial day.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year.

Byers lake fishermen report catches from 20 to 100 Sunday.

Eighteen cases in police court Monday. Business, it seems, is picking up.

Medicine Park and Cache creek again crowded yesterday. Roads reported good.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Buchanan are visiting for a few days with friends in Weatherford.

Still more paving. Work going on steadily on the Lucille and Colima street projects.

Harry C. McMains, representing Holland's Magazine, Dallas, is in the city on business.

Kodaking sport picking up. Drug stores sold out of films early yesterday morning.

Bill Robertson, local auto agent with the Pacmeuler agency, is in Fort Worth, on business.

C. E. Knowles, traveling freight agent of the Southern Pacific railroad, is in Wichita Falls on business.

Miss Jessie Morgan, of the North Texas Notion store is back after a brief visit with friends in Fort Worth.

Mike Muhleberger is the latest Shriner to announce his intention of attending the Imperial Shrine Council in Washington.

Mrs. O. L. Gibbs and daughter, Mildred, have returned home after a brief visit with relatives and friends in Fort Worth.

Movie Problems are this week being answered by Miss Boardman of the "Souls for Sale" feature for readers of The Record News.

Miss Volina Rice, deputy tax collector at the city hall office, was back at work Monday, after having been absent several days on account of illness.

Water department employees are now lowering mains and pipes on Travis street, between Sixth and Seventh, preparatory to paving operations on that thoroughfare.

"From the southwest we are to welcome as our guest today Mr. W. H. Peckham. Mr. Peckham comes from Wichita Falls, Texas," says the Hotel Pennsylvania Register, of May 25.

Miss Gertrude Hines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Hines, 802 Travis street, will return to Wichita Falls Friday. Miss Hines has been attending Ward-Bellmont in Nashville, Tenn., for the past year.

Baldy Caldwell's masterful interpretation of the Kiwanis International president, given over radio to the local club Monday noon, surprised even those who were acquainted with his powers of oratory.

Spooners Spotted and Arrested By Officers With Field Glasses

It's no use.

If the cops can spot you a mile away with the aid of a field glass, romance is doomed.

And if you don't believe it, ask a pair of youthful Romeos who fell into the toils of the law Sunday, when a spooning party near a local swimming pool was unceremoniously broken up. This pair paid a lawyer $10 to get them out of trouble when, in reality, there were no legal charges that could be filed against them. However, that is not the story.

It was found Monday when the case came up in a justice of the peace court that the boys and two young lady friends were enjoying the day at the pool Sunday, and that they retired in the late afternoon from out the public view.

"I kissed my girl," one of them admitted.

"I didn't," the other declared, "but had my arm around her."

And then both wondered how it was that the "law," a mile away, knew what had been going on. They gave up in disgust when the powerful glass used by the officers was presented.

The biggest automobile in the city—the 15-ton seagrave pumper truck, at the No. 1 fire station, was given a mechanical overhauling Monday, and despite its eight years of service is now running like a top.

Just a few more days, Chief Hodgins says, and the police department is to blossom out in its summer finery. And the chief is more excited over the new suits than a youngster over a new red wagon.

R. W. Miller, general superintendent of the Wichita Falls and Southern railroad, returned yesterday from Clinton, Okla., where he spent several days assisting the Clinton and Western officials in working out a plan of operation.

Park officers at Bellvue Park expelled several small boys from the park Sunday for sticking points of ice picks in the cracks in the slide. The boys seemed to be deriving much enjoyment from their pastime but the sliders doubtless were paying for their slides.

Will McClure, who played a game of baseball in New Town Sunday afternoon, reports that he lost his hat upon his departure from the neighboring town. It seems as if the entire team of local boys left New Town in a hurry immediately following the game.

Announcement was made Monday by Harry Weeks and Charles I. Francis, local attornies, that they had purchased home building sites in Morningside park, and would each erect pretentious homes in the near future. Both buildings are to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000, it was announced.

Anyone that would drink that stuff ought to die, was the opinion around city health department offices Monday, when a fearful mixture seized in a whiskey raid was brought in to be tested. The sight of it was enough to turn one sick—an angry yellow, full of sediment, but foaming merrily. It tested out above two per cent.

Fred Coil, representing the census bureau of the department of commerce, has left the city after compiling data for the government showing the operating cost per capita of Wichita Falls. Mr. Coil has been here inspecting local books for over a week, and said that so far as he knew, this was the only city in the United States that took a complete inventory each year of all property and equipment owned by the municipality.

EXCESS FEES ARE TURNED IN

Jones and Smith Make Settlement of Accounts With County

A settlement of excess fees which, according to reports of county auditor, Ed. Walsh, had been due the county, was made with the county commissioners court Monday by two former officers, J. J. Jones, former county judge and Fred K. Smith, former sheriff were those accounting to the court for past collections.

Mr. Jones returned $249.20 and Mr. Smith $257.38. Both acounts were then declared cleared by the court. Both were for fees collected between December, 1921 and January, 1923.

The returns were made in line with the policy of the commissioners court to collect all excess fees from present and former county officers who have not made a complete accounting for the time they served. In connection with the returns made Monday, it was explained that all delinquent fees collected for the two offices would be turned into the county, Mr. Jones and Mr. Smith both having received all that was legally due them from the office.

Caldwell Poses as George Ross, International President

A radio address that for a time had all the earmarks of being what it was actually advertised for was the chief feature of entertainment at the Kiwanis club's weekly meeting in the Kemp Monday.

The talk purported to be one from Atlanta, Ga., given by Geo. H. Ross, international president, on Kiwanis ideals and principles. A radio set furnished by the W. S. Prior to the talk, a musical program was given by Mrs. F. C. Barron and Mrs. F. R. Collard.
